

SPEEDING UP MOTTO KEEPS SOLONS BUSY

State Legislature Goes Ahead
Of Record Made Week
Before—Resume of Work Accomplished.

By HERBERT L. CRAPO
I. N. S. Correspondent
Hartford, Conn., March 19.—
The Legislature increased the amount of business completed in a week during the past seven days, going ahead of the record set in the previous week, both in the number of committee reports received and in final action on measures.
Eighty-five bills were reported after unfavorable reports and fifty-four were reported favorably. A number of the favorable reports received immediate attention under suspension of the rules, these including reports from the committees
on claims, forfeited rights,
and cities and boroughs.

Important actions during the week included reduction of armory repair bill appropriations, refusal to add hospital grants, rejection of proposed state songs, refusal to allow slaughter of deer with shot guns and bow and arrows, and rejection of horse race betting, birth control proposals and licensing of real estate agents.

The Senate voted to allow sixteen-year-olds to operate automobiles,
and to favorably report the thirty-mile speed limit with a rule of reason.

Municipal bond issues have been met with kindness by the finance committee where these proposed issues have not sent the outstanding indebtedness of towns beyond the statutory limit of five per cent of the grand list. Almost six millions of dollars in bond issues were authorized under favorable reports in the week. Each week sees at least three towns and school districts receiving authority to finance some needed improvement or to construct buildings.

Albert S. Bill, assistant clerk of the House, believes the record established at sessions. He is now serving his third term and has missed but one legislative day.

Almost all committees with hearings scheduled for the coming week will have matters of special interest to consider. The judiciary and joint constitutional amendments committees will continue in session
Friday afternoon, which is out of the usual as only

(Continued on page 10)

MODERN RUSSIAN MUSIC IN TOMORROW'S CONCERT

South Methodist Church Choir
to Present Unusual Chorus Program in Evening.

An unusual type of concert will be presented at the South Methodist church tomorrow evening at 7:30 when a chorus of 32 voices will sing a program of modern Russian numbers. There will be no solos. The chorus and organist and choirmaster Archibald Sessions furnishing the only music. The public is invited to attend the service. The offering will be for the benefit of the church music fund.

The music program for the service follows:
Organ prelude in C sharp minor
"God, the Omnipotent".....Lwof Choir—
"Cherubim Song".....Bortnyansk
"O Come, let us worship".....
"Hear my Prayer".....Kopylov
"Praise the Lord from Heaven".....
"Praise ye the Lord".....Pantchenko Offertory Organ, "Andante Canta-bile".....Tschalkowski
Choir "O Lord God".....Tschesnokoff
"As the Waves of the Sea" (Irmos-Song for Christmas).....Gretchaninoff
"Laud ye the Name of the Lord".....
"Nunc Dimittis".....Gretchaninoff
Recessional Hymn No. 157
"O God of God O Light of Light".....
Jeffery
Organ "Meditation".....Tschalkowski
The choir will be composed of:
Miss Eleanor Willard, Mrs. Eugenie Hohensthal, Miss Ada Belle Grooby, Miss Olive Nyman, Mrs.
Jesse Kell, Mrs. Mabel Robbins,
Mrs. Helen White, Miss Esther
Wright, Mrs. Bertelina Lashinske,
Miss Estelle Keith, Mrs. Florence
Anderson, Miss Esler Turgeon,
Miss Miriam Sisco, Mrs. Belle Zolus, Mrs. Elizabeth Fellowes, Sydzey Strickland, Paul Volquardson, Ronald Hillman, James Hutchinson, Elery Donahue, Ernest Clough,
Harry Armstrong, Robert Gordon,
Fred Bendall, Walter Reichard,
Earl Trotter, Fred Sadler, Robert
VonDeck, Thomas McGill, Osmar
Graupner, C. Elmore Watkins.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN ENDS 18-YEAR SEARCH.

Kingston, N. Y., March 19.—
Clad in a Confederate uniform,
C. H. Harrison, aged 83, called at the police station today seeking his wife, two sons and two daughters whom he had not seen for 18 years. A joyful reunion followed when his family was located. Harrison said he was an inmate of the Confederate Home at Richmond, Va. His family had thought him dead.

34 ARE DEAD, SCORES HURT, IN TORNADOES

Second Storm Within 48 Hours Sweeps Western Arkansas—Relief Trains Rush to Scene.

Springfield, Mo., March 19.—At least thirty-four persons were killed in the second tornado within forty-eight hours to strike western Arkansas, according to word reaching here today. Twenty-five are reported dead at Green Forest, Ark., and nine at Denver, nearby town.

Twelve persons were killed in Thursday night's storm.
Relief trains on the Frisco railroad and Missouri and North Arkansas lines were being rushed from here and Harrison, Ark., to the stricken zones.

Half the town of Green Forest
was in ruins and dead were scattered among piles of debris. Fire whirls were being rushed from
here and Harrison, Ark., to the stricken zones.

Seven hundred houses were destroyed in the storm, according to various estimates. Physicians from all surrounding towns and villages were caring for the injured and sick which may reach more than 100.

The storm swept an area of fifteen miles and over a width of more than a mile.

Little Rock, Ark., March 19.—
The two-day cyclone toll in Arkansas today stood at twenty-eight dead and a score injured.

Following a cyclone at Benton, Ark., Thursday night which killed twelve persons, another twister struck Green Forest, near Eureka Springs last night and sixteen persons were crushed to death by falling houses, according to reports received here.

Telephone and telegraph wires
were down in the stricken area
and belief was expressed here that there may be more casualties.

The railroad depot, schoolhouse
and a score of private residences were destroyed by the terrific storm, reports here said.

Nurses and doctors were rushed to the scene from Harrisburg, and the dead were housed in a church
at Eureka Springs. Another church was taken over as a hospital for the injured.

A citizens committee is in charge
at Benton, struck Thursday night and relief was rapidly administered to those needing it.

FRENCHMAN SELLS HIS WIFE FOR $600

Husband Regrets Bargain, Tries to Get Spouse Back and is Killed.

Paris, March 19.—Last May Caesar Barsaghi, of Lyon, closed an unusual contract with H. Beney, an elderly merchant, whereby he sold his wife, Theresa, twenty-six years old, to Beney for 20,000 francs about $600 in the rate of exchange at that time.

While negotiations were under way the wife returned to her parents' home. Finally Barsaghi's cash, and Theresa went to Beney.

Recently the husband regretted the deal and expostulated with the merchant over the ownership of his wife.
Barsaghi struck Beney with the argument and the merchant shot him. Barsaghi died shortly afterward.

CAMPBELL GETS STATION PERMIT

Planning to Build Gasoline Filling Place on East Center Street.

Earl Campbell, proprietor of two large gasoline filling stations here,
at Main street and Middle Tur-pike and at Love Lane, has been granted a permit to build a third station at East Center and Foster streets, on property he recently purchased. There was some opposition to a gas station at this point,
but the permit has been granted by the state.

Because of the fact that the site is in the heart of one of Manchester's finest residential sections
property owners in the vicinity took steps to oppose the granting of a permit. Because East Center street is a state road, granting such a permit is not within the jurisdiction of any local authorities. George Bradford, who is in charge of state permits for the Motor Vehicle department, is said to have told East Center street residents that the permit was given by someone else
in the office without his knowledge.

A New Law
There is now a law before the present General Assembly which would give the right of veto in granting permits to the Board of Selectmen. The present law leaves such permits in the hands of the state when the sites desired are on state or trunkline highways.

Mr. Campbell, who does the biggest business, perhaps in Manchester in gasoline, has told The Herald that it is his intention to build a station on East Center street that would in no way detract from the beauty of that thoroughfare. He has been in possession of the state permit about ten days, but has not yet taken steps to build on his property.

JUDGE BOWERS'S CONDITION.

Judge H. O. Bowers passed a restless night, but his general condition remained unchanged today,
was the report from the Manchester Memorial hospital at 11 o'clock
today.

MANCHESTER IN SEMI-FINALS AS RESULT OF FRIDAY'S WIN

(Special to The Evening Herald.)
New Haven, March 18.—Manchester High grabbed a lead in the opening minutes, held it throughout the game and nosed out the Central High school team of Bridgeport in the first game of the Yale University basketball tournament for the championship of Connecticut, held here yesterday. Bridgeport had a chance to tie the score in the closing minutes but failed and Manchester held the long end of the 19 to 18 count.

Honors Even.
Honors among the Manchester
schoolboys were rather even but all due credit must be given Billy Dowd, left guard of the local team, who made good six out of eight chances from the free-throw line.

Manchester played an unusually clean game, escaping without a single personal foul until 23 minutes of the game had been played. Gorman and Dowd had misplays called on them in the final quarter, giving the locals two fouls for the entire game. The locals had hard going but it was said that they consistently outplayed the Bridgeport team
throughout the game, even more than the score indicated. The first quarter ended in Manchester's favor, 8 to 4, and the half 13 to 10
and the third period 18 to 13.
Bridgeport came up in this final quarter and almost won, Wendell of the Park City team missing a four at the head of a machine-gun squadron, manned by eleven women warriors.

MANCHESTER.		BRIDGEPORT.
FG.	F.	FG.	F.
Holland, rr.	1	0-2	2
Gorman, lf.	1	0-0	2
Farr, c.	2	1-1	5
Dovrig, rg.	1	0-8	3
Bognini, lg.	1	0-0	2
Total		6	7-10

Referee, Souder; time, four 6-minute periods. Next game:
Manchester vs. winner of Bristol-Norwalk game at 2:45 this afternoon.

YALE ANNOUNCES ITS HONOR LIST

Many Connecticut Names
Found in All Classes;
Those From This State.

New Haven, March 19.—Connecticut students at Yale were numerous in the honor lists announced by university officials here today for work in the first term of the college year. The sophomore and freshman classes were listed. Connecticut students were:

Freshmen.
Freeman, first rank—A. C. V.
Dielh, Branford; Charles A. Janway, Greenwich; and Simon Kolek-sky and Donald D. Wright, New Haven.
Freshman, second rank—Har-
ford: P. Van D. Beckwith, J. H. M.
Campbell, P. C. Kohn, Lester Rapport; Bridgeport: Michael F. Scherer, H. E. Hoffman, J. M. Monahan,
G. W. Spier; New Haven: Frank A.
Cole, C. J. Donahue, Don A. Douglas, H. P. J. Dubs, Julius Friedensan, John F. Goldman, C. H. Harrison, Henry Henstall, H. C. Hoffman, D. C. Hutchins, M. A. Kaehle, Jr., L. E. Knoll Meyer, H. J. Mac-Donald, Joseph Mignoe, L. J. Petrillo, A. M. Phelps, Paul Riger, Arthur
E. Rytter, M. M. Shtinsky, E. E.
Shtizel, S. J. Swiman and F. B.
Tuttle and John K. Berry, Greenwich; A. P. Gagnone, Deep River; S. W. Jenness, Waterbury; R. S. Mc-Kenzie, Litchfield; A. H. Miller,
Meriden; R. H. Newton, Plainville;
A. M. Peterson, Naugatuck; H. E.

(Continued on Page 2)

BANDITS GET PAYROLL

Chicago, March 19.—Eight shoot-out bandits today seized the $15,000 payroll of the Consenti-ent Gas Co. and escaped in two automobiles.

GETTING TOGETHER ON "BOTTLE NECK"

Town and Church Officials Plan Land Swap For Highway Widening.

The Board of Selectmen met yesterday afternoon in the Municipal building with R. LaMotte Russell of the Center Church building committee and Lucius Foster, representing the Ecclesiastical society of the Center church, to discuss the proposal for widening the highway
at the Center.

While no definite action was taken because the Center Church representatives were without power,
it was evident from the temper
of the meeting that the town and church will be able to reach an agreement. The church society will meet soon to act on its representatives' suggestions.

To Trade Land
The church building plans make necessary additional land in the rear of the present church. The Board of Selectmen was of the opinion yesterday that the land
could be given to the church in exchange for the land at the corner
where it is needed for widening the highway. The driveway between the church and the Municipal building will be used mutually.

When the church society has approved of the proposal, the Board of Selectmen will then take the matter before a town meeting.

CANTONESE MENACING THREE CHINESE CITIES

WOMAN COL HEADS
SQUAD OF AMAZONS
Managua, Nicaragua, March 19.—Colonel Angela Guido, the conservative woman militarist,
has departed for the battle-front
at the head of a machine-gun
squadron, manned by eleven women warriors.

Angela Guido for her services in the war against the Liberals has been given recognition by the Diaz government and has been raised to the rank of a colonel and permitted to recruit
her own command from her own sex.

PINEDO MAY BE LOST IN SWAMPLANDS

Italian Aviator Has Not Been Heard From For 24 Hours—Flies Over Jungles.

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, March 19.— Comdr. Francesco De Pinedo, the Italian aviator, has disappeared into the great swamp land region of Western Brazil. A day and a night have gone by since his giant hydro-airplane left San Luis De Careres,
State of Mato Grosso, to be towed down the Paraguary River to find a stretch of water from which it could take off for the voyage northward across the Brazilian jungle in continuation of his four-continent flight. Such a flight over the Brazilian jungle has never been attempted.

Not Alarmed
Aviation experts here are not alarmed over the failure to receive word from De Pinedo, pointing out that the silence probably is due to the fact that he is in a region
where there is no possibility of getting a message to the outside world
either by wire or radio.

When De Pinedo was making ready to leave San Luis De Careres,
he was fully aware of the dangers lurking in the territory over which he was to fly. It was known that if forced to land, the commander and his companions would have to travel
by foot and canoe back to civilization, and that there might be a delay of three weeks before they were able to communicate news as to their whereabouts.

River of Doubt
They thought it possible however, that they might make the flight from San Luis De Careres to Manaois in one hop, covering in a short time a distance they would take days or weeks to traverse by canoe and afoot. The route planned was parallel to that tracked by Roosevelt in his discovery of the River of Doubt.

SAPIRO MADE A MILLION IN TWELVE YEARS

"Wheat King" Admits Truth
Of Reed's Statement at Ford Trial—Farmers
Made Millions Too.

Detroit, Mich., March 19.—Aaron Sapiro, so-called "wheat king" netted nearly $1,000,000 out of his dream of a national chain of farmers co-operatives, he told international news service today in reply to the charges leveled at him by Henry Ford's counsel in the million dollar libel suit.

With the trial adjourned until Monday, Sapiro confirmed the estimate placed on his earnings by Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, who defended Ford's attack on the Sapiro co-operative plan. At the same time, said Sapiro, the plan earned millions upon millions of dollars for the farmer members of his associations. He declared that the plan would place American agriculture upon a sound economic basis if carried into execution all over the nation.

Reed Correct
"Taking the whole period of my activity in organizing co-operatives," said Sapiro, "Senator Reed was very nearly correct in estimating my earnings at $1,000,000. I have been identified with this work
from 1915 down to this moment.
The big period in fees was from 1920 to 1924 inclusive."

This would place Sapiro's earnings at an average of $80,000 a year for the twelve year period. It was in 1924 that Henry Ford's Dearborn Independent opened its long series on the Sapiro plan and the "wheat king" admitted that his earnings depreciated considerably.

Ford as Witness Interest meanwhile centered upon the probable appearance of Henry Ford as a Sapiro witness early next week. William G. Cameron, editor of the Ford publication, will resume the stand Monday and Ford may follow him.

Thus far the jury had heard much about Sapiro and little about Ford. When Cameron was testifying, the Ford attorneys sealed
his lips with a never-ending flow of objections. He was allowed to say that the publication and Ford disagreed on policies.
Two policies named were prepara-ness and Soviet Russia.

Cameron pictured Ford as "en-fient" toward the Soviets while the Dearborn Independent was thoroughly anti-Soviet.

The publication stood for national preparedness, Cameron said, while Ford leaned toward world peace.
The editor must have had a vision of Ford's peace ship sailing across the ocean a decade ago to "end the war by Christmas."

Odds are Even
The odds remained even here
among newspapermen that Ford
would not appear but his counsel insisted he would take the stand if the court called him. It was felt however, that the Ford attorneys either would bloc. Ford's appearance with technical objections or prevent him giving any testimony
after he did take the stand.

Both sides apparently planned to make much of Sapiro's earnings from his co-operative plan. The defense introduced the subject in an effort to show the jury that he made such tremendous profits out of it. They promised to prove later on that Sapiro earned $419, 350 in twelve states alone from cooperatives which were mentioned in the Dearborn Independent articles which the "wheat king" called libels.

His Earnings
The earnings included a $142,
000 fee from the Tri-State Tobacco association, $80,000 from the California Prunes and Apricot association; $40,000 from the Carolina Peanut Growers; $2,850 from the Kentucky-Dark Leaf Tobacco
Growers; $42,400 from the Barley Tobacco growers and $171,000
from the Maine potato farmers, with numerous lesser fees.

Sapiro's counsel will maintain this was but half the story and that the alleged libels, published by Ford, actually did Sapiro a million dollars worth of damage.

The man who rose from an orphan's home to almost a throne above American agriculturists declared he would show that his dream of a mighty chain of cooperatives from one end of America to the other, would have given permanent prosperity to American agriculture and a million dollars to himself.

ON VERGE OF COLLAPSE.

Shanghai, March 19.—Shanghai, chief seaport of China and the source of one quarter of the country's customs revenue, today trembled on the verge of capitulation to the Nationalist armies of General Chiang Kaishek. The capture of the city within 72 hours is held as almost inevitable, due to the unexpected collapse of General An Kuo Chun, field commander of the defending northern forces.

The Nationalists are expected to proceed to Shaochow in the west.
While the defections of the Sun
Chuan-Fang generals were important factors in the collapse of the defense forces, foreign observers scent the probability of wholesale bribery and treachery within the ranks of the Shantung army.

Triple Offensive
The Nationalists today are continuing on their triple offensive toward Nanking, Soochow and Sunkiang fronts, but observers agree that they probably will allow the advance on Soochow to continue,
and this will cut off the Sunkiang and Shanghai defenders from their bases.

The American, French, British
and other foreign military commanders are conferring here this afternoon with the municipal councillors regarding precautionary measures in view of the imminent capture of the city.

British military reinforcements have been ordered from Hongkong to Shanghai.

NEAR NANKING.

Peking, March 19.—The battle between the northern and southern Chinese forces for the control of Nanking, ancient capital city of China, continued today almost at the southeastern gates of the city.
The southerners are trying desperately to cut the Nanking-Shanghai railway and so isolate the northerners from their base, while the northerners are attempting to extend their drive into Honan province.

U. S. MARSHAL TO PAY SALARIES OF CLERKS

Neglect of Congress Stares Federal Employees All Over the United States.

Boston, Mass., March 19.—The tenor of a federal building office was somewhat relieved today when it became known that United States Marshal William J. Keville will pay the salaries of clerks from his own funds during the next three months.

Marshal Keville's action was necessitated by the lack of an appro-piation to cover the departmental expenses, jurors and witnesses fees and federal judges salaries, all of which was included in the deficiency bill which failed to receive action in Congress, as a result of a filibuster in the closing days of the last session.

To pay the salaries of the clerks
in his department, Marshal Keville
will have to expend about $40,000, which eventually he will receive back from the government with the appropriation of the required funds.

Jurors and witnesses in the cases
will have to wait for their compensation at least three months. Salaries of judges will be paid to a certain extent and then they too, will have to wait the action of Congress.

Hodge Podge of the Week's News for the Hoi Polloi

by Cliff Knight

Rockville

BIBLICAL DRAMA

AT UNION CHURCH

Young People to Give Bible Tableaux Tomorrow; Plan Community Days.

(Special to The Herald)

Rockville, March 19.—The Union church young people will present the Biblical drama, "The Handwriting on the Wall" on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Everybody is talking about it and people desirous of obtaining a good seat should be there early. It is the first time in the history of Rockville that an original drama has been given. Mr. Brookes has taken great pains to prepare an accurate delineation of the characters and stories of the first six chapters of the book of Daniel. The scenes, the costumes, and the Hebrew characters (the writing on the wall) have been drawn from historical sources, and those who miss seeing the spectacle will surely regret it. No organ or piano will be used, but in keeping with the ancient period Mr. Lyman, leader of Union church school orchestra, will furnish music on wind instruments.

The first scene forms a background for the three acts. One is reminded of the bondage of the children of Israel under cruel Pharaohs. Once more the heavy hand of oppression is laid upon the Jews, and the four Hebrew worthies, Daniel, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego are introduced. Their attitude of fearlessness is exhibited in a solemn covenant which they make in a dramatic fashion. The Hebrew prophet prepares the way for the first act, and the secret conclave.

Act two is very beautiful. The princess and her companions are seen in the garden. The princess is to play upon the harp and Minerva suggests rhythmic step as a means of driving away fear, but these are declined. The happenings of the court are narrated by Elsheva and a deep interest in Daniel is manifested by the princess to the discomfiture of her companions.

The third act describes the feast of Belshazzar. The princess is welcomed by the chamberlain; the herald and pages precede the king. The revelry starts but when the king sends for the sacred vessels of the house of the Lord, and desecrates them by unholy use, the strange handwriting on the wall appears. The guests are terrified and the doom of Belshazzar is sealed. The Queen asks that Daniel be introduced to interpret the writing, and because of her faith in his skill, the Hebrew is brought into the presence of the king. The writing is interpreted, and the king cries "I am undone." As much time has been spent in rehearsing and collecting stage properties for this drama, it is hoped that all who have an interest in the Bible will attend the presentation on Sunday evening.

Community Days

Rockville merchants will hold two community days on Saturday and Monday, March 26 and 28. These days are being sponsored by the Rockville Chamber of Commerce and the merchants are heartily cooperating. From every standpoint it is believed the days will be a success.

Request Denied

Manager Nathaniel J. Scott of the Connecticut company has written the city of Rockville that New Haven headquarters cannot grant the establishment of a two car shed in Rockville in which to keep two cars for emergencies, in case of break downs between here and Hartford. Agitation has been started locally for this plan because, in the event of a tie-up between Rockville and Hartford, this city and Stafford Springs would be left without service.

To Give Play

The Young People's Fellowship of St. John's Episcopal church presented the play entitled "Mr. Bob" at the Congregational church in Staffordville Thursday evening. A large number of friends accompanied the cast on the trip. The play was presented before a large audience and the local talents brought down the house, receiving much applause. An orchestra, in which members of the church took part furnished the music during the evening.

"Mr. Bob" will be presented again at the Federated church in Hartford on Tuesday evening, March 22 by these same people and it is expected they will be accompanied by several friends who were unable to attend when the play was presented in Rockville several weeks ago.

Newsy Notes

Mrs. Edna Hansen Johnston will sing at Foot Guard hall this evening at a concert given by the Vasa society. Mrs. Johnston will sing Swedish folk songs.

Allan Waite, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Waite of Union street is confined to the house with chicken pox.

Miss Nettie Ertel of Village street left this morning for a two weeks visit in Georgia where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hardy. Mrs. Hardy was formerly Miss Beatrice Green.

Mrs. Belle Nevell of Laurel street is substituting for Miss Ella Joyce at the Postal Telegraph. Miss Joyce is ill at the St. Francis hospital in Hartford.

A dinner in honor of George H. Williams, newly elected Exalted Ruler of the Rockville Lodge of Elks, will be given Monday evening at the Hotel Bond by members of the lodge.

Mrs. E. Harrison Metcalf will entertain the Cornelia Circle on Monday, March 21 at her home on Elm street. The leaders will be Mrs. Frank Hutchinson and Mrs. H. H. Martin.

Tankerosan Tribe Improved Order of Red Men have accepted an invitation to attend the fifteenth anniversary celebration of the Mianomonan Tribe which will be held in Tinker hall, South Manchester on March 24.

Rockville was swamped with neckties last week. They came from "Necktie Tiler," the blind salesman and sold for three for a dollar. The majority of the ties went back to the post office as they were cheap knit and not considered a bargain.

There will be an important meeting of the Rockville Boys' Band on Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the headquarters of the band in the rooms of the Rockville Athletic association. The band has several future engagements.

HERALD SERIAL

STARTS MONDAY

"Daughters of Midas" By Anne Austin Is One of Best in NEA Fiction.

The Herald's newest NEA fiction release, "Daughters of Midas," by Anne Austin, begins Monday. Anne Austin wrote "Sair and Slanner" for The Herald and this her second newspaper serial is considered better than her first attempt at newspaper writing. Miss Austin is a well known magazine writer, but had never written strictly for newspaper publication until signed by the NEA Service.

"Daughters of Midas" deals with the age-old theory of the lure of gold. It is a real human story, which a beautiful character playing the usual NEA form but actual photographs will illustrate "Daughters of Midas." The parts are all acted by members of the Theater Guild School of New York.

YALE ANNOUNCES

ITS HONOR LISTS

(Continued from Page 1)

Russell, New Britain, and W. P. Spining, Williston.

Yale college sophomore honors were given Connecticut students as follows:

First rank—Thomas H. Braeken, Branford and Hans A. Klagsbrunn, New-Haven.

Second rank—Howard E. Hausman, New Britain; Walter Howe, Litchfield; R. F. McNeerney, Jr., New Haven; Roger Sherman Markpeace, Waterbury; Norman K. Parselle, Stamford; and George Sklar, Meriden.

Third rank—L. W. Adams, Jr., Russell E. Davis and Harold J. Rome, Hartford; Donald W. Krumer and J. G. Sherman, Bridgeport; Henry P. Bakewell, D. E. Cobey, George J. Epstein, Raymond P. Hart, S. F. Hemley, Daniel Luzon Morris, N. L. Nathanson, J. P. Purcell, J. I. Suttin, T. H. Vance, Herrell, J. J. Wainwright, C. E. Wilcox, New Haven; Harold Ward, Stamford; Isadore H. Cohen, Lebanon; Harold L. Jackson, Danbury and T. G. Smith, Southington.

Scientific School.

Shelton school sophomore honors were given Connecticut students as follows:

First rank—Israel Zaur, Bridgeport, and R. B. Trench, and William L. Plous, New Haven.

Second rank—Stanley J. Bishop, Hartford; John L. Daley, Bridgeport; L. F. Doss, Rockville; P. C. Michel, West Suffield; Q. M. Hawley, New Canaan; F. J. Awdziewicz, "Herdon," and J. H. Ferdinandus, George W. Flyer, L. A. Volpicelli, H. E. Snavely, D. T. Ward, Charles Rufus Harte, Jr., M. G. Etkind, V. J. Grillo, B. N. Tager and Louis Hurwitz, New Haven.

FATHERS AND SONS

HEAR SCOUT ADDRESS

Just sixty-nine places were set at the Father and Son banquet last night at the Second Congregational church. The affair was sponsored by the Men's club of the church under the leadership of Fred Harvey and a willing corps of assistants. The special guests were 23 Boy Scouts of Troop 1 with their Scoutmaster, Frank Ineson and Assistant Calvin Davison.

The men of the committee put on a good substantial supper featuring roast pork, doing all the work of preparation practically themselves. After the meal there was spirited singing of popular songs and an excellent exhibition of Scout work in which about twenty of the Scouts participated. The boys gave an interesting demonstration of first aid work, bandaging the head, and placing a tourniquet on the leg of one of the Scouts in a way similar to actual work on a boy injured while up in a tree collecting tent caterpillar egg masses.

The speaker of the evening was Scout Executive Frederick C. Hill of Hartford, who illustrated his talk by slides taken at the Boy Scout summer camp in Winsted, Camp Pioneer. Mr. Hill brought his own projector.

EMBEZZLER ARRESTED

Detroit, Mich., March 19.—Merris Becker, 27, confessed today, according to police that he embezzled $30,000 from the World Exchange bank in New York.

Becker, also known as Murray Wagner, wept as he told a story of eluding arrest for three months since he quit his job as bookkeeper at the bank.

Only $1,000 of the $30,000 remained, Becker said, according to police.

McLudd-Harrison
Studio De Danse
State Theater Building
Tango—Sensational

Mark Holmes
Funeral Director
Licensed Embalmer.
Lady Assistant. Calls Day or Night.
223 No. Main St., Phone 406-2.

POLICE COURT

William Armstrong was arrested last night by Officer Joseph Prentice for intoxication. He had been given a chance to go home but refused to do so. When the case was called this morning in the police court Officer Prentice was not present and Judge Johnson allowed Armstrong to go for lack of evidence. He claimed he had steady work to go to and the judge reminded him he had better attend to it and cut out booze, or the next time he appeared in court he would send him to jail.

BOSTON GOES WILD

OVER IRISH LEADER

Thousands Block Station When De Valera Arrives—A Noisy Welcome.

Boston, Mass., March 19.—Boston accorded Eamonn De Valera, first president of the Irish Republic, a royal and noisy welcome upon his arrival here today.

Madly cheering their idol and waving the colors of the Irish Republic, hundreds of men and women, young and old, fought for an opportunity to grasp his hand or hear a word from the South station, the former professor, soldier and statesman who has kept the hopes of Irish freedom in hearts of Irishmen, was greeted by a rushing throng. Police battled with the crowd to open a way to a waiting automobile. Standing upright in the automobile and doffing his hat in acknowledgment of the receipt on accorded him, the tall, spare figure of the scholarly looking apostle of freedom for the Irish incited the crowd to cheer like mad.

ABOUT TOWN

A rehearsal of the entire three acts of the play All-of-a-Sudden Peggy, will be held at the Center Congregational church Monday evening at seven o'clock.

Mrs. David Armstrong and Mrs. William Clark of Buckland will give a what this evening at the former's home on Depot street for members of Memorial Temple Pythian Sisters and their friends.

The report from the Memorial hospital this afternoon in regard to Henry Behring was that his condition had not improved and that he is delirious today.

Mrs. S. E. Kayler and son, Robert Earle, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Pickles of Hill street, left today for their home in Alliance, Ohio. Mrs. Pickles entertained the Amaranth Bridge club yesterday afternoon before her sister's departure.

The regular meeting of the American Legion auxiliary will be held jointly with Dilworth-Cornell Post American legion, at 8:15 Monday evening in the Legion room of the state armory. The charter of the auxiliary will close at this time and all those eligible are urged to join. Members are requested to bring their friends who have been considering the matter. The Legion will furnish a luncheon and the auxiliary will entertain Monday evening.

Doctor and Mrs. E. G. Dolan are spending the week-end with the doctor's parents in Stamford.

ANOTHER STUDENT SUICIDE

New London, Conn., March 19.—Alonzo Oswell Brown, 20, a student in Bates college, Lewiston, Maine, took his life by gas poisoning in a two-room apartment at 38 Franklin street here today.

Brown left a note addressed to "My Dear Daddy" in which he declared he had been suffering from pains for an indefinite period and intended to take his life.

Nothing was known of the youth here. Brown came to town on March 17 and rented the apartment. He was found today sitting in a chair before a gas stove, the burners of which were opened wide. Other occupants smelled gas and sent for the police.

LITTLE JOE

IF YOU KNOW WHAT YOU WANT IT'S A LOT EASIER TO GET IT.

McLudd-Harrison
Studio De Danse
State Theater Building
Tango—Sensational

Mark Holmes
Funeral Director
Licensed Embalmer.
Lady Assistant. Calls Day or Night.
223 No. Main St., Phone 406-2.

SILK DEPARTMENTS

INCREASE SCHEDULE

Does Not Denote Particular Change in Textile Conditions, Says Member of Firm.

Although some departments of Cheney Brothers, principally the White Weaving department, are operating on a full 48-hour schedule this week, that does not denote any material change in the firm's situation, a member of the firm told The Herald today. Because of an increase in working hours in these departments it has been rumored throughout Manchester that the textile industry, and the Cheney silk mills, were facing an era of unusual prosperity.

Several of the departments, the Weaving, Ribbon and Dyeing and Finishing, are now operating full time as a result of the fluctuation in business. However, no general trend toward an increased business has caused this.

Cheney Brothers are constantly leading the silk market in quality, designs and materials and any noticeable change for the better in the silk industry will be felt in Manchester first. However, the present full time schedule does not mark any particular improvement in conditions.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

ELECTS ITS OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the Cosmopolitan club held yesterday with Mrs. F. A. Verplanck, Mrs. R. K. Anderson was elected vice president and Mrs. L. A. Thorpe, secretary, to take the positions of Mrs. Harold Bidwell, and Mrs. James Irvine, vice president and secretary, respectively, who resigned. Elections ordinarily are held biennially in March, and the other officers, Mrs. H. A. Nettleton, president and Mrs. E. E. Segar, treasurer, will hold over until next year.

The following ladies were appointed program committee for the coming year: Mrs. C. R. Burr, Mrs. Frank P. Spencer and Mrs. R. K. Anderson.

An invitation was received from the Hartford County branch of the Federation of Women's clubs, to the meeting and presidents' luncheon in Hartford on April 4. The Hartford Women's club will act as host and delegates are expected from clubs all over Hartford county. The delegates appointed to represent the Cosmopolitan club by the president, Mrs. Nettleton, were Mrs. L. N. Heebner, Mrs. E. E. Segar and Mrs. W. B. Bull.

RIALTO

LAST TIMES TODAY AND THIS EVENING

ZANE GREY'S THRILLING NOVEL

"Man Of The Forest"

STARRING JACK HOIT

"Pioneer Blood"

WITH FRED GILMAN

COMEDY SERIAL NEWS

TOMORROW EVE AND MONDAY

FLORENCE VIDOR IN A DISTINCT NOVELTY

"You Never Know Women!"

CHARLIE CHAPLIN in

"Shoulder Arms"

SELECTED SHORT SUBJECTS

CIRCLE

THEATER

TODAY ONLY

THE MOST DARING—THRILLING OF ALL OF

HOOT GIBSON

PICTURES

"The Flaming Frontier"

Never Have You Seen "Hoot" Gibson In Such a Great Production

SUNDAY—MONDAY

BEAUTIFUL AND CHARMING

Corinne Griffith

The LADY in ERMINE

One of her most talked of plays.

A supreme sacrifice to save the man she loved!... Yet she found a way to keep her soul as pure as the ermine she wore.

DON'T MISS SEEING

CORINNE GRIFFITH

—in—

"THE LADY IN ERMINE"

Make Your Kitchen

which is the workshop of your wife

Bright and Cheerful

You certainly can afford to when we are selling

White Enamel Kitchen Light Units for $1.98

Of course at this price the bulb is not included. We are also offering some very exceptional values in 5 light candle or drop hanging fixtures at $9 EACH

Come in and look over our line of merchandise.

EDWARD HESS

Electrical Fixtures and Supplies
855 Main Street, Park Building

Federal Cords

30x3½ $6.60	30x3½ Oversize $7.40	30x3½ 8 S Oversize $8.40	31x4 5 Ply Oversize $10.60	32x4 5 Ply Oversize $11.15	33x4 5 Ply Oversize $11.75
34x4 5 Ply Oversize $12.35	32x4½ 6 Ply Oversize $15.20	34x4½ 6 Ply Oversize $16.30	33x4½ 6 Ply Oversize $15.80	30x5 8 Ply Oversize $18.25	33x5 8 Ply Oversize $19.00
29x4.40 4 Ply Oversize $7.55	29x4.75 4 Ply Balloon $9.45	30x4.95 4 Ply Balloon $11.00	31x5.25 4 Ply Balloon $12.80	30x5.77 5 Ply Balloon $14.45	33x6.00 5 Ply Balloon $15.30

All Tires Firsts, fully guaranteed by factory and by US. BUY-NOW. Looks like tires will be higher soon. All other sizes also in stock at special prices. Call 2034 or 1284.

Specials On Accessories

$1.25 SOCKET SETS IN METAL CASE ..... 75c
 $1.50 LOCK AND LEATHER COVERED CHAIN ..... 98c
 $1.00 LEATHER COVERED CHAIN ..... 50c
 60c CHAMPION X PLUGS OR A. C. .... 40c
 75c CHAMPION PLUGS OR A. C. .... 40c
 $1.75 JACKS ..... 50c
 $1.50 PUMPS ..... 98c
 $1.50 COLORED SPREAD WINGS ..... 98c

Oaklyn Filling Station

ALEXANDER COLE

93 CENTER STREET

367 OAKLAND STREET

STATE

THE BIG SENSATIONAL BILL OF VAUDEVILLE THAT EVERYONE IS TALKING ABOUT.

MARCUS SISTERS AND THE CARLTON REVUE
JACK LAVIER
OLIVER AND HADDEN
ALL STAR PARAMOUNT CAST IN "NEW YORK"

SUNDAY, MONDAY, TUESDAY

Passion Ran Like Wine In Their Blood

Can a passionate love for a woman destroy the life-long friendship of two men?

JOHN GILBERT

in CLARENCE BROWN'S Production

FLESH AND THE DEVIL

with GRETA GARBO
LARS HANSON

Charged with drama, flaming with romance, here is one answer in a picture hailed as truly great! John Gilbert, acclaimed for his great work in "The Big Parade" reaches new heights in this revelation of a man's soul—and a woman's.

CHURCHES

CENTER CONGREGATIONAL SOUTH METHODIST EPISCOPAL

Rev. Watson Woodruff
Morning Worship, 10:30.
Sermon by the pastor; topic, "The Heel of Achilles."
The music will be as follows: Prelude, Canzons Amorosos, by Nev. In Anthem O Divine Redeemer, by Gounod

12:00—The church school will assemble, classes for all ages.
10:45—Morning worship. The pastor will preach, Scripture topic, "Four Thoughts That Have Wings." The vested choir will sing an anthem prayer by Hillier and the Shepherd Psalm by Sullivan.

Notes
Men of the congregation are invited to remain for the meeting of the Men's League and hear Mr. Clarence E. Wilson, speak on "The Nursery Industry."

THE SALVATION ARMY

Commandant C. M. Abbott
Saturday evening at 8 o'clock will be the first of the series of Evangelistic services to be conducted by Walter Williamson the blind evangelist at the Salvation Army Citadel.

South Methodist Episcopal Church
Corner Hartford Road and Main Street
MINISTER: REV. JOSEPH COOPER
10:45—MORNING WORSHIP, Subject: "Four Great Thoughts"
7:30—Monthly Concert by Vested Choir. Modern Russian Compositions.

THE CENTER CHURCH
At the Center.
MORNING WORSHIP 10:30
Sermon by the Minister.
BIBLE SCHOOL 12:00
MEN'S LEAGUE 12:00
CYP CLUB 6:00

SWEDISH LUTHERAN

Rev. P. J. O. Cornell
9:30 a. m.—Sunday school and Bible class.
10:45 a. m.—Morning service. Rev. Cornell will preach in English.

Notes
Monday, 7 p. m., Beethoven Glee Club.
Tuesday, 7 p. m., Boy Scouts of Troop 6.

SECOND CONGREGATIONAL

Rev. Frederick C. Allen, pastor
At the morning service tomorrow at 10:45 there will be a special speaker, Major Edward B. Case. Major Case was senior officer of the Red Cross hospital in France for fifteen months during the war, and was decorated by the French government.

ST. MARY'S EPISCOPAL

Rev. J. Stuart Nell
Rev. David Kelly
Sunday, March 20th—Services as follows:
8:00 a. m.—Holy Communion.
9:30 a. m.—Church school. Men's Bible class.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL

Edward Ellis, Minister
10:30 a. m.—A world-service Sunday will be observed. Rev. J. Garland and Wassinger of Storrs will give the address. An offering will be made for Congregational world-wide work.

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL

Rev. J. A. Anderson
Sunday morning service, 10:30.
Sunday school, 12:00.
Evening service, 7:00.

SUPERFLUOUS.

Clerk: "We have some very nice oatmeal soup today."
Mrs. Youngblade: "No thanks. We never wash our oatmeal—Life."

Instant Relief
Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads stop all pain quicker than any other known method. Takes but a minute to quiet the worst corn. Healing starts at once. When the corn is gone it never comes back. If new shoes make the spot "touchy" again, a Zino-pad stops it instantly. That's because Zino-pads remove the causes, pressing and rubbing of shoes.

The Evening Herald
Sunday School Lessons
by William T. Ellis
For Every Age, Creed and Nationality.

OUR DAY'S SAD MINUS SIGN

The International Sunday School Lesson for March 20 is "The Christian's Hope"—John 14:1-3; II Corinthians 5:1-10; I John 3:1, 2.
It seems as if every newspaper editor and public speaker in the land is moralizing about the suicidal tendencies of the modern student. One of the first questions put to me recently by a New York editor whom I was visiting was this: "Do you think the emphasis upon the suicidal side of life which is being taught by our schools has anything to do with these suicides?"

What a Grave Looks Like

So the deep, oblong cleft in the earth's surface which we call a grave resembles only a huge minus sign to the modern materialist. "It stands for the subtraction of everything. When the breath goes, all goes. The way to wipe out all woes, all responsibilities, all perplexities, is to die. Hence the vogue of suicide."
Not so to the Christian. One great outstanding anecdotal difference between the Christian view of life and the old ideas which it superseded in the conception of death, suicide was more common in the pagan world than it is in the paganized sections of our Christendom.

A Slogan For Souls

Let us confess that the Church today has not met the present crisis, as she should have done, with a jubilant affirmation. Our smitten times need most of all the confident, joyful proclamation of a Saviour who gives hope for the here and for the hereafter. It is loss of faith in the Christ of the resurrection that has turned so many youth to materialism, sensuality, crime and despair. None but Jesus is "a living reality" falls into a suicide's grave.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS

No man can be brave who considers pain the chief evil of life.—The Heroine of the Strait.
Circumstances do not change one; they simply develop what is in one.—Anon.
Think naught a trifle, though it small appear; Small sands the mountain, moments make the year. And trifles life.—Edward Young.
In a word, this is thy wisdom: mind thy duty and refer to Him thy comfort.—Robert Leighton.
The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.—James 5:16.
Love took up the harp of life, and smote on all the chords with might. Smote the chord of Self that trembles, passed in music out of sight.—Alfred Tennyson.
The present generation is willing, and, indeed, often eager, to be led; but it is averse to being driven, and it wants to understand the grounds and sanctions of authoritative decisions.—Charles W. Eliot.

TOLLAND

Mrs. Tillie Ladd and son, Raymond, visited in South Windsor on Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. Emory Clough visited Mrs. Clough's mother, Mrs. Darling, in New Britain on Thursday. Mr. Darling returned to his home with them.

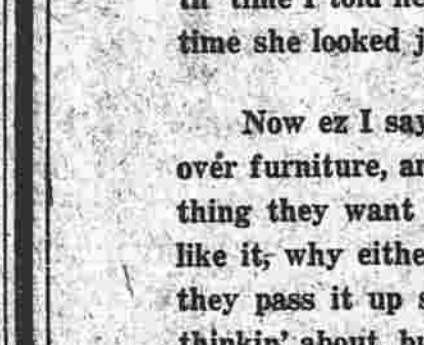

LIFE AFTER DEATH

BY GEORGE HENRY DOLE
International Sunday School Lesson Text, March 20.
In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you so. I go to prepare a place for you.—John 14:2.
Many mansions in my Father's house. This declares eternal life. It tells of glorious preparation for the life after death.
If it were not so, I would have told you. These are piercing words, rebuking doubt and wavering faith. They assure us that God would not have permitted all nations from the very beginning to believe in immortality, if it were an illusion. God is a revealer of truth. If there were not the many mansions prepared, He would have revealed the fact, and prevented the world from living in a lie.

TEST ANSWERS

Here are the answers to "Now You Ask One," which is printed on the comic page:
1—Salome receiving the head of John the Baptist.
2—St. John the Divine.
3—At Jerusalem, on Mount Moriah.
4—The Queen of Sheba.
5—Christ, as He revealed himself to John.
6—David, in the twenty-second Psalm.
7—Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.
8—A servant of Jesus and a brother of James.
9—King Herod.
10—Younger.

FLU-GRIP VICKS VapoRub

Check before it starts. Rub on—inhale vapors.
FLU-GRIP VICKS VapoRub
Over 21 Million Men Used Vicks

How Much?
Well sir, I wuz thinkin' th' other day when a lady come in here just kinda shoppin' 'round th' way th' do, an' she saw lot of things she like th' looks of, an' you cud tell because soon's she set eyes on 'em right away she says, "How much?" Not thet it meant anything t' her, 'cause half th' time I told her th' wrong price just t' see how she took it—but every time she looked just ez wise an' says "Um-m-m-m!"
Now ez I say, I wuz thinkin' how half th' folks when they're lookin' over furniture, an' I s'pose other things th' same way—why it's th' fust thing they want t' know is "how much?" Well it's this way—if they like it, why either they kin afford th' price er they can't. An' if not, they pass it up soon ez possible. Tain't how much it's worth they're thinkin' about, but how much they figger t' spend.

Keith's
Cor. Main & School Sts.
South Manchester
"The Place To Buy Furniture"

Manchester Evening Herald
 PUBLISHED BY THE HERALD PRINTING CO.
 Founded by Elwood A. Ellis
 Oct. 1, 1881

Every Evening Except Sundays and Holidays.
 Entered at the Post Office at Manchester as Second Class Matter.
SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Mail
 six dollars a year, sixty cents a month for shorter periods.
 By carrier, eighteen cents a week.
 Single copies, three cents.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVE: Hamilton De Lister, Inc., 235 Madison Avenue, New York and 618 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

The Manchester Evening Herald is on sale in New York City at Schutt's
 News Stand, Sixth Avenue and 42nd Street and 42nd Street entrance of Grand Central Station.

"International News Service has the exclusive rights to use for publication
 in any form all news dispatches credited to or not otherwise credited in this paper. It is also exclusively entitled to use for publication all the local or undated news published herein."

SATURDAY, MARCH 19, 1927.

PASS THIS BILL.
 There is a bill before the Connecticut Legislature whose passage is demanded by every quality of right and justice that lies in the people of this state, and failure to pass
 which would continue a wrong which no legislative body ought for a moment to think of imposing on the municipalities of the commonwealth. That is the bill which proposes to take from the Motor Vehicle Department the final power to grant permits for gasoline stations on state or trunkline highways even in the settled parts of towns and at whatever points the department shall deem suitable, depriving the local authorities of all voice in a matter that may be of supreme local importance.

The bill would give the selectmen of towns the right to veto such a permit when the proposed location of the gas station was deemed unsuitable for such a business. And if we are to have a shred of the blessed right of home rule left to us certainly the town authorities
 should have such power.

Of what use is it to talk of zoning, or the maintenance of exclusive residential districts if, despite the combined remonstrance of an entire neighborhood and the unanimous objection of the local government, it remains possible for some agent of the commissioner of motor vehicles, who does not live in the town and perhaps never saw the town in his life, to grant a permit for a gasoline station smack in the midst of perhaps the prettiest and highest tax paying group of residences in the community?

Precisely such things have been done. They have been done here in Manchester. They are an outrage and a ruthless infringement on the rights of this town and every other town in the state.

It is beside the mark that there are probably already more gasoline stations in Connecticut than can possibly make a living for their owners. The principle would be the same if there were only half enough and crying need of more.
 Even then Manchester authority and not the authority of the state of Connecticut should have the say whether or not residential property values should be attacked in any particular locality by the installation of one of these highly undesirable neighbors.

There is not the slightest justice
 or reason in or even a good excuse for reposing this peculiarly municipal power in the hands of the department of motor vehicles.
 Grant that department restrictive authority if there be good reason for it; let it be possible for the commissioner to deny such permit
 as contrary to public policy, if that be desired. But absolutely there is no shadow of right in clothing a state bureau with the right to say the last word in what is essentially a local matter of the very deepest local concern.

GOLD BOOM.
 Let no Manchester man or boy
 miss his house or his shotgun and silver for the price of a railroad ride to Tonopah and a long walk to Weepah in the star eyed hope of getting in on the newest of the world's exciting gold discoveries.

A lovely story is that about the Horton boy and his pal who, in desperate desire to put the Horton family on Easy street when they were living in Hardluck lane, prospected hither and yon with no luck
 and then, on their last day's prospector, took a forlorn chance at an old "dead" claim belonging to Horton Senior—and struck "jewelry ore" worth $78,000 to the ton, in a badger hole. And no doubt a true story.

Just the kind of a story to make thousands and thousands of other boys daydream over how wonderful it would be if they, too, could only hit into that kind of luck.
 Just the kind of a tale to start a frenzied gold rush and to build a town in a day or two; as it has been.

But the chance of any tenderfoot
 any easterner or other person who does not know the mining game from A to Z—getting in on a Nevada strike and making a lot of money in it, overnight, like the Horton boy, are somewhat more remote than of accumulating a fortune by staying up all night and searching for nickels on the sidewalks of Main street, Manchester.

Not for a moment should one imagine that the chances of the greenhorn in Nevada are a thousandth part as good as they were in California in the old placer days.
 Nevada's geology is volcanic. Its gold is matrixed in supremely difficult ore. It has produced more marvelous discoveries that amount to almost nothing than any other gold field in the world. Miraculous veins of incredibly rich rock have been found again and again—only to disappear after a few feet of digging, as the streaks broke clear off,
 to continue, likely enough, ten thousand feet down in the bowels of the earth.

A whole town has grown about the Horton strike. Most of the folks in it know Nevada mining all the way through. Yet the odds are a hundred to one that nobody but the Hortons will be the better by so much as a ten cent piece from the Weepah boom.

THE CHOICE.
 If we will not join the League of Nations, if we will not join with Europe on equal terms in the matter of disarmament, if we will not agree to membership in the World Court say on new terms of our own making, if we will not participate responsibly and sporting in peace measures but only as inter-ferer "observers," if we are not ready to place our faith in pledged agreements of nations but must always insist on the right to prepare against betrayal of those pledges,
 if we are to regard ourselves as the only honest and honorable and dependable unit among the earth's nations, we may be able to justify our position of aloofness but we cannot well sustain the character of a seeker after international comity and a nation with a passion for ending wars.

There is no excuse for permitting
 the foreign policy of the United States to become obscure or puzzling. Two courses alone are open to us, and each is extremely simple.
 Either we must go in for world peace—which is a matter of putting faith in the pledged words of nations, or we must go in for the idea of depending for our safety
 on our own strength, resourcefulness and wits.

It would appear as if the time were nearly ripe for this country to adopt one course or the other and not keep on futtlingly attempting to mix the two, which will not mix.

"DOC" COOK.
 Dr. Frederick A. Cook, North pole "discoverer" and oil stock
 swindler who has just been "pro-bationed" for five years of a fourteen year term in Leavenworth,
 and whose release by order of a federal judge is to be appealed from
 by the United States Department of Justice, has always appeared to a good many folk to be a little mad.
 His performances have been little less than weird. Even his swindling activities suggested the spontaneous deviltries of an incoherently bad boy rather than those of the ordinary money seeking crook. Worse men than "Doc" Cook have gotten away with graver crimes without serving, as he has served, three and a half years in a federal penitentiary—even after being caught.

And in addition to this there has grown up, within the last few years, considerable doubt as to whether Cook did, consciously, take his discovery of the Pole—whether he was not in fact victimized by his rival explorer Peary, concerning whose own polar discoveries there has always been an undercurrent of skepticism. If this were so—and Cook is not the only person to assert it—perhaps it is not to be wondered at if an already eccentric and somewhat erratic mind were shunted off onto "Queer street."

Cook, at all events, is old, broken and poor. He has done time. If the law under which Judge Wilson has put him on probation had to be tested at some time or other it would almost seem as if the Department of Justice might have picked a more demanding occasion for it.

"BAD" LODGES.
 The Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals has separated the fraternal sheep from the fraternal goats and put four of the big national orders in the hairy class in the matter of booze.

Upon the Elks, Moose, Eagles and Owls the Board has pinned the label of the wet. Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Kiwanis, Lions, Rotarians are dried—so far at least as their conduct as organizations goes—declares the B. T.
 P. F. M.

"Several fraternal orders almost seem to have been founded with a view to the financial opportunity of surreptitiously furnishing bar privileges as state after state went dry,"
 says the Board's clip sheet.

As there are only four "bad"
 orders, and since the Elks and the Eagles, at least, came into being at a period of antiquity as compared with the birth of the prohibition movement outside of two or three states, it would seem as if it up to the Moose and the Owls to fight out
 this business with their accusers.

Since it is quite conceivable that a considerable number of members of Secretary Davis' fraternity may be also members of the Methodist church, as both are particularly strong among middle class midwesters, the prospects of somebody being called to account could be worse.

AMERICAN "CRIMS."
 In the current number of the War Cry, organ of the Salvation Army, is an interesting article on the criminal castes of India, among which it appears that the Army has established a very effective work
 of reform of habits and traditions running far back into antiquity.

These "Crim" castes, according to the article, are hereditary guilds
 of crime, each one of which specializes in a particular branch of depreda-tion and most scrupulously avoids trespassing on the prerogative of any other sinful brotherhood.

We have never had anything like these criminal Indian castes in this or any other occidental country,
 but in the United States we are on our way. The Chicago bootleg gangs are predicated on an idea which is closely akin to the criminal establishment of India. Only the idea
 there, instead of being a founded and matured thing, as in the land of the rajahs, is being implanted in the slower minded of the boozie criminals along with machine gun bullets.

Uphaw is announced as "the central figure in a program of nation-wide activities." Of him,
 the Foundation says: "No man is
 better, or in fact so well equipped,
 to carry a message to American
 youth and around whom to build
 a campaign for Better Citizenship
 through better homes."

Dr. William W. Landrum is quoted as calling Uphaw "the
 most remarkable man in America."

Frederick Wallace is quoted as saying of him that "nearer than any other leader I know, he has
 caught the faller mantle of William Jennings Bryan." This, of course, was meant as a compliment.

The Rev. Homer W. Tappan says
 "there is a cadence in some of his
 sentences which reminds one of Macaulay and De Quincey."

In an opening statement, Up-
 shaw himself says:
 "There is hardly a problem that confronts the nation—social, civic
 or even economic—that cannot be solved by reverent teachers and an altar to God in every home."
 Uphaw and the National Home
 Betterment Foundation are now
 open for speaking dates.

DAILY ALMANAC
 Feast day of St. Joseph, husband of the Virgin Mary.
 Birthday anniversary of William Jennings Bryan.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By ROONEY DUTCHER
 Washington, March 18.—The
 Hon. William D. Uphaw, lately
 separated from the congressional
 payroll by the voters of his district
 in Georgia, has got himself a job.
 And a good job, too, from all appearances.

Uphaw challenged John Philip
 Hill of Maryland, during the closing
 days of Congress to a series of debates on prohibition. Hill turned him down. But the people of the country will not lose their opportunity to hear Uphaw.

An organization has sprung up
 to give Uphaw a job. It would not be fair to suggest that giving Up-
 shaw a job was the sole purpose
 of this organization, of course. But that is the chief accomplishment
 to date.

After eight years in Congress,
 Uphaw will now uphold the cause
 of the recently-founded National Betterment Foundation.

"Better Citizens Through Better Homes" is the slogan.

Here is the complete list of the
 "Rules of Membership" as out-
 lined in the foundation's pamphlet,
 "A Call to Every Citizen":

"Life, $100; Extension, $25;
 Sustaining, $10; Active, $5; Contributing, $2."

"All members are supplied with
 the official publications and literature of the organization."

"Simple, isn't it? Anyone can belong."

The president is Dr. John P.
 McConnell, president of the Virginia state normal school; the general secretary is Dr. J. E. McCu-
 loch, former student secretary at Vanderbilt university, and the executive secretary is Jacob Taylor,
 director of the National Speakers Bureau.

The purpose is "To exalt and enrich the Home as the institution
 of basic importance in American Life, aid in raising the standards
 of community environments, inspire the youth of the nation with
 the spirit of patriotism, create respect for authority and foster law-
 abiding citizenship, build health,
 physical strength and character as
 the basis of substantial accomplishment and create in every
 home an atmosphere of reverence
 that will build an altar to God as
 the foundation of an enduring civilization."

Uphaw is announced as "the
 central figure in a program of
 nation-wide activities." Of him,
 the Foundation says: "No man is
 better, or in fact so well equipped,
 to carry a message to American
 youth and around whom to build
 a campaign for Better Citizenship
 through better homes."

Dr. William W. Landrum is quoted as calling Uphaw "the
 most remarkable man in America."

Frederick Wallace is quoted as
 saying of him that "nearer than
 any other leader I know, he has
 caught the faller mantle of William Jennings Bryan." This, of course, was meant as a compliment.

The Rev. Homer W. Tappan says
 "there is a cadence in some of his
 sentences which reminds one of Macaulay and De Quincey."

In an opening statement, Up-
 shaw himself says:
 "There is hardly a problem that
 confronts the nation—social, civic
 or even economic—that cannot be solved by reverent teachers and an
 altar to God in every home."
 Uphaw and the National Home
 Betterment Foundation are now
 open for speaking dates.

NEW YORK

New York, March 19.—To the average ear the jargon of the test show racket, as heard about Broadway, is as foreign as the chatter
 of a Borneo native.

Slang of a colorful and snappy
 tang pervades the whole Broadway atmosphere, but stand, if you will,
 this item culled recently from the Billboards and see what you make of it:

"At Liberty. Bomboulst—Hot and sweet. Plenty pep. Read and take. Sing, play in tune, gold outfit, tuxedo, double at drums, dirt and flash, not sock cymbal. Ham lay off. Some violin when needed, double stop and goofs."

And what you may ask, is a goofs?
 None other than the funny little organ sometimes played in connection with a tent show ballyhoo.

The remainder also lends itself to literal translation, although this is the English language as she is
 "spoke" in the show racket.

Thus to be able to play "hot or sweet" means the versatile accomplishment of being adept both at
 "Red Hot Mama" and "Loves Old Sweet Song." The boast of a "gold outfit" means nothing more than the possession of a plated instrument. That he can "dirt and flash"
 has a connotation similar to "hot or sweet," which is to say that he can be tricky with his "stunt." The "hot sock cymbal" sent to the editor, from whom we learn that this is a nifty trick among jazz drummers who can both play the cymbals and "jazz the cymbals attached to the big drum" by dexterous usage of the left foot.

Very simple, is it not?

While at present this is all San-scrib to the layman, perhaps, the day will come when these and many more expressions will sneak into the language.

Thus "doubling in brass," an old slow term relating to the double talent of playing in the band and appearing in the show, is more or less common usage now.

The word "racket" increases its usage and now covers almost any "business, game or graft."

Not so distantly related to the word "graff" is the tent-show word
 "sprit." While from an organization just getting ready for the road
 we learn that the can use "Cook house, juice, milt, camp, hoopla,
 spot-the-spot, pitch and pit." If you have any of these in your cellar dig them out!

Another advertises that it can use "grind joints and skilles".

In a casual sentence from still another we find this: "Want man who can work lion." That should be fairly simple for any of the army of lion tamers lying about.

By way of partial translation:
 "Juice" refers to lemonade stands and such. A "pit" is a sideshow attraction where the yokels peer over a railing at the attraction. "Pitch"
 is any sort of attraction
 such as tossing rings for the knife, or winning the "doll baby." A "hoop-la" is a sort of ride and a grind joint is a carnival store of any sort. As to a "skille," I am still in the dark.

GILBERT SWAN.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By ROONEY DUTCHER
 Washington, March 18.—The
 Hon. William D. Uphaw, lately
 separated from the congressional
 payroll by the voters of his district
 in Georgia, has got himself a job.
 And a good job, too, from all appearances.

Uphaw challenged John Philip
 Hill of Maryland, during the closing
 days of Congress to a series of
 debates on prohibition. Hill turned
 him down. But the people of the country will not lose their opportunity to hear Uphaw.

An organization has sprung up
 to give Uphaw a job. It would not
 be fair to suggest that giving Up-
 shaw a job was the sole purpose
 of this organization, of course. But
 that is the chief accomplishment
 to date.

After eight years in Congress,
 Uphaw will now uphold the cause
 of the recently-founded National Betterment Foundation.

"Better Citizens Through Better Homes" is the slogan.

Here is the complete list of the
 "Rules of Membership" as out-
 lined in the foundation's pamphlet,
 "A Call to Every Citizen":

"Life, $100; Extension, $25;
 Sustaining, $10; Active, $5; Contributing, $2."

"All members are supplied with
 the official publications and literature of the organization."

"Simple, isn't it? Anyone can belong."

The president is Dr. John P.
 McConnell, president of the Virginia state normal school; the general secretary is Dr. J. E. McCu-
 loch, former student secretary at Vanderbilt university, and the executive secretary is Jacob Taylor,
 director of the National Speakers
 Bureau.

The purpose is "To exalt and enrich the Home as the institution
 of basic importance in American Life, aid in raising the standards
 of community environments, inspire the youth of the nation with
 the spirit of patriotism, create respect for authority and foster law-
 abiding citizenship, build health,
 physical strength and character as
 the basis of substantial accomplishment and create in every
 home an atmosphere of reverence
 that will build an altar to God as
 the foundation of an enduring civilization."

Uphaw is announced as "the
 central figure in a program of
 nation-wide activities." Of him,
 the Foundation says: "No man is
 better, or in fact so well equipped,
 to carry a message to American
 youth and around whom to build
 a campaign for Better Citizenship
 through better homes."

Dr. William W. Landrum is quoted as calling Uphaw "the
 most remarkable man in America."

Frederick Wallace is quoted as
 saying of him that "nearer than
 any other leader I know, he has
 caught the faller mantle of William Jennings Bryan." This, of course, was meant as a compliment.

The Rev. Homer W. Tappan says
 "there is a cadence in some of his
 sentences which reminds one of Macaulay and De Quincey."

In an opening statement, Up-
 shaw himself says:
 "There is hardly a problem that
 confronts the nation—social, civic
 or even economic—that cannot be solved by reverent teachers and an
 altar to God in every home."
 Uphaw and the National Home
 Betterment Foundation are now
 open for speaking dates.

A THOUGHT

Whoever a man soeth, that shall he also reap.—Galatians
 vi:7.

As thou sowest, so shalt thou reap.—Cicero.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

WHEN NATURE PLAYED A JOKE

By ARTHUR N. PACK
 President, American Nature Ass'n

One of nature's queerest creatures lives in Australia, Tasmania and Papua.

It has been known to naturalists since 1799, and it must have given those learned gentlemen
 quite a job to classify it, for it is a mammal, but it lays eggs. It has cheek pouches like a chip-munk and yet has the nature of a fish. When irritated it grows like a puppy, but its feet are webbed.
 It has a bill like a duck and yet teeth to chew its food. Beside all these inconsistencies it feeds
 its young like a mammal.

The naturalists bestowed upon it the ignominious name of ornithothoracicus australis, but its common and popular name is the duck-billed platypus, and it is usually called the duck mole.

The duck mole passes most of its life in the water where it swims and dives with the greatest ease. It feeds upon aquatic insects, small crustacea, and worms, which it secures by poking
 among the roots of aquatic plants with its bill, turning over stones and digging into the sand with this handy implement.

The food is stowed away in its capacious cheek pouches until a good square meal has been collected, and then this food is chewed with the four bony prom-inences, which replace its only true teeth—its baby teeth—which it loses before maturity.

The adult duck moles are about 20 inches long, with a six-inch tail,
 the head of the platypus family being larger than its spouse. They are quiet, gentle and neighborly with others of their kind. They have two coats of fur, a coarse brown outer coat, tipped with silver, and a very fine soft grayish inner fur similar to the otter or seal.

In their native haunts they are timid and wary, and are seldom seen outside of their burrows in the daytime, but sleep their time away curled up like balls. Their burrows are out in the banks of rivers, with two entrances, one below the surface of the water and the other, about a foot above.
 They extend about 100 feet, but have been known to reach 50 feet
 in length.

The burrow terminates in a soft chamber which is carpeted with dry aquatic plants, making a soft cosy nest for the baby duck moles.
 These are hatched from eggs
 which are about three-fourths of an inch in length and are soft shelled.

Send a stamped, addressed envelope and questions of fact having to do with Nature will be answered by this interesting staff of Natural Magazine, Washington, D. C., through arrangements made by this paper.

THE EXPLANATION

Office boy: My brother has a medal for running five miles, an
 one for ten miles, a silver medal
 for swimming two cups for wrestling, and badges for boxing and rowing.

"He must be a wonderful athlete."

"Now, he keeps a pawnshop."
 Good Hardware.

NATURAL

"They say Ma Ferguson pardon-ed all the prisoners in Texas."
 "No woman ever will let any man finish a sentence."—Vandies.

Green Hill Terrace
 Pitkin and Porter Streets
 Ideal Home Sites.
 Before Final Decision
 Look at This Property.
 Then Make Your Decision.
 Lot 90x200 ft. and 100x200 ft.
 A Few Choice Ones Left.
 Robert J. Smith, 1009 Main St.
 REAL ESTATE. INSURANCE. STEAMSHIP TICKETS.

Your Automobile an Asset

You rightly regard your automobile as an ASSET, but don't forget that it may become a LIABILITY—and in case of accident involve serious financial loss to its owner.

We Suggest Insurance Protection.

Our office represents the best of stock and dividend paying companies.

Let us insure you now, so that we may be at your service tomorrow.

Holden-Nelson Co., Inc.
 Successors to E. E. CARNEY.
 853 Main Street. Phone 2110

General Auto Repairing and Overhauling
 SHELDON'S GARAGE
 Rear of 28 Hollister Street.
 Phone 2228-2. Residence 2228-3

ARTESIAN WELLS
 Drilled Any Diameter—Any Depth
 Charles F. Volkert
 Blast-Hole Drilling Test-Drilling for Foundation
 Water Systems
 Pumps for All Purposes.
 Tel. 1375-5.
 HIGHLAND PARK P. O.

Dr. Fred F. Bushnell
 VETERINARIAN
 494 East Center Street,
 Manchester Green.
 Office Hours: 7 to 9 P. M.
 TELEPHONE 1647.

WE SPECIALIZE IN EXAMINING EYES AND FITTING GLASSES
 WALTER OLIVER
 Optometrist
 915 Main St., So. Manchester.
 Hours: 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Chambers TRADE MARK
CHAMBERS and the GAS TURNED OFF.

Cuts Gas Bills In Half!

No ifs, or buts about it—the Chambers pays for itself in a short time in the savings it makes in gas bills and food bills. For the Chambers not only saves gas, but there is less shrinkage in foods cooked the Chambers fireless way.

A few minutes of gas—then your meal continues to cook by retained heat—WITH THE GAS TURNED OFF! Gives you the whole afternoon to enjoy while the meal cooks without attention of any kind!

See this remarkable range this afternoon or evening.

WATKINS BROTHERS
 Tickets for Kiwanis Minstrels for Sale Here.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Effect of Prohibition on Two Classes

"We should not be surprised that some thirty people of wealth and social prestige in Hartford have shown their opposition to the Prohibition law by joining an association against the Eighteenth Amendment. The impressive thing is that they are so few."

Dr. Richard Cabot of Boston, stated the truth when he said that Prohibition has been a blessing to the poor, but a calamity to the rich.

Prohibition has brought new deencies and comforts into the poverty stricken and tolling lives of the great mass of the people in this country until they have become the wonder and envy of the rest of the world. It has increased the ranks of the middle class and produced a great upward surge among them. As a consequence of this, the number of people who can afford automobiles has increased more than three times. Fifty per cent. more people in this state have bank accounts. The number who graduate from high schools has doubled. The rich, who, because they are able to evade the law in some instances, and because their social code forbids their obedience to it do not directly enjoy its advantages. Their children are being crowded out of the best colleges and have to meet a new and fierce competition in professional and business life as the energies of the middle class are liberated by Prohibition.

The children of the rich readily catch the spirit of their elders in their revolt against liquor restrictions but carry it even further and will not regard established moral conventions.

"Frisella" not only smokes, drinks, swears and gambles but sometimes does things that are worse. It does not help the peace of mind of her parents to see the look of amused contempt on the faces of the back street neighbors who are sending their children to high school.

When Percy and Chester come home drunk from the club it adds to the bitterness of the household to think their chauffeur is planning to send his son to college.

The cure for this condition is not to be found in bringing the rest of the youth under the same temptations and draggins them down to the Percy and Chester level.

Prohibition has torn the mask of pretence from wealth and social standing and shows it to be no more law abiding than the lower classes.

The publication of the list of distinguished citizens who have falsified their income tax reports would be much more impressive than the Hartford list.

While the well-to-do and socially prominent have many times been in the front for alleviating human misery, they have not as a class consistently opposed all social reform that would in the least effect their prerogatives and are in this matter as stubborn as a Bourbon.

The ability of a trained mind to think clearly on abstract subjects or along professional lines does not free it in the least from prejudice in other matters.

On a former day a "distinguished citizen" often sat, conceited of his virtue, in the cushioned pew of his church and meditated on the probable success of his business ventures while on the ocean his ship bore a cargo of shackled groaning black men and women into lives of slavery.

The men who harnessed the waters of the Merrimac and created cotton mills on its banks were "good men" yet they ground up and destroyed a generation of the best blood of New England.

Women and children worked the long fourteen hour day amid unsanitary surroundings and received pitiful wages.

Both of these types of men defended their attitude by exactly the same arguments of personal rights as do those who oppose Prohibition today.

One of Those Things That's Hard to Understand

AMONG HUMAN BEINGS THE GENT WITH MUCH MONEY IS THE MOST POPULAR PERSON IN THE CROWD BUT—

IT SEEMS TO BE DIFFERENT WITH NATIONS

Holden-Nelson Co., Inc.
 Successors to E. E. CARNEY.
 853 Main Street. Phone 2110

Chambers TRADE MARK
CHAMBERS and the GAS TURNED OFF.

Cuts Gas Bills In Half!

No ifs, or buts about it—the Chambers pays for itself in a short time in the savings it makes in gas bills and food bills. For the Chambers not only saves gas, but there is less shrinkage in foods cooked the Chambers fireless way.

A few minutes of gas—then your meal continues to cook by retained heat—WITH THE GAS TURNED OFF! Gives you the whole afternoon to enjoy while the meal cooks without attention of any kind!

See this remarkable range this afternoon or evening.

WATKINS BROTHERS
 Tickets for Kiwanis Minstrels for Sale Here.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Effect of Prohibition on Two Classes

"We should not be surprised that some thirty people of wealth and social prestige in Hartford have shown their opposition to the Prohibition law by joining an association against the Eighteenth Amendment. The impressive thing is that they are so few."

Dr. Richard Cabot of Boston, stated the truth when he said that Prohibition has been a blessing to the poor, but a calamity to the rich.

Prohibition has brought new deencies and comforts into the poverty stricken and tolling lives of the great mass of the people in this country until they have become the wonder and envy of the rest of the world. It has increased the ranks of the middle class and produced a great upward surge among them. As a consequence of this, the number of people who can afford automobiles has increased more than three times. Fifty per cent. more people in this state have bank accounts. The number who graduate from high schools has doubled. The rich, who, because they are able to evade the law in some instances, and because their social code forbids their obedience to it do not directly enjoy its advantages. Their children are being crowded out of the best colleges

Snake Hunting Great Sport, Says Local Man; Likes 'Em

Alexander Kerr, Friend of Famous Dr. Ditmars, of the Bronx Zoo, Tells All About This Oddest of All Diversions—A Dangerous Pastime.

"Rattlesnakes, and copperheads in Connecticut? Why you're crazy. So say the skeptics. So say almost everybody but there are some people in Manchester who are not saying much. They know there are rattlesnakes in Connecticut and not 20 miles from this town for they have caught them and have enjoyed all the thrills of seeing a five-foot reptile strike vainly at their legs.

Catch 'Em Alive!
These men don't go out with guns in their hands, instead with the best to kill. To them an animal alive is a great deal more attractive than a bloody carcass hanging from a huntsman's belt. They see no fun in depriving even the smallest of God's creatures the right to live and they never wantonly kill a snake. Sometimes they kill, but then it is a matter of self preservation. They hunt snakes to study them, and a more unattractive study cannot be imagined by one who has not gone out with the hunters.

Study Rattles
But rattlesnakes are the subject of this group of men. They see more in a glistening, scaly reptile than other people would see in a beautiful peacock. It is just a matter of taste and their tastes run in this direction.

Alexander Kerr of 451 Center street is one of the group. In private life Alexander Kerr is an insurance agent, but when he dons his woods' clothes and a pair of leather puttees he becomes a naturalist, and when he teams up with Dr. Vincent Finley of Rockville, the two of them make together a combination of rattlesnake experts who know plenty about the game.

Leaders of Club
These two are considered the leaders of the Rockville Rattlesnake club and are the prime movers in the rattlesnake hunts which are conducted periodically by this organization. The spice of danger only lends a certain zest to the enterprise and the battles with big snakes make the hunts all the more attractive.

Strike in Any Position
The fame of Dr. Finley and Mr. Kerr is what it ought to be in this section, but outside of Connecticut both are well known. New York newspaper correspondents have hunted rattlers with them, and even the famous Raymond L. Ditmars, curator of the Bronx Zoo in New York, and an authority on all kinds of reptiles, has accompanied them on expeditions in the wilds of Glastonbury and Marlborough.

Enjoy the Sport
"We enjoy it," says Mr. Kerr, "for we know that before we have caught the reptile we are going to have a battle. They are usually battles, especially when the snake is from five to eight feet long. When you see him and he has his body wrapped around a stone under the one he is sheltered by, you prepare for a conflict. It took us three quarters of an hour to get the big one I speak of into the bag. He had 12 rattlers and was a beauty.

World Famous Snake Authority Honored Manchester With Visit.

One of the distinguished visitors the Rockville Rattlesnake club entertained during the past few years was the world-famed authority on reptiles and animals, Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, curator of the Bronx zoo of New York and the author on numerous books on natural history.

Dr. Ditmars had received specimens from Dr. Finley of the club and he wanted to see just how they were caught. So he came to Manchester and went out on a hunt.

With all the courtesy that was in them, the members of the club allowed Dr. Ditmars to take the initiative, trusting to his superior knowledge of snakes to carry him through. They wanted to learn something. They learned that the doctor was nothing if not human.

A den was encountered. The club drew away from the opening to allow the doctor to make the capture. But the doctor used discretion, for when the snake came out of the hole the learned naturalist backed away until he was a safe distance from it and stayed there.

"It's different when they aren't in a cage," he explained later.

pared. A bite is usually treated in this manner: We cut into the flesh a little deeper than the fangs have penetrated, apply tourniquets above and below the wound and allow the incision to bleed freely. If this is done right after the bite has been felt, the chances of poisoning are very few. This same treatment can be applied also in cases of bites of moccasins, copperheads and gila monsters.

Other Snake Bites
The copperhead, the rattler and the moccasin are about the only deadly poisonous snakes living in this country but the bites of other snakes are painful and unpleasant, however harmless. For instance, Mr. Kerr says that the bite of a flat-headed adder would make a person deadly sick if his constitution were not of the most robust.

Grow Fresh Fangs
"Snake fangs are renewable and within two weeks after a set has been pulled out a new set has grown in. I encountered an old snake once with five fangs. Upon you think them with a sick, three of them fell out, leaving the two new fangs in the jaw. Non-poisonous snakes have no fangs.

Young Are Dangerous
Another thing: a rattler doesn't have to be full grown to kill. It needs only about three hours after birth to secrete a sufficient quantity of the poison to kill a human being. Whiskey helping a person who has been bitten by a rattlesnake.

Live in Hens
They live in dens in the rocks in Marlborough and Glastonbury where the country is unusually stony. The snakes sun themselves most of the time during the day on flat-topped rocks and ledges. That is why the rattlesnake hunters never put their hands on a ledge to climb until they first have ascertained that there are no snakes ready to "cut" them.

For Emergencies
We carry a sharp knife or a razor blade, and some strychnine with us on all our hunts. We aren't bitten very often but we are pre-they are firmer than the rest of the reptile. These are the stomachs or digestive systems of the snakes.

"And another thing, the rattle is not a single organ, that makes a noise whenever the snake shakes it. A rattle is composed of a number of tiny buttons on the end of the rattler's tail. One button is there when the snake is born and every time a skin is shed another little button is added. These vibrated together make the dreaded rattle which is the snake's warning that it is about to strike.

A snake's tongue is not a "stinger." This is another fallacy that has caused Mr. Kerr to deride. A snake's tongue is more than anything a feeler, or a sort of ear, for it is through the tongue that the reptile senses its direction, the presence of enemies, and during times when it feeds it uses the tongue for a hundred purposes.

Go Traveling
In the month of May after the snakes have come out of their winter quarters they begin to travel. Nobody has found out yet how far a snake will go on its migration, although Mr. Kerr tried to determine this by tagging a rattler that he had caught. The snake was not retaken or else not reported and so the information could not be gained.

Battle Test Unreliable
Rattlesnakes might be of any age from their appearance and the idea of a battle test is not a very sound one. Mr. Kerr says that the number of rattles they wear is an erroneous one. Rattlesnakes, it has been determined, gets one rattle every time they shed their skins. But there is always the possibility of an accident which might mean the loss of one or more rattles, so the system is not infallible.

Wapping
Harry P. Files Jr. and his roommate, John Andrews of Rocky Hill, who are students at the Sumner school and on their spring vacation left Thursday to spend a few days with William Ralph Files of Providence, R. I. They expect to return next Monday.

Experiment
"Some day," he says, "I am going to find out just whether this is true or not. I don't say that I like snakes any too well myself, but I might be prompted to bring a skunk and a snake together in the interests of science to see just what would happen."

Snake Caught
Snakes caught by the rattlesnake hunters are usually given to museums, zoos and hospitals. The hunters never have killed a snake and if they found that one was too fast or clever for them, they don't vent their spite on it by crushing it. Snakes, to them, are interesting animals and have the right to live. Therefore, they do not make it their business to kill.

Another thing
Another thing not generally known about snakes is the fact that they belong to the same division as the birds. They are vertebrates. Many will contradict this statement but Mr. Kerr is emphatic about it.

When in Doubt
When in doubt advertise the Herald Want Ad way.

HEBRON

A number of people from this town were present at an auction which took place in Pine street, Columbia, on Wednesday, at the home of Miss Nellie Hunt. Those who went in cars were obliged to walk the distance from the state road as the Pine street road is impassable for automobiles. The auctioneer who went in a car was obliged to get out to haul his car out of the mud. Others parked their cars and walked or gavo up and went home.

The state trunk was called into service on Wednesday to extricate the Williamatic bus from the deep mud in the state road at the east end of the green. The car was sunk to the hubs. Passengers were obliged to dismount. The truck was busy all day rescuing cars from this place and attempting repairs.

Mrs. Anne C. Gilbert has returned from Bridgeport where she was called by the illness of her daughter, Miss Helen Gilbert, a teacher at the Unquaw School. Miss Gilbert is now convalescing at the home of friends in Bridgeport.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Abbie (Horton) Smith of Hartford took place at St. Peter's church on Saturday, March 19, the Rev. T. D. Martin, pastor of the church, officiating. Mrs. Smith was a native of Hebron, the daughter of William H. and Clarinda (Welles) Horton. She was 71 years of age and death was caused by pneumonia. She leaves one sister, Mrs. Frank R. Post of Hebron, and a daughter, Miss Olive Smith of Hartford. Mrs. Smith was of colonial ancestry, being descended from the Shipman and Welles families, early settlers of the town of Hebron.

Several of the townspeople attended the funeral services of the late John German in Columbia on Thursday.

Work on the federal road is proceeding rapidly. The road to the west has been closed to traffic beyond the Frankel place. It is reported that the Allyn place, Burroughs Hill, owned by Mrs. George Lord of East Hampton, formerly Miss Josephine Allyn of this place, has been sold to Robert Allyn of Hartford, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Allyn of Hartford, and is to be sold without any unpleasant body color.

On the other hand, the snakes that are really slimy and repulsive are those that are not poisonous. The local hunter says they are all right until they have been in captivity a few days when they begin to give off an offensive body odor. He doesn't mind to expose his skin, but it is just another reason why he prefers to deal with the snakes that are poisonous.

Family Troubles
Family troubles among rattlesnakes may come to a head some time and result in private battles, but Mr. Kerr says he has never seen any evidence of such happenings. He is of the opinion that if there were any battles between members of the rattlesnake tribe the reptiles would not use their fangs as weapons but would use constrictions, the crushing power of their bodies, to win out.

Some Advice
Mr. Kerr gives some pertinent advice to people who want to go out after snakes.

Wapping
Harry P. Files Jr. and his roommate, John Andrews of Rocky Hill, who are students at the Sumner school and on their spring vacation left Thursday to spend a few days with William Ralph Files of Providence, R. I. They expect to return next Monday.

Taxes on the list
Taxes on the list of 1926 of the town of South Windsor are due and payable April 19, 1927, at the rate of 33 cents. For the convenience of the tax payers in this part of the town, the collectors will be represented at Walter S. Billings store of Wapping, on Monday, April 28, 1927, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. At all other times, the taxes may be paid at the office of the East Hartford Trust Company, East Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. Robert Risley
Mrs. Robert Risley of East Windsor Hill, who was taken to the St. Francis hospital last week for treatment is improving slowly.

WITH THE LOCAL AUTO DEALERS

Are you a poor sleeper? Do you tumble and toss for hours? Are you sleeping or trying to sleep on a hard mattress? If you can't sleep on our Moss mattress it won't cost you a cent. $29.50 seven inch box top one at $22.50. Benson's Furniture Exchange, Tel. 53-3. Adv.

WITH THE LOCAL AUTO DEALERS

These beautiful spring-like days ought to bring in a good batch of new car deliveries but evidently purchasers of new cars are waiting for April first before taking them out. The list of deliveries is small this week but every dealer has orders booked for April first delivery.

James M. Shearer of the Capitol Buick Co. is pleased this week, having delivered two Buick sedans to Judge Raymond A. Johnson.

The Crawford Auto Supply Co. has delivered an Oldsmobile de Luxe coach to Deputy Sheriff H. H. Bissell and an Oldsmobile sedan to Edward Thompson of Highland Park.

Henry A. Schaller, local Paige dealer, has delivered a Paige 5-75 sedan to Peter Zabloskos of Union street.

Only this new Paige "8" with Two High Speeds will do all these things 77

Because of its new Hi-Flex transmission—this Paige "8" travels 70 miles per hour with its engine turning over no faster than your present engine does at 50... Its lowered gasoline consumption—its quick "pick up" in third speed, are things you can only understand by personal experience... With a Lancaster balance, the crankshaft is a model of perfect balance... balanced, too, is the propeller shaft... oil pressure automatically increases as you open the throttle... brake drums are heat treated and turned... universals are oil sealed... there is a silent chain drive, thermostat, adjustable steering gear... It's a big "8"—not a little "8"... yet it costs no more than ordinary 8-cylinder cars... See it—soon.

70 honest miles per hour or more—as easily and (what is so much more revolutionary!) as quietly as you now do 50.

5 to 25 miles per hour in only 5.6 seconds—and on up to 40 miles per hour in 5 seconds more!

An approximate saving of 30% in gasoline consumption in fourth speed over ordinary high.

Mile-a-minute speeds—all day long if you want—with the smoothness, quiet and economy of an ordinary car at 35 miles per hour.

Much longer life with less attention—because your motor actually does less work over any given number of miles.

Schaller's Garage
H. A. SCHALLER
Center and Olcott Streets
Open Evenings
22 Maple St. Phone 2017
Open Evenings.

want ads pull results!

Your Paper Want Ads Cover the Widest Market!

Selling!
Buying!
Trading!

BECAUSE The Herald covers such a wide and diversified market it gives your Want Ad a tremendous pulling power. Whether you want to buy, sell or trade any type of product or service, Want Ads in this Paper will do it for you, cheaply and effectively.

Simply Phone Your Ad! Rates Are Very Low

THE cost of inserting a Want Ad, depending on the size and the number of insertions, is very low. And the method of inserting is so convenient! Just phone—and a courteous ad taker will receive your message. Make the Classified Page in this Paper your business Page!

Manchester Evening Herald

GOVERNOR'S ADDRESS DEFEATS BOND ISSUE

Legislators Discuss Various Ways of Attaining Funds For New Projects and State Institutions.

BY CLARENCE G. WILLARD
(Special to The Herald)

Governor Trumbull's speech at the Hartford Republican Club on last Monday night was the main topic of discussion around the halls of the legislature this week. For a month past, bonds for additions to the institutions of the state, and for highways has been the chief topic of discussion. The Governor's opinion, voiced at the affair of last Monday, have changed the direction of the gossip considerably.

The recommendations contained in his excellency's address were very well received by members of the General Assembly, who have been waiting for the definite official opinion on the subject of "to bond or not to bond." The amount of money involved in the intended issue of bonds or short term notes grew within a comparatively short time from a small to an exceedingly large amount. During the course of the discussion, members of the Assembly interested in various projects of construction and improvement sought to have their particular project included in the bonding program until the total amount ranged between $70,000,000 and $80,000,000. In contemplation of this amount, it shortly became obvious that the proposal to issue bonds was doomed.

Wants to Know Facts

It became known during the present week that Governor Trumbull is desirous of uncovering all of the facts concerning the needs of the various state institutions and that among other things, his excellency has suggested that a survey be made of all the state's institutions in order that the inmates of each might be classified according to their condition and in order to determine the exact amount of supervision and overhead which might be required to care for each class of inmate in an efficient and adequate manner. The Governor also suggested that such a survey would indicate the most adequate and best construction design for the buildings in which each class of inmate would be housed. In this plan Governor Trumbull has the support of most members of the Assembly.

Another matter in which the chief executive has support from the legislature is that of developing more coordination in the conduct of the state's institutions. In fact, many of the legislative leaders believe that greater coordination in the operation of these institutional units is most essential to the welfare of the institutions themselves, but the financial interests of the state as well. At the present time all of the state's insane asylum, sanitariums, training schools, etc. are operated by separate boards of directors or trustees. The Governor believes that the establishment of some central body which would coordinate the operation of state institutions which would result in greater economy of operation and possibly in increased efficiency in the care of patients and inmates.

May Name Commission

It would not be surprising in consideration of the fact that these ideas presented by the Governor have considerable legislative support, to find some legislation passed before the close of the session authorizing the appointment of a commission of men capable to conduct such a survey and authorizing this commission to thoroughly investigate and report to the next session of the General Assembly, recommending specific alterations in the present operating methods of these places. With this action highly probable, it is also safe to predict at this time that the present session will take steps to care for the normal increase in institutional patients during the next two years by the appropriation of a sum not less than $400,000, which will be used to segregate certain classes of mildly afflicted inmates in the Middletown and Norwich State hospitals from the more violently insane in order to relieve congestion at those asylums.

Mansfield State Training School

Much of the bond issue discussion centered about the proposition of relieving congestion at the Mansfield State Training School. Just how discussion about this particular institution was started is not known, but it is probable that it developed from the reading of commission reports and the report of the governing board of the school, or possibly from the contact of various legislators with persons interested in the institution. A month ago, the feeling was fairly general among members of the Assembly that something should be done in the way of an appropriation for expanding the capacity of the Mansfield home. At the present time, however, this feeling has almost completely disappeared and the reasons for this change of opinion are interesting.

The fact that a large portion of the bond question was centered upon the Mansfield home led to discussion of the history and the exact needs of the institution. In the first place the State Training School was erected at Mansfield about ten years ago in order to combine the then existing Hospital for Epileptics at Norwich and the Home for Imbeciles at Lakeville. When the new plant was built to house these combined institutions the possible future growth of the place was not taken into consideration. The result of this was that in its 1925 session, the General Assembly was forced to grant an appropriation of $200,000 to install a new water supply system for the institution and for the State College at Storrs. The necessity for this appropriation was taken as proof of the fact that a careful preliminary survey—like that suggested by Governor Trumbull for all future institutional construction—would have eliminated many difficulties and the Mansfield Training School might have been so located and constructed that biennial appropriations for such essentials would not have been necessary.

Overhead High

Following their discussion some of the legislators developed the opinion also that the overhead expense of the institution was too high. The report of the State Board of Finance submitted to the present legislature shows that during the two year period just passed, the Mansfield institution housed an average of slightly less than 600 inmates and that during the same period it employed an average of 170 people. Other items of maintenance were also subjected to scrutiny and discussion by members of the Assembly.

The opinion also developed that the state is at present attempting to do more for the inmates of the Mansfield Home than is justified by the results obtained. Many assemblymen feel that the state is wasting considerable money and energy in providing for its youthful inmates recreation facilities rivaling those furnished in the public schools of the state and in attempting to apply modern principles of education at the home. While the objective of attempting to make the inmates capable of being returned to public life and capable of self-sustenance—is considered laudable, the percentage of successful cases is almost nil and hardly seems to warrant the expense involved. It is felt that the state should maintain the physical health of the inmates and keep them comfortable and happy, but there is serious doubt that the state should expend sums for education when the return of mental health is nearly an impossibility.

Women's Jury Service

With the Committee on the Judiciary acting as host, "Ladies Day" was held in the Hall of the House Thursday afternoon, when hundreds of women from all parts of the state gathered at the committee's hearing to discuss the relative merits of two bills concerning the extension of jury service to the more recently franchised sex. The ladies took complete possession of the expansive hall, occupying all but a very few of the seats and crowding the sides and rear aisles. The colored hats and dresses together with a generous spicing of St. Patrick's Day green, gave the House an extremely staid appearance which presented a marked contrast to the usual sombre colors of the hall when filled chiefly by male representatives. The hearing was by far the largest of the present session.

Most of the women present were enthusiastically in favor of the extension of jury service and pronounced their opinions with no small emphasis. Several men were present to speak in favor of women's jury service, most of them discussing the subject with considerable humor. The hearing was a repetition of many hearings held in former years upon the same subject, but was a bit more impressive. Senator Frederic C. Walcott advocated the extension of jury service to women with the exception of nurses in practice and women having the care of small children. Senator Walcott's bill was supported by the League of Women Voters. Representative Finkelstone of Bridgeport spoke in favor of the other jury service bill which would make jury duty for women optional and would give women permission to apply for such service or to withdraw at will after a previous application.

Senators did not seem to favor the latter measure, most of them having the care of an extension of special privilege. Most of the proponents of women's jury service believe that if jury duty is to be extended, it should be placed upon the same basis as male service. Senator Walcott's bill has gathered some support due to his advocacy of it, but in spite of this it is safe to predict that the present General Assembly will not pass any measure legalizing female occupancy of the jury box. Women's jury service has more support than ever this year, but it still lacks sufficient support to insure enactment. To the Wastebasket.

As was predicted in this column some time ago, the bills providing for the legalization of horse racing and birth control in Connecticut were reported unfavorably this week and rejected without a dissenting vote, the proponents of the bills apparently taking the fate of their measures as inevitable. As also predicted the bill which would make the Secretary of State the head of the boxing commission with five deputies in each of the congressional districts, failed to pass, this measure having been withdrawn by its introducer, Senator Goss, who explained that the Waterbury "attorney" who requested the introduction of the bill had now requested its withdrawal. Among the other much mooted questions disposed of this week was the ancient proposal to license real estate dealers. Like the jury service bill, this measure has gained support this year, so much so that an attempt to overthrow the unfavorable report of the Judiciary committee brought out the fact that 72 members of the House favored the bill while 123 were against it.

Committees Speeding.

Rapid progress toward an early adjournment continued this week. It was learned that the Committee on Public Health and Safety will end its hearings next Thursday and that the Committee on Judiciary will hold its last hearing on March 31, this group having scheduled executive sessions for the entire first week in April. The peak of the session has now been reached and the 1927 legislature is starting on its final lapse. In attempting to speed up the legislative machinery in the House this week, Speaker John Hill dispensed with the formality of putting routine committee reports to a vote. Considerable time was saved by this method, although it was necessary to call for the usual motion and remarks on bills upon which controversy might exist.

G. Schreiber & Sons
General Contractors
Builders of "Better Built Homes"
Telephone 1565-2
Shop: 285 West Center Street

Good Used Cars

The cars offered below have been reconditioned and are offered at very low prices—cash or terms.

- 1926 Studebaker Standard Coach.
- 1925 Studebaker Special 6 Sedan.
- 1924 Studebaker Big 6 Sedan.
- 1924 Studebaker Big 6 Touring.
- 1924 Studebaker Light 6 Coupe.
- 1924 Studebaker Light 6 Touring.
- 1922 Studebaker Special 6 Touring.
- 1924 Buick Master 6 Coupe.
- 1923 Nash Sedan.

Also several cheap cars to close out at $50 to $100 each. There are some extra good buys in this lot.

CONKEY AUTO COMPANY

20 East Center Street.

—Bearing Crankshaft

Sixty Miles Plus—Hydraulic Four-Wheel Brakes

Of course, Chrysler "60" has a seven-bearing crankshaft. For every six-cylinder Chrysler, since the first Chrysler three years ago, has a seven-bearing crankshaft, which means so much in smoother performance and longer life.

Besides, Chrysler "60" has other admitted superiorities whose combination is found in no other car at its price. 60 miles plus, 5 to 25 miles in 7 1/2 seconds, 22 miles to the gallon; Impulse neutralizer, full pressure lubrication, oil-filter, air-cleaner;

Hydraulic four-wheel brakes, road levelers, smartness of line, luxury of mohair upholstery, striking colors.

Here are reasons aplenty for Chrysler "60's" sensational sales success, reflected in Chrysler's dramatic rise from 27th to 4th place.

Chrysler "60" prices—Touring Car, $1075; Club Coupe, $1125; Sedan, $1145; Roadster, (with Rumble Seat) $1175; Coupe, (with Rumble Seat), $1245; Sedan, $1245.

F. O. B. Detroit, subject to current Federal excise tax.

All Chrysler cars are protected under the Federal System. Chrysler dealers are in positions to extend the convenience of time buyments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan.

CHRYSLER "60"

COACH $1145

George S. Smith

80 BISSELL STREET,

SOUTH MANCHESTER

The Manchester Evening Herald

Always Alert To Give Its Readers the Best Obtainable in the Way of Service, News and Features Has Arranged A

BEAUTIFUL SPRING GIFT

FOR REGULAR READERS and MEMBERS OF THEIR FAMILIES

IN presenting this new feature The Herald has made arrangements for a gift that will please one and all.

SOMETHING that Mother, Father, Sister, Brother, Relatives and Friends will want.

SOMETHING you will not forget in a month, that will live on forever—something you can point to with pride.

Read the

Saturday, March 26

issue of the

EVENING HERALD

for details of this beautiful gift, and how you may secure one for yourself and every member of your family.

Spring Is Here!

and with it the invigorating breezes and sunshine. Surely it is an appropriate time to cast a ray of sunshine and the Manchester Evening Herald has arranged for a beautiful gift that will bring the greatest happiness into every home.

For Details Read the Saturday, March 26th

Issue of the

Manchester Evening Herald

THE LIFE OF CHRIST Feeding the Five Thousand

SYNOPSIS ARRANGED BY DR. WM. E. GILROY, D. D. SKETCHES BY KROESEN

Thronged by multitudes who followed him to a desert place to hear him preach, Jesus miraculously fed five thousand with "five loaves and two fishes." (Matthew XIV:13-21)

The disciples storm-tossed on the Sea of Galilee saw Jesus walking to them on the water. (Matthew XIV:22-26)

Peter, venturing to meet Jesus, began to sink, but Jesus stretched forth his hand and rescued him. (Matthew XIV:28-31)

Later, at Capernaum, Peter made his great confession of Jesus. "And we believe and we are sure that thou art the Christ the Son of the living God." (John VI:69)

The two features scheduled for a two days run starting tomorrow evening are "You Never Know Women" with Florence Vidor in the stellar role and "Shoulder Arms" Charlie Chaplin's contribution to the funny side of the late war. Neither one of the foregoing attractions are pictures that the average film fan will want to miss and such being the case they should play to well filled houses. Herald Want Ads sell real estate.

PLUMBING FIXTURES

Price alone should never govern either the selection of the fixtures or the plumber to do the work. Assurance of good material and workmanship is certain only when there is no false economy in buying plumbing and when good judgment selects the men to install it.

JOSEPH C. WILSON

28 SPRUCE STREET, TELEPHONE 641

Advertisement for Purina Chick Starters and Baby Chicks, featuring a map of the United States and the slogan 'There's a Fork in the Road!'.

WTIC Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn. 467.

Program for Saturday 6:00 p. m.—Dinner Music, Hub Trio. a. Overture: Orpheus in der Unterwelt. b. Tullio Goldfield, Ida Kaylan, Accompanist. c. L'Autome et l'Eliver. Glazounov. d. Prelude in A flat. Cesar Cui. 6:25—News. 6:30—Piano Selections— a. Three Preludes. Chopin. Opus 28, No. 10. Opus 28, No. 4. Opus 28, No. 15. b. A Song from the East. Cyril Scott. c. Moment Musical. Schubert. d. May Night. Palmgren. e. Hexstanz (Witches Dance). MacDowell. Mildred Block. 7:45—Latest Popular Songs— Tullio Goldfield, Ida Kaylan, Accompanist. 7:00—Dinner Music continued—Hub Restaurant Trio. a. Mazurka. Myrarski. b. The Bells. Debussy. c. Andante Religioso. Thome. Popular Favorites. a. Hello! Swane, Hello. b. I Found You (Waltz). c. There's Everything Nice About You. d. I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover. 7:30—Bible Study Period—"The Daily Program of a Vacation Church School"—Miss Edith Welker, Director of Religious Education, Prospect Methodist Church, Bristol, Connecticut. 8:00 p. m.—118th Medical Regiment Band, C. N. G., Meriden, Connecticut, under the direction of Warrant Officer Philip Azzolina— I March: On the Big Blue. Havlicek. II Overture: Norma. Bellini. III Selection: Wonderland. Herbert. IV Ballad: Dreaming, Mary Gomez Hoag, Soloist. Azzolina-Hunt. V Suite: Atlantis (in four parts). Strafk. VI Concert Waltz: Violets. Waldteufel. VII March: 118th Medical Regiment, C. N. G. Azzolina. 8:00—Joint Recital with Joseph Schofield and Edward Roche, Tenors; Ethel Tracy, Accompanist. Duet— Night Hymns at Sea. Thomas Messrs. Schofield and Roche. Tenor— a. Lift Thine Eyes. Logan. b. Sylvia. Mr. Schofield. Tenor— Nocturne. Curran. Mr. Roche. Duet— The Rosary. Nevin Messrs. Schofield and Roche. Piano Solo— Country Gardens. Grainger. Mrs. Tracy. Tenor— "M'appari tutt'amor," Aria from "Martha" von Flotow. Mr. Schofield. Tenor— a. Obstinata. Fontenailles. b. Mistress Margarita. Penn. Mr. Roche. Duet— Sing Me To Sleep. Greene Messrs. Schofield and Roche. 9:30 p. m.—Violin Selections— a. Air. Bach. b. Variations (theme by Gerel). Tartini-Kreisler. c. Ave Maria Schubert-Wilhelmj. Florence Jaffe, Violinist; Laura C. Gaudet, Accompanist. 9:45—Songs— a. Wind Song. Rogers. b. Gingham Gown. Penn. c. Prelude. Ronald. d. Lenz. Hildach. Irene R. Clency, Soprano. Mrs. Edward Gehrman, Accp. 10:00—Weather. 10:05—Club Worthy Orchestra. 11:00—News. Program for Sunday 6:00 p. m.—State Theater Orchestra—Bert Williams conductor I Fantasia on "Faust". Gounod-Jungnickel. II Narcissus. Ethelbert Nevin. III Invitation to the Dance. von Weber. IV Orientale. Caesar Cui. V Selection from "Naughty Marietta". Victor Herbert. VI Overture "Guarany". Gomez. VII At Dawning. Cadman. VIII Scotch Poem. MacDowell. IX "Blossom Time" Music. Schubert-Romberg. All advertising is good—some is better—but you can not get any greater value for your money than our or more lines on the classified page and your messages should be here for the Herald audience every day in the year that the paper is published.

Old Master's

The splendor falls on castle walls. And snowy summits old in story. The long night shakes across the lakes. And the wild cataract leaps in glory. Blow, bugle, blow, set the wild echoes flying; Blow, bugle; answers, echoes, dying, dying, dying. O hark, O hear! how thin and clear, And thinner, clearer, farther going! O sweet and far from cliff and scar The horns of Elfland faintly blowing! Blow, let us hear the purple glens replying; Blow, bugle; answer, echoes, dying, dying, dying. O love, they die in yon rich sky, They faint on hill or field or river; Our echoes roll from soul to soul, And grow forever and forever. Blow, bugle, blow, set the wild echoes flying, And answer, echoes, answer, dying, dying, dying. —Alfred Tennyson; Bugle song from "The Princess."

DARING FILM STARTS AT STATE ON SUNDAY

"Flesh and the Devil" Has Novel Theme; Is Here For Three Days. A story of a undying friendship held sacred through a siege by a worldly and sensual woman is "Flesh and the Devil," the daring photoplay in which John Gilbert and Greta Garbo appear at the State theater on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. "Flesh and the Devil" is a unique new treatment of the age-old Damon and Pythias theme, complicated by a woman who stops at nothing to gain the love of her husband's best friend.

The picture is a triumph for John Gilbert, a star who has distinguished himself as one of the foremost emotional actors of the present day. He runs the gamut of emotions in this picture as Leo Von Sellenthin, the man who resists the advances of his friend's wife, preferring death rather than dishonor.

A worthy companion to Gilbert in "Flesh and the Devil" is Greta Garbo, one of the most popular of the recent arrivals in America from Europe. Miss Garbo acts as she never has before, registering appeal that is well-nigh irresistible. Her acting in this picture has been commended by critics everywhere. "Flesh and the Devil" drew record crowds to the Strand theater in Hartford this week, thousands being turned away because the playhouse could not accommodate the throngs.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN COMING TO RIALTO

Those who like love stories told with thrills, action, spectacle and suspense—and who doesn't—will find their dreams realized in "Man of the Forest," a pictureization of Zane Grey's novel which will bring its engagement to a close at this theater. It is one of the most virile characterizations of this popular author's works ever thrown on the screen and gives Jack Holt, the male star, a mountain lion and bear for pets. Georgia Hale is effective as the girl in the story and El Brendel gathers all the laughs that are crammed in the plot. Taken all in

See These Cars

If you need a good used car we will name prices that will interest you.

A small down payment secures one.

- 1927 Oldsmobile de luxe Sedan Demonstrator. 1926 Overland Two Door Sedan. 1925 Overland Two Door Sedan. 1926 Chevrolet Sedan. 1923 Ford Coupe. 1922 Buick Touring. 1923 Oldsmobile 4 Touring. 1922 Durant Touring. 1925 Ford Touring. 1924 Ford Touring.

Crawford Auto Supply

OLDSMOBILE AND MARMON DEALERS. Center and Trotter Streets. Phone 1174

Advertisement for The Yellow Pencil with the Red Band, featuring an image of the pencil and the Eagle Pencil Co. logo.

Motor car types come and go, just as motor cars do. But the grace and distinction which characterize Buick always stay in style. They never become commonplace. For Buick style is sincere, and expressive of quality. Buy a Buick! And you will always be proud of your car.

Capitol Buick Co.

James M. Shearer, Mahager. Main St. at Middle Turnpike. When Better Automobiles are Built Buick Will Build Them.

More Chevrolet Trucks sold than any other Gear Shift Trucks in the World

Chevrolet stands unchallenged as the world's largest producer of gearshift trucks. With its powerful valve-in-head motor—now equipped with AC oil filter and AC air cleaner; with a 6-inch channel steel frame, super-rugged rear axle and modern 3-speed transmission, recently improved—it is praised by users everywhere as the greatest commercial car value of all time. Only the economies of tremendous volume production make possible such super quality at Chevrolet's low prices. Come in and see the truck that has won worldwide leadership. Learn why it has given such supreme satisfaction to so many users of every type—big fleet operators and individual owners.

for Economical Transportation

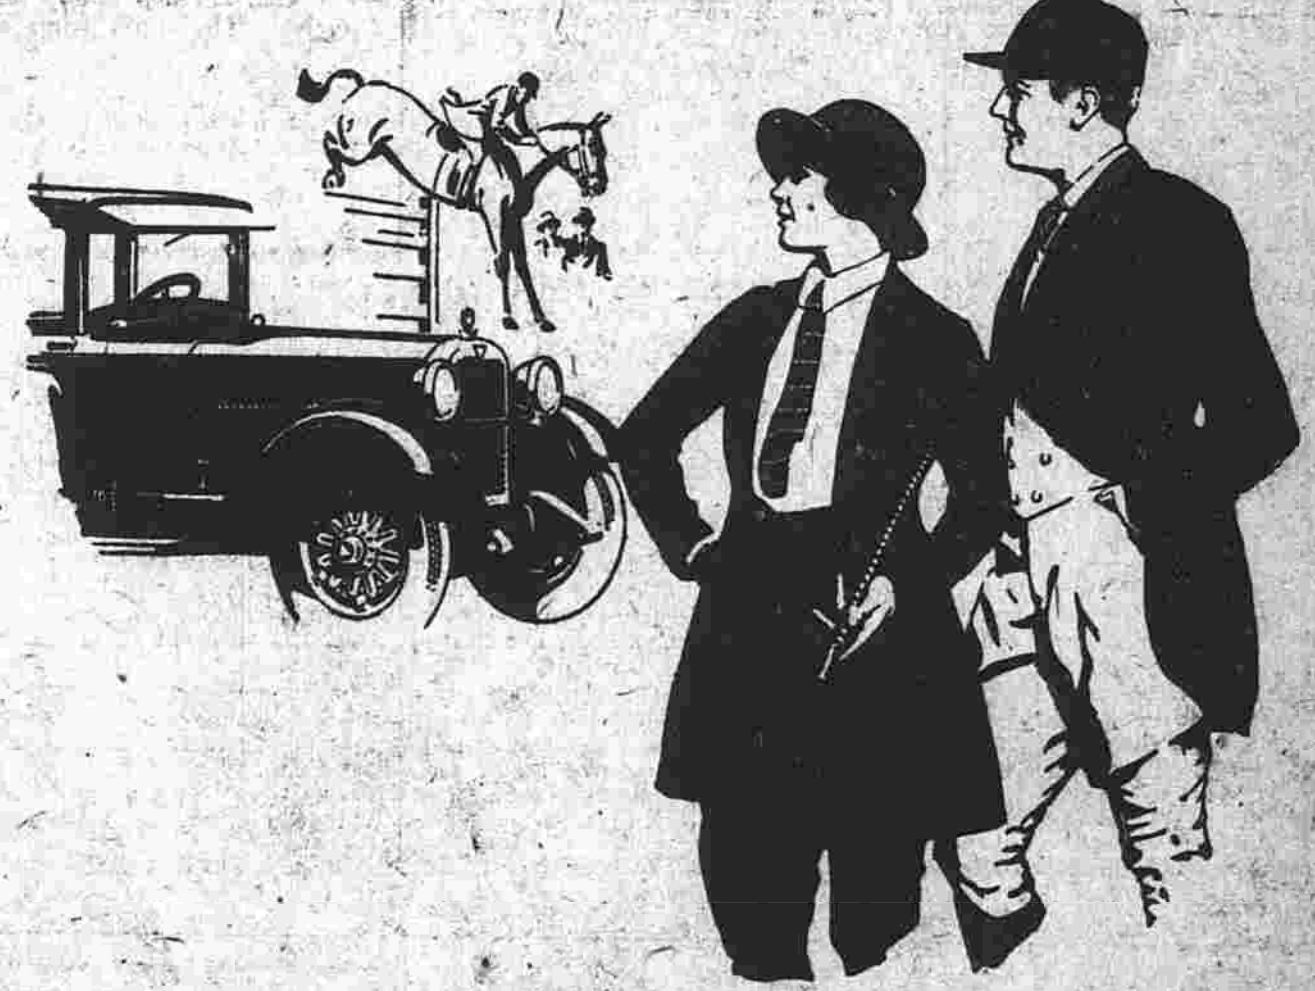

—at these Low Prices!

- 1-Ton Truck Stake Body $680. 1-Ton Truck Panel Body $755. 1-Ton Truck Cab and Chassis $610. 1-Ton Truck Chassis $495. 1/2-Ton Truck Chassis $395. All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich.

In addition to these low prices Chevrolet's delivered prices include the lowest handling and financing charges available.

W. R. TINKER, Jr. 130 Center St. South Manchester Phone 1009 WORLD'S LOWEST PRICED GEARSHIFT TRUCK

As Thrilling in Beauty as in Performance ~ ~ ~ Everyone says "Nothing like it in the world"

The mere announcement of the Super-Six principle, freed to the limit, focused on Hudson—a dramatic public expectancy such as never awaited any other car. In appearance and value, as well as performance, it is the most talked of car of the year. New riders, new buyers and thousands who merely witness its vivid dash on the road are saying "There is nothing like it in the world." In all it does, there is effortless ease, from its swift, smooth glide into motion, to sustained high speed, and back to the soft instantaneous stopping action of its four-wheel brakes. It has been accorded the greatest public reception in Hudson history.

HUDSON

The Super-Six Principle Freed to the Limit

Manchester Hudson-Essex Co. 127 SPRUCE STREET. GEORGE L. BETTS, Prop. PHONE 711.

Table listing Hudson Super-Six models and prices: Standard Models (Coach $1285, Sedan $1385), Custom Built Models (Phaeton $1900, Brougham $1575, 5-Passenger Sedan 1750, 7-Passenger Sedan 1850). All prices f. o. b. Detroit, plus war excess tax.

LATEST FASHION HINTS BY FOREMOST AUTHORITIES

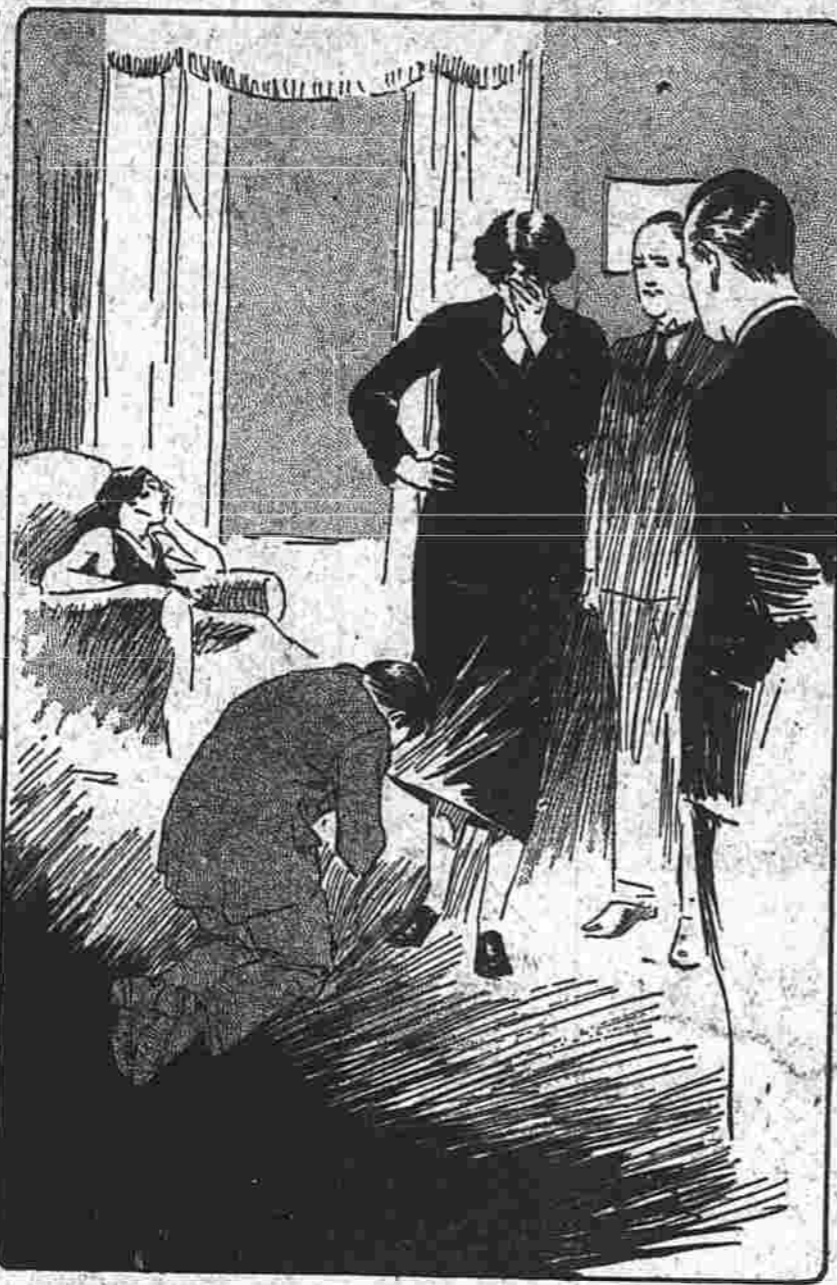

THE HERALD'S HOME PAGE

FEATURE ARTICLES ABOUT INTERESTING WOMEN

All at Sea

Carolyn Wells © 1927 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

CHAPTER XLVIII
"NO," Madeline told her husband, "but I think I could have done so if I could have accomplished it. But how was I to go about it, Ned? Well, he gave me twenty-four hours to think it over, and told me I must make up my mind to go away with him or he would not only tell you, but he would see to it that it was put in the papers and would be the biggest sort of scandal imaginable."

Now, had Miss Anastasia Folsom known all this, she would not have done what she did do. She had finished her luncheon and had repaired to her room to rest and think over matters pertaining to her brother's death.

And to her, impelled only by mere curiosity, came Myrtle, the chambermaid.

"This is the doll Mr. Pelton gave me," she vouchsafed, for Miss Folsom was of a chatty sort when in the mood.

"Is it?" and Anastasia took the lovely doll in her hands.

And then, to Myrtle's secret delight, Miss Folsom showed much the same amazement and agitation that Stone had done.

But only for an instant. Then she was her quiet, dignified self again.

"A beautiful doll, Myrtle. Do be careful with it, it is a very expensive one."

Myrtle went, and as she departed, Miss Folsom went to the telephone and called for Fleming Stone.

And when that gentleman presented himself, she told the story of Myrtle and the doll.

"So you noticed the resemblance, too?" Stone said, his deep eyes sad and his whole face somber.

"Of course. And so she has Garry's best love, and so she has some secret affair with him, and so she is the one who killed him."

"Oh, Miss Folsom, don't go so fast," he implored.

"Fast?" she went straight up to her room and called her with it. Then if she is innocent there's no harm done. You may go with me or not, as you like, but I'm going and I'm going now."

And rather than have her go without him, Stone accompanied her.

"They found the Barrons getting ready to go down to luncheon."

Barron, seeing that the matter was of grave import, decided to have the whole thing out then and there.

"Come in," he said, as the visitors appeared. "I think you have some matters of importance to discuss."

"Yes, we have," said Anastasia Folsom, who was spokesman for her own election. "And there's no use mincing matters. Mrs. Barron, you were acquainted with my brother in the past, although you haven't dated it since his death."

"I will answer for my wife," Barron said, quietly. "Yes, she Ross," Miss Folsom said, "but if it is true, then our quest is at an end. You shall pay the penalty and my brother's murder will be avenged."

"Yes, madam," said Ross. "He shan't! He shall not!" cried Madeline Barron, wildly. "Listen! That man you call Ross is my father. He saved me from the wrong Garrett Folsom would have done me. Then for Mr. Folsom did not know him, he gave up his own career, and went to be valet to Mr. Folsom so he could keep watch on him. He meant to keep him from further molestation of me, and devoted his life to that. He went with Garrett Folsom wherever he went. He never let him out of his sight, and when they came down here—tell them, Father, what Mr. Folsom said."

"He said," the man they called Ross stated, "that he had seen here in the hotel the night that woman he wanted. He said he meant to get her, too. He had no idea I was her father, and he declared he would manage it. He said he should confront her in the ocean and claim acquaintance, and then he would be guided by circumstances what course to pursue, but he would get her away from her husband and would have her for himself. This he told me with a leering chuckle that night he arrived, as he was dressing for dinner. So I knew the time had come when I must strike whatever the consequences might be."

"I had no weapon, but I went for a walk and saw the auctioneer here and there, and realized I could get one of those old daggers. The white mustache I always carried around, thinking I might someday meet Madeline, and it might be necessary that she shouldn't recognize me. As a minor precaution I put it on, before I brought the knife, and the rest I think you all know. I have no regrets."

Then Anastasia Folsom spoke. "Ross," she said, and her voice was gentle, but it sounded full of heartbreak. "I don't mean I am, perhaps, a strange woman, and I worshiped my brother. But I see now it was an imaginary man I worshipped. If he did these things you tell of, and I cannot doubt that I have heard, then you did right. I don't mean I am glad you killed Garry, to I love him as if he were my own son, but I can see it from your point of view and I can understand what you have been through these years of watchful servitude to a man you hated. I can appreciate it all including Mrs. Barron's agony of spirit, and I withdraw all charges and I wish the investigation stopped."

"I don't know what must be done, exactly, but you, Mr. Stone, and Mr. Barron will know how to arrange matters. Only I want Ross to go free, to be unsuspected by me. I want the police to be told that the matter will remain forever unsolved, and—oh, I don't know about these details, but I want them all attended to. This does not mean that I could be the killing of my brother, but that I would like to see him killed, because I myself, like to me there is no sin on earth like the sin against a woman's virtue. And since my brother was guilty of that, I forgive the man who took the law into his own hands and who saved the daughter he loved."

And Ross, with no thought of melodramatic effect, knelt down and kissed the hem of Miss Anastasia's smartly tailored frock.

THE END

And Ross, with no thought of melodramatic effect, knelt and kissed the hem of Miss Anastasia's frock.

past history.

There was a knock at the door, and when it was opened, Ross, Folsom's former valet, stepped into the room.

"I have intruded, gentlemen," he said, looking from Stone to Barron and back again. "because I have been listening at the door and it is time I should have my say."

"I'm sure you can have nothing to say, Ross, on the subject we are discussing," Madeline said to him. "Please leave the room. I urge you to do so."

"I must speak, madam," he said. "For I have a confession to make. I killed Garrett Folsom."

"But, it's too absurd, Ross," Miss Folsom went on. "You were in the hotel at the time he was killed."

"No, madam. I spoke falsely as to that. I was in the ocean."

"But you were at the other end of the hotel beach. You were far away."

"I can swim under water, madam, as well as any other way I did so, and I killed my master, and then dressed and returned to the hotel quickly, so that I might not be suspected."

"And why are you making your confession now?" asked Stone, who was beginning to see through some dark places.

"To save the innocent from being suspected. It is possible that Mrs. Barron may be charged with this thing, and I want to forestall such a possibility. I assure you, Mr. Stone, you will find I am telling the truth."

"Then you are the man with the white mustache who bought the antique dagger late that night?" Stone said.

"Yes."

"I can scarcely believe it, madam."

THE END

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

If you want to give a dinner-party that's "different," you might feed your guest a sea food cocktail, tomato bisque, caviar canapes, broiled white fish, and glazed sweetbreads with mushrooms, and just as they have sipped their dentures, shoot yourself. That's what Mrs. Madeline Ferrugia of New York did a day or so ago. She had prepared a scrumptious dinner for her family and six dinner guests. But she didn't serve after-dinner mints. She shot herself instead.

Some people, women especially, will give even their lives to be the prima donna of each and every occasion. I know another woman who hasn't shot herself as yet, but she regards her guests with weepings and lamentations at her husband's cruelty. He, poor fellow, looks puzzled and "baffled," and doesn't seem to realize that "mama is just showing off."

The Pearl Necklace. If you found a string of pearls on the street, would you dare believe or even think of believing that they were anything but ten-cent store ones? William Craig of New York, $30-a-week man, found a string of pearls on the street and took them home to the "little woman" remarking that "some shop girl was out a quarter." It seemed that a lady claimed the pearls, which were insured for $30,000. There was no reward. Virtue is its own reward, you know.

Do you remember the story of "The Diamond Necklace" by De Maupassant? The story of the poor woman who borrowed the necklace to wear to the ball, lost it, and crucified her very life to replace it? The one which she bought to pay for it? When she was almost a walking corpse, and life was too much for her, she learned that the borrowed necklace was paste, and worth about 50 cents.

Moral: Never believe that found pearls are fakes, and never believe that lost diamonds are real, which is just as well, for as most of the rules of living.

A Queen on a Skate. How would you like to go sleigh-riding in a decorated sleigh with two uniformed footmen in the back? That's what Queen Wilhelmina of Holland has been doing on the canals and the lakes all winter long. She skates, too, with the people, on the canals, and at 46, is as athletic as a girl. Come to think of it, we are beginning to be told such tidbits about the folks of so-called Europe's reigning houses. For a while we never heard of anyone and anything but Queen Mary's hats and her bright boy, the Prince of Wales. Royalty seems to be learning that "the people must know how nice and human they are."

These Women! Russian women celebrated the "Working Woman's Day" on March 8. The date is an arbitrary date set as the day when the soviet threw down the bars and permitted women to go to work in the factories.

To Brighten the Window Effect. To brighten the window effect, we used at the windows a gold-colored glazed chintz piped in soft lacquer red. This same note of lacquer red has been brought out elsewhere in the rooms by two old Chinese cabinets and by some small modern tables painted in the same rich hue.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS
FELT WRAPPERS
Good silver should always be kept in its own felt wrappers to avoid scratching against other pieces.
CHIPPED CUPS
Chipped cups should be thrown away, for they catch and breed germs in their crevices.
WAXED PAPER
Waxed paper should be kept in a roll in a kitchen drawer, for wrapping breads, cakes, cheese and every other kind of food whose moisture should be preserved.
MIRRORED HEEL
Good silver should always be kept in its own felt wrappers to avoid scratching against other pieces.

COOLIDGE'S HOME

"Inside" Pictures of Temporary White House. BY GENEVIEVE HENDRICKS

Washington, D. C., March 19.—President and Mrs. Coolidge displayed rare taste in selecting the Patterson mansion as their home while the White House is undergoing repairs. Inside and out, it is a structure of imposing, though quiet and dignified beauty.

When he designed it, Stanford White's architectural genius took advantage of the singular contour of the plot on which it stands where Dupont Circle from the east, and its interior furnished all the artistic anticipations its exterior arouses.

Hard to Replace. The furniture is Louis XV and Louis XVI in design and the majority of the pieces are original. Some of the furniture frames are painted soft antique gold, others delicate green, while still others are a cream color. The original coverings of all pieces in this room have been replaced.

For deeper tones and proper accent we have used on other pieces old Aubusson tapestry of a soft rose and green flowered design, a delicate turquoise blue ground. The curtains of rose damask, although 30 years old, are still lovely and will not need to be replaced for years to come.

Two of the rooms I have most enjoyed redecorating are a bedroom and small sitting-room, the walls of which are painted a very soft, blue green. Against this background, we grouped old French pieces, some covered in old glazed chintz and others in soft shades. The original rug was replaced with an all-over carpet in deep egg-plant color.

Each of these rooms, as in every other main room in the house, is an open fireplace. Here the mantelpieces are small in scale, of delicately carved marble. Placed into one of them is a pair of old bronze and-irons, recumbent hounds.

It has been a big task to finish the house in such short order. But if our work is making the sojourn of the President and Mrs. Coolidge more pleasant, we have done well.

This And That In Feminine Lore

The first woman steamship agent in the world is Madame Halder Boy. Her name suggests that she is Turkish. The fact is, she is German by birth but married a Turk. She was educated at Paris and Oxford, however, and is employed by the Spanish Royal Mail line at their Paris office, and says she finds the work very fascinating. Her knowledge of seven different languages she finds a great help. On her visit here as hostess on a Spanish ship she expressed herself, as in love with Americans and their freedom and wants to come here at every chance she can get. She thinks the woman here do not appreciate their opportunities and blessings as they should, for in Turkey the men are still the bosses.

When New York buyers protested with Yvonne Davidson, the Lady Duff-Gordon of Paris, against restoring the waifline to its normal position, she replied that it would look still fustier six months from now to see it hovering around women's hips. Mrs. Davidson believes that only women who consider it more refined to be a year behind the styles will be wearing hiplines instead of waistlines a few months since. "Don't be afraid to change" is one of her axioms.

In reply to the request for a scalloped egg recipe, now that eggs are getting so plentiful, and so cheap in price—I recall printing an excellent one some time ago but cannot put my finger on it at this moment. However, below is a similar recipe, one that is perhaps better for some occasions, like a luncheon at church supper. As I remember it the other one did not contain potatoes.

Scalloped Eggs and Potatoes. Five hard cooked eggs, 4 cups hot mashed potatoes, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 tablespoon grated cheese, 1 cup medium thick white sauce, 1-2 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon salt.

Put 1/2 layer of mashed potatoes in a well-buttered baking dish. The layer should be 1 inch thick. Add a layer of eggs cut in slices, sprinkle with cheese, parsley, mustard, pepper and salt and cover with half the sauce. Add another layer of potato half as thick as the first one, remaining eggs cut in slices, cheese, seasonings and sauce. Cover with remaining potato. Make the top of the dish rough, with a fork and brush over with melted butter. Bake in a moderately hot oven for 30 minutes and serve from baking dish.

Some of the lovely new gowns in the shops of crepe de chine or other plain soft silks are trimmed entirely with small tucks in various arrangements so that absolutely no other trimming is required.

Good Nature and Good Health
EGGS AND MILK GOOD REMEDIES FOR BICHLORIDE POISONING
By Dr. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine
One of the most serious conditions that may affect man is bichloride of mercury poisoning. The mere publication of these facts and the publicity associated resulted in numerous cases, because of the suggestive possibilities inherent in such publicity.

Home Page Editorials
American Living
By Olive Roberts Burton
Arnold Bennett says in his book "Things That Have Interested Me": "The papers are adorned with advertisements of experts who offer to teach the craft of earning incomes. But I doubt if I have ever seen the advertisement of an expert who was ready to teach how to spend incomes."

Mirrored Heel
Salicon for COLDS
Keep well. You can stop a cold in 15 minutes if you take Salicon at the first sneeze. This is the preparation that is so amazing its users by the quick relief it gives.

GENOTHERM
Soothing Warmth
The Genotherm Corporation
John I. Olson
Painting and Decorating Contractor
699 Main St., South Manchester
A Safe Milk
with a low bacteria count, is what we deliver to you.
J. H. Hewitt
49 Holl St., Phone 2059

"HOWLING DAN'S" BROWNS MUCH BETTER THAN '26 NINE

Howley's Crew Has Fine Spirit, Superior Condition and New Material.

By HILLY EVANS

Tarpon Springs, Fla., March 19.—The St. Louis Browns, training here, are going to be a much improved baseball machine over the 1926 model.

You ask why, as you realized it is much the same team that failed so miserably last season.

True! It is much the same team, but you would never recognize them as the athletes go through their spring training to fit themselves for the long grind.

As watched Manager Howley—they call him "Howling Dan," and I might add that his voice is already in mid-season form—put his players over the jumps for two hours, three things impressed me most forcibly.

First, the spirit of the club. Not in years have I seen a Brownie team show so much interest in its work.

Every player on the field seemed to be taking his task seriously, intent upon hitting himself to win a regular berth.

Second, the fine condition of the team for so early in the year. It seemed the players realized the new manager must be shown and, with that in mind, only one or two reported overweight.

Third, the fact that Howley appears to have added considerable strength to his lineup through the acquisition of several veterans of known ability and a number of mighty promising recruits.

Dan Howley, who is to lead the Browns this year as the successor of the popular George Sisler, is a hustler himself and fairly exudes the old fighting spirit.

He insists his players show the same attitude. Last year he won a pennant for Toronto, dethroning Jack Dunn at Baltimore, after Dunn had reigned supreme for seven consecutive years.

He followed this by defeating Louisville, champions of the American Association, in five straight games.

The Toronto club of 1926 was a colorful, hustling aggregation that produced results. Howley intends that the Browns of this year have color as well as substance.

He insists those two assets invariably bring winning results.

It strikes me that his infield will be made up of Sisler at first, Melillo at second, Gerber at short and Mullen at third. In reserve he has Frank Rourke, a great defensive player and one of the smartest in the majors.

He also has Shortstop Otis Miller of Toronto. Sisler and Gerber are regulars of last year. Melillo, who played every position in the infield except first, will be used at his regular position.

But why go on? The team is good but the only trouble is that nobody will acknowledge the fact.

Schulte is a big husky fellow, built along the lines of Harry Heilmann, except that he is perhaps 20 pounds lighter. He hits right-handed and takes a mean cut at the ball.

In the field he is surprisingly fast, a fine performer.

It will be mighty hard to keep this young man out of the lineup. The pitching will be much the same, plus Sam Jones, veteran star from the New York Yankees, and Walter Stewart, a snappy looking and acting left-hander, another Howley protegee from Toronto.

The veteran Steve O'Neill is the only addition to the catching department. His experience and ability should help the Browns.

Much the same material, I admit, but a new model that promises to hit on all eight and set a fast pace.

HERE OUR BILL

PERRETT & GLENNEY MOVING & EXPRESSING GENERAL TRUCKING

PHILS TERRIBLE, WALSH DECLARES

Were Bad Enough Before But National Team, Worse Than Ever Now.

By DAVIS J. WALSH

Bradenton, Fla., March 19.—John F. ("Stuffy") McInnis had nothing when he started with the Philadelphia Nationals, whereupon William F. Baker, in a spirit of helpfulness, traded Dutch Henkle and the Phils had nothing or the equivalent.

The Phils were terrible, but they are worse now. All that the writer saw in the way of first-class ball players in the camp of the Phils today was the possibility that Hal Carlson, right hand pitcher, would appear, that Fred Leach would play center field and that John Moken and Al Nixon would fill in the remaining positions in the outfield.

The Phils had nothing or the equivalent. The infield, for no reason at all, is composed of Russell Wrightstone at first base, Fresno Thompson at second, Sand at shortstop and Frisberg at third.

The outfield, which is good by some unavoidable error, probably will be composed of Nixon, Moken and Leach with Cy Williams and Dennis Sothorn in reserve.

The catching staff is good as far as it goes but it does not go that far. Jimmy Wilson, last year's variety man, is good but he doesn't carry it to extremes. His substitutes are Clarence Jonnard and Harry O'Donnell.

Playing Pinch. McInnis is supposed to play first base but he is having an excellent time playing golf and the Phils are having a swell time playing pinchole.

The pitchers, mostly culled from the 1926 hook, are Hal Carlson, a good man; Alex Ferguson, a Wayland Dean, fat man; Edward Brachet, Arthur Decatur, Clarence Mitchell, Oran O'Neill and Hub Pruett, ordinary men; and John Scott, Ed Tabor, Frank Ulrich and Claude Willoughby, mediocre men.

But why go on? The team is good but the only trouble is that nobody will acknowledge the fact.

Notes Of The Training Camps

Tampa, Fla., March 19.—Pitcher Hugh McQuillan, who suffered a broken bone when Bottomley of the Cardinals hit him on the left ankle with a line drive on St. Patrick's day, will be lost to the Giants for six weeks.

In yesterday's game, which the Giants lost to the Senators three to two, Rube Marquard essayed a come-back with the Giants and pitched fairly well.

Clearwater, Fla., March 19.—Trimmed by Baltimore four to one, the Brooklyn Robins will seek revenge against the St. Louis Browns here today.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 19.—Colonel Jake took the offensive today in the Ruppert-Pennock financial war with the declaration that the Yankees are southern boys who would be "cast adrift" if he does not come to terms by the middle of next week.

Tampa, Fla., March 19.—Joe Judge's long fly to centerfield, with the bases loaded and only one out, gave the Senators a tenth inning three to two victory over the Giants. The teams play again today.

New Orleans, La., March 19.—As a result of yesterday's rest, Manager Bill Carrigan's Red Sox were in fine shape for today's game with the New Orleans Pelicans, the Southern League champions against whom they have chalked up three straight victories.

Slim Harris and Rudie Somers will pitch for the Red Sox.

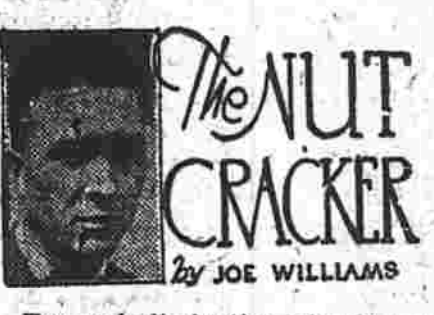

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 19.—Having routed the Athletics twice in as many days, the Boston Braves meet the Yankees here this afternoon.

Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel were expected to play.

"CAVE MEN" ARE UNPOPULAR NOW

Los Angeles, Cal.—"Home lovers" are far ahead of "cave men" in a straw vote on preferred husbands by 2,000 co-eds of the University of Southern California.

WHEN IS AN AMATEUR NOT ONE?

Farrell Believes Babe Ruth Entitled to All He Can Get

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 19.—Babe Ruth is to get $210,000 for playing three seasons with the New York Yankees and some of those who are always looking for reasons to deplore are deploring the fact that a ball player can command so much money for the actual time that he spends at his occupation.

It has been figured out that the Babe will be paid at the rate of more than $450 a day for six months' actual work and that this pay figured down to the actual minutes almost rates with Henry Ford.

What good are colleges? It is asked, and what are the value of brains when a ball player can command money like that? The same questions have been applied to fighters, to golf players to jockeys and even to wrestlers.

The answer is—if you're good in any racket you can command, and demand commensurate pay.

There are lawyers, surgeons, engineers, bankers and men in commerce who are making $70,000 a year but they wouldn't be making it if they weren't good.

The Babe apparently was destined to be a ball player. He was trained to the trade of a cigar maker but baseball seems to have been his vocation and he fitted perfectly into the part.

Ruth is not overpaid. There are many familiar with the business angles of the game who feel that he made a bad bargain when he signed for $210,000 for three years and that he is being underpaid.

The Babe, it is quite certain, draws at least $100,000 a year from pockets that are opened just to see him play and that wouldn't be opened to an ordinary game. In addition to the attraction of his personality he is a great ball player, a most valuable player to the club and at least one as a mechanic has been largely responsible for the pennants the Yankees have won.

As a ball player under any other number the Babe could command a salary of at least $100,000 a year. He is a much better ball player than a number of outfielders who are being paid much more.

10 Big League Players in 6 Years Came from California University

By THOMAS R. CURRAN

Berkeley, Cal., March 19.—University of California baseball teams have sent ten players to the big leagues during the past six years, a survey of the college baseball rosters several seasons back revealed today.

Ray Rowher was the first U. C. player to get a big league tryout during the regime of Carl Zimlock as baseball coach. Ray signed with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1919, sticking in big-time company for three years. He was then sent to Pacific Coast League. In 1921 his brother, Claude Rowher, also got a chance with the Pirates and stuck the season.

Caddy Works intrigued Pirate scouts the same year and Russ Ellison signed with the Cleveland Indians. After a year's tryout as Works was farmed out to the Texas League; Ellison was sent to Portland.

Mike Meyers was taken on by Detroit in 1923. He played ball with San Antonio in the Texas League for three years.

Ray Douthett went up to the St. Louis Cards in 1923. Since then he has developed into a star player on the team that won the world's championship under Rogers Hornsby last season. John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, is reported to have predicted that Douthett will become the greatest outfielder in the National League.

Dutch Thompson, George Makin and Bob Mintz, former Golden State players, were taken on by the Cincinnati Reds before he was traded to the New York Giants. The money that is paid to Ruth is paid for his services as a ball player, his drawing power at the gate is practically nothing.

Billy Evans Says

OUTSTANDING STARS. Ten years back, five of the outstanding stars of the major leagues were the following well-known athletes:

Tyrus Raymond Cobb, greatest ball player of all time, holder of so many records it would take a large-size volume to properly chronicle them.

Eddie Collins, generally regarded as the premier of all second sackers, past, present or future.

Rogers Hornsby, biggest figure in the National League, the only player to threaten Cobb's batting feats.

Tris Speaker, recognized everywhere as the greatest outfielder in the history of the game, also capable of doing other things well, aside from fielding.

George Sisler, the last word as a first baseman and a great batter as well.

Managerial Fad. Basking in the spotlight each day because of their extraordinary ability, it seemed that all five were enjoying about all the good things possible in baseball.

Then overnight there came a tad of making managers out of star players, due either to a scarcity of leaders, or the belief that the players might be equally successful as executives.

Tris Speaker paved the way for the run on star player-managers. It didn't take Speaker long to demonstrate his worth. In what was really his second year, he won a pennant and a world championship for Cleveland.

Then came the appointment of Cobb at Detroit, Sisler in St. Louis, Collins at Chicago, Harris in Washington and Hornsby.

Successful Careers. On the whole, I would say the stars have met with more than ordinary success as pilots. Three of them have led pennant winners and world champions. Stanley Harris at Washington has two flags to his credit.

Yet, I have always doubted the wisdom of the appointments, admitting there are exceptions to every rule.

While the play of the stars has been good, considering the added responsibilities of manager, still certain deterioration in their standard of play.

Perhaps the most striking falling off was noted in the work of Rogers Hornsby last season. While he played only six of the year with a lame leg, he frankly admits the managerial woes and the strain of realizing you were piloting a club that had a chance, was a greater handicap.

Change in Style. The fad of star players as managers was an overnight affair; now it appears to have faded out as quickly as it arrived.

The five stars I have enumerated at the beginning of this article are no longer managers. All have been demoted since the close of last season for various reasons.

Stanley Harris alone remains of the late appointments, and this year Ray Schalk is added to the list of star player managers. It's a tough job, say all of them.

LOCALS FACE BRISTOL IN ELM CITY TOURNAY

BRADLEY THE STAR IN HARTFORD BOUTS To Fight Jay Ross, of Jersey City; Jimmy Clinch, Known Here, On Same Card.

By HILLY EVANS

It is anticipated that Manchester sport fans are already cancelling dates for next Friday, March 25 to see the great exhibition of professional boxing which will be held at Foot Guard hall in Hartford under the auspices of the Pioneer A. C.

Manchester High will meet its ancient enemy, Bristol, in the second round of the Yale inter-collegiate basketball tournament being held at New Haven today at 2:45. Bristol turned back the undefeated Norwalk five yesterday by the score of 27 to 14, outclassing its opponent from start to finish.

Williammatic High fell, but it was a hard battle, and Naugatuck, the intimate victor, had its hands full with the boys from the Thread City. Williammatic was pressing Naugy right up at the first half and was only three points down at the end of this period. The score was tied at 28 all in the third quarter but several field goals gave Naugatuck the lead in the final period.

Hillhouse High of New Haven downed Warren Harding High of Bridgeport in the first game of the tournament by the class score of 25 to 23. The game was the best of the lot, the lead changing hands no less than 15 times.

The summaries:

Table with columns for team names and scores. Includes Zetarski, Roberts, Riordan, Goodridge, Comerford, Fleming, Allans, White, Hugret, Mast, Norwalk, Naugatuck, Windham, Hillhouse, Warren Harding, Fisher, Hanuszek, Derosa, Klein, Graham, Koslowski, Sisko, McPhadden.

Score at half time, Bristol 26, Norwalk 4. Referee, Young. Umpire, Souders. Time, 6 minute periods.

Score at half time, Naugatuck 22, Windham 19. Referee, Souders. Umpire, Young. Time, eight minute periods.

Score at half time, Warren Harding 14-4. Referee, Souders. Umpire, Young. Time, 8 minute quarters.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

At New York—Sid Terris, New York defeated Billy Wallace of Cleveland ten rounds; Kid Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., scored technical knockout over Frankie Fink, of Texas, in eighth round.

At Erie, Pa., Pal Reed, of Boston, defeated Wilson Yarbou, of Cleveland, ten rounds.

At Syracuse, N. Y., Honayboy Finnegan, of Boston, knocked out Phil O'Dowd, Rochester, in first round.

At Toronto—Larry Galm of Toronto won decision over Quintin Romero of Chile, ten rounds; Frank Belanger of Toronto knocked out Joe McKee of Detroit, fifth round; Doug Lewis of Toronto knocked out Dave Jackson of Wilkes Barre, Pa., third round.

At Schenectady, N. Y.—Nat Kawler of New York won decision over Mike Ballester of Bayonne, N. J., ten rounds.

At Detroit—Babe Herman of New York won decision of Johnny Mallo of Detroit, ten rounds.

'SOCCER GAME OFF.

Because of illness among members of the team the Glen Campbell soccer communitarian of Bridgeport will be unable to meet the Manchester team tomorrow at the Mt. Nero grounds.

Los Angeles, Calif., March 19.—Joe McCarthy's Cubs were out to make it two in a row over Los Angeles. The Bruins trimmed the Angels yesterday eight to six.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Women are the last word in conversationalists.

SENSE and NONSENSE

At the rate automobiles are being turned out, it looks as though there would soon not be enough pedestrians in the country to satisfy the demand.

"Do you know any way to avoid tire trouble?" "You might buy a motor-boat."

As any taxi driver will tell you, 1926 was a bumper year for pedestrians.

Mr. Oneway: What are you getting out of your new car? Mr. Boulevard: Oh, about fifty miles to the set o' fenders!

Handsome Salesman: "Couldn't I interest you in a car." Gladys: "Perhaps you could. Come around some day."

The unbearable pain of having a woman driving from the back seat is that she's usually right.

The Village Motorsmith Under a spreading chestnut tree A stubborn auto stands; The Smith an angry man is he With trouble on his hands.

The carburetor seems to be The cause of all his woe; He tightens half a dozen bolts, But still it doesn't go.

He sits beside the road to give His brain a chance to cool, And ponders on his training at The correspondence school.

And then he starts his job once more

And just by chance 'tis seen The cause of all his trouble is He's out of gasoline.

The days of prairie schooners may be history, but we still have our covered wagons, so to speak. There are a lot of mortgaged automobiles on the streets today.

She—"Don't you love driving on a night like this?" He—"Yes, but I thought I would wait till we got farther out in the country."

Let us be grateful for homes. We have some place to stay while the car is being repaired.

An automobile accident is the other fellow's fault.

New version: "Let me park in a car by the side of the road and hug the daughters of man."

Joy riders do not get all their joy from riding!

Taxi Driver: $10.75. Victim: "All right, just put it in the garage."

Mother Goose On Balloon Tires Jack and Jill went up the hill At 60 miles or better; A Cop unkind Was right behind— They're seeking bail by letter.

There are not as many baby buggies in use as formerly. Nonsense. There are more, but most of them are provided with gasoline engines.

NOW YOU Ask One

A BIBLE TEST

Here is a test of your knowledge of the Bible. You'll find the answers printed on another page:

- 1-What Biblical incident does this picture represent? 2-Who wrote the apocalypse? 3-Where did the Lord appear to David? 4-What famous queen came to visit Solomon in Jerusalem? 5-Who said, "I am alpha and omega"? 6-Who said, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me"? 7-Who were the four evangelists? 8-Who was Jude? 9-To whom did Pilate send Jesus for another trial? 10-Was Aaron an older or younger brother of Moses?

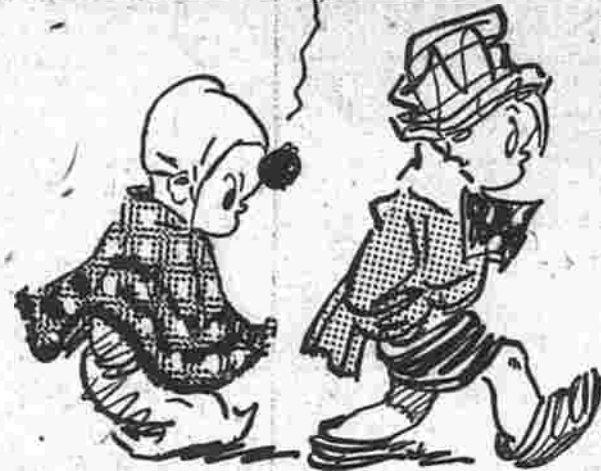

SKIPPY

I SENT THE PUMPKIN SEEDS BACK TO THE GOVERNMENT AND TOLD THEM ME FLOWER POT GOT BUSTED PLAYIN' SOLDIERS.

Copyright, P. L. Crosby, 1927, Johnson Features, Inc.

AN' THEY WROTE BACK THAT IT WAS OUT O' THEIR HANDS AN' TO TAKE IT UP WITH THE WAR DEPARTMENT

By Fontaine Fox

WASHINGTON TUBBS II

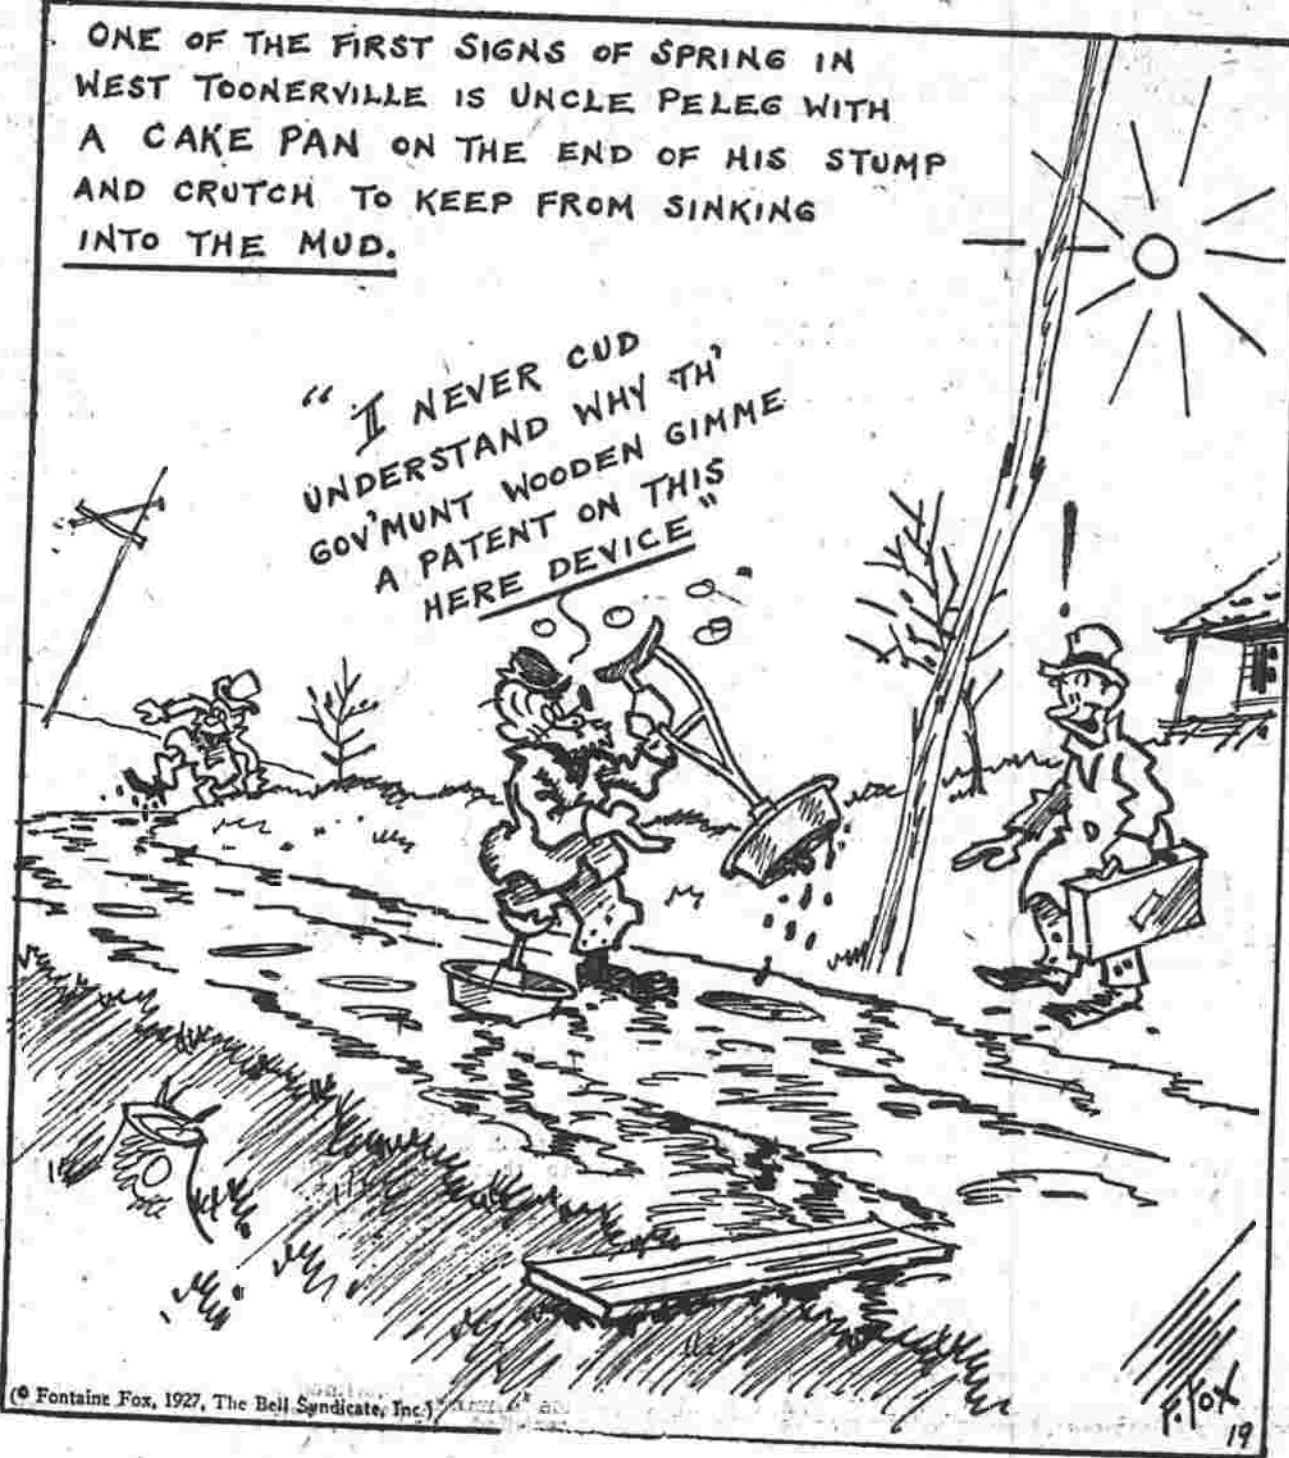

-BUT I THINK I'LL LET THE MATTER DROP.

By Crane

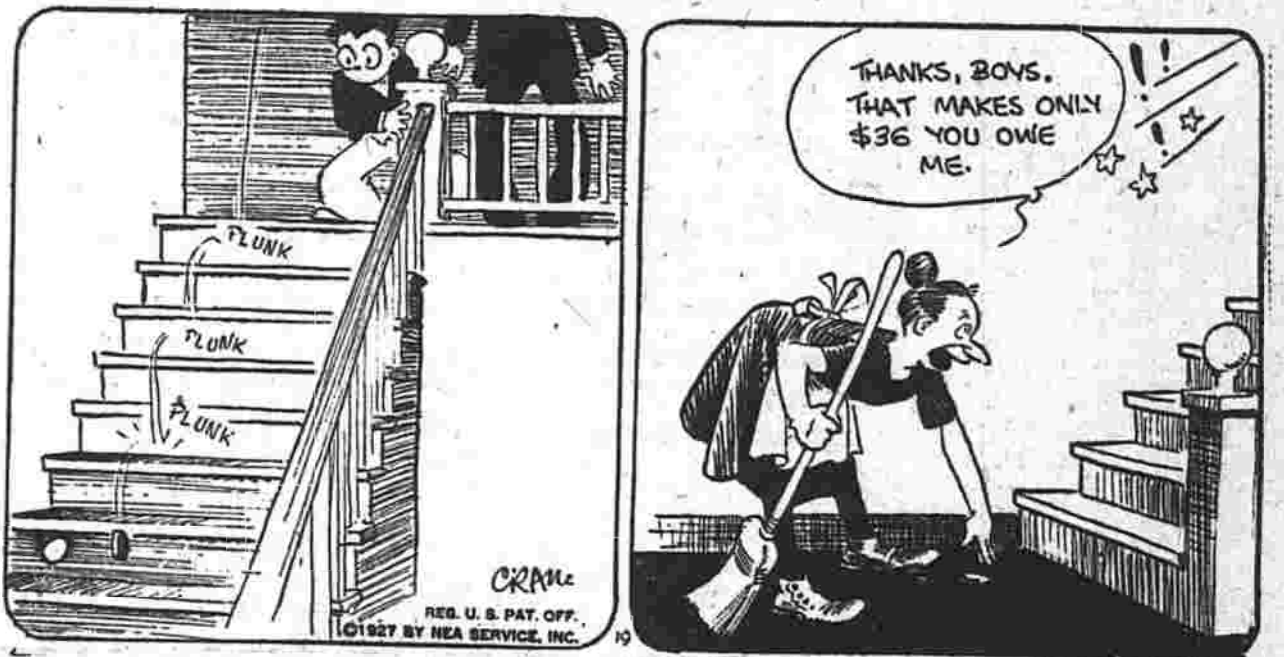

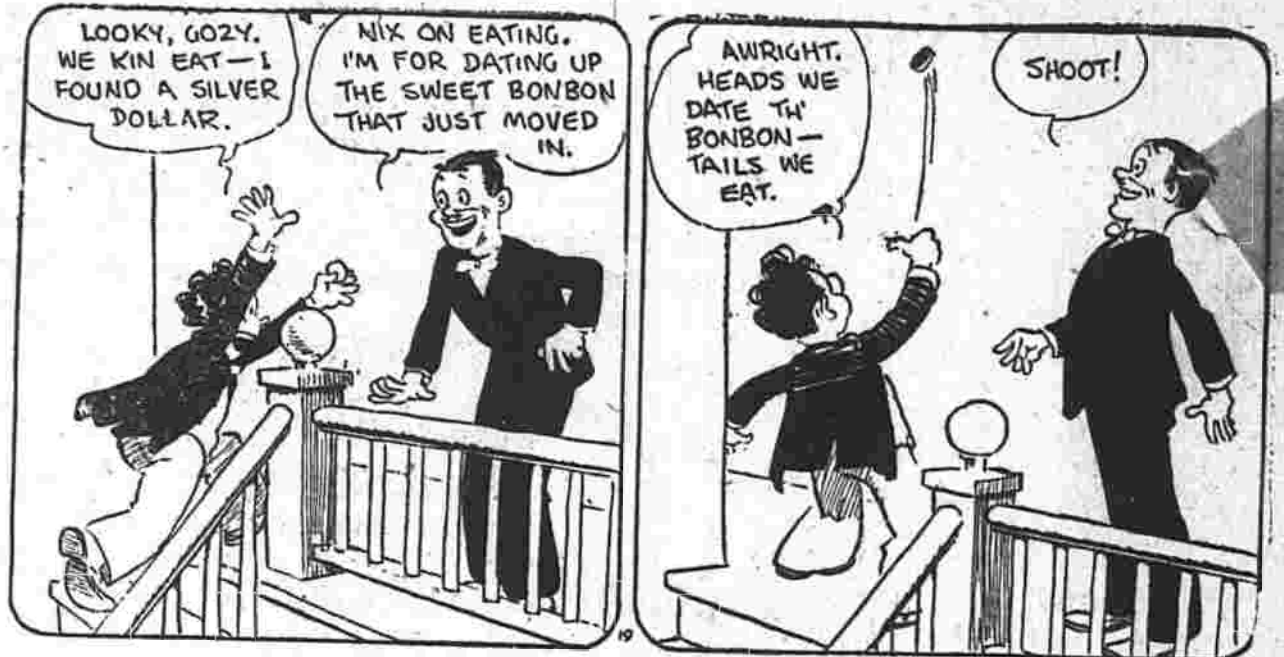

West Toonerville News Item

ONE OF THE FIRST SIGNS OF SPRING IN WEST TOONERVILLE IS UNCLE PELEG WITH A CAKE PAN ON THE END OF HIS STUMP AND CRUTCH TO KEEP FROM SINKING INTO THE MUD.

Copyright, P. L. Crosby, 1927, Johnson Features, Inc.

"I NEVER CUD UNDERSTAND WHY TH' GOV'MUNT WOODEN GIMME A PATENT ON THIS HERE DEVICE"

The Difference

By Blosser

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

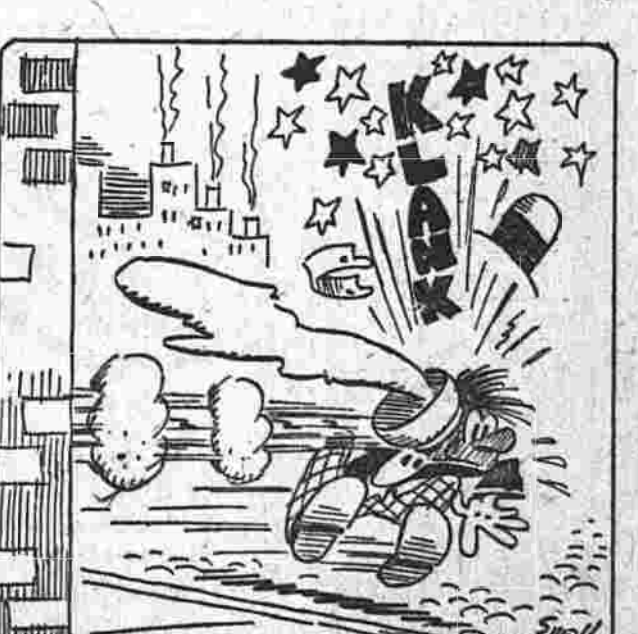

THE TINYMITES

(Read the Story, Then Color the Picture)

The Tinies left the dish and spoon and walked away 'til pretty soon they reached a funny little house with door swung open wide. Said Scouty, "Say, I wonder who is living here. I wish I knew. If it is someone friendly, I would like to go inside."

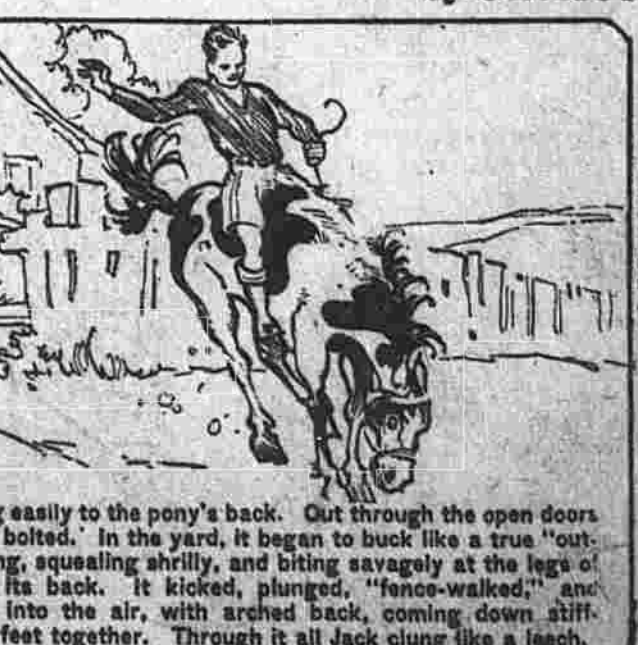

SALESMAN SAM

You Can't Blame Her

By Small

JACK LOCKWILL'S POLO PONY

by Gilbert Patten

Best Music, Best Dancers
Modern Dancing
AT THE RAINBOW TONIGHT
Fasullo's Orchestra
Admission 50c.

CONCERT
of
MODERN RUSSIAN MUSIC
Chorus of South Methodist Church
Archibald Sessions, Director
SUNDAY NIGHT AT 7:30
Public Invited.

ABOUT TOWN

Misses Sadie Curran and Mill-cent Fox have gone to Boston for a week-end visit with friends.

Yesterday's meeting of the park commission was postponed for one week because of the absence from town of Col. William C. Cheney, the chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patton of Astoria, L. I., were the guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Nelson of Center street. They returned to their home this morning accompanied by George R. Vetch, who will spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Patton. The trip was made by automobile. Mr. Patton sang over WTIC last night. He was handicapped by a bad cold and sore throat, but his program was greatly enjoyed despite his illness.

At the West Side Recreation Center this evening at 7:30 a St. Patrick's social and whist will attract many card players. There will be six prizes given, the first for both men and women will be silk umbrellas.

Sunset Rebekah lodge will meet for its regular business session Monday evening in Odd Fellows hall. After the meeting there will be a rehearsal of the degree team in preparation for a class evening in the early future. Noble Grand Mrs. Weeder urges all who have a part in the work to be present.

Mystic Review, Woman's Benefit association will serve a roast beef supper in Tinker hall Monday evening from 6 to 7 o'clock. The officers are in charge of the meal and the vaudeville entertainment by Hartford talent which will follow. In addition to roast beef, with gravy there will be mashed potatoes, peas, rolls, coffee and homemade cake. The moderately priced tickets, which are in the hands of the members, will include the program and the public will be welcome. The meeting of the lodge will be held after the entertainment.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The South Manchester High school dramatic club, the Soc and Buskin club, will present as its annual production, "The Private Secretary." The cast has been selected, and is as follows: Mr. Marsland, John Cervini; Harry Marsland, Albert Tuttle; Mr. Cattermole, John Shannon; Douglas Cattermole, Charles Treat; Spalding, William Gahrman; Gibson, Russell Gould; John and Knox, Rodney Wilcox; Edith Marsland, Catherine Carney; Eva Webster, Edith Balch; Mrs. Stead, Madeline Woodhouse; and Miss Ashford, Max Clune.

The date for the presentation of this play has not been announced yet, but it will probably be sometime in May.

The band is accompanying the large body of high school students to the Yale Gym at New Haven today to help Manchester along to another victory.

A social hour was held yesterday afternoon in the assembly hall at the close of school. Merrill's orchestra furnished music. The students stayed in the assembly hall until the result of the Manchester-Bridgeport basketball game at Yale had been announced.

Coach "Pete" Wigren of track team is, with the track managers, completing an attractive schedule of meets for this season. The schedule will be announced in a day or two.

OUR BIG 6 OFFER

6 loaves of bread for 60¢

Westinghouse Turnover Toaster

60¢ down
60¢ a month

AND ALL YOU PAY IS $5.40

MOTHER'S BREAD IS GOOD BREAD.

The Manchester Electric Co.

Phone 1700
861 Main St., So. Manchester

OLD FASHION-MODERN DANCE
SOUTH SCHOOL, SO. MAIN ST. TONIGHT
Schenkel's Orchestra
Prof. Foley, Prompter
Admission 40 Cents.

ROAST BEEF SUPPER
and
VAUDEVILLE ENTERTAINMENT
By Hartford Talent
Tinker Hall, Monday Ev'g, 6 to 8
Woman's Benefit Association
Tickets 50c.
Public Invited.

OPEN FORUM
MUSIC TREAT

During the last few years Manchester has had several musical treats. Up to that time people had very few occasions to hear interpretations of good music, either here or in Hartford. To be able to go to a church and listen to Fred Patton when he sang in the "Creation," or hear the difficult presentation of Chadwick's "Noel" is indeed a privilege not only to those who know music but to all who like to improve in their appreciation of the best.

The choir of the South Methodist church has endeavored to give us another treat Sunday evening, in presenting a service of Modern Russian Music. A service such as this one could not be heard very often but under the direction and leadership of Mr. Sessions, this music can be attempted. Great effort will be made to correctly show how the Russian composer interprets his music.

Nine anthems will be sung. They are varied in expression and their contrast to other modern composers' works is most interesting. Manchester is fortunate to hear programs of such high class music in a church service. This has been demonstrated at other times when so many out of town people make up the audience.

MUSIC LOVER.
Benson's Furniture Exchange is making things hum. Business beyond our expectations. Come in and see us. Expenses low, prices just as low. Money talks, 649 Main street. Tel. 53-3.—Adv.

Wanted
SHADE GROWN TOBACCO ASSORTERS. Experienced. SIZERS AND TIERS. MANCHESTER PUBLIC WAREHOUSE COMPANY, Apel Place, Manchester. Phone 1275

WHO LICKS THE CREAM?

Automobile Insurance At Cost

The Lumbermen's Mutual returned 25% of the Premium paid into every policyholder last year and have always done so. DID YOU GET ANY MONEY BACK ON YOUR POLICY? If you want to reduce the cost of your Auto Insurance see me before you renew your present policy or insure your car. I will be glad to explain how you can insure your car in the World's Greatest Mutual at 25% saving.

Stuart J. Wasley
REAL ESTATE INSURANCE
827 Main St., Tel. 1428-2, Open Tuesday and Saturday Evenings.

VISIT HOLLYWOOD

MANCHESTER'S FINEST RESIDENTIAL SECTION

All Improvements—Gas, Water, Sewer, Graded Streets, Sidewalks and Curbs. Near School and Trolley.

Lots Sold on Easy Terms. Prices $1,000 and up

EDWARD J. HOLL, Owner
Telephone 560. 865 Main St.
"He Cuts the Earth to Suit Your Taste"

Accidents will Happen

Should you be so unfortunate as to have one Just Call 701-2

We have a completely equipped emergency car—bear this in mind and remember that this car is at your service day and night. Merely telephone and it will immediately be sent to your assistance.

Our charges for such service are very low and, above all, the fact that our emergency car is equipped with a Weaver Crane is your assurance that we will "get your car in" without the danger of further damage, which sometimes happens when a cheap crane or a home-made crane is used.

We are at your service DAY OR NIGHT.
REMEMBER THE PHONE NUMBER 701-2

GIBSON'S GARAGE
16-18 Main St., Manchester

MISS BENSON, "PEGGY" IN "ALL OF A SUDDEN"

Cast of Characters For Center Church Play Is Named—Miss Trotter Directing.

"All of a Sudden Peggy", the three act comedy drama to be presented in Church hall on Friday evening, March 25 by the Center Church Dramatic club for the benefit of the building fund, will be given by a cast of well known local people. The part of "Peggy" which requires a lively young girl will be played by Miss Elsie Benson.

The complete cast of characters is as follows:
Lady Crackenthorpe Mrs. Henry Nettleton
Hon. Millicent Keppel Miss Evelyn Johnston
Parker Stanley Richmond

Major Archie Phipps Robert McComb
Hon. Jimmy Keppel Bert Andrews
Jack Mendes Leonard Beadle
Anthony Lord Crackenthorpe David McComb
Mrs. O'Mara Mrs. Henry Dowd
Peggy O'Mara Miss Elsie Benson
Hon. Mrs. Colquhoun Miss Beatrice Clulow

SUNDAY DINNER
at the
HOTEL SHERIDAN
Turkey, Duck or Chicken with all the fixings, $1 12 M. to 2:30 P. M.
Also a la Carte Service.

Announcing C. A. Sweet's Improved Taxi Service

I now have a 5 PASSENGER DODGE SEDAN which goes into service today.

FOR TAXI SERVICE OR FUNERALS
PHONE 706

Announcing a New Process
BY WHICH WE CAN WELD
CAST or SHEET ALUMINUM

Bring in your leaky percolators, pans, tea kettles and any and all aluminum ware. A good job guaranteed.

Now Is the Time to Look Over the Gutters and Conductors on Your House.

We do all kinds of copper and galvanized gutter work. Tin roofs repaired. Expert mechanics.

ALFRED A. GREZEL
Headquarters for Plumbing and Heating Supplies.
Main Street at Park Street, South Manchester.

THE MOST POPULAR QUESTION—
What Have You for Nothing?

WE ANSWER YOU—

A Set of 4 Tires and Tubes

Will be given away April 16 at 2:30 to the person holding the lucky number.

A numbered ticket will be given away with every whole dollar's worth of purchases from now until April 16.

The winner will actually get a set of 5 TIRES AND TUBES regardless of whether his car takes a 30x3 1/2 or a 40x8, so long as it is a pneumatic tire.

Special Values on Tires

30x3 1/2 Hood Oversize F. S.	$8.50
31x3 1/2 CORD	$6.50
32x4—6 ply Hood make	$12.50
33x4—6 ply Hood Make	$13.50
32x4 1/2 at	$18.50, $21.50, $25.50
33x4 1/2 at	$19.50, $22.50, $26.50
34x4 1/2 at	$20.00, $24.50, $27.50
29x4.40 Factory Second Hoods	$8.50
29x4.40, a few odds and ends	$6.00
30x5.25 F. S. Hood	$12.50
33x6 F. S. Hood, 6 ply.

If you are in the market for USED TIRES try me. I have a choice selection of about 100 tires, all sizes, some very fine Balloons.

WONDER WORKER POLISH, dollar size, with a 50c package of polish cloth. Both for $1.

CAMPBELL'S FILLING STATION
Main Street at the Pike. Love Lane
Don't Forget That Chance on 5 Tires.

Lucas J. Rhey Braithwaite
Miss Hazel Trotter has the direction of the production. It is planned to present a musical program in connection with the play.

Goslee & Goslee
CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS
High Grade Building
HOMES OFFICES STORES FARM BLDGS.
REPAIRING
We solicit an opportunity to estimate on your requirements.
Quality and Service Assured.
No Job Too Big or Too Small.
Phone 899-4 or 205-4.

M. A. FERRIS
Heating Contractor
65 East Center St.

LOOK! REGULAR 50c
Rubber Heels Attached 25c
FIRESTONE, GOODRICH, CUPPLES, VELVETON
Remember on wooden heels we use O'Sullivan and Uakide heels. The demand for these 50c heels which we are putting on for 25c is so great we are continuing the offer for 15 days more.
SAM YULYES
701 Main Street, South Manchester

A Day He Could Not Put Off

ROBERT RAWLINGS was a man who prided himself on "getting things done." But, like many another man, he put off making proper provision for his family. Then came the inevitable day that none of us can put off.

Mr. Rawlings' securities and life insurance went to his widow outright. Within a year, a large part of these funds were lost through poor investing. How easy it would have been for Mr. Rawlings to have averted this tragedy. He knew a trust fund, with this Company acting as his trustee, would protect the money he would leave and provide his family an assured regular income. Yet he always put off creating such a trust until it was too late.

You have the opportunity NOW to protect your loved ones from the misfortune that befell Mr. Rawlings' widow. You have only to come to this company and our Trust Officer will be glad to discuss with you the matter of conserving your estate.

The Manchester Trust Co.
South Manchester

Oldsmobile

—AND—

Little Marmon 8

SEE THE NEW MODELS AT OUR

New Salesroom
CENTER ST., CORNER TROTTER ST.

Three salesmen, Messrs. Russell Potterton, Harold Young and Irving Tourtelotte, at your service.

We Also Carry a Complete Line of all Sizes of AJAX TIRES AND AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

Crawford Auto Supply
Center St., Corner Trotter St. Service Station in the Rear.