

HOOVER SEEKS LABOR VOTE IN NEWARK SPEECH

To Pledge His Support of Organized Labor When He Makes Address on September 17.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Herbert Hoover today completed a tentative draft of his third public address as the Republican presidential nominee—the "labor" address to be delivered at Newark, N. J., September 17.

Hoover will seek to win the support of organized labor. The high points of the address undoubtedly will be a pledge to bend every effort, if elected, to continue high wages and steady employment, an explanation of his party's pledge to enact legislation curtailing excessive use of the injunction in labor disputes and a further endorsement of the principle of collective bargaining.

In his acceptance speech, Hoover touched briefly on the labor subject. He cited the pledges of the Republican platform and declared the demand today was far beyond "a full dinner pail" and that the workers actually desired "larger comfort and greater participation in life and leisure."

"Living Wage."
The Republican platform praised the tariff and restrictive immigration laws as providing a "living wage" for workers.

"The party favors freedom in contracts," the platform added, "the right of collective bargaining by free and responsible agents of their own choosing, which develops and maintains that purposeful cooperation which gains its chief incentive through voluntary agreement. We believe that injunctions in labor disputes have in some instances been abused and have given rise to a serious question for legislation."

"The Republican Party pledges to continue its efforts to maintain this present standard of living and high wage level."

To endorse plank.
Hoover undoubtedly will endorse this plank for the first time but in a greater detail than in his acceptance speech. Some labor leaders have urged a more detailed discussion of the labor problem and Hoover will meet their wishes at Newark.

Once Hoover has approved a final draft of the Newark speech, he will arrange his proposed filing.

COOLIDGE STARTS ON HIS WAY HOME

His Vacation Over, President is Now Enroute to the Nation's Capital.

Aboard the Presidential Special Enroute to Washington, Sept. 11.—Three months of vacation behind him, President Coolidge was on his way back to Washington today. Wednesday morning will find him back at his desk at the executive offices.

Wisconsin, locale of this summer's temporary White House, bid good-bye to the president in the early hours of the morning as the special train rolled along on its way to Chicago where the switch was made to the eastern road that ultimately will get him back to the national capital.

For eighty-eight days, Mr. Coolidge has relaxed in the north woods fishing on the Brule river and experimenting with trap shooting. His vacation came to an end last night when he departed from Superior for a heavy rain that failed entirely to prevent an enthusiastic crowd from turning out for his farewell.

To visit Vermont.
The president's stay in Washington will be comparatively brief for within a week or ten days he expects to journey to Vermont and there revisit the scenes of his boyhood days at Plymouth. This trip probably will not last longer than a week, before he gets back to his office for good.

No particular problems await Mr. Coolidge upon his return. The fact that he is stepping out of office next March has done much to relieve the strain of official business and leave him for the most part only with the usual routine.

Stops on the way east today will be of the most perfunctory nature embodying only train inspection and retelling. Several of the towns through which the train passed this morning were rewarded by brief rear platform appearances when the size of the crowd warranted, but speeches were taboo.

KELLOGG'S FIRST REPORT

Secretary of State Kellogg is home from Paris, where he is Uncle Sam's agent he signed the treaty to outlaw war, and here he is telling New York reporters all about it.

Cops Stop Honeymoon To Arrest Bridegroom

New York, Sept. 11.—Detectives today cut short the honeymoon of Edward Peaseley, twenty-two, when they took him back to Albany to face a charge of robbery.

And with him was his bride of a few days, Phyllis Delema Peaseley, 18, and her girl friend Grace Dolosso, sixteen, both of Albany. Peaseley was arrested last night in a rooming house. Detective Joseph Daly, of headquarters, found him after trailing his bride from a restaurant in Manhattan where she worked.

Peaseley is charged with holding up and robbing the Postal Telegraph office at State and Jane streets, Albany, of $600 on the night of Sept. 6th. Two other men were arrested in Albany, but denied participation in the robbery. However, when caught, Peaseley is alleged to have confessed his part in the crime and implicated the other two. He fled to New York with the two girls and married Phyllis last Saturday, he said.

JOHN STARTS JOB AS RAILROAD MAN President's Son Now Clerk In New Haven—His First Task.

New Haven, Sept. 11.—John Coolidge went to work as a railroad clerk here today. His first task was to run the gauntlet of a dozen cameras manned by newspaper and motion picture photographers. The President's son grinned and fled up the steps of the New Haven Road's general headquarters to safety in the long corridors of the building.

Young Coolidge has been assigned to the general manager's office where he will start climbing, if he justifies the expectations of those who gave him the job, to a high operative position. Within the last ten days a young man who started only a few years ago as John Coolidge did today, was promoted to be superintendent of the New Haven's Old Colony Division and sent to the district headquarters at Taunton, Mass. That promotion, perhaps, left the vacancy that Coolidge today filled.

His First Task
The first task of the President's son was to handle statistics of the road's traffic. With him are working four Harvard men. Over night he was the guest of Yale men, and is being put up at the exclusive Graduates Club here.

For the week at least young Coolidge will be alone here, as far as close acquaintances are concerned. Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of Connecticut's governor who only yesterday admitted she had an "understanding with John," is at her father's camp on Moosehead Lake in Maine with other members of the Trumbull family. The Trumbulls are coming down from Maine to open their home at Plainville next Sunday. Plainville is thirty miles from New Haven straight up the broad college highway.

Well Cared For
Meanwhile the President's son will be well cared for here. He was taken under the wing of William L. Barnett, of the road's counsel, and a prominent Yale graduate. Mr. Barnett introduced him in the Graduates Club and there he met a group of civic and business leaders who happened to be in the club last evening. In the club he passed his first night in New Haven.

John Guarded
William Woods, Secret Service agent, accompanied the President's son to the office building. Young Coolidge wore a blue serge suit, blue shirt, blue tie, and black shoes. He carried a dark overcoat over his arms. It was 8:30 when (Continued on page 2)

SMITH LEADERS FINISH PLANS FOR WEST TRIP

Over 100 to Make Up Party; Forty Newspaper Report- ers on Train—Hitchcock Sees Nominee.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Governor Alfred E. Smith plunged into the real work of preparing for his forthcoming invasion of the west today heartened by assurances that he is going into an unfriendly territory, but that on the contrary he is going to receive a great welcome from a people politically undecided and eager to hear his message.

These assurances were brought to Albany by ex-Senator Gilbert Hitchcock of Nebraska, in which state Governor Smith will inaugurate his western speaking tour one week from tonight. In that speech the governor plans to make his position on farm relief unmistakably clear.

Present indications are that the governor in his Omaha speech will commend the principle of the equalization fee as applied to the disposal of crop surpluses, without, however, committing himself to any particular labeled plan.

Talk Farm Relief
Governor Smith and Senator Hitchcock discussed the farm relief issue at considerable length at the executive mansion last night.

Senator Hitchcock did not tell Governor Smith that he was going to sweep the west like a prairie cyclone in November.

He did tell him, however, that conditions are more favorable in the west today to his candidacy than they have ever been, and that if the present trend continues he can regard Nebraska, particularly, with a considerable degree of optimism. Nebraska has been a hot-bed of agrarian discontent.

La Follette Vote
Probably the most important factor in the present situation, Governor Smith was told, is that the old La Follette vote of 1,324 will go to him in large measure. President Coolidge was a minority winner in Nebraska four years ago, the combined total of Davis and La Follette far exceeded that of Coolidge.

Prohibition, the Senator said, would not cut a great deal of ice in Nebraska. He thought that Governor Smith probably would lose some dry votes because of his avowed wetness, but he thought that these would be largely offset.

RASKOB TO IGNORE SPLITS IN SOUTH

Says Reports of Disaffec- tion Are Exaggerated; Not to Change Plans.

New York, Sept. 11.—The Democratic campaign managers will ignore the Republican drive in the south, it was definitely revealed today by Chairman John J. Raskob.

Since the announcement that Herbert Hoover would personally carry his campaign into Tennessee early in October, the Democratic high command has been seriously occupied with the question of intensifying the projected drive before the Mason-Dixon line. Following receipt of reports described as reassuring from field managers throughout the south, the national executive committee has decided to go along on the present strategy program in the Democratic stronghold.

Reports Exaggerated
Reports of growing Democratic disaffection throughout the south, Raskob declared are largely exaggerated throughout the east and middlewest by Republican newspapers. One of the party chiefs who brought this assurance to Chairman Raskob was Major George L. Berry, of Tennessee, president of the International Pressman's Union and director of the Democratic National Labor Bureau. Berry's reports, he said, were based upon direct contact with Democrats from every southern state during the recent national convention of the pressmen's union.

Raskob today acknowledged the statement of Dr. Hubert Work, denouncing the whispering religious campaign against Governor Alfred E. Smith, as an "expression of a false attitude for the Republican Party to take."

"I hope," he added, "that they will make a real effort to maintain it because of what Mr. Hoover promised. It is the promise we made in good faith, too."

Jury Is Being Chosen For Cop Murder Trial

Willimantic, Sept. 11.—Three jurors had been chosen at noon today to form the jury panel that will try Roland Lalone and Albert J. Raymond, of Worcester, Mass., for the murder of state policeman Irving H. Nelson, of New Haven, at Pomfret last April. The superior court session under Judge E. M. Yeomans, of Andover, was late in getting under way but when the judge ordered a recess at noon seventeen talesmen had been examined, the defense had challenged six, the state two, while six had been excused, and three jurors were actually in the box.

The jurors are:
Everett Kimball, of Scotland, a farmer.
George N. Perry, of Scotland, a farmer.
Nelson Bennett, of Sterling, retired contractor.
Five Massachusetts lawyers were on hand to represent the two young men who are on trial for a capital offense. The state's case was handled by Samuel E. Harvey, of Willimantic, assisted by Howard K. Bradford, of Putnam, the regular state's attorney. Mr. Bradford was in a hospital when the youths were arrested in the spring, and the state appointed Mr. Harvey a special state's attorney for the case in hand.

94 Talesmen
Ninety-four talesmen were in the City Hall when the court opened. One hundred had been summoned by the sheriff but six were excused because they had served on the Grand Jury in the case. No spectators were permitted to enter the courtroom during the selection of jurors. State policemen guarded the stairways leading to the courtroom.

Twenty-five challenges for each of the two defendants were allowed to the defense and twenty-five for (Continued on page 2)

UNEARTH SPANISH PLOT TO UPSET GOVERNMENT

Thousands of Arrests Made All Over Country—Even Soldiers in Garrisons Were Implicated.

Hendaye, France, Sept. 11.—The Spanish police have discovered a nation-wide plot for the overthrow of the Spanish government, according to information received over the Spanish frontier this afternoon.

The plot centered at Saragosa where several hundred arrests were made. The Saragosa police discovered details of the conspiracy early this morning and immediately notified Madrid.

Similar plots, all linked together by the same conspirators, were discovered throughout Spain. A strict government censorship has been imposed on all news relating to the plot.

It is reported that more than 1,000 arrests have been made throughout Spain since daybreak.

Amon those arrested at Saragosa were many soldiers of the garrison. In Madrid 320 arrests were made, including the noted Republican leaders Alvaro Albornoz Martinez and Dolingo Jimenez Sile.

All the Communist delegates to the general labor union congress were arrested at Madrid. According to the police, military men, labor leaders and Republican leaders were involved.

It was described as the most dangerous plot that has menaced the Spanish government for many years.

Jails Filled
In many cities the jails were filled with prisoners within a few hours. All the prisoners were charged with complicity in the revolutionary conspiracy.

GARDINER IS GOVERNOR; SEN. HALE IS REELECTED

With Nearly All Precincts Reported G. O. P. Candidate Gets 138,360 Votes to Democrats' 62,919—Republi- can Sweep by Entire Ticket by Two to One Vote; Leaders of Both Parties Surprised Over Result, Re- publicans Even More So Than Opponents—Hoover Leaders Say Results Show Outcome of Election in November.

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—With 544 precincts complete out of the state's 633, William Tudor Gardiner today had been elected governor of Maine over Edward C. Moran, Jr., Democratic candidate, by a majority that was expected to exceed 80,000 with complete returns. The vote was Gardiner, 138,360, Moran 62,919.

Sen. Frederick Hale was assured of re-election over his Democratic opponent, Herbert E. Holmes with the same number of precincts it by 134,908 votes to 60,740.

Next to the overwhelming Republican majorities, the sharp decline in the Democratic vote and Hale's close follow of Gardiner's lead were the features of the election. Republicans won all along the line by a vote of more than two to one.

These complete returns include the city of Portland complete. Incomplete returns from other precincts indicate a total Republican majority of more than 80,000.

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—A Republican majority of more than 75,000 was in prospect today as complete returns from Maine's state election were tabulated. Republican candidates for governor, United States Senator and four Congressional seats were swept into office by record majorities.

With only 59 of the state's 633 precincts missing William Tudor Gardiner, had 132,143 against 60,439 for Edward K. Moran, Jr., and Sen. Frederick Hale had 129,589 against 58,145 for Herbert E. Holmes.

Returns are not expected to be complete today but any change in the result with the tabulation of distant rural districts is impossible. All majorities will increase.

Three Republican Congressmen were re-elected while the Republican candidate was elected in four Congressional districts.

Everywhere the Republican vote was heavy while the Democratic poll fell far below expectations.

Clean Sweep
The election was a Republican sweep. Gardiner's majority, mounting hourly as returns came in from outlying precincts, was twice as great as Gov. Brewster's four years ago and exceeded the record majority piled up by Gov. Parkhurst in 1920.

Democrats had boasted they would keep Gardiner's majority under Brewster's 36,600 while Republicans were confident the total majority for their candidate would be in excess of the 65,800. As complete results became known today G. O. P. chieftains were as much surprised as the leaders of the Democratic Party. As Gardiner's sweeping majority rolled up, it surpassed the most pre-election estimates and wildest predictions.

Despite the record Republican majorities it was indicated that the total vote would not run far above the figure four years when 253,907 were cast for the gubernatorial candidates. The falling off of the Democratic vote was the feature of this year's election, leaders agreed.

LEADERS SURPRISED
New York, Sept. 11.—The overwhelming Republican victory in the Maine elections yesterday was viewed today by both Democratic and Republican campaign managers here as an arresting surprise.

The Republicans had predicted a majority of 50,000 for William T. Gardiner, the gubernatorial candidate, but no one in the G. O. P. camp had so much as expressed the hope publicly that a victory of landslide proportions would be recorded.

A Democratic national headquarters, Chairman John Raskob declared that the Maine results threw no light upon the national trend in presidential campaign.

Although the Democratic chiefs were a bit astounded by the size of the Republican majority, they emphasized that Maine is traditionally a strong Republican state and has long been one of the foremost politically dry commonwealths.

Hooverites Joyful
Hoover managers, on the other hand, heralded the Maine triumph

REPUBLICAN JOYFUL OF RESULT IN MAINE

Washington, Sept. 11.—Republicans hailed with glee today the result of the Maine election because they said the psychological effect of the record Republican vote would prove a material boon to the Hoover-Curtis ticket in other normally Republican states throughout the country.

To accomplish this purpose national headquarters sent some of its biggest guns into Maine to help the state candidates.

as a portent of the national elections. "The Democratic national organization has assisted in the Maine campaign, and their chance for the great Smith ground-swell on the prohibition issue was as good there as in most of the states," said William H. Hill, New York manager.

"This election has established the fact that the great uprising against prohibition is not a local Democratic national managers place their chief hopes of victory is not a reality."

SMITH NOT WORRIED
Albany, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The smashing victory won by the Republicans in the state election in Maine yesterday did not disturb the serenity of Governor Smith today.

"I never was optimistic enough to think that Maine would be anything else but Republican" said the governor when asked to comment.

The governor indicated that he didn't think the Maine result was either important or significant, he said he was not familiar with the issues involved in yesterday's balloting for state offices and did not care to make further comment.

Neither did he say that the Rev. John Roach Straton plans to attend his speech in Oklahoma City on Sept. 20 disturb the governor. Dr. Straton is reported to be going to Oklahoma City on the day preceding Governor Smith's arrival there and next Sunday.

"That's Fine"
"That's fine" was Smith's only comment. "I'll be pleased to see the gentlemen." But there was a noticeable tightening of the jaws as he said it.

Governor Smith's only major engagement for the balance of this week so far as at present scheduled is with William Bray the new chairman of the Democratic state committee, and a group of state leaders, with whom he will talk state politics.

The exact date for their visit has not been fixed, but they are expected in Albany some time before the governor sets out on his western trip next Sunday.

"Will the Democratic slate be decided upon at this meeting?" he was asked.

"No sir," was the reply. "That is for the convention to decide."

SCORES PADLOCKING
New York, Sept. 11.—"Shocking procedure," Federal Judge Thomas D. Thatcher said today of the temporary padlocks placed on the bars and fixtures of New York's principal night clubs under the direction of agents of Assistant Attorney General Mabel Walker Willebrandt. Judge Thatcher ruled that the padlocks were illegal and were not permitted under the Volstead Act or the Constitution of the United States. He ordered their immediate removal. This injunction restraining the selling of liquor at the night clubs, however, were legal and will continue to be in force, Judge Thatcher said.

Norman J. Morris, assistant to Mrs. Willebrandt and in charge of prohibition activities here, said that he would take the case to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

by the heavy German vote, which, if not actually wet, is certainly very moist.

As for the religious issue, he declared Nebraska had had a "mild case" of being alarmed over that, "but it seems to be wearing off."

Swing for Smith

There has been a marked swing toward Smith on the part of the farmers during the last ninety days, Hitchcock declared.

Governor Smith will devote most of his time this week to the preparation of data to be used in his western speeches. The callers at Albany will be few.

The magnitude of the entourage that will accompany his westward continued to grow apace today. Besides his personal party of ten, which will include Mrs. Smith and their daughter, Mrs. John A. Warner, there will be approximately forty newspaper correspondents, nearly a score of photographers, in addition to a sizeable clerical force of stenographers, typists, etc.

It appears likely today that the Smith train will contain upwards of one hundred souls, when it pulls out of Albany next Sunday night.

Simultaneously with the appearance of the government ace, the photograph of Charles Schwartz which had disappeared from the Rogers' gallery re-appeared. Police officials explained that investigators who had been trying to locate it had failed to look in the right place.

The federal agents also are taking an active interest in the work of the Federal Grand Jury. Nearly 200 men and women, many of them socially prominent here and in other large eastern cities, have been subpoenaed to appear before the Federal Jury today. The summons resulting from the raiding of the establishment of Joe Kerper, styled "Society Bootlegger" by the federal dry agents.

The arrangement of the names on the machine are not as shown on the sample ballots, which are distributed outside. Instead of the candidates for representatives and auditor being on the second line, as shown on the sample ballot, they are on the top line. This position is not one where a voter would naturally look for them, being the position on the machines that is generally allotted to questions of "yes" or "no" voted on at some elections.

VENDETTA VICTIMS

Pittsburgh, Sept. 11 — Believed to have been the victims of a vendetta, Thomas Curcio, 42, of Sewickley, head of the Sons of Italy Society of Sewickley valley, and auditor being on the second line, as shown on the sample ballot, they are on the top line. of the Democratic Congressional candidates in Pennsylvania, Raskob today repeated his claim to the Keystone State for Governor Smith and Senator Robinson.

William B. Wilson, former secretary of labor under Woodrow Wilson, and now contesting the Senatorial election of William S. Vare, Philadelphia Republican boss, was one of those who claimed Pennsylvania for Smith.

"The Democrats have offered us two men who are the friends of the worker," he said.

Wilson declared he would take an active part in the Pennsylvania presidential campaign.

Smith Drive

The Smith-Robinson drive, aside from the speaking tours of the two nominees themselves, will be launched on a national scale on September 25, Senator Millard E. Tydings, of Maryland, chairman of the National Speakers' Bureau announced today.

The chief emphasis, according to the itineraries of a score of campaign speakers published today, will be in the middle west and the moist east, but the south is to have more than its usual share of campaign oratory.

Senator Lawrence D. Tyson of Tennessee will open a speaking tour in North Carolina September 24, 25 and 26, moving into West Virginia the next three days and into Kentucky, October 1, 2 and 3.

Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, will be the principal speaker at a huge Democratic rally in Chicago, October 10.

Clarence Darrow, celebrated Chicago criminal lawyer, has also enlisted in the Smith offensive.

Winding up his vacation in the Black Hills last night with a speech at Rapid City, S. D., he will soon return to Chicago to await assignments from the speaker's bureau.

Former Senator Magnus Johnson, the Farmer-Labor victor in Minnesota six years ago, is also on the list of Democratic Big Berthas for the whirlwind campaign.

He will speak at St. Paul, September 17, and on successive days in Hastings, Red Wing, Lake City, Wabaska and Winona, Minnesota.

Following his swing through his own state, he will throw his six-cylinder voice into the melee in other northwestern states.

Former Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, celebrated exponent of tonsorial perfection, has a two-day tour outlined for Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri and Nebraska beginning September 24.

NO JURISDICTION

Washington, Sept. 11—Examiners of the Interstate Commerce Commission today asked the commission to hold that it did not have jurisdiction over the rates, practices, rules and regulations of steamship companies in regard to traffic from interior points in the United States and Canada, received at north Atlantic ports by railroad and reshipped on new bills of lading to Pacific coast ports.

The Baltimore Association of Commerce alleged that such rates, practices, etc., subjected the Port of Baltimore to unjust discrimination and undue prejudice and gave undue preference to the ports of New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

QUAKE IN DENVER.

Denver, Sept. 11—An earthquake described as of "medium intensity" was registered on the seismograph at Regis college here at 8 o'clock this morning. Father F. A. Forestal, in charge of the apparatus, said he believed the tremor was on the North American continent but could not estimate the distance or direction of the shock.

HOME RAIDED.

Trumbull, Sept. 11—Constables today raided the home of Alexander Oestach on White Plains road, and seized 350 gallons of liquor and two stills. Oestach furnished bail pending a court hearing tonight.

The raiders found two barrels of liquor buried in the cellar and five barrels covered with hay in a barn.

CITY'S NEW PLANT.

Bridgeport, Sept. 11—An addition to Bridgeport's industries is announced by the Crane Company in the acquisition of the Landon Radiator Corp. of North Tonawanda, N. Y. The plant will be moved here as soon as a large addition is built to the Crane plant, and many more mechanics will be employed.

SECRETARY DIES.

Bridgeport, Sept. 11—George Sherman Hadley, secretary of the Harvey Hubbell Co., died at his home here today at the age of 53, from the result of a heart attack he sustained at his desk last Friday. He is survived by a brother, Frank W., of South Norwalk, his father and stepmother.

SOVERVILLE LEADING

New Weston, Mass., Sept. 11.—C. R. Somerville, amateur champion, today took the lead for the qualifying medal in the national amateur championship by shooting a 78, giving him a two-day total of 150. By so doing, the Colman displaced George von Elm, former national champion, who led the early finishers with a 56-hole aggregate of 152.

HUNTER WINS.

West Side Stadium, Forest Hills, L. I., N. Y., Sept. 11.—Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y., David Cup star and No. 2, ranking player, became a dangerous contender for the 1928 singles, by defeating Julius Seligson of New York, inter-collegiate champion, in the second round of the 47th championship tournament here this afternoon.

EMERGENCY DOCTORS ABOUT TOWN

Dr. LeVerne Holmes and Dr. T. G. Sloan will be on emergency call tomorrow afternoon.

The young people of the Salvation Army will conduct a meeting tomorrow evening in the hall at 7:30. The meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Adjutant Heard and Mrs. Maria Turkington. All the young people are expected to attend. Mrs. Heard wishes to meet all members of the young people's corps.

Patrick J. Hutchinson, Patrick F. Hannon, Morris Lessner and Morris Metter left Manchester by automobile at 10:30 this forenoon for New York City to see the thrills of the crucial Yankees-Albany game of this afternoon. They expected to arrive in time.

Michael Della Fera arrived at the Hotel Figueroa in Los Angeles on Saturday, September 8. He had a long trip and states that he likes California and Los Angeles very much, he writes in a letter to his brother here.

All owners of bee hives in Manchester must make return by registering with the town clerk. Those who have hives that they have. This is a state law and it is required that all such owners make known their ownership by registering on or before October 1.

New blanks to be used by the assessors in compiling the list of property in Manchester have arrived and will be ready for the assessors to go to work as soon as they are elected in October. The blanks are ordered by G. H. Waddell clerk of the board of selectmen, and are printed early, as a better price can be secured when the order is placed early in the year rather than when there is a rush of orders from the other towns and cities in the state.

Manchester Grange will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening in Odd Fellows hall. The program will be "Ladies' Night" and the ladies will furnish the program. Later the men will give a competitive entertainment and the losing side will tender a banquet to the winners. A social hour with refreshments will follow the program. Mrs. Grace Lathrop is chairman.

The Emblem club will have its regular business meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the Elks Home in Rockville. Local women on the committee for the coming year, which are reminded that a meeting of the committee will be held during the afternoon.

a hotbed of revolutionary plotting. Among the prisoners lodged in the Barcelona jail was Brig. Gen. Lopez Ochoa, who was to have led the anti-government outbreak in Catalonia. Brig. Gen. Ochoa was described as one of the bitterest political enemies of Gen. Primo de Rivera in Spain. Gen. de Rivera is head of the government, a post he has held for five years since he proclaimed himself dictator.

Others arrested

Many were arrested at Valencia, including Gen. Griera and other prominent personages.

Completed details are lacking owing to the stringent censorship but it is understood that the conspiracy was to have come to a head on Thursday, the fifth anniversary of the coup d'etat which put Gen. Primo de Rivera in power.

Several clashes were reported at various places between revolutionaries and the police and civil guards.

During the night big colored posters were placed upon walls and billboards at Bilbao violently attacking the government and urging Spaniards to rise in arms and overthrow Gen. Primo de Rivera.

The government at Madrid is uneasy over the situation and vigorous military precautions are being taken.

Gen. Primo de Rivera is reported to be in Madrid directing the activities of the military police against the conspirators.

King Alfonso is being advised of all developments.

PARIS HOPE FOR TRAFFIC WORRY

Paris.—To "bury" the traffic problem in Paris is the only way to solve it, according to municipal councillor, Monsieur Delavenue, who finds that something drastic must soon be done.

"Our narrow streets are just the same as they were two hundred years ago," he says, "when all one could see were horse omnibuses and ladies portable chairs."

He now proposes an elaborate system of tunnels which will keep the traffic below the surface of the earth. There would be three tracks, one for baggage, another for automobiles and another for pedestrians. The plan is modeled after the Paris subway, which is probably the most satisfactory (if not the sweetest-smelling) system of any great metropolis.

Mr. Delavenue points out that once the pedestrian regained the upper level, he could enjoy pure fresh air, unannoyed by tooting taxi horns and horse-drawn carriages of extreme elegance when men and women can really "promenade" with ease and comfort.

Objection has been raised to the plan mainly because of the large cost of building the subterranean railroads. They would have to be sunk to an enormous depth to pass underneath the buildings and present "metro" and "Nord-Sud" lines.

Everyone agrees, however, that something must soon be done. Street repairs are costing more and more each year and the casualty rate in accidents is going up every month. Paris policemen have proved utterly incapable of dealing with jaywalkers. The Chief of Police himself, was injured in a bad traffic jam only a short time ago.

Highly intelligent subject to fines in France but lowly fines in Detroit, a commercial aviator, found that when he flew too low over the Montreuil section, white distributing circulars for a local merchant. He barely skimmed the housetops at that stage of the flight.

"The atmosphere was such that I could not go any higher," explained Detroit to the judge.

"Two hundred francs," opined bizzor, pronouncing the first aerial fine on record in this city.

If Diogenes ever comes back to life, he should make straight for Paris where an honest man is waiting for him.

It is Hubert Girard, the most honest taxi-driver ever heard of up to the present moment. One of his clients gave him one of the new fifty-franc bills which he unwittingly took for a 100-franc one, as nine-tenths of the French citizens do these days. Later in the day he discovered his mistake, reported it to the police station and went out searching for the man. Up till now he has not been successful.

Authorities are seriously considering changing the new notes which have caused many such errors and confusion.

he reached the place where he was to work.

Photographers attempted to have the young man pose for them at the office building. Some of the photographers had followed him down from the Graduates Club, his temporary home. The son of the President kept straight on pleasantly turning the request off, and in a few moments had started work.

During the morning the photographers in some way reached an agreement with John Coolidge for him to pose for them when he came out of his office at noon. It was entirely a personal matter between the young man and the group who desired to take his picture.

In an Iowa school a pupil guilty of kicking other children was placed against a wall and each of his victims had a "free kick" at him.

SEE AMERICA IN LAST PLACE IN MONEY GRUBBING

Paris.—"There is less money-grubbing in America than in any other country in the world," says Fabre Osborne, formerly on the Yale University staff and well-known for his recent play, "The Life-Saver" which took Paris by storm under the title of "Eve's Complaint." Mr. Osborne who happened to be born in Canada of English parents, but who styles himself a "real American" is returning to his adopted country after eight months in France, to arrange for the production of his latest play.

"My stay here," continues Mr. Osborne, "has shown me that the Americans are the only ones who are not eternally thinking of money, in fact they almost neglect it in comparison with the French and English. It is only a means toward better living and not an end in itself. I am sure that the American is much more like his French cousin than the English-like him in numerous ways; principally his enthusiasm, keen wit and quick response. The French, however, are ahead of the American in respect, and that is, they know how the order is placed the same time. The latter swarm into hot movies by the millions every day in order to find excitement and amusement; the French are living their own movies."

Mr. Osborne says that the most amusing part of his Paris production of "Eve's Complaint" was translating the American English into a language the English actors could understand. He will be extremely pleased to find American artists on the other side who consider the English language as "critics and cut out of the picture," also insisted upon the title of "Eve's Complaint" instead of "The Life-Saver," under which name it will undoubtedly be played in America.

After the production George Bernard Shaw asked Mr. Osborne to come and see him, went over the play carefully and gave him some valuable suggestion.

The French workman "is producing forty per cent more than before the war and it is not because of his two-hour lunch at mid-day, according to Maurice de Waleffe writing in the "Paris Milti."

"Why do the English work less than the French and still have more money?" he asks and then answers the question himself. "Because we Frenchmen lose two hours in the middle of the day when the very best work should be done."

"Everybody knows an automobile burns twice as much gas on the road because of the numerous stop-and-goings. It is the same with the human machine which needs twice as much energy to take up work interrupted for the lunch-houring. And worse than all, just at the very moment when the blood should remain in the stomach for aid digestion, it is demanded for head or muscle work."

Eat more for early breakfast, as the English do, and less for lunch, is the only solution of the problem according to Monsieur de Waleffe, but as Frenchmen are not of his opinion, many hysterical contented that it is only natural to eat a hearty meal after four hours of labor. Others look upon the two-hour lunch hour as a little "oasis in the desert," and to do away with it would mean a loss of much of the nation's health.

Looking at the question from a purely practical point of view, the two-hour eating period is a costly proposition. Those who like home-cooking return for their meal, thus spending several francs cartare. The others who lunch near their homes, spend many times time to spare and thus go to a cafe or movie.

"If they had just enough time to take a sandwich, glass of milk and fruit—a great plenty if one eats a good breakfast," advises Mr. de Waleffe, "life would be cheaper in the end, and the workman much better off."

EMERGENCY DOCTORS ABOUT TOWN

Dr. LeVerne Holmes and Dr. T. G. Sloan will be on emergency call tomorrow afternoon.

The young people of the Salvation Army will conduct a meeting tomorrow evening in the hall at 7:30. The meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Adjutant Heard and Mrs. Maria Turkington. All the young people are expected to attend. Mrs. Heard wishes to meet all members of the young people's corps.

Patrick J. Hutchinson, Patrick F. Hannon, Morris Lessner and Morris Metter left Manchester by automobile at 10:30 this forenoon for New York City to see the thrills of the crucial Yankees-Albany game of this afternoon. They expected to arrive in time.

Michael Della Fera arrived at the Hotel Figueroa in Los Angeles on Saturday, September 8. He had a long trip and states that he likes California and Los Angeles very much, he writes in a letter to his brother here.

All owners of bee hives in Manchester must make return by registering with the town clerk. Those who have hives that they have. This is a state law and it is required that all such owners make known their ownership by registering on or before October 1.

New blanks to be used by the assessors in compiling the list of property in Manchester have arrived and will be ready for the assessors to go to work as soon as they are elected in October. The blanks are ordered by G. H. Waddell clerk of the board of selectmen, and are printed early, as a better price can be secured when the order is placed early in the year rather than when there is a rush of orders from the other towns and cities in the state.

Manchester Grange will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening in Odd Fellows hall. The program will be "Ladies' Night" and the ladies will furnish the program. Later the men will give a competitive entertainment and the losing side will tender a banquet to the winners. A social hour with refreshments will follow the program. Mrs. Grace Lathrop is chairman.

The Emblem club will have its regular business meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the Elks Home in Rockville. Local women on the committee for the coming year, which are reminded that a meeting of the committee will be held during the afternoon.

a hotbed of revolutionary plotting. Among the prisoners lodged in the Barcelona jail was Brig. Gen. Lopez Ochoa, who was to have led the anti-government outbreak in Catalonia. Brig. Gen. Ochoa was described as one of the bitterest political enemies of Gen. Primo de Rivera in Spain. Gen. de Rivera is head of the government, a post he has held for five years since he proclaimed himself dictator.

Others arrested

Many were arrested at Valencia, including Gen. Griera and other prominent personages.

Completed details are lacking owing to the stringent censorship but it is understood that the conspiracy was to have come to a head on Thursday, the fifth anniversary of the coup d'etat which put Gen. Primo de Rivera in power.

Several clashes were reported at various places between revolutionaries and the police and civil guards.

During the night big colored posters were placed upon walls and billboards at Bilbao violently attacking the government and urging Spaniards to rise in arms and overthrow Gen. Primo de Rivera.

The government at Madrid is uneasy over the situation and vigorous military precautions are being taken.

Gen. Primo de Rivera is reported to be in Madrid directing the activities of the military police against the conspirators.

King Alfonso is being advised of all developments.

PARIS HOPE FOR TRAFFIC WORRY

Paris.—To "bury" the traffic problem in Paris is the only way to solve it, according to municipal councillor, Monsieur Delavenue, who finds that something drastic must soon be done.

"Our narrow streets are just the same as they were two hundred years ago," he says, "when all one could see were horse omnibuses and ladies portable chairs."

He now proposes an elaborate system of tunnels which will keep the traffic below the surface of the earth. There would be three tracks, one for baggage, another for automobiles and another for pedestrians. The plan is modeled after the Paris subway, which is probably the most satisfactory (if not the sweetest-smelling) system of any great metropolis.

Mr. Delavenue points out that once the pedestrian regained the upper level, he could enjoy pure fresh air, unannoyed by tooting taxi horns and horse-drawn carriages of extreme elegance when men and women can really "promenade" with ease and comfort.

Objection has been raised to the plan mainly because of the large cost of building the subterranean railroads. They would have to be sunk to an enormous depth to pass underneath the buildings and present "metro" and "Nord-Sud" lines.

Everyone agrees, however, that something must soon be done. Street repairs are costing more and more each year and the casualty rate in accidents is going up every month. Paris policemen have proved utterly incapable of dealing with jaywalkers. The Chief of Police himself, was injured in a bad traffic jam only a short time ago.

Highly intelligent subject to fines in France but lowly fines in Detroit, a commercial aviator, found that when he flew too low over the Montreuil section, white distributing circulars for a local merchant. He barely skimmed the housetops at that stage of the flight.

"The atmosphere was such that I could not go any higher," explained Detroit to the judge.

"Two hundred francs," opined bizzor, pronouncing the first aerial fine on record in this city.

COLUMBIA HOLD HUB JUDGE ON THEFT CHARGE

Accused of Stealing $32,000 Which Was in His Care.

Boston, Sept. 11.—Associate Justice Joseph C. Hannon of the Western District Court, who climbed the ladder of success after being left an orphan until he became one of the leading lawyers of Greater Boston and trustee of several estates, was arrested today on a municipal court warrant charging larceny of approximately $32,000.

The complaint charged that Judge Hannon lost approximately $32,000 in oil stocks. It was found, according to the charges, that $24,272 had disappeared from the $62,000 estate of the late Sahlmiram Hounanlian, of which Judge Hannon was trustee.

It was also found, according to the complaint, that $8,105 had disappeared from the estate of the late Catherine Forbes under whose will Judge Hannon was administrator for Gertrude C. Goring.

The arrest was made by two police inspectors following a conference with the defendant in a local bank.

The Complaint

The complaint asserted that the money was taken during the years 1926-1927.

Judge Hannon is thirty-nine years old. He was appointed to the bench by the late Governor Samuel W. McCall.

During his rise in the legal world he inherited a fortune of $100,000, which, according to the charges, has been lost by unwise investments.

Following the arrest, Judge Hannon was taken to Municipal Court for arraignment before Judge Mitchell, who issued the warrant.

Judge Hannon, who was married a year ago, lives in Weston and has a summer home in New Hampshire.

ROCKVILLE LINES SUSPENSION NEAR

Repairs Neglected and Traffic Rapidly Falling Off, Say Those in Authority.

The suspension of the steam train and the starting of buses between Rockville and Hartford, did not get the results that were expected and while the commuters are not riding in the buses of the New England Transportation Company the trolley cars do not seem to be getting the increase. It is stated that the riding on the trolley cars between Hartford and Rockville has been falling off and the line is not a paying proposition. It is one of the lines that requires a two-man crew for nearly the whole distance and with the light riding the company is losing money at a fast rate.

It is not because there are fewer people going between Hartford and Rockville that this is so as there has been a check made that proves the difference. The state police, it is said, have made a check of the number of people that are going to and from Hartford and Rockville by automobile of the private pleasure type and they have a record, it is said, of fifty-two such cars that are run each day between Rockville and Hartford carrying passengers with them numbering from one to five passengers. The persons that ride in these automobiles are said to pay $3 a week for the riding which is the same as is paid for trolley fare between Hartford and Rockville for round trips during the week.

This revenue is being taken from the Connecticut Company and while it may be hard for the state authorities to prove a case if any arrests are made action is pending. It is said, what is true as to the riding to and from Hartford by automobile by Rockville commuters is also said to be true in Manchester where the number that go by such automobile is far greater than on the Rockville lines and the pay for such riding is said to be $2 a week instead of $3 as is charged on the Rockville weekly trips. This $2 a week that is paid for the ride in automobiles is the same rate of fare as would have to be paid for a week's riding on the Manchester-Hartford lines.

Rails May Come Up
There has been no work done on the rails north or west of Depot Square this year, although the trolley rails through Oakland street in Manchester and over a large section of the line into Rockville are in need of replacing. The company last year replaced all of the curves on the Rockville line to the north and west of Depot Square with a heavy rail and it was the plan, the information is given, to replace the lighter rails that are now in use with the heavy rails that were taken up on the Stafford Springs line. These rails have all been brought to Rockville and have been piled up there, but are not being placed as at first planned.

The present riding on the Rockville lines, after leaving Depot Square in Manchester, is not such as to warrant the Connecticut Company in going to a further outlay of money, it is claimed, and the plan that is now being considered is to have the present lines discontinued between Depot Square and Rockville and have bus line take care of the travel from Manchester to Rockville. This will have to come before the Public Utilities Commission for a hearing before such a change is granted or made.

OBITUARY

DEATHS

Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, aged 64, of 18 Stock Place, died at her home last night of apoplexy. She had been ill a long time.
Mrs. Wilson is survived by three children, Mrs. William Scott, Mrs. Benjamin McGowan and Harold Wilson, all of this town; twelve grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Martha Thomas and Mrs. E. Hansen, both of Bridgeport. A son, George, was drowned last year off Fairfield Beach.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Scott on McCabe Hill. Rev. Marvin S. Stocking will officiate. Burial will be in the East cemetery.

Lillian Spaack
Lillian, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Spaack of 325 Hilltown Road, died at Manchester Memorial hospital late yesterday afternoon following a brief illness. There are three other children in the family, Frank, William Jr., and Mary. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the home and burial will be in the West cemetery.

FUNERALS

E. H. CROSBY FUNERAL HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Funeral services for the late Edwin Hugh Crosby, who died early Sunday morning, were held this afternoon at the Crosby home, 75 Robert road. Services at the home began at 2 p. m. and Rev. Edwin S. Stocking of the North Methodist Episcopal church officiated, assisted by Rev. Robert A. Colpitts, pastor of the South Methodist Episcopal church. The service was attended by a host of Mr. Crosby's friends and the huge floral offering from relatives, friends, fraternal organizations, and business firms attested to Mr. Crosby's wide circle of personal friendships.

A Masonic funeral service was held at the East cemetery, East Glastonbury, where Mr. Crosby was laid to rest beside his father and mother. Daskam lodge of Masons of Glastonbury was in charge of the service and the members of that lodge were joined at the cemetery by a body of Manchester Masons. The bearers, all members of the Masonic fraternity, were Arthur Goodrich and Henry Gaines, representing Daskam lodge, Herbert House, Holgar, Back and Elmore Packard, representing Delta Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, and Thomas Ferguson, representing The Herald, of which Mr. Crosby was advertising manager.

Henry Calabria
The funeral of Henry Calabria, found dead Saturday night at his home from gas poisoning, was held this morning at 8:30 at Holloran Brothers' undertaking rooms and at 9 o'clock at St. James' church. A mass of requiem was sung by Rev. William P. Reidy, the pastor. Burial was in St. James' cemetery. The bearers were Amie Demars, Gustave Schaller, Louis Schaller, August Verolot, Andrew Pertusatti and Paul Cuenin.

As the body was borne into the church Mrs. Margaret Sullivan sang "What Shall I Render?" and sang the full Gregorian mass, and at the offertory De Rodie's O Salutaris; at the elevation, Bailey's Ave Maria. During the changing of the vestments Organist Packard played Kern's Prelude No. 17. At the close of the service Mrs. Sullivan sang "Face to Face" and the organist played Chopin's funeral march.

Richard Small
The funeral of Richard Small, four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Small of 363 Keeney street, was held this afternoon at the home of Rev. Robert A. Colpitts officiated and burial was in the West Cemetery.

TALCOTTVILLE

Rev. and Mrs. F. P. Bachelor are spending a short vacation in Baltimore, Md., where they are guests of their son Robert and family.
The members of the Sunday school accepted the invitation of the Primary Department to meet with them at their regular session on Sunday, September 10th. There was a large attendance of both departments. A delightful feature of the occasion was the singing by Marion and Dorothy Risley and Stuart and Russell Prentice. The attendance in the Primary Department was forty-one.

Beatrice Truman and Doris Rivenburg have received state certificates in recognition of perfect attendance for this year, signed by Governor Trumbull and State Commissioner of Education A. B. Meredith. This is the third consecutive year that these young ladies have received certificates.

Mrs. Fred Therop has returned home after spending a three week's vacation at lake resorts in the state of Maine.
Mr. and Mrs. William C. Monaghan, with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cole of Manchester have been spending several days in New York City.

Florida has an area of 35,111,040 acres of which 2,297,271 have been utilized for agricultural purposes.

NO HALF-HOLIDAY, CLERKS ARE TOLD

Merchants Will Not Yield to Plea for Closed Stores; Hold Final Meeting.

Appeal by Manchester store clerks for reconsideration of their six-day-a-week working sentence was turned down by the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce last night at a regular meeting of the latter organization held in the School street Recreation Center.

With the exceptions of Herbert B. House and John I. Olson, all the merchants were in favor of abiding by the decision to operate six days a week starting this month, which was reached at a meeting back in March. The consensus among the merchants seemed to be that closing up the stores for half a day in the middle of the week is both expensive and unworkable.

To Be Notified.
As a result, it was voted to have George E. Rix, secretary of the Merchants Division, forward a letter of explanation to the clerks stating the merchants' position, refusing their request. John Chambers appeared before the merchants last night as a representative of the clerks to seek a half-day a week standard holiday.

Mr. Chambers contended that working long hours and also two evenings a week until 9 o'clock, the clerks were entitled to a half-day off and that it was unfair to take it away from them.

However, the merchants' decision last night apparently ends the matter. Many of the stores plan to allow their employees half a day off just the same but on a special arrangement basis which will make it possible to keep the stores open. This is being done by some of the stores at present.

Frank Anderson, general manager of Hale's store, is confronted with quite a problem in this respect. In order to give employees all a half-day a week off, it would be necessary to let off about fifteen persons daily, so large is his employment list. Hale's, Mr. Anderson said, would not be among the stores granting each clerk a half day off.

FIRE IN LITCHFIELD CAUSES $100,000 LOSS

Newspaper Plant, Post Office and Other Business Places Damaged.

Litchfield, Sept. 11.—Fire supposed to have started from defective wiring swept through the principal business building of Litchfield today, doing damage estimated at upward of $100,000. Victims of the fire were the United States post office, the Litchfield Enquirer, which was established 103 years ago, the Crutch and Marie drug store, the barber shop of James Mayer, and the Litchfield Grange.

Policeman George Bailey discovered the fire at 4 a. m., the flames then issuing from the top floor, once used as the opera house but long unoccupied. The volunteer firemen of the town struggled with the blaze for hours and kept the fire confined in the building where it started.

The Enquirer plant occupied the entire second floor of the building, and here the flames swept with ease. Volunteers carried out the contents of the post office and today that institution used space in the county court house. The Grange occupied an addition in the rear which was burned.

FREE STATE WILL USE ROMAN SCRIPT WRITING CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS

Dublin.—The Free State authorities announce that in the future all examinations in Irish under the Civil Service Commission will require the language to be written in Roman script. Irish scholars and idealists resent the new order which will destroy the ancient Gaelic characters. Many say they would rather Irish were not written at all rather than in "English" characters. Many people find it difficult to read Irish when in Roman print but the Government is adamant and says modern needs must be first catered for.

FOR MARRIED WOMEN

Cleveland.—Married women have an equal chance with their unmarried sisters for employment by the City of Cleveland. They do not regard committing matrimony an offense," says Major Ellsworth Jeffrey, secretary of the Civil Service Commission. "A married woman is entitled to all the rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness without restriction."

MYSTIC REVIEW HELPS INSTITUTE NEW LODGE

Local Members Visit Plainville to Assist in Ceremonies; Their Work Praised.

Thirty officers, guards and members of Mystic Review, Woman's Benefit Association, went by bus last evening to Plainville, where they assisted in the ceremonies attendant upon the institution of a new branch of the order in that place. Miss Rose Miller, of Pawtucket, R. I., supreme regional director was in charge, assisted by District Deputy Mrs. Geraci of Burlington, Vermont. The charter of Plainville Review, No. 47 was delivered by Miss Miller and their corps of officers duly installed. The local guard club under the direction of their captain, Mrs. Ethel Cowles, took part in all the ceremonies and their floor work was highly complimented by the regional director and the representatives of many other reviews present at the meeting. The new review as a token of its appreciation, presented to Miss Miller a personal gift, to Mrs. Gerard an emblem, and to Mrs. Grace Best, president of Mystic Review and Captain Cowles, beautiful baskets of glad-

Speeches were made by Miss Miller and several of the heads of the different reviews represented. At the close of the meeting members of Plainville review served sandwiches, cake, ice cream and punch.

REMEMBER NEW ORLEANS

Stories of the descent of a swarm of Chicago gunmen on New York City, with determination to wipe out what group of gangsters may have had to do with dunning to death one Lombardo and his body guard in the Chicago Loop on Friday, are calculated to chill the heart of the average citizen of the world's greatest city.

For the reassurance of such let there be remembered what happened in New Orleans almost thirty-eight years ago.

For several years there had been growing in power in the Louisiana city another kind of gang.

There was no great profit in bootlegging in those days—illicit distilling and liquor smuggling had not then become vast profitable industries as they now are.

The gangs of those times operated differently. This one in New Orleans confined itself largely to extortion, with murder as a reserve threat, committed with sufficient frequency to add force to terror.

They called the underground extortion ring Mafia. Whether it had any real relationship to the Italian Mafia or not nobody ever seemed to be sure.

Members of the ring waxed rich and in some cases politically influential, even as present day gangsters of Chicago have become rich and politically influential.

Just such forces were at work there to defeat the ends of justice as now are at work in Chicago, and to a less extent in New York.

Extortionist suspects were apprehended, laughed at the police, were discharged, acquitted, freed on habeas corpus writs, bought jury disbursements. Decent people became profoundly discouraged.

But in Maine there was a pronounced slump in the Democratic vote and a pronounced gain in the Republican vote, indicating that the shift worked exactly in the opposite direction from that expected by the Democrats.

THE WRONG KIND Several times recently Massachusetts prison guards have demonstrated their unfitness for their jobs.

THE DEED STUNDED THE COUNTRY. It brought violent protests from the Italian government, for several of the victims were unaturalized subjects of that government.

Purists made frantic demands upon the governor of Louisiana for the punishment of the members of the mob.

The courts may palter with these gang wars for a while longer. Police departments may tolerate them.

It is not, perhaps, the fault of for thugs. The same eventual instinct of self-preservation that animated the drama of 1890 in New Orleans persists in the mildest 1928 citizen of New York or Chicago.

NOISY IGNORANCE

A man named Snow who says he is the head of a large bank and also a farmer has published an advertisement in a newspaper at Kankakee, Ill., the caption of which is, "Fifty Dollars per Acre for your Vote!"

This man says that farm values in his part of Illinois are $25 to $75 an acre less than they were in pre-war days.

Not only did Mr. Hoover have nothing to do with fixing the price of wheat—which was done by a special board appointed by President Wilson and consisting largely of farm organization leaders—but in the last few weeks this fact has been so many times reiterated that this Snow person cannot possibly fail to know about it.

So we do not for a moment believe that Illinois farm lands are now valued $25 or $75 an acre less than they were before the war.

Nobody is any more directly to blame for the speculative loss in Midwest and Western farm lands than these country bankers who promoted the wildest sort of gambling in that form of property during and after the war by lending their depositors' money on grossly inflated valuations.

They were irresponsibly ignorant then. Those of them who talk like Snow are ignorantly irresponsible now. And untruthful.

MAINE SURPRISES If the Democrats can obtain any solace or anything but profound discouragement from the result of the Maine election they will deserve the banner for star-eyed optimism.

WELCOME

Announcement by E. L. G. Hohenthal that he will adhere to his determination to vote for Herbert Hoover for President, despite the refusal of his own Prohibition party to withdraw the candidacy of Varney, is open to construction.

We are inclined to construe it as a somewhat belated acknowledgment on the part of the Manchester city leader that the cause of temperance would be safer in the hands of a rationalist like Mr. Hoover.

Not only did Mr. Hoover have nothing to do with fixing the price of wheat—which was done by a special board appointed by President Wilson and consisting largely of farm organization leaders—but in the last few weeks this fact has been so many times reiterated that this Snow person cannot possibly fail to know about it.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

Dr. McCoy will gladly answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Herald. Enclose stamped, addressed, large envelope for reply.

THE CURE OF CONSTIPATION.

During the first period of the cure of constipation, it is advisable for a patient to use one or two enemas daily for the purpose of clearing out old waste material and lessening the amount of inflammation in the intestinal tract.

The use of enemas does not provide the real cure, but is a helpful course of treatment which tends to lessen inflammation of the intestines, and to increase the flow of secretions.

It is well to begin the diet with a three of four day fruit fast, using only one kind of acid fruit at a meal, eat as much as desired three times a day.

After the three or four day fruit fast, you may begin on your regular diet, but it is advisable to avoid starches, sugars and milk for a time.

Constipation is much more common in civilization than in savagery, and this is entirely due to the position assumed at the toilet.

Question: O. J. asks: "Is it safe to marry a person who has had consumption in the first stages and is now cured?"

Question: M. K. L. asks: "What is the difference between goat's milk and cow's milk?"

Question: U. V. asks: "What an I to do for a stubborn case of St Vitus dance of ten years' standing?"

Question: You should take a fruit juice fast for at least ten days which should be followed by a carefully planned diet in order to cure yourself of any tendency to nervousness.

The Modern Room Has a Floor of LINOLEUM

HERE'S the answer to that tired feeling you get after a day in the kitchen—LINOLEUM! If your kitchen isn't floored in one of the new greens—the new marble effect in two shades of tan—a Dutch tile pattern with indented mortar lines—on one or the other new linoleums you can't know what a difference a cheerful floor can make.

Sunrooms

There are many striking linoleum patterns here for the sunroom! Large and small marbles, indented Dutch tiles, plain jaspers in green and tan over which you can place your fiber or fabric rugs.

Halls

Floors that get a great deal of wear are the places to use linoleum. That's why so many beautiful patterns are made for halls where everyone must pass, with dirty, yes, sometimes muddy and wet shoes.

Mrs. Emory Clough and daughter, Shirley, have returned from New Britain, where they have been guests of Mrs. Clough's sister, Mrs. Willis Marsh and family.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER.

Washington, Sept. 11.—While politicians read the air with arguments about farm relief, representatives of the Department of Agriculture are flying over the jungles of New Guinea in a hydroplane, trying to find in that South Sea island's unexplored wilds some disease-resisting varieties of sugar cane which can be introduced in the United States.

The expedition is based on the conclusion that New Guinea was the native home of sugar cane. It is commanded by Dr. E. W. Brandes, head of the Office of Sugar Plants in the Bureau of Plant Industry, who is accompanied by Dr. Jacob Jeswiet, a leading authority on cane culture from Holland; C. E. Pemberton of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Experiment Station, and R. K. Peck of Elgin, Ill., the pilot. Pemberton is an entomologist and Jeswiet has studied sugar plant breeding in Java.

The party left in April, with a cabin type plane equipped with pontoons which would enable them to land at interior positions of the island otherwise inaccessible or difficult to reach. The idea had been considered for several years and was finally given impetus by a depression in the Louisiana sugar cane industry resulting largely from declining yields caused by mosaic and root diseases.

These diseases were known to have been present in New Guinea, and the Brandes theory was that resistant or tolerant varieties of cane would naturally have developed where sugar was indigenous. Tests with similar varieties had been encouraging.

A propagation garden was established by the expedition at Port Moresby, where newly collected specimens have been set and planted at intervals. Cuttings will be taken from the propagating garden and replanted in the department's sugar cane gardens here for a year's observation.

One interesting result of the expedition is that the head hunters of the New Guinea interior have lately been seen an airplane for the first time. The region being explored consists mostly of dense tropical jungles traversed by rivers on which the hydroplane alights and is inhabited by some of the most primitive known species of human beings.

The last radiogram received from the party reported that it was about to finish its collecting in western Papua from a base camp on the Fly river.

It had established friendly contact with a race of Pigmyes living on the Alice river about 600 miles in the interior and also with the head hunters between the Fly and Strickland rivers to whom white men apparently were new.

Dr. Brandes reported that the natives were overawed by the plane and that he had obtained 14 additional varieties of cane. He indicated that the natives were using sugar cane to make arrows, shafts which they used in hunting, and inter-tribal wars.

"Will walk over mountains to north coast from Port Moresby," the radiogram concluded. "Established trail not dangerous."

Varieties of resistant or tolerant sugar cane are not new, as some favorable results have been achieved by the introduction of several improved varieties developed at the Proefstation Oost Java, an experiment station maintained by private planters in Java.

More than 170,000 acres were planted in Louisiana last fall with varieties recently introduced from Java.

Dr. Brandes, however, believed that he could find new varieties which would enable breeders to develop strains more desirable for culture in the United States.

CLASS D AIRPLANES TO START TOMORROW

Ten of the largest ships in country to race across the continent.

New York, Sept. 11.—New York tomorrow will see the start of the country's most thrilling trans-continental air race when ten or more of the air's Leviathans will leave Roosevelt Field, across Manhattan and disappear into the southwest in the non-stop marathon to Los Angeles.

They comprise the Class D planes in the Trans-Continental Air Derby held in connection with the national races in Los Angeles. The Class A planes, which left here last Wednesday, have arrived at their goal and the Class B and C planes are now on their last laps.

GILDA GRAY DOES NEW "DEVIL DANCE"

Originator of "Shimmy" Has Some Startling Innovations in Picture at the State.

Bringing something new, something altogether different to the screen, has earned the following comment on Samuel Goldwyn from one of the leading critics of Los Angeles: "He is an adventurous soul—a man who likes to try the unusual and watch the effects."

In his latest undertaking, "The Devil Dancer," starring Gilda Gray, at the State Theatre, is a new exotic and appealing dance, created by the same Gilda Gray who shook the seductive "Shimmy" into national popularity. The Goldwyn lot was hedged off from the curiosity of strangers by more than unusually high fences as this mysterious new dance was being created. But through cracks in the fences and from the bubbling-over enthusiasm of Miss Gray and her co-workers came a hint of what the successor to the Charleston and the Black Bottom will be. Ted Shawn, associated with Ruth St. Denis, who had just returned from Tibet, worked hard perfecting the execution of the various steps for the native dancers.

With such a gathering of talent, the public may well anticipate a terpsichorean masterpiece. In the production, the dance becomes a motive for the exotic loveliness of an English girl, brought up by the Black Lamas of Tibet, a devil worshiper and strange sect, who offer the vestal virgin, symbolically, as bride to their devil-god.

From this sensuous and weird ritual dance, Miss Gray has created a modern contemporary, with Clive Brook, her leading man in this production.

"The dance typifies the weird ceremony that still exists in Tibet when a pure, vestal virgin is offered to the devil deity," said Miss Gray. "The steps are comparatively simple and the whole body is called upon to express the ritual. It involves the dedication of first the eyes, then the ears, and other parts of the body, finally the whole body, to the service of this strange fanatical religion. In the course of the steps there are daring innovations which will startle those who have become blasé over the Charleston and the Black Bottom."

Also there will be a comedy and novelty reel.

DENVER DANCE HALLS WORSE THAN SALOON SAYS CITY CHAPLAIN

Denver—The gambling Hells of pioneer mining towns of the West were paradise compared with the modern nickle-a-dance palaces that dot the downtown streets of Denver, according to the version of City Chaplain Val Higgins. He would rather see the old saloon and gambling dens where miners and cowboys came to shoot up the town and drink liquor until their money was exhausted than to see the dance hall places of vice. The nickle-a-dance halls are establishments where young girls are employed as "instructors" at five cents a whirl so that men who patronize the place will have partners to dance with. Under the present city code, such places are permitted to operate after going through the simple ceremony of purchasing a license for a nominal sum. An officer is appointed to "beat" each of the halls, and a police woman, Edith Barker, makes the rounds at intervals. "Yes, I visit the halls, said 'baplin' Higgins, "and my heart aches when I see these girls lined up in a row, each doing her best to attract a man.

"It is worse than the old red light district in its palmyest days because these girls are all young. Many of them seeking to make an honest living. Quite often one of the dance halls seeks spiritual comfort after she has traversed the primrose path, but then it is too late.

STATE THEATER CROOK SEEN BY TWO MEN

Met as He Was Leaving Building; Was Tall and Wore Straw Hat.

The marauder who attempted to rob the State theater office on Sunday night was seen leaving the theater by two men, who, however, did not suspect that there was anything out of the way in his presence there.

In leaving unlocked the exit doors of the theater that open on Bissell street the robber made an error, because the doors, instead of remaining unhooked but just ajar opened so much that they attracted attention. It was the open doors that were noticed by Lucius Sherman and prompted him to go into the theater. When he entered the intruder in the office of the manager fled down the stairs to the lobby and out the front door.

He was seen by two men as he left the building. They say they are sure he was not a local man, as they are widely acquainted and know, by sight at least, most of the people in town. They also know the employees of the theater, but being unaware that it is not unusual for other employees of the Hoffman Brothers to come to Manchester on business after closing hours, concluded that the stranger was one of these men.

He is described as being about five feet ten, of medium build, wearing dark clothes and a straw hat with turned down brim. He walked out of the lobby of the theater just before 12 o'clock, as the two men were proceeding north on Main street.

Generally speaking a man of 50 has slept 6,000 days, worked 6,500 days, walked 800 days, amused himself 4,000 days, eaten 1,500 days and been ill 500 days.

CHICAGO FIGHTS PUBLICITY FOR GANG KILLINGS

Chicago.—"When a Chicago gunman's weapon" barks, it's echo is heard around the world; while the same weapon discharged in any other city, the echo would hardly be heard around the block." That is a sentence from a report on Chicago crime made by Arthur V. Lashly, a former county prosecutor of St. Louis, just published by the Illinois Association for Criminal Justice.

Gang killings, according to Mr. Lashly, are "spectacular, mysterious and dramatic; they possess all the elements of intense human interest and therefore have great news value."

But the reputation given Chicago around the world as a result of its gang wars is "entirely unjustified," according to Lashly. In this connection he reported:

"RABALM REDUCED MY VARICOSE VEINS AND STOPPED PAIN"

says George W. Campbell, Barber, Hazardville, Conn. "I am writing to tell you of the benefits I have received from Rabalm. My work as a barber necessitates long hours of standing, and it caused my left leg to swell and cause me great pain. About two months ago I began using Rabalm, and it has done wonders for me in that short time. The knotted veins are greatly reduced and the leg does not give me any more pain. I am glad to give this unqualified testimony so that others may try Rabalm and be benefited."

country. The bad name has traveled around the world.

Charges Analyzed
 "An analysis of the charges in the blanket indictment upon which this community has apparently been tried and convicted in the world forum of public opinion indicates that they are numerous and some are of long standing; but the principal complaint is its crime record, and more specifically its record of gang murders and bombings."

"The bomb, as a gang weapon, has been used sporadically for years, but only become really popular since the summer of 1927. As a means of intimidation it has no equal. It has been used effectively by extortionists, the so-called racketeers who resort to all manner of force and violence to terrorize their victims, and candidates for public office. A United States Senator and a Judge of the Circuit Court had their homes bombed and the lives of their families were endangered."

Hurt City's Reputation
 "But no one was killed; nor has any recent bombing in this community resulted in the loss of life. While the bomb, so far, has proved more 'bark' than 'bite', it has done much to confirm and aggravate the bad reputation of Chicago as a gang center and crime ridden community."

Citizens of Chicago, the world had been told, going about in the pursuit of business and pleasure, are actually in danger while in the streets of being killed by gangsters' bullets.

Nothing could be more absurdly untrue," the Lashly report declares. Lashly sets forth that in the two years last passed only two innocent bystanders have been killed in Cook County (Chicago) and neither was killed by gangsters' bullets. "If non-gangsters kill they kill each other," Lashly discovered.

BERLIN LIGHT FESTIVAL TO BE HELD OCT. 13
 Berlin.—"Light guilds" are now being established in all sections of Berlin in preparation for the "light festival," which is to be held on October 13 to 16.

The members of these "light guilds" are being chosen by the inhabitants of the principal streets. They include all callings, but mainly, electro-technicians, florists, gardeners, etc.

REINHARDT'S NEW THEATER TO BE UNIQUE IN U. S.

New York.—Features unique in the theatrical world are planned for the proposed Max Reinhardt theater here. Specifications for the theater have just been completed by Joseph Urban, leading theatrical architect. These features include a facade of gleaming black glass, hidden fire escapes on the facade, tier on tier of boxes about the auditorium, but no balcony, the highest proscenium arch in the world and a new stage arrangement.

The theater as planned will have a frontage of 169 feet on West Fifth Street just west of the Capital Theater and will be 100 feet deep.

Of Black Glass.
 The facade will be constructed of black glass with a cross pattern of gold, which will hide the fire escapes. The stage will be shallow but will have the largest proscenium arch in the world. There will be a forestage and a circular continuation of the stage extending around the walls of the auditorium. This will enlarge the possibilities of presenting spectacles and permit members of the cast to enter and exit from almost any point.

Only the most modern equipment available, either in the United States or abroad will be used in the theater. The auditorium will seat 1,700 persons, including 525 seats in the orchestra. Instead of balconies there will be a series of boxes or loges in tiers, so arranged that each will have a good view of the stage.

Behind these boxes will be a vestibule, coat room and possibly a buffet. Patrons will be taken up and down in elevators. Describing the theater as planned Urban said: "The new surfaces that are so much utilized in interior decorating—flashing enamels, colored glass, metal trimmings, should play a large part in theater exteriors in the future."

Bright Lighting.
 "At night when the theater camps into its own, all the new methods of illumination—from panels of frosted glass, to tubes of vapor light, must contribute to the striking beauty of the facade. And above all ways must be found to display the advertising signs of the theater and play in a fashion that fits them into the whole architectural scheme of the building."

"The face of the house is to be of vitrolite, a gleaming black glass. At various levels across stretch the horizontal lines of the fire escape balconies in golden metal work. Down the center runs a grided tower containing the emergency stairways and the tower is continued high in the air in a kind of a pinnacle. Thus I have tried to apply the fire escape as a golden arabesque against the shining black of the facade itself."

Reinhardt is expected to arrive in New York in about six months to make this city his home.

Psychologists say a man never craves for a smoke so much as he is reduced to his last match.

Then Richard had her in his arms, and his voice was singing with joy

THIS HAS HAPPENED
SYBIL THORNE, Boston society girl, entertains a strange proposal from RICHARD EUSTIS. Because he wants her so that "longing is an ache in his bones," Eustis (who professes to scorn and despise marriage) finally begs her to marry him.

But Sybil is more or less engaged to CRAIG NEWHALL, wealthy and desirable. It was to please her dying father that she had consented to a secret understanding with Craig. After her father's death she begins to fear it was all a mistake, since she cannot banish from her mind the image of young JOHN LAWRENCE, her first sweetheart. Lawrence went to France with the A. E. F. and never returned—but Sybil believes herself still in love with him.

In order to think things over she has taken a trip to Havana with MABEL BLAKE, a social worker. They meet Eustis aboard and he begins immediately to make wild and violent love. He has asked Sybil for a little sapphire circlet she is wearing, proposing that they use it for a wedding ring. And he tells her the captain will marry them—there in Havana harbor.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XV
"The exhilaration of maddest" cried Richard. "The ecstasy of it!" And then Sybil looked at Mabel. Mabel standing there, consternation on her good, plain face. Sensible Mabel Lord, where did sense get you?

"Darling!" Richard's voice was low now. He whispered against the softness of her neck. And Mabel turned white as the painted ropes when Sybil slipped the ring from her finger and dropped it in his outstretched hand. A baby breeze tossed her hair, and lit her skirts. Her eyes were flashing, and her cheeks were pink as the steward's roses. She laughed recklessly.

"All right!" she cried. "I will! Breathlessly she pulled Rich toward her. "You never thought I'd do it, did you? Never, never, never—in your heart, you know, you didn't. Will, I will! I will!" Then Richard had her in his arms, and his voice was singing with joy.

"Sybil! Sybil!" He lifted her off her feet, and kissed her on the cheek. He swung her about. And hugged her wildly. Then, when he was breathless, he kissed her again.

"Restrain yourself, Mr. Eustis. Father Finn's looking at us." Firmly, with mock solemnity, she pushed him away.

"Why not? Anybody look at you, darling. Oh, you wonder girl. You adorable, lovely thing! Father Finn—oh, Father Finn. Come meet the bride—Mrs. Jones!"

Richard dragged them over. And there was a great deal of shaking hands, and Mrs. Jones ran to tell Alice, Father Finn, solemnly and sweetly, blessed them. By and by Captain Hanna came, spick and span in shining white, with Tina, the boat's monkey mascot, in a bright red coat and cap, hopping along by his side. And a steward with two little love birds in a cage. "Permit me," said the captain in his deep bass. "My gifts to the bride."

Blithe young things—happy and excited. They kissed Sybil, and kissed Richard too. "Here, here!" he cried. "Line forms on the right. Everybody who wants to kiss the bridegroom, please fall in line."

Then there were more kisses, and more laughter. Until Sybil saw Mabel, pale and frightened looking, clutching the rail. Poor old Mabel—she looked positively green. Sybil threw her arm about her.

"Excuse us, ever-body. The bride and the maid of honor must get dressed. And you too, Rich. Wear your white knickers and your very best tie."

He devoured her with blazing eyes, and implored like a suppliant. "Give me another kiss, Sib." "No—no more. Run along. Simpleton. No—can't come to the bride's boudoir today. Go on—get out! Mab and I have a lot to do."

But he went with them to their stateroom, and held her to him, and kissed her madly. When he had gone, Sybil closed the door, and stood with her back against it. Mabel had sunk limply on her berth, and was frowning herself listlessly.

"No time for speeches, Mab. I know you're going to be a good social!" "But, Sib—how about Craig?" "Please, Mab."

"Rich has swept you off your feet, dear—"

"I know, Mab. That's what I needed—someone to sweep me off my feet. Besides, Craig is too good for me. Rich is more my sort. Craig has me up on a pedestal. When I came toppling down, I'd break his heart. There's a't any pedestal in Richard's life. I couldn't disillusion him—he's not that kind."

"Oh, my dear, I think you are making a mistake. There were tears in Mabel's eyes.

"Mabel Blake, don't you know it's bad luck to cry on a wedding day!" Sybil dabbed at her own eyes. "I'm going to wear my gray georgette. Those roses will be heavenly against it. Hurry up, like a good girl. I can't have a maid of honor with a red nose—please, Mab. That blue crepe de chine is lovely on you, and you can wear your precious pink hat, to match our roses. Oh, such a swanky wedding!" Sybil was tossing things about. "Not much of a trousseau. Five vests, eight slips and a dozen pair of stockings. Two negligees, one of them musy. Three slips, with the hem out of one, and the shoulder straps off another. Six night dresses. Too bad I haven't a white one in the bunch. Brides they supposed to wear white, aren't they? Oh, well. . . . Remember when Enid Swallow was married, she had two dozen of everything. From vests to sheets. And her monogram on every blessed thing!"

"Sybil! Sybil!"

selle Mabelle. Tie that knot in back, will you? Bows are such a darn nuisance. "My dear, you can see right through this skirt. Where's your pink slip? Here—look me up in back. Now then, how do I look?" (To be Continued.)

(And in the next chapter Sybil gets married. . . . and is not long in regretting it.)

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton ©1928 by NEA Service, Inc.

"For goodness sake, Charlie are you still fooling with that old mouth-organ of your grandfather's? You can't fix it. I told you you couldn't and besides you'll cut your lip on that piece of old tin."

"I could fix it if I had the right kind of a tack and some good glue. It plays all right. Can't I get some glue, Mother? It's only ten cents. I know a do-dy kind."

"No, you can't. I know how you'd fix it. You'd run off and forget it and the glue would lie around and be wasted like that green paint you got for the doghouse."

"Mother, honest, I won't waste it." "Well, anyway, come on now and get out the lawn-mower, it's Saturday and the grass can't go for another week. You're getting to be a big boy now and it's time you were doing something useful instead of fooling away your time. Come on."

So Charlie put down his mouth-organ with a long lingering look and shuffled off disconsolately to get the lawn-mower. He cut the grass with vicious jabs and only did it half right.

Now, unless Charlie's mother could not afford the glue for the mouth-organ, there wasn't any real reason why he couldn't have had his little wish gratified. It wasn't a passing whim. He'd been trying to fix it for a week. At any rate it was an urge that should have been carried through.

Had he been allowed to fix his toy, he would have cut the grass with better grace and more care, and not nursed the feeling of resentment that he carried with him the rest of the day.

Children are like older people. They have wishes and plans to be carried through. Is there any reason why they should be thwarted? Why do parents have the idea that children have no right to human desires? There is no reason for spoiling a child and handing him the earth, but there is no reason to baffle him either. There is a happy middle way. As to the green paint, it had not been wasted. The dog house had been painted and all his mother's nagging was about the paint that had been left over. One wonders if she never bought too much material for a dress or made a like mistake. The safe way to deal with any child is to say to ourselves, "How would I feel in the circumstances?" Children have a very strong sense of justice.

HARDY BORDER IS INCOMPLETE WITHOUT IRIS

By ROMAINE B. WARE
It is not too late to plant or transplant Iris. They are very hardy and in mass plantings make one of the grandest shows of the hardy border. Plant them in clumps or sashes, using a half dozen to a hundred of a kind. They multiply very fast and should be divided and reset every two or three years. Iris must have good drainage and are particularly at home on a hillside. All of the tall, bearded varieties comprising most of the modern ones, like lime but the Japanese and Siberians resent it. None of them will stand barnyard manure. Bone meal is the best thing to feed them. At this time they may be set out and old clumps may be divided and reset. It is best done when the soil is dry and do not water them as they are likely to rot. Iris should be planted not closer than 12 to 18 inches and the rhizome, or heavy fleshy part of the root should be barely covered. Deep planting retards growth and invites disease. If you are not familiar with the new varieties of Iris you are missing something. They are very different from the "flags" of the old-fashioned gardens. There are several hundred good varieties to be had at all prices from ten cents upward. Some very "fine" ones are priced at one dollar and many good ones are much less. I'll mention a few. Look them up in a good Iris catalog: Mother of Pearl, Lent A. Williamson, Madam Gaudichau, Prospero, Opera, Ambassador, Alphonse, Queen Caterina and Sherwin-Wright. All of these will be good in any garden.

PAGE-BOY SILHOUETTE

The page boy silhouette is strikingly new and charming. The line is a fitted one to the waistline where it is broken by contrasting bindings. Double tiers, longer and circular in the back fly out from under this to give a suggestion of the little page boy hurrying on his errands. Redfern develops this in black velvet, with gold bindings.

ALIBI CONVENTIONS
Another misnomer convention is "always play through strength." Assume that you are second hand and have the lead on the third round. Dummy's remaining cards are:
Spades 8 6 5
Hearts A Q
Diamonds A K Q J
Clubs K

Following this convention literally you would lead through the strongest suit, diamonds. But east may be holding the Ace-Queen of clubs. If you lead a diamond, the declarer will probably be delighted for it will give him an opportunity to discard losing clubs on the winning diamonds in the dummy. Before leading through the dummy, always attempt to visualize your partner's hand and then lead in a manner which will not enable the declarer to capture your partner's holdings, lead through broken suits such as A X X, A J X, A Q X, K X X, Q X X, K Q X, K J X or K 10 X in preference to such solid suits as A K Q J, A K Q, K Q J 10, A Q J X X, K J 10 9 or A K J X X.

Fashion Plaque

A CLUSTER of the tower of the Alps, Edelweiss, makes a chic new fall boutonniere.

CHENILLE TRIM

Chenille bows in what Paris calls Jenny pink are the sole decoration of a svelte evening gown of a slightly lighter shade of satin.

STREET PUMPS

Autumn walking shoes concentrate on the pump. Calf-skin, lizard, sharkskin and suede are the favorite media.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SWANBER

Perhaps, you, too, saw that picture in the paper the other day of Texas Guinan, night club hostess par excellence, posed with her Ma Guinan and her Pa Guinan. No picture in months has so intrigued me. I studied it for long minutes. There was Tex with her yards and yards of pearls—real ones, too, they say, for being a night club wisecracker is quite profitable employment. There was Tex with her chic Paris hat, her even more chic Paris gown, her elegant hose and shoes and hand bag and gloves and a complete air of hardboiled sophistication.

And There Was Ma! And there was Ma Guinan with her old-fashioned cotton umbrella, the kind they used to call "a bumbershoot," parked squarely in front of her dowdy old-fashioned body. There was Ma with her spectacles and her straight hair parted exactly in the middle, with her obviously corseted figure outlined by a tight belt at an old-fashioned normal waistline. There was Ma with square-toed shoes, her skirts concealing all but the tips of her shoes, her cotton-gloved hands, and there was Ma with an utter air of bewilderment as to what the picture taking was all about, anyway, and just what this swan was which she had hatched from a supposed plain duck egg.

Mr. Guinan spoke of many a hard day's work at the wash tub and around the kitchen stove. She spoke of home baked loaves of fragrant bread, of hundreds of little dresses washed and ironed, of cakes

HINTS ON HOW TO KEEP WELL
by World Famed Authority

TUBERCULOSIS PATIENT IS LIKELY TO OVEREAT
This is the second of a series of three articles on Tuberculosis. Tomorrow: Fresh Air.

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Food used to be the primary consideration in the care of the tuberculous. It is still important, coming next to rest as a vital factor in the control of the disease. An adequate diet has been repeatedly described in this column. In many diseases, and perhaps particularly in tuberculosis, when the body needs food most, the stomach is likely to revolt against it.

There is an old proverb for the tuberculous: that they should eat once for themselves, once for the gums and once to gain weight. Therefore, patients with tuberculosis used to eat not only three good meals each day, but six glasses of milk and six raw eggs as well.

Danger of Overeating
When the patient is told he must eat in order to sustain himself and to fight his disease, the tendency is to overeat and to gain weight quickly. The danger of overeating is interference with digestion and throwing too great a burden upon some of the organs in order to benefit the body as a whole.

Nowadays since diets have been studied scientifically, it is customary to determine just how much food the patient can handle successfully in order to gain weight.

Prepared Foods
It is of the greatest importance to keep up the patient's appetite. This can be helped by modifying the manner in which the milk is taken and by preparing the food in an appetizing manner.

Some of the specially prepared foods for invalids contain as much as 100 calories in each ounce of food. Cod liver oil, for example, contains 126 calories in each tablespoonful. In carbohydrate foods, such as in various malted milks, there are 120 calories to each ounce.

Ty Holland Eliminates Earle Bissell 6-4, 6-4

Plays Steadier Game; His Cut Shot Baffling; Brilliant Tennis; Match Tonight, Tomorrow, Thursday.

Displaying a more steady game in the lengthy rallies and exhibiting a beautiful, swift, low-bouncing cut shot that was difficult to return, Walter "Ty" Holland bled his way into the semifinals of the men's tennis championship of Manchester last night by defeating Earle Bissell in straight sets at the High school courts. The scores both 6 to 4. A fairly large gallery watched the players in action.

The important closing round matches have been so arranged that it will be possible for the fans to witness all of them unless rain should cause a postponement and make necessary playing two matches one night later on. Tonight, Mac McDonald and Algot Gatt meet at the Nathan Hale courts at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow night, Cap Bissell and Paul Jesanis get together in their semi-final clash at the West Side at 5:30. Thursday night, Ty Holland will play the Macdonald-Gatt winner, and then on Saturday afternoon will come the final.

Cut Shot Deceptive. The Holland-Bissell match last night brought about a classy exhibition of tennis, in fact, one of the best of the entire tournament. Both players fought to their utmost ability, but Holland was the steeper of the pair and made less errors. Bissell found it difficult to return some of Holland's smashing cut shots that bounced very low. They were deceptive and, yet, they will make some spectacular returns that drew applause from the gallery. The same held for Holland.

Whereas in many of the other matches, points have been scored largely on errors, many last night came on planned strategy when you come down to brass tacks, that's what real tennis is anyway. Bissell started off strong taking the first three games, but Holland rallied and took the next three. They divided the next two and then Ty braced and took the deciding point on the deciding set.

Losing the first set after having such a commanding lead, seemed to unnervy young Bissell some. Holland's play was also improving as the match progressed. At any rate, Ty won the first four games of the second set with a few well-placed pick up only three scattered points. It looked pretty dark for Bissell but he pulled himself together and took the next three.

The third one which he won was bitterly contested, going as long as 11-9. Finally Bissell won out 12 to 10. The next game went to twelve before Holland won 7 to 5 and then Bissell made 3-5 in games with a 4 to 2 game victory. The boys were fighting stubbornly for every point and the spectators being treated with some of the best tennis seen on the High school courts in a long time.

A 4 to 2 game triumph in the next game gave Holland the set, match and right to play in the semi-finals. Following are the point scores of each game. Holland scored a total of only twelve more points than his worthy opponent:

First Set	Holland	1-2-1-3-4-4-5-4-4-4-3-8
	Bissell	4-4-4-7-1-2-7-2-2-1-3-8
Second Set	Holland	4-4-4-1-1-0-10-7-2-4-4-36
	Bissell	1-1-1-0-4-4-12-5-4-2-38
Total Points	Ty Holland	58
	Earle Bissell	72

KAPLAN PREDICTS HE'LL KNOCK OUT M'GRAW TOMORROW

McMahon Also Reports Meriden Buzz-Saw Was Nerve in Better Physical Condition.

Kid Kaplan, entirely recovered from the siege of bolts which cheated him out of the bout with Bruce Flowers, is fit and ready for his battle with Phil McGraw, the Detroit star, at the Hartford Eastern League baseball park tomorrow night.

Kaplan has been hard at work the past two weeks at Silver Lake on the Meriden-Berlin town line and he has shown speed and real punching power in his daily workouts. Denny McMahon, Kaplan's trainer and next best friend, says Kaplan has never looked better than right now and he feels confident that McGraw is scheduled for a junket into dreamland Wednesday night.

McGraw takes the place of Flowers in this bout because Flowers suffered a badly cut lip in his bout with Honeyboy Finnegan. The bout loses none of its promise in the substitution of McGraw for Flowers.

The Detroit boy is one of the greatest "crowd-pleasers" in the ring today. He never fails to give the crowd a real run for its money which accounts for his great popularity in New York and throughout the East. McGraw's last journey into Connecticut was for his bout with George Day. Phil slammed George from pillar to post, only to have the referee call a draw.

McGraw is not popularly credited with a punch but he showed in the Sid Ferris fight that he can hit, dropping the East Sider several times in the first round.

The Kaplan-McGraw show will be the inaugural of boxing at the new Bulkeley Stadium; the first card was slated a month ago, but rain and other untoward incidents have combined to prevent the actual dedication of the big ball park as a fight arena.

It is expected that the biggest outdoor gate of two seasons in outdoor boxing in this section will be registered.

There will be forty rounds of millinery. The star bout is down for ten rounds and there will be a semi-final of ten rounds between Frankie O'Brien of Hartford and Frankie Konchina of New York. O'Brien jumped into the ring tonight at the age of twenty-two, over Harry Ebbetts; Konchina is one of the best middleweights in the metropolitan district and has won his last four fights on knockouts.

ROCKVILLE LICKED 24 TO 6 IN 1894

Windy City Was Just as Soft Picking Then as It Is Today for Manchester.

There have been rallies in baseball games many in the seventh but there is an eighth inning rally made by the South Manchester team in a game played against Rockville on June 9, 1894 which will probably long stand as a record for number of runs scored in one inning. South Manchester won 24 to 6 and in so doing scored twelve runs in the eighth inning, on seven hits. Rockville made twenty errors on that day, only one man on the whole Rockville plate were able to get a safe hit. Smith, playing center field, gathered in just half of his team's total, which was six.

Nine Men Struck Out. Although batted for twenty-two hits Harry Pinkney, who worked for seven and a third innings in the game had nine strike outs. His brother, Charlie, now Captain of Police in New London, was the catcher.

As there were men on bases most of the time it meant that Charlie had to be up "picking them off" most of the time and his hands were pretty badly used up. In the eighth inning, seventeen South Manchester players were able to get a safe hit. Twelve scored, two were left on bases and the other three were outs. As only one base on balls was given by the pitcher in that inning and seven hits were made it meant that there were six errors made by the visitors in that one inning alone.

The game was billed as being played between South Manchester and Rockville, yet a study of the box score will show that Talcottville was the grand total represented as names that are still connected with Talcottville are found to be in the majority in the box score, which was as follows:

WORLD'S BIGGEST SHIP
London—The world's largest passenger ship is now under construction at Belfast. It is being built for the White Star Line. When completed it will be about 1000 feet long with a tonnage of 60,000. The largest vessel now in commission is the Majestic, owned by the same company.

"Yerrr—rrr—Out!"

And now we have a young lady through as an umpire. She has gained quite a bit of fame as a umpire in semi-pro circles in Los Angeles, and says it all came about because she majored in basketball rather than chemistry when she attended Oklahoma A. and M. College.

Wings May Not Flap. They say that Tex Rickard, who until the Tunney-Heney thing had been very successful at making plenty dough at whatever he tried, has turned Broadway angel and is backing Gene Duck and "Ringside," the boxing play that opened recently.

Of course, this may be the first time that Tex has stepped out of play angel, but it isn't the first opportunity he ever had and this play will have to gather in plenty cash to make up for the big chance he had once of backing a play.

When Aeneas Nicholas was hunting and begging for an angel for her "Able's Irish Rose," Tex was one of the many asked for a little cash. She wanted $7500 from Tex and also suggested that he might persuade King Ringling, the big circus man, to donate $5000 to the cause.

Tex decided to think the matter over a bit and while doing so remembered that he had heard a lot of stories, mostly tragic ones, about Broadway angels. And he shrewd man that he is, he saw no reason why he should step in and lose that many grands. So he turned it down flat.

There came a day when Tex was sorry and you can't blame him. That was the day when the gate receipts for Able and his Rose had passed several millions and after four years of running was still at it and packing the customers in.

Sam Prentice, manager of the Green's baseball team, has been placed in charge of the ticket sellers for the Cubs next season. The Cubs are also planning a benefit performance to be held at the State Theater Wednesday, Sept. 19, next week.

The following players are out for the Cubs, Manager Peter Vondrillo reports: ends—Mozzer, Sylvester, Cheney, Farr, Synosky, Roe; tackles—C. Vendrillo, Quish, Stearns, Harrison, Chappelaine, Wolfstrom; guards—Merrill, Falowski, Amburkewicz, LaCoss, Welles, Vesco, Pentore; center—S. GROVE HAS BEATEN YANKEES BUT ONCE DURING '28 SEASON

His 20 Victories Over Other Clubs; Mack May Not Use Him Today.

The inability of Pitcher "Lefty" Grove of the Philadelphia Athletics to beat the New York Yankees may cost Connie Mack's club the pennant. Since the opening of the 1928 season Babe Ruth and Company have had a terrible jinx to the Great Grove.

Only the other day Grove registered his twentieth victory of the season. That, in itself, is quite an achievement in these days of the lively ball. Seidom do more than three or four big league hurlers annually turn the trick.

In winning 20 games for the Philadelphia Athletics, Grove has received no help from the Yanks. The slugging aggregation, captioned by Manager Miller Huggins, has been poison for the tall southpaw of the A's. As a matter of fact, only Grove's failure to enjoy just ordinary success against the world champs, has kept him from having one of the most remarkable years ever recorded in the big show.

While scoring his 20 games, Grove has lost just six. And, to definitely prove what a horrible hoodoo the Yanks are to Grove, it may be stated that five of the six defeats suffered by Grove have been at the hands of the Yanks. He has beaten that club only once in six starts. Eliminate the five defeats suffered by Grove against the Yanks and his record for the year is 20 wins against one loss, which is some record.

However, the big test is just ahead for Grove. In four short days, he will have a chance to wipe out a season's failure against the Yankees. If he delivers it may mean a pennant for the Athletics, something for which Connie Mack has been striving for since 1914.

Every tight pennant race has its one or more crucial series. One month ago there wasn't anything tight about the American League race. The Yanks enjoyed such a commanding lead, that the rest of the field seemed distanced. Then, as if by magic, the Yankees began to happen and in less than a dozen games have been out down and the Yanks are fighting to stay on top.

Two games remain to be played between New York and Philadelphia in the series that will more or less decide the American League pennant struggle.

Grove has been beating all clubs other than New York with such ridiculous ease that Manager Mack may use him either today or tomorrow. Connie Mack has several times kept his ace on the bench and put the crucial series up to the other members of the staff so possibly he won't use Grove at all.

Despite his failure against the Yankees, Grove still feels that he's trying to help some club win the pennant.

GREEN'S LEFT-HAND HITTERS TO FACE SOUTH-PAW BUCKLAND

BRAE BURN COURSE KNOCKS OUT MANY Jones and a Half Dozen Ex-Champions Fall by the Wayside.

The casualties of the moment and the extent of their injuries were as follows: Severe lacerations, mostly pride; Bobby Jones, 77; Francis Quinn, Max Marston, Jess Swastone, W. L. Hope, Eddie Heid, Frank Dolp and Bon Stein, 78.

Painfully injured: Maurice McCarthy, Eustace Storey and Phillips Finlay, 79.

Serious: William Tweddell, Major C. O. Hezlet, John G. Anderson, Dick Jones, Jesse Gullford, Chick Evans, Watts Gunn and Bill Fownes, 80.

Critical: D. Clarke Corkran, 81. Lives departed: Dr. J. A. Torrance and Dr. O. F. Welling, 83. Identified dead: Elsworth Augustus, 85, and Roland Mackenzie, 88. This list includes the name of the present and seemingly perpetual champion, Mr. Jones; three former champions of England; six ex-champions of America and at least two of its ranking Walker Cup men.

Of the good ones who started out so gallantly yesterday to give battle to a great quartet of stars not to mention Buckland, Barry and others. Play will start at 5:45, the management has announced.

The inevitable dark horses who annually appear in the money at this junction out of nowhere had three past entries this morning, namely D. J. Armstrong, Aurora, Ill., with a 73; John B. Kyrson, Chicago, and John D. Ames with 75 and R. R. Gorton, Brae Burn, with a 76.

All in all, the duel with par over the first 13 holes proved to be a one-way affair, only 45 of the 143 starters bettered Burgo, that means, of course, that those on the border line this morning, including Quilty, Sweetser, Marston, McCarthy, Storey, Tweddell, Hezlet, Gullford, Evans and Gunn, will be asked to show something better today if they would assure themselves of finishing within the qualifying thirty two low scores.

Jones seemed safe, if one may be pardoned for discussing the mere possibility of a future to qualify this young man. As a matter of fact, one of his typical rounds in the high sixties might land him round by Johnston, Voigt, Somerville, Von Elm or any of the leaders would just about nullify the great set round Jones has shot this year, anyhow. As the round started this morning, he was six strokes and fifteen places back of the lead, an unusual state of affairs for Robert.

Tunney gave Billy Vidabec and Harold Mays, his sparring partners, five thousand each and a gold watch. The watches were fittingly engraved with tender sentiments. . . Which reduced the hook value. . . Tom Teecey gave the hard working scribes a banquet before he sailed for Australia. . . A garment magazine says it's piffling to see the guys in dirty straw hats and 15 buck suits buying $25 tickets at the Chicago tracks. . . Something should be done about it. . . They say Alex would be pitching better if Bill Killifer were still around the Cards. . . Gabby Hartnett works out on third base. . . John Eoylder, National League president, had to go to Chicago to find out that Judge Landis had set the world's series dates. . . And made all the arrangements.

Six of the nine players who will probably represent Manchester Green in the game with the Elmwood New Departures at the West Side field this evening, swing their bats from the left shoulder. In view of the fact that Buckland, a southpaw twirler, is scheduled to pitch the mound for the visitors, it is going to be particularly interesting to watch the consequences.

It is no secret that left-hand hitters do not, as a rule, falter in their batting averages against the assortment of hooks and shoots that a portside hurler serves. They find a starboard finger much more to their liking. The six left-hand batters in the Green's lineup for tonight are Linnell, Mantell, St. John, Brennan, Robb and Walleit. Manager Sam Prentice will do well not to bunch them too much in the batting order.

Tommy Sipples is bringing a strong array of talent to town tonight. In fact, one which stands a mighty good chance of lowering the colors of the Green. The Green has won a good many ball games this season, but it would not be at all surprising to see them on the losing end to-night in other words, Mr. and Mrs. Fan, that's the kind of opposition the Green's stacking up against this evening. The New Departures are no setup. Make no mistake about that. In LeBell, Sipples, Alexander and Barton, they have a great quartet of stars not to mention Buckland, Barry and others.

Play will start at 5:45, the management has announced.

POP WILLIAMS MAY JOIN CLOVERLEAVES

Connecticut Aggie Star Considering Offer to Play Professional Football in Manchester Next Season.

"Pop" Williams, star fullback on the Connecticut Aggie football team last season, may appear in a Cloverleaf's uniform this season, it was learned today. Williams was regarded by some critics who viewed him as one of the best college backfield players in the country, and kept from an All-America berth by the small college at which he was enrolled.

It is known that the Cloverleaves have written to Williams regarding playing here. Of course, there is a possibility that the Aggie star may not accept, but Walter Moske says that Williams promised George Moonan, last year's coach, that he would play professional ball here next season. Should the Cloverleaves land the services of Williams, it will be a most important factor in deciding the town championship next fall. Given good interference, and that's what the north end has long been noted for, Williams is a hard man to stop.

The Cloverleaves will practice tomorrow night at the Old Golf Links. They will report at the State Armory at 7 o'clock sharp. About thirty candidates are now out for the team. Anyone in town is welcome to tryout. Jerry Fay is coaching the team at present.

Brownie Tucker Again Wins Bout

Brownie Tucker of Hartford kayoed Harry Leiber of Worcester in the third round of their bout at the Valley Arena in Holyoke last night. In the main, go, Frankie LeFay of Albany outpointed Phil Goldstein of Pittsburgh in ten rounds. Vernon Cormier of Worcester beat Kewpie Ledoux of Holyoke in eight rounds and Ruby Bradley of Holyoke defeated Buster Nadeau also of Holyoke by a decision.

Mackmen Are Depending On Lefty Grove To Win

New York, Sept. 11.—As Yankees staff, cagey, wise, experienced and possessor of the best pitching record in the American League today. And Hoyt, will be given the call, if, after warming up, he feels strong and able to carry on.

Strange as it may seem the Yankees hold no fear of the rangy Grove who has been such a terror to other clubs all season. Against the rest of the league Grove may be a miracle man—but to the Yankees he is just another left-hander. Six times Lefty has started against the Yankees this season, and five times has been thoroughly and soundly beaten.

"He can't beat us," the boys chortled this morning as they discussed the newest phase of the pennant race. "He's whipped on him and he knows it." "He has to beat them," Connie Mack retorted. "He can't fall now. He has to win!" And that is all.

Want to Know Fans' Opinion Regarding West Side and Mt. Nebo; Practice Tonight.

The next practice for the Cubs, town football champs, will be held at the West Side playgrounds tonight at 7:30 and all candidates are requested to be prompt in reporting. In case of rain, the players are to report at the School Street Res at the same time.

The Cubs have not fully decided where they will play their home game—West Side or Mt. Nebo. The officials want to stage them where the fans wish, but although this was stated in the columns of this newspaper recently, no requests have been forthcoming. It isn't too late to express your feelings through the sports forum column.

Sam Prentice, manager of the Green's baseball team, has been placed in charge of the ticket sellers for the Cubs next season. The Cubs are also planning a benefit performance to be held at the State Theater Wednesday, Sept. 19, next week.

Don't Make Me Laugh

Wise men now began to fear the trouble which later brought about the Civil War. The South felt it must have new territory. No new states had been admitted for fifteen years at the time Arkansas came in as a slave state, in 1836, balanced by Michigan, in 1837.

GAS BUGGIES-Alec May Be Right-But!

PHEW! NOW THAT HE HAS GONE HOME, I WANT TO TELL YOU HE GAVE ME THE SHOCK OF MY LIFE. WHEN HE HOPPED OFF THAT TRAIN AND SAID, SNOOP HAD BEEN INVESTIGATING YOU FOR VIOLA'S FATHER.

AND WE THOUGHT HE WAS DETECTIVE DIGGING UP SOME DIRT IN OUR PAST.

IT GIVES ME THE HEEBEE-JEEBES. WE THINK HOW EARLY WE RAN OUT ON OUR PROSPEROUS POLISH BUSINESS OVER A FALSE ALARM.

OH, WELL. IT PROVES THAT VIOLA IS TAKING ME SERIOUSLY, OR HER FATHER WOULDN'T BE SO WORKEED UP OVER OUR AFFAIR!

HE SURE DOESN'T WANT HER HOOKED UP WITH THAT YOUNG SHIEK IN EUROPE HE SENT HER OVER HERE TO SHAKE!

THAT SAYS CLEAR OUT OF THE PICTURE! WITH VIOLA'S PAPA PULLING FOR ME I'VE GOT A CINCIN NOW.

I WOULDN'T BE TOO SURE ABOUT IT, ALEC! YOU CAN'T COUNT THE OTHER GUY OUT TILL THE WEDDING BELLS HAVE STRUCK TEN TIMES.

DON'T MAKE ME LAUGH... I'LL JUST STROLL OVER TO VIOLA'S AND BRING BACK THE SIGNED CONTRACT. I'LL SHOW YOU HOW TO CLOSE A DEAL!

THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE

(388) Our Presidents Sketches by Hessey; Synopsis by Braucher

During Jackson's administration, South Carolina, under the leadership of John C. Calhoun, declared that a law passed by Congress, increasing the tax on all cotton and woolen goods imported from abroad, should not be enforced in that state.

The affair stirred bitterness, however; the South holding that imported manufactures were cheaper than New England's.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS!

A girl doesn't need experience to detect the engagement ring in a man's voice.

LETTER GOLF

DEFINITE PARTY LINES.

PARTY LINES are sharply drawn in today's letter golf puzzle. Par is five and one solution is on another page.

Letter golf puzzle grid with the word 'PARTY LINES' filled in.

THE RULES

- 1-The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEN, HEN.

There was a young lady named Hyde, Who ate some green apples and died, The apples fermented Within the lamented And made cider inside her inside.

The girl who pets and runs away will live to pet another day.

Wives are people who are forever trying to find room for one more piece of furniture.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Behind the Scenes A man may be handicapped by being born a poet, but there is no reason why he shouldn't brace up and make something of himself. The first hundred biscuits are the hardest. We would rather have been Joan of Arc than Mary Queen of Scots, because Joan got a hot steak while Mary only got a cold chop.

The old fashioned plain living and high thinking has been supplanted by fancy living and low thinking. Some historians have discovered that Nero not only fiddled while Rome burned but continued to fiddle while it was being rebuilt.

Jobber's Salesman: "Which of the two hotels in this town would you recommend?" Ticket Agent: "Some prefer the Railway Hotel, and some prefer the Bay-side, but whichever you go to, you lay awake all night wishing you'd gone to the other."

The female who kalsomines her face and paints her lips in public doesn't care a darn how idiotic it looks. Guest: "When was this chicken killed?" Walter: "We don't furnish dates with chickens, sir; only bread and butter."

The reason people pass one door, to patronize another store, is not because the busier place has better silks or gloves or lace, or cheaper prices; it largely lies in pleasant words and smiling eyes. The true trade magnet, we believe, is just the treatment folks receive.

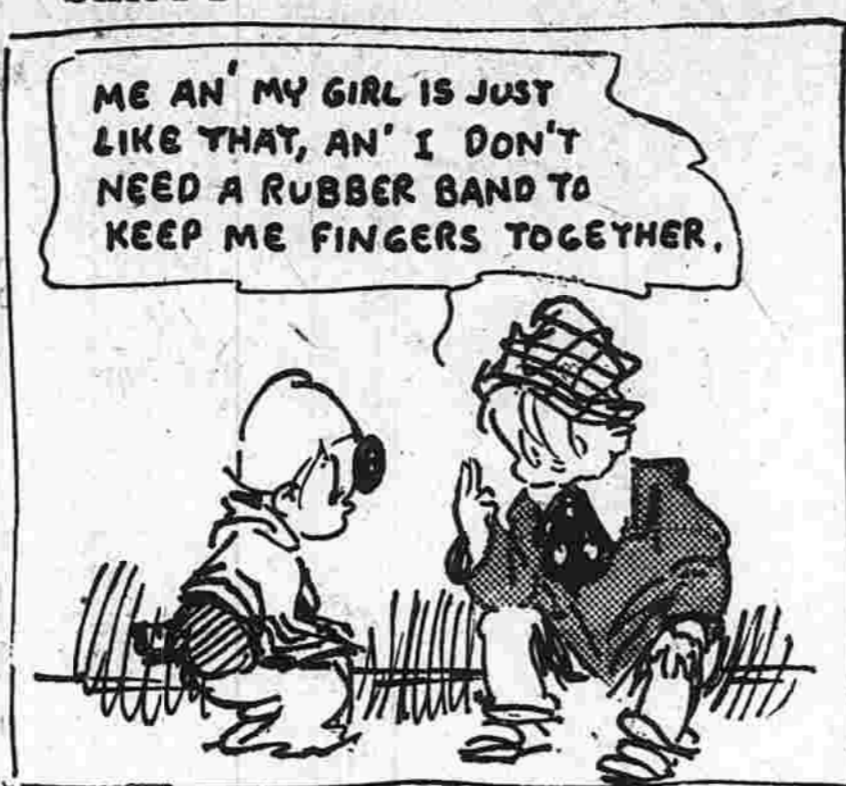

A kiss is much like a drink. The morality of it depends on how it affects you. "This storm may put the lights out. Are you afraid?" he asked. "Not if you take that cigarette out of your mouth," she replied.

"Bill, what is a quarterback?" "Quarterback? Why, it's a 25 cent refund."

Often it pays to make sure you are right and then keep still.

Street Car Conductor: "Madame, this transfer has expired." Irate Lady: "Well, you can't expect much else with the cars so poorly ventilated."

WELL, WHY DON'T YOU GET IN TOUCH WITH MY KID? HE'S A WIZ ON THAT KINDA STUFF! HE ALWAYS TINKERIN' WITH RADIOS! HE MUSTA INHERITED THAT INVENTIN' TALENT ON MY SIDE. I WAS ALWAYS THINKIN' UP SOME PATENT, UNTIL I CAME TO TH' POINT OF CAN-OPENERS AN' MOUSE-TRAPS. THEN I QUIT, 'CAUSE YOU USUALLY GO NUTTY AT THAT STAGE!

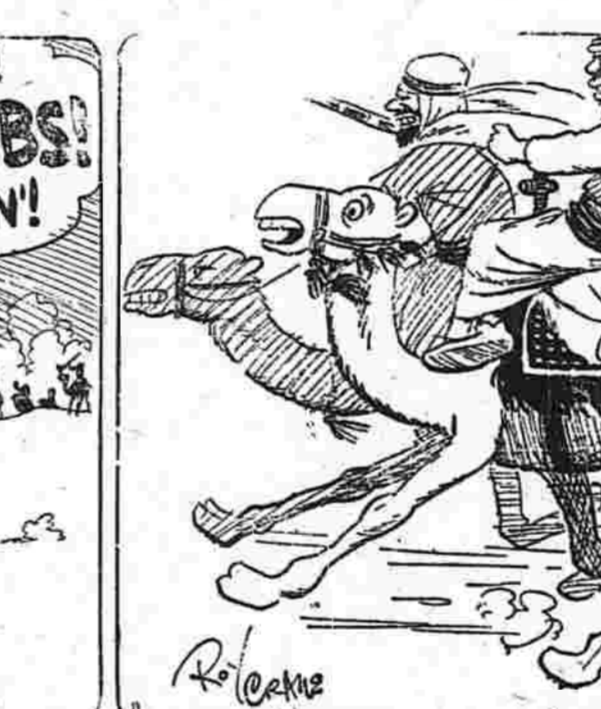

THE TNYMITES STORY BY HAL COCHRAN - PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The circus kids got quite a treat when everyone was in his seat, for Cobby staged his training act with lions, brave and bold. And then, the next thing that they knew, he did tricks with a tiger, too. At first it sat upon a box and seemed to growl and scold. "Now here, do what I tell you to," said Cobby. "I'm not scared of you." And then he cracked his little whip. The tiger calmed right down. It then stood on its big hind paws which shortly brought forth much applause. Then Cobby got a rope and made the monstrous tiger skip. A lion, nearby, roared aloud and rather scared the circus crowd. But Cobby shouted, "All is well. I'll quiet him right quick." He snapped the lion with his whip and said, "No, don't you get so flip." He made him jump right through a hoop. "Twas quite a clever trick. Then Clowey came and watched a while. And on his face there

CANNING AND BASEBALL
 Very few housewives realize that there's an analogy between the two great national games, food canning and baseball. Just the same, in either enterprise, the same rule holds—first bounds don't count; you've got to catch it on the fly—the athlete the baseball, the housewife the price of fruit or vegetable. After ball or price hits the ground and starts up again, you're out of luck.

It's easy to put off the canning till, all of a sudden, prices begin to hop. Then, of course, it's too late. Right now tomatoes are very cheap. Any day they may take a big jump. Pinehurst today is offering fancy Stone tomatoes, perfection for canning at 75 cents the basket—they are firm, hard, selected stock.

Red and green peppers are here, both the sweet and the hot kinds, and every requisite for making tomato relishes.

Yellow Elberta peaches should be in by the end of the week or the first part of next week. There's always such a tremendous demand for them that Pinehurst customers are advised to place their orders now. This year, as always, we shall price them as low as you could buy them at the orchards. The advantage is obvious.

Pinehurst quality corned beef will be ready for your order tomorrow in these excellent cuts—boneless briskets, ribs, middle ribs and shoulder clods. Perfect meat when it goes into the brine; perfect corned beef when it comes out.

There will be plenty of pork and lamb for Wednesday dinners. Tender lamb for stewing is both good and economical. There will be meaty shank bones or bare ones for soup, too. The ground veal idea is still holding good—seems to be a permanent thing, and we can offer some choice veal for stewing.

Tender sirloin steaks and pot roasts if appetite leads that way.

Pinehurst will be open all day tomorrow—no more Wednesday closing.
 Phone two thousand.

A. W. GREENE DYING
 AT HOME IN FLORIDA

Well Known Former Resident,
 Near Death Following Auto Accident.

Alvan W. Greene, who made his home at No. 323 Main street until the property was sold by him to N. B. Richards and Frank H. Anderson where the new home of the Montgomery-Ward Company is to be located, is dying in St. Petersburg, Fla., where he has been living for the past eighteen months.

Mr. Greene, well known in Manchester, went to Florida for his health after he sold his home here and has been living at the Chicago Hotel in St. Petersburg. He purchased an automobile and was enjoying himself visiting various places in Florida. Three months ago, when Dr. W. R. Tinker was in St. Petersburg, he called on Mr. Green, who at that time was in good health. Six weeks ago, however, he was in an automobile accident which resulted in his being confined to a hospital for a week suffering from nervous shock and body bruises.

Saturday morning a telegram was sent to his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Robinson here. For fear of an error in address another telegram was sent to Postmaster O. F. Toop requesting that he see that the message was delivered. The message to Mrs. Robinson conveyed the information that Mr. Greene was dying and asked that she go to Florida as soon as possible.

Mrs. Robinson, who had moved to Strickland street, was in Silver Sands for the week-end and the message was sent to her in that place. She at once returned to Manchester and Monday left for St. Petersburg. She is an only child.

There is no time like the present to start getting your skin in condition for the winter activities. The Zeronator Facials given at the Weldon Beauty Parlors will make you look and feel years younger.—Phone 107-2.—Adv.
