

COLUMBIA PREPARES FOR HOP TO EUROPE

May Start This Afternoon Or Tonight, Report Says; Destination May Be Berlin.

Mineola, Long Island, N. Y., June 3.—The Bellanca monoplane Columbia, piloted by Clarence D. Chamberlin, will hop off from here to some point in Europe, probably Berlin, late this afternoon or tonight, according to plans announced today.

Chamberlin will be accompanied by a navigator whose name was not revealed. The navigator is said to be a former navy aviator.

Call For Official Charles A. Levine, president of the Columbia Aircraft Corporation, which is backing the flight, today was in telephonic communication with the office of the National Aeronautical Association in Washington. Levine asked that officials be sent to Curtis Field to make an official record of the take-off.

Clarence D. Chamberlin

tion was expected to leave Washington immediately for the Long Island field.

The Columbia was one of the first planes which prepared to attempt a New York-to-Paris hop. While the start was delayed through a controversy between Levine and Lloyd Betts, original companion aviator named with Chamberlin, Captain Charles A. Lindbergh came out of the west and achieved his historic trans-Atlantic flight. Betts then announced his breaking off of relationship with Levine.

Depends On Weather Plans for the take-off within the next 24 hours were dependent upon favorable weather conditions, a representative of Levine pointed out, and upon whether "certain other plans" worked out satisfactorily. The secrecy regarding the proposed destination of the plane was due to the desire to avoid any public disappointment in case subsequent developments might cause a change in plans, it was said.

"I desire to prove our sincerity and the ability of the Columbia by a real accomplishment," Levine stated. "I do not want to make a prediction which might be nullified by conditions beyond our control."

It was reported that the start of the projected flight was contingent to some extent on the time of the arrival here of the National Aeronautical Association representative. The reported time of the start ranged from late afternoon to eight o'clock this evening.

An additional indication of trans-Atlantic preparation was given when a sign-painter entered the Columbia's hangar this afternoon and changed the lettering on the side of the plane. The painter began to efface the word "Paris," which was painted on before internal discussion forced a postponement of the ship's flight to France, but members of the Levine organization declined to reveal what name would be put in its place.

LEAVES FOR N. Y. Washington, June 3.—Immediately upon receipt of word that the Columbia was to hop off late today or tonight for Europe, Carl E. Schory, chairman of the contest board of the National Aeronautical Association, left for New York to check the plane's instruments and make an official record of the take-off.

Schory took the eleven o'clock train. He will go at once to Curtis Field after reaching New York.

An unconfirmed report was received at the Navy Department that Lieutenant George R. Pond, naval reserve pilot, had been selected to make the trip with Clarence D. Chamberlin.

WOMAN MISSING Hatfield, Mass., June 3.—A posse of police, boy scouts and citizens today searched the woods and drained the Connecticut river for a trace of Miss Eugenia Montague, 26, of Deland, Fla., who has been missing from the home of her sister here for 24 hours.

SENATORS WILL PLAY PART OF SCHEDULE HERE

Hartford Eastern League Baseball Team to Use Stadium Week-Ends Till Own Field Is Ready.

The Hartford Baseball Club of the Eastern League made arrangements yesterday for the use of the McKee street stadium to play its Saturday and Sunday home games until such time as the new grandstands have been erected at Clarkin Field in Hartford. Secretary F. L. Sullivan of the Hartford club came to Manchester yesterday afternoon, looked over the stadium, and later completed arrangements with Cheney Brothers for the rental of the ball park.

Hartford will play Providence here next Sunday afternoon in a double header, the first game to start at 2 o'clock. Secretary Sullivan announced that Hartford has many postponed games to play and that in all probability several of the games in Manchester will be twin-bill affairs. According to the Eastern League schedule, Hartford will play in Manchester on the following dates unless the new park is completed before the conclusion of the Manchester schedule: Saturday, June 11, Waterbury; Sunday, June 19, Springfield; Sunday, June 26, Pittsfield; Saturday, July 2, New Haven; Sunday, July 10, Bridgeport. There is also a possibility that Springfield will play here on Fourth of July morning, which falls on a Monday.

Many believe that the invasion of the town by the Eastern League clubs will stimulate interest in the national pastime again. Others are pessimistic, and declare that Manchester fans never turn out to support a team that doesn't win constantly. Hartford is anything but a steady winner and at present is at the foot of the league in standing.

Hartford's appearance here, it is generally believed, will advertise Manchester considerably. Many persons who hitherto have not been familiar with Manchester will have opportunity to see the town. It is expected that the coming of many baseball fans from Hartford will result in some increase in business for restaurants and soda shops.

Details regarding the rental of the stadium by the Hartford Club will be found on the sports page today.

FLOOD VICTIMS NEED ASSISTANCE AT ONCE

Cannot Wait Until Congress Meets, Governor Tells Chicago Convention.

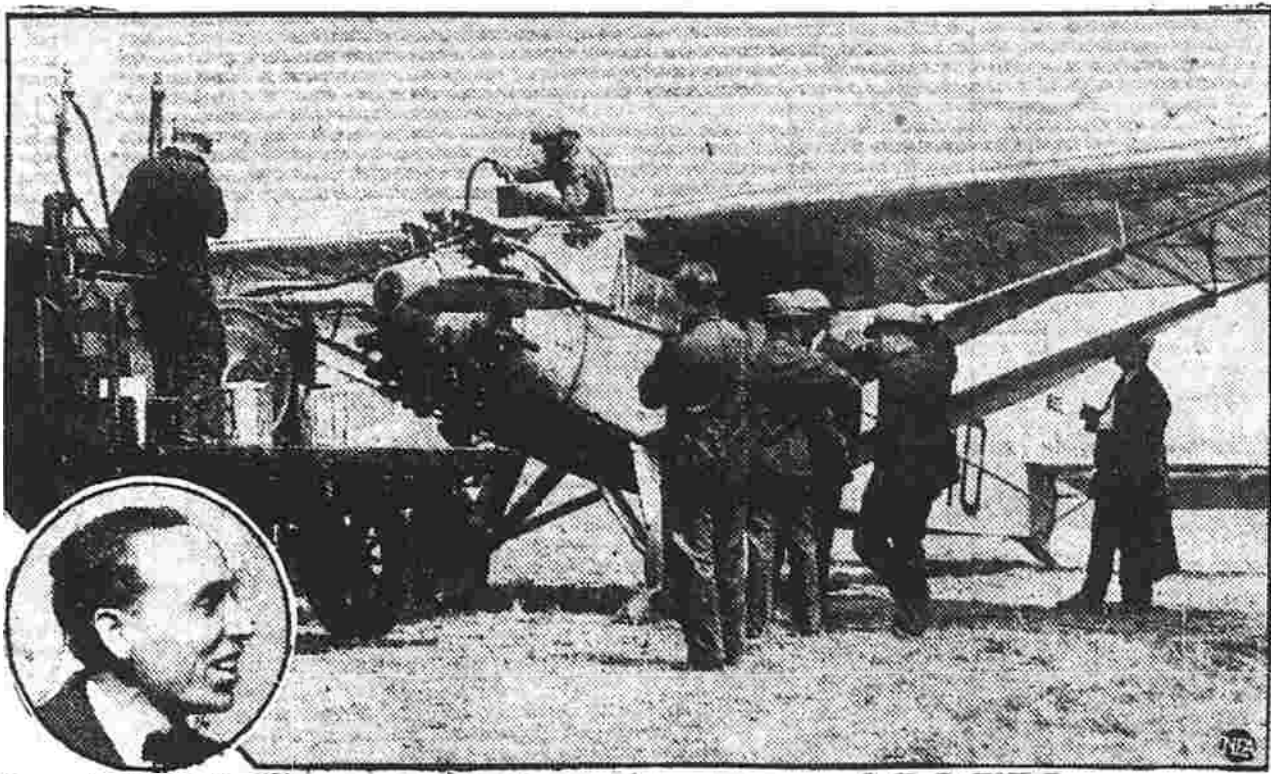

Chicago, June 3.—A demand that immediate relief measures be considered today threatened to split the middle western flood control conference as it swung into the second day of its deliberations over a plan to permanently tame the turbulent Mississippi and its tributaries.

Although the conference was called to consider plans for permanent flood control, a determined group of bankers, supported by delegates from regions hardest hit by the inundation, today were preparing to carry a fight for immediate relief action to the floor of the convention.

Randle T. Moore, Shreveport, La., banker, a leader of the relief forces, declared the victims could not wait for Congressional action. "The disaster facing the people of the flood area cannot be helped six months hence," he said. "It must be considered now or it may be too late."

The 27 states represented at the conference were virtually unanimous in agreeing the problem must be handled by the federal government.

COOLIDGE PLANS LINDY WELCOME

Takes Personal Charge of Arrangements For Reception to Be Held at Capital.

Washington, June 3.—President Coolidge virtually assumed personal charge today of the plans for the national welcome to Captain Charles A. Lindbergh upon his arrival here June 11.

A considerable part of today's Cabinet meeting was given over to discussing arrangements, and later the president summoned the commissioner of the district to the White House for further conference.

Lindbergh will be accorded not only the highest honors of potentates but will be paid the enthusiastic homage of a half-million plain Americans in a wild jubilee. Captain Lindbergh is coming to Washington to meet the President of the United States, but his first great thrill will be a mother's embrace, it was indicated today. If Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, who is deserting her schoolroom in Detroit to meet her famous son, so will, she will be the first to greet him as he steps from the cruiser Memphis here.

To Stay With Coolidges The task of sheltering Mrs. Lindbergh from curious crowds will fall to Mrs. Coolidge, whose guest she will be at the temporary White House. Mrs. Lindbergh, it was said, may either board the Memphis down the river, greet her son at the President's dock in the Washington Navy Yard or join the President and Mrs. Coolidge at Washington Monument where Captain Lindbergh and the president will meet.

Blasphemy of criticism which the transfer of Captain Lindbergh's reception from New York to Washington has evoked in some quarters, the Cabinet and citizens committees have doubted their efforts to make the welcome the greatest in Washington's history.

BLAST BLOWS MAN OUT OF A WINDOW

Hartford Man In Serious Condition In Waterbury Hospital—Still Explodes.

Waterbury, Conn., June 3.—Arthur Miller of Hartford was blown through a fourth story window at 1694 North Main street this afternoon by an explosion of what police afterward said was a 250 gallon still, and is in St. Mary's hospital in serious condition suffering from burns and shock.

Police were given the number of an automobile which sped away from the front of the house as the explosion occurred and they are communicating with Hartford to determine the owner.

Adolph Fazio, owner of the building, declared that he had rented the property to some Hartford men three weeks ago, and had been to the police several times expressing his belief that something was wrong. When he said the police paid no attention to his complaint, officials started an investigation.

Miller, who also gave his name as East, said he lived at 81 Love Lane, Hartford, and then said he lived on Windsor avenue. His condition was such that it was believed his mind was wandering.

Washington, June 3.—New credit resources totaling approximately $2,000,000 were made available today for flood reconstruction in Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi.

COUSINS MURDERED IN LONELY FIELD SOUGHT BY POLICE

Bodies of Two Young Girls Found—Had Been Strangled and Shot.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 3.—Search for the slayers of Jennie Monica, 19, and Edith Fonzo, 20, cousins, whose battered bodies were found on a lonely field near Pittsford, Pa., yesterday, today centered on efforts to learn the identities of two youths with whom the girls are believed to have spent Memorial Day.

The girls' bodies, strangled and bullet riddled, were found near the wrecked car of Carmel Marranca, 34, of Pittsford, who contended the machine had been stolen from in front of his home. Marranca's brother, Samuel, 22, who drove the car the day before the bodies were found, is sought.

Police Check Up Police today checked the list of known acquaintances of the two girls, in an effort to learn if they had been seen often in the company of any particular pair.

The girls had apparently been attacked and then choked to death. Bullet wounds in the bodies indicated shots had been fired at close range.

"The car in which they were believed to have been slain, was found nearby, wrecked, with several bullet holes in the sides.

"HATCHET WOMAN" SOUGHT BY POLICE

Assails Mrs. Edith Phelps, Prominent New York Society Woman, In Home.

New York, June 3.—Detectives searching for the mysterious "hatchet woman" who assailed Mrs. Edith Catlin Phelps, socially prominent, were baffled today in their efforts to establish the motive for the attack.

Mrs. Phelps was struck on the head with a hatchet in the doorway of her home by a smiling woman about 35 years old as she delivered a box of flowers. Mrs. Phelps was hit with the blunt end of the hatchet, a light, nickel-steel affair. As she sank into a chair, screaming, the woman struck her again.

Quietly, the mysterious assailant walked out the front door and disappeared. It is believed that an automobile was waiting for her. Failing to find support for any other theory, the police believe the woman was demented.

"GYPSY PAT" SMITH IS SICK IN NORWALK

Former Noted Evangelist Suffering From Overdose of Medicine, Report Says.

Smith was born in a Gypsy camp in Scotland, became converted at an early age and later made world tours as an evangelist. He entered the World War in 1914 and rose to the rank of acting major. CHU'S FORCES FLEE HSUCHOW AFTER DEFEAT

U. S. Marines Are To Go To Peking To Protect the Americans Who Are Residing There.

Shanghai, June 3.—Shantung forces under Chu Yu Pu have evacuated Hsuechow after a sharp battle with the Nationalists, according to dispatches received here from Nanking.

The Shantung armies have withdrawn in the direction of Linching and Yenchow, where they are preparing to defend the Shantung border against invasion.

General Chiang Kai Shek intends to follow up his recent victories and will return to the front on Saturday, where he will take personal command in a drive against Shantung.

Fighting during the past few days has indicated that the Nationalist troops are superior to those Shantung forces they have engaged and unless reinforcements come to the aid of the Shantung armies, it seems very probable that the Nationalists will shortly be in Shantung territory.

U. S. Marines. Reports received here today stated that the United States marines who sailed yesterday for northern China will not take up stations along the Tien-Tsin-Peking railroad as at first reported, but will be stationed in Peking and Tien-Tsin.

Service on the Tien-Tsin-Peking railroad is already threatened with disruption.

The northward movement of the marines is characterized here as entirely precautionary, and it is understood that it is aimed chiefly to protect against mob attacks on Americans, as there is a general feeling that Chiang Kai Shek will take measures to prevent the repetition of the Nanking incidents in Tien-Tsin and Peking if his troops reach those cities.

NOTES ARE TAXABLE U. S. COURT RULES

Hartford Firm Loses Suit to Have $68,000 Paid On Income Refunded.

New Haven, Conn., June 3.—Two suits over federal taxes were decided by Judge Edwin S. Thomas of the United States District Court here today, one in favor of the government and the other in favor of P. Garvan, Inc., of Hartford.

P. Garvan, Inc., asked the Federal Court to order a refund of $68,634 collected as income and excess profits taxes but Judge Thomas refused to do so and gave judgment with costs to Colonel Eaton.

John S. and Thomas F. Garvan, members of the firm, according to Judge Thomas' findings, had taken $650,149 from the firm from 1916 to 1920 and gave notes in return, containing these notes were part of the firm capital stock and not subject to taxes.

Court's Findings Judge Thomas pointed out that the two Garvans had received $200,000 a year salary each in 1916; $300,000 each in 1918, and $500,000 each in 1920. They were allowed $10,000 a year each for expenses and "drew various sums" from the firm at other times, giving notes. Then the judge ruled that the government had a right to collect taxes on these sums.

Trust Co's Case The Union and New Haven Trust company, executor of the estate of Mary Seranton, wanted a refund of $3,026 as an estate tax. Miss Seranton left $59,105 to a New Haven welfare organization doing work among boys. Colonel Eaton taxed this amount and the trust company paid it under protest and brought suit. Judge Thomas ruled that the bequest was not subject to the estate tax and ordered the tax returned to the bank. He also ordered the collector of internal revenue to pay costs of the suit.

MADE HONORARY MEMBER OF THE LAFAYETTE ESCADRILLE, MOST FAMOUS AIR FIGHTING UNITS OF THE WORLD WAR—AMERICAN SAYS IT MEANS MORE TO HIM THAN ANYTHING HE RECEIVED IN EUROPE—REACHES PARIS SAFELY AFTER FLIGHT FROM ENGLAND—FLIES IN FOG—SWEDEN IN PARIS GIVE HIM RECEPTION—U. S. CRUISER READY FOR HOME TRIP TOMORROW.

Paris, June 3.—Captain Charles A. Lindbergh was a boy in short trousers when the World War was being fought, but today he was made an honorary member of the Lafayette Escadrille, one of the most famous air fighting units of the war.

At a luncheon at the International League of Aviators, Dr. Edmund L. Gros, founder of the Lafayette Escadrille, presented Lindbergh with a medal, making him the only honorary member of the Escadrille.

"When you arrived, I heard a French woman say, 'I think it is the spirit of our son coming back to us,'" said Dr. Gros. "You represent the incarnate spirit of all the fliers who died during the war. Had you been old enough we know that you would have been one of the first to offer your life if necessary in France."

Lindbergh's Response "This means more to me than anything I have received in Europe," replied Lindbergh, who appeared greatly moved by the honor paid him. "Few things could mean more than this to me."

"I am leaving tomorrow," said Lindbergh, "but it would be weeks or even months before I left if the choice were left to me. I will take the first opportunity to return to France."

President Harmon of the League gave Lindbergh one of the league's medals to present to President Coolidge.

Lindbergh again asked Captain White, naval attaché at the American embassy, to make further efforts to secure the return of his flying helmet which he lost last week while flying over Paris.

"I'd like to have it before I leave, but if you get it later please send it to me," said Lindbergh who regards this helmet, which he made largely by himself, as a talisman.

When Lindbergh was asked if he postponed his flight from London yesterday because he felt he couldn't make the hop against adverse weather conditions, he replied, "personally I had any doubt at all, but remember—I was borrowing a plane, and as a guest I couldn't leave until my hosts thought it advisable."

Later in the afternoon Lindbergh attended a reception at the Swedish church.

"Your deed belongs to America but Sweden is anxious to have at least a small corner in your heart," said Count Ehren, Swedish minister, welcoming Lindbergh.

Lindbergh's reply declared his intention of visiting Sweden on his next visit to Europe.

NAME PARIS STREET AFTER LINDBERGH

Paris, June 3.—Captain Charles A. Lindbergh may have a Paris street named after him. The newspaper Excelsior today suggested, and a member of the Municipal Council has agreed to propose that the Council rename two Paris streets, calling one Nungesser and Coll and the other "Charles A. Lindbergh."

bergh decided that he ought to land in military ground as he was flying a British plane, so he took off and flew very low over the intervening ground to the military hangars only 500 yards away.

The American flew in a British royal airforce fighting plane that had been placed at his disposal for the trip. He was escorted as far as the channel by British machines, which turned back at that point.

Planes Do Stunts Immediately after Lindbergh's arrival twelve French military airplanes went up and began flying formation stunts in honor of the American.

Lindbergh watched with keen interest the graceful evolutions of the planes above the flying ground, noting the skill of the French pilots. It was a high honor for a civilian flyer, but Lindbergh's courage and skill are such that the French hold him equal to any military aviator.

In the meantime Lindbergh's borrowed plane was being rolled into a military hangar which was immediately locked up so souvenir hunters could not get at it and damage it.

The American airman entered the hangar and it was there that the formal greetings took place.

Welcoming Party In the party that welcomed the young flyer were Farnely Herrick, son of Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France; B. F. Mahoney, president of the Ryan Air Lines, builders of "The Spirit of St. Louis"; a few attaches of the American embassy and some French officials.

An imperial Airways plane—a passenger carrying machine—from Croydon, just outside of London, landed at Le Bourget five minutes after Lindbergh.

One of the passengers, M. Ehrlich, told an interesting story about the flight.

"We followed Lindbergh from Lympne," said M. Ehrlich, "and we were certainly thrilled and entertained by what we saw. When he got out over the English channel he began to do 'stunts' for his own amusement. He looped the loop and went through other evolutions whose names I do not know. But once on the French side of the channel Lindbergh made a straight line for Paris and flew at high speed without any more evolutions."

M. Ehrlich said that fog was encountered all the way from England to the French flying field. He said that from Lympne to Le Bourget Lindbergh flew at an average altitude of 3,000 feet. Elaborate police precautions had been taken to handle a great crowd of men and women but they were not needed. In addition to newspaper reporters and photographers there were only a score or two of civilians, but they made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in numbers.

Lindbergh's baggage, including a hat box and a package, was placed in the American embassy Rolls-Royce and at 10:20 the car departed for Paris bearing Lindbergh, Herrick and Captain White, of the embassy staff. Mahoney followed in another car.

Lindbergh remained secluded in the embassy during the morning but he went to luncheon in the Bois De Boulogne headquarters of the International League of Aviators and again it was demonstrated that the French have not had enough of this young hero for hundreds lined the boys to cheer him.

THE TAKEOFF

London, June 3.—After a "bully" visit to England, Captain Charles Lindbergh hopped off at Kenley airbase at 8:29 o'clock this morning for Paris.

The fog which had prevented the young American from heading for home via Paris Thursday afternoon had lifted over the channel during the night, but conditions over the channel were not so good.

It was decided that Lindbergh should fly as far as Lympne and there land to ascertain channel conditions before trying to hop across the French coast. Lindbergh was accompanied by two Royal Air force escorting machines when he set out in a single-seater flying plane which the British had loaned him for his flight. His departure was in contrast with his arrival at Croydon Flying Field last Sunday evening when a vast multitude surged over the field to greet him, merging his machine. There were only about fifty civilians and 150 members of the air force staff on hand when the youthful American took the air.

Discovery Of "Acoustics Cement" May Abolish Bad Echoes In Halls

Emile Berliner Has New Solution for Old Problem

Washington.—The problem of acoustics, long the bugbear of builders of churches, theaters and concert halls, may at last be solved. Emile Berliner, the inventor who is credited with inventing the microphone which completed the telephone and made radio possible, now claims, after a lifetime study of sound, to have achieved the solution in a form of "acoustics cement."

Emile Berliner at the side of one of his "acoustics cement" panels in a Washington, D. C., auditorium.

The question of hall acoustics has in the past been largely a matter of guesswork for architects. An immense amount has been written on the subject and many scientists have labored diligently to master it, but "air pockets" and "dead spots" have continued to be found in the most carefully designed auditoriums and strange echo effects have driven speakers and musicians to distraction. "A good music hall should be in itself a musical instrument," said Berliner—perhaps wistfully.

HERE'S HOW TO GET BY CUSTOMS OFFICE
 Going Into Canada Easy If You Follow This Advice; Must Get Permit.

Detroit—Getting into Canada is much easier than getting out. But if the following advice is taken there's no trouble even in the latter.

Before a motorist may enter Canada, he must register his automobile and valuables with the American customs authorities at the port of entry, after showing his state license card. He gets a duplicate of the registration card, which must be returned at the port through which he re-enters this country.

Each car owner is permitted to remain in Canada for 90 days, although he gets permission at first for 30 days and must have his permit extended for thirty more days at a time by the nearest customs officer, after getting the certification of an authorized official of a Canadian automobile club.

A permit may be obtained to remain six months, but only on condition of $25 for the automobile and a bond for double the amount of duties for the car and other valuables taken in. The motorist must also get the signature of two Canadian citizens on his bond. All this is returned if he doesn't exceed his limit.

There's a $100 exemption on value of goods bought in Canada, but everything must be declared on the return trip. Not more than 40 cigars or 100 cigarettes may be brought back without payment of duty.

It is a fine blow and a new one has to be bought in Canada, it has to be declared, and a duty paid on it. This, however, is refunded by the customs authorities.

There are liberal allowances for wearing apparel, cameras and hunting equipment, cameras and the like taken into Canada. These are passed free as travelers' baggage.

CHAPLIN SAYS WIFE HAD LOVE AFFAIRS

Suggested Divorce
 When he remonstrated, Chaplin stated, his wife became angered and replied that she did not intend to change her mode of life to please him and suggested that he arrange for a divorce.

At the same time, Chaplin said, his wife asked him "coldly what financial arrangements" he would make with her in the event of a divorce. He assured her, he said, that he would give her all that she was entitled to under the law, without litigation. In this connection Chaplin estimated his fortune at $1,250,000, of which he claimed only $266,932.63 was community property.

Chaplin alleged his wife's divorce suit had stigmatized their elder son, Charles Spencer Jr., who now is 22 months of age. The other Chaplin child, Sidney Earle, 13, thirteen months old, Chaplin seeks the custody of both.

MAN WITH LEPROSY NOW IN BRIDGEPORT
 Doctors to Send Him to Colony In New Orleans—Not Contagious.

Bridgeport, Conn., June 3.—The second case of leprosy in the history of Bridgeport was discovered by health officials here today in Salvatore Di Angelo, forty, of 194 Nichols street, a rubber worker, was examined at the surgical clinic in the welfare building here, for what was first supposed to have been a leg ulcer.

Preparations are now being made to send the man to the leper colony of New Orleans. Di Angelo has a wife and four children who will be permitted to see him once before he leaves the city, either this afternoon or tomorrow.

Di Angelo is being kept in a tent on the grounds of the Englewood hospital and is said to have a most advanced case of the disease. Members of his family and several fellowworkmen were examined for traces of the disease today but none were found.

Dr. William H. Coon, health officer, believes the man has been infected for three or four years but he sees no reason for any alarm inasmuch as the spread of leprosy is not probable in this climate.

SOFT DRINKS FROM "LIMEQUATS" SOON
 Washington—The "limequat," a new citrus fruit developed by the United States Department of Agriculture for culture in the southern part of the country, will soon be found in the public soda fountains as a new source of limeade.

The citrus fruit, on which the thirst quenching depends at present for this zesty drink, are not grown in the United States except in the extreme southern part of Florida, and even there they are often severely injured by frost. The important supply is variable in quality and quantity.

The new type of citrus fruit was originated in 1909 by Walter T. Swingle, department plant breeder, by crossing the West Indian lime with the round kumquat, orange. The kumquat is one of the hardiest of the evergreen citrus fruit trees, and is also highly resistant to some of the diseases affecting the lime and other citrus varieties.

The fruit, however, has little commercial value and is used chiefly for decorative purposes.

The product of this cross, now known as the limequat, carries many of the good traits of both of its ancestors. It is thin-skinned, juicy and resembles the lime in appearance and taste to such an extent that it can scarcely be distinguished from the true lime by an expert.

The tree on which it grows is very hardy and resistant to disease, and has proved adaptable over a wide range of territory. It has withstood temperatures in northern Florida and Alabama as low as 17 degrees without injury.

The limequat is well adapted for making ades, marmalade, preserves and for use in the crystallized form since the rind, like that of the kumquat, is edible.

ROBITUARY
JULIUS A. POND
 Julius A. Pond, 56, of 181 Center street, died at the Memorial hospital yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock following a year's illness.

Mr. Pond was born in Burlington, Conn. He had lived in Manchester for ten years and was a retired wood turner. He was a member of the Center Congregational church. He is survived by a son, Martin A. Pond, 181 Center street; a grandson, Leslie M. Pond, of Durkin street and a great-grandson, Richard N. Pond, of Durkin street.

The funeral will be held at Holman Brothers' Undertaking Parlor at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and burial will be in the West cemetery in Bristol. Rev. Watson Woodruff will officiate.

WIFE DIES, HUSBAND IS HELD FOR MURDER
Woman Shot May 17, Passes Away Today In Norwalk; Daughter Shot, Recovers.

Norwalk, June 3.—A new murder case was entered on police records here today with the death at Norwalk hospital of Mrs. Josephine Vuola, 40, of 84 Harbor avenue. Mrs. Vuola was shot by her husband, Joseph, in their home on May 17, last, and had been under treatment at the hospital ever since.

Vuola who police say was jealous of his wife, shot her several times in the arm as she tried to save her mother, and then shot himself under the jaw. The girl left the hospital several days ago. The man is still there, under guard and out of danger, though a bullet passed through his tongue and entered his temple.

Dr. W. W. Tracey, medical examiner, started an autopsy on the woman's body this morning in an effort to determine the exact cause of death. Pending the autopsy the doctor declared he believed death resulted from a bullet wound in the right lung.

HOSPITAL NOTES

There was no noticeable change in the condition of six-year-old Althea Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kristian Carlson, of 31 Galloway street today at Memorial hospital. She is the little girl, who, with her sister, Josephine, 10, was run over by an automobile while playing near their father's blacksmith shop in Buckland night before last. Alice has a fractured skull and is in a serious condition. Josephine has a broken leg and a broken arm.

Mrs. John F. Tournaud of 24 Pine street was removed to the Memorial hospital yesterday afternoon seriously ill with pneumonia.

ROBBER KILLS WOMAN
 Jackson, Miss., June 3.—Miss Martha Reese, 19, was assaulted and then shot to death and her sister-in-law, Mrs. O. F. Reese was wounded today by an unidentified assailant who broke into their home near here.

The tragedy was discovered by a negro maid, who was awakened by the crying of two children. Mrs. Reese, police said, was shot while lying in bed with her babies.

The robbery apparently was the motive, as a small savings bank was stolen. A negro was believed to be the slayer and violence is feared if he is apprehended.

PITCHER IN HOSPITAL IS HIT BY BASEBALL
 Lawrence, Mass., June 3.—Charles Walsh, 20-year-old pitcher of the Lawrence baseball team of the New England League, was at Lawrence City hospital today with concussion of the brain suffered when he was struck by a pitched ball during a game at Nashua, N. H.

It was a fast ball thrown by "Lefty" Sigman, pitcher of the Nashua team that struck Walsh. He was rendered unconscious but after being revived resumed play. He returned to Lawrence with the team but during the night became violently ill and was removed to the hospital.

Hospital authorities believe he will recover. Walsh's home is in New York City.

STABBED MAN DIES IN BRIDGEPORT HOSPITAL
 Bridgeport, Conn., June 3.—Edward J. Thompson, 45, a factory foreman of 508 Union avenue, died in Bridgeport hospital this afternoon of a stab wound under the heart, alleged to have been inflicted upon him by Fred Peterson, 46, of 443 Hollister avenue.

Thompson was held at the county jail on a charge of first degree murder. The stabbing took place two days ago. The men engaged in an argument over the Spanish-American war and the authenticity of Peterson's claim that he had visited several foreign countries. Peterson claims that Thompson was "heating me up" when Peterson worked a jack knife out of his pocket and stabbed Thompson under the heart.

MEXICO IN MOUING
 Mexico City, June 3.—Thirty days national mourning has been proclaimed throughout Mexico following the death of Senator Calles, wife of the president, in a Los Angeles hospital.

President Calles has been deeply affected by the death and his own health is impaired. Yesterday, although ill with a severe cold, the president sat all day alone in Capultepec castle by the side of a private telegraph wire from Los Angeles receiving frequent reports on his wife's condition. Upon news of the death all government engagements were cancelled.

DOUBLE STEERING ON EUROPEAN CAR

Paris.—Double steering is being used for the first time to regulate stock models of passenger automobiles. The innovation was adopted by a manufacturer at Lyons as a relief from the wheel shimmy.
 Shimmy does not occur when each wheel is steered independently as the condition is brought about when two wheels wobble in unison. Individual wheel wobble is rarely violent and lasts but a brief interval.
 Two main steering levers are provided. The two levers have to move in opposite directions and an inverse movement is obtained by a crank and connecting rod mechanism which allows duplicate control with a single mechanism.
 Other striking features of this car are quadruple transverse suspension and a low chassis line, bringing the floor of the car to the level of the running boards, seven inches from the ground.
 Quadruple transverse suspension is accomplished by four springs which join the chassis across the width instead of along the length of the car in the usual manner.
 The transverse suspension insures ease and comfort for the passengers and makes possible the lowering of the body to the running board line.
 Physicians believe that the carbon dioxide of poorly ventilated rooms, and the carbon monoxide from automobile exhaust have a bad effect on the teeth.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA; P. T. Barnum (20)

Barnum, at 55, despite his reputation as "the Prince of Humbugs," was elected to the Connecticut legislature. During his term he fought railroad efforts to raise commuters' fares. While he was a legislator the museum burned to the ground. A thousands saw the fire, one of the most spectacular New York ever had.

At 60 Barnum decided to retire. He bought a mansion on Fifth avenue and built a country home. But idleness chafed him.

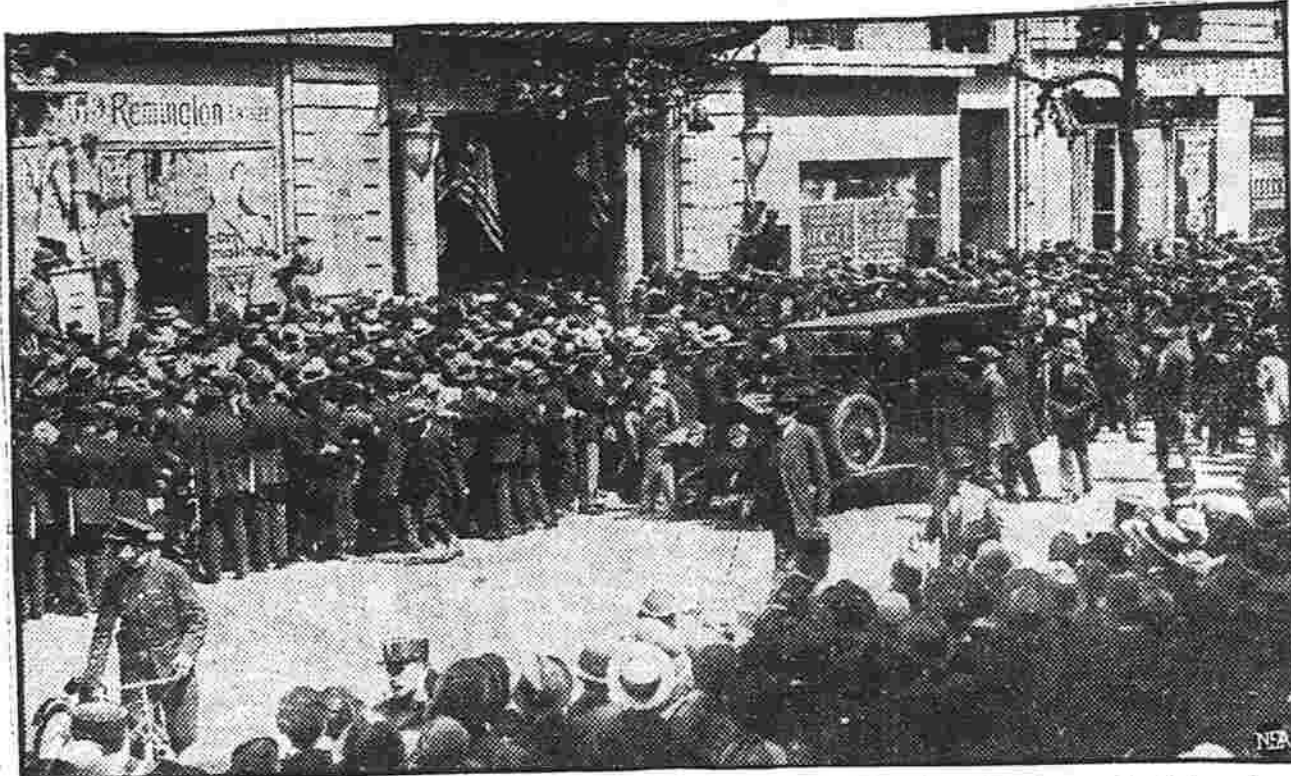

The showman went on another lecture tour. Meeting Brigham Young he jokingly offered him $200,000 if the Mormon leader would exhibit himself.

In 1870 Barnum embarked upon the venture that was to carry his name into every household in the world—the circus. With two showmen of experience, W. C. Coup and Dan Costello, Barnum opened "The Greatest Show on Earth" at Brooklyn, April 10, 1871. A giraffe and some "Fiji Cannibals" were stars of the cast. The show profited and grew.

'Twas A Rough Day For Gendarmes

Lindbergh brought joy to everyone in Paris but to the police he also brought lots of worries. Whenever he went abroad they had their hands full controlling the crowds which turned out to get a glimpse of him. Here's a throng typifying the woes of the gendarmes, who are struggling to save Lindy from a mobbing as he arrives at the American Club.

ENGLAND DOES $250,000,000 TO ITS UNEMPLOYED

Out-of-Work Insurance Is Seen as Growing Evil By Ministry of Labor.

London.—The alarming manner in which the system of providing unemployment insurance for persons out-of-work commonly known as "the dole" in England is seeping into the national life of Great Britain is reflected in the annual returns of the Ministry of Labor, which reveal that $250,000,000 was paid out in this way during 1926.

This figure is $25,000,000 more than the sum disbursed in 1925, and the increase is attributed to the trade depression due to the general strike and its aftermath.

Effect of Strike.—According to the Ministry's official returns, the average number of persons given relief was about 1,046,000 weekly, and the average payment per head was $3.50-$4.00. In the earlier part of 1926, the year under review, unemployment fell steadily week by week, says the return. Then came the tragic general strike, and the unemployment figure jumped up to 1,105,000.

816, "exclusive of persons who ceased work on account of the general strike and the coal dispute. It continued to rise up to the first week of July, when it was 1,645,000. Thereafter it dropped slightly, but at the end of the third week in November the figure was still well over 1,500,000, and even at the end of the year it was 1,351,000."

The effect of the increase of disbursements to unemployed was to send of the debt of the fund established for the purpose of providing benefits from $35,000,000 to $110,000,000.

Revision of Feeling.—The publication of these figures will likely cause another revision of national feeling against the payment of money to unemployed, it being charged that many persons receiving benefits do not attempt to look for work while they can obtain money for nothing. In some districts of London, for instance, a man with a wife and four children can receive as much as $20 weekly while he is out of work in unemployment benefits and local assistance.

One suggestion is that unemployed persons should be compelled to do State work, such as felling trees and maintaining roads, or show that they are willing to work before they can obtain benefits. Whatever happens, there is little doubt that the whole system will be tightened up.

AMERICAN KILLED.

Washington, June 3.—An American named Arthur Brewer was shot and killed yesterday in Guadalupe, Mexico, according to a dispatch to the State Department today from D. G. Dwyer, the American consul there.

CHEMISTS STUDY SYNTHETIC RUBBER

Urbana, Ill.—The future rubber supply may be a synthetic product produced in chemical laboratories. Dr. Roger Adams, head of the University of Illinois chemistry department, looks to petroleum to furnish the necessary ingredient for synthetic rubber.

"Rubber has already been made synthetically," Dr. Adams says, "and the types of raw material necessary are well known. The serious problem is to find a source of this new material which is cheap enough to make possible competition of synthetic rubber with the natural. Petroleum offers a possibility."

"When the high-boiling petroleum is cracked, in order to obtain low-boiling fractions which can be used as gasoline in internal combustion engines, there are contained in these low fractions butadiene and its derivatives, the type of compounds which have been shown to be convertible into synthetic rubber.

"It remains for the scientist to find how the yield of these butadienes may be increased and how they may be economically removed from the closely related products which accompany them."

"When this difficult problem is solved, synthetic rubber will not be far off. Suppose that a 5 per cent yield of butadienes might be obtained by a proper cracking and extraction process. On this basis, and assuming that the butadienes might be converted quantitatively into synthetic rubber (a goal which, to be sure, has not yet been reached), it would require the cracking of 52 million barrels of petroleum to provide the necessary butadienes for forming four billion pounds of rubber."

FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1927.

SACCO-VANZETTI.

It would seem that when Governor Alvan Fuller of Massachusetts, some two weeks ago, announced that he was not going to appoint a commission of inquiry in the Sacco-Vanzetti case, he must have meant some particular kind of commission or else he was never correctly quoted.

LINDBERGH MISSION. It has been rather seriously proposed that the United States government retain Charles Lindbergh and send him on a flight around the world as its special plenipotentiary bearing a message of friendship to all peoples everywhere.

BANKING. In a short article in the Financial Digest, Connecticut State Bank Commissioner John E. Byrne applauds the ability and integrity as well as the sagacious conservatism of the bankers of this state and accredits Connecticut banking methods with a considerable part of the success of the state's industries.

"GREATER HARTFORD." The plan to create a legal "metropolitan district" of Hartford appears to be regarded with exceeding cynicism by those outlying towns which the Capitol City would fain take under its wing.

LITTLE TO FEAR. There is not the slightest obvious reason for concern in this country on account of the removal of several regiments of American Marines from Shanghai to Tien-Tsin. The latter city is of highly strategic importance as a rallying spot for potential fugitive foreigners.

TICKET FAKERS. If the federal authorities can find that New York brokers in theater tickets have been ducking their income taxes, and can make them sweat for it, well and good.

WASHINGTON LETTER. Washington, June 3.—The scope of "Coolidge economy" has perhaps only begun to be realized. The president's policies of thrift are effectively aided by the fact that no one likes to dun him for a bill.

WASHINGTON LETTER. The Senate postoffice doesn't admit that it still has that cent coming from the president, but the fact is learned on unimpeachable authority, and if one of the officers were to take the penny from his own pocket and throw it into the sea, it would be illegal or something.

ing their nationals. It is there that the North China foreigners will be concentrated. Since all pretense has been abandoned, even by the stubborn Shanghai Chamber of Commerce, that there is the slightest further danger to foreigners at the hands of the Cantonese who now control the Shanghai region, and since any peril that may transpire is likely to arise from the defeated Northern soldiers—who are largely Manchus and bitter against everybody and everything in China—it is the most natural thing in the world for Washington to shift its Marines from a point where there is no longer any danger to one where there might be some.

power and the stirring up of righteous indignation over the mere fact that the brokers can soak a sucker $20 for a $3 ticket without batting an eye seems to us to be an unreasonable waste of energy. It is our private belief that an individual who will pay $20 for a $3 show ticket ought to be encouraged to pay $20 for a $3 show ticket.

There are sucker games and sucker games. Some of them are very, very mean, because they get meagre money of poor people by tempting them with the bait of relief from poverty; some of them are mean without being quite so mean as the robber of the widow and the orphan.

No one has ever thought of blaming the lion for the decapitation of the individual who pried the beast's jaws open in order to thrust his head in its mouth. He didn't have to do it.

CHICAGO TEACHES

ERRING MOTORISTS

Chicago.—A system of "safety schools," where motorists violating minor traffic regulations are lectured, is spreading through Chicago. The system was inaugurated on the west side and since its inception 20,000 reckless motorists have been lectured at a loss of fines estimated at $75,000.

The north side parks have adopted this plan that has worked successfully on the west side, and it is believed that schools may soon be held in all parts of the city.

The idea of education to supplant the "rod" has found favor with motorists themselves. The lectures are delivered by members of the traffic commission and are instructive and interesting.

Often a class has 500 members. Motorists learn the reason why various traffic ordinances are passed and have a chance to ask questions.

RADIO BRIDGE TO BE RESUMED NEXT FALL

Cincinnati—So successful has been the series of bridge hands broadcast last season from WEA-F and its chain of stations, that its sponsors are already planning for a renewal of this feature next fall.

Two years ago when the feature was suggested many said it could not be done that it was impossible to have bridge games broadcast in such a way as to carry interest for a half hour period once a week. Today it has vindicated itself as one of the few leading features on the air.

That this is so is proven by the thousands of fans who have written in to WSAI, at Cincinnati, asking for reprints of the games broadcast. This station has the record of 125,000 such requests during the past season.

Yet, besides this station, there were WEA-F and 48 other large broadcasters who gave a half hour each week to this feature. These were scattered throughout the United States and Canada. The plan of broadcasting the bridge games was worked out in detail two years ago. The committee in charge of the feature are John Omwake, Arthur R. Morgan and C. E. Albert of Cincinnati. Milton C. Work famous authorities on the game, appeared at every performance, the two others selected at each game from among the leading players of cities throughout America and Canada. This system will be followed again when the series is resumed in September.

TIME not WORDS proves a tire's value

EVERY NEW TIRE LOOKS GOOD.

Dunlops not only look good, but they make good—over rocks and gravel, and ruts and sand.

Thirty-nine years of experience has shown Dunlop how to design a tread that gives maximum traction and slow, smooth wear.

This Dunlop tread is the toughest development of rubber known. And this same tough tread-rubber is carried clear around the sidewall to give maximum protection against rut wear.

You get the full benefit of all this extra tread-mileage because each Dunlop is built with the famous trouble-free cable-twist Dunlop carcass, to provide the high-strength and elasticity so vital to long tire life.

Eastern League Teams To Play Here

Hartford Club Rents McKee Street Stadium For Week-End Contests

Will Play Saturday and Sunday Home Games Here Until New Park Is Completed; Many Double-headers Expected; Providence Grays Play In Twinbill Here Sunday; Will Awaken Interest In Sport In Manchester.

BY THE SPORTS EDITOR

Arrangements were completed today whereby the Hartford club of the Eastern League will play week-end games at the McKee street stadium until such time as the new park is ready for use at Clarkin Field in Hartford. It is expected that the Hartford team will play in Manchester for approximately six week-ends. Many of the attractions will be double-headers and the first games will be staged Sunday afternoon when the Providence Grays come here for a twin-bill.

The news that Manchester is going to have Eastern League baseball games will no doubt be read with great interest. For several years, Manchester has been gradually falling insofar as first-class sport attractions are concerned. The appearance of the Eastern League teams here will no doubt prove a magnet that will attract through to the field and the stands. Came Here Yesterday.

Fred L. Sullivan, secretary of the Hartford club and Jack O'Hara, another representative of the club were in Manchester late yesterday afternoon and consulted with Executive Secretary John L. Jenney of Cheney Brothers Athletic Association and G. S. Bohlin, who has charge of Cheney Brothers' rents. The Hartford men were referred to U. J. Lupien, head of the Service Department and later agreement were reached for rental of the stadium until such time as the new ball park in Hartford is ready.

Mr. Sullivan informed the writer last night that the Hartford club would play its regular Saturday and Sunday games here and the week-end home games at Trinfield, Hartford has 18 double-headers to play off the present time which means that in all probability Manchester will get several of the twin-bills. The new park is not expected to be ready until the middle of July. It is understood that there has been a delay in the arrival of the steel structure for the new grandstands which will make it impossible to play there until that time.

"A Losing Proposition." The McKee street stadium has been more or less idle since the Manchester team disbanded a few years ago and has been a losing proposition. It is known that Cheney Brothers have considered selling the property and plan to dispose of it eventually. Renting the field to the Hartford club, will be the first real income it has netted since Cheney Brothers in some time. During the past two years, nothing except high school games have been played there to speak of.

The seating capacity of the stadium at present is about 1,200 but Secretary Sullivan, who has charge of this, together with the large number that can watch the games in automobiles will be sufficient for the present. However, if the attendance warrants it, additional bleachers will be erected. The field is located at a distance of less than five minutes' walk from the trolley station and both main highways to Hartford pass close to the field. Center street and the Silver Lane route. The Connecticut Company will run extra cars from Hartford to accommodate the large crowds which are expected to watch the games. Many fans are also expected to come from Rockville and other nearby towns. Hartford fans are expected to attend the games here than have been following their team to Waterbury.

Has Lost Heavily. One of the reasons why the Hartford club decided to play in Manchester was because it has lost on an average of $100 a game since it went on the road after the former field was destroyed by fire. Then, too, the local stadium is one of the best ball parks in the state, having none. Many have expressed the opinion that even Babe Ruth could not drive a ball over the fence in centerfield. It is much longer than Clarkin field.

Will Hurt Locals. It is possible that the invasion of Manchester by the Eastern League clubs will deal a heavy blow to semi-pro baseball here. It may mean that the Community club will decide to abandon Sunday games. Otherwise, it will not affect Manchester sports and will no doubt stimulate much more interest in the national pastime in town. Fans who have stopped attending games, may be tempted to go to the sports with their families over the week-end.

Will be Attended. Hundreds of Manchester boys and girls under twelve years of age will probably see the games as the admission for them will be but fifteen cents. Adults will be charged seventy-five cents. This is a real bargain considering that two games will be offered on many of the bills. Hartford is at present perched in last place in the league but has lost but five more games than the league leader, Albany, who beat Hartford yesterday, 7 to 6. The Hartford team has been losing some tough games and it is possible that the stadium may erase the jinx that is pursuing them.

S. M. H. S. Defeats Meriden High 9-4

Locals Pound Out 14 Hits and Play Errorless Ball; Go To Willimantic Tomorrow; Three More League Games.

Playing errorless ball for the first time this season in addition to having Johnny Deming's off-springs for thirteen lusty bingles, Manchester High romped to a well-deserved victory over Meriden High yesterday afternoon at the McKee street stadium. "Scottie" Wiley was the star, striking out legions of batters by allowing the visitors nine hits, retiring eight on strikes and passing only four batters. He got away to rather a poor start but finished brilliantly. Meriden took the lead in the second inning and slammed its way to a 4 to 1 lead in the fifth. Strange to say, however, all of the Meriden tallies could have been prevented by better headwork on the part of the Manchester team although not a single error was chalked up against them. Meriden got a run in the second when Shaw, who had doubled, rode home on a short single to center by Sprafke. Holland came in fast and had been able to get the ball cleanly on the pickup. Shaw would have been an easy out at the plate. Manchester tied the score in its half when Wendle singled and Foley scored on Lupien's one-base drive to left. Meriden got another run in the third when Marcantonio tripled to right and came home on a foul sacrifice fly to left. Had Lupien not caught the ball, the runner would have scored for the next three hitters were easy outs. In the fifth, Meriden scored twice more and matters began to look rather gloomy for the home team. Two outs, Marcantonio and Filipek, both of whom had drawn passes, scored when Foley and Holland led Deming's high fly drop between them owing to a misunderstanding. That's that for Meriden, now for Manchester. With a 4 to 1 lead starting them in the face, Coach Tommy Kelley's charges began immediately to wage an uphill fight. In Manchester's half of the fifth, Lupien, Boggini and Foley reached out singles and Ernie Dowd reached first on a fielder's choice. Two runs scored. In the next inning, Kerr was safe on Filipek's error.

MAY NOT RUN AMATEUR BOUTS HERE AGAIN UNTIL NEXT FALL

The Herald learned today that why the outdoor shows may not be there is a strong possibility Cheney Brothers' Athletic Association will decide to abandon its plan to stage amateur boxing tournaments at the McKee street stadium this summer and not run any more shows until the indoor season next fall. While no such definite action has been taken, Promoter Jack Jenney said that he expected it would be voted at a meeting of the directors next Monday night. Considerable expense would have to be shared before the stadium could be put in proper shape for the outdoor shows and there are other handicaps which make it a gamble whether or not the outdoor tournaments would be a financial success. When the amateur season was first started here, large crowds turned out but the attendance at the last few tournaments has not been so large. In fact the last two tournaments have resulted in a loss. This, however, is not the reason all can cooperate with Cheney Brothers, who has his only statement. The high school is scheduled to play Middletown High here next Saturday and in Middletown on that week Thursday. If the teams were to play in Middletown Saturday and here Thursday, or if Manchester used the West Side field, it would straighten out matters. Principal C. P. Quimby however, stated that he was confident arrangements could be made so that Hartford could use the field.

Latoz Shows Up a Slight Favorite In His Fight With Dundee Tonight

Walsh Thinks Both Are Lucky That They Have Not Ace Hudkins As An Opponent This Evening.

By DAVIS J. WALSH

I. N. S. Sports Editor.

New York, June 3.—In the polite, drawing room atmosphere that is modern boxing, will be born tonight a stepchild. It has been bequeathed some of the wayward tendencies of an older and less formal day when a fighter was a man who might have to prove it on the nearest corner as well as inside the ropes; when intrigue and the prize ring were twin.

Tonight at the Polo Grounds, Pete Latoz, of Scranton, Pa., will defend his world's welterweight championship against Joe Dundee, of Baltimore, and in order to circumvent dirty work at the crossroads, if at all, the utmost precaution has been taken to keep the challenger in cloistered seclusion. He has become a man completely surrounded by flat feet and is so intimately that Baltimore plainclothes men will stand guard over him at the ringside. It seems that parties unknown, alike to Latoz and Dundee, have declared eternal vendetta on the challenger's camp.

Carved Manager. They set upon Dundee's manager, Max Waxman, in a Broadway hotel some weeks ago, carved a few choice cold cuts and withdrew, leaving Waxman with his life and the impression that his popularity might not be universal.

As a result of the incident, a cordon of guards was thrown about Dundee's training camp and the New York Commission was moved to waive a rule whereby it usually demanded that a man involved in a title fight must appear on the scene at least five days in advance of the contest. Dundee did not arrive from Baltimore until last night and lost no time in making himself highly inconspicuous. As for Waxman, he may turn up absent altogether.

Just a Fight. Aside from these morbid details, it is likely to be just another prize fight with the possibility that the challenger will be favored at going time. He has several things in his favor and probably one of them is the fact that he is not to meet Ace Hudkins. The Nebraska almost surely would enter the ring an odds-on favorite over either champion or challenger tonight.

As it is, most of the intelligentsia seem to be convinced that Latoz is not a natural welterweight and that a new champion is due. Pete hasn't made the official weight of 145 pounds in nearly a year but he will have to do it this afternoon at two o'clock, under pain of forfeiting the title. He needed only a drying out last night to come in at the limit. Doubt as to whether he can be strong at the weight has prompted the majority of critics to swing over to Dundee's camp and, in this connection, it must be admitted that, if Latoz's reducing has weakened him, then the distance of fifteen rounds must favor Dundee also.

Slow Starter. It favors him in another respect, too. Known as a slow starter, he has made his best fights in the late round rallies and that sort of thing usually captures the judges' eye. However, it may be that the judges won't matter. Dundee has a notoriously fragile chin, as he proved in both fights with Eddie Roberts. If the latter had had more experience, Dundee never would have finished the fourth round of their last fight and Robert's night would have been sitting in the challenger's chair tonight.

Latoz is an excellent puncher and probably will start punching at the outset from the opening bell. If he lands—good night, Tosti. If he doesn't, it is likely to be quite a fight, anyhow; for Latoz is one of those birds who likes to fool the boys. He even may be fooling them about his weight, since he rated 157 pounds for Willie Harmon last year and a short time later did 147 for George Mevine. He won both bouts by a knockout.

The pro-Dundee element, however, wants to throw everything out except the fights this pair has had with Mickey Walker. Latoz pulled out a close one over Walker for the title in ten rounds, a month later, Dundee stopped Mickey in seven rounds. However, Dundee knew Walker was through and conducted himself accordingly. Another thing; Latoz would be fighting him for the title and couldn't afford to take chances. If he in all, it should be quite a contest, with Dundee entitled to a slight edge on form.

CY SETTING PACE IN THE NATIONALS Old Circuit Clouter Of Phillies Hitting Pill Hard At Present.

New York, June 3.—The venerable Cy Williams, perennial circuit clouter of the Phillies, is setting the pace in the National League home run race today with ten four-base smashes. This stuff, turned in a two-hour-old veteran is all the more remarkable when it is taken into account he bats only against right-handers. If Cy were in the lineup every day he might be running neck and neck with the great Ruth in the home-run Marathon.

Cy's homer with two on gave the Phils their only scores against the Pirates yesterday and they lost seven to six, getting but five hits off Carmen Hill.

Dutch Reuther of the Yankees, who was erroneously reported to be losing his stuff, turned in a two-hit masterpiece against the Tigers, winning two to nothing. It was his third shutout of the season.

Ninth Victory. Ted Lyons won his ninth victory of the season as the White Sox put the bee on Boston, seven to two. The Sox are now traveling faster than scandal at a sewing circle having copped nine of their last eleven games.

A young fellow named Tris Speaker was given a tryout at first base on the Washington team and he made such a favorable impression that it is believed he will be retained by the club. He handled twelve chances without a slip and helped engineer five double plays.

The Senators won from the Browns in a romp, eleven to two. The Indians handed Sammy Gray of the Athletics a merry pasting but Joe Pate, his successor, stood for very little nonsense and the Athletics slugged their way to an eight to four triumph.

Lindstrom, Harper and Hornsby of the Giants swung a wicked Shilalah against the Reds, each contributing four hits. The Giants won out in the twelfth, five to four.

Umpire Hart pulled a new wrinkle by spiking Hornsby when the Giants captain slid into third. Hornsby's left hand was severely lacerated but he said he would play today.

OAKS AGAIN WIN FROM HILLIARDS

The Oaks baseball team again took the measure of the Hilliard St. team in the Junior Baseball League race, on the North End playground Tuesday night, 9-7. The Oaks started an early assault but the Hilliard team held them in check till after the third inning. With the score seven to five in that frame, with one more run in the fourth and one in the sixth, the Oaks succeeded in maintaining the advantage to win the game. The Hilliard aggregation overcame the oak's lead, however.

The Hilliard team would without doubt be one of the real contenders in the league if it played ball more seriously. Piddler pitched a superb game for the losers but his teammates failed to support him in the pinches, as was the case in the last time these two teams faced each other. Errors was another reason for this team not coming through for a victory. With a change in lineup and real organization, the Hilliard cohorts may set upset the aspiration of the Oaks.

Tanner of the Oaks made a circuit clout and Dells and Myers got doubles.

Oaks 550 101 1-10 Hilliard 113 001 2-9 The Polish A. C. Baseball team won by forfeit from the Warriors on Decoration Day in the Junior league baseball.

STATE HAS EAGLE EYE FOR AUTO ACCIDENTS

Uses Every Source Possible to Get Information—News-pap-er Clippings Valuable.

Every available source of information is utilized by the state motor vehicle department to get a record of all reportable motor vehicle accidents that happen in Connecticut or involve Connecticut operators or registrants. Vigilance is maintained at all times to prevent the escape from the department of information about any accident in which personal injury, or property damage in excess of ten dollars resulted.

One effect of the watch kept is to obviate unintentional discrimination against the conscientious and law-abiding automobilists who voluntarily report such accidents as required by law—and render themselves liable to law and regulations applicable only to those who have had such accidents.

The fact that the department finds it necessary to suspend about 1523 operators a year for failure to report accidents indicates to the proportion is not large when it is considered that there are 294,000 operators licensed in the state and about 24,000 accidents in a year. Firemen said woodwork inside the house had been sprinkled with gasoline or kerosene and the structure had apparently been set afire. The loss was estimated by police at $50,000.

Ex-Buck PRIVATE goes back to FRANCE by PAUL ADAMS

Modern Fismes holds plenty of memories, but few familiar scenes for the doughboys who captured it in 1918, after repeated French drives had failed.

Editor's Note—This is Chapter 17 in the series written by a former doughboy who is revisiting France as a correspondent for The Herald.

CHAPTER XLVII

It's the incongruity that's disturbing—to hear or see the name of a city or village made enduringly famous by an American little endeavor used in the ordinary matter-of-fact routine of everyday peace-time existence.

At Soissons, one may take a train for Rheims at 7:05 p. m., due to arrive at 9:03. A string of tiny coaches is pulled up by a fizzing engine—this engine with its stern facing its mission of the night. It's a local train—a "peddler," and it shrieks along through the cool air of evening, stopping at every crossroads town. Then comes a twinkling of lights, a grinding of brakes, and the shout of the conductor:

"Everybody out!"
 "Fismes—Fismes! Tout le monde descende!"
 "Think of it!"
 "Fismes! Fismes! Everybody out!"
 The conductor is correct. Between the tracks along the platform a gas light flickers and its rays illumine a huge sign of white letters on a blue background:

WAPPING

Mrs. Ellen West of Ellington passed away at her home after a long illness. She was 82 years of age, and was the oldest living member of the Congregational church there, having united with the church over 60 years ago. She leaves two sons, Hibbard West of Tolland and George West of this town, and a daughter, Mrs. William Rewe of Ellington, with whom she made her home. There were 9 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren. The funeral was held from her late home this afternoon at two o'clock.

Miss Lila Graham had as her guests over the week-end and Memorial Day, her friend, Miss Mary Morrison of Laurel Park Heights.

Alexander Burger, Jr., who joined the U. S. Marine corps is now located at Christobol Canal Zone.

Miss S. Elizabeth Barber and Mr.

on to Rheims. Soissons! The last stronghold of the Romans to be wrested away by the ancient Gauls—the city from which the Germans were driven by the First and Second Divisions in the torrid days of July, 1918.

Rheims! With its shattered cathedral and its Roman road running out through Pertheles-Hurlus and the scene of that gallant struggle for the possession of Blanc Mont!

Broke Merne Sallient And Fismes—Fismes—"Fismes," it was pronounced by the American doughboys. From the heights of the Vesle the Germans crushed attempt after attempt to take the town in 1918. Machine guns rattled. Men died—men from Wisconsin, Michigan and Pennsylvania. Then the town was captured and the Merne saller was reduced.

A sacred word! A name to be thought of only in reverence and awe. That's why the incongruity is disturbing. To think that at Fismes you change cars on the 7:05 train out of Soissons for Rheims!
 "Fismes! Fismes! Everybody out!"
 Somehow, it just isn't right.

TOMORROW: The Lost Battalion.

"BROADWAY NIGHTS" SHOWS HERE TODAY

Co-Featured With "Whispering Wires" at State—Lois Wilson, Anita Stewart, Star.

The gayest and saddest aspects of the Great White Way are portrayed realistically in "Broadway Nights," the Lois Wilson-Sam Hardy production, which is at the State theater tonight and tomorrow. Heartaches, sorrows and joys follow each other in a jumble that seems never to end.

The difficult problem of choosing between her husband and a career confronts Lois Wilson in this picture.

How a shrinking amateur night performer became the toast of Broadway, only to lose her husband and then regain him after a series of extraordinary events form the plot for this jazz filled picture made by Robert Kane, with Joseph Boyle directing and Ernest Haller acting as chief cinematographer. Sam Hardy, Louis John Bartels, Barbara Stanwick, Phillip Strange and June Collyer head the supporting cast.

On the same program is Anita Stewart in "Whispering Wires," a mysterious combination of crooks, radio thievery and detective work with the aid of modern inventions. It is a well screened picture and exceedingly well acted.

Colleen Moore appears in a new role in her two-day run at the State beginning on Sunday. She is the telephone girl who rises to a position of affluence and wealth through an "angel" who backs her. The picture is "Orchids and Ermine" and is said to be the best that Miss Moore has done yet. Jack Mulhall is the co-star with Miss Moore and portrays the bashful millionaire.

It is the first time Mulhall has ever done this sort of a character but he has worked wonders in his first chance at it.

Mrs. Ernest Strong and little daughter of Hartford spent Memorial Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Collins.

Miss Marjorie Hills entertained her friend, Miss Mary Stevens of South Manchester over the weekend and Memorial Day.

Mrs. Frank C. Stoddard of this place has been spending a few days with friends in Simsbury.

Mrs. Isabelle Shea and little daughter, Beverly, are spending some time at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Graham.

Mrs. Edward Nevers of Manchester, spent Memorial Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nevers.

Mrs. Marion F. Pierce of Foster street has recently purchased a new Whippet coach.

Miss Ruth Nevers entertained her school friend Miss Lillian McBride of South Manchester recently.

THE TINYMITES STORY BY HAL COCHRAN - PICTURES BY KNICK

(Read the Story, Then Color the Picture) A great commotion now took place. Of Clowzy, they could find no trace. He'd fallen in the water and had not come up as yet. "What can we do?" was Coppy said. "This stream is over Clowzy's head. If there are sharks within it, one has got him now. I'll bet." "This makes me feel just awful bad. Just think of all the fun we've had, and now it has to end like this," wailed Coppy to the bunch. But Scooty said, "Don't lose hope yet. He'll still come up all right. I'll bet. King Roar will come and rescue him. At least that is my lunch." Just then the water bubbled high. A spray shot upwards toward the sky. The Tinymites were startled and they all looked on with awe. "Was misty now, as it could be. So much so they could hardly see. But soon it cleared and they were mighty cheered by what they saw. Old King Roar rose up from the stream just like a story or a dream.

SENSE and NONSENSE

One Subject—Two Viewpoints—Eleven-Cent Cotton and 40 Cent Meat Mrs. S. C. Ford, Frisco, Texas. Eleven-cent cotton and forty-cent meat! How in the world can a poor man eat? Flour up high-cotton down low—Our clothes work out-shoes run down— Old slouch hat with a hole in the crown— Backs nearly broken-fingers all sore— Cotton going down to rise no more. Eleven-cent cotton and ten dollar pants— Who in the world has got a chance? We can't buy clothes—we can't buy meat! Got too much cotton and nothing to eat. We've got no homes—got no wealth— Losing our credit-ruining our health! Can't help each other. What shall we do? I can't solve the problem—so it's up to you.

Eleven-cent cotton and too much tax— The load's too heavy for our poor backs— We're a good set of farmers—we all know well— But there's something wrong as sure as... well! We all worked hard—we groaned and we sweat— Now we are ruined—we are a blowed-up set. No use talking—any man's beat With eleven-cent cotton and forty-cent meat. The Problem Solved W. E. Lewis, Celeste, Texas. It appears to me to diversify Would be a sane and easy way To bring about a better day. With butter at fifty cents a pound. And cream at forty the whole year 'round. With turkeys high and going higher Is enough to kindle a great desire To raise more birds and little less h... In a land where opportunities dwell. If we'd give more time to the dairy cow And a better feed to the old brood sow— We'd not worry about the price of meat— For we'd have plenty ourselves to eat. With fifty cents eggs and a six bit hen, Why, oh, why will the children of men Ruin their fingers and break their backs. Picking eleven-cent cotton and dragging a sack? With corn in the crib and chickens in the yard. With meat in the smokehouse and tubful of lard. With cream in the pitcher and honey in the mug. With butter on the table and 'lasses in the jug. Things to you won't seem so high. For you'll be selling won't have to buy.

REC LOOTERS CAUGHT WITHIN FOUR HOURS

Boys Who Broke Into Lockers Confess Depredation When Grilled By Police.

Less than four hours after they had pried into several lockers in the School street Recreation Center yesterday noon and stolen baseball goods valued at nearly $50, two students at the State Trade school were caught and the stolen goods recovered. Both are Manchester boys. They confessed, police said. Both are under age and they were turned over to Probation Officer Edward Elliott. Their case may be heard in the juvenile court.

The boys, one sixteen years old and the other fifteen, went to the Rec yesterday morning, obtaining towels at the office, with the pretense they were going to take shower baths. They pried the tops of six of the ten lockers allotted to the High school baseball players and took a valuable sweater owned by Coach Thomas Kelley, a pair of new spike shoes and a new glove owned by "Ding" Farr, a new glove owned by "Ab" Lupien and other articles of lesser importance. They hid their loot under other lockers.

The discovery was not made until the baseball players came to the Rec to dress for the Meriden game shortly after 2 o'clock. Police were notified and Chief Samuel G. Gordon assigned Patrolman John McGinn to investigate. It was discovered that the two boys had left their names at the office as is the custom when a member is given a towel. When first questioned, the suspects denied all guilt but after being questioned by the officer and Director A. A. Warren, they admitted their guilt and revealed where they had hidden the loot.

Civil Case Mock Trial to Be Staged By Students at Next Friday Assembly.

These dresses were purchased by Miss Sargent and Mr. Anderson in New York this week. There is a little story to it:

By accident they found a manufacturer from whom Mr. Anderson used to purchase tailored shirt waists twelve years ago. He was noted for the care with which he inspected every waist. Many women in Manchester will remember those beautiful heavy crepe waists which we carried.

Times have changed! This manufacturer has changed over his entire plant and is now specializing in silk dresses. Every frock is exquisitely made and is washable. They can be had in the following materials:

Lindbergh Stripes
Plain Tailored Crepes
Sport Satins
Tailored Radiums
and best of all "Utility With Style"
THEY WILL WASH

Washable Features

This manufacturer assured us that every dress is absolutely guaranteed. They can be washed with complete satisfaction.

Very Low Price for Such Quality Dresses

Some of the silk was sold to this manufacturer at one-half the manufacturer's cost which has enabled him to produce dresses comparable with models selling at nearly twice this amount.

"For Goodness Sake! Look at Helen!"

"HERE she goes in her newest dress and with a run down the back of each stocking!" "I wonder when she'll use good judgment and wear Gotham Gold Stripes, like the rest of us!"

Gotham Gold Stripe Silk Stockings are garter-proof. And that's an important point when you consider that a garter run can spoil the effect of a hundred dollar costume. Besides this freedom, Gold Stripe Stockings have many other advantages—long wear, purest silk, repair service and free dyeing, for instance.

And another of the great comforts of full-fashioned Gold Stripes is their price. So much satisfaction for so little money is seldom equalled.
