FARM RELIEF BILL PASSED; EXPECT VETO

Hoover, Jardine, Mellon and the President Are Against It—May Pass It Over Veto.

Washington, April 13.—The battle-scarred McNary-Haugen farm bill, a football of big time politics for several years, was headed straight for President Coolidge's desk notwithstanding the warning signals hoisted against it by the White House.

Its passage in the Senate by the surprising vote of 53 to 23 was accomplished under the adroit generalship of Vice President Dawes, ably assisted by those who do not want to see Herbert Hoover nominated for president at the Kansas City convention.

It now goes to the House, where its passage also is considered assured. Its sponsors hope to have it through the Lower Chamber and deposited on the White House doorstep by May 1.

"I do not think it will take us long to reach a decision," said Rep. Haugen, Republican of Iowa, co-author of the bill.

That a veto awaits it at the White House is universally accepted in Washington. The President vetoed the bill a year ago, denouncing it as few presidents have ever denounced any legislation. Since that time numerous changes have been made in it to meet presidential objections, but the equalization fee, of which Mr. Coolidge particularly disapproved, remains in it. The Farm Bloc considers the equalization fee "the heart of the bill."

Can It Be Passed?
It is questionable whether the measure can be passed over a presidential veto. The Senate vote indicated that it can be, but with the full membership of the Senate present and voting it might be a different story. Also, while the bill

Prize Essayist In This Coun- try a Year—Dr. Cornell's Address.

Fifty-two foreign-born Evening School students were granted certificates of attendance and satisfactory work at the closing exercises at the high school here last night.

The winner of the prize essay was Everett Carlson, a young man who came over to this country from Sweden only a year ago. Principal A. N. Potter said that the young man's composition shows the remarkable progress in English considering the comparatively short time he has studied the language. Carlson wrote on his experiences when he first came to America.

The other four winners in the order of their rank were: Carl Peterson, Carl Gustafson and Christine Johansson. The only two students having a perfect attendance were Carl Peterson and Nils Johansson. They received awards from Miss Alice Dexter on behalf of the Oxford Chapter of the D. A. R. The high school orchestra under the direction of Miss E. Marion Dorward furnished music for the program. The program was as follows:

Orchestra selections, leader, E. Marion Dorward, High School Orchestra.

Salute to the flag, School.

Worship the King, School.

Selection by the orchestra.

John Winthrop, original essay by John Waldeck, Advanced Class.

Tableau, the Puritans, School.

Puritan Hymn, High School Quartet.

George Washington, original essay by Nils Johansson, First Year Class.

Minuet, Girls of Barnard School.

Abraham Lincoln, original essay by Christine Johansson, First Year Class.

Fire Damages Repair Estab- lishment at Main and Pearl Streets.

The interior of the shoe repairing shop of Israel Selwitz in the Selwitz building at Main and Pearl streets was visited by fire at 8:30 this morning and damaged to the extent of several hundreds of dollars. The fire is said to have started in waste paper collected under a work bench.

Three companies, No. 2, 3 and 4, answered the alarm and two chemical lines were used to extinguish the fire. The workbench and checker-woodwork in the store were destroyed, but a shoemaking machine

TRYING TO EXTRADITE SLAYERS TO THIS STATE

Com. Hurley in Springfield Today to Question Nelson Murder Suspects.

Hartford, Conn., April 13.—Possibility that two Worcester, Mass., youths now locked up in Springfield may be extradited to Connecticut at once to stand trial for the murder of State Policeman Irving H. Nelson, of New Haven, was strong today. Commissioner Robert T. Hurley of the State Police Department went to Springfield this morning to assist in preparing the case of Connecticut against the youths, and though the commission would give no idea of the prospects of getting the prisoners back here soon, there was a general feeling that Massachusetts authorities would work closely with those of Connecticut in getting the youths to trial at an early date.

The prisoners, Roland Malone, 21, and Albert Raymond, 20, are being held at Springfield on a warrant issued at Thompson yesterday charging them with murder. They also have charges of breaking and entering and assault with a deadly weapon lodged against them in Massachusetts.

A session of the Windham county Superior Court is to be held at Willimantic on April 24, and State Attorney Howard D. Bradford may take action at that time if extradition is effected in the next week.

Rare Lincoln Antique Owned By Foreign Envoy

Washington, April 13.—American collectors of antiques have overlooked a rare opportunity to pick up a piece of furniture of historic value that many would be willing to pay thousands of dollars to own. It is a solid mahogany dining table that saw service at the White House during the administration of President Lincoln.

Freshly done over by an expert cabinet maker, the table now graces the formal dining room of a foreign embassy here. When the present ambassador completes his service in Washington he plans to take the table with him either to his home country or to another foreign capital should he accept a new diplomatic assignment. Anyway it appears ultimately lost to America. Recently Senator Don Orestes Fer-

ITALY MOURNS THOSE KILLED BY BIG BLAST

Expect Wholesale Arrests Today in Plot to As- sassinate King—Pathetic Scenes After Explosion.

Milan, Italy, April 13.—A woman may have been among the Terrorist plotters who exploded a bomb in Julius Caesar Plaza with the evident intention of assassinating King Victor Emmanuel, according to evidence given today at a judicial inquiry.

Just before the explosion which killed and injured many persons, a man and woman were seen moving suspiciously in the neighborhood of the lamp post in which the infernal machine was hidden.

Witnesses, who observed the couple, told the police that the man and woman moved furtively and appeared to be watching the lamp post, although they did not venture close to it.

About one minute before the blast a man was seen running from the scene. Two minutes after the explosion a man, whose actions aroused the suspicion of the gendarmes, was arrested 600 feet from the scene.

Terrorists who are believed to have attempted the assassination of the king will be given a speedy trial by a military court if they are captured.

Mussolini's Views
Premier Mussolini's newspaper Popolo D'Italia, says that the elements of the crime "prove that the plotters belong to a high political faction, whose misdeeds must be uncovered and punished within a few days."

It is reported that the police have received an anonymous letter, whose writer declared he was a former anarchist. He claimed that the bomb was not directed against the life of any particular person.

The police have arrested Ferdinand Balladori, porter of the building in front of which the bomb had been concealed in the base of a lamp post. He was closely questioned, but so far as known he was

WALSH RAPS SMITH IN BOSTON SPEECH

Says Oil Scandal Will Be For- gotten if Wet Candidate is Named.

Boston, Mass., April 13.—United States Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat of Montana, left Boston today to digest a lot of verbal thrusts on such subjects as oil, prohibition, politics and the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway project, delivered in a whirlwind of four addresses.

He lunged at several notable persons from President Coolidge down and made a veiled thrust at Gov. Al Smith, his rival for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Oil was brought out in the Senator's address before a crowded Symphony Hall, when he bared the details of the Teapot Dome oil scandals.

Senator Walsh, who himself is a "dry," said that if an outspoken "wet" is nominated by the Democrats for the presidency, the prohibition question will leave oil in the background and become the dominant issue in the forthcoming campaign.

LAST MINUTE STORY PREVENTS HANGING

Insanity Plea Saves Charlie Birger, Gangster, Doom- ed to Die Today.

Benton, Ill., April 13.—The ghostly arm of Russell Scott reached out from the shadowland to which he went as a suicide to bridge the swinging gallows trapdoor upon which Charlie Birger, "Scourge of Egypt" and head of the most desperate gang in the criminal annals of Illinois was to stand today and pay his debt to society.

An exact copy of the insanity plea upon which Scott won a last minute stay of execution, last night invoked for Birger that section of law which prohibits the dealing of capital punishment to those of unsound mind.

And today Birger, sitting in his cell, which looks out over the stocks and the thirteen steps to the scaffold upon which he was to have realized the meaning of Friday, the Thirteenth, chuckles in alternate fear and scorn.

"It's a break," was his only comment when Jim Fritchard, ex-soldier sheriff of Franklin county, notified him of the action taken in the local courts and which guarantees him at least four more days of life.

"But at that," he said, "I'd rather walk up those thirteen steps out there than spend the rest of my life with the nuts."

The petition signed by Nathan Birger, a nephew of the man who had heard for two days the drums of doom, the hammering of carpenter's hammers charging his death warrant.

The petition charged that Birger, since his incarceration in the Franklin county jail, after his conviction at Adams for the murder of Mayor Joe Quinsy of West City on Dec. 12, 1926, has become insane and is incapable of realizing that he is under sentence of death.

MANY FALSE REPORTS FROM ALONG COAST

CROWDS OUT EARLY TO AWAIT FLYERS

Over 1,000 Persons at Mitchel Field Before 8 O'Clock This Morning.

Mitchel Field, N. Y., April 13.—Eager to witness what they anticipate will be the epochal arrival here today of the German monoplane Bremen, with its crew of German and Irish flyers, a great crowd, steadily growing in numbers assembled at Mitchel Field this morning and hopefully scanned the skies for a big silver airship that holds the aspirations of two nations.

Shortly before eight o'clock nearly 1,000 persons, who converged on the field from all directions, had been admitted through the gates by army officers.

In the throng were Dr. Gustav Heuser, acting German consul general of New York, and Eugene Kloe, consul in New York in charge of aeroplanes, who, with Grover Whalen of Mayor Walker's reception committee, planned to be among the first to greet Captain Hermann Koehl, Commandant Ehrenfried von Huenefeld, if the three airmen are successful in their projected hop from Ireland to New York.

All in Readiness
Everything was in readiness for the plane. The big green landing field was roped off and several hundred officials stood by to see that order was maintained. The weather was ideal. The sun shone brightly and a gentle breeze blew across the field.

All night beacon lights of Mitchel Field beckoned to the skies, flashing signals 23 times a minute. The huge red lights blinking unceasingly, could be seen miles away.

Up to 1:20 this afternoon nothing official and definite had been heard of the Bremen since it passed out to sea over Aran Island at the entrance of Galway Bay, Ireland.

As the hours crawled by and the Bremen failed to put in appearance, considerable anxiety was aroused, but hope was held out that the plane may have left its course or was flying too high to be sighted. According to an estimate made by Koehl before he hoped off his fuel supply would carry the Bremen up to nearly 5 o'clock this afternoon, Eastern Standard Time.

SOMEWHERE OVER OCEAN
New York, April 13.—Some- where over the Atlantic, the trim, silver-gray Bremen was believed to be waging a grim fight against the elements today in the attempt of its three intrepid occupants to reach America in a westward flight.

The single-motored monoplane was last sighted at 7:25 a. m. (Irish Time) yesterday morning as it disappeared in the mists over Aran Island at the entrance to Galway Bay on the west coast of Ireland.

When Captain Hermann Koehl, Commandant James E. Fitzmaurice and Baron Ehrenfried von Huenefeld departed from the Baldonne Airfield at 5:38 a. m. yesterday on their daring venture, weather reports indicated that conditions were perfect as far west as the mid-Atlantic.

Wireless dispatches from a German ship in mid-Atlantic later indicated that snow and hail were falling and that a west wind of terrific velocity was blowing at the surface.

The Bremen may have avoided the particular storm areas reported by the German ships or may have escaped the full strength of the wind by flying high.

Poor Visibility
However, all shipping reports indicated that the fliers encountered poor visibility, clouds and headwinds averaging about thirty miles an hour.

From Newfoundland came a meagre report last night that an undescribed plane had been heard passing over Trinity Bay in a southwesterly direction. This report could not be confirmed, and was discredited.

A report that the Bremen had been sighted about 800 miles west of Ireland late yesterday was

OVER 38 HOURS SINCE HOP-OFF FROM IRELAND

Capt. Koehl Had Planned to Reach American Coast Line Early This Morning So He Is Hours Overdue; Steamer Reported Plane Off Nova Scotia But This Could Not Be Verified—Big Crowds at Mitchel Field Await Avi- ators—Other Reports Make Plane Seen Over Vari- ous Coast Cities But None Are Confirmed.

New York, April 13.—After a flurry of unconfirmed reports that the German Trans-Atlantic plane Bremen had been sighted at several points in Nova Scotia, this afternoon found the plane still missing and overdue, according to calculations made by Chief Pilot Herman Koehl before he hopped off at Baldonne Airdrome, Dublin, at 12:38 o'clock yesterday morning, Eastern Standard Time.

Koehl had planned to reach the American coast line this morning. At 2:20 this afternoon nearly 38 hours had elapsed since the Bremen hopped off from Mitchel Field.

It was reported from Kingsport, Nova Scotia, that Captain Barkhouse, of the Canadian steamer Arva, had sighted a plane he believed to be the Bremen at nine o'clock, E. S. T., but the Canadian government Department of Marine at Ottawa, Ont., announced this afternoon that no confirmation of the Barkhouse report had been received.

About the same time reports were circulated that a plane believed to be the Bremen had been sighted over Yarmouth and Annapolis.

Crowds at Field
A great crowd of nearly 3,000 people, being the New England coast combed the air in vain this forenoon for trace of the German monoplane Bremen.

Coast Guard cutters and stations along the entire seaboard were on the watch but the plane was not sighted.

Naval officials at Charlestown Navy Yard called in naval tug Luka and provisioned her and oiled her with enough food and fuel for a two week's stay of sea. It was explained that the preparation of the Luka was merely a precautionary measure in event a naval tug was needed.

Wild Rumors
All sorts of wild rumors regarding the Bremen were running up and down the coast. Perhaps the most persistent was one that a steamship off Newfoundland had reported sighting the trans-Atlantic monoplane at 5:30 a. m. today.

The report, however, was found to be probably untrue. The Coast Guard Compass station at Nahant, where the report was said to have originated, denied hearing the message. The radio station at Chatham to which the report was supposed to have gone thought that the message was a hoax. It was understood to have been a report emanating from Louisburg, Nova Scotia.

Visibility along the New England coast and the lower coast of Nova Scotia was excellent this forenoon. It was a spring like day with only a gentle breeze blowing off shore.

RAY OF HOPE
Mitchel Field, N. Y., April 13.—Basing her statement on what was believed to be confidential information she had received, Miss Herta Junkers, daughter of the German airplane manufacturer, told International News Service at ten o'clock that she estimated the Bremen would reach here between 12 and 1 o'clock.

Miss Junkers said that Captain Koehl all along intended to take a southerly course across the Atlantic, flying a considerable distance south of Newfoundland, and heading straight for Mitchel Field.

FALSE ALARM
Mitchel Field, N. Y., April 13.—A great cheer went up from the packed crowds at the arrival of the German trans-Atlantic fliers today when a Junkers monoplane Co. sister ship of the Bremen, swooped across the sky and landed.

Many of the spectators mistook the plane for the Bremen and there was a rush for the field, the police barely being able to keep the crowd back of the roped off landing enclosure.

The C-87, one of three Junkers being held here for use as a seaplane, which word of the Bremen's arrival was merely changing its position on the field.

able to throw little light upon the bombing.

Dynamite Bomb

A scientific investigation, has established that the bomb was charged with dynamite instead of some powerful chemical as first believed. Apparently the plotters were not placed upon the right side of the square whereas, under new regulations the royal party rode along the left side.

The outrage was accompanied by tragic scenes. A soldier, named Joseph Derosa, who was on duty near the scene, rushed forward when the blast took place. He stumbled over the body of a maimed and unconscious woman. As he raised her in his arms he recognized her as his own mother. She died as he pressed her to his breast.

The city is still plunged in gloom. A public subscription is being raised for the families of the victims. More than $20,000 already has been pledged.

A judicial investigation established that the plotters used a key to open the small compartment in the base of the lamp post some time Wednesday night. The bomb was working with a 12-hour clockwork mechanism.

Nearby residents told the investigators they heard a noise about 3:30 in the morning and it is believed to have been made by the men planting the infernal machine.

Americanization

It is very important that we grasp the true meaning not only of the word Americanization itself but the idea that is back of and included in the word. When we speak of the public opinion and the public spirit in a community we thereby understand that such an opinion and spirit is the ruling and predominating power in the community. But back of such a spirit you can trace many forces which give the present working together creating such an opinion.

So far as Americanism is concerned it is the outgrowth of all the different elements which have made a nation out of many nations or people from many nations. No individual nationality can claim that it alone has created true Americanism. The Indians can claim that they are Americans but the predominating spirit of the country today is not identical with Indian thought and social standing. What history can have more significant value than the history of America? To a true American knowledge of our country is very important. There are many who will say: Let the past be passed and start from today, but that will not give the present generation a true education.

It is interesting to read about the several discoveries of America from the time of the Norsemen about the year 1000, then 500 years later by Columbus and after him by the English, the French, the Spaniards, the Dutch the Swedes and others. Without a knowledge of the past we do not understand the present, but knowing the present we must prepare for the future.

KU KLUX KLANNERS GOVERNED COURTS

Stephenson Tells Further the Inside Workings of the Hooded Order.

Editor's Note: This is the sixth of a series on the deposition of D. Stephenson, former Indiana Klan leader exposing the alleged operations of the Ku Klux Klan.

Chicago, April 13.—In previous parts of his deposition, David Stephenson, former Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana, sought to control judges, legislators and other executive offices for graft purposes and how the original creator of tolerance became a news ending hymn of hate and racial and religious prejudice.

Stephenson was questioned in Indiana state penitentiary by a Pittsburgh attorney, please tell in what other ways the Klan has departed from its original purposes," he was asked.

"In a great many ways, one of which was its political ambitions. Since the rule of Col. Sinton the Klan has been used for the purpose of dominating the courts, trial juries, and dominating the legislature of various states, for the purpose of corrupting the ballot boxes by juggling the funds of states over which it had control through men elected to public office, by bartering in state contracts, by accepting the profits thereof and by otherwise using men caused to be appointed to positions of trust.

"The Klan controlled the courts by going into a campaign when a judge was to be elected and prior to the election going to him and saying: 'Now we control 5,000 votes. This will make a great difference to you. We will throw these votes to you only if you will be guided by our wishes in this territory.'

"Sometimes they required a judge to sign a statement in advance. In all cases he was required to take an oath that he would obey all the dictates and mandates of the Klan.

"The Klan controlled legislatures by appointing into the office of legislators, if there was a mortgage upon the home of an elected member of the legislature, the Klan would send agents to the bank and gain control of the mortgage. With this over the members' in making a good daily paper because in that is used the plain language of every day.

As a language English is one of the easiest to learn as far as grammar is concerned although the spelling is more difficult. It must be met in mind that the acquisition of a foreign language requires time and effort, as anyone will admit who has made a serious attempt in that direction. But there is one medium that is very helpful for the immigrant to learn of American institutions and that is the weekly paper published in the language of the newcomer.

There one can learn the constitution of the country even before learning English, but that does not mean that you should not start at learning the language of the country. The more languages you can learn the better for you as a language is an open door to literature written in that language. It is not meant that you, when you learn English, should forget the language you did know before. That would be poor policy. Our language is not a hindrance to learn another language, but a help. The more you know the greater your education.

Close Season With Osano Chicken and Spaghetti at West Side Recreation Center

Thirty of the bowlers in the Married People's League of the West Side Recreation Center held a party in the West Side Rec last night to bring to a close the past successful season. A roast chicken and spaghetti dinner was served by Chef Urbano Osano.

FARM RELIEF BILL PASSED; EXPECT VETO

is assured of passage in the House by a substantial majority. It is doubtful whether two-thirds of the full membership could be mustered for veto duty.

The Coolidge veto is calculated to be embarrassing to the Hoover candidacy.

Hoover disapproved the bill a year ago, along with Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. The presumption is that he, like Mr. Coolidge, also disapproves this year's bill for in his announcement of candidacy the Cabinet candidate pledged himself to the continuance of Coolidge policies.

On the other hand his two chief rivals for the nomination, Vice President Dawes and Frank O. Lowden, wholeheartedly approve the measure. They and their friends have nursed it through two Congresses, and Lowden has spoken for it from hundreds of grain belt platforms for three years.

A presidential veto, therefore, is not calculated to increase Hoover's standing in the vast grain belt, which already is the weakest spot in his political armor. The agricultural states stand virtually solidly for the bill.

Valiant efforts are being made by the Hoover managers to offset his admitted unpopularity in the agricultural regions. A few farm organization leaders have been found to endorse the Hoover candidacy and deny that he was responsible for the war time fixing of wheat prices, and their statements have been industriously circulated.

day, took a seat at the counsel table when the court convened.

First Witness

Roy L. Daddison, of Dayton, Ohio, trustee of the German county Klan, was placed on the stand first in an effort to prove that there was no such organization as the Knight Riders or black robes within the Dayton Klan. He had no knowledge of such organizations, he testified.

In cross-examination by Barrickman, the banished Klan counsel directed several remarks directly at Evans and Connaughton offered no objections.

Evans emphatically denied the charges by Charles D. Ludlow, of Dallas, Texas, that Evans was in charge of a party which fogged, tarred and feathered a man at Terrell, Texas.

"No such charge as the fogging told of by Ludlow ever took place in any Klan in the United States," Evans said.

"Did you ever participate yourself in any fogging?" Connaughton asked. Barrickman's objection was sustained by Judge W. H. S. Thomson.

"Did you, preside at any time when the question of fogging or 'operating on' Negroes was discussed on the door of a Klan meeting?" inquired Evans' objection again was sustained.

Evans said he attended a meeting at Carnegie, Pa., and spoke there. The question of a parade came up, he said, and when it was discovered no permit to parade had been obtained he advised against it.

"I stated that under the law as American citizens they had the right to parade but it was unwise to do so. Just then I heard a motorcycle come up and the chief of police said we might parade if unopposed. I then said 'all right, go ahead, but go unmasked and unarmed.'" (One Klansman was killed in the ensuing riot in this parade).

BIG HAYMAKERS ARE TO VISIT LOFT HERE

National Heads of Red Men's Fun Order Coming For Installation.

New officers were nominated by Mantonomah hayloft last night and as each office had only one candidate, those nominated are as good as elected. They will be installed on May 5 by Edward Prevost of New London and his staff.

On that date the lodge will have two distinguished visitors, Irving Powell, national representative, and Mahlon Trumbauer, national collector of straw, both of Philadelphia. Full force of state officers will be present and the degree team of Arrawana lodge of Middletown will initiate a class of candidates. The affair will be known as Tramp Night.

The officers nominated last night are the following: Sherwood Pfau, chief haymaker; Francis Tournaud, assistant chief haymaker; William J. Leggett, overseer; George L. A. Balley, past chief haymaker; Joseph Coffell, hornblower; Max Wegner, boss driver; Irving Keeney, collector of straws; Walter Gustafson, assistant collector of straws; William C. Scheidje, guard of the barnyard; Frank Diana, guard of the hayloft.

AFRICAN ROMANCE IN DIVORCE COURT

Greenwich Woman Tells of Her Marital Experiences As Vice-Consul's Wife.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 13.—Mrs. Ellen Bennett Scott Mills, of Greenwich, today told Judge Arthur F. Ellis, of Superior court, the story of her brief married life as the wife of Herbert Victor Townsend Mills, of London, England, during which he was a British vice-consul at Monrovia, Liberia. Mrs. Mills is seeking a divorce on the ground of intolerable cruelty and after hearing her story Judge Scott reserved decision in order to examine many depositions taken in the case.

Mrs. Mills, who is 24, told of her wedding at the British embassy at Paris, followed a day later by a church wedding. The families of both Miss Scott and Mills were present, she said, for they had known each other many years. She knew Mills for eight years, she said.

After the wedding, on June 10, 1926, they went to a French water ing place and then to London. In July they started for Liberia, a two weeks' voyage. "He seemed incompetent to consummate our marriage," Mrs. Mills told the judge today. She related a long list of experiences, remarking: "His persecution was small and petty but pursued with a vicious fury."

Of life in Africa she remarked that whites were few there and negroes many, and that "women must be protected at all times." She declared her husband degraded her before both white people and the natives.

HONOR GEORGE DAVIDSON ON HIS 78TH BIRTHDAY

Relatives and friends of George Davidson, formerly tax collector in the Ninth district, gathered at his home on Church street last evening to help him celebrate his 78th birthday.

The party sat down to supper and Mr. Davidson cut a birthday cake. Following the supper Edward Deibert of West Hartford favored with solos, Francis McCaughy on behalf of those present gave Mr. Davidson a box with a number of birthday gifts. Mr. Davidson responded with a short talk.

Mr. Davidson is enjoying good health. For over 40 years he was employed at Cheney Brothers and for a long period was a foreman at the silk mills.

ALICE WEIR

Alice, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert C. Weir of Carter street, Highland Park, died early today at Memorial hospital. She was one of four children in the family, all daughters. Death was due to pneumonia. The child was taken to the hospital last Sunday. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Of the 72 fatal accidents in Manchester, England, streets last year more than 50 per cent were directly due to carelessness on the part of pedestrians.

OPEN FORUM

A LETTER FROM DR. MORAN

After realizing nothing but complete failure in my attempts to secure a hearing by the Board of Trustees of the Manchester Memorial Hospital, other than the hearing as originally planned by them, concerning my suspension from the Courtesy Staff of that institution, and at which hearing according to the consent of the committee I might present myself and be heard if I so desired, I am availing myself of the liberty to issue through the Press, these statements which I trust will plainly reveal my concern relative to this affair.

I have through my attorney, made every honorable effort to secure a hearing wherein an unbiased decision would be rendered, wherein facts as presented would be weighed in exact proportion to their worth, and wherein those called to testify would be permitted to do so only with the understanding that they conceal nothing which would be of value in the course of this hearing. My request for a hearing under the conditions so implied has been rejected by hospital authorities, and their rejection has been attended by a statement from their representative Mr. Wm. S. Hyde to the effect that it is the opinion of the trustees that I had no right to impose any conditions upon this hearing.

I felt that I was at least entitled to some degree of protection, and consequently requested the hearing with the privilege of introducing counsel in my behalf, and witness in counsel to prove of value therein. The purpose of these witnesses was, as far as I was concerned, to enlighten the committee conducting this hearing, of the true course of events which has been rejected by hospital authorities, and for the purpose of refuting or substantiating any statement made by the superintendent of the hospital or myself. This hearing I felt was of vital importance to all concerned.

I, in making such request exposed myself to any type of attack the committee would care to make, asking in return only the privilege of defending myself against them. The committee could not permit itself to grant me a hearing under these conditions and surely I could not permit myself to appear before them so devoid of any means of protection. (I could not permit myself to appear before them at this hearing they had planned, when they either failed or refused to acquaint me with the charges as specified.) A decision I felt reasonably sure had been reached by this committee as soon as they had received notification of my suspension. The attitude of the secretary of the hospital who, on the morning of Nov. 15, 1927, ordered me from the hospital, timing my departure with drawn watch encouraged me to realize even more forcibly the weight of my conviction.

These statements will perhaps serve as my only means to explain my side of this controversy. If I injure the sentiment of anyone concerned in this issue, I will be sincerely sorry, for I harbor no malice towards anyone individually, or towards any group herein concerned. If the trustees find error in any statement I make, I will expect a correction through the Press; if not such error is made, and no cause for a contradictory statement produced, I will, of course, expect no reply. I hold myself absolutely open to corrections, to contradictions, and to criticisms, if criticism is by the trustees considered justified. My statements will be absolutely frank, yet at the same time openly unreserved.

There exists in the mind of a good proportion of the public of our community, grave doubts concerning the justification of the superintendent's act. It is my earnest request that the trustees remove this blanket of doubt, that they demonstrate without any remaining shadow of doubt my guilt and that they produce substantial evidence to demonstrate the justification of the act of the superintendent of the hospital if they can.

and themselves competent to do so. I contend that my suspension was an act either perpetrated or else perpetrated in a spirit of anger on the part of the superintendent. I contend that in utilizing the services of a messenger who is a member of the hospital organization, the superintendent employed the swiftest means at her disposal in delivering her notification to me. The method used by her, executing the delivery of her letter will, without doubt, explain the motive which prompted and encouraged her to promote its issue.

My suspension was, as far as I am able to ascertain, enforced by the superintendent and approved by the trustees solely on the advice of the superintendent concerning that all important question of autopsy on the body of Mr. Harold T. Gustafson which had heretofore played such a major role in the promotion of my suspension, and which the trustees in their story so conveniently avoided or purposely forgot to mention. I am firmly convinced that this is true. My advice in this particular matter had evidently been sought or received by the trustees from Mrs. Gustafson, legal wife of the deceased Harold T. Gustafson, to verify the statement made by the superintendent and no opportunity whatever was afforded me to voice my side of the story. I hold that the act of the trustees in upholding the superintendent under existing conditions was just as rash as was the act of the superintendent and that they are now adhering to their initial decision because they are either unwilling to admit the error of the superintendent or because they do not care to have exposed the rank injustice of their act.

I cannot, however, permit myself to believe that the action of the trustees was unanimous for I feel reasonably sure that there are some members of the Board of Trustees who find themselves still able to appreciate the fact that it is not yet a physical impossibility for the superintendent of the Manchester Memorial hospital to err, despite the fact that they have entrusted to her a tremendous amount of authority.

These statements are no effort to solicit public sympathy nor an attempt to sway public sentiment from the hospital to me. Rather than follow any course wherein I would find myself relying upon either public sympathy or public sentiment to accomplish a hearing, I would prefer to accept my suspension without further discussion. I am issuing these statements simply because I have been denied any and all other means of contradicting the charges as specified and the statements as made by the Superintendent, excepting of course the privilege of attending the original hearing proposed by the Trustees whatever they be. I regret that I am forced to resort to the Press, still I feel that I, too, am at least entitled to the privilege of my own discussion of this affair. I have been denied a hearing wherein counsel in my behalf would be tolerated, I have also been denied the privilege of producing witnesses who would without doubt be of undeniable value at the hearing I requested. The terms I suggested, thru my attorney have been completely rejected by the Trustees, yet since the date of their refusal to grant me a hearing upon the terms suggested by me, they have called to suggest any other logical terms by which a solution of this affair could be accomplished. I cannot appreciate any substantial reason why the Trustee, who are evidently so thoroughly convinced that they are correct in their decision should remain so adamant in their decision to exclude counsel I engaged, and the witnesses I proposed when the presence of such would in no way prove detrimental to a sane discussion and solution of this affair. Just why, I wonder, should the Trustees now realize themselves so reluctant to avail themselves of the opportunity to prove the justice of my suspension, even if such proof be demonstrated in the presence of my counsel and witnesses? The introduction of counsel and witnesses in my behalf, would, I am sure in no way alter the testimony of the Superintendent and would in no way detract from the value of her statements. The refusal of the Trustees to grant me a hearing upon the terms suggested by me makes me wonder if the testimony as the Sup't finds herself able to advance is considered by the Trustees none too rugged to withstand the attack made upon it by my attorney. It makes me wonder too, if those concealed behind the fortifications erected around the statements as made by the Superintendent realize their own position not too secure, and that they stand afeared that the barrage directed upon them by my attorney would prove most uncomfortable if not most destructive. If my suspension was, since the date of its enforcement a closed issue, and if investigation and arbitration of this question was from the beginning, impossibilities, permit me to issue this statement which may be remembered by those who care to remember—"Minds are like parachutes—they function only when they are open."

HIGHWAY DEP'T. BEGINS ATTACK ON TREE PESTS

Orders Issued to Clear Road Shoulders of Tent Caterpillar Nests and Harboring Trees.

That the Connecticut Highway Department will renew its battle, begun last year, against the destructive tent caterpillar was made known today through a letter sent to all department officials and division engineers by Commissioner John A. Macdonald, containing complete instructions for ridding roadside trees and bushes of the pest which annually preys upon Connecticut trees. While considerable work was done last year toward ridding the state of this insect, continued vigilance is necessary to completely eliminate the pest.

An attempt will be made by the highway department to clear road shoulders of all small scrub apple and wild cherry trees which are the favorite lodging places of the tent caterpillar, and to destroy the tent-like nests found on other growths. Division engineers will solicit the cooperation of abutting property owners in eradicating these particular trees and in wiping out nests on other trees, for unless all property in a given territory can be cleared, the caterpillar quickly spreads to all neighboring land and carries on its work of destruction.

According to the bulletin sent from the department headquarters, the minute eggs of the caterpillar, of which there are likely to be as many as 200 in a cluster, hatch late in April. The caterpillar feeds ravenously for about six weeks and then abandons its nest to weave itself a white silken cocoon. Late in June or early in July it emerges again as a brown moth, which in turn lays its eggs in a brown sticky ring around an apple or wild cherry twig. These clusters are about an inch long and might easily be mistaken for lumps of chewing gum.

During its six weeks of feasting the caterpillar dines upon the April buds and young leaves, completely destroying them and causing defoliation. They are best attacked in the egg stage by pruning off and burning the infested twigs, or by destroying the tents. After the hatching stage is reached, the best attack is by spraying their prospective food with lead arsenate or paris green and quick lime.

LORD SANDON OFFERS
"POOR BOXES" TO HELP
BRITAIN PAY WAR DEBT
London.—Following the recent mystery gift to the government of $2,500,000 towards the reduction of England's National Debt of over $35,000,000,000, many schemes are being put forward by which it is urged the debt could further be reduced.

The latest of these emanates from Viscount Sandon, Member of Parliament for the Salop Division of Shrewsbury, who is urging Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill to place boxes in post-offices and other suitable places where odd change can be dropped in to go towards the reduction of the Debt.

There is little possibility of the scheme being adopted.
Meanwhile the Exchequer continues to receive gifts of $5 and upwards from anonymous English people. With the request they be applied to debt reduction.

STUDENTS AT CAMBRIDGE SCORED FOR BAD CONDUCT BY AUTHORITIES OF TOWN.

Cambridge, Eng.—The conduct of the undergraduates of Cambridge University is the subject of severe criticism by the local authorities of this town.

The question was raised at a town council meeting for the first time in decades, when charges were made that the students "used bad language at places of amusement and created disorder in the streets. The indictment was not directed against the undergraduate body as a whole, but "against a small group, whose actions have gotten out of control."

A Republican is a man who believes that the Democrats got something from Harry Sinclair, too.

THE TRAGEDY OF MANY LIVES IS CONSTIPATION

Guard against it in time

This evil scourge ruins thousands of promising men and women. It saps vigor. It kills initiative. It wrecks health and happiness. Sleepless nights, dragging feet, headaches, pain-dulled eyes, follow in its wake. Frequently it leads to lasting and serious disease.

Yet there is safe, prompt relief. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. To surely prevent it. ALL-BRAN is 100% bran—100% effective. Doctors recommend it. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

Don't you agree it is better to cure constipation with this healthful cereal than to try dangerous pills and drugs? Or uncertain part-bran products? Delicious with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking too. Sprinkle it into soups. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ELMER AUTO CO. HAS NEW FINANCING PLAN

R. M. Alexander, of the Elmer Auto Company, Willys-Overland dealers here, returned yesterday from a meeting held at Hartford at which announcement of a new financial credit plan which should further enlarge the rapidly widening market for Whippet and Willys-Knight cars was a feature received with great enthusiasm by more than 70 dealers and salesmen present. The announcement, following the most drastic price cut ever made on a Willys-Knight car and which it is said has resulted in an avalanche of orders from Willys-Overland dealers throughout the country, made the meeting one of the most enthusiastic ever held. The new price on the Willys-Knight Standard Six two-door five passenger sedan, as well as on two other models, is $150.00 below the lowest figure at which a Willys-Knight car has ever been offered to the public. This new price, effective the first of April, it is said was made possible solely because of the record breaking sales which Willys-Overland has piled up during the first quarter of this year, the first three months showing an increase of 42 per cent over the same period of last year and also set a new mark for a ninety day period in Willys-Overland's twenty years' history. The new time payment plan which has attracted much favorable attention from the dealers and to which they look as a great aid in increasing sales to the purchaser who will buy on the time payment plan, places the sale of Willys-Overland motor car on a credit basis which is among the most favorable and reasonable ever extended on the retail sale of automobiles. The financing of time payment under this new arrangement is made possible by a contract entered into for a period of years between the Willys-Overland Company and the Commercial Credit Company of Baltimore, Md., one of the largest and strongest automobile financing corporations in the country. Production in the five plants of the company is at a new high mark. Production has now passed the 1500 daily mark and facilities are under way which it is said will further materially increase production in a short time. Approximately 19,500 men are now on the payroll working in two daily shifts. It is expected an additional 3,000 will be added to the payroll by the first of May.

REPEAL MOVEMENT

There is much of interest in the report that the national affairs committee of the National Republican Club...

If this is a bona fide manifestation of the feeling of the committee, and not merely a stolen march on its dry members...

It is not so difficult to follow the reasoning of those Republicans who favor such action by the party at the national convention.

But it is reasonable to suppose that these politicians think like politicians as well as like citizens.

It is becoming more and more probable that Al Smith is going to be the Democratic candidate.

And the reason he may poll these Republican votes is because he is a wet. There is no other reason in the world.

On the other hand, with the Democracy committed to Smith and to a wet policy, what losses could the Republican party sustain from the adoption of the repeal plank?

That, beyond much question, is the reasoning of the repealists in the Republican party.

VETO AS A FINALE

When President Coolidge vetoes the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, which yesterday passed the Senate and is expected to soon receive the concurrence of the House...

It was generally agreed, early in the present session, that when a new farm relief bill was considered...

It would be one free from the fundamental defects which resulted in a veto a year ago. Yet the present measure does not materially differ from the one which the President disapproved at the last session.

It is significant that the new McNary-Haugen bill received greater support yesterday than when it was passed a year ago, the vote this time being 53 to 23 as against 47 to 39 last year.

Nobody believes that President Coolidge is going to be frightened by the farm vote, or anything else, into accepting this year a measure which last year he condemned and vetoed as injurious.

THE MOTE AND THE BEAM Complaint is made by the state government that fines from motor vehicle violations are being "withheld" by the local courts in cities and towns throughout the state.

VON TIRPITZ ILLUMINES One of the most worthwhile utterances on the subject of world peace that have come out of Germany since the war is that of Grand Admiral Von Tirpitz, author of the German navy's submarine campaign...

The size of navies, in the Von Tirpitz view, is an insignificant problem compared with the question of whether or not civilization will continue to countenance blockades.

It is becoming more and more probable that Al Smith is going to be the Democratic candidate.

On the other hand, with the Democracy committed to Smith and to a wet policy, what losses could the Republican party sustain from the adoption of the repeal plank?

Which, of course, was the most utter poppycock. If the blockade, as Von Tirpitz tries to make the world believe, was bound to result in the immediate starvation of the German people...

Today, I am told by no less a Broadway authority than Bob Coleman, this man makes a considerable fortune. Scores of blondes are going about nightly with brunet wigs and brunet eyelashes.

After a few weeks of civilization, as found in New York, Trader Horn, the "ancient mariner" of the African jungle, told me he was...

FACTS ABOUT CONNECTICUT

(111) Building and Loan Associations

The number and assets of domestic building and loan associations in Connecticut are steadily increasing. On June 30, 1915, when building and loan associations were first required to report to the state banking commissioner...

Loans on real estate of the 38 associations that reported to the commissioner last year amounted to $19,167,622. This was almost six times the $3,605,996 loaned on real estate in 1915.

Among the liabilities, installments due shareholders, amounting to $13,199,657 in 1922, is the largest single item. In 1915 this total was $3,280,443.

Monday—The State Prison

But the Von Tirpitz contention to that effect is important only from the fact that he shows how distorted a viewpoint had been created in Germany by harping on the blockade's fiendish wickedness—before it was ever employed.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By ROBBY DUTCHER

Washington, April 13.—Should the passing of Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio prove to have been the "break" fated to decide the choice of the Republican national convention it apparently will be the first instance of the kind in history.

Parties naturally count in the health of a candidate along with his abilities as a vote-getter. They want a man who can stand the campaign and who can last eight years.

Even so, he might have won but for another death—that of Muhlenberg, the Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania.

Illness is credited with denying James G. Blaine the Republican nomination in 1876—a year in which the Republican "had had a clear majority of delegates, but on the morning immediately before the convention he collapsed at the church door and remained unconscious for some time.

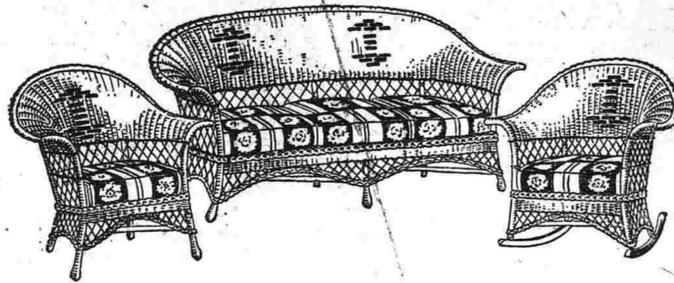

Today, I am told by no less a Broadway authority than Bob Coleman, this man makes a considerable fortune. Scores of blondes are going about nightly with brunet wigs and brunet eyelashes.

The Bedroom of Four Pieces $110

FOUR large pieces make up this attractive bedroom outfit, the woods used being mahogany and gumwood. Each piece is finished in a dull, waxed, red mahogany.

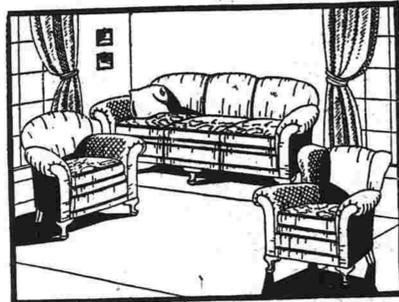

ter mirror with two swinging mirrors on the sides. The chest of drawers furnishes adequate storage space for linens and clothing. The bed is full size and has a bow foot.

The Dining Room of Nine Pieces $150

FROM old England came the inspiration for the dining room group sketched above. Its turned stretcher and legs, its linen-fold mouldings are typical of the Jacobean period, although the design has been modified to meet today's needs. American walnut and gumwood are used in the construction. Buffet, arm chair, 5 side chairs, extension table and china cabinet. Tapestry chair seats.

3 Pc. Living Room $139

THIS suite combines plain taupe mohair (on the fronts of the pieces) with plain taupe velour (on the sides and backs). Rich tapestry panels are used on one side of the reversible seat cushions; adding color to the group. Sofa, arm chair and wing chair.

The Breakfast Nook of Four Pieces $26.55

MANY homes without breakfast rooms or nooks are using these sets to brighten their kitchens. This particular suite comes in either sky blue, striped with gold, or putty gray, striped with blue. Drop leaf table and 4 Windsor chairs.

Crew of Bremen Defies Fate That Has Brought Death to Seven Ocean Flyers

TROOP 6
Last Saturday eight scouts of Troop 6 in charge of assistant scoutmaster Bob Burr who was home from Greenwich Academy for the Easter holidays, went on an all day hike. Leaving the terminus at 8:30 the group started up Charter Oak street to Gardner street, up Gardner to the end and through the woods. About noon a good camping site was reached and after resting up the group prepared their dinner. Scout George Frazer passed his cooking test.

The Scouts passed many tests before the homeward trip was started, the following Scouts passed tests: G. Frazer, cooking, J. Sheldon, tracking; A. Judd, tracking; F. Moriarty, woodwork. The boys arrived home late in the afternoon.

Tuesday night 30 Scouts answered Troop 6's roll call at the regular weekly meeting. The opening exercises included the flag ceremony, with bugle, patrol leaders report, Remig received the report, and the scout oath was repeated. Deputy Scout Commissioner Beets was present. Helge Pearson, scoutmaster of Troop 5, Arthur Anderson and Ray Benson of Troop 5 paid a visit also. Troop 6 is very glad to see brother scouts connected with other troops present at its meetings and want them to come more often.

The following Scouts passed tests during the meeting: W. Smith, scout pace and safety; L. Selwitz, scout pace, thrift and safety; J. Schoon, thrift; G. Volkert, scout pace and thrift; W. Haugh, scout pace and safety; Alton Judd, safety; G. Frazer, scout pace and safety.

Announcements were made that there would be an overnight hike Saturday and Sunday up to the cabin, and also about the coming meet with Troop 5 on May 1st.

An interesting program has been made out for this week-end hike and at the meeting Tuesday 22 boys signified their intention of going. Each boy is required to bring his supper for Saturday and the troop will supply Sunday's meals.

MORE VAUDEVILLE AT STATE THEATER
Five Big Acts on Tomorrow's Program—Two Features Today and Saturday.

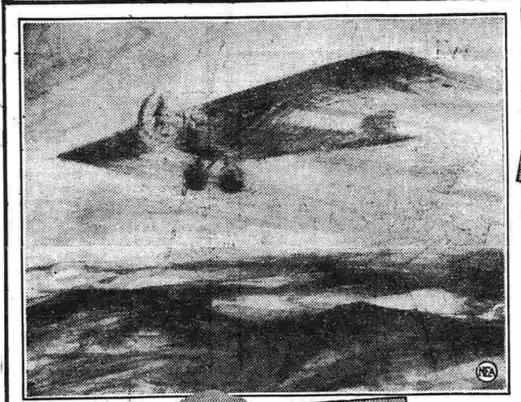

Five big vaudeville acts are scheduled as usual for the State theater tomorrow afternoon and evening and along with the stage presentation will be seen a big double feature bill, composed of pictures that have been run singly in other big theaters.

The features are "Night Life," with an all star cast and "Arizona Wildcat," with Tom Mix doing the most of the stuff. Each of the features is of considerable length and this is the first theater in which they have been shown on the same bill.

"Night Life" depicts the adventures of two sleight-of-hand performers whose nightly magic keeps a beer-drinking Viennese audience in good humor. Then comes the great war and both men are called to the colors of their country. On their return they find that there are bread lines, beer gardens are closed and unemployment the rule. Using their dexterity as a means for a living, they become gentlemen of the nimble fingers, relieving fat and prosperous profifiers of their visible wealth. The younger of the two meets a girl who is driven to stealing through hunger and then springs up a romance between the two that carries on until the final of the story.

One of the best told stories ever put into a western picture is found in "The Arizona Wildcat." Probably one reason for this is that it was written by Adela Rogers St. Johns especially for Tom Mix and his horse Tony. Miss St. Johns is one of the best known writers of popular fiction, whose stories appear in such magazines as the Cosmopolitan and who is also the author of several best selling novels.

In "The Arizona Wildcat," she has written a story that is a perfect vehicle for the daring Western star. Tom is at his best in this picture, performing some of the most breath taking feats with apparent ease and with a grin.

Here is the record of previous attempts to fly westward to America:
May 8, 1927—Nungesser and Coli, French pilots, aboard the "White Bird," never sighted after leaving the Irish coast.
August 14, 1927—False starts by two German planes, the Europa and Bremen, each carrying three passengers.
August 31, 1927—Princess Lowerstein-Wertheim, Captain Hamilton and Colonel Minchen, in the St. Raphael, took off from England. Never heard from again.
October 4, 1927—Junkers seaplane D-1230 left Germany with Lilli Dillenz, Viennese actress, as a passenger. Flight abandoned at the Azores.
October 20, 1927—German seaplane D-1220 hopped to the Azores; wrecked in a heavy sea off Horta.
March 13, 1928—Captain Walter Hinchliffe and the Hon. Lisle Mackay left England aboard the "Endeavor." Never were heard from after passing the Irish coast.

HOME-MADE DOUGHNUTS STOP HOMESICKNESS FOR IOWA BOY IN EUROPE.

Tama, Ia.—"Sinkers" have been found an invaluable aid to the pursuit of higher education in Louvain, Belgium by one Iowa mother. Mrs. Daniel Mulligan, whose son, Harold, is a student at the University in the Belgium city, keeps him supplied with doughnuts as a result of his plea for them as a breakfast necessity.

Since the doughnuts have been going to Louvain, Mrs. Mulligan says her son's letters have lost the former tone of homesickness.

GIRL ALONE BY ANNE AUSTIN

THIS HAS HAPPENED THE summer she is 16, SALLY FORD is "farmed out" to CLEM CARSON and leaves the state orphanage, the only home she knows from the time she was four.

CHAPTER XXVI SALLY'S first impulse, when she saw the children of the orphanage come tumbling into the Palace of Wonders tent, was to flee.

Cowering low in her high-backed gilded chair, in an effort to make herself as small and inconspicuous as possible—a useless effort really, since she was by far the prettiest and most romantic figure in the tent.

Not that she would want to be back with them! But they were her people, the only chums she had ever known.

were pressed tight in her arms, she should whisper, "It's me—Sally—play-acting! It's me, kids!"

As the children milled excitedly in groups like sheep, holding each other's hands, giggling and whispering together as their awed eyes roamed from one "freak" to another, Sally searched their faces hungrily, jealously.

There was a new little girl whom Sally had never seen before, such a homely little runt of a girl, with enormous, hunted eyes and big freckles on her putty-colored cheeks.

But where was Mrs. Stone—"old Stone-Face"—herself? Sally knew very well that the children had not come alone.

Then little old-maidish Miss Pond, sentimental little Miss Pond, who had befriended Sally by telling her all she knew of the child's past.

Three or four of the little girls ran to cling to her hands, abjectly courting notice as Sally had known they would.

The woman stood aloof near the platform of the "girl nobody can lift," listening to Gus, the Barker, with a slight, charming smile of amusement on her beautiful mouth.

"Oh, you beautiful! You are like a real princess, or a queen." But she did not say the words aloud.

"Sally didn't do nothing bad," Betsy retorted indignantly. "She couldn't! She was the best 'big girl' in the Home."

"The big girls say she run away," Eloise answered, her eyes round with awe. "They say she did something awful bad and run away with a man—"

"Sally's eyes grew rounder and rounder; her little mouth fell open in astonishment. Then with a wild shout of joy she stumbled upon the stairs and flung her arms about Sally crying and laughing.

"You're not Princess Lalla! You're Sally Ford, play-acting! Oh, Sally, I'm so glad I found you! Hey, kids! It's Sally Ford, play-acting!"

Sally from resenting the action. But Eloise, still hypersensitive, knew that she had been delicately snubbed and hung back as Gus, the Barker, herded the orphans toward him on the giant's platform.

Sally saw the tell-tale tremble of Eloise's babyish mouth, and her heart ached with desire to comfort the child. Outwardly Eloise had become exactly like all the other little girls—shey, bleating when the other little sheep bled, obediently excited when they were excited, silent when they were silent—but underneath she was still bewildered and unreconciled to the death of her mother.

But someone else had seen Eloise's hurt, so unconsciously inflicted by the lovely and arrogant lady, Betsy, the six-year-old, ran from the herd to take Eloise's hand, with an absurd and touching little gesture of motherliness.

"Come on, Eloise, Sally heard Betsy cry in her shrill little voice. "Let's just you and me look at the funny people. We can see the giant when the crowd moves on."

"Sally could hardly restrain herself from crying out: "Oh, Betsy, it's me! Sally Ford! You don't have to spend your poor little nickel to find me! I'm here!"

"To Be Continued" Sally is in a bad predicament. It takes all of Gus' presence of mind to get her out.

Home Page Editorial Legs? Why Fret? They Are Out! By Olive Roberts Barton

A beauty specialist issues a proclamation to the effect that 23 girls out of 25 flaunt ugly legs and recommends a downward drop of the hemline.

But if hems do drop and the knock-knees, bow-legs, grand-plano legs, and spike legs can retire to the sanctuary of long skirts, be quite sure another joker will turn up.

Fashion has always demanded physical perfection. But it sets its own standard of what that perfection should be. Recently it has been legs. But not so long ago, the underslung girl, or the spindle-shank girl had it all over her flat-footed, flat-topped sister, if she was able to fill out a perfect 36 or 38 corset of the hour-glass contour.

Then the flat-chested one would spend hours making starched ruffs to wear inside her waist to aid negligent nature in rounding out her figure, and if one or two gathered starched petticoats didn't bulge her hip-line sufficiently, as many skirts could be added as were necessary to give the desired effect.

There is always a joker in the deck where fashion is concerned.

What is beautiful today is ugly tomorrow. So the girl who is unhappy on account of her legs may be right in the swim tomorrow.

CAMPAIGN PORTRAITS—THE STORY OF HERBERT HOOVER Hoover Had To Grow Beard To Land His First Job

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of four articles describing Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, and the fifth in a series of Presidential Campaign Portraits written for The Herald and NEA Service by Robert Talley. The third article on Mr. Hoover will appear tomorrow.

BY ROBERT TALLEY

Washington, April 13.—A beard got Herbert Hoover his first big job and started him on the road to wealth.

That story is one of the most interesting in the whole career of the secretary of commerce, now a candidate for the presidency. Hoover had worked his way through Leland Stanford University—with an income derived from his laundry-gathering service, other private enterprises and vacation earnings—and graduated in engineering.

Leaving school, he worked as a laborer in a Sierra mine, to gain experience, before he got a job with Louis Janin, a famous mining engineer on the Pacific coast. Janin told Hoover he needed a clerk who could operate a typewriter and Hoover accepted the place. Then Hoover hurried to his lodgings to spend the next four days learning how to operate a typewriter.

Hoover did not remain a clerk very long. His ability as a mining engineer was pronounced and his reputation and income increased. For two years he traveled all over the west as an expert on Janin's staff. Janin recognized him as a budding genius and treated him accordingly. In 1897, when the West Australian gold boom was at its height, a great London mining firm asked Janin to recommend to them an engineer capable to handle new properties for them. The salary was $7500 a year. Janin picked Hoover and Hoover started for London to talk to his new bosses.

Janin had one worry, however. The conservative Brits had insisted that their man be at least 35 years old. Janin, in his recommendation, had said that Hoover was just 33; he hardly felt he could add more than 10 years to the young man's age. So Hoover, en route to London, grew a beard. On his arrival he was greeted by his new employer with the remark: "How remarkably you Americans keep your youth! You don't look a day over 25. How the devil do you do it?"

Into the rich West Australian mining region Hoover went, hunting for new mines and developing old ones. It was a desert country, barren and windswept, where water was found only in small springs that were miles apart. The temperature seldom went below 100, even at night. Thousands of men were working feverishly. They lived in corrugated iron shacks, got along with little water to drink and none at all to wash in.

It was a long way from the home office and Hoover could not ask for advice or instructions when in doubt. It was up to him to decide every question for himself, and lose his job if he decided wrong.

After the ore had been found and a method of extracting it perfected, there still remained the task of organizing the mine and putting it on a systematic, business-like, dividend-producing basis. Rather a large order for a young man of 23; but Hoover succeeded so well that in two years he was famous throughout the mining world and was drawing a large salary.

Thus began Hoover's 20 years as a mining engineer in all parts of the world. He traveled far and wide—Australia, Russia, China, Korea, Burma and other remote spots—installing American methods and machinery. He lived a rough, open life in jungles and deserts and built up a rugged constitution that today accounts for his excellent health at 54.

His wealth grew to a fortune at 40—when the World War broke out and he turned his attention to it—he sold all his holdings, invested in securities, and retired from business to live on his income.

But the call of the engineer is still strong within him. Washington remembers that during the Food Administration days—when Herbert, Jr., and Allen were much younger than they are now—their father used to take them and other children to Rock Creek Park and build dams for them in the little streams. The man who then held the nation's food supply in the hollow of his hand, sloshed around in rubber boots, got all muddy and sloppy and enjoyed it immensely.

Hoover was in China on a mining job when the Boxer rebellion broke out. With him was his bride to whom he had been married in California—by a Catholic priest who had dispensation to marry Protestants—just before he sailed. They were in Tientsin when the uprising flamed and the Chinese attacked. Hoover took an active part in organizing the American for defense of the city. He managed to save the life of a wealthy Chinese coal mine owner, one Chang Yen Chow, whom the inter-allied relief forces were on the point of executing as a Boxer sympathizer. Fearing seizure of his property, the canny mandarin signed his mines over to Hoover's company. In 1902 Hoover was called to London and made a partner in the great mining company that developed to the vast benefit of all concerned. Had sent him to Australia. He had not been there long before an employe absconded with a huge sum, leaving various customers and creditors very much in the lurch. The senior partner was away at the time. The firm was not legally liable, but Hoover promptly announced that the firm would make all losses good. The senior partner was indignant when he heard of it and hastened back to London to tell Hoover that, for his solicitude, he could have the job of cleaning up the debts.

Hoover did it and by 1906 everything was squared. Hoover then went into business for himself. He opened mines in Burma, China, Korea, Australia, Russia and the United States. His wealth grew; had he remained in that job for the rest of his life he probably would have amassed one of the great fortunes of the world, comparable to those of Mellon and Morgan. But fate had it otherwise. In 1914, the World War broke out, changing the whole course of Hoover's life and thrusting him into world-wide prominence. He ceased to be a mining expert and for the next six or seven years he served the world.

MRS. KOEHL IMPROVED

Berlin, April 13.—Mrs. Herman Koehl, wife of the gallant leader of the Bremen flight, was completely recovered today from the nervous breakdown she suffered last night as the result of her husband's flight. She was calm and collected this morning and scanned the meagre reports of the flight with interest. "The only thing that interests me now is the final result. I will be gratified to get definite information as soon as possible. Waiting is nerve-wracking."

She was overjoyed at the reports of favorable weather at Newfoundland and Nova Scotia.

TOM HEENEY, LIKE FIRPO, CAME HERE WITH LESS THAN A DIME

But Unlike Firpo, He May Leave Here With a Million—Like DeForest.

SPORTS EDITORS: This is the second of six articles by Henry L. Farrell, The Herald and NEA Service sports writer, telling the interesting story of Tom Heeny, who fights Gene Tunney for the heavy-weight championship in July, and his manager, Charley Harvey, who finally received a "break."

By HENRY L. FARRELL.

NEA Service Sports Writer. "From A Dime To A Million," as it might be written by Luis Angel Firpo and Thomas Heeny, is a tale that has many high spots in common. It isn't a matter of official record that either had as much as a dime when they arrived in this country. There is a record in the U. S. Internal Revenue Bureau, however, that shows Firpo was a millionaire when he left the United States. Perhaps Heeny will have as much when he returns to the blacksmith shop in New Zealand.

Fortune, in the contribution of opportunities to Firpo, certainly was kind to him and Heeny may be blessed with even more of a golden smile from the fates. By the minute fraction of an inch Firpo failed to win the heavy-weight championship of the world when he slugged Jack Dempsey clear out of the ring in New York. Heeny is coming into his big chance to win the millions that go with the heavy-weight championship and the decision of the fates will have to wait until he has beaten Tunney. Fate played in Dempsey's favor when he fell out of the ring on the press table in New York in such a position that he could pull himself back into the ring in time to smother Firpo. But fate played against Dempsey in Chicago last September when Tunney was permitted to doze for fourteen seconds after having been smashed to the floor.

Perhaps, in the workings of those fates, a break against Tunney is now due and Heeny may get the benefit.

Firpo crawled out of the hold of a South American liner on the Jersey side of the New York port. He hadn't had his clothes off in days and the only article of apparel he had to distinguish him from a vagabond was a rubber collar that he washed in a water trough on the dock.

He had no great reputation as a fighter. His size and physical strength, his resemblance to a wild bull, and his known ability to absorb punishment were his only assets. But he couldn't speak English.

Rather panic-stricken in a big city, Firpo took refuge in a cellar under a second-hand store in Newark, sharing quarters with a big negro who was willing to accept his unsociable society for coffee money.

Firpo first attracted attention when some one carried the news to Jimmy De Forest that there was a great-looking heavy-weight prospect in a cellar in Newark, a guy in a cell to fight De Forest, an old-timer, the best trainer in the country and a skilled handler of fighters, had been for years in the quest of that unknown heavy-weight that every old-timer is in a run of bad luck who was willing to set for life when he hooked up with Jack Dempsey in 1919. He trained Dempsey for his fight with Jess Willard in Toledo and did everything superbly trained and ever stepped into a ring that the Dempsey wonder who smashed the facial bones of the huge Willard and won the world's championship.

Luck didn't stay with De Forest, however. Jack Kearns thought that Dempsey and De Forest were too friendly. He charged De Forest with attempting to steal Dempsey away from him and fired him bodily out of the camp. He not only forbade him the liberty of Dempsey's company but did everything he could to discredit the part De Forest had taken in making Dempsey.

De Forest, accepting the tip on Firpo, dug the huge South American out of the cellar, stalked him, led him and put him up in his home, where he was making a fighter out of Firpo when some Brazilian writers from a coffee house in New York told Firpo that De Forest would double-cross him.

They told him that De Forest was heart and soul a Dempsey man and that he would school him wrong and betray him and Firpo left De Forest. It isn't too much to believe that if Firpo had stuck with De Forest he would have won the championship. In his fight with Dempsey, Firpo was beaten considerably in his own corner by amateurish handling.

When Heeny arrived in this country, he, too, hooked up with an old-timer, Charley Harvey. But he stuck with him against all temptation to throw him over and therein may be the difference.

Next Article: Charley Harvey, who for twenty years had sought a "break," believed in Tom Heeny and became his manager when others in the fight racket ignored the New Zealander.

Gallup-Cotter To Start 300 Point Pool Match At Coughlin's Monday Night

Joe Coughlin, north end pocket billiard promoter, announced today that the first half of the three hundred point exhibition match between Jud Gallup, town champion, and Bill Cotter, i-side of the north end, will be played next Monday night in his (Coughlin's) pool room starting at eight o'clock. The date of the final 150 points has not been definitely decided. It will be played at the Park Billiards.

Since this match between Gallup and Cotter was first talked of through The Herald, a great deal of interest has arisen among the lovers of the pool game. Scores have asked the writer when the match would be played. The match was scheduled twice but had to be called off each time. The last postponement was because of the town basketball series. Since the plans for the match were first arranged, Gallup has visited God's Country once to get a line on the pool tables at Coughlin's. North end men who saw Gallup take part in several games, say the town champ didn't look "so hot," but others who claim to know whereof they speak, tell you that Gallup didn't try any too hard for obvious reasons.

However, the North End says it has plenty of money to bet on its favorite, Cotter. Reports are that south end money is none too plentiful, probably because few south enders have seen Cotter shoot. He is a professional player and has taken part in several state tournaments matches. He once made a high run of 65 balls.

Hooks and Slides

Nice sending matter can be fashioned out of the unknown substitute who goes in and delivers for the big star in the great emergency. And even if he doesn't deliver in victorious style he makes a good story.

Leonard Grant, a young football player from New York University, who is six feet two and weighs 215 pounds, delivered as a substitute hero in the intercollegiate boxing championship.

"NT" Lassman, 1927 intercollegiate heavyweight champion, captain of the N. Y. U. eleven and an All-American star, broke his leg last fall and couldn't go out for boxing. Grant, who plays next to the call for help and with very little coaching went into the championship tournament and won the title.

Claude Grigsby, captain of the Georgetown football team, heard the same distress call from the box-tops and answered it. He got a fine beating but proved himself a great sportsman.

Georgetown's star heavyweight was injured shortly before the championship tournament, and as colleges always want an entry in the heavyweight class, the coach called for volunteers. Grigsby never had the gloves on before but he answered the call and went into the tournament. He took a fine beating, but he wasn't knocked out, and the fair name of Georgetown was represented.

Examples of Sportsmanship
It was this same Grigsby who twice distinguished himself for sportsmanship on the football field last fall.

In the Lafayette game one of the star Lafayette backs, knocked out and time was called. When time was up the player hadn't come to sufficiently and they were about to lead him from the field when Grigsby came to the rescue and called time out for Georgetown so the player would have another two minutes.

Later in another game, in a serious situation, the opposing team called time out and was told that it would cost a penalty as long as he had exceeded the allowance of the rules. A penalty would have ruined that chance to score, but Grigsby again came to the rescue. "Georgetown now taking time out," he said to the referee and thereby gave the other fellows their chance for a conference and a breathing spell.

John McGraw might say that is too much of a fraternal spirit for athletes, but Georgetown didn't lose anything by it and it is quite like that Grigsby's name will be respected for some time at those two institutions.

What Penn Did
Giving the other fellow a break is one of the highest traits of sportsmanship and it doesn't always cost.

During the hottest part of a hot race in the eastern intercollegiate basketball league this season, the official scorekeepers made a mistake in scoring that gave Dartmouth a victory over Pennsylvania that looked to be the margin by which Penn would win the championship.

An official protest was lodged with a demand that the game be played over, but the university athletic officials refused to demand another game.

Another said the friendly feeling of years' standing between Dartmouth and Pennsylvania would not be imperiled by the result of a basketball game and the score stood as it is incorrectly recorded.

Pennsylvania then went on and won the championship after being forced to engage in a play-off with Princeton.

SNAPPY ENTERTAINMENT MAKES BOWLING BANQUET BIG SUCCESS

More Than Fifty Herald League Pinsters Dine at Sheridan; Cash Prizes of $126; Loving Cups and Souvenirs; Clifford Remembered.

The Herald Bowling League banquet last night at the Hotel Sheridan was a huge success, according to the "after-remarks" of the fifty-four persons who attended. While the "eats" were all that could be asked for, it was the entertainment that added the necessary punch to make everybody come away well pleased.

"Billie" Miller, cabaret singer, scored a hit and Dr. Searle, the village country doctor, evoked many a hearty laugh when he told the boys what to do to live to be a hundred and fifty years old. How the "eats" were all that could be asked for, it was the entertainment that added the necessary punch to make everybody come away well pleased.

"Hammie" Metcalf acted as toastmaster and did a mighty good job. He supplied the necessary punch and humor to put the whole affair across in a most successful manner. He called on several of the bowlers for remarks and all responded. Howard Murphy read his report as treasurer and Tom Seely, league secretary, presented the prizes.

The Masons received $19.80 for finishing first, the Cubs, $13.20 for second, the West Side Rec, $9.90 for third, the K. of C., $6.00 for fourth and the Cubs, $6.00 for fifth. The trophies were presented to the high team three string, 1407. Individual awards were as follows: Frank Cervin, $10 for high single, 157; Frank Cervin, $10 for high average, 103.52 for 64 games; and Carl Hansen, $10 for high three string, 335.

In addition, The Manchester Evening Herald, organizers of the league, gave the Mason team a handsome silver loving cup with the names of the Mason bowlers engraved. They are Captain Herb Cole, Sammie McAdams, Herb Stevens, Irving Wickman and Howard Murphy. The trophy will be kept in Mason Temple. Howard Murphy presented loving cups to the high average man on the K. of P. team, Carl Magnuson, Cubs, second place winners, and another cup donated by Tommy Conran went to Frank Cervin for high average. Souvenir auto-strap safety razors were also given to every person present at the banquet as a compliment from The Herald.

A notebook passed around for those present to sign, bears the loving names: Bill Stratton, "Red" Orenstein (and, by the way, no one had a better time than Red), Paul Hussey, Albert Todd, H. Saunders, Tom Davidson, Cliff Charter, Bo Brennan, H. Hampson, Tommy Conran, Pete McLagan, Henry Starkweather, George Hanson, Ronald Johnson, Harry Dimlow, Stanley Broffer, H. Bolin, Tom Miner, J. Dunn, J. Anderson, Jimmy Nichols, A. Klesman, Allen Hayes, Jim Thompson, Tom Humphries, Dave McComb, Sam Nelson, Jimmy Cahoon, Arthur Hines, Ray Bidwell, Mr. Cliffort, Mr. Stuart Taggart, Jimmy McCollough, Alex Wilson, Tom Kane, Carson, Lahey, J. Smythe, Joe Canade, Bennie Schuber, Otto Nelson, Ernie Wilkie, Ray Sad, Sam McAdams, Frank Anderson, Isaac Cole, C. Hanson, Frank Carter, George Stevenson, Ronald Ferguson, Hammie Metcalf, Howard Murphy, and George Harrison.

Toward the latter part of the evening, Toastmaster Metcalf mentioned the fact that "our only regret is that Mr. Cliffort, our president, is unable to be with us tonight" after which Howard Murphy gave a short talk praising Mr. Cliffort and telling how well liked he is by everyone with whom he comes in contact. Murphy told of Mr. Cliffort's long illness and his treatment to hospitals and said that he thought it highly appropriate that the league take some kind of action toward showing Mr. Cliffort "our appreciation." It was decided to take up a contribution and not a person in the hall failed to donate. The result was an even $15 which was given to Mr. Cliffort today by the league secretary.

Chicago, April 13.—A play-off for the title in the national three-cushion billiard tournament in progress here looked today as a result of victories yesterday by Willie Hoppe and Johnny Layton. Otto Reisel, defending champion, Hoppe and Layton are now tied for first place, each with five games won and two lost.

New York, April 13.—So many entries have been received for the New York-to-Albany race for outboard motor boats that the race has been divided into four heats. The first group of the 112 entries will make the 133 mile run tomorrow, the second on Sunday and the others on the following week-end.

New York, April 13.—The New York Giants have released Buck Lal, Chinese infielder, to the Jersey City Club of the International League.

Chicago, April 13.—The Cardinals are tied for first place with the Cincinnati Reds, who beat the Cubs again. Curiously enough the Browns and the Indians, the two western American League clubs who were victorious yesterday. All eastern clubs in both leagues were held idle by threatening weather.

The two Chicago teams, which made such brilliant records in exhibition contests, have yet to win a league game. Scoring six runs in the eighth inning when the Cubs made two errors, the Reds swamped the Bruins 9 to 3. Purday, rookie Cincinnati outfielder from the west coast, again starred at bat with three hits.

Langford's second triple in two days enabled Joe Shaute of Cleveland to win a 2 to 1 race because Alphonse Thomas of the White Sox.

The supposedly weak St. Louis Browns scored five runs in the eighth and swamped Detroit, 7 to 2. Jack Ogden, Baltimore recruit, pitched well for the winners.

POOR CROWDS AT THE OPENING MAY CHANGE DATES HEREAFTER

Walsh Thinks Baseball
Should Be Pushed Back
10 Days or More Because of the Cold Weather.

By DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, April 13.—Proponents of the idea that it is better to see a ball game in your decollete shirt sleeves than feel it in your marrow were armed today with significant evidence that the baseball season is being started neither wisely nor too late. At least five of the eight inaugurals on Wednesday were made almost untenable from a standpoint of physical comfort because the weather was that of mid-February and yesterday the four scheduled games of the east were allowed to go by default because of rain. Chill and, in one instance, snow.

For some years, there has been agitation in certain quarters for a later start in the Major Leagues, both as an aid to the noble athletes who welter in the south so that they may contend in the north as quickly as possible and as a boon to the populace. These reasons, of course, are stated strictly in the order of their importance.

But, whatever the final reason may be, the time will come when baseball will set its calendar back by a matter of ten days or more on its own initiative. It won't do so because it finds it is unnecessary subjecting its ball players to physical risks. Neither is it likely to take cognizance of the fact that sooner or later some mugg will have to be cut out of his overcoat and hung in the steam room until comatose or even sober. Those sort of things are a bit unromantic, but a baseball man doesn't let that bother him. Yet the sight of an empty seat will cause him to condole with himself by the hour.

Small Attendance

I take it, therefore, that he was all but heart-broken on Wednesday. The eight openings played to 198,517 patrons, as we say in the outer office. On a more propitious occasion, they might have numbered as many as 275,000. At the Polo Grounds, for example, Rogers Hornsby versus the Giants, grossed $5,000; the attendance on a fair day might have been 55,000. In Philadelphia, they had Ruth, Gehrig, Cobb and Speaker in the same ball game and the turnstiles showed only 20,000 against a possible capacity of 35,000. There must have been a lot of keepers among those 20,000 at that.

In Brooklyn, the attendance was 12,000, whereas, on an ordinary Sunday in May, the first 35,000 get in the park and the others pile up in great disorder in the doorway.

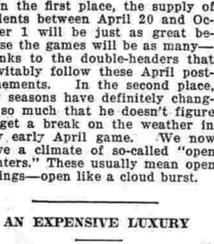

These rows of empty seats speak the only language that is intelligible to the magnate. He insists on the early start, because he fears the loss of a few patients who, lacking consideration, might go and die on him between April 11 and April 20. He likewise rushes the season because he thinks he might get a break on the weather and can prove that he did, back in 1889. He wrongs himself greatly on both points.

In the first place, the supply of patients between April 20 and October 1 will be just as great because the games will be as many—thanks to the double-headers that inevitably follow these April postponements. In the second place, our seasons have definitely changed so much that he doesn't figure to get a break on the weather in any early April game. We now have a climate of so-called "open winters." These usually mean open springs—open like a cloud burst.

AN EXPENSIVE LUXURY

Being an amateur track star is an expensive luxury, says Lloyd Hahn, America's most famous middle distance runner. The past indoor campaign cost him approximately $2000.

MEXICAN STAR

Bill Tilden and his American Davis cup team will invade Mexico soon to start their campaign for the recovery of the cup and to do some more of the good will stuff started by Lindbergh. One of the members of the Mexican team is Victor Ponce de Leon (pictured above), an 18-year-old boy who recently won the Dixie singles championship at the Davis Islands Club in Florida. He will enter the American national championships at Forest Hills, N. Y., this year.

STARTS 19TH SEASON

W. B. Carpenter will umpire for the 18th successive season in the International League this year.

SURE OF OLYMPIC CHOICE

Here's pretty Georgia Coleman, Los Angeles girl who recently won the 10-foot board-diving championship at Pasadena, Calif., competing against the best divers of the country. She's regarded by experts as a sure shot for the Olympic squad this summer. Who wouldn't put her on the team?

WINTER'S OVER CHANGE YOUR OIL TODAY

"Is your crankcase ready for spring?"
That is the question every Socony man is asking the motorists at his station.

It is a vital question, for winter driving means diluted, dirty oil. Diluted, because the use of the choke in cold weather lets excess gasoline seep down into the crankcase. Dirty, because dust from the air gets into the oil through the air intake.

Let the Socony man drain the crankcase now. Let him flush it out with Socony Flushing Oil, and refill with Socony Motor Oil. It takes only a few minutes and costs only two or three dollars, depending on the amount of oil you need. No charge for the service; you pay only for the oils.

Important. Your car represents an investment of hundreds of dollars. Poor gasoline or motor oil can ruin that investment. Standardize on Socony, backed by fifty-four years of refining experience.

Socony Motor Oil and Gasoline must pass 13 rigid tests before they reach your car.

with Washington?

The feat was accomplished 237 times during the season. Hellmann of Detroit and Sisler of St. Louis each pulled the trick six times. Johnson was with the Senators 21 seasons, pitched in 892 games, won 414, lost 275, struck out 8,497 batters, walked 1,405 and had a percentage of .600. In two world series, he pitched six games, winning three and losing three.

WRIGLEY PRAISES CUYLER
Perhaps the Pittsburgh club had a hard time getting along with Kiki Cuyler last season, but Owner Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs is not. He says Cuyler is the easiest man on the club to get along with.

IS VETERAN OF GAME
Eddie Mulligan, new utility infielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is 31 years old and a veteran of the game.

WAS THREE-SPORTS STAR

Grant Gillis, rookie shortstop with the Washington Senators, was a three-sports star at the University of Alabama. He played football and baseball three seasons and basketball two seasons.

HELFFRICH WON'T GO OVER
Because of business reasons, Alan Helffrich, who once defeated Pavlo Nurmi in a half-mile race and who was a member of the 1924 Olympic team, says he won't be able to compete for the team this season.

MAKING GREAT CAGE RECORD
Notre Dame is compiling a great basketball record under George Keogan, coach. The Irish cage squad has won 56 out of 82 games in the past three seasons.

BROWN HAS TWO IN MAJORS

Two of the most promising young pitchers in the major leagues this year are from Brown University. They are Hadley with Washington and Billings with Detroit.

NEW ARENA PROMISED

Humbert Fugazy, Tex-Rickard's only rival as a boxing promoter, has announced that his new $5,000,000 sports arena in New York for winter athletic events will be completed by next December.

WAS SIXTH WIN IN ROW

When Michigan defeated Cornell in an indoor meet in March, it was the Wolverines' sixth victory in as many successive meets.

WINDHAM MUST CARE FOR DESTITUTE FAMILY

Hartford, Conn., April 13.—Mrs. Bertrand Lemaire, a native of the town of Windham but now living with her four young children in New Haven, following her desertion by the man she married some years ago, must be cared for by the town of Windham if she ever becomes a dependent person, ac-ording to an opinion issued here today by Assistant Attorney General Raymond A. Johnson, of Manchester. The assistant at-

ABOUT TOWN

The Amaranth Bridge club met this afternoon with Mrs. W. E. Luettgens of Main street.

Manchester Camp No. 2640 Royal Neighbors will hold a food sale at the store of the J. W. Hale company tomorrow afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock.

The fourth sitting of the final Army and Navy club pinocle tournament will be held at 7:30 tonight at the clubhouse.

Mrs. George Campbell of Burnside entertained a party of friends at bridge last night in honor of Mrs. John Glenney of Bigelow street, Manchester, whose birthday anniversary it was.

OPERATOR HONORED

New York, April 13.—Far off the Pacific coast, aboard the steamer Kewanee, Joseph Evan Cronney early today received a wireless message thanking him from the Hotel Astor here.

It told him the veteran Wireless Operators Association, banqueting at the hotel, was awarding him a gold medal because he did bravely work in 1927 than any other in his craft.

On May 18, last, Cronney summoned an airplane to aid the steamer Indiana Harbor when that vessel struck a reef two hundred miles north of San Francisco.

The association presented testimonials to Maurice D. Holland and John F. Smith, operators aboard the Boston-New York steamer Robert E. Lee, which grounded on rocks off Manomet Point, Mass., in February.

SAFETY PLAN WOULD BAR UNSOUND MINDS

Hartford, Conn., April 13.—A state-wide plan, the work of Rob-defective and unstable persons from driving automobiles is being considered here. With the co-operation of all persons related in any way with the mentally abnormal, Stoeckel hopes to avert numerous traffic accidents which are doubtless due to such a cause.

"It is the duty of each man to assure himself that he is able to operate an automobile, and if he proved that he is mistaken, he must expect to be classed with those persons who, for one reason or another, not by any means shameful, ought not to have an operator's license to participate in traffic," he says.

Stoeckel adds, however, that if a patient has been cured of his malady, the fact that he was once mentally unbalanced should not keep him from obtaining a license.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO MEET AT NORTH END CHURCH

Seven Different Societies to Send Delegations to Union Meeting Sunday.

Representatives of at least seven different young People's societies from this town, Wapping and Talcottville will gather at the parsonage of Second Congregational church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. Frederick C. Allen, for the purpose of formulating plans for a young people's rally to be held on Thursday evening, April 26, with the Christian Endeavorers of Second Congregational church at host. This will be one of a series of such young people's rallies to be held during three consecutive weeks in various parts of the state of Connecticut under the auspices of the Connecticut Christian Endeavor Union. A nation wide religious campaign is in progress under the slogan "Crusade for Christ". The three-fold object of this movement is to impress upon the young people of the United States the prime importance of evangelism, good citizenship and world peace. It is planned to have Russell J. Blair, traveling secretary of the Massachusetts Christian Endeavor Union, and a speaker of acknowledged ability, address the gathering here on April 26. Nebraska is third state in total sugar beet yield and second in yield per acre.

STATE TO EDUCATE GIRL

Hartford, Conn., April 13.—A little blind girl living in West Hartford with her grandmother is to receive her education at the expense of the state, according to a ruling issued here today by Raymond A. Johnson of Manchester, assistant attorney general, through a writ in equity from one of five sons, who came into the state after she was found to be blind. The State Board of Education asked the attorney general's office if it had the legal right to educate the girl. The decision declares that since the child came into Connecticut to live with her grandmother she is entitled to all possible aid from the state.

There will also be a soldiers' chorus, a faries' chorus and a general chorus of 30 children from the different rooms. The school orchestra of 8 pieces will furnish music before and after the operetta. Miss Cutler and Miss Tibbets will be in charge of costumes and scenery. Miss Jennie Cook, another one of the teachers will be the pianist.

The entertainment is given for the benefit of the Manchester Green Community club.

SMITH GETS OVATION

Asheville, N. C., April 13.—Governor Al Smith received a tremendous ovation from thousands of people when he reached the south today for a two weeks' vacation. A throng estimated at more than 10,000 people gathered at the Blount station here when his train arrived soon after ten o'clock, and despite the fact he came south on a holiday, he asserted "politics is no longer in my mind." The governor was forced to speak a few words of welcome to the throng in the public square.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE

Greenwich, Conn., April 13.—Officials today were investigating a mysterious fire that last night swept through an attic of a Hamilton avenue house and killed Frances—ay, aged seven years, who was supposed to have been sleeping with her two younger sisters. Firemen found the girl's body lying on a pile of smouldering rags. Her clothes had been burned away and her body was badly charred. The other children had fled to safety.

TWELVE TEAMS SINGING IN CONTEST OF SCHOOLS

Glee Clubs of Six "Highs" Engage in Battle of Harmony This Afternoon.

The complete program of the Central Connecticut Interscholastic Glee Club singing championship contests at the High School assembly hall here this afternoon was announced at the noon at the school. The contest song for all of the boys' glee clubs to render, "Song of the Western Men," by Prothero, and the number for the girls' glee clubs was, "A Dream Boat Passes By."

Each glee club was to sing a selected number as follows: Bristol Girls, "The Fairy Ring"; Bristol boys, "Sylvia." East Hartford girls, "The Spring"; East Hartford boys, "The Long Day Closes"; Manchester girls, "In Spain"; Manchester boys, "Morning"; Meriden boys, "Wake, Miss Lindy"; Meriden girls, "From West Hartford girls, 'The Waters'; West Hartford girls, 'In the Time of Roses'; West Hartford boys, 'The Bells of Shandon'; The Middletown singers' selected numbers were not announced at this noon at the school.

At the close of the concert, the combined glee clubs were to render the "Viking Song," under the leadership of James D. Price, one of the judges and the Hartford public schools, accompanied at the piano by Miss E. Marlon Dorward, supervisor of musical education in the other two judges were J. Lawrence Erb, head of musical instruction at Connecticut College for Women in New London, and Arthur Pries, choirmaster at Christ Church Cathedral in Hartford.

Owing to the fact that the concert which began at 3 o'clock was not scheduled to be concluded till after the Herald goes to press, it is impossible to give the decision of the judges as to the two winning glee clubs.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Yesterday afternoon the first round of the athletic league tournament was completed. The contest is being run for the elimination plan, one defeat eliminating any contestant. A large number of pupils have entered the tournament. It is planned to make this contest an annual affair.

Next Tuesday a H-I-Y meeting will be held to form plans for the organization of a track team to compete in the County Y. M. C. A. track contest.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock started the third annual Glee Club contest. In order to accommodate the large groups in the glee clubs an extension was built out from the regular stage. Practically the entire second floor of the High School was given over to accommodating the glee clubs of the various schools.

Tomorrow afternoon, at Crosby High School will complete with other schools to decide the swimming championship of the state. For the first time in months Manchester's team is complete. Yesterday afternoon at which high school pupils will be admitted, for twenty-five cents instead of the usual price, one dollar.

The speaker at the assembly yesterday was Mr. Arthur Tarbell, dean of Bryant and Stratton School of Business Administration. Mr. Tarbell, who is to a graduate of Bates, where he achieved fame as a debater, spoke on the topic of "Open Gates," which he said, signify the three doors, profession, trade or business, one of which a pupil may choose after graduation. He emphasized the fact that there are many opportunities for high school students if they only take advantage of them. Mr. Tarbell's talk was very interesting and was very much appreciated by the students.

NICOTINE IS KING

Washington—The average American consumed 784 cigarettes, 52 cigars, three pounds of chewing and smoking tobacco and one-third of a pound of snuff last year. Government reports show that $8 billion of cigars, nearly seven and a half billion of cigars and more than 350 million pounds of chewing and smoking tobacco were consumed in 1927.

"Gotham" was first applied to an old town in Nottinghamshire, England.

THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE: (262) Unusual Birds Sketches by Hessey; Synopsis by Braucher

Thousands of men spend their lives studying birds. They are called ornithologists, and it is to their serious efforts that we owe our knowledge of our friends of the air. Some birds are uncouth to look upon, but most feathered creatures are beautiful. Above is pictured a Sun Bittern, with magnificent wing and tail feathers.

Ostriches are raised for their wonderful plumes. The Ostrich trying to hide, pokes his head into the sand and imagines he is concealed.

The pride of the Peacock has become a family proverb. Here is sketched a fine specimen of the species.

GAS BUGGIES The Pow Wow

YOU NOW, ANY, LET'S STRAIGHTEN OUT THIS THING OF BUYING A CAR. LET ME TALK FOR A MINUTE, AND I'LL TELL YOU WHY THAT SHINY BUS YOU WANT IS THE BUNK.

YOU CAN'T TALK ME INTO BUYING A CAR FROM YOUR DEALER-FRIEND, WHO BURST IN HERE TO BOAST ABOUT BEING IN YOUR CONFIDENCE, BEFORE I WAS.

THE REASON I HADN'T MENTIONED BUYING A CAR TO YOU WAS, I INTENDED IT AS A SURPRISE.

IT CERTAINLY WAS, AND SO WAS HIS DEMONSTRATOR. WOW... I WOULDN'T HAVE ONE NO MATTER HOW MUCH POWER IT HAS, 'TIL I POLISH UP LIKE A MORN-OUT CONCRETE MIXER.

ON THE OTHER HAND, I WOULDN'T BUY ONE OF THOSE PAPER MACHE OVER-NIGHT BUSES, JUST BECAUSE IT'LL POLISH UP LIKE A PIANO.

I'M THROUGH RIDING AROUND IN SOMETHING THAT MAKES ALL THE RAILROAD FLAGMEN RUSH OUT AND CLOSE THE CROSSING GATES IN FRONT OF US, BECAUSE I THINK A TRAIN IS COMING.

YOU FALL FOR THOSE CREAM-PUFF CARS, WITH PRETTY PAINT JOBS, THAT LOOK LIKE SOMETHING YOU DRAGGED OUT OF A BONFIRE AT THE END OF A YEAR.

YOU DON'T THINK A CAR IS A CAR UNLESS IT SOUNDS LIKE A BATTLESHIP GIVING THE PRESIDENTIAL SALUTE, WHEN YOU STEP ON THE STARTER.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

SENSE and NONSENSE

A Heap of Difference A dirt farmer always commands our respect...

Opportunities are often like flowers—they wilt when picked.

Many a man who couldn't drive Old Dobbin to the watering trough is quite willing to handle the reins of government.

It now seems to be the fashion to kill somebody and then go crazy.

Customer: I want some insect powder.

Clerk: Do you want to take it with you? Customer: Of course not! I'll send the bugs to you, and you can give it to them.

The Annual Discard The early robin came around And sang a gentle song...

"This is a hard world," said Pat as he knocked off for the day.

Mrs. Jenkinson had been to a political meeting, and when she returned home she regaled her husband with her party views.

"We are going to sweep the country, John," she exclaimed.

"Then," remarked her husband, "you had better start with the kitchen, dear!"

The eagle is said to fly fastest when going away from its nest.

"Hello, Holmes, I understand you married one of the Youtsay twins. Why, man, those girls are so much alike I don't see how you tell them apart."

The joke about the flapper who is motored out but compelled to walk home, does not apply to the young women of Venice...

When occasion demands it—let's put it that way. They indulge in a vigorous swim.

Librarian: Do you like love stories? Gob: Naw, I'm a married man.

"How do you like your new job, Nora?"

"Shure I like it. I have everything to work with—cremated cellular, cemetery plumbing, elastic lights, and a hoosit."

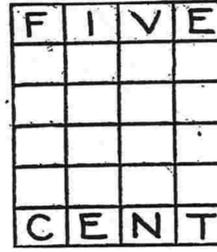

"What's a hoosit, Nora?"

"Shure," said Nora, "you ought to be knowing that. The bell rings. You take down a ting and put it to your ear and say, 'Hello.' Some one at the other end says, 'Hello—then you say, 'Hoosit.'"

LETTER GOLF

A MATHEMATICAL ONE

Just to see if letter golf is logical try to go from FIVE to CENT and see how many strokes it takes.

THE RULES

- 1-The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par a given number of strokes.

School Teacher—"Heap fine blanket. Where you buy him?"

Indian Lady—"I bought it from a mail order house in Chicago."

The successful mind their own business; the failures mind the other fellow's to the neglect of their own.

When one stretches the imagination he also stretches the truth.

THE TINYMITES

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The Tinymites heard Clowny shout. "We've rushed so much I'm all tired out. Our little pork chop friends have gone. Now, what are we to do?"

The Tinymites drank their fill. Then Clowny cried, "Come, follow me back to the shade of yonder tree, and we will sprawl out on the ground. 'Twill really be a thrill."
