

LEGISLATORS TRY TO BOLT IN LONG TILT

However Old Guard in Lower House Wins Out in Debate Over Licensing Real Estate Men.

Hartford, March 17.—An attempt to bolt the leadership of the Old Guard in the Lower House of the Legislature here today failed, despite a rampage that ended only after an hour or more debate and much more than that time of preliminary discussion. The proposition was an unfavorable report of the Judiciary committee on a bill to license real estate agents. A filibuster inaugurated early in the sitting was stopped by strong arguments and oratory on the part of Ernest L. Averill, of Fairfield; Raymond A. Johnson, of Manchester; John F. Lynch of Orange, and Arthur J. Hull of Trumbull. The report on the bill was 123 to 72 in favor of accepting the unfavorable report.

Alfred Newfield of Hartford, started the opposition with a speech which referred to the "unscrupulousness now prevalent among unlicensed agents." Mr. Averill rushed to tilt and met Messrs. Peck, of Bristol and Hoyt of New Haven, on parliamentary proceedings. Mr. Averill won, and a motion to divide the question went by the boards.

Mr. Hoyt's Plea
Mr. Hoyt, one of the six judicial members voting in the minority for a favorable report, made a plea for rejection of the committee report and for passage of the bill. Mr. Peck backed him and said "no business needs regulation more than the real estate business, except the profession of medicine. Mistakes and incompetency of medical men affect lives, those of real estate men affect property owners."

Representative Huling of West Hartford, himself a real estate agent, declared "the realtors want to clean house to get rid of crooked agents." Mr. Lynch, in favoring the committee report, said the bill would put out of business hundreds of men and women who operate on a small scale. He then declared "there are already too many laws regulating the actions of the citizens of the state on our books." Then Mr. Lynch insisted he was not going to legislate to try to catch a crook by himself, when the same law will hurt innocent people.

The bill was "conceived in advance and cupidity," Mr. Lynch declared. Mr. Finkelstone, of Bridgeport, was in favor of the bill while Mr. Hull, of Trumbull, wanted to accept the committee report. "There is too much red tape confronting the public now," he said. "The real estate men favor it." He wanted a chance to kill the bill in the House.

"All rubbish,"
"All this talk about protection of the public is rubbish," declared Mr. Averill, "as this bill was not designed to protect the public but to advance the interests of the already admitted honest realtors. The individual must take care of himself somewhere, sometime, and not be wet-nursed by the state through his whole life."

Then Mr. Averill declared "after we are dead and gone, the crooks will still be with us." Mr. Johnson moved the previous question which was ordered by a two-thirds vote of the House, one on the acceptance of the report and rejection of the bill by viva voce vote appeared to be closed, and the speaker ordered a rising vote which resulted in 123 in favor and 72 opposed.

After this vote W. C. Hunsnerford, of Waterbury, objected to the limiting of the debate. This lasted but fifty minutes "on a very important matter," he said. "You have been in the House three sessions," retorted Mr. Averill, "and should know that the 'previous question' was put only after a two-thirds vote of the House."

Hartford, March 17.—The House killed the horse racing bill which would have established a racing commission and legalized betting on horse races. There was no debate other than a report made by Raymond A. Johnson, of Manchester who said that the committee feels the time is not yet come when the state wants to legalize such racing and "what goes with it."

The so-called birth-control bill allowing the use of contraceptives was also rejected without debate by the House.

Two petitions for restoration of fortified rights were adopted by the House under suspension of the rules. The first restores the rights of John J. Courtney, of Stamford, and the second to Thomas J. Williams of Litchfield.

Favorable Reports
Favorable reports received in the House were as follows: regulating fishing in Moosup and Chautauque ponds, providing biennial elections in Windham, providing for biennial elections in East Hampton, providing for repeal of the act.

DARROW IS DEFEATED IN DEBATE ON SOUL

Boston, Mass., March 17.—Clarence A. Darrow, world-famous lawyer, left the city today on the short end of a verdict by a Boston audience which heard his debate with President Clinton D. Gary, of Bates College, on the question: "Is Man a Machine." The audience was plainly convinced by the argument that man is governed by a soul, ruled by a deity. "All the evidence we have shows that man is simply a machine," said Darrow.

NANKING FALLS TO CANTONESE, LATEST REPORT

Heavy Fighting Around City; If Reports Are True Shanghai Will Be Next to Be Captured.

Shanghai, March 17.—Heavy fighting is in progress about Nanking and there are unconfirmed reports that it has already fallen to the Cantonese.

Another report states that the Cantonese have not captured Nanking but are menacing it. Pi Shou Chen, Shanghai defense commissioner stated today that heavy fighting is proceeding in the vicinity of Nanking and predicted a sweeping An Kuo-chun victory. He declared startling developments are imminent but refused to disclose details.

General Strike
The general labor union has accepted the report of the fall of Nanking and in celebration has ordered a general strike. There are 13,000 idle already and it is expected that 250,000 will eventually be involved in the strike.

The capture of Nanking, the ancient capital of China and present capital of Kiangsu, would be a great victory for the Cantonese troops almost equivalent to the fall of Shanghai. The fall of Nanking would undoubtedly mean the eventual fall of Shanghai.

There are five American firms doing business in Nanking and the last census showed over 400 American residents there, but it is believed that many of these have already left the city for Shanghai.

Great Excitement
The reports concerning the fall of Nanking have caused great excitement in the native city. Every precaution is being taken by the foreign authorities to prevent celebrators from making any attempt to enter the city for settlement. The British guards which have been posted on the outskirts of the settlement are on the alert and volunteers are ready for a call to service at any moment.

The British authorities today arrested two Mohammedans and one Sikh who will probably face charges of attempting to incite sedition in the camps of the Indian regiments. All three were held without bail. The British military authorities announce they are making an inquiry to determine whether Indian Communist organizations are active in Shanghai.

Docks Seized
London, March 17.—General Pi has seized control of the Kiangsu docks in the native city of Shanghai where a number of American vessels are under reconstruction, according to a Shanghai dispatch to the Daily Express. The dispatch states that General Pi has declared the seizure of the docks necessary because of urgently needed repairs to northern warships.

Admiral Williams of the United States naval forces has dispatched a warship to the Kiangsu dock district to protect American interests there.

JUDGE BOWERS ENTERS NEW STAGE IN ILLNESS

The report from the Manchester Memorial hospital today in regard to the condition of Judge H. O. Bowers was less encouraging. Dr. N. A. Burr, the attending physician, said that Mr. Bowers had apparently entered a new stage of the disease. Dr. Wiedman of Hartford was again last night called into consultation. The doctors agree and feel that the condition of extreme restlessness and suffering make the prognosis for recovery extremely doubtful. Everything is being done for the patient that is humanely possible.

Judge Bowers has been unconscious five weeks today.

FLOODS IN MONTREAL
Montreal, Que., March 17.—The overflowing of the Chateaugay river has made a little Venice out of the town of Chateaugay today. Miniature icebergs are bobbing over the flooded district and the residents are forced to come and go from their homes in boats.

MERIDEN GETS DANAHER CUP IN BIG DEBATE

Manchester Loses When Resident Judge Breaks Tie in Silver City; Wins Contest Here.

Manchester finished second in the triangular competition for the John A. Danaher debating trophy donated by Cornelius J. Danaher, well known Meriden lawyer in memory of his son. The handsome silver loving cup was presented to Meriden High as a result of winning the triangular competition between the Manchester, Meriden and Middletown high schools for the third time last night. Meriden's affirmative and negative teams both registered 2 to 1 victories. Manchester won here, 2 to 1, and lost in Meriden, 2 to 1. Middletown was on the short end of both debates by the same scores.

While Principal C. P. Quimby would not go on record as offering an alibi, it was nevertheless quite evident that Manchester's negative team confronted a rather extraordinary condition in Meriden. It was understood that neutral judges should handle all debates. Wesleyan University, named as one of the colleges to supply judges, selected C. H. Tryon, a Wesleyan graduate, but a resident of Meriden, as one of the three judges in that city. Tryon is connected with the Meriden Daily Journal.

Unconvinced.
Manchester adults who listened to the debate in Middletown expressed the view that Manchester deserved to win. They report that Manchester presented more salient facts in a more finished way. Meriden's second speaker became confused and in effort to recover himself, spoke about things which had nothing to do with the subject under debate. "Resolved that the government should cancel the allied war debts to the United States."

Two of the judges disagreed and the Meriden newspaper man cast the deciding ballot in Meriden's favor.

The coach of the New Haven Commercial debating team, who was present to secure pointers for his future debate, although not interested as to the winner, said afterward that Manchester should have been the winner.

Seven hundred persons heard the two teams argue. Manchester High was represented by Geraldine DeWitt, Paul Packard, Jacob Rubinow, with Esther Holmes as alternate. Meriden had Paul McMahon, Edward Malquin, Eugene Turner and Nolan Gowen. The judges were J. MacGowan, Roxbury school, John P. Kinney, Crosby High, Waterbury, and Tryon of the Meriden Daily Journal. The presiding officer was Cornelius J. Danaher, of Meriden, head of the cup.

The Debate Here
Manchester's affirmative team defeated Middletown here at the High school assembly hall before a gathering of over 300 persons. The Manchester team was made up of Robert Mercer, George F. Fittell and Emma E. Strickland, with Joseph P. McCluskey as alternate, while Middletown used Marcella Hayden, Milton Smith and Thomas Quinn, with Janet Brewster as alternate. The judges were Dean Edward L. Troxell, Trinity College; Franklin E. Pierce, state supervisor of secondary education, and Miss Mary Worthley, coach of the debating team at West Hartford High School. Superintendent P. A. Verplanck was the presiding officer.

Following is a brief resume of the salient points given by the speakers:

Jack Lockwill, His Boat Sunk, Takes to Polo

Jack Lockwill's Speedboat has run its course of thrills and lies sunk in the waters of Rock Lake. And with the craft's passage out of the swift panorama which is Jack's spectacular life, his interest and the interest of those who have thus far followed his courageous escapades is transferred to a polo pony.

On this peppery steed, whose spirit is as high as his young master's, Jack is to pursue the romantic and entrancing career which has been his since small childhood. In the saddle, instead of at the wheel of the "Mystery," Jack will be found achieving new heights of adventure, chivalry and daring.

What to expect in the way of adventure from Jack and his adventuring friends, know not even for them, Gilbert Patten, creator of Frank and Dick Merriwell, Jack's immortal prototypes, and Larry Redner, NEA sports artist, have an astonishingly moving narrative in store.

FIRST PICTURE OF SCENE AT FORD SUIT

Cosgrave and De Valera Write Greetings on St. Patrick's Day

By WILLIAM T. COSGRAVE,
President of the Irish Free State.

Dublin, March 17.—With the coming of the national festival, the minds and hearts of men and women of Irish blood turn to their mother country with renewed affection; and hopes for her advancement and prosperity with renewed vigor.

The Irish nation which has borne many centuries of stress and trial, has now reached smoother waters and the energies of the people, long dissipated in a struggle for mere existence, are now being directed towards setting their country in its rightful position among the nations. Politics no longer exercise a distracting influence upon our people. Practical measures for the up-building of the nation are occupying their thoughts and time.

SINCLAIR APPEALS TO HIGHEST COURT

Convicted Yesterday on Contempt Charge; Jury's Verdict Takes 8 Hours.

Washington, March 17.—Convicted on four counts charging contempt of the United States Senate, Harry F. Sinclair, multimillionaire oil magnate and sportsman, resumed debate from his hotel desk today while his attorneys perfected their appeal to a higher court.

A jury in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia found the oil man guilty last night after deliberating eight hours and ten minutes. The law carries a mandatory penalty of one month to one year in the District of Columbia jail and a fine of $100 to $1,000. Sentence will be pronounced by Justice William Hitz, who presided at the trial, within four days, or as soon as the defense attorneys have prepared their appeal to carry the case to the District Court of Appeals. Sinclair's counsel have asserted they will fight the case to the United States Supreme Court.

First Since 1896
Sinclair's conviction is the first on record in federal courts for contempt of the Senate since 1896. The case grew out of his refusal to answer certain questions before the Senate oil committee, on March 22, 1924, bearing upon his negotiations with former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall for the Teapot Dome, Wyoming, naval oil reserve lease of April 7, 1922.

The conviction emphatically affirms the hitherto challenged right of the Senate to force testimony from reluctant witnesses.

Ottawa, Ont., March 17.—Canada imported 23,593,221 feet of movie film from the United States, and only 285,158 feet from Great Britain last year, statistics revealed today. Imports from all countries totaled 23,904,059 feet.

"NEW ENGLAND NEEDS VOICE"— BRUCE BARTON

Advertising Needed, Noted Author Tells Boston C. of C.—Asked to Imitate California.

Boston, Mass., March 17.—"No beggars, peddlars or advertising solicitors allowed." Bruce Barton, advertising executive and widely-known writer, told the Chamber of Commerce today that this sign used to great him in the elevators of one of Chicago's older office buildings twenty years ago.

But a great change has taken place since then, he said, and nowhere is that change more impressive than in the financial world. The change means, he said:

The Changes
"1. That advertising is coming to be recognized for what it really is, a tremendous educational force."
"2. That the men responsible for the financing of industry have come to recognize that scientific production methods have pretty largely leveled down the advantage between one product and another. There are no longer secrets in the most successful businesses."

"That the pull and tug upon the modern mind has increased far beyond the capacity of the mind to respond."

New England's Voice
Urging that "The voice of New England call," Mr. Barton said: "Last summer Mrs. Barton and I visited Los Angeles. We had hardly settled ourselves in the hotel before there came a knock on the door, and the bellboy delivered a huge basket of flowers, a product of California, with the compliments of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce."

"I said to her with a laugh, 'How long do you think we should have to be in the Copley Plaza or the Touraine (Boston hotels) before the Boston Chamber of Commerce would send us a pair of shoes or even a button hook?'"

"The ways of California are not our ways; they should not be. But California has no more to advertise than has New England; in most respects it has much less. Millions of dollars that are spent in Europe every year might more usefully be spent in New England. Surely, it is not narrow-minded or provincial to suggest that no one ought to see the battlefields of Waterloo who has not first seen the rude bridge that arched the flood; that nobody should visit Oxford and Cambridge who has not first visited Harvard and Yale and Amherst; that no one should putter about the palaces of George III who has not first seen the homes of the Adams and Hancock and Paul Revere."

PEACE IN NICARAGUA IS PUT UP TO ARMY

Mission Gives Up Its Efforts On Grounds That Sacaca Will Be Defeated.

Managua, Nicaragua, March 17.—Efforts towards peace in Nicaragua have been abandoned for the time being, owing to the probability of a military decision in a short time.

Conservative headquarters announce that General Moncada has withdrawn his forces to Matiguas and is avoiding contact with the federal troops.

A peace mission which was to have started for Puerto Cabezas to attempt to urge Dr. Sacaca, Liberal leader to give up his efforts to win military success, has been abandoned as those interested feel that the war will have been brought to a conclusion by a decisive battle before they could reach Puerto Cabezas.

Liberals in the Managua district are reported dissatisfied with Dr. Sacaca for his refusal to end the warfare immediately, feeling that the struggle is now hopeless and that further fighting will mean only needless sacrifices of life.

REDS AGAIN ASK ENVOYS' RELEASE

Soviets Say Chinese Faked Incriminating Papers Found on Couriers.

Peking, March 17.—Accusing the Chinese authorities of faking the incriminating papers found aboard the Pamiat Lenina, the Soviet embassy in a third note today demanded immediate release of the ship and of Mme. Borodin and the three diplomatic couriers who were arrested.

The charges
The embassy, basing its charges on thorough investigation of all the circumstances surrounding the seizure, declares that two previous searches of the Lenina failed to disclose any incriminating evidence, even though the Chinese authorities disregarded international practice and searched the couriers' pouches. A third search, however, by a White Russian officer, produced the incriminating documents, which the couriers had never before seen, according to the Soviet note.

The note adds that the official couriers were subjected to unheard-of indignities, and were handcuffed following their arrest.

SOFT-PEDALS THE JEWISH ISSUE IN OPENING SPEECH

DR. COOK IS FREED FROM PRISON TERM

Famous Arctic Explorer Is Pardoned—Was Serving 14 Years Sentence.

Fort Worth, Texas, March 17.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, former Arctic explorer, was granted his freedom today from Leavenworth penitentiary.

Judge James C. Wilson, sitting on the federal bench here, extended leniency to the famous physician, explorer and oil promoter, who was found guilty in 1923 of using the mails to defraud and was sentenced to fourteen years and nine months in prison.

In His Health
Dr. Cook applied for freedom on probation, assuring his sentence was excessive and his health was in such a condition that continued incarceration probably would mean his death in prison. He is sixty years old.

The court's decision today adds one of the closing chapters to a colorful story—the story of a man branded as the "Master Faker" of the twentieth century. The career of Dr. Frederick Cook carried him to heights that made him the guest of kings, then descended precipitously as he sank beneath an avalanche of opprobrium.

"Hall the Hero" were the words that greeted his ears in 1905 when he returned from the frozen north with his claim to the discovery of the Arctic Pole.

14 Years in Sentence
"Fourteen years and nine months in prison" were those he heard in the federal courtroom here in 1923 when Judge John M. Kilgus, of Toledo, in sentencing him, delivered one of the most scathing denunciations ever addressed to a prisoner before the bar.

The disclosure of Dr. Cook's famous North Pole hoax retired him from public view in the years that intervened. Expelled from his clubs and from scientific societies, he was unheard of for a decade. Then the mist of obscurity lifted when the Texas oil boom brought him back into prominence as the organizer and president of the Petroleum Producers' Association of Fort Worth in 1920.

Within eighteen months after his first venture into the oil industry, Dr. Cook was employing 290 stenographers and clerks and occupying two floors of an office building here. His campaign brought in thousands of dollars. But the promised riches were not forthcoming and the federal government stepped in.

COSTS THREE MILLION TO REMOVE N. Y. SNOW

Tie Up of Traffic Costs City Five Millions a Day, Experts Say.

Boston, Mass., March 17.—Three million and one half dollars yearly is the average cost of snow removal in the boroughs of Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx, Elmer C. Goodwin, chief engineer, department of street cleaning, New York City, told delegates to the Institute of Public Service, which opened today at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A tie up from traffic resulting in heavy snow means a loss of approximately five million dollars a day to the business interests of that city, he said.

Gasoline tax expended in the maintenance and reconstruction of highways will actually reduce operating cost of motor vehicles over those roads to return to the operator a profit of several hundred per cent of charge, declared George B. Hamlin, superintendent of highway repairs of the highway department of Connecticut.

In Connecticut, he continued, during the extreme winter of 1925-26, with a two cent gasoline tax, the snow removal program was accomplished at about half the cost of the funds received from the gasoline tax during the month of December, January and February. It is fair to assume that without this program the fees would have been greatly reduced and transportation seriously handicapped.

COLLEGE SHIP'S CREW HELD A ROTTERDAM

Cases of Bubonic Plague Discovered—Professors and Students Are in France.

Rotterdam, March 17.—The Steamer Ryndal, which brought to Europe the American "Floating University" on a college cruise, today was held at quarantine here by the authorities, who stated that cases of bubonic plague had been discovered among members of the crew. The American professors and students left the ship at Havre planning to come here March 21 by train.

The Socialist press is strenuously protesting against the admission of the Americans to the country, on the ground that they might cause the disease to spread.

Says Sapiro Dreamed of Control of All Markets In World—Says Many Farmers Had Lost Money Through Co-operative Plan—Ford's Charges True, Lawyer Declares.

Federal Building, Detroit, Mich., March 17.—A golden dream of wealth and empire inspired Aaron Sapiro, so-called "inheat king," to seek control of American agriculture through a nation-wide series of co-operative associations. Senator James A. Reed, Democrat of Missouri, charged today in explaining Henry Ford's defense to the 50-50 jury of men and women in the million-dollar libel suit.

Stalking into the spotlight of interest at the trial, Reed donned the strange mantle of protector to defend America's first billionaire. The fiery Missourian branded Sapiro as a greedy dreamer, who organized farmers into associations to their loss and his own profit.

Sapiro's Dream
Reed pictured Sapiro's goal as the control of all the markets of the world. If this dream had come true, said Reed, Sapiro would have headed a gigantic agriculture empire for his own profit and the exploitation of American farmers.

Against this background Reed described Ford as a publisher who owed it to American agriculture and the 600,000 readers of the Dearborn Independent to warn them against Sapiro and the latter's "dream of empire." This duty, enhanced, the Missourian said, when investigations showed that many farmers had lost money through the Sapiro co-operatives.

In brief, Reed declared Ford's only defense to the million-dollar libel suit was that the charges against Sapiro were true. The Missourian soft-pedaled the Jewish issue, declaring Ford's earlier attacks on American Jewry had no place in the libel suit.

Federal Building, Detroit, Mich., March 17.—A presidential possibility in 1923 captured the spotlight today in the Ford-Sapiro million-dollar libel suit.

In a new role, that of defender, Reed made a passionate defense of Henry Ford's attacks upon Aaron Sapiro, the so-called "Prince of Farm Organizers," and a "Jewish King," which Ford's Dearborn Independent charged were exploiting the American farmer.

The Missouri Democrat told the fifty-fifty jury of men and women that the attacks were justified because they were true.

Court Room Packed
A packed courtroom saw a new Reed in action. It was a different role he assumed from that of prosecutor in the famous slush fund investigations. He defended the rich farmer in America, however, with the same zeal he displayed in revealing the huge expenditures in the Pennsylvania and Illinois senatorial campaigns.

Reed made it plain that Ford's chief defense will be that the attacks on Sapiro were true.

"The law puts no bridge in the mouth of truth," said Reed. "We claim here and we shall try to prove it that all the articles published about Sapiro were true."

Never Saw Articles.
Henry Ford never saw the articles published in the Dearborn Independent, Reed declared. The auto king had nothing to do with their publication, he added, but the Ford organization will not deny the articles were published as quoted by Sapiro in filing the libel suit.

Before Reed began, William H. Gallagher, chief of Sapiro's counsel closed his opening statement to the jury.

Sapiro was injured in three ways, said Gallagher. Ford attacked him as a man of honor, his loyalty to clients and his work as an organizer of co-operatives. The attacks, said Sapiro's attorney, were published in the Dearborn Independent at a time when its circulation was 600,000.

20 Million Libels.
"There were at least 20 readers for each issue," said Gallagher. "There were twenty of these articles published. That means there were 20,000,000 separate libels against my client."

Gallagher declared Sapiro did not have to prove his good character nor that he had been damaged by the Ford publication.

"It is presumed that Mr. Sapiro has a good character, and that he was damaged by the libelous articles," he said. "That is the law."

Gallagher closed with this declaration, his argument having lasted ten minutes.

"Reed arose. He smiled on the jury. He spoke quietly. 'This is a case between Aaron Sapiro and Henry Ford. It is not a case between Ford and Sapiro.'"

Ottawa, March 17.—King George will inaugurate the celebration of the diamond jubilee of the confederation on Dominion Day, July 1, by pressing a button in London which will give the signal here for the ringing of the new carillon on the tower of the parliament buildings, which in turn will be broadcast by radio throughout the land, it was announced today.

LEGISLATORS TRY TO BOLT IN TILT

Pages at Ottawa and at all the provincial capitals, and issues of commemorative postage stamps are among the other plans before the committee, which also will take into consideration the proposed tour of the Prince of Wales and invitations to be issued to governments of the empire and to foreign governments to send representatives to the celebration.

PRESIDENT BANDAID.

Washington, March 17.—President Coolidge appeared at the Davis cup drawings today with his right hand and wrist wrapped in bandages. He explained his wrist was strained and weak and decided to have the bandages put on to protect it.

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY HOLD 24TH ANNIVERSARY

250 Attend Celebration in Orange Hall—Supper and Entertainment.

Orange hall last evening was the scene of a merry party of about 250 men, women and children, who gathered on invitation of the Daughters of Liberty, I. O. O. F., to help them celebrate the twenty-fourth anniversary of their organization in Manchester. Officers and members of Washington Lodge were guests. Visitors were also present from Hartford Orange lodges.

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY HOLD 24TH ANNIVERSARY

The supper tables were decorated in the colors of the order—orange and blue, purple and scarlet. The lighted candles were in these four colors, the whole effect being bright and pleasing. Mrs. Sarah Tedford was at the head of the committee on decorations.

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY HOLD 24TH ANNIVERSARY

When all had done justice to the bountiful meal they returned to the lodge hall. Worthy Mistress Mercer then introduced the chairman of the evening, George Tomlinson of the advisory board of the Daughters of Liberty, who made a few remarks. Miss Martha Tedford, chairman of the entertainment, with her assistants provided an excellent program of vocal and instrumental music and speeches, which opened with the singing of "America" by the gathering. Miss Florence Bell was pianist.

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY HOLD 24TH ANNIVERSARY

Vocal numbers were rendered by Miss Jamesina Stevenson, David Morrison, Miss Georgina Burns, Miss Mary Love, Hamilton McKee and James Venable. James McCaughey sang Scotch songs and William Ritchie and Robert Pearson played on the bagpipes. Miss Florence Wilson rendered a piano solo and speeches were made during the program by Benjamin Kloter, W. M. of Washington Lodge, Francis McGown, W. M. of R. B. P. No. 13, and Frank Mullen.

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY HOLD 24TH ANNIVERSARY

Rev. J. S. Nellis, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church, who visited Ireland last summer and acquired a knowledge of the gaelic tongue, sang a gaelic song in that language and in the English words. Harold Turkington accompanied Mr. Nellis on the piano.

GOLD SEEKERS FLOCK TO ARIZONA FIELDS

Prospectors Bring in Ore That Assays at $50 a Pound; Many Claims Filled.

Winkelman, Arizona, March 17.—Arizona today was in the throes of a gold rush that has brought hundreds of gold seekers into this vicinity during the past 24 hours.

GOLD SEEKERS FLOCK TO ARIZONA FIELDS

The strike, which has been verified by James B. Girard, well-known mining engineer, was made known on cowboy claims in the Dripping Springs district, eighty miles from here. The ore runs approximately $50 a pound, according to reports. Rumors of the strike became prevalent about two weeks ago. C. W. McGraw, who had been working the cowboy claims in a desultory manner for the past few years, brought in samples from the new find. The ore was brought up from the 65-foot level of the shaft sunk on the property.

PARK COMMISSION MEETS TOMORROW

There will be a meeting of the park commission tomorrow morning at the Municipal building at 11 o'clock. Plans for the spring season work will be discussed. Only the most necessary work can be accomplished. Park Superintendent John Y. Keur explains, because of the failure to increase the $10,000 appropriation for the park department.

PARK COMMISSION MEETS TOMORROW

The park department will start its spring work Monday, Superintendent Keur said. The Center Park will be the first job as that is always in need of cleaning, pruning and grading after the winter months. The new entrance to the Center Spring woods will be finished soon. One half of the stone stairway was completed last fall.

Rockville ROCKVILLE'S TAX RATE INCREASED

Gymnasium Appropriation Passed; St. Patrick's Cele- bration.

(Special to The Herald)
Rockville, March 17. A special town meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the town hall at 2 o'clock. It was voted to raise the town tax to 13 mills which is an increase of 1 1-2 mills over the present rate.

A resolution was adopted to repair the old grammar school with an appropriation of $5,000 which was left after fixing over the old high school. A basketball court and gymnasium will be made on the top floor. The clerk of the meeting was First Selectman Arnold and John B. Thomas acted as clerk.

Miss Church's Pageant
Miss Lelia M. Church had an interesting experience when she was called to Antrim, New Hampshire last week in regard to giving a pageant at their Sesqui-Centennial in August. She found snow quite deep and sleighs are about the streets. She drove five miles through narrow roads bordered with snow laden pines. At the meeting which Miss Church attended in the town hall, business was transacted on the stage and the meeting lasted all day. Many ladies attended the meeting bringing their sewing and knitting with them. They all went to the G. A. R. hall for dinner. It was voted, seconded and passed to have the pageant without a single opposing vote. In the evening Miss Church addressed the committee of twenty and gave a general idea of the pageants which she had given in other places. Miss Church will write the pageant and return to Antrim in April to present and complete plans.

St. Patrick's Celebration
St. Patrick's Day will be celebrated tonight with an entertainment and dance in Town hall for the benefit of St. Bernard's church. A concert will be furnished by Ernest Rock's orchestra with the following program: Overture, Irish melodies; orchestra; welcome, grade 5 children; song, "Come Back to Erin," chorus of fifty voices; solo, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," Arlene Brown; dance, Miss Grace V. Rebeck; banjo solo, William Marley, Jr.; sketch, "The Goose and the Turkey," Rose Moffitt, Margaret McCarlin and Mary Bresnahan; recitation, "Kitty's Graduation Day," Henry Murray; duet, "Aunt Peggy and Uncle Dan," Arlene Brown and Robert Wendeliser; dance, the Marley children; acts of magic, Francis Kuhnly; closing number, "The Dawn of Mother Macbrree," Ora Morin.

Dancing will follow the program, music being furnished by the orchestra.

FINDS HERALD BEST PAL IN THE SOUTH

"The best pal I had during my five months in Miami was The Evening Herald," said Peter Partons, well-known Manchester baseball player, last night upon his arrival home to spend the summer months. Partons was employed in a Miami hotel and during his stay there saw but one or two other Manchester persons.

Consequently he looked forward eagerly to the time when the mail man came with his opportunity to learn about the "folks back home." Pete said the fact that the paper reached him three days after its publication made no difference what-were a year old."

STATE CHAMBER OFFERS INDUSTRY SURVEY PLAN

Local Branches May Confer With Experts Through New Arrangement.

Hartford, March 17.—Henry Trumbull of Plainville, vice-president of the Connecticut Chamber of Commerce, announced today that the State Chamber has sent communications to the 40 local Chambers of Commerce throughout the state that are members of the State Chamber which communications outline an arrangement whereby communities which desire industrial surveys, either to help their existing business interests or to provide a definite basis to seek new industries, may confer with community planning experts.

Recently several local Chambers have requested advice from the State Chamber as to making industrial surveys.
Arrangements have been perfected whereby local communities in Connecticut desiring industrial surveys are offered the opportunity of conferring with the State Chamber regarding their problems in cooperation with a prominent organization of zoning, city planning and industrial survey engineers with nation-wide experience in leading cities.

Find the Trouble.
The crystallizing of a New England viewpoint in recent months, as evidenced by the formation of the New England Council and other allied movements, and by a keen discussion of New England's problems in all parts of the country, has led to a frequent consideration of the question "What's wrong with New England?"

One evidence that New England has turned its attention to studying its business structure is indicated by the industrial surveys now being made in various parts of New England so as to give communities accurate knowledge of their assets and liabilities from a business standpoint from which they can chart their future more successfully.

The concern which is co-operating with the State Chamber has made industrial surveys for many communities, among which are Fitchburg and West Springfield, Massachusetts; Schenectady and Utica, New York; Cincinnati and Canton, Ohio; Mobile, Alabama;
Richmond, Virginia and Edgewater,
New Jersey.

MERIDEN WINS CUP IN FINAL DEBATE

is right in principle; that the United States is the richest nation of the world; that 75 per cent of the money borrowed by the allies remained in this country; that the American debt funding commission acted hastily; that our immediate contribution to the war upon our entry into it could be nothing but money in any event; that we actually profited indirectly from the spoils of war.

Flavell Argues.
Flavell declared that there is precedent for cancellation inasmuch as England and France canceled allied debts; that economic conditions make present settlements unsound since German indemnities cannot be paid. The Dawes plan is not working and the debtors can raise money for payment to us only by floating heavy loans. He asserted that an increase in the volume of money in this country would be an intolerable burden, that international debt settlement would affect American investments abroad and payment in goods would curtail the home market for American products.

Cancellation, he declared, would give Europe a fresh start, stabilize currencies and work for the betterment of the world.

Miss Strickland.
Miss Strickland, presenting the view that cancellation would be beneficial to all concerned, maintained that any form of payment is impractical. Gold payments would inflation prices here and ruin the support of foreign currencies. Payment in land has never even been suggested. Payment in securities would injure exchange rates and bring on revolts in the debtor countries whose people would regard the United States in the light of a Roman conqueror. Payment in goods would impoverish Europe, which has no surplus production and would depress the labor market here, where the European product would undersell our own commodities.

Cancellation, said Miss Strickland, would restore international equilibrium. The United States needs a market for its surplus production, which it cannot have if Europe is impoverished. Cancellation would insure future peace by establishing good will. Wars, she declared, are caused by economic servitude.

Chaney's Resignation Accept- ed; Committee Rules Cards Must Be Shown.

The resignation of Earl H. Chaney as director of the Recreation Centers was accepted at a meeting of the Recreation committee of the Ninth district yesterday but no successor has been picked as yet, it was announced after the session.
Several applications for the position have been received and are to be acted upon shortly. Director Chaney leaves the Rec on April 2 to return to his home state of Indiana, where he will enter the same kind of work.

The committee made a new ruling yesterday on membership cards. From now on members will be required to show their cards on request by an official of either building.
This rule is made because of the advantage non-members are taking of the facilities of the buildings, particularly High school children who are not supposed to be in the Rec at night.

THE LIFE OF CHRIST The Sermon on the Mount

"And seeing the multitudes Jesus went up into a mountain," and as his disciples gathered around him, he gave them the great teaching known as "The Sermon on the Mount." (Matt. V: 1)

The Beatitudes: "Blessed are the poor in spirit"; "Blessed are they that mourn"; "Blessed are the meek"; "Blessed are the merciful"; "Blessed are the pure in heart." (Matt. V: 3-11)

"Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid." (Matt. V: 14)

"Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin; and yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these." (Luke VI: 28-30)

THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1927.

ST. PATRICK.

This is St. Patrick's day, and a great many people besides those of Irish blood have come to make much of the anniversary, perhaps because it is the most conspicuous marker we have between the realm of winter and the region of spring.

But there are a lot of folks who attend St. Patrick's parties and wear green neckties on the 17th of March who know something less than nothing about the patron saint of Ireland.

So far as that goes there is, except in the minds of profound Irish scholars, some little cloudiness as to certain matters connected with St. Patrick, as for example the place of his birth and its exact date. But according to the Encyclopedia Britannica the latter was probably about the year 389 A. D.

It is believed that during his sojourn in his own place he conceived the idea of returning to Ireland to convert the then partly pagan and partly schismatic Christian population.

There is much dispute as to the career of St. Patrick in Ireland but it is certain that he traveled extensively and was extremely active as an organizer of the existing Christian societies and that he brought the people into contact with the civilization of western Europe.

It is all a long time ago. But St. Patrick was one of the world's outstanding pioneers of Christianity. Just why we should celebrate his day by wearing green neckties and toy billycock hats isn't altogether easy to understand.

NO NEWS AT ALL.

"Sinclair Convicted; Will Appeal Case." To the lay eye that looks like a perfectly good headline. Yet the copy reader who offered it to his editor would get it back again, perhaps with a caustic suggestion that he might substitute the words "Today Is Thursday" for "Will Appeal Case."

there isn't a newspaper in the country which would not give such a heading the biggest possible type and spread the astonishing thing all over the first page.

All of which constitutes a serious commentary on our system of criminal jurisprudence. When it becomes a foregone conclusion that a trial in a court of competent jurisdiction amounts to nothing but a preliminary skirmish—the conclusive engagement being certain to be fought in the United States supreme court after a series of tactical actions before state or federal appellate courts—of what use was the original trial?

Yet everybody knows that, almost without regard to the merits of any criminal case, it can be fought through a whole campaign of appeals and somehow or other gotten into the final federal court, if there is money enough at the command of the accused.

WALKING AND SO FORTH.

There is this in common between Edward Payson Weston, 88-year-old pedestrian of international fame, and "Able's Irish Rose" that both have kept going so much longer than anybody ever believed possible that nobody would now venture to predict that either of them would not go on forever.

Perhaps it is a realization of this cousinship between Weston and Able and his Rose that suggested to the perpetrator of the terribly successful play, Anne Nichols, to set apart the income of $30,000 for the support of the old walker for the rest of his life.

Meantime one wonders wherein is the utility of the establishment, by some misguided group on the occasion of Weston's 88th birthday, of a permanent trophy to go yearly to the person who has accomplished the most distinguished achievement in pedestrianism.

IN CHINA.

Newspaper correspondents in China are beginning to admit that they know practically nothing about what is going on. This verifies a suspicion that for sometime has amounted to almost a certainty in the minds of many readers of the conflicting dispatches sent out by the news agencies.

Everybody who knows anything at all about the Chinese can imagine how much chance a European or American correspondent has of learning facts concerning Chinese military movements if the Chinese intend that he shall find out nothing. The correspondent might as well be down a forty foot well, blindfolded and hogtied, at midnight.

FADING.

As was anticipated in an article in these columns two or three days ago, the court hearing the suit of Aaron Sapiro against Henry Ford has ruled that it is impossible to libel a race or a nation and that Mr. Ford's ideas concerning Jews as a whole are not actionable.

This knocks the big interest out of the Sapiro-Ford case. That notable trial is now conspicuous only because of the prominence of the persons involved and the size of the stakes. Whether Ford's Dearborn Independent kept inside the truth in asserting that Sapiro and his associates milked a lot of American farmers through the organization of co-operative bodies or whether that publication transgressed to the extent of libel is not, conceivably, the biggest problem that ever arose in America.

The affair now becomes more or less a sporting proposition as far as the public goes—will Ford win or will Sapiro? In either event the world will doubtless continue to turn over with its wonted regularity.

It is not altogether unsatisfying to newspapers, however, to be assured that they are not liable to have their presses attached for intimidating the Apaches Indians were once a warlike crew.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

THE LIFE STORY OF BUFO

By ARTHUR N. PACK

President, American Nature Ass'n. What do you know of the life history of this common American toad (bufo americanus)? Briefly, here are the facts about him from youth to old age—thought by naturalists to range from 30 to 50 years.

In the spring the father searches for a suitable place for the mother to deposit her eggs. When this is done he announces the fact and soon all the toads around join the community—a sort of co-operative subdivision.

Then the prospective father toads from their puff-out throats emit their musical "songs" in joyful anticipation of their twenty thousand offspring. A few days of this song fest and then mother toad deposits her eggs in quiet water a few inches deep.

The father bestows his parental care upon the eggs after they are in the water. A few days and the eggs hatch into stumpy-tailed peggles. Four to six weeks more and they will have attained their full growth as tadpoles, with fish-like inclinations.

When the little toads leave the home of their infancy and start inland, there is such a vast army of them as to give rise to the popular belief that it has been raining toads.

But the life of a toad is beset by danger. Few reach maturity. Though good-natured and kindly, he is gobbled up in great numbers by snakes, crows, hawks and poultry. He hides under clods and stones during the day and comes out in the evening in search of insects, caterpillars, cutworms and other insects.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER.

Washington, March 17.—Now that the Senate generally admits that it is suffering from an ailment, sometimes called a filibuster, it will have to decide whether to take treatment from Dr. Dawes or Dr. Norris.

Following the adjournment of Congress, sine die, after the patient's infirmity had been plainly exposed to the public gaze and after even the patient himself had admitted that something apparently was wrong, the loudest recommendations were for the Dawes treatment.

Outside experts seem to be in more or less accord that Dr. Dawes will get the case and that he will prescribe rigorous treatment which the patient will follow religiously, even though it kills him.

Of course there is no question about the diagnosis. The trouble is that the poor fellow, on the most embarrassing occasions, sometimes completely loses control of his tongue. He jabbers of this, that and the other thing, all day and all night, and for the painful duration of this malady—the medical term for which is filibuster—he is unable to move hand or foot. And by the time he gets over it, he frequently finds that he has let his business affairs go all to pot and that people are laughing at him.

Now the objection to Dr. Charles G. Dawes is that he favors a "kill or cure" method. The patient would be forcibly gagged. Dr. Dawes is one of these smart, dapper young city fellows, and has been in town only a couple of years. Recently quite a few folks have come to the conclusion that he has a distinct edge on the old-fashioned general practitioner, Dr. George W. Norris.

But some of the old-timers are suspicious of his new-fangled ways. They say the patient was gagged with three or four clouts, this spring and now look at him. Worse than ever!

Dr. Norris, on the other hand, has grown up with the town. He came here good-natured, how many years ago from Nebraska and has built up a good, solid practice. He has treated the patient in question for various illnesses in the past and the patient survived. He is kind and gentle and abhors the rough stuff to which Dr. Dawes is addicted. He calls a common cold a cold, instead of coryza, he hasn't invented any new diseases, and his fees are moderate.

Neither does he violate the ethics of the profession by publicly advertising himself and his cures as Dr. Dawes has done ever since his arrival here.

What Dr. Norris says is that if the patient were taught to realize that nothing was to be gained by his incessant tongue-clacking, he wouldn't have any more of those spells. He has proposed, in a constitutional amendment passed some times by the Senate, to abolish the short session and bring in a new Congress on the January after his election. He points out that a case of filibuster is quite harmless to the patient except during a short session.

By passing the Norris measure, the Senate has indicated that it knows what is good for it and that it prefers the Norris medicine. The trouble is that the chief pharmacists of the House of Representatives drug store have refused thus far to mix the dose, although most congressmen favor it.

Nevertheless, the patient is hardly likely just now to desert the old family doctor just so that he can be gagged or have his tongue amputated. Some day the House will mix and deliver the medicine, whereas the Dawes cure, he suspects, is worse than the disease.

NEW YORK

New York, March 17.—One of the fascinating indoor sports of Manhattan is watching the ever-increasing flash of new names into prominence and wondering from where they came.

Invariably each has a romance, written oftentimes in terms of struggle and, again, saturated with fictional flavor.

Not long ago the critics began to sing the praises of Frank Wilson, a Negro actor, who appeared in the obscure little Provincetown Playhouse, wherein Eugene O'Neill got his start.

Investigation showed that for years he has been a mail carrier in Harlem, struggling to become an actor and a writer. Several plays are in his trunk and his status as an actor is established.

In a building on Madison avenue there is a Czech-Slovakian elevator man. The other day a young lady of my acquaintance happened to mention, while riding down to lunch, that she needed a costume for a fancy dress ball.

The elevator man, overhearing her remarks, casually asked if she had seen his exhibition of costumes in a leading art gallery.

Her inquiries revealed the fact that the elevator man has one of the finest collections of Czech blouses and costumes now to be found in America. He has been attending night school at Columbia and expects to enter the diploma offices of his homeland within a year or so.

On Broadway there are as many tates as there are notables heading the casts. This season it has been Lee Tracy, who barnstormed the vaudeville belts in song and dance acts, carved trails to the agents' offices and was finally accidentally discovered because of the unusual demands of a dramatic role.

night and, no doubt, will linger with him for many a month.

The other Sunday afternoon at a tea I met a Russian, whose skin showed the leathery of many suns. His conversation was of art and of artists, for he is an expert on the etchings of a celebrated Englishman and has been handling a big American collection.

Such fictional adventures lie about every corner in New York, and the people are as varied as those who appear in the above few paragraphs. A certain word, a casually dropped remark or the mention of a place and up pops a romance.

SCIATIC-NEURITIS

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pains which shoot down the thigh to the foot often aggravated by walking, and with painful points along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The trouble is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual pain sedative even to alleviate the pain. The best way to get relief from the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenru's Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced, if not almost banished, all pain and soreness. Continue faithfully and in a reasonable time you should be able to work and rest in comfort once again. North End Pharmacy, So. Manchester Avenue, Magnel Drug Co. keeps Allenru's Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sell lots of it.—ad.

FARM BOYS OF COUNTY AND DADS TO GATHER

Will Hold Novel Conference at Hartford Y. M. C. A. on 26th of This Month.

Hartford County farm boys and their dads will take a day off and go to the Farm Boys conference at the Hartford Y. M. C. A., March 26, to meet other Hartford County farm boys and their dads and get better acquainted and study the problems of farm business and farm life.

"This is the first strictly Farm Boys Conference ever to be held in New England, so far as I know," says Chas. D. Lewis, county club agent for the Hartford County Farm Bureau, "we might call it an agricultural father and son rally for it is our plan for every farm boy and his dad to get together, study one another's problems and see what other farm boys and their dads are doing to make the business more attractive to the youngsters."

Educational and comic motion pictures will be shown. New England authorities on the relationship of the boy, his father, and the farm will make short talks. Boys of the F. R. Club will tell the past the club has played in bringing father and son and the farm business closer together and some of the fathers will tell how they have made the farm a more attractive and profitable place for the boy.

A ventriloquist and slight-of-hand man will give a little exhibition just before the boys leave for home.

Enrollment blanks are going to every farm boy in Hartford County," says Mr. Lewis, "and I feel that the boy and his father who are interested in getting better acquainted and stimulating greater interest in a more profitable and pleasant agriculture in Hartford County should avail themselves of this one annual opportunity when all farm boys and their dads in Hartford County are invited to discuss this very thing."

N. E. RICHEST MAN IS DEAD IN BOSTON

Benjamin Franklin Smith Worth Between 40 and 70 Millions—Was Poor Boy.

Boston, Mass., March 17.—Benjamin Franklin Smith, one of New England's wealthiest men, who amassed a fortune in the real estate and stockyard business in Omaha, Neb., was dead today. He died at his Back Bay home.

Mr. Smith was in his 97th year and was the survivor of a group of four brothers all of whom amassed fortunes. With their deaths their possessions eventually became the property of Benjamin, until in 1924 it was estimated that he was worth between $40,000,000 and $70,000,000.

Born in Maine

Born in Maine of stock descent from the earliest settlers of that state, Mr. Smith passed his early youth on a farm. With his brothers he later ventured forth into the lithographic print field and conducted business in this state and in Brooklyn, N. Y.

In 1855 Benjamin's brother Francis went to Omaha and started a banking business. It was the foundation of the great Smith interests in that city. Benjamin soon followed his brother into the west. In 1860 he and Francis took their first interest in mining properties when they left Omaha with a train of five freight wagons loaded with merchandise to sell to miners.

Interested in Railroads

Their success in mining ventures was apparent from the beginning. Colorado as the center of their activities. In 1865 they began investing in railroad properties with the same success that marked their mining ventures.

Some years later, in association with several others, Benjamin Smith formed the South Omaha Stockyards Company.

So successful was his stockyard business that it was not long before Omaha had become the second largest packing center in the world. It was while engaged in the packing business that the Smith Brothers began the development of huge estates in Maine, the home of their ancestors, which eventually resulted in their return to New England as they reached advanced years.

Among Mr. Smith's survivors are two grandchildren, formerly residents of Omaha, who changed their names, at his request, from Wolfe to Smith in order to prevent the possible disappearance of the family name. They were the sons of Mrs. Joseph M. Baldrige, Clifford and Gratton Wolfe. Mrs. Baldrige is the only one of Mr. Smith's children to survive him.

ALL-RUSSIAN MUSIC AT SOUTH METHODIST

Choir of 30 to Sing Works of Modern Russ Composers on Sunday Night.

For the first time in Manchester, an entire musical program of the modern Russian school is to be given on Sunday night at the South Methodist church by a choir of 30 voices under the direction of Archibald Sessions. Russian music is a reflection of the life of Russia. Half European, half Asiatic, in its music fuses these elements, and adds the height of European technique, Warring influences play upon Russia and the Russian people and the result is the song of the Russian people. The Russian is the creator of a music native to him. The Russian composer, with this wealth of material at his command and with his mastery of European technique creates a mighty music based upon the folk-song. Choir singing is the national expression for all forms of existence. The laborer in the field, the beggar plying his trade, the drunkard in the grog-shop—they all sing. They sing on all occasions of life, beginning with births and ending with funerals. In European churches, the music is generally accompanied by instruments; in Russia it is left dependent upon the voices, "a capella." The composers to be represented on the program Sunday night will be Rachmaninoff, Grachaninoff, Kopyloff, Pantchenko, Tchesnekoff, Tschakowski and Borjnyanski.

ASSEMBLY WOMEN FAVOR JURY DUTY

Only Four Out of 15 Against It—Say Country Women Do Not Wish to Serve.

Hartford, March 17.—Four of the fifteen women members of the General Assembly are opposed to jury service for women, according to a survey made by the Connecticut League of Women Voters. They are Mrs. Clarissa Nevius of New Fairfield, Miss Alice Coe of Winsted, Miss Hattie M. Buckingham of Oxford and Mrs. Maud L. Woodward of Bolton.

Mrs. Nevius carried her opposition to a bill making jury service for women compulsory to the floor of the House two years ago, and expects to do so again. She will not debate the matter at a hearing before the committee tomorrow, but says she will amend until the bill is reported. The other three are opposed because they feel that the women of their towns do not want to serve on juries. Mrs. Coe also is of the opinion that suffrage was forced upon a majority of women and so the majority do not want jury service.

Miss Cheney in Favor

In favor of the bill are Senator Alice Pattison Merritt, of Hartford and the following representatives: Mrs. Otto G. Weidman, Hartford;

Miss Marjorie Cheney, Manchester; Mrs. Ethel M. Ryan, Ridgefield; Mrs. Helen B. Lewis, Stratford; Mrs. Sarah B. Crawford, Westport; Miss Mary B. Weaver, New Milford; Mrs. Edith V. Cook of New Haven; Mrs. Lena W. Greenbacker, Middlefield; Mrs. Emily B. Chatfield, of Plaintown.

Mrs. Harry S. Coe, former representative from Waterbury and the league's chairman of the committee on legal status of women, will conduct the hearing for the advocates of the bill. Two women who have served on juries will appear, Mrs. Edwin Yarnall, of a Pennsylvania town and Mrs. Isabel Ray, of Westbrook, Maine. While favoring compulsory service the league will oppose a bill making service optional. Its stand is that as women have been granted the franchise they should assume the duties and responsibilities.

STATE IS PRESENTING 8 ACTS OF VAUDEVILLE

Bargain Night Show This Evening: "New York" Feature Picture.

Bargain Night at the State has become an institution but never was there a program that will be quite so entertaining than that which is scheduled for this evening at the State. Eight vaudeville acts of vaudeville will be given in addition to the big super-feature, "New York," starring Ricardo Cortez, Estelle Taylor and Lois Wilson. All roads will lead to the State tonight for the excellence of the Bargain Day program is well known by this time. The matinee crowd, enthused over the show this afternoon and from the comments of delighted patrons, the program must be exceptionally good.

This takes in only the vaudeville acts. The picture, "New York," is in itself a spectacle worth seeing and will not soon be forgotten by those who witness it. Here is a galaxy of stars that would do credit to any picture and the plot of the film is unique as well.

A man is accused of the murder of his former sweetheart. Circumstantial evidence points to him as the slayer. That is the situation in this film, "New York," will be shown on Friday and Saturday with five acts of vaudeville.

Manager Jack Sanson wired his booking representative in New York to send up another bill as good as last week with the result we here with us. Malin-Barr, and Co. the featured comedy attraction known as "The Baggage Smashers," a rip-roaring comedy skit with lots of action and chuck full of real whoopsome comedy laughs. Another real attraction here will be Carlton Brothers and Marcus Sisters Revue, the snappiest and fastest of all the revues played this season. There is plenty of action in dances such as you have never seen before in Manchester.

Jack Levier has a novelty comedy offering that will be of interest. He is justly billed the personality chaper. He has a way distinctly his own in selling "his stuff" and he knows how—just the kind of a heart to closing act that will be enjoyed. The McAllister Kids, are real. They have some new songs and dances to show. The Railton Duo open the show and put you in good humor with a quaint musical offering.

Here's Speedy Relief From Bunions and Soft Corns

Magnell Says Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction or Money Cheerfully Refunded.

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness, and pain much quicker than any remedy you ever used.

Your bunions may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture and pray for quick relief. What's to be done?

Two or three applications of Moore's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces. And as for Soft Corns a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shields, or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

Why Irish Are Proud Of Their Native Land

TIMOTHY SMIDDY

"I have found everywhere the pride of an Irishman in being an Irishman, whether he ever saw Ireland or not."

How fares the land of harp and shamrock this anniversary of St. Patrick's, Erin's beloved patron saint? And why is it, by the way, that Irishmen and near Irishmen the world over, on St. Patrick's day add every other day, are so loyal to the "ould sod"?

Timothy Smiddy, minister to the U. S. from the Irish Free State, tells in this St. Patrick's Day message, written especially for The Evening Herald and NEA Service.

By TIMOTHY SMIDDY, Minister Plenipotentiary of the Irish Free State to the United States.

"I am pleased at this opportunity to extend the greetings of the Irish Free State to all citizens of the United States on this, the anniversary of Saint Patrick, a holiday observed by Irishmen all over the world.

I was amazed when I came to this sister republic to open diplomatic relations at Washington to find so many citizens of Irish descent loyal to the old Gaelic traditions and proud of the new freedom won by the Irish Free State social, business or political life, I found everywhere the pride of an Irishman in being an Irishman, whether he ever had seen Ireland or not. The English, Dutch, German, Italian people all have racial pride, but they are not as intense about it. I have found that even people who have only the faintest trace of Irish blood are greatly interested after so many centuries of struggle.

Regardless of religious differences, regardless of positions in so-called business or political life, I found everywhere the pride of an Irishman in being an Irishman, whether he ever had seen Ireland or not. The English, Dutch, German, Italian people all have racial pride, but they are not as intense about it. I have found that even people who have only the faintest trace of Irish blood are greatly interested after so many centuries of struggle.

An explanation? That is very difficult. The racial characteristic is a spontaneous loyalty. But the Irish are a "family race." In Ireland the mother is supreme. The mother rules every household. She is the financier, the guardian angel, the comforter, the general adviser. She is idolized and loved. This all engenders a spirit that brings about loyalty to the home, loyalty to the country and loyalty to the race.

I am proud to report to all Irishmen and to all interested in Ireland that the Irish Free State is functioning normally, that security of life and property has been permanently assured. Americans, some of them unsympathetic, are inclined to laugh at Ireland's citizens as always fighting among themselves. They forget that in the days of the American revolution European countries also were sneering at George Washington and his ill-fed band of ragged revolutionists. That period of unrest the Irish Free State has just survived is similar to the same period of unrest that followed the break of the American colonies with England.

I want to call your attention to the present condition of the flourishing Irish Free State. Income taxes have been reduced and the tax rate, considering the local and central levies, is lower than England's, Belgium's, Holland's, Denmark's or Sweden's. Better merchandising and agricultural methods are in force.

The first Irish-made sugar was sold in Dublin last week. Eggs produced in Ireland, once fifth in the British market, now are first. Better cattle are being bred. The old Gaelic folk lore, mythology, literature and drama.

The Free State has no foreign debt and the national debt in total is only 75 per cent of one year's revenue.

I hope St. Patrick's holiday will be just as happy for all of you here in America as it is on the Emerald Isle.

SEE HORNSBY AS MANAGER IF GIANTS COP '27 FLAG

Notes Of The Training Camps

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 17.—White Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, has signed Outfielder Bob Meusel to a two-year contract, he declares that Herb Pennock can "hold out for life" before the club will meet his salary demands. The star southpaw is said to be asking $20,000 a year for two years.

Clearwater, Fla., March 17.—As a result of his poor showing in yesterday's game when Brooklyn lost to the St. Louis Browns, twelve to one, Babe Herman may lose his job at first base. Irish Meusel, on the other hand, played a corking game and is making a strong bid for a regular job in the outfield.

Sarasota, Fla., March 17.—The New York Giants were not quite so cocky today as a result of their four to three defeat by the Boston Braves. Rogers Hornsby was the leading hitter with three bingles, while Scott, the youthful Giant outfielder, continued his sensational batting with a triple and a single. MORE — MORE — MORE Sarasota, Fla., March 17.—The performances of Frankie Frisch as a Cardinal second baseman and Rogers Hornsby at the Giants' key-stones sack will be watched closely by their respective managers and the fans here this afternoon. The Cardinals came here after their defeat yesterday of Cleveland, eight to seven.

Shreveport, La., March 17.—Urban "Red" Faber and Ted Blankenship, star right-handers of the White Sox decided today they will have much training to do, following their defeat yesterday by the Shreveport team, nine to eight.

Avalon, Calif., March 17.—The Cubs "goofs" were happy today over their second victory in as many days against the regulars. The score was ten to three. Hack Wilson socked the first home run of the training camp series.

REC MERMEN FALL BEFORE HARTFORD

Visiting Swimmers Take Every First Place—Local Team Minus Two Men.

The Hartford Y. M. C. A. swimmers captured every first place in winning from the Manchester Rec team at the school street tank last night by the score of 55 to 7. Manchester was minus the services of McKay, who was unable to be present, and Mildner, who is in the hospital with appendicitis.

Hartford began by winning the 20-yard dash, Morgan of the visitors nosing out Madden of this town by inches. From then on it was all Hartford and the Manchester team was overwhelmed in the following races.

Hartford made a clean sweep in the diving. The summary: 20-yard dash: Won by Morgan, Hartford; second, Madden, Manchester; third, Bertram, Hartford. Time 9.45 seconds.

40-yard dash: Won by Daughn, Hartford; second, Root, Hartford; third, McCormick, Manchester. Time, 21.35 seconds.

40-yard breast stroke: Won by Barlow, Hartford; second, Hammer, Hartford; third, McCormick, Manchester. Time, 20.45 seconds.

40-yard backstroke: Won by Bertham, Hartford; second, Sobersal, Hartford; third, Cranshaw, Manchester. Time 13.85 seconds.

100-yard free style: Won by Daughn, Hartford; second, Barlow, Hartford; third, Fish, Manchester. Time, 13 seconds.

Relay race: Won by Hartford (Daughn, Hammer, Root and Meyer); second, Manchester (Elsb, McCormick, Cranshaw and Madden).

Diving contest: First, Sobersal, Hartford, 81 1/2 points; second, Maurice, Hartford, 79 points; third, Bertham, Hartford, 78 1/2 points.

MERIDEN TRADE PLAYS MANCHESTER TOMORROW

The Manchester Trade School basketball team will play Meriden Trade school at the Rec tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock. It is one of the few remaining games on the S. T. S. schedule and Coach Kingsley is anxious to return to the victory column following the defeat administered by Rockville High here last week.

It is expected that the teamplay of the local five will be much improved tomorrow. Coach Kingsley will not tolerate any of the individualism that was so conspicuous in the Rockville game. Manchester defeated Meriden in Meriden and should win here by a comfortable margin.

Farrell Believes McGraw Will Retire If He Can Celebrate 25th Anniversary With Pennant.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 17.—After watching the way in which Rogers Hornsby took hold of his new job with the New York Giants and the enthusiasm with which he carried out his job as captain, there are many who think that John McGraw wants him to manage the club when he retires.

It is one of the surest indications of spring to hear that McGraw is starting his last season with the Giants but it's bound to come because some season must be his last and there are reasons to believe that he is getting ready to get out of active participation in field duties of the club.

McGraw is starting his twenty-fifth season as manager of the Giants and there were indications last year that he was tiring of the strain of handling a pennant contender or that he was cracking under the strain.

From sources close to the club it was known that McGraw had Frank Frisch in mind as a possible successor but when Frisch missed a couple of signals last year and blew some games, McGraw is said to have him marked off as a possibility. He not only removed him from the list of candidates but he traded him away to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hornsby is said to be drawing a salary of $40,000 and while that is mainly a sum to be received at the end of the season, it is believed that there were reasons to believe that he had been given other inducements to come to terms with his new employers reported to the Saratoga training camp. Hornsby assumed his duties as captain with so much authority that he actually was in charge of the camp and the other players played right along with him.

Some of the critics have said that the St. Louis Cardinals made Hornsby successful as a manager and that he had very little to do with the management of the club but the results do not bear out this contention.

It was drive more than superior class that kept the team in the top of a hot pennant fight and it was spirit that kept the players together and Hornsby put the spirit in them and kept them going.

If McGraw should win the pennant this year and Hornsby lives up to expectations, it would be no surprise if the Giant manager retires.

He has a great ambition to celebrate his silver jubilee with a pennant and after that there would be very little left for him in the way of glory. He always has taken pride in building pennant winners and most of his success has been achieved by his skill in tearing down clubs and rebuilding them.

The strain of the 1925 pennant race told on him severely. He rode the team unmercifully and worked himself into such a nervous condition that he couldn't sleep. During a late series in St. Louis the Giants played some very bad ball and he made mistakes in judgment lost several games he became so aroused that he walked the streets all one night.

Twenty-five years are a long time to spend in the management of a club especially under the system followed by McGraw. He had to play every game just as much as if he were on the field and the strain was greater because he had to take the punishment when he made mistakes and saw the players doing things he thought they should not be doing.

For years he has been directing every play and ordering nearly every ball pitched and that is some job.

He has a good ball club this year and if he allows Hornsby to share some of the responsibility of management, the strain will not be nearly so severe on him.

NEW DEPARTS BEATEN HERE IN BOWLING BY TWENTY-SEVEN PINS

The C. B. A. bowling five recorded a two-out-of-three victory over the New Departs of Bristol here last night at Murphy's alleys winning the total pinfall by a margin of 27 pins.

Manchester won the first game and lost the third, rolling team singles of over 500 in every game while Bristol reached 500 but once, that being the last game which it won 532 to 527.

Wilkie, of Manchester, copped the high singles with a score of 130.

'664 Please—Hello, Herald, Who Won the Game at Yale?'

Because of the town-wide interest regarding the fate of the S. M. H. S. basketball team in the Yale Interscholastic tournament at New Haven tomorrow and Saturday, The Herald has made arrangements whereby it will be able to furnish complete information on the outcome of the game or games that Manchester plays. The results will be known at the Herald office a few minutes after the conclusion of each game.

One of The Herald's staff will accompany the team on the trip and will telephone the result as soon as the game is finished. Manchester fans may obtain the results by calling 664. This will be the only place in Manchester where the scores may be obtained. Tomorrow's game with Central High of Bridgeport is scheduled to get under way at 4:15 and in all probability will be finished about 5:15. The result should be known in Manchester by 5:20. The box score of the game will be posted on the Oak street window of The Herald branch office.

It was settled yesterday, Faculty Manager Edson M. Bailey states, that the trip will be made by automobile instead of by train. Three touring cars operated by Coach W. J. Clarke, Mr. Bailey and Samuel J. Houston will transport the party. The S. M. H. S. quarters at New Haven will be at the Royal Hotel. The party will return Saturday night after the finals.

Eastern Horsemen Expect Victory In Kentucky Derby This Spring

By DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, March 17.—For the first time since 1923, it looks like an Eastern year on the historic Kentucky Derby is run annually, or at least so aver the horsemen from this section. An Eastern colt is due, for one thing, according to the law of averages; for another, the West had a particularly unimpressive crop of two-year-olds in 1926.

The law of average thing will win for you sooner or later but its uncertainty is best illustrated by the fact that no one knows how soon or how late. It is predicted, in this case, one of the fact that the last Eastern victories in the Derby were registered by Morvich in 1922 and by Zev the following year. In 1924 Mrs. Hoots Black Gold, from Oklahoma was the winner. Gifford A. Cochran's Flying Ebony won from a "nickle" field in 1925 while last year the West in general and E. R. Bradley in particular scored even more heavily than usual when Bubbling Over and Bagenbagge ran one-two.

So much for mere jugglery of data. For my non-essential part, I'd prefer to base a conclusion, if any, on a sectional victory on the comparative records of the 1925 two-year old. The Eastern field proved to be unusually good, the Western less than ordinary.

Local favorites when the winter books open, for example, will be Osmond, of the Widener stable, and Scapa Flow, son of Man of War. Both are Eastern horses.

Of course, the race is an open one at this point and the proceedings, as always, but the point is that any one of the first dozen of random contenders also hail from this section. Offhand, I can name General Lee, Rip Rap, Valorous and Whiskery of the Whitney string; Sinclair's Sweeper, Cheops and Sankari; Willie K. Dolan, Northland, Fair Star, Bonni McGinn, Jopagen, Terry and Candy Queen as high class contenders at this writing. There isn't a western horse among them.

Still, it looked like an Eastern year in 1925. And what happened? Nearly every favorite in the race blew up, either before or after the start, and Earl Sande's superb horsemanship brought Flying Ebony down in front. This came to be regarded as an equine miracle after it was proved that Flying Ebony wasn't even a near-champion.

Can a miracle be re-enacted in the brief interval of two years? Eastern horsemen contend that only something of the kind can prevent their section from scoring this time.

DEMPESEY MUST ACT.
New York, March 17.—Promoter Tex Rickard has delivered an ultimatum to Jack Dempsey in a final effort to clear up the ex-champion's status in the heavyweight situation.

If Dempsey does not agree by Saturday midnight to meet the winner of the Paolino-Henney bout, Rickard declares he will back Jack from the elimination tournament. If Dempsey declines the proposition, it is understood that the winner of that bout will be matched with Jack Delaney, the light heavyweight champion who was beaten by Jimmy Maloney.

GIANTS DO NOT SHAPE UP WELL AS LAST YEAR, WALSH BELIEVES

McGraw, However, Says Team Has Its Weaknesses But It Is Good Enough to Win This Year.

By DAVIS J. WALSH
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 17.—Who is the dumbest guy on the Giants ball club?

This is neither an impertinent nor personal question because the Giants themselves, playing this end of the grape fruit circuit, really would like to know. According to members of rival teams with whom the writer has talked, so many Giants have nominated other players with the outfit for this doubtful distinction that it is fast becoming apparent that most of them are very dumb or all of them are very mistaken.

This condition, plus a general irritation against Red Roush for his failure to join the club, when offered a $20,000 contract, would seem to indicate that a disquieting condition is developing in the Giants' camp.

McGraw's Story However, Manager John McGraw has another story to tell. "It's not the best club that ever was organized," he said. "It has its little weaknesses here and there, which I don't care to elaborate upon. All I want to say is that I have a smarter, faster club than last year, with more punch and a sounder defense, and I think it is good enough to win."

McGraw declined to comment in any way on Roush's absence from the camp but his intimates made no secret of the fact that John has taken great umbrage over the matter, as has indeed the team in general. Roush, they say, has been offered $20,000 for the season as compared with $19,000 he wanted from the Reds; yet, he has ignored both the offer and the man who made it.

Out to Take Place If Roush falls to report his place will be filled by Melvin Ott, the seventeen-year-old catcher of last year. The Giants have plenty of outfielders in camp but not all of them are good. In fact, the writer would venture to say that it is an open question whether the club is as strong as it was last year. It has been weakened, beyond all doubt, at first base where Terry will appear instead of the departed Kelly. It is stronger at second base with the uncertain Frisch replaced by Rogers Hornsby. However, the loss of Ross Young in right field would hurt any club. Further than that a club with three untried catchers making up the entire staff of receivers is not exactly any man's certainty.

Except for Burleigh Grimes, the human salivary gland, and Dutch Henry, the pitchers will be the same as last year. They are Kent Greenfield, Hugh McQuillan, Fred Fitzsimmons, Virgil Barnes and Jack Bentley.

Rookie Pitchers Two rookie pitchers, Bill Clarkston and Fay Thomas, are touted to stay. The three untried catchers are Al De Vornier, the lad who dived into Lake Michigan, fully clothed, to win $10, while a member of the Yankees; Jack Cummings, another Shaik, according to McGraw, and Sanford Hamby.

The infield will be Terry, Hornsby, Jackson and Lindstrom with Eddie Farrell as utility man on the right side, Andy Cohen sent to Buffalo with a recall option exercisable on twenty-four hours' notice; and Andy Reese, up from Memphis and Bentley ready to relieve Terry at first base. Reese also may alternate with George Harper, ex-Phillie, in right field, McGraw having determined to use an alternating outfield against right and left hand pitching. Among those who will be permitted to be available are Roush, "Bevo" Le Bourreau, back from the American Association and proving himself to be a fine hitter; Al Tyson, once of Louisville; Harper, Reese and Ott. Helms Mueller, ex-Cardinal, still is here but lots of things can happen and probably will.

Southwestern Champions

Fayetteville, Ark., March 8.—Two basketball championships in four years of competition! The record is that of the University of Arkansas case quintet that has just been declared winner of the Southwestern Conference championship.

The Razorbacks thought of basketball four years ago merely as an intramural sport. That was before Francis A. Schmidt assumed charge of athletics at Fayetteville in 1922.

They didn't even have a gymnasium at Arkansas when Schmidt got there. The first Razorback quintet won only three conference games in 12 played. They placed fifth in the conference. The next year they placed third. They won the championship two years ago, losing only one game to Texas, and again this year with an inexperienced team.

Taste has changed . . .

It took Chesterfield to prove that what smokers want is not "over-sweetening" but NATURAL TOBACCO TASTE

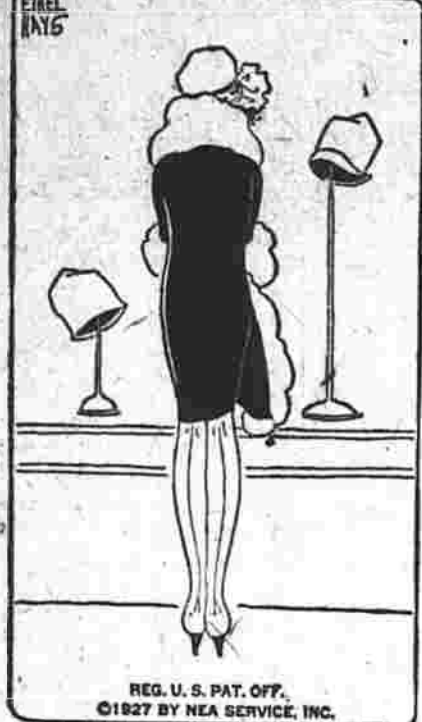

All that is best in the tobaccos themselves; all the natural character and goodness brought to full perfection by sheer blending skill. That's natural tobacco taste and there's nothing else so good!

NOW YOU ASK ONE

A QUIZ ON THE IRISH

Since today is St. Patrick's Day, what more fitting than that "Now You Ask One" should be made up of questions about Ireland and the Irish? It is, and you don't need to be a born Irishman to answer them, either. The answers are on another page.

- 1-What is the Gaelic name for Ireland?
2-What is the meaning of the words "Sinn Fein"?
3-What Irish city is the stronghold of the Orangemen?
4-What was the nationality of St. Patrick?
5-What part of Ireland is famous for its lakes?
6-What famous Irish patriot was hanged by the British in 1803?
7-In what county of Ireland is the famous Blarney Stone located?
8-How must one be held in order to kiss this stone?
9-What are the four provinces of Ireland?
10-What Irish leader, who led the Free State forces after extended fighting with the English, was shot from ambush by Republican leaders five years ago?

At twenty-five the average man sees the need of better laws, but at forty-five he sees the need of better men.

Charleston-A dance originated by a college boy, who absent-mindedly stuck a lighted cigarette in his hip pocket.

The best example of love that ever came to our notice was when a fellow shot his friend in order to erect a monument in his memory.

Modern ad: "For rent, handsome bungalowette with a garage, kitchenette, bathette, parlorette and porchette."

SENSE and NONSENSE

Courtesy springs from a good heart, discourtesy from a bad liver. The inventor of the mirror made it possible for us all to see the one perfect man.

You have no doubt observed that most of the get-rich-quick advertisements appear in the fiction magazines.

Man: An animal with sufficient intelligence to defend his meanness.

March may come in like a lion. It may come in like a lamb. But it always comes in like a collector.

Saint Patrick's Day Saint Patrick's day is here, me lad. The day we wear the green. The day that we dress up bedad. Like an Irish King or Queen.

We love to hear the stories Of the folk from Erin's shore As they tell the tales of glories, Tales of legend and of lore.

Of the castles of Kiliarney. Of the banshee's piercing wail; How they kissed the stone of Blarney, And with Blarney'd never fail.

In the eyes of every fair colleen There's a tinge of gray-blue hue; A color that you're likely seen; 'Tis known as Irish Blue.

The country's turning green, no less. While the world rolls on, serene. Sure the engine on the fast express Has fluttering flags o' green.

Polliteness is acquired, rudeness is natural.

There's a lot of difference between hitting the pace and hitting the mark.

"Thanks for the buggy ride", said the precocious tot to its mother.

Do a "good turn" and you won't skid.

Customer: "I want to get a diamond ring set in platinum." Salesman: "Certainly, sir. Let me show you our combination sets of three pieces; engagement, wedding and teething rings at 10 per cent discount."

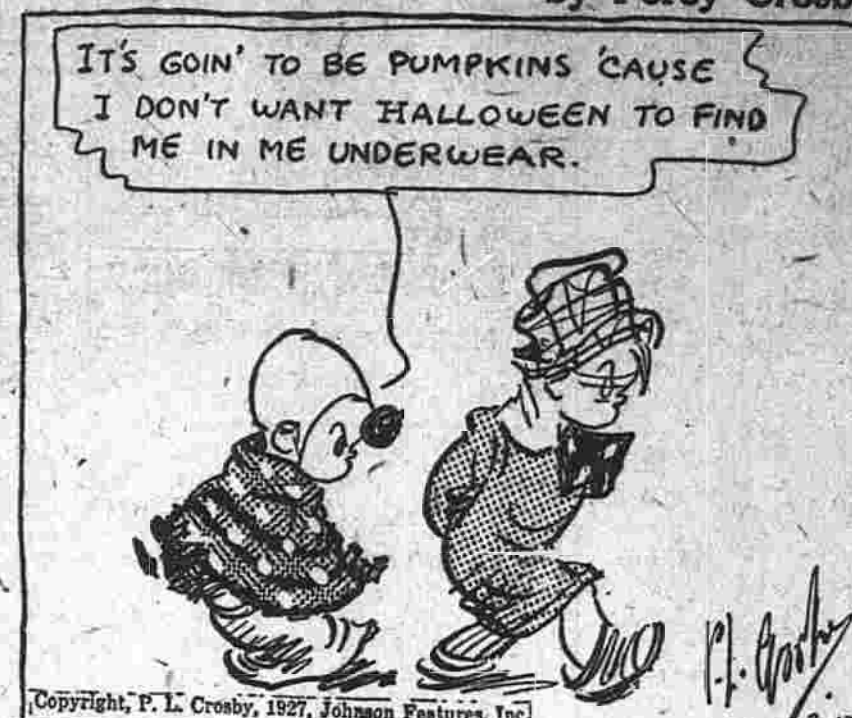

Gimme A Cigarette, Will You, Huh? Here's to the man who buys his tobacco, And smokes his tobacco alone; For, many a man smokes another's tobacco, When he should be smoking his own!

After President Coolidge retires to private life, he can someday take up practically any work—except that of training parrots.

A woman may diet at home, but she never diets at a hotel where they charge 50 cents for a dish of ice cream.

No one can be happy who doesn't keep on good terms with his conscience.

THE TINYMITES

Read the Story, Then Color the Picture. Poor Tom, who'd stole the tiny pig was spanked until he danced a jig. Of course the Tinies knew that he had done a thing quite wrong. Said Scouty, who had watched the lad, "To steal is always very bad. And then they all were startled as they heard a monstrous gong. "Say, what was that?" wee Copy said. "That noise went ringing through my head. It sounded like a fire bell, but I don't see any smoke." And then the noise stopped, after while, and Copy added, with a smile, "Oh, well, I guess whate'er it was, the pesky thing is broke." But he was wrong: as he could be and shortly everyone could see that all the noise came from a gong that hung up by a shed. "Oh, that's the noon time eating bell. Say, Tinies, wouldn't it be swell if Tommy's dad would ask us in so we could all be fed?" And then a man came into sight and called to Scouty Tinymites.

ABOUT TOWN
 Manchester folks who watched in vain early last evening to see the night mail airplane fly over town, may be interested to know that the reason they did not see it was because the plane crashed near Framingham, Mass., at the start of the trip. The pilot and three passengers escaped injury when the machine was forced to land in a swamp, because of engine trouble.

Thomas McCann, manager of Hale's Self-Serve, spent yesterday in New York attending the Brooklyn National Food Show and looking over New York's leading grocery departments.

Miss Mary Sargent, buyer at Hale's Apparel Shop, and Mrs. Ann Waddell, buyer of the millinery, spent yesterday in New York selecting new spring merchandise.

George L. Fish has sold his new bungalow on Starkweather street to Joseph Cherrone of North and Colway streets. Mr. Cherrone will move to his new home immediately. The sale was made through the Robert J. Smith agency.

William Rubinow of Rubinow's apparel shop is in New York on a buying trip.

The Grange Whist club will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Julia Sheridan of Park street.

Mrs. Paul Gustafson has returned to her home at 58 Hackmatack street, after being confined to the hospital for the past thirteen weeks.

While Joe Wall, a former member of the Manchester Police department, was working at his garage a few days ago, a monkey wrench, that he was using, slipped and struck him on the head, inflicting a deep cut.

The Cosmopolitan club will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. F. A. Verplank, 1108 Main street. This will be the annual meeting with election of officers.

Helen Davidson Lodge, Daughters of Scotia, will have its regular business meeting in Tinker hall tomorrow evening.

Tonight at seven o'clock the men of the Seventh district are to serve their "Jiggs" supper at the Buckland school. There will be music by an orchestra and a prize whist also.

At the Highland Park community clubhouse this evening the last of the entertainments in the Lyceum course will be given. Miss M. Burdean Stevenson of Boston will appear in a variety of character readings, and John V. Lamberton, formerly of the Hartford County Y. M. C. A. will also be present.

The Campfire girls of the South Methodist church will enjoy a "kiddies' party" at the church tomorrow evening at 7:30.

"Family Night" this coming at the Center Congregational church is intended as a sociable occasion for everyone, young and old, in the parish.

BOX SOCIAL AND DANCE
AT GREEN TOMORROW

A box social and dance will be attractions at the Manchester Green school tomorrow evening, following the regular meeting of the Community club. All members and their friends are urged to attend, and each lady is requested to provide a box lunch for two persons. The boxes will be auctioned off to the highest gentlemen bidders. Old-fashioned and modern dancing will occupy the balance of the evening, with music by Sherwood's orchestra. The committee in charge of the social includes Miss Evelyn Wood, Miss Gamba and Miss Mary Boyle.

FATHERS AND SONS
DINE TOMORROW

Fred Harvey is chairman of the Father and Son banquet to be held at the Second Congregational church tomorrow evening. The affair is sponsored by the Men's club of the church and they have invited as their guests on this occasion Boy Scouts of Troop 1 under the leadership of Scoutmaster Frank A. Ineson. The troop has a membership of more than twenty boys and they will give an exhibition of scout work. The supper will be served at 6:30 and will consist of roast pork, apple sauce, mashed potatoes, rolls, crullers, cheese and coffee. Tickets may be procured of members of the club. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested in scout work to attend the open meeting which follows, which will feature an illustrated lecture by Scout Executive Frederick C. Hill of Hartford. Mr. Hill will tell of the life last summer at Camp Pioneer, the Boy Scout camp at Winsted, and will show a number of lantern slides taken while the scouts were there.

5th ANNIVERSARY

Five years ago on March 17th we opened the first drive-in filling station in Manchester and although five years is not such a terrible long time to accomplish much, we have expanded from time to time until now we have a most up-to-date filling station in every respect.

At the present time we embrace almost every phase of the filling station business. We can take your car, start from the radiator and go to the spare tire with the exception of repairs, and turn over to you a completely serviced car. This service includes flushing the radiator, changing oil, greasing every point on the car, changing and repairing tires or selling new ones, charging, repairing and servicing batteries, washing and polishing the car outside and cleaning upholstery and floor mats inside and lastly filling the tank with that good Traffic Tydol.

We will call for and deliver your car at no extra cost. Also all cars while in our charge are covered with insurance. If you are out of gas, have a flat tire or the battery goes dead, just call 1994 and a service car will have you going again in a very short time.

ANNIVERSARY

Now to mark this date of our anniversary well in the minds of the motoring public we will offer for sale for three days starting March 17th, the following accessories at greatly reduced prices:

| | List Price | Sale Price |
