BOLTON'S ALL EXCITED OVER SCHOOL FIGHT

Teacher in North District Branded Inefficient, Resigns—Board Won't Let Her Go Under Fire.

Bolton residents are aroused over school questions centering about the discharging of a teacher. The affair reached a climax last night when the school committee requested the teacher, Miss Doris Lipovetsky of New Haven, to withdraw her resignation.

More than fifty Bolton people packed into the little North school last night to act on the resignation which had been submitted by the teacher when she learned that movements were under way to bring about her removal. The session was the noisiest in the town's history. Heated controversies raged right and left. The meeting lasted nearly two hours.

Teacher's Cause

Nine families in the vicinity have children who attend the school. The enrollment is about twenty pupils. Grades two to eight are taught. It appears that some of the parents have become entirely dissatisfied with the work of Miss Lipovetsky. Contending that she is inefficient. They claim their children have made little or no progress under her supervision.

When the teacher was told of the protests being made against her and that a petition was being circulated she made haste in submitting her resignation to Mrs. Charles Sumner, chairman of the school board. Instead of accepting this, a meeting was called by the school committee and thrown open to the town voters. The school committee is divided on the matter but finally decided to attempt to keep Miss Lipovetsky rather than get into a bitter argument. This was the reason given by J. W. Phelps, a member of the board, asking Miss Lipovetsky to remain.

The School Board

The other members of the school board, in addition to Mrs. Sumner and Mr. Phelps, are Mrs. M. W. Harding, Mrs. R. K. Jones, Mrs. Lida Anderson and W. R. French. All but Mrs. French were present at last night's meeting. The school committee's vote to ask Miss Lipovetsky to remain now puts the decision in the teacher's hands. It is believed she will not re-consider her resignation.

The following is a part of the report of proceedings at the meeting as submitted by Mrs. A. C. Broil, one of the many who strongly oppose the continuance of Miss Lipovetsky as teacher:

"It was also brought out that parties who had no children in the school and should be absolutely disinterested had been around with a petition asking the parents to sign. According to the teacher's reports, it was felt that they were satisfied with the teacher's work.

"In view of the facts the great majority of the parents were dissatisfied and they had a substantial case to ask the teacher to leave. Only one member of the school board voted to accept her resignation, which was overruled by the others and voted to ask the teacher to withdraw her resignation. One excuse that was given by Mr. Phelps of the school board was that it would hurt the town of Bolton if this teacher were allowed to go.

"The result is that two families are removing their children from the school and paying their tuition in another town. Another is trying to sell his home and move so his children can have an education.

"Most towns invite people to come and build homes, want good schools and see their town grow. Bolton advocates cheap teachers, dilapidated school houses and un-equipped school rooms. Many of the parents have expressed their thanks to Mrs. Lida Anderson for her interest in their children and the betterment of schools, and the support she gave them at this time."

BURGLARS CAUGHT

Middletown, Conn., Feb. 17.—Harry Ryder, 20, of 151 Bellevue street, Hartford, and Richard Wimbic, of Le Green, road avenue, Hartford, were arrested on a hill below town. They were police, as the pair of men who robbed the Chester clothing store of Morris Breitman and stole $1,500 worth of wearing apparel. Police recovered all the booty. The men stole a car belonging to Samuel Trapsky of Hartford and were driving it when they were caught. State police at Centerbrook barracks arrived at Chester soon after the robbery and in time to pass the word along to Middletown.

MRS. NEWTON FAVORCED

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 17.—Grace Sumner Mather Newton was today granted a divorce from Austin M. Newton, now of England, by Judge Allyn L. Broas of the Superior court. The divorce was granted on the ground of desertion.

Let Lindbergh Alone Says Col. Mitchell

New York, Feb. 17.—"Let Lindbergh alone," said Col. Mitchell. "His success has been achieved due to his own efforts. If the administration, the bureau or even Congress, as at present constituted, should have attempted to tell him what to do, nothing whatever would have been the result.

"The administration and the Legislature must keep their hands off our private citizens in aviation. They have completely ruined our national aviation so that we have no military aviation, no regular passenger air lines, and have lost practically every flying record in the world.

"Let Lindbergh Alone"

Head of Aviation School Mitchell is now head of a national aviation school which is in the course of organization in Washington. Captain Desdome Costes and Lieutenant Commander Joseph Delrieux, French flyers who travelled 23,000 miles in a far-flung, zig-zag course over four continents in a plane.

'PHANTOM STABBER' HELD IN HARTFORD

Seventeen Year Old Youth Confesses After Being Identified By Victims.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 17.—Hartford's "Phantom Stabber" has been caught. Lorenza Desmaris, 17, caught last night, confessed to stabbing two women during the past month, according to a police statement issued this afternoon. The youth disclaims knowledge of the Bridgeport stabbing case but says he was impelled to try the same game here as a result of reading about the Bridgeport cases.

Denied Stabbing

Desmaris steadily denied all knowledge of the stabbings during the night and this morning. He was presented in Police Court this morning and ordered held in jail of $2,000 for a hearing on Feb. 23. Soon after the hearing Desmaris faced Miss Martha Talmauge, a victim of the stabber.

Miss Talmauge was uncertain when she saw the youth. She did not identify him and yet she was not sure he was not her assailant. Later in the day Mrs. Eleanor Otson and Miss Marie Bowyer, other victims, saw the man and identified him.

Miss Bowyer was stabbed on January 24, Mrs. Otson on February 3. Both, according to the police, were positive in their identifications.

When the two women had expressed themselves on the subject, Desmaris gave in and admitted he was the man wanted in Hartford. Desmaris had been employed as a rooming house, on Front street, in another town. He told the police he came here two months ago from Bridgeport, and lived in New York before that time.

PENNSYLVANIA FAVORED IN COAL RATE CASE

Washington, Feb. 17.—The Interstate Commerce Commission usurped powers, which even Congress never dared to use, by reversing its original decision in the "lake cargo coal rate" case," Senator James A. Reed, Democrat of Missouri, charged in the Senate today.

Reed accused his distant cousin, Senator David A. Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania, of having applied political pressure on the commission, to bring about this change of front.

The Missourian declared the Pennsylvania Senator's threats had caused two members of the commission, John J. Esh and Clyde B. Aitchison, to change their votes, fearing they would be defeated for another term if they opposed the Pennsylvania.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, Feb. 17.—Treasury balance Feb. 15: $21,873,621.00.

REED TRAVELS WESTWARD ON A STUMPING TOUR

Fiery Missouri Senator to Try to Swing Sentiment Away From Governor Al Smith.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, the silver-haired and silver-tongued veteran of four decades of savage political fighting, put on his battle habiliments again today and headed westward on a trip that may have an extremely important bearing on the events that are happening in Houston next June.

Delegate Strength

These states have a delegate strength in the Democratic convention of 138—not an imposing bloc in a convention of 1,100 delegates but a bloc that might contribute mightily to the total of 367 votes that are necessary "to stop Smith" at Houston. When there is added to this bloc approximately 220 delegates from southern and anti-Smith border states, it is the anti-Smith bloc. Reed is to be seen in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Utah. It is territory that, if not hostile to the nomination of Gov. Al Smith, is at least supposed to be very lukewarm to Tammany's candidate.

Don't Say Much

Senator Reed is disinclined to discuss his trip in advance. But his friends say that he has become convinced that Smith cannot be nominated at Houston. He believes, they say, that the combination of the southern bitter-enders against Smith and the drys from the west, is too formidable for Smith to overcome, and that in this situation the convention might turn to some one else—some one that both sides can accept without choking. Reed is Protestant and damp, and his record of party service in the Senate for the past six years has been second to none with the possible exception of that of Walsh of Montana.

HUNT FOR SLAYERS OF TWO DEPUTIES

Police Think Prisoners Who Killed Officers Are Hiding in Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—With the fate of John P. Grove and Wallace McClure, Indiana deputy sheriffs, definitely established, a systematic hunt for the slayers was being organized here today.

The bodies of the two Tippecanoe county officers were found yesterday in a thick woods near Covington, Ind., by Charles Abbill, a farmer. The officers had been missing since February 7 when they left Lafayette with two prisoners, Sam Baxter and John Burns, for the Pendleton State Reformatory.

BEDOUIES IN BATTLE

Jerusalem, Feb. 17.—Word was received here today of a fierce battle between Wahabi tribesmen and Bedouins near the Trans-Jordanian frontier in which 250 were killed.

To the hundreds of spectators that thronged the 1 1/2 courtroom here today, a scene of horrors unfolded that created the corridors and the courtyard grounds, the case of "Alma Gatlin vs. Thunderbolt Tom," is a gripping drama.

QUAKES IN MAINE

Milw. Me., Feb. 17.—The thirteenth earth tremor of the past three weeks was felt here early today. A very noticeable shock at 12:30 a. m. was followed almost immediately by distinct jolts.

The first of the sudden epidemic of earth tremors disturbed this town toward the end of the month of January, when five separate ones were felt in the course of a single day.

Aids Daughter Sentenced to Die

Mrs. Hazel Snyder, mother of 20-year-old Doris Palmer McDonald, who is sentenced to hang with her husband at Montreal March 23, for the murder of a taxicab driver, has employed legal aid in Chicago to help her daughter fight for her life. Above, left to right, are Attorney James O'Brien; Mrs. Margaret Gould, former governess of Doris; Mrs. Helen Hartoush, Chicago Women's Protective Association, and Mrs. Snyder.

New Type Gasoline Engine To Revolutionize Aviation

Washington, Feb. 17.—In a laboratory tucked away here in a quiet corner, Army and Navy airplane engineers are working unostentatiously today on a new type of airplane engine which may revolutionize aeronautical science.

It is a gasoline engine based on the principles of the steam turbine. The Army and Navy are working separately on the problem.

Developments thus far have not advanced sufficiently to warrant the engineers prophesying that the new power plant will be an immediate practical success, but they are extremely optimistic over the experiments.

HUNT FOR SLAYERS OF SON IS SUSPECTED

Brother of Stanley Ketchel Once Boxing Champion Is Arrested in Michigan.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 17.—John Ketchel, brother of Stanley Ketchel, middleweight champion who was slain several years ago, was under arrest today in connection with the death of his father, Thomas Ketchel, 74 years old, who was found dead in his barn here yesterday.

DRUNKEN DRIVER FINED

Greenwich, Conn., Feb. 17.—James Bailey, of Stamford, was today fined $100 and costs and sent to jail for ten days by Judge James B. Mead in the town court here after Bailey had been convicted of driving a car while he was under the influence of liquor and reckless driving. Bailey appealed and furnished bail of $500. He was released last night after his car collided with a machine driven by Joseph De Carlo, of Port Chester, on the Post Road here.

NEW HOMES FOR SOLDIERS

Washington, Feb. 17.—To speed up the Army housing program, Rep. James B. McLaughlin, in behalf of a sub-committee of the House military affairs committee, today introduced a bill authorizing expenditures of $12,624,950 for construction.

The bill would bring authorization on the Army's $100,000,000 housing plan to $30,000,000 and would provide quarters for 470 officers and 4,000 non-commissioned soldiers and enlisted men.

U. S. Accepts Plan To Outlaw War On This Hemisphere

AMERICANS PLEAD FOR DOOMED PAIR

McDonalds to Hang on March 16 For Murder Committed In Canada.

Montreal, Que., Feb. 17.—"Why don't they catch Frank Mcullen? How do they know the guilty man didn't escape and let two innocent people suffer for him?"

These questions were asked today by Mrs. McDonald of Portland, Maine, after visiting her son, George McDonald, at Borden. McDonald and his beautiful wife, Doris, were awaiting death for the murder of Adelard Bouchard, a Lachine, Que. taxi driver. McDonald had been a favorite of the Bouchards, and the McDonalds, his wife, Doris, and his beautiful wife, Doris, were awaiting death for the murder of Adelard Bouchard, a Lachine, Que. taxi driver. McDonald had been a favorite of the Bouchards, and the McDonalds, his wife, Doris, and his beautiful wife, Doris, were awaiting death for the murder of Adelard Bouchard, a Lachine, Que. taxi driver.

HUGHES DECLARES NATION IS OPPOSED TO ANY ACT OF AGGRESSION AND DESIRES FORCE ELIMINATED FROM AMERICAS—HIS SPEECH MOST IMPORTANT YET DELIVERED AT CONFERENCE IN HAVANA.

Havana, Feb. 17.—With the whole question of pacific settlement of any possible disputes in the western hemisphere due to come before the Sixth Pan-American conference today, discussion was still centered upon the acceptance by the United States of the proposal to outlaw aggressive war in the new world.

Overshadowing every other measure before the conference and coming at a moment when the deliberations of the commission on international law threatened to collapse into nothingness, the statement of the United States' stand was made dramatically by former Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes.

Emphatically endorsing the resolutions submitted by Mexico "that all aggression be considered illegal and therefore prohibited," Hughes declared in part:

"It is my happy privilege to say for the United States of America that we would join most heartily in a declaration that there shall be no war of aggression in America."

NEW SWINDLING GAME UNEARTHED

Couple Use Girl to Get Furniture and Jewelry From Her Sweetheart.

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 17.—Mrs. and Mr. Michael Nakasians, of 75 Fairfield avenue, were today placed under bonds of $1,000 each for a Police Court hearing on March 9th, when they will be charged with obtaining money under false pretences. The Nakasians were arrested after an investigation of two months, and according to the police after they had obtained $500 in cash and nearly $1,500 worth of merchandise, from Peter Hagopian, a local candy store owner.

LEAPS TO DEATH

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Margaret K. Lewis, wife of Harry H. Lewis, was today leaped from a bedroom on the sixth floor of the Billmore hotel to her death here early today. Her husband, asleep in the same room, was awakened by the wife's screams in the room to see her plunge through the window.

COLUMBIA

Miss Jean Natsch of New York spent the week-end at the home of her mother Mrs. Charles Natsch. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanderson of Manchester were callers at the home of Mrs. Jennie Hunt Tuesday.

Henry Isham has $30 R. I. Red baby chicks hatched in his own incubator this week.

For those who have not yet harvested their ice the outlook is discouraging for the present. Attempts were made Tuesday morning to start cutting at the Lake, but it soon got so sloppy that it was given up. The warm weather since has made it out of the question to get any ice. The heavy rain Tuesday night gullied the roads and mud is so deep on the country roads that the Rural Carriage had to abandon the auto Wednesday in favor of cold Dobbin. The alternate freezing and thawing we have had this winter is also playing havoc with the state roads, a section in front of Raymond Clarke's letter box heaved in Wednesday. The hole has been filled with sand, which is about all that can be done until the weather gets settled.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hutchins, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hutchins and Mrs. Lillian Rice represented the local Grange at the meeting of East Central Pomona held at Seaside Wednesday.

Miss Margaret Blakeley is working at the new Grant store in Williamsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Isham of Hartford spent Monday with Mr. Isham's parents, on their return to Hartford Mrs. J. A. Isham accompanied her son and wife for a visit.

The Lecturers hour of Columbia Grange Wednesday evening was in the form of a Colonial Tea. Eight young ladies dressed in quaint colonial costume danced the minuet, later in the evening also dancing theancers. Those taking part were Mrs. Helen Clarke Mrs. Elise Jacobs, Mrs. Elsie Collins, Miss Harris Field, Miss Marion Holmes, Miss Margaret Blakeley, Mrs. Madeleine Mitchell and Mrs. Junie Squiers. Mrs. Edith Isham sang two old time songs and Mrs. Elsie Collins and Harry Field also sang two.

Henry Isham gave a talk on early laws and customs, and of his recollections of the older times. Tea and coffee were poured by the hostesses, on the occasion, Mrs. Lillian Rice and Miss Lillian Lyman, Sandwiches, cake and candies were served. In spite of the bad travelling a good attendance of Grange members were present and all appreciated the effort and time which the new Lecturer Mrs. Madeleine Mitchell put into it to make it the success that it was.

The Ladies Aid Society met Thursday afternoon at the parsonage 21 ladies being present. The hostesses were Mrs. H. W. Porter, Mrs. Clara Robinson, and Mrs. Harvey Collins. Plans for the annual fair were discussed. It was decided to hold the fair Thursday and Friday, the 18th, and the following chairmen of committees were appointed, to choose their helpers: Fancy table, Miss Harriet Fuller; Apron table, Mrs. Hattie Grace Tucker; Grab-bag, Miss Margaret Hutchins. The supper committee is as follows, more helpers to be added later. Mrs. Lester Hutchins, chairman, Mrs. Henry Hutchins, chairman, Mrs. Henry Hutchins, chairman, Mrs. Annie Dix. At the close of the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed. Fruit salad, sandwiches and coffee were served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Louis Little of East Hampton called on Mrs. Emily Little Thursday afternoon.

Rev. Duane Wain has received from the Missionary Board his appointment as Missionary to Angola, Portuguese West Africa. He will be associated with Mr. Niepp at Ochi-lesse, Mr. Wain and his family expect to sail for Portugal in August, where he will study for a year, at the end of that time going to Africa. He will engage in regular missionary and industrial work. Rev. Mr. Wain has been pastor of the local church for two years and a half, and has made many friends, who will be very sorry to have him leave Columbia.

Westport, Conn., Feb. 17.—George M. Waterbury, 15, a pupil in Norwalk High school, died at his home here today of spinal meningitis after a week's illness. Health authorities say they are confident the disease will not spread because of the time the boy had been out of school.

WHICH PROVES THAT YOU CAN'T BEAT THE IRISH

The Herald's composing room force was working at midnight last night setting the avalanche of Dollar Day advertising. Shortly after the clock struck twelve the telephone rang. The "printer's devil" answered it. "Can you tell me which is correct—either or eyether?"—was the question he heard. "Gee, I don't know—wait a minute," said the devil. He asked everyone in the shop and finally came to The Herald's keenest typesetter. He hasn't "been over" from the "birch country" very long and his Irish got the best of him. "Tell 'em if it's a crossword puzzle they're doin'—ayther will do."

ST. JAMES' CARD PARTY

About 125 attended the first of a series of whist and pinocle games in St. James' School hall on Park street Wednesday night. FOUR CONVENTIONS

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 17.—Convention will get two important food conventions next fall, if plans now being pushed by Thomas Holt, state dairy and food commissioner, materialize. He expects the National Dairy, Food and Drug Association, 150 strong, to meet here on October 8, and the International Association of Dairy and Milk Inspectors to meet at New Haven when the local convention ends. Prof. Ira Hiscox, of Yale, is president of the second association.

7 OVERCOME BY SMOKE

Worcester, Mass., Feb. 17.—Five firemen and two patrolmen were overcome during a fire in Bay State hotel early today. Seventy-five guests, including actors and actresses were aroused by the fire and escaped without difficulty. The hotel is a four story brick building. The fire loss was estimated at $30,000.

JACKSON'S DEFENSE

Indianapolis, Feb. 17.—Defense evidence of Governor Ed Jackson will be revealed to the public, despite Jackson's court-martial acquittal, on charges of conspiracy to bribe former Governor Warren T. McCray, his attorneys announced here today. "When the indictment against his co-defendants, George V. Coffin and Ralph L. Marsh, is disposed of, Gov. Jackson will reveal to the public his evidence," the statement of the lawyers said. "As his attorneys we have confidence that it will be such as to convince fair-minded persons that the charge of any wrongdoing or criminal act on his part is wholly without foundation and fact."

WOMAN FINED $300

Stamford, Conn., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Lillian Nichols, of East Norwalk, was today fined a total of $300, and costs for practicing medicine without a license. Mrs. Nichols, who was arrested last Saturday and placed against her, the first being a fine of $150 and the others fines of $75 each.

Mrs. May Palmer, of Stamford, witness against Mrs. Nichols, gets $75 of the fine totals under a state law. Mrs. Palmer, who served time in Bridgeport as a drug addict, charged Mrs. Nichols gave her powders which caused her downfall.

AUTO SPEED TESTS

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 17.—Frank Lockhart, America's contender for the world's speed record during the "international speed classic" here, planned to try out his ice-cooled Stutz Special on the beach today preparatory to tomorrow's world record try. J. M. White's triplex machine, which was ruled out earlier in the week because of the lack of gears in the racer, will be remodeled immediately to conform with American Automobile Association's eligibility rules so that it can contest for the world's speed crown.

AUTOPSY ORDERED

New Bedford, Mass., Feb. 17.—District Attorney William C. Crosby today ordered an autopsy performed upon the bodies of Miss Sarah Tootle, beauty parlor owner, and Charles Simone, Providence salesman. The two bodies were found in an apartment-showroom earlier in the week. The action of District Attorney Crosby was unexpected here because of the verdict of death from carbon monoxide gas that was rendered by Associate Medical Examiner Charles Shanks. Some officials thought a gas heater had been tampered with.

PLANE PILOT HURT

Levering, Mich., Feb. 17.—Lieut. Hoyt L. Prindle, of the first pursuit group, U. S. Army Air Corps, Selfridge Field, Mount Clemens, Mich., was badly injured here today in attempting to take off from an extremely small and rough field. The plane fell about 100 feet landing on its back. Lieut. Prindle was crushed in the cockpit and it was nearly 20 minutes before other pilots could extricate him. He was unconscious but regained consciousness on the way to a hospital at Petoskey.

EDDIE FOSTER'S FUNERAL

Jennings, of Bristol, will preside. Lawson is charged with setting fire to a Westport house in December. He is in the jail here in default of $10,000 bail.

U. S. GOLD SITUATION

Washington, Feb. 17.—Uncle Sam can lose $2,250,000.00 in gold without deflation or traversing on governmental or federal reserve system requirements. This decision has been reached by government economists after a thorough study of the gold situation, it was learned today. It serves to allay some apprehension felt by the considerable reduction in the country's gold reserve last year. There is no probability that the United States will lose 2-1/2 billion in gold unless world and domestic finances undergo a tremendous upheaval.

CHARGES UNFOUNDED

Washington, Feb. 17.—Charles of incompetency lodged against Col. Henry L. Stickney, medical officer in charge of the Veterans Bureau hospital at Rutland Heights, Mass., are unfounded, Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, director, announced today. "I do find, however, that some of the complaints are substantiated, and it appears that Col. Stickney in some instances, has not exercised the tact and diplomacy necessary in dealing with sick men. In these matters corrective steps will be or have been taken." Hines said the investigation was made by a committee of professional men outside the bureau.

CROWDS PRESENT AT ALEX. TROTTER FUNERAL

Profusion of Flowers—Firemen and Masonic Lodges Send Delegations.

Alexander Trotter of East Center street, one of Manchester's prominent citizens, was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the family plot in the new section of the East cemetery. The services at the home on East Center street were very largely attended by representatives of the Masonic and other organizations of which he was a member, by relatives from this and distant towns and by a host of friends.

Rev. J. Stuart Neill of St. Mary's Episcopal church of which Mr. Trotter had been a life long member was the officiating clergyman, and was assisted by Rev. Watson Woodruff of Center Congregational church of which Miss Hazel Trotter is director of religious education. The bearers were friends and close business associates of Mr. Trotter, as follows: Dr. Howard Boyd, Dr. Ward Green, George W. Stratton, Harry Trotter, Roy Norris and Louis Martz.

Representatives of the Veteran Firemen of Hose Company No. 4 in which Mr. Trotter was active in years past who attended were: Chief Albert Foy, Harry McCormick, William Taylor and Albert Crawford. Delegations from Manchester Lodge of Masons included Harold Preston, who is acting master during the illness of James McCaw, Holger Bach, Benjamin Cadman, John Cullen and John D. Henderson, Sr.

During the service the Colonial Male quartet of Hartford sang "Abide With Me" and "Gathering Home," and before the committal service at the grave Maurice Walen, first tenor and director of the quartet sang "Asleep in Jesus."

The profession of beautiful floral tributes bore testimony to the esteem in which Mr. Trotter was held by friends and organizations. From Delta Chapter, R. A. M. No. 15, of which Mr. Trotter was a member came an exquisite set piece representing the keystone emblem in red roses, carnations and galax leaves. From Manchester Lodge of Masons came a large wreath of roses and white sweet peas. From Center church a large spray of pink carnations; from Center church Girl Reserves a wreath of pink roses and sweet peas on galax leaves; from Center Church "Tribadours," a spray of white Killarney roses; from the beginner's department of Center church a spray of white carnations; from Hose Company No. 4 a large standing wreath of pink roses, orchid sweet peas, lilies of the valley; from Elmwood & Rolston company a large wreath of pink roses and sweet peas. There were numerous standing wreaths and plaques from individual personal and business friends from this and other towns.

KIWANIANS TO SHOW ACTIVITY MATERIAL

Kiwanis clubs all over the country have received a communication from the chairman of the committee on publicity on the subject of material for exhibits, which will be used at district conventions or special exhibits. No club will have a general exhibit in the best will be included with material from other clubs, and it is suggested that gloss print pictures of activities, inter-club meetings and special occasions; all good program and announcement cards, menus or pamphlets be submitted to the Under-privileged child, vocational guidance, better relationship between the farmer and city man, the promotion of better business standards should be mailed to the international headquarters for display purposes.

Each year in June a large exhibit is arranged at the international convention in the United States and Canada. The selection and shipment of this exhibit material is in charge of the president, secretary and chairman of committee on publicity of each individual club.

ANDOVER

Rev. J. H. Fitzgerald of Bayridge, N. Y., and Miss Gertrude Lewis of New Haven were recent dinner guests of Mr. Fitzgerald's mother and sister Mrs. Helen Fitzgerald and Mrs. Lewis Phelps.

At the court before Judge Sumner last Saturday afternoon in the Town Hall, concerning the custody of the children the mother was removed as guardian and the father, William Cunningham was appointed guardian as long as he left the children where they are.

Mrs. Thomas Lewis, had the misfortune to fall down the cellar stairs Tuesday afternoon, but fortunately did not break any bones, but is very lame.

There were about 20 members present at the silver tea given by the Ladies Benevolent society at the home of Mrs. Yeoman Thibault. The speaker was Mrs. Martin Welles of Hartford. Tea was served by Mrs. Raymond Halsted, Mrs. Harry Milburn and Mrs. E. M. Yeomans. Mrs. Lewis was to have been one of the hostesses but was unable to be present.

The Andover-Rockville basketball game Thursday evening was a very interesting game. The Rockville boys won by one point. Madagascar's surplus crocodiles are to be skinned for bookbinding and shoe leather. Their fat is to be used in the treatment of rheumatism and other diseases.

LET LINDBERGH ALONE, SAYS COL. MITCHELL

flight from Paris to New York and who are now being entertained in New York, both expressed the opinion that Lindbergh should be by all means continue to fly.
"Why, it would break Lindbergh's heart if he couldn't soar the skies, wherever he pleased, in his beloved 'Spirit of St. Louis,' said Lebrich. "He is like any other aviator—he must get up into the air. It's his life work. To stay on the ground, or to have his flying restricted to small hops, would crush a man of Lindbergh's type."
Not Dangerous
"Neither Costes or myself think that flying is dangerous. We feel perfectly safe and at home in the air, even when making long jumps over water. I am sure Lindbergh must feel the same way. Flying isn't dangerous—at any rate not to the men who know their business."
"Lindbergh has more than mere daring. He has courage and judgment. He has wonderful air instinct. If anyone is capable of making experimental flights that have for their object the advancement of the science of aviation, Lindbergh is. And I don't believe he can be induced to keep from taking the risks all pioneer airmen gladly take."
Eddie Rickenbacker, America's flying "Ace" during the World War,

WOULD BE PREMIER

Paris, Feb. 17.—Prof. Jorga, former president of the Rumanian Chamber of Deputies, and tutor to Prince Carol, the former heir to the Rumanian throne, who is in Paris for a series of lectures at the Sorbonne University, told International News Service this afternoon he is willing to accept the premiership if it is offered to him.
Asked if Carol would return to Rumania if he took over the government, Prof. Jorga replied: "Doubtless he would."

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY FOR MRS. LOMBARDI

Mrs. Henrietta Lombardi of West Center street was tendered a birthday surprise party at her home last evening. Guests to the number of 25 were present from Hartford, Bolton and Manchester. The table and dining room was beautifully decorated in pink and white, with centerpiece of sweet peas in the same colors. Another object of interest was a large beautifully decorated fruit cake with 40 lighted tapers.
Among the entertainers were Emil Brochetti who played accordion solos, Albert Larson, John Lombardi and Eugene Bada of Hartford who sang, Miss Eva Wagner and Miss Rose Bender, both of Hartford, danced, the former the Kinkajou and the latter the Black Bottom. Banjo and mandolin numbers were given by Samuel Erwin and Joseph Fraser of Hartford. Luncheon was served and the merriment continued until a late hour.

Mrs. Lombardi was remembered with useful gifts.
A Russian airman-inventor is preparing to build a man-carrying "bird" of featherweight metal alloys. The wings will be flapped and receive a "feathering" motion by apparatus worked by the pilot's arms and legs.

NEW BOY ACTOR STARS IN STATE'S PROGRAM

Frankie Darro in "Little Mickey Grogan" Today and Saturday.

America's famous new boy actor is starred in the principal of the two features being shown at the State theater today and tomorrow. His first starring vehicle is "Little Mickey Grogan," a story of the side-walks of New York. The other feature on the double bill is "The Silver Slave," with Irene Rich in the leading role.

"Little Mickey Grogan" is the story of a homeless waif (Frankie Darro) who spends most of his time dodging policemen and truant officers. With the opening of the picture he is seen exploring a pile of refuse at the city dump. He engages in a hand-to-hand encounter with a cute little girl whose screen name is Susan, and they are halted by Crooked, a philosopher of the dump grounds. It is explained in the subtitles that the city dump furnishes livelihood for a strange fraternity of human derelicts who explore the rubbish piles for things that still might be saleable.

The five o'clock whistles take Little Mickey Grogan and Susan to a factory where Mickey sells an artificial flower to a pretty girl and begins his great adventure.

Irene Rich has never been so wistfully appealing as in "The Silver Slave" and the daughter is played by the beautiful Audrey Ferris, one of the younger Hollywood finds. The cast includes Holmes Herbert as the banished lover of the mother's youth, and John Miljan who plays a rich young man-about-town, who is amazed to find that the older woman's love is recititious. Carol Nye acts delightfully as the young lover, who finally wins the finger. Howard Bretherton directed. The picture is based on a story by Howard Smith and the scenario was written by Peter

Milne. Don't miss "The Silver Slave."

On Sunday and Monday the State shows that marvelous picture, "The Student Prince," starring Ramon Novarro, Norma Shearer and Jean Hersholt.

ANOTHER UNSOLICITED TRIBUTE FOR ALL-BRAN

Good news for sufferers from constipation

Mrs. Kiell sat down and wrote us a letter when she had proved ALL-BRAN a safe "sure-cure" for constipation.

"I have been using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN for quite some time and I want to tell you how much I appreciate it. I have found it a sure-cure for constipation, and know it is a remarkable regulator for the stomach.

Perhaps you know what a terrible affliction constipation is. Blighting wherever it thrives. Ruining health. Marring beauty. Causing headaches, back pains, foul breath, loss of sleep—indeed, leading to more than forty serious diseases.

COLOSSAL WESTERN
EPIC NOW AT RIALTO

"Men of Daring" Here Today and Saturday—Marie Prevost in Co-Feature.

All the romance and adventure of the old Overland Trail of the '70's is to be found in the all starting to the Rialto theater commencing today and continuing through Saturday evening. The picture itself has been titled "Men of Daring," in memory of the pioneers who braved their way over the old wagon-rutted highway that once wound its way through the Dakotas. It was directed by Albert Rosell, and is Universal's most recent Blue Streak Western. The story revolves principally around the adventures of three daring scouts calling themselves "Jack," "Ace," and "King," with "Jack" being the leader. This role is played by Jack Hoxie, who is recognized as one of the screen's greatest cowboy actors. "Men of Daring" is hailed from coast to coast as the most stupendous and gigantic western production that has thus far reached the screen. Critics claim it to be even far better than "The Covered Wagon."

The companion-feature is Marie Prevost in "Getting Gertie's Garter," her latest Pathe-Desmette comedy-drama. This dainty little star contributed a score of successful productions during the past year to the silent drama. Among them were such pictures as "Almost a Lady" and "Man Bait," both of which were seen at the Rialto recently. In "Getting Gertie's Garter," Miss Prevost surpasses all of her previous efforts. Included in her supporting cast is Charles Ray, one of Manchester's old favorites.

The current chapter of "Hawk of the Hills" and an Our Gang comedy will be shown in conjunction with the two features.

Rin Tin Tin, famous dog star of the films, comes to the Rialto on Sunday and Monday in "A Dog of the Regiment," his latest and greatest starring vehicle.

WAPPING

The Sunday School social which at first was to be held this evening, has been postponed until one week from tonight, February 24 at the Parish House.

There were ten members of Wapping Grange who motored to East Windsor last Wednesday and attended the session of East Central Pomona Grange No. 3.

Harry P. Files of Boston, Mass spent the week-end with his family at his home here.

Miss Elizabeth Peterson, who has been quite ill at her home with tonsillitis has improved and returned to her school on Tuesday.

Miss Miriam Welles of Avery street purchased a five passenger Dodge sedan, recently.

The Christian Endeavor Society held a Valentine social at the school house on Wednesday evening.

The Pleasant Valley club will hold their "postpone" whilst at the Pleasant Valley School House this evening.

The Friendly Indians held their meeting at the Parish House on Monday afternoon, and after the business meeting basketball was practiced.

Mrs. Edgar J. Stoughton and daughter, Miss Martha Stoughton, motored to Black Point and spent the week-end at their cottage there. There were twenty-seven ladies who met at the home of Mrs. Nettie W. Stoughton on Wednesday afternoon for the Federated Workers meeting. Mrs. Bertha S. Nevers assisted Mrs. Stoughton as hostess.

The Pioneers of Junior Y. M. C. A. held their weekly meeting at the Parish House on Tuesday afternoon with their leader, Rev. Truman H. Woodward.

Mrs. William Felt is ill at her home and under the doctor's care. She has bronchitis and grip.

Rev. Truman H. Woodward will conduct the study class in "The Parables of Jesus," of the Nutmeg Trail Epworth League Institute this evening at East Hartford.

Rev. Elmer A. Thines, Hartford County Y. M. C. A. secretary will speak at the Christian Endeavor meeting next Sunday evening, and at the regular church service at 7:30. He will tell of his personal travels through Gettysburg and other Civil War places of interest. Little Joan, daughter of Rev.

and Mrs. Truman H. Woodward, was ill at their home on Wednesday evening, but was reported much better on Thursday.

A MANCHESTER ODDITY

There is trick or mannerism common to a not inconsiderable proportion of the passengers on Manchester trolley cars which it would be difficult to run across elsewhere, for two reasons. The first reason is that not many places can produce trolley cars with the ancient longitudinal seats where the passenger rides sideways with his back to the windows; such vehicles having for the most part fallen into the dust of decay. The second reason is that nowhere else could the trick be gotten away with—for Manchester, in the placidity and patience of its public, is without a peer.

This is the oddity: A local trolley, capable of accommodating eighteen or twenty persons on each of its low long seats, is carrying say ten or a dozen passengers, pretty well bunched at the front end of the car. Between the passenger in the front left hand corner and the next passenger is a space of some six inches. Enters a lady who could use two and a half feet of seating room. By taking five or six steps down the car she could find vacant sitting space by the yard. But having paid for a ride she does not propose to walk—not even those four or five steps. She flings herself, backward, at the six-inch space. If she lands all over the person in the corner and the next person she does not mind. She is strong in the knowledge that her two hundred-odd pounds of crushing power will eventually compel the next-to-the-end passenger to crowd and push at the second-from-the-end, and No. 3 to push and crowd at No. 4, and so on, till the whole line has moved down one place, permitting the fat interloper to settle down to the level of the settee—where she sits in stolid state until it is time for her to get off, or until some other fat woman comes in and sits down on her, when the performance is repeated.

This is not a matter of habit with just an occasional individual. Anyone who travels on the local lines will recognize the phenomenon as being so common as to be a mere matter of course.

It is, of course, perfectly outrageous, the perfection of ill manners and of selfish lack of consideration. But so long as better bred folks yield, so long will the practice go on.

But some day some long suffering rider, who many times has been jammed and crowded this way while there were any number of empty seats in the car, is going to thumb tack with a large, thin head and stand it on his or her knee, head down, when one of these manoeuvres is undertaken. Then will justice, come into her own.

THE TYPE

It is probably something of a puzzle to certain worthy people, to try to understand why so many newspapers which strive for good citizenship and which labor profoundly to bring about appreciation of the better things of life nevertheless attack with great frequency the Anti-Saloon League and its works. Perhaps the case of Dr. Marna S. Poulson, state superintendent of the League in New Jersey, may provide some illumination.

A great many of the prominent workers and officials of the Anti-Saloon League are men of seriously one-sided development. They discovered, along with a great many other people, that drunkenness was a curse. Developing the natural and laudable idea of doing something to eradicate the curse, they, because of their lop-sidedness, permitted the idea to become an obsession. And, again because of their lop-sidedness, they never could develop patience enough to go to work in any slow, sure, scientifically effective way to attain their purpose. Very few people with an obsession are either scientific or patient.

So they made up their minds to sure in a moment, willy-nilly, an evil that had been growing for ten thousand years. They would compel the salvation of the nation by the stroke of a pen. They put over prohibition.

Having done that they fancied that they had achieved, gloriously, at a blow, what all the world had failed to do over a period of many centuries. When presently they saw that their victory was an empty one and its results just nothing, they became angry. They blamed, not their own headlong scrambling misfit hurry, but everybody and everything else. And in their anger they began to talk wildly and scatter abuse, right and left. Also they evolved the Machiavellian idea that the end justifies the means and that a lie told in support of prohibition was a righteous thing.

So it was quite in order for Dr. Poulson, the New Jersey man, to call in a group of reporters and tell them that he had complete evidence that substantially everybody in official life in Newark, including a number of judges, was a crook, in league with lawbreakers, organized vice and organized opposition to the prohibitory laws. He named names and made a whale of a stir.

Yesterday Poulson was fined $500 for supplying the newspapers with criminally libelous information. It had been proved beyond question that there was not a shred of truth to any of his charges. His own lawyer learned to his amazement that a list of fifteen cases in which a certain judge was alleged to him appeared as counsel for liquor law violators, the list having been supplied by the Anti-Saloon League, was a fabrication, and that the judge had never been connected with a single one of the cases. Whereupon the lawyer made a most sensational apology to the libeled judge and to the court and audience. His client had well nigh ruined him by lying to him.

Poulson's case is exceptional only in degree. We believe he believed the tripe he told to the reporters. He is a mere fanatic, excited, eager to believe anything that will support his fanaticism. But he could do no more harm if he lied deliberately and in cold blood. He would do infinitely less harm by being a common drunkard or a bootlegger, because the drunkard and the bootlegger serve to disgust normal people with drunkenness and to drive them toward temperance and decency—and the Poulsons serve to disgust decent people with temperance and drive them toward drunkenness and the bootlegger for cleaner companionship.

The sternest critics of the Anti-Saloon League are not rummies or rummy newspapers, but journals that follow ideals of a higher civilization, better public morality and manners, and above all honesty, candor and human kindness.

EDDIE FOY

Seventy-one is old age for a man who made his first appearance behind the footlights at fifteen and for more than half a century thereafter had been continuously in the public eye as a provoker of laughter. In his fifty-six years on the stage Eddie Foy might fairly be said to have lived a hundred times as much, if not so long, as some patriarch of a hundred whose life had been spent placidly watching the seasons come and go in one little valley between utterly familiar hills. The hundreds of thousands of miles of travel, the plaudits of thousands upon thousands of audiences, the learning and rehearsing of scores upon scores of parts, the infinite variety of associations, the sophisticated acquaintance with hotels and dressing rooms of every conceivable degree, the friendships of hundreds of notable persons in every walk of life, the zest of oft-repeated success, the warmth and laughing sympathy of crowd after crowd all over a vast country—all these things going on endlessly year after year and decade after decade, what a total of experiences they sum up to!

"Quit!" exclaimed Foy a little while ago, "not if I tumble over into the orchestra pit!"

He didn't quite do that. But he played his act out, went to his hotel, was ill a little while and died early in the morning. He picked up his cue with his inevitable promptitude—there was no stage wait in the passing of Eddie Foy. And when you think of it in terms of doing and being—what a long, long life he had!

IN INDIANA

It did not add to the credibility of the evidence against Governor Jackson of Indiana, just acquitted of the charge of bribery, that the most important two witnesses against him bore the stigma of imprisonment—one for murder, and the other for using the mails to defraud. But there are a good many people in this country, nevertheless, who are not convinced that former Governor McCray was an intentional criminal, and his corroboration of the sworn statement of D. C. Stephenson, former Indiana boss and Klan magnate, that Jackson vainly tried to bribe McCray with $10,000 to appoint a Klan prosecutor in Marion county, carried weight with the public. It was with the jury.

FACTS ABOUT CONNECTICUT
Compiled by the CONNECTICUT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

(68) POLISHES; GLASS CUTTING; GARTERS

Connecticut manufactures one-eighth of the cleaning and polishing preparations made in the United States. The annual value of production of seven plants is approximately $4,300,000. More than 200 persons are engaged in this industry. Their yearly salaries and wages total about $269,000. New York leads all states in total value of product in this industry, the output of 44 plants in that state being worth $7,321,214. Other states whose output is worth more than Connecticut's are Michigan and Illinois. During 1900 the value of Connecticut's production in this industry was $103,437, only 4.7% of the total for the United States.

From 1.6% of the total value of production in the glass cutting, staining and ornamenting industry in the United States during 1900, the value of Connecticut's product has increased to 6.5% of the United States total. The value in 1900 was $142,572; today it is $1,338,000. Nearly 300 persons are engaged in this industry in Connecticut. The payroll amounts to more than $300,000 annually, and materials cost $1,212,000. New York factories turn out more products in this industry than any other state. Pennsylvania is second, Ohio third, and Connecticut fourth.

More than a million dollars worth of suspenders, starters and other elastic goods made from purchased webbing are turned out by Connecticut factories annually. The value of Connecticut's output is 4.8% of the total for the United States, which averages $1,327,479. Illinois, New York and Massachusetts in the order named precede Connecticut in the value of products in this industry.

WASHINGTON LETTER
 BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington.—The government now owns 800 commercial ships, more than 400 of which are being operated.

All but a half-dozen transatlantic passenger liners are farmed out to private operators, who are compensated by the Shipping Board.

About 1700 ships have been disposed of since the war—scrapped or sold to private concerns. The end of the war found us with a vast surplus of ships. Since that time our war-built vessels still in operation, gradually growing old, have been less and less able to compete with new and faster foreign shipping, so that our merchant marine has gradually declined.

This merchant marine, now carrying a third of our foreign trade, cost the government $16,000,000 last year, but the Shipping Board deficit has been rapidly decreasing. It amounted to $75,000,000 in 1921.

In two or three years, our best ships will be inferior in almost every respect to the best ships of our competitors, according to shipping experts. That is why Congress wants to replace the existing lines with new and better vessels.

The Shipping Board merchant marine service now operates 28 liners, most of them across the Atlantic by striking the major ports of every continent.

It is these lines, with their ships flying the American flag, that backers of a government merchant marine seek to perpetuate by providing for a replacement program.

The Shipping Board's replacement program calls for construction of 15 ships a year for 15 years at an annual cost of between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000.

While our industrial output has increased and while our ships have been repaired, our merchant marine is not replaced, other nations have been building new and faster ships at a rapid rate.

Between 1922 and 1927, shipbuilding statistics show, Great Britain turned out 882 ships for transportable service of more than 2000 gross tons each, a total gross tonnage of nearly 5,000,000. That compares with our 18 ships of less than 200,000 tons. Germany, France, Italy and Japan were all far ahead of us in shipbuilding.

Ships building in progress at the first of this year was 1,200,000 tons greater than a year before, according to a world survey. But work on hand in American shipyards had decreased 45 per cent in that time. The United States had 97,370 tons building as compared with 1,573,713 for Great Britain and India. Also of tons were Britain, Germany, Italy, Holland, France, Sweden and Denmark.

These figures, it has been pointed out, are taken from a period in which the future of the American merchant marine depended on private initiative and individual ownership and during which the government sold as many of its ships as possible instead of building new ones.

If the Jones bill declaring a government merchant marine policy becomes a law—

"It will," says Senator Jones, "encourage American shippers to employ American ships, insure employment of American shipyards, stimulate the ship-building industry, and then maintain maritime rank commensurate with its rank as a seapower, provide a constant stimulus to expansion of our foreign trade, assure the government to provide auxiliaries and means of protection for our exports and reasonable rates on them, strengthen our navy, prevent foreign combinations to drive American ships out of business, keep at home the money paid for shipping charges, and commit us to building up a new and indispensable great American industry."

CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE THAT McCRAY WAS FRAMED WHEN HE WAS CONVICTED OF THE POSTAL FRAUDS IS LACKING. But the belief is growing that he would never have gone to prison, never have been disgraced, even, if he had played the game according to the wishes of the Ku Klux Klan.

SHIPS

Pigs may be pigs, but it is hard to put over the principle that ships are ships when we read of the government selling twenty-one ocean going freighters for a little less than two million dollars for the lot and then contemplating the building of cruisers as several million dollars each. When the cost of a perfectly useless cruiser equals one hundred and seventy times the price of a perfectly useful freighter the question suggests itself whether it is good economy to build navies for the theoretical purpose of guarding our merchant ships. Particularly when nobody is in the least likely to interfere with the merchant ships, whereas the building of an armada of cruisers is practically certain to intrigue some other nation, sooner or later, into trying to sink them—provided they do not run on rocks of their own accord.

MEAT SUPPLY

A few weeks ago the press of the country was being supplied with figures, derived from so many sources that they were almost convincing, which showed that the supply of meat animals was gradually but steadily shrinking. These figures are supplied to account for the high price of meats, beef especially, in the face of a slowly but steadily declining market on other foods.

It is interesting, in view of those figures, to note the car loadings reported for the week ending Feb. 4, just made public. Car loadings as a whole, as was to have been expected, showed a comparatively small decrease as compared with the corresponding week of last year. But the car loadings of livestock rose from 27,728 in 1927 to 35,277 for the 1928 week, or an increase of 7,549 cars. If, in the face of a steadily shrinking supply, there is an increase of more than 20 per cent in the number of food animals sent to market, what is the answer? Our guess is that the scarcity is the creation of skilled accountants working under orders.

SENATE TO PROBE COAL SITUATION

Washington, Feb. 17.—The Senate's inquiry into conditions in the bituminous coal fields will get under way early next week before the Interstate Commerce Committee, it was announced today by Senator Johnson, Republican of Calif., who sponsored the investigation.

The inquiry will go into all questions relating to the long strike in the bituminous fields of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. It will deal specifically with the conditions under which the families of strikers have been living for many months past.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, who visited the mine regions a week ago, probably will play a leading part in the inquiry. After inspecting the mining communities, where hundreds of miners were expelled from company houses and forced to live in mid-winter under temporary shelter, Wheeler declared the conditions were "intolerable." His opinion was shared by Rep. La Guardia, Republican of New York, who demanded that Congress do something to relieve suffering in the families of strikers.

The question of relief will be one of the most perplexing ever considered by a Congressional committee. The government at present is powerless to end the strike. It was pointed out, and it had such power, could do little toward ending the conditions now existing in the bituminous fields. Economic experts will tell the committee that the condition is a result of overproduction of soft coal and an oversupply of bituminous miners.

EXILED FROM HOME

Redwood City, Cal.—Unless his mother leaves San Mateo County, Roy Pelton, 19, will never again have the opportunity to strike her. Found guilty of this charge in a show trial, a machine that dried the county and to stay away from the remainder of his life.

LINDBERGH BILLS - FLOOD CONGRESS

Washington, Feb. 17.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today took his place along with pensions, prohibition and post offices as one of Congress' "pet" legislative subjects.

"Lindbergh bills" are being tossed into the hoppers with amazing regularity. The newest batch of proposals to honor the famous young flier include:

The purchase of the Lindbergh homestead at Little Falls, Minn., erection of a hospital thereon, providing a Lindbergh museum at St. Louis; and creating a research fund for him. Rep. Vale, Farmer-Laborite of Minnesota, is the author.

Printing of Lindbergh postage stamps for stamp collectors, by Rep. Ackerman, Republican of New Jersey.

Resolution thanking him for his good-will tour of Latin-America, by Rep. Connally, Democrat of Texas.

Coinage of 20,000,000 fifty cent pieces to be sold at $1 each to provide a $10,000,000 research fund for him, by Rep. Aligood, Democrat of Alabama.

A pending bill, by Rep. Kelly, Republican of Penna., provides for a Lindbergh statue at Le Bourget Field, Paris, and Representative Tilson, Republican of Connecticut and Senator Curtis, Republican of Kansas are fathering a bill to issue a special Lindbergh medal.

The new measures are the direct result of his recent tour. The first wave of "Lindbergh bills" brought the award of the Congressional Medal of Honor.

PUBLIC RECORDS

The following warrant deeds were filed at the Town clerk's office for public record today: Edward J. Holl to Nora A. Curtis, lot on Loomis street, so-called, 50 by 165 feet.

Madalena Raccagni to Daniel Civiello, Lydall street property, 50 by 146 feet.

Catherine Tammany to James J. and Elsie Murphy, property on Strickland street, frontage, 65 feet.

MILL BURNS DOWN

Providence, R. I., Feb. 17.—A $250,000 fire ruined the plant of the Rhode Island Processing Mill Co., at Coventry Center today, destroying the three acre plant, practically all the machinery and a large quantity of yarn that was ready for shipment. The cause of the fire was unknown, but fire officials were inclined to the belief that it started from spontaneous combustion of waste.

More than 100 workers will be out of employment as a result of the burning of the mill.

HOSPITAL GIFT LIST WAS FOR MONTH ONLY

Yesterday's Article Did Not Mention All Who Have Contributed During Past Year.

Hundreds of gifts were given to Memorial Hospital during the past year by thoughtful persons. Miss Hannah Malmgren, superintendent of the institution, said today through a misunderstanding a list of names of donors was published yesterday purporting to be for the entire year. Instead they were only for the month of January and consequently Miss Malmgren asked for a correction of the false impression in order that no one would feel slighted in not being included in the list.

ST. MARY'S Y. M. WILL RETURN ELM CITY VISIT

Members of St. Mary's Young Men's club will return tomorrow the visit paid to them two weeks ago by the Trinity Boy's club of New Haven, which is directed by Samuel Massey of this town.

The trip to New Haven will be made by automobile. A basketball and volley ball team will make the trip, as well as the star bowlers and pocket billiard players of the club.

REC NOTES

The women of the Monday and Wednesday gym classes at the School street Recreation Center will meet on Monday evening at 7 o'clock for Washington's Birthday party in the gym.

Miss Calhoun announces that there is still room for a few more pupils in the new public swimming classes which were organized this week.

The life saving class, which fits girls for the Red Cross life saving test, has recently graduated a number of girls who have passed their tests and received their emblems and certificates.

The Senate public lands committee probably will resume its inquiry next week with Will H. Hays, former Republican national chairman, and George White and Wilbur Marsh, former Democratic national treasurers, summoned as witnesses.

Hays will be asked to explain a $75,000 contribution to the Republican campaign fund of 1920 by Harry F. Sinclair, which turned out to have been in bonds once owned by the Continental.

The Democratic officials will be called to learn whether Sinclair ever paid over any Continental bonds to the Democratic Party in the 1920 campaign, Sinclair once told the committee he had contributed to the Democrats but he would not remember how much.

Attached to the Royal Scot, express locomotive which runs between London and Carlisle, is a dynamometer car in which an instrument that tells the speed, draw-bar pull and distance run of the train.

A. O. H. ST. PATRICK'S DAY BALL WILL BE ITS 51ST

For 50 years Manchester Division No. 1, A. O. H., has held a ball on St. Patrick's day, March 17, in this town. The ball will be held again this year, the 51st in the history of the organization.

This body is divided into sub-committees as follows: Advertising, John P. Tierney, James McSherry, Arthur McGowan, music and hall, John Fahey and Raymond Fogarty.

A seven-piece orchestra to be announced later, will furnish the music.

"TIED, DYED" GIRLS LADIES' NIGHT HIT

Gypsy Revue Entertains Get Together Club Members, Wives and Friends.

The "Gypsy Girl Revue" a musical sketch featuring local jokes, popular songs, and "tied-and-dyed" scenery, was the hit of last night's Get Together club Ladies' Night held in Cheney hall. About 300 attended the affair which began with a roast turkey dinner at 6:30. The Get Together club's Ladies Night is the only general social affair which brings together Cheney silk workers, their wives and friends.

The waiters, men from all departments of the plant and headed by Clifford Cheney, led the march to the dinner tables. Filling into the lower hall the guests found the tables prettily decorated and with an excellent menu all ready for them. Fruit cocktail was the first course, followed by olives, pickles and celery, roast turkey, dressing, sweet peas, ice cream, cakes and coffee. The dinner was prepared by Chef Urbano J. Osano.

After Dinner Songs

During the dinner old favorites were sung with Fred J. Bendall leading. Bill Waddell's orchestra played. Attendance prizes were awarded and Samuel Herron who won the gentlemen's prize was called on for a couple of his favorite songs. Sam favored with the song about the man and his dog who went to mow the hay. Sam got as far as the thirteenth man who went to mow before his lung capacity was taxed. He encored with his song about the wild man from Borneo, family, dog, fleas, et al, just coming to town. Herb Ingham, with John Hood accompanying him at the piano, sang his famous song about his dear "Martha." Herb got a big hand but he didn't encore.

President Herman E. Montie invited the gathering to the main hall to see the "Gypsy Girl Revue". This show was staged by Miss Emily Kissman and those who took part were Helene Cuddey, Violet Pelletier, Emily Pillard, Nan Taggart, Clara Jackmore, Irene Brennan, Helen Gustafson, Eva Armstrong, Helen Fredericksen, Albina Jamrog, Grace Hatch, Mildred Wright, Doris Lan ton, Marie Fliere, Helen Boudreau, and Bradley and Smith, two local saxophone and banjo players.

The Entertainers

Miss Cuddey was the leader of the gypsy band and favored with several songs in her pleasing soprano voice. Miss Pelletier exhibited her prowess as a dancer doing a Black Bottom and Charleston like a professional. Miss Pillard and Mrs. Brennan sang together and showed that the warp room can produce harmony as well as good work. Mrs. Nan Taggart and her sister, Clara Jackmore, cleverly executed an "East Side, West Side" dance. Miss Pillard sang and did it so well, she had to repeat it. Miss Boudreau, Miss Cuddey and others in the revue sang comic verses about prominent people in the mills, and Bradley and Smith played several instrumental numbers.

Dancing Following the entertainment the floor was cleared for dancing. Modern numbers, square dances and a Paul Jones or two made an enjoyable dancing party. Bill Waddell's seven piece orchestra, featuring two pianos, played for the dancing. Cornelius Foley, prompted for the square numbers.

The approximate geographical center of the United States is located at a point in the eastern part of Smith County, Kansas.

CARPENTER IS BURIED UNDER FALLEN HOUSES

Three Buildings in New York Collapse—One Killed Several Injured.

New York, Feb. 17.—Somewhere under tons of brick, flaked mortar and twisted beams that for half a century had been three houses in Eighth avenue above 52nd street, a subway worker was held prisoner today while scores of fellow employees and city firemen labored feverishly to reach him.

The victim is Peterson Carroll, a carpenter. He was trapped with two others when the ancient dwellings tumbled into a cut of the new subway in Eighth avenue.

Jack Flynn was killed by the avalanche of bricks, and his brother, Frank, was seriously injured when he attempted to aid the buried man.

MONTHS TO SPARE FINISHING SCHOOL.

Porter Street Building, Due To Be Done in August, Ready in May, Probably.

The new two-story brick school-house being erected on Porter street in the Third District, will be completed far ahead of schedule, it was learned today. The contract calls for completion of the building by August 15, but present plans go through, the work will be finished in May.

The exterior of the building was completed with the installation of the granite buttresses at the front entrance today. Staging has been taken down and operations now are confined to the interior, where workmen are engaged in putting metal lath on the ceiling and partitions. The plastering is expected to consume about six weeks. Interior trim and painting will probably use up two more weeks when the work will be completed.

Harold C. Alvord, a member of the school building committee, said today that the job had been rushed along in fine style by the Manchester Construction Company. This has been made possible by the favorable weather and by cooperation between the contractor, the architect, sub-contractors and material men. The work was started in the middle of November. During excavating work, progress was delayed three weeks when a large rock ledge was encountered, necessitating blasting.

MAY BE FLYER'S BODY

Ventura, Calif., Feb. 17—A coroner's inquest will be held today over the body of a man, washed ashore on the beach near here, to determine the truth of the theory that the remains may be those of Lieut. Vilas R. Knope, one of the fliers lost during the Dole air race to Hawaii last August.

HILL JURY DISMISSED

Quawa, Ill., Feb. 17—Sixty-nine hours of hopeless wrangling, arguments and fruitless appeals to one juror and held out on his convictions that Harry Hill of Streator, Ill., was innocent of the murder of eleven a. m., today when Judge Joseph A. Davis formally dismissed the jury in the presence of the youthful alleged slayer.

GIGANTIC DYE TRUST FORMING IN EUROPE

BY MILTON BRONNER
London.—How is the United States fixed as to the manufacture of the dyes that make the pretty colors in the dresses and hats that our women wear?

This is the disquieting question that comes to a patriotic American when he sees the big business maneuvers that are taking place on this side of the water. For don't mistake it—dyes are at the bottom of something big and important.

Dyes mean—patency in war. Most of the chemicals that go into dye-making, in time of war go into the all-important job of making high explosives.

In Event of War
On this side of the Atlantic various cartels or trusts whose object is primarily to gobble the world market for dyes. Those same cartels, if we were ever engaged in a war with Japan, for instance, would take great delight in furnishing our enemy with all the ingredients that make munitions of war.

They would take a leaf out of our book. They would be neutrals, as we were in the first years of the great war. Like us, they would sell to all comers. Like us, they would charge immensely profitable prices.

If we had to come to them, hat in hand, they would bleed us white and thus square up that little matter of the war debts. And they could probably go on shipping to Japan, because even if we closed the seas, they could send the stuff overland. Which is why the state of our own dye industries takes on a paramount importance.

Here's what's happened recently in Europe. The German Dye and Chemical Trust has been anxious to form a cartel that would include Germany, France and England. It would cover Europe like a blanket. France has joined up, but up to date England has not.

France and Germany
The French chemical industry and the German Dye Trust have reached an agreement whereby they have divided among themselves the production and sale of dyes on the most economical basis, while at the same time maintaining their economic independence. His latter is important, because the French do not wish to become entangled in a war if France ever had to go to war again, and she and Germany found themselves on opposite sides, or opposite in sympathies.

Immediately after the announcement of the Franco-German agreement it was also announced that the Germans were going to spend the money, realized out of the issue of 250 million marks bonds, on the extension of their Leuna works. These are mainly engaged in making artificial fertilizers and, particularly, pure nitrogen. The capacity will be increased to 550,000 tons per annum and also for the making of saltpetre compounds.

English Stay Out
Up to date all negotiations with the English have fallen through. Some months ago one of the biggest trusts in the British Empire was engineered by Sir Alfred Mond, head of Brunner, Mond & Co. He formed the Imperial Chemical Industries with a capital of a quarter billion dollars. It was with this trust that the Germans flirted.

One of the main difficulties was that the British government insisted on being on an absolutely equal footing with the Germans. This was refused.

The British government—for safety's sake and for self-protection in case of war—is not anxious for the big British industry to be entangled in European trade alliances. Some years ago the Germans conducted negotiations with the British Dye Trust Corporation. Ramsay MacDonald, the Socialist leader, was then prime minister. He exerted pressure against an alliance and was able to give force to it, because the government at that time possessed Dye Trust Corporation shares.

The government no longer possesses such means of pressure, but it has cogent ways of putting its views. Sir Alfred Mond happens to be a patriotic Englishman. He is a member of the House of Commons, and has been a cabinet officer. Some time ago he stated that whatever happened Great Britain would not sacrifice anything of national importance to another country. Which, put in another way, means that this potent captain of industry will do nothing that will jeopardize England's war-making abilities.

England Holds Check
At one time, after the Anglo-German negotiations fell through, it was stated in continental papers that the German cartel might start a commercial war by cutting the prices in dyes. England calmly replied that it might retaliate by cutting the price in alkalis.

No more has been heard since about any commercial war. At the present writing, it looks as if the Imperial Chemical Industries will go its own way. With its enormous capital, its superb staff of chemical experts and the drive of Sir Alfred Mond, England independent of all opposition and safe in case of war.

Enlisted men of the United States army have collected $3,748,968.19 interest on savings in the last 55 years.

17 CONTENDERS SEEK OWNERSHIP OF OLD CHATEAU CHAMBORD

Paris.—Former Empress Zita of Austria, King Boris of Bulgaria and several Spanish Infantes and Infantas are among the seventeen noteworthy personages who have once more begun the legal battle for the famous old chateau of Chambord.

It is worth fighting for, this architectural gem on the banks of the Loire built by Francois I. After being the country-seat of the Counts of Blois, it became the property of Louis d'Orleans, brother of Charles VI, before being united to the kingdom under Louis XII. Mollere's famous troupe played here for the first time, Napoleon finally gave it to General Berthier to reward his victories.

Chambord was going to be dismantled after the Empire, but was saved by national subscription and given to the Duke of Bordeaux. Upon the death of his widow, it was returned to the nephews of the Duke, Robert of Parma and the Count of Bardi. When the Duke of Parma died in 1907, the property was divided among the seventeen heirs by an arrangement reached at Vienna and Prince Elie was given the chateau.

But the other children obtained the annulment of the Vienna decision from the court in 1915 and the case has once more come up. The property is so vast that it is almost impossible to put a price upon it. The entire domain with its farms and the little village of Chambord, one of its dependants, occupies as large a surface as that of the city of Paris, twenty miles in circumference, entirely surrounded by great walls.

The chateau itself is so enormous that only a very small portion of it was ever occupied or furnished. It contains the celebrated staircase which two people can ascend or descend at the same moment without meeting each other.

SOLDIERS IN MOTOR CARS INSTEAD OF ON CAMELS PATROL EGYPT BORDERS

Cairo.—The boundaries of Egypt will be patrolled in the future by soldiers driving motor cars instead of mounted on camels, as soon as the Ministry of France approves the expenditure called for by the Ministry of War to replace camels by cars.

LIPSTICK POPULARITY ENRICHES BEEKEEPERS BY BEESWAX PRICE BOOST

Raleigh, N. C.—Increased sale of the modern woman's lipstick last year resulted in the price of beeswax being doubled, and filled the coffers of beekeepers handsomely. This fact was related to the North Carolina Beekeepers' Association meeting here by H. H. Root, Medina, O., who told the beekeepers of various new uses for honey and apian products.

A most sensational offer that comes as a result of the re-organization of the long-established Gordon Piano Company, makers of quality pianos since 1845. When we were invited to take part in this great offer and saw the unusual quality of the players, we tried to bring the entire available quantity to South Manchester. However, we could secure only a limited allotment, as other large distributors also realized the value of the offer and insisted on their share of the instruments. Therefore, we must make this offer subject to prior sale. When the few we have obtained are sold, there can never be any more at this price. Our allotment may last a few days; they may be all sold tomorrow, for this unprecedented value will certainly move these players quickly into the homes of people who know real value.

Urge Punishment For Criminal Instead Of To Fit The Crime

Kansas City.—Psychiatry in general criminal procedure, as well as in rare cases, would do much to prevent such crimes as that of William Edward Hickman on trial in Los Angeles for the kidnaping and slaying of Marion Parker, in the opinion of Dr. Karl A. Menninger, noted Kansas City and Topeka, Kansas psychiatrist.

If all defendants in minor, as well as major crimes were subjected to rigid mental tests, Dr. Menninger believes abnormal tendencies of the brain, which lead to criminal careers, could be detected and immediate steps taken to eliminate a similar or more serious deed.

Dr. Menninger, who is chairman of the committee on the legal aspects of Psychiatry, of the American Psychiatric Association, declared the conviction fully advocated and stressed the importance of mental examinations of all violators of the law, regarding "the magnitude of their crime."

Examination Needed
"Edward Hickman should have been given a mental examination when he was arrested for forgery," Dr. Menninger stated. "According to the theory which the defense seems to be pursuing, Hickman presumably was insane long before he committed the Parker murder. At least, in all probability, he was exhibiting other evidences of his abnormal personality."

"If such were the case, then his tendencies toward mental sickness would have showed up in examination at the time of his first arrest and he would not have been at large to commit a more serious crime."

"What the psychiatrists are trying to bring about is the mental examination of all offenders in every anti-social act. In that way we believe mental abnormalities can be discovered and the offender properly isolated in time to avert serious consequences."

"Massachusetts, for several years past had a law requiring the mental examination of all offenders. Psychiatrists believe a general enactment of laws of this kind would help greatly in crime prevention."

Opposing Experts
The spectacle of psychiatric experts on opposing sides in court trials, staging battles over technicalities, is deplored by psychiatrists generally. We voice an impartial commission of psychiatrists to give advice to the court in such trials as that of Hickman.

"We would abolish hypothetical questions, and instead of expert witnesses on opposing sides, we would have the psychiatrists try to get together to determine the truth of a situation and then report it impartially."

"It is possible for two experts in any profession to agree perfectly on fundamentals and yet by arguing about technicalities, to give the impression they are far apart. The result of such seeming contradictory testimony in court gives psychiatry a black eye generally with the public."

"Of course, it is true that under the law each side in a criminal trial has the right to call all the expert testimony it chooses, but the judge and jury should have the benefit of the advice of an impartial commission."

Consider Personality
When men are convicted of crimes, they should be meted out punishment to fit the criminal and not the crime, Dr. Menninger said. "The personality of the offender should be taken into consideration in deciding what type of punishment is most likely to be effective in protecting society," the psychiatrist said. "A study should be made by him rather than of the crime he commits."

"A forward step in the line has been taken recently by Gov. Smith, of New York, in his recommendation to the state crime commission that sentencing powers be taken from the judges and vested in a special commission headed by psychiatrists, which would make a study of the offenders and fit the punishment on the basis of scientific study and experience."

PROFUSION OF LAWS PREVENTS OBEDIENCE IS PROSECUTOR'S VIEW

Cleveland.—Too many laws are blamed by Assistant United States District Attorney John Osmun, who has charge of hundreds of liquor law prosecutions here every year, for the present-day failure of people to obey the statutes.

"How can we expect the people to obey the law when we have made it physically impossible for them to know law?" observed Osmun.

"Stephen A. Douglas advised his children to obey the law and uphold the constitution," Osmun declared. His children today could not carry out their fathers request. They first would have to become familiar with five million words of general code and addition millions of words contained in city ordinances. Such a feat is humanly impossible."

Osman cited the idiosyncrasy of existing dry statutes. "A man sells an ounce of whiskey for 25 cents and we send him to the workhouse for six months and fine him $500," Osmon said. "But a 'big' bootlegger may transport a trainload of liquor and the maximum penalty provided is a $500 fine."

"We still pride ourselves on the protection we give the prisoner at the bar, but there still remains much congress should do in his favor. We continue to retain the unnecessary relic of ancient English common law—the federal grand jury. Such a secret deliberating body, hearing every accusation against the accused by giving him no opportunity to be heard seems strangely out of place among our present-day institutions," Osmon concluded.

ROOT LOUSE IS NEWEST ENEMY OF STRAWBERRY

Raleigh, N. C.—Another insidious pest is now menacing one of this section's fastest-growing and most important industries, strawberry production.

Unless the spread of the weevil is checked the big, juicy strawberries gracing breakfast tables may be seriously curtailed in a short time, it was pointed out.

Wrecks Havoc
"Ten years ago the growing of strawberries was disastrously handicapped by the appearance of the strawberry weevil."

Now, according to growers, the "root louse" is doing greater havoc. Farmers in the strawberry-producing sections have appealed to the Federal government for aid, through the North Carolina delegation in Congress.

The Columbus County, N. C., Chamber of Commerce estimated that damage in excess of $250,000 was suffered by strawberry growers in that place alone last year.

Appeal to Congress
The Congressional delegation were appealed to in an effort to obtain the assignment of a plant pathologist and soil chemist in the U. S. Department of Agriculture laboratory at Chadburn, N. C., which was established several years ago to eradicate the strawberry weevil.

The new pest is said to have completely baffled entomologists, who have never been able to determine whether this insect is a product of soil condition, or whether the louse causes a condition which destroys the plant.

"MURDERED" MAIL-CLERK SHRIEKES WHEN DOCTORS PREPARE FOR AUTOPSY

Budapest.—The body of Thomas Hubes, a mail clerk who had been murdered in the mail car of a train in Transylvania, was laid out on the dissection table of the Kronstadt Hospital and the physicians were just about to apply the knife for the post mortem when Thomas rose up with a yell.

His head showed twenty-five axe wounds but now the physicians believe that he will live.

After recovering from his fright, Hubes named his assailant who had tried to kill him and had robbed the mail.

The would-be murderer was arrested when he saw his victim still alive confessed everything.

The electric unit known as the volta takes its name from Alexander Volta, who made the first voltaic allowing the lubricating oil to get so thin that it can creep past the piston rings into the combustion chambers.

Carbon on the piston head or in the chamber, while the engine is hot, retains this heat so as to ignite the incoming fuel before its proper time. The result is what is termed a "pre-ignition knock." This is a sort of clank, clank, like metal against metal, and comes out especially when the car is pulling up hill on high.
Another form of knock which may turn up, especially in winter, if the car hasn't received its usual attention to lubrication, is the heavy pounding of a loose crankshaft or the muffled sound of a loose connecting rod.
The former tells us that the main bearings are worn. The latter is the tell-tale of worn piston pins or bushings.
A main bearing knock will show up on a heavy pull, up hill or when starting. A connecting rod knock will generally be detected when the automobile is coasting or just after slowing down while the car is pushing the engine.
Proper starting and effective lubrication at all times will prevent these knocks. Rather run the motor slowly and take a little more time warming it up, than choke it up incessantly in order to hurry away.
Use of an anti-knock fuel will not only prevent accumulation of carbon, but will permit easier starting.
More frequent changes of oil in the crankcase will prevent serious damage to the crankshaft and connecting rods. There is greater chance of the oil being thinned down by gasoline from the combustion chamber, in winter time than in summer, due to use of a heavier mixture and the coldness of the engine.
The oil gauge may show a sufficient circulation of lubricant and yet deceive the driver. The lubricant may be too thin to be of any good.
At the 500-mile point, after a complete change of oil, therefore, the lubricant should be tested and if found too thin should be replaced with new oil.

ANNEX TO ABBEY AROUSES BRITISH Die-Hards Protest Proposed Addition to Old Westminster.

By MILTON BRONNER.
London.—Whenever anything, no matter what, is proposed in good old conservative England, at once there is a whole horde of crusty die-hards who rise up in their wrath and protest.

The latest manifestation of this is concerned with famous Westminster abbey. Those who have charge of this sacred fane proposed that an annex be added to the building, thus giving room for the burial of national heroes or for the erection of fitting memorials. It was pointed out that the abbey itself was now too crowded.

Some die-hards merely spluttered. Another sought to kill the plan with ridicule. He recalled a famous soldier saying here a battle: "It's victory or Westminster abbey!"

He asked whether anybody could imagine a hero crying to his men: "It's victory or Westminster abbey annex!"

Beauties and Ugliness
Practically every American school child sooner or later reads our Washington Irving's famous essay on Westminster abbey. The writer was thrilled to the marrow by the view of this remains of so many famous men. But the cold truth is that a first visit to the abbey is disappointing. There is such a wild jumble of stately monstrosities that it reminds one of a crowded country graveyard.

The present controversy, if it does nothing else, will serve to strengthen a feeling that many of the present memorials should be carted off.

Up to within a hundred years ago it was possible to obtain burial in the abbey cloisters for $100 and in the abbey itself for $250. The result is that the abbey is filled not only with the remains of great men or memorials to them, but also with nonentities.

For instance, there is a certain Elizabeth Warren, who, we are told by her memorial, was "distinguished for the purity of her taste."

There is a certain General Kirk who never fought in a battle. There is a Mr. Butler who was an independent member of Parliament. There is a young Le Never who was "unfortunately killed in the flower of his youth."

There is an Edward Mansell who died aged 15. The executrix of Mrs. Mary Pope erected a monument "with great respect" seemingly because they lived together for forty years.

A big space over a doorway leading out of one cloister is filled with three great circles all dealing with John Harrison, a naval captain who "in consequence of excessive fatigue lost the use of one side" and was paralyzed for twenty years.

So it has rightly been pointed out that if the clergy in charge of the abbey took the drastic step of removing all these futile memorials to more or less little worthies of a part day, there would be room and to spare for really artistic memorials to men and women who were really great in the annals of their country.

BRITISH WORKER HOPES TO HAVE YEAR OF PEACE

London. — With all British thoughts looking forward somewhat wistfully into the New Year there is a good deal of ground for a certain amount of optimism.

The happiest omen is the "round-table" conference which is to take place, shortly between Capital and Labor. Not since the war has any event occurred in the industrial history of Britain which has called forth such high hopes.

The scope of the conference goes far beyond the maintenance of industrial peace.

The whole question of industry in Britain is to be considered. The question will be asked whether root and branch re-organization is needed. It will be debated on what terms or conditions the fullest possible measure of co-operation between employers and the great labor unions can be achieved with the object of securing a new standard of efficiency in production and a better standard of life for the worker.

Suggestion of Capital
The proposal came from the great industrialists mainly represented by Sir Alfred Mond, Lord Aberconway, Lord Colwyn, Sir Robert Hadfield, Hugo Hirst, Lord Londonberry, Lord Weir and Sir Peter Rylands—in short the heads of all the great staple industries of the country.

These men represented 160 corporations whose aggregate capital amounts to over five thousand million dollars. Coal, engineering and shipbuilding, railroads, woolen, cotton and silk textiles, banking, gas, rubber, oil, insurance, shipping, tobacco and flourmills have all united in their desire for such a conference.

They addressed their suggestion to the Trades Union Congress which includes 95 per cent of the workers' organizations of Britain. A special meeting of the Council of the Congress was held, and the invitation of the Employers Federation was cordially accepted, the only delegate to offer and real opposition being A. J. Cook.

To Study Industry
The Council appointed a Committee to meet the employers around the table and every feature of British industry is to be examined with the idea of producing a co-operation never before known in Britain.

Years have been over-shadowed by such events as the trouble in China in 1927; the former breach with France over the Ruhr; the terrible situation in Ireland at the beginning of 1921; various explosions in Egypt and India. But at the present moment the horizon looks clear, and the Britisher is devoutly hoping that 1928 will see him kept clear of further trouble.

THE MAGIC TOUCH

"With a single stroke of the brush," said the school teacher, taking his class round the National Gallery, "Joshua Reynolds could change a smiling face to a frowning one."
"So can my mother," said a small boy.—Tit-Bits.

THE CANARY MURDER CASE

CHARACTERS PHIL VANCE, JOHN F. X. MARKHAM, MARGARET ODELL, CHARLES CLEAVER, LOUIS MANNIX, AMBROSE LINQUIST, TONY SKEEL, WILLIAM ELMER JESSUP, HARRY SPIVETT, EDWARD HEATH

THE STORY THIS FAR The jewel case in the apartment of the murdered Margaret Odell had been opened with a steel chisel after a futile search with the key.

CHAPTER XXIX 'WHAT about the summons for speeding?' Markham asked. 'That's for you to explain,' said Vance.

'Well! That makes it worth trying. I'll have the officer at the Surveyor's office this afternoon, and I'll point out Cleaver to him. . . . What other staggering revelations have you in store?'

'Mannix will bear looking into.' Markham put down his knife and fork and leaned back. 'I'm overcome with Himalayan sagacity! With that evidence against him, he should be arrested at once. . . . Vance, my dear old friend, are you feeling quite normal? No dizzy spells lately? No shooting pains in the head? Kneezers all right?'

'In less than five minutes after we had returned to the district attorney's office Heath came in. 'I got something else on Mannix, sir; thought you might want to add it to the report I turned in yesterday. Burke secured a picture of him, and showed it to the phone operators at Odell's house. Both of 'em recognized it. He's been there several times, but he wasn't the Canary he called on. It was the woman in Apartment 2. She's named Frisbee, and used to be one of Mannix's fur models. He's been to see her several times during the past six months, and has taken her out once or twice; but he hasn't called on her for a month or more. . . . Any good?'

'Can't tell,' Markham shot Vance an inquisitive look. 'But thanks for the information, Sergeant. 'By the by,' said Vance dulcetly, when Heath had left us, 'I'm

Pert Kelton--a New Tale for the Cinderella Book

Pert Kelton, newest and sunniest of Broadway's Cindys.

By LEONARD HALL. New York.—Most of the musical shows that blossom on Madison Avenue are the old Cinderella stuff. In the first act the little match girl with the torn stockings meets the curly-haired young tenor who turns out, in Act 11, to be the son and heir of the Buttonhole King. A big garden party scene, and a teedancer to do a couple of fast whirls, and there you are with a musical hit. All you need is Eddis Cantor and a Scotch bag.

A very few years ago there was a vaudeville act called the Three Keltons. Ma Kelton trotted on the stage and Pa led the band. And there was a tall, gangling, looe-jointed young fellow named Pert, and she was all of that. And while Ma blew into the key-bugle and Pa waved, young Pert did imitations and spraddled around on those long legs that were like a colt's. The Keltons didn't set any theaters on fire, but one day the fairy grandmother came along and told Pert it was time to go to the party. So, in a pair of gold slippers, she went on the cast of 'Sunny' the big Ziegfeld musical hit, and in a cast of stars headed by Marilyn Miller and Jack Donaghy, young Pert shone like a new-cut diamond.

Home Page Editorial America, the Much Analyzed

America's middle name these days seems to be 'Analysis.' Everybody's analyzing us. Poet and peasant, prince and pauper, maharajahs, sheiks, bishops, novelists and dressmakers all flock here from Europe, Asia and points adjacent, and tell us the truth about ourselves.

A prominent lecturer said recently, 'Women are not seeking equality in America. They are seeking supremacy. Hey! hey! in the country he comes from I believe they're yelling for help.' Paul Poiret, the French dressmaker, stroked us the right way. He said we dressed better and knew how to wear clothes better than French women. 'Fox Paul!' An English lady says we're unhappy. I'll say we are, being told every day in every way how awful we are, how restless and extravagant and selfish and other unpleasant things!

Personally I think the people of the United States very patient. I do not believe we resent seriously any suggestion made to us in our midst about the errors of our ways. But a certain gentleman whose fortunes have been augmented considerably from the coffers of American book-buyers, has felt at liberty to send us warnings of our conduct through the columns of our own magazines. Surely we may honestly and openly take exception to that.

THE WOMAN'S DAY

The pair of pajamas sent President Calvin as a little token of appreciation from the women's society of a Chicago church, interest me strangely. One can hardly accuse the ladies of seeking to inveigle Calvin into ways of extravagance when reading that the pajamas were made of four sacks and not of royal purple spun silk, as at first thought one would expect. But, after all, those pajamas are significant. For can you imagine any leading Aiders of a generation ago sending pajamas to their president?

What are the women coming to, anyway? If you really want an answer, they're coming to an age of sanity, thank goodness, and have emerged from a period when they called legs 'limbs' and blushed at the very thought of any man, much less a president, ever being seen in his business suit.

SEE HER IN LONDON Their Letters BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

I am sending the cook books as you requested, also a box of jellies and preserves, and I hope you won't confine your interest to the latter.

It is very sensible of you to plan to have Alan home for lunch but isn't it too far from his office to your apartment for him to come home every day? He would have to bolt his food, and that would be bad for his digestion.

I saw Norman Darby on the street today and I must say he looks frightfully dissipated. I hope you didn't want to persist in trying to live up to your new 'freedom' as you call this shoving aside of natural feelings. You say Alan told you to do as you pleased. And he hasn't confessed he is jealous, has he?

Well, my dear, people don't always confess, do they? Even we old-fashioned fogies have that

It may yield too little building material (protein mainly), too little fuel material (fats, carbohydrate, and surplus protein), or too little in the way of catalytic substances (mineral matter—for example, iron, iodine, calcium—and vitamins).

SEEK CARNEGIE MEDAL FOR COLLEGE GIRL, 18, WHO DIVED UNDER ICE

Asheville, N. C.—A Carnegie medal in recognition of bravery is being sought in this section for Miss June Humphries, 18-year-old Montreat Normal student. The girl heroically rescued Carl Williams, 14, when he fell through the ice while skating on Lake Susan. The girl dived under the ice several times in trying to reach the boy. ### WEATHER CHIEF IS ATTACKED BY METEOROLOGIST

Washington.—The weather prophets are at it again.

Charging C. F. Marvin, chief of the United States Weather Bureau, "has no standing as a meteorologist in scientific circles," and "is forecast by himself," Herbert Jannin Brown, of Washington, a long range forecaster, has launched an attack on the weather service. He asserted reports showed the Weather Bureau last year averaged less than 50 per cent in accuracy.

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture W. M. Jardine, Brown said the seven day forecasts of H. H. Clayton for Boston and Massachusetts during the past year were "far more reliable" than the U. S. reports. Clayton, he said, "is justly regarded as one of the world's leading meteorologists."

Result of Long Fight
The outburst against the government was the result of a long fight between the Weather Bureau and Brown, and was directly caused by a report recently by Jannin, to the effect that forecasts other than the government's were largely guess work, and that long range forecasting of a reliable nature would be made by the government as soon as practicable.

"Scientific long range weather forecasting is making rapid progress all over the world," Brown said. "Its successful demonstration points to the early downfall of the present pseudo-scientific fossilized control of the United States Weather Bureau. Assuredly it will not be Mr. Marvin who will pass the final judgment on long range weather forecasting. Not many years ago his predecessor was summarily removed from office by a forced resignation for gross violation of the obligations of his position. Mr. Marvin has been guilty of even greater violations, and is still surrounded by the same inner circle of officials who should have gone out with his predecessor, and he uses them to the same nefarious ends."

Charges Filled
Brown denied the Weather Bureau is making proper efforts towards long range weather forecasting, and said Marvin's claim he has made exhaustive researches into this field is unwarranted; that, on the contrary, he has "fought it with every instrumentality in his power."

"He has turned the American Meteorological Society into a pocket organization under the control of the Weather Bureau officials," Brown said. Brown had filed charges against Marvin with the Senate agricultural committee. Senator McNary, (R) of Oregon, referred them to Secretary Jardine for a report.

FOLDING AIRSHIP TO TRY OCEAN HOP BY NEXT SUMMER

London.—A baby airship that can be folded up when not wanted, or can, at the end of a journey, be attached to mooring mast brought along in a lorry is due to fly from England to America this summer before R-100 is ready.

The airship is not built yet but Lincoln Sutton, managing director of British Airships, Ltd., says: "This ship will be flying in June, and at that time I hope to be in it over the Atlantic. We want to be the first absolutely all-British airship to land in Canada. The airship will be of a semi-rigid type. It will take only four months to construct."

A feature of the airship is that the linen used for the envelope will be dipped in a bath of metal which, it is claimed, will make it tremendously strong, impervious to lightning, fireproof and weather-proof. The vessel will cost $150,000.

It is designed to carry thirty people, apart from a crew of six or ten men. Its range would be 1500 miles, and would enable it to cross the Atlantic by making a call at the Azores.

Schofield Stars As Rec Loses In Overtime Farce Ludlow Here Tomorrow

Referee Sits In Rocking Chair Until Danielson Nearly Loses and Then Comes to Rescue Pronto; Score 32-30.

DANIELSON (32)		REC FIVE (30)

Totals	14 4-5 32	Totals	13 4-6 30

By TOM STOWE
Three points from the foul line by Billy Schofield, former C.A.C. star in a five-minute overtime period plus a field goal gave Danielson a 32 to 30 decision over the Rec Five last night in the Danielson Town Hall. During the entire game, Referee Brundage, who incidentally is a Connecticut Aggie man himself, called but one foul against Manchester but in the few minutes of overtime play, saw fit to call two.

Throughout the game Referee Brundage didn't do much of anything besides throw the ball up at Center or on jump-ball play. Countless fouls were made by both teams. It was nothing short of indoor football. This is the kind of a game the blood-thirsty natives up in that section of the state crave. There is no such a thing as a rule book as far as they are concerned. Everything goes including the scissors, headlock and toe hold.

The Manchester players did not kick against this. They had expected it. It slowed up the local team considerably to have its players cracked against the wooden wall every time they attempted a shot under the basket, but even so, no kick was registered. They figured that it was as fair for one side as for the other.

But when the teams finished the regulation playing time the score of 27 to 27 and started the five-minute extra period, they were not naturally pretty much upset when Referee Brundage all of a sudden started to call everything he could see, and some he couldn't on Manchester. A half a minute had scarcely elapsed when he charged Dine Farr with pushing Schofield. Farr had not committed what one could call a foul in amateur rules let alone professional, or rather football. Schofield made good on the shot and then a little later he called another on Mantelli for pushing Schofield and when Elmo asked how come, he gave Schofield another shot. Both were good and Danielson won 32 to 30.

Schofield's work was nothing short of sensational. He sunk six field goals and four out of four fouls. Most all of his shots were spectacular one-hand flings over his head from the side of the court that were almost impossible to stop. Farr, his opponent, was high scorer for Manchester. Ty Holland also played a fine game. The local team was inclined to be too individual and was also off color on shooting. Several easy shots were missed.

Tomorrow night, the Rec Five tackles the strong Ludlow five from the Bay State at the Rec and in the preliminary game, the Rec Girls meet the Aetna Five of Hartford. Dancing will follow.

HUDKINS VS. BAKER BOUT ON TONIGHT Odds Favor the Former; Winner to Be Matched With Joe Dundee.

By DAVIS J. WAGSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor

New York, Feb. 17.—It was the Hatfield clan, I think, that spent all of its life, and that of many others, going about shooting at and being shot at by somebody's boys. Then came the Hatfield-Hudkins feud. That feud it might have been the Tollivers or maybe I must have been two other guys but I don't know that it makes much difference because the Hudkins and the Tollivers are going to have it again tonight and never a vendetta waged can quite approach this in popularity but it is a savagery.

Ace Hudkins and Sammy Baker have been fighting almost on sight for upward of a year and perhaps they have seen very little of each other. A trail of blood and gore has led away from the first two official meetings, one in New York and the other in Los Angeles, and really the next stop should be the Chicago stockyards.

Public Let In
But, for some private and unaccountable reason, the boys are strictly against private fighting. They have their public to consider and so they have consented to appear in their third meeting at Madison Square Garden where the public can be considered in great quantities. It is scheduled to go on tonight and the winner is reasonably certain to get the first shot at Joe Dundee's welterweight title.

The smart money says the winner will be Hudkins and the morning lay odds expressed a willingness to lay as much as two dollars against one in support of this premise. The ace is supposed to be having trouble in making the specified weight of 147 pounds at two o'clock and it is headed for the fact that he was stopped by Baker in their first fight. But it also is a matter of record that this was the only time that Hudkins has falled his followers here and there will be a crowd of one hundred on his knockout of Ruby Goldstein.

Cut Over Eye
It further is realized that the Baker knockout was one of those technical things that can stand up in court and the best of all, Hudkins sustained a cut over the eye and it bled so profusely that the referee declined to a party to further proceedings. Baker himself suffered a similar ignominy against Tommy Freeman some time ago.

Anyhow, the first time didn't prove it; so they met again in Los Angeles and although Hudkins outboxed his man, he also outboxed him and made the decision. They say Baker got so he didn't really care a great deal for Hudkins' body punching in this fight and it is this understanding, coupled with the general belief that Hudkins is headed for the welterweight championship, that has made the Nebraska such a stand-out in the betting.

Even the Dundee camp seems to be looking for a Hudkins victory, for the champion is believed to have a tacit understanding with brother-manager, Art Hudkins, that will lead to a title fight outdoors in the event that the ace wins tonight.

The house virtually is a sell out this morning and the gate may touch $75,000.

GUNTHER LEADING
Sarane Lake, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Lloyd Gunther, of Detroit, was still leading the field today in the Adirondack gold cup skating races, as a result of winning the one-mile race and finishing second in the one-and-a-half-mile event. He now has a total of eighty points.
Eddie Jacobson, of Chicago, who beat Gunther in the latter race, had fifty points. He is tied for second place with Eddie Scarie of New York, who won the five mile race.

NEW SWIMMING CHAMP
Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 17.—Lowell Marsh, 17-year-old University of Minnesota freshman, was hailed today as the new world's champion backstroke swimmer.
Competing in the Centur A. A. U. senior championship and open swimming meet here last night, young Marsh slipped through the water to establish a new world's record of six minutes flat for the 440 yard backstroke event.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS
At Philadelphia—Johnny Cecconi, Soranton lightweight, won decision over Moe Newman, Philadelphia, 10.
At Meadville, Pa.—Johnny Ryan Boston bantamweight, won decision over Young Irish, Akron, Ohio, 10.
At Chicago—Jack McCarthy, Chicago welterweight, knocked out Billy Bortfield of Milwaukee, 6.

YANKEES TO PLAY HERE ON TUESDAY
Booked By Community Club; Should Attract Another Large Crowd; Preliminary Uncertain.

Announcement was made today by the management of the Community Club basketball team that the Hartford Yankees will be the opposing team at the Harding school gym on Hollister street next Tuesday night.

This is the team that recently had five of its seven players banished from a game with the Rec Five, a contest that ended up in a free-for-all with part of the game unplayed. Considerable excitement was caused by the mild riot and no doubt a large crowd will be on hand to watch for fireworks Tuesday night.

In booking a team of the caliber of the Yankees even though they are not as strong as they used to be, it cannot be denied that the Community Club quintet is tackling some pretty stiff opposition. Their feat of beating the Arnold's College team was nothing to be sneezed at regardless of what anyone can say.

The Community Club is weakened at present with its star center, George Stavnitsky out of the game with an injured knee. Last week Babe Hurley of the Yankees filled in at the post. Possibly Stan Shimus will be secured. This game will give fans some idea how the Community Club and Rec fives are going to fare in the town championship series which will get under way next month.

The Community boys will practice at the K. of C. hall at seven o'clock tonight. The Community Girls have not yet secured a game for Tuesday but are trying to get the Meriden Insulos here. The girls will practice at the Harding gym at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

SUMATRA TEAM HIGH IN SETBACK
The Connecticut Sumatra Tobacco Company team ran up high score at last night's weekly sitting of the Community Club setback tournament at the White House. They registered 208 points which enabled them to jump from ninth to fifth place in the point standing in the fourth week of play. T. Healy and J. Carroll were the high scorers with 111 tallies.

Following is the point standing:

Brit. Amer. vs. Bon Ami.

The Masons continue to cling desperately to their one-point lead in the Herald Bowling League as a result of last night's matches. They won all four points from the British Americans while the runner-up Cubs were extracting a similar fate from the Knights of Pythias. The only upset last night was the three-point victory which the fast-sailing happy-go-lucky Center Church team scored over the strong West Side Rec outfit which opposes the Masons next week. All of the other five teams mentioned as strong favorites in last night's Herald scored four-point victories.

The victory marked the fourteenth in the last sixteen games for the Center Church which has marched slowly but surely up the league standing during the past few weeks. At present, they are in sixth place with only a few points separating them from their place. Highland Park is their next opponent.

The Center Church won the first game from the Rec by four pins, Thomson's 116 to 85. Unfortunately, the Rec took the next by 23 pins only to have the Center Church come back strong and roll 502 against 480 to win the total pinfall tally by three pins.

The Masons had no difficulty winning all three games which rolled well. Ernie Wilkie hit 136 for the Cubs in the second game with the K. of P. to pull his team through a 15 pin winner. The first game was one-sided but the last was closer.

The Cloverleaves kept at full steam in their matches, to be thriven all three games. The first two games were fairly close but the last was a walkaway. Jack Saidella was high bowler in this match.

WAPPING QUINTET BEATS CRESCENTS

Boyle Is High Scorer; Girls Win From Winsted 23 to 12; Welles Big Star.

Wapping nosed out the Hartford Crescents at Wapping last night 23 to 23 after the first half ended with the two teams tied at a dozen points apiece.

Johnny Boyle was high scorer for Wapping with five field goals and one foul. Joe Lutz also went good. Cameron was high scorer for the Crescents. Next Thursday night, Wapping plays its most important game of the season against Poquonock.

In the preliminary game last night the Wapping Girls beat the Winsted team 23 to 12. Miriam Welles was the star with six buckets. The summaries:

INTERCOLLEGIATE BASKETBALL
Philadelphia, Feb. 17.—Although Dartmouth gained first place in the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League by handing Penn a 30 to 29 defeat here last night, a dozen Philadelphia and New York newspapers assert that the true score of the game was 30 to 30. The newspapersmen signed affidavits that the university scorers overlooked a foul toss by Joe Schaaf, red and blue forward, thereby depriving Penn of a tie. Penn protested the game and the matter was referred to league headquarters for settlement.

Even without the disputed point, Schaaf was high scorer with nine points.
Penn is now tied with Cornell for second place. The league standings:

Largest Crowd of Season Expected To Watch Clash

SENIOR LEAGUE LEADER BEATEN North Ends Turn the Trick 48 to 19; West Sides Conquer Independents.

The most important scholastic basketball game of the 1922-23 season will take place tonight at the School Street Rec when Manchester High endeavors to square Bristol High with its ancient rival, Bristol High.

Bristol will be the favorite to win but there are many who have hopes that the local team will be at top form, which event it is tonight before last when the North Ends defeated them 48 to 19 and the West Sides, formerly the Yankees, beat the Independents 31 to 16. The scoring for the West Sides was even. C. Gustafson was high for the North Ends. The summary of both games follows:

North Ends (48)		West Sides (31)
B	F	B	F
Wright, rf	2 0 4	McConkey, rf	3 0 6
Falkowski, lf	0 2 4	Donnelly, lf	1 0 2
Chartier, lf	1 0 2	Boyer, c	4 1 9
S. Gustafson, c	4 0 8	Bissell, lg	3 1 7
C. Gustafson, rg	9 0 18	Wiley, rg	3 1 7
Eagleson, lf	3 2 8
Totals	22 4 48	Totals	14 3 31

Manchester has little or no chance of being selected to take part in the Yale Tournament this year, this only served to make Manchester all the more anxious to lower the color of the happy invaders who beat our boys by one point last year for the state title at New Haven. Bristol is sure to be selected for the Yale Tournament this season, so if Coach Clarke's outfit can defeat them tonight, it will do a whole lot to smooth over matters.

The largest crowd of the season is expected to watch the two teams clash. But, as said before, Bristol is a warm favorite to win. Dick Dillon of Hartford, considered to be the best basketball official in the state, will handle both the big game and the preliminary tussle between the second teams of the two schools.

Saturday night Manchester High will travel to Middletown to play a postponed game caused by the recent smallpox epidemic. Coach Clarke will lead the regular lineup against Bristol tonight. Kitter and Alphonse Boginni will be at forward, Keepey at center and Dowd and Nine Boginni in the backcourt.

Reid Is Leading Junior Scorers INJURY TO CHAMP KEEPS DOWD IDLE

Local Boxer's Opponent Not Able to Appear Because of Hurt Received While Training.

Several hundred local boxing fans were disappointed last evening in Hartford because the Dowd-Champ fight did not come off as scheduled. Champ had suffered an injury to his eye in training and had a doctor's certificate stating he could not fight for several weeks to come. The local fans however saw Stroud who was defeated by Dowd last week, give Juliano, of Hartford, a sound lacing. Juliano is a tough customer and last night's bout demonstrated how good the local boy is. The remainder of the bill was unusually good.

Following are the results of last night's bouts:
122-pounds, Ray Strong, Hartford, defeated Tony Juliano, Hartford, technical knockout, third round; 270 pounds, Zerk, Hartford, defeated Don Lannatti, Windsor Locks, second round; 115 pounds, Eddie Reed, Hartford, outpointed Art Chappelaine, Springfield; 150 pounds, Frank Nichols, Windsor Locks, won from Louis Pellissier, Holyoke, on feet in third; 165 pounds, Paul Gross, Ira, Rocky Hill, knocked out Gene Guice, Hartford, third round; 170 pounds, Joe Murphy, Waterbury, Goddard, defeated Tom Winslow, Hartford, technical knockout, second round; 160 pounds, Joe Truer, Holyoke, won from Stonewall Jackson, Hartford, technical knockout, second round; 160 pounds, Al Reid, Hartford, defeated Winslow Anderson, 22 to 21 on its own court. O'Leary and Murrah were the stars.

WORLD MAY WIN
MALARIA FIGHT
BY USING FISH

Raleigh, N. C.—Searcely noticed in this era of good will, tows of fish, the same kind anglers used for bait—has been sent around the world as a contribution toward universal good health.

The particular service of this species of the top minnow, gambusia, is distributed from the semi-tropical swampland of North Carolina as a boon to public welfare, in the destruction of the malaria-spreading mosquito.

The gambusia is native to that territory east of the Rockies from Maryland and Southern Indiana and Illinois, southward, but it is from North Carolina that the stock has gone, in an attempt to eradicate the malaria menace throughout the world.

To Many Countries Dr. S. F. Hilderbrand, ichthyologist of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries at Beaufort, N. C., is a recognized authority on the tiny creature and has spent many years in the study of the life, habits and service of the minnow as a public health agency. During the war, he was given a special assignment of making a study of mosquito control around Army cantonments. Shipments of the gambusia have been made from the Edison U. S. Bureau of Fisheries by W. E. Baker, superintendent and the Frank Stedman fish hatchery of the State Department of Conservation and Development, into a number of countries.

Two of the shipments were made to Italy and Spain, the one to the latter country being successful and the one to the former, a failure. However, the Spanish consignment, planted in a pond near Madrid, multiplied rapidly, and Italy then obtained a brook stock from Spain.

Battle Mosquitoes According to recent reports received by the State Department of Conservation and Development, the fish has been introduced from Spain and Italy into nearly all of the Southern European countries as successful combatants of mosquitoes.

"The fish appear to be multiplying extremely fast in Southern Europe, and the degree of mosquito control appears to be even better than we generally expected in the United States," Dr. Hildebrand said.

An Italian writer has said: "We have now to thank America for the precious gift, the value of which we no longer doubt."

A consignment of gambusia was sent to the Hawaiian Islands, where it proved an excellent success. Later a small lot was taken to the Philippine Islands from where the fish is said to have found its way into Southern China and Japan.

Blankets are named after their first maker, Thomas Blanket, a clothier, who lived in the fourteenth century.

BERLIN TAXI PASSENGERS
INSURED AGAINST INJURY
BY OWNERS OF VEHICLES

Berlin—Every taxi passenger in Berlin must be insured for at least $6,000 against accident and death, according to a decree of the Berlin police.

The insurance must be paid by the taxi owner. This compulsory insurance was found necessary because many Berlin taxis are owned by their drivers, who own nothing else and therefore are unable to pay damages in case of accident. The taxi itself cannot be taken away from them, according to German law, because it is their only means of subsistence.

The maximum insurance for several persons is $18,000. The bust of Lincoln appears on the current penny.

WOMEN OF ENGLAND
DEMANDING SHARE
ON NEW PEERAGES

London.—The women of England are up in arms, charging that they are woefully neglected each year when peerages are handed out by the deserving ones of the nation.

The Women's Freedom League has written a bitter letter to the Prime Minister, protesting against the "comparatively few women appearing in the New Year Honours List."

"Since women are taking their full share in all branches of our national life," the letter read, "the committee of the Women's Freedom League considers that it is time to throw open all honours equally to men and women, and it protests against a special Order being created for the inclusion of women in order to exclude them from participating in the other honours which for so long have been distributed to men."

The order referred to is the O. B. E. (Order of the British Empire.) A protest was also made against the exclusion of women as Privy Counsellors.

FOREIGN WAR VETERANS

Kansas City, Kansas.—Formal announcement was made today at national headquarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States of plans formulated to create an endowment fund of $3,600,000 for the V. F. W. National Home at Baton Rouge, Mich.

The fund, to mature within ten years, is to be raised through the generosity of the Americanization Department of the V. F. W., with headquarters at Chicago. It will be devoted to the development and future maintenance of the V. F. W. Home.

BRITISH FIRM IS GIVEN CONTRACT FOR GREATEST SLUICE GATES IN WORLD

London.—The contract for the sluice gates for the Sukkur barrage, on the River Indus, the biggest of its kind in the world has been placed by the India Office with the firm of Ransome and Rapier, of Ipswich, England.

A metal gate, 60 feet wide and 13 feet, 6 inches deep will be fitted in each of the 66 spans of the barrage.

The Sukkur barrage will provide irrigation for 8,000,000 acres in the province of Sind. Seven canals will take off from the barrage, one of them, the Rohri canal, with a length of 200 miles, being the largest of its type.

Each gate will weigh about 40 tons, and the water load on it, when holding up to the full supply level will be 300 tons.

Window glass is made of sand that contains silica and metallic oxide.

SENSE and NONSENSE

February February, you and I (or so it seems to me) Have a lot reasons to be close in sympathy. You are short three years in four (and so, God Wot, am I); You are strong on holidays—just watch them marching by; the day of George's birth— I'd have only holidays the while I stay on earth. February, you and I share lots of things together— Shortages and indolence and mighty nasty weather. Might as well be reconciled, each to trifling each. Since we must be neighbors just as far as you can reach. (Truth is that your coming doesn't make me quite ecstatic; I am simply taking thus to show I'm diplomatic.)

"Hose for contented calves" is a good slogan for hosiery manufacturers.

VETER GOLF

HERE'S A FIGHTIN' ONE! It's much better to GIVE than to TAKE—especially in the rings, but according to our count there are only four jumps between the two. Perhaps you can beat the par solution on another page.

Word puzzle grid with the words 'GIVE' and 'TAKE' filled in.

THE RULES

- 1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN. 2—You can change only one letter at a time. 3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count. 4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

THE TINYMITES

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

"If you can tell us how to get to Rubber Land, we'll go up you bet," said Clowney as he gazed up at the funny old balloon. "I wonder, when that land is found, if we'll be bouncing all around. But, anyway, please tell us and we'll start out very soon." The balloon then said, "Please don't rush me. I always take my time, you see." And so the Tinies sat down till the balloon began to talk. "Now Rubber Land is near at hand. When you arrive, you'll find it grand. Don't worry as to how you'll go. You will not have to walk." "Oh, will you take us?" Sooty said. "Cause if you will, go right ahead." The balloon then smiled and snapped right back. "Oh, no, you're guess is wrong. On rubber tires you'll take a ride. All you need to do is crawl inside, and you will find they'll carry you right merrily along." (Clowney has an accident in the "Where are the wheels? Oh, next story.")
