

LAST JURYMAN CHOSEN TODAY IN TONG TRIAL

Case Will Consume Four Days Judge Jennings Ex- pects—Opens Tomorrow Morning—The Jury.

(Special to The Herald)

Hartford, May 2.—The twelfth and last juryman was selected this afternoon shortly after two o'clock to decide whether Loo Hoo Wing and Ching Lung are guilty of the murder of Ong Jang Hen in Manchester on March 24. Jurors No. 10 and 11 were chosen just before noon today following a short recess.

The last three chosen are: No. 10, Ernest R. Spencer, aged 51, a manufacturer of Rocky Hill; No. 11, Henry W. Potter, aged 59, years of months, of Glastonbury, and No. 12, George W. Andrews, aged 46, and employed by the J. B. Williams company in Glastonbury as an accountant. Nearly 400 talesmen were examined.

To Last Four Days
Judge Newell Jennings told the jury that they would be allowed to go to their homes tonight but to come prepared for about a four night stay when the trial gets under way tomorrow. The charge of first degree murder was read to the accused with the completed jury present. They maintained the same stolid attitude that has characterized their every appearance in court since their arrest.

All witnesses in the case will be called to Hartford at 10 o'clock, daylight saving time, tomorrow morning. State's Attorney Alcorn expects that his evidence will consume a day and a half. Defense attorneys say their evidence will take about two days.

The jury
The completed jury is now composed of: Harry C. Adams, Canton; William Hall, Marlborough; Harry E. Case, East Granby; Howard Bidwell, East Hartford; Joseph Bidwell, Granby; George Duncan, East Granby; William Bernie, Avon; William Newell, Avon; T. Jamerson, Bloomfield; Ernest R. Spencer, Rocky Hill; Henry W. Potter, Glastonbury and George W. Andrews, Glastonbury.

Hartford, May 2.—The second week of the Chinese murder trial in which the state has been endeavoring to get sufficient jurors, again went on this morning when the 100 men, gathered from all parts of the county were in the court room when Judge Newell Jennings mounted the bench shortly after 10 o'clock. Again the two men charged with the murder occupied their same position in the pen, located at the south side of the building and Assistant Clerk Campbell started to call the roll. There was an exceptionally large number of deputies in the court room, not being employed in court work as there were no other cases under trial in the Superior court this morning, Monday being an "off day." They were also there to see that the men that they had summoned had put in their appearance.

Cost Running High

The cost of getting the trial under way is running high. Each man brought in as a talesman is paid $4 plus his mileage and with 400 of them already called in, the cost of service there is over $3000 spent in this account alone.

There are finger print experts that have been used and are being kept around the county building, revolver experts and others that will be used by the state. All keep the cost mounting. Already the record for men examined has passed that of the Chapman case and there is evidence that the case will cost the state over $10,000.

Today's List

In the list of men that crowded the hall, Plainville, Bristol, Glastonbury, West Hartford, Southington, Wethersfield, Newington and Rocky Hill furnished 100 names. No men were called from Hartford, South Windsor, East Hartford, Frank E. Healey for Ching Lung has but one free challenge left. Francis Rohmeyer for Loo Hoo Wing has the same number.

For the state there are but thirteen left. The question as to the drawing of the names of the men was brought to the court's attention after ninety-four of the 100 called appearing on the list. Instead of calling from the list it was decided to cut up the list with each name clipped separately and drawn from the box.

No Court This Afternoon

State's Attorney Alcorn informed the correspondent that should the jury be selected from among the men called today he would be unable to go on to the afternoon as he would have to be before the board of pardons at 2 o'clock.

Too Old

Abner H. Wadhams, the oldest man yet called and the seventh this morning was excused because of his age. He is 83 years old. The man that followed was de-

77 ENTOMBED IN MINE; 16 DEAD FOUND

Miners Imprisoned at Depth Of 10,500 Feet—Gas Handicaps the Work of 16 Rescue Teams.

Morgantown, W. Va., May 2.—Rescue crews early today had penetrated less than half the distance into the blast-wrecked depths of the New England Fuel & Transportation Company's mine at Everettsville, W. Va., near here, where seventy-seven miners, entombed late Saturday afternoon, are still imprisoned.

Presence of gas in the mine is delaying the rescue attempts. Sixteen dead and seven injured have been brought to the surface, according to Col. Earl Smith, commanding the National Guard Companies guarding the mouth of the mine.

Fate in Doubt

The fate of the entombed men was in doubt, according to reports from the rescue party. Rescuers feared most of them were killed because of the evidence already encountered of the terrific force of the gas explosion which swept the pit late Saturday.

The entombed men, it is believed, are imprisoned at a depth of 10,500 feet. Rescuers this morning, according to early reports, had succeeded in reaching the 4,000 foot level only, and were progressing but slowly, due to the presence of smoke and gas.

Known Dead

The dead are: Commodore Burton, Edward Allen, Thomas Daugherty, W. L. Davis, Virgil Straight and Orvel Leech, all white, and eight negroes.

The sixteen rescue teams are under the direction of Chester Watts, gas expert and head of the air analysis department of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and William Forbes, chief of the state mine safety appliance division.

His Report

Watts reported today that the air in the mine is saturated with combustible gas, and is but .2 per cent below its explosion point.

Reports of fire in the mine have not been verified. Red Cross workers from Fairmont, Morgantown and Clarksburg are on the scene, with three companies of National Guards.

Rescue workers at 4,000 feet report that the 85-pound rails at this point are a twisted and tangled mass, indicating that wreckage and destruction will increase as they progress into the bowels of the earth.

BOSTON IS NOT ASLEEP

SAYS C. OF C. SECRETARY

Resents Article in Magazine Which Compares Hub With Detroit and Other Cities.

Boston, Mass., May 2.—The Boston Chamber of Commerce is considerably irritated over what they term an inference by the editor of Forbes Magazine that Boston "is asleep industrially."

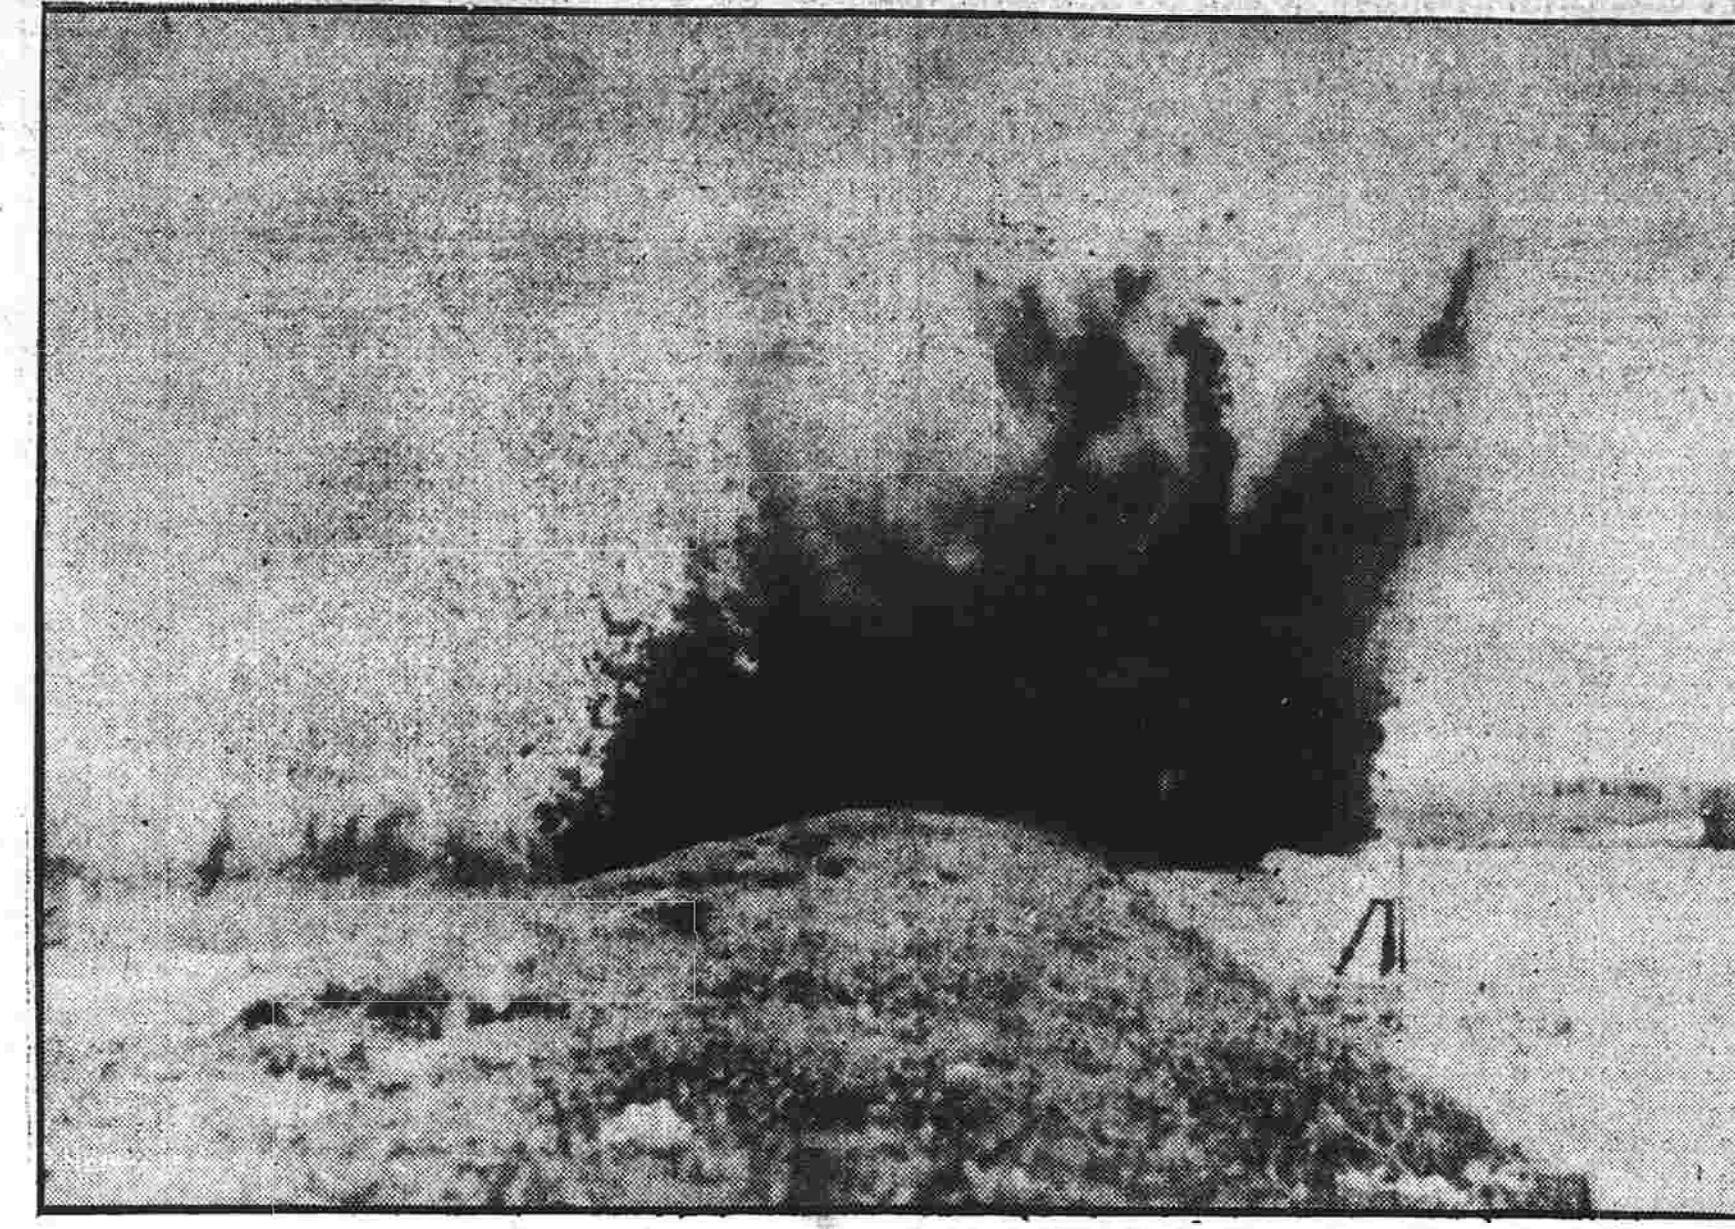

In his reply, Secretary Liming declared "no one will galsay the fact of course, that the growth of a youngster is more evident and spectacular than the growth of an adult, yet the adult under observation may retain splendid health and progress steadily." Thus does he attribute Detroit's rapid growth to its comparative youth when Boston is concerned.

IN BANKRUPTCY

New Haven, Conn., May 2.—S. Formica & Co., a New Britain building firm, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in United States District Court here today showing liabilities of $44,979 and assets of uncertain value, being real estate largely mortgaged.

Individual members of the firm also filed voluntary petitions in bankruptcy as follows: Sebastiano Formica, $44,284; Habibi and no assets; Salvatore Zocco $46,786 liabilities and no assets; and Giuseppe Vasquez, $44,277 liabilities and no assets.

FIRST PICTURE OF BLAST THAT BROKE LEVEE TO SAVE CITY.

The dramatic climax of a city's fight against flood disaster—the dy namiting of the Mississippi levee at Poydras, La., in the desperate effort to save New Orleans—is shown in this remarkable picture of the actual explosion that wrecked the flood barrier. The black earth of the levee was shot nearly 100 feet in the air by the force of the blast. The river, almost up to the top of the levee, is visible at the right while part of the evacuated lowland country that will be flooded by the artificial crevasse can be seen at the right. The move was made in the hope that the outlet would ease the pressure on New Orleans levees and lower the crest of the flood sufficiently to save the anxious city.

SEVENTY-ONE ASK BOARD FOR PARDON

State Commission Sitting To- day In Wethersfield; Some Of the Petitions.

Wethersfield, Conn., May 2.—Seventy-one applications for pardon, twenty-five of them from murderers serving life sentences, were before the State Board of Pardons sitting at the state prison here today. There were no women making applications, and two Middlesex county cases were the first on the docket.

The plea of Thomas Marro, serving twenty years for theft, was withdrawn. There was no appearance in the next, that of John Greer, who is serving ten to twenty years for theft. Marro was convicted in 1920 and Greer in 1921.

His 14th Appeal

Change of testimony after eighteen years by the state's star witness in a murder trial in 1909 featured the appeal for a pardon by Duratto Cabaud, of New London, serving a life sentence for the killing of one, Barbuto, Cabaud today was making his fourteenth appeal for a pardon. He was sentenced to be hanged but later his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. Thomas F. McDonough, of New Britain, offered the affidavits from Attorney Grippio, owner of the saloon in which the death of Barbuto occurred, and who testified at the time of the trial that there was a deliberate shooting. Grippio now declares that Cabaud was defending himself when he shot Barbuto. The case recently aroused much interest in New London where a fund has been raised for counsel and to send the prisoner back to Italy if he should be freed.

Simon A. G. Salisbury, of Preston, made his tenth appeal for pardon from a life sentence for murder in the second degree. He has been in prison since 1918. Represented by John A. Danaher, assistant federal district attorney, Salisbury was the first prisoner to appear in his own behalf today. Allan M. Brown, state's attorney for New London county, said that Salisbury had a good record prior to his conviction and that he would leave it to the board to decide whether the prisoner had been sufficiently punished.

Litchfield Cases

Litchfield county cases were then taken up. Through counsel Giordano Candido, serving a life sentence for second-degree murder, after conviction in Litchfield in 1921, made his sixth appeal for pardon. Walter Holcomb, state's attorney for Litchfield county, in opposing the pardon, said the records of the case showed plainly that it was "a willful deliberate murder when Candido in cold blood shot and killed his boarding mistress."

Ernest G. Foley, of New Hartford, at whose trial it was testified that two girls were forced to sit up all night and defend themselves with carving knives from Foley's attacks, made his first appeal for clemency. He had four counts against him when sentenced on June 5, 1925, to serve from three to nine years. Percy Bryant, of Hartford, counsel for Foley, said that prior to his conviction Foley had a viewpoint concerning women that could not be tolerated at the present time.

Knew What It Was

Q. Did you know what it was for?
A. Yes, after reading the note.
Q. Then why did you place it in the cellar?
A. Because I did not want to have it lying around.
Q. Why didn't you throw it away?
A. I felt it should go back to him inasmuch as he gave it to me.
Q. Why didn't you destroy the sash weight?
Mrs. Snyder hesitated.
A. I gave it back because I didn't want to have anything from him.

Meets Gray

Q. When did you see Gray for the last time before the night of the murder?
A. On March seventh, at my house. He said "he was going through with the deed. I gave him back the sash weight saying "you can't do that." He went away.
Q. Did you warn your husband?
A. No.
Q. Why not?
A. I was ashamed of the disgrace.
Q. Why did you leave the door

Mrs. Snyder In Tears At Cross-Examination

Denies She Struck Any of the Blows That Killed Her Husband—Questions and Answers.

Courthouse, Long Island City, N. Y., May 2.—Breaking into tears at one point, Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, accused with Henry Judd Gray of the murder of her husband, Albert Snyder, underwent a relentless cross-examination on the witness stand today and vehemently denied she had struck one of the blows that killed her husband or that she had taken any part in the murder.

She cried when she told of seeing her husband, lying dead in a pool of blood, after Mr. Gray had killed him "with the iron window weight. But she soon dried her tears and after that retained her characteristic composure.

Courthouse, Long Island City, N. Y., May 2.—Cross examination of Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, on trial with her former sweetheart, Henry Judd Gray for the murder of her husband, Albert Snyder, was started at 10:18 a. m., this morning.

William J. Millard, attorney for Gray, cross-examined her. She sat on the elevated witness stand, pale but well poised and did not appear overly nervous. She again wore her overalls, black costume—a black coat with black fur at the throat, a small black hat and the familiar jet beads around her throat. She toyed with the beads as she answered Millard's questions.

Millard questioned her in a ringing voice.
Q. Why did you put a bottle of whiskey under the pillow in your mother's room the night of the murder?
A. Mr. Gray asked me to. He wrote me that he would be home for the week-end.
Q. Did you receive a sash weight from Judd Gray on March fifth?
A. Yes, but I didn't know what was in the package until I got home. I put it in the cellar with the intention of giving it back to Mr. Gray.

Q. Did you know what it was for?
A. Yes, after reading the note.
Q. Then why did you place it in the cellar?
A. Because I did not want to have it lying around.
Q. Why didn't you throw it away?
A. I felt it should go back to him inasmuch as he gave it to me.
Q. Why didn't you destroy the sash weight?
Mrs. Snyder hesitated.
A. I gave it back because I didn't want to have anything from him.

Q. When did you see Gray for the last time before the night of the murder?
A. On March seventh, at my house. He said "he was going through with the deed. I gave him back the sash weight saying "you can't do that." He went away.
Q. Did you warn your husband?
A. No.
Q. Why not?
A. I was ashamed of the disgrace.
Q. Why did you leave the door of your home open for Gray on the night of the murder?

A. I thought I could talk him out of it.
Q. Did you give your drinks to your husband that night?
A. No.
Q. Did you ask others to give your husband drinks?
A. No.
Q. Did you want Gray to be drunk that night?
A. No.

Defiant Tone

Mrs. Snyder shot her answers back at Millard. She held her head at a defiant angle.
Q. Was your husband drunk that night coming home from the Fidgeon party?
A. No, he was normal.
Q. When you went to the party, didn't you know just what was going to happen that night?
A. No.
Q. Didn't you want it to be seen at the party that you and your husband were not on good terms?
A. No.

Pack of Cigarettes

Q. Didn't you leave a package of cigarettes on the kitchen table for Gray, to show that everything was okay?
Mrs. Snyder leaned over and shouted emphatically:
Q. Was your husband ever home when Gray was there?
A. Once.
Q. Was Gray ever in your mother's room when Albert Snyder was home?
A. No.
Q. Then why was he there that night?
A. Because my mother's room was the only place he would not be seen.
Q. You arranged to meet him there, didn't you?
Mrs. Snyder hesitated.
"Well,—Yes," she replied.
Q. Can you advance any reason why Gray wanted to kill your husband?
A. After the insurance.
Q. He was after my husband's insurance.
Q. You were your husband's beneficiary?
A. Yes, but he would have gotten the money from me like he got other money I had.
Mrs. Snyder said she knew that she would get $100,000 in the event her husband met with an accidental death.
Q. You know of no other reason why Gray wanted to kill your husband?
A. No, I don't.

She admitted that she went to hotels with Gray. She knew she couldn't marry him. She said yes, she had a joint account with her husband and had two safe deposit boxes—one in the name of Ruth Brown and the other Ruth Snyder.
Q. Why Ruth Brown?
A. No special reason. I just gave that name, that's all.
Q. Did Gray ever meet your husband?
A. No.
Q. Was there any hostility between them?
A. No.
Q. Did you ever tell Gray that your husband was going to kill you?
I did not.
Husband Threatened Her.
Q. You told Gray that your husband threatened you?
A. Yes, I did.

ATTACH PROPERTY OF NOTED SCULPTOR

Suit In Bridgeport Brought By Ku Kluxer Against Gutson Borglum.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 2.—Foreclosure of a judgment lien against Stamford real estate is sought in the Superior Court here by David C. Stephenson and Lloyd Hill, of Indianapolis, and Loris G. Julian, of Evansville, Ind., from Gutson Borglum, noted sculptor and others. The plaintiffs ask possession of the property involved, appointment of a receiver of rents, accounting of profits, and damages of $30,000.

Ex-Head of Klan

Stephenson, former head of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan and serving a murder sentence in that state, secured a Superior Court judgment on November 30, last, for the sum of $27,586.60 with costs. On December 20, last, he assigned his interest in the judgment to Julian in the amount of $19,000 and to Hill in the amount of $8,000. According to the new bill of complaint the judgment remained unsatisfied on March 26, and two days later the liens were filed against Borglum's property.

Other Defendants

Other defendants, all having liens on the same property, are Southern New England Telephone Company, Homer Cummings, Charles D. Lockwood, Raymond Hackett and Walter N. Maguire. The individuals are all members of the law firm of Cummings & Lockwood, of Stamford, who acted as counsel for Borglum in the original suit.

NO RAISE IN PRICE OF MILK IN NORWICH

First Time in History of District Same Price Remains On May 1.

Norwich, Conn., May 2.—For the first time in the history of milk producing in this district the price of milk has not been changed with the coming of the first of May. Because of the shortage of feed and the backward season, buyers of milk in Providence, R. I., and Boston, Mass., who take the entire output of the district have let the price to the producers stand at eighty-five cents for a ten-quart can. Sixty thousand quarts per day are shipped from the section by motor trucks, the railroads being practically eliminated because of a twenty per cent increase in freight charges some time ago.

BARBERS ON STRIKE

Stamford, Conn., May 2.—Stamford master barbers were laboring alone today as their workmen went on strike to enforce demands for increased pay. The men want $35 a week and fifty per cent commission on all business above $50 a week. They were getting $30 a week and fifty per cent commission on all business above $35 a week. About thirty workers are affected.

UNIVERSITY SHIP TO BAR GENTLER SEX

Girls Not Wanted On 'Round World School Ship—Stu- dents Deny Reports of Scandal.

Hoboken, N. J., May 2.—The "floating university," alias the liner Ryndam, came into port today and 500 girls and boys tumbled down the gangplank cheering as only youth can cheer when school is let out.

Fourteen of the students who started with the round-the-world educational experiment eight months ago were missing, however. They were "fired" en route—eight of them for intoxication and "creating a spectacle" in the Hotel Imperial in Tokyo, Japan.

Deny Scandals

The faculty and students generally displayed a loyalty to their alma mater and scoffed at reports from abroad that there were any "scandals" during the trip.

Prof. James E. Lough, of New York University, acting president and dean of the floating college, declared that there were less cases calling for disciplinary measures aboard than in a university on land. However, the next trip of the university will be made without girls.

Concentration Camps

Most of the refugees from this section together with those from Concordia parish, will be brought to the great concentration camp which is being established here, said Adjutant General L. A. Toombs, whose forces are aiding Red Cross and Federal Army units in the evacuation of the territory.

FLOOD RELIEF FUND CONTINUES TO GROW

Although Campaign Quota Has Been Passed Money Still Comes In.

Still Manchester continues to give toward the relief of sufferers in the Mississippi valley flood region. Lucius Pinney, treasurer of the Manchester chapter of the Red Cross, announced at noon that the total contributions had reached $2,331.50.

Although Manchester's quota was set at only $1,000 by the National Chapter, this amount was realized in two days and before the end of the week the town had contributed more than $2,000. Contributions kept pouring in and even today, a week after the campaign was begun, more than $74 was received by Mr. Pinney.

FATE OF NATIONALISTS IN THE BALANCE TODAY

Chinese Armies Marching to Battle—More American Mar- ines Reach Shanghai.

Shanghai, May 2.—The fate of the Extremist Nationalist government in Hankow hangs in the balance today.

While Marshal Chang Tso Lin's armies march on towards Hankow from the north reports state that Chiang Kai Shek's Moderate Nationalist forces are advancing up the Yangtze with Hankow as their goal.

The Hankow leaders are apprehensive, according to reports received here, and are already changing their foreign policy substituting attempts at placation for defiance. There is an acute food shortage in the city.

Evidence that the masses in Hankow may be out of control are seen in warnings given by Eugene Chen to foreigners that he can not assure protection for abandoned property. Chen is making strenuous efforts to retain foreign industrial and commercial enterprises in South China, and efforts are being made to secure the resumption of industries in Hankow.

The Rockville lodge will give away two trips to Europe, each valued at $500 and five automobiles. Anyone not having a car but desiring one might wait until the carnival when the cars will be presented to the fortunate people.

Details regarding the carnival will be announced later. 42 New Members. Forty-two new members were received into the Union Congregational church at yesterday morning's service by Rev. George S. Brookes. Twelve were by letter and thirty by confession of faith. They were as follows:

By Letter or Certificate Mrs. John Alley, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cockayne, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Draycott, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Draycott, Mrs. Max Helmerding, Mrs. R. H. Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Nettleton, Mrs. William N. Pray, Albert Prote, Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Redfield, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Walnwright, M. C. Watstein.

By Confession of Faith Paul Frederick Artz, Mrs. S. W. Ballard, David Ballard, Constance M. Brookes, Vera G. Brookes, Kenneth Brookes, Russell Burch, Rebecca Champness, Clinton Cowles, Max Helmerding, John Herzog, Arlington Hewitt, Elbridge Knowlton Leonard, Allen Lisk, Lester Crosley Ludke, Madeline Ludwig, Leroy Ludwig, Kenneth McCreey, Carl Murphy, Donald Neff, Eleanor Neff, Ruth Neumann, Harry Phelps, Edith Preusse, Otto E. Preusse, Edwin W. Reinhold, Clarence Schlaefer, Arline Eva Sullivan, Mildred Mae Sullivan, Hilran Louis Welrs.

Mall Service. The mail service, which was crippled when the "New Haven" road discontinued the two noon trains out of Rockville, will be righted by a new arrangement made with the Connecticut company. The mail will leave Rockville at 12:15 p'clock, daylight saving time, for Hartford. The authorities said that all mail bearing special delivery stamps will be delivered in New York or Boston on the same day that it is sent.

Notes. Harry C. Smith attended the banquet of the Laurel club Thursday evening at the Hotel Garde, Hartford.

Court Snipsic, F. of A. will hold their last game of pitch after the business meeting Monday evening. A social hour will follow.

The Cornelia Circle met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. B. Olmstead of Ellington avenue. The Americanization of the American Legion, consisting of Edward Newmarker, Paul Lehmann and Harry Lebeshevsky are planning for the activities of the Legion in connection with Memorial Day.

A number of the members of Court Snipsic, Foresters of America, will attend the state convention of the organization which will be held at Norwich on May 11 and 12. The Burpee Relief Corps will be represented at the 44th annual convention of the Woman's Relief Corps which will be held in Waterbury on May 5 and 6.

Miss Doris Hartenstein has returned from a week spent in Springfield as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hartenstein. Mrs. Susan Lewis of South Manchester attended the May morning service of the Union Congregational church.

Miss Edith Mead and Miss Mabel Crawford of Springfield spent the week-end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mead of Union street. Miss Betty Boothroyd of Hartford was the guest of Miss Mary Gregus of Talcott avenue on Sunday. Miss Christine Bush has returned to Somerville, New Jersey after having spent a week in town where she was the guest of her various friends.

About thirty-five attended the Christian Endeavor banquet which was held at the Union Congregational church on Saturday evening. The beautiful repast which was enjoyed by all was prepared by Miss Josephine Gregus. Edward Sims of Union street met with a very painful accident Saturday morning in the Springfield mill. His injuries consisted of a dislocated shoulder and broken ligaments. He was taken to the Rockville City hospital.

NINE CASES TODAY IN POLICE COURT

Two Go to Jail When They Lack Funds to Pay Their Fines.

Nine cases were on the docket in the Manchester police court this morning—all more or less trivial charges. Two men, unable to pay their fines went to jail.

A group of five young men were arrested late Saturday night by Sergeant Crockett for raising a disturbance during the Italian dance hall on Eldridge street and the Nathan Hale school on Spruce street on Blissell street. They were all local men, Thomas Egan, 29, of 22 West Center street; Joseph Coleman, 22, of 54 Florence street; Knute E. Anderson, 24 of 14 Newman street; John Jackmore, 20, town and Joseph Grimsom, 26, 198 Eldridge street. Coleman, Egan, Anderson and Jackmore were charged with breach of the peace. All but Coleman pleaded guilty. Sergeant Crockett and Officers Galligan and Martin testified that the men had been drinking and raising a disturbance. All but Jackmore had been in court before, it was revealed.

In imposing sentence Judge Raymond A. Johnson said that he had given the men enough opportunity to "go straight" and that it had been useless. He gave Coleman, Egan and Anderson the maximum sentence—fifteen days in jail. All took appeal and a $300 bond was furnished in each case. Jackmore was fined $16 and costs and had to go to jail because of lack of funds. Grimsom pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication and was fined $10 and costs and given a severe reprimand by the judge.

Daniel W. Walker, 32, of 394 Porter street pleaded guilty to a charge of breach of the peace growing out of a disturbance in a barber shop at Spruce and Eldridge streets early Saturday night. Officer Martin made the arrest. A fine of $15 and costs was imposed. Stephen Smetzeliski, 34, of 145 Sheldon street, Hartford, thought it a joke to be found sitting on the curb on Woodbridge street Saturday night in a drunken condition. He was waiting for a car, when Officer Wirtalla arrested him. Judge Johnson informed Stephen his offense was no laughing matter and fined him $20 and costs. Stephen had but $3 so he went to jail.

Michael Kowski, 22, 89 Union street was arrested Saturday by Officer Wirtalla and will be examined today by doctors as to his sanity. Another case involving a violation of the parking restriction did not come up for hearing as the man, owing to a misunderstanding, did not appear.

TO TELL KIWANIAN ABOUT OUR HOSPITAL

"The Memorial Hospital and Its Functions in the Community" will be C. Elmore Watkins's subject at the Wednesday meeting of the Manchester Kiwanis club. This talk will be in preparation for the $50,000 drive for the hospital which will be conducted the following week. L. C. Clifford will give the prize at Wednesday's meeting and someone has suggested that he may give service. This will be the last week of the International attendance contest and a large attendance here is sought. On May 12 the local Kiwanis club will visit with Hartford and will hear Dan Chase of Boston speak.

S. M. E. DEBT CLEARED BY JULY NEXT YEAR

Down to $22,000 Now, Pastor Reports—Service Program For Month of May.

In his report to the recent Southern New England conference of the Methodist church in New Bedford, Rev. Joseph Cooper, pastor of the South Methodist church, disclosed, among other things, that the church debt has now been decreased to $22,000. He said in his report that when all pledges are met within the time allotted the debt will have been dissipated—which will be by July 1 of next year.

Other items in the report gave the membership of the church as 306, 74 persons having been taken into membership during the past year. He baptized 43 people, married 22 couples and conducted 26 funerals. Mr. Cooper has not been absent from one service because of illness during his five years in Manchester.

One of the interesting points is the fact that all current expenses were paid on the income of $21,150.37. Rev. Mr. Cooper gave out yesterday his complete program services and sermon topics for the month of May. At all evening services there will be special musical features arranged and in charge of Miss Grace Adams.

The program was started yesterday when the pastor gave a brief address at the communion service on "The Challenge of the Church." In the evening he spoke on "The Soul of Methodism." The special soloist last night was Robert Von Deck, who sang two numbers. Following is the program for the remainder of the month: May 8, Mother's Day, 10:45: "Mother's Day." 7 o'clock, "God Speaks to Men." May 15, 10:45: "Seeing the Invisible King." 7:30: Gounod's "Redemption" by augmented choir. May 22, 10:45: "The March of the Lord." 7 o'clock: "The Gospel of the May Basket." May 28, 10:45: "The International Mind." 7 o'clock: "Holy Memories."

MISS ESTHER THURSTON IS WEDDED IN LONDON

Former Local Girl, Later Missionary in Japan, Becomes Wife of English Pastor.

Zion's Herald, official organ of the Boston Area of the Methodist Episcopal church, gives considerable space to an account of the marriage of Miss Esther Thurston, former Manchester girl, and Rev. G. J. Slosser, which took place recently in London, England. Miss Thurston, a graduate of the local high school here and a former teacher in the Lincoln school, has been for some years a missionary in Japan. She went through the Tokyo earthquake a few years ago. She and her husband met for the first time at the Epworth League Institute in Willimantic last year. Miss Thurston is a niece of the late Rev. W. L. Ellis, former pastor of the South Methodist church.

Following is the Zion's Herald account: "Historic Wesley's Chapel, City Road, London, was the scene recently of the marriage of Miss Esther Victoria Thurston and Rev. Gaius Jackson Slosser. The wedding was informal and the only attendants were Dr. W. C. Poole, president of the World's Sunday School association and pastor of Christ church, London, and Mrs. Poole. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. Alfred Sharp, director of publications of the British Wesleyan church, assisted by Rev. Dr. George H. McNeal, minister of Wesley's chapel. Mr. Slosser recently accepted a call to the pastorate of the Lower Clapton, Congregational church, London."

TALCOTTVILLE COUPLE HAVE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Pitkin Celebrate 50 Years of Married Life.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Pitkin of Talcottville, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage at their home yesterday. Twenty-one of their immediate relatives were present and enjoyed a lunch and a social time. Mr. and Mrs. Pitkin were married in South Windsor May 2, 1877. Mrs. Pitkin was formerly Emma Dart, oldest daughter of the late James Dart of South Windsor. Mr. Pitkin, who is a painter by trade, formerly lived at Vernon Center, but for many years they have lived at their present home in Talcottville. Mr. Pitkin is well known to many Manchester people and has frequently been employed by them on outside work and interior decorating. They have one son Alfred C. Pitkin of Talcottville. Both Mr. and Mrs. Pitkin have been active in Vernon Grange and in community affairs. Mr. Pitkin is a past master of that Grange and their hospitality has many times been enjoyed by friends and neighbors. Their guests yesterday presented to the couple a purse of $50 in gold and to Mrs. Pitkin a beautiful bouquet of roses, as tokens of their love and esteem.

William McKee of Griswold street and Harry Larson of Laurel Place were visitors yesterday at the home of Miss Agnes Griswold of Whiting Lane, West Hartford.

CAT-RAT RANCH GETS PROSPECTS

Many Fall For Bunco Scheme—Dr. Cook May Come Back.

Prepared by Manchester Chamber of Commerce

Speaking of perpetual motion, here is an example which was referred to the Chamber of Commerce during the past week. "Cat and Rat Ranch." "Learning that you are always interested in a good live business proposition and open for a good investment, we take the liberty of presenting a most wonderful opportunity, and perhaps you will write us by return mail telling us how much stock to reserve for you. "The first one hundred thousand shares will be sold for $1.00 per share, and after that they will take a BIG JUMP. The OBJECT of this company is to operate a large CAT RANCH at or near GOLDEN, COLORADO, where land for the purpose can be bought cheap. To start with, we shall collect, say one million rats, and each will average 12 kittens a year. The skins run from 10 cents for white ones to 75 cents for pure black. This will give us twelve million skins a year to sell at an average of 30 cents each, making our revenue about $3,600,000 a day gross. A man can skin 50 cats a day for $2.00. It will take 100 men to operate the ranch, and therefore our net profit will be about $3,800,000 a day. We will feed the cats on rats, and start a rat ranch next door. The rats multiply four times as fast as the cats. If we start a million rats, we shall have, therefore, four rats a day for each cat, which is plenty. Now then, we shall feed the rats on the carcasses of the cats from which the skins have been taken, giving each rat a fourth of a cat. It will thus be seen that the business will be self-acting, and automatic all the way through. The cats will eat the rats, the rats will eat the cats, and we will get the skins. Are you with us? Awaiting your prompt reply and trusting that you will avail yourself of this wonderful opportunity, we remain, Very truly yours,

The above is not new by any means. The story is told of a Boston broker who posted a notice similar to this in his show window as a joke. After a few hours his office was swamped with applications for stock, which goes to show how long a shot some people are willing to take. Cook Wants Out. The investment world may have an opportunity before long to greet a one-time familiar figure, Dr. Fred A. Cook, who originally attracted attention by his fraudulent claims to be the discoverer of the North Pole and was later sent to the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, for fraudulent oil promotions. He is petitioning for executive clemency and release from the prison, after having served two years of a fourteen year term. Cook's promotions were some of the most audacious and unscrupulous that have ever come to the attention of the Department of Justice.

No less than a hundred million dollars was filched by him and his comrades from stockholders of defunct oil companies in consideration of a 25% bonus. The United States Department of Justice has taken vigorous steps to prevent the release of Doctor Cook, who with ninety-one others, was indicted April 20, 1923 and sentenced on April 6, 1925 to serve fourteen years and nine months, and pay a fine of $12,000. The only difference between Dr. Cook, now in the Federal Penitentiary, and hundreds of others engaged in the same fraudulent promotions is that Cook went too fast, while others are content with smaller profits. The game is just the same, and millions are being lost to the public every year by this same game. There are no records available to show the number of people who have been made wealthy by the philanthropists who go about giving tips on investments. There are, however, authentic records of hundreds of thousands who have been ruined by the same philanthropists. It is safe to say that if anyone ever made money on one of these tips, it was all a mistake. The question is can you afford to gamble that they will make a mistake in your case? It is not necessary to guess, as the Chamber of Commerce is ready to give you the facts before you invest your money.

EXTRA SESSION.

At first glance it is easy to disagree with President Coolidge's opposition to a special session of Congress for the purpose of dealing with the tragic Mississippi flood situation, and it is entirely possible that conditions may, within a very few days, bring about a change in the President's determination.

However, it is to be remembered that it would be possible once Congress were in session, for fanatic members to take advantage of the situation and insist on linking up farm relief measures to whatever emergency legislation might be proposed in the interest of the flood sufferers. The disaster is very largely agrarian in its character. The worst sufferers will be the farmers, who are not only washed out of their homes but rendered helpless in the matter of planting crops this year. A flood relief session would afford ideal opportunity for the McNary-Haugen type of Congressional agitator to get in his work for his favorite legislation. Nothing would be much less surprising than to see a filibuster against any flood rescue bill unless some general paternalistic pap for farmers far from the inundated area were permitted to be hitched to it.

It is probably because he senses this contingency that the President is so definitely against a special session.

If there is a feeling among members of Congress generally that the national legislature ought to convene now, so as to be in a position to provide timely and adequate aid to the stricken Mississippi country, they can probably bring about an extra session if they will individually and voluntarily pledge themselves to refrain from introducing or attempting to insinuate into the business of the body any proposal having to do with anything but the matter actually in hand.

We do not believe that, with such assurance, the President would obstruct a flood relief session.

PIGS.

A large number of decent, orderly people assembled yesterday at the various boat landings in New York through which access was to be had to the great war fleet riding in the Hudson. They formed in line and were admitted to the landing places and taken aboard the ships in the order of their arrival. Those who came earliest were, as by all right, given the earliest chances—everybody was satisfied.

Then along came the late arrivals. Not interested or enterprising enough to be among the early birds, they were the more insistent on getting first aboard the ships. They refused to get into line. They pushed the decent folks aside. They tried to crash the gate. They swarmed and crowded and rioted and were pushed and punched by cops—and finally the whole business was shut down on for the day and neither they nor the last of the early folks ever did get to visit the ships.

Under anything like similar circumstances, in any large community and sometimes in small ones, there develops a similar situation. There are fair-minded, reasonable, considerate people possessing a sense of justice and a willingness to abide by it. There are people who seem quite incapable of either fair-mindedness, consideration or willingness to live by the rules of justice. And unfortunately they often override, and are allowed to override, the fair and the decent.

This would probably be found true in any society, in any community. It is especially conspicuous in our American great cities, where there are swarms of individuals who, born and reared in countries where they were under a continual repression at the hands of authority, become intoxicated with a sense of what they consider freedom in America—the right to trample and push their way to any goal they may fancy.

If there is any vital thing lack-

ACHIEVEMENTS

This is the first of a series of articles on the civic achievements of various American municipalities. These articles, which tell how other cities have solved problems that face every city, will appear on this page daily.

BY DON E. MOWRY

Secretary, the American Community Advertising Association

The steady rise in municipal tax rates has been one of the most pressing problems, of late years, that American cities have had to face. But Ponca City, Okla., is one place where this problem doesn't apply.

The reason? Ponca City has a municipal electric light plant which is on a business basis.

This light plant has cleared approximately $550,000 in the past five years, although its rates are ing in the American school system it is sound, fundamental instruction in ethics. Sometimes we wonder if we do not do altogether too much to develop the competitive spirit and altogether too little to develop the spirit of helpfulness, fairness and a decent regard for the other fellow. Sometimes we wonder if the one is not, after all, directly antithetical to the other.

FUSSING OVER JURIES.

The extraordinary fuss made over getting a jury for the trial of the two men accused in the Manchester tong murder, so-called, is difficult to justify on grounds either of necessity or expediency. What, in the end, is to be gained by the bogging down of court machinery while considerably more than 300 individuals are examined and rejected? Almost beyond doubt the case goes to trial with substantially the same kind of a set of brains and emotions to pass upon the evidence as would have been the case had the first dozen talesmen been accepted.

In the long run any dozen men is as good as any other dozen men for the hearing of a murder trial, provided of course that there is neither idiot nor crook among the lot—and it does not take a week or two to keep rank ineligible off a jury. That there should be any special difficulty in obtaining an adequate jury in the present case is unbelievable. The accused persons and the victim were strangers. Hardly a potential juror had more than a fragmentary knowledge of the case. It would be difficult to imagine any murder trial freer from the element of advance bias.

If this business of tying up the courts for days and days in preparing for trial is allowed to continue indefinitely, we shall soon have the Connecticut judicial machinery in the condition of New York, where they make a practice of scripping bushels of indictments at a time because there is no hope of ever trying the cases.

WALSH?

There seems to be a very general impression in Washington that Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana is to be offered, by a growing element of Democratic leaders in the South, as a candidate for the 1928 Presidential nomination, on the theory that his status as a Catholic will act as a sop to the Smith faction of the party.

This might be a more or less likely scheme if it were true that the Smith backers are boosting him, and have been boosting him for the last four or five years, simply because he is a Catholic. If what they wanted was merely a Catholic President—any Catholic at all—then the offer of the "dry" southern Democrats to accept Walsh would become important. But with the possible exception of Massachusetts it is doubtful if there is any state body of Democrats which is for Smith solely on religious grounds. Most of the eastern Democrats are for him primarily because he is a wet and because of his extremely popular personality. His being a Catholic naturally makes him all the stronger with large elements in his party in the East, but outside of the Bay State it is probably not only not the whole case in his favor but not even the major part of it.

In such circumstance the idea of getting Eastern Catholic Democrats to swap Smith for Walsh seems to us to be presupposing the religious issue to be a great deal more virile than it is in truth. Senator Thomas J. Walsh has the respect of too many people, and the warm regard of too few, to make him an available candidate for any party. He is dour and solemn and hard bitten and would be no kind of a vote getter—and, moreover, what would the Democratic party be doing with a dry candidate? We no higher than elsewhere in Oklahoma. The city has been offered a million dollars for the property—but it laughs at all offers.

More than $330,000 has been diverted from the profits to the general revenues of the city government—a saving of that amount to the taxpayers.

The present maximum tax levy in Ponca City is only 6 mills, and the money raised by taxation for general fund purposes is only $35,000 a year. How many other cities of over 7000 population can get along on a tax revenue of that size?

Not long ago it was necessary to make some improvements in the light plant. Public confidence was such that there was no trouble in floating a bond issue of $300,000, which is to be paid back out of the profits at the rate of $50,000 a year.

The net income from the plant in 1926 was $156,083.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER.

Washington, May 2.—"I think," said Senator J. Boonboom McWhorter, as he extracted his foot from the capitol, "that I can tell you the exact reason for the immense amount of secrecy which surrounds the seeming fact that certain of our nation's diplomatic papers have fallen into the hands of the Mexican government and that certain of these documents have come to be regarded as forgeries."

Senator McWhorter, spoke up to the correspondent, earnestly "you are the man of the hour. For two months every newspaperman in Washington has been seeking to ascertain what it now appears you have within your bosom. "Have they not asked the Secretary of State in a dozen different ways at every press conference about these forgeries? Have they not besieged the doorstep of every major and minor official of the foreign service? Have they not sat on dark and lonely benches with stenographers of the department, wheedling wickedly? And, have not all these efforts failed? Ah, with what envy would my brethren not regard me could they but see me now. Let not false modesty restrain your tongue!"

A Big Season Ahead. Senator McWhorter, known to his friends and admirers as "good ole Boonboom," nodded assent. "I predict," he said, "that come next fall, when the literary and the dramatic seasons again come into their own, the blinking white lights of Broadway will be crowded with signs announcing a horde of dramas. The bookstalls will be crammed with new novels of the type made famous in the last generation by one Oppenheim. And our movie sheiks will one and all be taking the roles of bright young diplomats who save their country by frustrating the villainous designs of baleful Mexicans and Nicaraguans.

"The international spy will be the figure of the hour and forged documents will be as common on the stages of the Rialto as confetti at a wedding.

"Who will be responsible for all this? Come, come little stupid! What think you the young men of our State Department, nay even the middle-aged and elderly gents of our State Department, are engaged upon in the privacy of their homes on these summer evenings?

"I'll tell you what they're doing! They are hammering frenziedly at the production of scenarios, melodramas, novels, short stories and what not. They are preparing to tell the world how the Mexican president corrupted a weak embassy clerk with fabulous sums of gold, how a Mexican general came to the back door at dead of night, how a Mexican senorita swapped a sixteen-year-old secretary of embassy and how his pure American swain clawed and tore hair with her to save her man, how the ambassador was drugged, how the young American hero sneaked into Chapultepec Castle and altered the pilfered papers so that the enemy would be misled and how the United States cavalry dashed over the border to save the hero and heroine from the band of brigands and spies who had taken them to the hills to drown them in a mountain spring.

All these things and many more will be told. There will be such titles as 'A Nation's Peril, The Secret Code, Under Cover, For Love and Oil, The Stolen Plans, Invisible Ink, Blood and Spies, The Ambassador's Mistake, The Pilfered Pouch and a hundred others.

Too Good to Waste. "You have noticed the great recent popularity of mystery plays and detective stories. Well, sir, those fellows in the State Department have noticed it, too. Nearly everyone in this country is writing scenarios, short stories and plays. Why should the foreign service men, subsisting on meager government salaries, give away all this priceless material by making public the details of what happened in Mexico City in connection with those documents?"

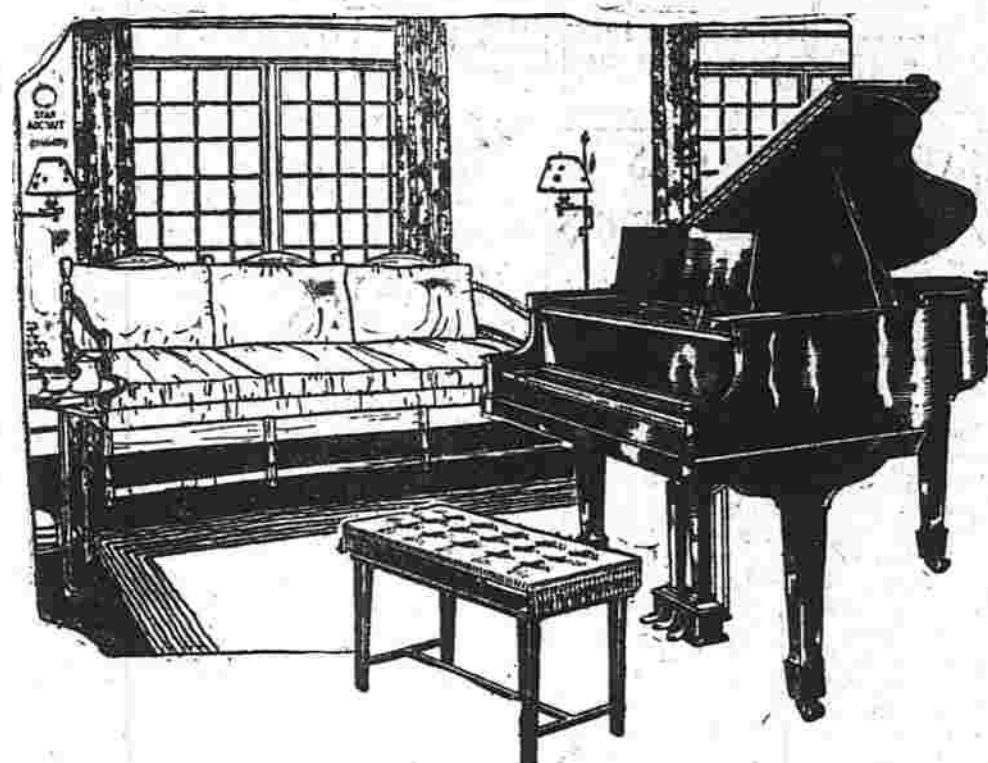

"I don't think it's right, but I don't know what can be done about it. Mind you, I'm not accusing Secretary Kellogg. Insofar as I know, he has no literary ambitions.

"Run along now, boy. You've got a good story."

So your correspondent dashed to the nearest telegraph office.

HOOT GIBSON STAR OF "BUCKAROO KID"

Dashes to Success in Circle Feature For Tomorrow and Wednesday—"Fashions For Women" Tonight.

He lost his job, and he lost his heart, but nothing under the sun could make him lose his nerve. He rode through to his goal and the girl he loved.

That's Hoot Gibson, now one of the most famous of the Western actors, in his new role of "The Buckaroo Kid," which will be the feature attraction at the Circle theater tomorrow and Wednesday.

Taken from a short story by Peter B. Kyne, the popular author of the "Cappy Ricks" stories, "The Buckaroo Kid" presents something new in Westerns.

Gibson is found in a new locale for a large part of the story then returns to his usual cinema habitat, the Western ranch.

If someone promises to do something quite unpleasant to you, and you are dead certain that he is going to do it, whether or no, it is not much comfort to reflect that he will be arrested for it afterward.

"Fashions for Women," with beautiful blonde Esther Ralston in the leading role, ends its run at the Circle tonight. The blonde girl is supported by Miss Hanson and Raymond Hatton, the latter co-star of "Behind the Front" and "We're in the Navy Now," with Wallace Berry.

Celeste, most beautiful model in Paris, suddenly disappears. The modiste firm she represents is distracted as their fashion show will be a total loss without her.

Sam Dupont, live wire press agent who arranged her disappearing act gets busy. Loda, a cigarette girl bearing quite a resemblance to Celeste agrees to substitute if Raoul de Bery, former aviation ace, is hired as her private aviator.

(This isn't exactly correct but gives some slight idea of what it's all about.) Then, the big night arrives and so do Celeste and a former admirer who mistakes Loda for his old flame and attempts to make love to her.

Rayou, by this time madly infatuated with the girl, sees red—and the fun begins! But that's far from being all. There's a gorgeous fashion revue in which Hollywood's fifteen most beautiful girls appear.

Mrs. August Schmidt of 168 Oak street was the guest of honor at a birthday surprise party given Saturday evening at the home of her brother-in-law, Karl Schmidt, of Vernon street. About fifty friends and relatives from different sections of this town, Wapping and Addison were in attendance. The ladies provided the repast and the men gave Mrs. Schmidt silver canes. Card games and dancing rounded out a merry evening.

Attention of members of the Buckland Parent-Teacher association is called to the annual meeting of the school held this evening, with election of officers and reports of committees. At this meeting each member is expected to bring a quarter and tell how it was earned during the past month.

Herbert Hoover's radio talk from Memphis on the Mississippi flood situation was listened to with interest Saturday evening. The Secretary of Commerce who has been for some time in the stricken region, gave an enlightened talk on the conditions which resulted in the greatest flood in the history of the country. Secretary Hoover was followed immediately by Al Jolson, famous singing comedian, who entertained via radio for the first time. Mr. Jolson appealed to the invisible audience of millions, between his songs and funny stories, for the contribution of a dime each for the Red Cross relief work.

Manchester friends of Rev. George G. The infallible sign of summer, better than groundhogs and green grass, was seen in Manchester this morning. It was the first straw hat!

The wearer, a Birch street barber, walked down Main street sporting a newly-finished Panama, blissfully oblivious to the fact that there was not a ray of sunshine in the sky. Clouds had obscured the sun and rain threatened, but these conditions meant nothing to the wearer. He was the pioneer of 1927 and as such walked with a dignity befitting his position.

TEX RICKARD AGREES TO BROADCAST BOUTS

George L. (Tex) Rickard, prominent sports promoter and showman, announced today that he has completed arrangements for the future broadcasting of sporting events under his sponsorship through the Red and Blue Networks of the National Broadcasting Company, of which WEAJ and WJZ, New York, are the key stations. Broadcasting through WWSG now located in Madison Square Garden, where practically all of Rickard's sports events take place, will be abandoned in view of proposed broadcasting through the National Broadcasting Company's Networks.

A little over a year ago Mr. Rickard following requests from many fight fans stationed in the various national hospitals for war wounded injured to yield to their plea and permit the broadcasting of Madison Square Garden fights as an experiment. At that time it was his opinion and the opinion of the directors of Madison Square Garden that broadcasting the fights would be injurious to the Garden's finances. However, a year of broadcasting has proven to Mr. Rickard that it has been a tremendous aid to his sporting events.

CROWDS FLOCK TO SEE "CASEY AT THE BAT"

Rialto Theater Finds Manchester People Like Wallace Beery in Famous Role.

"Casey at the Bat," that laughing sketch of America's national pastime, made famous by DeWolf Hopper, has proven to be more popular as a screen version with Wallace Beery as the hero. This is evidenced even in Manchester for hundreds turned out last night at The Rialto to see the pride of Middleville whiff the ozone solidly for three consecutive times. The picture was greeted with gales of laughter and it undoubtedly will make a bigger hit when it is shown at the comfortable little playhouse for the last time this evening.

In conjunction with the feature production the Rialto presents an additional feature, "Ace of Action," together with the late World Wide Events and Kinograms. Tonight's shows are at 7 and 9 o'clock, the prices being 10 and 20 cents.

Tomorrow and Wednesday afternoon and evening, at 2:15, 7 and 9 o'clock, The Rialto offers two big screen attractions, each alone worth the price of admission. These are "Dancing Days," an hilarious comedy of matrimony, with Helen Chadwick and Robert Agnew, and "With Davy Crockett at the Fall of The Alamo," a sweeping portrayal of one of America's greatest historical events, featuring Cullen Landis and a mighty cast.

There will be no advance in prices for this big show which includes other screen attractions such as the news weekly and a two reel comedy.

HINTS ON BEAUTIFYING YOUR OWN HOME. BY KATHERINE WILSON LEE. So many women have the idea that it takes a lot of experience... or a special knack for decoration... to transform drab, uninteresting rooms into the colorful, picturesque rooms illustrated in the current magazines. But really it is quite a simple matter—with Duco. And you are just as... Ideas and put color into your white bathroom, it's easy to paint a stool rose, or yellow, or blue, to match the figured design in your cotton window curtains. By this time you will have found what fun it is to work with Duco, and you'll be getting more ambitious. I can imagine you buying a set of unfaded breakfast room furniture, table and chairs, and consulting color charts for shades to match your walls and general color scheme. Old blue and yellow... green and gray... delft blue and rose... orange and black—there are endless fascinating combinations of colors. And when you paint your set yourself, you will know it's different. Now you look around and see an ugly oak dresser. Remove the mirror, brackets and all, and paint the chest of drawers one of the soft pastel Duco shades—possibly French Gray or Nile Green. Then hang an oval shaped mirror from a harmonizing silk cord above the newly finished chest, and you'll be completely surprised at the remarkable improvement. If you have an old chipped iron bed, which doesn't match anything, paint it to match the new dressing table... and also a chair or two. Soon a lot of almost impossible-looking old furniture can be used again, and your bedroom will be just as charming as though you had purchased a matched suite costing many times the actual cost of the refinishing. Perhaps the attic in some room is bothering you? Have you ever heard of the Tiffany finish—the mottled two-tone effect so popular now? It is easy to obtain this finish with Duco. Select a dark shade of Duco and apply one coat all over the wall. After allowing this to dry for half an hour or longer, apply a second coat of Duco of a lighter, contrasting shade over the first coat, working in squares of not more than eighteen inches. Rub the sponge and an over the second coat of Duco (each square as it is applied) before it dries. The sponge absorbs some of the Duco, allowing the first coat to show through. You will find this treatment makes a very striking room. Isn't your imagination beginning to work overtime already, discovering new ways in which you can use Duco to beautify your home? Remember it's not necessary to envy your friends their new paint. It's just a matter of getting busy yourself. Manchester Decorating Co. 74 East Center St.

THE MAN WHO HAS SERVED TWO BILLION MEALS TO THE HUNGRY

Herbert Hoover and James Fieser, national director of the Red Cross, arriving at Memphis to direct Mississippi valley relief work.

Memphis, Tenn., May 2.—There is an old fairy tale about a giant as big as seven oak trees who fed from a cauldron as big as a lake and with a spoon as big as a pond the hungry people of the world. Real life has seen a man, not a giant. Just as an average-sized man, who has in all literalness fed at least one meal to every living man, woman and child in the world. This man is Herbert Hoover, newly appointed dictator of flood relief in the stricken area of the Mississippi.

DEPOT SQUARE TAKES "NEW LEASE ON LIFE"

Old Buildings Change Their Fronts as Alterations Are Being Made Daily.

The north end business section in the vicinity of Depot Square has taken on a new lease of life this spring. Every day finds some new construction or alterations begun there. Yesterday afternoon Postmaster Ernest Brown and Contractor Thomas Sullivan, who own the business block adjoining the Bach and Brown building, began operations in the rear, with an idea of extending the stores to a greater depth. It is their plan to materially improve the appearance of the building.

Joseph Pohlman, the cigar manufacturer and William R. Palmer the dealer in electrical appliances occupy the stores at present and neither has taken any steps looking toward a change of location. Mr. Pohlman, who has been in business here more than half a century and over forty-five years in his present store, naturally hesitates about leaving.

The front of the Cowles hotel building has been transformed with surface coats of stucco over the frame work. The four new stores are rapidly taking shape, large plate glass windows have been set and the building presents a greatly improved appearance. Michael Coughlin, who owns the former mortar building, is contemplating lowering the stores there to the sidewalk level, and has already begun excavations toward that end. The new stores in the Fuller block are also practically completed.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: John Jacob Astor (1)

John Jacob Astor, called "America's first millionaire," was born in Waldorf, Germany, July 17, 1763. He was the youngest of four sons of Jacob Astor, a jovial butcher. Young John Jacob was left to mind the shop when the three brothers left home to make their ways in the world.

Young Astor was still in his teens when, with a few kronas he had wheedled from his father, he set out to meet life alone. 1827 by NEA SERVICE, INC.

He rode on lumber rafts down the Rhine river, and by foot and boat made his way to London where lived his brother George.

George gave the boy employment in his musical instrument workshop. John Jacob worked hard and saved. Buying seven German flutes, which he intended to sell in America, he took steerage passage in the fall of 1783, his destination Baltimore. The ship was held in the ice of Chesapeake bay and it was March before young Astor landed. (To Be Continued)

The Ex-Buck PRIVATE goes back to FRANCE

This is the 20th chapter in the story of a former doughboy who, going back to France as an advance guard of the "Second A. E. F.," is revisiting all the scenes he and his buddies saw during the war.

CHAPTER XX

Maybe you were at Barcoches on Aug. 9, 1918. Maybe you were at Epieds... Chamery... Prunay... Wez... Ste. Menouhould... or Julvigny.

It makes little difference; when you Legionnaires come this September you will see they all have changed. But the American influence is easy to recognize.

A peasant goes past with a leather jacket he probably purchased for ten francs and the purchaser probably tried to out-fraud a buddy with the galloping dominoes. And rain-coats! Well, it must be that all those buckled slickers were left behind for consideration. This work of reconstruction in the devastated areas could hardly go on without American equipment.

Hob-nailed hikers, too. Still going strong. In the buvette that wasn't standing there when you sweated through with the line of advance you can now buy cafe au lait, or cafe au rhum.

Jean Louis Freullet of Sommeville wearing the American Army blouse he bought ten years ago of doughboys quartered in the town.

meal, that's all, it's a meal. The mademoiselles peek coyly out through the curtains of the windows as you pass after you've finished the omelette. Over there is a Yank helmet on a bench—serving as a wash basin—just as it used to be. You drink from the fountain in the center of town; without a cup; just put your face in it. But the surprise comes when you meet a youngster of six or seven. He clops by in his wooden shoes. And shifty regny hand and plead:

"Cigarette pour papa, m'sieur; cigarette pour papa." He was born since the war.

"SLIDE, KELLY, SLIDE" AT STATE ON TUESDAY

William Haines Has All Star Cast With Him—Chaney In "Mr. Wu" Tonight.

A real baseball picture, filmed with real baseball stars and a picture that stands out as one of the foremost comedy-dramas of the year, is "Slide, Kelly, Slide." William Haines new starring production, which opens at the State theater tomorrow for two days. This film is different from all other baseball pictures for it contains stars who have made their names in the big leagues. Tony Lazzeri, Irish Meusel, Bob Meusel and Mike Donlin, the latter an umpire for many years, have important parts in the play.

William Haines and Sally O'Neil play the two central characters charmingly—Haines is at his funniest as the "smarty cracking" youngster from the "sticks." Harry Carey is superb as the veteran catcher, and Warner Richmond, as the sarcastic team manager, is clever.

Unforgettable comedy is furnished by Karl Dane, the famous "Slim" of "The Big Parade," and Eileen Sedgwick, the blonde beauty who scored a comedy hit in "The Hunch." Among the professional ball players who acquit themselves nobly in the picture are Bob and "Irish" Meusel and Tony Lazzeri of the Yankees, Mike Donlin of the Giants, and others of equal note.

A forty-eight hour banquet, serving as a wash basin—just as it used to be. You drink from the fountain in the center of town; without a cup; just put your face in it. But the surprise comes when you meet a youngster of six or seven. He clops by in his wooden shoes. And shifty regny hand and plead:

"Cigarette pour papa, m'sieur; cigarette pour papa." He was born since the war.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

The Herald believes that James Stevens' "Mattock" (Knopf) may come to be recognized as the best of the "hard-boiled" war stories to date. We liked it even better than "Cherons" for Stevens is both an artist and a rattling good story teller.

Woman's place, it now appears, is at the typewriter. She can stay home and still have her career, for she is becoming inimitably proficient at the art of writing novels. This season, as last, the American woman novelist is at least thus far—well in the lead. Her English sisters are in almost the same condition.

Thus Sylvia Warner's "Mr. Fortune's Maggot" is proving one of the most universally praised novels of the season. Earlier there was Julia Peterkin's splendid "Black April" and Sarah Comstock's study of postwar struggles of a veteran on a mid-west land allotment "Speak to the Earth."

There was Pauline Smith's "The Beadle" and Eleanor Coon's memorable first novel, "Shadows Waiting," which deserved a wider reading than perhaps it has had. And many more!

Pericles Romance To this list may now be added Gertrude Atherton's admirable new historical novel, "The Immortal"

Marriage" (Bonl, Liveright). It is pleasant to announce that for Mrs. Atherton those gland gland days of "Black Oxen" seem to be over and she is back at the task of putting vitality and life into scenes of another age. For her new book she has chosen a gorgeous subject—the making of Pericles, he who made the golden age of Greece, and Aspasia, one of the most brilliant and beautiful of women who had the misfortune to be modern many centuries before it was fashionable.

It seemed to us she splendidly recreated this amazing period—and no little courage is required to attempt the Periclean age. Perhaps some of the millions who read "Black Oxen" will come upon this book thinking to find another of its kind; in which case a critic may pardon the other novel, for it will have led many to an educational and absorbing encounter.

A Close Rival Second place was taken, we are told, by Bertha K. Mellett's novel of Washington life, "The Ellington Brat." The author is the wife of Lowell Mellett, for many years a magazine editor and writer, and now editor of the Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance in Washington.

Inside gossip informs us that Mrs. Mellett's book lost out by so narrow a margin that the judges were kept debating several weeks over time.

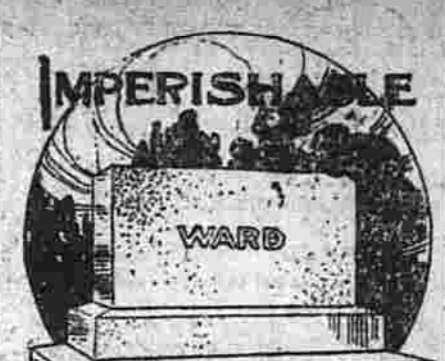

The films, offering an additional prize, did not fancy the winner for scenario purposes but have contracted Mrs. Mellett's story. The magazine serial folk, on the other hand, demanded "Rebellion."

She lifted her violin to her chin, and almost without conscious intention began to play that song which Clay had dedicated to her in that dress—'To an Autumn Dryad.'

During the factory tour, Ralph weeps Billy against Dal Romaine. Billy is so hurt she leaves Ralph and, finding Clay in the crowd of his morning workers, rides down on the bus with him. He proposes to Billy, but she refuses, saying she will not marry until she has a job.

Mr. Romaine was called to Chicago on business. "Lawsy, honey," Viola chuckled, "she says she's going to them Barbers what she run around with so much, but I dunno. She sure took a lot of glad rags for a quiet week-end in the country."

His arm tightened on her shoulder. "Thank you for telling me—and for not telling me—in there," Billy cried out, misunderstanding him.

The sight of his writing gave Billy a queer shock.

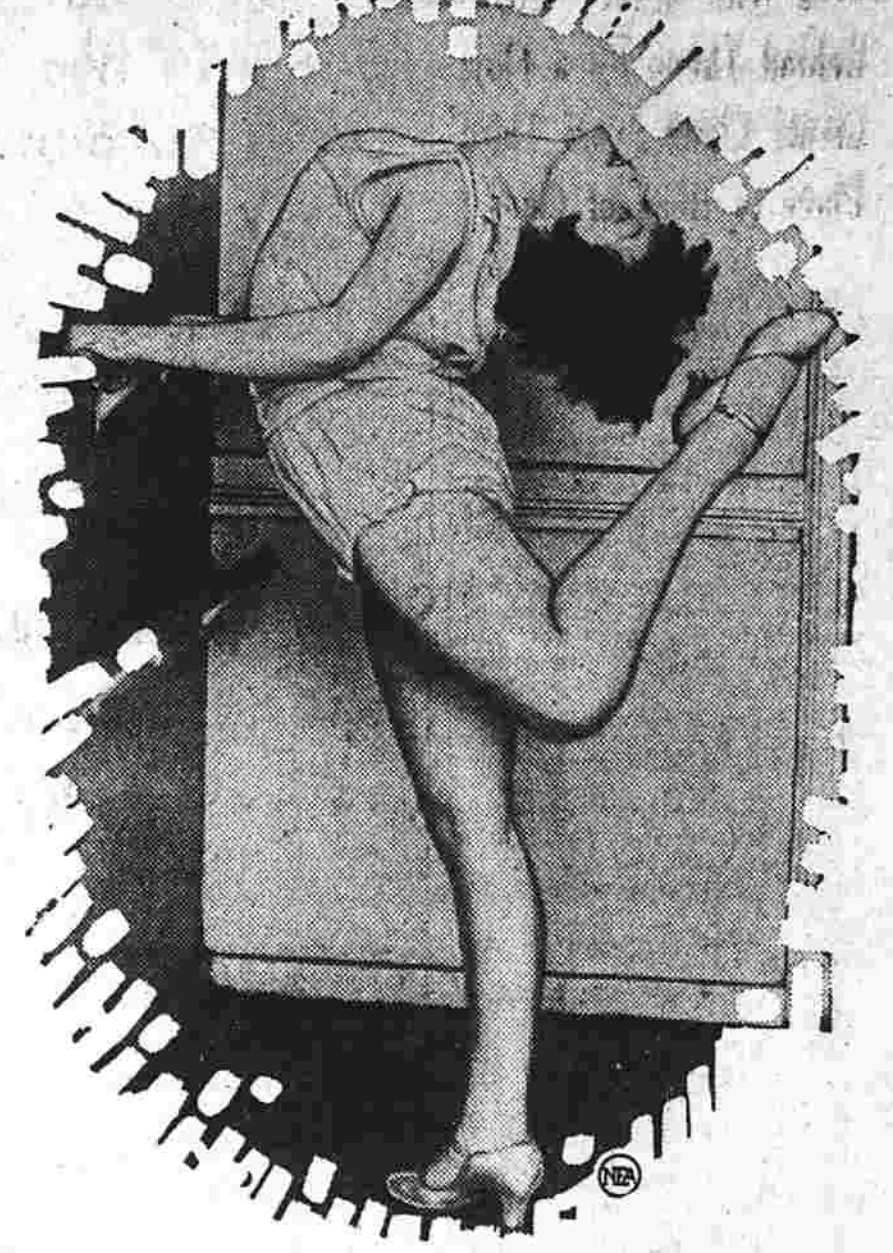

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

My state of mind this yellow morning is too black and doleful for such a day. Here's why. Not two days ago as I was eating the morning oatmeal I observed three bluejays as blue as bluebells, the bluest jays ever seen, disporting themselves among the six daffodils which bloom in the back yard, trala. My soul was flooded with the vernal urge. I must make a seasonal gesture, buy something, do something, say something, which would give expression to his nothing within me.

BELT BUCKLES

Belt buckles assume new and significance with the beltline growing more important each day. Jeweled affairs, smart leather buckles in novelty skins, and odd shaped metal ones are all good.

Newspaper Advertising Sells Cars, Says Willys EXECUTIVE STRESSES VALUE OF MEDIUM AT LUNCHEON FOR PRESS.

"The quickest and surest way in which to reach the greatest number of people with any message is through the daily newspaper," said John N. Willys, president of Willys-Overland, Inc., at his annual luncheon to New York newspapermen recently at the Biltmore.

In speaking further of newspapers, Mr. Willys said: "Today the newspaper situation is such that every literate home in the country is represented on the reader list of tested home-town newspaper. It is a faster means of coverage than the radio, for it is complete in its coverage and any message may be carried into every home in any community within a few hours of its inception.

"It is a surer means of coverage since the newspaper has become a portion of present day existence and its pages are scrutinized for the very message that any business man has to tell."

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Husbands who pay for permanent say, "Long live the kink."

SENSE and NONSENSE

Count yourself on the toboggan the moment you begin to feel sorry for yourself.

Black: I saw a very unusual sight today—a girl wasn't wearing a short skirt! Jack: Great Scott! Surely they haven't begun leaving them off altogether.

THE GROUCH He grows and grumbles by the fire. When rain or snow prevents his labors. And wishes for an inside job. Like certain of his lucky neighbors.

Then, when the sunshine lets him plow Or maybe excavate in ditches— He'll wish he had inherited A few of Rockefeller's riches.

And every day he's finding fault; The coffee never seems to please him; His wife mislaid his hat!—ush— And all the kids torment and tease him.

The country's surely going to stick. He'd like to show them how to run it. And when I built my chicken coop, He told me just how he'd have done it.

He criticizes all that's good, And curses everything that's bad. If folks would only hear to him, Things would be different, he gad.

Things are not what they used to be— In home life, church or politics. Girls used to have one beau apiece, Now each one has five or six.

He bellyaches from morn till night, When not a single thing's the matter. He spoils each festival and picnic With his internal yap and chatter.

And so the middle-aged, borsome grouch— Raves on, and sets our nerves a quiver. We wish, by Heck—he'd break his neck— Or drink some honest for his liver.

Chances are like kisses; the best ones are often taken, not given. 'None of us ever gets anything for nothing, but that doesn't keep us from trying.

Love—the delusion that one man differs from another. "Safety First!" the sign remarked, But Eustace Smarty reckoned That he would do as he durn' pleased, And was killed by a safety second.

It's about time to revive that famous old one about: Millions of dandelions now living will never die.

Birds sing in all the trees, Heroes charge to R. V. D.'s, Freckles show on flappers' knees, Spring is here.

NOW YOU Ask One

SORT THESE WORDS

Today's questions deal with a little of everything—including people. You'll find the answers on another page.

1—Rearrange these words so that each man's name is followed by the word that is properly associated with him: Adolph Ochs violinist R. A. Millikan actor Fritz Kreisler journalist William Howard Taft physicist Joseph Schildkraut aviator Richard E. Byrd jurist

2—To what magazine did Gov. Al Smith recently write a letter concerning his attitude toward religion and politics?

3—Where did the explorer Henry Hudson meet his death, and how?

4—Who is manager of the Chicago Cubs?

5—What is a microcosm?

6—Who was the late Charles P. Steinmetz?

7—What word is commonly used to describe Einstein's famous theory?

8—What is the capital of Delaware?

"What became of that hired man you got from the city?" "Aw, he used to be a chauffeur and the doggone idiot crawled under a mule to see why it wouldn't go."

"I can't see how the static knows we are to have company that night."

THE ANYMITES

(Read the Story. Then Color the Picture)

"Was not so long until the sun came peeking through. 'Ah, now it's fun to sail around up in the air," said Scouty "Claymike. 'I do not like the rain, and yet it seems that none of us got wet, so after all why should we kick, 'cause everything's all right?"

For many hours they sailed along, and now and then burst in to song. Then Copsy said, "I wonder when and where we're going to land. I'm getting hungry as can be. Some food would taste real good to me. And then he shaded both his eyes, and all directions scanned.

"There's not a thing in sight, I fear. We're all alone away up here." Then Clowzy broke right in and said, "That's where you're surely wrong. I see some trees about a mile ahead. We'll be there after while. Let's all hope the kindly wind will blow real strong."

Almost before his chat was through, the hope began to come right true. The parachute puffed far and wide and sailed just like a streak. Wee Copsy hollered, loudly, "Say!" The wind then took his breath away. In fact they sailed so speedily that none of them could speak.

They huddled in the basket tight, 'til everything was out of sight. Then, almost quickly as it came, the wind began to go. Wee Scouty stood to look about and then the others heard him shout, "Oh, look! I see some wondrous trees, and they are just below."

"If we should land right in those trees, we'd make our landing fine, with ease. I fear that it would hurt us if we landed on the ground." The basket then came to a stop. It caught upon a big tree top. The Tinies crawled to branches and they soon were safe and sound.

(The Tinies get a thrill in the next story.)
