FORD CAR CUTS OFF NORTH END WATER SUPPLY

Girl Driver, Misses Turn, Hits Big Hydrant at Depot Square—Auto Owner to Be Held Liable.

A Ford coupe carrying four passengers and driven by Miss Marion Dougherty of Rockville failed to make the turn around the silent policeman at Depot Square yesterday afternoon, struck the north end's biggest hydrant, and cut that section of the town off from its water supply for a half hour.

Owner Liable
James Hasset of 85 Birch street, owner of the car will be held responsible for the damage. Mr. Hasset was in the car at the time of the accident. It is understood that he carries both accident and liability insurance. When the accident happened there was immediately a great flow of water. Depot square is one of the lowest points in the service of the Manchester Water company. All over the north end the water pressure dropped immediately. And in some places there was no water to be had at all.

Charles B. I. mis superintendent of the water company was notified of the accident at his home on North Main street and he lost no time in getting to the square. Soon the main leading to the hydrant was shut off and in a short time the pressure was back again to normal. A new hydrant to take the place of the broken one will be ordered at once and will be installed just as soon as it reaches Manchester. The broken hydrant was one of three new hydrants installed in the district less than two years ago. When the two large hydrants were installed at Depot Square the two smaller ones were not removed but allowed to remain in their original positions so that the property in the immediate neighborhood will be amply protected as far as water for fire purposes is concerned. It is estimated that the cost of the new hydrant and its installation will be about $150.

Miss Dougherty is employed by Cheney Brothers here, and boards in Manchester during the week.

FINED IN COURT TODAY

Charged With Driving Recklessly and Without License—Costs Her $43.32.
Miss Marion Dougherty of Rockville was in the Manchester police court this morning on the charge of reckless driving, and also driving without a license. Miss Dougherty was the young lady who was driving the Ford coupe that struck the hydrant at Depot square. Her car was damaged and none of the occupants were seriously hurt.

In court this morning Miss Dougherty said they were on their way from Rockville headed for the south end. She admitted she was driving, also that she had no license.

Overcrowding
Prosecuting Attorney Hathaway reminded the judge that the motor vehicle commission is now making every effort to stop drivers from overcrowding their automobiles. The commissioner maintains that with four in one seat the driver hasn't an opportunity to manage the car as he ought to. A charge of reckless driving is now brought against every person in an accident where such overcrowding is proven. Judge Johnson found the girl guilty and imposed a fine of $25 and costs for reckless driving and $10 for driving without a license. The total was $43.32.

Non-Support Cases
William Daoust was found guilty of non-support in the police court this morning and was given a suspended jail sentence of 30 days on condition that he pay his wife $10 a week for the support of his wife and child. A bond of $100 was fixed to guarantee payment. Daoust was unable to furnish the bond and was sent to jail. His wife was the chief complainant.

Probation Officer Edward C. Elliot told the judge that Daoust has been on probation since last April and that he had been very indifferent to his probation orders and had failed to pay the fine and costs imposed at that time. Daoust, who is employed in Hartford has a wife and one child, and two other children by a previous marriage.

150,000 Russian Peasants Revolt Against Soviets

Paris, Nov. 26.—Thirty towns in the Province of Pskov, Soviet Russia, have risen in revolt and 150,000 peasants are fighting sanguinary battles against the Soviet troops according to a Geneva dispatch to L'Intransigeant.

Peasants are killing Soviet officials and Communists and are burning official buildings and records, the dispatch states.

Russian officers, who have been exiled in Estonia, are reported as leading the rebels and manifesting, allegedly signed by the Grand Duke Nicholas, are being distributed pledging liberation from the Bolsheviks.

Verjinski, head of the Soviet political police, has been sent to Pskov to attempt to suppress the revolt, the dispatch states.

A. E. BOWERS GIFT RECEIVED BY CLUB

Manchester, Conn., November 24, 1926.
Mr. R. K. Anderson, Chairman, Community Club Campaign, Manchester, Conn., Dear Mr. Anderson:
Please enter subscription in name of Arthur E. Bowers for $200 for Community Club fund.

Old Friends Reunited.
The emphasis in this communication emphasized anew the absence of the late A. E. Bowers from Community Club circles, where he was a familiar figure in the reading rooms, billiard rooms, and at all meetings of the trustees and board of directors. Always willing and anxious to push forward a worthy movement, Mr. Bowers' zeal, good judgment and amiability are constantly missed at the Community Club.

This is especially the case as regards the Community Club campaign, which has already taken part. Hence they are sending in by mail or telephone their donations. These are of course added to the campaign fund along with the other contributions, and credited in the name of the donors.

Made Furniture For Emperors in Austria

He's an unusual man. One who has lived in Manchester nearly 30 years. He doesn't talk very much and it is not generally known that he was one of the best cabinet makers and furniture manufacturers in Europe about 30 years ago.

He used to work in a factory in the old country where the furniture for most of the crowned non crowned heads of Europe was fashioned.

He is a photographer, but these are things he keeps to himself.

MARIE'S LAND MAY BE NEAR TO CIVIL WAR

King Dying, Perhaps Dead, Clash of Aspirants to Rumanian Crown, Including Queen, Anticipated.

Berlin, Nov. 26.—There is strong belief in Belgrade that Rumania is on the eve of civil war, says a dispatch from Belgrade to the Vossische Zeitung today. The dispatch says that the fact that all telephone connections with Bucharest have been cut since three days ago strengthens this belief.

It is generally assumed in Belgrade that the Rumanian government ordered communications severed in order to prepare itself for possible eventualities.

Suspect King May Be Dead
The silence from Bucharest, according to the dispatch, is even taken to indicate that King Ferdinand, whose condition during the past week has variously been reported as critical, due to cancer of the intestines, may have already died, and that the government is withholding the news because of its possible political effect.

It is also reported that the former Crown Prince Carol's supporters, especially the peasants' party which is in control of large parts of the army are already gathering their forces for a desperate coup d'état, aimed at placing Carol on the throne. Meantime, Premier M. Averescu, and M. Bratianu, former premier, who are the principal opponents to Prince Carol's return to grace, are reported to be making precautionary preparations.

Victor King Ferdinand's condition is almost hopeless and the political situation in Rumania is "very serious," according to dispatches received from Bucharest today.

Rumors are rife as to what may happen in Rumania if King Ferdinand dies, and the latest report is that Princess Helen, wife of Prince Carol, may be named regent until her son, Prince Michael, is able to take over the throne. There are other reports that the faction demanding the return of Prince Carol is laying plans for a coup d'état and that they intend to force King Ferdinand to abdicate if their demands that he be reinstated are denied.

Marie As Empress
There is still another rumor that Queen Marie's hurried return from the United States is prompted by a desire to assert her influence in the event of the death of the king and these reports even go so far as to state that Queen Marie may seek to establish herself as empress of Rumania.

The establishment of either Queen Marie or Princess Helen would mean a possible overthrow of the present constitution, which provides: "The constitutional power of the king is hereditary . . . from male to male, by order of primogeniture, and with the perpetual exclusion of women."

CLOUDBURST DROWNS TEN IN TUNNEL TRAP

Hurls Creek's Waters Into Working in California and Only One Escapes.

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 26.—Trapped in the Claremont tunnel, fifteen miles from here, when a creek, swollen by the water of a cloudburst, engulfed them, the bodies of ten men were still held fast far below the surface of the earth today.

One man, Stanley Secula, hearing the approach of the rushing water, grasped the ladder leading out of the shaft and pulled himself to safety. His ten companions never had a chance. The waters closed in over them before they could make a dash for the ladder and safety.

The dead are K. D. Morrison, shift boss; James Balsick; Bert Larson; Steve Ziglich; P. Sanders; Frank Butcher; W. Pauley; J. Coleman; Charles Orso and Tony Segart.

Shortly after their Thanksgiving dinner yesterday the men lowered themselves into the 2,500 foot tunnel, a unit which was being constructed to carry water from the Mokelumne river into Oakland, and repaired to continue work.

Connecticut Duchess Seeks Divorce

A divorce suit brought by the Duchess of Torlonia (above) against her Italian husband is pending in the Superior Court at Bridgeport.

Much Hunted Crook Denies Recent Crimes; Faces 33 Years in Prison.

New York, Nov. 26.—John J. (Bum) Rodgers, notorious criminal, back in captivity today after exactly a year of stolen liberty, denied throughout hours of police grilling that he had participated in any of the numerous hold-ups of recent months with which his name had been associated.

He denied specifically that he had taken part in the hold-up of a United States mail truck at Elizabeth, N. J., on October 14 in which one man was killed and three others were wounded, and $150,000 was stolen. He also denied any part in the robbery of the Merck chemical plant at Rahway, N. J., in which $80,000 was stolen. His name had been associated by police with both these and a score of other crimes in and around New York.

Not Out of New York
Rodgers asserted he had not left Manhattan and the Bronx since his escape from a New York Central train at the 25th street station November 25, 1926, while en route to Auburn prison to serve three prison sentences totalling thirty-three years. During the interim he had been hunted by the police of several states.

Rodgers told police that since his escape he had lived at 517 East Fifth street and at 4275 Third avenue, hiding from the police. He said he had gone out only at night, and that for the past six weeks he had not left his room. When captured, he was ragged and almost emaciated. His total wealth, as revealed by a search of his room and person, amounted to one cent and a collar button.

Rodgers was captured yesterday morning at the Third avenue address while sleeping in a back bedroom on the sixth floor. He made no effort to resist when awakened by detectives standing over him with drawn pistols.

BOSTON MAYOR MARRIES DECEASED WIFE'S SISTER

Boston, Nov. 26.—Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols of this city was married today to Miss Carrie Williams, twin sister of the mayor's first wife, who died shortly before he was elected to his present office. His four-year-old daughter, Marjorie, was flower girl.

DI MARTINI POPS UP AS DEFENSE WITNESS

SKIPPING WIND STORMS LEAVE OVER 40 DEAD

Cyclones Jump About 3 States, Killing 29 in Arkansas, Others in Missouri and Oklahoma.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 26.—The death toll in yesterday's storms was increased to 51 today when 12 more dead were reported from Louisiana. Thirty-nine were reported killed in storms in Arkansas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Two tornados struck near Mer Rouge and Haynesville, killing 12 persons. The twister hit Mer Rouge just before midnight, sweeping a path of 100 yards for a distance of several miles.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 26.—Twenty-nine are known to be dead in Arkansas alone and approximately 100 injured as attempts were made today to reconstruct telephone and telegraph wires through the storm-torn area disrupted by freakish cyclones which swept the state Thursday and last night.

Apparently two twisters struck, one starting near Heber Springs, and traveling southeastward to Sheridan and the other striking first near Belleville in Yell county and sweeping almost east to Sheridan and thence to Moscow.

The death toll by towns was listed as follows: Heber Springs, 15; Moscow, 8; Oppelo, 5; Sheridan, 1.

Reports received here from southern Missouri and Oklahoma, aside from more to the list of dead, making 59 in all that met death in the storm.

14 Blocks Destroyed
Heber Springs, with its death list of fifteen, was the hardest hit. The storm struck without warning. A few minutes later fourteen blocks of the residential district had been laid in ruins. Several fires started but the heavy rain following the storm extinguished them.

Five persons were killed in Conaway county and many more were injured. At Moscow in Jefferson county, besides the eight reported killed, thirty or more were killed.

Relief trains, carrying doctors, nurses and supplies, were being rushed to the stricken zones from Pine Bluff and Searcy.

Communications Cut
Telephone and telegraph wires were crippled, making communication with the stricken towns difficult. Most of the reports concerning damage of the storm came over railroad wires.

The home of Jake Stafford at Oppelo was blown away while a party was in progress and Stafford, his wife and daughter were killed and seven others hurt. Five other houses were blown away.

A second terrific windstorm at Heber Springs delayed recovery of bodies, according to a report over the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad wires.

The storm descended into Louisiana during the night and the camp of the Roxana Petroleum Company, three miles north of Haynesville, was struck. Twelve persons there were injured, with others reported missing.

Property damage was heavy in towns hit by the storm, in some sections, whole blocks of dwellings being destroyed.

May Be 40 Dead
Springfield, Mo., Nov. 26.—The death toll in yesterday's freakish storms in Oklahoma, Arkansas and southern Missouri may exceed 40, it was indicated here today as meagre reports from southern Missouri and northwestern Arkansas came in.

Four deaths at Brandville, Mo., near West Plains, and two at Compton, near Lebanon, in addition to thirty-three in Arkansas and Oklahoma, have been reported. Others seriously injured are expected to die. Many were injured at Heber Springs, Ark. at which fifteen were killed.

Facing Certain Arrest He Walks in on Hall Trial

A BUNDLE—OH! FOR A BUNGALOW

It Has Come to the Berlins and Everyone Wonders About Grandpa Mackay.

New York, Nov. 26.—Society and Broadway—there's a difference of several city blocks—were wondering today whether the tiny bundle which yesterday arrived at the home of Mrs. Irving Berlin would draw Clarence Mackay, millionaire father of Mrs. Berlin, to the Berlin home. Mackay, head of the Postal Telegraph Company, has not publicly given his blessing to the marriage of his daughter, the famous pianist.

A baby daughter was born to the couple yesterday at the York House, Maternity Hospital. She's just seven pounds and twelve ounces, and according to proud Papa Berlin, "the dead image of her mother."

Mackay was duck hunting on Long Island. A report that Mr. and Mrs. Berlin had gone through a Roman Catholic marriage ceremony a few hours before the birth of their daughter was denied emphatically today.

The state of New Jersey made a bitter fight shortly before the opening of this trial to extradite Di Martini from New York state so that he could be put on the stand as a state witness.

Di Martini, however, successfully resisted extradition after a battle in the New York courts and after the matter had gone as high as the governor's office. Judge Charles W. Parker, the sheriff's guard Di Martini, the sheriff stated.

Carpenter Testifies Henry De La Bruyere Carpendier, Wall Street broker and a cousin of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, was recalled to the witness stand this morning after Judge Charles W. Parker had ruled that testimony given by Carpendier late Wednesday was not admissible. Carpendier was permitted to be questioned on "relevant" matters.

On the stand Wednesday Carpendier, who is a defendant in the murder charge but is now on trial had denied that he was at the scene of the crime as Mrs. Jane Gibson, star witness for the state, had alleged. The prosecutor, Alexander Simpson, objected to this line of questioning on the ground that Mrs. Gibson's statement was not brought out on direct examination but that the defense had brought it out on cross-examination.

Judge Parker ruled this morning that Carpendier was a competent witness but he must give only relevant testimony.

The defense filed an objection to the questioning of Carpendier. The sleek wall-groomed Carpendier, rather bald, with closely clipped moustache, then resumed the witness stand.

Clarence Chase of defense counsel, questioned Carpendier. "Did you at any time on Sept. 14, 1922, or Sept. 15, communicate with either Mrs. Hall or Henry or Willie Stevens?"

"No." "Where were you September 15?" "In New York attending to my business as usual."

"Were you at the residence of Mrs. Hall that morning at 10:45?" "I was not there at any time that morning."

Never Remove Papers
"Did you remove any boxes containing papers from the house to an automobile?" "Never."

Witness for the state had testified he did. Prosecutor Simpson took Carpendier over for cross-examination. "Did you have a brother in New Brunswick that day?" "Yes, William Carpendier. That's the only brother that was in New Brunswick at that time."

"Did you in December, January, February or March meet a trooper by the name of Dickman in Prosecutor Beekman's office and have conversation about a check?" "Former State Trooper William L. Dickman had testified he was paid $2,500 by the late Asariah Beekman, former prosecutor, to 'ship' the state after he (Dickman) had conducted a long investigation of the murders."

"I never met Dickman and never . . ."

STATE THEATER BREAKS ATTENDANCE RECORDS

The crowds at the State theater on Thanksgiving eve and again on Thanksgiving day broke all records for attendance. Yesterday the bill was one of the best ever shown here and was continuous from 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Last evening the theater was filled and it was estimated that about as many were turned away as were able to get in. The State theater attracts amusement seekers from all parts of Manchester, and from all of the neighboring towns, including many from East Hartford, Rockville and Willimantic. There were people at the theater who had driven all the way from Danielson. The Thanksgiving day bill will be continued tonight and tomorrow. The management of the State gave away a dozen real live turkeys Wednesday evening. In addition to the pictures there was a vaudeville bill put on by local talent. It was amusing to watch the young ladies who were lucky ticket holders go to the stage and carry back with them a live turkey.

DI MARTINI APPEARS AS DEFENSE WITNESS

er was in Beekman's office in my life," said Carpenter. "That's all," said Simpson. Print Experts Examined. The state then began cross-examination of the defense fingerprint experts. James Herbert Taylor, fingerprint expert of the United States Navy, was recalled. Simpson asked Taylor if the enlargement of "S-17"—the calling card found at the foot of Dr. Hall's body—contained every characteristic on the card—was the card without "any distortion whatever?" "I have found none," said Taylor. Simpson drew from Taylor that he once secured a conviction from a fingerprint on a box developed two months after the crime. Taylor said he never had been able to develop a print on a card after two or three days. "It was possible a print might be developed on a card 'eight or ten days after the latent print was made.'" The witness in reply to a question said fingerprinting is an exact science. He was then excused. Frederick Sandberg, of the Washington, D. C., police department, was called. Simpson asked Sandberg if it was shown to be a fact that D-23 (the enlargement) lacked characteristics of S-17 (the card) wouldn't that affect his opinion? The witness said if the copy was not correct it would affect his opinion. Sandberg said in his opinion no print of a dull white card would last more than four days.

Faurot As Prompter. Prompting Simpson in his questions was Joseph A. Faurot, former deputy police commissioner of New York and one of the most widely known fingerprint experts in the country. Gerhard Kuhne, a fingerprint expert of the New York City police department, was re-called. Simpson took a card and, stooping down, illustrated for the jury how the calling card was placed at Dr. Hall's feet. Asked if there was anything not normal in the way he was holding the card, the witness leaned over the witness stand and said there was—the way Simpson held his fingers. The defense claims it would have been impossible for Willie Stevens' left index finger print to have been on the card—that finger alone. Tells Bribery Story. Henry A. Langbein, of Franklin Park, was called. Langbein said he was driving past De Russey's lane on the night of the crime but he did not notice any automobiles parked in or near the lane. George M. Sipple of Middlebury, testified that in November, 1922, he talked with Mrs. Jane Gibson and she wanted him to testify that on the night of the crime he was driving home through De Russey's lane and that he saw two men and a woman in an automobile. "She said she would pay me $100," Sipple testified. Question of Money. When the court was reconvened this afternoon, Sipple was recalled and denied he had ever asked Mrs. Hall for money. When he was on the stand before Simpson had asked him if Mrs. Hall had paid him. The question was objected to and overruled. Case then read a letter which Sipple had sent to Mrs. Hall telling her what he claimed he knew concerning Mrs. Gibson and offering to aid her in the investigation. Di Martini resumed his place on the witness stand at 2:13 p. m. The court room was packed. Before Di Martini was called Case read two other letters from Sipple to Mrs. Hall. In the letters Sipple said he was the only one who could discredit Mrs. Gibson's testimony and that Mrs. Hall's lawyers were not working hard enough on the case. In one letter he mentioned that he had overheard a conversation in New Brunswick to the effect that a country doctor had said he saw Henry Stevens in New Brunswick the night of the murder. Sipple reminded Mrs. Hall that he incurred expense as a result of time spent before the grand jury and suggested he should be reimbursed. Prosecutor Simpson went after Sipple, hammer and tongs, on cross-examination. "Who was the country doctor who saw Henry Stevens in New Brunswick?" he shouted. "I don't remember." "What was the purpose of these letters—were you trying to extort money from Mrs. Hall?" "I was not," the witness roared. Simpson asked Sipple how much he wanted from Mrs. Hall and the witness said he intended that "that should be left to her." The witness was fidgety and harassed as Simpson grilled him. "You say in one of these letters that if the information got into the hands of certain people it would do a lot of harm—what do you mean by that?" Simpson asked. The witness stammered and finally answered: "Just what my letters said."

declared he was "bucking the Portland banking clique." In a statement made public today in reply to Governor Brewster's assertion that "a nominee who profits by the criminal acts of his friends is in the position of a man who receives stolen goods," Gould criticized the chief executive of his home state and termed his opponent, Mr. Redman, as the "K. K. K. candidate." Redman, previously charged Gould with having given a $300,000 bribe of ex-Premier Flemming of New Brunswick some years ago, Gould retorted that the money was paid by his New York business associates in a railway deal and was given as a campaign contribution without his knowledge. Today's hearing was before Secretary of State Frank W. Bati. Gould is specifically charged with exceeding the legal limit of $1,500 in his primary campaign expenses. Sensational Charges. Sensational charges were hurled at Governor Brewster and national and state Ku Klux Klan leaders today by State Senator Frederick W. Hickley, Republican leader of South Portland, in defending Gould, at the opening today of the hearing. Senator Hinckley charged: That the petition for the probe by Secretary of State Frank W. Ball and the specifications were filed by Rev. A. F. Leigh, of Randolph, alleged K. K. K. supporter, with the full knowledge of the governor and at his instigation? That the governor and the K. K. K. grand dragon of Maine went to Washington last Wednesday and obtained the support of Dr. H. G. Evans, of Atlanta, Ga., imperial wizard of the Klan. Plot To Elect Redman. That the governor and Klan national and state leaders made an agreement to throw the election to Fulton J. Redman, the Democratic senatorial nominee? That Redman agreed to support the Klan and that full support was pledged to Gov. Brewster for 1928 in a campaign for the U. S. Senate against Senator Frederick Hale, of Portland, chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs? That Gov. Brewster was negligent of his own campaign expenses in the last state election. That DeForest H. Perkins, of Portland, Grand Dragon of the Maine K. K. K., was present at today's hearing.

ABOUT TOWN

At the police court session on Thanksgiving Day Renato Bachiocchi of Stafford Springs was found guilty of reckless driving and paid a fine of $25 and costs. He was arrested by Sergeant John Crockett near Boland's filling station on the Bolton road on Thanksgiving eve. The car he was driving was shy on tires, running on the rim and was going all over the highway.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Barrett of Lydall street entertained yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Viets and son of Sufield and Mr. and Mrs. Harlowe Drew of Summit street.

Horace Edgar, the only baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. J. Palozie, who has been very ill, is much improved now.

Frank Palozie of 93 Glenwood street has just returned after spending the week-end with friends out in Webster and Worcester, Mass.

Alexander Trotter of East Center street who has been confined to his home for a number of weeks, and lately was at the Memorial hospital for some time, was able yesterday to walk without crutches, and to be outdoors for a short distance with the aid of a cane.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard F. Hutchinson of Bigelow street had as their Thanksgiving guests the family of their niece, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Campbell and daughter of Northampton, Mass.

The pupils of the Eighth district schools contributed $33.52 to the fund being raised for the Manchester Community club. This contribution was credited by mistake to the Ninth district pupils.

Allyn Avery of the Pinehurst grocery spent Thanksgiving day with his mother in Willimantic.

Walter Gorman of the Pinehurst grocery reports that Thanksgiving business was exceptionally good this year. The demand for turkeys was very heavy and most of the Hartford wholesalers were sold out before noon Wednesday.

TO HONOR DOELLNER AT WTIC TOMORROW

Robert Doellner of this town and a pupil of Leopold Auer, is the Hartford composer who will be honored tomorrow evening, in the Hartford Composers Night program, broadcast from Station WTIC, at Hartford. Mr. Doellner was accorded New England's best violinist at the music contest in New Haven two years ago. He studied composition and theory with Robert Prutting and Cecil Burchell. He has also studied with Louis Eaton and Davol Sanders. Mr. Doellner will be assisted in presenting this program of his own works by Miss Eleanor Willard, well known here, Earl Styers and Burdette Hawley, local accompanist.

GAS RANGE

FOR THE NEXT BIG HOLIDAY CHRISTMAS

While you are relishing your Christmas dinner, will mother be all fagged out, too tired to enjoy the good food?

She won't be—if she's cooked it on the gas and the range is adequate.

Think what it means to be able to turn on the gas and press the pilot light and start the turkey cooking in the gas oven. No coal and ashes to carry—no soot and dirt—no fluctuation, just a straight, even heat that assures the serving of the nicely browned bird promptly at the appointed time.

ACCIDENT VICTIMS REPORTED RECOVERING

Information received today from the House of Morcy hospital in Pittsfield, Mass., is to the effect that Frank Croteau of Hartford, is still on the danger list as a result of the automobile accident at Brainard, N. Y., Sunday night when one local boy was killed and another badly injured. It was stated that Croteau must undergo a delicate operation and that while high hopes are held for his recovery, he is in a serious condition. The condition of Robert Orr, of Griswold street, has improved to such an extent that the doctor in charge says it is possible he will be able to return to his home Sunday.

MANY PEOPLE ENJOY FREE KEITH TURKEYS

Big Crowd at Drawings—Profit Sharing Plan Works Ideally.

Anyone who had occasion to visit the lower end of Main street Tuesday night must have been impressed with the fact that there are hundreds of people who still believe that "It Surely Pays to Walk A-Ways" when you have something of importance to buy for the home. The lower floor of Keith's store on the corner of Main and School streets was literally packed with people, men, women and a few children, who had come from miles around to participate in the drawing of prize turkeys which the firm had advertised would be given away to the holder of the lucky number. The store is admirably located for taking care of such a crowd. Plenty of parking space on Main and School streets, and in the rear of the store. No worry at all about having the car tagged by the police if one stays beyond the hour limit. All of these people had during the past month bought something at the store amounting from $1.00 on more, or they had paid on their account for goods bought previously. They had all received coupons according to the amount of money paid in and were entitled to participate in the drawing for turkeys. When the Keith Co., left their fine location in the Parnell building opposite Park street, five years ago last August, for their present location which is just a little out of the congested business center where rents are not so high, it was predicted by some of the largest real estate and prominent business men that they would soon be moving back uptown again as the people would not walk so far to trade in these days. But the wisdom displayed by George E. Keith, the proprietor, when he made this move is now recognized by everyone. It was a radical move and it took a lot of courage to carry it through when so many were advising against it. The business has prospered because Mr. Keith has always given most careful personal attention to every detail, watching the little least here and there that are the cause of many a business being wrecked, and also giving service that is so essential to the success of any business.

One of the main factors for success with this firm is their Profit-Sharing plan which has been running now over two years and which has added hundreds of new accounts. By this plan the customers are allowed 12 months to pay for their purchases amounting to fifty dollars or more, and at the end of that period are given a dividend amounting to 10 per cent of their bill.

To Warren Keith belongs the credit for this plan and for many other new ideas which the firm has adopted which are bringing in new customers every day.

The firm had a busy day Wednesday distributing free turkeys to all their customers who purchased a suite of furniture or kitchen range during November. They were not cheap turkeys either, but the very best that could be found in the market. And many a family in Manchester and the surrounding towns thought kindly of the Keith Furniture Co., as they partook of their Thanksgiving feast.

This giving of turkeys is a part of the dividend or Profit-Sharing plan which the company has adopted as a permanent policy whereby they hand back to their customers a part of the profits which the business earns.

AUTO ACCIDENT
Automobiles operated by Louis Enrico of Andover and Herman Frederick of 289 Middle Turnpike East, collided at the intersection of Vernon street and Middle Turnpike east at 10:45 Wednesday night.

Slight damage was done and no one was injured. Sergeant Crockett investigated. No arrests were made.

HOSPITAL PATIENTS ENJOY TURKEY DINNER
The thirty-one patients who were unable to leave the Memorial hospital for Thanksgiving dinner enjoyed an elaborate roast turkey dinner served under the direction of Miss Dolores Garret, hospital dietitian. All but three of the patients were able to partake of the meal in full, they being on special diet. Under normal conditions the hospital shows a registration of over fifty patients but before the holidays as many as can of them go home.

The menu served was as follows: Grapesuit, Cocktail

CONSUME A LA BARIGOLE AND BREADSTICKS
Roast Turkey, Potato rosettes, Battered cauliflower, glazed carrots, Celery and olives, Cranberry jelly, Brisk ice cream, lady fingers and macaroons. Nuts, cider and mints. Chrysanthemums that were used to beautify the tables were contributed by Milkowski, the Florist.

AUTO ACCIDENT BRINGS WOMAN INTO COURT
Mrs. Mabel Samuels of Andover will face trial in the Manchester police court a week from tomorrow on a charge of reckless driving as the result of an automobile accident here Wednesday night.

Mrs. Samuels was driving a Buick sedan east on West Center street. Her machine crashed into a Ford operated by Arthur Ledne, of 27 Woodland street at 7:15 in the evening. Both machines were badly smashed. The accident occurred at the intersection of West Center and McKee streets. Ledne was driving north on McKee street.

The accident was investigated by

PATROLMAN ARTHUR SEYMOUR WHO PLACED Mrs. Samuels under arrest for reckless driving. In court yesterday morning her attorney, Judge William S. Hyde, requested a postponement which was granted by Judge Raymond A. Johnson.

CAPRA-SAPELLI
Miss Viola Sapelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernesto Sapelli of Bissell street and Peter Capra were married yesterday at St. James's church. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. William P. Reidy.

Miss Christina Sapelli, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Miss Lucia Baco of Stamford was best man.

The bride's dress was of flesh colored chiffon, with large hat and bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaid wore yellow taffeta, black hat and carried an arm bouquet of yellow Fern roses.

A wedding breakfast and reception followed at the bride's home.

On their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Capra will live in the Park building.

Why Not Start Right in Radio?

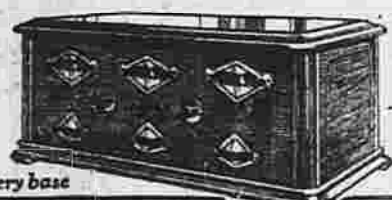

—it's the economical, most satisfactory way

It is expensive to experiment with inadequate sets—just money thrown away. Take our advice—start right with a Synchronphase—it's the only way to get complete radio satisfaction.

Selectivity, volume, tone quality, all very highly developed due to exclusive Grebe features and made permanent by the unexcelled workmanship Grebe puts into every set.

Come hear the Synchronphase. That will tell you more than we can in a page advertisement.

THE GREBE SYNCHROPHASE

Grebe needs no introduction to Manchester radio fans. In the words of several well known car manufacturers, "Constantly improved but no yearly models" owners of last year's Grebes, last summer had the privilege of having their sets, at slight cost, changed to the 1927 model—Mr. Barstow personally took twelve of these sets to the Grebe factory on Long Island for change over.

"When better radios are built—Grebe will build them." One look at the inside and outside of a Grebe will prove this. Every nut, bolt, washer and part is made in Grebe's own model radio factory. Grebe has made radios since 1900.

"Ask the man who tunes one." A radio may look nice—but results count more. Distance, tone, volume, selectivity and the exclusive Grebe low range extension circuit taking you to as low as 150 meters. Only Tuesday night I heard an amateur in Phillie phoning an amateur in Gettysburg, Pa. on 180 meters. No other set would have heard him.

We have never had a defective Grebe—never had a Grebe go bad after months or years of use. The first Grebe sold in Manchester is now on display in our store. Sold nearly three years ago to Clifford Scranton, Spruce street, and as good as the day Mr. Scranton bought it.

Ask Wm. Folds, Jr., who has had two other sets what he thinks of Grebe—what friends of his in Florida and Detroit think of Grebe. Recently we shipped a Grebe to Nova Scotia.

Ask George Johnson what the Grebe will do. Ask Jack Hayes what his Grebe will do. When you have money to lose bet Harold Bassett of Parker street for stations, distance or anything else—and then listen to his Grebe over two years old—Bassett has two tubes in his Grebe three years old.

Ask Mr. Black on Wells street, Joe LaShay on Pine street, Mrs. McKinnon on Locust street, Mr. Madden of Laurel street, Mr. McLachlan on Ridge street, John Douglas and Mr. Harrison of Russell street, Mr. Rogers of Lewis street, Donald Grant and Henry Prior of Wapping and over two dozen others. Yes, "ask the man who tunes one."

Grebe takes less B battery and yet has more volume than any 5 tube set we know of. And NOW—Barstow is out to sell 50 more Grebes. We have arranged special low terms for the Xmas season. Small down payment and a long time to pay. It will pay you to investigate at once as the demand is going to be heavy.

Grebe Synchronphase installed in your home with four 201 A tubes, one 112 power tube, three heavy duty B batteries, two C batteries, Croesley 16 inch cone, special Grebe battery cable and antenna equipment.

PROCRASTINATION

Isn't it peculiar why people will put off ordering coal until the last minute when they could just as well have their bins filled before the cold weather arrives?

It's human nature to put off until tomorrow what can be done today, but every sudden cold snap keeps us busy writing orders, each order stating "must be delivered at once."

All of which leads us to ask, have you ordered your winter supply of coal?

ODD FELLOWS PLAN VISIT TO HOLYOKE

King David Lodge, I. O. O. F., will go to Holyoke tomorrow night to put on degree work for the lodge in that city. The regular meeting of the local lodge will be held this evening at 7:30 and all who are taking part in the first degree are asked to attend for a full rehearsal. Busses will leave the Center for Holyoke tomorrow afternoon at 3:30; arriving in time for the supper at 5:30. Return busses will start at 11 o'clock from Holyoke. The committee asks that those who are going by bus leave their names at the rooms this evening.

HECHT-MILLER

The South Methodist church was the scene of a pretty wedding at three o'clock on Thanksgiving day when Miss Eva M. Miller, daughter of Mrs. Anna Miller of Spencer street and Frederick William Hecht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hecht of Nanticoke, Pa. were married by the pastor, Rev. Joseph Cooper. Chrysanthemums, palms, and ferns were used as decorations and the wedding music was played by the organist, Archibald Sessions.

Miss Caroline Roperts was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Jessie Miller, sister of the bride and Miss Mary Miller of Nanticoke, Pa. The best man was Herman Thomas and the ushers Raymond Miller and Edward Lamprecht.

The bride who was given in marriage by her brother, Albert C. Miller, wore a gown of white satin trimmed with duchess lace, pearls and rhinestones. Her veil fell from a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor wore peach colored georgette and carried Madame Butterfly rose; and the bridesmaids yellow georgette with arm bouquets of tea roses.

Following the ceremony at the church a large reception was held at the bride's home, many out of town guests being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hecht left on a honeymoon trip to New York, Baltimore and Washington, D. C. and will be at home after December 15 in Nanticoke, Pa.

ARITHMETIC CONTEST FOR N. E. SCHOOLS

Boston, Nov. 26.—Seventeen Connecticut school systems and a total of 8,225 pupils are entered in the New England-wide arithmetic contest to be held on December 8 under the auspices of the Boston University School of Education and the direction of Prof. Guy M. Wilson of the school faculty. Professor Wilson is chairman of the National Education Association committee on the arithmetic curriculum.

The Connecticut system entered are Central Village, Fairfield, Southington, Ellington, Watertown, Rockville, Windsor Locks, Norwalk, Simsbury, Ansonia, Ridgefield, Derby, Bethel, and Newtown.

The contest is to test the proficiency of the pupils in the simple "tool" processes of arithmetic, addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, fractions, and in the higher grades, simple "business situations" tests.

Last year a contest in arithmetic was given, but was confined to Massachusetts. At the request of the Massachusetts superintendents it is being repeated, but is being thrown open to all New England.

Throughout the New England states, 168 school systems are entered and a total of 100,550 pupils will take the tests on December 8. The papers will be scored by the local teachers, but the mass of statistical work involved in tabulating the results will be done at the School of Education in Boston.

WORLD'S PRIZE CATTLE SHOWN AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Nov. 26 (United Press).—The annual live stock exposition that will be held at the Union Stock Yards here during the last week of the month will be an international affair in more than name alone.

A number of magnificent specimens of breeding cattle, hogs, sheep and horses have been imported from Great Britain and the continent, as well as from South America, for the show, where, for the first time, they will meet the pride of America for a real world's championship.

Senor George Gordon-Davis of Buenos Aires, well-known Argentinean cattle judge, will be here to award the honors in all the steer classes and to select the grand champion bullock of the show.

After two months' stormy voyage on the Atlantic, the ship Lyon landed Williams and his wife and a few other weary passengers at Nantasket. There was great rejoicing when the young man first appeared in Boston, part of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. He was hailed as a 'godly minister.'

At first the future seemed bright, but Williams soon was to learn that here, too, was religious tyranny.

The Massachusetts Puritans, who had fled England because of religious restrictions, now imposed their own rules upon others.

In this narrow body of worshippers, Williams was to become the 'apostle of soul liberty.' His first charge was at Salem; but after a few months his utterances were deemed too bold and he was obliged to move to Plymouth. He would preach on Sundays and work during the week hoeing crops. (Continued.)

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Manchester, within and for the district of Manchester on the 19th day of November, A. D. 1926, Present WILLIAM S. HYDE, Esq., Judge.
Estate of Catherine Scollon late of Manchester in said district, deceased.
Upon application of the Executor, an order of sale of real estate belonging to said estate as per application on file.
ORDERED: That the said application be heard and determined at the Probate office in Manchester on the 27th day of November, A. D. 1926, at 9 o'clock in forenoon, and the Court direct the Executor to give public notice to all persons interested in said estate to appear if they see cause and be heard thereon by publishing a copy of this order once in some newspaper having a circulation in said probate district, and by posting a copy of this order on the public signpost in said Manchester, 4 days before the said day of hearing and return make to the Court.

LITTLE JOE

IT'S NICE TO GET THE AIR—IF IT'S THE OUTDOOR KIND
Forecasts Abandonment Soon of Car Barns Here—Will Hurt Local Men.
Manchester motormen and conductors will have to bid for their runs in competition with Hartford trolley when the local car barns are abandoned, it was learned at the Hartford divisional office of the Connecticut Company today.
This means that Manchester men who are not well up on the seniority list will lose their good runs if Hartford motormen or conductor take place in a few days and the runs may take effect around December 12. No information has been officially received by Supt. H. A. Nettleton of the local office concerning the plans being made in Hartford to take care of the Manchester trolley men.
Men on the spare board will be affected most by the new arrangements. These men, who have no regular runs, are used on trippers during rush hours and on runs from which the regular crews are absent. A number of the spare men in the Manchester and Rockville division have been engaged this year, so it can be seen that a Hartford motorman or conductor who has been employed more than a year will have first choice on any runs left vacant.
This division is particularly fortunate, however, in having a seniority list of men who have been in the city for many years. If Hartford can equal it on the whole city system, one man at least has been a trolleyman here for more than 25 years and the list behind him goes down gradually. As to members of the barn crew, maintenance of the department employees and the line gang, the officers from the Hartford office merely state 'they will be taken care of.' How, nobody in the local office knows.

THRILLS, SPILLS, DRAMA

ON CIRCLE PROGRAM
Tom Tyler and "Test of Donald Norton" Showing Tomorrow. Free Show For The Kids Tomorrow Morning.
If you like thrills and drama commingled on your entertainment menu, you will find them in great abundance in the double feature that will be shown at the Circle theater tomorrow only. The ever popular Western star, Tom Tyler, and his pals, will be featured in "Red Hot Hoofs" and George Walsh will be seen in "The Test of Donald Norton."
A new and more interesting form, but containing all the old punch, "Red Hot Hoofs" is one of the popular Western pictures that are showing the way to some of the other productions for popularity. There was a time when the Western picture was the apex of movie entertainment, but then other types of pictures came along and crowded the old Western out. But now it's coming back strong, and Tom Tyler is about the best example of why this type of movie is with us again. In "Red Hot Hoofs" Tom and his pals go through countless thrills, spills, and situations that makes their audiences gasp.
When a perfectly good man is fired from a perfectly good job because of class prejudice, does he cease to make further effort and become an outcast? He does not. He does exactly what he has to do. "The Test of Donald Norton" does.
But Donald doesn't happen to be that sort of a man who can use as a door-mat and get away with it. He promptly secures a position with a rival company as district manager. In that capacity he can meet and fight his enemy, Carl of the Hudson Bay, on an equal footing. And the contest is on. The fur flies then.
For the last time tonight, "The Country Beyond" and "Bred in Old Kentucky" with the beautiful Viola Dana are showing at the Circle. These are the two big holiday hits that went over strong yesterday to packed audiences. They really should be shown as separate features, but since this is holiday time, the management celebrates with its audiences and puts on a big bargain bill. See it at either seven or nine o'clock tonight.
Tomorrow morning at eleven o'clock there will be a free show at the Circle for all the kids. Come on, kids! Come to the Circle tomorrow morning at eleven o'clock and see what's waiting for you all!

EVERY ACT A CORKER
AT STATE THIS WEEK
Unusually Good Holiday Bill Headed by Bonnie Miller
It is hard to pick the best act among the five that are at the State this week. It is making quite a statement to say that these five are the best ever seen at the State, but it's safe to say that they're all of the top notch variety.
The first one is Ward and Doolley, a couple who do almost everything imaginable with ropes. Not only are they experts in making ropes do things it seems they can't do, but they have a steady line of jokes that keeps the audience in a state of laughter. Following them comes Billy, a wee performer who says he is only four years old. He hardly looks to be that much. But his age is no hindrance to him, and his act is a most amusing one for a little child. He is funny all the way through and made his audience rock with laughter and shake with applause.
The third to be presented was Hazel Goff and Bobby. xylophone must be the middle name of this pair. They certainly can play one of them, anyway. One of them can triple tongue a trumpet to perfection, too. After them came what was considered by many to be the best act on the bill. It is called "The Three Cheers." Three big long cheers may well give you the idea for what they certainly are good in the full meaning of the word. Harmony and comedy is their line, but it's just about a thousand times better than most acts of this type.
The act that ran the "Three Cheers" closest for honors, and considered by some to be even better, is the Bonnie Miller Trio. Anything that these three can do on roller skates isn't worth mentioning. The best bit in the act, perhaps, was the sensational stunt of one of the members of the company hanging and balancing herself by one foot to the neck of another member whirling about like lightning on a pair of roller skates.
"So's Your Old Man" is the name of the feature picture, starring W. C. Fields, the famous stage comedian. Mr. Fields may have been funny on the stage, but he is a million times funnier on the screen, if he may be judged from this picture.

She Helped

Among the people who helped Jim Ewell, shell-shocked war veteran, to find himself after it was all over was Miss Nellie Downing, trained nurse. You'll appreciate the part she played when you read the story of Jim's adventures in "Broken Threads," which begins Monday, November 29, in The Herald.

Mrs. Robert Strandahl and Miss Lydia Young of Cleveland, Ohio, are visiting the families of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Johnson of Clinton street and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wartz of Greenhill street.

FRANCIS MCKINNEY DIES OF DIPHTHERIA

Popular Barnard School Pupil Succumbs to Complicated Case in Hartford.

Francis McKinney, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. McKinney, of 37 Elro street, died today at the Hartford isolation hospital. He had been ill six weeks with diphtheria. It is the second death that has resulted here during the recent mild epidemic. A birthday party was held at the hospital a week ago last Tuesday in honor of the boy's twelfth birthday. At that time hope was held out for his ultimate recovery despite the fact that the case was a complicated one, the second of its kind ever admitted to the isolation hospital.

Francis was a grammar school pupil, being a student in the eighth grade at the Barnard school under Miss Ruth Monson. He is survived by his father and mother, two sisters, Dorothy 8, Marion, 20 months, a brother Stuart, 5; his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah McKinney, 469 Main street and grandfather, William Turner, Haverhill, R. I. The funeral service will be held at the home on Elro street Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. J. Stuart Neill of St. Mary's Episcopal church will officiate. The burial will be in the East cemetery.

"CASCARETS" KEEP BOWELS REGULAR AND STOP COLDS

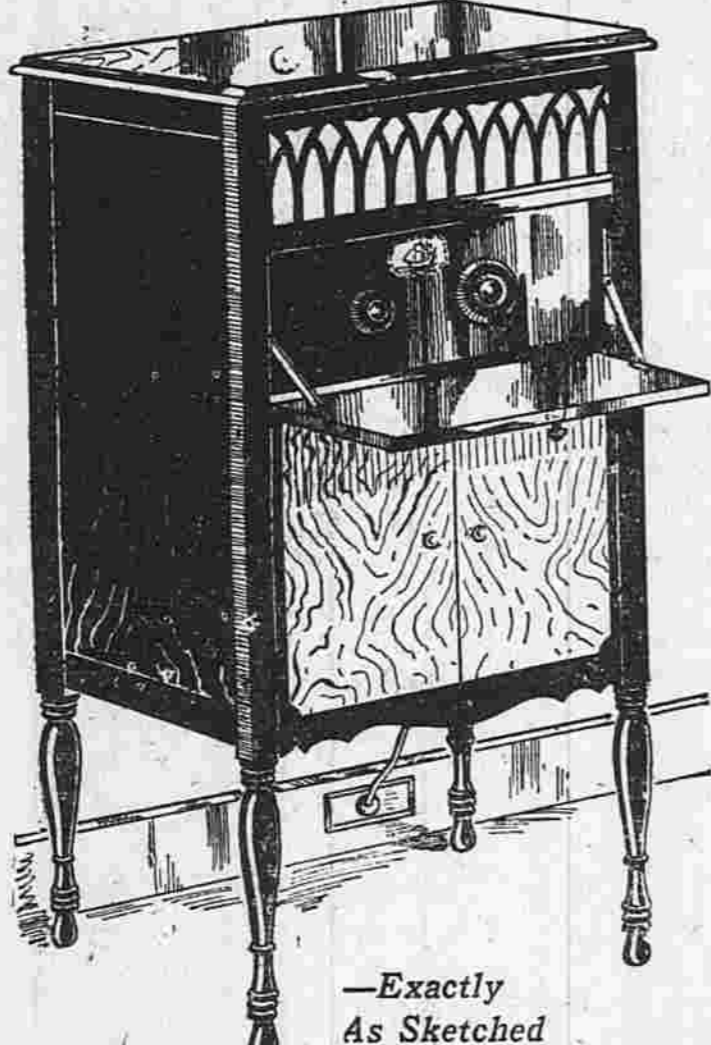

No headache, sour stomach, bad cold or constipation by morning

Get a 10-cent box. Colds—whether in the head or any part of the body—are quickly overcome by urging the liver to action and keeping the bowels free of poison. Take Cascarets tonight and you will wake up with a clear head and no doubt you will wonder what became of your cold. Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember the quickest way to get rid of colds is one or two Cascarets at night to cleanse the system. Get a 10-cent box at any drug store. Don't forget the children. They relish this Candy Cathartic and it is often all that is needed to drive a cold from their little systems.—Adv.

How Much Per Month?

The fairest way to judge shoe value is by the cost per month, or per season.

The first cost per pair is less important, and often misleading.

One pair of shoes at ten dollars may be really less expensive than another pair at six dollars which only holds its shape half as long or soon goes out of style or is uncomfortable or has a cheap look.

One of the many advantages of the

CANTILEVER SHOE

is that it is a fine shoe of excellent quality, holding its graceful lines and attractive finish a long time. Because of the careful, skilled workmanship, and selected high grade leathers and fabrics in every Cantilever Shoe. Is it not true economy to buy such a shoe?

Especially when you also get so much comfort and spring support in the well-fitting Cantilever.

And such a good-looking shoe.

ROTA TRIBUNAL SAYS IT IS NOT INTRUDING

Denies Charge of Bishop Manning That Catholic Church Antagonizes Protestants.

Rome, Nov. 26.—"The Catholic church has no desire to intrude upon the affairs of the Protestant church," declared the official spokesman of the Rota tribunal today, when his attention was called to a statement issued yesterday by Bishop Manning in New York, condemning the action of the Rota tribunal in annulling the marriage of the Duke of Marlborough and Consuelo Vanderbilt.

"It is true," said the official, "that the Catholic church has several times declared marriages in which Protestants were affected to be null, but the Catholic church has no wish to intrude upon the Protestant church."

PROTESTANT SECTS MEET IN LAUSANNE NEXT YEAR

London, (United Press).—Definite efforts for a greater unity of Christendom will be the nucleus of the unofficial discussions of representatives of protestant sects from all parts of the world to be held at Lausanne, Switzerland, July 31 to August 21 next year.

Practically all Protestant sects will be represented at the parley. Pope Benedict has announced that the Roman Catholic Church can not take part in the conference. A commission consisting of a representative from each participating church is now devising a program for the world meeting. Disagreements between the churches will be studied and discussed, not controversially, but with a view to mutual understanding.

The grocer put it on the porch: Two pounds of liverwurst. The family never found it 'cause a stray dog got there first.

SOCCER TEAM WINS

The Manchester soccer team had no trouble in defeating the West Springfield team of the Massachusetts State League yesterday at Mt. Nebo by the score of 8 to 2. The locals scored at will and had the game well under control at all stages.

Of the total area of Switzerland, 28.4 per cent is unproductive.

WHISKEY MONOPOLY.

We are intrigued by General Andrews' scheme for a private corporation to control and handle all the medicinal liquor used in the United States. We should like to own the stock of this corporation. We would like to have its powers just what General Andrews proposes. We should know, in that event, that the sick folks of the country were getting good liquor—at least that the druggists were getting good liquor, and we don't believe that many druggists cheat in their whiskey. We should thus be doing the righteous work of a beneficent monopoly. And we would get rich—very, very rich. We should be able to do things we would like to do—and get a great deal of money in the doing.

If we could own this Andrews corporation we would be glad to give a very solemn pledge that none of the whiskey would be bootlegged—and keep it. And we would agree to try very hard not to let our financial interest in the liquor business cause us to change our ideas about prohibition being a bad thing, and not to contribute to the funds of the Anti-Saloon League with a view to keeping our monopoly inviolate.

But inasmuch as we don't see our way particularly clear to owning any stock at all in the medicinal liquor monopoly, let alone the control of it; and inasmuch as we don't suppose that any pledge will be required, of whoever is lucky enough to get that monopoly, not to support the Anti-Saloon League and not to fight for continued prohibition for what there is in it; we have a notion that if we were in Congress we would not vote for General Andrews' private monopoly of the public's whiskey-medicine, but would inquire why on earth the government, which is asked to do everything expensive in this prohibition business, cannot handle this monopoly, when there is a dollar in it?

A great many people are terribly afraid of "socialism," whenever there is a chance of a public function paying, who have no fear at all of there being anything red in a public service which costs money instead of making it.

Plenty of people are desperately opposed to public ownership of water systems and gas and electric supplies, but we never heard of one of them protesting against public ownership of sewers.

If the government is to spend twenty-five or thirty millions a year on prohibition enforcement, and if there are five or ten millions profit to be made out of a medicinal spirits monopoly, in connection therewith, we fall to see why the paying end of the business, as well as the losing end, should not rest with the government.

FOUR IN A SEAT.

The incident at Depot Square yesterday, where a Ford coupe with four persons jammed into it smashed a fire hydrant, is a typical demonstration of the danger of overcrowding automobiles, particularly the driving seat.

It is self-evident that piling three other persons into the same seat with the driver of any pleasure automobile, especially a small car, constitutes recklessness, and in accident cases it has been the custom of the courts to so regard it. But what is very much needed is a specific statute provision that such overcrowding shall constitute a misdemeanor in itself, regardless of whether the driver is lucky enough to avoid an accident or not.

No automobile driver has more than a fair chance of running his car without disaster when he is crowded into a far corner of his seat and a jumble of human arms and legs intrude themselves between him and his controls.

The perils of the road are great enough, goodness knows, without permitting a continuation of the idiotic packing system which is crowding people daily. Putting eight or nine people into an automobile that would be over-filled by five ought to constitute an offense for which any policeman could arrest and successfully prosecute.

OVERPLAYED.

Two of the three leading New York papers this morning gave the place of first prominence to a denunciation of the Roman Catholic church by Bishop Manning, Episcopal prelate, for its so-called annulment of the Marlborough marriage.

Where on earth this Marlborough affair gets its title to a commanding place in the news of the day we cannot see. The action of the church court in decreeing the annulment of a marriage long ago dissolved by the secular courts is, of course, of not the slightest effect in the secular law, and does not pretend to be. It is a matter of concern only to the Church of Rome itself, and to the parties involved in whatever degree they care to let it affect them. If Bishop Manning sees fit to declare war on another religious denomination over the affair it would seem to us to be about the same as if a Baptist minister were to fly into a rage over the Methodist rules of discipline.

Religious controversy is bad business at best and when it is unavoidable, it would seem to be a wholly gratuitous proceeding for a leader in one Christian sect to seek to stir up interdenominational strife over a matter which by no stretch of the imagination can have the slightest effect on anyone not a member of the particular church concerned. And for great newspapers to treat the challenge as if it were of transcendent importance seems to us to be a profound error of judgment.

NOW FOR IT.

Thanksgiving over, it is time for the annual crop of Christmas-gift bandits to get into training for the December campaign. For several years there have been more hold-ups, burglaries, window-smashings and other crimes of the "grab and run" variety during the first twenty-four days of December than in any other similar period of the twelve-month, all over the country.

The cake-eater goes on the war-path with a cheap gun and a sniff of the courage-giving coke, to get his girl a Christmas present worthy of her appetite and of his capacity as a go-getter. The hard-boiled crook appreciates the necessity of making a bigger spread than usual at the time of the year when all the other rich folks are blowing themselves. Everybody feels the need of large gobs of cash at this time of the year more than at any other time—and the criminal stands not on the order of gratification.

It is not the slightest palliation of the crime, it is not the slightest excuse for the criminal, but it is incontrovertibly a contributing factor in the height of the December crime wave that the country as a whole goes on a spending bat and that crookdom is no more exempt from the fever than any other part of society.

NO SUPER-GAS.

Just at this time, when there is a quite obvious movement on foot in this country to precipitate a war with Mexico, it is a subject for congratulation that General Amos Fries, chief of the Chemical Warfare Service, has come out with a declaration that there is no truth in the widely believed reports that the United States army is in possession of a super-gas which would make victory easy in any new conflict.

Half the people of the United States have been sitting easy, for the last half dozen years, under the conviction that their government was in possession of gas-secrets that would reduce any enemy to helplessness in a jiffy. It was a bad notion for the nation to get and is a good one to be rid of. General Fries knocks it into a cocked hat.

With the exception that there would be a great deal more fighting in the air, and more aerial bombing, another war fought in the near future would be pretty much a repetition of the World war—fully as horrible, fully as costly, fully as destructive.

"BUM" CAUGHT.

Once more the New York police have "Bum" Rodgers in their grip. The last time they had this notorious crime rat they got him sentenced to a long term in Sing Sing; and the stupidity of the sheriff's office let him go. Accompanied by a single sheriff's officer he started on the trip "up the river" with two "Bum's" pals sitting in the next seat behind. Just below the 125th street station the pals hit the officer on the head, dumped him down between the seats, and "Bum" and his friends got off the train. Since then it is believed Rodgers has been mixed up in half a dozen major robberies. Now that he is in the toils again, perhaps he will be held onto.

"Bum" Rodgers is a perfect example of the inefficiency of the American system of criminal law. He is better known to the police of his native city than almost anybody except Al Smith, Jimmy Walker and the day-trick announcer at the Grand Central station. Yet he has never yet seen the inside of Sing Sing. The big city is stuffed full of such. So is almost every other large community.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, Nov. 26.—Political wisecracks may shout that Calvin Coolidge will not run again for president in 1928, but Uncle John Wilder thinks he will. Uncle John is violinist in the Coolidge orchestra from the president's home town, Plymouth, Vt.

"None of us has the slightest doubt that Cal will run again for president in 1928," says Uncle John who is a relative of the president. "He's the people's president, isn't he? Business has been good, I guess, and there isn't any reason for a change, is there?"

The third term bogey means nothing to the old home town. Didn't Colonel John Coolidge, single-handed, manage Plymouth for 12 years?

The 14 Plymouthites touring the country in vaudeville are "seeing the sights," but their desire to help the president amounts to a burning zeal.

The private opinion of Herb Moore, the president's second cousin, is that the troupe is doing Plymouth's distinguished son "a tremendous amount of good." Moore is the show's leader, announcer and prompter.

"We're going to keep his name before the people," Herb explained. "Our act gives a better idea of the sort of place he was born and brought up in."

It is with especial pride that Uncle John and his fellow players, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cady, Clarence Blanchard and Lewis Carpenter, play "Pop Goes the Weasel!" When the company was reserved at the White House by Mr. Coolidge, the president himself demanded, "Why don't you play 'Pop Goes the Weasel'?" And that was how the snappiest tune in the repertoire was placed on the program.

When the troupe billed for a local theater the management was somewhat in doubt as to what would be Mr. Coolidge's reaction. It decided not to ballyhoo the fact that at least three of his relatives were coming to town to fiddle and dance. But it was learned that the president approved of the tour, feeling that its less of simplicity would be helpful.

Some of the 15 who stayed home were too aged or infirm. Others were indispensables like Miss Florence Cilley, keeper of the village postoffice, store and dance hall, and Aurora Pierce, housekeeper at the Coolidge homestead. But Aero Johnson, chairman of the board of selectmen, came along.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 26.—See-sawing up and down Broadway, I did see within the past week more 19-gallon hats than I ever beheld in the combined states of Montana, Wyoming and Arizona. . . . The rodeo has come to town and out where the West Forties begin, the flavor of sagebrush is colorfully added to the amazing mixture already to be found. . . .

Not the least incongruous sight is to witness the cowpunchers, after risking their necks, tether their horses in the basement of Madison Square Garden and then hurry away to the corner where their sedans and coupes are parked and ride away through the great closed spaces of Broadway. . . .

Speaking of cowboys, I am reminded of a street in Greenwich Village, where a number of typically made-to-order Bohemian resorts fight for the tourist trade. . . . In front of one stands a pirate; in front of the other a cowboy. . . . For some time the rivalry between the two doormen had been so keen that sparks flew at each exchange of glance. . . . New Type Screen Lover Displaces Dashing Young Hero of the Past

By LINCOLN QUARBERG
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 24 (United Press)—A new type of screen lover—the middle-aged and debonair type—is winning the hearts of flapper film fans, according to June Mathis, noted scenarist and "discoverer" of Rudolph Valentino.

Miss Mathis predicts a total eclipse of the dark and handsome young movie heroes, with their polished hair and athletic builds.

"Valentino, who first popularized the Latin brand of film hero, was the last of the long line of sleekish screen idols," she said today in an interview.

"The Valentino pattern of heart-breaker is passe—a distinctly different mould of Romeo is captivating the hearts of girls and women who patronize the movies.

"He is the gay sophisticated—the mature lover, with his gay, blasé slant on romance, and his assured confidence and 'savoir faire' in playing with women's hearts."

Miss Mathis, highest paid woman in the motion-picture industry, was first to recognize the possibilities of commercializing the Latin type of hero. She picked Valentino from the ranks of the extras for a starring role in "The Four Horsemen," against the advice of many producers. It made the Latin boy a star.

The reigning Romeo of the screen, before Valentino's time, were blonde, Nordic types of male beauty—but they were young and boyish-looking.

"The modern flapper likes a mature lover—a man of the world who 'knows his stuff,'" continued Miss Mathis. "And she is fed up on the young exotic-looking heroes. She wants a mature dashing hero, with a wealth of romantic romantic background."

Adolphe Menjou, Guy Cody, Lewis Stone and John Barrymore—middle-aged actors known for their brilliant acting in the screen—were cited by the famous scenarist as examples of the new mode of heart-breakers.

"These men have a devilish way of making love on the screen that appeals to young girls—and the same elusive and amorous quality appeals to grownups as well, which strikes the fancy of young girls. Their love-making has a finesse and deftness, minus any great display of passion, that arouses the admiration, as well as the sympathies, of the women.

"Briefly, the screen heroes of the future must appear more than mere physical beauty—there must be a well-defined touch of sophisticated intelligence about their love-making."

RADIO

BY WILLIAM J. FAGAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Nov. 26. (United Press)—Canada's permanent radio broadcast hook-up, went into effect yesterday when the G.N.R.M., Montreal, and C.N.R.O., Ottawa, jointly broadcast the first of a series of musical programs. Permission was granted the operators of C.N.R.O. by the Canadian Government radio department to change its periods of broadcast from Wednesday and Saturday evenings to Monday and Thursday evenings.

While two or more of the C.N.R. stations have tied in for broadcasting a common program on several occasions in the past, yesterday marked the first Canadian hook-up of any permanence. Two programs originating in each city will be broadcast during November. It is expected that the next addition to the string will be C.N.R.T., Toronto.

Relay of the programs from city to city will, of course, be performed by telephone wires. Arrangements have been made to continue the joint programs until midnight each night, the later hours being taken up with a dance program by the Chateau Laurier Orchestra at Ottawa.

COLD GONE! HEAD AND NOSE CLEAR

First dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves all gripe misery

Don't stay stuffed up!

Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs. It promptly opens clogged-up nose trils and air passages; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves sick headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. "Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only thirty-five cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute. —Ad.

No Other Enclosure Has These Features

1—On or off instantly

2—We supply a container

3—Perfect ventilation

Glassmobile can be put on or taken off quicker and easier than celluloid side curtains; without tools and from inside of the car if necessary. Every panel is a separate unit—you can use one, or as many as you wish.

Glassmobile takes up very little room—not much more than a set of celluloid curtains—and is carried in a shallow container which we supply with the set.

Glassmobile avoids the dangers and annoyances of sliding glass panels and yet permits better ventilation.

Be sure you see a touring car with this modern all-season enclosure installed before you buy a new car.

Bearing Crankshaft Motor

The 3 or 4 Bearing Crankshaft is now obsolete in Nash engineering practice

Here's something of real importance for every prospective buyer of a SIX to think about—
—if you buy a new car now that still has the old-type crankshaft with only 3 or 4 bearings, what is going to happen to its resale value?

Manufacturers who still cling to the 3 or 4 bearing crankshaft design know just as well as you do that the MODERN crankshaft has 7 bearings. And certainly with Nash setting the pace they are not likely to hold to the old style of design any longer than they are compelled to under their manufacturing conditions.

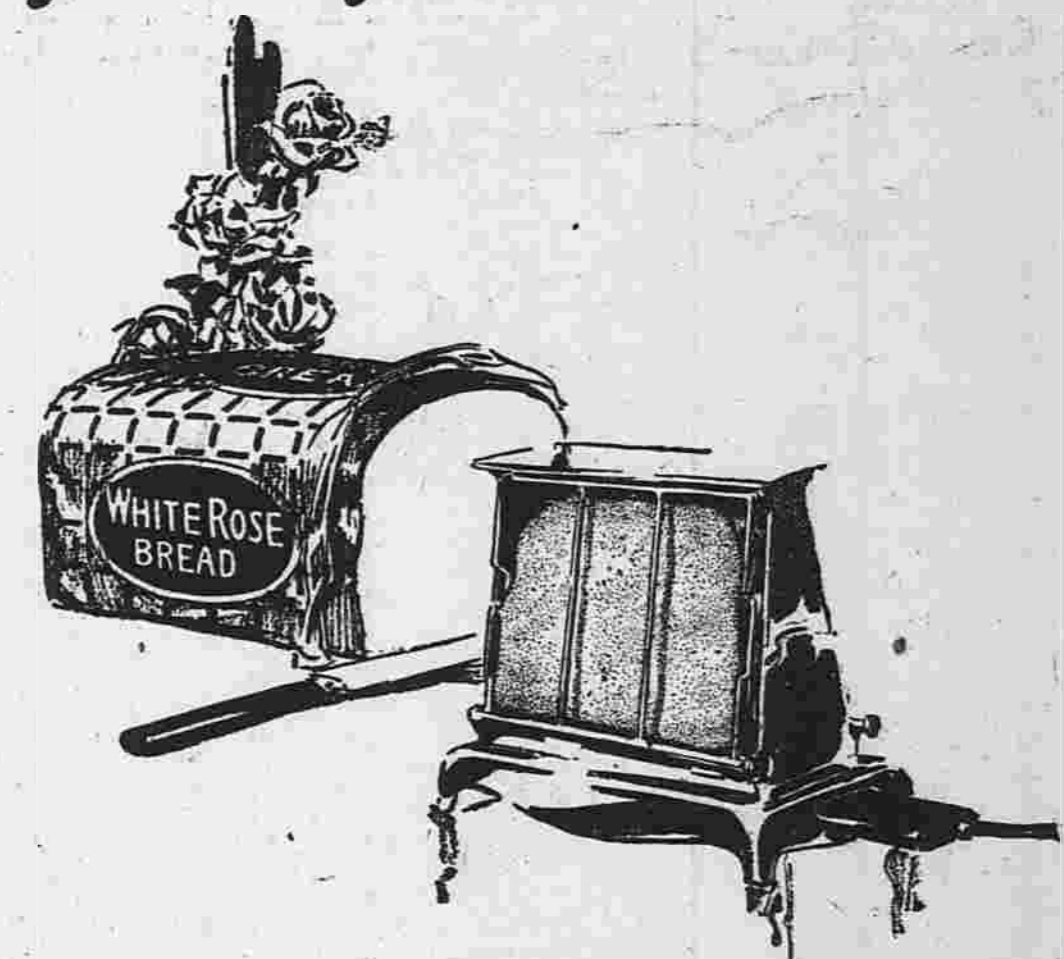

The authority of Nash engineering submits to your own good judgment that the motor with a 3 or 4 bearing crankshaft cannot be called a truly modern type of motor.

DOG MISSES FLY

AND THEN FLIES.
Vienna. (United Press).—Fritz, a vengeful fox terrier, who sought to punish an annoying fly and fell four stories in the attempt, has decided to confine his activities to watching baby carriages in the future.

The fly had awakened Fritz. With revenge the thought uppermost in his mind, Fritz leaped at the fly which had settled on a window-sill. But he went through the window and down four stories.

Luckily Frau Franziska Steinhilber was out in the street with her baby and Fritz landed plump into the soft cushions of the baby carriage. The baby was sitting up in the rear of the perambulator and was not hurt. Neither was the dog.

C. B. A. A. QUINTET WINS HARDEST OF THREE GAMES

Defeats Elmwood 44 to 40
But Loses to Taftville 28 to 26 and Danielson 46 to 27.

George Hunt's C. B. A. basketball aggregation won one of its three games over the holiday and that victory was the most sought of all. The Manchester team triumphed over its rival, Elmwood, by a 44 to 40 score, Wednesday night in Elmwood.

Yesterday afternoon the slick workers lost a tough one to Taftville by a two-point margin, the score being 28 to 26. At night, Danielson won rather handsily by a 48 to 27 score.

Silk Beginning
The goalkeeping trio of the baby barnstorming trip in an auspicious manner by defeating Elmwood. At the same time, they secured revenge for the defeat suffered last season. Elmwood has a strong, well-balanced team this season and the Manchester quintet entered the game the underdog.

Irrespective of this, it was apparent soon after the game had commenced, that the Manchester team was destined to win. The slick hoopsters passed accurately and smoothly. They well gauged on the Elmwood basket as the scores of Paulkner, Faulkner and Boyle will attest. Manchester led at halftime, 29 to 9, and with seven minutes left to play was leading 28 to 18 in the final period. Elmwood then staged a sudden spurt that all but turned the tide of victory.

Taftville Wins
The Taftville game was a thriller from start to finish. Taftville led at halftime, 18 to 11, but toward the end of the contest, it was anybody's game. In view of the fact that the evening Manager Hunt started his entire "second team," it may be termed that, Anyway Barrett and Mullen were at forwards instead of Pentland and Faulkner. Kerr jumped center in place of Boyle and Macdonald and Anderson were in the guard positions instead of Cervini and Wiley. Later the first-team combination was rushed into the fray and nearly won the game.

The Danielson game was much rougher than the battle in Taftville. Boyle, local center, was completely checked by the home team and was unable to get started in his usual style. Joe Pentland hooped in seven double-deckers. The score at halftime was 20 to 15 in favor of Danielson.

THEY'VE MISSED EDDIE.
Colgate has certainly missed Eddie Tryon, its stellar back of last season. Without the famous ball-tosser to lead the offense, Colgate has fallen before Pittsburgh and Navy and has been held to a tie by Syracuse and Brown. Last year Colgate did not lose a game.

PLAINFIELD MEETS ITS FIRST DEFEAT

Fall River, Mass., Quintet Ekes Out 33-30 Winner, Yale Star Wins Game.

(Special to The Herald) ... Plainfield, Conn., Nov. 29—The strong Fall River, Mass., basketball five eked out a 33 to 30 winner over the local Community Five here Wednesday night in a very fast game. Giffin, former Yale star, tossed in the winning score in the closing minutes of play. His work was outstanding all through the game, despite the fact that Higgins and Deegan led in scoring. Plainfield's biggest fault seemed to be lack of teamwork. There was too much dribbling. Plainfield lost the services of two players for the game. Stavitsky was banished following a disagreement with Higgins and Madden injured his knee. Benson was also forced to leave the game. Plainfield led at halftime 18 to 14. Norris was best for the losers.

REC FIVE PLANS BUSY COURT YEAR

Games in Works With Fast Amateur Teams in This Section—Practices Being Held.

The School Street Rec will be represented on the basketball floor this season for the first time in three years. Director Chaney has a promising squad of boys working out and the first game will be played in a week or two.

Games are expected to be arranged with the Independents of Jamaica, L. I., Red Devils of New Haven, Plainville Panthers, Middletown Rec five, Portland Independents, Springfield Y. M. C. A. and several insurance league teams of Hartford. Home games will be played on Saturdays afternoons.

Following are some of those who are trying out for the team: Weisman, Gotberg, Bellamy, Runde, McCollum, Vondack, Quish, Bissell, Wolfgram, Cordera, Johnson and Robb.

NEW LEADER OF TIGERS BOASTS UNIQUE CAREER

Detroit, Nov. 26.—It is doubtful if any major league manager ever took up his duties with the varied experience that has been George Moriarty's portion. He will manage the Tigers next year.

Moriarty, after several years of minor league ball, enjoyed 10 years as a big league player. Then came a brief period as a minor league manager. Returning to the majors as an umpire, he put in 10 years as a member of President Johnson's staff of arbitrators. Breaking in with practically no experience, he progressed that he soon was recognized as one of the best in the business.

Having had a whirl at every phase of the game, he should be well qualified to succeed as a major league pilot.

A smart player as well as keen umpire, of the aggressive type, Detroit under Moriarty's direction should be an interesting club to watch.

'TWOULD BE BATTLE

If comparative scores mean anything, a worthwhile battle would result were the Army and Navy and Northwestern to clash on the gridiron. Army held Notre Dame's brilliant eleven to a 7-0 count while the Purple went down only 6-0 against Rockne's forces. As far as scores were concerned the Cadets and the Wildcats would be evenly matched.

CLOVERLEAVES, CUBS, ALUMNI WIN HOLIDAY FOOTBALL GAMES

HEAVY PENALTIES ARE NOT ENOUGH TO STOP LOCALS

Two undefeated football eleven clashed at Hickey's Grove yesterday morning and once again the local town champions emerged with a clean win.

In other words, the Cloverleaves romped to an overwhelming victory over the Tufts A. C. of Middletown. The score was 26 to 0. Fourteen visiting players were injured. The hitherto undefeated Middletown team made but three first downs against the local champs and these were made via the aerial route. One of them was in their own territory.

Visitors Threaten Once
The Middletown eleven threatened to score but once. That was late in the first half when two successive forward passes brought the ball to the Manchester 25-yard line. The entire second-string line was in the game at the time for the Cloverleaves and at this point, Coach Mooney called back the first team. Then Manchester stopped the visitors in their tracks on three successive plays. A forward pass on the final down was also futile.

Cloverleaves Penalized
For the first time this season, the Cloverleaves were seriously handicapped by penalties. The local team was set back no less than 75 yards. Walter Moske and Johnny Ambrose were detected slugging the umpire and Referee Jake Moske imposed "sentences of 25 yards in each case. Holding by "Whitty" Mullen also cost the North End team 15 yards while there were two additional penalties of five yards for offside. Middletown was penalized ten yards, once for offside and once for backfield in motion before the ball was snapped.

Bronnan Again Stars
The touchdowns yesterday were made by the Moske brothers and Whitty Mullen. Captain Brunie Moske made two of them. The first score of the game followed a 40-yard run down the side of the field by the elusive "Hook" Brennan. Rushed by Bill McLaughlin and Brunie Moske carried the ball over the final stripe. Brennan missed a drop-kick for the extra point. This was all the scoring in the first half, but the Cloverleaves had four other chances. That is, they were inside the 25-yard line on four other occasions. Penalties and grounded forward passes staved off impending scores.

Second Half Comedy
In the second half, the Cloverleaves turned the game into more of a comedy after Brunie Moske hit made the game sure with another touchdown by virtue of a 35-yard sprint around his left end bringing the ball to the ten yard line where McLaughlin and Brunie took it over on successive plays. McLaughlin made good on the try for extra point via the placement kick route.

From then on, the game was a farce. Manchester advanced at will and the Middletown team which hitherto had played a good game of football, was demoralized. Manchester received a punt well in its own territory and Walter Moske raced back to midfield on the next play. Then Hook Brennan shook off half a dozen tacklers to dodge his way to the 18-yard line. Bill McLaughlin brought the ball to the three yard line.

Mullen Goes Over
It was decided that "Whitty" Mullen, whose defensive work on the line has been outstanding all season, should have a "slice of the breast of the turkey." He was called into the backfield and crashed over for a touchdown through center. He added the extra point the same way.

The final score came shortly after. Middletown received, failed to gain, and punted poorly to the 40-yard line. Brennan raced back to the 18-yard line and Walter Moske made the remaining distance in one plunge off tackle. McLaughlin missed a placement kick for the extra point. "Cy" Tyler broke up the Middletown punt and recovered the ball near the visitors' goal line as the game ended.

Following are the lineups as the teams took the field at the start of the game:

Alumni Crash Through Students To Smother Them by Big Margin

Kwash, Gill, Zwick and Dahlquist Gain at Will Through Weakened High School Line—Zwick Shines.

A heavy alumni team ran rampant over indifferent opposition at the Stadium yesterday to defeat the High school team by the score of 25 to 0. The flashy backfield of former High school players had no trouble in breaking the student line wide open for long gains throughout.

Beginning right away in the first period, the alumni opened up an offensive that brought them a touchdown before the quarter had gone far. Savage drives off tackle, through center and around the netted the graduates enormous yardage and despite all efforts of the varsity team the opposition went out and made one first down after another.

Mike Zwick, now of Springfield college, made an able field general for the alumni and his fine Italian hand could be seen in all the plays that his team pulled off. Zwick astonished the villagers now and then by tearing off runs of from 10 to 20 yards while at other times his tackles were beautiful to behold. Mike's best work was shown in his accurate tossing of forward passes to Mistretta and Mozer. The spiral traveled 20 to 30 yards at a time and were always good for at least a first down.

The students were beaten from the beginning for the alumni made a pass altogether too heavy for penetration. Kwash, Gill and Dahlquist in the backfield scored heavy gains at will through the line and around the wings. Gill especially making long gains around the field in motion before the ball was snapped.

Kwash was sent through the line for the first score, early in the first period. Zwick took over to make good. The next score came in the third quarter when Mike Zwick took the ball over. A series of long forward passes had paved the way for this score and the alumni started out with the same tactics. It came in the fourth period.

Forward passes and long end runs brought the graduates to within striking distance the next time and Mistretta took over to make good. The score, Zwick kicked the goal. The same man scored the next touchdown just before the game ended. A forward pass to Dahlquist for the extra point was grounded.

The High school team was crippled by injuries suffered in the Williamson game and as a result the line was made up of only a few regular men. Farr and Lupien, star ends, were out of the game and Treat was out of the backfield. His place was filled to good effect by Joe McCann, who was ineligible to play in the interscholastic games. Jack Dwyer refereed, Earl Wright acted as umpire and Jack Stratton as head linesman.

NEW BRITAIN WINS

Bristol, Nov. 26.—A last minute rally enabled the New Britain National Guard basketball team to tie the locals and in the overtime period, "Butsy" Sturm's field goal gave the visitors a 41 to 37 victory. Feldman and Sloman were the stars.

CROWD ON FIELD SPOILS GAME AT WEST SIDE OVAL

Confined to a playing surface which at times was not equal to one-fifth the size of a regulation football field because of the crowd which surged onto the gridiron, the Cub eleven of the South End defeated the New Britain Pawnees yesterday afternoon at the West Side playgrounds by a 12 to 0 score. Lack of police protection made playing conditions terrible.

Both teams were extremely huddled. At times the crowd gathered about the two teams on all sides until from the distance one might have suspected a crap game was in progress. Manager Angello claims he had been promised the services of two patrolmen. Because of the numerous delays in vain attempt to clear the field, the game did not end until darkness.

First Score Lucky
Manchester scored its first touchdown in the second quarter. A visiting halfback intercepted a forward pass on his own 20 yard line. New Britain failed to gain and fell into poor formation. The snap-back from the center went over the kicker's head. He recovered on the three yard line but Mozer dropped him in his tracks. Two line-backs had felled and then "Lefty" St. John crashed over the line on a split off right tackle. Groman's attempt at a placement kick for the extra tally was blocked.

St. John Helps
The second score of the game came late in the final period. It followed a steady march toward the New Britain goal from the visitor's 40 yard line. The main credit for the score is due St. John. On the fourth down with the ball on the 15 yard line and three yards to go, St. John broke free after crashing through tight tackle and wove his way to the two yard line. On the next play, Chuckie Minicucci plunged through for the touchdown. Red Happen's drop-kick attempt for the extra point was blocked.

Locals Gained More
Although the Cubs did not look real impressive, they outscored the New Britain team by a wide margin. Manchester made exactly eleven first downs against three for New Britain. Successful forwards gave the home team several chances to score in the first half but they lacked the ability to push the ball over. New Britain did not threaten to score once until the second half. During the final half, the Pawnees had three opportunities but each time were unable to gain sufficiently and had to rely on forward passes. In each case, they intercepted. Mozer, Dietz and Mistretta were the men who "saved the day" for the Cubs in this respect.

Not Enough St. John
The brilliant playing of Mozer and Mistretta was the only outstanding feature of the Manchester team's playing. They snared many passes. St. John was the only reliable ground-gainer and he was not given the ball enough when Manchester was in New Britain's territory. The Cubs seemed to lack the teamwork and pep which has been noticeable in past games. Perhaps it was the fact that the Cloverleaves were watching the game from the sidelines and were rooting vociferously for New Britain. At any rate, the Cubs were far below par and compared as they were yesterday the Cloverleaves would probably win easily.

Barber, Pawnee Star
Regardless of the fact that Manchester made much more yardage, New Britain's hard charging line repeatedly broke through and smothered local runners for losses. The Cub line was the weakest at center. The Pawnee center, Barber wearing the numeral No. 6, broke through constantly. He was a menace to the Cub offense and made about 75 per cent of the tackles for his team. He broke through the center of the Cub line as if it were tissue paper.

Camouflaged Play?
There is a bare possibility that the apparent poor showing of the Cubs yesterday was not as real as it seemed. Perhaps Coach Wright had something up his sleeve in view of the coming game with the Cloverleaves. Perhaps he ordered quarterback Groman to use only certain plays and certain men thus fooling the public. But if he did, his sleeve will have to be heavily laden to defeat the Cloverleaves.

The teams took the field with the following lineups:

Manchester	New Britain
Mozzer	Peterson
Harrison	Victor
Ambulewicz	Bergorni
Merrer	Barder
Pentore	Quarti
Lewis	Schultz
Mistretta	McCormick
Groman	Turner
Minicucci	O'Neil
Boraski	Crowley
St. John	Colossa

FAST SOUTHLINGTON PEXTOES SHOULD DRAW BANNER CROWD

Hartford and Angeli Big Stars in Visitor's Lineup; Saints to Have Top-Notch Team on Field; Dancing to Follow.

Things look bright for an auspicious opening of the basketball season tonight when the Saints take on the fast Pextos of Southington in their first home game of the season. The visitors are rated as one of the coming teams in this section and will undoubtedly give the local team a battle from start to finish.

Coach Clarke expects to use his regular lineup on the visitors while the Pextos will come here with their strongest array. Just who they will have is not known but it is understood that the combination which will play the Saints will be the fastest to wear the Southington colors so far.

Manchester will be represented by the usual array of stars headed by Captain Roy Norris. The big fellows will have the pivot position to take care of, while his forward men will be Mantell and Kerr. The guard positions will be held down by Madden and Stavitsky. Both of these guards have been going strong lately and it looks like Stavitsky's best season so far.

Mantell and Kerr make a sweet pair of forward men and they work together like clockwork. The former, incidentally, is doing most of the pivoting for the Saints this season and his ability as a floor general is unchallenged.

Manager Turkington of the Saints has announced his intentions of bringing to Manchester this season some of the best attractions obtainable. He has played the first of a home and home series with the Meriden Inslicos and Endees so the fans may expect to see these two teams in action on the Rec floor soon.

The basketball season last year was a fizzle because there were too many teams in uniform. This year, however, there are only two major combinations outside of the High school, both playing amateur basketball. To date, both teams have played all their games away from home so the return engagements may be looked for shortly.

Tonight the Laurels will furnish the preliminary thrills at 7:30 against an out-of-town team. Dancing will follow the main encounter.

WAR VETS UNABLE TO RECALL PAST

Amnesia Sufferers Still Pay Prices of Heroism.

It is eight years since the close of the World War. Yet thousands of young Americans, who should be enjoying all the healthful activities of youth, are still paying the price in government hospitals, hopelessly crippled.

Among these victims of the war there are no more pitiful cases than the victims of amnesia—loss of memory. Nearly every government hospital has at least one such case; a young man in perfect condition physically, who cannot recall a single fact concerning the life that was his before the war. Memory is gone; these chaps can remember only the things that have happened after the war ended.

Some of them are cared for in the homes of their parents; others do not know who their parents are and have no means of getting in touch with them. They live at the hospitals, unable to communicate with loved ones who may even be living in the next town.

Jim Elwell was a young war veteran in such a predicament. His mind had been wiped clean of everything that had happened before that shell exploded near him at Sedan. He did not recognize his parents, did not even know the sweetheart that was waiting for him.

He was luckier than most, however. For a solution was found for him, and his happiness was restored to him.

His experience is told graphically in "Broken Threads," which starts Monday, November 29 in The Herald. Don't fail to read this absorbing story.

30,000 STRAY DOGS IN CITY OF MOSCOW

Moscow Nov. 26. (United Press).—By unofficial count of the city authorities, thirty thousand stray dogs are wandering about the streets and the outskirts of Moscow.

As there are many wolves in the forests not far from the city, and as wolves are subject to rabies, the danger of the homeless dogs becoming mad through contamination with the wolves is reported to be causing some concern.

Poor sonny's shoes got soaking wet. The saddest kid in town. He has no shoes to stand in, yet He simply can't sit down.

WILD DOGS ATTACK RUSSIAN VILLAGES

Moscow, (United Press).—Packs of mad wolves are ravaging villages and isolated farms in the Tartar republic, spreading such terror among the peasants that the government has sent a party of experienced hunters to help the natives exterminate the animals.

The fierce animals are often driven toward human habitations when food is scarce in the height of the Russian winter, but this year they have begun their depredations earlier than usual. They do not attack people unless there are many wolves against one person.

Several years ago, hunger-driven wolves attacked and laid regular siege to a railroad train loaded with livestock, until the guards from the top of the cattle-cars shot them down.

INTELLIGENCE TESTS

HISTORY QUIZ

This test is concerned only with incidents and characters which have figured in American history.

- 1-Who is shown in the accompanying picture?
2-What group of people celebrated the first Thanksgiving in America?
3-What country sold the Louisiana territory to the United States?
4-Who made the first American flag?
5-How long did the Revolutionary War last?
6-Who led the raid on Harper's Ferry?
7-Who became president of the United States by the death of Abraham Lincoln?
8-In what year was the Monroe Doctrine presented to Congress?
9-From whom did the United States get the Statue of Liberty?
10-Who was the United States' president during the World War?

A closed car is one that the dry agents have raided.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

A sign before a farmhouse bears this legend: "Drive Slow! Chickens Five Dollars Each!"
The big red touring car struck a pedestrian, rolling him in the mud and mauling him in general.

Occasionally a man loses control of his car by failing to keep up the installments.

It takes a jack to lift a car, and it takes a jack to lift a mortgage.

THE CHRISTENING
Some friends of mine made up their minds
To christen all their cars;
To give their automobiles names
Of famous Movie Stars.

Now Jimmy owned a Packard trim. A racy, swift twin-six
It was a rarin' devil so
He christened it "Tom Mix."
And Eddie had a Cadillac
For which the flappers fell,
So he called it "Valentino."

Next there was George who scads of dough
Who drove a sleek Rolls-Royce
That was so beautiful
He named it "Alice Joyce."

And so they christened all their cars
For stars well known to fame;
"Law Cody," "Douglas Fairbanks,"
And many a noted name.

But when it came my turn to name
The Ford I motor in
They thought that I was stumped, but I
Just called it "Rin-Tin-Tin."

Speaking of old riddles: There's one I never could find any sense to which goes: "Why does a hen cross a road?"
I know the answer now—they don't.
The autoist hits them before they get across.
Hot Dawg.

Ford is no longer the author of the tin best sellers.

The smoothest running thing about a car is the salesman's tongue.

If it wasn't for short skirts the pedestrians might stand a chance.

Fifty years ago a fellow was never disappointed with dates—no flat tires in those days.

Snow: "What kind of head trouble is he bothered with?"

Sleet: "Oh, he was in a twin-six mouth and a one-cylinder brain!"

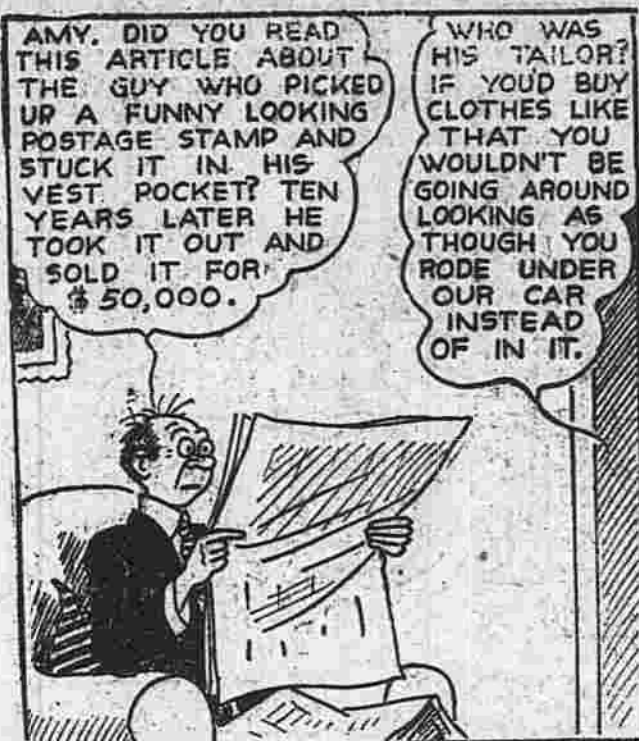

Traffic Cop: "What's the idea of halting up traffic? Why don't you use your noodle?"

Sweet Miss: "Didn't know the car had one."

A Grade Crossing Warning Stop, and let the train go by.
It only takes a minute;
Your car will start right off again
And better still, you're in it.

One sure way to avoid tire trouble.
Go on foot.

AMY, DID YOU READ THIS ARTICLE ABOUT THE GUY WHO PICKED UP A FUNNY LOOKING POSTAGE STAMP AND STUCK IT IN HIS VEST? ROCKET TEN YEARS LATER HE TOOK IT OUT AND SOLD IT FOR $50,000.

WHO WAS HIS TAILOR? IF YOU'D BUY CLOTHES LIKE THAT YOU WOULDN'T BE GOING AROUND LOOKING AS THOUGH YOU RODE UNDER OUR CAR INSTEAD OF IN IT.

HERE'S A FELLOW WHO HAS DOPE OUT A WAY TO PATCH PUNCTURES WITHOUT STOPPING THE CAR. HE'S BEEN OFFERED $2,000,000 FOR IT BY A TAXI COMPANY. THAT'S THE SORT OF THING I'D LIKE TO DO.

YOU'LL NEVER BE STRUCK BY THAT KIND OF LIGHTNING SITTING AROUND IN THE HOUSE ALL DAY.

LISTEN, AMY, IN THIS BOOK, "SURE WAYS TO SUCCESS," IT SAYS: "YOU MUST SEEK SUCCESS. SUCCESS WILL NOT SEEK YOU." NOW THAT'S WH---

THOSE ARE MY SENTIMENTS EXACTLY!

THAT'S YOUR TROUBLE IN A NUTSHELL. YOU SIT AROUND HERE ALL DAY LONG HOPEING A GOOD FAIRY WILL HAND YOU A MILLION DOLLARS, INSTEAD OF GOING OUT AND TRYING TO EARN IT.

ALL-RIGHT? I'M GOING OUT—BUT IF SOMEBODY CALLS UP TO OFFER ME A BIG PROPOSITION IT'LL BE YOUR FAULT THAT I AIN'T TO TAKE IT.

THE TINYMITES

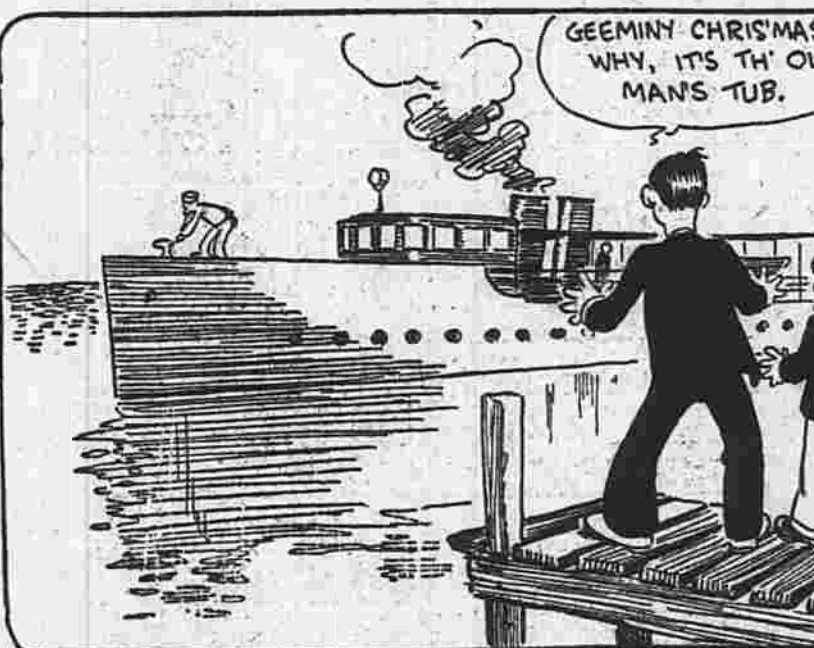

(Read the Story, Then Color the Picture)

The Tynmites looked all around. "A hiding place must now be found for all the apples that we have," said Scouty to them all. And when he spied a hay chute near, and rushed right up and said, "Ah, here is just the proper place, above this empty horse's stall."

With ease. Said he, "Now please be patient while I tie an apple tight." The string was wound around the stem, and he surprised the rest of them by pulling up the apple till 'twas almost out of sight. Then Scouty shinned up the wall to reach the chute above the stall. That's where the apple rested, and was swinging to and fro. He then reached out and grabbed the end of the string, and with one jerk, removed the string. It seems that there are few good tricks that Scouty doesn't know.

MANCHESTER MAN WINS THE TURKEY

Laberge Geer Lucky Man at Hose Company's Thank- giving Dance.

The annual social and dance given by Hose and Ladder Company No. 1 of the South Manchester Fire Department at Cheney Hall Thanksgiving Eve was a rousing success. Over 500 were in attendance.

As usual interest centered about the "Turkey, Goose and Pig" raffle. L. H. Geer, of Pitkin street won the biggest prize of the evening, the turkey. Most of the 38 prize winners were local persons. A few were from Hartford. One was from Boston.

The affair made a typical Thanksgiving Day scene by the way the hall was "decorated." The turkeys, geese, ducks, pig and vegetables were placed about the sides of the room and all but the latter made plenty of noise as if voicing their disapproval of the whole affair.

Al Behrend's orchestra furnished the music and dancing followed until a late hour. Arthur Lashinske and Fred Van Ness conducted the raffling of the tickets.

Following is the list of prize winners:

Turkey: 3802, L. H. Geer, Pitkin street.
Goose: 8781, Jane Starkie, East Hartford.
Pig: 7622, James Richmond, Pine street.
One silk dress pattern: 3449, Harry Meikeljohn, Park street.
One-half ton of coal: 10852, J. Canade, 150 High street.

War Victim

This is the way Jim Elwell looked before the war. After the war, a helpless victim of shell shock, he didn't even know his own name. He—but read for yourself, in "Broken Threads," the absorbing story of how this ex-doughboy found himself. It starts Monday, November 19, in The Herald.

ROAST CHICKEN DINNER AT TOWN ALMSHOUSE
Thanksgiving was made happy and homelike for the elderly people at the town almshouse yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver. All but three of the fifteen who regularly sit down to the meals were present. Relatives from Andover came and took away one couple and another spent the day with relatives in town.
Just before the meal was ready, Milkowski's delivery wagon stopped and delivered a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers to brighten up the Thanksgiving table. Dinner was served at noon and included roast chicken with dressing, mashed potatoes and turnips, creamed onions, sweet potatoes, cranberry sauce, celery, pumpkin and mince pie and cheese, bread, butter, tea and fruit. In the evening a light supper was served, ending with fruit cake and peach sauce.
