

HECTIC DAYS, THESE ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Seems as if Everybody's Speculating; Brokers and Clerks Work Day and Night to Record Sales.

New York, March 22.—Wall street, in the throes of a series of record-breaking "3,000,000-share markets," is experiencing hectic days and incandescent nights, and the floor of the New York Stock Exchange has become the cockpit in which the speculative enthusiasm of thousands of American people is unleashed.

"Everybody's in the market," has become a by-word in Wall street. Even France and England have caught the fever and the cables are loaded with instructions from abroad to buy American stocks.

Brokerage firms in cities from coast-to-coast are shooting a barrage of orders into New York to buy and sell stocks. These instructions come from small business men, farmers, school teachers, professional men—almost everybody. It seems that has a little nest egg.

Change a Bedlam
The floor of the Stock Exchange with its wildly gesticulating brokers waving orders in each other's faces and closing deals in the flash of an eye, was a bedlam today when the writer viewed it from the gallery. The floor was strewn with paper. Telephones buzzed incessantly. Messenger boys rushed here and there. A boy at a big blackboard clicked up numbers one after another, summons to brokers that they were wanted by their offices. Each broker is a number on the board. The rise and fall of stock prices was flashed up on the wall by means of typewriter-like electrical sending machines.

The magnitude of the market since March 3, when the present movement got under way, has amazed even the veterans of the floor. Since that date approximately 45,000,000 shares of stock have changed hands on the exchange. On one day recently the total sales almost reached 4,000,000 shares.

Prokers predict that the future will see plenty of "4,000,000-share days." Before the war a 1,000,000 share day was a big market.

Hectic Days
Electric nights follow the hectic days. Nearly all night long clerks—and there are thousands of them—are at their high stools, pouring over figures and balancing their books in preparation for the next day's battle. Some of the clerks have taken up temporary residence at near-by hotels. Restaurants in the vicinity are doing a brisk all-night business. The clerks themselves are reaping a harvest in overtime and they like the thrill of the thing so well they are not complaining of the hardship. It's all in the game.

Work All Night
At night the skyscrapers in the canyon of Wall Street are reminiscent of Broadway, so many bright lights in the windows can be observed. It is well after two and three a. m., when the lights here and there, begin to go out. Sleep has become a secondary consideration.

Millions of dollars are being made and lost. The "hears" of late have suffered staggering losses. Some stocks, notably Radio Corporation of America, have skyrocketed in an amazing manner in the last three weeks. Others have gone forward steadily for months. For example, take the trend of the following high-grade industrial stocks: General Motors has jumped from 65 to the equivalent of 540 since early in 1925. United States Steel has advanced from 94 to the equivalent of 211 in the same period; American Oil has moved up from

AVIATOR SEEKS HINCHCLIFFE IN MAINE FORESTS

Canadian Flyer Gets Permission From U. S. to Go Over White Top Mountain In His Search.

Brownsville Junction, Maine, March 22.—Its peak hidden in a veil of clouds, White Top mountain today sought to hide the secret of the whereabouts of Captain Walter Hinchcliffe and Hon. Elsie Mackay from airplane observers and snowshoed woodsmen.

Flying Officer Charles Bath of the Canadian Royal Air Force was the pilot of a Canadian airplane that scanned the lower Moosehead lake district for any trace of the Stinson-Detroit plane, Endeavour, in which Captain Hinchcliffe and Miss Mackay took off from England in an attempted flight to the United States, over a week ago.

No trace of the plane or its human cargo has been observed since their start, though a search of two continents and a vast ocean space between has been made in the meantime.

Saw Tractor
Bath, after his first flight, reported that he had seen a tractor in the woods. Woodsmen here say that the tractor had been left there at the approach of winter.

The Canadian flying officer will make several other flights in the search and is expected to climb high above the sides of the mountain in an attempt to pick up the plane or the bodies of its occupants.

Pilot Bath received the permission of the United States government to make a search of the territory.

SEN. SMITH, HOUSE, DISTRICT DELEGATES To Be "At Large" Representatives at State G. O. P. Convention.

Senator Robert J. Smith of this town and Eugene House of Glastonbury will represent the Fourth Senatorial District at the Republican convention in Hartford April 17 and 18 as delegates at large. Both were the unanimous choice of the district convention held in Wells Hall, East Hartford this forenoon.

The convention was made up of all the delegates named at the Republican caucuses held in the several towns in the district on Monday evening. The Fourth Senatorial District is comprised of eight towns, Manchester, East Hartford, Glastonbury, Wethersfield, Rocky Hill, Newington, South Windsor and Marlborough. The Manchester delegation included Raymond A. Johnson, Thomas Ferguson, W. W. Robertson and E. J. Holl. All were present with the exception of Mr. Robertson who sent James W. Foley as his alternate.

Urged Harder Work
The convention was called to order by Eugene House of Glastonbury who was the district's representative on the State Central Committee. John Havens of East Hartford was chosen chairman and Albert Taylor of Glastonbury clerk. The committee on credentials included Raymond A. Johnson of Manchester, Charles Lane of Rocky Hill and Palmer Willard of Wethersfield. While the committee on credentials was looking over the list of delegates, Commissioner Howard Dunham and Eugene House spoke for the Republicans of the district, urging them to work hard this year than ever before. Each man referred to the harmonious relations between the different towns of the district and remarked that it was a good omen to see them working so well together.

It was brought out that Attorney Henry H. Hunt of Glastonbury will be a candidate for delegate from this district to the Republican national convention in Kansas City.

Local Men Figure
Thomas Ferguson placed in nomination the name of Senator Robert J. Smith for delegate at large from the Fourth District to the state convention, and Raymond A. Johnson the name of Eugene House of Glastonbury. Both were named without any opposition. Mr. House

She Offers Herself For Sale---$15,000

Alice Parnaby of Pittsburgh, shown here with her 4-year-old son, is willing to marry a man for $15,000, the money to be used in paying off a mortgage on her mother's home and to assure her son an education.

MY LOVE and affection for $15,000, not wish any of the money for myself. I am making my home with my widowed mother and I want to get her out of debt and pay the mortgage on the home.

"I have a young son, and it is my ambition to see that he receives a good education. Ever since the death of my husband three years ago I have been struggling to make ends meet, and I have found it very difficult. The man with the $15,000 must be somewhere between 30 and 50. I would prefer a husband who is interested in good books and music. I like the theater, but cabarets have little appeal to me."

The details of settling the mortgage and investing the money for the education of her boy will be handled by her attorney, she says.

SEVEN ROBBERIES ARE LAID TO GANG Alleged "Fences" Also Picked Up By Police in a Big Round-Up.

New Haven, Conn., March 22.—Burglaries in three tailor shops and an automobile salesroom here, and a tailor shop in Ansonia as well as thefts of two automobiles here have been laid to the account of seven local men now on trial in City Court here. Testimony concerning the seven affairs was given by four local men arrested early this month in Stamford during an attempted burglary in South Norwalk. The trial of the seven men continued today and may run well into tomorrow, according to the city attorney's assistants.

When the four men arrested in Stamford had finished with the Fairfield county Superior Court, to which they have been bound over, they will be compelled to face trial here for several robberies which they have admitted participating in.

Alleged Fence
Henry Allison, alleged "fence" for the gang, is being tried on one count of theft here as is Peter George, of Hamden, said to be the connecting link between Allison and the active members of the gang. Anthony Corallo of New Haven, is charged with three counts of burglary and one of theft; Harold Hunt, three counts of burglary and one of theft; Dominick Longello, one count of theft; and Alphonse Mignione one count of burglary.

Three others connected by the police with the gang, one a woman, are to face City Court on March 29. They are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ross, Philip Fanchel and William Jacques.

COOLIDGE OUT FOR GOOD, IS OPINION NOW

For Third Time President Says He Will Refuse to Accept the G. O. P. Nomination.

Washington, March 22.—The "draft-Coolidge" movement, which has been growing weaker and weaker lately, had very little left to nourish it today.

For the third time in eight months President Coolidge has taken himself out of consideration for the Republican nomination, and even the hardest-boiled skeptics were about convinced today that he meant it.

Even C. Bascom Slemph, his former secretary, who has insisted all along that Mr. Coolidge would be drafted and that he would accept a renomination if it were forced upon him, conceded today that the Republican choice will have to fall elsewhere. He announced himself for Herbert Hoover, which means that Virginia's seventeen delegates will support the Cabinet candidate at Kansas City.

Third Refusal
Mr. Coolidge's third refusal of the crown was couched in somewhat different fashion than his previous renunciations. In the Black Hills he said last August that he didn't "choose to run." To the Republican national committee here last December he said "look elsewhere." To the Wyoming Republican committee, which petitioned him to "accept four more years," he said, through his secretary, "I must decline to grant the request of the committee."

Some Leaders Worried
Leaders in important states who have kept their organization in hand by the "draft-Coolidge" plea were put in a quandary today by the President's latest move. These leaders, among them Charles D. Hilles of New York and Mayor "Big Bill" Thompson of Chicago, the best appearing windows in the various store classifications.

The Chamber of Commerce reports a total of 23 stores which have entered the contest. Entries closed on March 19 and while some merchants applied for entry blanks that date these could not be granted in fairness to the merchants who had observed the time limit.

Picard entered in the contest will bear a placard to that effect and only stores which have this placard in their windows will be considered by the judges.

The judges themselves will be unknown to each other until the final reckoning is called for and each will make his own selections, which will be compared when they meet.

Keen competition is on and from the appearance of several of the stores which had their windows finished this morning, the judges will be hard put to decide a winner.

The Spring Opening, this year as well as formerly, will attract large crowds to Main street. It is expected the affair has become an institution, looked forward to by the whole town, and it is safe to say that more people visit the stores on that occasion than on any other night during the year.

Orchestras "Out"
Through an agreement of the merchants, there will be no orchestras in any of the stores this year.

OUR STATE FIRST IN NEW TAX PLAN Signs Pact With Ontario, Canada on Inheritance Tax Reciprocity.

Hartford, Conn., March 22.—Connecticut will become the first state in the United States to enter international reciprocity in regard to inheritance taxes, according to announcement here today. The tax commissioner's office at the state capitol has entered into an agreement with the Province of Ontario, Canada, as to how taxes shall be levied against the estates of citizens of either Ontario or Connecticut who may die in the other state.

Under present conditions if a Connecticut person dies in Ontario the estate is mulcted of an inheritance tax by both Ontario and Connecticut. The tax is levied against intangibles: stocks, bonds and other securities. Under the new agreement, if the state in which a person is actually in residence at time of death, if an Ontario person dies while living in Connecticut, this state will take the tax alone.

An Old Plan
The new plan is arranged for under a Connecticut statute in force for many years. Ontario will be able to take advantage of the Connecticut law on April 30. J. C. White, controller of the Ontario treasury department, served Hartford here, with notice of Ontario's acceptance of the project, and Mr. Knapp acknowledged the idea.

The tax commissioner's office pointed out today that a sub-committee of the League of Nations is working on a plan for international reciprocity in regard to inheritance taxes, and that Connecticut had arranged such a plan even before the League was able to decide on a plan.

MELLON NOT TO QUIT
Washington, March 22.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon "has no intention of resigning."

This was stated in his behalf at the treasury today, with reference to the Senate resolution demanding his resignation, fostered by Senator Couzens, Republican of Michigan, scheduled to be debated in the Senate today.

SENATE NOT TO CALL FALL IN OIL SCANDAL

Rich 72 Year Old Widow Marries Her Butler, 43

New York, March 22.—Relatives of Mrs. J. Pierpont Edwards, wealthy 72-year-old widow of Bedford Hills, N. Y., were amazed today upon learning that she had eloped with her Scotch butler.

The butler, John Burden, is 43. Mrs. Edwards, a leading member of society, is a great-grandmother. She is worth more than a million dollars.

The relatives of the aged widow were amazed and angry, and her servants were even angrier. Moreover, several of them were out of a job. Burden instantly discharged those who failed to be properly impressed by his rise in the world.

Accusing his former associates of undue familiarity with the master of the house (himself), the ex-butler said:

"Please remember that I am master here, and I am to be called Mr. Burden."

News of the marriage, which occurred two weeks ago last Monday, did not leak out until today because the servants and the witnesses to the ceremony were sworn to secrecy. The wedding occurred in New York City.

Burden had been the butler for the Edwards family for 25 years. This is his first marriage.

The Edwards mansion is one of the show places of Bedford Hills, an aristocratic residential section.

Relatives of Mrs. Edwards have called a family conference to discuss the situation, it was learned. The relatives include Larry and Monte Waterbury, well-known polo players.

JOHN'S AS TALKATIVE
AS FAMOUS FATHER

New York, March 22.—John Coolidge, who came down from Amherst for the college club concert, today exhibited some family characteristics. Before leaving for Washington he was interviewed by reporters.

Was Florence Trumbull at the concert? he was asked.

"It was the best concert we've had in years," John replied, and refused to be drawn into comment on the recurrent reports of his engagement to the daughter of the Governor of Connecticut.

He will spend the Easter holidays at the White House with his family.

SPRING OPENING
DESPITE STORM
Stores Bloom in Spring Array as Snow and Rain Fall Outside.

Main street store windows bloomed into springlike aspect today as though in determination to counteract the effect of a dull cloudy day which dawned on the occasion of the annual Spring Opening of the Manchester merchants.

Store window dressing had received an added impetus through the announcement some time ago of prizes which will be awarded for the best appearing windows in the various store classifications.

The Chamber of Commerce reports a total of 23 stores which have entered the contest. Entries closed on March 19 and while some merchants applied for entry blanks that date these could not be granted in fairness to the merchants who had observed the time limit.

Walsh Says Former Secretary Knows Nothing About the Continental Trading Co. or Its Liberty Bonds; Harding Estate Cleared.

Washington, March 22.—Albert B. Fall's professed willingness to tell his story about the oil scandals, on the basis of his telegram from El Paso, failed to impress members of the Senate investigating committee today, and the project of sending a sub-committee to his bedside was abandoned.

"Mr. Fall says in his telegram that he knows nothing about the Continental Trading Company, nor the Liberty Bond profits that accrued therefrom," said Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, the committee prosecutor. "The purpose of the present inquiry is to find out what became of those bonds. It appears, therefore, that he has nothing to tell the committee. As for the oil leases themselves, concerning which he appears willing to testify, I do not believe he could shed any light on them. That phase is pretty well known."

FALL READY TO TELL ALL
Washington, March 22.—Albert B. Fall, central figure in the naval oil scandals, "is ready to tell all" about his connection with the oil leases, but he would rather go to it in court than before a body of Senatorial quizzers.

This was the gist of a telegram Fall sent to Senator Gerald P. Nye, Republican of North Dakota, late last night, in response to a telegraphic inquiry as to whether the ex-cabinet officer would testify if a sub-committee of Senators were sent to his bedside at El Paso.

He is, however, apparently willing to testify before a Senate committee if the District Supreme Court grants the continuance in his conspiracy trial which his lawyers have petitioned for. That probably will be decided this week.

Seriously ill, according to the physicians. Some of them have given him six months to live. He is too ill, the physicians say, for him to come to Washington for the conspiracy trial with his co-defendant in the Teapot Dome case, Harry F. Sinclair. His trial is scheduled to start April 2.

In his telegram to Nye, Fall denied any knowledge of the Continental Trading Co., or of the political contributions of Sinclair to the Republican Party. He does know, he said, "of matters affecting the lease of Teapot Dome, and of the financial transactions concerning his Three Rivers ranch property, and it is about these that he is willing to talk."

The financial transactions concerning his ranch involve the $233,000 in Liberty Bonds which found their way from Sinclair to Fall, and which committee prosecutors have described as a "bribe."

Once on Stand
Fall has taken the witness stand only once since it became publicly known that he received money from Sinclair and Doheny—$100,000 in cash from Doheny, and $233,000 in Liberty Bonds from Sinclair. This occasion was on Feb. 2, 1924, more than four years ago, when he refused to testify "on the ground it might incriminate me."

He has twice been subjected to criminal trial. His trial with Doheny resulted in acquittal; his trial with Sinclair resulted in a mistrial because of the surveillance of the jurors by Burns detectives in the employ of Sinclair. In neither of these trials did Fall take the stand.

HELD NO BONDS
Marton, Ohio, March 22.—The late President Harding possessed none of the $3,950,000 worth of Continental Trading Company's Liberty Bonds involved in the "Teapot Dome" investigation at Washington, it was declared here today by Charles D. Schaffner, executor of the estate of the late president. In an exclusive interview with the Marion Star, formerly owned by the late president.

This information was scheduled to be presented today to Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Montana, prosecutor of the committee, by William F. Allen, St. Louis, the committee's special investigator who went over the records of the Harding estate here yesterday with Mr. Schaffner.

All the bonds of the Continental Trading Company were of the First Liberty Loan issue and in denominations of $1,000, the government investigator disclosed, while only two First Liberty Loan bonds, both of $500 denomination, were found in the Harding estate.

The two bonds belonged to President Harding. Their serial numbers 6,520 and 5,521, do not correspond with the serial numbers of the Continental Trading

COAL SCHOONER SINKS
BUT CREW IS SAVED
Eight Men Rescued Off Sandy Hook By Coast Guard Destroyer.

New York, March 22.—The Coast Guard Destroyer Rock arrived in port today with eight of the crew of the four-masted coal-laden schooner John C. Hildebrand, of Boston.

The Roe in answer to an SOS, rushed to the aid of the sinking schooner which had foundered about 100 miles east of Sandy Hook. When the destroyer hove in sight the schooner was almost under water. The crew, waiting to the last moment before taking to the lifeboats, was rescued.

The Hildebrand was on its way to Eastport, Me., from Norfolk, Va., late yesterday according to Captain Larrabee, the bow of the ship burst, admitting water.

Pumps soon became clogged with coal dust. Larrabee said he left Norfolk nine days ago, and had been battered by heavy seas continuously.

The Roe stood by until the schooner sank at 3:40 this morning.

Wounded as he was, he sought to follow his comrades to safety in the next compartment of the submarine and, Navy men believe, that his fellow sailors held the door of the chamber open, despite the inrush of water and brought him to temporary safety.

His body is thought to have been the one that was found on a cot in the engine room.

The naval officers on the board of investigation have not as yet given up their search for further messages. It is hoped that some notes will be found amid the mud, slime and silt that now fills the torpedo room and motor room for nearly eighteen inches. The mud will be removed as soon as possible.

NORTH METHODISTS IN ANNUAL MEETING

Over 100 Attend Supper and Business Session—Good Reports.

North Methodist folks numbering considerably over 100 assembled in the large vestry last evening for the church annual supper and meeting. The meal was served by the women workers at 6:30. The decorations of green used by the young people remained and the tables were gay with tulips. Roast ham and roast pork with stuffing, individual salads of devilled eggs, creamed potatoes, spinach, rolls, coffee and cake, put everybody in good humor. Walter Lydall as toastmaster, added further to the enjoyment of the occasion with his geniality and good stories. Chorus singing followed, with Miss Caroline Waterbury at the piano. The Misses Elizabeth and Beula Fibbig played banjo and guitar duets.

Reports were given of the work of the Sunday school and primary departments by the respective officers. Encouraging accounts of the activities and sums earned by the Ladies Aid society were given by the head of the organization, also of the Epworth League and the two missionary societies. The church has enjoyed a most prosperous year and everything points to an even greater measure of success in the year to come.

CAPITAL'S 'DEAD' WOMAN IS STILL ALIVE TODAY. Washington, March 22.—A spark of life still burned today in the capital's "mystery woman," 24 hours after she was removed, apparently dead, from a Pullman berth in a New York train, taken to the district morgue and laid out on a slab. Two physicians had pronounced her dead before she reached the morgue. She had been found in her berth with a chloroform-soaked towel about her head, and bichloride of mercury tablets in her purse. On the slab at the morgue, an attendant saw a twitching of the neck muscles. He summoned a hospital ambulance and the rescue squad from the fire department, and then there began one of the most strenuous battles in medical history to revive the faint flickering spark of life. From the few clues available, the police expressed the opinion today she might be a Mrs. Mary True, a nurse, whose home was in nearby Maryland. If Australia could be transported to the Atlantic Ocean, it would fill up all the space between the United States and Great Britain. RELIEF FROM ITCHING PILES. MRS. COOLIDGE

Few references are made by the Washington correspondents to the health of the Mistress of the White House, but it would seem to be apparent that that estimable lady is far from well. For a long time now Mrs. Coolidge has taken but little part in the social activities in which she would be sure to be the leading figure if not constrained by very real necessity.

But there is one class of persons who are evidently giving no thought to the First Lady of the Land, these being the promoters of the "draft-Coolidge" idea. Yet Mrs. Coolidge's health would probably be an effectual obstacle to the candidacy of the President, even if he had never definitely withdrawn from the field.

This being the case nothing is less likely than that President Coolidge could be induced, under any circumstances, to accept another term, even if it were possible for the "draft-Coolidge" boosters to guarantee his re-election. It is the least likely of all things that he would insist on his life companion spending another four years in a position in which she is believed by many to be not altogether happy and in a climate and environment injurious to her health.

MEATLESS "CHILDS"

One of the interesting side-issues just at present is the experiment of the Childs restaurant system in establishing vegetarianism. Stockholders in the corporation are sticking because the meatless policy adopted by the management has resulted in cutting the profits of the restaurants in half.

Whether, however, the vegetarianism antic is simply a matter of folly as appears superficially is a matter on which various people might hold various opinions. If persisted in for a while it would seem to be a first class way of knocking the market value of shares in the Childs corporation for a goal. In which event it might be possible for the outsiders' stock to be picked up off the bargain counter by the insiders.

In any event, one of the funniest things imaginable is the notion, to be deduced from the "reform" policy of the Childs corporation, that the public health could be injured by meat eating—in a Childs restaurant! The humming bird which could not get away with a Childs restaurant portion of roast lamb and then go about his daily flitting without any hardening of his arteries would have to be an invalid humming bird to start with.

CONFESSION

Deeply to be pitied is the 72-year-old engineer of the Los Angeles Water and Power Bureau, who, with tears streaming down his face, yesterday admitted that the St. Francis dam, whose building he superintended, was a weak, miserable thing, constructed without written specifications as to the materials used and with absolutely no provision for responsible inspection—or any inspection at all, for that matter—and that, eleven hours before its collapse, he knew that it was leaking and in a bad state.

Deeply to be pitied and not unduly to be blamed. For it is not a sin to be mistaken, even when an honest mistake results in the loss of many human lives. But this old man, obviously past his best powers, was not the really responsible factor in the tragedy. The San Francisco valley dead are the victims of a vast superficiality—and its name is Los Angeles. A bubble city, blown full with the wind of boomerism; a jerry-built town with a jerry-built reputation, whose ideal is size and the spotlight, fortunes in land swapping and a gateway; a community that lives for today, today's jazziness and today's profits.

One end, at least, has been served by the confession of the broken old engineer—the cheap and tawdry "dynamite" story blows up in the face of the Los Angeles Water and Power Bureau. NOT SO BORESOME Even if it takes some time to get permanently out of prison when one has been sentenced to life for the crime of murder, it isn't always necessary for such a person to spend all his time behind bars if he has money enough to employ lawyers and if he has been mixed up in a lot of crooked political deals.

After Stephenson gets really tired of staying in prison, which is about once in every three and a half months, he steps into an automobile and goes somewhere, stays a few days and then comes back, in serene confidence that when he next becomes bored he can again roll away.

When you are going to prison for murder it pays to have some money and it pays to have some pull. RIGHTEOUS THUMPS Judge Howard of the Hartford County Court of Common Pleas ruled yesterday that it is not an illegal extension of the right of self-defense when a sixty-six-year-old man of poor physique hits with a shovel a big, strong man twenty-five years his junior who attacks him. The ruling was made in the case of a New Britain person named Mallick who assaulted one Thomas Stagis and got a broken arm out of the adventure. Mallick had had the glorious nerve to sue Stagis for $2,000 damages.

What makes this minor incident worth the special attention of any individual with a too ready fist is not so much the fact that Mallick didn't get any damages and had the costs of the suit to pay, in addition to developing a bum arm, but the inferential probability that if Stagis had cracked his assailant's skull with the shovel he would still have been entitled to the protection of the law in his proceeding. Also, it is highly probable that had he hit Mallick with a five-ton truck or the contents of a sledge howitzer it would have been all the same.

In other words, the bully who undertakes to beat on a physical "set-up" is regarded with a cold and fishy eye by the law. There is a frequently cited legal principle, "Let the buyer beware." It applies quite well in the form, "Let the assailant beware."

HISTORY GROUNDWORK A contribution to history which is likely to prove of the greatest value is a series of publications, the first of which is a book of 800 pages and has just been issued, that the United States government plans to publish to set forth all details of America's foreign relations during the world war. The volume now issued deals with the enormous mass of diplomatic correspondence of the United States government in connection with the breaking out of the war in 1914. Nothing, it is asserted, of any importance whatever has been omitted.

WASHINGTON LETTER

PROGRESS

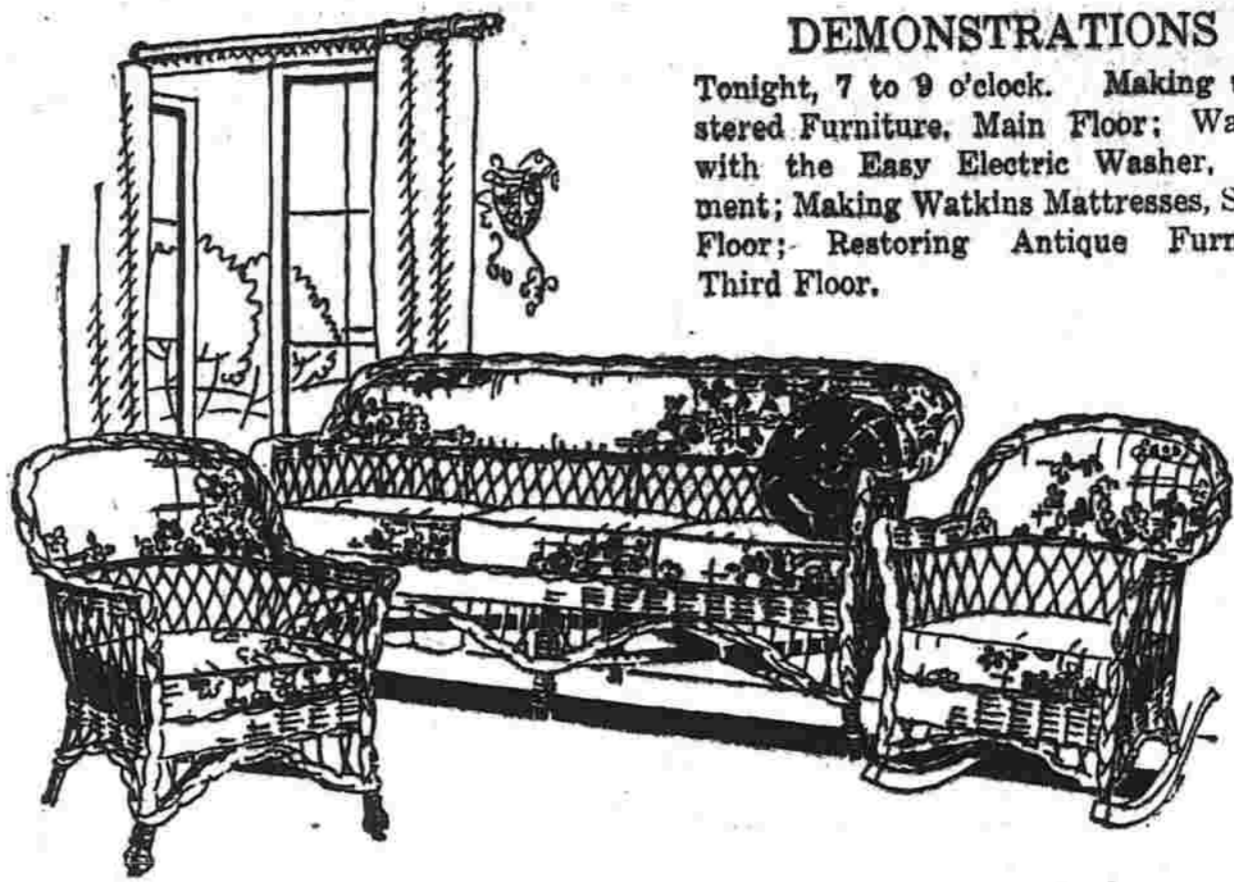

We have never, we regret to say, seen a stage production of "The Merry Wives of Windsor," and we still cling to the impression that there have been many, many playwrights who wrote worse comedy than Shakespeare. But it seems to us to be a good sign of the times when a dramatic critic can speak his own mind about any play of the Bard of Avon without losing his job.

Shakespeare was a marvelous poet. But all our life we have had a lurking suspicion that there was a loose pin somewhere in the credo that he is always a good playwright. "King Lear" is terrible and Macbeth has never been equalled by anything but the slaughter-house movie serials of a few years ago.

Advertise in The Evening Herald-It Pays

New York, March 22.—The none-too-gentle art of being ritzy and high-hat is practiced by an extraordinary number of New Yorkers. Pretensions are paraded particularly in the presence of some guest from the old home town.

So prevalent is this custom that an advertisement in one of the sophisticated Gotham publications boldly flaunts this chivalric country cousin you wish to impress; if so, be sure and tab this address: Now I ask you!

This effort at "impressing" others is what keeps money in circulation in New York. It also succeeds in keeping many a modestly salaried young man broke. He rides in "cabs"; he buys his seats at a "box" theater broker's offices and pays up to $10 a seat; he takes his friends to dine at places where "important people" gather; he makes all the gestures of the affluent spender.

The "important people," of course, are inclined to go about their own business and dine with people in their own circle. Being important, they can afford to be free from pretensions—though a few of them are not—they can leave their high-hats at home and go where they please without any thought as to whether "it is being done." It's generally the climber and the near-important person who puts on the airs.

During the past season Broadway theater managers have constantly complained that they can no longer sell balcony seats. The tendency to "show off" has grown to such an extent that everyone now wants to sit in the orchestra. Sitting upstairs, they feel, implies a cheapness and a loss of caste. They are willing to pay scalper's prices when for a couple of dollars, excellent seats could be had in less expensive locations.

The situation has at times become so acute that productions have actually faced the prospect of failure because the cheaper seats could not be sold. It is no secret that the success of plays lies in the balcony and gallery patronage. It is the turnover of these sections that supported many a drama over a stormy session when the orchestra was but half filled.

On one occasion a number of theater men got together and decided to boost the prices of balcony seats making them more costly than the others in the hope that this would have a psychological effect upon the "high toned" ticket buyers. The novelty caught on for a time, but has not been generally successful.

The same condition has been reported by night clubs. Unless "ringside" tables can be secured, the patron feels that he would embarrass his guest. He is willing to pay fat tips to head waiters just to "be seen" at the edge of the dance floor.

Actors, actresses, movie performers, models and figures in the Broadway limelight are generally given the preference, since it is appreciated that their business involves the necessity of publicity and prominence.

Believe it or not, but I saw a crowd of nearly 1000 people gather to look upon a wagon load of hay that got stalled in a snow drift. GILBERT SWAN.

MILTON SILLS STARS AT STATE TOMORROW

"Burning Daylight" and "Serenade" on Program—William Haines Here Today.

Milton Sills, typical of the virile man of the great outdoors, is the star in one of the features at the State theater tomorrow and Saturday. This picture is "Burning Daylight" and is being shown with "Serenade," one of the most beautiful love stories ever told, with Adolphe Menjou as the leading character. With the two features on Saturday afternoon and evening Manager Sanson will present five more metropolitan vaudeville acts.

The Alaskan gold-rush—declared by many to be the most dramatic and picturesque period in America in the last fifty years—provides the engrossing setting for "Burning Daylight." Based on Jack London's novel of the same name, "Burning Daylight" is crammed with drama and action, with the endless, epic picture of the gold rush in the background. An unusually large cast, headed by Doris Kenyon in the feminine lead supports Sills.

In "Serenade" Menjou is presented as Franz Rossi, a struggling young Viennese composer, who finds in love the inspiration for an opera that sweeps him to a tremendous success. The adulation of the public turns his head, the featured dancer of the opera company assisting in this unfortunate development and he neglects the love and wife of his days of poverty and struggle to revel in the pleasures of fame and fortune.

Kathryn Carver, the wife, brings him to his senses and disposes of the other woman, played by Lina Basquette, in a vivid and sympathetic solution of the eternal triangle.

William Haines is at the State for the last time tonight in "The Smart Set," his funniest and best picture. This film is one of two features, the other being "Doomsday" starring Florence Vidor and Gary Cooper.

Don't for tourists should include—Don't ask to see Raphael's Sistine Madonna in the Sistine Chapel at Rome; don't look in Germany for Carlsbad; don't expect to see the Pope if you are wearing a low evening gown.

A crook drama holds the screen at W. R. Campbell's Rialto theater this evening. Under the title of "You Can't Beat the Law," Rayart has produced a picture of strong audience appeal, with Lila Lee, Cornelius Keefe, Betty Francisco and Warner Richmond responsible for the principal characterizations. H. H. Van Loan, author of many successful screen and stage plays, among them being "The Noose" and "Blood Money," is the originator of this absorbing drama. The story is crammed to the final reel with thrills, action and mystery and has one of the most unusual climaxes yet to reach the screen. Trem Carr supervised the production under the direction of Charles J. Hunt.

The consistency of Hudson leadership is but the performance of its first principle, resolution and tradition—to always lead in value.

Thus it was the first car at moderate price to give truly great performance, smoothness and reliability—the industry's standard today.

Thus it was the first in the development of American closed cars, and such smart turnouts as the Town Car and Speedster.

The Coach—a Hudson invention—turned the entire industry to closed cars.

The Super-Six principle and its companion invention that turns waste heat to power, is the most efficient combination in development and transmission of power, within our knowledge.

In the beautifully designed and luxuriously finished bodies that feature the new Hudson Super-Sixes the same relation of values obtain as made the Super-Six chassis famous.

"TARZAN" RETURNS TO CIRCLE SCREEN

Famous Character Here Again In Double Feature Bill Tomorrow—Vaudeville on Oak Street Tonight.

Tarzan, the great character who has thrilled millions on the stage, on the screen and in the novels, is back again on the silver sheet and his latest offering, at the Circle theater on Friday and Saturday, is "Tarzan and the Golden Lion."

Excitement and thrills are given a new meaning in "Tarzan and the Golden Lion." A hunt for a hidden city, scaling a precipitous cliff, an escape through some unknown caves, skirmishes with savage tribes and an encounter with a lion are a few of the highlights of a picture that may well be called the acme of entertainment.

As "Her Summer Hero" is a story of college and the beaches, many world famous swimmers were brought to the island to appear before the camera.

WILLIAM BOYD IN POST WAR COMEDY

"Two Arabian Knights" at State on Sunday and Monday.

The first chance to see William Boyd in a major film production since his work in "The Volga Boatman" will be given Boyd fans when "Two Arabian Knights," post-war comedy drama of a pair of lough boys, comes to the State theater on Sunday and Monday.

Mary Astor is his leading lady in this story of the amusing experiences of two soldiers, a rich private and a hard-boiled sergeant, who, through using an Arab disguise to escape from a German prison camp, find themselves in Arabia.

Boyd, who after only moderate opportunities, received his big chance in "The Volga Boatman," did so well in his part that he has been in constant demand by producers everywhere.

"Two Arabian Knights." In that film, the private and the sergeant are enemies, as all such were during the days of cold, rain and mud in France. They try to stay enemies throughout the picture, but it is difficult to do so since each helps the other when they are confronted by a common foe.

Rents get heavier and heavier. In New Jersey the other day an apartment house fell in.

And there is the other side of telephone service, too—the calls that may come to you. "Let's visit Garber Brothers before we make a final selection" they said

— and in every instance they were glad they came here

SO they came down to Garber Brothers... and unlike the rushing big business atmosphere, they found a different kind of a store... while tremendously big and busy, it had an atmosphere all its own—more of that quiet, refined atmosphere that you find at home.

They were shown through the entire establishment. How interesting it all was! They looked at the furniture carefully and thoughtfully. We want our customers to give the selection of furniture very careful thought... that's why we never hurry them. Furniture is all too important to select it haphazardly. We want our customers to know everything about it... so we also explain every detail.

They were quite impressed with the large display. It is more like an exposition and it gave them wide and diversified range to choose from. Not merely good looking furniture, if you please, but furniture of built-in beauty, sound quality and construction.

... and the prices surprised them. Here they've been to so many "sales" and they saw so many discount reductions of 20, 30, 40 and 50%... and then to come down to Garber Brothers; who NEVER have "sales" and to find that their EVERYDAY prices were lower than "sale" prices.

In every instance they had good reason to be pleased that they came to Garber Brothers. They wanted good furniture for their home and they found it here.

QUANTITY, QUALITY, VARIETY AND ECONOMY... all in their favor.

A visit to Garber Brothers places you under no obligation; not the slightest. So please, do not hesitate to come in:

Community Girls Face State Champions Again

Manchester Team Hopes to Square Accounts With Aetna Life Tonight in Second Game at Hartford; Welles at Center, Drew at Guard.

Local Sport Chatter

The Community Girls basketball team will make their second bid for a victory over the State Champion Aetna Life quintet of Hartford tonight at the Broad street gym in Hartford. Play will start at 9 o'clock.

The game will be played as the second of a double-header. In the first contest, the Aetna club, using second string players, is scheduled to meet the Chase Girls of Waterbury. In view of the fact that the Park City Girls defeated the Chase Girls 50 to 1, it is not expected that Coach Adrian Brennan will use his regulars much, if at all, against the Brass City team.

Coach Brennan realizes that the hardest part of his double-header will be his game with the Manchester team which, although losing, is given the credit for giving the Aetna its hardest game of the season last week in Hartford. Coach Jerry Fay is confident his team will show to a much better advantage tonight. He has spent many hours perfecting the defects which were the cause of the defeat in Hartford. Coach Jerry Fay will use his best team, Miriam Welles will probably start at her old position, center, with Mary Drew going to guard.

PITCHERS TROUBLE DETROIT'S TIGERS

If They Click Manager Moriarty Says He Will Not Worry Over Pennant.

Editor's Note: This is the fifteenth of a series of articles by the International News Service, dealing with developments in connection with various Major League clubs in Spring training. The sixteenth and last of the series will follow.

San Antonio, Texas, March 22.—With the spring training season almost completed, George Moriarty has just about decided the personnel of his Detroit Tigers for 1928 and, in contempt of the list he finds himself from dissatisfied. The Tigers had about everything happen to them last year that can happen to a ball club, yet they finished in the money and gave indications of a most certain strengthening to come to the surface before long.

Moriarty considers he has a sure contender, in spite of slightly uncertain fact, needed nothing and wanted nothing.

Re-vamped infield
He is especially keen about his re-vamped infield. Only the keystone pair, Tavenner and Gehring, remain from the quartet which started the 1927 season.

His Pitches
As the Tiger pitcher contends, the pitching really shouldn't be so different with Earl Whitehill, Lil Stoner, Holladay, Gibson, Carroll, Billings, Smith and Van Gilder figured as regulars. They have the potential ability and if they begin to click, the fact that young pitching has been a disappointment this year can be forgotten.

The final sitting of the Community Club setback tournament will be held at the "White House" tonight.

The Heights will hold a baseball meeting at 7:30 Monday night at 228 Oak street and all members are requested to report; also anyone interested in joining.

In nine months 150,000 persons have visited the health spas of Czechoslovakia, which stands as a record for health resorts.

HOOKS and SLIDES

WHEN NAVY MET ARMY
Before the Army and the Navy met recently in their annual basketball game, some of the distinguished Washington observers who find easy cause for alarm suggested it might be well to have ready for the emergency a couple of companies of military police and three or four marines.

The argument over the eligibility rules at the military academy, which caused football relations between West Point and Annapolis to be severed, applies also to basketball and baseball, and it seemed as if the 1928 game would be the last between the service schools.

It was also the rubber game of the series and it was feared that the boys might get heated up too much in their desire to knock off the basketball relations with a victory and rouse it up.

There is no hard feeling between the athletic officers at West Point and Annapolis and the cadets and midshipmen do not seem to be aroused to the war pitch by the football controversy.

"We could have gotten together and probably would have arranged some kind of a compromise if the politicians had kept their noses out of it," he said.

It makes a lot of difference when you have a title to protect. If Terri had been the champion it's a dead cinch he never would have fought Jimmy McManus in Rickard's Garden. He would have demanded more dough.

There are about 110,000 Indians in Canada. The government reservations upon which most of them live cover 5,000,000 acres. It is estimated that more than 300 languages are spoken throughout the world.

Special to The Herald

Plainfield, Mar. 22.—The annual series between Plainfield and Taftville was brought to a close here last night when the local team won the second straight game of the series by a 31 to 25 score. Taftville, with a much strengthened lineup, gave the Plainfield team a close run, but it was teamwork that led in the ultimate outcome.

At halftime, Plainfield was trailing 16 to 14, but it overcame this lead after the second half got under way and spurred into the lead and remained there until time. Riordan of Boston played best for Taftville while Brusco Caspar and Benson were Plainfield's best bets.

The game was well handled by Herb Smith, Manchester official. Smith has been working regularly here for several weeks and his efforts have borne much appreciated fruit. Many have congratulated him for his splendid work. There was a time when the officiating at the games here was nothing to brag about.

Only the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant are good enough for OLD GOLDS

That's the bedrock reason for "not a cough in a carload." The tobacco itself! Indeed, the whole why of OLD GOLD'S honey-like smoothness rests in these five tobacco facts:

- [1] The finest tobaccos that grow
- [2] Only the "heart-leaves" from the heart of the tobacco plant
- [3] Selected for their silkiness and ripeness to insure that honey-like smoothness
- [4] Extra long mellowing and ageing in a temperature of mid-July sunshine
- [5] All tobacco . . . pure tobacco . . . the finest tobaccos that grow

SOUTH END BOWLER SURPRISES BY SUCH AN OVERWHELMING WIN

Match May Not Be Finished; Murphy Averages 114.5, Brennan, 97.8; South End-Hits 151 and Wins 8 Of 10 Games.

MURPHY	LEAD	BRENNAN
95	9	104
120	5	106
128	48	85
104	49	108
103	39	113
111	68	87
112	76	99
119	99	96
108	107	90
181	168	90
	168	978

They saw that nothing is impossible, but Bobby Brennan's chances of overcoming a 168 pin lead and beating Howard Murphy for the town championship Saturday afternoon, down south, are about as slim as one can imagine. Yet, that is exactly the kind of a fix Mr. Brennan is in. For last night in the first half of their twenty game match, Champion Murphy gave him a severe shellacking—and what's more did it right on Brennan's own alleys, Conran's over north.

Murphy's decisive victory came as a big surprise. While south end fans said before the match, that Murphy was sure to win, there were few, if any, who thought Howard would give Bibby such a bad trimming. The story of the match can be told in one sentence. Murphy hit real good score and Brennan real bad—that is, for a championship match.

Murphy won eight of the ten games and averaged 114.5 while Brennan's average was under a hundred—97.8. Murphy made three strikes and twenty-nine spares. Brennan, three strikes and fourteen spares. The high single of the night went to Murphy when he hit 151 against 90 in the last game to win by 61 pins at a 168 pin lead.

In this game, the town champion made five straight spares, skipped one, and chucked up two more. His innings were 8,8,7,6,9,7.

Strange to relate, the match attracted an even larger crowd than the recent Murphy-Conran contest. Those north ends fans surely do back their men to the very finish.

However, Murphy says he went north with a pool of $150 and could cover only $40. Murphy feels that it is a waste of time to finish the match. Not that he is over-confident or anything like that. Just that he cannot see how Brennan can possibly overcome such an overwhelming lead. Brennan, however, says he will stick it out. Murphy said last night he would attempt to call off the match and arrange a two-man affair in its place.

Brennan won the first game last night by nine pins and the north end fans went wild with delight. Their celebration was cut short when Murphy followed with scores of 120 and 128 against 106 and 85 to grab a 48 pin lead. This seemed to take the heart out of Brennan for he missed five spares breaks in the next game. It seemed to bear out the pre-game reports from the south end, that once Brennan gets behind, he is not nearly as good a bowler. Murphy went over a hundred in all but his first game. Brennan was under six times.

Mass play in football was eliminated in 1920. Mass play permitted interlocked interference and allowed linemen no offense to form behind line of scrimmage.

Yes, by miffing a fly and then making wild throws. Fred Nicholson, playing for the Boston Braves in 1922, made four errors on two chances in this manner.

In what country did the game of polo originate? When was the flyweight class, 112 pounds, established? What is regarded as the least bit of pitching in big league baseball?

Polo tradition credits Marco Polo, the explorer in whose honor the game is named, with having introduced the game to the civilized world. It is an ancient Mongolian game.

The flyweight division was first established in 1910. The outstanding champion in this class, since it was launched, was the late Pancho Villa.

Fred Marberry of Washington, greatest relief pitcher of modern times, during the season of 1925 worked in 56 games, none of them complete.

COTTER CHALLENGES GALLUP TO EXHIBITION POOL MATCH

North End Visitors and Former Native Want to Show New Town Champion Thing or Two About Fine Points of Game.

Bill Cotter, former Manchester and professional pocket billiards player, wants to meet Jud Gallup, the newly crowned town champion in an exhibition match for fun or money.

This was the news which came to the Herald sports department today from Joe Coughlin who conducts a pool room at the north end. It will be remembered that Cotter's name was entered in the Herald's first annual elimination tournament until it was discovered he doesn't live here. Then it was scratched in fairness to the other players.

Cotter is connected with the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company and is on the "road" most of the time. However, he dropped into town yesterday afternoon just in time to learn that Gallup had defeated Jarle Johnson for the town championship. There is no question but what Cotter is a great player. He has taken part in state tournaments and once made a run of 65 balls against Hanlon. The boys over in "God's Country" say that a run of twenty to forty balls is not unusual for him. Last night Cotter easily defeated Coughlin 100 to 53 and Billy Kaminsky 100 to 70. Even then, he wasn't trying half of the time, they say. Against Coughlin, Cotter made runs of 22 and 33. Not so bad, eh?

Cotter told the writer that he would like to meet Gallup in a home and home match, three hundred points preferred. He is willing to play the first block (150 points) anywhere Gallup designates with the latter block at Coughlin's pool room. He would be able to play next Tuesday evening if that is agreeable to Gallup. While the proposition has not yet been put up to Gallup, it is not believed that the champion will duck the friendly challenge. He is too much of a pool lover to do that.

Three More Nights Will Bring Herald Bowling Loop Close

LEAGUE STANDING table with columns for team names, wins, losses, and points.

MATCHES TONIGHT: At Conran's, Highland Park vs. St. Bridget's, W. S. Rec. vs. Cloverleaves.

At K. of O., Cubs vs. British-American. At Murphy's, Masons vs. K. of P., Bon Ami vs. K. of C., Beethoven vs. Center Church.

This match has been postponed because the Beethoven Glee Club has an engagement for tonight.

Interest tonight in The Herald Bowling League will be focused on the outcome of the match between Highland Park and St. Bridget's at Conran's alleys. The latter team is tied with the Knights of Pythias for last place in the league and hopes to drag the hilltop representatives back into the cellar.

The Cubs, holders of second place, meet the British Americans and hope to gain if the Masons falter. The match between the West Side Rec and the Cloverleaves promises to be a humdinger. The Bon Ami and K. of C. match also ought to be well worth watching.

Only two more night's matches remain after this evening and all teams are requested to see that the league is finished in the same splendid manner which has featured its progress to date. Not a single match has been forfeited, and the Beethoven-Center Church is the first postponement. However, that will be played off very soon.

OLYMPICS DEFEAT LIBERTIES 53-29

Yet Latter Team Virtually Certain to Win Title and Meet Warriors in Play-off; Other Results.

The championship of Division Two of the Community Club junior basketball league is still in doubt. It hinges between the High School Olympics and the Liberties. However, the Liberties seem like pretty certain winners inasmuch as the Olympics must win every game while the Liberties lose all, to win the title.

Last night, the Phantoms beat Highland Park, 37 to 21 and the Olympics routed the Liberties 53 to 29. The league standing and summaries follow:

STANDING table with columns for team names, wins, losses, and points.

WARRIORS WIN: The Warriors, champions of Division One in the Junior League, defeated the Cardinals 24 to 9 and will meet the winners of Division Two in the play-off series for the title. The summary:

CARLSON-SHERMAN ON AMATEUR CARD

Six teams of amateur boxers from Springfield, Windsor Locks, Bridgeport, Terryville, Providence and Hartford will engage in inter-city bouts at the weekly amateur boxing show of the Massachusetts A. C. at Foot Guard hall in Hartford tonight.

Heavy and light heavies will predominate on the card. Vic Carlson, Terryville light heavy, who is going great guns just now, will meet Louis Sherman, Bridgeport light heavyweight who knocked out Joe Taggart of Hartford in the first round at Foot Guard hall last week. A dozen heavies and light heavies have fled entries including Ray Sanborn, who last week defeated Joe Howard and who is now launching out on a comeback.

SEE HORNSBY HAND IN BELL EXCHANGE

Roger Is Already Doing Things For the Braves Without Arguments Following.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, March 22.—Without straining an ocular tendon, one can see the fine, spartan hand of Rogers Hornsby figuring ultra-prominently in the deal, announced yesterday, whereby Lester Bell and Andy High changed into the uniforms of the Boston Braves and the St. Louis Cardinals respectively. They are aware of a mere second baseman and field captain has no particular business figuring even obscurely in an inter-club deal.

Also that Hornsby had declared eternal allegiance to Jack Slatery and that sweet spirits of appeasement are announcing the entire premises. However, this is not ordinary second baseman and field captain. We are talking about Rogers Hornsby, who managed the Cards into a world's championship only eighteen months ago and now outdraws his manager almost three to one in salary.

Hornsby, as aggressive and dominating as ever, is exerting a definite influence in the affairs of his new club and, if you don't think so, then there is nothing for it but for you to admit that canned spinach makes a swell corsage.

The Bell deal may not substantiate this contention, ipso facto, whatever that is, but it certainly offers no rebuttal evidence, either. The fact of the matter is that Hornsby and Bell were mutual admirers in St. Louis and the inference is that the trade wouldn't have been elsewhere.

All Good Friends: I don't attempt to say, either, that the deal was made over Slatery's dead body. He and Hornsby are room mates in St. Petersburg they eat at the same table with Judge Fuchs, owner of the club. This state of affairs simply is made-to-measure for a man of Hornsby's forcefulness.

He wanted Bell. He got him. The New York Giants only dropped overers, looking toward the same result, when they discovered that Hornsby himself was not to remain in New York for another season.

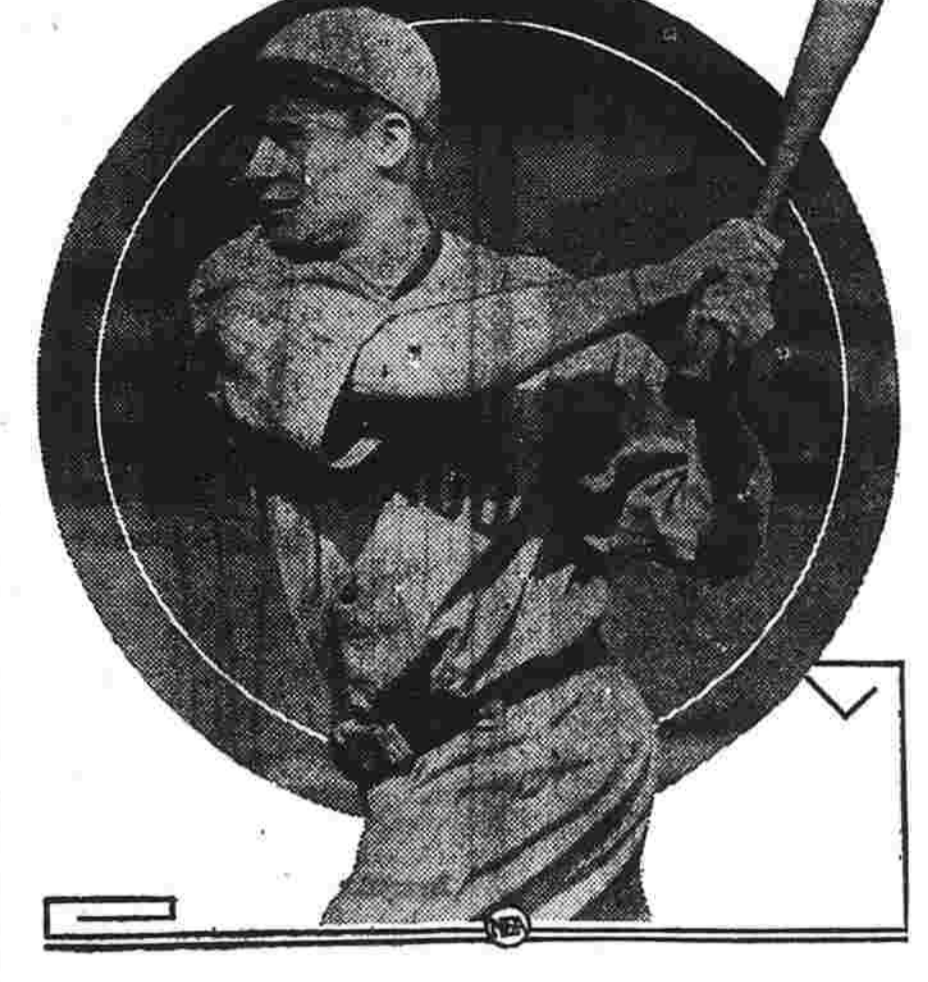

It was common gossip around the 1926 World Series that one of the greatest of Hornsby's triumphs at that time, exceeded only by the fact that he had brought the Cards down to the wire for the first time in nearly forty years, was the development of Bell, a Hornsby man of the most devoted type.

His effect on Bell was almost instantaneous. From a very commonplace third baseman, he became a ranking star in 1926, not only fielding sensationally but hitting close to .350. When it was all over, Hornsby was unfrocked and sent to New York. Upon which, Bell blew himself to a most indifferent season, hitting near around .260. His days of usefulness in St. Louis apparently were over.

If our alleged Svengali can persuade Bell to play up to his 1926 speed, the Braves are made a ball club. If he can't, there is no particular harm done and Hornsby still is an excellent second baseman and field captain.

The $123,000 Rookie

Chalmers Cissell, With White Sox, Is Costliest Youngster of the Year.

Here's the most expensive bit of ivory in the major leagues' training camps this spring. He is Chalmers Cissell, the rookie shortstop for whom the Chicago White Sox put out cash and enough players to amount to a tag of $123,000.

Cissell, another Pacific Coast star, is expected to play regularly this season and is said to be of major league caliber in every respect.

TWO HIGH-PRICED LADS HAVE DYKES IN RESERVE

The Chicago White Sox have two of the highest-priced players in baseball in Willie Kamm and Chalmers Cissell. Each cost more than $100,000.

The Athletics have one of the most valuable utility players in baseball in Jimmy Dykes, a hard hitter, who can play any position on the infield—and play it well.

STEER AIDS RUNNERS IN BREAKING RECORD

Navajo, Ariz., March 22.—Navajo, with its tank town, sotre and sheep corral was left behind as C. C. ("Cross-Country") Pyle's "blistered barons" pushed eastward today toward Lupton, their twentieth control and their last night's halt in Arizona. From Navajo to Lupton, the speedometer clocks 33 miles.

Arne Souminen, Detroit medical, retained first place in the grind with an elapsed time of 11:50:45 for the 651.8 miles from Los Angeles by running second to Ed Gardner, on the 41.8 mile lap yesterday from Holbrook to Navajo.

Olli Wanttinen, New York's 96-pound Finn, proved that he is recovering from "ship splints" by reaching the Navajo control in 8:58, bringing his elapsed time to 15:22:32.

Louis Perrilla, Albany, N. Y., was twelfth in the total mileage computation in spite of a bit of bulldozing staged by himself, and Frank Chavez, Pasadena, Calif., Indian, with a rangy painted desert steer as the third party, Chavez's red running tights intruded the animal, which charged them with lowered head for some two miles, according to the report they made to race officials. The two youths insisted that the time made by them in making the escape was the fastest yet clocked in the cross-country classic.

HAS NO RIVAL FOR JOB

Lou Gehrig, New York Yankees' first baseman, is the only player on the club who has no understudy for his position.

FAMOUS LAST LINES: "Yes, I think that motor stock is selling at least twenty points too high." The total United States coast line is 11,930 miles.

INDEPENDENTS COP FIRST GAME 59-47

Trim Sons of Lithuania in Start of Series to Decide Senior League Basketball Title.

The Independents beat the Sons of Lithuania last night in the play-off for the championship of the Community Club senior basketball league. The score was 59 to 47. The game was the first of a series of three games to decide the supremacy. Shannon and Yokatis were the high scorers. The summary follows:

Speaking of proverbs, the New Yorkers probably are saying it these days: "Oily to bed and oily to rise, makes the national committee healthy and wealthy and wise."

SPECIAL BASKETBALL GAME ON ROLLER SKATES WILL BE PLAYED BETWEEN THE HALVES

Both Rec and Knights Are Confident of Victory; Former Slight Favorites; Rec Girls Oppose New Britain Machine.

If the first two games are to be taken as a criterion, then the basketball game between the Rec Five and The Hartford Knights of Lithuania at the School street Rec tomorrow night ought to be a whiz. These teams have met twice on the chalked court, each having gained one verdict. Tomorrow night's contest will settle the argument as to which is the better team.

After polishing off the Philadelphia Colored Giants and the Holyoke Falcons in succession, Manager Ben Clune's aggregation is all set to annex another scalp. The first two games revealed that the two teams are very evenly matched, so it's hard telling which will win Friday.

Time alone will tell which is the better team. Herb Smith will referee and play will start about nine o'clock. In the preliminary contest, the snappy Rec Girls will swap shots with the New Britain Machine, the team that defeated them the first game of the season. This struggle ought to be well worth viewing. Then there is the novelty attraction, a basketball game on roller skates, between two specially organized local teams. This will be played between the halves of each game.

indications were that there would be no town series this season, many protests were heard. The general opinion seems to be that the teams should meet and decide which is the better. There would also be a nice piece of change in the pockets with little expense. But what's the use wasting words—the north and the south always have to do just so much loud mouthing before they come to terms. Many of the fans think it's just a publicity stunt, but those who have that opinion are all wet.

No announcement has been made by the Rec as to any changes in the plans for the game tomorrow night, so it is taken for granted that the Rec will use Manneil, Faulkner, Norris, Blaseil, Madden or Farr at the start. The Knights will probably use the same lineup with Urban, Stratts, the Shimkus brothers and Mazotas in at the start. Coach Earl Bennett is quite confident of victory.

A dash of winter now and then is relished by the coal yard men. A little oil makes a good lubricant. Thirty-three million barrels, however, cause a lot of friction.

WAPPING

John S. Hale, county club agent, for the Farm Bureau, announces the second annual Farm Boys' conference will be held under the auspices of the Hartford County Farm Bureau at the Hartford Y. M. C. A., Saturday, March 31. Every farm boy and his dad in Hartford county are invited to this meeting.

The meeting will be held to help the boys become better acquainted with each other. This conference, started last year in Hartford County, was the first of its kind in New England. It has been planned with the idea of getting all the boys and their fathers who are interested in the same thing, together in a mass meeting, for an exchange of ideas, and a better mutual understanding. The complete program is not yet available, but it is planned to have two prominent speakers, some educational films, a magician, some reels of comedy, and some short attendance is based on the addition there will be in luncheon with group singing and cheering. He estimates that five hundred boys and dads will attend this conference. This estimate is based on the attendance at last year's meeting and the interest it created.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

SENSE and NONSENSE

Be sure that your job always gets more out of you than you get out of it—and you will never have to ask for a raise in pay.

We used to think the Scotch looked funny with their short kilts and bare knees.

Formula For Optimist They found a little courage That shimmered in the sun, They blended it with patience And just a spice of fun; They poured in hope and laughter And then with sudden twist They stirred it all together And made an "Optimist."

Women often misplace their waists but man completely loses his.

"Mother, if I should die, would I go to heaven?" "Yes, dear, I think so." "If you should die, would you go to heaven?" "Why, my dear, I hope so."

"Well, I hope so too. It would be awful for me up there to be pointed out as the little girl whose mother was in hell."

Telephone operators should work eight hours and sleep eight hours, but not the same eight hours.

Probably they did not have Carnegie medals that time when the boy stood on the burning deck.

No Groping Under the Bureau "I've swallowed my collar-but- ton," gasped the grocer. "Well," responded his wife, "you know where it is, anyway!"

The friend in need turns up oftener than the friend in deed.

Nothing irks a genuine college boy any more than shaking out the envelope from home and finding nothing in it but news and love.

There was a time when "Always" was an appropriate song at a wedding—but "Just For Today" seems most appropriate at this moment.

Another thing these styles have done is to rob helping a girl on with her rubbers, or even her galoshes for that matter, of all interest.

We hear that in California the lilac bushes grow as tall as fifteen feet; it must be some state to "lilac" that.

Asked what part of the movies she liked best, a flapper said it was the part where her sheik squeezed her.

Misrepresentation "Bulldog for sale; will eat anything; very fond of children." "Wanted a boy to be partly outside and partly behind the counter."

"Widow in comfortable circumstances wishes to marry two sons." "Animal sale now on; don't go elsewhere to be cheated; come here."

"A lady wants to sell her piano, as she is going abroad in a strong iron frame."

"Wanted, an airy bedroom for a gentlemen twenty-two feet long and eleven feet wide."

Nowadays you see women's dresses advertised one-third off and worn one-third on.

VETER GOLF

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW!

Baseball will soon be with us, but in two meantime letter golf players can pole out SAFE HITS as often as they please with only four swings of the old pencil. One solution to today's puzzle is on another page.

SAFE HITS word puzzle grid

THE RULES

1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.

2—You can change only one letter at a time.

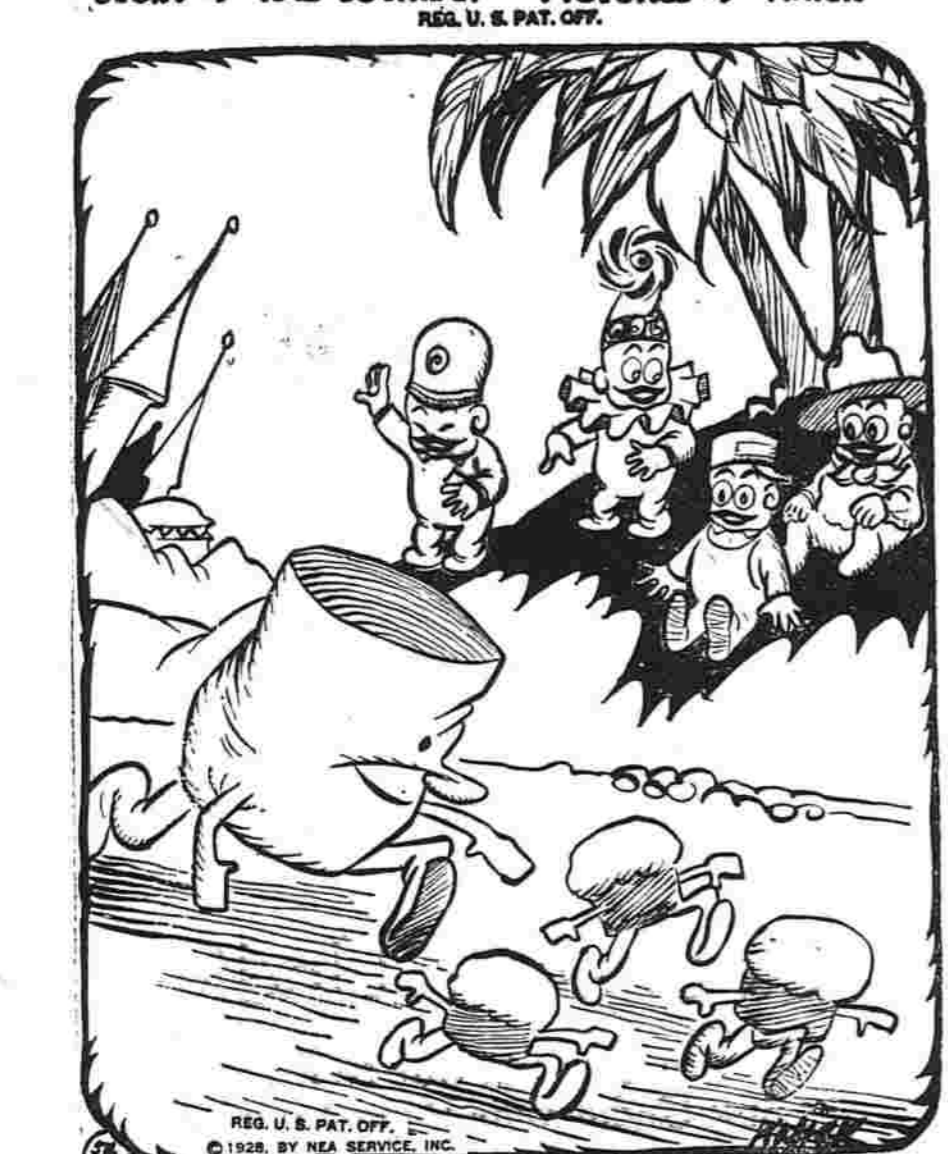

3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.

4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

Housewife (interviewing prospective help): "I may tell you that we are vegetarians."

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

It was a very pretty sight, this frosting lake of brilliant white. The little cupcake splashed about and had a lot of fun. Said Cloway, "Why stand you up here, when we can all run down real near? Come on, let's go down by the bank." The bunch began to run. Then one small cupcake yelled, "Hello! I'll bet you Tinsies do not know why we are splashing in this lake. Come on, now try and guess." The Tinsies thought for quite a while. Then Scouty answered, with a smile, "We've tried to guess the answer, but we can't, we must confess." The cupcake then said, "Well, you see, we must be sweet as we can be before they take us to the store and put us up for sale. So, when we jump into this lake, we soon are more than just plain cake, it covers us with frosting white. It never seems to fall!" "Well, well," said Scouty, "That's sure neat. No wonder cupcake taste so sweet." And then he stuck his finger in the lake, to take a taste. "Oh, don't do that," one cupcake cried. "If by the baker you are spied, 'twill make him mad. He doesn't like to see this go to waste." "All right, we will not start a fuss. You're covered now. Come play with us," said Copy, and the cupcake soon were running out on shore. "Don't, I look nice!" one cupcake said, "with frosting spread upon my head." Just then the Tinsies heard a very funny sounding roar. They looked around, and right near by a paper bag cried loudly, "I have come to get you cupcake. Will you kindly all stand still." The cupcake then began to roar, "Oh, please don't take us to the store." And, as they ran away the bag pursued them o'er the hill. (The Tinymites get a new surprise in the next story.)

Last Week's Show Pronounced Great Success—To Perfect Permanent Organization.

The Manchester Automobile dealers who co-operated in putting on the automobile show at the Armory last week, met at the Sheridan Hotel yesterday noon and over a beefsteak dinner, wound up the business of the show. Everyone was pleased with this year's show, which was the most successful yet attempted and was put on at less expense than any previous show, thanks to careful planning on the part of James Stevenson, the show manager. Treasurer W. R. Tinker, Jr., reported all bills paid with a small balance in the treasury. Steps were taken to make the Manchester Automobile Dealers' Association a permanent organization, as it is thought that by combining forces many things of benefit to the individual dealers can be accomplished. George L. Betts was elected temporary chairman pending the completion of the organization. Their next meeting will be held at the Sheridan the first Wednesday in April.

Mrs. Gerald Risley of Stone street, entertained at dinner last evening a party of friends and relatives from Manchester and other places. The occasion was the birthday of one of her children.
