

MASONIC PLANS FOR CENTENNIAL OCT. 2-3 FORMED

Corner Stone of New Temple to Be Laid at Same Time; Grand Officers and Neighboring Lodges Invited.

The Centennial committee of Manchester Lodge of Masons met last night to round out plans for the observance of the 100th anniversary of the local lodge, and for the laying of the cornerstone of the new Masonic Temple at the same time. The celebration will be held here on Saturday and Sunday October 2 and 3.

The program calls for meetings at High school hall, the working of the Master Mason's degree on a large class of candidates, and for a banquet at the State Armory. There will be a meeting of the members of the lodge on Sunday and they will hear a sermon by Rev. Joseph Cooper at the South Methodist church in the afternoon.

The Centennial committee is made up as follows: F. A. Verplanck, chairman; W. G. Gieney, N. B. Richards, B. LaMotte, Russell, William Walsh, William S. Hyde, Millard Park, Raymond Goslee, A. F. Howes, George M. Barber, William C. Cheney, Charles M. Murphy, Herman Montie, James McCaw, Harry Trotter, Harold Alvord, Albert F. Dewey and Rev. Joseph Cooper.

This committee was appointed last May. Considerable work has been done in preparation for the anniversary. Historical data has been obtained, and a history of the lodge will be published in pamphlet form and issued at the banquet. The committee is anxious to obtain a picture of the old Academy building which stood at the Center on the Hartford property. If anyone knows where there is a photograph available the committee will be thankful if it is sent to Chairman F. A. Verplanck.

The charter of Manchester Lodge is still in good condition. Few lodges in Connecticut that are 100 years old can exhibit their original charter. The Manchester charter is preserved in a vault at the Manchester Trust Company.

In addition to the officers of the grand lodge the principal officers of neighboring lodges will be invited to attend the exercises and banquet. An invitation will be especially extended to Orient Lodge of East Hartford which was "mother" to Manchester Lodge.

The program for the two days' observance as announced last night is as follows:

- 1 p. m.—Open Lodge, High school hall, March to New Temple at Center.
- 2 p. m.—Cornerstone exercises. Grand Master Arthur Nash of Westbury, R. I., in charge. March back to High school hall.
- 5 p. m.—Master Mason's degree by grand officers.
- 6:30 p. m.—Banquet, State Armory.

N. B. Richards, chairman, banquet committee.

W. S. Hyde, toastmaster.

A. F. Howes, historical address. Principal address, "The Temple Builders," Rev. Byron W. Hatfield, grand chaplain, Westbury, R. I.

Sunday, Oct. 3.

2:30 p. m.—Meet at lodge room at Center. March to South Methodist church.

3 p. m.—Sermon, Rev. Joseph Cooper.

AND HE CURSED THE TIRE CONCERN, SURE.

New York, Sept. 9.—A rubber company has just received a letter mailed 13 years ago containing a check for $25.20 in payment for two inner tubes.

The letter was caught in the mail chute of the Mills building and remained there until wreckers discovered it. The same tubes today would cost not more than $10.

POLA NEGRI NOT IN VALENTINO'S WILL

But Aunt of Second Wife Receives Third of Actor's $500,000 Estate.

Los Angeles, Sept. 9.—The will of the late Rudolph Valentino, although not yet filed for probate, leaves one-third of his estate to Mrs. Teresa Werner of Salt Lake City, aunt of Nantacha Rambova, his second wife, according to an admission by Attorney Gilbert, the actor's lawyer, today.

Announcement of a third beneficiary, to share equally in the estate with Alberto Guglielmi and Maria, brother and sister of Valentino, was a surprise to friends and associates here. It was known however, that Valentino held a sincere affection for Mrs. Werner and the estrangement and divorce of the actor and Miss Rambova had not affected his friendship for the aunt of his second wife.

Probably Half Million S. George Ullman, secretary and manager for Valentino, estimated today that the will disposed of an estate valued at approximately $500,000, after meeting all debts and obligations.

Inclusion in Valentino's property listed by Ullman are a collection of armory and antiques valued at $250,000; a house in Beverly Hills appraised at $175,000; $50,000; insurance, jewelry, $50,000; and other valuable possessions, including a yacht and a fleet of foreign motor cars.

Ullman is appointed executor of the will, it was learned, and will have charge of the property for three years. Miss Rambova was left a $10,000 bequest, and Pola Negri, asserted fiancée of Valentino, was not mentioned in the will.

The will will be offered for probate here tomorrow.

MEX POLITICO SHOOT IT OUT WITH ASSASSINS

One of Three Who Claim Governorship Drives Off Assaults With His Gun.

Mexico City, Sept. 9.—An attempt to assassinate Alfredo Romo, a candidate for the governorship of Jalisco on last Sunday's election, has been frustrated, according to reports received here from Guadalajara.

Romo was riding in an automobile with two friends when two men opened fire upon him from a rooftop. Bullets pierced the curtains of Romo's car and he pulled up and stepped out into the street and returned the fire. His assailants escaped.

Romo and his two opponents, Cuellar and Benitez, all claim victory in the election and their claims must be decided by the state legislature.

THREE DEAD FROM SCHOOLROOM FEUD

Sheriff, Deputy and Farmer Killed in War That Followed Whipping of Boy.

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 9.—Sheriff Mark Sensenbach, of Lehigh county; his deputy, Harry Slegertrieder; and their alleged slayer, Granville Holben, a wealthy farmer, of Lyon Valley near here, are dead. Holben, who is said to have murdered the two officers was shot and killed as he fled from his barricaded home, which had been fired by a posse.

The triple tragedy occurred when the sheriff and his deputy visited the farm to pay the small fine imposed as the result of the failure to send his children to the township school after his nine-year-old son Herbert had been whipped by a teacher.

ROXIE STINSON TO BE WITNESS IN BRIBE CASE

Star Evidence Giver in Congress Probe Will Be Used by Government in the Daugherty Trial.

New York, Sept. 9.—Both sides were drawing battle plans today for the resumption tomorrow of the trial of former attorney general Harry M. Daugherty and Colonel Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian under President Harding. Daugherty and Miller, who are on trial before Federal Judge Mack, are charged with fraudulent conspiracy in connection with the return of $7,000,000 assets of the American Metals Company to the former German owners.

There was no session of court today because of the Jewish holiday. The resumption tomorrow of the testimony of Richard Merton, German metal baron and star witness for the prosecution, is expected to reveal several bits of sensational evidence.

To Tell of Wine Party. It is expected Merton will tell the inside story of goings on at an alleged champagne party, given in his rooms at a hotel here, during the course of which Miller is alleged to have presented the check for nearly seven million dollars, the money held in trust for the Suisse Societe by Miller as alien property custodian.

Roxie Stinson, former wife of Jess Smith, personal friend and confederate of Daugherty's who committed suicide shortly after his indictment, is in New York, and is prepared to take the stand in behalf of the prosecution. It was Miss Stinson, who in the investigation by the Senate committee, told of secret meetings between Daugherty, Smith, senators and other dignitaries in "a little green house on K street," Washington. What her testimony in the present trial will cover was not indicated.

Calling Merton to the stand so early in the trial was a surprise. It was believed that the government would save this "ace in the hole" until later.

Merton's testimony started with the admission that he had consulted a lawyer, John Foster Dulles, on his first arrival here, and learned that there was a provision whereby Germans could recover seized property. Later, he said, he met John T. King, whom he understood knew the men who could decide in Merton's favor. He said that King had introduced him to Jess Smith, who was to help "pave the way."

Merton will be further questioned tomorrow concerning the alleged deals that led to the liquidation by the government of the claims of German owners of seized American Metal Company stock.

TATTOO ARTIST IS BEATEN AND ROBBED

New Haven Man of Unusual Calling Victim of Assault in His Workshop.

New Haven, Sept. 9.—A wrench and a tire tool wrapped in tissue paper and tied with magenta wire form an important clue secured by police here following the beating up and robbing early today of Albert Herman, aged 70, in his tattooing shop at 77 Washington Ave. Adequate finger prints are believed to have been left on the tools so that arrests may result before night.

Herman was struck over the head with the tools and badly injured. His recovery is expected. After being beaten Herman was robbed of a watch and $9.

Police say that Herman had a thriving trade with young men who desire to be tattooed, often working far into the night.

BRITISH GIRL LOSES IN TRY AT CHANNEL

London, Sept. 9.—Jean Darwin, a British girl, gave up an attempt to swim the English channel at 7 o'clock this morning after having been in the water about nine and a half hours. Unfavorable tides and currents were responsible for her defeat.

Miss Darwin attempted to cross the channel in the hope of winning a prize of $5,000 offered by a London newspaper to the woman who could swim across the channel in a record time. She was accompanied by Gertrude Ederle, the American swimmer.

DOUBLE SUICIDE. Washington, Sept. 9.—A fashionable dressed, middle-aged couple, registered as Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Doyle of Brooklyn, carried out a suicide pact in a room at the Willard hotel here today. Poison was the agency they employed.

On Trial for Bribe Taking

Harry M. Daugherty, ex-Attorney General, first of America's cabinet officers to face a criminal trial, sees "what the papers say."

THUMBS DOWN ON BONE DRY UPSHAW

Georgia Democrats Deny Renomination to Extreme Prohibitionist.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 9.—Congressman William D. Upshaw, militant dry leader, was defeated in the Georgia Democratic primary yesterday by Leslie J. Steele, prominent lawyer of Decatur.

Returns today showed Upshaw ran second in the heated three-cornered contest, with Mayor Walter Sims of Atlanta third.

Senator Walter F. George was renominated by an overwhelming majority, defeating his opponent, Richard B. Russell, chief justice of the Georgia Supreme Court, who attacked George for his support in the World Court proposal.

Run-Off For Governor. A run-off appeared likely today in the gubernatorial race. Neither Dr. L. C. Hardman nor John N. Holder has secured a majority of the county unit votes, necessary under Georgia laws. Hardman was leading Holder and his two other opponents on the basis of fairly complete returns.

DEMOCRATS CLING TO THE HADLEY IDEA

Leaders Refuse to Give Up Hope He Will Run for Senate on Their Ticket.

Hartford, Sept. 9.—A final effort is to be made this afternoon to induce Arthur Twining Hadley, emeritus president of Yale University, to run for the United States Senate on the Democratic ticket, according to a statement issued by Democratic leaders today. Dr. Hadley's definite answer is expected some time during the evening, according to party leaders who at noon still had high hopes of inducing the New Havener to accept.

Dr. Hadley is a brother-in-law of Charles G. Morris, of Newtown, now considered the most likely candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket.

INDIANA LOWLANDS SWEEP BY FLOOD

Martinsville, Ind., Sept. 9.—Hundreds of persons are homeless, steam, interurban and automobile traffic is paralyzed, and hundreds of acres of the Indiana lowlands in this section are under water as a result of one of the worst floods in years, caused when the White river, swollen by torrential rains, overflowed its banks.

Roads to Indianapolis are inundated and impassable. Relief workers have been organized and attempting to send food supplies to the homeless. Property damage, it is estimated, will reach $1,000,000.

Urges Dignity Of Overalls As Need Of American Industry

New Haven, Sept. 9.—"The trades must be given a new dignity," and the "machinist must be as highly respected in a community as the bookkeeper is," if American industries "are to have a steadily widening market for their wares," according to Harold S. Falk of Milwaukee, Wis., in an address before the American Society of Mechanical Engineers here today.

Mr. Falk declared boys will not go into the trades in sufficient numbers until they, and especially their parents, feel that trade work is just as desirable as clerical work, until the molders and the patternmaker are just as important in civic organizations and clubs—and in the eyes of the young "ladies too" as bank clerk and the insurance office man.

STILLMAN IS SUED BY INDIAN GUIDE

Co-respondent in Famous Divorce Suit Charges Defamation, Attempted Bribery

New York, Sept. 9.—The famous Stillman divorce case came back into the limelight today. Fred Beauvais, Indian guide whom James A. Stillman named as co-respondent in his sensational suit for divorce against his wife, Anne U. Stillman, is in New York armed with papers in a $500,000 suit for alleged defamation of character.

Beauvais is directing his action against Stillman, formerly president of the National City bank of New York. He alleges that he suffered loss of reputation through Stillman's charges that he was the father of Mrs. Stillman's baby boy, Guy. The Stillmans are now reunited.

The summons and complaint in the damage suit are in the hands of the sheriff's office, where it was said that unsuccessful attempts had been made for a week to serve the papers upon Stillman. His whereabouts are said to be unknown.

Chief among the allegations in Beauvais' complaint is an alleged offer to the guide of $250,000 if he would consent to aid Stillman in his efforts to obtain a divorce. In support of this charge, Beauvais produced an affidavit, signed by Jack Madell, a Cleveland broker, purporting to admit that the latter made the $250,000 offer on behalf of Stillman.

Call Panel Tomorrow. Judge Frank L. Cleary announced that tomorrow the September grand jury panel of 36 persons would be called. From this number will be chosen the 23 who will hear the evidence in the Hall-Mills case.

CONNECTICUT CO. TO ABANDON LOCAL OFFICE AND CAR-BARNS

PAID SLEUTHS PRY INTO PAST OF 'PIG WOMAN'

Man Who May Have Been Mrs. Gibson's Husband Says He Was Offered Money—New Witnesses.

Somerville, Sept. 9.—Two more alleged eye-witnesses to the Hall-Mills murder were occupying the attention of the prosecution today. A New Brunswick man is said that he admitted he was in De Russsey's Lane the night of the slaying of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills and heard shots and screams.

Another man, "witness No. 3," is reported to have bragged to a friend in Brooklyn, N. Y. that he had been at the murder scene and "had seen everything." Authorities plan to confront "witness No. 3" with his friend, "witness No. 2."

Man Out of Past. Somerville, N. J., Sept. 9.—A man out of the past life of Mrs. J. E. Gibson, the "pig woman," around whose testimony the prosecution is building its case, figured today in the new Hall-Mills murder investigation.

The new character is Frederick Kesslering, 67, silk worker, who claims to have known Mrs. Gibson 20 years ago. He will be questioned today by Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson concerning information received that Kesslering was talked to recently by two men, posing as detectives, attempting to worm details of Mrs. Gibson's early life from him. He was said to have been offered money to divulge his knowledge.

Mum as to Marriage. Kesslering refused to affirm or deny to newspapermen the report that he had been married to Mrs. Gibson. He admitted "two strangers" had talked with him.

"They wanted me to tell them what I knew about Mrs. Gibson, whom I haven't seen for 32 years," Kesslering said. "I knew her very well then and I told them that they would be quiet next week to see me again."

The prosecution is anxious to learn whether these "strangers" were investigating for the three defendants in the murder case, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, whose husband was slain, her brother, Willie Stevens, and Henry de la B. Carpenter, her cousin.

Call Panel Tomorrow. Judge Frank L. Cleary announced that tomorrow the September grand jury panel of 36 persons would be called. From this number will be chosen the 23 who will hear the evidence in the Hall-Mills case.

POTS FESTIVAL SITE ROW OUT OF COURT

Fairfield Common Pleas Dismisses Injunction Obtained by Phantom Society.

Bridgeport, Sept. 9.—Judge F. W. Huxford of the common pleas court today dismissed an injunction that on September 1 was granted by the Stamford city court, restraining Orazio Tucci, of South Norwalk, from holding a celebration near his store next Sunday.

The St. Marie Della Murgia society, of Norwalk, planned a celebration at a prominent street corner in South Norwalk, but Tucci's treasurer, decided to move the celebration to another spot. His opponents declared it was so the crowd would be nearer to his store and they went to Judge Young to prevent the move. Judge Young issued a temporary injunction.

Judge Huxford today dismissed the case, declaring the society had no standing in court for it had no by-laws, rules, regulations or regularly elected officers.

DUCE MAY DECIDE TO ABOLISH PARLIAMENT

Rome, Sept. 9.—Abolition of the Italian parliament will be considered by the Italian government in October, it was learned today.

The government will render a decision in the matter during next month. It is considered likely that parliament will be reduced to the senate.

HENRY FORD GOING IN FOR OLD STEEL OVENS

Marlboro, Mass., Sept. 9.—Henry Ford, automobile magnate, and landlord-meritor of the Wayside Inn, South Sudbury, is going in for old ovens. At the house of A. J. Blais, while demolishing an old chimney, workmen came upon an old steel oven within the chimney walls. The owner of the house was not aware of its existence. That Mr. Ford maintains a force of "antique scouts" was very evident when Mr. Blais received a letter from Detroit, asking the selling price of the oven. The house is over 150 years old and the oven had been built in England prior to that time. Mr. Blais will sell the oven.

AL SMITH'S HEALTH WORRY TO FRIENDS

Recurring Illnesses Bring Belief Strength Is Not Equal to Public Life.

Albany, Sept. 9.—Governor Al Smith is not physically as well as his many friends and admirers would like to see him, but they are confident that if he takes a good rest before entering the fall campaign he will be all right.

The Governor's illness at Syracuse, where he went to speak at the New York State Fair, brought home to his advisers at the Capital the fact that the Governor had been working too hard this summer without a good rest.

In the last two years the Governor has complained more or less to his friends that he has not been feeling "right." Last spring he was said to remain at the Executive Mansion for several days with a severe attack of tonsillitis. Later when he returned to the Capitol he complained of rheumatism in his left hand and arm. In fact the pains in his arms finally became so severe that he was laid up for several days at the Capitol.

Had the Gout. Two years ago while he was touring the New England States in behalf of the candidacy of John W. Davis, the Governor was stricken with a severe attack of gout in his right foot. The foot became so painful that the Governor was forced to abandon his speaking engagements in New England and return to the Executive Mansion where he was under the care of a doctor for nearly a week.

The Governor's health has been one of the reasons, it was learned today on good authority at the

COURT RESERVATION COMMITTEE SUSPENDS

Decision on U. S. Entry Under Conditions May Not Be Reached for Long Time.

Geneva, Sept. 9.—While the assembly of the League of Nations is in session the work of the committee which is considering the United States reservations to entry to the World Court is suspending its work. Present indications are that the final decision on the reservations may be long delayed.

The jurists in delving into World Court and League of Nations procedure have not yet been able to reach an agreement on interpretations of the reservations which is acceptable to all members.

Business Proposition. However, the Connecticut Company has decided that it would be a good business proposition to make the change, and if the road is to give good service its directors feel that they must not be hampered in any such changes as the one proposed here. In the opinion of Charles Cheney there is a favorable aspect to the plan from Manchester's point of view. The barns at the Center have presented a more or less unsightly appearance for some time and are especially noticeable now that Manchester's new municipal building is ready for occupation. When these are removed the beauty of the surroundings at the Center will be greatly enhanced.

Manchester's natural parkway, the Center Springs, lies directly north of the Connecticut Company property. It has been suggested that the town would be acting wisely to get this property and develop an entrance to the park from Center street.

Good Service Here. Connecticut Company officials believe that better service can be rendered when the change is made it was the opinion of local men interviewed by The Herald today that it would be impossible to duplicate the service rendered by the Manchester division under its superintendent, Henry Nettleton. This division has had the reputation of getting its lines into operation after heavy storms first.

Mr. Nettleton's administration of Connecticut Company business here has been efficient and Manchester has received extra good service because of his personal interest in both the town and the company. This, to a certain extent, is bound

PAVING CONCERNS ARE INDICTED IN BOSTON

Charged With Conspiracy to Maintain High Prices on City Contracts.

Boston, Sept. 9.—Warren Bros. Company and the Central Construction Company and officials of those concerns were among several parties indicted here today by the Suffolk grand jury investigating Boston city contracts; notice was sent them to appear for arraignment on October 1, it was learned today.

The indictments, it is learned, charged that the firms and officers "conspired to maintain high prices in restraint of trade and to defraud the city of Boston" in paving contracts.

Manchester Headquarters to Be Combined with Hartford Offices; Change to Become Effective Nov. 1; Nearly 80 Families Here Affected; Barns in Need of Repairs.

The Connecticut Company will abandon its Manchester office and car-barns on or about November 1. It was learned today. The business office, dispatcher's room, trolley repair sheds and other equipment at the Center will all be combined with the headquarters at State street, Hartford.

Every Manchester resident employed on the Manchester division of the Connecticut Company will be offered employment by the company elsewhere so that no loss of work will result from the change. It will be practically impossible for Manchester trolley conductors and motormen to maintain residence here and work from the Hartford headquarters since there will be no means of going to and from work in the morning and at night.

No Definite Orders. The change has been discussed by the board of directors of the Connecticut Company for some time, and Nathaniel J. Scott, superintendent of the Hartford division, although admitting the change would be made some time soon, said he had not yet received definite orders. Charles Cheney, president of Cheney Brothers, a director of the Connecticut Company, was not present at the last meeting of the board, and said today he had not yet been informed of any action taken by that meeting.

Two important reasons actuate the Connecticut Company in this move. One is the expense in maintaining the barns and office here will be done away with, and the expenditure of a large sum of money for repairs to the barns will not be necessary. The Connecticut Company feels that it can give better service from the Hartford headquarters, and at the same time save maintenance expense in Manchester.

Barns Need Repair. The trolley barns here are badly in need of repair, and an estimated outlay of $40,000 would be necessary to put them in proper shape. This is one of the most important factors in the proposed plan.

It is estimated that 80 Manchester families will be affected directly by the change. Most of these will have to make their homes elsewhere if they still depend upon the Connecticut Company for employment. This means a payroll of nearly $2,500 that will not be distributed among Manchester residents weekly, and quite a serious loss to the town in a business way. It is expected that an effort will be made by the Chamber of Commerce to either forestall the move or ask the Connecticut Company to provide a means of service to those who are road's employees so that they could still reside in Manchester.

MORE GLADIOLUS PLOTS THAN FILLING STATIONS

A local motorist who traveled all over the state this summer has reached the conclusion that in another year there will be more places along the highways growing gladiolus than there are filling stations. "The craze started only two years ago," he said. "Before that few knew anything about the flower except those who made it a business to grow them for florists or those who grew them in their own gardens as a hobby. "Last year somebody discovered they were easy to grow and there was a profit in selling them to motorists. The craze grew in leaps and bounds and today there is hardly a highway where one does not see a plot of them."

Capitol, July some of his most intimate friends have been advising him against accepting re-nomination this fall. They are afraid, it was said, that a strenuous speaking campaign throughout the state might result in a serious illness. The past two sessions of the State Legislature have been particularly hard on the Governor's health. Time without number last winter, and the winter before, he kept the midnight oil burning at the Executive Chamber in the Capitol going over legislative bills and trying to get state business out of the way so he could hold conferences the following day with the legislative leaders.

Strenuous Life

With both houses of the Legislature in the control of the Republicans, Governor Smith has had a hard time in the last two years pushing through some of his pet legislative projects. But he was much more successful than many of his friends thought he would be. Because of the constantly re-occurring attacks of gout to which the Governor is subject, he has been unusually careful in the selection of his food. Believing that one thing he needs was more outdoor exercise, the Governor, in the last two years, has become an ardent golfer. The Governor is 52 years old and more than 20 years of his life have been passed at the Capitol.

NO MENACE IN CHINA TO INTERESTS OF U. S.

Not Yet Affected by Severe Fighting at Hankow—U. S. Victim of Disloyalty.

Washington, Sept. 9.—American interests have not yet been menaced in the severe fighting that has taken place in the vicinity of Hankow between the Antonesc forces and those of General Wu Pei Fu, according to consular advices to the state department today. These dispatches emphasize the sentiment of Wu's defeat by the Red army of the south. The Cantonese are now consolidating their positions, preparatory to extending their drive further northward and possibly effecting a junction with the Reds in Manchuria, who are fomenting revolution against Chang Tso Lin. Wu's defeat was principally due, the dispatches said, to the disloyalty of some of his principal officers and men.

U. S. NOT JAZZ MAD

SAYS SIR HENRY WOOD

New York.—America is not jazz mad, according to Sir Henry Wood, the famous English orchestra conductor, who recently made a seven weeks' tour of the United States. Sir Henry told London on his return, that America is an open door for real talent. "America is not crazy on jazz to the exclusion of everything else," he said in an interview. "It is true that the art of syncopation has been perfected to a degree unknown in other countries, but there is a notable difference in the tastes for the purely popular and classical standards." Sir Henry thinks that Americans are "splendid listeners." "On one occasion," he said, "during the whole of Elgar's First Symphony, which takes fifty-five minutes to render, there was not a cough or a rustle of a program."

VOTE AND BE SHAVED

Santo Domingo.—"Repeaters" at elections here are going to have a hard time after this. Authorities have decided to shave a spot on the head of each voter as he casts his ballot with indelible ink. The ink method has been tried before, but crooked politicians and their lieutenants supplied chemicals to remove the stain. It is said that they are frantically seeking an effective hair tonic to meet the present emergency.

MAHARAJAH PLANS IRISH RICE FIELDS

Dublin.—Ireland is to have its own rice fields. The damp climate and swampy ground of Connemara has been selected as the most desirable spot and cultivation is to begin at once. The Maharajah Jam Sahib of Nawansher, known to cricket fans as "Ranji," is sponsoring the scheme. The Maharajah bought Ballynahinch Castle a year ago and promised to live on and develop the famous estate for six months every year. He brought over a retinue of Indian servants and among them was a rice expert who announced that the climate and nature of soil was in every way suitable for rice cultivation. Without delay the Maharajah set his scheme working and laid out the rice fields. There is more rain than sun in Connemara, but the Maharajah says it only takes ten days sun to harden the rice pods, and that's just about all they get in Connemara. Agricultural experts are watching the experiment. It may be tried in England. Boys eventually turn out to be men while men eventually turn out to be nothing but boys.

HUNTS SPANISH GOLD

Fayetteville, Ark.—It may be a myth about the buried treasure that is supposed to have been left in what is now Franklin County, Ark., by Spaniards more than a hundred years ago. But Dr. L. G. Hill spent $100,000, his life savings in search for it, and now that he is dead, his two sons are carrying on the quest. Under the guidance of an aged Spaniard, certain hieroglyphics and markers were found, but the old Spaniard died and the map he was following was never found. A mining company now is being organized for extensive excavations.

WILKE—CLARK

Charles H. Wilke, son of Mrs. Augusta Wilke of Center street and Miss Rita Clark, daughter of Leland F. Clark of Chittenden, Vermont were married at the Methodist parsonage at 2 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. Joseph Cooper. The double ring service was used. After the wedding trip through New York state and Canada the young couple will spend a short time at the home of the bride's father. On their return they will live at the home of the groom's mother for the present.

CHARGED WITH KILLING WIFE, TAKES POISON

Jersey City, Sept. 9.—Samuel Axelrad, 50, of Hoboken, committed suicide today in the county jail where he was awaiting trial on a charge of murdering his wife. Officials announced that the man had taken poison. He had told police, they said, that he struck his wife over the head with a bottle when he learned that she had been unfaithful to him.

FENCE RAIL RIPS THROUGH AUTOMOBILE, KILLS MAN

Marlboro, Mass., Sept. 9.—When the automobile carrying J. Warren Sherman, 43, of North Westport, and Miss Mary Kiloran, of Brooklyn, N. Y., left the road today it ripped off the top rail of the fence bordering a pond. The timber pierced the radiator and the windshield and struck Sherman in the abdomen. He died in the Marlboro hospital. His companion was cut by glass.

SUDDEN DEATH OF BOY IN WATERBURY A PUZZLE

Waterbury, Sept. 9.—Michael Hussey, a fourteen-year-old school-boy and Vito Vocello, 62, a well-known fruit merchant, were found dead in bed in their homes in different parts of the city today. Mr. Vocello died of heart disease but medical authorities announced an autopsy would be necessary to determine the cause of the boy's death though they were sure it was due to natural causes. The boy had attended St. Mary's school here yesterday and was in good health when he went to bed.

No Chapped Knees for Her

Skirts are to be shorter, according to fall fashion forecasts, but Miss Thelma Trader, San Diego (Calif.) artist's model, isn't worried. She has devised these knee protectors (shown close-up in the inset) to keep her from getting chapped knees, so she'll continue to roll her hose.

BAKERS DOING BUSINESS ON THE FLY THESE DAYS

"Ah, there are many funny things around Manchester if you only look for them," said the man who sees something funny in everything. "For instance did you ever notice these bakers' avocets? They fly along the streets ringing a bell to call attention to the fact that they are bakers. "Thus far all right but by the time the good housewife reaches the street to get her loaf of bread the bakers auto is a quarter of a mile away."

KING VIDOR, OF THE FILMS, WEDS ELEANOR BOARDMAN

Los Angeles, Sept. 9.—King Vidor, prominent producer-director, and Eleanor Boardman, beautiful film actress, are spending a two weeks' honeymoon today in an unknown haven, following their quiet wedding last night at the Beverly Hills home of Marion Davies, screen star. Miss Davies was bridesmaid; Irving Thalberg, young Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer executive, was best man.

ATTENDED REUNION

Ten members of the South Methodist church Epworth League who attended the Willmantic institute this summer were guests of the Stafford Epworth League last night at a reunion of institute members. Among the visitors at this affair were Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair Burr of this town who dropped in on their way from Boston. Rev. Edwin Holt Hughes Jr., son of Bishop Hughes of the Methodist church, was the speaker of the evening.

STRONG-BRINDLE

Miss Ethel Brindle and Julius L. Strong were married yesterday afternoon at four o'clock in the garden at the bride's home on Marble street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frederick G. Allen of Second Congregational church. Miss Marlon Gammons, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march from Lohengrin as the bridal party took their places. The naturally charming setting of evergreens was further beautified by wedding gates and a profusion of yellow gladiolus and palms. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, William Booth Gammons, the double ring service being used. The attendants were Miss Esther Brindle, sister of the bride, and Ernest Strong, brother of the bridegroom. The bride wore a gown of bridal satin. Her veil of tulle fell from a bandeau of pearls and orange blossoms and on her shoulder she wore a spray of orange blossoms worn by her mother on her wedding day. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was attired in orchid pink taffeta embroidered in silver roses. Her picture hat to match had a scarf of pink malinge and a bouquet of the shoulder and her arm bouquet was of Madame Butterfly roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held for immediate relatives and close friends of the young couple. Bessie of Hartford was the caterer in the morning. Mr. and Mrs. Strong left on an unannounced automobile tour, the bride wearing a gray ensemble suit. On their return they will live at 28 Marble street.

WORLD BEAUTY SHOW FORECAST AT PAGEANT

Atlantic City Fete Director Promises New Thrill; Many Beauties Fade Out.

Atlantic City, Sept. 9.—Armand T. Nichols, director general of the Atlantic City pageant, today announced that plans were being perfected for an international beauty congress. Specifically, this congress will be the culmination of beauty contests held by each nation to select its entries. These will be judged by a jury of artists of all nations. In the meanwhile here today the serious business of choosing a "Miss America" for 1926 rapidly reached a point where many of the contestants were eliminated. The judging began early in the morning when the jury of painters, sculptors and illustrators, dropped half of the 54 eligibles from the list of possibilities for the national crown of beauty. Later the number was further reduced, and the end of the evening was to see only five of the entrants remaining in the running. According to the procedure, these five will be finally pared to two on Friday morning. Each judge then will cast his vote. That night the ballots will be counted. Eight votes are required for the election of "Miss America."

DEMOCRATS START RAID ON BUSINESS

Regular Old Style Attack Being Made Says Tilson at Coolidge Camp.

White Pine Camp, N. Y., Sept. 9.—"The Democrats are reverting to form and beginning a general American check on business," said Rep. John Q. Tilson of Connecticut in charge of Republican congressional campaign headquarters for the east, after conference with President Coolidge today. Calling attention to the statement of Rep. Oldfield of Arkansas, campaign leader for the Democrats, that about 20,000 people are getting most of the advantage of prosperity, Tilson continued: "Old Line of Attack "I think our opponents are resorting to the old Democratic attack on business. Under the guise of hitting at big business they really are making an attack on all business. I feel that prosperity is widely distributed and is being made the issue in this campaign because it is a fact and we are simply facing the facts as we find them." Tilson, who is majority floor leader in the House, favored a bill that would make re-appointment in the House automatic after each census, holding the House to its present size. He said the short sessions of Congress would devote itself to the appropriation measures and unfinished work of the last session, but indicated that there was little possibility of passing any farm bill next winter. He forecast that the Republicans will hold both houses of Congress.

FEAR WHITE SLAVERS ARE WORKING IN MEXICO

Mexico City, Sept. 9.—"White Slavers" are taking advantage of the religious controversy here, the police believe, by luring devout Catholic girls out of the country on the promise that they can become nuns in the United States and elsewhere. The police are searching for a party of twenty girls believed about to leave Mexico for New York.

ARGUE WITH OFFICIALS WITH BLOWS AND TAR

Key West, Fla., Sept. 9.—Reginald R. Pritchard, member of the Key West Board of Public Works and S. Owen Sawyer, city councilman, were kidnapped by a band of masked men here last night and taken to the outskirts of the city where police say they were beaten and tarred. The officials are said to have come into disfavor by the persistent fight in curtailing the city's budget which was resulted in the discharge of more than a dozen city employees.

EVENING SCHOOLS OPEN ON OCT. 4TH

Principal Potter Announces Subjects to Be Taught This Year.

Sixteen subjects covering a wide range of study compose the curriculum which Evening School students may pick from when school convenes for its annual winter session Monday evening, October 4, it was announced today by Principal A. N. Potter.

Competent teachers will be engaged, all of whom have had plenty of experience in night school work. In the main, the faculty will consist of the teachers who taught in night school last year. The names will be announced later.

The subjects which a student may select from are the results of careful thought and consideration. They are believed to be the best possible "all-around" list of subjects that can be selected for night school work. As usual, classes in English for foreign born will be one of the principal subjects. This will be divided into three parts: beginner's course, intermediate and advanced. In connection with this will be a course in citizenship training which will be taught one night a week (Monday) in the High school building.

Other subjects which are well worth consideration by those who are contemplating night school study this fall are stenography, typewriting, bookkeeping, French, mathematics, high school English, cooking, dressmaking, plain sewing, grammar grade subjects. All of these with the exception of cooking, dressmaking and plain sewing will be taught in the High school building. Cooking will be taught in the Franklin building. Dressmaking and plain sewing classes will be held in three places, Franklin school, West Side Rec and the Robertson school in the Eighth School District.

As was the rule last year, sessions will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 7 until 9 o'clock. These sessions will be held in the High school, Washington school, Franklin school, Robertson school and West Side Rec. The Robertson school is located on North School street and is the new addition to the old school recently built.

It is impossible to fortell the enrollment of Evening School this year. It is very irregular. Last year there were 538 students.

Students who desire further information regarding subjects and classes may obtain it by interviewing Principal Potter.

BRITISH UNIONISTS ROW OVER GENERAL STRIKE.

Bournemouth, Eng., Sept. 9.—An attack on the General Council for alleged misconduct of the recent general strike, marked today's session of the Trades Union Congress here.

J. Tanner of the Engineering union, said: "We accuse the council of being traitors, cowards and weak fools because they agreed to end the general strike without getting guarantees for the miners."

Miss Thelma William, 19-year-old school teacher, has been chosen as Miss Pittsburgh for 1926 and will represent her city in the national pageant at Atlantic City.

HEBRON

An interesting program was given at the meeting of the Grange Tuesday evening. A review of an article on the sun from the American magazine was given by Mrs. Robert E. Foote. Talks about animals and stories from animal life were given by members. Three members gave a violin, saxophone and piano trio, and there was a piano duet by Mrs. Elizabeth Cummings and Miss Eunice Seyms.

Mrs. Matilda Murray, mother of Mrs. Ames W. Sisson is in falling health and is confined to her bed. Parker Stearns, a former resident, visited friends here on Wednesday.

Miss Florence E. Smith began her duties as supervising principal at the Seymour school in West Hartford on Tuesday, beginning with a teachers' meeting on that day.

Mrs. Edwin T. Smith, accompanied her son N. Eugene Smith and family of Norwich on a trip through the Berkshire Hills recently.

Mrs. Helen Kestner with a party of friends from New Haven visited friends here on Wednesday.

Mrs. Everett G. Lord is spending a few days as the guest of Mrs. Lulu Lord in South Manchester.

Delegates from this town were present at the committee meeting in Rockville of the Nathan Hale celebration Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Louise Blume will hold an auction at her farm on Tuesday, September 14. The farm, live stock, farming tools and household goods will be sold.

Miss Olive Tucker has returned to New Britain after spending a few days at the home of her mother, Mrs. Carrie Burnham. Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Tucker of Hartford were also recent guests at the Burnham home.

Recent guests for a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude W. Jones were William Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walker and their two sons of New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller were also guests at the Jones home over Labor Day, returning to their home in Stamford by way of the Mohawk Trail.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cross of Waterbury were week-end guests of Mrs. Ina Pratt at her summer home here.

Schools of the town opened on Wednesday, all the teachers but for the exceptions already given are those who taught last year. Miss Frances Katsman of New Haven returned to New Haven on Thursday for the Jewish holidays. Her place in the Lord school for Thursday and Friday will be taken by Miss Helen Gilbert.

AMERICAN ACQUITTED OF LONDON INDECENCY

J. P. S. Harrison, New York Club Man, Accused of Insulting Little Girls.

London, Sept. 9.—John Pressley Skidmore Harrison, Harvard graduate and member of numerous New York clubs, was today arraigned in the Westminster police court, charged with insulting young girls, in the South Kensington Natural History Museum.

Sir Sharrtes Eron, chief magistrate of London, appeared as a character witness for Harrison. The elder of two girls, who made the charges against Harrison, testified she was ten years old. She declared that Harrison repeated his offense against her and on the second occasion she informed a museum attendant, who arrested Harrison.

At the close of the hearing the case was dismissed.

to be lost when the change becomes effective. Late night service from Hartford will, doubtless, be discontinued, and the advantages of a branch office of the company here will be lost.

Built 30 Years Ago. The local office and car barns were established by the Hartford, Manchester and Rockville Tramway Company about 30 years ago. The late Maro S. Chapman, president of the tramway company, built the office and barns. The road gave trolley service from Burnside to Manchester and to Rockville. A Boston concern purchased the local branch about 20 years ago for the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. All the shares of the stock in the branch were purchased from local people. Later when the New Haven road's subsidiary lines were organized in a separate company, the Connecticut Company, the local lines were included.

The Connecticut Company's office on Center street has just been remodeled at considerable expense to conform with the town's layout for the grounds around the new municipal building.

COLUMBIA

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Porter of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, are visiting Mr. Porter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Porter.

The registrars met Tuesday and added 16 names to the list of "to be made" voters.

Columbia schools opened Wednesday morning, some schools being crowded and others with room to spare. The teachers at the various schools are as follows:

Center: Miss Marion Holmes. Pine street: Mrs. Bessie Cummings. West street: Miss Agnes Shea. Chestnut Hill: Miss Margaret Mitchell. Hop River Village: Miss Alice Brown. Old Hop River: Miss Dorothy Wright.

Mr. Larcomb has been retained as supervisor of this town for another year which is very welcome news for all interested in the town schools.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Noble of Riceville, Iowa, spent Thursday at the home of their niece, Mrs. Lester Hutchins.

Mrs. Lester Hutchins attended a family reunion of the Francis family held at Newtonton on Labor Day. Miss Perkins and Miss TenFyke of New York who have been spending the summer at the home of Mrs. R. G. Proctor, returned to their homes Thursday.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 9, 1926.

BLAINE.

Apparently the defeat of Senator Lenroot in the Wisconsin primaries...

None the less it remains that the Senatorial career of the new man lies ahead of him...

Some quite wild and woolly persons have become altogether sane under the influence of senatorial responsibility.

It is not likely that young Bob, being what he is, the trademark of a tradition, will ever cease to be an outlander so far as Republican regularity is concerned.

He is old enough not to be altogether anxious to serve as a striker for the La Follette boy...

We shall see, later, whether Senator-elect Blaine is to be a senator or a copycat.

JESSE POMEROY.

Jesse Harding Pomeroy has just completed half a century of imprisonment for child murder at the age of fifteen.

In 1876, when Pomeroy committed the crime for which he was sentenced for life in Massachusetts, there were no aliens to swear that he was not normal...

So Jesse Pomeroy, a creature cursed at birth with a strange lust for blood, a torturer of cats and dogs, a killer for the thrill of killing, was put away for the rest of his life.

Locked up, he has taken no more lives. Free, he would have been morally certain to have pursued a career of terrible crime.

Pomeroy came into the world with a frightful handicap. He has been helped to bear it, all things considered, in the best possible way.

CHINA.

One of the effects of the catastrophe of the World War is perhaps evidenced in the fact that the press of two continents is not, today, flaming with announcement of war between Great Britain and China.

Prior to 1914 it would have been substantially impossible for a fight like that between the Cockchafer and Wu Pei Fu troops on the Yangtze river to have taken place without immediately being followed by open warfare.

Badly mixed as is the Chinese situation, injurious as are its effects on foreign trade and foreign interests in China, disastrous to western prestige as are such affairs as this on the Yangtze, there is yet a very general feeling throughout the world, not only that China must not be permitted to become a bone of contention at the risk of another world conflict...

It is only the most exceptional student of eastern politics who has more than the sketchiest idea of what is going on in China, but of this we may be sure—out of the jummox of intrigue and fighting will come, in due time, order and a definite and responsible government.

The "battle of the Yangtze" is to be an incident, not an epoch marking episode.

GLAD CLOTHES.

The London tailors may succeed in putting over their scheme of arraying fashionable male London in mahogany red, bois de rose, brilliant plum color and sky blue, but they are not going to sell that kind of clothes to Americans of the home persuasion.

We may not be as conservative as the Scotch nor so unchanging as the Tibetians; we may be flippant in our language and reckless in our conduct; we may drive automobiles at fifty and push each other off roads and down precipices; we may drink fearful things that no other people on earth would swallow on a bet; we may spit on five thousand dollar Persian rugs as Europeans believe we do—though we don't; we may be wild and woolly and full of crime and wickedness and folly.

It is not likely that young Bob, being what he is, the trademark of a tradition, will ever cease to be an outlander so far as Republican regularity is concerned.

We shall see, later, whether Senator-elect Blaine is to be a senator or a copycat.

JIM REED.

Inasmuch as a successor to James A. Reed as senator from the state of Missouri will not be elected, in the natural order of events, until two years from the coming November, while the Missouriian's present term does not then expire till the following March, any reason for becoming excited over the loss of the whippersnapper senator at this time is not apparent.

The reason for the announcement itself, however, is less difficult to fathom. Jim Reed believes he can be elected president of the United States. He is that kind of man—not the kind to be president, but the kind to believe he can be elected.

A "smart" little man; a sharp and shining little man—as sharp and shining as a new tin sharp knife on the counter of a five-and-ten; a little man with no more political creed than a bantam rooster; a little man with no loyalty, no friendship in his soul to anybody or anything but Jim Reed—he has enough of shrewdness in him to know that the Smithites and the McAdooites are likely to fight themselves out of the 1928 battle for the Democratic presidential nomination before that battle begins—and he proposes to be first in the field as advantage taker.

Jimmy might just as well have said "I am out for the 1928 Presidential nomination" as to have said, "I shan't return to the Senate."

HEROES.

In New York a man was found burned to death, with his arm around a pet kangaroo which he had vainly tried to rescue from a burning building where many vaudeville performers' animals were kept.

There is hope for a race that breeds men and women with such an abiding affection for dumb creatures that they will sacrifice for them, even to the hazard of life.

Anyway, the kangaroo man goes down in our private list of heroes. And so does the blubbering dog man.

DAILY POEM

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE.

The girls who play pianos, in the stores where music's sold, sure know the way to tickle the keys. They're trained to put the pepper into every song, I'm told, 'cause that's the way the song is apt to please.

You stand around and listen, while they're entertaining you, and music that is wondrous fills the air. You really get a thrill out of the old songs and the new.

Then, after while, you make a choice and buy the latest song. They wrap it up, and you are on your way.

The bitterest of the military air service's complaints is that promotion isn't fast enough.

Why isn't it just as fast in the air service as in the infantry or the artillery or the cavalry or any other branch?

The answers are divers and sundry, but they all boil down to this: A military aviator doesn't live long enough to be promoted at all unless he's promoted in a hurry.

There are military aviators who are getting on in years, like Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service at 63, but it's noteworthy that Gen. Patrick won his pilot's wings at 60.

The way army and navy flyers describe it to me, aviation is about on a par with seamanship, in the old days before steam, and, of course, ages before radio communication.

One voyage was comparatively safe, but the sailor who kept at it long enough generally wound up in Davy Jones's locker.

Even then the merchantman's prospect of longevity was better than the man-of-war's man's, but at that, the former wasn't anything to brag about. Sooner or later he usually went on a lee shore, sprang a leak or a pirate overhauled him.

True, the ocean is safer today than Pennsylvania avenue.

Nobody knows what may be done for aviation. Military aviators are as ready as anybody to admit that the time may come when planes will be able to stop, miles above terra firma and repair damage.

All the same, I don't find many who agree with the super-enthusiasts who contend that aviation is as safe as an auto, a motor, bus, a street car or a Pullman.

The United States produced 8638 books in 1922, as against 8329 in 1921.

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTERS

By CHARLES P. STEWART.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Aviation enthusiasts stick to it that the plane is no more dangerous than railroad trains or automobiles.

Reckless "stunt flyers," they contend, have most of the accidents—not the careful ones.

The fact remains that Lieut. Cyrus K. Bettis of the army air service, who died after a recent crash, and Com. John Rodgers, hero of the navy's San Francisco-Hawaii flight, who perished in a fall into the Delaware river, were not reckless flyers.

As army and navy men they took occasional risks which civil aviation ordinarily doesn't call for, but, both prudent and highly experienced, they didn't take them unnecessarily.

They weren't taking them at the time of their respective falls. Two of the best flyers in the world, they simply crashed because, when anything goes seriously wrong with an airplane, nobody, regardless of his skill and courage, can defy gravity.

That, in brief, is the War and Navy Department's verdict on the Bettis and Rodgers accidents. The technical investigators' reports doubtless will be more complicated, but the above is the unofficial one, from thoroughly well informed sources.

A point may be reached where aviation accidents are, proportionately, no more numerous than those on the surface, but when there is one, it probably always will be more serious to its victims.

That, at any rate, is what competent army and navy airmen tell me.

You, Too, Can Enjoy One of These Instruments Next Christmas

Others have had musical instruments in their homes at Christmas without using their Christmas gift money! They have wisely selected their piano or Victrola in the fall and paid for it on our easy

Christmas Club Plan

This club plan will make it easy for you to enjoy a new Victrola or piano, too! Here is the whole plan in a nutshell:

Instead of making a big, lump sum deposit on an article you select at Christmas time, you choose your gift now and make small weekly payments until Christmas. The total of these deposits will be equivalent to the usual first payment. After Christmas you complete the payments in regular small weekly or monthly installments!

Anything in our store can be purchased on this plan—anything you would like to "give your home" next Christmas. The Christmas Club payments will depend, of course, on the price of the article you select.

Pianos and Orthophonic Victrolas always prove popular Christmas Club items. At our Music Dept. you will find all the popular Victrola models as well as W. P. Haines, Becker Brothers and Steinway Pianos. Also the world's famous Duo-Art Reproducing Action in the celebrated Steinway, Steck, Stroud and Weber Pianos.

The Consolette Orthophonic Victrola, $95. Christmas Club Plan—$1 down and $1 weekly. With grille front and automatic stop.

The Colony Orthophonic Victrola with seven minute motor, $110.00. On the Christmas Club Plan—$1.85 down and $1.85 weekly

The Granada Orthophonic Victrola in Spanish design cabinet, $160. Through the Christmas Club—$2.50 down and $2.50 weekly.

LAKES WILL GO DRY

Chicago.—Delicate surveys show that the earth crust in the Great Lakes region is gradually tilting toward Chicago at the rate of 9 or 10 inches a century. If that keeps up, Lake Michigan will spill into the Mississippi in 600 years, and Niagara Falls will be dry in 3500 years.

The United States produced 8638 books in 1922, as against 8329 in 1921.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 9.—And it came to pass that upon a certain day in August in the year of our Lord, 1926, a wagon loaded with hay did cross Fifth Avenue, in the vicinity of 42nd Street. And though the gaping crowds awaited fearfully, the heavens did not fall.

Such is the devotion to fashion of some Manhattanites that, not infrequently, martyrs appear.

Thus there is a certain gentleman of fashion who would as soon be caught at a public place with no clothes at all as minus his dinner jacket. It so happens that this young man is a saxophone artist of no small calibre.

During a recent very hot evening, the leader of the orchestra decided that custom could best be laid aside and told the players they could take off their coats.

Almost with horror the disciple of fashion saw the coats disappearing and the shirt sleeves being revealed.

Then he rose, gave a brief lecture on "good taste"—and quit. Not for a moment would he countenance such a social break. He stalked from the roof garden.

When Rudolph Valentino arrived in New York from Chicago, some weeks before his critical illness, the newspapers were carrying lengthy stories of the challenge to duel the film star has issued to a Chicago writer.

A girl reporter, who writes a movie column for one of the tabloids, dropped in and interviewed Rudy. When she handed it in at her office that evening, the city editor growled his protest:

"Say, this bird Valentino is getting too much space. I'm sick and tired of seeing his name in the paper. We've just been carrying his duel stuff all over the paper. I don't want any more copy on him for a long time. The only thing he can do to get his blankety-blank name in the paper is to up and die."

In the course of days the girl reporter again encountered Valentino and his managerial forces. She was asked what happened to the interview and frankly related her editor's commentaries, ending with the admonition that the "only way Valentino could get his blank-

STATE HIGHWAY DEPT. SPENDS $10,503,715 YEAR

The Connecticut State Highway Department spent a total of $10,503,715.94 during the fiscal year ended July 31, a statement issued today by the department shows. This amount is about $200,000 less than was disbursed during the 1925 fiscal year, which was $10,801,696.69. The statement will form a part of the department's biennial report which is now being prepared for submission to the governor.

The report will show that the total amount expended since 1895, when the road building department of the state was organized is $82,547,810.73.

The largest disbursements during the past twelve months was for reconstruction and maintenance, which reached a total of $4,674,576.16, nearly $3,000,000 of which was expended in the reconstruction program.

The next largest item was for new construction, that is, the improvement of roads on the state road system. This amounted to $2,706,360.07. A total of $529,970 was expended on Trunk Line and State Aid bridges in reconstruction, construction and maintenance.

Other items are these: Laboratory $25,217, toll bridges and ferries $53,307, office and clerical, engineering and inspection work the expense was $419,236. For state aid road repairs, $45,943 was expended.

NEXT SENATE WILL NOT BE "REGULAR"

Insurgent Victories in Primaries Take Control Out of White House Hands.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The Coolidge administration, for all practical purposes, already has lost control of the next Senate.

There have been sufficient casualties among the regular or stalwart Republicans in the primaries to date to insure the balance of power being held by insurgents, with actual control vested in a coalition of these insurgents with the Democrats whenever they care to combine and exercise it.

This will be true irrespective of whether the Democrats win a single seat north of the Mason-Dixon line in November—and if there is any sizeable drift to the Democrats in northern states eight weeks hence even the paper majority of the Republicans will disappear.

Analysis today of the primaries held thus far made these facts indisputable. The defeat of Senator Lenroot in Wisconsin, despite his being singled out for conspicuous personal endorsement by President Coolidge, was a particularly severe blow. It virtually insures two insurgent senators from Wisconsin in the seventieth Congress, La Follette and Blaine. Even in the palmy days of the elder La Follette there was always one regular from Wisconsin.

Paper Strength 55.

The maximum Republican strength on paper, in the next Senate is 55, and to have that they must win every senatorial election outside the solid South. But in that there will be La Follette and Blaine of Wisconsin, Frazier and Nye of North Dakota, Howell and Norris of Nebraska and Brookhart of Iowa—who vote more often against the White House than with it. There are also Borah of Idaho, Johnson of California, Norbeck and McMaster of South Dakota, and Couzens of Michigan, who, while not as openly insurgent as the other group, are impervious to the party whip.

The Democrats claim to believe they can pick up several seats in November north of the Mason-Dixon line. They point to such spots as Oregon, where Senator Stanford, defeated for renomination in the Republican primary, has announced his independent candidacy against the Republican who defeated him, Frederick Steiwar.

Democrats Hopeful.

To the Democrats, as well as to Republican leaders, this spells a split Republican vote and the possible election of Bert E. Haner, a Democrat, who defied President Coolidge a year ago to oust him from the United States Shipping Board.

The Democrats express correspondingly hopes about New York, where factional fighting among the Republicans, they believe strengthens the chances of defeating Senator Wadsworth. In Maryland, too, they believe they have a chance to gain a seat and in Massachusetts affect to believe that D. Walsh will defeat Senator Butler.

'COUNTRY STORE NITE' AT THE STATE TONIGHT

Double Feature Program Showing Ibanez' "The Torrent" and "Fascinating Youth" Here Friday and Saturday.

Tonight the weekly 'Country Store Nite' will be on the bills at the State theater. As usual there will be a large amount of gifts presented. There will also be a "surprise night". Be sure to come early, because if you don't, you might not get a good seat. 'Country Store' always draws capacity houses. Come and get your share of the gifts.

Along with the country store there will be two feature pictures. Pola Negri in "Good and Naughty", her latest Paramount release, will be one of the features. This is a clever social satire directed by Malcolm St. Clair and that means the best in entertainment.

In this picture the good and pretty Pola is seen in a dirty smock dress, working as an assistant girl. She is scorned by the man she loves—but oh! Wait till you see how she fixes him! She suddenly blossoms forth prettier than ever, and wins him and the men in sight.

Richard Talmadge in "The Better Man" is the other picture. Rhythmic and the screen's greatest stunt man, thrills as never before in this latest picture. And he's as funny as they make 'em, too, while pulling off all these stunts.

For Friday and Saturday the State theater presents an unusual fine quality double feature, Ibanez "The Torrent" will be one picture, and "Fascinating Youth" with the junior Paramount stars of 1926 will be the other.

"The Torrent" is a most spectacular film. In it Ricardo Cortez and Greta Garbo, in this picture makes her 'how to the American movie public in a most auspicious manner.

The story was written by Ibanez, author of "The Torrent". The scenes of "The Torrent" are laid largely in Spain. The story deals with the romance of a peasant girl who rises from a hovel to fame as an opera star, but who remained true to the love of her great heiress. The most elaborate settings ever constructed for operatic scenes are those used in the opera scenes in "The Torrent".

The story gets its title from a real torrent which sweeps away an entire village. This great catastrophe is most vividly portrayed in this film.

For the second feature if you like jazz, pep, youth—you will find them all to great measure in "Fascinating Youth", starring the Junior Paramount stars of 1926. It's a hum-dinger of a picture for pepping up your blues, for youth knows no trouble as is shown in this film. There is comedy that will make you feel nutty all over, and is guaranteed to chase all your blues away.

Coming—a most wonderful picture to finish. The most brilliant career. "The Son of the Sheik" and Rudolph Valentino's last and greatest picture that will open, the fall and winter season at the State beginning next Sunday evening and Monday and Tuesday. It's a picture sand never ends, and where a most fervent love flourishes beneath a tropical sun and crystal clear, tropical moonlight nights. Romance, love, lingering 'isses, lurid adventures, daring heroism, tense situations, base villainy, superb drama—all these go to make "The Son of the Sheik" best. The State theater orchestra will present a special musical arrange-

AGAIN TAKE TOWN FOR HARTFORD CITY.

Still they come to Manchester and think they are somewhere else.

The other day a party from out of the state came to the office of Robert J. Smith and asked for the directions to Lindmore street. There is no such street here and Senator Smith knew it. He thought, however, that if they told him the name of the family they wished to see that he might help them out. They did.

"There's no such family in Manchester," said Senator Smith. "Manchester? Why we thought we were in Hartford."

36 AUTO DRIVERS LOSE LICENSES

The weekly list of operators whose licenses to drive automobiles in Connecticut have been suspended under the influence of liquor was given out today at the state motor vehicle department as a part of the effort to reduce this highway menace. There are thirty-six names on the list. The case of one was appealed. Five were Connecticut operators convicted in other states. The department statement advised people to notify the department or the police in case they should see any of the suspended drivers operating motor vehicles.

JIMMY COX 'CAN'T SEE' EITHER SMITH OR M'ADOO

Not Impressed With Either as Democratic Candidate; Says France Won't Ratify.

London, Sept. 8.—"The Democrats won't make an issue of war debts in the November senatorial elections, for the policy on war debts does not belong to politics."

Former Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, who has been spending a holiday in Europe, made this statement today just prior to taking a boat-train to embark for New York on the Majestic.

Cox, who has spent considerable time in France, predicted that that country will not ratify the debt settlement with the United States without making reservations.

The former governor said it was too early to make predictions regarding the next presidential election, but added that he is not impressed with the chances of either Governor Al Smith or William G. McAdoo.

NIGHT SCHOOL opens Monday Evening, Sept. 13.

Sessions will be held MONDAY WEDNESDAY THURSDAY Evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock

The Connecticut Business College Odd Fellows' Block South Manchester

Between 500 and 600 men and women from all parts of Connecticut will be attracted to the lake for the barbecue, which is assuming state-wide importance by reason of the fact that assurance has been given that the entire Republican ticket which will be named at the state convention in Hartford on September 14, will be in attendance. G. O. P. leaders from every district will also be present.

'SPARROWS' IS FEATURE FOR CIRCLE'S OPENING

Mary Pickford Is Best Yet in Appealing Drama of Comedy and Love.

"Mary Pickford's greatest"—that's what all the critics the country over are saying about "Sparrows," Mary Pickford's latest United Artists release. This wonderful picture of a struggling orphan's life will be shown at the Circle as that theatre's attraction for its grand re-opening on next Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Following closely on the heels of "Little Annie Rooney," "Sparrows" bids fair to out-do "Little Annie's" success. It is brimful of comedy and human interest that is bound to please everyone, young or old.

"Sparrows" is the story of an orphan baby farm that harbors nine wistful scraps of humanity who are at the mercy of a stone hearted old villain and his half crazed wife. The children range in age from infants to "Mama Mollie," a girl of twelve, whose heart and soul is in the welfare of the eight other little waifs.

This role offers Mary one of the most sympathetic of her career, for it gives her an opportunity to be all she is capable of. She is adorable as the "kids" by her merry pranks, and equally appealing as the tender little mother.

There is no fine raiment for Mary in this picture. As "Mama Mollie" she is ragged, barelegged, tattered and torn until the very end of the picture, but she's more radiant, sweeter and sweeter than ever.

The film has everything that a picture needs to make it great—and in addition it has Mary Pickford, the "World's Sweetheart," at the best she has ever been in her long and illustrious career on the silver screen.

The Circle also will feature its new magnificent three manual pipe organ which has just been installed. This instrument is one of the sweetest toned organs that are made, and is one of the finest instruments that can be put into a motion picture theatre.

The new Circle theatre prices will be as follows: matinees, children 10 cents, adults 15 cents; evenings, children 10 cents, adults 25 cents.

POE'S STORIES: Thou Art the Man (2)

On the day when the search for the body of Shuttleworthy was continued, Goodfellow was its leader. The hunt was continued for a week, with no trace of the body being found. On the seventh day, led by Goodfellow, a party of searchers came upon a pool in the woods. There were signs of a struggle on the bank.

Goodfellow suggested that the pond be drained, as it appeared something had been dragged to the water's edge.

The men got busy with shovels and the drain was quickly effected. In the middle of the mud was discovered a black silk waistcoat.

The waistcoat was identified at once as the property of a young man named Pennifeather, a nephew of Shuttleworthy, and his immediate heir. The suspicions of the people were fastened at once upon Pennifeather. Pennifeather was arrested on the spot and the crowd proceeded homeward with him in custody. (Continued.)

ANY OLD REFEREE

WILL SUIT TUNNEY

Won't Make Any Odds Because He's Going to Win Fight for Himself, He Says.

(By Davis J. Walsh)

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 9.—Wall Street may figure that Jack Dempsey is worth every bit of two dollars against one as a betting proposition. Atlantic City, or at least the boxing intelligentsia contiguous thereto, may think the champion is absolutely "in". But this opinion is not altogether unanimous and Gene Tunney proved it today by picking himself to win the "duke", so-called, on the night of September 23rd.

The boy friend, of course, has done this before but never was he so convincing as he was this morning as he professed not the slightest interest in the identity of the referee or in the story that Dempsey is using the illegal "rabbit-punch" not a little in his training workouts.

To Win For Himself

"I'm going to win this fight for myself and no other man, not even Dempsey or the referee, is going to do it for me," said Tunney in tones that were just a trifle testy. "Any referee that is named is bound to give both of us a fair shake. As for Dempsey, he will enter the ring fully aware of the fact that he must abide by the rules.

Understand me, I don't want the title on a foul and I hardly figure on getting it that way. Jack has never been disqualified for fouling, as far as I know, and neither have I. We're simply going in there and slug each other until one of us drops. That one won't be me. You can't beat a man who refuses to be beaten."

It is barely possible, of course, that Mr. Tunney may be just a bit biased on this question and the same inference might be leveled at the opinions held by Lou Pink, his trainer, and Bud Gorman, his sparring-partner-in-chief.

They apparently can't see how the challenger can go wrong.

Gamest Man In Ring

"Tunney has everything," Fink said. "He has youth, speed, experience and condition and gamest. Dempsey never has fought a man who had all of these things at once and he's going to notice the difference right away. Tunney, in my opinion, is the gamest man in the ring today. That statement may surprise some of the wisecrackers but I know it to be true."

Gorman's contribution to the general fund of information, alleged and otherwise, was the statement that he intended "to send in" all the money he can muster on the challenger.

"I never bet on a fight before but I'm not going to pass up this chance," quoth Bud. "Knowing what I know about Tunney, those odds look very good to me."

Unfortunately the writer could only hear Tunney fight this fight. I couldn't see him do it, because, like Dempsey, the challenger yesterday declared a moratorium on boxing and permitted a shave and a haircut to answer the purpose of a workout. He looked very fit at that.

RIVERA'S RESIGNATION

IS FORECAST IN SPAIN

Opposed by King in Plan to Dissolve Whole Artillery Corps of Army.

Madrid, Sept. 9.—Reduction of the number of artillery generals from eighteen to ten was ordered today in a royal decree, issued as the result of the revolt of artillery officers.

This order is understood to be a compromise measure, General De Rivera having desired the dissolution of the artillery corps entirely, while the king was opposed to such drastic step. The artillery will be taken from the district command of artillery officers.

There are many rumors afloat that General De Rivera may see fit to resign and turn his office over to General Berenber or Admiral Magaz.

The government is proceeding with plans for the plebiscite to be held on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, using all of its efforts to get out a full vote. Opposition parties are also active.

BRITISH NAVY IS

ACTIVE IN CHINA

Opens Port of Canton But Not Likely to Follow Up Yangtze River Affair.

London, Sept. 9.—British naval activity had greatly increased throughout the Chinese war area today as a result of the capture of Hankow yesterday by the Cantonese troops and the killing of seven British seamen at Wan Sien, according to admiralty advices.

The flagship cruiser Hawkins, under command of Vice-Admiral Sir Edwin Alexander Sinclair, arrived at Woosung but proceeded immediately on its way to Hankow.

The situation at Wan Sien on the Yangtze river remains serious with two British steamers being held by the Wu Pei Fu forces.

The British gunboat Widgeon and Cockchafer and the armed steamer Kaiwa, aboard which the casualties took place, have withdrawn to Ichang, pending instructions from London. It was considered unlikely that the British government would act drastically in the matter, owing to the confusion reigning in China now, and also to the fact that the perpetrators of the crime were of the factions generally favored by the British against the Cantonese.

Sharp measures by the British naval forces at Canton were reported to have been successful in dispersing the agitators and opening the port.

A Central News dispatch from Shanzhai states that General Wu Pei Fu is in full retreat to the north, closely pursued by the Cantonese.

SIKORSKY PLANE TAKES

BON A TRIAL FLIGHT

Westbury, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The Sikorsky plane which set to be used in a non-stop flight between New York and Paris, left here at 10:20 this morning for Washington with thirteen men on board.

Among those on board were Capt. Rene Fonck, Lieut. A. P. Snoty, Igor Sikorsky, J. C. Hamilton, a Baltimore banker, and mechanics and radio operators.

The return flight is set for Saturday.

HORSE OUTFITTERS QUIT

AS CUSTOMERS PASS.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 9.—Chalk up another defeat for Old Dobbin and the one-horse show. The Perkins-Campbell Co., here, one of the largest concerns in the United States manufacturing harness, saddles, and accoutrements of the horse and buggy era is quitting the business.

Large harness showrooms in New York and Chicago already have been closed, according to officials, and the harness departments of their huge plant here are being sold or leased for other types of business, effective in October.

Bureau of Labor, which shows that 67.1 per cent of all persons asking for work in August were supplied as against 65.8 per cent in July. The five bureaus in August found jobs for 2,751 out of 4,099 asking.

DAVIS CUP PLAY STARTED TODAY

France Has Excellent Chance of Winning from United States Quartet.

By ART CARLSON. New York, Sept. 9.—Twelve years ago this summer Australia, with the celebrated Norman Brookes and Anthony Wilding in the forefront, beat the United States in Davis cup play.

Today the international tourney is again in progress at Germantown. 1914 was the year the mighty Maurice McLoughlin kept America in the running by whipping Brookes and Wilding, as sensationists courts.

Despite the stellar work of McLoughlin, however, America was forced to bow in defeat, 3 to 2. Dick Williams, "Mac's" partner, lost both his matches, while Tom Lehach, McLoughlin took a licking together in the doubles.

The rumblings of the World War were being heard at the time. Brookes and Wilding, after carrying the famous cup back to their native Australia, entered the service.

Since America took that defeat in 1914, no invading force has been able to conquer Uncle Sam's boys in the challenge round.

Tunney Kayoes Madden; Dempsey Next Opponent

Editor's Note: This is the eighth and final article of the series by Joe Williams, fistic expert of NEA Service, Inc., dealing with the life story of Gene Tunney, challenger for the heavyweight championship.

By JOE WILLIAMS. (Copyright, N. E. A. Service.) As a somewhat necessary gesture it was decided that one more battler should be broiled and sizzled on the griddle of the ballyhoo while the pop-eyed public looked on through the medium of newspaper headlines.

Three months after the knockout of Tommy Gibbons it was announced that Gene Tunney would meet Bartley Madden in a 10-rounder at Minneapolis. Now Madden had only one thing to promote him as an opponent for Tunney.

The Tunney ballyhoo had already taken on definite and impressive dimensions. True, Tunney wasn't able to stop him in four rounds as Dempsey had, but his victory was emphatic just the same.

Gibbons had been whittled down and fled away for future reference in 12 rounds. That was much better than Dempsey had done. Where-as Tunney had scored a clean cut knockout, Dempsey had failed to put Gibbons down even once in 15 rounds.

Only Madden Remained. This exhausted the list of logicals with the exception of the aforementioned Madden. "Now the thing to do," reasoned Billy Gibson, "is to get Madden and knock him out quick. That will convince the public we are entitled to a shot at Dempsey ahead of Wills."

It was good reasoning, and for purposes of the ballyhoo undoubtedly had some effect. But Madden came into the ring in terrible shape. He hadn't done any boxing for two months and looked it. On top of that a report that Madden had been paid $20,000 by the Tunney interests to come out of retirement gained wide circulation and no little credence.

The undustered Gibson laughed this off. "What will it cost us to get Dempsey to come out of retirement?" he countered. "He's the Jasper we're after."

DEMPSEY JEERS AT BRIBERY TALE

Talk of $100,000 Fund to Corrupt Fight Officials Just "Same Old Stuff."

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 9.—A story eddied and whirled around in the ocean breezes here today which goeth like this: "A man (presumably bold and very, very bad) who has bet a lot of money on Gene Tunney, is sparkling around about $100,000 worth of 'sugar' in Philadelphia so as to clinch the decision and the championship for his man."

When Dempsey was told of this, the champion laughed. "Well, well, well," he commented, "it's beginning to sound like the old days. I know somebody would slip you a yarn like that sooner or later. They always do. And the figure is about the same. When I mixed it with Bill Brennan in New York, somebody was going to get 100,000 nice beautiful dollars for throwing the decision to Bill. But I happened to win that one."

Also With Georges. "And when I fought Georges Carpentier the same old rumor was circulated. Georges was going to win by hook or crook, it was said. But I happened to win that one."

Even so, France may yet be unequal to the task of halting the remarkable American dynasty, but sooner or later the Tri-color should reach the dizzy heights—and it wouldn't be surprising were such a thing to happen at Germantown.

The Cubs will practice tonight at Charter Oak street field instead of the East Side playgrounds at the last practice held Nick Angelo was reelected manager. Aldo Gentore was elected assistant manager and Felix Moszer was elected treasurer.

As recent as last March Gibson was positive Dempsey would never fight again. "We're just clowning around. If we are to get a fight next summer it will have to be Wills and I'm not sure you can drag that big Sambo-gambian into the ring with Tunney."

Dempsey and the fair Estelle ozoned into Miami while Gibson and Tunney were still there. Tunney decided to take the matter of getting a match with the champion in his own hands.

He called at Dempsey's hotel. Dempsey wasn't in. He phoned Dempsey's room. Dempsey wasn't in. He sat down in Dan Mahoney's editorial office in the Miami News building and sent the champion this wire:

"I want to talk to you for five minutes. Please let me know when and where I can see you."

Dempsey ignored the wire and left Miami that night. I met Tunney the next day. He was boiling mad. He stayed boiling mad for days.

A snarling hostility replaced his characteristic geniality. There was something mighty close to murder in his eye.

I murmured to myself, "And they say this bird CAN'T GET MAD!" Tunney hadn't expected that Dempsey would pick up the nearest pen and promptly sign the papers but he did expect that he would at least sit down and talk over the prospects of a bout between them.

Tunney seemed to think Dempsey had deliberately "cut" him, choosing this crude means to remind him that he was the great Dempsey and that Tunney was merely one of several eager challengers.

"I'll make the bum pay for this," growled Tunney as he drove me over to Rooney's Plaza for a surf swim. "Some day he will have to fight me and when he does I will knock his head from his shoulders. Mark my words."

Well that day Tunney talked about last spring with such intense fury will come on September 23 at Philadelphia.

And if Tunney enters the ring as boiling mad as he was the day I saw him in Florida, he may do exactly what he said he would.

MANCHESTER GOLF STAR PAIRED AGAINST HAGEN, WORLD'S CHAMP

Local Pro Will Pair Up With Jack Stait in Match With Hagen and Stein in Hartford for Next Tuesday.

Alex Simpson, Manchester's professional golf expert, has been selected to pair up with Jack Stait, Hartford professional, in a special exhibition match against Walter Hagen, recognized as the world's leading golf player, and his partner, Joe Stein, of the Nashua, N. H., Country Club, next Tuesday at the Hartford Golf Club course.

This will not be the first time that Simpson has met Hagen in a golf match. They have met several times before in tournament competition. It will, however, be the first appearance of Hagen in Hartford and it is expected that the attendance in both the morning and afternoon will be exceptionally large.

Hagen is acknowledged as one of the greatest golfers of the present century. His latest feats which have added to his prominence were his victories over Bobby Jones and Abe Mitchell. He was also a runner-up in the British open golf tournament and holds the National Professional championship of the United States.

This will be Hagen's last match before he plays in the National tournament at Salisbury, L. I., where he will defend the title he won last year. Simpson will also play in this tournament. He was one of the six from New England to qualify.

Manchester golf fans will get a rare treat Tuesday. It will be one of the very few opportunities to watch Hagen in action in this locality of the country. And the fact that Manchester premier golf shark will be pitted against him, adds to the drawing power locally.

The Catholic Ladies of Columbus will have their first fall meeting in K. of C. hall tomorrow evening at eight o'clock. Members are urged to make an effort to be present.

John McCann of 232 East Middle Turnpike who has been in the employ of Joseph Benson for some years, has gone into the papering and painting business for himself.

Miss Priscilla A. Crosby left Tuesday for Summit, N. J., where she will be an instructor in the junior high school.

David Johnson, 13 years old, of Center street, is recovering from a broken arm he sustained recently in a fall.

Business men in Manchester were in a happy mood today because of the favorable weather. They say that the weather man has spoiled Thursday afternoons for the past several weeks.

The Cloverleaf football team will practice tonight at the Community grounds at the North End at 7.30. All members are requested to report as a team. Name to be named at that time.

Steve Salak, who is employed by William H. Cowles on the Edgewood Fruit Farm at Manchester Green, was discharged from the Memorial hospital today. He has been in the hospital for treatment to his left hand which he cut severely with an axe last Friday.

The St. Mary's church choir will have a meeting tonight at 7.30. All members are urged to attend.

The Regents of the Daughters of Isabella, of all the state of Connecticut will meet at the Hotel Sheridan next Tuesday afternoon. Luncheon will be served at 1.30 after which a business meeting will be called to order. National Regent, Mrs. Mary E. Booth, and State Regent, Mrs. Elizabeth E. Kloss of Bristol, will be present. The last meeting was held at the Hotel Bond in Hartford, in June.

The evening sessions of the Connecticut Business College opens Monday, Sept. 13.

Timothy C. Sheehan, teacher of music, has resumed teaching.

Miss Esther Anderson and Miss Ruth Benedict, both teachers in the Eighth District school, have taken one of the suites in the Midland Apartments on Main street.

The Men's club of Second Congregational church will hold their annual outing next Saturday. The men will meet at the Balch & Brown building on Depot square at 1.30 p. m. and leave by private autos for Brown's Grove at Columbia Lake. During the stay at the lake a short business meeting with election of officers will be held. Nelson Smith heads the committee in charge and when it is known Chief John Jensen is in charge of the eats, the men know what to expect.

SIX-INCH WATER MAIN FOR APEL PLACE.

The Manchester Water company is laying a six-inch main from Oakland street to the Manchester Grain company's building on Apel place. In order to do this it will be necessary to shut off the water on Oakland street north of the railroad, Apel place, Mill, Union Court, Edward and North School street east of the bridge.

The water company has an advertisement announcing this fact in today's Herald. The water will be shut off tomorrow for twelve hours, from eight o'clock in the morning.

MANCHESTER GRANGE HOLDS NEIGHBORS' NIGHT.

Fully one hundred Grangers attended the meeting in Tinker hall last evening when Manchester Grange observed "Neighbors' night." Eight different Granges were represented—Scotland, Andover, Vernon, Bolton, Wapping, Hilltown, Wethersfield and Manchester.

Eugene Platt of Wapping, gave a monologue entitled "Uncle Iosh and the Life Agent," also a vocal duet "The Man and the Snip" by Mrs. Wetherell and a duet, "Violin Duet" by Miss LeChane and George Ladd of Andover. Harmonica medley, Charles Strickland of Hilltown.

Humorous reading, Mrs. Maxwell Hutchinson, Bolton. The local Grange served ice cream and cake and a social hour followed.

FAREWELL FOR RUSSELL MASON.

Russell Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mason of 165 Center street was the guest of honor at a farewell chicken supper given in Coventry Tuesday evening by his associates in the twisting department of Cheuey Brothers. Upwards of thirty men and women employees of the department enjoyed the party, and as a further token of their good will they gave him a purse of money.

In company with Norbert House, Mason left for Boston today to take a course of administrative engineering at Northeastern University.

NATHAN G. READ, BANKRUPT.

Nathan G. Read, formerly of this town, filed a petition in bankruptcy at New Haven yesterday, with liabilities of $40,000 and assets of $10,000. Mr. Read with his family left Manchester a year ago last June for Ithaca, N. Y. While here they owned and occupied the Ely place on Main street but vacated it under foreclosure proceedings. Mr. Read was a paper manufacturer and came here from Holyoke. He was interested in one of the paper mills at Burnside and had little to do with the people of Manchester.

MANY PAY TRIBUTE AT HICKING'S BIER

Funeral Services of High School Boy Largely Attended—S. M. H. S. Students Bearers.

Further proof of the esteem in which young William Hicking was held by his admirers was given at the funeral services this afternoon. There was a profusion of floral tributes from both individuals and groups to the popular 17-year-old youth who died at the Memorial hospital Monday night. The funeral service at his late home on 9 Short street was largely attended.

Relatives came from New York and Massachusetts and there were many local people in attendance. This included official representatives from his class at the local high school where he would have been a junior when school convened yesterday. Rev. T. J. Shannon, temporary pastor of the St. Mary's Episcopal church officiated.

The pall bearers were all High school students who are either graduates or in school now. They were Francis Hicking '25, Clarence Gustafson '26, Nicholas Angelo '25, Edward Boyce '26, Albert Ford '26, and Walter Holland '27. Burial was in the East cemetery. Among the many floral tributes were wreaths from the class of '25, S. M. H. S., Electrical department at the State Trade School and others from fellow chums at the West Side bearing the inscription, "Our Pal."

HARTFORD MAN HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Salvatore Strano of Hartford, a young man of twenty years, is held at the local police station under a bond of $1,000 charged with theft of $50 and assault on the person of Paul Cyr, of West Hartford. Strano was unable to furnish a bond. He will be given a hearing Saturday morning. Cyr is the man who was found at Love Lane badly beaten up. He claimed that two men picked him up in Hartford and offered to take him to his home in West Hartford. Instead they brought him out here, beat him up and left him in bad shape in the woods.

Sergeant William Barron has been working on the case and looking for Strano and another man whom he believes were guilty of the outrage. Yesterday he located Strano in Hartford and brought him out here.

Another Hartford man in Toils. John Howard of Hartford was sent to jail this morning for ten days for intoxication. He was picked up on Spencer street yesterday afternoon. According to the people in that section he was acting very strangely. He found his way into a house on Spencer street and the lady of the house became frightened and called the police. Sergeant Barron went over there and brought him to the station. He was delicious at the time.

PINNEY BUYS MORE LAND AT RAINBOW

Frank L. Pinney, owner of the Rainbow Inn and the Rainbow dance hall on Bolton Hill, today purchased a large tract of land just across the state highway from his inn. The tract has a frontage on the state road of 700 feet. The purchase was made from Mrs. Arthur Joyce Miller of Halfway, Mich. Mr. Pinney made the purchase in order to further improve his holdings in that section. The deal was transacted by the Arthur A. Knofia agency.

MRS. KEITH HEADS CHURCH SOCIETY

Chosen President of Foreign Missions Organization of South Methodist Church.

Mrs. J. H. Keith was chosen to head the Women's Foreign Missionary society at the annual meeting of that body held in the South Methodist church last night. It was reported that a total of $450 had been raised during the past year for the support of the Manchester Missionary in India and also to help along the work of Esther Sligh, a Bible woman in that country whom the local society has been taking care for about 45 years.

Those Who Helped Among the auxiliary bodies which contributed to the sum raised are the Standard Bearers, 14 to 21 years old; Kings' Heralds, 8 to 14 years old; and the Little Light Bearers, 150 children between the ages of one and 8 years. There are 16 Standard Bearers, 30 Kings' Heralds, as well as 50 auxiliary members.

Plans for the coming year in connection with the work of the society include a reading of the play "Cousin Kate" on November 1 in High school hall, mother and daughter banquet in January, a social in March, a rummage sale in April and a May supper.

Officers Elected Other officers elected are the following: Vice president, Mrs. Robert Richmond. Recording secretary, Mrs. Emma Hagenow.

Corresponding secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Flood. Standard bearer, Mrs. Paul Ferris. Assistants, Miss Marjorie Crockett, Miss Elsie Lewis.

Little Light bearer, Mrs. Robert Richmond. Mite box secretary, Mrs. Jennie Ferris. Manager, Miss Ella Stanley.

LOCAL SALVATIONISTS AT FAREWELL SERVICES

Go to Hartford to Bid Goodbye to Adjutant and Mrs. Charles Mehling.

The Salvation Army band and quite a number of the local members visited Hartford last night, and took part in the farewell services of Adjutant and Mrs. Charles Mehling who left on the night train for Buffalo; also ten young people from the Southern New England division left Hartford for the Salvation Army training college at New York City. Among those who left were Thomas and Faith Seaver the son and daughter of the divisional commanders Major and Mrs. Seaver.

These young people will be given a ten months' course of training in Salvation Army methods under efficient leaders and at the close of the training session will be sent out as officers to different parts of the country. The other members who left came from Springfield, Greenfield, Northampton, Mass., Bridgeport, Ansonia, and Danbury, Conn.

S. A. WONDERLAND, BEAUTIFUL PLACE

Commandant Abbott, Just Returned, Describes Sharon, Mass., Camp.

Commandant Abbott of the local Salvation Army Corps, who has just returned from a vacation spent at Sharon, Mass., is enthusiastic over the camp the Salvation Army has organized there. It takes care of poor children in the Boston district. Many from here have visited the camp and many plan to visit it next summer so the commandant thought it well to describe the resort as follows: "Wonderland is the name of the Salvation Army's latest fresh air camp for poor children and mothers, and is reported to be the finest up-to-date methods of dealing with the patrons of this wonderful place.

"The camp is composed of 67 acres of land with about 100 varieties of trees and shrubs. The property is the former Potter estate of Cuticura fame, and is located at Sharon, Mass. It has a very beautiful lawn, while the sea air camp proper has been hewn out of the woods and what used to be a swamp, but has been well drained.

Geographical Center Sharon is the geographical center for Eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island. It is located on a wonderful lake, about four miles around; with splendid fresh water bathing. The Welfare Department at the State House, Boston, and health inspectors say "the Army has the most sanitary and the most constructive camp in the state," and it is certainly the largest in the United States.

"The administration offices are in the old homestead which is known as the Gray House. Here Mrs. Colonel McIntyre has her office and where the greater part of the supervising plan is made. Mrs. McIntyre has the oversight of the camp and with a large staff of workers keeps things going along in the style.

Come from Cities "The children and mothers who go to the camp are gathered from the large cities and their ages range from 4 to 11 years which takes care of those who are not eligible for other camps, as other camps including Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls take them from 12 years up. During the month of July delegations were sent in from the medical department of the Boston schools of its underweights, who were kept at the camp until improvement was shown or parents were able to make other arrangements for them.

"The camp is laid out on the unit style, the mother's bungalows for four mothers and their little children is in a section by itself and each cottage has two verandas with two private entrances, so the mothers can have their own little flocks together. They are provided with toys, games, kiddie cars, so the children can amuse themselves, mother and children both reaping the benefit of the camp.

Children's Village "Just beyond the Mother's Bungalows we read the Children's Village which is a section laid off in streets where the children's dormitories built in cottage fashion, with sleeping accommodations for about 35 children, with their own little white enamel beds, and a separate room where the caretaker sleeps. In this section also is to be found the worker's cottage. Many of these houses display a placard stating this cottage was contributed by a certain person or persons, and more than one shows they are the gift of Rotary and Kiwanis clubs from different cities.

There is also the recreational section with its ocean wave, sliding boards, swings, teeter-totters, for the amusement of the young folks.

Story Telling "There is the Quiet Hour Partitions where the children are gathered for story telling and instruction on camp methods. One of the most interesting things and which seemed to be a special feature was the Trail, which took the visitor through the woods, where there has been erected a large fire-place where on a summer evening the children gather. Whilst the logs in the wide-open fire place are burning the children gather around and singing engages their attention. Also at times there has been the "hot dog", marshmallow and corn roasts which all make up the pleasures of camp life.

"It does seem as though nothing has been omitted to make things pleasant. There is the bath house for boys and girls, the camp laundry, wet weather pavilion, which has been occupied quite frequently during this summer, picnic tables for parties.

A Menagerie "No camp would be complete without some live stock and there is quite an attractive lot of animals including black bears, buffalo, elk, woodchuck, opossum, guinea pigs, foxes, raccoon, porcupine, skunk, rabbits, goats and the ponies which are special favorites as all children like a pony ride. Then there are the birds which include parrots, peacocks, pheasants, besides chickens and guinea fow.

"There is at present in the course of erection a health unit which was the gift of Harry T. Haywood of East Walpole, Mass. "The air around Sharon is considered the best east of Denver and the Army not only hopes to be able to take care of not only the first childhood, but second childhood;
