

WOMAN STIRS UP A FAIRFIELD COUNTY COURT

Tells It Her Opinion of It, Offers to Lick Sheriff, Barricades Herself, Gets Away With It.

Bridgeport, May 20.—Lizzie Flynn Ward, of West Haven, upset the county court house here today, defied the sheriff and locked herself into a retiring room where she remained until she calmed down. Then she walked away unmolested. Mrs. Ward is contesting the will of her husband, Charles F. Ward, who left the bulk of his estate to a local woman and her children, cutting off his wife with $100.

Harry Silverstone, administrator of the estate, was testifying before Judge L. P. Waldo Marvin and a jury when Mrs. Ward jumped to her feet and shouted: "Coward! fraud!"

Tells Opinion of Court. Before the court could recover from its astonishment Mrs. Ward stamped into the corridor, where in a loud voice she declaimed against lawyers and judges.

Morris L. Beers, deputy sheriff, tried to induce the woman to leave the building, escorting her to an elevator.

Mrs. Ward broke away after promising to thrash him if he touched her, and went into the retiring room where she continued to talk loudly.

Judge Marvin ordered the witness to keep on with his testimony.

ESTIMATED STOKES LEFT EIGHT MILLION

Believed Divorced Wife Will Share Bulk of Estate With Litigant's Son.

New York, May 20.—The late W. E. D. Stokes, clubman, hotel owner and principal in many sensational court cases, left an estate approximately valued at $8,000,000, it was reported today. Stokes died yesterday at 73, a victim of double pneumonia, at his residence on 73rd Street, opposite his Hotel Ansonia.

It was believed that the bulk of the estate would go to W. E. D. Stokes, Jr., son of the deceased financier and the former Cuban beauty, Rita Hernandez De Alba D. Acosta, from whom Stokes was divorced in 1920.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday at the Church of the Incarnation.

PROHIBITIONISTS WILL REVIVE ORGANIZATION

File Papers as Political Party to Take Part in Next November Election.

Stamford, Conn., May 20.—It was revealed here today that the Prohibition party of Connecticut has filed papers with the secretary of state at Hartford for the purpose of having the party's name placed on election ballots for use in the elections next November.

A leader of the prohibition forces here declared that this action had no special significance or that the party is to oppose certain candidates who may have "wet" sympathies, while others see in the move a plan to create sentiment against certain representatives in Congress.

TWELVE FIRES START IN OMAHA BLACK BELT

Omaha, Neb., May 20.—Fifteen fire companies and hundreds of men formed into bucket brigades today were fighting twelve fires that broke out simultaneously this morning in a district mostly populated by negroes.

An investigation already is under way by local police and state fire agents, who believe the fires were started by a fire bug.

Among the structures destroyed was the Omaha toy factory. One fireman was injured. After two hours' fighting the flames, firemen had them almost under control.

BOY-ED DENIES SEEKING ADMISSION TO U. S.

Berlin, May 20.—Captain Karl Boy-Ed, departed from the United States in 1915 while naval attaché of the German embassy for "improper activities," declared today that he had not made any formal application for permission to visit the United States.

It has been reported that Boy-Ed had applied for a visa and had been refused.

GOLD LEAF FACTORY JUST SUITS BANDITS

Chicago, May 20.—Six masked bandits ransacked the plant of Price & Co., gold leaf manufacturers and escaped with $20,000 worth of this product. While I. L. Shaffrey, superintendent, was forced to open the vault where the leaf was stored, twenty men and six women employees were herded into another room and forced to lie down upon the floor with their hands over their heads. The bandits escaped in an auto.

DENY ROCKS WERE SEEN AT THE POLE

Norge Explorers Ridicule Story of Scattered Land Masses—Only Ice and Sea

Nome, Alaska, May 20.—According to members of the Norge expedition there is no truth to statements published in the United States that rocks were seen near the North Pole.

"That statement is ridiculous," Lincoln Ellsworth, one of the leaders of the trans-Polar flight, declared today.

"Some water and a lot of old blue ice was all that was seen," according to Lieutenant Oskar Omdahl, one of Capt. Roald Amundsen's trusted lieutenants and a veteran Polar explorer.

"No icebergs were seen and no life north of 82 degrees," Omdahl declared positively.

Some additional details of the Norge's flight were revealed here today. The hot food carried in thermos bottles was consumed within the first 24 hours out and no other means of keeping warm was permitted.

It was Ellsworth who dropped the American flag on the pole. He expects to leave today or tomorrow on a vacation to Cape Horn, a camp 25 miles north of Nome, making the trip by "dogmobile" with Leonard Seppala, the famous musher.

Needs Exercises.

According to his plans Ellsworth is determined to walk at least fifteen miles of the journey to Cape Horn as he considers himself badly in need of exercise, having had very little during the past year.

Lieut. Wising, preparing to make a trip down the coast to Bluff, going by small boat with Ralph Lomen, Norwegian consul at Nome.

Captain Amundsen was still in Nome today. He looked like a miner in his new overalls and high-top boots.

It is unusually cold here and the natives are charging Amundsen with bringing in some North Pole weather with him. The temperature has been around 14 degrees above zero.

All outside work and spring mining operations have come to a stop and more than a hundred men have been laid off at the Hammon Consolidated gold fields, near here, on account of the freezing weather.

Teller, where the Norge landed and is now being dismantled, is situated 75 miles northwest of Nome, about 15 miles from the sea, between two harbors.

Teller is located inside of Grant. The outer port is Clearance Bay and the inner one is Grantley Harbor—the latter shaped like an hour-glass. Both harbors are still ice-bound. They are connected by a small inlet a few hundred feet long.

Harbor to the north. Its population is about 25 whites and 50 Eskimo. Drift snow from one to five feet deep covers the town, the deeper snow being between the houses and Shelving Beach, which is here for a few feet to the edge of the harbor ice.

Landed on Water. The surrounding countryside is bare of snow, however, except on the hill tops.

The Norge dropped anchor a quarter of a mile off shore and was towed by some of the local population and part of her own crew—twenty-five men in all, from both sources—to the beach directly in front of the town where the dismantling process is now being completed.

Captain Umberto Nobile, designer and navigator of the Norge, and his Italians are in direct charge of the dismantling. Many of the Norwegians, when asked what they were doing, replied that they were making up for lost time in smoking and walking. There was no chance for either aboard the Norge, they said.

CHAMBER-GET TOGETHER MEETING THIS EVENING

The Manchester Chamber of Commerce and the Cheney Brothers Get Together club will hold a joint meeting tonight in Cheney hall. A roast chicken and strawberry shortcake supper will be served the members of the two organizations at 6:30.

At 7:45 Rev. Ashley D. Leavitt of Harvard church, Brookline, Mass., will speak in the main hall and the Deerfield Academy Glee club will render a concert. The talk and glee club concert will be open to the public.

GERMANY FOR BAN ON POISON GAS, AIR WAR

Bernstorff, Geneva Delegate, Gets Little Backing, However from Other Representatives.

Geneva, May 20.—Rumblings of breakers ahead for the League of Nations disarmament commission were heard today when the question of prohibition of poison gas and aerial warfare was injected into the discussions.

Count Bernstorff, German delegate, expressed the hope that the eventual international disarmament conference would reach an agreement for the prohibition of poison gas and aerial warfare. This was merely an intimation of a hope from the German delegate, but it found no ready or enthusiastic supporters.

Regional Says Gibson. Hugh Gibson, leader of the American delegation, pointed out that the question of land and aerial armaments was a regional question and again stressed the view that these problems should be settled by regional agreements rather than by any attempt at an international agreement. Senor Perez, Argentine delegate, approved the view of the American spokesman.

The Chilean delegate, Senor Concha, pointed out that the Latin-American problem is the inverse of the European, and that it is not a question of reducing present armaments but of preventing future competitive armings.

The Polish, Finnish and Roumanian delegates indicated that their disarmament was made more difficult by the absence of Russia from the commission.

CHAPMAN REWARD TO MUNCIE EXCHIEF

F. W. Pickett Receives State Bonus for Capture, Also New Britain Purse.

Hartford, May 20.—Fred W. Pickett, former police captain at Muncie, Ind., will receive the state's $2,500 reward for the capture of Gerald Chapman, Judge L. P. Waldo Marvin, of the Superior Court, who on Monday held a special session here to decide where the reward should go, made his finding today.

A reward of $500 offered by a New Britain newspaper for Chapman's capture, will go to Captain Pickett also.

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE AT BALTIMORE DOCKS

Two Fertilizer Plants, Three Lighters and Pier Destroyed in Big Conflagration.

Baltimore, May 20.—Fire today destroyed two Canton fertilizer plants with a loss totaling $1,000,000.

Originating from an unknown cause in the Griffith & Boy company's plant, the flames spread to the Sunners fertilizer factory, occupying the next block and destroying both.

Three lighters and a 400-foot pier were burned to the water's edge. Six alarms were sounded and a call was then sent for extra apparatus. Every fireboat available was rushed to the scene and firemen battled for hours before the fire was subdued.

BANDITS BETTER KEEP AWAY FROM HOME BANK

They'll Receive a Piercing Welcome from Every Member of Trust Company's Force.

All employees of The Home Bank & Trust Company here have been receiving careful training the past two weeks in etiquette—the kind polite society demands—for bandits. The bank officials recently purchased one brand new, highly polished, business-like Colt police positive revolver for each and every employee.

And, the employees are not tacking the new "barkers" on the walls for souvenirs. Sergeant William Barron of the Manchester police department has all the employees in revolver practice at the State Armory once a week. Though only two lessons have been taken some mighty good scores have been reported.

Girls who sit at typewriters and adding machines are outfitted as well as men at the windows and the desks. Though bandits are not exactly on the bank's invitation list, any that dare an approach may be assured of a spitfire greeting.

STANDARD OIL CLEARED

Washington, May 20.—An investigation of the acquisition by the Standard Oil Company of New York of the assets of the General Petroleum Co., shows that there was no violation of the anti-trust laws or of the 1911 decree dissolving the Standard group, the department of justice announced today.

Vare Wins!

Rep. William S. Vare, Philadelphia wet, defeated Senator George Wharton Pepper and Governor Gifford Pinchot, both drys, for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator from Pennsylvania. It was one of the hottest primary contests ever held in the "Keystone State." Photo shows Vare, left, being congratulated by Vice President S. C. Krause of the Broad Street Trust Company, Philadelphia, as the returns came in.

TACNA-ARICA MAZE PROBABLY SOLVED

Secret Deal Will Give Bolivia Access to Sea Through a Buffer Corridor.

Washington, May 20.—A possible early solution of the troublesome Tacna-Arica problem between Chile and Peru was seen by State Department officials here today.

Official confirmation was withheld, but it was learned that a basis of settlement has been reached in a plan to divide the disputed territory between Chile, Peru and Bolivia.

DEMOCRATS JUMP AT "SLUSH FUND"

Hope to Make "Newberry" Issue Out of Penn. Campaign Allegations.

Washington, May 20.—The Senate's investigation into alleged political "slush funds," received a temporary setback today when three members of the committee resigned. They were Senators Deenen, Reed of Pennsylvania, and Bayard.

Washington, May 20.—The Democratic party in Congress today planned an old-fashioned bitter political campaign this fall on the revived issue of "newberryism."

After plodding through the present session in rudderless fashion, the Democrats were suddenly whipped into the condition of an active minority by the Pennsylvania repudiation of Senator George Wharton Pepper, and their own smashing victory in jammings a resolution which authorized an investigation of expenditures in Senatorial primary campaigns.

The investigation was ordered as a result of charges that Pepper's backers spent from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 in a vain effort to re-nominate him.

500 REPORTED KILLED IN DAMASCUS SHELLING

New Bombardment by French Said to Have Taken Lives of Many Civilians.

London, May 20.—Damascus has undergone another bombardment from French guns with more than 500 civilians, including women and children killed, according to a dispatch to the Daily Express today.

The Express states that the French attack, which lasted more than fifteen hours, resulted in the death of twenty French soldiers and a hundred Druse rebels, and more than 300 houses were destroyed.

COOLIDGE'S O. K. ON BINGHAM-PARKER BILL

Signs Measure Turning Commercial Aviation Over to Secretary of Commerce.

Washington, May 20.—President Coolidge today signed the Bingham-Parker bill, which places commercial aviation under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Commerce.

With an additional assistant secretary in direct control, the secretary is given broad regulatory powers with respect to registration, examination and rating of aircraft and air traffic rules. Foreign-owned aircraft is forbidden to engage in interstate commerce.

The weather bureau is made responsible for all meteorological information necessary for aviation along airways.

The present air navigation facilities now under the jurisdiction of the post office department will be turned over to the secretary of commerce at a convenient time.

REED ON COMMITTEE

As it happened, Senator James A. Reed, Democrat of Missouri, a wet leader, jammed the resolution through while the Republicans, wets and drys alike, were bewildered by the charge that Pepper's friends spent from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 in his behalf. And later Reed was named a member of the investigating committee by Vice-President Dawes, to add to the woes of the drys.

Jim Reed Head Prober. The "slush fund" committee, comprising Senators David A. Reed, (R., Pa.), Deen, (R., Ill.); La Follette, (Pro. Rep., Wis.); Bayard, (Dem., Del.) and James A. Reed, (Dem., Mo.) will meet with in the next day or two to organize. It will elect its own chairman, which means that Reed of Missouri will get the post.

The committee undoubtedly will open its inquiry by investigating the charges against Pepper's backers. "Jim" Reed has demanded in the Senate that if $2,000,000 had been spent to aid Pepper, the "rich men spending it" ought to be given terms in a penitentiary.

CARS CRIPPLED BY STRIKERS GO ON RUNAWAYS

Canton, O., Rioters Let Off Air Pressure and Trolleys Run Amuck—Bricks and Clubs Fly.

Canton, O., May 20.—Serious disorders which reared the proportions of mob rioting, broke out in the west end today among striking Northern Ohio Power and Light Company's Union carmen when the company reopened interurban service between Akron and Canton, on the 19th day of the strike.

All available police reserves were rushed to the scene.

Shoppers of Bricks. A mob of strikers swooped down on the street car shops when a force of strikebreakers attempted to man the cars.

Bricks were hurled, clubs were wielded and windows of more than twenty street cars were smashed.

One motorman was seriously injured when a brick struck him on the head. Two strikers were arrested.

OHIO MOB ATTACKS ARMED DRY RAIDERS

Little Town's Police Force Saves Sleuths Who Used Guns Too Freely.

New Philadelphia, May 20.—Last night a mob of 1,500 citizens, enraged by promiscuous firing on the part of dry raiders, operating out of the court of Mayor W. K. Weaver, of Mineral City, attacked the raiders.

The town's police force of seven officers charged the mob, rescued the raiders, and locked them up in jail.

Ed Rowe and George Unkefer, two of Weaver's star raiders, were chasing an alleged "rum" car, firing at it. One of the bullets crashed through the plate glass window of the Jess Barnes store, narrowly missing Mrs. Barnes. Joined by two other raiders, Royal Unkefer and William Berndt, the raiders arrested Carl Singerman and Joseph Bolt. A few moments later the four raiders in turn were placed under arrest by Traffic Officer Dave Conesbeer, who took the entire party to the county jail.

A mob gathered immediately. The city's police force of seven men was mobilized and succeeded in holding the mob in check until 11 o'clock when the dry raiders were released.

U. S. SEEKS RELEASE OF CAPTIVE OFFICER

Asks Chinese Government to Rescue Capt. Betts, Held by Bandits in Yunnan.

Peking, May 20.—The American legation today requested the Chinese foreign office to obtain the release of Capt. Thomas J. Betts, U. S. A. military attaché of the legation, who has been captured by bandits in the province of Yunnan.

Betts, who is 32 years old and was born in Maryland, came to Peking with his wife and two children two years ago.

CARROLL ON TRIAL ON PERJURY CHARGE

Famous Wine Bath Party Has Serious Sequel in Federal Court.

New York, May 20.—Earl Carroll's "wine-bath" party had its airing in court today.

The theatrical producer went on trial before Judge Henry Goddard in federal court on an indictment charging him with perjury. He is alleged to have offered false testimony in the grand jury investigation into the party given on the stage of his theatre, during which Joyce Hawley, a model, is alleged to have bathed in a bathtub full of wine for the amusement of a prominent group of guests.

Carroll was in court with his attorney, Herbert P. Smythe.

New Haven, May 20.—Joseph M. Lefsetz of Bridgeport filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in United States district court here today showing liabilities of $25,000 and no assets. All his creditors are residents of Scranton, Pa.

BOY, 11 SAVES 260-LB. MAN FROM DROWNING

Port Jervis, N. Y., May 20.—Harry Sulzbach, eleven years old, son of the owner of the Pinhurst Hotel at Highland Lake, saved a man weighing 260 pounds from drowning. The man was Joseph Marchetta of New York, who was fishing with the boy from a boat on the lake.

The skiff upset, and after Harry swam to shore he could not see Marchetta. He dived into deep water and got him.

CONVICT ASSAILS WHITTEMORE PLEA

Swears Bandit Felled Keeper When Latter's Back Was Turned—Blow at Defense

Baltimore, May 20.—The state continued today its efforts to build up testimony that would send Richard Reese Whittemore to the gallows for the murder of Robert H. Holtman, 60, Maryland penitentiary guard.

The jury was selected with unusual rapidity, the box being filled within four hours after the bandit pleaded not guilty to the murder charge.

The first witness, Miss Oliva Alkire, a nurse, gave testimony which was considered damaging to Whittemore's arm after he escaped from the prison in February, 1925. During the escape, Holtman was killed with an iron pipe.

Hits Self Defense Claim. Miss Alkire said that Whittemore told her at the time that he was going to give his arm the "open-air treatment." She declared she attached significance to this remark when she was informed a few minutes later that the bandit had escaped the prison and was in the "open air."

Another blow to the Whittemore defense was the testimony of John Bowie, negro trusty at the penitentiary. Bowie said Whittemore told Holtman with an iron pipe as the latter was unlocking the door of the jail yard. Holtman's back was turned, Bowie declared.

Whittemore has contended he killed Holtman in self-defense.

Tells of Plans. Testimony that Richard Reese Whittemore planned to "slug" Holtman "to death" was given by Joseph Dietz.

Dietz, who was sentenced to six years for assault and robbery, told the jury that Whittemore made elaborate preparations to break to freedom.

Edgar Allan Poe, Whittemore's attorney, submitted to the jury sharp examination and tried to force him to say that he had been promised "time off" for his testimony.

The second state witness today was George W. Staff, guard at the prison. The prosecution had but two more witnesses to call. The defense will offer its testimony this afternoon.

Whittemore took the stand in his own defense and for an hour was subjected to a barrage of rapid-fire questions shot at him by Roland Adams, deputy state's attorney.

SEEK CAPT. WALKER IN HI-JACKING CASE

New York, May 20.—Federal authorities today began an exhaustive search for Capt. Eric Walker, whose testimony is wanted in connection with the hijacking of three men, resulting from the Montauk rum-running, hi-jacking case which created a sensation a year ago.

A battle between rum runners and hi-jackers on the Benson estate on Long Island revealed a $200,000 liquor cache and Walker, Lawrence P. Pleasant, Frederick W. Brown and George Steptits were indicted. All but Walker were held in $5,000 bail and he disappeared.

ALLEGED OLD SOLDIERS, MISTREATED, DIED.

Washington, May 20.—A thorough investigation of reports that two civil war veterans in the National Soldiers' Home at Dayton, O., had died as the result of mistreatment, has been demanded by Rep. Fitzgerald, (R., O.).

In a letter to Albert Scharrer, prosecutor attorney at Dayton, made public today, Fitzgerald said he had been advised that George C. Martin and Michael Ryan had died as a result of mistreatment.

CO-ED A SUICIDE.

Urbana, Ill., May 20.—University of Illinois teachers and students were shocked today when they learned that one of the most popular co-eds at the institution had committed suicide.

She was Miss Grace Bryant, of Chicago, a senior. Her body was found floating on Lake Crystal, near the university, late last night.

BRITISH COAL MINERS REJECT BALDWIN PLAN

Fuel Situation Goes Back to Point Where It Was Before the Big General Strike Was Declared.

London, May 20.—Premier Baldwin's proposals for ending the coal strike were today rejected by the delegate conference of the Miners' Federation.

The miners' rejection of the proposals leaves the coal situation practically where it was when the general strike was called.

The miners rejected the government proposals because while they did not provide for any lowering of the general wage average, they would have possibly resulted in the lowering of the wages of some mine workers.

Stick to Slogan. "Not a penny off—no a minute more" is the slogan of the miners, who are opposing and reduction in wages or any increase in hours.

The miners maintain that the reorganization of the coal industry must be actually started before they are willing to discuss any revision in wages.

The miners' conference passed a resolution declaring that the government proposal did not meet the pledge of Premier Baldwin that there would be no lowering of the standard of miners' wages.

The miners expressed a willingness to resume discussions with Premier Baldwin.

VARE HOLDS HIS LEAD IN SENATORIAL RACE

Has Plurality Over Pepper of 104,000 With Only Scattered Precincts Unreported.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 20.—With only a few scattered precincts unreported from the election, S. Vare of Philadelphia, maintained a big lead for the Republican nomination for United States Senator.

Returns from 7,550 of the state's 8,281 precincts gave Vare 588,640, Pepper 484,209, Pinchot 315,840.

Latest returns in the race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination cut the early lead of E. E. Biddleman. Vare running margin considerably, but he held a margin of about 8,200 votes.

Whether Gov. Pinchot, who with Senator George Wharton Pepper, was defeated by Vare, will run as an independent candidate, remained unknown.

With more than half the precincts heard from in the Democratic contests, Eugene C. Bonniwell, Philadelphia, had a lead of about 5,000 over his nearest opponent, Samuel E. Snare, Scrabbleburg, in the race for governor. William E. Porter, New Castle, will claim, with about 11,000 votes behind Bonniwell.

ABANDON HOPE FOR AMERICAN FREIGHTER

Sudffco, Out Since March 13, Posted at Lloyds—Carried Crew of 29.

London, May 20.—The American freight steamer Sudffco, owned by the Transmarine Corporation has been posted at Lloyd's as missing.

Posting of the Sudffco at Lloyd's means that all hope for the safety of the vessel, which left Port Newark, N. J., on March 13, has been abandoned by the underwriters and that losses will be paid.

The Sudffco, carrying a general cargo valued at $500,000, was manned by a crew of twenty-eight under Capt. T. Turner of Holmes, N. Y. She was bound for San Francisco and other Pacific port by way of the Panama Canal.

The only news received from the ship since she left Port Newark was on March 15, when her noon position was transmitted by radio to her owners. Since then she has dropped completely out of sight.

Capt. Turner spent thirty years at sea, starting at sixteen. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American War and the World

Summer Revues Still "Bigger and Barer"

New York, May 20.—Whatever the eventual fate of wine, the Messrs. Schubert will see to it that there is no dearth of "women and songs."

Each summer they appear with a show that is "bigger and barer" than ever.

Not matter how shocked the visitors from way points may be at viewing such a body of girls, this "most expensive production ever staged" demonstrates that the mass of Broadwayites has become so accustomed to the human anatomy that it welcomes clothes—even in summer.

And, thus, it is amusing to note that, upon the opening night a good old-fashioned Amazon parade, with spears "an' everything" walked away with the show.

To those interested in another sort of figures—statistics, we mean—the number of chorus girls might be figured mathematically from some such problem as this: If a stage door Johnny started at the age of 22 to keep dinner dates with 50 per cent of the chorines he would be dead of old age, presuming he reached his three-score and ten, long before he had issued his final invitation.

Four years ago Grace Glover, an English music show favorite, packed up her make-up box and vowed that never, as long as matrimony claimed her, would she be seen again upon the stage.

But a few months ago her husband was sent by his firm on an American mission. He called Grace to come on. She booked passage on the "Majestic," but "fate," or whatever it was, was doing its stuff.

Grace appeared at a benefit on board ship and Albert, noting that in four years she had lost none of her entertainment capacity, had her name on the dotted line before the ship docked.

Thus Broadway gained a new favorite.

The one dramatic offering of the week was "The Climax," first produced some 17 years ago when "mental suggestion" was still taken seriously and long before Freud and behaviorism had come on the scene.

It seemed to Broadway very old-fashioned and probably will be laid to rest soon.

BRITISH CAPITAL AND LABOR HOPE FOR AGREEMENT

Signs Now Point to New Association from Ideas Derived in U. S.

London—Many signs point to a new and profitable association between Capital and Labor in Britain through ideas derived from the United States.

British trade has been going through a period of five years' terrible depression caused largely by outside influences. But this depression has been accentuated by two factors. First there has been the cry of the capitalists and the manufacturers: "Our goods are too dear. British labor costs are too high."

On the other hand there has been the short-sighted view of the average worker, deliberately fostered in many cases by his elected representatives: "The harder we work, the more the capitalist will profit."

Both sides are now beginning to unite on the middle view. Various commissions and investigators recently studying the United States have reported, almost unanimously, that in America a man earns progressively higher wages the harder he works. In other words, that in the United States, men can be certain that they, and not Capital alone, will share the reward of increased effort.

The result is a general feeling among employers in Britain that high wages pay. For years passed suspicion has prevented any "get-together" spirit between employers and employed. Many workers have favored piece rates for work, but they have stumbled that when employers employed that output is the thing of the future.

Both sides are holding up to admiration the American system under which labor-saving machinery gets full play and labor union restrictions offer little obstacle to output.

Labor leaders in Britain are worried to death about the problem of one million unemployed. Captains of industry are equally worried because they feel that Britain is slipping back in the world's trade race.

Ready for Pole

Miss Celeste J. Miller, 80, of Chicago, reaches New York on her 31st trip around the world, and announces she's ready to go to the North Pole if anyone will take her. "I've seen everything else," she admits, adding she's been too busy traveling 900,000 miles to accept any of the 1000 proposals of marriage made to her.

Beaver Dam, Pa.—Mrs. John H. Cochran, when a child, left a needle in her dress. Later, leaning against a banister, she pushed it into her side. Doctors were unable to get it. Thirty-one years later she felt an itching on one side of one of her toes. Taking tweezers she pulled out the needle.

BERT LYTELL IN NEW ROLE AT THE CIRCLE

Evening clothes, tuxedo, street clothes nor even a Stetson hat is permitted the always immaculate well-groomed Bert Lytell as the brawny hero of Associated Exhibitors' new production, "The Ship of Souls," the screen adaptation of the famous Emerson Hough's novel of love in the far north, now playing at the Circle.

FRED L. CHAMBERLAIN DIES IN GLASTONBURY

Frederick L. Chamberlain, formerly of Coventry died very suddenly at the home of his son, Albert H. Chamberlain in Glastonbury last evening. Mr. Chamberlain had been feeling about the same as usual and had supper with his son's family. During the evening his son and his wife went out to a neighbor's for a short visit and when they returned they found Mr. Chamberlain lying prostrate on the floor. He died before medical aid could reach him.

MR. MILLER SLEEPS LIKE LOG, EATS ANYTHING

"After taking Adlerika I can eat anything and sleep like a log. I had gas on the stomach and couldn't keep food down nor sleep." (Signed) R. C. Miller. ONE spoonful Adlerika removes GAS and often brings surprising relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Often brings out old waste-matter you never thought was in your system. MIRACLE IS PERFORMED, ACCORDING TO A CAMERA.

They say that a person cannot be two places at once. At the high school here today the students are showing around a photograph that proves that this saying is not backed by facts. On the recent Washington trip the students had their pictures taken at Mt. Vernon. Principal Quimby and Chester Robinson, one of the teachers are shown at each end of the photograph. A revolving camera was used and after they had been photographed, the instructors ducked behind the students and ran fast enough to the other end of the line to be in again.

GREEN'S PLAYGROUND FILLING BIG NEED

The acre of ground recently purchased by the Manchester Green school district as an addition to the playground has been ploughed and rolled, making a much improved surface. This section of ground is given over to ball playing. The Manchester Green Community club voted to give $150 to the school to be used toward providing playground equipment. William B. Rogers, and Robert J. Smith have donated $50 each to the district, these amounts being used for the same purpose. Pupils of the school, by means of the various articles, and by prizes won have earned nearly $100 this year. A giant stride has been purchased, also six swings and a seesaw. The school children are already enjoying the seesaw. The other pieces are being set up. Walter Olson, director of recreation, assisting in the placing. In addition to this, volley ball and basketball out fits with a pit for broad jumping make a substantial beginning toward fitting up the playground. Balls, bats, a mask and a catcher's glove, also Indian clubs have been bought with money earned by the children and all will be enjoyed and appreciated by them.

GYMNASTIC EXHIBITION

The girls of the Ninth school district will present a varied program in physical training at the East Side Recreation Center, Thursday and Friday evenings, May 20 and 21. Thursday evening is game night, during which will be played off finals in basket and volley ball; with demonstration games in end and water ball. All games will be played from 7:00 to 8:00. They are being fitted up by members of the Leaders Class whose loyal co-operation has made possible a more extensive schedule of games than heretofore. Friday evening there will be an exhibition in the gymnasium, in which seventh and eighth grade, and high school girls will take part. Parents and friends of the children are cordially invited to attend.

BASEBALL NOTABLES AT O'NEIL'S FUNERAL

Holyoke, May 20.—With baseball notables and public officials represented in person or by floral tributes, the funeral of Daniel O'Neil, late president of the Eastern Baseball League and Hampden county commissioner, was held at his home here today. Judge K. M. Landis, commissioner of major league baseball, sent a large floral cross. Other floral tributes were received from officials of major and minor leagues, club owners, players, umpires and city and town officials.

CAVALRY TRAINING DATE.

Hartford, May 20.—Cavalry units of the Connecticut National Guard will hold their field training from July 17 to July 31, instead of from July 10 to July 24, as previously announced, according to orders issued by the adjutant-general's office here today.

WILLIMANTIC THESPIANS HERE ON FRIDAY, MAY 28

Thread City Epworth Leaguers to Present Comedy at South Methodist Church.

Friday evening, May 28 has been set for the presentation of the three-act comedy drama "Take My Advice" which will be given at the South Methodist church by the Willimantic Epworth League drama club. The play is being sponsored by Loyal Chapter of this place. The Willimantic league came here a year or two ago and presented a play which was quite a success and it is expected that the attendance at this next offering will be greater than at the first one. The banquet hall at the church, where the play will be given, will be open to 400 persons and the committee in charge expects a full house. Tickets are on sale at the church and by members of the Epworth League. Children will be admitted at a special reduced rate. In charge of the presentation are Myron Barr, chairman; Robert W. Wilson, Miss Elsie Harrison, Miss Margaret Lewis and Miss Mabel M. Pollard.

SALVATION ARMY BAND IN CONCERT THURSDAY

The local Salvation senior band, will give a concert at the Citadel, on Thursday evening of next week, May 27th, at 7:45. The proceeds of the concert will go to purchase new instruments needed at this time. As in the past, the concert will be one worth hearing. It will be made up of many band selections and marches, also vocal numbers, by the full band and by soloists. There will be cornet solos, and duets and also trombone solos. The members of the band have been faithfully putting in a great deal of time in preparing for the musical and have arranged a very fine concert. These concerts have always drawn good audiences, and it is expected that the Citadel will be filled to capacity next Thursday evening, when the program is rendered. The instruments used by the local band are of the highest standard, their total value reaching several thousand dollars. At the present time a number of new instruments are needed, and it is expected that they will be purchased as soon after the concert as is possible. All the instruments are owned by the band. The band is under the capable leadership of Bandmaster David Addy and he is assisted by Deputy Bandmaster William Hanna. Both are experienced musicians, having played in Salvation Army bands for more than 15 years. Tickets are now on sale and can be purchased from any member of the band.

WOMEN ANGLERS REQUIRE LICENSE IN THIS STATE

There has been some misunderstanding among women anglers about fishing licenses. The same misunderstanding persists in regard to boy and girl anglers under 16 years of age. The following note from the state fish and game commission and furnished by Town Clerk Sam Turkington will explain the law: "Women require anglers' licenses for fishing in State-acquired streams only. Boys and girls under 16 years of age require special permits for fishing in State-acquired streams only. These permits may be obtained at the office of the Commission in Hartford or from wardens or patrolmen on the streams. Duplicate license buttons will be sent promptly upon request and upon receipt of information as to the number of the original button and the town from which it was issued."

POLICE COURT

Frank Nicola of 57 Oak street Hyde, pleaded guilty to driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor before Judge Raymond A. Johnson in the Manchester police court this morning. This case was continued from Monday morning at the request of Attorney Hyde. A fine of $125 and costs was imposed.

The accident which resulted in Nicola's arrest took place at five o'clock Sunday afternoon on the Bolton road near the intersection of Finlay street. Nicola was driving a Ford truck in which was seated his two and a half year-old son. They were going toward Manchester when the Ford collided with a Hudson coach driven by Arthur Evans of New Britain. With him were his mother and sister. Both machines were badly damaged but no one was hurt. Officer John McGinn who was detailed to investigate the accident placed Nicola under arrest. He is the third Manchester man to lose his license for this cause during the month of May.

TOLLAND

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hibbard West, Lathrop West and Mrs. Lewis B. Price attended the annual meeting of the Tolland County association of churches and ministers held in the Willington Federated church last Wednesday.

Rev. William C. Darby and Lewis B. Price were among the numbers who attended the Christian Endeavor convention held in Hartford last Sunday evening. Charles Sterry who has been confined to the house for some time with illness is now much improved. Miss Edna Ludwig has accepted a position in Rockville at the Grants Variety store on the board walk. Robert Batty who was engaged in town scouting for the gypsy moth has been transferred to Colebrook and George Luce has taken his place here. A play "Naval Engagements", will be given at the Town hall, Tolland Saturday night, May 22nd, at 8 o'clock, standard time. The scene of the play is laid in Portsmouth, England in the year 1848. The cast follows: Admiral Kingston . . . Mr. Sherman Landlord Merrill Sherman Landlord Howard Tule Denine Harry Bartlett Miss Pontifex Estelle Reed Miss Mortimer Margaret Bartlett Merrill Sherman has been president of the Trinity Jesters for two years and a member of the Jitney Players this current year. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bartlett and family have opened their summer home here for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Simpson are visiting relatives in Chambersburg, Penn.

Owing to a misunderstanding in the date, several of the Tolland schools were not represented at the speaking and spelling contest, held at the Hicks Memorial school last Tuesday. Much disappointment has followed this mixup in the districts where the pupils were to compete. The remains of Louis Neureux were taken to New York Monday for cremation. The musical entertainment which was given some time ago by the pupils of Hicks Memorial school at Tolland town hall will be repeated Friday evening at seven o'clock, standard time. There will be folk dancing in costume songs by groups and individual of both upper and lower grades.

BASEBALL CATCHER HELD FOR ROBBERY.

Lawrence, Mass., May 20.—Charged with robbery of the $12,235 Wood mill payroll on October 3, last, Forrest Duncan, catcher of the Lowell, New England league baseball club, pleaded not guilty in district court here today. He was held in $20,000 bail.

CONVICTED THAT WOMAN EVANGELIST IS DROWNED

Los Angeles, May 20.—Search along the southern beaches today had failed to reveal a trace of Aimee Semple McPherson, internationally known woman evangelist, who disappeared while taking a dip in the Santa Monica surf Tuesday afternoon. Police officers, life guards, lifeboats, motor boats and even an airplane were used in the search but without result. Friends of the evangelist today had abandoned all hope that she was alive.

FOOT GUARD IN PARIS.

Paris, May 20.—Members of the Richmond, Va., and the Governor's Foot Guard of Hartford, Conn., who are touring Europe, were received at the Elysee palace today by President Doumergue. The minister of war held a reception for the officers and the regimental staff.

Mrs. Baldwin at Husband's Side

Mrs. Stanley Baldwin, wife of England's premier, stood loyally at her husband's side during the strike, lending him her aid in every way she could. She had charge of a volunteer organization to provide transportation for women workers. This picture was taken before the strike started, showing the premier and Mrs. Baldwin walking in their garden.

Happy's Own Sale We're Sailin' Right Along—As the Feller Usually Says, "This Stupendous Event is Drawin' to a Close." You see, the only reason we cut into these Bedroom Outfits like we did anyhow, was that we had too many of 'em. And when a certain number is out the way, the boss is goin' to stop it, nat'rally. Nor there won't be another "Bigger, Better, More Astonishing Opportunity Sale," followin' right on its heels, either. No sense in it. Well, sir, we've moved some of 'em—lot of folks has been pretty well pleased—and more is goin' to be 'fore the week's over. I figure I did a pretty good job in advertisin' about it. Only just one thing—I don't want to give the idea I'm advertisin' the cheapest sets in the place. No, sir,—course we've got some way down as cheap 's you want to go—I just picked out a few likely lookin' ones here 'n there. No $300 sets for $79.50, but some mighty good values all along the line. And That Reminds Me We sell some other furniture right along, too. Lady was in the other day—bought a Parlor Set. Generally they don't let me wait on trade very much, but all the boys was busy. Well, sir, this lady was new in town, and she'd been lookin' around. Been to Hartford and everywhere, and she says, "I really supposed I could buy good furniture cheaper in the city, but I'm surprised. Your parlor suites are much more reasonable right here, and you're not making any noise about it either." And 't was true enough, too. But we are makin' a noise about Bedroom Sets, and I want you all to hear it. There's a couple different ones I'm mentionin' today—a mighty good buy for somebody—and remember, you're gettin' the whole Bedroom Outfit Complete. VARE.

What the prohibition issue is going to do to the politics of the United States, unless politicians quit the policy of the ostrich and take their heads out of the arid sands of Volsteadism, is pretty clearly indicated by the disaster—it can scarcely be called anything else—which was the result of the Pennsylvania Republican primaries.

Because the regular party organization in that state failed to sense the trend of the times and the determined nature of the revolt against the rule of the Anti-Saloon League, and for prudential reasons... considered prudent to attempt to take a middle ground on the matter of prohibition.

It is only those who are determined not to see facts as they are... contend that the victory of Congressman W. S. Vare over Senator George Wharton Pepper and Governor Gifford Pinchot was the result of a split in the dry forces.

But he passed probably the most human remark of all, after his first ball all but struck the pin on the fourteenth hole: "Where are the photographers now?"

THE PRINCE PLAYS GOLF.

Aside from his dancing and an occasional collegiate prank, almost all we know of the Prince of Wales is that he has fallen from horses than any man living.

Of his human qualities, of his real inner nature we Americans have learned but little. But here are a few incidents that occurred recently on the golf course at Sandwick Bay, England, that give a little light on what sort of man he is.

The Prince was walking down a sandy gully during one of his games. Playfully he swung his club, taking an imaginary shot at a tuft of grass and smothered one of his caddies with sand. There was a general laugh at the boy's sputtering discomfiture, but the Prince came to his rescue.

"Sorry," said His Highness, seriously, as he helped the lad to brush the sand from his clothes.

Later in the game, after a few shots that were emphatically dubbed, the Prince turned to his caddy and remarked:

"If I do play badly, I'm not bad-tempered over it, am I?"

"No, you certainly are not, sir," the caddy replied.

The Prince might have joined in the laughter when the boy was spitting out sand. He did not. He showed a quick, human sympathy in helping the lad out of his difficulty, and quieting the laughter as suddenly as it began.

His remark after his bad shots reveals a yearning to be liked and admired, even though his shortcomings might be such that would cause most caddies to cup their hands over a broad smirk.

But he passed probably the most human remark of all, after his first ball all but struck the pin on the fourteenth hole:

"Where are the photographers now?"

THE MOSQUITO AUTO.

"Pa, can I have the mosquito tonight? Gotta date!"

Soon will this eventide call reverberate in the great American home, according to the auto makers who are about to launch a traffic-size car with 90-inch wheel-base, known as "the mosquito style."

Problems of traffic have made the baby car necessary, they explain.

Mosquitoes can dart through intricate mazes, but mastadons and behemoths are merely blocks in the wheel of progress.

Hence, the tiny car and the death knell of the buxom hussies of the auto family.

With the admission of a traffic problem huge enough to warrant the death knell of the standard cars and the birth of this new species, it is not preposterous to prophesy a future age entirely auto-less.

It is only the old truism that a convenience makes an inconvenience. Many of us know hordes of people who, owning several cars, prefer to ride the street cars, in peace, letting somebody else do the dirty work.

We ourselves may be among that host who prefer to have the peaceful and distinctive pleasure of tarrying at home in the joy of quietude on Sundays and holidays whilst the rest of the world keeps up the week's nerve strain of honking and crawling and breathing dust.

Ruskin it was who inveighed against a raucous age of too much iron and steel and prophesied the doom of too much and many engines.

SHE KNEW HER BOY.

In the eyes of the world, and Posey county, Indiana, Coy Gilland was a murderer. In December, 1923, he was convicted for murder.

But to Sarah Gilland, his eighty-one-year-old mother, Coy Gilland was innocent. She knew her boy, she told them time and again, and her boy was guiltless.

Before the trial Sarah Gilland had taken her boy to one side and asked him if he was guilty. He had assured her that he was innocent. She believed him, because, as she told the jury, she knew him. She knew he would tell her the truth.

But the jury did not believe Coy Gilland, and regarded his mother's plaint as the perfectly natural defense that a loving mother anywhere in the world would put up for her son.

coming of Coy Gilland. But there is no joy comparable to that of the mother who "knew her boy."

LOBSTERS IN BERLIN.

Maine lobsters are delicacies in Berlin. So reads a headline. This is startling news indeed. We have been led to believe that neither Maine nor Idaho lobsters were considered delicacies in any European spot.

Lobster, be it known, is the favorite word hurled at American by foreign comic strips and cartoons. The American has money. Therefore he is gross. Therefore he is a lobster of a hulking lumox.

Nothing to get angered at in this attitude. Merely good human nature psychology. Somebody is handsomer or wealthier or smarter or superior to us in one of many ways. We therefore, in order to save our own smart from interloping, cast about for superiorities of our own to flaunt in the eyes of the one whom we darn well know is a lot better off.

So with Europe. She calls us lobster because she so much would like to have the wherewithal to be a lobster herself.

By the way, those lobsters which are served as delicacies in Berlin are consumed by Americans only. They are the only ones who can afford them.

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTERS

By CHARLES P. STEWART.

Washington, May 20.—Representative James T. Begg, better known as Jim Begg of Ohio, candidly admits that he likes his job. He rather thinks he "likes it better than he would a Senate seat."

This isn't hard to understand. Begg would be simply a senator, at any rate for quite awhile, until he had time to get said seat warm. He's one of the three most powerful members of the House right now.

The three are Speaker Longworth, Representative John Q. Tilson, majority floor leader, and Jim Begg, assistant leader.

And they do say, down at the Capitol, that Begg, by clever fixing, had more than any other one man—more than any other several, in fact—to do with putting Nick in the speaker's chair.

At all events, Jim is regarded as closer to Nick than anybody else in the House—even Tilson himself.

Begg is chairman, also, of the House foreign affairs committee, which is one of the most important of them all.

But don't imagine that he confines himself exclusively to foreign affairs. His activities are manifold. He can kill things he doesn't like. At his bidding, things he does like thrive, and wax fat and hearty.

These are among the things he can do, and he does 'em all the time.

Naturally Jim is busy, but, believe me, he isn't hurried or fussed. Wanting to see him, I dropped into his office the other day. He doesn't hang out in the House office building, like an ordinary representative. He has sumptuous quarters in the Capitol itself.

There he was, sitting behind a perfectly clear desk, resting himself, apparently with not a thing in the world on his mind. The idea is, I take it, he's an executive. He manages. Others do the physical toiling and molling while he works his mind.

Had he, I asked—rather diffidently, for, despite his calm exterior, of course I couldn't tell how much of a seething might be going on inside his head—time for a little talk?

"Sure," he replied affably. "What about?"

It goes without saying that politics is what you discuss with a politician, and, politics being a dull subject to everybody who isn't in it, it's immaterial what was said.

What I mean to say, however, is that when you talk with Jim Begg, you begin to understand why, in only his fourth term, he's of as much consequence as he is in the House.

He's altogether superior to the average, run-of-the-mine congressman in a great many respects.

The way he votes, one might get the impression that he's a hide-bound partisan, but he's not. He's a practical, organization man, because, evidently, he believes in organization methods, in the main. But he clearly thinks for himself and thinks pretty liberally, too. And he has punch.

A Liberal, indissolubly united to a conservative, not to say a reactionary organization, may not seem, at first thought, to be doing liberality much good.

And yet I don't know. Maybe he can be a more effectively liberalizing influence inside it than he can from the outside.

COMMUNITY WEEK

A demonstration of Watkins high standard of values

VALUES here for everyone! For the June Bride who is furnishing a new home or the one who is furnishing only a bedroom at home. Gifts for those who have been invited to the wedding! Values for brides of other years whose homes need the refreshing touches of a few new pieces of furniture. Values here, too, for those who are furnishing summer homes.

Three Piece Bedroom Suite $99

These suites in their light French walnut finish give a touch of lightness and space to the small bedroom. Legs are turned and pieces are well proportioned. Bow-end bed (full size), 44-inch dresser and 30-inch chiffonette.

Eight Piece Dining Groups $99

An opportunity to refurnish your dining room with an up-to-date dining suite of eight pieces, at a modest outlay. Each suite includes a buffet with plush lined silver drawer, an oblong extension table, an arm chair and 5 side chairs.

3 Piece Suites $99

Here is an extraordinary value when you consider that the pieces are of Watkins' high standard of excellence. Each piece is well tailored in figured velour—davenport, arm and wing chair. Graceful Queen Anne design, as shown in our sketch above.

Smokers, 79c.

Wrought Iron, black finish with scarlet red metal dish.

Mirrors $5.98

for Buffet or Mantel. Polychrome frame, three panel mirrors, as shown above except with mirrored design in center panel. Choice of gold or silver polychrome finishes.

Radio Tables $7.95

Here is a table large enough to take almost any standard radio set. Its top measures 17x32 inches and it has a drawer and undershelf for batteries. Note how undershelf is cut away to allow for operator's legs.

Card Tables, $1.98

Bridge on the porch this summer! These folding tables can be easily carried anywhere. Oilcloth tops, mahogany finished legs.

Metal Beds $8.75

Walnut finish

For your home or summer cottage—these full size metal beds, in walnut finish. 2-inch continuous posts, 1-inch fillers.

Cretonne Day Beds $19.75

Another piece suitable for either home or summer camp. These beds have metal ends as shown and open to full size bed. Ends, as well as mattress, covered with cretonne. Finished with ruffled valance across bottom.

IN NEW YORK

New York, May 20.—The well-equipped smoker, it would seem, must carry as many accessories as a Ford.

One visit to New York's ritziest tobacco emporium long since convinced me that smoking has indeed become a luxury. Here, I discovered, the "well dressed smoker" must have cigarette holders and pipes to match his suit or tie, a condition brought about, no doubt, when the "habit" was officially adopted by the opposite sex.

Then there are as many types of trick lighters as there are speedometers, mixtures of tobacco to suit every hour of the day—mild cigarettes for the middle hours, heavy for after-eating and just-so for evening. Imperious young men, in chemist's robes, take your prescription for tobacco mixtures and to ask for any ordinary brands in to court disdainful glances and lifted eyebrows. Cigaret as do fashions in monogrammed cigarettes and "surely no gentleman would carry the same cigarette case in evening clothes that he does in business clothes." My dear, no!

There are private sections where fashionable women may select fashionable holders and cases, just as they look over diamonds in jewelers' rooms.

Several wealthy customers, I am told, have the family crest and monogram printed on the tobacco can labels.

Speaking of smoking—C. A. Whelan, president of the greatest chain store tobacco concern, tells me there are 30,000,000 potential male smokers in America.

Someone mathematically inclined might now try to figure out the number of potential female smokers.

This giant chain concern, by the way, celebrates its 25th birthday this month.

DAILY POEM

WHEN MOTHER VISITS

The vacuum cleaner loudly sings. There's much to do at cleanin' things. There's cause for mom to fuss and fret until she gets things neatly set.

Ya gotta have the house just right, with dust and such things outa sight. Ya feel ya want to change things round, and turn the household upside down.

Ya drill the kids on how to act, and pray they'll use the proper tact. Ya tuck their finest clothes away, fer use upon a certain day.

Ya plan on meals that taste the best—the kind that folk have for a guest. Ya smile when everything looks great, and then sit back to wait the date.

There's thrill a plenty round the place—a smile on everybody's face. You're set to show off—proudly, too—when mother comes ta visit you.

Sweden's "Part-Time King", A Scholar and Good Sport

BY MILTON BRONNER
London, May 20.—Frederick William Olaf Gustavus Adolphus Bernadotte, who has sailed to visit the United States, is more than merely the Crown Prince of Sweden.

He is, rather, an understudy to the king. When winter comes, and the good King Gustavus hies himself south to the French Riviera to play tennis with Suzanne Lenglen, he leaves the prince to take his place.

Acting as king, though, is not the only thing Crown Prince Gustavus does well.

Runs Movie Camera
He's something of a soldier, a good deal of an athlete, an archivist who works at the job, and a world known expert on the subject of Chinese art and literature.

He operates a movie camera, is adept at golf, and is deeply interested in the work of the Y. M. C. A.

The prince is the outstanding promoter of athletics in Sweden, a country of athletes. To his initiative and personal management is due much of the credit for the excellent showing of Sweden in the Olympic games.

He has served on several Olympic committees and as president of the Swedish National Athletic Association. He holds a gold medal as all-around athlete. His favorite sports are skiing, cross country hiking, tennis and golf.

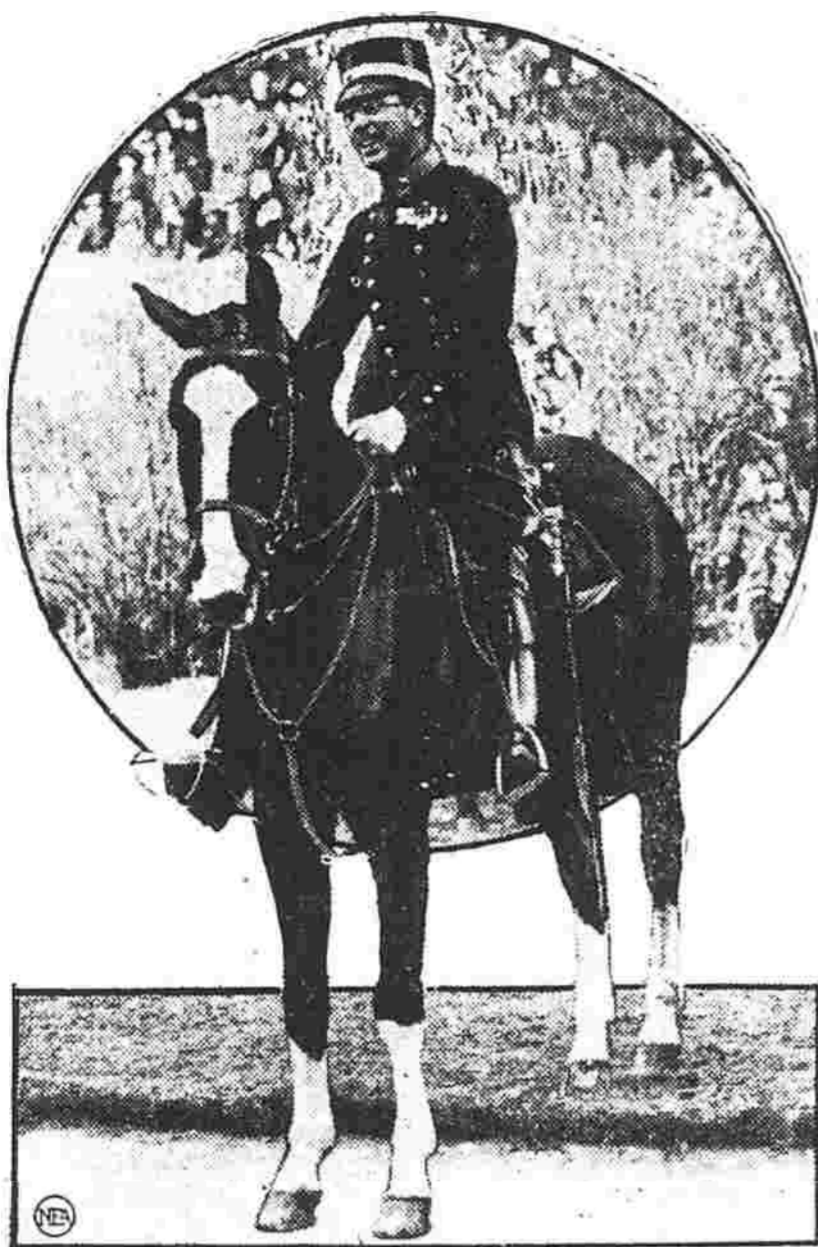

His interest in taking moving pictures was aroused at a national skill marathon last winter which Ray Fernstrom, an American camera man "covered."

Is Genuinely Democratic
The prince not only submitted to being "shot," but learned from Fernstrom how to handle the camera and himself took pictures of his wife.

He hasn't the easy affability of the Prince of Wales, and prefers scholarship to society, but he is genuinely democratic nevertheless. It is true to the Bernadotte royal line from which he is descended—for the founder of this line, Jeanne Baptiste Bernadotte, was a commoner who enlisted under Napoleon and came to be a marshal of France.

Gustavus Adolphus is 43 and his pictures resemble very much those of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

Headed for Orient
His wife, Princess Louise, who

Crown Prince Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden

is English and a cousin of King George, is accompanying him on his present tour. They will spend two months in the United States and then go to the Orient.

At Washington, the prince will represent Sweden at the unveiling of a monument to Captain John Ericsson, inventor of the Civil War "Monitor."

He will call on President Coolidge, visit many eastern cities and universities, view Niagara Falls, inspect the Detroit auto factories, see Chicago, make one or more stops in Minnesota, and "take in" the Grand Canyon, Yellowstone Park, the Yosemite Valley and Salt Lake City and Hollywood.

For at least 100 years, no member of Sweden's royal house ever has spoken to newspapermen for direct quotation. But the crown prince will break that tradition, he has signified, when he reaches New York. He will submit to being interviewed.

No interpreters will be needed by the reporters, for the prince speaks excellent English.

It must not be forgotten that this disease is contagious and can be carried by a third person, who may not himself suffer from the disease.

BELGIAN CABINET TO BE NON-PARLIAMENTARY
Brussels, May 20.—M. Jasper has formed a Belgian cabinet, which is pledged to settle the nation's financial difficulties. It is exclusively a non-parliamentary cabinet with M. Franqui as minister of the treasury, Baron Houtart as minister of finance and M. Vandervelde as minister for foreign affairs.

LOOT SALESMAN'S CAR OF VALUABLE SAMPLES
New Haven, May 20.—Benjamin Altman of 90 Orchard street, New York, today reported to the police here that someone had stolen two large sample cases full of women's apparel from his car parked in front of a Washington avenue store. His loss runs to several thousand dollars. It is believed the cases were transferred to another car and taken out of town.

NEED MORE COURTS TO HANDLE TRAFFIC PROBLEM PROPERLY

Over 3,000 "Wilfully Vicious Operators" in State—Trying to Bring Order Through Suspension.

Citing the fact that out of 13,524 motor vehicles cases disposed of by Connecticut courts last year "a large number 3371 were nolle, either absolutely or for a small fine," and a conclusion that there are in the state at present perhaps 3,500 "wilfully vicious operators" for whom the courts must be made a terror if results are to be obtained, the current issue of the motor vehicle department bulletin points out that the court system needs to be made more adequate to meet the situation, whether it be by the establishment of more courts or the strengthening of the present system.

Connecticut's problem involves the management of 280,000 registered cars and 275,000 operators, out of which, if even an approximately quarter, or 75,000, travel each day and 85 per cent. of the operators are capable (as suggested by statistics) "it still leaves 11,000 potential trouble-makers over whom police power is the only practical form of direction." At least two-thirds of these, it is figured, are directed by moral suasion, in the form of traffic police.

The residue are in the criminal motor vehicle class against which only arrest and prosecution avail. To meet this situation there are in round numbers only 1,600 policemen in the state.

Traffic signals are regarded as a tremendous advance in traffic direction and aids to the police, but "there are locations," it is pointed out, "where human direction is needed and where no signal can suffice. Human nature is such that if a signal seems to a certain type of man to be the cause of unreasonable delay, under certain circumstances of traffic, he will deliberately disregard it. Therefore signals have to be watched; otherwise they might prove an added danger rather than a safeguard."

Every person convicted of operating while intoxicated or for evasion of responsibility ought to be imprisoned, in the opinion of the department which feels that only in this way the maximum disciplinary effect be produced.

In connection with the many cases nolle, the bulletin says: "In each such case, the bulletin says: 'In each such case, the police authority which has prepared the evidence has a lack of support, for, according to its tenets an arrest ought not to be made unless an offense serious enough to secure conviction has been committed. In such case brought the judge who is responsible for imposing the penalty, either originally or upon appeal, evidence must be provided with enough of a description so that the penalty will be proper.'

"In the Connecticut system traffic offenses have usually had to be handled as secondary. The courts were not originally constituted for their management and each court has been adapted to handle them."

Approximately a quarter million dollars is taken in annually by state authorities in fines. It is suggested by the bulletin that this money, which is now turned over to the State Highway Department for highway improvements, might be put back into a court system adequate to handle motor vehicle cases, whereby the prosecutor and the judge of each court could be adequately paid to be specialists in traffic.

The motor vehicle department is co-operating in the disciplinary work by the use of its power of suspension and revocation of operator's licenses. Suspensions for definite terms are ordered by statute in certain principal offenses.

It is announced that up to May 1 under the new financial responsibility act, the state required qualification as financial responsibility of 1,438 registrants. The law is considered by the department to be exerting a good moral effect in the campaign for safer driving.

HEBRON

Miss Maud Clark of East Hampton spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark at Porter Hill.

George and Elton Brook, grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Clark, are ill with measles. George is having a hard attack.

Mrs. Charles Hilding is at her summer place here for the season. Mr. Hilding, Mrs. John Norton and Mrs. Harry Crowley were at the Hilding home for the week-end, returning to New York the first of the week.

Mrs. Mary E. Cummings has signed a contract to teach in the Pine street school in Columbia for the next year. Mrs. Cummings has taught this school for several years. Her school will present the play, "The Cabbage Hill School" early in June.

Robert Porter is suffering from the results of an injury received in his saw mill work, affecting the hip joint. He is under the care of specialists and is somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tennant of Lee's Island, were guests on Sunday at the home of their sister, Mrs. Leon Rathbone.

Three new pupils are to enter the grammar room at the Center school. The teacher reports that there are no seats available for these pupils, every seat in the school room being filled.

Miss Tillie Friedrich, teacher at the Jaggard District was a visitor at the primary and grammar rooms at the Center school on Monday. Her school was closed for the day.

An effort to adopt daylight saving time at the Gilead and Hebron Congregational churches has failed of being carried. Morning services at St. Peter's church will begin at 10 o'clock, weekly, through the daylight saving season.

Raymond Smith is seriously ill with poisoning caused by absorption.

Mrs. Walter Wright was operated on Tuesday at the Middlesex hospital for appendicitis. Her condition is reported as favorable.

The state supervisor of repairs of the highway department conferred with former Selectman Edwin T. Smith early in the week with regard to the condition of Chestnut Hill road. This piece of road leads on to the Marlborough road and is said to be in a particularly deplorable condition. Mr. Smith was selectman at the time the road was improved some years ago.

Paul Broome, Jr., his wife and son, of South Lancaster, Mass., were recent visitors at the home of Mr. Broome's father in Hopevale. Mrs. Lillian Broome of New York is also a guest at the Broome home.

Miss Folsom, teacher at the Hopevale school has returned from a visit in Massachusetts and has resumed her school duties.

Measles cases continue to be reported. The latest cases are Mrs. Sherwood Griffin and her two children.

SIX ACTS OF SELECT VAUDEVILLE AT STATE

Anniversary Week Brings Unusual Bill to Local Theater Today, Friday and Saturday.

For today, tomorrow and Saturday the last three days of the First Anniversary and Community week, the State theater presents six acts of the best vaudeville ever presented before. The first act, Norman and Masters in a bright and snappy musical offering interlarded with songs and dances. Baby Alice for the second act is the top notcher juvenile entertainer. Then comes Archer and Belford in "The Piano Tuner"—Some tuner! Wait until you see this act. For the fourth act we have the "1000 pounds of harmony" head liners everywhere, Primrose Four.

Hart Wagner & Letta in an outburst of yells and screams will keep you laughing until the finish. The last act Conley trio novel feats of speed and daring. The feature picture is one that everybody's talking about, "Mike."

The Marshall Neilan of the old days of "Dinty," "Rebecca of Sunnyside Farm," and "Minnie" is back!

His latest picture "Mike" which he made for Metro-Goldwyn Mayer is playing at the State Theater, and in it Neilan again reverts to the type of picture that made him famous as a director. His famous sense of humor, his Irish wit, sprinkled with a generous supply of heart interests, are all in evidence, proving that with this type of picture Neilan never has been and will not soon be surpassed.

The entire story covers a period of only two days in the lives of an old section hand, his three young children, his elder daughter, Mike, her sweetheart, and the inhabitants of the little desert town in which they live. With these characters, Neilan has made a picture that for sheer humor and thrills challenges any ever produced. In fact, when the audience is not doubled up with laughter it is gripping its individual theatre chairs with suspense.

Charlie Murray, that lovable old character actor, plays "Clancy," the father of Mike, and is as Irish as his name. Never has he appeared to such advantage. With Murray is one other noted comedian, Ford Sterling as "Schulz." Both contribute to the general fun of the picture, playing their roles in all seriousness, thus making them doubly funny.

Neilan introduces a new find as Mike in the person of the piquant Sally O'Neill. She exhibits a rare beauty and an individuality that will doubtless carry her far. William Haines plays opposite her as "Harlan" in his usual capable manner.

Other members of the cast that deserve special mention are Ned Sparks, Muriel Frances Dana, Frankie Darr, Junior Coghlan, Wilfred Lucas, and Sam De Grasse.

EDITOR, A CRITIC OF MUSSOLINI, BEATEN.

Rome, May 20.—Deputy Conti, leader of the Italian Republican party, was clubbed and badly wounded in the head when a band of Fascists raided the office of the newspaper La Voce today.

The raid was conducted solely for the purpose of attacking Conti, whose vicious utterances recently have aroused the displeasure of supporters of Premier Mussolini. The plant of La Voce suffered no damage.

SOMEBODY HAS STOLEN FLAGPOLE AT HALE'S

Somebody, maybe somebody in an airplane, has apparently stolen the flagpole from which Hale's flag usually flies. Anyway, the members of the display department can't find it. It was there the last time the flag was flown but the other day when one of the boys went up to put the flag out again he found that the pole was gone.

WAPPING

The Pleasant Valley club will hold a food sale and fair in the Valley school house Saturday afternoon, May 22, from 2 till 5 o'clock, standard time.

The Federated Workers will hold their regular meeting on next Friday afternoon, May 21 at the home of Miss Etta I. Stoughton. Mrs. Marion F. Pierce will assist Miss Stoughton as hostess.

The auction sale of the late L. J. Grant's estate, held last Tuesday, the sales went as follows: seven acres of land was purchased by Harry P. Files of Boston, Mass.; the brick house and farm went to Frank Grant, one of the pieces of tobacco land over west went to Edgar J. Stoughton and the other to Mrs. Annie Kupczewski and the wood lot was sold to Howard Burhan.

Rev. and Mrs. Harry S. Martin from Three Rivers, Mass., called on friends in town on Wednesday. Mr. Martin was formerly a pastor in the Congregational church here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott Griswold of Hartford called on friends here recently.

Harry P. Files returned to Boston on Wednesday morning after spending a short time at his home here.

Erysipelas Contagious

This is the first of a series of three articles on erysipelas. Tomorrow—The Germ.

BY DR. HUGH S. CUMMING
Surgeon General, United States Public Health Service

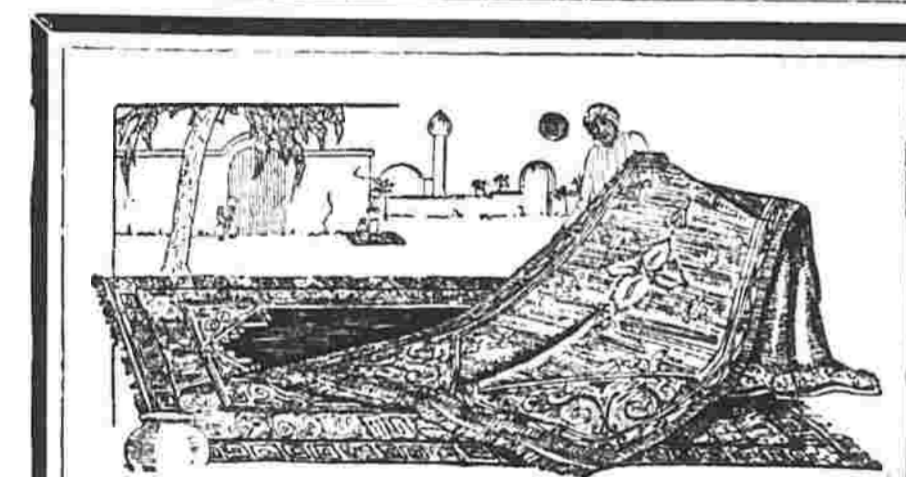

The skin of the body is made up of two very distinct layers. Erysipelas is an inflammation occurring in the deeper layer of the skin.

There are certain causes of this condition which operate indirectly and which for our purpose may be called contributing or predisposing causes. They are not what we would call immediate or direct causes.

Among the contributing causes listed by competent authorities we find such influences as addiction to alcohol, kidney disease, diabetes and debility from any cause.

The disease is prone to occur when there are wounds or scratches, even in healthy persons, particularly when these are not properly treated.

The face is not infrequently the seat of erysipelas though it may occur on any part of the body. It is not uncommon for the same person to experience several different attacks of facial erysipelas.

Continuing the Exhibit and Sale of Oriental Rugs AND CARPETS

Mr. Selwyn's wonderful collection of rugs will remain at our store for the balance of the week so those who have not already done so may inspect the exhibit. Those who have purchased rugs this week or last week claim Mr. Selwyn's prices are unusually low.

SAYS STRIKE LAID BOLSHEVIST GHOST

British Episode Proves That Workers Won't Wreck Civilization, Declares W. A. White.

Atlantic City, May 20.—The British general strike has laid forever the fear of Bolshevism, and Americans need have no fear of it, William Allen White, veteran Kansas editor, told delegates to the convention of the National Electric Light association here today.

The outcome of the strike, he said, showed that in Britain every man is getting so much out of life he feels he has some stake in the government and is to all intents and purposes a policeman, guardian of the established order, who would strike, but would not plunder or wreck his civilization.

Just the flavor texture and keeping qualities that women like—

LEADING experts in home cooking—as well as authorities in nutrition—helped to perfect the new White Rose Loaf.

No one knows better than they the kind of bread that particular housewives everywhere have wanted!

That is one reason why White Rose Bread has the satisfying flavor—the firm, even grain—and, above all, the "keeping quality" women like.

A domestic science teacher who has made careful tests of dozens of different brands of bread says of White Rose, "I have never known a loaf to stay fresh so long."

Try White Rose Bread yourself. Notice the difference. Notice its texture—firm and even, like the moist fresh loaves you remember in your childhood. See how much its full, rich flavor adds to each meal.

Your own grocer has White Rose Bread. It comes to you in a blue and white checked wrapper like a fresh tea towel.

It is baked not once but twice each day and rushed to your grocer—to be fragrantly fresh whenever you buy it. Massachusetts Baking Co.

WRAPPED with every loaf of White Rose Bread Friday will be a recipe for the delicious Apple Charlotte, as made by the Chef of Sherry's famous restaurant in New York. This is one of the series of recipes of the most famous chefs in America, which you will find each Friday with your loaf of White Rose Bread.

IVANHOE—Sir Walter Scott's Classic in Pictorial Form

THE STORY THUS FAR.—The scene is the England of Richard I. A party of knights, en route to a tournament, visits Cedric the Saxon, and their leader, Brian the Templar, becomes enamored of Cedric's ward, Rowena. One of the party, disguised as a palmer or wandering friar, wins the tournament and crowns Rowena queen of love and beauty. He then removes his helmet and it is seen that he is Ivanhoe, Cedric's disinherited son. A strange knight in black armor, who helped him win the passage at arms, wanders through the forest and sups with a Friar Tuck, of Robin Hood's band, in a lonely hut. This knight is really King Richard, disguised while he marshals his forces against his usurping brother, Prince John, who thinks him in the Holy Land. As the two sit in the hut they are joined by Robin Hood in disguise. Meanwhile Bois-Guilbert and De Bracy, with other knights, capture Cedric and Rowena, Gurth and Wamba, two of Cedric's servants, bring the news to the hut. Bois-Guilbert tells De Bracy he does not want Rowena, preferring Rebecca, a Jewess. They lodge the prisoners in Front-de-Boeuf's castle and are about to torture Rebecca's father, Isaac.

WHILE DE BRACY HAD CALLED UPON HIS FAIR CAPTIVE, ROWENA, HE ASKED FOR HER HAND, BUT SHE REPULED HIM, AND THEN HE DROPPED ALL FEELINGS TO COURTESY AND THREATENED HER. "THOU SHALT NEVER LEAVE THIS CASTLE," HE SAID, "OR THOU SHALT LEAVE IT AS MARRIED TO BRACY'S WIFE." ROWENA, HOWEVER, INTIMATED SHE LOVED ANOTHER.

DE BRACY, GUESSING, AND RIGHTLY, THAT IT WAS WILFRED OF IVANHOE, SAID, "THIS RIVAL IS IN MY POWER. HE RESTS BUT WITH ME TO BETRAY THE SECRET OF HIS BEING WITHIN THE CASTLE TO FRONT-DE-BOEUF, WHOSE JEALOUSY WILL BE MORE FATAL THAN MINE." WILFRED HEREY SAID ROWENA IN DISDAIN, "THAT IS UNTRUE."

DE BRACY LOOKED AT HER STEADILY. "WERT THOU REALLY KNOWANT OF THIS?" SAID HE. "DIDST THOU NOT KNOW THAT WILFRED OF IVANHOE TRAVELED IN THE LITTER OF ISAAC?" SAID ROWENA, "FEAR" ASKED ROWENA, "BEYOND A SHORT IMPRISONMENT AND A RANSOM, ACCORDING TO THE USE OF CHIVALRY?"

"THE HONEST THOU NOT," SAID DE BRACY, "THAT FRONT-DE-BOEUF WILL PUSH FROM HIS ROAD HIM WHO OPPOSES HIS CLAIM TO THE FAIR BARONY OF IVANHOE AS UNSCRUPULOUSLY AS IF HE WERE PREPARED TO HIM BY SOME DAMSEL?" SAID HE, "FOR THE LOVE OF HEAVEN!" SAID ROWENA, HER FIRMNESS GIVING WAY UNDER TERROR FOR HER LOVER'S FATE.

POLISH ASSEMBLY PILSUDSKI'S PLAN

Without Selves or Cutting.

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonard has first to find the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID.

Dr. Leonard tried it in 1000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent, and then decided it should be sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Packard's or Murphy's Drug Stores today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and will do the same for you.—Adv.

Marshal Averse to Dictatorship as Sure to End at Dictator's Death.

Warsaw, May 20.—The Pilsudski government decided today to convene a National Assembly on May 28 to May 29.

Marshal Pilsudski has reiterated his aversion to establishing a dictatorship, explaining that a dictatorship is "a one-man affair which disappears when the man dies."

The Assembly's first duty will be to choose a president for the republic. After being sworn in, the president will form a cabinet.

Monarchist Backing. The Monarchist League has requested that Pilsudski make himself president of Poland. The league praises the performer of the coup d'etat lavishly, calling him one of the great leaders of history, but adds that he will "cease to rank with Bonaparte" if he refuses the presidency.

The league assures Pilsudski of its full support if he becomes president.

Posen on the Outs. Poland seems to be faced with two governments, for it is expected that the dissidents in Posen will refuse to recognize the present government and will attempt to create their own government, thus creating a difficult and embarrassing situation.

Former Premier Witos and about thirty of his followers are reported still to be held at Belvedere.

Premier Bartels is proceeding with the work of pacification and the government reports that all efforts to create trouble have failed and that the people are showing no disposition to engage in warfare.

COLCHESTER'S SCHOOLS COSTING TOO MUCH

Budget Overdrawn and No Further Orders on Treasury Will Be Accepted.

(Special to The Herald) Colchester, May 18.—Colchester is having troubles of its own in school finances. At the last annual town meeting the school budget submitted called for $26,000. The town school committee has already overdrawn the budget. A few days ago First Selectman Earl McNeely, pastor of the Catholic church and chairman of the school board, it was the opinion of said chairman that the school committee could totally disregard the budget and draw as much money as they pleased for school purposes.

Mr. McDonald interviewed Thomas Shields, of Norwich, town collector. His opinion was that the school committee had no business to overdraw the budget and that the town treasurer would be liable if he accepted orders over the budget.

Selectman McDonald accordingly has directed the town treasurer, Dr. C. E. Sandelton, to accept no further orders for school expenses. Orders had just been received by the treasurer from Mrs. Sara B. Cutler to the amount of about $150. These have been returned with explanations.

BOARD OF SELECTMEN TOWN OF MANCHESTER.

DECISION.
 Of the Selectmen of the Town of Manchester, Conn., upon the proposal of Selectmen for the establishment of building and veranda lines on the North and South side of Golway Street, between North Street on the West and North School Street on the East.

Upon proposal of Selectmen for the establishment of building and veranda lines on the North side and the South side of Golway Street, between North Street on the West and North School Street on the East, the Selectmen of the Town of Manchester, Conn., acting under and pursuant to Section 9 (44) (House Bill No. 1049), Special Laws of Connecticut, 1913, and Sections 1-5 (452) Special Laws Conn. 1917, entitled
 "An Act amending an Act concerning the nomination of candidates for public office, and the number, powers, and duties of town officers in the Town of Manchester," approved April 30th, 1913, and October 1st, 1917,

"The Home Beautiful"—A Crayon Sketch Drawn for Garber Brothers

When Guests Assemble in Your Home Beautiful

OWADAYS, more than ever, folks judge us by our homes—how they are furnished and maintained. The home affords a true criterion of character as well as substantiality—and therefore it should be a just cause for pride. When guests assemble around your friendly fireplace, you want them to be impressed, not necessarily by the luxury of your furnishings, but rather by your good taste. The proper selection of furniture has so much to do with a favorable impression. A discriminating home-maker does not want her living room suite built on the Ford plan of sameness—she prefers her home to be a little different—to express her own individuality. And, with the advantage of having her furniture made to order at Garber Bros., there is no reason why her home cannot be distinctive.

 The finest quality mohair obtainable, "Velmo", nationally advertised. Material cut to your order—and also privilege of your own choice of patterns for reversible cushions. Garber quality throughout.

Good furniture implies nothing less than being the best. Just look at this picture. Notice how we have cross-sectioned this living room suite. You don't take a chance when you buy direct from Garber Brothers' factory where you see how it's made and what goes into it. You see how these frames are mortised and doweled, not nailed. You see how each double-coiled spring is tied eight times and encased in an individual box of muslin. You see how it is filled with moss hair and white layer felt. You see quality, you see fine workmanship—all these things are visible to you, and leave nothing to the imagination. Be the judge and jury yourself!

East Glastonbury To Oppose Sons Here Tonight

LOCALS LOOK FOR BIG THINGS FROM NEW PLAYERS SIGNED UP

Sipples and Barton of Elmwood Join Ranks of Italians—Burkhardt or Hewitt to Oppose Connery or Wilson.

Glastonbury Sons of Italy Chapman, c. Mantelli, lf. Zurcher, lf. Kotsch, cf. Weir, 1b. Sipples, 2b. Edmondson, 2b. Edgar, 2b. Wilson, 3b. St. John, c. Flax, 3b. Wallett, c. Coffield, c. Lamprecht, 1b. Nicholson, c. Barton, 2b. Wilson, p. Burkhardt, p. Connery, p. Empire, Canada.

The Sons will open their twilight season this evening promptly at 6 o'clock when the East Glastonbury town team comes to the West Side. This will be the first of a series, the second to be played in East Glastonbury on Saturday afternoon.

The visitors expect to bring with them the mighty Connery who used to be the bane of local batters for the past several years and who is said to be going as strong as the present as he did when last he played in Manchester. With Connery as a running mate they will have Coffield as backstop and Wilson may take a turn at doing mound duty.

Manager Vendrilla announced yesterday that he has obtained the services of Barton of West Hartford for the season. The popular Elmwood star will probably cavort around shortstop or second base. Pop Edgar who appeared in his debut last Sunday has been put on second and the first base position given to Pusk Lamprecht who was recently signed.

Tommy Sipples, Elmwood mainstay, will be in the lineup of the Sons. These additions seem to round out a fast team and one that should give plenty of trouble and worry to other semi-pro lines in Connecticut.

Although no announcement was made regarding the pitcher for tonight, the choice will probably lie between Burkhardt and Billy Hewitt. Both men pitched against the Colored Stars of Hartford here last Sunday and both were effective for most of the time they were in the box. Burkhardt went along fine for a few innings and was relieved by Hewitt who performed in fine style. Wallett was formed behind the bat and took everything that was offered him by the two pitchers.

Now that the proposed twilight league has fallen through the Sons are making plans for a summer campaign of twilight games in addition to their already large Saturday and Sunday schedule. Glastonbury will be the first and plenty more will follow.

Much is expected of Barton, Sipples and Lamprecht. The first named has been playing with Elmwood and in the Insurance league of Hartford, while Sipples has been his team mate on the New Departure team. Lamprecht has pastured in fast company hereabouts for several years and will no doubt be a valuable addition to the Sons.

The Sons will be busy during the week-end for two games have been arranged. Both will be played out of town. First comes East Glastonbury in that place on

LOST BATTALION SAVED BY HOMER PIGEON IN WAR

"Cher Ami" Flew Back With Message from Whittlesey Although Leg Was Shot Off.

This is the first of a series of six interesting stories on the World War. They are written by Frank H. Hollmann, Editor of the American Pigeon Journal, specially for The Manchester Evening Herald.

All the world has heard the story of Lieut.-Col. Chas. W. Whittlesey and the members of his battalion, members of the 77th Division, who were lost for days in Arzonne Forest and completely surrounded by the Germans, until they had been given up as prisoners or killed. Columns have been written about the bravery of the men and their gallant commander, who held at bay the Hun hordes, with food gone and the last cartridge fired.

But how many know that it was due to a feathered hero that most of them were rescued and enabled to rejoin their comrades? The Literary Digest of May 24, 1919, is authority for the truth of the story, quoting from a writer in the New York World who had interviewed the commander of the pigeon company, Capt. John R. Carney, who says that the Distinguished Service Cross was ordered conferred by General Pershing, in accordance with instructions from the War Department.

The pigeon hero is "Cher Ami" (dear friend) a member of pigeon Co. No. 1, A. E. F. "We went out, I think, nine birds with Whittlesey's men," related Capt. Carney, "late last October. As all the world knows, the battalion was lost. For all the General Headquarters Staff knew it had been completely wiped out. But November 1st, 'Cher Ami' came into a coop at Rembrandt. His leg had been shot off about the middle joint, but the message tube was hanging from the stump. There was a wicked scar across his breast, where a bullet had cut away the feathers. But he came in. The army knew where Whittlesey was and could send aeroplanes with grub and ammunition and the relieving troops to get what was left of the battalion out."

General Pershing visited the coop and ordered the hero bird sent back to Washington under escort, where he was attached for life to the office of the Chief of the Signal Corps. He spent his days in comfort, no doubt telling the young squads and squeakers, in Pigeon English, of the glorious deeds of the 3,000 American pigeons who played so important and valorous a part in the great war, until his death a few months ago. He can now be seen mounted on a sun in the Smithsonian Institute. An artificial leg replacing the limb shot away. Doubtless "Cher Ami" is the most famous bird of the 1,000 in Capt. Carney's command, yet every bird did splendid service. The St. Nicholas Magazine is authority for the statement that in the thousands of flights made, the birds came through in 98 per cent of the attempts.

In a single year the U. S. Navy birds made 775 flights, covering 19,926 miles. The birds either delivered their messages or died in the attempt. Coming back on the ship that brought "Cher Ami" to America, were 100 captive German birds, most of which were returned to service with the American pigeon forces after proper training. Only three of them were said to be still in America, and one of these will be shown by Frank H. Hollmann, editor of the American Pigeon Journal, during his address the second afternoon of the 1926 Chautauqua.

DEMPSEY'S NOSE WITHSTANDS PUNCHES DESPITE OPERATION

World's Champion Gives Joe Williams Interesting Interview About His "Bugle."

This is the fourth of a series of articles on Champion Jack Dempsey in training by Joe Williams, little expert of The Manchester Evening Herald and NEA Service, Inc., who is looking the king of pugdom over at his southern camp.

Rendersonville, N. C., May 20.—I sat at the ringside in the mountains here today and watched one of the biggest right hands known to boxing collide squarely with the most celebrated nose of modern times.

The right hand was attached more or less securely to the pulsant arm of "Farmer" Lodge, a 245-pounder of more than average distinction. The horn, or bugle, as it is known in swank circles, was the personal property of Mr. Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, who is returning to the active business of jaw-crumbing after a lay-off of nearly three years.

When the right hand thudded against the champion's beaver, or snout, Dempsey looked over his partner's shoulder and called out to me: "Well, it's still there, isn't it, Joe?" The episode grew out of a serious academic discussion of mounted noses and their duration under fire.

The champion, as everybody knows, subjected his trumpet, or snout, to the mercies of a plastic surgeon a couple of years ago and there has been a lot of loose conversation spilled on the subject ever since. Among other things the claim has been made that paraffin was used to build up the organ and give it that nobly collegiate touch. Expert testimony was introduced to prove that one solid punch would cause the entire structure to collapse, thus creating a somewhat messy, if not dangerous situation.

"That's a lot of okra soup," declared Dempsey. "There was no paraffin used in the operation at all. As a matter of fact the operation was a necessity, not a surgery. True, the nose was reshaped slightly, but that was an afterthought. Earlier in my boxing career I suffered a broken nose. The shattered parts were removed but the cartilaginous parts were not stored and eventually they formed a barrier which clogged my nostrils and made breathing difficult. I became a chronic sufferer from colds and a doctor friend suggested the operation."

"Well I went through with the operation and, when the important work was finished, the surgeon marked it might help my breathing, even more so if the broad tip of my nose was removed. I told him to go to it. I'm glad I did. It has helped me a lot."

Undoubtedly the operation has been of some material value. Dempsey has always had a cartilaginous formation in his nostrils. Most fighters do in fact. You may recall the audible wheeze which accompanied Dempsey's work whenever he snapped into swift action in the past. I haven't noticed it once here so far and there have been times when he stepped with a lot of speed. Just what a concentrated attack on the nose-over nose would produce is not easy to say. Very likely it would crack under the strain. Even noses that have been left to grow and expand in their natural manner are capable of standing only so much abuse.

"I'm not saying my nose is any better than it used to be as a result of the operation," says Dempsey, "but I'm sure it's just as good."

I've noticed Dempsey takes no particular precautions against getting hit on the nose during the workouts, and the breed-punchers here in camp—Lodge, Farrell, Herman and Kelsch—tell me they have had no instructions to lay off the remodeled inhaler.

WORTH IN SPORT KNOWING

- Only one St. Louis Cardinal pitcher has hurled a no-hit, no-run game in modern times.
- Jess Haines turned the feat in 1924. On July 17 of that year he held the Boston Braves hitless and runless.
- Incidentally, it was Haines' first trip into the hall of fame.
- Haines, though coming through with his famous feat two years, really enjoyed his best season as a big-timer in 1923. In 37 starts that campaign he was credited with 20 victories and charged with 13 defeats.
- It was a remarkable show-off, but considering the Cardinals' position in the chase.

Billy Evans Says

PETTY OF DODGERS.

Southpaw Jess Petty with five straight wins, has supplanted Dazzy Vance, temporarily at least, as the pitching ace of the Brooklyn Nationals.

Petty, carried by the Cleveland club for several years, failed to stick in the American League, because it was the consensus of opinion that his fast ball didn't have enough stuff on it.

Sent back to Indianapolis in the American Association, he soon became the outstanding left-hander of that organization.

Against major league clubs in spring practice, Petty met with unusual success. However, big league scouts merely passed over the mention of his name with—"His fast ball isn't good enough for the big show, particularly with the lively ball."

A $25,000 Chance. The Brooklyn club, in need of a left-handed pitcher last year, decided to take a chance on Petty, said chance costing the club in the neighborhood of $25,000.

Joining the Dodgers at the opening of the 1925 campaign, Petty, the star of the minors, was just an ordinary pitcher in the National League.

He managed to break even on the season with nine victories and as many defeats, despite the fact that he was touched up for an average of almost five runs in every game he worked.

The previous winter Petty had spent pitching ball in Florida. Of none too strong physique, he was unable to do 18 months of continuous pitching and be at his best.

Realizing that the experts didn't fool the batters, he tried to get by with a change of pace, a curve and a slow one. He met with only fair success.

In Great Shape.

This spring when I met Petty in the Florida training camp of the Brooklyn club, he appeared in great condition, looking better physically than I had ever seen him.

He told me that he had spent the winter in California taking it easy and was ready to deliver for Manager Robinson, who had resurrected him from the minors.

As I watched him warm up it seemed to me that his fast ball carried more stuff than ever and I commented on the fact. It was also apparent to me that he had a better pitching repertoire than a lot of southpaws who were winning consistently in the majors.

"In the minors I always figured my fast ball my best bet," he said. "In the majors they tell me it isn't good enough, that I should mix 'em up."

"This year regardless of expert opinion the batters in the National League are going to see plenty of my fast ball."

His Best Asset. Bumped into Petty after he had won his fifth straight in the National and congratulated him on his success.

"What is the secret, Jess?" I asked. "My fast one," he replied with a smile.

"Possibly I am lucky. Maybe I am getting the breaks, a winner must. But whatever the reason I am turning in victories and my fast ball is my best asset."

"I am sticking the fast one over and the opposition is kindly popping it up. My curve and slow one are reserve stuff rather than the regular dish as was the case last year."

"When I lost confidence in my fast ball, I just couldn't win. Getting it back is the secret, if such it may be called, for my early season success."

Always popular with the players, Petty's fine showing is well received.

AMERICAN GOLFERS HAVE EVEN CHANCE

New York, May 20.—If ever another American is to repeat Walter Travis' victory of 22 years ago, it would seem that next week is to be the time. Muirfield the place and the British amateur golf championship the occasion. This view is aired not so much because the present American team is a great one; we have sent over others almost as good and they got nothing but a ride on the boat.

Of course, the fact that the boys are good needn't be held against them unnecessarily but, at that, a more encouraging consideration is the fact that Muirfield seems to be a course peculiarly suited to the styles of two American golfers and they happen to be our best, namely Bobby Jones and Francis Ouimet.

It wasn't for the fact that the young man seems to have lost his flair for match play, the name of Chick Evans, non-member of the Walker Cup team, might be added to make it a three-man list.

However, if I could only afford to lose my marbles, I would bet the same time that one Robert T. Jones is the better golfer and that both are long shots against the field, in spite of their ability.

High School Nine Tastes Its First Defeat In League

BRISTOL REGISTERS 19-8 WIN; DAHLQUIST FAILS IN NEW ROLE

"Yump" Allows Fifteen Hits and Seventeen Runs in Three Innings—Gudatis Finishes Game.

"Yump" Dahlquist, who was recently remodeled into a pitcher, proved no puzzle to the slugging Bristol High school baseball nine in the Bell City yesterday afternoon and South Manchester High was forced to taste a 19 to 8 defeat. It was the first league reversal for the Silk City nine.

Dahlquist, who pitched only three innings and probably would have been taken out before that time except for the coach wishing to give him plenty of opportunity to make good. Judging from the play-by-play account in the Herald, Dahlquist must have struck a virtual tornado when he faced the Bristol batters. After holding the home team scoreless in the first inning although a double and single were registered against him, Dahlquist blew up completely in the second inning and allowed seven hits and ten runs. Numbered among these was a home run with the bases clogged. Hultman, Bristol's third hitter was the hero.

Seven More Runs

The home run blow was too much for Dahlquist and after the ten runs had been pushed over in the second inning, he was entirely at the mercy of the Bristol hitters. In the third inning, Bristol continued its assault on Dahlquist and seven more runs were scored on six hits. Yump made four wild pitches that did everything but aid his cause and there were four errors made by his mates that also brought his downfall.

At the start of the fourth inning Gudatis was sent to the hill for Manchester. He was touched up for four hits and two runs in this frame but managed to hold Bristol scoreless in the final two innings of the seven-inning game.

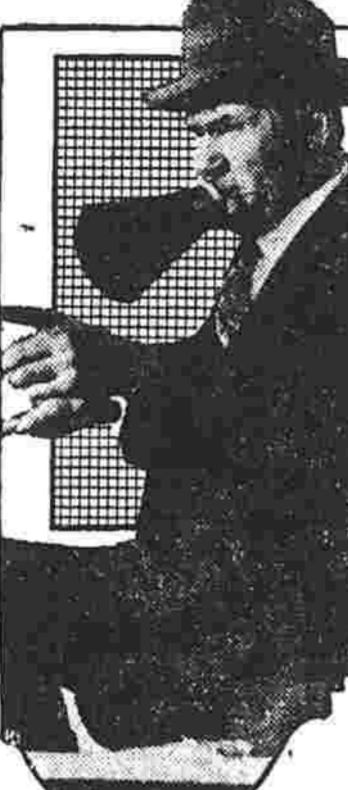

Wright Looks Good

Johnny Wright was given his first opportunity behind the plate at the start of the fourth inning also. He was sent in to relieve Boggin and handled himself in a commendable manner. No less than four runners were tagged out at the home plate by Johnny and he also smote a single and double in his three trips to the plate. It is possible that his showing will displace Boggin as first string catcher Saturday when Winsted comes here.

"Ding" Farr continued to have his batting eye with him yesterday. He poked a double and a triple. Others on the Manchester team who bagged extra base blows were Holland and Wright. Both were doubles. The summary:

FORTY LOVE (G-R-R)

Golf and tennis are two charming pastimes. They attract the better class of sportsmen. Mr. Heinz, put that pickle down!

In golf and tennis the sport is the thing. The matter of victory is secondary at all times. No, my child, it is not a game.

was Columbus, not Mussolini, who discovered America.

Unlike the more boisterous and vulgar sports, there is no personal venom in golf and tennis. There is, on the other hand, a fine warm feeling of genuine comradeship. More power to you, Mr. Edison!

You go to a rowdy prizefight, for instance, and you hear one of the bums, say pardon, one of the contestants, snarl at the other: "Take that, you bow-legged son of a sea cow!"

You go to a ball game and what do you see? Besides Altrick and Schmitt, we mean. Yes, what do you see—and what do you hear?

You hear a swaggering left-hander from the cornfields calling the umpire dirty-dirty and awful-awful and doubling it in spades. Is that nice? Dunt eek!

It is different in golf and tennis. Quite different, my dear. Indeed, it is vastly different. One might even go so far as to say it is supremely different.

What does a tennis player say when his opponent, or vis-a-vis, as we on the veranda term it, drives out of bounds, or nets his ball or does something equally silly? He says—and loud enough for all to hear—"Tut, tut, old fruit! It was bally hard luck. I'm actually distressed."

And what does the golfer say when his vis-a-vis, or opponent, as we in the lounge room term it, tops his approach shot and the ball rolls into a sand trap? Quick now, what does he say?

Just as we imagined. You, being obviously a vulgarian, or perhaps even a vegetarian, do not know. Well he says, "Tut, tut, old fruit! It was bally hard luck. I'm actually distressed."

And what does the high-minded tennis player really mean to say when the other guy cringes up with misery in gross quantities? And the gorgeous golfer, too? What does he really say?

"Well, it's time you were booting one. You've had all the luck since the match began. It's a fine howdy-do when a star like me has to take a pasting from a dub who is all broken out with horse shoes."

"FLASH" CAVANAUGH

One of the outstanding members of the Boston College track team this season is "Flash" Cavanaugh. He's a brilliant runner, and much of the school's success in relay races has been due to his splendid work. Boston College expects Cavanaugh to bring in a large quota of points before the campaign closes.

The Referee

SHAMROCKS MEET BON AMI TONIGHT

Sunday afternoon will find the Shamrocks pitted against the Hartford Pioneers at Hickey's Grove. This game was originally slated for last Sunday but was postponed on account of rain.

Tonight at six o'clock at Hickey's Grove the Shamrocks will take the field against the Bon Ami nine. "Bill" McLaughlin will be on the mound for the Shamrocks and Jack Dodek for the mill workers. The Shamrocks will use their regular lineup. Following is the lineup of the Bon Ami nine: McCarthy c, Godek p, Coleman 1b, Keeney 2b, Plum 2b, Vituallo 3b, Brainard lf, Brennan cf, McIluff rf.

DIAMOND DUST

Brooklyn's pennant dream was turned into a headache as Pete Donohue held the Dodgers to two hits, the Reds winning five to one. The losing pitcher was Jess Petty, who sustained his second defeat of the season.

John McGraw and a dozen other prominent New Yorkers were attacked by Pirates in Pittsburgh and beaten, six to three. A man who told the police he was Victor Aldridge, a pitcher, was charged with shooting the New Yorkers full of holes.

Babe Ruth crashed out his thirteenth and fourteenth homers of the season off Tom Zachary of the Browns, reaching and hurdling the hoodoo number in one afternoon. Meusel and Combs also hit homers and the Yanks had little difficulty in winning their eighth straight, six to two, behind the gilt-edged pitching of Hoyt.

Cleveland advanced to second place by winning an uphill battle from the Athletics, six to five. A double by Speaker drove the last nail in Lefty Groves' coffin.

Johns of Detroit shut out the Senators, six to nothing. Ty Cobb indulged in a mild batting spree, collecting a double and two singles.

Ted Lyons, White Sox star, walked seven men and was hit hard by the Red Sox but managed to pull a nine to seven victory out of the fire with the aid of spectacular fielding by Johnny Mostil, who patrolled his territory like a greyhound and caught everything except the measles.

Hearn, Boston rookie, beat the Cubs, five to two, the Braves hunching their hits off Bill Piercy. Hornsby was spiked as the Cardinals lost to the Phillies, six to two. The Phils hit Haines while Carlson pitched shutout ball for eight innings.

BOWLERS SAIL TO TAKE PART IN WORLD CONTEST

New York, May 20.—Nine expert bowlers, in charge of "Uncle Joe" Thum, will sail on the steamship Stockholm this afternoon for Sweden, where they will compete in the International Bowling championship. In addition to the Americans, teams from Sweden, Finland, Holland and Germany have been entered in the event, which will be held June 2, 3, and 5 at Stockholm. Those on the American team include J. W. Brodel, New York; George S. Jarrett, New York; Fred Smith, Detroit; Herman Knoblock, Whitestone, N. Y.; Fred Gerdes and Joe Blechinger, New York, and Joe Ruff, Whitestone, N. Y.

YE GOLFERS IN HAWAII

KEEP EYES ON LAVA Hilo, Hawaii.—Volcanic freaks, such as lava tree moulds, extinct lava fountains, colored sulphur banks, and curious formations compose a series of hazards on a golf course at the boundaries of Hawaii National Park.

The course, which is near the crater of Kilauea volcano, is being improved to meet the demands of an increase in the number of golfing visitors to the park.

When completed, the casual golfer will be able to combine his play with a scenic trip in one of the most interesting parts of Hawaii. Following the ball will lead him through part of the famous koa forest, where wood was obtained by the Hawaiians in days gone by for the manufacture of ukuleles and guitars.

Tree moulds, formed by lava cooling around the trunks of trees ages ago, will guard the approach to the fourth hole, while the second hole will be guarded by a hedge of flowering ohia trees. The sixth hole, sportiest of the course, will be situated on a mound-shaped lava "bubble" hidden in the koa forest.

C. B. A. AT MERIDEN SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Cheney Brothers baseball team will play its second game of the season Saturday afternoon against the Meriden International Silver Company in the Silver City.

The locals lost the first game of the season Saturday to the same club at the Stadium by a 12 to 2 score and will seek revenge Saturday. Georgetti, who labored under the handicap of a sore arm, will doubtless get the call to face the Meriden team again. He was far from at his best in the opener and should make things interesting for his opponents if he gets good support.

"Have a Camel"

Open one up! The tobacco tells its own story

CAMELS are made of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown. To prove what we say about Camel's tobacco quality, make this test:

You will at once notice the rich, fragrant aroma of Camel tobaccos not found in the other.

This marked difference is even more apparent when you "taste the smoke." It is solely because of the quality of the tobaccos and the skill of the blending that Camels never tire the taste, never leave a cigaretty after-taste.

Camels are so good that we know you will like them. Give them every test known and you will find Camels the highest quality cigarette made, regardless of price. Have a Camel!

Take a Camel and any other cigarette. Tear off the papers and place the tobaccos from the two cigarettes in separate piles. Now shake them up and examine the tobaccos. Your own eyes will quickly show you the difference, how the Camel tobacco is longer and of a riper color. Then gather up the two piles separately—and smell them.

HELPFUL HINTS BY GOLFING STARS

JOHN DUNCAN DUNN—PSYCHOLOGY.

The feeling should be ever present in the mind of the ambitious golfer that a thing can be done and that he can do it.

The things which will contribute chiefly toward his doing it well are intelligent practice, plenty of it, and a clear and comprehensive knowledge of what his faults are and how he is going about eliminating them.

Gene Sarazen—Voluntary Slice

It is one thing to be able to slice a golf shot and another to control the slice. The average beginner, failing to keep the elbows close to the body, is prone to cut across the ball, which invariably produces a slice.

That isn't the kind of sliced shot I was after. What I set out to develop and what I needed was the kind of slice that had a slight fade-away to the right.

I decided to change the position of the ball instead of the position of my feet.

We can all remember at school cases of where the tortoise has beat the hare, metaphorically speaking. We can remember boys who seemed to learn everything right away and other boys who seemed almost stupid but who were plodders and when it came to examinations the plodders often passed with flying colors and the brilliant ones were plucked. That is exactly so in golf.

I moved the ball to and fro until I had located the right spot, almost opposite the heel of my left foot. In other words, I found that by playing the ball more off the left foot than the right, and by cutting across the ball slightly, I got the results I desired. I play most of my shots with the ball almost opposite the center of my stance.

Finding I could slice a ball playing in the manner described above, I practiced and practiced on the shot until I had it perfected. One wrong shot can ruin you in a tight match.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Nick and Nancy and the Whiffet and the crew and the barrel owl all helped Pen Scratchers, the newspaper man, to deliver his papers. Everyone in Out-of-Door Land as well as all the little fairy suburbs received a copy of the "Hollow Log Gazette."

And these are the advertisements they read for all the lost things. "Lost—One head. Mister Ring-tall Coon lost the head of his very best cane on Friday. An extra head wouldn't do anybody any good, so please return it to once if not sooner. That is—if you find it."

The next one said: "Lost—I've mislaid my glasses. I usually put them on the mantle-piece, but they aren't there. And they're not in my work-basket, or in my book, or in the sugar-bowl where I sometimes put them by mistake. Finder please return at once as I have to do my darning. Reward, Mrs. Bunny."

"P. S.—Never mind. I found them. I had them on."

The next one read: "Lost—My balance. Three times last week I fell when I was jumping. Once I bumped my nose, once I skinned my knee, and once I hurt my head! I'm all bunged up. Ma says I must have lost my balance. Finder please return it to Scramble Squirrel. I'm tired of being bunged up."

The next one read: "Lost—Between the attic and the stile on Monday, one perfectly good shadow. Answers to the name of Whiff. Has a large necktie and two pockets and—

"P. S.—We had only enough money to pay as far as 'pockets.' They threw in the extra word for nothing. Whiffet!"

That was all the advertisements there were, but everybody in Out-of-Door Land and all the fairy suburbs, started at once to look for the lost things.

I don't know who found the head to Mister Coon's cane, but someone did, for when I was taking a walk on Thursday he was walking between the plowed rows of the cornfield and sticking his cane into the soft ground every here and there to see if the seeds were planted.

As for the squirrel boy's balance—once you lose your balance no one can get it back for you but yourself. I guess he found it, for I haven't heard of him being bunged since.

And of course poor, dear Madam Bunny never lost her glasses at all! The thing that kept everybody busy for miles around was the Whiffet's shadow.

Nancy and Nick and the poor little Whiffet sat on a log outside Pen Scratchers' grape-vine office and you'd be surprised how busy they were looking over this shadow and that, that people brought in.

But not one of them was the Whiffet's shadow that he lost crossing the stile.

Some were too short and some too tall, some too fat and some too thin. And not one of them had pockets or a necktie. You see a Whiffet's shadow is a very special kind of shadow, as a Whiffet is a very special kind of person.

"Oh, dear!" cried the tiny fellow. "I guess I'll have to go back and live in the attic with Pa and Ma again. I don't need a shadow there for it's all dark."

"Poor Whiffet!" said Nancy. "I'm sure you'll find your shadow some time."

(To be continued)
WHERE'S OSCAR?
"What was the last station we stopped at, mother?"
"I don't know. Don't bother me, I'm working a cross-word puzzle."

"That's too bad. Little Oscar got off there."—Stockholm Kasper.

She wanted alimony, so she divorced him for all he was worth.

Grandpa (who has absent-minded put on his ear muffs)—"Well Willie, I guess we'll have to get one of those loud speaker things. I can't hear a thing with these ear phones, any more."

No matter how things turn out there is always some fellow who says, "I told you so."

It is far better to fall down than to lay down.
Fugitive: "Quick! Where can I hide? The police are after me."
Buck Scherer: "In the filing cabinet. Nobody can ever find anything there."

"Wouldn't it be a great ol' world if the fellows who think they know it all could only prove it?"

The most interesting new wrinkle to a woman is how to remove the old one.

Mother—Why did you slap that little boy?
Betty—Well, I think I'm growing too old to kick 'em.

"Was that your wife," I asked a friend, "I saw you with just now?"
The girl that you were talking to, who is she, anyhow?
My friend uncorked a guilty grin: "Twas not my wife," said he, "For if you saw me talking, it couldn't have been she."

After the epidemic had been checked an old negro protested vigorously when the health officers started to take down the Small Pox sign they had put up on her house.

"Why don't you want us to take it down?" one of the officers asked.
"Ere ain't be'n a bill collectah neah dis house sence dat sign was nailed up. You all please let it alone!"

Money divides friends as often as it unites them.

THE FOOL
Divorced are Mr. And Mrs. McNeep. He mentioned another Girl's name in his sleep.

Making hay while the sun shines is good, but it's nicer to make love while the moon shines.

"How kind of you," said she, "to bring me these lovely flowers. They are so beautiful and fresh. I think there is some dew on them yet."

"Yes," said the young man, in great embarrassment, "there is, but I am going to pay it off tomorrow."

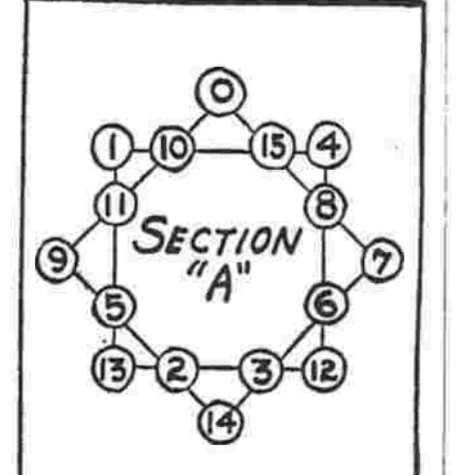

The majority of the men who run around looking for an argument are single.

ADVICE TO HUNTERS: If surprised by a wild animal, just sit and stare directly at it, and it won't harm you—if you're sitting on the top branch of a tree.

A PUZZLE A DAY
The world champion youthful diver is Dorothy Paynton, 10, of Los Angeles. Sundays she always rests but on every other day in the week you will find her swimming in the "1" pool for a specified length of time. Monday she swims only a short time. Tuesday she increases that amount 20 minutes, and on each succeeding day she swims 20 minutes longer than on the previous day. In this way she swims 17 hours every week.

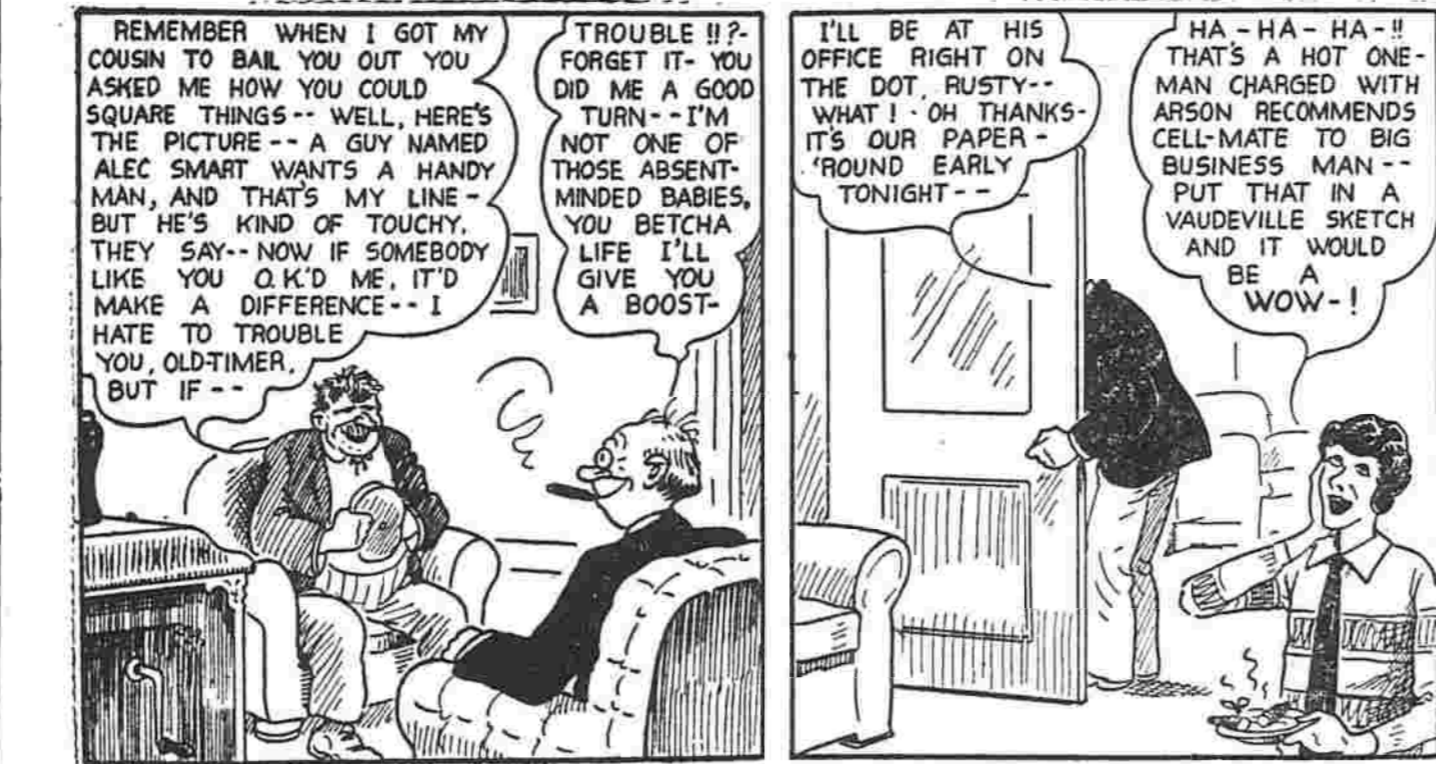

What length of time does Dorothy stay in the water daily?

Last Puzzle Answer

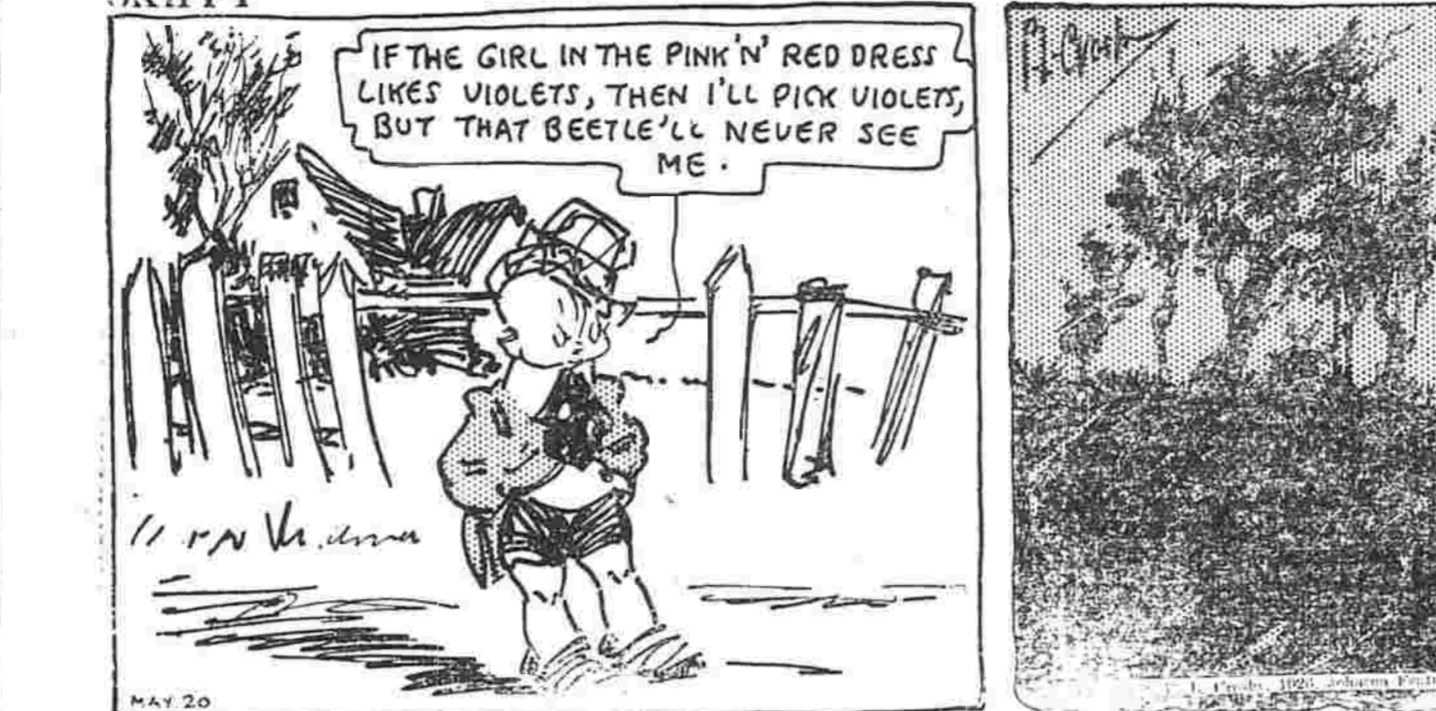

The 16 camp plots are numbered with digits 0 to 15. Each plot has a different number. But if you add any row of four numbers the sum will be 30. There are eight rows (0 plus 15 plus 8 plus 7 equals 30; 7 plus 6 plus 3 plus 14 equals 30; 14 plus 2 plus 5 plus 9 equals 30; 9 plus 11 plus 10 plus 0 equals 30; 4 plus 12 plus 8 plus 6 plus 12 equals 30; 12 plus 3 plus 2 plus 13 equals 30; 1 plus 10 plus 15 plus 4 equals 30.) The four corner numbers of each square make a total of 30 (0 plus 7 plus 14 plus 9 equals 30; 4 plus 12 plus 13 plus 1 equals 30.) This makes 10 different ways of securing 30.

Saving by System

Nearly everyone admits the importance of saving. But many fail to save, not because they are unable, but simply because they have no definite object or system.

You can save a definite amount with absolute certainty if you decide upon and carry out a plan suited to your means.

The weekly deposit system is the most convenient and successful. It enables you to save regularly in easy installments in any amount.

We suggest deposits of one,
two, three or more dollars each week. You can start an account at any time by mak-
