CRICKETED TEETH.

Cricketed teeth, in its broadest sense, means "teeth that do not meet together or meet properly. The upper teeth may be too prominent, protruding under the upper lip in a manner that leaves the lower about one half-inch behind. Or, the condition may be reversed and the lower overreach the uppers in the same manner. This condition is known as "prolucclusion."

Some cases of malocclusion may be the direct result of falls, blows on the mouth before the permanent teeth are still present, or perhaps the youngster has been undernourished, stomach trouble, indigestion, poor speech and embarrassment due to lack of facial harmony are due to malocclusion and its accompanying lack of proper food mastication.

All of these conditions are of enough importance to cause the parent to think seriously of the child's dental welfare, and a thorough examination of the growing youngster's teeth, as regards their proper relation to each other will often be of great value.

A physician's viewpoint on your child's dental condition, is a very valuable one, especially if it is every child's normal heritage.

School work, mental development, and physical gain all depend on the proper food and nourishment, and it is up to you to see that your youngsters can advance properly in each of these lines without the fearful handicap of poorly meeting dental arches.

Isn't it much better for your child to wear a few wires and appliances on the teeth for a year or so, and in so doing gain those straight pretty teeth that make smiling a real delight, than to neglect this and have that same boy or girl grow to maturity in poor health and with the ever present thought that a little attention on the part of his or her parents would have prevented such conditions.

Examine your child's mouth and if you find that the teeth are not meeting as they should go to your dentist and have him fit the proper appliances for that particular case.

It is a matter of a few months' time, and a few dollars, but the satisfaction that will come to you from the improved health, mental faculty, facial appearance and, above all, from the knowledge that you are taking advantage of every opportunity to give your child a better start in life will more than compensate for the time and money involved.

The longer you allow the teeth to develop in the wrong position the harder it is for your dentist to correct them. If your child is suffering from malocclusion see your dentist at once.

Question—I have nervous sick headaches about every two weeks which last for four days. I vomit green, bitter fluid. I have tried every pill on the market with no results. Can I do anything to prevent them? Mrs. O. I. Nebr.

Answer—Probably you have never tried a systematic search for the condition causing these headaches. You must have a complete physical examination made, including teeth, throat, eyes, chest, abdomen and pelvis in order to determine the cause of your trouble. Go

ANDOVER

The marriage of Miss Elsie Talbot to G. Wayne Williams took place in the Congregational church Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Haun, of Columbia. The attendants were Miss Mary Gardner, a classmate of Miss Talbot, and the Rev. Dr. N. D. McDonald of the School of Pedagogy, Hartford. Only the parents and brother of the bride witnessed the ceremony. A reception was held at the home of the bride in the afternoon at which only immediate relatives were present. Mr. Worden of Willimantic was caterer. The bride and groom left during the afternoon. Presumably for New York.

Ideal weather conditions, a splendid program, and record attendance all contributed to make a thoroughly delightful and picturesque scene of the Annual Cradle Roll Party, held at the South Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon. One hundred and seventy babies and tiny tots of the Cradle Roll age, besides a hundred and thirty older children and adults, including the mothers, filled the Sunday School room to its capacity. The Little Light Bearers, the infant missionary group of the church, were also present for their annual mite box opening.

SCOUT NEWS

Big Time For Scout Officials At Camp Pioneer. The annual outing for Scout Officials of the Hartford County is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, June 27 and 28 at Camp Pioneer. This is the big time of the year for Scout Masters, Assistant Scout Masters and all Committeemen to enjoy a regular scout week end. The following letter has been received from A. L. Brown of the publicity committee of the Hartford Council. This letter tells the whole story. "Have you reserved Saturday and Sunday, June 27th and 28th for the Annual Jamboree and Outing at Camp Pioneer of the Scoutmasters Troop to which your assistants and committeemen are also invited and urged to attend? If not, take the advice of an old timer and do so at once for this is to be the biggest and best since Camp Pioneer started back in 1920. Tell your wife you will be home Sunday morning in time for breakfast."

and Lawson. Scoutmaster Lawson will roast a chicken. Scoutmaster Hutchinson will demonstrate the art of baking Lumber Jack or hole beans; "Bob" Loomis will weld together some of his famous Camp pies and "Doc" Lane will manufacture concoctions of corn bread and "speckled pup". The latter is a mystery but is guaranteed to be palatable and will be a good "end of a perfect meal." Third, Scoutmaster Chittenden of New London will be able to give us some good ideas on outside handicraft. Fourth, a rousing camp-fire at night where you can smoke up and tell your best fish stories.

When you return to your troops you will have a raft of suggestions, ideas for hikes and overnight camps for your scouts which will be like adding interest to the principle of pleasures represented by your investment of time taken for the trip. First will be the erection of an Admirable lean-to which will be a permanent fixture at Camp Pioneer and a working model for the scouts who are after the Merit Badges of Pioneering etc., and will be useful to you for the future instruction of your troops.

GREENHILL TERRACE IS IDEAL SECTION FOR BEAUTIFUL HOME

Senator Smith Adds 15 Acres to Handsome Development—Sloping Farm Land Makes Appealing Site for Fine Houses—Well Known People Purchase Lots.

With the acquiring of 15 more acres of land on Pitkin and Porter streets Senator Robert J. Smith, local real estate dealer, has completed his original plans to develop a home-site for the better type of houses. Greenhill Terrace, an ideal lay-out on the beautiful hillside which runs back from Pitkin and Porter streets, is now one of Manchester's beauty spots.

Is Beautiful Farm Land. It seems unusual, but nevertheless logical, that one of Manchester's finest farms should evolve into a residential section. The Pitkin farm was always a rich, attractive and inviting spot. Its rolling green fields, sloping gradually up to meet the woodlands which topped Green Hill, always produced a healthy, hearty and generous bearing fruit trees.

Modern in Every Way. This new tract, located in the section of Manchester which goes further back in history, is provided with sewer, water and lights. Gas pipes are being laid today. It is in the heart of the most rapidly growing section of Manchester, just a step from the most traveled thoroughfares in Manchester, Pitkin, Elwood, and Porter streets are completely graded and paved highways on or bordering the tract while Robert, Richard, Raymond, and Waranoke roads are either staked out or being constructed.

Senator Smith first bought the five acre plot where his own home, race, now stands and sold all the lots there. He next acquired the five acres just south of his original purchase. Due to the size of the lots, 90 feet front and 200 feet deep, he had no time to sell in this addition and they are sold. Now he has purchased the rest of the terrace, 15 acres in all, south to Porter street. All the lots on this new section will be large. Most of them are 90 feet front and 200 feet deep, while some of them are 100 by 200 feet. Senator Smith believes that the man who builds a costly home wants plenty of room to set it off with trees and shrubs after it is completed.

Those homes which are finished at Greenhill Terrace are beautiful and set a high standard for those who are to build there in the future. Senator Smith's restrictions imposed upon the purchase of a lot have kept the type of homes on the terrace the best that can be found in any one section of Manchester. Beside the home of Senator Smith which stands on Elwood street these houses already completed are owned by Robert Webber, James Stevenson, Major Harry B. Bissell, Raymond Joyner and Fred Carpenter. Raymond Goslee, James Irving, Laberge Gear and Judge Raymond A. Johnson have homes being built now. Those which are completed follow the Colonial style, with the exception of Major Bissell's which is a handsome brick dwelling.

The streets and lots on the terrace are so laid out that every home will have a beautiful view to the west. The slope of the hillside to the east is just at the right degree so that each lot seems placed on a terrace higher than the one just west. Green Hill, itself at the top of the Smith layout affords a beautiful background for the new homes. On the hill are located several fine residences including the Elia estate, which Frank H. Anderson will occupy, and the handsome home of W. R. Tinker, Jr.

Sidewalks have been constructed on those streets already developed and will be placed on the others as soon as they are read. The cross roads in the tract are so arranged that they lead to highways now being used on the other side of Pitkin street and Waranoke Road will open on to Porter street making the terrace accessible from two main thoroughfares.

Harry Malden, tabulating superintendent of Cheney's, Read Richardson of The Manchester Trust Co., Norman Cuddeback, superintendent of the Weaving mill timetudy department, Charles Felber, assistant production manager in the silk mills, and F. A. Verplanck, superintendent of Ninth District Schools.

To Rush Development. Senator Smith intends to devote considerable of his time the next two months supervising the development of the Terrace and in disposing of those lots which he has left. He has a standing invitation to the people of Manchester and any others interested to drive or walk to the tract. He will be in his office at 1009 Main street or at his home at 27 Elwood street, to quote terms and prices on the lots on the terrace.

HEBRON

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ward of Hartford spent the week-end here and were at Columbia lake Sunday afternoon with a party of relatives and friends. While bathing, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Cummings in practicing the swimming stroke became frightened and losing control of herself sank twice. The screams of her sisters attracted the attention of a cottager who dove in and swam to her rescue. She was unconscious when brought to shore but quickly regained her senses. The water was not very deep where she was bathing but in her frightened condition she narrowly escaped drowning.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Porter have bought the store property belonging to the estate of the late Miss Ellen Buell. The store was formerly operated by the late George S. Bestor and since that time it has been operated by many others. It is being put into shape for occupancy by the new owners. The complete list of teachers for the Hebron schools is as follows: Center schools, Misses Mertelle Goodwin and Dorothy Foster; Amston, Miss Alice Whitney; Jagger school, Miss Tillie Friedrich; Jones Street, Miss M. Elizabeth Slick; Lord school, Miss Esther Lord; W. H. school, Miss Marcia Zabriske; Gilead Hill, Miss Pamela Brousseau. There has as yet been no teacher engaged for the Advent school at Hopevale.

A ball game was played at Columbia on Saturday with a team from Willimantic resulting in a victory for the Hebron team in a score of 15 to 0. A game played on Sunday in Yantic between a picked team from Hebron and Hampton and the Yantic team resulted in a victory for Yantic, score 11 to 7. Harold Holcomb and family of Hartford spent the week-end at their "Stone House" cottage near the Marlborough line. Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Allen of Hartford were at their Burroughs Hill place for the week-end.

Casualties continue to be reported concerning the storm of Saturday afternoon. At the Stikins farm on Burnt Hill a cow was struck by lightning and killed. Near that place over the Andover line a valuable calf owned by Louis Whitcomb was killed in the same way. Mrs. Sherwood Miner, her son Charles, her daughter, Mrs. Harold Gray, and two children, visited Miss Hannah Fuller in East Hadam on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John N. Hewitt and Mrs. George Mitchell went on a motor trip on Sunday visiting several of the beaches along the Sound.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The western disturbance is central this morning over Iowa and moving slowly eastward. It is raising unsettled weather with local showers and thunderstorms from Colorado eastward to Ohio and from Tennessee northward to Canada. The greatest amount of rain reported for the last 24 hours was 2.74 inches at Omaha, Neb. Moderate temperatures continue in all the northern districts. Conditions favor for this vicinity fair followed by unsettled weather and probably local showers.

SACKCLOTH AND SCARLET GAY PARISIAN STORY AT THE STATE THEATER AT CIRCLE TOMORROW

Tender Story of a Girl's Devotion to Shield Another—Stirring Scenes of Canada and Washington, D. C.

The emotion which reaches the heart the quickest of all—unselfish love—is the theme of the splendid photoplay, "Sackcloth and Scarlet," at the State theatre tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening. The story is an adaptation of George Gibbs' famous novel. The leading role is taken by Alice Terry, star of "Scaramouche," "The Four Horsemen," and "The Prisoner of Zenda." Dorothy Sebastian and "The Follies," and Orville Caldwell, "The Miracle," are in the supporting cast.

"Sackcloth and Scarlet" was adapted for the screen by Tom Geraghty. Jules Furtimann and George Gibbs and also serially in the Red Book Magazine. It deals with the lives of two girls, sisters, all alone in the world. The younger of the two is the flighty sort who does her hair first and thinking afterward. Out in the wild and woolly west in search of adventure she gets into trouble with a handsome young mountain guide and camps there when he asks her to marry him. Later a baby boy is born in a little French village where Joan (Alice Terry) takes her sister.

Back in Washington with friends, Joan meets and falls in love with the same fellow who has made good and is now representing his town-folk in Congress. But the other girl comes back from France and all but ruins the happiness of her sister.

U. S. TEAM AHEAD. Hurlingham, Eng. June 24.—In spite of a wet field and a drizzle of rain, the United States Army polo team got away to a snappy start today in the second match of their series with Great Britain and were leading two goals to one at the end of the second chukker. The Americans rode sensationally in the soft going at the outset and scored two goals before the British found themselves. The latter made their lone tally in the second period in which the Yankees failed to score. America won the first match of the series by eight goals to four.
