DRYS WIN OUT IN OHIO; BLACK VICTOR IN ALA.

Ku Klux Candidate in Nebraska Ahead in Primaries—Results of Voting in Various States.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 11.—The drys put over two big winners in Ohio's primary, returns from almost half of the state's 8,649 precincts showed today.

Senator Frank B. Willis walked off with the Republican nomination for United States Senator.

Pomerene Wins.

In the Democratic senatorial race, ex-Senator Alton Pomerene, an acknowledged wet, defeated Judge Florence Allen, a dry and an exponent of the World Court.

Willis Ahead.

Returns from 3,856 precincts gave Senator Willis a four to one lead over C. O. Hildebrandt, of Wilmington, Ohio, the runner-up. Willis had 82,467; Hildebrandt 20,833 and Charles Dick, Akron, 17,526.

Pomerene's followers hailed his three to two lead over Miss Allen as a victory. Allen headquarters had no comment to make this morning but had not yet conceded defeat.

On the face of returns from 13,738 precincts, Pomerene had a 4,136 plurality. His total was 44,136 while Miss Allen's was 30,738.

IN ALABAMA.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 11.—Hugo L. Black, Birmingham attorney, appeared almost a certainty to succeed Oscar W. Underwood in the United States Senate from Alabama, on the basis of meagre returns this morning from the Alabama Democratic primary elections.

The race for governor appeared to lie between Colonel Bibb Graves of Montgomery and Lieutenant Governor Charles McDowell who were running neck and neck. McDowell having steadily wiped Graves in the early returns last night.

Kluxers Candidate.

L. B. Musgrove, endorsed by the national officers of the Ku Klux Klan, was trailing in the senatorial race and it was apparent the bulk of the Klan strength had refused to follow the lead of the national officers and had voted almost solidly for Black, who also made a play for Klan support.

Graves also seemed to be the recipient of a substantial Klan vote.

IN NEBRASKA.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 11.—The nomination of Gov. Adam McMullen, Republican gubernatorial candidate, who ran on a "bone-dry" platform with the endorsement of the Ku Klux Klan, was regarded as virtually certain today as returns from the 20 counties unreported up to midnight, continued to pile up his totals. The unofficial count today gave McMullen a lead of more than 20,000 over Fred C. Johnson, runner-up.

KILLED IN GUN DUEL.

New York, Aug. 11.—Michael McDonald, address unknown, died in Harlem hospital today as a result of being shot down in a pistol duel with Patrolman John P. Cook, whom he seriously wounded. The duel followed a hold-up of a chain grocery store on upper Fifth avenue, the Bronx, in which McDonald is alleged to have wounded the store manager, John Hutchinson.

TREASURY BALANCE.

FRENCH PARLIAMENT ADJOURNS FINALLY

Paris, Aug. 11.—The French Parliament adjourns this afternoon after a ten-months' session which has resulted in the ousting of five governments and six finance ministers.

Premier Poincare is expected to reconvene the Parliament in October to ratify the debt settlements with the United States and Great Britain and to vote the 1927 budget.

KIDDIE CAMPAIGN MEETS WITH FAVOR

Will End Week from Today; Another Word Picture of Needy Youngster.

"I love this place because I can sleep nights," was the astonishing statement made by a youngster at the Kiwanians' Hebron camp recently.

"Can't you sleep nights at home?" he was asked.

"Not very good with five of my brothers in the bed with me."

The boy was telling an untruth, you say. Not at all. It was even worse than that. It was a single bed and the boys were lying in it as one pile of cordwood and the bed was in a basement.

Do you think that boy needed a vacation and a bed by himself if only for two weeks?

Many Such Cases.

These pictures could be multiplied. They are only given to give one an idea of what really is happening in Manchester right now.

Help the Youngsters.

It is to help these youngsters whose parents are really unable to help them because of circumstances that a campaign is now on to raise at least $1,000 to make the Hebron camp a permanent one. The campaign will end a week from today.

The Kiwanians have pledged $1,000; another thousand was raised by plays and other means and one more thousand is asked from the public.

With a population of about 23,000 it should be easy to raise that amount within days but it will never be raised if one waits for "Gee" to do it. A dollar or two just mudds these days and what better investment could there be than to make Manchester's future citizens healthier?

Always Charitable.

One can only judge the future by the past and Manchester's past in comparison to every kind of city always has been one hundred per cent plus so there is no reason to believe that this will be an exception.

Send or bring contributions to Lewis P. Sipe of the Home Bank and Trust Co. and they will be acknowledged in The Evening Herald. No sum will be considered too small.

Remember the campaign will end a week from today. There is no reason to wait. Try to be among the first to help along this most worthy cause.

OUR APPLE CROP LESS THAN IN '25

Washington, Aug. 11.—The American crop of apples is expected to be a little better before the summer ends.

With debt problems rising to haunt American good will abroad, with world markets to supply and with "tips" to be gained from European practices, Congress is sending an unusually large delegation of sightseers across the Atlantic during the recess a checkup revealed today. The Congressional visitors go abroad for the purpose of gathering first-hand information to be used either in debate or in drafting legislation.

The vanguard of this European invasion incidentally was led by a Cabinet member, Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, who is now in Italy and enroute to both France and England. When and how Mellon informs Congress in the future about European conditions, he will find a considerable number of Senators and Representatives just as fully informed.

Before the summer ends, it is estimated, a score of Senators and Congressmen will have visited Europe. The largest single group—three Senators and four Representatives—will visit the Interparliamentary Union sessions in Geneva starting August 25. Enroute and homeward bound, the delegation will visit France and England and may even venture into Italy.

BANDITS BCSY.

Stamford, Conn., Aug. 11.—Post Road hold-up men were active again this morning. Edwin Horan, 41 Oak avenue, Milford, is the latest victim, having been held up at the point of a gun by three men and robbed of $25 in cash, his automobile license and some private papers.

Horan, driving a truck load of castings up Noroton Hill, stopped at the top to look at his engine. Three men drove up and asked what he was carrying. As he explained, one jumped out and put a revolver against him while another went through his clothes.

BANDITS GET $25,000.

Woodmere, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Three armed bandits today held up the Hewlett-Woodmere National bank here and escaped with cash of an estimated total of between $20,000 and $25,000.

SLEUTH SLAIN BY NEGRO IN HEADQUARTERS

Black Steals Detective's Revolver and Kills Him in Police Station—Escapes But Recaptured.

New York, Aug. 11.—Detective John Singer was shot and killed in police headquarters here early today and Gene Pearce, Negro, his slayer was captured three hours later.

Pearce, a giant Negro was arrested by Singer on a charge of automobile theft. Singer took him to police headquarters and was making an entry in a record book when the captive snatched the detective's revolver from his holster and emptied it into the body of his captor. Then he escaped.

Beaten Unconscious.

Hundreds of policemen searched the city for the Negro. Pearce was located by Patrolman John White and after a desperate fight was subdued by other policemen armed with night sticks. The Negro was unconscious when taken to the police headquarters.

Singer is the third New York police officer to be slain by criminals in the past three days and the sixth victim of the year. He had been on the force since 1908 and was considered one of the most efficient detectives.

First in History.

The slaying is the first to take place in police headquarters, according to police analysts.

Louis Kuku, owner of the automobile Pearce is alleged to have stolen, was a witness to the shooting.

Singer, his coat off, stood at a desk, according to Kuku. Pearce asked for a drink.

"Go ahead. Help yourself," Singer replied. The Negro walked to a water cooler, drank a glass of water and then slyly took the pistol from Singer's holster, as he walked past him. Kuku cried out, warning Singer.

"Don't do that!" Singer exclaimed. Kuku ran for safety and then watched the rest of the tragedy through a door. The Negro pointed the pistol at Singer and started firing. Five of the shots missed but the sixth hit the detective in the neck, killing him instantly. In the confusion, Pearce escaped.

Hundreds of extra policemen were detailed to the search for the Negro and taxicab drivers from all parts of the city offered their services.

CONGRESSMEN ABROAD TO STUDY EUROPE

Washington, Aug. 11.—The American Congress men were about to get a little better before the summer ends.

With debt problems rising to haunt American good will abroad, with world markets to supply and with "tips" to be gained from European practices, Congress is sending an unusually large delegation of sightseers across the Atlantic during the recess a checkup revealed today. JALOUSY CAUSES MURDER.

New York, Aug. 11.—John Ubangano, 34, was shot to death today as he braved four months, Concordia, 20, seriously wounded in what police believed was a jealous shooting.

Will 'Tiger' Save France? His "Claws" Still Sharp

By MILTON BRONNER.

Paris, Aug. 11.—The Tiger of France has unsheathed his claws again.

Old "Father Victory" is on the warpath once more.

Georges Clemenceau, who led France to victory against the Germans, will be 85 on Sept. 28. He retired five years ago. The political class whom he had thunder-struck to silence in his hey day believed that he was "through."

Poincare, his arch enemy, now premier of France, believed it. Poincare talked softly to the United States about the war debts and spoke of ratifying the debt settlements.

Sets France Thinking.

And then, out of his almost forgotten lair, came the Tiger with a roar. In an open letter to President Coolidge he scathed the debt negotiations and excoriated America's post-war attitude.

So all of France, his enemies and his friends, is wondering: what next? What has the old Tiger got up his sleeve?

This abrupt political resurrection of Clemenceau is one of the most amazing developments in French political history. It contains, in particular, food for thought for Premier Poincare. Not so long ago, I asked the Tiger his opinion of Poincare:

"Poincare is a 'damphule.'" He said bluntly in idiomatic English that he has used very little since he left America more than 50 years ago.

MODERN VIKINGS ARE PICKED UP ALMOST STARVED

Boston, Aug. 10.—Vikings of old never had a more perilous voyage than we," said Captain Gerhard Folger, of Bergen, Norway, aboard his replica of Lief Erikson's sailing ship, which was tied up to a local wharf today.

During the 6,400 mile voyage, Folger's ship was locked between giant icebergs; harassed by hurricanes; blown hundreds of miles off the course; and those aboard faced thirst and almost starvation.

"Four times," said the captain, "we gave ourselves up for lost. I gathered my men about me and told them we had done everything possible. The icebergs were all over every side, it was all up to the 'Big Man' (God) and we were convinced that it was all over with us. We prayed. We would be loosened from the ice floes but again the bergs would close in on us, threatening to crush our little ship. Finally we got out. Sixty miles off your Graves light we were picked up by the cutter Red Wing. We were in a pretty tough position. We had four potatoes aboard, a bite of salt fish and three gallons of water."

After resting here the modern Vikings—Folger and his crew of three men—will sail to the Sesqui-centennial exposition at Philadelphia and later will take the ship to Chicago and leave it there as a permanent memorial to Erikson.

ANSWERS BANDIT'S APPEAL.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 11.—Herbert R. O'Connor, state's attorney, today filed an answer in City Court to Richard Reese Whittemore's appeal for a writ of habeas corpus by which he hopes to prevent his hanging Friday for the murder of a prison guard.

There is no evidence of law violation in Whittemore's trial to warrant granting of the writ, said O'Connor.

Hearing on the writ was set before Judge Stanton this afternoon. In event the writ is denied, G. L. Pendleton, counsel for the "Candy Kwik," announced he would ask Louis D. Brandeis, associate justice of the Federal Supreme Court, for a stay of execution. Brandeis is in Chicago, Mass., and Pendleton said he was prepared to go there if necessary.

SUNK BY TORPEDO.

Kiel, Germany, Aug. 11.—The Danish sailing vessel "Sigrid" was sunk today by a torpedo, fired by a German destroyer during maneuvers in the Baltic.

The crew of the destroyer saved the crew of five of the Danish vessel, after making an effort to save the ship from sinking.

BIG PROBLEMS WAITING DRY CHIEF'S RETURN

Country Wants to Know How Long He Will Be Head of Prohibition Service; Other Questions.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Vital national prohibition problems await the attention of General Lincoln C. Andrews, dry chief, who is scheduled to land today from abroad, where he negotiated a new anti-smuggling agreement with the British government.

Of chief interest is a decision by Andrews as to how long he will remain at the head of the prohibition service.

Andrews submitted his resignation to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon the day before he left for England, but was prevailed upon to let the matter rest until after his European junket.

Political Pressure.

Friends of Andrews said that strong political pressure would be exerted on the general to keep him at the helm of the dry machine at least until after the fall elections. How Andrews will react to political influence, a factor that he unsuccessfully sought to eliminate from prohibition enforcement, is problematical. Whether he will agree to remain on the job for political purposes is another interesting question.

Other Activities.

Other activities on the program awaiting Andrews are the following:

1. Confer with the Comptroller General J. R. McCall to explain large payments of prohibition funds to A. Bruce Bielski, who testified in a New York court that he received $1,000 a month as Andrews' special representative.

2. Calling of a meeting of prohibition administrators in September which may mark completion of his dry reorganization launched in April, 1925.

3. Placing in effect the new anti-smuggling regulations written into the agreement with Great Britain.

NEW BRITAIN CHIEF ELECTED TREASURER

New Haven, Aug. 11.—W. C. Hart, chief of police at New Britain, was today elected treasurer of the State Police Association at the annual meeting here, succeeding George M. Beach, of Waterbury, retired, who was made an honorary member of the association today.

Other officers, all re-elected, were Garret J. Farrell, of Hartford, president; Philip T. Smith, of New Haven, vice-president; and J. J. Landrigan, of Meriden, secretary.

The executive committee chosen today consists of the officers, and Joseph McLean, of Waterbury, and J. J. Brennan, of Stamford.

Three high members of the association who died during the past year were Chief Deloughery and Arthur, of Willimantic, and Bradley of Danbury. Superintendent Beach, of Waterbury, and Chief Heffernan, of Stamford, were retired during the year.

BYRD MAY SUPERVISE N. Y. TO PARIS FLIGHT

Minneapolis, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Commander Richard E. Byrd, Polar flight aviator, has accepted an invitation to become chairman of the flight committee which will have jurisdiction over the huge Sikorsky biplane which is to start on its flight to Paris about August 25.

In a telegram to Colonel N. E. Hartney from his vacation in Waltham, Mass., Commander Byrd expressed pleasure at being invited to serve.

"I have long been a proponent of such a flight," he wired. "I believe your chances are more than excellent."

Commander Byrd indicated he was ready to come to New York at any time to assume his duties. Other members of the committee are Major Reed Chambers, H. Clay Ferguson and W. C. Ruxton.

This committee, acting in conjunction with the National Aeronautical Association, will supervise the physical conditions of the flight.

NEWPORT IS EXCITED OVER REPORTED THEFTS

Newport, R. I., Aug. 11.—Society was up in arms today when reports spread that a band of jewelry robbers was at work here.

Harry Eyer, 49, chauffeur of Clarence W. Dolan, wealthy summer resident from Philadelphia, was found lying on the sidewalk at Newport street, beaten up and all his money and jewelry gone.

His condition was serious. It was stated at Newport hospital.

The attack on Eyer followed the report, that persisted today, in spite of denials, that Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt had discovered at her villa, "The Breakers," a valuable piece of jewelry missing.

Detectives were still here looking for the $5,000 cluster diamond bracelet reported "lost" by Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas, of New York, a summer resident.

100 PERSONS KILLED IN MEXICAN BATTLES

14 YEAR OLD BOY TO BE A MILLIONAIRE.

New York, Aug. 11.—Milton L. Kraus, 14-year-old high school sophomore, expects soon to be a multi-millionaire. Word to that effect has been received from attorneys in San Francisco who say now able to prove the claim to the fortune of the late great-uncle, Leopold Welsberger, who died 38 years ago in Australia, leaving no children.

GERMANY SULLEN; AGAINST REPUBLIC

That Seems to Be Sentiment Today on Anniversary; But Does Not Want Kaiser

Berlin, Aug. 11.—Part of the German nation—numerically indeterminate but indicated by the recent plebiscite result—is today celebrating the seventh anniversary of the signing of the republican constitution. The other part of the nation stands by sullenly, blaming all the ills of the present day and all changes from the glory of the empire on the republicans.

Germany Divided.

It is necessary for the sake of proper understanding of the German nation to point out that those who are not joining in the celebration are by no means all Monarchists or black Reactionaries. Germany is simply divided into a right and a left. All that is left identified with the republic. All that is right, however, doesn't want Kaiserism back—certainly not Wilhelm.

The right is considerably annoyed that President Hindenburg with the entire Cabinet attended celebrations at noon-day in the Reichstag, and later the president inspected the Reichswehr guard of honor in front of the Reichstag, while the huge crowds gathered and sang "Deutschland Uber Alles."

New Flag.

Like a piece of biting irony comes the announcement that the new flag decree, restoring the imperial emblem, was only slight changes, has become effective today. It was this decree which cost ex-Chancellor Luther his post.

Bavaria flatly refused to join the republican celebration today and is flying its own flag of blue and white, rather than the republican flag.

Details Meagre.

The reports of fighting in Guadalupe are meagre, but there are indications that the situation there is far from settled and there is what amounts to guerrilla warfare in progress, with the religious sects determined to defend their churches.

Conditions in Jalisco are far from normal, but it is reported that the fighting there has ceased, at least temporarily.

The government took a step toward solving the growing economic discomfort being caused by the decline of the value of silver when the secretary of treasury appointed a commission to study the problem.

It is hoped that a way will be found to restore the value of silver to a parity with gold.

Lay Catholic organizations continued to circulate the federal district, urging a more active boycott of unsympathetic shopkeepers and merchants.

Flooded with Cablegrams.

The Mexican Catholic Episcopate is flooded with cablegrams from Catholic leaders throughout the world bidding the Mexican believers stand firm.

The Catholic archbishop of Baltimore wired Archbishop Moray del Rio as follows:

"Greetings: There can be no compromise. Sound reasoning in international law has demonstrated that property owned by church organizations should be protected by the government of the place where the head of the church resides. My heart is bleeding for the faithful Communications were also received from Santiago, Montevideo, Ecuador, England and lay bodies in many other countries.

MILLION DOLLAR THEFT

Philadelphia, Aug. 11.—Three men were under arrest here, three others were held in Baltimore and another was sought today by police in connection with an alleged conspiracy through which it is said $1,000,000 worth of radio supplies have been obtained in various cities.

Ruben Spector, 55, and his sons, Benjamin, 30, and A. S. Sheer, 33, the men arrested here, will be given a hearing today.

Exposure of the alleged conspiracy was made by Philadelphia detectives who charge that the local men worked with confederates in New York.

Catholic Indians Fight for Possession of Churches; Expect Further Bloodshed as Trouble Grows.

Mexico City, Aug. 11.—Almost 100 persons were killed in fighting for possession of churches in the states of Michoacan, Jalisco and Gadalajara, in connection with the dispute between the Catholic church and the government of Mexico, delayed reports indicated today.

Forty Catholics, including several priests, were killed in Zagayuan Michoacan, alone, according to Leopoldo Ruiz Glezeros, archbishop of Michoacan, who arrived in the capital this morning with a tale of harrowing experiences.

Seventeen of this number the archbishop said, were cold blooded executions perpetrated by the soldiers after victory had been conceded.

Indians Excited.

The Indian troops of Michoacan were in a highly inflammatory state and the archbishop said that further blood was almost inevitable. He said he was forced to flee because the authorities tried to arrest him, notwithstanding the fact that he had done his utmost to calm the Catholics.

American officials have just received confirmation of the report that between fifty and sixty have been killed in the struggle for the possession of the three churches of Guadalupe.

The situation in Jalisco is represented as grave although actual fighting appears to have ceased.

In Michoacan the situation is electric. Archbishop Cisneros declared, and he predicted that there may be continued outbreaks there due to the religious fervor that has been aroused among the Indians, who are determined not to permit the government to take possession of their churches.

The heavy casualties were caused by the federal troops appearing to take control of the churches and turn them over to municipal committees. The congregations at first refused to leave the churches and then attacked the troops with whatever weapon they had at hand. There was bitter mob fighting with the population using clubs and stones against the bayonets of the soldiers. The soldiers were forced to retreat to firing into the mobs before they could disperse them, and then the dispersals were only temporary and there have been recurring fights culminating in the pitched battle at Zagayuan last Sunday.

KIDDIES REHEARSING

DAILY FOR BIG REVUE

A large group of enthusiastic youngsters is rehearsing daily at the State Theater for the State's first kiddie revue, which will be staged shortly. Under the direction of Manager Jack Sanson, the children are making rapid progress. A large number of dances and specialties have been arranged for the revue. Already the youngsters are stepping through them without a hitch. The song numbers are done unusually well. Special sets and drops will be used to make the scenic effects outstanding when the revue is put on. The affair will be a really big one, and will give local theatergoers a pleasant surprise. An announcement will be made in The Herald shortly concerning the date upon which the revue will be presented.

ROGERS A DIPLOMAT

London, Aug. 11.—Will Rogers may be a diplomat in disguise after all. The Daily Sketch declares that at the end of Will Rogers' first week in Charles Cochran's Revue, that Cochran was puzzled as to how much he should pay Rogers. Finally Cochran sent his manager to Rogers with a blank check. Rogers took the check and tore it up, saying: "I am having a fine time here and everyone's being mighty good to me. Why should I take your profits?" If the Daily Sketch is correct, this incident ought to help alleviate the debt controversy.

WOOD LEFT $5,000,000

Salem, Mass., Aug. 10.—The will of the late William M. Wood, founder of the American Woolen Company, on file here today, disclosed the mill magnate left $5,000,000 not $10,000,000 as supposed. George White "Hoofed" His Way Into Millions

New York Aug. 11.—He "stepped" into a million dollars literally. That is to say, he made his feet wondrous to him, and he was old enough to use his head. Along Broadway the rise of George White, the "boy producer," is one of the many Arabian Nights tales. It wasn't more than 20 years ago that an eagerurchin stood back stage in a Bowery burlesque house pleading with the manager to be allowed to appear on amateur night. The manager explained to him the perils of "the hook," and went on to say there was no money in it. "But s'pose they like me, mister! S'pose they throw nickles and dimes like I've seen 'em do!" The skinny kid went on. "The kids'll tell you I can hoof."

The street corner gamins are, after all, a discriminating audience. There's nothing to dance for before one's "gang" except glory or ridicule, both of which are bestowed with critical candor.

Well, "the hoofing kid" went on, got his share of nickles and dimes, and his first view of the footlights. Those were the buck and wing days and the sidewalk, then as now, were the training grounds for future stars.

Not so many years later vaudeville managers were to pay $1500 a week for those "stepping feet". But not before they had climbed out of the cellar cabarets of New York, and a long struggle that began as an $18-a-week "straight man" in the old "Morning Glories" burlesque.

Today the "hoofing kid" is good for a million dollars. Ziegfeld has his "Follies," Earl Carroll has his "Vanities," the Shuberts have their "Passions" and "Falling Shows" and George White has his "Scandals."

The "First One" When about seven years ago, at the age of 27, the "kid producer" put on his first "Scandals" every-one said, well, he had a little beginner's luck. Instead it was the foundation of another theatrical fortune.

Strangely enough for a theatrical man, White's advice to actors and non-actors alike is "hang on to your money and invest it in what you know." He didn't always do this. White figures that he had gambled away a cool half-million before he began to learn the little ones and his success in saving them was sufficient reward.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. House and sons Norbert and Sherwood, have returned from a tour of the coast, stops being made at Plymouth, Old Orchard Beach and other places of interest.

The Misses Evelyn and Catherine Palmer of Woodbridge street left today by automobile for a visit with their aunt in Searsport, Me.

The pavilion has been finished very nicely, the building is airy and well lighted. Waddell's Victrolas are furnishing the same good brand of music as has been given by them for years.

George White THE NEW PLAYS

The "little old home in the west" now has a bedroom scene. It happens in Samuel Shipman's latest opus, "No More Women." The title is a misnomer. Considering the fleshy appetite of the "big outdoor" and the man from Wyoming, it might be called "Bring On More Women."

Shipman's name has been associated with so many stage efforts, several of them eminently profitable, that his identity may carry this vehicle over a few of the hot months. And then, again, it may not. The whole thing is quite too preposterous.

Hard to Swallow We are introduced to a couple of young gent from the east who, turned "woman hater" through rough experience, have "gone west" to a divorce with plenty of sex appeal—the very gal that one of them had loved—turns up "out where the west begins" with a girl of the east side slums in tow. And there is a "bad man" with a record of many amours who also "hates women."

The "bad man" who also "hates women" keeps in trim training his choruses. And at this season of the year he lives in a bungalow atop a seashore hotel.

Outside his theater street gamins gather between acts and "hoof" their steps, with no eye out for "cops" and another for the vagrant dime, and another for the dime and nimbly-footed urchins, "stepping" their way along the same old trail to the footlights.

San Francisco, Calif., Aug. 11.—The amazing tale of how a pretty 20-year-old co-ed stole the love of her sister's husband was disclosed today after Mrs. Florence Hopkins had been granted a divorce from her husband. Coming home from Pomona College, Doris Lynn, the sister, came to live with the Hopkins family, Mrs. Hopkins said.

He was instrumental in having the chauffeur discharged recently for drunkenness."

Mr. Philpotts gave the members an interesting talk on furniture and its place in the home. At the close of his talk Mr. Watkins spent fifteen minutes telling the members how the idea of furniture grew on the people, carrying them back to the distant past when there was no furniture to speak of, then to the time of Queen Anne and other rulers who have given us period furniture. Later it became the aim of everybody to furnish their homes to the best of their ability.

Both men were given a hearty round of applause for their instructive talks. The attendance prize was furnished by E. J. Holl. It was a box of cigars and was won by Walter M. Gorman who immediately passed them around.

SHIPS 2,000 YEARS OLD TO BE RAISED IN ITALY

Rome, Aug. 11.—The ships in which Tiberius worshipped in the days of ancient Rome are to be recovered from the rocky bottom of Lake Nemi.

Two galleys, believed to have been used for religious purposes in the early part of the First Century, nearly 2,000 years ago. He on their sides some 200 feet below the surface of the lake. It is expected that many treasures will be found, and while the water is out, the bottom will be searched for the remains of other craft.

Here Is The Amazing Life History Of "The Tiger" Told In Pictures

WILL TIGER SAVE FRANCE? CLAWS SHARP

(Continued from page 1.) "Poincare knows everything but understands nothing." Then, as I asked him about one of Poincare's predecessors in the premiership, he remarked: "Briand knows nothing, but understands everything."

What Clemenceau may be thinking and planning just now is known only to himself. What the future may hold for him is equally problematical. Will "Father Victory" be a strange trick of fate or will he be the one man who can lead France out of the financial and diplomatic tangle in which she has been enmeshed since he left the helm?

In all the world there is no figure like this. Simplicity is the keynote of his life. When you visit him in his little flat in the Rue Franklin, in the Passy district of Paris, you wait in a room filled with pictures of Greek antiquities until you are ushered into his study.

He returned to France just after the Franco-Prussian war in 1870, drawing those troubled years in an indelible hatred of Germany. In 1876 he was elected to the Chamber of Deputies, where his virulent speeches won him the nickname that has clung to him ever since—"The Tiger."

He resigned in 1909, returned to the Chamber of Deputies, and was a prominent figure there for years. And finally, in the fall of 1917, when the war was going badly and there was much defeatist talk, Clemenceau became premier.

It is impossible to guess from a conversation with the old "Tiger" himself. He seems quite untroubled. When you ask him for an opinion his eyes twinkle, under their bushy brows, and he says: "The first 75 years are the hardest. After that you acquire a philosophy."

DESCENDANT OF CONFUCIUS COUNSELS UNITED STATES TO FOLLOW 'OPEN DOOR' POLICY

A direct descendant of Confucius, he is dean of the Chinese branch of Oberlin college and is in America now as his country's representative to the Sesquicentennial exposition at Philadelphia.

Modern Ideas So this period of unrest in China, must be gone through just as the mariner finds the waters of the sea more easily stirred up as he approaches the harbor.

Hsiang Hsi K'ung

A. and such an institution as the great Peking Union Medical College established by Mr. Rockefeller, have made the name and charitable influence of America widely known and felt throughout China.

AN OFFER.

We have a deal of admiration for the sheer ability and cleverness of the New York World—and a lively recollection of one or two occasions when that great newspaper's tendency to cut away and do political stunts on its own hook led to somewhat embarrassing situations, for the World.

The World it was who, out of a clear sky, nominated Herbert Hoover for President, as a Democrat, in 1920. That nomination looked like a stroke of genius. It scared the Republican party as nothing has scared it since the day when Bryan was nominated in 1896.

And how near the World came to getting away with it, history and memoirs of future years alone can tell. But in the end it was a terrible flop—after Hoover at last told the waiting nation that he wasn't a Democrat, never had been a Democrat and couldn't see any prospect that he ever would be a Democrat.

It was a terrible flop for the World and it made a terrible flop out of poor Jimmy Cox. The dice didn't roll right for the World.

Now the World, perhaps with the memory of the Hoover tragedy in mind, is hedging just the least little mite when it trots out Owen D. Young, nominally acting as second-order for Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who nominates Young for United States senator.

If it hadn't been for the Hoover experience we'd bet a sugar cookie that the World would be frankly nominating Young for President, as a perfectly wonderful compromise between the Smithites and the McAdooites.

Today the good Mr. Pyle is owner of a fortune and of a name that is well known from coast to coast. As a theater manager he was obscure; as manager of Red Grange he is famous.

Pyle is fortunate in that he worked in the same city where Grange went to college. Having met and become good friends with the famous footballer, it was fairly easy for one of his persuasiveness to get Red to sign on the dotted line.

And now Mr. Pyle has undertaken the management of the activities of Suzanne Lengien, who is to tennis what Red Grange is to football. The prediction is here freely offered that he will not meet with the same success that he has had with Grange. But the prediction is also offered that he will make money.

Mr. Pyle is not nicknamed "Cash and Carry" for nothing. The gent has the Midas touch. If this editorial is uninteresting, it at least has a moral. It is this: If you wish to succeed, hitch your wagon to a star.

WHITMAN.

There is a movement on foot in New York, sponsored by the Authors Club, looking to the erection of a heroic statue of Walt Whitman. It appears to be the result, if not of pique, at least of disappointment that the Jurors have persistently refused to admit Whitman to the Hall of Fame of New York University.

One of the points considered as the site of the statue is Battery Park. The outcome of the exclusion of Whitman from the Hall of Fame should really be the placing of an adequate statue of the "good grey poet" at that particular place.

It will strike a good many persons as a fine piece of posthumous luck for him; for it is not the easiest thing in the world to imagine the spirit of Whitman having a particularly good time in the curiously assembled group making up the roster of the Hall of Fame, where some utter nobodies are enshrined and where many very important somebodies will never be.

Whitman is so much better known in Europe than any other American poet, living or past, and so much better known there, relatively, than he is in America, and his school, moreover, is so much more of the whole wide world than it is national, that the Battery at New York, where America always seems to be extending its hand to visiting Europe, is a singularly fitting place for a memorial to this one outstanding New York poet.

If Whitman could be consulted as to a preference between this honor and a niche in the Hall of Fame

THE PRIZE RING AND THE BAR.

The lawyers have triumphed. The horny hands of the ring have dropped to the canvas, every mother's son of them, and the judge is counting them out. A lawyer, with no other weapon than a legal tome, has won the world's pugilistic championship. The fight is over.

You might have known that when the manly art became a million-dollar industry they couldn't lay off it much longer. The temptation was too much.

Back in the day when John L. Sullivan and Jake Kilrain mauled one another, fighting was illegal. But they did fight, and the folk who took that mysterious train from New Orleans to Mr. Rich's farm in Mississippi to see it will tell you that there wasn't a single lawyer in the ring that day.

All is changed now. If you have inferred it isn't legal to fight now, someone has misled you. It is positively legal, only, as we said before, they are using books instead of knuckles.

Lawyers are trying to work out some kind of a case whereby Mr. Dempsey, one of the old-style fighters, can take his sesqui-centennial exercise against a young soldier (and a good one) named Gene Tunney, a very much smoked up article.

Mr. Kearns insists that Mr. Dempsey keep his hands in his pockets unless he fish forth many drachmae to ease the hurts occasioned by the recent Dempsey-Kearns divorce. A few hundred thousand for alimony—that's all Mr. Kearns would like from the court today.

And that isn't all. A brunet named Willis declares he is really the one Mr. Dempsey should take his exercise with, and he goes back into the files to try to prove there's a Santa Claus, and pleads that the court hear him.

It'll be fine pretty soon. All the prize fights will be free. But they'll be held in the appellate courts.

HITCHING WAGONS TO STARS.

A year ago the name of C. C. Pyle was unknown outside the precincts of Champaign, Ill. He was the manager of another man's theater property, the possessor of a pretty good job and little else—unless it was a good deal of shrewdness.

Today the good Mr. Pyle is owner of a fortune and of a name that is well known from coast to coast. As a theater manager he was obscure; as manager of Red Grange he is famous.

Pyle is fortunate in that he worked in the same city where Grange went to college. Having met and become good friends with the famous footballer, it was fairly easy for one of his persuasiveness to get Red to sign on the dotted line.

And now Mr. Pyle has undertaken the management of the activities of Suzanne Lengien, who is to tennis what Red Grange is to football. The prediction is here freely offered that he will not meet with the same success that he has had with Grange. But the prediction is also offered that he will make money.

Mr. Pyle is not nicknamed "Cash and Carry" for nothing. The gent has the Midas touch. If this editorial is uninteresting, it at least has a moral. It is this: If you wish to succeed, hitch your wagon to a star.

MAWKISH MARTYR.

We never did like heroes, particularly the synthetic kind. So it was no wonder that we gaggled a bit and ran for the rails when a Philadelphia forger asked to be sent to the electric chair for the benefit of humanity.

The man was 26 years old, an inveterate criminal. He was reared in a reform school. Since his childhood he had not spent more than five months at a time out of prison or a reform institution. His history was one of neglect, bad company, idleness, lack of training.

So he told the court that he would be better off dead; that he never could be anything but a crook; that he was a menace to society and that he would like to die for society's benefit. Of course he knew that such a sentence never could be passed or he never would have made the sacrificial gesture.

There always has and always will be crime. It seems to be one of the inevitables—like death, taxes, and "Able's Irish Rose." There was a time when some men had to steal or starve. But that time has passed. No man today has a bid for our sympathy simply because he is a criminal.

THEN WHAT?

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTERS

By Charles P. Stewart. Washington, Aug. 11.—The Senate committee investigation of the alien property custodian's office may turn up astonishing discrepancies in the records. At least, Senator William E. Borah and his fellow committeemen believe that it will.

The alien property custodian's records never have had a thorough overhauling and their volume is tremendous. If there has been graft, as Borah expects to show, it's quite on the cards that it was on a record scale.

Both are under indictment in New York in connection with one of the custodian's turnover's, but that was just a single transaction. Borah expects to dig into thousands.

Even if the explanations are all satisfactory there will have to be a great many of them. Borah doesn't like the idea of an alien property custodian's office, anyway.

He doesn't consider it right to seize private property even in time of war, and, with billions of his own invested abroad now, he ventures the guess that the next time we get into one, we'll wish we hadn't set such a precedent.

At any rate, he says the seized property ought to be returned, now emphatically that the custodian and his friends ought not to have gobbled any of it up—if they did—while it was in the government's possession.

Such an office as the alien property custodian's does, of course, lend itself to manipulation, if the man in charge cares to manipulate it. It isn't bound by such iron clads rules, as, for instance, is the treasury department. That is to say, it has charge of vast properties of more or less problematical value and in order to permit of their administration a certain amount of latitude has to be allowed.

Then too, the treasury money belongs to the whole country and if there's some misuse of it, there's bound to be a howl sooner or later. The alien property custodian's holdings are nobody's in particular, and the only people to howl about them are the enemy aliens. The charge there was that Miller, backed by Daugherty, had returned some of their property to them—for a consideration. The aliens were included in the accusation, too—for taking it, and, as charged, paying the consideration. But Borah thinks the aliens ought to have a fair shake. It ought to be at least as good as an oil or a slush fund investigation.

Wife—Hurry? Why, what else have I been doing for the last two hours?—Kasper, Stockholm.

It's Funny She Can't Get Anything Done Without Being Bossed

IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 11.—Summer is, perhaps, no time to hunt gypsies. For the gypsy trail leads wherever roads wind. And to locate these nomadic people in any particular part of Manhattan is not easy, for even as these words are written they may be up and away to some new section or out upon the open road.

The first blast of chill wind is almost certain to blow them back again, however. For, by some paradox of nature, these folk who pursue the air and sky so zealously in pleasant weather, invariably drift back to the congestion of squalid river-front neighborhoods in winter time.

Whatever the origin of the gypsy—a mystery argued by many from George Barrow to Konrad Bercowski—the New York brand haunts from the Balkan countries and settles alongside of the peoples of the Balkan lands. And this, generally speaking, is a territory rambling about the East Side from Eighth to Fourth streets and from Avenue A to the East River.

No peoples who come to American shores retain more of the, ineradicable customs of the homeland. Their kinsmen settle down. The gypsy never.

What is more—they deal in incantations, love potions, herbs and strange cures. They "cast spells," incant cures, treat old women for rheumatism. They read fortunes with cards, chart the head and study palms; they reveal secrets for defeating enemies and winning loves. They have the "evil eye."

These, of course, are obvious transplantations from the homeland. For the superstitious ones in their Balkan lands believe quite firmly that spells are being cast and the evil spirit are hounding them. They call in the gypsies and—whiff! away they go.

America means prosperity for the women, and they insist upon staying. Nowhere can such prices be received for the mere casting of a fortune. Society women drive down to the gypsies in limousines and pay two, five or ten dollars for the road to a palm. Hundreds are made within a week. The suns seen fabulous to the Roman maid, and so they choose to stay.

To the musicians, America is a crock of gold. Cabarets, cafes, hotels and concert halls have greeted the gypsy players with crowds and showers of money. And the larier of brides is always a merry sport; the groom's mother and bride's father wrangling over the price for the girl for weeks or for months.

Also they eat native food, from native dishes, with native table manners. They are the most "unspoiled" of any of the foreigners. —GILBERT SWAN.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

By ARTHUR N. PACK, President, American Nature Assn.

Damsel-flies are those slender-bodied, long-winged insects, built somewhat along the lines of dragon-flies, and in common with them sometimes called "Devil's darning-needles." Large boys, who ought to know better, are fond of telling the smaller ones, when these efficient insects are seen skimming over the old swimming-hole, that they will sew up little boys' ears. "Snake-doctors" also then are called under the pretended notion that they administer to the ills of those reptiles. They are also supposed to sting horses.

As a matter of fact, however, the adults of both dragon flies and damsel-flies are perfectly harmless except to other insects. In the adult flying state they feed on various flying insects, and many tribes of people give them the name "mosquito-hawk."

Devil's Darning Needle.

Most damsel-flies lay their eggs on the surface of the water, and they lay a great many. When these hatch, the tiny larva grows to be a comparatively heavy bodied insect, and they form an important source of food for fishes and other aquatic vertebrates.

A THOUGHT

Whoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted. — Luke 14:11. I think half the troubles for which men go slouching in prayer to God are caused by their intolerable pride. Many of our cares are but a morbid way of looking at our privileges. We let our blessings get meekly and then call them curses.—Becher.

EVIDENT.

Doctor: What sort of night did Major Mopper spend? Mrs. Mopper: He seemed a little peevish doctor, he asked for water several times. Doctor: H'm, still delirious, apparently.—Opinion, London.

SAND HOUSES

Oh, let's pretend we're loafing around most any sandy beach, where fun for all the little folk is much within their reach. Like little ants they work away, with scoop and such in hand, abuilding little tunnels and sandhouses in the sand. A youngster takes no set-backs, when he's at that sort of play. He plans to build a certain thing and works at it all day. A wave may wash and tear things down. The child may sigh—but then, he simply makes the best of it, and builds it up again.

OPERATORS' LICENSES SUSPENDED FOR YEAR

The weekly list of operators whose licenses to drive automobiles in Connecticut have been suspended for one year for driving while under the influence of liquor was given out today at the state motor vehicle department as a part of the effort to reduce this highway menace. There are twenty-one names on the list. Two were Connecticut operators convicted in other states. Two cases were appealed. The department statement advised people to notify the department or the police in case they should see any of the suspended drivers operating motor vehicles.

TOM SIMS SAYS

If this isn't hot enough for you, you know where you can go. One thing wrong with the United States is the Atlantic Ocean isn't as wide as the Pacific. Peggy Joyce says she isn't engaged. Doesn't sound plausible. Farmers threaten to make Uncle Sam a man without any country. Get a legible laundry mark. Laundry marks make fine clues. All things come too late to the fellow who waits. Save your self-respect and you save all. Exercise removes fat. Yet, some women have double chins. A stitch in time on a bathing suit saves a reputation. Rugs is popular because lack of sleep doesn't ruin rouge. This is a fine strawberry season, say the dry cleaners. People who go away for a vacation don't always get one. If Veauvius does erupt Mussolini will be jealous. Better quit drinking. Next session of congress will be asked to abolish all the porrbuses. Caught a shark off the Florida coast, maybe before it landed. Dug an oil well 7000 feet deep in Mexico. If they go any deeper they'll strike French francs. All we need to keep cool with Coolidge is a summer camp. Moved a 700-pound clock in London. Lots of time on their hands.

CONSTRUCTION RECORDS SHATTERED LAST MONTH

Washington, Aug. 11.—All records for volume of construction in the United States were shattered in July. Never before was so much money expended in a single month for labor, materials and other elements entering into building costs, according to statistics compiled by the Associated General Contractors of America. The volume of construction handled last month was well above that recorded for August, 1925, when the previous "peak" was reached. The index on construction operations, based on the 1913 average, shows a jump from the March level of 120 points to the present position of 229. This is the greatest increase within a four-month period ever recorded. The construction work under way last month furnished a total 4 per cent. greater than that shown in June. The total volume of construction performed during the first seven months of 1926 was 4 per cent. greater than the amount registered during the corresponding period last year. This fact assumes added significance, it is stated, when consideration is given to the trend of operations earlier in the year. Until the end of April, operations lagged behind the figures set at corresponding stages in 1925. It was in May that the present phenomenal spurt started. Twenty years ago today we ran to see autos, not to dodge autos.

MORE SWIMMERS FAIL

Calais, France, Aug. 11.—Still another pair of champion swimmers have failed in their attempt to conquer the English Channel.
 Madame Jane Sion, French woman swimming ace, and Omer Per-rault, the French-Canadian star, were forced to abandon their effort at about 3 o'clock this morning. A high wind and rain contributed materially to the defeat.

SUZANNE'S HOPE DWINDES

New York, Aug. 11.—Mlle. Lenglen's hope of meeting some of the leading amateur players on her professional tour of America is unlikely of fulfillment, according to a statement made today by Jones W. Mersereau, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association. Making it clear that he was speaking unofficially, Mersereau stated that it was not the custom of the association to grant sanctions to amateurs for exhibition matches with professionals.

POE'S STORIES: The Black Cat (2)

Pluto recovered, but the ill deed of the cat's master was his undoing. At first the master was grieved over the evident dislike the creature displayed.

The imp of the perverse drove him on, until one day, impelled by a spirit stronger than himself, he hanged the cat to a tree in the garden.

Returning next day to the scene of the fire, the master was amazed to find a crowd there. Looking into the cause of their curiosity, he was terrified to discover, on the wall which had been left standing just above his bed, the figure of a gigantic cat, a noose about its neck, as though given in bas-relief.

HARTFORD COLORED STARS PLAY HERE ON THURSDAY

Manager Clemson today announced that the Shamrocks will tackle the Hartford Colored Stars at the Community grounds tomorrow in a twilight game. Sunday the speedy Wilks of Springfield are billed to exhibit their wares here.

It certainly looks as if the Shamrocks are determined to give the fans the best attractions possible. Last Sunday the crack Tataville nine came here and the game resulted in a class exhibition and better still, the Shamrocks emerged victorious. Now come the colored boys and it can be mentioned right here that the Hartford team always draws a record crowd wherever it goes.

The Hartford lads have shown here many times before and have always filled the bill to satisfaction. Tomorrow should be no exception. With "Cannon Ball" Strong firing them up to the plate for the visitors the Shamrocks will have plenty of opposition but the same may be said vice versa. Joe Prentice is slated to pitch for the Shamrocks and he hurls a wicked style of speed.

The Colored Stars have won 21 games and lost 5 games this season. They claim the New England colored title. This season the New Haven Colored Giants have been defeated 2 to 1 while the Crescents were forced to bite the dust 5 to 4 in ten innings last Sunday.

DODGE BROTHERS DE LUXE SEDAN

People select motor cars by different standards. Some desire luxury and ostentation. Others, utility and economy alone. Dodge Brothers De Luxe Sedan strikes a fine and distinguished balance—both in appearance and price—between these two extremes.

It provides unusual comfort and roominess; a refinement of line and design in which the owner takes deep pride; and everywhere in the world the name it bears is associated with the highest standards of integrity and workmanship.

With reasonable care, the De Luxe Sedan serves its owners for years, frequently delivers mileage running well into six figures, and on the resale market brings prices that strikingly reflect the solid value Dodge Brothers have built into it.

DETROIT TAKES 3D GAME FROM YANKS

Cleveland Loses to the Senators—Browns and Athletics Win Theirs.

TIGERS 5, YANKS 3

Detroit, Aug. 11.—Detroit made it three out of four from the Yankees by winning the final game of the series, a seven-inning affair, by a score of five to three. Manush's homer was the big noise.

Where, oh, where are the junior baseball teams gone? Where is the glory that was Rome? Last year there were at least a dozen junior teams vying with each other for supremacy. In both ends of the town there were junior twilight leagues. Many a battle royal was staged between the Browns and North Ends over North, and between the "Battling" Orioles and the "Roaring" Tigers over South. What's the matter this year? Are all these teams dead?

SENATORS 4, INDIANS 1

Cleveland, Aug. 11.—Cleveland passed up an opportunity to gain ground by losing to Reuther of the Senators, four to one. Joe Harris led the attack on Levens with three hits.

BROWNS 6, RED SOX 4

St. Louis, Aug. 11.—Ken Williams' sixteenth homer of the season enabled the Browns to down the Red Sox, six to four.

ATHLETICS 4, WHITE SOX 3

Chicago, Aug. 11.—A single by Cochran gave the Athletics a four to three victory over the White Sox in the eleventh inning. Thomas of the Sox held the A's to one hit in seven innings.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS.

Local Sport Chatter

The band concert and games tonight featuring Firemen's Night at the West Side playgrounds should draw a big crowd. The games and band concerts are proving even more popular this year than last. The games are always interesting and well worth watching. The concerts are always of high order, and have never failed to please the crowds.

Baseball teams representing both the North and South Ends will line up for battle. Other sports such as volleyball, horse shoe pitching and tennis will also be on the schedule. Colt's band, which has given satisfaction in the past, should not fail to please.

There is nothing like the fighting spirit manifest in the kid's games to keep the baseball fever alive. Last year large crowds often turned out to watch the juniors battle and argue through a game. There was never a game but what there was at least a half dozen scraps; not fights, just baseball arguments. Of course no one means to say that fighting is what makes the game worth while, but it is the red blooded, fighting spirit of never-say-die that puts life into the sport. And this spirit is never so well shown as among the kids.

Local fans are anxiously awaiting the time when the Sons of Italy and Bristol New Departures hook up again. It is rumored that there may be a game this week, but this could not be ascertained.

DEMPEY MAY GET HIS LICENSE TODAY

Fighters to Make Another Pilgrimage to Boxing Board and Are Hopeful.

New York, Aug. 11.—Serene in the belief that what should have been done yesterday will be accomplished today, Tex Rickard and Jack Dempsey will make another pilgrimage to the Flatiron building this morning for Dempsey's elusive license and what they understand to be a definite engagement with Col. John J. Phelan. The latter may deny this but, after the hearing of the board, he can deny the day of the week and it will be quite all right with me.

The boys must have their joke and I, for one, will laugh just as soon as I can get around to it. To Produce Contract. Granting that Rickard knows his canned goods about this supposed engagement, the existence of which Phelan denies, the first thing the promoter will do is produce the Dempsey-Tunney contract, which was in the process of being drafted this morning. The license will be issued automatically. Even the colonel doesn't deny this.

It was its absence that he seized upon yesterday for the intended purpose of putting a good face upon a bad situation. He merely succeeded in making the bad situation a trifle worse. He sat in a tough spot, so he concluded it would be well to quote the boxing rules in effect here on the subject of champions defending their titles against bona fide challengers.

When he had got that far, he already had committed his first of a series of monumental faux pas. It was not his wish to declare for Harry Wills; in fact, the colonel was there to tender Wills the merrily run-around.

Both Departments to Present Strongest Lineups This Evening — Horseshoe Tournament to Be Held.

North meets South again tonight. This time in a different competition. The firemen of both departments will clash on the baseball diamond at the West Side as a part of the Rec Firemen's night.

All competition, with the exception of both the south and north pick of both the south and north end departments and promises to be a struggle from start to finish. Both teams have been boasting of their prowess for some time and tonight will bring the showdown. Either Bidwell or Coster will do the hurling for the south while Bill McGonigal has been selected to work on the mound for the opposing team.

The rest of the evening will be given over to a horseshoe pitching tournament in which the four companies of the south end will participate. The rules of the tournament call for only six teams, who will go through about four rounds to decide the championship. Colt's Army band of Hartford will give a concert from 8 o'clock until 10 after which there will be dancing in the Rec auditorium. Unlike the other special nights at the playground, there will be no Charleston contest.

THOUSANDS OF TROUT FOR NEARBY STREAMS

Manchester Fish and Game Club Stocked Several Brooks Yesterday—More to Come.

Through the efforts of the Manchester Fish and Game Club, nearby streams are richer by several thousand young trout today. They arrived, 14 large cans of them, at Senkbell's tire shop on Oak street yesterday morning and several members of the club were waiting to distribute them. They were placed in Tucker's, Steel's, Skonsamons, Black Ledge and Ash brooks. If you are a good student of local geography you will know just where these brooks are located.

The trout received yesterday were from 1-2 to 3 inches in length and while they will not be large enough to catch next spring they should furnish good sport the following season. Another shipment of trout for stocking Steel's and Creamery brooks may arrive almost any day.

The Manchester Fish and Game Club is not a restrictive organization but on the other hand it aims to provide improved facilities for hunting and fishing for all, within the limits of the law. An effort is now being made to secure some pond fish, bass and pickerel for replenishing some of the nearby lakes and the club officers have received notice that they have been allotted 100 pheasants which are to be liberated in the woods in and about Manchester.

COUNTRY STORE, 2 BIG FILMS, STATE PROGRAM

Plenty of Entertainment Tomorrow Night—"Too Much Money" and "Lew Tyler's Wives" Tonight.

Lewis Stone and Anna Q. Nilsson nearly staged a regular season strike at First National's New York studios. They are seen in the featured roles in "Too Much Money," which comes to the State theater tomorrow. They start out as a wealthy couple, but before the picture gets very far they have no money. Anna is doing her own work in a little Bronx flat and Stone is working as a janitor. There is a lot of comedy for the pair which both enjoy doing.

But—when Stone and Nilsson walked onto the set while the picture was being filmed a large sized custard pie was reposing on the kitchen table.

"Say, Mr. Dillon," exclaimed Stone, "You don't think we are going to start throwing pies here, do you? I don't mind handling pickled herrings and juggling ash cans, but if you expect me to use my face as a custard pie receiver"

"Well, I won't throw them, so don't you worry," said Miss Nilsson who had just come in time to hear part of Stone's conversation. "This is high comedy, not slapstick." Dillon, who had not had a chance to get a word in edgewise, held up his hands.

"Listen, that's only for atmosphere," he shouted, and the threatened war was over. "When" said Dillon, "I'm sure glad I don't have to ask them to throw that pie." The second feature is Frank Mayo in "Lew Tyler's Wives." What a Picture! What a Theme! Don't miss it. Also the famous Country Store, with a lot more presents than ever.

DISABLED WAR VETS GOING TO NIANTIC

Several Manchester Ex-SERVICE Men Among Those Bound for Camp Schulze.

When the disabled American veterans of the World War go to Niantic for their annual two weeks' encampment Saturday, it is expected that at least seven of the veterans will be Manchester ex-service men. Indications were that David McCann, School St., Paul Cleary, Newman St., Paul McDonald, North School street, Joe Madden, Maple street, and John Breen, John Coopers, both of the North End, and William Drysdale of Cottage street will attend the camp from Manchester. Others are expected to go.

Camp Schulze, as it will be named in honor of Brigadier General Edward Schulze, of the C. N. G., will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday. Camp Director Aubrey L. Maddock will conduct the ceremony.

Similar to the encampment of 1925 the veterans will pitch their tents. Senator Frederick A. Berkwith of Niantic will place the tent floors. The camp site will be located on the same field where Company G, and the Howitzer Company, local units in the 163th Infantry, camped last month, but will be stationed closer to the Niantic River.

MAY TRY TO ORGANIZE A ROTARY CLUB HERE

Manchester may have another luncheon club. Members of the Hartford Rotary Club are considering starting a movement here to organize a local Rotary club. Several years ago Hartford Rotarians and Kiwanians came to town and began movements to start clubs here. Local men finally decided upon a Kiwanis club. Dr. D. C. Y. Moore, a member at that time of the Hartford Kiwanians, was influential in this respect.

The success of the Kiwanis club locally has brought Hartford Rotarians to believe that another luncheon club could be successfully organized in Manchester. They believe that competition between the two clubs would stimulate the interest in both.

CENTER ST. PROGRESSING

Good progress is being made in the construction of the new highway on Center street. This week the laying of the concrete between therolley rails was begun. The start was made at the junction of Center and Olcott streets, and the work has progressed nearly as far as McKee street. A large force of men is being employed, and the work is being pushed as much as possible. A steam shovel has begun the work of digging out the south side of the highway preparatory to laying the concrete base for the asphalt.
