

PASSING OF LIVESTOCK GIVES FARMERS TROUBLE

Passing of the livestock from the farms is credited by Prof. H. L. Garrigus of the animal husbandry department of Connecticut Agricultural College as one of the principal reasons for agricultural troubles in such towns as Manchester, Wapping and Windsor.

gave way to tobacco and even the gardens and small cash crops were dropped as more land went into tobacco. Bills for commercial fertilizer began to mount and the tobacco growers tried to meet this by growing cover crops and by rotations.

"With the increase of automobiles and trucks, city livery stables ceased to furnish a source of supply of manure. Commercial fertilizer and cover crops had to be depended upon to meet the increasing drain on the land.

"Louis Radding of Manchester was one of the first farmers to attempt to meet the new fertility problem of feeding beef and hogs. For the third year he is successfully feeding both, and expects to increase his feeding operations with hogs to about 350 hogs. He claims for his beef and hog feeding system a better distribution of labor, the return of humus to the soil, larger and better crops of tobacco and a big reduction in the bill for commercial fertilizer."

The Burr Nurseries at Manchester are also in their third year of beef feeding experiments. The principal objective is a manure supply for the nursery business. L. Wetstone and Sons of Vernon are also feeding steers, now with their second lot of steers this winter. Most of the steers come from the Chicago and Kansas City stockyards.

Tobacco sheds have been utilized by a number of farmers for winter feeding of livestock. A. H. Ellsworth of Broad Brook keeps about 250 head of hogs. Oliver Felton of South Windsor and J. Dunn of Broad Brook have also been successful with hogs.

"Farmers who have Jersey or Guernsey cows and sell cream or butter will find hogs a good investment," says Prof. Garrigus. "City garbage is also utilized for hog feeding in some places. Western methods of grazing crops and home raised feeds, even to the 'hogging down' of cornfields, are desirable for this section. Dressed pork is much more profitable than selling on the hoof. There is a ready sale for farm dressed pork at good prices. The Chester White breed at one time dominated the Connecticut hog industry but the Berkshire and Duroc Jersey breeds are now popular."

Sheep, Prof. Garrigus finds, are increasingly popular. As the United States is now importing about half its wool, the western sheep business has been picking up and during the past year three New England states have formed sheep breeders' associations. The Connecticut farmer is more inclined to a mutton or combination wool and mutton breed. The Shropshire has been the accepted breed in Connecticut, although the Southdown is increasing in popularity. Most of the sheep brought in from the west are grade Merinos, a fine-wool breed.

"F. W. Schaeffer of East Hartford gets gross returns from his sheep of about $17 a head," says Prof. Garrigus. H. Warren Case of Manchester until recently kept a large flock and was able to make marked improvement on his farm by the use of sheep. John Cheney, a florist in Manchester, some years ago started a flock of sheep on his farm at Andover and succeeded in redeeming a considerable acreage of brush land and made a practically abandoned farm into a really attractive and productive property."

POLICE COURT

William Thompson of Hilliard street paid a fine of $10 and costs for intoxication in police court this morning. He was arrested by Officer R. H. Wirtalla last night. An additional charge was brought against him and he was suspended by the judge. William Carr, an old offender, was sent to jail for twenty days. He was arrested by Officer Martin yesterday on complaint of Carr's mother.

GOVERNOR SMITH BETTER BUT STILL BEDRIDDEN

Albany, N. Y., March 30.—Gov. Smith, who is confined to the executive mansion with a cold and sore throat, today was reported as feeling much better.

The governor probably will remain in bed for greater part of the day. It was said he may not return to the capitol before Thursday.

TURBULENT FIGHT ON JUDGE ENGLISH

"Politics!" Cry Democrats as Case of Accused Judge Comes Up in House.

Washington, March 30.—One of the most turbulent fights in the annals of the federal judiciary appeared in Congress today as the House took up the question of impeaching U. S. District Attorney George W. English, East St. Louis, Ill., accused of corruption in handling bankruptcy cases, tyrannical conduct, and a wide variety of misdemeanors. The issue was clearly drawn. Those for impeachment declared the federal judiciary must be maintained uncorrupted, those opposed, that it must not be enslaved in politics. Wilson Appointee. English, a Democrat, was appointed by President Wilson in 1916. As his case began today many Democrats were openly hostile over what they believed to be an attempt to "railroad" him into private life. "One must regard the conduct of Judge English," said Rep. Graham, Republican, of Penn., leader of the fight for impeachment, as tending to bring shame and reproach on the administration of justice and effect the confidence of the people in our courts. "The independence of the federal judiciary must be preserved," said Rep. Bowling, Ala., ranking Democrat in the campaign to save English, "so that they will feel free to exercise good judgment without fear."

Trial in Senate. A majority vote for impeachment by the House will be sufficient to throw the case into the Senate where the formal trial would then take place, a two-thirds vote being required to unseat English. There have just been nine impeachment trials before the Senate. The last one resulted in the removal of Judge Robert W. Archibald, U. S. Commerce court, in 1913. Since then an attempt was made to remove Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, but it was killed in committee.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Things are not as bad as they could be. Ford might be turning out a quantity production of motorcycles instead of automobiles.

It is easy to tell when you are on the wrong road—you never see any detour signs.

Gift—I hear that Mrs. Sweeting lost control of her car.

Gift—Yes, her husband couldn't keep up the installments.

"Pay for it on installments—as you ride," said the salesman who was showing a motorcycle.

"All right," said the customer, "but, remember, I'm a very slow rider."

Wedding Bells? The traffic violator did not heed. He raced ahead pell-mell. So the doctor told the sexton, And the sexton tolled the bell.

Bandits are wise enough to lay off the fellow who has just purchased an auto. Nothing doing there.

We noticed a sign on the rear of a fiver which read: "I'm not worth hitting. Go around, please."

Even an optimist can't see much fun in missing a street car.

It must be a pleasant experience to visit a traffic cop's home and see him get bossed around.

Four persons out of five get four gallons of gas for five at four out of five filling stations.

Owners of small coupes probably don't have much fun anyhow and so no pedestrian begrudges them the sport they get after equipping their cars with horns that sound like those on the Interstate buses.

Don't worry about the detours on the broad road that lead to destruction.

"And the traffic cop arrested you?"

"Twice," replied Mr. Cuggins. "When I couldn't stop he arrested me for speeding, and when I finally stopped and couldn't start, he arrested me for blocking the traffic."

"Satisfactorily Efficiently"

We can handle a surmountable volume of business, and we can serve our customers very satisfactorily, efficiently, by means of our toll telephone service. So says Mr. J. P. Schilling, Secretary of the Coles Company, Middletown.

To handle business in volume, and at the same time to render satisfactory service to customers, calls for good organization and modern methods. Like many other able executives in a great variety of fields, Mr. Schilling knows that toll telephone service is a direct aid in the efficient handling of business affairs. By means of it you can buy or sell, obtain prices or quote them, give shipping orders or trace a bill of goods; any of the numberless things which arise to be done many times a day—and to be done, nowadays, with economy of time and effort.

By means of a toll call, any of these things can be accomplished—completed—in the span of one conversation. Toll telephone service is today's great contribution to business efficiency.

A Telephone Sales Plan will be devised to meet your particular needs by our Commercial Service Department, without charge, upon request. Our local Exchange Managers will be glad to furnish further particulars.

A PUZZLE A DAY

In San Antonio, Tex., there is a town crier, probably the only one in America. Every day he is seen on his horse crying the daily news. This crier only uses a horse a few weeks. For whenever he receives a fair offer he sells the animal. Sometimes he makes a profit, but on other occasions he loses. On the last two horses sold he made 5 per cent. The pair were sold for $525. On one he lost 19 per cent and on the other he made 10 per cent.

The name of the material illustrated is aluminum. There was another clue to this puzzle beside the pictorial sum, that was the name "Mr. Hall," the inventor of the present method of making aluminum. The sum reads "wall" plus "sum," plus "line," plus "sum," equals "wallsumlineum," minus "well," minus "ss," equals "aluminum."

Tapping a Rubber Tree on a U. S. Rubber Company Plantation

The United States Rubber Company now owns over 7,000,000 rubber trees—more than 5,000,000 of them are already producing rubber for U. S. Tires and 20,000 employees are engaged in caring for them.

Here are the Answers to Your Questions on the American Rubber Supply and Automobile Tires

- Q—Where does America get its rubber?
A—The only important source of rubber for all the world is the rubber plantations in the Far Eastern possessions of Great Britain and Holland.
Q—Is America represented among the Far Eastern rubber planters?
A—Yes, the largest of all these Far Eastern plantations is owned and operated by the UNITED STATES RUBBER COMPANY.
Q—Do the United States Rubber Company Plantations produce any considerable quantity of rubber?
A—Yes, they produced 20,000,000 lbs. of rubber in 1925, and in the next few years the output will be increased about 75%.
Q—Then the growing of rubber by Americans for Americans is not a new thing?
A—No. In 1909, this company acquired their vast tracts of ideal rubber growing land in Sumatra and Malaya.
Q—How large are the U. S. Rubber Plantations today?
A—The U. S. Rubber Company Plantations now comprise about 136,000 acres, with over 7,000,000 rubber trees, sixty miles of narrow-gauge railway, and 200 miles of motor roads. They give employment to 20,000 people.
Q—What does all this mean to me as a buyer and user of United States Tires?
A—Probably so, in the course of time. For instance, the U. S. Rubber Plantations will probably yield 15 per cent more rubber in 1926 than in the past year.

- A—The United States Rubber Plantations and their results have brought many benefits to every user of U. S. Rubber products of all kinds. For instance:
1. Latex-treated Web Cord, one of the outstanding major improvements in tire-building, announced by this Company in 1922.
2. Sprayed Rubber, the new standard of purity in crude rubber, of direct benefit to every user of any U. S. Rubber product.
3. In addition, during the past 17 years, the U. S. Rubber Plantation Experts have conducted thousands of successful researches into improving rubber by improving the rubber trees.
Q—What is Latex-treated Web Cord?
A—This is the new cord structure for cord tires, combining maximum strength with maximum flexibility. Questions and Answers on Latex-treated Web Cord will be published shortly.
Q—What is Sprayed Rubber?
A—Sprayed Rubber is the new pure rubber. It is free from both acid and smoke. Questions and Answers on Sprayed Rubber will also be published at an early date.
Q—Will America ever be reasonably independent in its rubber supply?
A—Probably so, in the course of time. For instance, the U. S. Rubber Plantations will probably yield 15 per cent more rubber in 1926 than in the past year.

ABOUT TOWN

The Good Friday proclamation arrived at the town clerk's office this morning. These proclamations are usually sent out in time to be read by the pastors of the different churches the Sunday previous to Good Friday, but for some reason or other they were mislaid.

Arthur E. Gibson of Flower street, the well-known meat dealer, will start on his old route Tuesday after being laid up for many weeks as the result of an accident.

Mrs. Harry Wilson of Stark-weather streets is recuperating from an attack of grip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Balch will leave tomorrow for a southern trip with Florida as their destination. They will visit Mr. and Mrs. George H. Allen who have been spending the winter in St. Petersburg and return north by automobile with Mr. and Mrs. Allen.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal church will meet tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock for work and business. At 5.30 they will serve their regular monthly supper.

Ever Ready Circle, Kings Daughters, will hold a special business meeting at the home of Mrs. E. E. Sear, 110 Main street, tomorrow evening at 7.45.

Mrs. Maude Norton's group of Center church workers will have a social meeting in the church parlors this evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pillsbury of Chestnut street will leave tomorrow for a trip to Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Adelbert Clark of Buckland is confined to her home with a severe attack of grip.

Memorial Lodge No. 38, Knights of Pythias will have a special meeting tomorrow evening in the Balch & Brown hall to confer the rank of page. There will be a rehearsal of the third rank team and a full attendance of the members is urged. A delegation of the brothers went by automobile to Willimantic last night and paid a visit to Natchaug Lodge, No. 22.

Miss Julia Coffey won first prize at the setback at Highland Park Community clubhouse Friday evening, also at the afternoon whist. Mrs. Risley won the consolation at the afternoon card party and James Rohan at the Friday evening session. Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Final arrangements for the annual concert of the Manchester Pictorial club are nearing completion. A rehearsal of the club will be held tonight at the Lincoln school at 7.30 under the direction of Mrs. Ada M. Merrifield, local instructor of the tenor banjo, mandolin and mandola. The club's first concert presented last spring at the Harding school met with much favor. Music lovers are assured of an even better program this year owing to the fact that the regular club will be augmented by a large banjo club.

MRS. JANE E. GRUSH DIES AT AGE OF 91

End Comes Peacefully at Her Home on Hudson Street This Morning.

Mrs. Jane Elizabeth Ellsworth Grush died this morning at 7.30 at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sarah E. Slater, of Hudson street, with whom she had lived for the past fifteen years. Death came peacefully and was due to the infirmities of age. Mrs. Grush passed her ninety-first birthday on February 25th last. She has been in failing health for some time and has been devotedly cared for by Mrs. Slater.

Mrs. Grush was the daughter of Chauncey and Elizabeth Ellsworth of East Windsor and in that place she spent her early life, later becoming a teacher. Her husband, the Rev. James Winchel Grush, came to the old East Windsor Hill academy to prepare for college and was later graduated from the Theological Institute of Connecticut. They were married August 1, 1859. Rev. Mr. Grush held various parishes in New York state until his death in 1896 when Mrs. Grush made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Treichler at Grand Forks, North Dakota. After Mrs. Treichler's death she came to Manchester to live with her sister, Mrs. Slater.

Two other daughters survive, Mrs. Jennie Luethl of Grant, Michigan, and Mrs. Minnie Denver, Colorado. She has three children and a number of grandchildren. She also has a son, Chauncey B. Ellsworth, who is now in Florida.

Mrs. Grush had been in failing health for some time and her death was the result of the infirmities of age.

Funeral services for Mrs. Grush will be held at her late home Thursday afternoon at 10.30 o'clock. The services will be held at the home of Mrs. Slater, 110 Main street, and will be officiated by Rev. Frederick C. Allen, pastor of the Congregational church. Burial will be in the cemetery here Thursday morning.
