Of late, many men, teachers, writers, officials, have had a deal of explaining to do concerning fees they have received from public utility interests, as revealed by records brought to light in a Washington investigation.

Current literature is passing through what it calls a period of "debunking." Scrupulous tales and fiction are being turned out in an overwhelming stream.

One world hero the fifth-slingers cannot touch. This great figure, who has meant more to mankind than Alexander or Caesar or Napoleon, was a many-sided pioneer and statesman.

It has been my privilege to travel over all the far-southern scenes of this great life from his birth place in Tarsus to the desert of his solitude in Arabia; from the Jerusalem of his fanatical pharisaism, to the Ephesus and Corinth and Philippi of his momentous ministry.

The Monk's Lament. Contemplation of the variety and extent of Paul's life and achievement recalls a conversation which I had one day with a friend who is Jerusalem's greatest archaeologist.

Yale Is Favored To Win Against The Army Today

Walsh Thinks Breaks Will Favor Collegians; Cadets Softened by Game Against Harvard.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 27.—One of those point-of-saturation crowds, speaking from two standpoints, numerical and internal, will invade Yale's great bowl this afternoon to watch the Army place an experimental foot upon another rung of the ladder that leads upward and forward to national acclaim. There are rungs and rungs, however, and this one is understood to be the other kind. The Army has no assurance that it will be made of the customary oak. It looks more like slippery elm.

Neither team has been beaten this year and it is more than possible that the eastern championship, at the very least, may ride with the result. The crowd will number as much as 75,000, meaning that all the empty seats in the bowl will have someone in them. Ticket speculators are said to have made many an honest dollar commit its first misdemeanor, too. Among the local courtesies extended is the privilege of purchasing a $4 for only $30.

for its injuries in the Maine, Georgia and Brown games were held to a minimum while West Point's punishment in the Harvard affair last Saturday was something to behold. They laid an Army man out like a picnic lunch on every second play at Cambridge and the word is that some of them still are, or the ponderous Sprague and O'Keefe among them. In any case, the Harvard game either softened them up or they are hard indeed.

Yale usually gets them against the Army. The latter has sent Maine a line football team into its 27 years of competition with the blue but the best it has to show for them is four victories. Yale, on the other hand, has won 17 and tied 6, since the resumption of the series in 1921. It has won four, lost one and tied two. With two teams left in the Freshet, Yale line should provide more assistance to Garvey. But, if it does, the outcome will hang on the breaks, as usual.

DOPE DARTMOUTH TO BEAT HARVARD

Green's Famed Aerial Attack is Figured to Win Today's Contest.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 27.—The big green of Dartmouth trotted onto Soldiers Field today 10 to 7 favorites over Harvard's Crimson football warriors.

Harvard hopes that the husky crimson line will overwhelm Dartmouth's lighter forwards and "shake loose" the brilliant Harvard backs, French and Guarnaccia. But the Cambridge rooters, remembering Dartmouth's crushing 30 to 6 victory last year, cannot hide their dread of the Green's famed aerial attack, a form of offense against which Harvard is weakest.

Al Marsters, the elusive Dartmouth halfback who ran wild against Harvard last year, was expected to provide the fireworks. A crowd of 55,000 persons will crowd the stadium to witness the renewal of a rivalry which dates back to 1884.

High School Linemen Made Title Possible

Yet They Received Much Less Individual Praise Than Backfield Stars; Scrimmage Screens Efforts.

SPEAKING OF FOOTBALL

To a great extent, the success of the Manchester High school football team this season has been due to the brilliant work of the heavy, but aggressive, forward line on the team. The backfield men have been getting the bulk of the credit but this is because their work is always more noticeable. The truth of the matter is that they have been even more outstanding than their backfield comrades.

Some coaches furnish their quarterbacks with a drawing of a grid-iron on which are indicated plays to be used in various parts of the field. If the ball is in dangerous territory, certain plays are specified, if the ball is in mid-field, other plays are specified, etc. This is one method of teaching the so-called "zone play" system.

REFeree PROTO GIVES ROBERTS UNDESERVED WIN OVER TUCKER

Working in splendid coordination with its backfield, the local line has opened holes which at times would admit a dumpeck. And this is what, to a large extent, has been responsible for the yardage gained by Manchester's light, but stifty, backfield. The average back can't go through a line unless some sort of an opening is made. Under the training of Coach Tom Kelley, the local line has learned a great deal about the fine points of the game and acquitted itself most commendably.

"BLOCK THAT KICK!" FANS YELLED, AND HE DID!

This remarkable action photograph shows Dick Abernathy, star end of the Vanderbilt eleven, following the orders of Vanderbilt supporters to "block that kick" during the recent Tulane-Vanderbilt game at New Orleans. Billy Banker, Tulane halfback, got his kick away nicely—but Abernathy, with body high in the air and hands reaching upward, barely managed to stop the pigskin, as you can see here. Dan McGugin, Vanderbilt coach, says Abernathy is a better end than Lynn Bomar and Hank Wakefield, former All-America stars. He sure looks good on this play.

Fans Must Choose From Attractive Sabbath Menu; All Games Look Interesting; Dope on Each.

There will be three football games in town tomorrow afternoon. All should be well worth watching.

The champion Cubs meet the New Britain Blues at Mt. Nebo. The Cloverleaves entertain the Merriicks of Springfield at Hickey's Grove. Over at the West Side, the North Ends will play a benefit game for the Armistice Day celebration with the South Ends of Meriden.

All three contests are slated to start shortly after 2:30 and competent officials will be in charge. This is believed to be the first time in the town's grid history that three teams so comparatively evenly matched, have been scheduled to play home games at the same time. Fans will have to take their choice.

The Blues won the city championship in the semi-pro ranks each of the past three seasons. They claim they have the best team in their five years of organization. They lost a 6 to 0 decision to the Meriden Falcons although getting 16 first downs against one, a last minute play turning the trick. They have beaten the Bristol West Ends, 25 to 0, Hartford Pioneers, 14 to 0, Danbury, 13 to 0 and won the city title last year from the Pawnee, 13 to 0. The Cubs will use their regular lineup. Felix Mozer will be back at end.

The Merriicks of Springfield are said to be a professional team, all of the players being under contract. According to the advance dope, they have one of the most experienced teams. Included are several former college and professional stars of considerable reputation. The Merriicks played scoreless fifs with such powerful eleven as All-Adams and Willmannet. They were defeated 6 to 0 by the Holyoke Stonewalls and 14 to 9 by All-Torrington.

Further idea as to the strength of the Merriicks may be gleaned from the fact that Torrington was only defeated 6 to 0 by the New Britain Blues, a team rated quite a bit above the Hartford Giants. True, comparative scores do not always foretell the outcome of a game, but they often give one a pretty fair size-up. Among the Merriicks players are Barla, Martin, Field, Squires, Glasgow, Ireland, Walford, S. Pradella, Pradella and Fish. No challenges are expected in the Cloverleaf's lineup.

By playing a benefit game for the local Legion post to be used defraying the Armistice Day celebration expenses, the North Ends have forced themselves into the football spotlight so far, as this week-end, at least, is concerned. The North Ends last year were junior champions of the town but today they are not so far below the caliber of the Cubs and Cloverleaves as average fans would believe. Under the coaching of Jack Dwyer, they have been climbing the local football ladder steadily.

SENSE and NONSENSE

October Who can doubt there's heaven, since October comes again? Or who denies we've Paradise today? Who would scorn Nirvana and the fields Elysian, when Autumn brings them yearly to the wearied world of men. As Nature puts her pigments into play? Go consult the tulip-tree and learn what yellow means; Ask pepperidge to show you what is red; Learn from fruited walnut how it blends its golds and greens; Find, from pungent sassafras, who glides the slopes and denies— Inquire, then come and tell me what they said! Yet to more than vision comes heaven in the fall— In perfumes, too, Elysium we attain; Motely-clad petunias breathe their fragrance from the wall; Cloying scent of sorghum sap my memory can recall— And oh, the orchard smell when there is rain! Sights and scents are heavenly and there is music, too; The rustle of our feet in fallen leaves; Jay birds jeer through atmosphere that mocks their coats of blue; Laughter notes of children when their school-room work is through— This waltz the warp of wind songs interweaves. Aye, for me is heaven when October kisses Earth— For lo, it was October brought me you! Singing through the wood you came, aglow with life and mirth— Thus for me did Autumn's richest glory have its birth Which every sweet October must renew!

Peace Reigned and All Was Wet The damsel rent her hair (fifty cents an hour.) Her husband's breath came in short pants (but none would fit the baby.) She angrily threw her voice (and it broke a dining room window), he raised his, (but not to be a soldier.) She submitted and dropped her eyes. (One shattering itself on the floor.) She kissed him and he gave her a few gentle cuffs (which were later used on her coat suit.) Ain't love phenomenal? Our plane's all right, right now, but what's to happen by and by?" "Supposin' Mister Whale gets mad. Then things would surely turn out bad. He's big enough to toss us all away up in the air. Let's all be quiet as can be. I much prefer to dodge the sea. It's funny that our small plane failed to give the whale a scare." "He didn't hear the loud ker-smack when we swooped down on his back," said Carpy, "or I'm sure that he'd have swished his tail around. I think it best that we don't peep, 'cause maybe he is sound asleep. When he wakes up perhaps he'll swim and take us to dry ground." The whale began to move a bit, and all the bunch near threw a fit. ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. John Fitzgerald of Brainard place, stricken early in the week with acute indigestion and for several hours considered in an alarming condition, has shown much improvement and today is reported out of danger. Mrs. Fitzgerald is one of Manchester's oldest residents and has many friends who will be pleased to learn of her improvement.

Fred Murphy of Cambridge street, who has been in a serious condition for the last six weeks, and who received three blood transfusions, is now reported as being in a comfortable condition.

The walk on Park street, near Main, turned up for several days, was opened for traffic for a few days this week, but the necessity of putting in the drive in the rear of the new buildings at Main and Park streets has caused it to be closed again, driving the people into the road. By Tuesday, however, the whole street may again be opened.

The members of St. Margaret's Circle, Daughters of Isabella, have been invited to attend the installation of the officers of a new circle in Hartford on Sunday. Mrs. George H. Williams, the first regent of the local circle, will be one of the installing officers, taking the position of monitor.

The annual masquerade dance will be held Halloween night, Wednesday, Oct. 31, at Jencks' Lone Oak dance hall, Pleasant Valley. Four prizes in gold will be given for the best and most comically dressed dancers. Fred Taylor is the promoter and Bill Waddell's orchestra, famed for their square dance music, will play. A special feature of the evening will be free hot dogs given to everyone attending.

Librarians Miss Jessamine M. Smith and Miss Elinor P. Childs of the South End library attended the annual fall meeting of the Connecticut Library Association at Bridgeport Thursday and Friday.

A special missionary service will be held at the Swedish Lutheran church tomorrow evening beginning at 7 o'clock. Rev. Halland, a missionary from Africa, will be the speaker. Everyone is invited to hear Rev. Halland, and the members of the Women's Missionary society of the church are urged especially to be present.

The prize winners at the whist party at the East Side Rec Friday afternoon were Miss Laura De Lude and Mrs. J. Hayden.

P. T. and W. H. Griffin of Henry street are in New Haven today for the Yale-Army game.

Director Lloyd said the reason for abolishing it is because it is too hard to conduct properly and also that it attracts an unwanted element of the roughhouse, hoodlum type. The frolic was a better success last year without the "Chamber of Horrors", Mr. Lloyd said. More attention is being paid to the social side of the Hallowe'en celebration.

NOROWICKIS, HARD UP, TAUNTED BY HUSBAND
Called on Impoverished Victim of Desertion, Taunted Her, Says the Wife.

The order that $10 a week be paid to Mrs. Annie Noworicki by her sporting husband, who was brought back from New York by the police on the charge of non support, is not meeting all the requirements of her family of two boys, both willing but too young to work, and of Mrs. Noworicki, who is not well.

Richard, the husband, is back in New York again and is said to be paying assiduous attentions to a woman who attracted his attention when she was on a visit here last summer.

According to Mrs. Noworicki, before her husband left Manchester for New York both the husband and his New York friend, called on Mrs. Noworicki and the woman said that she was getting Noworicki cheap at $10 a week.

"I have $7,000," she said, according to Mrs. Noworicki, "and I will spend all of it before I will let you have him back."

According to Mrs. Noworicki, the New York woman is employed as a waitress in a New York restaurant. She has a husband, Mrs. Noworicki asserts, but the woman was a family banker and has thrown the husband out and kept all the money.

BON AMI CLUB'S DANCE IN ROBERTSON SCHOOL
Heating Apparatus in Hollister Street School Not Ready So Change in Places is Made.

The Bon Ami club's masquerade dance, which promises to be the biggest Hallowe'en affair in town, will be held tonight at the Robertson school on North School street. The committee, after making all arrangements to hold the dance at the assembly hall of the school on Hollister street, found at the eleventh hour that the heating apparatus, which is undergoing repairs will not be in working order by this evening and they could not risk holding the affair in a cold hall. The Robertson school hall, though not so centrally situated will accommodate a large crowd and everybody attending will have just as good a time.

All Behrend's orchestra of five pieces will play and Louis Beebe will call off the old-fashioned dances. Fifteen dollars in gold will be given in prizes, five dollars to the man and woman wearing the best costume and $2.50 each to the man and woman with the most comic rig. The musicians will be the judges.

JOHNSTON-NORTON

The marriage of Miss Ruth Gertrude Norton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Norton of Wadsworth street, to John Johnston, son of Mrs. A. Johnston of Cromwell road, took place this morning at the parsonage of the South Methodist church at ten o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the pastor Rev. R. A. Colpitts. The ceremony was attended only by a few of the immediate relatives.

The bride is employed in the Aetna Life Insurance Co. office in Hartford and the groom is an assistant foreman for the Rogers Paper Co. Immediately following the ceremony the newly married couple left for a short honeymoon to be spent in Boston. The young couple will make their home in Manchester.

Rev. W. P. Reldy will be the speaker at the meeting of the Manchester Kiwanis club on Monday noon at the Hotel Sheridan. His subject will be "Hallowe'en and its Customs" and is bound to be out of the ordinary. Every Kiwanian should turn out, not only to hear Father Reldy but to try for the attendance prize which will be donated by the club's president, C. P. Quimby.

Mrs. E. A. Lettney's group, No. 2, of the Memorial Hospital auxiliary will be host to the other groups Monday afternoon, the fifth Monday in the month. The get-together will be at the School street Recreation Center. The work will be sewing and making surgical dressings for the hospital.

ANNUAL HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL AT THE REC

"Chamber of Horrors" is Abandoned This Year—Program of Games is Planned.

The annual Hallowe'en social and dance, one of the principal fall activities of the Recreation Center will be held at the School street building next Wednesday evening, October 31. Director Lewis Lloyd has announced.

McKay's Serenades will furnish music for the occasion. The big gymnasium will be appropriately decorated in fall attire with cornstalks, pumpkins and the like by Eric Crawshaw and Elmer Johnson, the two who did such a good job last year. Miss Viola LaLone is in charge of a program of games which will be played.

The "Chamber of Horrors", a special sideshow attraction which was held annually with the Hallowe'en frolic at the Rec has been abandoned. The underground tunnel

MASK SOCIAL MONDAY

Miss Edith Walsh and Beverly Wright are joint chairmen for the Hallowe'en masquerade scheduled for Monday evening at Odd Fellow's Hall. Prizes will be given for the best and the funniest costumes. Refreshments in keeping with the occasion will be served and a good time assured to all. The social is open to everybody on payment of a nominal admission fee. However, a small fine will be imposed on those who fail to mask or appear in costume. The others on the committee are the noble grand, Mrs. Frances Chambers, Mrs. Minnie Smith, Mrs. Florence Walsh, Mrs. Lillian Armstrong, Miss Evaline Pentland, Miss Emily Kisman, Herbert Stevenson, Cleon Chapman, Loyden Clark, Arthur Shorts and William Black.

VISIT THE MODEL HOME

Tomorrow is going to be a dandy time to visit the Herald-Elizabeth Park Model Home, unless our weather guessery is all off. And a visit to the Model Home is worth anybody's time.

Pinehurst filled the larder of the Model Home, you know, and isn't a bit ashamed of the looks of that pantry, either. But even if you have been to the home you have only got a sample, as it were, of what Pinehurst can do in the supply of fancy groceries right out of stock. Today we're setting up to that pantry a number of interesting items from our Sprague-Warren Co.'s Ferndale Brand Canned and Preserved Foods — the finest high-grade put-up foods to be had anywhere.

There are a lot of novelties among the lot we are sending up to the Home today — and which will be part of the pantry stock tomorrow, too many to name. But to give a general idea of the character of them we'll mention Cucumbers Rings Stuffed with Orange; Spiced Seckel Pears; Spiced Peaches, and big Stuffed Oranges that come three in a jar.

Oh, there are a lot of such things. When you go up to the Home — and you'll miss something if you don't — don't fail to give the pantry a look-see. It gives an idea of Pinehurst Quality of Good Things to Eat.

The Chances are against them

—A Business Executive making a good physician.
—A Merchant making a good architect.
—A Scientist making a good banker.
—An Inexperienced Relative making a good executor.

E DUCATION and training fits certain people for certain work. If you want to put them at a disadvantage try forcing them into strange jobs!

The duty of an executor under a will is familiar work to us because we have specialized knowledge and training in what to do and how to do it.

Come in and let us tell you some of the puzzling problems that might arise in settling any estate—yours for example.
