

TROLLEY HITS AUTO; STARTS CRASH SERIES

Love Lane Accident Finally Affects Two Other Trolleys and Autos and a Motor- man; None Badly Hurt.

Three one-man trolley cars and an automobile participated as major factors and two other automobiles and a motorman and his lunch box as minor factors in a peculiar series of accidents at the junction of Love Lane and East Center street, Twin Hills vicinity, early last evening. The succession of events resulted in the wrecking of the automobile most seriously involved and in crushing one of the trolley cars so that repairing it will be an expensive job, if any. Several Connecticut Company patrons were pretty well shaken up and one or two complained of minor injuries but neither hospitals nor nearby doctors received any of the passengers, so it was concluded that nobody was seriously injured. The motorman with the lunchbox had a narrow squeak from being badly hurt but escaped with a dent in his lunchbox.

At tragic spot. At 5:25 o'clock a Chrysler roadster belonging to John H. Mazarak of 274 Park street, Hartford, was proceeding north on Love Lane and on the point of emerging onto East Center street. It was being driven by Reginald Swift of 29 Hawthorne street, Hartford, with Mazarak riding as a passenger. Mr. Mazarak had reason to recognize the dangers of that spot, for at that very intersection his sister was killed in a collision with a trolley car in July 1925. So Swift approached the intersection with caution. There was a lot of east bound traffic and he had passed over the sharp incline on the south side of the trolley tracks and was waiting for a chance to make a left turn, toward Hartford, in safety. Suddenly, however, he realized that a west bound trolley car was approaching at high speed through kissing or contact between the patient and relatives or friends.

Dr. Henry cited the frequency of cases in his experience where one member of a family suffered an appendicitis attack shortly afterwards several other members of the same family had the disease. In the thousands of appendicitis cases he has treated, Dr. Henry said that he had invariably discerned traces of the pinworms, or oxyurias, as they are medically termed, in the early stages of the disease.

NEW SNEAK THIEF ROBBERY REPORTED

Diamond, Watch, Money Go from Strong Home on Edgerton Street.

Another daylight robbery was pulled off yesterday afternoon between 1 and 2 o'clock at the home of Milton Strong of 22 Edgerton street. A diamond ring, a gold watch, $35 in bills and numerous small articles are missing.

The thief or thieves gained entrance through the back door and belief is expressed that someone familiar with the house did the job. The house is a two-flat tenement. The Strong's live up stairs. Mrs. Louis J. Tack, who occupies the flat below, said that she heard some one moving about up stairs shortly after 1 o'clock, but thought that Mrs. Strong, who is employed by Cheney Bros., had remained away from her work to do her Christmas shopping, and was at home. Sergeant Crockett investigated. This is the second sneak-thief operation here recently. The first robbery took place 13 days ago at the home of Paul Hauschild of Middle Turnpike, at practically the same time of day, but in this case entrance was gained through a window on the back porch. Jewelry was, in both cases, the object of the theft. The Hauschild robbery is, as yet, unsolved. The localities are far removed.

Pennsy Infant Dies Victim Of Witchcraft

Lebanon, Pa., Dec. 20.—The attention of authorities today was focused anew on the "pow-wow" activities of individuals in south-central Pennsylvania when an infant, said to have been a victim of witchcraft, was found dead of malnutrition.

DOCTOR FINDS PINWORMS CAUSE OF APPENDICITIS

Revolutionary Discovery Is Made After Study of Disease for 25 Years—Can Be Prevented.

Perth Amboy, N. J., Dec. 20.—A mysterious parasite, the "pinworm," so small that an army of them could pass abreast through the eye of a needle, is responsible for appendicitis, America's most prevalent major-operation disease. This revolutionary theory, supported by practical observations and research work over a period of 25 years, was revealed to International News Service today by Dr. Frank C. Henry, eminent surgeon and authority on appendicitis.

Not only is Dr. Henry convinced that this black pinworm of bacteria is the cause of appendicitis but he believes that the affliction can be prevented, if the proper educational campaign is waged. "Not only in appendicitis caused originally by pinworms, according to my experience," said Dr. Henry, "but it is quite likely that the disease may arise shortly afterwards through kissing or contact between the patient and relatives or friends."

Dr. Henry cited the frequency of cases in his experience where one member of a family suffered an appendicitis attack shortly afterwards several other members of the same family had the disease. In the thousands of appendicitis cases he has treated, Dr. Henry said that he had invariably discerned traces of the pinworms, or oxyurias, as they are medically termed, in the early stages of the disease.

HOEVERS TO SPEND XMAS ABOARD SHIP

Anxious to Get to United States as Soon as Possible; Planning Celebration.

Aboard U. S. S. Utah, (Via Arlington Radio Station), Dec. 20.—Because it is President-elect Hoover's desire to reach United States as soon as possible, it was believed certain today that the Latin-American "good will" envoy would spend Christmas on shipboard.

BIG ICE FLOES HALT BYRD'S TRIP TO POLE

One Ship Has Returned to Port—Other Makes 28 Miles in Seven Days.

London, Dec. 20.—Heavy seas and thick ice floes are delaying the Antarctic expedition of Commander R. E. Byrd, said advices from Dunedin, N. Z., today. The steamship Eleanor Bolling has returned to Bunedin after an unsuccessful attempt to tow the supply ship City of New York further south. Heavy seas caused the two lines to break twice. The ice pack is the thickest in 13 years. The ship made only 28 miles in seven days and was docked to enable the crew to fit a new propeller. The City of New York is coaling while a whaler is attempting to push through the ice and open a path for another attempt. The Eleanor Bolling will shortly leave for the south with an airplane and other supplies.

KELLOGG PACT HELD BACK BY BIG NAVY BILL

Opponents Say They Will Start Filibuster Until the Senate Takes Its Christmas Recess Saturday.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The administration's plan to force action on the "Big Navy" bill, prior to ratification of the Kellogg anti-war treaty, today threatened to provoke a tumultuous parliamentary session in the Senate.

Parliamentary Tangle

The treaty situation presented a unique parliamentary tangle. The administration supporters, led by Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, were in favor of postponing action on it until the new year. So too, were leaders of the Irreconcilable group which is fighting its unconditional ratification. On the other hand, an insurgent-Democratic coalition opposed to enactment of the "Big Navy" bill—sought to force its immediate consideration. This coalition was led by Senators Norris (R) of Nebraska, and King (D) of Utah, both of whom favor ratification of the treaty.

Public Health Bureau Officials Said If the epidemic continues to in- crease at the rate observed since December 1, Officially reported new cases, representing less than one-fifth of the total, will number about 500,000 for the week ending December 22.

BUSINESS IN U. S. ON UPWARD TREND

Noted Financier Gives His Opinion of Conditions in Various Fields.

New York, Dec. 20.—The course of American business in 1928 has been consistently upward, with neither rooms nor recessions amounting to anything more serious than temporary readjustments, according to Lewis E. Pierson, chairman of the American Exchange Irving Trust Company, one of the largest amalgamated banks of the eastern seaboard.

STORES OPEN TONIGHT UNTIL 9 P. M.

Merchants in Manchester Will Keep Their Stores Open Tonight, Tomorrow Night, Friday, Saturday and Monday Until 9 p. m. to Accom- modate Christmas Shoppers.

London, Dec. 20.—Two series of violent explosions in the Holborn district of Central London today injured 12 persons seriously, caused two disastrous fires that imperilled 100 working girls, tied up traffic and threw hundreds into panic. The blasts were attributed by the police to leaking gas mains.

Mark Aviation's Birthplace

Back to the scene of the first successful airplane flight—the windswept sand dunes of Kitty Hawk, N. C.—came Orville Wright the other day to take part in celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of this memorable event. Part of the crowd that watched the ceremonies is pictured above, crossing the barren hills. Below are the aviation pioneer, left, and Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, at the unveiling of the tablet which now marks the birthplace of heavier-than-air flying.

Day Of Small Churches Is Over In Big Cities

New York, Dec. 20.—The day of the small church by the vast business skyscrapers that have grown up about it. He asserted that Dr. Reischer had solved the big city church problem through the proposed erection of the temple. He said skyscraper churches which would dominate the skylines are necessary, as they give religion "a material as well as a spiritual dominance."

BELIEVE THE KING IS OUT OF DANGER

Five Doctors Review the Case—Believe Ruler Will Recover.

London, Dec. 20.—Optimism over the ultimate recovery of King George gained strength this afternoon as the King gained ground. A consultation of five doctors was held at Buckingham palace beginning at 3 o'clock. Those attending were Sir Stanley Hewitt, Lord Dawson, of Penn; Sir Humphrey Rolleston, Sir E. Farquhar Buzzard and Sir Hugh Rigby.

PASSES GOOD NIGHT

London, Dec. 20.—The condition of King George continued to show slight improvement today, an official bulletin issued by the royal physicians at 11 o'clock this morning stated.

EXPLOSIONS IN LONDON INJURE DOZEN PERSONS

London, Dec. 20.—Two series of violent explosions in the Holborn district of Central London today injured 12 persons seriously, caused two disastrous fires that imperilled 100 working girls, tied up traffic and threw hundreds into panic. The blasts were attributed by the police to leaking gas mains.

PREPARED TO SETTLE DISPUTE IN BOLIVIA

AFGHANISTAN CAPITAL HELD BY THE KING

Insurgents Unable to Cap- ture City—Revolt Eager- ly Watched by Great Brit- ain and Soviet Russia.

Moscow, Dec. 20.—King Amanullah's loyal troops still hold Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, according to a radiogram direct from that city today. After an interruption of more than 24 hours wireless communication with Kabul was established by the Tashkent station at 2:50 o'clock this morning.

IMPORTANT COUNTRY

London, Dec. 20.—Important international events may result from the outcome of the revolt under way today in the isolated mountain kingdom of Afghanistan. Both England and Soviet Russia are keen rivals for the friendship of the country's strategic importance. Even before the Communists gained control in Russia the old imperial Russian government had coveted Afghanistan as a "friendly gateway to the south."

HEIRESS FLEEING LOVELESS WEDDING

Berkeley, Calif., Dec. 20.—"I won't marry him; I won't, I won't!" In these words, uttered on the Overland Limited as the train drew near Berkeley today, Miss Ruth McConnell, beautiful 26-year-old heiress of New York, shed some light upon the reason for the dramatic pursuit of her across the continent.

MILITARY PAGEANT FOR INAUGURATION

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 20.—Military pageantry will mark the inauguration on January 9 of Gov. John H. Trumbull, following precedent set many years ago when governors were inaugurated either in New Haven or Hartford. In days when New Haven possessed a state capitol, incoming governors who resided outside that town were met at East Haven by the military and escorted to the State House to be installed in office.

ONE FORLORN CHANCE TO FREE MRS. MILLER

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 20.—A forlorn chance for escape from a life sentence for a fourth prohibition law infraction was won by Mrs. Etta Miller, mother of ten and a grandmother, today. She stood mute when arraigned on technical information charging her with being a fourth offender.

WHO'LL BUILD ARMY

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 20.—The question of who shall build the state's new armory at New Haven was undecided this afternoon when the State Board of Finance and Control adjourned its meeting and decided to meet with Gov. Trumbull in his office at the Capitol later in the afternoon. Smith & Sons, of Derby, reported to be the lowest bidder for the contract, protested the award to Abadessa Brothers, of New Haven.

GIRL DROWNS SELF

New York, Dec. 20.—A broken romance, shattered by United States immigration laws, caused the suicide of Pamela Keretsky, 22, a Hungarian pianist, on board the liner Deutschland, according to word received here today by the Hamburg-American line.

ST. LOUIS SOON AIR CAPITAL OF WORLD, IS CLAIM

St. Louis—That "Lindy's" town is rapidly becoming the World's Air Capital, is the claim of local flying enthusiasts. They point out St. Louis has one airplane plant in operation, and another has been completed, and there are plans for three more.

Besides the manufacturing plants there are mail, express, and air passenger lines operated from Lambert-St. Louis flying field. In this vicinity also are a number of aviation schools.

Lambert-St. Louis field, where a few years ago, there was only an airplane hangar or two, is now the nucleus of an important industry. The Curtis-Robertson Aircraft Corporation, manufacturers of the Curtiss Robin planes, have an output of three planes a week, and by the end of the year are expected to produce three "Air Birds" a day.

Other Plants
The Curtis-Robertson factory, located at Anglum, Mo., was constructed at the cost of $150,000. The demand was so great for Robin monoplanes that an additional plant had to be erected. This plant is reported to be one of the largest ever constructed in the country. The Robin plane carries a pilot, besides two passengers.

Another plant is under construction at the flying field, that being of the Ryan-Mahoney Aircraft Corporation, the designers of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's famous plane, "The Spirit of St. Louis." An output of thirty planes a month is the goal of the Ryan-Mahoney Corporation when their plant is completed. The planes are to be of a brougham type, equipped with the 220 horsepower Wright whirlwind motors and will carry a pilot and four passengers.

The Ryan-Mahoney company now located at San Diego, Cal., will move its headquarters to St. Louis when their new plant is completed and put in operation, it is understood.

Plan New Airport
On the East Side of St. Louis, at East St. Louis, another organization has formed for the manufacture of cabin monoplanes. The organization is headed by the Parks Aircraft Corporation.

According to an announcement released by Oliver L. Parks, vice-president and general manager, of the Parks Aircraft Corporation, the factory will employ hundreds of persons. Construction plans are under way on the proposed $175,000 manufacturing plant at the Parks Airport. An output of 2,400 planes annually is expected. The Parks plane will be a four passenger, high wing monoplane.

East St. Louis has acquired 570 acres of land, for their commercial airport. The field is expected to be completed by the spring of 1930. It is to have four runways, one of which will be 7,900 feet in length, two others each 5,000 feet long, and another 4,000 feet long. Each runway will be 400 feet wide.

LORD ENNISMORE DROPS TITLE; IS PLAIN MR. HARE

London.—Because he believes he has been undeservedly treated as a man of distinction, Viscount Ennismore, undergraduate of Magdalene College, Oxford, and son and heir of the Earl of Listowel, has thrown his title to the winds and announced himself to the world as plain "Mr. W. F. Hare."

His step was taken in revolt against the "servility" which he has found the mention of his title evokes.

"For four years," he declared, "I have been using a courtesy title. I feel I have been carrying about with me a lie. It placed me at an unfair advantage, because I have been treated as a man of distinction."

Viscount Ennismore, or rather, Hare, has attained considerable notice at Oxford because of his debating abilities. He is keenly interested in social and sociological problems, and supports certain tenets of the Labor Party in this country, although he denies he has any intention of affiliating himself with that organization in a political way.

"There is servility given to a man of title to which I object," Ennismore said to International News Service during an interview in his rooms at Magdalene College. "If one is nothing but a plain man one's conscience is clear. Anybody who likes to address me as Lord Ennismore is at liberty to do so. I prefer to be addressed as Mr. Hare."

"In my view the man given a courtesy title is in a very different position from the man who, as a Peer of the Realm, receives the King's summons to Parliament. He can drop his courtesy title, but a Peer of the Realm cannot legally do so.

"I have always looked upon titles as an artificial distinction between people. The real distinction between men are distinctions of character or intelligence. These distinctions are independent of social lines.

Dikes Politics.
"My decision has nothing to do with politics. I have no intention of taking up a political career. I am not a member of the Labor Party."

Lord Ennismore was asked whether he would use his hereditary title of Earl of Listowel when the time came.

"My father," he replied, "is Baron Hare in the peerage of the United Kingdom, and, as such, he is summoned to Parliament. I trust my father has many years to live, so I am not troubled to come to the House of Lords."

Ennismore, who is 22, is studying for a degree as doctor of philosophy. His decision to drop his title has aroused country-wide discussion. Many condemned his action, while others censure it.

Deer hunters killed an Angora by mistake up in Massachusetts. They seem to have made quite a success of getting the farmer's goat.

PARIS BEAUTY PARLOR SUED BY CUSTOMER WHO ACQUIRED DOUBLE CHIN.

Paris.—Mme. Nikola Milobenzka demands $6,000 from a Parisian beauty parlor, alleging that its surgeon relieved her of a superfluous chin but inflicted a hideous scar, leaving her throat uglier than it was before.

The beauty parlor replied that Mme. Milobenzka submitted to but one operation whereas two are necessary to draw the skin back in such a way that the surgical knife leaves no trace of its work.

Mme. Milobenzka declines to expose her chin to another beauty expert and persists in her suit.

WAPPING

The annual business meeting of the members of the First Congregational church of South Windsor was held at Wolcott chapel, last Thursday evening and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Harold M. Newberry; clerk, Fannie M. Bidwell; investment committee, Robert A. Boardman; finance committee, Olive A. Jones; real estate, Elmer R. Stoughton; church committee, Anna R. Burnham, Nellie Burnham, Kathryn L. King and Elmer R. Stoughton; auditor, Arthur D. Smith; Sunday school superintendent, Rev. William W. Malcolm; assistant treasurer, Elizabeth A. Parker.

A unanimous vote was carried to extend an invitation to Rev. William W. Malcolm to continue as pastor for another year. Mr. Malcolm accepted. It was also voted to set aside from the church fund $200 of which $100 is to be given to the Storrs building fund and $100 to be added to the missionary contributions making a total of $410 for the year of 1928 for missions.

Evergreen Lodge of Masons A. F. and A. M. No. 114, observed Past Masters' night at their Temple last Monday evening. The teachers of the Parent-Teachers' Association gave a public whist and bridge party at the Center school hall last Tuesday evening. There were twelve tables. Mrs. Wilbur C. Hills received the first prize in bridge and Mr. Danaher the first prize and Mrs. Gertrude Simpson first in whist.

Anthony Matolis, of Rye street, raised a crop of 3,200 bushels of the finest potatoes this last season. Every Saturday evening there is an old-fashioned dance held at the Covell farm at Rye street. Every one is invited to a good old-fashioned dance. The Friendly Indians will meet this Thursday evening at their Y. M. C. A. clubroom, under their new leader, Homer Lane, Sr., of Pleasant Valley. Miss Sylvia Hayes has returned to her home in Pleasant Valley from the Hartford hospital where she underwent a tonsil operation recently.

NEW ANTI-THEFT DEVICE PREVENTS AUTO STEALING

Chicago.—A new anti-theft device providing for setting the license plates of a car in a horizontal position when the car is parked and locked has been invented by a German automotive engineer, according to the Chicago Motor Club. The device is operated by a key in a spring controlling the vertical and horizontal positions of the plates. The theory is that if a thief should succeed in driving the car, the horizontal position of the plates would indicate that the car was stolen.

Imagine the surprise—

— that this card will bring to the one who receives it on Christmas day! It's more than a greeting card, for it carries the announcement of a gift to come. And such an unusual gift! One that will be heartily welcomed, and used throughout the year. An extension telephone!

You don't need to "shop around"

Just place your order for the extension telephone at our Business Office. Pay the connection and service charges; you will receive a handsome colored greeting card to give to mother, father, wife, or husband at the family Christmas celebration. The extension telephone will be installed during the holiday week.

There's surely someone on your list who needs an extension telephone. Probably mother — or wife — could save time and steps if there were one in the upstairs hall, or in the kitchen. Father — or husband — would welcome one in the den. And the cost is so small — the convenience so great!

A daily reminder of your thoughtfulness and good wishes at a cost less than $10 for the entire year.

By ALLENE SUMNER

Washington, Dec. 20.—Announcement that Florence Trumbull will NOT be a White House bride has stiffened the marcelets and brought out the fingernail polish of this city's blooded ladies who run "Social Bureaus."

For these pilots of society have been insisting ever since the rumor of a Trumbull-Coolidge White House wedding started that it simply could not be; that such a precedent of bad form never would be established by a daughter of a governor, nor by the son of a Coolidge. Day after day the society bureau dames called the newspapers to insist that this harping upon a White House wedding simply showed that they didn't know what was proper and befitting, and that they owed it to the populace to remind it again that "the groom always weds his bride in her own home, no matter how humble."

Mrs. Rose Gouverneur Hoes, who runs one of the city's most exclusive social bureaus, who has attended three White House weddings herself, and whose grandmother, Maria Monroe, youngest daughter of President James Monroe, was a White House bride, is very relieved by the announcement from the Connecticut House of Trumbull. "I felt right along that it simply could not be," she said. "I wondered what would happen if wedding etiquette in general if such a precedent were started. The rule would crash in toto. It would be impossible to expect girls of lesser rank to be married in their own homes if the so-called 'Crown Princess' of the nation rushed off to be married in her fiance's home simply because he lived in a bigger and more famous home than her own."

Mrs. Hoes recalls that she "never could quite accept the Frances Polson-Grover Cleveland wedding." "That is the only White House wedding of a bride who was not, at least, related in some way to the White House master or mistress," she reminds those who point out that there have been other White House weddings for brides whose home was not the White House.

She points out that Miss Todd, who was married in the White House, was a niece of Mrs. James Madison. Elizabeth Tyler, Nellie Grant, Maria Monroe, Alice Roosevelt, Jessie and Eleanor Wilson, were daughters of presidents. Alice Wilson was a niece of the president; Miss Johnson, who married John Quincy Adams, Jr., was a niece of President Jackson, and another bride, Miss Emily Platt, was a niece of President Hayes.

Leaving Frances Polson the only White House bride who really defied etiquette by marrying in her fiance's home. And the social bureau dames believe it would have been better if the other brides, even if related to the White House tenants, had put Good Form before the opportunity to have their grandchildren tell how grandma was a White House bride.

"If Miss Trumbull had lived

FACTS ABOUT CONNECTICUT

Compiled by the CONNECTICUT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

(211) CONNECTICUT'S ART

Connecticut the pioneer in the original art of America, has been the home of more artists of acknowledged skill than almost any other state. The first academic art school in the country was established in this state. Many painters of national reputation are attracted by Connecticut's natural beauty.

Among the early painters are found such names as John Smybert, whose pictures were an inspiration to the colony; Joseph Steward, a noted portrait painter; Copley, the greatest of the Colonial painters; Ralph Earl, well-known portrait painter and John Trumbull whose portraits are valuable because of his personal knowledge of famous statesmen.

The earliest American sculptor was Hezekiah Augur, born in New Haven in 1791, whose marble statuettes are now in the Trumbull Gallery at Yale College. Seth Cheney, born in South Manchester in 1810, was recognized as one of the greatest American artists in the list of Connecticut artists than that of Frederick E. Church. Chauncey B. Ives, born in 1812, did the statues of Governor Jonathan Trumbull and Roger Sherman for the Washington monument.

Among the architects, David Hoadley, designer and builder of the United Church, New Haven, has a high standing. Ithiel Town was also in the front rank of American designers. In many of the old-Connecticut towns there are fine examples of colonial architecture.

The Yale Art School and the Wadsworth Atheneum in Hartford are vital sources of artistic culture. The Morgan Memorial is one of the most beautiful buildings in New England. There is a widespread attention to art in the public, private and evening schools.

During the period of the Cleveland wedding and could remember the wave of criticism which swept the country at the spectacle of a beautiful young girl rushing to her fiance's home to be married, she would only rejoice in the perfect decision she has made," said Mrs. Hoes.

WILHELM BANS SALE OF PAINTINGS HELD BY HOHENZOLLERN

Doorn, Holland—Kaiser Wilhelm, head of the Hohenzollern family, has issued a decree forbidding the further sale of paintings in possession of members of the family.

If, however, for some reason such paintings must be sold, they are to be offered to German museums first to save them from foreign purchasers.

This has been revealed by Wilhelm von Bode, senior director of the German museums. Bode wrote to the former Kaiser protesting against the "squandering" of valuable paintings abroad by members of the Hohenzollern family. The former Kaiser thanked him for the letter, Bode said, and immediately issued the above order.

According to Bode, almost all of the tremendous art values which were in possession of former ruling German princes has been lost. Most of it has been sold abroad, principally, it is supposed to America.

Only the former Grand Duke of Hesse and the former Bavarian Crown Prince Rupprecht have retained a part of the valuable collection of paintings which their dynasties possessed.

"The former royal castles contain about 12,000 paintings," Bode told the German press. "Of these,

IN NEW YORK

New York, Dec. 20.—The mention of Christmas on Broadway is likely to be rewarded by a mirthless laugh.

"Yeah, Crismus," says the variety actor. "Yeah, five shows a day and a sandwich handed yah between acts. More work and no more dough."

Or a special Christmas matinee if you're "in legitimate."

In the Broadway show racket there is no Santa Claus. There is practically no Christmas. Crowds are out celebrating, craving to be entertained. For the box office it's a big day, as all holidays are big days. Theaters try to crowd a limited number of performances into a limited number of hours.

And when the show girls and the show boys have time to sit back and think, it's to wonder what the folks back home are doing; to wonder about the brothers and sisters and fathers and mothers; to wonder about a wife whose "out with an act" or a husband "who's playing St. Paul this week." It's a time when lonely show girls—if any—wonder what they are doing in New York.

There are a number of good samaritans in New York who try to put on a fine Christmas spread for the young ladies of the chorus. One woman invites some 20 girls each year, but oftentimes they're too tired to attend—what with the extra matinee.

A certain philanthropic soul who knew little about the prevalence of stage mothers took it for granted that most show girls are "alone in the big city" and issued a blanket invitation to some 40 girls. A lavish feast was spread, but only about 10 appeared.

The others all had mothers waiting for them at home.

"Though the world knows they'd like to get away from 'em for a couple of hours," one guest remarked.

During the holiday season Manhattan hotels try to appear at their "hottest."

They know full well that the major part of the population is made up of youngsters and oldsters from all parts of the nation. They issue notices informing all and sundry that "there will be special home cooking," or there will be some special dish "like mother used to make." Or some effort will be made "to reflect the home atmosphere."

Well, maybe—but just try to crowd a little home atmosphere into four walls and a brass bed, with a pathetic little green wreath hanging from one of the three windows. Or into a crowded dining-room, where 80 per cent of those present are either strangers or people you don't give a darn about!

At that, Manhattan really tries. In the railway stations, where the strangers come and go, elaborate Christmas trees adorn the waiting rooms. The trees glisten with Yule adornments and colored lights blaze from the branches. But I've noticed that those who haunt these public rooms and look most wistfully upon the trees are the "floaters" in from the street—wanderers, bums and youngsters with no place to go. And all sitting hour by hour upon the benches with that far-away look in their eyes.

In Times Square appears the largest and brightest tree of all.

Here the gamins of the street get their Christmas cheer. When the winds whirl up the street and the snow slaps in the thousands of faces, you'll see hundreds of urchins who come from heaven-knows-where gathered around the magic stand upon which is propped a towering pine from the Vermont hills.

They stand singly and in groups, their torn shoes sopping up the sleety wet—they stand until the crush of traffic forces them along.

GILBERT SWAN.

GUARD AGAINST THE "FLU"

Keep Your Medicine Cabinet

STOCKED UP

IT IS YOUR FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE.

PREPARE FOR SICKNESS.

It is certainly most essential that you keep a supply of preventatives for colds and the "flu" on hand at such a time as this.

The More Important Ones Include:

MINER'S PHARMACY

The United States Department of Health is fighting it step by step but it is advancing fast. They are asking your co-operation to check it--to be careful with colds.

Your druggist can help you prevent having it. If you do have a cold call in your physician. His prescriptions will be filled carefully by these druggists.

History Repeats In "Flu" Epidemic

This is the first of a series of timely articles on the nature and care of influenza, which has broken out seriously recently in many cities. In this first article Dr. Morris Fishbein, eminent authority, traces the history of the disease and the present epidemic. Succeeding articles will treat specifically with the treatment and cure of the disease.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN.

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

Various epidemics of diseases affecting the nose, throat and lungs have been recorded under the name of influenza.

One outbreak was fully described as occurring in France in 1769, another occurring as far back as 1737.

Since the great epidemic of 1918, investigators have been attempting to ascertain whether that was similar in character to the one which occurred in 1847 and the one that took place in 1889. It has now been generally agreed that the condition was essentially the same and that such attacks occur in cycles of approximately thirty years.

Symptoms. In epidemic influenza the person is suddenly seized with mild fever, headache, pain in the back and in the legs. There is a running at the nose and a remarkable degree of prostration out of proportion to the severity of the symptoms.

There is also a multiple liability to secondary bronchitis and pneumonia. There seems to have been much more pneumonia in 1918 than in the epidemics of 1889 and 1890.

Dr. E. O. Jordan in his survey of influenza epidemics which have swept the world considers particularly those of 1802-1803, 1805-1806, 1830-1832, 1836-1837, 1847-1848, 1889-1890. Some 50 to 50 per cent. of the population were attacked in all of these epidemics, and there always were relatively few deaths.

Thus history is now repeating itself in that a severe epidemic of influenza in 1918 is being followed at fairly frequent intervals by mild epidemics which seem to build toward a severe epidemic about 1950.

Little Relation to Weather. Epidemic influenza in contrast to epidemics of colds shows a remarkable lack of relationship to weather conditions. When it begins it sweeps the world from the tropics to the north and south poles.

The pandemics of 1889 and 1890 and of 1918 were promptly followed by recurrences of what appeared to be the same disease in intervals varying from a few weeks to months and a year or more.

Unfortunately the symptoms of epidemic influenza resemble so closely those of the common cold and infectious diseases of the breathing tract generally, that confusion exists in many reports. Indeed Mrs. Carlyle, wife of the great philosopher, thus carefully recorded all her ailments in her diary: "Medical men all over the world have entered into a tacit agreement to call all sorts of ailments people are liable to have in cold weather, by the same name, so that one sort of treatment may serve for all, and their practice be greatly simplified."

The word grip is used as indiscriminately as is, of course, influenza.

The present epidemic of influenza seems to have begun on the west coast and to have spread eastward over the rest of the United States, so that by the middle of December the entire country was involved.

Cases began to be reported from the Pacific Coast early in September and in the early part of November there were 4,800 cases in the entire country. These reports must not be taken too seriously, since thousands of cases are not reported.

The U. S. S. Idaho had an outbreak of influenza among its crew while lying in San Francisco from April 10 to April 18, 1928, and it was the belief of the ship's officers that the men had acquired the disease while ashore on liberty parties.

In September, Doctors E. F. Hirsch and E. R. LeCount of Chicago reported a post-mortem examination made on a man who had died in the hospital, and the fact that they had found his lungs to resemble the typical condition found in persons dying of influenza in 1918. They said at the time of their report that this might be a forerunner of a serious outbreak involving the entire country.

When epidemics of influenza sweep communities they are likely to attack a definite portion of persons who are apparently without resistance to the disease. In schools, asylums and other places in which any considerable number of persons live there are usually a certain definite proportion attacked.

TOMORROW: Course of the Disease.

ADVOCATES ELECTION OF WOMEN TO LEGISLATURES TO PASS BETTER LAWS

Austin, Texas—Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, believes that the way to improve the general ability of legislatures is to elect women. She points out the growing disinclination of mature and experienced business men and attorneys to serve, and the tendency to elect students.

Three women will sit in the next Texas legislature. They are: Miss Marie Neal, of Carthage, state senator; Mrs. Helen Moore, Texas city, representative; Mrs. Laura Burleson Negley, San Antonio representative.

Besides Mrs. McCallum, other Texas women officials include Mrs. E. Shea Stanford, member of the State Industrial Accident Board; Mrs. Ethel Hilton Johnson, assistant secretary of education, and Miss Fannie Wilcox, state librarian.

Flu-Grip

Checked at the start

RUB your chest with Vicks before your little cold gets BIG.

Vicks acts two ways at once to check the cold and prevent complications:

(1) It is vaporized by the heat of the body and inhaled for hours direct to the inflamed air-passages;

(2) It acts through the skin like an old-fashioned poultice, "drawing out" the tightness and pain.

To Prevent the 'Flu'

To the general instructions contained in the various health bulletins and broadcast information, may this the oldest pharmacy, in continuous operation in Manchester, add our bit of helpful instruction.

Our first advice, now, as for the past sixty years, is "CONSULT YOUR DOCTOR FIRST."

Our second advice is LET US FILL YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS, accurately as the Doctor has prescribed.

But, the "Flu" and many other of the winter ailments, may be in a great degree prevented or lessened, if the ordinary precautions of a few First Aid Remedies are kept in constant supply in the home.

Our experience in the last "Flu" epidemic taught us the following dependable remedies are both PREVENTATIVE and CURATIVE.

San Tox Pine Balsam

A sure relief for all cough and throat infections.

San Tox Elixir Tonsillitis

The time tried formula which no one has yet improved upon of Glycerite of Iron and Chlorate of Potash in a balanced formula.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Folks who exchanged greetings are now exchanging presents.

SENSE and NONSENSE

They Don't Call It a Bath Doctor: "Sambo, I can think of but one thing that will cure you and that is an electric bath." Sambo: "Now, sur, doctor, yo' ain't talkin' to dis here nigger. I had a frien' what took one of them things down in Sigs Sing an' it drowned him!"

After vainly trying to collect $40.00 due him from one of his customers the colored man consulted a lawyer. "What reason," his lawyer asked, "does he give for not paying you this money?"

"Boss," said the colored gentleman anxiously, "he's gimme a mighty good reason, sah." "Well, what is it?" "He done say, Boss, dat he's been owin' me dat money so long dat de interest has et it all up."

Rastus John was testifying in a murder trial. Lawyer: "You say Mr. Anderson walked into the barber shop, and, without a word, shot Mr. Rathburg?"

Rastus: "Yes, sah, Bang, bang! Jest lak dat." Lawyer: "Rastus, where were you when the first shot was fired?"

Rastus: "Shinin' Marse Rathburg's shoes." Lawyer: "And when the second shot was fired?"

Rastus: "Ovah across the railroad undah a pill o' cross ties." When Robert Halliday returned to "The Desert Song" recently his negro dresser, Elmer, cornered him and asked if he hadn't forgotten something.

"I don't think so," replied Mr. Halliday. "Why, yo' said yo' goin' ter bring me a bottle ob gin." "I didn't forget it, Elmer. I sent it to you in care of the door-keeper."

"Golly, Mister Bob," groaned Elmer. "Yo' might jest as well sent me a cabbage leaf in care of a rabbit."

Two colored boys were making their get-away after helping themselves at a farmer's hen-house. "Whatcha spose dem files is arollerin' us so close foh?" gasped Moses.

"Keep on gallopin', niggah," grunted his companion. "Dem ain't files—dey's buckshot." A motorist, meeting a negro trudging along the dusty road, generously offered him a lift.

"No, thank you, sah," said the old man. "Ah reckon mah old laigs will take me 'long fast enough." "Aren't afraid are you, uncle? Have you ever been in an automobile?"

"Nevah, but once, sah, and den ah didn't let all mah weight down." Colored Tramp: "Lady, ef yo' all could jes gib me a pair of shoes."

Housewife: "I don't know. . . . Are those you have on pretty bad?" Colored Tramp: "Bad? Why, lady, the bases ob these yere shoes is so thin that Ah can step on a dime and tell whethah it am head or tail."

LETTER GOLF

CHRISTMAS TOYS

Here's an easy way to get TOYS for the Baby without waiting for Santa Claus. Par is six and one solution is on another page.

Letter Golf grid with letters B, A, B, Y and T, O, Y, S.

THE RULES

- 1-The idea of Letter Golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.

- 2-You change only one letter at a time.
- 3-You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
- 4-The order of letters cannot be changed.

"Mah beddren," shouted Parson Brown. "You want' be ready to jump when yo' heahs Gabriel blow dat horn." "Fo' goodness sake!" murmured Brother Simpson. "Am he a'comin' in a automobile?"

THE TINYMITES

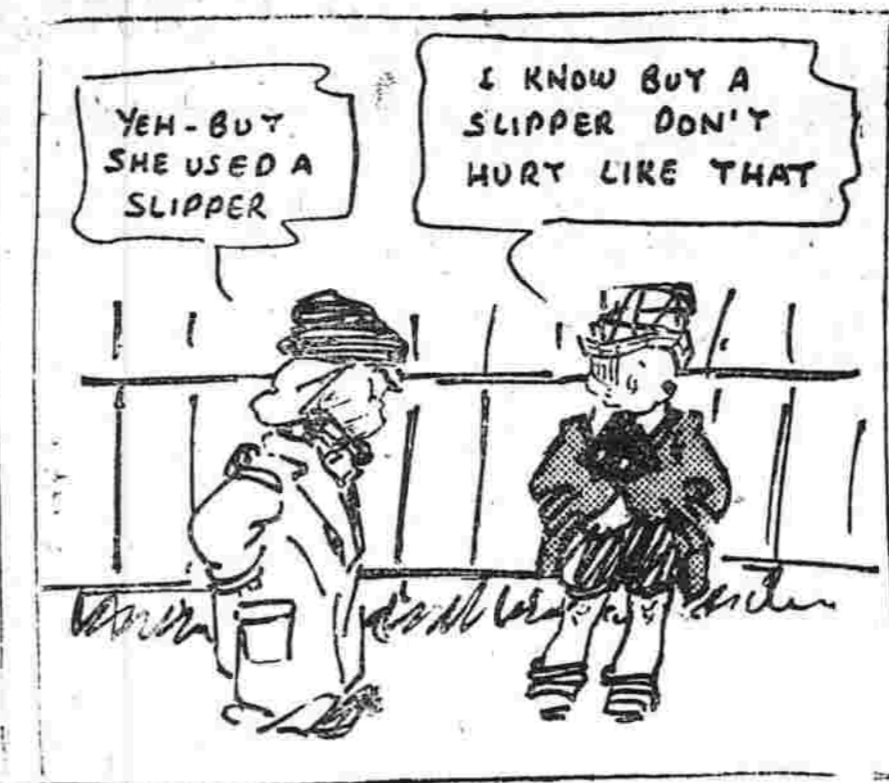

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The winding up of toys galore to make them run across the floor was heaps of fun. The Tinymites were busy as could be. "Just look," cried Copsy. "I have found a cart that runs, and whirrs around. I wound it up real tight, and then it started chasing me." Soon Santa came along and said, "Come now, it's time to go to bed. You've tried out all the toys in here. It seems they're quite all right." They followed him with not a peep, crawled into bed and went to sleep. They were so tired they didn't hear Old Santa say, "Good night." Then, morning came and up they jumped, and how their hearts just thumped and thumped as Santa told them, "Now we'll see how Christmas bulbs are made. They're things folks hang upon a tree. You might help make these things, but gee, you folks are rather tiny, and I'm just a bit afraid." A dwarf was found, not far away. He shouted loud, "Come, Tinymites do it, the next stov."

ABOUT TOWN

Miss Leota Colpitts, teacher of science in the Knox school at Cooperstown, N. Y., returned home yesterday to spend the Christmas vacation with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Robert A. Colpitts of Spruce street.

The regular meeting of the Cosmopolitan club will be held at the home of Mrs. D. C. Y. Moore, 63 Benton street tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Vere W. Abbey will give the address of the afternoon and his subject will be "Burmah." Tea will be served.

Miss Marjorie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Smith and a junior at Wellesley college, has arrived home for the holidays.

A special rehearsal of the Junior choir of St. Mary's Episcopal church will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. F. J. Bendall of Chestnut street who recently suffered a siege of pneumonia, is now making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

The Men's club of Second Congregational church will hold its monthly meeting at the church tomorrow evening at 8:30. The supper will be followed by a period of chorus singing of favorite songs and carols, story telling and other pastimes. No out of town speaker has been engaged, according to Herbert L. Tenney, chairman of the committee.

Rev. Edward Ellis, well known lecturer, will give one of his inspirational addresses at Second Congregational church, Sunday evening, December 30 on "The Brotherhood of Believers."

The Y and U club instead of playing whist as usual, enjoyed a Christmas party last evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Charles McCarthy of North Elm street. An illuminated and prettily decorated tree was the center of attention. The hostess served a dainty lunch and each one present received a gift from the grab-bag.

Lester Hohenthal of Ridgewood street is now confined to his home with an attack of influenza. Mrs. Hohenthal who was taken ill with the same disease just after Thanksgiving is able to be around the house but has not yet been out of doors.

Helen Davidson Lodge, Daughters of Scotia will begin its regular meeting tomorrow evening in Tinker hall at 7:45. A Christmas party will follow in charge of the social committee headed by Mrs. Selma Samerville. The daughters are reminded to provide an inexpensive gift.

The regular Friday class meeting of the Church of the Nazarene will be held tomorrow evening at the church.

Paul I. Carlson, of 54 Hamlin street, a bookkeeper for the Manchester Construction Company, has sold his insurance business to Arthur A. Knofo. Mr. Carlson will continue to solicit insurance as a broker in the office of Mr. Knofo. The Knofo agency has been conducted here for seven years.

Shoes That Fit Like Made-to-Measure

HAVE you ever worn made-to-measure shoes? How beautifully they fitted! But how expensive!

Wilbur Coon Shoes give that same fit because they have Special Measurements. Your size will be what the custom boot-maker would specify.

PHONES Pinehurst "GOOD THINGS TO EAT" SALT WATER CUCUMBERS. Do we hear you jeer at the above caption? Ain't no such animal? Well, maybe you're right. But here's the idea: There are a great many people, who have no fish palate at all—don't care for fish—who, nevertheless will eat fried smelts, when they can get them right till they can't see. That's because the smelt, in some ways, is not in the least like any other fish in the world. To illustrate—you open a basket of freshly caught smelts, if you ever have the luck to be where such a thing is, and the odor that comes from them hasn't even a suggestion of the usual fishy character—they smell exactly like a whole lot of freshly gathered and freshly cut up cucumbers; to almost everybody one of the most delightful perfumes on earth. And the flavor of the little fish is just as wonderful—when they are right. The trouble is that they are never right unless they are had in one of two conditions, either absolutely fresh from the water, or frozen hard as soon as caught and kept frozen. The so-called "green smelts", caught a week or two ago and merely refrigerated, are all wrong—as smelts. Pinehurst today has a fine lot of hard-frozen smelts. Order them, have us deliver them at once and keep them icy cold till you cook them, and you have the most delicious of all salt water fish. Also Filet of Haddock, Smoked Haddock, Filets, Halibut, Chilled Mackerel, Fresh Cod for baking or boiling. Opened Clams and those marvelous Rowe Oysters, SOLID PACKED and not watered by so much as one drop. This is a mighty fine time to order your Christmas turkey. A fine lot and the prices will be lower than at Thanksgiving—quite a bit. Deliveries constantly going out. Phone 2000.
