TOLLAND

There was a family reunion held at the Neff home last with thirty-two members of the family present. A business meeting was held and officers chosen. Mrs. Jennie Lewis Neff was chosen president and George Neff secretary. There were relatives present from Rockville, West Stafford, Hartford, Crystal Lake and Tolland.

The Tolland Democratic Caucus for the nomination of candidates for the various offices was held Monday evening. The following nominations were made: Assessor, Andrew J. Buckley; board of relief, Vornell Green; first selectman, George D. Neff; second selectman, Justin Lathrop; auditor, J. Tilden Jewett; grand jurors, Peter Johnson, Oscar A. Leonard, Justin Lathrop, James Rhodes, Frank A. Newman; school committee, Samuel Johnson; collector of taxes, Emery Clough; library director, L. Ernest Clough.

Mrs. Laura Judson has recently had a telephone installed in her home. Miss Elizabeth Green, who is teaching in Newington, Conn., spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Green of the River district, East side.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Ward of Buff Cap district have had as recent guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fowles, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. C. Watson, Miss Josephine Clancy, Miss Florence Geary, Frank Gardner and Miss Elizabeth Bennett of Hartford and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shirling and L. Long of New York.

Miss Edmee Pratt entertained at a house party about forty of her friends and neighbors Tuesday evening. A social time was spent and refreshments served.

Mrs. Zoe Beckley was taken to the Hartford Hospital Sunday afternoon from her summer home here and operated on for gall stones by Dr. Deming is reported at this writing in a comfortable condition and it is expected she may be able to return here in about two weeks.

REGINALD DENNY BACK IN FEATURE AT STATE

Famous Fight Actor Returns To Screen After Absence—Other Good Picture On Bill.

Motion picture followers all over the country are welcoming the return of the ever-popular star, Reginald Denny, to the role of a boxer in his recent Universal picture, "On Your Toes." The enthusiasm aroused over Denny's portrayals of a fighter in the "Leather Pushers" has never quite died down although the series has been released for some time.

There is no doubt, therefore, that many people will await with eager interest the opening of his latest screen hit at the State theater where it has been booked as the feature attraction on Saturday. Reginald Denny is familiar to every movie patron in the world, it is said, through his numerous screen successes, but in this newest and greatest comedy he surpasses everything that he has given film audiences in the past. "On Your Toes" is now showing over the country and is raising the high standard of entertainment set by the most successful season in the history of the motion picture industry.

Universal has selected the finest cast it could assemble to support Denny. Barbara Worth, the leading lady, is one of Hollywood's most beautiful and charming women. She is a worthy opposite for the handsome Denny. Mary Carr, the screen's "best-known mother," has a featured role. Others in the cast are such players as Hayden Stevenson, Frank Hagney, and Gertrude Howard. Fred Newmeyer wielded the megaphone.

Known for the variety of his roles and the vigor of his acting, Buck Jones, the Fox cowboy actor, is showing in one of the best pictures yet on his credit also on Saturday's program at the State Theater. It is a novel tale of the daring west called "Blood Will Tell," and it goes to prove, as the title indicates, that the finer qualities in man usually come to the surface.

GILEAD

The marriage of Miss Elvira Marchica of Buckingham to Romolo J. Saglio took place at St. Augustine's Church in South Glastonbury at nine o'clock (daylight time) Wednesday morning. The attendants were Miss Enis Aragonni of Buckingham and Harold Saglio of Providence, R. I. The bride's gown was of white lace over satin with veil. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The maid of honor wore a yellow satin gown with hat to match and carried pink roses. Reception and dinner was held at the local hall at twelve o'clock. A three course Italian dinner was served to about one hundred guests. An orchestra furnished music during the afternoon and dancing and songs were indulged in. The festivities continued through the evening, and many more guests arrived for the eight o'clock reception. After their return from a trip to Niagara Falls they will live with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Saglio. The bride received many beautiful and useful gifts including table linen, silver ware, bed linen, clocks, money, kitchen utensils etc.

A Well Child conference was held at the local church Wednesday afternoon. Dr. Haskins and Miss Lewis, nurse of the State Board of Health, examined fourteen children.

FACTS ABOUT CONNECTICUT

(175) Public Service Co. Accidents Increase

Accidents reported by the public service companies to the public utilities commission have been on the increase since the first report of the commission in 1912. During 1912 less than 2,000 accidents were reported. During ten months of the year there were 2,512 accidents, the number of persons injured totaling 2,144 and the number killed 168. During the fiscal year ending a year ago, 7,330 accidents were reported to the commission. There were less persons killed, however, than during the ten months in 1917, the number being 101. There was a greater number injured, however, the total being 6,947.

There were also 622 accidents in which motor busses were involved. Seven of these resulted in fatalities and nine in serious injuries to persons. Of the 7,330 accidents, 4,539 were reported by steam railway companies, 62 persons being killed and 4,684 being injured. Street railway companies reported 1,262 accidents, 32 persons being killed and 999 injured. Of the 440 accidents reported by electric companies, one resulted in a fatality and 398 in injuries. Gas companies reported 133 accidents, no fatalities and 139 injured. Gas and electric utility companies reported 660 accidents, six persons being killed and 673 being injured. Among the 82 accidents reported by telegraph and telephone companies there were accidents causing injuries to 83 persons. Water companies reported no fatalities among 104 accidents, but 106 injured persons. Sixty-eight accidents occurred at grade crossings, 14 persons being killed and 59 injured.

Baltimore's Handsomest Man Loses Finger In Accident; Trophy Unhurt

Baltimore.—Frederick Carl Artz will have a problem in convincing his children in later years that he was selected as "Mister Baltimore of 1928," the city's most perfect and handsome man, while he has only nine fingers.

The story of how Artz won the title and the bronze figure of a man holding a shield, is also the story of the missing finger. Both occurred at night. Bands blared "Pretty Baby" at Carlin's Amusement Park when Artz stood nervously in a bathing suit with seventy-eight other competitors. He entered the contest to "kid the fellows at his office." But when the judges scrutinized his knee caps, his adam's apple and noted his body balance and other physical "assets" he wanted to quit.

Artz said he was about to run for his locker when he was declared the winner and given the little bronze man holding a shield. He motored home to tell his folks about his victory. At a street intersection his machine collided with a safety zone and upset. Both the driver and the bronze man tumbled to the street; Artz hurt but the trophy unhurt. Man and trophy were taken to a hospital where physicians found it necessary to amputate the finger.

SCOTLAND ALSO HAS GANGSTERS.

Glasgow.—Scotland also has its gangster problems too. Police here have declared war on the "hooligans," of which it is estimated there are more than a score of different groups in the city.

Recently, authorities say, these gangs have acquired an entourage of young girls who travel with the men and encourage them in their violent behavior. Police say that since the female gangster appeared trouble has been on the increase.

CHEMISTRY WILL GOVERN FUTURE SCIENTIST SAYS

Chicago.—Characterizing chemistry as probably the foremost of the "dogs of war," Sir James Irvine, who recently arrived in Chicago from the St. Andrew's University, Scotland, to attend the American Chemical Society Institute at Northwestern University, predicted that world peace will be assured when chemistry strikes its full stride in importance of world affairs.

"From now onward," said Sir James, "the history of a nation will be read in terms of its chemical achievement rather than in the record of its battles."

The scientist pointed out that he was not speaking as an academic chemist who has spent his life closeted in a laboratory, but as one who has taken a wider view afforded by participation in government affairs.

Names Contributions
"Let me tabulate merely a few of the contributions chemistry has made to civilization in our own time," said Sir James. "Of these the first is our increasing success in avoidance of waste and I would call for attention in this connection to the large share this problem has in the current program of the institute."

"The second is that through chemistry we have an assurance that the food supply of the world can be made to keep pace with a growing population. We were getting a little ahead of nature in this matter but the chemist foresaw the difficulty and with his numerous artificial fertilizers has cleared up the situation."

"Old industries have been made new through the work of the chemist. Examples are too numerous to mention, and I select one case only, the perfection of aluminum, which is no longer a chemical museum specimen but a metal in everyday use."

"My fourth category may be summed up in the statement that chemistry has made new industries possible. In illustration I need not emphasize unduly the romance of the coal-tar industry or how from such unpromising raw material the chemist has produced the most powerful explosives, our most potent poisons, our most fragrant perfumes and our most brilliant dyes. It is sufficient to mention only two others, the production of rayon and the mastery production of so many valuable products as can now be isolated from corn."

"Chemistry gives us the foundation of the greatest of all applied sciences—Public Health. Chemistry purified the water we drink and the air we breathe."

CALIFORNIA HOP IS PLANNED BY WOMAN AT 101

Springfield, Mass. — When "Grandma" Almatia Bennet was a little girl she rode in the first steam trains. While indignant horse owners covered the eyes of their steeds and said hard things concerning the new "contraptions," the grand old lady of Chicopee was enjoying this startling new form of transportation; and the faster the train went the more she enjoyed it.

Now at the age of 101, "Grandma" points with pride to a record of four flights in the newest form of travel to develop during the century in which she has lived. Beginning in 1920, Mrs. Bennet took her first airplane flight over the city of Portland, Me. Flying proved to be such a thrill for the centenarian that since that time she has taken to the air on three other occasions and is now seriously considering a flight to California.

May Cross Country.

Her fourth adventure in the air was made when she hopped from Agawam in a Ryan monoplane, a sister ship of Lindbergh's famous "Spirit of St. Louis," and circled over Springfield and Chicopee for over one half hour.

"Grandma's" two other air outings were made, first at Portland on her birthday, September 8, 1922 and one year later when she undertook the ambitious jaunt from the Boston airport to Old Orchard, Me.

The element of fear in these trips has been entirely missing, she claims and she is eager for longer and more sustained hops.

"Why," she exclaimed after landing at Agawam following her most recent aerial venture, "a friend has invited me to fly with him to California, and I'm only too willing to go."

She had just come to rest on the field after coming back to the narrow confines of the earth with a smooth landing. The plane was piloted by John T. Rogerson, who, together with all other pilots have carried Mrs. Bennet as a passenger, claims that she is naturally "air-minded."

Young Folks In Awe.

The younger element in Springfield which believes that it will be doing extremely well to attain "Grandma's" enviable old age while clinging close to the ample and comforting bosom of Mother Earth stand frankly in awe of this smiling old lady who thinks no more of thus hopping off for California than they do of taking a dip in the Connecticut River.

They are a nervous, audacious set, on the whole, yet no one of them can face the prospect of a long flight with the equanimity of this veteran of four long flights.

"The more I fly, the better I like it, maintains the gray-haired smiling old lady, whose spirit belies her age, and she is really serious about that California hop.

ONE FOR ALL.

Bloomburg, Ga.—Pupils of Montour Township, Columbia County and Cooper Township, Montour County, will all go to one school, serving both counties, in the near future. The two counties form a rectangle, with the county line and state highway almost in the center. Where the line and highway unite, at Grovania, is where the new school will be built.

AMERICAN GIRLS ARE LIKE WINE SAY FRENCHMEN

Paris.—American girls are "charming, brilliant, keen-witted and kind. They are smart dressers and as stimulating as a good glass of champagne," according to a bachelor writing in one of the Paris dailies, but he also adds that unfortunately "too restless and dominating and make men their slaves."

The same writer places little Japanese women at the other extreme—dainty, courteous, gentle and submissive.

French women, in spite of their brilliance and charm, he finds do not make good wives for English men.

England's women are the best but apt to be too placid. Life companions, loyal and equitable.

Finding fifty cents is expensive business, according to Madame Deliquaire of Caen. Calvados, who now says she will hereafter refuse a smile unless it is accompanied by a government tax-stamp.

Madame Deliquaire was taking a little holiday in a nearby town and found a ten-franc note in the street. She delivered it to the city hall, as is the custom of honest people to be claimed by the unfortunate loser.

After a certain time had elapsed and no one came to claim the money Madame was notified to come and get it, which she did and immediately put it to good use. Very shortly afterward, she received a large official document, informing her that she must pay a fine of more than one-half the sum she received because she signed a receipt without affixing a government stamp to it. She must therefore present a brief to explain her deed and hire a lawyer for the purpose. All this for fifty cents.

Speaking of taxes, 118,837,000 francs were turned into the Government treasury last year by the 6,583,728 owners and operators of bicycles in France. Unlike Americans, French factory workers, farm laborers and other small workers have remained faithful to the old-fashioned bicycle which must be equipped with hand-brakes, lanterns and number plates. Automobiles and gasoline are still too high for many people to own them. On Sunday afternoons one sees as many, if not more bicycles on the country roads and in the fine woods on the outskirts of the city as cars.

But if the bicycle is not passing the bootblack is. Modern conditions of city life have almost eliminated the French shoe-shiners from the streets of every large city except as on moon days, when they are on the increase. There are now only one or two to be seen on the Grand Boulevard with their little boxes of brushes and polish which they must now and then pack up and run an errand, carry an urgent letter or take on a dozen other odd jobs that come their way in order to make both ends meet. Shoe-shining parlors, run on American lines in all of the large tourist offices and travelling agencies, hotels and beauty-shops, have rung the death-knell of the little Boulevard bootblack.

In something less than a quarter-century the sports department of American newspapers has developed from a column of type to four or five pages daily.

WAPPING

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith spent the week-end at her home here, after returning from a four weeks vacation spent with relatives and friends at York Beach, Maine. The funeral services for Robert F. Lane were largely attended from his late home, at 38 Grove Street of Manchester, Rev. Truman H. Woodward officiating. The burial was in the family lot at the Wapping cemetery. The bearers were from the Men's Club of Barber Hill. The many and beautiful floral pieces showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

TAMMANY HALL'S HISTORY IN BOOK

A. L. Burt and Company Publishes "The Trail of the Tiger" by Franklin.

In view of the revived interest in Tammany resulting from the presidential campaign...

The history of Tammany is racy history, even if the data be compiled from the impartial public records...

The Founder Mr. Franklin attributes the founding of Tammany Hall to William Mooney, an upholsterer...

But Mr. Franklin is at some pains to demonstrate that Tammany, in its first years, had some major difficulties...

Before Bossism That was the period before the "Bosses," and Mr. Franklin's history is most entertaining in its recital of their administrations...

Fernando Wood took up politics as a vocation when he was thirty-seven and had made a fortune in liquor traffic and its subsidiary enterprises...

That was bad enough, but worst was to follow. "Boss" Tweed, whose rotund figure is still known to the nation...

The author reproduces Tweed's own accounting of municipal expenditures which show payments of more than $5,000,000...

Tweed was unperturbed in the scandal. He said blankly, "Well, what are you going to do about it?" and it was not until he was imprisoned that he turned over his mantle to "Honest John" Kelly...

"Honest John" Kelly, a not-too-innocent person, took office as Grand Sachem and Boss of Tammany under difficulties...

had no great difficulty in amassing a fortune. Croker consolidated his position...

It was about this time that the New York Legislature decided to look into the affairs of the metropolitan government...

When Croker retired in 1902 he chose Lewis Nixon as his successor, but Nixon lasted only a matter of months...

To complete the history, Mr. Franklin discusses events of the past half dozen years as related to Tammany and quotes a contemporary newspaper headline...

Next week will mark the beginning of the annual drive for the Somanhis Events subscriptions...

Several changes have been made this year in respect to the manner of exit from assembly class...

Yesterday after the assembly, Bandmaster Harold Tunington met all boys who intend to become members of the school band...

About twenty-four stalwart young fellows comprising two football squads have been practicing faithfully this past week...

He urged pupils to concentrate in overcoming his weakness whatever it might be. Following this talk there was group singing conducted by Miss E. Marion Dordard...

No President has been chosen in the United States since the Civil War whose campaign was not sufficiently financed to take care of "current expenses."

Washington.—What will happen this year to the 5,000,000 votes polled by the LaFollette ticket in 1924?

What will the Senate Progressives, mostly supporters of the LaFollette principles, do in the present campaign? These questions furnish some what of an answer for Washington...

Industrial Strength The Washington consensus is that LaFollette's vote will be split up, with an almost equal share going to Hoover and to Smith...

Senator LaFollette's son, the present Senator from Wisconsin, is reported to be more interested in his own campaign for reelection than in the destinies either of Hoover or Smith...

Other "Insurgents" Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, now helping LaFollette in Wisconsin, is not expected to take a stand in the presidential election...

Count Karolyi is trying to get to America again. Why doesn't he try coming in as a bootlegger? It's often cheaper to move than pay parking fines.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 14, 1928. "SMITH" NEGROES. Every few days from some point in Connecticut there is sent out a propaganda story about Negro voters "organizing for Smith."

Until the time comes when Tammany politicians can point to something that they have done for the Negroes of New York city it is not likely that voters of that race will be likely to fall over each other in support of a Tammany candidate for the Presidency.

For twenty years the Southern Democrats met this provision by keeping Negroes away from the polls under threat of death and by whatever killings of Negroes became necessary in order to make the threat good.

Perhaps the one thing that is more needed than any other, for a proper understanding of this vexing grain problem, is some dependable knowledge of how much it does actually cost to raise a bushel of wheat or corn in the United States, under average conditions.

Moreover, the boards of supervisors or other officials who make voters in the South, being white and Democratic and animated by the same old fixed determination to refuse the ballot of the Negro, make a farce of testing the literacy of the occasional educated Negro who demands a hearing.

It appears that the automobile fatalities for last week in this state numbered fourteen. If that many people had been shot to death by bandits the people of Connecticut would be, by this time, in a state bordering on revolution.

It is a fair presumption that in at least nine cases out of ten automobile fatalities are the consequence of somebody's improper action. If all the laws of the state and of common sense were observed there would be no fatal motor accidents save those rare ones in which failure on the part of the vehicle itself—particularly steering gear trouble—is the responsible cause.

Next January the biennial session of the Connecticut Legislature will come in. The most serious problem it will face is a complete and drastic reform in the attitude of the government of the commonwealth toward automobile tragedies—preventable as they are in at least nine-tenths of the cases.

That crossing. Because the Manchester Board of Selectmen was unable to rise superior to sheerly legalistic considerations and take over the responsibilities of emergent leadership, the Oakland street trap is today, and promises to remain indefinitely, in precisely the same condition that it was on the day when the Wright children were sacrificed to "economy."

WHEAT COSTS. An Illinois farmer, writing to the New York Times, declares that at present prices the wheat farmers of the country face a loss of $520,000,000 on this year's crop.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER. Washington, Sept. 14.—The Senate has agreed that there is "something wrong" with our Foreign Service and it appears probable that a complete revision of the State Department's promotion system will be effected at the next session of Congress.

The consular branch of the service, which complained bitterly that it was getting a raw deal from the controlling diplomatic clique in the department, apparently is going to be vindicated.

The bill provides: 1.—Any officer who entered the Foreign Service subsequent to July 1, 1924, would serve five years as a consular officer before he could be promoted to the top grade.

2.—The present personnel board, which handles promotions, would be replaced by a special bureau under an additional special secretary of state who should not have been a Foreign Service officer for two years prior to his appointment.

3.—Annual automatic salary increases of $100 would be granted within the classified salary limits. No consul or diplomat would be promoted until he had served four years in the class to which he was admitted.

4.—The passage of this bill, of course, would represent a great victory for the dissatisfied consuls, who have claimed that young men in the diplomatic branch with "social background" have been promoted consistently over the backs of older and able men by a clique dominating the personnel board.

Other provisions, such as the reclassification, annual salary increases, the four-year clause and the "weeding out" provision are meant to cope with the present stagnation resulting from improper promotions of favored young men to top grades where they effectually block upward progress of older men still remaining in grades below.

The Rogers bill which was fathered in the Senate by Senator George Moses, does not correct injustices already inflicted. But it guards for the future. In some quarters at the State Department it is not exactly popular.

The bill, in the form of an amendment to the Rogers Foreign Service act of 1924, was introduced in both houses at the last session. It was reported out by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and passed by the upper house in May.

For leases in New York run from October to October or September to September and New York's, taken by and large, are a nomadic tribe. Such is the restlessness of the city that the dwellers yearn for new pastures and tire quickly of them.

The others keep the side-streets cluttered day and night while whole families turn out to carry bird cages, lamp shades and chairs. Kiddie-cars are pressed into service and hired men and women are piled on furniture dragging behind in the family baby buggy.

A THOUGHT

For dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return.—Gen 3:19.

Death to the Christian is the funeral of the sorrows and evils, and the resurrection of all his joys.—Aughy.

the scoldie more obstinate than ever.

In training a child, it is far more valuable to bring out the instinctive desire to excel than to say, "This is good for you," or "That is bad for you."

A boy may be indifferent to a shower of facts about health, but suppose he wants to win a mile race at the school track meet? He is willing to go into training, and will simply gulp down the facts about health. Teach him to brag about the amount of vegetables he can eat. Give him helpings that are obviously too small and let him ask for more rather than force large helpings upon him.

It is a good policy to make favorable suggestions about food when talking to some one at the table so that the child can overhear us. "Gene Tunney drinks lots of milk and that makes him a big, strong man."

Many of our dislikes for food are associated with the memory of some sickness of the stomach. I have noted severe cases of dislike for cabbage that originated with vomiting a meal that contained cabbage. It is sometimes hard to trace the origin of a dislike, but this can usually be done if one really studies the problem impartially.

One can usually overcome a dislike by mixing a small amount of the unpleasant food with a very large amount of the good food. This can sometimes be done "unknown to the person affected, and in this way the dislike will be gradually overcome. A person who dislikes many foods only makes life unpleasant for himself.

Questions and Answers. Question: C. G. H. writes: "Please tell me what to do for ulcers in the mouth. The tonics from doctors only seem to give temporary relief, and the ulcers return in only a few weeks after getting rid of them."

Answer: Chronic mouth ulcers come from a similar condition which occurs in your stomach. It is due to wrong habits of eating which produce an overacidity of the gastric juice. The ulcers may be expected to return periodically until you learn to correct the hyperacidity of your stomach.

Question: Mrs. J. L. asks: "Is it all right to eat cucumbers and ice cream at the same meal?"

Answer: Cucumbers and ice cream make a good combination, providing the cucumbers are not flavored with dressing and the ice cream is made of real cream and does not contain any starch.

Question: H. B. writes: "I have lost confidence in myself, and others also have lost control of my will-power, which causes me to have a nervous fear almost constantly. Will you tell me what causes this, and how to cure myself?"

Answer: You should seek the advice of a good psychiatrist or psychoanalyst. You can receive much help by reading good books on the subject of mind power and the power of the subconscious. The fear and the encouragement of a mental practitioner are often necessary to help you in effecting a complete cure, after you are conscious of having lost your mental control.

NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 14.—Mid-September finds Manhattan in its most fevered mood.

It is then that a vast percentage of New Yorkers pull up stakes and move. It is then that any enterprising ice man with a pushcart or wheelbarrow can retire on the interest of his bonanza times. It is then that moving vans work 24 hours a day, and even the old grocery wagon can afford to take on air.

For leases in New York run from October to October or September to September and New York's, taken by and large, are a nomadic tribe. Such is the restlessness of the city that the dwellers yearn for new pastures and tire quickly of them.

The others keep the side-streets cluttered day and night while whole families turn out to carry bird cages, lamp shades and chairs. Kiddie-cars are pressed into service and hired men and women are piled on furniture dragging behind in the family baby buggy.

Death to the Christian is the funeral of the sorrows and evils, and the resurrection of all his joys.—Aughy.

The first successful attempt to grow rubber in the United States on a self-sustaining basis, is the project of the Intercontinental Rubber Co.

And, if you please, the latest bright light signs on Broadway inform us that those places wherein you juggle with long strings of Italian corn-beef are called "Spaghetteria."

Just around the corner from the Grand Central station a shoe store keeps open all night to accommodate those out-goers and incomers who may need a new pair of kicks. To my knowledge this is the only concern of its kind to run from dark to dawn.

And while on the subject of sporting events, the boys at Sharp's Corners may be pleased to learn the scoldie more obstinate than ever.

In training a child, it is far more valuable to bring out the instinctive desire to excel than to say, "This is good for you," or "That is bad for you."

A boy may be indifferent to a shower of facts about health, but suppose he wants to win a mile race at the school track meet? He is willing to go into training, and will simply gulp down the facts about health. Teach him to brag about the amount of vegetables he can eat. Give him helpings that are obviously too small and let him ask for more rather than force large helpings upon him.

It is a good policy to make favorable suggestions about food when talking to some one at the table so that the child can overhear us. "Gene Tunney drinks lots of milk and that makes him a big, strong man."

Many of our dislikes for food are associated with the memory of some sickness of the stomach. I have noted severe cases of dislike for cabbage that originated with vomiting a meal that contained cabbage. It is sometimes hard to trace the origin of a dislike, but this can usually be done if one really studies the problem impartially.

One can usually overcome a dislike by mixing a small amount of the unpleasant food with a very large amount of the good food. This can sometimes be done "unknown to the person affected, and in this way the dislike will be gradually overcome. A person who dislikes many foods only makes life unpleasant for himself.

Questions and Answers. Question: C. G. H. writes: "Please tell me what to do for ulcers in the mouth. The tonics from doctors only seem to give temporary relief, and the ulcers return in only a few weeks after getting rid of them."

Answer: Chronic mouth ulcers come from a similar condition which occurs in your stomach. It is due to wrong habits of eating which produce an overacidity of the gastric juice. The ulcers may be expected to return periodically until you learn to correct the hyperacidity of your stomach.

GLENNEY, MASSEY GET BACK LICENSES

Vehicle Department Backs Up in Unusual Case of Tobacco Truck Drivers.

Clayton Massey and Christopher Glenney, drivers of trucks that were used in carrying workers to tobacco farms in Vernon and Ellington, who were arrested in the drive made by the state police, and whose licenses were suspended this week, are again able to drive legally.

The suspension of the licenses came as a surprise, since the charge on which they were arrested had not come to a decisive trial. They were arrested with six others and one of the drivers went to trial in Rockville police court. It was regarded as a test case and from the decision of the court an appeal was taken. The other drivers also pleaded not guilty and took an appeal and the case is now pending before the Superior Court of Tolland County.

Unusual Procedure

Under ordinary conditions there would have been no suspension of the license of the drivers while the case was pending, but for some reason the motor vehicle department sent out registered mail notices to the drivers that their licenses were suspended, the police in the town's concerned also being notified and instructed to arrest the men if they were seen driving.

The matter was brought to the attention of the lawyer who represents the tobacco men who are backing the test case, and as a result of a conference with the motor vehicle commissioner the licenses have been reinstated.

At the last session of the Legislature a bill was presented which would suspend the license of a person arrested on the charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, even though an appeal was taken, but it was defeated. The stand taken at that time that a person was innocent until proven guilty and there was no constitutional warrant for depriving a person of his livelihood which would be the case with a truck driver, until final disposition of the charges against him.

SODA FOUNTAINS LOSE, THE RESTAURANTS GAIN

The sale of ice cream and soda fountain drinks is beginning to experience the slump that comes every fall with the advent of the first snap of colder weather. "It's and ill wind that blows no one any good," and the restaurant owners report a sudden increase in receipts. During the summer light salads and sandwiches were the best sellers. Beef stews, roasts and full course meals now again come into their own. Although the patronage has not increased to any great degree at any of the restaurants, receipts have just about doubled in the last few days, proprietors say.

The main supply of rubber comes from hevea trees of the tropics.

PLAN THREE PLAYS BY TOWN PLAYERS

Local Amateurs Hope To Get Early Start; New Casting System.

The Town Players, in accordance with plans for a more extensive schedule, will hold their first meeting of the season as soon after the arrival of the new director who will replace Miss Ruth Calhoun as is convenient. It is expected that the preliminary meeting of the officers and director will be held the latter part of next week.

An early start is desired this year as the Players are particularly anxious to stage at least three productions during the season. Last year, due to the fact that they did not get under way early enough they were able to present only two productions, "Mink" and "The Haunted House" proved to be, however, the most popular attractions presented to date by the Players.

The advisability of drafting the entire personnel of the Players into somewhat the resemblance of a professional stock company will be one of the subjects to be discussed and decided on at the first meeting.

The Players, should they decide on this policy, will however maintain their amateur status as far as financial returns are concerned.

Tryouts By Groups

By dividing the players into tentative groups, as in the professional company, each player would be brought into one of the following groups that would cover the type of work they are best adapted to: Characters, heavies, juveniles, ingenues, leads and comedy. Decision would first be made as to which group the leading part in any production properly belonged. Then the players in that group would have a competitive tryout for the part. If it was found that none of the members in that group was suited to the part the role would then be open to all the players.

The Players in their productions in the past have been handicapped by the fact they were unable to secure scenery suitable for the plays they desired to present. During the coming season they will try to obtain or build their own scenery, so that each production will have a fitting setting.

The success that followed the presentation of the character drama "Mink" and of the mystery comedy drama "The Haunted House" will be a factor towards encouraging the Players to present this season one or two more productions of this type. "Lightning," "Square Crooks," "White Collars," "The Gorilla," "Spooks" are some of the feature productions of the past few seasons on Broadway that will come up for consideration.

Co-Operation

"Alias the Deacon" and "Able's Irish Rose" are two bits that there is more than a possibility of being presented under the banner of the Town Players.

The Town Players as in the past will gladly co-operate with any society or organization that desires to run a benefit, providing the proposition is not a commercial one. Those desiring the co-operation of the Players in matters of this type should communicate with Miss Edythe Schultz, president. The Players extend an invitation to all those interested in dramatics to attend the first meeting.

WHIRLWIND BY ELEANOR EARLY

"Val, you're a little crab." Tad pinched her cheek good-naturedly.

THIS HAS HAPPENED.

SYBIL THORNE, Boston society girl, concludes a whirlwind romance by marrying on shipboard in Havana Harbor, a man she has known just five days, RICHARD EUSTIS, dangerous and fascinating.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XIX "Send up some whiskey and soda," Richard ordered the operator, "and shoot it right along, please."

No one ever knows who the baby is, or where it came from. "Once Mr. Moore drove past the asylum very early in the morning, and he saw a girl with a bundle running down the street. She ran into the alcove, and he saw her undo the bundle. It was a little baby, of course. She kissed it, and he kissed it, and he said she was crying like everything. Then she put it in the basket, and pulled the rope.

"Yesterday we went on a picnic, out in the country, where the children don't wear any clothes. Today we had tea at a wonderful place where coffee is a dollar a cup. We've won money at Jai Alai, and lost it at roulette. I've bought me, you'll never get perfume for everyone, and a shawl and a comb and earrings for Val."

Richard was impossible when he was drinking. Quarrelsome, stubborn, argumentative. And stupid. His lower lip protruded. And he had a way of getting his clothes stained. There were times when Sybil hated him. Two weeks of it.

By Rommie B. Ware A good gardener finds a lot of work to do in the fall. In most sections of the country there is plenty of good weather in the fall months and we should take advantage of it and get a great deal of work done now instead of waiting for spring when there is never time to do all we want to.

BRIDGE MADE EASY by W.W. Wentworth. THE SQUEEZE PLAY—This is another method of converting a losing card into a winner. Its aim is to force your opponents to discard probable winning cards. This is typified by the following illustration in which the declarer has obtained the contract with a bid of four spades over East's bid of hearts:

West opens the heart 10 and East takes with the heart ace. On the second round east returns the spade 4. From a cursory examination the declarer observes that he can win all of the remaining tricks — a small slam — if he can compel opponents to weaken their diamond suit. This is accomplished by leading all of the remaining trumps. West and east are in a quandry as to what to discard. They are in a "tight squeeze."

YOUR CHILDREN by Olive Roberts Barton

Dorothy came in from school, her face as black as a thunder cloud. She banged the door and flung down her book, and kicked a rug out of her way. "What's wrong, dear?"

"Oh, it's Ina's mother. She's the meanest ever. She won't let Ina do a thing. We were going down to Jane's and her mother is keeping her pretty boy, that's sure. The next day Dorothy came in with another complaint. "Mother, do you think a girl ought to cut grass?"

"Well, it all depends. We always get Mr. Smith so I never thought much about it. "Would you let me cut your grass? Grass like the Holton's in that big lot of theirs?"

"No, I don't believe I should. I suppose you mean that is what Laura Holton is doing." "Yes, she is, and I think it's a shame."

"Well, her father is sick and she has no brothers and they have not much money. But it does seem a pity. Laura has to do it. It's just too bad."

The WOMAN'S DAY BY ALLENE SCOVNER

When Hollywood gave Texas Guinan one of the prettiest snubs it has ever administered to anyone by refusing to attend her welcome party, Texas spared any of the usual ladylike habits of translating a plain snub in some way that should save her pride. Tex merely blithely admitted that she gave the snubbers an even break and was the sap!

SHOOED AN EAGLE—Modern woman champions might make some to-do about the physical prowess of today's woman and cite the case of Mrs. Frank Taft who, attacked by an eagle at Lake Mohonk, N. Y., fought off the bird with an umbrella. Still, that's no so good. Our grandmothers shook off wolves and bears and much fiercer things than eagles. Name the story of the existence always of individual cases they can prove anything, and it's all just as silly as those who claim that women are good aviators as men because Amelia Earhart got across.

WEEP, CLOWN, WEEP!—The recent death of Charlie Chaplin's mother reminds one again of the beautiful devotion and tenderness of the great comedian to the woman who shared his hard days in a London music hall and even before that when her two boys fought other gamins in the London gutters for spotted tomatoes and rotten apples thrown away by the market vendors.

LONG-HAIRED BABIES—As for me, I have no liking for Thomasina Albanese, 6 weeks old, whose picture appears in the paper with enough hair for a Samson and the statement that she had owned most of this hair since the day of her birth. Personally, I like babies as bald-headed as nature meant 'em to be. Neither have I any great affection for babies born with full sets of teeth and all such nonsense. Give me byblies as byblies!

"LUCKY GIRL!"—Try this in a short story! The man at the next desk just told of the 16-year-old high school girl who cares for the baby at their house. She told them of the hope chest she had started when she was only 12, "every single thing in it," she proudly boasted, "from the five and ten cent store." But the hope chest is empty. "The family had to use the things," she finished. The girl thinks she's "just the luckiest thing" because she always seems able to find a job so that she can keep on in high school. She hasn't the slightest idea that she is a person to be pitted. The whole world is her oyster.

McDonald-Holland Tonight Finals To Be At West Side

Change Scene of Finals Tomorrow Because of Public Requests; Rain Postponed Match Last Night; Program for Finals Announced.

BIG MATCH TONIGHT.

The Macdonald-Ty Holland semi-final match was postponed last night until tonight because of rain. It will be played tonight at the East Side playgrounds starting at quarter of six. The winner meets "Cap" Bissell for the title.

It was definitely decided last night that the finals of the Herald's town championship tennis matches will be played at the West Side playground courts instead of at the Country Club as was first planned. The reason for the change is the many requests that the location of the finals be more centralized so that they will be accessible to a large number of people.

While the Country Club courts are admittedly in better condition, they are located so far away from the center of the town that many persons say they would be unable to see the finals if played there. Consequently, it has been decided by the Herald sports department to heed public request and stage the matches at the West Side courts where they were held last year.

The condition of the east court on the West Side playgrounds will be improved for the match. New sections of tape will be laid wherever necessary. The surface will be graded, watered and thoroughly rolled. No one except officials and players will be allowed inside the enclosure when the finals are being played.

The program for the finals has been arranged. The time for the matches has been set and that's the most important part so far as the public is concerned. The first match will be the finals of the women's tournament between Miss Ruth Behrens and Miss Cheney starting at 1:30 sharp. They will play the best two out of three sets.

Fay May Join New York Club

Jerry Fay, former director of the Community Club and well known local professional football player, said yesterday upon his return from New York City that he had not yet closed with any team but probably would within a few days.

Fay will probably not play with the New York Giants, for they already have signed seven high grade tackles, but he may appear in the lineup of the New York Yankees, the team Red Grange starred with last season, Fay said. The Grove City College star has also received an offer to play with the Portsmouth, Ohio team in the Western League.

RAIN KAYOES BOTH MCGRAW AND KAPLAN

The fix which the Yanks have been to the Athletics is nothing compared with what the weather man is to Matchmaker Tony Pappallo. At least that's the viewpoint of the New Haven promoter after a thunder storm resulted in the postponement of the Kaplan-McGraw bout again last night, the second time in succession and the third time in five weeks. Now the show has been put off indefinitely, one day might come the much talked about Battalino-Cohen scrap at the Velodrome. This, too, was postponed this week.

PERCY WILLIAMS BEST SPRINTER OF THE YEAR

By HENRY L. FARRELL. That kid from Canada, as he was referred to when he was working out just before the Olympic games in Amsterdam, has made it easy for those whose annual duty forces them to make a list of the super-sprinter of the year.

There may be a dispute that the two players nominated by the baseball writers as the winners of the most valuable player prizes were not the most valuable players.

Against competition from two great athletic nations that were represented by the fastest men that ever flew down 100 or 200 meters of cinder footing, the previously unknown and lightly regarded kid from Canada proved that he was no accident and that he was the fastest man in the world.

Semi-Final Round Opens At Brae Burn

Only Four Left Out of Field of 143—Perkins, Voigt, Finlay and Jones in Today's Play.

West Newton, Mass., Sept. 14.—One Englishman with the aspect of a hooker, master and the fighting punch of a stevedore; one Harvard sophomore, slightly more tenacious than the average hancall; one reformed private secretary whose golf was too good to waste upon the keys of a typewriter, and the inevitable survivor, this man Jones they are always talking about.

These gentlemen were all that was left of an original field of 143 when the semi-final round of the national amateur golf championships opened this morning with two matches scheduled for thirty-six holes each.

In the first of these, Tom Perkins, champion of Great Britain and fast coming into general recognition, as a worthy one, was to face George Voigt, the ex-athlete to wealth and social distinction. In the other, this man Jones will play Phillips Finlay, youthful and confident, dangerous. Sometimes, there is nothing quite so exalted as the confidence of a youth who is tasting the elixir of his first important victory.

Mistakes will happen, of course, and I don't wish to break my record by making one now, but still I feel sure to state that every sign points an index finger toward another victory for the automation, thus giving him four amateur titles out of the last five contested. It would round out a six-year dynasty, during which this man Jones never has known what it is to be without at least one major championship.

THIRD STRAIGHT DOUBLEHEADER VICTORY PUTS GIANTS WITHIN GAME AND HALF OF ST. LOUIS

McGrawites Have Another Twinbill Today in Hub; Benton Wins 24th; Scores, 12-2 and 7-6; Both Races Tight.

New York, Sept. 14.—With the Giants and the Cubs crowding the league leading Cardinals, the National League race today reminds old-timers of the great 1908 race when three teams roared down the finish line half a game apart.

Continuing their ferocious hitting, the Giants won the first game yesterday by a 12 to 2 score behind Benton's good pitching. They came from behind twice to grab the lead, 7 to 6. The Braves almost lost the score in the ninth.

THE ANSWER Here is the answer to the Letter Golf puzzle on the Comic page: BRASS, BRADS, BEADS, BENDS, BANDS.

HOME TEAM TOOK ITS FIRST BATS Advantage To Get First Swat At New Ball.

This is the sixth of the series on baseball games as played by the South Manchester baseball team in 1894, taken from the score books of that year and scored according to the methods of scoring then followed.

It may have been noticed that in the box scores of all games so far reported in this series of articles on old time baseball games, the visiting team is credited with the full number of put-outs that the innings called for.

There's a chap named Kenney who guards the initial sack for the House of David and he is said to be worth the price of a ticket alone.

What's more, Fay reports Strong says the House of David is also a better baseball team than the color of combination. This, too, is interesting in view of the fact that the Giants won about as ever played in their shoddy with the Community.

There is another change in the method of scoring today that was different in the old days. It may be surprising to some the numbers of assists that a pitcher gets in a game.

The games were played on Mount Nebo and if there was any chance of playing a game it was at least started. Such a game was played on June 2, 1894 between Manchester and Rockville.

Manchester went to bat first and scored two runs in the first inning on three hits, a single by Sullivan and a two base hit and a stolen base by Moynihan and Jack Cheney's single. Rockville was blanked in its half of the first, but put three runs over in the second on a two base hit by Maurice Jackson, a sacrifice by Harry Pinyan, a sacrifice by J. Douglas, a base on balls to Crooks and an infield out.

The storm was brewing. Paddy Moynihan had made a circus catch, going over the left field fence, which was a three rail fence, into another lot, and taking a fly ball. The clouds were getting darker, but the crowd stayed. Then the rain came. There was a rush to cover. The cover was in the woods to the north of the diamond, but there was no tarp, and as the game had gone but four innings, Rockville having scored another run in the fourth, the players stayed around, got good and wet before the umpires decided it was not going to stop, and called the game. It was called "no contest," but the score stood 4 to 3 in favor of Rockville.

FAILS—HIDES 5 DAYS.

Philadelphia—Emma Dorothy Harper, 16-year-old high school sophomore, "loved Duddy so much" that she couldn't tell him when she failed to pass her examinations. She hid in a box in the basement for 5 days. After losing practical all her strength for lack of food she called her father and he, noting her condition, sent her to a hospital.

"WHISKERS-NINE" IS PLAYING COMMUNITY CLUB AT WEST SIDE TONIGHT IN FINAL TWILIGHTER

Take a jaunt over to the West Side playgrounds this evening if you want to get a glimpse of something most unique in the form of baseball. The bewhiskered House of David aggregation hailing from Benton Harbor, Mich., and now barnstorming the eastern part of the United States, will make its one and only appearance in Manchester to play the Community Club.

The team from the famous House of David religious cult has been drawing immense crowds wherever it has appeared. Ten to fifteen thousand persons watch them in action in Brooklyn every Sunday. True to their religious beliefs, the House of David players allow their beards to grow and their brushes are still primitive so far as being coached on by barbers' implements is concerned.

Because of the interest in the game tonight, the box score of the Meriden game is included here for the benefit of fans who wish to study it for what it is worth.

Table with 5 columns: Player, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Lists stats for House of David players like Schoudt, Menzie, Kenney, etc.

I should get hurt? Now! Football is the meat ticket for athletes in practically every American college, so it is unusual to note from the report of the athletic council at City College of New York that the football team made enough to pay the freight for all other sports.

LOCAL FOLK SUE BAY STATE TOWN

Motorists Claim $15,000 Damage For Sturbridge Accident; Wilkes Sues.

Civil suits for a total of $15,000 have been brought against the town of Sturbridge, Mass., by Raymond E. Hagedorn of 89 Oakland street and Miss Gertrude C. Angell of 118 Glenwood St., for automobile damage and personal injuries growing out of an accident which occurred in that place two years ago.

The Manchester man and woman were riding on one of the main highways in Sturbridge when an unprotected open culvert being built across the road caused Hagedorn to lose control of the automobile, which overturned, causing both him and Miss Angell to receive severe injuries. It is understood Mr. Hagedorn suffered a permanent injury to one of his legs.

Another case of considerable interest here is civil suit which has been brought by George Wilkes of Lydellville, former waiter in the Silk City Diner on Main street, who is suing the Connecticut Company for $10,000 as the result of injuries he suffered when a Ford touring car he was driving up Main street was overturned when he lost control of the automobile after hitting a bundle of papers which had been thrown into the middle of the street by a Hartford trolley car motorman.

The former case will be tried in the Worcester County Superior Court in Massachusetts, while the latter will be heard in the Hartford Superior Court. No date has been set for either case. The Manchester persons' interest in both civil suits are being attended to by Raymond L. Carmody and William J. Shea, who are partners in the law business here.

He—"The roadster's running a little badly tonight—"

She (cynically)—"Yes! A cylinder is going to miss in a few minutes, and we are just going to stop by the bend in the river up yonder, and no, I haven't any objection to just one little kiss occasionally, but not from you, and no, I'm not interested in the I-got-it-from-a-friend—who-bought-it-back-this-summer Scotch you have on your hip, and yes, I'm sometimes a prude, and no, I don't love you a wee, wee bit, and yet, I know my eyes are attractive, and I realize you don't say that to everybody."

However, I will take one little drink and let you park for just a few minutes."

LETTER GOLF

THIS BEATS THE BAND

Today's letter golf puzzle, from BRASS to BAND, is unusual because, while they are both five-letter words, par is only four. You'll have to work to beat the band to beat the solution on another page:

B	R	A	S	S
B	A	N	D	S

THE RULES

- 1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change, COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.
- 2—You can change only one letter at a time.
- 3—You must have a complete word of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
- 4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

The minutes saved by going 70 miles an hour pale into insignificance compared to the eternity the saving frequently brings.

THE KNYMITES STORY BY NAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

"Just think," said Copsy. "Mercy me! This is the last night we will be real members of a circus. I am sorry it's all over. The tents are down. The cars are packed, and everything is nicely stacked. They will not leave till morning, so we'll sleep here just once more."

And so, down on the circus train the Tines joined their friends again. Hit to their soft beds where they spent the balance of the night they had. Somebody heard wee Copsy sigh, and saw a teardrop in his eye. He softly said, "Don't mind me, please. I'm feeling pretty bad."

And then, at midnight, they all went right to their soft beds where they spent the balance of the night in sleep. The train stood very still. Perhaps the Tines all had dreams of funny folks and fairy queens. They wondered what would be the next fine thing to bring a thrill.

When morning came some food was served. The trainer thought the bunch deserved a dandy farewell breakfast so he fixed it up himself. Right in the food car they all ate and everybody thought it great. The trainer brought down all he could from off the pantry shelf.

And then there came some sad good-byes. The Tines wiped their little eyes and said, "Don't mind our crying. It is rather hard to part." The trainer then cried, "Here that thump! You Tynimites had better jump. The train has started jerking and we're now about to start."

So all the bunch jumped to the ground and then they quickly turned around and started waving wildly. There was nothing they could say. The little train chugged a bit. The Tines stood there watching it. And then it gradually picked up speed, and slowly moved away.

(The Tines run into another thrill in the next story).
