

LABOR ISSUES TO BE STRESSED BY CANDIDATE

Hoover to Make It His Topic for Labor Day Address in Baltimore; Campaign Now On.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Refreshed by two days rest, and apparently in good trim for any kind of political stunts, Herbert Hoover, the Republican presidential nominee, today plunged into a series of conferences which will decide the immediate future of the Republican campaign on the eastern seaboard.

The first major question to be decided by Hoover and his aides is whether the nominee shall go before the country with an elaboration of his views on labor in a Labor Day speech one week from today.

Although Republican leaders boast that Hoover is stronger with labor than any other party candidate since Roosevelt, the bid which Governor Alfred E. Smith made for the working man's vote in his acceptance address, has caused many advisers to suggest to Hoover that he make it the exclusive subject of one speech.

Approve Bargaining

It was pointed out that both candidates have approved collective bargaining, promised a fair deal to labor and recognized the injunction problem. Smith, however, went so much into detail on the injunction question that many Republican leaders believe that he will make a campaign issue of it.

In accepting the nomination Hoover referred to the question by saying: "The Republican Party gives the pledge of the party to the support of labor. It endorses the principle of collective bargaining and freedom in labor negotiations. We stand also pledged to the curtailment of excessive use of the injunction in labor disputes."

May Pick Baltimore

Hoover has received Labor Day invitations from several cities, but if he leaves Washington to speak on that occasion it is believed that he will choose Baltimore and broadcast the address.

The whole trend of discussion around the Hoover headquarters deals with the east. An official declaration representing the views of National Chairman Hubert Vork concedes that in the west only Missouri, Montana, Arizona, and Wis-

BOSTON BUS SKIDS; 15 PERSONS HURT

Three Seriously Injured When Truck is Side- swiped In Norwalk.

Norwalk, Conn., Aug. 27.—Three persons were seriously injured and a dozen others badly hurt here today when a New York-Boston bus skidded on Army Hill, Boston Post Road, and sideswiped a truck.

Miss Mary McDonald, 19, of 11 Hanna street, Quincy, Mass., was hurt so badly that hospital authorities report here recovery doubtful. Miss McDonald has concussion of the brain and possible fractured skull.

Harry Klayman, 38, of 40 Whalen street, Roxbury, Mass., had his left ear pierced by a piece of glass and is in dangerous condition. Klayman's son Edward, 14, has general contusions but is not considered seriously hurt.

Six Others Hurt
Six others were shaken up but left without being treated by physicians.

DEMOCRATS TO CONCENTRATE ON THE EAST

Smith May Not Speak in West on Coast or in Border States—Itinerary Not Completed.

Springlake, N. J., Aug. 27.—Although greatly impressed by the demonstrations he received in his week-end visit to New Jersey, Gov. Alfred E. Smith will return to New York today prepared to tell his party managers that he intends to concentrate his campaign in a half dozen eastern states.

The governor is said to have reached this decision after a series of conferences with Democratic leaders of New Jersey. They told him that they considered the state was "safe" for him, and they issued statements predicting he would carry it by 200,000, but in the next breath they told him he had better plan to deliver at least two of his major speeches in this state.

Not to Go West

So convinced is Smith that the real battleground of the presidential fight lies in the eastern states that he has virtually made up his mind not to wage any extensive campaign in the west. He may even decide, his close friends said, not to go to the Pacific coast.

Smith also has decided, according to his confidants, not to campaign in any of the border states despite the pleas of Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland, that he include that state in his campaign itinerary. The governor is said to feel that the danger of the border states might end to "stir things up" and that it would be better politics to have the Democratic leaders in those states wage their own campaign.

His Itinerary

The governor's itinerary is expected to be announced within a week or ten days, although he may not begin his tour before the middle of September. His first speech is said to have been made in Chicago if tentative plans of his party managers are carried out, it was learned today on good authority. Leaders who are urging him to pick Chicago for his opening speech are said to have told him that he would be certain to receive a tremendous ovation and that this would have a good pay-

MID WEST'S DRIVE BY DEMOCRATS, ON

Chairman Raskob and Leaders Mapping Out Campaign In St. Louis.

St. Louis, Aug. 27.—Turning from the Atlantic seaboard for the first time since they opened their drive to elect Gov. Alfred E. Smith to the presidency, Democratic campaign chiefs assembled here today to launch their offensive in the vital and debatable agricultural states of the upper Mississippi valley.

National committeemen and committeewomen, state chairmen, candidates and a host of party lieutenants from ten nearby states were called here to confer with Chairman John J. Raskob of the national committee upon the progress and prospects of the campaign in their respective states. They will submit plans for help from the national organization, discuss issues and chart budgets for campaign operations until election day.

The first business on Raskob's program following his arrival this afternoon was a conference with Senator Harry B. Hawes, of Missouri, director of the St. Louis regional campaign headquarters.

Program Ready

Hawes, who has been lining up his territory for several weeks had a complete tentative campaign program ready for submission to the national managers. Tomorrow this program will go over in detail and approved final form.

Raskob accompanied by Senator Peter G. Gerry, chairman of the national advisory committee, brought to the middle west two definite campaign policies which were greeted by the regional leaders as of paramount importance.

One was Gov. Smith's own assurance that Democratic candidates for Senatorial, Congressional and state offices will not be urged to wage in their respective districts the national organization's fight for modification of the Volstead Act and Eighteenth Amendment, as

How Subway Crash Occurred

HOW THE SUBWAY TRAGEDY OCCURRED is clearly shown by the diagram at the left. Eight cars of a ten-car train passed safely over a defective switch. The front trucks of the ninth car went over properly, but the rear trucks followed another track. Thus the car moved sideways to crash, squarely in the middle, on the end of a heavy concrete wall. Then the front and rear halves, strewn maimed, screaming passengers along the pitch-black tunnel, hurried into masses of wreckage about 100 feet farther down.

OFFERS PRIZE OF $25,000 FOR BEST DRY LAW PLAN IN SUBWAY WRECK

W. C. Durant Cables Offer From Paris—Says Prohibition is the Greatest problem in U. S. Today.

New York, Aug. 27.—A prize of $25,000 for the best plan for making the Eighteenth Amendment effective was offered today by W. C. Durant, president of Durant Motors, Inc.

Durant who is in Paris, announced the contest by cable. Before sailing last week he made a formal statement endorsing Hoover for president. Durant's announcement of the contest said: "The major issue in our country today is the problem of law enforcement and obedience to law. To paraphrase the words of Lincoln, it is a question whether our institutions can endure with a citizenship half lawless, and half law-abiding."

Midwest Drive

"We are impelled by the widespread violation of the liquor law embodied in the 18th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the highest law of the land. "Big business leaders who have the largest stake in law observance publicly and privately violate this law and countenance its violation by others. Instead of using their wealth and influence to create public opinion demanding law enforcement, our business men of character and position are the chief support of the master criminal class, the bootlegger."

Bad Example

"It is not surprising that the flagrant example of lawlessness on the part of men highest in their communities has undermined respect for law in their children, their servants, their employees and all classes of citizens including public officials and judges."

"When thinking men generally come to realize that the responsibility is up to them to take the initiative in law observance, then and not until then will the Eighteenth Amendment be given a fair trial. Until that time there should be no thought of writing this provision out of the Constitution."

"It is my belief that the majority of our people do not want the Eighteenth Amendment abandoned. Legislatures of 46 of the 48 states voted it into the Federal Constitution because there was need of it. The people want it enforced and obeyed."

Durant said a committee of prominent men and women would be appointed to select the best plan submitted to enforce the amendment. Competitive offerings must be typewritten and not exceed 2,000 words in length and must be submitted prior to December 1 to the prize committee on Eighteenth Amendment, Room 2401, Flat Building, New York. The prize will be awarded and paid December 25.

CONNALLY WINS

Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 27.—Congressman Tom Connally of Morlin who defeated Senator Earle B. Mayfield for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator in Saturday's Democratic runoff primary today had a majority of 53,000 votes. With approximately 530,000 votes tabulated, it was expected that the total vote would be around 600,000.

DEATH LIST IS 16 IN SUBWAY WRECK

Probe Starts to Find Guilty Parties Responsible for Friday's Accident.

New York, Aug. 27.—With the death list increased to sixteen, District Attorney Joab H. Banton today will open the formal investigation to fix the responsibility for the deaths and for the injuries of 100 passengers in the Interborough subway wreck here Friday evening.

William S. Baldwin, subway maintenance foreman who was arraigned on a homicide charge Saturday and released under $10,000 bail, will be questioned in court on Sept. 17. District Attorney Banton, who plans to question several witnesses today, has received the report of the personal investigation of Mayor James J. Walker. Banton also has the report of the Transit commission which completed its investigation Saturday.

Defective Car

New York, Aug. 27.—A defective car, improperly inspected before it left the Van Cortlandt yards, was the cause of the subway wreck here Friday evening.

Two Convicts Escape From Maine Prison

Thomaston, Me., Aug. 27.—Apparently having made good their bold escape from the state prison here, two trustees were still at large today and various police agencies and posses had failed to find any trace of them.

Man Forces His Way to Candidate's Suite in Hotel; Believed to Be Insane.

Spring Lake, N. J., Aug. 27.—While Gov. Smith was being closely guarded today, a sanity test was to be given to Thomas Connahan, 22, Philadelphia electrician, who attempted to force his way into the governor's suite in the Monmouth Hotel at 1:30 a. m.

It was learned today, as police questioned Connahan, that the Philadelphia man also had planned to get a "personal interview" with Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee. As in the case of Gov. Smith, Connahan said, he wished to see if Hoover were "a fit man to be president."

Connahan was to be examined by County Physician Clayton. He was held in $1,000 bail after arraignment, and is at the Monmouth county jail.

PACT OUTLAWING WAR SIGNED TODAY IN PARIS

CHENEYS OFFER 56 HOUSES HERE TO EMPLOYEES

Tenements East of Main Street in South End to Be Sold—Present Occupants Get First Choice.

Cheney Brothers are offering to employees now occupying houses owned by them east of Main street and on Church street, the houses for sale and in so doing are presenting a plan of payment in which the Manchester Trust Company, as trustee, will assist in financing the purchase through second mortgages for a period of five years.

56 Offered

Fifty-six houses owned by Cheney Brothers, located on Eldridge, Oak, Maple, School, Charter Oak, South Main and Spring streets, all east of Main street and three on Church street, are being offered for sale. Each house that is being placed on the market is at present occupied by an employee of Cheney Brothers as a rent payer and to these is made the first offer. The person who occupy the house are interviewed and the price that is asked for the house is made known to them. The plan is to seek a down payment of twenty-five per cent of the purchase price. In addition to this a first mortgage of fifty per cent of the value is to be placed on the property with some reputable bank or loan association. The remaining twenty-five per cent can then be secured through the Manchester Trust Company, as trustee, through a working agreement between Cheney Brothers and the Trust company.

This second mortgage is given without a bonus charge and the loan is for a period of five years at a rate of 6 per cent. The payments on the second mortgage are to be reduced in equal amounts each year for the five years when the second mortgage is paid up. The houses that are being offered in this way are ones that Cheney Brothers have owned for some time and do not include the houses that they built during the war, new houses in the vicinity of the mills, nor west of Main street, with the exception of the houses on Church street.

Made Modern

All of the houses have been reconditioned in recent years. Modern improvements have been added

MRS. KELLOGG RAPS WOMEN'S PETITION

Wife of U. S. Secretary of State Says Matter Should Not Be Discussed.

Paris, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Frank B. Kellogg, wife of the American secretary of state, was quoted in the press today as strongly rebuking Doris Stevens and Lady Rhonda, who acted as a committee of the Women's National Party in presenting an equal rights petition to the statesmen gathered here for the signing of the anti-war treaty. The two women said they represented a demand for "international action."

"Mr. Kellogg agrees with me that the women have taken advantage of the present situation," said Mrs. Kellogg. "I feel that when delegates of fifteen nations are assembled to sign a pact such as this that it is decidedly out of place for a group of women to complicate the issue by attempting to introduce an extraneous subject."

Injures the Cause

"Such tactics lose more than they gain for the cause of women's rights. I thoroughly approve of organization in attacking the problems of women but to choose such an occasion as this smacks of notoriety seeking."

Miss Stevens said she was surprised to learn of the views of Mrs. Kellogg.

"I was especially surprised to hear that Mrs. Kellogg said that Mr. Kellogg agreed with her," declared Miss Stevens. "Mr. Kellogg told me he would be glad to receive our committee at any time and that he would be only too glad to cooperate with us in our aims."

Representatives of 15 Nations Agree Never Again to Fight—Rest of World Invited to Take the Same Pledge—Solemn Ceremony Takes But Few Minutes to Complete—Secretary Kellogg, One of Outstanding Figures at Conference—No Military Display in Keep- ing With the Spirit of the Occasion.

Paris, Aug. 27.—Through the signing of a multilateral treaty renouncing military force as an instrument of national policy, fifteen nations, representing two-thirds of the world's fighting power, agreed today never again to go to war. The rest of the world was invited to take the same pledge.

The scene of this historic event was the Salles de Horloges in the French foreign office on the Quai D'Orsay, where the League of Nations was born under the sponsorship of Woodrow Wilson, then president of the United States.

Solemn Occasion

The solemnity of the occasion was reflected in the attitude of the signatories themselves and the few hundred fortunate persons who were able to gain admittance to the great hall of clocks to witness the consummation of what is regarded in Europe as the most powerful and far reaching step yet taken to abolish war and insure universal peace.

Frank B. Kellogg, American secretary of state, who carried on negotiations for the treaty, was one of the outstanding figures at the conference. Next to him stood Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, who had originally proposed an anti-war treaty.

Seated At Table

Inside the Salles des Horloges, the signatories took their places around a large horse shoe shaped table covered with red baize. M. Briand and Mr. Kellogg had places at the top and center of the table. Chief interest centered upon these two men who had inaugurated and carried out the plan for a world treaty renouncing war. It was a historic moment as the delegates of these two statesmen who had labored ceaselessly for fifteen months to bring about this peace pact.

In Two Languages

Both the English and French texts were read and although the statesmen gathered about the big red horseshoe knew each word and phrase as well as they knew their own names, they leaned forward to catch every one of the 800 odd words.

First were recited the names of the monarchs or presidents of the 15 nations adhering to the treaty and then began the actual text: "Deeply sensible of their solemn duty to promote the welfare of mankind;

"Persuaded that the time has come when a frank recognition of war as an instrument of national policy should be made, to the end that the peaceful and friendly relations now existing between their peoples may be perpetuated;

"Convinced that all changes in their relations with one another should be sought only by pacific means and be the result of a peaceful and orderly process, and that any signatory power which shall hereafter seek to promote its national interests by resort to war should be denied the benefits furnished by this treaty."

Hope Others Will Sign

"Hopeful that, encouraged by their example, all the other nations of the world will join in this humane endeavor and be adhering to the present treaty as soon as it comes into force, and that the peoples within scope of its beneficent provisions, thus uniting the civilized nations of the world in a common renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy;

"Have decided to conclude a treaty and for that purpose have appointed plenipotentiaries who... have agreed upon the following article:

ALL PACT DOCUMENTS TO BE MADE PUBLIC

Paris, Aug. 27.—Following the signing of the treaty outlawing war, Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg issued the following statement to the press: "Copies of the pact and all correspondence relating to it have been forwarded to all countries that are not signatories. Notification was given that their adherence may be sent to the State Department in Washington immediately if it is so desired."

The correspondence will be released for publication on Wednesday.

Article Two

"The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means."

Article Three

"The present treaty shall be ratified by the high contracting parties named in the preamble in accordance with the respective constitutional requirements and shall take effect as soon as all the signatories when such adherences take place."

Germany First

When the reading was finished Foreign Minister Briand arose, took from the table the pen used 150 years ago in the signing of the first treaty of friendship between France and the United States, and handed it to Gustav Stresemann, German foreign secretary, and the first German foreign secretary to visit Paris in more than half a century. Under the French spelling, "Allemande" was the first on the list of nations represented, and Germany had the honor of affixing the first signature.

After Dr. Stresemann finished, Secretary of State Kellogg signed for the United States, and then the other signatures were affixed in the following order:

Belgium—Paul Hymans, foreign minister.
Canada—Mackenzie King, prime minister.
Austria—Aristide Briand, foreign minister.
Great Britain—Lord Cushenden (representing the foreign secretary, Sir Austen Chamberlain, who also signed on behalf of North India and India.

Japan—Count Uchida, former Japanese premier.
Poland—August Salski, Polish foreign minister.
Australia—Senator McLachlan, representing the Australian prime minister.
New Zealand—Sir C. J. Parr, Union of South Africa—J. S. Smuts.

Irish Free State—William T. Cosgrave, president of the Free State executive council.
Italy—Count Mazoni, Italian ambassador to France.
Japan—Count Uchida, former Japanese premier.
Poland—August Salski, Polish foreign minister.
Czechoslovakia—Edward Benes.

It required only a short time to sign the treaty, which virtually becomes effective at once—after ratification. There is every indication that all the nations represented here today will officially approve the treaty at the first opportunity. The United States Congress is not in session, but it is expected that the treaty will be ratified when the Senate meets in December.

Secretary Kellogg was elated over the success of the long negotiations and believes that the balance of the world will soon accept the treaty. He regards it as a new era in international relations and believes that the pact will form the foundation of a new epoch of international law.

MAIN ST. EXCITED AS WOMAN SCREAMS

The cries of help that were heard near Main street and Hartford road at 3:30 Saturday morning, followed by the noise of a speeding automobile, were made by a woman who lives in Dobsonville. She had jumped from an automobile in which she was riding as the car slowed up to turn the silent policeman at the junction of Hartford road and Main street.

Officer Edwin Dearlison, who does duty on the lower end of Main street, was near Oak street when the cries of the woman were first heard and ran down the street. In front of Teacher's Hall he met a woman, who was hurrying up Main street. She was much excited.

According to the woman's story she had been riding with the man during the night and early morning and was unaware where they were going. She expected they would take her to her home, but when she had refused to do so and when she found that they were passing out of Manchester, she realized that they were going in a different direction she decided to get out.

As the car slowed down to make the corner she rolled from the car and landed on the sidewalk. She was seriously injured, jumped to her feet and started to run back up the street. The driver of the car brought it to a stop and seeing her running away did not try to catch her, but instead sped away.

She became more calm when she was taken to the police station, but could not give a good description of the occupants of the car nor did she even know the number of the car or its make.

In each house that is being offered and in nearly every walk and curb have been laid along the fronts of the properties that are being offered. Before they are placed on the market, for general sale the plan is to give the tenant that now occupies the house the first opportunity to buy. The price, the amount of money that is required to make the twenty-five per cent payment is told and then the amount that will have to be paid each year for the five year term to meet interest and principal on the second mortgage. Amounts that are likely to be charged each year for taxes for town, fire and school districts are figured also to aid the prospect.

This gives the tenant who now occupies the house a clear understanding of what the payments are that he will be called upon to meet if the house is purchased.

When this is all explained the tenant is given an opportunity to think the whole matter over and if the decision to buy is reached arrangements are to be made for the mortgages as already stated. If the tenant does not accept the offer the opportunity to purchase the house is then given to some other employee, but in all cases the person who is occupying the house is assured that his interests will be protected.

Seven already offered. While it is the plan to offer fifty-six of these houses for sale only about seven have so far been offered to tenants of the houses and each has been given time to consider the plan. In two or three cases already the intention to buy has been made known. No great change in property is expected to be made that will affect the present occupants much before Spring. The houses will be taken over, it is thought, from the end of May and by early Spring it will be definitely known just what action is to be taken on the offer by present occupants. If the purchase is not desired by the occupant others will be given opportunity to take the property. In all cases the property that is to be sold will be offered to employees of Cheney Brothers first.

AFTER RADIO FAKERS. New York, Aug. 27.—An effort to track down the senders of fake radio distress signals supposed to have come from the ill fated plane Greater Rockford, has been started by members of the Veteran Wireless Operators' Association. James Maresca, secretary, announced today. Maresca said that while the operators who received the message acted in good faith, it was obvious that the messages were faked. The Operators' Association, he said, would constitute itself an organization of "radio vigilantes" to keep watch on such dangerous and misleading activities.

in the event that the governor decides to open his campaign in Chicago it was said that he probably would first go to the north-west, possibly Wisconsin, for a brief vacation.

While one group of leaders is urging Smith to select Chicago for the first speech of the campaign, another is insisting that Boston would be the ideal spot to fire the opening gun. They have told him that if he wants a vacation he could go to some resort along the northeastern coast and come directly from there to Boston. So far as the crowd is concerned, Smith has been told that he can count on Boston to give him a good send off.

Smith probably will remain in New York until Wednesday when he will go to Syracuse. On the following day he will attend a meeting of the Democratic state committee and, weather permitting, will speak at the state fair.

outlined in Gov. Smith's speech of acceptance. The other was that so far as possible every state organization will be left free to carry on its campaign. Independently of national direction save in cases where help is specifically sought by the state or regional managers.

"Home Rule" These assurances of "home rule" campaigns, in the opening of middle western Democratic leaders, go far to allay frequently expressed fears in the rank and file of the party that the campaign would be dominated by Tammany.

The Illinois campaign, where 29 votes are at stake, will be perhaps the major problem before the gathering here. The recent death of National Committeeman George E. Brennan, has badly disrupted the high-powered Democratic machine in the state, and the scramble among Brennan's chief lieutenants for the place has detracted nothing from the worries of the national managers.

OPEN BIDS TONIGHT ON 8TH'S NEW SCHOOL

Bids are to be opened tonight for the eight room addition to be built to the Hollister street school in the Eighth School and Utilities district. The appropriation of $75,000 for the work was made at a district meeting held last May and it was done at that time with the hopes of having the work started and ready for the use of pupils in the district in the early winter term.

Delays in getting the plans prepared by the architect, Isaac Allen, Jr., prevented the contractors from getting the plans and specifications to go around. One contractor, who has done work in town and who has consulted with members of the building committee and was told that his bid would be welcomed, could not get a copy when he applied.

The delays have angered the members of the committee having the work in charge and are consulting about a month ago a sub committee was named to see that the work was not delayed further. Action was obtained. Responsible contractors are presenting bids and if the figures are found to be what the committee expects they will be able to build the addition. Little time will be lost in awarding the contract and getting the work under way and avoiding further delays.

HOLMES, ARMY CAPTAIN, WILL IN ATLANTA, GA.

Captain John Holmes, with Company G of the Mexican Border and also with them as members of the 102nd Regiment, of the Twenty-Sixth Division, overseas, is now a captain in the regular army. He is ill and in a government hospital at Atlanta, Ga., according to advices received in town by Colonel Harry B. Bissell. "Johnny" Holmes was a popular and capable officer and was respected and liked by all of the boys of the old G Company. When the news of his illness was made known to some of the former companions yesterday a letter was typed from "The Gang" at the Army and Navy Club and sent to him, conveying the best wishes of "the bunch" for his speedy and full recovery.

RED MEN'S OUTING HELD YESTERDAY

About fifty members of the Miantonomah Tribe of Red Men attended a clambake held in Risley Grove at Talcottville yesterday. The members met at the club rooms on Brainard Place at 9 o'clock. Transportation was furnished for those not owning cars. A program of sports, followed the dinner. The proceeds of this outing will go into the Red Men's Orphan fund. The following committee was in charge of the affair: Max Wagner, Walter Gustafson, William Schiedge, Joseph Barto, Alec Wilson, George Bailey, William Leggett, Richard Liedt, Irving Keeney and Frank Diana.

G. O. P. CAUCUS HERE TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Called for Eight O'Clock, D. S. T., in Recreation Center; Little Interest Shown

Republican electors in Manchester will meet in caucus tonight for the purpose of electing delegates to the Republican State Convention to be held in New Haven, September 6 and 7. The caucus tonight will also elect delegates to the Congressional and Senatorial district conventions.

Tonight's gathering of Republicans will be held in the Recreation Center auditorium, and is called for eight o'clock, daylight saving time. No particular interest in the meeting has been shown in Manchester, and a small crowd is expected to attend. However, several contests for state offices, and the vacancy for the U. S. Senatorship have caused unusual state interest in this year and the appointment of delegates to the respective conventions is important.

MANAGER SANSON TO PRESENT GIFT

Contributes Surprise Prize to Be Awarded at Merchants Night Tomorrow.

Manager Jack Sanson of the State theater, as a farewell gift to his patrons of the past four years, has contributed himself one of the fine prizes to be given away at the Merchants-State theater gift night tomorrow.

This being Mr. Sanson's last week at the theater he decided to bid his patrons a good-bye. The gift he has purchased is a very fine one, and the winner is sure to be proud to own it. This will be but one of the many gifts to be awarded tomorrow night.

ELECTRIC CO. TRANSFER HEARING SEPTEMBER 6

P. U. Commission Gives Notice of Public Hearing on Proposed Sale of Local Concern.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 27.—Application of the Connecticut Power Company to take over the Manchester Electric Company, which was heard by the Public Utilities Commission here on September 6, at 10 a. m. The deal is to take the form of an exchange of stock. Cheney brothers hold the majority of the Manchester company stock.

The necessary notice, required by law, has been received by the Board of Selectmen of Manchester from the clerk of the Public Utilities Commission. This notice is given so as to allow a representative of the town, should it be so desired, to be present at the hearing.

A $1,500,000 Merger The merger is one of the largest that has occurred in the state for several years. The turning over of 4,000 shares of the stock of the local company in exchange for 11,500 shares of Connecticut Power indicates that the value of the local company was placed at about $1,500,000. The offering price on Connecticut Power is $25. This would place the value of the 11,500 shares that are to be exchanged of Connecticut Power at $1,675,000. The par value of the stock of the Connecticut Power is $25. The par value of the shares of the Manchester Company is $100 but there is no stock of this company offered on any exchange. At the rate of values that the exchange is being made the value of the local stock is placed at $400 a share.

TRYING TO DO FAVOR, GETS HIS CAR SMASHED

Driver Attempts to Warn Autoist of Falling Package, Crashes Into Big Ice Truck.

A Ford touring car driven by Raniero Finucci of Birch street, came out second best in a crash with one of L. T. Wood's ice trucks at Bissell and Main streets at 12:15 this noon. Finucci was driving north on Main street while the ice truck, driven by George Burke, turned to go up Bissell street to the Wood office. Raniero just before he reached Bissell street, had his attention diverted by seeing another car drop a package. Seeing the road apparently clear ahead of him he tried to attract the attention of the driver of the car that was losing the package.

The ice truck had meanwhile swung across the street to make the turn. Finucci saw it too late to stop so the Ford crashed into the rear right wheel of the truck. The headlights, wishbone, frame, windshield, radiator and left front wheel were smashed on the Ford while the truck escaped with a broken brake rod.

The force of the impact was so great and Finucci had such a tight hold on the steering wheel that the entire wooden part of the wheel came off in his hands. The top where it was fastened to the body in the rear was completely torn loose. Finucci escaped with a few minor cuts caused by the glass falling from the broken windshield.

SANSON TO ENTERTAIN KIDDIES OF HIS REVUE

Jack Sanson who concludes his services as manager of the State theater here this week will entertain all the Kiddies Revue members in a matinee party at the theater. Mr. Sanson has asked The Herald to invite all the kiddies who took part in the revue and those who helped in making it a success to be present at the Wednesday show.

MANCHESTER ON TRICKY AIR LANE

Kiwanians Hear About Aviation From Airways Concern Officer.

The members of the Kiwanis club at their noon-day meeting at the Country clubhouse, received some first hand information about aviation and the progress that is being made in this country in that most dangerous route.

William F. Ladd of Hartford, who was scheduled to speak, was unable to come today and through the influence of Dr. Moore, Harry D. Copeland, vice president and general manager of the Interstate Airways, Inc. of Hartford, substituted for him. Mr. Copeland is one of the teachers at Brainard field in Hartford and Governor Trumbull is one of his pupils. He has been in the flying business for some years.

One of the things that the Kiwanians learned was that the route from New York to Boston, which passes directly over this town, is considered one of the most dangerous in the country. This is because the New England weather is so uncertain. One of the great difficulties that the airmen have to overcome is fog and we have had a great deal of it this summer.

Another thing they learned was that the route which is controlled by the Colonial company, that is, the New York-Boston route, is now on a paying basis.

Mr. Copeland told some very interesting stories and impressed his hearers with his wide knowledge of aviation. He says flying is not as wild as it is made out to be. It would require only one hour's time by air to over three by automobile.

A great percentage of pilots and airmen who have lost their lives have done so because of lack of knowledge or foolishness. People have the idea that when the motor stops in the air it is certain death for the occupants of the airplane. Mr. Copeland says this is not true. It has been demonstrated again and again at Brainard field that a pilot can stop his engine by throwing off the switch while the plane is in the air and make a safe landing by gliding.

The speaker did not think it advisable for Manchester to have an airport in its proximity, to the Brainard field. While it is possible as possible he could see no great advantage in it for this town. He answered many questions put to him by the Kiwanians which brought out some interesting facts. Arthur Kramer substituted for F. T. Blish. If satisfactory arrangements can be made the club will continue to meet at the Country clubhouse for at least another month.

was responsible for the Times Square subway crash of last Friday in which sixteen persons lost their lives and 100 were injured. Investigators for the transit commission made this report this morning and after completing a thorough inspection of the mechanical aspect of the fatal switch which hurled two cars into a shambles of death and destruction. It is the theory of the experts that the tripping device on the car, the fatal eighth in the death train—was out of order and that it failed to register the lights as it passed over the signal switch. The device is between the front trucks of the car, the towerman, watching the lights, assumed that the trip had passed over the switch and threw it into the storage track, into which the following train was to have been run, before the rear trucks reached the switch.

Man, Blameworth, consin, might be classed as doubtful. Within the next three weeks Hoover is expected to be found on the stump in the east, pounding home his declaration that continuance Republican management of the affairs of the government, and maintenance of the protective tariff are paramount questions in the campaign.

The stage is being set for the nominee's excursion into New England after Senator Charles Curtis, the vice-presidential candidate, has made many speeches. Curtis, who already has been in Rhode Island, will speak at Syracuse, N. Y., tomorrow. He plans to return the latter part of September.

Senator George H. Moses, chairman of the eastern advisory committee, Representative Walter H. Newton, director of the speakers' bureau at Chicago, and Representative John Q. Tilson, in charge of the eastern office, as well as Western Manager James W. Good, are to be among Hoover's earliest callers.

Hoover departed from politics long enough today to give William F. Whiting, his successor as secretary of commerce, some pointers on the conduct of that office.

As a suggested opening line for a new national anthem for which a New York lady has offered $3000 as a prize, we beg to offer, "The Land of the Blindefolded Smoker."

ABOUT TOWN

Miss Jean Neuville of 49 Middle Turnpike employed at the Millon Beauty parlor, Hartford, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Millon is attending the hat dressing convention in Boston this week.

Clifford McKinley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McKinley of 14 Arch street is spending the week at Coventry lake with his aunt, Mrs. Walter Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chartier returned yesterday from a vacation spent at Hampton Beach, Maine.

The Home Club Association Carnival committee will hold a meeting at the club tonight at 8 o'clock.

Commandant J. P. Spohn, who has been appointed to the position of chief officer of the men's side of the Salvation Army Training College in New York City, yesterday conducted his farewell services as commandant of the Manchester Salvation Army. This farewell service was exceptionally well attended. Commandant Spohn and family will leave Manchester Wednesday for New York where he will assume his new duties.

Mrs. Rose Murphy and son, Francis, of 43 South Main street, returned yesterday from a visit in Niagara Falls, Canada and the Adirondack Mountains.

Sergeant Alfred Blatter of Ridgewood street, a member of the Quartermaster Detachment of the 16th Regiment, left Manchester Saturday morning for Camp Perry as a member of the Connecticut rifle team. Sergeant Blatter is the first Manchester man to be a member of the state team since shortly after the war when Captain John Pentland was picked as one of the best shots from Connecticut to go to Camp Perry.

Dr. W. E. Green, the dentist, who has been laid up for four weeks with a broken hand, has resumed his office practice. He was injured by catching his hand between swinging garage doors.

Memorial Temple Pythian Sisters will hold a regular business meeting on Tuesday evening in Odd Fellows hall. As this is the first meeting since vacation, a large attendance is desired as plans for an outing will be discussed, also the temple's participation in the Armistice day celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Chapin of 150 Summit street spent the last two weeks at Old Orchard, Maine, and Boston, Mass. Mrs. Chapin and daughter Marion left today for Ansonia where they will remain with Mrs. Chapin's mother, Mrs. F. F. Weiser until Labor Day.

The Manchester Public Library will be closed all this week to allow the librarians their annual vacation. The library will reopen September 4th.

POLICE COURT

Two old offenders, William O'Brien and Frank Happney, were before the Manchester town court this morning. O'Brien was charged with being a common drunkard, and Happney with intoxication. O'Brien was given 60 days in jail and Happney was fined $20 and costs.

Michael Dubanoski was fined $25 and costs for assault on his wife. The couple have not been living together for some time. Saturday evening he went to her home on North School street, kicked up a row and in the melee the woman suffered a fracture of the bone of one of her fingers. They have five children and Dubanoski pays only $8 a week for support.

Judge Johnson in imposing sentence said he would send him to jail but the man would probably lose his job and it would work greater hardship to his family. He therefore imposed a fine of $25 and costs.

OBITUARY

DEATHS

JOHN WICKLUND. John Wicklund, 71 years old, who formerly lived on Strickland street, died at 9:30 this morning at the Manchester Memorial hospital, where he had been confined since last spring, by arrangement with the town fathers. He claimed to have no relatives. In case none appear after publication of these facts, it is probable that the funeral and burial will take place tomorrow afternoon from the undertaking parlors of Thomas G. Dougan of Holl street.

Dominique F. Thibodeau. Dominique F. Thibodeau, aged 69, of 37 Clinton street, died at 6 o'clock last night at St. Francis hospital in Hartford after several weeks' illness with diabetes and heart trouble. Mr. Thibodeau was a building contractor but retired seven years ago.

Born in the Province of Quebec, he had lived in Manchester for 37 years. In addition to his wife, Josephine, he leaves one son, Bert P., of Springfield, six grandchildren, and two brothers, Louis, of Thompsonville, and William, of Quebec.

The funeral will be held at the home at 8:30 Wednesday morning and at St. James' church at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Vincenzo Pagani. Vincenzo Pagani, well known north end resident, died at his home at 169 North Main street at 2:20 yesterday morning from heart trouble. He was seventy years old and fond of children, being very popular with those who patronized Pagani Brothers' confectionary and fruit store where he worked.

Born in Nagliano-Sabino, Province of Rome, Italy, Mr. Pagani came to this country 21 years ago. Twelve years ago he removed here from Rockville where he had made his home since coming to the United States.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Serafina Pagani, five children, Mrs. Martina Genovese of Buenos Aires, Argentina; Mrs. Anna Pagani of New York; Mrs. Josephine Genovese, 167 North Main street, Dante Pagani and Aldo Pagani, both of whom lived at home, and six grandchildren. He also has a brother, Ermengildo, in Addison and a sister in Italy.

The funeral will take place at St. Bridge's church at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Ella Ackerman. Mrs. Ella (Ladd) Ackerman, wife of Albert Arthur Ackerman of 44 Brooklyn street, Rockville, who had been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Inez Ackerman at 681 Hartford road, died at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon after a six months' illness. She was 53 years old.

Born in Tolland, Mrs. Ackerman had lived all of her life in that section of the state, was married to the Manchester Memorial hospital some time ago because of serious illness and later was taken to her daughter's home where she had made her home for two months.

In addition to Mr. Ackerman, who was her second husband, she is survived by twelve children and twelve grandchildren. There are six daughters, Mrs. Inez Ackerman of this town, Mrs. Elva Lavine, Rockville, Miss Marie White, Stafford Springs, Miss Ernest White, Vernon, Miss Grace White and Miss Florence White, both of Manchester. The sons, all by first marriage, are Alfred White of Naugatuck, Gilford White of Hartford and Howard, Winford and Emery White of Manchester.

The funeral service was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the new funeral home of William P. Quish at 225 Main street and burial was in the North Cemetery at Crystal Lake.

SILK CITY BAND WINS STATE CUP

Gets First Prize in Flute and Piccolo Class; Contests Held in Middletown.

The Silk City Band returned from Middletown band contests Saturday night with the state cup and the first prize award for the best band in the flute and piccolo class. The Manchester band was one of the following points: appearance, tone, execution, rhythm and time. The contests were held in connection with the forty-third annual field day of the Connecticut Flute and Drum Corps Association. Competition was exceptionally keen this year as there were over 40 bands in the parade. The officers of the Silk City Band are: David L. Benson, organizer and president; Thomas Ford, leader; Charles J. Trotter, musical director, and Samuel J. Richardson, secretary.

The Center Flute Band was also entered in the contests for bands of its type and came out a close second, bringing two prizes to Manchester out of the two contestants entered from town.

STRESEMANN MAY QUIT. Berlin, Aug. 27. Signing of the Kellogg anti-war treaty in Paris this afternoon may be the last important political act of Gustav Stresemann, German foreign secretary. A campaign has been started within the government parties to replace Dr. Stresemann partly on account of ill health and partly on account of the collapse of his reputation.

they looked over the scene of the gathering. "Everything is in good order," remarked and departed.

Guests Arrive. Between 10 and 11 o'clock more than 50 guests arrived in order to get good seats.

Fifty camera men tried to climb a 15-foot space where they could command a complete survey of the assembly. The photographers came carrying ladders each seeking to have a ladder longer than the man in front of him.

At noon "dress rehearsal" was put on, newspapermen and other impersonating the delegates. The International News Service correspondent occupied Foreign Minister Briand's chair. Other reporters were ranged about while the arc lights were turned on and the cameras began to click.

Moving picture operators ground out what seemed to be miles of film while generating machines rumbled. After it was over the camera operators pronounced the rehearsal a complete success.

The crowd continued to gather until it was evident that about 500 would be present. There was considerable discussion over the big and from the arc lights which cast off a fierce violent glare accompanied by intense heat.

The steps of the foreign office were lined with telegraph and cable wires so the news of the signing could be flashed instantly to all parts of the world.

These wires ran through the main hall to the salon of ambassadors. The floor of Clock Hall was a colled mass of wires. The delegates had to step lightly to avoid tripping over them.

M. Claudel, French ambassador to the United States, was among the first of the notables to arrive. He took a seat in the front row frequently rising to greet friends.

Kellogg's arrival at 2:30 o'clock accompanied by Myron T. Herrick, the United States ambassador to France and a few notable friends from the Embassy.

There was a crowd of about 500 in the Quai D'Orsay that cheered incessantly as the various statesmen appeared.

Ambassador Herrick took a seat next to Mrs. Kellogg, almost directly in front of the horse-shoe table upon which the official copy of the treaty rested.

American Secretary of Labor Davis, who is in Europe on vacation, was an early arrival.

In the meantime the police had been active. Elaborate precautions had been taken to prevent any untoward incident. In order to prevent bomb throwing by Anarchists thousands were kept away from the gates to the foreign office.

Dr. Stresemann arrived at 2:05. Just 50 minutes later he took up the pen and placed his signature upon the document. He was the first to sign. Secretary Kellogg signed immediately afterward. There was a craning of necks as the American official put his signature upon the historic document.

Just before the conference opened Dr. Stresemann went to Minister Briand's study where all the delegates convened for formal entry into Clock Hall.

The delegates were obviously impressed by the solemnity of the occasion, but some appeared to be weary of the warfare that broke out among the photographers. Each was trying to elbow his fellows out of the way and gain a position of vantage. There was a great deal of noisy argument and threats of fistfights. Women guests were jostled about and at times were compelled to line up against the walls so great was the scrimmaging and jostling among the photographers.

compulsion policy. It is held that Germany has been put back into the position she occupied before the signing of the Locarno Pact as a result of the new entente reached between Great Britain and France.

Dr. Stresemann is blamed also for the failure of Germany to obtain the friendly backing of America.

According to belief in political circles the only thing that can save the official life of the foreign secretary is agreement by the French to evacuate the Rhineland. In view of the adamant French attitude no one believes this will come to pass.

REV. WADSWORTH GETS HIGHEST FRENCH HONOR

Zion's Herald, in a current issue, carries the news of a honor conferred on Rev. Julian S. Wadsworth of Chateau Thierry by the French government, that of "La Croix de Chevalier de l'Ordre National de la Legion d'Honneur." This is the highest honor in the gift of the French nation and formal presentation of the medal will be made by a representative of the president of the French republic at a public ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Wadsworth have been in Manchester this summer, coming to this country to attend the sessions of the general conference of the Methodist church at Kansas City, and to renew friendships made here while Rev. Wadsworth was pastor of the South Methodist church.

FIVE WEEK-END ACCIDENTS HERE

Two Hurt and Nine Automobiles Damaged in Series of Crashes.

Two persons were injured and nine automobiles were damaged in five minor automobile accidents occurring here over the week end, four of them on Saturday. Treated at Manchester Memorial hospital for deep cuts on the head and face were Horace Russell of 163 Highland street and Leslie Mann of 21 Village street, Rockville. Both were discharged following treatment. No arrests were made in any of the accidents.

Taken in the order of their occurrence, the accidents were as follows: The first happened at 10:30 Saturday morning and involved a Dodge sedan operated by Mrs. Doris Smith of 772 Main street and a Studebaker coach driven by Cecil H. Lawrence, of 475 Park street, Attleboro, Mass. The cars were going in opposite directions on Center street near Lilac street, in attempting to pass another car, the driver of the Dodge lost control of the car and it crashed head-on into the one operated by Lawrence. Police said $26 would cover the damage. Patrolman John McGlinn investigated.

At 2:15 Saturday afternoon, cars driven by Paul F. Russell of 163 Highland street and Ralph F. Carlson of 23 Cumberland street collided at Parker and Mather streets. Russell's Durant coupe was very badly damaged and his brother, Horace, was hurled through the windshield. He suffered deep cuts on the forehead and neck and was taken to Manchester Memorial hospital. He is about the advice of the physician. The Russell car was going north on Parker street and was struck by Carlson's Buick sedan when the latter drove out of Mather street, making a right-hand turn south into Parker street. The radiator, front fender, front fender, windshield, headlights and other parts of the Durant were badly damaged. Officer Arthur Seymour investigated.

At 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, L. Lynes & Company truck #1 Hartford, operated by William J. Cooney of 83 Williams street, East Hartford, skidded on Hartford Road, broke off a mail box post and hydrant just west of Bridge street and overturned. The truck's steering wheel, bumper and spring were badly damaged, but the driver fortunately escaped any injuries. He was alone and later reported the accident to police headquarters himself.

At 7 o'clock Saturday night, automobiles operated by Abraham Otis of 48 Winter street and Otto Wigs riding in a Ford roadster figured in a collision at Main and Oak streets. The damage was small. Matchett was driving north on Main street and Wignowski turned south onto Main from Oak. Officer Edwin Donaldson investigated.

Leslie H. Mann of 21 Village street, Rockville, was slightly injured in an automobile accident here yesterday afternoon and treated at the Manchester Memorial hospital for a deep cut in his cheek, following which he was discharged.

Manna was riding in a Ford roadster operated by T. E. Byrnes of 74 Grand street which was traveling east on Center street about to turn into Adams street. A Studebaker automobile driven by Michael Dulcis of 354 Congress street, Hartford, was coming in the opposite direction and skidded into the Ford when the driver applied the brakes suddenly to avoid a collision. The accident was investigated by Motorcycle Policeman Albert Roberts but no arrest was made.

LEVINE HOPS OFF London, Aug. 27.—Charles A. Levine, who has been waiting at Croydon Aldrome for favorable weather to make a non-stop flight to New York, hopped off unexpectedly at 2:30 in his own Junkers Levine flew in his own Junkers plane, the "Queen of the Air," piloted by Bert Acosta. Miss Mabel Boll was a passenger. The purpose of the flight was not revealed.

ELLINGTON BOY HIT BY AUTO, MAY DIE

Crosses Road to Get An Ice Cream Cone, Now Unconscious in Hospital.

So simple a matter as crossing the road to get an ice cream cone, led to what may prove to be fatal injuries to John Senechal, fifteen-year-old Ellington tobacco worker, Friday night. Knocked down by an automobile as he was returning with the cone in his hand, the boy has been unconscious ever since. He was taken to his home after the accident and shortly before noon Saturday was removed to Memorial Hospital here.

Although X-ray pictures have not been completed, it was stated at the hospital that doctors believe the boy may have a fracture of the skull in addition to other lesser injuries. His condition is critical.

WAPPING

Farnum H. Lane of Maple Ridge is playing the organ at the Ellingtonville Congregational church on the next two Sundays, much to the pleasure of his many friends there. Peach harvesting at the Pero grounds, on Avery street, is now in full swing, having started a week ago. It will last about two weeks. George E. Pero said last Tuesday that the yield this year would be about 30,000 baskets, as compared with 20,000 in 1927 and 25,000 in 1928. The fruit is of good size and quality.

Pearl and Helen Tuttle, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Markie Tuttle, of Demming street, have returned from a week's visit with their aunt, Mrs. Clifford H. Snow, of East Hartford.

The Blue Triangle of the Y. M. C. A. Girls held a meeting at the home of their president, Mrs. Truman H. Woodward, on Friday evening of last week.

Roger Newberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Newberry, of South Windsor, returned to the Hartford Hospital last week and another operation was performed on his ear. This was the second operation he had. He is very much better, and his friends will be pleased to see him among them again soon.

Mrs. Anna Skinner of East Windsor Hill, who has been ill for the past two weeks, is improving slowly.

Last Saturday, while working at the stone crusher, William Norton, Jr., of Windsorville, caught his hand in a cable while repairing it. His three fingers were crushed badly and with the help of several men, it took some time before his hand could be released.

Six offenders were brought before Justice of the Peace William J. Thresher, on charges of speeding. They were Harry Pervic, George J. Jarvis and Daniel L. Henry, all of Hartford; Sam Kotolofsky, of Rockville, and James Palmeri, of Mansfield, all of whom pleaded guilty. They were fined ten dollars and costs. The sixth case, that of Lois Rome, of Hartford, was nolleed on payment of costs. All of the speeders were arrested on the Ellington road, near the center of Wapping by Constable William Burnham, and were traveling between 40 and 45 miles an hour, when several roads make it dangerous. Several complaints against speeding on the new road have been received from residents in that section, and the arrests are an effort to stop the practice.

Miss Doris Zinsner of this village has been spending the past week with Miss Hazel Cotton, of Windsorville.

Mrs. Hans N. Johnson of Pleasant Valley entertained her granddaughter, Miss Gertrude Kibbie, of East Hartford, last week.

BIG CROWD SUNDAY AT CAMP GROUNDS

Annual Meetings Well Attended—Many Manchester People There.

Willimantic Camp Grounds, Aug. 27.—Unfavorable weather greeted the campers yesterday morning. Yet the clouds did not dampen their ardor. A large crowd gathered in the tabernacle for the first service, and a large one out of doors in the auditorium for the second service. The weather was fickle all day with sprinkles and sunshine.

The first service of the day was at 9 o'clock. It was the annual lovefeast and was led by Rev. F. C. Baker, of North Grosvenordale. He read a selection of Scripture and called upon Rev. E. J. Ayers to offer prayer. Songs and testimonies were interspersed. Sixty-six spoken testimonies were given and a very large number at the close gave testimony, by standing, of their love and loyalty to Christ.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Harold H. Critchlow, of Willimantic. Madame Ida Davenport rendered a solo, Rev. F. W. Gray of Burnside led the congregation in repeating the first Psalm. The Gloria was sung and was followed by the reading of a selection from the Acts of the Apostles by Rev. Williford Hamilton, of Thompsonville. District Superintendent Genter made announcements, specially stressing the fact that no teasing method for raising money should be employed in taking of the day's collections. He asked for a green collection, not a silver one. As an offertory the chorus choir rendered an anthem, entitled, "God's Love Will Never Grow Old."

The preacher of the morning was Rev. Philip L. Frick, D.D., of Schenectady, N. Y. In the sermon, Madame Davenport said, "I would rather be a doorkeeper in the House of the Lord." Acts 5:15 was Dr. Frick's text.

"Peter's Shadow" was his interesting theme. Some say we should take the shadows and cut out the story of Peter from the Acts. But I say if God can make such marvels as the fragrant flowers, what can He not do with a consecrated human personality? God has put the most of himself into human personality. He may get the most out of it. The mountain climber is bigger than the mountain. Columbus was greater than the ocean. The astronomer is larger than the universe of stars. For spiritual facts are ever greater than physical facts.

Peter's story shows that personality should be devoted to the glory of God and the service of man. We know some persons who are devoted to the human race. They make the world worse, not better. They blast the earth like a great conflagration. Nero and Napoleon are examples. But those who have given to themselves and to the kingdom of God have cast shadows of blessing, like Peter, upon their fellowmen. Florence Nightingale, Abraham Lincoln, Helen Keller, Neal Dow, are examples. The shadow of Neal Dow, in the person of his grandchild, is being cast across the Republican convention in Kansas City, when he made a motion that Nicholas Murray Butler's resolution (to omit reference to enforcing the Volstead act) be laid upon the table and no motion was carried almost unanimously. How great is Livingston's shadow across dark Africa? The shadow of John Wesley, who once said, "I look upon all the world as my parish."

The gift of humanity is that something can happen to it, as in Peter's case, and ungodly lives can be transformed into shadows of blessing.

At noon time the dining room was filled to overflowing with patrons, and a larger number than was expected were at supper.

The closing children's meeting was held at 3:30 at Epworth chapel. This building was formerly the restaurant.

The one o'clock meeting at the Stafford Springs house was led by Rev. A. E. Potter, of Leonardsville, N. Y., and the six o'clock by Rev. W. D. Woodward, Manchester.

Dr. Goodell Preaches An audience of some two thousand gathered at 2 p. m. in the auditorium to hear Dr. Charles L. Goodell, of New York, preach on "The Greatest Story in the World." Scripture was read by Rev. Albert Abbott, of Danielson, and prayer was offered by Rev. M. A. Jones, of Mansfield. Madame Ida Davenport rendered a solo. During the offering the chorus choir sang. After this Madame Davenport sang, "Teach Me To Pray." After a song by the congregation, Dr. Goodell announced as his text, Psalm 119:21, "Open thou mine eyes that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law."

The Bible is better authenticated than the old Greek and Latin classics. No book has been so hunted, its readers in early times were often slain. Yet no book has been so loved. This book was written in three languages, by 50 different authors during 1500 years. It has had a marvelous circulation. Nearly one billion copies of Scripture have been sold during the three last centuries, and it has been translated into 387 languages.

We must understand the purpose of any author to know if he succeeded in his purpose. The purpose of the Bible was to reveal Christ. There was a man named Moses who after 80 years, 600,000 people for 40 years. Years ago a man went about the country earning his living by lecturing on "The Mistakes of Moses." When I get to Heaven, I want to ask Moses about

GET NINETEEN YOLKS IN ONE DOZEN EGGS

Chickens in the south-western part of the state, either are non-layers or get time-and-a-half for overtime. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ferris, 250 Main street, motored from New York to Point O'Woods Saturday. Enroute they bought a dozen eggs at a farm house. Saturday morning they discovered that 7 of the 12 eggs had double yolks.

The mistakes of Ingersoll. The Bible is the love story of God. How it is seen in the advent of Jesus into the world, that as a bride for himself he might win a bride for himself.

Dr. Goodell presented a masterly sermon on the Book of Books, and the great audience listened intently.

Closing Service Last evening, a closing service of the Campmeeting was held in the tabernacle, which was nearly filled. Mrs. Manuel led an inspiring praise service. Rev. Truman H. Woodward, of Wapping, read the Scripture, and Rev. E. J. Ayers offered prayer. Mrs. Manuel and Miss Addie Sprague, of Whitman, sang a duet, "The Old Rugged Cross."

Mrs. Ida Davenport rendered a beautiful solo, "Come Ye Blessed of My Father." Superintendent, spoke words of thanks for the co-operation on the part of the ladies' society which turned over $150 to the Campmeeting Association, for the churches of the district who had contributed $400 toward the expenses of the campmeeting, to those men and women who have aided in every way, and to ladies for beautiful floral decorations in tabernacle and auditorium.

Mr. Genter announced that about the middle of October, Rev. E. Stanley Jones, author of "The Christ of the Indian Road," is to be on Norwich District for a couple of days. One day, he has announced, he will be at the South Methodist church of Manchester. Mr. Pierce rendered a piano selection during the taking of the offering. Madame Davenport sang, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The congregation, led by the chorus, sang "Standing on the Promises of God." Dr. Goodell's subject was "The Foundations of the Church."

"I sympathize with our young people in these days of flux when ideas are changing so rapidly. We are 'built on the foundation of the prophets and apostles. Jesus Christ himself being the chief cornerstone.' There are some 200 denominations all founded on the Bible. The Beautitudes are descriptions of true Christians. Jesus came to reveal God. The chief question is not 'what do I believe?' but whom do I believe? What do you think of Christ? He is a great teacher, but for the purpose of showing spiritual truths? Jesus was either the greatest egotist that ever lived, or the son of God with power. The historic Christ must become the Christ of experience to the human soul. Religion is not a thing to be argued out, but to be lived out. He is the 'chief corner stone.' We are busy about many things, but what do they amount to? The life lived with Christ in God is the successful life.

At the close Brother Genter announced that the liberal offerings of the day had covered all expenses of the campmeeting, and also the debt of the campground, S. L. Geer, $200, and also to make an increase of $2 per year on the ground rent of all cottages and society houses. A report from the cottage holders' meeting was received and filed. Rev. S. F. Malen, C. E. Colver and Mrs. Albert Boardman were appointed by the chair as nominating committee.

Edward M. Wheeler, of Providence, brought in his treasurer's report. This showed the cost of maintaining services the past year was some $1,500 and maintenance of buildings and grounds was $3,000. Only a small debt of $200 cumbered the association. The report was adopted. The nominating committee reported and the following officers were elected for 1928-29: President, Rev. M. E. Genter; vice president, Rev. Joseph Cooper; secretary, Rev. F. C. Baker; treasurer, Edward M. Wheeler of Providence.

Notes. The Misses Dorothy Gates, Edith Murphy and Gladys Harrison, Thomas Cordner and David Hutchinson came Saturday to the South Manchester House for the remaining services of the meeting.

At the Manchester House came Howard Fish and Frederick Plummer and the Misses Doris Walz, of Rockville; the Misses Mary McLagen, Emma and Lillian Shipman, of Manchester also Mrs. Allan W. York of Hartford; Mrs. Mary Ann of North Stonington and two granddaughters, Beverly and Douglas Gray.

Ross Lewis, Harold Hanna, Leon Holmes and family, Mrs. Annie McLagan, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus E. Tyler, Miss Marion Tyler, Mrs. Amy Lydall, the Misses Beatrice and Bernice Lydall, Mrs. Frank Chamberlain, Mrs. Florence Warner and son Earl, Rev. E. P. Pfreaner, Christopher Glenney and Miss Emma Colver were Manchester people visiting the grounds yesterday.

The first out-of-door evening service was held Friday when Dr. C. L. Goodell gave a wonderful address entitled "John Bunyan, the Hound of Heaven." It was the occasion of the 300th birthday anniversary of the author of Pilgrim's Progress.

GANGSTERS BLOW UP A NEWSPAPER PLANT Chicago, Aug. 27.—Chicago Heights, a suburb on the southwestern fringe of Chicago, was in an uproar today over gangland's latest and boldest challenge to law and order. It was the bombing of the village newspaper, the Chicago Heights Star, an organ that has been active in fighting crime in that district. Practically the entire front of the two-story plant was blown away. Dynamite apparently was the explosive used. King Williams, part owner and editor of the paper, after viewing the ruins, made the positive statement that the bombing was the result of the paper's editorial policy. The paper opposes the village administration and has been conducting an expose of the gangster-boothlegger-criminal element, Williams said. CAUCUSES

Control of the policies and proceedings of any political party has its roots in the caucuses and primaries. It is there that the voter has his opportunity, equally with every other voter, to exert an influence on the formulation of party creeds and the selection of party candidates.

If there is sometimes a feeling of dissatisfaction on the part of the individual voter with the way in which his party is run—with the principles it adopts or fails to adopt or with the leaders who are allowed to take the reins of control—it is usually entertained by those persons who confine their political activities to election day and to the making of a determination between two sets of candidates with the selection of neither of which has he had anything to do.

The greater the number of caucuses and primary voters, the better for good government and popular expression of political opinion. The fewer the voters the more likely to result concentration of party management in the hands of a few persons—those who do happen to take an interest in the party.

Tonight the Republican caucus to name Manchester's delegates to three party conventions is to be held. The more largely it is attended the better. Such a thing might happen as the choice of the party's candidate for governor or United States senator depending on the vote of a single Manchester delegate.

HITS ALIEN SCHEME

While Republican newspapers throughout the country have generally either failed to sense the importance of Governor Smith's declaration on immigration or been too stumped to make up their minds just how to attack it, the New York World, strongest supporter of Smith in the country, has been quicker to recognize the danger in his utterance and has hastened to advise him to back down before it is too late.

The World approaches the subject mildly, pointing out the items of agreement between Hoover and Smith as to immigration—how each favors eradicating certain obvious injustices arising through technicalities, such as the flagrant separation of families; how each declares for restriction—meaningless in Smith's case; how each is in favor of abandoning the national origins plan—which has been found to be unworkable. Then it proceeds:

"The third plan, which seems to be Governor Smith's, is to base the quotas on the 1910 or 1920 census. The effect of this would be to reduce the quotas of Germany, the Irish Free State and Great Britain and to increase the quotas of Italy, Poland, Greece and Russia.

"No quota system can, of course, be ideally satisfactory to everybody. The very effect of restriction, which is now a settled policy, involves disappointment and dissatisfaction. But the present law is in operation and usage is breeding ease. There is no sense in reopening the question and starting a debate all over again as to what percentage of Irishmen, Germans, Poles and Italians should be permitted each year. "Governor Smith, though he is of Irish ancestry, espouses the plan which would drastically reduce the Irish quota. He can therefore be credited with being disinterested and generous in his proposal.

"It is, nevertheless, in our opinion, AN UNWISE PROPOSAL, which can do nothing but awaken antagonism and jealousies without any compensating national benefit. OUR ADVICE TO HIM IS TO ABANDON HIS SUGGESTION and leave the immigration question out of the campaign."

It is rather a pity, from the point of view of such a Smith supporter as the World, that this advice could not have been given, and followed, before it was entirely too late for Governor Smith to leave this question "out of the campaign." It is, in, and very much in. He has brought it in.

And it is not only Italy, Poland, Greece and Russia to which Smith would open the doors, but Syria, the Balkans, Asia Minor and all the queer outlandish countries of the Near East whose immigrants were pouring in when restriction was adopted.

DURANT'S OFFER

The offer of W. C. Durant, the automobile magnate, of a twenty-five thousand dollar prize for "the best and most practical plan to make the Eighteenth amendment effective" is not to be sneered at, either by wets or by dries.

Every newspaper in the country has received, in the last five or six years, a number of letters from dries who insist that the trouble with prohibition is a disinclination on the part of the authorities to enforce it. Many of them have intimated that if they had the business in hand they would know how to make the amendment effective.

Here is the chance to do that thing and win a fine big sum of money by doing it.

Mr. Durant is a highly responsible business man. His offer is, of course, bona fide. Somebody will get that twenty-five thousand dollars, because the offer is for the best and most practical plan, not for a perfect plan. It should attract the attention of every convinced drier, and for that matter every serious-minded wet, in the country; not for the money prize alone but for the reason that the prize-winning plan will gain an enormous prestige throughout the country.

There are thousands upon thousands of very earnest citizens who have always been opposed to the Eighteenth amendment because they have believed it to be tantamount to lumbering up the constitution with a sumptuary provision which could not possibly be enforced without oversetting the fundamental constitutional guarantees; yet who at the same time would be more than pleased if it were possible to enforce sobriety by constitutional enactment or in any other way.

If the Durant offer shall bring out a workable, practical plan for doing that, it will gain numberless supporters for the amendment from among those who at present regard it as a mistake. Among them will be this newspaper.

SUBWAY DISASTERS

The frightful disaster in the West Side subway in New York Friday evening is being made the subject of controversy that will, no doubt, have its echoes for months. But for the outside world the fixing of direct responsibility for the tragedy will be a matter of minor interest. The outstanding aspect of the catastrophe is now and will continue to be, for outsiders, the certainty that no amount of foresight, diligence or engineering skill will suffice to create any positive insurance against the occurrence, in the future, of other horrors in the subways.

Mechanical contrivances, no matter how marvelously well designed or fabricated, will occasionally break down. Human effort, no matter how earnest and conscientious, will occasionally fail. Mathematical, automatic or human checks will occasionally fail to check.

Disasters like that at Times Square are simply inseparable from the enormous herding together of human beings in confined spaces and the combining of this condition with rapid movement.

A civilization that produces and then depends on the hurrying of hundreds of thousands of men, women and children through underground tubes is one from which occasional horrors and perpetual nerve strain are inseparable. The Friday disaster was a small thing comparable to other conceivable catastrophes which the overgrowth of such communities as New York City eternally court.

It is probable that existence in New York is as safe and sane as it could be in any similarly overcrowded hive of humanity. But the bringing together of such tremendous masses of people is inseparable from constant peril.

When a city reaches such a size that it becomes necessary for its inhabitants to assume the character of moles and travel underground it is too big for safety or sanity. It is also too big for economic advantage, as can be easily proven.

STRANGE LAW

The Connecticut automobile laws, which place the only speed limit at that indefinite point indicated by the driver's judgment as to safety in consideration of the conditions, had as good an illustration as they often do have when a car overturned on the Norwich-New London road yesterday, killing the driver, a Hartford man. The car was simply going so fast that it could not make the turn at a curve, left the road and was destroyed. Two other occupants were thrown so far from the machine that they were not fatally injured.

Now the point is that if the car, by the narrowest of margins, had remained on the road; and if it had had the good luck to escape hitting some other automobile, it would have been almost impossible for a state officer to get a conviction for reckless driving if he were so minded as to try the experiment through an arrest. Unless the highway patrolmen trails such a driver for a considerable distance, and is able to show the court the exact speed at which he was traveling and also the road conditions at the time, there is small chance of satisfactorily proving that the law has been violated. And then it is entirely up to the judgment of the court.

In other words the law against reckless driving is very largely a dead letter until the recklessness has been clearly proved by an accident.

It is submitted that a law which demands a disaster in order that the law against disasters from recklessness shall be enforced is a funny law.

Health and Diet Advice.

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

Dr. McCoy will gladly answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Herald. Enclose stamp, addressed, large envelope for reply.

STARCHY COMBINATIONS.

When you use starches, only one kind should be used at a meal, and this starch should be combined only with the cooked and raw non-starchy vegetables. No fruits of any kind—not even tomatoes—should be used with this meal. The reason for this is that starch digestion begins in the mouth as chewing mixes the saliva with the starch. If acids are used at the same time, the alkalinity of the saliva is spoiled and cannot properly convert the starch into sugar.

If starch, tomatoes and meat are mixed and pass into the stomach, both the meat and tomatoes will stimulate the flow of the gastric juice, which has no digestive element in it that can in any way convert the starch. On the other hand, an excess of gastric juice only sours the starch and makes it unfit for digestion in the intestines where the principal change of starch takes place.

The simple way to use starch is to use only one starchy food at a time, and to use it in combination with the different non-starchy vegetables, both in the cooked and raw forms. The following specimen meals will give you some idea of how starch may be used in proper combination with other foods:

- 1. Wheatear muffins, cooked carrots and string beans.
2. Baked potato, cooked cucumbers, salad of grated carrots and lettuce.
3. Boiled whole rice, cooked asparagus and carrots, raw spinach.

The chief difficulty seems to be in getting bad mixtures through the stomach and into the intestines without getting up a conflict between the digestive juices of the stomach and those of the intestines.

(My next article is on protein combinations.)

WATKINS BROTHERS, Inc.

EXCLUSIVE REPRESENTATIVES FOR CRAWFORD AND CHAMBERS RANGES

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, Aug. 27.—New York recently broadcast a warning to people who planned to go there and settle, urging them to bring sufficient money and not to depend on getting a job right away.

Washington hasn't issued any similar warning, but it should. Thousands of people have been flocking in this summer with the intention of settling here and with the apparent expectation that jobs were here yearning for them. Most of them have learned differently. The office of the U. S. Employment Service on Pennsylvania Avenue has received new applications for work from 78,000 persons within the last year and estimates that 50,000 or 60,000 were new arrivals in the capital. The influx has been especially heavy in the past six months.

At the Washington office of the Democratic national committee, your correspondent was recently told 500 persons had come in looking for campaign jobs within a fortnight. With Democratic campaign activities centering in New York, the Washington office isn't adding any help.

Republican headquarters here, which is running the G. O. P. show, tells a similar story, probably with more applicants there because of its great activity. But the comparatively few jobs there were sewed up long ago without any appeal to the public for help.

Many of the applicants bring letters from political friends, but these are seldom able to accomplish anything for the bearers, who must either return home or remain here looking for other work, which is scarce.

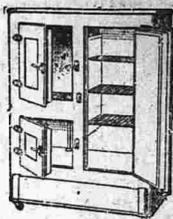

The government's big new building program is attracting other large groups of unemployed from other cities and the creation of a new federal bureau always brings a squad to town seeking to fill the new jobs. The building program, however, is going ahead slowly. A peculiar phase of the situation in that connection is that large numbers of technical men, such as architects and contractors, and skilled laborers are being turned away, considerably exceeding in proportion the amount of unskilled labor here looking for government building jobs.

Many college students come in the summer to dig in somewhere so that they may be in a position to work their way through the various institutions here when fall term begins. The easy government hours appeal to them. Often, however, they find themselves out of luck and in direct competition with thousands of graduates from Washington's high schools and business colleges.

A considerable number of tourists apparently are so fascinated with Washington that they pull out and come here to live without sufficient thought of how they're going to do it.

The fact is that summer is an extremely dull time in Washington and that this season has been especially dull and will be dull after the election. Incidentally, living costs here are about the same as New York's. Mrs. Cecil R. Chittenden, director of the U. S. Employment Service office, says work is being sought by an unusually high percentage of high grade workers in the scientific field. Specialists, such as linguists and research workers, exceed the demand for them. Washington has always been more or less of a Mecca for clerical workers and there are plenty of them beating the pavements here now.

Mrs. Chittenden and her staff are placing about a third of the applicants at the office, but the normal average of placements is twice that.

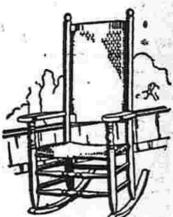

Final Clearance of Refrigerators

Every refrigerator in our stock has been given a final clearance sale price and the stock includes a Leonard for every need. The 59 to 70 lb. 3 door model sketched, with white enameled lining, has been reduced from $31.00 to $24.50.

August Range Club Ends Friday

Friday also ends the August Range Club with its special terms cash prices and easy terms. Sketched above is a Lenox gas range in pearl gray and white porcelain that is available on club terms. $3 down and $2 weekly $25.65.

Final Clearance of Porch Furniture

The odd pieces remaining from our stock of porch furniture have also been reduced for the last time. As an example, the high back maple rocker, sketched above, with double woven cane seat and back, is reduced from $7.50 to $5.95.

Baby Carriages at Reduced Prices

Whitney baby carriages and strollers too will remain reduced until Friday night. A sturdy Whitney fiber carriage, like the sketch with heavy roll edges, but with windows in wood, is in frosted cafe finish. Regular $33.00 $28.

FACTS ABOUT CONNECTICUT

(169) Eight Gas Companies

Eight companies are engaged solely in the production of illuminating gas in Connecticut for sale for light, heat and other purposes. Seventeen years ago there were thirteen such companies. Eight and a half billion cubic feet of gas are consumed annually in Connecticut. At the beginning of last year gas companies in this state had assets amounting to $28,782,680. The total assets of the companies in business in 1912 amounted to $15,589,564. Of the $28,782,680 in assets, $23,999,840 was fixed capital. During 1912 the gross operating income of gas companies totaled $3,159,294 and the total gross operating expense $1,925,820, the gross profit from operations being $1,183,474. The total net profit for the year was $335,859. Five companies paid no dividends last year and eight companies paid dividends amounting to $839,200. Surplus at the close of the year amounted to $1,603,686. By 1927 the gross operating revenues had increased to $8,113,775, and the total operating expenses for the year amounted to $5,093,427. The net income for the year amounted to $2,186,329. Six of the companies paid dividends totaling $1,473,240. Surplus at the close of the year amounted to $4,335,198. Of the total operating revenue, $7,000,515 was derived from metered sales of gas to general consumers. The largest single item of operating expenses was the $3,206,697 in production expenses. The eight companies had $15,878,000 in stock outstanding, there being 4,425 stockholders. Of this number, 3,808 stockholders live in Connecticut. They hold 471,941 shares having a value of $13,874,550. Wednesday—Fourteen Gas and Electric Utilities.

HEBRON

Miss Lillian Epstein of New York is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Morris Rackmilwitz. Mrs. May Carpenter of Portchester, N. Y., who is spending the summer at the home of her aunt, Mr. Belle Strupp, in Colchester, has been the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Albert Hilding, for part of the week. The usual annual Sunday School picnic, which is to be a union affair for the churches of Hebron and Gilead, will be held this year at Lake Tarramaugus, Marlborough.

Instead of at Columbia, where it has been held for many years previously, it will take place August 29, having been postponed from a week previous on account of the absence of that time of the Rev. John Deiter. Moe Freedman and two friends from New York, S. Jerry Geringer and Bob Marcus, are spending a little time at the Friedman place here. Mr. and Mrs. John Wallis and sons, John, Jr., and Frederic, of East Hampton, visited relatives, Mrs. E. G. Lord and the Misses Pendleton on Tuesday. A beach party including the Rev. and Mrs. T. D. Martin and daughter, Miss Marjorie, their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Will and daughter, Miss Marjorie of Herkimer, N. Y., and the Misses Fardison, Bessie, in H. Bassell, Mrs. Anne G. Gilman and daughter, Helen, spent Wednesday at Watch Hill. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Douglas entertained a party of friends Thursday evening, the time being spent in playing bridge. Friends were taken by Miss Marjorie Martin, Miss C. E. Kellogg, and Mr. Irving Will. Mrs. Francis Slater and son Lawrance of Norwich and Mr. and Mrs. Hook of New Jersey, were guests on Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Ames W. Sisson, at their home in Hebron.

At a meeting of the 4-H club held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Truman C. Ives three new members were admitted into membership. They were Joseph and George Griffing and Arthur Keefe. The initiation ceremonies took up the entire program. Several visitors were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Griffing, Miss Eunice Porter, and Mr. and Mrs. Chaucey B. Kinney. Refreshments were served. Richard and Fred Ives expect to start Monday morning on a three days fishing trip under the auspices of the Farm Bureau. Different parts of the state will be visited. An effort is being made to establish a woman's club in connection with the extension work at Storrs. The first meeting will be held some time in September and it is expected that Mrs. Dimmock of the Farm Bureau work will be present and will help organize. Mrs. Truman C. Ives has been appointed director of the work in this part of the town. Announcements with date will be made later. The Rev. and Mrs. T. D. Martin and daughter, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Will and daughter, Miss Marjorie Will, spent a day recently looking up old associations and calling on relatives and friends in Hampton. Truman C. Ives is flooding a pond near the state road to be used for ice cutting. A brook with three tributaries furnishes water for the pond.

THE GREASED POLE WAS POPULAR HERE

How Local Folks Enjoyed This Stunt About Fifty Years Ago.

New York, Aug. 27.—Like Hollywood, New York is a city where beauty is a drug on the market. Every pretty maid who fails to turn her toes westward after a suitable number of neighbors have remarked "how cute" she is, turns her toes toward Broadway.

An announcement that Messrs. Shubert, Ziegfeld, Buck, Carroll or White could use a dozen lovely ladies results in a crush comparable to a Monday basement bargain sale.

Every Manhattan housewife who possesses anything resembling a good figure spends much money and considerable time moulding it to suit the fashion's vogues. Beauty salons dot every highway. From the bluest tenement block to the ritziest Park Avenue corner, there is plenty of business for the beautifiers.

With such a condition existing, and the law of supply and demand remaining what it is, it is small wonder that women who are not particularly comely frequently find that they can cash in on their lack of pulchritude.

Just the other day a producer needed three women to play the role of "bags" in a forthcoming production. He broadcast for "homely" women. Yet it took him a week to get his types. It took this same man but one afternoon to cast his chorus of beauties. He tells me that in gathering together these three he experienced some of his most amusing moments in the theater. On the first day half a dozen attractive girls, who had failed to make the chorus of musical revues, showed up. They insisted that they "just must look terrible," judging from the reception they had met at the hands of casting directors.

On the other hand, a dozen women he would have selected for the roles refused to admit that they were beautiful and just wouldn't play a part that implied a lack of comeliness.

Bright young playwrights and musical comedy plot-bucksters have, for many a season, directed their attentions to the "plain" girl. A large percentage of the stories have a Cinderella or an ugly-duckling twist, wherein the various beauties invariably fail to land the heart of the young millionaire. The productions run to such titles as "The Gingham Girl," "Funny Face," and the like.

The "movie automat" will make its appearance in Manhattan this winter, I am told. By dropping a nickel in the slot, one may gaze into some such machine as graced the penny arcades and look upon a five-minute show.

The films, I am informed, will be made by the new natural color process recently announced by George Eastman. These, it will be recalled, can be taken on the smaller, amateur cameras. In some instances there will be "sound" pictures, with phonographic attachments. The "automat" theaters will be decorated with trick entrances, like a regular show house. Some 30 slot machines will be installed in each.

This, mayhap, may sound the end of the old-time penny arcade machines wherein, as youths, we were lured by such peep shows as "Gertie's Garters" or "Loves of Lillian," or "Naughtie Nighties."

And how, by-cracky, gosh-dinged day, after a few experiences with the movies, they seem as out-of-date and innocent as grandma's lace bonnet.

GILBERT SWAN.

A pole, properly greased and then set up at the West Side playgrounds, from long to furnish a lot of amusement, it is expected, at the field day to be held at the West Side grounds on Wednesday.

It is only a short distance to the south side of Cooper Hill street where nearly fifty years ago the real athletic activities of South Manchester were held, a gathering place on such days as July 4, when the whole village would turn out and enjoy a full afternoon and evening's program, eat ice cream—sold only on July 4—and drink "pop" from bottles so constructed that it was necessary to push in round glass ball to get at the contents.

Halfway between what are now Cedar street and Cooper street, on the south side of Cooper Hill street, is a flat piece of land between two hills lying between Cooper Hill street and Hartford road.

In this place years ago there was a dance platform, just large enough for a "couple of sets" with some local man calling the "figures" for the square dances. In between the "square" dances would be a waltz or a polka that the classy dancers could step, but dancing was only part of the program.

The Brass Band. A Fourth of July program would have on it a brass band that would play Civil War songs, "America" and some church hymns.

"The Star Spangled Banner" was not sung as much in those days. There would be an address, probably "Washington's Farewell Address to His Army," or some such number delivered by a person who had strong lungs, probably from Manchester or possibly from out of town.

The Declaration of Independence would be read and with this out of the way, there would come the sports. The running broad jump was always on the program and the hop, skip and jump was another event. Dashes were included, but the sport of all sports was climbing the greased pole.

The pole was smooth, the bark having been removed and with the top of the pole the treatment to make it good and slippery was applied. On the top of this pole would be placed the prize. To the person who made the climb and was able to reach up and take it from the top of the pole the prize was awarded. It was not so much of a climb, but the going was hard and while the contest was on all other events were passed up.

Those who were to take part in this event came prepared. They wore suits made of bags, old carpets or some other rough material. There was always some one in the crowd who forgot he was all dressed up in a new $12 "crow hawk" and take a chance at winning the prize.

It was probably a crude sport, but it went big in those days, and as everybody knew everybody else it added to the merriment in those days.

MANCHESTER WOMAN SOAKS CLOTHES WHITER

'Thick, lasting suds' says Mrs. Warren of 143 Cooper Hill St. 'Rinso is perfectly satisfactory in every way and I gladly endorse it publicly. Rinso suds are thick and they surely last plenty long enough to completely remove the dirt from the clothes. Every woman, of course, likes to have a soap that washes the clothes clean and nice. That's precisely what Rinso does and that's why I'm so strongly in favor of it. Rinso is easy on my hands, and that's why I prefer it to the soaps I've used in the past.' (Signed) Mrs. Chas. Moynihan, fourteen years old Hartford Boy Scout, was drowned early yesterday morning at the Tankeroson Pond in Phoenixville which is part of Vernon. The boy, with two chums, had stolen a canoe from the camp to take a 'dip' in the water prior to going to church. Ray was practicing for a swimming test he was to have taken later in the day but could not swim and got into water twenty feet deep near the dam. His companions were too young to offer assistance and ran for help which came too late.

MARION DAVIES AT THE STATE TOMORROW

With "Tillie, the Toller," and "The Patsy" still fresh in the minds of millions of movie fans, Marion Davies tightens her grip on the title of leading comedienne of the screen with her current performance as Sally in "The Cardboard Lover," which comes to the State theater for tomorrow and Wednesday. The story of her new film is simple, but it provides a suitable framework for a succession of original gags, dramatic situations, and hilarious moments. Sally arrives in Monte Carlo with a group of other American college girls on a "personally conducted tour." Here she meets Andre, a tennis champion in the toils of Simone, a voluptuous adventuress. These two roles are played by Nils Asther and Jetta Goudal. Sally falls for Andre's dashing appearance and pursues him in an effort to obtain his autograph.

It is here that the story suddenly develops a rather unusual twist that is as funny as it is thrilling. Miss Davies flits from one sequence to another in a manner that cannot be duplicated. Her sunny smile and pretty face is enough to warm the heart of any man. Tomorrow night the State also presents another of the popular Merchants and State Theater Gift Nights. Manager Sanson, who is leaving Manchester this week, will also present a personal gift to one of his fortunate patrons.

The State Short Subjects for tomorrow include "The latest issue of current news events and a dandy comedy." For the last times tonight, at 7:00 and 9:00, the State is "sentencing" John Gilbert in "The Cosacks."

Two Twilight Battles Scheduled For This Evening

HOLLAND, E. BISSELL, McCANN VICTORS IN HERALD'S TOURNEY

Paisley, J. Cheney and Mahoney Eliminated; Muriel Tomlinson Beats Elizabeth Washkewich; Second Round Pairings.

Local Sport Chatter

MRS. VAN NESS WINS
In one of the best matches of either tournament Mrs. Fred Van Ness eliminated Muriel Tomlinson this morning at the Manchester Country Club court. The match was stubbornly contested and went three sets. The scores were 6-4, 2-6 and 6-3.

Ty Holland, Earl Bissell and Henry McCann, three of the leading players competing for the men's tennis singles championship of Manchester, won their opening round skirmishes over the weekend. Holland easily disposed of Lawrence Paisley 6-1, 6-1; Bissell won from John Cheney 6-3, 4-6, 6-0, and McCann eliminated Philip Mahoney 6-1, 5-7, 6-2. In the women's tournament, only the match was played, Muriel Tomlinson defeating Elizabeth Washkewich in straight sets, 6-4 and 6-3. Rain prevented the other scheduled matches.

The trio who won their matches in the men's tourney are all considered to have a good chance to win the title. Holland's chances are said to be the best. Although he has not touched a racquet but once since last year, he showed surprising form and ability in turning back Paisley yesterday morning on the High school court. When going right, Paisley is a hard man to beat. He is one of the few who takes a chance at a continuous driving game. However, his accuracy was poor against Holland who scored point after point by playing a careful defensive game and letting his opponent rack the ball out of bounds. Holland, former High school star, showed little effects of the long layoff and there are some who believe he will win the title this year.

One Match Tonight
Holland's next match will be with the winner of the Ross Shirrer-Harry Kohls match which ended in a deadlock in the third and deciding set Friday night owing to darkness and which will be played tonight on the Marvin Green court. If he gets through his second round match, which will be against Earl Bissell, Bissell displayed some class tennis in beating John Cheney. In fact, he had to, for the golf star took the second set of their match Saturday afternoon at the West Side courts and looked like a possible winner. However, Bissell, who had been playing a cautious game, found his confidence at the start of the deciding set with a couple of well-placed drives and then slashed his way to a six-love triumph.

Forced Three Sets
McCann was forced to go three sets to get by the determined and less-experienced Philip Mahoney at the High school courts yesterday morning. McCann has been figured to take Mahoney in straight sets with comparative ease, but he was given a stubborn battle even though his margin of victory was both sufficient and well-deserved. The second set was a thriller. Mahoney winning 7-5. McCann took the other pair 6-1 and 6-2. He meets Jimmy Quish in the second round.

Muriel Tomlinson's victory over Elizabeth Washkewich was the second important one she scored over the Cottage street girl this season. Miss Washkewich is the girl who gave "Cappie" Giblin a tough battle last year when the latter won the title. Only recently, Miss Tomlinson beat Miss Washkewich for the championship of the playgrounds in an interesting contest. Muriel's two-set victory, although close, (6-4, 6-3), was well deserved.

Second Round Matches
The second round matches in the men's tournament are as follows: Fred Van Ness vs. Francis O'Brien, Paul Jennis or Everett Strange vs. Allan Dexter, Henry McCann vs. Jimmy Quish, Earl Jantz vs. Aldo Gatti, Ben Cheney or Mac Macdonald vs. Johnny Boyle or Leonard Berry, Earl Bissell vs. Bob Smith and Ty Holland vs. Ross Shirrer or Harry Kohls. Sherwood Bissell has won his second round match and meets the winner of the Van Ness-O'Brien set.

The second round matches in the women's tournament will be as follows: Carolyn Cheney vs. Aileen McHale or Gladys Wilkerson, Eleanor Rande vs. Alice Cheney, Mrs. Fred Van Ness vs. Muriel Tomlinson, Ruth Smith or Lucille Grant vs. Ruth Brendt or Mary McVeigh, and one of the Marjorie Smith's vs. Julia Johnson or Mrs. Henry Mallory. These matches must be played off this week which means that the postponed first round matches must also be cleaned up. The finals will probably be played off Saturday, September 15.

MIGHT TRY GARTERS
She: According to the latest fashion notes, skirts are going to be worn below the knees.
He: I don't doubt it, but how are they going to keep them on?—Life.

The game between the Community Club and Manchester Green, scheduled for Hickey's Grove yesterday afternoon was postponed because of wet grounds. The teams will meet Saturday afternoon at Woodbridge Field and Sunday at Hickey's.

Bill Brennan, coach of the Gibson Garage team in the Twilight League, says he doesn't think it was right for Jerry Fay to arrange a series with the Green before the league was finished and the winner decided. He doesn't think the league will be finished now. Brennan says there are good many others who feel the same way.

It's been a long time since the press has been heard at a meeting where teams were making arrangements for a town series as was the case in the Community-Green affair. A well known local baseball player told the writer that it might be an indication that the series was framed to go the full five games in view of the fact that the Community is admittedly under financially. However, be that as it may, it will be interesting to see just how many games are played.

Tennis sure is a gentleman's game. John Cheney drove one over the net to Earl Bissell Saturday that failed to take any bound. He generously offered to replay the point, but Bissell refused. The same thing happened in the Fred Van Ness-Louise Farr match with the former emulating Cheney and the latter, Farr. That's what you call sportsmanship.

Here's hoping the twilight league games set for this evening go seven innings. They probably won't unless the games get started quite a bit earlier than they have in the past. All of which brings remembrance of the mill league which used to start promptly at 6 o'clock. It isn't much of a ball game that goes less than seven innings, say what you will.

In the only tennis match he has played since last fall prior to entering the town tournament, Ty Holland divided two sets with Champion Cap Bissell, winning the first, 3 to 6 and losing the next, 6-4. They did not play the third.

There will be a lot of Manchester folks at the ball game in Hartford tomorrow afternoon between the New York Yankees and the Hartford Eastern League club. It is understood that Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig will both play a full game. Hartford has beaten the Pirates and Braves in exhibition games this season. Both were somewhat of a disappointment because of the weak hitting of the big league clubs. Maybe the Yankees will slam some out of the ball park. That's what everybody wants to see.

Tonight's last time to sign up for the town championship horseshoe - pitching tournament which "Dodger" Dowd is conducting under the auspices of the Recreation Centers. Phone names to Rec before 9:30 tonight, or it will be too late.

Because of the possibility of an accident, it has been decided to call off the automobile race scheduled for the west side playgrounds Wednesday night.

Dodger Dowd has gathered together an array of stars to oppose the Green team in a twilight league game at the West Side playgrounds Wednesday evening. It will be held in conjunction with the track and field program.

Eddie Coughlin is the new manager of the Cloverleaves football team, succeeding Bill Griffin, who held the post for two years. Coughlin is hard at work arranging his schedule. He is being assisted by Louis Genovese. The Wallingford Eagles are one of the first teams that will appear here. They made most favorable impression here last fall.

Over in England the dignified London bobbies have been ordered to measure the tails of stray dogs in an attempt to establish their identity. Local cops are praying Dog Warden Kraus doesn't try to have a similar ordinance established here. Quite embarrassing, don't ya know?

Chinese Boxer 'Drome Feature

HARTFORD CARD TONIGHT
Star Bout
Harry Soo, Boston, vs. Kewpie Ledoux, Holyoke, 8 rounds.
Other Bout (all 4 rounds)
Ray Hogan, Terryville, vs. Tommy Jarrett, New Haven; Jimmy Proto, New Haven, vs. Brownie Tucker, Hartford; Herman Pink, Hartford, vs. Roscoe Davis, Hartford; George Kraus, East Hartford, vs. George Welch, Hartford; Art Chappelaine, Springfield, vs. Rene Pellequin, Danielson; Joe Zotter, New Britain, vs. Dannie Esposito, New Haven; Johnnie Baron, Springfield, vs. Del Poullot, New Britain; Zeke Mazier, Hartford, vs. Lucien Brouillard, Danielson.

A Chinaman will do battle in the star bout of the popular-priced, new-talent boxing show at the Hartford Velodrome tonight. Harry Soo, the Chinese sensation of Boston, will meet Kewpie Ledoux, of Holyoke in this feature bout, a flyweight battle that should furnish speedy action and more than its share of real fighting.

Soo has won many victories the past six months in the Boston district and among his victims are Ruby Bradley and Midget Levine. The Chinese flyweight is fast and a good hitter.

Ledoux has fought twice at the Hartford velodrome this summer and won both his fights, first beating Buster Nadeau and then Ruby Bradley. He is rugged, very aggressive and can hit. It is of interest that Ledoux, though just past twenty-one, is married and the father of two bouncing youngsters. He says he finds a fight now and then helps to make both ends meet. Ledoux and Soo are slated to go eight rounds.

As usual, eight four-round bouts makes up the under half of the card. Brownie Tucker, the Hartford colored bantamweight, who has been defeating all opponents, most of them on knockouts, meets a hard test in taking on the veteran Jimmy Proto, of New Haven. Proto has had much more experience than Tucker, but the colored boy will have youth and a great right hand on his side.

A flyweight bout of promise is that between Art Chappelaine, both tough and southpaw, who, by the way, is a cousin of Jack Delaney, and Rene Pellequin, of Danielson. Ray Hogan, of Hartford meets Tommy Jarrett, the New Haven red-head, and Joe Zotter, of New Britain, who surprised the crowd by beating Pancho Villa last week, taking the bout on minutes' notice when Romeo Roche turned up with a damaged hand, will clash with Dannie Esposito, of New Haven.

The first bout will be called at 8:15. Ladies, if accompanied by escorts, will be admitted free.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE VERY CLOSE

Only Four and Half Games Separate Leaders and Fourth Place Team.
New York, Aug. 27.—The National League pennant race was closer than the finish of a Marathon dance Derby today with four and a half games separating Cincinnati in fourth place from the front-running Cardinals. The Giants, in second place, had a percentage lead over the Cubs, but by a fraction of the figures, no advantage at all in games won and lost.

The Giants ran their losing streak to four straight by kicking away a close game with Brooklyn which ended in the tenth when Bissonette hit a home run off Hubble. The final score was 4 to 3.

Red Lucas, who beat the Giants last week, held the Pirates to eight scattered hits and shut them out until the ninth inning when they scored three runs.

The Cardinals kept out in front at the expense of the Phillies. Ring was no puzzle to the league leaders who are now three and a half games in front of the Giants, who are taking a much needed rest.

Fay Injecting College Style In Cloverleaves

Former Grove City Star to Get North End Eleven Away From Straight Line Plunging System of Play; Replaces Moonan as Head Coach; Latter Living In New Hampshire; Series of Games for Town Title Suggested by Herald Sports Editor.

BY TOM STOWE
If nothing unforeseen develops, the Cloverleaves' football team which faces the Cubs for the town championship next November will be a decidedly different one from any which has ever represented the north end. This will be due to a change in coaching policy.

For the first time in years, if ever, the north end outfit will have the advantage of college coaching. George Moonan, popular coach of the team since its organization, will be unable to continue the work of this year due to the fact that he now lives in New Hampshire, and Jerry Fay, former Grove City College star, has assumed his duties. However, whether or not Fay will be here the entire season is not known. It all depends on whether he gets an inducing offer to play professional ball.

New Style of Play
But, granting that Fay remains for even a month, his influence ought to make a much different team out of the Cloverleaves. Fay will no doubt give the Cloverleaves some college plays and inject the collegiate system into their efforts as much as possible. The old style of straight line plunging which has marked the play of north end teams ever since the days of the famous Majors, will be given away from and a much more tricky and deceptive method employed. Such a change should improve the Cloverleaves beyond measure.

This is the main reason why the Cubs were victorious over the Cloverleaves for the town championship football in Manchester, "did not depend on straight football to win the title. It was a clever forward passing attack that paved the way for both touchdowns which were scored in the 13 to 6 triumph at the now dismantled McKee-street stadium. The Cloverleaves were woefully weak against the overhead game. However, with Fay at the helm, this feature will no doubt be remedied.

Made Great Record
Fay himself is a line player. His position is tackle. At Grove City he was one of the outstanding players of the team and his efforts were justly rewarded by not only being elected captain of the team in his senior year, but also by being selected as the best all-around athlete in the tri-state district. The sports writer of the Philadelphia Ledger said that Fay would have made an All-America selection had he not been with such a comparatively small college.

Since graduating from that institution, Fay's ability as a football player has been further substantiated by the offers he received to play for football. He was with the Philadelphia Yellow Jackets when that team won the championship of the American League. The big hope at the north end is that Fay will not decide to play pro ball this season. However, at the same time, they would not feel disposed to blame him if he did. Money doesn't grow on huckleberry bushes nowadays and pro football is more or less of a gold mine for the right man.

Series Is Suggested
The inter-sectional battle between the Cubs and the Cloverleaves last year was the biggest sporting event in town in recent years, if ever. An enormous crowd turned out to watch the first battle which was fought at Hickey's Grove. It ended in a scoreless deadlock after the north end team made a last minute rally that almost swept it to victory. It was roughly estimated that close to 5,000 persons jammed the slopes of the natural bowl to watch the contest.

This year should be no exception. If the managers of the teams are wise, they will get together before the start of the season as was done last year and arrange the date and settle the main facts for their 1928 campaign. In past years, it has been the custom to play only one game, unless, of course, that should end in a tie score. However, in view of the exceptional interest Manchester fans always take in these games, it might be advisable to stage a "best out of three" game series this year.

Such would not be regarded as a money-making scheme by any means. Local fans more than crave north-south battles and a series would provide ample entertainment. Furthermore, it would give one team a chance to come back in case it was beaten by a fluke in the first. Out of town teams as an opposing attraction do not anywhere near compete with these games as a Frau Von Reznock, German tennis star, was disqualified the other day for slipping. Fraulein Cleely Aussenm's mother during the German championships at Hamburg. With the U. S. L. T. A. slapping Bill Tilden, this tennis is getting to be a somewhat sour racket.

PLAYERS DESERVE PAY
There used to be a time football was played for the love of the game, but those days are gone insofar as the same player is concerned. Why should a person risk his life (he does nothing less) all season for a few measly dollars when he is going to receive an injury which may cripple him for life. Of course this may seem a bit far-fetched, but it is nevertheless true. So-called minor injuries often result in doctor bills that run well over fifty dollars.

Here is an excellent opportunity for both the Cubs and the Cloverleaves to profit this season and at the same time give the fans what they desire. It will be interesting to wait and see if the teams take advantage of it or become embroiled in another of those ridiculous arguments. It has been the habit in past years for the champion to defend its laurels on its own field. Here is a chance to stage a game on each field and toss up for the deciding one if necessary.

Heights Play At Green Bon Ami-Garage, North

YANKS IN HARTFORD TOMORROW AT 4:15

Headed by Babe Ruth, greatest home run hitter of all time, the New York Yankees come to the Bulkeley Stadium tomorrow afternoon for an exhibition game with Paddy O'Connor's Hartford Senators. The game will be called at 4:15, daylight saving time in order to allow insurance employes to attend.

It is expected that all attendance records will be shattered on this occasion. The Yankees will arrive in Hartford Tuesday noon at 12:15 from New York. Ruth and Lou Gehrig, who was the star of the Hartford team in 1925 and 1924, will be transported from the train to the Hartford Times building where they will hold an informal reception at 12:45 with Ruth tossing two-dozen autographed baseballs into the crowd.

The home run king plans a visit to the local orphans' home where sick boys have expressed a desire to see him and Lou Gehrig as well. The Yankees will be given a hearty welcome in Hartford. The Hotel Bond, where they are staying over night, has arranged a party at the Hotel Bond ballroom for Tuesday evening when, it is expected, several hundred fans will greet the distinguished athletes.

Gehrig is in for an especially warm welcome in Hartford where he was a great favorite a few seasons back, the days when he used to bump 'em over the fence at Clarkin field. Mayor Batterson will hand Gehrig a gift from local fandom.

NEW WATER RECORDS
New York, Aug. 27.—Johnny Weismuller of the Illinois A. C. and Ray Buddy of the New York A. C., today are the holders of new world's swim records.

At a special meet at the Ostend Surf Club at Fur Rockaway, Long Island, Weismuller broke the world's record for the 125-yard free style by negotiating the distance in 1:07 3-5, bettering by slightly less than five seconds the record held by Duke Kahanamoku in Honolulu in 1927.

Buddy bettered the world's mark in the 600-yard handicap swim at the same meet. His time in the event, 7:06 4-5, is nearly seven seconds less than the record set by Arne Borg last year.

Determined Effort Being Made to Start Games Early Enough to Complete Seven Innings; Six More Games.

LEAGUE STANDING

Team	W.	L.
Garage	2	1
Heights	2	1
Green	2	2
Bon Ami	1	3

Another attempt to get in seven innings of baseball will take place in the Community Club Twilight League tonight when two games will be played. Six games remain to be played before the league is completed, two of them postponed affairs. Just how this can be done without resorting to Saturday and Sunday ball remains to be seen.

The pairings for tonight find the Heights due for a setto with the Manchester Green outfit up at Woodbridge Field while the Gibson's Garage and Bon Ami tribes will battle at Hickey's Grove. The Heights and Garage are tied for the league leadership in this half and both are anxious to win.

An attempt will be made by all four teams to get their players around early so that the games may not be abbreviated by darkness. In order to do this, it is necessary to start the games by six o'clock. The majority of the games in the league have started nearer to seven than six and managers are finding it extremely difficult in getting their players out of the habit of being late.

PADDOCK THROUGH
New York, Aug. 27.—Charley Paddock, of the American Olympic team is in New York today, but according to a statement made by the runner he is through with the track.

He has returned to the United States for his annual lecture tour which covers forty states. In January he will again cross the Atlantic with Paris as his goal. There he has been engaged by a motion picture company to play a part that has nothing to do with athletics.

"Will you love me in December as you do in May?" "Yeah, if you'll cut out the Christmas swapping."

Mother: I do hope your father doesn't forget to trim his moustache.

Harold (age 6): Don't worry, Mother. I just saw the maid biting it off.

Farmer: Why did it take you so long to put the bridle on that horse?

Hand: (from city): I had to wait until he yawned, to get the bit in his mouth.

THE ANYMITE

"By golly, we are pretty good," cried Carpy. "Who would think we could do fancy tricks away up here, while hanging by our knees. We'll put our act on, shy of fear, and please the crowd when it is here. And then he swung round on a bar, and did the trick with ease. The next performance of the show made all the audience laugh. "Ha, ho!" The Tintles put their act on and 'twas quite a funny sight to see these little fellows flop up in the air and almost drop. Each time they'd seem about to fall, they'd catch a hold all right. Then, when the show at last was over, the whole bunch heard the trainer roar. "Say, that was great! You did just fine. I'm surely proud of you. You've done more than your share, I guess, to make this show a big success. Tomorrow we will find some other tricks for you to do."

ABOUT TOWN

E. L. G. Hohenthal, Sr., who has been touring Europe this summer, expects to sail on the S. S. Homer tomorrow and arrive in this country on September 4.

Mrs. Clara Calve and daughter, Elvera, and son John Jr., of East Middle Turnpike, are expected home today after spending their vacation with Mrs. Calve's daughter at the Carlton Hotel, Narragansett, Pier, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Sackett, Mrs. John Parkinson of Stamford and Mr. and Mrs. John Parkinson and daughter Estelle of Hollis, L. I., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. David Korgstiel of Henry street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jared Pearl of Main street, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Pearl, Jr., of Woodland street and Mrs. Emma Starkweather, have returned from a visit with friends in Westerly, R. I., and Ocean Beach. Jared Pearl, who is a member of Drake Post, G. A. R., enjoyed the trip, which was made by automobile, as well as the youngest member of the party.

An important meeting of the YD club will be held at the Army and Navy clubhouse this evening at 8 o'clock.

Mark Peterson, of Quish & Peterson of Main street, returned yesterday from Point O' Woods where he has been for the past week.

Miss Maria Magneil, of the Magneil Drug Company, is at Niagara Falls, N. Y., where she is attending a national convention of the Catholic Daughters of America.

Miss Helen and Miss Julia Price of Laurel street, are at Chapman Beach, Westbrook, for the next ten days.

Members of the Manchester Rabbit Club spent yesterday at the rabbit farm of Jacob Bartz, of Scotland, a former Manchester resident. They made the trip in private automobiles.

The annual picnic of the Sunday school of St. James' church will be held Wednesday at Elizabeth Park. They will meet at the church lawn at 3:30 and go by special trolley cars to the park. If it rains on Wednesday the picnic will be held Thursday.

On account of the stormy weather Saturday evening the Elks Carnival in Rockyville will hold over until Tuesday evening when the final awards will be made.

Miss Antoinette Prete of 117 Birch street is spending several weeks with her grandmother in Harrington, N. Y.

Leonard Carlson of 192 Woodbridge street, who has been ill for some time with a severe attack of rheumatism, is now convalescing.

Miss Hulda Osterag, of Rockyville, is the guest of Mrs. Alfred Blatter of Foster street, at her cottage at Myrtle Beach. Mrs. Blatter is recuperating after a serious illness.

The Orford Soap Company's employees are enjoying their annual ten-day vacation. During the shutdown of the plant, the machinists and carpenters will make any necessary repairs. Those absent at present from the office force include Miss Mildred Hutchinson, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Benjamin Hathaway, in Lynn, Mass.; Miss Rose M. Longpre, who is at her home in Montreal, and Miss Ruth Cowdell, who is spending her vacation at Oyster Bay, L. I., and her home in Waterbury.

Educated folks appreciate quality; others are more apt to buy on the basis of price. Fine shoes and hosiery for men, women and children, schools open Sept. 4. W. G. Simmons Co., 48 Pratt Street.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Pearl and children of Woodland street have been spending the past week in Saybrook.

Mrs. Pauline Berrett is spending several days in New York, purchasing fall merchandise for her Main street store.

Miss Clarissa Wood of Wellington Road has returned home after spending two weeks at Camp Bonnie Bras, Blandford, Mass. This is the Springfield Girl Scout camp and Miss Wood was formerly a member of a troop in that city.

The annual Southbury Guild day is scheduled for Wednesday of this week at the home in Southbury. Local members who wish to go by bus, should get in touch at once with Mrs. G. Heydenreich, 187 Russ street, Hartford.

George H. Howe and Dr. F. W. Bushing have returned from a two weeks' fishing trip in Canada. They had poor luck and got less than a dozen fish during the entire trip.

Mrs. Thomas J. Cole of 10 Middle Turnpike West arrived home yesterday from San Diego, Calif., where she has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Hall.

The last of the summer union services of the South Methodist and Center Congregational churches was held yesterday at the former church. The final service was in charge of Rev. Eric I. Lindh, of Bethany Congregational church, Quincy, Mass. Rev. Mr. Lindh preached to an unusually large congregation. He is well known in Manchester, having had charge of the Center Congregational church for a year during the war, while Rev. Charles Hesselgrave, the regular pastor, was doing Y. M. C. A. work with the troops in France.

Provided the weather is in a little pleasant mood the American Legion carnival will be in full swing for a bang-up closing at the Center. A complete new assortment of valuable prizes will be on display at the various booths and the merry-go-round and ferris wheel will churn gaily, carrying the fare-well loads of Manchesterites. McKays 15 piece orchestra has a complete new arrangement of popular pieces that they will present in a musical concert during the course of the evening.

Tonight is the last evening that the people of Manchester can enjoy a few hours fun by attending the American Legion Carnival. At the same time they will contribute towards helping the boys raise sufficient funds to defray the expenses that will be entailed by them in carrying through the elaborate plans for Armistice Day.

BEETHOVEN CLUB TO HAVE FIFTY VOICES

Personnel of Glee Club Organization Will Be Increased; Fall Tour Now Planned.

The Beethoven Glee Club, which was organized three years ago with only fifteen voices and which now has about three times that number, will be larger this year than ever before. It is expected that there will be more than fifty voices in the chorus the coming season.

The Beethoven singers will hold their first rehearsal of the fall season a week from Monday night, September 10, at the Swedish Lutheran church. Rehearsals will be held each Monday evening. The club is under the direction of Helge E. Pearson.

The organization made five public appearances last year and will probably make more than that this season. Another three-day tour is planned, this year in Massachusetts. Last season, the club went on a tour through western Connecticut with stops in New York and New Jersey.

The Glee Club, composed of women and also headed by Mr. Pearson, with about forty voices, will begin rehearsals a week from tomorrow evening, September 4. It is possible that the two organizations will give a joint concert at High School hall next fall.

Business Manager Ewald Matson and Secretary Carl Gustafson of the Beethoven Club were in Boston over the week-end making arrangements for the proposed tour. It is tentatively planned to make the trip on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 19, 20 and 21.

DEMOCRATS ENDORSE 2 G. O. P. CANDIDATES

Judge W. S. Hyde and Collector Howe Named—File for Other Offices. Judge of Probate William S. Hyde, Republican, has been endorsed by the Democrats for reelection to that office and will have no opposition at the fall election, when his name will appear on the state ticket. The Democrats also endorsed as tax collector, George H. Howe, the Republican incumbent as they did a year ago, but have named nearly a full ticket for all other town offices.

The nomination petitions were left with Town Clerk Turkington yesterday by Louis Breen, registrar of voters. In addition to the petition of James Duffy as candidate for constable, which had already been filed, included the following: Assessor, Gustave Green; auditor, John Limerick; judge of probate, William S. Hyde; constables, William R. Campbell, Frank J. Quish; selectmen, Charles I. Balch, Thomas F. Coleman, William P. Quish, Walter Sheridan, John Hackett, Charles P. O'Connor and Charles Skrabacz; representative, John H. Gill; school visitor, Edward J. Murphy; tax collector, G. H. Howe; registrar, Louis Breen.

These are in addition to those already named as having filed petitions.

PLANS MANY CHANGES IN OLD ADAMS HOME

From plans prepared by Architect B. A. Sellow, of Hartford, E. J. Holl, owner of the Frank Adams place, on Main street, is making many changes to the interior of that building which will highly modernize the home. There are to be new oak floors laid throughout the house, two modern tile bathrooms are to be built and the old plumbing and heating apparatus and fixtures are to be replaced. The heating system, at present an old-fashioned hot air plant, will be replaced by a modern vapor system. The ceilings will be canvas covered. A new stairway is to be built to the third floor. When completed the home will contain twelve rooms in addition to a billiard room.

The home is one of the attractive places in Manchester, but has been sadly in need of modernizing as to interior finish, heating and lighting. When completed the house will be offered for sale.

PHONES Pinehurst "GOOD THINGS TO EAT" THE TOWN OUR NEIGHBORHOOD. Newcomers to Manchester might get the impression, from our location near Middle Turnpike, that Pinehurst is a neighborhood store. It's only a neighborhood store if you think of the whole town of Manchester as a neighborhood—and if you do that, it's a pretty big one. Pinehurst's delivery service reaches out to every part of the community. It covers the entire Manchester Green section. It extends south as far as the Country Club. Over North we have a lot of customers in the territory which centers at Depot Square, and includes all of North Main and adjacent streets. Our delivery trucks fit west as far as Pine Forest and they tour Buckland and come back by way of Adams and Hilliard street. It's the quickest, promptest delivery you ever did see, too. Phone your order from any part of the town, and two things happen. You get your articles selected with the most accurate care as to requirement and quality—and you get them with surprising speed. Sure, Pinehurst is a neighborhood store—so far as intimate interest in the customer's satisfaction is concerned—but the neighborhood's boundaries are the geographical limits of the town of Manchester—and sometimes even those limits are stretched. RUSHES THE SEASON IN FOOTBALL INJURY

John Baranowski Breaks His Collar-Bone in Preliminary Practice of Cloverleaves.

Although the 1928 football season doesn't open for several weeks yet, the first accident-incidental to this sport has already happened here.

John J. Baranowski, well known north end plumber, suffered a severe injury to a shoulder while practicing with the Cloverleaves team at the Old Golf Links yesterday morning. Under the direction of Coach Jerry Fay, candidates were practicing the recovery of fumbles. In diving for the elusive pigskin, Baranowski's shoulder crashed against the ground. He was taken to a physician's office for treatment for a broken collar bone. This was the second time that Baranowski had tried out for a position on the team, falling to make the grade the first time.
