

BOTH PARTIES MUST FACE THE DRY ISSUE

Senator Borah Threatens Trouble If They Attempt To Sidestep It In Their Platforms This Year.

Washington, March 29.—Senator William E. Borah served notice today on both major parties today that if they attempt to side-step or soft-pedal the issue of prohibition in their party platforms this year there is going to be trouble ahead—and plenty of it.

Great as is the issue of driving corruption from party councils and from government itself, the issue of upholding and enforcing the constitution, in the opinion of Senator Borah, is greater and more fundamental, the Idaho Senator asserted.

Conspiracy of Silence
Already, he charged, the ruling powers in both Republican and Democratic parties have decided there shall be "a conspiracy of silence" concerning prohibition. To break that conspiracy, he exhorted the dry of both parties to move upon Kansas City and Houston a few weeks hence and demand that the platform-farmers "fish or cut bait" upon the issue of prohibition.

Borah's charges of bi-partisan conspiracy, and his warning that trouble lies ahead if party leaders attempt it, were contained in a remarkable speech which he addressed last night via radio to a group of Ohio women voters.

Cause of Excitement
It caused considerable excitement in the capital today—and considerable uneasiness on the part of Republican leaders.

For Borah plans to go to Kansas City himself and conduct the fight for a bone-dry plank in the Republican platform. Realizing Borah's competitive powers, and scenting that Gov. Al Smith probably will be the Democratic nominee, Republican leaders are stirring uneasily over the prospect of going to the country next November positively committed to bone-dryness.

After reviewing the governmental scandals of the last few years, which, he said, had compelled the Republican Party to face its critics humiliated and silenced, Borah declared he did not believe the Kansas City convention would "dare confess its moral delinquency to the world" by refusing to face

HOUSE OPPOSED TO FLOOD BILL

Members of Lower Branch Want the States to Pay Part of Expenses.

Washington, March 29.—The unparalleled action of the Senate in passing a $325,000,000 flood control bill in less than two hours failed to wipe out today the stubborn opposition of a House group which is determined that the people of the Mississippi river valley shall pay part of the cost of harnessing the mighty stream.

Administration leaders were demanding changes in the bill before it is brought on the floor, while backers of the "government pay all" plan were clamoring for speedy action.

TRUST CO. HAS NEW PLAN FOR NIGHT DEPOSITS

After-Hour Depository System Being Installed For Benefit of Patrons With Evening Receipts.

Workmen were busy today installing a modern night depository system at the Manchester Trust Company. A night depository will enable patrons to make deposits of cash or valuables at any time of the day or night after the bank has closed.

The officers at the Trust Company stated that one of the principal reasons for installing this system is the increasing activity in recent years among bandits and burglars, which has created a situation that imposes upon the banks of the country another service not heretofore expected or required. In former years the energies of the burglar were directed chiefly against the banks themselves, but with the development in the bank vault construction and protective devices for safeguarding the money and treasure entrusted to them, his operations in that direction have become increasingly difficult and fruitless and he has returned to fields of less risk and surer, if smaller, returns.

As a consequence, the owners of theatres, amusements, parks, filling stations, retail stores and other business who usually have considerable sums of money on hand after banks have closed are now becoming the victims of his criminal operations. Having no means to deposit their daily receipts in the banks until morning, these owners have been obliged to guard them over night as best they could.

Free of Cost
The service is extended without cost to any of its clients who have need of it and desire to avail themselves of the convenience.

The night depository system consists of a solid bronze receptacle accessible from the street which is connected by a cast steel chute to a burglar proof safe located within the bank building. To those of its clients who have need of this service and wish to avail themselves of this convenience, the bank furnishes a strong canvas sack imprinted

U. S. AND MEXICO NOW IN ACCORD

Oil Dispute Settled and Other Wrinkles Soon to Be Smoothed by Morrow.

Washington, March 29.—Disposal of the vexatious oil controversy has paved the way for early adjustment of all remaining major issues between the United States and Mexico, officials here believe.

The State Department declined today to reveal the present status of negotiations between Ambassador Morrow and President Calles in Mexico City or the nature of the final adjustment in the principal outstanding oil problem—the agrarian land laws, under which large tracts of American-owned land were seized. But from other quarters it was learned that Morrow's diplomacy has been almost as successful in this issue as in the involved oil dispute.

See Complete Accord
So marked is the improvement in Mexican-American relations in the last year that diplomatic circles here anticipate in the near future a complete accord between the two nations for the first time in history. A general commercial treaty is regarded as a probability.

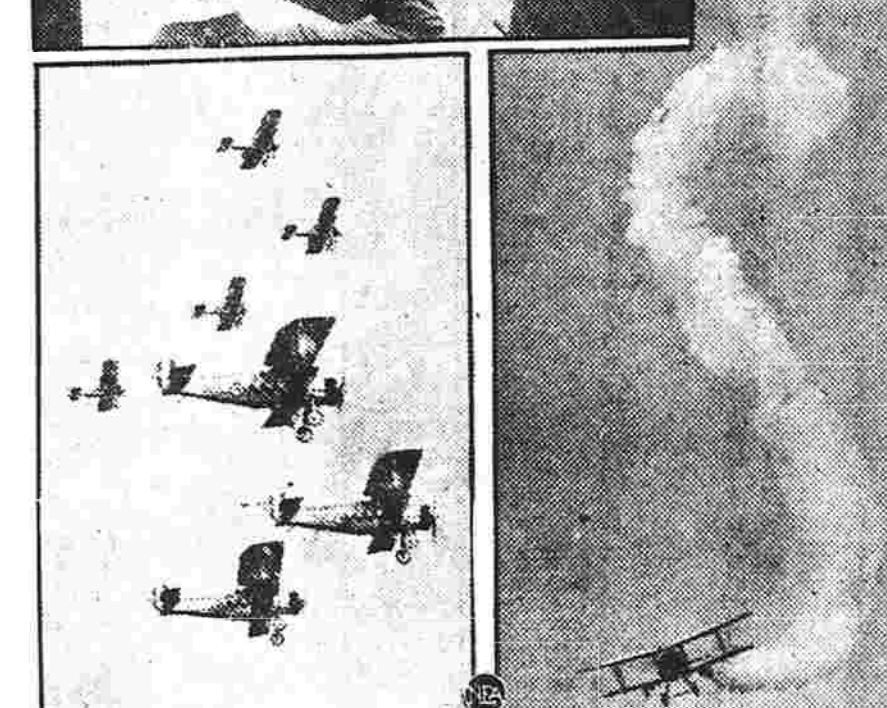

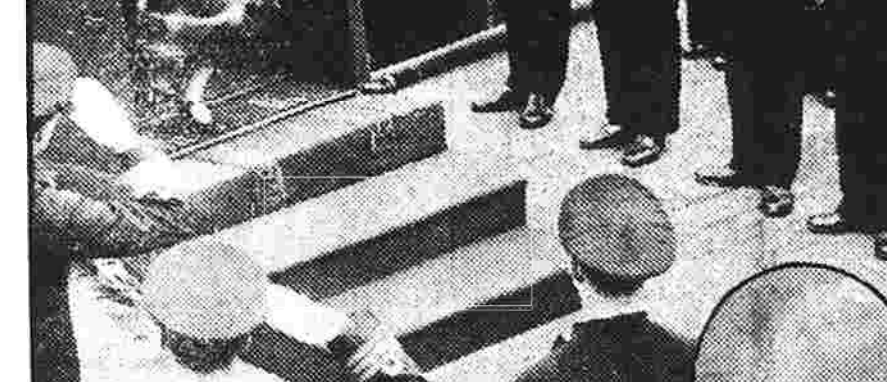

Besides the agrarian dispute, there are approximately $600,000,000 in private claims now under negotiation in two of those claim commissions. It is known that adjustments in this field has in no way been tied up with the oil settlement; but the era of cordial feeling established under Morrow has provided an atmosphere in which the solution of the remaining problems should be easier than ever before.

Morrow's adjustment of the oil dispute is hailed here as a diplomatic accomplishment of the first magnitude and the International Colony amuses itself now with humorous speculation as to whether major credit belongs to Morrow, or to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

VALENTINO'S EX-WIFE NOW FASHION EXPERT

Natacha Rambova Says She Is Getting Messages From Movie Shiek; Tells About Dress Styles.

New York, March 29.—Natacha Rambova, former wife of the late Rudolph Valentino, has become a business woman. She has opened an exclusive dress designing studio in 55th street, just off Fifth avenue, where she expresses her individuality by helping other women to express theirs in clothes "that emphasize character and personality."

Wearing a black turban over a mass of dark hair coiled around her head, and an ankle-length green velvet gown, the exotic-looking Miss Rambova sat in her studio today and discussed business, romance, the movies, the astral world and what the well-dressed American woman should wear.

Messages From Rudy
She revealed that she has been in psychic communication with Valentino since his death. From the astral world he has talked to her and she has relayed messages to him. He is "quite happy," she said although not always so. He has his moods. The messages were relayed through George Wehner, whom she described as a noted "deep trance psychic." She said she copied some of the messages from Rudy herself.

Asked if she would marry again, Miss Rambova arched her penciling eyebrows and said: "That's hard to say—emotion is such an uncertain thing. But I certainly am not thinking about marriage now."

All For Business
She feels no surge to return to the movies. Her one thought now is "business."
"I'm in business, not exactly because I need the money, but because it enables me to give vent to an artistic urge," she explained.

"However, I have always supported myself since I was 18 years old, so I must give attention to the financial side of my business, as well."
Miss Rambova's folks are quite wealthy. Her mother is married to Richard Hudnut, the retired perfume king of France. They are living abroad but are coming here to visit Miss Rambova this summer.

Learning to Dress
"American women are learning how to dress," said Miss Rambova. "More and more they are seeing the advantage of dressing in the manner that will best express their own individuality. This change has come about in the last year and a half. It used to be that American wo-

ASK FOR 500 U. S. GUARDS AT CHICAGO POLLS

New Fuel Added to Political Bonfire By Request of Attorney General; More Political Plots.

Chicago, March 29.—Fuel was added to Chicago's raging political bonfire today when it became known that United States Marshal Palmer Anderson had dispatched a recommendation to Attorney General Sargent at Washington that 500 United States deputy marshals be authorized to stand guard over the ballot boxes at the April 10 primaries here.

The proposal, first suggested by Oscar E. Carlstrom, attorney general of Illinois, is regarded by political observers as a gesture in retaliation for the bombings Monday night of the home of Senator Charles S. Deneen and Judge John A. Swanson, the Deneen-Carlstrom candidate for state's attorney.

May Use Guards
The use of federal guards, Deneen leaders point out, is made possible under a recent ruling of the United States Supreme Court which held that a primary is an integral part of an election and therefore subject to federal supervision.

Meanwhile, authorities busied themselves today in prosecuting in-

BANDIT EXPLAINS ETHICS OF "GAME"

Mention of Machine Guns Startles Jurors at Trial in Hartford.

Hartford, Conn., March 29.—Albert W. Meyer, of Chicago, Ill., who is one of three residents of that town awaiting sentence here for their confessed part in robbing the Plantville National Bank of Southington last June, discussed the ethics of bank robbing in Superior Court today when he appeared as state witness against Stuart R. Florian, of Southington, who is now on trial as one of the bank's robbers.

William S. Hyde, of Manchester, Florian's counsel, asked Meyer: "Do you think it is right to come from Illinois and take money from a bank whose employees have fixed things up for you to rob it?"

"Sure I do," replied Meyer. "Don't you think it is wrong to do a thing like that?" asked Mr. Hyde.

"Well, it's not like coming after the money with machine guns," replied Meyer, and some of the jurors rose to their feet and sat down quickly.

Poor Memory
To many of the questions put to Meyer in cross examination he replied: "I don't remember."
Meyer declared today that "One Curtis" a teller in the Plantville bank had been approached by Florian prior to arrangements made, according to Meyer, with Raymond T. Olsen, also a bank worker.

"Why didn't you tell about Curtis before?" asked Mr. Hyde.
"I didn't remember about the fellow till yesterday," answered Meyer.

The cross examination of Meyer was expected to last all day. He will be followed by William Kapela and Thomas Di Marco, also of Cicero, who like Meyer have pleaded guilty to robbing the bank. Their sentences were deferred until after Florian's case is ended.

MEXICAN TROOPS DEFEAT REBS IN ALL DAY FIGHT

126 Liberators Including Two Priests Are Killed; Biggest Battle Since Religious Trouble Started.

Mexico City, March 29.—One hundred and twenty-six Liberator rebels including two priests, were killed in an all-day battle with Federal troops at San Francisco Rincon, State of Guanajuato, said a dispatch to the War Office today. This is an increase in the casualty list contained in earlier fragmentary dispatches.

This was the biggest and most violent engagement fought since the Liberator (Religious) rebels began their campaign against the government.

400 In Band
There were between 300 and 400 men in the rebel band, led by Domingo Anaya. They had taken up a strong position on a hacienda near San Francisco Rincon and did not attempt to retreat when the Federals moved to the attack.

After a day of heavy gun fire the Federals began to close in upon the rebels who fled, leaving their dead and many wounded behind them.

Among the dead was Domingo Anaya, the leader. He was identified by his uniform and papers in his pockets.

This was the largest contingent of insurgents operating in Guanajuato and war office officials believe that the defeat will go far toward breaking down the insurrection in western Mexico.

The remnants of the rebel band fled towards the mountains pursued by Federals.

TOWN BASKETBALL SERIES IS SAVED

Rec and Community Five Reach Agreement on Herald Suggestion; First Game Tomorrow.

The war clouds which hung over the basketball situation here this morning threatening to force a cancellation of the town championship series between the Rec Five and the Community Club, cleared late this afternoon and a blue sky replaced them.

In other words, an agreement was reached between Director Jerry Fay of the Community Club and Manager Ben Clune of the Recreation Club, whereby the series will positively be played. The first game will be staged at the Rec gym tomorrow night with the second game of the series the following week Tuesday or Wednesday at the State Armory.

This morning the situation appeared hopeless. The teams were unable to come to terms for the second game to be played either Wednesday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday as revealed on the sports page today. As a result, it seemed that the series would be called off. The Herald sports editor, however, in the interest of the general public, learned from Captain Allan L. Dexter of the Howitzer Company, C. N. G., that he was agreeable to allow the teams to use the armory next Tuesday after their regular drill. This would simply mean the doing away with a preliminary game which probably would be much more nonotous than military drill anyway. The game would start promptly at nine o'clock just the same.

Immediately after obtaining this information, Fay and Clune were both communicated with and in turn, they discussed the matter over the telephone from the Herald office. Both agreed to play the series. However, it was not definitely decided whether the second game would be played Tuesday or Wednesday. Manager Clune had agreed previously to play the second game on Wednesday, according to Fay, but that was before the Madden episode came out. Nevertheless, the agreement having been made, both men are expected to do their utmost to see that it is carried out. And then in case it cannot they will shift to Tuesday.

90 AUTOS BURNED

Waterloo, N. Y., March 29.—Ninety automobiles were destroyed by a fire which early today swept through the Dodd & Collins garage. Loss was estimated at $150,000. The blaze for a time threatened the public business district.

BAD WEATHER KEEPS GERMAN FLYERS ON GROUND IN IRELAND

YEP! HE STOLE TROLLEY CAR

Full of Passengers Too, So Now He's in Jail, the Poor Fellow.

Detroit, Mich., March 29.—Red Rockwell, former elevator operator at police headquarters, recognized many familiar faces today—through the iron bars of his cell.

Fred was "in" because, in a moment of weakness, he yielded to temptation and stole—a street car loaded with passengers.

Motorman Henry Labaten complaining witness, said he stepped from his car to throw a switch. Rockwell leaped to the controls and started the car in a mad flight down the street.

The conductor failed to notice the unfamiliar back silhouette against the front windows until the car had traveled several blocks. Then he shut off the power by opening the doors.

Rockwell said he had no recollection of the affair.

VANDERBILT PLANE IS LOST IN FIRE

$60,000 Flying Yacht Was the Most Luxurious of Its Kind in the World.

Port Washington, N. Y., March 29.—Harold Vanderbilt's $60,000 flying yacht was among the millionaires' yachts destroyed or damaged in a fire that practically destroyed the Purdy Boat Corporation plant here early today. Scores of speed boats, the water front property of wealthy Long Islanders and the extensive buildings of the Port Washington Yacht Club were threatened by the flames, which fanned by a strong west wind, spread rapidly.

The total loss will be about $200,000, it is believed. A dozen or more boats were burned.

Staged in Boothouse
The fire started in the Purdy boothouse about midnight. Large quantities of lumber, paint and varnish in the Purdy boothouse afforded ready fuel and within a few minutes the boothouse was a mass of fire.

After a hard fight, firemen and hundreds of volunteers brought the blaze under control.

Big Boats Burn
Three large boats belonging to C. G. Fischer were reported to have been burned.

The town of Port Washington was plunged into darkness owing to the burning out of the electric wires. It is thought that the fire started through a short circuit.

The Vanderbilt flying boat was the most luxurious machine of its kind in the world—an air yacht, capable of cruising on water and in air at a speed of 115 miles an hour with six persons on board.

Hope to Get Away Tomorrow But Say They Will Not Hop Off Until Conditions Over Ocean Are Safe — Determined to Make Flight, They Say.

Dublin, March 29.—The departure of the German monoplane Bremen upon a trans-Atlantic flight was postponed indefinitely today owing to continued bad weather.

Captain Herman Koehl, the pilot and Baron von Huenefeld, financial backer of the enterprise, said they hoped to get away tomorrow morning, but would not hop off until weather conditions over the ocean were safe. So far there has been no suggestion that the flight would be abandoned.

During the morning a stiff west wind was blowing and fog made visibility very poor. The weather forecaster held out no hope that conditions would become favorable during the day.

"We are determined to fly—someday," said Baron von Huenefeld.

Dublin, March 29.—Because of unfavorable weather conditions and the soggy ground at the Baldonnell Airfield, Capt. Hermann Koehl and his two companions today were forced again to postpone their take-off for America in the Junkers monoplane Bremen.

Everything was in readiness for the hop-off at five o'clock, and the fliers were loath to announce another postponement.

The plane had been trundled from its hangar a few hours before dawn and placed on the long wooden runway specially built for the take-off. Mechanics had given the machine a final polishing and covered all parts with paraffin to keep the formation of steam during the flight down to a minimum.

Rained During Night
It had rained during the night, however, and when Koehl, Baron von Huenefeld and Rellier, Pilot Arthur Spindler came on the field, they found the ground in extremely soggy condition.

After scanning late weather reports, which were anything but favorable, the fliers reluctantly announced the postponement of the flight.

Captain Koehl, in announcing he would not start today, said he did not think the soggy field would permit a perfect take-off of the heavy plane. The Bremen with its full load of fuel and three occupants weighs about five tons.

Unless reports from Newfoundland indicate rising temperatures there, it appeared likely today that when the fliers do start, they will take the southern shipping lane course direct to New York and thus avoid the Canadian coast entirely.

Captain Koehl has been deeply impressed by Col. Lindbergh's stressing of self dangers in his book "We." If he flies south of the "Great Circle" he will have been the first trans-Atlantic flier to do so.

BLAMES DEMOCRATS FOR OIL SCANDALS

Sen. Robinson Says They Leased Reserves in Wilson's Time.

Washington, March 29.—Re-opening his single-handed campaign to pin some responsibility for the oil scandals on the Democrats, Senator Arthur R. Robinson, Republican of Indiana, today charged a "vicious circle," began leasing the government's huge oil reserves to private oil companies during the Wilson administration.

Robinson said the Wilson administration was responsible for the leasing law under which Edwin L. Doherty got the Elk Hill reserves and Harry F. Sinclair the Teapot Dome reserves. In addition he charged, the Democratic administration made hundreds of leases to private oil companies in the same public domains long before the Republicans came into power in 1920.

Robinson particularly assailed the employment of former Democratic Cabinet officers by Doherty, asserting that Doherty paid the

London, March 29.—The honor of being the first woman to fly across the Atlantic may go not to an aviator, but to a dietary expert—via the dirigible route. Miss M. B. HOW TO FIGHT EXCESS FAT

There are hard ways, like starvation, but fewer and fewer employ them. There is a pleasant way, modern and scientific, which combats the cause. A vast number of people now use it. And the slender figures now seen everywhere are largely due to that. That method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everybody in almost every circle, sees the change. New beauty, new health, new vitality. Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for their use. REV. J. S. WADSWORTH TO VISIT HERE SHORTLY

Rev. Dr. Julian S. Wadsworth and Mrs. Wadsworth of the Methodist Memorial at Chateau Thierry, France, are shortly to return to America for a visit and to attend the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. It is their plan to sail on the S. S. "Leviathan" April 3. Upon their arrival they will spend the remainder of the month of April in New England before going on to the conference at Kansas City. Their trip is made possible by a Christmas check received from friends, with the stipulation that it should not be cashed for any other purpose than the prospecting visit to France. They will return to France July 4 on the same steamer. Mr. and Mrs. Wadsworth are expected in Manchester about April 11 and while in town will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crowell of Highland Park. Rev. Wadsworth was formerly pastor of the South Methodist church here for several years and his many friends among the parishioners and throughout the town are anticipating with much pleasure the prospect of greeting them again.

TO CALL HENRY FORD IN SENATE COAL PROBE

To Be Asked Why He Pays Higher Wages Than Union In His Mines. Washington, March 29.—Another milestone in industrial legend, Henry Ford, was on the Senate coal committee's witness list today. Ford is not expected to testify for a week or ten days as the committee already has enough witnesses on hand to fill all the seats in the hearing room. The investigation probably will last for another month at least. The committee already has heard three millionaires witnesses in John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Charles M. Schwab, and R. B. Mellon of Pittsburgh, brother of Secretary of Treasury Mellon. Ford will be questioned about reports he is paying higher than the union scale in his southern West Virginia mines. He operates under the name of the Fordson Coal Company. Constitutional power of the committee to investigate the coal industry was to be argued today by attorneys for southern West Virginia operators. They challenged the committee's authority on the ground that production of coal is not interstate commerce.

FIRST LADY'S MOTHER IS STRONGER TODAY

Has Had Best Day in a Week. Mrs. Coolidge Remains Near Her Bedside. Northampton, Mass., March 29. Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, mother of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, appeared stronger on awakening today, following the best day she has had in a week. Mrs. Coolidge appeared greatly cheered at the optimistic report from Dr. Justin E. Hayes. The bulletin reads: "The patient has had the best day she has had for a week and was very comfortable tonight. She seems very bright." Mrs. Coolidge dined with friends after visiting her mother in Dickinson-Coolidge hospital. The fact that Dr. Hayes did not make any statement in regard to the kidney complication of his patient leads many to believe that this trouble may have been relieved somewhat in the last 24 hours. Mrs. Goodhue was cheered by a brief visit from the Rev. Kenneth B. Welles, pastor of the Edwards Congregational church which she attends. Another visitor that interested Mrs. Goodhue was Blackberry, the Chow dog that Mrs. Coolidge brought with her from the White House. Mrs. Coolidge drowses in the hospital in an Army limousine placed at her disposal by Major-General Preston Brown of the First Corps Area.

WATER STILL THREATENS

San Francisco, Cal., March 29.—While encouraging reports of speedy reclamation and recovery from flood-damage poured in here today from all sections of northern and central California, ranchers of Sutter county continued to wage relentless battle against the still threatening waters of the Feather river. Sandbars, fallen trees and debris of all descriptions were marshalled to the aid of weak spots among the 3,500 foot concrete causeway, as bulwarks were hastily built here and there along the structure to prevent a recurrence of yesterday's destructive breaks, when six units of the causeway collapsed before the seething river, hurling a flood upon thousands of acres of valuable farm land.

BERLEINBACH DIVORCED

Mexico City, March 29.—Paul Berleinbach, New York pugilist and former light heavyweight champion, has been granted a divorce from Mrs. Rose Anne Riley Berleinbach by the Morelos District Court at Cuernavaca, according to the newspaper El Universal today. The first intimation of a rift in the conversation came from the speech of Pope Pius XI before the Roman Dilectissimi Board in which he criticized policies of the Mussolini government. The crux of the controversy is the education of Italian youth and the authority of the church to organize associations of Italian boys for religious and citizenship training. Premier Mussolini, in his reply to the Pontiff's criticism, intimated that the Fascist organization might assume a "monopoly" in the education of the youth so that they could be grounded in the principles of Fascism "almost from the cradle."

5 SHORE COTTAGES DESTROYED BY FIRE

Summer Homes at Indian Neck Burned—Loss Estimated at $20,000. Branford, Conn., March 29.—Fire of suspicious origin today completely destroyed five cottages at Indian Neck, on the Sound shore here, causing a loss estimated at about $20,000. All the cottages were unoccupied. The fire started inside one of the cottages and spread so rapidly that the adjoining ones could not be saved. The cottages were known as the Cowlishaw, Ryan, Bamberg, and De Amovitz. The Cowlishaw cottage was owned by a Hartford resident, the Ryan cottage belonged to a New Havener, and the others to Branford residents. Firemen from several Branford districts fought the fire and prevented the flames from sweeping a larger area. Immediately after the fire an investigation was started, but complete destruction of the buildings handicapped the officials.

POPE AND MUSSOLINI BREAK NEGOTIATIONS

Education of Italian Youth Starts Discussion—Vatican Raps Plan. Rome, March 29.—Negotiations between the Vatican and the Mussolini Cabinet for adjustment of the 58-year-old dispute between the church and the state have been halted by the sharp exchanges between the Pope and Premier Mussolini, it was learned from an authoritative source today. The negotiations, which had been described as "unofficial" were undertaken following the publication of suggestions by the Observator, a Romano official organ of the Vatican, that the controversy might be settled. The first intimation of a rift in the conversation came from the speech of Pope Pius XI before the Roman Dilectissimi Board in which he criticized policies of the Mussolini government. The crux of the controversy is the education of Italian youth and the authority of the church to organize associations of Italian boys for religious and citizenship training. Premier Mussolini, in his reply to the Pontiff's criticism, intimated that the Fascist organization might assume a "monopoly" in the education of the youth so that they could be grounded in the principles of Fascism "almost from the cradle."

TRUBLE LOOMS UP FOR ENDURANCE FLIGHT

Jacksonville, Fla., March 29.—Trouble loomed today for Eddie Stinson and George Hallock, who are attempting to establish a new world's endurance flight record in their huge Stinson-Detroit monoplane. According to the latest weather report, the section is to be visited by rain with increasing winds and fog about midnight tonight. The report was communicated to the flyers by printing it on the side of a plane, which circled the Stinson-Detroit. Since the plane took off at 7:35 yesterday morning, the weather has been beautiful, with only a gentle wind. In order to break the record, Stinson and Hallock must remain aloft until shortly after noon Friday.

Money and valuables which it is desired to deposit after banking hours or on holidays are put into the cash-sack, together with the usual deposit slip, locked, placed in the depository, where they automatically conveyed through the chute to the safe within the building. The opening of the depository is guarded by an ingenious device which makes it impossible to withdraw a sack through the opening. It has been placed in the depository. In the morning, the sacks are removed from the safe by an authorized member of the bank's organization and held for the depositors. The sacks are unlocked by their respective owners when they come to the bank, and the deposit is then made in the usual manner. The system is expected to be ready for operation the latter part of next week.

BLAMES DEMOCRATS FOR OIL SCANDALS

Democrats at the rate of $305,000 a year. "Just how much does it take to corrupt a Democratic administration?" he demanded. Robinson declared former Secretary of the Navy Daniels had authorized the drilling of 55 wells by private companies on the government reserves prior to 1920, and that former Secretary of the Interior John Barton Payne had granted 150 leases to private companies for a total of 14,000 acres of land "immediately adjacent to the coast line." He said Payne had leased 3,900 acres beside Teapot Dome to John T. Barnett, Democratic national committee man from Denver. The Situation. "So we have this situation: One Democratic Cabinet officer is leasing land within the naval reserves to be exploited by private corporations upon the ground that it is a defensive measure against the drainage of naval oil by private wells just outside the reserve," said Robinson. "Another Democratic Cabinet officer at the same time is leasing 14,000 acres of oil land immediately outside the naval reserve to private corporations, thereby draining the Navy's oil." "Thus the record shows that the conspiracy of private oil interests to grab the oil within the naval reserves of the nation was entered into and consummated long before the Republican administration of 1920—entered into and consummated with the active aid and assistance of Democratic Cabinet officers and Democratic leaders in both branches of Congress."

POLITICAL PLOT

Chicago, March 29.—"A political plot hatched by my enemies," Alderman Titus Haffa, a leader in the Mayor Thompson-State's Attorney Crowe organization, thus explained an indictment by a Federal Grand Jury charging him with being the head of a $1,000,000 liquor ring. Haffa was at liberty today under $10,000 bond. Nine others indicted with him are also arranging bond. Among the latter are Commissioner Joseph Bagherla, president of the Republican Boosters' Club and Joseph Wahl, dry agent. Wahl is accused of having taken a bribe from Bauer. More indictments in the same case will be reported out today, according to a report from the federal building. Alderman Haffa and his associates are alleged to have constituted an alcohol ring which operated an annual business of over $1,000,000. The alleged ring was exposed through the activities of two undercover dry agents, who are said to have been taken into the confidence of the leaders when they posed as eastern gangsters. The enterprise, according to the dry agents' report, was so carefully and efficiently managed as any corporation doing a like volume of legitimate business.

HELD IN HIGH COURT FOR PASSING CHECKS

New Haven, Conn., March 29.—Hayward Stevens, of South street, Salem, Mass., was today bound over for trial in the Superior Court on a charge of issuing checks without sufficient funds in the bank to meet them, and was sent to jail in default of $2,000 bail. Stevens, who used the name of Kensington here, was caught in Princeton, N. J., and came back without extradition. Stevens, a young man who posed as a college student, started a bank account here by means of a check on a Boston bank and securing some local checks, bought merchandise before the local bank had a chance to verify the Boston check which was worthless. From New Haven he went to New York and cashed a check in the Hotel Belmont to pay for a room and another check in Princeton where he deposited another Boston check. While he was caught before he could present checks in Princeton, the Hotel Belmont claims a loss of about eighty dollars, because of Stevens' check cashed there.

MONUMENT MAKING INTERESTING WORK

McGovern Granite Co., of Hartford Has Done Many Fine Stones Locally.

Although beautifully lettered stone monuments, enduring symbols erected in cemeteries, are perhaps common knowledge to every individual, few know the story behind the cutting of the stone itself, later the smoothing and polishing and then the carving of the letters into the stone.

Although McGovern furnishes memorials in any kind of stone the Hartford firm handles only the finest quality in each class whether it be marble, granite, or granite.

McGovern employs an artist whom he brought to this country from Scotland to design the memorials and letter carvings. His work is outstanding and alone has been responsible for much of the McGovern Company's success.

Thus a seemingly difficult task is made comparatively easy. Of course, the sand-blaster must be expert and know when he has cut deep enough into the stone so that the letters will be uniform, but the method is much simpler than hand chiseling.

The McGovern company has the state contract for soldier monuments. These are made of white marble and the names and other information concerning the subject are cut into the stone by a pneumatic drill.

The McGovern plant is an interesting one to visit not only for the purpose of seeing how the work is done, but to see some of the beautiful creations that are hewn from the rough stone.

the man also tallied with the record of Edel on file here.

With the news from St. Paul the detective bureau called off the search for Edel in this district. Police believed the man might suddenly reappear here just as he did in January when he actually conversed with a detective while the detective's co-workers were looking for Edel in another part of the city.

NEW YORK REPORT. New York, March 29.—The mysterious murder of Mrs. Emma Harrington, comely actress, was believed by police here near solution today, following the receipt of word that Fred W. Edel, ex-convict, long hunted in connection with the slaying, is under arrest in St. Paul, Minn.

Edel, arrested on a charge of raising money orders in various cities throughout the country, admitted, according to the dispatch from St. Paul, that he knew Mrs. Harrington. He denied any knowledge of the murder, however.

Later some of Mrs. Harrington's clothing and some letters addressed to Mrs. Harrington were found in Edel's room in New Haven. But Edel escaped, leaving all his belongings behind him and an alarm was sent west in the belief that he had headed that way.

"OLIVET TO CALVARY" TO MARK PALM SUNDAY

Will Be Given For the Fourth Time By Swedish Lutheran Choir.

Mauder's "Olivet to Calvary," which has been given in the Swedish Lutheran church for the past several years as a Palm Sunday custom, will be given again next Sunday by the choir of 35 voices under the direction of Helge Pearson.

Albert Pearson.

The soloists will be Albert Pearson, well-known bass of this town, and Frank N. Kelly, tenor soloist of the Center Congregational church of Hartford.

Miss E. Marlon Dorward, supervisor of music at the High school, will be the organist and Miss Eva Johnson will accompany the soloists in the piano. This will be the fourth time that the cantata has been given by the Swedish choir.

"Olivet to Calvary" recalls simply and reverently the scenes which mark the last few days of the Saviour's life on earth, and some of the reflections suggested thereby. From this the scene passes to the Jerusalem from the steep of Olivet, the lament over the beautiful city, the scene in the Temple, and the lonely walk back over the Mount at night, form the chief features of the first part.

Part two opens with the supper of the Passover, at which Jesus washes His disciples' feet, and gives His friends the new commandment of love for one another as the sign of true discipleship.

APPROVE FRENCH NOTE

Paris, March 29.—A council of ministers today approved Foreign Minister Briand's reply to the latest American note proposing a multilateral treaty to outlaw war. It was understood that the French document would be sent to Washington this afternoon.

The note is said to go further than any previous communication in meeting the proposals of the United States.

It was learned from a source close to the foreign office that the note is a virtual acceptance of all the proposals of the American secretary of state. It is suggested, however, that a new formula be offered defining the wars to be outlawed and the method of barring future warfare.

Investigations of the political bombings and in trying to trace the source of new threats received by Judge Swanson and State Senator Herman J. Haensch, Deneen candidate for committeeman from the Forty-sixth Ward.

Threatening Message. "You can tell the judge that we will do a better job next time," was the substance of an anonymous telephone threat received at the home of Judge Swanson. The threat was received by Mrs. Swanson, already on the verge of a nervous collapse from having her house bombed Monday night.

The threat to State Senator Haensch came in the form of an anonymous letter, stating that his home was marked for bombing and that one of his children was to be kidnapped. The letter, crudely written and addressed to his wife, read as follows:

"Evidently you don't know that there is a plot on to get one of your babies before the primaries, do you? It may happen like Swanson's house or Senator Deneen's. Tell your fat husband to beware." It was signed "The Rat."

The letter was turned over to U. S. District Attorney George C. Post, who passed it on to postal guards, already on duty at the threatened homes, were augmented when the new threats were received.

State's Attorney Robert E. Cowe, rival of Judge Swanson for the Republican nomination for state's attorney, announced that his investigation of the Deneen and Swanson outrages, was well launched and that he expected early results.

"CHICAGO" NO FILM FOR CHILD, SAYS MANAGER

True Story of the Seamy Side of Life, But Not Meant For Boys and Girls.

Manager Jack Sanson of the State theater said today that he recommends that children do not attend the showings of "Chicago," the picture which is coming to the State on Sunday and Monday. He says, however, that he will not make any effort to keep them out.

"Chicago," he says, "is a picture that children will neither understand nor appreciate. It is strictly a picture for adults and parents should not encourage their children to attend."

The film is adapted from the play of the same name by Maurine Watkins, a girl who worked for a year on a Chicago newspaper and is now enough in her journalistic career to write the play. It was popular with New York audiences last year and enjoyed a long run in that city.

It is the story of a girl who kills her male companion for publicity purposes and is coached by a slyster lawyer who in the end gains her acquittal on the charge of murder through a series of theatricals with which the girl plays on the emotions of the jury.

Mr. Sanson said today that henceforth he will advise the public in cases of this kind, so that children will not see moving pictures that, while true to life and fit for adult absorption are likely to be misunderstood by children.

men wore a standardized brand of clothes, the result was they all looked alike, and you couldn't tell one from the other until you got up close and looked into their faces.

"I love the fashion. I want to dress in a way that is becoming to me, whether it is the style of the hour or not. So it should be with all women, in my opinion. All women should not wear knee length skirts even if that is the prevailing fashion. Clothes that are becoming to the individual type, would not do at all for a short girl of the staccato type who has to wear sharp clothes to express her personality.

"Simplicity of design is the important thing in clothes. Women should dress artistically, rather than fashionably. I think almost everybody has a historical background—that is, their character and appearance conform with certain personages in history.

MAINE'S DELEGATES ARE UNINSTRUCTED

Bangor, Me., March 29.—Maine delegates to the Republican national convention will not be re-elected by instructions, it was indicated today by a poll of the delegates gathered here for the biennial G. O. P. state convention.

Doubt was expressed by party leaders that a resolution instructing delegates would be introduced. Although no opposition to the selection of delegates favorable to Herbert Hoover was apparent, numerous expressions that the nation at delegation should be free to make its own choice were heard. As written, the tentative draft of party principles commends the Republican administration at Washington. A strong plank favors the creation of a merchant marine. It also strongly endorses prohibition.

Among numerous state planks was one urging that in regard to the water power question the state relinquish no portion of the control it now has over this natural source.

GREAT ACHIEVEMENT

It may not be a bad guess to express the belief that history will set forth the appointment of Dwight W. Morrow as ambassador to Mexico as the greatest single achievement of President Coolidge during his entire administration. This with due recognition to the President's tremendous usefulness as a persistent advocate of economy in government.

Unless the most potent of signs fall, the age-old "Mexican" problem is over and done with, entirely through the wisdom and efforts and almost unique qualities of the ambassador. Dwight Morrow has accomplished in a few months what all the political and diplomatic talent of this country failed to accomplish in many years.

He has made the Mexicans understand that there is such a thing as square shooting north of the Rio Grande; and he has made Americans with Mexican investments understand that they are expected to shoot squarely. Neither of these ideas was ever before gotten into the heads which much necessarily entertain them.

There would have been no settlement of the Mexican trouble—probably not short of a war which might easily have turned out to be a very dreadful one—if there had been no Ambassador Morrow. There would have been no Ambassador Morrow if there had been no President Coolidge to pick him for the job—and if he had not set at defiance a thousand political traditions in doing so.

The Peace of North America has been firmly established by the wisdom of President Coolidge. If that is not a tremendous achievement, tell us what is or would be.

TURNED LOOSE

This Edgel person, who is under arrest in Minnesota for a property crime and who is strongly suspected of having murdered an actress in New York last December, may turn out to be, to a considerable extent, a Connecticut responsibility. He was tried for the murder of one Meriden man and suspected of the killing of another, but the state failed to convict him; but the state failed to convict him of the homicide and he was turned loose, though his acquittal was far from being a convincing one in the opinion of many observers. Apparently his jury was one of those, occasionally drawn, which have an altogether too wise skepticism concerning circumstantial evidence. There was plenty of that kind of evidence against Edgel in the Mastriano murder trial, as we recall it, but the jury could not see its way to conviction.

Now there is even stronger evidence that Edgel killed and robbed Emeline Harrington in New York. If he is convicted of that crime the jury in the Mastriano case can get what satisfaction it may from the knowledge that the killing of the actress was the outcome of their action, as it was subsequent to the freeing of the suspect.

Connecticut has a rather good reputation for "rolling its own" in the business of attending to its capital criminals and not turning them out to prey on the country. That reputation, regrettably, seems to be in danger of some wear and tear in the case of Fred Edgel.

ONE "CRIMINAL"

In Baltimore a man did a queer thing. He was young, 31, but he had been out of work for six months—couldn't get any kind of a job—and he was utterly disgusted with himself for shaming in his aged mother's poor little charity dole, just about enough to keep her alive.

So he staged a holdup. He took along an unloaded gun and entered a business office during business hours. He stuck the gun under the nose of the proprietor and demanded a dime. When he got it, completing a technical robbery, he chased his victim out to bring in a cop. He explained to the police that he sought a term in prison to either starvation or suicide—he was through living on his impoverished mother, in any event. It seems to us that there should be no prosecution in this case. There is obviously an entire lack of any criminal intent. There is also an entire absence of any harm done. The motive in the case, though an unusual one, appears to us to be singularly free from evil. The young man can't even be charged with selfishness or lack of fortitude—six months of job seeking will take the gimp out of the most courageous soul.

Much better indeed if somebody will give this young man a chance to go to work. We suspect he is potentially much better than an average good citizen.

BORAH

Mr. Borah, with a fine and broad comprehensiveness, keeps on demanding that both parties take a definite stand for enforcement of the prohibition amendment. In certain communities, it is well known, there are underground local politicians who are able to exert determining influence upon the proceedings of not only one party but two. But Mr. Borah is the first individual of national celebrity whom we remember to have seen bossing or trying to boss both the Republican and Democratic parties.

Perhaps, however, the spectacle is not such an anomalous one, after all. There has long been a good deal of wonderment as to what party Borah really did belong to. From this present pose of order giver to two groups of platform builders, the answer would appear to be, both.

Meantime, just what is Mr. Borah up to? Does he want to head a dry party of bolters from two not-so-dry parties?

CURE FOR WARS

Joseph Grew, American ambassador to Turkey, diplomat of great experience in anti-war conferences, has a peace plan all his own. It is quite simple. It is to educate and train the youth of a nation—all nations presumably—into optimism, cheerfulness, tolerance and courtesy and, above all, into full development of what sense of humor God has given them. No nation with a dominant class possessing such a culture will pick a war, is Mr. Grew's theory.

It may appear to some persons that it is a long process which this wise diplomat advocates as a cure for international conflict. Granted that you can't civilize—really civilize—any nation in a few years, it would probably prove no more long winded than any of the others that have been proposed.

In any event, Mr. Grew seems to have put his finger on the heart of the problem. There is danger of war because the peoples of the world haven't yet emerged far enough from the state of primitive man. Wars will end when mankind becomes just reasonably kindly, unselfish, honest and able to see folly where folly is.

FLOOD CONTROL

Mississippi flood control legislation is not yet an accomplished thing but it is on its way. And the abruptness of the Senate's action yesterday, in passing its substitute bill without a dissenting voice, is sound proof of Senate capacity for prompt action—when it wants to be prompt.

Though the Senate measure appropriates a much smaller sum than the House bill, it is nevertheless a big and decent proposition and adheres to the principle that the completion of flood control in the Mississippi valley is a national responsibility—which to many minds is the most important aspect of the question.

The bill now goes to conference. If the same spirit continues to prevail which manifested itself yesterday, we are likely to see a flood control measure actually become law in something less than a year from the time when the urgency of such relief became so thunderously evident. Which, on the whole, is making speed considering how much time Congress feels bound to give to partisan politics.

BLOWN UP

The opinion expressed in these columns recently that Theodore Dreiser, presumptive hard-boiler, had been taken in like a big soft goose by the showmen of the Soviet government when he made his rapid-fire survey of Russian conditions is shared by a writer whom nobody can accuse of lacking in sympathy with radicalism—namely, Heywood Brown, who went on a "witches sabbatical" for a number of months rather than thin down the violence of his protest on the Sacco-Vanzetti executions. Brown scathingly ridicules the Dreiser articles, which appear in the same newspaper in which Brown's column is printed.

About all that Dreiser will have accomplished, by his word painting of red Russia as the one place in the world where an honest effort for progress is being made, is likely to prove his own discrediting as a thinker. He has displayed the discernment and knowledge of the world to be expected of a ten-year-old child.

FIRST DOUBTS

Ballyhoo about Mussolini's abstinence from alcohol and tobacco. One wonders why—why so much of it. Not till now did it ever occur to us to doubt the entire truth of the assertion that the Duce never drinks or smokes. Nothing in the least remarkable about that—millions of people neither drink nor smoke; all kinds of people, strong and weak, wise and foolish, notable and no-account.

But in the last month a lot of money has been spent on cable tolls of news stories about Mussolini's abstinence. For the first time we are beginning to have borne in on us those words of Iago, "Me-thinks the lady doth protest too much."

New York, March 29.—Now and then a sense of unreality envelops the towering turrets of what some are pleased to call "this modern Babylon." Now and then a lone personality can, through the overpowering force of simplicity and kinship with romance of far-away places, cast a spell that temporarily gives the Manhattan monoliths a miragelike status.

I have never, for instance, left an afternoon's gathering of old sea dogs at the Explorers' Club without rubbing my eyes and wondering if the mad city were really there, or if I suddenly had wakened from a dream.

I felt that way the day a young man named Lindbergh came riding in state through the Wall Street belt. Late one afternoon, listening to Commander Richard Byrd spin yarns of many hazards, I looked from the window in the McAlpin Hotel with that same sense of unbelief.

The other day, in a snug side office of the Literary Guild, high above Fifth Avenue, a dozen of us packed around the perspiring figure of an "ancient mariner." It was the sunset hour. The huge windows looked out on the straight line formed by the river with its toy-sized ships that turned now lavender to form angles upon them and the sunset ran its chromatic scale. Between the office window and the river, the city piled its helter-skelter of roof tops and sky-climbing stone peaks. Long shadows began to form angles upon them and church spires cast strange patterns upon their sides.

Back in the little office an old man was wiping his rheumy eyes and stroking at his long white beard. His voice, high pitched and cracking, had the uncanny quality of a voice from the tomb.

It was old "Trader Horn," the venerable old fellow who hunted ivory, profits and adventure in the African wilderness for so many years and who, because of the whimsicality and simplicity of his amazing chronicles, became a world figure overnight.

The old fellow was talking to a gathering of newspaper people. "Ah, like the Queen of Sheba she was . . . so fair." . . . And he rambled on, intoning the strange beauty of a jungle goddess. His eyes were thousands of miles away from the room. The buzzing questions of reporters were like so many flies in a hot room. The voice went on, telling of ivory trades and hairbreadth escapes, of death faced before cannibal tribes.

And five of us, who stood upon a table, looked at each other—a bit queerly, and then out over the city, now blazing red in the sunset. It seemed incredible that New York

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, March 29.—Congressman Edgar Howard of Colorado, Nebraska's proudest boast, introduced a bill which would require a guarantee system among national banks creating a fund to insure depositors against loss.

A depositors' guarantee fund, covering her state banks, is one of Nebraska's proudest boasts. It has been operating for 18 years under a law passed by the state legislature in 1909 and despite agricultural crises which hit Nebraska with the rest, has given all depositors their money back as often as a state bank failed.

"Hideous suffering has been caused by bank failures in other states," says Congressman Howard. "In nearby states, notably Iowa, some farmers and merchants lost nearly everything in bank failures in the Midwest. The bank failures in other states have caused counties now without a single bank."

"But Nebraska has gone through the agricultural depression in great shape. Sometimes in exceptional slump periods the money isn't all paid back at once, but any depositor can sell his claims at a very small discount. The people would no more surrender their system than they would their own homes. It's a fixed thing. Millions of dollars have been deposited from other states in Nebraska banks by those who demanded absolute safety."

The guarantee fund law creates a gigantic insurance company composed of all Nebraska state banks. It authorizes the state to make an annual levy on the average state deposits of no more than half of one per cent—plus one-tenth of one per cent—a process somewhat similar to raising taxes on property. Nearly a thousand banks are involved. There are no runs at those banks. The law limits interest on deposits to four per cent.

was there—a mad maze of swarming humans and screeching traffic and jumbled buildings. For there are people who can beat Manhattan at its own game. Even to an old-timer it often seems incredible that man could have built such a mad trap for himself as this city. And when men with dream-struck eyes weave their fantastic tales of the sea, the air, the jungle and the polar wastes, you

Great savings are made through the work of the Guarantee Fund Commission in picking up failed banks and operating them as going concerns until they are on their feet again or liquidated advantageously. When the commission reopened one small bank in Nebraska and prepared to pay off new deposits were greater than withdrawals the very first day.

"Many people," says Congressman Howard, "believe that the U. S. government stands back of deposits in national banks. That isn't so, of course. I would like to have a law which would really effect this guarantee whenever the government gives a bank a charter. My bill would model this federal law as closely as possible on the Nebraska law. There have been guarantee systems in other states, but they have failed because they were not drawn right."

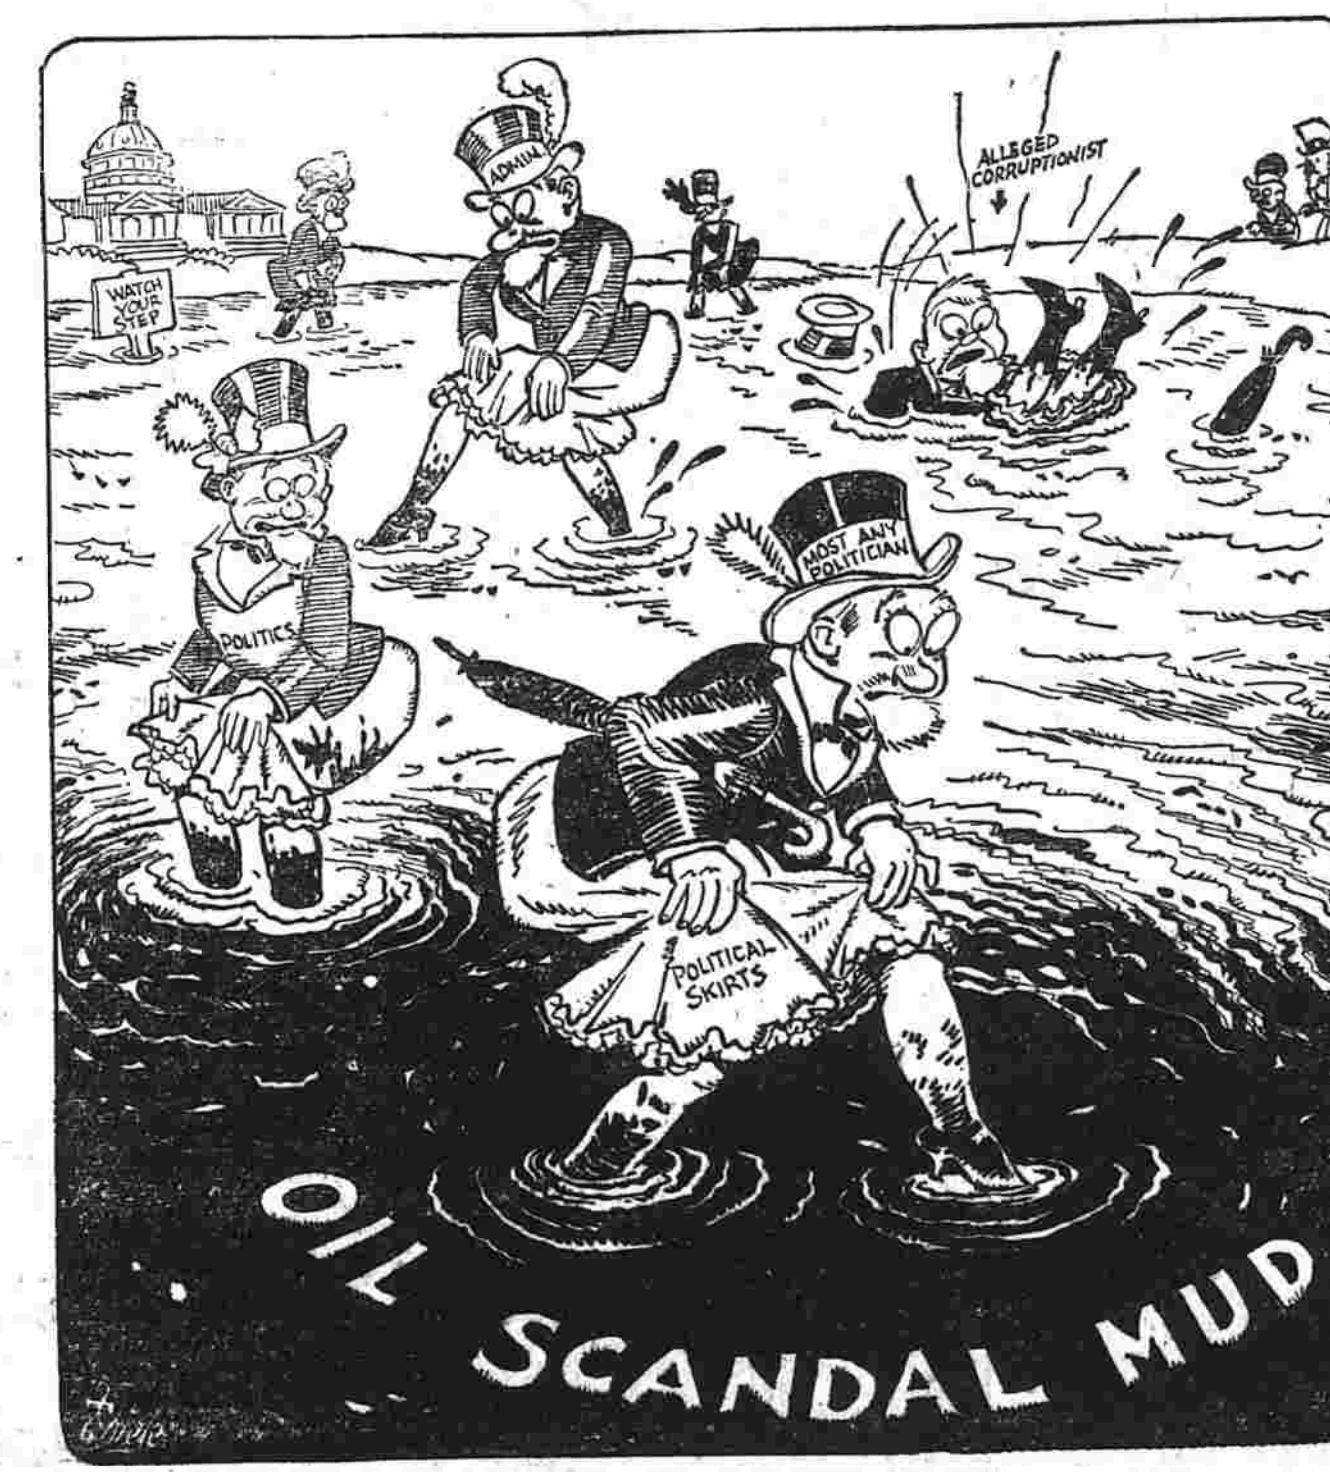

"In Nebraska many national banks would like this law to enable them to compete more effectively with state banks. My bill has been blocked here because many large banking interests don't want the government interfering with their business and because the attitude of most members of the House Banking Committee is generally that of large banking interests. I have never met any opposition except that inspired by these big banks."

Howard isn't insistent on his own bill. He calls attention to measures submitted by Hastings of Oklahoma and Brand of Georgia.—Hastings would provide for furnishing of bonds by all member banks of the Federal Reserve system, state and national, for protection of depositors.

"Or I would be glad to have the national banks submit a plan," says Howard, "who is a stockholder in two national banks. 'Anything that will end this hideous suffering!'" know they have escaped the noise and the struggle and the turmoil have leaped over all the buildings and traveled back to the scenes of their high adventure in lands of jungle, brush, mountains, snow, ice, rolling seas and flecked surf. And they have a way of taking you with them that makes Manhattan's monoliths seem all the more incredible and unreal. GILBERT SWAN.

"The Hubbards said they'd be here by eight. I wonder if they've had an accident."

Mr. and Mrs. Brown are disappointed, worried. The game is delayed. Yet it really isn't the Hubbards' fault. For Tom Hubbard would surely have called them up from the nearest pay station and told them that an exasperating puncture was the cause of the delay. That is, he would have—if the Browns had a telephone.

A telephone in the home is really an economy. It saves endless time and steps. It keeps your home within speaking distance of your friends every hour of the day or night. In times of emergency its worth cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

The value of a telephone lies not only in the calls you can make, but in the calls you can receive.

And it costs so little!

For as little as $2.00 a month you can enjoy the benefits of a telephone in your home. Convenience, economy, protection, contact with the outside world at all times, day and night. All this at so small a cost to you.

'IRISH HEARTS' AT CIRCLE ON FRIDAY

May McAvoy Stars in Love Story—Double Feature Bill Today.

Another winsome Irish story is "Irish Hearts," in which May McAvoy is starred at the Circle theater tomorrow and Saturday as part of a double-feature bill. Also on the program is "Good as Gold," with Buck Jones in the leading role. Features tonight only are "By Whose Hand," starring Ricardo Cortez, and "Drifting Sands," with Bob Steele.

May McAvoy's role in "Irish Hearts" is a distinct departure from that played by her in "Matinee Ladies." In the latter Warner Brothers' production she was cast as a sophisticated cigarette girl in a metropolitan jazz palace. In "Irish Hearts" she is seen as a whimsical, wide-eyed little colleen from the old sod who arrives in New York almost penniless. The big city and its strange ways are both puzzling and confusing to her.

Instead of the spirited, fun-loving lass of Ireland, she becomes a sad little figure, drudging for a living in a cheap restaurant. All the laughter and gladness have gone out of her life. This she believes has come about through the loss of a good-luck shamrock brooch. When she recovers it, the transformation is startling. Her fighting Irish spirit returns, and she proceeds to even up old scores with those who have been unkind to her. There is a scene in the restaurant where she is working that is filled with high-speed laughter.

Frances Lee, one of the Wampas stars of 1927, is playing the leading feminine role in "Good as Gold." The Wampas is an organization of the Western Association of Motion Picture Advertisers. Each year they select the best of the young actresses as their baby stars for next year. This is recognition which carries the stamp of highest merit. The honor in Miss Lee's case is especially fitting, because she worked her own way through the East High School in Minneapolis and through her first year at the University.

"Good as Gold" is a colorful story of western adventure taken against the beautifully rugged background of the Grand Canyon of Colorado.

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., March 29.—Twenty-four hours in the air, Eddie Stinson and George Halderman were still aloft early this morning in their huge monoplane and apparently are headed for a new world's endurance flight. They took off early yesterday morning. All through the night the drone

They were flying at an altitude of about 2,000 feet this morning, and making about 75 miles an hour.

SESSIONS BEGIN - AT FALL RIVER

Annual Conference of Methodist Churches Opens; First Day's Program.

(Special to The Herald.) The eighty-eighth annual session of the New England Southern Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church opened Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in the Union Methodist church at Fall River, Mass., of which Rev. R. A. Colpitts is pastor.

The edifice, completed some two years ago, ranks among the best in the conference. Aside from the opportunities for spiritual worship and intellectual stimulus, the members of the conference will be privileged to use the gymnasium, shower baths, pool rooms and bowling alleys for recreational purposes at such times as will not interfere with conference work.

Setting Up Exercises. One of the features follows the four o'clock lecture hour daily—"setting up exercises" under the direction of Rev. O. W. Bell, of Sagamore, assisted by E. Howard. The new building together with its splendid parish house has been erected during Dr. Colpitts' pastorate, and takes the place of the old church on Bank street, sold to the Jewish people for a synagogue and burned to the ground in the terrible fire of last winter.

The conference opened with over one hundred of its ministers present and Bishop W. F. Anderson, D.D., L.L.D., as the presiding officer. The rite of Holy Communion was administered by the bishop, assisted by the district superintendents, Rev. E. E. Wells, of the Providence District; Rev. R. L. Roberts, of the New Bedford District; Rev. Myron E. Gater, of the Norwich District, and the pastor of the church, Dr. Colpitts.

Welcoming Speeches. Then followed two addresses of welcome. The first was by the mayor of the city, Harry W. Monahan, and the other from the chairman of the official board of the entertaining church, W. E. Fawcett. After a felicitous reply by Bishop Anderson, the latter called upon the secretary of the last conference, Rev. L. G. Horton to call the roll. About a hundred of the brethren answered to their names. The conference stood in silence as the names of those deceased during the year were read. Those included Rev. W. F. Davis, a former pastor of the South Methodist church; Rev. A. W. C. Anderson, Rev. John S. Bridgford, Rev. John McVay; Rev. Russell W. Bosworth, Rev. Augustus W. Kingsley, and Rev. Charles A. Stenhouse, who was buried last fall in the cemetery on East Center street.

Officers. Rev. L. G. Horton was re-elected secretary of the conference. Rev. Amos M. Bruce was re-elected statistician. As Rev. J. S. Bridgford, treasurer of the conference had died during the year, Rev. Philip Ahearn was elected in his place. He is son-in-law of Mrs. W. F. Davis, of Manchester. Dr. N. E. Davis spoke a few words upon the work of the General Deacons Board which he represents. The closing hour of the session was devoted to a memorial service for the deceased ministers. Though the unusual number of seven ministers had passed away during the year, no wives or widows of ministers had died. Rev. W. I. Ward presided at this service. A mixed quartet rendered selections. Rev. Charles T. Hatch made the address. He was pastor of the North Methodist church in 1907-08.

Reports. Rev. O. W. Auman, treasurer of the World Service, made a brief address urging renewed zeal among the churches for the work of the program. A feature of the morning service was the report of the superintendent of Providence district, Rev. E. E. Wells, which showed the churches throughout that district to be in a prosperous condition. Tuesday, the day before conference, was a busy one for the examining committee of the organization, whose duty it is to question the young men seeking admission into the body of clergymen on the studies allotted them according to the discipline of the church.

In the evening was held the anniversary of the Boston Prohibition, Prohibition and Public Morals. This was presided over by the Rev. Jas. I. Bartholomew, Ph.D., a former pastor of the South Methodist church, and superintendent of the Norwich District. The speaker was Dr. George Mecklenburg, whose subject was "Mussolini and Warsaw Europe."

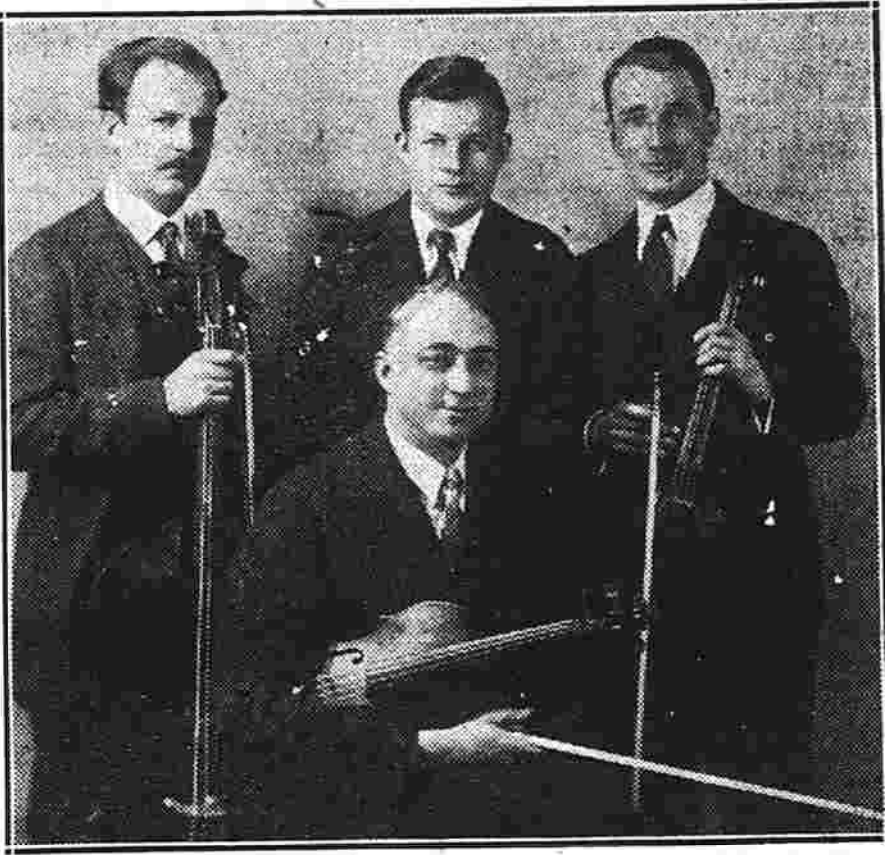

COLLEGE DRINKING ON THE DECREASE

Washington, Mar. 29.—Drinking by American college students has been brought under reasonably good control, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman declared today.

Although college imbibing is on the wane Lowman admitted that there is a "peak drinking period" during the football season from October 1 to Thanksgiving each year. It was disclosed that last fall deaths among students, attributable to bootleg hooch, averaged two or three every week end. At the request of university presidents the prohibition office has been driving against bootleggers in college centers for several months. An effort will be made to prevent repetition of the situation which last autumn led the college president to appeal to the treasury for aid in the war on rum.

Artists Known Here Figure in Quartet of Masters Choral Club's Offering.

Of particular interest to Manchester music lovers who expect to attend the concert of the Men's Choral club in High school hall on April 11 will be the appearance of the Newport String Quartet, two of whose members have played in previous concerts here. All the members of the quartet are soloists with the New York Philharmonic orchestra, second oldest symphony orchestra in the world and which has just now been merged with the New York City symphony orchestra. The quartet, after the regular season of the Philharmonic is over, gives a series of chamber concerts in Newport during the summer season.

The two artists who have been heard here before are Nicolai Berezowski, first violin, and Harry Waller, viola. The latter was here as a violinist in his previous concert but has changed over to the viola since that time. The concert will be opened by Mozart's "Serenade" by the quartet. This suite contains four movements, the "Allegro Moderato," "Romanza," "Minuetto" and "Allegro." The other offerings of the quartet will be Schubert's "Allegro Brillante," a quintet for piano and string quartet, and "Spring Night Waltz" by Pflke, in which the Choral club, soprano soloist and piano will form an ensemble.

The soprano soloist is Miss Lillian Gustafson, known far and wide, like Jenny Lind, as the Swedish Nightingale. Miss Gustafson is known to local audiences, having sung here previously. She will have two groups of songs by well known composers including Handel, Beethoven, Mozart and Protheroe.

There will be 12 separate numbers in the offerings of the male chorus under the direction of Archibald Sessions. Some of these will be choruses which have been deemed the most popular in other concerts of the club.

SUFFERED ECZEMA THIRTY YEARS RABALM HEALED

"I have been a sufferer from eczema for over thirty years," says William Johnson, 6 Hodgkins Street, Gloucester, Mass., "and during that time have received treatment and tried many remedies without obtaining even a temporary relief. A few months ago I was using Rabalm for neuritis with wonderful results, and discovered to my great astonishment that however Rabalm was applied, there was a marked improvement in my skin. The eczema irritation was relieved at once, as it had never been before, and ever since, I have not only been comfortable but all signs of the trouble have been gradually disappearing, to my great satisfaction." Rabalm is the result of a scientific effort to find an effective remedy for eczema, to stop pain and itching, heal blisters and restore beauty to skin. A white, stainless, pleasant-smelling ointment, Rabalm will not stain clothing and has no disagreeable medicine-alike odor when used on the face. German Mystery Ships May Surprise Powers

BY MILTON BRONNER

London.—There is another way than through sheer force of numbers to create a powerful navy, and if there is any foundation for the worries of British and French navy officers, Germany seems to have discovered that method.

Restricted though she is by the treaty of Versailles, Germany is believed to be building a fighting fleet that some day may surprise the world. With a superior quality of armor plating, tremendous concentrated power of their guns and the speed with which they could run to or from an enemy ship, the few vessels being built by Germany may have the offensive power of a force much larger in numbers.

Only Six Battleships
On paper, it looks as though Germany is thoroughly shackled by the Versailles treaty. She is allowed but six battleships of the Deutschland type, not more than 10,000 tons each, six light cruisers of not more than 6,000 tons; twelve destroyers of 700 tons and twelve torpedo boats.

She is allowed no submarines and can construct no new battleships or cruisers except as replacements for ships more than 20 years old.

Notwithstanding these limitations, Germany's navy estimate for the present year is about $50,000,000, and one-fourth of this is to be devoted to new construction. The new cruiser is ready in service and sailing in Indian waters. The cruisers Koensberg and Karlsruhe have been launched. Cruiser "D" will soon be launched and work will soon be started on cruiser "E".

Will Build More
As to design, a half flotilla already is in service and another is in construction. The navy also has in contemplation the building of four coast defense ships of 10,000 tons each.

The thing that is worrying the British and French, and also acute critics of the German government at home, is the prodigious cost of these things. The cost of some recent German ships has been reported to the Reichstag as high as $200 per ton whereas the British only require $100 per ton for their greatest superdreadnaughts, the Nelson and the Rodney.

The German navy authorities reply to their home critics by saying that the Versailles treaty makes Germany's position more expensive because other countries enjoy the benefits of mass construction.

Compare Strength
The following comparisons have been made between the sea strength of several powers: Germany: 15,000 officers and men, with a navy as outlined above; budget 55 million dollars.

Italy: personnel, 45,000 men, with more than three times the number of ships allowed to the many; a powerful aviation service and an elaborate coast defense system (which is forbidden Germany); budget 50 million dollars.

France: Personnel, 57,000 men; ships equal to those of Italy; elaborate aviation and coast defense services; budget 60 million dollars.

None of the authorities of European powers believe for a minute Germany's naval gains are costing the prodigious figures reported to the Reichstag. They believe that the German navy men have some big surprises up their sleeves. They remember that in the great war the Germans surprised the English by having a special armor protection for their ship decks and a special drop fire for their guns.

Power and Speed
It also is believed that with their limited navy, the Germans are concentrating on two things: Gun power: securing by experiment six-inch guns of a concentrated intensity and power of fire never known before.

Speed: securing by experiment Diesel motor engines of a type hitherto unknown and capable of amazing the world by the rapidity with which they will propel ships through the water.

Many observers believe that all the high costs reported for ships and guns conceal tremendous sums not spent on the actual ships and guns at all. These sums, they suggest, are being spent on a series of intensive experiments which are not even being revealed to the civilian government, much less to the Reichstag and the press.

ROBERT BURNS LETTER FOR SALE BY SOTHEBY'S GIVES LIGHT ON POET

London.—A remarkable letter of Robert Burns, that is shortly to be sold at Sotheby's, reveals the fact that at one time an offer was made to induce the poet to come to London and take up newspaper work. The letter is addressed to Mr. Peter Miller, who had told his friend Mr. Perry, then proprietor of the Morning Chronicle (1794) of Burns' ineffectual condition.

Between them they settled on a plan for bringing the poet up to Fleet Street. Mr. Perry, it is recorded, wittily made Burns an offer of an annual stipend for his services on the paper, but the offer was refused.

A savings bank in the form of a closed up baked clay with a slit in the top has been found in the ruins of Utica, an ancient Phoenician city on the African coast.

SIXTEEN DEATHS FAIL TO AFFECT ATLANTIC HOPS

New York.—Sixteen lives have been lost in attempts to fly across the Atlantic Ocean but that will not deter other aviators from trying again as soon as the weather permits.

The recent death of Elsie Mackay, the pretty, steel-nerved daughter of an English lord, and Captain Walter Hinchliffe, who vanished in an attempt to fly from Europe to America, has only served to stimulate the ambition of foreign aviators to be the first to accomplish the feat.

Captain Herman Koehl, the German "ace" is now making preparations to make the westward flight. If he succeeds he will be offered a prize of 100,000 marks. He is in the Aero Club of Germany. He is in a plane which is of a design similar to the Bremen, in which he and his flying partner, Fritz Loose, made a start for America last fall.

French Plans
France has a number of aviators who are eager to try the flight that brought disaster to Nungesser and Goll, and other brave souls. The popular choice among the French people seems to be Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebrun, who have announced their intention of attempting a non-stop flight from Paris to New York. It is also probable that one of the planes that were built in France last year for such a flight, but did not get away before winter set in, may essay the hazardous westward flight.

Eastward flights are also contemplated this summer even though that trail has been blazed by Lindbergh, Byrd, Chamberlain and others. Charles A. Levine, New York-Germany flyer, has indicated that he may attempt another long non-stop flight. Cesare Sabelli, Italian war flyer, and another as yet unnamed pilot, plan a New York-to-Rome hop in a new long range Bellanca monoplane.

German Woman to Fly
Thea Rasche, the German woman flyer, intends to return to the United States soon to prepare for a non-stop flight from New York to Berlin. If she accomplishes her object she will be the first woman to fly across the Atlantic.

Of the sixteen persons who lost their lives trying to span the ocean, nine were making the westward trip and seven were headed eastward when they met disaster. The victims included three women—Miss Mackey, Princess Lowenstein-Werthelm of England and Mrs. Frances W. Grayson of the United States.

It has been proved beyond all doubt that the westward flight because of the stiff head winds encountered, is by far the most hazardous journey.

DORCHESTER HOUSE, FORMER U. S. EMBASSY TO BE GREAT HOTEL

London.—The fate of Dorchester House—once the palatial American Embassy in London—is settled. There is no possibility of the site being converted into the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre. It has been bought by a syndicate for conversion into the most luxurious hotel in Europe.

Built about 50 years ago by Sir George Holford, Dorchester House, situated in a commanding site in Park Lane, London's richest thoroughfare, was regarded as the last word in architectural opulence. From 1906 to 1912 it was rented by Whitehall Road and the American Embassy in London, and there he entertained monarchs and celebrities on every description. It cost $50,000 yearly for rent—an enormous sum in those days.

Recently an attempt has been made by Lady Beecham to secure the house and site as a center for art, drama, music and literature and also to act as the intended Shakespeare Memorial Theatre. Sufficient subscriptions were not forthcoming, however, and a syndicate brought the site for $7,500,000.

The projected hotel will have 650 rooms, and the present intention of the promoters is to outdo every existing hotel in the world as regards sheer luxury and beauty.

200 ANN ARBOR STUDENTS TRY FOR FOOTBALL TEAM

Ann Arbor.—More than 200 students will engage in regular football workouts at the University of Michigan next fall under the new "A" and "B" team plan as compared with about three score in the past.

Heretofore the varsity squad was whittled down to about 35 men after the season started, although more than 50 reported for practice. With the new arrangement Coach Elton T. Tad' Weisman says he will retain a working squad of about 65 men.

The reserve squad of the past will be dispensed with. In its stead, Coach Weisman will institute what is known as an intramural league. Those who enjoy the gridiron sport but who are not proficient enough to make the "A" or "B" squads will be divided into teams representing the four classes.

MISSING INDIANA BANKER ONLY ONE JUMP AHEAD OF PROSECUTING AUTHORITIES

End, Okla.—"Colonel" Jimmy Lang, 73-year-old missing banker, of Sullivan, Indiana, apparently is a jump or two ahead of authorities who are seeking an accounting for the $260,000 shortage from his bank, and incidentally, a $10,000 reward offered for his apprehension.

'Scarface Al' Capone and Aids Always Equipped Like Arsenal

Chicago.—"Scarface Al" Capone looks much like any other man. He has dark hair and eyes, is of medium to heavy build, wears good clothes, is quiet-mannered and inclined to be jovial. He is slightly bald. His two scars are scarcely noticeable. It is said that he rubs olive oil into them to aid in eradicating their lividness.

He lives in the Seventy-seven hundred block in a South Side street. He owns his own home and pays all taxes the moment they are due. He is married. He has one child and has adopted a woman, about 30 years old, known as "Mattie" Capone. She is a poor relative. He owns about six or eight automobiles of an expensive make. In addition he has had the upholstery lined with solid steel plates—bullet-proof.

He affects jewelry, mostly diamond rings and studpins. Strong Body Guard
When he sallies forth by day or night he is accompanied by a body guard of never less than five men and on many occasions as many as a dozen. Most of his business discussions and transactions are conducted in the kitchen of his home. Cusick just now is in a hospital recovering from pleurisy pneumonia.

Capone goes armed with two or possibly three revolvers of small caliber. Why three? It is the duty of the bodyguard in an emergency. When one is the head of gangland there are many emergencies.

His bodyguard all carry revolvers. He has one man who is a personal attendant. A sort of "gangland valet." It is the duty of this man to watch for all enemies, all suspicious characters or amateur police. Of the regular police Capone has little to fear because he knows they have "nothing on him." It is the snooping amateur newcomer to the force for whom he must watch.

Ralph Capone, about 24 years old, Al's brother, usually travels with the group. Ralph is surly, sullen and is not very well liked. He is dark and rather good looking. Use No Doorstep
When a crowd of people goes to visit Cusick at his spacious south side home, there is no ringing of doorbells. Instead there is a tiny aperture which rings a buzzer in the parlor of the mansion. That buzzer is always answered by "Banjo," Cusick's chief bodyguard, and judging from first appearance rather a simple type of man.

The crowd assembles in the living room. Cusick's daughter, Janet, 21 or his son Charles, 18, may be in the room. His wife, Rose Cohn, may be present. There is no discussion of gang affairs. If a stranger is present, Capone is introduced as "Mr. Brown."

After chatting upon incidental subjects, suddenly Capone will look at Cusick and mutter the one word "Well."

That is the signal. All members of both bodyguards rise and file out to the kitchen, shutting the doors behind them. It is then the gang conferences are held. One of the gang goes into the basement and brings a few cases beer to the kitchen. Neither Capone, Cusick or their close bodyguard ever drink whiskey, heavy wines or heavily intoxicating beverages while planning business.

Holiday Drinking
On Christmas or some other holiday they get admittedly drunk in Cusick's home but station sober men as lookouts. On such occasions Cusick throws handfuls of gold coins onto the parlor rug to watch the gang hold. The writer of this article contrived to be present at one of these celebrations and witnessed the bland manner in which Cusick flung gold and Christmas presents to guests.

By only beer is served in the kitchen. If Janet or Charles bring visitors into the dining room, Capone and Cusick take their men into the cellar.

After the conference has been concluded, Capone may ask Theron, his wife, and Rose, Cusick's wife, if they care to go to the theater. In the event they say they do, Capone's bodyguard valet telephones a theater box office. Probably there is not a theater in Chicago to which Capone has not immediate access should he desire 15 seats. He always buys that number.

Going To Theater
The party leaves the Cusick dwelling in three or four automobiles. Once in the theater Capone, his wife, his child, Cusick, Mrs. Cusick and their children, take seats in one row, usually near the footlights. In the row immediately back of them sit their two chief lieutenants. In the row behind them sit the remainder of the bodyguard.

If they care to go to a cafe afterward they get the choicest tables, properly shielded from the "hot" spots. It may be of course by one of the men controlled by Capone.

Once, when the party was at the home of Cusick both Mrs. Capone and Mrs. Cusick announced they were hungry. Cusick handed "Banjo" a $50 note and told him to get food.

"What'll I get?" he asked. "Get some Chinese food," Mrs. Cusick ordered. Banjo came back with ten orders of chop suey and ten orders of chow mein. Mrs. Cusick divided the twenty orders upon the party. Both women then literally "dived in" to the food. Incidentally both women are very fat.

One of the queerest beliefs regarding man's origin is that of the ancient Peruvians, who believed that the sun came down, laid two eggs, and from those the first human beings came.

COLLEGE WOMEN OPEN FIGHT ON BEAUTY CONTEST

Denver.—Beauty contests in universities and colleges are rapidly receiving the expressed disapproval of many western deans of women. Anne M. Shuler, dean of Women at the University of Denver, emphatically denounced beauty contests for college women because it lowers the women's standards.

"The only word that I can use for beauty contests," said Dean Shuler, "is that they are a complete waste of time. Beauty contests put a wrong value upon beauty, making physical grace as apparently the only standard of achievement."

Insult To Girls
"It is degrading and insulting to the girls whose brains are entirely overlooked. The co-eds are put on a level with Follies girls and surely they are on a higher level than these song and dance girls."

If the time and effort spent in applying make-up were applied to beautifying the mind and spirit, girls would find themselves more beautiful in the end than any amount of cosmetics would make them.

The abolishment of beauty contests would undoubtedly raise the reputation of the modern university in the eyes of the public.

Leaders Disapprove
Dean Shuler contends that modern women compare themselves with women of primeval times when they submit themselves to beauty contests, women of those days valued form and figure to be exhibited at man's will.

Miss Lucy Van Cott, dean of women at the University of Utah, through an article published in the Utah Chronicle, the student paper, added her word of disapproval.

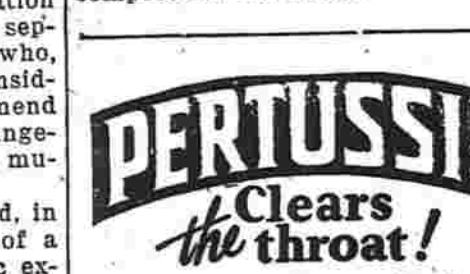

"The beauty selection many beautiful girls are left out, and those chosen are picked by judges ignorant of personality and spirit of the contestants. Judging is done on a purely external and inadequate basis."

THE TRANSMITTING BABY

London.—A new use for baby was revealed in Willesden police court when a young mother and her man-in-law appeared to settle a fight before the magistrate. It started when the two women had arrived at the point where they refused to speak to each other. So when they happened into the same room with the sleeping infant, mother addressed her offspring: "Your grandmother, darling, is—"

The grandmother replied: "Your mother, my love, is—?" Then came fatigued and court warrants.

Acorn Queen

Dainty and demure Beth Winkler was chosen queen of the Acorn Ball this year. The ball is an annual event at Weber College, Ogden, Utah, and hundreds of girls compete for the honor.

ASK DOMESTIC COURT FOR POORER CLASSES IN GREAT BRITAIN

London.—A "Court of Domestic Relations" to examine matrimonial disputes and to try to effect a cure for unhappy marriages, is proposed by Harry Snell, Member of Parliament for East Woodwich. Snell has the support of a large number of M. P.'s legal experts, and sociologists.

He intends to raise the matter at an early date in the House of Commons, where he will ask that legislation be affected bringing such courts into existence throughout Britain.

The benefits derived from such courts would apply more particularly to the poorer classes, who have not the means to obtain "judicial separations," and have no remedy but that of bringing their cases into police courts.

THRILLS, CREEPS, IN STATE FILMS FRIDAY

"Something Always Happens" Here With Esther Ralston; "The Enemy" Ends Run Today.

A bagful of thrills, creeps and hair-raising situations is scheduled for the State theater tomorrow and Saturday when Esther Ralston appears in "Something Always Happens." On the same bill the State will present Ken Maynard, famous western actor in "The Canyon of Adventure."

Features at the State tonight for the last time are "The Enemy," that great argument against war in which Lillian Gish, Ralph Forbes, George Fawcett and Karl Dane are starred, and "On to Reno," a whimsical story of the divorce courts and their inmates, in which the star is Marie Prevost.

Esther Ralston has been given a distinctive type of picture in "Something Always Happens." It is the story of hilarious happenings in a haunted house, and shows the star as a girl seeking adventure, and getting it but not as she anticipated.

She meets up with screaming hoot owls, ghostly figures, and mysterious hands that grip her by the throat and become popular in a series of spectacular adventures which are hailed as "thrilling, chilling, baffling and amusing."

"Something Always Happens" is a type of picture never before made on the Paramount lot, in the words of studio executives. Mysterious melodramatic action is combined with fun in huge quantities.

The production was based on an original story written especially for Miss Ralston by Frank Tuttle, who directed her in "Love and Learn" and "The Spotlight." Tuttle, former Yate dramatic writer and author of a number of one act successes, conceived more than one hundred adventurous situations, which give the star a great opportunity for satirical light comedy portrayal for which she has become popular.

"The Canyon of Adventure" is an original story, written by Marion Jackson, and tells of early California in the days of the dons and grantees. The main theme of the "buggy land" grants given the early settlers of the state by their sovereign, the King of Spain, and the effort of the U. S. Government to have these grants registered with the land office before its entry into the Union.

Albert Rogell directed, with Harry J. Brown supervising. The balance of the cast includes Eric Mayne, Theo. Lorch and Bill Francis and, of course, Tarzan, the Wonder Horse.

ILLINOIS MAN IN ATLANTIC FLIGHT EARLY IN JUNE

Rockford, Ill.—Early in June a new attempt to conquer the treacherous Atlantic by air will be made by Bert Hassell, veteran Rockford aviator, who will fly a Stinson-Detroiter equipped with a Wright Whirlwind motor.

Hassell plans to make the flight in two jumps, the first from Rockford to the rugged edge of Greenland and thence over the ice floes to Stockholm.

The flight is to be financed by public subscription. School children daily are donating their pennies. Bill Smith, the grocer, Pete Cummings, the garage man, are donating their bits. So far more than $7,000 has been subscribed.

To Stir Interest
The purpose of the flight is to point out the feasibility of a commercial air lane to Europe over the northern part of the ocean and to promote greater interest in aviation.

The plane now under construction in Detroit is of standard make with enlarged compartments for fuel. Enough gasoline will be carried to ensure a flight of 36 hours duration.

Hassell recently went to Mt. Evans, Greenland, to the University of Michigan research station conducted there by Professor W. H. Hobbs to procure valuable data concerning his proposed flight.

Fuel and oil are to be shipped to the station which Hassell will pick up for the Atlantic hop.

His route from Rockford will be northeasterly, over Detroit, the Great Lakes, Canada, Hudson Bay, across inland Labrador to the Davis Strait and thence to Greenland.

He plans to take off for Stockholm flying by way of Iceland. His longest water jump will be from Iceland to the Scandinavian peninsula.

PLANING MEMORIAL TO HONOR WILBUR WRIGHT IN HIS HOME COUNTY

New Castle, Ind.—While Washington officials and officials of the Smithsonian Institute are attempting to reach a truce with Orville Wright, who with his brother, Wilbur, now dead, invented the first heavier than air flying machine that actually flew, the Henry County Historical Society is planning a fitting memorial to Wilbur Wright who was born in Henry County, only a few miles from this city.

The old Wright homestead made famous first by Colonel Wright, a well-known preacher and the father of Wilbur and Orville, still stands a few miles northeast of New Castle and with it the old log smokehouse which was Wilbur's first workshop.

The WOMAN'S DAY

Consider, says a well known dramatic critic, the actresses of today—fragile wisps of creatures capable of being stuffed into their own overnight bags

Lillian, Big Girl "I looked yesterday at a photograph, dated 1890, of Lillian Russell," he writes

Spectacular Comeback Gives Murphy The Lead

Double Strike in Last Game Give Local Champ 16 Pin Lead in First Half of Match With Thompsonville Pinster.

By virtue of as brilliant a comeback as anyone could wish to see, Howard Murphy overcame a forty pin lead which Bert Humphries of Thompsonville had attained in the first four games of the opening half of their twenty-game home and home match last night at Murphy's alleys, and won out by sixteen timbers.

Trailing all the way from the very first game until the fourth box in the tenth, the Manchester champion by no means had an easy time. A double strike followed by a ten box and a spare with a six filling at the start of the final game, saved Murphy from defeat. Humphries was up sixteen pins at the time.

The match attracted a record breaking crowd. Humphries came here with a big reputation and he was every bit as good as Murphy. It was a great match to watch and the fans went wild with delight when the local champ began cutting his opponent's lead steadily in the last half of the ten games.

The final ten games will be rolled at the Recreation Hall alleys in Thompsonville next Wednesday night. Thompsonville rooters say that Humphries will win handily up there, but Murphy says he can bowl just as good on the Thompsonville alleys as Humphries can. They have met there in the American Legion League games and the local man has beat Humphries. However, this was only for a small number of games.

The statistics show that Murphy made seven strikes, sixteen spares, missed nineteen spare breaks and averaged 106.9 while Humphries chalked up three strikes, twenty-two spares and blew twenty spare chances while averaging 105.2. As the match drew toward a close, both men missed some easy spare breaks.

RISKO'S CHALLENGE

New York, March 29.—Jess McMahon, matchmaker for Promoter Tex Rickard, now threatens to match Johnny Risko with Gene Tunney unless Charlie Harvey, manager for Tom Heeney, agrees to a Risko-Heeney elimination bout. Harvey has disappeared. He is reported to be enroute to Florida to obtain Rickard's approval of a Heeney-Tunney scrap.

People who think there are no big leagues in Europe should go over to one of those countries with a couple of thousand dollars and try to get along.

YANKEES ARE OFF COLOR THUS FAR

Walsh Thinks They Will Not Have Such An Easy Time This Year.

By DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, March 29.—One of the best bets of the day is that the world's champion New York Yankees will not be bowled politely into another American League pennant this year, that, if they win again, which is entirely plausible, they will be pursued up to the wire, not escorted, and that they may even experience a few bad moments en route.

This is not written because the Yanks are blowing a lot of exhibition games in the south. It represents, in fact, the dispassionate opinion of smart baseball men, who pay exactly no attention to exhibition records. These, after all, come within the general meaning of a swell practice putt. The Yankees have the stuff and sooner or later it will come out like a pardoned convict.

Other Teams Better But there is a well founded suspicion that the pitching they had and the hitting they knew last year are no more and never again will be. They still figure to get plenty of both, of course; enough, in fact, so that the man doesn't live who would bet against them as a pennant prospect. The only thing is that the league is somewhat better and the Yanks are somewhat worse.

Any baseball man, for example, will lay you odds that Ruth and Gehrig don't hit all those home runs again. They say that one of them may repeat but never both. It may be mentioned that Ruth and Gehrig have hit precisely none so far.

The Yanks themselves will bet you that they don't beat the St. Louis Browns nearly as many times as they did last year. Their 1927 record against the Browns was a baseball miracle and those kind of things just don't happen more than once. It accounted for not a small portion of the Yankees' 19-game lead at the pay off.

Reason For Success Much of their early success, too, was due to the prostrate character of the Boston Red Sox. The latter may be none too vertical yet but Bill Carrigan's influence is beginning to percolate and the Sox figure to win more games from everybody, including the Yankees.

The prospects for the American League race, of course, indicate no little lack of general balance. This, however, is not confined to the admitted contenders, which, until proved otherwise, must be regarded as having improved their hands before the draw.

The Detroit Tigers, for instance, were one of the reigning disappointments of the 1927 race. Yet they have the class and nobody is looking for them to finish so far off the pace this time.

The other contenders, Washington and the Athletics, either have improved their chances or everyone is being fooled.

The cleanup in the oil industry ought to be postponed until we can bring the marines back after the Nicaraguan elections.

South Again Triumphs Over North In Bowling

The south once more showed its superiority over the north last night in a special two-man bowling match in which Mike Suhle and Jack Saidella conquered Pete McLagan and Bobby Brennan in a home and home ten game match.

The Suhle-Saidella combination won by 52 pins beating their opponents in the first five games at Murphy's alleys and the second five at Conran's. Suhle's average was 194.8, Saidella's 193, McLagan's 100.9 and Brennan's 100.8. Both south end men defeated their opponents. A purse of $25 was at stake.

Miami, Fla.—The derelict barkentine, Prins Valdemar, which overturned in the channel during the 1925 embargo here and which since has been abandoned and left at the mercy of the elements, will be fitted out as an aquarium and docked at the foot of Sixth street in Biscayne Bay.

The City Commission has agreed to advance sufficient funds to equip the old ship and will pay the docking charge. Some of the equipment used in the Miami Beach Aquarium sponsored by James A. Allison, which has since closed, will be used.

New Haven, Conn., March 29.—Arnold College of New Haven will send its varsity baseball team on a southern training trip this spring, for the first time in its history. Fifteen players are to make the trip which will start with a game with Howard University in Washington on April 6 and continue with a game with Bridgewater college, Virginia, the following day. Three other games will be scheduled later.

Rec and Community Clubs At Odds Over Second Tilt

Cannot Agree on Date, So May Call Off Whole Affair; Madden Can't Get Off Wednesday But Game Could Be Played Tuesday, It Seems.

The friction between the Rec Five and Community Club over their basketball series approached a breaking point today when the Rec announced it positively would not play the second game of the series next Wednesday while the Community refused to play either Thursday, Friday or Saturday for religious reasons.

There is no denying the fact that such arrangements can be completed for the second game next week, the whole series will probably be called off and a black mark placed on what otherwise would have been a successful basketball season. However, while there's a spark of life, there's hope. In other words, the series has not been called off yet and there is a possibility that some solution may be arrived at.

The Rec's reason for refusing to play next Wednesday night is because arrangements can be completed at the very beginning of the season to play Wednesday games with the Plainfield Pros. Madden was to have attempted to get excused for next Wednesday but according to information brought back from Plainfield last night, he was unsuccessful. Plainfield, it is said, needs his services next Wednesday against the Knights of Lithuania because Kaspar and Brusso are not going to play that night.

Manager Ben Clune admitted this morning that if arrangements could not be made for Saturday night, the "whole thing might be called off." Jerry Fay said yesterday that he wouldn't have anything to do with a basketball game played either Thursday, Friday or Saturday because it is Holy Week end.

The general impression about town seems to be that if the series is not played, both teams might as well call it quits for the season. Some of the basketball fans thought that publicity earlier in the season to the effect that there might not be a town series, was a lot of apple-sauce, but now they may see matters in a different light. This story is no publicity scheme. It's real facts mildly stated.

The Community Club representatives are good and sore about the whole matter and make no denial of such a feeling. One of them made the remark yesterday that the Rec is afraid to play and that it is altogether too high toned. They point to the fact that they save in regard to playing the first game at the Rec and say that if the Rec were any kind of sports, they would go half way to meet them.

It is not the policy of The Herald to meddle into affairs of this kind to the extent of condemning one side or the other, but it cannot help suggesting that next Tuesday night be considered for the second game of the series.

Newsy Notes From The Training Camps

Local merchants are among those who are donating the prizes which will be drawn. These are the F. T. Blish Hardware Company, the Manchester Plumbing and Supply Company and Barrett & Robins, all dealers in sporting goods.

The speakers for the occasion will be Charles E. Wheeler of Stratford, member of the Connecticut Fish and Game Commission and A. Joseph Williamson of Bridgeport, chief game warden. A moving picture film showing the growth of trout will be shown.

PERSONAL TAX PENALTY NOT UNTIL SIXTY DAYS

Despite a statement which appeared in a Hartford paper this morning to the effect that one dollar extra would be added to personal taxes not paid on or before April 1, it was given out today by George H. Howe, tax collector, that a period of 60 days, until June 1, is allowed for payment.

Mr. Howe said today that the report in the Hartford paper was erroneous and has created a wrong impression in this town. The bills which have been sent out and which were received by those required to pay the personal tax state specifically that the penalty will be added after 60 days from April 1.

Bills for the property tax on the list as of October of last year are being prepared now by Mr. Howe and his assistant. They will be in the mails either during the latter part of this week or the first part of next. These taxes are dated for payment April 1 but the same time as the date for the payment of the personal tax, 60 days, is allowed.

THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE: (249) Kinds of Oil

Sketches by Bessey; Synopsis by Braucher

Besides the oil that we take from the earth, various oils are taken from vegetables, nuts and animals such as the whale. Oil that was burned in early days came from olives, and olive oil and cod-liver oil are of great benefit today medicinally. The man here is knocking down coconuts, oil from which is used for oleomargarine, soap, candles and lubricant.

MANCHESTER GRANGERS ENTERTAIN NEIGHBORS

Guests Here From Many Other Granges—All Join in Program; Poverty Social Next.

It was "Neighbors' Night" with Manchester Grange last evening and more than 125 local and visiting Grangers gathered in Odd Fellows hall. The guests were from Newington, Wethersfield, Bloomfield and Enfield Granges, each Grange contributing two numbers to the program, which was unusually enjoyable.

Following the meeting and entertainment, the committee in charge served sandwiches, cake and coffee in the banquet hall. Modern and old fashioned dancing followed. Irving Wickham, master of Manchester Grange played the piano and Fred Manning called off the old-time dances.

At the next meeting which falls on Wednesday evening, April 11 a poverty social will be on the program and will be carried out in all details.

OPEN FORUM

POSTED WATERS

Editor The Herald: Frequent inquiries regarding the change in the open season on trout to April 15th from people who have privately posted waters leads me to infer that some of them do not think their waters are subject to the general laws as to open and closed seasons.

"Fish, so long as they remain unconfined in their natural element and are not taken and reduced to possession, are not the subject of private property, but are public property, and not even the owner of the soil over which a stream frequented by fish flows owns the fish therein, although he may have the exclusive right of fishing in the stream where it flows over his land. While they are in a state of freedom fish are the property of the sovereign power of the state, for the benefit of all the people in common, and the ownership thereof cannot be claimed by any particular individual."

The closed season on trout to April 15th applies to all waters in the state except private waters as defined in Part 1, Section 1, which reads as follows: "Private waters means: natural or artificial pond or lake in which the owner, not a corporation, partnership or voluntary association, has exclusive right to fish, to which fish do not have access from waters not under the control of such owner or from waters stocked at the expense of the state."

In waters confronting to this definition the owners can fish at any time. The fish are his property as much as any other live stock. Ponds built by damming streams do not come into this class even if privately stocked any more than privately stocked and posted trout streams come into this class. There are many court decisions sustaining this opinion.

Yours very truly,
J. W. TITCOMB,
Superintendent.

KNOWING THE RIGHT
The authorities have just closed a candy factory in Greater New York because the walls and ceilings were filthy, the floors an inch deep with dirty candy drippings, a whole battery of candy machines caked with ancient grime and stale mixtures, metal containers and implements obviously never cleaned since first put into use, and thirty employees lacking in health certificates. Gives you a sort of squirmy feeling, doesn't it? But it needn't—not if you can have any faith in your own dealer. He, if he be at all the right sort, will stand between you and any possible contact with unhygienic food of any kind.

It is against such unfit products—as well as in the meat and grocery lines as in confectionery—that the painstaking storekeeper maintains eternal vigilance.

There is an old story of a man who applied for a job as pilot in the old Mississippi steamboating days. "Do you know where all the snags in the river are?" asked the captain. "No sir," said the applicant. "Then what in blazes do you mean by asking for a pilot's job?" demanded the skipper. "Why, I know where they haint," blazed the applicant, "and that's where I do my sailing."
