SENATOR SMITH FAVORS DISTRICT CONSOLIDATION

Dr. F. A. Sweet Opposes All Consolidation Plans — Smith Wants Better Schools in Outlying Dis- tricts — The Evening Herald Continues Survey.

The Evening Herald continues today its survey of consolidation for the school and fire districts of Manchester. Does Manchester want its school and fire districts concentrated under one governing district?

The voters will be asked in the near future to act upon this question and with this idea in view the Evening Herald is preparing them for the debate.

Herewith we present the opinions of two men who are informed on the various angles of the question.

Senator For Consolidation
Robert J. Smith favors both the consolidation of school and fire districts. Mr. Smith is Senator-elect from this district and a selectman, is prominent in the real estate and insurance business locally and approaches every legislative problem with keen foresight. His ideas of consolidation are printed below.

Dr. Sweet Opposed
Dr. F. A. Sweet, president of the Eighth School and Utilities District, has ideas of his own on the consolidation question. Dr. Sweet is a strong North Ender, opposed to any kind of consolidation and tells in his letter below why he does not think consolidation is wanted by the people of the town.

The Questions
The questionnaire which both these men followed in discussing consolidation and which was given them by the Evening Herald follows:

1. Do you favor the consolidation of both school and fire districts? Of just the school districts? Of just the fire districts? Why?

2. Do you think the government of town affairs would be more efficient by consolidation of the districts? Why?

3. Will the individual be as interested in town affairs after consolidation as he is under the present system?

4. Have you any ideas, either for or against the plan, that must be considered before consolidation becomes a reality?

5. The Senator's Letter
Mr. Smith's views follow:
"In answer to your questionnaire in regard to the consolidation of school and fire districts in Manchester, I submit the following:
"I am in favor of school consolidation because I believe it would be a benefit to the town as a whole, as all the children in Manchester would then have an equal opportunity of obtaining a grammar school education. It is unfair, not only to the child, but to the parent and taxpayer residing in a district that provides an antiquated building for school purposes. Why should pupils in such a district be compelled to receive their education in a building of this type—poorly ventilated, improperly heated in cold weather, unsanitary and without modern teaching equipment, when other children living in the same town, but across an imaginary line, in another district, have the privilege of attending schools second to none in this state?"

WORLD'S LARGEST CLOCK IS STARTED TODAY.

New York, Dec. 2.—Those who run, those who ride the ferries, and even those who fly may read the correct time today on the dial of the biggest clock in the world.
Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City closed the switch which put the clock in motion. It is atop the factory of Colgate and Company directly across the Hudson river from New York City.
The dial is fifty feet across. The minute hand is thirty-seven inches long and weighs 2,200 pounds. The minute hand travels 157 feet in an hour and three quarters of a mile daily.

Mechlin, Belgium up to now has had the record for the largest clock. It was built by monks in the middle ages and was damaged during the late war.

TAXPAYERS REFUSE TO PURCHASE LAND IN DISTRICT EIGHT

The taxpayers of the Eighth School District last night voted to bond the district's indebtedness to the amount of $150,000; to extend the sewer system to take in the Pinehurst tract, Homestead Park and in fact all that section of the district south and west of Woodland street, and also a part of the Ninth District.

The special meeting was held in the assembly hall of the Robertson school and was attended by between seventy-five and a hundred voters.

Dr. F. A. Sweet, president of the district, was chosen as moderator and the business of the meeting was taken up according to the call.

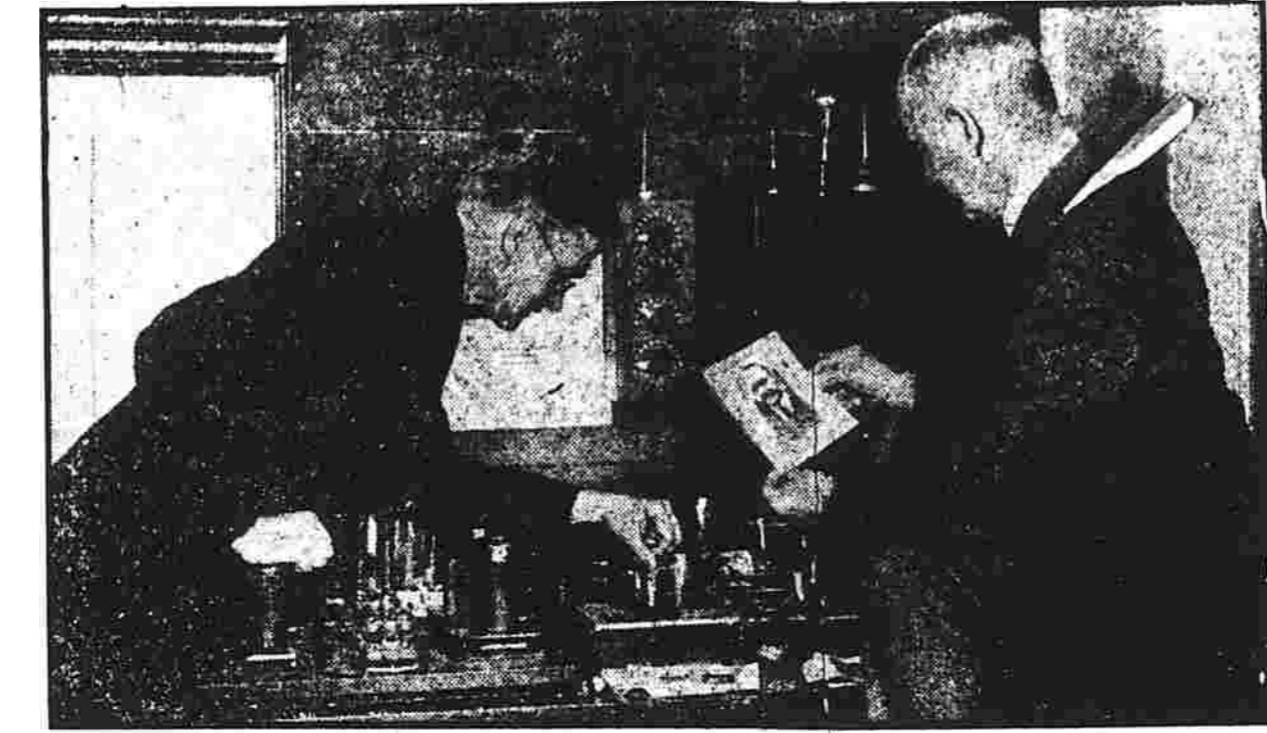

Vote On Bond Issue
The district voted to issue bonds at the annual meeting last June. This is positively the largest job ever undertaken by the district and it was necessary to have the vote of the taxpayers and voters in the district before going ahead. It has required a lot of time and study to determine the best way to do the work. It will be an entire new system and will cover every section of the district not now provided with sewer service.

A working arrangement has been made with property owners on the south side of Middle Turnpike, whereby they will be privileged to connect with the sewer by paying their assessments and share of the maintenance cost. Much of the preliminary work has already been attended to and it is proposed to go ahead with the construction of the system as early in the spring as possible.

Discuss Land Purchase
As predicted in the Herald, the sixth clause of the warning brought out the greatest discussion. This had to do with the sale of land on Washington street for playground purposes by Fayette B. Clarke, and which land adjoins the school property, the southwest corner of the strip running to within six feet of the assembly hall of the Hollister street school.

Mr. Clarke bought the land a few months ago and last night offered it to the district for $3,800. He claimed this was the exact figure he paid for it, and the reason he would sell it for this sum was because he had disposed of a sixteen-foot right of way to Arthur Knolls and had received one hundred dollars therefor.

ARMORY INTERIOR MAGNIFICENT; DONE IN BLUE, WHITE AND GOLD

Southern Smilax, Chrysanthemums and Hovering, Snow-White Doves Arranged in Scene of Surpassing Beauty—American and State Flags Over Governor's Box — All Ready for Dedication Tomorrow Night.

Manchester has never seen a more beautiful interior decorative scene than that which will be witnessed at the dedication of the new State Armory.

The good will among nations cultivated by international charity has been frequently illustrated and vindicated since the great war ended. Large appropriations by Congress for famine relief in Russia, Austria and elsewhere, undoubtedly have been the result of the sympathy and judgments which have had a profound influence on international relations. Likewise the enormous popular subscriptions for China famine relief and for the sufferers from the Japanese earthquakes—who can measure their influence?

At the International Near East Conference held in Geneva, Switzerland, the effective idea, hit upon by the members of the committee, was the observance of a Sunday in December each year as a Golden Rule Sunday when a frugal orphan's dinner—much less elaborate than the prosperous American is ever likely to eat voluntarily—shall be everywhere.

CONGRESS GETS INTO SWING TACKLES BIG DEFICIENCY BILL

President Coolidge to Ride Like an Ordinary Passenger

Washington, Dec. 2.—President Coolidge will make history tomorrow when he leaves Washington for the first western trip he has made since he entered the White House seventeen months ago. The President is going to Chicago to speak and inspect a live stock show.

There will be no special train, no special cars, no special dinner and no special schedule. The President will travel as an ordinary passenger in the drawing room end of an ordinary Pullman car.

Secret service men, newspaper correspondents, secretaries and stenographers will make up the President's party and be quartered as casual passengers.

The party will fill one car to overflowing. It probably will be placed in the middle of the train and there will be nothing to prevent passengers from passing through the presidential car.

Meals will be served from the dining car. If these tentative arrangements are carried out it will be the first time in recent years that a President of the United States has traveled in such casual fashion.

SHOOTS HIS WIFE THEN KILLS SELF

Syracuse Man Makes Elaborate Plans for Tragedy — Daughter Tells Story.

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 2.—His wife penetrated by a steel-jacketed .38-calibre bullet, Harry A. Klock, 36, of 317 Burdick avenue, died in St. Joseph's hospital at 5:30 this morning, while his wife, Mrs. Matilda Klock, was making a brave fight for her life, suffering from two bullet wounds inflicted by her husband before he turned the gun on himself in the Klock home early this morning.

The shooting resulted from a domestic quarrel and followed a two-hour reign of terror in the Klock home, during which Mrs. Klock and her oldest daughter, Esther, 16, were held prisoner by the husband and father, while they begged and pleaded for their lives.

According to the story told police by Esther, today, her parents had not been speaking terms for a month. Last night Klock returned early from a lodge meeting and was awaiting Mrs. Klock and Esther when they arrived at 11 o'clock.

Mother and daughter went to their room, and retired. Another daughter, Vera, who occupies a rear bedroom, was spending the night with her aunt.

While the two women, suspecting nothing, were preparing for bed, Klock carefully laid his plans to kill Mrs. Klock, then take his own life.

With a pair of heavy scissors, he snipped the telephone wires, shutting off possibility of a call for help. Then he sat down and made out two blank checks, signing each so that with filling in of the amount, they would be ready to cash.

The clarity of Klock's mind in the face of his impending death was shown by his action in noting that the hands of the clock had just passed midnight when his task was completed, he carefully dating the checks "December 2." The writing was firm and clear.

Passed House and is Now in Senate— Calls for Expenditure of $185,000,000 —House Working on Appropriations.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Congress got down to business today. The Senate tackled the $185,000,000 urgent deficiency bill which passed the House in the last session.

The House started grinding on the big appropriation bills that are expected to occupy most of the present session.

Appropriation Bill
The appropriation bill called in the Senate today carried heavy sums for the soldier bonus, irrigation projects, tax refunds and endorsement of the naval disarmament treaty. A hundred minor appropriations swelled the total.

The largest item in the bill was an authorization of $100,000,000 for payment of bonus certificates with an additional sum of $26,629,398 for payment of the $50 cash awards. The Veterans' Bureau also would receive $300,000 for vocational training, $350,000 for a national training school and $750,000 for administrative work on the bonus.

Tax Refunds
The treasury department would receive $16,140,000 for tax refunds and most of this money would be used to repay taxes refunded under the 25 per cent retroactive reduction ordered by congress on 1923 income taxes.

A total of about $7,000,000 was authorized for irrigation projects. Other items included $5,413,600 for the coast guard.

MAYOR SEEKS HELP TO CLEAN UP CITY

Schenectady, N. Y., Dec. 2.—Mayor William W. Campbell said today he was looking for a "General Butler" to "clean up" Schenectady.

Demanding by the mayor that Chief of Police James W. Ryne, and Detective Sergeant Diamante Ragucci retire, has brought about a deadlock in the city administration.

Chief Ryne and Sergeant Ragucci refused to carry out the mayor's demands saying they wanted time to "think it over."

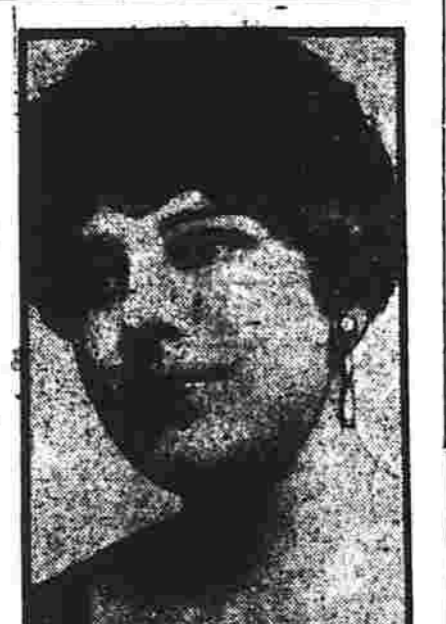

The drastic action taken by the mayor was the result of a letter by Captain Albert L. Youmans, chief of the vice squad, who was slain last week, in which he said "Chief Ryne is blocking my work."

Mayor Campbell said he would like to get a man of the type of Mayor George F. Chandler of Kingston, former superintendent of the state police, to take charge of the police situation in this city.

A grand jury investigation of the widespread criminal activities in the city is imminent. District Attorney Alexander T. Blessing announced today.

BORAH PROMOTED TO LODGE'S POST
Washington, Dec. 2.—Senator William E. Borah, Republican of Idaho was today promoted to the chairmanship of the Senate foreign relations committee by the Republican conference on Senatorial assignments.

The chairmanship of the judiciary committee was awarded to Senator Cummins, Republican of Iowa, and the chairmanship of the immigration committee to Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican, of California. District Attorney Blessing announced today.

MRS. ANNA BUZZI

"You're a liar." With every fibre of her body quivering, Mrs. Buzzi arose and screamed:

"You're a liar! You're a liar!" With that came a hysterical torrent of denunciation for the wiles.

"How dare you lie like that?" she demanded. "He's doing it to save his own neck, the dirty liar!"

Led From Room.
Balliffs grasped her and led her from the room while she continued to scream back into the courtroom that her brother-in-law had testified falsely.

Before Mrs. Buzzi broke down, Turk testified she had asked him three times to get her a gun "for the house."

"On February 24th she called me on the telephone and asked me to bring 'that thing' to her," Turk testified. "I met her at 167th street and a Grand Concourse, but was unwilling to give her the gun at first."

LOCAL ARTISTS PLEASE AUDIENCE AT BENEFIT

Educational Club's Concert Largely Attended — Town's Musicians Give Services for Milk Fund.

At the High school assembly hall last night, under the auspices of the Educational Club, a concert was given in aid of its local milk fund. An excellent program was submitted, and enjoyed by a large number of patrons. Congratulations are in order both for the evident financial success of the undertaking, as well as the artistic success resulting.

No doubt these singers will be heard from often after last night's good work. Their items were "The Little Grenadier," a stirring number, full of martial spirit. In a combination of pathos, particularly pleasing was the item, "Honey, I want you now." Encores were responded to by the quartet in both their numbers.

schools in which to educate their children and the result is that the districts with the best qualifications are the ones chosen in which to live. In this means that the districts with good schools are, and will be, more congested than the other districts.

The entire program proved most enjoyable to an audience which nearly filled the hall.

"I am of the opinion that the time has not yet arrived for complete consolidation of our schools," I believe that in the very near future, the nine districts could be combined into two districts. The First and Seventh and perhaps part of the Second district could be consolidated with the Eighth district; part of the Second, the Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth could come into the Ninth district; the dividing line between these two enlarged

THE NAVAL RATIO.

During the presidential campaign the question of this country's naval inferiority as compared with Great Britain was raised by Mr. John W. Davis, the Democratic nominee. His strictures proceeded from the disclosures made last year and this year that the United States had fallen decidedly behind the five-five-three ratio of capital ships established by the Washington conference. Soon after succeeding Mr. Denby, Secretary of the Navy, Wilbur confirmed the general impression that American naval strength had fallen away from the ratio but declared that it was mainly a question of modernizing the older capital ships and not a question of the relative numbers of ships. It was, however, admitted that in naval units not covered by the Washington treaty both Great Britain and Japan had drawn far ahead of this country.

There are two phases of modernization. Through lack of money the majority of our capital ships are rapidly becoming obsolete in comparison with the fleets of other nations. Many of them have needed repairs for months to enable them to take their places in the fleet. Then the British battleships far outrange the American battleships. The question of gun elevation was never raised during the Washington conference. But when Congress appropriated $6,500,000 to make the necessary elevation in gun range in order to achieve a parity with Great Britain the British government strongly protested. The work of elevating the turrets of the American battleships was held up.

gun elevation is contrary to the Washington conference. The American government holds otherwise and can see no justice in an objection that would deny to the United States navy the equality agreed upon at the conference.

The whole matter will be put up to the present session of Congress. Admiral Eberle, chief of naval operations, recommends strongly that thirteen of the fleet of eighteen battleships should be modernized and that the guns of eight should be elevated sufficiently to increase their range to that of the British. The government is convinced of its right to raise the guns of the ships. The only question, as Secretary of State Hughes has said, is as to whether it is worth while to spend a large sum on modernization of certain ships that will be replaced within ten or twelve years. As for the gun elevation that work should be resumed and completed.

NEGLECTED ANIMALS.

At this season of the year the Connecticut Humane Society devotes considerable attention to rounding up stray or abandoned animals throughout the state. Many complaints reach headquarters and are investigated promptly. The agents of the society also concern themselves with inspections of stables and barns to the end that domestic animals shall be protected properly against the coming winter storms.

The society is engaged in praiseworthy work but occasionally it is disheartening to find its efforts balked and its advice ignored. The reports of its agents that they are finding more cases of neglect of stock this year than is usual is not very creditable to Connecticut. Horses seem to be treated more carelessly and callously than other animals. The society instances the case of a once well-known race horse who, in his declining years, had fallen on evil days in eastern Connecticut. He became lame and totally unfit for work yet his owner persisted in extracting the last ounce of effort from him. The society took steps which resulted in the owner being fined substantially and the horse destroyed.

The work of the society should be encouraged and supported by every right thinking citizen. Men who treat animals belonging to them brutally deserve swift and severe punishment. Those who are in ignorance need pointed warnings and impressive reminders if the farmings go unheeded.

THE NEW ARMORY.

All citizens of Manchester who can find it convenient should make a point of being present at the dedication of the new armory tomorrow evening. It will be an event of importance in the history of the town and the presence of state notables, including Governor Templeton and his full military staff, Lieutenant-Governor-elect Trumbull and senators and representatives galore, will give the occasion added significance. Manchester boasts a fine record in national guard activities and in its response to emergency calls. Now that the new armory has become an accomplished fact, the crown of a persistent effort of years, the formal, official dedication should attract a large attendance. With its fine auditorium and its facilities for social events as well as for military training, the armory is destined to become one of the town's chief centers of assembly. It is a step forward and upward in more ways than one, a timely preparation for the town's growth and expansion which should have as much interest for the citizens generally as for those who are members of the national guard.

STOLEN AUTOMOBILES.

A million dollars' worth of automobiles stolen in Connecticut have been recovered and returned to their rightful owners during the past seven years. That automobile thieves are not daunted by the increasing precautions now taken, is evident from the experience of New Haven where 90 cars were stolen in the first three months of this year against 200 for the whole state last year. But that they are not getting away with their loot as easily as in the past or as easily as their brethren do in other parts of the country is also evident from the report that sixty of the cars were recovered following arrests based on the system employed by the state motor vehicle department in checking up suspicious applications. The leading detective in the New Haven investigation wrote to the state department: "Coming in contact with the various motor vehicle departments throughout the country as I do, it has been forcibly brought to my attention that the system under which your department operates is so far ahead of the others that it leaves little opportunity for comparison." Which is a good word for Connecticut and its motor-vehicle department.

ATLANTIC AIR MAIL.

Between the United States and Europe is one of the probabilities of the near future, according to Dr. Hugo Eckener, who had charge of the transatlantic flight of the ZR-3, now the Los Angeles. He believes, and the American postal authorities fully agree with him, that one Zeppelin each way weekly carrying a half million letters at 25 cents per letter would be a business success. There is doubt, however, about the availability of the half million letters.

The American government is friendly toward transatlantic air mail transmission at a reasonable cost and no doubt would be disposed to give consideration to any proposals in that direction made by the aircraft manufacturers. The new Zeppelin-Goodyear combination of which Dr. Eckener is a director, has plans for Zeppelins of much greater capacity than the Los Angeles. It will take time to build them but, meanwhile, there is no doubt that much interest has developed in government circles with regard to the air mail service. It is not wholly improbable that the Los Angeles might be used to blaze the way.

AUTO ACCIDENTS.

Six hundred motor vehicle accidents in Connecticut during the week ended November 22 established a new high record. This is a disheartening result in view of the admitted excellence of our motor vehicle laws and the admitted efficiency of their enforcement. New Haven, which leads all Connecticut cities in the number of accidents, has been taking drastic action toward the better regulation of motor vehicle traffic and the prompt punishment of offenders. But, it would seem as if the most productive forward step of the future would be an intensive and co-ordinated campaign of education in safety, safe driving and accident prevention.

PERSEVERANCE.

Perseverance is not exactly its own reward but often it does meet with reward suitable to the motives behind it. Engineers in Pennsylvania have just struck gas at a depth of 7,423 feet. The well is said to be the deepest in the world, nearly a mile and a half beneath the surface. Sinking the well took two years and a half and cost $200,000. The well is reported to be very productive but it must have taken a lot of faith as well as geological knowledge to keep up the drilling for so long. Fortune always is over the next hill but when we find it so no one is more surprised than ourselves. Many million dollars worth of gold were taken out of mines in the West that had been abandoned by their previous owners.

ROBBERS GET $7,600.

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 1.—Robbers, who used canvas gloves to prevent leaving finger prints, ripped open the safe in Los Pope's automobile agency early today and escaped with $7,600 in cash and $500 worth of jewelry. The canvas gloves and a new set of safe entering tools were found when Pope opened for business today.

SAFETY DRIVES SEEKS PLEDGES FROM AUTOISTS.

New York.—A drive for the signatures of 400,000 drivers of motor vehicles in New York to a safe driving pledge has been started by Barron Collier, multi-millionaire, Special Deputy Police Commissioner in charge of the Bureau of Public Safety. The pledge which drivers are being asked to sign reads: "I hereby promise that I will obey all traffic regulations, watch out for children and pedestrians, and drive safely at all times to the end that the appalling sacrifice of life, caused by carelessness, may be stopped and the streets of New York City made safe." After signing the pledge the driver

CHICAGO HUSBANDS SAVE MORE MONEY THAN BACHELORS.

Chicago.—Matrimony has its financial advantages. This has been revealed in an analysis of 700,000 tax returns by the Cook County Treasurer. The last few years, however, are the exception. According to the bureau, the average husband at 24 has a net income of $1,000, while the average bachelor of the same age has a net income of $800. There are 100,000 fewer females than males in Chicago, so the bachelors are complaining that they are not getting the same return on their investment as the married men.

BURGULAR BACHELORS CURSING STAMBOULSKY.

Sofia. Thirty thousand Bulgarian bachelors are cursing the shade of Stamboulsky. The government has revived a Stamboulsky government measure curbing bachelors, declaring that the law is legal and that it will go into effect on January 1, 1925. There are 100,000 fewer females than males in Bulgaria, so the bachelors are complaining that they are not getting the same return on their investment as the married men.

PETROS OLYMPICS LEAD.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 1.—The Petros Olympics, with a grand total of 2,921, led the pin spillers in the five men event in the central states bowling classic today. H. Bars and H. Zimmerman, Toledo, topped the doubles competition with 1,271, and J. Wolf, Detroit, with 660, stepped into first place in the singles. The Akron Five totalled 940 the first game, 968 the second, and 1,014 for the third.

GAS POISON KILLED 3,600 IN ONE YEAR.

Chicago.—More than 3,600 persons lost their lives last year through gas poisoning, according to Richard E. Krypt, supreme court regent of the Royal Arcanum, who addressed a home-safety conference here. Nearly 3,400 more died from other forms of poisoning, while electricity accounted for the deaths of close to 1,000 more, he announced. Nearly 10,000 requests for health publications have been received by the United States Bureau of Education during the past year, and more than 1,000 letters requesting specific information on school hygiene were answered by specialists in the division of physical education.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

"Gimme A Jimmy," Says Cub When Sent For Tong Story

A Chinaman likes to talk to an American about as much as a hoot owl.

Getting information out of any of the local Celestials is like a blind man looking for a penny in the Black Sea.

They grin until they get you so confounded mad you hope some Hip Sing or On Leong hops right along and, at least, makes them squeal.

The only way one can find out anything about either Sam or Willie Ong is to watch them. And, even then they slip out of sight pretty easily.

Sam Ong of Oak street told a Herald man the other day that there would be plenty of trouble in Hartford soon. And, his prediction plunging all his rubbish in a little walk outside his shop and asked him what the idea was.

All Willie would say was "Plenty trouble. Aila time, plenty trouble."

"What's troubling you now, Willie?" he was asked.

And, with that same dazed grin he said, "No, no know."

But his handwork outside his shop was suggestive of a tort so it was decided that a watch of the place wouldn't do any harm.

At noon yesterday a well dressed Chinaman walked up to Willie Ong at his Birch street shop. The conversation was short and seemed to consist of nothing but nods on Willie's part. Perhaps he couldn't say anything else. He may have been scared. Ask anybody who saw the pair talking. Ask Willie himself and watch him grin.

When the talk on the visitor's part was over the stranger walked to the corner of Main and Birch streets, and there, waiting for him was a Peoriaan, talking to him as an American chauffeur.

Perhaps he was a Hip Sing or On Leong ambassador. He was looking for funds to support the children of the killed in the war we have learned.

But, Willie Ong a few weeks ago told a Herald man amidst his grins "You know him Hip Sing? Him no good."

That was all—and when it comes to a conversation with a Chinaman—let the "cub" tell you—"try and get it."

WAPPING

An error in this column last night reported Mrs. Henry Nevins as having recently returned from the Manchester Hospital. The name should have been Mrs. Henry Myers.

About thirty attended the Parent-Teacher Association meeting in the school hall yesterday afternoon. Dr. Norman MacClead, pastor of the Congregational church in South Windsor spoke on the necessity of occupation for children. Mrs. Richard Jones, also of South Windsor, sang four solos. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Benjamin Risley. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The hostesses were Mrs. John Aiden Collins and Mrs. Erwin Stoughton. The program committee was Mrs. Clarence Johnson and Miss May Lathrop.

The regular monthly meeting of the Wapping-Buckland district of the Connecticut Valley Tobacco Association will be held in the school hall here at 7:30 tonight. Nathan C. Prince, well known Hartford banker, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Joseph Grigolat is ill with grip.

Elsie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nevins is recovering from a burn sustained a few days ago when she fell on the stove. Another daughter, Ruth, is convalescing from the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Buckland left this morning for a few days in Vermont, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dart of Vernon.

The committee of six of the Federated church will meet at the Methodist parsonage tomorrow evening at eight o'clock.

The Wapping Grange degree team will meet for drill in the vestry of the Methodist church this evening.

RED LIGHTS BEST, SAYS BUREAU OF STANDARDS.

Washington.—To settle the question of which lights are most easily distinguished at a distance and bring about standardization of colors for traffic signals, the Bureau of Commerce, has conducted exhaustive tests.

"Red signal lights are easily distinguished from other colors at a distance and require the lowest intensity for unmistakable recognition," the report of the bureau states.

North "Green signals come second in the list of colored lights."

FOUR TEAMS TIED IN MILL LEAGUE

Deadlock Results in Sills Bowing—The Scores.

Four teams are now tied for first place in the C. B. A. A. senior bowling league as a result of last night's meeting. The Machine Shop, Lower Mill, Ribbon Mill and Weaving Mill are deadlocked at the top of the ladder while the Old Mill and Velvet are in a tie at the cellar.

It all came about when the Weavers lost three to the Velvet Mill while the Old Mill trimmed the Machine Shop two games out of three. Then the Lower Mill came along to defeat the Ribbon Mill two out of three, thereby causing the tie.

R. Sad copped high single with 135, while Wilson, with 341, was high three game pinner. White of the Lower Mill still leads with 109.15 for an average over 24 games. He is leading Canade of the Old Mill by a bare fraction of a point.

The scores:

EAST WINDSOR ACCIDENT.

John Dooley of 57 Highland Park, Thompsonville, had a narrow escape from serious injury when the automobile which he was driving early Saturday morning went over a thirty-foot embankment. The accident occurred at 12:30 a. m., about 200 yards north of Station 58 on East Windsor Hill. Neither Dooley nor a young lady who was with him were seriously injured. The spot where the accident occurred is at the bottom of a steep grade, near a sharp curve. Within the past week five cars have all gone over the same embankment. Constable Vinton Benjamin who was at the scene of the accident, arrested Dooley on the charge of reckless driving as the road at the time of the accident was not slippery. The case will come up in South Windsor court tonight.

FAIR AT COUNTRY FAIR

A large attendance of members and guests is expected at the Country Fair being conducted at the Manchester Country Club on Friday evening of this week. The proceeds of the affair will go toward the purchase of a new piano. The plaza of the club house has been enclosed with glass and it will be here that the booths and concessions will be located. All sorts of chances will be offered to those present. Dancing will be enjoyed in the main room of the club.

THEATRES

PARK THEATRE CIRCLE THEATRE

Today and Wednesday the Park Theatre offers movie fans of two features consisting of two of the seasons star attractions and the latest news weekly. This is a program that will be found hard to equal in any theatre in the state.

Richard Dix in the Paramount Picture "Sinners in Heaven"

The first attraction is "Sinners in Heaven," a play that played for a long time ago and one that has large audiences in many cities. Those who saw it last evening at the Park were loud in praise of it.

"This afternoon and tonight "The First Year" is to be presented. This is the play that John Golden produced in New York where it ran two seasons at one theatre. It is a wonderfully clever comedy drama. It has a beautiful story of a young married couple undergoing their first year of married life. It is full of pathos and has you screaming with laughter almost every minute.

The second feature "Hold Your Breath" is a picture that is full of comedy and action, a picture that is well worth seeing if it were the only picture on the program. Dorothy Devore has been called the female Harold Lloyd of the screen and well she deserves the name for many of the stunts she does in this picture would be expected only from Lloyd himself.

There is a real comedy in the picture and yet it has a story that will hold interest from start to finish. It is a picture that every member of the family will enjoy, old and young alike, a picture that has thrills and laughs galore.

DECEMBER DANCE

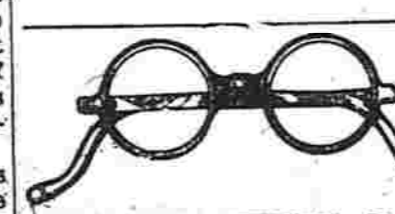

Al Behrend's Paramount orchestra has been engaged to furnish music for the monthly dance of the C. B. A. in Cheney hall on the evening of Thursday, Dec. 11. This orchestra has been playing two or three times a week in Manchester and vicinity and the association members are looking for a large attendance.

SETBACK TOURNAMENT

The third sitting in the Men's A. A. setback tournament will be held on Wednesday evening of this week, play starting at 8 o'clock. Bill Boyle and Dave Richie are leading in total points scored and have copped the prize at both of the former sittings. The other players have declared war on this combination and it is possible that some fireworks may be seen tomorrow evening. Any member who wishes may join in the tournament providing he takes the score of the lowest contestant for the previous sittings.

Big League Baseball Owners Report Ivory Market Crop High

SEVERAL DEALS ARE PENDING AS OWNERS MEET IN CAPITOL CITY FOR ANNUAL CONCLAVE

Most of the Check Writers Are Awaiting Until the Real Minor League Stars Are Placed on the Auction Block.

(By Davis J. Walsh)

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 2.—Until a late hour last night, four eminent gentlemen of the profession sat with heads together in a room just off the lobby of the Hotel Bond, official headquarters of the annual meeting today of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs. They were Col. Jacob Ruppert and Edward G. Barrow respectively president and business manager of the New York Yankees, and George Sisler and Phil Ball, manager and President of the St. Louis Browns.

Perhaps their discussion, if any, was purely social. However, it was reported Urban Shocker, spitball pitcher, was mentioned somewhere in the general conversation.

Some time ago Sisler let it be known that Shocker had outlasted his welcome in St. Louis. The Yankees hastened to acknowledge the fact that they might be tolerated in New York.

The original tip on the Shocker deal was that the Yankees had declined to part company with Waite Hoyt, but might do business with Bob Shawkey or Sam Jones if that proved acceptable to St. Louis.

The names of outfielders Williams, of the Browns, and Meusel, of the Yankees, also figured in the discussion which followed the discussion of the Shocker deal.

Incidentally, the International League is expected to do quite a bit of business with the majors at this conclave.

However, definite action, for the most part, was postponed. The following were exceptions:

Eric Erickson, formerly pitcher of the Washington Senators, was sold from Minneapolis to Toronto and the tip was broadcast that the next meeting would go to Catalina Island at the earnest behest of George Reel-son, of the Los Angeles club, speaking for Bill Wrigley.

LYRICS NOSE OUT LOCAL CRESCENTS BY SINGLE POINT

Crescents Surprise Hartford Fans by Their Mid-Season Form — Hartford Team Makes Innumerable Fouls.

One lone point kept victory away from the Crescents last night in Hartford against the Lyrics of that place in the local's third game of the current season.

With practically the identical lineup that the Crescents defeated at the Kacey hall a week ago, the Lyrics were compelled to do their utmost to avert another defeat. They were unable to stop the Crescents in the usual manner and when they did stop them they made a number of fouls.

Two local teams will be seen in action against each other on Christmas night at the local armory when Tom Stowe's All Collegians, composed of Manchester boys who are now in college, play the team representing Company G.

The first two games played in the Community Basketball League one week ago tomorrow evening brought out some fast snappy contests in which the West Side Rec with a scrappy, gallant little band of hoopers nosed out the Heights.

New York, Dec. 1.—Ugo Frigerio of Italy, who won the Olympic championship in walking at Paris in strict training for his scheduled duels with Willie Plant and other American walkers here this winter, according to word received today from Milan, he is being trained by Emilio Lunghi, who ran so well in the Olympic 800-metre race at Stockholm where Ted Meredith established his world's record.

The official batting average of the American League are exposed to public view this morning. It is no news to the faithful fans that G. Herman Ruth led all other sluggers in the younger circuit and that Harry Holtmann fell quite a distance from the far heights of his 1923 average.

What is noteworthy, however, is that the attempt on the part of baseball authorities to curb the wicked walloping of the ball in previous seasons by allowing the pitchers more leeway seems to have been somewhat of a success.

New York, Dec. 2.—Three teams had lapped the field in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden today. Desperate sprints enabled the combinations of McManis-Van Kampen, Walthour-Georgetti, and Egg-Grindango to steal a march—and a lap—on the other eleven teams. All of them however, still were far behind the record.

Local Sport Chatter

The Cubs are going to end their season next Sunday by playing the last Ironquills of Hartford at the West Side Rec on Saturday evening.

These kids are a hardy bunch of rascals and the game at the north end last Sunday testifies to that statement without a contradiction.

Now that his honor, Judge Kenneth Landis, high commissioner of baseball in Hartford it might be the details of the famous scandal of 1924—to wit—the O'Connell-Dolan controversy.

Apparently, that is on the surface, O'Connell and Dolan were banished because they didn't remember. "I don't know" is equal to saying "I won't".

Every man gets a chance to come back if he errs. Maybe the Kaiser of baseball, the man with the iron fist, might relent.

Herbert Johnson's team of bowlers in the Swedish Bowling League still maintains its dizzy pace having won 15 games and lost only one.

Table with columns: Team No., Player, Score. Lists bowling scores for various teams.

These things must go by the board. Every time a man is tried for any crime, under the Constitution of the United States, he has a right to a trial by jury.

Think this over. Two members of the New York Giants well liked, one young and just on the threshold of life, the other a man past his active usefulness on the diamond, suddenly decide that the lowly Phillies, a team whom the Giants despise, are going to play them.

Others are implicated and freed from suspicion. No one tries to investigate if others are wrong, the word of Judge Landis is enough.

There will be the preliminary rehearsal of last year's Red Men at the School Street Rec on Thursday evening of this week.

The Heights basketball team will practice at the School Street Recreation building tonight from eight to nine o'clock and the following men are requested to report:

HALF A HUNDRED ENGLISH HORSES WILL RACE HERE

Pimlico Futurity in 1927 Will See Over Two Score English Bred Horses at the Post.

It is welcome news, but not surprising, that nearly half a hundred English mares have been nominated for the Pimlico Futurity of 1927.

The making of these nominations does not mean that America is due three years hence for an invasion of foreign two-year-olds in an attempt to clean up all of our rich juvenile stakes.

Of significance, however, is the fact that foreign breeders at last are beginning to realize the necessity of naming their produce in American futilities.

The possibility of a racing campaign in the United States is not necessarily remote, however.

The racing associations must take heed, however, lest the man for speed and lowered records militate against further foreign visits.

Excellent Showing of Local Team Rates it High Among All Hartford County Grid Teams During Past Season.

(By the Sports Editor.)

The pirates, after four years of effort, have at last reached the ambition of every local football team, winning the town title.

A Mixture of Fate. Two strange things happened in the Shamrock game. The first was personal triumph for Jake Greenberg.

The writer, who introduced incorrigible football back in 1912, coached the Pirates this year and helped to win over a north end team after he had for 10 years coached the Shamrock team.

Play Hard Schedule. With the exception of the first game the Pirates played a hard schedule.

THIS AND THAT IN Feminine Lore

Less than twenty shopping days to Christmas! Can it be possible, it hardly seems so. "Do your Christmas shopping early and do it in your home town," says the New London Chamber of Commerce in a recent article in the New London Day. This is equally applicable to Manchester. Doubtless many a New London woman goes to Norwich or New Haven to shop when they could save time and money by making their purchases at home. The New London Chamber gives further hints to shopkeepers as well as buyers, warning the former against the shoplifters who take advantage of the Christmas buying crowds for their petty pilfering, and the latter to purchase merchandise from the firms who employ home labor, pay for the good roads, schools, police and fire protection and aid in supporting the churches and charitable institutions, rather than the unknown house to house canvassers who do not always deliver goods of the quality ordered.

Fruit in some form has been served with meat for ages, a natural combination. The apple sauce with roast pork or duck, currant jelly with mutton, pickled peaches or pears with goose and turkey, prunes in dressing, and so on, have proved appetizing because they are a healthful combination and valuable in aiding digestion.

Fruit with meat is peculiarly wholesome because the fruit adds valuable acids, minerals and fibrous elements lacking in the meat and makes a balanced meal. For the same reason fruit is always an excellent accompaniment of a well-ordered meal. Fruit is a moderator of too heavy diet a regulator of digestion and a natural laxative.

The crossword puzzles which have taken the country by storm are being used in all sorts of ways to gain publicity. For instance, recently a large New Haven store arranged its daily advertisement in the form of a crossword puzzle, which could not fail to attract the attention of purchasers. Sunday evening a Pittsburgh was called upon to solve a crossword puzzle arranged on a large blackboard by the minister. He worked out his combinations himself and after the opening prayer told them the puzzle must be solved before he could preach, for when the necessary words were supplied they would find in them the text of his sermon.

The "tabby" tread is the latest and is thought will end the fashion of Londoners who originated it. The cat has the credit of having the most graceful walk there is, it makes no unnecessary or abrupt moves. The fashionable woman must learn the secret, and it will help her to wear the same little tube frocks with new effect.

FASHIONS & FOIBLES by Shirley Sharon

BUTTERICK 5663
The tunic blouse costume is good for all women, even better for the business woman and best of all for the thrifty who need several frocks in one.

THE new long tunic blouses are so smart and pretty that one is apt to lose sight of their practical virtues. If you face the lower part of your slip with material to match your coat, you have the makings of a complete daytime wardrobe. Suppose your material is chocolate-brown kasha and your coat lining a printed silk crepe with an amber ground. A simple blouse of the same crepe makes a suitable frock for general wear and a more elegant blouse of amber-colored silk crepe beaded or embroidered in dark brown, crystal and silver will take you to any wedding, luncheon or reception.

CHINESE MOTIF BRINGS DESIRED STYLE NOVELTY

ONCE upon a time there was a little girl who had all the clothes she wanted!
Imagine!
But the little girl was an actress, and actresses must have a lot of clothes. They lead double lives, and must have two sets of clothes—one set for the characters they portray and one set for themselves, to wear of stage.
If the actress is a movie actress, she of course plays more characters in a working year than an actress of the stage—so SHE must have even more clothes than anyone you can imagine.
Oh, yes! Once there was a little girl who had all the clothes she wanted. That's the beginning. And she had had so many her head was in a whirl. So when it was time to appear in her latest picture, she didn't know what in the world to wear. Just like Every Other Woman. She'd tried dreary frocks, Empire frocks, croquet frocks, eighteen-eighty frocks, ever so many frocks of ever so many periods. So she went to China for a change, to get her inspiration. And there is the result, right above, in the photo.
The suit is silk, and the silk, its tassels, its buttons, its embroidery, its trimmings, and every detail. The girl is from Australia. Betty

OPERA STAR TURNS CRANK ON "BEN HUR"

Lina Cavalleri and her husband, Luellen Muratore, opera stars, were visited last week at the scene of "Ben Hur," being produced in Rome by Fred Niblo for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, as the first camera woman in pictures. She is filming a scene in which she is directing May McAvoy. The "Ben Hur" crank may grind slowly, but so do the Mills of the Gods. Ramon Novarro has the title role in the screen version of the Lew Wallace novel and play. But who will envy Franco X. his role of Messala, in all that armor?

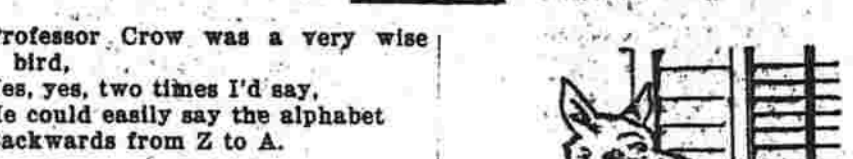

DAILY HEALTH TALKS by DOROTHY BOCKER M. A., M. D.

ADD 20 YEARS TO YOUR LIFE.

How would you like to have your funeral postponed 20 years?
A group of public health organizations, stimulated by the Milbank Memorial Fund, has recently begun a "longevity test" in a populous section of New York city, the idea being to prolong the lives of all men, women and children in the district.
Past experience almost assures success. In the last 50 years the average human life in New York has been lengthened by 15 years. By employing scientific methods, there is no reason to doubt that the New York longevity test will add anywhere from one to ten, or even more years to the lives of all the people who take advantage of it.
The significant lesson for everyone, no matter where he lives, in this test is that much emphasis is being placed on the prevention of disease, as well as the cure. At intervals complete physical examinations will be given so that minor defects may be detected before they progress to a serious point. Extra care will be taken to teach hygiene to all the participants in the test, so that they will know what to eat, how to exercise, how to work, in short, how to live.
As Dr. Monaghan, health commissioner, stated not long ago, marvels have been accomplished since 1900 in reducing the death rates from various diseases that formerly took a large toll in the nation's metropolis.
"Since 1900," he said, "the tuberculosis death rate has fallen from 280 per hundred thousand to 99; the city's infant mortality rate has dropped from 192 per thousand births to 75; the diphtheria death rate has decreased from 65 per hundred thousand to 15; and typhoid fever deaths have sunk from 21 per hundred thousand to 2. The general death rate in 22 years has decreased 42 per cent.

Amazing as these figures are, the death rate of all preventable sicknesses are still very high; high enough, in any event, to permit a well-managed longevity test to demonstrate that the average human life can be considerably extended by due observance of scientific health facts.

LITTLE JACK RABBIT by DAVID CORY

Professor Crow was a very wise bird, yes, yes, two times I'd say. He could easily say the alphabet Backwards from Z to A.
As he sat in his feather suit at his desk Right in front of all the school, He'd often quietly point with his wing At a little three-legged dance stool.
But he did nothing like that as I ended last night's story. No indeed. He had forgotten everything he ever knew and more than he could ever hope to learn, although he was a great professor. Danny Fox was trying to turn the front doorknob, you remember. Dearest me and dearest you, I hope he doesn't before Ducky Waddles fastens the bolt. Can't it too had didn't sit nearest the door instead of that poky wabby footed little duck? What would happen if that dreadful fox once slipped into the school room I never could relate. Your Uncle Dave has too tender a heart towards all little animals, but, thank goodness. The bolt clicked before Danny Fox had turned the knob half way round.
"Botheration!" snarled that unwelcome caller, finding that the door refused to open. Then, tapping softly, he waited for maybe a minute or three and peeped through the keyhole to see what he could see.
So did Ducky Waddles, but his yellow bill turned white as milk when he saw the big angry eye of Danny Fox on the other side of the keyhole. I guess he wished that the door had been locked with a key instead of a bolt.
"Now keep quiet," whispered Professor Jim Crow. "Fasten the inside blinds on the two side windows." When this was done, there wasn't a sound in the little school room except the pitter patter of twenty little frightened hearts.
"Guess we'll all be kept in after school," by and by, tittered Sammy Skunk, who was afraid of no one in the Shady Forest. Nobody has declared you free from tuberculosis, I should consider his findings sound. I think you are letting fear of childhood sickness shadow your life. So forget all about it. It would not hurt you to reduce by ten pounds.

PRESIDENT TELLS CONGRESS HOW TO REDUCE THE TAXES

Can Be Done, He Says by Continuing Present Policy of Strict and Unyielding Economy.

Washington, Dec. 2.—President Coolidge today told Congress how to keep on reducing taxes.

It can only be done, he said, by continuing the government's present policy of strict and unyielding economy.

Transmitting to Congress the federal budget for the fiscal year 1925-26 the President revealed that a surplus of $67,000,000 is anticipated at the end of the current fiscal year on June 30, 1925, and that the surplus for the next year is expected to be nearly $374,000,000.

Fourth Year of Campaign
"We are now in the fourth year of our campaign for the reduction of the cost of government," the President said in a special message read in both Houses this afternoon.

"Our aim is to reduce the burden of taxes. In this we have been successful. We have fastened upon expenditures to a minimum consistent with efficient service. We have before us an estimated surplus of $67,000,000 for the current year and $374,000,000 for the next year. Shall we embark upon new projects involving expenditures which will prevent the accumulation of these expected surpluses, or shall we continue the campaign for economy? We will have the way for further reduction in taxes."

Mr. Coolidge added, however, that this promised reduction could not be effected immediately, and indicated that he was not in favor of the tax problem being taken up by a special session of Congress after March 4 unless being suggested in some quarters.

"Before it is undertaken," he explained, "we should know more definitely by actual operation what our revenues will be under the present law but the knowledge of our revenues under the existing law will allow us nothing if we embark upon any new large expenditure program."

Economy Program
In accordance with the President's economy program the government's ordinary expenditures for the next fiscal year will be more than $60,000,000 less than this year. The total expenditures for 1925-26, including the payment of $1,300,000,000 toward the reduction of the public debt, will be $32,267,551,378, compared with $32,611,251,378 this year and $3,500,000,000 for the next year.

Yearly half of the saving to be effected will be in curbing the expenditures for the Army and Navy, the estimate being $29,000,000 less than the amount spent this year. This reduction is made," the President said, "in accordance with my belief that we can have adequate national defense with a more modest outlay of the taxpayers' money. Further study many point the way to additional reduction without weakening our national defense but rather perfecting it. The nation is at peace with the world. We no longer have international competition in naval construction of major units. We are concerned primarily with maintaining adequate preparedness. We should have adequate preparedness within the limits of the amounts recommended."

"To the Congress:
"I transmit herewith the budget of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926. The receipts and expenditures shown in detail in the budget are summarized in the following statement:

Estimated 1924-25
Total receipts $3,641,295,092
Total expenditures $3,267,551,378
Excess of receipts $373,743,714

Estimated 1925
Total receipts $3,601,968,297
Total expenditures $3,227,551,378
Excess of receipts $374,416,919

Excess of receipts $505,366,916.31
"In transmitting to Congress December 3, 1923 the budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, I recommended that taxes be reduced. This recommendation was warranted by the statement of our finances in that budget. It was estimated that under the tax laws then in force the surplus of receipts over expenditures would be $329,629,824 for the fiscal year 1924 and $395,681,634 for the fiscal year 1925. Taxes have been reduced. The confidence of the chief executive and of the Congress that our revenues could be safely reduced has been fully justified. The fiscal year which ended June 30, 1924, was closed with a surplus of receipts over expenditures of $695,366,000. This was $175,727,000 in excess of the estimate made on December 3, 1923. Increase of $117,367,000 in receipts and decrease of $58,360,000 in expenditures produced this unexpected additional surplus of $175,727,000.

Index Afforded
"We have now completed five months of the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, 1925. Before an index of the probable reduction in our revenues under the current tax law. It also affords an index of the limits within which our expenditures can be reduced under the continuing policy of economy. A revision of the estimate of receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925 indicates today that the receipts will be $3,601,968,297 and the expenditures $3,227,551,378. This forecast a surplus of receipts over expenditures for the current fiscal

Industrial Problem
Aside from the important factor of training personnel our national defense is largely an industrial problem. Today the outstanding weakness in the industrial situation as it affects national defense is the inadequacy of facilities to supply air service needs. The airplane industry in this country at the present time is dependent almost entirely upon government business. To strengthen this industry is to strengthen our national defense. For the air service of the army and navy, and the air mail service, the estimates, this including contract authorizations amount to $38,940,000. This contemplates an expenditure with the procurement of airplanes, engines and accessories. The remaining $20,658,000 is for maintenance, operation, experimentation and research.

The amount of $38,940,000 however, does not include all that will be available for this service in 1926. Accounts contributing to the air services facilities in other estimates, and usable war supplies, will make a total availability conservatively estimated at $65,000,000. The amount requested for national defense includes $50,118,000 for the army and navy reserves, National Guard, citizens military training camp, and other civilian training activities. There is also included in the national defense estimates $7,444,000 for increase of navy. This will provide for continued work for beginning work on two of the four remaining fleet submarines authorized in the 1916 program. It will also be necessary to request of Congress legislation increasing the authorized cost of the two airplane carriers now under construction.

Rivers and Harbors
For rivers and harbors, $56,237,600 is recommended. In this is included $40,000,000 for maintenance and improvement of existing river and harbor works, $10,500,000 for flood control on the Mississippi and Sacramento rivers. This will make possible material progress on the most important projects approved by Congress.

It is estimated that $6,541,590 will be needed to complete dam number 2 at Muscle Shoals. There is included in these estimates $50,000,000 to be set aside in the adjusted service certificate fund established under the World War Adjusted Compensation Act of May 19, 1924. This is for the second payment to the fund to be made on January 31, 1925. For the first payment, due January 1, 1925, $10,000,000 is included in the deficiency bill now under consideration by Congress. The applications from veterans so far have been below the estimated number shown in the records indicate that the number of applications should be beyond what present experience indicates as probable, there will be ample time to submit a supplemental estimate for the additional amount necessary before that date.

Federal Aid
"For federal aid to states the estimates provide in excess of $109,000,000. These subsidies are prescribed by law. I am convinced that the broadening of this field of activity is a desirable and important part of federal operations is impaired as their scope is unduly enlarged. Efficiency of state governments turn over to the federal government responsibilities which are rightfully theirs. I am opposed to any expansion of these subsidies. They can be curtailed with benefit to both the federal and state governments."

"For reclamation purposes I am recommending $9,777,257 for 1926. It is highly desirable that the Congress enact the legislation embodying new reclamation policies proposed in H. R. 9811, Sixty Eighth Congress, first session.

"The gross public debt was reduced $1,098,894,375 during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1924 and stood at $21,250,812,939 on the latter date.

"The total reduction in the debts since the high point of $62,594,000,000 on August 31, 1919 amounted to $5,342,000,000 at the close of last fiscal year. This total reduction has effected a saving in interest amounting to approximately $225,000,000 annually.

"The fixed debt charges are included in the regular budget of the government. The most important of these is the sinking fund provided in the Victory-Liberty Loan Act. Retirements through this fund during the past fiscal year were about $296,000,000. The next item in size among the fixed debt charges is the retirement of securities received from foreign governments under debt settlements and the purchases and retirements of securities from foreign repayments. These continuing reductions of the public debt have a very material effect in maintaining high prices for liberty bonds.

Interest Paid
"Interest paid in the fiscal year 1924 amounted to $940,000,000. It is estimated that this item will be $883,000,000 in 1925 and $830,000,000 in 1926. This saving of $110,000,000 in two years is the result of the reduction in the amount of the debt and decrease in the average rate of interest paid. The sinking fund is a part of the contract between the United States and the holder of the United States obligation, and, therefore, cannot in good faith be changed.

"In my message transmitting the budget for 1925 I recommended the enactment of legislation which would authorize a reasonable progressive building program to meet the needs of the establishment of the government in the District of Columbia. During the last session of Congress a bill was introduced authorizing a yearly appropriation of not exceeding $10,000,000 for a progressive building program. I earnestly recommend its enactment by Congress.

"We are now in the fourth year of our campaign for reduction in the cost of government. Our aim is to reduce the burden of taxes. In this we have been successful. We have before us an estimated surplus of $67,000,000 for the current fiscal year and $374,000,000 for the next

Page Foundation Urges Abolition of U.S. Employment Service System

New York City.—Because of its association exclusively with the Department of Labor, without participation by other Federal departments, the United States Employment Service has been marked in the minds of employers as a partisan agency, and this renders effective development of the Employment Service, as at present organized, well high impossible. This is one of the conclusions drawn in an exhaustive report on "Public Employment Offices—Their Purpose, Structure and Methods," which has just been issued by the Russell Sage Foundation as the result of an investigation started in 1919.

"A public employment service is designed to serve both employers and workers," says the report, "but until recently it has been accepted as of more vital need to workers than to employers, inasmuch as unemployment is far more devastating to workers than shortage of labor to employers. Experience has indicated, however, that an employment service whose dominant objective is service to workers will play a comparatively insignificant role in the world of labor. Without the wholehearted support of employers, the service cannot fulfill its purpose."

The control of the United States Employment Service by the Department of Labor has proved to be a form of protest from employers generally. The charge is that the department is organically partisan. Whether the service has or has not been administered impartially is more or less beside the point. Its association with the Department of Labor and, through the Secretary of the Department, with organized labor, has been enough to mark it in the minds of employers as a partisan agency. This in itself is sufficient to render its effective development in that department in the immediate future well high impossible.

Proposes Remedy
To remedy this situation, the Foundation's report recommends the establishment of a nationwide system of public employment offices in which the Federal, State and local governments would cooperate, and which would be administered under a board made up of the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Commerce and the Secretary of Agriculture, with the assistance of a national advisory council and local committees representing employers and employees. Such an administration, the report says, "ought to insure beyond possibility of doubt a generally non-partisan employment service."

Other outstanding facts in the report follow:
"Employers are either indifferent to or suspicious of public employment agencies because of their association with the Department of Labor. The result is that the number of applications for jobs is small and the number of jobs filled is correspondingly small."

"The labor market is being flooded by the private employment bureaus, charging that they are being favored by employers and that their sole purpose is to exploit the worker."

"Southern states, in an effort to restrict the migration of negro labor to the North, are using legislation and license fees, making it increasingly difficult, for private agencies to send negro workers out of the state."

"Some of the employment bureaus operated by employers' associations, boards of trade and similar organizations, are being operated chiefly, if not exclusively, in the interests of employers who desire to control the means through which contracts between the worker and the job are made."

Unions Also Active
Some trade unions which similarly set up bureaus which seek to keep members of their unions employed and which may be of service in placing men in plants where they can help the cause of unionism.

The use of newspaper want advertisement columns as a means of securing employes has been practically universal, but the advantages of this method are almost wholly on the side of the employer.

NOTRE DAME CHAMPS OF FOOTBALL FIELD

New York, Dec. 1.—Remove the tin foil and tissue paper wrapping, wait a handful of dew over the collection and present the corsage of American beauties to Notre Dame University. For the first time these many years, we have an unchallenged national champion of collegiate football and Notre Dame is it. One can no more go behind the records than one can go behind the pape of his neck and the records show the Irish to be the only undefeated and untied football team of any consequence between the two poles.

Dartmouth has as sound a record as any eleven in eastern football. Yet Dartmouth was tied by Yale, which, in turn, was tied by West Point, which lost to Notre Dame. Yale, another unbeaten eastern team, is eliminated from national consideration by the same equation. Pennsylvania's record likewise is untarnished by defeat. But Pennsylvania was tied by Penn State which has beaten by Georgia Tech, which lost to Notre Dame. So much for the east.

The middle west has Chicago as champion of its big ten conference but the Stagg entry lost its opening game to Missouri and was tied by Ohio State and Minnesota which was tied by Wisconsin which lost to Notre Dame. And what of Missouri? It was beaten by Nebraska which lost to Notre Dame. That would seem to eliminate the Missouri valley conference, in toto, as far as Notre Dame is concerned.

The southern champion is Centre College because of its victories over Alabama and Georgia. But the Colonels, finished second to West Virginia which lost to Pittsburgh, which lost to Carnegie Tech, which lost to Notre Dame.

Thus far, the cycle of eliminations is perfect. It leads back to South Bend, Indiana, for its climax in every case.

daily wage, did not receive a sufficient annual employment to maintain a reasonable standard of living. Thus, there grew out of this vicious cycle constant incentive to labor difficulties.

Primary remedies for the coal situation, according to Hoover, are: 1. Sufficient transportation facilities, because car shortages result in increased prices, profiteering and stimulus to the maintenance of high-cost mines.

2. Reduction of seasonal character of the industry by the summer storage of coal by the larger commercial and industrial users.

3. A period of industrial peace, so that by avoiding strikes the subsequent profiteering would disappear, and thus the fly-by-night and high-cost mines lose their support.

4. Restoration of real competitive conditions. A large amount of summer storage has been induced as a result of Hoover's investigation, it was stated. Car shortages have been eliminated through co-operation of the railroads. The United Mine Workers of America have entered into a long time agreement with operators, insuring industrial peace.

"Here is a case where the savings of economic waste can be measured in the hundreds of millions of dollars," Hoover declared.

Interconnection of electric power and lighting systems in eleven northeastern States, a subject to which Hoover has given some attention, and certain proposed consolidations would make possible an annual saving of 50,000,000 tons of coal, an annual saving of more than $500,000,000, at an additional capital outlay of about $1,250,000,000 would be possible, according to the Secretary.

Waste of Life. The revision of Federal and State purchasing specifications unquestionably will have many millions of dollars to taxpayers through better methods of buying and definite standards of quality, the annual report declared.

"The most challenging of all wastes is that of human life," Hoover said.

Old Time Phrasology Banned—Up-of-Date Terms Used.

London.—Lively religious controversy is apt to follow the publication of the Old Testament, which has just been published by Dr. James Moffatt, D.D., of St. Andrew's University.

Dr. Moffatt, who has made Hebrew and Greek life-long studies, has spent eight years in translating the Old Testament, and states that it has been his aim to present it with the true Oriental atmosphere, but in effective and intelligible English.

The contrast between Dr. Moffatt's version and the older version is remarkable chiefly for the fact that it resorts to current phrasology, which will undoubtedly lead to controversies as to the impairment of modern English as against the ancient.

Dr. Moffatt holds that such old-time phrasology as "Lo and behold" and "It came to pass," together with obsolete idioms, do not convey much meaning to the present generation, and therefore he has translated the Old Testament into what is almost modern newspaper English.

Typical differences in the old version and Moffatt's version are instances in the story of the birth of Moses.

The old version says: "And when she could no longer hide him, she took for him an ark of bulrushes, and daubed it with slime and with pitch, and put the child therein; and she laid it in the flags by the river's side."

Dr. Moffatt's version of the same passage is: "When she could hide him no longer she took a creel made of straw, and she put the child in it, and she daubed it with mud and pitch, and she put it in the flags by the river's side."

NATIONAL WASTE IN INDUSTRY WOULD PAY U. S. DEBT IN YEAR

Hoover Reports to President—Urges Increasing Real Wages by Lower Prices in Proportion.

Washington.—An economic formula for permanent national progress and prosperity was laid down today by Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

Hoover's report: "The American standard of living is the product of high wages to producers and low prices to consumers."

"The road to national progress lies in increasing real wages through proportionately lower prices."

"The one and only way is to improve methods and processes and to eliminate waste."

"By well-directed economic forces, by co-operation in the community, we can not only maintain American standards of living, but we can raise them."

National waste in industry alone, according to Department of Commerce figures, aggregates more than twenty-five billion dollars annually, more than the entire national debt, plus the yearly cost of governmental operation.

Wastes in other fields cannot be estimated accurately, but it is said to be tremendous.

Hoover, in his annual report to President Coolidge, took up national waste under the following heads: Unemployment and the business cycle.

Wastes due to seasonal construction. In the bituminous coal industry. Interconnection of electric power and lighting systems.

industry and commerce, none of them leads to paternalistic ends." Hoover thinks that the greatest waste is occasioned by periodic slackening of production and the resultant unemployment. He discussed this subject under the head of the "business cycle," of which he has made a wide study.

The Secretary, calling attention to the 4,500,000 persons without employment at the opening of the Harding administration, says that the first National Conference on Unemployment was called for the primary purpose of "promotion of temporary relief and with the broad consideration of the whole problem of business slumps."

As a result a committee was named by Hoover for the study of the business cycle.

The committee found that slumps in business are due fundamentally to the economic collapse from the wastes, extravagance, speculation, inflation, overexpansion and relaxation of effort by labor developed during booms," Hoover declared.

"Remedies were proposed in three directions: "First, better control of credit by the Federal Reserve system and the individual bankers, so as to prevent rank speculation and overexpansion."

"Second, provision of more adequate information as to the tendencies in production, stocks, consumption of commodities, employment, etc., so as to enable business generally to judge better of the approach of dangerous periods."

"Third, the deterrent of as much as possible of public construction, work during periods of full private demand in the industry to those periods when the construction industries were not so much in demand."

Hoover regards the work of this committee as of great importance in curbing the beginnings of a dangerous boom in the spring of 1923. He said that it enlisted public attention throughout the world, has "stimulated economic thought, and developed very tangible results in application of the principles laid down for mitigating the high losses to the community through waste of booms and their inevitable collapse into gigantic unemployment."

Efforts are under way to eliminate wastes occasioned by "the seasonal ups and downs in building," characterized as "evils that are largely preventable and can be eliminated." Prevention of these wastes would strengthen the entire business structure, according to Hoover, who added that "construction is the balance wheel of American industry."

"If building falls off there is always a slackening in many other lines of industry, resulting in unemployment, decreased purchasing power of employes and further depression," Hoover explained.

Tells of Coal Waste. The high instability of the bituminous coal industry, functioning at a great national loss, is another serious problem, according to the Secretary's report.

An example of the modernization, which some may interpret as a change in characterization, is shown in the following old version: "And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before Me, for the earth is filled with violence through them, and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth."

Dr. Moffatt's version says: "So God said to Noah, 'I have resolved to put an end to every human being, for they have filled the earth with violence and outrage. I will destroy them and the earth together.'"

The new production of Dr. Moffatt is in two volumes.

MILLION DOLLAR INSURANCE POLICIES INCREASE.

Chicago.—Americans who carry $1,000,000 or more of life insurance have increased in number from sixty to 1150 in the last year.

Three years of suffering with constipation. What happiness was his when Kellogg's Bran, cooked and crumbled, restored his health. But read his letter.

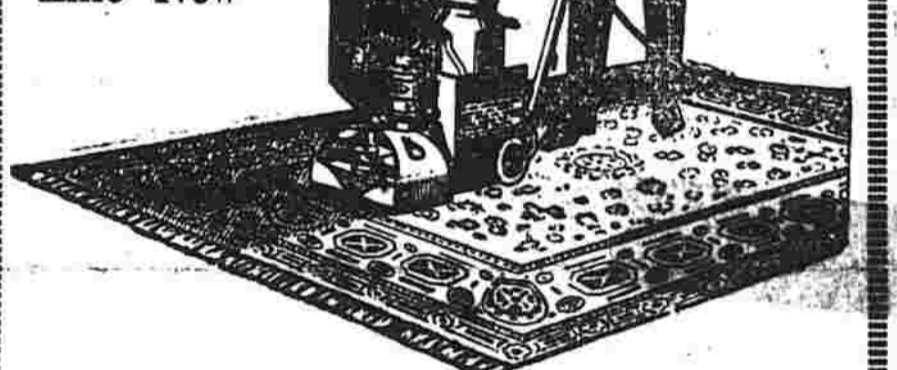

"Dear Sir: This is what I think of your crumbled bran. I would not be without it for anything in the world. For three years I used all kinds of medicines for constipation, and only got temporary relief. I was advised by a doctor to use Kellogg's Bran and since I began using it I don't have to take pills or anything else. I have used it two months, and my constipation has been cured. I feel better now than I have for three years."

(The original of this letter is on file at the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.) Kellogg's Bran brings results because it is ALL bran. You can't fight constipation with half-way measure—with bran which is only part bran. It takes ALL bran to be 100 per cent effective. Because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran it sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It acts naturally—just as nature acts. It stimulates the intestine and makes it function regularly. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will refund your money.

Kellogg's Bran has a delicious nut-like flavor. Quite different from ordinary, unpalatable bran. You will like it as a cereal, sprinkled on other cereals, cooked with hot cereals, or in the recipes given on every package.

Eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's Bran every day—in chronic cases, with every meal. Made in Battle Creek, Sold by all grocers.

CIRCLE THEATER ACTORS GIVE FINE PRODUCTION

Theatergoers Urged to Take Advantage of This Week's Plays—It is Hoped Venture Will Pay.

Last night local theatre-goers were given an opportunity to see a Broadway success, a Winchell Smith play, presented by good actors, and at exceptionally reasonable prices.

Those people of Manchester who are continually ridiculing local efforts to give city productions should stop their criticisms right now and go to the Circle Theater any day or night this week.

"Thank U," one of John Golden's and Winchell Smith's best plays was presented before a good-sized audience at the Circle last night in a manner that would do any American city theater justice.

John F. Sullivan is to be congratulated on bringing a company with such an excellent repertoire to town. The leads are carried by Miss Caroline Cunningham, F. Walton Card, and Charles K. Champlin.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Basketball practice was held yesterday afternoon at the School street Rec. This is the opening of the week of scrimmage for the High school basketball team.

Freshmen music appreciation class was conducted yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the assembly hall. Miss Doward has charge of the class.

High school will open its basketball season Friday, December 13 at Willimantic.

The High school football team was defeated at Willimantic by the score of 14 to 0, but Manchester expects to hold its own at basketball.

The Sophomore chorus rehearsed this afternoon at the High school hall at 1 o'clock. Miss Doward took charge of the chorus.

Interclass leagues were started today at the School street Rec and the class league will start sometime this week.

The candy stand that was erected in the High school has proved to be a great success.
