

BIRTH CONTROL BILL OFFERED IN LEGISLATURE

Legalizes Practice Under Conditions; New Bill Pro- hibits Pledging Children To Any Religion.

Hartford, Jan. 20.—The matter of birth control came before the House today, when the Legislature started its third day of work this week, in the form of a resolution offered by Rep. Bridge, of Enfield, which it passed would give physicians the right to prevent births. Mr. Bridge pointed out he had presented the bill solely by request.

From the town of Ashford came a bill that would forbid residents of the state from agreeing before marriage to have their children trained in any certain religion. Representative Armitage of Ashford presented the bill.

Hartford's case for annexation of its border town will be presented to the present session of the Legislature through a bill providing for annexation of a portion of Bloomfield to the Insurance City. At the same time Bloomfield residents, apparently not fearing such a step, asked the Legislature to charter their own Water Company and to establish a board of finance for the town.

A proposed amendment to the so-called Bridgeport "Ripper Bill" was lifted from the finance committee by the House today and sent to the Committee on Cities and Boroughs. This followed action by the Senate which had not considered the Finance Board was the right one to act on the matter and sent the bill to the Cities and Boroughs Committee at the start. The House concurred with the Senate in today's action.

The New Haven Water company fight of two years ago reverberated through the House again today with a bill that would repeal the charter amendment granted in 1925 allowing the city to buy Lake Quonipaug, Harry Durant, of Guilford, who fought the Water company two years ago, introduced the measure today.

Adjourn Till Tuesday.
New Haven's desire for a new armory was indicated in a bill which would appropriate $1,000,000 for such structure. The Senate received the measure, as it did one asking $50,000 to build a veterans' memorial on the Capitol grounds here.

Adjournment of both Houses was voted until next Tuesday at 11:15, thus doing away with Friday sessions for the present at least.

House Bills

House bills received today were as follows:
Making it unlawful for persons to enter into a marriage contract which provides certain religious training of the children of such a union, presented by Mr. Armitage of Ashford.

Providing that physicians may prescribe contraceptives in medical cases demanding prevention of conception introduced by Mr. Bridge of Enfield, by request.

Providing that savings banks may not invest more than two per cent of their deposits in water companies of the state supplying water to communities of less than 15,000 population.

Providing that no officer of the

Idol Returns

The pen that 30 years ago entertained and inspired nearly every youngster in the nation is coming back with more.

Probably there is not a man on the shady side of 30 who does not remember with only partially-dimmed affection the story-book idol of his boyhood days, Frank Merriwell. Frank it was who could run like a deer, make a touchdown or a home run anytime it was necessary to win the game, row, swim, outshoot the boldest of bad men, fight and foil plotters. And Frank never smoked nor drank, never told lies nor did anything that could possibly be out of keeping with the highest standards of gentlemanly conduct.

Nearly 900 books were written about this dashing and versatile young man. They came out once a week, in gaily-colored paper covers, and sold for a nickel. Literally hundreds of millions were read by American boys.

SWEDISH PRINCE ADMITS HE HAS MOVIE CRUSH

Boston, Jan. 20.—His Royal Highness Prince William of Sweden, self-confessed "hard-boiled egg" with women today admitted that he has a movie idol—Greta Garbo—and he hopes to see her when he visits Hollywood.

The prince, who prefers farming and hunting gorillas to tipping tea cups, said that marriage to him is a sequence of love—that royal shackles do not bind him.

However, the prince said he had come to America to lecture.

MODERN THOUGHT CHENEY SUBJECT

Will Discuss Horace Bush- nell's Beliefs at Men's League Meeting.

The influence of the religious life of Horace Bushnell, one of the earlier liberals in the Congregational churches in New England, will be the subject of discussion before the Men's League of the Center Congregational Church here Sunday noon. Howell Cheney, a grandson of Horace Bushnell will lead the discussion and will talk on "What Modern Religious Thought Owes to Horace Bushnell."

Sketch of Life

Horace Bushnell was the leader of liberal or modernist group of thinkers in the Congregational churches of New England from about 1835 until his retirement in 1865. Born at Bantam Lake, in Litchfield county, Conn. in 1800, he was graduated from Yale in 1827. He taught school, studied law and acted as an instructor in Yale college and as an assistant editor of the New York Commercial before he returned to Yale to study for the ministry. He held but one pastorate, that of the North church of Hartford to which he was called in 1831 and with which he retained his connection until his death in 1871.

Rev. Bushnell was the author of many works on religious and moral subjects, of which the best known by the clergy are "Christian Nurture," "Nature and the Supernatural," "Christ and His Salvation." His more popular works consisted of sermons and literary essays of which "An Appreciation of Connecticut," "The Age of Home-spun," "Work and Play," "The Founder Great in their Unconsciousness," "The Growth of Law," are the best known.

Writings Start Protests

His theological writings and view awoke a storm of protest from the conservative or Calvinistic wing of the Congregational church. Three attempts were made to try him for heresy but none of them carried through, largely because of the independent character of the Congregational churches in Connecticut in matters of self-government.

The best-known life of Horace Bushnell was written by his daughter, Mary Bushnell Cheney, wife of Frank W. Cheney, late of Manchester.

The theological controversies in which Bushnell was concerned have passed away, but he left an enduring influence on the religious life of today which is reflected in many ways.

SUNDAY NIGHT MUSICAL WILL OFFER NOVELTY

When the choir of the South Methodist Episcopal church presents "Noel" by Chadwick this coming Sunday night, Jan. 23rd, the people of Manchester will have the opportunity of hearing a musical work very seldom given, but very beautiful. It is a varied and interesting score, written with all Dr. Chadwick's mastery; well planned and executed. The solo excerpts, to be sung by Miss Willard, Mrs. Lashinske, Mr. Retchard and Mr. Gordon are musical gems, while the chorus numbers give the choir great freedom of expression, including passages for male and female voices alone and grand climaxes for all voices. The service will be at 7:30 and the public is cordially invited to attend.

CONNECTICUT TRUCK IN MASSACHUSETTS FATALITY

North Wilbraham, Mass., Jan. 20.—Heavy fog was responsible for a fatal automobile accident here today, when Edward Langevin, 36, of Springfield, was instantly killed when his automobile crashed into a truck parked on the Boston road. The truck owned by the United Motor Line of Waterbury, Conn., was driven by Arthur Lawson, of that city. He was held when he failed to produce a license.

PLAN TO TAKE POISON OUT OF ALCOHOL HALTS

Chemists Fail to Find Nasty But Harmless Split—May Cut Wood Element Per- centage a Little Later.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Despite the plan of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to remove poison from industrial alcohol, treasury chemists so far have failed to discover an effective "nasty but harmless" substitute for wood alcohol, it was learned today.

Instructed by Mellon to investigate non-poisonous denaturants, chemists are continuing the quest of a new formula although a report made to the treasury indicated no material progress.

In view of the chemists' reports and the subsiding of the storm of criticism by alcohol deaths during the holidays, it was learned that the Treasury would take no immediate action to change the industrial alcohol formulas.

Reduction Later

Later, it was stated, a reduction of wood alcohol content in denaturing processes probably would be authorized to forestall new charging that the government is poisoning liquors to aid prohibition enforcement.

A thorough study of alcoholic deaths in the United States last year has convinced Treasury officials that from two to four per cent wood alcohol used for denaturing does not create a deadly poison.

The psychological effect of wood alcohol, however, tends to keep much of the completely denatured alcohol out of bootleg markets, according to officials.

Antifreeze Mixture

Bootleggers, according to Treasury reports, are diverting a small percentage of completely denatured alcohol, such as anti-freeze mixtures, which contain wood alcohol. They are tapping into it, especially in the production of antifreeze mixtures, toilet waters and perfumes.

"Nasty but harmless" denaturants so far discovered are said by Treasury chemists to be virtually worthless in preventing circulation of industrial alcohol. A strictly non-poisonous denaturant means more alcohol for the bootleggers, officials said, although it was declared that before the arrival of another holiday "drinking periodically" denaturing formulas probably will contain less wood alcohol than now.

ACCUSES MELLON OF COMPROMISING FINES

La Guardia Says Brewery Set- tled $296,000 Penalties For $20,000.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Representative La Guardia, Rep., New York, charged in a speech in the House today that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon had approved a compromise of fines totalling $296,000 against the Howell & King Brewery in Pennsylvania for $20,000.

"Senator Joyce of the Howell & King brewery supported Mr. Mellon's candidates and not until after the Pennsylvania primary was there any talk of settlement," asserted La Guardia.

LOCAL PEOPLE TO TAKE CRUISE TO HOLY LAND

Mrs. J. Evelyn Stanley of Highland Park and Miss Gertrude M. Abbey of Charter Oak street will sail tomorrow afternoon from New York city on the White Star liner Doric for a two months' cruise to the Mediterranean, the Holy Land and Europe. They will visit Madeira, Gibraltar, Algiers, Tunis, Malta, Alexandria, Port Said, the Holy Land, Smyrna, Constantinople, Greece, Sicily, Italy, the Riviera, France and England.

The Doric will return to New York March 22. Several famous personages will make the cruise. Among them will be Dr. Charles N. Sheldon, the author of "In His Steps," Tess Kosta, famous comic opera star, and Dr. Wilbur M. Urban of Dartmouth.

Clings to Forlorn Hope

Col. Frank L. Smith, Senator-elect from Illinois, was this afternoon waiting in the Senate chamber at Washington on the bare chance that administration senators might overcome the determination of a small majority to refuse him the right to take the oath. Col. Smith at right. His colleague, Senator Deneen, left.

PREDICTS NO WAR WITH MEXICO NOW

Rajah Raboid Says There Will Be Revolution, How- ever, Soon.

"There will be no war between nations in the present international crisis," said Rajah Raboid, famous mentalist, at the State Theater last night, "but, there will be revolution in Mexico very soon." This was the prophecy of the man who would be murdered. His predictions have been good so far and he feels that he "reads the crystal" correctly concerning Mexico.

The mentalist has been drawing large audiences to the State theater here where he is appearing all week. Last night he called a little girl from the audience and she read her own name from the crystal he held in his hand.

Editorial Comment

Friends of the Rajah living in New Haven have sent him a copy of the Yale News, the publication of Yale University, in which Dr. Raboid was complimented editorially for his success in performing the "blind drive" on the streets of New Haven. The editorial discussed the extent to which Dr. Raboid has carried the study of mental telepathy.

BOSTON MAN BELIEVED SUICIDE IN THE SEA

Disappears From Fall River Liner on Way to New York; Leaves Letter.

New York, Jan. 20.—Investigation of what the police suspect is a suicide by a passenger aboard the steamship Priscilla, of the Fall River Line, enroute from Boston to New York, today occupied the attention of officials of the line, and police. The missing man is described as Samuel Jacks, Mattapan, Mass., a Boston suburb.

Discovery of a letter in a state-room that had been occupied by Jacks led to the investigation and suspicion that he had jumped overboard. The letter was addressed to Mrs. Eva Jacks, whom the police believe to be the man's wife. It stated that the writer was tired of living.

STARTS FIGHT TO SAVE PERMANENT PAVEMENT

Stamford Lighting Company's Foreman Arrested For Dig- ging It Up.

Stamford, Jan. 20.—Vito Davino, a foreman employed by the Stamford Gas and Electric Light Co., was arrested today on a warrant charging violation of the city ordinance regarding the opening of streets after permanent pavements had been laid.

According to Mayor Phillips the electric light company started work on the street without obtaining a permit. He declared he was menaced with the deportation of himself and his family to Italy.

The statement by Garibaldi caused a furore in the court room and the judge was forced to suspend the session.

MEXICAN PEACE PARLEY COMING STILL BELIEVED

Kellogg Denial Is Looked on As Gesture In Jockeying For Position In Arbitra- tion Problem.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Settlement of the land-law controversy with Mexico by peaceable negotiation, rather than resort to an open break, was still regarded as the paramount policy of the administration today, despite Secretary of State Kellogg's denial that he had committed this government to arbitration.

Secretary Kellogg's latest statement was coincident with reports from Mexico City quoting President Calles as saying that while he favored peaceable adjustment there could be no arbitration of the Mexican constitution itself.

Approach Cautious

In diplomatic quarters here, these statements were taken as a necessary part of the diplomatic game. Neither government is desirous of exhibiting any signs of receding from the position it has assumed in the controversy, and both governments have to contend with domestic opposition of more or less strength. Hence, it is pointed out, the approach to arbitration must be cautious.

President Calles has summarized the Mexican problem as embracing the question: "Shall the property of American citizens be confiscated without its being paid for?"

Put bluntly on that basis, the controversy does not lend itself to arbitration, for this government cannot put itself in the position beforehand, at least, of being willing to concede that the question is open to doubt.

President Calles has summarized the controversy thus: "Has Mexico the right to adopt a constitution?"

Jockeying For Position

On that basis, the Mexican government similarly cannot concede that the question is open to arbitration, for to do so would put the Calles regime in the position of being willing to arbitrate Mexico's sovereignty. Adoption of a constitution is an attribute of sovereignty which no government could relinquish.

Somewhere between these two poles of interpretation lies the middle ground which most observers here believe will be found, and which will enable both governments to emerge from the situation with dignity and equity. But considerable diplomatic jockeying, and considerable maneuvering, will be necessary before it can be reached, observers here believe.

Will Not Hurry

Mexico City, Jan. 20.—Arbitration of the differences between the United States and Mexico over the Mexican land and oil laws will not be an early development, it was learned today.

Mexico will insist that the scope of the arbitration be limited to the question of the ownership of the land and oil rights. (Continued on Page 2.)

SEARCH FOR COLLIER EIGHT DAYS OVERDUE

Steamer From Norfolk to Boston, With 27 Men, Missing Without Trace.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 20.—Search for the steamer John Tracy, eight days overdue from Norfolk, Va., with a cargo of coal, was instituted today when aviators flew along the Massachusetts coast in an effort to find some trace of her.

The Tracy has a crew of twenty-seven men. Nothing has been heard of her since she put out of Norfolk. Skippers of vessels that have followed the course the Tracy should have taken reported that they did not see any wreckage which would indicate that the missing ship had gone down. The Tracy is commanded by Captain Rudolf Rittcher.

BOY VOYAGES TO DEATH ON A LAKE ICE CAKE

Ships' Efforts to Save Him Fail When Darkness Comes; Identity Unknown.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 20.—Hope virtually was abandoned here today for rescuing a boy who floated out into Lake Erie last night on a cake of ice.

BATTLING FIERCELY TO SEAT COL. SMITH

$500,000 PEARL COLLAR STILLMAN PEACE GIFT

New York, Jan. 20.—The presentation of a magnificent pearl, diamond and sapphire necklace to Mrs. Anne U. Stillman by her husband, James A. Stillman, former president of the National City Bank, as a token of their recent reconciliation, was made known today by James "Bud" Stillman, their son. "Bud" Stillman is a student at Princeton University.

The value of the necklace was estimated at more than $500,000. It is comprised of pearls, rubies, sapphires and diamonds, in which pearls predominate, held together in strands and linked together to form a band or collar about one and a quarter inches broad.

DIAZ AND SACASA MAY MAKE TERMS

Deal to Divide Control in Ni- caragua Proposed By Conservative, Report.

Managua, Nic., Jan. 20.—New efforts toward peace between the Diaz government and the Liberal party led by Dr. Sacasa, now in revolt, are reported in progress.

Some Liberals are understood to have suggested to Dr. Sacasa that the appeal for a peace conference should be held in Managua or aboard the United States cruiser Rochester.

President Diaz, it is understood, has made a tentative proposal that peace terms be discussed on the basis of the Conservative offer of the Liberal party to participate in the government, providing they accept the United States as a guarantor of future elections.

Efforts for Mediation by Salvador Have Thus Far Failed, as President Diaz Apparently Has Not Found the Proposed Salvador Mediators Acceptable.

The government announces the decisive defeat of Liberal forces at Naranjo, near the Costa Rican border, stating that the Liberals were forced to take refuge in Costa Rica.

NOW THREATEN JAIL FOR CHARLIE CHAPLIN

Wife's Lawyers Talk of Arrest If He Does Not Pay Award Of Alimony.

Los Angeles, Jan. 20.—Charles Chaplin's attorneys have succeeded in securing a court order lifting the receivership from the famous comedian's Hollywood studio but Mrs. Chaplin through her attorneys has succeeded in practically nullifying that order calling for the deposit of a $1,000,000 bond to secure the order becomes effective.

Possible removal of the receivership from the studio would not remove the restraining order placed on the comedian's personal properties and assets.

Bank accounts under the name of the comedian's studio, Inc., together with the amounts on deposit, were found in the studio safes by the receivers.

The total estimated valuation of the accounts was listed at $1,458,824. Two of the accounts are in England.

William K. Young, attorney for Mrs. Chaplin, declared that he will ask for Chaplin's arrest if the comedian comes under the jurisdiction of the court sixty days from the beginning of service by publication.

SAW NO WOMAN AT NORRIS STUDY DOOR

Defense Witness Reflects on Story of Mrs. Parker in Pas- tor's Murder Trial.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 20.—D. L. Redmond, "crystal ball" man, who showed D. E. Chippis, lumberman, the way to Rev. J. Frank Norris' study at Fort Worth, where Chippis was slain by the pastor, was the first witness for the defense today in the trial of Norris.

Redmond said that when Chippis entered the study he went into an adjoining office. There he heard several pistol shots, he declared, and ran to the study, where he saw another man picking something from the floor of the anteroom.

Touching on the story told by Mrs. Roxie Parker, state witness, that she was near the study door and saw Norris shoot Chippis as the latter was leaving, defense counsel asked Redmond if he saw a woman in the corridor at any time. Redmond said he did not.

Administration Senators In Final Drive Seek By Sheer Force of Argument to Win Enough Votes to Seat Re- publican Member—Dem- ocrats and Insurgents Claim Victory.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Unleashing a flood of oratory in the Senate, administration leaders this afternoon launched a final drive to talk Col. Frank L. Smith (Rep., Ill.) into being allowed to take the oath of office as a United States senator.

With Smith halted at the portals and knowing that a majority of the Senate is waiting to bar him, Republican spokesmen sought to gain him admission by the force of argument.

Watson Leads Fight

Led by Senator Watson, Republican of Indiana, they demanded the Senate respect the sovereign power of Illinois to name a senator from its own choice.

Smith sat in the rear of the Senate, an interested and patient listener to the debate. His presence was necessary because technically he was waiting to take his oath.

Democratic leaders, meanwhile, announced that his oath would be denied by a majority ranging from seven to ten votes.

The battle over admitting Smith found the old Democratic-Insurgent coalition revived and uniting against him. Their attack was based chiefly on the Reed campaign committee's revelations that Smith accepted $207,000 in gifts from public utilities of Illinois for his primary campaign while serving as chairman of the state's utilities commission, that his personal expenditures were $28,000—far more than the $10,000 limit that in all, $450,000 was spent in his behalf.

Heated Debate

The debate ranged back and forth between issues of law and morals with Watson contending that the Senate should constitutionally refuse to admit a senator-elect "even if he were a leper."

"Does the senator (Watson) contend that the Senate must admit a leper if he comes with unques- tionable credentials?" asked Robinson.

"No," Watson replied. "If the majority of voters in any sovereign state send him here, the Senate must recognize him."

"Or if a man is an idiot?"

"Yes, if an idiot can take an oath."

"Well, of course we all know the fools, damn fools, sometimes get into legislative bodies," replied Robinson.

Watson was subjected to considerable heckling by Democratic senators.

The debate grew hot when Robinson charged that Watson's "manifest intention was an effort to line up the forces in this chamber, according to politics." This Watson

DEFENSE MEASURES CONTINUE IN SHANGHAI

Shanghai, Jan. 20.—Defensive measures are being continued here. A thousand White Russians have enrolled as volunteer forces. Strikes in Shanghai have now become so numerous as to assume the proportions of a general strike.

Foking, Jan. 20.—An anti-Catholic campaign has broken out in Foking. In Changsha the anti-British sentiment is so intense that Germans are wearing arm-bands indicating their nationality, in order to save themselves from mob attacks.

London, Jan. 20.—Further rioting broke out at Fookchow today where the Nationalists are beyond the control of the Chinese authorities. The rioters were reported to have looted one American and two British schools at Fookchow.

"WINDOW LIGHTING" MERCHANTS' TOPIC

The meeting of the Merchants' Association of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Chamber headquarters tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting is called for the purpose of discussing "Store Window Lighting."

The members who heard Mr. Guemey talk on this question are anxious to attempt to carry out some of his ideas.

At the meeting a representative of the Manchester Electric company will be present and it is hoped some arrangement can be made to secure a more favorable rate on quantity current consumption.

F. T. Bliss, chairman of the merchants' division has issued a call for this meeting.

CHOSE McCaw
Is Elected President of Junior Class at Our High School

James McCaw, president of the Junior class at the South Manchester High school was elected chairman of the general committee on arrangements for the annual Junior Prom yesterday.

Robert Carter was named chairman of the music committee, Kathryn Foley, chairman of the invitation committee, Ludwig Hanson, chairman of the refreshment committee and Miriam Watkins, chairman of the decoration committee. Others will be named later to fill out the various committees.

PILES
Go Quick With Harmless Internal Remedy, or Money Back.

Itching, bleeding or protruding piles are enough to make anybody swear. Suffering, however, doesn't banish or even relieve Pile misery. But here's comforting news for you. You can now quickly and safely get rid of Piles with a simple internal remedy that removes the cause—blood congestion in the lower bowel.

Forget about an operation and stop using messy ointments that cannot reach the cause. For real, honest, lasting Pile relief, just join the thousands that are now using Hem-Roids, a harmless internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonard, that you can get at Packard's or Murphy's Drug Store and all druggists with absolute guarantee that it will banish all Pile misery, or money back—adv.

EVERYDAY—anyday—rain or shine we offer for sale little black "nuggets" that have within them a mighty force of concentrated heat when used in a fire. If you will let us, we'll show you how you can save money on coal and get more heat.

G. E. Willis & Son, Inc.
Mason Supplies.
2 Main Street Phone 50

You Must Be Satisfied

"Used Cars With an O.K. That Counts"

- 1926 Chevrolet Coupe—Has had good care. Small mileage, many extras.
- 1925 Chevrolet Sedan—This car looks and runs like new. Practically new rubber.
- 1925 Chevrolet Coach—Good motor. A fine car for little money.
- 1925 Chevrolet Coupe—This car is A-1 in every way.
- 1925 Chevrolet Touring—With all the extras that go with a good car.
- 1924 Chevrolet 4 Pass. Coupe—Motor has been overhauled. Good tires. Duco finish.
- 1924 Chevrolet 2 Pass. Coupe—Thoroughly overhauled.—Duco finish. Good tires.
- 1923 Chevrolet Coupe (2)—At a small price.
- 1923 Chevrolet Sedan—Here is a real bargain, 5 new cord oversize tires. Motor is perfect.
- 1925 Studebaker Standard Duplex—A-1 mechanically. Good paint and tires.
- 1924 Studebaker Special 6 Coupe—One of the famous models. O. K. throughout.
- 1923 Durant Sport Model Touring—Many extras. Duco finish.
- 1924 Ford Tudor Sedan—Good rubber. Duco finish.
- 1924 Ford Fordor Sedan—Good motor. Good tires, Duco finish, priced right.
- 1926 Ford Roadster—Express body, perfect in every way.
- 1926 Ford Roadster—Balloon tires, looks and runs like new.
- 1925 Ford Coupe—Balloon tires. Nickel radiator. A-1 mechanically. Priced low.
- 1924 Chevrolet Touring.
- 1923 Chevrolet Touring.
- 1923 Chevrolet Coupe (2).
- 1923 Chevrolet Sedan.
- 1924 Ford Coupe—Balloon tires.
- 1924 Ford Roadster—Express body.
- 1925 Ford Touring.
- 1923 Ford Touring.
- 1924 Ford Tudor Sedans—Two to choose from, Duco finish.
- 1923 Oldsmobile—3-4 ton truck, 444 body.
- 1923 Ford 1 Ton Truck—Express body, all new tires.
- 1924 1/2 Ton Ford Panel—(2).
- 1924 1/2 Ton Ford Canopy Top.

The Boulevard Chevrolet Co.
275 Conn. Boulevard
East Hartford, Conn.

BIRTH CONTROL BILL OFFERED IN HOUSE

(Continued from page 1.)
Thomaston Savings Bank may borrow funds of the corporation.

Providing for appointment of chief deputies by sheriffs of each county and appropriating the following salaries therefor: New Haven, Hartford and Fairfield counties, $1,000 each; New London, Middlesex and Windham $750 each; Litchfield and Tolland, $500 each.

Prohibiting the tax commissioner from making public records concerning sources of income, profits, losses and expenditures submitted to him on income tax returns.

Authorizing the Rockville-William Light Company to issue first and refunding mortgage bonds up to $1,250,000.

Incorporating the Pine Grove Cemetery Association.

Providing that plaintiffs in suits against owners of automobiles shall not be required to allege that the operator of vehicle involved in accident was the agent or the servant of the defendant.

Providing reimbursement to Theodore Lusta, of New Haven, a forfeited bond amounting to $2,000 being involved.

Establishing the town court of Bloomfield.

Restoring forfeited rights to Albert L. Wilson, of Putnam.

Including historical associations among organizations entitled to tax exemption.

Reimbursing town of East Granby for losses in taxes because of land owned by the state at the unused state prison site.

Providing for manner of probating supplemental inventories of estates.

Providing for the manner of computation of additional succession taxes on supplemental estate inventories.

Appropriating salaries for common pleas court clerks as follows: Hartford, $4,000; New Haven, civil side, $4,500; criminal side, $4,500; Fairfield, civil side, $9,000; criminal $1500; New London civil, $700, criminal $500, assistant criminal side $1,800; Litchfield, civil, $2,000, criminal $100.

Including the West Cornwall-Sharon highway in the trunk line system.

Providing open season on raccoons from October 7 to December 7.

Compelling physicians to notify the state department of health of changes in address.

Including Terryville-Hartington highway in the trunk line system.

Providing for the manner of handling strathyl by the state sanitary code.

Extending to July, 1929, the time for organization of the Fairfield County Mortgage and Title Company.

Providing for issue of school bonds by the city of Norwich to the amount of $450,000.

Providing state aid to towns for public health nursing on the basis of town revenues.

MEXICAN PEACE DEAL COMING, STILL BELIEF

(Continued from page 1.)
or more cases of American oil producers which are now before the courts shall be settled before any attempt at arbitration is made. The arbitration it is stated must follow the decisions of the Mexican courts.

President Calles has not committed himself to the acceptance of arbitration, but it is emphasized that if he does the arbitration must be confined to specific cases and not to a general consideration of the Mexican constitution.

Mexico insists that it is her sovereign right to enact whatever laws she pleases to enact and that her constitution can not be submitted to arbitration.

3,000 YAQUIS YIELD. Calles Government Hits Rebels Hard Blow.

Mexico City, Jan. 20.—The government campaign against the rebellious Yaquis was made easier today by the surrender of more than 3,000 Yaquis in Sonora who have been in revolt. This surrender, reported by the military commander of Sonora, will permit the use of the troops which have been engaged against the Yaquis in wiping out other rebel forces.

Government communiques continue to claim successes against the rebels. Defeat of a band led by Manuel Reyes, operating within fifteen miles of the capital, with a rebel loss of one dead and two wounded, is announced. Two victories over the rebels in Jalisco with sixteen rebel dead and five prisoners is also reported.

A three-hour battle has been fought at Nochistlan in Zacatecas with a rebel attack repulsed, six rebels being killed and four taken prisoners, one of the prisoners being a rebel leader. The other men taken prisoners were executed, but the woman was turned over to the civil authorities.

OIL LAW IN COURT. Injunction Proceedings Start to Test Validity.

Mexico City, Jan. 20.—A temporary injunction against the operation of the new petroleum law, pending a response by the government to charges that the law is illegal, was today granted to three large oil companies which have filed injunction suits.

The duration of the injunction is for three days.

No matter what the decision of the lower courts may be, it is expected that the dispute will be carried to the supreme court.

ABOUT TOWN

Miss Esther Barrabee, pupil of Miss Grace Adams, will give a piano recital tomorrow evening at Watkins Brothers' music rooms, using the Steinway grand piano.

Chapman Court Order of Amaranth will hold its regular meeting this evening in Odd Fellows hall. There will be a roll-call of members, each one to respond with a verse or funny saying. A social will follow the meeting.

Mrs. Charles L. Ricketts of Monson, Mass., for several years a resident at the north side of the town, has been spending a few days here, renewing acquaintances.

According to the report of the State Department of Health, issued January 15, Manchester has one case of diphtheria and two of scarlet fever.

Mrs. Iva Ingraham will assist Mrs. Mark Holmes at the benefit which is being given for Pythian Sisters, at Mrs. Holmes' home, 232 North Main street.

Dr. F. A. Sweet is chairman of the committee of arrangements for the "ladies' night" whist and social at the fire headquarters on Main and Hilliard streets this evening. This is the regular monthly meeting night of Hose Company No. 2 and card playing and a social with refreshments will follow.

Contractor David Chambers this morning began work on some of the improvements to be made in the interior of the old Hall of Records building.

The rooms formerly occupied by the judge of probate are to be renovated. The ceiling plaster is to be taken down and replaced with cellulose and the side walls are to be repaired and painted.

The main room, which was formerly occupied by the judge of probate for hearings, as well as by the selectmen before the new municipal building was erected, will be used as a police court room. This will provide more room and much more suitable quarters than the present court room which is located in the basement. There will be additional rooms at the rear of the court room which can be used by the prosecuting attorney, the judge and the clerk of the court. Changes in the basement of the building are to be made so that it will be possible in the future for the police to be sent at a moment's notice. For the time being, however, the only improvements to be made will be those on the main floor.

How Cables Are Laid Told to Our C. of C.

District Manager Interests Manchester Business and Professional Men at Meeting Last Evening.

At a well attended meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in Tinker hall last evening, the members listened to reports of the general committee in charge of the February banquet and the committee on city classification. U. J. Lupien for the banquet committee reported all arrangements complete with two speakers, orchestra, quartet, and entertainment all arranged and Scott Simpson's novelty committee actively at work.

Charles W. Holman, chairman of the city classification committee, reported meetings of his committee, to which senator and representatives had been invited, and also of conference with Major Buckley of Hartford, who drafted the bill through the Representative Marjory Cheney will present to the Legislature.

Industrial Survey
An industrial survey of Manchester was also discussed and a motion was passed requesting the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to conduct an investigation as to the cost and advisability of having such a survey made.

Following the business session, T. E. Willis, district commercial cable manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, spoke for half an hour on telegraph cables. This subject would not appear to the ordinary person as having a great deal of interest, but seldom have speakers at Chamber of Commerce meetings aroused more interest in their subject or had more questions asked of them than did Mr. Willis, and even after the close of his address, Mr. Willis was surrounded half an hour by a group of men anxious to hear more of the details of how cables are made, laid and operated.

Mr. Willis' address
Following is Mr. Willis' address in part:
"We are told that hundreds of years ago Europe and America were connected but through process of eruptions, etc., they were divided until now we are about three thousand miles apart. If you will refer to your map, you will see that Africa and South America placed together would make a very good fit. The ocean is washing away from our shores at the rate of one foot in a thousand years.

"The great problem has been to bring America and Europe closer together and the cable has been a great help in this regard. It is a great day equipment, until now England, telegraphically speaking, is as close as our nearest town.

"The first record of a message sent over electrical wires was as early as 1793. Since constructed a line 26 miles long from Madrid to Aranjuez.

"The first record of telegraph under the water was in the year 1838, by Brook across River Houlton.

"The first in the United States was by Morse in the year 1842 between Castle Garden and Governor's Island in the harbor of New York.

"Cyrus W. Field made various attempts at a cable between Europe and United States during the years 1857-1858-1865 but the fourth and successful attempt was completed in 14 days. The cable of 1865 was repaired making two cables in operation.

Submarine Cables
"There are now approximately 300,000 miles of submarine cable owned by 32 private companies and 26 nations.

"In 1866 the cost of a 20 word cable to Europe was $100,000, but you can now send a 20 word cable for $1,000.

"Mr. Willis explained the various classes of cable service which are in effect in the various countries of the world, also gave an outline of all of the principal cables of the world, and the various major improvements in the cable for about twenty years until five years ago when America came into her own through that great telegraph and cable man, Newcomb Carlton, and his engineers, by giving to the world three inventions which have staggered the cable men of the old school. They are:
The rotor transmitter making it possible to transmit messages direct without manual relay between Chicago, Boston, New York, London and Liverpool; also London and San Francisco.

Cable printer, which has made it possible to print in the Roman character direct across the ocean. Only a tiny tape 1/4 inch wide and 1-16 inch thick—but it makes it possible to multiply by five times the number of words that can be sent over a cable in a given time. It is used in the new Western Union cable just laid between Great Britain and New York. It was used first in the Western Union cable to the Azores.

The use of "permalloy" and the perfecting of automatic devices which permit as many as eight messages to be sent at the same time over the same cable, is speeding the day when no one will tolerate the time-waste inherent in the carrying of letters by ships.

Aids Business Men
Mr. Willis explained that his company was in a position to be of great assistance to business men in this country who are interested in the foreign trade and explained that Supt. Collins was in a position to furnish whatever information

MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET SUCCESS

About 250 Present At Annual Social At South Methodist Church—Enjoyable Program.

Thoroughly enjoyable was the annual Mother and Daughter banquet last night at the South Methodist church. About 6:30 the mothers and daughters to the number of about 250, each wearing paper caps of all colors and shapes, marched down to the banquet hall and took their places at the attractively set tables. In some instances three generations sat together, and in the gathering were tots of tender years and grandmothers who had grown old gracefully. The Sunday school orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Howard, added to the pleasure of the occasion by their fine work during the progress of the program.

The decorations of the table decoration was red and white, and this was carried out even to the lettered programs. The centerpieces on each table, was red and white carnations and asparagus fern. Red ribbon streamers. On either side led to red candles. Dishes of olives and celery were already on the tables. Each table was served with a platter containing a generous serving of creamed chicken on biscuit, mashed potatoes, peas and carrots. For dessert there was ice cream and chocolate cake. The white-coated waiters were the members of the Friendship League and other organizations of the church, and they proved most efficient.

Song Sheets
Song sheets were at each plate and the cheer and song leader was Miss Mabel Pollard, director of religious education. Blank spaces were left to insert the names of the women of the committee and others who had labored tirelessly in preparation for the banquet. The mothers sang to the daughters and vice versa as Miss Pollard requested to the pastor, Rev. Joseph Cooper and to the educational director as well.

Rev. Mr. Cooper then introduced the toastmistress of the banquet, Mrs. Ada McCue, who in behalf of the committee of arrangements extended a hearty welcome to all the mothers and daughters assembled. Short speeches in response to the welcome were made by Mrs. Clarence L. Taylor of the committee of arrangements, speaking for the mothers; and Miss Helen Gardner representing the daughters. Mrs. Mary Benson in response to the message of welcome, paid a glowing tribute to the daughters, from a Scotch mother's viewpoint. Mrs. Benson told several amusing stories among them was at the expense of her Scotch kinsmen. Miss Doris Keeney's tribute was to the mothers. She gave quotations showing the reverence and love of the great emancipator, Abraham Lincoln for his mother and recited a poem entitled "Go My Mother."

Miss Evelyn Hall of Wethers-

START WORK TODAY ON HALL OF RECORDS

Contractor Chambers to Make Improvements in Police Building.

Contractor David Chambers this morning began work on some of the improvements to be made in the interior of the old Hall of Records building.

The rooms formerly occupied by the judge of probate are to be renovated. The ceiling plaster is to be taken down and replaced with cellulose and the side walls are to be repaired and painted.

The main room, which was formerly occupied by the judge of probate for hearings, as well as by the selectmen before the new municipal building was erected, will be used as a police court room. This will provide more room and much more suitable quarters than the present court room which is located in the basement. There will be additional rooms at the rear of the court room which can be used by the prosecuting attorney, the judge and the clerk of the court. Changes in the basement of the building are to be made so that it will be possible in the future for the police to be sent at a moment's notice. For the time being, however, the only improvements to be made will be those on the main floor.

When your Child has Croup

RUBBED ON throat and chest, the effect of Vicks in relieving spasmodic croup is two fold:
(1) Its medicated vapors, released by body heat, reach air passages direct;
(2) At the same time it stimulates the skin, thus helping the inhaled vapors ease the difficult breathing.

gets 2 ways at once
VICKS
2 MILLION LARS USED YEARLY

Children like KEMP'S BALSAM for Coughs!

field, the elocutionist who was to have entertained the assembly, Miss Beatrice Johnson of Johnson terrace, a promising young reader and a prominent member of the Town players, gave several selections which were very well received.

Interesting Debate
One of the pleasurable numbers on the program was the debate—"Resolved that mothers should more often accompany their daughters to social functions," with Mrs. L. S. Burr and Miss Alice Harrison on the affirmative side and Mrs. George Keith and Miss Elsie Harrison their opponents. The arguments were very clever, witty and up to date on both sides, and when Mrs. Paul Ferris came to report the decision of the judges she remarked that as they had no daughters of their own, they would leave it to the gathering to decide, which announcement was greeted with applause.

A very pretty motion song "O Zion Haste" was effectively sung and acted in pantomime by seven white-robed young girls.

Rev. Mr. Cooper then gave a stirring address, the subject of which "The Place of Mothers and Daughters in the Church," he explained was the subject of his address, as The Herald had previously announced, but was handed to him by the ladies of the committee.

"Close intimacy between mother and daughter should be encouraged," said the speaker. "The mother has the first chance to mold the mind and heart of the child." He recited a poem by Cowper in appreciation of his mother, and gave a detailed description of an article in a current issue of the Zion Herald showing what the ideal American girl is or ought to be, and telling of the check made by the girls sent to the Sequoiaennial in this contest, Miss Margaret Thompson of New Hampshire—an average American girl who makes her own clothes, worked in a shoe factory to earn the wherewithal to go to college, helped her mother and was interested in the affairs of the little country church of which her father was pastor and all community activities. Significant was the comment of the writer of the article, said Mr. Cooper, which was—"I found the mother as good as gold."

Her Best Friend
"A mother should know her daughter's friends by being the girl's best friend herself," continued the speaker. He paid a beautiful tribute to the late Frances Willard, who made her mother the supreme ideal of her life.

"A mother should give every encouragement to her daughter's relationship to the church. The church opens the doors for a wider intelligence and understanding of truth and righteousness. It is a fine thing for a girl to find her interests and companionships in the church," said Mr. Cooper. He referred to the old-time family "bald" pews and rejoiced that we no longer had paid pews in our churches. Commenting on the debate, he said he didn't care whether the mothers accompanied their daughters to social functions or not, but he did want to see the mothers and daughters of the church in their pews every Sunday.

Mrs. J. H. Keith of the committee of arrangements said she had a pleasant little surprise for the gathering. She had learned that the gracious and dignified toastmistress had a birthday the day previous, and in behalf of the committee desired to present her with a bouquet of carnations.

Mrs. George Lynne of Ford street was taken to the Memorial hospital this morning when an operation was performed. The operation was successful and Mrs. Lynne is resting comfortably. Two weeks ago she fell and broke her arm.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the board of relief for the Fifth School District of the Town of Manchester, composed of the assessors, and selectmen of the Town of Manchester, will meet in the school house of the FIFTH SCHOOL DISTRICT, of said Town of Manchester, on Monday, January 24th, 1927, from Seven to Eight O'clock in the afternoon of said day to perform their duties as a Board of Relief of said School District, in relation to the tax of October 1st, 1926, of said School District, on the tax lists of the taxable property within said District on the grand list of said District lately compiled in accordance with the statutes in such cases made and provided.

Dated at Manchester, Conn., this 18th day of January, 1927.
W. H. PALMER
Committeeman.

McIluff-Harrison Studio De'Danse

State Theater Building
Private Instruction for Married Couples.

STATE CAFE AND Delicatessen Lunch

Chas. Kuhr, Prop.
20 Bissell St., So. Manchester
Regular Dinners Served 11:30 a. m. to 2 p. m.
Sandwiches and Light Lunches at all Hours.
All Kinds of Cold Soda, Near Beer on Draught, Fresh Made Cider.

HAYMAKERS TO INSTALL

The Haymakers, a branch of the local Red Men will witness degree work by Arrawana Loft of Middletown Saturday night at Tinker hall. The local loft will also install its officers and a spaghetti dinner will be served at the Red Men's club following the regular meeting.

RIALTO

2 BIG FEATURES TODAY AND TOMORROW
"Broken Homes" With Gaston Glass and Alice Lake
A Poignant Story of the Havoc Wrought by Small Town Gossipers. So Beautifully Told You'll Never Forget It. Adapted from a True Story Magazine Tale.

"Ridin' Straight" STARRING BOB REEVES
An Epic of the Modern West Told in a Convincing and Thrilling Manner. It's Decidedly Different.

An Hilarious Comedy and News

State SUNDAY MON. & TUES.

South Manchester, Conn.
LON CHANEY
Tell it to the Marines

Circle

THE HOME OF HIGH CLASS PHOTOPLAYS
Today and Tomorrow
A DOUBLE FEATURE
The Spirit of Youth! Intriguing Secret!
The First Call of Love!
'A Poor Girl's Romance'
ALSO A PICKED 'Enemy of Men'
COMEDY NEWS SERIAL

NOW PLAYING

SOUTH MANCHESTER
STATE

Rajah Raboid

AMERICA'S GREATEST MIND READER
THE ONLY MAN WHO CAN TELL YOU WHAT YOU ARE THINKING WITHOUT YOU WRITING IT DOWN.
! VAUDEVILLE !
EDWARDS AND GRANT | WILLIE SMITH
COMEDY CAPERS | Singing and Dancing Boy
Morris Comedy Monks Revue

JUST ANOTHER BLONDE

ON THE SCREEN
With Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall
SPECIAL
Tomorrow Morning at 10:30
RAJAH RABOID Will Give a Show for LADIES ONLY
Sunday, Monday and Tuesday
LON CHANEY "Tell it to the Marines" IN

Your Income Tax

A series of articles based on the Revenue Act of 1926 and the latest regulations relating to the income tax. One article will be published each day until every angle of the question is explained.

The revenue act of 1926 provides that if the status of a taxpayer changes during the year his personal exemption shall be determined by apportionment in accordance with the number of months the taxpayer was single, married or the head of a family. The act of 1924 contained a similar provision. For example, a couple married on July 31, 1926, and living together on December 31, 1926, may file a joint return and claim an exemption of $3,208.33. That is, seven-twelfths of $1,500 for the husband while single, or $875, plus seven-twelfths of $1,500 for the wife while single, plus five-twelfths of $3,500 or $1,458.33 for the period during which they were married. If separate returns are made husband and wife may each claim a personal exemption of $1,604.17. The husband is entitled to seven-twelfths of $1,500, or $875, for the period during which he was single, and one-half of five-twelfths of $3,500, or $729.17, for the period during which he was married. The wife is entitled to similar exemptions. In case separate returns are filed, the joint exemption of $1,458.33 for the period during which they were married may be taken either by husband or wife, or divided between them. A person who, on July 31, ceased being the head of a family—the support in one household of a relative or relatives being discontinued—is entitled to an exemption of $2,666.67, which is seven-twelfths of $3,500, plus five-twelfths of $1,500. With regard to the $400 credit for each dependent, the taxpayer's status as of the last day of the taxable year determines this credit. If, during the year, his support of such dependent ceased, he is not entitled to this credit.

COSTS $1.18 A DAY TO KEEP A CHILD

State Children's Aid Society Gives Out Interesting Statistics at Annual Meeting.

One dollar and eighteen cents was reported as the cost per day of each child under the care of the Connecticut Children's Aid Society at that organization's annual meeting yesterday afternoon in Center Church House, Hartford. Other interesting statistics showed that 74,350 days' care had been given in the year ending which 1,093 children in all were served. These items were brought out in the report of Ralph S. Barrow, the executive secretary of the society. Mr. Barrow also said, "Every year is a legislative year in the General Assembly of Constructive Education. There are great movements, local, state-wide and national for the betterment of children in which we have a hand—the work of the Hartford Juvenile Commission, the Regional and State Conference of Social Work, the State's Commission on Institutions and Agencies, the Betterment of Country Life, the State Society for Crippled Children, the local program of Norwich and the Child Welfare League of America. What might not we accomplish, if, with one accord and in masterful fashion, we should set ourselves to the full task of the Conservation of Connecticut Childhood."

LEAGUE TO SUPPORT SHORTER HOURS BILL

Women Voters Organization to Back Measures Now in Legislature.

The Connecticut League of Women Voters will support two bills which the State Federation of Labor is to present to the Legislature. The first is the bill for 48 hours a week for women in industry which is the same one supported at the last session. The second provides a 55 hour rather than a 58 hour week for women in mercantile establishments and is presented for the first time.

"The League supports such laws regulating the hours of work of women and children because the health of women is particularly vital to the well being of the whole community," states Miss Anne Sophia Gruman, chairman of the League's committee of Women in Industry.

"It is true that the most efficient and progressive employers already schedule such hours as these laws would require; but there are still a considerable number who do not, and it is to bring these up to the standard of the others that the laws are designed. These bills will be supported, then, to assure to industrial and mercantile women a little more protection from the poisons of accumulated fatigue, to give them a little leisure for the cultivation of their personal and civic interests; and to thereby provide for the next generation more healthy and more cultured mothers."

Feed Lay-or-Bust or Full-O-Pop Mash now for more eggs. Manchester Green store. Phone 74.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

WTIC

Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn. 487.

Program for Thursday

6:00 p. m.—Dinner Concert, Heublein Trio
a. Sevillana, Entr'acte "Don Cesar de Bazan" Massenet
b. Musical Gems of Tschalkowsky Langey
c. By the Waters of Minnetonka Leairance
d. By the Brook Boisdoffre
e. Excerpts from "Che Chin Chow"

6:25—News

6:30—Cliftonian Concert from the Club Palais Royal

7:00—Mid-week Religious Sing

7:30—Staff Artists' Joint Recital with Mabel Pinely Armstrong, Contralto and Burton Cornwall, Baritone

Duet—
a. Nourne Chamblade
Mrs. Armstrong and Mr. Cornwall
Baritone—
a. Love is a Sickness Horatio Parker
b. Come, Oh Come My Heart's Delight Horatio Parker
c. Once I Loved a Maiden Fair Horatio Parker
Mr. Cornwall

Duet—
a. Gray Days Joel Johnson
b. My Boat O'er the Tide is Speeding Gruber Hoffman
Mrs. Armstrong and Mr. Cornwall

Contralto—
a. Tributer Howard Fisher
b. Bonnie Wee Thing Elza Lehman
Mrs. Armstrong

Duet—
Night Hymn at Sea A. Goring Thomas
Mrs. Armstrong and Mr. Cornwall

8:00—Outlet Owlets

8:30—Capitol Theater Orchestra

9:00—The Connecticut River

Banking Hour with The Satcha Jacobsen String Quartette

The Quartette—
a. Allegro ma non troppo Dvorak
b. Lento
c. Molto Vivace
d. Finals (Vivace ma non troppo)
Solo Solos—
a. Apres une reve Faure
b. Spanish Serenade Popper
c. Village Dance Popper
d. Elfentanz Popper
Marie Roemaet Rosanorr
Violin Solos
a. Spanish Dance Granados-Kreisler
b. Indian Lament Dvorak-Kreisler
c. Sicilienne and Rigaudon Francaeur-Kreisler
Louis Kaufman
The Quartette—
a. To a Wild Rose MacDowell
b. Molly on the Shore Gralinger
c. Drink to me only with thine Eyes (Old English)

10:00—Weather

Bunions
Quick relief from pain. Prevent shoe pressure. At all drug and shoe stores.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads Put one on—the pain is gone.

Mothers, Do This—
When the children cough, rub Musterole on their throats and chests. No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then's when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole hand to give prompt relief.

As first aid, Musterole is excellent. Keep a jar ready for instant use.

It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Jars & Tubes.

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER
Better than a mustard plaster

No Money Down!

SPECIAL SPECIAL OFFER
Clearance Sale we are going to offer the public the greatest bargains of all time.

EASIEST TERMS!

Women's & Misses' COATS $19.99
Fire-tailoring and Trims
DRESSES $14.99

Men's and Young Men's COATS, $29.50
Suits, $24.50
Hats, $2.50
Boys' Suits, Two-Piece, $9.50 up

NO MONEY DOWN

OPEN SAT. EVE.

THE Caesar-Misch Store

240 Asylum St., Hartford

We are strong for Winter Sports, and are supporting the Skating Carnival by a drastic Cut in Prices on Skates, Hockeys and Sleds.

Friday and Saturday Only

SHOE SKATES	Regular Prices	Friday and Saturday Only
Spalding Blue Streak (Tubular)	$11.00	Outfits $7.75
Union Tubular	$9.00	Outfits $6.75
Union Regular	$6.50	Outfits $4.50

KEY SKATES	Regular Prices	Friday and Saturday Only
Union	$1.25	$1.00
Union	$1.50	$1.25
Union	$3.00	$2.25
Union	$4.00	$3.25

No Charge for Straps with Club Skates
Hockeys	.75	.50
Hockeys	$1.00	.75
Hockeys	$2.00	$1.25

SLEDS, All Genuine Flexible Flyers
No. 1	$3.75	$2.75
No. 2	$4.75	$3.50
No. 3	$6.00	$4.50
No. 4	$6.50	$4.75
No. 5	$8.75	$6.50
Jr. Racer	$5.25	$3.85
Racer	$6.50	$4.75

Let's co-operate with the Carnival Committee and make this a real event.

Manchester Plumbing & Supply Co.

It's Hardware We Have It.

Advertise in The Herald—It Pays

GB

What Price Discount?

"WHY discounts at all?" asks a manufacturer . . . "Why not sell good furniture at the lowest possible prices in the first place?" He is quite right.

The manufacturer of furniture does not offer discounts to the retailer. The retailer knows well that a discount means nothing . . . the thing that interests him most is the quality and the final price. The person buying furniture from the retailer is interested in the same thing. It is how much quality you get for what you pay that really counts.

Many of the large stores throughout the country no longer have "sales." Why confuse the public with discounts when it is good furniture at the lowest price they really want.

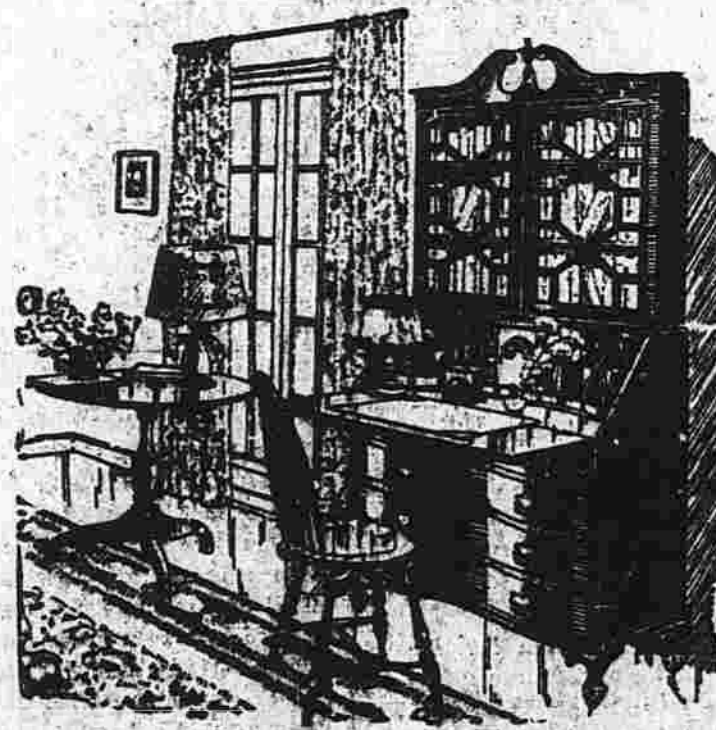

Naturally a discount is offered from a higher price . . . but why should there be a higher price.

And even after the discount is deducted does the reduced price represent the lowest possible level? Not always, because even a reduced price can be too high. These large stores are saying: "Why sell at a high price one month and a discount price the next month . . . We sell at the lowest possible prices all the time."

—and Garber Brothers operate their store in the same manner. We do not believe in selling at a high price to Mrs. Smith in December and then sell to Mrs. Jones at a discount price in January. We believe in selling at the lowest possible prices to all, all the time.

. . . and Garber Brothers' low prices are based on important economies which are of vital interest to every person contemplating buying new furniture. Economies brought about by low rental . . . low overhead expense . . . manufacturing facilities . . . LACK of show windows, pretentious surroundings and unnecessary frills.

And Dear reader, if you compare "sale" prices with Garber Brothers' EVERYDAY prices . . . you will find that the savings you hoped to make at "sales" are available to you EVERY DAY in the year at Garber Brothers.

We NEVER have "sales"
We ALWAYS sell for less

GARBER BROTHERS

FINE FURNITURE direct to the Public

MORGAN & MARKET ST.

One Short Block From Main Street
Hartford

Manchester Evening Herald

PUBLISHED BY THE HERALD PRINTING CO. Founded by Elwood S. Ela Oct. 1, 1881

Every Evening Except Sundays and Holidays. Entered at the Post Office at Manchester as Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Mail six dollars a year, sixty cents a month for shorter periods.

By carrier, eighteen cents a week. Single copies, three cents.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVE, Hamilton-D. Lissner, Inc., 235 Madison Avenue, New York and 612 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

The Manchester Evening Herald is on sale in New York City at Schultze's News Stand, Sixth Avenue and 42nd Street and 42nd Street entrance of Grand Central Station.

"International News Service has the exclusive rights to use for republication in any form all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper. It is also exclusively entitled to use for republication all the local or undated news published herein."

THURSDAY, JAN. 20, 1927.

OUTSIDERS COME IN.

Disclosure that interests headed by a member of the famous transportation family of Vanderbilts are getting a toehold in Connecticut motorbus services is more interesting than frightening.

The name of Vanderbilt has always made a close chord with that of the New York Central Railroad, and it has never figured in Connecticut economies.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, at Washington, can supply committees with past experiences of other cities along this line.

There was once a Vanderbilt who said "The Public be damned!" but he didn't at all mean it in the uncompromising sense with which he has been accredited.

Frank R. Kent, born with the treasonable words of "Maryland, My Maryland" ringing in his ears and saturated with Southernism of the most blatant sort, has evidently come into conflict at some time or other with the poised, intellectual personality of Senator Hiram Bingham.

The Kent article, which we see no reason for quoting, could not well be denied its place of prominence in the Baltimore Sun, for Mr. Kent runs that newspaper, as much for his own exploitation as anything else, and there could be no exercise of cooler newspaper judgment in restraint of it.

Just how the Hartford Times, however, reconciles its sense of decency with the reprinting of the Baltimore man's spiteful outpourings, we confess our inability to see.

There was introduced into the United States Senate recently, through the familiar method of incorporating it in a speech, an address delivered at the last convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress by Major General

Revival Week

How Parsons, Kas., Awakened Pride and Loyalty Over All of Southeast Kansas.

This is one of a series of 20 articles on what modern American cities are doing to meet problems of growth and progress. Tomorrow: Two kinds of Population.

BY DON E. MOWRY

Secretary American Community Advertising Campaign.

A "Civic revival week" is the latest stunt to be adopted by forward looking cities.

Parsons was 55 years old recently, and, to celebrate it, staged one of the greatest civic weeks ever held anywhere.

Neighbors Co-operate.

On Wednesday was held a Southeast Kansas Farm Congress; on Thursday, a Southeast Kansas Business Congress.

A "Queen of the Kingdom of Southeast Kansas" was selected by a committee of newspapermen, and was given her crown by the governor.

Fosters Loyalty.

All of southeast Kansas, as a result of this civic week, has had a new wave of loyalty and determination to progress.

Without such "revival" weeks, cities often fall into habits which fail to impress either their own citizens or outsiders with the advantages at hand.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, at Washington, can supply committees with past experiences of other cities along this line.

al Edgar Jadwin, chief of engineers, which, unlike a great many speeches, contained a most worthwhile idea.

In the course of the address General Jadwin pointed out that the United States has spent on our oceanic and gulf harbors, from time to time, a total of $465,000,000; upon our Lake harbors and channels about $160,000,000.

The $465,000,000 spent altogether on the ocean and gulf ports saves the people of the United States, every year, $450,000,000 in freight costs.

There is the germ of the brand new idea of General Jadwin. The developed idea is that our national bookkeeping is absolutely all wrong when it fails to show how the money comes back from such expenditures.

This is a department of civics which is never taught in the schools. It isn't so far as we know, taught anywhere.

As a consequence there are a great many people in Connecticut who pull very long faces when they see the reports of state money spent for roads, for they haven't the remotest idea that these roads are paying enormous interest on their cost in the immeasurable increase in the business of the Commonwealth that they make possible.

General Jadwin very seriously advocates the adoption of a system of government bookkeeping whereby government investments in commercial facilities shall be credited with the provable earnings properly creditable to them.

If the people of Connecticut were assured, as they probably could honestly be, that all the money that the tax payers spend on state roads comes right back into their own pockets with a profit of many fold, there would probably be less kicking over state taxes and a far better understanding of the larger aspects of economies.

DIRT.

There is something almost vicious in the readiness of persons of a certain type—and they are usually persons who make loud professions of purity of mind—to open their minds to accusations of the most dreadful kind against individuals of whose guilt or innocence they have no means of knowing, especially if these individuals have been successful in public life of any sort.

The shrieks of hysterical persons who call for the suppression of the Chaplin movie films on the bare allegations of a young woman of questionable antecedents that he has been a bad husband and an immoral person is carrying this business perhaps a little further than it has ever been carried before.

It is encouraging that there is a definite reaction to it—that in several cities the condemnation of Chaplin pictures has elicited promptly a counter demand for the showing of them all, old and new, so that those who believe in fair play may give substantial testimony to their belief by flocking to the theatres and laughing again at the funny man—or weeping with him as the case may be.

This is not an Arbuckle case. In that sordid tragedy there was evidence of debasement and there was a killing. Chaplin, so far as anybody really knows or has any valid reason to believe, is a decent fellow and a gentleman.

It seems to us that it takes a singularly nasty mind to accept at face value the charges against Chaplin at the present stage of the proceedings.

MEXICO ET ALS.

The position of the State Department with relation to Mexican arbitration seems to be a risky matter on which to hazard opinion.

One thing seems to be indicated in the Latin-American situation, however. Since both Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Kellogg are agreed in commitment to the policy of withdrawing our forces from Nicaragua as soon as peace is restored, the obvious strategy on the part of the Sacasa party in that country is to call off the present revolution forthwith, give the United States opportunity of getting out of the middle gracefully and then, starting all over again, put Senator Diaz out and Dr. Sacasa in, if that be the will of the majority of Nicaraguans.

NIGHT TAXIS.

New York permits itself to be surprised when it is disclosed that a night taxi driver, fined for a slight traffic violation, is a stock broker by day, and by the subsequent statement of a taxi company manager that it is not uncommon for physicians or lawyers to drive insufficient incomes by driving taxis at night.

When one considers the size of the tips handed out by the butter and egg men and other show-offs from the wilds, it would not be at all surprising anytime to hear of a day-time Standard Oil president flaring as the midnight pilot of a cab around the Roaring Forties.

My heart leaps up when I behold A rainbow in the sky; So was it when my life began, So is it now I am a man So be it when I shall grow old Or let me die!

David Garrick, actor, died, 1779; John Marshall appointed chief justice United States supreme court, 1801; Robert Morris, American financier, born, 1734.

Crawford Ranges

Better Ranges, Lower Prices, Easier Terms

A Whole Year to Pay on the Watkins Plan of Easy Payments

HERE are the new low prices we have been telling you about—the easy Watkins terms—and the best range we know of! Crawford ranges have been made since 1855 by one of New England's largest and most up-to-date range factories—72 years of faithfully serving the public.

These famous ranges are, we believe, more up-to-date in designs, more carefully assembled and have smoother castings and cost less than any other Quality range!

Make your selection tomorrow—and pay for your Crawford out of your income—a little each week or month.

Fairy Crawford

The small range with the big cooking capacity! Although only 46 1/2 inches long over all it has a full regulation size Crawford oven—20x20 inches! Ideal for the small home or small family. In dull black finish

$81.50

A YEAR TO PAY

Village Crawford

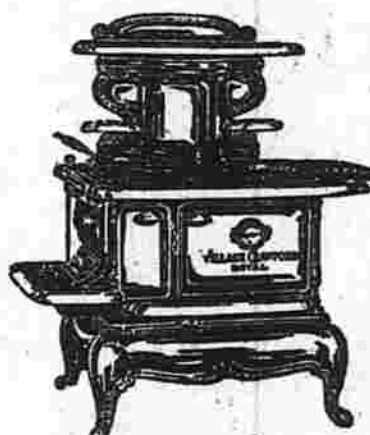

A popular size range—not too large yet big enough for the average family. It is 50 inches long over all and comes as sketched with single mantel in dull black finish

$93.50

In pearl gray porcelain enamel, with double mantel, not shown

$146

A YEAR TO PAY

Victory Combination Crawford

The only range we know of that has three full ovens and a broiler in addition. Most combination ranges have only two ovens and a broiler. Here is the perfect combination of coal and gas—two perfect Crawfords in one range. In two sizes—43 inches as sketched and a new compact model only 37 inches long.

37 inch range in dull black finish.

A YEAR TO PAY

$166

$224

for the 37 inch model in gray porcelain enamel. A YEAR TO PAY.

Discontinued Ranges Reduced

We are clearing our stock of these discontinued floor samples. Any of these ranges can be purchased on the Watkins Plan of Easy Payments—A YEAR TO PAY—at the sale prices!

WATKINS BROTHERS, Inc.

FLORIDA BRANCH—THE WATKINS-LIMBACHER CO.—ST. PETERSBURG.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, Jan. 20.—The first passenger vessels of the United States Lines, which would now be in private hands had not the Senate held up their transfer, made an average profit of $27,149 a month between the first of May and the first of November.

The profit figures cover the busiest period of trans-Atlantic passenger traffic. But they are one of the factors which led Senator Hiram Johnson of California to demand that the Shipping Board's transactions, about to be consummated, be first investigated.

The great Leviathan, for instance, reported a profit of $8540 for the month of October, which certainly should have been a pleasant surprise for somebody, because her budget estimated a loss of $51,045 for her voyages in that month.

When the line made its profit of $1,682,396 in the May-to-November period, it was the first time it had shown a profit over so long a period.

grand surplus of $212,353 for the month should have justified the American people, if they acted like any private owner under similar circumstances, in calling out the band and doing somersaults down Main street.

Latest available figures show that the President Harding continues to be the line's big money-maker, with an October profit of $52,012. The Republic netted $17,509, the George Washington $14,008 and the President Roosevelt, returning to New York twice during the month, showed $7684 profit for the first voyage and $32,212 for the second.

It would seem amply proved that the financial situation of the government's passenger liners was distinctly improving. The tourist business last summer was huge, but material reduction has been made in operating expenses.

In the case of the six American Merchant Lines vessels, which cost $5,000,000 apiece to build and which the Shipping Board now seeks to sell for $200,000 each, the situation also seems improved. The plan to sell these to the J. H. Winchester Company of New York in a deal which would involve leasing by the same company of the Leviathan, Roosevelt, Harding, Republic and George Washington for $1000 a month apiece for ten years. In addition, the government would lend $300,000,000 for building two new ships and subsidize the company for carrying mail.

Well, the Merchant Lines ships are losing money, but not so much as you might think or as much as their present managers actually thought they would.

These vessels terminated four voyages in New York during October and showed a net loss of $2547. But the budget had estimated, on the basis of an average of 4 1-2 voyages a month, that the loss would be $30,334.

The Winchester proposition, which the Senate has held up, provides that the company must operate these vessels in trans-Atlantic trade for ten years, after which it may use them for coast-wise shipping. The concern says they would be worth $500,000 if it could operate along the coast as soon as it obtained them.

IF STOMACH IS TROUBLING YOU Instantly End Indigestion or Stomach Misery with "Pape's Diapepsin"

As soon as you eat a tablet or two of "Pape's Diapepsin" your indigestion is gone! Heavy pain, heartburn, flatulence, gases, palpitation, or any misery from a sour stomach and indigestion for a few days have considerably reduced, if not almost banished, all pain and soreness. Continue faithfully and in a reasonable time you should be able to work and rest in comfort again. North End Pharmacy, 50, Manchester Agents, Magness Drug Co., keeps Almarin Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sell lots of it.—adv.

AND DID SHE GIVE IT?

"My wife explored my pockets last night." "What did she get?" "About the same as any other explorer—enough material for a lecture."—Judge.

SCIATIC-NEURITIS

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pains which shoot down the thigh to the foot, often aggravated by walking, and with painful points along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The trouble is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual pain sedative even to alleviate the pain. The best way to get relief from the persistent nerve-racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Almarin Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced, if not almost banished, all pain and soreness. Continue faithfully and in a reasonable time you should be able to work and rest in comfort again. North End Pharmacy, 50, Manchester Agents, Magness Drug Co., keeps Almarin Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sell lots of it.—adv.

The MURDER UNDER WATER

WHO killed Garrett Folsom? And What for? One moment this middle-aged, handsome bachelor was a gay and laughing figure, one of a great throng of holiday revelers bathing in the glorious surf of Ocean Town.

One moment he was exchanging pleasantries with his friends; the next he was a stricken man, limp and lifeless beneath the waves. Life guards carried him out of the water. They laid him on the beach, while the curious gathered and stared in awe.

Drowning? No. Stroke? No. Death had come as the result of a powerful knife thrust beneath the water; a thrust sure and deadly, but from what source no one knew. Detectives, Garrett Folsom's friends, even those who had stood next to him when the murder was committed, were truly

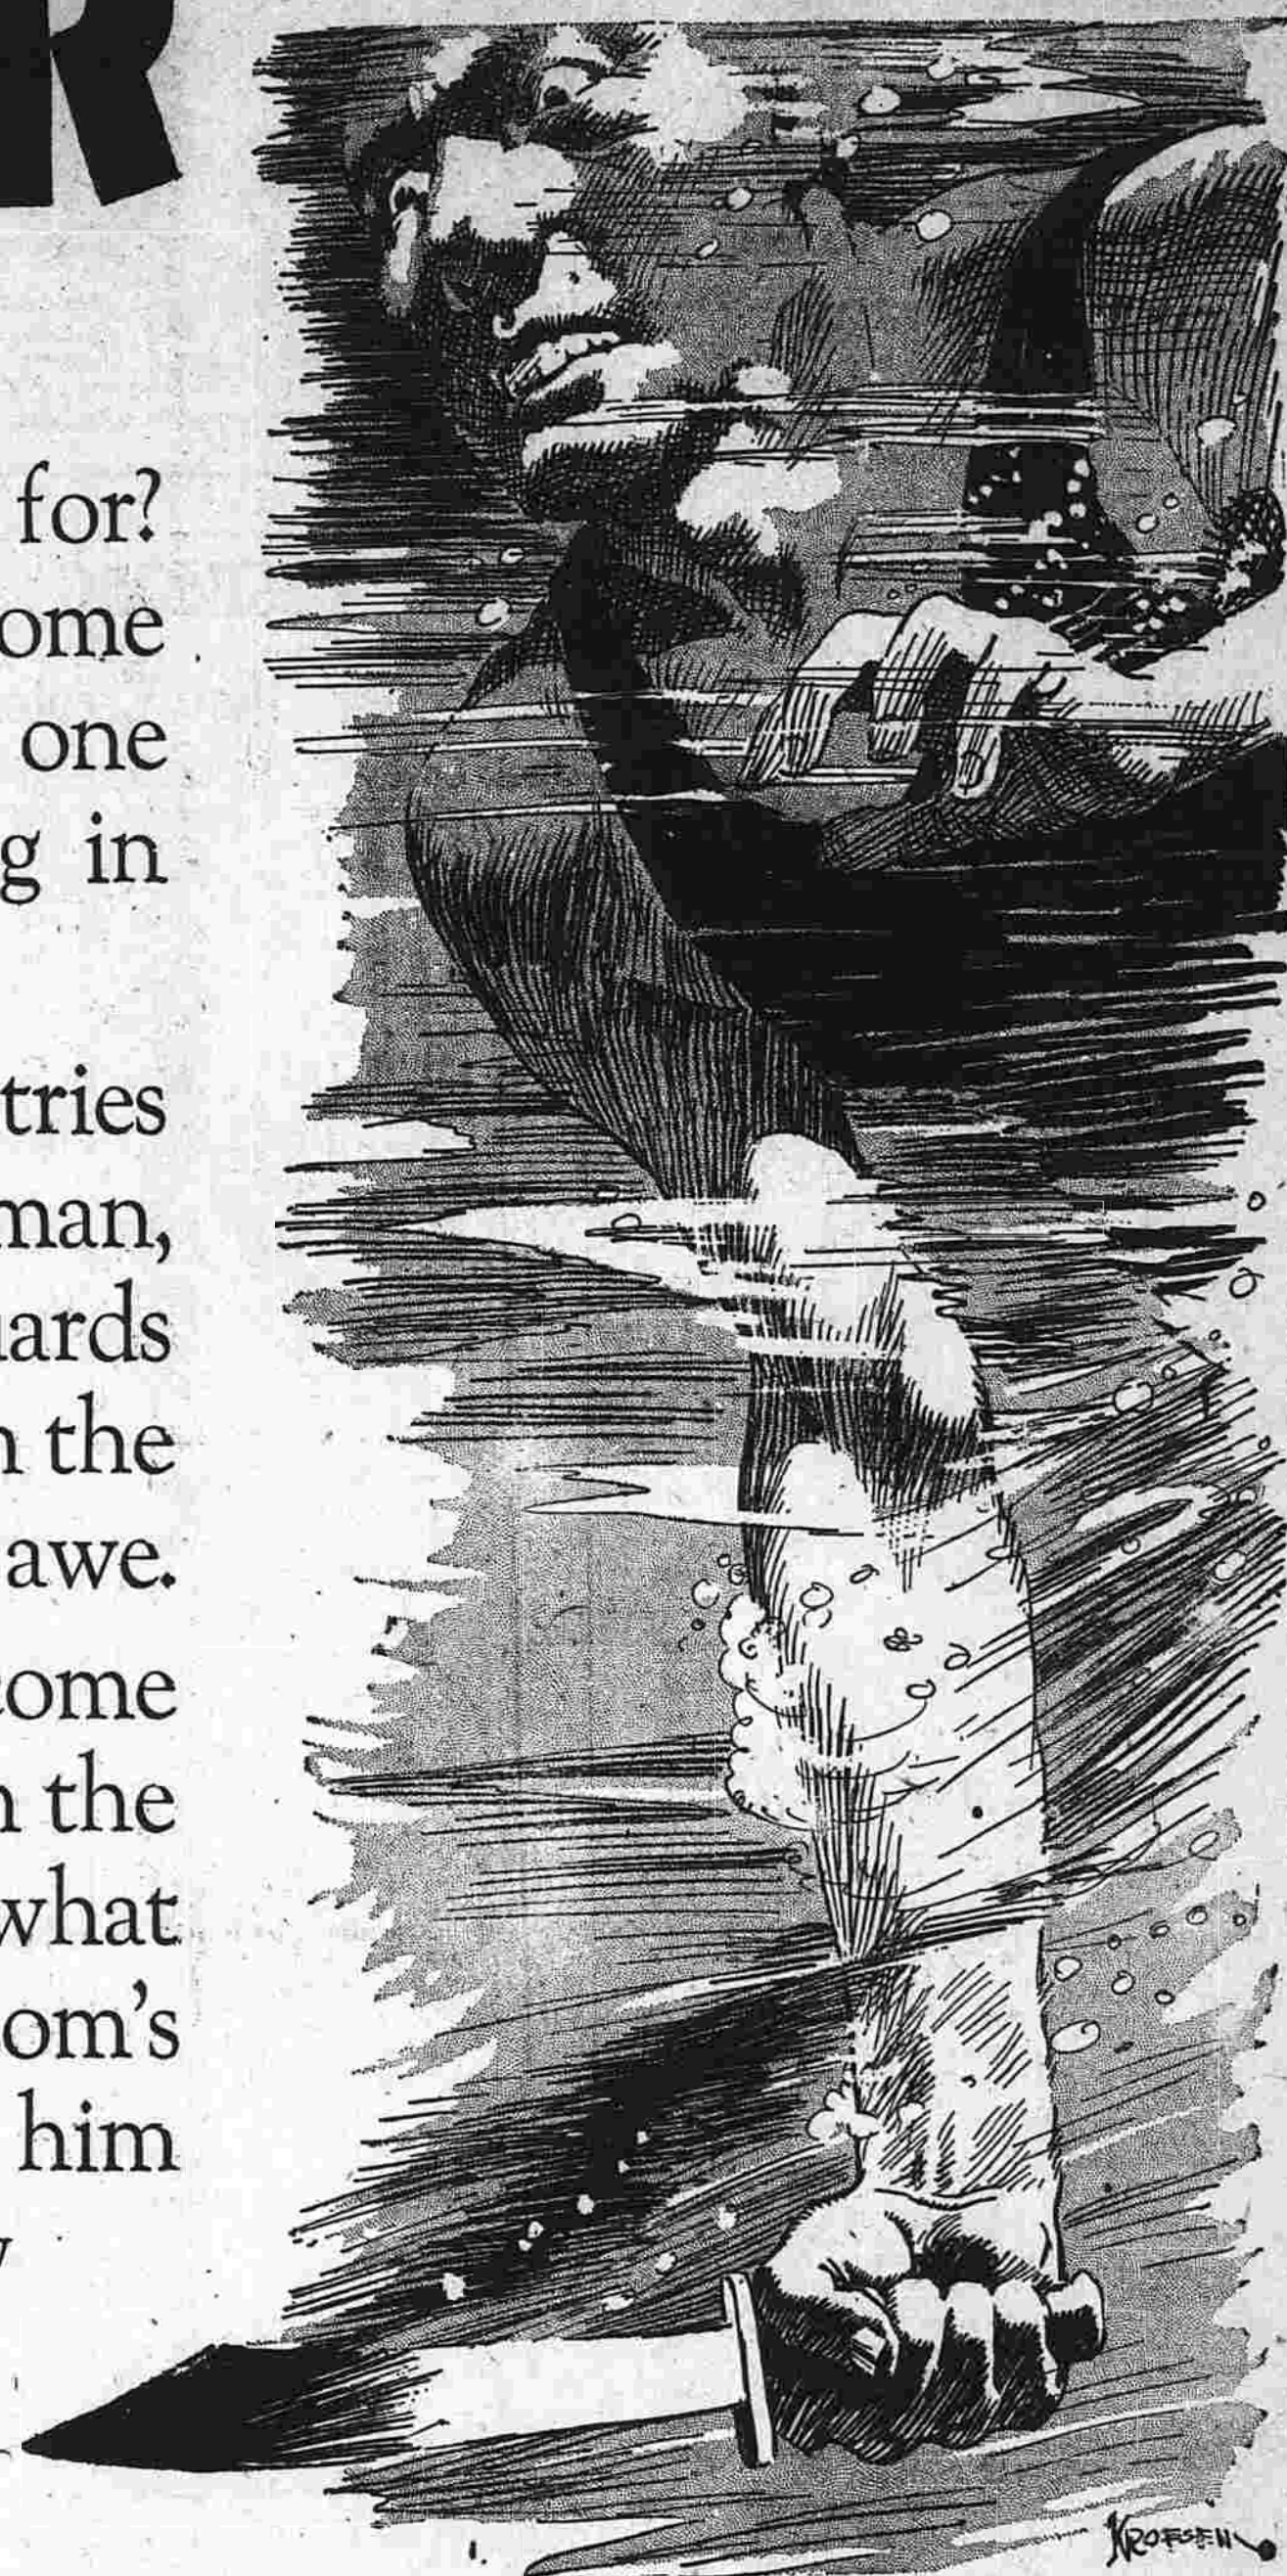

ALL AT SEA

And so Carolyn Wells, truly titled the "mistress of mystery" because of her mastery of the detective story, has aptly named this latest work of hers "All at Sea." You have never read a story like it, never encountered a murder plot so baffling and strange.

The wealthy Garrett Folsom murdered. No clew except the knife, the deadly "pichaq." Finger prints washed away by the salt water; foot prints lost irrevocably in the shifting sands. Who did it, and why? Was money the motive? Was revenge? Was jealousy?

If you are a Carolyn Wells "fan," be prepared for a thousand thrills in this latest story of hers. If you've never read her work, "All at Sea" will explain her popularity as a writer of mystery fiction.

Remember "All at Sea" is written directly for newspaper publication. It is not a reprint from a book. It is NEA Service fiction, which means original fiction. Starts In The HERALD Monday.

This new story by the famous Carolyn Wells is the first serial she has written directly for newspaper publication. Don't miss it. It starts in The Herald Monday, January 24.

It is just one more reason for your reading your fiction in The Herald. The Herald has exclusive rights in Manchester to NEA Service and NEA Service fiction. That means it is the only paper here that prints original fiction stories by such authors as Anne Austin, Carolyn Wells, Virginia Swain and Ernest Lynn.

The Herald Classified Column

Advertising Rates

All For Sale, To Rent, Lost, Found and similar advertising on Classified Page:
 First insertion, 10 cents a line (6 words to line).
 Minimum Charge 30 Cents.
 Repeat insertions (running every day), 5 cents a line.
THESE PRICES ARE FOR CASH WITH COPY.
 An additional charge of 25 cents will be made for advertisements charged and billed.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Cabbage, small or large quantity. For further information, call on Thomas Smith, 313 Lake street or tel 970-3.

FOR SALE—Three second hand buckeye incubators, in first class condition. Call 143-32.

FOR SALE—Apples, Northern Spies, Greenings, Baldwin, Jonathan, by basket, bushel or barrel. Edgewood Fruit Farm, 461 Woodbridge street, W. H. Cowles, Tel. 948.

FOR SALE—Chambers fireless gas range, almost new, Singer sewing machine, New Englander couch, kitchen chairs and tables, etc. 3024 Apt. at Apartment 48, Centennial Apartment.

FOR SALE—Female German police dog, 3 yrs. old, from pedigreed stock. Inquire at 13 Winter street. Telephone 1081.

FOR SALE—Roll top desks, 3 on hand. Glenwood combination coal and gas range. Spruce street Second Hand Store.

FOR SALE—500 bushel of apples, all kinds, all prices. We have apples, good apples and honey sweet cider and vinegar too. Will be glad to exchange these for money. If you'll call nine seven o ring two. W. L. Fish, Lake street, Phone 570-2.

FOR SALE—Fresh carnations, $1 per dozen, callendar, 40c per dozen, also potted plants at half price. Station 22, Burnside Avenue Greenhouses, Laurel 119.

FOR SALE—Chestnut wood, hard wood and hard wood slabs, sawed stove length, and under cover. L. T. Wood, 55 Bissell street. Telephone 498.

FOR SALE—Hard wood, all lengths. Raymond F. DeWald, 655 North Main street. Telephone 2355.

FOR SALE—Hardwood slabs sawed stove length $15.00 per cord. Order by mail or telephone. William J. Whipple, 504-15 evenings. P. H. Whipple, Andover, Conn.

FOR SALE—One cord 4 ft white birch, cut any length, $12.00. Mixed hard wood $14.00. Call William J. Whipple, 504-15.

FOR SALE—Hardwood, Red truck $3.00; hard "ab" $6.00; hard pine and chestnut mixed $6.00 a load. Firpo, 57 Wells street, Phone 154-2.

REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE—Three building lots in Pinehurst section, very reasonable. Inquire of Frank Mahoney, 416 Cedar street.

FOR SALE—For sale or exchange, farm and city property. William Kanehl, 517 Center street.

FOR SALE—5 room bungalow, oak floors and part oak trim, all modern improvements, 2 car garage. Price very reasonable and easy terms. Tel. 1432-12.

TO RENT

FOR RENT—Five room tenement, all the latest improvements. Inquire at 81 Main street.

FOR RENT—Furnished room, 35 Birch street. Telephone 693.

FOR RENT—6 room furnished cottage on Cambridge street. Phone Mrs. O'Connell, 300-5.

FOR RENT—Furnished room with or without board. Inquire at 73 Pine street after 5 p. m.

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms, suitable for light housekeeping, in Jewell Building. Inquire Selwitz Shop.

TO RENT—Garage at 88 Church street. Apply at same address or phone 222.

FOR RENT—Store with fixtures, suitable for confectionery or general store at 136 South Main street. Inquire at 21 Warren street.

FOR RENT—Furnished, five room flat. Inquire at 13 Winter street.

FOR RENT—Three room suite, in the new Johnson Block, facing Main street. All modern improvements. Apply to Aaron Johnson, 62 Linden street or to the janitor.

TO RENT—Steam heated room with use of bath, at 315 Main street. Inquire Murphy Restaurant.

FOR RENT—New five room flat, first floor, modern improvements, and garage, on Woodland street. Apply 35 Woodland street. Phone 1521.

FOR RENT—Six room tenement, all improvements, at 123 Main street. Inquire 14 Spruce or telephone 1320-12.

FOR RENT—Five room flat up stairs, steam heat furnished; also two car garage. Apply 92 Russell street.

TO RENT—3 room heated apartments with bath. Apply shoemaker, Trotter Block.

FOR RENT—One 7 room tenement, Maple street. Apply H. T. Tyson, in care of W. W. Hale Company.

FOR RENT—Three and four room apartments, heat, janitor service, gas range, refrigerator, in-door bed furnished. Call Manchester Construction Company, 3100 or telephone 782-2.

FOR RENT—In Greenacres, first and second floor flats, at 78 and 76 Benton street. Call 820.

LOST

LOST—Male police dog, license No. 25156. Reward if returned to 100 Washington street. Telephone 2284.

LOST—Pair of glasses, in brown leather case, between Watkins and High school, Monday noon. Finder please call 24-12.

FOUND

FOUND—2 female collie dogs. Will owner call 1548 and return property.

MISCELLANEOUS

WANTED—I will pay highest prices for all kinds of junk; also buy all kinds of chickens. Morris H. Lesner, telephone 982-4.

Rags, magazines, bundled paper and junk bought at highest cash prices. Phone 849-3 and I will call J. Eisenberg.

English Woollen Company, tailors since 1858, direct to wearers. Harry Anderson, 38 Church street, South Manchester, Phone 1211-2.

WANTED

Male and Female Help Wanted. Capable Men and Women—Can earn far above average salary, taking orders for Guaranteed Hosiery. Office managers wanted also. Goddard Hosiery Mills, Trenton, N. J.

WANTED—Two or three men boarders. Address Box A in care of Herald.

WANTED—Typing to do at home. Call 2104.

WANTED—To repair and clean sewing machines of all makes. Work guaranteed. Tel. Manchester No. 715. Go anywhere. R. W. Garrard, 17 Edwards street, Manchester.

WANTED—To buy cars for junk. Used parts for auto. Service Station, Oak street. Tel. 789.

WANTED—Some pleasure these long evenings? Why not have that photograph fixed and enjoy the old favorite records once again. Braithwaite, 150 Center street.

Legal Notice

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Manchester, within and for the district of Manchester, on the 18th day of January, A. D., 1927.

Present WILLIAM S. HYDE, Esq., Judge.

Estate of James Rae late of Manchester in said district, deceased.

Upon application of Nettie Rae praying that administration be granted on said estate, as per application on file.

ORDERED—That the foregoing application be heard and determined at the Probate office in Manchester in said District, on the 23rd day of January, A. D., 1927, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice be given to all persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said application and the time and place of hearing thereon, by publishing a copy of this order in some newspaper having circulation in said district, on or before January 19, 1927, and by sending a copy of this order to the public sign-post in said town of Manchester, at least 3 days before the day of said hearing, if they see cause at said time and place and be heard relative thereto, and make return to WILLIAM S. HYDE, Judge.

H-1-20-27.

TEST ANSWERS

These are the correct answers to the questions which appear on the comic page.

- 1—Harry Langdon.
- 2—Major generals rank higher.
- 3—Abraham Lincoln.
- 4—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.
- 5—The race of mankind.
- 6—Shakespeare.
- 7—Aristotles.
- 8—"Crem!"
- 9—A small, poisonous snake.
- 10—West.

A THOUGHT

Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.—Matt. 6:21.

When a young man complains that a young lady has no heart, it is pretty certain that she has his. G. D. Prentice.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

BY ARTHUR N. PACK

President, American Nature Ass'n. What does the word "fox" mean to you?

If you are a woman perhaps it represents a wonderful fur piece.

If you happen to be a farmer it spells "warmint," dreaded enemy of the chicken house.

If you are English it carries the thrill of riding to hounds and being in at the death.

But if you are a Nature lover that it means one of the prettiest, most intelligent and interesting of our wild creatures, and one of the most affectionate when tamed.

The cub fox in this picture, which stood still with difficulty just long enough to have his picture taken, was dug from his burrow six feet underground when he was a tiny bunch of soft gray fur, before his eyes had yet opened on the wide world.

He was an interesting study to the naturalist who adopted him, and became his constant companion. Sad to say, however, that in spite of his Christian upbringing he exhibited at a very early age those traits of character which have brought such a bad reputation upon his kind. His first glimpse of a hen and chickens aroused his sporting blood, and although petted, spoiled and well-fed, he was never known to resist anything in the poultry line.

Cub Fox.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: Kit Carson (10)

In Washington, President Polk and Congress received Carson as a lion, the tales of his exploits through the west having reached the capital. Polk made him a lieutenant and sent him to Monterey with a detachment to guard the passes against the Indians throughout the winter of 1847.

In the spring Carson again set out with dispatches to Washington. At Santa Fe he learned that the Senate had refused to confirm his appointment as lieutenant.

Friends urged him to "let them get somebody else to do their dirty work," but Carson felt he was rendering his country a service and pushed on.

Comanche Indians scoured the Santa Fe road. With ten men Carson took the dare to run that terrible gauntlet. Leaving the beaten trails he worked his way to Fort Leavenworth, down from Nebraska. Here he left his escort, and alone, struck out for Washington. Delivering his messages, Carson hit the long trail again to Taos and home. (Continued.)

BEGINNING "JACK LOCKWILL"

By the Creator of Frank Merriwell

Jack Lockwill at Rocklake Academy

By Gilbert Patten

Jack Lockwill, at the age of six, was a frail and sickly child, nursed and guarded by his parents. His mother, a weak, self-willed, luxury-loving woman, was particularly solicitous about him. Having read "Little Lord Fauntleroy" long ago, she dressed her own son in dainty velveteens and curled his long hair in ringlets to make him resemble as nearly as possible the angelic boy hero of Mrs. Burnett's story.

Jack hated his long hair and fine clothes. From a window of his home he frequently watched other boys at play out of doors, and he wondered why he was never permitted to join them. He felt like a prisoner. After much hesitation, he told his mother about it.

"My dear child," she replied gently, "you're not strong enough to take part in such rough games. Those boys are common little ruffians, and I don't want you to be mixed up with them. Oh, mother!" he cried. "I don't want to be a gentleman! Let me go out and play just a little while, mother dear."

But she wouldn't listen to his entreaties, and Jack felt very sad and rebellious. So one day he slipped out of the house without her being aware of it and ran to join the boys at play. Instead of welcoming him as he had expected they would, they quickly gathered around him, making fun of his old clothes and his ringlets. He stood still and stared at them, dismayed and shocked at their behavior. (To Be Continued.)

STAGE and SCREEN

What's What and When and How at the Local Playhouses.

RAJAH, IN MATINEE FOR WOMEN FRIDAY

Women Only Invited at Morning Show Friday at 10:30; Vaudeville and "Just Another Blonde" Today, Friday and Saturday.

Manchester women will have an opportunity to have their most intimate questions answered tomorrow morning by Rajah Rabold, the famous Hindu mind-reader, who will conduct a special matinee tomorrow morning at 10:30 in the State theater. This matinee is for women only. The usual five acts of vaudeville with the Rajah and the feature picture, "Just Another Blonde," with Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackall will be seen and will run for the remainder of the week.

Rajah Rabold has been appearing at the State this week showing his wonderful powers of mind-reading and mental telepathy. Tomorrow morning, however, the women of Manchester will be allowed to attend this special matinee where their questions and answers will receive more privacy. The readings will begin at 10:30.

"Just Another Blonde," the feature picture for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, is a First National Production. Dorothy Mackall and Jack Mulhall are the leading roles, that of the dance hall hostess and the "house man" of an old established crap game. Dorothy is a blonde than whom there is no blonder and she makes Jack fall for her in spite of himself.

This picture has a set that would make an old-fashioned man or woman weep with homesickness for the good old days before they came to the city.

It is a scene of an old country home. Every detail is perfect, from the rag rugs on the floor to the colored tablecloths—not paid, just colored—and the lovely old sideboard and the oil lamp on the table. Even the dishes are antiques, as well as the family group portrait in its massive frame, and the "God Bless Our Home" motto hanging over the door.

This set is used to represent the

TWO FEATURES TODAY AT RIALTO THEATER

"Broken Homes," an adaptation of a True Story Magazine tale heads a double feature program at the Rialto theater today and tomorrow. From the first fade in until the final climax there is a sweet rhythm of love which has its origin in a small town. It is the kind of a picture which comes once in a millennium for it is replete with humor and pathos. The irrepressible tear that comes to the fan, trickles down the cheek. Just in time to be caught up by the corners of the mouth which forms into a hearty laugh. "Broken Homes" could be no stretch of the imagination be described as wishy-washy entertainment. It is a page torn from life and is sure to please the vast majority of motion picture devotees.

The second feature is an epic of the modern west starring Bob Reeves. It is called "Ridin' Straight" and provides much entertainment, wholly different from the usual line of burlesque which the average fan has come to associate in his mind with western drama. It has some new tests that should thrill and a pretty romance. A hilarious comedy and news events will also be shown.

Laura Jean Libbey PICTURE AT CIRCLE

"Poor Girl's Romance" Feature With "Enemy of Men" Today and Tomorrow.

One of the late Laura Jean Libbey's delightful romances, made into a moving picture, is one of the features on the double bill being shown at the Circle theater tonight and tomorrow. It is "A Poor Girl's Romance," and will be seen with Cullen Landis and Dorothy Revier in "Enemy of Men."

It remained for FBO to utilize a comparatively life-touched subject in moving pictures. In "A Poor Girl's Romance," starring Creighton Hale and Gertrude Shortt, it is the theme of the taxi-cab driver. The United States—the American genius—is composed of various admirable phases of social life outside the experience of other nationalities, and one of the best-known is that of the big city taxi-man.

Johnny Gough, one of the finest character artists on the screen, takes up the gauntlet of delineation in this beautifully-timed film as the hard-bolled, gum-chewing, swaggering, but essentially good-natured taxi-driver who befriends Anne Smith, a poor little girl. The subtlety, the ease, the life-like quality which Mr. Gough invests his screen portrayal are evidence of the master-actor. There was room for this angle on American life in the curriculum of the screen, and Mr. Gough has filled the gap excellently. He should take up the well-known character-roles of the dance hall hostess and the "house man" of an old established crap game. Dorothy is a blonde than whom there is no blonder and she makes Jack fall for her in spite of himself.

This picture has a set that would make an old-fashioned man or woman weep with homesickness for the good old days before they came to the city.

It is a scene of an old country home. Every detail is perfect, from the rag rugs on the floor to the colored tablecloths—not paid, just colored—and the lovely old sideboard and the oil lamp on the table. Even the dishes are antiques, as well as the family group portrait in its massive frame, and the "God Bless Our Home" motto hanging over the door.

This set is used to represent the

NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 20.—Along with autos, movies and the rest, sandwiches threaten to become one of the leading American industries.

With the invasion of the drug-store lunch counters and the brasserie sandwich stands, New York is becoming a city of sandwich nibblers.

Those who "view with alarm" recently started gathering a few statistics and have figured out that in the Broadway lunch-grabbing belt close to one million sandwiches are consumed between one sun-up and the other. This, of course, includes the horde of strollers who drop in at least once during the evening for a little refreshment, in addition to the lunch and dinner-timers.

If these figures seem extravagant, let it be remembered that diners frequently eat more than one and others drop in several times a day. Let it further be recalled that any strange-looking collection of ancient bread and cheese at a night club comes under the heading of a sandwich.

Again, figuring an average cost of 20 cents to each sandwich—which is extremely reasonable—we have a daily sale amounting to $200,000, or an industry bringing in about $70,000,000 a year.

And if this doesn't bring sandwiches among the outstanding industries of the nation—what does? In Greenwich Village there are innumerable little tea and coffee cellars whose cheerful fireplaces save many a struggling artist the necessity of having a costly, heated room.

For 25 cents one may buy a cup of coffee or a pot of tea and move in for the evening. Two bits is the high charge for everything from a bridge deck to a slice of cake. The heat from the brightly glowing fireplaces is thrown in.

Of evenings one may see the earnest young writers, seeking to get a start and earn their meals, by reviewing books, or scribbling bits for the Sunday papers, laboriously grinding out their copy over their empty tea cups—and, of course, keeping warm while they are doing it.

Thus, for a bit more than $1.50 a week, they enjoy all the warmth and comfort of an apartment quite out of reach of their meager purses.

GILBERT SWAN.

General Auto Repairing and Overhauling

SHELDON'S GARAGE
 45 Hollister Street.
 Phone 2328-2 Residence 2328-3

Dr. Fred F. Bushnell VETERINARIAN

494 East Center Street, Manchester Green.
 Office Hours: 7 to 8 P. M.
 TELEPHONE 1847.

ARTESIAN WELLS

Drilled Any Diameter—Any Depth—Any Place

Charles F. Volkert

Blast Hole Drilling
 Test Drilling for Foundation
 Water Systems
 Pumps for All Purposes.
 HIGHLAND PARK P. O.
 Tel. 1375-5.

Typewriters

All makes. Sold, rented, exchanged and overhauled. Special Discounts to Students.

Telephone 821

Kemp's Music House

Phone 128-4

WE SPECIALIZE IN EXAMINING EYES AND FITTING GLASSES

WALTER OLIVER

Optometrist
 915 Main St. So. Manchester.
 Hours, 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.
 Telephone 39-3.

LON CHANEY PICTURE AT STATE NEXT WEEK

"Tell It To Marines." Story of Devil Dogs, Fighting and Love Shows Sunday, Monday, Tuesday.

Lon Chaney is triumphant in the little role of his latest picture, "Tell It To the Marines," a story of life as one of the "Devil Dogs." Chaney is a hard-boiled non-com who takes on himself the job of making a Marine out of a dissolute race-track tout. There is plenty of action and fighting throughout the picture and it is fast from start to finish. It will be seen at the State theater on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Lon Chaney plays the principal character role in the gigantic production, in which the great battle fleet practice of the Pacific fleet is shown; in which the huge guns are seen in action; in which Marines in the field, fight a battle against Chinese bandits in which 1,200 men take part, and other thrilling details.

The picture was staged on a huge scale; entire Chinese towns were built and destroyed; the whole Pacific fleet co-operated in some of the most spectacular scenes of the big picture, and the camera followed the Marine Corps all over the world.

George Hill directed the new picture, with William Haines in the romantic lead as a recruit under Chaney's tutelage. Eleanor Boardman as the heroine, and a cast that includes Carmel Myers, Eddie Gribbon, Mitchell Lewis, Maurice Kains, Daniel C. Tomlinson, and others of note.

Several hundred regular Marines and officers take part in the spectacular details on board ship and in action in Manchuria.

Asian migration to America via Alaska is a proven fact, according to Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, who recently returned from researches in the far north.

PLUMBING FIXTURES

Price alone should never govern either the selection of the fixture or the plumber to do the work. Assurance of good material and workmanship is certain only when there is no false economy in buying plumbing and when good judgment selects the men to install it.

JOSEPH C. WILSON

28 SPRUCE STREET, TELEPHONE 641

Dr. Fred F. Bushnell VETERINARIAN

494 East Center Street, Manchester Green.
 Office Hours: 7 to 8 P. M.
 TELEPHONE 1847.

ARTESIAN WELLS

Drilled Any Diameter—Any Depth—Any Place

Charles F. Volkert

Blast Hole Drilling
 Test Drilling for Foundation
 Water Systems
 Pumps for All Purposes.
 HIGHLAND PARK P. O.
 Tel. 1375-5.

Typewriters

All makes. Sold, rented, exchanged and overhauled. Special Discounts to Students.

Kemp's Music House

Phone 128-4

WE SPECIALIZE IN EXAMINING EYES AND FITTING GLASSES

WALTER OLIVER

Optometrist
 915 Main St. So. Manchester.
 Hours, 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.
 Telephone 39-3.

LITTLE JOE

IF THERE WAS SUCH A THING AS A REAL SECRET, NONE OF US WOULD KNOW IT.

Commonest of all fancy goldfish, and least expensive, is the fantail.

Arthur A. Knofla FIRE and AUTO INSURANCE

875 Main St. Tel. 782-7

AUTO ELECTRICAL SERVICE
 REPAIR WORK GUARANTEED
 NORTON ELECTRICAL REPAIR CO.
 WILLARD ST. NEAR MANCHESTER FREIGHT STATION. PHONE 1

Horses, Horses, Horses! Hornsby Is Crazy Over Horses! Just Like Ruth

By BILL EVANS "Horses, horses, horses! He's crazy about horses, horses, horses!" The guy that wrote the popular song along those lines must have had no less a personage than Rogers Hornsby in mind, if we would believe the word of a wealthy bookie.

The day following the signing of Hornsby to a New York contract for two years, calling for $40,000 per annum, said bookie broke into a cold sweat, a statement that Hornsby was indebted to him to the extent of $92,000.

In other words, the bookie intimated that for the next two years Hornsby would be playing ball merely for his love of horses, horses, horses!

Unusual Coincidence Hornsby ridicules the word of the bookie, says he doesn't owe him so much as a wartime franc, but is willing to settle the claim if his scouter will take stage business in the history of baseball should be full guys for the ponies. Babe Ruth admits that quite a pile of his earnings has gone to swell the bankroll of the bookies.

While the Babe no doubt still likes to make an occasional bet, for there is a glamour to the running races that has a distinct appeal to many of the major league athletes, he has learned his lesson.

In the old days, when Babe was breaking home run records and making an equally earnest effort to bust all the bookies, he thought nothing of betting a grand, as they say, in the parlance of the race track.

Now a century note is a whole lot of bet for him, his limit.

Reformation of Ruth One day last summer I listened to Ruth tell of his reformation, which, by the way, was staged at Havana, Cuba.

Guaranteed $1000 per game for 15 games, Ruth journeyed to Havana at the close of the season to pick up some soft change.

The series of games were to be played over a period of one month.

"The ponies were running at Havana at the same time," said Babe in leading up to his turning over a new leaf, "and when I wasn't on the ball field, I was at the track."

"I took $5000 with me as spending money, earned $15,000 while in Havana and when I was ready to depart, the bookies had my ticket for $5000 and didn't have more than enough left to buy my ticket to the States.

RUPPERT 'KEYMAN' IN B. B. SHOWDOWN

Whichever Way He Votes Will Mean Victory—Johnson Still Yells "Mistake."

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Colonel Jacob Ruppert owner of the New York Yankees, was viewed today as the "key man" in the formations now being drawn for baseball's "showdown" battle, scheduled for Monday here when major league Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis and Byron Bancroft Johnson, president of the American League.

Colonel Ruppert's influence is known to be tremendous, not only in his own circuit, but in moulding the policy of the National Observer, two of his baseball's greatest players, and trying to "pass the buck" to the American League.

Johnson was conceded a fair chance to hold his own against Landis until he aroused the ire of Colonel Ruppert by hinting that "somebody was wrong" with the 1924 World Series.

Ruppert "Exploded" The Yankees lost that series to the Giants, and naturally the colonel did not relish this reflection on his men and organization.

Anything was wrong about the 1922 series. He said the charge trouble was that an imaginative reporter had jockeyed his (Johnson's) words so that they implied things he did not say.

Whether this explanation will assuage Colonel Ruppert and his back to the Johnson fold, remains to be seen.

Bristling Battles of Bare Fist Days

CHAPTER 21 I nearly died laughing when Bill, the man I landed at North Judson, Ind., for my famous fight with Bill Myers, the Stripper Cyclone. A gang of my friends were along with me and the Cyclone had a gang of friends along with him, too, and everywhere we went, walking up and down the streets of the city, the people slammed doors hurriedly in our faces and poked guns out of windows and ordered us to move on.

They thought we were Chicago bandits raiding the town! The fight was held Feb. 13, 1889. It was started above a saloon and as I stood downstairs at the bar watching the attendance troop upstairs, I noticed a suspicious bulge over every man's hip.

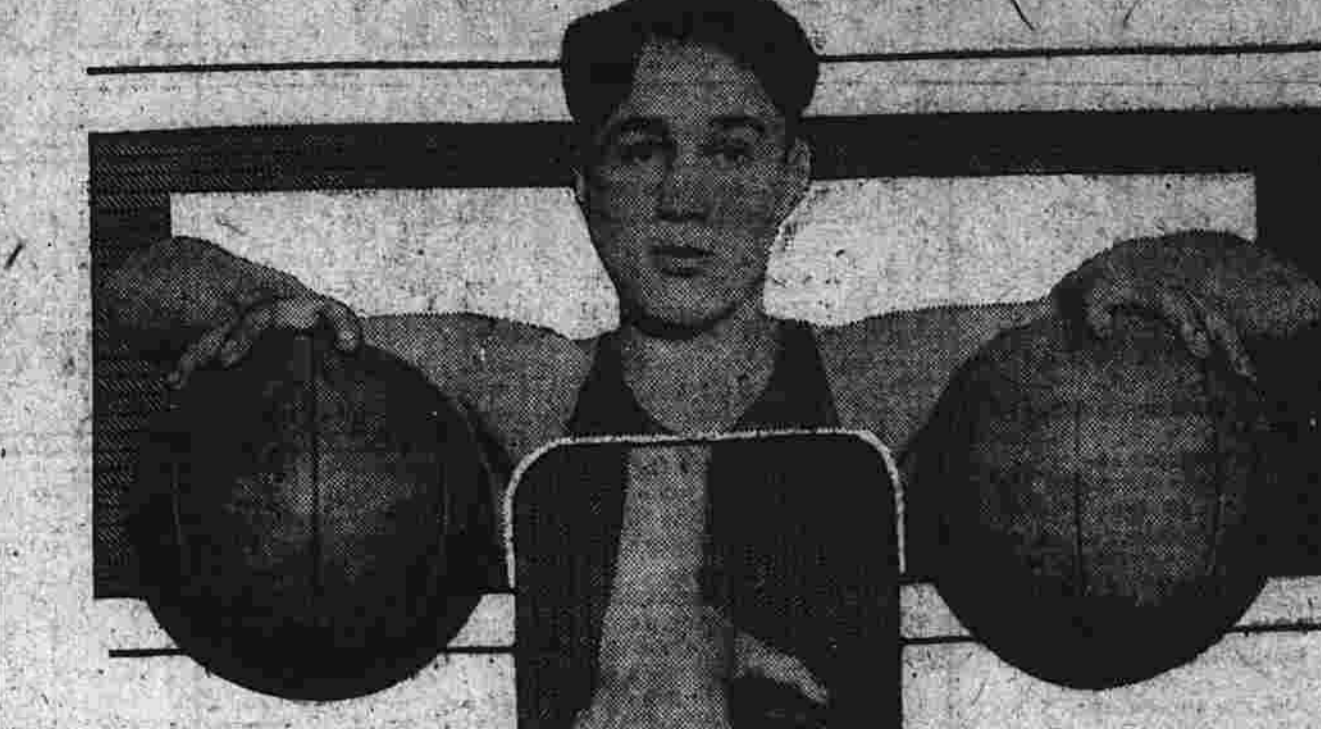

They were all packing guns. You can imagine how I felt, coming from the east, hearing all the stories about how tough the Chicago gangmen were, and then facing a dangerous man like the Cyclone.

Just before the fight I ate some jelly that had been soaked in sherry. The effect of the alcohol, I can't say, but I don't remember into the ring I saw four Cyclones in front of me and four times as many fists coming at me. There has been stories circulated that I was doped. They are not true.

Myers was a dangerous puncher and fought up to his nickname by tearing in and fighting at a fast and furious pace.

I stood back and stabbed him with my left. He lacked ring technique and I soon cut him to ribbons. In the fourth round, I poked him on the jaw and he went down.

PREP STAR PERFORMS UNIQUE FEAT

Toledo, Jan. 20.—Sampson, strong man of ancient history while he went without a haircut, might have started the sport fans of his day by twisting a lion's tail and knocking pillars loose, but if he lived today a 16-year-old freshman athlete of the Wainwright high school would probably be stealing his stuff.

Molnar, without resorting to tape or glue on the tips of his fingers, can hold a basketball aloft in each hand as shown in the accompanying photo. Placing the places a hand on the top of each, grips them with his fingers and holds them aloft for several minutes.

Basketballs are not heavy, but try to lift two of them in the manner employed by young Molnar. He accomplishes the feat due to the extraordinary size of his hands, which are almost twice as large as those of an average mortal.

Molnar started at halfback on the football team at Wainwright in the fall and because of his ability to throw a forward pass 45 yards was of great value to his mates. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 165 pounds.

Something is wrong somewhere with the local State Trade School basketball team.

After losing badly to the Kingswood school, the Mechanics took a 26 to 12 drubbing from Rockville High in that city late yesterday afternoon.

Manchester scored but five field goals, three in the first half and two in the second stanza. Captain Hurbert played throughout the game with a sprained ankle suffered early in the game.

Next Friday, Wetherfield High comes to Manchester for a return game. In the meanwhile, Coach Ralph Kingsley is expected to do his utmost to put the team back into form.

The summary: Trade School (12) H. F. T. Renn, rf. 2 1 5 Kinne, lf. 0 0 0 Carver, rf. 0 0 0 Schlieffing, lg. 0 0 0 Hurbert, c. 1 1 3 Ramsey, rg. 2 0 4 Thurz, rg. 0 0 0 Adams, lg. 0 0 0 Totals 5 2 12

Rockville High (26) Roth, rf. 3 0 6 Alley, lf. 0 0 0 Smith, lf. 0 0 0 Miller, lf. 0 0 0 Carver, rf. 4 0 8 Beebe, c. 0 0 0 Stone, c. 4 1 8 Ambrose, rg. 0 0 0 H. Durand, lg. 0 0 0 E. Durand, lg. 0 0 0 Totals 12 2 26 Referee, W. J. Clarke.

HEAVY BOYS ON TONIGHT'S BILL Many Local Fans To Watch Amateur Bouts In Hartford.

Marino Pagoni, clever Springfield amateur featherweight, has filled an entry in the 128-pound class for the Massachusetts A. C.'s amateur boxing show to be held in Foot Guard hall in Hartford tonight.

Bat Battalino, state featherweight champion, also has filled in this class, so there is prospects of a merry tussle in this diversion at the historic Hartford hall this evening.

Much of the interest in the card comes from the fact that more than a dozen and a half middleweights, light heavies and heavies have filed their entry blanks.

Fourteen Varsity Players Declared Ineligible at N. B.

New Britain Falsely Alleges Mantelli Tipped Off Principal Quimby of Facts.

By THE SPORTS EDITOR An article published in a New Britain newspaper yesterday referred to Elmo Mantelli as the "Dutch Leonard" of basketball.

A result of the wholehearted suspension of New Britain High school players on a charge of violating eligibility rules. The newspaper asserted that Mantelli was the person who tipped off Principal Clarence P. Quimby of the local high school of the facts.

Not the Truth Principal Quimby today informed the writer that the allegation made in the New Britain paper was an absolute lie. He said there was not a thread of truth to the report.

The storm seems to have broken just as was predicted in The Herald a few days ago. Late yesterday afternoon, Principal Slade of New Britain High notified Principal Quimby that 15 of his players have been suspended for the balance of the season and that only two regulars remained on the team which will have to be rebuilt before the game with Manchester there Saturday afternoon.

More Scandal Maybe Adding New Britain's 14 suspended players to the four Meriden varsity players who were also suspended, this makes a total of 20 high school players who have already been declared ineligible.

It is possible that following the expose in The Herald, the 14 players of the South Manchester High school and the 14 players of the Elmwood Duesbes, without Mantelli, there is no doubt but what Wapping would be the team with a marred record today instead of the Knights of Lithuania.

Mantelli tossed seven spectacular field goals from three-quarters of the length of the floor. Each of them swished in clean as a whistle. The Knights were powerless to stop this as he was letting the ball fly from almost in front of his own basket.

Seven Long Shots! Mantelli's shooting last night was the most sensational he has made in a long, long time. His record for the evening was eight baskets from the floor and six out of seven foul shots for a total of 22 points.

Regardless of the fact that Wapping led at the end of the first quarter, the visitors outplayed Wapping in the first half and it looked like a good bet that they would put a crimp in Wapping's record. For a time they played the home team off its feet.

The Wapping Community club team nosed out as a 48 to 38 winner over the speedy and hither-to undefeated Knights of Lithuania of Hartford last night at the Community center at Wapping. It was without a doubt the most exciting game ever witnessed in Wapping.

Record Crowd The largest crowd of the season watched the contest. Over 200 persons jammed their way into the Community club which has a seating capacity of only 75. The crowd was so big, the fans were packed in like sardines.

Sale of tickets was stopped long before the game started. It seemed that everybody in Wapping was there. All one needed to do was to look at that crowd last night to realize that Wapping has gone basketball crazy.

Men, women and children of all ages were there. The crowd was so big that it spilled out onto the playing surface and this with the small size of the floor, was a handicap to both teams. It made the game very rough and it was almost impossible to check personal contact.

Referee Ditzis called 21 personal fouls, thirteen on Wapping. What's more, Wapping won despite the fact that it lost the services of Johnny Boyle and George Hills on personal fouls early in the second half.

The real reason why Wapping won from the conquerors of Cheney Brothers last night was the ability of one Elmo Mantelli, former captain of the South Manchester High school quintet and of late with the Elmwood Duesbes.

Without Mantelli, there is no doubt but what Wapping would be the team with a marred record today instead of the Knights of Lithuania.

Mantelli tossed seven spectacular field goals from three-quarters of the length of the floor. Each of them swished in clean as a whistle. The Knights were powerless to stop this as he was letting the ball fly from almost in front of his own basket.

Mantelli's Long Shot Helps Wapping To Win

Villagers Snap Knights of Lithuania's Undefeated Record With 45-38 Victory; Record Crowd Watches Fray.

(By Staff Correspondent) In one of the most stubbornly contested basketball games ever seen on any floor in this vicinity, the Wapping Community club team nosed out as a 48 to 38 winner over the speedy and hither-to undefeated Knights of Lithuania of Hartford last night at the Community center at Wapping.

It was without a doubt the most exciting game ever witnessed in Wapping. Throughout the last three periods of play, the lead changed hands a dozen times. But at no time was the advantage commanding.

At the end of the first quarter, Wapping was out in front 14 to 7 but at halftime this lead had been whittled down to 20 to 19. The end of the third quarter found Wapping clinging desperately to a 31 to 36 lead.

Record Crowd The largest crowd of the season watched the contest. Over 200 persons jammed their way into the Community club which has a seating capacity of only 75. The crowd was so big, the fans were packed in like sardines.

Sale of tickets was stopped long before the game started. It seemed that everybody in Wapping was there. All one needed to do was to look at that crowd last night to realize that Wapping has gone basketball crazy.

Men, women and children of all ages were there. The crowd was so big that it spilled out onto the playing surface and this with the small size of the floor, was a handicap to both teams.

It made the game very rough and it was almost impossible to check personal contact. Referee Ditzis called 21 personal fouls, thirteen on Wapping.

What's more, Wapping won despite the fact that it lost the services of Johnny Boyle and George Hills on personal fouls early in the second half.

The real reason why Wapping won from the conquerors of Cheney Brothers last night was the ability of one Elmo Mantelli, former captain of the South Manchester High school quintet and of late with the Elmwood Duesbes.

Without Mantelli, there is no doubt but what Wapping would be the team with a marred record today instead of the Knights of Lithuania.

Mantelli tossed seven spectacular field goals from three-quarters of the length of the floor. Each of them swished in clean as a whistle.

The Knights were powerless to stop this as he was letting the ball fly from almost in front of his own basket. Elmo had his eye with him last night if he ever did. Mantelli's shooting last night was the most sensational he has made in a long, long time. His record for the evening was eight baskets from the floor and six out of seven foul shots for a total of 22 points.

Regardless of the fact that Wapping led at the end of the first quarter, the visitors outplayed Wapping in the first half and it looked like a good bet that they would put a crimp in Wapping's record.

For a time they played the home team off its feet. However, the Wapping five regained its stride in time to stave off disaster. In the second half, Hartford seemed to disband its passwork and take its chances on long shots.

This did not work out as successfully as the Knights had hoped and during the last period passwork was again resorted to. Then the Knights came within a hair's breadth of tripping up the villagers. The Skinkus brothers and Red Mazotas starred for the Knights.

The summary: Wapping (45) H. F. T. G. Hills, rf. 3 0 6 Foster, lf. 2 2 6 Madden, lf. 0 0 0 Boyle, c. 0 0 2 Mantelli, rg. 8 6 23 Mistretta, lg. 5 1 2 Hill, rg. 0 0 0 Totals 19 17 45 K. of Lithuania (38) H. F. T. Casabage, rf. 1 0 2 Shages, lf. 4 1 3 S. Shimkus, c. 3 2 8 C. Shimkus, rg. 8 1 5 Labesky, rg. 0 0 0 Mazotas, lg. 1 0 2 Totals 17 4 38

GIRLS WIN, MEN LOSE TO ROYAL

C. B. A. A. Teams Split Even On "Three Straight" Basis With Hartford Company.

The Royal Typewriter Company of Hartford broke even in its bowling match with Cheney Brothers' Athletic Association last night at the West Side Rec. The Hartford men's team won three straight while the Hartford girls' team lost three.

In the match between the female teams, only one score was rolled higher than the century mark and that was by Miss Halliday of the visiting team. However the bowling of the local girls was more consistent than that of the Royal. Manchester won 445 to 439, 420 to 413 and 436 to 435.

The scores: C. B. A. A. Girls (8) Lucas 83 89 99 Hewitt 88 77 83 Symington 92 71 86 Taggart 91 83 71 Sherman 91 100 92 Royal Girls (10) Fisher 83 92 74 Dussaut 88 86 88 Halliday 108 70 90 Graves 77 76 80 William 80 89 108 Totals 439 413 485

The Royal men's team certainly deserved to win. It rolled team singles of 683, 510 and 523, hit over 100 in nine of the fifteen games. Patrias had the high single, a score of 132. Manchester was minus two of its regulars but their presence would probably not make any difference in the outcome considering the manner in which the Royal was toiling the pins.

The scores: C. B. A. A. Men Suhle 97 96 97 Metcalf 105 89 92 Shea 103 106 193 Schubert 100 99 96 Wilkie 103 88 103 Royal Men Berry 115 101 96 Patrias 132 99 122 Brennan 112 109 83 Shorty 118 84 106 Beach 91 117 116 Totals 688 510 523

CHENEY BROTHERS PLAYING ELMWOOD

Silk Workers Have Tough Assignment This Evening. Won First Game 43-40, However.

Elmwood is all set tonight to secure revenge from Cheney Brothers basketball team which handed them the short end of a 43 to 40 score earlier in the season.

They have signed Johnny Boyce and his presence in the lineup against his former teammates, they expect, will go a long way toward upsetting the silk workers.

Manager George Hunt announced today that he would have Herby Kerr at the pivot position for at least part of the game tonight. The locals leave from the Rec at 7:30.

JUST THE BUNK. Baseball men scoff at the story that Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker were forced out of the American League because of their activities in connection with a proposed third league. It is expected that the coming meeting between Judge Landis, the American League manager, and President Johnson, will throw considerable light on the situation.

BOWLING FRIENDLY FIVE LOSES

The Nutmegs of the Travelers defeated the Friendly Five of the South Methodist church last night on the Worcester alleys in Hartford, winning two out of three games. The scores:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Score. Rows include Harper (84 80 86), La Montague (85 79 88), Chartier (85 87 101), Johnson (87 104 108), Gillyut (128 100 109). Totals 477 441 509.

Friendly Five T. Humphries (93 107 96), A. Haugh (87 86 91), T. Smith (87 89 90), C. Taylor (95 84 89), W. Smith (97 101 83). Totals 459 467 459.

Advertisement for 'anywhere' telephone service. Features a large circular logo with 'anywhere' written across it. Text includes 'By Toll Telephone Service', 'THE SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE COMPANY', and 'One Policy - One System - Universal Service'.

QUESTIONS SELLSER'S VALUE What will be the value of George Sellsler to the St. Louis Browns the coming season? There are plenty of baseball men who figure a trade, sending him elsewhere, would benefit the club in more ways than one.

THE HERALD'S HOME PAGE

LATEST FASHION HINTS BY FOREMOST AUTHORITIES

FEATURE ARTICLES ABOUT INTERESTING WOMEN

Broken Threads

©1926 NEA SERVICE INC.

by Clifford L. Webb and Ernest Lynn

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

To the home of PROF and MOLIE ELWELL in Camdenville, Ind., one night in October of 1898, is brought a woman who had fainted on a train. That night twin girls are born to her and she dies without revealing her name.

The story then moves forward 18 years. The twins have been adopted and named MARGARET and ELIZABETH. They are called RUSTY and BETTY.

JIM ELWELL, the son, enlists in the World War. He then discovers that one of the twins loves him.

He is shell-shocked at Sedan and reported dead. Much later he is identified in a New York hospital where his parents find him with his speech and memory gone. He is like a living dead man.

The day before he is to be taken home he wanders away from his nurse. Late that night he is found in Bellevue hospital with his skull fractured, expected to die. He had been hit by a truck.

The twins are in Indianapolis at the home of their uncle, wealthy JOHN CLAYTON, the mystery of their identity having cleared while Jim was away. Some time later Mollie writes that Jim will live but his memory is forever gone. She tells them she is bringing him home and the twins and MABEL DALTON, their old nurse, go to Camdenville to greet him.

When the Elwells arrive home, the scene is tense as the twins face the blank-minded Jim.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY CHAPTER XLV

"LET'S go into the parlor," Martha Dalton said gently, and took hold of Jim's free hand, pressing it gently between both her own.

Betty, who was still clinging to Jim's other hand, let go, and Rusty threw an arm around her waist.

Martha Dalton led the way with Jim into the other room and to a big chair, away from the meretricious glare of the lights. There she helped him to sit down.

He was apathetic, looking at no one. He was dressed, the girls noted, in a light, English tweed, gray suit and wore a low collar with a black bow tie.

"Now," said Martha calmly, "we'll just sit down and talk awhile. Let Jim and Mollie get rested. You girls just sit still till you get—get accustomed to things a little better. I won't have you going to pieces here."

"Mr. Henegan," she called to Mike, who moved swiftly into the room at the sound of his name, "I've heard how wonderful you've been and I want to thank you."

"It's all right," said Mike, bashfully. "Jim and I are buddies, you see. That's how I knew him."

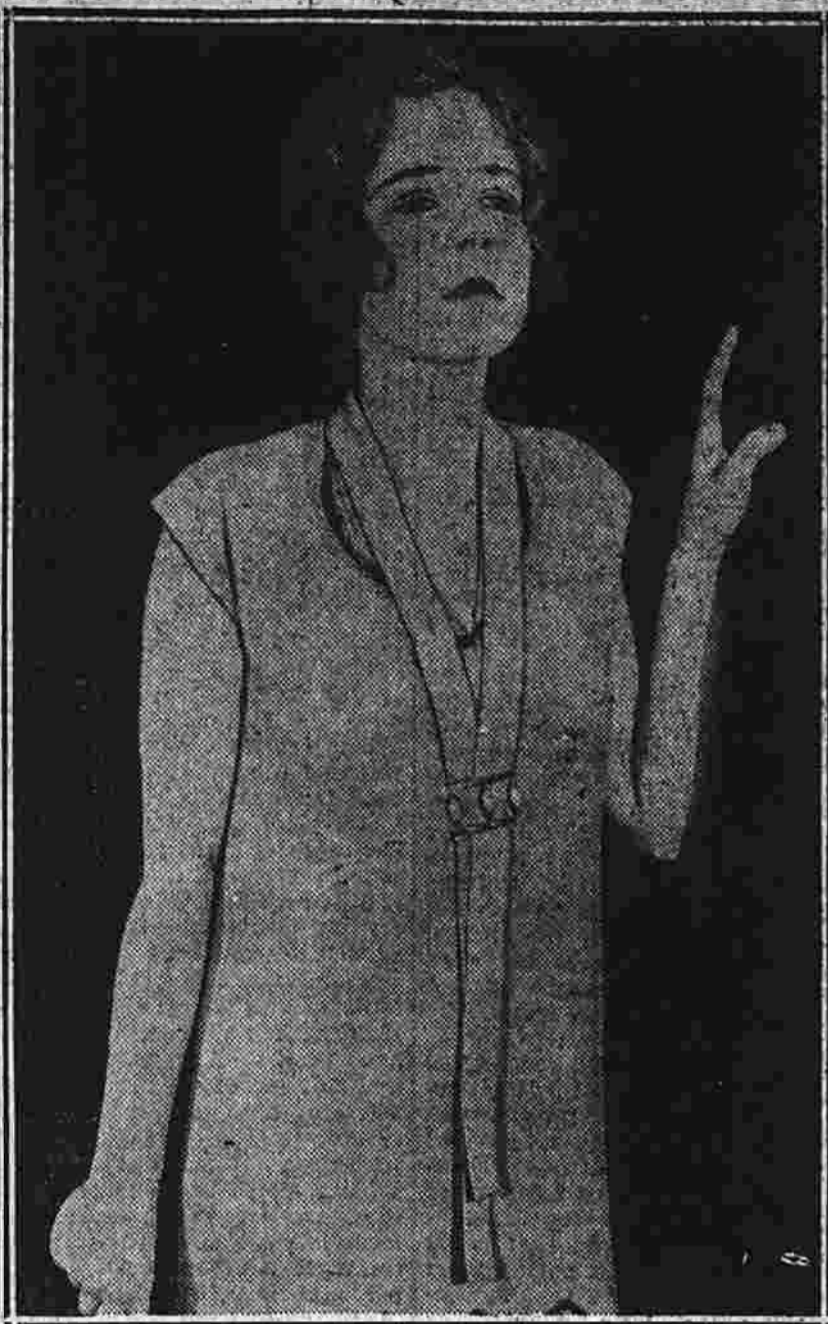

Mollie and Prof seated themselves close to Jim and Martha. Betty took the chair next to Jim's mother but Rusty remained standing. They could not, it seemed, keep their eyes away from Jim's face, but things were beginning to adjust themselves in a measure.

Martha Dalton was fighting for time. She wanted to smooth over the next half an hour, if possible, to break the tension and let the twins accustom themselves to the sight of Jim's expressionless face.

"Tell me," she said to Prof, "did you have a nice trip. Are you tired? I have a kettle on the stove and we'll have tea. Did you eat dinner?"

They had, he told her. "But I'd be obliged for a cup of tea—if you don't mind, Martha. Mollie's tired, I know."

"A little," Mollie confessed. The old nurse went to the kitchen and returned presently with a tray of teacups. Mollie drank gratefully. Jim, too, was served with tea. He watched Mollie drink and then slowly slipped himself. The girls refused. "No, thanks, Dainty, dear." Their voices, Mollie noticed thankfully, were calmer now. Perhaps, she was thinking, they were safe now.

"I—I have the right of a wife! Jim's wife! Hear me?"

Presently Rusty moved over beside Jim's chair. She tried to look into his eyes, but they were hidden by the lowered lids.

Prof said, gently, "I think Jim is tired, too, dear."

Rusty nodded. She reached down and took one of Jim's hands and began to stroke it slowly.

After a minute or two she looked over toward Betty. "Come here, sister," she said, "and let's both talk to Jim as we used to in the old days here in this room."

She turned to Mollie to explain: "I think I'm all right now, Mollie. Betty and I will be careful."

Mollie nodded. "Just so you don't upset him too much, dear."

The two girls seated themselves, each on an arm of Jim's chair and started in, as Rusty expressed it, "to get acquainted with Jim."

But this Jim was a difficult young man to get chummy with. His simply would not respond. His eyes opened, but he would not look at them.

Rusty, finally, tried to raise his chin to look into his eyes and did get a good look at them. He was crying.

"Oh!" she gasped, started. Betty's lips began to tremble a little and her eyes whispered something in her ear.

After a moment Rusty again turned to Mollie.

"Mollie dear," she said, trying hard to keep from breaking down and crying, "I've asked Betty to get her hair from the next room—we brought it over specially—and sing to Jim. It may—oh, Mollie, it—it may!" she stopped, her dark eyes two wells of tears.

Mollie hesitated momentarily and looked over at Prof, who nodded. "I think," he said, "it will be all right, dear."

Mike Henegan said, "If you'll excuse me, just I'll move out on the porch—just for a breath of air."

Prof smiled understandingly. "Certainly, Mike."

Martha Dalton left the room and set the big lamp from its corner. She came back presently and stood in front of Betty, who had seated herself in the chair at Jim's side.

The girl was trembling as though stricken with an acute chill.

Mollie Elwell sat hunched forward in her chair, her anxious eyes fixed with a strange intensity on Jim, who seemed to have slumped down into his seat.

Prof Elwell sat up straight, almost rigid. His face was a mask.

Martha Dalton was thinking that never had seen anything so pitiful as Betty Marvin seated in front of Jim, her trembling hands holding on to the big harp.

name; it was familiar to him; he knew it. Betty's voice went on: "And there—," she sang, but the words were shut off in Mollie Elwell's sudden outburst.

"Stop it!" Mollie screamed, and fairly lunged herself across the few feet intervening between her and the girl with the harp. Prof sprang to her side, his hands reaching for her, but she twisted out of reach.

"My God!" she was saying, "stop it! Don't you see you are singing to him? Can't you see?"

"Mollie!" Prof cried, and Martha Dalton moved quickly to his side, to help him quiet the half-hysterical Mollie.

But Mollie was not to be halted. Her fingers had grasped the arms of both girls with a cruel intensity. Betty looked up with a startled exclamation at sight of her white face and Rusty uttered a protest. But Mollie, seemingly possessed of a sudden strength, bore off Prof, grabbed both of them and literally pushed and carried them across the room and thrust them between the portieres into the next apartment.

Martha Dalton fluttered in Mollie's wake, but Prof, with a gasp, had sunk into a chair. Jim was slumped still farther back into his seat, his face twitching nervously and the tears streaming down his cheeks.

"Girls!" Martha Dalton called and moved into the next room where Rusty and Betty were.

Mike Henegan, hearing the commotion, had entered quietly and he stood just inside the door from the porch, a careful eye cocked on Jim.

Mollie rushed back to her son and new Mike turned his head. Presently he went out again.

"Oh, my boy, my boy!" Mollie wept.

"Now, Mollie, don't let yourself go like that. Everything's all right, you know. Why don't you—"

Her voice had faded in a full-throated sob.

Jim's mother, her body shaking violently, began to stroke the young man's hair.

"My boy," she said, over and over, "they shan't do it. You've done your part. They shan't cut into your heart any more like that. Couldn't she see what she was doing? They shan't; they shan't. They've hidden out of your life now. They've no right to expect—she, whichever she is, has no right—"

She stepped short and fell to crying silently, her head down in Jim's lap.

And then from the other room came a stifled scream. The portieres parted and a wild figure of a girl, her hair streaming about her face, her dark eyes dilated, stood in the doorway.

"I do not have a right, Mollie Elwell. You can't talk that way to me. You can't shut Jim off from me like that."

"Now, now, dear," Martha Dalton was at her side, clutching at her arm. But the vehement little figure shook her off.

"You can't say that, Mollie Elwell. You said once that we should go on with our plans just as if Jim were dead, but you shan't. Don't you think my heart is broken as well as yours? You say I have no right, but I have as good a right as you."

"I—I have the right of a wife! Jim's wife! Hear me? He gave me that right that day in Chicago before he went away. I have our marriage certificate here with me—and sister was a witness to our marriage. Oh, Mollie, you mustn't say what you do. I'm his wife—his wife. Oh, Mollie, Mollie, pity me a little, too!"

(To Be Continued)

Which girl is Jim's wife? The next chapter tells that—and something strange.

was the mother, her face beaming with soft joy, in spite of the shadow of wonder I thought I saw there. What more could she do without to make up for it at home?

What the boy should have had at this psychological moment, was a sharp pull-up on the reins instead of more money. Children have to be taught unselfishness. The best of them will make do; most of them are impatient food and in a house that is never quite warm, that is their business. What concerns society is the parents' right to ruin a good citizen.

Another thing children should be grateful for an education which the modern expensive by-products. The by-products are taken too much for granted. They often cost more than the education itself.

SQUARE JARS
Conserve refrigerator space by keeping a set of square jars with lids, to hold left-over foods.

RIBBON TRIMS
Ribbon trims for felt or velvet hats are often pulled through a slit in the crown.

COAT LININGS
Coat linings are rich this year. Crepe de chine, banded with satin, makes a luxurious lining.

DOUBLE-NECKLINE
Many frocks have a round neckline, above a pointed yoke, or vice versa.

KEEN WOMEN BAN "SILK" BANK AND USE CHECKS

New York, Jan. 20.—What price silk? Two inches off the tail of a shirt, and the market for millions of yards of cotton is shorted. Seven inches off the length of women's dresses, and the textile industries are thrown into a grievous slump, the market for cotton stockings is as dead and gone as the glories of Tyre and Nineveh, and the vogue of silk stockings becomes universal.

But present-day styles for women are responsible for an even greater economic change than those accorded to Mrs. Eleanor L. Egan, of Boise City, Idaho, who is not only a successful business woman but a close student of social and trade conditions as well. Enfranchisement and the modern styles are to be credited—or blamed, as you will—for the revolution in women's economic status, declares Mrs. Egan who sells bankers' supplies in a territory embracing an area of imperial dimensions and who is in New York on a periodical business trip.

"Knee-length skirts doomed cotton stockings," said Mrs. Egan, "and with the passing of the cotton stocking also disappeared woman's time-honored safety deposit vault for her bank roll. The National Bank of Little, as it had come to be known, was no longer possible when a length of sheer silk stockings, with a high visibility, revealed the hiding place to all beholders."

"Ever since Mother Eve took to wearing clothes the stocking bank had been women's favorite place of deposit for valuables, the banks' strongest competitor. When the short skirt banished the substitute became necessary, and the Women have discovered the bank and today there are about five million women depositors in this country, or nearly one-quarter of the total of all depositors, and the number is increasing daily."

"Since they have gone in for bank accounts, women depositors have become very business like in the handling of their checks. Time was when a woman's idea of a checking account was as popular a joke as the mother-in-law jest, but not any more. I find no difficulty in making the average woman on the necessity of protecting her checks against forgery or alteration by the use of mechanical devices, because it appeals to her mainly from two viewpoints."

"The first, of course, is her keen instinct to guard her property against crooks—the same instinct that makes her careful that the house is safely locked up at night, and that prompts her at the slightest nocturnal noise to rouse her spouse to investigate for burglars. The second is her innate love of form and style, whether it is in dress, house furnishings or what not. The finished appearance presented by a check of superior paper stock, printed in beautifully intricate design and color, with the amount shredded into the paper in two colors by an easily operated little machine, not only satisfies her esthetic sense but it appears to her as order and business-like."

"If the average man were as careful as the average woman in writing a check to avoid giving the forger a chance to raise or alter it, I can tell you the annual forgery losses would be far lower. Whenever I sell a check-writing outfit to a woman I impress upon her the three fundamentals of caution, protection of her blank check against theft, protection of her checks against 'raising' by using alteration-proof paper, and, finally, complete protection through forgery insurance, which prevents loss through forgery of signature or indorsement which no mechanical device can guard against."

"The average woman depositor, who in most American homes is the family's financial manager, is not slow to realize the importance of this advice."

This And That In Feminine Lore

The new pastel hats for spring developed in apple straw, with all sorts of clever trimmings are very becoming to the youthful face. Some of the new shapes cling to the contour of the bobbed head like a rubber bathing cap.

Early showing of the spring sports styles or for southern wear, feature skirts of pleated silk with lovely sweaters shaded from light to dark of a color, while others have a riot of the rainbow colors.

Striking was a dinner or evening gown with black embroidered chiffon in spiderweb design over a slip of silver cloth. The belt was a crush of crimson chiffon, falling to the hemline at the left side and matching the rose on the left shoulder.

Katherine Emmet, who directs and sometimes plays in the Shakespearean performances broadcast every Sunday evening by Station WEAJ, thinks Shakespeare the ideal dramatist for the radio stage. For educational purposes these plays are valuable, and if Miss Emmet had her way there would be a radio installed in every school-room in America. Her company is the first to attempt the classics on the "radio." In the first place the actors, who so far are among the Broadway stars, must be chosen with voices sufficiently different to make confusion impossible to the blind audience. The actors themselves insist it is the hardest occupation in the world, they miss the applause a visible audience contributes to the performance on the actual stage.

It will be good news to most women to know that Paris is again sponsoring the abbreviated sleeve, for the most part cut to kimono fashion, in place with the dress or blouse. The Y-shaped neck seems to look best with this style, with perhaps a lapel of the trimming silk or other material. The short sleeve, especially in summer, spell comfort, and appealed to the housewife, who with a coverall apron could wash the dishes and perform other light tasks, when necessary while wearing a dressy frock.

Letuce is a vegetable that even the person who is reducing may eat every day in the year, that is, one likes it. It runs raw cabbage a close second as a health food. It contains as much lime as cabbage and more phosphorus and is a natural aid to intestinal digestion.

"Do you have an 'emergency shelf' in your pantry? If you don't, you will find it very much worth while to put one in. Of course the contents are usually canned products, but they should be the best of their kind. There should be the basics of a whole meal, although it is seldom that it is necessary to arrange a whole meal from the shelf, but rather to provide the extra touch when unexpected company comes. Cans of rich chicken soup are invaluable, and there are some brands that are very fine and all ready to serve without the addition of water. French peas, paragon, plum pudding, chicken and some sea foods are indispensable on this shelf."

One of the women speakers at the Mother and Daughters' banquet last night at the South Methodist church, quoted the following paragraph by President Coolidge: "We do not need more intellectual power, we need more character. We do not need more religion, we need more of the things that are seen, we need more of the things that are unseen."

Lovers of Gladious will find an interesting article on this subject by Secretary John C. Davis of the American Gladious society, in the February number of "Better Homes and Gardens" magazine. There are a number of illustrations of the unusual varieties and details in the history of this popular flower. Also in the same number is a paper on "Waterlilies for your Pool" beautifully illustrated, by Charles L. Tricker the expert on waterlilies.

For a dessert or bridge party every day serves a rich layer cake, with a whipped cream filling and chocolate icing. Serve in squares and put a little whipped cream on top of the chocolate.

The glorified dresses which come in such lovely colors and styles are being chosen for dance frocks by many of the girls in preference to the more feminine frilly type of frock, and for the slender, youthful figure there can be no happier choice.

MARY TAYLOR.

MIXED TWEEDS
For late winter and spring sports, mixed tweeds with or without fur collars, are popular.

CRINKLED FRINGE
Silk, fringes that crinkle like treated, are popular. Use on smart afternoon frocks.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Troop No. 3 celebrated their sixth birthday Friday evening with a party at Captain Norton's home. Some very interesting games were played and refreshments served. Mrs. Nelson Smith, chairman of the awards committee of the council, presented badges and pins. Captain Norton received a gold attendance pin and the economist's badge. Emily Smith, a gold attendance pin and fifty hours' home service badge. Naomi Foster, observers' badge; Ruth Russell, silver attendance pin.

Troop No. 4
Deputy Commissioner Bling attended the meeting Tuesday evening and gave examinations in first aid bandaging. The following sixteen girls passed the examination: Mary Harvey, Margery Waddell, Duce, Waddell, Jean Williams, Laura House, "Billy" McGrath, Violet McGrath, Dorothy Hultman, Lucile Murphy, Charlotte Newton, Florence Buckmaster, Helen Newman, Charlotte Rubinow, Olive Smith, Dorothy Fraser and Beatrice Perrett.

Troop No. 5
Eunice Brown has been appointed drummer for Troop 5.

Troop No. 6
Troop expects to have a sleigh ride Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Scouts will meet at the Manchester Green School and each girl will bring her lunch and a cup. Hot cocoa will be served by a committee.

Margaret Waterman of Franklin street and Margaret Bushnell of East Center street, Tel. 1347, are taking orders for the American Girl. Every Girl Scout would find this magazine interesting and well worth the money.

MRS. JULIETTE LOW
Mrs. Juliette Low of London and Savannah, founder of the Girl Scouts of America, died at her home in Savannah Monday after a brief illness. She was sixty-seven years of age, the daughter of General W. W. Gordon and Eleanor Kinzie Gordon. Mrs. Low was married to William Low of Warwickshire, England, and maintained homes both here and in London for more than forty years.

A close friend of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, who founded the Boy Scouts, she had watched with interest the growth of that organization and the formation soon afterward of a similar order for girls known as the Girl Guides. She received the active co-operation of Sir Robert in forming the first patrol here in March 1912 of the Girl Guides of America. In 1915 the name was changed to Girl Scouts. For many years Mrs. Low was president and later received the executive title of founder. Of late she has directed most of her efforts toward extending the order into an international movement.

Mrs. Juliette Low of London and Savannah, founder of the Girl Scouts of America, died at her home in Savannah Monday after a brief illness. She was sixty-seven years of age, the daughter of General W. W. Gordon and Eleanor Kinzie Gordon. Mrs. Low was married to William Low of Warwickshire, England, and maintained homes both here and in London for more than forty years.

A close friend of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, who founded the Boy Scouts, she had watched with interest the growth of that organization and the formation soon afterward of a similar order for girls known as the Girl Guides. She received the active co-operation of Sir Robert in forming the first patrol here in March 1912 of the Girl Guides of America. In 1915 the name was changed to Girl Scouts. For many years Mrs. Low was president and later received the executive title of founder. Of late she has directed most of her efforts toward extending the order into an international movement.

Mrs. Juliette Low of London and Savannah, founder of the Girl Scouts of America, died at her home in Savannah Monday after a brief illness. She was sixty-seven years of age, the daughter of General W. W. Gordon and Eleanor Kinzie Gordon. Mrs. Low was married to William Low of Warwickshire, England, and maintained homes both here and in London for more than forty years.

A close friend of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, who founded the Boy Scouts, she had watched with interest the growth of that organization and the formation soon afterward of a similar order for girls known as the Girl Guides. She received the active co-operation of Sir Robert in forming the first patrol here in March 1912 of the Girl Guides of America. In 1915 the name was changed to Girl Scouts. For many years Mrs. Low was president and later received the executive title of founder. Of late she has directed most of her efforts toward extending the order into an international movement.

Mrs. Juliette Low of London and Savannah, founder of the Girl Scouts of America, died at her home in Savannah Monday after a brief illness. She was sixty-seven years of age, the daughter of General W. W. Gordon and Eleanor Kinzie Gordon. Mrs. Low was married to William Low of Warwickshire, England, and maintained homes both here and in London for more than forty years.

A close friend of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, who founded the Boy Scouts, she had watched with interest the growth of that organization and the formation soon afterward of a similar order for girls known as the Girl Guides. She received the active co-operation of Sir Robert in forming the first patrol here in March 1912 of the Girl Guides of America. In 1915 the name was changed to Girl Scouts. For many years Mrs. Low was president and later received the executive title of founder. Of late she has directed most of her efforts toward extending the order into an international movement.

Good Nature and Good Health

THE NURSING PROFESSION AND ITS REQUIREMENTS.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.
Nursing is one of the most useful and interesting of modern professions. The trained nurse who studies in a regular hospital training school follows a regular curriculum through which she obtains much information relative to the care of the sick and much practice in actual attendance upon them.

The better schools of nursing require graduation from high school before entrance in the work; a few even demand some college education.

Qualifications.
There is developing a general opinion to the effect that two years of high school work give sufficient information to qualify a girl to take up nursing, at least to the point at which she will devote most of her time as a practical nurse in the actual care of patients.

On the other hand, such an amount of education from high school would not fit her for the position of superintendent, nor for practice in some of the many specialties of nursing which have recently come into use.

Among the subjects that will

Home Page Editorials Costly Frills

By Olive Roberts-Barton
The other day I met a woman I knew, at the telephone office. She was sending money to her son at college. He had been home for the holidays and had gone back with his regular monthly allowance in his pocket. Besides that his ticket had cost his parents anywhere from $20 to $50. Dollars. That was a little over two weeks before the episode of the telephone office and there wasn't a cent that he had telegraphed that he already needed more funds.

I had seen him at Christmas, a fine looking boy, as proud as Punch in his coat and derby hat. He had had a jolly good time, going to five and ten dollar dances. He was very popular and anyone could see that his parents lived in a beautiful base of vicarious glory. His father didn't mind his shiny coat, nor his mother her indifferent clothes. They boasted of the way they managed to give the boy his chance. They gloried in their sacrifice.

Now everyone knows the price of an education. And I made a mental calculation that over half of the yearly income of that couple was spent on the boy. I knew they had it figured so that whatever allowance they made him for spending money it was about their last nickel.

Any extra requests from him meant their necessities. Yet they

Snug Chapeau

The contour of the head is defined in this turban of georgette, confined with strands of pearls wound rather carelessly.

SOFT CORNS

Money Back Says Magnell If Moore's Emerald Oil Doesn't Do Away With All Soreness and Pain in 24 Hours.

Get a bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil with the understanding that if it does not put an end to the pain and soreness and do away with the corn itself your money will be promptly returned.
Don't worry about how long you've had it or how many other preparations you've tried. This powerful penetrating oil in one preparation that will help to make your painful aching feet, so healthy and free from corn and bunions troubles that you'll be able to go anywhere and do anything in absolute comfort.
So marvelously powerful is Moore's Emerald Oil that thousands have found it gives wonderful results in the treatment of dangerous swollen or varicose veins. Magnell Drug Co., So. Manchester, is selling lots of it.—adv.

The Cleaners that Clean

You Can Tell Better how you'll like our service after you've tried it. Most folks who give it a trial become permanent customers, so we think you'll like our way of working, too.
Call 1510 and let us do some work for you. Examine it carefully when it comes back. You'll notice a difference, we know!

THE DOUGAN DYE WORKS INC. HARRISON ST. SOUTH MANCHESTER, CONN. Phone 1510

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Women may not be forgiving, but they are strong for receiving.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

She was so modest that when he said he had stripped his gears, she insisted on getting out and walking home.

"Say, Joe, I got a new job out in Detroit." "What doing?" "Painting whiskers on Fords."

Evelyn: Honestly I was all a-quiver when the fellow I was out with last night proposed.

A mule and a Ford are said to have met on the highway. "And what might you be?" asked the mule.

ADD DEFINITIONS

The "common people" nowadays are those who adjust their own carburetors.

A tire on his car was flat. But, gosh, he didn't care. He threw it not away, although He gave the thing the air.

This much can be said in favor of the automobile: It doesn't get its tail over the line nor shed hair in your face.

Farmer: "Those pesky automobiles are forever knocking my chickens down." Newly Wed: "That's nothing. Automobiles are forever picking up my wife."

Automobiles are a public menace. Ask the man who doesn't own one.

A NEW VERSION

Many are the jars that are opened tonight. Covered with evening dew; Many are the kids that are howling tonight; Many are the black flies, too.

Tenting tonight, tenting tonight, Tenting on the old camp ground!

Tenting tonight, tenting tonight, Tenting on the old camp ground!

Tenting tonight, tenting tonight, Tenting on the old camp ground!

Tenting tonight, tenting tonight, Tenting on the old camp ground!

Tenting tonight, tenting tonight, Tenting on the old camp ground!

Automobiles have finally become standardized into three classes—in use, used and junked.

About the worst mixture is a dominating personality driving a five-ton truck.

INTELLIGENCE TESTS

COMEDY STAR

You may find these questions difficult, but the average person should be able to answer six of them. The correct answers appear on another page:

- 1-Who is shown in the accompanying picture?
2-Do major generals or brigadier generals rank the higher in the United States army?
3-Who wrote and delivered the famous "Gettysburg Address"?
4-Who is author of the Sherlock Holmes stories?
5-What is the subject of study covered by ethnology?
6-Who wrote the play "Romeo and Juliet"?
7-What holiday was being celebrated when Washington crossed the Delaware to attack the British?
8-What city in Italy was famous for the manufacture of violins?
9-What is an asp?
10-Is Vermont east or west of New Hampshire?

Take care of the dimes and the filling stations will take care of the dollars.

THE TINYMITES BY HAL COCHRAN

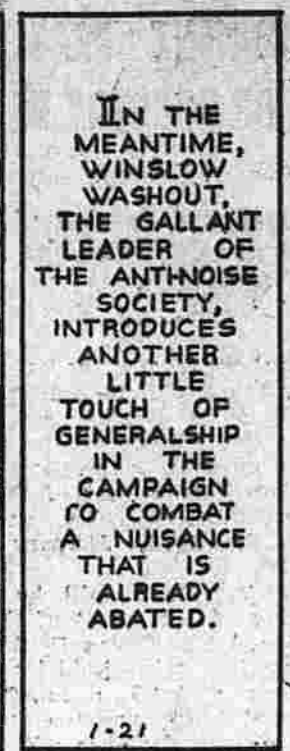

(Read the Story, Then Color the Picture)

The ice hut was a dark, dark place. The Tynmites couldn't see a trace of anything inside, at all, because it was so black. Then Scouty whispered, very low, "I think we'd better travel slow. In fact, I guess that I am scared. Perhaps we'd best turn back."

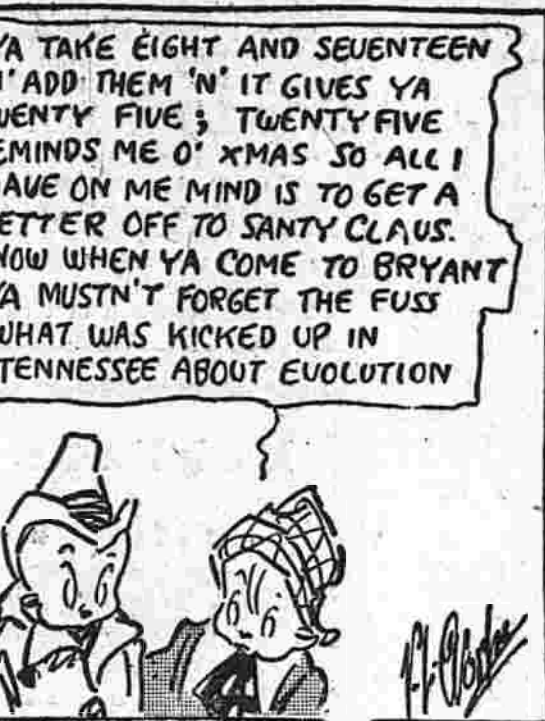

(The Tynmites ride a polar bear in the next story.)

GAS BUGGIES—Changing Shoes

By Frank Beck

SKIPPY

By Crosby

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

They Looked Worn Out to Tag

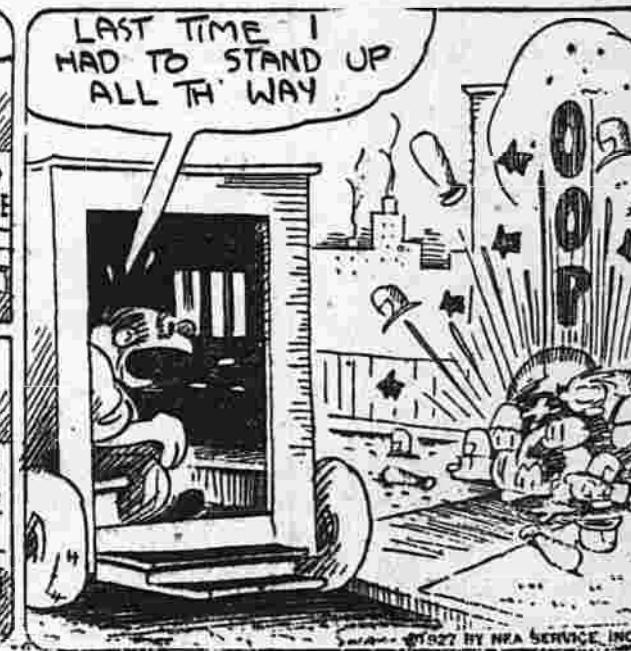

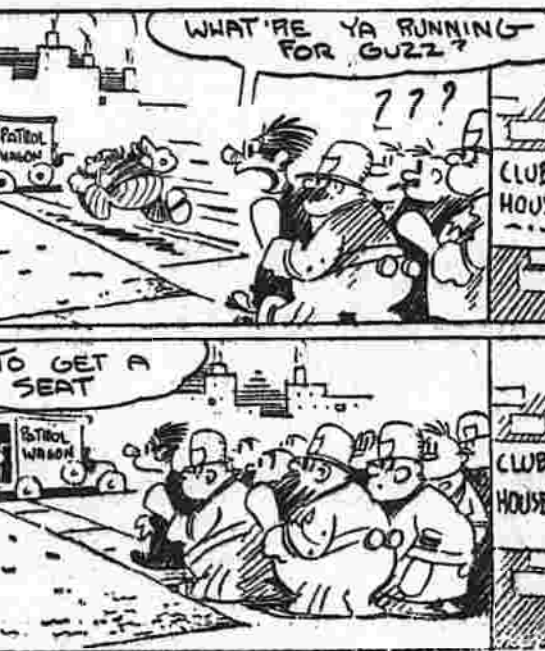

By Blosser

SALESMAN SAM

Taking No Chances

By Swan

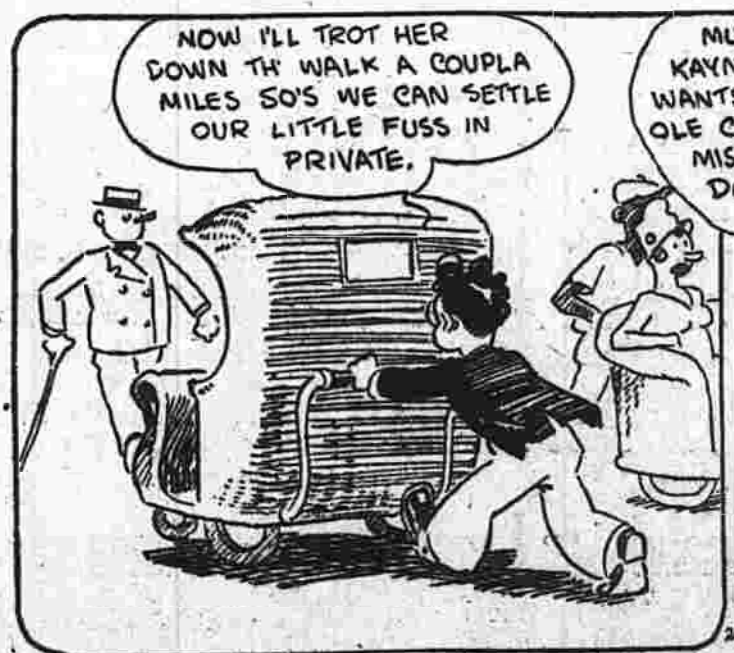

WASHINGTON TUBBS II

By Crane

Family Stuff

By Fountaine Fox

THE RIGHT KIND OF MUSIC FOR OLD TIME DANCING AT THE RAINBOW TONIGHT
OLD TIME FIDDLERS.
 Admission 50c.

Old Fashioned Dance AT CITY VIEW DANCE HALL
 Keeney Street
 Saturday Evening, Jan. 22nd
 Music Furnished by the Old Time Fiddlers.
 Admission 50c. Tel. 285-2

Public Dance
 Saturday Evening, January 22.
 At South Main Street School.
 Schendel's Orchestra.
 Prof. Foley, Prompter.
 Given by Lakeview Parent-Teacher Association.

ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. Ethel Carter of Park street, president-elect of Mary C. Keeney Tent D. O. V. is entertaining Department President, Mrs. Mary A. Yale of Bridgeport during her stay in town. Mrs. Yale will install the new officers of the tent at its meeting in the state armory this evening.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the South Methodist church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

Helen Davidson Lodge, Daughters of Scotia, will hold its regular meeting in Tinker hall tomorrow evening at 7:45.

Charles I. Balch won first prize and Mrs. Balch consolation at the Parent-Teacher whist held last night in the Buckland school. The ladies first prize went to Mrs. Edward Dougherty of Rockville and the consolation to Walter Keeney. The committee served crullers, cheese and coffee. The next whist by the Ways and Means committee of the association will take place February 2 and on Wednesday the usual evening for the card parties.

The Trinity Past Grands association will meet in Rockville, in Odd Fellows hall Tuesday afternoon of next week.

Rebecca, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Chambers of Server street has returned home from the Memorial hospital. The little one fell a short time ago in such a way that a needle penetrated her lung. She is now doing nicely.

The Cosmopolitan club will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. F. A. Verplanck of Main street.

Delta Chapter, R. A. M. worked the Past Master degree on a class of six candidates last evening. The Mark Master degree will be worked at the next meeting, Feb. 2.

Sunday Night MUSICAL
South Methodist Church
 Chadwick's "Noel"
 Presented by Full Choir

Soloists:
 Miss Eleanor Willard, Mrs. Bertha Line Lashinske, Fred Reichard, Robert Gordon.
 The Public Invited.

Sunset Council No. 45, Degree of Pocahontas will have its regular meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Tinker hall. A surprise social, an entertainment and refreshments will follow the business.

Miss Belle Crosby, who has been undergoing treatment at the Memorial hospital for nearly two weeks, was the recipient of a birthday shower of cards and flowers yesterday. Miss Crosby's condition is showing marked improvement and she expects to leave the hospital in about another week.

The Beethoven club, Helge Pearson, conductor, will hold a get-together banquet at the Hotel Sheridan Friday evening. A feature of the occasion will be a song contest for a prize, between nine quartets, chosen from club members. Each quartet will sing two numbers, one chosen by Conductor Pearson and the other by themselves.

Charles A. Robbins and John Bausola of Barrett & Robbins, went to New Haven this afternoon to attend a convention of the At-water-Kent radio dealers at the Hotel Taft.

A warranty deed filed with Town Clerk Sam Turkington yesterday shows that Clarence and Florence Peterson have purchased a lot in the Elmwood tract from Edward J. Holl.

Joseph Montit has sold his interest in the Hublard and Montit Company to Joseph Hublard. The Hublard and Montit Company has been engaged in concrete contracting work.

The employees of the Lower Mills at Cheney Brothers plant will hold a party at Cheney hall Thursday evening, January 27. Dinner will be served and entertainment will follow. The Lower Mills group includes the Carpenter, Box and Paint shops.

William Rubnow of Rubnow's has just returned from New York where he attended the Grace De Vyne show at 455 7th Avenue where advanced styles for spring were exhibited. Coats were shown Tuesday and dresses Wednesday. Mr. Rubnow, who handles Grace De Vyne garments exclusively in town, has placed his order for many of these new coats and dresses which will be shown at his store in the near future.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS FOR POULTRY MEETING

Three Days' Session at Hotel Garde, Hartford, On Jan. 26, 27 and 28th.

Speakers from three states, headed by James M. Whittlessey, commissioner on domestic animals for this state, will be on the program at the meeting of poultry raisers which will be a part of the Union Agricultural Meeting at Hotel Garde, Hartford, January 26, 27 and 28.

"Poultry Day" will be Friday, January 28, the last of the convention. The Connecticut Poultry Association will hold its annual meeting at 9:30 a. m., following an executive committee session at 8:30 o'clock. Reports will be read by the secretary, treasurer, auditors and committee chairman and election of officers will follow. Commissioner Whittlessey will be the first speaker at the afternoon session. His subject will be the "Policy of Disease Control." On the subject of "Poultry Problems for 1927," Harry R. Lewis, of Des Moines, R. I., chairman of the agricultural committee of the New England Council and president of the National Baby Chick Association, will follow the commissioner. Willard H. Allen of New Brunwick, N. J., will talk on "Less Culling and More Profit," and Professor R. T. Jones, of the Connecticut Agricultural College will speak on "Healthy Chicks for Connecticut."

The Manchester Green Community club will meet for its regular business session in the school assembly hall tomorrow evening, after which whist will be played in charge of Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. Mohr. Prizes will be given the winners and refreshments served.

I Repair Rubbers, Arctics, Rubber Boots

SELWITZ
 THE SHOE REPAIR MAN
 Selwitz Block, 10 Pearl St.

Auto Curtains

MADE — REPAIRED
 Celluloid Lights Replaced.
 Auto Tops Made and Repaired.
 New Carpets, Auto Robes.

Charles Laking
 314 Main Street

Ready For the

Skating Carnival

MEN'S SHOE SKATE OUTFITS

WOMEN'S SHOE SKATE OUTFITS

SPECIALLY PRICED $5.95

Men's Special Hockey Women's Tan Shoe Regular and Tubular Skates

Boys' and Girls' Key Skates $1.25 to $2.50.

Hockey Sticks, Skate Straps

Ankle Supporters

BARRETT & ROBBINS

913 Main Street

Women's Coats and Dresses At Drastic Reductions To Clean Up Before We Take Inventory February First

$115.00	$45.00	$29.95
COATS	COATS	COATS
NOW	NOW	NOW
$49.50	$19.95	$15.00

The girl or woman who wishes a good looking coat but doesn't want to pay a great deal for it should see this group at $49.50. Stunning dress coats of pile fabrics in black, brown and gray with luxurious fur trimmings of platinum wolf, beaver, fish, fox and mink. Sizes 16 to 44. A few sport coats are included in this lot.

Just think of getting a good looking sport or dress coat for only $19.75! Dress coats of rich pile fabrics, and sport coats of good looking mixtures trimmed with fur collars and cuffs of mandel, mendoza beaver, etc. For best selection we advise you to shop early. All sizes. Don't let this opportunity go by without purchasing a coat at this price.

You must see these coats for yourself to appreciate their remarkable values. Good looking sport coats in mixtures with fur collars and cuffs of mandel or mendoza beaver. There are also a few dress coats in this assortment. Plenty of sizes. These coats are sure to sell quickly at this price so come early!

$25.00	One Lot of	Special!
DRESSES	DRESSES	SLICKERS
NOW	NOW
$15.00	$10.00	$1.98

In this group of dresses at $15.00 you will find frocks of pique, seersucker and jersey. The jersey dresses are the well known "Goldies" jerseys—non clingable. One piece models in tan, marine blue, navy, dark red, and chimney red. Sizes 16 to 42. These frocks would make lovely street dresses to wear this spring.

When you see this assortment of dresses at $10 you will not be able to resist the temptation of buying one. The colors! Bright shades of green, blue, mother goose, monkey skin, red, etc. Georgette, flat crepe and crepe de chine in new spring styles. There are also a few cloth frocks in the lot.

Prepare for stormy winter days now! We are sure to have plenty of bad weather yet, and you can be nice and dry if you have one of these slickers which we are offering special at $1.98. Plain mannish coats with corduroy collars and large patch pockets. Colors: blue, red and green. Sizes 16 to 46.

GARMENTS—SECOND FLOOR

Sleds $1.25 to $4.98
The J.W. Hale Company
 SOUTH MANCHESTER, CONN.
 Wool Scarfs $1.98

GLENNEY'S

TINKER BUILDING

Men of Manchester and Vicinity

Do you realize that you can buy a SUIT or OVERCOAT at GLENNEY'S at a wonderful saving in price.
 FORD OVERCOATS that sold as high as $65, $49.50
 NOW SELLING FOR $18.75
 Other Makes as low as

MEN'S SUITS

Well-tailored, beautiful fabrics, popular styles, some with two pair of trousers as low as $21.65

BOYS' SUITS

Reduced to as low as $9.50
 Suits the boys like and suits that wear right.

BIG MONEY SAVING EVENT AT GLENNEY'S IN MEN'S SHOES

One Lot $2.98	These Shoes Sold as High as $5.50	One Lot $3.98	This lot Sold as High as $6.50
Packard Shoes that sold as high as $9, One Price $5.35

FLORSHEIM SHOES

Reduced for a few days

$8.85

You do not have to go out of town to save money, you can do it right here.

GLENNEY'S

Tinker Building

Life Growth Eggs

Feed a Balanced Ration for Year Round Profits
PURINA POULTRY CHOWS
 at the Store with the Checkerboard Sign

Manchester Grain & Coal Company

The Checkerboard Store.

10 Apel Place, Manchester, Conn.

Phone 1760

Dr. M. H. Squires

Chiropractic and Electric Treatment

The Best Treatment for Colds, La Grippe, Enlarged Tonsils and Sore Throat.

Selwitz Blk.

Phone 487

BUFFALO MARKET CO.

Across Street from Army & Navy Club. Telephone 456. We Deliver.

Fresh Fish Everyday

Special Swordfish	42¢/lb
Halibut	42c
Herring	15c
Mackerel	18c
Steak Cod	25c
Haddock, 2 lbs.	25c
Blue fish	25c
Butterfish	30c
Flounders	15c

Oysters and Clams.

Watch Tomorrow's Herald for Meat Specials for Saturday.