

CHECK SYSTEM TO BE USED BY CHENEY BROS.

Holdups Throughout Country Forces Decision of Local Firm to Change Method of Paying Help.

Realization by Cheney Brothers that carrying the payroll from the bank to the mills has been a dangerous practice has influenced the firm to decide to pay its employees by checks instead of by cash. It was learned last night.

No Date Set

It has not yet been decided at what date the change will be made but it was stated it will be just as soon as suitable arrangements can be made. There are several matters which will have to be altered somewhat before the new system can be put into effect. As soon as the plans have been perfected, a further announcement will be made through the columns of this newspaper.

Long Considered

For some time officials at Cheney Brothers have been considering the advisability of making a change in their system of paying the workers. The danger of a possible hold-up and robbery by bandits had been considered by the officials of the company. Cheney Brothers, however, were not hasty in taking action on the matter. They conducted an investigation of conditions at other large manufacturing plants and found that in many cases other firms were using the check system in order to avoid the danger of robberies.

The investigation resulted in Cheney Brothers' decision. At present there are approximately 4000 persons employed by the large firm. In commenting on the change one official last night admitted that the proposed system would cause the workers some inconvenience for a few weeks after the change. However, he believed that in a short time every employee will find a way of cashing checks without trouble.

To Eliminate Rush

It is possible that Cheney Brothers will decide to pay their employees on different days so as to divide up the rush to cash the checks. In this manner, it might be possible to do away with any congestion or any inconvenience on the part of the workers. It is also hinted that in some cases split checks might be issued. At any rate the change is being to do away with any possibility of a hold-up.

Russells' Views

When interviewed by a Herald reporter today a Herald reporter on the matter R. LaMotte Russell, president of the Manchester Trust Company which handles all the money, had the following to say:

"I am strongly in favor of the change and honestly believe it will be welcomed not only by Cheney Brothers themselves, but by the employees as well. It surely is going to be a big safeguard. Some time ago Charles Cheney, president of the firm of Cheney Brothers, consulted me regarding the advisability of paying by means of checks. He requested me to investigate conditions at other banks where the same proposition was being handled. The result was that I found the check-system to be working out in a satisfactory manner in all concerned."

No Trouble

"It is my candid opinion," he replied, "that after the first week or two there will be little or no difficulty. The workmen will be able, I believe, to cash their checks at places where they trade. A large number of the checks will no doubt come back to the bank to be cashed. And then there will be still others which will be cashed in Hartford. You must realize that checks issued by Cheney Brothers are as reliable as real currency."

In conclusion, Mr. Russell said he hoped the employees would not jump at conclusions and get the wrong opinion on the matter.

ABSOLUTE BAN ON GOLDMAN'S ENTRY

Won't Be Admitted to U. S. Under Any Circumstance, Is Bureau's Decision.

Washington, Oct. 20.—"Under no circumstances" will Emma Goldman, now Mrs. James Colton, a British subject, be permitted to re-enter the United States, it was announced by the Bureau of Immigration today.

Mrs. Colton landed in Montreal yesterday. She was deported seven years ago on charges that she advocated the overthrow of the United States government by force.

After spending several years in Russia, she went to England and there married a Scotch miner.

COWS ON A RUNAWAY JAM HARTFORD TRAFFIC

Hartford, Oct. 20.—Breaking away from the stable at the House of the Good Shepherd on Sisson avenue here today, seven cows wandered down Farmington avenue toward the business section and on their way created traffic jams, briskly cantered across lawns and flower beds and forced pedestrians onto sidewalks and other places of safety to avoid their playful antics.

They were at large for more than an hour until a force of policemen turned cowboys and assisted workers from the home in a round-up.

PHILOSOPHER MAY PROVE TO BE MURDERER

Columbia Professor Fractures Skull of Old Friend He Suspected of Seeking His Job.

New York, Oct. 20.—Crazed by the fear that his best friend was attempting to undermine his position as a professor of philosophy at Columbia University, Joseph Carson, 33, attacked and seriously injured Lawrence Baumeyer, 37, a philosophy professor at New York University. Professor Baumeyer's condition is critical and he may die.

Physicians at Bellevue hospital, where Professor Baumeyer was taken, said his skull is fractured. His face is covered with contusions from blows with a shoe inflicted by Carson. The altercation began in Carson's apartment on Monday and was continued yesterday.

Carson told police that he and Baumeyer had been friends since boyhood, that they were graduated from Princeton together and began their careers as professors at Columbia University together. Later Baumeyer went to New York University, but recently had been doing special work as a professor of philosophy at Columbia. It was because of this work, Carson said, that he believed Baumeyer was attempting to undermine him and "steal his job."

Police, called to the Baumeyer apartment after Carson had hysterically summoned an ambulance, found a number of empty bottles in the room.

Booze Enters In.

Carson admitted he had started drinking with Baumeyer on Monday and had accused his friend of tampering with his job. He struck Baumeyer with a shoe on that day, knocking him unconscious. He then went to his home, but returned yesterday and again attacked Baumeyer, inflicting the skull fracture that physicians say may prove fatal.

WEST HARTFORD MAN TO ATTACK THE 18TH

Plans to Fight Dry Amendment in Supreme Court on Religious Grounds.

Hartford, Oct. 20.—Because he believes that the prohibition amendment interferes with his religious freedom guaranteed under the constitution, Clifford W. Marsh, of West Hartford, plans to appeal to the federal court and through that court to the supreme court, asking nullification of the prohibition amendment. He has retained Frederick E. Morgan, of Bridgeport, as his attorney.

Mr. Marsh is a member of the Religion of the Temple of God, Universal in his views the refusal of free choice "is sacrilegious." He has corresponded with Chief Justice William Howard Taft, by whom he was advised that the supreme court could not entertain a direct petition from an individual to declare a law unconstitutional, but that a specific case might be filed in the federal court, concerning the validity of any law.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON TOWN H. S. ORGANIZES

The special committee on a town high school and on school consolidation was ordered named at a town meeting last year met yesterday afternoon in the new Municipal building for organization.

The committee named Howell Cheney chairman and Mrs. Jane B. Wilcox secretary. There are two propositions for the committee to discuss. One is the matter of a new town high school building and the other is the question of the consolidation of the school districts of Manchester.

Chairman Cheney was empowered to name the members of both committees.

Why Dodge Camera When You Photograph So Beautifully?

With New York's boisterous ovation still ringing in her ears, Queen Marie and her entourage reached Washington where she was met at the Union Station by Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg. As they left the depot for the Rumanian Legation the royal party passed for this photo.

E. J. MURPHY HEADS EDUCATION BOARD

Succeeds E. A. Lydall, Who Has Served Many Years; Budgets Approved.

Manchester's Joint School board, which is, in fact, the local Board of Education, met yesterday for reorganization. Edwin A. Lydall, who has been chairman of the board for several years, refused to stand for reappointment this year. In his place Edward J. Murphy, next oldest member of the board in point of service, was named chairman.

Mr. Lydall insisted that the pressure of business did not give him time enough to attend to his duties as head of the board. Since Mr. Murphy was next in line the board immediately named him.

0th District Budget

After the organization was completed the budgets of expenses for the various school districts were discussed. The estimated expense of the Ninth school district was cut down $2,000 as had been previously announced in town meeting by Howell Cheney. The budget approved by the board yesterday is as follows:

	Actual Exp. 25-26	Budget
Teachers' Salaries	$195,950.30	$205,625
Janitors	16,360.05	16,300
Wages	1,835.00	1,900
Office Exp.	2,814.89	2,800
Enumeration	170.00	250
Hygiene	4,637.59	4,700
Dental Hygiene	1,258.54	1,300
Text Books, Supplies	12,962.85	13,500
Light, Power	13,859.11	11,500
Library Apparatus	933.50	1,000
Incidentals	961.64	1,000
Typewriter	462.65	500
App.
	$252,733.98	$260,375

In these items the Buncce school is included with the Ninth district. An appropriation of $8,000 for Evening Schools was approved by the board.

Other Budgets

The budget estimate which was approved for the Districts 1-3 totals $98,175. The special appropriations call for $20,825.

An appropriation of $800 was voted to provide a physical education for Districts 1-3.

The budgets for each of the first eight districts are as follows: District 1, $1,750; 2, $10,600; 3, $5,000; 4, $5,350; 5, $4,725; 7, $8,850; 8, $60,000.

Mrs. Florence Shearer was re-named secretary of the board, and the board of active school visitors is made up as follows: James M. Burke, H. O. Bowers, E. J. Murphy, Mrs. Florence Shearer, Edwin A. Lydall and Mrs. Jane B. Wilcox. The delegates to the Joint School board for the year will be Edward J. Murphy, Mrs. Jane Wilcox and Mrs. Florence Shearer. Mrs. Shearer will act as the library committee for the board.

James Duffy was appointed trustee officer by the board.

Hose Company No. 2 of the Manchester Fire Department will meet tomorrow evening at the headquarters, Main and Hilliard streets.

Magill Avers Drys Invented Slush Charge

Chicago, Oct. 20.—The Republican National Committee has collected $180,000 to spend through the country in an effort to retain control of Congress at the November elections, Roy O. West, the national secretary, told the Reed Senate Slush Fund committee today.

"We are very disappointed that we have not been able to collect more," West observed.

A sweeping denial of charges that a $400,000 slush fund would be used in his behalf was made by Hugh S. Magill, independent Republican nominee for the Senate. He swore his campaign expenditures would be kept within the $25,000 legal limit.

The independent nominee charged that George B. Safford, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, had circulated this "falsehood" while "knowing it to be false."

Magill declared Safford had approached him with a proposal for him to withdraw in favor of Frank L. Smith, regular Republican nominee, in return for the League's support of him (Magill) for the Senate in 1928, or for the vacancy if Smith were elected and thrown out of the Senate. Magill said he had indignantly rejected the offer.

An immediate investigation of charges made against the campaign of A. Scott Bullitt, Democratic senatorial nominee in the state of Washington, was ordered this afternoon by Senator Reed, who said he would instruct Senator McNary (Rep., Ore.), to go to Seattle at once to conduct the hearings.

MRS. SCHOEMMEL IS HUDSON'S CHAMPION

Breaks Mrs. Corson's Record in Albany-New York Swim; At Battery at 2 p. m.

New York, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Lottie Moore Schoemmel, mother, Red Cross Nurse and New York's only woman life guard, today established a new record for the Albany-to-New York swim down the Hudson, beating the time made by Mrs. Millie Gade Corson, channel swimmer.

Mrs. Schoemmel landed at the Battery, the most southerly point of Manhattan Island, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, completing the last thirteen miles of her 160-mile swim through icy waters. She entered the river at 10 o'clock this morning at Dyckman street.

Power Increases

As the representative of a party that, in numbers, was virtually negligible, Debs loomed large on the American political horizon in the later years of his turbulent career.

Jolsons May Celebrate Divorce By Marrying All Over Again

Boston, Oct. 20.—"She's the only one for me," sings Al Jolson, celebrated blackface comedian in "Big Boy," and to prove it admitted today that he hopes to re-marry Alma Osborne Yocelson, his second wife, who divorced him a few weeks ago in Paris.

"Our divorce was only the result of a family discussion in which we both got hot-headed," he declared. "If she doesn't re-marry me, I'll never marry again."

Eugene V. Debs Cannot Live The Day Out

Chicago, Oct. 20.—"Barely alive."

This was the bulletin which came from the sick room of Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, at the Lindlaur sanitarium shortly after 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Debs, the bulletin said, had not regained consciousness. His temperature at that time was 100.5 and attending physicians declared he could not possibly survive the day.

The famous socialist leader was stricken several days ago with a nervous breakdown. A heart affliction that has troubled him for many years became acute.

Following a brief rally yesterday he lapsed into a state of coma, and his death was expected momentarily. In fact, during this sinking spell a report left the sickroom that "Debs is dead."

With surprising stamina he rallied again and managed to survive the night.

His Stormy Life

One of the most colorful pictures in world history passed out of the picture with the death of Eugene Victor Debs today.

Loved by thousands with an undying devotion, Debs will go down in the records as a man who clung tenaciously to his principles despite the hostility of an overwhelming majority of his countrymen.

Throughout his hectic career Debs displayed an admirable courage of his convictions that brought to his standard a comparatively small but loyal band of followers.

And his unquestioned honesty and frankness in his many years as a social agitator led millions to hate him cordially and, at the same time, to respect him for the man he was.

The love he commanded from his worshiping followers was a personal one, but the hate he drew was against the policies he advocated, not against the man himself.

Five times Debs was the Presidential candidate of the Socialist Party and each time he emerged from a hopeless campaign to renew his campaign to overthrow America's social order.

He was fully aware that, from the standpoint of possible election, his candidacy was hopeless, but each campaign he made a stepping stone toward realization of his ideals.

FRESH HURRICANE MENACES FLORIDA

Terrific Storm Sweeps Cuba and Is Headed for Peninsula State

Havana, Oct. 20.—The hurricane that hit Yaguajay last night had abated shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon. It was said by weather officials to have passed in a northeasterly direction. Property damage is unofficially estimated at $3,000,000. Practically all small craft in the harbor had either been sunk or washed ashore. There is no electric light service.

Havana, Cuba, Oct. 20.—The city of Havana suffered seriously today from a hurricane which reached its full force about nine o'clock this morning.

Street cars are not running, power plants are out of operation, automobiles are unable to operate, and the beautiful Prado is a mass of blown-down trees and debris.

One life is reported to have been lost and one house is reported to have been blown down.

Communications Cut

All telephone and telegraph communication has been interrupted and it is impossible to learn the exact conditions prevailing.

The gulf is being lashed into a fury by the gales and it is reported that small craft in Havana harbor have suffered severely. The waves of the Gulf are washing over the sea-wall on the Malecon, the seaside promenade.

At 9:30 the large Havana radio station, is reported to have been blown down.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The tropical hurricane that is centering over Cuba is sweeping north-northwest and will reach Key West, Florida, this afternoon or early tonight, the weather bureau announced today. All shipping in Southern Florida has been cautioned.

The hurricane is expected to sweep over Southern Florida and may reach the middle sections of the state.

The weather bureau this morning ordered hurricane warnings hoisted from Boca Grande and Punta Gorda and West Palm Beach, and north-east storm warnings north of Boca Grande to Tampa and north of West Palm Beach to Titusville.

Northeast winds will increase and reach hurricane force late this afternoon or tonight over extreme Southern Florida.

U. S. OFFICIAL HOST JOB FOR MARIE IS OVER

Queen, Now Guest of the People, Begins Unofficial Tour and Has Busy Starting Day.

Washington, Oct. 20.—With thirty-nine hours as official guest of the American government behind her, Queen Marie of Rumania left Washington this morning to explore the United States as a private, but exceedingly distinguished tourist.

The first stop outside of the national capital for this unusual visitor of royalty was to be Annapolis, Md., seat of the United States Naval Academy. From there, after a brief stop of inspection, her majesty was scheduled to look in on Baltimore for luncheon and a public reception. From the latter point she was to entrain for New York, there to rest, at least comparatively, until the start, Thursday, of her trans-continental tour.

9 O'clock Start

Promptly at 9 o'clock Queen Marie, her children, Prince Nicholas and Princess Helena, as the royal entourage pulled away from the Rumanian legation for Annapolis. In the long line of automobiles rode her entire party, including ladies-in-waiting, American naval and military aides and personal friends accompanying. A detail of Maryland state police escorted the caravan.

Behind her, the queen left a cycloramic picture of official Washington, points of national historic interest, facts and figures of American history and a meeting and a dinner with President and Mrs. Coolidge. Her stay in the capital had been limited, but the State Department had conducted her over a sightseeing route such as would have struck joy in the heart of any native tourist.

Always a Queen

With the departure from Washington, Queen Marie lost her status as a guest of the government and became a tourist enjoying extraordinary privileges. Her tour from now on is in the hands of the railroad, the reception committees of the cities which she will visit, and of the secret service of the treasury department.

Marie, however, will tour as a queen. Asked about the future of her journey through America, she replied:

"I shall travel as a queen. I am a queen and I can picture myself as nothing else."

The royal party faced a busy day before entraining for New York. A review of the midshipmen and other naval cadets had been arranged at Annapolis. At Baltimore, following a formal luncheon, the queen was to have an opportunity for the first time to meet a realistic cross-section of American democracy.

To Meet Plain Folks

She agreed to the holding of a public reception at the World War Memorial and after the favored guests had passed through the receiving line, she would receive such of those from the streets and the ordinary walks of life as desired to come.

Marie left behind her still another evidence of her enterprising nature. When the President and Mrs. Coolidge arrived at the legation last night to return the call of courtesy, they found to her surprise, a group of Klieg lights and three portrait photographers. The concern which made the coveted pictures had exclusive privileges. All others were barred.

California was "off again" in the Queen's schedule today, although it may be "on again" by tomorrow.

Unless another change is made, however, California will be passed up in favor of Western Canada, Montreal, Quebec, Ottawa and Victoria are now included in the itinerary.

No formal announcement was made as to why the Queen will not go to California, but informally it is well understood. The Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe Railroads are said to have refused to follow the example of the eastern lines and furnish the Balkan queen with a private train at normal rental of one dollar. The Trans-Continental roads took the position that the Queen is an ordinary tourist and should pay for her train at the ordinary rates.

Last Night's Dinner

Last night the Queen, wearing a diadem of diamonds and pearls, was the guest of honor at a dinner given by the President and Mrs. Coolidge in the White House—a dinner which, because it was also the first such function ever held in the United States, presented delicate problems in etiquette and precedence which were not disposed of until almost the last minute.

There were forty-four seated around the President and his wife at the banquet in the State dining room, whose great chandelier had lighted many a brilliant Republican State function but has never before shown down on a Queen.

Guests at Dinner

The guests included all the official...

TRADE NOT WAR IS KEYNOTE OF BANKERS' PLEA

International Move for Tariff Cuts Does Not Affect America, Is General U. S. Belief.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The widely-heralded manifesto issued by the world's leading international bankers, demanding the elimination of tariff barriers, as an aid to economic rehabilitation, created hardly a ripple in Washington today.

President Coolidge feels, it was stated at the White House, that the manifesto is aimed principally at European tariff barriers, and if Europe wants to reform itself in this particular that is Europe's business and none of America's.

As for America's tariff policy, there can and will be no change in that. The President believes that a good part of the present era of business prosperity can be attributed to the existing tariff law, and no change can be made in that law without inviting a lower standard of living for American wage earners.

Not Endorsed

Efforts made in Europe to have it appear that the manifesto has been endorsed by officials of this government were disappointed today. In making public the manifesto, its sponsors intimated that it had been submitted to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in Europe this summer, and that Mr. Mellon, in turn, had rendered a favorable report on it to the President.

On behalf of Mr. Mellon, it was stated at the Treasury today that he had never seen the text of the manifesto until he saw it in the press, and that he had not made any report on it to the White House. Mr. Mellon was aware that such a document was being drawn up, it was said, but had nothing whatever to do with it.

Not Important

Government officials here plainly do not attach the importance to the bankers' recommendations generally, they are generally agreed that the elimination of or lowering of tariffs between the various states of Europe would have a beneficial effect on business conditions generally, they nevertheless are not convinced that this step would miraculously cure all of Europe's economic ills, or even a large part of them.

U. S. Not Involved

New York, Oct. 20.—Removal of a tariff and other restrictions on European trade, as advocated by international bankers in a signed statement made public in New York and European capitals, does not contemplate any change in American tariff laws, in the opinion of American bankers, expressed today.

New York international bankers point out that the issue is primarily European, and that the American signatories were solicited by European bankers to lend moral force to their plans, rather than to...

NORWAY CELEBRATES DRY LAW DOWNFALL

Oslo, Oct. 20.—Norway took an unofficial holiday today and celebrated the defeat of prohibition. In the cities crowds marched the streets singing and waving flags.

Dry leaders state that prohibition will be abolished in 1927. The government announces that it will propose a bill providing for the sale of liquor under government control, restrictions being laid upon the sales to minors and those who abuse the use of liquor.

The wet majority is now 113,000. It is freely predicted that a similar defeat for prohibition may be expected from Finland.

Pooh, Says Wheeler

Washington, Oct. 20.—Norway's repeal of prohibition doesn't mean much, in the opinion of Wayne B. Wheeler, generalissimo of the Anti-Saloon League, and spokesman for the dry forces in America.

"Norway never had any real prohibition," said Wheeler, in a statement today. "The law originally exempted beer, ale and twelve per cent wines"

EARTHQUAKES.

London, Oct. 20.—Earthquake shocks were felt along the southern coast of Norway from Lindanees to Arendal early today, according to messages from Oslo.

Mellisa, Oct. 20.—Slight earthquake shocks felt here have caused great apprehension among the residents.

BRITISH EMERGENCY

London, Oct. 20.—The king today issued a proclamation continuing the state emergency for another month, due to the coal strike. Parliament has been summoned to meet October 25 to approve the proclamation.

SIMPSON MAKES A HOLE IN ONE

Manchester Pro Registers Fifth of Career and Second of Year Yesterday

Alex Simpson, Manchester's noted professional golf player, gained further honors yesterday afternoon in a special match on the Tumble Brook course in Hartford when he registered another hole-in-one. It was the fifth Simpson has made during his career and the second he has registered this year.

Paired With Cheney Simpson was paired up with John P. Cheney in a special challenge match against George Smart, well-known member of the Connecticut State team and Willis Whalen, professional champion at the Tumble Brook course. The Manchester pair emerged victorious after a thrilling contest by a margin of one up. It was a windy day and this affected the playing of all four players. Cheney played a steady game and was instrumental in the victory for his side.

WOULD DIVORCE POLITICS AND PURE FOOD WORK

Hartford, Oct. 20.—Politics should not influence the appointment of pure food officials, Thomas Holt, Connecticut's dairy and food commissioner, declared in a speech yesterday before the National Association of Food and Drug Officials at Washington. Mr. Holt, who was retiring president of the association said that at present tenures of office are indeterminate and more or less subject to political instability.

AUSTRALIAN PAPER SEEMS AN ODDITY

Far Different Than Any Published in U. S.—Copy Reaches Manchester.

Herbert Swanson, advertising manager of Watkins Brothers brought to The Herald today a copy of The Sun, the principal daily newspaper of Sydney, Australia. It was of August 24 date. The newspaper is interesting not only to newspaper men but to newspaper readers in this country. To the former the paper looks very decidedly odd. Ads. are printed down the entire first and eighth columns of the front page but the remainder of the paper in this respect is practically the same as American newspapers.

Odd Headings. The headings are "Limit." For instance, what would this heading mean to an American reader?

Always on Go Sirenous Task Men and Edgy Play Unaffected. This is the leading two column story on Page 1. A guess would be that it is something about sports. But it is the speech of a prominent man on the labor situation.

As to the advertisements it is noticed that there are but few American products advertised. Among them are Wrigley gum, Packard and Dodge cars, the Radiola and the Columbia phonographs.

Higher Prices. The prices are far above American prices and the styles are ten years behind ours. A furniture store, for instance, and it is old style, is priced at $500 which could be sold here for a little over $100.

Modern Movies. But the movies are up to date. All of the current features are being shown. One feature is called "The Vanishing Race." This is the well-known film shown here under the name of "The Vanishing Americans." For some reason, probably a national prejudice, the word "American" was left out.

In the sports section it is noticed that Izzy Tanner is a headliner in a boxing show in Sydney. Izzy was not even good enough to appear in a preliminary in Hartford when he fought there.

Another curious fact is that the Australian paper has no editorials. There is but one and that is a paid advertisement. The Sun is not a small paper by any means. It has a daily circulation of 190,000 and 264,000 on Sunday.

TRADE NOT WAR IS BANKERS' KEYNOTE

commit the Americans to a definite program. The American bankers, desirous of aiding European trade rehabilitation, signed the plea for the elimination of trade barriers only to show their good faith, one banker said today. Declines to Explain. Albert H. Wiggin, one of the American bankers whose name appeared on the plea, and chairman of the board of directors of the Chase National Bank, was interviewed on the matter, but declined to comment further than to say it was self-explanatory. J. P. Morgan, another signatory, is in Great Britain on his annual vacation and Gates W. McGarrath, the third, called for Europe where he will participate in conferences on the Dawes Plan Commission, of which he is a member.

London Views. London, Oct. 20.—The international bankers free-trade manifesto evoked no praise from British newspapers today, except from the free-trade section of the Liberal press. The Daily News, a consistent free-trade advocate, characterized the manifesto as "the most impressive declaration for free-trade ever presented to the civilized world."

The Morning Post, the only conservative paper commenting editorially on the manifesto, said that the document, in view of the eminence of its signatories, must command respectful attention and examination by the business world. But, the paper pointed out, the signatories, however powerful in the financial and industrial worlds, are without executive power politically, and cannot do more than to make suggestions.

Has French Backing. Paris, Oct. 20.—A new voice to the protest against trade barriers was heard today. The council of the International Chamber of Commerce adopted the report of the trade barriers committee, which echoes the international bankers' manifesto published today.

The international Chamber of Commerce report demands the abolition of compulsory visas, uniform laws for foreigners in all countries, the abolition of export duties and abolition of restrictions on the export of raw materials. The report condemns ad valorem duties and sudden changes of tariffs by decree.

It was clearly indicated here that the French government does not intend to hasten to consider the manifesto officially. "The bankers plainly state their desire to reconstruct the grand political units, destroyed by four years of war," commented the Echo de Paris.

TEXT OF APPEAL

The text of the international appeal issued yesterday by bankers and industrialists is as follows: "We desire, as business men, to draw attention to certain grave and disquieting conditions which, in our judgment, are retarding the return to prosperity. It is difficult to view without dismay the extent to which tariff barriers, special licenses and prohibitions since the war have been allowed to interfere with international

EMERGENCY DOCTORS.

Doctors Moore and Boyd will be on emergency call tomorrow.

YOUTHS IN COURT ON THEFT CHARGE

Judge Lenient Because of Age—Stole Auto Cushions—Other Case.

Walter Ford and Joseph Miner were before the Manchester police court this morning on the charge of theft. Ford was represented in court by Attorney William S. Hyde and Miner by Attorney John Foley. It was alleged that the two boys stole a pair of cushions and a pair of trousers from an automobile owned by Frederick Kenney. The theft took place October 15 when the car was parked on Main street opposite Farr's store.

Blame Each Other. Mr. Kenney reported his loss to the police, also the loss of a dash-light and slip cover. The boys denied having seen either of these articles, and one blamed the other for stealing the cushions and the trousers.

Mr. Kenney admitted having talked with Ford's parents and stated that he had secured from them the sum of $25 to reimburse him for his loss. A receipt was displayed in court from Ford's father showing that the money had been paid.

Pleads Chance. Attorney Hyde said there was no excuse for what the boys had done. They had nothing to gain by taking the articles. Both admitted hiding them in Center park for a short time, and later in the evening taking them to the School street dump. He reminded the court it was the first time young Ford had been in trouble; that he had reached his majority and conviction would mean the loss of his voting franchise. He thought the boys' parents had tried to make good and believed a suspended sentence would answer the purpose.

Prosecutor's Argument. Prosecuting Attorney Hathaway said he was not at all averse to giving young Ford a chance. He did not care to give the boy a court record for this offense and agreed with Attorney Hyde that a suspended judgment would be sufficient. In the case of Miner, he read the boy's record in court. He had been before the local court four times in the last sixteen months. He thought he had a bad influence over his companions.

Judge Johnson thought the boys had to a certain extent been punished for their doings. In the case of Ford he suspended judgment and placed him in charge of the probation officer for three months. Miner he thought should be punished. He therefore found him guilty and imposed a fine of $15 and costs and extended his probation period for three months. He ordered that the boy pay the fine himself rather than impose the burden on his mother. He will be given time in which to pay it.

MUSICAL PROGRAM FOR H. S. STUDENTS

It was announced today by Principal C. P. Quimby of the South Manchester High school that a special musical program will be given tomorrow afternoon in the assembly hall by representatives of the Julius Hart School of Music from Hartford. The opening number will be played at 2:30. The program will last about an hour.

CHICKEN PIE SUPPER BY WAPPING WORKERS

Friday evening is the date set for the annual chicken pie supper, entertainment and sale by the Federated Workers of Wapping. The ladies are famed for the substantial suppers they serve, always at a moderate price and are frequently asked to cater to private organizations.

The project is to raise funds for the Federated Church. Local talent will play a prominent part in the entertainment. Principal Clarence P. Quimby of the High school will be the reader. Al Behrend's orchestra will furnish music and there will be other numbers on the program.

The supper which will be served from 6 to 8 will feature chicken pie. Everything will be home prepared, from the fruit cocktail to the dessert, excepting the ice cream. There will be booths for the sale of fancy and domestic articles and aprons.

UNUSUAL NUMBER OF CARRIERS HERE

Local Board of Health Quarantines Them With Those Sick of Diphtheria.

Although the number of diphtheria cases reported by Manchester physicians so far this month is not over the average for this time of the year, Dr. D. C. Y. Moore said yesterday afternoon that there are an unusual number of germ carriers in this town.

These germ carriers would not have been discovered were it not for the thorough work of the local board of health, the efforts of Miss Jessie Reynolds, the nurse who follows up the cases, and the wonderful co-operation of all of the local doctors.

The Procedure. When a doctor diagnoses a case of diphtheria he at once reports it to the Board of Health which in turn reports it to Miss Reynolds. She examines every man, woman or child who has been in contact with the person having the disease, no small task, especially when children are mostly stricken with the disease. This means that the nurse must examine every child in the room where the sick child is confined. If any person shows suspicious symptoms a culture is taken and if the laboratory test shows that there are germs present the person is quarantined even though he or she is not ill.

Interesting Question. The question of germ carrier is an interesting one in the medical profession. Some persons are so constituted that they can carry the germs of a disease and spread it and never become ill. Of course they know nothing about it and it is to offset this danger that the local Board of Health is taking such extra precautions at this time. In former years once in a while a carrier was discovered but this year there are quite a number. This may be explained that in former years the examinations were not so thorough and the carrier theory was not established.

Typoid Mary. One of most unusual examples of a carrier was a woman on Long Island some years ago who filled the newspapers of the country with news for many days. This woman became known as "Typoid Mary" and the case became so important that the New York Legislature had to pass a law to take care of her case.

"Typoid Mary" was an old woman who worked as a cook at odd times on Long Island. In some way she caught typhoid germs and carried them with her. She would work a week or two in some village or neighborhood and shortly after her arrival the disease would appear. She was not a very competent cook so she'd be discharged to seek employment elsewhere. Again the disease would break out until at last the physicians became alarmed. They were greatly puzzled because the disease would break out in spots miles apart. Finally the whole Metropolitan district was aroused and detectives traced the woman and she was sent to a hospital.

Some Complications. "Typoid Mary" was not sick and she objected to being placed in a hospital and confined there. Prominent lawyers came to her defense. There was no law to keep her in the hospital and yet the whole country was menaced if she were allowed to mingle with other persons. At last the Legislature made a law to fit the case and this law is now a law in all of the states.

But in the local cases the carriers are not of the "Typoid Mary" type. A brief period of quarantine and simple remedies take them out of the class.

"FORLORN RIVER" ATTRACTIVE FILM

Zane Grey Story Pleases Circle Patrons—Double Feature Tomorrow.

If what those at the Circle said last night about "Forlorn River" is taken as a criterion an even larger crowd will turn out this evening to witness its last showing. It is just what you would expect from Zane Grey story, a tale of the west with a heavy heart story threading its way through. The comedy accompanying this feature is unusually good. Of course you'll also see the news of the world in the kinetogram.

For tomorrow and Friday there will be double features, each one the best in its class. The first will be "Hell Bent for Heaven" and the other "Barby to Wed."

"Hell Bent for Heaven" is a film version of the famous Hatcher Hughes play, winner of the 1923 Pulitzer Prize. It is stirring, sincere and dramatic in its story of life and love in the Carolina mountains where a hired man who "gets religion" gives an old family feud in jealousy and mistaken notion that he is the instrument of the Lord.

Kathryn Perry and Matt Moore are co-starring in "Early to Wed," the unusual matrimonial comedy drama produced by Fox Films.

Again this delightful team are the newweds and once again they manage to get themselves involved in a series of situations that are pathetic as well as exceedingly humorous. This time they live beyond their means to impress their neighbors and the possible clients of the young husband, with almost disastrous results.

And here's an important announcement. Scores of requests have been received by the Circle management to bring back "The Ten Commandments." This picture broke attendance records at the State when it was shown here but it was at fancy top prices. It will come to the Circle next week at no advance in price.

THRILLING STORY OF GOLD RUSH AT RIALTO

"The Flame of the Yukon" which features Sena Owen and Arnold Gray was voted a great picture by the audience which witnessed its premier at the Rialto yesterday. This new version of Monte Katterjohn's splendid story of the Klondike is much superior to the original presentation which took place over nine years ago. It has snap and ginger. The story is dramatic and the various scenes depicting the great gold rush are unusually captivating.

Miss Owen gives a delightful portrayal of "The Flame," a dance hall girl whose nature is changed when love engrosses her. The support is rendered by Mr. Gray, Jack McLaughlin, Donald Vidin Ureoff is more than adequate, and the backgrounds are authentic and beautiful down to the smallest detail. "The Flame of the Yukon" will be shown again today and tomorrow. The shorter subjects being shown are on a par with the feature attraction. They consist of a rib-tickling comedy, "North of 67-8" that brought sales of meritment from last night's audience, and two novelty reels which offer some unique screen entertainment. The usual news reel will also be shown.

Tom Santschi, known for many years to motion picture audiences because of his acting ability and fine personality has been cast in the leading role in "The Pride of the Force" which will be offered as the chief attraction on Friday and Saturday. The leading character plays the part of what is known in the vernacular as a "cop" and he makes an ideal cop. Mr. Santschi should add to his laurels in this role as it is one that fits him like the proverbial glove.

STOP BAD BREATH
People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with attendant bad breath. Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Use nightly for a week and note the effect. 35c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

UNUSUAL PROGRAM FOR STATE PATRONS

Country Store, Big Surprise and Two Features for Tonight.

Talk about a treat for amusement lovers. Look this array over for tonight at the State, "The Theater Magnificent."

First you have "The Country Store." If any more popular novelty was ever introduced in Manchester that can beat it one must be a Missourian. Next will be "The Surprise." The plot thickens on this. The first day Manager Jack Samson said "It is—". The second day he said "It is a—". And today he gave away the whole secret. He said: "It is a surprise." So now you know what to expect when you enter the State this evening.

Besides this and not forgetting the wonderful music by the full orchestra there will be two features. The first will be "The Enchanted Hill" with Jack Holt as the star and Noah Beery doing his character stuff. The story is full of action with wild rides and plane rides galore, you know the kind. The second feature will be "The Romance of a Million" a pure and simple love story that the young folks will almost adore.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday the State will have its vaudeville. There will be Evans and Perez a world known aerial act. After touring Australia the team played Paris for six solid months, then the big eastern cities and now it comes to Manchester. It is mid-air stunts, death defying leaps and a burning battleship climax that will raise your hair. Eugene Costello and girls, five in the troupe, is a musical comedy turn. Then come Smith and Bentley in comedy, Perello and Betty, a pair that are musical to their finger tips and Ber-

FIRST "A & P" STORE OPENED 67 YEARS AGO

Famous Chain Stores Have Remarkable History—Always Painted Red.

An echo of the days of horse-cars and high wheel bikes is heard as the A & P stores observe the 67th anniversary of the founding of the first store. Like a chapter from "The Arabian Nights" reads the early history and almost magical growth of this large group of stores.

Sixty-seven years ago this month, a small red front store in New York City opened its doors, selling teas exclusively. Behind its counter stood a young man from Maine. He was George Huntington Hartford, a commonplace merchant to all outward appearances, but possessed of an unusually high degree of resourcefulness and keen judgment.

The opening of the store marked the first outgrowth of his vision of a business which later was destined to become the foremost food service in America. The selling of tea direct to consumer flourished and soon, due to popular demand, the item of coffee was found in his stock. Then spices, extracts and baking powders were added.

"Why not open another store," mused Mr. Hartford. "Conducted along the same business policy, it should be equally successful." And so another store was established. Then several more followed, and each governed by the same business policy.

In 1869, ten years after the founding of the first store, a half dozen had been opened. About this time Leland Stanford and James J. Hill were completing a stretch of railroad in the West, which was to link the Pacific and Atlantic Coasts. This great engineering event was hailed far and wide and is in a measure responsible for the present name of the company. Mr. Hartford's ambition was to develop a great chain of stores which would stretch from the Atlantic to the Pacific, as did the first transcontinental railroad, and as his first step to the goal of this ambition he changed the name of his Company to The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company.

The pulpit was supplied Sunday by Julius G. Appleton, a senior student from the Hartford Theological Seminary. The church held a business meeting at the close of the morning service and voted to give Mr. Appleton a call to become its pastor. Mr. Appleton's home state is Ohio. He is married and lives at 63 Buckingham street, Hartford and will reside there until next Spring when he will move into the parsonage at Buckingham. Mr. Appleton has had two summers' experience of preaching, one of which was spent in pastoral work along with the preaching. He has had ten years experience as a county worker in the Christian Endeavor society for boys and girls in their teens.

Mr. Appleton has had 5 years of combined training and experience as a Sunday school teacher of junior boys. Mr. Appleton was recommended to the church by the retiring pastor, Rev. W. W. Evans.

Philippines Nations' Pawn For Many Years

This is the third of six articles telling the dramatic story of the Philippines. The question of what to do about the archipelago is before the Federal government again.

By PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Writer.

During almost the entire Christian era, the Philippine archipelago has been the pawn of world-power diplomacy in the east. Nearly all of the large European nations, in addition to China and Japan, coveted it. Most of them, at one time or another, held it a while and exploited its resources.

After the voyage of Magellan, 1521, Spain became engaged in a long dispute with Portugal. Each nation claimed the islands as the outpost of its domain, so they went to the Pope, who had power to dispose of all heathen and newly-discovered lands. Pope Alexander VI generously allotted all of the new world to Spain and a few million square miles of eastern Asia and Malaysia to Portugal.

Philip II of Spain, loath to accept the decision, fitted out a large expedition to occupy the islands. Four hundred and fifty men sailed bravely away. One hundred and twenty survived starvation, storms and warfare and landed on the island of Tidor. There they threw up a fort where they lived by fighting of the Portuguese by day and raiding the natives' chicken coops and dog kennels by night.

Their spare moments, if any, were spent in praying for relief. It came, from Mexico, but was only momentary. Cortez, who then was teaching the Mexican Indians a thing or two about the efficacy of armor and gunpowder, dispatched a few ships to Tidor. Rescuers and rescued had no more than set sail for home when their ships were destroyed by storms and they all had to surrender to the Portuguese.

In 1542, another expedition was sent out under one Villalobos, whose sole accomplishment was the naming of the island after King Philip. The Portuguese chased his party all over the archipelago and found it to surrender. There were But soon after this Spain started out in earnest to expand her territorial possessions. The administration of the Church had become so corrupt and the economic burden of the many religious orders so great that there was a widespread revolt. The Church sought converts in heathen lands, and Spain, the leading Catholic nation, was the source of the most tireless missionary effort. So many expeditions were fitted out from Spain and Mexico that by the end of the sixteenth century Spanish rule was practically supreme in the archipelago.

Throughout the islands the Spaniards sailed, fighting and subjugating the natives and converting survivors. But Spain was not to hold the islands unopposed. There were thousands of Mohammedan Malays in Mindanao and Mindoro who always fought and seldom ran away. Limahong, a Chinese guerilla, tried to capture Manila in 1574. Sixty-two war junks brought four thousand men, who fell upon the city and were defeated only by the arrival of Spanish reinforcements. Continued depredations of the Chinese and Japanese finally resulted in a truce that allowed free trade among the islands.

Dutch vs. Spanish. There were unceasing wars between Spain and the Dutch in the sixteenth and seventh centuries. Even after hostilities ceased in Europe, Rescue and Wreck.

the two nationalities carried on piratical warfare. In 1762, as an incident to the war between Spain and England, a British fleet of thirteen ships was sent to the archipelago. After a bombardment, Manila fell and the 600 Spaniards surrendered to the 830 British. The islands were held for three years and returned to Spain at the close of the war.

Spain and its zealous missionaries gradually regained the hold of civilization and Christianity upon the Philippines.

"ANTEX"
Window Shades

Only 75 c each

Complete—Ready to Hang—36 in. wide, 72 in. long—
Rich, Dark Green or Beautiful Buff
(Wider shades in proportion)

No housewife will give her window shades in years the punishment we give "Antex" window shades in a few severe tests.

Imagine crushing, crinkling or creasing your shades without ruining them! Yet "Antex" shades will stand such abuse—and a few rubs with a hot iron and damp cloth will make them look like new.

Would you think of deliberately puncturing an ordinary window shade? You can do that with an "Antex" shade, and a few rubs of the fingernail will close the hole.

Would you purposely subject your best window shades to the damaging effects of a drenching rain? Would you attempt to boil them for 60 minutes—or deliberately rub dust or dirt into the surface, then try to clean them and make them look like new?

"Antex" shades have been subjected to all these tests. They have been boiled for 60 minutes, and when dry they have been rubbed over the floor and cleaned with a dry rubber sponge.

On the basis of the abuse they'll stand, and the beauty they add to your home, you should pay at least twice the regular price for them. It is only because of an inexpensive, patented manufacturing process that the price is so low.

It will pay you to buy during this sale to take care of your present and future needs. Mark "Antex" shades on your shopping list now so you won't forget them! You can cut them down to fit any window as narrow as 12 inches and the edges will have no loose threads to ravel.

TOLLAND

The regular meeting of the Past Chiefs of the Fythian Sisters held their regular meeting and their annual Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Sadie Nutland on Tolland avenue Saturday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fagan of Tolland avenue are the happy parents of a little son, Wayne Robert, born October 10 at the Rockville City hospital.

There was no services at the Federated church Sunday evening as many of the Christian Endeavorers attended the services in the Methodist church at 8 o'clock and the Union church at 7 o'clock.

The two members of the Missionary team, Rev. J. J. Banning of Pasmalai, India, and Rev. J. E. Elder of Cope, Colorado, who spoke on their work in these places Friday afternoon in the Federated church were most interesting. Those who were fortunate to be present received much inspiration.

Sixty-nine were present at the supper and social given for the Sunday school members and their parents in the Federated church Friday evening. The dining room was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and flowers making a most cheerful appearance. All entered into the spirit of good fellowship and a most enjoyable evening was spent together.

Sunday was Rally Day at the Federated Sunday school. The subject for thought was "The Church Beautiful." Each class contributing a poster and a member of the class to speak on the meaning. The program as was carried out was instructive, helpful and spiritual and one which most surely could not but make "The Church Beautiful."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baker, Miss Carolyn Kimball and Mr. Freeman of Hyannis, Mass., were recent guests of Mr. William Agard and family.

Mr. and Mrs. William Overman and Miss Eleanor Overman have returned from an automobile trip through northern New Hampshire and into Canada.

Miss Ruth Ayers, Miss Edna Crandall and Miss Helen Clough have been chosen by the Federated Sunday school to attend the Older Girls' Conference to be held in Meriden Friday and Saturday of this week.

Philip Allen of Boston was a week-end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Overman.

Mrs. Morris of Springfield and Vermont has been a recent guest of her daughter, Miss Margaret Morris.

Mrs. F. J. Brooks, Miss Nora Sheldon and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hungerford who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Simpson, have returned to their home in Hadlyme, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ensign, Mrs. Martha Bidwell and Mrs. Lanfare of East Hartford have been recent guests of Mrs. Laura Judson and her mother.

Miss Sarah Chorges has been elected secretary of the junior class in the Rockville high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hungerford and friends of Hadlyme, Conn., were guests of relatives here Friday.

Mrs. Louise Streeter of Springfield, Mass., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Usher and family of Stafford road.

Miss Elsie Staples, the teacher at Buff Cap district has recently started a Sunday school there and much interest is shown as about eighteen different names are enrolled.

Harold Graham of New York city has been a recent guest at the home of his mother, Mrs. Anna Graham at the Lilacs.

Mrs. Marion Agard Baker has returned from an automobile trip over the Mohawk Trail and other places of interest.

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

This is the plain, unassuming building that houses the most unique furniture establishment in America

And this is the entrance to the plain, unassuming building — yes, quite plain on the outside but very interesting inside

In this plain, unassuming building are located Garber Brothers' attractive furniture show rooms—Living Room Suite Factory—Warehouse, Finishing Department and Shipping Department.

The saving on rental overhead, the saving by manufacturing our own Living Room Suites, the saving on upkeep of show windows and other unnecessary frills—all these savings combined enable you to buy good furniture at prices that would be utterly impossible if this business were conducted in the usual retail manner.

This method of doing business has been proven scores of times in other industries as well as in our own as the only means of building an institution of TRUE PUBLIC SERVICE—

An institution that not merely makes claims, but actually does make it easy for everyone to own a better home.

We NEVER have "sales" We ALWAYS sell for less

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: Aaron Burr (7)

In July, 1777, Burr was appointed lieutenant colonel and placed in command of a regiment. Its officers were mainly rich and incapable young men. Burr ordered the most inefficient of them home and before long he looked his regiment into shape. He was a strict disciplinarian, but also sympathetic, generous and tender to the sick.

In September of that year Burr heard that the British had come out of New York and were pillaging Orange county.

He moved toward the enemy at once, although General Putnam recommended that he retreat.

Burr, alone, crept up to the enemy's pickets, learned the exact situation of each, and returned to awaken his men. In a swift attack, Burr's men killed or captured all the advance guard of the British, and the enemy retreated to New York next day. Burr was prevented from pursuit by orders to join the main army at Valley Forge. (Continued.)

Marshall Squier cut his foot badly a few days ago, while chopping wood. Five stitches had to be taken in it. He is convalescing at the home of his grandfather, James Uley.

The Misses Agnes, Phoebe and Gertrude Kemp, who have been spending several months at the home of Mrs. R. G. Proctor, left for their home in New York, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shekleton and family of Hartford spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Rice.

The local schools were closed Tuesday, it being visiting day for the teachers.

The Columbia Lodge of A. O. U. W. held a meeting Monday evening at the hall.

Thirteen ladies met at the new parsonage, Tuesday, for an all-day meeting to get the house in order for the pastor and his family to move in. A picnic lunch was served at noon. Rev. Mr. Wain and his family will move in Wednesday.

Miss Anne Dix returned Tuesday after spending some time in New York.

Rev. Mr. Wain preached Sunday morning on "Microscopic Vision." The Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening was led by Miss Harrie Field, and her subject was "What Ideal Are Found in the Constitution of the United States?"

Next Sunday evening, there will be a special service held in the church in commemoration of the new floor and electric lights. It is also the anniversary of the founding of the church. This service was planned by the late Mrs. Mary Yeomans before her death, and she had prepared a paper on the early history of the church, which will be read at this service by Mrs. Henry Hutchins. There will be special music under the direction of the Christian Endeavor Society, also remarks by the pastor and several members of the church. It is hoped that a large number will be present, and a cordial invitation is extended to out of town friends.

U. S. OFFICIAL HOST JOB FOR QUEEN OVER

cial members of the Queen's party, nine members of the Cabinet, ranking members of the House and Senate committees dealing with foreign affairs. The guest list was officially announced as follows: The President and Mrs. Coolidge, Her Majesty, the Queen of Rumania, His Royal Highness, Prince Nicholas, His Royal Highness, Prince Nicholas, the Vice-President and Mrs. Dawes, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of War, the Attorney General and Mrs. Sargent, the Postmaster General and Mrs. New, the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Wilbur, the Secretary of the Interior, the Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Jardine, the Secretary of Labor and Mrs. Davis, Mrs. William E. Borah, Senator and Mrs. Claude A. Swanson, Representative Stephen G. Porter, Representative and Mrs. J. Charles Linthicum, the Charge d'Affaires of Great Britain and Mrs. Chilton, the Charge d'Affaires of Rumania, Mrs. Freoclipu and Mme. Labovary, ladies in waiting to Her Majesty, the Queen of Rumania, the Secretary to the President and Mrs. Sanders, the Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Wright, Mr. Linton, Colonel Athanasesco and Professor Petresco, members of the Royal party, Rear Admiral Andrew T. Long and Lieut. Col. Arthur Pollon, U. S. Naval and Military aides to Her Majesty, the Queen of Rumania, Mrs. Mary Randolph, Colonel Sherwood A. Cheney, Captain Wilton Brown.

Hoover Missing. Mrs. Borah was invited as wife of the Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, but the Senator was absent in Iowa making political speeches. Speaker Longworth and Secretary were also absent because of campaign speaking dates. Mr. Hoover being the only Cabinet officer missing. Senator Swanson and his wife were present because he is the ranking minority member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Representative Porter is chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and Representative Linthicum its ranking Democratic member. The only diplomats present were Mr. Henry Chilton, the British Charge d'Affaires, and M. Radu T. Djuvara, the Rumanian Charge d'Affaires. The former was invited because of the relationship between Queen Marie and the British royal family.

Miss Randolph is Mrs. Coolidge's social secretary. The dinner was strictly an official state function and it will be observed that, for that reason, none of the social leaders of Washington were asked to be present. Twenty-six of the group were men. Twenty ladies were present. The table was set with gold service and decorated with Columbian roses, white anemones, delphinium and maidenhair fern.

Marie Wears White. The Queen was robed last night in a creation by Patou, a straight, gown of white georgette crepe embroidered in sequins. It was cut round in front and deeply pointed at the back. A wing train hung from the right shoulder to the floor. She wore silver slippers and silver stockings.

A tiara worn as a diadem was the outstanding feature of her toilette. It was of pearls and diamonds in pear-shaped clusters, and once belonged to her mother, Grand Duchess Marie of Russia. Across her bosom stretched the blue ribbon of the highest Rumanian Order.

The Queen arrived at the White House wearing a cloak of white mull with gold brocade and trimmed with sable, and wearing a long white glove on her left arm. The Princess was much less elaborately attired, wearing a gown of crepe de chine in blue, her favorite color, embroidered with sequins.

Seven Course Dinner. When the group went in to dinner President Coolidge offered the Queen his arm, and then led the way into the state dining room, going to the far side of the table from the entrance. The Queen was seated at the President's right, with the President's place at the center of the west side of the table.

Following the President came Mrs. Coolidge, escorted by Prince Nicholas, and at opposite the President and the Queen, with Vice-President Dawes on Mrs. Coolidge's left. Secretary Mellon conducted Princess Helena into the dining room. The dinner was in seven courses, and was served by colored waiters, a Southern American touch which the Queen enjoyed, for she has found the Negroes very interesting. The dinner began with anchovy soup, followed by consommé, Lobster in cream made the fish course and the principal dish was fillet mignon. Salad, ice cream, fruits and coffee finished the dinner.

Reviews Middles in Rain. Annapolis, Md., Oct. 20.—In a driving rain, Queen Marie of Rumania today reviewed the midshipmen of the United States naval academy.

The Queen and her party, accompanied by Rear Admiral B. F. Upton and his staff of the academy, stood under a canopy as the faultless rows of blue-clad midshipmen passed by in the rain and mud. Greeted by Maryland. Baltimore, Oct. 20.—Queen Marie came to Baltimore today and it seemed that most of Maryland congested in the narrow streets of the old town to bid her welcome.

Thousands jammed the streets from the outskirts of the city to the Belvedere hotel and stood in a drizzling rain to see the Balkan queen arrive. Members of the Rumanian party said it was "the biggest reception yet."

New York, Oct. 20.—When Queen Marie of Rumania returns to New York at 7.45 o'clock tonight, she will come to a palace prepared for her and to a round of social functions.

With the exception of an overnight trip to Philadelphia tomorrow night, her majesty will remain in and near New York until Monday, when she starts on her trip west, which will take her to the Pacific coast.

When she arrives at the Pennsylvania terminal the queen becomes the guest of Samuel Hill and the other private individuals whose invitation to America she accepted. Her first appearance here as an unofficial visitor will be tonight at ten o'clock at a reception at the Ritz-Carlton hotel.

The Society of Friends of Rumania is tendering the reception. Seven hundred distinguished guests will be there.

It was learned today that boxes for the benefit performance to be given in the queen's honor at the Metropolitan Opera House, Sunday night, sell for $1,000 each and up. The Mothers' Memorial Foundation, headed by Mrs. C. Crittenden Calhoun, of Washington, already has obtained $30,000 through advance sales of the boxes, it is said. The foundation plans, it is said, to establish an Acropolis to the womanhood in all lands.

President W. H. Cromwell of the Society of the Friends of Rumania, refused to comment on the opera house incident, but his secretary branded it as "another effort to capitalize the presence here of the queen of Rumania."

ROYAL SHOWMANSHIP

Here's a Writer Who Sees Visit as Advertising Stunt.

By GILBERT SWAN. New York, Oct. 20.—As Broadway would put it, "the queen is certainly springing a royal line." Broadway, which for years has lived according to its lights, has learned suddenly that the Balkans have a way white way of putting things over. Those who penned "uneasy lies the head that wears the crown" did their writing before bobbed hair came into vogue.

Anyone who can turn true blood into red headlines gets the immediate respect and applause of the hard-boiled highway. And surely Queen Marie has given the famous thoroughbred lessons in showmanship that will not soon be forgotten. Perhaps, when her two months in America have ended, they will concede that she is the greatest showman of them all.

All the advertising methods that Broadway ever learned he force already been employed to the queen's taste. Broadway lights tell of "that schoolgirl complexion" Pshaw! The queen posed for "beauty cream" months ago.

Her signature over special newspaper articles goes for a queenly sum. Her arrangements begin at the legation but end to a considerable extent, in the hands of a famous professional dancer of yesterday. She brings a ballet in her trunk—all ready for presentation.

Her every entrance and exit is staged with consummate skill—gold braids, blare of trumpets, business of walking on stage with a careless regalness, touched just properly with pomp. A carefully studied bit that any Broadway actress would love to be able to imitate.

With such prefatory hints, the ballet boys were quick to realize that there was a visitor worthy of their stage. And so wherever there was an axe to grind, wherever the mills of advertising and publicity ground, the smart young advertising men sent their noses to the grindstones.

Queen Marie was presented with flowers from Blank's; her shoes were fashioned by Blank's; gowns designed by Blank's; French cutlery, music furnished by Blank's; automobiles of the exclusive Blank make.

All the Blanks. She rode across the sea on a deck furnished by a big steamship company—for the advertising. An exclusive hotel provided a royal floor for the advertising. The furniture, perfect in period, came from Blank's—for advertising. The chef that serves her meals will become eminently eminent. A railroad will provide a special royal car—quite free, and darn good advertising.

The movies offer her $25,000 a scene—but what swell advertising, whether she takes it or no! Theatres would pack the house and trees fight to give her a box—her when if she said she liked the show! Bon bons come to her suite from Blank's and she sleeps on "the mattress of comfort."

For "selling" is the keynote of the day. Everybody's doing it in one way or another. The Prince of Wales wasn't so bad at it, as America learned. And a queen who gives her market what it's looking for—well, she can hang her crown on any Broadway lamppost she wishes.

MRS. WADE, COLLECTOR OF MYSTIC REVIEW

At the meeting of Mystic Review, W. B. A. 1, held in Tinker hall Monday evening, Mrs. Anna Wade was announced as the new collector, her appointment having been made by the home office at Port Huron, Mich. Mrs. Wade succeeds Mrs. Janet Linnell who resigned several weeks ago and who is planning to leave town.

Past Commander Mrs. Grace Lathrop was elected finance keeper to succeed Mrs. Wade, and her position in turn will be filled by Mrs. Alice Hunter. It was announced that a district rally will be held in Odd Fellows hall, Hartford, early in December. Reports of the recent whist, of which Mrs. Lena Kuster was chairman, indicated that it was a financial success.

ITALIAN-AMERICAN LADIES PLAN BALL

Our Italian-American residents always look forward with pleasure to the annual masquerade given by the Italian-American Ladies Aid society. The date scheduled for this year's dance is Saturday evening of this week, and the place is the Subalpine clubhouse. Prizes will be awarded for the best dressed couple, the best dress, and also for the funniest costume. The object of the masquerade is to raise funds for the work of the organization among the needy Italian people in Manchester, and the ladies are making every effort to exceed the success of other years.

Mrs. Angela Garron, heads the committee of ladies in charge of arrangements.

GOVERNMENT DENIES WAR FILM SWEETENING

Deletion of Scenes in "Four Horsemen" Not Rest of State Department Influence. Chicago, Oct. 20.—Deletion of scenes in Rudolph Valentino's "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" which show Valentino, as a French soldier, condemning the German government, and German soldiers mistreating women in a captured town, has been requested by the State Department at Washington, it became known here today. The step was taken, it was said, in an effort to destroy war-time enmity. The film now is being shown at a Chicago theatre.

Denial. Washington, Oct. 20.—The State Department has taken no action whatever in connection with Rudolph Valentino's film, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," it was declared at the department today.

Officials said they had received reports that the scenes were being deleted voluntarily by producers in order that the picture may be shown in Germany.

NEW HAVEN TO FORECLOSE A HUNDRED TAX LIENS

New Haven, Oct. 20.—More than 300 tax lien suits had been filed by the city attorney's office here today against owners of property who have neglected to pay taxes for a number of years past. Some 200 of the delinquents made prompt payment of the taxes when served with papers, and the Superior court will now be asked to foreclose on the others' property.

ASTHMA. No cure for it, but welcome relief is often brought by VICKS VAPORUB. Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly.

12 Couples Entered, Tassilo's Orch. Admission 50 Cents.

ABOUT TOWN

The Ladies' Aid Society of the North Methodist church will continue their rummage sale in the Fuller block this evening and tomorrow afternoon.

A son was born today to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gorman. The baby was born at the Memorial hospital. Mr. Gorman is the proprietor of "Pinhurst Grocery."

Leaves on the rails and the rain made a combination that worried trolley men this morning and for a time the schedules were off. Before noon, however, the cars were back again on time.

Director E. H. Chaney of the Rec has issued a call for Manchester business men to attend his gymnasium classes which will start at the School street building tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The class in which an opportunity for playing volleyball will be offered, will last until 3 o'clock and will be followed by a plunge in the swimming pool.

PYTHIAN SISTERS ATTEND NEW BRITAIN MEETING

Memorial Temple Pythian Sisters who attended the session of the state lodge in New Britain yesterday included Mrs. Letting Caverly, Mrs. Ada Peckham, Mrs. Annie Alley, Mrs. Frances Chambers and Mrs. Frederica Spless. All of these ladies were initiated with twenty other past chiefs. Forty temples were represented, the attendance running over three hundred.

The business session of the Pythian Sisters was held morning and afternoon in Judd hall and of the Knights in Odd Fellows hall. Dinner for the ladies was served at the Methodist church. The newly elected Grand Chief, Mrs. Chamberlain of West Haven, was presented with a silver service by the grand officers and numerous other gifts, including four beautiful bouquets from her own temple and from her husband. She made a very graceful speech in acknowledgment of the honor done her and the gifts showered upon her.

D. A. R. BRIDGE WHIST

A well attended subscription bridge and whist was given by Odd Fellows Chapter, D. A. R., in Odd Fellows hall yesterday afternoon. About 42 tables were filled with players.

First prize in bridge, a pair of brass book-ends, was won by Mrs. James Irvine. The consolation, a brass paper cutter was awarded to Mrs. W. L. Parks. In whist the consolation was won by Mrs. Thomas Smith. She received a picture, and Mrs. Ernest Newcomb for consolation received a brass paper cutter.

NOTE BRINGS BANKRUPTCY

New Haven, Oct. 20.—Jennie Quirk, of Bristol, "endorsed a company note to the Bristol Trust Company for $5,900" and as a result has today filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States District court with $5,900 as her debt and with no assets.

EUGENE V. DEBS CANT SURVIVE THE DAY

rear. The hold he was getting on Americans with socialist tendencies may better be understood when it is considered that in 1909, Debs polled only 87,814 votes. In 1912 he increased it to 901,872, and in 1920 it had grown to nearly 1,000,000.

It was in 1894 that Debs first came under the glaring searchlight of national prominence. In that year, as president of the American Railway Union, he directed and emerged victorious in a strike on the Great Northwestern Railway. Later the same year he managed the still greater strike of western roads which President Grover Cleveland quelled with Federal troops and ran afoul of a conspiracy charge of which he was acquitted. Shortly after that he was held for violating an injunction and sentenced to six months' imprisonment at Woodstock, Ill., for contempt of court. It marked his first incarceration for his devotion to his ideals as he saw them which twice put him behind the bars in his lifetime.

Born at Terre Haute, Ind., on November 5, 1855, the son of Daniel and Margaret Berterich Debs, he got only a common school education before going to work. Of a brilliant intellect and a hungering desire for knowledge, Debs studied independently until he had acquired a splendid education, and even in his declining years he manifested a keen sense of learning, retaining an ardent student to the last.

In 1885, while grand secretary and treasurer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Debs was married to Miss Katherine Metzler. His railroad experience, gained as a locomotive fireman from 1871 to 1874 on the Terre Haute & Indianapolis Railway. He quit his engine cab in 1875 to spend four years in a wholesale grocery business in Terre Haute, and the following four years he served as Terre Haute's city clerk.

Shortly afterward he was married, on June 9, 1885, Debs was elected to the Indiana Legislature. He became president of the American Railway Union in 1893, during which time he directed and won the memorable Great Northern Railway strike and directed the bigger strikes on Western railroads that resulted in his jail sentence at Woodstock.

In 1897 and 1898 Debs was chairman of the national council of the social democracy, and in 1900 he became the candidate of that party for President. For the next 20 years he dominated the Socialist party, and was its standard bearer four times successively in the quarterly Presidential race.

On June 6, 1918, a few months after the United States had entered the World War, Debs made a speech before the Ohio State Socialist convention at Canton which resulted in his indictment a week later by a Federal Grand Jury in Cleveland on a charge of violating the espionage act. Debs' trial started on September 9 at Cleveland before Judge D. C. Westhaven. He was convicted and five days later he was sentenced to ten years in the West Virginia State Penitentiary at Moundsville.

Debs refused to make any attempt to prevent the imposition of the penalty, declining to offer any evidence in his own defense. But he won the lasting admiration of millions who loathed his doctrines when he made an address to the Jury that included this stirring passage: "I have no dispute with the evidence presented by the government, no criticism of the counsel for the prosecution. I would not take back a word of what I believe right to save myself from the penalty. I am accused of crime, but I look the court in the face, I look the jury in the face, I look the world in the face, for in my heart no accusation of wrong festers. Gentlemen, I have been accused of obstructing the war. I admit it gentlemen; I never war. I would oppose the war if I stood alone."

Powerful friends and even some of his enemies exerted strong pressure at Washington to save Debs from going to prison, but to no avail. The United States Supreme Court on March 19, 1919, upheld the conviction and the sentence. Three weeks later, on April 12 Debs quietly left his home at Terre Haute and traveled, unaccompanied to Cleveland to submit to arrest. The shadows were lengthening ominously when Debs the next day went to enter the prison gate at Moundsville, was shown to his barred cell, and changed his name for a number—2253.

Executive Clemency. Two months later, on June 18, he was transferred to the Federal Prison at Atlanta and became Prisoner No. 9653. Tremendous influence was brought to bear on President Wilson to release Debs from prison owing to his frailty and impaired health, but on several occasions the War Chief came out flatly against such announcements, as opposing Executive clemency on the ground that it would injure the nation's morale.

Finally two days before Christmas, 1922, after Debs had served two years eight months and ten days, he was released from prison by the late President Harding after a few weeks earlier, he had gone quietly to Washington, unattended, to lay his case before Harry N. Daugherty, then United States Attorney-General.

Following his release, Debs remained at his home in Terre Haute for several months recuperating from the effects of his confinement, and then he took to the road once more, forsaking his restful armchair for the lecture platform. Heart trouble, aggravated by his advancing years, and his confinement, compelled him a short time later to return to his home.

In recent months, however, Debs again became fairly active and journeyed to various parts of the country, making addresses. And to the very last he exhibited the same fiery spirit, the same brilliant mind and the same wonderful courage of his convictions that a score of years before had brought down on his head the condemnation of millions of Americans, who were drawn irresistibly to the man himself, while cordially hating the principles he advocated.

FOX TROT CONTEST TONIGHT

The finals in the elimination series of prize fox trots will be held at the Rainbow tonight, with Bill Tassilo's orchestra playing. Twelve couples are entered. The dancers come from Willimantic, Stafford Springs, Rockville and Manchester. The judges will be from Hartford and Springfield. Tomorrow night modern and old fashion dancing will be enjoyed with Professor Taylor of Middletown prompting.

PARKS SUPERINTENDENT BEFORE KIWANIS CLUB

Tells Members Beauty Spots Here Don't Seem to Be Fully Appreciated.

John Keur, superintendent of parks in Manchester, was the speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon at the Hotel Sheridan today. Mr. Keur has been in Manchester seven months. He gave the Kiwanians a decidedly interesting talk on the value of parks, trees and shrubbery for recreational and ornamental purposes. Mr. Keur said he was surprised at the lack of interest shown by the people of Manchester in their public parks. Center Springs park for example was one that nature had produced and it had but very few equals in Connecticut. The opportunity for development was great and well worth while. He said the people of Manchester do not realize the value of parks, trees and shrubbery in their town or they would visit them oftener and take more interest in their development. It was his purpose to create more enthusiasm and interest in the local parks and in the preservation of trees.

Mr. Keur referred to the redwoods and other wonderful trees of California, some of them two thousand years old. He likened them to living beings. When we stop to look at a tree two thousand years old and likely to live one or two thousand more, man seems but a temporary fixture here in comparison.

Mr. Keur was listened to with close attention. E. J. Holl secured him to speak before the Kiwanians and introduced him to the meeting. He is a graduate of the Yale School of Forestry. The attendance prize furnished by George H. Waddell was won by Charles J. Pickett.

HUNDRED DEVILDOS TO GUARD HUB MAILS

Big Detachment of Marines Sent to Boston as Bar to Bandit Raids. Boston, Oct. 20.—Word was received at the Federal Building this afternoon that a detail of 100 armed marines was enroute to Boston to guard the mails.

The "devildogs" will be quartered in the Federal Building and squads will be sent out to guard points open to attacks by bandits—railroad stations, post offices, sub-post offices, mail trucks, mail cars, etc.

The coming of the marines to Boston is in line with similar precautions being taken in other sections of the country, following the Elizabeth, N. J., mail robbery and murder.

CONN. NORMAL SCHOOLS GAIN IN ATTENDANCE

Hartford, Oct. 20.—Connecticut's four state normal schools have increased their attendance 138 in the past year and now have a total of 1,120 as compared with 982 last year, according to the State Board of Education. New Haven has 368 scholars, New Britain 327, Willimantic 215, and Danbury 210.

PHYSICAL DIRECTOR FOR DISTRICTS 1-8

Interesting Situation Brought Out at Meeting of Joint School Board.

At yesterday's meeting of the Joint School board a new appropriation was made to take care of the appointment to be made of a physical director for the schools in Districts 1 to 8. The sum of $800 was voted. The question brought up an interesting situation. The Board of Education voted the appropriation because it understood that pupils from Districts 1 to 8 were entering high school unprepared in physical education. The members understood that first year pupils in the high school who had studied in the outside districts could not make the "A" honor roll because of the lack of training in this special subject. Evidently the board was misinformed because Principal Quimby on being queried for more facts on the matter today said that the records showed that one-third of the pupils who had made the honor roll last year were from these outside districts. It is true, however, it was brought out at the meeting that physical education is counted in determining the high school honor pupils and the outside district pupils do not have any contact with the subject before entering the high school. The new course will make them better prepared.

PLAN ASSEMBLY FOR TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Proposed New Constitution Is Being Circulated for Action Next February. Hartford, Oct. 20.—A new constitution for the Connecticut State Teachers' Association probably will be adopted at the annual meeting of the association next February. Copies of the constitution are now being distributed among members so they may study its provisions before the meeting.

Membership is to be open to all persons engaged in or "interested in educational interests of the state." The association will be governed by a representative assembly elected from thirty-four districts, made up of groups of small towns, and from each large town having fifty or more teachers. Officers and representatives are to serve one year each.

Hartford and New Haven are designated as permanent meeting places of the convention along with other towns "as the board may designate from year to year." The annual meetings will occur on the fourth Friday in October.

PENN LOOKS BEST OF EAST ELEVEN

Hidden Ball Trick and Group of All Americans Winning Games.

This is the third of a series of football articles by Davis J. Walsh on the leading teams of the East and some of the Middle Western eleven. Other articles will follow at regular intervals.

By DAVIS J. WALSH, I. N. S. Sports Editor.

New York, Oct. 20.—The eye may be quicker than the hand but you can prove it neither by the come-on who tried to beat the shell game at the county fair nor the football teams that have tried to beat Pennsylvania this season. Four of them, Franklin and Marshall, Johns Hopkins, Swarthmore and Chicago, have given the matron their attention and some of the boys haven't seen the ball yet.

Pennsylvania is making expeditious use of a hidden ball attack, so wondrously timed and executed as to suggest parlor magic. Alonzo Stagg seemed to think it was the greatest yet but, as to that, I don't think the team yet lives that can take the play away from that old Harvard sleight-of-hand business that Haughton once used.

It is the type of attack that needs the men to make it really useful and Pennsylvania has them in plenty. In fact, the team is nursing five All-American possibilities in George Thayer, end; Jack Butler, center; Charley Rogers and Al Wascolonis, backs, and Paul Murphy, quarterback.

The latter is the key man in the attack, the boy who makes the motions that send defensive linemen chasing devotedly after the man who hasn't the ball. Paul is only a sophomore but he looks the part of a fine all-around football player.

Triple Threat. He is a quarterback of the old school, the kind that kicks, runs and passes in addition to calling the plays. He does everything well and, in spite of the fact that the veteran, Laird, is ready as an understudy, I think it would go very hard with Pennsylvania if it lost Murphy, even for a half game.

Rogers, however, is another ideal triple threat and probably the greatest ball runner in the squad. If not in the East, Wascolonis and Clarence Field are the line cracklers and every man in the backfield can be turned loose to receive passes but the bellwether at this game is Captain Thayer at end. He may be the best of a lot of good wings that we have in the East this season. Paul Scull is another good ball runner.

For Pennsylvania is almost affluent in material. Thayer and Don Singer are hang-over ends from last year. So is F. Scull, their immediate understudy. The same goes for the tackle, Ed Hake, Bob Pike and Ed Fonde, and one of the guards, Dick Snyder. Butler was shifted from guard to center between seasons, leaving only Sam Parker and Stewart Brydon as forwards of no great previous experience.

It Can Go Wrong. With its surplus of veteran class it is difficult to see how Pennsylvania can go wrong. But it can. I didn't like its seven-man line with the old style against Chicago and I would say that a better passing team might have given the Penn defense plenty to do. It may find, too, that it is playing its tackle and ends a trifle too close in when it meets Illinois next week. Grange never would have run as wild as he did last year if Pennsylvania forwards had followed a less conservative style of play.

However, there is no mistaking the fact that Pennsylvania has the punch. The team really deserves its ranking of the moment with the best in the East.

Worth Knowing In Sports

"Dutch" Reuther, veteran southpaw pitcher, enjoys the rather unique distinction of being turned loose twice in as many seasons, each time catching on with a pennant winner.

In 1925 Reuther joined the Washington club after having put in several campaigns with the Brooklyn Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds. While he didn't get in the world series against Pittsburgh as an actual participant, he nevertheless, shared in the spoils.

Last summer Washington decided to cast Reuther adrift and the vet finger went to the Yankees. He took part in one game during the recent play-off with the Cardinals.

Football Captains

"TINY" HEWITT

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 18.—The cadets at West Point are looking forward to one of the best football seasons in years this fall. Material is quite plentiful and under the guiding hand of Coach "Big" Jones a winning eleven should result. A year ago the Army won every game but two, losing to Yale and Columbia. It wound up by defeating its old rival, Navy, 10-3, thus making the chase a success.

This year, though, things stack up even more rosy. "Tiny" Hewitt, one of the greatest gridirers of the last few years, is captain of the cadets this season. Hewitt, a big fellow, powerful fellow, is not only fast for his size, but is exceptionally elusive in the open. He's a hard lad to stop once he gets under way.

Hewitt is also a big asset on the defense and breaks up many a play in his territory. With such a capable chap leading the team the Army is certain to cause plenty of trouble this campaign.

WILLS, SHARKEY BOTH IN COM'S BAD GRACES

New York Boxing Board Suspends Negro, Frowns on Hub Lad in Forfeit Matter.

New York, Oct. 20.—Harry Wills, recently defeated contender for the world heavyweight championship, and Jack Sharkey, who defeated Wills and moved into his position as runner-up in the ranks of the big fellows, have run afoul of the New York boxing commission's displeasure. Wills was suspended, for thirty days for using foul tactics in his fight with Sharkey, by failing to appear before the commission yesterday to post a $2,500 forfeit of good faith in his challenge to Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, slipped a rung in the good graces of his one-time fast friends, the commission.

LOCAL SOCCER ELEVEN AT HARTFORD SUNDAY

Rainy weather caused a postponement of the soccer game scheduled between Manchester and the Hartford Thistles Sunday in Hartford but the next game for the local eleven will also be played in Hartford if the weather man is agreeable. Their opponents this time will be the Thistles and the game will be fought on the Charter Oak Park field.

The Manchester Club will hold a practice session tomorrow night at the West Side playgrounds.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS At New York.—Sam Dorfman of New York won on foul from Lew Hurley of New York in the third round. Lew Kersch of New York won decision over Jose Lombardo of Panama, six rounds. Eddy Baldock of England won decision from Sam Sanchez of New York, six rounds. Mickey Durano of Brooklyn, won decision over Frank Tropa of Syracuse, six rounds.

At Chicago.—Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis drew with Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul, ten rounds. At San Francisco.—Ted Morgan of Philadelphia, junior lightweight champion, defeated Johnny Dundee of New York, ten rounds.

MARY HASSETT HIGH WITH 113 IN GIRLS' A. A. BOWLING LEAGUE

Mary Hasset's score of 113 was sufficient to top the high honors at last week's session of the Girls' Bowling League at Murphy's alleys. Her other scores were 83 and 75. She bowled with the Velvet Mill team.

The high three string went to Esther Lautenbach, 282. Her scores were 91, 93 and 98. Seven girls were tied for the honor of registering the most marks, four. They were Mary Hasset, Mae Sherman, Esther Lautenbach, Mildred Aitken, Ruth Peterson, Annie Symington and Florence Hayden.

Football Notes

Hanover, N. H., Oct. 20.—The Dartmouth coaches have abandoned the long and involved forward passes which for years have featured the team's attack. The eleven was to concentrate today on developing a system of short passes for the Harvard game Saturday.

Cambridge, Oct. 20.—Following a rather mediocre showing yesterday, the Harvard varsity today will be put through another scrimmage with a team of ineligibles using Dartmouth formations.

New Haven, Oct. 20.—The Yale squad will get its first scrimmage of the week today in preparation for the Brown game. Bill Webster, veteran guard, has recovered from an injury and is now playing at tackle.

Annapolis, Oct. 20.—A hard scrimmage, with the scrubs emulating the Colgate passing game, was scheduled for the Navy team today. Hardwick, veteran end, is rounding into shape.

State College, Pa., Oct. 20.—Penn State is perfecting its defense in preparation for the Syracuse game on Saturday. Pincura has won the post at quarterback.

Syracuse, Oct. 20.—With Syracuse's backfield battered by injuries received in the Army game, Clark has been awarded one of the vacant posts. Barbuti and Baysinger will be his running mates, with the fourth man undecided.

MORGAN BEATS DUNDEE IN NOT-SO-GOOD FIGHT

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—This city had its first championship boxing match in 14 years last night and today a bad taste was cleaving to the roof of the mouths of some fifteen thousand spectators who saw Ted Morgan, junior lightweight champion of the world, successfully defend his title against the ancient Johnny Dundee, former featherweight champion.

In the second round Dundee crashed Morgan on the chin with his brittle right arm and from there on the New Yorker fought with one hand.

Morgan won every round but was roundly booed for refusing Dundee's invitation to "come in and fight."

FITCHBURG HIGH SCHOOL ASKS S. M. H. S. FOR DATE

But Torrington High, State Champions Also Seeks Game on Same Date; Strongest Schedule in Years.

It was learned yesterday that the South Manchester High school basketball team may find the toughest slate in the history of the school confronting it when the 1926-27 season gets under way the first part of December.

Possibly World's Champs. Arrangements are in the works for a game with Fitchburg, Mass., High school which won the schoolboy championship of the world last season by eliminating all opposition at the National High school tournament at Chicago. While it is not yet assured that the crack Bay State team will play here, it is, nevertheless, quite possible.

The world champions are planning a Connecticut tour to be staged during the week ending March 5. The management of Fitchburg High communicated with Edson M. Bailey, who is faculty manager of all sports at the local High school, requesting a game to be played in Manchester. Mr. Bailey immediately wired back acceptance of the offer for a game to be played on Saturday night, March 5. A substantial guarantee was offered the Bay Staters. However, Torrington High is also dicker with Fitchburg for a game on the same date and it will not be known for a few days who will be the winner. South Manchester or Torrington. The latter, it will be remembered, won the championship of Connecticut last season. However, if Manchester fails to secure the top-notch attraction, it will not be the fault of Mr. Bailey. He is leaving no stones unturned in his efforts.

Two Other Attractions. Two other high class attractions are being negotiated for—Hartford High and Commercial High of New Haven. In fact the latter team is booked for a game here February 11. It is expected that definite word will be received in a few days in regard to the matter as well as to whether Hartford High will deem it advisable to leave its home floor for a game here December 10. The Hartford game, if arranged, would be the season's lid-lifter.

League Comes First. Regardless of the success of the efforts to secure Fitchburg and Hartford, South Manchester High will think first of its chances in the Central Connecticut Interscholastic League which will receive its basketball debut this season. The games with Meriden, Middletown, Bristol, East and West Hartford high schools will be the first considered. Mr. Bailey was emphatic in declaring that it was more important for the S. M. H. S. team to win the games in this circuit than those outside.

The prospects of putting a winning team on the floor this season will be discussed later in another article following an interview with Coach W. J. Clarke who will again have charge of that work.

The Schedule. Following is the temporary 18 games schedule which will not doubt be revised somewhat before the season opens.

December 10: Hartford High here, pending.
December 17: Either New Haven Normal, Commerce High of Springfield or College Prep of New Haven, here.
December 24: Alumni.
January 1: Bristol High at Bristol.
January 7: East Hartford High at East Hartford.
January 14: Meriden High here.
January 21: East Hartford here.
January 28: Middletown High at Middletown.
January 29: Windham High of Willimantic here.
February 4: Meriden High at Meriden.
February 5: New Haven Commercial High here.
February 11: Windham High of Willimantic at Willimantic.
February 18: Bristol High here.
February 25: West Hartford High at West Hartford.
February 26: Middletown High at Middletown.
March 4: West Hartford High here.
March 5: Fitchburg, Mass. High (world's champion) at South Manchester, pending.
March 11: New Haven Commercial at New Haven.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAYS MERIDEN HIGH NEXT

At present Manchester is perched at the head of the Central Connecticut Interscholastic League in football, being tied with Meriden for the leadership.

Saturday afternoon in the Silver City, the two schools will meet on the gridiron. It should be a great battle. The odds are reported as slightly favoring the team from the home of Kid Kaplan but S. M. H. S., fresh from its impressive 36 to 7 victory over West Hartford last Saturday, is confident of upsetting the dope.

The only other league game scheduled for this week will be played at West Hartford where Middletown High will be the visitors.

REFEREE IS MOBBED AT NEW YORK FIGHT

New York, Oct. 20.—Investigation of a riot at the Pioneer Athletic club last night in which a mob of fight fans attacked Referee Jimmy Crowley, was ordered today by the New York Boxing Commission. The mob scene occurred after Crowley had disqualified Lew Hurley on a foul in the third round of his bout with Sammy Dorfman. Crowley was struck on the head by a chair hurled by one of the mob and suffered a slight scalp wound. Police soon quelled the riot.

We know some men who can hear pleasure knock with a feather but who could not hear duty knock if it used an axe.

The Friendly Man

Man. A lanky fellow was the Friendly An' he spoke in a quiet way; He said he came from a little town Some thirty miles away.

He loved t' work an' he loved t' smile, An' he wanted t' help ye, too; An' I'm tellin' ye, sir, he was jus' the gent

I used t' be grouchy each workin' day Till the time he dropped aroun' An' then I got sort o' happy like An' did my job up brown.

Man goes through life with one hand stretched out to grab the woman he can't have, and the other stretched back to ward off the woman who is trying to grab him.

RESTRAIN THEIR JOY

Jeff Lewis is greatly improved but is not yet able to leave his house, much to the delight of his friends.

"Who touches a hair of this old head Finds that a blonde's brunette instead!"

Formerly a woman said she "had nothing to wear" in an apologetic tone of voice.

A lady advertises for her cat which disappeared during fall-cleaning. We are inclined to think that it didn't take a firm enough stand at the approach of the vacuum-cleaner

Father: "That young man of yours stayed very late last night." Daughter: "Yes, daddy—I was showing him my photo-album."

Father: "Well—the next time he wants to stay late show him my electric light bills."

INTELLIGENCE TESTS

WHAT'S WRONG?

This test has been written especially for children. However, many grownups may find the questions difficult. The correct answers appear on another page.

1—What's wrong with the accompanying picture?

2—What was the name of George Washington's home?

3—How many seconds are there in an hour?

4—How does Detroit rank in size with other cities in the United States?

5—What is the largest state in area in the United States?

6—With what country did the United States fight in 1812?

7—What is the difference between a volt and a watt?

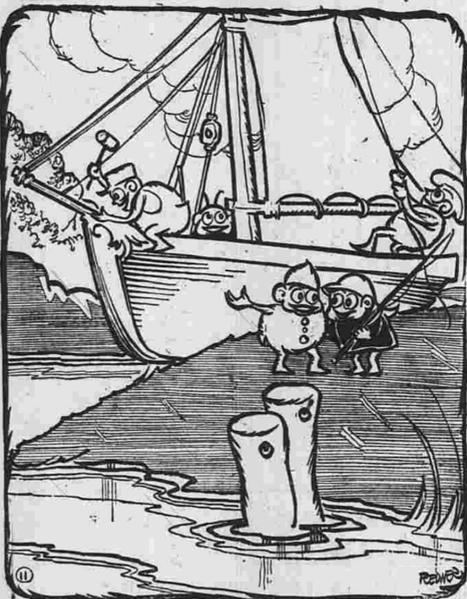

8—What is the capital of Florida?

9—Where is Catalina Island?

10—Is Vancouver on the east or west coast of Canada?

If a chorus girl turns up her toes it's no sign that she's a dead one.

THE TINYMITES BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

A fine night's rest is good for all, Carpy cried, "so we can fish and and when they heard the morning take a ride." So very shortly all of birds on high, the Tinymites, everyone was picking up stray wood. Poor Carpy worked an hour or so and then the boat was set to go. It wasn't such a fine one, but he did the best he could.

They launched the boat upon the stream and then they heard we Ukey scream, "Hey, wait a minute, Tinymites, you've left me on the shore. I am left behind today, just rest assured I'll never play sweet music on my ukulele for you any more."

Of course they paddled back again to pick up little Ukey. Then he joined the fishing party with a hop, a jump and skip. And then, said Carpy, "Here we go! We got there, though we travel slow." And thus the happy Tinymites went on their fishing trip.

(Clowny goes overboard in the next story.)

ABOUT TOWN

The Campfire girls of the South Methodist church will have their meeting this evening at 7:15.

Miss Helen J. Comstock of Maple street and Mrs. Jessie Rose who has been her guest this summer, left this morning for the latter's home in Montclair, N. J. Miss Comstock after spending some time there will leave for Philadelphia and the Sesqui Centennial. Later she will visit her sister in Brookport, N. Y., returning to Manchester after Christmas.

Loyal Circle of Kings Daughters have postponed the rummage sale which they were to have held next week at the Coter church. The days on which the sale will be conducted are November 2 and 3.

Mrs. Carrie Taylor who conducts a Sunday school class at her home, 228 Woodbridge street Sunday afternoon, was entertained by the members of the class last evening. The affair took the form of a birthday party. Mrs. Taylor's home was profusely decorated with cornstarch, autumn leaves and Jack o' lanterns. Light refreshments were served and games, music and dancing were indulged in by the young folks. The party dispersed at an early hour, leaving behind them pretty tokens of remembrance for their teacher.

Dan J. Sheehan of Oak street entered the Hartford hospital yesterday for his fourth operation in as many years.

The Justamere Whist club will have its first session of the season tomorrow afternoon when the ladies will play cards at the home of Mrs. George W. House of Benton street.

Mary C. Keeney Tent, Daughters of Veterans, will observe officers' inspection night tomorrow evening, beginning with a supper to be served at Center church at 5:30 of which Mrs. Ora Ames is chairman. The regular business meeting will follow and it is hoped every member and officer will be present.

Lady Roberts Lodge, Daughters of St. George, will meet this evening at 8 p. m. sharp in Tinker hall.

Miss Mabel M. Pollard, religious education director at South Methodist church, will be the speaker this evening at the meeting of Second Congregational Sunday school teachers and officers.

Chapman Court, Order of Amaranth, will have its regular business meeting tomorrow evening in Odd Fellows' hall. Plans will be completed for the Hallow'en bridge and whist at Mrs. A. E. Loomis's home on Keeney street, Saturday evening, October 30, also for the November bazaar. Mrs. E. C. Packard heads the committee for the card party and Mrs. Russell Tryon the bazaar.

Ten candidates will be initiated into Manchester Branch No. 1, A. O. E., at the regular meeting this evening in St. James' hall at 8 o'clock. The 50th anniversary committee will report.

An item in The Herald of yesterday said that the Forty Hours' Devotion at St. James' church had ended yesterday. It will not begin, however, until next Sunday.

Samuel Houston of School street has purchased the business formerly conducted by Vincent Diana at the lower end of School street.

The W. B. A. Guard club will meet tomorrow evening with Mrs. Florence Warner of Hamlin street.

St. Margaret's Circle, No. 280, Daughters of Isabella, will meet in K. of C. clubrooms tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. A whist social with refreshments will follow the business. Mrs. Helen Griffin is chairman of the committee in charge.

Mrs. William D. Martin is critically ill at the home of her son, Robert Martin of South Main street.

Mrs. John Zimmerman and Mrs. Emil Dickinson will conduct a whist party Saturday evening, October 23 at the home of Mrs. Zimmerman at 160 North School street for the benefit of the Pythian Sisters.

INSTRUCTOR RESIGNS AT OUR TRADE SCHOOL

Leonard C. Johnstone Leaves Institution — Other Trade School Notes.

Leonard C. Johnstone, of East Center street, an instructor in mechanical drafting at the State Trade school today resigned his position.

Mr. Johnstone's plans for the future are not known. He had worked as an instructor at the Trade school since last November. In speaking about the matter today, Director A. A. Warren said Mr. Johnstone's successor has not yet been selected.

The State Trade school football team will play its first game of the season Friday afternoon in Slingsbury against the High school representing that place. This is the first game to be played by the team which is the first ever organized at the school. Coach Jimmy Mistretta has been working hard in an effort to get his charges away to a flying start. The locals will leave the school at 1 o'clock. The backfield will be composed of Romney at quarter and Manchuck, Adams and Kinne as backs.

A large attendance has been reported at the part-time sewing classes being conducted at Highland Park and the West Side Rec. The classes at the Trade school are so congested that it is expected a waiting list will have to be created. The millinery class at the Community club at the North End also is progressing nicely.

Leo Campo, of Stafford Springs today graduated from the local State Trade school.

CARLSON—SORENSEN

Miss Eleanor Sorensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sorensen of Elmer street, Burnside, and Ralph F. Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Carlson of 29 Cumberland street, were married Thursday afternoon, October 14 at 4 o'clock at St. John's Episcopal church, East Hartford by the rector, the Rev. J. W. Lord.

Miss Nathalie Sorensen, sister of the bride was maid of honor and Raymond W. Carlson acted as best man for his brother.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Carlson left for a wedding trip through New York and Pennsylvania and after January first, will be at home at 27 Cumberland street.

TWO NEW HYDRANTS FOR THE SOUTH END

Fire Commissioner Explains Why West Side Should Be Protected.

It was learned today that the South Manchester fire department has decided to install two new hydrants to its collection for better protection of homes in Manchester.

The new hydrants will be placed on Dougherty street and Lilac street. Both are on the west side of the town.

In speaking about the additions, one of the fire commissioners said: "In regard to Lilac street, it was not necessary that we install a hydrant there because the hydrants on Griswold street and in front of Shea's gasoline filling station come within the fire insurance specifications, but we deemed it advisable to install another one so we could give better protection in that locality."

"On Dougherty street, there is but one house located but we have been informed that within a short space of time there will be several more and it is our aim to establish the protection before it is requested by the residents."

CALLS NEW JERSEY. A REAL NEWS LEAK

Local Boy Here on Visit Was at Scene of $162,000 Mail Robbery at Elizabeth.

Johnnie Custer, former local man, who is now employed in the photo engraving work, returned to his home on Pleasant street yesterday to spend a few days' visit. Speaking to a Herald reporter, Custer said:

"If you want some real news to write up, and are looking for real excitement, you had better come down to Jersey."
 Three events of national importance have occurred in that state recently. I am referring to the famous Passaic strike, the naval arsenal explosion and last, but far from the least, the recent U. S. mail robbery in which a government man was killed."

In referring to the latest tragedy, Custer said even the street on which his place of employment is located, is guarded by state troops in search of the bandits. Custer has had the opportunity to view the scenes and excitement in all of these catastrophes.

Custer, it will be remembered, played guard for the old Atlas football eleven and gained considerable praise for his ability at the gridiron sport. He plans to return to New Jersey Monday and in the meantime is renewing acquaintances.

PETKE-BRONKE

Miss Mianle H. Bronke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bronke of 122 Cooper street, and Albert F. Petke, son of David Petke of Terryville were married yesterday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. F. R. Stechholz, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church in the presence of the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom. The home was artistically decorated with chrysanthemums.

The bride attendants were Miss Elizabeth Petke, sister of the bridegroom as bridesmaid, and Emil Bronke, brother of the bride, best man.

The bride wore a gown of powder blue broaded chenille chiffon and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaid's dress was of orchid georgette and her bouquet chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a bar pin set with diamonds, and the bride's gift to the bridegroom, a gold watch chain and knife. They presented to their attendants gold coins.

Mr. and Mrs. Petke left during the evening for a wedding trip to Atlantic City. On their return they will make their home with the bride's parents. Mr. Petke is manager of the A. & P. store on Cooper street.
