

QUEER DEATH OF DRUMMER MYSTERY YET

No Autopsy Performed Here As Doctors Believe Heart Disease Killed Long Island Man.

The mystery of how Robert McGrath of Long Island, died in a railroad accident at Andover Wednesday night although he escaped without a scratch while his automobile was totally demolished, will always remain a mystery. In the opinion of those concerned in the case, it is another mystery how the Long Island man's body carried no marks. As one person said this morning, "I can't fathom it. Why, the car was smashed so badly you could almost get the pieces in your vest pocket and yet there was but one tiny mark the size of a pinhead on his body from which blood had trickled."

No Autopsy. Medical Examiner William R. Tinker informed The Herald today that there would be no autopsy. He consulted with Coroner Calhoun in Hartford yesterday afternoon and they reached the conclusion that McGrath had been suffering from heart trouble and had had another attack just as he drove his automobile onto the railroad crossing. They believe that the shock of seeing the oncoming steam train approaching at full speed and then the terrific crash and his being hurled to the bank, was sufficient to bring death.

No Injuries. They decided that death could not have been caused by injuries, external or internal, from the train, as there were no such indications revealed in the post-mortem examination of the man's body. Medical Examiner Tinker said it could not have been foul play and therefore formed the conclusion that death was accidentally caused by heart disease and the shock of the train wreck. It is understood that it would be a difficult problem to tell whether McGrath died from heart disease and shock even if an autopsy were performed. Therefore, it can only be assumed.

Body Embalmed. Following the consultation with the coroner, Dr. Tinker gave Undertaker Holloran permission to embalm the body. This was done late yesterday afternoon. Last night a representative of the organ company in New York for which McGrath was a salesman, called at the undertaking parlor. This afternoon, the man's wife and brother were due to arrive here from 112 Marvin avenue, Rockville Center, Long Island, New York. The McGraths have two children, it is understood. Funeral arrangements are awaiting the wife's arrival.

FALL, NOT LOCOMOTIVE, KILLED NORWALK BOY.

Bridgeport, Jan. 14.—Dominick De Paolo, 10, who died at Norwalk hospital on January 11th, supposedly from being struck by the Knickerbocker express, really met death from slipping on the ice near the tracks, according to Coroner John J. Phelan's finding issued here today. The child was watching a passing freight train from a point close to the edge of the tracks and when the Knickerbocker came along with its whistle blowing the child jumped back, slipping on the ice and struck his head against a bank, fracturing his skull.

3 BLANKETS 3 TO COVER UP 120 MEN 120

"Maria, get me another blanket, it's chilly in this room."

You hear that nightly in steam heated homes here when the radiators begin to get a bit cool. So two or three more blankets are dug out of the closet for Mr. Manchester.

Remembering this, how would you like to sleep in a log cabin with the thermometer 30 to 40 below outdoors and find that only three (YES, THREE) blankets had only been provided for you and 119 other men. And yet every man was warm enough.

Guess and guess again until Saturday and you'd never get the right answer until you read the story of "Big Timbers" which tells all about a Manchester man, of course, in tomorrow's

CHENEY EMPLOYEES DINE 50 YEAR MEN

Get Together Club Host; Frank Cheney, Jr., Speaker—Officers Elected.

Cheney Brothers' male employees gathered last night in historic Cheney hall to honor the men who have worked 50 years or more for the local silk firm. The Get Together club monthly dinner was served to eleven of 50-year service men and 180 members of the club were present to pay their respects to the senior employees.

Frank Cheney, Jr., chairman of the board of directors of Cheney Brothers, and a 45-year service employee, addressed the gathering following the dinner. Mr. Cheney's talk was informal. He simply congratulated the honored guests and hoped that it would be necessary for Cheney Brothers to obtain some 60-year service pins.

The annual election of the officers of the Get Together club was held at last night's meeting. Sidney Elliott was elected president, succeeding Thomas McGill. The other officers named last night are: vice-presidents, Charles Stave, William McKinney; secretary, J. A. Irvine; treasurer, Ray Bidwell; assistant treasurer, Herbert Leggett; lecturers' committee, U. J. Lupien. The Dyeing and Finishing department, annual election.

A most pleasing entertainment program was presented following the dinner. The employee lists were divided into seven groups. These groups were told to gather and sing "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles." James Hutchinson, Benjamin Cadman and James Bidwell were the judges. The Spinning group, led by Herb Ingham, sang first. Then came the Velvet, Ed Balleisier, leader.

GREAT STORM TOSSES GREAT LINERS ABOUT

Berengaria Reports Terrific Seas as She Makes Port at Cherbourg.

Cherbourg, Jan. 14.—The liner Berengaria came into port here today and reported a terrific battle during the night against furious storms.

Passengers were hurried about the ship, as it pitched through gigantic seas. One woman is reported to have been seriously injured and to have been disembarked here and taken to a hospital.

The Berengaria sighted the Homerick last night, bound for New York and making terrible plunges in a racing sea.

Black Sea Tempets. Sofia, Jan. 14.—Many fishing boats foundered along the Bulgarian coast of the Black Sea, with some loss of life. It is feared as storms continued to sweep across the area. Three persons were drowned when two passenger steamers collided during a heavy fog.

SEEK CONVICTED DOCTOR IN NEW YORK ON WRONG TIP

Boston, Mass., Jan. 14.—Dr. Thomas E. Walsh, who vanished on the eve of his sentence in connection with the death of Miss Edith Greene, "paper box" victim, was sought without success in New York today. An apartment in the Harlem negro section of New York was searched as the result of a tip. Police inspectors sent back word that they found a Dr. Thomas, who, like Dr. Walsh, had been convicted of illegal surgery here, and said that tipsters probably mistook Dr. Thomas for Dr. Walsh.

DIVORCE A PLOT TO GET MONEY, SAYS CHAPLIN

And He Hasn't Half of Sixteen Millions, Let Alone Sixteen, Film Star Asserts In New York.

New York, Jan. 14.—Charlie Chaplin, the king of film comedy, arrived in New York on the Twentieth Century Limited today and told reporters that he would fight his wife's suit for a divorce "to the bitter end." He said the action brought by Lita Grey Chaplin in Los Angeles was instigated by his wife's family.

"I'm going to fight this thing out," he asserted. "I'm going to fight for the custody of my two children. Chaplin resented the bringing of the name of Edna Purviance, noted screen actress, into his domestic difficulties.

"Certainly, she's on my payroll," Chaplin said. "She's on the payroll for $250 a week but that was the stipulation in her original contract. "There was absolutely no reason for dragging Miss Purviance's name into this."

Not So Depressed. Chaplin did not seem as depressed as reports from the west indicated he was in Chicago yesterday. He smiled as he dropped off the train to face a horde of reporters and a battery of cameras. He posed amiably for pictures.

A large crowd gathered near the train, having learned of Chaplin's arrival. Chaplin tried to make his way to a waiting automobile but he was blocked by the reporters who shot questions at him.

In reply to one question Chaplin denied he is worth sixteen million dollars or anything like that amount.

"Why," he declared, "I'm not worth one-half of six million dollars."

Chaplin characterized his wife's divorce as a money plot, pure and simple.

He declared that he intended to file a cross-bill just as soon as he got back to California.

To Go On With Work. Charlie is not going to allow his marital troubles to interfere with his art, he said. He is going to resume work upon his newest picture, "The Circus," and complete it.

KILLS HIMSELF IN GAS BOMB SIEGE

Shooter of Wife and a Man Defies Michigan Posse, Then Ends Life.

Jackson, Mich., Jan. 14.—Howard Kenke, a railroad man, killed himself at his home today while a posse of deputy sheriffs and state and city police were attempting to force his surrender with machine guns and gas bombs.

Earlier in the day Kenke shot and seriously wounded his wife and a neighbor, Orville Case. Physicians say they will recover.

When the officers rushed the door they found Kenke on the floor dead. Powder burns on his shirt showed that he had shot himself.

Case found the Kenkes in the midst of a quarrel when he dropped in for a visit, police say. Kenke drew Case into the argument, then seized a revolver, first shooting his wife and later Case, it is said.

MRS. F. B. HARRISON GETS PARIS DIVORCE

She Married Former Philippines Governor When She Was 18, He 45.

Paris, Jan. 14.—The Seine Tribunal has granted a divorce to Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, the former Salena Elizabeth Wrenmore. Harrison was formerly governess-general of the Philippine Islands and his marriage to his present wife, who is considerably his junior, occasioned considerable comment in social circles.

Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, who was Miss Elizabeth Wrenmore of Berkeley, California, was the third wife of Harrison. At the time of their marriage she was only eighteen years old while her husband was forty-five. The marriage took place almost immediately upon the issuance of a decree of divorce from his second wife.

"GORILLA" BANDIT MAKES GET-AWAY

Acrobatic Youth Who Did 50 Robberies in Providence Breaks Jail.

Providence, Jan. 14.—"The Gorilla" had baffled police and detective forces of three states today in their frantic efforts to capture him. Felix Lamake, 16, is the "gorilla," that being the name applied to him by the police.

Fifty burglaries, most of them in women's boudoirs and marked by remarkable agility on the part of the bandit, were credited to Lamake before he was captured and sent to state prison at Howard.

Late yesterday "the gorilla" stole the keys to a shed, got a ladder, climbed to the top of a twenty-two foot prison wall, swung the ladder over the top, walked carefully by two dozing guards, and got down the other side of the wall to safety. The guards—William Allen and Everett R. Smith—were discharged.

Avoids Close Search. An intensive hunt for "the gorilla" was immediately under way. His description was broadcast by radio. New York steamships were searched, railroad stations were watched, a guard was placed at the home of "the gorilla's" relatives in Lowell, Mass., and here, railroad detectives searched trains between Providence and New London, state patrols of Rhode Island, Connecticut and Massachusetts watched automobile traffic, posess scoured the woods, all Rhode Island hunted "the gorilla"—but all to no avail.

A youth early this morning jumped from a train near New London, but got away. Police, however, think that "the gorilla" is under cover.

After the arrest Lamake confessed to astonishing recklessness in his burglaries. Surprised in a woman's boudoir, he did not hesitate to dive head-foremost out of the window. He reached second-story windows by climbing trellises and frames. Fleet of foot and agile, he leaped high fences and darted away from pursuers.

For months "the gorilla" ran circles around Providence police. Discovered on several occasions, the youth dazzled his would-be captors with the light from his flashlight and then jumped to safety like an acrobat. He worked alone and cash was what he was after, all the jewelry taken in his robberies being found in his home.

"The gorilla" was finally tracked down by Patrolman Joseph A. Coleman, who, disguised as an underworld character, got an introduction to the sixteen-year-old bandit.

Melting Steel by Gas, Sending Voice Over Violet Ray, N. E. Experiments

Boston, Jan. 14.—Steel melting was undertaken at Massachusetts Institute of Technology by Dr. Donald C. Stockbarger. Last year he succeeded in transmitting sound over beams of ordinary light. Further studies in radio transmission convinced him that the feat could be accomplished on invisible rays.

Possibilities of ultra-violet light for use in the future for automobile headlights to abolish the dangerous glare of the present lighting systems was explained, as was the projection of motion pictures on ultra-violet rays, invisible except when thrown on a fluorescent screen.

Deliberately Blocked Stair in Film Panic

Montreal Coroner Finds Theatre Manager Shut Way of Escape, Causing Death of Children.

Montreal, Jan. 14.—Michel Arrie, house manager of the Laurier Palace theatre where seventy-eight children lost their lives in a disastrous fire panic, is under arrest charged with having blocked the stairway which provided the only means of exit for the frightened youngsters.

Arrie, together with Amsen Landau, owner of the theatre, and Camil Bazy, an employee, was charged with "criminal responsibility" by a coroner's jury. The men were immediately arrested and held without bail for arraignment later.

Cut Off Escape. The evidence, according to the jury verdict, showed that Arrie had deliberately blocked the stairway to which the children ran in panic at the cry of "fire" and prevented them from escaping to the street.

The verdict mentioned the specific death of Edouard St. Pierre, who was found to have died of "compression of the thorax suffered during a panic," but stated it also applied to the 77 other deaths.

During the inquest employees of the movie house testified that they had never been instructed not to sell tickets to unaccompanied children under sixteen, and the doorman said he would have admitted a child of seven if he had a ticket.

TRUST CO. WILL MAKE LOANS TO VETERANS

But Only When Needed—Up To the Banks Says Secretary Mellon.

In an interview with the officers of The Manchester Trust Company concerning its attitude toward loaning veterans holding the new Veterans Adjusted Compensation certificates, it was stated that The Manchester Trust Company will be quite willing to loan to any local veteran in accordance with the terms of these certificates where it can be shown there is need for such a loan.

They stated that these certificates should not be used for loans under any other circumstances and that each case should be judged on its merits.

The regulations in regard to how a bank can make such a loan are very specific and must be complied with in every respect.

The amount which a veteran may borrow against his certificates at this time is small in most cases not exceeding $75, and it is not thought many local veterans will wish to use their certificates as a basis for loans.

MIAMI-NASSAU BOAT, 20 ON BOARD, MISSING

Miami, Fla., Jan. 14.—United States Coast Guard cutters have not located the Mystery J, auxiliary schooner, plying between Miami and Nassau, which left here Monday and has failed to arrive at Nassau, where she was due late Tuesday, with 20 persons, passengers and crew, aboard.

No real fear for her safety is felt by Smith, Parks and Smith, Miami agents for the company that owns the boat, they stated today, expressing the belief the vessel has gone aground on one of the Keys and will be located within the next few hours by the Coast Guard.

Portsmouth, R. I., Jan. 14.—Despite the fact that Chase's general store is next door to the state police barracks, burglars during the night drove up in a truck and took out an 800-pound safe containing $1,000 as well as three rifles and a shotgun.

MEX NEWSPAPER BARES ATROCITIES

Accuses Government of Summary Executions in Barbarous Fashion.

Mexico City, Jan. 14.—The Mexican government today continued its relentless pursuit of rebel forces, undeterred by an editorial attack in the newspaper Excelsior charging that a "reign of terror" exists and that both military and civil authorities are putting Mexicans to death without proper trial.

The Excelsior, according to the newspaper, has denied its responsibility for an alleged atrocity in Leon, where five young boys are alleged to have been summarily executed in "barbarous" fashion, one of the lads having his tongue cut out when he prayed.

Excelsior's editorial attack declares that "respect for human life has disappeared completely in this country" and adds that "executions by shooting are the order of the day."

The newspaper declares that the federal and state governments are responsible for these "atrocities," which will injure Mexico abroad.

Coincident with this attack come reports of further hangings on the roads outside of Mexico City, where it is said by travelers nearly a score of bodies were hanging from a warning to those who may plan to rise against the government.

Reports of fighting in various parts of the country continue to come in, the latest large action being reported from Trocopampco, where federal troops claim to have won a decisive victory against the Yaqui Indians, after a heavy aerial bombardment. The Yaqui losses in dead were heavy, General Manzo has reported.

Close to Capital. Sixteen rebels are reported killed in a clash just outside of Mexico City and it is claimed that the remains of the rebel gang operating about the capital has been driven into the hills, where cold and hunger is likely to force their surrender.

Rebels are reported to have won a success at El Narajito and traffic from Atotonilco in Jalisco has been stopped by them.

In Mexico City there was a disturbance when railroad workers, who are threatening a strike, attempted to stage a demonstration without a permit. Police and firemen combined to quell this disorder.

NEW BASEBALL TAR INVOLVES YANKEES

Detective Charges Carl Mays Bet on Games But Huggins Squelched Probe.

New York, Jan. 14.—An attempt to excavate another baseball scandal from games played in 1922, is seen in an article published in an evening newspaper today, involving the New York Yankees.

It is claimed that Carl Mays and several other members of the team bet on games. One Kelly, a Burn's detective agent, makes the charges and states he would have learned much more if Miller Huggins had not tipped off the players that he was a detective. Thirteen consecutive games were lost during the period in question.

Officials of the Yankee club, admit that their men were not walking the straight and narrow path, but contend that Judge Landis and Ban Johnson settled the case satisfactorily.

POINCARÉ GETS HEAVY VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Paris, Jan. 14.—Premier Poincaré was given another vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies today, by a vote of 365 to 182. The demand of Leon Blum for daily interpellations was rejected and the premier's plan for interpellations on Fridays only was confirmed. Paul Doumer was today elected president of the Senate.

Little Belief That Central American States Will Respond; Borah Proposal For New Election in Nicaragua and Arbitration With Mexico Coldly Received at Washington; Heflin Accuses K. of C. of Fomenting Trouble.

Mexico City, Jan. 14.—Immediate withdrawal of the American forces from Nicaragua, under threat of an appeal to the Spanish-American nations for military aid to "repel the Yankee invasion," has been demanded by Dr. Juan Sacasa, leader of the Nicaraguan rebels, in a note to United States Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, according to a dispatch from Guatemala received here.

The Guatemala dispatch states that it is based on information received from the Sacasa headquarters.

Sent to U. S. The dispatch states that the note which has already been forwarded, has caused a considerable sensation among Central Americans who are following the course of the tri-cornered controversy between the United States, Mexico and Nicaragua.

While there has been considerable evidence that the Spanish-American nations of Central and South America are opposed to the United States policy in Nicaragua, there is little belief here that any of these nations would be willing to go so far as to extend military aid to the Nicaraguan liberals.

Borah Proposals Fall Flat. Washington, Jan. 14.—Little enthusiasm was manifested today in official quarters for the peace plan put forward by Senator William E. Borah in an effort to smooth away the administration's troublesome difficulties in Nicaragua and Mexico.

Borah suggested (1) that a new election be held in Nicaragua, with United States Marines acting as umpires to insure a fair count; and (2) that the controversy with Mexico over her new land and petroleum law be submitted to arbitration.

Definite commitments as to the administration's attitude were difficult to obtain today, but it was evident that the State Department is cold to both proposals.

Kellogg's Decree. In Nicaragua, Secretary of State Kellogg has decreed that Adolfo Diaz is the constitutional president of the country, and has sent marines and warships there to keep him in power against Dr. Juan B. Sacasa, who is recognized by Mexico as the constitutional head of the republic.

Kellogg has maintained that a constitutional principle is at stake. Hence, any compromise by way of a new election might be interpreted as an abandonment of that principle.

In Mexico, the controversy hinges about the constitution of the country, and the state department is loath to submit a constitutional question to arbitration by the Hague, because it would establish a precedent that might come back to plague the United States. This government has always taken the position that a constitution, at least the American constitution, cannot be arbitrated. If it now should accept the principle that the Mexican constitution can be arbitrated, it might be interpreted as an abandonment of its age-old stand. Also, it was pointed out, the state department contends the Mexican land laws are confiscatory and that department's attitude is that "principles cannot be arbitrated."

Marines Extend Lines. Meanwhile, as the Senate wrangles in criticism and defense of the Kellogg policy in both countries, the marines in Nicaragua are proceeding steadily about the business of occupying the country.

At the direction of the state department, the marines are pursuing a campaign of "complete saturation" in Nicaragua. They now occupy and control the entire coast lines of the country, Pacific and Atlantic, and are steadily occupying new towns in the interior. It will not be many days, at the present rate of expansion, until they control every city of any size in the little republic.

As fast as they occupy they declare neutral zones and thus disarm both the Diaz and Sacasa forces. The Sacasa revolt is being slowly strangled to death—thus far without the cracking of a marine rifle—and the process, when complete, will leave Diaz in supreme command.

SACASA SEEKS AID TO FIGHT AMERICA

Unless Borah's plan of a new election is adopted, Diaz will remain in power—with marine support—until the next general election, which is in 1928.

The direct charge that American warships had been sent to Nicaragua "not to protect American lives but to protect a loan that was obnoxious to eighty per cent of the Nicaraguan people," was made in the Senate yesterday afternoon by Senator Borah.

Borah declared he was glad to bring the discussion of the Nicaraguan situation "into the open where it belongs."

The present Diaz government, which the state department has recognized and American warships and marines are supporting, Borah declared, exists entirely and solely because of the presence of American armed forces there.

"The government with which we are now dealing in Nicaragua," he said, "is in power solely by virtue of force applied by the United States. President Diaz would not remain in Managua overnight were it not for this force."

Kept in Office By Force "He owes his political life to the application of force by the United States. And while this force has been applied to Nicaragua we have the loans and secured the canal treaty."

The American record in this respect, Borah asserted, constitutes "as pronounced and unconscionable an act of imperialism as exists between any nation with which we have had dealings."

Borah explained his opposition to the Coolidge policy as not opposition to the President but "my long standing and humble effort to maintain a policy of respect and decency justice and conscience toward the helpless and powerless countries of Central America."

Bingham Disagrees Borah contended that Diaz was elected in contravention to the Nicaraguan constitution, which is modeled after the American. Sacasa, he said, had been exiled and Diaz was elevated to the presidency.

"If Sacasa was absent it was by force," said Borah, "and now we are asked to support a man who was a part of the conspiracy to drive him from the country."

Borah was interrupted from time to time by Senator Bingham, Republican of Connecticut, who argued technical questions of interpretation of the Nicaraguan constitution.

ALL PRETEXT, SAYS 'PRESIDENT' SACASA Declares Danger to Canal Rights and Bolshevism Are Inventions.

Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, Jan. 14.—Coming to his own defense, Dr. Juan Sacasa, leader of the Nicaraguan Liberals, today declared in a statement that charges raised by the United States government of Bolshevism and a menace to American Canal rights in Nicaragua are but a pretext.

Dr. Sacasa states that the United States has recognized the Diaz government which the United States refused to recognize, and has resolved "upon intervention to sustain Diaz by force against the Nicaraguan people, thus repeating the case of 1912."

"To justify this intervention," said Dr. Sacasa, "and to satisfy American public opinion, various pretexts have been alleged, such as protection of American interests, an agreement with Mexican Bolshevists, a menace to the canal convention and so forth."

Despite my conclusive declarations denying such pretexts there prevails in the State Department prejudices and intrigues accumulated against the Liberal party and myself.

"A powerful fleet is dispatched to Nicaragua and marines are landed with a bellicose display at the mobilization and provisioning bases of my army."

War Material Seized "Our war materials are seized. Almost 2,000,000 cartridges and 700 rifles have been thrown into the river."

"New neutral zones are created as a protection for Diaz."

Minister Saenz quoted from President Calles' warlike 40 Soviet Foreign Minister Tchitcherin in 1925, declaring that Mexico would not tolerate the abuse of her hospitality by persons active in spreading propaganda supporting principles to which the Mexican government did not subscribe.

CHARGES K. C. WITH STARTING MEX ROW

Sen. Heflin Declares Order Put Million Dollars Into War Propaganda.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The administration policy in the Nicaragua and Mexican situations was again subjected to severe attack today in both sides of the Capitol.

While Democrats in the House clamored for "more facts" to justify the American naval concentration in the Caribbean, debate broke out anew in the Senate.

The religious issue was raised by Senator Heflin, Democrat of Alabama, for the first time in debate upon the Latin-American situation.

The Alabamian charged that the first attempt to bring about "war between the United States and Mexico" was launched at the Knights of Columbus convention in Philadelphia in August, 1926.

"In August, 1926, the Knights of Columbus in convention at Philadelphia passed a resolution and raised a million dollars for propaganda to bring about war with Mexico," said Heflin.

"This Knights of Columbus convention adopted a resolution warning 'our fellow Americans' that the domination of Mexico by Bolshevist Russia cannot be tolerated."

Heflin then charged that "certain influences" sought to "bribe Woodrow Wilson into war with Mexico" when he was a candidate for re-election in 1916.

Question of Allegiance Heflin brought the religious issue up in connection with Senator Borah's speech of yesterday which referred to "certain influences" that were likely to bring about war between the United States and Mexico.

The Alabamian, describing as "solemn and gruesome thing" pleaded that this government as a Christian nation should exhaust all efforts for peace before plunging the nation into war with Mexico or any other country.

"I'm complaining that a million dollars is being raised to carry on propaganda to plunge us into war," Heflin repeated, referring to his charges against the Knights of Columbus. "It's time to learn whether they are holding allegiance to a power above the government and constitution of the United States."

QUEER QUIRKS NATURE

THE VAMPIRE BAT HAS GREWSOME HISTORY

BY ARTHUR N. PACK

President, American Nature Ass'n.
The true vampire bat is only slightly larger than the brown bat which flies about of a summer's evening.

A number of other varieties often are wrongly called vampires, but the only true blood-sucking bat belonging to the family Desmodus, and they are all so alike that to describe one is to describe all.

The true vampire is highly specialized to live on blood alone; its dentition and digestive system are greatly reduced. It has no well-developed teeth, and the teeth of the front of the jaw have developed into razor-sharp instruments for puncturing.

The vampire bites the victim and sucks its blood, and the list of animals which it will attack is a long one. Mules and horses will be attacked, nightly, in the regions where the bats live, and man is by no means immune.

The bat will bite a sleeping man and will do it so cleverly that the man does not awake; often the bat will select the big toe if the foot is exposed, or it may bite on the ear or nose.

Many stories are related of the vampire, and it is difficult to imagine the consternation which such stories would create in the minds of the timid.

Vampire bats have a great range and are found from Mexico almost to the end of South America. They are confined to the tropical zone for the most part.

Send a stamped, addressed envelope and questions of fact having to do with Nature will be answered by the consulting staff of Nature Magazine of Washington through arrangements made by this paper.

BIGGEST AIRSHIP SOON READY TO START TO INDIA

Closely Guarded Secrets Of Newest Construction Are Shown Premiers.

London—The closely guarded secrets of what is claimed to be the most wonderful airship in the world were unfolded to the Dominion Premiers at the Imperial Conference recently when they visited the airship sheds at Cardington.

R-101, Britain's super-airship destined for the England-Egypt-India route, was shown to them in its partially completed state, while they were given access to the plans showing how the ship will look when she is completed.

Although details of this new airship have not been officially divulged, it is generally understood that the R-101 breaks completely away from the notions of Count Zeppelin, and that she differs in practically every detail from any predecessor.

Stainless steel is being employed throughout in her construction, and it has been found, that, strength for strength, it is lighter than duraluminum.

There will be five 600 horsepower engines, each housed in a car stung underneath the ship. Gasoline will not be used, heavy oil, which is stated to be very economical in use, taking its place. The propellers will be of steel in order to resist tropical conditions.

Other main features of the airship are: Carrying capacity 100 passengers and their luggage, and ten tons of mail.

Sleeping cabins with two and four berths. Lounges, smoking-rooms and dining rooms, capable of seating fifty people at a time.

Promenade decks on which passengers will be able to stretch their legs.

Fully equipped kitchens, making it possible to serve a five or six course dinner.

Showers baths. Accommodation for dancing and games.

Probable facilities for radio entertainment and possibly even for a daily newspaper.

An elevator. The whole of the passenger accommodation of the R-101 will be contained in the hull of the airships. The accommodation is amidships, divided into upper and lower decks. On the upper decks will be the lounges, and the main part of the sleeping accommodation, while running along each side of the airship will be two promenades.

Elevator to Dining Room. On the lower deck will be the smoking-room, kitchen—with an elevator to the dining-room—crew's quarters, and the remainder of the passengers' sleeping accommodation.

Both R-101 and her sistership R-100—which is being built later at Howden—will have a minimum speed of seventy miles an hour at an altitude of 5,000 feet, with a cruising speed of sixty-three miles an hour, and will have a range at cruising speed with an ordinary load of about four thousand miles.

When completed they will have trial flights in England, and will then be further tested on cruises to Egypt and India.

The airships will save ten days on a trip between England and Bombay, 13 days between England and Melbourne, and 13 1/2 days between England and Africa.

R-101 will be 730 feet in length, with a maximum diameter of 130 feet. Her load lift will be 150 tons, half of which will be reserved for fuel.

SEA BEASTS?

Philadelphia—Capt. John Peterson, veteran Sandy Hook pilot, tells this one: Once while his pilot ship was cruising about waiting for inbound liners, lions were reported off the port bow. Then tigers! Then giraffes and hippos! Captain Johnny saw it with his own eyes, and so did the rest of the pop-eyed crew. Next day a merry-go-round being washed away to sea by a storm on the Jersey coast.

Old Master's

I met a traveler from an antique land Who said: Two vast and trunkless legs of stone Stand in the desert. Near them the Half sunk, a shattered visage lies, whose frown And wrinkled lip and sneer of cold command Tell that its sculptor well those passions read Which yet survive stamped on these lifeless things: The hand that mocked them and the heart that fed; And on the pedestal these words appear: "My name is Ozymandias, king of kings: Look on my works, ye Mighty, and despair!"

Nothing beside remains. Round the decay Of that colossal wreck, boundless and bare, The lone and level sands stretch far away.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: Kit Carson (5)

One winter night while Carson was hunting through the Montana country, the Blackfeet Indians, most warlike of the tribes, ran off 18 of the party's horses. After a 50-mile pursuit through the snow, Carson granted the band a parley they asked. The calumet was lighted and whites and red men convened.

After considerable argument, the Indians brought in five scraggly horses which they offered as a compromise.

Carson's men reached at once for their guns and the battle was on. Hand to hand, they fought, the whites greatly outnumbered.

Carson, while in a rifle duel with an Indian, noticed that another savage had "drawn a bead" on a comrade named Markland. Forgetting his own safety, Kit quickly shot Markland's foe, but his own enemy's bullet passed through his shoulder. Carson kept on fighting, but the white men finally had to retreat.

HINDU MYSTIC AT STATE THEATER ALL NEXT WEEK

Rajah Raboid Booked for Six-Day Engagement—"Sweet Rosy O'Grady" Sunday, Vaudeville Tonight and Saturday.

All next week Rajah Raboid, the famous Hindu mystic, who has been mystifying audiences all through the United States and Europe, will show his marvelous powers of second sight at the State theater. He claims to be the only man in the country who can drive an auto through traffic while blindfolded. On the bill for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be Harry Langdon in "The Strong Man." For Sunday, night only "Sweet Rosy O'Grady" has been booked. This is one of the sure-fire hits of the season and will be seen here only on Sunday night.

Suggested by the famous song of years ago, "Sweet Rosy O'Grady" is a picture of Irish love as it is depicted by great poets of the Emerald Isle. Throughout the whole affair runs a sweet story which is subtly brought to a smashing climax. Humor vies with pathos in this production and the combination produces a delightful entertainment. Prices for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be 15 and 25 cents for matinees and 15, 30 and 40 cents for evening shows. Regular State prices will prevail on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

It is impossible but that is the role he has made in the "Strong Man." It is hard to picture the star of "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," as anything but the buff for fast action. In this new picture he surprises everybody and the story comes in just the places to make "The Strong Man" a hilarious farce.

When Larry Langdon started his picture "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," he was suffering from a sluggishness and lassitude which a year's hard work within the walls of a comedy studio had given him. This picture took him out in the open spaces. He tramped over hill and dale and soon a new color could be discerned through the greasy paint.

Then Harry began "The Strong Man," in which he plays the role of assistant to a German weight lifter. At first he found it hard to lift the twenty-five pound weight necessary in the picture. Later he enjoyed lifting the fifty pounds. Now he is exercising with hundred pound weights.

If Harry's next picture is about a boxer, a swimmer or any other type of athlete he'll soon be known as "the muscle bound" comedian. In the supporting cast of "The Strong Man" are Priscilla Bonner, Gertrude Astor, William V. Wong, Robert McKim and Arthur Thalasso. Frank Capra directed the production from an original story by Langdon.

DOUBLE FEATURE BILL AT CIRCLE TOMORROW

Jack Hoxie and Charles Ray in Big Pictures—"Fig Leaves" Starts on Sunday.

Two old favorites, stars who are featured in many theatres in single pictures, will be seen at the Circle theatre tomorrow afternoon and evening. They are Jack Hoxie who will appear in "Hidden Loot" and Charles Ray who has the lead role in "Percy." On Sunday one of the season's big features will start a two-day run at the Circle, "Fig Leaves," with George O'Brien and Olive Borden.

Hoxie has with his this time again his famous horse Scout and his dog Bunk. They play important parts in this film and are in every bit of the action. The star himself has no easy role but is kept going every minute, what with rustlers to fight and a girl to help him win the money.

Jack Cramer, a stranger in the county, sees a band of cowboys hiding a bag of money in the brush. When they ride away he darts out and picks up the satchel. He is discovered in the act. They are on him and ride him down. He takes refuge in a cabin while his dog drags the satchel away and hides it in the ground. They lock him in the cabin and post a guard, deciding to frame him for horse stealing and lynch him in the morning. Thus rid of the only living witness to their actions, they will be free to recover the money and divide it. But his dog burrows under the wall and helps him to escape during the night.

But the climax is too good to give away. Prizes were awarded by the judges at Colver's to leader Stave of the Old Mill, one quart bottle, with fancy labels and pretty sounding names, but empty; to leader Hyde, a Hollow'en pumpkin, evidently a mere afterthought because no one "kin pump" John Hyde.

The attendance prize for the evening was won by John Relatira. It should have been a map of the North Pole, but wasn't. Walter Bradley of Bill Waddell's orchestra, favored with a saxophone solo, and a fast-stepping mare named Daisy. Mr. Cheney said skidding automobiles had nothing on skidding sleighs behind this fast-stepping Daisy.

He told of driving the mare into a snowdrift when he had a girl out riding. The horse pulled free from the whippetree and pulled him right over the dash, said Mr. Cheney. Colonel William C. again interrupted to say that the story wasn't told right. The fact was Frank was hanging on to the girl and when the horse pulled away Frank stayed in the sleigh with the girl.

The Front Gate. Mr. Cheney felt that modern families were missing a lot by not having front fences and gates. A good many differences and matrimonial problems were solved over front gates in olden days, he said. Now, according to the song book, such affairs are transacted "on the back porch."

Mr. Cheney concluded by suggesting that the women 50 year service employees be entertained some time. He hoped that those present would be in attendance at many more such parties.

JOB SEEKERS' NUMBER LARGEST IN MONTHS

Hartford, Jan. 14.—A larger number of jobs appeared at the Department of Labor's free employment bureaus this week than in any week in recent months. Commissioner Harry E. McKenzie reported to the federal department of labor today that 1,217 applied for jobs. The bureaus were able to place only 580 of these. The applicants included 708 men and 509 women. Applications at the various bureaus were as follows: Bridgeport, 333; Hartford, 349; New Haven, 238; Norwich, 200; and Waterbury, 197.

TOMMIES, TARS AND TROUBLE

Hostile nationalist demonstrations against foreigners in China have been answered with men-o-war and troops by the powers as shown in these exclusive NEA Service pictures, the first to reach the eastern United States. American sailors and Devil Dogs are seen above.

CHENEY EMPLOYEES DINE 50 YEAR MEN

Ribbon, Frank Crocker, Old Mill, Charles Stave, Weaving, Bill Waddell, Main Office, John Hyde, and William C. Cheney. The judges decided that Stave's Old Mill gang did the best work, with John Hyde's Main Office coming in second. The Herald's decision may not be popular but it insists the Weaving Mill should have had a fast-stepping mare named Daisy. Mr. Cheney said skidding automobiles had nothing on skidding sleighs behind this fast-stepping Daisy.

He told of driving the mare into a snowdrift when he had a girl out riding. The horse pulled free from the whippetree and pulled him right over the dash, said Mr. Cheney. ENSIGN PICKERING IS ON VISIT HERE

Field Officer of Young People's Work to Speak at Local Citadel Sunday.

Next Saturday and Sunday the visitors at the local Salvation Army will be Ensign and Mrs. Albert Pickering. These people are mostly interested in the young people's work as they have recently been appointed Young People's secretary of the Southern New England division. Ensign Pickering is a large man, he tips the scales at two-hundred-and-a-quarter but he is bubbling over with enthusiasm and goes heart and soul into his work. During his experience as a field officer he has had wonderful success with the young people and the local young people are looking forward with interest to the services. He will conduct a service in the Citadel Saturday evening, also all day Sunday. The Sunday school workers are out for a 100 per cent attendance at the company meeting on Sunday morning at 9:30.

Robert J. Smith 1009 Main Street Real Estate, Insurance, Steamship Tickets.

New York, Jan. 14.—The sons and daughters of those hardy pioneers who braved snow and ice to attend the new historic premiere of "Able's Irish Rose" foregathered during the current week to commemorate the 2000 performance. Veterans, scratching their memories, were able to recall incidents of the memorable event.

At least once a year, all persons and things allied to the Broadway theater, this correspondent included, stop to view with awe this miracle of the theater.

It's no longer funny. One should not laugh at one's elders. H. L. Mencken once called it "America's third largest industry." "Bob" Benchley has called it everything in the dictionary. As commentator for a humorous weekly, he has had to write a new paragraph about it each week. And the end is not yet in sight. Verily the seats continue to fill each night with amazing monotony.

Here, if you please, is a play that more than 9,000,000 persons have paid more than $18,000,000 to see. All of which is not likely to place Anne Nichols, its author and producer, in the poor house. Whenever this phase of the subject is mentioned, one can hear the echoes of groans along the gray white way. For the manuscript of this play rested in the offices of 20 producers while Oliver Morosco once held the production right but let it lapse. It is further recalled that it cost but $30,000 to cover the production and losses of the first weeks—a sum considerably less than is dropped almost every day of the producing season.

It is to be regretted that similar success cannot be written for other veterans of the theater whose appearances call forth the happy memories of other days and other audiences.

H. Sothern, after an absence of many moons, is made to jump and skip about the stage in an unimportant and rather dull comedy entitled, "What Never Dies." It is sort of a dramatized version of the ancient story of "Grandpa is out in the back yard getting spanked by his father." Also, it continues the decline of David Belasco whose direction, once a portent of great success, now is a veritable jinx—as witness the flop even of Fannie Brice.

Old Skinner could find nothing better in the warehouse than "The Honor of the Family" and, last but not least, Minnie Maddern Fiske also long absent from Broadway, has rushed to the role of Mrs. Alving in "Ghosts," at which it has been said every famed actress sooner or later must take a crack. In the stage-world this has become sort of an old-ladies-home of roles.

Let it be said for Mrs. Fiske that she gives in interpretation to both Mrs. Alving and "Ghosts" such as never before was either seen or dreamed of. It is sufficient to report to isgenians that the house frequently rocks with laughter, for Mrs. Fiske brings to the part the interpretation of a comedienne. This correspondent was roused up a somewhat different diet and mayhap he grows too old to be tolerant with these gay new ways.

Of the new productions, "The Devil in the Cheese," by Tom Dunning, is most amusing and imaginative, and next in line comes "Tommy," a lighter comedy from the George C. Tyler play shoppe.

The first is reminiscent of "The Beggar on Horseback," for it is sheer fantasy and whimsy. Two of its acts are written a bit too heavily. It tells of a father who wants to find out what goes on within the mind of his flapper daughter. So he diets upon a heavy brand of cheese and thereafter dyspeptically unfolds all the romantic dreams of a young girl. It is the second act, wherein the charming and amusing ideas of youth unfold, that the play is best.

"Tommy" has no excuse for being except entertainment. And that should be sufficient. A modern Romeo and Juliet go along in idyllic love. Some families suggested that had their families been them alone the famous Shakespearean lovers would have bored each other to death in no time. Exactly this happens in this play. But a shrewd uncle, wishing to bring to have the girl's turn against the youth, whereupon she will have none other.

Finally, there is "The Arabian Nightmare," pure horse-play farce aimed at the sheik tales and movies. An elderly maiden aunt, with romantic ideas, is thrust into the hands of a couple of Arabian boys of movie vintage and then the fun begins. It is all rough and tumble of the sort that should keep it on the boards for most of the season.

Restless as the proverbial one-armed paper hanger with an irrepressible itch, William Morris, English publicist and designer, was the plague of his parents. His one obsession seemed to be in slouching around from one chair to another, unable ever to find a comfortable groove for his awkward bones. A long period of sub rosa experimenting in the senior Morris's horse-garage one day brought out a new kind of chair, with back adjustable to tilt at any angle and an arrangement under the seat base for a disappearing foot rest. Then was the birth of the world-known Morris chair. The modern adaptation is in the nationally advertised Street Slumber Chair for which Shoor Bros. are exclusive local distributors.

FRIDAY, JAN. 14, 1927.

WE HAVE ZONING POWER.

The question of whether or not Manchester shall adopt the zoning system of regulating the character of buildings to be erected in various parts of the town would seem, in the light of the zoning law adopted by the Legislature in 1925, to be entirely an affair for the town itself to decide.

That measure, entitled "An Act Concerning Zoning" and approved on June 24, two years ago, recites that "the zoning authority of each city, town or borough, as hereinafter provided, is authorized to regulate the height, number of stories and size of buildings and other structures, the percentage of the area of the lot that may be occupied, the size of yards, courts and other open spaces, the density of population, and the location and use of buildings, structures and land for trade, industry, residence or other purposes, within the limits of such city, town or borough."

This is perfectly plain speech. Anybody can understand what the zoning authority is for and what, under the law, it is given the power to do.

Further along the act provides that in such a place as Manchester, which has no zoning commission already, "the zoning authority shall be a zoning commission of five members, whose terms of office shall be determined by by-law adopted by the town * * * and the town * * * is authorized to appoint such a zoning commission."

The act, naturally, goes to considerable length in prescribing the method of operation of the zoning commission, in providing the proper measures of appeal and review by courts in cases of grievance, and in establishing the authority and responsibility of the zoning power on a just and equitable footing, as well as in the provision of penalties for violations of the zoning authority's orders.

It is a blanket measure, calculated to enable every community in the state to protect itself from the encroachment of unit buildings and the establishment of unit businesses and industrial enterprises in neighborhoods where the people have every moral right to be free from them.

NEW RESPONSIBILITIES.

The report of the Commission on State Institutions—providing for Connecticut's picking up a new load of expenditure for the care of its insane and defectives in the building of another insane hospital at a cost of seven million dollars and the expansion of the Mansfield State Training School and Hospital—is beyond question the result of the most careful consideration of the question from every angle. The report creates no problem; it simply brings an existing problem before the Legislature in crystallized form. Drawn by an especially competent body of citizens, it is approved by Governor Trumbull. If it is discussed at all in the Legislature—and it ought to be, of course—the discussion will undoubtedly disclose that not a dollar of unnecessary money is called for and that an absolute balance has been preserved between the duty of the state toward its unfortunate and its capacity to care for them.

Connecticut cannot afford, above all things, to fall below the standard of wise humanitarianism which she has established. If the cost of such responsibility becomes greater and greater as our population increases and the heart of the state warms more and more toward its charges, that is merely something that must be dealt with, not avoided.

BORAH'S POSITION.

Few people in the East regard Senator Borah as infallible. But it is well to remember that he is the spokesman for a large section of the Republican party in the West and is not altogether without his influence even in this section. Nor will it be forgotten that, if he had consented, he would have been President Coolidge's running-mate in the last Presidential campaign.

So that the fact is not to be dismissed as insignificant when he declares that in opposing the present course in Central America he is not engaging in a personal controversy with either the Secretary of State or President Coolidge, but discussing what is "profoundly a question of national policy."

In his condemnation of the intervention policy Borah went much further and used much stronger language than any other public man or any newspaper, so far as our observation has gone.

But Borah's criticism was not limited to denunciation. It is constructive. He proposes a new election in Nicaragua, in which the will of the people there can be validly expressed. He proposes the submission of our controversy with Mexico to arbitration. And he says, which is most of all to the point: "Inaugurate a campaign of peace; abolish the idea of force; try friendly relations; seek to get in touch with the masses, with the people themselves, and we can establish a policy in Central America, which will protect our interests and respect our rights."

It is unthinkable that the lack of such a wise pan-American policy shall be permitted to injuriously affect the success of an otherwise conspicuously successful administration. It is unthinkable that, following a mistaken tradition, our course shall be permitted to get us into a hopelessly unpopular war; and perhaps result in turning over the country, foreign policy and all, to the mercies of a political party which has no policy of any sort, either foreign or domestic, and which can surely be depended on to meddle in Mexican and Central American affairs in an immensely more harmful way than Mr. Kellogg ever has or could—animated as it would be by prejudices and predispositions having nothing on earth to do with either business or politics.

SEA HI-JACKING.

One of the men who participated in the nefarious proceeding is authority, on oath, for the statement that the crew of a Coast Guard boat captured a rum runner off Block Island, ran her cargo ashore, destroyed the captured vessel and sold the cargo to bootleggers.

A good many tales of recent Coast Guards aiding in rum running have been told and a good many of the individuals implicated are in prison. But this is the first time that we have been informed that a seized vessel and its cargo have been wholly pirated by the rum patrol.

Yet there is hardly a doubt that this same thing has been done before and probably since the inception now being aired. Given the right kind of a Coast Guard crew—or rather the wrong kind—and given a rum runner at the mercy of the patrol boat's guns, and what more natural thing to expect could there be than the Coast Guard, turning hi-jacker?

The sudden and great expansion of the Coast Guard would have made it difficult for the authorities of that service to maintain the old time high level of its personnel, even if there were no extraordinary obstacle to such maintenance aside from the hurried enlistment of many men. But the business of hunting rum smugglers is not one that appeals to the class of sailors who used to enlist in the Coast Guard as an heroic and romantic service. It appeals to a few decent young men, perhaps, but to a great many crooks. It is an avenue to "easy money" and graft.

It is not every day that a born crook can find so attractive a game as hi-jacking on the sea with the authority of the United States behind him and the grip of a rapid fire gun in his hand. Dead safe unless you get caught. And who knows what proportion have been caught?

ALADDIN FORD.

The story of the growth of the Ford fortunes—not only the enormous one of the Fords themselves but those others which are all branches of the one tree—has no equal in history and hardly in story. All the riches produced by Aladdin's genie could have been paid for by a day's production of this marvelous money mill evolved by the Detroit mechanic.

Whatever may be the outcome of the government's suit to collect the bagatelle of thirty-four millions of back income tax, the real interest in the case, to the majority of the people of the country, will continue to be the amazing revelations of wealth creation out of almost nothing.

The tale is an entrancing one. Probably as much as for any other reason because nobody can do this thing again any more than he could summon riches by rubbing a ring or a lamp.

A NEW SIN.

American Federation of Labor officials are responsible for the accusation that during the recent fur trades strike in New York radicals in control of the fur unions paid to police and other city officials nearly a hundred thousand dollars for "protection."

Whether these charges are true or not they are at least circumstantial and the Federation people affect to know just what sums were paid weekly to various policemen of various grades. And it may be remembered—though perhaps it is merely coincidental—that there were many crimes of violence in connection with the fur strike.

Here would seem to be a brand new variety of sin.

NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 14.—Among the scattered statistics of this-and-that, Manhattan reports $15,000,000 worth of jewels stolen in the year 1926. Most of the losers were women.

This, of course, is only what has been reported to the police. There are, doubtless, many more kept secret by women who feared the resulting publicity.

Behind these astounding figures crouch the menacing, almost fabulous shadows of the immaculately clothed, debonair night club crooks. This latest turn that crime has taken, almost unbelievable to folk who have not actually seen it in action, is born of the gin parties and giddy pleasure round of the night life. Leaders of society and national affairs meet, rubbing shoulders on the dance floor with some of the underworld's most sinister figures.

Sometime during the night the jewels disappear, now at this cabaret and now at that. Some are lost in taxicabs, torn from throats and wrists by frog-coated bandits met during the evening. And, now and then, a woman is found dead, stripped of her valuables.

Unpleasant as it is to face the tide of parasitic gigolos is rising. There is one fashionable hotel in mid-town where each day, middle-aged and aging matrons keep rendezvous with youthful lounge-lizards. The "grandmas" buy clothes, meals and cars for their "baby swains," give them weekly allowances and cover their bridge debts.

This fantastic sort of situation may seem incredible to the smaller cities of the country; yet, so ordinary has it become in Manhattan, that two Broadway plays are now devoted to the subject.

In the old days the "sob dramas" told of the young girls from the country who came to the "wicked city" and fell afoul of villainous and evil-intentioned males.

Today the fictional situation is reversed. One new play shows a young man seeking to become a singer who gets a job in a cabaret by way of a start. Enters the middle-aged villain. She has wealth and uses it, presumably to help the young man along but actually to get him "in her power."

Remember the old-time villain line—"I have you in my power!" Well, here it is all over again, but in reverse. A nice, plump, grey-haired woman today takes her place as a seducer of youth.

A City's Industries

BALTIMORE HAS CORPORATION TO INVESTIGATE PROPOSALS AND REPORT TO INVESTORS.

This is the fifth of a series of 20 articles on modern city growth and development and the problems faced by American cities today. The stories tell how American cities are meeting the increasing economic needs, population growth, and welfare and planning requirements.

BY DON E. MOWRY

Secretary American Community Advertising Association

All cities want new industries. They get them—when they advertise for them, when they co-operate properly and when they have conditions under which the industries can live and make money.

Baltimore has started something that other cities might well consider.

Reports to Investors.

Whenever a new industrial project is proposed for Baltimore this corporation makes a careful survey of it, does all it can to assist it and, if it finds the project has a good chance of success, so reports to the bankers or other investors interested.

It can render direct financial assistance, or it can co-operate with the principals in any "infant industry" by putting them in touch with sources of money. The corporation even invests some of its capital in various enterprises.

The Stamp of Value.

Its value to a new industry, however, lies chiefly in its endorsement which is given only after a thorough and impartial survey. Industries planning to locate in Baltimore have no trouble getting the required financial assistance once they get this endorsement.

Thirty-one leading Baltimore citizens, including bankers, heads of industries, attorneys and others, compose the corporation.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, Jan. 14.—What's in a name?

You have heard of the noise-making Tom-Toms of African tribes. When you pound on a Tom-Tom it can be heard for miles through the jungle or over the desert.

Well, there's Senator Tom Hefflin of Alabama.

And Congressman Tom Blanton of Texas.

And Congressman Tom Connally of Texas.

And when one of these Toms arises to speak, he can be heard for miles, too. The three probably have more lung power than any other three men on Capitol Hill.

Congressman Clyde Kelly, of Pennsylvania, who stirred up the baseball situation more than ever with his announcement that he would introduce a bill providing for government control of the so-called "circuit" city, is one of the two or three best ball players in Congress.

He is captain and second baseman of the Republican congressional team, which lost to the Democratic nine in a thrilling battle last June, 11 to 9. Inasmuch as this happened after Kelly's team had scored seven runs in the first inning, other congressmen are now suggesting that he launch an investigation into that epochal contest.

For three years, Congressman Kelly played on the team of Muskingum College, Ohio—the first three years of the century—Muskingum had a pretty good team those years, too, if you ask Kelly: He pitched for old Muskingum as often as possible and whenever he didn't pitch he played second base.

Back home in Pennsylvania, Kelly is a publisher. He is at least as wild as the average baseball fan and perhaps a little more. His favorite teams are Washington in the American League and Pittsburgh in the National League.

Incidentally, Congressman Kelly claims the horseshoe pitching championship of Congress.

A patent medicine man with a case of cough syrup should have done plenty of business in the Senate during its first session after the holidays. Most of the senators seemed to have gone without rubbers or galoshes while they were away. At any rate, they brought back colds. The gallery brought colds, too, and the coughing and sniffing was such as to suggest a movie theater treated to a dose of sneeze powder.

The coughing prevented perfect reception of Senator Caraway's speech, in which the Arkansas politician threw down the gauntlet—a gauntlet containing a couple of hot potatoes—to Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania. Caraway's speech, or such of it as could be heard, caused more amusement than any other speech in the Senate to date.

He was answering Reed's threat to uncover alleged corruption in southern elections as a retaliatory measure to the Senate's plans against Senators-Elect Frank Smith and William S. Vare. The idea that Reed was actually going to oppose or expose corruption after these many years was intensely amusing to Caraway.

The sneezing became so annoying that one senator formally obtained a call to order, but real order would have required ousting the coughers, which wasn't considered.

PEKING, THE PITIABLE WARS RUINING CHINA

BY W. H. PORTERFIELD

Peking, China—All China is a mess, from the Siberian steppes to the fetid habitations of the turbulent Cantonese on the far southern border.

Peking is a goulash, but a very unsavory one. A great capital of the past, its glories are mostly in retrospect. Once, perhaps, the most interesting and fascinating city of the Far East, it is today a medley of dirt, filth, intrigue and ruined palaces and temples.

The wind howls down the ancient streets blowing the leaves from off the scrawney honey locust saplings, miscalled trees, driving clouds of dust into every pore of your skin, causing even your hardy rickshaw man to take refuge in some nearby doorway.

A Little Problem

The efficient German-Swiss manager of your hotel (there are only two foreign hotels in Peking), stands in his office and scratches his head for a solution to his problem which includes the following subdivisions: how to get the 100 tons of coal he has bought and paid for into his cellars before it is all stolen by the soldier bandits who infest the city under the guise of "garrison" and how to avoid buying coal from the Chinese merchants at the unconscionable price of $35 a ton, coal which last summer could be bought for $7 at the mine mouth 25 miles away.

All food prices have advanced an average of 60 per cent in six months. Chickens which cost 45 cents last July are $1 now. Peking has unlimited quantities of excellent coal at the mines in the western hills 25 miles away and a first-class American-built railway running right to the mine door, but do you think the railroad with all its splendid equipment is used for hauling coal to the million needy consumers of Peking?

Ha! You do not know China. That railroad with its equipment has long since been commandeered by the generals of Chang Tso Lin, war lord of Manchuria, and this part of North China, for the transportation of troops and other military purposes. The people? To the devil with them! On with the merry war!

Freight by Express

There is an excellent railroad between Peking and Tientsin, 87 miles. Not one "goods train" or as we would say "freight train," has moved over that line in one year! The European and American troops in Tientsin keep the road open for passenger traffic, but that is all. Freight must be brought in as express!

The treaty of the powers with China provides a flat tariff of 5 per cent on all imports, the proceeds of which are honestly collected and used for certain fixed charges in the administration of the country and interest on loans.

But the Chinese land owner does not care to pay taxes and the needs of Chang Tso Lin are great, so a tax of 25 per cent on all imports into Peking has just been levied. Unconstitutional? Of course. Unlawful? Violation of treaties? Of course. What of that? The railroad platform and warehouses are piled high with goods on which the consignee so far have refused to pay the tariff.

Eighteen months ago Marshal Feng, "the Christian general," representing the Nationalist party, or as it is called here the Kuomintang, was in control of Peking. It is the unanimous verdict of foreigners that Feng's soldiers preserved order, did not loot, get drunk nor raise disturbances. But Feng has been driven far away and Marshal Chang Tso Lin of Mukden is in control.

Chang represents what we would designate as the conservative or fascist party, while Feng's party is the radical, labor crowd. The chief military forces of the Kuomintang just now are south of the Yangtze making heroic efforts to advance north toward Peking.

Wars and Bickerings

There have been revolutions and uprisings of radicals within the conservative territory, Shanghai and along the Yangtze, controlled by the troops of Wu-Pei-Fu and Marshal Sun-Chang-Fang. Lately these uprisings have been put down by the simple method of beheading the uprisers.

Sun-Chang seemed to pick on the university professors and normal school teachers of Shanghai, five of whom have been decapitated and their heads hung up within the past four days, while Wu is more catholic in his tastes, picking them in bunches, as many as 40 executions taking place in one forenoon.

Both Wu and Sun-Chang are very cultured gentlemen and it is said know how to give most wonderful dinners. They are nominal allies of Marshal Chang Tso Lin, the overwar lord, but may turn against him any day.

Tong Protects Head

Mr. Tong, close friend of Feng, the Christian general, is at my hotel here within the legation. He does not dare to go outside the legation quarter as his head would be removed at once.

He says that his chief is coming back within six months and that more heads will fall into the baskets. He is a very fine chap and speaks excellent English.

Business men of Peking, Chinese and the few foreigners left here, are very discouraged over the outlook. In a speech delivered recently at a banquet in Shanghai, Elias Strawn, America's delegate to the Chinese Customs Conference, said: "We can't expect to evolve an Occidental republic in 14 years. Trade in China is in a state of semi-suspension."

"Semi-suspension" is right. China is a mess.

VETERAN PASSES TOBACCO OF 1856

Little Rock, Ark.—General M. D. Vance, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, must have his little joke. Recently passed a plub of tobacco among a gathering of his friends. They all took healthy bites. Pretty soon all of them spit it out. It was a plug that was 70 years old, being given to Vance recently while on a visit to Bristol, Tenn., by E. M. Woolsey, mayor of that town.

MERIDEN HIGH VS. S. M. TONIGHT

Billy Evans Says

YALE O. K.'S WOOD
The Yale athletic association has given Joe Wood a clean bill of health. That means he is pleasing to the former pitching star of the American League.

Yale is mighty fussy about the character of the men who direct the athletic destinies of that great institution. At least 500 Yale undergraduates are directly under the supervision of Joe Wood.

Yale looks to its football coach, its baseball coach, its track coach, its directors in all other branches of sport to make men first of the athletes trying for the various varsity teams.

Victory is cherished, but character building comes first. After seeing Joe Wood for three years, the Yale athletic association much prefers his word to that of "Dutch" Leonard.

Praise For Nevins
When "Pop" Warner, famous coach of Stanford, talks football he has plenty of eager listeners. Recently he was prevailed upon to pick an all-time football eleven. His backfield at Huntington of Colgate at quarter, Jim Thorpe of Carlisle and Willie Heston of Michigan as halfbacks and Ernie Nevins of Stanford at full, interested me most of his selections.

There won't be a much argument as to Thorpe and Heston as halfbacks. Warner says Ernie Nevins is the best man of the backfield, the greatest football player he has ever coached. That should satisfy. However, there is sure to be much argument pro and con as to his quarterback selection.

Huntington certainly was a star, but giving him preference over Walter Eckersall won't meet with much favor in the west.

All-Time Eleven
Here are his line selections.
Ends—Hinkey, Yale and Muller, California.

Tackles—Lea, Princeton and Henry, Washington and Jefferson. Guards—Hoeffelinger, Yale and Hare, Pennsylvania.
Center—Peck of Pittsburgh.

It will be noted that Warner has gone back to ancient football history for some of his stars. Muller of California, Peck of Pittsburgh and Henry of Washington and Jefferson being the only late stars. At that Henry has been out of the college game for some time.

Warner says Grange was a great player, but he could name a half dozen backs he regarded as better men, all things considered.

Of the eleven stars named, Warner developed three: Jim Thorpe at Carlisle; Peck at Pittsburgh, and Nevins at Stanford.

There is no denying it at it is a great team, even though you may differ with Warner's selections.

Where Was Rickard
It seems as if Tex Rickard overlooked a big opportunity in not attending the airing of the baseball scandal at Chicago.

Always anxious to give the public what it wants, Rickard could have matched "Swede" Risberg against at least 12 of the players who attended the meeting, provided Risberg was willing to give or take a matter of 20 pounds either way.

Even more interesting, if not humane, would have been a battle royal with Risberg as the main attraction.

DUNDEE TO TRY A "COME BACK" Knocked Out By Roberts He Will Attempt to Turn Tables at Garden Tonight.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, Jan. 14.—It will be Ketchel and Papke, Gans and Frank Ernie and John Dundee and Jackson all over again at the Garden tonight, just a return engagement of an age-old act in which the men who have been knocked out attempt to prove that he can come back to beat the gent who knocked him. They never come back, according to the old oaken, moss-covered broom, but it doesn't apply to Stanley Ketchel, Joe Gans and rubber checks and it may be that Joe Dundee is immune, too.

Meets Roberts
Anyhow, Joseph to-night is scheduled to frolic again with Eddie Roberts, of Tacoma, Wash. It is supposed to be ten rounds but the last Roberts-Dundee match didn't last one, Joseph accepting a right hand full on the nutmeg in the first minute of play.

The punch acted as a temporary injunction restraining Joseph from further conducting himself as the official challenger for the welterweight championship. The battle in question might very well ride with the result of to-night's fight, as it is reported that Pete Latro no longer can make the welterweight limit of 147 pounds.

Dundee is a seven to five favorite to win to-night. Apparently the boys think that San Francisco knockout just didn't count.

AD. MEN COMPETE
St. Augustine, Fla., Jan. 14.—George James of the Columbia club of Washington and Murray Purves of Boston play 36 holes today for the 25th annual winter golf league of advertising interests championship as a result of yesterday's semi-final round in which Purves defeated Dr. A. R. Gardner of New York, four and three, and James defeated Elmer Rich of Chicago, one up in a hectic battle.

This pair were semi-finalists last year in the advertisers tourney at Bermuda and Purves was victorious.

Publish List of Events For Local Ice Carnival

Returns and entries will be made by workers to Jack Jenney or Miss Emily Kissman of Cheney Brothers and schoolboys and girls will send their entry blanks to Director Clarke or Miss Helen Worcester in the Ninth district, or to Miss Bernice Miller or George Washburn if they live in any of the first eight districts.

What We Think In Sports

(By SPORT EDITOR)
Home town talent is not appreciated!

This is not only so in Manchester but in many other towns and cities throughout the state where basketball promoters are endeavoring to make the chalked court game a success. The St. Mary's recently handed together about the best array of talent in town but they didn't even draw flies, to speak frankly. It is apparent that the only basketball team that would achieve financial success here would be one composed of the cream of out-of-town talent.

Up in Plainfield, the situation is about the same. The population of the village itself is about 2,300. On an average 700 attend the games. Of that number, no more than 200 are from the village. The rest are from out-of-town, coming from Jewett City, Moosup, Tatville, Central Village, Brooklyn, Wauregan, Baltic, Willimantic, Chaplin and other places. Plainfield formerly used home town players and the sport never attained any height until out-of-town stars were imported.

At present, Plainfield is packing 'em in with a team composed entirely of imported players. Even Delsing, who works in Plainfield, pays his taxes in Willimantic. Norman's home is in Norwich and it is unnecessary to tell the residence of Benson, Norris, Stavinsky and Madden.

The writer got his first 1927 glimpse of the Plainfield five in action Wednesday night against the South Kingston team. Over 700 fans were on hand. The loyal 200 from the village itself roared vociferously for Plainfield. The remaining 500, who are making the sport a success by attending, it is strange to relate, are strongly against the Plainfield team. They want to see them get beat. Of course this doesn't bother the Plainfield players any. It is simply the key to their pocketbooks.

The Meriden Endees and Bristol Endees, two of the leading teams in the state have practically no local talent. Red Lincer, Cap. Bissell, Cupie Waddell, Fat Hafner, Tom Murphy, five of the principal cogs in the Silver City team, all from parts other than Meriden. In Bristol they have Malcolm and Feldman and a couple of more regulars from out-of-town. The Elmwood Endees, All-Middletown, Southington, New Britain Guards and probably several other clubs have out-of-town stars among their personnel.

It all goes to prove that home town talent is not appreciated. The fans of today want a team that wins practically all its games and don't give a hoot who the players are. If the home town stock was appreciated there would be a decrease in the importation of outside players.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Lottie Schoemmel has decided not to enter the Catalina Marathon nude. In addition to a thick coating of axle grease, she is going to wear a belt with a sheath holding a long, sharp knife, as a protection against sharks.

William Wrigley is sponsoring the swim, offering a prize of $40,000 is, of course, doing it simply as an advertising scheme. Probably he will insist at the last minute that every one of the contenders plunge into the icy water with their mouths full of chewing gum.

The time is ripe for a collection to be taken up at Yale to buy tin medals for the players on the first Yale team to win an intercollegiate basketball game. Of course, there is no need for hurrying matters because the way the situation looks now, it will be at least a year from now.

Perhaps the whole wide town doesn't know it, but believe me, "Woody" Walllet, local skater, is one of the best fancy skaters in the state, barring none. And we don't mean maybe.

What is Joe Dundee's real name?—H. K. Samuel Lazzaro.

What was Jack Britton's real name?—M. B. William J. Breslin.

Who was the Trans-Mississippi golf champ in 1924?—O. P. Jimmy Manion.

How many times did Joe Stecher beat Renato Gardini, if any?—K. G. Three times.

Who topped the jockeys last year with stake winnings?—H. F. Earl Sande with $240,275.

THREE CAPTAINS HERE
Baltimore, Jan. 14.—Three captains will lead the 1927 football team of Calvert hall here next autumn. A quarterback, a guard and an end have been selected to guide the gridgers at specified periods during their schedule.

VISITORS WANT HONORS IN SCHOLASTIC LEAGUE

Johnson, Forward of Silver City, Fast Man—Rest of Team Just as Good—Two Teams to Play.

Manchester high plays its third league game tonight with Meriden High, its opponent, at the School street. The local team has broken even in the loop so far, losing to Bristol two weeks ago and winning from East Hartford last week.

Meriden will be different from East Hartford, however, and the Manchester team knows it. In three or four years of play, the teams have broken about even but Manchester has always had trouble in winning from the Silver City combine.

The prowess of Meriden High in all sports is well known throughout the state and in basketball the team from that city is always as good as those in baseball and football. Meriden shines in football but can give a good account of itself on the basketball floor also.

Now this year there are several last season's men on the team. This is a different situation from that which exists in Manchester for there are only two varsity men on the local squad from last year. The rest of the team seems to be all right and mixes the old timers very little.

Coach Clarke may do as he did in East Hartford last Friday with good effect. He may shift his team into several combinations with the Meriden combine figuring in most of them.

Holland, captain this year, will play through the whole game. Meriden always has at least one flashy forward. This year a slightly built boy by the name of Albert Smith is performing well on the offensive for the Silver City. He was a sub last year, but has outgrown that and has arisen to the dignity of a regular varsity man. He is fast and has a good eye, all meaning that he will bear watching by the local guards.

Of the rest of the Meriden personnel little is known but that does not mean there won't be any battle. Meriden has sprung surprises before and this year seems to be due to spring another.

BASEBALL TRADES

Chicago, Jan. 14.—Chicago baseball fans took new heart today over the coming American League pennant race, following the announcement that Aaron Ward, Yankee second basemen, had been traded to the White Sox to fill the shoes vacated by Eddie Collins. Ward comes to the Sox in exchange for John Grabowski, utility catcher, and Ray Morehart, infielder. No money was said to have been involved in the trade.

Soccer Notes

There will be a joint meeting on Saturday evening of the National and International Games and Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Football association and a special committee appointed by the American Soccer League. This joint conference has been arranged for the purpose of discussing a policy to be offered for adoption by the United States Football association in its relations with the Federation Internationale de Football association relative to the interpretation of Article 17 of the Federation's statutes concerning recognition by one national association of all suspensions promulgated by other national bodies.

It is the opinion of many that specifications for the promulgation of such suspensions should be properly recognized and embodied in the statutes and it is this feature which is lacking in Article 17 as presently constituted, that the combined committees will endeavor to adjust.

The National Challenge Cup Competition Committee will hold a meeting during the last week of this month to conduct the draw for the first round of the Competition Proper. The challenge of the Springfield Soccer club and its withdrawal from the American Soccer League has complicated matters somewhat in the Eastern Division of the open tourney which is scheduled to get under way on March 27th. Springfield was one of the elect, being exempted from competing in the qualifying rounds. It may now be found necessary to resurrect one of the clubs from that state territory which was eliminated in the qualifying competition.

The National Commission of the U. S. F. A. may hold a meeting during the last week of the present month or the first week in February.

The recent sudden death of Egbert Bromley, captain of the Coal City S. C., was one of the most severe shocks received by Chicago soccer followers in many years. Bromley, who was a native born soccer star, was an accomplished exponent of the kicking game and had, for many years, been honored as a player and captain of many Chicago All-Star and representative elevens.

Bert, as he was commonly called, was one of three brothers and his passing will be felt most keenly throughout the Chicago district where he has played so many years.

GOOD FUNTER

London.—They tell this story about a certain peer in the House of Lords. Discovering two boys helping themselves to apples in his orchard the peer gave each a resounding kick in the pants. Next day the boys were found loitering near the orchard again. "Didn't I warn you boys what you would get if I caught you around here again?" His Lordship shouted. "Yes, sir," came the ready response. "We came this time to ask you if you'd bin our 'ooj' all team."

ONE OF AMERICA'S GREATEST CHAINS OF FURNITURE STORES

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Talk is cheap until you ask a girl how much pin money she needs.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Speaking of impossibilities, did you ever try to pick up just one toothpick at a time?
Yap: I certainly got stuck on that suburban lot I bought. There isn't a thing in the world it's good for.
Sap: Why don't you rent it as an ideal camping site?
If money is the root of all evil, then working must be evil.
Mrs. Smith (inspecting friend's house)—"Gracious! Why do you have such a high bed for your little boy, Mrs. Jones?"
Mrs. Jones—"So we can head him if he falls out. You have no idea what heavy sleepers we are."

The Ideal Man

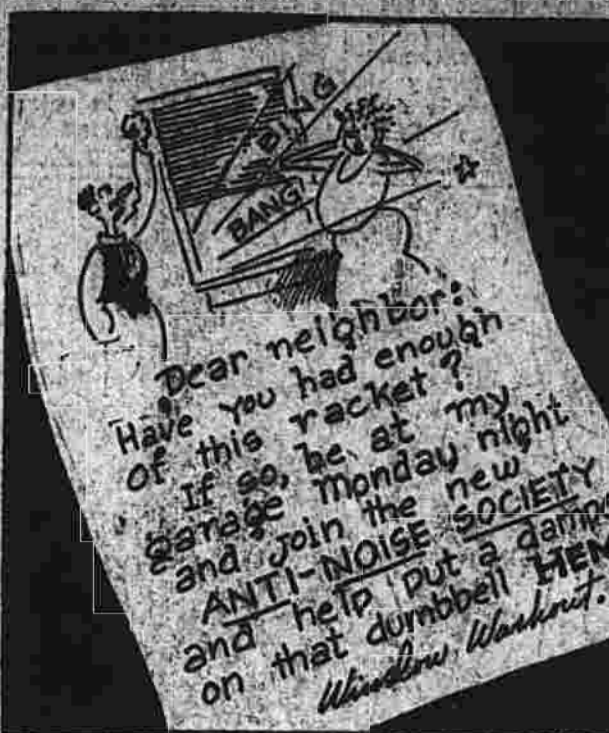

He never feels malice and always forgets the injuries others may do; He faces the world with a dignified mien, His actions at all times ring true.
He's not fond of talking and never will boast Of things he can do or has done, And never feels jealous of those who succeed, Or fame or good fortune have won.
He does not speak evil of others, e'en though Their actions he cannot defend; He ever is ready with strong helping hand— A friend on whom one can depend.
He bears all life's accidents calmly serene, What e'er he be called on to face, And marshalls his forces, what e'er they may be, With skill and with dignified grace.

INTELLIGENCE TESTS

Look at this picture closely and find what is wrong or inconsistent. This test is written especially for children. The answers to these questions appear on another page:
1—What is inconsistent in the accompanying picture?
2—Who is Tom Hedlin?
3—What is the abbreviation for District of Columbia?
4—What office formerly was held by K. M. Landis, baseball czar?
5—Who was president of the United States during the World War?
6—Is a furlong longer or shorter than a mile?
7—How many states were there when the United States Constitution was adopted?
8—How many feet in a furlong?
9—Is South Dakota in the northern or southern part of the United States?
10—Who is Elbert H. Gary??
Woman's lack of interest in the ballot may be because its style never changes.

THE TINYMITES

(Read the Story, Then Color the Picture)

The snowhouse that the Tinies made was strong enough so that it stayed in dandy shape, and sheltered them throughout the long, cold night. They'd grown quite tired from racing round and thus they all slept very sound till Copsy woke them up when came the dawn of morning light.
"Ho, hum," yawned Cloway. Then he stretched. "I think some food should soon be fetched. I guess 'bout all that we can do is try to catch some fish. There's nothing else to find out here, but even fish fills me with cheer. I know we're somewhere near a stream. I hear the water swish."
He then crawled right outdoors to look, and soon dropped in a line and hook. It wasn't very long until he'd caught a dandy siring. The fish were cooked right up to taste, and not a morsel went to waste. Then all the Tinies quite agreed that fish were just the thing.
Said Scouty, "I can eat no more. I guess I'll start out to explore. I wonder where we are right now, and where we go from here." He rambled through the ice and snow, then scampered back to let them know that he'd discovered something that should fill them all with fear.

"The ice and snow we're on right now," said he, "is floating round somehow. On every side there's water, and I guess we're lost at sea." Then Copsy looked to left and right and shortly shouted, "Scouty's right. We're drifting on an iceberg just as sure as sure can be."
The crowd was quiet for a spell, till Cloway jumped right up to yell, "Oh, shucks, let's not get frightened. We're too brave a little band. An iceberg drifts quite fast, you know. Perhaps the one we're on will go quite safely through the water until we reach solid land."

(The Tinymites jump free to the iceberg in the next story).

BIG VAUDEVILLE
BILL FILLS STATE

Program For Rest of Week
Unusually Good—Feature Picture a Hit.

By Member Herald Staff
There was standing room only at the State theatre last night when eight acts of vaudeville were presented as a special Thursday night feature. Five acts of the program will be presented tonight and continuously tomorrow.

Tonight's and tomorrow's program presents five very entertaining acts. The outstanding feature perhaps, is the motion picture feature, "God Gave Me 20 Cents."

This unusual film was used to open the new $17,000,000 Paramount theatre in New York City. The first vaudeville act is Gaudier's Phonograph Dogs in "An Animal Treat."

The usual type of dog stunt is supplemented by some clever tricks on a revolving table made to look like a phonograph record.

Kessler and Morgan present "Heart Songs and Steps" for act number two. Miss Morgan is a mighty pretty girl with a sweet voice and real dancing ability.

Gates and Finley are next on the bill in a skit entitled "Seeing Her Home. The flappers, both male and female, who stay out on the porch until 3 a. m. will appreciate this one. It's a clever little get up and well acted.

Cassell and Burton in "Comedy Songs with Trimmings" spread plenty of humor. Their entrance is an unusually good one. Their big hit is a song about the history of the U. S. A.

One of the most entertaining acts seen in Manchester is that presented by the Robbins family. There are four boys, two girls, with their father and mother in the act.

All in all, it's a mighty pleasing bill.

TO START TO ISSUE
MARCH 1ST, LICENSES

Expect About 294,000 Applicants Beginning Tomorrow; 25,000 More Autoists Than Last Year.

The issuance of Connecticut motor vehicle operators' licenses for the year beginning March 1 will begin at the state motor vehicle department offices tomorrow.

There are at least 25,000 more licensed motor vehicle operators in Connecticut today than there were a year ago and the proportion of drivers to the whole population of the state is reaching a point where there will soon be one license issued to at least one member of every family, on the average.

The idea of having the license year begin two months after the beginning of the registration year avoids confusion and untold congestion in the closing days of every calendar year.

Well Guarded

A heavy police escort met Alejandro Cesar at Brooklyn, N. Y., when he arrived to assume his duties as the new minister at Washington of the Diaz conservative government in Nicaragua.

MUFFLED HOOPS—This NEA Service picture, the first to reach America, shows black horses drawing the crepe-draped imperial hearse in which the remains of Emperor Yoshitomo were taken to Hayama where he died. Sand strewn deep along the highway dead end the sound of the horses' shoes.

in person at the main office in Hartford. Applicants appearing in person will facilitate the issuance of licenses by showing their current license, thus eliminating record check up.

Applications will be accepted on personal application only at the branch offices in New Haven, Bridgeport, Waterbury, New London and Stamford and it will be necessary for applicants to exhibit their current licenses, as the branch offices do not have records of licenses previously issued. No mail applications are filled by branch offices.

Enclosed with the application blanks sent out from the department is a notice warning applicants not to send cash or currency for their licenses by mail, unless it is registered. It is stated that remittances should be made by check, money order or express order. The fee for the license is $3.00.

Did Tilden and Johnston compete against the French in the Davis Cup doubles in 1925 or was it Richards and Williams?—R. T. W. Richards and Williams.

HILL ROADS BASIS OF GREATEST OF SYSTEMS

Proposed Merger Would Combine 28,300 Miles of Railway Lines.

New York, Jan. 14.—Consolidation of the Northern Pacific railroad and the Great Northern into a 14,000-mile transportation system that would exceed in mileage all existing systems, is expected to follow important conferences of the railroad officials here next week.

The plan under discussion provides for a lease of the properties by a new holding company. If joined by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and the Colorado and Southern, control of both of which is held by Hill road interests, the amalgamated lines will form a system of 28,300 miles, and represent capitalization of more than $1,500,000,000.

FALL RIVER MILL, LONG CLOSED TO BE REOPENED

Fall River, Jan. 14.—Announcement was made today that Flint Mills No. 1, closed for four years, will reopen on Monday. Full capacity of 350 operatives is expected within a few weeks.

HOME-COMERS HELD UP
BY N. Y. HARBOR FOG

New York, Jan. 14.—Hundreds of home-coming passengers, traveling on half a dozen trans-Atlantic and coastwise steamers, were fog-bound in the harbor today. Harbor traffic was further hampered today by a heavy ice jam.

Pinehurst Market News.

Last week-end we advertised "9 Good Specials" and the demand for these was so heavy that we are repeating the ad, this week with a couple of the same specials, and a few new items.

When you think of delivery service, we want you to think of PINEHURST. And please remember this—if your order is in the night before or early in the morning, it will be delivered to you early. Mr. Avery, Mr. Nelson and "yours truly" are at the store at 6:30 (and much earlier than that on Saturday) every morning just to have everything all set to get every early order ready and on the way to the customer at 8 o'clock. Get the habit—telephone your order early—you will like this early service.

You can depend on PINEHURST QUALITY. Many of our customers, who just tried the new Alice Foote MacDougall Coffee to see if it was as the coffee served in the Alice Foote MacDougall coffee shops in New York, are now recommending it to their friends.

If it is convenient, will you please telephone your order to-night. We will be here to take telephone orders until nine o'clock—Thank You.

And I guess that's the answer, for the sales on this item keep climbing. Tomorrow Pinehurst Sausage Meat will sell at 38c a lb. As is, or with pancakes—try some more.

SPECIAL NO. 3—

Such a concentration of aerial forces would bring practically the entire army air corps here for the maneuvers, including the latest speedy scouting planes, the heavy Martin bombers and new models of fighting aircraft.

It was learned that Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air forces, discussed the proposed maneuvers with high army officers during his visit here last month, when he attended the "take-off" of the army's "Around South America" contingent.

ARMY AND AIR FORCES TO HOLD BIG MANOEUVRE

Greatest Program of Peace Time Military Display To Be Staged In Texas.

San Antonio, Texas.—The greatest army maneuver ever staged in peace time will be held during the coming summer, if sufficient funds to carry out the plans can be obtained, high army officials of this area have announced. The tactical plan will be built around the Second Division, famous war-time regular army division, which saw such hard and gallant service around Chateau Thierry and other hard-fought fields in France. This division, it was learned, is practically the only one of the famous war-time divisions left intact.

Air Groups Take Part. Several army air corps groups also are to be brought in from the different flying fields throughout the country to participate in the great maneuver, it was said by army officials.

Present plans, not yet perfected, call for the presence of the First Pursuit Group of Selfridge Field, Michigan; the Second Bombardment Group from Langley Field, Virginia; and the Third Attack Group, from Fort Crockett, Texas. The aerial forces also will include the fighting units stationed at

KISS BETRAYS
London.—William Mahoney was betrayed by a kiss. It will cost him just ten years' hard labor. William, pursuing the career of a burglar, invaded the chamber of a servant girl, kissed her and asked her where the family kept the valuables. When he was caught the girl identified him.

THAT BRIGHT BOY
New York.—The little boy who promised to become a genius used to be weak physically. Now L. M. Terman, the psychologist, who has studied 1,000 especially bright children, declares that if the gifted child shows any variation from the normal physically it is usually toward better physical or nervous condition.

ONLY AN OUNCE!
Florence, Kas.—When the old Florence Hotel, built fifty years ago, was razed recently, there was much speculation among the residents as to what would be found in the cornerstones. It was a bottle of whiskey—an ounce. On a piece of paper wrapped around the bottle was written: "Dedicated to a fool."

STICKS TO WORK
Downs, Kas.—When it comes to records, Downs has a man who just can't be left out. He has worked six days each week since coming to this town in 1892. It is claimed he has "been too busy" to see the county court house and never rode in an automobile.

RAJAH RABOID RAPS CARELESS AUTOISTS
Says If He Can Avoid Accidents Driving Blindfolded, Anybody Else Can.
Rajah Raboid, who proposes to drive a Chevrolet automobile through the peak hour of noonday traffic next Tuesday with his eyes securely blindfolded, claims there is little excuse for many of the auto accidents that occur every day.
"If I can negotiate the crowded streets and observe all the signals incident to the safe operation of a car through purely psychic vision," he says, "certainly any normal person in full possession of every faculty should be able to avoid most of the dangers of ordinary traffic. Of course the fact that my mind is concentrated on the task at hand may constitute an advantage over the careless driver who tries to take in all the sights and sounds and attract the attention of one who wants to miss nothing along his route."
"One might say, 'well, we are living in the age of speed.' True enough, but remember, the faster that person wants to get and it is always on the open road or even the streets that is clear two blocks ahead, you find nine out of ten accidents and deaths by motor cars. You may have a thousand alibies, about this motor car accident or that one and they will all slither down to the one word carelessness."
"I contend that if I can drive a Chevrolet during noon hour traffic with my eyes sealed with 16 different kinds of materials without mis-laps, starting, stopping when and where necessary, that surely every man or woman who drives could do the same thing with their eyes wide open."
"But how can I drive with my eyes sealed with adhesive plaster you ask? Come Tuesday in front of the State Theater and see. Further details will be printed in The Herald every day."

| JOKERS STEAL CAR AND SPOIL WEDDING TRIP Practical jokers butted in again last night and spoiled a honeymoon trip for a pair of newlyweds here. At least they postponed it. The idea of a practical joke was the stealing of the automobile belonging to the groom and not returning it until it was too late to start on the trip. Albert Phillips, of Middle Turnpike (West) was the person involved. Early last evening he was hurried to Miss Maria Gava, of Barnside in the Pentacoastal church in Hartford. The bridesmaid was Miss Grace McWiggin, of Barnside, and the best man was Nicholas Trivigno, of this town. After the wedding ceremony, a supper was held. The party then came to the State Theater here and it was the newlyweds' plan to start their honeymoon after the show. However, when they came out, the car was missing. Another car had to be borrowed later in the evening to return the girl to her home and the honeymoon had to be postponed. Phillips complained to the police. It was found later that some of his friends had taken the car as a joke on him. They returned it later but were reprimanded by the police, Phillips said, in admitting the details of the story. Take Riker's Mentholated White Pine and Tar with Cod Liver Oil Extract and Eucalyptus. It will break up the most stubborn cough or cold.
