

FONCK FLIGHT ENDS IN QUICK DISASTER

Two of Crew Die as Huge Plane Collapses in the Take-off and Burns; Fonck, Curtin Escape But Clavier, Radio Man, and Islamoff, the Mechanician, Lose Their Lives.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Captain Rene Fonck's proposed non-stop flight to Paris ended in grim tragedy early today when the giant Sikorsky biplane in which the flight was to have been made burst into flames at the hop-off, causing two fatalities.

Captain Fonck and his co-pilot, Lieutenant Lawrence W. Curtin, U. S. N., escaped with their lives but Charles Clavier, wireless operator, and Jack Islamoff, mechanic, were fatally burned in the fuselage.

Leaders Little Hurt

Fonck and Curtin, sitting at the controls in the nose of the plane, were saved when the ship, falling to clear the ground after scolding a mile along the runway, fell into a deep gully. They crawled out and suffered only a few minor abrasions. Clavier and Islamoff, however, were trapped in the burning plane. The dapper French captain, hero of countless exploits in the world war, leaped into the plane shortly after six o'clock. As he went down the field in a cloud of dust, followed by spectators in automobiles, the great plane, heavily loaded with more than two thousand gallons of gasoline, disappeared over the crown of a little hill, descending into a twenty-foot gully.

An instant later, there was a puff and an explosion, and a sheet of flames shot up forty feet into the air, twenty feet above the top of the depression into which the great biplane had descended. Nearly a thousand spectators at the field were horror-struck.

There was a cheer, however, when Fonck and Curtin were found safe. They were able to walk. As the plane continued to burn, with the wings of the monster machine lying like skeletons beside the warped and twisted fuselage, there remained no doubt in anyone's mind but that both Islamoff and Clavier were dead.

Burns For Hours

Fire engines from the nearby town of Hartford and Meriden arrived quickly, followed a moment later by an ambulance from Mitchell Field. There was little that either doctors or firemen could do. Great clouds of white smoke shot into the air a distance of forty feet, with underlying sheets of flame as the gasoline driended ground continued to burn. Two airplanes circled overhead taking motion pictures of the fire, which was expected to burn for hours.

From a hasty survey of the runway on which the plane had attempted to make its hop to Paris, it was believed that a contributing factor in the accident was the breaking of auxiliary landing gear. This gear, which was designed to help the machine carry the tremendous load of more than 13,000 pounds of gasoline, somehow became entangled just before the take-off, it is believed. The total plane, with its load, weighed 23,160 pounds.

Running Gear Dragged.

The plane started to make its take-off run about 6:30 a. m., and the accident occurred a few seconds later. With the right wheel of the landing gear dragging on the ground, the plane ran off the end of the runway, struck a shallow gully, turned slowly over on its back and caught fire. Fonck and Curtin managed to get out as the plane was capsizing. The collapse of the right landing gear while the plane was rushing across the mile-long take-off path caused the accident.

Fonck Explains

Fonck and Curtin went to the hangar of the Sikorsky Company. The French ace explained the accident. "I realized after we hit the first rut that something had happened to my landing gear," Fonck said, through an interpreter. "When we hit the second rut, I felt another crash. In an instant I knew we were taxiing without the right wheel. "I tried to slacken speed gradually because I knew that, traveling nearly forty miles an hour, a crash was inevitable if I stopped, the motors too quickly. I was endeavoring to slow down when we hit the edge of the hill. Then I knew everything was up. "Just as the plane went over on its back, Curtin and I climbed out."

Not Flying Speed

S. (Casey) Jones, an expert pilot, who witnessed the crash, declared that Fonck had not attained

RED CROSS ON FIRST DAY GETS $743,848.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The nation has responded generously to President Coolidge's appeal for funds for relief of Florida hurricane sufferers, the Red Cross announced today. Within 24 hours the Red Cross, in charge of relief work, has received donations totaling $743,848.93.

SELECTMEN CUT TOWN EXPENSES IN NEW BUDGET

Suggest Alternate to Proposed Expenditures; Plan to Cut Highway Oiling, Parks, Police Budgets.

When the annual town meeting is held here on October 4 the voters will be asked to make appropriations to the town's estimated expenditures for 1927. The action taken that night will govern the tax rate which will not be laid until the following March. In an effort to educate the voters and taxpayers that they should turn out at this appropriation meeting the Board of Selectmen has tonight planned two different budgets.

Although the dissatisfaction said to be manifested by many taxpayers regarding the town's expenses was greatly discounted by the re-nomination of the entire Board of Selectmen at the recent Primary the board intends to give the taxpayers their choice of the two plans. The first plan would grant reasonable expenditures in all departments with slight increases in a few. A 14 mill tax rate would probably result from that plan.

The second is a cut expenses to the bone, cancelling plans for further highway improvement, and letting more streets go without oil. This would probably result in a 13 mill tax rate. Nothing less can possibly be offered the voters at the town meeting, in today's Herald on page six will be found a complete copy of the present standing of the town's budget and the proposed expenses for 1927. This is the budget that would call for a 14 mill tax rate.

In offering the alternate budget the board would cut the highways appropriation from $70,000 to $60,000, oiling from $15,000 to $10,000, parks and tree warden from $15,000 to $13,000, police from $36,000 to $32,400, garbage collection from $16,000 to $15,000, new bridges from $5,000 to $2,500, Trade school from $5,000 to $4,000, truck and tractor from $12,000 to $5,000, and the storm water sewers appropriation would be eliminated.

Should Attend Meeting.

The Selectmen feel that if the voters and taxpayers want to do without these improvements they should be at the town meeting on October 4 and express their opinions. It is the plan to have copies of the two proposed budgets printed and distributed at the meeting so that those who desire to speak on the tax question may have something accurate from which to discuss the expenditures. The copy of the expense and proposed budget on page six of today's Herald will be of great help to taxpayers in studying the exact financial condition of the town.

The board last night stressed the point that the biggest item by far in the entire budget is schools. The board has no control over school expenditures, and has asked the town school board to keep expenses down as much as possible. A chart is being prepared by Town Treasurer Waddell which will show the people of Manchester just how the money they pay in taxes is spent. The biggest part of the chart will represent schools. At last night's meeting the building inspector's report was read and accepted. It will be found elsewhere in today's Herald.

Thomas Prentice, Almee DeMars and Irving Keeney of Keeney street were before the board asking that the holes in the road's surface be filled in as soon as possible. They reported the street in bad shape, and were informed that the town road force started working there yesterday. They were also anxious to have the Keeney street line hearing brought up again.

WETHERSFIELD GUARD WAS IN CONVICTS' PLOT

For $1,500 Bribe Smuggled Hacksaws to Two Long Term Men—Admits His Guilt Upon Arrest.

Hartford, Sept. 21.—Discovered aiding two convicts in an attempt to escape from the state prison at Wethersfield for which he had accepted a bribe of $1,500, Earle Davis, 23, a guard at the prison, was arrested at the prison yesterday afternoon. Unable to furnish bonds of $3,500, he was brought to Hartford county jail where he now is.

Edward Slattery, a "lifer," and Lawrence H. Ferrone, serving a 30-year sentence as an habitual criminal, had been furnished with three hack saw blades by Davis and partly sawed through bars of their cells when the plot was discovered. Slattery previously escaped in 1919, but was caught at Meriden. Admits Watching.

Before Justice Howard P. Dunham, of Wethersfield, Davis admitted he had watched while the convicts sawed at their cell bars on two different nights, telling them when other guards approached. Ferrone is reported as having continually been making attempts to escape from the prison. Both convicts are known as "tough characters."

MRS. WATKINS DIES AS RESULT OF FALL

Embolism Occurs When Cast Is Removed; Prominent as a Welfare Worker.

Mrs. Jennie E. Watkins of South Main street died early this morning at the Memorial hospital. Death was due to embolism which occurred shortly after the cast had been removed from her leg which she broke in a fall from a tree at Wethersfield. She was picking cherries from a tree near her home. She was removed to the hospital at once and appeared to be recovering very satisfactorily until the cast had been removed.

Mrs. Watkins was the daughter of Norman Thrall and Harriet Grant, Thrall of South Windsor and was born in that town November 28, 1856. After finishing school she taught in the Oakland, Buckland and Keeney street schools. She married Clarence G. Watkins in 1878 and they attended the Centennial observance that year in Philadelphia.

Temperance Leader

Mrs. Watkins was actively associated with many religious and temperance movements and contributed many articles to magazines of the same nature. She also spoke at many religious and temperance meetings. She was vice president of the Life and Advent Camp Meeting association for many years and last year was elected treasurer. She has also been president of the Manchester W. C. T. U. and the County W. C. T. U. She is survived by her son, C. E. Elmore Watkins, a daughter, Mrs. Lura Watkins Rush and a brother, Frank N. Thrall of Burnside and five grandchildren. The funeral will be held from her late home Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. The funeral will be private, due to the illness of a member of the family.

Rev. Robert G. Huggins, pastor of the Second Advent church of New Britain at which Mrs. Watkins was a member, will officiate. He will be assisted by Rev. Henry Stone of Wallingford, a friend of the family. Burial will be in the East cemetery.

ATTORNEY WAS TURNED DOWN ON SWISS DEAL

Dulles Tells Court He Was Told Claim of Merton Would Not Be Passed by Government.

New York, Sept. 21.—John F. Dulles, former attorney for Richard Merton, German financier, testified today at the trial of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general and Thomas W. Miller former alien property custodian, charged with conspiracy in connection with the return of $7,000,000 in war claims, that the late John T. King, Connecticut politician, superseded him as the representative of Merton in matters having to do with the claim for the seized alien property.

Dulles told of a trip he made to Washington to see government officials to learn the attitude of the government regarding the claim of the Societe Suisse. Four Valuers des Metaux. It was this company's property that Merton came to the United States in 1921 to see if he could have it returned. Merton was successful. Dulles testified he was told the government would not pass a claim such as was being made by the Societe Suisse. Merton testified on the stand last week that he "retained" King and paid him $441,000 for putting "rough" the claim.

Dulles testified to a spirited cross examination by Max Steuer, attorney for Daugherty, regarding what he told government officials concerning the claim.

FIND BOY, CONVICT'S PAL, BACK FROM SEA

Detroit Lad, Widely Sought, Has Been Gentleman Hobo and Collier Sailor.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 21.—Having played the role of gentleman hobo and seaman, John Miley, 16, son of a Detroit clergyman, who ran away with Edward F. Cole, an ex-convict of the state of Maine, and for whom a nation-wide search was made, today was awaiting a Detroit police inspector to take him home. Meanwhile, police were searching for Cole.

The pair, enroute east, accidentally ran their automobile into a tree at Syracuse, N. Y. They got fifty dollars for the wreck but reached Norfolk, Va., penniless. They shipped aboard a collier. Cole left the boy here, the lad again shipping on the Collier, which grounded on Pollock Rip shoals. When she again reached her dock, officers were waiting for Miley, having received a tip that he was aboard.

DEMPEY-TUNNEY FIGHT TO BE HEARD OVER WTIC

The Travelers Insurance Company, through Superintendent Johnson of the WTIC broadcasting station, late this afternoon announced that the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Philadelphia Thursday night would be broadcast through the Hartford station. The rights for the broadcast were purchased by the Royal Typewriter Company and then issued to a big chain of stations.

Mexican Government Hunting For Seditious Radio Stations

Mexico City, Sept. 21.—The Mexican government has ordered a special radio finding apparatus from the United States in an effort to locate the three secret radio broadcasting stations which are sending out alleged seditious propaganda. Government experts have decided that one of these stations is in Michoacan, another is in northern Mexico, and the third is in the district of Mexico City, but have been unable to definitely locate them.

LOVE MATCH FOR PRINCESS ASTRID

Belgian King and Queen Announce Troth of Son Just "as Ordinary Parents."

Brussels, Sept. 21.—King and Queen Albert of Belgium, seeing a new precedent in royal procedure, today received newspaper correspondents, and, making no effort to conceal their great happiness, announced the engagements of Prince Leopold and Princess Astrid of Sweden.

The King and Queen both beamed with joy as they stressed the fact that the marriage is a "love match." Princess Astrid, who will one day be queen of the Belgians, was warmly praised by both the King and Queen as "a cultured girl of great simplicity," who will "adapt herself to the national life of Belgium."

The King and Queen summoned the newspaper correspondents and fairly bubbled forth their glad news "just as two ordinary parents," and not as a king and queen, said the King.

"These two young people have met frequently in the past months and have decided entirely independently to unite their destinies. The union is one of inclination," said the King.

"They will make a charming couple," said the Queen happily. When correspondents asked the date of the marriage, the Queen replied: "Just as soon as possible."

"The wedding will be in Brussels, because Prince Leopold is the heir to the throne," the Queen added. The Queen concluded that Prince Leopold and Princess Astrid first met last June in Sweden and that the courtship had developed rapidly.

DEMPEY SAYS KEARNS SERVED A PRISON TERM

Makes Theft Accusation in Answer to Suit Brought by His Former Manager.

Atlantic City, N. J. Sept. 21.—Jack Dempsey, through his attorney, today filed his answer to the suits brought against him by Jack Kearns.

Dempsey charges Kearns with appropriating $500,000 of the champion's money. He also charges that Kearns is an ex-convict, having served a term in a penitentiary in the state of Washington.

Kearns on Saturday filed an action which resulted in Dempsey being declared a temporary bankrupt. Kearns had demanded an accounting from Dempsey of all moneys that the champion had received from August 3, 1923, to August 3, 1926, the period covered by the Dempsey-Kearns contract.

Dempsey's answer said that in August, 1925, he discovered that Kearns "had appropriated to himself certain moneys which belonged to me and which aggregated $500,000."

Dempsey said "and also because I discovered that Kearns was an ex-convict, having been imprisoned in a penitentiary in the state of Washington for a considerable period of time after he had been duly convicted, that I dispensed with his services."

MIAMI BEGINS TO REBUILD; NO FOOD SCARCITY

Death List for City, Miami Beach and Hollywood Set at Above 200; Key West Says "All Well."

Miami, Sept. 21. (Via courier to Palm Beach)—Today found Miami beginning actual reconstruction with martial law lifted.

Restoration of water and electric light service began with the re-opening of the water works by Col. W. H. Collins of Plant City, Monday night and construction workers were busily engaged erecting and repairing dwellings before daylight this morning.

Rescue parties kept up a search for bodies through the debris. It is believed an accurate casualty list cannot be obtained for several days. More than 200 are reported dead in Miami, Miami Beach and Hollywood.

Food Enough

Expressions of sympathy and offers of aid were received from all parts of the country. Medical supplies and foodstuffs were pouring in at such a rate that civil authorities asked that the outside world be assured that the only aid needed by Greater Miami was money to aid the destitute in rebuilding their homes.

The food supply is ample for about sixty days and more can be obtained on short notice, authorities said.

The fury of the storm was spent between Miami and Pompano, about 40 miles north. The hurricane which took a path of death and destruction of the lower coast continued its havoc across the state, killing forty people at Moore Haven, on Lake Okeechobee.

Sebring suffered considerable damage from wind and water. Key West reported that "all was well."

4 Cities' Loss $350,000,000

An estimate of the property damage in the storm-wrecked district is impossible at this time, but the combined losses of Miami, Miami Beach, Hollywood and Fort Lauderdale, including marine destruction, will conservatively exceed $250,000,000.

In Miami Beach, which is practically isolated from the outside world by a condemned causeway, many mansions were razed by the hurricane.

The Carl G. Fisher home on Lincoln road is a mass of debris. The Roney Plaza, Wofford, and Pan Coast hotels along the ocean front here the brunt of the storm. The Gulf Stream apartment building, farther north, was damaged to the extent of $100,000. The Florida estate and a number of beautiful homes were wrecked.

At South Miami Beach where the hurricane hit hardest, all the houses were leveled. Some of the structures have disappeared.

"The Florida hot" is converted into a "cold" agency here. The pine-wood was used as a dormitory for many homeless. In Bay Pines, hundreds of craft both large and small were battered to pieces by the angry waters. Bay Front Park was strewn with wreckage. A molished yacht and schooner. A molished yacht and schooner. A molished yacht and schooner. A molished yacht and schooner.

RECONSTRUCTION WORK

Every workman was pressed in to service rebuilding houses. Street crews were cleaning the thoroughfares of fallen trees, telephone poles and other debris. Storekeepers began taking inventory of their undamaged stocks.

Miami Loss $125,000,000.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 21.—Acting Mayor James Gilman and City Manager Frank H. Wharton today issued an official statement to the effect that property damage in Miami as a result of Saturday's hurricane would total over $125,000,000. There is plenty of food in the city to take care of every needy person, but money donations will be gladly accepted, Wharton said.

MONEY LOSSES INCREASE, REACH STAGGERING SUMS

50,000 "SAFE" WIRES SENT FROM MIAMI.

Jacksonville, Sept. 21.—Florida is telegraphing the world this message: "Safe at Miami. Am writing."

The Western Union Telegraph office here has been working its full staff overtime for two days relaying such messages to Miami. No wires go into Miami, but the messages are brought to West Palm Beach or to Jacksonville by courier, then wired out. Traffic department employees estimated that 50,000 "safe" messages have been sent in two days, and they expect as many more.

PALM BEACHES A CENTER OF RELIEF

Receiving Many Refugees and Working Hard in Aid of Luckless Cities.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 21.—The Palm Beaches today are concentrating every effort on aiding other cities and towns along the east coast that were more heavily damaged by the fury of Saturday's tropical hurricane. Ambulance loads after loads of wounded persons were brought here, and while uniformed nurses, khaki-clad soldiers, sailors, coast guardsmen were awaiting the call to ride in trucks or automobiles to towns between Fort Lauderdale and Miami.

A Miami detective arrived here last Monday night seeking narcotics to aid aid sufferers there. A doctor was making the rounds of doctors' offices for tetanus serum. In the Legion building, tired eyes of women were folding bandages and packing bundles of clothing. Food was being arranged for in another section of the building.

Refugees Pour In.

Refugees from the storm-wrecked sections have started to come here in droves.

The big hotels in the winter colony at Palm Beach suffered little damage.

Most of the yacht owners headed storm warnings and tied up in the San Lucas canal in the Royal Poincane basin and avoided wreckage. A few were sunk. More than a dozen houseboats are known to have been wrecked.

Between Delray and Boca Raton the scenic highway overlooking the ocean is literally wiped away. Power, which was shut off here during the storm, has been turned on again and telephone service is gradually getting back to normal.

FIRST DISTRICT G. O. P. RENOMINATES FENN

No Opposition to Representative in Congress Develops at New Britain Convention.

New Britain, Sept. 21.—Congressman E. Hart Fenn, of the First Connecticut district, was today unanimously renominated as Republican candidate for that office in a district convention held here. He was nominated by Attorney James W. Knox of Hartford, before the convention presided over by Judge William J. Malone, of Bristol.

Judge Malone praised the congressman's past work for the district and Congressman Fenn, in accepting, declared: "It is no small thing to represent the First Connecticut district in Congress."

The present congressional committee was reappointed by the convention with Goodwin X. Beach, Hartford, chairman and Edward W. Irving, New Britain; Mrs. Allen L. Bockus, of Manchester, and W. Hayden Brockway, of West Hartford, as members. The convention paid tribute to the work of President Coolidge, Governor Trumbull and Mr. Fenn.

Following the convention the one hundred delegates were entertained at dinner in the Hotel Burritt by Congressman Fenn.

Dexter Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Johnson of Linden Street, entered the University, Providence, yesterday.

Now Believed Lives Lost Will Not Far Exceed 500 in Florida But Storm Effect on Gulf Coast Is Unknown; Middle West Now Threatened With Great Electrical Disturbance as Barometer Falls.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Storm warnings for the entire midwest were broadcast from the United States Weather Bureau here today as violent wind and electrical disturbances swept eastward out of the Dakotas.

The barometers in the storm area have fallen half an inch in the last 12 hours and now are at a lower point than that reached in Florida during the hurricane, the weather bureau stated.

Florida digging herself out of the ruins, surveying her wounds, and burying her dead—the gulf coast, hard hit and still staggering, unable to definitely ascertain the damage wrought, Pensacola silent source of deep anxiety.

This was the situation today, more than 80 hours after the West Indian hurricane hurled itself out of tropical seas and fell with a crash upon America's winter playground.

The extent of the damage wrought by 100-mile gales and heavy seas thrown bodily into unprotected communities can only be approximated. It is heavy enough, both in lives and property, so that the hurricane will go down in history as one of the most terrible catastrophes in Florida's history, but it probably will be days before an accurate estimate can be made.

Death List Shrinks.

Out of the confusion of wrecked cities, interrupted communication, and impassable roads, however, there was emerging this morning some slight semblance of order. Relief work was getting under way with a degree of system, communication with communities cut off from the outside world since the fury broke was slowly established, and every incoming dispatch from the stricken area told of the determination of the sufferers to build anew what has been destroyed.

As order emerged from chaos, the toll of human life appeared to diminish. Whereas some estimates on Sunday and Monday had placed the dead as high as 2,000, it is now reported to be doubtful if the list runs above 500.

Property Loss Grows.

As the damage to human life diminished with the restoration of order and communication, the property toll appeared to mount higher. The damage has been terrific and widespread.

In Miami alone the city manager has estimated the destruction at $125,000,000, and Miami was only one of the winter playgrounds strung jewel-like along the South Florida coast, which lay directly in the pathway of the devastating wind. Other noted resorts—Hollywood, Coral Gables, Delray, Homestead, Miami Beach, and the towns further inland around Lake Okeechobee, suffered tremendously. In Moore Haven alone the death list is estimated at sixty.

Strenuous efforts were being made today to re-establish communication with Pensacola, on the gulf coast. The powerful naval radio station there has been silent since a final message yesterday which said the wind was attaining a velocity of 100 miles an hour and was causing heavy damage.

Prepared, if possible. It is not believed, however, that the gulf coast resorts have suffered as severely as Florida. They had warning of the wind's advance, and were prepared, if preparation were possible.

Meanwhile, the nation with its customary generosity, is pouring money and supplies into the stricken cities. Reports to Red Cross headquarters in Washington today disclosed that the entire country has risen magnificently to the appeal for funds for relief work.

A Tropical Radio dispatch from Mobile said that while the storm was the worst in ten years, the toll

MAIN STREET RENTS NOT UNUSUALLY HIGH
Man Who Knows Says $300 a Month for Store in South End is About Right.

The rent to be paid by the Grant Co. for the store in the Podrovo building was $300 monthly. When this was made known there was much discussion among people unacquainted with rentals in the South End. The consensus seemed to be that the rent was unusually high. But is it?

One of the foremost real estate men of the town was interviewed yesterday on the subject.

"It is not high at all," he said. "It is about the rental of all of the stores on Main street in the South End. There are little stores here, hardly wide enough to turn around in where the rent is set at $80 a month.

"These rents are not exorbitant. In the last four or five years, what with taxes and the price of skilled and unskilled labor, everything has gone up many times. When you figure on the wages paid to mechanics you can easily figure how you'll have to raise the rents to get any return from your money.

Do Business.

"But how can they make a living paying such high rents. As you pass the stores daily you hardly ever see any customers. Of course on Tuesday and Saturday evening they do business but during the morning hours and the early afternoon there are hardly any persons on the streets, not alone in the stores shopping.

"Because you do not see anybody in the stores does not prove anything. I do thousands of dollars' worth of buying in this town in the course of a year and I wager you've never seen me in the hardware stores. I buy forty or fifty thousand dollars' worth of lumber a year and you've never seen me in a lumber yard. The fact of the matter is that the stores do a tremendous telephone business these days. That's how I do all of my buying. Go to the rear of these stores and see their trucks go out and get a better idea of what business is being done than by looking into the front of the store."

INJURIES TO DWYER PROVE TO BE SERIOUS
Carpenter Who Fell from Masonic Temple Has Double Fracture of the Spine.

Although first reports were that John R. Dwyer's condition was not serious, a bulletin issued from the Memorial hospital today showed that the former local baker has a double fracture of the spine. His condition is regarded as serious.

Dwyer, who is a prominent member of Campbell Council, K. of C., was injured yesterday morning when he fell fifteen feet from a scaffold at the Masonic Temple at the Center where he was employed as a carpenter by the Manchester Construction Company.

FLORIDA ASKS AID FOR UNFORTUNATES
Manchester People Can Assist by Contributing to Treasurer of Local Red Cross Chapter.

Manchester is asked to contribute its mite to the relief of the homeless thousands who suffered from the disastrous hurricane in Florida last week. A telegram from John Barton Payne, national chairman of the American Red Cross to R. K. Anderson, chairman of Manchester chapter, makes an appeal for funds with which to buy supplies of food and other necessities for people in the stricken areas. Money is asked for because that is easiest transported. The Red Cross is already on the scene of the disaster and has started to work. But money is needed from all chapters in this country with which to carry on the relief work that has been begun.

Chairman Payne's telegram follows:

"To all chapters Red Cross extending aid to the devastated area of Florida hurricane disaster. Your chapter is authorized to receive and forward to National Headquarters in Washington all contributions for relief. Adequate publicity should immediately be given the fact that citizens of your community can contribute through your chapter. Wire action taken. John Barton Payne, Chairman, American Red Cross.

Those in Manchester who wish to contribute to the relief of Florida are asked to mail checks or money orders to Lucius Pinney, Prospect street, treasurer of Manchester chapter.

NOTICE
 All persons liable by law to pay taxes in the Ninth School District of Manchester are hereby notified that the assessors of the Town of Manchester have returned to Charles R. Hathaway, clerk of said district, a list of valuation on the grand list of said town of the year 1925 made by them under the provisions of the General Statutes, and that said assessors and the selectmen of said town will meet at the office of the Town Clerk in the Town of Manchester on the 1st day of October, 1926, at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the said assessors and the selectmen have the same powers in relation to said list that the Board of Relief has in relation to town lists.

Dated at Manchester, September 20th, 1926.

NOTED MASON HERE FOR THE CENTENNIAL
Grand Master Arthur N. Nash of Westerly, R. I., to Be in Town October 2.

Grand Master Arthur N. Nash of Westerly, head of the Masonic lodge of Connecticut, will be one of the visitors at the centennial celebration of Manchester lodge of Masons on Saturday, October 2 when a dinner will be given in the State Armory. Another of the prominent Masons who will be present is Rev. Byron Ulric Hatfield, chaplain of the state, also of Westerly.

The dinner will be served at 6:30 on Saturday and will be presided over by Judge William S. Hyde of this town. During the evening A. F. Howes of Manchester, historian of Manchester lodge, will read informal sidelights and incidents that do not appear in his formal history of the organization.

As Manchester lodge is a daughter lodge of Orient lodge of East Hartford, Worthington B. Olmstead of the parent lodge, will pay his respects to the local Masons at the dinner. Supt. F. A. Verplanck, chairman of the committee will make a few remarks.

A prominent Mason who will be one of the speakers is Rev. Alexander H. Abbott, master of St. James' lodge of Norwich. The invocation will be delivered by Rev. Joseph Cooper of the South Methodist church.

Entertainment will be furnished by the Paramount orchestra and the Masonic quartet.

NEW YORK MAN BUYS FAVA'S MARKET HERE
Fava's Market Here

Fava's Market on Oak street has been sold to A. Canale of New York. This market has been one of the largest and most popular markets on the east side for many years. It was established about 16 years ago as the Italian Cooperative Corporation. After operating as such for about ten years the interests were bought by Fava and Bosco. They made some changes and continued the business. Later Mr. Bosco withdrew from the partnership and it became known as Fava's Market. Two years ago Mr. Fava was forced to retire from active business because of poor health and the business was carried on for Mr. Fava by A. Gremmo and William Bilflore.

The new owner, Mr. Canale, plans extensive alterations throughout the store. It will be given a new coat of paint, the general arrange-

SOUTH SIDE OF STREET NOW NEARLY FINISHED
Connecticut Co. Holding Up North Side—Two Concrete Mixers on Job.

While construction of the north side of the new Center street pavement is being delayed until the Connecticut company has installed its track the State Highway department will utilize the time lost by improving the road from Adams street to Love Lane. Two concrete mixers speeded up the work and now it is expected that the entire south side of the street will have been concreted by tomorrow night.

A new mixer was put on the job a week ago, beginning at the entrance to the Richardson coal yards near New street. It has progressed past Church street while the first mixer has only the short distance from Pine street to the coal yards to go.

In the meantime four feet of concrete will be added to the road between Adams street and Love Lane and the whole surface of this road will be covered with asphalt to make it uniform with the new surface of Center street. This will give an asphalt covered road all the way from Manchester to Hartford.

The Connecticut company workmen are not as far ahead of the CONCRETE MIXERS AS THEY HAD AGREED THEY WOULD BE FOR THE REASON THAT THE TWO MIXERS WERE PUT ON THE JOB. IN LAYING THE TRACK THE TIES MUST BE BALLESTED AND TAMPED AND THESE OPERATIONS TAKE CONSIDERABLE TIME.

LOS AIRSHIP AT NEWPORT.
 Newport, R. I., Sept. 21.—The Los Angeles, giant navy dirigible, is swinging from its anchorage on the east of the U. S. S. Patoka, a short distance from the training station here. The Los Angeles arrived last night after a slow trip from her hangar at Lakehurst, N. J.

handsome loving cups. Prizes will be given each contest night to the couple winning. That couple will also be entered in the final contest which will be held on the seventh Wednesday night. There will be six contest nights and on the seventh the finals will be held. The loving cups will be handsome and will be suitably engraved.

Bill Tullio's orchestra has been secured by Manager Pinney to play for all the contests. That assures good music for the contestants. Tullio's appears at the Rainbow for modern dancing on Wednesday and Saturday nights.

At Pinney's Rainbow Inn, adjacent to the pavilion, a full a la carte restaurant service is now available.

He says: "My stomach gave me so much trouble I became weak and run-down. Everything I ate caused continual belching and gas that bloated my stomach. "The poisons of constipation swept through my system ravaging my liver and kidneys. Whenever I moved pains shot across the small of my back. And my nerves became affected. Instead of sleeping at night I would toss and turn. For two years I suffered intensely. Then Tanlac came to the rescue. "This wonderful tonic cleaned out my system, toned up my organs, relieved stomach troubles and nervousness. It gave me new strength and health. I recommend Tanlac to everyone."

PRIMARY LAW.

In the natural course of events Miss Marjory Cheney and Judge Raymond A. Johnson will be returned to the Connecticut House of Representatives by the voters of Manchester. It is reasonable to expect that their election will be about the assistance of the four...

In the light of the peculiar situation that arose in the Manchester primary, it would appear to be perfectly obvious that there are holes in the primary law—and that they ought to be darned. And we know of nobody among the probable membership of the next House of Representatives who will have better reason to realize this than these two capable persons who are going to be elected from Manchester.

It would seem to us to be good business for both of them to interest themselves in presenting and advocating some change in the primary law which will prevent Democrats, Socialists, Prohibitionists and politically unattached off-horses from voting in Republican primaries and in each other's primaries.

The Hohenthal episode demonstrated the futility of the present law, and its active injustice into the bargain. That persons who were once upon an ancient time Republicans or Democrats or whatever, but who now recognize no moral obligation to abide by the decisions of the primaries of those parties, should be permitted to vote in them without even an identification of themselves as members of the party concerned, is not only unsatisfactory, it is unfair and calculated to destroy the whole purpose of the primary.

We very seriously entertain the hope that a movement for reform in this matter may emanate from Manchester. No town in the state has better reason to know that it is needed.

EFFECTS.

In property loss the effects of the latest tropical hurricane to visit the United States will undoubtedly far exceed those of the Galveston tragedy of 1900, but in destruction of human life this storm promises, fortunately, to fall far short of that catastrophe, when seven thousand persons were drowned or otherwise killed.

From present indications, though the lists of dead are probably far from complete, it is likely that the total casualties will not number more than 600 and perhaps may fall below that figure, even when the record, including all isolated communities is complete.

That, however, contemplates only the disaster on the Florida peninsula. What has happened at Pensacola, Mobile and at other points in Alabama and Mississippi is not, of course, known. But it would be strange if the fury of the great storm did not in some degree abate as it gets farther from the point of its origin.

Florida has now had her wallop. It probably won't be her turn again in a couple of centuries." And the tragedy of 1926 will be, if not forgotten, at least, dulled in memory.

None the less there is no getting away from the fact that the state has taken an unmerciful beating in more ways than one.

MISSSES THE JOKE.

The Philadelphia Bulletin, calmly ignoring the perfectly contradictory factor of "strict law enforcement" which made everybody laugh, bats the Connecticut Democracy's pronouncement for advocating repeal of the eighteenth amendment, in these words and under the caption, "A Futile Gesture":

Connecticut's Democracy by a ten to one vote in convention demanding the absolute repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment has taken the most extreme wet position yet registered by a political gathering. The most radical action previously was that of the Maryland Democrats, who proposed to remit enforcement entirely to the States, letting each, in effect, make its own definition of the intoxicating beverages forbidden by the Constitution.

Neither the Maryland nor the Connecticut position are likely to be widely endorsed by the opponents of Volsteadism, either in the Democratic party or elsewhere. The practical difficulties of repeal are too many and, in addition, many who think the extension of the Federal police power over the alcoholic liquor traffic a step which it would have been wise to avoid, are unwilling to give up the use of a potent weapon against alcoholism now that it has been placed in their hands.

Most opponents of Volsteadism, including the outright "wets" who are at once practical and reasonable, seek some method whereby relaxation of the rigors of the extreme conception of prohibition as set forth in the Volstead act may be obtained. The problem has been forced to the front by the practical difficulties of enforcement. Reasonable wets realize that no nullification of the amendment will be tolerated and that the return of the old-time saloon must be prevented.

The idle gesture of Connecticut will not influence the practical men in other States who are seeking to turn the prohibition issue to Democratic advantage against making modification of the law, not repeal of the amendment, their program.

We doubt whether the Bulletin would have so seriously concerned itself with the attitude of the Connecticut Democratic party on the liquor question, or any other, if it were close enough to the scene to realize what a hopelessly disorganized, motiveless and aimless mob the remnant of that party in this state really is.

It was not always so, but it is precisely so today, that the Connecticut democracy's position on any question is of just about no account. It is only the sure conviction of this truth that relieves the people of the state from feeling some embarrassment. We should not, any of us, be very proud of having such silliness as that of the New Haven convention broadcasted to the nation as representing, seriously, any important part of Connecticut political opinion. Under the circumstances, however, nobody minds. Not many will take this business as gravely as the Bulletin.

SERFS.

It will be interesting to note whether or not the young woman employe of the New London office of the Connecticut Power Company who was discharged for bobbing her hair obtains any redress from the "higher up" authorities of the company to whom she threatens to appeal her case.

It appears that in the New London office of the Connecticut Power Co., which is under the personal observation of the general manager of the corporation who is also a vice-president, there is supposed to be a hard and fast rule against hair-bobbing. No such rule has ever been formally promulgated, but apparently the aversion of the personage to such proceedings was known among the employes and none, before the present young woman, had dared to brave his ire. Being an independent soul, and knowing that she was doing her work well, this employe just went and had her hair cut. Now she is out of a job and the Connecticut Power Co. has to break somebody else into it.

smack of old-world tyranny, a suggestion of the knout, in this kind of thing which doesn't sit well on the American stomach. We are inclined to think that if the young woman does indeed take her cause to the directorate of the Connecticut Power Co. she may find that among the sane and fair minded people on that board she may not be altogether without a chance of redress.

There is a principle involved in this piece of bullying. And it is highly improbable that the Connecticut Power Company will have any wish to appear before the people of this state as a business concern which aspires to make serfs out of its employes.

TOO YOUNG.

Discovery that a twenty-three year old guard at the state prison at Wethersfield has been involved in a plot to free a lifer and a thirty year prisoner in consideration of a substantial bribe is occasion for surprise, not that a mere boy like this guard should have yielded to money temptation but that guards of his age should be employed at all.

To be a prison guard calls for a certain ruggedness of character, for a certain seasoned stolidity of temperament, that does not come to men of twenty-three unless they are exceptionally strong characters or exceptionally stupid. It is no job for a youth.

As a matter of fact it is no job for anybody who is not well matured. If the minimum age limit were set at thirty-five, in the employment of prison guards, it would probably be much to the advantage of the service.

At a guess, one would say the coming encounter would resemble an engagement between a cast-iron bulldog and a real live one—a live bull terrier, rather, as pepper and more punishment.

The live animal's bound to excel in activity but he may break his teeth on the cast-iron article. In a word, this thing is going to be a clash between an irresistible force and an immovable body. What happens is sure to be interesting and instructive but it can't be forecast with any degree of certainty.

Senator Gillett beat Walsh two years ago, but that didn't signify much. It was a "Republican year." At that, Gillett didn't beat him badly. Besides Gillett himself is popular—not morose like Walsh but well liked. He was speaker of the House of Representatives, too, and his state was proud of him.

Butler's renominated, but that was a foregone conclusion. He had no opposition. The job's now to elect him—no, not re-elect him. He's been serving hitherto by appointment, as the late Senator Lodge's successor. Now he goes to the voters, which is entirely different from being named by a governor.

The loss of any other state would be about the same thing as a slip on the president's wrist compared with a wallop from a pair of brass knuckles. If he loses Massachusetts, New Massachusetts is doubtful.

Now Massachusetts is doubtful. It's particularly doubtful this year by reason of the contrasting make-ups of the two candidates.

Two more widely different individuals don't exist than Senator William M. Butler and David I. Walsh, who opposes him on the Democratic ticket. It's impossible to judge in advance what a fight between them will be like. The campaign will have to develop it.

Walsh is a red-hot speaker, a spell-binder, a scrapper of the first water, a political fire-eater, aggressive, magnetic, a liberal, a wet, highly popular, enthusiasm awakener. Butler's cold, silent, haughty. His dictatorial manner was resented.

Senator Butler

In the Senate. Whether he's liked or not seems to be a matter of indifference to him. When he says anything, it isn't a speech. It's an order. He's a dry. In the whole country there isn't a more ultra-conservative.

DAILY ALMANAC. Today is the feast day of St. Matthew, apostle. First daily newspaper in the United States—The American Daily Advertiser, published at Philadelphia, 1784.

IN NEW YORK. New York, Sept. 21.—Scattered notes from a ramble about Manhattan: The produce market wharves at midnight... The food of a city is coming by ship, rail and motor... A million dollars a day in vegetables alone... All in two blocks on west riverfront... Black figures swarm about the crates like ink-stained bees... The night is just beginning... One o'clock! Two! Three!... Things are just getting lively at a couple of night clubs... Sleep just begins to grow heavy elsewhere... Things just begin to get liveliest along the wharves... Food is coming for breakfast... In the morning the women will go with slips and market baskets... It will not occur to them to question how, where or why... All the fruits and vegetables will be there, washed and polished and shining and inviting... For the world has been coming in at the docks over night... Red persimmons from the Orient... the golden lemons of Italy... The oranges of California and Florida... The rich yellow grapefruit... Bahamas... West Indies... Panama... All the west coast of South America... Bananas, coconuts, purple grapes... They come to Manhattan in the dead of night, dumped in the long wooden caverns. The streets are clear now... No need for traffic worries... Everything will get through... Just outside the docks wait the trucks. A great metal door separates them... They must distribute the food to the seven millions... When the door is released there will be a rush and a bedlam of voices... One-two-three o'clock! And a kong sounds in the night, as though for time out for the tired fighters... In rush the consignees... 3:30 is their appointed hour... Buying, buying, buying!... Traders of the night... Barterers of the pre-dawn hours... All around the city sleeps... Bidding, bidding, bidding!... There is a chaos of voices... Incongruous, strange in the mid of the night... Millions being shouted while all about is darkness and sleep... Bye and bye the city will waken, rub its eyes and look out its windows... Carts will be going by with hucksters selling their vegetables and fruits... The corner stands will be alive with life... The black caverns will have become wooden sheds... The night traders will be sleeping sound... White all the city wakes... —GILBERT SWAN.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE. By AUSTIN H. CLARK. Smithsonian Institute. Throughout the Pacific Islands the spring season is recognized as the time of the appearance of this creature, and wherever it occurs the season and even the months are named for it. It would seem, therefore, to be a creature of importance. So it is; it is none other than the palolo. The palolo is a kind of sea-worm which when fully grown averages about 16 inches in length and is sharply divided into a thick forward part measuring about one-quarter of its length and a slender posterior part. In the slender hinder part the eggs are formed, and on or near the day of the last quarter of the moon in October and November, which is springtime in the regions where it lives, it wriggles backward in its burrow in the coral rock or similar situation and breaks off the long hinder end, which rises to the surface and swims about, finally bursting and scattering the eggs.

BIRD'S EYE VIEW. Hal Cochrans' DAILY POEM. When people are open and fall in their mind, and gaze on what nature has done, they, sooner or later, are certain to find the world's best place 'neath the sun. We get to expecting too much. That's the cause. Then dissatisfaction seeps through. But it all soon dies out when we sensibly pause, and give it the old bird's eye view.

LONDON ZOO'S NEW BABY ONLY WEIGHS 112 POUNDS
London.—The birth of a 112 pound baby to Bobbie and Joan, the hippopotami at the London Zoological Gardens, was the occasion for great rejoicing, inasmuch as the last hippopotamus born in captivity at the Garden was as far back as 1862.

Close guard is being kept on Joan and the new arrival, keepers stating that if the mother is disturbed she will in all probability eat her offspring.

Women have such equal rights now when two meet they don't know whether to kiss or shake hands.

The fellow who has been afraid to take off his long underwear might as well keep it on now.

PAULINE FREDERICK FEATURED AT CIRCLE

Great Actress Has Stellar Role in "Her Honor, the Governor."

A mighty drama, a colorful picture, a new episode in moving picture production—that's "Her Honor, the Governor," F. B. O.'s latest Pauline Frederick production which will be shown at the Circle tonight and tomorrow.

The sensational success which greeted the long famous picture, "Madame X," with Pauline Frederick some years ago, bids fair to repeat itself in Miss Frederick's latest cinema venture, "Her Honor, the Governor." It is a dramatic version of the modern American woman in politics, and the struggle the mother instinct and the political duty to a great state furnishes with a superb opportunity for her undoubted histrionic ability.

This emotional fair reaches its height in the climax of the film. Miss Frederick as the governor of the state, is faced with a situation in which her own son, is found guilty of murder. She is governor, and is the last word in determining who shall die a murderer's death. Does the governor obey to the letter the calling of her office, or—but come to the Circle tonight or tomorrow and see this truly wonderful picture.

On Thursday and Friday the Circle will present a double feature bill. One of the features will be the "The Merry Cavalier." Here is Dick in his greatest picture! That means surprise stunts, comedy, and genuine Talmadge drama.

Sweet along on the current of swift action, spiked with breath-taking thrills, charged with rare humor, filled with moments of suspense, "The Merry Cavalier" is a picture you will genuinely enjoy. It is an enlightening story enriched with the beauty of youth, and filled with love, hope and the fair dreams of tomorrow.

The other feature will be "Money Talks," a fast moving comedy-drama farce of health resort life. In it are featured Claire Windsor, Owen Moore and Bert Roach. This production has a hilarious plot. It describes, amid many laughs, the escapades of a successful bluffer.

Sam Starling is a good-natured, penniless spendthrift. His thoughtlessness with regard to allowing collectors to continually annoy his beautiful wife, Phoebe, embarrasses her such an extent that she finally decides to leave Sam until he has made good or reformed. This makes Sam come to the realization that he must do something to make up for the trouble he has caused her. How he accomplishes this is told in a most hilarious manner.

The fellow who has been afraid to take off his long underwear might as well keep it on now.

COUNTRY STORE NITE AT STATE TOMORROW

"Nell Gwyn" a Story of a King and a Peasant Girl, and "Devil's Gulch" on Same Program.

Tomorrow night will be the popular "Country Store Nite" at the State theatre. A large amount of presents will be given away as usual. There will also be several big surprises in store for all who attend. Of course there will be the usual fun making that will get some good laughs out of you. If you want to spend a pleasant evening, come to "Country Store Nite."

Besides the country store, there will be a good double-feature bill. The first feature will be "Nell Gwyn," starring Dorothy Gish. This is a beautiful story of a maiden's love for a king. "It is one picture in a million," as one critic put it. A most fascinating tale of laughter, tears, and burning intrigue, "Nell Gwyn" is a picture that "gets you."

Here is the eternal story of tender, witty, Nell Gwyn—an immortal fairy tale come true. It mattered not to Nell that her love was a great king, and that she was only a commoner, for she loved him with all her heart. And it mattered not to the royal monarch, that Nell was a peasant girl, for he loved her most sincerely. To her, he was the only man in the world; to him she was the only girl in the world.

Nell had a pair of silk stockings that play an important part in the plot of the story. But what would any good looking bachelor with billions in money do if he had his choice of any girl in the world, and could cast his favoring glances wherever he pleased? Would he pick some old crone who might be merely of royal blood, or would he pick the jolly, pert, audacious, pretty little girl with the silk stockings?

"Nell Gwyn" may have no place in history, in spite of her love for a king, but she has a place in everybody's heart.

The other picture will be a rip-roaring Western special, "The Devil's Gulch," featuring the popular Bob Custer. The old Western thriller, which used to be the spice of the silver screen, is staged a remarkable come-back in a more refined form, but with all the old pep and zip. "The Devil's Gulch" is a thrilling story of the big open spaces that most of us have heard all about, but have never seen. It is a powerful picture filled with novel situations.

For the last two times tonight the State presents beautiful Lois Moran in Rex Beach's wonderful story of modern life, "Padlocked." It is doubtful if any picture has ever been filmed which shows so truly the real essence of modern jazz life.

The older generation throws up its hands in horror at the morals and delings of the young people. There must be something wrong, although it is not so terribly wrong as many are led to believe. "Padlocked" tells in a sincere way, just what that something is, and why.

Lois Moran, the new movie wonder girl of "Stella Dallas" fame gives a masterly performance, and is most ably supported by Noah Beery and Louise Dresser. If you have not yet seen this great picture, which has been enthusiastically acclaimed by all those who have seen it, do not fail to see it tonight.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday the State will present five acts of select vaudeville and a knock-out comedy feature, "The Battling Butler," starring Buster Keaton, the never smiling comedian, in his greatest comedy triumph. It will be remembered what a fine bill of vaudeville was presented last week. Another bill, just as good, will be shown this week. All the acts are guaranteed by the State management to be of the very best quality obtainable.

"The Battling Butler" will send you down for the count of ten, as you roar with laughter when you see it. Buster wasn't exactly a champion, but his girl needs to know that he wasn't—he thought. But wow! Wait till you see what fate befell poor Buster.

It's coming! At last, it's coming to Manchester. What's coming? "VARIETY." Watch for an announcement.

Mr. Home Owner of Manchester we had your home in mind when we designed this OIL HEATOR

You live in a home of moderate size—with spacious rooms—plenty of window space—a sun porch, ordinarily hard to heat. You already have a heating system—steam, water, or warm air. Your cellar would make a splendid new room. We designed the Super-Automatic Oil Heater (formerly the Ballard Oil Burner) to fit this home of yours. Hundreds of New England people living in such homes tell us that our heater satisfies them completely.

Mr. Home Owner Of Manchester

This is a quality heater built in one of the finest machine shops in New England. Good old-fashioned quality materials, coupled with quantity production, enable us to offer this heater to you at a Moderate Price.

Here are a few of your wants which we anticipated when we designed the Super----

You want to make the change from coal to oil with the least bother and expense. The Super is so simple and compact that it fits in your heating system without costly changes. Only a few hours required to install. You needn't be without heat a single hour.

You want plenty of heat and even heat. The Super-Automatic keeps your house at just the temperature you want it, irrespective of zero weather or sudden warm or cold spells.

You want a clean, quiet home. The Super-Automatic ends coal dirt forever. No soot, smoke, or dust, because every particle of oil is burned according to scientifically correct principles. Your cellar will be so clean you can use it as a new room. The Super goes into the fire-box of your boiler or furnace—no unsightly machinery for children to tamper with, or trip over. And it's quiet.

Guaranteed Heat and Fire Insurance

With the purchase of a Super Oil Heater you receive for one year free service and free insurance for the cost of the heater against loss or damage by fire.

A small down payment will put the Super-Automatic Heater in your home. Close your furnace doors—throw away your shovel, poker, and ash barrels—and enjoy even, luxurious, care-free heat, every day, in every room. Mail this coupon for additional information, without obligation.

You want to increase your heating efficiency. The revolutionary Super-Automatic disk flame applies the heat to the boiler like a coal fire, and gets the highest efficiency from your present heating system. Burns the cheapest oil and the least of it. Users report a saving of 10% to 20% over former cost of hard coal. The even Super heat helps prevent colds and more serious illnesses which are usually contracted in the home during relaxation and changeable temperatures.

You want a heater that will not require tinkering. You can set the Super-Automatic thermostat and forget it. The flame is automatically turned on and off with no attention during the whole season. Only three moving parts. Everything accessible for quick servicing if required.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Today the annual "Somanhis Events" drive for subscriptions started at the South Manchester High school. Yesterday afternoon various members of the staff spoke in the class rooms and explained to the students the methods of conducting the campaign.

"Somanhis Events" has been in existence a little over ten years and has grown from a small twenty page magazine to its present size. The graduation issue last year contained over a hundred pages.

Last year was the publication's greatest year thus far. The literary department, while it has always been on a high plane, was last year highly praised from practically every publication on the exchange list. Not only that, but "Somanhis Events" was entered in a national school publication contest at Columbia University last year. While the local magazine did not take a prize in this contest, it stood well up in the final reckoning.

The main reason for conducting the subscription campaign is to provide a working fund on which to start the year. There was not a very large amount left over last year's expenses were paid, for the staff spent a great deal of money on "Somanhis" last year but is proud of its achievement in putting out such a good high school publication. If the students will stand in back of the staff this year and help push the proposition by subscribing, an even better magazine will be published. It is not only necessary for the students to subscribe, but the staff must have contributions. It was largely due to the large amount of contributions handed in by the students last year that "Somanhis" was such a success.

It has always been a custom for the seniors to be the first class to be one hundred per cent in the subscription list standing. A senior home room has usually been the first room to have a full roll call. Last year some of the other classes and rooms gave the seniors a hard run, but they managed to keep up to precedent.

The percentage after the close of the campaign last year was about ninety-eight per cent for the entire school, teachers excluded. This was the best percentage there has yet been, but this year's staff hopes to push the campaign so that the school will have a century mark for its subscription list. The campaign will be extended for a week.

Yesterday afternoon the boys' glee club held its second rehearsal in the assembly hall. There are over twenty members from the upper classes at present. It is hoped that the boys may repeat their success of last year, when they won the Windsor glee club championship.

The girls' glee club rehearsed this afternoon. A large number was in attendance. The girls will also strive hard to win the championship this year. They were second last year.

MANCHESTER COMMUNITY CLUB ACTIVITIES START

All activities in the north end started last evening with the opening of the Manchester Community Club. Director Wabburn has had a staff of painters and carpenters working for the past month putting the club in shape for the winter's program. One of the rooms on the west wing has been transformed into a cozy reading room where the latest periodicals and magazines may be enjoyed in home-like surroundings in comfortable rockers. For those more lightly inclined a piano is available in the same room. The game and smoking room adjoining have been re-arranged in a pleasing manner with cards and other games readily accessible.

The director's office will be changed to the east room so that members, visitors and friends may be greeted upon entering the club. Two rooms in the east wing of the house have been turned into conference and committee rooms, with soft brown trimmings and tasteful floor coverings. The Ruth Elizabeth Tea Room has been rented and occupies the extreme east rooms of the club on the main floor. The upper rooms are devoted to pool, meeting and assembly hall, with a ladies' room conveniently near, completing the arrangement for ideal club life.

One Wednesday evening of this week the regular bridge will be held in the club rooms at 8 p. m. Bridge sessions will alternate each afternoon and evening throughout the winter.

The public is cordially invited to inspect the club rooms and take advantage of the club facilities whether they are members or not. The club will be open daily except Sundays from 2:30 p. m. till 5 p. m., and from 7 p. m. till 10 p. m.

Answering Some Questions About the Most Advanced Method of Tire Building

Steps in Building a United States Tire by the Flat Band Method.
1. Laying plies of Latex-treated Web Cord on drum. 2. Applying tread rubber.
3. Placing tire on inflation machine. 4. Inflation finished. Tire formed.

Some facts about the United States Rubber Company's "Flat Band Method" which ensures uniform stretch and tension of every cord in the tire

Q—What is the "Flat Band Method" of building a tire?

A—The tire is built in the form of a flat band upon a drum. The plies of Latex-treated Web Cord are laid and fitted by hand, one above the other. The opposite edges of the band are turned around and securely anchored to "beads" consisting of rings of many strands of piano wire imbedded in hard rubber. The flat band carcass is then brought into shape on a special machine.

Q—Does this differ from the usual method of building tires?

A—Yes. Before the United States Rubber Company developed the Flat Band Method, the usual practice was to use a solid, metal ring-shaped form on which the cord fabric was laid and pressed into place by a rotating wheel coming in contact with the surface of the rubberized fabric.

Q—What does Flat Band building add to the service of United States Tires?

A—It makes the tire uniformly strong throughout. It eliminates the fault often found in the old-style construction, of some cords being too taut while others were loose. In Flat Band building, all the cords are under even tension, and flexibility is uniform. There are no weak spots to develop trouble.

Q—What Company developed the Flat Band Method?

A—The Flat Band Method was developed by the United States Rubber Company and is patented and owned by this Company.

CLEMONS TELLS WHY HE WAS "FIRED" AS SHAMROCK MANAGER

The sports department of this paper is in receipt today of a letter of explanation from Harold Clemson regarding his being released as manager of the Shamrock baseball team.

It is not the policy of The Herald to take sides in matters of this sort and our columns are open to the Shamrock club to publish a reply to Clemson's letter if they wish. Only one letter will be allowed by each side. Here is Clemson's side: To the Sports Editor,

The Evening Herald:—

Just a few lines in regard to my being released as manager of the North End representing baseball players better known as the Shamrocks. I was elected manager after the "boys" dropped "Bob" Coleman in the same means as they dropped me. They called a meeting for last Thursday night and three regular players, yes, just three appeared and decided my services were no longer required. I was still busy arranging Sunday's game and at 9.30 Sunday was approached on the street and informed I was "done."

When appointed I was to have full charge of the arranging of all games and to go ahead. I arranged 21 games and spent $30 in doing so which averaged about $1.50 a game. I figure that isn't quite so bad considering the distance between the Shamrocks and teams such as Shaburne Falls, Tatfville, Florence Braves, Westfield, Bristol and others equally distant. What did they consider it an honor to be the manager and pay these bills out of my own pocket up until yesterday when I was "canned."

If the Shamrock A. C. had called a meeting for last Thursday night and had all the members there (for there were some that were not asked) and held the meeting in an organized way, instead of "ducking around the bush" asking only the "clique" (I mean a few who hang close to each other) I would still be at the "helm" of the team, but I am not spilling any tears for being released. I made a mistake. I mean canned, for it was no pleasure being at the head of a team setting as they do, in other words the clique runs the Shamrock baseball team and doing so are no further along than they were four years ago.

I had to cancel the appearance of the Springfield players I had booked for Sunday and am taking this means of telling the fans why. Hoping I have made myself clear I remain,

In real sports,
Harold Clemson.

TO URGE FORESTRY PLAN BEFORE N. E. COUNCIL

Hartford, Sept. 21.—A New England wide forestry program will be advocated by Austin F. Hawes, state forester, in a paper to be read before the New England council at Bretton Woods, N. H., on September 24th. An organization such as the Council could do much toward arousing public and private interests to the needs of New England in the matter of reforestation and conservation, in Hawes' opinion.

The state forestry department will exhibit at the Danbury fair next month, having much the same exhibit as the one that attracted thousands of people at the recent state fair in Hartford, according to Mr. Hawes.

FIRES AN OLD EMPLOYEE FOR BOBBING HER HAIR

New London Manager of Power Co. Sees Proper Dignity Only in Hirsute Crown.

New London, Sept. 21.—For bobbing her hair in violation of an alleged ruling of the Connecticut Power Co., Miss Margaret E. McNamara of 175 Huntington street has been discharged by Vice President and General Manager Vigo E. Bird after she had served in the employ of the company for four years and nine months.

Bird said that there has been a ruling against bobbed hair employees of the Connecticut Power Co. for several years and that Miss McNamara was guilty of insubordination in bobbing her hair. McNamara stated that she had permission from an official of the company to bob her hair. She declares that there has never been a bulletin posted for employees of any such ruling being in force and that Mr. Bird has never spoken to the employees in a group of such a thing. She says the ruling was a matter of hearsay.

Bird stated that he considered bobbed hair undignified in a business office.

Mr. Bird said the action of dismissal was final and a closed matter as far as the company was concerned. Miss McNamara intimated that she would take the matter up with higher officials of the company.

In a statement Miss McNamara said there was never any direct order against bobbed hair although she said she understood that no girls were taken into employ with bobbed hair.

IS DEMPSEY NEXT?

Ten Rounds With Dempsey

Dempsey Says He Was At His Worst Against Tommy Gibbons.

Jack Dempsey thinks the worst fight he ever fought was against Tommy Gibbons out on the plains of Montana. "I'm not trying to take anything away from Tommy when I say that," added the champion. "He was a big surprise to me as he was to about 90 per cent of the boxing fans. Just the same I was at my worst against him."

through work. You acquire fighting perfection through fights. Nobody should realize this better than Dempsey who has had no fights for THREE YEARS.

Tommy Gibbons. Dempsey admits he was worried in the early rounds of his fight with Gibbons. "I was made because he kept going away on his bicycle all the time and I was madder yet when I did get an opening and was so wild I could do nothing with it."

Dempsey says the one round in which Gibbons did open up and fight took him so much by surprise that he did nothing. "I just stood still and got socked around," he confessed.

This was in the fifth round, the round in which the St. Paul Irishman showed flashes of his real genius. Gibbons cast aside all caution and sailed into the champion much to the delight of the crowd and to the evident astonishment of Dempsey.

Gibbons cut loose with a jabbing attack and a cross fire of rights that made Dempsey look bad. Gibbons forced the action until the bell and if he had had any hitting strength something momentous might have happened.

"There's one thing that Gibbons fight did for me," reminded Dempsey, "and that was to put me in good shape for my longshoremen's fight with Firpo. If I hadn't been in great shape that night I wouldn't have held the title, and if Gibbons hadn't made me look bad at Montana I might not have recognized the need of working so hard for Firpo."

TUNNEY, ALL THROUGH. IN HIS BEST CONDITION. Stroubsburg, Pa., Sept. 21.—Gene Tunney said today he is in the best condition of his career. Tunney has put the gloves aside. The next time his hands will be bound in tape will be on Thursday night when he enters the ring.

This has been a rather disastrous campaign for champions of things pugilistic. During the last eight months much noise has been made by the falling of fistic crowns, titles, headpieces and hopes of channel crawlers.

For instance, Paul Berlenbach, Harry Greb, Mickey Walker and Rocky Kansas have passed out of the titular frame. Paul dropped his light-heavyweight robe to Jack Delaney; Greb did a dipsey-dive against Tiger Flowers in the middleweight division; Walker took an unexpected trouncing from Pete Latzo, miner de luxe, in the welter class and Kansas the Rock was pushed (we mean exactly that) aside by Sammy Mandell, the Rockford Romeo, in the lightweight sector. All this, mind you, has taken place since the first of the year.

YANKS ONLY THREE AHEAD OF INDIANS

Lose Two to White Sox But Cleveland Is Stopped by Lowly Red Sox.

WHITE SOX 7-4, YANKS 8-8. Chicago, Sept. 21.—The stumbling Yankees dropped two games to the White Sox, seven to three and four to three, and now lead the Indians by only three games. Pennington was hit hard in the opener, while Meusel led the second game by playing ping-pong with the ball after making a fly.

ATHLETICS 8-2, TIGERS 0-5. Detroit, Sept. 21.—After Rommel blanked the Tigers eight to nothing, allowing only two hits, the Athletics lost to the Tigers five to two.

BRVES TAKE TWO GAMES FROM REDS. Cincinnati Hopes Duller; Cards Idle; Cubs Take Two from Giants.

BRVES 4-3, REDS 3-0. Boston, Sept. 21.—The Braves put a terrific crimp in Cincinnati's pennant hopes by downing the Reds twice, four to three and three to nothing, putting Cincinnati two games behind the Cardinals. Rixey was beaten by errors in the first game while Bob Smith had the Reds completely at his mercy in the nightcap.

SAINT and SINNER by Anne Austin

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE Both CHERRY LANE, an unscrupulous flirt, and FAITH LANE, 20, stay-at-home drudge for the family of six, are attracted to BOB HATHAWAY, who, on his first visit to the house, shows plainly that he is immensely intrigued with Cherry's beauty.

dusting of mandarin rouge. Hattie turned her steely bright eyes upon Junior, who ducked, shielding his face with an arm, in mock terror. The lively spinster's face softened, as it always did when her eyes rested upon Jim, Junior.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VIII I DON'T know what you mean, Mr. Pruitt! Faith blushed with painful confusion. George Pruitt did not answer immediately. His eyes were traveling with greedy interest over the fine column of her throat, along the splendid sweep of her shoulders, down the rounded, bare forearms, along her perfectly proportioned tall body to her slender feet in their Cuban-heeled white canvas shoes.

"Aunt Hattie, I wish you'd mind your own business!" Cherry scraped her chair back from the table. "How would you like me for a model, Mr. Pruitt?" "Thanks—some time, perhaps," George Pruitt turned away from her almost nodily, and addressed himself to Faith. "I suggested to Chester that we all go to the movies. Would you enjoy that?"

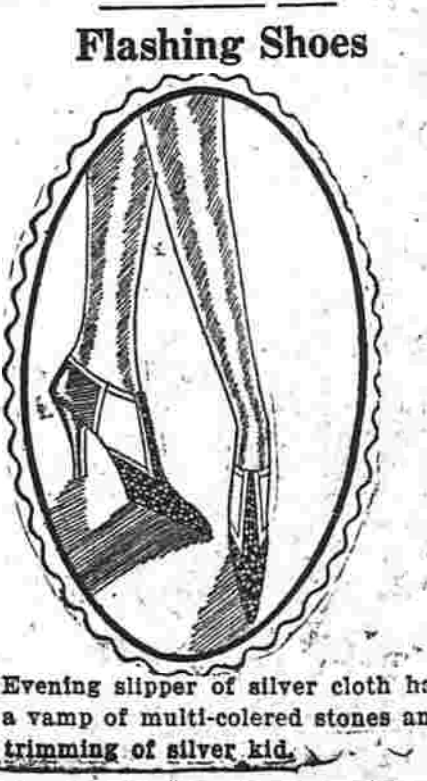

yet! Martha, you've put on ten pounds if you've put on an ounce since I seen you last. You're scandalous fat. But you look better 'n you have in a coon's age. Been taking that Indian herb medicine I brought you?" "I ain't better, Hattie," Mrs. Lane's face flushed darkly and her brown eyes snapped angrily. "I don't sleep an hour a night, and the pain in my legs and shoulders is something fierce. Easy for you to talk, Hattie, you strong as a mule. No body knows what I go through—"

HER OWN WAY by A GIRL OF TODAY JOAN'S REQUEST "My dear, you did not take my advice, in fact, I go your mind in when I first met you. You will remember that you were at a place where you had to let someone into your secret. It was a time for action, not words. Consequently, I didn't tell you what to do. I just turned in and helped you out of your scrape."

"But I am interested, I think he is most charming." "Don't put me off that way, you know what I mean. I mean do you think that you could marry him? Forgive me, dear, but if you could not I am going to ask you to go away from here until after he has been detained by your kind heart."

Home Page Editorials Biting Off Your Nose by Olive Roberts Barton. Once two young men were in love with the same girl. They were terribly jealous of each other until one fine day the girl up and married a rising young lawyer from another town.

Two girls applied for a position in a certain school. Neither was elected. One made a dramatic gesture. She said she was through with the teaching game for good and all. To show her disgust she opened a tea house. She had been trained for teaching—not for cooking or managing a tea house. The tea house failed. The other girl bided her time, substituted when she could, and was eventually elected to the school. Now she is the youngest principal in her city. New methods came along. The tea house proprietor now wants to teach but she is a back number and cannot.

Children should have a quart of milk a day and adults a pint. Milk is our most economical source of building material, containing as it does protein, calcium, phosphorus, the minerals and bone-building materials.

"Peel your onions and shed a tear. For picking time is drawing near." It has been here for some time, judging by the pungent odors that are wafted on the breeze as we pass along the streets. It is a most persistent odor and penetrates to the furthest corner of the house so if it can be done early while screen doors and windows are open, so much the better.

Parboiled onions and hard cooked eggs are combined with a rich white sauce. The mixture is then put into a buttered baking dish, covered with buttered crumbs and baked thirty minutes in a hot oven. The eggs, of course, are sliced and the onions finely chopped. It is said to be surprisingly good.

Eggs surely are climbing rapidly. Strictly fresh eggs are already seventy cents a dozen.

Peach Roly-Poly. One and one-half cups graham flour, 1/2 cup pastry flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons sugar, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 egg, milk, 2 cups finely diced peaches, 1/2 cup sugar. Mix dry ingredients and rub in butter. Beat egg well with a table-spoon milk and cut into first mixture. Add more milk as necessary to make moist enough to make a moderately soft dough. Roll on a floured molding board making a sheet about 1/2 inch thick. Sprinkle with peaches which have been sprinkled with sugar, and roll up like a jelly roll. Place in a buttered and floured pan and bake twenty minutes in a moderately hot oven. Serve warm with sugar and cream. Cut in slices to serve.

Hand Bags Hand bags are more ornate than ever, and are often trimmed with semi-precious stones, such as carnelian, jade or matrix.

LONG SLEEVES Most afternoon and dinner dresses have long sleeves.

COLOR CONTRAST Attractive necklaces to give that touch of pep to the fall costume are made of alternate beads of crystal and carnelian. Often there are earrings to match.

ONE-TONED EFFECT A smart coat for fall is made of natural colored kasha banded with natural lynx.

NEW COLORS There is a fascinating new color known as rouge de chine, which is really a vivid Chinese red, which combines quite surprisingly with yellow.

Pongee is much liked for slips. It harmonizes with any colored frock, washes and wears well, and is nicer with the new woolen dresses than white material.

"Every man and woman should work—if not for the necessity of making a living, then for the betterment of mankind," says Miss Albert Dodge Smith of Orange, N. J., who has put her theory into practice. She is utterly alone in the world, has a beautiful home and a comfortable income. Her fondness for children suggested the idea of taking little convalescents home to bridge the gap between the hospital and the open poor, overcrowded home. While she can accommodate twenty little ones in her home and a specialty built bungalow nearby, she rarely takes more than three or four at a time. She doesn't want to make it an institution. She employs a trained nurse, has a cook and other maids. Naturally she has far more applications from doctors and hospitals than she can care for. She says, "Children are work ork and whether you work for your own children or for others is immaterial when you consider the benefit to posterity."

Charcoal added to the soil of potted plants will bring out their darkest foliage and brightest flowers. Castor oil added every two or three weeks to ferns, with plenty of water will make them grow.

Baked Macaroni and Carrots. One and a half cups cooked macaroni, 1 1/2 cups diced cooked carrots, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 cup finely chopped cheese, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Melt butter, stir in flour, and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and add cheese. Remove from the fire, add remaining ingredients and turn into a well buttered baking dish. Cover and bake twenty-five minutes in a hot oven. Remove cover for the last five minutes to lightly brown the top.

Velour hats are more popular this season than felts, but the latter are following the velvet styles and it is possible to buy them in two colors, such as red and gray with black. No trimming other than gros-grain band is used.

Good Nature and Good Health

NEED FOR SLEEP VARIED BY AGE, TEMPERAMENT. By DR. MORRIS FIEHBEIN, Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygienic the Health Magazine.

The scientific researches of modern years have served to confirm the opinion held by physicians for centuries that rest is a great healer of disease. During sleep the tissues of the body recuperate from the chemical changes that have been going on during work or activity.

The person who has lost sleep appears haggard and worn and actually suffers a loss of weight, representing the actual wear and tear upon the body.

An old proverb said, concerning sleep, "Six hours for a man, seven for a woman, and eight for a fool." According to Dr. Max Seham, the need for sleep in various people varies, and is modified in the same person by his age, temperament and the climate. Girls, especially during growth, require more sleep than boys.

Longer in Winter. People are likely to sleep longer in winter than in summer. An investigation of the health habits of 500 healthful children indicated that a child six to eight years of age should sleep 12 hours; eight to 10 years, 11 1/2 hours; 10 to 11 years 11 hours; 12 to 12 years, 10 1/2 hours; 12 to 13, 10 hours, and 15 to 15 years, 9 1/2 hours. Growth persons vary in the amount of sleep for recovery from fatigue.

A successful man is not one who spends his time in sleep, but it is a dangerous doctrine to apply this attitude to the growing child, since research has shown that insufficient sleep and sleep of inadequate absences from and failures in school than are other factors.

The quality of sleep varies greatly. Some persons have the ability to fall asleep immediately and to sleep intensely; others are restless during sleep, toss about, and are almost as tired on awakening as when they first sought the bed.

The common causes of disturbed sleep are too great activity before retiring, or the carrying of fatigue to a point impossible to sustain. When a person is overfatigued, he is extremely irritable and sensitive to the slightest impressions. He thus finds it difficult to fall asleep.

Regular Habits. It therefore would seem to be desirable to have the sleeping habits of the child regular, so that he will go to bed at the same hour each day and that he will have a quiet period before his bed time. Investigations have shown also that the room in which the child sleeps should be well ventilated, the bed comfortable and far removed from noises or other external excitants.

Posed by Marena George. CONDITION—Heavy thighs. DIAGNOSIS—Sedentary occupations or indolence are almost certain to visit this upon women who have any tendency to overweight. Exercise is the only salvation.

TREATMENT—Stand erect, with the hands extended upward. Then bend the knees, but do not bend the back, and come to a position where you are practically sitting on your knees. This is strenuous, and should not be overdone at first, but it is very reducing.
