

TWO ARE DEAD 20 INJURED IN RAIL CRASHES

One Train Jumps Track Try- ing to Avert Smashing In- to Another—Third Crash Averted.

Parson, Kansas, April 8.—The engineer and fireman of the Soon-er, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway train, were killed today when the train jumped the track near St. Paul, Kansas, while making a detour for another wreck, several others were injured.

The other wreck occurred when another M. K. T. train, the south-bound Texas Flyer, struck a low place where a culvert had been washed out two miles south of Erie, Kansas, twenty persons were hurt, some possibly dangerously. Six coaches went into a ditch.

Brave Brakeman

After the Texas Flyer had gone into the ditch, a brakeman, whose name was not learned, swung across the creek on the hanging rails and flagged another train that was following, saving it from crashing into the wreck.

Fear that others besides the engineer and fireman on the former train may have met death was expressed when the waters of the creek submerged several coaches and pullmans shortly after passengers had made their way through the water-logged cars. Some of the passengers may have been trapped, it is believed.

In both wrecks steel coaches and pullmans saved the passengers more serious injuries and possible death.

HUNG WIFE BY WRISTS, SO SHE GETS DIVORCE

Tied Her Sister Up In Barn Also, She Tells Bridgeport Judge.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 8.—Mrs. Susan M. Bronson today received at the hands of Judge Isaac Wolfe in Superior Court a divorce from her husband, Mr. Bronson, now an enlisted man in the United States Army. Mrs. Bronson charged intolerable cruelty. She told Judge Wolfe that Bronson on one occasion tied her wrists to her sister's and hoisted them both into the air in a barn behind the home.

Streams of the two young women attracted a resident in the district who secured their release.

Judge Wolfe also granted a divorce to Ruth E. McAllister, of Norwalk, from Robert F. McAllister on the grounds of desertion.

Judge John R. Booth granted divorces to Lillian May Allen and Castella Haskins Le May, both of Stamford. Desertion was alleged in each case.

MIDDLETOWN ROCKED BY BIG EXPLOSION

Several Buildings Wrecked But No One Hurt—Some Narrow Escapes.

Middletown, April 8.—Central Middletown was shaken to its foundations today when a steam vulcanizing machine in the plant of Karl Wenneke, 847 Main street, exploded and hurled its cast-iron parts through the air like the contents of an exploding shell. No one was injured. Property damage will total several hundred dollars.

Wenneke and his assistant, Thomas F. McCue, were standing near the machine when it exploded and were merely shaken up. Pieces of metal flew past them, blowing out the front windows and going entirely through the concrete rear wall. An adjoining shoemaker's shop was wrecked also. The shoemaker had left the building a few minutes before the explosion.

Ancient Scrapbook About Manchester Sees Light of Day

Old time Manchester resident and the youngsters of today will delight in reading "the good old days" around Manchester culled from an ancient scrapbook found this week. In it are found newspaper accounts of purely local happenings that will revive the memories of the old timers and prove most interesting to the present generation who might have heard of these happenings but believed them "just old women's tales."

WHOLE FAMILY SHOT BY ANGRY FATHER

Fremont, Ohio, April 8.—Dorothy Smith, 14, is dead, Audrey Smith, 17, her sister, is in a hospital with her right arm torn off by a shotgun charge, and Charles Brandell, 38, step-father of the girls, is reported dying and his wife is seriously injured, as the result of a family quarrel early today. Brandell shot the girls and clubbed their mother on the head with a shotgun, turning the gun upon himself, after his step daughters had returned from a dance, and had reprimanded them for "staying out so late," and voiced objection to two youths who escorted them to the dance.

TELEVISION IS REALITY; NEXT RADIO MOVIES

A. T. & T. Demonstrates That One Can See Speaker Be- fore Telephone—Im- provements Coming.

Washington, April 8.—Radio moving picture reproducers will be just as common in the America of the future as the ordinary receiving set of the present time, Dr. J. H. Dellinger, chief of the radio laboratory of the bureau of standard, declared today.

Following the remarkable demonstration of television and visual radio, by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, Dellinger said that it is a simple step from sending pictures over the wire, to routing them through the air—from experimental demonstration to commercial practice.

"Carrier Waves."

For the wire channel of communication will be substituted a "carrier wave" over which the electrical impulses representing pictures of actual events, glide through the ether to be recreated in action on the screen of the receiver.

Not only will visual radio become a practical accomplishment, but it will be possible to produce apparatus to bring pictures of events to the home of the family of movie-lovers as cheaply as are manufactured the ordinary radio receivers of today, according to Dellinger.

Board Interested.

Experimental use of a number of radio wave channels on regular schedule for broadcasting still and moving pictures are anticipated by the Federal Radio Commission. Members of the commission are deeply impressed with this rapidly developing phase of the art and are prepared to set aside certain channels for its continuation.

Within the next twelve months, in the opinion of officials, a number of wave channels will be in use in the transmitting of still and moving pictures. While the practical reception of action pictures is not anticipated immediately, officials said that the long step demonstrated by the Telephone Corporation yesterday circles this new form of entertainment, education and profit to the public.

DREAM NO LONGER New York, April 8.—Television, the moving objects and images over telephone lines and through the air by radio, is today a reality and no longer a dream of visionary scientists but it may be some time before it can be put into practical, every day use.

In fact it may be years before you personally may use television, although late yesterday it was demonstrated in the Bell laboratory of the American Telephone & Telegraph company that it is possible to make a long distance call and see the person you are talking to and also that it is possible to

AIRPLANE IS LOST IN ARCTIC CIRCLE

Four Men In Mercy Flight Missing—Dog Teams Go to Rescue.

Seward, Alaska, April 8.—Mushers and dog teams raced over the bleak wastes between Nome and Candler today in search of four men whose plane is feared to have crashed somewhere inside the Arctic Circle.

Pilot R. H. Merrill, his mechanic, Alonzo Cope, and two passengers, Charles Robinson and Edgar Broadway, hopped off for Candler when Merrill's "mercy flight" to save David Sepilly, critically ill on St. Lawrence Island, was interrupted at Nome by death of the wealthy Eskimo. Merrill planned to return to Nome Tuesday night, but according to last advices received here had not even arrived at Candler.

Worry over the fate of the four fliers was increased by a terrific blizzard raging over the Arctic tundra. The same storm, according to reports, is delaying the Wilkins expedition at Point Barrow.

Strike In So. America Over Sacco--Vanzetti

Boston, Mass., April 8.—While reports from Buenos Aires of a 48-hour general strike in protest against the failure of Massachusetts courts to grant a new trial to Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, convicted slayers, were being published here members of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee continued their battle to save the two men from the electric chair.

Already ten thousand circulars, calling for mass meetings to develop public sympathy for the men, had been sent out and more thousands were going out today.

ADRIFT IN SOUND RESCUED BY TUG

Derby, Conn., April 8.—Three local youths are safe in their homes here today after a thrilling adventure on Long Island Sound. They are Richard Peters, 21; Thomas Pepe, 25, and George Staffere, 15. Embarked on a fishing trip yesterday morning they were blown out into the Sound helplessly, picked up by a passing tug, and carried to New York. Thence they returned here by train, none the worse for their adventure.

Three Derby Boys Have Thrilling Experience When They Go on Fishing Trip.

Some Fishing Party

Two of the three youths were employed in a Shelton factory which works but a part of the week and they organized the fishing party for yesterday, taking young Staffere with them. They drove to Stratford in a car owned by Peters and there hired a boat to row down to Stratford Point's fishing grounds. When they had not returned late last evening the boat owner took the matter up with the police. The youth's automobile was still parked in the boatman's yard.

Heavy Wind

A heavy off-shore wind prevailed along the Sound all day yesterday, whipping up a sea and driving with chill penetrating force. The youths, when they were unable to make headway toward the shore once they had passed beyond Stratford Point. They were helpless but calm in the emergency and assisted their rescuers when they were sighted finally.

The tug captain gave the youths a note with his name and the name of the vessel. The names were unavailable late this morning.

WANT NO MOSQUITOES New Canaan, Conn., April 8.—New Canaan's boast that its residents never were troubled with mosquitoes is to hold good at least another season, according to town officials as they set aside $1000 today to be used to spray the town's pools with oil. The work is already mapped out and will be started next week.

GRAY'S WIFE ILL New York, April 8.—Although Mrs. Isabel Gray wants to testify for her husband, Henry Judd Gray, when he and his former mistress, Mrs. Ruth Snyder, are placed on trial April 18 for the murder of Albert Snyder, the co-defendant's husband, she is so ill that she may not be able to attend court. She is suffering from a complete nervous collapse at her home in East Orange, N. J.

LADIES' AID IN RUG RAID

Man Picks Up Rugs Found on Porch by Mistake for a Rummage Sale.

New York, April 8.—The Ladies' Aid society of the First M. E. church of Flushing, L. I., aided by an aid, almost aided a rug dealer yesterday to aid Mrs. John Santle in selecting new furnishings for her home on Elm street.

The society, aided by the owner of a vacant store on Main street, decided it best could aid the church by conducting a rummage sale to aid frugal citizens to pick up bargains in second-hand clothing, furniture and the like.

Among those who volunteered to aid by such donations was Mrs. Santle. She said she would leave a bundle on the porch for the Ladies' Aid. A man aid who volunteered to aid the Ladies' Aid by aiding in the collection of articles was sent for them. He returned with thirteen bags.

"Generous Mrs. Santle," murmured one lady aid. Then the aiders put the rugs on sale. Mrs. Santle rushed in.

"Please aid me to find my rugs," she said. "I fear your aid aided by my maid, who put them on the porch by mistake, has brought them here to be sold."

They hadn't been sold, and the Ladies' Aid sent the rugs back again.

WILD STORIES TOLD AT HOLMES TRIAL

Miss Fortin's Sister Describes Night In Hotel With Ex-Pastor Present.

Boston, Mass., April 8.—The story of a night revel in a South End hotel with Guy Willis Holmes, untraced New Bedford Methodist minister, and Miss Antonette Fortin, nineteen-year-old tea room waitress, in one room and a "Mr. Smith, and herself in a connecting room, was related on the witness stand to a jury today by Miss Fortin's sister, Simonne. The ex-pastor is charged with violating the true name law and with being the father of Antonette's child, now dead.

The four persons arrived at the hotel and registered, said Simonne, who is eighteen years old. They went out to a theatre and returned for a midnight supper in their rooms. They left the hotel at two a. m., she testified.

Trip To Canada

Before Simonne testified Antonette's cross-examination was conducted. She denied allowing a photographer to make improper pictures of her but admitted a trip to Canada with her male cousin, arising, however, there was nothing improper about the trip.

Attorney Emil Auger, of New Bedford, told of visiting the ex-pastor at the parsonage in New Bedford shortly after Antonette learned of her delicate condition. He quoted Mr. Holmes as saying: "You know Antonette, that I am not the only man you have been out with. Haven't I been good to you? I will continue to be good to you."

Auger stated that members of the Methodist church in New Bedford inspired the visit.

COAST GUARDSMEN KILL RUM RUNNERS

Two Dead, One Seriously Wounded In Florida Hospital—Sailor's Story.

Miami, Fla., April 8.—Coast guardsmen killed two men and wounded a third in a clash with a rum boat this afternoon after a coast guard speedboat brought him to the city docks.

The guard boat sped away and had not reported an affray to the United States customs house here or the base at Fort Lauderdale, officials said.

Sailors Story

According to Alexich's story, the rum boat captain died in a fusillade of coast guard bullets and a negro was drowned during the shooting. Alexich had been wounded in the neck and became delirious before he was able to tell the complete story at Jackson Memorial hospital.

"TELEPHONE GHOSTS" SCARE SCHOOL MA'AM

Recites Poetry, Yells in Pain and Does Other Odd Stunts In Bay State.

South Deerfield, Mass., April 8.—Miss Amy Doyle, a school teacher at the West Whately public school and a boarder at the home of Selectman William Strippie of Whately was in a state of nervous collapse today as a result of the weird voice of the "telephone ghost," heard on the line running from this town to Whately.

Town officials of Whately and South Deerfield, co-operating with telephone officials, were making a thorough investigation today to determine the source of the ghostly voice. Blood-curdling cries of death, hunger and pain interspersed with bits of poetry and an occasional prayer have been heard by subscribers on the line.

MARTIAL LAW IS ON IN WUHU AS TROOPS DIVIDE ALLEGIANCE

Today's Summary of China Events

CHINESE NATIONALIST plans for an advance towards Tientsin have received a setback. Shanghai troops are reported to have forced Nationalists to retreat after several engagements. Nationalist troops are being moved to Pukow to reinforce the line there.

MARTIAL LAW is reported to have been declared in Wuhu where two factions of the Nationalist army threaten disorders.

THE NORTHERN GOVERNMENT continues its raids against alleged centers of Nationalist sympathy, and an American missionary institution at Yenching is understood to have been warned of a possible raid on grounds that it is sheltering radical students.

JAPANESE MARINES, reinforced by British troops, have engaged in a lively skirmish with Chinese gunmen in the northern area of Shanghai, with two gunmen dead and one Japanese wounded. AMERICAN WOMEN and children are leaving Peking, and Mrs. John Van A. MacMurray and her children, the family of the American minister, have announced their forthcoming departure. American officials declare there is no paucity of exodus from Peking, but other Nationalists are criticizing the Americans for leaving.

THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT is delaying action on the aiding of its Peking legation, but the Soviet press charges that the Soviets were instigated by the British to open the way for intervention of the powers.

MARTIAL LAW IS ON IN WUHU AS TROOPS DIVIDE ALLEGIANCE

All Foreign Houses Seized; Japan Lands 800 More Sailors In Shanghai—Former Chinese Admiral Executed—American Women and Children Leaving.

Hong Kong, April 8.—Martial law has been declared in Wuhu in an attempt to control Chinese troops, who are threatening to get out of control as their allegiance to their leaders is split. Part of the troops support General Chiang Kai Shek while the remainder are supporting the Communist leaders, according to reports received here.

The Chinese military are reported to have seized all foreign houses in Chinkiang.

Warships are picking up a number of Spanish priests between Hankow and Wuhu. These priests have been forced to evacuate their Yangtze posts hurriedly because of threats of violence.

MORE JAP TROOPS

Washington, April 8.—The Japanese have landed 800 additional soldiers in Shanghai as a result of an attack last night upon Japanese guarding the North Szechwan road, Rear Admiral C. S. Williams, commander of the Asiatic fleet, advised the Navy Department today.

Guard Consulate

"A cordon of police and Shanghai volunteer corpsmen were thrown around the Soviet consulate at Shanghai at five p. m., yesterday, and all persons entering or leaving are being searched," Williams said.

It has been reported, Williams added, that General Pi Chu Chen, former admiral of the Tsingtao fleet and defense commander of that area, has been executed at Tsinan. Pi commanded the Shanghai defense when southern forces captured the city.

FIGHT GUNMEN

London, April 8.—A skirmish between Japanese marines and Chinese gunmen in the northern district of Shanghai, was reported in dispatches received here today.

British troops were rushed out at midnight to aid the Japanese marines and went into action with an armored car. The fighting continued for some time.

One Japanese marine is reported wounded.

NATIONALIST RETREAT

Shanghai, April 8.—The Nationalist armies have been repeatedly forced to retreat in engagements with the Shantung forces in Anhwei, north of Kiangsu, according to advices received here today.

Shantung bombing planes have made effective raids over the Nationalist lines.

Nanking reports that there are incessant movements of Nationalist troops to Pukow, where the Nationalists have been unable to gain ground.

The heavy fighting in the north is believed here to be the overture to a major engagement.

More Looting

Reports from Kiangsu today stated that foreign property there has been looted and occupied by the Nationalists.

Amey, Foosechow and Tsingtao are reported quiet.

The British Supreme Court here has sentenced three Indians to eighteen months hard labor and deportation on charges of disseminating propaganda among the British troops.

Removal of the last of the American remaining in the Yangtze valley district was speeded up today so far as the limited transportation facilities would permit. American consular authorities are bending every energy to get Americans to places of safety before there is another explosion in the wave of anti-foreign hostility.

Anger Over Raids

Chinese and Russian Communists are angered over the raids on the Soviet embassy compound at Peking and at the Soviet bank in the French compound at Tien-tsin and are threatening reprisal measures.

The Soviet consulate in Shanghai has been under surveillance by Chinese civilian and military police and members of the White Russian volunteer force. W. F. Linds, the Soviet consul protested to the other foreign consuls.

Following a renewal of mob violence at Changsha, where an anti-American boycott was proclaimed, the American residents fled and are on their way to the Hankow district upon an American river gunboat. The Chinese occupied a number of American-owned properties in the Changsha area.

Twenty-one foreign warships are

FORD' 4 CYLINDER STAYS ON MARKET

Pioneer to Build It as Long As He Lives—Has New Model Now.

Detroit, Mich., April 8.—Henry Ford will build four-cylinder cars, with a planetary transmission, as long as he lives, International News Service learned today.

In line with this policy, Ford now plans to announce a new model four-cylinder car this summer. It will be a three-forward-speed car, with a new design of planetary transmission, underslung semi-elliptic springs, a lower body and a chassis and frame of aluminum and steel.

Ready July 1

The new Ford will be ready for distribution by July 1 but Ford has not as yet definitely fixed the date for placing the car on the market. Its price has not been determined, but Ford now contemplates a considerable reduction on existing prices.

A new eight-cylinder car is being experimented with at the Ford factories now and this too may be announced at the same time. If trade conditions warrant further delay, this machine may not be placed on the market until next fall. It will be Edsel Ford's contribution to motordom and Henry Ford has not shown anywhere near the interest in it that he is giving to the new four-cylinder Ford.

The eight-cylinder car probably will not be identified with the present eight-cylinder Lincoln, which is Edsel's pride and the aristocrat of the Ford industry. The name "Edsel" was suggested but Ford is understood to have frowned upon it.

Rockville Man Becomes Assistant Manager—Newsy Rockville Notes.

(Special to The Herald)

Rockville, April 8. Charles H. Leonard, who has been employed by the White Envelope Company of this city for 27 years, has been appointed assistant manager of the local plant. Mr. Leonard entered the envelope plant as an office boy and worked his way into the position to which he has been appointed. Mr. Leonard is president of the Rockville High School Alumni association and a former president of the Men's Union and is an active member in fraternal organizations. He is very popular with the employees of the U. S. Envelope Co. and it is their pleasure that he has received this appointment and not a man from one of the other plants.

Changes in Railroad Station

The railroad station, which is now open to the public most of the day, will only be open for thirty minutes or so each day commencing next Tuesday. Miss Emma A. Zuehlke who has been in charge of the station for sixteen years, has been notified that she has been transferred to the freight office as a clerk. Edward Dowling, baggage agent and crossing flagman for nine years has been notified that his services would not be needed after April 12. The passenger waiting room will be open from 7 until 7:30 a. m. to accommodate the commuters taking the 7:30 a. m. train to Hartford. An employee of the freight house is to guard the crossing and take care of the baggage.

These notifications were made by Trainmaster Wickham of the Hartford division of the New Haven road who was in Rockville Wednesday.

Grievances to be Heard

At a meeting to be held in the Rockville Baptist church this afternoon the two factions of the First African Baptist church will be heard. The aggrieved members of this church have asked the Connecticut Baptist Convention for a meeting of the Permanent Council of the Hartford Baptist association. The Permanent Council is made up of representatives of all the Baptist churches of the Hartford association and membership consists of the pastor and one representative of each church in the association. There are about thirty churches in the Hartford association with which the two Rockville Baptist churches are affiliated.

This body will hear the grievances of both sides of the African Baptist church and their recommendations will be given to the church for their decision. The body is simply advisory but its recommendations are usually accepted.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Selectmen will be held Monday evening, April 11. The board will meet at an early hour to approve the town bills. At eight o'clock the usual routine business will be taken up.

J. Seymour Brown of Henry street, whose brother-in-law is connected with the Associated Press in England, has received from him the clipping from the Manchester England Guardian in regard to E. L. C. Hohenthal's visit to the English city, and which article has already been printed in the Herald.

According to the vital statistics for the month of March there were 46 births, while marriages had dropped to 3. There were 14 deaths during the month.

The annual business meeting and roll-call of the Church of the Nazarene will be held this evening at 7:30.

C. Elmore Watkins has sold to Mr. Clarke, Terrill Lot 24 in the Lakeview tract. The lot has a frontage on Comstock Road of 80 feet and a depth of 150 feet. With the sale of the lot goes the usual restrictions that pertain to the Lakeview subdivision.

Andrew, the three-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stavitsky, of 220 Oak street, died yesterday. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial will be in the East cemetery.

The Men's society of the Swedish Lutheran church will have their regular monthly meeting and social this evening at eight o'clock. After the business there will be a program of selections by the Beethoven Glee club and an address by U. J. Lupien of Cheney Brothers Service department. The Glee club will meet for rehearsal promptly at seven o'clock.

BOY SCOUTS GAVE TENT PEST LICKING

Six Troops Report 62,364 Egg Clusters Destroyed; Vince Champ Hunter.

Six Boy Scout troops which were engaged in the fight against the tent caterpillar in Manchester during the last two weeks in March reported last night a total of 62,364 egg clusters collected and destroyed. This is an average of nearly 9,000 each for the six troops, although Troop 7, which is sponsored by the American Legion, turned in a total of 18,310 clusters. William Vince of the American Legion troop turned in the greatest individual number, 7,398, over two thousand more than the next highest scout, Henry Skoog of Troop 5. The latter Scout was responsible for 4,997 clusters. Vince's total is almost as large as that collected by some troops, and is almost four times the number of Troop 2.

Backed by Town Board

The campaign was carried on with the cooperation of the Park department of this town and was part of a state-wide drive against the tent caterpillar. Prizes were offered by the Park department to the troop collecting the greatest number of clusters and also for the scout turning in the greatest number.

The last two weeks in March were set aside for the drive. The town was mapped out into sections, one for each troop, and the scouts made periodical reports during the campaign. Final results were to have been turned in last night at a meeting of the local scoutmasters but Troop 3 and Troop 4 failed to report.

Following are the results which were reported:

Troop 1, Second Congregational church, 14,848, 21 scouts; high man, George Anderson, 2,495 clusters.

Troop 2, St. James's church, 1,500, 19 scouts; high man, James O'Leary, 500.

Troop 3, Swedish Lutheran church, 7,920, 33 scouts; high man, Henry Skoog, 4,997.

Troop 4, South Methodist church, 11,650, 20 scouts; high man, Francis Burr, 3,800.

Troop 5, American Legion, 18,310, 13 scouts; high man, William Vince, 7,398.

Troop 6, German Lutheran church, 8,000, 12 scouts; high man, Ernest Pohl.

It is seen from the table that Troop 5 of the American Legion had only 13 scouts working to turn in its record total.

Announcing Our "Savage Washer" Agency

At last we have found an Electric Washer that is 100% efficient. The one that will do for you the LAST HARD HALF of the washing task—the rinsing and drying. After a thorough examination and trial of the many electric washers now on the market we have chosen the Savage Washer as the one that meets every requirement a woman may demand of a washing machine.

The Savage Washer Solves the Problem of the Family Wash.

Can you picture to yourself what it means to be able to put through entire tub loads of clothes and blankets, comforters, rugs, robes—even feather pillows as well, from clothes basket to clothes line, all without once putting the hands in water, without wringing, without handling a single piece, or breaking a single button—and finishing as fresh as when you began? It seems almost incredible doesn't it, but that is just what you do with the wonderful Savage Washer and Dryer and the exclusive Savage feature "Spin Rinse, Spin Dry."

Washdays Last Hard Half

There are many mechanical washers on the market today and they have "brightened the corner where they are" and given women a lift that cannot be overestimated. Admittedly any good washer will wash clothes well. But why let it stop there? Why let it say to you "The washing's done; now it's your turn; you do the rinsing and wringing yourself." Why should not the washer do the complete job? Answer. We have found a washer that does this very thing.

A FREE DEMONSTRATION IN YOUR HOME.

The best way to be convinced of the superiority of any article is by a demonstration. We will send a Savage Washer to your home with a demonstrator and do your family washing for you without any obligation on your part whatsoever. We are positive that we can convince you that the Savage Washer and Dryer is the most wonderful labor saving device you have ever seen. Sold through our Profit Sharing Club Plan with a year to pay for it.

GOOD VAUDEVILLE AT STATE THEATER

Hard to Pick Outstanding Feature—Motion Picture Good.

By Member Herald Staff

It is a difficult task to pick the outstanding feature of the State's vaudeville bill this week. There are several highly entertaining numbers on the program.

The motion picture attraction on the program is a good one. Billie Dove, Lloyd Hughes and Lewis Stone are the stars in a story of the Broadway footlights. Miss Dove is unusually beautiful in this film and the story, though not startling, is an enjoyable one.

The vaudeville is opened by Louis and "Cherie," a strong man and a strong woman. Their act is very clever and Cherie is not only strong, she's a pretty blonde.

Jimmy Rule and Harry Tenny, songwriters, who actually have composed some of the popular songs that are being whistled everywhere, are the second act. Jimmy is a clever pianist and Harry is just as clever at pantomime. They drew the biggest hand last night from the usual packed house.

Frank and Ethel Hall present a little sketch in a department store. Both have good voices and their line of jokes is very good. The finale of their scene is a surprise and makes a hit with the audience.

The "Volunteers" who are fourth on the bill have a lot of fun getting started. The little fellow who sells hot dogs through the audience caused quite a bit of merriment, and the four fellows finished off their act with some good harmony.

The closing act brings the "Juvenile Revue." A youthful jazz band plays several of the popular tunes, and a young fellow and girl exhibit some very good dance steps.

FUNERAL OF MRS. FALLON

The funeral of Mrs. Ellen Fallon was held at St. James R. C. church this morning at 9 o'clock. A high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. James P. Timmins.

When the body was being borne into the church the choir sang "What Shall I Render?" At the offertory Mrs. Margaret Sullivan and Miss Julia Mae Shaw sang a duet, Wiegand's "O Salutaris." Miss Shaw also rendered a contralto solo, "Ave Marie" by Bailey. At the conclusion of the mass the choir sang "O the Priceless Love of Jesus" and when the body was being borne from the church Mrs. Sullivan rendered O'Neill's "When Evening Comes."

The bearers were John McLaughlin, John McConville, Joseph Cullen, Michael Weir of Deal, New Jersey; John McPartland, and James Murray.

VAUDEVILLE REVUE COMING TO RAINBOW

New Schedule Adopted at Popular Bolton Hill Dance Rendezvous

The first of the season's special entertainments featuring a vaudeville revue and dance will be presented at the Rainbow Dance Palace on Wednesday evening, April 20. During the coming season every effort will be made to make Rainbow the leading dance palace in Connecticut, and the management has many good attractions booked for the season. The vaudeville entertainment for the first revue will consist of three of the leading ballroom entertainers in Connecticut. They will put on three snappy acts and combined with the Rainbow Sereaders will furnish an excellent evening's entertainment for everyone.

The vaudeville acts were booked from Bill Tasillo's attraction office and will feature Joe Ryan, champion buck dancer, holder of many championships; Shirley Quillick and sister in a dance novelty act presenting something new in novelty dancing and Esther Keldel who is a sweet singer of sweet songs and a special dance program by the Rainbow Sereaders.

There is dancing every Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday evenings. Wednesday evening is Ladies' Night and the ladies are admitted free. Thursday evening is Old Fashion Night with the old fashion dances with a prompter to keep things going at a lively rate and an old fashioned orchestra furnishing the music. Saturday and Sunday evenings are for the big week-end dances.

S. M. H. STUDENTS AT "COLLEGE CHOOSING"

Dozen of Them Attend Hartford Meeting of Youths and College Delegates.

About a dozen high school students here who are planning for further education when they graduate in June, went to the Hartford Public High school today to attend the College Choosing Day program, a new experimental method of furthering the cause of attendance at college, the right choice of a college and how to live a worthwhile life at college. This was in direct line with the talk before the student body here yesterday afternoon by Albert Prince, city editor of the Hartford Times. Prince favored smaller colleges for the graduates because they afford opportunity for a more intimate relationship between the students and the college heads.

This morning at the Hartford High school, there was an address by Dean Combs of Worcester polytechnic Institute dealing with the general purpose of the day. The next thing on the program was the individual conferences in the broad street building in the afternoon. Representatives of thirty seven eastern colleges were present for talks with the students, who were invited to bring their parents with them.

Tonight there will be a supper for the college representatives and the students, at which time Dean F. R. Nicholson, and Dean R. E. Dodge, of Connecticut Agricultural College at Storrs will speak. The talks will be followed by the general theme of the day.

PROTESTANTS KEEP UP GOOD FRIDAY CUSTOM

Will Unite in Fast Day Observance by Three Hour Service at St. Mary's.

As has been the custom here for several years, Manchester Protestant churches will unite on Good Friday in their annual three-hour service at St. Mary's Episcopal church on "The Seven Last Words of Christ."

The services will begin at noon on Good Friday and will last until 3 o'clock. Worshipers who do not desire to stay the full three hours may enter and leave at their pleasure. The only request made is that all those who come in or go out of the church do so during the singing of hymns.

Pastors who will take part are Rev. David Kelly, curate of St. Mary's; Rev. Joseph Cooper, of the South Methodist church; Rev. Fred C. Allen of the Second Congregational church; Commodore Charles M. Abbott of the Salvation Army; Rev. Watson Woodruff of the Center Congregational church; Rev. John Duxbury of the North Methodist church and Rev. James Stuart Neill of St. Mary's.

Some Kind of a Prohibition Law Is Certainly Needed Here

"Easy Come, Easy Go" That's Gold Field Spirit, Flapper Reporter Finds

Here is Betty Briggs, writing her stories of the gold fields. This picture, showing the outfit she is using to cover the gold rush, was taken at Tonopah.

Editor's Note—This is the second story of a series of articles on the new Nevada gold fields by Betty Briggs, a flapper and a very capable reporter. Sent to this section by NEA Service and The Herald. She is killing of the gold rush as a girl sees it.

BY BETTY BRIGGS

(Copyright, 1927, NEA Service, Inc.) Weepah, Nev., April 5.—A blind man with a wheezy accordion that could wail only one tune, cleaned up $50 in 20 minutes in this gold rush camp, and went on his way rejoicing.

The blind man, his accordion, and his $50 roll in 20 minutes, are the symbol of Weepah. Easy come, easy go.

Dance halls with over-runged, over-masqueraded dance hall girls, saloons, gambling devices of every sort, and the inevitable red light district have always gone hand in hand with "boom times."

Even Cock Fights Man will soberly work for a modest amount and ask nothing more of life than a roof, enough clothes to cover him, and three square meals. But the minute "gold" is heard and men imagine themselves wallowing in wealth, they demand more of life—luxuries, good times, revelry. And the only "good times" for which all men are ready, and that all can understand and appreciate are the inevitable quadruplets of drinking, gambling, dancing, women.

A fifth diversion is being planned for our camp inhabitants. A sporting man dashed into camp today to find the site for a cock-fight. He went back to Tonopah for lumber and a crew. He has promised us the cock pit within 24 hours. "I'll give Weepah the best cock-fighting to be had in the country," he brags, enlivening a cock fight as much superior to a boxing match because a rooster won't throw a fight.

Dance Hall Girls Strike

That was only our first excitement of the day. The dance hall girls went on strike, 20 of them. When the word got round the camp, men came rushing in from their claims, and everybody stormed the dance halls to see what was up.

Men were clamoring that the girls get what they asked for at any price. The girls demanded 60 per cent commission on all drinks they sold instead of the 50 per cent they were getting. They said that the girls over at Tonopah were getting 60. They stayed out just an hour and a half, then they got their 60.

Montana Kate Led Strike

Montana Kate, who had led the strike, gouged some more rouge into her face, ordered a nickel dropped into the nickelodeon, and ordered the girls to "get busy." Just then the dance hall men began raving, for they had learned that it was all a trick and that the Tonopah girls were working at the same old rates, but the Weepah girls'll get their 60 per cent or know the reason why.

Life goes on 24-hour shifts in the gold dust camps. Day and night, the saxophones of the dance halls whine, crowds mill on the street, the air is heavy with the odor of woggles, and men gargle and gargle again in the saloons.

The dance halls and saloons are working their girls in three eight-hour shifts and are hiring extra girls every hour.

A dance hall girl is not only hired to dance but to get drinks sold. She must have "a line" that will get the boys to buy plenty of drinks for herself and them. The 60 per cent make it good business for her to sell as many gallons an hour as possible.

The gold rush towns have no real segregated district. It seems to be everywhere. The two main streets and the three alley ways of Tonopah are lined with the homes of girls and women who always fringe a gold camp as buzzards a battlefield.

Cheap perfume and powder clog the very air of the camps. Lowered shades, frowsy heads stuck outside windows, screeching phonographs, and the eternal odor of liquor describe the region.

For the Kids Dot, an old-timer in the dance hall game, lives in house No. 4 in the alley called St. Patrick's street. A large colored picture of Dot's adored youngest kid has place of honor on the cheap dresser, flanked by the pictures of motion picture actresses, cheap powders and perfumes, and partly full chipped whisky glasses.

Dot's story matches the one most of the "daughters of joy" tell—a girl left destitute by a no-good husband; two babies to support; trained for no job in special, and with dance hall girls of the wild and woolly earning $28 to $36 a night. Dot keeps the kids in a good home with a nurse back in Frisco. "Gosh, how I'd like to get away from men forever—always telling 'em they're wonderful and listening to music and dance and drinkin' 'till I want to pass out cold."

NO HIGH-HAT HERE

England's most prominent track athlete is Lord David Burghley, who is coming to America to take part in the Penn relays. You'd think he would be a bit high-hat, but he is not. He wants everyone to call him Dave!

WATCH 'EM MCGRAW

Birmingham, in the Southern League, is likely to open the season with two Rosenfelds in the lineup. Both of them are former University of Alabama stars, one an outfielder and the other an infielder. Max, the older, has had one year's experience in the Cotton States' loop, while Dave, the younger, and an outfielder, is just out of college.

Sleep is largely a matter of climate according to a new theory. In one gold region men need much fatty food and not much sleep. In the tropics, however, much sleep and little fat is the best rule.

Before the 'NUTS'

By ED FRIEDMAN

NEA Service Writer

Pennsylvania is a great state for long distance radio reception, or else more habitual fishermen and golfers live there than elsewhere. Reports of consistent DX reception are received from this district daily. If it were California, natives would say, "It's the climate."

A "nut," and proud of it, is Fred L. Jeske of WBBM, Chicago. However, Fred is not an ordinary "nut." He is self-appointed colonel in that army of eccentrics. He won his spurs from his clever line of chatter while announcing and presiding officer of WBBM's popular Nutty Club. Although the male element of his audience call him a wise-cracking kid, the feminine listeners refer to him as "the baritone with the lovin' voice."

Station WRNY, New York, has arranged to broadcast a realistic description of a bull fight. The bull probably will be borrowed from Wall Street or imported from Washington.

The familiar "Hello Everybody" of Roxy is to be on the air again. It won't be long until fans will tune in WJZ or a chain station and hear the well-known greeting.

The musical comedy, "Princess Nicotine," listed on WEAF's program schedule, has been canceled and "Half a King" substituted. We suspect the anti-cagaret league had a hand in this.

The charming and deep, rich contralto voice heard frequently from WCFL, Chicago, is that of Vella Cook. Her singing has attracted a great number of listeners to this comparatively new station and has brought in large stacks of mail for Vella Cook herself. She's a favorite with many listeners within the range of the "Municipal Pier" station.

Edward Tarplee, British radio fan, says that being slightly deaf is no handicap to tuning in American stations. He hears music well but cannot follow a speech. A person would have to be totally deaf to avoid hearing some of the music played by American stations.

FACE BECAME BLOTCHED AND PIMPLY

ALL-BRAN relieved constipation—cleared skin—in 30 days!

Read this remarkable testimonial to the power of ALL-BRAN over constipation:

"For four years I have been a chronic sufferer from constipation. Being a salesman for skin preparations, I was brought face to face with a serious question when my face became blotched and pimply. I tried everything without results until a friend persuaded me to try the regular use of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

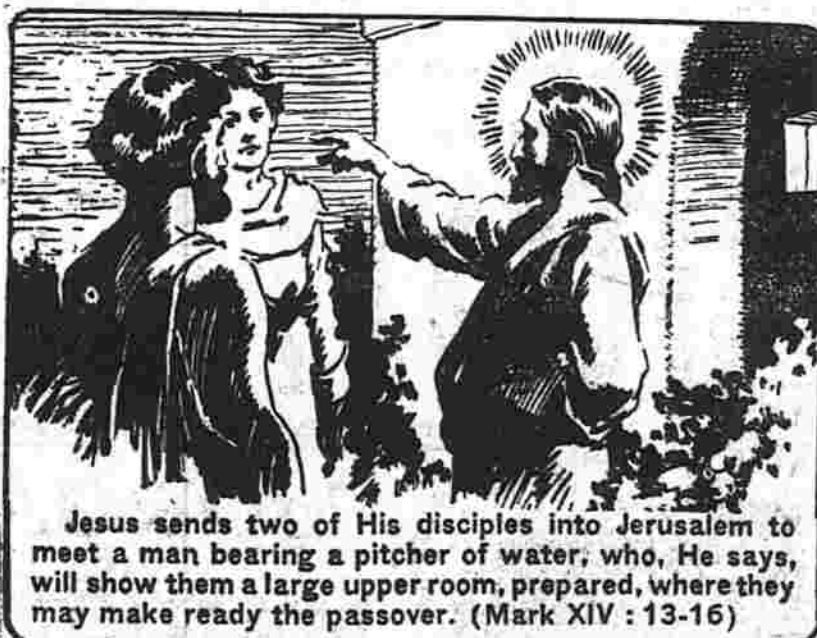

"In less than 30 days my constipated condition was cured and my skin permanently cleared. Although I sell skin sales, etc., I recommend Kellogg's to my close friends."

More than forty diseases are caused by constipation. Headaches, bad complexions, weakness, dizziness and many other forms of suffering. But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve it. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases, with every meal.

ALL-BRAN comes ready to serve. Delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Fine in cooking. Sold and by mail everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Recipes on package.

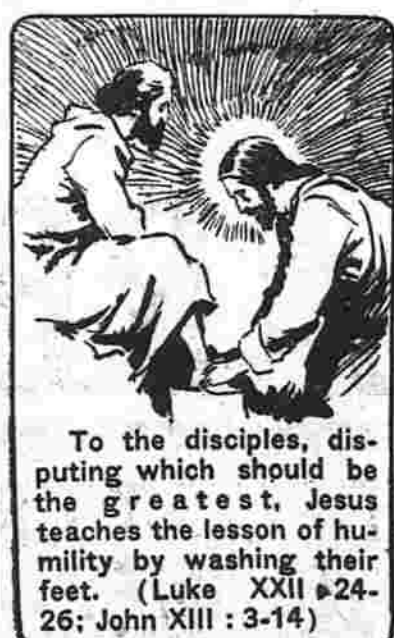

THE LIFE OF CHRIST The Last Supper

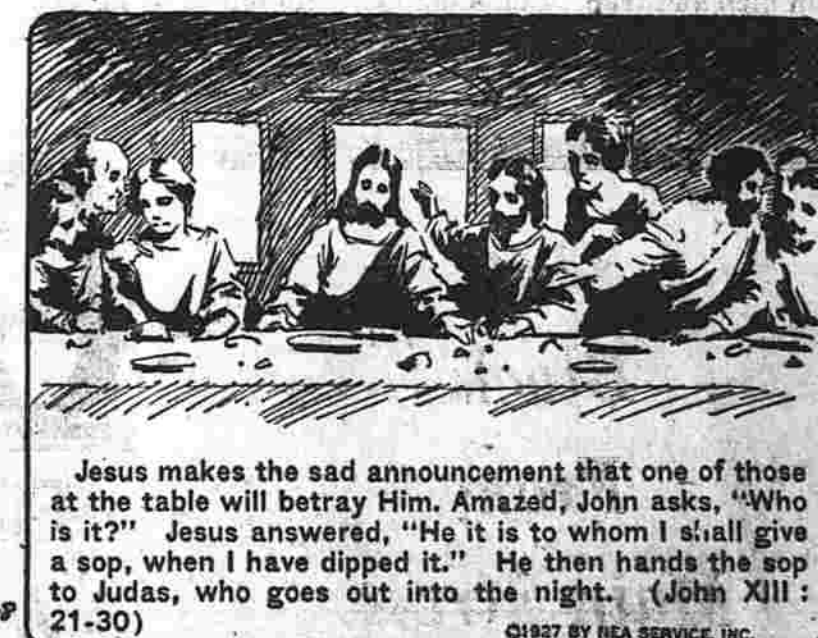

Jesus sends two of His disciples into Jerusalem to meet a man bearing a pitcher of water; who, He says, will show them a large upper room, prepared, where they may make ready the passover. (Mark XIV : 13-16)

Here Jesus instituted the "Lord's Supper," to be observed henceforth in remembrance of Him—a symbol of communion in the church. (I Corinthians XI : 23-26)

To the disciples, disputing which should be the greatest, Jesus teaches the lesson of humility by washing their feet. (Luke XXII : 24-26; John XIII : 3-14)

Jesus makes the sad announcement that one of those at the table will betray Him. Amazed, John asks, "Who is it?" Jesus answered, "He it is to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it." He then hands the sop to Judas, who goes out into the night. (John XIII : 21-30)

CHINESE PREFER FILMS FROM U. S.

Comedies and Child Stories Find Favor in Orient; Many Restrictions.

Chinese motion picture predilections return to history and love stories, C. J. North, chief of the Motion Picture Section of the Department of Commerce states in a trade bulletin just issued. Mr. North, in studying consular and trade reports from China, finds that the Chinese are all ardent motion picture fans by temperament and have shown distinct preference for American films, opening the way for the exportation of American films. Unsettled conditions in China, however, and the poverty of the people have restricted the spread of motion pictures there, he states.

Conditions Restricted Spread In a review of the bulletin, the Department of Commerce states:

The Chinese have very definite tastes regarding the types of pictures they want to see. The conventional "triangle" plot and "jazz" stories make little appeal to them while stories which depict family quarrels are very distasteful. Historical pictures, on the other hand, are always well received as are love stories of the idyllic type. However, as a general rule the pictures that arouse the Chinese to the greatest enthusiasm are comedies and stories of child life. All the well-known American comedians are immensely popular with the Chinese and one or two child actors have a large following.

Motion Picture Theaters There are now about 106 motion picture theaters in all of China, which is far less than the number in several of our large cities. This fact is striking when it is considered that the population of China is more than three times that of the United States. Shanghai has 26 theaters where pictures are shown and is the most important center of film distribution in China. The theaters are of various types and sizes ranging from the handsome modern "Odeon" which has recently been completed in the foreign section to the "Little World" which is in the native city and caters to the poorer classes. In the "Odeon" the admission prices range from 10 cents to $1 while the native can enter the BILIOUS.

The New Haven Union, which, after some vicissitudes appears to be attempting a renaissance by doing something striking, sends a marked copy containing a double column editorial under the rallying-cry caption "For New England" that sails right into the St. Lawrence Waterways project, head down and fists flying—particularly head down. We wish the old Union every success in its struggle for rehabilitation, but we are mournful about its accomplishing much for its own good or that of its community by such peculiar economic adventuring as this.

The Union's theory is that to give the Midwest access to the ocean might indeed be to strengthen the situation of the country in the struggle for world trade but would ring the death knell of New England's industries. To that end, the Union roundly roasts the Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce which listen applaudingly to the arguments of Secretary Hoover in favor of the waterways project. Its idea is that instead of helping boost the St. Lawrence scheme we should fight for the development of New England waterpowers and of New England harbors and shout for the upbuilding of an American merchant marine.

Its article sounds almost as if somebody from the Union office had been attending a class in economics in the "yellow building"—and if there is any worse place than a railroad office in which to carry on that particular study we don't know where it is.

Just about the last thing that New England folks ought to want is a continuation of the already dead situation where this little corner of the country almost monopolized the nation's manufacturing. In the industries there is a deal of "dirty work" to be done—smelting, steel making, rough bulk production, quantity fabrication (who in New England wants the Ford plants in his town?), cheap textile operation, a whole category of largely raw-material output—which New England doesn't need, to whose the Midwest or the South or whoever can handle it ought to be eminently welcome. New England's industrial destiny infallibly lies in the direction of quality production, of the refinement of skill, ingenuity and artistry in lines where a minimum of raw material is converted into a maximum of created value. It is not especially disturbing that the impoverished cotton mills of Lowell move to the South, if thereby the daughters and wives of the makers of cheap prints are enabled to buy Cheney silks made in Manchester. New England will not begrudge Michigan an automobile business that enables the people who make Fords for Europe to buy Locomobiles built in Connecticut and Rolls-Royces built in Massachusetts.

New England will prosper and grow yet more placid if we have an America prosperous enough to come to this section for the finest and best and most ingenious and artistic things. Because we shall continue to take the cream of the whole business of American industry, and the more of that industry there is to skim the better for us. The St. Lawrence waterway will be a great economic blessing for the whole country. Anyone who sees ruin to New England in the prosperity of the Midwest, the South or the West is bilious enough to see snakes in new milk.

WHAT WETNESS DID.

When on a previous occasion, "Big Bill" Thompson was mayor of Chicago he paid out three million dollars of the tax payers' money within three years to five "experts" employed in condemning private property for public improvements. The Chicago Tribune, acting for a taxpayer brought suit and managed to get back $600,000 of the loot. This was only one of innumerable performances of like nature, carried upon upon substantially as magnificent a scale. Many of his henchmen were indicted but he owned the district attorney and nothing was done to them. Thompson advocated draft dodging and fought the espionage act during the war. He was the most conspicuously disloyal American.

Yet he has been re-elected mayor of Chicago solely because he convinced the populace that he was watter than his opponent, who is no bone dry but who did make some gestures in the way of enforcing prohibition laws. Fifty thousand of Mayor Dever's former supporters bolted him on the Volstead issue when Thompson promised to make Chicago wetter than the Atlantic ocean. The defection settled the election, in spite of the fact that scores of thousands of decent Republicans, many of them notables, and every newspaper in town except the Hearst sheets, backed Dever.

We are not worrying about what happens to Chicago. Its majority chose Thompson, so Thompson, whatever he is, is good enough for Chicago. But when issues of the most desperate importance can be totally disregarded and voters show themselves willing to fling everything overboard but the wet-and-dry conflict in order to get rid of Volsteadism, it is a courageous person who can view the next Presidential contest with anything but apprehension.

It is not nearly time for the order-loving, law-abiding people of the country, large numbers of whom from the highest of motives have been consistent in their adherence to the prohibition idea, to wonder whether there is not at least a fair chance of handing the whole country over to the William Hale Thompsons, by providing people of that class with an issue that will swing simply millions of voters with single-track minds to the support of the most blatant wets, regardless of their other qualities? To be sure Chicago is Chicago. But Chicago, after all is different from the rest of America only in degree.

SACCO-VANZETTI.

Governor Fuller of Massachusetts does not need to do anything to prove that he has backbone when it comes to letting justice take its course with reference to murderers. He has shown that already in at least one very trying case, to his credit. That puts him in all the better position to intervene in the Sacco-Vanzetti case, in which the finding of the supreme court of Massachusetts takes away from the accused and convicted men all hope save such as may rest in possible action by the governor.

The Springfield Union makes the point that Sacco and Vanzetti have been denied nothing that any man could have had in such a case. We beg leave to doubt the complete accuracy of this declaration. They could have had from the supreme court, if that body had not been inclined to shirk the issue, an expression of opinion as to whether the evidence in the case justified the verdict and upon the value of the new evidence on which a new trial was requested. Instead, the court confined itself to declaring that the trial judge could honestly, conscientiously and intelligently reach the decision on the retrial which he did reach.

It did not declare or even intimate that the judge could not have been honestly and conscientiously mistaken. Sacco and Vanzetti have gotten nothing from the supreme court. The only person who has gotten anything there is Judge Thayer. And all he has gotten is a certificate of ordinary sanity and good character.

There are thousands of people who do not like to see accused persons put to death as the sequel of trials like that of Sacco and Vanzetti. They may be guilty. But the trial and all subsequent proceedings have left their guilt a matter of serious doubt in many minds.

INVISIBLE RAY SIGNALS.

Now that it has leaked out that military signaling by means of the invisible (infra-red) ray is being developed in England the interesting statement comes from Washington that so long ago as 1915 the American Bureau of Standards began experimenting along exactly the same line and that by the end of the war a set of instruments had been perfected which would and did actually operate. It was abandoned for a singular reason—that further development of the idea might prove to be a "two edged sword" inasmuch as there was no known way in which such signaling might be detected and it could be used against us as well as by us if the secret ever leaked—so all secrets eventually do.

The peculiar advantage of invisible ray telephony lies in the fact that signals can be transmitted along the ray from point of origin to a recipient upon whom the ray can be deflected and that the energy will not be diffused or scattered broadcast as in the case of radio-metry.

Nobody could pick up the signals unless he were in the direct line of sight of the sender, and for a third party to locate that line of sight would be a practical impossibility, let alone to take advantage of it.

Evidently here is the ideal method of secret communication over such distances as those of a modern field of battle. And now that the germ of the idea is no longer the exclusive possession of the United States the natural presumption is that the Bureau of Standards will again get on the job of perfecting the system.

WASHINGTON LETTER

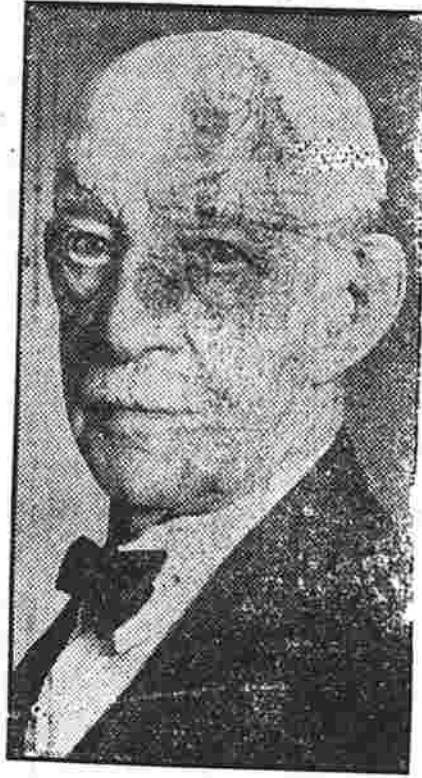

Washington, April 5.—The War Department has a reference library which walks around on two feet. "Marse John" B. Randolph, assistant to the chief clerk in the office of the secretary of war, has been in continuous service for 54 years. He entered in 1873 at the age of 30 and today, at the age of 84, he is the oldest employe at the State, War and Navy building.

Whenever the records don't shed light on some point dating back 40 or 50 years, they call on "Marse John" and find that his memory is holding out as well as his physique. The old gentleman is so young, incidentally, that he smokes cigars.

The principal distinction that has accrued to "Marse John" other than his service record lies in the fact that in 1903 he administered the oath of office to Lieut. Gen. Samuel B. Young, the first army chief of staff after the organization of the present general staff corps, and that he has sworn in every chief of staff since.

Randolph did the honors for Lieut. Gen. Alvin R. Chaffee, Maj. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott—the famous Indian fighter—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood—now governor general of the Philippines—and Gen. John J. Pershing.

He has also sworn in every chief of branch since the Spanish-American War.

John B. Randolph

The Virginia Randolphs contributed this valuable employe. His father was a lieutenant in the navy. His christening was attended by Henry Clay and Daniel Webster.

One of the high spots in old John's memory is the time in 1861 when he saw Maj. Robert E. Lee ride up to the office of Gen. Winfield Scott at the outbreak of the Civil War to discuss the crisis.

He had come over from Arlington, the old man recounts, "and he hitched his horse to a post outside the old War Department building and went on in to see the general."

"Pretty soon he came out again and crossed the street to Francis P. Blair's old home. It was in there that he is said to have refused the command of the Union army. A few days later he resigned his commission and went to fighting for the confederacy."

"Francis P. Blair was a great politician in those days." A marker outside the old Blair house today informs the visitor to the capital that inside Lee refused the command of the northern forces.

Soon after that incident, which Randolph treasures so carefully, he enlisted in the Union army at the age of 18 and served with the District of Columbia Volunteers, known as "the National Rifle." His company took a position on Arlington Heights, to meet an expected Confederate attack which didn't materialize. John was a lieutenant before the war ended and in 1865 and 1866 served with the marine corps.

He entered the War Department during Grant's administration, while Maj. Gen. William W. Belknap was secretary of war. Those were great days for the army, he says, with a general in the White House and the War Department as well. Randolph began, as a general service clerk. Today, he says, there are at least 15 times as many on the staff as in the old building where he went to work.

Mrs. Randolph is a daughter of the late Albert Smith White, a former senator from Indiana.

These days the duties of "Marse John" are not arduous. He supervises the routine of out-ward-bound correspondence and similar matters but he is principally valuable as the walking reference library.

New York, April 5.—Admitting a "flop" does not come easy to the show folk of Broadway. The actors of lesser importance are particularly brave with their gestures and have become almost historic for their boasts in the face of failure. It has become the earmark of the "ham" and "barnstormer" that he will boast of achievements, but invariably they were somewhere else.

While these struttings have become the basis for much comic travesty, there is a side that isn't so funny. This is presented by those who left Broadway to "knock 'em dead" elsewhere and who, or epridentally, cannot bear to return in the face of failure.

courage to come back and admit they flopped. For look at Broadway any way you wish, they are as fearful of general opinion there as on Main street—and maybe more so.

No one knows this better than the veteran "first nighters" of the theaters. There are many stars, whose names loom so large that one would think them past fear, who quake and tremble more than the newest arrival when facing a first night audience.

Ethel Barrymore is said to inevitably be at her worst on opening performances. Grace George fears the first night glare; Laurette Taylor and Alice Brady—but one could go on through the whole list of casts in search for first-night nervousness. The basis is that fear of what people will think of the performance and the show or the forgetting of lines. No high school production in Sheboygan goes on more timorously than a first performance with the nation's most famous stars.

Newcomers making their first appearance have an elaborate schedule of rites that remind one of the magic, the amulets, charms and that not of the ancients. The introduction of a particularly new number is marked by many with similar hokuspocus. In one of the leading Broadway successes of the season critics pointed approvingly to the realism contained in a bit of business wherein a "hooper" going into a cabaret for a number, crossed himself before making an entrance. This is not at all an uncommon practice, Gopd-luck charms of all sorts are used and there are as many superstitious as there are actors to create them. Trifling things like a sagging curtain, or an electric light blinking, a piece of properties out of place or a makeup box mislaid are taken as serious omens for the success of the production and the actor. A mishap on the way to theater is construed as unfavorable and the actor watches himself carefully against mishaps on the stage.

Ah! Strange were the dim, wide meadows, And strange was the cloud-strewn sky. And strange in the meadows the dornercakes. And they making cry! The hawthorn bloom was by us. Around us the breath of the south. White hawthorn, strange in the night-time— His kiss on my mouth! —Padraic Colum: "Across the Door."

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

WHICH INSECTS ARE DANGEROUS? By ARTHUR N. PACK, President, American Nature Ass'n.

Although many people are wary of insects, believing that they all bite or sting, in reality a very small proportion are capable of inflicting any wound; and of those wounds nearly all are accidental or used as weapons of defense.

One interesting type of insect, the bombardier beetle, has an original method of defense: it uses a sort of gas bomb. When pursued it discharges, with a sound of a miniature popgun, an acid fluid which changes into a bluish smoke and covers the beetle's line of retreat.

Another species is known as the skunk of the insect world because it carries a supply of pungent, bad-smelling fluid which it can squirt out at an enemy if attacked. To the stinging group belong the bees, wasps, yellow jackets, hornets and others of the same order. Of these only the females possess the stinging organs which are modifications of the egg-laying apparatus. A sharp-pointed sheath indicates the wound, and an acid secretion is forced into it. Some females and workers among the ants possess similar stinging organs.

One would hardly believe that a creature as lovely as a moth or butterfly would possess or need defensive apparatus, but in their earlier stage as caterpillars some have most effective weapons.

Of all the insects, however, the ones most dangerous are those least feared—the common house fly, carrying germs from place to place; the mosquitoes, lice, fleas, bedbugs, etc. If it is of these one should truly and justly be afraid.

Here's Marcella!
She's Freckle-Faced Youngster at WSMB

"Marcella" doing her part before Bed-Time, in the Twilight Story Hour of WSMB, New Orleans. Inset is photo of Clyde R. Randall, the Twilight Story Man.

New Orleans—"Marcella," whom thousands of boys and girls throughout the south know only by her pleasant piping voice, finally has revealed herself.

"Marcella" is the little girl who has kept the ears of children tuned to their radio loud speakers ever since Station WSMB here went on the air. Every Friday night, from 6 to 7, Marcella has been heard through this station, giving a short entertaining talk to her unseen friends, or reading a short story from some children's book.

That is all the children have known about Marcella, except that she must be a child like themselves, because of her slight voice and her unusual manner of addressing them. Now they know Marcella is wavelength of 319 meters, every Friday evening to hear him and Marcella.

Randall instituted this hour at WSMB as one of its first features. It is perhaps its best.

Educational Program

Included in it, Randall has run historical and geographical contests as interesting to adults as to their youngsters. He has had school executives, principals and teachers talk during this hour, and has always followed up these features with Marcella's "appearance."

At every Twilight Hour Randall has instituted the idea of asking a question for the children to answer. Thousands have written in, telling about themselves besides giving their answers. And the names of those answering correctly have been broadcast to their delight.

This and Marcella's personality have won a great juvenile following for WSMB.

"ASK ME ANOTHER QUESTION?" NOW WORRYING BASEBALL HEADS

Hornsby Holds Stock In Cardinals and Plays With Giants and Legal Mix-up Follows.

By DAVID J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 3.—Conservative to the end, John A. Heydler and the National League beg to announce that at last they feel themselves entitled to enjoy some of the national irritation contiguous to the questions and answers game and that, fairly reeling in their pain, they will begin asking themselves embarrassing questions promptly at eleven o'clock this morning.

They will take the strange case of Rogers Hornsby, financier or ball player or both, as their focal point, the occasion being a special league meeting called to see what can be done, if anything, about a young man who harbors the unique notion that property is something you sell at your own, your personal valuation or not at all. However, there are other considerations at issue, including the ethical question of whether a man really should be part owner of one club and second baseman of another.

Some Questions
John and his men also will daily with the following questions:
Will Hornsby steadfastly hold out for $105 a share for his stock in the St. Louis Cardinals, a full valuation of $122,533?
Can he be beaten down to Sam Breadon's best offer, which happens to be $60 a share?
Will he, all compromises failing, attempt to start the season at second base for the Giants next Tuesday?

In which case, will Heydler be justified in advising to his official ukase that Hornsby cannot be eligible to play for the Giants while holding stock in a rival club and will Heydler then go so far as to have the umpire in charge order Hornsby out of the park?

And, if this is to be done, will John McGraw stick to his announced determination to obtain an injunction against the National League interfering with Hornsby's pursuit of happiness and money or both, thus taking the entire issue into court, as Hornsby has threatened to do for weeks?
Frankly, a compromise seemed to be the only solution as the league prepared to go into session at the William Penn hotel this morning. Heydler already has tendered Hornsby a proposition, whereby the price-fixing would be left to an arbitration committee mutually acceptable to himself and Breadon but it is understood that Hornsby's attorney, William Fahey, replied that there was "nothing to arbitrate."

Hornsby, he intimates, was traded to the Giants without his consent after he had won the pennant and World Series for the Cardinals last fall and that, therefore, it is up to the league, which countenances the trade, to see that its ethics are clear. He also makes the point of law that no one can interfere with a man's livelihood because he refuses to sell his property.

The league has countered with the claim that Hornsby was glad to come to New York and that he proved it by accepting a salary of $30,000, whereas he was refusing $50,000 a year in St. Louis.

Secrets of 16 Years Successful Pitching

BY GROVER ALEXANDER
Veteran Pitcher of World's Champions

CONTROL OF BALL

All pitchers are not born alike. That is, nature does not give them arms that will throw everything under the sun. Unless nature has been unusually generous, as in my case, my advice is to work with a fast ball, a curve, and a slow twister and then go out to master control. That's enough to become a major leaguer. Don't forget control, however.

My assortment consists of a fast ball, a curve, a screw-ball, a knuckler, side arm and over-hand. I have never over-taxed my muscles with anything I throw. Don't experiment with something the arm is not fitted for. You notice I have never gone in for the spit-ball.

Control, as has been preached by managers and coaches for years, is not splitting the center of the plate. It is putting the ball where you aim. Keep it away from the groove of the hitter and I assure you more than half of your battle has been won.

A slow ball is essential. I have a young pitcher on our club who is going to become a marvel as soon as he gets control of a slow one. He is Flint Rhem. I never saw a youngster with so much natural stuff.

A slow ball is the thing to throw those fellows up at the plate off their stride—unless, of course, we mention such pitchers as Walter Johnson, Ed Reulbach, Joe Wood, Cy Young, Jack Powell and other smoke-ball wizards.

But how many successful fast-ball pitchers have we had beside the ones I have mentioned? Mighty few.

Important Soccer Games on Sunday

Although there will be but one more soccer game in Manchester until next fall—Manchester vs. Bridgeport on Campbell at Mt. Nebo Sunday—the present season is in the offing and several important National Challenge Cup competition fixtures are scheduled for decision within the next four weeks. The western clubs, where 61 started in quest of national honors last October, have already decided one divisional finalist while a second semi-final resulted in a draw. In Michigan the Holley Carburator P. C. of Detroit defeated the American Hungarian P. C. of Cleveland, Ohio, by 4 to 2, to enter the western final.

St. Louis and Chicago, represented by the Ben Miller and Sparta clubs, respectively, engaged in a two goal draw last Sunday at the Mound City and will move to the Windy City for the replay Sunday afternoon. The Holley outfit will meet the winner of this game to determine the survivor from the west for the grand final to engage the eastern representative.

Newark Continues Stride.

The Newark Soccer Club continued its string of successes last Sunday by eliminating the Indiana Flooring Company in the second round by 2 goals to 1 after extra periods had been played. Both clubs were deadlocked at the end of the regular two forty-five minute periods with one goal each.

The Newark eleven has advanced to the semi-final in which round they will meet the Bethlehem Steel F. C. Sunday afternoon at Hawthorne Field, Brooklyn, N. Y.—the home of the Brooklyn Wanderers. Bethlehem had little trouble in gaining a place in the semi-final. In the first round the Steelmen eliminated the Philadelphia club by 3 goals to 1 and in the succeeding round trounced the Trenton F. C. by 6 to 0.

Newark has had rough traveling in both rounds and were forced to conquer the Brooklyn Wanderers in the opening round which was accomplished only after a strenuous battle, 2 goals to 1. Then Indiana took a place in the semi-final before the New Jersey entry but only after one of the most hectic games ever seen at New York Oval.

When these teams face each other Sunday afternoon each will bring its special types of playing. Bethlehem, with its skillful short passing game which is entirely a foreign product, presents an interesting spectacle when in action while the Newarkers rely on the speed of the forwards and the hefty drives of the defense division to boot the ball into the opposing territory.

George Lambie of Newton, Mass., has been selected to referee this match which is slated to start at 2 p. m.

Fall River entered the New England semi-final by defeating the Fore River F. C. last Sunday by 5 goals to 1 and now the Marksmen are awaiting the victor of the second round tilt between the Providence and Whittall Carpet Mills teams which will be played tomorrow.

Arrangements have been completed for the eastern final of the Amateur Cup Competition to be played at Marion Oval, Jersey City, N. J., Sunday, April 17. The contesting clubs will be the McLeod Council F. C. of Jersey City and the LaFlamme Cobblers F. C. of New Bedford, Mass.

Local Sport Chatter

Unless the unexpected again develops, Old Man Basketball will go into his annual hibernation after tonight's tussle at the Rec gym between Manchester and Willimantic. He is surely trying to enjoy himself as long as possible, though, and is stubbornly refusing to surrender the sport to Miss Dugan's basketball, great outdoor pastime. Within the past few years two basketball games have been fought that have required three overtime periods each. Even that did not settle one of them.

The attendance tonight at the basketball games, however, is expected to show more vividly than words, the welcome with which the popular sport will be ushered into temporary oblivion. Manchester and Willimantic have long been rivals and every time the two towns engage in any sort of competition, a large crowd usually responds to the occasion.

Next week Murphy's Girls will roll two more encounters in the state league when they stack up against the Casino Girls of Hartford Tuesday and Thursday. The final three games will be rolled here Thursday night at Murphy's alleys.

Virginia Van Wie and Dorothy Page Doped to Clash For National Golf Title.

By JIMMY POWERS

New York, April 3.—Here are the two greatest "kid" golfing prospects in ages—Virginia Van Wie, 17 years old, and Dorothy Page, 18 years old—and the story of their rise and development. Both were born in Manchester, N. H., and have proved their game plenty table d'hôte for thought.

One of the greatest systems of instruction, parallel to Bobby Jones' imitating stylized, stroke by stroke. The other represents a less imaginative system contrasted to Bobby Jones'—daily technical instruction, a dissecting of every part of the swing.

"Ginny" Van Wie has been going great guns this spring in Florida. She smashed the Ormond Beach course record and then waited over to St. Augustine and made Glenna Collett's mark look like something the kitty lugged home.

She shot a brilliant 38-39-77 to cop the medal in the east coast championship. Her card at Ormond stands 41-38-78.

Bobby Jones was only 14 when he went into his first tournament and won it. Miss Van Wie was only 14 when she went into her first tournament—and won it. She put up a memorable extra hole battle when she was 16, bowling over Glenna at St. Augustine and starting the feminine golf world. All the Chicago youngster's skill has been picked up imitating the big shots.

Dorothy Page's development is a contrast to Jones'. This little Madison (Wis.) school girl is the women's western golf champion and she's still in her teens.

She acquired her game methodically, strenuously. Lessons each day from Professional Guy Martin built up a sound foundation. She has a thorough understanding of the technique of each stroke and can visualize every part of her swing.

This is of greater value than instinctive play for there are moments when one stumps and unless a complete understanding is there, it takes luck or a long grind to recover the winning stride.

Nashville, Tenn., April 3.—The Yankees are homeward bound today, the series with the Cardinals ending in a draw when St. Louis won the last game ten to eight. Babe Ruth got a homer, but Frisch hit two homers and two doubles to boot.

Atlanta, Ga., April 3.—Brooklyn's pitchers apparently are not ready for the opening gong. The Dodgers trounced Atlanta yesterday but had to score eleven runs to do it.

Washington, April 3.—If this year's World Series is between the Giants and the Senators, there will be some heavy bets between the Giants and the Senators. There will be some heavy bets on the Giants. They licked the Nationals again yesterday, 19 to 9, and the Nationals looked worse than usual. The Giants have now won seven out of the nine games of the spring exhibition series with the Senators.

Louisville, Ky., April 3.—Having won two straight from Memphis, the White Sox were here today to play Louisville.

Kansas City, Mo., April 3.—The Cubs play the Kansas City Blues here today.

Wichita Falls, Texas, April 3.—Detroit has won fifteen out of twenty games in Texas. The Tigers beat Wichita Falls yesterday, seven to two.

Manchester and Willimantic broke even in a two-game series during the past season and as a consequence, each is anxious to wipe out the stain of the defeat. In Willimantic's case, it was the only defeat suffered. Manchester lost one other. A preliminary game between the seniors and the sophomores for the high school interschool championship will precede the main encounter tonight and will start at 7:30.

The net proceeds of the game will go toward defraying the expenses of the senior trip to Washington. Even though the season was supposed to have been concluded several weeks ago, it is expected that a huge crowd will witness the game which will not count in the official records of either school. The Manchester independents have already won two games, defeating Heller Brothers in Willimantic 26 to 25 and the Service A. C. in Hartford, 30 to 27, after three overtime periods.

The probable lineups: Manchester—Willimantic
Manchester—Nichols

Mantelli—Tinker
Referee: Red Thompson.

Manch. Is Favored to Defeat Old Rival In Benefit Game, With Cracker-jack Preliminary Bill.

Basketball will sing the third and last encore of its 1926-27 swan song tonight and in the obituary will be ten young athletes from the Manchester and Willimantic High schools under the supervision of Director "Red" Thompson who will christen festivities with a shriek of his whistle at 8:15. From then on the next forty minutes, there will be excitement—a plenty, and then Manchester will be favored to win.

In other words, the two rival school boy quints, are going to settle, once and for all, the disagreement as to which is the better team. They will play under assumed names, each team being officially known as the Independents. The lineups, however, will be the same as those used during the school season with the exception of the addition of Elio Mantelli to Manchester's roster.

Lucky Chance Gets Her Five Year Contract

By GENE CORN

New York.—One of those accidents of fortune that figure so frequently in the Cinderella stories of the movies, has attached Goldie Flynn from a Broadway chorus and turned her into Ellnor King, a star for F. B. O. with her name signed to a five-year contract.

Goldie Flynn comes from a small Colorado town. A beauty contest first called attention to her. Her photograph was broadcasted about and came to the attention of theatrical folk.

She got a vaudeville engagement in Denver and other western cities a couple of years ago and was signed to an engagement on the All Star bill. But she hadn't sufficient background for star or feature engagements and when she arrived in New York, she decided to start all over again.

She secured work in the chorus of Fred Stone's musical show and there was kicking her way along when—

Goldie Flynn

One night a couple of months ago, Joseph P. Kennedy, the president of F. B. O., was entertaining some cinema visitors from Hollywood. He called a ticket agency and ordered a number of seats for "any good musical comedy." The long arm of coincidence was favoring Goldie Flynn for the film magnate was assigned tickets to the performance in which she appeared.

She was singled out as a good film type and called upon, a few days later, to make tests. Now she is enroute for Hollywood to be starred, probably with Conway Tearle.

Although but 18, Goldie—who in the films will be known as Ellnor King—has the appearance of being considerably older and, it is said, can be best in roles either of a young flapper or a young married woman.

HILARIOUS FUN FILM AT CIRCLE TOMORROW

George O'Hara in "Is That Nice?" Shown With Jack Hoxie in Western.

A hilarious comedy starring George O'Hara, a bang-up Western story with Jack Hoxie in the leading role, and the first episode of the pioneer serial, "Fighting With Buffalo Bill," are the headlines on the Circle theater's program which will be continuous tomorrow afternoon and evening.

O'Hara is cast as the principal performer in the five-reel feature, "Is That Nice", a comedy that will throw its audience into paroxysms of laughter. O'Hara's ability as a comedy actor is now well known and he will be sure to please in his latest effort.

"Rough and Ready" the companion feature fully justifies Hoxie's popularity and indicates that boys know fairly well what they want. Not that the star's appeal is mainly to the youth of the land. Quite the contrary.

It has been amply proven that a boy will not misplace his affection. His idol must be, like Caesar's wife, without blemish. Once any stain mars his character, he will be displaced in the boy's affections and all the king's horses would never be able to place him back on his pedestal.

"The Wandering Gipsy" and "The Truthful-Boy," two thrilling dramas of modern women, are on the screen tonight for the last time. Both pictures have been showing at the Circle for the past two days and the program is one of the best ever put on the silver sheet at the Oak street playhouse.

Attendance in the Board District school for the month of March was 87.1 per cent. Mabel, Elsie and Ellen Hills have been perfect in attendance for the month and for the year to date.

A school entertainment will be given by the pupils in both rooms of the Center school on Thursday evening, April 14, beginning at 8 o'clock. The program will consist of two health plays, esthetic dancing, music, recitations, etc. The proceeds will be given to the dental clinic work in the schools. The entertainment will take place at the town hall.

Charles Bauer of New York, formerly of Hebron, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Robert Bellows.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Brewer and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brewer of Hockanum were guests of Mrs. Helen White on Sunday.

Hershel E. Libby, supervisor of schools in Southington, formerly supervisor of the Hebron schools, visited this place during the week end for the trout fishing.

Miss Daisy White, former teacher at the Jones street school, entertained at her home recently two of her former pupils, the Misses Julia and Henrietta Staba. Miss Henrietta is a pupil in Bacon Academy and Miss Julia is in business college in Middletown. Four of the graduates of Miss White's school of the class of 1921, have taken a business course, and one is in college.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Randall Tennant, all of New Haven, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. Tennant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jared B. Tennant. Mrs. Randall Tennant remained with her husband's parents for a visit of a few days.

There will be a meeting of the town school committee at the town clerk's office Saturday evening of this week.

A meeting of the judges of essays on the liquor question written by pupils of the schools of the town met on Wednesday and passed judgment. Owing to the fact that there was a misunderstanding as to the time limit on the part of many of the teachers but few essays had been handed in. Of these the one written by Clara Porter of the Jagger school was considered the best and has been forwarded to state headquarters to be considered with those competing for the state prize. It may be decided to give a longer time limit to those wishing to compete for the local prize but essays written later would not be eligible for the state prize. The matter is under the auspices of the local and state W. C. T. U. Supervisor C. M. Larcomb. Miss Susan E. Pendleton and Miss Clarissa Lord acted as judges.

COLUMBIA

Mrs. Ruth Jacobs spent Tuesday at her cottage at Groton Long Point.

Postmaster H. W. Porter has returned to his home after spending two weeks at St. Joseph's hospital, Williamatic, following an operation.

The board of directors of the Columbia Improvement Association met Tuesday evening. The report of a committee of three on the probable cost of levelling and restodding the Green was accepted and a vote passed to retain the committee for further work.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Lyman spent Wednesday in Manchester at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stollenfeldt.

Mrs. Hubert Collins has returned from the Charter Oak hospital in Hartford, after having been a patient there for eight weeks.

At the regular meeting of Columbia Grange Wednesday Rev. Duane Wain was in charge of the Lecturers' hour, which was open to the public. Professor Johnson of the Hartford Theological Seminary was the speaker of the evening, his subject being "Rural life in Germany." Prof. Johnson spent 15 years in research work in Germany and was there during the World war, under the supervision of the police, being an enemy alien. His talk was exceedingly interesting and instructive, and the audience would gladly have listened longer.

There will be a Well Child conference at the Town Hall in Columbia on Wednesday afternoon, April 13.

"MUSIC MASTER" IS NEW YORK IN 1900'S

Alec Francis Stars in Film at State on Sunday.

Those who cherish memories of the New York of 1900 will have them visualized in the Fox screen version of the Belasco-Warfield triumph, "The Music Master," which will be presented on Sunday evening at the State theater.

The story harks back to the time when horses had equal rights on Broadway, when women had no rights on Election Day, when men had begun to shed side-whiskers and before ladies had even thought of eliminating petticoats. Heavy-footed Percherons champed down the street drawing vulgar vehicles known as brewery wagons, in contrast to the more dainty footed saddle horses we glimpse in the park nowadays when the weather is favorable.

That was the day of the long tunic and leg-of-mutton sleeve, believed to be feminine adornment par excellence by the fashionables of the period. It was long before the bob had driven men from their sequestered haunts in barber shops. Incidentally Director Allan Dwan had more than a little difficulty to find enough women with long hair for his scenes.

Those who recall such popular songs as "After the Ball," "Good-bye, Dolly Gray," "Bedelia" and "Hiawatha" will welcome many familiar sights that have been related to the picturesque past.

The title role of "The Music Master" is portrayed by Alec Francis, with Lois Moran, Helen Chandler and Neil Hamilton playing prominent parts. Bill Tilden, the tennis star, tried his cannon ball service in the role of butler.

DAUGHTERS OF MIDAS

by Anne Austin

THIS HAS HAPPENED

T. Q. CURTIS stages two intriguing contests in his big department store and, strangely, the winners are the prettiest girls in the store—BILLY WELLS, NYDA LOMAX, WINNIE SHELTON, and others.

The prize for the second contest is an invitation to a big formal dinner party at the Curtis mansion and an evening dress and slippers for each girl for the occasion. Billy suspects that old Curtis has a motive behind his actions and generosity. These suspicions are heightened when when CLAY CURTIS, son of the store owner, begs Billy to have nothing to do with the contest.

Clay has disinherited himself and is now living with the Wells family in a factory by day and writing music at night. The friendship between Clay and Billy is founded on their mutual love of music. Billy hopes some day to be a great violinist.

The day Billy learns she is a winner in the second contest, a customer comes to her counter who entralls her with his brilliant looks, his somber eyes and intimate smile. When she announces to Clay and her mother the prize she has won, Clay begs her not to accept the invitation to dinner. In the end, he proposes marriage to Billy, saying he is willing to give up his ambitions to make his own way and return to his father, so that he may have unlimited money to spend on Billy's musical education.

Billy refuses, for his sake, although she believes she loves him. At the dinner of the Curtis home, Billy sees DAL ROMANINE, a stranger with mysterious eyes, whom she had first met at the glove counter. She is completely under Romanine's spell and resents bitterly when Nyda Lomax takes his attention away from her.

She gave herself up utterly to the joy of dancing with a perfect partner.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XVII

"YOU are angry with me about something," Dal Romanine's low, rich voice challenged Billy a few minutes later, after she had sat speechless and tormented through the meat course.

"You were believing that I had told Miss Lomax just what I had been saying to you," he went on, in words so low that they could reach no other ears than hers.

"You're a mind reader, as well as a fortune-teller?" Billy retorted with something like her old impudence.

"It is not hard to read your mind—it is such an honest, open mind. As a matter of fact, I can read minds rather well. Minds of people who vibrate with me, if you understand—and I think you do."

"I know very little of the metaphysical and occult world," Billy shrugged, but she could not lower her eyes or turn to her food as if the subject did not interest her.

"You do not have to know—you feel," he told her.

"And did you say that to Nyda, too?" it's a gross line. And it's new in Colfax, or at least, in the department store circles. It should be very successful.

"Miss Lomax asked me if I wasn't sort of foreigner, and I told her, in a word, that I had gypsy blood in my veins. One can't refuse to answer a question. But we must not quarrel, Billy Wells."

"Oh, Billy!" Leila Sampson seized her chum as the party drifted into the drawing room. "I used the wrong fork somewhere along the line and when I got to the ice cream I didn't have anything left but my coffee spoon to eat it with! I thought I'd die when Mrs. Meadows told the waiter to bring me an ice cream fork. I wish I hadn't come! I feel awful in this red dress."

"You look lovely," Billy whispered soothingly. "Oh, hello, Nyda! Yes, I'll go up with you. I'd like to renovate my complexion, too."

Coming, Winnie?"

The four girls went up the wide staircase. A bedroom at the head of the stairs had been turned into a cloak-and-dressing room, and a white-capped maid was on duty to serve them.

"This rose wabbles," Nyda spoke with natural irritation, her seductive drawl laid aside until it was needed. "A needle and black thread, please," she demanded haughtily of the maid. "Not going to let her Ritz me, because we work in the store," she whispered to Billy. "Oh, say, what do you think of the sheik? He gives me the shivers with those eyes of his. I believe he's a hypnotist, and I told him so, too."

"He's certainly unusual," Billy answered indifferently, as she sat down before the mirror. "Good heavens! T. Q. must have looted the cosmetics department. He's got everything here, from twenty-dollar-ounce perfume to mascara."

"He told me to have everything necessary sent up—and I did," Nyda laughed. "Winnie, you've certainly bagged the prize bachelor. You sure got in your work quick on Ralph Truman."

"I'll trade him to you for Dalhart Romanine," Winnie smiled.

"Let's go down," Billy suggested abruptly to Leila Sampson, who had been rubbing her cheeks vigorously with her own soiled powder puff.

At half past nine the vast drawing room and the almost equally laced in his arms, gave herself up utterly to the joy of dancing with a perfect partner. He did not talk, for which she was grateful, but after a round of the drawing room, he willed her to meet his eyes, and he held them unwaveringly until the dance was finished.

Ralph Truman claimed her for the next dance, and his light, nonsensical chatter helped to steady her nerves. She became her impudent, flippant self again, parried his "kidding" skillfully, evaded making a "date" with him, but promised vaguely to through his father's factory with him some time.

"I want you to see where Clay works," he told her, serious for the moment.

"You forget that I work, too," she reminded him. "This is Cinderella's ball, you know, but it happens that there are nine Cinderellas here tonight."

Twice they passed Dal Romanine, his dark, sleek head bent over tiny Winnie Shelton, an amused smile quirked the corners of his mouth. Just before the music stopped, Truman whirled her out of the drawing room door into the hall, where T. Q. Curtis stood talking with his lawyer, Warburton. In the instant of their intrusion, Billy heard a word sung like the smack of a challenging glove into the face of her employer. "Fool!" Then Warburton saw her and Truman scowled at them, and retreated into the library across the hall, leaving T. Q. with them.

"Having a good time?" he grinned.

"Glorious!" She lifted her arms to him, as the orchestra began to play an encore. "Dance with me just this once, Mr. Curtis, it's a waltz."

They bumped into Dal Romanine, looking for her, and the darkening of his face in disappointment made her absurdly happy.

"Mr. Curtis, who is Mr. Romanine?" she asked.

"I've never met him before, my dear, but he's a nephew of Mrs. Meadows. I understand from her that he is in business in New York. I'm not clear just what it is. He seems to have made quite a hit with the girls, doesn't he?" There was a slight edge of contempt on the words which did not escape Billy.

It was five minutes to twelve when the jazz orchestra's saxophone tooted "Taa-at's all!" She had had five dances with Romanine, but he had not as yet devoted to Nyda and Winnie, claiming the gorgeous brunet for four dances and the tiny little blond for three.

"Of course I'm taking you home," he told her, holding her bare arm close against his side before releasing her.

But Billy saw T. Q.'s quizzical eyes upon her. "No," and she shook her head at Romanine, then released her hand and took three alighting, dancing steps to T. Q.'s side.

"I hope the taxis are waiting," she laughed up at him. "For the stroke hour of twelve is about to strike, and this particular Cinderella doesn't want her chariot to turn to a pumpkin. It's been a glorious party, Mr. Curtis. I've never had such a good time in my life before."

"Were you really happy?" he asked, with far more earnestness than the occasion seemed to justify. "What would you say if the hour didn't strike for you at all?"

(To Be Continued)

A telegram throws the Wells household into a tremendous excitement in the next chapter. What is T. Q. up to?

THE FLAPPER'S "DAILY DOZEN"

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

If you get tired of "the eternal old round of dinner-getting, wash, soap, meat, potato, vegetable, salad, and dessert to prepare, listen to a word from Samuel Pepy's diary about the supper that his wife had prepared for him when he returned from the day's arduous labors:

"My wife had got ready a very fine dinner—viz.: a dish of marrow bones, a leg of mutton, a loin of veal, a dish of fowl, three pullets and two dozen of larks, all in a dish, a great tart, a neat's tongue, a dish of anchovies, a dish of prawns and cheese." We will sing now the chorus of that grand old song entitled, "Praise Be, I Was Born Years Later!"

Women Bandits

An 18-year-old boy, arrested in St. Louis last fall for his discovered plans of robbing Queen Marie of Rumania, has just been sentenced to a reformatory on another charge. He explained that he wanted to rob Marie, "just so I could say all my life that I'd robbed a queen."

The boy is not so different from many women we all know who make homes miserable for their families as they moan about what they don't have, and inflate the home standard of living, run into debt, and put the emphasis on the inane thing of life just so that they may say "I entertained Mrs. Boom-Boom."

"Kitchen Bessies"

Another "Kitchen Bessie" got into trouble. He was a 86-year-old Spanish-American war veteran. He was shot and killed by an 86-year-old Civil War veteran, "because he was always botherin' the women folks in the kitchen and talkin' too much and too fast."

The morale of the tale is that the sooner men learn that a kitchen is the woman's domain, the better off they'll be!

Women "Figgers"

Figures ordinarily are not interesting in the advance and present status of women may enjoy these. Eight million and a half women are gainfully employed in this country right now. This does not include the millions of women who work harder in their own homes than any of the eight million, but who are not paid a wage. More than 22 per cent of this number hold manufacturing jobs, mechanical jobs. There are only 35 occupations not open to women. There are 297,000 fewer women in domestic work than there were 17 years ago.

It would be interesting to see the figures for 1937. Will the pendulum have swung backward, and will women be back in the home, or will none of them be there, and where will they and their husbands and families, if any, be?

Too Bad

Mrs. Ruth Snyder, accused of helping kill her husband, complained that among the many ills she suffered at the hands of her mate was the fact that out of his weekly salary of $115 he gave her only $85 for the upkeep of the home and to save. "I could not keep up my end on that," she said. I am sure that she will have intense sympathy of thousands of women who manage to keep up homes very nicely on $25 a week!

"She's a snob!" says everyone as Betty passed by.

Because you see, whenever she walks she holds her nose so high. But Betty has a reason, her little head to tip—

Her beau's an aviator and she watches for his ship.

A girl doesn't have to be on the stage to be a show girl.

Skyscrapers and Hats

With furniture, draperies, pillows, even frocks and capes, Midway's bonnet has succumbed to the modern skyscraper. Zoning laws require tall structures to recede from the building line as they ascend, and now chapeaux respond to the same compulsion. An interesting model—with its motif for a background!

COOPERATION SECRET OF HOME EFFICIENCY

Careful Plans and No Waste Essential Too, Says Mrs. Lillian Gilbreth, Expert House-mistress.

National health must start with mother in the home. It is for that reason that I am going to set down a few facts about the way in which I have reared a family of eleven children and pursued a career at the same time.

In doing it, I had many advantages and three principles. The chief advantage was Frank Gilbreth, my husband, a human dynamo intensely interested in every problem of the home. He was first a contracting engineer and afterwards an authority in scientific management.

I began to study engineering on my honeymoon, at his suggestion, and it was the principles I worked out with him that made everything possible.

I must confess, of course, that I had another tremendous advantage in that I have never had any health problem to contend with. My children and I have always been superbly well.

As for the three principles:

The first thing any housekeeper must do to obtain an efficient household is to get the active cooperation of everybody concerned—husband, relatives, children and servants.

Second, she must be able to plan expertly, to study the technique of each household task and organize the work.

Finally, she must eliminate waste at every possible point.

Husband Interested

My husband happened to be interested from the beginning. Most men will have to be interested by their wives. That is not hard if you have the right attitude. Men love to plan and we women need a man's brain in the organization of our households.

We've got to get husbands to regard their homes as something

Everybody Pulls

An efficient home is a cooperative enterprise with everybody pulling strong for its success. The cook, if there is one, can be trained to plan meals and buy according to a fixed budget. She will be far more interested if she has responsibility.

In the same way, every mother ought to teach her children household tasks. It is good for them to learn to do a thing just right and by and by they will do a great portion of the housework. Teaching takes time but it saves time in the end.

To a bald-headed man a hatless youngster seems always to be showing off.

First Aid To Beauty

GRACE of figure, carriage and posture, and beauty of face depend more on the condition of the feet than many women suppose.

A well-known physician recently remarked:

"The feet are mirrored in the face. A troubled foot means a troubled brow."

Many a woman has found a real first aid to beauty and grace in the

By Olive Roberts Burton

A certain mother went away on a trip. The entire family had planned and connived to give her the chance.

Now it isn't exactly like families to worry much whether mother has a vacation or not, and this family was no exception. It was not entirely unselfish in its maneuver to get her away.

"Anything on earth to pull up the corners of her mouth!" said Mary.

"If she'd only stay in bed long enough to get rested!" sighed Anne.

"But she'd only say she was tired than ever when she got up, I suppose."

"She has worked beyond her strength for years," she needs to play. It's only her nerves, said father with a penetration amazing in a male. "Girls I'll scare up the money and you see if you can help her with some clothes. Off she goes next week to visit Aunt Dora. That's the life your mother needs for a while. Society will live her up."

Three weeks later mother returned. The corners of her mouth were up, there was a light of real happiness in her eyes and a spring in her step.

"Mother! You must have had a wonderful time," they cried. "You look splendid!"

Mother threw off her hat and looked at them lovingly. "I'm looking this way because I'm home again," she confessed. "It isn't any joy for what I have had. It is for what I have to look forward to again. Home—and work!"

"Work!" they chorused.

"Yes, work! I've discovered what a fool I've been. Complaining because I've had so much work to do! I don't work half as hard as your Aunt Dora and her society friends, managing big establishments and keeping up social obligations. I don't work half as hard as any actress I've seen or any of the millions of people I've always envied. The whole world's working, from Judy O'Grady to the Colonel's lady. And I've learned the lesson of my life. I'll never say I am tired again."

Good Nature and Good Health

MEAT MUST BE COOKED RIGHT OR INDIGESTION WILL FOLLOW

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN •
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Meat, which is most important of the protein substances taken by man in a balanced diet, should be properly cooked to be easily digestible and to retain its nutritious qualities.

Cooking improves its flavor and appearance, breaks up the muscle fibers and destroys the bacteria which are invariably present in large numbers. When meat is stewed, the fibrous tissue is gelatinized and the protein extractives and salts are to a large extent dissolved in the water. The longer the stewing is continued, the more material passes into the broth, and the more tasteless becomes the meat.

If the meat is boiled by being placed suddenly in boiling water the surface is rapidly coagulated and less of the material passes into the broth. When meat is roasted or broiled most of the juices are kept in the meat. If the meat is fried in boiling oil or butter, the surface is quickly coagulated and the juices do not escape.

Stewed meat is more easily digested, but fried meat, because of the protective infiltration of the fat, is digested with more difficulty. The juice of the intestinal tract cannot penetrate through the fat into the tissue.

For the average man, veal is difficult to digest because it remains in the stomach longer than does beef. Lamb is as digestible as beef or mutton. Pork and other meats containing large amounts of fat are digested with difficulty, but the fat of bacon is in a granular form and when properly cooked can be taken without bad effects by invalids or those who cannot take other fats.

It should be cooked crisp in thin slices. The breast of chicken is a most digestible form of meat, as are also young squabs. The meat of ducks and geese is less digestible, because of the amount of fat that is contained in it.

Some persons are especially sensitive to certain kinds of meat just as they may be sensitive to other various food substances. Careful observation will show them that they invariably have trouble after eating these forms of meat, and they will do well to avoid them in their diets.

In six months nobody will know whether it was Hall who murdered MIM or Mills who murdered Hall.

One may eat his way to or from health.

THRILLING PIRATE TALE AT RIALTO

A last opportunity to see the great American comedy "Partners Again" will be afforded patrons of the Rialto theater this evening at which time this hilarious comedy will bring to a close its successful run at this playhouse. Perlmutter and Potash in the leading roles literally brought down the house at last night's performance and undoubtedly will repeat this again this evening. Everyone who enjoys good clean comedy is urged to be here. The second attraction appearing on the same bill as a co-feature is "The Warning Signal," a melodrama of the roaring ralls that appears to be as exciting as the headliner is funny. Other subjects are also scheduled.

There will be a complete change of program tomorrow when "The Eagle of the Sea" will head the double feature program being shown. Jean Lafitte, last of the old time pirates, bravest of them all, most gallant of buccanniers, loved by many and feared by everyone has the spotlight in this smashing picture of life in the old turbulent towns when piracy flourished. The story is exceptionally well written and tells a glamorous tale of the famous chieftain who rescues a beautiful maid when her horse runs away. He meets her at a masked ball that night and the romance progresses swimmingly until through a misadventure he is unmasked and denounced as the notorious pirate leader who carries a tremendous price on his head. What happens when he attempts to escape and is faced with a mutinous crew furnishes much drama and action and although everything turns out all right in the end there are more than a few hectic moments when the hero's future doesn't seem so rosy.

Ricardo Cortez is cast in the role of "The Eagle" and Florence Vidor has the feminine lead. The co-feature tomorrow is "Barely Reasonable," a rapid western crammed with unexpected humor. W. C. Tuttle has the leading role. Another chapter of the current serial as well as a comedy and news reel will also be shown.

A passenger on a Canadian railroad sneezed so violently that his false teeth flew out the window. A section hand was sent out to search for them. They were found and returned to their owner.

Branch Office To

The branch Herald Office at 10 Bissell street will be open every night this week until 9 o'clock for those who wish to secure coupons for a portrait of themselves, the picture to be taken at the New Studio, 9 Johnson Terrace.

Those who can not get to the Herald Office may call 664, and a representative will call on them and explain to them how they can secure a beautiful portrait of themselves by paying but 55 cents.

A large number of people have already taken advantage of this opportunity to secure a portrait and each day finds large numbers of them at the New Studio.

Twins, Washtub, Boxing, Winning Beauty Recipe

Mrs. Rose Regan, three times winner of her home town's highest beauty honors, gives the credit to housework, sleep and boxing. She's the mother of 7-year-old twins.

Cambridge, Mass.—A mother of seven-year-old twins, who does her own washing, ironing and baking, has enough time and beauty to be a consistent winner in beauty contests.

Her exercise comprises boxing and housework, and her beauty recipe is lots of sleep. Mrs. Rose Regan, 26, for the third year has been chosen as "Miss Cambridge." Each time she has competed with half a hundred girls and taken the title right out of the hands of rivals who seldom touch dishwater and who have few worries greater than the slant of their marcel.

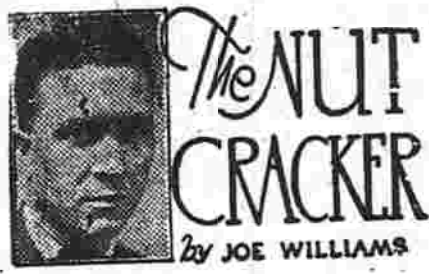

No Bridge or Candy. "Miss Cambridge," or rather, "Mrs. Cambridge," to all appearances is the old-fashioned girl with a good share of modern vitality. Her hair is long. She does not play bridge. She doesn't eat candy. Though she has a creditable soprano voice, and sings at entertainments, she isn't stage struck. But what stamps her as truly old-fashioned is this—she loves housework! "Housework keeps me young," Mrs. Regan said. "I'm busy nearly every minute. This keeps my weight down and gives me plenty of exercise."

A boxing match with her husband also comes in on the exercise program now and then. Mrs. Regan is up at 6:30 o'clock every morning. She prepares breakfast for the twin boys and her husband, Daniel Regan; sends the boys off to school and the husband to the office; cleans the house, washes, bakes cookies, or works in her flower garden; gets lunch. This over with, there's marketing, and then dinner to prepare.

An Afternoon Nap. But each afternoon there must be a one-hour nap. This it is that accounts "for any beauty I have." "If women simply would relax for an hour a day, they would retain much of their youth and energy." Mrs. Regan sleeps eight hours each night. Cups and cups of tea, at all times of the day, and a glass of milk before going to bed are the only liquids she drinks, save, perhaps, a glass of water a day. No diet rules are posted above her kitchen sink. Mrs. Regan bakes and eats apple pies, she has no particular fear of starches, and she does not recognize any strict limitations regarding food. Likes to Charleston. She is an expert Charleston dancer, and goes dancing about once a week. In 1922, when the twins, Stanley and Warren, were but two years old, Mrs. Regan won her first "Miss Cambridge" title. She won again in 1926 and 1927. Mrs. Regan is five feet five inches tall, weighs 125 pounds and looks like the big sister of her two sons.

George Bernard Shaw told a Wisconsin co-ed she was an "ingenious little liar" . . . now, that's praise from an expert.

And, oh yes, the Black Bottom was invented by a fellow who ate raw pop corn and sat down beside a hot radiator.

Police Commissioner McLaughlin says New York is drenched with liquor. . . all together now, fellas, Yeast side, Wets side, all around the town.

TOLLAND

The regular monthly supper is being held at the Federated church this (Friday) evening. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Simpson have returned from New York, where they visited their son and family for a short time.

Miss Thelma E. Price went to Hartford Wednesday to meet and enjoy the day with some of her college mates from the University of Vermont.

Emery Clough has been elected a member of the federated to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Myron Sparrow, who moved to North Woodstock recently.

The grange was held Tuesday evening and was an open meeting as the worthy lecturer had made arrangements for the Tolland County Dairy Club to give the program in order to interest more people in the young folks on the farms. They need encouragement for the farmer is one of the nation's greatest assets. The following program was given by the club.

Song, "How do you do, Tolland Grange." "Hall, Hall." Object of Club, President R. E. Doyle.

C D C Song, "The Scrub Cow." History of Club, Lathrop West. The Club Trail, William Blackburn.

Training trip by Ellsworth Stearns. Song, "The more we get together."

The Kick of a Picture Cow, Francis Lyman. Growing a Calf, Robert Stearns and Claude McDaniels.

Song, "It isn't any trouble." Exhibiting a Junior's calf at the State Fair, George Kingsbury.

We are Here for Fun, duet, West and Doyle. Life at Camp Vall, Cora Kingsbury.

Song, "Song of the 4-H's Coventry members." My experiences with Club work, Eunice Koehler.

My Calf, John Skinner. Song, "Oh Me, Oh My." My Calf, Russell Slate.

A Perfect Cow, group demonstration by Francis Lyman. We've got a club. Remarks by E. E. Tucker.

As a result of the contest held among the schools of the town for collecting egg masses the first prize offered by Tolland Grange for the largest number collected by any school of the town goes to the Grants' Hill school, the average for this school was 777; the second prize was given to Hick's Memorial School with an average of 487.9. The first prize given by the Grange to the individual pupil collecting the largest number goes to Miss Mildred Clough, daughter of Jailer and Mrs. A. Esten Clough, who collected 9,353; the second prize to the individual pupil goes to Miss Erma Ursin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ursin of Grants' Hill, who collected over 8,000. Other schools have done good work and much good has been accomplished by cleaning the trees and shrubs of these disagreeable pests.

The regular monthly meeting of the members of the Tolland Fire Department was held at the Town Hall, Wednesday evening. The hall was tastefully and prettily decorated, emblems and flags being used to advantage in making it look attractive. Some of the fire equipment that is all ready at hand was on exhibition. After the routine business was disposed of the enrollment of new members was considered as some had not had an opportunity to enroll up to this time. This resulted in the addition of ten new members. Different committees were appointed after which the meeting was in more of a social nature. The members entertained the town's representatives, selectmen and several visiting friends.

Refreshments were served and much enjoyed. Mrs. Wm. Ayers, Jr., furnished coffee and cakes were donated by Mrs. William Senk, Mrs. Marion Baker, Mrs. Wm. Ayers, Jr., Mrs. Ayers, Miss Bertha Place and Mrs. L. E. Hall. The boys showed their appreciation by giving a unanimous vote of thanks to the ladies.

A quartet started the singing of old and familiar songs and in time all present joined in which showed the spirit of good fellowship that existed. Another meeting will be held in a month at which time another corps of ladies will furnish refreshments. As time goes on new equipment and new features will be added and these meetings will be not only a source of development toward a long felt need but also as an evening of pleasure and neighborliness as well.

BASEBALL TODAY
Boston, Mass., April 3.—For the first time since 1916, "Bill" Carrigan led the Red Sox to Fenway Park today to battle with the Braves in the first of two games of the inter-city series.

It was the first major baseball game of the year for Boston. Sun-browned athletes from the southland were in contrast to the frigid temperature in the wind-swept Back Bay.

WAPPING

Henry Sweeney, who has been staying here with his daughter, Mrs. Ivan West, for the winter, was taken to the Manchester Memorial Hospital again last Monday evening.

Louis L. Grant of Buckland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Grant of this place, came very nearly being quite seriously hurt last Wednesday afternoon. While moving a tobacco bed sterilizer the horses became frightened and ran away, throwing Mr. Grant to the ground. He escaped with a fractured rib and was bruised quite badly. The horses were stopped after they had run as far as the Buckland cemetery. Mrs. Josephine Wetherell took Miss Alta M. Loomis and Mrs. W. W. Grant to Wallingford last Wednesday to see their mother and aunt, Mrs. Mary J. Wetherell, who is seriously ill at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Shearer.

The South Windsor School board held its regular monthly meeting at South Windsor street last Monday evening.

John Sole has been driving his new Hudson coach about town recently. Fountain Specialties, Chocolate malted milk, chocolate ice cream soda and hot fudge sundaes. Step in the next time you are downtown. Quinn's.—Adv.

Was it at Chateau Thierry, the Argonne, or St. Mihiel—

that you got your biggest thrill? It may have been the time you went over the top without artillery support, or the night you crawled through the wire right up to the enemy's trenches.

Maybe your most treasured memories are those of a few days in gay Patee, or the charge that broke the Hindenburg line, or the life of Reilly that you led in a convalescent camp.

Whatever and wherever they were, you will live them all again in "An ExBuck Private Goes Back to France," a series of stories that starts Saturday in The Herald. Each one will recall memories of the days of '17 and '18.

All the scenes over there, where the Yanks made history nine years ago are being revisited by Paul Adams, correspondent for The Herald and NEA Service, world's largest newspaper feature organization. Every day he will write about the things he sees and the places he visits—intimate, chatty little sketches with enough doughboy dialect and war-time reminiscence to take you back to the old days.

Perhaps you are one of the lucky 30,000 Legionnaires who are going to the Paris convention next September. If you are, you will want to know about the things most worth seeing, and plan every minute of your precious time. This series will tell you how.

And if you're not going back to the land of "no compre," you at least will have taken the trip with Paul Adams in The Herald. With him, you will visit all the battlefields, the training camps, the little towns you knew so well. He will guide you along roads no longer shell-torn, through cities now rebuilt, and to vast fields of crosses, row on row.

You'll hear the old war songs again, and stroll the boulevards of Paris and spend "beaucoup francs" in the gay cafes. You'll see the mademoiselles once more, and argue with the garcon over the carte du jour and laugh at the war-time chariots labeled "40 hommes, 8 chevaux."

By the time the series ends, you'll probably have decided to join the Second A. E. F. and be among those who next September will say, "Lafayette, here we are again!"

Anyway, it will be a great trip. This one that starts Saturday in the

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

Special Six Sedan $1485 f. o. b. factory

A More Distinctive Style in Motor Cars—Achieved by Nash

For those who hope to find their cars at the very peak of style and luxury, Nash has created this charming Special Sedan on the Special Six Chassis.

Its graceful profile suggests the custom-car design of Parisian boulevards. Here is the low-slung French-profile effect so desirable today.

Every interior detail is luxurious. The upholstery is tailored in exquisite Mohair Velvet. Window mouldings, door panels and instrument board are in walnut finish. And there is a walnut steering wheel.

And the way this car performs is every bit as enjoyable as its sparkling style.

It has the Nash 7-bearing motor—for do all Nash models—for superlative smoothness at every speed.

It has the Nash tubular-trussed frame, for extra strength and steadiness, to guard the body from destructive strains.

And it has power! Nash models, all of them, have extra power for exhilarating acceleration, on the hills, and in the traffic.

Compare this car to others sold at the same price—$1485 f. o. b. factory—and you cannot fail to decide you would rather have the Nash.

DETAILED PROGRAM OF CHORAL CLUB

Finishing Touches Being Put
On at Rehearsals; Tickets
Out For April 21 Concert.

Tickets have been mailed to the associate members of the Men's Choral club, for the forthcoming concert in High school hall, on April 21, and general admission tickets have been placed for sale at Watkins Bros., and Kemp's Music House. The general arrangements in connection with the concert are now complete, and the club is devoting the remainder of the time before the concert to finishing up the finer details.

Julius Theodorowicz, leader of the Boston Symphony ensemble which has been engaged for this concert, when here last year at the concert given by the club, expressed high appreciation of the work done on that occasion and said he considered the club one of the finest he had heard during his long experience in the music world. He has taken a very personal interest in the numbers which the ensemble are playing and has promised to see that the very best possible will be given on the occasion of the forthcoming concert.

The members of the ensemble have been collectively engaged for many years, and have been re-engaged for the forthcoming season at the Lake Placid club where only the best in music is considered. Among the artists in the ensemble is Mrs. Hazel Theodorowicz, alto, who as soloist at the Crooks concert here last November was heard to great advantage. All the other artists are of the highest class, and rarely is the opportunity available to hear such an array of talent as is here represented.

It is anticipated that a very large attendance will be present at this concert.

The Program
Following is the program in detail as finally arranged:

WILLIAMSON DRAWS CROWD AT REVIVAL

The Blind Evangelist Walter Williamson drew a large crowd to the revival service held in the Swedish Congregational church last night, as took as his topic, "Arist and Walk." As the lame man was healed by faith looking on Peter and John, he said, so we are healed immediately from the bondage of sin by looking unto Jesus, and begin to walk in newness of life.

The musical program was especially enjoyable. There will be another service tonight at 7:30. The public is invited.

DAYLIGHT SAVING IS COMING EARLY

Last Sunday In April This Year Falls on Minimum
Date, the 24th.

Manchester is expected to go on Daylight Saving time for the summer beginning Sunday, April 24. The town follows the lead of Cheney Brothers, and while it was said at the office of that concern today that definite decision has not been made as to the date when the new time will start, it is expected that it will be April 24.

An announcement from the New Haven railroad today received by the Chamber of Commerce is to the effect that train schedules on this and the Central New England railway will be changed to conform with the Daylight Saving custom on April 24.

Set Hours, Not Clocks
The hours of all offices, shops, storehouses and other departments of the railroad will be set ahead one hour, though clocks will as usual conform to standard time.

Daylight Saving is regulated by law in Massachusetts but Connecticut law still prohibits the display of public clocks that show other than Eastern Standard time.

In Manchester, as in other towns in the state, the public clocks are kept on Eastern Standard time but business here begins and ends one hour earlier. School classes are on the old time though classes are set ahead one hour.

April 24 is an unusually early date for the inauguration of Daylight Saving, as the custom is to set the clocks on the last Sunday morning of April and the 24th is the earliest date on which the last Sunday of that month can fall.

Radial "um" costs $10,000 an ounce, but rad "is" you can get for next to nothing.

PLAN REUNION OF WOODSTOCK CAMPERS

Youths Who Have Attended the Camp, With Friends, to Meet Early In May.

A committee has been named to make arrangements for a reunion of Manchester boys who have attended Camp Woodstock at one time or other, to be held at the School Street Recreation Center on Friday night, May 6. Not only will young men who have enjoyed the privileges of the camp be invited, but also their fathers and friends. The purpose is to stir up interest in the enterprise.

Camp Woodstock is open from June 24 until September 5, to boys from twelve to eighteen years old. Groups of young fellows go to the camp for periods of two weeks each. One hundred and seventy-five persons attended the camp last summer. There are between fifty and seventy-five young men in Manchester who have spent vacations there.
Stuart Segar is chairman of the committee on the reunion. The other three members are Ralph H. Proctor, vice-principal of the South Manchester High school, Rev. Truman H. Woodward, pastor of the Federated church in Wapping, and Franklin Richmond.
There will be a bill of entertainment and the program also includes several speakers among whom will be Elmer T. Thienes, secretary of the Hartford County Y. M. C. A. The program will start at 7:30 and last until 10 o'clock.

"BABE" OAKES NEW SHAMROCK MANAGER

Team to Hold First Practice
Sunday; North and South
Enders Both Welcomed to Try for Berths.

"Babe" Oakes was elected manager of the Shamrock baseball club at the organization meeting held last night at the Community Club at the North End. He succeeds Robert Coleman and Harold Clemson who divided that work last season.

The Shamrocks plan to break away from their former habit of restricting tryouts to North End players in general and this season the team will be open to candidates from either end of the town.
The first practice session has been called for Sunday afternoon at Hickey's Grove at 2 o'clock. "Come one, come all," is Manager Oakes' welcome to those desiring a tryout.
Take Peptons, the ideal Spring tonic right now. It will make you feel 100 per cent better. Get a bottle at Quinn's.—Adv.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL BOYS VISIT TRADE SCHOOL

Many prospective Trade school students are visiting the Trade school this week for the purpose of learning more about the work carried on there with a view to selecting a Trade school course. The visitors are pupils from the Eighth and outlying districts and have been under the direction of their principals. It is expected that some will select High school-Trade school co-operative course and some the all-day Trade school course. Director A. A. Warren is optimistic regarding the expected increase in enrollments. The pupils who have been visiting the school this week do not include those from the Ninth district, so Mr. Warren expects an increase over the entry list of last year. He said it was practically certain that at least thirty of the pupils who visited the school will take Trade school work either during the summer or starting in September.

S. M. E. CHOIR GUESTS AT CROWELL HOME

Evening of Music Held at Highland Park Participated in by Sessions Pupils.

More than 60 members of the South Methodist church choir and their friends were present at a musical last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crowell of Highland Park. Music included instrumental and vocal solos, duets, quartets, women's chorus and men's chorus numbers. One especially interesting number was a duet for piano and organ, Widor's "Serenade," with Mrs. Crowell at the former instrument, and Archibald Sessions, director of the choir, at the piano.

The women's chorus performed brilliantly in the "Ave Maria," with a soprano solo as the prominent bit of incidental music. The men's chorus was effective in the "Viking Song" by Coleridge-Taylor. Of special interest to the choristers was the singing of several pupils of Mr. Sessions. The young singers show much promise and their work was most enjoyable.

Mrs. Fred Bendall assisted the hostess in the service of refreshments. Mr. Sessions was informal director of the musical entertainment.

LIQUOR PERMITS $2

Toronto, Ontario, April 8.—Tourists and residents alike, will be able to purchase liquor permits at the price of $2 each, according to an announcement made today by the government liquor control board. The tourists will be good for six months; the others for one year. Permits will go on sale April 25 but it will be May 25 before they can be used, it was said.

A rolling stone gathers no moss but a rolling pin gathers dough.

24 SCOUTS SIGN UP FOR TREE PLANTING

Manchester Boys Outnumber Those From Other Towns in Forestry Expedition.

Manchester will have the largest representation of any Boy Scout Council in this section at the annual tree-planting expedition which will be conducted by the State Forestry department between April 22 and May 2. Twenty-four members of the local troops have signed up to go. Only first class Scouts are eligible for the expedition.

The tree planting will be done on the Mohawk reservation in Litchfield county and the Scouts will live in the Litchfield County Y. M. C. A. hut. All transportation expenses will be paid by the Forestry department and meals will be furnished free.

Some of the Scouts will work for merit badges in forestry during the week of planting in the Manchester Boy Scouts who have signed up to go: Troop 1—George Anderson, George Styles, George Jacquemin, Richard Smith, Troop 2—Arthur L'Heureux, Joseph Jackmore, Troop 3—Roger Cheney, Francis Harrington, Leslie Detchin, Elliott Knight, Troop 5—Herbert Anderson, Lawrence Anderson, Philip Anderson, Irving Carlson, Herbert Brandt, Roy Johnson, Nils Pearson, Erik Moevan, Earl Johnson, Herbert Johnson, Carl Bengston, Clifford Magnuson.

TEACHERS OF TRADES CELEBRATE BOWLING

Dine and Have a Social Evening to Mark End of "League" Season.

Fifteen members of the Trade School faculty sat down to a roast lamb supper at the school last night in celebration of the successful bowling season which has been brought to a close with a pennant going to Team No. 2, composed of John E. Echmalian, William Stenger, Miss Florence Lambert and Miss Florence Seelert. Mr. Echmalian also made the high single for the season, 114. The individual averages were not recorded, it is reported, for obvious reasons. There were four teams in the league and the schedule carried from November to April.

A varied program of entertainment at the banquet, which was held in the assembly hall, included singing, dancing and readings. One of the features of the evening was a song dialogue by Harry Kitching and Paul Yougarden, Robert Taylor, William Stenger, John Echmalian, Miss Florence Seelert, Miss Florence Lambert and Mrs. Paul Yougarden.

PHONES Pinehurst "GOOD THINGS TO EAT"

Mother—Willie, don't you think it's extravagant to be eating butter and jam on your bread at the same time?
Willie—No, Ma—it's economy. You see, the same piece of bread does for both.

If you are English—or if you are not—you will enjoy these imported English Jams—and if you don't want the children to "finish the jar" right away you had better hide it. Nine flavors: Strawberry, Raspberry, Black Currant, Damson Plum, Greengage Plum, Stoneless Plum, Apricot, Bitter Orange and Sweet Orange Marmalade.

Omigosh!

What a nice lot of fresh vegetables. It will be easy now to eat "fresh vegetables for health."

S. A. TO CELEBRATE FOUNDERS BIRTHDAY

Founder's Day will be held in Salvation Army circles throughout the world on Sunday, it being the anniversary of the birth of General William Booth who was the founder of the movement. Born in Nottingham, England on April 10, 1829, he became converted at the age of 16 in a little mission chapel, and at once began to work for the betterment of mankind. He entered upon his ministry in the year 1852 and continued until just a few weeks before his death which occurred August 20, 1912.

In connection with the Founder's day services the local band will visit Wethersfield prison on Sunday morning where they will give an hour of music and song in the prison chapel for the benefit of the inmates. Brigadier William Hall of New York City, who has the oversight of the army's prison work in the eastern territory, will preside. The services in the local Citadel here will be conducted by Mrs. Field Major Bartlett, who with her late husband were stationed in South Manchester, officers of the local corps. The services will be in keeping with the day, and it is hoped that good crowds will attend the meetings to pay tribute to William Booth.

Enjoy Home Ownership NOW

Most of us possess the ardent wish for home ownership "someday" in the future—but we continually postpone plans for one reason or another—and the years pass on without the wish being fulfilled.

Why wait?

Today and every day you can find greater "Home" values in the Manchester than were ordinarily available "within" the means of every family. A small down payment—you move in immediately—and pay the balance in monthly payments like rent.

Daily in Herald Want Ads unusual values in "homes" are listed for sale.

12 DRIVERS EACH DAY FAIL IN EXAMINATION

State Also Finds 29 a Day Lose Licenses Through Abusing Privilege.

An average of twelve operators a day are refused licenses to drive motor vehicles in Connecticut because of failure to pass the required state police examination. An average of 29 a day are taken off the road by suspension of their operators' licenses for abuse of the driving privilege.

Altogether the right to operate motor vehicles on Connecticut streets and highways was withheld for varying periods last year, from 12,485 people. At the same time the courts found 14,865 operators guilty of motor vehicle offenses, fined 7,836 and imprisoned 306 of them.

On the other hand new operators were licensed at the rate of about 155 a day. Approximately one in every fourteen applicants presenting themselves for examination failed to satisfy the examiners that he or she should be a safe operator in traffic. The examination, specified by the state motor vehicle department, is not difficult for a careful practical operator who has no physical or mental handicaps. It was drawn up with the idea of testing the ability of every applicant to meet any of the traffic situations likely to confront him on the public highways.

The records show that 46,434 out of 50,099 applicants examined last year were passed, 3,665 having failed. Those who fail are welcome to return for another examination whenever they feel qualified to pass, but the examination fee of $2.00 operates to cause many applicants to make reasonably sure of themselves before presenting themselves for re-examination.

12 DRIVERS EACH DAY FAIL IN EXAMINATION

State Also Finds 29 a Day Lose Licenses Through Abusing Privilege.

An average of twelve operators a day are refused licenses to drive motor vehicles in Connecticut because of failure to pass the required state police examination. An average of 29 a day are taken off the road by suspension of their operators' licenses for abuse of the driving privilege.

Altogether the right to operate motor vehicles on Connecticut streets and highways was withheld for varying periods last year, from 12,485 people. At the same time the courts found 14,865 operators guilty of motor vehicle offenses, fined 7,836 and imprisoned 306 of them.

On the other hand new operators were licensed at the rate of about 155 a day. Approximately one in every fourteen applicants presenting themselves for examination failed to satisfy the examiners that he or she should be a safe operator in traffic. The examination, specified by the state motor vehicle department, is not difficult for a careful practical operator who has no physical or mental handicaps. It was drawn up with the idea of testing the ability of every applicant to meet any of the traffic situations likely to confront him on the public highways.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Don't throw kisses when you can deliver the goods.

SENSE and NONSENSE

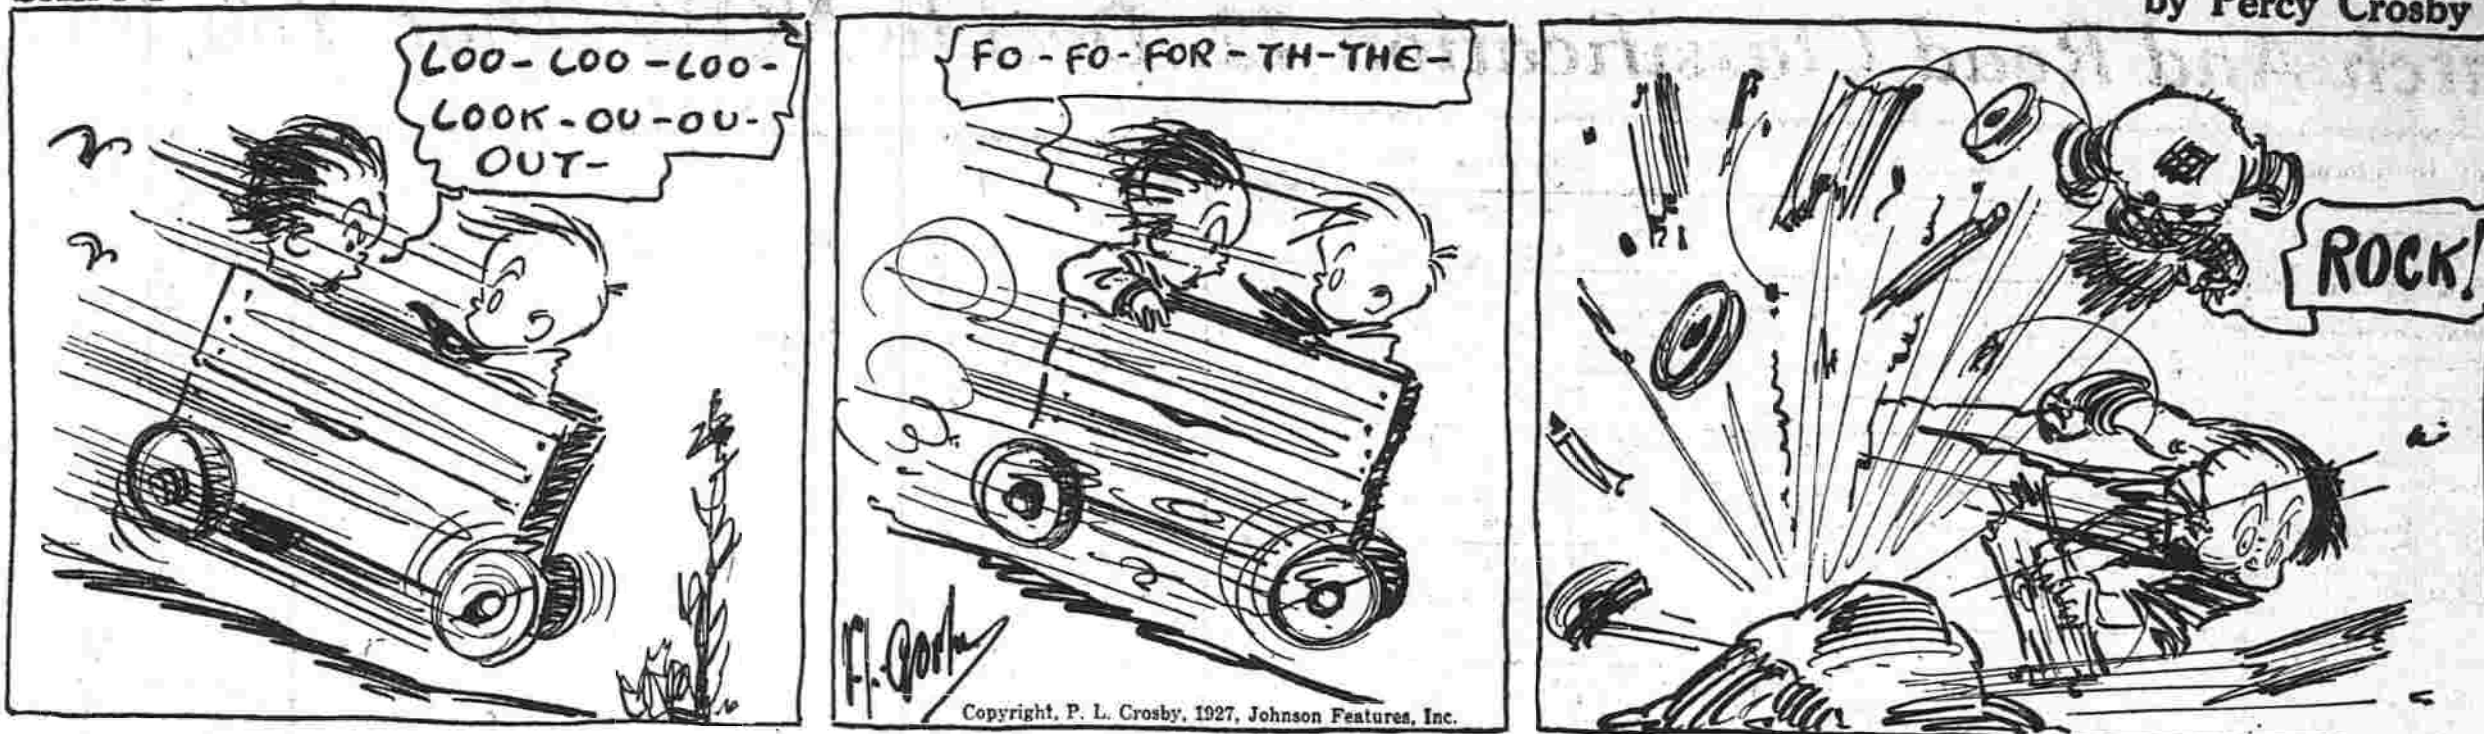

Half the world wonders how the other half meets its installment payments. The game the average sportsman kills now costs too much to eat. He—"You should see the altar in our church." She—"Lead me to it!" Cute Clara decided it is better to have loved and lost than to be loved and bossed. Isn't he rather fast for you, Mabel? Yes he is. But I don't think he'll get away. Petting Now Kate don't be foolish. Or strait-laced or mulish. Is only a kiss I am asking of you; And who would be wiser, You shy little miser, If you should just give me a sample or two?

NOW YOU Ask One

ABOUT THE POETS

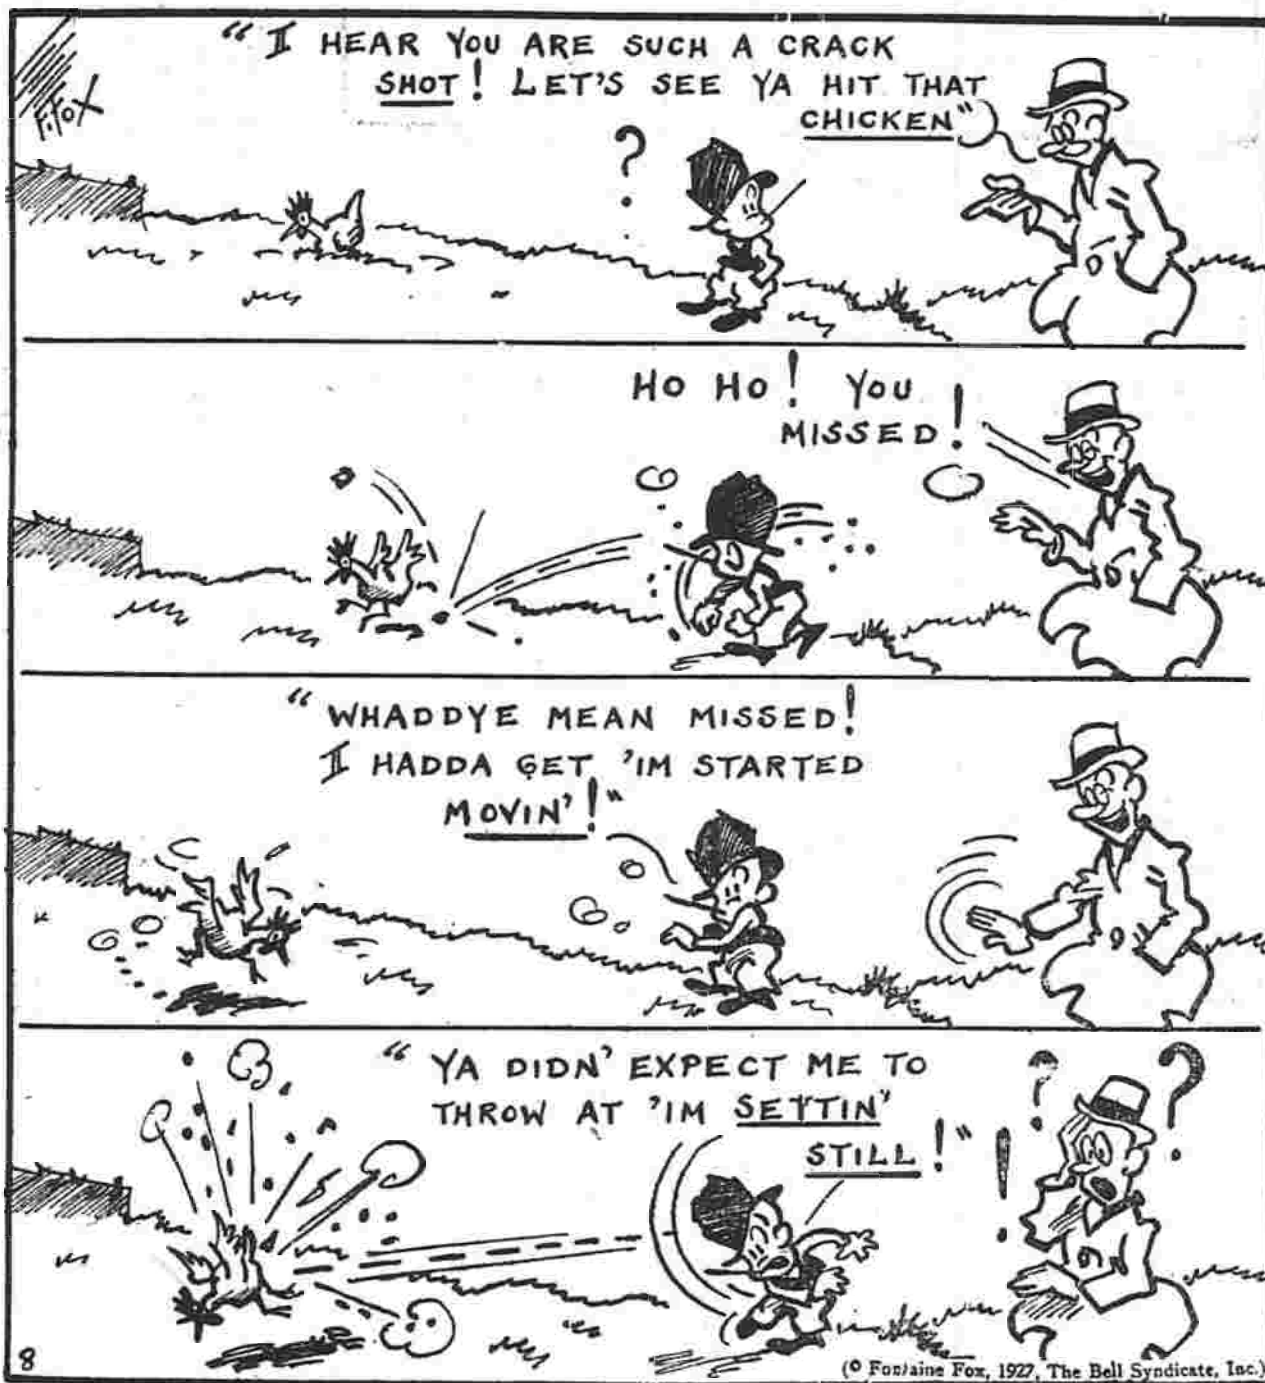

If you're familiar with poetry you won't have very much trouble with this list of questions. In case you aren't, you may want to look at the answers; they're on another page. 1-Who wrote "The Faerie Queen"? 2-What famous Italian poet spent the greater part of his life in exile? 3-Who wrote a series of sonnets to a "dark lady"? 4-What are Longfellow's three best-known long narrative poems? 5-What is the line following "Thou still unravished bride of quietness"? 6-In what poem, by whom, do those lines occur? 7-Who wrote "Kubla Khan"? 8-The death of what friend prompted Shelley to write "Adonais"? 9-What young poet was killed in the World War shortly after he wrote the poem, "I have a rendezvous with Death"? 10-Who wrote "Leaves of Grass"? Facts rush in where fiction fears to tread. Many a woman who married in hopes her ship would come in gets nothing but a raft of kids. Father (reprovingly)—Do you know what happens to liars when they die? Johnny—Yes, sir; they lie still. John—It's cold, don't you want something around you? Mary—You impatient boy; can't you wait until we get out on a dark road? If a gorgeous movie ending in a three-minute kiss gives him a pain, he is about forty-two.

THE TINYMITES STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

(Read the Story, Then Color the Picture)

So Mary journeyed on her way, and left her little lamb to play with all the happy Tynmites out on the school house lawn. The lamb just didn't think things right, as Mary disappeared from sight, but soon it started in to play, as long as she was gone. The Tynmites raced around the place, and Mary's lamb joined in the race. It seemed to thoroughly enjoy just wildly running loose. They hugged and patted it a lot until it knew, as like as not, that they were very kind and thus would give it no abuse. In 'bout three hours they heard a bell. The lamb ran to the school, pell mell. It knew that Mary'd soon be out, and my, but it was glad. When Mary came, the lamb was gay. It seemed as if 'twould like to say enough to tell fair Mary what a dandy time it had. Said Mary, "Thanks for helping me. It's really hard as it can be when'er I take my lamb to school. It makes the teacher mad." "You're welcome to what we have done," said Scouty. "It was really fun." Then Mary said, "I must go home." The Tynmites thought this said. Then, down the road she disappeared, and once again the bunch was cheered by hearing sounds of barking dogs just o'er a nearby hill. "Let's and them. We can have some fun," said Clowzy. "Aw, come on, let's run." And, as he started off, he tripped and quickly took a spill. Soon, when they found the barking bunch, we Coppy said, "I have a bunch. They tell me dogs will always bark when beggars come to town. Let's pat the dogs and treat them kind and very shortly we will find that they'll forget the beggars and will quickly quiet down." (The Tynmites meet Old Cockadoodle Doo in the next story).

A daughter was born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Palmer of Parker street.

MOTHERS TO MEET
AT CENTER CHURCH

Meeting Place Changed Due to Illness of Mrs. Dexter's Children.

The Manchester Mothers' club will hold its April meeting this evening at Center Congregational church instead of at the home of Mrs. Allan L. Dexter of Brookfield street. This change is made necessary by illness of one of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter's children. The same hostesses as previously announced will be in charge.

The speaker of the evening will be Dr. H. L. F. Locke of Hartford, whom the members will recall as having given an instructive talk on contagious diseases on a previous occasion. Dr. Locke's subject at tonight's meeting will be "Safeguarding Our Children's Nerves."

SWEDISH SOCIETY
GUESTS IN CITY

Thirty of the members of the Dorcas Society of the Swedish Lutheran church were entertained at the Swedish Lutheran church of Hartford last evening by the Emanuel Daughters of that church, organized 24 years ago by Mrs. Franzen of Hamlin street, wife of Rev. S. C. Franzen, who was then pastor of the Hartford church. The local Dorcas members furnished the program. A short address was given by Pastor P. J. O. Cornell. Mrs. Franzen gave an account of the Emanuel society's early history. Miss Beatrice Johnson recited and Miss Elsie Berggren sang. A social time with refreshments followed the program.

FRIENDS GIVE SHOWER
FOR MISS PURINTON

Miss Marion Purinton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Purinton of Highland Park, was honored with a surprise miscellaneous shower at her home last evening by a party of her young women friends. The usual social pastimes when girls get together for such an occasion passed the evening happily, and a dainty lunch was served. The bride-to-be was remembered with a number of acceptable gifts. Her marriage to James W. McKay will take place at the home of her parents on Saturday, April 16.
