Auto King Thought Badly
Hurt—Police Expect to Make Arrests.

FORD'S CONDITION

Detroit, Mich., March 31.—The following bulletin on Henry Ford's condition was issued today by his physician at the Ford Hospital.

"Mr. Ford's progress continues satisfactory. While he is still in considerable distress there are no signs of complications. His temperature, pulse and respiration are all normal."

F. J. Sladen, M. D.

Detroit, Mich., March 31.—Arrest of the hit-and-run motorists who injured Henry Ford in a suspected plot to kill America's first billionaire is expected momentarily, police announced today.

The automobile license number of their car is known but for obvious reasons the authorities will not give it out.

The license number of the automobile was furnished police by Ford himself, who is said to have noticed the car acting suspiciously near the Ford laboratories shortly before it forced his small coupe over an embankment just outside of Dearborn.

Thomas C. Wilcox, head of the local Department of Justice denied arrests already have been made in connection with the suspected plot, as reported in a morning paper.

Internal injuries. Although unofficial reports today indicated Ford's condition is giving his physicians grave concern due to the fact he is suffering from hemorrhages and may be internally injured, hospital attendants announced he slept easily through the night.

"His general condition is excellent, and he continues to improve steadily," said the hospital report early today.

The automobile king's condition is aggravated because of his advanced age and the danger of his contract.

See a Plot.
An army of Ford's secret service, private detectives and police of a half dozen Michigan cities are searching for two men and a Studebaker touring car. Occupants of the Studebaker are said to have deliberately attempted to drive Ford into the River Rouge but failing in that, rammed his Ford coupe, in which the automobile king rode alone, off a bank and near his estate and sped away as the car tumbled down an embankment.

The only official bulletin issued at the Henry Ford hospital indicated the seriousness of the automobile magnate's plight. Dr. R. D. McClure, chief Ford surgeon, revealed that America's billionaire was spitting and passing blood, both indicating internal injuries and

DI CICCIO'S ASSAILANT QUICKLY APPREHENDED

Man Who Shot Italian Vice Consul Arrested in Bridgeport Today.

New Haven, Conn., March 31.—Twenty hours after he had murderously assaulted and wounded the Di Cicco, Italian vice-consul at New Haven, John B. D'Annunzio, a man with a police record here, was arrested in Bridgeport and a few minutes later locked up here with bond by orders of Coroner Ell M. Fox.

De Cicco, at the time, was hovering between life and death at St. Raphael's hospital with small chances for recovery.

D'Annunzio was named by his victim after the shooting, which occurred late yesterday afternoon. New Haven's detective force immediately went into action. By midnight they had traced their man into Bridgeport and at 3:30 this morning they had him under arrest.

Detective Sergeant Edward Welch and Detective James Dinnan were the operators who landed the man. They found him at the home of a cousin, Gabriel Scanzello, at 238 Charles street, Bridgeport. So suddenly did the two detectives strike that there was no chance for DeAnnunzio to move.

JUDGE BOWERS' CONDITION

Judge H. O. Bowers was in much the same condition this afternoon at three o'clock as he was yesterday. It was reported at the Memorial hospital today. He is still rational, and he has not lapsed back into the state of coma he was in for seven weeks. Both the doctors and Mr. Bowers' family are much encouraged by the change in condition which the patient showed two days ago.

In Midst Of It

One of the Americans who found himself in the center of the recent pillaging of Nanking, China, by victorious Cantonese troops was Dr. Arthur J. Bowen, president of Nanking University. He escaped uninjured.

TONG SLAYERS' CASE IS AGAIN BEFORE COURT

Attorneys Argue Over Technicalities In Hartford; Rohrmayer Questions Indictment.

Hartford, Conn., March 31.—An attack on the indictment which names Ching Lung and TeeHoo Wing as slayers of the Manchester Chinese, Ong Ting Hem during the Tong war last Thursday, was made by Francis P. Rohrmayer, counsel for the accused before Judge Newell Jennings in Superior Court this morning.

This attack was followed by a plea challenging jurisdiction of the March term over the two accused. Mr. Rohrmayer claimed that as the men were bound over to the June term by Judge Raymond A. Johnson of the Manchester Town Court, the present term has no jurisdiction.

He said that the indictment was illegal because a person other than the one summoned by Sheriff Edward Dewey was in the Grand Jury room when the indictment was voted. He claimed that Henry L. Thompson, of East Granby, was summoned but that Henry Z. Thompson was the man who responded and served on the Grand Jury.

His contention. Mr. Rohrmayer's contention was that the indictment returned by the statutory eighteen, instead of the seven named in the indictment, was illegal because it was returned by a grand jury of less than the statutory number.

Rohrmayer also said that Henry Dow Chinese interpreter engaged by the state and loaned by the United States government, was in the jury room during the deliberations. He asked that the indictments be quashed on these grounds.

After motion was made State's Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn was directed by Judge Jennings either to demurrer or make formal answer for the sake of the record. He was engaged in this when court recessed.

MRS. ROWSELL GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Placed Under Probation For Stubbing Husband—Well Known Here.

Williamamit, Conn., March 31.—Mrs. Hester Rowsell was sentenced to three months in jail when she appeared in court this morning on the charge of stabbing her husband, Clarence, with a bread knife following a quarrel. Judge Foss suspended the sentence and later placed Mrs. Rowsell in charge of the local welfare bureau under six months probation.

The stabbing took place last Monday when the couple had an argument over money matters and it was necessary to take three stitches in Rowsell's wound. It was brought out in court that the couple quarrelled frequently and the judge warned them to avoid trouble in the future.

ONLY FOUR KILLED IN MINE EXPLOSION

Most Unusual Blast—Nearly 300 Men at Work at the Time.

Ehrentfeld, Pa., March 31.—State and federal mine inspectors today began an investigation of the explosion in the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Company's mine here, which they termed one of the most unusual on record.

Although 295 miners were at work, only four were killed and four injured. The others escaped through rear entries and airshafts.

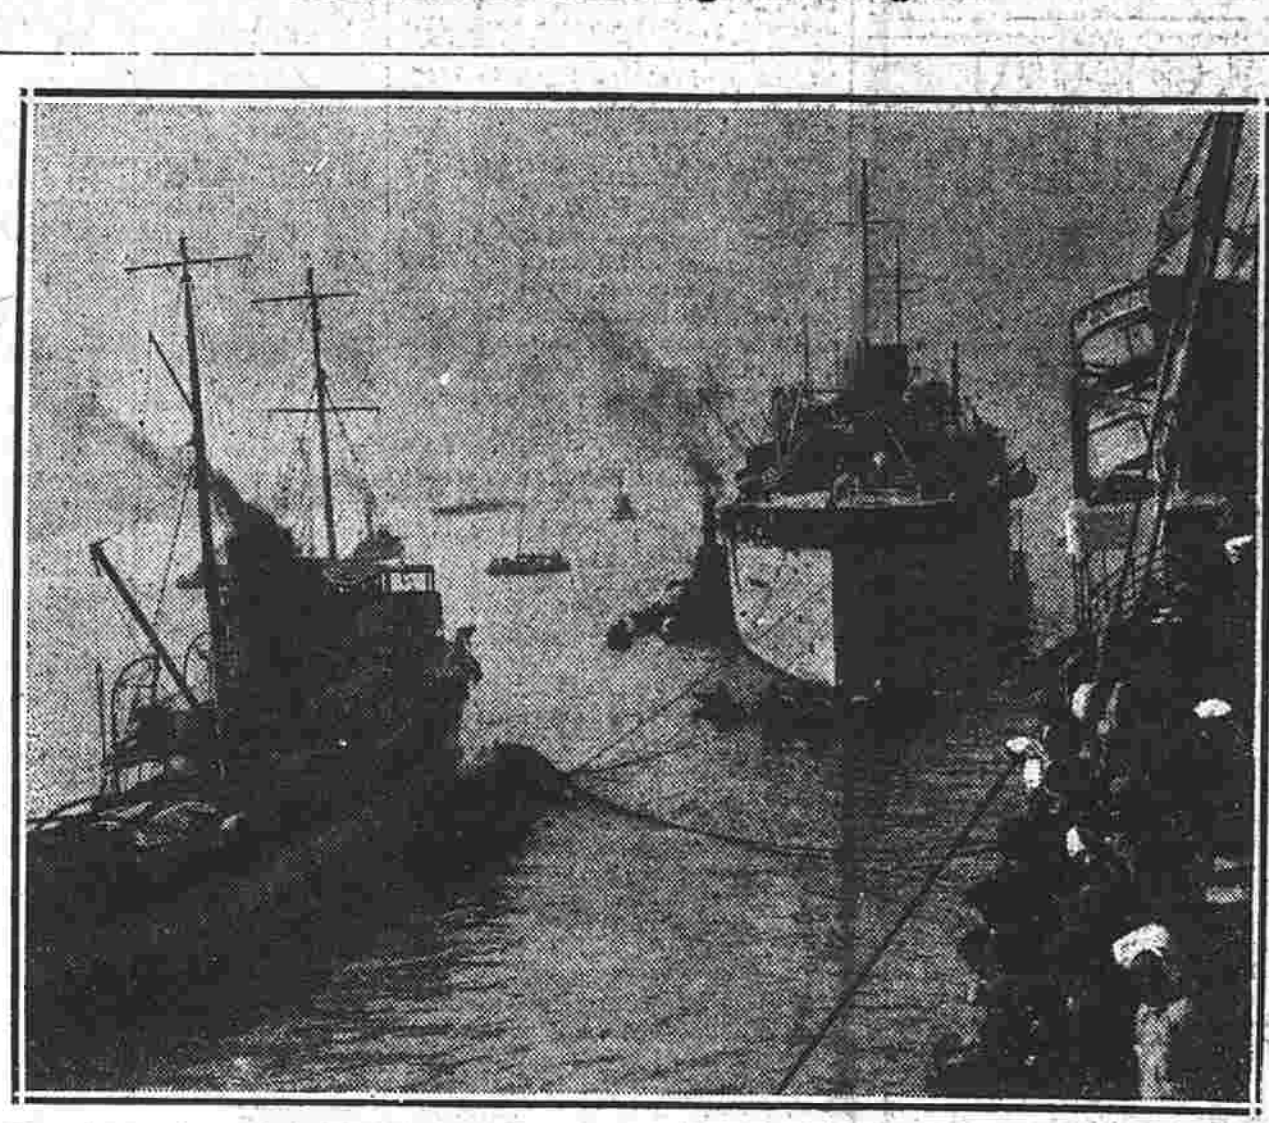

A string of thirty-three mine cars running wild down a 2,000 foot incline inside the mine, tore insulation from electric wires and ignited an accumulation of dust, causing the explosion.

There is always a very abundant supply of water in the reservoir, and as the Eighth district is growing rapidly the trouble has been with the size of the main. Engineers say that this addition will give the north end sufficient pressure for fire purposes and domestic use for years to come.

The picture shows the army transport Chaumont as it arrived in Shanghai with its cargo of 1200 United States marines. The marines are now protecting the foreign settlement there. The photograph was taken by a passenger on the President Jefferson, and part of the Jefferson and several passengers are visible in the lower right hand corner of the picture.

New England To Make Bid For Share Of Tourist Trade

Boston, Mass., March 31.—Forty million persons will take their summer vacations in automobiles during the coming season and the bulk of tourist travel will be in the northeast, R. E. Singer, club service manager of the American Automobile Association, declared today, addressing the New England recreational conference, held under the auspices of the New England Council. The value of the tourist dollar was stressed.

Need for more publicly owned recreational land in New England pointed out by P. L. Buttrick, secretary of the Connecticut Forestry Association. In New England only one-half of one per cent of the land area is publicly owned, he said.

Summer visitors to New England expect fresh eggs and vegetables and they constitute one of the best markets for farm products, said Dr. A. W. Gilbert, Massachusetts commissioner of agriculture. Edward W. Rickard, of Poland Springs, Me., said that no section of America has a greater variety of attractions for the vacationist than New England. He told of the advantages of New England as a winter recreational resort.

NEW BRITAIN FIRM NOT TO INTERFERE WITH PRESENT LAW TO LAY NEW PIPES

Manchester Water Company Awards Contract For "Booster" Job.

The Manchester Water company this afternoon awarded the contract for the laying of 7000 feet of 12-inch water mains to Contractor Joseph Battaglia of New Britain. According to the terms of the contract the work is to be completed in 35 working days. Eight contractors figured on the job.

The new main is to be of heavy grade cast iron pipe and is manufactured and shipped to Manchester from Alabama. This is by far the largest addition the Water company has made to its plant since its organization.

Parade Old Main. As previously stated in The Herald, the 12 inch main will be laid from the point on Lydall street near the Coleman farm to Main street. It will parallel the present 8 inch main. Both will be supplied by a 16 inch pipe which runs all the way from the reservoir to the Coleman farm. The iron pipe is expected to arrive here any day and just as soon as it does the contractor will begin the work. Surveyor Olmstead of East Hartford will supervise the laying of the main.

At North Elm and Oakland streets, T joints will be put in so as to provide for future development. North Elm street at a point near the Fish property is the highest spot in the Water company's system. During the summer months when there is a heavy draught on the water it is impossible to get water to these high points. This trouble will be overcome.

Plenty of Water There is always a very abundant supply of water in the reservoir, and as the Eighth district is growing rapidly the trouble has been with the size of the main. Engineers say that this addition will give the north end sufficient pressure for fire purposes and domestic use for years to come.

Favorable Reports The following favorable reports were tabled for calendar and printing in the House today: Increasing the amount which the state may pay when cattle are killed because of bovine tuberculosis to $150 a head on ordinary stock, and $200 a head on pure bred stock, providing for an increase from 25 cents to 50 cents in fees received by town clerks as fees for issuing fishing licenses; establishing protective laws for water fowl at Bantam

Doctors at Beside All Night Watching the King of Rumania.

Berlin, March 31.—King Ferdinand of Rumania has been stricken with grippe and his condition is steadily growing worse, according to word from Bucharest today. Doctors were at the bedside all night.

Court circles are frankly pessimistic over his chances of recovery. The physicians confirm that the intestinal cancer from which the king has been suffering for some time is getting worse.

JOINT ACTION IN CHINA NOT FAVORED HERE

Coolidge Fears "Big Stick" Policy May Set Spark to Mighty Conflagration in the East.

Washington, March 31.—The question of whether the American government will abandon its independent position in China and join with Great Britain and Japan in making a strong protest to the Chinese Nationalists over the Nanking outrage—with a threat of punitive measures in the background—was put squarely up to the State Department today.

The British government has been rather urgent in its invitation to the United States to make a common case of the Nanking incident, and Minister MacMurray at Peking has given it his endorsement, it was learned today.

Policy Discussed. There was a meeting between the American, British and Japanese ministers in Peking yesterday at which the policy was thoroughly discussed. MacMurray cabled a long report on it to the state department, and is said to have recommended joint action.

President's View. Both President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg are understood, however, to be reluctant to ride with the British as far as the British evidently want to go. While the American government has already lodged a strong protest with the Chinese government, and there are over the Nanking incident, and at the proper time will demand reparations for American losses suffered there, officials here are disinclined to believe that anything will be gained at this time by brandishing a "big stick" under Cantonese noses.

Delicate Situation. The situation is regarded here as extremely and gravely delicate. Although momentarily quiet, anti-foreign sentiment is increasing so rapidly throughout all of China that any spark may set off a series of Nanking incidents, and there are still hundreds of Americans in the interior of China far beyond reach of the guns of any warship. The precipitate or abrupt action at this time on the part of the powers, acting in unison, might set off that spark.

GRAY'S PALS ADMIT THEY AIDED IN PLOT

Helped Snyder Slayer to Get Rid of His Blood-Stained Vest.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 31.—Admission by Haddon Gray and Henry Platt that they conspired with Snyder to murder Gray in the blood-stained vest and other clothing brought back after the murder of Albert Snyder, in Queens County, N. Y., featured the Syracuse investigation of the Snyder murder case this afternoon.

This startling evidence was brought out after Gray and Platt had been grilled at police headquarters here by New York and local detectives. Another "mystery witness" was arrested today. His name was not revealed.

Fresh Reports Of Anti-Foreign Demonstrations

Refugee Ships Continue to Be Fired Upon—Cantonese Sack Chinkiang After Foreigners Leave—U. S. Marines on Duty Near French Concession Where Attacks Were Made Yesterday.

Shanghai, March 31.—While new reports of anti-foreign demonstrations in the provinces come in, there is increased apprehension here today as the result of the mob attacks upon the French concessions last night.

Refugee ships plying the Yangtze are still subjected to fire and there are many reports of pillage by the Nationalists.

The Cantonese are reported to have entered Chinkiang after its evacuation by foreigners and to have sacked the town. The American and British consuls were reported to have been pursued by hostile crowds who threw stones at them.

It is reported that American property in Nanking has been sacked and pillaged.

Probes in Progress. Investigations were in progress today concerning the mob attacks on the French concession barricades last night, reports having been received that Nationalist soldiers participated in these attacks.

There is considerable apprehension here regarding the ability of the French to protect their concession and the Americans and other foreigners resident there.

United States Marines have been placed on duty at the barricades between the French concession and the international settlement and the French authorities have agreed that if serious trouble breaks out the Americans marines may enter to protect American property.

No Casualties. As far as is known officially there are no known casualties from the mob attacks on the French barricades last night, but there is an unconfirmed report that several Chinese were killed by the volleys which the Annamite troops fired over the heads of the children who gathered before the mobs. It is feared that this report may be used by agitators to spur the Chinese on to retaliation.

One hopeful sign is seen by the foreigners here in a report that General Chiang Kai Shek has taken strong measures to put down disorders. It is reported that 300 have been ordered executed by Chiang Kai Shek for participating in disorders in a suburban area.

Twenty Nationalist soldiers of Chekiang province who were driven from their homes by the recent fighting in that district, taking refuge in Shanghai, have been evacuated to Ningpo. The authorities feared trouble if the Chekiangese remained in Shanghai.

Kuo Tai-chi, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and a close friend of Eugene Chen, the Cantonese foreign minister, has assumed the post of commissioner of foreign affairs in Shanghai.

Labor union representatives are collecting funds—almost by force, to pay the wages of the Cantonese soldiers.

Eighteen hundred Chinese marines have arrived from Fokien.

Britain's Demands. London, March 31.—The British cabinet, stiffening its Chinese policy during the past twenty-four hours, has issued a demand for reparations for the Nanking attacks, it was learned today.

The cabinet has also decided upon measures to enforce these demands if they are not met immediately.

The demands, it is understood, will be presented to Chiang Kai Shek and not to Eugene Chen, Nationalist foreign minister at Nanking.

Discussions are going on among the powers with regard to united action being taken to support demands for Nanking reparations.

Looking Continues. Reports to the foreign office today state that the attitude towards foreigners in Nanking is rapidly becoming more and more hostile and conditions are now so unsafe that foreigners can no longer handle the Nanking fund. Looting of war reparations continues and foreign ships passing Nanking are continually fired on.

The British government, it was stated semi-officially, is firmly re-asserting its position and has no intention of withdrawing from the situation in China. It is no longer a matter for academic discussion.

It was stated today that the indignities suffered by women in Nanking were of such character that Sir Austen Chamberlain was unable to publicly report regarding them in the House of Commons yesterday.

Marines Landed. Hong Kong, March 31.—Marine guards have been landed at Fochow and Fukien in order to prevent the Nationalists from reaching the foreign quarters of those cities, it was reported here today.

Preparations are in progress for the evacuation of foreigners from Fochow and Fukien.

FOREIGNERS LEAVING. Washington, March 31.—Evacuation of Americans from all parts of China is continuing, according to advices to the Navy Department from Admiral C. G. Williams, commanding the Asiatic squadron. The destroyer Pillsbury has been dispatched from Shanghai to Tsing-Tao in Shanghai province at the request of W. Roderick Dorsey, American consul there. Admiral Williams advised this morning. There is a small American community here.

PRIESTS TELL STORY. New York, March 31.—With their missions in the interior of China in the hands of the Cantonese forces, seven Roman Catholic missionaries of the American Missionary Society, are in Kowloon, near Hong Kong, awaiting developments. Rev. Edward Hughes, director of missions of the Holy Name Society, told International News Service today.

Four other members of the Dominican order, their missions seized or looted, are back in America awaiting word to return when the turmoil in China ceases.

The seven Dominican priests in Kowloon include Rev. H. A. Burke, New Haven, Conn., Rev. J. M. Barrett, Lowell, Mass., and Brother Jordan Wearnack, Providence, R. I. The four returning Dominican priests brought back a thrilling tale of escape through the Cantonese army when the southern Chinese troops were sweeping through toward Shanghai. The four were the Rev. Paul Curran, of McKeesport, Pa., superior of the Roman Catholic Missions in China, stationed at Kienning-Pu; Rev. B. C. Werner, of Sharon, Pa., in charge at Kienyang; Rev. G. R. Grace, of Boston, stationed at Chungan, 270 miles from Fochow; and Rev. J. J. O'Donnell, of Boston, procurator of missions, stationed at Fochow.

Father Grace told how he and Fathers Curran, Werner and O'Donnell worked their way several hundred miles from the interior through the Cantonese lines to Hong Kong and safety. Dressed in Chinese clothing they slept in the bushes several days, hid in a rice boat on the Min river and achieved their goal.

"The Cantonese were commanding boats along the Min river and we had to travel mostly by night in our little craft," said Father Grace. "Forty miles above Hong Kong, the soldiers had thrown across a log barrier on the river letting through boats only after inspection. We thought all was lost when we came to the barrier but we approached the small opening boldly. The Cantonese without a question permitted us to glide through. Our Chinese cook who was with us said the lord had closed their eyes."

COP IN MURDER CHASE FINDS BOOZE CACHE

Stops Suspicious Looking Autoist Who Flees—Liquor In Auto.

Williamamit, Conn., March 31.—A shooting at New Haven last evening resulted today in the discovery of a liquor cache at North Westchester in the town of Colchester and then in an all-day hunt for Joseph Shurly, a farmer.

When the news of the New Haven affair reached here police were sent out to watch for suspicious cars and a lone policeman stopped a strange car with Connecticut markers to investigate. Before the policeman could get at the driver, the car sped toward Mansfield and the officer pursued in a commandeer machine. Just over the city line they came upon the car, upset and with no sign of the driver.

The car itself yielded twenty-five gallons of alcohol. Its license was that registered in the name of Joseph Shurly and when police recalled he had been arrested three weeks ago on a charge of illegal manufacture of alcohol, the called Stanton L. Briggs, a federal prohibition agent, into the case.

PARS DIVORCE. Paris, March 31.—Mrs. Oliver Carley Harrison, who was married in Baltimore on April 19, 1924, was granted a divorce today by the Seine Tribunal. She charged that her husband refused to receive her in his home. Before her marriage Mrs. Harrison was Miss Harriet Hewitt.

New Britain, Conn., March 31.—Sister Mary Boniface, for over forty-five years a nun in St. Mary's convent and teacher, died at the convent today after a short illness.

NEW BRITAIN'S QUAKE

New Britain, Conn., March 31.—State and local police today dug into records to determine what fatal results ten years ago or more. They were stirred to activity by a query received from Frank L. Berger, prosecutor of Somerset county, New Jersey, as to whether one Tom Michel was wanted here for the killing of one "Golenbeck," ten years ago.

NEW BRITAIN'S QUAKE

Records here indicated no such man as being sought by New Britain police. Then the state police were summoned into the case. Some of the veterans of the force here recalled a stabbing affair in Plainville a decade ago. With that recollection as a basis the records were being searched this afternoon in order to answer the Jersey question.

BIG BASKETBALL GAME TONIGHT

Heller Brothers Play Stafford In Third Contest; Mills In Boom.

(Special to The Herald) Rockville, March 31.—One of the biggest basketball games of the season will be played in the Rockville Town hall this evening when the Staffor...

The Heller boys will be at their home in Williams this week spending their Easter vacation from the colleges they attend. The team needs no introduction to Rockville as they played a game here earlier in the season and made a fine impression with their fast, clean manner of play.

The Staffor Five will represent Rockville and will draw a large crowd from all surrounding territory as there are many who are anxious to see the Heller boys in the final game of the season. The team has had a remarkable season and in view of the fact that they have no home floor to play or practice on, their record is one which any team might well be proud of.

The game will be followed by dancing with music furnished by the Doherty Sunshine Boys. A preliminary game with lots of pep is scheduled to start at 7:45. The following is the lineup for both teams: Heller Brothers Stafford S. Heller (Brown), Sullivan R. Heller (Brown), Pallanca M. Heller (Windham) B. Calchera H. Heller (C. A. C.) S. Calchera H. Heller (Brown) Ricci

Rockville Mills Busy Rockville's woolen and worsted mills are very busy at the present time and the good business is likely to continue during the spring and summer season. Large orders have been received by practically all the mills. Only recently the Saxony mill, branch of the James J. Regan Manufacturing company, has started running after having been shut down for quite some time. Whatever the situation may be in other woolen centers, it can be safely stated that Rockville is enjoying a period of genuine prosperity due to the boom in the woolen industry.

Common Council Meets At the regular meeting of the common council held Tuesday evening with Mayor John F. Cameron presiding, a petition signed by about a dozen names was presented, asking that Rhell street be accepted by the city as one of the city streets. This street runs north from Union street, the second street west of Orchard. There are quite a few houses on the street now and the Manchester Construction Co. is erecting a residence for John Moses on the east side of the street. The petition was referred to the public welfare committee for investigation.

Concert Program A very interesting program has been received for the concert to be given by the Rev. Edith Marshall Clarke of Boston, assisted by Miss Maude Turner, soprano, also of Boston. As mentioned in Wednesday's Herald, this concert is being sponsored by the Rockville Girls' club and will be held in Prescott hall April 7.

The French Lyre, mentioned above, has never been played in this country before. The program will begin at 8 o'clock. Personal Rev. David Kelly of Ireland, who is on a year's leave of absence and is during that time assistant pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal church, of South Manchester, will preach on Friday evening at the

Rockville Episcopal church. It is hoped that many will be out to hear Rev. Kelly. The service starts at 7:30. The third and fourth degrees will be conferred on a class of candidates at the Vernon Grange on Friday evening. Following the meeting there will be a social and refreshment. MAIN ST. BUILDING FOR AUTO BUSINESS

Clarence Barlow to Erect $5,000 Structure Next to Hotel Sheridan.

Clarence Barlow, vulcanizer and dealer in automobile parts, has asked for bids for a one-story building which he is to erect on property to the north of the Hotel Sheridan and adjoining that building. The cost is expected to be in the neighborhood of $5,000. Plans call for a brick structure 100 feet long and about 20 feet wide. The south wall of the building will be common to that of the Hotel Sheridan north wall. A garage is to occupy 40 feet of the rear of the basement in the new building and a basement 50 feet long will be in the front.

MANAGER FOUND DEAD; POLICE HINT MURDER

Bottle Found Near Body in Hotel Room—Born in Worcester.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 31.—The coroner and the district attorney's office today were investigating the mysterious death of Howard R. Meadel, 24, employe of J. Lee Fay to his sister, Miss Mary Elizabeth Fay. The lots have frontage on Auburn and Glenwood streets.

80 MILLION FOR GEMS

Washington.—More money each year spent by the American people for precious stones. Last year the gems imported were worth $80,651,281, exceeding by five million the 1925 total. Diamond imports alone during 1926 came to $51,000,000. Pearls were next, at about five and a half million, according to government statistics.

GOOD NIGHT!

Clarendon, Tex.—Celebrating his ninety-first birthday, Col. Charles Goodnight, pioneer land owner who is known as the "Father of the Texas Panhandle," got married. His bride was Miss Corine Goodnight, pretty 26-year-old telegraph operator from Butte, Mont. The two are not related by blood. One of the largest firms of pearl dealers in Japan has built in the Grand Imperial Shrine of Ise a miniature pagoda in which more than 10,000 pearls are used. This monument was dedicated to the "souls" of pearl oysters, which the Japanese believe, must be honored when they are robbed of their pearls.

THIS DOG KEEPS SHORT WORKING DAY HOURS.

The Post Office department doesn't have union men working for it, but August Simonson's helper has all the characteristics of a union member. The helper is a dog belonging to a resident on the carrier's route and accompanies Mr. Simonson on his trip on the west side of Main street and south of the Center. The dog goes around the route in the morning but in the afternoon, for reasons of his own, hardly recognizes the mail carrier. The dog has been accompanying Mr. Simonson for several years and is at the Laurel street mailbox waiting for the mail carrier every morning. In the afternoon if the dog sees the mail carrier going along his route he merely wags his tail but makes no effort to go with him. He has worked his short "full" day.

SCENT PLOT IN CRASH OF HENRY FORD'S CAR

(Continued from Page 1) possible rupture of internal organs. This belief was heightened by the fact that his physicians fixed splints to Ford's chest and back because of the pain he suffered in breathing. Awaiting Ford. The Studebaker car and its two occupants lay in wait for the automobile king outside his Dearborn laboratory in a driveway. The last thing Ford saw before he was learned from a source close to the millionaire. The car was parked there and the occupants halted Ford as he drove up to his office building in Dearborn. Ford worked in his office an hour and when he left the Studebaker was still parked out side. The auto king, according to information reaching International News Service, started for his estate a mile and a half away, and just inside the Detroit city limits, as he rolled along, Ford became aware that the big Studebaker was following him. Just before he reached the River Rouge, which flanks his estate, Ford noticed the big car gaining on him. The auto king's little coupe, however, was equipped with extra gears and capable of going 75 miles an hour. When Ford realized the Studebaker was actually chasing him, it was said, he "stepped on" the Ford and it responded just as he reached the approach to the bridge over the River Rouge. At that moment, a fender of the Studebaker scraped his coupe but without damage. Crashes Into Car. Once clear of the bridge, Ford immediately slowed down, believing the Studebaker was occupied by joy-riders and swerved to the side to let the pursuing car pass. The Studebaker then shot forward at terrific speed, crashing into the left rear fender of Ford's coupe, turned his car sideways and mowed it over the curbstone. Before Ford could shut off the power the coupe plunged down the embankment, struck a tree and finally halted.

POLICE COURT

Case of Truancy Judge R. A. Johnson in the Manchester police court this morning made it plain to Edward Jezeski of Lockwood street that he must send his children to school. He has several children but the charge against him was for failure to send his daughter, Bernice to school. Attendance Officer James Duffey and a teacher in the Harding school, Miss Mary M. Young, were the witnesses. The girl had lost several days in January and February and ten days in March. The attendance officer had complained to Jezeski without any result. In his own behalf the man said this morning that he had been out of work for several weeks and had been out of town in the effort to find work. His wife was forced to go to work and Bernice was kept at home to care for the younger children. Judge Johnson realized that imposing a fine would be only an added hardship to the family, and after giving the man some sound advice he continued the case for a month.

Professor Rogers is a graduate of the South Manchester High school, class of 1915. He later went to Tufts and was graduated a high honor man in his class. While in college he was a basketball player and in his last year captained the varsity team. He was popularly known here as "Ed." He went to Williston academy in East Hampton, Mass., on graduation, and spent two years there as professor of Latin.

MARKERS FOR VETS' GRAVES

Saybrook, Conn., March 31.—Work has been resumed here on the federal plan to place marble markers on the graves of all Indian and Revolutionary War soldiers in the shore regions between New Haven and New London. Pieretti Brothers, of Centerbrook, are the federal agents in the work which was started four years ago, and today they received a carload of the markers to be placed in cemeteries in Killingworth, Saybrook, Westbrook and Winthrop. The markers contain the name of the soldier with the year of birth and year of death.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

BUILDS A COLD-PROOF DWELLING.

By ARTHUR N. PACK, President, American Nature Ass'n.

Cold winds may drone across the marshes on a bleak January day; snow may swirl over the fields like dust, heaping high in the fence corners.

He begins work on the dwelling in early autumn. The house is built of whatever material may be at hand; marsh grass, reeds, cattails, wild rice or moss from a lake bottom.

In building it the water rodents clear a space all around, perhaps to save carrying material from a greater distance, perhaps to have an open yard across which enemies may not sink unseen.

HIGHWAY DEPT. COMPLETES 74 MILES OF ROAD

Seventy-four miles of Connecticut highway were reconstructed or resurfaced during the six months period between July 1, 1926 and January 1, 1927, according to semi-annual figures made public today by Highway Commissioner John A. MacDonald. The figures represent the work done by the highway department during the first half of the present fiscal year which will end on July 1, 1927. It is interesting to note that the number of miles of highway reconstructed during the six months period is comparable to the mileage between New Haven and New York.

The bulk of the highway work done during the half year was in the resurfacing of 27 miles of concrete roadway, the other work consisting of new macadam and gravel road reconstructions and resurfacing over previously laid foundations. Four miles of the concrete work took place on the Post Road between New Haven and Milford, where the department is doubling the width of the highway to facilitate the movement of the heavy post road traffic.

UNUSUAL BARGAIN BILL AT THE STATE TONIGHT

Eight Acts of Vaudeville and "The Potters" With W. C. Fields on Program; "Convoy" Coming.

For its Bargain Day bill tonight the State theater is presenting an unusually good program, both on the screen and on the stage. One of the big pictures on the program, "The Potters," will accompany eight acts of select vaudeville to give State patrons a real entertainment treat.

For the rest of the week the State will present five acts of vaudeville with the picture, and on Sunday the big Navy production, "Convoy," will start a three-day run. This picture has been shown in only one other theater, in the country so far, and Manchester fans will see the first-run exhibition.

Tonight's treat should draw a full house to the State. The eight acts are about the best that could be engaged and the picture itself occupied a New York theater for some weeks as the star attraction itself.

WALSH IS NOBLEMAN IN CIRCLE FEATURE

Has Leading Role in "Count of Luxembourg"; Two Features Tonight and Friday.

George Walsh steps out of his regular line to give Circle movie fans the treat of their lives with his characterization of "Count of Luxembourg" in the picture of the same name which is running with "Stolen Pleasures" at that theater tonight and tomorrow.

As the Count George is a marvel. Usually his roles have been that of heroic footballers, cowboys, prize-fighters and cops, but this picture shows that he can be a polished devil with the women just as well as any of them. His work is wonderful when it is considered this is the first role of this kind he has ever appeared in, but from his performance it would seem that he had been doing this sort of thing all through his career.

LOCAL SOLOISTS FOR THE CHORAL CONCERT

Only Outside Talent on April 21 Will Be Boston Symphony Ensemble.

No outside talent, with the exception of the Boston Symphony orchestra ensemble of 12 pieces, will be heard at the concert of the Men's Choral club in High school hall on April 21. It was announced today. Solo parts will be taken by Edward P. Taylor, tenor, and Robert Gordon, baritone.

This will be the first concert of the club in which outside soloists have not appeared. The reason for the arrangement is said to be the fact that the symphony ensemble give a major part of the program. Even aside from the ensemble numbers by the twelve Boston artists, the program should be excellent. The club has been in rehearsal ever since its last concert and the choral and solo numbers will have been brought to a high degree of perfection by the evening of the concert.

MARRIAGE BUSINESS HERE SLOWING UP

Less Than One License Per Thousand Issued in Manchester This Year.

Fewer than one marriage license to each thousand of population of this town has been issued by Town Clerk Samuel J. Turkington during the first three months of this year. It was learned today. Only 18 licenses have been issued.

In January, ten licenses were issued but the total fell off to six in February and with one day still left in this month, only two have been applied for. The condition reflects on business to some extent, for young married couples usually go into extensive purchases when setting up housekeeping.

LOCAL SOLOISTS FOR THE CHORAL CONCERT

Only Outside Talent on April 21 Will Be Boston Symphony Ensemble.

No outside talent, with the exception of the Boston Symphony orchestra ensemble of 12 pieces, will be heard at the concert of the Men's Choral club in High school hall on April 21. It was announced today. Solo parts will be taken by Edward P. Taylor, tenor, and Robert Gordon, baritone.

This will be the first concert of the club in which outside soloists have not appeared. The reason for the arrangement is said to be the fact that the symphony ensemble give a major part of the program. Even aside from the ensemble numbers by the twelve Boston artists, the program should be excellent. The club has been in rehearsal ever since its last concert and the choral and solo numbers will have been brought to a high degree of perfection by the evening of the concert.

REV. PETERS RETURNS TO EPISCOPAL FAITH

Friends in town have received news to the effect that Rev. Richard C. Peters preached his farewell sermon at the Highland Congregational church in Lowell, Mass., last Sunday. Rev. Mr. Peters, it will be recalled was for several years pastor of Second Congregational church here and his sons, Gordon and Elwood attended the local schools. He has held the pastorate of the Lowell church since leaving here and tendered his resignation soon after the death of Mrs. Peters. This terminates Mr. Peters' connection with Congregationalism. He has returned to his childhood faith and changed his creed, having been confirmed recentl; at St. Paul's Cathedral Boston at confirmation services held by Bishop Slattery, and received holy communion at St. Anne's church in Lowell. He will for the present study and prepare himself for the Episcopal ministry.

THE LIFE OF CHRIST

The Spirit of the Kingdom

To ten of the twelve disciples, indignant because James and John had sought special favor and power, Jesus proclaims the lesson that in His Kingdom greatness lies in ministry and service. (Matthew XX :24-28)

Jesus exemplifies His mission of service by restoring sight to two blind men near Jericho, as a great company follows Him. (Matthew XX :29-34)

Coming to Bethany to the home of Mary and Martha, Jesus found them in mourning over the death of their brother, Lazarus (John XI :1-24)

Jesus, proclaiming himself the resurrection and the life, bade them take away the stone from the grave of Lazarus and calling, "Lazarus, come forth," restored him to life. (John XI :25-44)

The foreign districts are shown as they front on the Bund, Shanghai's most famous thoroughfare, and the Whangpoo river. The Bund traverses the river front from the French settlement at the extreme left to the Garden Bridge across the mouth of Soochow creek, marked by the number 14. Stately buildings crowd its entire length. Canton road, Foochow road, Hankow road, Peking road and others intersect it at intervals. Within the foreign settlements thousands of refugees from the interior of China have sought safety from riot, pillage and murder.

Station Draws Big Class As A Music Teacher

Cleveland—One of the most successful applications of radio for instruction of students is the music appreciation course broadcast by WTAM of Cleveland in co-operation with the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra and the local schools.

Lessons are broadcast on Monday and Wednesday afternoons and are arranged in a logical study course. The Cleveland orchestra concerts form the backbone of the course and explanatory talks aid the students to understand and appreciate the music.

The talks are concerned with the compositions to be played, composers and instruments used in the orchestra. There are five symphony concerts during the season and the children have a better understanding of these concerts because of the talks which precede them.

Started as Experiment
The system in use in Cleveland is the result of the work of Alice Keith, formerly connected with the educational department of a large phonograph company but now with the Cleveland department of education.

In Cleveland she realized the possibilities of radio and last year made her first experimental broadcast of a lesson. The experiment was successful.

Herbert D. Bixby, superintendent of 125 elementary schools in Cleveland, says of the lessons: "The amount and quality of this educational material will increase and improve and soon to the pen and textbook will be added as an indispensable tool of the teacher—the radio."

Students Are Interested
The climax of the course will be a music memory contest in which all students have an opportunity to participate. The contest acts as an incentive to further interest the students in the lessons.

It is no longer necessary for the students to travel to an auditorium to hear the symphony concerts as each room is equipped with a loud speaker and the talks and programs are a part of the regular class room work.

In addition to the Cleveland schools which benefit by the radio music course, many schools in small neighboring cities have made use of the opportunity offered through WTAM and have arranged for their students to listen in on the entire series.

WAPPING

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavorers, held their business meeting last Sunday evening after the prayer meeting. The following officers and committee were elected: President, Ralph M. Collins; vice-president, Miss Edith Lane; secretary, Miss Lois Stiles; treasurer, Miss Ellen Foster; chairman of the prayer meeting committee, Mrs. Raymond Geer; missionary committee, Miss Marlon Hills, and of the social committee, Ward Stiles.

C. Leslie King who was taken to the Hartford hospital last week, underwent an operation for appendicitis at that institution the last of the week. He is reported as getting along well.

The two-act comedy entitled "Mr. Bob," given by the young people of St. John's church of Rockville last Tuesday evening at the Wapping Center school hall, was a decided success. All took their parts exceptionally well. This was given under the auspices of the Federated Workers of this place.

Rev. Truman H. Woodward spoke at the Rockville Methodist Episcopal church at the Lenten service on Tuesday and Thursday evenings of this week.

The Young People's society of Christian Endeavorers will hold their social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Collins on this evening, March 31.

PUT LAST TOUCHES ON S. M. E. PROPERTY

Retaining Wall, Tennis Courts, Shade Trees to Finish Off Church Setting.

The finishing touches to the property of the South Methodist church are being put on this week. A retaining wall of rough field stone, the same material of which the church is built, is being erected between the church property and the Cheney property on the north and west sides.

The wall is stepped to conform with the grade on the other property and at the angle formed by its two sides a trellis from four to five feet high will be erected. The mason work is being done by Case workmen and is in charge of Michael Gorman. Stone is being drawn from the Bolton quarries.

Plans for improvements in the rear of the church call for a tennis court for which the foundation has already been put down. Several shade trees will be planted when the improvements are completed. The tennis court will be so constructed so that it may be used for volley ball.

LAST week scores of motorists accepted our invitation to take command of a Commander. We are advertising to the public through its hands and feet—hands on the wheel—feet on the throttle, clutch and brakes.

There are no strings to this simple test-it-yourself plan. You take a Commander. You drive it—choose your own time, your own route. You judge this Big Six Brougham by the way it performs in your own hands. No obligation except to tell your friends. You can't help talking about your experience, for The Commander does all that we claim.

It's a "Ball of Fire"

Slip behind the wheel of The Commander. Prove for yourself, as we have time and again on Studebaker's 800-acre Proving Ground, the astonishing margin of Big Six superiority. Idle along smoothly in high at 3 miles an hour. Feel it take the gas as smooth as silk—from 5 to 40 miles in 18.4 seconds.

Spirited speed on the straightaway—The Commander will do 70 actual miles per hour with ease!

Most power at its price

Such performance is startling until you remember that only seven American cars equal The Commander in rated horsepower—and they cost from $4,000 to $10,000. That's the thrill of commanding this Big Six motor—first to beat the fastest schedules of the crack Limiteds from New York to San Francisco.

Steel-built for safety

The Commander's clear vision all-steel body is swung close to the road. Positive mechanical four-wheel brakes give you instant control. Special Studebaker steering mechanism insures effortless mastery at the wheel. No wonder women find new pleasure in driving this high-spirited motor car.

Operate the exclusive Studebaker windshield, which ventilates without drafts or drenching during the hardest rainstorms.

Pullman comfort at any speed

Drive The Commander over rough roads or railroad crossings. Feel how balloon tires, snubbers, extra length springs and deep cushions give Pullman comfort. Go as fast or as far as you like—across town or across the Continent with comfort and confidence.

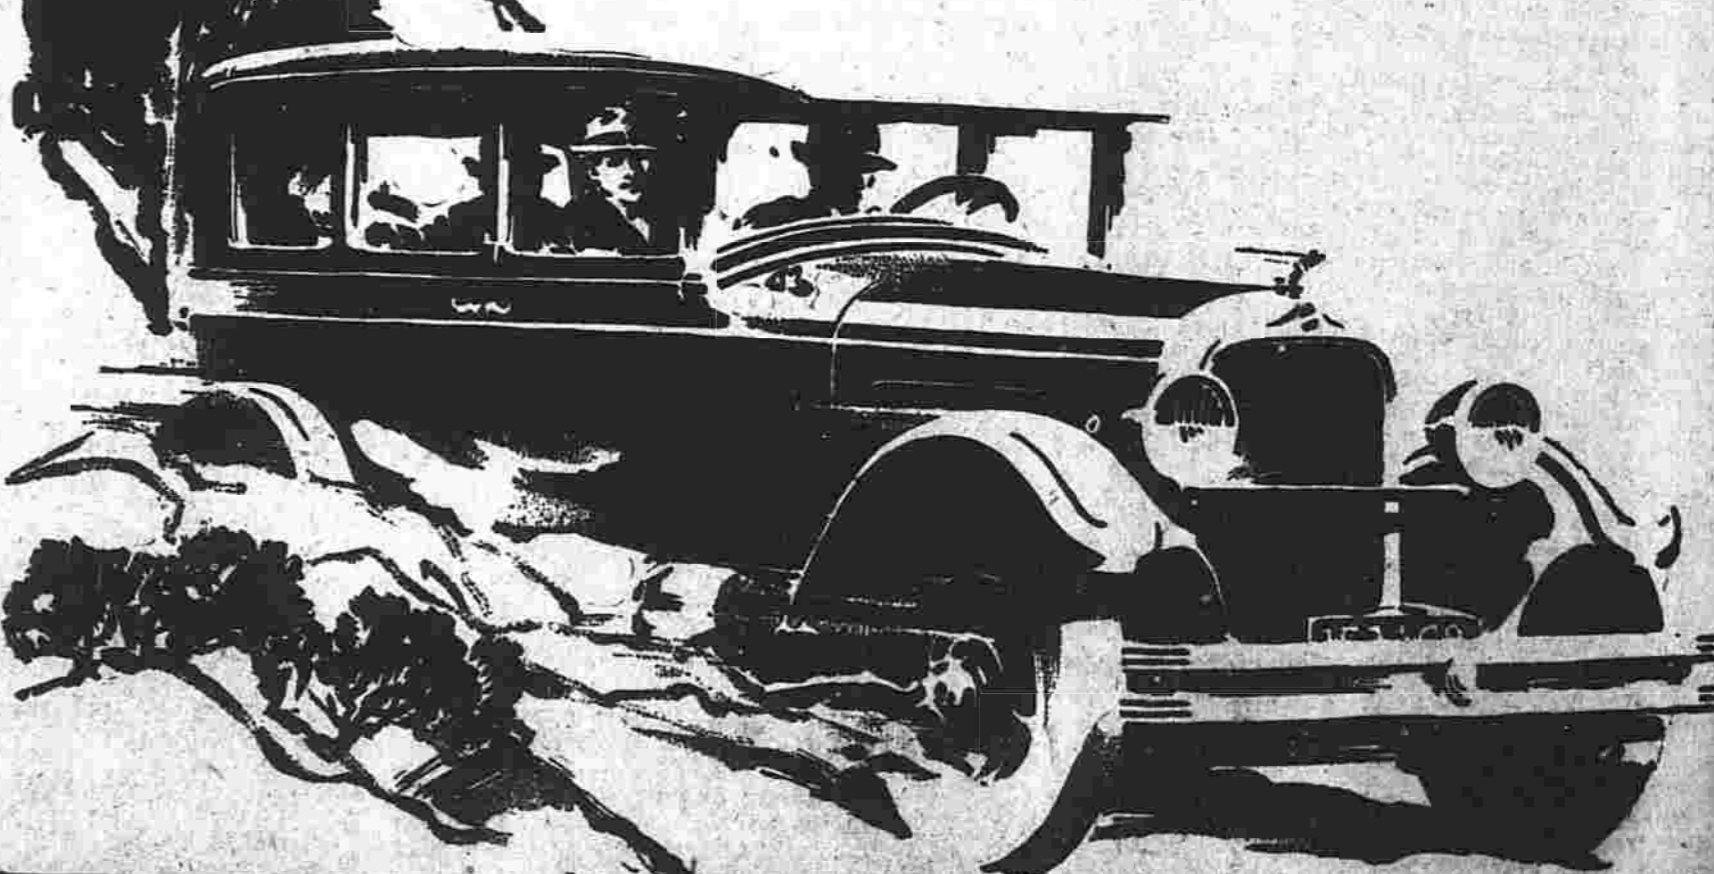

Greater One-Profit value

Come in today—your Commander is waiting for you! Note its distinctive custom beauty, its $100 worth of extra equipment without extra cost, and ask yourself what other car can offer so much for so little. Only Studebaker One-Profit manufacture and new records of production make possible such fine-car value at $1585!

The Commander is waiting for you. Try it out—no obligation.

New Radio Chain Planned

This map shows the extent to which the existing broadcasting chain has grown.

An American League of radio broadcasting is threatening to arise!

Rumblings of a new national broadcasting chain to compete favorably with the present hookup of the National Broadcasting Company are being heard in New York and Washington.

Its scope and prospects, according to reliable information, are such as to portend a situation in radio similar to that in baseball history.

Formation of the American League, combating the exclusive field of the old National League, and the further rise of several minor associations covering various sections of the country.

Several attempts toward some sort of chain broadcasting have been made in the last two years, but they seem to have declined almost as fast as they rose.

Former Attempts Decline At one time Station WHT in Chicago led the formation of a mid-west radio chain of stations which would exchange programs and do simultaneous broadcasting of advertising programs, but would not rely on the system of linking up the stations by means of telephone or telegraph wires.

Small chains have been attempted in the east, notably that under the direction of the Shepard Stores, owners of Stations WNAB and WNAC in Boston and WEAN in Providence. These, besides a station in New York and one or two more elsewhere, were to be linked up by telephone wire for simultaneous broadcasting.

That, however, is all that is known of these attempts. It was only once that an actual attempt was made to interest big broadcasters and radio advertisers in an effort to formulate a radio chain formidable enough to compete with the existing chain. That was in the summer of 1925.

The plan was to link the stations by long distance telephone wire, to sign up advertisers for definite hours, and to assure talent that would be equal if not superior to the artists on the pioneer chain.

It fell through. It was learned that such a chain, of about 18 stations, would cost about $500,000 to build up and that it would take two years to accomplish. There was the difficulty of getting exclusive telephone lines from station to station, for each link required two wires cleared of all other transmission, with the installation of repeaters, or vacuum tube amplifiers, at strategic points along the lines.

If the telephone company could not supply the lines, one of the telegraph companies could. But that would take time, perhaps additional wires would have to be strung, repeater stations built and double sets of wires kept clear for this purpose.

Lining Up Advertisers This makes establishment of a new broadcasting chain quite a problem, costly and long drawn out. But the word is that the present scheme of organizing a new chain is taking all this into consideration and is trying to obtain contingent advertising contracts for time on the air enough to guarantee return of its original investment plus a reasonable profit.

Granted the difficulties of transmission can be overcome and exclusive linking lines obtained between stations, the success of such a venture depends on its ability to provide at least as high class a series of programs as the present chain offers. Otherwise it is doomed to failure.

Before the American League in baseball arose, a little over 25 years ago, the National League had gone along smoothly secure in its exclusive field. The American League from the first was successful because it woke up the baseball world.

Must Show Improvement Under the leadership of Ban Johnson, the American League installed improvements in comforts and other facilities for the fans, and especially revamped the rules of baseball so as to make it a clean, upright and dignified sport. It brought the slumbering National League to its feet and made baseball the leading entertainment in America.

This is no insinuation against the present radio broadcasting chain, for it, unlike the old National League, is giving us the finest programs on the air today. But it shows what the possibilities are in the field of broadcasting.

It also shows that, to be successful, a new competing chain must have, at the very least, as high grade and formidable a series of programs as the existing chain provides.

CONGRESSMEN IN BIG EXODUS TO SEE THE WORLD

More Than 200 Senators and Representatives Off on Foreign Trips.

Washington — With legislative worries laid aside, Congress has literally started out to see the world.

More than 200 Senators and Representatives, it is estimated, have either started or will make trips to foreign lands or outlying possessions before Congress meets again in December.

The exodus this spring and summer will set a new record, in the opinion of veteran members. The Orient and Europe are the magnets for most of the travelers, with many choosing to invade the trouble zone in Central America.

In deference to public criticism, however, Congress has virtually abolished "junketing" trips, most of them digging into their private resources for funds which their salaries or the government will not supply.

How They Travel A large number will travel on Army transports, but war department officials say that members are paying their own passage. They are granted the same rate as Army troops, which is considerably less than the usual steamship rates.

"I believe that more than half of the members will make trips abroad this year," said Rep. Porter, (R) of Pennsylvania chairman of the house committee on foreign affairs.

"If I had my way, every Congressman would be required to spend a part of his time traveling abroad and familiarizing himself with the world problems which he must face during sessions.

"International relationships are becoming more important than ever and Congress ought to have first hand information."

Traveling abroad, even on a government expense account, is expensive business, according to one Congressman, who has made official trips to Europe.

"I was allowed traveling cost and $9 a day for expenses to Geneva," he said. "This alone was insufficient to pay my hotel bills at the prevailing high prices. As I was part of an official party I thought it my duty to do a little entertaining. One party cost me $220."

Congress recently took cognizance of the high cost of living in Geneva, where the hotel business has boomed since the League of Nations named the Swiss city as its headquarters. The usual limiting figure upon expenses of official delegates was raised.

Beginning April 4 Manchester Girl Scouts will be favored by a visit from Miss Hedlund, regional director, who will remain three days. While here she will be the houseguest of Mrs. Charles Holman of Summit street. All members of the council are invited to a tea at the home of Mrs. Holman Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock to meet Miss Ruth Hedlund. Her visit will surely help in the advance of scouting for girls in Manchester as she is an official of experience and has a perfect knowledge of the subject in all its forms.

There will be a meeting of all the troops in town at the School Street Rec Tuesday evening at seven o'clock. Miss Hedlund will be present and talk to the girls. All scouts should make a special effort to be present in uniform, if they have one, if not come just the same.

The annual meeting of Girl Scout officers Association will be held at the Harriet Brown Tea Room Wednesday evening. Miss Hedlund will be present and will be glad to help the captains with any problems they may have to present.

Troop Three The patrol contest has been won by Patrol 2, although Patrol 1 had been in the lead until the last meeting. The final points were: Patrol 2, 395; Patrol 1, 345. The banquet will be planned and served by Patrol 1, Friday, and although the date is April 1, a substantial repast will be provided. At the banquet the patrol leaders and corporals will be elected to serve until the first regular meeting in the fall, and the following badges will be presented: Tenderfoot Pin to Luella Larder and Gladys Abbott;

The second class tests passed were: Observation, Genevieve Eddy, Luella Larder, Gladys Abbott; Nature, Bessie Forbes. The first class tests passed were: Compass, Dorothy Holland, Grace Gliglio; Signaling, Grace Gliglio.

After April 1, Emily Smith will leave Troop Three to become lieutenant of Troop Five. There will then be five former members of Troop Three who are lieutenants in Manchester troops. Seventy-three girls have been registered as members of Troop Three since its organization in the fall of 1920.

Troop Four Wilhelmina McGrath and Jessie Bellamy passed the cooking test at the meeting Tuesday evening. Dorothy Fraser brought a chocolate cake which was sampled and approved by all the girls present. In the absence of Captain Stays, Lieut. Powers took charge of the meeting. Instead of the regular meeting next Tuesday evening the troop will attend the joint meeting to be held at the School Street Recreation center.

Troop Six The weekly meeting of Troop 6 was held March 23 at the Manchester Green school from 4:15 to 5:45. Until time for the meeting the Scouts assembled around the piano and sang songs.

Opening exercises were conducted by Eleanor Wallace using the Morse-Kemp format. The business meeting was called to order by Chairman Ella Peckham. The roll was called and dues were collected. The minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted. Four of the five girls were present at the last Bugle and Drum practice. Report of the play committee was given by the chairman. Selling of candy, and the reward to be given to the patrol making the most profits were discussed. The business meeting adjourned at four-thirty to continue with special instruction.

Captain Lord instructed a group in Nature Study, outlined for Second Class Scouts. Dorothy Jean, Betty Bowen, Olga Silverstein, Louise Anderson, Belta Hubbard and Allice Frederick passed this test. Lieutenant Wilcox instructed a group on signallings and teaching the alphabet before using the flag. After these classes the three patrols took turns dramatizing the Scout Laws.

All formed in the good-night circle and sang Taps, followed by Girl Scout prayer given by the captain. You may have escaped sickness this past winter but nevertheless feel tired and listless. Now is the time to take Peptona to overcome that feeling and be yourself up. Quinn's—Adv.

There Are No Real Radio Bargains

YOU buy a radio set for what it will give you; you get what you pay for—no more, no less. Poor radio reception is worse than none. Why not start right? After the first thrill of "getting something on the air" comes the desire to get true quality reception from home stations as well as from others farther away. If you have bought right, you'll have no regrets. And "buying right" means buying a Grebe Synchronphase, for with it there are no handicaps as to tone, selectivity or distance.

The exclusive Grebe features, developed after seventeen years of building radio sets, provide a reception that is as superior as it is unusual. And this quality is permanent—you will never have to "scrap" a Grebe.

Ask any owner of a Grebe set what he thinks of it. Then let us put one in your home on approval. Convenient terms can be arranged.

The GREBE SYNCHROPHASE

There are more satisfied Grebe users in South Manchester than all others owners of medium priced sets. Grebe sets now 3 years old are as good as new.

Radio stations broadcast 365 days a year. Grebe owners listen to the many different programs 365 days a year. Why hesitate. There is a Grebe here waiting for you—and on very easy terms.

"THE BLACK PIRATE" AT THE RIALTO

"The Black Pirate" opens a two days engagement at the Rialto theater today. Douglas Fairbanks has the leading role in this stupendous drama of the days when bloodthirsty buccaneers sailed the Spanish main. It is one of the most pretentious films Fairbanks has ever produced and the photography has been done entirely in natural colors. Added to the beauty of the picture is a really absorbing tale, that of a young nobleman who swears vengeance on the pirates who are responsible for the murder of his father. He gains their confidence by capturing a ship single handed by means of some remarkable athletic feats and falls in love with one of his captives. His ultimate escape and her rescue by the dashingly young pirate furnishes the picture with many thrills and some real Fairbanks action.

Thousands of extras were employed in the filming of this gigantic masterpiece and all of the ships appearing in the photoplay are remarkably exact reproductions of famous old ships. Those who like something decidedly different from the average run of film fare are urged to see "The Black Pirate." It is a picture not easily forgotten.

Fearless the wonder dog of film-dom appears in the second attraction "Jungle Tragedy" which appears on the same program with "The Black Pirate." A comedy and current news events will also be shown.

ADOPTION OF STANDARD BALL WILL IMPROVE TENNIS GAME

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 31.—Adoption of the American tennis ball for international competition brings a successful termination of a campaign that the United States Lawn Tennis Association has been plugging for years and it promises increasing development in a game that already has become the most widely played game in the world under standard conditions.

It was inconsistent for years that a game that was played practically under the same standard rules in every civilized nation on the globe did not have a standard ball and it was to accomplish this that the American officials started and successfully carried on their campaign.

Feeling of Elation There naturally is a feeling of elation among the American officials, not that the ball which happened to be adopted was the American ball but that some certain ball was made the official ball.

The American officials took the stand that they thought the American ball was the best made for durability, flexibility and execution other than that of a ball that the majority of the other nations could agree upon.

In the past the difference in the ball used in various countries worked as a handicap to the player in all international competition and this handicap made it impossible to strike a real rating among players or teams.

American players competing in the British championships at Wimbledon were handicapped in the game by their unfamiliarity with the soft-springing English ball and British players and those from other nations, accustomed to the English ball were similarly handicapped at Forest Hills, Germantown and Longwood when they had to adjust their game in short time to the fast American ball.

Convincing Proof The results of the Wightman Cup matches offer convincing proof of this contention. The rules provide that the cup matches shall be rotated in alternate years between Wimbledon and Forest Hills and last year, when the United States was represented by an unusually strong team, the victory went with the ball. The British women won at Wimbledon with the English ball and the Americans won at Forest Hills with the American ball.

It may be that the beneficial effect of the adoption of an official standard ball will not be felt immediately because it will take some time for foreign players to become as familiar with the new ball as the Americans are with their own.

In major competition, however, the advantage of playing with their own ball will not give the Americans such a big handicap as the players from France, Japan, Australia, Spain, England, Canada and other leading tennis nations who have played extensively in this country are not total strangers to the American ball.

This holds especially true in the case of the French players who are rapidly ascending to dominance on the international courts and who are the most serious challengers to the supremacy of American tennis.

Rene Lacoste, Jean Borotra, Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, the mighty "Big Four" of France, are the players who threaten to take the Davis Cup away from the United States and with it the major American titles.

They are all familiar with the American ball, perhaps they take it to be more than to the British ball because they are all fast ball players, the products of hard courts on which they develop speed as their big asset.

For this reason there was no cause to rejoice with Bill Tilden if he rejoiced—that the new rule would allow him to play the American ball in the French championships in Paris and in the British championship at Wimbledon where he is to start his comeback drive.

If Tilden's ambition is realized he will have to beat one of the French four in Paris and at Wimbledon and if they are not just as jandy with the American ball as he is any advantage that Tilden might have because of the ball will be counteracted by the greater experience the French players have had on their own tricky clay courts and on the moss carpet at Wimbledon.

Two of the French players, Borotra and Brugnon, were in New York when the announcement was made that the American ball had been adopted. "That will be fine for all of us," Borotra said. "The American ball is a good ball. Maybe it is not better than some other kinds but as long as all of us have to play with the same kind of a ball the whole game will be more equalized."

"We French players know the American ball well enough to go right to work with it. We have the advantage in having played with the American ball more than some of the other nations but it will not require much practice to work up an acquaintance with a strange ball."

Franky Bush Meets LaRocco Tomorrow Night in the Garden

The outcome of Franky Bush's fight in the Garden tomorrow night will be awaited here with great interest. Bush, boxing instructor at the Rec, is matched with George LaRocco, of New Rochelle, in the four-round opener on the Paolino-Townsend card tomorrow night in New York. Not much is known about the ability of LaRocco but he is said to have had a world of experience.

During the several months that Bush has been engaged in boxing instruction in Manchester, he has earned himself countless friends. He has a method of instructing his pupils that is most satisfactory to the concerned. Already, he has formed a large boxing class at the Rec where workouts are held daily.

In preparation for the fight tomorrow night, Bush has worked out in Hartford with Pat McCarthy, a noted Bostonian. McCarthy was Bush's first fight since last Christmas when he fought Battling Finch in Florida. The notable boxer Bush has ever met is Young Stribling.

STECHER GETS $275,000 YEARLY FOR WRESTLING Philadelphia, March 31.—They don't get many big purses, but they get so many! Therein lies the reason why wrestling is as remunerative to those engaged in that sport as any other sport is to its athletes.

Take Joe Stecher for instance. He seldom gets $25,000 for a match, but he draws down $2,000 two or three times a week, year in and year out.

Notes Of The Training Camps West Palm Beach, Fla., March 31.—The Yankees take on the Reds here today. The Yankees left Pennington, Bengough, Lasserri and Chatterfield at the St. Petersburg camp to round into condition.

ALEX SAYS SPRING TRAINING REVEALS LENGTH OF SERVICE Neglect to Do So Shortens Careers; Alex Tells His Own Secrets on Training. By GROVER ALEXANDER

Spring training may not be considered important by some ball players, but one who neglects it is going to cut his natural career short by several years. This is especially true of pitchers.

The one who burdens himself with an intricate set of rules and regulations is using the wrong course. I start out by conditioning my legs and my mind. Don't neglect your legs and your wind.

Although it seems trivial I consider the pepper games the best bit of training a pitcher can get. Why this? Because you never stop to consider what it brings to you? Fielding in batting sharpens the eye, strengthens the muscles of the stomach and helps considerably on control.

There is quick, snappy action in those batting games. You are hopping around, exercising the legs and loosening the muscles of the entire body.

The wind is put to a severe test in a batting game. A fellow starts puffing and unless he is in shape, he is down early. The fellow who stands up the longest in this playful round is the one who is in the best of condition.

Pitchers go in too much for the rubbing tables, hot liniments and stiff massageing. I have found an occasional rub of olive oil the best stuff for the arm. No hot liniments—remember that!

When the muscles of the back start aching after the first week's work, get out by yourself, take a ball and leaning slightly back, just toss the ball to more than three feet high and catch it down close to your chest. Work on this for 10 minutes morning and afternoon.

Condition the legs and the wind before you start taking the kinks out of the pitching arm. Working in the outfield also helps to strengthen the legs and increases the wind of a pitcher.

Working in the outfield also helps to strengthen the legs and increases the wind of a pitcher. This sort of work should be done with good judgment. I think it is a mistake on the part of any pitcher to try for sensational catches while getting some work in the outfield. There is always the chance of a leg injury or a broken finger.

The real value of outfield work for a pitcher is the "shagging" of the ball. The catch means nothing to his condition, while the effort expended in going after the ball means much.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 31.—Walter Gautreaux, former Holy Cross star, who appears pretty certain of holding down second base for the Boston Braves this year, has one serious handicap, a rather weak throwing arm. It keeps him from pulling double plays as often as he should.

Buried cities being uncovered in India prove that a mighty empire existed there 2,500 years ago. These cities were built on top of one another.

GOOD SUB IN RESERVE Tarpou Springs, Fla., March 31.—Manager Dan Howley of the St. Louis Browns feels he has a player in Otis Miller able to step in and fill the bill at short should anything happen to the veteran Walter Gerber.

BASEBALL'S MUTT AND JEFF Hunterville, Ont.—While making his way to a lumber camp near Algonquin Park, Elwood Bloss was pursued by a pack of wolves. He fled onto the open ice, where the animals, sixteen of them, surrounded him. Their howling attracted the attention of a game warden, who arrived before they closed on their victim. He shot seven before the pack fled.

WORTH MORE THIS WAY. Batavia, N. Y.—When a police dog with a taste for fine jewelry swallowed a valuable diamond ring belonging to his mistress, Mrs. Blanche Sawday, she refused to permit an operation to recover the gem. He tried to gobble a cameo, but she snatched it from his teeth.

HE GOT IN HOT WATER. Christchurch, Eng.—An old law which makes it an offense to ask for hot water resulted in the arrest of William Murray, a tramp. The stamps were not touched. The Blanche Sawday, she refused to permit an operation to recover the gem. He tried to gobble a cameo, but she snatched it from his teeth.

They Live Longer. New York.—The average span of life of the citizen of New York has doubled since 1800. Infants dying in their first year now number 63 in a thousand, instead of 250, as was the case more than a century ago. All major diseases have been so reduced that the average duration of life now is 60 years, where it used to be 30.

FIFTY CANDIDATES SEEK NINE BERTHS AT TRADE SCHOOL Coach Echsmaian Has Picked Tough Assignment; 4 Vets Left to Equal Undepleted '26 Season.

Coach John E. Echsmaian who developed an undefeated baseball team at the State Trade school here last year, is confronted with about as tough an assignment this season as any coach might well try to avoid.

First of all, the principal reason why Trade school backlogs do not expect Coach Echsmaian to produce an undefeated team is because he will not have the services of Rudy Fogalski, star pitcher.

Secondly, Coach Echsmaian has lost his regular catcher, two regular outfielders and his first baseman. Losing the first string battery is a severe blow to any team not to mention losing a generous sprinkling of other veterans in a big majority of the victories last season and who was largely responsible for the sensational record the mechanics compiled, has graduated.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL LOOP RESULTS IN A TRIANGULAR TIE

Interest Runs High in Skinner-Hoffman Seniors Meet Juniors Monday and Winner Faces Sophs Wednesday For Championship.

Hartford, March 31.—Amateur boxing fans of Hartford and vicinity are looking forward to the clash here tonight at Foot Guard hall between Ed Skinner, colored light heavyweight from New Haven, and Georgie Hoffman, of New York.

Hoffman is the boy who decisively defeated Joe Howard of Hartford at Foot Guard hall three weeks ago, having Howard on the floor three times. The New Yorker showed local amateur boxing enthusiasts the greatest left hand any amateur ever has witnessed in Hartford and supplemented it with a deadly right cross which sent Howard to the canvas when it connected.

Skinner is one of the best of the heavier boys in the amateur ranks. He defeated "Baby" Wilson, New England champion, at Lynn several weeks ago and last week he kayoed Chet Carlson of Boston in the first round of their bout at the Massasoit. A. C. Shaw, of Skinner's hometown, is a fact that may bring Hoffman considerable interest.

This bout will share interest with the meeting between "Pinkie" Kaufman, Connecticut water-weight champion, and Mike Collins of New York, Metropolitan welterweight titleholder.

Then there will be a featherweight tilt between Joe Sapkota of New York and Eddie Moore of Waterbury.

The Massasoit A. C. has received more than twenty other entries from boys in Hartford, New Haven, Waterbury and other places. One bout that is in prospect will bring together Jack Kelly of Waterbury and Joe Howard of Hartford. Kelly wrestled the state middleweight title from Howard in the recent state A. A. U. championship at Hartford.

The indication is at least twelve bouts and one of the best shows the Massasoit A. C. ever has staged.

WALSH PICKS TIGERS TO HEAD AMERICANS Detroit Club Best, He Thinks; Athletics Second and Senators Third. BY DAVIS J. WALSH (INS Sports Editor)

New York, March 31.—Largely because the Detroit club in all probability will be fighting for its pennant this season and not with him, the writer ventures today to name the Tigers as potentially the strongest team in the American League up to and including this, the present moment.

It has been an annual absurdity to declare in March what will happen in October but there is no law against a man playing smart, even if he knows better.

Therefore, the clubs are listed below merely in the order of their potential strength, with an easy mind, or the equivalent:

- 1.—Detroit Tigers. 2.—Philadelphia Athletics. 3.—Washington Senators. 4.—New York Yankees. 5.—Cleveland Indians. 6.—Chicago White Sox. 7.—St. Louis Browns. 8.—Boston Red Sox.

EVERY SAFE—FOR $1. Irving, Ill.—The town of Irving has sixteen business establishments. Thirteen of them were burglarized in one night. Every safe in town was opened during the crime wave, but the loot was small. The post office safe yielded 75 cents. The stamps were not touched. The grain elevator company, garage, bank and several mercantile establishments were visited, but only about $1 was obtained.

THEY LIVE LONGER. New York.—The average span of life of the citizen of New York has doubled since 1800. Infants dying in their first year now number 63 in a thousand, instead of 250, as was the case more than a century ago.

Should the soccer in a basketball game jolly a player when that player has three personal fouls? No. It is not compulsory. However, many captains ask the referee to furnish this information when it does not conflict with the progress of the game.

The Referee Were there any very freakish games played in organized baseball last season?—B. N. D. One of the freakiest reported was won by Springfield from Peoria in the Three-Bye League by a 36-25 score. Thirteen pitchers were used. Ten home runs were hit. Layne of Peoria hit three home runs and Chatham of Springfield received five successive walks.

Has Jack Malone ever defeated Mickey Walker?—J. K. Yes. He defeated Walker in 1923. Was Charles Kelly, New York referee, ever active as a fighter in the ring?—P. L. H. He was quite a prominent fighter in the sixties. His most important matches were with George Wright, Canadian champion, and Jimmy Kaveney, champion of New England.

The girl you think is easy may be thinking the same of you.

SENSE and NONSENSE

The need of the world is not for fewer preachers, but for more practical ones. Most of the fire in the modern girl's eye is quenched by the water on her brain. California grows sun-kissed oranges and grows sun-kissed peaches. Bull—I dine here because I have a wife who can cook, but won't. Bear—And I dine here because my wife can't but will. How About the Proprietor? Sign in a store window: "Everything in this store is fresh except the clerks." Like people, when money isn't working it gets shiftless, and acquires bad habits. "To think," exclaimed the enthusiastic young husband, "that by the time we get all this furniture paid for we shall have genuine antiques!" A man is broke by the company he keeps. It's alarming to a few old timers the way children are bringing up their parents. Grandfather had a farm, father had a garden, and son has a canopener. A trip into the country will convince you the trees are turning over a new leaf. Chasing rainbows is a poor way to provide for a rainy day. Eloping Bride—Here's a telegram from father! Bridegroom (eagerly)—What does the old chap say? "Do not come home and all will be forgiven." "Do you patronize your neighborhood laundry?" asks an ad in the trolley cars. "No, we sharpen our own collars." Our opinion is that we have enough rain in April without people trying to give picnics. Clothes don't make the man, but his wife's have been known to break him. When you want quality go to those who sell quality and not price. The ladies are troubled. They don't know how much more clothes the fashion cars may order them to leave off in the near future so they don't know where to be vaccinated. Sport writer's description of a new sweetie: "She has speed, an assortment of curves and wonderful control." Wife (whose mother has been visiting them for six months): What shall I give mother for a birthday present, dear? Fed-up Husband—Suppose you give her a traveling bag!

NOW YOU Ask One

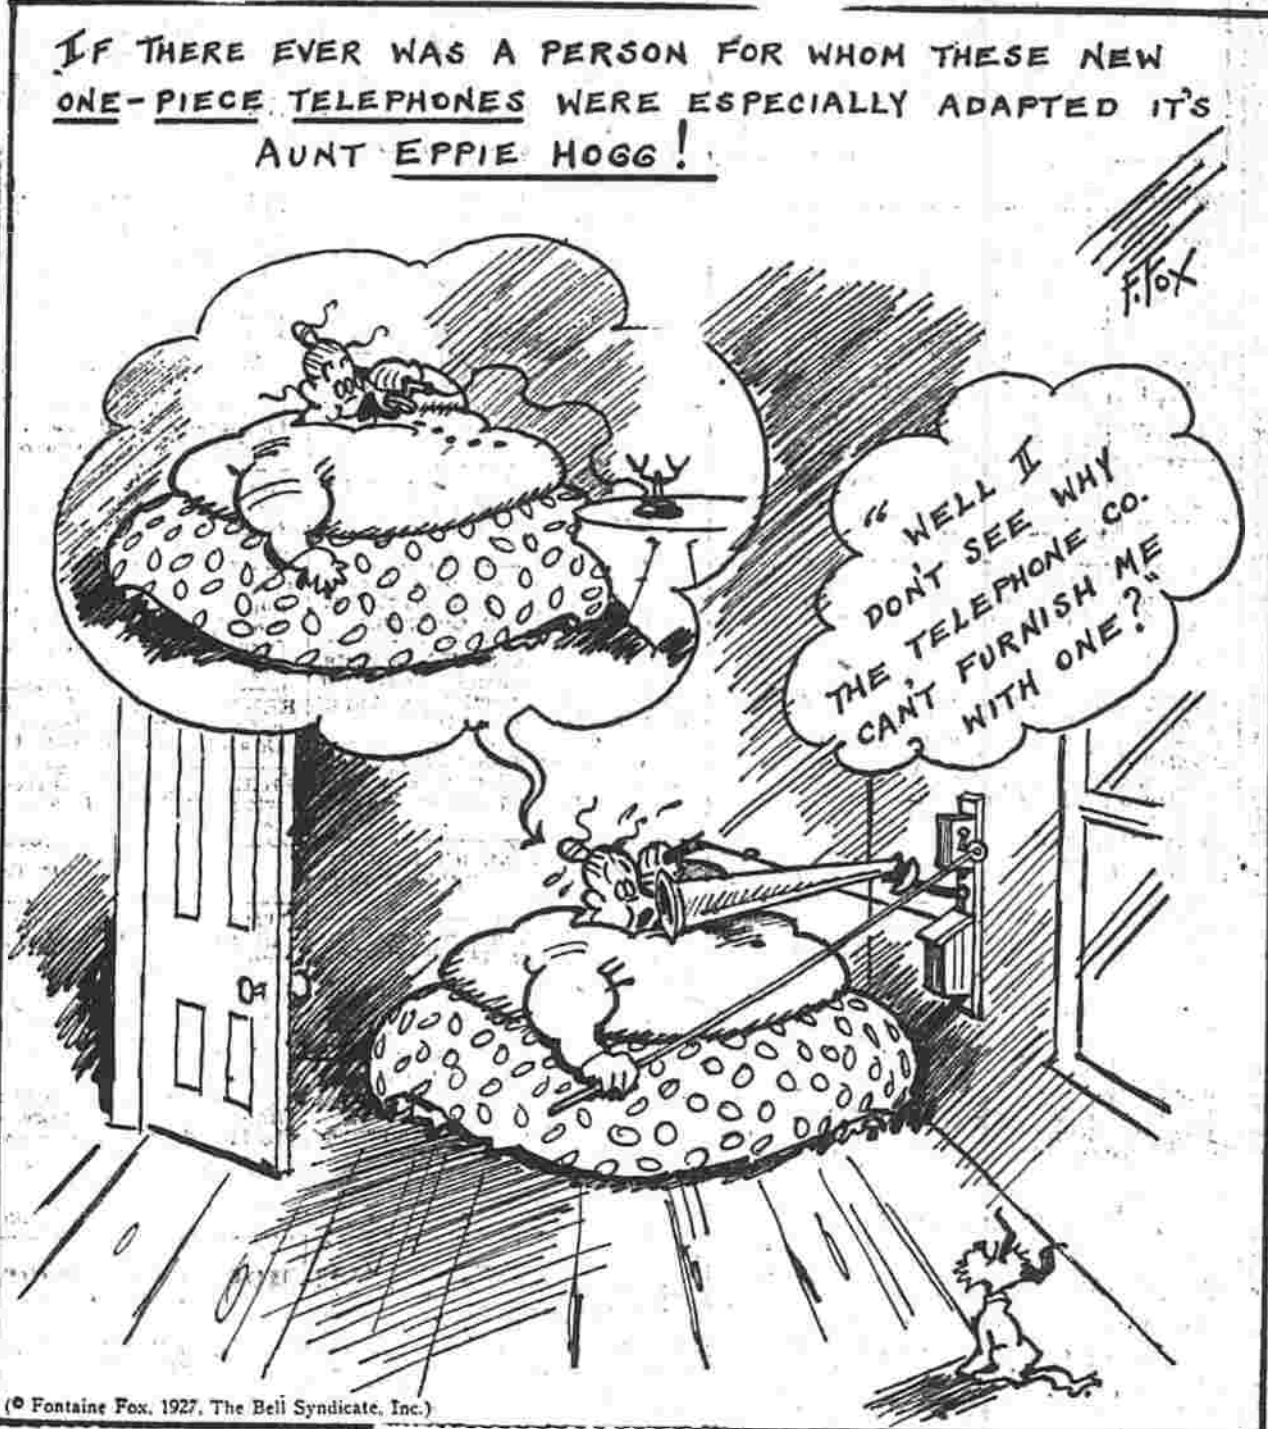

ABOUT EXPLORERS. Explorers and their voyages have always fascinated the world. So "Now You Ask One" for today deals with 'em. If any of the questions stump you, you'll find the answers on another page. 1—What Venetian made an overland voyage to China in the middle ages, staying there for years and, on his return home, writing a book of his adventures that people then thought was full of inventions? 2—What English explorer was lost in central Africa late in the last century, and was the object of many fevered searches? 3—What Englishman discovered the South Pole shortly after Amundsen, only to perish on his way north? 4—What railroad is named for a Jesuit priest and explorer who helped the French open up the Great Lakes region in the 17th century? 5—What French explorer founded the city of Detroit? 6—What 16th century navigator, voyaging around the world, met with a mutiny of his crew off South America, and hanged the ringleader at the mouth of the River Plate? 7—What explorer was killed by natives in the Hawaiian Islands? 8—What explorer returned from the Arctic a few years ago with a story of "white Eskimos"? 9—Who was George Vancouver? 10—In what year did Peary discover the North Pole? She was only a miner's daughter, but she certainly was a good gold-digger. His wife was so extravagant he called her "Dear." The wife who is a good cook is one love pirate that never gets in trouble.

THE TINYMITES

(Read the Story, Then Color the Picture)

The Tinies started in to play but soon the black sheep ran away. "Oh, Clowny scared it," Cobby said "by trying to take a ride." The other Tinies knew, of course, a sheep's a sheep and not a horse, and such a thing as riding one was foolishness, when tired. The bunch then walked along the brook; they came upon a cosy nook where grass was long, and tall, wide trees spread out a map of shade. "Our sheep is gone! Why should we weep?" said Scouty. "Here's a place to sleep, and let's all flop and take a rest. And soon a bed was made. They gathered leaves from all around and spread them nicely on the ground. "Just like a fluffly feather-bed," said Clowny, in delight. The sun soon faded from the skies, and every Tinie closed his eyes. It seemed they all were very tired, and slept sound through the night. When morning came, they all jumped up and Cobby found an old tin cup. He scampered to the nearby stream and scooped a chilly drink. They found wild berries in the wood, and all agreed they tasted good. "What shall we do now?" Scouty said. "Just wait until I think." But, as he thought, they heard a sound, and when the whole bunch turned around, they saw a pretty little girl a-running up the lane. "What is she chasing?" Clowny said. "Why, that's a gander, just ahead." And soon they heard the gander quack. And then it quacked again. "Say, can we help you?" Cobby cried. "You bet you can," the girl replied. "This gander's very wild-like, and he wanders all around." The Tinies then took up the chase and scampered all around the place, until the gander toppled and they pinned him to the ground. (The Tinies meet Peter, the Pumpkin Eater, in the next story.)

DIRECTOR E. H. CHANEY LEAVES ON SATURDAY

Earl H. Chaney, director of the Ninth district Recreation Centers since last September, will leave on Saturday for Bloomington, Ind. With his wife he will make the trip by automobile.

Mr. Chaney said today that he is not sure what he will do in Indiana but he has offers of playground and recreational work and high school teaching. He spent three years as a high school teacher and may return to that work.

He resigned from the Recreation Centers about a month ago. During his stay here Mrs. Chaney has been librarian at the West Side Rec. She will be succeeded by Mrs. Carl Mathews.

No successor to Mr. Chaney has been engaged as yet but several applications have been considered by the Recreation Committee.

REPRESENTATIVES of the Brown Studio, 61 Pratt street, Hartford, will call offering a special introductory in studio work and home portraits. The offer has been investigated by the Manchester Chamber of Commerce and has received its approval.—adv.

50 TO TAKE PART IN EASTER PAGEANT

Soloists in "The Dawning," the Easter pageant to be given in the church of the South Methodist church on Easter Sunday under the direction of Miss Mabel L. Pollard, will be Mrs. Bertelme Lashinske, contralto, and Miss Olive Nyman, mezzo-soprano. The male soloist is Walter Reichard, baritone.

The pageant is the work of Lyman Bayard and is a comparatively new thing. There are 50 persons in the cast and all of the dialogue is in Biblical language.

There are three scenes, the Resurrection, the Day after Resurrection, and the Ascension.

Rose Bushes

Sunburst—Color a rich cadum—yellow, with orangeyellow center. A magnificent free-blooming variety, especially handsome in bud form. Valuable as a cut flower.

Betty—Best in autumn. Very large, pointed bud opening to a semi-full flower in color described by the originators as a ruddy gold and coppery rose overspread with golden yellow.

Mme. Eduard Herriot—Superb coral red shaded with yellow and rose-scarlet; very vigorous and hardy.

Prince Camille De Rohan—A splendid rose, very bright and beautiful. Deep red.

Yellow Rambler—The hardiest, yellow climbing rose. Flowers last three or four weeks.

Madame Plantier—Pure white, above medium size, produces in great abundance early in the season. Effective also in hedges or massing in groups.

Columbia—A splendid large, full double rose of very lasting qualities. A strong grower, almost thornless. The brilliant rosepink flowers are most attractive.

Red Radiance—Hybrid Tea, an ideal bedding rose of American origin in color, a beautiful red.

Ophelia, Hybrid Tea, has salmon flesh colored buds shaded with rose—perfectly formed. Their strong firm petals are very lasting when cut.

Althea—(Rose of Sharon) Pretty flowering, easy and rapid growing shrub, producing an abundance of flowers. Choice of red, pink or white.

Honeysuckle—(Cream) A well known vine, holding its foliage nearly all winter, very fragrant and a vigorous flower.

Hydrangea—A fine shrub growing from 8 to 10 feet high; flowers in great pyramidal panicles a foot long.

Syringa—A hairy shrub of rounded form and luxuriant foliage, with masses of pure white flowers.

Snowball—The old fashioned snowball that grows almost anywhere and flowers so abundantly in May and June.

Spirea—(Van Houttei.) The grandest of all spirea having pure white flowers in clusters, extraordinarily profuse in bloom.

CHIMNEY FIRE CALLS OUT NORTH END DEPT.

The Manchester fire department was called last night at 7:15 to extinguish a blaze in the new home of David Heatley on Lydall street. Woodwork around the chimney had caught fire from the stove pipe and worked through to the attic. Dense smoke handicapped the firemen. Mr. Heatley had tried to put the fire out before calling on the department but was unable to control it.
