NEW DRY HEAD IS INSTALLED; TALKS OF JOB

Seymour Lohman, Sworn In, Says He is After the Radical Wets and the Radical Dries.

Washington, Aug. 1.—"Our greatest job is to hold down the activities of the Radical wets and the Radical dries," Seymour Lohman of New York, declared today when he was sworn in as assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement.

He succeeds General Lincoln C. Andrews, who resigned.

Lohman declared he had no politics except "the orderly, businesslike carrying out of the mandates of Congress."

Takes the Oath

In a flower banked office the oath was administered to Lohman by F. C. Bergfeld, chief clerk of the treasury. Carl Schuenemann, an assistant secretary of treasury; Dr. J. M. Dor, prohibition commissioner, and a large staff of workers from the Prohibition Bureau, witnessed the brief ceremony.

"Temperance and sobriety are commendable virtues," Lohman said. "We want a sober America."

Splendid Organization

"General Andrews is turning over to me a splendid organization. The Coast Guard and the customs service are making it very difficult to smuggle liquor into the United States. The recently established Prohibition Bureau is regular work on an efficient basis by Dr. Doran, the prohibition commissioner.

"I am looking for honest enforcement of the prohibition law, just the same as other United States laws are being enforced. Disloyalty will not be tolerated in the service."

Radical Wets

"By radical wets I refer to those individuals who are unwilling to accept the constitution of the United States, the mandates of Congress and who advocate ignoring and nullifying the prohibition law. They have adequate remedy in changing the constitution of the United States by repealing the 18th Amendment.

"By Radical Dries I refer to those well-meaning but ill-advised people who are criticizing the efforts of public officials trying honestly to bring about the enforcement of the prohibition law."

SEVEN ARE ENTERED IN RACE TO HAWAII

Several More Expected Tomorrow—Only Experienced Pilots and Fit Planes Allowed.

San Francisco, Calif., Aug. 1.—Entries for the $35,000 Dole air race to Hawaii on August 12 must be in by tomorrow, the local chapter of the National Aeronautics Association warned today.

Seven flyers are already entered in the race to win the $25,000 and $10,000 prizes offered by James Dole, Hawaiian millionaire, for the first and second airman to reach Honolulu in the long competitive flight. Only two more entrants are expected tomorrow.

To Inspect Planes

Meanwhile government officials indicated that the department of commerce will inspect carefully all planes entered in the flight to guard against possible tragedy if improperly equipped machines or unregistered pilots attempted the 2,400 mile hop.

Workers were competing today for the right to fly the 2,400 mile race to Hawaii. The field is being closed to all but the best pilots and the most reliable planes.

To Check Pilots

Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 1.—Inexperienced pilots and unfit planes will be kept out of the race to Hawaii, said Clarence M. Young, director of the aeronautics for the Department of Commerce, declared today following his arrival here from San Francisco.

Stillman and Bride Take Ship for Paris

To Remain Abroad Five Months—Plan to Tour Europe in Own Automobile.

New York, Aug. 1.—Bud Stillman and his bride, the former Lena Wilson, sailed early today for Europe aboard the White Star liner Olympic.

James A. Stillman, Sr., was on hand to say farewell. He left just before the vessel sailed. Hailing a friend on the pier he explained with an airy wave of the hand, "I just don't see my kids off."

"Bud" told reporters freely of the plans of himself and his bride. "We are going first to Paris. I'm taking my car, and we'll motor through Europe. We expect to be away five months. I don't expect to study medicine at Harvard next year, for I'll probably spend a year in travel and will begin my medical course a year later."

The young bride looked extremely attractive in a brown and gold costume. She also wore a tight little brown hat and a white silk scarf tipped with orange around her throat.

FARM RELIEF BILL DRAWN UP FOR COOLIDGE

Republican Leaders to Mollify the West With a Measure That Calls for Fund of $300,000,000.

Rapid City, S. D., Aug. 1.—The administration's latest attempt to mollify the clamorous west—a farm relief bill embodying many of the features of the old Fess bill which failed of passage—was already today. It was reported, for criticism by Republican floor leaders.

The measure would authorize a $300,000,000 appropriation to serve as a revolving fund, $20,000,000 of which would be loaned to co-operators for price stabilization purposes. Of the remaining $50,000,000, $25,000,000 would go toward building warehouses and creameries and $25,000,000 toward operating expenses.

Bill Drawn Up

Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, assisted by Eugene Meyer, head of the Federal Farm Loan Board, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Senators Capper, Republican of Kansas, Fess, Republican of Ohio and Curtis, Republican floor leader, of Kansas, are said to have drawn up the bill.

Capper, Meyer and Fess are to arrive in Rapid City this week to discuss the merits of the measure with the president. Capper was due today. Meyer Wednesday or Thursday. Mr. Coolidge had no hand in framing the bill and is not familiar with the details, the measure is being planned as a straight out administration bill—the first that has yet been offered.

Main features of the tentative draft are encouragement of co-operative marketing and pooling, control of production by distribution of detailed statistical information concerning world crops, encouragement of diversification by this means, organization of a federal farm board to supervise administration of the loans and establishment of corporations under the board to handle each commodity.

Outline of Bill

Sponsors of the measure outline its purposes as follows:

1. A Federal Farm Board of three members to be appointed by the president and the secretary of agriculture. The board is to centralize control and responsibility, only one corporation would be established for each commodity unless the board should determine that more effective results could be secured by more than one.

The board of directors would consist of five members, three representing the co-operators subscribing the capital stock and two to be named by the board to represent the public interest.

Capital stock would be kept at a minimum to make governmental participation unnecessary, and would be subscribed by co-operators.

CHICAGO GETS THE BIG BOUT, RICKARD SAYS

Tunney and Dempsey Will Fight for Heavyweight Title at Soldiers' Field—Park Board Gives Permit.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey will fight for the world's heavyweight title in Soldiers' Field, Chicago.

Official announcement of this event will be made this afternoon by Tex Rickard, New York promoter, and Edward J. Kelly, president of the South Park Board, governing body of Soldiers' Field, it was exclusively learned by the International News Service today.

Following a meeting of the South Park Board today, the commissioners approved use of the field for the bout. Rickard declared this decision removed the last obstacle to staging the title fight in Chicago.

Rickard, it was learned from a highly reliable source, will make his announcement giving Chicago the fight before night. Plans for staging the bout in the gigantic bowl, seating 140,000 persons, will be launched immediately.

Date of the fight has not been determined.

Rickard wants the fight on September 15 but Dempsey is holding out for a later day. It was learned he called Rickard over long-distance telephone today asking that September 25th be selected.

Rent, $100,000

A rental fee of approximately $100,000 will be paid for use of the stadium. Rickard, barred from promoting the match directly because he is not a resident of Illinois, will assign rights to George F. Getz, it is understood. Getz is a Chicago millionaire and will officially represent Rickard.

The New York impresario is scheduled to meet this afternoon with Getz and a group of Chicago bankers to discuss plans and probably to-morrow will appear before the Illinois State Commission to ask for a license.

HIT BY MOTORIST.
GIRL BRINGS SUIT

Miss Alice Prachnix Asks
Damages of $2,000 as Result of an Accident.

(Special to The Herald)
Rockville, August 1.
A suit for $2,000 damages has been instituted by Moses Berman of Hartford, acting for Alice Prachnix, a minor, who is represented by her father, Joseph, claiming that on the 12th of December, 1926 about three o'clock in the afternoon an automobile owned by the estate of Natalie Orlovski, and driven by her son, John, collided with Miss Prachnix on the so-called "state road" in the limits of the town of Vernon and caused damages to her worth $2,000. The writ is returnable to the September term of Tolland County Superior Court which opens on the first Tuesday in September.

In the general complaint it is set up that the defendant was walking along the highway, was in full view of the driver of the car who made no effort to stop or prevent the accident. That the defendant struck the plaintiff with such force that she was badly injured and suffered much pain and was compelled because of her accident to lose five weeks' time at her work as "spooler" for which she was paid $9.91 a week, which money she lost in wages and that in addition to this "central teeth" were knocked out. One of these "central teeth" was a natural tooth and the other was a "false" tooth. This also caused her much pain and loss of money in dentist bills as it was necessary, in order to properly fix up the teeth to have a bridge built and inserted in the place of the teeth that were lost. In addition to the loss of her teeth and the expense of replacing them her appearance in beauty was also marred, the complaint reads.

Announcement is made of the coming marriage of Miss Dorothy Douglas of Doboosville and Herbert Lyons of Springfield, Mass., which will take place on August 27.

Police Court.
There were five cases before the City court this morning, all having liquor as their foundations. James Griffin, employed as a worker on a tobacco plantation in Ellington, was charged with intoxication. He told the court that he had been drinking gin and tonics on his work and this had brought on a pestiferous intestinal disturbance. He decided to take a drink of "jake," purchased two small bottles which he mixed with water. This had such a bad effect on him that he cut his hands by bumping against a small show case on Brooklyn street. The hand later was brushed against his face, giving him a bloody appearance. He was all washed up when he was found waiting for a bus to Ellington, when arrested by Captain Tobin who told the court that the man was attracting attention and had a number of children following him. Judge Fahy, who presided today, imposed a fine of $10 and costs.

In the other case a mixup over a game of pool between two friends resulted in both being fined $5 and costs. The fine was suspended and they were ordered to pay the costs between them, which amounted to $11.22.

"Bert" Deere Home.
"Bert" Deere, who left Manchester to enlist in the Canadian Army at the outset of the World war, and who was soon afterwards wounded, is spending a few days at his home on Brooklyn street, here.

Bert is now a patient in United States base hospital No. 69, located at Rutland, and was given a five days' leave of absence yesterday, coming back to Rockville. He is suffering from tuberculosis. Payment for his care at the hospital is made by the Canadian government.

Getting in Shelvers.
The new steel shelving which is to be set up in the modeled law library of the Superior court of Tolland county arrived this morning and was at once taken in sections to the upper part of the hall to be assembled. Not only is there provision for the books already in the building, but the new additions are sectional and can be added to from time to time. This will make it possible, at the opening of the term next month, for the lawyers to secure the books necessary and having a place to read them instead of finding it necessary to go out in the hallway.

PAINT COTTAGE HOUSE IN A COUPLE OF HOURS

Painters' Outing Resolves Itself Into Bee and John Olson Loses (?) a Bet.

John I. Olson, well known Manchester painter and decorator, is credited with a unique feat of combining business with pleasure. John employs a force of 21 painters. They look forward each year with much anticipation toward the date of their annual outing. They were well pleased when Olson told them they could go to his cottage at Black Point, near Niantic, for the good time.

On the day of the outing not a painter was missing, when the party left here by motor. The weather was perfect and everyone was happy. The party reached the cottage about 9 o'clock in the morning. Every man to his trade so it was about 9:01 when discussion rose as to how long it would take to paint the cottage which had just been completed but lacked its color.

It is a rumor that a casual word dropped by Olson started the argument.

By 10 o'clock 21 painters were scurrying about getting paint cans and brushes, having ladders, of which oddly enough, there were plenty on hand, and by 10:05 paint was being slapped on in torrents.

In exactly two hours, at 12 o'clock, the house was painted, completely.

It is understood Olson had made a little bet that the job couldn't be done in that time. Did he lose?

AIRSHIP COMPLETES TRIP.

Bellville, Ill., Aug. 1.—The Army dirigible RS-1, largest semi-rigid aircraft in the world, returned safely to Scott Field here just before midnight last night completing a week's cruise which took it and its crew of fifteen officers and men over Norfolk, Va., Buffalo and Cleveland.

Pasaglow, commandant of the field who was in charge of the flight today, said he was satisfied that the ship had shown its reliability by passing through storms safely on the way here from Lakehurst, N. J., landing here at John E. Kingsbury's field. The RS-1 made no stop between Lakehurst and here, fogs and inclement weather making landings inadvisable.

The ship left Lakehurst Saturday, heavy rains over Buffalo causing it to cruise about the city seven hours before proceeding.

MONDAY, AUGUST 1, 1927.

HIDING ITS LIGHT.

The police department of Manchester is receiving considerable criticism for its failure to apprehend the authors of several petty burglaries and reported attempted breaks. The criticism is probably unjust. Few police matters are more baffling than crimes of this character or more frequently go undetected, anywhere; largely for the reason that it requires almost as much time and effort to ferret out a series of ten dollar burglaries as to detect the perpetrators of some major criminal act—and the police seldom have a sufficiently extensive personnel to warrant the expenditure of the time and the effort necessary for immediate success.

NOT DEFENSELESS.

One of Connecticut's prime assets is its lakes. Few states in the Union possess more beautiful bodies of inland water than this one, even though they are, in the majority of cases, small. They provide a means of seasonal recreation for more persons, probably, than even the seashore; for while the total number of cottagers vacationing on their banks may be smaller, the lakes draw hundreds of thousands of visitors at the week-ends, and daily, for that matter, throughout the summer.

SENATOR CUTS LOOSE.

"When I was a boy of ten," began the senator, "I was only old enough for a few of the contests and was forced to gaze with envy at the champion oyster eaters, mirror readers, pin savers and candle cherrers as they strutted around the streets of our town. I made up my mind that I, too, would get my name into the weekly paper.

Boomer McWhorter regards with a certain good-humored tolerance the current crop of tattered paper hangers, one-eyed vegetarians and sex-starved elephant scribblers who are daily scrolling themselves among the national immortals by setting new endurance records for flagpole perching, curbstone sitting, chair rocking and introspection.

FAMILY QUARREL BREAKS OUT IN STANDARD OIL.

Principal Companies of Group in Dispute Over Buying Russian Products.

New York.—A bitter family quarrel has broken out among the principal companies of the Standard Oil group over the purchase of Russian oil products, in which competent observers here see a possible future alignment of the Standard of New Jersey, the keystone of the Standard Oil group, and the Royal Dutch Shell interests, against other members of the Standard group, including the Standard Oil of New York and the Vacuum Oil Company.

Possible far-reaching consequences in the competitive struggle for the oil business of Europe was seen in this family split of the Standard group.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, has adopted toward the Soviet government a policy almost identical with that of the powerful Royal Dutch Shell combination of Europe, refusing to use Russian oil until the Soviet government recognizes private property rights.

LIBRARY QUESTION.

The decision of the Eighth School and Utilities District committee to call a meeting, at which the question of ejecting the Manchester Public Library from its quarters in the Robertson school building shall be decided by the district voters, is to be criticized only on the ground that it should have preceded, rather than followed, the attempt of the school committee to throw the library into the street at six weeks' notice and without authority from the district as a whole.

Whether the Library shall be continued in its possession of its quarters, or whether the voters shall recapture the room for school purposes is entirely a matter for determination by the district, which in the first place authorized the presence of the Library in the Robertson school. Good arguments, it is conceivable, will be presented on both sides of the question.

It should, however, be quite evident to any one having the least familiarity with library work, that to require such an institution to find a new home, to make the financial arrangements necessary for removal, and then to complete the extremely delicate task of transferring the plant without reducing the book equipment to complete chaos—all in a few weeks time, is unreasonable. It is so unreasonable as to indicate that the order of the school committee to vacate by September 1 would seem to indicate either a lack of understanding surprising on the part of persons qualified for membership on a school committee, or an attitude of intentional and contemptuous spite.

We prefer to believe that the committee acted from utter lack of comprehension. But whatever course the district voters decide to take, as to recapture of the Library quarters or permitting the Library to remain, they are not likely to impose any such impossible conditions of precipitate removal. The Library directors are not only entitled to decent treatment from the Eighth district, they are practically sure to get it; for the voters as a whole certainly hold no grudge against the Library or its management.

The senator, who often comments upon news and trends of the day, harks back to the days of his youth when his prowess in such contests gained him such prestige as to win for him his first election to Congress. "Back in my old district," says McWhorter, "they'll tell you that maybe I didn't hold all the records, but I held most of 'em. Those were the days when they used to go in for those things and a man who could stand on one leg longer than anyone else in the county was regarded as he deserved." It was with great reluctance that the modest McWhorter was finally prevailed upon to describe some of his feats and then only because it was pointed out to him that his words might be an inspiration for the country's youth.

Senator Cuts Loose "When I was a boy of ten," began the senator, "I was only old enough for a few of the contests and was forced to gaze with envy at the champion oyster eaters, mirror readers, pin savers and candle cherrers as they strutted around the streets of our town. I made up my mind that I, too, would get my name into the weekly paper.

"Despite the scoffing of my friends and family, I finally began in a small way by entering a scooting tournament. I scooted down and stood up 4538 successive times, taking the championship away from a young man who had held it in three years for six years. The erstwhile scooters carried me around on their shoulders and my parents admitted for the first time that I might some day amount to something.

The next year I had the nerve to try to run my Aunt Fanny of what was known as the strip-outting championship. This sport, open for both sexes, was to see who could cut out the most full-length strips from a newspaper page. My Aunt Fanny, in the championship contest, because some of my strips were so thin the committee couldn't quite discern them, so that my Aunt Fanny held the title as long as she lived, along with the strappings championship which I never tried to take away from her.

And He Blew Foam "Some of the rougher men staged foam blowing contests and one day I entered one of these, though you must understand that I never let my lips touch the dirty stuff. Those were the days when beer had foam and the trick was to blow the foam from atop the stein for the greatest possible distance. The winner was always allowed free beer and the prestige he gained was immense.

SACCO-VANZETTI.

Whatever the outcome of the Sacco-Vanzetti case, a decision on which is expected from Governor Fuller of Massachusetts on Wednesday, it is one of the surest things in the world that no good whatever has been accomplished by the agitation for the freeing of the condemned men that has been carried on by radical groups all over the

FAMILY QUARREL BREAKS OUT IN STANDARD OIL.

Principal Companies of Group in Dispute Over Buying Russian Products.

New York.—A bitter family quarrel has broken out among the principal companies of the Standard Oil group over the purchase of Russian oil products, in which competent observers here see a possible future alignment of the Standard of New Jersey, the keystone of the Standard Oil group, and the Royal Dutch Shell interests, against other members of the Standard group, including the Standard Oil of New York and the Vacuum Oil Company.

Possible far-reaching consequences in the competitive struggle for the oil business of Europe was seen in this family split of the Standard group.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, has adopted toward the Soviet government a policy almost identical with that of the powerful Royal Dutch Shell combination of Europe, refusing to use Russian oil until the Soviet government recognizes private property rights.

LIBRARY QUESTION.

The decision of the Eighth School and Utilities District committee to call a meeting, at which the question of ejecting the Manchester Public Library from its quarters in the Robertson school building shall be decided by the district voters, is to be criticized only on the ground that it should have preceded, rather than followed, the attempt of the school committee to throw the library into the street at six weeks' notice and without authority from the district as a whole.

Whether the Library shall be continued in its possession of its quarters, or whether the voters shall re-

NOT DEFENSELESS.

One of Connecticut's prime assets is its lakes. Few states in the Union possess more beautiful bodies of inland water than this one, even though they are, in the majority of cases, small. They provide a means of seasonal recreation for more persons, probably, than even the seashore; for while the total number of cottagers vacationing on their banks may be smaller, the lakes draw hundreds of thousands of visitors at the week-ends, and daily, for that matter, throughout the summer.

SENATOR CUTS LOOSE.

"When I was a boy of ten," began the senator, "I was only old enough for a few of the contests and was forced to gaze with envy at the champion oyster eaters, mirror readers, pin savers and candle cherrers as they strutted around the streets of our town. BON AMI'S OUTING
A DAY OF SPORTS

Employees Have Perfect Day
at Compounce and Develop Athletic Prodigies.

The Bon Ami outing at Lake Compounce last Saturday, with the help of a perfect day, developed into the best outing ever, according to the word of those who attended. Under the efficient direction of the committee everything moved swiftly and smoothly and every moment was crowded with action. The transportation section of the committee in its exhibition of collecting forty cars, getting the passengers all placed and making the start exactly on scheduled time, qualified as traffic managers extraordinary. Immediately upon arrival the athletic section took charge and the games and events were started and run until meal time, and the pushing right on to the heels of the other, with not the least confusion or delay.

The Events

The first event, the one hundred yard dash, brought out the first upset of the day when Elmo Mantelli and Hook Brennan outran Bill Brainard, the favorite. The race was closely contested, with Mantelli pushing to the good time of eleven seconds to keep ahead of the flying Hook who just nosed out Brainard by a fraction of an inch.

Miss Wilhemina McGrath came first in the fifty yard dash for women, closely followed by Mrs. Elsie Custer in the fast time of seven and one-half seconds.

The fifty yard dash for men over fifty had developed considerable interest due to several of the contestants pulling regular. Jack Sharkey predictions as to what they were going to do to the other fellow when they met. Doc Orvis led all the way until a sudden spurt in the last three yards put Johnny McCarty over the tape a winner by not a nose, for it was the middle part of his anatomy that crossed first, in the time of seven seconds.

The next was the pie eating contest for children, which was won by Sadie McGrath, with Grace Fogarty second. Judging from the faces of the two winners the name of this event should have been pie spread-eating instead of pie eating contest. One little entrant, Ruth Frazier, exhibited her home training by eating very slowly and methodically and even though the race had been finished many minutes she stayed and very carefully cleaned her plate as a good child should.

Ups and Downs

The sack race developed many ups and downs, most of those in the race were more than up, but finally Jake Schwartz rolled over the line the winner followed by Al Mitterholzer.

The shoe race was a grand mix and after considerable scrambling and hunting, Mrs. Elsie Custer finally located and donned her shoes, the winner by a shoe lace.

In the ball throwing contest for women a female Christy Mathewson was unearthed in Amelia Socolesky. Manchester ball fans should not be surprised if they see Amelia in the Bon Ami team line up, next Friday night at Hickory.

The horseback pitching was quite a popular event, having about twenty entrants which made it necessary to run an elimination contest. The quarter-mile relay, proved up to expectations. Team number one composed of Mantelli, captain; Brainard, Vituello, and Frazier, but the other team, made up of Coleman, Miller, Hook Brennan and Gill, showed as much if not more speed, losing only by a poor touch-off. It was anybody's race up to the last and the winners made the good time of fifty-five seconds in winning.

Dinner Gong Race

At this point a number of sprinters were discarded who had not been heard of before. The judges are thankful that they were not called on to decide a winner for this race, as it looked like a dead heat with about a seat at a hundred feet for first place. Well, the dinner was worth running for, as Messrs. Pierce and Norton did put on a good feed and plenty of it.

After the dinner the prizes were awarded for the morning events. There were, in the main, useful articles of wearing apparel and in some cases caused much embarrassment to the chairman of the outing committee who started to name each prize until he came to the women's prizes when, after turning a deep pink, he quit naming and just handed out without comment.

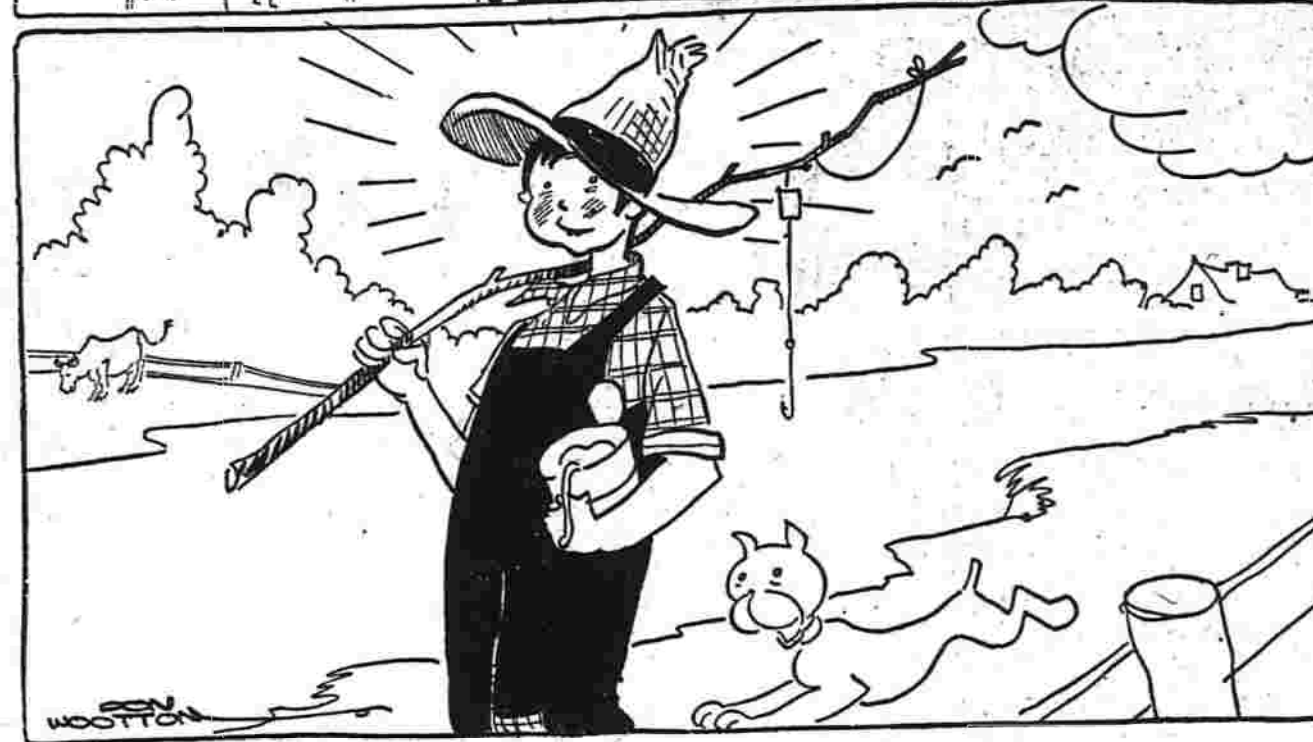

Only Few Dancers

Two remaining events, one for women and one for men were on the afternoon program. The race for women being won by Wilhemina McGrath with Amelia Socolesky second. Elmo Mantelli was first with Frank Vituello a close second in the men's race. In the evening those who were not too tired and stiff joined the fance but most were willing to call it a good day and head for home at eight o'clock.

FLORENCE VIDOR STARS
AT THE STATE TUESDAY

"The World at Her Feet" Booked to Appear - Lindbergh's Hartford Visit in Pathé News.

The Pathé pictures of the reception to Col. Lindbergh in Hartford last week will be shown in the State theater program tonight, it was announced today by Manager Jack Sanson. The big feature on this bill is the comedy, "The Poor Nut," starring handsome Jack Mulhall and not-so-handsome Charley Murray.

"The Poor Nut" is a story of college life, brought to the stage by J. E. and Elliot Nugent and for his play, the latter Mr. Nugent was awarded a varsity letter from Ohio University. It tells of a boy with an inferiority complex who dreams of conquests and athletic victories. He writes to a girl in a rival college and tells her he is the star athlete and fraternity man in his class. In reality he is only a botany student who borrows his expenses by working in the college bookstore. He wears glasses, woolen underwear and takes hot foot baths. That might give an idea of the kind of a boy he is.

Florence Vidor, that even-tempered actress, who never seems to let anything worry her, is starred in the State's picture for tomorrow and Wednesday, "The World at Her Feet." On Thursday night the Country Store comes again with loads of presents and lots of fun and entertainment.

Possessed of all the ingredients that are required to make a good film, Florence Vidor's new starring vehicle, "The World at Her Feet" will undoubtedly leave her exactly in that place of eminence. Paramount has given its lovely star a great story, an able director, beautiful gowns, perfect settings and above all, a talented, capable cast.

Arnold Kent heads her supporting players. This young actor has just been signed to a long term contract by Paramount, whose officials look upon him as one of the best bets of the year. Kent's first important role was in "Evening Clothes" with Adolphe Menjou. His work in that vehicle attracted favorable attention from the debonair star and Menjou called Paramount's attention to Kent's possibilities. As a result, the young player was given an important part in Pola Negri's "The Woman on Trial" and the role of Richard Randall in Miss Vidor's vehicle followed.

An Ex-Buck PRIVATE goes back to FRANCE by PAUL ADAMS

This is Chapter 96 of the series of articles by a correspondent for The Herald, who is revisiting France as an advance guard for the "Second A. E. F."

CHAPTER XCVI

Calling attention to M. Frederic Valtier, the instituteur at Epinonville, which was in the path of the 91st Division in 1918.

M. Valtier has been the instituteur-schoolmaster—at Epinonville for 22 years. Not continuous service, understand. Take four years out for the war, when the schoolhouse was used as a German headquarters. And another year for rebuilding the schoolhouse after the 91st Division artillery wrecked it according to the most complete plans of any visionary schoolboard.

When M. Valtier returned after the armistice he had to buy all the maps, pens and ink, books and slates for his 22 pupils. But that is not what M. Valtier is noted for. As the town's oldest instituteur he had to live so he built a chicken coop for his chickens. Nothing extraordinary about that, either.

M. Valtier, being a conservative and somewhat of an inventor, ripped the nice, shiny patent leather visors from two German officers' helmets and these are now doing service as practical hinges on the door of that chicken coop behind the schoolhouse.

Just ponder on that for a moment. Think of the salutes that are cracked down by respectful privates when these naughty helmets passed in their prime! Think of the answering salutes that were snatched off the rims of those visors by their autocratic wearers! Think of those proud owners, strut with their staff at a review, and of the orderlies who kept those helmets all trimmed up and burnished!

And now—nine years after the 91st went through without saluting—the visors of those helmets are,

Your Local Building Material Dealer

Our grandmothers had their storerooms filled with flour, sugar and other kitchen essentials. Today the grocery store gives the housewife a selection of hundreds of foods, many of them ready for the table.

Just so the building material dealer fills an economic need of our present life. He gathers together a hundred and one materials suited for as many different needs. They are available at a moment's notice. He has at his finger tips the knowledge that prevents clumsy and costly mistakes in building.

From a purely selfish standpoint any community should support its building material dealer for this reason—to increase the service obtainable through him.

DIES FROM FALL

Bath, Me., Aug. 1.—Lifting into place of the draw span of the new Kennecott river bridge today was preceded by tragedy. While inspecting two towers to be used in the lifting, Charles Mallison, Portsmouth, Pa., bridge builder, slipped on a wet steel girder and fell fifty feet to the river. He was rescued by a small boat but died in local hospital.

MARRIAGE MADNESS

"How did the Smith wedding so off?" "Fine, until the parson asked the bride if she'd obey her husband." "What happened then?" "She replied, 'De you think I am crazy?' and the groom who was in a sort of daze, said, 'I do.'"

Tokyo, Aug. 1.—Five Japanese naval officers and several sailors were blown to bits today when a deep-sea bomb exploded aboard the mine layer Tokiwa. The accident occurred during naval maneuvers in Bungo channel.

ANOTHER GANGSTER SHOT. Chicago, Aug. 1.—The guns of gangland, which have blazed death to seventeen victims within the last few weeks, probably will add another to the toll today as Joseph Barba lay dying in a hospital with a dozen bullets in his body. Barba, said by police to be "in the racket," was shot as he stood at a street intersection. Before the fatal wounds he named his assailant, a man known as "Fert-manda."

The most astounding of the early expeditions to find a channel from Asia to America was the effort of Vitus Bering. It was an unparalleled battle with the elements, lasting over sixteen years, and including four overland journeys of 4000 miles each from Petrograd to Okhotsk, for all material had to be carried to this remote point in Asia. Five hundred men, scientists, sailors, carpenters and blacksmiths, with 800 horses comprised the first expedition.

Sketches by HESSEY. Synopsis by BHAUCHER. Bering found open water where the land connection between the two continents should have been, but he did not sight the American shore before being driven back to winter quarters. After several such attempts, and as many failures, Bering finally did reach America, but never returned to tell the tale to the Czar of Russia, who had backed him. (To Be Continued.)

LINDBERGH ASKS FRIEND "JAKE" TO MAKE PLANES

"Slim" Makes Effort To Persuade Manufacturer To Join Him.

Wichita, Kansas.—"Hello, that you Jake?" said Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, New York to Paris hero, talking over long distance telephone.

"Yeah, Slim. How are you? Congratulations!"
Thus the American air hero conversed with J. M. Moellendick, president of the Swallow Airplane Manufacturing company of Wichita, Kansas.

It was not feigned or professional familiarity that tinged the conversation. It was friendship of long standing.

Starting Factory
"Jake, are you coming to St. Louis to build airplanes?" Lindbergh asked. "I'm thinking of starting a factory here and would like to know if you are coming up," he said.
"I haven't had time to give it a thought, Slim. Business is so good right here that really I don't see any reason for making a move," Moellendick declared.

And, so the conversation continued for about fifteen minutes, with Lindbergh failing to get any kind of a promise from Jake Moellendick to move to St. Louis, and help him develop a new airplane project.

Swamped With Orders
Moellendick went to St. Louis in response to attractive offers that enterprising city made for the operation of a Swallow factory there, a few months ago, but declined to negotiate with interest there.

The youthful manufacturer says he has been literally swamped with orders for airplanes ever since "Lindy" landed at Le Bourget field in France.

Washington.—Radio operators aboard naval vessels soon may forget their dots and dashes, be relieved of their duty of receiving messages altogether and become merely operators of a mechanical message dispatcher.

Successful tests just completed between the U. S. S. Seattle and the Navy Department here prove the practicality of sending radio photographs of written orders, rather than the dots and dashes of today.

In fact, a machine has been permanently installed in the office of naval communications, and another on the Seattle, whereby both stations may communicate by flashing the photographs of their messages to each other. This assures a certain amount of personality and secrecy not afforded by any other method, officials say, and there is no doubt of its accuracy.

These machines, however, cannot be used widely at present, due to three obstacles. First, the complete sending and receiving apparatus costs up to $10,000. Second, the equipment is too large for practical use. Third, a message covering six by five inches of space requires an hour to send.

Engineers are busy working on these limitations, and it is expected the cost and size of the equipment will be greatly reduced, while the time of a message will be speeded up.

GEN. WOOD HAS PLAN TO STAMP LEPROSY OUT OF PHILIPPINES

New York—Leprosy can be exterminated from the Philippine Islands within the next five years and at the same time a wonderful cure for the disease can be effected but it all hinges on the success of the campaign under way today to raise $2,000,000 to aid the work of the Cullion Island colony, according to Governor-General Leonard Wood.

Asserting that one of the principal reasons for this trip to America at this time, the first time, he has come to this country since assuming the office of Governor-General of the Philippines six years ago, was to assist in the campaign. Wood voiced the opinion that if the necessary funds were forthcoming, "we shall be able to eradicate leprosy in the Philippines as we have yellow fever, cholera and smallpox."

The PENNY PRINCESS

by anne austin ©1927 by NEA Service

BEGIN HERE TODAY
FLORA CARTWRIGHT called her niece, VERA CAMERON, for her old maidish ways, out-of-date hairdress, and business-like manner. That same day Vera is promoted to assistant to JERRY MACKLYN, new advertising manager of Peach Bloom Cosmetics, and Jerry instantly proposes an advertising scheme to transform Vera, with the aid of Peach Bloom cosmetics, into a beauty and to photograph her in each stage of the transformation. Vera indignantly refuses and resolves to resign.

"I haven't any sex appeal," Vera acknowledged bitterly.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER IX

"THIS is more than I had bargained for," Jerry Macklyn grinned at Vera Cameron and her aunt, Flora Cartwright, seated side by side on the living room couch. "I've finished my job. I said I'd turn you into a beauty, Miss Cameron, if the Peach Bloom cosmetics were any good, and I've done it. I don't know where you got the idea that I could give you any pointers on how to be fatal to men, as Mrs. Cartwright puts it."

"Where do I come in, Jerry Macklyn?" Flora demanded indignantly. "Why not make it a foursome about half the time? You and young Peter, Vee-Vee and I? The kid needs example as well as direct instruction, and I know of no more competent graduate of the charm school than Flora Cartwright!"

"Where do I come in, Jerry Macklyn?" Flora demanded indignantly. "Why not make it a foursome about half the time? You and young Peter, Vee-Vee and I? The kid needs example as well as direct instruction, and I know of no more competent graduate of the charm school than Flora Cartwright!"

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SUMNER

The other day a man in some town bought a pair of overalls. He found a little note tucked in a pocket. The note said: "If a nice looking, unmarried man between 25 and 35 finds this note, he can write to So-and-So and Such-an-Address." The man got mad at finding his nice new overalls all cluttered up with writing for which he did not bargain, reported his find to the store keeper, who in turn reported it to the manufacturer, and I think the factory girl who wrote the note got fired.

with too much solid flesh. What a shock we get every time our pictures are taken or we see ourselves in a true mirror, and not the kind of mirrors we like!

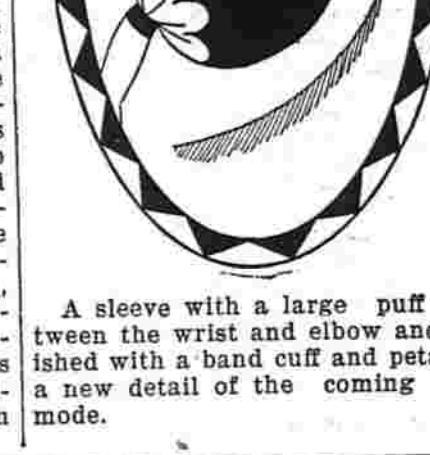

More Come-Hitters
A few days ago I bought a box of picnic plates. Lifting off the plates when I came to the third one in the pile, I read, "If the guy who eats his cold ham off this here plate wants to get in touch with a nice little cook who can feed him steaks instead of cold boiled ham from the delicatessen, all he's got to do is write to So and So at Such and Such an address."

The "Other Woman"
Speaking of "the other woman," she is the reason for 41 per cent of all divorces, according to a woman worker in Chicago's Court of Domestic Relations!

Shun Romance?
Let's see, hasn't there been some little talk about the spurning of matrimony by wage-earning women; the preference they will give the pay envelope to the dish pan, once they have had a taste of independence, etc? The above evidence rather disproves it, doesn't it?

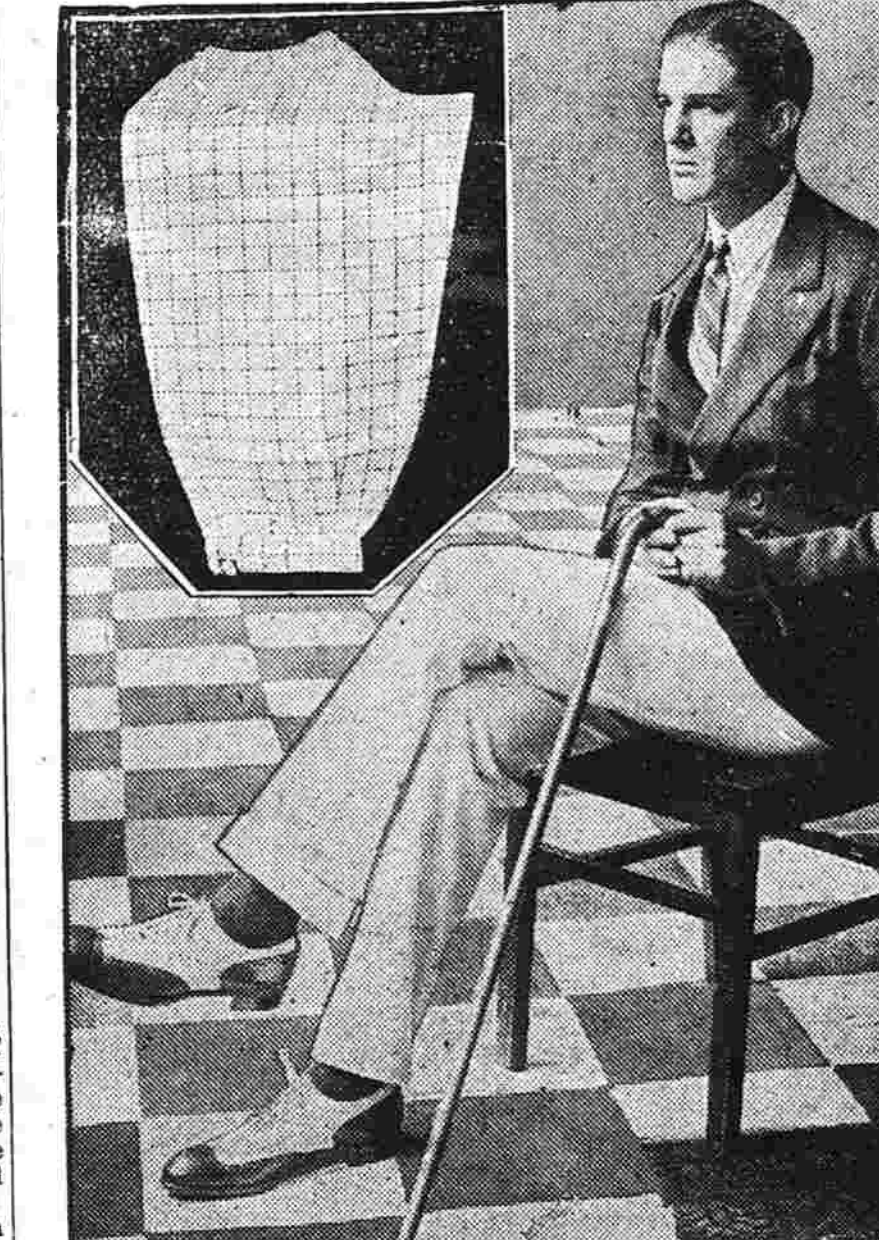

INGENIOUS HANDBAG
A Lanvin beige suede purse, with clever monogram, has a bar fastening which houses a lip stick in one end and a perfume bottle in the other.

Too Fat?
Here's a jury that had a nice job! They sat in on the trial of a portrait painter charged by the lady he painted of making her fatter than she was. The picture was in court, of course, and it was up to the jury to say whether he did or didn't. It really would probably have been easier to send the lady to the electric chair than acquit the artist. Seriously, though, it's true that it seems psychologically impossible for human beings to really see themselves as others see them. This is especially true of ladies weighed down

SIMPLE HINTS FOR MANICURING NAILS

By Mme. Anne Gerarde

Finger nails should round gently to conform to the natural contour of your finger-tips. The too-pointed nail, and the over-polished fingernail, denote poor taste. To give yourself a manicure, soak your hands in tepid soap suds for 15 minutes to loosen the cuticle. Push the cuticle back gently with orange stick wrapped in cotton, until the half moon shows at the base of your nails.

Everyone who has followed the decreasing death rates of civilized communities during the past hundred years realizes that much of the decrease is due to the substantial reduction that has taken place in the deaths of infants during the first year of life. In 1900, the death rate of infants under one year was 161 per thousand; in 1910, 141 per thousand and in 1920, 106 per thousand.

may be a parasite. I do not know. Nor would I shine in the light of governmental affairs—lecture platforms, or business offices where women are learning to talk in the tongues of men, and are therefore being accepted as comrades and companions.

I am one of millions of women who are keeping quiet and bringing up children and doing the very best they can. Aren't we apt to judge people by the ones with whom we are thrown in contact? My contacts happily have been with women who are pretty much what they have always been.

BIG FIGHT IS "IN THE BAG" FOR CHICAGO, WRITER SAYS

Western Millionaires Too Much for Tex Rickard—New York Fans to Put Up a Big Howl.

By SID MERCER, Special Correspondent. New York, Aug. 1.—From all accounts the big decision will be made today and it is said to be "in the bag" for Chicago...

It is a matter of small concern whether the Chicago interests paid the lists by ringing in some millionaires from nearby cities like Detroit, Indianapolis, Kansas City...

This and attending Rickard's title fight are the sports of millionaires. A seat on the Stock Exchange costs a mere trifling $150,000...

Farmer Boys From Andover Learn Green Is Not Green

Elmo Mantelli's pitching was far from enough to enable Andover's collection of baseball antiques to cope with the Manchester Green Community club yesterday afternoon in the seven innings which were played at the Green before rain intervened. The score was 10 to 1 in favor of the Green.

Billy Evans Says

EX-SOX AID YANKS. Funny how a change of scenery often helps up a ball player after he has grown almost rusty from sitting on the bench.

The Chicago White Sox have been hard hit by such a condition this year. Players who were several seasons ago being keeping the bench warm for that club, stepped right out and delivered when sent elsewhere.

Last winter, Chicago felt it needed a veteran player to take the place of Eddie Collins. The one second-batter of that sort in the market was Aaron Ward of New York.

It was hoped that Morehart in a pinch would be able to fill the hole made by the passing of Ward, who was capable of playing any position in the infield.

Huggins Uses Both. It was Catcher Grabowski's misfortune to break into the majors on a club with so great a performer as Ray Schalk. A glutton for work, few White Sox subs have had fewer hits in so much catching since Schalk joined the team in 1912.

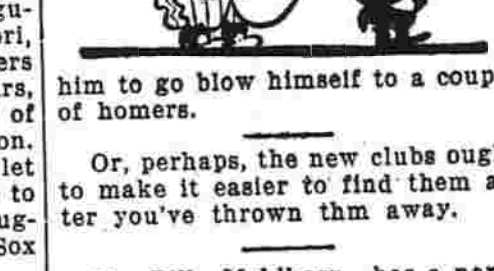

As a matter of fact, Morehart continued in the lineup long after Koenig was able to play, simply because Manager Huggins, a bit superstitious, refused to break up a winning combination.

Here's Thurston Case. Last year was a poor one for Pitcher Hollis Thurston as a member of the White Sox. He seemed to have the usual stuff that made him a tough bird to beat, but somehow he just couldn't win.

The NUT CRACKER by JOE WILLIAMS

It's great managing the same ball club for 25 years says John McGraw of the Giants. But Mr. Bill Carrigan, of the Red Sox, we hear will have none of it.

Paul Whiteman gave Ruth a sex-ophone. And presumably he told him to go blow himself to a couple of homers.

Or, perhaps, the new clubs ought to make it easier to find them after they've thrown them away.

Mr. Bill Mehlhorn has a name for every club in his bag. We didn't know he was that profane.

Sharkey tried to outglare Dempsey. For once the "eyes" did not have it.

Descendants of Jesse James are in the movies, writes a screen columnist digging up data. So far that boxing racket hasn't moaned about its tough break.

"Kills Pal Showing Blow Dempsey Used." The original friendly demonstration.

"A Barnyard Brawl" is the way one expert characterized the big fight and we hope the cries of "Foul" did not influence his descriptive judgment.

Mr. O'Goofy lost all his money on the big fight. So his wife left him flat.

Judging from the evidence at Rickard's scalper's hearing—it's more profitable to be a box office man than a boxer.

Lee Meadows, the "spectacle pitcher," seems to be making one out of the batters this summer.

New York girl admits in court she has four sailors as husbands. Nothing like raising a navy of your own.

"They all took me for a sparring partner, Judge," Sharkey... that was four other sailors.

Fallen arches incapacitated her or she'd have slugged 'em back. "Rubber heels for that," remarked a police man. "What'll I rub 'em with?" sex she.

Mr. O'Goofy cleaned up on the big fight. He took any odds he could get that Jack would either win or get a draw... but he didn't say which Jack.

Real Estate and Insurance
237 Main St.
South Manchester, Conn.

The Manchester Evening Herald, Manchester, Conn., Gentlemen:

Perhaps you would like to know of the pleasing results I have been receiving from the classified advertising that I have been running daily in the Herald.

Only yesterday I received two inquiries from Hartford as a result of an ad now running, offering a business for sale.

I think that direct inquiries from outside of Manchester in addition to the results secured in this city is ample evidence that advertising in the Herald Classified Columns gets results and does pay.

Yours Truly,
STUART J. WASLEY.

George C. Hatch of 37 Grove street, was tendered a surprise birthday party at his home Saturday evening by about 27 of the relatives and friends of Mrs. Hatch and himself, from Greenfield, Mass., Providence, West Hartford and Manchester. Mr. and Mrs. Hatch, as they usually do, attended the early performance at the State theater. When they returned Mr. Hatch was greatly surprised to find the house brilliantly lighted, inasmuch as he knew his son Earl had left with the boys for Niantic early in the day. Who they entered they found their home pretty fully occupied and that some of the guests had been busy decorating the rooms for the party. The dining room was festooned with blue and white paper and the table centerpiece was a large birthday cake. Whist and other games were played and a buffet lunch was served.

These sheets are from one of America's most famous manufacturers of high grade goods, but because their system is so very rigid none but absolutely perfect merchandise is allowed to bear their regular label. These sheets will give a minimum of two years and many customers have told us that they have gotten five years' wear out of the first quality sheets of this same grade. 81x90 inches only.
