

LIGHTS BLOOEY, PHONES DUMB; WHO CARES?

Is Manchester the Kind of Town to Kick About That Price for Coolness?
Well, Hardly!

The showers last evening broke the crest of the heat wave in Manchester. It was time for this town suffered more yesterday than it did the day before.

In the first place a prostration was reported. Next the mill employees suffered more. It was given out that anyone who wished to take the afternoon off might do so and it is estimated that about half took advantage of the offer.

It was reported that under cloth in tobacco fields the thermometer registered 135. This could not be verified. At any rate the plantation children could not keep up picking and had to give up the work yesterday afternoon. This was the first time that has happened in years. That 35 gallons of water had been drunk by the children alone, and that in the morning hours.

The storm
About 10 o'clock last night a rumble presaged the storm. A single bolt went from sky to earth with relief went up from every one. Came the rain and also lightning; also all lights out for a short time because one of the bolts hit a wire in this vicinity. No one seemed to care about the temporary darkness in the break in the heat wave. At the State theatre they were having a battle of music but it caused no confusion because a few hand spot lights were used to illumine the stage.

The rain came down in half hour periods until about midnight. Then there was a lull until about 6 o'clock this morning. This storm of about half hour's duration caused the big grief. A bolt struck in the neighborhood of the Middle Turnpike which brought out all of the trouble men of the telephone company. It was reported by the wire chief that at least 100 telephones in the neighborhood had been put out of commission by the bolt.

Supt. Heebner of the electric light company said this morning that he could not say what damage the bolt caused to the wires. He said he would have to wait until tonight when the lights are turned on to find whether any were out of commission.

Two Manchester women were slightly injured in a rush for exits when lightning struck the rear end of a Manchester trolley car at Bidwell street in East Hartford just before 10 o'clock last night. Both rear seats started to blaze and the passengers crowded toward the front exits.

The two women, Miss Lillian Grabowski of 32 Division street, and Miss Alida Macdonald of 193 Center street, were brought here in automobiles.

East Hartford firemen put out the blaze. The car was shunted to the Interurban switch at Bidwell's

DEMPEY-WILLS FIGHT
ALL SET, CLUB CLAIMS

Chicago, July 23.—The Chicago Coliseum Club announced today that Jack Dempsey will defend his title as world's heavyweight champion against Harry Wills, negro challenger, in Chicago on a day between September 16 and September 20.

The club declared it held contracts with both the fighters and that it was prepared to show in court Tex Rickard, New York promoter, could not go through with this announced Dempsey-Gene Tunney bout, scheduled in Chicago, September 11.

The Dempsey-Wills fight will be held in Soldiers' Field stadium or the White Sox or Cub ball parks, it was said.

The club also announced Paddy Mullins, manager of Wills, would arrive here Monday from New York, and Wills would follow shortly to start training and that Dempsey, now in Colorado Springs, would be instructed to come to Chicago immediately.

Both Dempsey and Wills would establish training quarters here, according to the announcement.

Gene Normie, Jack Dempsey's agent, who in Chicago, refused comment on the Coliseum-Club announcement and would not conjecture as to what the champion will do. He said, however, Dempsey recently told him he regarded the Coliseum contract as void and that he intended to fight only for Rickard.

Dempsey was reported as "in training" at Colorado Springs.

IRISH JUDGES MUST WEAR ENGLISH WIGS

SOLDIERS KEEP ON DESPITE THE HEAT

Light Training Resorted to However—Men Flock to Beaches at Dismissal.

Dublin, July 23.—The Irish Senate today voted that Irish judges shall wear the traditional English model of wigs and gowns.

Senator William Yeats vainly implored the Senate not to continue English traditions.

Washington, July 23.—American's poliest, coldest, surest method of murder—one that virtually is impossible of detection—was described today by Dr. Thomas Cajigas, pathologist at George Washington university.

Hundreds of persons who die annually of typhoid fever, tuberculosis and other maladies are coldly murdered by calculating slayers who systematically administer disease germs to them through food and drink, according to Dr. Cajigas.

Every month Dr. Cajigas handles sufficient bacilli of diseases, ranging from Asiatic cholera to an ordinary bad cold, to wipe out the population of the United States.

Seeks Legislation
Years of study of disease germs led Dr. Cajigas to advocate enactment of legislation which would regulate the sale and distribution of bacilli.

"Deadly germs of typhoid and diphtheria certainly should be made as difficult to obtain as habit-forming drugs," Dr. Cajigas declared.

In many government laboratories, medical schools and other institutions all over the country engaged in the study of disease, supplies of germs are maintained. They may be obtained from these agencies with comparative ease, Cajigas declared.

"Germs may be secured in tubes and are perfectly safe for an experienced man to handle. The disease 'bugs' multiply rapidly."

Thousands of medical students have access to disease germs, Cajigas declared that there are literally billions of typhoid, tuberculosis and other bacilli in the possession of these students.

MANY SLAIN BY GERM POISONERS SAYS EXPERT

Cajigas, G. W. U. Pathologist, Asserts Bacilli Are Weapon of Politest, Surest Murderers.

Washington, July 23.—American's poliest, coldest, surest method of murder—one that virtually is impossible of detection—was described today by Dr. Thomas Cajigas, pathologist at George Washington university.

Hundreds of persons who die annually of typhoid fever, tuberculosis and other maladies are coldly murdered by calculating slayers who systematically administer disease germs to them through food and drink, according to Dr. Cajigas.

Every month Dr. Cajigas handles sufficient bacilli of diseases, ranging from Asiatic cholera to an ordinary bad cold, to wipe out the population of the United States.

Seeks Legislation
Years of study of disease germs led Dr. Cajigas to advocate enactment of legislation which would regulate the sale and distribution of bacilli.

"Deadly germs of typhoid and diphtheria certainly should be made as difficult to obtain as habit-forming drugs," Dr. Cajigas declared.

In many government laboratories, medical schools and other institutions all over the country engaged in the study of disease, supplies of germs are maintained. They may be obtained from these agencies with comparative ease, Cajigas declared.

"Germs may be secured in tubes and are perfectly safe for an experienced man to handle. The disease 'bugs' multiply rapidly."

Thousands of medical students have access to disease germs, Cajigas declared that there are literally billions of typhoid, tuberculosis and other bacilli in the possession of these students.

Here's the Regular Annual About the Penned-up Dogs

White Pines Camp, N. Y., July 23.—No summer is complete unless the public is regaled with the harrowing details of how a White House dog is placed in solitary confinement.

So here goes:

"The Times" and "The Star," formidable police dogs belonging to Irvin Kirkwood, owner of the White Pines camp, where President and Mrs. Coolidge are spending their annual vacation, have been penned up.

The imprisonment is a purely protective gesture, designed to save "Rob Roy" and "Prudence Prim," collies, from annihilation.

Oshkosh white collies are wonderful pets and beautiful to behold but it appears that fighting is not in their line.

When the presidential party first arrived, the Kirkwood dogs were on hand to greet their blue-blooded canine visitors. So vociferous was the greeting, according to secret service men, that Rob Roy and Prudence Prim took to the woods.

Recently The Times and The Star undertook to renew the acquaintance and now they are confined to quarters in the caretaker's lodge, two miles away from the visiting aristocracy.

The Kirkwood dogs are really half wild. They had been set free to roam at will through the 65-acre estate for the past year and they seem to resent any invasion.

Last year the Coolidges were somewhat annoyed by the antics of Paul Pry, an Alreadale who had a predilection for trowsee legs and mongrel associates. He finally was banished to the summer White House at Swampscott.

10 DIE, 38 INJURED IN AUTOBUS CRASH

Bear Mountain Touring Party
All Killed or Hurt in Speeding Accident.

Nyack, N. Y., July 23.—Eight women and two girls are dead today and 38 others suffering from injuries, some of them very serious, as a result of the overturning of a sight-seeing bus last night at Sparkill, near here.

Every person in the bus was either killed or injured.

The party, all from Brooklyn, was returning from Bear Mountain. The bus was speeding down a hill when the brakes refused to hold at a sharp turn at the bottom of the hill and the vehicle tumbled a somersault, crashing against the windows of a store.

Driver, who was only slightly injured, was arrested and held in jail for grand jury action.

Die Almost Instantly
The dead are Mrs. Katherine Barth, Marguerite Ripper, 17; Mrs. Henry Schultz, Katherine Albert, 5; Mrs. Carrie Englehardt, Mrs. Mary Reiser; Mrs. Swenke, Emma Billings.

Besides these are two unidentified women.

Physicians at the Nyack hospital, where the injured were taken, feared that several of the injured would die.

Fifteen passengers whose injuries were not serious were taken home by Brooklyn this morning.

Sparkill policemen found the woman and children groaning and struggling under the wrecked bus. Members of the fire department were summoned to lift the bus and, aided by villagers, extricated the victims. Eight had been killed almost instantly.

The injured were rushed to the hospital in various conveyances.

The village vicar carried several of the victims in his heavy wagon, forcing his horses into a four-mile run.

Accused Driver
The crash was directly due to the recklessness of the driver, it was charged by one of the survivors.

Mrs. Madeline Rembeck, suffering from shock, lacerations and contusions, declared that the high speed at which the machine was traveling on a down grade was responsible for the driver's losing control.

SAYS AMUNDSEN
NEARLY SPOILED
POLAR FLIGHT

Norge Glory Rumpus Brings Out Italian's Charge of Sloth Against Explorer;
Nobile "a Chauffeur."

Rome, July 3.—The credit due Gen. Umberto Nobile, captain and designer of the dirigible Norge, was no more than that due a good chauffeur, Roald Amundsen, Arctic explorer, was quoted today as having said by S. Quattrini, an Italian reporter who accompanied the dirigible on its flight from Rome to King's Bay, Spitzbergen.

Amundsen, according to Quattrini, made the statement in conversation with the captain of the Norwegian warship Helmdal at King's Bay. The statement was overheard by a Norwegian sailor, who reported it indignantly to the quarters of the Italians.

Accuses Amundsen
Quattrini accused Amundsen generally of deliberately seeking to belittle Nobile's contribution to the Polar flight.

Quattrini charged that Amundsen spread false reports of the slight Nobile, saying that during the Rome-to-Pulham hop the Norge was piloted by an Englishman.

Secondly he said Amundsen concealed the fact that the bodies of Petrograd had given the Italian leader a remarkable reception.

Finally, Quattrini said, Amundsen almost caused the failure of the expedition by failing to respond immediately to a hairy call when a change of wind made an immediate hop-off advisable.

Hour and Half Late
Amundsen, according to Quattrini, did not appear until an hour and fifty minutes after being called, forcing Nobile to unload 400 pounds of oil.

Quattrini asserted that even President Tommas of the Oslo Aero Club deplored Amundsen's attitude toward Nobile, and begged the Italian to forgive the expedition leader.

SAYS LEVIATHAN IS "RUM PALACE"

Stayton Charges That U. S.
Shipping Board Ship Is Bootleggers' Paradise.

Washington, July 23.—Charges that the giant Leviathan is a floating bootlegger's palace will be investigated by the United States Shipping Board, Chairman T. V. O'Connor announced today.

Declaring prohibition is enforced neither on land nor sea, W. H. Stayton, chairman of the association Against the Prohibition Amendment, asserted liquor is sold openly consumed as the result of a plea between New York and European ports.

"The government doesn't sell booze and I don't believe the ship's officers countenance bootlegging," said O'Connor.

Baggage of passengers is not inspected for liquor, he said. Sale of booze on government-owned ships was stopped some two years ago.

But Stayton's informer says Scotch can be bought from the steward for $12 a bottle and that passengers openly mix gin, vermouth and whiskey.

His correspondent suggested that the government start padlock proceedings against its own ship. The United States attorney in New York is investigating charges that liquor is being sold aboard the Leviathan, shipping board liner, the Treasury declared today.

Periodic searches of the Leviathan and other ships have been made by New York customs officials but no evidence of liquor violations thus far has been found, it was said.

JUNIOR LEAGUER IS SHOP LIFTER

New York Society Girl Who Jilted a King's Cousin Sent to Sanitarium.

New York, July 23.—Claire Cornell, New York and Palm Beach society girl, was sentenced to a prison cell today after pleading guilty to stealing two vases from a Fifth Avenue shop when the court paroled her with the understanding she would be sent to a sanitarium.

The probation officer reported the girl was suffering from a nervous disease and said she had stolen $800 in merchandise from another store.

A favorite in Junior League circles, with social contacts extending to the European titled set, Miss Cornell took the money, Miss Cornell was the special sessions judge in silence. She was modestly dressed in a quiet costume.

Miss Cornell was formerly the wife of Robert Ten Eyck Stevenson, young costume designer and son of a prominent Chicago family. When the society girl eloped with Stevenson, it was reported she had jilted the Marquis de Avelles, cousin of the king of Spain.

An interlocutory decree ended the Cornell-Stevenson marriage last June 28.

HATS HER HEIGHT IN LIPSTICK IN 4 YEARS

Kansas City, July 23.—Renewing her ruby lips twelve times a day, the little flapper eats her own height in lipsticks every four years, according to the compilation of the Kansas City Druggists Association.

If she is four feet tall, a two inch stick will be used in about two months, or a foot a year.

LIGHTNING BURNS
TOBACCO, HOUSING

Hatfield Barns and Warehouse Go With Loss of Quarter Million.

Hatfield, Mass., July 23.—Fire resulting from lightning caused estimated quarter of a million dollar damage in the tobacco warehouse district here early today.

Barns owned by William H. Burke were set ablaze by a lightning bolt and the flames spread to a warehouse belonging to Mrs. Carrie Billings and containing 1,000 cases of leaf tobacco belonging to the I. P. Lorillard Co.

Save One Warehouse
Firemen saved another warehouse containing 800 cases of Lorillard tobacco.

Trees felled by a terrific storm knocked down telephone wires and caused a costly delay in communicating with Northampton, near here, for aid.

SUBWAY STRIKE OVER;
EMPLOYEES SEEK JOBS

Walkout a Failure as Desertions of Ranks Increase; Leaders Blame Mayor.

New York, July 23.—New York's subway strike, which began July 6, is ended.

The general committee of the striking motormen and switchmen, voted last night to go back to work and to ask for their old jobs this morning.

Strike leaders blamed their failure to win the strike on Mayor Walker "because of his failure to intervene."

They also were disheartened by desertions from their ranks and by the effective moves of Frank Hedley, head of the "scab" forces, in blocking union pickets.

Motormen and switchmen seeking to return to their old jobs met with rebuffs from subway officials who refused to treat with them except as individuals.

The ultimatum was delivered when 350 strikers called at the yard and immediately turned about and marched back to their headquarters, leaving the situation up in the air.

POLES FIND SPY GROUP, SAY BERLIN GUIDES IT

100 Arrests Made, Police Accuse
German Officer as Organization's Head.

Warsaw, July 23.—More than a hundred arrests have been made as the result of an alleged espionage organization, uncovered by the police.

The police charge that the organization, composed largely of Ukrainian students, is directed from Berlin and is headed by a former German general staff officer, Kunisch.

LIGHTNING KNOCKS OUT TWO BUT DOES NO HARM

A bolt of lightning this morning in a playful mood, did no damage in Talcottville but knocked out two persons and three cows.

Mrs. William Prentice who lives at the end of Depot road, was milking this morning. Her husband was repairing a fence. A sound "ke the sound of a whip cracking" and three cows in the barn toppled over.

Mr. Prentice was the first to recover. He dashed into the barn and found his wife on the ground and three cows prostrate. Getting some water he first revived his wife and later the cows came.

Strange to say there was no fire nor was there a mark on the barn nor was the bolt estranged the barn. And still stranger, the stool on which Mrs. Prentice sat and the milk pail into which she was milking, had not been upset.

AUSTRALIA DISASTERS
London, July 23.—Enormous damage has been caused by extensive floods throughout western Australia, according to Sydney advices to the Central News today. A tornado wrought havoc in southern Victoria. Many houses and churches were destroyed and the roofs of at least a hundred were torn off by the high wind.

MELLON LANDS IN FRANCE TO AVOID DEBATE

Will Not Allow Himself to Be Trapped Into Jangle
With Churchill on Subject of Debt.

London, July 23.—Secretary Mellon is determined not to be trapped into a debate with Winston Churchill, British chancellor of the exchequer, over the Anglo-American debt question.

Before landing in France today, the secretary of the treasury dodged an invitation, wireless to the Majestic, to comment on Churchill's latest utterance that Britain had suffered "adverse discrimination from the United States."

The wireless also informed Mellon of the agitation afoot in England to utilize his visit to Europe as an occasion for a new discussion of the inter-allied debts question, and of the Daily Mail's campaign for cancellation.

Non-Committal
That Mellon is fully conscious of the gravity of the situation was indicated by the cautiousness of his reply. He answered by radio from the Majestic that he did not desire to make known publicly whether or not he would be willing at this time to undertake new debt negotiations with Britain and France, it either should require.

By landing in France instead of England, Mellon is generally believed to have indicated a desire to avoid reports that he had come to England to discuss the debt question with Churchill.

Although Churchill's address partially backed up the Daily Mail's vehement campaign against Mellon, especially with reference to the Mail's contradiction of Mellon's statement that Britain borrowed from the United States largely for commercial purposes, it is officially declared that Churchill's lengthy reply to Mellon does not alter the British policy of requesting no changes in the present funding agreement between the two countries.

It was made clear, however, that British would not overlook a chance of getting better terms, should the United States initiate new negotiations.

GOES TO PARIS.

Paris, July 23.—Secretary Mellon arrived at Cherbourg, where the White Star's Majestic today.
He started at once by automobile for Paris.

SEEKS WILBUR'S VIEW ON MUNITION DUMPS

White Pines Camp, N. Y., July 23.—Further consideration of the munitions problem brought to the fore recently by the disastrous explosion of the naval arsenal at Lake Denmark, N. J., will be forthcoming over the week-end here when Secretary of the Navy Wilbur arrives as a guest of President and Mrs. Coolidge.

The president already has discussed the matter with Secretary of War Davis and the latter has suggested that all service explosives be concentrated in two or three depositories, located in isolated spots.

Mr. Coolidge now desires to get the views of his naval adviser for he has received many complaints from those communities bordering on arsenals and munitions dumps, urging their removal to other sites.

PRESIDENT INVITES NAVY HEAD TO CAMP FOR CONFERENCE ON STORAGE PROBLEM.

White Pines Camp, N. Y., July 23.—Further consideration of the munitions problem brought to the fore recently by the disastrous explosion of the naval arsenal at Lake Denmark, N. J., will be forthcoming over the week-end here when Secretary of the Navy Wilbur arrives as a guest of President and Mrs. Coolidge.

The president already has discussed the matter with Secretary of War Davis and the latter has suggested that all service explosives be concentrated in two or three depositories, located in isolated spots.

Mr. Coolidge now desires to get the views of his naval adviser for he has received many complaints from those communities bordering on arsenals and munitions dumps, urging their removal to other sites.

CAPTAIN OF HARDING PERFORMS MARRIAGE

New York, July 23.—Captain Theodore Van Bock, who brought the S. S. President Harding into port today, has a poor opinion of the Shipping Board ruling that captains may not marry passengers at sea.

He told of officiating at a wedding on the east-bound voyage, and was asked if he had heard of the board's ruling.

"Yes," he said, "I have heard of it, but I haven't paid much attention to it. It is simply a Shipping Board lawyer's opinion and I don't believe the lawyer knows all the rules about shipping."

"If it was a supreme court ruling then it would be a ruling. However, I'll obey the orders of my superiors."

Saw Buffalo Bill in Battle;
Reported the Death of Sitting Bull

"As the Indians, thousands of 'em, advanced, 'Buffalo Bill' without a word of command rushed down the steep mountain trail on horseback. The soldiers followed him. Straight toward the Redskins he rode, galloping. His two guns firing as he went. In a moment there was a battle, the likes of which few now living ever saw. Not the trench fighting of the World War. Not the gas bombs and tear gas and 'flammen throwing' of the Germans. No whirl of airplanes overhead. No wireless communication. No cannon that fired fifty miles. No nothing but primitive warfare and scalping with Indians aroused to a white fury because of a supposed visit of the Indian Messiah, who told them that if the whites were exterminated their land would be given back to them. Sitting Bull, crafty Napoleon of Indians, directing one side. 'Buffalo Bill' directing the U. S. soldiers. Hundreds of casualties. A historic struggle. 'The Battle of Wounded Knee'."

A "Holy War" If Ever There Was One.

A movie, you say? Rather interesting. Those films of western life are greatly exaggerated. Nothing happened in America like that except in the movies, alleged historical novels and tales that mothers tell children to scare them so that they will behave.

Are They?

THIS IS JUST STRAIGHT NEWSPAPER REPORTING BY A REPORTER WHO WAS ACTUALLY ON THE SCENE.

He is a Manchester man, of course, and he dictates it himself for tomorrow's

CHICAGO TALLIES FOUR KILLINGS FOR THE DAY

Chicago, July 23.—A millionaire chef owner, a detective, a watchman and a negro bandit are dead here after another gangland upheaval.

Philip Piazza, owner of the Milano cafe, Chicago Heights, was assassinated by gunmen in the doorway of his establishment.

Theodore Anderson, detective, was killed by two negroes who tried to hold him up. Fifteen minutes later his slayer was shot and killed by police.

Harry Kind, watchman, was beaten to death with a crowbar when he tried to resist safe robbers.

TREASURY BALANCE.
Washington, July 23.—Treasury balance as of July 21: $216,596,981.97.

Herald
"Out at Noon"

GEOGHEAN, MANCHESTER, LEADS IN GOLF MEET

Hartford, July 23.—J. J. ("Bud") Geoghean of the Manchester club, with a 73 led in the field in the first 18 holes at the Hartford golf club today, for the Hartford district championship.

Geoghean had a score of 28 out and 35 in. His score showed one birdie going out and one going over par coming home.

Geoghean was closely pressed by John Bill of Wethersfield, with 74. Other low scores were: Ger. Smart, Wethersfield, 79; Frank Ross, Paquin, 80; M. W. Des Chants, Manchester, 81; Bobby Grant, Goodwin Park, 82; Walter Patterson, Hartford, 82; Percy Rockwell Hartford, 83; Fred Jarvis, Jr., Goodwin Park, 83; E. B. Norris, Hartford, 85; Robinson Cooke, Hartford, 86; L. L. Boardman, Wethersfield, 90; Fred Patient Hartford, 92.

SIX HURT IN L BUMP
New York, July 23.—Six persons, one a woman, were slightly injured today when a ninth avenue elevated local train crashed into the rear end of a Sixth Avenue local at the South Ferry station.

MANCHESTER ORCHESTRA DEFEATS WILLIMANTIC

In the "Battle of Music" staged at the State theater last night, Tom Trant's Jolly Eight of Manchester was given the decision over Ev Allen's Melody Boys of Willimantic. Trant's syncopators proved too good for the Thread City musicians all through the program.

draw a big hand from the crowded house. Manager Jack Sanson announced today that he would start rehearsals for his Kiddie revue next week. Parents who want their children to appear in this show should hand their names to Manager Sanson this week.

C. N. G. ORDERS. Hartford, July 23.—John J. Cunneen has been promoted from first sergeant in Co. C, 102nd Infantry, C. N. G., to second lieutenant in place of Lieut. Flood, resigned, and is assigned to duty with his old company.

Capt. Otto H. Schroeter, Battery A, 152nd Field Artillery, has been granted permission to leave the United States from August 7 to September 15, next.

We are serving all the newest and popular ice cream dishes at our fountain.—Quinn's.—Adv.

CANTALOUPE EATERS, WEARY OF BEING FOOLED, HAIL PRESERVING PROCESS

There's a lot of truth in the old Barmucic axiom that the public likes to be fooled, but this falls far from true before breakfast. Realizing this, two New York engineers decided to remove the guesswork from the often disappointing business of peeping into the morning cantaloupe to see whether it is rotten, spoiled, over-ripe or just right.

They wanted some assurance that whenever they found a California cantaloupe on their breakfast table, it would be in as good condition as the day it was picked in the Imperial Valley.

Put a Coat On It. This is made possible by means of a new preservative method known as the celloco process, which consists of applying a transparent coating to the fruit, hermetically sealing and protecting it from all deteriorative influences.

Cantaloupes, ripened to the exact degree, leave the packing plant at Brawley, Calif., and arrive in New York City and all points east retaining their full flavor and condition.

The packing plant at Brawley was designed for Miller Cummings Co., by G. W. Beadle and H. I. Beadle, New York engineers. The plant is capable of handling over 150 cantaloupes per minute, working the same number of employees heretofore engaged in the sorting and packing process.

The old system of wrapping each melon in tissue paper is done away with. Packers at the new plant simply grade the fruit into the crates, the tops are adjusted and the crates are ready for the car.

Released from the conveyor, the fruit passes through a hydro cooling system, thence by a system of conveyors under a large battery of fans, drying and solidifying the coating.

From the dryers, the cantaloupes are distributed to the packers ready for the crates. All this has been done by machinery. No human hand touches the fruit once it is fed into the machine until it has received its transparent cover of celloco and is ready for the crate.

Packers are watching the new installation and believe that one of their most difficult problems, that of condition on arrival, has been solved.

In addition to its other advantages, the new process enables the packer to crate the more choice or ripe fruit knowing that it will reach its destination in exactly the same condition that it left the shed.

RECITES POEM HE MEMORIZED 63 YEARS AGO

Into the South End office of The Herald came yesterday a little man, clad in overalls. He wore a grey beard. Said he: "I am John F. Jones, of Andover. I am 72 years old. I work a little about the farm. When I was ten years old I memorized this poem which I read about 1863. Then he recited the following:

"Sing a song of greenbacks, And a pocket full of trash, Over head and in in debt, And out of ready cash; Heaps of tax collectors, As busy as a bee— Aint' we in a pretty fix, With gold as sixty-three.

Abe in the White House, A proclamation writing; Meade on the revenue, Afraid to do the fighting; Seward in the cabinet, Surrounded by his spies; Halleck with the telegraph, A-busy forming lies.

Chase in the treasury, Making worthless notes; Curin at Harrisburg, A-making shoddy coats; Gilmore at Charleston, Lost in the fog; Farney under Old Abe's chair, Barking like a dog.

Shannon down in Baltimore, Doing dirty work; Butler at Norfolk, As savage as a Turk; Sprague in Rhode Island, Eating apple sauce; Every thing at Gettysburg, Talking like an ass.

Banks out in Texas, Trying to cut a figure; Beasting at Brooklyn, A-knowing like a nigger; Lots of abolitionists, Kicking up a yell; In comes parson Bremlow, And sends them all to Hell.

Burnside at Navasville, In a trying fix; Dahlgren at Sumter, A-pounding at the brick; Grant at Chattanooga, A-trying Bragg to thrash— And is it any wonder If the Nation goes to smash?"

What it is all about maybe old Civil War veterans will remember. However, a reporter took the old man's word for it.

BON AMI SOCIAL CLUB OUTING ON SATURDAY

The second annual outing of the Bon Ami social club will be held at Riverside Park, Springfield, Saturday, July 24. The members and their guests, numbering about 150, will leave the factory promptly at 8 a. m. in 32 private cars. The day's activities will include athletic games of a varied nature, dinner at the hotel, swimming in the pool, dancing and the regular amusements of the park.

FRANK DIANA HEADS RED MEN OFFICERS

The local tribe of Red Men held its annual election of officers in Tinker hall last night. The following officers were named: Chief, Frank Diana; Senior Sagamore, William J. Leggett; Junior Sagamore, Irving Keeney; Prophet, Walter Montie; First Sammat, Walter Gustafson; Second Sammat, Max Wagner; Guard of Wigwam, Joseph Coffel; Guard of Forest, Fred Warlock; First Warrior, Francis Tournaud; Second Warrior, Wm. D. Smith; Third Warrior, Jacob Laufel; Fourth Warrior, John R. Wilson; First Brave, Frank Hurlock; Second Brave, Anthony Tournaud; Third Brave, Sherwood Pfan; Fourth Brave, George R. Wilson.

After the meeting and election of officers refreshments were served.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Any Scouts and Brownies desiring to take part in the Junior Chautauqua fund-raising drive to be held at the Center at 8:30 Saturday evening, daylight time, in costume and with some noise making instrument if possible. Prizes will be given for the best costumes.

SCHOOLMA'AMS FIND GIRLS AT FAULT FOR IDLENESS

London.—Girls who can't find positions equal to their capabilities have their own selves to blame. So was the conclusion reached by the Association of Headmistresses in their report, read at the annual convention of the Association here.

"Many girls object to getting to work at nine o'clock in the morning," the report stated, declaring that this disinclination to get out of bed early in the morning was ruining the careers of many working girls.

BRITISH-AMERICAN CRISIS OXFORD LECTURE SUBJECT

London.—"Some British-American Crises" is the title of a lecture course begun here by Dr. Robert McElroy, the Harold Vyvyan Hensworth professor of American History at Oxford University.

The lectures are being given under the auspices of the Sulgrave Manor Board, expending the finances of a foundation looking toward creating in England a wider knowledge of America.

The lectures deal with political, historical and economic phases in the life of the two nations.

EGYPT FORCES EXCAVATORS TO QUIT SEARCHES

London.—As a direct consequence of recent squabbles with the Egyptian Antiquities Department, Professor Sir W. M. Flinders Petrie, the world famous English Egyptologist, has decided to abandon all excavation work in Egypt and transfer his staff to Palestine.

Archaeologists working in Egypt are said to be constantly irritated by the "high-handed" action of the newly-formed Antiquities Department, which has at its head Pierre-Lacaze, a Frenchman.

It is stated that they are being asked to sign agreements with Lacaze which give his department practically despotic powers over almost every detail of their work.

Petrie has intimated that he considers some of the regulations to be so ludicrous that it is impossible for him to make any further plans for work in Egypt, for the same reason a party of skilled American excavators at Thebes have abandoned all excavation work, and there is a likelihood of other excavators withdrawing.

Worked Fifty Years. "I am bringing my fifty years work in Egypt to a close this year," said Professor Petrie in an interview here, "and am going to South Palestine, where every assistance is given to archaeologists. The dog-in-the-manger attitude taken up by the authorities in Egypt has made it impossible for me to continue my work. The situation there from the point of view of archaeologists is nothing short of farcical.

"The old law concerning finds made by excavators was that the finder should have half of what he found. The other half was taken by the government. This was fair enough, although the government generally took the better half. New laws introduced empower the government to take everything the excavator found so long as his expenses were paid. That meant that the government could take anything of great interest and simply give the archaeologist back his expenses. These regulations, however, were only once put into force.

"Now, however, Lacaze requires that no workmen shall be employed without official sanction for each individual man. No visitors may be admitted to one's excavations without the same official sanction, and one may not employ a European on the work unless he, too, has been individually sanctioned by the Antiquities Department.

Strict Rules. "An excavator may not put up any shed or building on the site of his work without first consulting and submitting the plan of such a building to the headquarters. Every find made by an excavator, under the new agreement which he is required to sign, has to be placed at the disposal of the Director of the Department of Antiquities. The agreement also gives the director the right to appoint a native inspector to oversee the work, while the excavator has to pay the man's salary.

"A further rule instituted by the authorities says that no workman may be paid for any small finds he makes. The result has been that hundreds of small specimens which would normally have been preserved are being overlooked by the native workers.

"I have always paid my men the best value for the finds they make. This is made them careful not to overlook anything, and also resulted in the careful handling of finds. Now, site after site is being ruined.

HAYMAKERS PLANNING BIG TIME AT JARVIS GROVE

The local Haymakers Loft is planning a big time at Jarvis Grove Saturday night. The Middletown Haymakers degree team will work the degree on a class of candidates. Deputy John Thompson of New London with his staff will be present to install the recently elected officers of the local Loft. A grand supper will be served.

SALAD KING FREED FROM MEXICAN JAIL

Mexico City, July 23.—John Franklin Howard, the "salad king" of Haverhill, Mass., has been released from jail in Cuernavaca, where he was held pending charges of having obtained a fraudulent divorce.

The judge of the fifth federal district in Mexico City issued a court order calling for the removal of Howard from the penal court at Cuernavaca to the jurisdiction of his own court.

Howard announced today that "all bets are off" on the tentative agreement for a settlement with his wife in Haverhill, which he seriously considered in jail.

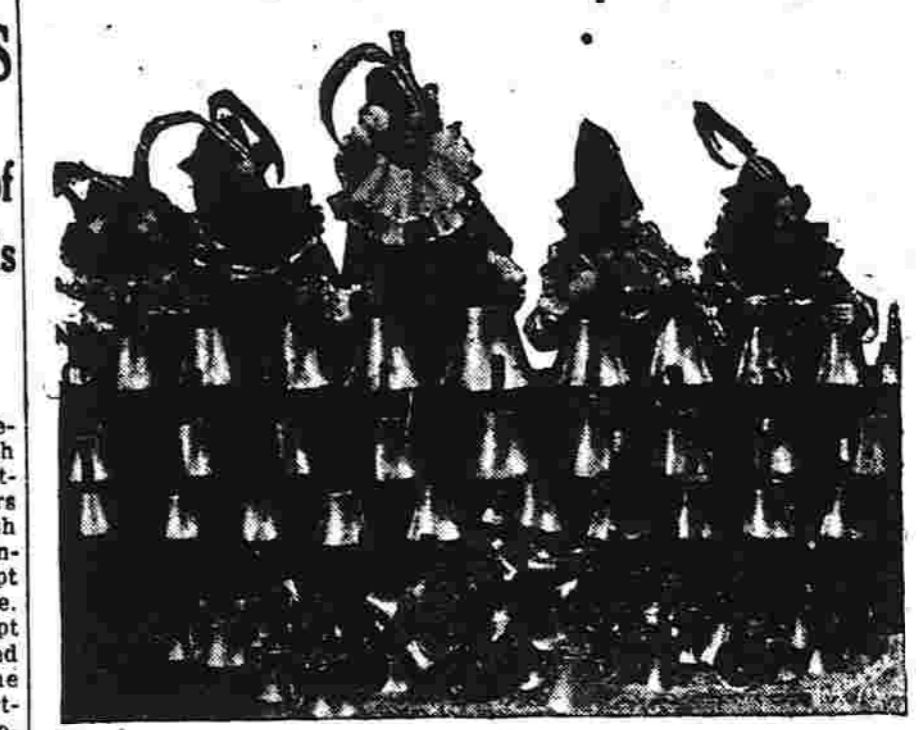

CHILDREN DIE IN FIRE

Edmondton, Alta., July 23.—When the stable in which they were sleeping caught fire, Ena, 14, Samuel, 9 and Herman 6, children of Henry Hammermaster, farmer, were burned to death.

DISBURSED

Old friend, I pity you. Why? I have bought my wife a new gown and she has just gone to show it to your wife.—Klods Hans, Copenhagen.

Musical Bell Ringing A Chautauqua Feature

Dunbar Singing Bell Ringers

It is doubtful if any musical feature has ever been presented to the American public which has won greater favor or obtained a wider following than that of musical bell ringing. The art was brought to America first in the '40s by the late P. T. Barnum. While touring England he heard a group of a dozen church bell ringers practicing upon hand bells, and he conceived the idea of using a large peal of bells and playing more elaborate music.

These bells were made in England, as the world's best bells always have been, but in conformity with his unflinching originality as an advertiser, he dressed the players, both men and women, in the costumes of Swiss peasants, and called the company, "The Swiss Bell Ringers." For many years this company toured the United States in wagons before railroads were at all general. The art at that time was so successful that our grandfathers recall most vividly the visit of the Swiss Bell Ringers to their native towns.

It seems that thereafter the art fell into disuse and it was not really perfected or revived in any worthy way until 1898, when Ralph Dunbar and his brother founded the famous Dunbar Bell Ringers at St. Joseph, Mo. These brothers went to England and had made under their personal supervision a peal of bells which was undoubtedly the most complete and most perfect set of bells ever cast.

These bells were made under their own personal supervision by the same bellfounders that cast the great bells of Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's Cathedral in London, as well as practically all of the well known church bells of the world. The peal embraced more than five octaves chromatic and through the middle register there were as many as six bells of the same note. The vogie of the Dunbar Bell Ringers was the most notable of any similar company which has appeared on the American concert platform. They gave more than 2,800 concerts up to 1917 when both Harry and Ralph Dunbar resigned their places in the Quartet to others. The company up to then had traveled 490,000 miles in America and Europe. The Dunbar Brothers collected hundreds of pages of newspaper material publicizing regarding their tours, but Chautauqua patrons are sufficiently familiar with this widely known concert company to recall the marvelous musical effects which this quartet of players obtained from their splendid peal of bells.

It may be interesting to know that the largest of these bells weighed 23 pounds and measured 16 inches in diameter. The company appearing at the Chautauqua this year carries a Dunbar peal of bells and is trained and coached by Ralph Dunbar, the surviving Dunbar brother.

RHINELANDER FIGHTS $12,000 FEE VERDICT

Will Appeal from Allowance to Wife for Lawyers and from Annulment Decision. White Plains, N. Y., July 23.—Not only will Leonard Kip Rhinelander appeal to the Appellate Division from the decision dismissing his complaint in a suit for annulment of marriage, but he will also appeal from the allowance of $12,000 additional counsel fees.

Formal notice of both appeals was on file today with the county clerk. The two decisions in favor of Alice Jones Rhinelander, of New Rochelle, were signed only two months ago by Supreme Court Justice Morschauser, although the jury which found that Rhinelander had not been deceived as to his wife's color reported last December.

Prior to the allowance of $12,000 counsel fees an allowance of $3,000 had been made, which was not opposed by Rhinelander.

WONDER PLANE

London.—M. Viltor, an Italian, one of the right hand men of Signor Pescara, the Spanish inventor, has devised a new type of aircraft, which it is claimed can be handled as easily as a motor car, and can ascend or descend vertically. The machine has been constructed in secret near Paris and is soon to undergo trials.

HOUSE OF LAVA

Hilo, Hawaii.—The new residence of the superintendent of Hawaii National Park will be made of lava rock. The house will stand on the rim of the greater crater of Kilauea, commanding a view of the immense lava fields in the crater, the active fire pit of Halemaumau and the two peaks, Mauna Loa and Mauna Kea.

SUNFLOWER TRAVELS

Wichita, Kas.—A party of Kansans, with sunflowered painted all over their luggage, and a sunflower in the lapel of every man in the party, will be seen in ten foreign cities this summer. For two months they will tour Europe, advertising Kansas as the "Sunflower State."

TUMBLER AT RIGHT HAND

In setting the dining table the tumbler should be at the right of the knife near the end of the blade.

STATE TODAY and TOMORROW DOUBLE FEATURE BILL

His Supreme Moment LUCKY LADY Also Song Reel—"TA-RA BOOM DERA" SUNDAY and MONDAY Madge Bellamy and Harrison Ford in "Sandy"

Stand By-- Tomorrow Night's Paper —tells the news. Only one more day to wait. Watch for The Herald.

Genuine B. V. D.'s Regular $1.50 98c STRAW HATS Values to $4.50. Your Choice $2.00 SUITS Exceptionally good summer suits. Some in the darker shades. At a price that should appeal. $22.50 Visor Caps Beach Hats Sport Sweaters Knickers Suitcases Traveling Bags Overnight Cases Boston Bags Everything You Need for Your Vacation. Known by his quality merchandise. George H. Williams

July Clearance Sale 15% Off on All Diamonds. 25% Off on All Jewelry. 15% Off on All Watches. Ingersol Watches, reg. $1.75 ..... $1.25 SILVERWARE Half dozen Tea Spoons (Rogers), regular $1.65 ..... $1.00 Cold Meat Fork, reg. $1.20 ..... $1.00 Pie Knife, reg. $2.40 ..... $2.00 Berry Spoon, reg. $2.00 ..... $1.60 35% Off on All Bread Trays and Hollow Ware. Regular $5.00 silver Bread Trays ... $3.25 Regular $3.50 silver Cake Plate .... $2.38 1 Tea Set, reg. $15.00, Rogers ..... $9.75 1 Tea Set, reg. $12.50, Rogers ..... $8.12 Hand painted Serving Trays, regular $7.50 ..... $4.87 Seth Thomas Clocks 1 Chime Clock, factory price $55.00, $35.75 1 Parlor Clock, factory price $14.00. $9.10 1 Parlor Clock, factory price $25.50, $16.57 Alarm Clocks, reg. $1.50 ..... $1.00 LOUIS S. JAFFE 891 Main Street So. Manchester

Manchester Upholstering Co. Sheridan Hotel Building, 597 Main Street Phone 1743 So. Manchester Our splendid assortment of qualities and designs will surely prove interesting to you. LET US BUILD your Living Room Suite if we have not in our assortment what you have in mind. We will make it from your own selection of covering, giving you the best that skilled workmanship can produce at the lowest possible figure. SLIP COVERS We have plain and figured assorted patterns and colors. For protecting furniture from dust and dirt, slip covers are very practical. REPAIR WORK If you have any furniture to have repaired now is the time to have it done, in the warm weather while you are not at home. We urge you to call and have our representative give you an estimate.

Bathe The Baby- With Gas Baby requires lots of hot water. Gas Water Heaters supply any quantity needed—quickly and cheaply. We sell and install all styles of Gas Water Heaters. Manchester Gas Company

FLAPPER INVADES HAREM! A NEW TURKISH DELIGHT!

Girls Now Smoke, Rouge and Foxtrot;
Ottoman Change Due to Ideas of Kemal.

By MILTON BRONNER

London.—A new kind of Turkish delight arrived in London the other day—the Turkish flapper. The old Turkish delight, you know, was a candy, gummy, sticky and very sweet. The new Turkish delight—so the Turkish boys say—is full of "pep" and also very sweet. Moslem flapperdom came to London aboard a ship sent out under the auspices of the Turkish government to advertise Turkish commerce and industry. Interest in girls. Her first port of call was London. Afterwards she is to visit other great European cities. She is not coming to America. One of the reasons why is because of the Senate opposition to the American-Turkish treaty. The vessel is divided into two parts. One is a 'samples' chamber, where all kinds of goods are exhibited for inspection. The other section is a miniature Stamboul bazaar, where purchases may be made of silks, carpets, tobacco, brassware and smoking materials. But 95 per cent of the British visitors have been principally interested not in the official exhibits, but in the girls!

There are on board as clerks, interpreters, etc., 25 attractive Turkish girls, members of the Constantinople intelligentsia. Most of them speak many European languages. Four of them

"That would be telling," laughed Mile. Fevzi. "You will have to guess. We travel freely and often without our parents or husbands, if we are married. "Dance? I should say so! I learned to fox trot at school. And now we are taking up the Charleston. "We are also going in for sports, especially tennis. Many young Turkish women are going into business and are proving very capable.

Mile. Fehime Fevzi, right, and two of her flapper assistants who have captured the British eye.

are graduates of the famous American Roberts College near Constantinople. One of these, Mile. Fehime Fevzi, acts as the principal interpreter. Although only 21, she is considered an authority on Turkish trades and commerce.

She and her companions all have their hair bobbed. In Constantinople a few years ago, this was not the case. Many women still wore the Moslem veil.

"Oh, that's all changed under President Mustapha Kemal," said Fehime smilingly. "We have taken our place in the big world."

"With the exception of differences in religion, you can't tell us from American or English girls. We bob our hair and it's nice and cool and comfortable and hygienic. We go about the streets freely and have tossed the old veil into the waste basket. We smoke in public just as our girls do."

"And rouge and lipstick in public?"

Harems! My Dear! "It was President Mustapha Kemal, who was among the first to realize that by barring the women Turkey was wasting first-class brains.

"Harems? My dear man, you are behind the times! Can you imagine a bobbed, rouged, lipstick, fox-trotting young lady allowing herself to be waited up most of her day, virtually a prisoner and under guard? Of course, you can't! And neither can the modern Turkish man.

"I am sorry we are not going to America. Some of us who attended American schools, have many friends there. And we all think we could have picked up pointers on business and—dancing!"

TO AVOID TROUBLE. He—"But you promised at the altar to obey me." She—"Of course, I didn't want to make a scene."—Judge.

N. Y. Clubman, Now in Icy Land Seeks Narwhal, Rare Sea Animal

Now that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt has made the oviposition household word, Van Campen Heller, millionaire sportsman and ichthyologist of the American Museum of Natural History's expedition to Greenland, hopes to do as much for the picturesque narwhal.

The well known hunter and yachtsman, who has charge of collecting specimens of fish life for the expedition, hopes to bring back a narwhal for the museum's newly completed hall of ocean life.

The main object of the expedition organized by George Palmer Putnam, publisher, and financed by Harrison Williams, who backed the William Beebe expeditions, is not exploration, but the study and collection of narwhal, shark, walrus, seal and then arctic fish and animals.

Captain Robert Bartlett, famous arctic explorer, commanded the schooner Morrissy in which the expedition sailed to Etah, Greenland, northernmost civilized settlement.

Like the Unicorn. The narwhal is an actual sea animal not unlike the fabled unicorn. For that reason, it is often called the sea unicorn. It is a whale, known only in arctic regions, varying from 15 to 25 feet in length and bearing a single tusk, or horn, from seven to ten feet long.

When young, the narwhal has but two teeth in the upper jaw. One of these, and occasionally both in the males, develops into the tusk which passes through the upper lip and projects like a horn in front. This tusk is hollow nearly to the tip and is spirally grooved. Its use is a matter of scientific conjecture. It may be a weapon of defense. It may be used for breaking through ice in order to breathe. It may be used for killing the fish upon which this mammal preys.

Uses Harpoon. As ichthyologist for the expedition, Mr. Heller will engage in Moby Dick-like adventures of harpooning narwhal and of aiding science in studying the true use of its tusk.

Although only 27 years of age, Mr. Heller has attained to unusual distinctions, having been made a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of London in 1923, and of the Royal Anthropological Society. Author of several books on hunting and fishing, he has spent much time in the tropics as field representative for the museum, and discovered several hitherto unknown varieties of East Indian fishes.

He startled the sporting world in 1923 by taking the Nepenthe II, a 47-foot motor boat, over a 4000-mile cruise from Atlantic City through the West Indies to Venezuela, the smallest craft ever to accomplish this feat.

DE PAOLO LEAVES U. S. AFTER ONE MORE RACE

Philadelphia.—Pete De Paolo, famous Italian-American will drive only one more race in the United States, it was learned here. That will be at Atlantic City, July 17.

De Paolo, it was said after this race will depart for Europe to compete in the famous Italian Grand Prix, and he will probably remain abroad as he said he intends to educate his son in Europe. Mrs. De Paolo, although a graduate of the University of California, wants to live in her native England and therefore the famous Italian driver it is said will remain away after his last race this month.

WATCH YOUR DIET Never eat a heavy meal when you are angry or unusually tired, as you are liable to pay for it with a headache or a severe attack of indigestion.

FRADIN'S TUB FROCKS greatly reduced

at $5 at $10

Cool and dainty Dresses of tub silks, rayons and silk pongees, formerly $10.00.

Radium silk dresses in all the pretty pastel shades—also prints, in sizes 16 to 46, formerly $15.00.

Bathing Suits

Pure wool, in red, blue and green. $2.89

Special ..... Bathing Shoes, 69c special .....

Sport Skirts

of Botany flannel, white only, regular $4.95 $5.95. Special

Our July Clearance Sale Offers Dresses of the Season's Best Modes at the Season's Lowest Prices.

Dresses of Crepe, Chiffon and Pongee Values to $15.95 Sale Price

$5

FINAL CLEANUP OF COATS Values to $39.50

Now

$19.95

Rubinow's
GARMENT FASHION CENTER

ALEXANDER JARVIS, JR.

Sand Gravel Stone
Loam and Grading
Moving and Trucking

All Kinds of Cemetery Grading

416 Center Street
South Manchester
Tel. 341

Brambach

The world's best small grand piano. Known the world over. Not a cheap grand, but finest quality at a low price. Results of 108 years of piano building. Convenient Terms.

KEMP'S

"Everything Musical!"

HOUSE'S 73rd Anniversary Sale

Better make a date with yourself to stop in today if there's anything you need. We don't mean things you need "right this minute" entirely. The savings in this sale makes it advisable to think ahead a bit.

Hats, or suits you'll be likely to choose for yourself, but there are a lot of other things—such as shirts, collars, underwear, hose, ties, garters, handkerchiefs—that you can check up at home. Then do as lots of men have done during this sale—have your wife come for you if you're busy.

There are only two more days of this sale and we don't want you to lose out.

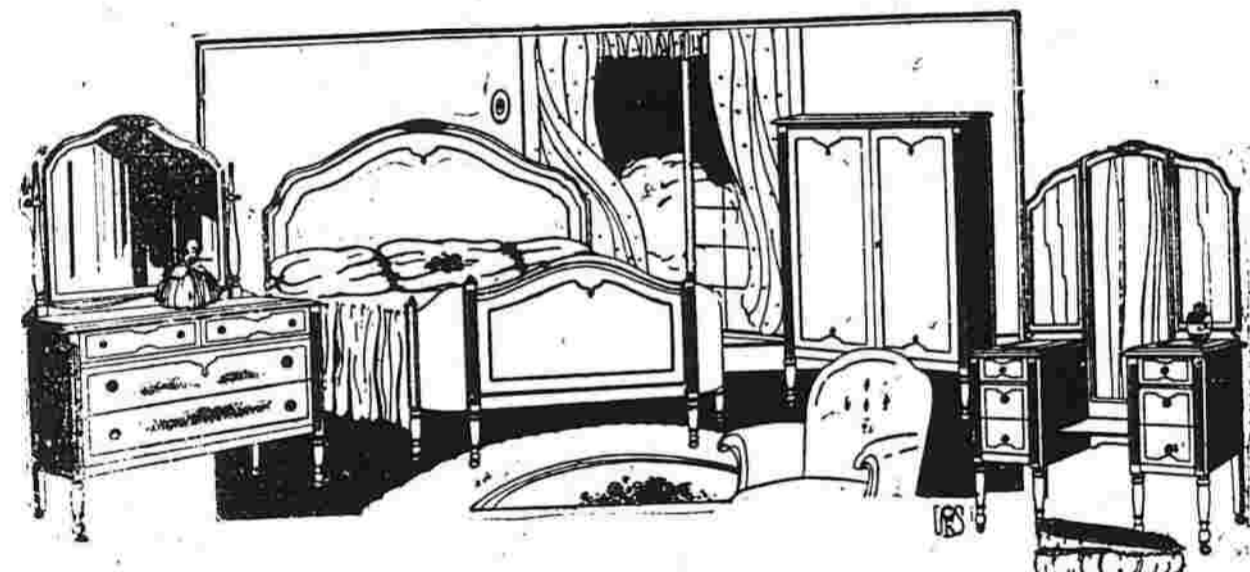

BIG LOTS OF SPECIAL BARGAINS

in

Clothing - Furnishings -
Hats - Footwear

C. E. House & Son, Inc.

5-Piece Bed Room Group $219 With 1 year to pay for it

This is one of our high grade suites in the semi-poster style. There is a full size bed, large dresser, full vanity, chair and bench, in combination walnut. The regular price on this group is $295. Offered during this clearance sale for $219 on weekly payments through our Profit Sharing Club.

Only one of the many bargains to be found in our Bedroom groupings.

Week End Specials From Our Mid-Summer Clearance Sale

To stimulate sales for the week-end we have taken several articles on which we are overstocked and offer them to you at less than the wholesale price. Many of them are summer goods and we would rather take a loss than carry them over.

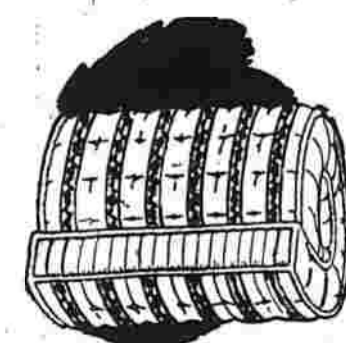

All Columbia Records, 10" or 12", marked at one price, 19c—cash and carry; none on approval. All Edison Records up to $2.00 value, now marked 29c—cash only. Applies to stock records only.

Window Screens all sizes 2 for the price of 1 Standard adjustable screens from our regular stock.

Screen Doors all sizes Half Price

$3.25 Doors now $1.63. $4.50 Doors now $2.25. $5.50 Doors now $2.75. $6.95 Doors now $3.50. Bring size of door with you.

Lawn Benches $1.79

Constructed of the strongest of woods—it really has to be in order to give the service that is required of it. Seat and back are varnished, supports painted green.

All Refrigerators At Clearance Prices

($1.00 Weekly) Plenty of hot weather just ahead. $30.00 Box for $31.50. $39.50 Box for $38.50. $40.00 Box for $37.50.

Cotton Mattresses, all sizes, $8.95 ($1.00 Weekly.)

This is our best loose cotton mattress that sells regularly for $16.50. Covered with a heavy grade of woven ticking.

G. E. KEITH FURNITURE CO., Inc
COR. MAIN AND SCHOOL STREETS - SO. MANCHESTER, CT.

ON THE AIR

6 P. M.
WBAL (246) Baltimore—Sandman Circle; orchestra.
WMBB (260) Chicago—Old Home Songs.
WRNY (258) New York—Sports; commerce; musical.
WTAG (268) Worcester, Mass.—"The Ramblers."
WGHP (270) Detroit—Concert.
WREO (285) Lansing, Mich.—Variety.
WGN (303) Chicago—Stocks; feature; musical.
WBZ (333) Springfield, Mass.—Variety.
WWJ (353) Detroit—Concert.
WGY (379) Schenectady—Dinner program.
WMAQ (447) Chicago—Organ; club program.
WJZ (455) New York—Orchestra.
WEAF (492) New York—Orchestra; vocal; Dickens' Corner.
WCX (517) Detroit—Orchestra.
7 P. M.
WBAL (246) Baltimore—Orchestra.
WRVA (256) Richmond, Va.—Dinner music.
WGHP (270) Detroit—Variety.
WGN (303) Chicago—Variety; Paul Ash's orchestra.
WLS (345) Chicago—Variety.
WDAF (366) Kansas City—"School of the Air"; organ.
WLIT (395) Philadelphia—Entertainers.
WQJ (447) Chicago—Orchestra.
WCAE (461) Pittsburgh—Studio.
WCAP (469) Washington—Band concert.
WEAF (492) New York—Musical.
WJR (517) Detroit—Symphony orchestra.
WOAW (526) Omaha—Variety.
8 P. M.
WBAL (246) Baltimore—Vocal and instrumental.
WRVA (256) Richmond, Va.—Variety.
WADC (258) Akron, O.—Studio program.
KPNF (263) Shenandoah—Sunday school lesson.
WCAU (278) Philadelphia—Variety.
WSM (283) Nashville—Concert.
WGN (303) Chicago—Musical.
KDKA (309) Pittsburgh—Concert.
WAHG (316) Richmond Hill, N. Y.—Vocal.
WBZ (333) Springfield, Mass.—Band.
WWJ (353) Detroit—Orchestra; soloists.
WJJD (370) Mooseheart, Ill.—Music by children.
WTAM (389) Cleveland—Orchestra.
WLIT (395) Philadelphia—Musical.
WOS (441) Jefferson City, Mo.—Market Hour.
WMAQ (447) Chicago—Vocal.
WCAP (468) Washington—Variety.
WEAF (492) New York—Orchestra.
WGR (519), WEEI (476), WOO (508); players: vocal and instrumental.
WCX (517) Detroit—Musical.
9 P. M.
WBAL (246) Baltimore—Band concert.
WMBB (250) Chicago—Orchestra and soloists.
WGHB (266) Clearwater, Fla.—Organ; vocalists.
WORD (275) Chicago—Studio program.
WCAU (278) Philadelphia—Orchestra.
WSM (283) Nashville—Musical.
WAHG (316) Richmond Hill, N. Y.—Entertainers.
KOA (322) Denver—Stocks; news; concert.
WBZ (333) Springfield, Mass.—Musical.
WSB (428) Atlanta—Organ recital.
KPO (428) San Francisco—Stocks; scores; orchestra.
KFI (467) Los Angeles—Variety.
WBAP (476) Ft. Worth—Hawaiian trio.
KGW (491) Portland, Ore.—Concert; scores.
WEAF (492) New York—Anglo-Persians.
WTAG (268), WJAR (306), WGR (319), WWJ (353), WDAF (366), WTAM (389), WCCO (416), WCAE (461), WCAP (469), WEEI (476), WOC (484), WOO (508), KSD (545); orchestra.
WHO (526) Des Moines—Vocal and instrumental.
10 P. M.
WRVA (256) Richmond, Va.—Dance music.
WADC (258) Akron, O.—Dance music.
WGHP (270) Detroit—Entertainers.
WGN (303) Chicago—Sam 'n Henry; musical.
KNX (337) Los Angeles—Feature program.
WJJD (370) Mooseheart, Ill.—Musical.
WTAM (389) Cleveland—Studio program.
KPO (428) San Francisco—Variety.
WQJ (447) Chicago—Orchestra (4 hours).
KFI (467) Los Angeles—Musical.
WEAF (492) New York—Orchestra.
WCX (517) Detroit—Dance music.
WOAW (526) Omaha—Variety.
WRVA (256) Richmond, Va.—Orchestra.
WGHP (270) Detroit—Dance music.
WSM (283) Nashville—Cocals; organ.
WLIB (303) Chicago—Correll and Gosden; ensemble; dance orchestra.
KOA (322) Denver—Concert.
KNX (337) Los Angeles—Courtesy program.
WTAM (389) Cleveland—Orchestra.
KHJ (405) Los Angeles—News items; variety.
KPO (428) San Francisco—Studio.

KFI (467) Los Angeles—Orchestra.
WBAP (476) Ft. Worth—Old-time tunes.
KGW (491) Portland—Concert.
12 P. M.
WADC (258) Akron, O.—Dance and radio review (3 hours).
WGHP (270) Detroit—Orchestra.
KNX (337) Los Angeles—Courtesy program.
KPO (428) Portland—Orchestra; book review.
WHO (526) Des Moines—Orchestra.
1 A. M.
KNX (337) Los Angeles—Orchestra.
WDAF (366) Kansas City—Frollic.
KPO (428) San Francisco—Orchestra.
KFI (467) Los Angeles—Ballads.
KGW (491) Portland—Frollic.
WTIC
Travelers Insurance Co.,
Hartford, Conn.
497.
Program for Friday
Eastern Standard Time
5:30 P. M.—Dinner Concert, Emil Helmberger's Hotel Bond Trio in Belgium and France.
La Brabançonne (National Hymn) France
a. Pere de la Victoire...Ganne
b. Chanson Boheme...Baldi
c. Passepied "Le Roi S'Amuse" Delibes
d. "Thou Selection and Meditation" Massenet
Along the Rialto in Paris
a. Fox Trot: Parisienne au Riviera
b. Tango: Parisienne Seduction
c. Valse: Parisienne Fascination.
d. Excerpts from the works of Gounod...Urbach
e. Ballet Suite Callirhoe Chaminate Pas des Escharpes Variation
f. My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from "Samson and Delilah" Saint-Seans
g. Marsellaise
6:30—News Items, Baseball scores and Review, Agricultural, Police and Road Reports.
6:45—"Safety", A. C. Carruthers.
7:00—Piano Recital
a. Valse Capricieuse Chaminate
b. Cradle Song...Ilynsky
c. Amaryllis...Louis XIII
d. Spanish Dance...Moszkowski
Laura C. Gaudet, staff pianist
WTIC
7:15—"Fiddle an' Bee"
a. The Old Refrain...Kretzler
b. Spanish Dance Kretzler
c. Liebestreu...Kretzler
7:30—The Colt Park Municipal Dance Orchestra.
8:30—A Popular Period with the Laubscher Family Park City Entertainers.
a. Gypsy Love Song
b. Oh Say Can I See You Tonight?...Henry Cremer
The Laubscher Family
West of the Great Divide...Ball Muriel Laubscher
Let Me Call You Sweetheart
a. That's My Baby...Kahn
Al Laubscher, Jr. and Quartet
Some time
Al Laubscher, Jr. and Muriel Laubscher
I'll Be a Skip and Jump Back to Mamma's Arms
Harry Pease
Mrs. Al Laubscher and family
Cousin Yedelah H. S. Thompson
Laubscher, Family Park City Harmonizers
Cross My Heart Mother
...Al Plantadosia
Al Laubscher, Jr.
a. Prisoners Song...Massey
b. Recitation...Awerbach
Al Laubscher and Family
You're in Wrong with the Right Baby...Spencer Williams
Muriel Laubscher
Yes Sir That's My Baby...Kahn
Laubscher Family
9:00—To be announced
9:15—Soprano Solos
a. Voi Che Sapnce (Silently Blending)...Mozart
b. The Sunshine that Fills My World...Ball
c. Indian Dawn...Zamecnik
d. Lonesome That's All Roberts
e. A Pastoral from the opera "Rosallinda"...Veracini
Mildred Abbey Johnson, soprano
Laura C. Gaudet, accompanist
9:30—WTIC's Mail Bag.
9:45—"Debutants" Period.
10:00—News Items and Weather Report.
Program for Saturday, July 24.
12:00 Noon—News, Weather.
LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS.
At New York—Tommy Freeman, Cleveland welterweight, drew with Sergeant Sammy Baker, ten rounds, Tommy Cello, California lightweight, beat Pal Moran, New Orleans, ten rounds, Harry Wallace, fighting Harry Cook, Buffalo negro, was forced to quit in the sixth round because of a serious injury to his eye.
Telephone 1652.
George S. Patten
Contractor and Builder
Jobbing Promptly Done
95 Hollister St. — Manchester, Ct.

Blind, Drives Car In Traffic But Hates To Change Tires

Atlanta, Ga., July 23.—De Witt Smith, stone blind since he was 16, can and does drive an automobile with safety, but he never attempts to walk along the streets alone. That is too dangerous. "I back the car out of my garage nearly every morning," he says. "But that is not all. I drive in traffic, too—of course not alone. I have to have someone with me who isn't nervous and is a good hand at seeing things and telling me how the road lies. "You've no idea how my ears help me. I can hear things you couldn't detect at all except by seeing. I'm convinced I have a sixth sense, something inside that lets you know what your eyes can't see. Almost all blind people have. One friend of mine claims he can "hear" a telephone post or a brick wall and avoid bumping it. I do not doubt him. Smith just a few days ago, without any help, changed a tire on his car. "That is the worst thing about getting my hands so greasy. But there isn't anything like a car, otherwise. The wind hitting your face and the road sliding by under you, and the sense of power when you control the motor and feel the wheel turn as you will." Smith's job is that of telephone sub-station operator in a downtown hotel here. He has held it for 12 years, making change without errand, operating an automatic phone dial efficiently and learning to know hundreds of persons by their footsteps and their voices. "There isn't anything sweeter than the voice of a person you like, is there?" says Smith. "I had lots rather be blind than deaf and dumb, because then you are cut off from people and from sounds. To me the best things in the world are motion there is too much reading in this world and not enough good talk."

De Witt Smith.

Smith, you'll notice, is one blind man in this world whom blindness has not licked.

"When I was a boy," he says, "I noticed that so many blind people, especially when walking, went with their heads down. About the first thing I thought of when the blow hit me was that I was not going to be that way. Wherever I am I try to hold my head up as though I had a million dollars. A man has got to make the most of the inevitable and keep on being a man."

TELEPHONE TYPEWRITER BIG HELP TO POLICE

Modern science is constantly contributing successfully to the forces for crime prevention and in the judgment of Capt. Henry J. Donnelly, for more than 30 years a member of the New Haven Police Department and for 15 years in charge of its capable detective bureau, one of the most promising helps in years is the recent invention of the Telephone Typewriter, a demonstration of which was given recently in Hartford to police chiefs, police commissioners and other city officials representing more than a dozen cities in this state.

The Telephone Typewriter operates in this way. Say a burglary is committed in some city. The police of that city broadcast an accurate description of the suspect and of the property stolen. This is written on a machine somewhat larger than the standard typewriter, and as it is written at the sending point it is instantaneously received in every police headquarters on the circuit. No automobile, now much used by thieves, can beat this method of broadcasting a police alarm and with every avenue of exit out of the state blocked to the suspect, his capture is reasonably certain. Practically all the police officials who saw this demonstration favor its adoption in their departments. Capt. Donnelly, now a private detective in New Haven, and one of the best informed men in the country on the habits of criminals, today stated that in his judgment the telephone typewriter would not only help catch criminals, but that it would help prevent crime in whatever territory it is in use.

"I am a lion on other maps for the criminal into other trips the underworld," said Capt. Donnelly, "and I honestly believe that with the introduction of a complete circuit of these machines embracing all the larger cities of the state, the motor car thief and other marauders who come into Connecticut for raids occasionally, would find it difficult to get away with a demonstration of which was given recently in Hartford to police chiefs, police commissioners and other city officials representing more than a dozen cities in this state. It will increase their efficiency. It really is a valuable contribution to the preservation of law and order and if I were a public officer I should most enthusiastically advocate its use, for its aid to accuracy, its time saving value and its economy are strong points in its favor."

FINDS GIANT BONE

Tuscan, Ariz.—Dr. Byron Cummings of the Arizona State Museum, did not pull a "bone" when he discovered a shoulder blade of a mammoth elephant estimated to be 250,000 years old. He discovered thereby one of the most important fossil beds in the southwest.

DOUBLE FEATURE BILL AT THE STATE THEATER

If you like unusual romance—
If you like thrilling melodrama—
If you like beauty and exquisite color photography—
If you like Blanche Sweet and Ronald Colman—
Then don't miss George Fitzmaurice's latest production, "His Supreme Moment," which comes to the State theatre today and tomorrow.
It is a riot of romance, beauty, color, drama and fine acting by the featured players and a cast of notable actors including Jane Winton, Belle Bennett, Cyril Chadwick, Ned Sparks, Nick de Ruiz, Anna May Wong and Kalla Pasha.
From a new novel by May Edington, Frances Marion, who has adapted all of the recent Goldwyn-Fitzmaurice productions, has evolved a screen story which centers around the platonic trial marriage in the wilds of South America.

"The Lucky Lady," an original story by Robert E. Sherwood and Bertram Bloch, has in its featured cast such names as William Collier, Jr., Greta Nissen, Lionel Barrymore and Marc MacDermott. The story was adapted for the screen by James T. O'Donohoe. For the added attraction, don't miss the ko-ko song reel.

Femi-Wear Semi-Made Wash Dresses

Already Cut and Partly Made Ready for You to Finish

Choose a smartly tailored model or a frilly, lace-trimmed frock — everything is planned for you. The dress is cut out, some trimmings are already applied, the hemstitching, picotting and ruffling are done on some styles. Each envelope contains colored chart and complete instructions. The most inexperienced needle woman will find it easy to make these charming dresses, planned to save time, effort and expense.

A Femi-Wear package and a few hours' work and you have a distinctive new frock for only

$1.29

Rhode Island Textile Company
849 Main Street South Manchester

Inaugurating Our July Clearance Sale

Starting Saturday And Lasting One Week

We do not have many sales at this store but when we do and at such times as this event you will find some splendid bargains as prices have been cut drastically.

SPECIAL Silk Dresses $7.98
This means our entire stock of wonderful new dresses, all to go at one price regardless of former prices. There are some wonderful values to be had in this lot.
Our Entire Stock Of Millinery To Go At $1.00
All Other Merchandise Throughout Our Store Greatly Reduced for This Sale.
THE LADIES' SHOP
535 Main Street So. Manchester

"The Lucky Lady," an original story by Robert E. Sherwood and Bertram Bloch, has in its featured cast such names as William Collier, Jr., Greta Nissen, Lionel Barrymore and Marc MacDermott. The story was adapted for the screen by James T. O'Donohoe. For the added attraction, don't miss the ko-ko song reel.

For the companion feature you will see:
The fattest, the thinnest, the tallest and the shortest persons in Southern California all in "The Lucky Lady," which Raoul Walsh recently directed for Paramount, when it comes to the State theatre today and tomorrow.
In the production an entire traveling vaudeville company is shown. Among the characters in the troupe are freaks of every description. They range from "Jumbo," the strong man, "o Jo-Jo," the India rubber boy. To film this sequence it was necessary to scour the entire southern section of California in order to obtain freaks who had had experience upon the screen or stage.

Photographs

Made in your home are different. For an appointment call L. Falot, 97 Ridge street. Phone 241-12. Child portraiture a specialty.

Good Used Cars

In Guaranteed First Class Mechanical Condition.

- 1925 Ford Coupe—like new.
- 1924 Ford Touring.
- 1921 Ford Sedan.
- 1923 Gray Touring.
- 1920 Liberty Touring.
- 1917 Reo Touring.
- 1926 Oldsmobile Coach—demonstrator.
- 1922 Chevrolet Touring.

Special Low Prices — Low Down Payments — Balance 12 Months,
G. M. A. C. Easy Payment Plan.

Crawford Auto Supply

Cor. East Center and Walker Sts. So. Manchester

G. Fox & Co. Inc.

HARTFORD

TO CALL US WITHOUT CHARGE—SIMPLY CALL
1500

CLEARANCE

An Important Clean-up of
DRESSES
For Misses and Small Women
Sizes 14 to 18
A wonderful collection of smart high grade dresses fashioned of silk crepe, georgette, prints and satin. In the smartest models, light and dark colorings.
$10
Values to $35.00

DRESSES
For Misses and Small Women
Sizes 14 to 18
Another group of fine silk frocks. Every wanted material, every popular color, and every smart model is included in this group. Frocks for all occasions. Mostly one of a kind.
$19.75
Values to $59.50
Misses' Shop—Fifth Floor.

If Your Watch Seems To Be Overcome With the Heat

these hot days, bring it in and let us see what the trouble is. Probably it is gummed up and needs cleaning. Whatever may be the trouble we'll fix it for you.

F. E. BRAY

JEWELER
Selwitz Block, cor. Main and Pearl Sts., So. Manchester.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN'S HAT CLEANING PARLOR

THE HAT you wore last year will look Old Fashioned and out of shape now. We are prepared to please the most particular people with High Class Work in HAT BLOCKING. So why not let us transform your old hat into a becoming stylish shape? We know we can please you. Try Us.
Shoes Shined and Gloves Cleaned the Right Way.
Special Chairs for Ladies.
National Shoe Shining Parlor
887 Main Street
So. Manchester, Conn.
L. Dell's Shoe Repair Shop Also Located in This Store.

STAND BY-- Tomorrow Night's Paper

—tells the news. Only one more day to wait. Watch for The Herald.

CONDITION OF STATE ROADS

FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1926.

Road conditions and detours in the state of Connecticut made necessary by the highway construction and repairs, announced by the state highway department, as of July 21st, are as follows:

Greenwich: Boston Post Road, route 1. Concrete road is under construction. Detour for west bound traffic. Mill Plain Road to Bronson Road.

Westport: Boston Post Road, route 1. Concrete road is under construction at Compo Inn Curve. Slight delay to traffic.

Westport, route 1. Concrete road is under construction at Light-house curve. Slight delay to traffic.

Bridgeport and Trumbull: Bridgeport - Trumbull road is under construction. Best route through Beardsley Park.

West Haven and Milford, route 337. Oyster River Bridge on the Shore Road is under construction. Temporary bridge provided.

West Haven, route 337. Cove River Bridge on the Shore Road is under construction. Temporary bridge provided.

West Haven, Milford and Orange, Milford Turnpike, route 1, under construction. Through traffic Milford to New Haven should take the Shore Road.

Middletown: Durham, Middle-town-Durham road, route 112, under construction. One way traffic past green concrete. Best route for through traffic, from Middletown to Durham is through Middletown.

Old Saybrook, route 1. R. R. crossing elimination is under construction. No delay to traffic.

Branford: Stony Creek road is under construction. No delay to traffic.

Waterbury and Cheshire: Cheshire-Waterbury road, route 323, under construction. Slight delay to traffic.

Saybrook: Winthrop road, route 175. One-half mile of grading; road rough, but passable.

Gulford: Gulford Cut-off, route 1. Grading being done; does not interfere with traffic.

Gulford, no route number. Sachem's Head road: Trolley tracks being relaid; open to traffic.

Canaan: South Canaan-Line Rock road, route 134, under construction, detour at South Canaan end.

Hartland: East Hartland Mountain road, route 133, under construction. Present road open for travel.

Sharon: Sharon-Amenia Union road is under construction. Open for travel.

Torrington: Torrington - Goshen road, route 123. One-way traffic maintained.

Waterbury - Watertown: Waterbury - Watertown-Thomaston road, routes 334 and 350, under construction. Shoulders incomplete.

Bethel: Newtown road, no route number. Road and bridge construction under way. No detours necessary.

Roxbury: Southbury road, route 125, is completed.

New Milford: Gaylordsville Bridge, route 134. Work on the new bridge and approaches under way. No detours necessary.

Washington: Grade crossing elimination, no route number. Bridge surface under construction. No detours necessary.

Norwalk - Danbury, route 126. Grading and concrete construction under way. Detour for northerly traffic over Belden Hill as posted.

Willimantic: Putnam road, route 3. Under construction in Windham. Open to traffic.

Willimantic - Hartford road, route 3. Section of concrete pavement just west of Willimantic being reconstructed and widened. Traffic may pass, but extreme caution should be exercised in passing the steam shovel.

Willimantic: Putnam road, routes 3 and 101. Under construction in Chaplin. Concrete pavement being laid. Two sections of one-way traffic regulated by telephone.

Norwich - Putnam road, route 12. Grade crossing eliminated in Plainfield. Short detour.

Norwich - New London road, route 12. Under construction in towns of Norwich and Montville. Section of one-way traffic. Through traffic between New London and Norwich should use the east side of the Thames River.

Norwich-Willimantic road, route 32. Under construction in Franklin. Concrete pavement being placed. Section of one-way traffic regulated by telephone.

Section on cut-off at Submarine Base is under construction. No detour.

Suffield-East Granby road, no route number, is under construction. Open to traffic.

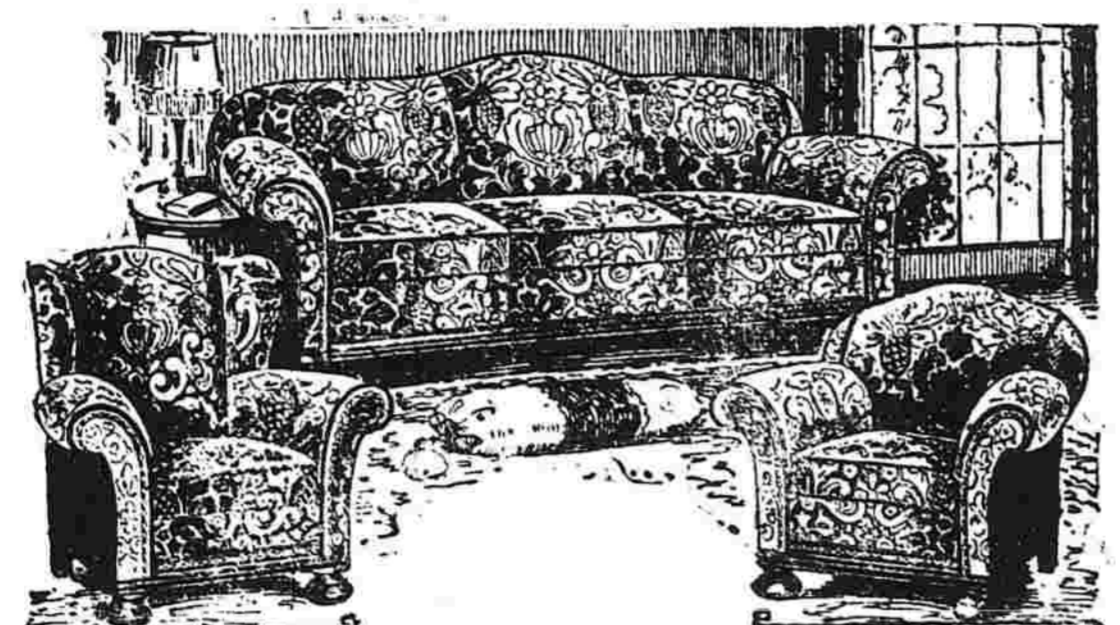

Turnpike, (no route number, is under construction. Road closed. Detour.

Rocky Hill-Dividend road, no route number, is under construction but is open to traffic. There is some delay where shovel is working.

ing of concrete road. One-way traffic for a short distance during the day.

to Watertown. One-way traffic for a short distance during the day.

Six More Days!

Beautiful 3-Piece Living Room Suite

This is truly a remarkable value—incomparably low in price and extremely high in quality. Your choice of several patterns and upholstered in velvet or tapestry. The large spacious Day-bed, the Club Chair and Wing Chair, all 3 pieces luxuriously comfortable. Specially priced for quick clearance.

$108
$1.50 Weekly

Just Arrived!

A new shipment of these handsome Wardrobes—finished in oak, sturdily constructed. They have spacious compartments, capable of holding a large wardrobe. Specially priced for these last few days.

$17.85
$1.00 Weekly

Another Living Room Suite Value!

You really save money by buying this suite. A luxuriously upholstered Day-bed Suite, capable of occupying the most prominent position in every home. All 3 pieces, the spacious, overstuffed Day-bed, comfortable Club Chair and Wing Chair make a living room value that cannot be duplicated. Clearance of all floor samples at this low price.

$165
$1.50 Weekly

July Clearance Sale!

Bedroom Suite—Choice Any 3 Pieces

You have thought of buying a good Bedroom Suite. Now is your chance. A marvelous suite at such a low price is extraordinary. Illustrated are the full size, walnut finished Day-bed, the large Dresser with mirror, charming Dressing Table and Chest of Drawers. Your choice of any three pieces for only

$74
$1.00 Weekly

Closing Out!

Positively closing out our entire stock of Hammocks. Your last chance to buy this well-constructed, guaranteed Hammock at such a low price. Just a limited quantity left, so be sure to be early for yours. We will sell every one at this special clearance price.

$12.75
$1.00 Weekly

Charming 4-Piece Bedroom Suite

Great taste in home-making requires good taste in furniture. Examine the illustration of this suite and notice the appealing quality of it. The full size, comfortable Bed, the spacious Chest of Drawers, the large Dresser and the charming full-size Vanity—finished in a beautiful walnut. Special at this clearance price.

$148
$1.50 Weekly

All Floor Samples!

Handsome 8-Piece Dining Room Suite

A marvelous Dining Room value! Each piece finished in a beautiful walnut—the large, oblong Extension Table, the Arm Chair, five Side Chairs and the Extra large Buffet—all eight pieces are well made of the finest woods obtainable, China Cabinet extra. Priced exceedingly low for quick clearance.

$124
$1.50 Weekly

Gateleg Tables

Another clearance sale value! Beautiful mahogany finish Gateleg Tables—well constructed—just the thing for that odd space or corner. Unusual value at only

$19.75
$1.00 Weekly

Extraordinary!—Complete Kitchen

A special offering during the last few days of our July Clearance. This complete Kitchen Outfit—the Stove, Table and 2 Chairs—each piece of excellent quality—priced specially low for quick clearance at only

$62
$1.00 Weekly

Back in Khaki

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, for the first time since the World War, again dons the khaki and insignia of the 26th—his old regiment. Photo shows him arriving at Plattsburg for a 15-day training period.

Specials For Quick Clearance

Table Lamp

These Table Lamps are wonderful values. Vase base with beautiful silk shades. $4.95 Convenient Terms. $1.00 Weekly

Clothes Hamper

These Hampers are very well made and are extra large. We offer them at this low price for only 69c

OPEN ALL DAY WEDNESDAY

HERRUP'S

Cor. Main and Morgan Sts. (HARTFORD) Open Saturday Evenings

Prices Cut For Few Days!

Tabourette

Mahogany finished Tabourettes—a close-out of these wonderful pieces—for the last few days—at this exceptionally low price 79c

Bed Special

Just a few of these handsome 4-poster Beds left and we have reduced the price below cost to assure quick clearance. Special at this low price $19.75 $1.00 Weekly

Dirt Farmer

The demand of agricultural forces for the appointment of "dirt farmers" to government posts is met by the naming of Sherman J. Lowell of Fredonia, N. Y., on the federal tariff commission.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

BY AUSTIN H. CLARK

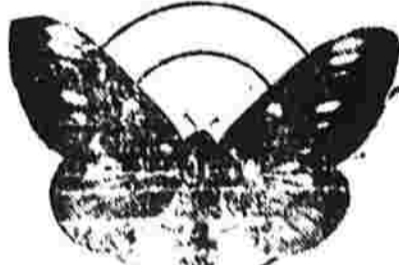

Curator, U. S. National Museum
Hickory Horn Devil is the name most frequently applied to a huge caterpillar commonly found on hickory and walnut trees.

This caterpillar may reach a length of five inches when fully extended. On the front part of its body it bears on the back eight long and serrate horns, four shorter and black, and four longer and orange or red with black tips.

In many places this caterpillar is much feared, but in spite of its terrible appearance it is quite harmless. It feeds on many different kinds of trees besides the hickory and walnut, but is seldom common enough to be injurious.

In the late summer the hickory horn devil works its way into the ground. There it makes for itself a little cell in which it transforms into a chrysalis or pupa, and in that state spends the winter.

In June it emerges from the Royal Walnut Moth

ground as a handsome moth known as the royal walnut moth, with the forewings grayish olive or purplish with red veins and a few oval yellow spots and the hind wings dull orange.

Thought not one of the largest, this is one of the most beautiful of our larger moths, and it is difficult to believe that in its younger stages it ever could have been such a hideous thing as a hickory horn devil.

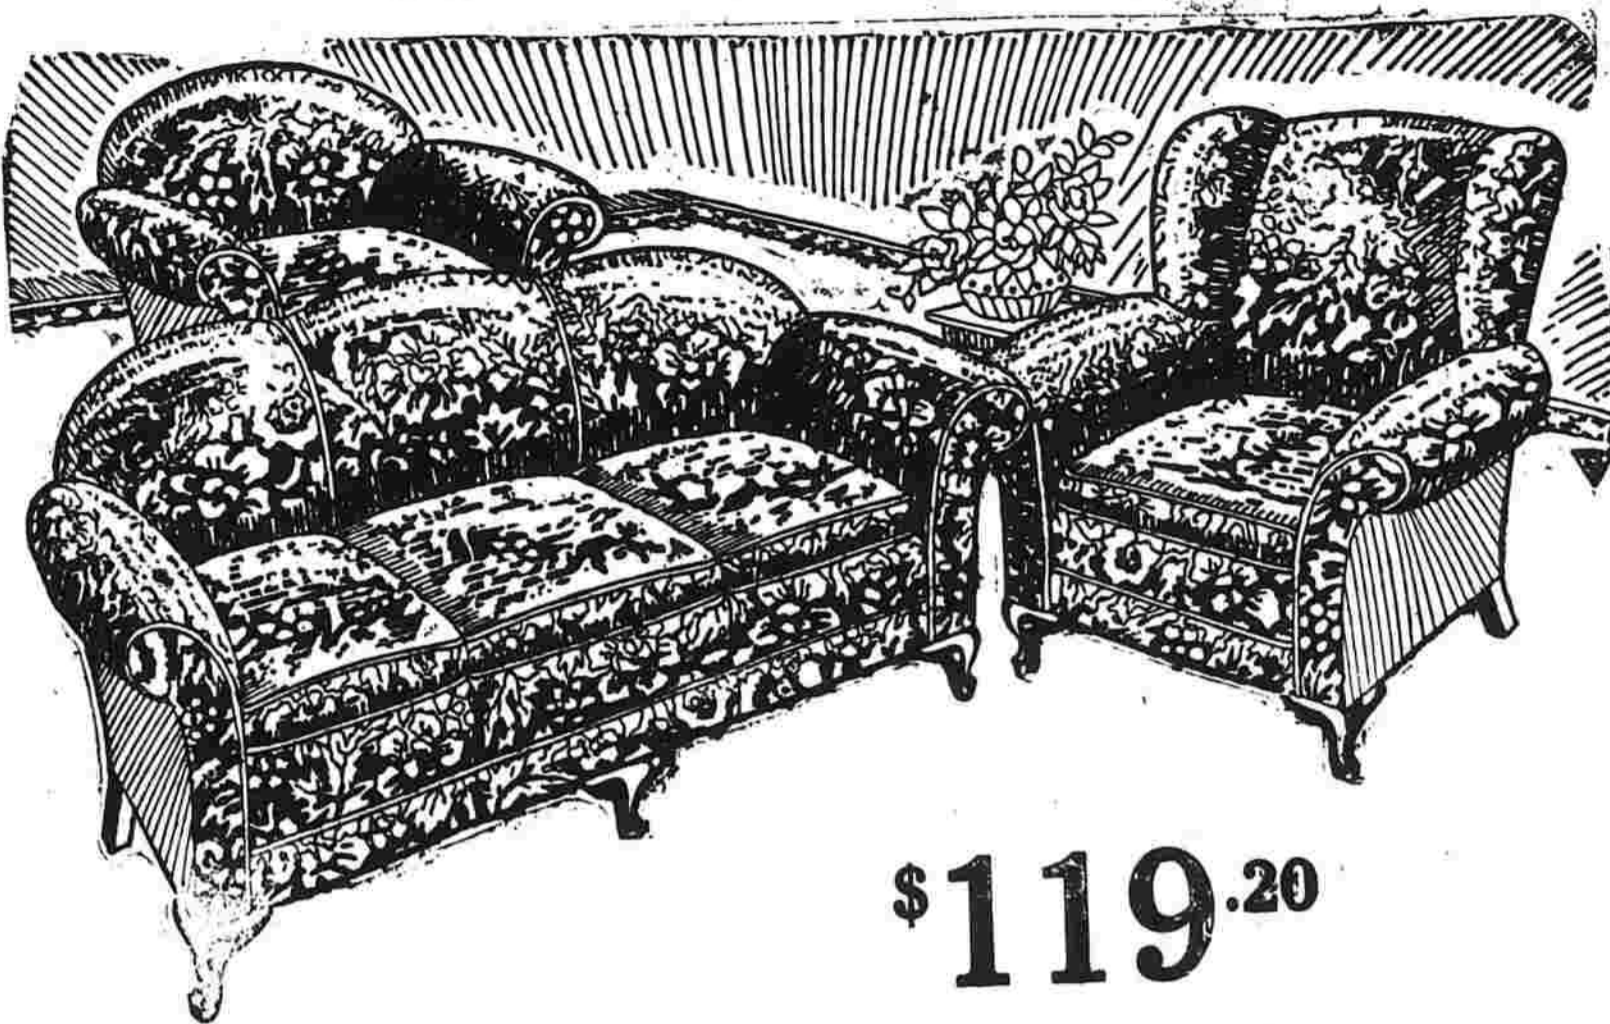

Heiress Wed

Katherine Kelley, daughter of Cornelius Kelley, president of the Anacosta Copper Mining Co., surprised New York by eloping with Nils Florman, wealthy society man. The first Mrs. Florman obtained a divorce, saying she couldn't live on $25,000 a year.

JULY FURNITURE SALE

Our Biggest Event in 18 Years of Value-Giving!

$119.20

Record-Breaking Value! 3-Piece Velour Suites

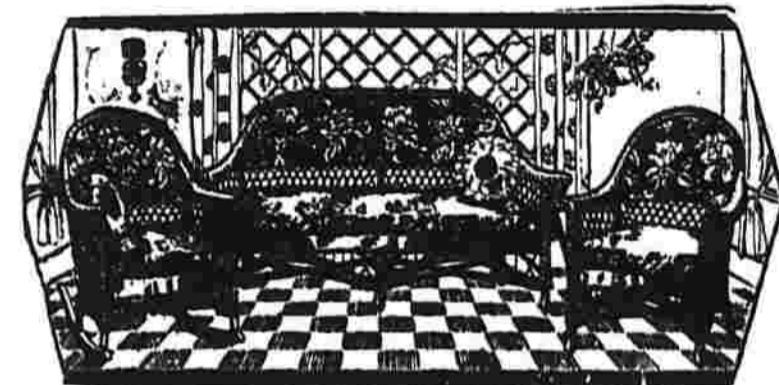

Beauty! Comfort! Quality! Masterfully built to give most enduring and satisfactory service. Spacious Davenport, restful Wing Chair and Arm Chair in durable, silky, beautifully patterned velour. Luxurious loose cushions, filled with non-buckling springs, cushion-like spring-filled backs. One of the finest values ever offered in our history—3 pieces—$149.50—20% off.

You Deduct It Yourself

20% OFF

Everything Throughout The Store

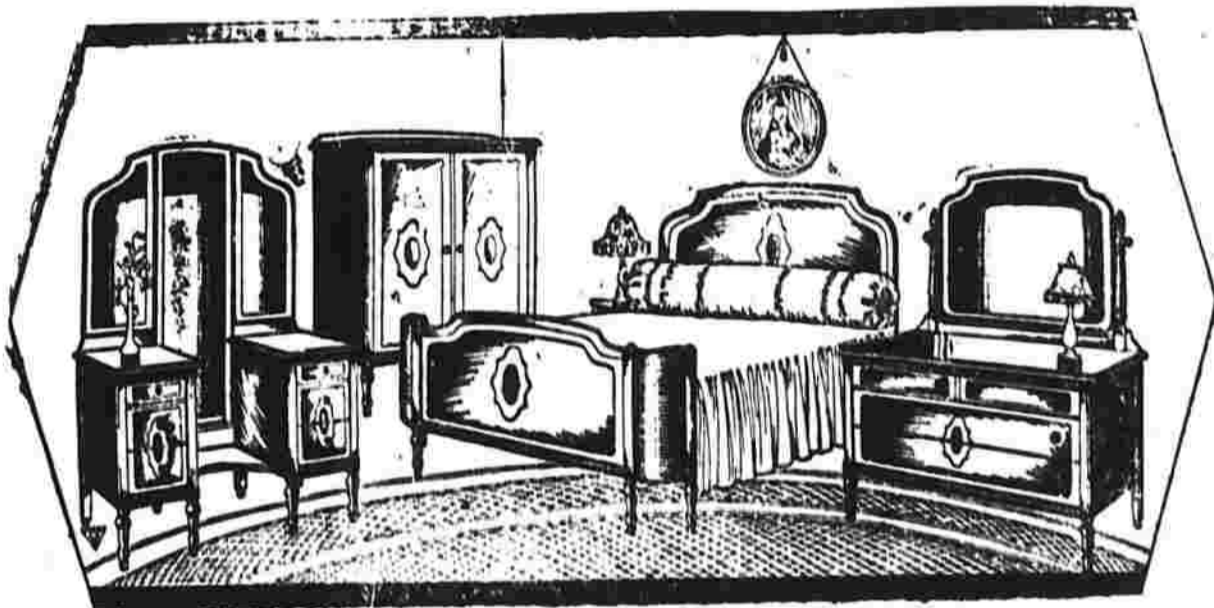

From Original Price-Tags

Bring to your sun porch or living room the lighter, softer touch of summer with this three-piece group in red, finished in gray. Deep, spring-filled cushions and padded backs, upholstered in harmonizing cretonne, $44.50, 20% off

$35.60

LIBERAL TERMS

Graceful Tudor-designed Bedroom group, quality built in every detail. Constructed of fine walnut veneer and other sturdy cabinet woods. Large dresser, bow-end double bed and spacious wardrobe (full Vanity extra). Don't delay seeing this exceptional value—3 pieces for only $169.50—20% off.

$135.60

LIBERAL TERMS

You will find here the largest display and selection of rugs of any furniture store in the state.

Tapestry Rugs 9x12 8-3x10-6

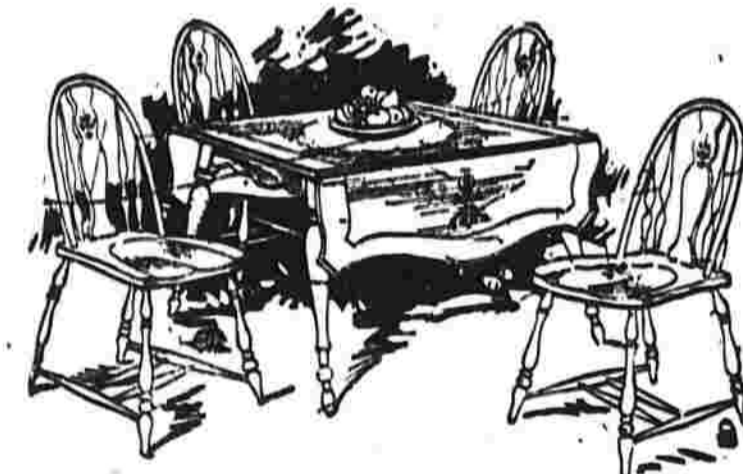

Limited group of 9x12 and 8-3x10-6 tapestry rugs of strong woolen yarns that insure long service. Attractive all-over effects. $21.50, 20% off

Heavy Velvet Stair Carpet, $1.95 yard, 20% off $1.56 yd.

27x60 Axminster Rugs, $3.70, 20% off $2.96

9x12 Heavy Axminsters, $42.45, 20% off $33.96

LIBERAL TERMS

Charming painted five-piece breakfast set. Colonial-designed drop-leaf table and four quaint Windsor chairs. It will bring daily cheer to your breakfast room. 5 pieces, $44.50, 20% off

$35.60

LIBERAL TERMS

A modern 17th-century English adaptation sturdily constructed of fine genuine walnut veneer and other selected cabinet woods. Well-proportioned Buffet, oblong Extension Table, five Side Chairs and Host Chair in genuine leather or colorful tapestry (China Cabinet and Server extra). $179.50—20% off.

$143.60

LIBERAL TERMS

Forty years of scientific ice-making are back of this Belding-Hall top ice chest. Ice capacity 40 lbs.; white-enamel lined. $19.95, 20% off.

$15.96

Liberal Terms

Quaint Colonial four-poster, full size, after an interesting model; in combination mahogany. Individualizes the bedroom. $32.50, 20% off.

$26.00

Liberal Terms

Full-size felted cotton mattress, strongly tufted, and covered with durable art ticking. A July bedding department value, $9.85, 20% off

$7.88

Liberal Terms

Large, well-proportioned dresser with deep drawers and gracefully set-in mirror. Another striking Shoor Bros' value. See it early. $49.50, 20% off

$39.60

Liberal Terms

No Extra Charge For Time Payments

Profit-Sharing Bonds Do Not Apply

Trumbull Near Asylum

Shoor Bros

HARTFORD'S LEADING FURNITURE STORE

Old Customers Pay No Money Down

Free Storage for Later Delivery

Trumbull Near Pratt

OPEN ALL DAY WEDNESDAY DURING JULY AND AUGUST

NR TO-NIGHT TOMORROW ALRIGHT

Be Well And Happy

and you have Nature's greatest gift, Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) a vegetable laxative, to ease the organs and relieve Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headaches, nervousness that vigor and good feeling so necessary to being well and happy.

Used for Over 29 Years

Get a 50c. Box

NR

Chips off the Old Block

NR JUNIOR—Little NRs The same NR—in one-third doses, candy-coated. For children and adults. Sold by Your Druggist.

Manchester Evening Herald

PUBLISHED BY THE HERALD PRINTING CO. Founded by Elwood S. Bliss Oct. 1, 1881

Every Evening Except Sundays and Holidays. Entered at the Post Office at Manchester as Second Class Mail Matter. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Mail six dollars a year; sixty cents a month for shorter periods.

By carrier, eighteen cents a week. Single copies, three cents. SPECIAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVE: Hamilton De Lissar, Inc., 25 West 43d Street, New York and 613 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

The Manchester Evening Herald is on sale in New York City at Schultz's News Stand, Sixth Avenue and 42d Street and 42nd Street entrance of Grand Central Station.

International News Service has the exclusive rights to use for republication in any form all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper. It is also exclusively entitled to use for republication all the local or undated news published herein.

FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1926.

RUM FIGURES.

Most interesting are comparisons of pre-Volstead and Volstead conditions in New York.

Federal Prohibition Administrator C. P. Mills is authority for the statement that there are 15,000 speakeasies in the city, in any of which liquor can be purchased. Mr. Mills, naturally, has no reason for exaggerating the number, and every reason not to acknowledge such figures without being very sure indeed that they do not exceed the truth.

There is no such guarantee that the number he cites is not smaller than the actuality, for of course he has told about only such places as he knows to exist; there may be many thousands more of which he has no suspicion.

But even the 15,000 secret rum holes constitute an imposing fact. It must be remembered, besides, that these are entirely apart from the big bootleggers who never sell liquor by the drink or the single bottle but who deal with well-to-do people and only in case lots or their multiples. Of these there are many hundreds, probably a number of thousands.

But again eliminating everything except the condition having official dry recognition, it will be rather astonishing to many persons to learn that the 15,000 places where liquor may be bought is more than double the number in pre-prohibition days, when in 1918, there were only 6,866 such establishments in the whole of the greater city—all licensed and under the eye of the police.

There was practically no unlicensed liquor selling before prohibition, for a very good reason indeed. The liquor dealer who paid a substantial sum to the city for the privilege of engaging in it quite naturally demanded protection against the potentially ruinous competition of the blind tiger. He was entitled to it, and he got it. If the police did not know that a speakeasy existed they were most promptly told about it by the nearest licensed dealer, and the illicit place was quickly raided and closed. The licensees, not from any recalcitrance but from self-interest, were an effective regulatory force.

So that the number of liquor licenses issued in New York came pretty close to representing the number of places where liquor was sold. The variation can be safely estimated to have been considerably less than one per cent.

There were dry sections of New York state but there were many very wet ones, in the old days. One was impressed, for instance, by the great number of places where liquor was sold in the Hudson river towns, while Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse were all hard drinking communities. Yet all together, through the entire empire state, including the metropolis, there were only 13,005 licensed bars of all kinds—almost two thousand fewer wet spots than the dries admit to exist in New York city alone at this time.

If there were to be added a proportionate number of illegal rum dispensaries throughout the state, to those in the city, the total, of course would be in excess of 30,000.

And all this in face of the fact that at the time of the passage of the 18th amendment the number of saloons in New York, in spite of the growth of population, was steadily if slowly decreasing. The last year before prohibition became a ponderable probability, there was a falling off of something like 70 in the license applications from the year before, whereas the normal increase in saloons, some years before that, had been something like 150 annually, if memory serves aright.

The saloon, under normal conditions, then, was not gaining in importance as a factor in New York life, but was actually losing ground. The movies had a good deal to do with that fact.

We have the 18th amendment and Volsteadism. The effect is too obvious for argument.

APPROVAL.

There is probably no better intentioned organization in Connecticut than the Child Welfare Association. Yet the average citizen will undoubtedly applaud the action of Health Commissioner Stanley H. Orborn in withholding from that body access to the records of the Health department concerning illegitimate children.

Beyond possibility of question the association intended the list of names and the statistics which it was copying from the records for perfectly proper uses. And yet it is obvious that there should be, nowhere, any such assemblage of data concerning illegitimate births; for there is no knowing into what hands documents of this nature might fall at some future time, or what potentialities for blackmail, serious mischief making and wretched unhappiness might lie in them.

It is impossible not to feel that the state authorities did the right thing in preventing the listing of Connecticut children born out of wedlock. And this despite the seemingly quite vital theory that every public record of every sort ought to open to the inspection of any citizen.

Secret bureaucracy is one of the most insidious enemies of democracy, and for public officials to get the notion that the records of their offices are nobody's business but their own is not only an exasperating and unwarranted but actually dangerous thing. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred denial of access to public records would be unjustifiable and probably illegal. Just why the present case is an exception it isn't easy to figure out. Yet probably all but a very few persons will feel that it is—and heartily approve of the Health Department's action. It is one of those cases where the right can be sensed much more easily than it can be proved by argument.

HOW COME?

There is an ancient English rhyme in which the scribe is supposed to demand an explanation of an extraordinary condition insisted on as the truth by an elderly naval man. Part of it goes something like this:

Oh, wise ye may be, my elderly man, In the ways of the salty sea, But I'll eat my hand if I understand Not what you possibly be. At once the cook and the captain bold and the mate of the Nancy brig, And the midshipmite and the bos'n's tight and the crew of the captain's side.

The explanation was vivid and perhaps convincing. It appears that the crew of the Nancy brig had been shipwrecked on a desert island where there were no grocery stores or butcher markets and that the crew, to make a long story short, ate each other up, the narrator of the tale having been the ultimate survivor, with the ingredients of the whole expedition incorporated in his being. That was how he came to be the cook and the captain bold and the mate, etc.

About as stumping a puzzle is how Col. Ned Green would amplify his statement that, in his administration of the position of prohibition director for California, he "had the support of both the wets and dries of the district" for the manner in which he had filled the job.

If Pershing had reported that he had had the enthusiastic support of both the French and the Germans in 1917-18 he would not have made a more astonishing statement.

Unless Green can show that the California wets have absorbed the dries or the dries swallowed the wets, and the two utterly conflicting elements become merged in one, his declaration is going to deserve a place in a museum.

BIGOTRY.

One of the most extraordinary proceedings of this extraordinary year is the attack made on the grand jury in the Chipps killing case by the personal newspaper of Rev. J. Frank Norris, the Fort Worth clergyman who shot Chipps. The jury still has the case in hand, and the outcome of its deliberations is not yet. But the minister's publicity agent discounts its findings in advance by declaring that it is packed with enemies of Norris. To prove its utter inadequacy he points out that there are actually Roman Catholics on the jury.

Are we to witness an era of religious bigotry in this country so serious in its infection that Protestants shall seek to nullify court action because a Catholic bailiff is present, and Catholics appeal from verdicts on the ground that the court clerk is a Baptist? Evidently there are sections of this country that are sliding backward and fast, when religious prejudice can be carried to a point just about worthy of a Lord George Gordon or a Duke de Guise.

It is high time that this fomentation of hatred among Americans by religious bigots of any denomination or creed be brought to an end.

ONE PROPHET.

As we have remarked before—without result—we should really like to get the name and address of the principle one of those several individuals who assured us there was to be no summer. Since it appears to be an open season for Coast Guards, rum runners, editors, minister's enemies, bank messengers and other varieties of game, we see no reason why we shouldn't cap up the old ten-gauge muzzle loader and go a-hunting ourselves. And the sculp of that particular weather prophet would be—oh, boy!—some trophy.

IN NEW YORK

New York, July 23.—Some idea of the number of chorines on Broadway and their tireless activity may be gained from the announcement of a shoe manufacturing concern that it turns out nearly 1,200 pairs of ballet slippers per month.

That! but one firm. There are many such catering to the nimble feet of the ladies of the chorus—all of whom are far from being ballet artists. But there are many thousand who trip built steps who never see a Broadway footfall. Scores of legitimate and shady concerns alike plaster the small towns of the nation with notices of the stage opportunities awaiting in New York.

Except in those cases where the families cannot afford the expense of a chance, little harm is done; and many a lass who is "quite the punkin'" at home learns a good lesson in the smallness of her talents.

To return to the shoe market, the life of a pair of regularly used ballet slippers is about a week. With solo artists, who are particularly active, it is less than that. Pavlova is said to have insisted on new shoes for almost every appearance. These, of course, were specially made so that there could be no possibility of any mistake as to fit.

Naturally, the places that catered to the leaders of the art soon had the custom of the lesser lights. Recently, an English troupe, coming to stage a musical revue, cabled frantically for its own shoemaker. It could find no one in New York that seemed to the members quite so good.

The shoemaker came in grand style on the next boat. For 20 years, it seemed, he had been outfitting the folk of one of the London theaters and the style of dancing shoe used was considerably different than that donned by the American chorines.

Practically every musical comedy organization has a special shoe outfit, though one sometimes out-fits many companies. In the frantic dancing demanded by the producers of today few pumps can be expected to stand the wear of more than a few weeks. And when a chorus of 15 to 20 is considered, the item is a considerable one.

Nor is all the trade of these specialists confined to Broadway. Shows must be equipped for the road and those who achieve a big reputation find floods of orders from dancing schools in every section of the nation.

—GILBERT SWAN.

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTERS

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington, July 23.—Pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission—it was argued recently and the commissioners are thinking it over now—is what looks like a very dinky little railroad case, which, nevertheless, involves considerably more money than the war debt all Europe owes to the United States.

The railroad is the St. Louis & O'Fallon, a 9-mile line running out of East St. Louis. The Interstate Commerce Commission has tentatively valued this road at $850,000. The road's management contends that it is worth more than twice the amount of the commission's estimate.

Split With Government. According to law, a railroad which earns more than 6 per cent net profit on its fair value must divide the excess evenly with the federal government.

On an $850,000 valuation the St. Louis & O'Fallon earns considerably more than 6 per cent and has something to divide with the government.

On a basis of more than twice $850,000, it makes nothing like 6 per cent, and has nothing to divide. The question, obviously, is one of valuation. How should they be made?

The Presidents' Conference Committee, an organization of the executives of all the important railroads in the country, which really argued the St. Louis & O'Fallon case before the Interstate Commerce Commission, contends that a railroad's original cost has nothing to do with what it is worth today—that it is worth now as much as it would cost to reproduce it at present high prices.

Disagree on Basis. The National Conference of Valuation, an organization of railroad workers, shippers and communities served by railroads, which appeared before the commission in opposition to the Presidents' Committee, maintains that the railroads are entitled to an undivided 6 per cent only on "the amount reasonably and honestly invested" in them.

The final decision on this valuation question in the St. Louis & O'Fallon case will set a precedent for all the railroads in the United States, which immediately explains why all of them are so much interested.

As the total sum involved: Worth Twenty Billion. Attorney Dorey, opening the recent argument before the commission, as counsel for its bureau of valuation, put the investment value of all the country's roads at between 15 and 20 billions of dollars.

On a reproduction basis he said this would be increased by about 15 billions.

Commissioners Meyer and Atchison immediately interrupted Dorey at this point, to say that a 16-billion dollar increase was altogether too low an estimate, to which Dorey agreed that perhaps it was.

However, taking the lowest figures: On a 15 to 20 billion dollar valuation, the roads are making 6 per cent, and more, to divide with the government.

On a 30 to 35 billion valuation they are in financial straits and in a position to demand a reduction in their workers' pay and an increase in the shippers' rates.

ALL THE DIFFERENCE.

"Mother, can me and John have some cake?" "Not unless you ask for it grammatically." "Well, then—mother, can I have some cake?"—Tit-Bits, London.

BE CAREFUL OF WATER YOU DRINK WHEN AWAY

In this week's bulletin issued by the State Health Department is to be found some timely advice to vacationists and others who are in the habit of thoughtlessly drinking water at places they visit without a thought to its source, or investigation to see if wells or springs are in good condition. From the bulletin we print the following:

Roadside Water Supplies. Private supplies or sources used by the roadside traveler are usually secured from wells, springs and running streams. The only sure method of telling whether or not water from a well or spring is safe is to analyze the water but many unsafe water supplies can be ruled out by inspection. Wells should be located away from cesspools, privies, manure piles, etc., and should not be on a slope from them. The curbing and cover of the well should be tight and waste water should preferably be diverted away. Bucket and chain wells located away from cesspools, privies, manure piles, etc., and should not be on a slope from them. The curbing and cover of the well should be tight and waste water should preferably be diverted away.

Running streams without the benefit of long stone or purification are always potentially dangerous. Picknickers, hunters or other visitors may deposit excreta on the watershed of the stream so that pollution may wash in. No protection exists for you.

Turbid waters should be avoided because they suggest the probability of surface wash. All water should be followed up to the source for most of these are not safe for drinking purposes.

You have become accustomed to "Stop, look and listen" before crossing railroad tracks. Become accustomed to the same habit before using private water supplies. They may be just as dangerous.

Stop, look and listen before crossing railroad tracks. Become accustomed to the same habit before using private water supplies. They may be just as dangerous.

Stop, look and listen before crossing railroad tracks. Become accustomed to the same habit before using private water supplies. They may be just as dangerous.

DAILY POEM

KNICKERS

Say, which is mom, an' which is pop? I'll swear, ya oft-n have to stop and think to really dope the thing, since knickers have come in to swing.

The folk who tour, an' mobbe like, these days are lookin' much alike. Tween boyish hair cuts, sim'lar clothes, just which is which, goth only knows.

But, after all, I guess it's wise, 'cause folk have come to realize that when vacation has its fling, real comin' is the smart thing.

The prude may raise his line of kicks against the women wearin' knickers. Oh, well, we knia knew he would, but that can't stop 'em feelin' good.

The world do move ad styles do change and, sometimes, things seem rather strange, but anyone who just knicks look nice.

There's just one point that man might raise, an' that's where havoc sometimes plays. It's different, quite—you bet it is, if wite starts in wearin' his.

SO THEY DO.

Mrs. Dwyer: An' when Mrs. Grubbs sez you was no lidy, wot did yer say? Mrs. Keiler: I sez "Two negatives make a infirmity," and knocks her down.—Humorist.

Victor Records by these famous artists HALF PRICE

THINK of securing records by such famous artists as Caruso, Galli-Curci, Ponselle and the hundreds of other exclusive Victor artists, for just half price! These are all double disc records—a selection on each side. Then, too, all Blue Label records by Harry Lauder, Lambert Murphy, Victor Herbert and other famous artists are also half price.

75c Black Label Popular Records 29c

WATKINS BROTHERS

Artists listed: Galli-Curci, Fadrewski, Braslav, Ciampini, Caruso, Ponselle, Buffo, Alda, McCormack, Boffa, Elman, Lashanska, Zimbalist, Samartoff, Jleta, Farrar, Cical, H. Kreisler, Witherspoon, Bardone, Mengelberg, Stokowski.

NASH Leads the World in Motor Car Value

THE ADVANCED SIX 4-DOOR SEDAN $1525

Enclosed Car motor, 7-bearing crankshaft, full force-feed lubrication, air cleaner, gasoline filter, oil purifier—plus 4-wheel brakes and 5 disc wheels—included at no extra cost.

Wonderfully smooth and quiet, this Advanced Six 4-Door Sedan with its big "Enclosed Car" motor offers also 25% greater power and 23% faster pick-up. Come in and DRIVE it yourself.

MADDEN BROTHERS Main Street Corner Brainard Place

A THOUGHT

Of a truth, I perceive that God is no respecter of persons; but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.—Acts 10:34, 35.

The savior comes in the strength of righteousness. Righteousness is at the bottom of all things. Righteousness is thorough; it is the very spirit of unsparring truth.—Phillips Brooks.

MUSICAL NOTE.

Music Critic (to sweet young thing): How did you like The Bacarolle at the musicale last night? S. Y. T.: I didn't stay for the refreshments. Mr. Clegg.—Life.

CHURCH WEALTH

Washington.—On the basis of returns just announced by the federal trade commission, the total wealth of all religious organizations in the United States in 1922 is estimated at $3,271,553,001. The total membership for that year, as reported in the Year Book of Churches, was 47,467,000.

HELP IN THE FIELD? SAY! WHAT DID I GET A COLLEGE EDUCATION FOR? NO SIR! I'M RESIN' UP THIS SUMMER, BESIDES I'M DATED UP FOR A PICNIC TODAY—ETC.

The Day After Pa Fired the Best Hired Hand in the Country

LIGHTS BLOOEY, PHONES DUMB; WHO CARES?

(Continued from page 1.)

Corner and the passengers brought to Manchester in another trolley. Two or three other cars of the Connecticut Company were put out of commission during the storm. Power was off for about 20 minutes in this morning's storm.

Several telephones of the signal system were blown out but were repaired in a few hours.

108 BOSTON RECORD Boston, July 23.—The backbone of the terrific heat wave was believed to have been broken in New England today following a severe electrical storm that swept the entire coast, from Connecticut to Maine, causing two deaths to add to fifteen killed by the sizzling weather and thirteen drowned while seeking relief in water from the torrid spell.

The storm left behind considerable damage to offset the relief it brought from the sultry, almost unbearable heat, ruining crops, raising roofs, blowing down barns and frail buildings, tearing up poles, temporarily disrupting traffic and communication.

With one exception, yesterday was the hottest day in the history of Boston, the government thermometer registering a peak of 103.

41 Year Record Broken New Haven, July 23.—A record of nearly forty-one years standing was shattered yesterday when the official weather bureau thermometer went above the 101 mark.

Not a heat prostration was reported though conditions were such that hospital attendants expected to be kept busy. With a tremendous traffic jam late in the evening as a result of a heavy wind storm, no accidents were reported.

New York's Heat 15 New York, July 23.—Cooler today and considerably cooler tomorrow was the weather bureau announcement which brought joy to millions in the metropolitan area, which has registered a death toll of fifteen from the withering heat wave of the last few days.

The thermometer recorded to 76 degrees at 8:30 o'clock this morning, ten degrees cooler than yesterday, although still seven degrees higher than the same date last year.

Intermittent rain through the night aided in the temperature drop from yesterday's record breaking 97 degrees.

SOLDIERS KEEP ON DESPITE THE HEAT of the Howitzer Company of Manchester was included. Lieutenant Walter Tedford was in charge.

(Continued from page 1.)

It was also arranged that the men would not have to carry their 40-pound packs on their backs, these being taken to the lot by auto trucks. Major Joseph P. Nolan, in command of the Third Battalion allowed his men four short rests on the trip.

Under normal conditions only two stops are made and sometimes only one. However, the danger of men dropping from the ranks was too great to take chances. A section of the Medical Detachment followed the soldiers on the hike to pick up any who might become exhausted.

On Governor's Day, two men were prostrated but there were no cases reported yesterday.

When the hike was completed and the shelter tents pitched, the men made a mad rush for the cooling waters of the Sound where practically the entire battalion immersed for relief.

Manchester Guards Camp.

As the encampment approaches its final stages, the two Manchester companies continue to occupy the spotlight. From 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, soldiers from the Silk City will guard the camp. Company G which went through the intricate ordeal of formal Guard Mount yesterday afternoon, was on guard until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Lieutenant Thomas J. Quish was officer of the day and Lieutenant Edgar M. Thompson, commander of the guard. The Howitzer company relieved its brother company late this afternoon and will continue on duty until tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Lieutenant Walter Tedford will be commander of the guard.

Brief Camp Notes. Sergeant Anderson, Corporals Cervini, Finn and Fitzpatrick, will be the non-coms to take charge of the guard duty which the Howitzer Company throws around the camp today.

Miss Adolaid Sinnamon, of Highland Park, is staying with Mrs. Edgar M. Thompson, wife of Lieutenant Thompson, at the Sherman Cottage in Pine Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. William Newman and daughter were visitors in camp Wednesday. Mr. Newman was a

Stores Open All Day Saturday

Manchester's stores will be open for business all day Saturday and until 9 p. m. Saturday night.

Manchester's merchants would like to give the store clerks the benefit of a Saturday half holiday but cannot do so until the practice becomes general throughout Hartford County. Despite stories you may hear—

Manchester's Stores Will Be Open Saturdays As Usual.

Lieutenant in Company G in the World War.

Ex-Colonel Michael J. Connors, of Hartford, and well-known to many Manchester World War veterans, visited camp today.

Ex-Lieutenant Thomas Brown, a former member of Company G in the World War, was a recent visitor in camp.

Private Vendrillo, of Company G, has received word of the death of his grandmother in New Britain. He will be excused for the funeral.

Private Belinuel, of Company G, went to the New London hospital yesterday to have an X-ray taken of his left hand which he injured several days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Seaman, of Manchester, came to camp Wednesday to visit friends and to watch the program for Governor's day.

Corporal William F. Mahoney, of Manchester, is serving his third year in camp with Company E, of Hartford, under Captain Harry Schwolsky. Corporal Mahoney is company clerk for his outfit.

Sergeant Minicuel, Corporals De Han, Mullens and Hennequin were the non-coms on guard duty for Company G today and last night. Sergeant Partons was supernumerary sergeant of the guard.

Chief Skipper

Brig.-Gen. Albert C. Dalton, new president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, who succeeds Elmer C. Crowley, removed by the Shipping Board. Gen. Dalton was assistant quartermaster general of the army and has had much experience in handling army transport service.

A Wedding in Old China

Colorful scenes like those of centuries ago were enacted at Peking when Prince Pu Chia, cousin of the Chinese "boy emperor," Pu Yi, was married to Miss Tseng Huang-quan, daughter of a former Chinese government official. This picture shows bride and groom in their ceremonial costumes worn at the wedding.

NAVY DEPT. DECIDES TO TRAIN RESERVES

Washington—The Navy will also have its Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Despite recent opposition to the R. O. T. C. units of the Army, colleges and universities, the Navy department has announced the establishment of naval training units at Harvard, Yale, Georgia Institute of Technology, Northwestern University, the University of California and the University of Washington.

The record made by college men who were trained in six months to serve as ensigns during the World War is basis for Navy officers to declare that a valuable reserve corps can be attained under the new system.

Each of the six institutions selected will be limited to a reserve of 2000 students, who must enroll for a four-year course. The naval subjects covered will be credited toward a university degree. During the first two years the course will embrace instruction in seamanship, navigation and ordnance, while the advanced course for the last two years will include the advanced science of a naval officer's training.

Officers who will install the units are: Harvard, Capt. A. H. Rice; Yale, Capt. F. D. Berrien; Georgia Institute of Technology, Commander John J. London; University of California, Commander C. W. Nimitz; University of Washington, Commander James P. Olding; Northwestern University, Commander Stephen B. McKinney.

THESE DAYS. Dyer: Was it a good show? Ryer: No, just decent.—Life.

Let Doctor Prepare Child For School Now

Not much like the Little Red Schoolhouse! But these New York youngsters like it if they're physically equipped.

By DR. S. J. CRUMBINE General Executive, American Child Health Association.

Will your child be ready for school this fall? His wardrobe may be well stocked and his book satchel may contain a fresh supply of notebooks and pencils. But has he had a physical examination this summer, and have your physicians' suggestions been carried out?

Each year many children enter school poorly equipped physically to carry on their work. Those children who are not continuously under the supervision of their physician should have a thorough physical examination in time for defects to be corrected before school opens in the fall.

May Find Defect. Our teachers have learned that the birch rod is not the best method for awakening the dull child or steadying the actions of the impulsive, fidgety one. Instead they wonder if the dull, inattentive, disobedient child hears well; if the restless child, who is always dropping things, may not have infected tonsils, and they consult the school physician or nurse.

The teacher has learned to regard mouth breathing, bad skin conditions, blue lips, twitching muscles, and discharging ears as danger signals. Yet children are still being unjustly disciplined by parents and teachers for ill health or defects. Parents too often take it for granted that their child is all right if he sleeps at night and eats and plays during the day.

Most children are not as healthy and robust as it is possible for them to be. Many are handicapped by physical defects and faulty health habits which may cause physical suffering, retarded growth and loss of time from school.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 school children in most schools, we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

In this group of 100 children we may expect 25 to 35 to have defective vision. These visual defects may cause headaches, nausea and dizziness. They may explain a child's inability to grasp ideas which are presented through the eye, by means of the black board charts.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

Our school medical examinations show that among a group of 100 children we may expect to find twenty to thirty who are malnourished. The development of these children is being retarded, their resistance to disease is lessened and the malnutrition may explain an apparent lack of ambition.

UKRAINE LEADERS MOVE TO PART FROM SOVIETS

Moscow.—Development of a bitter controversy between Moscow and Kharkov, capital of the Ukraine, reveals evidence that no complete success has met the Soviet's attempt to solve the question of national minorities by giving autonomy to each national group.

It is now admitted that strong elements in the Ukraine are working for separation from the Soviet Union. The root of the trouble seems to be the over-developed patriotism of the Ukrainians, resulting from their sudden freedom from the bonds imposed by the Russian autocracy.

For a cool drink and a nourishing food drink try our chocolate or coffee mated milk float.—Quinn's—Adv.

Avoid Poorly Balanced Breakfasts

That's Where the Great Dietary Mistake is Made

IF YOU feel tired, hungry, "fidgety" hours before lunch, don't jump to the conclusion of poor health. Thousands have unenergetic mornings because they start the day with wrong breakfasts.

To feel right, you must have a well-balanced complete breakfast. At most other meals, lunch and dinner—you get it. But breakfast is a hurried meal, often badly chosen.

Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder, 58% carbohydrate, a great energy element, plus all-important vitamins and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today.

It is food that "stands by" you through the morning. Don't deny yourself the natural stimulation this rich food offers you.

Get Quaker Oats today. Grocers have two kinds: Quick Quaker, which cooks in 3 to 5 minutes, and Quaker Oats.

Quaker Oats

Stand By-- Tomorrow Night's Paper -tells the news. Only one more day to wait. Watch for The Herald.

STATION 893 MAIN STREET Broadcasting WONDERFUL SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY

Table with 4 columns: ATHLETIC UNDERWEAR, ENGLISH BROADCLOTH SHIRTS, UNION SUITS, BALBRIGGAN UNION SUITS, etc.

DON'T FORGET—SATURDAY IS THE DAY. SALE STARTS AT 9 A. M.

Workingman's Store Main Street A FULL LINE OF CAMPING SUPPLIES.

MARLOW'S Anniversary Sale The supreme bargain event is now in full swing. Come and make substantial savings on good quality, dependable merchandise.

TIRES ON CREDIT $1.00 per week CENTRAL AUTOMOBILE TIRE CO. 301 Trumbull Street Hartford, Conn. Local Agent Wanted.

700

SPECIAL!
Occasional Table

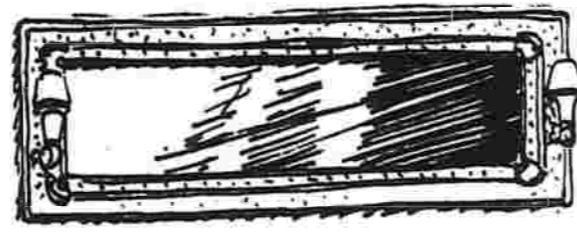

A convenient piece, decorative as well as useful in the living room or hall. Walnut finish—priced at a very unusual saving ..... $6.98

A Typical August Sale Value Is This 3-Piece Kroehler Suite

The generous size of these three luxurious pieces, the splendid upholstery and the unmistakable superiority of Kroehler workmanship mark this August Sale offering as a value you would scarcely expect to find at such a low price. The three pieces shown below are included: davenport, club chair and fireside chair, all in a beautiful new pattern of figured velour ..... $135

Conveniently Budgeted Payments

PLAUT'S AUGUST

begins to

Convenient
TERMS

enable you to buy NOW while savings are greatest and enjoy the use of your new things while you are paying for them out of income. Just a small down payment and the balance over an extended period of months.

Not a "Discount" Sale—No fictitious savings. PLAUT'S can offer—and savings respect from New England's Largest Furniture Store—people who want "Finest" furniture will find here at Sale Price the newest designs and finishes of the day to call your own.

Furnishings for one room, a that odd corner are offered at prices you can't afford to miss—and

Odd Dining Room Pieces Reduced

- $50.00 American Walnut Buffet, 60 inches long, in English Tudor design ..... $39.75
- $60.00 American Walnut Buffet, 66 inches long, in English Tudor design ..... $49.75
- $70.00 American Walnut Buffet, 66 inches long in Queen Anne design ..... $59.75
- Walnut or Mahogany Veneered Tea Wagon with drop leaf ..... $16.95
- Imported Nickel Serving Trays with decorated glass bottom $2.50

Four Pieces in Genuine Walnut Veneer At a Really Low Price

- Seldom, indeed, is it possible to find such a combination of quality and beauty at such a remarkable saving—but that is only added evidence of the unusual values offered in our August Sale. All pieces are as illustrated—four of them, bow end bed, dresser, chiffonette and vanity, all of genuine walnut veneer beautifully finished and decorated. Convenient terms place it easily within reach of all. $98.00
- $230.00 Four-Piece Bedroom Suite in French Walnut with traced panels in old copper; a Plaut value that stands unchallenged and can't be duplicated ..... $187.00
  - $240.00 Four-Piece Bedroom Suite in Huguenot Walnut, Tudor design, large dresser, full Vanity, chiffonette and bow-end bed—a remarkable value at this price... $189.00
  - $250.00 Four-Piece Bedroom Suite in Venetian Walnut with maple top drawer panels. Tudor design with large dresser, full vanity, spacious chiffonette and full size bow-end bed ..... $198.00
  - $267.50 Four-Piece Bedroom Suite in American Walnut with burl walnut overlays and carved molding. Large dresser, full vanity, chiffonette and full size bow-end bed ..... $199.00

And a Wonderful Selection Not Listed Here

Massive Suite In High-Lighted Antique Walnut Veneer—Eight Handsome Pieces

For the discriminating person who wants a dining room of perfect appointments, dignity of authentic style and richness of finish, this superbly made and designed suite offers a splendid choice at a very low price. Massively built, yet graceful in line and proportion, with genuine walnut veneers in antique high-lighted finish. Extension table, buffet, arm chair and five straight chairs are included; the china cabinet and server being priced extra. $185.00

Two August Specials
MAHOGANY FINISH Windsor Chairs

A quaintly designed dainty Windsor Chair, beautifully finished in antique mahogany, whose low price is only another good reason for bringing its homelike charm into that odd corner somewhere in your home. A splendid value at
An August Sale Special! $3.69

A Special Grouping of Fine

- $275.00 Four-Piece Bedroom Suite in Huguenot Walnut with delicately traced gold-line panels. Large dresser, three-quarter vanity, chiffonette and full-size bow-end bed. A remarkable value at ..... $229.00
- $315.00 Six-Piece Decorated Robin Egg Blue Enameled Bedroom Suite, including dresser, full-size bed, chiffonette, semi-vanity, chair and bench ..... $279.00
- $450.00 Six-Piece Decorated Maple and Walnut Bedroom Suite in Louis XVI design. Large fifty-inch dresser, chest of drawers, summer vanity, full-size bed, chair and ..... $324.00
- $400.00 Six-Piece French Walnut Tudor Bedroom Suite with all mahogany interiors and dust proof construction. Dainty routed panels—large dresser, full-size vanity, chiffonette, full-size bed, chair and bench ..... $337.00
- $445.00 Six-Piece Colonial Four-Poster Bedroom Suite in Antique Colonial Mahogany. Quaint and spacious highboy, large massive dresser, cheval cabinet toilet table, upholstered chair and bench. Very artistic and substantial—greatly underpriced ..... $398.00
- $625.00 Six-Piece Louis XVI Decorated Sage Green Enameled Bedroom Suite with Cane panels. Large dresser, full-size bed, French vanity, chair and bench ..... $447.00
- $950.00 Nine-Piece Decorated Huguenot Walnut Twin Bedroom Suite in Eighteenth Century Tudor Period. Large dresser with hanging mirrors, French Pier Cabinet Vanity, large chest of drawers, two twin-size beds in Sleigh design, night table, chair and bench ..... $685.00
- $370.00 Seven-Piece Bleached Mahogany Apartment Dining Room Suite with Refectory table, all pieces hand decorated. An August Sale Value ..... $285.00
- $395.00 Ten-Piece, Two-Tone American Walnut Dining Room Suite in English Tudor design with genuine Duco finish ..... $325.00
- $448.00 Ten-Piece American Walnut Dining Room Suite with selected Burl Walnut panels. Backs and seat of chairs upholstered in Rose and Taupe Jacquard Velour ..... $347.00

This Stately Tapestry Hall Chair
$29.85

Good taste will admire the graceful lines of this chair—good judgment approves its economy at this price. In antique walnut with richly figured tapestry.

Simmons Bed, Spring and Mattress, $26.75

Newest graceline bed with cane end panels and gold medallion decorations. A link spring and pure cotton mattress.

Decorated Breakfast Set Five Pieces for $29.75

The quaint Windsor lines and the dainty color of this pretty set smile a cheery good morning and make every breakfast a pleasure to be eagerly looked forward to. Drop leaf table and four chairs as illustrated are included, all in washable enamel finish and decorated in contrasting colors.

Eight Big Floors Filled With Rugs of the World—All

PURCHASES HELD If Desired

for later delivery free of charge, a feature of convenience to those expecting to begin housekeeping later, but want to take advantage of SALE SAVINGS now.

SPECIAL!
Pretty Windsor High Chair With Tray—Special!

Sturdily built with widely spread legs to prevent tipping. As shown in golden oak finish and complete with tray. No phone or mail orders, please.

The PLAUT

"Your Home Should Come First"

Branch, May-Stern & Company—

173-183 Ave.

AUGUST SALE

tomorrow

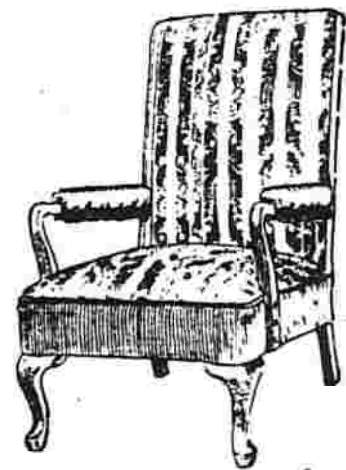

... bargains, but values that only such as folk have learned to expect at the Finest Furniture House. Dismissings rather than just Furniture—a comprehensive selection of the kind of things you will be proud

... complete home, or to fill out at savings you can't expect on convenient terms.

... ering Real Savings
JACQUARD UPHOLSTERED
Coxwell Chair

... genuine comfort offered by this inviting chair is luxury within easy reach of the slimmer. Just as restful as it looks and in its Jacquard cover a thing of beauty, too. The and the terms are both unusual.

An August Sale Special! $33.75

... suites at Extreme Savings

- 472.50 Ten-Piece Antique Walnut Dining Room Suite in Duco finish and Tudor design with graceful gold line embellishments ..... $389.00
- 425.00 Eight-Piece Walnut Dining Room Suite—"Veritas Furniture," Furniture with a History. Chair seats and backs are upholstered in Mohair ..... $347.50
- 625.00 Ten-Piece Walnut Dining Room Suite in French Walnut finish and English design. Chairs have high backs and seats are upholstered in a fine Jacquard Velour ..... $395.00
- 557.00 Ten-Piece Huguenot Walnut Dining Room Suite in Italian Renaissance with Burl Walnut panels and table top. real aristocrat ..... $445.00
- 650 Ten-Piece Walnut Dining Room Suite in Antique High Lighted finish in Spanish design. Chairs have high backs with seats and backs upholstered in Mohair ..... $467.00
- 50.00 Two-piece Mohair Living Room Suite, rich rose and taupe shade with hand carved top and bottom frame with carved back. Decks covered in wear-resisting velour. A gorgeous suite with two pillows to match ..... $447
- 500.00 Massive and Luxurious Two-piece Kidney Shape Living Room Suite upholstered in steel shade mohair with mauss edged and welted reverse cushions in frieze. Carved underframe. An unusual grouping complete with two pillows to match ..... $419
- 375.00 Graceful Carved Frame Three-piece Living Room Suite in rose and taupe mohair with silk brocattelle reverse cushions. Queen Anne design. Genuine "Kroehler"—a remarkable value at this price ..... $334.50
- 750.00 Gorgeous Hand Carved Frame Italian Renaissance Living Room Suite in genuine imported frieze. Three pieces—sofa, club chair and arm chair. Cushions filled with down. Grand Rapids Made ..... $595
- 250.00 Three-piece Mohair Living Room Suite made by Kroehler in beautiful walnut and red shade, cushions with an exquisite silk brocattelle reverse—very graceful and comfortable ..... $198.50

... Furnishings From the March August Sale Savings

Old Customers Pay No Money Down

—if you now have an account here or ever had one, any purchase made now will be delivered without the customary deposit. Come in—let's get acquainted again.

Wood Finish Day Bed With Cretonne Mattress, $29.00

Another special August Sale value which will appeal to buyers who know value. Nationally known Englander make of all metal construction in walnut color complete with valanced mattress in pretty cretonne. Makes a comfortable full size bed when opened.

Walnut Finish Cedar Chest August Sale Special $19.50

A solid cedar chest with exterior in walnut finish. Dust proof, moth proof and mouse proof—absolute protection for your clothes. Exactly as shown at an attractive saving.

Mahogany Finish Windsor Rocker, $6.98

A charming and popular chair at a real saving—Gracefully designed—rich mahogany finish.

OPEN Every Monday Evening till 9

—and any other evening by Appointment during The August Sale. Realizing that the selection of the right pieces is sometimes difficult alone and that the family cannot always get together during the day, we have inaugurated Monday evening as Open Night when couples may come together and make unhurried selection in the cool evening.

SPECIAL!
Mahogany End Table
A pretty end table in mahogany finish to fill out that neglected spot in living room or hall—at a really surprising August saving ..... $1.95

A Kroehler Bed Suite In Figured Velour—Three Pieces

The big roomy davenport contains a full size bed which opens with one easy motion, the two chairs are also included and complete a beautiful living room suite of luxurious comfort. The covering is prettily figured velour in a pleasing pattern. The extremely low price and convenient terms make this splendid suite a very interesting offering ..... $139
(Conveniently Budgeted Payments)

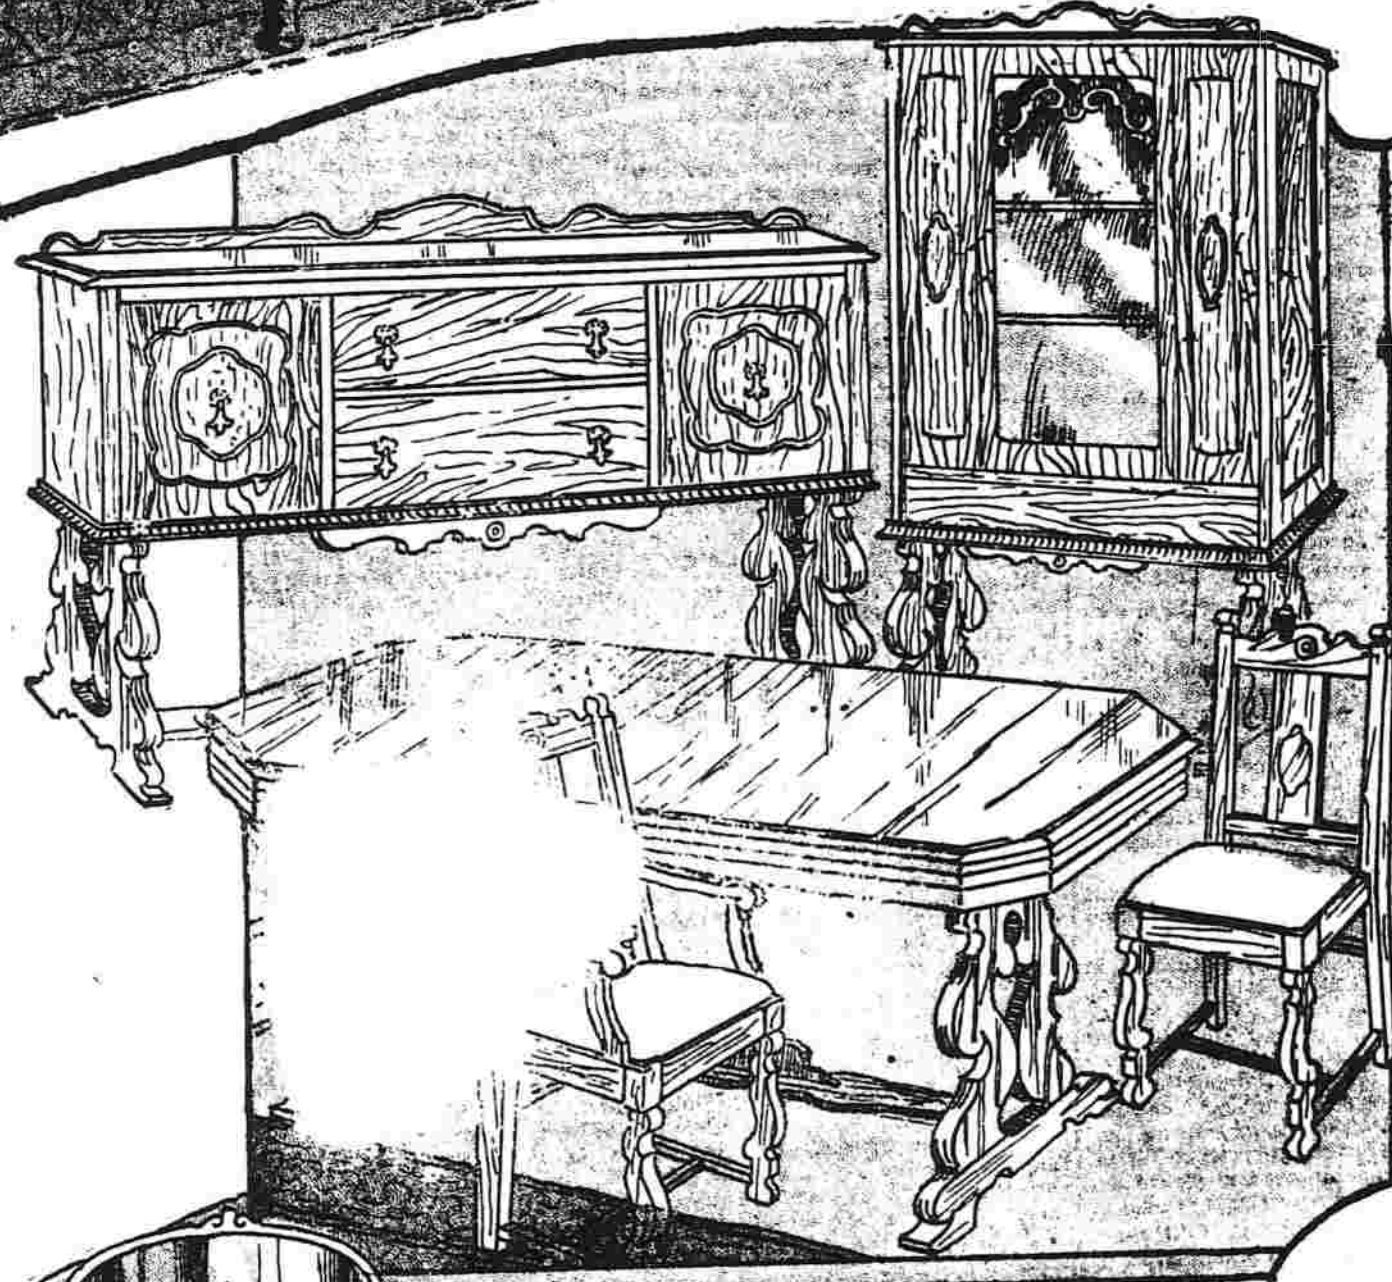

Bargains in Odd Bedroom Pieces

- $85.00 Huguenot Walnut Dresser with hand decorated panels—45-inch size ..... $72.50
- $47.50 Huguenot Walnut Chest of Drawers with hand decorated panels ..... $39.75
- $54.50 Huguenot Walnut Bow-End Bed, full-size decorated panels ..... $47.50
- $89.50 Huguenot Walnut Full Size Vanity with decorated panels ..... $77.00
- $45.00 Huguenot Walnut Poster Bed, massive trimmings, hand decorated panels ..... $39.50

Distinctive 8-Piece Suite At a Most Surprising Saving

- It is doubtful if a greater value than this has ever been offered anywhere surely never in Hartford, for there is no record of a suite of this character of construction, finish and appearance having been advertised within 100 miles of this price—just another August Sale value. Table, buffet, arm chair and five chairs are included, all in rich Tudor walnut finish. (The china cabinet is priced at small additional cost.) A truly splendid value at a saving which speaks for itself.
- $200.00 Ten-Piece American Walnut Dining Room Suite with 66-inch Buffet and choice of leather or tapestry upholstered seats on chairs ..... $137.50
  - $225.00 Eight-Piece American Walnut Dining Room Suite in Tudor design with molded panel overlays ..... $195.00
  - $235.00 Ten-Piece American Walnut Dining Room Suite in Queen Anne design with Burl Walnut overlays ..... $198.00
  - $246.00 Nine-Piece American Walnut Dining Room Suite in William and Mary period design ..... $189.00
  - $275.00 Ten-Piece Polished American Walnut Dining Room Suite with beautiful two-tone panels ..... $199.00
  - $300.00 Ten-Piece orsican Walnut Dining Room Suite in Eighteenth Century English Tudor design ..... $258.00

And Many Others at Equally Big Savings

69

THIS RICH BURL WALNUT SUITE OF FOUR LARGE PIECES AT AN ATTRACTIVE SAVING
Faultless workmanship and refinement of detail mark this splendid suite as a most unusual value at a decidedly popular price. In design it reveals the latest style tendency, in finish it is of rare beauty. Carefully matched veneers of genuine burl walnut of delicately figured grain. Bow end bed, large dresser, full vanity and deck top chest complete the group. .... $235.00

COMPANY

... d's Largest Home Furnishers
... Street

"Your Home Should Come First"

THE HERALD'S HOME PAGE

FEATURE ARTICLES ABOUT INTERESTING WOMEN

LATEST FASHION HINTS BY FOREMOST AUTHORITIES

How to Keep a Husband

NEIGHBORS' WIVES

ERNEST LYNN, author of THE YELLOW STUB

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JOHN and FAY MILBURN buy a home of their own shortly after their baby girl is born and the advertising agency in which John is partner and copy writer, lands a new contract.

Previous chapters told how John, a romantic individual, was fascinated on meeting NELL ORME, of whom FAY FORBES, one of John's best friends, hints that she is having trouble with her husband.

DR. DICK MENEFEK marries MARGARET WAYNE, and John is best man. Margaret's younger sister, CLARA, runs away and marries CLIFTON JANE, whom John cordially dislikes.

A party is given by NELL and VERA BOYD, and Vera shows an interest in John, which he does not return, but which arouses Fay's jealousy. Noel Boyd later boasts, in John's presence, of an arrangement between him and his wife, Vera, whereby each is left free by the other to do as he pleases.

Fay and the baby go to Washington to visit Fay's people, and John knocks around with Pat Forbes, whose wife also is away.

John gets a phone call one morning from DOROTHY FRANCIS, a girl he used to know in his college days and who is in town with her musical comedy. She says she wants to see him and he makes a dinner engagement with her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY (The names and situations in this story are fictitious.)

CHAPTER XXVII

JOHN spent a luxurious hour in the barber's chair, and at six o'clock he was calling up Miss Francis on the hotel telephone.

She received him in her room which struck him as a rather dingy informality, but her manner was so assured as to make him think that, after all, she must have received dozens of other men under the same circumstances—newspaper men, perhaps.

She had yellow hair, and her high arched black eyebrows and long lashes framed startling green eyes. "I wanted," she began when they had exchanged brief reminiscences "to discuss theatrical publicity with you. You see, I remember that even as a student at college you had some splendid ideas on the subject. Remember your own adventures in student dramatics?"

John did. He remembered, also that when Dorothy had left the little college town to go on the stage she had taken several press clippings of his own devising along with her.

"You know," she said, "there were such good ideas in those notices you wrote for me that I've used them extensively in my publicity for several years. But papers get tired of the same old stuff, so I'll have to think of something new. If you can work out something for me, I'll be glad to pay you. You're far cleverer, you know, than the ordinary run of theatrical press agents."

He laughed. "You're flattering me, I'm sure. As for pay—behave yourself and let's go to eat." "I have to be in the theater at quarter to eight," she reminded him. "That's all right. We're neither all we want in an hour and a half." He took her to Rainbo Gardens, where there was dancing. The head waiter, with a quick, appraising look at Miss Francis' expensive dress bowed unusually low and picked out a most conveniently located table.

John said carelessly, "I'll leave

"You've splendid taste, old man. Who was she?"

the ordering to you, Louie," and thrust a bill into his hand. "Something light for me, please," put in Miss Francis, and the waiter bowed again. "Yes, madam."

The orchestra was playing, and John, pushing back his chair, said, "Let's see, the last time you and I danced together was at one of the Junior Proms, wasn't it? It's been entirely too long to wait."

She laughed. "You always were original about asking for a dance. All right," she said, and he took her arm, "how you've come along. I've seen your name in the papers once in a while. How do you like it?"

"I like it tremendously. I don't think I could be happy off the stage." "No," he agreed, "I don't believe you could. There are certain people you know, who are born to it. You're one of them. Now that you are leading lady in a musical show, what's the next step?"

"Why, don't you know? How can I ask advice of a man who needs to be told that he's not a yearning of every musical comedy maid is the drama?"

"Forgive my ignorance," he laughed. "Still, I can't see why it should be. Why should musical comedy be forced to lose you?"

"Ego, my dear," she smiled. "The secret hope of all of us is to do something serious that will bring the critics to their knees."

"You women!" he exclaimed softly. "Adventurers, all of you."

"Looking for new worlds to conquer," he answered, and was about to say something more when he caught a familiar face smiling at him. It was Pat Forbes and John, to his intense disgust, saw he was dancing with his friend, Cora.

From the violent jerking of Forbes' head, John gathered that Pat was inviting him over to his table. He nodded, to let Pat know he understood, and the music stopped, almost before he had begun to realize that he was dancing.

"My problem," Dorothy began turning at once to the business at hand, "is to make some means of launching me in the serious drama," and she plunged into a discussion of her experiences and her hopes and of vague plans for realizing her ambition.

John was a little disappointed at the business-like trend of the conversation. Secretly, he had hoped there would be opportunity for a mild flirtation, for it wasn't every those eyes of hers; they seemed to have the power to charm anyone who looked at them.

John noticed the intensity of her look and shivered in mock fear. "Stop trying to vamp me," he laughed.

She smiled, and the green eyes danced and sparkled for a brief second. "Go on," she commanded.

"Well," said John, "the thing might work and it might not. It's only a rough suggestion now—in its finished form it might prove to be a good stunt. Anyway, my idea is to have you come in after the show and entertain the boys. And instead of giving them a song and dance, give them a dramatic reading of some sort. Get it? You're well enough known so the thing would cause a little surprise—and Harley George would be there to give you a nice write-up. Besides, under the influence of a few drinks, Harley would make me any promise—and keep it, too."

The green eyes seemed to snap. "Splendid!" she exclaimed. "And your idea would be to have the producers could spread the word for me, too?"

"Exactly, and of course you see the importance of Harley George saying something in his dramatic column to the effect that Dorothy Francis, the famous musical comedy star, seems to have an even greater talent for the serious drama. Naturally, you'd have to take care that your reading was good enough to impress him—which, of course, it would be," he added hastily, and she bowed prettily.

"I'd see to that, all right," she smiled. "I can't expect to get along without producing the goods, as you advertise men would say. Serious, though, I think I can do the thing. I'm after very well."

She glanced at her wrist. "My! I must be going."

"One more dance," he begged. "Isn't my advice worth that much?"

"I have been offered a great deal for a dance—on various occasions," she smiled, "but I value you a little higher than any of them."

"Same old Dorothy," he laughed, pulling back her chair.

"What do you mean?"

"Oh, nothing—except that I suddenly was reminded of a Junior Prom."

Ten minutes later he was following her out of the restaurant and signaling to the frantic Pat Forbes that he would be back. Near the door a voice from a table behind him and he recognized Paul Davidson, the familiar face beside him as that of Martha Booth, who was well known to Fay.

It irritated him a little that explanations would have to be made, and he was not in the mood for explanations. He was half sorry that he had told Pat he would be back, but he left Dorothy at the theater, first settling her promise to have lunch with him the next day, and then he went to the theater.

Martha Booth turned a cynical little smile on him when he stopped at Paul's table, and Paul drew him. "You've splendid taste, old man. Who was she?"

"A friend from undergraduate days and now the leading lady in 'No,'" said Paul.

"Well, you and I'll have to take it in together. She called me up. Wanted some advice on theatrical publicity. I'll arrange for you to meet her."

Martha Booth's lip curled. "Don't talk so fast, John. Glib tongues are never sincere. Perhaps you can tell me what musical comedy Fay Forbes' friend is in, and she would a languid hand toward the dance floor."

(To Be Continued)

HER OWN WAY

A GIRL OF TODAY

PITY IS AKIN TO LOVE.

Jerry said this almost in a breath as he stood on the public street holding his hands.

I looked up into his face, and a warm contented feeling came over me as I looked at him with admiration. "This upstanding person is my man," I said to myself. "He loves me. He wants to marry me."

I think, if I had not promised to meet Joan, I would have gone with Jerry Hathaway to luncheon. But such was my feeling at the time that I know I would have told him that I would marry him as soon as he wished me to. Sometimes I have wondered what would have happened if I did.

As it was, I caught a sight of Mr. Robinson coming down the street, and I was so afraid that he would see me with Jerry or Joan that I rushed back into the drug store where I had been telephoning and out on a side street.

I never said good-bye to Jerry at all. In fact, all the way to the Congress in the taxi, which I fortunately found standing vacant at the door, I kept asking myself if I had done the right thing.

I was sure Jerry saw Mr. Robinson. He would put two and two together and jump at the right conclusion, which was that I was trying to avoid him.

I knew that, notwithstanding the fact that Jerry said he would trust me, there was still a little doubt lingering in his mind. For some reason he was jealous of Mr. Robinson.

I told myself that I would never be jealous of anyone, as it was a sure sign of an inferiority complex. Smilingly, I went into the Congress Hotel lobby. I saw an immature and I forgot everything but her and the wife of Barry Cornwall.

Poor Joan's face was so white and drawn that I pitied her from the bottom of my heart, but before I had time to tell her she came forward with tears rolling down her cheeks.

"Judy, is it true?" "Yes, dear, and you should be forever grateful."

"But, Judy," she whispered, "I loved him."

"Surely not after the way he treated you," I said.

"Yes, I did. One cannot tell why one loves or why one does not love. Barry could have made a splendid man if the fates had not been against him. You know he went to France when he was seventeen years old and was gassed at Chateau Thierry. When he came back he couldn't do any hard work and he didn't have much education. There was one thing he could do. He could dance."

TOMORROW: Only a Dance.

BEFORE YOU STORE THEM. To clean furs, brush them well and comb once with the nap and once against it. Wipe over with soft flannel and then with a cotton pad inside an old silk cloth dipped in gasoline or benzine.

ECONOMY. Faded felt hats can be restored with dyes.

Home Page Editorials Laugh, Don't Cry Over Trifles

by Olive Roberts Barton.

I heard an old woman talking to the mother of a family one day on a hangar as I jog.

"Elizabeth," said she, "I know your disposition so well that I'm inclined to be a little sorry for your children, especially when they get a bit older."

"Why?" gasped Elizabeth. "You always gave me the idea that you rather well—that you thought had common sense. What's wrong with me as a mother?"

The older woman smiled. "As an admirer of yours, my dear, I sit right down in the front row. You know that. But until the last few years you have never had anyone but yourself to manage. You've had your own life to direct and you have done it so marvelously well that you are what I consider a rather perfect product. But it is a different matter to be holding the reins of half a dozen young frisks, all imperfect, all full of spirit, all different."

"But I'm studying the children every minute of the time," protested Elizabeth. "I've even bought books on psychology. And, as you know, the three oldest ones are going to the best school I can find for them."

"I know all that," nodded Elizabeth's mentor. "I know you well enough to have every confidence in your duty. But do you mind if I give you a little unasked advice?"

"No, I wish you would," said sensible Elizabeth.

"Then first of all I am going to suggest that you do not take to heart too much the things that the children do that are not of real importance. They will often give you a real lesson. I heard that when Betty bought some glass earrings and wore them to the Hart's party."

Elizabeth colored. "But Betty is only fourteen and—earrings!" she said, much as she would have said "rattlesnakes."

"Yes, earrings!" said the other calmly. "She shouldn't have, of course. But she did; it was a case for laughter, not tears, my dear."

"I see," said Elizabeth. "I shall try to remember." Then she laughed.

"It wasn't very important, was it? You are right."

FASTIDIOUSNESS. Clothes should always be hung on hangers as soon as they are taken off, and should be aired before they are shut away in the closet.

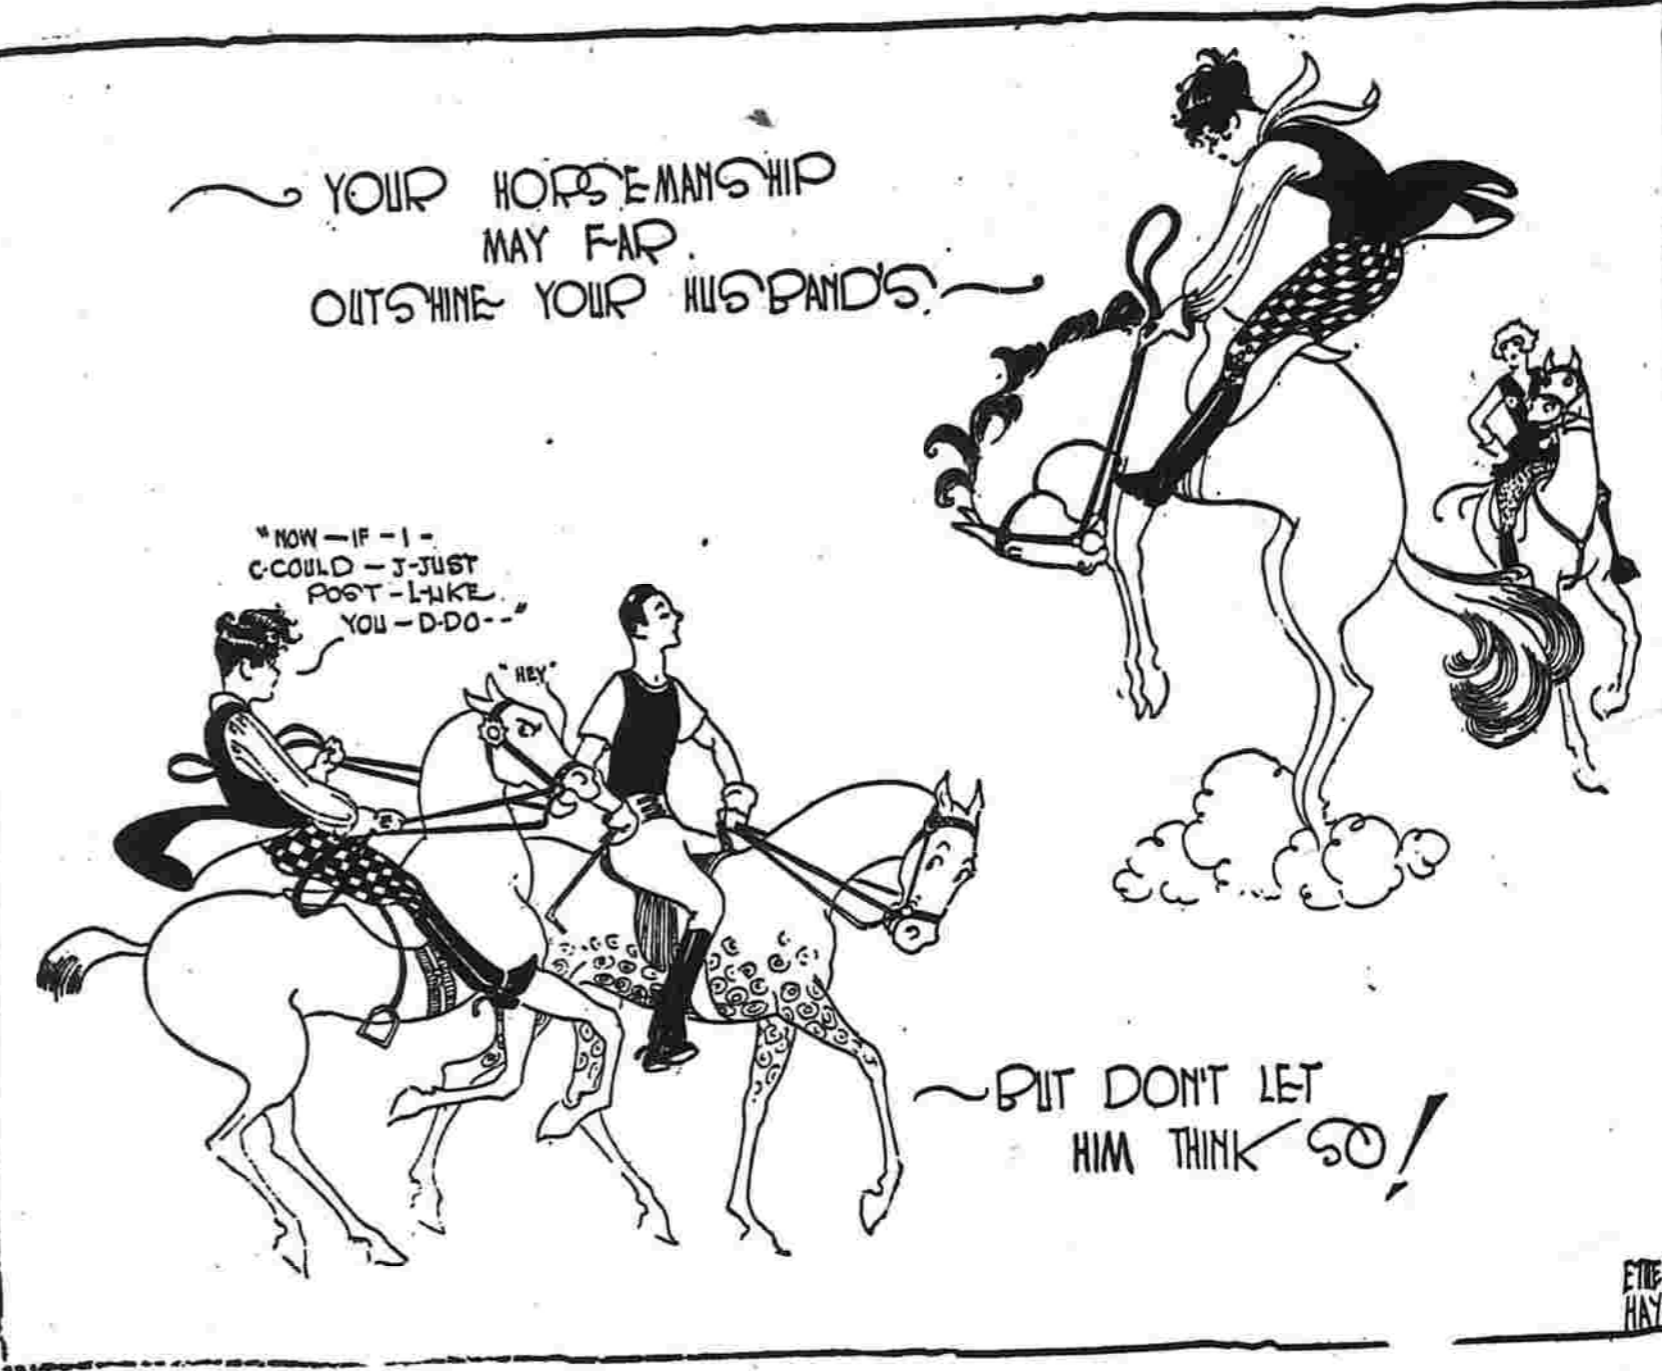

CLEANER FOR BLACK. Clear, black coffee, diluted with water, and containing a little ammonia makes an excellent cleanser for black cloth garments.

THE MORNING PRUNES. When your family gets tired of oranges in their usual stewed fashion, try them, and add to it custard, or reheat them with milled lemon or orange peel added to the water.

ENGLISH DESSERT. Griddle cakes are a prized dessert in England where they are made very thin and spread with sugar or jelly.

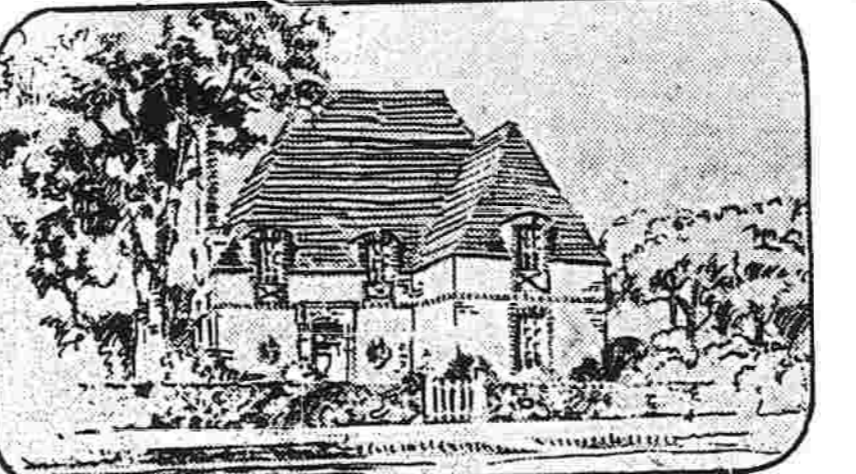

IT ADDS PEP. A bit of dry mustard will improve the flavor of mayonnaise and French salad dressing.

ETHEL

Put Kitchen in Front, Says Architect, and Parlor Back

A variation in the Weekly House Plan Feature, Giving Novel Scheme for "Living On Your Whole Lot."

Chicago.—Put the kitchen in the front of the house! Why should the backyard be ugly? Make it beautiful.

Great changes are taking place in the American home today. With the increase in mechanical comforts has come a determined effort to develop models of beauty and convenience for the small type. From the firm of Loeb and Schlossman, young men in tune with modern ideas, comes this newest departure—based in part on the traditional French plan, but exactly low cost, but rather for the "moderate" class of folk.

"Live on your whole lot," suggests Jerry Loeb. "Plan your house for proper exposures."

"Let your kitchen be in front with a window to the street. It is not necessary to the public."

"Let the living room and dining room face the back yard which, if you desire, may be made a miniature outdoor paradise, model on a small scale of the great estates of the country."

"In designing a small home the very most can be made of it by not confining the planning to the walls, but developing the garden with all the care devoted to the house."

"In the winter you should make the most of the space outside."

The backyard has always been the most unsightly part of the home—the children's playground, the place to hang washing and leave garbage and ash cans for collection—because, it was said, one must maintain a respectable front.

Maintain the respectable front, by all means! But will it be less respectable if the kitchen window is converted into an outdoor apartment that is a continuation of the living rooms opening on it?

On a lot 50 feet wide by 150 feet deep there is plenty of room for a six or seven-room house with a lovely, spacious garden. The plans reproduced today are for a city reproduction of this type that can be constructed for approximately $12,000. They were made by Loeb and Schlossman, Norman Schlossman, his partner.

The outside spaces for several different uses are designed for the house. The portion in front is used for entry to the house. The service part should be adjacent to the kitchen, and provide space for drying clothes.

It is possible to include a children's playground. The converted backyard may be divided into lawn, flower gardens, and beyond, a row of shrubbery, a vegetable garden, perhaps a few fruit trees and a chicken run.

MORE DELICIOUS. Soup stock used instead of water in meat sauces, gravies and stews makes them much richer.

A WOMAN'S DAY ABROAD

By ARLENE SUMNER.

Paris, France, July.—Five post cards cost me as much today as my hotel room, which is right in the shadow of the Eiffel tower, with the bright green of the Champs de Mars spreading before us.

An American magazine costing ten cents at home cost me more today than my entire day's expenses, including room, three meals, one five-course dinner, trips through several galleries, and buses and trams and subways and taxis galore.

We rode from one end of Paris to the other in a taxi for about 18 cents, including tips.

This is the state of contradiction in which Parisian prices exist. Food and lodging, if procured in a real French section, and not in the tourist center, are but a few cents a day.

But post cards, street maps, and all the usual tourist purchases are enough higher in proportion to amount to more than the very necessities of life.

I shall stress, perhaps, too materially, expenses throughout Europe believing that more people would come than do, if they realized that in France at least, one can pay steamboat passage and live so much better and so much more cheaply than at home that the trip costs nothing at all.

The franc is continued at the rates of about 35 to the dollar during our stay here. That means that each franc is less than three cents each.

Our room costs us 10 francs a day, or less than 30 cents. It is a garden room looking upon rows of mirrors of the Empire era, canopied beds, elderdown feather beds for comfort, but modernized with running water, electric lights, and telephone.

Our extravagant expenditure of 30 cents a day includes the polishing of shoes and the teaching of the language by a pretty little mam'selle, who sings chansons of Provence like a Melba.

In pity for our ignorance of the language she writes our laundry lists and pays the taxi drivers who, she assures us, would charge us nine cents when it should be but seven, if she did not protect us.

Every morning she brings us a breakfast tray gay with some dew-wet flowers, plucked from the garden, two steaming cups of chocolate.

KEEP BREAD BOX CLEAN. The bread box should be cleaned out twice a week during the hot weather. Remove all crumbs, and wash with soap and hot water. Rinse and dry in the sun if possible.

DON'T SCRAPE. Do not scrape food from agate-ware, soak well and boil out with soda or washing powder, if necessary.

AVOIDING RUST. If new tinware is greased lightly and warmed slowly without burning it will not rust easily.

REMOVING SALAD OILS. Chopping bowls or wooden salad bowls that retain odor should be soaked in hot soda water, one teaspoonful of soda to one quart of water.

CONDITIONING DISH TOWELS. The dish towels should be washed at least once a day and at least once a week they should be boiled.

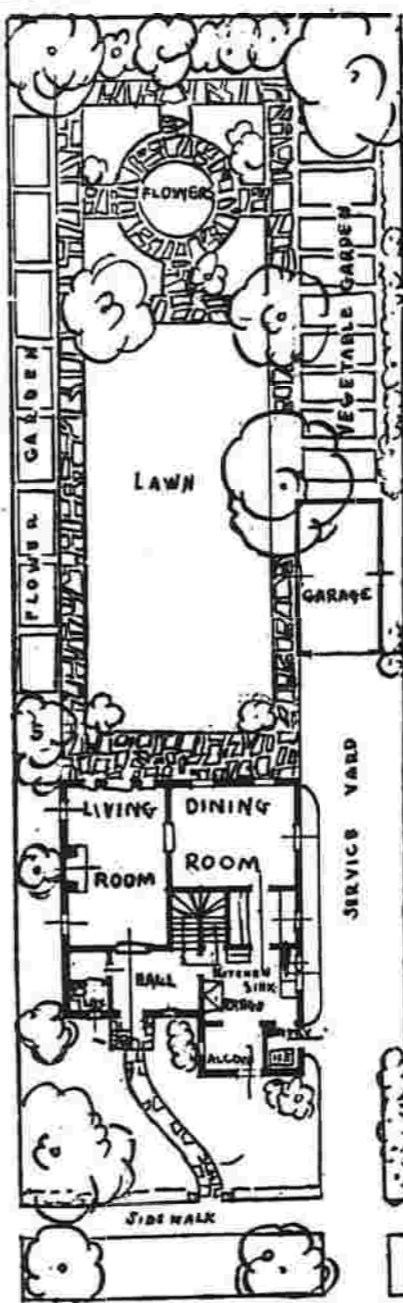

Gladiolus

Several varieties of this popular flower are now in bloom at our gardens.

We cordially invite flower lovers to inspect our many varieties.

Woodland Gardens

Flowers and Bulbs For Sale in Season. F. A. Nickerson. 236 Woodland Street.

LET ICE MELT.

It is not advisable to cover ice with blanket or newspapers as this prevents the circulation of the air currents in your refrigerator. You may save ice thereby, but you lose refrigeration.

New Beauty Cream Now the Fashion

You will be enthusiastic over a new French Process Cream for whitening and beautifying the skin. It is so pure and different from other creams. Women say they see a great improvement in their complexions after the first application. If you want smoother, brighter and younger skin, use MELLO-GLO Cream. It's wonderful.

J. W. Hale Co., So. Manchester.

Deaths Among Infants

BY HUGH S. CUMMING

Surgeon General, United States Public Health Service

The chart presented today illustrates infant mortality in the United States.

There are no reliable statistics as a whole prior to the year 1915. This does not mean that states or cities do not have these earlier records. There are such, but they are few and the records of some are not continuous.

When your health officer tells you that the infant mortality rate in your city or town is seventy or eighty per thousand, for example, this is equivalent to saying that for every thousand children born during the year, seventy or eighty children under one year of age died during the same yearly period.

This chart shows the number of deaths of infants for each 1000 births nationally, exclusive of Rhode Island.

The subjects of infant and maternal welfare are entirely too extensive to be discussed here, but do you know what your health department is doing along these lines? And have you ever helped in such work?

Do you know how the infant mortality rate in your city compares with that of other cities in the United States, or in Belgium, Norway, Sweden, Australia and New Zealand?

TOLLAND

Although a wet, cold and rainy night, a surprise party and delightful evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Ida Weber and Mrs. Esther Weber of Tolland avenue last Thursday evening, July 15. It was to be held on the lawn but inclement weather forced the guests inside the home. The party was entertained by several of the ladies among which were Mrs. Emma Brooks, Mrs. Lillian Bouchard, Mrs. Minnie Dowling and Mrs. Carrie Kane.

After the entertainment a fine salad supper was served. The hostesses are to move to Hammond street, Rockville, and the Pythian Sisters took this opportunity to give a party there. Those present from Tolland were Mrs. Arthur Morganson, Mrs. Sadie Nutland, Mrs. Ida Weber, Mrs. Esther Weber and Master Billy Weber.

Miss Thelma Price has returned from a visit with relatives in Milford.

Miss Margaret De Groat Knapp has returned to her home in New York City after spending several weeks at the Steele House.

Miss Elizabeth Green of the River district is attending the summer school at Yale college, New Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ward of Somers called on friends here Wednesday.

Mrs. George Seiger of Grantwood, N. J., and Miss Kay A. Larsen of New York City, who have been guests for some time at the Steele House, have returned to their homes.

Aaron Pratt, Jr., of Windsor, is a guest at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Charles H. Daniels.

Linwood and Jessica Thompson of Palmer, Mass., are guests of their aunt, Mrs. I. Tilden Jewett and Mr. Jewett.

Miss Betty Etelis, Julius Margolis and Mrs. Harry Gold and son Sydney, of Hartford, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Chorches.

Mrs. Baron and daughter, Mrs. Tucker, spent the day Wednesday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Chorches.

Miss Fannie Sparrow of Hartford is a guest of Miss Anna Cogswell.

Miss Florence Clough has returned from a visit with relatives in Rockville.

The stereopticon lectures on "The Land of the Midnight Sun," given in the Federated Church Tuesday evening by Rev. Johnson of South Coventry was most interesting and well attended. It was given for the benefit of the local Christian Endeavor society.

To save 50,000 pounds sterling a year, mutton has been removed from the bill of fare of the British army.

The McGovern Granite Co. CEMETERY MEMORIALS

Represented by C. W. HARTENSTEIN

47 Benton St. Telephone 1821

second Week of KANE'S Greatest August Sale

Kane's EIGHT-STORE
Purchasing Power Reduces Your Furniture Costs—These Phenomenal Values Prove It!

Savings of 1/4 1/3 and MORE

A sale remarkable not only for the marvelous values it offers, but for the choice furniture that is included! Over $500,000 worth to choose from—the products of America's foremost makers—Every piece has been selected for its comfort, beauty and elegance! And because of the magic influence of our EIGHT-STORE BUYING POWER—

You Will Reduce Your Furniture Costs by Choosing Here!

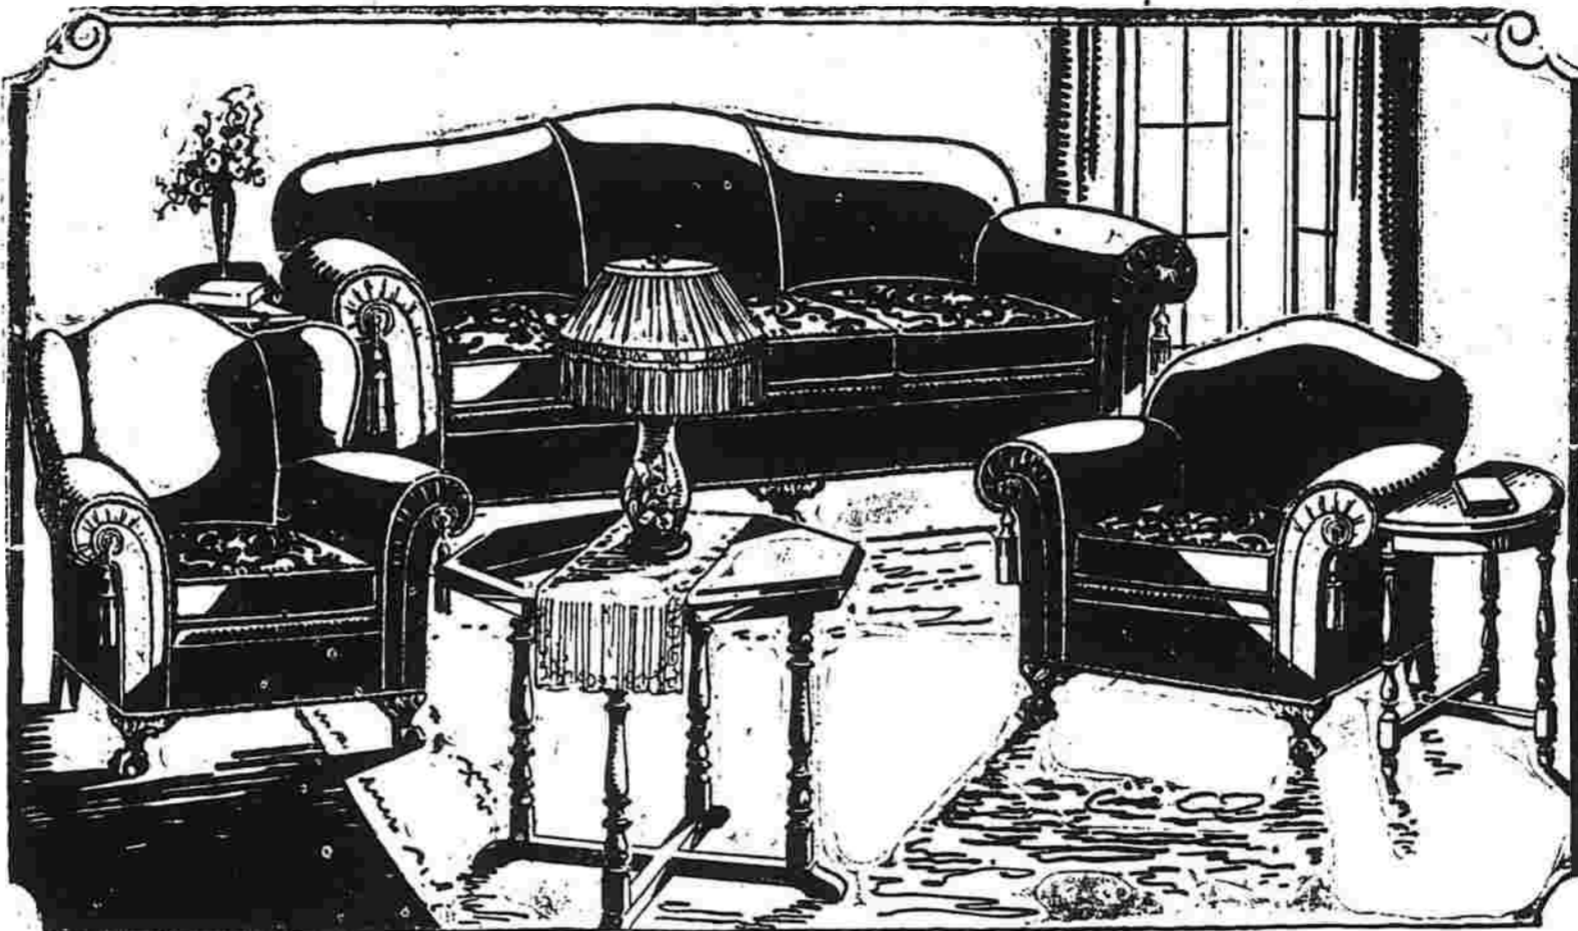

WALNUT DRESSER

Lowest price we have ever been able to offer a Dresser of such exquisite workmanship! It's made of WALNUT and other choice cabinet woods, exceptional for the size of its drawers and the French Plate Mirror! Magnificent detail to the inbuilt jewel boxes and the easy-sliding drawers.

$19.75

August Sale priced at

50c. Weekly

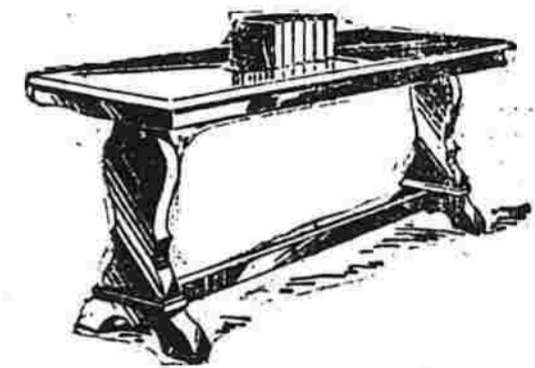

JACQUARD LIVING ROOM GROUP

Typical of the amazing offerings in this GREATEST AUGUST SALE. Handcome Living Room upholstered in beautiful Jacquard. Great roomy pieces, with deep, soft cushioning! The cushions are reversible. Note the tassels on the arms! Occasional Table, end Table, Tapestry Scarf and Beautiful Lamp included, at no extra cost! See this suite to-morrow.

7 Pieces—Sofa, Arm Chair, Wing Chair, 2 Tables, Scarf, Lamp August Sale Price $134.50

$1.50 Weekly

Mahogany Finish DAVENPORT TABLE

You can now buy this beautiful addition to your home at half its usual price! All finished in rich mahogany, and made of very fine cabinet woods. Handsomely carved legs. Formerly $12. August Sale, priced at $5.95

OVERSTUFFED THREE-PIECE LIVING ROOM

THREE perfectly marvelous pieces—heavily OVERSTUFFED, and covered with rich VELOUR. Rich old MAHOGANY finished frames. Regularly $150

$85

$1 Weekly

THIS EIGHT-PIECE DINING ROOM

QUEEN ANNE group of 8 pieces, made in WALNUT finish. Handcomely finished BUFFET, Linnen Table, Host Chair and 5 Side Chairs, upholstered. Regularly $135—AUGUST SALE Price

$75

$1 Weekly

DECORATED FOUR-PIECE BEDROOM

Vanity, large Dresser, Chiffonier and Double Downy Bed, in Walnut finish. A very finely constructed suite, with artistic decoration. Regularly $140—AUGUST SALE PRICE

$85

$1 Weekly

GENUINE FIBRE ROCKER With Cretonne Cushion

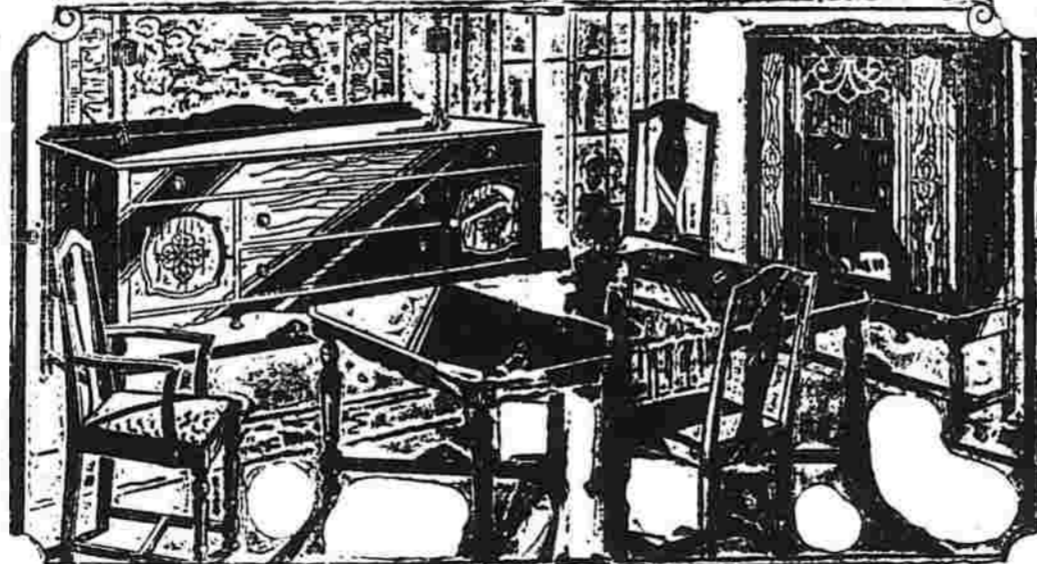

An example of the Fibre Furniture reductions in our August Sale. This big, comfortable rocker has wide, restful arms, is staunchly braced throughout and its tough fibre material is handsomely stained in Walnut. Comes with heavily stuffed Cretonne covered cushion. Regularly $15—AUGUST SALE Price

$7.25

Save $25 Now on Your Range

Now is the time to think of buying a new Range! Prices were never lower—quality never higher. For 10 years we've been selling good ranges. The one illustrated is FULL-SIZED and a wonder baker. Operates with very small amount of coal. Cooks quickly and cleanly. Complete with highly polished nickel trimmings, all set up in your kitchen, regularly $70. AUGUST SALE Price $45

DARK WALNUT 9-PIECE DINING ROOM

Nine distinctive pieces in handsome dark walnut finish hardwood. The suite is beautifully made in the ELIZABETHAN style. Large Buffet, Table, Chiff Cabinet, 5 Side Chairs and Host Chair, with gracefully curved backs and deeply upholstered. An excellent opportunity for money saving.

$125

$1.50 Weekly

Regularly $220—AUGUST SALE Price

LUXURIOUS 4-PIECE WALNUT BEDROOM

Four magnificent pieces in a French period design of arresting beauty. It comes in rich WALNUT and GUMWOOD and features the new HIGHLIGHT finish. A full-size Vanity with wide, swinging mirrors; large Dresser, Bow-End Bed and large Wardrobe complete the outfit.

$135

$1.50 Weekly

Regularly $250—AUGUST SALE Price

COXWELL CHAIR

With Bridge Lamp A living room setting of unusual charm. Great, comfortable Coxwell Chair, lavishly upholstered in Jacquard and cut Velour—with stinky, soft cushion of unusual luxury—Mahogany frame with delicately carved arms. Polychrome Bridge Lamp, with gorgeous shade included. Regularly $65—AUGUST SALE, Priced at $29.00 EASY TERMS

Very Liberal Credit Terms!
You don't need a lot of cash to take advantage of these very phenomenal offerings. Our Greatest AUGUST SALE gives you the opportunity to buy at very impressive savings, and you can take all the time you want in which to pay!
GOODS HELD FREE UNTIL WANTED!

KANE'S

HARTFORD 1092 MAIN STREET HARTFORD

Marvelous August Value! MATTRESS

$5.25 Made to our exacting specifications—very soft and comfortable—closely packed, with rolled edge—comes in one or two parts. An extraordinary example of our EIGHT-STORE value-giving ability! Regularly $14. Specially featured at $5.95

HEWITT ALLOWS ELEVEN HITS AND SAINTS DEFEAT CHENEYS

Clubmen Bunch Hits in Three Innings and Best Rivals in Six Frames—Plitt's Catch Is Feature.

Eleven hits off Hewitt won for the Saints last night in their exhibition game with the C. B. A. for the benefit of the Kiwanis children's camp. The game was played at the West Side in the presence of a small crowd and was part of the Kiwanis night which was held there.

The Saints went into the lead in the third inning when they touched Hewitt for enough hits to push their runs across the plate. The industrials came back strong in this inning but were able to make only one. They tied the score in the following inning, however, by making two runs and scoring stopped until the sixth.

Then the Saints landed on Hewitt again and brought in three more tallies. Cheneys were held scoreless in the fourth, fifth and sixth while the Saints came back for three more runs in the final inning. The game was called because of darkness.

The feature of the contest was the wonderful catch by Plitt of Seelert's fly in the fourth inning. Seelert, pitching for the Saints, allowed only 7 hits and his team made only one error. The C. B. A. pitcher allowed his hits to be bunched and one error was chalked up to his men.

The summary:

St. Mary's		C. B. A.
AB.	R.	H.	PO.
Kellar, 2b	3	2	2
Zwick, ss	3	1	0
Wright, 3b	2	2	0
Robb, 1b	4	1	1
St. John, cf	4	0	3
W. Stevenson, p	3	1	2
Seelert, p	3	1	2
H. Stevenson, lf	2	0	1
Carlson, rf	3	1	1
37		9	21
C. B. A.		St. Mary's
AB.	R.	H.	PO.
Holland, rf	3	0	2
White, lf	4	1	0
Stratton, 3b	3	1	1
Plitt, ss	3	1	0
McLaughlin, 1b	2	1	2
Macdonald, cf	2	0	1
Foley, 2b	3	0	1
Lewis, c	3	0	1
Hewitt, p	3	0	1
26		3	7

Score by innings:
Saints..... 030 033-9
Cheney Bros..... 000 000-0
Two base hits: Stratton, St. John; three base hits, McLaughlin; sacrifice hits, White, Macdonald; stolen bases, Wright, Stevenson, Kellar, Zwick, Seelert; double plays, St. John to Robb; base on balls of Seelert 2, of Holland 4; struck out by Holland 8, by Seelert 2; passed balls, Lewis, Umpires, Dwyer and Russell.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Eastern League.
Springfield 8, Hartford 5 (first game).	Hartford 6, Springfield 3 (second game).
Waterbury 7, New Haven 4 (first game).	New Haven 4, Waterbury 8 (second game).
Bridgeport 2, Pittsfield 1 (called end 7th, rain).	Providence 7, Albany 4 (called end 5th, rain).
National League.
Philadelphia 6, Chicago 4.	Pittsburgh 14, Brooklyn 2.
Cincinnati 13, Boston 3.	New York 5, St. Louis 3.
American League.
New York 13, Chicago 10.	Cleveland 4, Philadelphia 2.
St. Louis 5, Boston 4 (11 innings).	Washington 13, Detroit 9.

STANDINGS.

Eastern League.
Bridgeport	57
Providence	35
New Haven	51
Springfield	47
Hartford	43
Albany	40
Waterbury	34
Pittsfield	27
National League.
Cincinnati	54
Pittsburgh	49
St. Louis	48
Chicago	48
Brooklyn	47
New York	45
Philadelphia	34
Boston	33
American League.
New York	58
Cleveland	51
Philadelphia	49
Chicago	49
Detroit	49
Washington	45
St. Louis	40
Boston	27

GAMES TODAY.

Eastern League.
Waterbury at Hartford.
New Haven at Bridgeport.
Providence at Springfield.
Albany at Pittsfield.
American League.
St. Louis at Boston.
Cleveland at Philadelphia.
Chicago at New York.
Detroit at Washington.
National League.
New York at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Chicago.
Brooklyn at Pittsburgh.
(Others not scheduled.)

MEUSEL'S INJURY HAS MADE YANKS A CHANGED CLUB

Outfielder Sadly Missed Since He Broke Bone in Foot Some Weeks Ago.

BY BILLY EVANS
It is difficult to compute the value of a star outfielder to a pennant contender until it is deprived of his services.

Ever since Bob Meusel broke a bone in his left foot at Boston a few weeks ago, the New York Americans have been a different ball club. Bob Meusel, one of the greatest outfielders the game has ever produced, but never quite appreciated because of his rather nonchalant style, has been sadly missed by the Yankees.

The unfortunate injury to Meusel and the Yankees was a treacherous one. His feelings for a rival player were really responsible for the happening.

Seeing he was certain to be out at second base on an attempted steal he so changed his style of sliding to avoid spiking Regan of Boston that the broken foot resulted.

Meusel's grace and speed make the catching of the most difficult fly ball look easy. His deadly accurate right arm is the fear of every rival baserunner. His punch at the bat has wrecked the hopes of many an American League pitcher.

With him in the game, doing these things as a part of his daily task, his real worth to the Yanks was never quite appreciated. Now that he is out of the lineup it is very apparent.

Hornsby On Carey
In this connection I recall what Rogers Hornsby said to me in the south last spring.

I had dropped off at Waco, Tex., to watch the St. Louis Cardinals take on the Texas League team of that city. Prior to the game I discussed National League affairs with Hornsby.

At that time, Max Carey, star outfielder of the Pirates, was seriously ill in a St. Louis hospital. His illness had delayed his joining the Pittsburgh team at its spring training quarters.

"Which is the best team in the National League?" I asked Hornsby.

"Well," said Rogers, "I figure there are two teams in the National League pennant, Pittsburgh and New York.

"I fear New York even more than Pittsburgh provided the Pirates are without the services of Max Carey any great length of time during the season.

"While his true worth isn't appreciated, Carey is the inspiration of the Pittsburgh club. No team can lose so great a player without being seriously handicapped."

Sparkplug of Team
With the season a little better than half over, the Pittsburgh team has fallen below expectations. While still among the leaders, in a good position to start a pennant drive, the Pirates have failed to make a runaway race as predicted by many of the experts.

True, Pittsburgh has had more than its share of bad luck. A number of the regulars have been out because of injuries and illness, and the pitching staff in a measure has disappointed.

Along these lines I was much interested the other day in reading Manager McKechnie's version. Here is an excerpt from it:

"The loss of Carey has been a severe blow. His work in all departments of play has been greatly missed. In a sense he was the sparkplug of the club.

HOW TO SWIM

Before any stroke is learned one should be able to remain afloat upright in the water.

That is where the scissors kick is invaluable and why it is described first.

Ability to remain afloat will give the basis for any stroke that is desired, and remaining afloat is the easiest thing in the world if one knows the scissors kick and doesn't mind the head going under the water.

Stand in water at the same time. This is done by throwing the feet out in the first movement as the body rises and the second and third as the body pauses for an instant and then goes down.

As soon as there is some proficiency in making the scissors kick while standing upright, stretch the arms out from the shoulders with the hands flat in the water just below the surface.

While standing, move the hands back and forth for a distance of about 18 inches, tilting the hand to oppose the water at each movement. The hands should at all times while they are moving present a 30 degree plane from the horizontal.

Take care that the arms are not held too stiffly and that the movement back and forth is easy and natural. A very short practice in this movement should develop almost sufficient lifting power to raise the feet from the ground.

Now begin to swim. Take care not to get into deep water at first. Make sure that you are really swimming before trying any stunts that might endanger life.

A setback at the beginning will do more harm than a month's delay. Stand in water up to the neck, as described.

When the upward pull is sure, take a little jump and make the scissors kick. The first time it will not be successful and maybe for 20 times it won't be successful, but the first thing one knows the real swimming has begun.

Swimming, like every other thing one does naturally, comes suddenly sometimes after one has almost given up hope. Persistence is always rewarded if the correct methods are followed.

Action of the Hands and Feet, Standing Position.

When Bentley was obtained by the Phillies in a trade with the Giants last winter, Fletcher was more than pleased with the exchange.

"I have what I need," said Fletcher, "a fence-buster for first base. Jack will first base for me and break up many games."

Before the season opened Fletcher regarded his pitching staff, composed of Dean, Mitchell, Carlson, Knight, Willoughby, Ulrich and Mann, as plenty strong enough.

No Hal Chase.
Bentley, husky and awkward, was anything but a Hal Chase around first base in fielding. Regarded as a fence-buster through his baseball career, he was expected to make up for his defensive deficiencies with his over-the-fence wallpops.

As a pitcher Bentley poked many home runs but as a regular for the Phillies he failed to slip a single circuit wallpop in 45 games.

And then Fletcher's forecast of his pitching staff was out of gear. The pitching was too weak to carry the hitting, thus too weak to carry the hitting, thus Fletcher believes Bentley can render more assistance as a pitcher than as a baseman to the hopeless Phils.

Bentley was purchased for $65,000 by the Giants as a pitcher. Jack had a remarkable record with the Baltimore Orioles, winning 16 and losing three in 1920, winning 12 and losing one in 1921 and winning 13 and losing 2 in 1922.

Bentley as Pitcher.
Jack Bentley has gone back to his original trade of pitching. With the Phillies dropping from a first division club to the dark spots of the cellar in the National League owing to weak pitching, Art Fletcher has pulled Bentley off first base to add a competent pitcher to the Phillies' staff.

Rhem of Cards.
Another young pitching phenom is blossoming in the National League. He is Charles Rhem, who graduated to the St. Louis Cardinals via the Western Association.

With less than a full season of professional experience he has entered the major league field, Rhem promises to develop into a genuine pitching star.

Rhem's pitching easily has overshadowed all major league rivals this season. His work not only has advanced "Rog" Hornsby's team to the first division class but it is barely possible that this 22-year-old youngster may be the means of giving the Cardinals a look-in for the National League pennant.

Built Like Joss.
Rhem is built along the lines of the late Addie Joss. He is tall and slim but instead of featuring a sidearm and underhand shoot as Addie did, Rhem whips across an overhand curve and fire ball that set down many fence-busters.

The curve is the chief stock in trade. It is almost a reproduction of the shot that made Vic Willis famous years ago.

Last season, when Rhem started by winning eight out of 13 games, National League managers predicted that a pitching arm could not stand the strain of constant curveball shooting. And when Rhem failed to win a game after July 5, losing eight in succession, they were convinced that the precious arm had wilted.

Local Sport Chatter

July 23, a Thursday, will see the second appearance of the New Departure ball team in Manchester. The visitors who have been seen here once before, this year will play the Sons of Italy for the second in their series of five games. Both of the former games have gone to Bristol, one by a large margin and the second by a close score.

The Sons are bringing Bristol at quite a big guarantee and it is expected that the crowd that night will be bigger than any this year excepting that which attended the game between the locals and Rockville on Rockville night some weeks ago. Bristol drew a large attendance the last time it played here.

Cheney Brothers will take on the Aetna team of Hartford tomorrow afternoon at the West Side. This is the same team that the C. E. A. A. has tried to book several times during the past few weeks. The Hartford management has said that the team will positively appear.

The Shamrocks will go to Groton on Sunday for a game with the town team of that place. This will be their first game under the management of Harold Clemson, who recently took over the helm of the North End team.

The Sons of Italy will be away from home on Sunday. They figure that Manchester has had enough of baseball with three twilight games this week so they are out to give them a rest.

The Manchester Celtic soccer club, winners of last season's town championship, will meet at the West Side Rec on Monday. All men of last year's team are asked to be present at 7.30. Names will be taken for the medals which were won and plans for a new team will be discussed.

For this coming week end the Shamrocks have taken upon themselves something hard. They will meet East Glastonbury tomorrow and will travel to Groton on Sunday. The following men are asked to be on hand at 1 o'clock on Saturday and 12 o'clock on Sunday: Graff, Foster, Kellar, McLaughlin brothers, St. John and Prentice. Both East Glastonbury and Groton are said to be among the fastest in their class in the state but the locals are traveling to those towns with a whole lot of confidence and plenty of good ball players.

LOOKS LIKE TEX PULLED A BONER
Chicago, July 23.—Despite optimistic pronouncements of an early Dempsey-Tunney championship fight, a summation of facts in the involved situation today indicated that Dempsey's defense of his title here Sept. 11 or 15 as announced by Tex Rickard, is anything but certain.

To bolster this contention the involved controversy may be cited as the most impressive threat to the proposed fight. There is Rickard, on one side, claiming sole ownership to Dempsey's services with B. C. Clements of the Coliseum Club and Floyd Fitzsimmons, Indiana promoter on the other side stoutly disputing the claim.

It is generally conceded now that Clements' claim to a binding contract with the champion has more foundation than at first believed. It is likely that the matter will be taken to the courts for decision. Following a conference between attorneys for both parties Rickard announced that if Clements' contract was held valid, he would stop negotiations for the bout.

Original Signer
Fitzsimmons entered the controversy by reason of the fact that he was the original signer of Dempsey's contract with the Coliseum Club, under Clements' direction. Because Clements and his organization failed to pay $100,000 to the champion last March as agreed, Rickard and Dempsey claim the contract is void.

Beside the contract squabble, there are other complications. Rickard is not a resident of Illinois and the new boxing law states specifically that no one not a resident of the state can dabble in fight promotion.

There is a strong feeling among sports observers here that Rickard made a tactical error when he announced a promoter with no status before the state commission came here and announced the date and other details of the fight without even consulting the commission.

Citizens of Chicago and the state are eager for the fight, but they want it staged in strict conformity to the law and in a way that will not reflect on the state athletic commission.

The Yankees and White Sox engaged in a slugfest of the see-saw variety, the Yanks being on top 13 to 10 when the smoke cleared away. They got no homers, but stole home and tripled with the bases full.

ROCKVILLE PLAYS SECOND GAME WITH SONS TONIGHT

MATT McGRATH IS CHAMPION YET OF WEIGHT THROWERS

Former Rookie Patrolman's Hammer Record of 1912 Still Stands—Matt Finds Contentment.

By JAMES HASWELL
New York, July 23.—Matt McGrath was 30 years old before he won his first medal. Today, 20 years later, bronzed, white-haired, and a lieutenant in charge of Coney Island's traffic squad, he still is winning them.

In 1906 as a rookie patrolman—fresh from Ireland—Matt won the hammer throwing event in the New York Metropolitan games.

Since then he has been to four Olympic contests and innumerable National A. A. U. meets. His throw of 180 feet in Stockholm in 1912 is the world's record.

No one could best his throw of 163 feet at the Philadelphia Sesqui-centennial games this year. He also holds the world record, 46 feet for the 56-pound shot put.

And what have these 20 years given him?
"Contentment," says Matt simply. "I like my simple life. If I hadn't been all over the world, and seen how the kings and the likes of them live, I probably wouldn't have known when to be satisfied."

Just for instance, when Gustavus Adolphus, Crown Prince of Sweden landed in New York, Matt was one of the policemen detailed as a guard. The prince, ascending the City Hall steps, recognized him: "Matt McGrath!" he cried stopping short.

The mellow-faced Irishman, his eyes a-twinkle, stepped out.

This series began on Wednesday and because Rockville got most of the breaks Manchester was forced to take the count. The locals hit well and had the game sewed up until the sixth inning when everything went wrong. Pospisil, who had been pitching a good game until this frame, loosened up somewhat and had to be retired in favor of Sipples.

As for Sipples' end of it, it can be said that he did his best, but fate was against him. The freak play which made the ball bound off a Rockville man's hip beat the Sons through no fault of either team.

Tonight will show whether or not the Sons are in a class with Rockville. It is expected that Lanning will be on the mound for the visitors while Manchester will use either Holland or Pospisil.

DIAMOND DUST
The Athletics lost to Cleveland, four to two, for their sixth straight defeat. The Indians gained a clear title to second place.

Although Jacobson got five hits and the Red Sox fought hard, they lost to the Browns in the eleventh, five to four, going down for the third time.

Detroit's pitchers wiled away faster than a shoe clerk's bankroll on Broadway as the Tigers succumbed to the Senators, 13 to 9. Holloway passing eight men. Washington had two big innings, score five runs in the first and eight in the fifth.

The Pirates also had a field day, swamping the Dodgers 14 to 2 and hammering out twenty-one hits. Wauer led the attack with four blows.

Virgil Barnes bested Alexander the Great as the Giants trounced the Cardinals, five to three. Bell, Southworth and Terry hit homers.

The Cubs came a cropper and lost to the Phillies, six to four. Gabby Hartnett, Chicago catcher, was injured.

Rockville, with two victories over the Sons in as many games, will come to the West Side tonight with the avowed intention of making it three in a row. The visitors won their second straight against the Sons in Rockville on Wednesday night.

It was by a freak that they did it but two runs came in on the freak one to break the tie and the one to make good measure. One of Sipples' offerings went near the head of the batter. He ducked and the ball hit his bat, going over first for a single on which two men scored. The count had been knotted until that time and the Sons were not given a chance to do anything else. Rightness made it necessary that the game be called. And all this happened when two of the Rockville players were out.

It seems that the old rivalry between these two towns has broken out again. For a while Manchester and Rockville didn't have enough ambition or good teams to go up against each other in athletic contests. A couple of years ago Rockville occupied the place now held by Bristol in the eyes of Manchester fans when in a game here this year the old rivalry came to the fore again. The visitors bested the Sons of Italy in a good ball game and the locals went right out after a series.

This series began on Wednesday and because Rockville got most of the breaks Manchester was forced to take the count. The locals hit well and had the game sewed up until the sixth inning when everything went wrong. Pospisil, who had been pitching a good game until this frame, loosened up somewhat and had to be retired in favor of Sipples.

As for Sipples' end of it, it can be said that he did his best, but fate was against him. The freak play which made the ball bound off a Rockville man's hip beat the Sons through no fault of either team.

Tonight will show whether or not the Sons are in a class with Rockville. It is expected that Lanning will be on the mound for the visitors while Manchester will use either Holland or Pospisil.

DIAMOND DUST
The Athletics lost to Cleveland, four to two, for their sixth straight defeat. The Indians gained a clear title to second place.

Although Jacobson got five hits and the Red Sox fought hard, they lost to the Browns in the eleventh, five to four, going down for the third time.

Detroit's pitchers wiled away faster than a shoe clerk's bankroll on Broadway as the Tigers succumbed to the Senators, 13 to 9. Holloway passing eight men. Washington had two big innings, score five runs in the first and eight in the fifth.

The Pirates also had a field day, swamping the Dodgers 14 to 2 and hammering out twenty-one hits. Wauer led the attack with four blows.

Virgil Barnes bested Alexander the Great as the Giants trounced the Cardinals, five to three. Bell, Southworth and Terry hit homers.

The Cubs came a cropper and lost to the Phillies, six to four. Gabby Hartnett, Chicago catcher, was injured.

Men's Athletic Unionsuits
$1.00 - $1.25 - $1.50
Golf Hose
$1.00 to $4.00 pair
Knickers
$3.50 to $6.95
White Duck Trousers
$2.50

Symington Shop
At the Center.

Miss Toronto Goes Over

Jean McKay, a favorite Canadian girl athlete, photographed at Philadelphia in preliminaries to the National A. A. U. track meet at the Sequoy-Connell Stadium. Miss McKay represents the Toronto Ladies' Athletic Club.

Billy Evans Says

O'Farrell and Killefer drilled with Rhem constantly during the training trip with the result that it looks as if the Cardinals have the most promising National League pitcher since Pete Donohue made his debut with the Reds.

Rhem was discovered by Scout Charles Barrett while pitching for Clemson College in 1923. He was sent to the Fort Smith club in the Western Association in 1924 and was the leading strikeout pitcher that season.

Bentley as Pitcher.
Jack Bentley has gone back to his original trade of pitching. With the Phillies dropping from a first division club to the dark spots of the cellar in the National League owing to weak pitching, Art Fletcher has pulled Bentley off first base to add a competent pitcher to the Phillies' staff.

Winning the 120-Mile Championship
A glimpse of the crowd and the speedway at Atlantic City, N. J., when Harry Hartz, of California, won the national 120-mile auto championship. Hartz's auto is shown in front. Inset, a close-up of the winner.

TYPEWRITERS
All makes. Sold, rented, exchanged and overhauled. Special discount to students. SERVICE TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE
Telephone 821
At Kemp's Music Shop
691 Main St., So. Manchester

Men's Athletic Unionsuits
$1.00 - $1.25 - $1.50
Golf Hose
$1.00 to $4.00 pair
Knickers
$3.50 to $6.95
White Duck Trousers
$2.50

Symington Shop
At the Center.

Those Nude Photos Of Louise Didn't Deter Cupid After All

By Leon M. Eller.

New York, July 23.—Love laughs at photographers just as it does at locksmiths, pretty Louise Brooks of moviedom realizes now.

Which is exactly what Photographer John DeMirjian said all the time.

DeMirjian was wrong. Louise feared when she filed an injunction suit against him a few months ago. The suit was to restrain DeMirjian from distributing photos of Louise.

The photos revealed her wearing—well, almost nothing at all.

"I used to be a Follies girl," Louise explained. "For Follies girls, nude photographs are perfectly proper, I suppose."

"But I'm in pictures now. A little more dignified vocation, you see."

"Besides, should I ever decide to marry, what would my prospective husband think when he found nudes of me scattered all over town?" "Nonsense," countered DeMirjian.

And then Eddie Sutherland came along. Louise met him when she played in "The Old Army Game," which Sutherland directed.

Then she met him several more times, both inside and outside the Famous Players outside.

And then—despite the fact Sutherland had heard all about the nude photos—they went down to New York's big City Hall and were married.

"I told you so," Photographer DeMirjian smiles.

Louise Brooks and Edward Sutherland

The Smiling Stork

This, dear friends, is the Shoebill, or Whale-headed Stork. When he isn't at the London zoo he spends his time in bringing little fellows to deserving fellaheen along the White Nile in Egypt. No wonder he smiles!

"Oh, How I Hate to Get Up—"

Citizen soldiers at the Plattsburg (N. Y.) military training camp this summer have a fat chance of sleeping through reveille. This big tin amplifier has been fitted up for the bugler and the yawning gent below will have to snap out of it in spite of himself.

TOM SIMS SAYS

A Chicago club woman claims she has been married 45 years without having a new dress. Show this to your wife.

Charleston dancers look as if they had stepped in some chewing gum.

If you want to quit drinking permanently, just stay sober until you get out of debt.

The worst thing about the dirty plays in New York is they show what the audience likes.

Arrested a man in Detroit for chaining his son to a bed. Most sons would enjoy being chained to a bed.

We would hate to be a police dog in Boston where, no doubt, they are called "officer canines."

Hempsted, L. I., man was jilted on the eve of his wedding. Now he is missing. Women do change their minds.

Government's spending $165,000,000 for highways. With good roads, a congressman can find his way back to Washington.

Madrid has a plague of white ants. Picnics around the outskirts of the city would rid it of the pests.

Babies are handy things. Many a man would be stiff if it weren't for picking up things after the baby.

It would be great if we could live backwards; be born old and grow a day younger every day.

Some people couldn't kick any more if they were centipedes.

Once they kissed and made up. Now they kiss the makeup.

Women who marry to become pets usually lead a dog's life.

New camera has a range of 218 miles. Before long we may stay home and take our vacation pictures.

Coolidge has a license to catch fish in New York state. Won't help any. Fish can't read.

Chicago woman wants a divorce because her husband shot her. They'll do it every time.

Dempsey may be a world champion heavyweight fighter but these women who reduce deserve honorable mention.

Haines City (Fla.) church has rocking chairs instead of pews, perhaps to make falling out easier.

The speed limit means how fast you can go, not how slow.

Being cynical is enough to make any man a cynic.

The trouble with women is men haven't any more sense.

The bee is awfully busy. People admire him. Yet very few people care to associate with the bee.

In Paris the women should erect a statue to the chief who stabbed a man for criticizing the dinner.

Dancing in bathing suits is being frowned upon, perhaps because they are too warm for such strenuous exercise.

Used Cars

- 1926 Hudson Brougham Demonstrator.
- 1926 Essex Six Demonstrator.
- 1925 Hudson Coach.
- 1925 Essex Coach.
- 1924 Essex Coach.
- 1923 Hudson Coach.
- 1923 Hudson, Winter Top.
- 1919 Buick Coupe.
- 1923 Chevrolet Touring.

Cars in good condition.

Manchester Hudson-Essex Co. 127 Spruce Street

Tomorrow Is the Last Day of The SALE

At The

Cantilever Shoe Shop

289 Trumbull Street Hartford

Her Picture Is Worth Money

Hollywood, Calif., the city of fads, has a new one—the photo-check. Gladys McConnell had her bank make special checks for her with her picture on them. And now her photo is worth money.

POINCARÉ FORMS STRONG CABINET

Herriot's Inclusion Is Surprise—New Government Has Chance of Success.

Paris, July 23.—M. Raymond Poincaré has completed his cabinet, he informed President Doumergue shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon.

M. Poincaré has decided to ignore protests of the Radical-Socialist caucus, which objected to his premiership, and is, himself, heading the cabinet.

The cabinet, which M. Poincaré submitted to President Doumergue, was officially announced as follows:

Raymond Poincaré, premier and minister of finance.

Barthou, minister of justice and vice-president.

Aristide Briand, minister of foreign affairs.

Sen. Albert Sarraut, minister of interior.

Edouard Herriot, minister of public instruction.

Leguève, minister of marine.

Painlevé, minister of war.

Louis Marin, minister of pensions.

Maurice Békansowski, minister of commerce.

Andrew Tardieu, minister of public works.

Sen. Peirrier, minister of colonies.

M. Queuille, minister of agriculture.

Herriot's Surprise.

The cabinet list contained several surprises, the foremost of which was the inclusion of M. Herriot as minister of public instruction. This appointment, together with that of Senator Sarraut, will probably offset the protest of the Radical-Socialist caucus against M. Poincaré accepting the premiership.

M. Herriot and Sen. Sarraut will be counted on to keep the Radical-Socialist in line.

The cabinet, which is a "union sacré," (sacred union), is, perhaps, the strongest that France has had for some time, having in its ranks some of the most prominent leaders of the day, representing all the major factions.

M. Poincaré appears to have

U. S. ARMY TO TRAIN OFFICERS FOR IRELAND

Dublin, July 23.—The United States War Department has granted permission for six officers of the Irish Free State Army to attend some of the United States military training schools to take courses of instruction in American military methods. Major-General Hugh MacNeill, Assistant Chief of Staff of the Free State Army and others are to study gunnery tactics.

made a successful selection of a ministry, which he launches under rather more auspicious circumstances than recent ministries have been launched.

Stand By--

Tomorrow Night's Paper

—tells the news. Only one more day to wait. Watch for The Herald.

"I have always found that experience is the best teacher. That's why thousands of truck drivers—pilots of the really big 'uns—tell me that there is nothing like Socony Gasoline and Motor Oil for a power combination."

"Incidentally, I hope you'll use the Socony Touring Service, Room 1211, 26 Broadway, New York City. Free Socony maps and touring information for the asking."

The Veteran Motorist
Being one of a series of motograms that every motorist should know

First Truck Driver (enjoying a cold bottle of pop after a quick and easy run up the Mohawk Trail):

What's been keeping you? I passed you fifteen minutes ago half way up the Big Hill.

Second Truck Driver (not afraid to speak the truth):

You said a mouthful, Bill. You see, I sort of neglected to fill up with Socony this morning when I left Worcester and I tried a different gas. Never again. Give me Socony every time for power and pull on the long hills.

SOCONY

REGISTRATION

GASOLINE

STANDARD OIL CO. OF NEW YORK
26 Broadway

POWERS • MILLIONS • OF • MOTORS

FLAPPER FANNY

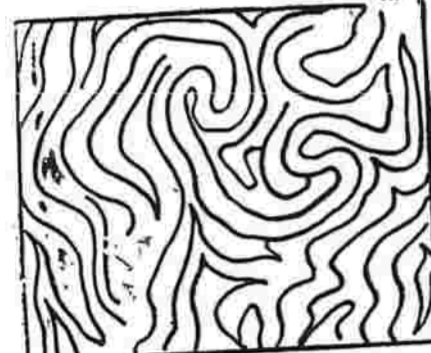

Acting sensible under a beautiful moon is showing your ignorance.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

BLACK OUTLOOK INDEED "When I grow up and marry, mother, why I have a husband like papa!" asked Mary.

A PUZZLE A DAY

At the fence factory is a special plot of ground set aside for testing the weathering qualities of various types of fences.

Can you find it? Last puzzle answer: The 180 bags of peanuts cost Bob, at four for a dime, $4.50.

NEXT

Maxwell: I hear you've been operated on again. Manders: Yes, that's four times.

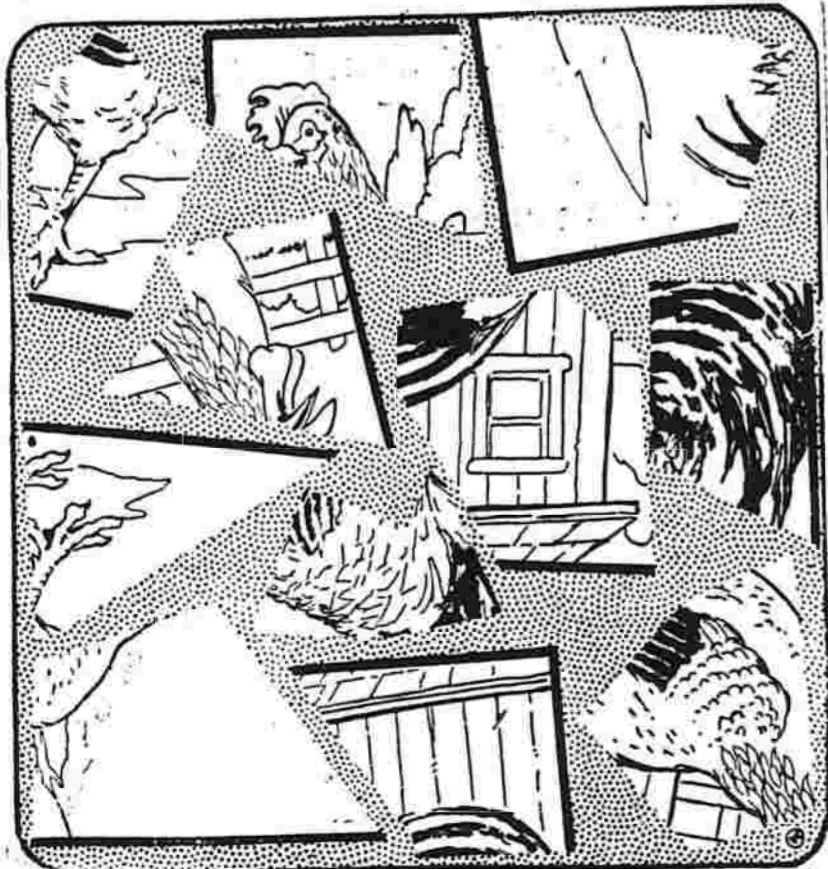

Queen-mother bees often lay eggs at the rate of 3,000 for every 24 hours.

LITTLE JOE

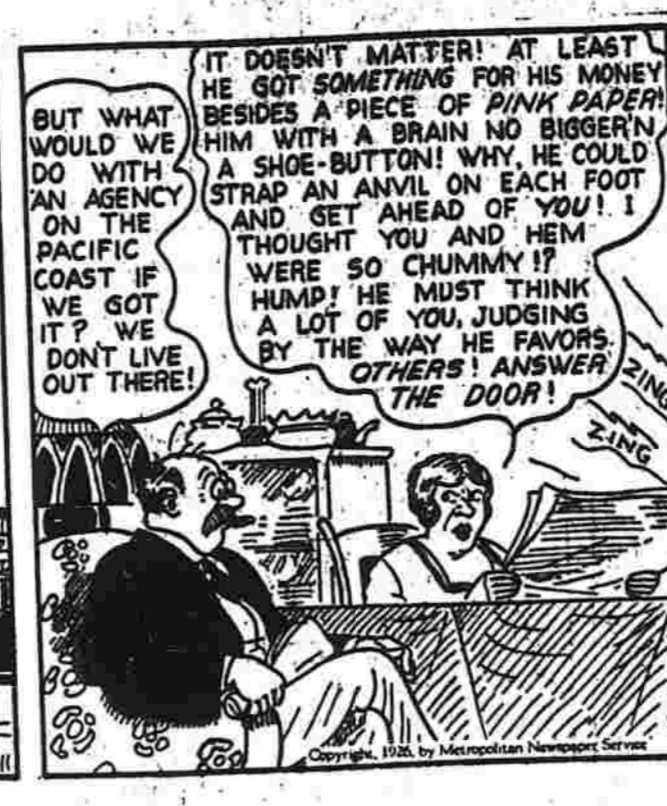

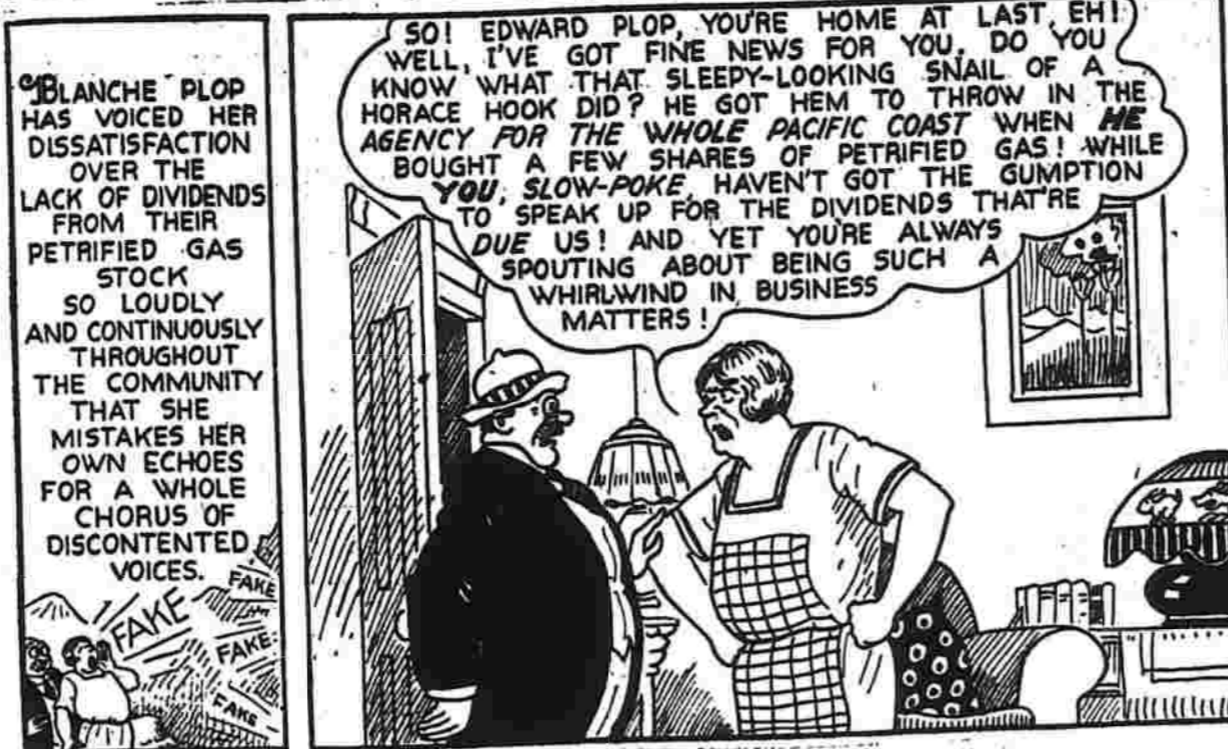

TINTED CUT-UPS

Cut Out the Pieces, Paste Them Together Correctly, Color the Sketch, and Fill in the Missing Word.

Right from the day that it is born, You have to feed it mash and corn. No doubt you've heard, Ere folk have stirred, The crow at early dawn.

GAS BUGGIES or HEM AND AMY—Enter, The Chorus

By Frank Best

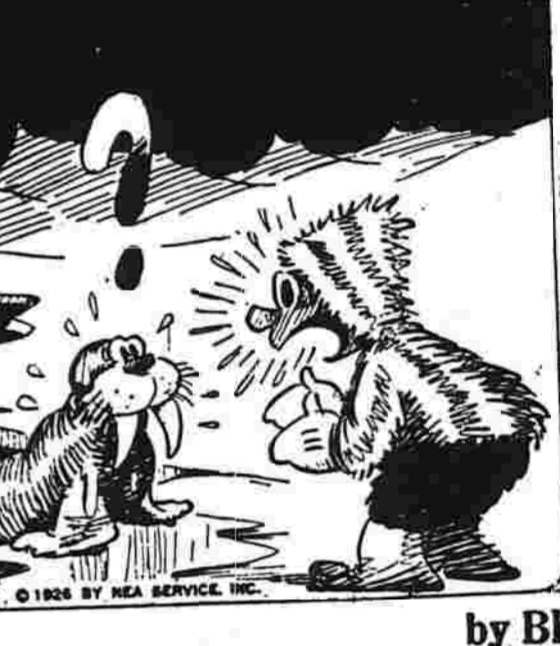

SKIPPY

By Percy Crosby

by Swan

SALESMAN SAM

Evolution Proved

by Blosser

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Trained Nurses

by Fontaine Fox

WASHINGTON TUBBS II

by Crane

The Little Scorpions' Club

Copyright, 1926, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.

LOCAL STOCKS

(Furnished by Putnam & Co., 6 Central Row, Hartford, Conn.)

Table of local stock prices including Aetna Cas. & Sur., Am. Life, Automobile, Conn. General, Hartford Fire, Htd. Steam Boiler, National Fire, Phoenix, Travelers, Public Utility Stocks, Conn. Power Co., Conn. L.P. 7% pfd., Htd. E. L. com., Htd. Gas com., So. N. E. Tel. Co., So. N. E. T. Co. rights, Manufacturing Stocks, Am. Hardware, American Silver, Acme Wire, Bigelow-Htd. pfd., Bristol Brass, Collins Co., Colt Fire Arms, Eagle Lock, Fafair Bearing, Full'r Br'sh Class A 52, Hart & Cooley, Int. Sil. pfd., Jewell Belting, New Brit. Man. pfd., Niles Bt. Pd. N. Stock, North & Judd, J. R. Montgomery pfd., J. R. Montgomery com., Peck, Stow & Wilcox, Russell Mfg. Co., Stanley Works com., Smyth Mfg. Co., Torrington, Underwood, Union Mfg. Co., Whitlock Coll. Pfd., U. S. Envelope pfd., Htd. Elec. Lst. 7's, East. Conn. Pow. 5's, Conn. L. P. 5 1/2's, Conn. L. P. 7's, B'dpt. Hyd. 5's.

New York Stocks

Table of New York stock prices including At. Gulf. W. I., Am. Beet Sug., Am. Sugar Ref., Am. Tel. & Tel., Anaconda, Am. Loc., Am. Car & Fdry., Atchafson, B & O, Beth Steel, Butte Superior, Chandler, Chilli Copper, Cons. Gas N. Y., Cons. Fuel Iron, Ches & Ohio, Cruc Steel, Can. Pacific, Erie, Erie 1st, Gen Asphalt, Gen Elec., Gen Mot., Great No. 1, Kennecott Cop., Inspira Cop., Lehigh Valley, Marine Pr., North Wheel, Norfolk West, Natl. Lead, North Pacific, N. Y. Central, N. Y. N. H. & H., Pan Am Pet., Pennsylvania, People's Gas, Pines Arrow, Rap. Ir. & Steel, Reading, Ch R Isl. & Pac., South Pacific, So. Railway, Studebaker, Union Pacific, U. S. Rubber, U. S. Steel, West'n house, West. Union.

FOREIGNERS FOREGO PARIS NIGHT LIFE

Bus Companies Cut Out Tours When for Third Time Passengers Are Insulted.

Paris, July 23.—Parisian night life no longer has attractions for the timid American tourist. Auto-bus companies have suspended their "see Paris by night" tours, because last night, for the third successive night, there were demonstrations against sight-seeing buses carrying English and German visitors as well as Americans.

JAP STRANGLES GIRL LAYS OUT HER BODY

New York, July 23.—Koguro Mogi, 32, a Japanese cook, walked into a police station early today and announced that he had strangled to death Adelheid Brunges, 22, a German girl, in an apartment they occupied. Police found the girl's body lying on a bed, her hands folded on her chest.

FLAGG, AS RESCUER, TAKES FUTILE RISK

Biddeford Pool, Me., July 23.—Isaac Cook, wealthy business man of St. Louis was drowned while swimming here. James Montgomery Flagg, noted painter, and illustrator, went to Cook's aid but the St. Louis man was dead when brought ashore.

INTERVIEWING A CAT IS ODD ASSIGNMENT

Addison Reporter Finds Out Why Puss Does Certain Things.

(Special to The Herald.) Addison, July 23.—The reporter has been asked to have an interview with the cat who placed her kittens in a maple tree and find out why she did it. There was a very persistent scratching on a window screen at 2 a. m. standard time. Sleep was impossible, so the electric light was turned on revealing the cat working with all the energy she could muster trying to get one of her kittens through the lap in the center of the window screen. The kitten was flattened out midway in the screen so the reporter had compassion to remove the little animal from his uncomfortable predicament.

The mother cat soon came with another kitten and the two were placed on the floor of a clothes closet with a woolen stocking for a pillow. "What is the meaning of this unusual call and why have you moved your kittens from barn to tree and now at this untimely hour disturbed my slumbers?" The cat was ready to grant the request for an explanation. "After my four babies were born and as I lay on the hay a scratching noise preceded the appearance of an inquisitive gentleman cat. I realized that the life of my precious babies was in danger if I left them alone so I kept close watch over them but I moved them to the maple tree and that mean cat has tried to get them so I want you to guard these two and I will go up in the tree and protect the other two.

CHILDREN MISSING IN "SUICIDE PACT"

Boy and Girl Take Gun and Poison to Woods—But It's Not First Time.

Ellsworth, Me., July 23.—A strange suicide love pact between two youngsters in their early teens was revealed today when authorities joined in a search through the dense woods in this section for Dave Coughlin, 14, and Nellie Piper, also 14. The love-sick youngsters, according to authorities, vanished two days ago, taking a gun and chloroform, and leaving behind a note stating that they would spend a blissful week together and then kill themselves. "Kept Flight Quiet." In the two days they have been missing, relatives searched for them quietly. However, they finally sought the aid of authorities. The children had been keeping "steady company" for more than a year, meeting secretly when the girl's mother barred Dave from the house, and once before they fled together only to be found and routed from their hiding place by the boy's elder brother, according to authorities.

RORABACK TO ATTEND BRIDGEPORT OUTING

For First Time in 10 Years Will Foregather With Former G. O. P. Insurgents.

Hartford, July 23.—J. Henry Roraback, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, yesterday accepted an invitation personally extended by Postmaster Arthur P. Connor of Bridgeport, to attend an outing to be given by the Park City G. O. P. at Pleasure Beach on August 21. A similar invitation to Governor Trumbull was declined because the governor will be at his camp in Maine at the time of the outing. Senator Bingham and Congressman Merritt have already accepted. This is the first time in ten years that Charman Roraback has attended an outing of the Fairfield county organization, or since the insurgency of the late John T. King, Bridgeport leader. The affair will mark the formal coalition of the former King group with the regular Republican organization of the state.

BUDLONG IS GRANTED A LIMITED DIVORCE

Providence, R. I., July 23.—A limited divorce was granted to Milton J. Budlong, millionaire oil magnate of New York, from Jesse Margaret Budlong, in a rescript handed down here today by Judge Edward W. Blodgett of Newport Superior Court.

BRITISH SLEEPING CAR COACHES CATCH FIRE

London, July 23.—A catastrophe was narrowly averted when two coaches of the London to Penzance express train caught fire while passengers slumbered in their berths early today. Several of the passengers were burned, but none was seriously injured.

NOTHING IN THE HENHOUSE BUT PLENTY IN THE TRAPS.

It would be a shame to give the name of the bright young man who pulled off this one. He lives in town and keeps chickens. Morning after morning he missed a number of them. What to do? What to do? He set out two traps outside the hen house. Last night he heard a commotion and ran out of the house in his bare feet. In the darkness he stepped on one of the traps. His cries brought out the rest of the family who released him. The other trap had also been sprung and contained—wait, don't go away yet—

ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. Margaret E. Dwyer of 404 North Main street is leaving today for Boston. Her son Dr. George E. Dwyer sails Saturday morning from Boston to study abroad for two months. Deputy James Foley and staff of the local Haymakers Loft will go to New London tonight to install officers for Nonowontuck Hayloft, No. 49 1-2. The members of the club will meet at the local Red Men's clubhouse on Brainard Place. Miss Marlon Brookings of Middle Turnpike East, is spending her vacation in Keene, N. H. Mrs. William Perrett of Russell street and son, Andrew Rankin, are visiting friends in Douglas, Mass. One of the most popular places in town yesterday was the Center Spring yards. Whole families brought their lunches and spent the day there. Katherine M. Findley of Park street and her sister, Mrs. R. W. Chapman leave tomorrow for a two or three weeks' stay at Ocean Beach. The school street dump, bane of the South End firemen, caught fire last night at 8:30 o'clock. It took about an hour's hard work to extinguish the blaze. The dump has a tendency to catch out the firemen about once a week. The employees of the Oxford Soap company will go to Riverside Park, Springfield, tomorrow, for their annual outing. The trip will be made by automobile. Twenty-three of the members of St. Mary's church choir took in the street to Sevin Rock yesterday. They went down to the shore by automobiles and spent the first part of the time at Lighthouse Point. Owing to the extreme heat, bathing was the most popular sport. The party had dinner at Sevin Rock and all thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

BEER LADEN AUTO GOES ON RAMPAGE

Stamford, July 23.—Hugh McCann of Hastings, N. Y. is being held here while police are seeking the man who drove McCann here during the night. With McCann they are holding a high-powered car and 480 pint bottles of beer that they found in a special compartment in the car. A motorcycle policeman witnessed the strange force another car of the Post road and gave chase. The stranger turned into a side road and brought up near Stamford hospital where he tried a private driveway and stopped his mirth and a motorcycle driven by Ralph Kingsley of East Hartford all came together near the intersection of Maple and Main streets this afternoon. The bread truck had been parked at the curb on the east side of the Main street just north of Maple and had pulled out. The roadster was coming up Main and when almost abreast of the bread truck, the driver of the latter without any warning whatever started to turn south. The roadster and the bread truck came together and the roadster was thrown to the other side of the street. The motorcycle, which was also proceeding up Main street, and the roadster collided. Nobody was hurt and the damage to the machines was very slight. Officer Jack McGlinn investigated.

BAKERY TRUCK, FORD ROADSTER AND MOTORCYCLE, COME TOGETHER

A New England bakery truck driven by Erling F. Larson of Spring street, Glastonbury, a Ford roadster driven by William Thurcar and a motorcycle driven by Ralph Kingsley of East Hartford all came together near the intersection of Maple and Main streets this afternoon. The bread truck had been parked at the curb on the east side of the Main street just north of Maple and had pulled out. The roadster was coming up Main and when almost abreast of the bread truck, the driver of the latter without any warning whatever started to turn south. The roadster and the bread truck came together and the roadster was thrown to the other side of the street. The motorcycle, which was also proceeding up Main street, and the roadster collided. Nobody was hurt and the damage to the machines was very slight. Officer Jack McGlinn investigated.

BOYS AND GIRLS INVITED IN CHAUTAUQUA PARADE

Saturday night at 6:30 all local boys and girls, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts are invited to join in the Chautauqua parade. The boys and girls will meet at the Center and march down Main street. Two prizes will be offered those girls appearing in the parade and two to the boys. The prizes will be given for the prettiest costumes and for the funniest and most original costumes. Boys and girls owning pet-dogs, ponies—are asked to bring them along. There will be clowns, Japs, tramps, gypsies and other characters in the parade. Only those parading will be eligible to the prizes.

ZEDELERS TO PLAY FOR KIWANIS AT 9

Next Wednesday noon the Zedeler Symphonic quartet will play at the Kiwanis Club luncheon in Hotel Sheridan. The Zedelers will appear at Chautauqua here on Wednesday evening and have consented to come here in time to be at the Kiwanis meeting. The musicians are donating their services for the Kiwanis appearance.

DENY AMERICANS ARE TO AID IN SAVING FRANC

Paris, July 23.—Reports, circulated in the United States, that American bankers are meeting in Paris to consider means to save the franc, were vigorously denied by the foreign office today. "It is a coincidence that secretary Milon, J. P. Morgan, and Governor Strong are all in Europe, but this coincidence is hardly sufficient ground to warrant the assumption that there is any meeting of American bankers to save the franc," said the foreign office statement. Denials were also issued by the heads of the various banking houses in Paris. The American embassy likewise denied the report.

INJURES HIS SPINE DIVING AT CRYSTAL

Thought at First Rockville Swimmer Had Broken Neck; Is at Hartford Hospital.

Disregarding a notice which stated plainly that bathers were not allowed on the landing platform, Michael Mochhek, 20, dove off the platform at Sandy Beach, Crystal Lake, yesterday afternoon and sustained a severe injury to his spine. It was at first thought that either his neck or back was broken but at the Hartford hospital, where he was treated it was found that his spine was injured. Mochhek, who is said to be an unexperienced swimmer, had been spending the day at Sandy Beach, a resort on the far side of Crystal Lake owned by George Bokus. He was pulled out of the lake and first aid given him immediately. Then he was rushed to the hospital. The landing from which the swimmer dove is used for the purpose of moving a large motorboat which piles across the lake and back. The notice warning swimmers not to use it was posted conspicuously on a post nearby but Mochhek either did not see it or disregarded it entirely. He dove into the water at an acute angle and struck the bottom on his head. The car that struck him was driven by William Russell, Salisbury hotel owner, upset in a ditch and was wrecked. Russell escaped without injury. D. Ostrander of Salisbury was driving the truck. He picked up the stranger who asked him for a ride and was descending Smith hill when the stranger suddenly jumped off. It is believed he thought the truck was getting out of control. The dead man had no marks of identification about his clothing. He was wearing an Eagle's pin, however, and this is expected to lead to his identity.

HUNDREDS PRESENT AT KIWANIS CAMP CONCERT

Although the town sweltered and fanned for cool weather last night, several hundred people heard the excellent concert given by the Salvation Army band and male chorus at the West Side last night. The band donated its services to help along the Kiwanis camp fund. The canteen at the playgrounds was opened and operated by members of the Kiwanis club. Soda, hot dogs and other refreshments were sold during the evening and a considerable sum was realized from this source. While the benefit ball game was in progress young women passed through the crowd with tags. The little buttons bore the inscription: "I have helped the Kiwanis Camp Fund" and were sold at whatever the donors cared to give. The tagging will be continued tonight when the Sons of Italy will play the Rockville nine at the West Side.

BANDITS TAKE ROLL ARMORED CAR LEFT

New York, July 23.—Five bandits escaped in an automobile today with a payroll amounting to $4,325 from the New York Linen Supply and Laundry Co. Four men at work in the office were terrorized by the bandits. A young clerk, Albert Gresser, was hit on the head with a revolver but when he could not open the safe, the policemen arrested and seized the money, which was received half an hour before the hold-up, was brought to the company's offices in an armored car. Toledo, July 23.—In a sensational raid here early today in which federal prohibition agents used axes to chop their way into a room, several Ohio National Guard officers from Camp Perry, including a major, Lieutenants and sergeants, were arrested on charges of violating the national prohibition law.

CENTRAL NEW YORK HARD HIT BY STORM

Syracuse, N. Y., July 23.—Three dead and damage estimated at more than $1,000,000 is the estimated toll today of a cyclonic wind and rain storm which swept Central New York yesterday. The three dead were killed in the collapse of various structures. Crops have been levelled, telegraph and telephone communication paralyzed, roads washed out and cluttered with debris and buildings blown down, through an area of 1,000 square miles or more.

YALE CLUB PRESIDENT IS DEAD AT NEW YORK

New York, July 23.—The Yale club today mourns its president, John Watson Dixon, who died at his home last night after being stricken with paralysis at his law office. "Dixon was born in Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 5, 1873, was graduated from the University of Nebraska, receiving a degree from Yale the following year, 1895.

MORGAN IN ENGLAND

Southampton, Eng., July 23.—J. P. Morgan arrived here this afternoon on the S. S. Majestic.

OFFICER SLAIN IN FIGHT WITH CHICKEN THIEVES

Greenville, O., July 23.—Special Officer Simon Penny, 54, was shot and killed early today and was wounded in a fight with two chicken thieves. The man who did the shooting made his escape but his companion was arrested.

J. D.'S SILVER DIMES LOOM BIG AS REWARD.

Gratitude is being shown every day hereabouts.

Yesterday Motorman Dietz and Conductor Angel found a pocketbook on a trolley car which contained a pay envelope in which was the sum of $50. As is the case with all lost articles turned in to the Connecticut company office, the purse and the envelope were examined and the contents noted. Last night the owner called for his property and when he saw that everything was as he had left it, said, in the hearing of the two men who had turned it in: "I wouldn't have gotten it if they had known what was in it."

PICKUP PASSENGER LEAPS OFF; KILLED

Winsted, July 23.—Coroner Samuel A. Herman today started an investigation into the death at Salisbury last night of an unidentified man who was struck by a passing automobile as he jumped from a moving truck on Smith hill. The car that struck him was driven by William Russell, Salisbury hotel owner, upset in a ditch and was wrecked. Russell escaped without injury. D. Ostrander of Salisbury was driving the truck. He picked up the stranger who asked him for a ride and was descending Smith hill when the stranger suddenly jumped off. It is believed he thought the truck was getting out of control. The dead man had no marks of identification about his clothing. He was wearing an Eagle's pin, however, and this is expected to lead to his identity.

SION TO TRY CHANNEL ON MONDAY NIGHT

Cape Gris Nez, France, July 23.—Mme. Sion, the French woman swimmer, will start her attempt to swim the English channel at 9 o'clock Monday night. She will lead a group of swimmers in an attempt for Helmy, the Egyptian, and Homer Ferrault, the Canadian, plan to start at the same time. Gertrude Ederle will accompany Helmy, swimming with him part of the way. Lillian Cannon of Baltimore, who is giving training for the attempt, will accompany Mme. Sion, swimming with her occasionally and advising her at other times from a boat.

DRY RAIDERS CAPTURE NATIONAL GUARDSMEN

Toledo, July 23.—In a sensational raid here early today in which federal prohibition agents used axes to chop their way into a room, several Ohio National Guard officers from Camp Perry, including a major, Lieutenants and sergeants, were arrested on charges of violating the national prohibition law.

YALE CLUB PRESIDENT IS DEAD AT NEW YORK

New York, July 23.—The Yale club today mourns its president, John Watson Dixon, who died at his home last night after being stricken with paralysis at his law office. "Dixon was born in Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 5, 1873, was graduated from the University of Nebraska, receiving a degree from Yale the following year, 1895.

MORGAN IN ENGLAND

Southampton, Eng., July 23.—J. P. Morgan arrived here this afternoon on the S. S. Majestic.

OFFICER SLAIN IN FIGHT WITH CHICKEN THIEVES

Greenville, O., July 23.—Special Officer Simon Penny, 54, was shot and killed early today and was wounded in a fight with two chicken thieves. The man who did the shooting made his escape but his companion was arrested.

HOSTILITY AWAITS AMERICAN VISITORS

Mexican Religious League Remits Coming of Group Invited by Calles.

Mexico City, July 23.—A hostile reception is planned by the National League for Religious Defense for a party of forty American college professors, students and pastors who are coming to Mexico, at the invitation of the Mexican government, to study conditions. The league today issued a manifesto to Catholics urging them to meet the train bearing the American delegation and demonstrate "by all forms possible our disgust at their presence, meddling in our affairs." "We are free and shouldn't permit strangers, in race and religion, to come and judge us and make joke of our sufferings," the manifesto said. The league's manifesto charges that the party is coming here at the instance of the government to make a study of the religious situation and then return to the United States and report that all is well and that the Catholic difficulties in Mexico are of no importance.

SEEKING COOL SPOT FALLS OFF ROOF

Frank Hack of Avery street thought the roof of his home the coolest place to sleep during the hot wave. He fixed it up with bed clothing and went to sleep. Early in the morning he rolled off and fell to the ground 15 feet below. He was taken to the Memorial hospital where it was feared that he had suffered internal injuries. Investigation disclosed the fact that no bones were broken and that body bruises were his most serious injuries.

HALE'S SELF-SERVE GROCERY IT PAYS TO WAIT ON YOURSELF Yes, It's A Fact! It's the coolest place to shop for miles around! I wouldn't think of buying foodstuffs elsewhere, it's so cool and refreshing at the Self-Serve Grocery. It is really a pleasure to leisure around selecting whatever you need. I always buy fresh fruit and vegetables, they have such a good variety, so fresh and cool and crisp. Goods packed to take away with you over the week-end. Premier Salad Dressing, large size, 29c Republic Sweet Mixed Pickles, quart jar, 32c William's Root Beer and Ginger Ale Extract, bottle 17c Makes 5 gallons. MALT THREE RINGS BRAND (Light or Dark with Hops) 59c can THREE RINGS BRAND (Light or Dark Hop Flavor) 69c can BALLANTINE'S (Light or Dark with Hops) 49c can CANADIAN MAID IMPORTED MALT 95c can No boil or with hops. 1 can free with 2. MALT-OP REDYMIKT OR WURBURGER 69c can OTHER SPECIALS Gold Medal or Pillsbury's Flour, $1.33 bag Lux (large) 20c Rinsos (small) 19c Fresh Made Butter 2 lbs. 95c It goes farther. Hale's Guaranteed Eggs 39c doz. A new one for every bad one. Cheese 39c lb. American (good flavor). Pure Lard 19c lb. pkg. Sunbeam Evaporated Milk 10c can Sugar (Finest American Granulated), 100 lb. bag, $5.90 25 lb. bag, $1.49. 10 lb. bag, 59c. 5 lb. bag, 30c. Flyosan Insecticide (Kills All Insects), quart can 99c, pint can 69c, 1/2 pint can 43c Sprayer free. REFRESHING DRINKS Extra charge for bottles which will be refunded. Gra Rock Ginger Ale 10c bottle or White Birch case of 24, $2.25 Canada Dry Ginger Ale $1.99 doz. Family carton. Undina Ginger Ale and White Birch 15c bottle Case of 12, $1.65. Moxie 18c bottle Case of 12, $2.15. Chelmsford Ginger Ale and White Birch 13c qt. bottle Case of 12, $1.40. Hungerford Smith Club Punch, 18c bottle Makes a wonderful drink. COOKIE DEPT. Hale's Famous Fancy Mixed Cookies, Always fresh. 29c pound Always the newest, 60 other varieties. Fresh Fruit And Vegetables Kept Cool and Crisp in Our Cold Storage Cases. HILEY BELLE PEACHES 4 qt. basket 39c ALBERTA PEACHES 4 qt. basket 45c Free stone. Large Ripe Cantaloupes 10c each Large Honey Dew Melons, 45c and 33c ea. Large Sunkist Lemons 33c doz. California Valencia Oranges 59c doz. Medium Size California Valencia Oranges 49c doz. Golden Ripe Bananas 8c lb. Fancy Bartlett Pears 29c doz. Sweet Telephone Pears 2 qts. 19c Fresh picked. Summer Squash 10c lb. Green or Wax String Beans 7c qt. Native White Sweet Corn 59c doz. Lettuce 5c head New Texas Onions 4 lbs. 21c Native Cabbage 10c head Native Beets 5c bunch New Potatoes 43c peck Old Potatoes 25c peck Cucumbers 5c each Radishes 3 bunches for 10c Native Carrots 5c bunch Native Spring Spinach 17c peck You Can Be Assured Of Getting Fresh Meats When You Shop Here Automatic refrigeration of the latest type—a show case with a capacity of 96 platters besides an automatic ice box in the meat room, where all meats are automatically chilled. Our quick turnover assures you of getting Fresh Meats at all times. Shop at the Health Market tomorrow—we have a splendid assortment of roasts, steaks, chops, etc. Phone 403 and place your order and it will be ready when you call. POULTRY Fresh Killed Broilers 49c lb. Fricasee Fowl 40c lb. LAMB Leg of Lamb 39c lb. Lamb Stew 15c lb. Shoulder Lamb Chops 35c lb. VEAL Rump Veal Roast 37c lb. Breast of Veal for Stuffing 20c lb. BEEF Prime Rib Roast of Beef 28c and 34c lb. Boston Rolled Roast 32c lb. Lean Pot Roast 22c lb. Fresh Ground Hamburg Steak 18c lb. Native Calves' Liver 50c lb. Beef Liver 15c lb. OTHER SPECIALS All kinds of cold meats for picnics. Combination Meat Loaf 28c lb. Fresh ground beef, pork and veal. Sausage Meat 25c lb.

Stand By-- Tomorrow Night's Paper —takes the news. Only one more day to wait. Watch for The Herald.

DAILY ALMANAC Today is feast day of St. Apollinaris, bishop and martyr. He was a disciple of St. Peter. Today is observed as national holiday in Turkey.

WHERE TO MARKET

Pickings
From Manchester's
Choicest Markets

Timely
Tips
For Prudent Housekeepers

COVENTRY

Mrs. John Wilson and children spent the week-end with Mrs. Wilson's sister Mrs. Arthur B. Porter. Miss Ruth Taylor of Hartford spent the week-end with her mother Mrs. A. B. Porter. Vincent Ingraham of Hartford, was a week-end guest at Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson's.

Mrs. George Bennett and children motored up with James Bennett from Hartford, N. Y., to visit her mother Mrs. Arthur B. Porter. Mrs. Doris Gowdy of Hartford was home over the week-end. Stancil Wood and sister of Glastonbury are visiting their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. William Hawkins.

Mrs. Little and daughter Grace, of East Hartford, are spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gowdy.

Mrs. John Lawrence of Saugatuck, Conn., is visiting at Mrs. Geo. Bennett's summer home. Miss Anna Becker of the Bronx, N. Y., Mrs. Anna Adher and daughters Clara and Elizabeth motored from Mt. Vernon, N. Y., with Mrs. Adher's son Henry, to spend the week-end with Mrs. Geo. Bennett. James Bennett and sisters Marjorie and Margaret are spending their vacation at their summer home.

Miss Thelma Douglas of New London spent the week end with her friend Miss Gladys Orcutt. Owing to the thunder shower the Sunday meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society had to be held at the chapel instead of on the hill as was planned. The topic was "What we learn of out-of-doors."

The leader was Miss Esther Vinton. The Christian Endeavor monthly business meeting and social will be held at the chapel Friday evening.

The Ready Helpers Reunion picnic is being planned as voted upon at the last meeting. The date will be set as soon as word is received from Rev. John Rosenagel, Jr., of Lincoln, Mass. Mrs. Rosenagel is very ill at present and it was the desire of the society to hold it when Mr. Rosenagel would be in town on his vacation.

Several children in town are planning to attend the junior short course at Connecticut Agricultural college this week.

WAPPING

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strong of 125 Kent street, Hartford, are spending a week with Mrs. Strong's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Collins.

Frederick O. Newberry of South Windsor street, has returned from the Hartford hospital where he has been under treatment for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stoughton and two children, Fern and Richard, are on a motor trip through New Hampshire and Vermont.

The young people from the village held a dog roast at the home of Miss Josephine Congdon of Laurel Hill on last Tuesday evening.

Miss Helen Dickenson of Wiscasset, Maine, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Frederick McLaughlin of South Windsor.

Robert Merrimen, son of Mrs. Clarence W. Johnson, is spending a part of his vacation as a guest of Charles Burt of Gilead.

P. J. Ahern of East Windsor Hill, has as his guests, Mr. G. M. Fay and her son of Newark, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Newberry and their children have returned home after a few weeks at their summer home at Sand Pond in the Adirondacks.

Mrs. Erwin F. Stoughton has been ill at her home with malaria all the week and under the care of Dr. Lundberg of Manchester.

For a cool, refreshing drink stop at our fountain—Quinn's—Adv.

We are serving all the newest and popular ice cream dishes at our fountain—Quinn's—Adv.

STATE FAIR PREMIUMS BIGGEST YET OFFERED

Over $50,000 in Prizes for Encouragement of Agriculture; Many to Enter.

The Connecticut State Fair, this year, will offer the largest sum of money ever set aside for premiums in its experience—providing the most generous pot of gold ever set up in Connecticut for the encouragement of agriculture. The total awards run over $50,000—to be exact $54,747. The very magnitude of the premium list is an inducement to come to Hartford. It has already attracted many and the result will be seen in the keen competition and the expansion of the exhibits.

The livestock show at Charter Oak Park in September is going to be on the biggest scale yet witnessed there. This department of the fair alone will make a drain of more than $18,000 on the treasury.

Generous provisions are made in the fruit and vegetable classes, where the total will run up to about $2,500.

In conformity with the policy of the State Fair management to encourage the youth in agriculture awards aggregating nearly $3,500 will be made in the boys' and girls' classes.

The fair management this year will present another of its very delightful horse shows, and is offering the most attractive array of cups. In connection with the flower show—there will really be two shows, one by the Connecticut Gladiolus Society in the floral hall for the first four days, and the state fair's regular show during the last half of the week. There will be a special class for the most attractive rock garden arrangement of plants.

There will be special awards in the vegetable classes for displays by individuals, by Granges and by associations. The amount is about $700. Special fruit displays call for premiums amounting to $850.

The figures mentioned give a partial insight into the more liberal policy of the management. This year again strongly emphasized what records are studied, showing that the premium totals for last year amounted to $28,000. A bigger and broader policy is the object of the fair management.

OUR OWN BROMINE.

New York—No more European bromine need be used in this country, according to Carl R. DeLong, head of the Chemical Division of U. S. Tariff Commission. Bromine, necessary in medicine and many other uses, is obtained from the ocean. Treatment of about 1800 gallons of sea water is necessary for one pound of bromine.

Our fountain is a mecca for thirsty folks these hot days. Stop in and try our favorite drink or ice cream dish—Quinn's—Adv.

HEBRON

A rehearsal for community singing was held at the Congregational chapel Tuesday evening, in preparation for Thursday's program.

Mrs. Elizabeth Birdsey, formerly of this place, is spending part of the summer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lapham in Pasadena, California. Mrs. Lapham before her last marriage was the widow of the late Lucien H. Leonard, a well known Hebron man.

Benjamin H. Bissell went on a visit to New Haven Wednesday morning.

Morris Rackmowitz, who is in business in New York, spent several days with his family here recently.

Roger W. Porter of Springfield, who spent last week doing the hay- ing on his old home place, returned to his home on Sunday. Miss Eunice Seyms accompanied him for a visit with Mrs. R. F. Porter. Mr. Porter made the trip in his automobile just escaping the fury of the hurricane. He reports signs of havoc all the way, uprooted trees, splintered and torn buildings and the like. The Rev. T. D. Martin, who spent the week-end in Springfield, also reports hundreds of trees uprooted, church steeples demolished, etc.

Mrs. George Mitchell is visiting relatives in Manchester.

Jared Tennant, Jr., is suffering from an accident to his eye, which he injured by striking it against a sharp corner. It was badly infected but is yielding to treatment.

Wednesday was the hottest day of the summer here, so far. The thermometer stood at 95 in the shade. In the sun it ran up to 118.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Miner were Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Nye of Fitchville, also Carl Rogers of Ellington. Mr. Miner accompanied Mr. Rogers on a motor trip to Hadlyme. A musical comedy will be given in the Town hall on Friday evening, July 30. The singers are from the choirs of Colchester, Westchester and Hebron. Mrs. William O. Seyms is leader in the undertaking and will play accompaniments. Proceeds are for the Congregational church. Ice cream will be on sale.

Miss Estelle Broome has returned to Hartford after spending some time at the home of her father in Hopevale.

Mrs. Edwin Gillette, a former resident of Hebron, died on Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hattie Robinson, in Lebanon. She deceased was 96 years of age. Besides her daughter she leaves a son, Arthur R. Gillette, of this place. Funeral services were held at the undertaker's rooms in William- ston this afternoon. Burial was in Hebron.

Miss Mildred Hannaway of Pawtucket, R. I., is spending some time at the home of her cousin, Mrs. F. N. Jones.

Charles Miner was taken with a severe attack of pleurisy while at work in the hayfield. He was obliged to leave work and has been confined to his bed and under a doctor's care since.

The Tolland County Farm Bureau will take its members to visit Edward Smith's fruit farm on Friday in the forenoon on July 30. Mr. Smith has about thirty acres in peaches and a considerable acreage in apples. His farm is the only one in Hebron which has been selected to be visited by the Bureau members. It is thought that about 200 visitors will be present.

THEY'RE SNAPPY.
Lyons, Kas.—The word "snappy" applies to harvesters who worked on a farm near Lyons in the morning, ate bread in the evening from wheat they had harvested. The wheat was ground into flour at Lyons.

FLORENCE'S DELICATESSEN'S

"The store that holds faith with the people."
Corner Main and Maple Streets. Telephone 2006.
F. KELLEY, Prop.

The Coolest Way

To accomplish your housework today with the thermometer standing around 100 degrees is to let us do your cooking. Just think of the hot work that can be avoided and the hours that you can spend keeping cool. You will find that our service and our food products are just as much up to our high standard of excellence as ever despite the hot weather.

- HOME MADE SPECIALS
- Daily—
Shrimp Salad
Vegetable Salad
Potato Salad
Country Club Salad
Chicken Salad
Cold Slaw
Baked Beans
Macaroni and Cheese
Italian Style Spaghetti
Home Made Pies.
- Home Made Crullers
Hot Home Made Biscuits Every Evening at 5 O'clock.
- Friday—
Codfish Cakes
- Saturday—
Roast Chicken
Chicken Pies
Chop Suey.
Boston Brown Bread
Other Home Cooked Specials Not Mentioned.

- Peeled Portuguese Sardines
French and Norwegian Sardines in olive oil.
French and Norwegian Smoked Filet of Herring in olive oil.
Italian Filet of Anchovies in olive oil with capers.
French and Italian Boneless Anchovies in olive oil.
Pate De Foie Gras
Dressed Crab
Purée Au Foie with Truffles.
Caviar.
- Anchovy, Sardine, Shrimp and Bloater Pastes.
Sardellen Butter
Pickled Lamb's Tongue
Belgian Mixed Vegetables
Olive Relish
Vegonaisse
Tartar Sauce
Russian Dressing
Sandwich Spreads
Mayonnaise
Peanut Butter
Apple Butter
Shelled Pecans in glass
Walnut Meats in glass
Figs and Dates in glass.

Full line of smoked and cooked meats including our own baked ham.
Large assortment of Pickles, Olives, Onions and Relishes.
Potato Chips in bulk.
Large assortment of imported Fruit Juices.
Large assortment of imported and domestic Cheese.
Fox's Glacier Mints — Polka Grisar.
Large assortment of imported and domestic Jams and Jellies.

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC BEVERAGES
Manhattan and Martini Cocktails — Apricotelle — Creme De Menthe — Grenadine — Benedictine — Kummel — Military Punch — Vermouth — Chartres.

Heavy Cream — Strictly Fresh Eggs — Brown's Butter.

Store open every evening until 9 P. M., and all day Thursday.

We Have A Modern- Up-to-Date Display Room In Connection With Our Bakery

Perhaps you are not acquainted with our location. This display room is in the same building as our bakery. We have a complete line of our bakery products on sale at all times. We invite you to come see this display room and the food products we bake.

Try Our Bread - Pastry - Cakes - Cookies - Coffee Cakes, Etc., for Delicious Food Products.

BLUE RIBBON BAKERY

Best Bakery Products Sold.
A. W. JOHNSON — O. F. VIETTEL
Proprietors.
56-58 Cottage Street Phones 2197, 2150 and 2144
South Manchester.

It has pleased more people than any other Malt ever offered for sale

Ballantine's
Three Rings
Malt & Hops
Many Flavors—
Dark
Light
Dark Hop-flavored Light Hop-flavored
Special Dark
Special Dark and Hop-flavored.

For Best Results Insist on Three Rings Box Hops.
Do not take any other.

For Sale Everywhere

STANDARD PAPER CO.
SOLE DISTRIBUTORS
40-42 Market Street Hartford, Conn.

Hot Weather Menus

that tempt dulled appetites are fully explained in the A & P NEWS this week. It contains recipes and suggestions that will save work... be sure to ask the manager for your copy every week

- |  |                |        |
|--|----------------|--------|
| Pure Lard                                  | lb.            | 18c    |
| Potatoes                                   | 15 lbs.        | 43c    |
| Gold Medal, Pillsbury's or Heckler's Flour | 24 1-2 lb. bag | $1.35 |
| A & P Family Flour                         | 24 1-2 lb. bag | $1.25 |
| A & P Pastry Flour                         | 24 1-2 lb. bag | $1.19 |
| Lemons                                     | Doz.           | 29c    |

It is so pure that it cannot injure the daintiest of fine fabrics!
Lux Baby's sheer dresses washed in Lux, will look like new large pkg 20c

As a change from heavier vegetables — or for tempting desserts!
Rice Extra fancy uncoated rice 3 lbs. 25c

The nation's summer breakfast food — serve with cream and fruit!
Kellogg's Corn Flakes 3 pkgs 25c

Pale Dry or Golden — a more generous quantity at a very low price!
Clicquot Club Ginger Ale 2 bottles contents 25c

Pressed from fresh, plump fruit from famous vineyards!
Grape Juice quart bottle 43c pint bottle 23c

Blue Label Ketchup large bottle 25c small bottle 17c

Jello assorted flavors pkg 10c

R & R Chicken large can 99c small can 53c

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC CO. TEA CO.

Brown Thompson & Co. Hartford's Shopping Center

Dainty Frocks for Summer Time Wear That Will Sell As Quick as Seen

The Value Is So Marvelous At This Low Price $7.95

OTHERS AT $5.00, $15.00 and $19.75. ALL WORTH SO MUCH MORE THAT EACH IS A WONDERFUL BARGAIN. TO BE FULLY CONVINCED, COME GIVE THEM YOUR INSPECTION.

You will find Prints, Tub Silks, Crepe de Chines, Georgettes and Flat Crepes, smart in styles, quality in materials, with choice in patterns and colorings. See the Special at $7.95 each.

Several Smart Styles in Flannel Coats

THE OUTER GARMENT OF THE SEASON, both white and colors. Just the thing for misses or women's week-end or vacation wear. Nearly all have stylish fur bandings or collars of white ermine or moulton. Sizes 14 to 42, for $15.00 and $19.75 each.

Special Sale of Pajamas For the Men's Wear

NICELY MADE OF BROADCLOTH, good quality in solid colors, trimmed with silk frogs. Others of neat striped percales and madras. Offered special at $1.79 each. (Two suits for $3.50).

PAJAMAS in Middy and Coat styles of Crepe cloth in solid colors. Very special for $2.25 each.

PAJAMAS of genuine Soisette, imported Crepes and fancy Madras. Two suits for $5.00, or singly, $2.55 each.

EXTRA FINE PAJAMAS, made of imported Madras, imported Broadcloth, mercerized Pongee, with frogs of contrasting colors. All better kinds, worth to $6.00, for $3.79 each.

ABOUT TOWN

Miss Agnes Mollan of Greenwich, Conn., is visiting her brother, Malcolm Mollan of 388 North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Clemson of North Elm street have visiting them their daughter, Mrs. Yveta Jepson and her two children of Brooklyn, N. Y., who have been spending two weeks with Mrs. Jepson's sister, Mrs. F. J. Frederickson of Bridgeport. The latter is also at her parents' home and Mr. Frederickson and Mr. Jepson are expected today for the week-end.

Miss Alice Fuller of North Main street has returned from a week's visit with the family of her nephew, Robert Cowles of Springfield, Mass.

Miss Catherine Giblin of Cottage street is spending a ten-day vacation at Merrimac, Mass.

Miss Mary Welch of Syracuse, N. Y., who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. L. Winterbottom of Edmund street, left yesterday for Granville, Vermont.

Charles Forsberg and family of James town, N. Y., are spending the present week with the Rev. and Mrs. P. J. O. Cornell of Church street.

The Rev. Eric I. Lindh, former pastor of the Center Congregational church, will preach at the union services of that church with the South Methodist in the latter edifice on Sunday, Rev. Lindh is now pastor of the Bethany Congregational church of Quincy, Mass.

Miss Adalade Kyle of Bethel, Conn., is the guest of Mrs. Herbert W. Robb of Center street. Mrs. Robb entertained at bridge last evening in honor of Miss Kyle. Mrs. J. L. Winterbottom won first prize and the consolation was awarded to Mrs. Harry Straw.

The service this evening at the Salvation Army Citadel will be under the leadership of Captain Lulu Sehl of Hartford divisional headquarters. The captain is a fluent speaker and will have a good message for those who attend. In spite of the heat those who attend will find the Army hall cool and comfortable. The service will commence at 7.30.

The Recreation Center at the East Side will be open on Saturdays from now on from 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning because of the fact that some of the mills are not operating on that day.

Artists are at work repainting the marquee in front of the Cicale theater on Oak street. The electrical sign will be wonderfully improved after the painting has been completed.

Mrs. J. H. Hewitt of Hill street, is entertaining her sister, Miss L. Hussey of London, England, who is on her first visit to this country. She plans to spend from three to six months here, visiting relatives in various places and taking trips to points of note. Miss Hussey, when reference was made to her warm reception weatherwise, replied that they were having it just as hot—or so it seemed to her—in London.

A daughter was born last night at the Manchester Memorial hospital to Mr. and Mrs. John Gallasso of 150 Spring street.

The funeral of six-year-old Alex. Fatcher, who was drowned in Case's pond, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from his home, 6 Avon street. Rev. H. O. Weber will officiate. Burial will be in the East cemetery.

'REC' CENTERS PLAN BIG TIME WEDNESDAY

Band Concert, Sports and Other Features—Charleston Contest.

All Manchester will be at the West Side next Wednesday night when all sections of the town will be represented in competition and a general good time under the auspices of the Recreation Centers of the Ninth School district. The feature of the evening will be a concert by Col's band of Hartford.

Those on the committee will include Walter G. Buckley of Manchester Green, Director George Washburn of the Manchester Community club, Sam Robinson of the Highland Park Community club, A. J. Healey of Buckland and the directors of the Recreation Centers, Miss Marjorie C. Geary and Walter Olson.

A ball game, probably between the Shamrocks and the Saints, will start the evening's festivities. This will be followed by a volleyball elimination tournament among all the districts represented, also tennis matches and the community horseshoe hitting championship.

Children only will be allowed in the Charleston contest which will this time be held out of doors. All children in Manchester under the age of 12 years will be eligible to enter. If there are any out-of-town entries, they will be placed in a different class and will have no effect on the Manchester championship. Names of contestants are to be at the Recreation Center on or before the evening of the contest.

For a cool drink and a nourishing food drink try our chocolate or coffee mated milk float—Quinn's.—Adv.

The J.W. Hale Company SOUTH MANCHESTER, CONN.

Store Open All Day Tomorrow Until 9 p. m.

COOL VOILE FROCKS FOR BRIGHT SUMMER DAYS

$5.00

SIZES 16 to 46

Bathing Caps ..... 50c to 75c
Bathing Belts ..... 50c and 75c
Water Wings ..... 45c

DRUG ITEMS

30c Lesco ..... 19c
Noonan's Lemon Cream, 59c jar, 29c tube
Three Flowers Cream, 50c jar
Wonder Balm ..... 50c
Ungentine ..... 40c
25c A. P. C. Sterate of Zinc ..... 19c
Gold Bond Talcum Powder, 45c

SILK SLIPS $1.98 to $2.98

Including rayon, crepe de chine and crepe rayon slips in white and colors. Double hem, tailored tops. Pongee Slips ..... $2.98 Pongee Step-ins ..... $1.49 Pongee Bloomers ..... $1.98

New Millinery $3.95 to $5.95

SATURDAY ONLY!

FRESH CUT

GLADIOLAS

6 FOR 50c

6 Gladiolas Make One Nice Bouquet.

CHOICE OF FOUR COLORS

WILBRINK (PALE PINK) LILY WHITE (PURE WHITE) HALLEY (SALMON PINK) E. J. SCHYLOR (DEEP ROSE)

On Sale at Main Floor Entrance.

Windsor Washanredy Krinkle

29c a yd.

Windsor Washanredy Krinkle is shown in a wide variety of original printed designs and practical plain shades—all in the delicate colors characteristic of Windsor Fabrics.

SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY

Showing a miniature reproduction of the Windsor Print Works, also picturing in detail the manufacturing processes of this famous crepe.

HULTMAN'S 16 Anniversary Sale 16 Ends Tomorrow Sat. July 24

Straw Hats 1-2 Price

B. V. D.'s $1.19 Sizes 34 to 46. Regular

Boys' Blouses

$1.50 Blouses now ..... $1.19
$1.00 Blouses now ..... 79c
Both regular and sport styles.

SHIRTS

Neckband style shirts, choice materials in attractive stripes. $1.75 Shirts ..... $1.29 $2.00 Shirts ..... $1.49 $2.50 Shirts ..... $1.79 $3.00 Shirts ..... $2.19 $3.50 Shirts ..... $2.59

20 per cent Off On Knickers, Grey Flannel Trousers and Work Trousers.

20 per cent Off On Men's and Boys' Golf Hose.

10% Off On All Keds.

20% Off On Men's and Children's Oxfords, Pumps.

One Lot of Men's and Children's White Canvas Oxfords, 98c

Broken Lots of Men's Oxfords, $2.95 and $3.95

All Our Regular Stock of Men's and Boys' Oxfords also being sold at Reduced Prices.

Watch For Our Announcement In Tomorrow's Herald

Gibson's Garage

10-12 Main Street Manchester

Specials For Saturday

Bargain $125

This is a regular $160. phonograph. It is brand new and is guaranteed. Beautiful case, fine tone.

One Year To Pay

VALENCIA

The Song Hit of the Year.

We have it on record, sheet music and player roll.

Popular Records

39c each

Any 3 for $1.

Get a Few New Records for Sunday.

Victor Records

Special Sale

29c each

4 for $1.

Over 1,000 Selections.

Player Rolls ..... 75c each—2 for $1.

Sheet Music ..... 4 Copies $1.

TAKE PICTURES OVER THE WEEK-END.

Kodaks - Brownies - Films - Developing and Printing.

Come Straight To

KEMP'S MUSIC HOUSE

Piano Tuning.

POLICE COURT

William Duncan was arrested this morning for intoxication by Officer R. Wirtalla. The arrest was made on complaint of Duncan's wife. The man was so intoxicated he was in no condition to appear in court this morning and his case was continued until tomorrow morning. Frank F. Burton, of Mount Carmel, near New Haven, cut the silent policeman at the Center yesterday afternoon. He was placed under arrest by Officer John McGinn. Burton furnished a bond for his appearance here on December 30, at which time he will be given a hearing.

SUNDAY DINNER

at the

Hotel Sheridan

Turkey, Duck or Chicken with all the fixings, $1.

12 M. to 2:30 P. M. Also a la Carte Service.

ANOTHER WOMAN RESCUED.

Albert Addy, assistant to Fred McCormick as life guard at Globe Hollow, rescued a woman from drowning yesterday. The woman had ventured out too far into the water. When attempting to swim back to the shore she became excited and went under. Her cries for help attracted Addy's attention and he swam out to her and brought her safely in.

ALLS FROM TOP OF FERRIS WHEEL, LIVES

Milford, July 23.—While engaged in making repairs to the ferris wheel at Walnut Beach last night, Charles Derroth, 36, an engineer, fell from the top of the wheel to the wooden platform below, forty feet. At the Milford hospital it was found he had suffered two rib fractures, injuries to the chest and possible internal hurts. He is expected to recover.

While Manchester sweltered yesterday afternoon a girl was seen on Main street wearing a chinichilla cloak with fur trimmings about the neck. At the Center a man was noticed walking toward the Green wearing an overcoat. He had long hair and grey whiskers.

For a cool, refreshing drink, stop at our fountain—Quinn's.—Adv.

STAND BY--

Tomorrow Night's Paper

—tells the news.

Only one more day to wait. Watch for The Herald.

BANKRUPTCY PETITIONS

New Haven, July 23.—Voluntary petitions in bankruptcy were filed in United States District Court here today as follows: Fred G. Loquist, Hamden, contracting painter, liabilities $13,879, assets $15,500. Henry J. Hande, West Haven, contracting painter, liabilities $9,255, assets $9,000. Lester Dean, Hartford laborer, liabilities $426, assets $280.

MANCHESTER AUTO TOP CO.

115 Oak St. Phone 1816-3

Slip Covers

Auto Tops Re-covered. Carpets and Upholstery. Rex Winter Enclosures. Celluloids for Curtains. Silk Curtains.