DR. W. T. GRENFELL TO GIVE LECTURE

Famous Labrador Missionary Coming to Rockville Church—Other Items.

(Special to The Herald) Rockville, March 23. Sunday evening, April 3rd, Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell who has just returned from a trip around the world will give a lecture at the People's service at the Union Congregational church. Dr. Grenfell's lecture topic will be "Midst Ice and Snow in Labrador." The lecture is profusely illustrated with views of the hospitals, buildings, the natives and the workers.

DR. WILFRED T. GRENFELL

The bleak and barren coast of Labrador has made life unbelievably hard for its inhabitants. Facing their share of the world's wealth, these courageous workers, who are of our own race and religion, suffered untold hardship in bleak northlands and waters because the rudimentary accoutrements for mind and body were utterly lacking. Not even the simplest forms of medical and surgical aid were available.

In 1892, at the suggestion of Lord Southborough, Dr. Grenfell first visited the coasts of Labrador and North Newfoundland in a hospital sailing ship to see if a medical and surgical service could be established. From this simple beginning has grown one of the great service works of the world.

The press of the English-speaking world for years has eagerly published accounts of Dr. Grenfell's really romantic story. Un-sought honors have been heaped upon him. King Edward conferred upon him the Order of Companion of St. Michael and St. George. Oxford gave him the only honorary M. D. which that university has ever bestowed. He has been made a Fellow of the College of Surgeons of England; a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons; he is one of the few doctors of medicine holding a Master Gardner's Certificate. Harvard has given him its honorary M. S.; Williams its honorary LL. D., and Toronto an honorary M. D. A few years ago the Royal Geographical society gave him the Murchison Bequest in recognition of his scientific labors.

Y. M. C. A. Campaign Committee Meets The campaign committee of the Tolland County Y. M. C. A. met at the Rockville House Monday evening. Prof. Phillip M. Howe, president, was moderator and plans were made for the annual financial campaign. Several large donations have already been received by citizens and it is expected that the budget will be reached by the end of this month. Checks may be made payable to John G. Talcott, treasurer.

Ellington to Test New Apparatus At a special town meeting held in Ellington Nov. 24, it was voted that the town purchase equipment for fire protection. Tonight a Childs Standard Fire apparatus, heavy duty, from the Foamite Childs Corp., of Utica, N. Y., will be demonstrated in Ellington. It has a 100 gallon chemical tank.

Represent Tolland Frank Condon, W. Hoyt Hayden and Rev. George S. Brookes represent Tolland County at the Hartford Council of Religious Education at the meeting of the executive committee held Monday at the Hotel Bond. The meeting came to order at 11:30. Reports from the various branches of the work were read also the treasurer's report, after which the meeting adjourned at 1:00 for lunch. After the luncheon there was an address by Dr. Waigle whose subject "What is Our Task" was especially interesting and greatly appreciated. There was also an address by Dr. Pettie of New Haven. It was the largest delegation from any city in the state. The meeting adjourned at 3:00.

Personals Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miner have moved from Spring street to the Mehl tenement on Ward street. Miss Sadie Schultz of Franklin avenue, who is ill at the Rockville hospital, is in such a critical condition that she will be unable to receive visitors for some time. Mrs. R. H. Leonard of Elm street is confined to her home by illness. Harold Rosthe, the star forward of the Rockville High school five has been elected basketball captain for next year. Miss Ruth DeForest of New York is spending a few days at her home on Prospect street. A rummage sale will be held tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. in the dining room of the Union Congregational church. Mrs. E. H. Cobb of Rhesel street is in charge. The proceeds are for the Sunday school to help make its self supporting.

Rockville Lodge No. 1359, B. P. O. Elks will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening, March 24 at the Elks' home on Prospect street. The Every Mothers' club will meet at the Baptist church on Friday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Edith Busher is chairman of the program. All members are requested to be present. "Deacon Dubs", a three act play will be presented at the chapel of the Union Congregational church on Tuesday evening, April 19 under the auspices of the Friendly class.

The American Legion auxiliary will hold its regular meeting in the G. A. R. rooms tonight. After the business meeting there will be a social. Members are requested to attend in old clothes or a fine will be imposed upon them. It is hoped that every member will attend this meeting and join in the fun.

The "Bentley Pfeifer Banjo act" has been engaged by the Marjorie Kay Entertainment Bureau of Hartford, to play in Stafford at Wood's theater Tuesday evening. The duo has also been engaged to play for a Manchester fraternal organization Thursday, March 24. Damon Lodge, No. 17, Knights of Pythias will enjoy a "Ladies' Night" at the Red Men's hall this evening at 8:30. The regular business meeting will be held at 7:00 but from 8:30 on the committee in charge of Paul Weber, have provided entertainment and there will be cards and dancing for those who enjoy these pastimes. Dr. C. E. Peterson has purchased a new Willys Knight.

STANFIELDS' SUITS BEING HEARD TODAY

PRaises STUDENTS HERE AS 'SPORTING'

Bristol High Passes Resolutions, Cheers Manchester Body For "Rooting."

Resolutions unanimously passed by the entire student body of the Bristol High school yesterday and forwarded to Principal Clarence P. Quimby of the South Manchester High school today, paid an unusual tribute to the sportsmanship displayed by the latter school at the recent Yale interscholastic tournament. Manchester and Bristol have long been the keenest of athletic rivals and yet there has been a vein of comradeship that has made the two schools warm friends socially. After being defeated by one point by Bristol in the semifinals at New Haven, the Manchester players and student rooters, instead of wishing their arch rivals ill luck, turned out en masse to "pull" for Bristol in the finals against Hillhouse. A letter from Principal Henry E. Cottle, of Bristol High school, received today, says in part: "The attitude and spirit of your school was the most thorough, most splendid, and most thrilling exhibition of sportsmanship ever displayed. If you disagree with me ask any unbiased spectator who saw the tournament games. Personally, I wish to extend my warmest and heartiest thanks to you and through you to every person who gave that remarkable display of sportsmanship."

A Bristol dispatch referring to the action taken by the Bell City school yesterday said: "The resolution, after it had been presented, was okayed by a deafening 'aye' from the several hundred students present at the special assembly and it was followed by a rousing cheer for the Manchester High school."

It was decided today that Bristol High will be represented in the national tournament at Chicago next week and Manchester students are rooting for it. The Bristol team will enter the tournament with a record of but one defeat—that having been inflicted by Manchester 22-21.

DOG LICENSE TAGS READY FOR ISSUE

Tags for dog licenses have arrived at the town clerk's office and owners of animals in this town may next week and Manchester students are rooting for it. The Bristol team will enter the tournament with a record of but one defeat—that having been inflicted by Manchester 22-21.

ABOUT TOWN

Linne Lodge No. 72 K. of P. will hold its regular meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at Orange hall.

A son was born today at Memorial hospital to Mr. and Mrs. George H. Jolly, of 109 Summer street.

A deed was filed this week at the Town Clerk's office conveying a house and lot, partly in Manchester and partly in East Hartford, from Theodore C. Zimmer to F. J. Schultz. The property is located on Hillstown road on the Manchester-East Hartford boundary. The sale was made in 1925 but has been unrecorded hitherto.

Contractor John T. Hayes has the job of renewing the supports of the tower at St. James' church. The old beams and trusses at the base of the structure have become somewhat unstable and new beams will replace them. Some masonry work is being done on the job.

A special meeting of the Manchester Rod and Gun club will be held in Room 8 of the School Street Recreation Center on Wednesday evening for the purpose of voting on several candidates for membership. The new members are anxious to be enrolled so that they can fish on club-leased streams before the season on state-leased streams opens on April 15.

Students Protest Middletown, Conn., March 23.—Wesleyan University students are opposed to anything that will upset the present Mexican government, according to a statement issued here today, and a vast majority of the student body wired to President Coolidge a protest against the abrogation of the treaty between Mexico and United States that prevents smuggling of arms across the border.

TYPHOID EPIDEMIC.

Montreal, Que., March 23.—The typhoid epidemic reached its zenith today when more than eight hundred cases since March 4th were reported to the health department. Yesterday established a record of 104 cases reported. The emergency hospital will be opened today.

HARTFORD SURGEON FOR LUCAS AUTOPSY

Springfield Man Refuses to Touch Body Without Alcorn's Authority.

With the eleventh hour refusal of George Schadt, prominent Springfield pathologist, to examine the body of Matthew Lucas, Attorney Gronkowski and Buzzell of Springfield, who are representing the youth's mother in renewal of the case, have now arranged with Dr. Calvin H. Elliott, Hartford surgeon, to examine the body. The latter, however, has been called to Baltimore on business and it is expected the examination will not be held until Friday.

When Dr. Schadt demanded to be shown a written permit from State's Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn yesterday, Attorneys Gronkowski and Buzzell went to Hartford and held a consultation with the state's attorney. Alcorn said that the case did not come within his jurisdiction. The coroner's permission was considered sufficient, yet Dr. Schadt still refused to act. Consequently Dr. Elliott was secured.

Let Us Sell You The Good Will Idea!

It is said that good will is more valuable to a merchant than his store itself—or money in the bank. In other words, if some catastrophe should destroy your store, established through quality merchandise, moderate prices—and good will, that store could resume business the next day. But if the good name of that store were erased that business would be gone.

And therein lies the great security of many an institution. Good will is beyond the reach of fire, flood, tornado or earthquake. Only through slow process of neglect may it be lost.

Let us show you through our advertising department how an institution will endure—just as long as good will is a part of advertising.

OUTSMARTED.

If the town or future city of Manchester ever has to undertake entering into a new contract of any sort with the Connecticut Company, from sharing in a peanut to sharing in a subway, it will be well advised to hire at the outset the best contract lawyer, or perhaps the best dozen contract lawyers, in the country. Because if the astute legal gentlemen who work for the Connecticut company can find a hole as big as the point of a pin in the phraseology of the agreement, the trolley corporation will duck out of its financial obligations, judging by the experience of Hartford.

In 1924 the trolley people make a fair and square deal with the city of Hartford by which, in consideration of the city's permitting electrification of the street railroads and assuming certain expensive incidental operations, the company was to pay to the city 2 per cent of its intake. Everybody concerned understood the purposes and considerations of the deal and for years there was no thought on the part of the transit people of dodging the payments.

In 1923, however, the Connecticut company suddenly discovered that the contract probably would not stand in court, owing to the form of its drawing, so they refused to pay any more. The city sued and now the superior court has rendered judgment for the Connecticut company. Hartford is dished out of $50,000 a year income and the taxpayers will have to make it up.

It is a plain case of wenching, but one in which the corporations lawyers, at the beginning, outsmarted the lawyers for the city. No community can afford to take any chances in dealing with the Connecticut company. The slogan in such dealings should be "Watch your step."

OBVIOUS.

A great deal more has been made of the fact that the fall of Shanghai was greeted with excited joy in Moscow—for exaggeration concerning which reason is not hard to find—than of the statement of General C. J. Mah, former officer in the Cantonese government now in this country, that China will never be a second Soviet Union but a bona fide democracy like the United States.

General Mah's denial that Moscow is directing the course of events in China is in keeping with the Chinese character. Your Chinaman is a sheer individualist. If there is such a being in the world, no other race on earth is more completely committed to the idea of heing one's own row. The whole Chinese outlook on life for thousands of years has been individualistic. Children are taught from babyhood that they are to be masters of their own lives, captains of their own souls. A Chinaman values his thoughts as being as much a part of him as his eyes or his tongue. Nothing could be more remote from his personality than the pack spirit that prompted the Russian proletariat to herd together under a leadership.

ANOMALOUS.

It is common enough phraseology, in referring to the peculiar commutings, gin-drinking, golf-bridge-dance-mad, suburban social stratum to which Albert Snyder and his wife belonged, that say that "they got away with murder." But that is the baldest of figures of speech and what it means is that they got away with just about everything but murder. Murder—cold blooded, deliberate, heartless premeditated murder—is the most extraordinary thing imaginable when it occurs in the corset salesman-art editor class that lives in such places as Queens Village, Long Island. Even the Hall-Mills murder in New Jersey was a less unlikely thing to happen than the killing of Albert Snyder; for in a sense most of the individuals associated with the New Jersey crime were more or less primitive folk. Even the Lotherio of a pastor was a little primitive; Mrs. Hall and her brothers sheer provincials; the choir singer a rustic and her husband a yokel. Killings among such folk are at least not incredible.

But a suburban fast set is so impressively sophisticated, so impeccably cynical and blasé that such a grave and at the same time aboriginal passion as blood lust should develop within it strains one's credulity even though the fact be unquestionable.

The Snyder murder has blown up quickly as a mystery but as a sociological freak it is almost without peer in the annals of American crime. The theory that the jazz age has made its devotees too flippant for major crimes of violence is rocked on its foundations by the anomaly.

UNWISE-CRACKS.

Debonair Earl Carroll, gay Earl Carroll, lightsome, joyous, frolicsome Earl Carroll who bubbled over with fun at the idea of a grand jury asking him questions about his famous "bathtub" party and who brightly and sparkingly told the grand jury whatever jocund fairy tale came into his head—he must go to the federal pen. Actually, tragically, this purveyor of tinsel joys and fluff make-believe who has skipped along the tide of Broadway life as tinklingly as a weevil on a mossy clamber of rocks, has no recourse now but to mope mournfully down to Atlanta and get a number and stay put for a year and a day.

It is all right to giggle about grand juries and all right to lie like a gentleman or like a mucker, until you get in the presence of said jury or otherwise have held up your right hand and sworn to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help you God. When that time arrives there has arrived with it the need to quit kidding and realize that not quite all the world's a stage nor are wisecrack falsehoods any the less perjury for having been uttered by a fly bird of a publicity hunter.

One does not have to be particularly grouchy toward the Jocosse Mr. Carroll to be well content that he must pay a real penalty for a real crime. Mighty few folks care a rap about his bathtub or what was in it. But the notion that a grin is as good as the truth in court is one that has got to be gotten rid of. We doubt if any of Earl Carroll's imitators will care about imitating his sojourn in prison.

SOMETHING DOING.

If anyone imagines we are approaching the end of the story of automobile industry development in this country he should revert to the fact that William C. Durant announces that in April he is going to quit the stock market and devote himself thereafter to the manufacture of motor cars.

In two years Durant is credited with having won back, by a spectacular series of bull operations in Wall street, the hundred million dollars which Wall street took away from him in 1920. And he proposes to keep it and use it in writing another chapter in the history of the great industry to which he has been such an outstanding contributor.

Durant, organizer of General Motors and aside from Henry Ford the most spectacular figure in the motor world, of course is not going back into the manufacturing game merely to follow beaten paths, for that is a thing of which he is temperamentally incapable. Therefore "something big" is to be looked for in the way of automobile construction, in the way of automobile prices or in methods of automobile marketing within the next year or so.

Anybody who could guess what it is would be another Durant.

WHITE MAN'S BURDEN.

Human life is sacred in the international settlement of Shanghai—British lives, American lives, French lives, Japanese lives—but not Chinese lives. Defeated Northern army soldiers cornered in a Shanghai quarter next adjacent to the foreign city, in a frantic effort to escape from their victorious enemies, climbed walls and overrode barriers seeking refuge in the jurisdiction of the western nations. They were met by the fire of British troops—sent thousands of miles to protect human life—and slaughtered by the score. The dispatches call it a battle—and declare that there were no casualties among the British. The white man's burden is piling up in the East. The bodies of a few dozen more Chinamen—human beings with human loves and aspirations with family ties and conceivably some human right to live—may not make that burden appreciably heavier against the day when the white man will have to pick it up. But they will make it no lighter.

WASHINGTON LETTER

This is the third of a series of four articles revealing an amazing condition in our State Department. BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer

Washington.—There are many wheels within wheels involved in the bickering and dissatisfaction among the foreign service personnel at home and abroad, which have reached a high point with the incipient revolt of consular officers against social favoritism in the promotion system.

One of the most interesting bits of gossip about the State Department tells of a feud between Secretary of State Kellogg and Undersecretary Joseph C. Grew. When Kellogg is away Grew takes charge but when Kellogg returns to his job he totally ignores Grew, according to some members of the department personnel.

Some of the service men refer to the situation as a "sitting match" between the two men, believing that Kellogg doesn't want to resign lest Grew obtain control and perhaps succeed him, and that Grew has been doggedly fighting appointment as ambassador to Turkey or some other post because of his desire to remain in a position of authority over all embassies and legations.

Division in Department Thus there is an apparent division among the assistant secretaries, with Grew and J. Butler Wright playing the game together, Robert E. Olds, who inspired the famous "Mexican-fostered bolshevist hegemony" story, on Kellogg's team and Wilbur J. Carr supposedly upholding the cause of his consular service.

But the men of the foreign service are not as interested in this alleged fight higher up as they are in their own—the wrangle over charges that the higher classes of service are being filled with men of wealth and high social ratings. They indignantly point to various specific cases of men in "the inner circle" who, they say, are certainly men of wealth and social accomplishments even if they have not actually been preferred for that reason.

Hugh R. Wilson, new minister to Berné, who has ranked as a counselor of the embassy in Class I at $9000 a year while serving as head of the Division of Current Information, is described as a former wealthy Chicago merchant who has reached the top after 15 years' service at the age of 42. Wilson is the youngest man of the 25 in his class in point of service and has always been in the "hippie" branch, which is preferred by young men of means and "social background."

Related to the Morgans William R. Castle, new assistant secretary of state, is described as a member of the Castle-Hawaiian sugar family. He has been chief of the Division of Western European Affairs. Grew, himself, is related by marriage to the Morgans.

Alexander Kirk, assistant to Grew, at $7,000 a year, is described as a member of the Kirk soap family. His son-in-law, Alan F. Winslow, now enroute to Mexico City as secretary of embassy, is said to have been promoted at least three times since the Rogers Act became law in 1924. Winslow entered the service in 1919 at $2500 and in a little more than eight years has worked to a job that now pays $7000—an astonishing jump for government work.

Francis White, the new assistant secretary of state, after 12 years of service, is also described as a man of means. J. Theodore Marriner, coming here to succeed Castle, is described as another "inner circle" man with a penchant for plum-picking on a present basis of but eight years' service. He is a Class IV man at $6000.

Franklin Mott Gunther, head of the Mexican Division, of 13 years' service, and slated for an assistant secretaryship, is also credited with being a wealthy man. He is known as "the only man who retained his valet at Harvard."

Of course, it is to be remembered also that many of the ministers and ambassadors now serving abroad are also men of great means and that most of them have made substantial political contributions.

John Hammond MacVeagh, with five years' service, is a nephew of the ambassadors to Spain and Japan. He has just been sent to Nicaragua as secretary of the legation.

Ferdinand Lamont Bellin, brother-in-law to a Dupont and reputedly a millionaire, came on in 1919 at $2500 and is now in Class IV at $6000. He has gone to Constantinople as secretary of the embassy.

Robert Wood Bliss, ambassador to Argentina, is a millionaire by virtue of patent medicines, consular men with similar service periods point out. Social Background There are a few instances cited by the discontented consuls. They see nothing wrong with being wealthy but they insist that wealth and "social background" which is so often dwelt upon in the department, are constantly being given preference over actual merit. Members of the "inner circle," they say, belong to the Metropolitan Club here, where they play heavy poker and mix with the foreign diplomatic group. There is a small sprinkling among them who got and of their brains, it is admitted. The clique referred to as the "inner circle" is declared to consist very largely of Harvard men, headed by Grew. Of 10 recent promotions to high positions six Harvard men are included. And

"SON OF THE SHEIK"
COMING TO RIALTO

"Stella Dallas" called the finest story of mother-love heads a double feature program of motion pictures which will be shown for the last time this evening at the Rialto theater. Belle Bennett and Alice Joyce have two of the leading roles in this story which has become almost an American institution because of its realism. Every lover of good fiction knows the theme and so little need be said of it here other than to make the statement that the picture surpasses the story in every way.

The supporting picture being offered on the same bill is "Lightning Flashes" a gripping canine picture which features Lightning an almost human dog whose remarkable feats make the film one of the outstanding pictures of this type released this year. Other attractions appear on the same program.

For tomorrow and Friday the management of the Rialto theater have secured Rudolph Valentino's last picture made shortly before his unexpected demise. It is "The Son of the Sheik" and is really a sequel to his greatest success "The Sheik". If the star may be believed this film was his finest effort. Shortly after the completion of the picture he made a public statement in which he said in part "I consider "The Son of the Sheik" my crowning achievement—at the present time it seems impossible that I shall ever make a finer picture than this one, indeed I sometimes wonder if I shall ever equal it again!" Words such as these coming from the star himself is praise indeed and after witnessing the story of desert love most people have agreed with him.

"Speeding Thru" a mile-a-minute tale of the auto race track with a strong comedy element will also be offered with "The Son of the Sheik" Creighton Hale and Juda King have the leads.

NEW YORK

New York, March 23.—See-sawing up and down Broadway, it seems to me that half the way, I am engaged in bidding goodby to the movie folk who are being driven to Hollywood by the closing of eastern studios.

Saw Gloria Swanson saying many "au revoirs" at the annual Newspaper Women's ball and at her table was John Boles, a borishly handsome new leading man. . . . And two tables away was Gilda Gray, wearing what seemed suspiciously like a beautifully modeled blond wig, though it may be that hairdressers can now fix locks that way. . . . Saw Tom Meighan who, I hear, stubbornly resists pulling up stakes and is likely to retire from the movies when his contract expires in a few months. Tom has had the good sense to save his money and has been well managed; in other words is sitting pretty.

Saw Thyra Sampter Winslow, the writer, who used to do pieces for the magazine about her marriage vacation idea. . . . The vacation seems to have lasted too long, for I note an impending divorce proceeding. . . . Saw Sam Laphonso, who came out of Chicago and made more money out of "The Jazz Singer" and he has been writing two plays at once, perhaps one with each hand. . . . Also met, after many years, Gordon Seagrave, also out of Chicago via California, who was co-inventor of halitosis, that great American tragedy regarding which your best friend will hold out on you. . . .

Saw Ross at the opening of his very lavish theater and, it seemed to me, he showed signs of overwork and, unless he pines down a bit, I should not be surprised to learn that he is ordered by some wise medico to take a rest. . . . Saw Harold Ross who, like myself, was once a humble waterfront reporter in San Francisco, but who now graces Vanity Fair's Hall of Fame page because he hit upon the happy idea of getting out a magazine known as "The New Yorker."

All of which, I am told, has affected his proficiency at poker not a bit. . . . Speaking of poker, I am told that several leading literary lights have taken to it avidly, not so much for the winnings (if any) involved, but as a scientific study. . . . Not the least of these is Dr. Dorsey, who wrote "Why We Behave Like Human Beings," and, no doubt, after a number of all-night sessions can add a chapter or so to this topic. . . . He is said to know more different varieties of poker than Hoyle ever heard of. . . .

Gaming in many forms is indulged in by the majority of Manhattanites. . . . So many thousands are forced to live right up to their incomes, thanks to the general high cost of living and incommensurate income, that they take to one form of gambling or another to increase their worldly goods. . . . The favorite form is the "flier in the market," frequently followed with dire consequences. . . .

The number of race horse gamblers runs into the hundreds of thousands. . . . One issuer of so-called "scratch sheets" has accumulated a great fortune within a few years and needs a number of trucks to distribute his daily publication. . . . Broadway and side streets are cluttered with tipping services. . . . And crap games for huge sums go on within a stone's throw of the big street. . . . The most spectacular gambler produced in recent years is "Nick the Greek" who comes to Broadway to "shoot" for terrific stakes and almost invariably disappears after losses that run as high as $10,000. He goes to some mysterious place in the outlands, recoups his fortune, and reappears to do it all over again.

WAPPING

How would you like to be able to reach up and pick the juiciest cherries on the top of the tree or shut up your nose tight if the city garbage wagon drove by?

Both of these things the giraffe can do with ease. It is supposed to Nature endowed them with the power of closing their noses at will so that they could keep out the blowing sand during a sand storm in their native Africa.

Few people know these animals are absolutely voiceless. It is thought by some naturalists that they have their own method of communicating with each other by motions of their heads, legs and tails, but their sign-language has not yet been mastered.

Their great soft eyes are very expressive. Perhaps they are trying to express their pent-up feelings in this manner. Though the giraffe seems large, it is because of the great length of its legs and neck, as its body is scarcely as large as that of a horse.

Although equipped with an extremely long neck, the giraffe has difficulty in getting its head to the ground, and sprawls its legs far apart in a very awkward and grotesque manner when attempting this feat.

The giraffe is gentle unless attacked but has been known to kill a lion when infuriated. Its weapon of defense is its head which it uses as a sledgehammer, bringing it down with terrific force upon its victim, raining blow after blow.

The Y. M. C. A. team won the last home basketball game of the season last Saturday evening, when they defeated the Tolland Town team by a score of 27 to 23. In the preliminary game the Tolland Girls defeated the Wapping Girls. This Wednesday evening the "Y" boys will play the Community club second team at the Hartford Y. M. C.

HERE'S REAL RELIEF FROM THE TORTURING PAINS OF NEURITIS

Men and Women Everywhere Seldom Fail To Get Quick Relief From Pain and Suffering.

When you've tried everything you can think of and nothing seems to even relieve those piercing, agonizing pains, just go to some good druggist and get a bottle of Allenru Special Formula No. 2. Be sure you get No. 2 which comes in capsule form.

Take these little dark green capsules as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced, if not entirely banished those persisting nerve racking pains that have caused you many sleepless nights.

While this particular formula was compounded for the purpose of conquering painful, Gouty conditions and what is known as Rheumatoid Arthritis—a knotty, painful swelling of the joints—it has proved so wonderfully successful in most forms of Neuritis and Sciatic Nerve Pains.

You needn't be afraid of its containing dope of any kind—it doesn't. Such things are only makeshifts and can at the best give only partial relief.

Be sure you've got Neuritis and then get Allenru Special Formula No. 2. North End Pharmacy, 50, Manchester Agents, Magnell Drug Co. sells lots of it.—adv.

WE DON'T STAND ON CEREMONY

So there's no formality about our annual Spring showing of all that's new in Clothing, Furnishings and Shoes on Thursday evening, March 24th from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. to which you are most cordially invited.

Our one reason for staging this annual exhibition is to let you know that you're as welcome when you come a-looking as when you come to buy.

Come, see what's for Spring. It will be a pleasure to show you and we're sure that getting acquainted with the new styles will help you to choose your Spring wardrobe with greater satisfaction to yourself.

Special displays in our windows and in the store help to tell the story.

COME AND SEE THEM.

Age Proof

When earning power declines with age, and errors in judgment creep in with years, you'll want an income independent of physical powers or continued investment skill.

The Life Income plan guarantees it. Besides insuring your life now, it pays $100 a month for life, starting at age 60 (or earlier if disabled.)

No problems of investing and reinvesting to worry about. Just the simple operation of cashing a monthly check.

THE LIFE OF CHRIST The Start of Christian Evangelism

SYNOPSIS ARRANGED BY DR. WM. E. GILROY, D. D. SKETCHES BY KROESER

In addition to the Twelve Apostles, Jesus sends forth seventy, two by two, to go into the cities where he will come, proclaiming the evangel and preparing the way. (Luke X : 1-17)

A woman taken in adultery is brought to Jesus in the temple, and accused. Her accusers ask if she should be stoned. (John VIII : 1-5)

But Jesus says, "He that is without sin among you, let him cast the first stone"; and the accusers went out one by one. (John VIII : 6-11)

A teacher of the law, trying to trap Jesus, inquires how to attain eternal life. Jesus draws forth the two commandments, to love God with all the heart, and one's neighbor as one's self, saying, "This do, and thou shalt live." (Luke X : 25-28)

21 AUTO DRIVERS LOSE LICENSES

The weekly list of operators whose licenses to drive automobiles in Connecticut have been suspended for one year for driving while under the influence of liquor was given out today at the state motor vehicle department as a part of the effort to reduce this highway menace. There are twenty-one names on the list. One was a Connecticut operator convicted in another state. The case of one was appealed. The department statement advised people to notify the department or the police in case they should see any of the suspended drivers operating motor vehicles. John E. Ahlstrom, Danbury. Wm. H. Aldrich, Ossining, N. Y. Herman Atkins, Hartford. Bernard F. Bantle, Glastonbury. Geo. A. Biles, New Haven. Antonio Bosa, Bridgeport. Julius Carocart, Stafford Springs. Ralph G. Clark, Hebron.

Thomas J. Crosby, Brookline, Mass. Robert Dick, Waterbury. Stanley Ellsaker, Hartford. Carl B. Herrick, Manchester. Ernest O. Johnson, New York. Henry Macke, Stamford. Angelo Napolioni, Providence, R. I. Chas. O'Neil, Hartford. Howard F. Rogers, Somers. Matthew Ryan, Glenbrook. Oscar T. Turner, Pawling, N. Y. Stephen White, Suffield. Karol Yarewich, Hartford.

BLACK SKIRTS IN ITALY Rome—Purely from industrial principles, Italy is trying to restore the longer skirt and the petticoat. Knee-length skirts with scarcely any underthings are threatening to wreck Italy's silk-making industry. Now the Minister of National Economy is seeking to popularize a uniform of long, black skirt, petticoat and substantial undergarments. They should be liberally pleased, he says, to use a large amount of material.

FREE STATE TO WIPE OUT 4,000 LIQUOR STORES

Irish Government Offers Bill To Limit Number of Licensed Places.

Dublin — With characteristic Irish daring the Free State Government with the General Election only just over a month distant, have challenged through a bill for the reform of the liquor trade, the most powerful vested interest in the country. Probably only in Ireland, and in no other country in the world, would ministers be found risking their political lives in such audacious fashion. Appropriately, their champion in the fight is the reputable Minister of Justice, Kevin O'Higgins.

Government May Fail With the fate of the Bill is bound up the immediate fate of the Government. And its fate will depend upon whether the electorate regard it as a fair and equitable means of reducing the superabundant "hotels" in Ireland or whether it is looked upon as sheer confiscation.

In its main provision, the Bill divides the Free State in 340 areas, for licensing purposes. Twice a year the police will apply to a Court in the area for the extinction of saloon licenses in excess.

In each area a fund will be started to which each license holder will contribute, which compensation will be paid to a saloon keeper deprived of his living. The scheme will be that for every $500 awarded a saloon keeper deprived of his license, the remaining license holders of the district become liable for $37 for the next twenty years.

Now 12,000 Saloons At present there are 12,000 saloon licenses in the Free State. If, as O'Higgins desires, 4,000 of these are automatically wiped out, the licensed trade will have to find a sum of $5,000,000 spread over 20 years.

Another change contemplated by the Bill is to prohibit the sale of liquor for a prescribed period in the afternoon in the cities of Dublin, Cork, Waterford and Limerick. This clause is complicated by the fact that in a large percentage of cases the saloon keeper also carries on another business, generally a kind of general store. Hours will also be limited in the smaller towns and villages.

The Government has made the Bill a question of confidence and will stand or fall by it.

DEATHLESS SHOT BAGS GAME ALIVE.

Chicago.—Zoos throughout the world may soon be enriched by the addition of specimens of those kinds of animals which have been almost impossible to capture alive, as the result of an invention of Captain Barnett Harris, sportsman and representative of the Chicago Zoological Society.

It is a deathless bullet which produces complete unconsciousness but no permanent ill effects. The "mercy bullet," as he calls it, contains a chemical which is released upon striking the animal. Entering the blood, this drug almost instantly produces a state of coma.

Captain Harris will go to Borneo soon to use his new weapon. He expects to secure orang-putangs and gorillas, which are easy to shoot, but extremely difficult to capture alive.

LOCAL BOY RADIOS HIS PRIZE ESSAY

Howard Turkington Wins State Wide Contest of 7th and 8th Grade Pupils.

Manchester radio patrons who tuned into Station WTIC at Hartford at 10:45 this morning had the opportunity of hearing Howard Turkington, 15-year-old Manchester schoolboy, read his prize essay on "Beethoven, The Man" which was adjudged the best written by any seventh or eighth grade pupil in Connecticut.

Turkington who lives at 134 Center street is in the eighth grade at the Barnard school under Miss Elizabeth Tynan. He was one of the 175 seventh and eighth grade pupils in the state who submitted essays dealing with the centennial anniversary of the death of the great composer on March 26, 1827. Owing to the illness of the seventh grade teacher, only eighth grade pupils wrote essays in the Ninth District and the eighteen best were sent to Hartford.

The essays were written in connection with the Music Appreciation course broadcast every two weeks through Station WTIC under the supervision of the State Board of Education for the benefit of rural school children who attend schools where musical supervisors are not provided.

RADIO IMPROVES MILK

Liberty, Mo.—Years ago, Arnold Schwartz was a dairyman in Switzerland. In the evening the milkers would perform to the accompaniment of yodeling and accordion music. Result, wonderful cheeses. Now that Schwartz is running a dairy here, he has installed a radio in his cow lot. Music, he says, brings better milk. Market reports on the prices of corn, oats and hay also are music to the cows' ears.

BOY SCOUTS TO SWIM IN CONTESTS TONIGHT

All eight troops of the Boy Scouts will meet in a swimming competition tonight at the School street tank. The men's plunge period has been changed to begin at 7 o'clock so that it will not conflict with the meet. Events included are the 20-yard dash, 20-yard breast stroke, 60 and 40-yard dashes, 100-yard relay for four-man teams and the fancy dive.

Washington, March 23.—The Federal Radio Commission today began an investigation into alleged "pirating" by Americans of wave lengths assigned to Canadian broadcasters.

Wave lengths assigned to Canadians will be cleared of interference. While the commission has rejected Canada's request for twelve wave lengths, an increase of six, certain important concessions will be granted Canadian broadcasters.

SECOND ATTEMPT SUCCEEDS

Darien, Conn., March 23.—Russell Green, 40, of 19 Cassidy Park, Greenwich, committed suicide some time during the night at the home of Lincoln Bell, on Noroton avenue, Darien. The dead man was found hanging from the shower bath fixtures in the bathroom of the Bell residence.

According to the police Green attempted to do away with himself earlier in the evening by jumping from a second story window but was prevented. It is said the man had been in ill health and was despondent.

KIWANIS MINSTREL AT STATE TONIGHT

Benefit Show For Open Air Camp—Eight Acts Tomorrow.

Manchester's poor children need a week or two in the country every summer. In order that they can do this, the town of Manchester must pay their support and it is doing so through the local Kiwanis club.

Among the other favorites who will perform in the array of black-faces are Bill Dillon and Andy Anderson, both old time minstrel men.

The program will include chorus numbers, solos and recitations in addition to the continual fire of jokes and stories which will be passed among the members of the cast.

Numbers will be given by the Manchester male quartet and by Miss Peggy Coughlan of Hartford who has been entertaining with popular songs in Hartford supper clubs and other places.

Tomorrow is Bargain Day at the State and eight acts of vaudeville will appear on the program at the afternoon and evening performances.

DEPORTATION OF IMMORAL ALIENS BEING HURRIED

Immigration Bureau Is Busy Sending Criminal Foreigners Home.

Washington.—Immigration officials are increasing their activity to rid the United States of undesirable aliens.

Agents of the bureau of immigration are kept constantly traveling from city to city gathering up these undesirable aliens.

A recent nationwide check of penitentiaries, jails, prison camps, insane asylums, public hospitals, houses and charitable institutions disclosed 11,673 aliens numbered among their inmates.

Sifting Undesirables The Bureau does not expect to deport all of these at least not this year but it is sifting out the more flagrant cases and getting rid of

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and a child-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

them as fast as the governmental machinery will permit. And that machinery is being constantly speeded up.

During the last fiscal year, ended June 30, 1926 there were 10,904 aliens deported, not including those turned back at the ports with out being admitted.

About 80 percent of the deportations however, are more minor violations of the immigration laws, chiefly irregularities to the United States.

These last year numbered 8,371 of which 4,582 were without proper visa. Only $57 of the $371 were rated as likely to become public charges.

Many Recent Arrivals Of the strictly criminal and immoral classes there were 1,230, an average of 107 a month.

For the first seven months of the current fiscal year, July 1 to January 31, the criminal and immoral deportations numbered 902, a monthly average of 129, an increase of 22 a month over the last year.

It is significant that the bulk of these entered since June 30, 1924. Only 44 were recorded as having entered the country prior to June 3, 1921.

Criminal and immoral deportations for the last fiscal year showed the following totals by nationalities: Mexicans, 541; English, 173; Italian, 90; Irish, 45; Scotch, 34; Spanish, 36; French, 50; German, 48; Scandinavian, 24; Polish, 17; Coasts of Slovas, 12; Hebrew, 16; Greek, 38; Dutch, 13; Japanese, 12; Chinese, 48; African 14; other races, 79.

ALICE TERRY STARS IN CIRCLE PICTURE

"Magician" Is Rex Ingram Production—"Perch of Devil" as Companion Feature.

A Rex Ingram production, "The Magician," starring Alice Terry and Paul Wegener, is one of the features of the Circle program for tomorrow and Friday.

"The Magician" is the third production of Metro-Goldwyn Rex Ingram made in Europe.

The first was "The Arab," which was filmed in Africa, the second was "Mare Nostrum," which was produced on the original locations in Italy, France and Spain described by Blasco Ibanez in his famous story.

"The Magician," was made in France and Switzerland. The Rex Ingram studios, where the interiors for "Mare Nostrum" and "The Magician" were filmed are at Nice, France.

Grim reality seemed to be the aim of Gertrude Atherton when she wrote "Perch of the Devil" and re-alism is the keynote of the Universal Jewel Production of the same name adapted from the Atherton novel and produced by King Baggot, Mae Busch and Pat O'Malley.

get relief from the tedium of married life. Suddenly she finds herself without a husband. Another woman has been at work.

Honey McNeill thought she could love for money and discard the only person who really loved her. That was her greatest mistake and the story of that has been made into the thrilling story which appears on the Circle screen tonight for the last time, "Love's Greatest Mistake."

Josephine Dunn, the Paramount school graduate, here for the first time featured, treats to a finished performance as the girl, Honey McNeill, who is bored with life in her small Pennsylvania home town.

She is natural prey to the Manhattan wolves who prowl about in tuxedos, but her innate sense of decency and honesty keep her on the "straight and narrow." The chronicle of her adventures is of absorbing interest.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR Facts that Draw Crowds and Sway Buyers. Little wonder Dodge Brothers Motor Cars today are accorded such widespread and enthusiastic commendation— Smart new body lines and attractive color combinations— A new seating arrangement that provides still more roominess and comfort— A new clutch, simple, sure, silent— Softer pedal action, easier gear shifting— Quicker acceleration, still greater steering ease— More rigid engine support—and smoother performance— New, silent-type muffler— Sturdiness and dependability made still more pronounced by vital betterments in body construction and in the propeller shaft, differential and axle shafts. Add to these the new five-bearing chrome vanadium crankshaft, with its remarkable improvement in engine performance, the excellent new starting and lighting system and many other recent betterments, and you understand why owners proclaim today's car— "The finest Dodge ever built!" 14 Fashion Models 14 At Hale's Big Opening

Before a gorgeous background of velvet to set off their charms; amid scenes of splendor seldom attained by local decorators and with the strains of a hidden eight-piece orchestra to lend magic to the set, fourteen local models and one professional will show the latest spring fashions at an exhibition tomorrow evening at Manchester's big department store.

On Second Floor.

The exhibition will be held on the second floor where the garment department was on display formerly. This department will be found downstairs now at the rear of the main floor. The space they occupied will be turned over to a display of beddings, and draperies. Visitors tomorrow evening will also find a new department in the basement which will house unpainted furniture, gas stoves, rustic furniture, linoleums and electric refrigerators.

Baby Shop Bigger.

The Baby Shop has also been enlarged and Hale's now carry children's wearing apparel from infants to 14 years of age. The older models at tomorrow's show will wear sport, afternoon, street and evening gowns. They have been rehearsing for over a week under the direction of a professional, Miss Hilerod, of the Jordan-Marshal store of Boston. She will show various models in year-round prints. She will meet local shoppers on Friday and Saturday also.

THIS HAS HAPPENED CLAY CURTIS, after a Spring trip to New York, where he has been thrown down by CLARE...

The father offers him the assistant manager's job of his man-tooth department store, but Clay refuses. When Clay leaves his father to pack for his departure...

Clay takes with him only a few clothes, music, and tools for writing. He has a trunk filled with books...

BILLY WELLS was not an easily flustered young woman but she confessed to her mother later that she had almost dropped her violin...

"I thought that either he was crazy or I was," she laughed. "And he didn't say a word at first, just stared first at me and then at the violin..."

"You snapped a string," he accused her, reaching for the violin. "You shouldn't use this kind of cheap. And Chopin would turn in his grave if he knew you were trying to do his favorite mazurka on an imitation fiddle like this..."

"You're being foolish," Billy Wells told her severely. "And I don't think you're used to trying to talk like a cheap wisecracker. You don't do it at all..."

"Well, of all the nerve!" Billy cried angrily. "I'm sure you're as stupid as the rest of the family. You've got to be serious about your work..."

"Well, of all the nerve!" Billy cried angrily.

"Mother, that's not true!" Billy cried sharply, the red of vexation staining even the tiny amber freckles across her impudent nose.

Her mother smiled brightly, entirely unabashed, her blue eyes, paler than her daughter's, twinkling upon the visitor.

"No, I'm not sorry," he said. "I never wash my hands after a party. I don't like to do it. I don't like to do it."

"I reckon I'm willing to take a chance," he said, the room suits her. Now, let's see—room with music—she calculated slowly, her lips moving soundlessly.

"I'm not sorry that there's any connection with the above about a girl," she said, her eyes twinkling.

GRADUATION TO ERASE THREE REGULARS FROM H. S. LINEUP

Good Material Left; Team Won 16, Lost 3 During '27 Season; Holland Led Scorers; Dowd May Be Next Captain.

Three regulars will be lost to the South Manchester High school basketball team through graduation next June. Two utility players will also receive their diplomas but Coach Wilfred J. Clarke is confident he will be able to build up another team as fast if not faster than the one which almost won the state championship during the season just completed.

Giants have the tallest rookie in the southern camps. Pullman porter making up his berth asked him how he'd like to sleep, head first or feet first.

"If it's okay with you," says, "I'll sleep all at the same time."

This rookie is very, very bashful. He orders boom, never breathes, or chicken.

And how he hates to work. He always had, so he confided to McGraw, earned his living by the sweat of his brow.

He tried a trick variation of the hit-and-run on the boys. They asked him if it were original and he said no, he'd made it up himself.

REC VOLLEY TEAM LOSES 3 IN A ROW

The Rec volley ball team lost three straight games to the crack Hartford Y. M. C. A. combination at the School street gym last night. Not one of the games was allowed to go to deuce and in the second of the evening Manchester scored only one point while Hartford went out with 15.

Luck was better in the games between the second teams of the two organizations for Manchester won two out of three, taking the third game after Hartford had tied.

The lineups:
Manchester: Gibbons, Hanson, VonDeek, Mahoney, H. Gustafson, Morgan.
Hartford: Bunyan, Carey, Harblson, Thompson, Goldie, Steffason.

The scores: Hartford, 15, 15, 15; Manchester, 11, 15.
Second Teams
Manchester: Gibbons, Phaneuf, VonDeek, Mahoney, Gustafson, Lange.
Hartford: Kimball, Gross, Bussing, Morgan.

HORNSBY DENIES KNOCKING CARDS

Says St. Louis' Fate Depends Entirely on O'Farrell's Course.

Sarasota, Fla., March 22.—St. Louis Cardinals manager Sam Houston Hornsby has been quoted as stating that the St. Louis Cardinals would be lucky to finish in the first division this year.

The St. Louis Cardinals strongly resented this.

"During my stay with the Giants, I brought up this point in a long chat that I had with the star second sacker, who as manager of the Cardinals is playing this season, and world series that has come to St. Louis in 38 years.

"You can't make it too strong," Bill in telling the world I never made such a statement," said Hornsby.

"The Cardinals won a pennant for me last year, which is pretty good proof it isn't a second division aggregation."

"What is more, every ball player gave me 100 per cent effort from the start to the finish of the season. I have nothing but praise for the players."

"Bob O'Farrell is a fine boy and a great catcher. As manager I wish him the best of luck. Bob, however, is a quiet, retiring fellow and unless he asserts himself, he is going to get plenty of advice from the kitchen cabinet officers who know nothing about baseball."

"Right or wrong, as manager of the St. Louis club, I mapped and directed the play of the club. No one told me what to do. I assumed all responsibility. Bob O'Farrell will be told plenty unless he asserts himself."

"If Bob elects to run the ball club and accepts no outside advice he is going to be in the hunt all the way, for the Cardinals are a mighty good club and a courageous one."

"What I did say about the National League was simply this: The club that beats the Giants will win the pennant."

"I stand pat on that one. As each day passes I am all the more convinced that New York is the best club in the league. If there is a better club, it will win the pennant."

"The players on the St. Louis Cardinals have my best wishes. They are a fine lot of boys. There, however, my praise ends."

"Bob O'Farrell, as manager, has the toughest job in the nation, unless he early lets the world know that he alone is manager."

"Murphy's Girls bowling team was defeated three straight games in New Haven last night by the Rec Girls of that city. The teams will roll a return game here Thursday night."

Mildred Wright Is Elected President Of Girls' A. A.

Miss Mildred Wright, who is employed at the chemical laboratory in the Old Mill department at Cheney Brothers is the new president of the Girls' Athletic Association. She succeeds Miss Emily Kisman, who has held that office for the past two years, but who did not compete for office this year.

Miss Kisman still occupies an office, that of treasurer.

Miss Wright was elected head of the organization at the annual bowling banquet Monday evening in Cheney hall. Other officers named at that time were Miss Mildred Aitken to succeed herself as secretary and Nan Taggart as president of the bowling league. These officers plan to increase the activities of the organization which has grown in leaps and bounds since it was organized some eight years ago.

Miss Wright was recently appointed president of the bowling league to take the place of Florence Hayden who has removed to California.

Roast Chicken Supper
The elections were made following a splendid roast chicken dinner with all the fancy trimmings and side dishes served by Chef Osano. Later the individual and team prizes were awarded to the various winners in the girls' league which was won by the Velvet Mill. These were preceded, however, by talks by U. J. Lupien, head of the service department at Cheney Brothers, and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Cheney. All spoke of the benefits derived from such an organization.

Lively Entertainment
A fine bill of entertainment was given by local talent. The first number was a pajama drill by eight girls from the "Throving Mill and next came a duet by Nan Taggart and Lillian Hewitt entitled "Styies, That Make Us Happy." It was an original number and both girls were dressed in old fashioned costumes. Miss Bertha Hill and next came a duet by Nan Taggart and Lillian Hewitt. They gave a demonstration of Barney Google and Spark Plug which brought much laughter. The final number was a sketch composed by Nan Taggart entitled "Are We Weaving No. 3." It included the members of that bowling team as a cast.

Many Prizes Awarded
Many prizes were awarded to the bowling winners. They varied from silver loving cups to five-dollar gold pieces and silk underwear. Miss Jennie Lucas, winner of the individual average honors received the most valuable prize. She was presented with five dollars in gold for the season's high single (120), a two dollar and a half gold piece for leading the league and silk underwear for being on the winning Velvet Mill team. The other four highest bowlers for the season, Nan Taggart, Martha Had-den, Mae Sherman and Lillian Hewitt, also received two dollars and a half in gold. Miss Alice Ponticello, of the Ribbon, who showed the highest per cent gain during the season, received an appropriate award.

The Winning Team
The five members of the winning Captain Mary McKinney, Jennie Lucas, Mae Sherman, Edith Struff and Mary Hissett received prizes as did the captains of the first three teams to finish, Mary McKinney, Weaving No. 1; Nan Taggart, Weaving No. 3 and Ann Symington, Weaving No. 2.

Received a box of fancy chocolates from Howard Murphy.

SPEAKER BIG LOSS TO "THE INDIANS"

Otherwise the Club Is Same One That Finished Second In American League.

Editor's Note: This is the eleventh and last of a series of stories by Davis J. Walsh on major league ball clubs in training.

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(INS Sports Editor)

Lakeland, Fla., March 22.—The football rules committee moved the goal posts back ten yards and nobody knows what the general effect will be, wherein the committee differs ever so slightly from the Cleveland Indians, who moved their perennial centerfield and whiplow manager out of his uniform and out of their ball park.

Anyhow, the Indians are precisely the same club that finished second in the American League last year, except that there is Tris Speaker, their manager and leading outfielder these many years, who is absent no more, and somehow the Indians without Speaker must seem like a plea without its knife. The sad part of it is that the Indians received nothing in return.

Manager Jack McAllister probably will station Homer Summa at Speaker's old post, with Charles Jameson and Pat McNulty in the other outfield positions.

Infield the same.

The 1926 infield is intact, or will be at such time, as the boys get around to it. George Burns, voted the league's most valuable player, will be the first baseman, Fred Spurgeon will be the second baseman as soon as he recovers from an appendicitis complex.

Joe Sewell, one of the ranking shortstops, hasn't got around to furnishing visual proof of the matter to date because he has had to favor a sore arm. However, Rubb Lutzke is playing third base without his wheelchair, thereby furnishing a camp innovation.

One of the best of the young infielders is Johnny Modapp, who broke a careless leg last year. Lew Fossaca, who had a great deal of minor league experience with the Phillies, improved so rapidly last year that he finally was sold to Newark and now is back with Cleveland. This young man always could hit.

However, he had a bad habit of stopping some ground balls with his clavicle and others not at all, so he was forced to go on a long journey. Lew will be first string utility man and pinch hitter.

The catchers, Luke Sewell, Martin Autry and Glen Myatt, but Frank Hogan looks like a sure bet at catch.

Tommy Conran and Ernie Willis will meet tomorrow night at Conran's alley at the North End in the final leg of a twenty-game bowling match. Conran battled his way to a 22 pin lead in the first ten games at Murphy's alley at the South End last Saturday afternoon and has a mighty fine chance of emerging the winner.

The C. B. A. bowling team will roll a return match against the New Departure team in Bristol Friday night. Manchester won all three games in the recent match here.

The Trade school basketball team will close its season Friday afternoon when it meets Meriden Trade at the Rec gym. Manchester defeated Meriden in the Silver City recently and bids fair to let down the curtain with a victory.

Franky Bush, boxing instructor, has been booked for an eight-round match in Boston in the near future. His opponent has not yet been announced.

Bristol High which defeated Manchester 14 to 13 in the semifinals at the Yale basketball tournament will be represented in the national tournament at Chicago next week. The team has been presented with a check for $1,700 underwritten by the Chamber of Commerce, the fund to be raised by public subscription.

Coach Tom Kelley expects to have sound the bugle call for baseball candidates at the local High school either this week or next. If the cold wave continues, battery practices will be held indoors first.

Coach John Eucharman of the Trade school baseball team is also getting ready for the baseball season. Last year the Mechanics went through the season without a single defeat.

Plainfield meets Danielson in the first of a three game basketball series this evening in Plainfield.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 22.—When the Giants play Jacksonville today catcher Jack Cummings will be back in harness after a layoff of three weeks because of injuries.

All Reserve Tickets Sold For Show at Cheney Hall; List Of Probable Bout.

Tonight's the night for the bi-weekly amateur boxing treat at Cheney Hall and judging from the advance sale of tickets, those who are planning to go and have not secured reserve tickets should gobble their supper, read The Herald and start on their way. The doors open at 7:15 and the first bout goes on an hour later.

There will be the usual seven bouts—twenty-one rounds of milling, barring, of course, the curtainment which haymaker punches of ten produce. The most interesting feature of the Van-Hall and Taylor-De Mario contests which are expected to take place, but there will be other high class bouts which may be even better. A stable of six Springfield boxers is the highlight.

Promoter J. L. Jenney had not quite finished the card last night but he expected to have a few more entries before this evening. The bouts which seem the most certain to take place are:

Dan Borcail, Springfield and Allie Greta, Hartford, at 110 pounds.
Tony Korman, Springfield and Johnny Mastro, Hartford, 118 pounds.
Bill White, Springfield and Eddie Lundgren, Springfield, at 126 pounds.
Billy Nelson, Hartford and John Barlowe, Springfield, at 138 pounds.

Max Orlos, Springfield and Al Fallozi, East Hartford at 147 pounds.
Pancho Villa, Hartford and Ray Hall, Hartford, at 140 pounds.
Bill Taylor, Hartford and Jean De Mario, Springfield, at 150 pounds.

A chambermaid is said to have put twelve travelers into eleven bedrooms, and yet to have given them each a separate room in this way: She put two of them in No. 1, the third in No. 2, the fourth in No. 3 the fifth in No. 4, the sixth in No. 5, the seventh in No. 6, the eighth in No. 7, the ninth in No. 8, the tenth in No. 9, and the eleventh in No. 10. She then came back to No. 1, where she had left the twelfth gentleman along with the first, and conducted him to No. 11. A "ketch" somewhere in it! Who will send us the mathematical solution?

If you're fairly familiar with American literature, both of today and of a few years back, today's "Now You Ask One" won't give you much trouble. You'll find the answers on another page.

2—Who wrote "A Son of the Middle Border"?

3—What historical book, by whom, served as the basis for the novel and movie, "The Covered Wagon"?

4—What New England historian wrote "The Rise of the Dutch Republic"?

5—What famous American poet was a Brooklyn newspaper editor, ending his days at Camden, N. J.?

6—Who wrote "Figures of Earth"?

7—Who wrote "The Leatherstocking Tales"?

8—What famous novelist and humorist served before the Civil War as a Mississippi river steamboat pilot?

9—Name three plays by Eugene O'Neill.

10—What novel, by whom, caused a federal investigation of the meat packing industry a score of years ago?

THE TINYMITES

Up to the palace of King Cole, the little band of Tynmites stole, and as they looked the queer place o'er they thought that it was great. "How beautiful," was Copsy cried, "me on let's all run right in!" But when they reached the gateway, they found a monstrous gate. "Oh, my," said Clowny. "Just our luck. I guess it looks like we are stuck. I wish someone would open up, and let us all inside. And th'n they started looking 'round to see if something could be found to climb the wall, but nothing could. So that thought shortly died. And just then Copsy found a rope. He loudly shouted, "Ah! Here's hope. I'll climb up this, and then drop down and open up the gate." But, as he pulled, the gate swung wide, and all the Tynmites rushed inside. Said Clowny, "We may be thrown out, but we'll just trust to fate." The palace courtyard sure was neat. The Tynmites sauntered down a street, and came upon a building with a guard beside the door. "Sa, where's King Cole?" was Scouty cried. "He's in this place," the guard replied. "Just walk right in and see him. That is what this building's for." They shortly found the king, and gee, he was as happy as could be. And soon he burst out laughing like he'd just been told a joke. And then the Tynmites walked up near the king. The king said, "Howdy! Glad you're here. Sit down and make yourselves at home. I'm going to have a smoke." They liked the old king's friendly tone, and squatted down right near his throne. They saw upon his head a crown. Yes, this was old King Cole! And then they heard him shout in glee, "Bring forth my finest pipe to me." And shortly after that, the king was calling for his bowl. (The Tynmites see King Cole's address in the next story.)
