

WILL PROBABLY ABANDON DOLLAR-YEAR DRY ORDER

Government Likely to Quietly Drop Plan to Make Federal Enforcers Out of Local Officers—California Experiment May Be Confined to That State.

Washington, May 24.—The federal government, it was reliably reported today, is going to back-track on its ambitious project of giving federal prohibition badges to thousands of county and municipal officers even before the plan is put into active operation on a national scale.

Halting at the storm of controversy which has been kicked up by President Coolidge's drastic executive order, and somewhat concerned over the fact that some of the country's leading legal authorities have denounced it as unconstitutional, prohibition officials, it was learned today, are prepared to abandon the whole undertaking.

"Neglected to Death." There probably will be no formal announcement of the government's retreat in the matter. Rather, it was said, the experiment with it will not be allowed to get outside the borders of California, where it is receiving its capstone, and it probably will be "neglected to death" rather than killed outright.

The Department of Justice thus far has preserved an eloquent silence in the matter, and there was considerable speculation today as to whether it ever will be called upon to render an opinion as to the constitutionality and legality of making federal agents out of rural constables and deputy sheriffs.

Some of the department's recognized legal experts, however, have not been silent. White, chief of the official saying that the White House exceeded its authority, a number of experts have privately expressed the opinion that the plan cannot be made to hold water in a court test. Senator Goff, (R., W. Va.), formerly the state's legal expert, is one of those holding such an opinion. Goff also is a prohibitionist.

Routine Order. President Coolidge was represented today as being nettled over the situation. The order came to him, it is understood, in a routine way, and was signed without the attorney-general having been consulted. It lay around the Treasury for ten days.

Legal authorities who doubt the constitutionality of the order have pointed out that a most serious situation might arise in the case of a deputy sheriff occupying two roles—those of a county officer and a federal prohibition agent.

Suppose, it was argued hypothetically, a deputy so armed with dual authority made arrests in each capacity and the man arrested on a state offense took an appeal.

According to some authoritative legal opinion here, his lawyers could and probably would, if they were smart, contend that from the time the deputy accepted a federal position he automatically ceased to be a county or state officer. Consequently the acts he performed as a state or county officer after his acceptance of the federal badge would all be illegal, arrests, commitments, warrants, etc.

If the court upheld this contention—and there are said to be court decisions on record that do—the confusion in which local courts and the machinery of justice would be plunged is a picture that government officials do not care to contemplate.

"It would be absolute chaos," said one legal authority.

It is a situation at best which the federal government does not want to invite.

Consequently, it was said on good authority today, with the legal "best minds" of the administration at variance over the legality of the move, and both wets and dries assailing it from the standpoint of public policy, the government's only recourse will be to abandon the plan.

Few Badges, Says Andrews. General Lincoln C. Andrews, the enforcement chief, admitted today that the authority to enlist local officers contained in President Coolidge's far-reaching executive order "will be used rarely and carefully through temporary commissions, revocable at any time."

PLANNED FOR COUNTIES

California Originator of Badge Order Explains It.

San Francisco, May 24.—President Coolidge's executive order legalizing use of policemen, deputy sheriffs and rural constables throughout the country as prohibition agents in a drastic effort to enforce the eighteenth amendment is apparently not being received with any too much enthusiasm in California, where the plan is to be given its first try-out.

(Continued on Page 7.)

SOBER, FINDS HE'S MOTHER'S SLAYER

Chicago Youth, Rum Mad, Thrusts Knife at Man, Kills Woman.

Chicago, May 24.—John P. Manion emerged from a moonshine stupor in the county jail today and learned that during a drunken frenzy last night he had murdered his mother.

She was Mrs. Bridget White, a frail little woman of 60. She was sitting in her home with her brother-in-law, John White, when Manion, a youth of 23, staggered in with a bottle of liquor.

"You can't drink here," shouted White.

Manion drank the liquor and then picked up a butcher knife. As he lurched at White his mother threw herself between them. The blade pierced her body.

"Oh, John, my boy, you've killed me!" she cried. A minute later she was dead.

SUICIDE FOLLOWS "MERCY MURDER"

Distracted Father Kills Paralytic Daughter and Takes His Own Life.

New York, May 24.—A "merciful murder" in which an aged father shot his crippled daughter to death and then committed suicide was under police investigation today.

The principals were Frederick Raabe, 62, and his daughter, Evelyn, 22, who had been hopelessly paralyzed since birth. Since the death of Mrs. Raabe, several years ago, the man and the girl had been living alone together in a small Brooklyn apartment. Raabe struggled to make a living as a machinist, and still cared for the needs of the helpless daughter.

Bullet for Each. A neighbor broke into the apartment and found the man and the girl dead with a bullet in the brain of each and the gas turned on. The following note explained the tragedy:

"I cannot stand this mental agony any longer. My nerves are wrecked. Good-bye to all. There are $38 in a tin box. My will and bank account will take care of all expenses. Oh, God, forgive me."

PILSUDSKI MAY NOT WIN POLISH ELECTION

Some Doubt of Marshall's Victory at Polls—Army Men Would Make Him King.

Warsaw, May 24.—Warfare has given way to politics, as preparations are being made for the meeting of the National Assembly, one week hence, when an effort will be made to elect Marshal Pilsudski President of Poland.

There is much political activity and there is no assurance that Pilsudski can be elected, although those who inclined him to become a candidate declared that they had assured themselves that his election was certain.

Among some army officers the monarchist movement, with Pilsudski favored as king, is still going on, but it lacks popular support.

WILLIMANTIC GETS BOY AUTO HOBOES

Three Who Wander in Stolen Cars Captured—One Held on Theft Charge.

Willimantic, May 24.—John F. Fitzgerald, 17, of Cambridge, Mass., was today ordered held for trial in the Superior court on an auto theft charge and is in Windham county jail in default of $2,000 bail. Ernest Beaudry, 15, of Cambridge, and Robert Hanna, 15, of Somerville, Mass., companions of Fitzgerald, were held for police in Belmont, Mass., who will charge them with theft of an auto.

The three boys, alleged to have stolen a car in Belmont, drove here yesterday, abandoned the car and picked up one belonging to a local resident. State police chased and caught them. Fitzgerald today pleaded guilty to theft of the car here but no charges were placed against the others.

TREASURY BALANCE.

Washington, May 24.—United States treasury balance as May 21: $264,316,351.10.
Balance as of May 20: $269,057,879.27.

1 DEAD, MANY HURT IN 'NEW HAVEN' CRASH

Owl Flier Plunges Into Freight at Mansfield; Sleepers Topple, Firemen Killed, Engineer Dying.

Mansfield, Mass., May 24.—Freeman Ernest Riding, 42, of New Haven, who with his engineer stayed at his post as the "Owl" midnight flier, Boston to New York over the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, ploughed through a freight train at the crossover here early today, died at Rhode Island state hospital in Providence this morning.

James W. Durling, the engineer of the "Owl", was dying of internal injuries at the hospital.

Two other trainmen were seriously injured and 22 other persons were less seriously hurt.

Sleeper Turns Over

The locomotive of the midnight express telescoped one of the freight cars, and crashed into and set afire the signal tower. Three sleeping cars on the eleven-car train were derailed, one turning on its side. The list of injured:

Dying: James W. Durling, engineer of the "Owl"; internal injuries.

Seriously injured: George T. Hewes, East Providence, conductor of freight train, broken ribs, lung probably punctured; Smith, pullman porter.

Other injured: T. A. Carter, Boston; Arthur Bold, Chelsea; Thomas Reynolds, Riverside, R. I.; flagman of the freight train; S. C. Parkman, Keyser, W. Va.; T. J. Devereant, Katomet, N. J.; Robert Elliott, engineer of freight train; E. H. Scriber, of Chelsea; Mrs. Blossom Seeley, Betty Washington, the Bay sisters; Walter Kane and Paul Burns, Keith circuit performers; Henry Cabot Lodge, Boston; Dekelso, Mairs, Boston; Herman Scharman, New York; Dan C. Carlson, Brookline, Mass.; Allan B. McIntyre, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hyde, Brookline; B. C. Clark, Boston; E. H. Seaver, Taunton, Mass.

Freight on Crossover

The freight train of nineteen cars, enroute from Taunton to Lowell, was on the crossover when the express thundered down the main line.

After the crash, rails on the four tracks were twisted and torn up for 200 feet. The demolished signal tower caught fire from the big locomotive of the "Owl" as it swung about after hitting a coal car near the end of the

(Continued on Page 3.)

ARGENTINIANS START BUENOS AIRES FLIGHT

"Barney" Duggan and Two Companions Hop from New York on 6,100 Mile Journey.

New York, May 24.—Bernardo Duggan, Argentinian sportsman, accompanied by Captain Eduardo Olivero, and Lieutenant Ernesto Campanelli, hopped off at 8:15 this morning on the first leg of a 6,100-mile seaplane flight from New York to Buenos Aires.

The purpose of the flight is to prove the practicability of aerial transportation between North and South America, and the plane, manufactured in Italy, with motors made in France, was shipped to Miller's Field, Staten Island, by Senator Duggan at his own expense to prove the flight is possible.

The first scheduled stop today is Charleston, S. C., but the seaplane may land at Hampton Roads, Va., because its fuel capacity is only 250 gallons, enough for a nine-hour jump.

The flight is expected to take 14 days.

KRIM IN FLIGHT AS FRENCH DRIVE GOES ON

Many Riff Tribes Submit as French Begin Encircling Movement Against Zerouals.

Fez, Morocco, May 24.—The French today continued their drive against the Rifians and occupied Djebel Beni-Der.

French forces have now begun a movement to encircle the Beni Zeroual tribesmen from the west, this tribe having given the most stubborn resistance up to now.

Hereafter, it is anticipated, the task of the French will be lightened owing to the wholesale submission of large and small tribes, and apparently covered by the French victory at Targuist.

Abd-El-Krim, leader of the Rifian army, who had been reported in flight to Tangier, was today said to have taken a refuge in Snada, six miles north of Cas.

The tribesmen are being partially disarmed, the French leaving their sufficient rifles to protect their cattle against raiders.

His Services Ended

Dr. Joseph A. Higgins.

EMERGENCY DOORS ON BUSES ORDERED

Utilities Board Serves Notice That Rule for Rear Exits Will Be Enforced.

Hartford, May 24.—A Public Utilities Commission rule requiring marked emergency doors on the rear of all public service buses is to be strictly enforced at once, according to an order sent by the commission today to all bus owners and operators.

Expect Sign, Too. The commission also recommended that an additional sign, naming the location of this emergency door, be placed at the forward end of each bus where it will be visible to all passengers.

The emergency door is to be placed on the left of the rear end of the cars.

GAME OFF; COLD; WORST SINCE 1871

55 Years Since a May 24 Was So Shivery—Warmer Weather on the Way, Glad News.

New York, May 24.—New York City and other places in the east were today experiencing a decidedly cold snap. It was the coldest May 24 in New York City since 1871. At one stage the mercury dropped to 45 degrees above zero.

This afternoon's double-header between the Brooklyn and New York National League clubs was postponed on account of the dispirited temperature.

Warmer weather is forecast, however.

FINISHES MOTOR TRIP WITH 2 BULLET WOUNDS

Montreal, May 24.—Miss Bernadette Tessier, 21, of the Notre Dame hospital with a bullet in the face and another in the arm, the victim of a mysterious shooting. Her condition is said to be not serious.

The girl was struck by the bullets when nearing her home with a party of friends in an automobile. She told police the shots were fired by a man she claims was a friend.

"Mellie and Gram" Back Home To Stay, Rich and Very Happy

Norway, Me., May 24.—A venerable little "down easter" with wavy gray hair and moustache, brought out of backwoods obscurity and into the limelight by Henry Ford, and incidentally won a fortune, went back to the farm and a little snow-shoe making shop today.

"Mellie" Dunham came home and South Paris went wild.

The money that "Mellie" earned in cashing in on his personality and fiddling will be used to bring up and educate his nine grand children and to keep the wolf from the door until he and his good wife "Gram" have passed to another world.

The money that "Mellie" earned in cashing in on his personality and fiddling will be used to bring up and educate his nine grand children and to keep the wolf from the door until he and his good wife "Gram" have passed to another world.

"Mellie", who accompanied "Mellie" when he was asked to go to Detroit to play for the motor magnate, and who traveled the country with the little fiddler on his vudeville tour, was at his side when the

TRACE HOLDUPS TO ANDERSON'S GANG

Robberies of Last July in Michigan Laid to Door of Chapman's Dead Pal.

Muskegon, Mich., May 24.—The hand of George "Dutch" Anderson, slain pal of the recently executed Gerald Chapman, was seen by police today in the series of hold-ups in western and northern Michigan which netted bandits more than $7,000 in cash and securities and culminated in the daylight robbery of a bank at Elk Rapids, Mich., last July.

Anderson, government gents declared, maintained a camp in the wilderness in Newago county, in which the bandits Chapman and his excursions. Anderson lost his life in a revolver duel here with Detective Charles Hammond, who died later of wounds inflicted by the bandit.

Had Part of Loot

The Elk Rapids hold-up has been solved, officers say, by the discovery in possession of Harry Brackett, now serving 25 years for mail robbery in Los Angeles, of part of the $35,000 in bonds stolen from the bank, Brackett, according to police, was a member of Anderson's gang.

Ottawa county officers also hold a warrant for Brackett charging him with adding in the $3,500 robbery in May, 1926, of the Berlin state bank, at Marine, Mich.

Anderson's band also perpetrated the robbery at the Lakey Foundation in Michigan, in which Chapman here and escaped with $33,000 in cash, police say.

MEX BANDITS HOLD GRINGOS FOR RANSOM

Two American Mining Engineers Captured—Soldiers Go in Pursuit.

Washington, May 24.—Mexican federal troops are pursuing the bandits who captured two American mining engineers in the state of Durango, the state department was advised today by Bartley S. Post, American consul at Torreon. The Americans, C. C. Braden and a man named Gallagher are being held for a ransom of 6,000 pesos.

DR. JOSEPH A. HIGGINS DIES SUDDENLY TODAY

SEEK THE MILLION OF SLAIN RUMMY

Chicago Police Trying to Trace Vast Cash Fortune of Frank Cremaldi.

Chicago, May 24.—Police today are seeking a $1,000,000 estate said to have been left by Frank Cremaldi, mystery bootlegger and friend of Al "Scarface" Capone, who was found murdered here last week. Cremaldi, known also as Benton, is said to be from Detroit.

Cremaldi is known to have banked $7,000 two weeks ago, just before his arrest by detectives who had been trailing him, and is said to have remarked that the money was "a couple of days' profits." Police declared he either had it on deposit in banks, under an assumed name, or placed in safety deposit vaults, close to a million dollars.

Find Kavanaugh Girl. Cremaldi was found, blindfolded and shot four times, beside his car in Franklin Park. Mildred Kavanaugh, 24-year-old divorcee sought in connection with Cremaldi's death, has been found and proved to the satisfaction of police that she was not with him on the night of the murder. Police now are seeking another "Mildred" who, it is believed, can shed light on the murder.

FEATURE IN OPERA AT THE AGE OF SIX

Chicago Company Plans to Cast Little Evelyn Katz for Speaking Part in Zaza.

Rock Island, Ill., May 24.—The Chicago Civic Opera company during its engagement of 1926-27 will feature the world's youngest opera star, if a contract forecast here today materializes.

The baby star will be Evelyn Joanne Katz, six years old. The child has just completed a successful tryout, under the direction of Assistant Conductor Bigalli, for a leading speaking role in the opera "Zaza."

She will have the only child part in the opera. Her lines will be spoken in Italian.

HANEY TO RUN FOR SENATE IN OREGON

Wins Democratic Nomination; Stewier's Majority Mounts to More Than 13,000.

Portland, Ore., May 24.—With less than a hundred precincts out of 1,847 in the state still to be heard from, Bert E. Haney, former member of the United States Shipping Board and Democratic candidate for the nomination to the United States Senate, was today leading Elton Watkins, former congressman, 16,315 to 15,192.

Small scattering precincts still to be heard from in all parts of the state are not expected to endanger Haney's nomination.

Frederick Stewier, who landed into the Republican senatorial nomination over Senator R. N. Stanford, today had a clear majority of more than 13,000 votes.

LABORER'S LEG BROKEN BY BLAST OF DYNAMITE

Falling to hear shouts of warning, Jacob Leecher, a laborer at the new siding being built by the Manchester Construction company on Apel place, was struck by flying pieces of wood when a blasting charge was set off and is in the Memorial hospital with what may be a broken leg. The accident occurred about 10 o'clock this morning and Leecher was taken to the hospital immediately.

Leecher is a laborer who has been employed by the Manchester Construction company for only a short time. It was said at the job today that ample warning was given all vicinity of the blast and that there was plenty of time for everybody to clear out of the way. For some reason or other, it is said, the injured man failed either to hear or heed the warning. He was about 250 feet from the blast when hit.

The blast was set off by another contractor who is removing stumps from an area just east of the site of the new warehouse.

SCOTS WINNA PAY SILLER TO SEE ONLY GOWF AT 'A.

Muirfield, Scotland, May 24.—

Scotsmen never have had to pay to see golf and they don't intend to begin paying now.

This was demonstrated today when the amateur golf championship opened with a fee of sixty cents for admission. Twenty-four Americans are participants. Although there were ten policemen on the gates only 450 paid admissions. Thousands, however, took up positions on the sand dunes and the sea-wall overlooking the course.

SHIP IN DISTRESS, RESCUER ON WAY

British Freighter Emylnian, Propellor Gone, Urges Aid for Her Crew of 38.

New York, May 24.—The British freighter, Emylnian, with a crew of 38, is in distress about 2,000 miles east of New York, according to a radio message received today at the Red Star line offices.

The radio was from the Captain of the former liner, Sunland, now used for cargo only, who had picked up the S O S and was proceeding immediately to the Emylnian, seventy miles away.

The S O S said the Emylnian lost her propeller and was in need of immediate assistance, according to the radio. Her position was given as latitude 43-35 north and longitude 33-20 west.

The Emylnian left Havre May 14 with a cargo for Hampton Roads, Va. Her tonnage is 5,112 and she is 400 feet over all and 52 feet beam. The freighter is owned by the Dragon Steamship Co., of Cardiff, Wales. The Sunland left New York May 15 for Antwerp.

HIGHEST COURT BACKS RACIAL EXCLUSION

Residential District Bans Legal, Is Decision in Case Brought by Negro.

Washington, May 24.—The exclusion of negroes from restricted residential districts by mutual contracts between property owners is legal under the constitution, the supreme court held, in effect, today in dismissing a test case brought from the lower courts of the district of Columbia.

The case involved the sale of a piece of property to one Helen Curtis, a negro, by Irene Hand Curigan, John J. Buckley, a property owner, and Herman Fenerstein, all of lower courts forbidding the transfer of the property. The Curtis woman appealed on the ground that her constitutional rights were infringed upon, but the supreme court dismissed her appeal. The decision was rendered by Justice Sanford.

CAN'T FORCE RUMMIES TO KEEP U. S. RECORDS

Bootleggers Exempted by Supreme Court from Obligation to Report Sales.

Washington, May 24.—Bootleggers cannot be compelled to keep a record of their sales for federal inspection, the Supreme court held today.

The decision was rendered in a case involving Jacob Katz, George Senn and Herman Fenerstein, all of Philadelphia, who were charged with conspiracy to violate the dry law, and with failing to keep records.

Justice Stone, in delivering the opinion, held that the law plainly intended records to be kept by authorized liquor dealers and not by unauthorized liquor dealers.

FILIPINO CONSTABULARY OUTFIT RUNS AMUCK

Manilla, P. I., May 24.—Four were killed and fifteen wounded when a company of Filipino constabulary stationed at San Fernando, Pangasinan, ran amuck, according to advices reaching Manila today.

Manila, P. I., May 24.—Four were killed and fifteen wounded when a company of Filipino constabulary stationed at San Fernando, Pangasinan, ran amuck, according to advices reaching Manila today.

Manchester Lodge of Masons will have another session tomorrow evening. A special session will start at 5:15 and the regular session at 7:30. At each of the sessions the Fellowcraft degree will be conferred.

Popular Physician Passes Away at 2:30 This Morning— Heart Disease Causes Death—Had Large Practise Here; Was Modest and Unassuming— Had Fine War Record.

Dr. Joseph A. Higgins, one of Manchester's best known physicians, died early today at his home on East Center street after an illness of but a little over 24 hours. The end came peacefully at 2:30 this morning. Heart disease was the cause.

Dr. Higgins' illness really dates back to the World war when he was gassed and injured with shrapnel. Three months ago he was stricken with pneumonia which left him in a weakened condition but after a brief vacation at Atlantic City he returned to his practice apparently in good health.

But as one of his fellow physicians said this morning "his devotion to his patients was remarkable and he probably tried to forget his own health in order to serve others."

On Thursday of last week, Dr. Higgins complained to his wife that he was not feeling as well as he should but remarked that it would probably work itself out. On Saturday afternoon his condition became more serious and he was unable to go to his office in the South End. At 1:30 Sunday morning he was stricken with a severe heart attack. Dr. J. A. Burr was called. He in turn called Dr. A. B. Landry, a heart specialist of Hartford and also Dr. Edward Higgins of Hartford, a brother of the patient. At this time it was not thought that the case was a serious one.

As the hours went on the patient's condition grew worse and the last rites of the Catholic church were administered at five o'clock Sunday morning.

A consultation was held at noon yesterday between Hartford specialist, Dr. Higgins' brother and Dr. Burr. There still seemed at that time to be hope.

His Last Moments. At 2:30 this morning the patient who had but a few moments before remarked that he felt better than he had for the past two days, quietly passed away.

The news naturally first reached the Memorial hospital, where soon spread from word to word for Dr. Higgins was better known there than any one spot in town. Every nurse knew him. Almost all of the patients knew him. The orderlies on duty and the night nurses in groups whispered the news. And when the hospital awakened this morning there was real mourning.

Miss Hanna Malmgren, superintendent, was the first one this morning to speak of Dr. Higgins' death. It affected her strongly and it was with difficulty that she kept back the tears.

"There is real sorrow here today," she said. "I have known Dr. Higgins for the past five years, ever since I have been here. We were very fond of him and that means not only everybody connected with this institution but the majority of the patients as well. He endeared himself to everybody in the hospital. Of his shyness; of his modesty; of his proficiency in his profession; I need not tell. All who knew him knew that. He was here every day and some days many times. We will miss him."

Dr. D. C. Y. Moore, fresh from the operating room, came into the office at this time. He also was much moved.

"An unselfish man," he said. "A fine man and an honor to the medical profession. I have known him since the first day he came to Manchester. It was a pleasure to know him. His deeds will speak louder and better than my poor attempt to praise him. I am sorry to hear of his death. I grieve as much as if he were my brother."

His Physician. Dr. N. A. Burr, the physician who attended Dr. Higgins in his last illness, was also interviewed at the hospital. First he announced that the hospital staff and the members of the Manchester Medical Association would meet tomorrow to arrange for attending the funeral and pass proper resolutions. In speaking of his late colleague, Dr. Burr said:

"I have known Dr. Higgins since he came to Manchester. His outstanding characteristics were his extreme devotion to the profession and the welfare of his patients. Other characteristics were his great modesty and his retiring disposition. He was unselfish to a marked degree. The profession will miss him. He was beloved by every doctor in town and as well by all who knew him. We all grieve his passing.

His Best Friend. Dr. Edward G. Dolan, an intimate friend of Dr. Higgins, who was with him to the last, said this morning: "I've lost my best friend—my pal. I cannot talk today. I beg to be excused."

Dr. D. M. Caldwell, in surgeon dress, just about to perform an operation, hesitated a moment to speak of Dr. Higgins. "Manchester loses a most valuable citizen, one of its best and one of its ablest medical men. I knew the doctor only ten months and was associated with him in a surgical capacity. But in that time I learned his worth as a man and as a doctor. Speaking professionally I will say that as a diagnostician in general practice he was unexcelled as his record here will prove. His patients loved him. His public loved him. We, as his colleagues, loved and admired him and honored him. His death affects me strongly as if a near and dear relative had passed on."

Other doctors reached by telephone spoke in the same strain. There was no need to seek testimonials. They came in a flood to The Herald office as news of Dr. Higgins' death spread to mill and office and home. On the streets it is the only topic of conversation today. Men in all walks of life paid silent tribute to one who was perhaps as well known and liked as any man in public life in town.

His Biography. Dr. Joseph A. Higgins, who had the honor of being the first local physician to enlist for overseas duty, was born in Westerly, R. I., on December 8, 1883. He was the eldest of ten children of Michael and Mary A. (Burke) Higgins. Both the parents are now dead. The others in the family are Mrs. Charles Mattingly of Cleveland, O.; William Higgins, of Fall River, Mass.; Mrs. Charles F. Trebbe, Jr., of this town; Rev. Cyril R. Higgins, of Hartford; Leo Higgins, of Westerly, R. I.; Walter Higgins, of Hartford; Margaret Higgins, of Hartford, and Dr. Edward Higgins, of Hartford.

Dr. Higgins received his early education in the public schools of Westerly and was graduated from its high school in 1903. Next he went to Manhattan College in New York City preparing for the medical profession.

Following this Dr. Higgins took a four year course at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Baltimore from whence he was graduated in 1907. He served as an intern at the Baltimore hospital for six months and then came to Connecticut where he served as an intern at St. Francis' hospital for one year. That completed his probationary period.

Came to Manchester. It was in the fall of 1908 that Dr. Higgins first saw Manchester as a doctor. He opened offices in the Patten & Brown building on Depot Square (now the Balch & Brown building). With but slim recognition at first, it was not long before the ability of the young physician was recognized. His practice increased and in 1912 he was obliged to open an office in the south end, in the House & Hale block.

As the years passed, the young doctor's practice grew. Then came war clouds that shaped themselves into a form that to thinking persons meant that soon the U. S. would be drawn into the conflict. Seeing the trend of things warlike, Dr. Higgins did not wait for our declaration of war but enlisted with the British forces in February, 1917. He was not called until after the United States entered the conflict. He was sent to Washington and put in a week of intensive training. Then he was sent across. There was a great scarcity of surgeons in England at this time and Dr. Higgins when the U. S. declared war was loaned to the British government. He landed in Devonport, England, in September and within two months was in the 4th Division of the British Expeditionary Forces and at the front in Belgium near Poelcapelle, one of the hottest sectors on the British west front. Within three weeks, so hard was the fighting there and so near the front was the Manchester doctor, that he was gassed and wounded by shrapnel and was sent back to England to recuperate.

Back Into Action. In February, 1918, recovered from his wounds, Dr. Higgins was sent back to the scene of war. Half way across the English Channel his ship was torpedoed. Rescued with difficulty he escaped with his life but lost all his personal belongings. "The fortunes of war," he remarked to a companion. Again he served with the British forces, the 57th Division of the Fifth Army Corps. This time, however, he was in earnest if it never was before in Dr. Higgins' life. The spring of 1918 witnessed the great German offensive and the Fifth Army Corps was in the thick of it on the plains of Belgium. In the midst of the fighting he found himself attending the wounded in a cellar, the house of which had been demolished by German shells. Another shell dropped nearby. Almost the whole party was wiped out but by a miracle the doctor escaped injury. The victorious Germans passed over the village and the cellar hole and again it was miraculous that the doctor was not captured. For days the little party kept in the hole, emerging at night to rustle for food. The enemy was all around them but somehow they threaded their way back 35 miles to the British lines at least 35 miles.

The Armistice. Dr. Higgins served with the same division all through the war and the Armistice found him near Brussels in Belgium. At this point it may be remarked that a local World War veteran remarked this morning that Dr. Higgins probably had more of actual warfare than many U. S. army officers because he was always at the front and was in the war shortly after the U. S. entered it.

The local physician remained with the British until May, 1919, when the American command located him and ordered him transferred to his own country's forces. He was then sent back to the U. S. and discharged on June 4, 1919, with the rank of captain.

Located in Hartford. Dr. Higgins did not come back to Manchester after his war experiences. He spent two years with Dr. John B. Boucher, of Hartford, who died about a year ago. In this connection it might be well also to say that Dr. Harry R. Sharpe, an intimate friend of Dr. Higgins, is also dead. Dr. Higgins was at Dr. Sharpe's bedside when he passed away. Dr. Higgins is the third of the Memorial hospital's staff to die within the past few years.

In the month of July, 1921, Dr. Higgins returned to this town. He opened offices in the House & Hale block in the south end and in October, 1923, removed to his new suite in the Blish & Quinn building where his offices were located up to the time of his death.

As to his fraternal activities, Dr. Higgins was a grand knight of the Knights of Columbus, a member of Dilworth-Cornell Post, American Legion, Hartford Lodge of Elks, Delta Chapter of Phi Chi Medical Fraternity of Baltimore, the local medical association and national medical association and the Hartford county medical association.

Married Hartford Girl. On December 26, 1921, Dr. Higgins was married to Miss Mary C. Dwyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dwyer, of Hartford. The marriage was performed in St. Patrick's cathedral in Hartford and was one of the outstanding society events of the season. There were no children.

To add to the sorrow of the family and the intimate acquaintances of the physician there is a gloom cast over the coming nuptials of Dr. Edward Higgins, a brother of the deceased. He was to have been married to Miss Mary Quinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Quinn, the son of a druggist, on Thursday morning. Whether or not this will take place so soon after the funeral could not be ascertained today as the sorrow of the family could not be disturbed to ask for information.

The Funeral. The funeral will be held at 9.30 Wednesday morning from St. James' church where a solemn requiem mass will be chanted. Who the celebrants will be has not yet been determined. The bearers are to be chosen from members of the Knights of Columbus and the Manchester Medical Association. Burial will be in Mt. St. Benedict's cemetery, Hartford.

STOCK EXCHANGE LOCAL STOCKS

(Furnished by Putnam & Co., 6 Central Row, Hartford, Conn.)

Table with columns: Bid, Ask, Aetna Cas. & Sur., Aetna Life, Automobile, Conn. General, Hartford Fire, Htfd. Steam Boiler, National Fire, Phoenix, Travelers.

Table with columns: Bid, Ask, Conn. Power Co., Hartford E. L. Co., Htfd. Gas, So. N. E. Tel. Co.

Manufacturing Stocks.

Table with columns: Bid, Ask, Am. Hardware Co., American Silver, Acme Wire, Bigelow-Htfd. Pfd., Bristol Brass, Collins Co., Colt Fire Arms, Eagle Lock, Fabrik Bearing, Int. Sil. Pfd., L'nders Frary & Clark, Jewell Belting Pfd., Niles B. P. M. Stock, North & Jud. Y., R. Montgomery Co., Peck, Stow & Wilcox, Russell Mfg. Co., Stanley Works, Smyth Mfg. Co., Torrington, Underwood, Union Mfg. Co., Whitlock Coll Pipe, U. S. Envelope Pfd.

Bonds.

Table with columns: Bid, Ask, Htfd. Elec. Lst. 7's, Conn. L. P. 5 1/2's, Conn. L. & P.'s, B'pt. Hyd. 5's.

New York Stocks

Table with columns: High, Low, Close, At. Gulf, Am. Beet Sugar, Am. Sugar Ref., Am. Tel. & Tel., Anaconda, Am. Smelting, Am. Car Frdry., Atchafalaya, B & O, Beth Steel, Butte Superior, Cons. & Nat'l, Col. Fuel Iron, Ches & Ohio, Can Pacific, Erie, Erie 1st, Gen. Elec., Gen. Mot., Great No. Pfd., Ill. Central, Kennecott, Inspira Cop, Iowa & Nat'l, Lehigh Valley, Marine Pr., Motor Wheel, Norfolk West, North Pacific, N. Y. Central, N. Y. N. H. & H., Pan Am Pet., Pennsylvania, Pierce Arrow, Rep. Ir & Steel, Reading, Ch. R. I. & Pac., South Pacific, So. Railway, St. Paul, Studebaker, Union Pacific, West. Rubber, U. S. Steel, West'n House.

SENTENCES HACK WILSON TO BUY A CHARITY TAG

Chicago, May 24.—Lewis R. ("Hack") Wilson, hard-hitting center fielder of the Chicago Cubs baseball team, today was ordered by Municipal Judge Frank M. Padden to pay $1 for a tag for adult charities when he was arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct.

JUDGE DOWNEY OF U. S. CLAIMS COURT DEAD

Washington, May 24.—Judge George E. Downey, a member of the United States Court of Claims, died suddenly today of a heart attack which followed a fall. He was a native of Indiana, and was sixty-six years old.

JUDGE DOWNEY HAD BEEN A GUEST AT DINNER

Washington, May 24.—Judge George E. Downey had been a dinner guest to Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Shuts, of Miami, Fla., aboard their yacht in the Potomac last night, and the fall which preceded his death occurred in landing from the yacht.

SMELLING RESOLUTION WHITE HOUSE EMPLOYEES

Washington, May 24.—Taking the administration forces unaware, the insurgent bloc today jammed a resolution through the Senate initiating an investigation of charges that White House employees have been carried on the payroll of the Alien property custodian's office in apparent violation of a law.

A resolution, sponsored by Senator Norris, (R., Neb.), was adopted without a dissenting vote, asking the alien property custodian to report immediately what persons had been carried on his payroll who had "other employment," and the salaries paid.

ABOUT TOWN

Manager Jack Sanborn has invited the Men's Choral club members to be his guests at the State theater this evening, following their annual meeting and banquet in Cheney hall.

A special meeting of all members of the Switchboard Lumber club will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. This evening at 7:30 the trustees will meet in the church basement and the council at the parsonage.

The district meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society will be held tomorrow at the South Methodist church, sessions beginning at 11 and at 2 p. m. Luncheon will be served by the local auxiliary at 12:30. Mrs. O. L. Grueson will be present and speak on junior work. Mrs. Bigood of New London will talk on work at Silver Lake. All interested are welcome to attend any of the sessions.

David L. Benson and son of Orchard street are repainting the ship signs at the entrances to Manchester for the Chamber of Commerce. They will be finished by Memorial Day.

The Argonaut club will present "Three Pills in a Bottle" at High school hall tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Thomas Wilson, administrator for the estate of the late Mary Wilson, has sold the six room cottage on Edward street to Lemuel Robbins of Oakland street. Mr. Robbins will move to the home shortly. The sale was made by the Arthur A. Knoffa agency.

Served 8 Years Because He Was Misunderstood

Trenton, N. J., May 24.—And now they talk of deporting Rafaelle Morello back to where olive trees flutter gray-green on the hill side and where the indigo Adriatic murmurs its rhapsody to the sun-kissed shore.

Bustling champions of worthy activity say it is a shame. But Rafaelle merely lifts his shoulders.

That gesture, with an assortment of unexpressed emotions and a few phrases of English, constitutes what the youth has learned in the dozen years since he passed through the maw of Ellis Island. When they talk of sending him home as a punishment, no words could express Rafaelle's thoughts so accurately as that shrug.

Rafaelle Morello

At first, America was the veritable land of joy and opportunity. Rafaelle met the 17-year-old Annette, and they enjoyed four months of marriage which he will think was heavenly. Then came the war, and the draft. Annette tore up the first summons before he saw it. She said it would kill herself, if her man were taken from her.

The postman called again, and Rafaelle got the letter. In the morning he had to go. Annette twined her arms tight around him. Just before breakfast time, two shots sounded from their little room. There was Annette dead on the floor, with Rafaelle wounded.

"Essa la volute," said the youth when they took him to court charged with murder. "She brought it on herself," said the interpreter, trying to make sense of the obscure Foggia dialect.

So Rafaelle came to serve his life sentence in State Prison here third to see America through the narrow barred embrasure of his cell. That was eight years ago. Now Rafaelle has received a parole.

You see, when the interpreter said "Essa la volute" meant "She brought it on herself," he should have translated it, "It was honest mistake done." It was an honest mistake done in a plea of guilty. Annette says Rafaelle committed suicide. His story is legally recognized as true. But the immigration law says aliens convicted of crime within five years after arrival shall be deported.

"I no kill Annette," says Rafaelle, now. "And in court, I tell them just what happen in as many ways as I know."

But when to ask him if he dreads deportation from America, Rafaelle just lifts his shoulders.

ANDREWS TO SAIL FOR LONDON JULY 18. Washington, May 24.—L. C. Andrews, federal prohibition enforcement chief, announced today he planned to sail July 18 for London to confer with British officials on the plans to enlist Great Britain's aid in assisting the United States in suppressing rum running.

GILEAD

Miss Leora Hibbard of Manchester spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton A. Hills. J. B. Jones, the newly appointed superintendent of the cemetery is grading and seeding the grounds. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hills and Miss Hibbard motored to Howard Valley Sunday and called on Mrs. Thomas Proctor.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hills spent Sunday at her cottage at the Willimantic Camp Ground.

Visitors at E. E. Foote's Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. George B. Miller of Colchester, Chester and A. E. Lyman of Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Abel of Windsor and Mrs. A. H. Foote and Elmer Foote of Colchester.

The Misses Doris and Eva Hutchinson spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones.

Miss Lona Berdick and Mrs. William Lull and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Russell of Huntington street, South Manchester, visited Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lyman Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Clara Hammer and Mrs. Charles Hammer of Wethersfield were visitors in this community Sunday.

Miss Mary Ellis is ill and Dr. Lundberg of Manchester is attending her and Miss Clara Pendleton, nurse, is caring for her.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Post entertained their children, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Twining, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Post and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Post, over the week-end. While Mrs. Myron Post had the misfortune to fall on the stairs, we hope she will recover her injuries in a few days.

Miss Marcia Zabriske was the leader of the Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening. Her brother from Preston City, who recently sang over the radio, sang two selections. Special numbers were also provided, it being piano, Mrs. A. W. Ellis; violin, J. B. Jones; trombone, Mr. Zabriske; cornet, Mr. Zabriske; saxophone, Kenneth Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Bailey of Manchester visited their aunts, the Misses Mary and Hattie Ellis Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tryon of Glastonbury visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Buell Sunday. H. R. Coffin of Windsor Locks was a business caller at E. W. Buell's Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyckoff Wilson of West Hartford visited the Misses Mary and Hattie Ellis Saturday.

TRIES TO BOMB RADITCH.

Paris, May 24.—An attempt has been made to assassinate M. Raditch, leader of the Croatian peasant party and member of the Yugoslav cabinet, according to reports received here from Serbia. The police placed a Jugoslav Nationalist under arrest, just as he was about to hurl a bomb at Raditch, it is reported.

MOLLA MALLORY WINS MIDDLESEX 2d ROUND

Chiswick, England, May 24.—Molla Mallory won her way through the second round of the Middlesex lawn tennis championships this afternoon when she defeated Miss Gaspool, 2-6, 6-2, 6-2. Mrs. Mallory drew a bye in the first round.

ARREST 32 AGITATORS FOR FUR STRIKE RIOT

New York, May 24.—Thirty-two agitators were arrested today following a riot precipitated by 200 fur strikers who attempted to intimidate other workers. Reserves quelled the disturbance. The strike among the fur workers began several months ago. Today's was the first serious disturbance.

U. S. SAILOR CONVICTED AS PEEPER, A SUICIDE

Waukegan, Ill., May 24.—A. W. Union, 28, sailor at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, is dead here today because he could not bear the stigma of conviction as a "Peeping Tom". Winn was arrested on complaint of a Waukegan citizen and fined $100 and costs. He could not pay the fine so he was sentenced to twenty days in jail, where he hanged himself with his knitted scarf.

BRAND TO WED, IS BUZZING PARIS RUMOR

Paris, May 24.—All France buzzes with reports that Premier Aristide Briand, 65 years old and one of the most confirmed bachelors in the world of statesmen, is shortly to marry the widow of a professional man.

HARTFORD MAN TO BE RETURNED FOR ROBBERY

New York, May 24.—Cornelius Touhill, 30, of 1015 Windsor avenue, Hartford, was held today, pending extradition to Hartford where he will be tried on a charge of robbing the home of John Durrain, 713 Pearl street, Hartford. Touhill was arrested immediately upon his release from Welfare Island. He told Magistrate Reynolds in the Coney Island court that he is willing to return to Connecticut to face trial.

CHARGE SUBSTITUTION FOR RUM DEFENDANTS.

Boston, May 24.—Two secret indictments were handed down by the Suffolk County grand jury today as the result of an investigation concerning the alleged wholesale substitution of defendants in liquor cases.

The investigation was started by county authorities and police after James M. O'Connell pleaded guilty in Roxbury court to standing trial for another in a liquor case.

COLUMBIA

A "Better Homes Field Trip" under the auspices of the Tollard County Farm Bureau, Mrs. Dimock, Home Demonstration Agent, leader, will be held Thursday, May 27. In the morning from 10 to 12, Daylight Saving time, there will be an inspection of three Columbia kitchens. Mrs. H. B. Hutchins, Mrs. J. Hutchins, and Mrs. Junie Squiers. At noon there will be a basket lunch on the lawn at Moxdie, the home of Mrs. Fannie Dixon Welch, and coffee will be served. At 1:30 there will be an inspection of Mrs. Welsh's Model kitchen. At 2:30 to 3:30 there will be three addresses, "The Home Modernized" by Elizabeth C. Nickerson, of the State Board of Health; "Happier Homes Through Happier Children" by Dr. Elizabeth Ingraham, and "The Whole Child in School" by School Supervisor Larcomb. At 3:30 there will be a demonstration of electric equipment, and hot waffles and tea will be served by the Columbia women. It is hoped that the ladies will turn out in large numbers, as it will be an entertaining as well as instructive day.

The Christian Endeavor society held a supper and entertainment Friday evening which was a great success both socially and financially. Over 100 were served a bountiful supper consisting of baked beans, salads, rolls, coffee and cake. At the close of the supper three one act plays were presented, written and managed by Mrs. Florence Badge, with music by a three-piece orchestra with Mrs. Fred Abell at the piano. During an intermission Mrs. Badge and Mrs. Abell were presented with bouquets of sweet peas by the C. E. society, and Mr. Lyman, leader of the orchestra, with a box of candy, in appreciation of their services. A net sum of $50 was realized by the society.

Grace Randall of Willimantic is at her cottage by the lake with Mrs. Zimmerman and daughters of New York. Mrs. Della Porter of Springfield was a visitor Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Porter. Ernest Collins and family of East Hartford and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Collins of Willimantic spent the week-end at the home of Erwin Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lyman of Plainville spent Sunday at the home of James Uley.

Judge J. White Sumner of Bolton was in Columbia Saturday on business. He was accompanied by Mrs. Elsie Jones and Miss Lavina Fries. Miss Mary Turner of Willimantic spent the week-end with her aunt, Mrs. Fred Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gates of Hartford have been spending several days at their Columbia home.

Miss Marion and Miss Madeline Holmes spent Sunday at Saybrook.

F. H. Holmes, Miss Lottie Johnson and Francis Hunt of New London, and Mrs. Thomas O'Neil of Norwich were Sunday callers on relatives in town.

At the Congregational church Sunday morning the Rev. Duane Walsh had as his text the parable of the mustard seed illustrating growth. Mr. Waln was also the leader at the Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening, at which time reports of the convention held in Hartford last week were given by several young ladies who attended as representatives from the local society.

A Memorial Service will be held in the church next Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Standard time, with a speech by the Hon. Frank Benton of Willimantic and music by the school children. Following the service at the church the children will march to the cemetery and decorate the soldiers' graves. The exercises are in charge of the exercises men of Columbia.

Harold Lloyd at the State now 1—Adv.

Millions of Dollars are WASTED Annually on Fictitious Charities. Don't be deceived by every sentimental appeal. Read article on Page 4 and if in doubt, call MANCHESTER CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

CIRCLE Tonight CLARA "The Shadow of the Law" BOW in "The Shadow of the Law" MATT MOORE and RUTH ROLAND in "WHERE THE WORST BEGINS" Tomorrow and Wednesday DOUBLE FEATURE BILL JOHNNY HARRON BUCK JONES in "The Gilded Highway" "The Fighting Buckaroo"

STATE Now Playing Double Feature Bill HAROLD LLOYD "The Road To Glory" It's the Devil's Own Highway With MAY McAVOY LESLIE FENTON and FORD STERLING 2 PERFORMANCES DAILY Matinee 2:15 Evening 7:00 and 9:00 STATE ORCHESTRA Afternoon and Evening.

We Are Extending Our Sale Of Last Week For One More Week We are doing this to give all our customers and friends an opportunity to cash in on these values. SUITS 37 Suits Values $32.50 and $35.00, consisting of 2-button, 3-button and double-breasted. Sent us by our manufacturer to sell at $25.00 Extra Pants, $6.50. SUITS 24 Suits, formerly priced to $40.00. A variety of colors but not all sizes. $17.50. Blue Serge Suits, $29.50. SUITS We are taking the balance of our new Spring suits and during this week we will allow you a discount of 10%. SHOES One odd lot of shoes, values to $6.00, $2.95. On all other shoes in our stock we are offering a special 10% reduction. STRAW HATS In body, toyo and panamas. Manchester's largest selection of the new, popular, fancy bands. $2.45 and up. SHIRTS Woven madras, silk stripes and repps. Value $2. $1.49, 3 for $4.25. SILK SHIRTS SHIRTS—Silk Striped Madras, Woven Madras and Novelty Broadcloths. Most of them with collar to match. Value $2.50, $1.99. In Crepe, Jersey, tub, rayon. Values to $7.50. Extra special at $2.95. White Broadcloth, collar attached and neckband Shirts. Regular value $2.50, $1.99. Regular value $2.95, at $2.45. UNDERWEAR Nainsook Athletic Underwear, with knitted waist band. Exceptionally good value, $1.00. George H. Williams 711-713 Main Street Johnson Block South Manchester.

Manchester Evening Herald

PUBLISHED BY THE HERALD PRINTING CO. Founded by Edward S. Ela Oct. 1, 1881

Every Evening except Sundays and Holidays. Entered at the Post Office at Manchester as Second Class Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Mail six dollars a year; sixty cents a month for shorter periods.

By carrier, eighteen cents a week. Single copies, three cents.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVE: Hamilton De Liseer, Inc. 23 West 43d Street, New York, and 412 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

The Manchester Evening Herald is on sale in New York City at Schuler's News Stand, Sixth Avenue and 42d Street and 42d Street entrance of Grand Central Station.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE has the exclusive rights to use for republication in any form all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper.

It is also exclusively entitled to use for republication all the local or undated news published herein.

MONDAY, MAY 24, 1926.

JOSEPH A. HIGGINS.

Manchester has lost a beloved citizen. Dr. Joseph A. Higgins was not one of those men who can fall out of the ranks without being missed—grievously missed.

There is this consolation to a family and a community deeply smitten by his untimely death—that, knowing well the likelihood that his span would be short, the prospect could not weaken the dauntless spirit or bring a vestige of fear.

A gallant gentleman, an admirable citizen and a heroic figure has left us. Manchester will treasure his memory.

DOLLAR-A-YEAR MEN.

The biggest racket kicked up over prohibition enforcement in a long time has followed the President's executive order giving federal authority to local police officers.

On the face of it the move did not, it must be confessed, look like the best considered step ever taken by President Coolidge, who proverbially never does anything without a very great deal of consideration indeed, and who, consequently, makes extraordinarily few mistakes.

It is possible, however, that this surprising action has been even more deeply considered than most things Mr. Coolidge has done.

Last week the President, speaking in Virginia—which once went to war with the federal government on the very issue—declared outspokenly for the theory of states' rights; pointed the danger of growing centralization and the recent tendency to shift to the shoulders of the United States government the responsibilities and authority that properly belong to the states.

Almost immediately thereafter came his executive order creating thousands of federal enforcement officers out of state and local police. It was a most puzzling situation.

The puzzle, however, seems to be pretty well cleared up by a statement issued on Saturday by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Mellon understand one another.

"This is no time," said the treasury secretary, "to talk about state's rights so far as enforcement of prohibition is concerned. When the people wrote the 18th amendment into the constitution they decided that the federal government should have police power hitherto reserved to the states. They forced us to use police powers, making jurisdiction concurrent between federal and state governments. I must lean on the states and communities to carry their burden in the enforcement of the law."

clusion that the appointment of these thousands of dollar-a-year federal enforcers in the persons of local sheriffs and police officers will operate altogether well. But it is a step logically contemplated by the 18th amendment. It needed to be taken for the purposes of the record if for no other reason. Also it needed to be taken in order to how the people just what this Volstead enforcement act means—what kind of a job has been shunted off into the general government.

It strikes us that Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Mellon between them have done an extremely good day's work in the conception and promulgation of that remarkable order.

STARVATION.

The British coal strike is going fast to a showdown. A million miners and three million dependents are growing hungry. They have no money, their union fund is exhausted. So are all other British union funds, thanks to the disastrous general strike.

Valiantly, gallily, the coal miners shouted their slogan, "Not a penny off nor an hour on!" as the strike began. Their stomachs were full then, their wives and children smiled hopefully with them.

The merits of the British coal situation baffle those who are on the ground and best informed as to the conditions. Here there is a growing suspicion that those who suffer least of all are the owners of the mines, but whether their business will stand the pay and the hours that the miners demand without sheer bankruptcy is still an open question.

But one thing is sure. Starvation will not and cannot be borne as the price of a principle or a belief or a determination. Not when it has to be borne by women and children and when their men have, at worst, a partial palliative within reach in the mere act of going to work.

Hunger has broken thousands of strikes. It is on the point of breaking the British coal strike. Men will not let their families starve when there are jobs to be had and pay envelopes to be taken, however hard the job or slim the envelope.

THE OLD MASTER.

You read that Walter Johnson, now pitching his twentieth year in the big leagues, won his 400th ball game the other day. You read, too, that the victory was his sixth out of seven starts this year.

How long, you wonder, will the Old Master go on. They said he was through years ago, but his twenty-three wins in 1924 were the biggest factor in Washington's capture of the pennant that year. They said he was through after losing his first two world series starts that fall. Yet in the final game with the Giants he went in as a relief pitcher and a forlorn hope and won imperishable glory by setting McGraw's men on their heads.

They said he was through after the Pirates had massacred him in the deciding game of the world series last fall. Yet here he is, in his 39th year, still the pitching ace of the Washington team, still the biggest hero of American boyhood.

And further than that, you have it on the word of every ball player who has played with or against him, every umpire who has known him, that Walter Johnson is supremely a gentleman. Billy Evans, the famous umpire, says he has called lots of bad balls on Walter without the big fellow so much as murmuring.

Day in and day out he gives his best. And if he wins he wins like a gentleman and if he loses he loses with a smile, without complaint. They make few like Walter Johnson. May the day come when we read that he has won his 500th big league game.

KIDDING CONGRESS.

There are plenty of instances of congressional assiduity, to be sure, but for every stupid act there are ninety and nine cheap jokes, on the stage in newspapers, funny columns, in the humorous magazines.

Many humorists won their way to fame with a few variations of the mother-in-law joke or the traveling salesman joke or others of that ilk. Now it's getting to be so that a congressman, in the vague minds of many of our modern humorists, has become a good peg on which to hang almost any kind of worn-out gag.

Mrs. Florence Prag Kahn, congresswoman from California, believes it's going too far. "This utterly false and misleading chatter, just in a pitiful attempt to be comical, is breeding in our people an utter lack of respect for our government. We need to preach less about that the government should do for the citizen and more of what the citizen should do for the government." It might be well if the country had a sober thought about Congress once in a while, if only for the sake of an original joke or two!

the record for circumnavigation of a little less than $6 0/10, set in 1913 by John Henry Mears, New York Sun reporter. Goldstrom will use steamships, automobiles and airplanes. - If he sets a new mark his name will be printed in the record books.

And a little later on, as sure as shooting, someone will come along and break Goldstrom's record. And there you are.

IN NEW YORK

New York, May 24.—New York attracts all sorts of unique "specialists." For instance there is a "voice surgeon" who has made a considerable fortune "changing voices."

His patients are almost invariably theatrical folk from Broadway seeking to have their "voices lifted." Enter his office any day and you will see the waiting room jammed with stage folk. Here is a young man who feels he is handicapped by a "too feminine" voice.

Glancing over the gallery of autographed pictures with which the walls are plastered, one is astounded to note the number of "favorites" who, not so long ago, were balancing precariously on the rim of success.

There is another "specialist" who takes care of most of the famous "grand opera throats." Most of the great Metropolitan Opera singers are in his charge. No Burbank was ever more watchful of some delicate hot-house plant than is he of his voices that stir audiences the world over.

A million and one little germs and bugs that fill the air compose an army ever ready to attack these, as well as other throats. And there is an entire family of famous "glass eye specialists" to whom folk come from every section of the country.

One, in particular, is an artist who studies the patient's "good eye" and has "sittings" to paint a glass replica, as an artist would paint a portrait. Sittings are made at various stages of the day to get variations in contraction and expansion of the retina, each of which is carefully reproduced.

He tells me that certain very sensitive persons have from ten to a dozen glass eyes to fit various lights and times of day. His success lies in the ability to get exact coloring and lifelike appearance. - GILBERT SWAN.

LOCKED INTO VAULT.

Albany, Ga.—Locked in a cold storage vault all night, Sam H. Marshall, president of an ice cream company, ran to keep from freezing. He was accidentally locked in during an inspection trip.

DAILY ALMANAC

Today is feast day of Sts. Donatian and Rogatian, martyrs who were stretched on the rack at Nantes about 287 A. D. Morse telegraphed his famous message: "What hath God brought?" from Washington to Baltimore, May 24, 1844.

Today is birthday anniversary of Queen Victoria of England.

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTERS

By CHARLES P. STEWART.

Washington, May 24.—We have a very conservative government just now. This isn't a criticism. The government means to be conservative—believes in conservatism.

A conservative administration. A conservative Congress. The judiciary always is predominantly conservative—was originally intended to be.

Very conservative—according to the standards of a liberal of today. But how about a liberal of a third of a century ago? What would he think of present day conditions? Would he say that, in his time, we've progressed or stood still or gone backward?

We can find out. Representative Henry Allen Cooper's a liberal—a member of the progressive Republican group in the lower house. He first came to Congress 33 years ago. He's here yet. He leads the representatives in the number of terms he's served, having missed only one out of the last 17.

Representative Cooper's verdict is the power of concentrated capital is greater today than perhaps at any other time in the world's history.

"There's the danger," continued the old legislator, "that the possessors of this enormous power, in their determination to keep all they've got and to get still more, will give us a bad setback. There's the further danger that they won't meet with adequate resistance."

"Consolidation" so keen, the struggle so severe, to keep body and soul together, that the average man, provided he's doing reasonably well himself, isn't much inclined to do his part toward correcting injustices that don't affect him personally."

There isn't, by the way, a more picturesque personality in Congress than Henry Allen Cooper's. At 76, he's as active and alert as any man in his prime. In appearance he's every inch the old-time statesman, and by no means solely by virtue of the frock coat he wears, either. His face with its neatly trimmed white beard, is a statesman's face. His tall, spare figure, erect as a youth's, is a statesman's figure.

Radicalism—the progressives are supposed to be radicals—generally wanes with accumulating years. Seventy-six isn't often an age for such enthusiasms. However, it so happens that Congressman Cooper isn't old at 76 and I shouldn't have called him so. Critics are in the habit of saying that this Congress is a pretty mediocre bunch but of course they have to make a few exceptions. Henry Allen Cooper invariably is among said exceptions. Congressman Cooper distinctly stands out, in Congress or anywhere.

"For Heaven's sake!"—See Harold Lloyd at State Theater now! Adv.

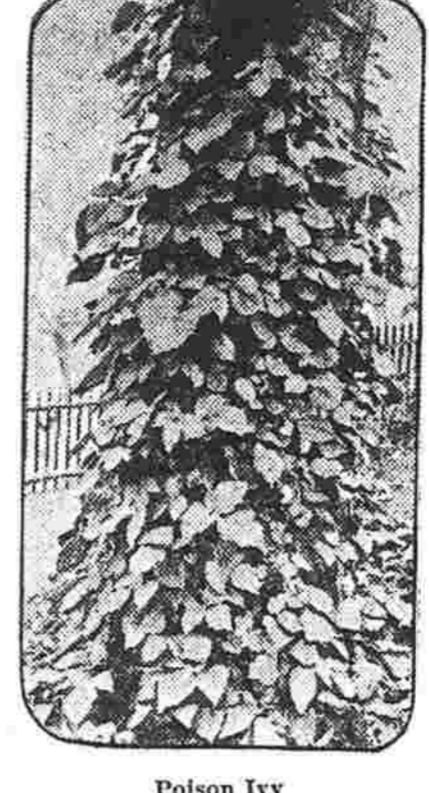

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

BY ARTHUR N. PACK

Poison Ivy is common and the American people long have known its deadly qualities. Yet it is surprising how many persons do not know it, or else thoughtlessly expose themselves.

Few people have not heard that the deadly ivy has three leaflets and the harmless Virginia creeper or woodbine has five. But this, of course, tells only part of the story. There are many other leaved plants and, unless one knows some of them as well as the ivy, or is in particular fear of it, the distinction is easily forgotten.

Experts tell us that the poison must run its course, but the pain and discomfort may be lessened by repeated washings with warm water and soap. A lotion made of one part grindelia, which may be

Poison Ivy

Send a stamped addressed envelope and questions of fact having to do with nature will be answered by the consulting staff of Nature Magazine of Washington through arrangements made with this paper.

How to Care for One Stricken With Heat Or Heat Cramps

BY DR. HUGH S. CUMMING

death may occur in 24 hours or the temperature may drop, consciousness may return, and the patient may recover. In heat prostration the surface of the body is cold, the pulse rapid and variable and there is a feeling as of senescence.

There may be only slight faintness and nausea and under prompt treatment the patient may rapidly recover, but remember that cases of heat prostration are also serious. There may be a complete loss of consciousness and a rapid and fatal termination from exhaustion.

Heat cramps are extremely painful, painful enough to cause the patient to cry out. Headache is frequent. In some cases the patient becomes unconscious and the convulsions resemble those of epilepsy. An attack of heat cramps may last from 12 to 24 hours and even after the patient becomes quiet a slight stimulation such as a draft or a sudden movement. The muscles are sore and the patient is usually weak and listless for several days following heat cramps.

In cases of heat stroke, you should realize the importance of summoning a physician at once. The temperature of the body should be reduced as rapidly as possible. The patient should be placed in a cold water bath and ice should be added; it is sometimes advisable to rub the body with blocks of ice, and to apply ice water with ice caps to the head.

This treatment should be continued until the temperature, as shown by the thermometer is reduced to 100 degrees Fahrenheit. If the temperature rises again the treatment should be repeated. No time should be lost. First send for the doctor and, second, make every effort with cold water and ice to bring body temperature down.

If symptoms of exhaustion follow the reduction of temperature, a physician should be in attendance so the proper stimulant may be given. You should not attempt to administer stimulants. They should be given only by someone skilled in their use.

DAILY POEM

UNFAIR Man wants a girl with winning smile and wondrous disposition; a girl who always togs in style, perhaps by intuition. He pleurges eyes that twinkle bright and never shed a tear. He craves a miss with spirit light, that deals in naught but cheer.

His type of maid is one who lets no sadder tears drift by who laughs at them in ad of frets— never baw an eye. She looks the world square in the face, and stands above the crowd. The girl kind, fake him proud. And that's just where the thing's unfair. A man's demands are high, but does he always seem to care or even pretend to try to make himself the self-made man who has good points to burn? Too seldom does he stop to scan what she gets in return.

FIND MORE FRAUDS WORKING THE TOWN

Solicitors for Questionable Charity Reported Seeking Funds Here.

(This is the twelfth article on fraudulent solicitors prepared by the Chamber of Commerce for The Herald.)

The developments during the past week in the Chamber of Commerce investigation of fraudulent charity solicitations develops the fact that the great majority of them are still running true to form and that anyone who contributes to a call for an unknown charity is pretty certain to be the victim of misrepresentation or downright fraud.

Two cases in point are the Commonwealth Rescue League, the solicitors of which have been reported by two different individuals in Manchester. The appearance of literature which they are putting out should prejudice any person against them as it is about on a par with that issued by school children for their back yard vacation-time "pin" shows and amateur circuses. Nevertheless they are collecting money as the Manchester Chamber of Commerce reports that they have been doing business under various names for some years.

They represent themselves as "A Christian Missionary League founded to aid needy underprivileged Mothers, Children and Families. Sewing day and night to give a needed comfort to any worthy call."

Col. Walter E. Stearns of 179 1/2 Chandler street, seems to be the guiding spirit and it is reported that they do give out a few baskets of food at Thanksgiving and Christmas but that they are not under the supervision of any board or body of men. It is reported that the amount of money which finds its way into charity channels is not sufficient to entitle them to public support.

In their solicitations in Manchester they were reported to have claimed to be promoting a boys' camp at Niantic, but when this claim was investigated it proved to be entirely without foundation and Stearns is reported to be a person entirely unfit to conduct a camp.

The local chamber now has the matter under investigation with the Worcester Chamber and the Worcester police department. The second project has to do with the Florida Normal and Industrial Institute, St. Augustine, Florida. These people use the mails exclusively in their solicitations, sending out a cheap multigraphed letter so phrased as to arouse the sympathy of the recipient in favor of a young colored girl "whose case appeals to my mother's heart."

These letters are signed by Mrs. W. C. King who signs herself as former president of the Fortnightly club, Springfield, Mass. Accompanying this letter is a little black book in which are written twelve or fifteen names with amounts from one to ten dollars set against them. Mr. W. C. King and Mrs. W. C. King lead the book with ten and five dollars set against their names respectively and their names are followed by those of an ex-mayor of Springfield, the Mayor of Springfield and a Massachusetts State Senator. The particular book in question which came to the Chamber of Commerce with an anonymous letter has the names of three women in this community with various amounts set against them indicating that they have contributed money.

The Springfield Better Business Bureau when appealed to advised that they had had numerous inquiries from various sections of New England. The form letter is always the same and since 1921 this young colored girl whose name is quoted in the letter, has just lost her father and mother leaving her as the oldest of six children the full burden of whose support rests upon her shoulders and the appeal is for funds to keep her in school to fit her for the battle of life.

Mrs. King states in her opening paragraph that she is "recuperating for a time in the land of sunshine, where winter spends the summer," and that she has "undertaken to raise through small tributes the necessary amount for a year's schooling."

Inasmuch as this same letter has been circulated for five years without change in any particular, and that one lady in Greenfield received three books in all of which her name was written as a subscriber and when she had never subscribed and that none of the signatures in any of the books which have come to the attention of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce were the signatures of the mayor, ex-mayor, or State Senator, it is evident that this places this scheme so palpably in the fraud class that the wonder is that the postal authorities have not suppressed it before this time.

The local chamber now has the matter up with the Chamber of Commerce at St. Augustine and intends to lay the matter before the postal authorities unless some definite assurance of their cessation of activities is received.

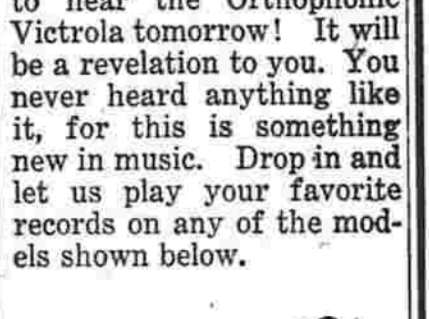

The Manchester Chamber of Commerce renews its suggestion that anyone approached by solicitors for an unknown charity or receiving appeals through the mail should not perfectly familiar refer them directly to the Chamber of Commerce. If they are legitimate and worthy, they will be so reported, and in the event of their being fraudulent or questionable, the chamber will save you money.

COWCATCHERS ON AUTOS

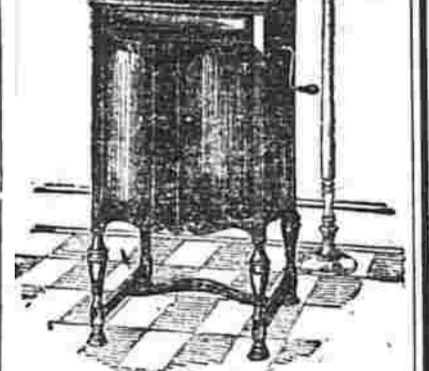

London.—Cowcatchers like those used on American railroad engines are being introduced on automobiles here as a safety device.

we want you—to hear the Orthophonic Victrola tomorrow! It will be a revelation to you. You never heard anything like it, for this is something new in music. Drop in and let us play your favorite records on any of the models shown below.

The Consolette is the lowest priced Orthophonic made. It has a mahogany case in a Colonial Sheraton design $85.

A popular size Orthophonic is the Colony, shown above. Finished in two tone mahogany with maple overlays $110.

The Granada is a console type Orthophonic Victrola in Spanish design. Finished in two-tone mahogany $160.

With electric motor, $195.

The Orthophonic Victrola in its highest development—the Credenza model shown above. Italian in design. Walnut or mahogany case $300.

With electric motor, $395.

Not an Orthophonic but a genuine Victrola for the summer home or whenever you need a light, portable machine. $17.50

WATKINS BROTHERS

Going Up in the World

ON THE AIR

6 P. M.
 WRNY (255) New York—Variety.
 WENR (266) Chicago—Concert.
 WLS (345) Chicago—Markets; organ; orchestra.
 WWJ (353) Detroit—Concert.
 WJJD (370) Mooseheart, Ill.—Concert.
 WTAM (389) Cleveland—Orchestra.
 WMAQ (447) Chicago—Organ; orchestra.
 WEAF (492) New York—Columbia University lecture; Edgar Green, baritone; "The Lullaby Lady."
 WIP (505) Philadelphia—Orchestra.
 WCX (517) Detroit—Orchestra.

7 P. M.
 WBAL (246) Baltimore—Orchestra; Sandman circle.
 WRNY (255) New York—Orchestra; amateur period.
 WCAU (278) Philadelphia—Variety.
 WRIO (285) Lansing, Mich.—Concert.
 WBZ (333) Springfield, Mass.—Orchestra; organ.
 WTAM (389) Cleveland—Baseball; orchestra.
 WCAE (461) Pittsburgh—Studio.
 WEAF (492) New York—Vocal and instrumental.
 WOO (508) Philadelphia—Organ; address.
 WJR (517) Detroit—Orchestra.
 WOAW (526) Omaha—Sports talk; popular songs.

8 P. M.
 WBAL (246) Baltimore—Vocal and instrumental.
 WRNY (255) New York—Talk; musical varieties.
 KFNZ (256) Shenandoah—Orchestra.
 WENR (266) Chicago—Popular.
 WCAU (278) Philadelphia—Minstrel; vocal.
 WSM (283) Nashville—Orchestra; bedtime story.
 KOA (322) Denver—Markets; concert.
 WBZ (333) Springfield, Mass.—Studio.
 WNY (379) Schenectady, N. Y.—Orchestra.
 WTAM (389) Cleveland—Orchestra.
 WLIT (395) Philadelphia—Theater program.
 WLW (422) Cincinnati—Little Symphony orchestra.
 WJZ (455) New York—Orchestra.
 WCAE (461) Pittsburgh—Concert.
 WTIC (476) Hartford, Conn.—Fely Clement; vocal; orchestra.
 WEAF (492) New York—Gypsies. To WJAR (306), WWJ (353), WCAP (469), WEEI (476), WOO (508).
 WCX (517) Detroit—Orchestra.

9 P. M.
 WBAL (246) Baltimore—Talk; musical.
 WCAU (278) Philadelphia—Bits from famous plays.
 KDKA (309) Pittsburgh—Light opera.
 WWJ (353) Detroit—Orchestra.
 KGO (361) Oakland, Calif.—Concert.
 WDAF (366) Kansas City—Play.
 WTAM (389) Cleveland—Studio.
 WLIT (395) Philadelphia—Theater program.
 WCO (416) St. Paul—Minneapolis—U. of Minneapolis program.
 WLW (422) Cincinnati—Orchestra.
 WEAF (492) New York—Grand Opera, Les Pecheurs Des Perles.
 To WTAG (268), WJAR (306), WTIC (395), WCAE (461), WCAP (469), WOO (508), KSD (545).
 KGW (491) Portland—Concert.
 WJR (517) Detroit—Orchestra.
 10 p. m.
 WBAL (246) Baltimore—Ensemble.
 WRVA (256) Richmond, Va.—Features.
 WRNY (255) New York—Play, "The Light."
 KKNF (288) Hastings, Neb.—Musical.
 KPRC (287) Houston—Concert.
 KSL (300) Salt Lake City—Musical.
 KOA (322) Denver—Musical varieties.
 KNX (337) Los Angeles—Features.
 KFAB (341) Lincoln, Neb.—Orchestra.
 KTHS (375) Hot Springs, Ark.—Musical.
 WTAM (389) Cleveland—Solo hour.
 WLIT (395) Philadelphia—Orchestra.
 WCCO (416) St. Paul—Minneapolis—Musical selections.
 WLW (422) Cincinnati—Dance music.
 KPO (428) San Francisco—Orchestra.
 WJZ (455) New York—Revelry.
 WCAE (461) Pittsburgh—Orchestra.
 WTIC (476) Hartford, Conn.—Orchestra.
 WEAF (492) New York—Ben Berns and orchestra.
 WOO (508) Philadelphia—Orchestra.
 WOAW (526) Omaha, Neb.—Classical.

11 P. M.
 WRVA (256) Richmond, Va.—Orchestra.
 WSM (283) Nashville—Orchestra.
 KFRX (288) Hastings, Neb.—Musical.
 KSL (300) Salt Lake City—Musical.
 KGO (361) San Francisco—Educational program.
 KTHS (375) Hot Springs, Ark.—Vocal organ.
 WTAM (389) Cleveland—Orchestra.
 KPO (428) San Francisco—Orchestra.
 WJZ (455) New York—Musical.
 KGW (491) Portland, Ore.—Vocal and instrumental.

12 P. M.
 KNX (337) Los Angeles—Musical.
 KGO (361) Oakland, Calif.—Variety.
 KPO (428) San Francisco—Orchestra.
 WCAE (461) Pittsburgh—Orchestra.
 KGW (491) Portland, Ore.—Vaudeville.
 WHO (526) Des Moines—Organ.
 1 A. M.
 KNX (337) Los Angeles—Orchestra.
 WDAF (366) Kansas City—Folle.
 KPO (428) San Francisco—Orchestra.
 KGW (491) Portland, Ore.—Orchestra.

WTIC
 Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn. 407.

Tonight's Program. Eastern Standard Time.

5.30 p. m.—Children's Period—"Mother Goose—The Children's Entertainer."
 5.50 p. m.—Dinner Concert—Moe Blumenthal's Hub Restaurant Trio: Beethoven March Militaire... Schubert Nocturne from "Midsummer Night's Dream" Mendelssohn Serenade... Drdia Minuet in G... Beethoven Prelude... Rachmaninoff Popular Waltz: Ting-a-ling. Request Popular Period.
 6.30 p. m.—Announcements and Police Report.
 7.15 p. m.—Father Matthew Fife and Drum Corps.
 7.30 p. m.—Capitol Theater Orchestra conducted by Bill Jones.
 7.45 p. m.—"Maine in the Summer" Clarence C. Stetson.
 8.00 p. m.—A. All American Program—the third of Madame Fely Clement's series of concerts. May Morning... Denza Body and Soul... Kramer By a Lonely Forest Pathway... Griffes The Year's at the Spring... Beach Under the Greenwood Tree... Osborne Fugitive... Herreshoff Mighty Let a Rose... Nevin The Last Song... Rogers

HALE'S SELF-SERVE GROCERY

IT PAYS TO WAIT ON YOURSELF

Special for Tuesday
 Sunmaid Seedless Raisins 11½¢ pkg. 15 ounce package.
 Rinso 19¢ pkg. Large package.
 Pineapples 15¢ each Now is the time to can pineapples. Special price by the crate.
 Sunbeam Macaroni and Spaghetti, 3 pkgs. 25¢
 Sunbeam Beets 25¢ jar In glass jars. Cut in cube shape.
 Republic Tunafish 19¢ can Light meat.
 Baldwin Apples 75¢ 14 qt. basket For pies. 25¢ 4 qt. basket

Genuine SCOTCH The Malt That's All Cream. Ask for it by name. Insist on this brand. You've tried the rest Now taste the best.

Blend Red-Y-Mix (no cook)
 Stout Wurtzburger Double Strength Light Porter

HALE'S HEALTH MARKET

Pork Chops 32¢ lb.
 Native Veal Chops 38¢ lb.
 Hale's Sausage Meat 25¢ lb.
 Lamb Patties 2 for 25¢
 Brisket Corned Beef 22¢ lb.
 Rib Corned Beef 10¢ lb.

WAPPING
 The three act play—"Always in Trouble", given by members of Wapping Grange last Friday evening, proved to be a fine success. Following is the cast of characters: Misery Moon, a hoodooed Coon... Walden Collins Gideon Blair, a millionaire... Alfred Stone Tom Rissie, as sick as a whistle... Franklin Welles Hiram Tutt, a miser... Robert Newcomb Patrick Keller, a ticket seller... Ralph Collins Samantha Slade, a poor old maid... Miriam Welles Rosebud Reese, her charming niece... Dorothy Marshall Paula Maleck, a Bolshevik... Irene Buckland Lulu Pearl, a ragtime girl... Clara Chandler Mrs. George Hills, was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Merritt, of West Hartford, the first of the week.
 Miss Etta Stoughton entertained the Federated Workers at her home, on Friday afternoon. There were present, twenty seven ladies. Mrs. Marion Pierce was assistant hostess.
 Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Alford have moved from their home here which they sold recently to Hartford. They went last Saturday.
 Mrs. Wilbur C. Hills had as her guests on Thursday, Mrs. Ward Grant and her niece, Mrs. Edward Ballsieper Jr. and daughter, Elsie.

Watch Your Frail, Puny Child Grow Strong Take on Weight
 In just a few days—quicker than you ever dreamt of—these wonderful flesh making tablets called McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets will start to help your weak, thin, under-nourished little one. After sickness and where rickets are suspected they are especially valuable. No need to give them any more nasty Cod Liver Oil. These tablets are made to take the place of that good but evil smelling, stomach upsetting medicine and they surely do it. They do put on flesh.
 Ask your druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—as easy to take as candy and not at all expensive—60 tablets 60 cents. Be sure and get McCoy's, the original and genuine and give the child a chance for 30 days. If you aren't delighted with results just get your money back.—Adv.

COVENTRY
 Thursday of this week will be general clean up day both inside and outside of church and chapel. Men are urged to come and help also. Come prepared to work. Lunch will be served to all the workers.
 Friday evening the regular

EYE TESTING
 by the latest scientific methods.
GLASSES FITTED
H. L. Wilson
 Optometrist.
 House & Hale Building

WAPPING
 Christian Endeavor business meeting and social will be held at the chapel at 8 P. M. All the ladies are to bring a May basket with lunch for two. These will be auctioned off.
 Saturday the Boys' Forestry and Woodcraft club will meet at 9:30 A. M. at the parsonage. Boys living near the parsonage will meet at 9 A. M.
 Bryon Hall led the Christian Endeavor last evening.
 June 2 the Tolland County Council of Religious Institute will meet here. The Junjr boys and girls will help serve the luncheon.
 Rev. Mr. Johnson of South Coventry Congregational church exchanged pulpits with Rev. J. N. Zilwood yesterday.
 Miss Ruth Taylor of Hartford spent the week-end at home with her mother, Mrs. A. B. Porter.
 Miss Doris Gowdy of Hartford spent the week-end at home.
 Miss Gladys Orcutt of Manchester spent the week-end at home.
 Miss Eunice Pike of Danclison is visiting her aunt, Mrs. H. B. Pomeroy.
 Lawrence Hill of Rockville was home over the week-end.
 Miss M'elaine F. Roberts of Winsted spent the week-end with Miss Gladys Orcutt.
 The body of Mrs. Bingham Barrows Grant was brought here Saturday from Green, R. I. Burial was in the Center cemetery.
 The Older Girls' Conference will be held June 4 and 5 at Rockville.
 Graduation will be held in the Second Congregational church June 8.
 Mr. Robert Adhens of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., James Bennett of Harrison, N. Y., and Arthur Heck from Bronx, N. Y., motored up and spent the week-end with Mrs. Arthur B. Porter.
 Miss Gertrude Anderson of Hartford spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson.
 Mr. and Mrs. William Christman and son spent Sunday with Mrs. Christman's grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Geisecke.

COVENTRY
 Thursday of this week will be general clean up day both inside and outside of church and chapel. Men are urged to come and help also. Come prepared to work. Lunch will be served to all the workers.
 Friday evening the regular

EYE TESTING
 by the latest scientific methods.
GLASSES FITTED
H. L. Wilson
 Optometrist.
 House & Hale Building

TWO FEATURES TODAY AT CIRCLE THEATER
 Buck Jones in "The Fighting Buckaroo," the latest Fox Films production which will appear at the Circle theater tomorrow and Wednesday, takes full advantage of the wide possibilities in this vivid picture.
 From the minute the buckaroo leaves the steamer gangplank on his return to the United States until he arrives at his Arizona ranch he is racing or fighting for a girl and a gold mine.
 Sally Long has the role of Betty Gregory the society girl who owns the ranch where the mine has been located. Frank Butler has the part of Percy Wellington, an English friend of the buckaroo.
 The trial from the steamer dock to the ranch leads through a fashionable hotel where the Englishman's effort to introduce the buckaroo to the girl results in a fight with Glenmore Bradshaw and thugs whom he has hired to block the Arizona's return to the ranch. The Buckaroo eludes the police and after other escapades, en route, he saves the girl's jewels from the thugs and on a hand cart they dash into the office of an Arizona attorney just in time to save the ranch and the mine.
 The other feature with "The Fighting Buckaroo" will be Johnny Harmon in "The Gilded Highway." For today, the Circle presents a double feature bill. Clara Bow in "The Shadow of the Law," and Matt Moore and Ruth Roland in "Where the Worst Begins."

WALK 10,000 MILES.
 Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Mrs. Martha C. Classon and her three children have arrived here on a 10,000-mile walk in search of Mr. Classon, who disappeared seven years ago. They are returning to Omaha, Neb. having found no trace of him.

OPEN FORUM
 A LETTER OF THANKS.
 Editor, The Herald.
 No one could feel better than my humble self toward the splendid co-operation of the people, merchants and business men of Manchester in making the First Anniversary of the State Theatre and Community Week a distinct success and I am sure it was a success for all of us.
 My thanks goes out wholeheartedly to you who have made a newcomer to your town feel so welcome by your unstinted help. It is no flourish to say that never before have I had such spontaneous, enthusiastic co-operation as I have so pleasantly received at your hands.
 Yours sincerely,
JACK SANSON,
 Manager State Theatre.

WALK 10,000 MILES.
 Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Mrs. Martha C. Classon and her three children have arrived here on a 10,000-mile walk in search of Mr. Classon, who disappeared seven years ago. They are returning to Omaha, Neb. having found no trace of him.

GREASE YOUR CAR
 New Air Method Reaches Every Spot Springs and Body Squeak sprayed with Kantrust.
 Cars Called for and Delivered
Campbell's Filling Station
 Main and Middle Turnpike. Phone 1551.

Trucking
 Furniture and Piano Moving—Long and Short Hauls.
 All Kinds Heavy Trucking, PLOWING — Ashes Moved.
Archie Hayes
 Liveryman
 Rear 829 Main St. Phone 1113

DR. M. H. SQUIRES
 CHIROPRACTOR
 Chiropractic and Electric Treatments
 Selwitz Block. South Manchester. Telephone 487-2.

HARTFORD KNOEK'S HARTFORD
Last Days at 188 State St.
 Headquarters for Camping Outfits

The Store of Supreme Values

Folding Camp Cots
 No. 3 Imported Cloth $3.00
 No. XX Olive Drab Cloth $3.50
 No. 1 Olive Drab Duck Cloth $5.00
 CABLE STEEL COTS $5.00

Hed-room Tents "Shure Dry"
 Two Sizes
 9½x7 ft. Price Without Awning $36.50
 12x7 ft. Price Without Awning $39.00
 Awnings Extra $8.00

Rag Rugs
 For Every Use Special
 Size Price
 18x36 59¢
 24x48 79¢
 27x54 89¢

Columbia Family Scales
 Made by Landers, Frary & Clark
SPECIAL $1.00

Charter Oak Hand Drills $1.39
 Sets of 9 Drills to fit 39¢
 9-inch Charter Oak Smooth Planes $1.85

Isis Polish Can't Be Beaten 69¢
Splitdorf Half Dollar Spark Plug Fits All Cars 39¢

Hedge Shears
 6-inch, Ladies', Special 98¢
 8-inch, Men's, Notched $1.69
 4-inch Enclosed Gear Grinders $1.19
 7-inch Klein Pattern Insulated Pliers 79¢
 24 and 26-inch Union or Crown Hand Saws $1.00
 White Beauty Crumb Tray and Scraper 39¢

Camp Chairs, Stools, Etc.
 No. 72 Camp Stools 75¢
 No. 82 Camp Chairs $1.00
 No. 53 Camp Chairs $5.95
 No. 8 Folding Tables $4.00

Stillson Wrenches
 10-inch Polished 45¢
 14-inch Polished 89¢
 9-inch Combination Squares with Level 89¢
 12-inch Combination Squares with Level $1.00

Blue Streak Can Openers
 Household Size 39¢
 Restaurant Size $1.69

Kitchen Katch-alls
 Keep your kitchen spotless. Special $2.49

Knife and Fork Trays 39¢
 Union Ball-Bearing Roller Skates $1.55
 Heimerdinger Grass Shears $1.10
 Bernard Pruning Shears 89¢

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

HERALD BARGAIN COLUMNS BRING RESULTS

RATE: One cent per word for each insertion. One-half cent per word for each subsequent insertion.

PHONE YOUR ADS.

Telephone your bargain columns to 664 or mail them to The Herald Office. Cash must accompany orders from persons whose names are not on our books.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Good Timothy hay. Tel. 1930-5.

FOR SALE—Three, two years old, also young eggs. Phone 246-2.

FOR SALE—Baby carriage, in good condition. Inquire 39 Lilley street, or phone 1734-2.

FOR SALE—Refrigerator in excellent condition. Inquire at 605 Woodbridge street.

FOR SALE—Three burner oil stove, with oven, in good condition. Inquire at 21 Church street.

FOR SALE—Two used Royal Cleaners in good condition. $10 each. One used Eureka Cleaner with set of attachments, in good condition. $20. Watkins Brothers, Inc. 225 Main street. Phone 500.

FOR SALE—Attractive six-room bungalow on Henry street. Lot 65x135. Garage in basement. Hot water heat. Shrubbery. You should see the interior to appreciate its real value. Inquire 44 Henry street.

FOR SALE—Selling out household goods, gas stove, brass bed, dining room table, kitchen table, desk, kitchen cabinet. Telephone 1174-2.

FOR SALE—A business harness in good condition. Apply to E. J. Kneiff, 45 East Middle Turnpike. Phone 747-4.

FOR SALE—Lawn mower grinder. $75.00. Porterfield, 65 Spruce street.

FOR SALE—Delicately showpiece, counter, scales and small appliances, clean if taken at once. Apply Quality Bakery, 851 Main street.

FOR SALE—One million vegetable and flower plants, tomatoes 15c dozen, $1.00 hundred, $2.00 and $2.25. Cabbages, 15c dozen, $1.00 a hundred, $2.00 a thousand, $2.00. Spinach, $1.00 a hundred, $2.00 a thousand. Strawflowers, English Daisies and Sweet Williams for 25c per dozen. Hollyhocks, Canterbury Bells, Fox Glove, Hardy Carnations and Coreopsis for 15c each. Geraniums, Dracena, Fuchsia, Vinca, Unea, English Ivy, German Ivy, Seent Geraniums, Coleus, Cannas, Heliotrope, Ageratum, Begonia, Lettuce, Cabbage, Hydrangea, California Privet and Barberry. Phone Laurel 1610. Burnside avenue, Greenhouse, Station 27, East Hartford.

FOR SALE—Extra choice Maine seed potatoes $1.50 for 2 bushel bags. Fertilizer $2.75, $3.00 and $3.25. Manchester Green Store, Phone 74.

FOR SALE—Concrete flower urns for lawns and cemetery, also flower boxes for porch. 416 Center street. Tel. 241.

FOR SALE—Stewart Combination coal and gas stove. Inquire 229 Main street.

FOR SALE—Flower plants: everything with having in annuals and hardy plants, including hedges, Calceolarias, flowering shrubs, rose bushes, evergreens and spring bulbs. Also tomato, pepper, lettuce and strawberry plants, wholesale and retail. Wayside Gardens, near Rockville. E. J. Burke, Proprietor. Telephone connection.

FOR SALE—Tomato, celery, pepper, cabbage, cauliflower and egg plants, also asst. salvia. Tel. 37-3, 621 Hartford I. ad.

FOR SALE—Farm, about 28 acres, 10 acres early bearing land, rest in pasture and woods. All kinds of fruit. Seven rooms, new house with all improvements, occupied at present; some stock and tools; 3 miles from Manchester Center, one mile from railroad. Would exchange for town property. Address Farm, in care of South Herald office.

FOR SALE—Gladiolus. Finest flowering bulbs. New prices list now ready. Ask for your copy. Marshall, 674 E. Middle Turnpike, Manchester Green. Tel. 1090.

REAL ESTATE

All year or summer place, near Crystal Lake, Ellington, Conn. Good 5 room house, 2 1/2 acres, 100 ft. front porch. Garage, 6000 water, 3 acres land with fruit. $13,000. 20 acre large hardwood growth on highway. Troy Brook, 3555 W. D. Bramble, Palmer, Mass. Tel. 32-3.

FLORENCE STREET—Two family practically new, of ten rooms, or will trade for single in good location. Wallace D. Robb, 853 Main street.

FOR SALE—Cosy five room bungalow $500 down, well located, in first-class condition. Write or call up E. Lewis, for full description, price and location.

FOR SALE—Just off Main street, new 5 room single. A nice home, only $2000. Small amount of cash. Call Arthur A. Knoffa, Tel. 752-2—875 Main.

VEST SIDE—Single six room strictly modern, new, and the price is only $2700. Small amount of cash. Wallace D. Robb, 853 Main street.

FOR SALE—Hawthorne street. New home of six rooms, nice layout, oak floors and trim. Price only $6000. Cash $1000. Call me for appointment to inspect. Arthur A. Knoffa, Tel. 752-2—875 Main.

MAIN STREET—Just North of Center, dandy two family twelve room house, strictly modern, a real home. Price and location call Wallace D. Robb, 853 Main street.

FOR SALE—Ridge street. Six room single corner lot, house has hot water heat, oak trim, and is in good shape, two car garage. Price only $7500. Cash $1500. See Arthur A. Knoffa, Telephone 752-2, 875 Main street.

BIRCH STREET—Two houses of two families each, modern, 200 feet from Main street. Income $1084 a year and the price is only $2500. Party left town. Must be sold immediately. Wallace D. Robb, 853 Main street.

FOR SALE—Fine home containing 6 rooms, all improvements, finished in oak, lovely surroundings, very nice neighborhood. A home you will be proud to own. Buy direct from builder, situated at 250 Woodbridge street.

FOR SALE—School street, single home of seven rooms, with extra building lot, at a very reasonable price of $7500. Terms, See Arthur A. Knoffa, Telephone 752-2, 875 Main street.

REAL ESTATE

WEST CENTER STREET—On trolley, eight room house for either owner or family, strictly modern, over acre of land, plenty of fruit, two car garage. Price $13,000 for quick sale. Wallace D. Robb, 853 Main street.

MANCHESTER GREEN SECTION: New six room bungalow, strictly modern, oak trim, throughout, 1 1/2 acre of land, more if desired. Price reasonable, easy terms. B. H. Johnson, Tel. 629-5.

SCHOOL STREET—Seven room single, strictly modern, for quick sale $7,000. Wallace D. Robb, 853 Main street.

FOR SALE—On Lydall street, new modern single home, 4 rooms and bath, oak floors throughout, 1 1/2 acre of land, more if desired. Price reasonable, easy terms. B. H. Johnson, Tel. 629-5.

FOR SALE—Greenhill street, beautiful home of six rooms, reception hall and sun room, has fire place, oak floor and trim, central heat, two car garage, and beautiful high elevation. Call Arthur A. Knoffa.

FOR SALE—Washington street, a dandy building lot, $500 down, 3 years to pay the balance, lot has 2 1/2 acres and sewer in front of it. Call Arthur A. Knoffa, telephone 192-2, 875 Main street.

FOR SALE—New six room house, just off East Center street, oak floors and trim. Price $6,900. Terms, See Arthur A. Knoffa, telephone 752-2, 875 Main street.

FOR SALE—East Middle Turnpike, right near Main street, new six room single, oak trim, fireplace, steam heat, silver fixtures, sink, garage, a cellar for two cars. A nice home in the right location at a low price. Can be seen at any time. Walter Fricke, 54 East Middle Turnpike, Tel. 345-4.

MORTGAGES

We can invest money for you in first class mortgages. Do you need a mortgage? If so, we can place it for you. Arthur A. Knoffa, Telephone 752-2, 875 Main street.

WANTED—Second and third mortgages. More money on hand. F. D. Comollo, 13 Oak street, Telephone 1540.

TO RENT

TO RENT—After June first, 3 room flat with bath, just below the Center. Apply at 13 Lilley street. Phone 395-12.

TO RENT—Five room tenement with all improvements, small family. Call G. E. Keith, 203 Main street, or telephone 50.

FOR RENT—After June 1st, five room tenement, upstairs, all improvements. Inquire at 11 Church street or telephone 282.

FOR RENT—Tenement of four nice rooms on Kenney Court. Apply to Manchester Public Market.

FOR RENT—Five room flat, modern improvements, 243 Center street, town. Call 1093-3.

FOR RENT—Furnished room for one gentleman, in private family, five minutes to mills and Main street. Call after 5 p. m., 183 Center street.

TO RENT—Tenement of four rooms in new house. Improvements, 131 Middle street. Call after 5 o'clock, Ready June 1.

FOR RENT—Five-room flat on second floor. Near to schools, mills and trolley, gas, water, electric. Apply at 22 summer street.

FOR RENT—A modern 5 room flat with garage. Reasonable rent. Inquire at 115 North Elm street.

FOR RENT—Pasture for cows. Inquire of Mrs. George F. Hitch, 269 Center street, or at 178 Maple street.

FOR RENT—Garage 30x40 with corner display window, good for battery and repairing. $25.00 per month with battery equipment. $30.00. Porterfield, Spruce and Pearl streets.

TO RENT—Five room tenement, all modern improvements. Steam heat. Rent reasonable for right party. Inquire June 1st. Inquire at 178 Maple street.

TO RENT—Six room tenement. Inquire 416 Center street. Tel. 341.

TO RENT—Six room house at 224 Oak street. All improvements, and garage. Telephone 654-2.

FOR RENT—Two large front office rooms in Purnell Building, large rooms, all conveniences, reasonable rent. Apply to G. E. Keith, in care of Keith Furniture Co.

FOR RENT—On the West Side, right off West Center street, six room tenement, bath, steam heat. Call at 18 Foley street. Telephone 445-12.

FOR RENT—Five room flat, all improvements, downstairs, on trolley line, available June 1st. Apply to Harrison's store, 528 Center street.

TO RENT—Heated apartment, three nice large rooms, bath, gas, etc. over a large front office room. Inquire at 181 only $25.00 a month. Robert J. Smith.

FOR RENT—Large room suitable for two gentlemen. Board furnished if desired. Inquire 65 Park street.

TO RENT—Four room flat, second floor. Gas, laundry, fire, bathtub, electric lights, garage if you wish. Inquire D. F. Thibodeau, 36 Clinton street.

FOR RENT—Five room, second floor flat in Greenacres. Available May 15th. Apply at The Home Bank & Trust Co., 805 Main street.

TO RENT—Single house at 55 Summit street, 6 rooms, $15. Apply to J. Ackerman, 902 Main street, Hartford. Phone 2-1659, evenings, 2-0951.

FOR RENT—Three room suite in new Johnson Block, facing Main street. All modern improvements, including hot water. Apply to Aaron Johnson, 62 Linden street.

IVANHOE— Sir Walter Scott's Classic in Pictorial Form

THE STORY THUS FAR—The scene is the England of Richard I. A party of knights, en route to a tournament, visits Cedric the Saxon and their leader, Brian the Templar, becomes enamored of Cedric's ward Rowena. One of the party, disguised as a palmer or wandering friar, wins the tournament and crowns Rowena queen of love and beauty. He then removes his helmet and it is seen that he is

IVANHOE, Cedric's disinherited son. A strange knight in black armor who helped him win the passage at arms, wanders through the forest and saps with a Friar Tuck, of Robin Hood's band, in a lonely hut. This knight is really King Richard, disguised while he marshals his forces against his usurping brother, Prince John, who thinks him in the Holy Land. As the two sit in the hut they are joined by Robin

—By Redner

Hood in disguise. Meanwhile Bois-Guilbert and De Bracy, with other knights, capture Cedric, Rowena, Isaac, a Jewish money changer, and his daughter, Rebecca. Bois-Guilbert threatens to kill the prisoners and the Black Knight and Ivanhoe arrived to besiege the castle. Wamba, a jester, enters the castle and changes clothes with Cedric, who escapes.

HE MUST GO BACK NOW TO WHERE IVANHOE FAINTED AT THE THRONE OF ROWENA WHOM HE HAD CHOSEN QUEEN OF LOVE AND BEAUTY AT THE TOURNAMENT. IT WAS ISAAC AND REBECCA WHO REMEMBERED THE KINDNESSES THE YOUNG MAN HAD SHOWN THEM, TOOK HIM TO THEIR HOME, NURSED HIM AND THEN DEPARTED WITH THE WOUNDED MAN IN A LIT-TER, TOWARD YORK.

WHEN ISAAC AND REBECCA WERE CAPTURED BY DE BRACY'S MASQUERADING BANDITTI, IVANHOE WAS TAKEN ALONG TO THE CASTLE OF TORQUILSTONE. DE BRACY WAS THE ONLY ONE WHO LEARNED IVANHOE'S IDENTITY, AND HE HAD TWO SQUIRES ATTEND THE WOUNDED MAN WITHIN THE CASTLE.

ON LEARNING THAT THE FORCE OUTSIDE THE CASTLE NUMBERED 500 MEN, FRONT-DE-BOUFF COMMANDED ALL DEFENDERS TO THE BATTLEMENTS. MEANWHILE THE TOWERING PLUME OF THE BLACK KNIGHT COULD BE SEEN DIRECTING THE WORK OF THE BESIEGERS, AND THE DEFENDERS WERE HURRIED WITH HIS APPARENT KNOWLEDGE OF PROPER WARFARE.

REBECCA HAD GONE TO IVANHOE'S CHAMBER IN THE CASTLE, ADMINISTERING TO THE WOUNDED KNIGHT. WHEN THE BATTLE BEGAN, FROM A WINDOW SHE DESCRIBED IT TO HIM. "UNDER WHAT DO THEY ADVANCE?" SHE ASKED. "NONE," SHE ANSWERED. "THERE IS A KNIGHT MOST CONSPICUOUS WHO BEARS ON HIS SHIELD A BAR OF IRON AND A BLUE PADDLE."

TO RENT

FOR RENT—Room on East Center street, near Center. Telephone 2193.

TO RENT—Several small flats at $25 per month. Apply to Edward J. Holl, Orford Bldg., Tel. 630.

FOR RENT—On W. Center street, a new five room flat, all modern improvements. Wm. Kanshl, Tel. 1176.

FOR RENT—Two furnished rooms, and a single room, for light house-keeping. Also three room tenement at 109 Foster street, and a four room tenement on Ridgewood street. Apply at 109 Foster street.

TO RENT—Midland apartments, three rooms, steam heated, janitor service, refrigerator, gas range furnished, rent $38 per month. Call Manchester Construction Co., 2100, or telephone 752-2.

FOR RENT—Five-room tenement on Jurard street, modern, rent $25 per month. Call Manchester Construction Co., 2100, or telephone 752-2.

FOR RENT—Centennial apartments, four rooms, steam heated, front apartment, janitor service, gas range, refrigerator and in-door bed furnished. Call Manchester Construction Co., 2100 or telephone 752-2.

LOST

LOST—Bicycle on West Center street, sometime Friday. Finder please notify Roberts Burr, 502 West Center street. Phone 574-2.

LOST—Lady's Parker fountain pen, engraved M. N. F. Finder telephone 315, Naomi Foster.

FOUND

LOST—Thursday morning, pocket-book containing sum of money, between Campbell's store and the Play ground, Chicago, Illinois. Return to North Herald office.

POULTRY

BABY CHICKS—Bred-to-Lay Poultry Breeds; guaranteed live delivery; free catalogue of chicks, brooders and supplies. Clarke Hatchery, Dept. 22, East Hartford, Conn.

"BABY CHICKS"—Smith Standard sturdy thoroughbred free range flocks. Order now and have your chicks when you want them. Manchester Grain Co., 246 North Main St. Phone 1760.

Legal Notice

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Manchester, within and for the District of Manchester, on the 24th day of May, A. D. 1926.

Present WILLIAM S. HYDE, Esq., Judge.

Estate of Anna Adams, late of Manchester, in said District, deceased.

The executrix having exhibited her administration account with said estate to this Court for allowance, it is ORDERED—that the 29th day of May, A. D. 1926, at 9 o'clock, forenoon, the Probate office, in said Manchester, be and the same is assigned for a hearing on the allowance of said administration account with said estate, and this Court directs the executrix to give public notice to all persons interested therein to appear and be heard thereon by publishing a copy of this order in some newspaper having circulation in said District, on or before May 24th, 1926, and by posting a copy of this order on the public signboard in the town where the deceased last dwelt, six days before said day of hearing and return make to this Court.

WILLIAM S. HYDE, H-5-21-26.

TOM SIMS SAYS

It's so difficult to keep a good man, or a good weed, down.

Pedestrians have the law of the land on their side, but the motorist has the laws of physics.

Most fools are self-made men.

Mother worries about her figure at home while father worries about his figure at the bank.

Spring is when it is even hard to decide what you wish you could do.

Judge gave an Atlantic City man 60 days to learn to tell the truth. Takes most people 60 years.

There ought to be a charge for the fight between the manager, over who is going to fight Dempsey.

Pilsudski heads a new Polish revolution, and his name reminds us of the coming beerless summer.

Sad things about Irving Berlin having a youngster is we all will have to sing each other to sleep.

They served tea in an airplane high over Atlanta, Ga. Getting so a man isn't safe anywhere.

American women spend only $12,000,000,000 annually on clothes.

Estimates give the depth of the ocean at the north pole as over 9000 feet, so let's dump some saxophones there.

Just to add a little space to everyday life, a steamer load of cinnamon arrived at New Orleans.

When son returns home with three of his four fenders he calls it good driving.

It's all right for women to have their fing, but they shouldn't fling off quite so many clothes.

Fifty years ago a man in knickers would have felt just as silly as one does now.

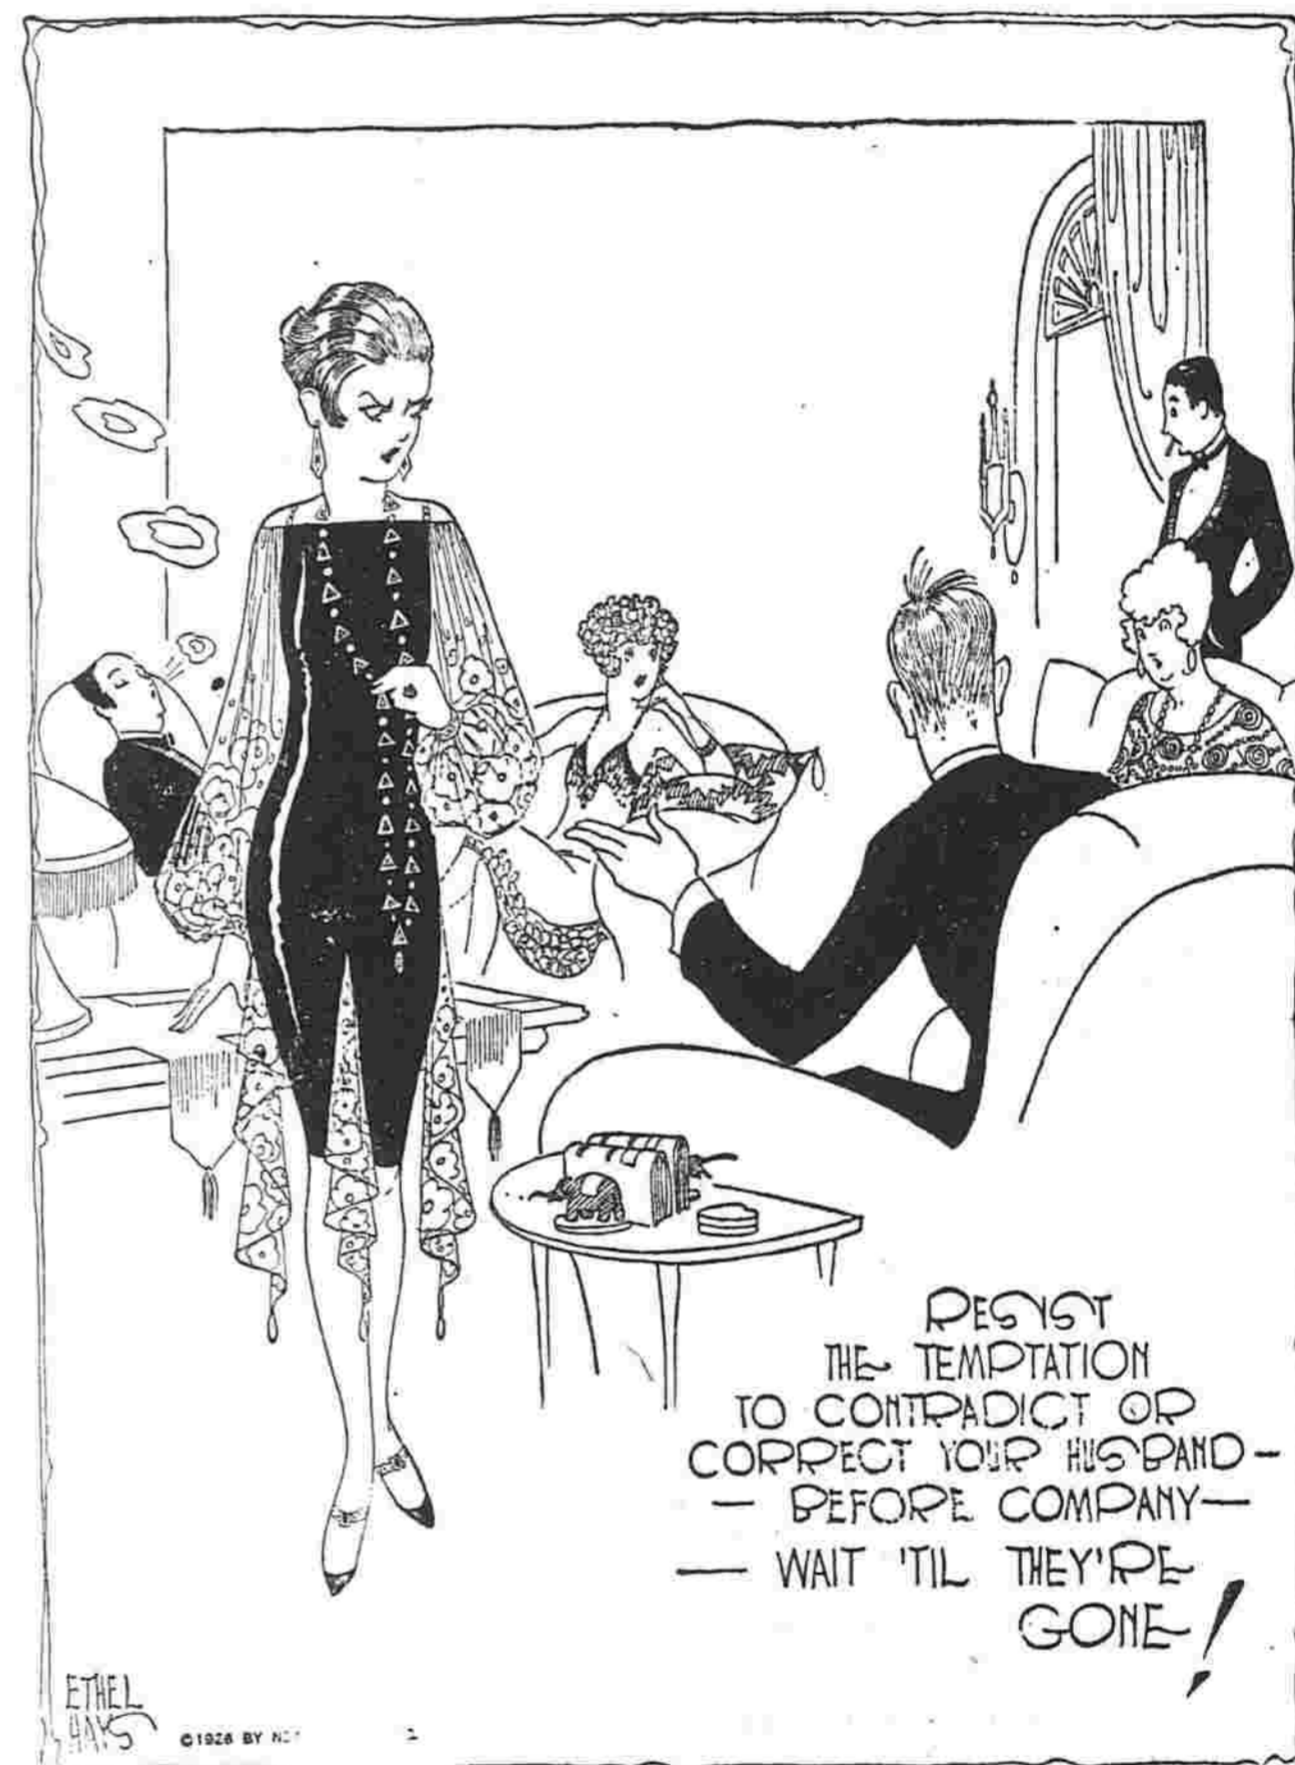

Nice thing about not being famous is you can keep your same wife over from year to year.

Hallstones as large as baseballs may have fallen in Dallas, Tex. Anyway, the people there claim they did.

I pay highest cash prices for your rags, magazines, huddled paper and junk of all kinds. Phone 469-2. I will call. J. Eisenberg.

MANY BRAVE HEARTS ARE ASLEEP IN THE DEEP!

BRIDES BEWARE!

REGISTER THE TEMPTATION TO CONTRADICT OR CORRECT YOUR HUSBAND—BEFORE HIS COMPANY—WAIT 'TIL THEY'RE GONE!

BY CYNTHIA GREY

Some husbands will, all their born days, pronounce "deaf" as though it rhymed with "beef," and wise is the bride who corrects him in the bosom of the home, if at all. Many a home has been wrecked because at that critical moment when the narrating husband tells about how Aunt Lizzie always took an ear trumpet to church because she was deaf, the bride, in accents of shocked surprise, has said: "Dear, you mean 'deaf.'" Then he says "I know what I mean. Aunt Lizzie was DEEF." And there you are! What home could stand the onslaught? Then there's the bride who stops the flowing course of the fishing story to say: "No, dear, it wasn't a speckled trout. It was a bull-head."

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS—

A kiss in the dark is often enlightening. TAKE CARE TO PRODUCE HIGH STANDARD TIRES. Nowhere is more care taken to turn out a finished manufactured product of the highest standard and one that is free from all defects than in the Firestone tire factories at Akron, Ohio, according to David Houser of the Depot Square Service Station. "Not only are carefully skilled workmen employed," the dealer said, "and the best quality material used, but the tires are rigidly inspected through every manufacturing process to insure a finished product that meets the most exacting standards. "Chemists and engineers carefully analyze the materials that go into each Firestone tire. The rubber is tested for the qualities of abrasion, adhesion, elasticity, toughness and tension. The cord fabric is tested for the breaking point, imperfections and weight. Only material that meets the most rigid tests is accepted. "Through every stage of manufacture, from the construction of the bead to the application of the trademark, inspectors with years of experience examine every one of the millions of Firestone tires produced annually."

No More Piles

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt discovered the cause of piles to be blood congestion in the lower bowel. That's why cutting and greasy ointments absolutely remove the cause, and brings quick relief, or costs nothing at Packard's or Murphy's Drug Stores—and good druggists everywhere.—Adv.

AUTO ACCIDENTS CAUSE 62 DEATHS IN FIRST 4 MONTHS

More than half the motor vehicle operators involved in fatal accidents in the first four months of this year have been exonerated by county coroners, according to reports filed with the state motor vehicle department. During that period, sixty-two accidents resulted in deaths; fifteen operators were held criminally responsible, thirty-five exonerated and twelve either evaded responsibility or are awaiting coroners' decisions. The record was more nearly balanced in January than in any of the following months. In that month, eleven out of twenty-two operators in fatal accidents were exonerated and nine were held criminally responsible, while findings have yet to be made in two cases. Last month, out of seventeen fatal accidents, operators were blameless and two negligent, with four cases still to be disposed of.

Sixty operators were held criminally responsible for fatal accidents that occurred during all of last year and 213 were dismissed. Thirty-five of the sixty killed themselves, and in some instances, others. In the accidents investigated, 207 in thirty-three cases the report is not yet filed with the department.

Compared with the first third of this year, there were seventy-nine fatal accidents in the first four months of 1925, in which the same number of operators, fifteen were adjudged by coroners to have been criminally to blame, and fifty-five exonerated.

VALUABLE MAID.

Mistress: Can you serve company? New Maid: Yes, either way. Mistress: Either way? New Maid: Yes, mam. So's they'll come again, or so's they won't.—Capper's Weekly.

$5,200

FOR A Five-room California style bungalow, furnace and other conveniences, handy to trolley and factory. A reasonably priced home.

$5500 for a new semi-bungalow of five rooms, new ready for use. Easy terms.

Eight-room, two-family, close to trolley line, steam heat, etc., lot 80x68 ft., 2 car garage, poultry house, fruit trees, a good bargain at $7500.

Nice single toward the Green, six rooms, new and modern. Price only $6900.

Be sure to see the building lots on Greenhill Terrace, Pitkin street, before you decide to build your home.

Robert J. Smith

1009 MAIN STREET. Real Estate Insurance Steamship Tickets.

East Center Street

This most desirable home, on a fine corner lot, with wonderful shade trees, good lawn, shrubbery, house built a year ago under the direct supervision of the owner, is exceptionally well built, with every modern convenience.

Garage in basement.

This is one of the better homes in Manchester's most desirable residence section. May be bought on very desirable terms. Payments to suit purchaser.

Elman & Rolston

Room 25, House & Hale Bldg. Phone 2200. We still have a few desirable building sites left at Marvin Green.

-and now, the climax—the last six days!

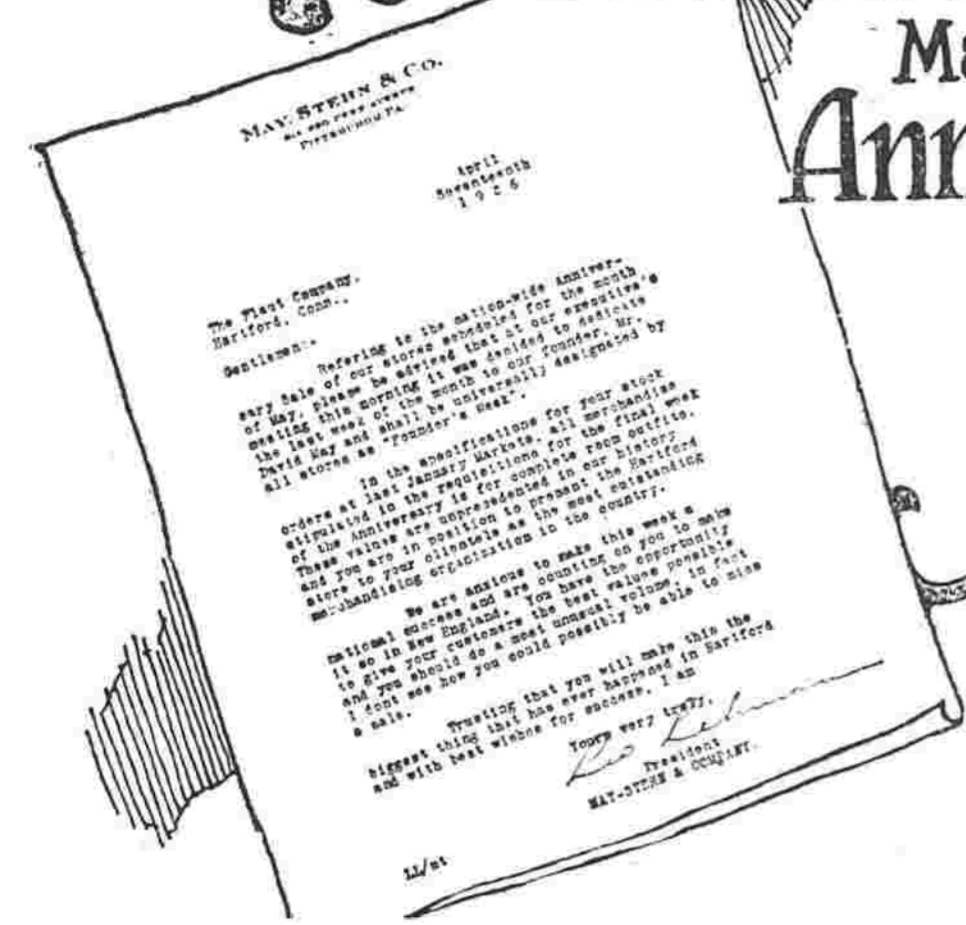

1884 FOUNDER'S WEEK 1926

May Stern's 42nd Anniversary Plaut's Second Celebration

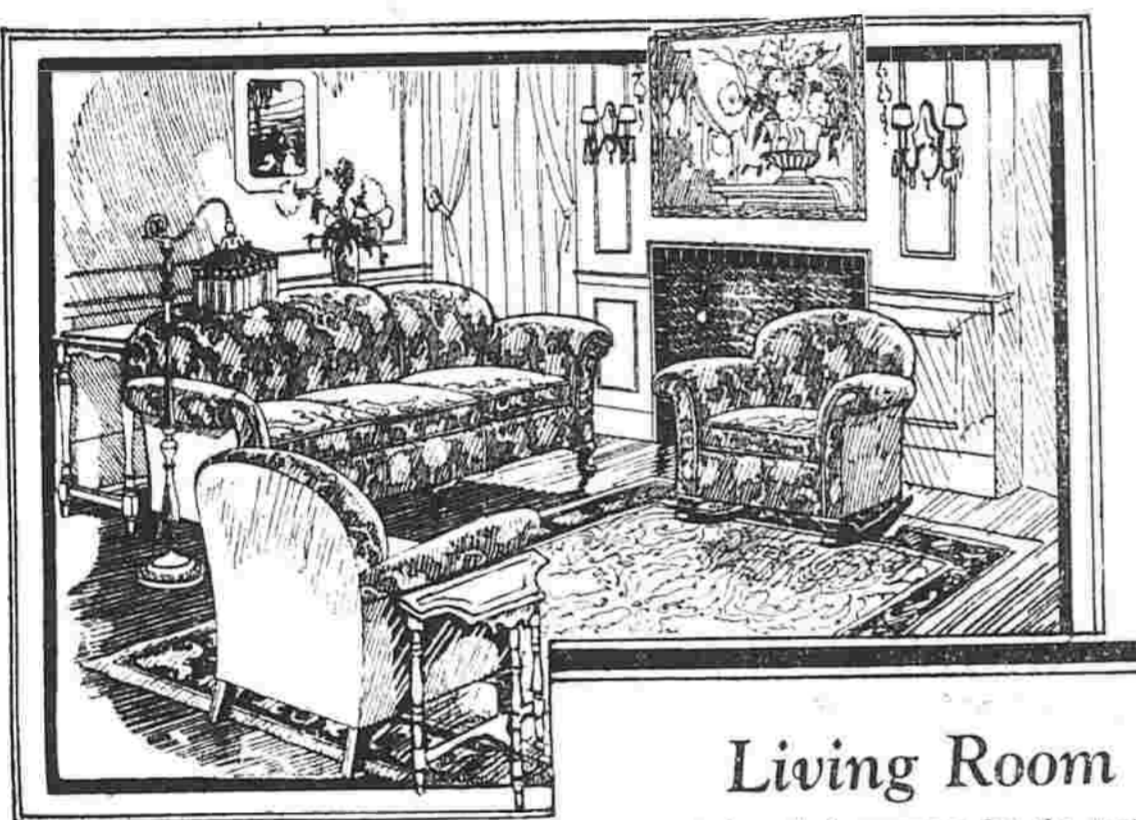

Now!—the final week of the greatest sale of Home Needs ever held in New England—and in every way the greatest week of them all! We have saved the most astonishing values of the entire sale for this final week—Complete Home Outfits specially purchased for this event and offered at savings which eclipse anything previously attempted in Hartford. Never before such fine furnishings at such tremendous savings—possible only through the co-operative buying of America's largest home furnishing organization. Completely grouped home outfits ready to step into and begin house-keeping at scarcely more than half the amount you would have to pay were the various items purchased separately. Six big days of special under-selling, offering values which are more than unusual; come this week—it will be well worth your while.

Featuring Complete Home Outfits

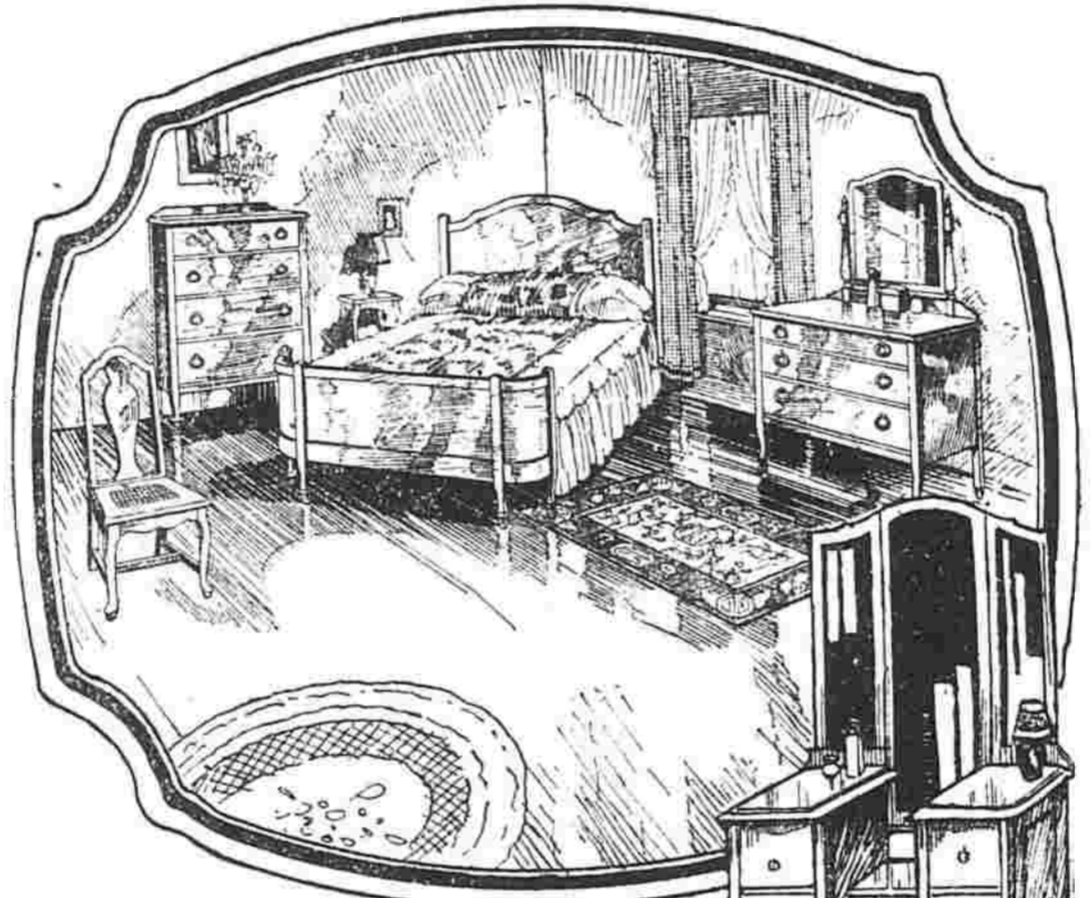

---at the most sensational savings on record!

Living Room

See This Room Assembled With Twenty Others On Our Fourth Floor

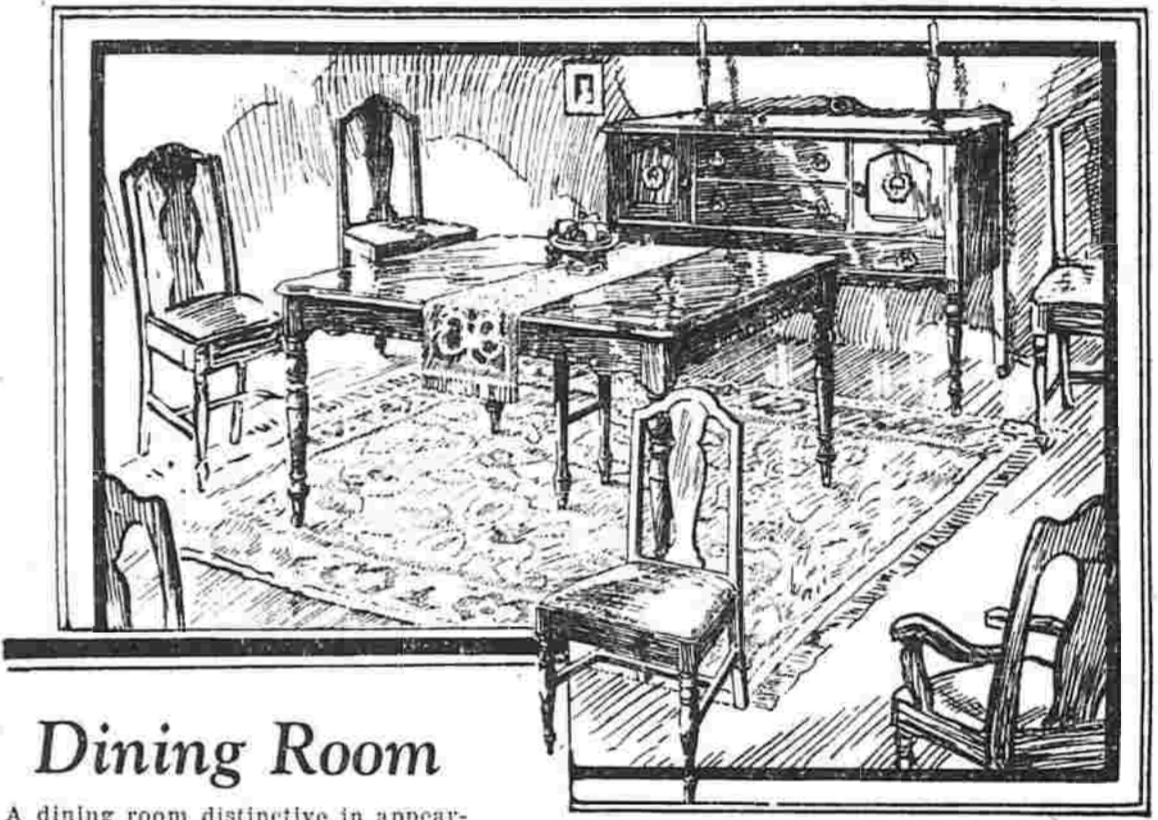

A beautiful grouping for the room in which you entertain your friends—one of which anyone might well be proud. Richly made living room suite of luxurious davenport, deep arm chair and massive fireside chair, graceful davenport table in mahogany finish, also end table to match and beautiful bridge lamp with georgette shade in a selection of the most desired colors. A complete living room exquisitely furnished in good taste and refinement.

Bedroom

No single other room in the house is so important as the bedroom and we have exercised unusual care in selecting items which are not only comfortable, but which provide that attractiveness of appearance so necessary to complete happiness. Included is a 4-piece suite including box-end bed, large dresser, chest of drawers and beautiful vanity, all finished in rich hand-rubbed American walnut; also vanity bench and chair to match.

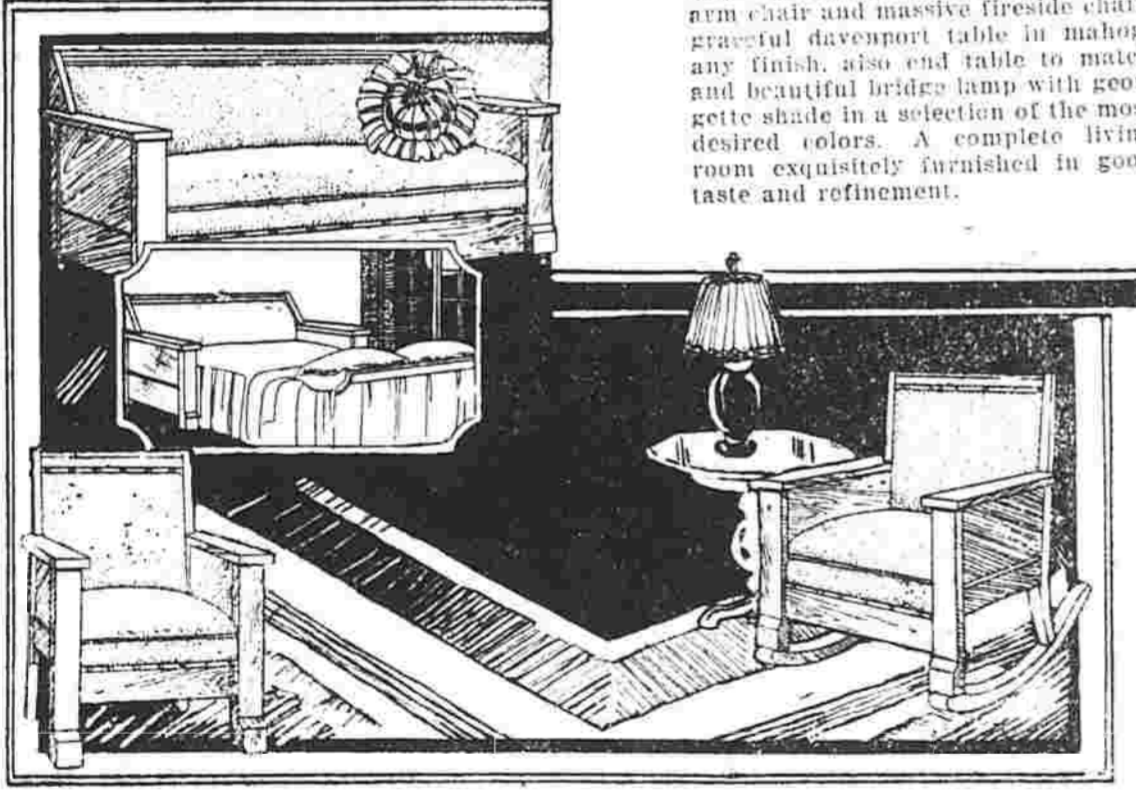

See This Room Assembled With Twenty Others On Our Fourth Floor.

Dining Room

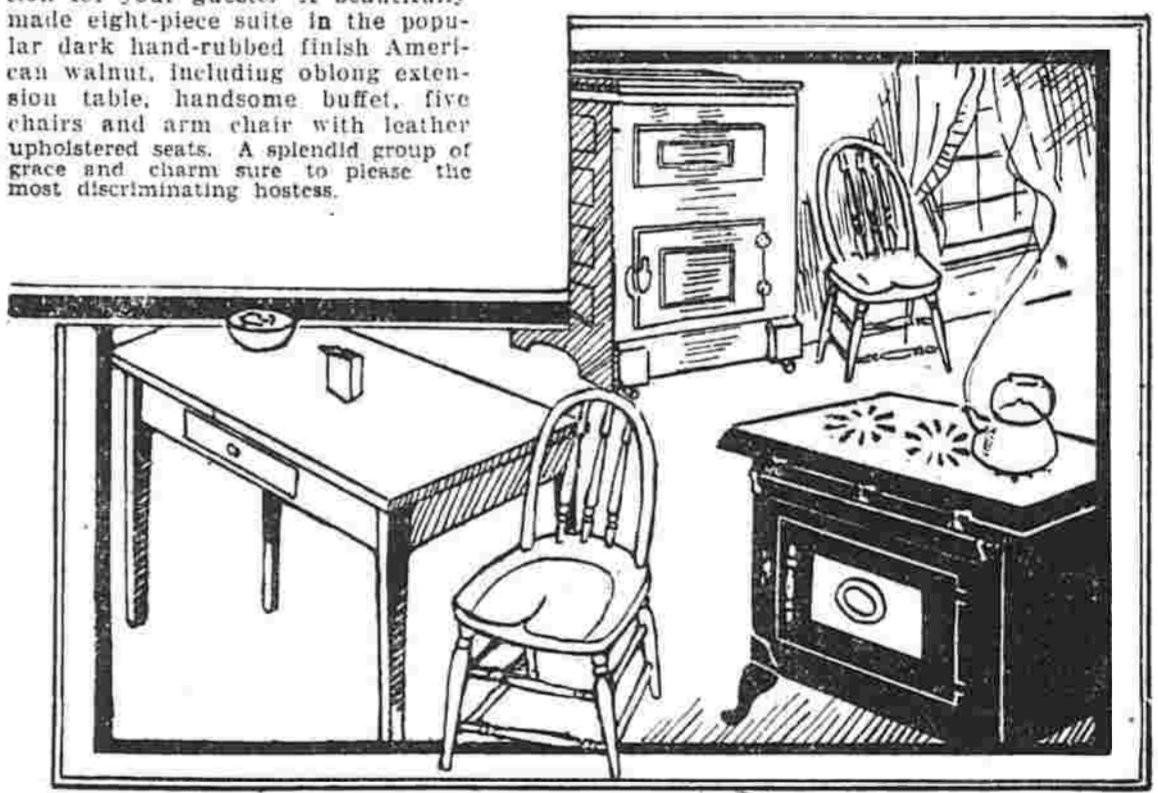

A dining room distinctive in appearance and complete in appointments—one that reflects the solid hospitality of the American home and which provides ample accommodation for your guests. A beautifully made eight-piece suite in the popular dark hand-rubbed finish American walnut, including oblong extension table, handsome buffet, five chairs and arm chair with leather upholstered seats. A splendid group of grace and charm sure to please the most discriminating hostess.

See This Room Assembled With Twenty Others On Our Fourth Floor.

Bed-Living Room

For those with whom space is a factor, we offer as an alternative to the living room shown above this attractive and practical bed-living room—an outfit which is admirably suited to the requirements of a living room by day and a bedroom at night. Included is the beautiful davenette suite in mahogany finish—davenette which opens into a comfortable bed with one easy motion, arm chair and rocker, all comfortably upholstered; also a mahogany occasional table to match and a beautiful pottery base table lamp with georgette shade. A wonderfully practical outfit which provides a saving in rent each month.

The Kitchen

In assembling this group for the room in which the housewife must spend the greater part of her working hours, we have carefully selected those items which are not only practical, but which provide that spice and cheeriness in which every woman delights. Included is the attractive 3-burner Rangette with white porcelain oven door, a refrigerator made by the nationally famous "Cold Storage" factory, two kitchen chairs and a wonderful work-saving kitchen table, with white porcelain top and white enamel frame. A truly wonderful kitchen in which any woman will find lasting pride and pleasure.

20 Room Outfits Grouped on 4th Floor

The most elaborate display of complete room outfits ever shown in New England—and all priced this week at savings never before offered anywhere, values so unusual that they can be realized only by actually examining the merchandise itself. Everyone is invited to visit this comprehensive exhibit of model home outfits. You will not be asked to buy and you may visit as long as you wish. Come in any day or night this week for these values are more than unusual.

Any 3 of these five wonderful Room Outfits Complete

$39.50

Budgeted On The Most Liberal Terms Ever Offered

Special Terms So that everyone regardless of pocketbook, may take full advantage of the special values offered this week, we have arranged terms so low as to be easily within reach of every person everywhere. Don't allow lack of ready cash to prevent you from taking advantage of this opportunity—we'll arrange terms to suit you.

Free Delivery Anywhere These complete outfits will be delivered freight free anywhere—regardless of where you live you have the same opportunity to take advantage of these savings as those living right here in Hartford. Please show early in the week—we will be able to serve you more promptly.

So that everyone everywhere may take full advantage of this six-day event and for those who cannot conveniently visit the store during regular hours of business, Store will remain open until 9 o'clock every night this week Permitting couples to inspect these wonderful offerings together and to have ample time in which to make a selection.

The PLAUT COMPANY

If You Haven't An Account, Open One Now.

Branch, May-Stern & Company—World's Largest Home Furnishers.

173-183 Asylum Street

Old Customers Pay No Money Down

FIFTY-FIFTY SPLIT FOR ST. MARY'S; RANGERS LOSE

New Britain Team Loses 7-6 Decision But Saints Are Defeated at Kensington Saturday 6-5.

Playing errorless ball for the second time this season, the St. Mary's battled their way to a 7-6 victory over the New Britain Rangers yesterday afternoon.

Yesterday's win was brought about by solid hitting. The Saints, trailing 4-0 in the sixth, finally solved Adantes' delivery and started a three inning rally which earned them their one-run victory.

How They Scored: Singles by Stevenson, Seelert, Ferguson and Thornton accounted for two St. Mary runs in the sixth. The four runs in the following inning were made as follows: Partons tripled; Lamprecht singled; Schiedge doubled; Macdonald singled; Stevenson grounded out; Seelert and Ferguson singled.

Saturday's Game at Kensington was a pitcher's battle between Eddie Boyce and Politts with the latter getting the breaks. Boyce fanned nine batters and Politts six. Each team made nine hits. Schiedge led off the home team collected three.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Ferguson, Thornton, Boyce, Partons, Schiedge, etc.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Begley, Huber, Sheehan, McCormick, Fields, etc.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Ferguson, Thornton, Warnock, Partons, etc.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Krause, Begley, McKeeney, etc.

Best Exercise You Can Get Ride Horseback at The Manchester Riding Academy. Class and Private Lessons by an experienced instructor.

WINDHAM HIGH BEATEN BY TRADE SCHOOL 3-2

Pospisil and Thurz Shine Brightly as Locals Win Cherished Victory at Willimantic.

With "Rudy" Pospisil twirling splendid ball, the local State Trade school won one of its most cherished victories of the season Saturday afternoon when it triumphed over Windham High in Willimantic by a 3 to 2 score in one of the fastest ball games seen in the Thread City in scholastic circles in years.

Windham Disappointed. The game in Willimantic was bitterly contested from the start and it was a more or less disgruntled group of Windham students that left the field at the conclusion of the game for Willimantic had expected to score an easy victory. They were simply outplayed; beaten by a better team, and it was only a miracle that Manchester did not make the margin of victory more decisive.

Mr. Thurz Again. The winning run was scored by the Mechanics in the next inning. Ball was safe on an error by the third baseman. He was advanced to second by a neat sacrifice by Pospisil and scored when Thurz again came through with a hit. This time a two-bagger. The summary:

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Manuchek, Ball, Pospisil, Thurz, etc.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include J. Nichols, R. Pickett, E. Nichols, etc.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Ferguson, Thornton, Warnock, etc.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Krause, Begley, McKeeney, etc.

Petty Sees It Through As He Learns of Mother's Death New York, May 24.—Many of the 30,000 Brooklyn fans who watched Jess Petty pitch his team to a two-to-one victory over the Giants, yesterday, are wondering if they would have cheered so lustily had they known that the twirler out there in the box was dazed by the news that his mother was dead.

Best Exercise You Can Get Ride Horseback at The Manchester Riding Academy. Class and Private Lessons by an experienced instructor.

SHAMROCKS WIN OVER PIONEERS BY 11-8 SCORE

'Breck' Wilson and Farrand Play Leading Roles as North End Team Scores Impressive Victory.

"Breck" Wilson, former member of the Manchester baseball club, appeared in the lineup of the Shamrocks yesterday afternoon at Hickey's Grove and was instrumental in the 11-8 victory which Manager Coleman's nine pounded out at the expense of the Hartford Pioneers. Wilson connected for a triple with two men on the paths and also registered a one-base blow in his four trips to the plate.

Local's Pile Up Lead. It happened that the Shamrocks started their run manufacturing at the very beginning of the game, scoring one run in the first, two in the second, and two in the fourth. The visitors shoved over a quartet of tallies in the fifth inning and the Manchester artillery retaliated with three runs in its half.

The Features. Farrand struck out ten batters. Other bits of playing which sparkled were catches by Kellar, Wilson and Prior.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Long, White, Hanna, etc.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Kilray, Callahan, Prior, etc.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Ferguson, Thornton, Warnock, etc.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Krause, Begley, McKeeney, etc.

ACES WIN AGAIN Hohenthal's homer with three on gave victory to the Aces in their game with the East Hartford Orioles yesterday. The local team was trailing at that time but they kept up the work in this inning and scored four more runs. Wiley let East Hartford down with two hits and fanned 17 men.

Petty Sees It Through As He Learns of Mother's Death New York, May 24.—Many of the 30,000 Brooklyn fans who watched Jess Petty pitch his team to a two-to-one victory over the Giants, yesterday, are wondering if they would have cheered so lustily had they known that the twirler out there in the box was dazed by the news that his mother was dead.

and then again he may not. He cannot be blamed for doing some "colleeting" with his title. Several ratches have been offered him in New York, and he probably will meet Joe Dundee or one of the other contenders at one of the New York ball parks within a few weeks.

The Yankees made it twelve straight by trouncing the Red Sox, eight to three, and increased their lead to six games. Hoyt pitched and Collins got a homer.

MANCHESTER WINS SWEEPING VICTORY

Tedford Cops First and Third Place and Larson Second, in 200 Mile Pigeon Race.

Manchester won a sweeping victory in the 200 mile old-bird pigeon race from Wilmington, Del.

Manchester won a sweeping victory in the 200 mile old-bird pigeon race from Wilmington, Del.

Manchester won a sweeping victory in the 200 mile old-bird pigeon race from Wilmington, Del.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Brownell, Long, McLaughlin, etc.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Kilray, Callahan, Prior, etc.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Ferguson, Thornton, Warnock, etc.

Table with 10 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Krause, Begley, McKeeney, etc.

ACES WIN AGAIN Hohenthal's homer with three on gave victory to the Aces in their game with the East Hartford Orioles yesterday.

Petty Sees It Through As He Learns of Mother's Death New York, May 24.—Many of the 30,000 Brooklyn fans who watched Jess Petty pitch his team to a two-to-one victory over the Giants, yesterday, are wondering if they would have cheered so lustily had they known that the twirler out there in the box was dazed by the news that his mother was dead.

same place. Following are the results of yesterday's flight:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Yards Per Min. Rows include Tedford, Larson, etc.

Ted Lyons of the White Sox white-washed Cleveland, one to nothing, a single by Eddie Collins bringing home the bacon. Sherry Smith pitched well for the losers.

Advertisement for Old Gold Cigarettes. Features a large illustration of a man with a sword and a pack of Old Gold cigarettes. Text includes 'The Dawn of a Better Cigarette', 'As Rich as Gold Doubletons in any Buried Treasure', and 'OLD GOLD offers you THREE BASIC IMPROVEMENTS'.

THE HERALD'S HOME PAGE

FEATURE ARTICLES ABOUT INTERESTING WOMEN

LATEST FASHION HINTS BY FOREMOST AUTHORITIES

THESE WOMEN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The story concerns the rivalry between NONA, a New York girl, and AUDREY MORTON, the love of HARRY MORTON, Audrey's guardian. Morton, middle-aged, handsome, unmarried and rich, has lived in Rochester for 15 years, maintaining an expensive apartment also in New York. His past, and the nature of his business, are unknown to Audrey and his associates.

To divert Audrey's mind from him, he has urged upon her the company of JOHN PARRISH, his secretary, and himself has let her see him in company of Nona, a stage girl, and other women. Audrey is frankly determined to win him, refusing to accept his assurance that he cannot marry her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

(The names and situations in this story are fictitious.)

CHAPTER XXII

NONA called Morton on the telephone late that afternoon.

"Better go over to Pete Downey's Bending School and have a look around," she advised.

"What for?"

"Well," she said, "you'll see something there that will interest you. Bye-bye."

She hung up the receiver. With an impatient shrug, Morton turned back to his work. However, Nona's words bothered him. Finally, he swept his papers together, gave them to Parrish, and took a taxi to the dingy building that held the Downey establishment.

Morton had been there before, and he trudged up the rickety stairs as if sure of his way. A large double door at the top of the flight was labeled: "Downey-Stretching-Expert attendance."

Morton pushed the door open, and stopped. Half a dozen young girls, some of them in bloomers, some of them in very short bathing suits, were on the polished floor. One little group of four was going through a sort of drill, at the sharp command of a man who stood before them.

"One—two—three—BEND," he roared. At the fourth word, the girls bent slowly forward, and placed the flat of their palms on the floor before them.

"One—two—three—BACK!" They bent their slim forms backward, until their hands almost touched the floor behind them.

"Buten," said the man. "One—two—three—BEND!"

Time after time they went through the drill, stimulated by pungent observations on the part of the master before them.

In a far corner was one girl, alone. She was in a brief striped bathing suit, and a burly man, with her foot in his hand, was moving her leg straight upward, as she braced against the wall.

It was Audrey.

She did not see Morton, at first, but balancing herself as best she could, with her palms and back against the wall, submitted to the racking effort of the attendant. Morton did not move. The girls and men near him paid no attention. One girl, in her street clothes, who was just leaving, spoke to him familiarly as "Harry," and he nodded, kindly. She hesitated, and then after a word or two about the weather, went her way. Morton continued his watch over thing on the wall.

Once the girl cried out sharply, as the man moved her leg outward at right angles to her body. Deliberately he repeated the movement, and she cried out again.

He took her other foot, and moved the slender limb. Audrey was writhing, and the cords of her neck stood out in pain.

It was at this point that Morton intervened.

Strolling deliberately across the room, he stopped in front of Audrey and the man.

"In stretching exercises," he said, "it is best not to go too far the first time."

Audrey, startled, dropped her foot to the floor and looked at him. The attendant jerked his head around, with a scowl.

"Who 'ell are you?" he wanted to know. "Get 'ell outa here!"

Unconcernedly Morton went on talking. "The young lady will continue her lessons, later on," he said, "if she desires to. But this will be enough for today."

"Something in his manner impressed the man, and he merely stared.

"I am the young lady's guardian," said Morton.

"Oh!" There was a knowing sneer on the attendant's face.

"You are quite mistaken," Morton intend to go into cabaret life? Do you feel a want of excitement in the life we are leading now?"

Audrey made no reply, but ran her finger up and down a fold in her skirt. Morton looked at her, his eye twinkling.

"Shall I answer for you?" he asked.

Morton called Parrish into his office the following morning, and gave him some brief instructions.

"Beginning at one o'clock each afternoon, you are appointed as personal guardian for Miss Morton," he said.

Parrish's serious face showed marks of pleasure.

"You'll report at my apartment at one p. m. sharp, each day, and take Miss Morton wherever she wants to go. You are not to make any objections whatever to anything she wants to do. All I want is that she shall be kept out of difficulties."

"I'd like to do that, Mr. Morton, but she slipped me the last time I talked to her," Parrish told him.

Morton's eyes were amused as they rested on the young man. "That's your problem," he said. "I am under the impression that you like Miss Morton?"

"Indeed I do," he said, "but she can't stand me at all."

"Under those circumstances, it seems to me that the next move is up to you. Your instructions remain, and I want you to carry them out. You shouldn't put yourself in a position to be slapped, and if you are slapped, it is up to you—always providing that you desire to be friends with the young lady—to see that she is on friendly terms with you."

Parrish's expression was one of doubt, but he went away, with a springer step than he had entered. When he had gone, Morton called Audrey on the telephone, and told her of Parrish's assignment.

"I'll slap him, and won't talk to him, if he comes here!" she exclaimed. "But daddy, I've had the dreadfulness letter! I don't understand what it means. Can I bring it over to you?"

"Of course," said Morton.

A quarter of an hour later, Audrey appeared, a vision in a fresh new spring dress, with a light wrap, also new. Her lately adopted rouge was missing from her cheeks, though her lips showed the effects of a lipstick, and her lashes were blackened. Evidently she had stopped in the middle of a careful toilette.

Dipping into her handbag, she produced a letter, bearing a South American stamp.

Tossing it in front of Morton, she said: "I just know that's from the man you threw out of our house in Rochester. He's an awful brute, and I want you to tell me what to do about it."

Morton picked up the letter, and opened it.

(To Be Continued)

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

asked. "Do you want me to try a little mind-reading?"

She looked at him sidewise, and nodded.

"You have just added some decorations to your face, in the last twenty-four hours—a little lipstick, and rouge, and mascara, which you didn't need, and you had your eyebrows plucked, which you shouldn't have done at all. Now you suddenly decide to begin a professional career as a dancer in supper clubs, and places like that."

"The idea is that since so many of my women friends occupy themselves in that way, that you are going to do so, too?"

Audrey moved closer to him, and said: "I'm aware of the custom," said Morton. "But precisely why do you and seeing them every night, I could learn how they manage it."

"Perhaps they don't manage it!" Morton's words fell deliberately, and with a curious emphasis. "You can't judge what's in a man's heart by the things he does, Audrey girl."

Audrey cocked her head wisely. "All the same, they know something that I don't about entertaining you—and I'm going to find out what it is! You would stay with me in the evening, instead of going out with them, if that weren't so. And I want you to be with me—all the time."

Morton sighed. "Life's full of problems, and difficulties, isn't it, child?"

Morton called Parrish into his office the following morning, and gave him some brief instructions.

"Beginning at one o'clock each afternoon, you are appointed as personal guardian for Miss Morton," he said.

Parrish's serious face showed marks of pleasure.

"You'll report at my apartment at one p. m. sharp, each day, and take Miss Morton wherever she wants to go. You are not to make any objections whatever to anything she wants to do. All I want is that she shall be kept out of difficulties."

"I'd like to do that, Mr. Morton, but she slipped me the last time I talked to her," Parrish told him.

Morton's eyes were amused as they rested on the young man. "That's your problem," he said. "I am under the impression that you like Miss Morton?"

"Indeed I do," he said, "but she can't stand me at all."

"Under those circumstances, it seems to me that the next move is up to you. Your instructions remain, and I want you to carry them out. You shouldn't put yourself in a position to be slapped, and if you are slapped, it is up to you—always providing that you desire to be friends with the young lady—to see that she is on friendly terms with you."

Parrish's expression was one of doubt, but he went away, with a springer step than he had entered. When he had gone, Morton called Audrey on the telephone, and told her of Parrish's assignment.

"I'll slap him, and won't talk to him, if he comes here!" she exclaimed. "But daddy, I've had the dreadfulness letter! I don't understand what it means. Can I bring it over to you?"

"Of course," said Morton.

A quarter of an hour later, Audrey appeared, a vision in a fresh new spring dress, with a light wrap, also new. Her lately adopted rouge was missing from her cheeks, though her lips showed the effects of a lipstick, and her lashes were blackened. Evidently she had stopped in the middle of a careful toilette.

Dipping into her handbag, she produced a letter, bearing a South American stamp.

Tossing it in front of Morton, she said: "I just know that's from the man you threw out of our house in Rochester. He's an awful brute, and I want you to tell me what to do about it."

Morton picked up the letter, and opened it.

(To Be Continued)

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

asked. "Do you want me to try a little mind-reading?"

She looked at him sidewise, and nodded.

"You have just added some decorations to your face, in the last twenty-four hours—a little lipstick, and rouge, and mascara, which you didn't need, and you had your eyebrows plucked, which you shouldn't have done at all. Now you suddenly decide to begin a professional career as a dancer in supper clubs, and places like that."

"The idea is that since so many of my women friends occupy themselves in that way, that you are going to do so, too?"

Audrey moved closer to him, and said: "I'm aware of the custom," said Morton. "But precisely why do you

The WOMAN'S DAY

By Allene Sumner

Why Women Dress?

Now the erstwhile virginal Margot Asquith, writing under the less known name of the Countess of Oxford and Asquith, takes lance in hand to tilt at that much-titled question of whether women dress to please men or women. She writes: "In a community consisting entirely of women I do not think the majority would take much time over their toilettes. It was noticeable that neither the group of ladies who believed in woman's suffrage by constitutional methods, nor the more advanced who believed that their object would be gained by threatening lives, were well dressed. Their hair was a mixture of violence and hysteria."

Why Then?

Do girls wear their prettiest frocks at sorority reunions, bridge parties, coed college reunions, and wait desperately if "I must see all those girls again, looking like a fright, with nothing decent to wear?" That faction which, like Margot, believes that women dress for men, would probably answer that to women good dress is a symbol of successful husband-catching, and that a woman hates to appear ill-dressed before a group of the sisterhood for fear that they will not think her lucky in matrimony.

Anyways!

Whether the spring's well-dressed woman does it for self, women, or men, she will probably wear this summer a soft, hobohish, rakish, jaunty little felt hat pulled over one eye, "nothing else but" for travel and country wear.

Spring Salad.

Wash and remove stem, seeds and ribs from pepper and cut in slices to form rings. Fill rings with cream cheese, place on lettuce leaves, pile fresh grated pineapple on top of cheese rings, and border with mayonnaise.

The Stillmans.

The newly retired Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stillman dodge all such old-fashioned terms as "reunion," "forgiveness," "reconciliation." They talk about "mental freedom," "understanding," "psychoanalysis." However successfully this sort of "reconciliation" may work for the Stillmans, we know a good many old-fashioned folks who just won't believe that all's well in the stillman menage until each side murmurs with tear-choked voice, "all is forgiven, dear one."

Wedding Breakfast Menu.

Whole strawberries with powdered sugar
Half broiled spring chicken
Julienne potatoes
Creamed asparagus tips in timbale cases
Rolls
Molded celery and cucumber

To Travel In

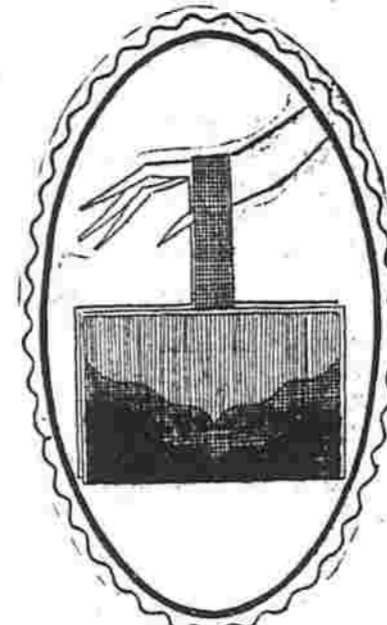

A smart beret for traveling is of beige felt with a band and flat bow of plaid taffeta.

A brightly colored silk handkerchief is tied in a bow and worn at the wrist to give chic to the tailor.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 35-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hands and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Adv.

Novel Bag

One of the new bags in three-tone red leather with edges of steel has the latest wide center strap handle.

salad
Pistachio ice cream
Cherry and nut meringues
Coffee
Fruit Punch
Wedding cake

Babies and Checks.
If you are placing your baby for a nap in the sun parlor, believing that the sun rays will make him sturdy, you might as well keep him in darkest Africa. That is, according to a discovery made from a scientist's recent experiment with chicks which proves that sun seeping upon chickens through glass does no good at all and that these window chicks develop rickets and are much inferior to those left in the open air under the sun.

Beautiful Arms.
"The round white arms" of Helen of Troy are cited more oft than any other feature of that lady. If you would have yours likewise, wash them nightly in a solution made from 1 dram boric acid, 1 dram baking soda, 1 dram alum, 4 ounces alcohol, 4 ounces water; then rub in a good massage cream. Best results are obtained if the arms are steamed with hot compresses before treatment begins.

FOR CUTLERY.

Ivory handles on cutlery may be cleaned with lemon and common kitchen salt. Cut a lemon, dip it in the salt, and use as a cleaning pad.

Bright 'Kerchief

A brightly colored silk handkerchief is tied in a bow and worn at the wrist to give chic to the tailor.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 35-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hands and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Adv.

To Travel In

A smart beret for traveling is of beige felt with a band and flat bow of plaid taffeta.

A brightly colored silk handkerchief is tied in a bow and worn at the wrist to give chic to the tailor.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 35-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hands and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Adv.

BABY AT HOME HELPS MOTHER WIN STAR CAREER IN FILMS

Florence Vidor and her daughter, Suzanne.

BY FLORENCE VIDOR
Famous Screen Actress and Beauty.
I have never had to solve the problem of a career versus children. That is because to my mind there is no problem. I have a career, a home and a baby. Why anybody should think that these essential parts of a real woman's life are antagonistic, I cannot understand. The truth is, I am a better actress because of my baby. I find myself able to trace directly to her the springs of much of my enthusiasm and best work in the past four years. Partly this is because she has meant to me a fulfillment of the secret dreams of my little girlhood. Ever since I can remember, I have wanted to be an actress. But just as fervently, I have wanted a baby of my own to rock and dress and play with.

Baby Completes Life.
When I got to be an actress, I had achieved half of what I asked of life. Now I have the other half. As a result, I am more ambitious in my work, more eager to succeed and at the same time to give the best that is in me. I do not know why this has happened to me unless it is the usual experience of women of which I speak, a National Child Health Day would have been considered unnecessary. Our fathers took it for granted that our mothers knew all there was to be known about the bringing up of children. The feminine invasion of the outside world has taught us many things, among them a new ideal of community co-operation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

New Ideals Today.
Back in the conventional times of which I speak, a National Child Health Day would have been considered unnecessary. Our fathers took it for granted that our mothers knew all there was to be known about the bringing up of children. The feminine invasion of the outside world has taught us many things, among them a new ideal of community co-operation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

We can no longer regard children as animated toys, to be sent to bed when they begin to be human beings and therefore problems. The physical, mental and moral health of our boys and girls is the most important project we have on hand as a nation.

HER OWN WAY

A GIRL OF TODAY

THEIRS NOT TO REASON WHY.
"I brought you a cup of coffee, Judy, dear," continued Mamie. "For mother is still pretty mad and she would make it rather hot for you if you went down where she was this morning. I don't want her to hurt you, Judy. It is bad enough for her to hurt me."

"Oh don't worry about me. Your mother couldn't be as impossible to live with as my father. Mamie, if I ever live to have children I certainly will give them a little leeway. And if they haven't brains to take care of themselves I think I will lock them up in some sanitarium. Tell your mother, won't you, that I will get out of here tonight. I am afraid that I can't do it this morning, as I am late as it is."

"Where are you going to be at lunch time, Judy?" Mamie asked.

"I don't know. Do you want me to call you up?"

New Beauty Cream

Now the Fashion

You will be enthusiastic over a new French Process Cream for whitening and beautifying the skin. It is so pure and different from other creams. Women say they see a great improvement in their complexions after the first application. If you want smoother, brighter and younger skin, use MELLO-GLO Cream. It's wonderful.

F. W. Hale Co., So. Manchester.

Drive It Yourself

"Yes. I am going to see Buddy this morning and settle this business for once and for all and then I want you to know about it. In fact you are the only person on earth that I would want to know all about it. I would like you to meet him, Judy," she said wistfully.

"All right, I will call you up and you can decide on all the rest of it then."

"I hadn't a moment to spare when I hurried into the employees' entrance and up to the store managers' office."

There I met a very stern-faced old gentleman who evidently had heard nothing about me.

When I gave him my name and said that I was supposed to go to work somewhere in the store that morning he began pawing over some papers on the desk and his face got redder and redder every minute.

Finally, he touched a button, which must have rung in another office, for shortly Mr. Armstrong came bustling in.

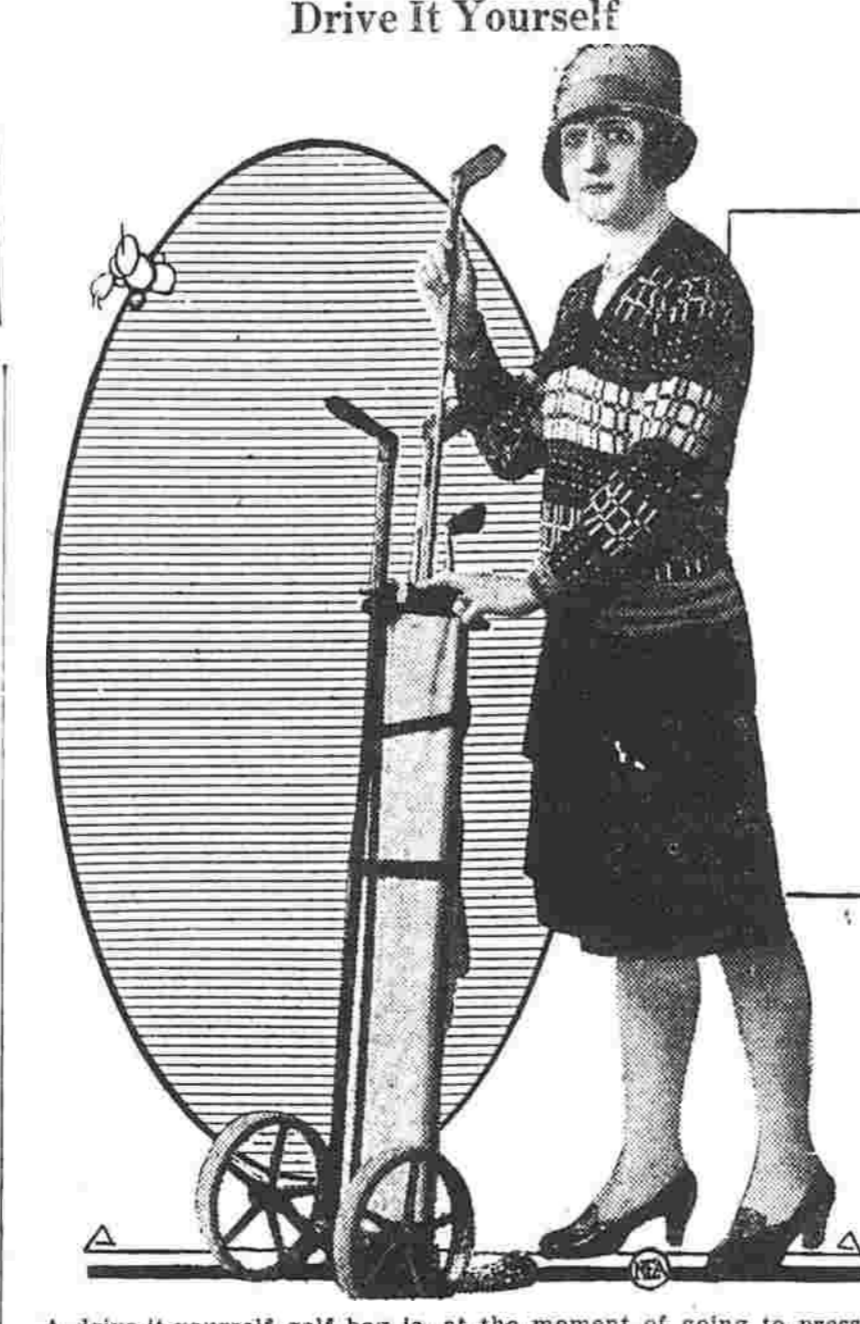

"What's all this about, Armstrong?" This girl told me that you have hired her. I thought you knew that it was a very slack time with the store. We are laying off clerks instead of putting them on."

"Yes, Mr. Smith, I know all that," responded Mr. Armstrong quietly. "But I had orders to hire this young lady from Mr. Robinson himself. He said that you would place her. The reason why I did not speak to you about it was because I thought that he had probably done so."

TOMORROW: Judy Wonders Why.

SCARF COLLAR

The scarf collar is used effectively on the soft chiffon frocks that are so generally sponsored, and they solve the difficult neckline very neatly.

A drive-it-yourself golf bag is, at the moment of going to press, the very latest. It was introduced at the national golf show, in Chicago.

"The Cleaners that Clean"

Everything Cleanable

can be handled by this establishment. The list of things we clean includes everything from gloves to house furnishings.

We exercise the greatest care with everything we clean and you may entrust us with the finest garment you have. Call 1510 for any kind of cleaning work.

THE DOUGAN DYE WORKS INC.

HARRISON ST. SOUTH MANCHESTER, CONN.

Phone 1510

La Touraine
Coffee-Tea

You might as well have the best

Coffee 59c/lb W. S. QUINBY CO. Tea 50c/lb

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"I don't see the shadow now," said the Stork who had carried the Twins and their little fairy friend to the sea-shore to look for the Whiffet's shadow. "It's gone!"

With that he made a dive for a shiny green mackerel, with his long beak, and from that on, he didn't pay the slightest attention to them. A stork can't possibly think of two things at once.

Suddenly a large wave splashed over their feet and there on top of it sat a tiny merman.

"Here's a note from Captain Pennywinkle," he said.

The wave rolled out again and the little water fairy went with it. Nick opened the note and read: "Dear Twins—I saw you from the bottom of the sea. I can't go to you because I'm the traffic con down here and if I didn't watch, the whales and sharks would run right over everybody. But you can come to me. Bring your little friend in the purple suit along. You'll find three seahorses waiting for you in the quiet water by the first big rock. Your friend,

"Captain Pennywinkle."

The Twins and the Whiffet crawled out onto the great fat rock and looked down.

And there just as the tiny sea policeman had said, were three seahorses tied to some eel-grass.

"Oh! Oh! I'll shrink more than ever if I get wet again," said the Whiffet. "And if I do I'll burst every seam."

"Oh, no you won't!" said a his hermit crab sticking his head out of a whelk-shell. "I know all about bombazine and it only shrinks twice. All things come to an end some time, even shrinkage."

"And whelks," said a lobster severely. "You know you ate that whelk just so you could have his house."

The Twins and the Whiffet got on the three seahorses and soon they were quite under the water, traveling along toward the corner of Shell Avenue and sand Boulevard at the bottom of the sea.

"Oh, look!" cried the little rag-bag fairy. "The sky has fallen into the sea. There are all the stars!"

"Oh, no!" laughed Nick. "They aren't stars. They're fish—starfish."

"Humph!" said the Whiffet. So they all rode along and along.

Suddenly the Whiffet cried out: "Look there! The garden has fallen into the sea. Look at the flowers!"

"Oh, no!" said Nick. "Those are fish, too. Or sort of fish. They're called sea-anemones. My book says so!"

"Well, I don't care—there are chestnuts anyway!" said the Whiffet. "They're exactly like the prickly things that grew on the chestnut tree outside of the attic where I was born."

"Oh, ho!" said Nick. "You're wrong again, Whiffet. Those are fish, too. Or sort of fish. They're called sea-urchins."

"Well, I think the sea's a queer place," said the Whiffet. "I think they don't have shadows here at all!"

But just then it got very dark over their heads. A lot of big fish were swimming right over them. And on the white sand below was a whole flock of fish shadows.

"Oh, dear!" said the rag-bag fairy. "I'm all mixed up."

(To be Continued.)

TRY AND GET IT
Rotund Customer: I would like to see a suit that would fit me.
Tailor: Yes, and so would I—Drexler.

OLD GALLEYS FOR HOME.
Rome.—Premier Mussolini plans the restoration of two galleys used by a Roman emperor. For centuries the galleys have lain in 300 feet of water at the bottom of the lake in the crater of an extinct volcano.

Easter lilies may be grown in gardens around the National Capitol, according to government horticulturists.

A PUZZLE A DAY

Members of the freshmen class baseball nine had their first practice. After practice was over, they were too excited to put all of their possessions back in their lockers. The team manager, who entered an hour later, found the locker room in the above condition. So he amused himself by drawing five straight chalk lines on the floor, dividing the room into sixteen parts with one forgotten article in each part.

How were the lines placed?
Last puzzle answer:
The Caddie Master at the City Golf Links bought 21 golf sets from 21 discouraged players. And paid $7 apiece for them, making a total cost of $147. He sold these to the original owners the following spring for $9 a set. He therefore received $189 for all the sets (21 times 9). The profit on the deal was $42. This is his cost price of 6 sets (6 times 7 equals 42.) The profit on each can be also figured in this fashion: $2 on each set for 21 sets equals $42.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

What I like about precedent is the opportunity to make it—Rafish Wrinkles.

Too many of us would rather lose a dollar than see our neighbors make a few.

The great American stomach is probably the greatest sufferer from prosperity.

He: Jane lost her job in the grocery store because she refused to do what the boss asked of her.
She: What was that?
He: He asked her to lay some eggs in the window.

What a pity tactless people are not also speechless.

The reason that Edison invented as many things as he did was because he never invented an excuse.

"John, let's not get anything to do during intermission. I'm so tired from dancing I can't eat a thing."

Perhaps the dumbest crack of all is that of the farmer in Yellowstone Park, who asked if they'd have something new there next year.

WHO FELL FOR WHO?
Slippery ice—very thin.
Pretty girl—tumbled in.
Saw a boy—on a bank.
Gave a shriek—then she sank.
Boy on bank—heard her shout.
Jumped right in—helped her out.
Now he's hers—very nice.
But—she had to break the ice.

But-bets are all right, but the main thing is a budget that won't budge.

President Coolidge attended church some time ago unaccompanied by Mrs. Coolidge. On his return to the White House Mrs. Coolidge asked him whether the sermon was good, to which he replied, "Yes."

"What was it about?"
"Sin."
"What did the preacher say about it?"
"He was against it."

POWDER DIRECTIONS
"You big bone head, you've got us into a damage suit. I told you to fire that man—not to hit him with an ax."
Swedish Foreman—"Vell, boss, dose ax she have sign vot say, 'For Fire U' Only, 'so I use'd her.'"

When it comes to showing off their legs some girls aren't as modest as a table.

When a person goes home and finds the kitchen stove in the parlor he knows that spring house-cleaning is under way.

An editor recently stated, top col. ed. "I wish you had anything good to say about the editor of The Herald, say it now. Don't wait until we are dead. Everybody will speak kindly of us then."

There are only two ways to keep out of the divorce courts. One is to marry a man with a big bank roll and the other is to stay single.

Time changes. Once a wife was property; now the property is the wife's.

Fashion may try its best to hide the waistline but men's arms are controlled largely by instinct.

Occasionally a girl has a chap on her hands that cold cream won't remove.

There's no use lookin'—ya can't find lost time.

Now teachers teach kids to make them smart. In the good old days they used to spank 'em.

It would take ten girls to reach that many miles. And you're supposed to remember that a mile is as good as a mile—or the crack falls flat.

The politician took some old Cleans down off a shelf. He gave them out, and found them rope enough to hang himself.

"Dead men tell no tales," which may have something to do with why widows often marry again.

How can you expect to be able to look the boss square in the eye if you're asleep on the job?

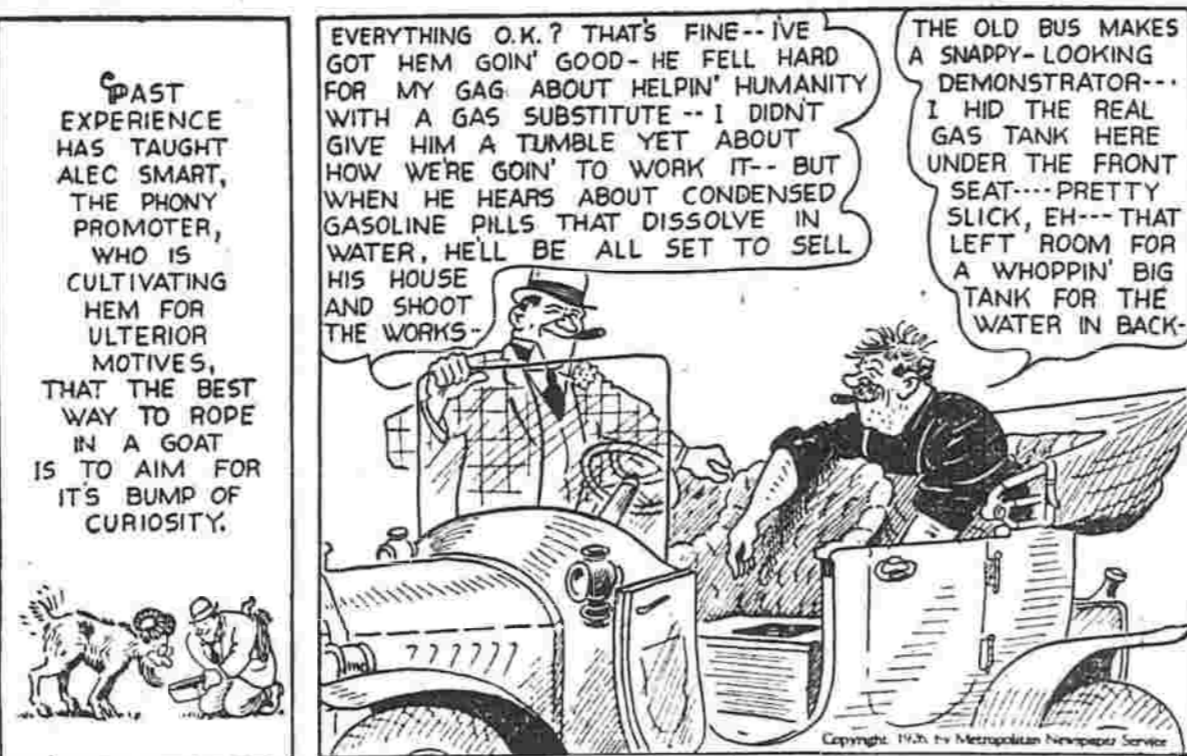

He is a wise political speaker who carries a band with him to get the crowd back again.

Give the 11' old mouse credit for runnin' up the clock. He wanted to be on time.

People who don't pay their rent sometimes have to "sit up and take notice," to move.

LITTLE JOE
WHY GO TO A DENTIST, WHEN A DOG WILL INSERT A SET OF TEETH FREE

GAS BUGGIES or HEM AND AMY—The Serpent Coils to Spring

SKIPPY

SALESMAN SAM

Guzz Is Caught Bare-Faced

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

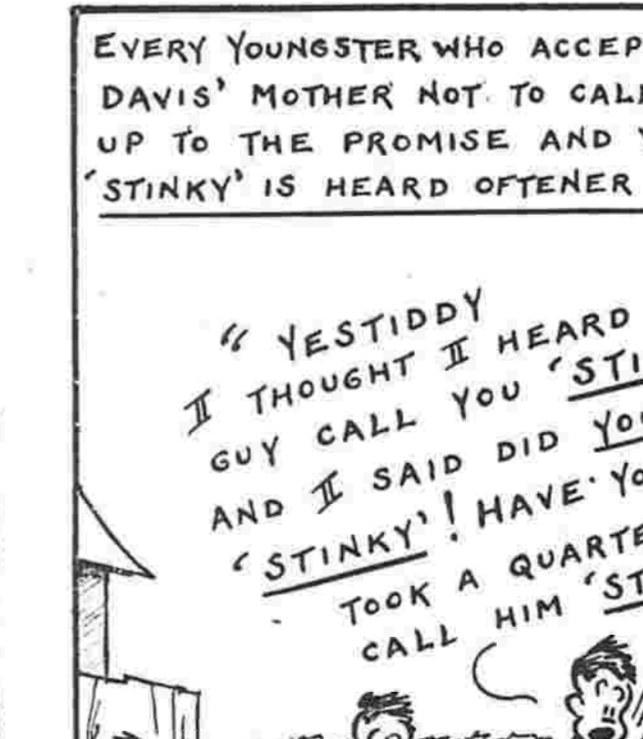

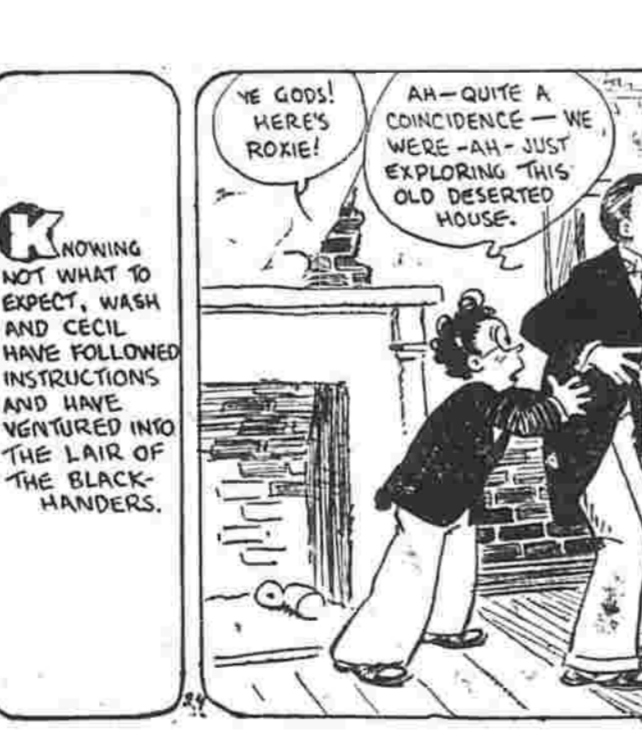

He Has the Chance

WASHINGTON TUBBS II

by Crane "Stinky" Davis

By Fontaine Fox

ABOUT TOWN

A daughter was born to Mr. Mrs. James Finlay of Bank street yesterday morning at the Manchester Memorial hospital.

Last night's cold snap sent youths and maids out in their summer finery, scurrying to their homes after the shows let out. It was unusually cold at ten o'clock, with the thermometer dropping lower and lower as the night advanced.

Judge Raymond A. Johnson left town today for Cleveland, Ohio, where he will attend the convention of men and women interested in state charities. Judge Johnson, who is connected with the state organization, will represent Connecticut.

Manchester Camp, No. 2640, Royal Neighbors will have a public whist following the meeting in Tinker hall this evening.

Two more illustrations of the value of The Herald classified advertisement columns — Saturday Selectman Wells Strickland advertised the loss of one of his hands, some golden pheasants which flew from the pen at his home on Oakland street. Yesterday P. P. Hanon caught the bird at his place on Main street and returned it to its owner. Saturday a Buckland subscriber inserted a little "lost" ad and as soon as the paper was on the streets the honest boy who found the purse and its contents, a considerable sum, called her on the phone.

The families of Leander Carlson, Malcolm Anderson, Sven Carlson, John Anderson, also George Rudin and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson motored out to John Larson's farm at Coventry yesterday and enjoyed the fragrance of the apple blossoms.

The W. B. A. Guards will have a rehearsal this evening at the Barnard school.

There will be a meeting of the Memorial day committee this evening at 7 o'clock at the School Street Recreation Center.

Henry W. Tilden of Washington, D. C. is spending a week at the home of his parents on Summit street.

The regular meeting of Temple Chapter, O. E. S., will be held Wednesday evening in Odd Fellows hall and will be followed by a memorial service. Members will bring to contribute packages of old linen for the Eastern Star hospital are asked to kindly bring them to this meeting.

A hearing of all those interested in the extension of the sewer on Manchester Green avenue and North Elm street will be held at the fire house, Main and Hilliard streets, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Arthur McGowan of 203 Summit street left for New York on Saturday to meet his sister, Mrs. Joseph D'Neil of Belfast, Ireland, who is expected to arrive today or tomorrow.

Evald Erickson, formerly auto mechanic with George Smith of Bissel street, has bought out the interest of Leroy Roberts, garage man of Manchester Green and will take possession immediately.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the South Methodist church will meet with Mrs. Clarence Taylor at 161 West Center street on Thursday at 2:30 instead of at the church as announced in the calendar.

W. J. Warnock of Oakland, Cal., who came east several weeks ago, because of the serious illness of his father, started back to California today. He was accompanied by his sister-in-law, Mrs. W. E. Luetgens, who is going to visit her sister in California and expects to remain until September.

Memorial Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will hold its regular meeting Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. The rank of Knight will be conferred on a class of candidates.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Gentileore of 36 Birch street.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

CAR UPSIDE DOWN, 5 SLIGHTLY HURT

Manchester Fishermen Escape When Auto Top Isn't Crushed.

Five Manchester men owe their lives today to luck. Early yesterday morning the car in which they were riding skidded and turned over on Twin Hills in Bolton. All of the occupants of the automobile escaped with minor injuries. But the facts surrounding the accident make it seem almost inconceivable that they escaped death.

The Manchester party left here early yesterday morning enroute for Coventry lake on a fishing trip. The five who went on the trip were: Louis De Simone, 52 Bissel street; Gaetano Lupacchini, 17 Purnell Place; Charles Culatta, 132 Oak street; James Gravano, Birch street; and Ubaldo Acostinelli, 21 Oak street.

The impact shattered every window pane in the car but did not crush the top. This saved the lives of the five passengers, it is believed. Agostinelli was the first to climb the top withstood the tumble, was nevertheless badly damaged. He crawled through a broken window pane. At first he said he thought the others had been killed. When he discovered this was not so, he reached into the car and helped the other four out. Some of these also climbed through broken windows.

A nearby farmer heard the crash and rushed to their assistance. He took them to Manchester in another automobile where they received medical treatment.

De Simone, the one who is in the hospital, is suffering from a badly wrenched back. The remaining four, Lupacchini, Culatta, Gravano and Acostinelli all sustained minor injuries which were mostly confined to the head and shoulder. Lupacchini's back was sprained and Acostinelli received a cut on his left hand.

YALE FORESTRY CAMP WILL OPEN ON JULY 1. New Haven, May 24.—Yale forestry camp at Milford, Pa., will open July 1 with Prof. Harold S. Newins, of Pennsylvania State College, in charge, according to announcement by university officials here today. The camp is now in its 25th year and is open to all university students.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

Yale today announced also the appointment of Prof. John A. Ferguson, head of the Pennsylvania State College forestry department, as visiting professor of forestry at Yale next year.

MISS ADA M. PORTER WEDS EDWIN H. BRUSH

Married Saturday Evening at Home of Bride— Reception Follows Ceremony.

Miss Ada Mary Porter, daughter of Mrs. Ora C. Porter, 241 Gardner street and Edwin Homer Brush of Chicago, Ill., were married Saturday evening at eight o'clock at the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. Evans of the Buckingham Congregational church, a friend of the family.

As the wedding party entered the living room the bridal chorus from Lohengrin was played by Organist James Vincent Freeman of East Hartford. The bride and groom stood beneath an arch of palms and apple blossoms. The bride was given in marriage by Robert Dougan, a close friend of her father, the late Wesley B. Porter, the double ring service being used.

Miss Dorothy Porter, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Wesley B. Porter, her brother, was best man.

The bride was gowned in white satin trimmed with pearls. Her veil of tulle fell from a coronet of pearls. Her shower bouquet was of white roses, white lilacs and lilies of the valley.

Miss Dorothy Porter was attired in green georgette over white satin with hat of silver tulle. Her arm bouquet was of pink snapdragons and pink roses.

Following the ceremony a large-ly attended wedding reception was held, many guests being present from out of town, including a mixed quartette who rendered several numbers. The bride sang several solos and her brother, Wesley Porter played the violin.

The groom's gift to the bride was a rope of pearls and to his best man a scarf pin. The bride's gift to her maid of honor was a pair of pearl earrings.

Mr. and Mrs. Brush are leaving on a country-wide tour, the former being a well known magician and platform entertainer.

The bride was graduated from the local High school and studied at the New England Conservatory of music, and later for two years with some of the best New York teachers. Possessing a fine contralto voice, her services were much in demand not only in her home town but on the concert stage.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

SEEKING HER HUSBAND SHE INQUIRES HERE.

Does anyone in Manchester know a person named W. G. Hughes, who is 45 years old, five feet three inches tall, has black hair and brown eyes?

The Salvation Army headquarters in New York have asked Commandant Charles M. Abbott of the Manchester division to try and locate this person. In the letter to Commandant Abbott it states that the wife of this man has not heard from her husband since March, 1925.

She lives in Belfast, Ireland, and is desirous of communicating with her husband on an important matter. In the last word received from Mr. Hughes, he stated he was working for Messrs. Kirkes and Green, whisky merchants on Talbot street, Manchester, Conn.

$495

This baby grand will fit your home! Everyone can afford one at this low Watkins price. Easy terms, too, if you desire.

WATKINS BROTHERS

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Better Values Lower Prices on Men's-Straw Hats

Let us show you how to save a dollar on your straw hat. You'll find a very good assortment of Straws with fancy bands, made up with the easy fitting sweat band at $2 to $3.50. Panamas, $6. Toys, $2.85 to $3.50.

GLENNEY'S Next Door to Woolworth's

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

14 SPECIALS FOR TUESDAY ONLY

We will gladly cash your Cheney Brothers' Benefit Association dividend check for you.

WASHABLE Silk Dresses

Newest Styles $15 Sizes 16 to 46

Beautiful striped dresses for office, school, sport, and general wear. Every dress is guaranteed washable. One and two piece models with long or short sleeves. Heavy quality silk. Sizes 16 to 46. Come in tomorrow and look our assortment over!

Dresses — Second Floor.

EXTRA SPECIAL Rayon Brocaded Bed Spreads

$7.98 each Regular value $12.98

These spreads must be seen to be appreciated! Beautiful rayon brocaded bed spreads in plain colors or stripes in blue, rose, gold, and lavender. Sizes, 72x108 or 84x108 inches. Scalloped edge with cut corners. Last week when our buyer was in New York he saw these same bed spreads on sale in a New York store at $12.98. Just think of it—a saving of $5.00!

Bed Spreads — Main Floor.

Special! American Porcelain 42-Piece DINNER WARE

$6.50 Former value $10.

This is a splendid opportunity for the bride-to-be to buy her dinnerware and save money. American Porcelain dinnerware in a pink and gold border with medallion decorations. The set consists of 6 dinner plates, 6 bread and butter plates, 6 sauce dishes, 6 soup plates, 1 covered vegetable dish, 6 cups and saucers, 1 creamer, and 1 covered sugar bowl.

100 Piece Dinner Ware $14.95

Another bargain for the thrifty housewives. Handsome American porcelain dinnerware in blue band, and gold and blue scroll pattern. Regular value $18.75. Special tomorrow at $14.95.

Dinnerware — Basement.

CHILDREN'S COATS REDUCED 54-Inch TABLE CLOTHS, $1.98

Bring the young girl or boy down tomorrow night—Tuesday—and fit them out with a new spring coat. All the latest shades in sizes 4 to 6 years. $5.98 and $6.98 Coats... $4.98 $7.98 Coats... $5.98 $9.98 Coats... $7.98

A fine, heavy quality damask, good enough for most of us to use. Pure white and comes in handsome patterns. All pure linen. Truly a wonderful value! Special tomorrow at $1.98 a yard.

Just what you will want to take with you over the Memorial Day week-end! Tan and gray suede jackets with a knit band, collar and cuffs. Two large patch pockets.

Summer weight union suits with a silk stripe. Built up shoulders, loose or tight knee. Not all sizes.

Drug Specials 30c and 60c LESCO... 19c, 39c 50c and $1.00 GILLETTE BLADES... 32c and 64c 75c PURE COD LIVER OIL... 69c pint

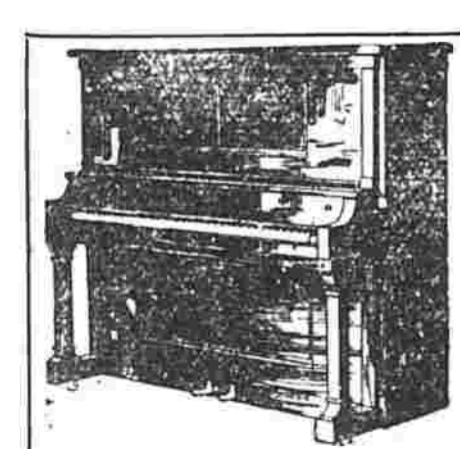

Only 10 More Days Left of Our Special Shoe Repairing Offer

Men's leather soles sewed on, regular price $1.50—now in my place, $1.00. Ladies' leather soles sewed on, regular price $1.25—now 75c. The very best leather used. We always try to satisfy at the

Boston Shoe Repair Shop 105 Spruce Street South Manchester

"Make the World Bright by having good sight" Warner Optical Co. 42 Asylum Street Hartford

"For Heaven's Sake"—See Harold Lloyd at State Theater now! —Adv.

$295.

A nationally known piano—brand new for $295. Guaranteed by manufacturer and by us. Has remarkable tone. See it.

Convenient Terms.

KEMP'S "Everything Musical"

W. G. Glenney Co. Manchester

REPAIRS ARE CHEAP NEGLECT IS COSTLY

SAVE your money by investing wisely now in necessary repairs. Put your house in order with a little easy work and there won't be any big, hard bills later on.

We have everything that you need for these odd jobs. Stop in and tell us what has to be done. You'll find that we can suggest many easy and economical ways of getting the job finished right.

W. G. Glenney Co. Manchester

Men! It Will Pay You To Stock Up On White Broadcloth Shirts

At This Price Special $1.79 each

OTHER WHITE SHIRTS $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00.

We are now showing a few new snappy patterns in Women's Blonde and Patent Leather Pumps for summer wear.

New Blouses and Shirts for Boys. Get a New Polka Dot Tie for Sport Wear. Lightweight Underwear.

A. L. BROWN & CO.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

CLASS FORMING

The classes formed last year are completing their courses. A violin outfit will be loaned and at the end of a course of lessons it becomes their property Free of Charge.

See: Timothy C. Sheehan 865 Main St. Orford Bldg. So. Manchester, Conn.

LOOK Reo 1 1/2 Ton Truck At Your Service! Soil for Sale. Ashes Drawn. Light Moving a Specialty.

OAKES & BUTLER Tel. 36-4.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Dependable Used Cars

1923 Dodge Type A Sedan. 1923 Dodge Type E Sedan, 2. 1925 Dodge Coupe. 1924 Dodge stake body Truck.

1922 Dodge Screen Truck. 1924 Graham 1 1/2 ton Truck. All these cars have been overhauled and are in A-1 condition.

H. A. Stephens Center and Knox Streets.

MARK HOLMES Undertaker Embalming - Funeral Director Lady Assistant. Phone 406-2. Depot Square, Manchester.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Only 10 More Days Left of Our Special Shoe Repairing Offer

Men's leather soles sewed on, regular price $1.50—now in my place, $1.00. Ladies' leather soles sewed on, regular price $1.25—now 75c.

The very best leather used. We always try to satisfy at the

Boston Shoe Repair Shop 105 Spruce Street South Manchester

"Make the World Bright by having good sight" Warner Optical Co. 42 Asylum Street Hartford

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Dependable Used Cars

1923 Dodge Type A Sedan. 1923 Dodge Type E Sedan, 2. 1925 Dodge Coupe. 1924 Dodge stake body Truck.

1922 Dodge Screen Truck. 1924 Graham 1 1/2 ton Truck. All these cars have been overhauled and are in A-1 condition.

H. A. Stephens Center and Knox Streets.

MARK HOLMES Undertaker Embalming - Funeral Director Lady Assistant. Phone 406-2. Depot Square, Manchester.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.

Harold Lloyd at the State now! —Adv.