

FOUR PERSONS KILLED IN A TRIPLE WRECK

Officials Cannot Understand
How Express Train Ran Into First Wreck—Fog
Blamed for First Crash.

Aberdeen, Md., Jan. 18.—With four trainmen dead and another in a critical condition, Pennsylvania railroad officials today pushed a vigorous investigation into the triple wreck of two express trains and a freight a mile and a half from here late yesterday.

The first collision occurred at 4:40 p. m., when train No. 412, a combination mailpassenger train with eight coaches which had left Washington for Philadelphia at 3:05 p. m., crashed into the rear of extra freight No. 1472, pulling 99 cars. The passenger locomotive and the freight caboose were demolished and several freight cars were thrown across the southbound track across the southbound crack Southern Express, No. 121, carrying passengers bound for Baltimore, Washington and the South, crashed into the wreckage.

Blame the Fog
Railroad officials blamed the blinding fog for the first crash, but said they could not understand why some member of the train crews of the northbound passenger train or the southbound freight did not flag the oncoming southern express. The engineer and fireman of both passenger trains, whose testimony would be the most important to the investigator, are either dead or too badly injured to be questioned at present.

According to railroad officials, not one passenger was injured seriously, although many of them were shaken up when several coaches and three sleeping cars were derailed. Fritz Krueger, famous violinist, was injured slightly.
The passengers proceeded to their destinations on relief trains while wrecking crews cleared the tracks.

Those Killed
The four trainmen killed were T. J. Kavanaugh, of New York City, fireman of the southbound express; A. C. Terhune, of Jersey City, its engineer; B. W. Stewart, of Baltimore; fireman of the freight; and K. A. Klein, of Baltimore, freight brakeman. Stewart and Klein were trapped in the caboose of the freight and killed instantly.
Leon Sweeting, of Philadelphia, engineer of the northbound train, was reported to be dying in Havre de Grace hospital. J. H. Lee, fireman of that train, was scalped but is expected to recover.
Responsibility for the rest with Sweeting or Stewart, the dead, flagman, officials said. They are trying to learn whether either northbound train ran by a signal in the fog.
The passengers included Dr. Henry Van Dyke, a member of the faculty of Princeton University.

INSANE VETERAN KILLS INSPECTOR

Shell-Shocked Ex-Soldier Is Shot by Police Who Try to Disarm Him.

Philadelphia, Jan. 18.—W. Griffith Gribbel, socially prominent Philadelphia clubman who shot and killed Police Inspector John W. Blackburn here last night and fatally wounded the inspector's chauffeur, according to police, was given a chance to recover this morning by physicians who removed three bullets from the clubman's body. Gribbel was shot by police who rushed to his mansion in Chestnut Hill. Gribbel, a shell-shocked war veteran, apparently had become demented.
Gribbel, who is 48 and the father of four children, is the son of John Gribbel, prominent Philadelphia financier and society man.

Runs Amuck
Last evening he ran amuck when he learned that his wife planned to send him to a sanatorium, police said. Mrs. Gribbel telephoned police that he was firing shots through the walls of his room from a service automatic and a rifle. Inspector Blackburn and Lawrence were shot when they answered the call for help. Other policemen shot Gribbel three times.
After the bullets were removed at Chestnut Hill hospital at four o'clock this morning, physicians announced Gribbel was resting comfortably. Police said he probably would be charged with murder.

MARRIES A GIRL 12 YEARS OLD

So Judge Forbids Him to See
Her Until She Is 18 Years of Age.

Niles, Ohio, Jan. 18.—James Lucas, 18, today was under a court decree which forbids him to see his 12-year-old bride, Eunice Parsons, for the next six years.
After they were married in Wellsburg, W. Va., Dec. 28., they returned here. About a week later, the girl met her former teacher who had both brought into court.
Judge William J. Hyde in the Trumbull county Probate Court, fined Lucas $50 and sentenced him to 90 days in jail on a charge of contributing to the girl's delinquency. The judge then suspended the fines on condition that the youth stay away from his bride for six years, or until she is 18.

NEW PAPAL STATE GETS 52 MILLIONS

Heretofore Popes Have Never Collected Indemnity
Granted by Italian State.

Rome, Jan. 18.—Although the proposed new Papal State will lie within Rome—the seat of the Italian government—Italy will have an ambassador accredited to the Holy See just as though it were a distant power, it was learned today.
This envoy will look after Italy's interests, especially in ecclesiastical affairs. It is expected that Spain, France, England and Germany will be among the countries appointing diplomatic envoys to the new Papal State. It is not known if the United States will do so. There is a Papal Nuncio stationed in Washington.

Diplomatic Policy.
It is expected that the settlement of the long standing dispute between the Catholic Church and the Italian State, which appears to be imminent, will be followed by an aggressive diplomatic policy. The Catholic Church has been subjected to drastic treatment by Soviet Russia and Mexico. In the former nation there is a movement to stamp out all religion. Mexico passed laws making it impossible to hold public masses.
The problem of customs and excise taxes in the new state has been settled easily. Their collection will be left to the Italian government by the Vatican.

Vatican Gets 52 Millions.
The Vatican is going to benefit in the financial way. Italy will pay into the Vatican coffers about 1,000,000,000 lire, it is understood. This would be about $2,000,000,000 of Italian money. It is spoken of as "indemnity." It represents the annual payments of 3,225,000 lire which the Italian Parliament voted in 1871 to pay annually to the Pope. The indemnity Italy will get from the settlement are chiefly moral. It will silence those who might be tempted to say that the Italian State was treating the church unfairly.
There will be a diplomatic advantage, also. Italy will be placed in the same category as the other Catholic nations in dealing with the Vatican.

STEWART IN NEW YORK FOR APPROACHING FIGHT

Standard Oil Director Says He Is Confident That He Will Not Be Ousted.

New York, Jan. 18.—Confident of victory, Colonel Robert W. Stewart arrived in New York today to fight attempts by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to oust him as chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.
Although he will probably invade Wall Street in his fight to retain his seat, Col. Stewart denied that he will make any attempt to rally proxies for the vote on March 7.
Col. Stewart expressed doubt that John D. Rockefeller, Sr., was joining his son in the fight. He also criticized Allen Property Custodian Sutherland, who has signed over to the younger Rockefeller 18,000 shares, which are confiscated German holdings.

"I shall not believe that the elder Mr. Rockefeller is against me until I have definite proof," Col. Stewart said. "Regarding Mr. Sutherland, I believe he should have investigated the true story before he took such action."
To date the large stockholders of Standard Oil have not committed themselves and it is expected the big fight will line up these proxies.

LAND BLAZE SPELLS OCEAN LINER'S DOOM

In drydock at Marseilles, France, safe from the perils of the ocean lanes, the liner "Paul Lecat" succumbed to a fierce blaze that originated on land. The striking picture shows the fire as it gained headway, completely destroying the liner which was the pride of the passenger service between Europe and the Far East. The ship had been in drydock for overhauling and was nearly ready to put to sea again when the fire broke out.

Day Old Infant Survivor Of Grim Triple Tragedy

Steubenville, Ohio, Jan. 18.—A new born babe, less than a day old, today was the only survivor of a triple shooting tragedy here yesterday afternoon.
Its 21-year-old mother and its grandparents lay dead in an undertaking establishment.
Following an argument over a will, Vincenzo Giannamora, 61, an Italian, shot and killed his wife, fatally wounded his daughter-in-law and then committed suicide at the home here.

Mrs. Frank Giannamora, the daughter-in-law, gave birth to the baby boy, just before she succumbed to the bullet wound inflicted by her enraged father-in-law. The baby will live, physicians said. She shock brought on by the bullet wound hastened the birth, doctors declared.
A Caesarian operation is credited with saving the life of the child.

KILLED WITH WIFE HE TRIES TO SAVE

Refuses to Leave Her Bedside and Is Suffocated by Smoke With Her.

Roselle, N. J., Jan. 18.—Refusing to leave his wife whose hip was injured in a plaster cast, Horace R. Benedict, New York jeweler, died by her side in an upper floor of their home here today when fire ravaged the house.

When the fire was discovered Mr. Benedict attempted to get his wife to safety. His daughter Helen, Miss Agnes Hume, Mrs. Benedict's sister, and a nurse tried to help but were unable to make any progress.
Goes to His Wife.
Mr. Benedict pushed his daughter to the roof of the porch, sent Miss Hume to a rear roof and ordered the nurse downstairs. He then returned to his wife and continued his efforts to save her until smoke overcame them. Mrs. Benedict's body was slightly burned but both police say, had died of suffocation.
Firemen made several attempts to reach the trapped couple but failed. Upon the arrival of Guy and Thomas Benedict, sons of the dead couple, who live nearby, they learned their parents were trapped. Leading the way for the firemen they groped through the smoke filled house to the room on the upper floor where they found their parents, dead.

CHICAGO MILK STRIKE IS GETTING SERIOUS

One Third of Supply Cut Off;
Sheriff May Ask Governor
for State Troops.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Fear that Chicago's milk "strike" would turn into a farmers' revolt was expressed by Illinois and Wisconsin authorities today.
Worth County, Wis., Sheriff James Mason threatened to ask the governor for state troops unless violence and intimidation of non-strikers ceased.
The situation today was regarded as particularly acute all through Wisconsin as a result of the action of Chicago retail milk companies in turning to that state for emergency supplies.
Another important source of supply threatened today was northern Indiana.
If Indiana "goes out," it was predicted, at least one-third of Chicago's milk supply will have been cut off.

BRIDGEPORT DIVORCES.
Bridgeport, Conn., Jan. 18.—Judge Carl Foster in Superior Court today granted a divorce to Mollie Saperoth, of Wilton, from Samuel A. Saperoth, of New York, for desertion; and to Jennie Lind Brown, of Meriden, from Ernest M. Brown, of Bridgeport, for intolerable cruelty.

RHODE ISLAND EATS THE MOST ICE CREAM

Boston, Jan. 18.—The people of Rhode Island eat more ice cream than in any other state in New England, according to Fred Rasmussen, of Harrisburg, Pa., in an address to 300 members of the New England Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers at their annual convention here. New Hampshire and Maine are at the foot of the list in New England, said Rasmussen.

"TWILIGHT SLEEP" CAUSE OF DEATH

Official of Girls' Home Is Questioned Over Stories
Told by Young Inmates.

Albuquerque, N. M., Jan. 18.—Federal narcotic agents today joined hands with county and state authorities in the investigation into the death of Helen Hasken, inmate of the New Mexico State Welfare Home for Girls, here.
J. C. Pieper, U. S. narcotic agent, asked permission to question the five girls who were subjected to the same treatment of the home, received prior to her death. "Twilight sleep," it was pointed out, is dangerous, unless handled by specialists.
Manslaughter charges will probably be filed against Miss Bertha Lips, superintendent of the home, and Dr. Evelyn Frisbie, home physician, according to the district attorney.

DIED ON SUNDAY

The Hasken girl died last Sunday. She with five other girls, ran away from the home, hiking 25 miles to a neighboring town. When their attempt to escape was frustrated, they were returned to the home, placed in solitary confinement, and subjected to a diet of bread and water for three days. The water, according to the five surviving girls, was contaminated with saltwater. When Miss Hasken rebelled against the tactics practiced against her, she was given injection of "twilight sleep" to quiet her. She died from the effects, according to a coroner's verdict.

HUGE RADIO HOOK-UP AT INAUGURATION

Hoover's Address Will Be Carried to Every State and to Many Foreign Countries; To Use Planes.

Washington, Jan. 18.—President Hoover's inaugural address will be carried to every state and many foreign countries by radio. Officials of the National Broadcasting Company and the Columbia Broadcasting System are making arrangements today for elaborate hookups which will include all of the large stations and many of the small broadcast stations. High frequency channels will carry the words of America's new president to Europe where they probably will be re-broadcast.
The bill passed by Congress pertaining to the inaugural contained a few lines to permit the broadcasting companies to place microphones at various points to advantage during the ceremonies.

ALONG LINE OF MARCH

It was expected that besides the battery of "mics" into which the new president will speak at the capitol, others will be placed along the line of the inaugural parade and at the reviewing stand.
The broadcasting organizations will bring their "star" announcers to Washington to describe the inauguration of the thirtieth president.
The suggestion has been made that through cooperation of the Navy Department an announcer would be sent aloft to give the radio listeners a birds-eye view of the ceremonies high over Washington.

To Use Airplanes.
A 10-watt transmitter, using a short wave length, would be operated from a dirigible or airplane, the signals to be picked up by Station WRC of Washington and re-broadcast to the country.
Particularly unique from the listeners standpoint would be the diffused roar of the ovation to greet president-elect Hoover, as obtained from a radio transmitter soaring over the capitol.

The radio audiences for the inaugural probably will not be as large as some of those which heard Mr. Hoover when he was a candidate for the presidency, owing to the day-time broadcast.
Probably 20,000,000 Americans, however, will hear the new president's voice, and figuratively will be in the crowd which surrounds the capitol.

TREASURY BALANCE
Washington, Jan. 18.—Treasury balance Jan. 16: $148,987,068.89.

CHIEF HIGGINS MAY REPLACE ARMY LEADER

Four Names Placed Before
Salvationists' High Council
Today to Succeed General
Booth.

Sunbury-on-Thames, Eng., Jan. 18.—With four names definitely before the members as Candidates to succeed General Bramwell Booth as supreme head of the Salvation Army, the army high council met at 10:30 a. m. today.
One of the candidates is a woman—Commander Evangeline Booth, head of the American branch of the Army. The others are Commissioners Higgins, Lamb and Hay.
Each candidate has a following that is making optimistic claims, but Commissioner Higgins, chief of staff of the Salvation Army, appears to be the favorite. He has virtually been head of the organization since General Bramwell Booth became seriously ill. In his letter to the High Council General Booth spoke of the satisfactory manner in which Commissioner Higgins had handled the affairs of the great international organization.

Today's Conference.
When the High Council met it was believed it would discuss only future organization during the day, preparatory to exacting guarantees from candidates before taking a decision on his trusteeship.
The intention is to place the future government of the Army upon a democratic basis. Balloting is expected to commence tomorrow. It will probably be a long and exhausting process before a definite successor to General Booth is found.
While some insist that General Booth has taken his defeat calmly, others declared he intends to fight to the bitter end, possibly applying to the courts on Monday for a legal decision on his trusteeship.

Under the Salvation Army rules General Booth is granted a retirement allowance and retains the title of general, provided he writes the word "retired" after his name. According to the Daily News, General Booth may not go into the courts. This paper reported that assurance to this effect has been given by one of the general's closest adherents who is attending the High Council sessions.
Catherine Booth, daughter of Gen. Bramwell Booth, is said to have given similar assurance to the High Council on Wednesday. Commissioner Edward J. Higgins is a Briton. He has been engaged in Salvation Army work for 47 years and has been chief of staff for ten years.

Commissioner James Hay is from New Zealand. He was elected president of the High Council for the present deliberations.
Commissioner David Lamb is from Aberdeen, Scotland. He is director of emigration for the Salvation Army.

FIGHTS FOR HIS LIFE AGAINST AN ICICLE

Man With the Nightmare
Arouses Neighborhood With His Shooting; Hits Himself.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Last night Frank Maxa ate cabbage and beef cream and then went to bed. He had a nightmare, as might be imagined.
Frank woke up and thought he heard burglars. He wrapped his coat about him and taking the ancestral revolver from the wall dashed into the back yard.
Just at that moment an icicle crashed to the ground near him. "My goodness!" yelled Frank, "I'm shot."
Determined not to forfeit his life without a terrific struggle, Frank began shooting. Unfortunately he didn't aim at anything and shot himself in the heel. Neighbors took him to a hospital.

MRS. WILSON'S TRIAL

New York, Jan. 18.—A jury was chosen today in record time to try Mrs. Esther Evans Deforest Wilson, big game hunter, on a charge of assault with attempt to kill her husband, Dallett H. Wilson, prominent attorney.
Wilson was shot twice March 29 last as he sat in his fifth avenue office. He is expected to be the first witness against his wife, who was prominent in New York and Washington society.
Before Mrs. Wilson entered court Judge Nott ordered her searched. At noon recess Arnold Sayer, secretary to the judge, ordered the courtroom cleared in an effort to prevent cameramen from photographing her.

QUEEN MARIE BETTER
Bucharest, Jan. 18.—Queen Marie, of Rumania, who has been suffering from grip was said to be improved today. She hopes to be able to leave for Constantinople on Saturday to visit Robert's college. She will be accompanied by her daughter, Princess Ilie.

PRESIDENT-ELECT TRIES HIS HAND AT PEACEMAKING

SENATORS ATTACK
MELLON'S RECORD
Accuse Him of "Laying Down" of Dry Enforcement;
Raps Tax Refund.

Washington, Jan. 18.—A fresh storm of attacks on the record of Andrew W. Mellon as secretary of the treasury today threatened to prolong Senate discussion of the proposals for a $25,000,000 increase in prohibition enforcement funds and a $75,000,000 tax refund.
The third richest man in the world, who gave up his private business to direct the government's fiscal affairs, was accused of "laying down" on the job of enforcing prohibition. His record was described as a "farce" by dry leaders and he was accused of not trying to enforce the dry law.

That Tax Refund.
The prohibition battle probably will be but a tempest in a teapot compared to the really serious criticism certain to be launched at his plan for $75,000,000 to repay refunded taxes. To date, during the Mellon rule in the treasury, the government has turned back $2,614,000,000 in refunds and credits on income taxes much of this money has gone to large corporations and to possessors of swollen incomes.
Reasons for Attacks.
Administration leaders saw in the dual attack on Mellon an indirect effort to keep him out of President-elect Hoover's Cabinet. It was apparent the Democratic chieftains were waiting their words for Mellon, as Senators Harris (D) of Georgia, conducted the dry attack and Senator McKellar (D) of Tennessee, prepared the tax refund assault.
The two items were contained in the first deficiency appropriation bill. A measure that usually is enacted without debate. The bill also contained an $8,400,000 item for a new House office building and lesser emergency items.

Defends Secretary.
In an effort to save Mellon from further attack on the prohibition issue, Senator Jones (R) of Wash., an administration dry, proposed to reduce the dry fund to $1,250,000. Senator Warren of Wyo., chairman of the Senate appropriations committee, who led the fight against the $25,000,000 fund, immediately announced he would accept it. The $1,250,000 would be used chiefly to employ additional dry agents, although $250,000 would be used to "disseminate information" and pay "traveling expenses."
The tax refund matter long has been the subject of Democratic criticism. The refunds have been made secretly, and except for members of the special Congressional tax commission, the details aren't even given to Senators and Representatives. If the taxpayer is satisfied, the refund can't even be aired in court. On one occasion, Senator Conzens (R) of Mich., directed an investigation into the subject but Congress never took any action to change it.

The anti-Mellon debate broke into the administration's drive to enact the new cruiser bill. As a result, the naval measure was temporarily sidetracked.

CONDITION OF FOCH
SLIGHTLY IMPROVED
Kept from Talking and Reading Newspapers—He Is Now Being Given Solid Food.

Paris, Jan. 18.—Marshal Foch's condition continued to show slight improvement today.
His physicians issued the following bulletin this morning:
"There is slight improvement in the condition of the patient's heart and kidneys."
The marshal has been ordered to refrain from excessive talking. He has been persuaded not to read the newspapers but has been promised Sunday's editions if his improvement continues. He is now being given solid food.

NINE ASSASSINATED.
Mexico City, Jan. 18.—Nine persons were assassinated in quarrels between Agrarians and Laborites at San Martin Texmelucan, Puebla, in the past week, the federal military commander of that district reported today. San Martin Texmelucan lies on the Mexico City-Puebla highway over which hundreds of motorists pass daily.

Original Hoover Men
Both Mills and Hill were so-called "original Hoover men" in New York State. Hill and Macchold were not. Since the nomination and election of Mr. Hoover Republican affairs in New York State have been in a chaotic state with Mr. Hoover having to deal with the organization notwithstanding that his warmest supporters were not of the organization.
Today's conferences, which followed a visit here earlier by Hill, was in the nature of a get together meeting to try to patch up differences, and all concerned expressed themselves as satisfied.
"Everything is satisfactory," chorused Mills and Macchold when they emerged from the former's office just before noon. "We have met to reconcile some views and have succeeded."
They jointly denied that any individual appointments were discussed at today's conferences. That will come later, it was indicated. Macchold probably will go to Florida to consult with Mr. Hoover on individual cases before March 4.

Mills' Ambition.
It is understood, however, that Mills' real ambition is to run for the Senate in 1932 against Senator Robert E. Wagner. The Democrat who defeated Wadsworth two years ago. That is a long way off, and meanwhile his Senatorial chances would not exactly suffer because of the prestige of having been secretary of the treasury.
In this futuristic picture of Republican affairs in New York there is discernible no likeness of ex-Senator "Jim" Wadsworth, who until his defeat two years ago was the real Republican leader of the state. Wadsworth has been in semi-retirement since his defeat, but he is credited with a determination to stage a comeback in public life. He might upset the applecart.
Wadsworth's friends in and out of New York state are active in his behalf for a Cabinet post—the secretaryship of war, for which he is peculiarly fitted because of his long military experience, and his long chairmanship of the Senate military affairs committee. A half dozen of his erstwhile Senatorial colleagues, among them Senator David A. Reed (R) of Penna. and Senator George H. Moses (R) of New Hampshire, are known to have recommended Wadsworth's appointment to President-elect Hoover. It is said they have not received much encouragement.

PRESIDENT-ELECT AS PEACEMAKER

separates for Florida, and with scores of people still clamoring to get his ear, Herbert Hoover plunged anew today into the stream of conferences that has occupied almost every waking moment of his time since he returned to the capital two weeks ago.

His engagement list again was filled and to top off the day he will dine and spend the evening with President Coolidge at the White House.

Probably the knottiest problem with which the President-Elect is trying to deal is the reconciliation of the various Republican factions in several states. A particularly complex case is that of New York, involving as it does the very considerable patronage of the Empire State.

Talks With Leaders
Mr. Hoover has had a number of conferences with New York leaders, trying to get some agreement among them, and there were more today. On today's schedule were H. Edmund Machold, chairman of the state committee, and Wm. H. Hill, of Binghamton, the volunteer Hoover manager of New York in the November election. They visit followed an earlier call from Charles D. Hill, the national committee man, who throughout the Harding-Coolidge administration has been the patronage "boss" of the state.

One suggestion that has been put up to Mr. Hoover is that he recognize Machold as the organization leader of the state, and let the others go to him with their recommendations and differences. Mr. Hoover is said to think favorably of the idea, as it coincides with his belief that the state chairman should receive more recognition from the national leadership than has hitherto been the case. On the other hand, this conflicts with Dr. Hubert Work's idea that the national committee members should be regarded as the king-pins of their respective states and given plums accordingly.

In the end, it is probable that Mr. Hoover will find it impossible to establish a blanket policy covering all states and will deal with each state situation individually according to the local conditions. Meanwhile the New York situation is rather tense with indications pointing to an increase of Machold's prestige and a corresponding decrease in Hill's power in matters of patronage.

The flood of Cabinet recommendations continues unchecked. Every day some prominent labor leader drops in to urge the appointment of William N. Doak, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, as secretary of labor. The task fell today to D. B. Robertson, chief of the Brotherhood of Firemen. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, had 12 yesterday. Doak would be credited to Virginia, which has its appeal inasmuch as the dominion went Republican.

Hills Against Hoover
Hills opposed Mr. Hoover's nomination from the start and was one of the little group at Kansas City that held out to the very last against him. Machold was appointed state chairman at Hills' instigation in the middle of the campaign. They control the state organization, and in the natural course of things would dictate patronage in New York. However, Mr. Hoover cannot overlook the fact that the organization was opposed to him, and that his real boosters in the state were outside of the organization. There is a debt of recognition there that must be paid.

The President-Elect is trying to compose the differences, but he hasn't arrived at any definite solution yet. The situation is further complicated by the rival aspirations of various New Yorkers.

Wadsworth's Ambition
Friends of ex-Senator "Jim" Wadsworth want to make him secretary of war. Friends of Mills want him to become secretary of the treasury. If Mellon is not reappointed, Friends of Ambassador

THROWN OUT OF AUTO BY HIS KIDNAPERS

Bank Cashier Not Hurt, However, by His Fall—Robbed of Watch and Money.

West Carrollton, Ohio, Jan. 18.—Kidnaped this morning while taking his daughter to school at Maderia, near Cincinnati, Ben H. Peterson, cashier of the Camargo State Bank of Maderia, was literally thrown out of his captors' automobile when they passed through this village a few hours later today.

Henderson was not harmed, but was robbed of his watch and money. It was his whose identification of two men led to their sentencing to the Ohio State Penitentiary, on bank robbery charges, and it is believed members of the gang to which they belonged were the kidnapers of the bank official.

WRIT QUASHED

Bridgeport, Conn., Jan. 18.—A writ of habeas corpus in Superior Court here today quashed an attempt to judgment mandamus which Daniel E. Helton, of Shelton, had obtained against the city of Shelton to give him the right to sell and deliver milk there.

The city of Shelton in November and December passed an ordinance effective January 1 which would limit the milk business to milk from tuberculin tested cows. Because Dr. Herbert A. Roberts, Shelton milk inspector, had not reached the Daniel Shelton dairy in time to inspect and issue a license and Daniel Shelton sought an injunction preventing the city from banning his milk, Judge Foster ruled that the milk inspector should have a reasonable time in which to perform his duty.

GOVERNOR IMPEACHED

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 18.—The Oklahoma House of Representatives investigating committee today returned a bill of impeachment against Gov. Henry S. Johnston, ten counts were included in the bill which charged misappropriation of funds and general incompetency.

The impeachment proceedings had been impending since 1927 and the 1928 general election, and the fight between adherents and enemies of Johnston in the Legislature. Governor Johnston repelled an abortive session with state militia in 1927, succeeding where Gov. J. C. Walton had failed in 1923.

THIS WEEK DULL ONE AT MUNICIPAL OFFICES

Town Clerk's Office, Engineering Department and Building Inspector Find No Rush.

There has been no great rush of business at the Municipal building this week. No sales have been recorded with the town clerk. This is fortunate as Town Clerk Samuel Turkington is confined to his home with a bad cold.

The engineering department, unable to do outside work, is now engaged in laying out maps and searching records of surveys they made during the summer and some valuable maps are now being prepared not only for present use but for use in the future.

In the building inspector's office there has been no great rush for permits for new buildings and no new applications have been made this week. In the tax collector's office the names of those who are subject to a personal tax is being checked over in preparation for billing and collection next March.

JUDAS INTERPRETATION TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

Tonight at 8:15 at the High school assembly hall Miss Helene Johnstone Stone will give her dramatic reading and impersonation of Judas Iscariot, from the official text of famous Oberammergau Passion Play. The original Passion Play was first given in 1634 as an act of gratitude on the part of the villagers for deliverance from a pestilence that had swept the surrounding towns. In 1698 a vow was made to enact the play every ten years, which has been done since that time, the exception of the last presentation, which was given in 1922 instead of 1930, the tenth year. This was due to the fact that some of the players had lost their lives in the World War. It will be given again in 1930.

The cast of characters descends from generation to generation, and the members of each family are filled with a desire to lead such lives as will make them more worthy of the characters they are to portray later.

The presentation is sponsored by the Men's League of the South Methodist church. Tickets are 50 cents each.

WIVES OF CONGRESSMEN FACE VEXING PROBLEM

Election of Negro Makes His Wife a Member of Most Exclusive Club.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The Congressional Club, composed of wives of Senators and Congressmen and others in official life, is facing a vexing question, and one that probably will be solved by the club's putting into effect a "black ball" system for the first time in its history.

Mrs. Peter Gerry, wife of the Senator from Rhode Island, who was formerly Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt, is now president of the club. The perplexity arises out of the fact that in the next Congress Oscar de Priest, of Chicago, a negro, becomes a member. Under present rules, Mrs. de Priest automatically would become a member of the club with full privileges. An amendment will be sought to the Constitution next month which will give a membership committee power to approve or disapprove an applicant for membership. It involves a change in the club's constitution.

SKATING CONDITIONS AT "SPRINGS" RINK

There will be no skating at the Center Springs Park rink this evening although the park commission has authorized men in their department to continue clearing off the snow and an effort will be made to have skating at the rink by Saturday night or Sunday.

With the date of the carnival set for January 27 every effort possible is being made to keep the ice in condition for the skating on that day although there seems to be trouble in getting exhibition skaters. The skating club has received the price and confirmation that the skating team from the Ice Palace in New York can come to Manchester on January 27, but the necessary money for their payment, which will be about $150, has not been secured.

A telephone is to be installed at the rink within a few days so that calls as to the condition of the ice can be answered or in case a doctor or help is needed at the pond it can be called for.

FLU IN THE STATE.

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 18.—Somers reported 365 new cases of influenza to the State Board of Health today and Bridgeport reported 311 new cases. Both have previously reported large numbers of cases of the disease. The state's totals for the day listed 860 cases. Other towns showing numerous cases are Newtown, 25; Glastonbury, 24; Hartford, 16 and Windsor, 12.

NOON STOCKS

New York, Jan. 18.—The forward movement in industrial stocks gathered momentum this morning as buying demand for the Steel, Copper, Oil and high-priced specialty stocks swarmed into the market from every quarter.

A block of 25,000 shares of Standard Oil of New York passed through the market at $43 a share, after which the stock moved up to the record price of 45 1/2. Such large scale buying of Socony was accepted as evidence that the Rockefeller-Stewart fight in the Standard Oil of Indiana was not likely to cause a general shakeup in the Standard Oil family as a whole. It also emphasized the prospect of an enormous expansion of the business of the company this year.

St. Joseph Lead pushed up an additional 7 points to 87 1/2, at the head of the metals stock group. Possible merger under powerful financial auspices is responsible for the 25-point jump in this stock this week. The copper stocks were not so active, though Chile Copper, Andes and Greene Cananea rose to the highest prices of the week. Electric Autolite and Johns Manville led the advance of the high-priced specialties, booming along at a rapid pace in a heavy turnover. At 212 Johns Manville was up 12 points for the day and 117 points since its graduation from the Curb Market about two months ago. Radio and the stocks allied with that old sky-rocketer were comparatively quiet, with prices slightly higher.

Pennsylvania took the lead today in the forward move of the high-grade railroad stocks, and reached a new peak at 81 1/2. It is generally believed that the directors will increase the dividend rate to $4 a share this year. New York Central was well bought around 193.

Week-end profit taking began to put in an appearance in the second hour, whittling down the price gains made in the bullish outburst of the first period. The reaction in some sections of the market was offset by the advance in others, the market as a whole giving a good account of itself. Call money was in good supply for the week-end at 6 per cent.

RAP MRS. WILLEBRANDT

Washington, Jan. 18.—President Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, will be severely criticized in the forthcoming report of the Congressional committee, which investigated affairs at Atlanta federal prison, it was learned today.

Mrs. Willebrandt put an undercover agent of the Department of Justice into the prison under an assumed name, as a prisoner, in order to make reports to the department on the administration. Members of the investigating committee consider that she overstepped the law.

KING OF AFGHANISTAN WITHDRAWS ABDICATION

London, Jan. 18.—Amanullah Khan has withdrawn his abdication and again proclaimed himself King of Afghanistan, Indian News Service dispatches received here today stated.

Using the private radio in his royal palace in Kandahar, Amanullah broadcasted the following statement to all Afghans: "Under the present circumstances and owing to the trouble caused by the rebels, I withdraw my abdication and hereby call all loyal tribesmen of Afghanistan to join my standard."

Amanullah was given a tremendous reception when he arrived at Kandahar, the dispatches added. He is reported to have seventeen bombing planes at his disposal.

The tribesmen at Kandahar have always been the staunchest supporters of Amanullah and the success of the rebel Bacha Sakao appears to have strengthened them in their desire to keep him king.

A Central News dispatch from Bombay states that Amanullah's elder brother who succeeded to the throne on Monday is now a virtual prisoner of Sakao's in the royal palace at Kabul but has not actually been captured as yet.

INFLUENZA MUCH Milder This Year Than in 1918

It is estimated that from 20 to 50 per cent of the population of several states are suffering from hookworm.

But Vicks Laboratories Again Operating Night and Day to Supply Record-Breaking Demand.

Although the type of flu this year is not so serious as in 1918, health authorities are urging everybody to treat even the slightest cold at the start, as colds lower the resistance and make the body an easy prey to bronchitis or pneumonia.

An interesting response to this warning has been the phenomenal call for Vicks VapoRub, the external treatment which proved so helpful in the 1918 epidemic.

In spite of vastly increased capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating all night long and are now producing 375,000 jars daily. A substantial part of this increase is attributed to the widespread use of Vicks as a preventive.—Adv.

New York, Jan. 18.—With all plans laid for the start of his new career as a banker, former governor Alfred E. Smith today began packing up for a vacation trip to Florida, preparatory to wrestling with the intricacies of high finance. He will start for the land of sunshine on Sunday.

nominee declined to discuss the matter for publication. It is believed, however, that ultimately he may become chairman of the board of the three-year-old institution in which he was the first depositor.

There were never better and bigger bargains in bedding than the Benson Furniture Co. is offering, when you think of a $22.50 layer felt imperial hand made mattress for $18.50, $2.00 down and $1.00 per week. "The home of good bedding."—Adv.

DOZEN STORES RUINED BY BOMB EXPLOSION

Only One Injured—Damage is Estimated by Detroit Police at Over $150,000.

Detroit, Jan. 18.—With three suspects in custody, police today laid the blame for a gasoline explosion that razed the Garci Furniture and Music Company store here, and a dozen nearby stores and theaters and caused damage estimated at more than $150,000, by unskilled bombers employed by a blackmail ring.

many persons had been killed. These reports, however, slimmer down to the fact that only one person, a woman, was seriously injured. She is Mrs. Selma Martel. She was taken to Receiving hospital where attaches said her recovery is doubtful.

At least 30 others, living in houses within a block and a half of the scene of the explosion, suffered bruises and shock when they were hurried from their beds by the force of the blast.

"Ain't it a crime th' way women dress these days?"—Judge.

BABY NOT GAINING? LOOK TO HIS DIGESTION

Babies can't gain when souring waste in a clogged digestive tract is forming gas, making them colicky, constipated and miserable. Just try the method doctors use; dorse, and millions of mothers know, and see how your baby improves. A few drops of purely-vegetable, harmless Fletcher's Castoria makes the most fretful, fussy baby or child comfortable in a jiffy. A few doses and he's digesting perfectly and gaining as he should. To get genuine Castoria, look for the Fletcher signature on the wrapper.—Adv.

When Ray and Destos—their faces smeared with grease and hands slimy with oil—crawl out from under a crippled flyover in their none too immaculate garage they offer a repertoire of wise cracks and songs as sparkling as that of the highest paid musical comedy stars stepping out of their dressing rooms on to a lavishly decorated stage. One is tempted to wonder whether the owner of the disabled car has really had his carburetor adjusted or whether Ray and Destos have been using the shelter of his motor to practise their quips and harmonies.

7:00-Dorlink's Dinner Ensemble, Alfred, Cohn, director, Helen Hubbard, mezzo soprano. Alfred Cohn and the Dorlink Dinner Ensemble this evening will devote their half hour to the presentation of some of the works of three great Russians, with Miss Hubbard offering two classic Russian songs. The selection of the adagio lamentoso, the last movement from Tschalkovsky's Symphony in B Minor, is particularly appropriate for this program of representative Russian music, for in it the composer reflects a great deal of the mood of his people. Tschalkovsky is considered emphatically Russian in manner by the western world, although his fellow countrymen deny it. In the passage of the symphony chosen, Tschalkovsky depicts the conflicting elements of desperate melancholy and barbaric abandon associated with the Slavic temperament.

TO MOVE KING GEORGE TO WINDSOR CASTLE

London, Jan. 18.—King George had a good night's sleep, Buckingham palace officials informed International News Service at 7:30 a. m. today. Although both Queen Mary and Prince George have recovered from their recent colds, the prince is still confined to his rooms as a precautionary measure. A medical bulletin on His Majesty's condition will be issued this evening. During the last few days King George has shown a great improvement and reawakened interest in everything about him, International News Service today learned from sources close to the palace. His Majesty has been enjoying long periods of natural sleep, particularly in the daytime, which have added materially to his strength. He is now thoroughly interested in matters connected with the official routine of the palace. His appetite is distinctly improved and he is no longer fed with a feeder. He is able to hold much longer conversations with Queen Mary, whose visits are becoming more frequent every day as his condition improves. International News Service learned that the doctors are planning to move the King to Windsor Castle in a motor ambulance within the next ten days. FRITZ KREISLER UNHURT IN RAILROAD CRASH. Aberdeen, Md., Jan. 18.—The Pennsylvania railroad smash-up here last night came close to ruining a pair of hands and arms that financially are almost priceless. Fritz Kreisler, the violinist, was among the passengers shaken up in the crash. He emerged from the wreckage through a window with nothing more serious than a badly torn sleeve. Once clear of the wreckage, the noted artist wiggled his million dollar fingers, flapped his million dollar arms, felt himself gingerly and then gave thanks that it was no worse. POLICE COURT

A row at the home of Luigi Miroglio of 118 Maple street resulted in his arrest on complaint of Mario Marchisotti of 161 Oak street, charged with assault. In the fracas Miroglio bit off a portion of one of Marchisotti's ears. The case was continued in police court today until next Tuesday, and a bond of $500 was furnished for the appearance of Miroglio at that time. KILLED IN CRASH. Brockton, Mass., Jan. 18.—Nathan Kaplan, 26, was killed and two girls were injured today when their automobile skidded on the slippery highway, upset in the electric car tracks and was struck by a trolley car.

Guarding Against the Flu

Any cold can mean the flu; the surest way to avoid flu is to avoid colds. To avoid coming down with a cold make prompt use of Bayer Aspirin. Don't wait to see if that first sneeze or cough is going to be a cold. Take Bayer Aspirin at the first sign of any cold, and be safe. And whatever you do, don't neglect a sore throat these days; gargle with Bayer Aspirin and remove the infection. Guard against the flu by guarding against the colds that make you susceptible to the flu germs that lurk in crowded and poorly ventilated places.

The problem comes about in the following manner and happens very often. Folks take a chance on the weather and run too close on their coal supply. A cold snap comes suddenly and before more fuel can be delivered the house is not properly heated. Before anyone realizes it some member of the family develops a cold, incidentally the basis of many serious illnesses, and it grows worse—a call for the doctor—with good fortune the cold may be checked before it becomes dangerous and on the other hand all may have it.

Now comes the conclusion—the trouble is all traceable to a poorly heated home—and to get down to figures it doesn't take long to spend the price of several tons of coal in doctor's bills.

COLUMBIA

The annual business meeting and election of officers of the Saxton B. Little Free Library association was held at the library building, Monday evening. The reports of the officers were read and accepted. The Treasurer's report showed $319.32 receipts for the year with expenditures of $255.36 leaving a balance now in the treasury of $64.04. The trustees report showed $5,347.40 invested trust funds. Report of librarian showed a circulation of 3029, visitors at the library 1285, and 418 children's books. During the year 69 books have been received from the state, 10 given, and 27 purchased, making a total of nearly 8,000 volumes in the library at the present time; about 40 resident families are represented by those taking books and 50 summer visitors. It is interesting to note that the all-year residents draw most heavily in books from October to April, that being the farm's family's most leisure time. During the summer months the books drawn by the summer people greatly outnumber those drawn by residents. The following officers were elected:

An Extremely Warm Winter Makes These Prices Possible

A representative from our New York office called at the store last Saturday and explained to us the tragic situation in the fur coat industry. For two years in succession the fur coat manufacturers have suffered from the penalty of style and weather, but particularly from the weather. This past winter has been most unusual. Thousands of fur coats have piled up in New York. They must be disposed of or, at least, the greater part of them.

Our New York representative made arrangements with Miss Sargent, our garment buyer, to meet him in New York last Monday. She did. The result—we have a group of coats which we are offering at extremely low prices. We have reduced our own stock to meet their low prices.

WENT TO THE JURY
For years the Herald, acting under a profound conviction of right and justice and in pursuance of a deep sense of public duty, has consistently fought the efforts of prohibition addicts to force upon the people the belief that prohibition was a success. We have been fully and at times painfully aware that this course on our part lessened the regard of some of its readers for the Herald. We may go so far as to say that we have been aware of a certain amount of bitterness in the feelings of some of the more determined partisan of prohibition toward us.

Nobody likes to be disliked. It is always pleasanter to be smiled at than frowned on. The Herald would greatly enjoy receiving only encomiums, in avoiding all anger and criticism. But not at the cost of its convictions and its self-respect. So we have plugged away at the prohibition question, not because there was any pleasure or profit in doing so, but because we had the choice of doing this or compromising with our conscience.

Now, the Herald is extremely glad to say, the time has arrived when it is possible to lay off the question of prohibition altogether for at least a number of months. Largely, probably altogether, because of the long battle consistently waged by the great majority of newspapers of the United States against the shams and fallacies of Volsteadism, in which the Herald has borne its proportionate part, the point for which all genuine reformers have been striving has been reached. The incoming President of the United States acknowledges the high importance of the liquor problem and by inescapable implication, the fact that it is a question in flux. In consequence of this acknowledgment he intends to explore the whole subject, from the bottom. There is to be a Presidential commission—and it would be an insult to the quality, sincerity and capacity of Herbert Hoover to doubt for an instant that his commission will be such a one as will approach the great subject with a completely open mind and with the determination to bring rational reform into being.

So far as the Herald is concerned, that lets us out. Nothing whatever is to be gained by pursuing the subject further now. There will be no occasion to do so. And this applies not only to the Herald and to the forces of anti-Volsteadism but to the prohibitionists and their organizations and organs. Prohibition has gone to the jury. The evidence of nine years experimentation will be wisely and honestly considered. The day of the advocate is at an end, at least until such time as the jury reports.

POWER OF NAME
Selection of J. P. Morgan to be associated with Owen D. Young as an American unofficial expert to serve as a committee to determine the final reparations payments to be made by Germany has the curious quality of being at once an admirable one and one made "blind."

It is admirable because there is not the slightest doubt that in Europe the name of Morgan stands for the very peak of American financial acumen and also financial power. There are plenty of Europeans and many of them very intelligent ones who are firmly if secretly convinced that the house of Morgan wields more irresistible force than any government in the world, including their own. It is doubtful if any individual in this or any other country could have been named whose signature to a report as to the amount of reparations to be paid annually and the number of payments would possess the same authoritativeness and finality as the name of Morgan. It is "blind" because there is probably no other single citizen of this country whose real capacity as a financial genius so little is known as about that of the present head of the house of Morgan. There are plenty of people in the business end banking world who will tell you—in the strictest confidence—that the present J. P. Morgan couldn't run a peanut stand on his own unsupported business sense. There are plenty of others who will tell you—either in confidence or otherwise—that Mr. Morgan is as much bigger than either his father or his grandfather, as a financier, than they were bigger than an almshouse inmate.

Mr. Morgan, however, remains in fact very much indeed an unknown quantity. Not even those who are comparatively speaking his intimates have any sort of a line on him. Nevertheless, he is in extremely good company, and it is doubtful if any other individual could be selected who could quite so well fill the job—because of that uncanny power that lies in this particular name.

MOSES TELLS A TRUTH

There is hardly anybody in public life in New England with whom we are less frequently in sympathy than with Senator George Messersmith of New Hampshire. In his home state he's a handshaker and a baby kisser for votes and in Washington he's a strutter, a mischief maker and an opportunist anti. We don't like the way he acts or the way he talks or the way he thinks or the way he looks. Not as a usual thing. But his obstreperousness and his habitual delight in hurting other people's feelings came in most conveniently at the "New England" get-together in Washington on Wednesday night when he flatly told the Massachusetts and Boston business men and politicians who made up the bulk of the gathering that Massachusetts and Boston were a very long way from being the whole of New England and that he was weary of seeing Boston and Massachusetts interests alone consulted by so-called New England organizations and gatherings.

Not for the world would almost anybody else have taken such a time for such a trifle! But such small matters as courtesy and good breeding do no figure with George when he sees a chance to make an impression on the folks back home, so he dumped unpleasant truths on the gathering with no compunction at all.

The Bay Staters at the get-together no doubt felt very badly over the roasting. But they have had it coming for a long time, and perhaps, after all, such uncouth criticism as that of Moses is the only kind that would ever penetrate the self-centered complacency of Massachusetts "New England" boosters.

EAST AND WEST

Recently the Turkish government submitted propositions to several Balkan countries for exchanges of populations which would really effect the mutual repatriation of several million people who for long periods have lived out of the countries of their respective origins. There are many Greeks in Turkey, there are many Turks in Greece, and so on.

It would be supposed that, provided suitable economic arrangements could be made—and these, it is to be assumed, were in contemplation by Turkey when the proposition was laid down—sentimental considerations would operate to elicit much support from the expatriates; that a return to the home of their ancestors and the organization there of a homogeneous state would have, for many of the individuals concerned, a profound appeal.

Yet the 800,000 Musselmen of Turkish origin in Bulgaria are reported as being violently opposed to any such plan as that proposed by Turkey. Modern Turkey, under the revolutionary and strong-willed Kemal, is not at all their idea of a country to live in. It is far too Western. These people wear the fez and veil their women. Both these practices are interdicted now in Turkey. In Bulgaria they can continue to be as different from their Christian neighbors as it is the delight of their souls to be. In Turkey they would have to be altogether too much like the condemned infidel.

The Bulgarian Musselmen prefer to live in Bulgaria; the Greek Musselmen to live in Greece; the Albanian Musselmen to live in Al-

IN NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 18.—The whole gamut of drama and comedy often is spanned in a single Manhattan block.

And this congestion of all emotions and reactions is duplicated in a hundred sections. It must be caught with a quick and expert eye, for it does not linger to be analyzed. . . . It is like the modernistic and chaotic sequences of a German or Russian film. It jumps from this to that and back again. . . . it leaps from room to room and builds up for breath or time. It has no beginning and it has no end. The passerby, even with quick and expert, eye catches only its most transient incident. A child is born. In the next room a child is dead. Through the window come the groans of a woman bringing life into the world. Through another come the groans of a woman ending her days.

At one door there is merriment and revelry. A wedding party is hopping gaily into a hired limousine and driving away to the showers of rice. Around the corner an ambulance is turning. Or a hearse. It stops at the door from whence came the gay wedding party.

ANDOVER

Mrs. Herbert Thompson, Sr., is very ill with the flu. Russell Thompson, who is recovering from the flu, is now able to be up. Mrs. Jane (Curtis) Brown who formerly resided in a tenement in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles White died Monday night. Mrs. Brown's death was the culmination of a general breakdown brought on by old age. The Ladies Benevolent Society met in the conference house Thursday afternoon to sew. Mrs. Ward Talbot spent Wednesday in Manchester with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Prink of Hartford visited A. E. Frink Tuesday evening. Mrs. John T. Murphy of Bristol, spent Thursday with her father, A. E. Frink. Miss Myrtle Mathewson, who recently underwent an operation at St. Joseph's hospital in Williamantic, was able to return to her home Tuesday morning.

The name of the daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nicolini of Hartford, recently, was incorrectly printed in a former announcement in the Andover news. The name should have been Frances Carol. The condition of Mrs. A. E. Frink, who is ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Platt, in Manchester, is reported as being slightly more comfortable today.

HANGS IN TREE.

London.—After a week of organized searching throughout Tottenham, the body of Henry David Beech was found hanging in the hollow trunk of an oak tree. The coroner returned a verdict of suicide while of unsound mind. "I WON'T SAYS BRIDE." London.—The wedding of Mary Paxton, Ellesmere Port, had progressed to the point where the bridegroom had said his "I do." The pastor turned to the bride and asked her "Do you take this man to be your lawful wedded husband." A pause and then: "I shant." And she didn't.

COP SAVES OPERATION.
Jacksonville, Fla.—Surgeons at County Hospital were about to probe for a bullet believed to be in the body of Henry Dorsey, a shooting victim, when Patrolman Clark walked in with the announcement that the pellet was in his pocket. The nature of the wound was such that doctors were unable to determine, at first, whether the bullet had lodged in the body or not.

FRIENDSHIP'S END.

Cleveland.—If you help a neighbor by a barrel of home brew up on the cellar stairs and the barrel falls on your leg and fractures it, you can't collect damages from the neighbor. Judge McBride recently ruled thusly in the case of Ernest Kopf against Joseph Lockosar. The judge ruled that Kopf was breaking the dry laws in assisting Lockosar.

FACTS — ABOUT — CONNECTICUT

Compiled by the CONNECTICUT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

(215) Connecticut's State Police

Connecticut has one of the oldest state police departments in the United States, having been organized in 1903. In 1921 the department was re-organized, enlarged and its scope of activities widened to include the enforcement of the motor vehicle laws.

The duties of the State Police are varied. They answer complaints entered everywhere in the state. Because of the small size of the force, much of the work is restricted to the rural communities where there is no police protection. To train the recruits for the varied duties which their activities demand, a school is maintained at Ridgefield. This school is of two months' duration and is held twice a year.

At the present time the State Police Department numbers 100 men. They include a Commissioner, Superintendent, Captain, nine lieutenants, nine sergeants and 73 field men. There are eight barracks or local headquarters, at Hartford, Centerbrook, Ridgefield, Canaan, Stafford Springs, Danielson, Groton and Westport. A lieutenant is in charge of each barracks.

Last year the expenses of the department amounted to $381,116. The property in custody of the State Police Commissioner was valued at $212,841 in the last inventory of state property valuations. Receipts from fees, licenses, etc., which were collected by the Department amounted to $135,542. In addition there was credited to the Department more than $200,000 in fees paid or payable to towns and motor vehicle department and motor vehicle operators' examination fees.

When he returned, Morgan, the handcuffs and the car door were missing.

The youth had about completed arrangements to buy the weapon from another boy, when the mother interposed. She took hold of the muzzle and proceeded to emphasize previous instructions about firearms. Then the gun went off and a bullet lodged in Mrs. Garrett's abdomen.

Winston Churchill Is Brick Layer On New Cottage At Country Home

By J. C. OESTREICHER

International News Service Staff Correspondent

London — Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who means to the average Englishman what Andrew Mellon does to the American, has turned bricklayer.

At his country estate in Westham, Kent, the dignified cabinet member has donned an old blue serge suit in lieu of overalls, a well worn felt hat and torn leather gloves. In this nondescript attire he is working eight or nine hours a day on the construction of a brick cottage on his private grounds.

Churchill is on holiday, together with most of the members of the British cabinet. But he alone of the statesmen who make England's laws when Parliament is in session has elected to spend his vacation hours in horny-handed toil.

Likes Laying Bricks

"I am very proud," Churchill said to an interviewer who caught him at work. "I can now lay a brick a minute, which I understand is excellent work for a novice."

"I find that work of this sort is soothing to the nerves, and it is quite pleasurable to see a structure growing beneath your hands."

The Chancellor has one weakness with regard to his work. He does not carry bricks, but one of the sons of his gardener has been pressed into service in this capacity.

Churchill's daughter, too, has become interested in the work, and spends some time each day, mixing mortar for her famous father's use.

"I get up at six o'clock, and I am at work before seven," Churchill said. "Then I work straight through until one in the afternoon and after luncheon I work again until six at night."

"It is great exercise, and great fun."

English statesmen in general, it appears have strange ways of disposing of their spare time. Sir

William Joynson-Hicks, the Home Secretary, as well as Lord Hailsham, formerly Sir Douglas Hogg, Attorney General, keep pigs on their country farms.

Lord Looks After Pigs

Lord Hailsham, acting Prime Minister in the absence in France of Stanley Baldwin, has publicly stated that he attends to his pigs himself, unwilling to trust their care to farm hands unless absolutely necessary.

Low, the well-known cartoonist of a London evening paper, recently caricatured the British cabinet sitting in an extraordinary session in a pig-sty, dressed in yoked clothes and smoking clay pipes. Quite naturally the cartoonists have similarly seized upon the revelation concerning Churchill's bricklaying, and the papers are full of him in the dress of a laborer.

There is only one jarring note in the picture. Churchill smokes Havana cigars continually while he works at his bricklaying. Otherwise observers say, he works just as hard as any day laborer.

THIS LITTLE PIG—

THIS HAS HAPPENED ASHTORETH ASHE, sitting on deck with her fiance, the rich and famous HOLLIS HART, receives a wireless from MONTY ENGLISH, her boy friend from Boston.

Ashtoreth looked perplexed. "I don't like to tell him about you," she admitted, "or that I'm engaged. Because I think mother ought to know first. Besides, it would seem rather wretched, announcing it like that."

But Ashtoreth thought she had better prepare Maizie for the initial meeting. "No," she instructed him. "Let me telephone you at the club, and make an appointment. I'll see you the very minute I can. But you can't tell who may be at the flat, or whether or not we've had a moment's privacy. Besides, I want to break the news to mother."

Maizie threw a plump arm about Ashtoreth's shoulder, and drew her close in a convulsive hug. "Mother never knew how much she loved her baby," she declared solemnly. "It was like having the light go out of my life."

CHAPTER XXXIV It was a message from Monty English. WAITING AT THE DOCK UNLESS YOU RADIO NO. BRIMMING WITH LOVE AND DEVOTION She handed it to Hollis.

"You're lots more famous than Gene Tunney!" she moaned. "Oh, no," he protested. "Mr. Tunney was a world champion, and a unique one, at that. An erudite boxer. And a handsome Hercules, besides. A self-made man marrying a society heiress, and crashing the gates of the elite."

Ashtoreth had telephoned her mother from New York, and Maizie was at the South Station to meet her. Ashtoreth saw her first, waiting outside the gates. The happiest woman in sight. She was wearing her best clothes—the purple velvet ensemble. A little shabby now, and pulling at the seams. Her face was flushed, and wreathed in a broad smile.

Ashtoreth twisted her fingers nervously. She wondered about airplane service. Hollis had said something about trying to get over on the air mail. She wondered if there would be room for two passengers. If, perhaps, he and Monty were flying together. What a hateful coincidence that would be!

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton

Children in these days of intensive analysis are divided roughly into two classes. Either a child is "normal" or he isn't. It must be other parents a lot, this glib usage of a word so vaguely defined. To most people it doesn't mean a thing in the world. Normal! What is normal?

FASHION TALKS THROUGH ITS HATS

AS HER HEAD IS DR ESSED—SO IS MILADY

Spring hats introduce new straws and fabrics, new colors, new lines. (Left) The very latest is the scarf hat, one of which is a soft pastel pink felt turban intricately manipulated, with chiffon crepe swathing through one side and fashioning a long scarf.

New York—There is more than mere vanity in the paramount interest hats hold for women. Of course, since hats can make a woman pretty or unattractive, it is right that they should concern the gentler sex. But fundamentally, hats also deserve consideration because of the keystone position they hold in styles.

Colorful Hats—And Spring! When hats grow colorful it usually augurs a colorful spring for all the realm of women's wear. You will remember that the ubiquitous plain little felt of a few seasons ago preceded the sports suit uniform adopted more recently, flaring brims, more adornment, a change in outline and increasing detail in manipulation of materials in hats came before the intricate fashions in garments today.

RETURNING GUMPIES Gumpies are in again! The woman clever with her needle can add much to her street frocks and suit blouses by fashioning little hand-made dainties to dress up her neck.

Fashion Plaque

THE NEWEST sweaters are worn tucked into skirts. This one is of cashmere in tan and brown in modernistic design. A tweed scarf matches the warmish tweed skirt.

The WOMAN'S DAY

Little seven-year-old Harold Oser of Canal Fulton, O., woke up a frosty morning a few days ago, wondering why nobody called him to breakfast and why the house was so still. He soon learned. He found his father dead at the back door with a bullet through his head and his pretty young mother bleeding to death.

'LINDY' PLAY IN PARIS THEATER DRAWS CROWD

Paris.—"Lindy" is once more drawing big crowds in Paris, but this time they are going to the big Chatelet Theater instead of the air field at Le Bourget.

Anything with the name of Colonel Lindbergh attached to it would appeal not only to Americans, but to the French who have probably never made a greater hero of any foreigner. Somebody had to write about him, and the most surprising thing about it perhaps is that it was not done before this. Sacha Guitry, well-known playwright and actor, finally got busy and has done a good job of it.

The biggest obstacle he was up against was to find an actor who looked like the young aviator. His exploits were too near at hand to pass off someone who did not resemble him at all and it was impossible to find a professional actor in any way resembling Lindbergh.

Then Monsieur Guitry looked for unprofessional men to train them in the act of acting and had better luck, finding not one but even two Lindberghs. Both of them bear a remarkable resemblance to the American hero. One of them is acting as understudy.

Armand Chartrain, who is playing the part, says that his life rolled along in a most ordinary manner until the American crossed the Atlantic. Then people suddenly began looking at him curiously and on several occasions crowds gathered around him. He insisted he was the aviator until he showed them he knew French perfectly.

"Then, one day, I read in the papers that Mr. Guitry was looking for someone to act in his play and I went to see him. The valet received me, and I explained that I wished to see the celebrated actor, he rushed up the stairs and told him that Mr. Lindbergh was in the salon waiting for him," says Monsieur Chartrain.

He is a student of mathematics and had never dreamed of ever being on the stage. He accounts for his resemblance to Lindy through his Swedish ancestry.

In the play, the hero is regarded as a human being, on the ground, and not the Lindbergh in the air. It is part truth and part "fairy-tale," says the author, "because there is something of that in Lindbergh's colossal achievement."

One of the principal purposes of it is to show that the American people possess great moral qualities—greater ones that France believes generally. The story runs a charming love story running throughout and all of the officials who followed Lindbergh on his round of function here are well impersonated, including President Doumergue, Poincare, Briand and Ambassador Herrick. A number of artists are either American born or have played in the United States.

French justice quickly decided a case exactly converse to that of Dorothy Ellingsen, who is now in San Quentin prison in California, for shooting her mother because she was refused permission to go to a dance.

It took a jury at Rouen only a few minutes to return a verdict of not guilty after Mme. Adrienne Blot described how she planned and carried out the slaying of her daughter Yvonne, aged 21.

"I could not bear to see her leave home for the night in Paris," said Mme. Blot. "I was too unhappy. I preferred that she should die rather than be dishonored."

On her twenty-first birthday Yvonne Blot announced she was through with the grocery store and was bound for a job in Montmartre.

Mme. Blot asked the local constable to try to dissuade her daughter from this project. The constable argued with Yvonne while she was packing her suitcase.

"At least kiss your mother good-bye," pleaded the constable.

As Yvonne shrugged her shoulders Mme. Blot drew a revolver from the table drawer and fired four shots into the girl.

WINNIE WINS

It was Winnie's eighth birthday, and her parents had given her a teddy-bear whose boot-button eyes were so placed as to give the impression of a pronounced snout.

"And what do you call your new teddy?" asked a fond aunt.

"Oh," said Winnie, "his name is 'gladdy'—same as the one in the old hymn."

Her aunt was puzzled.

"But what on earth do you mean, child? What hymn?"

"Why, you know the one I mean," explained Winnie bravely, "Gladdy, my cross-eyed bear."—Answers.

CAUGHT CHEATING.

Denver.—Henry Falco rented a "drive-yourself" automobile, the fee to be in direct ratio to mileage. He got a bright idea and started to drive in reverse to prevent the speedometer from registering. But a policeman couldn't figure it out and arrested Henry. Speeding backwards didn't appeal to the judge either, so Henry was forced to pay $10 for his smartness.

$10,000 MONKEY BITE.

New York.—Malcolm O'Connell of this city has been awarded $10,000 damages for a monkey bite. Defense of the hotel, which owned the animal, to the effect that the bite wasn't worth that much and that that boy's mother had refused medical attention, failed to impress jury.

The present dictionary contains more than twice as many words as the earliest ones, largely because of names applied to inventions.

FOUR BOYS BURNED IN CLUB ROOM FIRE

Philadelphia, Jan. 18.—Four boys were burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed their "club rooms" in the two-story brick Scott-Powell Company dairy plant in West Philadelphia.

The victims, Martin Lawless, 14, J. McCormack, and two others, as yet unidentified, apparently were asleep in the building.

Their bodies were uncovered by firemen as they explored the charred ruins. No one was aware that any persons had been in the structure when the fire broke out. The "club rooms" had been built in a deep alcove in one corner of the building and dairy officials did not know it was used by the boys of the neighborhood.

HARTFORD HIGH QUINTET PLAYS HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

Capitol City Tribe Seeks Revenge for Defeats Inflicted by Clarke Outfits

GAME THIS EVENING

M. H. S. Booked at West Hartford; First Game Since "Flu" Scare; All Back But "Pit" Healey.

With all of the members of the squad back except "Pit" Healey, Manchester High school's basketball team will resume its crippled schedule tonight when it journeys to West Hartford to play a C. C. I. League game.

Although not a league tussle, the Hartford contest is one of the most important on the local schedule. For three years in succession, Hartford has been here expecting to have a merry feast at Manchester's expense but everytime has returned to the Capitol City crestfallen.

Three games have been postponed by the local team because of the wave of influenza illness which reduced the student enrollment seriously and also affected nearly all of the players on the team and the coach to boot.

The examining board consists of A. W. Keane, sports editor, Hartford Courant, Louis Alexander, basketball coach, Connecticut Agricultural College and Thomas Monahan, coach of the champion Bristol High school team.

CENTRAL BOARD EXAMS JAN. 26

The annual examination of candidates for membership in the Central Connecticut Board of Approved Basketball Officials will be held in the New Britain Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon, January 26 at 2:30 o'clock.

The exam will consist of a written test on the rules and a practical test in handling a basketball game. All who wish to apply should write to the secretary of the central board, L. R. Nixon, 49 Cedar street, New Britain and he will make the necessary arrangements.

BABE NOT IN CHURCH

Boston, Jan. 18.—"Babe" Ruth, who went into seclusion following the burial of his wife, failed, as scheduled, to attend final funeral services today—a high mass of requiem at St. Augustine's Roman Catholic church, in South Boston.

YOU and BASKETBALL

By H. C. Carlson, M. D. University of Pittsburgh Coach.

The dribble has long been a bone of contention among wellmeaning groups. It is essentially an individual effort, and its indiscriminate use is bad. At the same time, however, its value is such that it has withstood all attacks and it will probably remain part of the game.

Some players have the bad habit of taking a bounce as soon as they receive the ball. By so doing, they deprive themselves of an offensive weapon. The thought before receiving the ball should be about getting to the point where the pass will come, then about where to pass.

One of the three teams tied for first place in the Herald Bowling League was knocked back to third position and the other two remain deadlocked last night in the race for the title.

The Bon Ami, rolling without its ace, Tommy Conran, hit 504, 625 and 525. Mike Suhle chipped in a score of 158 which was high for the evening and helped make possible the big team single.

The Sons of Italy hit the high three string total for the night, 1,684, in beating the contractors hit four points. The Construction hit good scores in the first two games but the Sons matched them with even bigger ones.

The Charter Oaks were scuttled by the West Sides three to one. Joe Canade was high for the winners with Curtis' best for the Charter Oaks. The first two games between the Center Church and Independents were close but the churchgoers took the third 518 to 470 and that gave them pinfall.

FAVORING LOMSKI TO GET DECISION IN BOUT TONIGHT

But Braddock is Liable to Surprise the Wise Money When He Hops Into Ring.

New York, Jan. 18.—They are betting 5 to 1 that the youthful James J. Braddock does not put the sleep plug on Leo Lomski this evening at the Garden, and 2 to 1 that the Aberdeen Assassin carries a decision out of the Jersey spalpeen.

These odds represent the "wise money" opinion of a scrap between two of the pretenders to the light heavyweight throne.

Tommy a Boxer
Tommy still figures to outbox any of his rivals and when he is hurt he can present as few openings as a frightened porcupine.

Lomski is no Loughran as a boxer. He is cast in a sturdy mold and ably substitutes a rushing, twisted attack for the customary maneuvering of the orthodox boxer.

ICE DASH WINNERS QUALIFY FOR TITLE

The first of a group of qualifying races for the town skating championship in the senior division were held at the Center Springs Pond Wednesday night.

Red Sheridan won the 220 yard dash when Jimmy Powers stumbled and fell five yards from the finish line with victory apparently in his grasp.

Bill Androlot won the 440 in 48 seconds with Sheridan second and Powers third. Androlot also took the 880 with Sheridan second and LaFrancis third.

The first two to finish in each race qualified to take part in the finals the day of the carnival, Jan. 27. Another opportunity to qualify will be given next Monday night.

Lester La Bell, Hartford's noted barrel jumper was here and gave an exhibition which was watched with interest.

THE NUT CRACKER

A HEADLINE in a New York newspaper says "Tex's Successor to be Picked from the Garden." Let's hope the pickers don't gather a lemon.

THEY'LL FIND SOMEONE TO TAKE HIS JOB. ALL RIGHT, SAYS O'GOFTY, BUT NO ONE TO FILL IT.

When Tex opened his desk at the Garden several years ago he put one white card on his paper on it. That same sheet of paper was there when he left it, unmarked.

They don't pick Rickards out of Gardens—his variety thrives out in the open spaces, and samples are few and far between.

What a terrific handicap for a man to start under—taking Tex Rickard's place!

UP FROM THE BOTTOM.

Tom Mills, captain-elect of the Texas Aggie football team, was discovered playing intra-mural football in his freshman year after he had failed to make the fresh squad.

WHERE WILL HE PLAY?

Cleveland officials are having a problem solving where Eddie Morgan, their hard-hitting rookie of the 1928 season, will play this summer. He was used in the outfield, at third base and first base last summer.

EXPECT MUCH OF BERLINGER.

Pennsylvania athletic officials expect Barney Berlinger, who as a freshman made the Olympic squad last year, to be one of their outstanding track performers this year.

TO CORRECT HIS FAULTS.

Manager Lena Blackburne of the Chicago White Sox plans to spend much time at the training camp this spring correcting fielding and batting faults of Chalmers Cissell, his $125,000 shortstop.

Hartford County Y. M. C. A. Track Meet Here Tomorrow

Several Schools and Other Athletic Organizations to Participate in Track and Field Events.

At least four organizations and probably several more will participate in the annual Hartford County Y. M. C. A. track and field meet which will be held at the School Street Recreation Center here tomorrow afternoon, starting promptly at 2 o'clock. The public is welcome to watch the contests.

There will be events for three classes—junior, intermediate and senior. The junior events include running broad jump, 20-yard dash, running high jump and 160-yard relay; the intermediate, running broad, 20 yard dash, running high, 440-yard relay, senior, running broad, 20 yard dash, running high, 150-pound shot put, 440-yard relay, half-mile run. Points will be awarded as follows: five for first, three for second, two for third and one for fourth in all events except the relays where teams will receive eight, six, four and two, according to the order in which they finish.

Among the schools and organizations which have definitely decided to send teams here are Simsbury High, Lewis High of Southington, Sumner School and the Auburn A. C. of West Hartford. Others who may compete are Southington Y. M. C. A., Highland Park, Kensington Boys' Club, East Berlin and South Windsor.

DREW OUTCLASSES SMITH WITH EASE

Takes Every Round But Lacks Dynamite In Punches; Other Results.

Johnny Drew, Worcester junior lightweight, furnished the comparatively small crowd at Foot Guard Hall in Hartford last night with one of the best boxing exhibitions seen in a Hartford ring in many long months. He completely outclassed Steve Smith, Brightford's hard-hitting fighter in their ten round star bout which topped off a card which did not compare with the excellent one offered the fans the previous week or to the promising fireworks next Thursday between Pinky Kaufman and Frankie Portelle, ancient Hartford rivals.

Drew won every round by a comfortable margin although Smith kept fighting gamely all the way. It was the old story of a boxer against a slugger with the former having matters all his own way. At times Drew made Smith look like a rookie in the amateur ranks with his clever blocking and side-stepping. Smith often swung viciously only to connect with the air while Drew on the other hand clipped Smith many times when the Park City man was caught off guard. However, Drew lacked enough dynamite in his punches to do any real damage.

The best scrap of the evening was the go between Joe Russo of Westbury, R. I., and Vic Morley of Hartford in which the former won a sizzling six round encounter with a final round giving a good account of himself. Morley took a count in the first round and hurt himself with a legitimate body attack in the ensuing rounds only to lose the verdict to the sound when Russo came back strong.

Benny Martin, New York Italian, who is on beatdown's track, did not have a chance to show what he carried because Joe Dwyer of Boston made no attempt to box or fight with him. Joe grabbed, clinched and held on for dear life for four rounds, letting Martin do all the leading, all the work and 98 per cent of the scoring. In the fourth and fifth rounds Referee Henry Gerrity warned Dwyer that he must fight or be disqualified. Dwyer did not change his tactics in the fifth. Gerrity stopped the fight and awarded it to the New Yorker.

Al Russo, of Boston, with a stomach which protruded like that of a typical South Boston alderman, was knocked out in the first round by Vic Carlson, of this city. Carlson picked Russo's stomach as the best spot to mark his punches and as soon as he connected with two or three the Boston man, who was apparently untrained, went to the canvas with a crash, that shook the ring. His head bumped the floor with much force and he was "out" for several minutes. Joe Zotter, of New Britain, substituting for Teddy Barnes of Bridgeport, was too hard a hitter for Tony Murphy of Springfield, knocking Murphy flat with a right hander to the head in the first round.

WANTS TO WIN 18 GAMES.

Walter Miller, member of the Cleveland pitching staff, says he expects to win at least 18 games this summer for his owners.

HE WRECKS THE TEAM.

New York swimming fans see in Johnny Weismuller's turning pro a chance to gain some of the honor that has been Chicago's in the aquatic world for the past 20 years. They think Weismuller's retirement will wreck the Illinois A. C. squad.

Fresh air, a comfortable bed with a soft, low pillow and warm feet are good safeguards against sleeplessness.

Rec Playing in New Haven This Evening

The Rec Five will flirt with defeat when it journeys over the treacherous highways to New Haven tonight to meet the strong St. Michaels of that city. The local team will leave the Rec at 6 o'clock. The St. Michaels have defeated Branford which is the only team that can boast a victory over the Rec Five this season and also took a fall out of the strong Hartford Knights of Lithuania. Manager Ben Clune will be unable to make the trip tonight, having not yet completely recovered from the effects of his injury suffered last Tuesday when he tripped and fell down stairs at the Rec while on his way to answer a telephone call. Director Lewis Lloyd will have charge of the team.

A LITTLE PITY MAY BE SHOWN TO AN OLD MAN

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Bunny Brief, who has been playing major and minor league baseball for approximately 20 years, has one more ambition to achieve before he will quit the game.

Brief has never stolen home. "When I started the 1923 season, I had an idea everything that could happen to a fellow in baseball except two things had happened to me," he says, "and one of them—hitting into a triple play—came early in the year. I hit into a double play the first game of the season."

"I never have stolen home in a game, however, and I hope that I do it this year in my twentieth season. Then I'll quit."

American Association fans, who know what a slow lumbering runner Brief is, are hoping that the thrill of Brief trying to steal home be enacted in their city.

GOING IN FOR PRO BASEBALL.

Frank Wadley, Georgia Tech end, has signed a contract to play the outfield for the Memphis Southern Association baseball club next summer.

"TOLD THE TRUTH."

It may have been that in the last 10 years there has been some other man whose name appeared oftener in print. Possibly but hardly on a rough estimate. There is no doubt, however, that no figure in the wide and important field of sports had his name mentioned more times daily than Tex Rickard's name was mentioned in the public prints. He lived the last 10 years of his life in a glare of publicity, he died in it and was buried in it.

To the men who are not engaged in the mechanics of making a newspaper, this was never understood. To the man in the newspaper game it was the most natural thing you could find. The men of other professions who interests would have flourished under the stimulation of such contributed exploitation finances, in a commercial way, that Rickard was paying the newspaper boys. A number of very prominent publishers, at various times, questioned him about the stories of his "pay roll" and a newspaper trade journal made some inquiries from some of the "big" writers who didn't make the Garden as a regular beat.

The inquiries resulted in the decision that if there happened to be any of that sort of thing going on the information would never come from Rickard.

"I told one editor," Rickard said, "that I didn't think he was much of an editor if he had to go around finding out about his own men and that if what the boys wrote about me wasn't wanted in the paper that the editor certainly ought to be the feller that could keep it out."

Rickard was just naturally what the reporter knows in his game as "good copy." He had amazing color in his background, there was romance in everything that he had done, there was news in nearly everything he said and there was a column of anecdote in every chin fest with him.

And, as far as I know, he never told a lie to a newspaperman. He would be evasive at times, he would refuse to answer you and when caught in a pinch he might hold you to a confidence with almost a daring faith that you would shoot as square with him as he had shot with you.

He was amazingly frank. I know of reporters who have gone around in New York for days with first page stories in their pockets because Rickard had told them that it was confidential until he gave the word. It was his shrewd way of putting the stiller on a story. And I know of one or two reporters who could print some astounding things now that Rickard had told them about politicians and the like. He told these reporters then they could use their own judgment about printing them. They weren't printed and we believe that they will not be printed now even in the fever to publish everything that anyone knows about the man's life.

Along with his frankness, his wealth of news and his established reputation for veracity was his most obliging way of being affable, genial and accessible at any hour of the day or night. I am sure it was all natural with him and I never have met a big man who was so consistently agreeable day after day over the course of the last 10 years as Tex Rickard was. If he didn't have a story for you he would go to any reasonable lengths to stand for one and the lengths were usually left to the reporter who had some kind of a tough assignment from the desk.

He would always answer the phone in his office and he would leave word where he could be found if he wasn't in. He didn't have his home number in the phone book. Most big men don't and most big men refuse to give their number to any newspaper source. Rickard would give his to any reporter and he would never answer with a grouch when he was pulled out of a bed.

One afternoon in his office he told the boys that his home number had been changed. He mentioned the new number and added—"If you don't have to, don't be calling me at three in the morning and askin' me if I been killed in an auto smashup."

Rickard had a full realization of the value of publicity, but I always thought that he didn't know the real value of information he had. He would sit down at his desk at times and knock you off your chair with a story that he considered to be casual. Maybe it was an act but he never was an actor. His own publicity department never got any hot stories from him. The hot stories just fell out bit by bit when he was talking. Maybe it was an act. He was an amazing man.

He knew the mechanics of news, however. He certainly did. One afternoon he said to me in his office: "Wish there'd be some kind of a rumor come out of Chicago that I was going to put on a show out there. Kinda like to see what the fellers out there would say about it."

"That wouldn't be very definite. It wouldn't cause any comment if you didn't say what it was," I said. "Well, I can do that," he went on casually. "If you can, you write the story that I am going to put Dempsey and Tunney in there on Sept. 22 in that big stadium they got out there."

"Good Lord, are you going to do that?" I asked, almost reaching for the phone.

"Yeh, but whoa there, young feller. I said that was to come out of Chicago and I ain't to be quoted. If you can use it yourself without gettin' me into it, you can use it. But don't quote me."

This was a month before the announcement was made and he lived up to the facts when he made the official announcement.

ALIENISTS BATTLE AT HARSH'S TRIAL

State Puts Its Experts on the Stand to Prove Thrill Slayer Sane.

Court Room, Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 18.—The battle of alienists over the life of George Harsh, self-styled "thrill" slayer, was resumed today in his trial here for the slaying of Willard Smith, a drug clerk, in a hold-up last October.

It was the state's turn. They paraded expert after expert to the witness stand to refute the opinions of the defense's imposing array of psychiatrists who declared Harsh is a "constitutional psychopath" and mentally irresponsible.

Indications were that the trial probably would not reach the jury until sometime tomorrow, following the action of the state in introducing voluminous expert testimony in rebuttal. The defense probably will start its rebuttal today.

Seemed Normal. Dr. E. C. Thrash, Atlanta alienist who examined Harsh in the county jail, Dr. W. A. Arnold and Dr. J. L. Campbell, both of Atlanta, testified that in their opinion Harsh seemed normal mentally and physically.

The defense has put on the stand galaxy of notable psychiatrists and neurologists who described Harsh as living in the realm of fantasy, and dreaming of romance and adventure with himself playing the role of hero. All the while tortured by the stark realization that mental and physical defects made him a weakling Harsh, in a word, was the possessor of an "inferiority complex," they contended.

Harsh has confessed to the murder of Smith, and also to the slaying of S. H. Meeks, a grocery clerk, in another October hold-up.

DEMOCRATS CONTRIBUTING
 New York, Jan. 18.—Contributions continued to arrive in large numbers at Democratic headquarters today in response to former Governor Al Smith's radio appeal for aid in wiping out the Democratic Party's debt. The contributions are coming from all parts of the country and are accompanied by requests for the book of Sm's campaign speeches, which he promised to each contributor of at least $2.
 The largest order was from George W. Olivey, Tammany leader, who paid $20,000 for 10,000 volumes of the book to be used by his organization. Other sums ranged from $1 to $100.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, Jan. 18.—Under the strong leadership of United States Steel and the stocks of the Copper, Nickel, Lead and other metals the industrial stocks swung into another vigorous upward movement today. Spectacular gains were recorded in a number of the high-priced specialties which have been dancing on the tape in the last week or two, and which to all appearances are headed for still higher levels.
 The market was compelled at times to slow up for the inevitable profit-taking. There was not the slightest hesitation about the strong upward trend of the market as a whole. By pushing through to 175, the highest price in its history, U. S. Steel Common again asserted its right to market leadership, giving plenty of encouragement to the bulls. Though a stock dividend for "steal" is by no means certain, influential Wall street authorities are confidently predicting a larger cash dividend.
 International Nickel made an overnight jump of about 6 points and sold actively at 64, equivalent to 220 for the old stock. St. Joseph Lead stormed along to 87 3/4, up 25 points for the week a merger talk, and Green Cananea Copper sold up 7 points at 178 1/2. Chile Copper was in demand on reports that the Anaconda Company would pay generously for some of the minority stock outstanding.
 The bulls were equal to the task of "rotting out" a number of new favorites, which were given a whirl and displayed to the best advantage for the benefit of stock trader. Electric Autolite scaled the heights to above 162 in a brilliant new move; Simmons Company sold above par in a 4-point jump to 101 1/2 and Johns Manville sold up 12 points at 212 1/2.

But probably they have foods on Mars that we couldn't duplicate on this planet—not even at Pinehurst, where you can get about anything in terrestrial nourishment. Anyhow, it's doubtful if they have anything there that's half as good as ROAST BEEF. Like as not they take their vitamins and their protein and the albumin meat. No joy in that.
 Let's stick to the Roast Beef idea. And while we're sticking to it let's stick to a Pinehurst Rib Roast—cut from the choicest of Choice American Heavy beef and either boned and rolled or—better yet in our private view, standing and cut short; the ideal oven roast.
 Or, if you had that last time, try a Pot Roast from the same grade of beef—a juicy finely flavored chuck cut, or a Bottom or Top Round piece, or Sirloin Tips or Shoulder Clods.
 Something different yet? Well, here's a thought: Tell us how much Round Steak to put through the grinder for you—and have a Swiss Steak. All the elements in it, and the finest of cookery possibilities. It's 44 cents a pound just now. We said a pound—not thirteen or fourteen ounces.
 Pinehurst Hamburg is another week-end suggestion. Always the same grade of beef you know, with exactly what proportion of pork you want—if any—ground with it. At 30 cents.
 If the idea of Red Meat fails, how about a Milk Fed Roasting Fowl or Chicken?
 Or a Roast of that white, tender, juicy Corn Fed Pork. Or a Shoulder of Lamb?
 Honestly, we don't believe Mars has got anything on us, after all.
 Please remember that Pinehurst's phone service operates till 9 o'clock this evening, with deliveries any time you specify tomorrow, after 8 in the morning.
 Phone 2000.

We strongly recommend Pork and Pot Roasts this week. Price and quality considered they are economical cuts.

The "beauty diet" that made her ugly

SHE was one girl who was going to stay attractive—so she watched her "beauty diet." But, all the time, she was missing something every diet should have. In the dishes she so carefully selected there was scarcely any roughage. Constipation gained a foothold. Soon, her charm, her strength—the very youth she thought to protect—were paying the price!

Thousands of women and men are paying the price of soft, fibreless meals. Many are dieting—and yet they defeat their own purposes because constipation continues to poison the system. No other evil is more widespread. It may start with aching heads and bleached cheeks. It often ends with serious trouble and disease.

And more's the pity when it can be so easily prevented by means of a simple cereal. So quickly relieved. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring sure relief . . . safe prevention!

An out-of-town person visiting Manchester might get the idea that that was a college town drawing the conclusion from the number of boys wearing caps of the "grape-skin" type commonly worn by college freshmen.

The students are not freshmen, they are haughty seniors. They are not of any college but of the High school here. They are wearing white caps with crimson peaks and triangular buttons, the school colors.

The caps were worn for the first time at the weekly assembly yesterday afternoon.

SPUN SILK FABRICS

UNPOPULAR IN U. S.

But Will Always Be Made as Long as There Is Waste from Silk Cocoons.

Frank Cheney, Jr., spoke last night at the monthly meeting of Cheney Brothers Get-Together club for his subject, "The History and Development of Spun Silk Processes at Cheney Brothers." Mr. Cheney said in substance: "Speaking from what my father has told me and what I have read in the books of the company, the spun silk industry of Cheney Brothers was started in 1854 or '55." "The silk worm spends his whole life in making raw silk. When it starts the cocoon it is a novice at the work, and the result is an inferior filament. As it spins it grows steadily weaker and weaker with the result that the silk also is inferior in the inside as well as outside. This silk waste is thrown to one side. The silkworms have to be allowed to come out for future moths and butterflies. The fibres are severed making the silk useless. In Japan this waste was used to pad and felt the inside of coats. In America it was thrown away."

First Manufacture.

As long ago as 1840 men began to study on the use of silk fibre and spinning for commercial purposes. A beautiful yarn possible. This industry was started in France, England and Italy. In 1855 Cheney Brothers bought the mill that is now the carpenter shop. At that time it was a mill for manufacturing yarn. The machinery was manufactured. In buying this place the machinery was included. Cheney Brothers then found a way to use this machinery on silk waste to make yarn. This yarn was coarse, even and lumpy, and was used for curtains and things like that. As a whole the business was unsuccessful. It being found that they were going about it the wrong way.

A few machines were then bought in England in 1858 and for the first time in this country spinning and knitting of spun silk was done, in a very small way. John Salt, a Frenchman, with some experience in that line was employed to make the business pay. It was a long, uphill fight and for many months it looked like failure. Things were going along fairly well when the Civil War broke out. Business again picked up because of the great demand for garments for soldiers.

"Salt's Mill."

In 1868 three hundred people were engaged in the manufacture of spun silk. All machinery was bought of Greenwood & Bentley, of Manchester, England. What is now the finishing room in the Old Mill was then used for production of spun silk. In the '60's spun silk grog yarn was developed by Cheney Brothers. The silk was very durable and very stiff. Today you couldn't even give it away. It isn't adapted to the clinging fashion. In 1888 more room was needed. The Spinning mill, known as Salt's mill was started. John Salt was the superintendent. He was a man who kept what he knew to himself. In 1883, when I started in Salt left taking with him all the knowledge of the business.

Harry Cheney and I took control of the business which increased steadily to its present size. In the year 1900 the gain in production was considerable. Italy, France, Switzerland and Japan were all producing spun silk at a high rate.

At this time the rayon business developed displacing the spun silk industry, which is not needed now as much as before. But, as long as there is waste spun silk will be produced.

Not Desired Here.

Japan has an extensive business. They use all waste because the women wear the stiff clothes, not being as fussy as the American women. Spun silk is very hard to sell in America. The big business industries in Europe work in close harmony with prices, etc., producing a very good quality of cloth. Cheap labor makes more hand work possible. English spinners were at one time, very prosperous and away ahead of the other nations. But now the Continentals are ahead of England, where the manufacture of the product has decreased.

The process of making spun silk is very long and expensive and unless new methods of producing are discovered will always be so. Anything new, at present or in the next few years, is impossible, as the business has been developed to its highest point. The future of spun silk depends on the position that rayon takes. If rayon gets more like real silk, the future is very doubtful. But, as long as there is waste, spun silk producing will be necessary.

Chicken Dinner.

In spite of the unfavorable weather nearly a hundred were present at the monthly Get-Together at Cheney last night. After a dinner of roast chicken, a short program was held, after which a drawing was held. Allan Dexter winning the attendance prize. Entertainment was provided by a black-face comedian assisted by two young ladies. The trio joked and sang and kept the diners in good humor.

Frank Cheney, Jr., then introduced Rev. E. J. Paddock of the Inter-Mountain Institute of Welsley, Idaho. Rev. Paddock's talk was interspersed with much humor and his account of the "wild and woolly west" in the days when the mining craze shook the nation had his audience in gales of laughter from start to finish. Rev. Paddock will speak at the Center Congregational church on Sunday.

Bill Wadley's orchestra played many popular numbers during the supper.

MORGAN AND YOUNG

TO REPRESENT U. S.

Washington, Jan. 13.—J. Pierpont Morgan and Owen D. Young will be formally advised today that they have been selected by the allied governments of Europe to be the American experts to participate in the forthcoming reparations meeting.

Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador, left Washington today for New York to acquaint the two with the details of the foreign governments and formally ask them to serve. Thomas N. Perkins of Boston will be asked to serve as alternate.

"I have great hopes that Mr. Morgan will agree to serve," said Sir Esme.

Young's consent already has been secured, it was said.

CENTER CHURCH IN PROSPEROUS STATE

Annual Supper and Meeting

Last Night—All Officers Reports Read.

Between 175 and 200 of the members of the Center Congregational church gathered last night in the parish hall for the annual meeting and supper. This was considered a fair representation of the church family considering the widespread illness, the stormy weather and difficult travelling. Following an appetizing meal served at 6 o'clock by a large committee of workers from the women's Federation, a short musical program was provided under the direction of Mrs. C. P. Quimby. The church quartet interspersed several vocal numbers between selections by a girls' trio from the High school composed of piano, violin and viola. Printed reports of the officers and organizations showing statistics with regard to membership, finances and other details were at each plate, and indicated that the church affairs are in a prosperous condition at the present time. The membership, including non-residents has reached a total of 523; 63 men and women have been welcomed into the church during the year, about equally divided as to admission on confession of faith or by letter from other churches. The church has lost nine members by death and 2 by letter, and 6 attendants of the church not on the membership rolls have been removed by death.

The report of the Ecclesiastical society, William L. Parkie, chairman, showed a balance in the treasury Jan. 1 of $994.31, and in the invested funds of the church a total of $22,845.64. A total of $3,075.55 has been spent for outside benevolences in both the home and foreign field.

The report of the Sunday school, which includes all departments and the Men's League, shows a total membership of 680 with an average attendance of 82, and collections of $763.75, and other receipts amounting to $1,268.13.

Mrs. J. A. Irvine reported for the Women's Federation of the church, a comparatively new amalgamation of all the women's organizations under the leadership of Mrs. C. W. Holman and an efficient executive board. This idea of federating the women workers is now being adopted by the more progressive Congregational church.

Clarence F. Quimby reported for the Men's League and gave a resume of what had been accomplished by that body and the work among the men and boys in general. R. La Motte Russell who was to have explained the plans of the building committee for the proposed new church annex, was unable to be present because of illness. Mr. Russell had slides prepared of the additions and alterations and these stereopticon views were shown and created much interest.

Loyal Circle of King's Daughters, under the leadership of Mrs. J. A. Hood, has expended a total of $525.79 during the past year in gifts of fruit, flowers and clothing to those who are sick or in need. Herewithal to meet these disbursements has been earned in various activities and there is still a balance of more than $250 for further community charitable work. Charles E. House is entering upon his fortieth consecutive year as clerk of the church, and a special vote of thanks and appreciation for his long and faithful services was accorded to him by the meeting.

Officers for the Sunday school are always elected at this annual meeting, and in every case the officers and superintendents of the different departments were re-elected last night. The nominating committee, composed of Herbert B. House, Lucius Foster and Mrs. J. A. Hood submitted its report and the officers and committees recommended by the committee were unanimously elected. They are as follows:

Deacons appointed to succeed

John A. Hood and Lucius M. Foster whose terms have expired, are Theodore H. Bidwell and Arthur N. Potter. The other four deacons are G. Samuel Bohlin, Elbert M. Shelton, Charles E. House and Leonard Church.

Church clerk: Charles E. House; church committee, the pastor, deacons and Sunday school superintendents, also Ray E. Pillsbury, Mrs. James A. Irvine, Miss Doris Langdon, Mrs. T. H. Bidwell, Mrs. James Johnston.

Ushers: Charles F. Marshall, chairman; Ray and Roy Warren, Robert McComb, Jr., Leslie Dotchin, E. Royal Marshall, W. H. Gardner, William H. Holmes, Arthur Keeney, H. B. House, James A. Irvine, Elliott Knight, James Barr, Walter Hobby, Henry Danson, Stephen Williams; flower committee, Miss Mary Chapman, Miss Helen Chapman, Mrs. Samuel G. Gordon, Mrs. Annesley Trotter, Mrs. Fred Carpenter.

At the close, Rev. Watson Woodruff submitted his eighth annual report to the church. This verbal report is always one of the most interesting items of the program as the account of the professional services of the pastor in the printed report gives but a meager record of his work in the church, the parish and community.

The sledges Scott and his men had sapped their strength to haul contained trophies of the journey—coal, fossil wood, rare minerals, fragments of coral. Search was made for the body of Oates, but the snow had swallowed it. A cairn was set up to mark the approximate site, with a note telling of Oates' brave act. (To Be Continued.)

DO IT NOW! Listen, lad; do not be waiting— Do it now! Give no thought to hesitating— Do it now! If you think you'll start tomorrow...

LETTER GOLF

A CLEAN PUZZLE

SOAP SUDS supply the working material for today's puzzle. Par is six and one solution is on another page:

Grid for the SOAP SUDS puzzle. The grid contains the letters S, O, A, P in the top row and S, U, D, S in the bottom row.

THE RULES

- 1—The idea of Letter Golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.

The historians have found out the reason George Washington threw a silver dollar across the Delaware was to teach a Scotchman to swim.

When Clowey took one little drink, he too began to shrink and shrink. "Oh, gee," said he, "I hope that I don't fade right out of sight. This is a funny thing to do. Just look, my clothes are shrinking too. When I first started getting small it give me quite a fright."

care? Let's ride once more, up in the air. Our engine still is near at hand. Let's try and start the thing. "Ha, ha," laughed Clowey. "We can't ride, 'cause we're too small to crawl inside. And, anyway, we haven't strength to start each monstrous wing."

HERALD CARRIER PLANS TO ENTER UNIVERSITY

Herman Goodstein Given Party as Farewell—Leaves for School on Tuesday.

A surprise good will party was held last night at the home of Walter Glaman in honor of Herman Goodstein, Carrier No. 1 of the Herald's paper boys, who is to leave next Tuesday for Boston and become a student in the engineering department at the Northeastern University. There were about twenty present when Herman arrived at 8 o'clock at the home of Glaman and he was much surprised at the number that had gathered without his knowledge to bid him Goodspeed on his new venture.

The money that he will use in pursuing a higher education was made by peddling of papers and because of his taking the largest number of papers of any boy that comes to The Herald plant on Bissell street, was given No. 1 position to allow him to get an early start to cover his route of over 200 customers. He recently disposed of fifty of his customers and his young brother will continue to carry the same route and assist his brother in his course in engineering financially.

COLORED GLASSWARE POPULAR AT EXHIBIT

J. W. Hale Company's Buyer Returns from Annual Show in Pittsburgh.

"Colored glassware is not going out of style, but is gaining in popularity," according to Paul G. Ferris, buyer of house furnishings for the J. W. Hale Company, who returned last night from Pittsburgh, Pa., where he attended the 49th annual glass and china show.

For some time there has been reports that the crystal glassware would replace the colored, but Mr. Ferris says this rumor was not substantiated at the national exhibition where a great majority of the glassware pieces displayed were colored. The exhibition was held in two hotels, the William Penn and Fort Pitt. It lasted two weeks and was attended by representatives of many of the leading manufacturing concerns and distributing houses in various parts of the country.

WOULD GIVE HOSPITALS GOOD LIQUOR SEIZED

There was but little business done, aside from making committee assignments in either branch of the State Legislature yesterday, but among the bills introduced were two by Rep. Raymond A. Johnson of this place, floor leader. One authorizes the disposal of "good" liquor seized by the police by sending it to hospitals. The other authorizes the governor to appoint a committee of three to arrange for the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the first settlement of Connecticut, the committee to report back to the General Assembly of 1931, as the 300th anniversary does not come until 1933.
