

HOOVER GETS NEW JERSEY'S 28 DELEGATES

Alabama and Montana Bring His Total to 508—Only 545 Required For the Nomination.

Washington, May 16.—The overwhelming leads being rolled up by Herbert Hoover and Gov. Al Smith for their respective presidential nomination was further emphasized today by the results of primaries and conventions held in a number of states yesterday.

Hoover added delegates from three states, New Jersey, Alabama and Montana, to his already imposing total. In New Jersey he is credited the entire delegation of 31, in Alabama he is figured to have obtained 14 out of 15, and in Montana at least 4 out of 11.

Putting Pennsylvania's 79 votes in the Hoover column—as virtually all the politicians have done since the Mellon endorsement—it brings the Hoover total to above the 500-mark. The most reliable tables in Washington give his total as of today as approximately 510 pledged, instructed or committed delegates. Only 545 are required to nominate. And if that total of 510 nothing has been figured from New York, where the Hoover managers claim at least 47.

State of Nomination

From this compilation, it is apparent that if the secretary of commerce can hold his indicated strength during the next four weeks he will carry very close to being nominated on the first or second ballot. Whether this strength can be held is, of course, conjectural. The Hoover opposition contends that in this respect Hoover is perhaps 100 delegates short of being considered bound irrevocably to the cabinet candidate. These 100 are described as "fluid," that is, favorable to Hoover but liable to bolt if another bandwagon comes into view.

Only 6 More States

Only half a dozen states are still to select their delegates to the Kansas City convention, Florida, South Dakota, Vermont, West Virginia and Oregon. Oregon's thirteen are figured in the 508 as Hoover alone filed in the state, which automatically gives him the delegation. Florida and Texas are considered favorable Hoover territory. Vermont is doubtful, but probably for Hoover after a vote for Coolidge; and in West Virginia a primary will be held on May 29, with Hoover pitted against Sen-

AIR, RAIL SYSTEM TO OPERATE SOON

Five Million Dollar Corporation Develops Plans For Coast to Coast Route.

New York, May 16.—Method of travel in the United States may be revolutionized by the new air and rail system which the newly-formed Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., will begin operating on a forty-eight hour schedule between New York and Los Angeles within the next few months.

Eventually, backers of the project believe, every principal city in the country will be hooked up with the main Transcontinental line. As outlined by International News Service yesterday passengers will be carried on trains at night and on planes in the daytime, going by train from New York to Columbus, Ohio, flying from there to Wichita, Kansas, sleeping on a train to a point in New Mexico and then flying to Los Angeles.

The cost of the Transcontinental trip will be a little more than the present rates for an all-rail trip with drawing room accommodations. Travel will be both ways, and the time it takes to go from the Atlantic to the Pacific—and vice versa—will be cut in half.

Speaking of the future—the trans-continental line is operating smoothly—C. M. Keys, president of the new company, who is also head of the Curtiss Aeroplane & Motor Corporation, said today:

President's Statement

"Eventually the company plans to inaugurate additional air services, particularly in the eastern and middle western states, connecting the trans-continental route with all principal cities.

"Among the other routes now in contemplation is a branch from Chicago to the twin cities, St. Louis and Kansas City will be on the Transcontinental line, and other western metropolises will eventually be linked to the line either by railroad or airplane connection.

"It is the intention to draw traf-

STATE POLICE SEEK MISSING YOUNG LAWYER

New Britain Man Not Heard of Since Yesterday Morning—His Revolver Also Missing.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

New Britain, Conn., May 16.—The body of Alfred Le Witt, prominent local attorney, was found in a lonely road in Kensington this afternoon, with a bullet hole through his forehead.

Beside the body was a note addressed to Le Witt's wife, saying he had decided to end his life because of financial troubles.

Two boys found the body as they were roaming in the woods.

New Britain, Conn., May 16.—Every inch of country road about New Britain was beaten today by an automobile corps seeking for trace of Alfred Le Witt, prominent young lawyer, who has been missing without apparent cause since yesterday morning. County Detective Edward J. Hickey and state police were called into the case today and started a wider search for either Le Witt or the car he was driving when last seen.

Le Witt went to Newington yesterday to search a title for the Berlin Savings Bank. Henry Deming, bank cashier, saw Le Witt driving toward Newington at 10:45 a. m. The Berlin Savings Bank today received the title record in the mail, the envelope having been posted last night in this city.

Albert A. Greenberg

Le Witt's law partner, today told police that Le Witt had an appointment at eleven yesterday morning and that the office force was mystified because he failed to keep the appointment. "I am sure," Greenberg learned that a revolver usually kept in Le Witt's desk was missing through three bullets were found there.

Le Witt was recently sued by Sebastian La Rocco, of Hartford, for $87,000 on the claim that Le Witt had failed to make a proper return when he aided La Rocco in settling his business deals in New Britain before La Rocco moved to Hartford. Le Witt told friends, when papers were served on him, that he has no fear about the suit for he could prove he had made proper use of all money during his term of handling La Rocco's affairs.

Le Witt is 29, a graduate of New York University law school in the class of 1921. His father M. C. Le Witt is a wealthy jeweler here and he has an uncle who is rated as very wealthy.

His wife is prostrated with grief today over her husband's disappearance.

3,500 PERSONS SCORE SHOOTING OF HANSON

Big Protest Meeting Staged in Buffalo Over Action of Dry Agents.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 16.—Indignation over the shooting of Jacob D. Hanson, Niagara Falls Elk, by Coast Guardsmen, and the subsequent determination of Coast Guard officials to keep the men from trial in state courts, ran high today following a protest meeting last night attended by more than 3,500 prominent people from Buffalo, Lockport, Tonawanda and Niagara Falls in the state armory at Niagara Falls.

Speeches denouncing the "high-handed methods" of prohibition law enforcers in general and their utter disregard of the rights of law-abiding citizens were greeted with enthusiastic approval at the meeting. A resolution describing the shooting as "murderous and unjustifiable" was adopted. It will be presented to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and United States Senators Royal S. Copeland and Robert F. Wagner of New York. It demands punishment of Coast Guardsmen Glenn Jennings and Christ Dew, involved in the shooting, and disciplinary action against their superiors.

While the meeting was in progress the victim of the Coast Guardsmen's attack, Hanson, was reported as being in the same condition he has been in since the shooting; critical with the possibility of permanent blindness should he live. The meeting was broadcast by radio.

The scene of the killing of Philip F. Clark, in the interior of the First Christian church at Munhall, Pa., is pictured above, with Clark inset in the oval. Below, to the right, is Attorney F. J. Tyrrell, Sunday school superintendent, who is accused of firing three bullets into Clark after an argument in which Clark charged the superintendent with breaking up his home. Tyrrell, who was just starting a Mother's Day sermon when the shooting occurred, was arrested.

College Police Break Up A Democratic Pow-Wow

Cambridge, Mass., May 16.—Harvard Democrats today were looking for the Republicans who "sliced" the yard police on the mock Democratic convention at the new lecture hall last night. The second ballot, having 126 votes on the first and 254 on the second.

Harmony was the keynote of the mock convention until Senator Tom Heflin's name was placed in nomination. A near riot ensued and it was this that the Harvard Republicans who were "boning" in nearby dorms for coming exams objected to.

DIVERS SECURED TO FIND VICTIMS

No Trace Yet of Bodies of Nine Brockton Men Drowned in Maine.

Greenville, Me., May 16.—Diving for the bodies of ten Massachusetts and Maine men who were drowned in lower Moosehead lake last Sunday, was expected to start today with the arrival of two civilian divers from Brockton, Mass., home of nine of the victims of the tragedy. The motorboat which suddenly stopped and sank a mile from the shore was thought to be tomb of at least nine of the men.

Only Captain Lays, another Brockton man, was saved. Lays made the swim to shore and carried the news to the nearest inhabited spot before collapsing.

It was expected that an attempt would be made to lift the sunken motorboat from the bottom of the lake with the aid of a 50-foot lake steamship. Falling in this, it was believed officials would make use of the services of the Brockton divers who will probably arrive early today.

The location of the spot at which the motorboat suddenly went down was thought to have been found early today. A film of oil was on the surface of the water. The depth, at the spot, is nearly one hundred feet. The shores of the lake are also being patrolled in a search for the bodies.

50 GALLON STILLS ARE FOUND ON FARMS

Were in Full Operation—75 Gallons of Real Rye is Seized.

Orange, Conn., May 16.—Two 50-gallon stills in full operation were seized on farms here today by a raid by local constables and over seventy-five gallons of real rye liquor seized. Andrew Andrucko and Katie Minko, owners of the stills, were placed under bail for hearing before F. W. Jayne, justice of the peace, tomorrow night. The liquor was tested at 180-proof by chemists in New Haven after the raid.

Constables Fred Sperry and C. E. Stevens conducted the raids, visiting five places but finding law violators in only two.

NOBLE SIGHTS FRANZ JOSEPH LAND ON TRIP

Italian Explorer Sends Radio Message on His Way to Polar Regions; Ice Forms On Airship.

London, May 16.—General Umberto Nobile, commander of the Polar dirigible Italia, sent out a radio message stating that he had sighted Franz Joseph Land and was attempting to chart hitherto unexplored portions of the arctic. A Central News dispatch from Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, said today.

General Nobile's message stated that the Italia was functioning splendidly despite adverse conditions. The ship was forced to fly low because of a dense fog in the upper strata.

By flying low, Nobile was also attempting to keep to a minimum the ice formation precipitated on the body of the ship when it ran into a dense fog about an hour after leaving Kings Bay at 1:20 p. m. yesterday.

The Italia explorer did not report finding any land in the unexplored region lying between Spitzbergen and Franz Joseph Land. The message stated that the next objective of the dirigible was Lenin Land (formerly Nicholas Land). Scientific observations will also be attempted there.

The radio station at Kings Bay picked up weather warnings stating that conditions over both Franz Joseph Land and Lenin Land were bad.

A Central News dispatch received from Kings Bay at 3 o'clock this afternoon said the Italia was meeting better weather conditions and that General Nobile expected to reach Nicholas II Land (Lenin Land) later in the day. During earlier stages of the flight ice formed upon the dirigible envelope.

COOLIDGE PRAISES ART AS APPLIED TO CITIES

Many Attempts To Kill Bela Kun, Red Leader

Vienna, May 16.—That attempts were made to assassinate Bela Kun, former Bolshevik dictator of Hungary, after his arrest in this city charged with plotting a communist uprising in Hungary and elsewhere throughout Central Europe, was learned today.

Kun is one of the most hated men in Europe, especially among the Hungarian aristocracy. Scores of his enemies were searching for him in Vienna. An attempt was made to kidnap him. After he was locked up another enemy sent him a box of poisoned chocolates. In fact, the former Red dictator is believed to be safer in his cell than he would be at large.

The sensational discovery of Kun's headquarters by the police camouflaged behind the front of an innocent looking drug store proved that Vienna had been selected by the Third Internationale as the clearing house for its Central European and Balkan campaigns.

Kun, who ruled Hungary between March and August of 1919, is a fanatical Communist and an able organizer. After his dictatorship was swept away with the aid of the Roumanian army, Kun escaped through Austria and Germany to Russia. There he has been active as a member of the Third Internationale and the executive committee of the Crimean Soviet.

Kun's return to Central Europe, where, at the risk of his life, he began to reorganize the Bolshevik forces, is taken to mean that the Third Internationale is prepared for a new offensive in behalf of a world revolution.

HOOVER FUND OF $10,000 IS SPENT IN THE SOUTH

Senate Probers Told How Money Was Collected and Divided to Help Along the Campaign.

Washington, May 16.—A fund of $10,000 was divided among Republican leaders of the south to finance the Herbert Hoover presidential nomination. Rush L. Holland, a Hoover lieutenant and former assistant attorney general testified today at the Senate presidential inquiry.

Holland said he paid various sums to Republican leaders in Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama and Florida to cover their expenses in campaigning for Hoover.

Perry Howard, negro national committeeman in Mississippi received $4,000, Holland said.

Ben J. Davis, negro committeeman from Georgia, was given $2,000, Holland said, while Oliver D. Street, the Alabama committeeman, was paid $1,000 and $3,000 was sent into Florida.

Holland said he discussed the subject of making contributions in the southern states only with C. H. H. Huston, the Hoover finance director.

"Huston told me to go ahead," said Holland. He said he never discussed the southern states with James W. Good, the Hoover manager.

Holland said he had been active for Hoover in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama and Florida. He also wrote letters to

PUBLIC TO BE BARRED FROM YALE'S TAP DAY

College's Leading Social Event To Be Private This Year, Dean Orders.

New Haven, Conn., May 16.—Yale's famous Tap Day exercises will be held on the old college campus tomorrow with the public barred as it has been in recent years. Dean Clarence W. Mendell today issued orders closing the campus to the public from three to five p. m. tomorrow afternoon, and banning ladies after eleven a. m. Tap Day, a time just before the war, was Yale's leading social function and saw dormitories around the campus crowded with visitors, tea-parties going on in nearly every room, and the entire university gathered to see who was to be chosen to fraternities. Enormous publicity for the event finally led officials to order Tap Day made into an entirely private function.

Immediately after Tap Day, this year, Yale will swing into a three-day annual series of spring house parties. The new Phipps polo field is to be dedicated Friday afternoon in the presence of leading social figures of the country, with a West Point-Yale polo game following as the first on the new field. Eleven fraternity houses will have dances Friday and Saturday evenings.

Derby Day races will be held Saturday evenings on the Housatonic at Derby with Cornell and Princeton meeting Yale crews, the Cornell-Yale baseball game and the Yale interscholastic truck meet will follow the regatta.

"We Are Getting Rid of the Squalor of the Slums and Oppressive Ugliness of Our Small Towns" He Tells Delegates at Wash- ington Convention—Ad- vocates Zoning Plan.

Washington, May 16.—President Coolidge, addressing a joint meeting of the American Federation of Arts and the American Association of Museums here today, drew an analogy from the homely about clothes making the man and urged a greater application of the arts to the expansion and growth of American cities.

"If clothes make the man—and certainly good dress gives one a sense of self-respect and poise—how much more is it true that clean, beautiful surroundings lend a moral tone to a community," he declared. "Our cities are getting rid of the squalor of the slums of our big cities and of the oppressive ugliness of the small towns."

Praises Commission

Mr. Coolidge gave much credit to the Washington plan commission, created in 1901 under the auspices of the late Senator James McMillan, of Michigan, for having started a national movement for more orderly and artistic civic development and he noted that that impetus had carried a long way, adding, however:

"It is especially the practical side of art that requires more emphasis. We need to put more effort into translating art into the daily life of the people. If we could surround ourselves with the forms of beauty, the evil things of life would tend to disappear and our minds would be lifted from the squalor of the slums of our big cities and of the oppressive ugliness of the small towns."

Zoning Laws

The President lauded the recent practice of inaugurating zoning laws in the larger communities. He said they had brought about a distinctive type of American business architecture which had been much admired by visitors from abroad.

"Our country has reached a position where the beauty of the landscape is a visionary desire but is becoming an actual reality," he continued. "With general prosperity, with high wages, with reasonable hours of labor, has come both the means and the time to cultivate the artistic spirit. Philanthropy has given the people access to the things that are beautiful in form and color. It is their without money and without price, if they will but go and possess it. Out of our agriculture, our commerce and our industry, we can already see emerging a new spirit. The potential is being realized. Through science and invention, gradually but surely, we are banishing the drudgery of existence and bringing into every avenue of living a touch of the artistic. We are working out the deal under which everyone will realize that they are artists, in their employment, in their recreation, and in their relations, one with another.

It is to this high calling that the members of your associations have dedicated themselves. The service which they are rendering is of incalculable value for the advancement of an enlightened civilization."

DAM AT EAGLEVILLE IN DANGER OF BREAK

Workmen Work All Through Night—Willimantic Not in Danger.

Willimantic, Conn., May 16.—Workmen labored all through the night in an effort to prevent the Eagleville dam being carried out and today were again laboring on the structure. The dam holds a body of water two miles long and half a mile wide, about twenty-three feet deep. The spillway connects with the Willimantic river and the collapse of the dam would threaten a farming district with heavy damage. No damage in Willimantic is expected if the dam breaks. The dam is owned by the Eagleville Cotton Company, now closed down.

IN PENNSYLVANIA

One of the most interesting bits of political gossip that have followed the declaration of Secretary Mellon in favor of the Hoover Presidential candidacy is that Mr. Mellon's hand was to some extent forced by William Scott Vare, the Philadelphia leader, who is credited with having served notice on Mellon that if the latter did not come out openly for Hoover, he, Vare, would—and that in any event Vare and his personal followers in the Pennsylvania delegation intended to vote for Hoover in the convention.

It is barely possible that some such ultimatum on the part of the Philadelphia may have exerted a certain degree of influence in bringing about Secretary Mellon's pro-Hoover statement, for it is a poor leader who without good cause courts the challenging of his leadership. But if there was any such effects it certainly could have been no more than to somewhat hasten Mr. Mellon's declaration of position by a few days. Mr. Mellon's decisions are not made by W. S. Vare or anybody else.

Another interesting bit of current talk is to the effect that General Atterbury, heretofore quite generally supposed to be a vigorous opponent of Hoover, and who was elected Pennsylvania's national committeeman, was actually put forward by and received the support of the Vare crowd. If Vare, who unquestionably is for Hoover, did foster the selection of the Pennsylvania Railroad president for this position, it would appear that either Atterbury's position with relation to Hoover has heretofore been misjudged or else he has had a sudden change of heart. It is impossible to imagine a politician as experienced and astute as Vare getting behind the Hoover movement and then crabbing his own game by putting a political opponent into the National Committee.

RIGHT ENOUGH

Charles Lee Smith, busy-body president of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, has been convicted in a New York criminal court of sending letters and literature to Rev. John Roach Straton with intent to annoy him. The court ruled that the religious controversy between the two men did not concern it, but that Smith was guilty of a misdemeanor in continuing to pester the minister with his letters after having been requested to stop. That is fair enough. It is our private belief that a good long term in jail is about the needed medicine for a person afflicted with a brutal determination to jam written and printed propaganda down the throat of some protesting victim.

On the other hand, how would it do for some radio listener to protest the next time the Rev. John Roach is booked to deliver one of his fundamentalist diatribes, and then have him and the broadcasting persons pinched if they failed to heed the remonstrance. Since for the goose should be sauce for the gander.

ONE VACATION

A far departure from the conventional vacation is the journey on which Judge W. J. Malone of Bristol, with his wife and daughter and a friend, is now engaged. They are making a leisurely trip down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers from Pittsburgh to New Orleans on a specially built light draught cabin cruiser propelled by outboard motor.

A tremendous amount of history has been made in the region through which their travels are taking them. It was the Ohio valley that most importantly served as the avenue of advance for the white man's civilization, as the gateway for the winning of the West. From the point where a blockhouse in the wilderness was erected by the British at George Washington's suggestion, to be succeeded by the French Fort Duquesne and again by the village of Pittsburgh, all the long way to Cairo, there is hardly a mile that is not redolent of heroic deeds that bear closely on the whole scheme of America's development. Nor is the lower Mississippi valley lacking, though its memories are oftener those of romance than of vital history building.

Yet aside from the commercial relations of those regions to the rest of the country, very few New Englanders know much about them, save in an occasional vague and bookish way. An intimate study of these historic scenes under the conditions established by the Malone party can hardly fail to prove fascinating.

The concrete highway ties no bond with the wilderness, even though it take us through where wilderness once was. But there are stretches of the Ohio, and especially of the Mississippi, where the aspect of this land of ours is but very little different from that in the days of Daniel Boone. And the ever changing rivers are changeless after all.

JUST TALK

Senator Nye, of North Dakota, is one of the youngest of senators, and he talks the part. He is the latest recruit to trot out that forlorn hope of the unreconstructed secessionist, a combination of the West and South which would either go off its own and walk right out of the Union or seize control of the government and run the country for the exclusive benefit of the agricultural states, letting the congested millions in the big cities and industrial centers get along as best they might.

If Senator Nye has the good fortune to stay in the Senate two or three terms more and add a dozen years more of years to the period of his experiences he will probably look upon this part of his record without any particular enthusiasm.

Ten years after the war of the Rebellion it was a favorite threat that "next time the West would join with the South." But it is a good while, now, since it dawned on the vast majority of both Southerners and Westerners that it is considerable of a stunt to run an agricultural country without any market; and that if the tall wags the dog till it was him over a cliff there are inescapable reasons why the tall must go over the cliff along with the dog.

Mr. Nye is a bright young man—too bright to long keep on talking this South-and-West twaddle.

EVERYBODY WRONG

Everybody who has ever said anything about the troubles of China is wrong. That is, nobody has ever said anything about the Chinese situation which somebody else hasn't contradicted. And the queer thing about it is that one so seldom reads an opinion about what is going on in China. Almost everything written and printed on the subject is extraordinarily positive, not to say didactic—set down as indisputable fact. For some inexplicable reason apparently it is impossible for a European or American to go to China, investigate the situation as well as he can and write his impressions, without becoming infatuated with the idea that he is the only non-Chinese in the world who understands the people and the politics of that harassed land. And without being utterly impatient with and intolerant of everything that the other fellows have written.

We are rapidly coming to the conclusion that nobody knows anything about China, anyhow, except the Chinese—and probably not more than two or three of them.

EAST SIDE, WEST SIDE

To what extent the morals of Tammany will enter into the coming political campaign in case Al Smith is the Presidential candidate of the Democracy is problematical, but it isn't easy to see how they can be kept out altogether, however hard the Democrats try. The "sidewalks of New York" may not prove such an alluring campaign song if the opposition starts singing, in view of the street cleaning graft developments:

East side, west side, All around the town, They paid the whitewings' payroll And they pull the shekels down; All the boys together, They loosen up the cork And pass the old graft bottle On the pavements of New York.

A Presidential candidate who is compelled to go to the people sponsored by an organization which is in the midst of indictment and trial for grand larceny for stealing street cleaning money is out of luck. It looks as though that were going to be Al's fate.

SHIVERS

Here is another intellectual gentleman who loses his pole over the D. A. R. blacklist. "There is no more sinister menace than this confronting the nation," declared President Clifton Gray of Bates College at the 108rd annual meeting of the Rhode Island Baptists in state convention at Pawtucket yesterday.

It is easy to imagine the reactionary leaders of the Massachusetts D. A. R. as being suddenly filled, almost to the bursting point, with prideful joy at being thus accredited with so much influence over the destinies of the nation.

President Gray, estimable educator as he is, must lack all sense of humor. To describe the whimsies of that tiny body of women who constitute the Bay State D. A. R. membership as capable of menacing American liberties by solemnly voting Bishop Anderson a traitor is merely silly.

As a matter of fact the blacklist of the Massachusetts D. A. R. is a mere refuge of the timorous. Having no confidence in the capacity of its members to resist the lure of rational liberalism, its leaders have simply taken steps to prevent them from hearing anything but the twaddle of the professional super-patriot and flag-waver. It is just a little funny when these tremblings and shiverings are termed a national menace.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER.

Washington, May 16.—The possibility that Mayor Bill Thompson of Chicago will send one of his negro ward leaders here as a congressman reminds me of old Tom Corwin, a representative from Ohio who came here as a Whig nearly 90 years ago.

Corwin was so dark that, like some Latin-American diplomats of the present day, he was taken for an African. Instead of being sore about it, he used to enjoy it. He always said that he never would need work for he could cross the river into Kentucky, give himself up to a slave-trader and be sold into the cotton fields.

Once when he was addressing a Whig mass meeting at Marietta, being extremely anxious to straddle the slavery issue as it then existed, there, without offending the extreme Abolitionists, his complexion saved the day for him.

"Shouldn't niggers be permitted to sit at table with white folks, on steamboats and at hotels?" asked one of his opponents in the crowd.

"Fellow citizens," demanded Corwin, "I ask you whether it's fair to ask such a question of a gentleman of my color?"

"To me," writes a New York editor to your correspondent concerning Harry Sinclair's acquittal, "the situation is amazing and somewhat discouraging—that public sentiment is so quiescent. It looks to me as if the jury system had pretty nearly broken down in America."

It looks that way to other thoughtful persons, including some of the best statesmen hereabouts, but none has been able to devise a satisfactory substitute for the jury system. Twelve men good and dumb have been convicting innocent men and releasing guilty men ever since juries were first used, though there is no way to determine the percentage of error. Suggestions that judges be given more latitude in clearing the air for juries after lawyers have filled it with smoke screens are met by the fact that the judges have been showing a tendency to abuse their power and by misuse of injunctions and contempt proceedings and that many of them even now take pains to air their personal opinions in the courtroom as often as they can get away with it. The jury system is admittedly an improvement over the old system of throwing defendants into ponds, to be proved innocent in case they sank.

The reform likely to make the most headway in the immediate future concerns murder trials. Some steps have already been taken to end the great joke of confronting juries with double sets of estimable alienists to testify that the prisoner is both sane and a lunatic.

Uncle Walter D. Jameson, former Iowa congressman, former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and now editor of the Window Seat, is the boldest predictor of them all.

Jameson says neither Hoover nor Smith will be nominated. "The politicians will name the Republican nominee and they're agin Hoover," says Jameson. "The politicians among the Democrats would name Smith, but the two-thirds rule prevents. In each case it's the politicians against the people."

Jameson is associated here with the temporarily impotent progressive wing of his party and keeps in touch with the Iowa farmers, and he predicts a third party if Smith and Hoover should be nominated. He seems to qualify as the most sublime optimist in Washington.

Since the primaries in Ohio, California and Massachusetts there has been a notable decrease in the local tongue-wagging that Hoover would be a poor voter-getter and that Smith was weak outside New York. Both candidates seem to be quite widely known.

Ten billions of cells, slowly and with complete exactitude, take their appointed places to form the human brain, says a prominent physician. No wonder it seems hard sometimes for a thought to escape all those cells.

New York, May 16 — Random notes from an afternoon's ramble in Manhattan—Broadway money is now called "spotlight cash" . . . For that matter, whatever became of "spot cash"? . . . And Walter Winchell, who is in the slang business, tells me that "moogling" is the word that will take the place of "necking," "spooning" or whatever you used to call it. A minstrel troupe is playing in the Bowery . . . And not far from a spot where "no white woman was safe" not so many years ago . . . And a Chinese theater troupe is appearing in a Chinatown theater that once housed the roughest of the rough . . . In Washington Square three Italian lads sing you "Frankie and Johnnie" while polishing their boots . . . And caviar can now be bought in the 5 and 10-cent stores at 10 cents per each . . . They tell me no chorine can resist the bargain . . . And when you consider that any street beggar can now boast of caviar for lunch, what's going to become of the "high hats"? . . . I fully expect to see the day when Park Avenue will go in for beans and corned beef hash. A Greenwich Village barber shop has placed in the window which offers all and sundry a sun-burned appearance . . . "Fashion as applied by our experts, is guaranteed to give that popular out-of-town-for-the-week-end tan," says the sign . . . Which reminds me that Broadway is now flooded with sunlight ray machines . . . "Night-life pallor" is the brand worn by those who seldom see the sun . . . When warm days come they grow self-conscious in the presence of those who have spent the daylight hours at golf. They rush to the nearest Alpine ray machine and reappear with a sunburn. Barber shops have recently gone in for the application of "tan complexioners" which survive soap and water for several weeks. "Jo-Jo" remains the strangest of Broadway's characters. Even his moniker is a bit odder than any other. Perhaps "Jo-Jo" would not have become so widely known had it not been for an old friendship with Irving Berlin. He happened to be a Nigger Mike's in the days when Berlin was a singing waiter. The two sang together and Berlin became a successful public figure. Jo-Jo just drifted along. Jo-Jo still sings about bars, or whatever you care to call them in these days. Songs have come and songs have gone, and Jo-Jo knows the old ones and the new ones. Everyone in the "racket" knows him. He's as famous in his anonymity as Berlin is in his limelight. The other night I recognized him in one of the plays of the old Bowery days now so popular on Broadway. He fitted ideally into the scene, for he is a part of the scene; part of its life and its color.

And they tell me that Irving Berlin has a little habit of making a rendezvous with Jo-Jo who, at the moment, may be singing the latest Berlin hit in an East Side dive. Anyway the old cronies get together and talk of the "days when." Meanwhile the newspapers leap for big headline type whenever Irving Berlin adds a baby to his family, while Jo-Jo can get a speaking part in a Broadway hit without gaining so much as mention in the critical notices. The coal signs have disappeared and ice signs are up. . . Billy Gaxton, the musical comedy gent, has appeared in a green felt hat, tan suit, red tie, yellow spats, blue shirt, pink carnation, malacca stick. . . A tiny crenel that travels by motortruck has pitched its tent in the Bronx. . . Girls appear in hiking trousers in the suburbs. . . The brigade of "hatless Harrys" is once more abroad in the land. . . Summer must be just around the corner! GILBERT SWAN. The blight, first noticed in 1904 near New York City, has spread over New England and West Virginia. It is estimated that most of the remaining stands of chestnut in the southern Appalachians will be killed by the blight during the next 20 or 25 years unless something occurs to stop it. Useful and beautiful, the chestnut is valuable for its lumber, tannin and edible nuts. Chestnut lumber is used principally for planning mill products, caskets and coffins, musical instruments, boxes and crates. It finds a large use as a core stock for veneers in the manufacture of furniture. Tables, desks, bureaus and pianos frequently are made with a chestnut backing covered with a thin veneer of oak, maple, walnut or mahogany. Considerable quantities are cut for poles, ties, fence posts and fuel. The wood is moderately light in weight, brown in color, straight grained, and durable. Chestnut is the main source of tanning extract for the leather industry. Most of the remaining chestnut

Then Up Rose Ibn Saud

London.—Ibn Saud, the Cromwell of the desert, has declared a holy war on the Mohammedans of Iraq and Koweit and that brings Great Britain, as their protector, into the picture.

And that means further heavy financial drain on the already overburdened British taxpayer, just when he was hoping the chancellor of the exchequer could give him some relief.

The British press affects to treat this little war lightly, but the editors are talking through their hats—and know it. For once the Arabs begin to get stirred up, unrest will seize all the Moslems in all the eastern countries which Great Britain rules or mandates.

Not a Health Project Let's get the layout as to the lands and men involved: Great Britain has more commitments in western Asia than any other power. She has the mandate for Palestine which is largely Arab. Just across the Jordan river there is the little state of Transjordan.

To the northeast across Arabia there Iraq, formerly called Mesopotamia.

Further south there is the little principality of Koweit with the important harbor of the same name. Great Britain is not in there for its health. It is there to protect Egypt and to the road to India.

It is interested in Iraq because of the rich "Mesopot" oil wells.

It is interested in Koweit because it is one of the best harbors on the Persian gulf and is the center of the pearl fisheries. At one time, Britain sustained an Arab state known as the Hedjaz, which contained the two Moslem holy cities—Mecca and Medina, and the big stretch of Arabian railway line.

It went all out for the Arab Hashimite House. It set up King Hussein as the king of Hedjaz. It made his son Feisal, king of Iraq. It made his other son, Abdullah, king of Transjordan.

Wahabis Good Fighters Everything was running fairly nice and smooth until Ibn Saud began to stir. He was the ruler of Nejd, one of the great Arabian states. He was the head of the Wahabi tribes. Now the Wahabis are to the Moslem world what the Puritans were to the Protestant world in the days of Cromwell.

The Wahabis, like the Puritans, are religious fanatics. The Wahabis, like the Puritans, are wonderful fighters. The Wahabis base themselves upon the literal text of the Koran, just as the Puritans based themselves upon the literal text of the Holy Bible. They disdain the use of silk and gold, the use of tobacco and the drinking of wine just as did the Puritans. The Wahabis see the Moslems all around them growing lax as the Puritans saw their fellow Christians.

So one day, under the leadership of their ruler, Ibn Saud, they started war on England's puppet king of the Hedjaz and soon kicked him out. Wherefore Mecca and Medina passed into the hands of Ibn Saud and he became virtual master of all Arabia. He was a man to be reckoned with.

The English did the reckoning—and the praying. For some years on his agreement to be a good boy they paid him something like $300,000 per annum. He also got supplies and munitions. Lately some of his wild tribesmen have been raiding territory in Koweit. The British Royal Air Force has resorted to bombing the tribes.

Admits He Was Wrong Ibn Saud held off for a long time but found that some of his best tribesmen were becoming dissatisfied with his attitude. So recently he called a conference at his capital. He told the chiefs they had been right and he had been wrong. He would now support them to the limit with men, money, food and munitions.

His territory is strategically situated like Germany was in the last war. He can fight in the west and attack Transjordan or he can fight in the east and attack Iraq and Koweit.

The principal British strength in these states is the Royal Air Force, which has 15 bombing planes, a dozen Bristol fighters, armored cars and a section of railway with armored cars running from Shaibar to Ur of the Chaldees, Abraham's home town. At Koweit the British have an armored cruiser and two sloops.

The Royal Air Force does not sound very formidable against 25,000 fanatical Arab tribesmen mounted on swift camels and capable of marching 40 days. And the warm season is about to start in the desert when temperatures in the daytime register 135 degrees Fahrenheit.

Bomb vs. Rifle But one bomber can wreak immense damage on a force of mounted foes. The only Arab weapon of counter offense is the rifle which is not much good against a swift-flying airplane. But at that, if the war goes on it is a fairly safe bet that the world will see England sending troops from India to land at Koweit and strengthening her garrisons throughout her mandated territories.

The thing is specially serious for Great Britain at this time because she is having trouble with Mohamadan Egypt, which shows every sign of wanting to break away completely from British tutelage.

The latest productions from America that have met with favor are "The Spider" and "The Trial of Mary Dugan," both of which still are current in New York. There was almost unanimous praise of "The Spider," although its tactics are revolutionary, and "The Trial of Mary Dugan" has gone over with a bang.

American residents who are interested in the stage and its amenities are asking themselves what has caused the decided change of opinion among the critics. It has long been a byword that London critics can make or break a play quicker than anyone else in the world, and in these two instances the repturous approval of the professional playgoers appears to have assured both productions of successful runs.

Easier For U. S. Plays. They seem to have made little or no objection to the "Americanisms" in either play, and even showered compliments on the stage manager of the house where "Mary Dugan" is playing, because he took the not unoriginal action of bedecking the front of the theater with signs identifying it as "Part 31; Supreme Court of New York." Those who have seen the play will remember that its action takes place in a courtroom during a murder trial.

Another play which met the unflinching approval of the critics is S. N. Behrman's "The Second Man." In the past, American plays have had to achieve success in England in spite of the critics, but the events of the last few weeks have indicated that some of the apparently ingrained animosity may be lessening, and that productions from New York may henceforth have a less difficult task in entrenching themselves for successful

The total indebtedness of these municipalities last year was approximately $110,000,000; the grand list, $2,544,250,337 and the taxation receipts, $59,739,979. In 1904, the respective totals were $32,520,460, $677,396,711, and $8,925,314, while in 1924 they were $100,605,804, $2,144,303,460 and $52,940,667.

The total indebtedness of municipalities has been steadily increasing year after year. Back in 1880 it amounted to $17,355,995. By 1900 it had increased $10,000,000 to $27,624,827 and in 1916 it was $60,390,633. Since 1916 the total indebtedness has been increasing at the rate of approximately $5,000,000 a year.

The 1924 report of the tax commissioner on municipal finances gave the net indebtedness of counties, cities, boroughs, towns and fire districts as $93,454,970, an increase of 27.27% over the amount reported in 1920. The net indebtedness in 1908 was $34,886,237. That year the per capita net indebtedness of municipalities was $32.25, as compared with $62.89 for 1924.

The percentage of net indebtedness of municipalities to the grand list as returned by the towns was greater in 1908 than in 1924, being 4.73% in 1908 and 4.36% in 1924. The municipalities expended $4,368,311 for interest on indebtedness in 1924 and $1,484,781 in 1908.

AMERICAN ARTISTS IN PARIS HOLD ANNUAL SHOW AT KNOEDLER'S

Paris.—The exhibition of the "Croupe des Peintres et Sculpteurs Americains" now being held at the Knoedler Gallery, in the Place Vendome, was in all respects an American show and illustrates the main currents of American art work, besides indicating the size of the American art colony in the French capital.

This group of artists, which exhibits annually in Paris and America, includes some of the most brilliant members of the American group. All of them have lived in France for some time, yet they remain distinctly American artists and their work shows a certain richness, vitality and variety which could come from no other nation.

Adolphe Dehn is showing some of the most interesting works in the show—dry-brush ink and wash drawings with a definite Chinese influence. Frederick Frieseke, without whom no American exhibition would be complete, shows the soft methods of his master, Renoir. Oscar Gleibich shows splendid control of hue and tone in three street scenes and a still life.

Myron Chester Nutting, who is almost well-known in French circles shows remarkable virtuosity in four paintings, one of them the "Portrait of Madame E. P. K."

Waldo Pierce, of New York City, gives an almost calligraphic impression of a "corrida" and the portrait of "Halmina" is delightfully pictorial. Eugene Paul Ullman has contributed some pleasant landscapes.

During the summer months the show will go to the United States and will be exhibited in various important American cities. Two or three French artists will also send their works with the group.

CEMETERY SPREES BAD ON THE PASSERS-BY

Old Story Recalled Today After Party in Local Burial Ground.

When a group of local men went to a cemetery here yesterday on a liquor spree it called to the minds of older residents an incident that always gets a laugh when re-told. As the story has come down the years it may have been somewhat altered, but its present form goes thus: A man rather voluminously under the influence of liquor wandered up the east end of Bissell street without realizing where he was bound. He stumbled and fell, and being too much "under" to arise simply went to sleep where he fell. In the process of thus retiring he reached out for the imaginary bed coverings so that he might be comfortable in his easily found bed.

Early the next morning a man who worked in one of the local paper mills was cutting through the cemetery to begin his day's labors. He passed close to the spot where a grave was being dug. Near it was a common wooden grave box. As the workman was passing, off went the cover of the box, out popped a head saying "what time is it, mister?"

The now sobered individual never got an answer from that man and the paper worker never went through the cemetery any faster than he did that morning.

FOUR STRONG MEN

A Ford closed car, driven by a woman, on being backed out of a parking place near the Home Bank and Trust Co., Main street this forenoon, locked a rear hub under the mudguard of a Velle sedan parked alongside and neither car could be moved by its own power without risking damage to the Velle. Four able-bodied volunteers from neighboring stores gathered about the rear of the Ford, lifted it bodily and set it down half a foot away, solving the problem.

ASK $150,000 FOR CHAIR OF AMERICAN HISTORY IN UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

London.—For the purpose of establishing a Chair of American History in the University of London, where a lectureship already exists, a London Committee has been formed to cooperate with the Committee formed in New York in 1926 in furtherance of the movement.

The object of the movement is to raise a capital sum of $150,000 the income from which will be used for the salary of the Professor and to some extent for the provision and maintenance of a library of American history in connection with the chair.

Lord Loch, well known in British literary circles, has been chairman of the committee.

GOVERNOR SMITH ASKED TO EXTRADICT BLACKMER

Sought as Witness in Senate Probe of the Continental Trading Co.

New York, May 16.—Governor Smith wrote today to U. S. Senator Gerald F. Nye in Washington asking for additional information before possible extradition proceedings are started by the state of New York to return Harry Blackmer from France.

Blackmer, alleged to have been connected with the mysterious Continental Trading Co., is wanted to testify before the Senate Committee investigating the Teapot Dome and other oil leases. When sought as a witness several months ago he went to France, refusing to appear before the committee.

Alleging that Blackmer, with others unnamed, had entered into a criminal conspiracy in New York to defraud the federal government, Senator Nye wrote to Governor Smith last week asking him to have Blackmer indicted here for criminal conspiracy so that he might be extradited from France.

Doctor at 83 Found People Preferred His Prescription

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination ofenna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with

And when Mr. Dean came forward and placed an arm in fatherly attitude across her shoulder, Virginia was certain she detected disapproval in the slight lift of Mrs. Farley's eyebrows.

Slight as the incident was it seemed to hold them all in a spell of awkwardness for no one could mistake the flash of real anger that flared in Mrs. Farley's countenance.

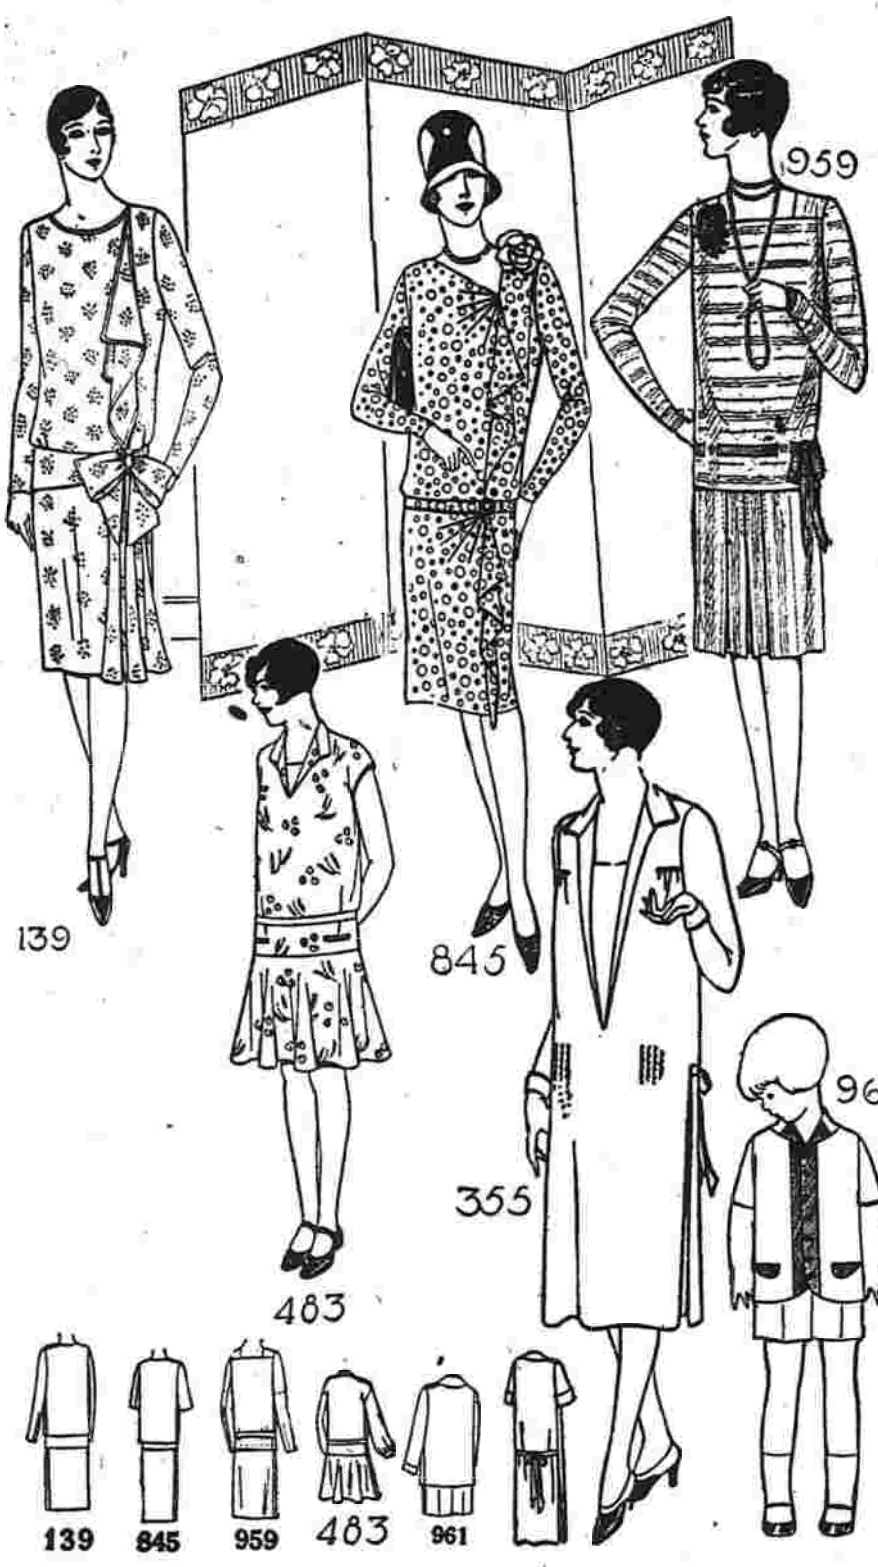

"Beautiful, isn't she?" Clarissa murmured, addressing Mrs. Farley. "For her type," she replied.

"Oh, well," Clarissa said, backing water now. "Of course gray eyes and brown hair aren't rare, Russell."

"I think not, I'm sure you three will have more sport without me." Mrs. Farley looked at him hard.

And he had the nerve to get as mad as a wet rooster because I forgot what I went down there for. He had so many things he wanted me to ask about, and of course I forgot about half of them.

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

Parent and child problems have been treated quite fully by the story writers. Both sides. One reads a heart-wringing Fanny Hurst story about the old maid daughter who "never had a chance at her own life" because somebody had to look after mother...

But I believe that on the whole fiction gives the old folks the "better breaks." Modern viewpoint may say that no child asked to be born should be a burden to his parents...

It is, granted. But parents hand so many "raw deals" to youth that perhaps a voice must occasionally speak up for the same thing from the parents' viewpoint.

Quote Even Money Today On Mandell-McLarnin Go

But Walsh Says He'll Put His Cash, If He Has Any, on the Former to Win the Match.

By DAVIS J. WALSH I. N. S. Sports Editor

New York, May 16.—Somewhere in the same ward with the third baseman who thought Babe Ruth was going to hunt should be carefully confined the gent or gents who thought Sammy Mandell was worth eight dollars against Jimmy McLarnin's five for the lightweight championship meeting at the Polo Grounds tomorrow night.

Both are taken for granted and on faith, that being the only thing to do in a case like this—take them. They must be wrong or they wouldn't even claim they did it.

However, it is not the writer's wish to suggest that Mandell is due to blow this one. The claim that Samuel will cake-walk to the decision has been so insistent I am almost convinced that he will. He looks like a man who is worth a bet and the kind I mean is the $10,000 bet that is supposed to have been made at even money last night.

The idea in this transaction was that those who figured in it were a couple of big coffee men from the automat or something and it was the sport of the thing and not the money that counted.

That eight to five earlier in the week was a mild form of dementia. The seven to five prevailing today droved a turn for the better, although not quite a symptom of impending convalescence. The mugg who is a very sick man and won't recover until they give away sense with the horse.

It may or may not be important that those who like Mandell so well are about the same worthies who said Sid Terris was a push-in against McLarnin. They thought weight-making would get James that time.

The fight does figure that way, at that, provided everything is carried through according to script. If it isn't, nothing will be carried through, not even Mandell. He won't be nothing out. The right hand that leveled Terris in the first minute of play is one of the finest the writer ever has seen.

Can he hit Mandell with it? Most of the smart players say he can't and won't, to my way of fighting, makes this a pretty good bet. But these smart boys have gone a bit too far in the matter. They are declaring that nobody can hit Mandell with a right hand and I know that's wrong.

Terris had him on the Axminster here a couple of years ago and Sidney never saw the moment he could hit with McLarnin. Billy Petrolie also hurt Samuel that way in a recent fight.

PLAYS ALL INFIELD POSITIONS Marty McManus of the Detroit Tigers, can play every position on the infield. He was used at second and short last season, and has played third and first for the Tigers this year.

INSTALLED AS FAVORITES Although the meet is several weeks off, Stanford's track team already has been installed as a heavy favorite to win the I. C. 4-A bonors at Harvard this year.

New York Yankees are making a farce of the American League race, the National League scramble is the closest to a free-for-all seen in that organization in years.

The Reds dropped into a tie with the Cubs for the lead by losing to the Phillies yesterday, five to three, when Donald Hurst, rookie first baseman obtained by the Phils from the International League last week, clouted a homer with two on.

The Cubs outslugged the Giants, ten to seven, sweeping the series and stretching their winning streak to ten straight. The Bruins walloped sixteen hits and scored seven runs in their last two times at bat.

George Harper, obtained by the Cardinals from the Giants because of his penchant for hitting home runs, performed his specialty with one man on. This blow, coupled with Hafe's homer, gave the Cards a three to one verdict over Boston.

Brooklyn Lambasted Pittsburgh for the third time in a row, sending the champions into sixth place. The weak-hitting Robins collected sixteen hits and won in a romp, 10 to 2.

In the American League the Yankees have copped twelve of their last thirteen starts, have won six straight and have taken ten out of eleven from the western clubs, making a clean sweep against Chicago and Detroit. Two homers and a triple by Babe Ruth featured their 12 to 3 win over the Tigers yesterday.

The Athletics refuse to give up the ghost, however. They beat Cleveland again, 5 to 0, and squared the series. Daddy Tris Speaker smacked three doubles and the venerable John Pius Quinn allowed only six hits in registering his fourth straight victory.

The rejuvenated Red Sox, now composed mainly of veterans, have created a furor up in Boston by winning four straight. Ruffing won a three to one pitching duel over Ogdin of the St. Louis Browns in the final game. The Sox have risen to the dizzy heights of a tie with the Senators for fifth place.

Washington couldn't hit Ted Lyons in the pinches and lost 3 to 2 in a verdict to the White Sox, who got an even break in the series.

A full program of activities faces Manchester lodge before the summer suspension of work. On Tuesday, May 22 the Master degree will be conferred on two candidates. On June 12 the entered apprentice degree will be conferred, and on the following Tuesday night the following craft degree.

TAKES MANY PHOTOS OF SCHOOL GROUPS

Morris Pasternack of the Elite Studio was busy yesterday afternoon taking pictures of various high school organizations which will be used in the commencement issue of Somnibus Events, the school paper.

Among the groups photographed were the F. R. school orchestra, glee club, Rock and Buskin Dramatic Club faculty, H. Y. group, swimming team, baseball team, tennis team, track team and A. H. leaders' class. Pictures of the football and basketball team were taken some time ago. The senior class picture is yet to be taken. This is being delayed because some of the class have part-time jobs and it is difficult to get them together.

FLYERS OFF FOR DETROIT

St. Louis, Mo., May 16.—The Bremen flyers, following a triumphant two-day visit in St. Louis, prepared to hop off today for Detroit, the next official stopping place on their tour of American and Canadian cities.

The celebration tendered the three heroes came to a climax last night with a monster banquet in their honor. The Three Musketeers of the air replied briefly to toasts. Baron von Huenefeld and Captain Koehli tried bravely to express themselves in English, but frequently resorted to German to help them out.

FEW CHANGES DUE IN 9TH DISTRICT TEACHERS

Only One New Instructor in High School Expected With the New Year.

Superintendent Fred A. Verplanck of the Ninth School District stated this morning that there would be the smallest number of changes in the teaching staff of the district next September than ever before in the town's history.

Although the list of teaching personnel for the 1928-9 school is not yet completed and has not been accepted by the school authorities, Superintendent Verplanck said that there would not be more than seven or eight new teachers in the district next term.

It is understood that there will be only one change in the High School faculty and that the remainder will be in the grade schools.

A student lamp, made in 1843, has been presented to Yale College used to be regarded as places to study, you know.

INSURANCE UNION OFFICERS INSTALLED

American Insurance Union members turned out in large numbers for the installation of the new officers and a supper in Tinker hall last evening.

Out of town guests included Kenneth Wayne, supreme vice president of the order, Frank Tyler, state representative for Connecticut, both men are residents of New Haven. Mr. Wayne gave a talk about the new citadel at the headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, and interesting facts of the order. Mr. Tyler spoke in a humorous vein and remarked that his colleagues left nothing for him to say. Others who made remarks were John Anderson of Hartford, who was a delegate to the national convention at Columbus last fall; the president of the Hartford lodge, Mrs. Farrell and several others from Hartford.

Stephen Beebe was the installing officer, assisted by Andrew Ellison, and the officers inducted in office are:

President, Alexander Hanna.
Vice president, Mrs. Georgina Zimmerman.
Past president, Mrs. Margaret Griffin.
Chaplain, Miss Lottie Orr.
Treasurer and cashier, John Hall.
Secretary, Mrs. Emma Dowd.
Custodian, Mrs. John Zimmerman.
Marshal, Mrs. Rachel Munroe.
Warder, Mrs. Emma Hanson.
Trustees, Stephen Beebe, Mrs. Jennie Beebe, Mrs. Rachel Munroe.

The meeting was followed by a supper consisting of salads, cold meats and other good things served by the ladies.

S. S. STUDENTS TO PRESENT A PLAY

"The House That Moved Away" to Replace Regular Sessions Sunday.

As a special feature of the church school session next Sunday morning at the Second Congregational church and as a means of broadcasting some missionary information, a playlet entitled "The House That Moved Away" will be presented in place of the regular lessons.

The cast of eighteen characters are members of the school and will represent in the story, a group of Spanish-speaking harvesters on a large bean plantation in the southwestern part of the United States. They appear to have come over the border from Mexico.

The cast follows:
Angelina, a child struck by auto, Ella De Varney.
Margarita, her sister, Betty Barry.
The mother, Frances Strickland.
The grandmother, Phyllis Falow.
Passenger in Auto, Dorothy Walton.
David the chauffeur, Hewitt Wildson.
Scouts who give "First Aid", Harry Howland, Frank Simon.
Harvesters in bean field, Agnes Shearer, Ruth Allen Raymond Allen.
Nurse at hospital, Bertha Lapp.
Hospital patients at picnic, Ella DeVarney, Geraldine Tenney, Eleanor Robertson, Bernice Pohlman, George Palmer, Burton Tuttle, Erwin Morlin.

The church school opens at 9:30 a. m. and visitors are cordially invited to come and see the play, which will be given in the vestry of the church, after the opening exercises.

BRUSH FIRE ALARM. A brush fire caused an alarm from Box 23 at the corner of Liberty and Hemlock streets late yesterday. There is a deep ravine to the north of Hemlock street and Anderson street and fire there caused the alarm. The blaze was pretty well strangled out when the firemen arrived and there was little for them to do.

Here is an ordinary reaper in action. Sometimes four or five are hitched to a tractor, which does the work much more quickly.

THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE: (290) Field to Mill
Sketches by Bessey; Synopsis by Braucher

In the great wheat raising sections sights like this are common. The wheat has been weighed and the bags sewed up. Horses or a traction engine, draw it to the railroad. It may be ground into flour there, or may be taken to a mill elsewhere, or perhaps may cross the ocean. The motor truck has supplanted the horse in most big farm districts.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Leap Year Ladies Girls!!! Oh, Girls!!! Now's your chance. To do your "stuff" right at this dance. This is Leap Year, so don't be slow. Grab your sheik—and then—Let's go.

The sky is brightest when bluest, but it's different with a man.

Eve: "I think a young man should give his fiancée plenty of rope." Earnest: "Well, I did with mine—and she skipped!"

About the only difference between the "cake eater" of today and the "dude" of the past century is that the dude is dead.

Ambition, the desire to be first, is the raw material from which successes are made.

All things come to him who waits, including many he wasn't waiting for.

There's that silly old taxidermist ordering dinner for his flapper assistant. Yeah. He's stuffing her and she's skinning him.

He: "What's the matter? Don't you like the way I make love?" She: "No. Why can't you make love to me like a knight of old?" He: "Do you mean to say you'd like to sit on a cast iron knee?"

Nurse: "Yes, you were kept alive for three weeks on brandy." Patient: "Just my luck—me being unconscious all the time."

Maid—I'm afraid these new shoes are much too small for me.

Movie Star—That's why I got them. I have to register a lot of anguish in the film today.

Tested A flapper tried to cross the street. Without a glance at the signal block. And as confusion mixed her feet. She hit the pavement with a shock.

Six cars ran o'er her lying there. So helpless, pale and very faint. But when they fanned her face so fair. They found not one had scratched her paint.

The chances are that within a season or two, all the costume a bathing beauty will require will be a box of axle grease.

Eskimo women chew boot leather and Manchester women chew the rag.

Professor: "Mr. Wed, give us the definition of a bachelor."

Wed: "A bachelor is a man that didn't have a car in his younger days."

The earnings of the bootlegger business are very well named when they are referred to as "the gross receipts."

Bill—"Say, Jack, how did you get that red on your lips?" Jack—"That's my tag for parking too long in one place."

It isn't difficult to teach the heathen to wear clothes. They don't see any news photographs.

LETTER GOLF

THIS ONE'S VIOLENT!

Here's a musical one for today—from BASS to VIOL in eight strokes. Perhaps you can beat the par solution on another page.

Grid for letter golf with words BASS and VIOL.

THE RULES

- 1-The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.

The Indians may have had their faults in the old days, but they surely knew how to pick their summers.

THE TINYMITES

Course Clowny was a lazy lad, and then his arms seemed very sore. "I've done my share," he loudly cried. "It's Cappy's turn I guess." So Cappy jumped up with a yell. He did his sawing very well. The Tines laughed at Clowny 'cause his turn had been a mess. The sawing made a lot of noise, and then the woodsman said, "Well, boys, your task is almost finished, and I'm mighty glad of that. Right soon we'll take a long, long tramp, away up to the lumber camp. Look out! The tree is tottering, and soon it will fall flat." The Tines scampered here and there. A roaring sound came through the air. "Run far away," yelled Scouty. "It's not safe to be around!" And then the monstrous forest tree slid down as nicely as could be. It sent a gust of wind out as it landed on the ground.

(The Tines have a long ride in the next story.)

PHONES Pinehurst "GOOD THINGS TO EAT"

KIDS' APPETITES

This may be a backward spring, but the kind of weather we have been having lately has been wonderful for the kids, just the same. They have been able to get outdoors a lot, and it has been cool enough for them to put an unlimited amount of vim into their play. And how they do eat, as a result!

If betting were not sinful we'd almost be willing to risk a wee wager that Manchester boys and girls from seven to fifteen have eaten twenty-five per cent more in the last two weeks than in any other two weeks since last fall. Anyhow, it seems so from the purchases of families with a lot of youngsters.

Pinehurst has a good many such families among its customers. It is getting more and more of them all the time. You see, we rather specially try to look after the interest of this class of customers. We realize the problem of keeping within the budget where there is a houseful of kiddies; and lots of times we can tip the family provider to especially good buys that will make the day's food appropriation go a bit further. When we can we always do.

Pinehurst doesn't know of any better way of holding customers than to do everything it can to make those budgets reach all the way.
