PARTY LINES SPLIT OVER 'DRY' BUDGET

Rep. Weller Calls It Good Example of Throwing Good Money After Bad.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The impending fight in the House over the $24,000,000 prohibition appropriation and the regulation upon Secretary of Treasury Mellon's tax refunding methods today threatened to provoke a split among the wets and the dries but to break down party lines as well. Backers of both the Harris prohibition amendment and the McKellar tax provision will make an effort to prevent the bill from being sent to conference, it was indicated. While House leaders have not set a date for the expected melee on the floor, it was anticipated that the matter would be considered Saturday or early next week.

Wets Divided
The discord among the dries over the $24,000,000 addition to prohibition enforcement funds was matched by a rift among the wets. White Rep. Laguardia (R) of New York, one of the leading wets, was seeking support for the amendment, to prove that prohibition cannot be enforced, other New York wets were taking the other side.

"This is the best example of throwing good money after bad that has come to my attention in years," said Rep. Weller (D) of New York, a wet.

A previous quarrel over tax refunds in the House found Rep. Garrett of Tenn., Democratic floor leader, and other Democrats, lined up against Rep. Garner (D) of Texas, probable next floor leader. A party split was anticipated on the McKellar amendment.

TODAY IN CONGRESS

Washington, Jan. 25.—The day in Congress:
Senate:
Adjourns as mark of respect to former Senator Oscar W. Underwood.
Senator Hale (R) of Maine, in charge of administration of naval bill, announces will battle to retain "time clause" in bill.
Interstate Commerce Committee approves nomination of Charles H. March, of Minnesota, as member Federal Trade Commission.
Senator Copeland (D) of New York asks Congressional recognition of Captain George Fried and crew of America for heroic rescue at sea.
House:
Devoted floor session chiefly to private calendar.
Ohio radio controversy aired before committee.
Poultry and eggs producers asked higher tariff protection of ways and means committee.

FIND BIG STILL

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 25.—Answering a burglary call in a building in the center of the downtown business district today, Baltimore police were astonished to find the most complete hidden distillery ever located here.

The still occupied four floors of one building and had a pipe line in to another, where alcohol was canned in 5-gallon containers. There was a 3,000-gallon modern apparatus for redistilling industrial alcohol and 15,000 gallons of denatured alcohol were found. The outfit was estimated to be worth not less than $50,000.

The police entered the place after a passer-by had seen two men examining the building with flashlights.

BETTER EMIGRANTS.

Washington, Jan. 25.—An attempt is soon to be made to raise the standard of emigrants from Mexico to the United States.

Secretary of State Kellogg, it was learned today, has called to attention of American consulars in Mexico the necessity for a closer application of the immigration law having to do with granting of visas.

There is no restriction of emigration from Mexico to this country except the restriction applying to all countries as to character, health and a valid reason for desiring to enter.

TOM GUINAN GUILTY

New York, Jan. 25.—Tommy Guinan, brother of the widely known "Texas" Guinan, and proprietor of the night club Ches Florence, was found guilty of maintaining a nuisance in that place by a federal jury today.

The jury deliberated forty minutes.

Guinan's club was among those raided by federal agents in Mable Willebrandt's campaign to dry up Broadway. Charges of conspiracy and other violations of the liquor laws had been reduced to maintaining a nuisance.

DEATHS

MRS. TEDFORD DIES AS GOLDEN WEDDING NEARS

Would Have Celebrated 50th Wedding Anniversary on March 4, Dies Yesterday.

Mrs. Mary A. Tedford, aged 69, wife of John Tedford of 50 Wetherell street, died at her home late yesterday afternoon after a brief illness. Mr. and Mrs. Tedford have been looking forward to the celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary March 4 next.

Mrs. Tedford had been a resident of this town for 42 years. She was well known and well liked. In addition to her husband, she is survived by four sons, Robert J., Thomas, Albert and Alexander, all of Manchester; three daughters, Mrs. Anna Brown of Glastonbury, Mrs. Mary Arnold and Mrs. Ellen Anderson, both of town; twenty-two grand children and three great grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Preston of Ireland. She was a member of St. Mary's Episcopal church.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon with prayers at the home at 2 o'clock and at St. Mary's church at 2:30. Rev. S. J. Neill will officiate. Burial will be in the East cemetery.

MAKES UNREASONABLE REQUEST OF POLICE

The police headquarters received a call this afternoon from a gas-line and garage station in Columbia street, in which the owner of a Studebaker light six closed car, number not known, that was coming towards Manchester. The car had been brought into the station this morning in trouble. The garage man had worked upon it and fixed it up. The driver of the car, whom he did not know, got in to try it out and kept on going forgetting the necessary part, as far as the garage owner was concerned, in paying for the work. The local police did not have the number and name and could not stop the different cars of that make which came through Manchester.

RAIDS IN WINSTED

Winsted, Conn., Jan. 25.—Following raids last night by three state police from the Canaan barracks, under Lieutenant Frederick Brandt and local police, five local residents were today convicted of liquor law violations and given jail sentences and heavy fines.

The sentences were imposed as follows:
Thomas Gurney, 36 Depot street, $100 and five days; Helen Hayo, 36 Depot street, $250, and 15 days, sentence suspended; Tony Di Maruro, 39 Chestnut street, $212 and ten days; Oracio Ineino, 28 Maple street, $217 and ten days; John Kilsel, 110 Meadow street $217 and ten days.

THE CURB MARKET

New York, Jan. 25.—Sharp advances in the utilities and old favorites, accompanied by a complete rally from the irregularity of the previous session marked trading in the Curb Market today. Easy money and the unexpectedly small increase in the brokers' loans figures reported by the reserve bank system served to restore confidence to the bulls.

Checker Cab was prominent in the miscellaneous industrials, jumping 6 points to 65, a new top, on expectations of the favorable showing the company will make in the early part of the present year.

American Cyanamid B, Bisho's Aluminum & Brass, Guardian Fire Insurance, Lehigh Coal & Navigation, Lake Superior Corp which reached a new high, National Bellas Hess, National Tea new and Pirelli, who also attained a new top, were other strong features.

LIVE NOTE.

A pretty little clock sometimes can contribute a friendly live note that makes a living thing of a room that was entirely inanimate before.

SLEPPER PILLOWS.

Many people who do not like to sleep on pillows get cold in the neck at night. A very good way to keep the wind from going down the neck is to use a tiny slumber pillow filled with down and very sparsely filled so it will be flat.

LEMON-RAISINS.

Raisins soaked overnight in lemon juice, makes a novel addition to breakfast food. Serve the food thin and do not use milk over it.

THIRD MANION SISTER TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Miss Katie Manion of Galloway street, who has been caring for her sister, who died yesterday and is to be buried tomorrow and who had another sister who was buried Monday morning, was this afternoon taken to the Manchester Memorial hospital. Her condition was considered as critical earlier in the day. She is resting comfortably this afternoon.

ITALY AND AMERICA TO HONOR BRAVE CREW

Rear Admiral Billard, of the Coast Guard, said he would see to it that lifesaving medals are presented to the crew.

CONGRESS TO ACT
Washington, Jan. 25.—Early action is expected in Congress on the resolution of Rep. Bisco (D) of New York to award medals to Captain George Fried and members of his crew who rescued 82 men from the Italian freighter Florida.

Enthusiastic applause greeted the resolution and a speech in the House by Rep. Gibson (R) of Vermont lauding the rescuers.

The resolution not only authorizes the secretary of treasury to strike off suitable gold medals but expresses the "thanks and appreciation" for the crew's "heroic and noble conduct."

One of the medals would go to Fried and to "each of such persons as are certified by him to have shown special courage in the rescue."

Applause punctuated Gibson's panegyric on the America's crew.

"Few of us appreciate the perils of the deep sea when waves are lashed into fury by winds and storms," he said. "We cannot visualize the full meaning of call of distress across hundreds of miles of almost impassable storm-tossed waters."

"Then stout hearts; clear heads and calm judgment are necessary for effective action."

"It is a matter of deepest gratification that these have been found in coordination in the American officers and American seamen of the United States lines sailing under the flag of our country."

Under present plans the rescue crew would be brought to Washington to receive the medals, probably at the hands of the president.

MORE STORMS TODAY.

New York, Jan. 25.—Seemingly discontent with the havoc wrought in the North Atlantic during the past few days, gales swept into the South Atlantic today and two steamers and their crews of nearly sixty men were in jeopardy in southern waters as relief was speeding to them from southern ports.

The Dixano, an American sugar transport, plying between New Orleans and Cuba, was held fast on a reef off the Cuban coast while a Norwegian vessel believed to be the Fern Lane, was reported wallowing helplessly southeast of Bermuda with her rudder and stern frame broken.

The vessels, both of about 4,000 tons, were reported in no immediate danger.

The salvage steamer, Warbler, the same which assisted in the rescue of passengers from the grounded President Garfield, was enroute to the Dixano.

The salvage tug Norfolk put out to aid the Norwegian, ship which runs between Cuba and New York.

Another near disaster was averted when the steamer City of Lowell went to the aid of the liner Georgia, helpless off the Connecticut coast with a broken propeller, and towed her into port at New Haven, after transferring passengers.

It won't be long now until we know what Hoover eats for breakfast, and what time the clock is wound and the cat kicked downstairs.

SHARKEY, CHRISTNER, WEIGH IN FOR BOUT

Ignore Each Other as They Step on Scales—Weigh Almost the Same.

New York, Jan. 25.—Jack Sharkey and K. O. Christner, principals in tonight's 10-round heavyweight fight at Madison Square Garden, utterly ignored each other's presence this afternoon as they went through the official weighing in ceremony at the offices of the State Athletic Commission. Sharkey gave Christner, overnight sensation as a result of his knockout of Knute Hanson, the barest glance as they approached the scales. The Akron giant appeared to be unaware of the other's presence.

They weighed within a half pound of each other. Sharkey scaling 193 and Christner 193½ pounds. The former ruled a prohibitive favorite at 4 to 1 with little Christner money in sight. Commissioner William Muldoon supervised the weighing in. It is believed that a clean cut victory for Sharkey tonight will assure success for the Sharkey-Stripling fight at Miami Beach late next month.

Jack Gross, Philadelphia, a semi-finalist tonight, enjoyed a 26-pound advantage over his opponent, Emmett Brock, another Pennsylvanian. Lee weighed 189 pounds, Gross 206. In another feature bout, Canada Lee, New York, weighing 148 pounds, will meet Elly Murphy, Boston, a stablemate of Sharkey's. Murphy weighed 149½ pounds.

The northernmost telephone pole in the Western Hemisphere is at Noorvik, Alaska. The line is maintained by the government.

RADIO PHOTOGRAPH CATCHES SUNDLER

Found Occupying Best Cabin On Board Ship Bound for the Orient.

New York, Jan. 25.—The radio got its man. Across the continent and over the Pacific ocean for 2,600 miles to Honolulu it flashed the photograph of an alleged swindler which resulted in his arrest.

Today, Constantino Querubon, a Filipino, is bound back to New York, the man who was caught by the law with the assistance of a radioed picture. But for the new marvel of science he would now be living a life of ease in Japan.

Querubon had jumped $2,000 bail while indicted proceedings were pending for alleged swindling activities in Brooklyn. It is alleged he went to the Dollar steamship line offices and obtained $7,000 worth of transportation and $4,000 in American Express Company travelers checks by means of a fraudulent draft.

Then he headed westward, bound for the Orient. Detectives from New York trailed him across the country to San Francisco. Detectives are not as fast as the radio, and they missed him by one day.

A radio message was despatched to the captain of the steamship Tonyo Maru. Within a short time there was an answer. Yes, a man answering the description was aboard and occupying the best cabin.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, Jan. 25.—Speculative enthusiasm in the stock market ran riot today as prices of many of the industrial favorites raced up 2 to 20 points on a wave of aggressive buying which swept everything before it.

Release from the nervous pressure over the money situation which has been holding things in check in the last two or three days, the market gave its "fast steppers" another whirl into high price territory.

The return of Bethlehem Steel to the dividend-paying class let down the barrier speculative buying of the steel stocks, and with a whoop and roar traders rushed into the market at the opening. The first block of U. S. Steel Common changed hands at 189, after which the stock jumped to a new high record price of 192 1/2, up 9 points from Thursdays close.

Bethlehem advanced to 86, up 2 1/2, but forecasts of the dividend were so accurate that most of the investment buying of this stock has been completed.

Nash Motors burned the tape for the Motor stocks, with a new 9-point jump to 118 1/2, and a heavy turnover. General Motors, Studebaker and other members of this group sold up 1 to 3 points. Johns Manville, Union Carbide, Cash Register, Radio, and the rest of "the bunch" of specialties which have been carrying forward in high handed fashion since the turn of the year, were as light as a feather and easily moved up 10 to 15 points on top of previous moves of 40 to 75 points.

A new 5 point jump in Consolidated Gas of New York brought that stock up to a new high at 115 1/2. With stock transactions of 2-650,000 shares up to the noon period, or at the rate of 6,500,000 shares for the full session, today's market was one of the most active of the year.

Wall street brokerage houses were rushed to the limit to keep pace with the enormous in-pouring of buying orders from all sources and the customers' rooms at the commission, houses were filled with roaring, excited bull traders, to many of whom large profits have come from successful "picking" of the fast-steppers in the markets of 1928 and 1929 to date.

PUBLIC RECORDS

Warrantee Deeds. Rudolph and Mary Kissman to John G. Mahoney, Lot No. 4 of the South Manchester Heights extension, being located on the north side of Eldridge street.

The deed was given on October 11, 1917 but was left for record today. Mary S. Bliss has sold to Charles Smith the place occupied by Mr. Bliss on the turn on the south side of Middle turnpike.

This is now used as a garage but was at one time a gathering place for residents of Manchester Green, there being a small hall in the upper part of the building known to the older residents as Bliss Hall.

CARLOAD OF MAYTAGS DELIVERED YESTERDAY

The Home Electric Appliance Corporation, located in the State Theater building since Dec. 10, the Manchester franchise dealer for Maytag Washers, unloaded a carload of washers yesterday.

This shipment carried 83 washers and is the third to come here in less than a year.

Included in the shipment is a new low price Maytag Washer which from all reports is a huge success. The Manchester dealers are the first in New England to receive this new model.

? OVER ALABAMA

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 25.—The "Question Mark" Army endurance plane, passed over Atlanta at 12:10 p. m. today and signalled that it would not stop. The plane took off from Montgomery, Ala., earlier in the day.

The plane probably will stop at Greensboro, N. C., for the night.

HILLIARD POWER PLANT IS NEAR COMPLETION

Wires Strung Today from New Station to the Mills at Hillardville.

The new power plant that the E. Hilliard Company has been building is nearing completion and this morning men in the employ of the Manchester Electric Company were stringing the power wires from the new station to the mills.

The new power station is located to the east of Adams street, is larger than the older station and also in a new location, being near the south end of the pond just to the north of the spillway.

OSCAR W. UNDERWOOD, OF ALABAMA, DEAD

Such was his prestige that when Senator Martin of Virginia died he became floor leader of the Upper House.

In the long fight over the treaty of Versailles, Senator Underwood supported President Wilson.

When President Harding came into office and called the famous Washington arms conference, Underwood was one of the "Big-Four" for the United States.

Then came his unsuccessful try for the presidential nomination and his retirement from public life.

Although funeral arrangements have not been completed, members of the family said the body would be taken to Birmingham for interment.

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 25.—Princeton sports turned in a surplus of $32,765 for the academic year of 1927-28, according to the financial report of the athletic association. The only paying sports however, were football, which netted $233,440, and basketball, with a surplus of $5,680.

FILM DOUBLE KILLED IN PARACHUTE JUMP Husband Who Leaped With Her from Plane Suffers Only Sprained Ankle. Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 25.—The failure of her parachute to open when she and her husband made a simultaneous leap from an airplane, today was attributed to the death of Leta Wishart. The husband landed in a tree and escaped with a sprained ankle and bruises. Mrs. Wishart was instantly killed. She was said to have been doubling for Ruth Elder, famous trans-Atlantic aviatrice, in the filming of a picture at a ranch 15 miles from here when the accident occurred.

TRAWLER MISSING Boston, Jan. 25.—While the Coast Guard vessels in northern Atlantic waters were under orders to be on the lookout, the whereabouts of the steam trawler, Selner, owned by the Portland Trawling Co., of Groton, Conn., with a crew of 20 men aboard, was unknown today. Officials at headquarters expressed some anxiety. The Selner, which was due at New London four days ago, was believed to have been last heard from six days ago, when the wireless operator of the vessel was in communication with the Radio Marine Corporation station at Chatham. At that time the vessel's radio operator said the Selner had eleven days coal aboard.

Bugler Nichols blowing colors while the color guards and bearers brought the colors forward. The patrol leaders made their report to Scout Hanson and then held inspection in their patrols. The Lion patrol, leading patrol of the troop, won inspection. Scout Lewis is the patrol leader.

Scoutmaster Mercer spoke to the troop on contest work explaining the importance of the Scouts doing their best in practicing the contest games at the troop meeting. Try-outs were held and teams picked for contests with other troops.

The troops will hold a like on Saturday afternoon, and everyone must report at the Center at 1:30. The hikers will start east, visiting the "Bone Yard" about three miles out and then proceed several miles farther and try and find "Mystery Cave". Each scout must carry his own supper and must dress warmly or he will not be permitted to go.

Hebron, Jan. 25.—Of interest to the public is the fact that the Rev. John Deeter has secured Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, to lecture at the meeting of the Tri-County Union of Christian Endeavor Societies to be held at Hebron Center, Sunday evening, Jan. 27. The subject will be "The Kellogg Pact and the Navy Program." The meeting will be at the Congregational church, and will open at about 8 p. m.

The audience will be made up of people from Tolland, Hartford, and New London Counties, taking in quite a number of different towns. All are cordially invited to be present to hear this lecture on a subject of such general interest.

Mr. Libby, who was born in Richmond, Maine, is a graduate of Bowdoin College and Andover Theological Seminary. He spent a year at Oxford and one in the German Universities, coming to know intimately the militaristic phase of the German nation before the war. He served as a pastor at Magnolia, Mass., for seven years, afterwards visiting and studying the countries in the region of the Pacific ocean, Japan, China, Australia, New Zealand, etc. He was for seven years a teacher at Phillips-Exeter Academy. In 1918 he went to Europe with the Quaker Relief Committee, and after the war acted as their European Commissioner for Reconstruction, working in Germany, Austria, France, Poland, and Serbia. During his work with the Quakers Mr. Libby himself became a Friend. Convinced of the necessity for the abolition of war, he is working to unite the constructive forces of America for world peace. In 1921 he was instrumental in bringing together seventeen organizations supporting the plan for the limitation of armaments into the National Council. Under his direction as executive secretary the Council has grown in eight years to include thirty national organizations and it has soared its work through the country and developed lines of communication and cooperation with European peace groups, as a beginning toward an organized international peace group.

TELEPHONE EMPLOYEES MEET IN HARTFORD

Hartford, Jan. 25.—About 80 employees of the Southern New England Telephone Company, half of the number being the elected representatives of telephone workers in the Hartford District and the others acting for the management of the plant, Traffic and Commercial Conference Boards of the Telephone Employees Association, met here yesterday in departmental groups for discussion of association, business affairs and later heard addresses by officials from New Haven who gave an interesting outline of the company's construction and personnel program for the current year.

During the morning the different District Conference Boards met separately at the City Club. At noon all gathered for a joint luncheon, following which came the program of talks by the departmental officials from New Haven.

Charles T. Maloney, of Hartford, District Traffic Chief and chairman of the Traffic Board, acted as chairman of the afternoon meeting, and the speakers were E. L. Simonds, General Superintendent of Plant, F. L. Moore, General Superintendent of Traffic, J. L. Vietch, General Commercial Superintendent, and A. F. Brooks, Chief Engineer.

In their talks the visiting officials told of the objectives for 1929 of their respective departments, and they gave some most interesting information of the company's plans

POLA NEGRI AT CIRCLE TOMORROW

Is Starred in "A Woman from Moscow," One of Two Features.

One of the most powerful dramas of the year is to be given its initial showing in Manchester at the Circle theater Saturday and Sunday. It is Pola Negri in "The Woman from Moscow," her latest Paramount production.

The story is built around the amazing situation of a beautiful woman who sets out to avenge the murder of her fiance and falls in love with the killer. It is terrific, elemental drama and shows Miss Negri in all the dominating power

NEW BABY DISTURBS TIRED OFFICE WORKER

"When my oldest boy was just a few weeks old he was badly constipated from my milk," says a Nebraska mother. "He kept as awake as I, my husband almost slept over his desk at the office. Then my doctor got us to give Baby some Castoria and the next day he was much better. His stomach and bowels began acting perfectly and he gave us no more trouble." Avoid imitations of Castoria. The Fletcher signature marks the genuine, purely-vegetable, harmless Castoria, doctors everywhere advise for those ill of babies and children, such as colic, constipation, colds, biliousness, etc.

This is the third of a series of large meetings to be held about the state at which employee representatives, chosen through the employee's association, will be given the same general information about the company's plans. They in turn report back to their constituents, at later meetings of the various councils of the association. In this way the employees of the company are kept fully informed concerning developments in the telephone business and are given the opportunity to discuss with the representatives of the management any business problems which relate to working conditions or employee welfare.

WAPPING
Mrs. Franklyn G. Welles Jr., of Woodbridge street, Manchester, entertained the Ski Club, at her home last Monday evening. A steak dinner was served in camp style, some of the various articles used were boxes for chairs, pans, cracked plates, newspapers for table cloths, paperbags for napkins, cards and singing followed the spread. All the Ski members had a very merry evening.

Francis Billings, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Billings is ill at his home this week with the grip cold.
Mrs. Ida M. Hart, and son Charles Hart of Hartford, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank House, on Wednesday.

Miss Ruth Stoddard is confined to her home with an attack of the grip.
Wapping Grange, held its second regular meeting on Tuesday evening, at the Center school hall. It was installation of officers with Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Curtis of Plainville with their assistants as installing officers. The following were the new officers installed: Worthy Master, Alfred Stone; Overseer, Robert Newcomb; lecturer, Mrs. Hattie Lane; Steward, Leslie Collins; assistant steward, Ivan West; chaplain, Mrs. Lillian E. Grant; treasurer, Levi T. Dewey; secretary, Walden V. Collins; gate keeper, Phillip Welles; ceres, Mrs. Rose Frink; flora, Mrs. Ruth Dewey; pomona, Mrs. Lena Batty; lady assistant steward, Miss Helen Lane, and pianist, Miss Harriet Sharp. Every officer was present.

The January meeting of patrol leaders was held at the home of Captain Elizabeth Norton, Saturday afternoon, January 19. There were seven girls present, 1 from Troop 3, 3 from Troop 5, and 3 from Troop 7. Although there was a rather small attendance the meeting was very interesting. There was a signaling contest and the girls practiced songs which will be used for the next scout rally and for the Scouts Own which will be held at the next meeting of the Iroquois. Miss Norton continued to the work on judging, in preparation for the first class judging test which she will give at the next meeting. All those interested in taking this test are urged to be present at the patrol leader's meeting in February.

Troop 3.
Last Friday most of the time was spent on 2nd class work.

Florence Hertsche, and Ethel McComb passed 2nd class signaling. Shirley Stephens, Katherine Koch, Dorothy Leason, Jennie Kose, Ruth Lunde, Helen Kose, passed 2nd class observation.

Troop 4.
The following have passed their "observation" and "table setting" tests: Marjory Mitchell, Doris Fynes, Betty Robinson, and Marion Wright. Priscilla Pillsbury has passed her table-setting test.

Troop 6.
Troop 6 held its meeting Monday with a large attendance. Songs for the February rally were practiced. The following girls are working on their tenderfoot tests: Ruth Phillips, Rhoda Moore, Barbara Smith, Ethel Moore, Violet Hubbard, Marjory Wallace, and Madeline Wallace. Plans for an entertainment to be given by the troop soon are in process.

Troop 7.
The Scouts of Troop 7 acted as waitresses at the anniversary supper of the Buckland Parent-Teacher Association Monday evening. Later in the evening the Scouts gave and acted the Scout laws. Captain Buckland told the audience the aims and purposes of scouting and explained the work in a very able manner.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Friday, January 25

New York City's golden age that preceded the World War will be described by excerpts of musical comedies during the program to be broadcast by WTIC and associated stations at 8:30 Friday night. Two solos and an orchestral selection from "The Prima Donna" will open the program. Jessica Dragonette, soprano, will sing "Dream Love" from the show, and Colin O'Mara, tenor, will present "Love Light." Among other descriptive numbers will be "The Two Roses," "What's a Kiss and 'Rose Marie.'" Miss Ludmila Fedorova, dramatic soprano; William Rainey, tenor; Bernard Ocko, violinist, and Mary Kropp, contralto, are to be the guest stars of the Concert Bureau hour through the WEAF chain at 10. Among the bright spots of the recital will be selections by Rainey, production manager of the N. B. C. These will include "Little Boy Blue," a medley of old-timers; "Summer in Rome" and "Love Song of Alceas-Lorraine." A group of railroad melodies by a male quartet and vocal soloists, will be featured by the "Five-Fifteen," at 8:30. The numbers to be presented are "On the Five-Fifteen," "When the Midnight Choo-Choo Leaves for Alabama," "My Sweetie's Due at the 2:32 Today" and "Alabam Bound." An old fiddlers' contest for old fiddlers living south of the Missouri River is scheduled by WGS at 9:15. From this recital there will be chosen five representatives for the state-wide championship contest.

RUBE MARQUARD TO PUT $50,000 IN MAINE CAMP

New York, Jan. 25.—Rube Marquard has no further baseball ambitions, but he is not going to live the life of ease he could if he wished. Baseball was very good to him, financially.

The Rube, who once was known as the $11,000 lemon and who later won 19 straight games for the New York Giants, will take Mrs. Marquard's advice about the future.

He is going to start a boys' camp in Maine this summer. "My wife has talked me into the idea that I could make a go of it," he says, "and I am going to try. I'm going to sink $50,000 in a camp near Winthrop, Me., and if I flop it won't kill me. I like boys and I think I can handle them."

The rumor that the seat of Congress had been moved to New York city the other day proved groundless. The report is said to have originated from the 71st Regiment Armory, scene of the talking marathon.

Great Britain now has one car to every 100 persons; this France only one to 137 people.

It was through Franz Schubert that the artistic songs became one of the master forms of modern music. Miss Helen Chapin will sing two of the most beloved of Schubert songs, "Frühlingsglaube" and "Who is Sylvia." Leonard Berman, pianist, will play one of the "songs without words" for which the Austrian composer is famous. Schubert wrote eight of these impromptus during his pitifully short but glorious life. The ensemble will offer three of his orchestration: I Ballet Music from "Rosamunde"

'GRANDMA' QUEEN AT POULTRY SHOW

But Strange New Bunnies Share Interest—F. W. Hill Is Rabbit Chief.

F. W. Hill won first prize for the best display of rabbits at the show of the Manchester Poultry Association, capturing 121 points. Leon Underhill & Son took second prize with 109 points. Howard Cheney of Porter street won the award for the best rabbit in the show with a Chinchilla buck.

Exhibits of interest at the show are many, one being "Grandma," a ten-year-old single comb Rhode Island Red. She comes from the celebrated Mahood strain and is of the progeny of the first prize winners at the Chicago Coliseum in 1918.

Hefty Old Girl

"Grandma" weighs ten pounds and at present is two pounds under weight at that. This is due to a spell of dyspepsia. She receives the best of care and is recovering speedily. "Grandma" is a voracious diner and included in her menu is two ounces of cooked meat served every night before bedtime. "Grandma" despite her advanced years, still retains "that school girl complexion" and also her girlish figure.

But "Grandma" is no pampered queen. Indeed, she does more than her share, laying between 75 and 100 eggs every year.

"Grandma" is also very modern and loves nothing better than automobile riding—so long as the car is in motion. She "cries," however, when she wants to go home.

"Grandma" is owned by G. H. Miner of 146 Woodland street, formerly of Wethersfield. She was taken home after the show last night.

Two rows beyond "Grandma's" coop stands a black and red game bantam "the fighting fool" of poultry. Very small, a very sharp bill and spurs like daggers equip him like a Gulf pirate. He is owned by H. W. Wheeler of Wethersfield.

Rare Bunnies

At the rear of the Armory there is a pen of four Silver Martin rabbits. They are said to be the only ones east of Chicago and were exhibited in Madison Square Garden last week. Although the Chinchilla is just now the fur rabbit, Manchester breeders are of the opinion that Silver Martins will take their place. These rabbits are black, plentifully sprinkled with silver. The owner of those at the local show is William Worthington of Wallingford.

Also on display is a litter of 15 New Zealand Whites raised with the aid of a nursemaid; two Himalayans, very fancy, all white but for black ears and a smudge of coal dust on their noses.

The show closes tonight at 10 o'clock with the drawing of the door prizes.

PLANNING GARDEN.

While winter is upon us, the time is ripe to plan one's spring garden. With pencil and paper it can be plotted out, catalogs will give more ideas for filling than one can use, cost can be computed and dates marked in for such important things as getting the soil ready, buying and planting seed and so on.

GUSSET APRON.

The apron follows where the frock leads, so far as style goes. Spring kitchen aprons can be made very swanky by introducing little gussets of color in the sides.

AIMS GOOD DRAMA FOR THE MOVIES

"Miracle Man" Max Reinhardt Believes Patrons Want the Best.

By GENE COHN.

New York—There were a number of things that Max Reinhardt, the "miracle man of Salzburg," suggested that I tell the American public for him before he plunged into the wilds of Hollywood.

He desired, for instance, his future, if any, American film audiences, recall that he had done something in the theater besides "The Miracle" and the elaborate New York production of "Midsummer Night's Dream." Not that he blushes for these productions, but because they give him the status of a spectacle producer and little else. Whereas he is proudest of the "smaller things"—the plays where in simplicity and drama and acting carried the burden; the Ibsen productions and "The Living Corpse," which his star, Moissi, recently brought to New York for revival.

Max Reinhardt . . . Salzburg "miracle man."

Reinhardt stressed this, because his initial work in the films will not be spectacles, and he does not want an impression to go about that he will film pageantry and fabulously stage pantomime. He considers that some of his most effective results have been gained with small casts and simple backgrounds.

Working out tense drama is not, he believes, a matter of glamour, glitter and expense. A few curtains, a few lights, good actors and a good story—that's what he aims for in his first picture, which will star Lillian Gish.

Several of us who caught him on the run here at his hotel took the trouble to warn him that his ideals might bump against snags out in the great cinema belt. But he quietly smiled away our warnings and placed his faith in those who brought him over. Yet I noted in a current issue of a reliable film journal that he is already split with his backer, Joseph Schenck, over the matter of his first story and will probably produce his own film in view of the optimism which was his upon arriving, this may or may not be a disappointing introduction to the realities a stranger to the film capital may expect, sooner or later.

Opposes Talkies.

But to return to his moment in Manhattan—Reinhardt was also anxious to have it known that he did not believe in talking pictures. He saw a few of the best while here, and put himself on record as believing that the stage was a medium unto itself and that the silent drama was an art unto itself—that one should not intrude on the other. He thought that certain sound effects were permissible, and even commendable. But talking players—no!

He was aware that America knew him chiefly for "the Miracle," and regretted this. For "the wizard of Salzburg" does not want to be known exclusively as a wizard of trick lights and costumes and pageants. To explain which, he gave us a peep at his career.

To begin with, his name is Max Sachs, and his father was a merchant in a little Austrian city outside Vienna. He became an actor, playing character roles, but one day while playing a small part in a Sudermann play, Sudermann gave him a kindly reprimand, advising Reinhardt that it would be well for him to stop playing beard-wearing roles.

Ambition to Produce. His first ambitions to become a producer were fired when, upon witnessing a production of the immortal Duse, he made critical commentaries on certain members of the cast. To his surprise the great actress applauded him, declared his criticisms excellent and told him he should be a producer.

And when all this came to pass another criticism steered his final course to fame. One day he saw the white-haired Ibsen seated at a cafe table, sipping his beer. Reinhardt told the immortal playwright that he thought there were no good Ibsen productions in the world, and Ibsen agreed with him. Thereafter Reinhardt set about on the Ibsen interpretations which began his great Salzburg career.

LUIZ TO VISIT U. S.

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, Jan. 25.—President Washington Luiz, of Brazil, intends to visit the United States next September to repay the visit of President-Elect Herbert Hoover to Brazil. International News Service learned today. The Brazilian executive will travel upon a Brazilian battleship, and will visit Mr. Hoover, who will then be president, in Washington.

Outstanding in the day's news is the advertisement in the Clinton (Mass.) Daily Item of a "Scotch Concert and Ball," at which the entertainment was to be given by "a singer with two voices."

 FRIDAY, JAN. 25, 1929

In the future. Perhaps, if the latter should be the case, there might be some sort of a small chance of putting the measure over. But we shall have to be further advanced in civilization than we are today before the state of Connecticut is likely to go to the immense expense of acquiring additional land and doing the necessary construction to provide sidewalks for its existing vast system of roads. When human life is balanced against millions of dollars—well, the lives are pretty likely to have to take their chances.

EINSTEIN AGAIN
 Professor Albert Einstein has started something else. Not satisfied with earning enduring fame with his theory of relativity he is now proving, at least to his satisfaction and that of his followers, that gravity and electricity are the same thing or something of that sort.

Prof. Einstein is the cubist of science, as it were. He could probably prove the purple cow by mathematical demonstration, or that a ton of coal is twice as heavy as two tons of coal, just as certain artists can prove by grouping a lot of plane figures together that a cock-eyed woman with her nose on upside down and a shape like an ear that has been run through a set of gears is beauty absolute.

Unfortunately for the peace of mind of the artist his demonstration fails to register in the ordinary so-called normal human eye or intelligence; and unfortunately, perhaps for the world or perhaps just for the Einsteinists, the savant's theories fail to register in some minds quite well equipped for higher mathematical comprehension.

There are some very celebrated scientists who have reached the conclusion that Einstein started out with an intuition and proves it by mathematical formulae. If that really is his method of operation he will probably have no trouble by and by in showing that the future happened yesterday and that the beginning of all things is due to arrive the day after tomorrow.

When a simple A B C arithmetician like Al Smith can show how he just escaped being elected President last November, a German professor like Einstein, who can make calculus jump through a hoop and the invariants sit up and beg, ought to have no trouble whatever in demonstrating the oneness of gravity and electricity and the twoness of minus one.

SOFTENING WITH AGE
 Bird S. Coler is much older than he was once upon a time. Perhaps the passage of the years and the accumulation of experiences have operated to soften a once somewhat violent disposition and to peculiarly fit him for the new job which he has created for himself, having retired from public office holding in New York after a great many years of it. He is to become, he says, advisor to the rich in the disposition of their largesse. He calls himself now a "consultant on hospital and welfare matters."

NINE MEN
 Let no atom of credit be subtracted from the acclaim rendered to Captain George Fried for the rescue of the crew of the Italian freighter Florida. In this episode, as in the affair of the Antioch three years ago, the gallant skipper displayed splendid heroism and magnificent seamanship. At the same time let Captain Fried have his way about it and lay even finer laurels at the feet of the crew of the lifeboat which performed the immediate act of rescue—remembering always that Captain Fried was estopped from being in that boat himself by every rule of the sea and by his duty to his owners and the balance of his crew.

These are the names: Chief Officer Harry Manning; Junior Engineer W. J. Clarke; Boatswain's Mate A. Wilson; Chief Stowkeeper S. Bracco; Sailsmaker J. Paltis; Quartermaster W. Tretin; Seaman F. Kellam, J. Harobin; Master-at-Arms V. Waleck.

The finest possible recognition that can be given of the valor and skill of Captain Fried, in this affair, is instant compliance with his suggestion that every man of that boat's crew receive the Treasury Department's gold medal. Never was a more courageous and skillful rescue made at sea than that in which these nine men took part.

FOOTWAYS
 So far there has not been any wild rush among the Connecticut newspapers to get back of the bill now before the Legislature providing for a three-foot footway at the side of every state highway or other road under the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department. Let there not be a newspaper or an individual in the state who does not realize what a death-dealing system is that which requires pedestrians and rapidly moving automobiles to share the same roadway.

We have not seen the bill in question and do not know whether it contemplates the addition of footways to roads already built or to those which may be built eration shown by factory owners than an appreciative community would relish.

WIENIES
 The figures on hot dogs have been given out and it develops that the total consumption of the bow-wows in this country last year was eight hundred and eighty million. We knew it—we knew it darned well—that the figures would be at least close to that. Because those we ate ourselves and those we saw consumed on the road had totaled more than eight hundred millions when we lost count.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 25.—About Grover Whalen, new commissioner of New York's finest, many things have been said, in pun and story, but you just have to hand it to the man for one thing—he's wonderfully quick in getting around.

New police traffic regulations went into effect in the theatrical district the other night. An assortment of rules that would knock your eye out was devised, including the "sagger" system for the shows, settling their openings at different times to keep crowds moving at different periods.

And when the rules went into effect, there in a booth at the foot of the traffic tower in Broadway, just above 44th Street, sat Commissioner Whalen himself, to see that all went well. From 12 other district booths, ranking officers phoned in every 10 minutes to report on how the plan was working.

As one columnist puts it, the new police commissioner so far is regarded as a "Whalen success."

Dr. Anna Louise Strong returned to New York the other day from one of her regular "social and philosophical explorations" between the east and west coast places and Moscow. Dr. Anna tried to get into Afghanistan for the trouble, but couldn't make it.

Now another point may be added to the dispute between Sinclair Lewis and Theodore Dreiser, who find in their respective works on Russia many phrases and paragraphs of remarkable similarity. Dr. Strong explains:

"It's hard to get information in Russia and we journalists who live there are always glad to help writers from other countries. I gave both Lewis and Dreiser a great deal of material and told them to use what they wished. So did other friends of mine."

When the biting winds blow snow and it's so cold the traffic on the corner dances the numbness away, when you can't see into the show windows of this towering Manhattan, there's a tiny whistle shrilling away just ahead and it plays in a cheerful key.

Up the street a little way there are always hot chestnuts. In some doorway, bending over his tiny steaming stove, sends the chestnut man, and you'd think of him in his manner he didn't care whether school kept or not.

He might be merely the agent of some vast corporation, to judge by the detached manner in which he hands you your nickel's worth. He takes it for granted you want a nickel's worth and never tries to sell you more. Indeed, he is surprised if a customer seems to want more.

An assistant United States attorney in the court room of Judge Julian W. Mack the other day rolled a keg of whiskey right up to the bar of justice. "What's that?" asked the judge. "Whiskey," replied the attorney.

SMOKE

In view of the fact that in the large cities of the country, particularly New York, intensive study is being made of the subject of smoke nuisances, the probable result being early discovery of effectual methods of getting rid of these departments, it is to be hoped that the revised charter of Manchester, when it finally emerges from the Legislature and becomes the foundation of our municipal life, will be found to give the authorities of the community sufficient power to prevent the infliction of unnecessary and deleterious smoke clouds on any and all parts of Manchester.

There is a growing conviction that overdoses of smoke are injurious to health. They are certainly destructive to property and to the self-respect and general well being of the people.

That there is need of regulation of the dumping of unconsumed fuel all over the place is evident enough in the north end, where the practice of cleaning locomotives fires is carried on by employes of the New Haven road with complete disregard to the wishes of the community, and where there is less consid-

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN NUT BUTTER AND MARGARINE.

Because of the expense and care required for its production, butter has always been a costly article of diet and human beings have striven for many years to discover a good substitute. It was known that fats and oils were just as nourishing as butter but were unfortunately not as palatable when spread on bread and, when placed between vegetable foods, they did not impart the tasty flavor that could be obtained from butter churned from sour cream.

Shortly before the Franco-Prussian War, Napoleon III offered what was in those days a large reward for the invention of a suitable butter substitute. This was finally awarded to a Frenchman named Mege-Mouries, who experimented much and spent many sleepless nights, until at last he produced a product which he called oleomargarine. He afterwards shortened the name to margarine as it is still known on the continent of Europe.

At present there are two kinds of margarine manufactured. One is composed of various animal fats, such as beef fat and pork fat, mixed with vegetable fats, salt and milk. The other, commonly called nut margarine, contains no animal fats but is made of vegetable fats, salt and milk.

According to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, the principal articles of food used in the manufacturing of margarine are also oil, oleo stock, oleo stearin, neutral lard, peanut oil, coconut oil, cottonseed oil, milk, butter and salt. Of course, various manufacturers select different blends of these foods, or may omit some of them. Many of the packages of margarine sold on the market distinctly state exactly what they contain so that the composition is not a secret.

Many families now use margarine in place of butter. Some states do not permit margarine to be artificially colored and it is sold uncolored and the coloring matter is afterwards mixed into it by the housewife as wholesome when white, but the yellow coloring is more pleasing to the eye.

There is another product sometimes manufactured as a substitute for butter, called nut butter which consists simply of the ground pulverized nuts of various kinds. Nut butter therefore is a distinct product from nut margarine. The nut butters manufactured from raw peanuts are not as easily digested because they contain a large amount of starch, but the roasted nut butters and those manufactured from almonds or non-starchy nuts, and the various types of margarine, are all quite wholesome.

SENATE

U.S. TREATY SENTIMENTALITY

OTHER THEORY SHOWN

Sinister charges in hitherto unpublished documents creep through the pages of "The Krassin" (Macaulays) to reopen in sensational fashion the controversy which raged over the fate of the Italia, its survivors and victims.

Here is terrific and brutal melodrama, which Maurice Parlane, a Paris newspaperman, tells us was plucked out of life and not fiction.

Whether or not Noble was justified in deserting his fellow becomes relatively insignificant in the light of documentation which leads the reader to believe that Captain Zappi turned cannibal, eating from the flesh of the famous Swedish scientist, Malmgren.

Even uglier innuendoes are here. When the Soviet rescue ship, Krasnin, found him, so this author relates, Mariano and Zappi were floating about on a small "ice pan. Mariano was practically stripped of clothing, and was slowly freezing, whereas Zappi was warmly clad in three suits of clothing—those of Malmgren, Mariano and himself. He wore several pairs of stockings, and gave evidence of being well fed and physically peppy. He was able to climb the ship's rope ladder with a hop, skip and jump.

And, allegedly from the notebook of a crew member, come other ugly references—claims that Mariano, in his thin mittens, kept repeating, "You can eat me... but wait until I'm dead!" The inference is "too horrible for thought. Yet here it is.

All this, and more, comes at the end of an account of the heroic work of the Soviet government boat and its men. At the very outset it is apparent that Parlane's sympathies are not particularly Italian and are very much Russian. He feels that the Soviet rescuers never were properly applauded by the world, just because they were such. Nor does he spare his contempt for Noble.

Such details can be traced to a partisan source, if one wishes. But it is impossible to overlook the incredible charges of cannibalism and the insinuations that creep in concerning the fate of Malmgren. These last leave one open question regarding the abandonment of the Swedish scientist.

The author says that he could get little or nothing from Soviet records. He goes to crew members and rescuers, having boarded the Krasnin when the second rescue tramp was started. He says that European centers have long whispered what he now prints and that in a Barcelona cafe, a menu carried a dish they called "Steak Malmgren."

Now upon the same day that the Paris Journalist loosed his sensational, careful, unemotional and precise record of the Krassin's rescue came from the pen of an Italian correspondent who was on board. It is "The Tragedy of the Italia" (Appleton), by David Giudici. Here one finds no intimation of anything contained in the other book. Everyone is properly heroic, and from Italians to Russians there is only chronicle of valor and epic achievement.

If the author saw anything odd about Zappi's behavior, he did not put it down. He does confirm the other story to the extent of admitting that Zappi came aboard the Krasnin unclad. But he makes no comment on Zappi's clothing. He pictures Mariano as "lying in a pool of watery snow, wrapped in a light blanket which was water-soaked."

He takes Zappi at his word and says nothing of contradictions in stories, nor of alleged cross-examinations on board the Krasnin. He treats both Zappi and Mariano as self-sacrificing heroes going ahead in an effort to save their fellows left behind. Malmgren seemed to be allowed to die and pleaded that they desert him, according to the account, and so was left there.

Frederick J. Dowding.
Frederick J. Dowding, 59, of 25 Chestnut street, died suddenly Thursday afternoon. Mr. Dowding was stricken at his work and died shortly afterward at his home on Chestnut street. He was born in England, the son of George and Mary Dowding and lived in this country since he was two years old. He was employed at the American Mill for 38 years and was overseer of the dye department for 27 years. He was a member of the Union Congregational church, Rising Star Lodge, I. O. O. THREE DIE IN CHAIR

Ossining, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Harry Dreitzer, Isadore Helfant and Israel Fischer, leaders of the notorious "pants bandits" of Brooklyn, today had paid with their lives for the slaying of Policeman William Kelly in a Brooklyn hold-up. Game to the end, but protesting that they did not deserve the death penalty, the three were executed in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison shortly before midnight last night.
Fischer, who remained "hard boiled" to the end, went to the chair smoking a cigar. The others broke down when paid a farewell visit by relatives, but entered the death house smiling.
During an extensive career of holdups the "pants bandits" usually removed the trousers of their victims to forestall pursuit.

Demand for Vicks Supplies Good Index to Spread of Flu

An interesting sidelight on the present influenza epidemic has been the accuracy with which the demand for Vicks VapoRub reflects the flu situation in various parts of the country. Vicks is the external treatment which proved so helpful in 1918.
Last November, rush orders from the Pacific Coast for more and more Vicks told of the beginning of a new epidemic. As the flu moved east, sudden increases in the demand for Vicks marked its spread from state to state.
Now that influenza has become fairly general, it is once more necessary, in spite of vastly increased capacity, to run the Vicks laboratories all night long, as the public demands over 375,000 jars every 24 hours.

THIS HAS HAPPENED.
MAIZIE ASHE, married for 15 years to a newspaper man, warns her daughter and HOLLIS HART of the ways of reporters.
 ASHORETH, her only child, is marrying Hollis Hart. A triumphant marriage, from a worldly point of view. The Harts are one of the oldest families in Boston, and Hollis is a multi-millionaire. Ashoreth is a poor little stenographer, but beautiful as a Follies clothes horse. The story is meant for the press. Particularly in view of the fact that Hollis, flying from New York to his fiancée in Boston, has figured in an airplane accident. With him, at the time, was MONTY ENGLISH, an old sweetheart of Ashoreth's.
 Monty was also hurrying to her, because he had read that day in a New York paper a story, which implied that a well-known clubman—the rich and famous Mr. Hart—had become involved in a rather lurid romance with a young lady of unusual beauty, said to have been a stenographer in his employ.
 Monty, furiously angry, meant to get at the facts of the story. Following the crash, he learns the identity of his traveling companion, and ascertains that he means to marry Ashoreth. The morning Hollis motors from Connecticut, where the accident took place, to the Ashe flat in Boston. Meantime, the Boston papers have heard, not only of the airplane smash, but the story that was printed in New York. They besiege the house like an army.
 And Maizie warns the lovers. "You'll never escape them. Don't I know? There's no outwitting the pack."
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XL
 Maizie was right. There was no fooling the pack. They camped all night on the door steps. Hollis left the apartment as day began to break. Then the reporters divided forces. Half of them followed him in taxis to his club. Others were waiting there. Begging interviews. Demanding statements. There were photographers with flashlights. And Miss Fannie Drown of the Trumpet, who never went to bed.
 "Oh, Mr. Hart," begged Fannie, clutching him by the coat sleeve. "There's just one little thing I want to ask you. Tell me, Mr. Hart, if it is your belief that stenographers make better wives than society girls."
 He shook off her detaining hand. "Good lord, Madam, you don't expect me to answer a thing like that!"
 Fannie was running up the broad steps after him, whipping a dog-eared notebook from her pocket. A pencil from the depths of a big brown handbag.
 "Let's say sweethearts, then," she compromised sweetly. "Do stenographers make better sweethearts than society girls, Mr. Hart? From your own personal experience I mean."

Parkins came trotting through the revolving door.
 "There's a gentleman what says 'e's a personal friend, sir, waiting in your bedchamber, sir. Hit's me own opinion, 'e's a news 'ound, if I may say so, sir."
 With scant grace, Parkins bundled Fannie down the stoop.
 "A gentleman's club! Hit's no place for ladies, Miss," he advised her.
 A saucy young man rose from the club chair in the sitting room of Hollis's suite.
 "Sorry to intrude this way, 'e apologized pleasantly. "But business is business, Mr. Hart. There's a rumor around town that Dan Corum is filing suit for breach of promise against you. Stories from Dan's office indicate that he'll be on the job first thing in the morning. 'e's made no statement himself, but the News wanted to give you an even break, so I came directly to you, Mr. Hart. Rather rotten, busting in on you this way, I know. But you understand how it is."
 Hollis looked at him in astonishment.
 "It's news to me," he declared. "And you might tell Corum for me, that if he pulls any of his dirty stuff, I'll give him a punch in the nose. And I'll sue his whole dam' firm for defamation of character."
 The saucy young man smiled.
 "Then there's nothing to it, Mr. Hart?"
 "It's blackmail," Hollis told him shortly. "That's Corum's specialty, isn't it? It's the sort of stuff they pull on Babe Ruth and Red Grange, and any poor devil that happens in the limelight. And half of the suckers pay, and the other half let them take it to court. Well I'm not going to give Corum a cent, and I'm not going to let him take it to court either. I'm going to knock his head off. Instead, now you might take him that little message, and see what sort of a come-back he has for that."
 The reporter smiled disarmingly. "That's the way to handle those boys," he approved. "And all the skirts that make the trouble, too. I'll tell him what you said, Mr. Hart. And, take it from me, there won't be another squawk out of Dan . . . By the way, congratulations are in order, aren't they?"
 Hollis shook his head.
 "You'd better save your congratulations for a while."
 The other looked surprised. Grieved, in fact.
 "You're not going to be married in the morning?" he exclaimed.
 "Why, the News heard . . ."
 "The News," interrupted Hollis, "heard nothing of the kind."
 "Then you're not to be married in the morning? Shall I quote that, Mr. Hart, as coming from you?"
 Hollis's shoulders sagged wearily. He looked desperately tired. And a little old.
 "Good lord!" he appealed. "Have you no respect for a man's private affairs? What if I should ask you if it was true that you beat your scuffed. "Say, wouldn't that be swell."

 "Mums—Mums, dear . . . did you like 'em?" Ashoreth stroked her mother's hand. "Don't you think he's sweet, Mother?"
 "Sweet! Mumph . . . He'd better be sweet."
 Maizie scowled belligerently. "What's that kept calling you, 'Orchid?' What does he mean 'Orchid'?"
 "Oh, he says I remind him of orchids, Mother. It's so darling of him. He says I'm exquisite, and chaste—and all the loveliest things you ever heard. Like an orchid, you see—sort of cool and remote . . . Oh, of course it's just too silly, dear . . . But isn't it adorable?" Ashoreth smiled rapturously.
 And Maizie, holding her daughter's face between her plump pink palms, prayed in her heart that life—and Hollis—should always be kind to Ashoreth. Because, thought Maizie, there aren't many such beautiful smiles in the world, and fate would be cruel, indeed, if the most beautiful smile of them all should perish.
 The hours flew. And they laughed a little, cried a little. And planned a little. And Ashoreth, while Maizie cried a little more. Then Hollis came, and spirited her baby away.
 Maizie did not want to see the ceremony. She was afraid, she said, she would cry. What she meant was that she thought her heart would break.
 So Ashoreth and Hollis were married in Mr. Higginbottom's office, with only two stenographers to see.
 "I, Ashoreth (she touched her pearls with her finger tips), take thee, Hollis (the richest man in Boston) . . . Oh, dear, it was dreadful . . . the thoughts that went through a girl's mind, when she was getting married. "For better, for worse, (for better, thank God!) "For richer, for poorer . . . (she smiled a lovely, misty smile). Hollis looked so wonderful! . . ."
 You will want to start on their honeymoon, with Ashoreth and Hollis. They sail at noon on the Isle de France.
 "Nothing," he mused, "to set the world afire, but a pretty good story at that." And, in his mind's eye, he saw a banner line in the first edition.
MILLIONAIRE HART THREATENS ATTORNEY CORUM.
 Meantime, Fannie Drown had hurried to Maizie's flat. Now, Fannie was rated the most ingenious soub in Boston. She offered the taxi driver double fare, and told him to step on it.
 "I'll bet, she moaned, "they've beaten me to it—Belle Bailey and Vlna Adams. I never should have played anything but the girl end!"
 Fannie was right. Maizie, who couldn't bear to refuse anybody anything, had been persuaded to admit a chosen few, selected as spokesmen for the group. When Fannie found that out, she bribed the janitor, and waited in the hall, while he delivered a note.
 Belle and Vlna, and admitted Fannie. Belle and Vlna and Johnny Mahoney smiled when they saw her. They knew Fannie's favorite ruse. For 10 years she had been getting away with it.
 The note she had written read like this: "Dear Miss Ashoreth: Please let me see you for only a minute. I am a new reporter, and this is my first important assignment. It means my job to me. I will be fired, if you refuse. PLEASE."
 Maizie read it, and wanted a message for stenographers. And Belle who asked about the nightgowns. Vlna was thirsting for the story of the romance . . . "From the very beginning, please, Miss Ashoreth."
 Johnny looked foolish, and asked her if she liked children. It was then that Vlna asked if she believed in companionate marriage. And should a woman have a career? They persuaded Ashoreth to pose, with Maizie, for a flashlight. With Maizie sitting in the big divan, and Ashoreth on the arm, looking tenderly into each other's eyes. Then they wanted pictures of Ashoreth with her knees crossed. And someone asked if she had a picture of Hollis that she could be looking at, very soulfully, for a time exposure. It was getting light by that time.
 At six o'clock Maizie made coffee, and cut an apple pie.
 Vlna scribbled on the corner of an envelope, "Just folksy," and wondered how soon money would spoil the two of them. Ashoreth, they decided, was probably in love. And darn clever, if she wasn't.
 At last it was over. Half-past seven.
 "Lie down for a little while, honey," besought Maizie. "You'll want to be looking your best, darling—and the circles you got under your eyes—oh, me-oh my!"
 "But, Mums, how can I! There's too much to do."
 Maizie was so near to tears that she must pretend to very busy. Opening Ashoreth's bags. Shaking out frocks. Folding and unfolding. And packing again.
 "I'm going to draw a nice warm bath for you, Baby Lamb, and you're to take a little nap. Mr. Hart told me you'd go straight to New York, and you can get whatever clothes you need there."
 "Mother!" You mustn't call him Mr. Hart. Why, Mums, he's just about your son-in-law already." Ashoreth laughed hysterically.
 "Did you know, darling, he wants to go to Paris? And he says you're to move right down to the Copley Plaza, Mother. And stay there—or anywhere in the world you want—until we come back again. Then we're going to take a house, Mums—and you're to live with us, forever and ever."
 Maizie—because she was moved, mostly likely—smiled. Maizie never was a gracious person.
 "Me at the Copley Plaza!" she

Spanish Renaissance is Marked by Rich Effects

Spanish architecture suggests the use of warm, rich colors.

By WILLIAM H. WILSON

To the man or woman who revels in rich, warm, barbaric effects, let us command the style of the Spanish Renaissance. It combines color with dignity.
 Moors who invaded Spain in the year 711 A. D. brought with them a Mohammedan knowledge of work in iron and leather, and the heritage of that invasion lives today in Spanish furniture, in which beautiful iron and leather work, as well as inlays of tortoise shell, silver, brass and bone, abound. Upholstery studded with brass nails is also typical of the period, while iron bracing is a distinctly Spanish detail.
 It is best that the wall background be unpapered, a rough mottled stucco or smooth light tint, giving the effect most desired. Parquet floors, or floor coverings giving the effect of parquetry or tile add to the effect, and if arched windows are available, the setting is complete. In a large room a heavy effect is more desirable than in a room of smaller dimensions.
 The furniture, in general, should have straight lines, with a very few curves for contrast. Table legs remind one of trestles, and iron bracing is used frequently. Frequently the seats of the chairs sag a bit. The carving is usually elaborate, with urns and birds offering frequent motifs. The most typical piece of Spanish furniture is the varaqueño—a cabinet set on a standard formed like the letter H, with iron and brass ornamenting the hinges. In choosing upholstery the home-maker should choose between leather and broadcloth.
 With Spanish furniture in a Spanish room, the objects d'art available are, good tapestries, Mexican pottery, ship models (old Spanish barkentines) and wrought iron or brass candleabra.
 Persian carpets are made exclusively by hand.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
 ©1928 by NEA Service, Inc.

Every child should have instruction in the religion of his people and it should be begun when he is very young.
 Do not have it doled out to him once a week merely. If he gets his only instruction about God in a place outside of his home, and by someone outside of his family, he will grow up, as many of us have before him, with a vague idea that God and the hazy thing called his soul are associated with the church on the corner, and with it only.
 Teach God in the home and in daily life.

Should Have Foundation
 As a child grows older he may change his belief—he has right to that—but it is the duty of his parents to give him the foundation of soul and God to build on.
 Show him God in nature, and in all beauty. Flow much more the world will mean to him as he grows up! Flowers, trees, birds, the ocean, the sky—teach him reverence for the Great Power that made them.
 Tell him how important it is to please God by being kind to all living things and particularly to people.
 If his thoughts about God are vague they will clarify as he grows older. As I said, he may make his own interpretation then. But I should not think of trying to lay a foundation of character without the rock of religion under it.

CHLORINATED WATER IS OBJECT OF ODD RUMORS

By DR. MORRIS FISHER
 Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

So many cities and institutions now use liquid chlorine and calcium hypochlorite of disinfection of water supplies that the process would not seem to require any further defense before the public. Only a few institutions still use ozone and ultraviolet rays for this purpose.
 Strange superstitions arise, however, which lead to be contradicted; for example, the assertion of a physician in Columbia that the use of chlorinated water would cause sterility and a decrease in the birth rate, and the assertion by other people that chlorination of water might produce changes in the kidneys or ulcers of the stomach.
 The actual facts of the matter are that there is not the slightest evidence to support the contention that the amount of chlorine in the water after the chlorination process is sufficient to be of the slightest harm to any one.
 On the other hand, the installation of chlorination spreads apparatus, the first practical apparatus, as pointed out by George C. Bunker, was made in 1913. In 1926, four billion gallons of chlorinated water per day were being used in 3,200 American communities.

 About 70 per cent of the population of the United States is today drinking water that has been disinfected with chlorine. Furthermore, the method has been adopted as the one of choice for swimming pool disinfection, for the disinfection of water mains, and for the treatment of water used by travelers.
 Various methods are now being studied with a view to finding those that are cheapest and most efficient, and new types of chlorinators are being developed, the most recent type being an electrolytic device which permits the utilization of common salt for the development of the chlorine and avoids the use of tanks of pure

EVEN BEAUTIFUL SUE
 Oh, what's the use, anyway? Life's values do get so complex. Take this Sue Carol divorce case. It just seems unbelievable that any man could sue any woman for divorce who looks like Sue. It seems unbelievable to any woman that any woman who looks like Sue could ever be party to such a disturbance as a matrimonial mix-up. But impossible or not, Alton H. Keefer has filed suit for divorce against the luscious Sue Carol. So comes the perturbing thought, what's the use of even being beautiful? Or is it so perturbing to such of us as are not?

It was stated in this column that the thermometer registered 10 degrees below zero at N. C. Johnson's place in Hopevale on Wednesday, the 16th. The report has since come that at Paul Coates' place, a little lower in the valley, the thermometer at that date registered more than 20 below, going as low as the thermometer would register. There is always apt to be considerable difference in the mercury drops reported from Hopevale and Amston than in other parts of the town, the plunges averaging much lower in those places.

People trying to find the town, coming from the east, are guided to Columbia, Marlborough, etc., but Hebron is left completely out. This has resulted in some confusion and some delay.

Two visiting clergy have spent some time at the Seventh Day Advent community at Hopevale recently. Elder James Freiberger of New London and Elder Louis Passabois of the Geneva Center.

Passabois held meetings during three days at the Methodist church which is used by the Adventists of the locality as their place of worship.

A meeting of the Tolland County Farm Bureau was held at the town hall, Monday evening, and about fifteen farmers of the vicinity were present. Speakers from Storrs College talked on the care of cows.

Arthur Linde of Hartford is spending a week's vacation from high school at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Edmund Horton.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Elton Post visited Mr. Post's sister, Mrs. Ernest Bazinet in Hartford on Sunday. Mrs. Bazinet has been very ill with intestinal grip for several weeks, having suffered a relapse after partial recovery. She was able to sit up for the first time since then on Sunday.

Oscar Bartholomew was taken to Manchester hospital recently by health officer J. Banks Jones, with a case of grip or threatened pneumonia.

Twin calves were recently born to "Buttercup" a prize dairy heifer owned by Robert Porter of Gilead.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ward of Hartford and their two children, Janice and Fletcher, are spending a little time at the home of Mrs. Ward's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Clinton Porter, while repairs are being made on their home in West Hartford recently visited with a destructive fire. Beatrice Porter of Gilead, a daughter of Representative and Mrs. Winthrop Porter, spent Wednesday as the guest of her cousin Janice.

Theodore Grant of Amston was taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Willimantic about a week ago suffering with an aggravated case of lumbago.

The annual meeting of the Hebron Library Association will be held at the Library Building Tuesday evening, Jan. 29 at 8 o'clock. Officers will be elected for the coming year, and other routine business will be transacted. Suggestions for the good of the library will be considered, and action taken if found advisable.

A fall of snow two or three inches deep covered the ground Wednesday morning but had mostly disappeared by afternoon. The wind blew furiously in gusts through the day blowing the snow about and resembling snow squalls. The going was slippery and dangerous for driving.

**String bean salad: Use the fresh string beans if possible, boil them for a few minutes and let cool before using. Place in a large salad bowl, using two forks to toss about and thoroughly mix with the desired amounts of chopped parsley and minced ripe olives. A little chopped celery may also be added, and if a dressing is wanted, use a little olive oil. Serve on crisp, cold lettuce on individual plates.

YALE LAW SCHOOL PLANS EXTENSION

To Continue Its Summer Session With More Courses Added.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 25—The Yale Law School, according to a statement made public today by Dean Robert M. Hutchins, is considering the continuing of its summer session as an Honors session. Under this plan, courses would be given for graduate and professional students whose primary aim is not to shorten their course, but to go more deeply into certain problems of law and related fields, to explore fields which they are unable to enter in the winter session, and to utilize for their education months that would otherwise be devoted to recreation. The programme for 1929, now under consideration, would broaden the scope of study and vary the method hitherto followed. The School would employ in the summer session the type of instruction known as Honors work which has proved successful in the regular term, and which has been made possible by the limitation of enrollment and the expansion of the faculty. Under the Honors plan, students are allowed to do independent work, individually and in small groups, free from the regular routine of the classroom.

Details of Plan
The plan contemplates the offering of certain courses not found in the usual law school curriculum. In accordance with its settled policy, the School would attempt throughout to indicate the social, economic, and political bearing of legal rules, instead of restricting attention to statutes and decided cases. In addition to courses and opportunities for individual investigation, the School may hold a conference for law teachers and others interested in related fields of the social sciences. The informality of the summer programme offers a special opportunity for students beginning law work. Such men would be admitted on satisfying the regular entrance requirements.

In addition to the regular law subjects, courses would be offered in such subjects as Family Law, American Legal History, and Materials and Methods of Legal Research. Family Law would consist of studies of divorce and juvenile delinquency, and their causes and effects upon the family. Under Public Service Law a study would be undertaken of regulated industries; of the development of regulation and its current problems; of the place of the legislature, the commission, and the court in the scheme of control; and of the tendencies which are making for a revision of control by commission. The materials to be used in this course will include decisions of the courts, briefs of counsel, reports of commissions, as well as the general literature of the subject. The course in American Legal History would be a study of various developments and tendencies in American law in the light of the social and other forces that have influenced their course.

Tuition Fees
The tuition fee for the Law school, the announcement stated, has been increased from $350 to $400, effective with the beginning of the college year in 1929-1930. The increase is made in order to provide for the expansion of the Faculty and of the Honors work, in the face of decreased income from student tuition because of the limitation of numbers. The decision to limit its enrollment is part of the Law School's policy of confining its efforts to training superior students. With a selected group, the Faculty will be able to give a higher grade of instruction, to train the student much more intensively, and to make changes in the legal curriculum and methods of teaching which are adjusted to the demands and needs of the best students.

TEAM TOTALS. Green 1,733. West Sides 1,713. Sons of Italy 1,670. Center Church 1,670.

The Bon Ami and Sons of Italy still remain tied for first place in the Herald Bowling league after another session last night.

The most important happening of the evening was the sensational rolling of the Manchester Green team which hit a new team three string record of 1,733 to replace the 1,720 made by the Construction.

The other two matches resulted in four point victories for the West Sides over the Night Hawks and the Construction over the Charter Oaks.

Blocks Sharkey's Path

Sharkey Picked To Win Over Christner Tonight

Wash Thinks Gob is Too Clever and Too Experienced for Akron Tire Maker—May Upset Dope.

By DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, Jan. 25.—This is the night on which Jack Sharkey will be required to place his chin up there on the tee and give K. O. Christner a chance to repeat the hole-in-one he scored with Knute Hanson's countenance in Cleveland.

As a matter of fact, it would be several people—Jack Dempsey's, the Madison Square Garden Corporation's and, to be sure, Jack Sharkey's. For if Sharkey blows this one, there will be no $100,000 for him at Miami Beach next month.

K. O. Not Interested. As for Dempsey and the Garden, they are very heavily obligated for a fight they wouldn't be able to promote.

Christner, on the contrary, has the genuine chance that goes with any hitter. Nobody expects him to score another birdie but everybody knows that he might and that is the reason the Garden is sold solid to a $75,000 house for a match between a 34-year-old tyro who was in the vulcanizing pits at Akron two years ago and a man who hasn't made a good fight since Dempsey renovated him in 1926.

STRIBLING FIGHTS A SET-UP TONIGHT

Ralph Smith, His Opponent Is Known as World's Famous Canvas Kisser.

New York, Jan. 25.—Final dress rehearsals by Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling for their Miami Beach representation next month take place tonight in widely separate rings.

Sharkey, a Queensberry soldier of the north, parades in the Madison Square Garden ring with Kayo Christner, a swashbuckler of the west.

Stribling will hardly work up a sweat on Smith, who is a canvas kisser known from coast to coast, but Sharkey faces no such spectre if tales of the Akron rubber worker's prowess are to be believed.

Expert observers such as Danny Morgan, Lou Brix, Leo Flynn and others have sounded warnings.

At Lawrence, Mass.—Andy Callahan of Lawrence, defeated Al Del Galdo, New York lightweight, 10.

CLARKE'S TRIBE PLAYS TWO MORE GAMES OVER WEEK-END

Travels to Willimantic Tomorrow; Rec at Holyoke Tonight and Hartford Tomorrow; Trade Plays Today.

With four victories already under its belt, Manchester High's basketball quintet will lay in ambush tonight at the School street Rec anxiously awaiting the arrival of Middletown High for their C. C. I. L. conflict. Play will start at 8:30.

Although Middletown's record is not at hand, the boys from down the river are not believed to have won any league games this season and all indications point to a substantially-sized victory for Coach Wilfred J. Clarke's red and white uniformed aggregation of hoop piercers.

Have Done Well. Manchester High has done remarkably well this season considering the lack of veterans left over from last year's team.

Victories over West Hartford and Hartford in two consecutive nights was the feat which the Clarkmen performed immediately upon resuming their schedule last week.

and Manchester's record will become five out of six. Tomorrow night, Manchester High will travel to Willimantic to seek further prey. The fact that Rockville, a team beaten by Manchester, tripped Windham on its own floor night before last, gives Coach Clark added hope of a victory in this important battle.

MACDONALD TELLS CHAMBER HIS VIEWS

Highway Commissioner Gives Replies to Referendum Questions.

The State Chamber of Commerce requested State Highway Commissioner Macdonald to study Referendum No. 53 entitled "State and Local Road Administration" of the United States Chamber of Commerce and to set forth his views on this Referendum. Herewith is Commissioner Macdonald's reply to the State Chamber for the benefit of any of the local chamber members who may desire to know his views. Members of the Manchester Chamber have received copies of this referendum.

Commissioner Macdonald's reply follows:

"With reference to your letter of the 15th, referendum No. 53, I should say in answer:

"Question 1—The committee recommends that state legislatures should give the highway departments or commissions wide authority, within financial limitations properly fixed, in relation to the whole financial program of the state, to develop highway programs on sound social and economic grounds and maintain adequate organizations with the needed continuity.

"Commissioner Macdonald's answer—Yes, for the reason that in the construction of every highway there are so many different perplexing and difficult questions to handle that it is almost impossible to lay down a rule which will cover all without injustice to some. It is also absolutely impossible to lay out a definite program of construction, as conditions during the winter, and travel during the summer, will make certain highways which were not previously in need of construction or reconstruction absolutely necessary. Also, the openings of a new section of highway will completely change your traffic counts in a section where you had least expected it.

"Question 2—The committee recommends that state highway departments or commissions should have advisory relationship or actual technical and administrative supervision over road programs of smaller political units outside of municipalities to insure well planned and economical development and maintenance of the entire road system.

"Commissioner Macdonald's answer—I should be definitely opposed, because I believe that such relationship should be accomplished by co-operation and helpful influence rather than by any statute requiring supervision. In the first place, you then divide authority and do not give a definite obligation to the smaller political divisions for the condition of their roads.

"Question 3—The committee recommends that in states where the state highway system does not include all of the improved roads, smaller political units unable to afford adequate technical organization for their road work should be joined together into suitable larger highway units, to the end that they may coordinate their respective programs and secure economic administration.

"Commissioner Macdonald's answer—I am opposed to this for the reason that I have attempted it more or less throughout the state, and never have found it to work successfully. The conditions in one town are so much different than they are in another part—unless you absolutely want to take the reigns out of the local government—it is almost impossible of accomplishment.

"Question 4—The committee recommends that the responsible authorities should establish definite plans for local road work, taking into account in determining economic justification the actual or potential use of each existing road and the best means of providing the necessary highway access.

"Commissioner Macdonald's answer—I am heartily in favor of this, and this is what I have been working for, for a long time—to get the smaller political units, such as the towns, to lay out a definite system of highways which they are to improve, and lay out each year some funds for permanent improvement.

"Question 5—The committee recommends that coordinated planning of the highway systems of metropolitan areas, including connections with surrounding territory, be provided through voluntary agreement of the responsible authorities of the several jurisdictions or, if necessary, by legislation.

"Commissioner Macdonald's answer—I am heartily in favor of this.

"Question 6—The committee recommends that programs for construction and maintenance of highways of general motor use should be financed as far as possible by highway users, and that revenues derived from other sources should be limited by the general benefits resulting from the improvements and by the ability to pay.

"Commissioner Macdonald's answer—I am in favor of this."

HE SUFFERED FOR TEN YEARS

Then ALL-BRAN Brought Relief in 2 Months—Doctor Recommended It

Constipation is dreaded not only for its own insidious self, but because of the many serious conditions and diseases it causes. Mr. Lind was a sufferer—but read how he found relief.

"For the past 10 years I have suffered from constipation. At times I have been unable to work. I have tried suppositories, ointments, etc., but to no avail.

"Two months ago my grocer called my attention to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I began taking it regularly. Immediately the pain and annoyance from the piles was relieved. I found that it requires very little effort to take. It is a natural food, and I found it gives nature a fair chance to effect a cure."—WALTER J. LIND, R. 2, Box 137, Appleton, Wis.

Don't neglect constipation. At any time its poisons may take terrible toll from your health and well-being. Protect yourself. Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly—two tablespoonfuls daily, or in chronic cases, with every meal. ALL-BRAN brings sure, natural relief. It is what doctors call a bulk food. It sweeps the intestine clean and stimulates normal action.

Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Also try the recipes on the package. Results guaranteed. Doctors recommend it because it is 100% bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Served in hotels, restaurants, and dining cars. Sold by all grocers.

"FOUR SONS" IS EPIC OF MOTHER LOVE

Plays at State Today and Tomorrow—Also Vitaphone Vaudeville.

A highly dramatic, and likewise instructive sequence of scenes appears in Fox Films "Four Sons," the feature film has created such a sensation in New York and Los Angeles. This beautiful and inspiring photoplay, which vividly depicts a mother's great love and sacrifice, is being presented at the State Theater today and tomorrow.

Here is a picture about which it can be truthfully said that every moment is a big one. It is that kind of story, the dramatic suspense never dropping for a second.

A few of the highlights are the beautiful picture of home, mother sitting with her four sons at dinner table; the vastly moving repetition of the above scene in a latter sequence, in which mother sits alone with the spirits of absent sons. The dances and merriment at Grandma

Bernie's birthday party. The scene in which Grandma Bernie is notified of her youngest son's death after the armistice, as she is laying out his "civies" in expectation of his return. The scenes in which the brother in the American army hears the cry of "mother" from a wounded soldier and discovers his younger brother dying from severe wounds.

These are but a few of the big moments that are to be found in this heart-rending drama, which is adapted from a story written by I. A. R. Wylie.

"Four Sons" features an all star cast of film celebrities. The stellar role, however, is played by Margaret Mann, who has never before been seen in a principal characterization. Miss Mann is cast in the role of Mother Bernie. The four sons are portrayed by James Hall, George Meeker, Charles Norton and Francis X. Bushman, Jr. Beautiful June Collier also is splendidly cast. John Ford directed.

Two acts of Vitaphone Vaudeville also rear their heads on today's bill at the State.

They are Larry Cabellos famous Undersea Revue, a colorful and sparkling dance creation, and New-hoff and Phelps in a snappy routine of songs and patter.

The current installment of latest MGM News Events will complete the program.

New York, Jan. 25.—It cost exactly $46,016 for the evidence which enabled Doris Mercer Kresge to divorce Sebastian S. Kresge, 6-6-10 cent store magnate, according to an uncollected bill presented by the Val O'Farrell Detective Agency today.

King Amanullah had to see his throne in Afghanistan when natives rebelled at his reforms. But he scored a victory for "new fangled ideas" just the same—he escaped in an airplane.

HOOVER MUM ON REST OF HIS CABINET

(Continued from Page 1) of the world, and under a good many secretaries of state, both Republican and Democrat, although he is a Pennsylvania Republican. The Fletcher boosters argue that his training and experience has been such as to make him an ideal "collaborator" of Mr. Hoover's in foreign affairs. He has had considerable experience, at any rate, in carrying out the foreign policies of others. Likes Fletcher That the President-elect thinks highly of Fletcher there is no doubt. He leaned heavily upon him during his two months good will tour of South and Central America. Most of Fletcher's experience has been in Latin-America. He has been ambassador to Mexico, to Chile, has been an important figure in all Pan-American conferences in recent years, and has been under secretary of state as well. The development of Latin-American good will and trade is to be no small part of the Hoover foreign policy, so from many angles his appointment has much to recommend it to the new president. Other Names There are other names, however, that figure prominently in the speculation. Not the least of these is Henry L. Stimson, now governor general of the Philippines, who has a rich and varied background of public service. He was Taft's secretary of war, Roosevelt's friend, and Coolidge's special emissary to Nicaragua during the late unpleasantness there. Still another is Alanson B. Houghton, ambassador to Great Britain, who is said to be tired of the post and anxious to retire unless there is a Cabinet post in which to continue his public service. The President-elect went fishing today, but he took his work with him. With a very small party, aboard a houseboat, he was off the Florida Keys, south of Miami, intent upon becoming a member of the Salfish Club. In all his fishing experience he has never caught a salfish or swordfish, and it was particularly to this end that today's trip was arranged. Between attempts at it he had two stenographers and a great pile of correspondence to occupy his attention.

NEW AERIAL BEACON Hartford, Conn., Jan. 25.—The antennae towers of the new Travelers insurance company broadcasting station on top of Avon mountain, near here, will be painted and provided with lights to serve as a guide for aviators, it was announced today. SEEKS DIVORCE Chicago, Jan. 25.—The antics of Mrs. Archie L. Bell, the former Billy Rhodes of the Christie comedies, were anything but funny to Dr. Bell today. He was ordered to pay her $12.50 a week temporary alimony pending trial of her suit for divorce. Mrs. Bell charges cruelty.

CLEARING RINK FOR CARNIVAL SOME JOB

Pile of Snow 600 by 10 by 4 Feet Would Result If It Could Be Moved. You can't blame the ice carnival committee if the Center Springs pond is not cleared by Sunday, as they are going to make a try at it. There were three inches of snow on the pond when the rain started at noon today. Snow weighs, on the average, according to engineers, 25 pounds a cubic foot; but the rain falling has resulted in giving it a greater weight, the standard weight for water being 62.4 pounds per cubic foot. With the mixture that existed at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the average weight of the mixed rain and snow covering the pond was estimated at about forty pounds a cubic foot. The part of the pond that it is proposed to clear is three acres in extent. There are 43,560 square feet in an acre and in three acres there are 130,680 square feet, which at a depth of snow today engineers figured to equal 261,360 cubic feet. At an average weight of 40 pounds to a cubic foot the total weight would be 845,440 pounds or 422 tons to be removed. Before the snow can be moved a place to store it must be found. As it would form a pile of snow 600 feet or better than a tenth of a mile long, ten feet deep and four feet high, this isn't so easy.

ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. F. C. Allen's church school class of ten young girls had a jolly social get-together at Second Congregational church parsonage last evening. Each girl had the privilege of inviting a boy. Parcheesi and a number of other games were played. Prizes were awarded to the winners in some of the progressive games. Ruth McMenemy won the first girls' prize and Frances Strickland, second. Francis Foster won first prize among the boys and Roger Winton the second. The singing of popular songs and dainty refreshments were other features of the pleasant evening. Sunday is Holy Name society day at St. Bridget's church and it is expected Rev. C. T. McCann will be assisted tomorrow and Sunday by a Passionist father from Springfield who will give a talk to the men. The committee on religious education of Second Congregational church, E. P. Walton, chairman, will meet this evening at 7:30 at the parsonage. Another meat market is to be opened in the north end tomorrow. Herman Gordon will open "Gordon's Market" at 246 North Main street in the old Bissell block. Mr. Gordon will deal in native meats. ROCKEFELLERS IN EGYPT Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 25.—That John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is keenly interested in the history of ancient Egypt, was revealed here today by the deep attention he is giving to the relics taken from the tombs of the Pharos. Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller and their son are here with Prof. James H. Breasted of Chicago, an authority on Egyptology. Mr. Rockefeller is evidently giving no thought to the struggle at home between his family and Col. Robert Stewart for control of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. He is spending all possible time inspecting mummies, historic scenes and art objects taken from the tombs of the ancient kings.

MAN ADRIPT ON ICE GIVEN UP FOR LOST

Aviator Reports That Ice Has All Broken Up in Lake Michigan. Petoskey, Mich., Jan. 25.—Hope was practically abandoned today for Lewis Sweet after three airplanes and dog team parties had failed to sight the Alanson fisherman who drifted into Lake Michigan on an ice floe Tuesday. "There isn't a cake of ice in sight large enough to support a fishing cabin of the size Sweet had," said Lieut. Richard Cobb, pilot of a one-man pursuit plane from Selfridge Field after a 3-hour flight over the lake. "All the ice has broken into little pieces." A dog team party that set out from Cross Village to get Walter Scott, who was on Crane island, was expected to return here today. Chester Lee of Petoskey accompanied the team. Lee and Scott were fishing with Sweet when the latter became stranded on the ice floe. MAY USE COPPER PIPES Hartford, Conn., Jan. 25.—Water companies throughout the state may use copper service pipes to carry water both in mains and directly into consumers' quarters, according to an order issued here today by the Public Utilities Commission. The order follows a meeting of executives of all water companies in Connecticut with the utilities commission here late yesterday. Water companies, according to records here, started with wrought iron pipes, and changed after a time to brass surfaced pipes. The brass is now to be discarded in favor of copper. In England and Wales the average duration of life has risen almost one-third since Pasteur's discovery that many diseases are carried by germs.

THREE MEN KILLED WHEN PLANE CRASHES

San Angelo, Texas, Jan. 25.—Three men were dead today following the crash of a cabin monoplane at Municipal Airport here yesterday. A treacherous cross-wind sent the plane into a nose dive at 100 feet altitude. Al Henley, Ft. Worth, pilot, and Chick Shytle, manager of a theater at Fort Worth, were killed instantly. Don Frasse, former all-south-west fullback and nationally known amateur boxer, was the third occupant of the plane. He was dead before an ambulance reached the field. NO ACTION IN PACT London, Jan. 25.—In view of a Washington report that Secretary of State Kellogg is urging a resumption of the Root arbitration treaty, it was stated in official circles today that Britain plans no action in that direction until after the Kellogg anti-war pact is ratified and is in actual operation. It is maintained in some quarters that the Root arbitration treaty would be unnecessary with the Kellogg anti-war pact in effect. While the Kellogg Pact has been ratified by the United States Senate, it has not yet been ratified by the British Parliament. FLU IN THE STATE Hartford, Conn., Jan. 25.—Connecticut has had, officially 8,751 cases of influenza since the epidemic began, a little less than one month ago, and unofficially has had more than 10,000 cases, according to the State Board of Health. The board today received reports of 366 new cases, bringing the January total to 8,291 cases. December had 460 cases. Among the large reports filed today were Bridgeport, 236; Glastonbury, 34; Trumbull, 25; and Killingly, 14. S. air mail wage for October totaled 467,422, an increase of 10 per cent over September.

HOSPITAL PURCHASES NURSE'S DORMITORY

Soderberg Home on Haynes Street Is Sold to Hospital Association. The Manchester Memorial Hospital association today purchased the two family flat on Haynes street opposite the hospital from John and Ida Soderberg. The house was purchased to be used for dormitory purposes for nurses. One tenement of the house has been used as a dormitory for some time, being rented from the Soderbergs. Senator Robert J. Smith's real estate agency completed the transfer. Water containing magnesium and calcium salts does not swell gelatin as much as soft water does. OPENING STOCKS New York, Jan. 25.—Blooming prices for the steel stocks featured the opening of the Stock Market today. A block of 10,000 shares of U. S. Steel common sold at 189, up 5 1/2 points from Thursday's close. Bethlehem Steel foundries gained 4 points at 76. The market was strong in every section, with Radio up 4 points at 367, Wright Aero up 4 at 273, Consolidated Gas up 3 1/2 at 112 1/2; International Combustion up 1 1/2 at 84 1/2; American Can up 1 1/2 at 114 1/2; St. Joe Lead up 3 at 86; New York Central up 2 1/2 at 195. Some 40 scientific societies have been convening in New York city, or, as an inspired writer on one newspaper said it: "Some 40 odd societies." The best way to make a commodity sell is to make prospective buyers believe it's scarce.

PHONES Pinehurst "GOOD THINGS TO EAT" NOT EVERY DAY SUNDAY A good many years ago there was a highly popular song which predicted that "Every day'll be Sunday by and by." The prediction hasn't come true yet. Sunday is still distinctive. So is the Sunday dinner. We suggested the other day that the few remaining people who imagine that there isn't much class to a corned beef dinner aren't quite keeping up with the times. There is class—and if the New England idea of a boiled dinner is followed out—pretty much everything else in it. The thought is suggested just now by the fact that we have a splendid lot of cuts of Corned Beef—all good ones. Let's discuss your choice over the phone. At Pinehurst for this week-end offers a prime lot of Milk Fed Fowls and Roasting Chickens—big fat fellows, tender as frogs' legs and twice as good. You should try some of this Meadowbrook Sausage Meat with the Sunday morning griddle cakes. Ground from corn fed pork and delightfully seasoned with the purest of spices and herbs. Special on 11—25 cents. Friday, remember, is late phone service night. Three phones working till 9 o'clock. Mike The Barber Makes Place Of Crash Clear

Michael Klukinski, much better known as "Mike the Barber," was in an unsettled frame of mind last night. He had received a letter from the Motor Vehicle Department asking him to explain why he had reported a slight motor accident in which he had become involved, as having occurred at North Main and North School streets, North Manchester, while the other party to the accident had reported it as having happened at North Main and North School streets, Manchester.

post office and that while there are now places called by such names as Buckland, Highland Park and Manchester Green they are all in Manchester and that even Hilliardville is in Manchester; that at one time Hillstown had a post office, but that was in Manchester too.

Mike wrote this all down on a piece of store wrapping paper and enclosed it in the reply envelope. Then somebody told him there was going to be a change in the whole business, as the Herald had a headline that said Manchester's new charter petition had been introduced in the Legislature and that every place would soon be just "Manchester." Mike decided to Mike is a citizen, has been for several years. When he was in the State of Connecticut, County of Hartford, town of Manchester, and that his post office address was South Manchester. He also knew who was President of the United States and about the two governing bodies, but he was never asked where was Manchester. All the fellows he knew north of the turnpike lived in "North Manchester" and when he wanted to do any business with those fellows he drove to "North Manchester" or had them come to South Manchester, to his home.

Got the Dope So last night Mike started out to get some information. He did. He learned that "North Manchester" at one time was North Manchester; Manchester Green once was "Manchester," that South Manchester wasn't "South Manchester" at all, but "Cheney Village," and that people living in "North Manchester" first got their mail in "Oakland." That there was also a post office at Manchester Green that was once known as the Manchester

Make a postscript about this and told the commissioner that it would be the best thing that ever happened, as then, he said, everybody would know where they lived. He bought a stamp and drove to the north end to mail the reply so that the postmark would confirm his elucidation. Mike's friends today are wishing the Motor Vehicle Department luck.

HOME CURE FOR SORE FOOT DIDN'T WORK

Youngster, Long Away from School, Found by Truant Officer in Bad Condition.

A continued absence from school of a boy living on North street resulted in a visit to the home by the truant officer for investigation. The officer found that the boy was suffering with what appeared to be an abscess on his ankle and was being given "home treatment." The treatment consisted of placing a raw potato over the sore on his foot.

7 DISCUSS NORTH END IMPROVEMENT

Handful Considers Consolidation, Schools and Other Big Problems.

Seven members of the Manchester Improvement association attended the annual meeting of the organization in the north end fire house last evening. Because of the small attendance very little business was transacted. However, officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President, Robert M. Reid; first vice president, Matthew Merz; second vice president, William Foulds, Jr.; treasurer, Mark Holmes; secretary, P. A. Sweet; trustees, W. W. Robertson, A. L. Brown, Charles I. Balch, and Thomas J. Shaw.

ABOUT TOWN

Charles Murphy, who has managed the local store of the Green Stores company, has been transferred from Manchester to Middleboro, Mass., where he will manage a store for the same concern. While Middleboro has not as large a store as that in Manchester it is near to the Boston headquarters and is one of the leading chain stores in that section. Mr. Murphy's "marching orders" take effect at once. Mr. Murphy was married after coming to Manchester and has been living on Chestnut street. He has left for his new position.

SNOW TODAY THREATENS ICE SKATING CARNIVAL

Sunday's Big Skating Events May Go the Way of Last Year's.

A heavy snowstorm that started early this morning threatens to seriously handicap officials in charge of the ice skating carnival for Center Springs Pond Sunday afternoon. At noon today the snow had reached a depth of nearly three inches and was falling steadily. It appeared then that it might last on into the night.

WHAT IS A DOUGHNUT?

AND WHAT IS A CRULLER?

Reporter Turns in Story Calling Cruller a Doughnut and Copy Reader Corrects Him.

Sugar Cruller, Jr., has come to take the place of its parent, Papa Cruller, as a reminder for Manchester residents of the home of "Downy" Cruller. The death of Papa Cruller was a real tragedy. Shortly after making his appearance a cruel rainstorm melted away the sugar and swelled Papa Cruller until he looked like a doughnut. But he survived this mishap only to be made the victim of a terrific wind and rainstorm a few weeks ago. Torn from his fastenings he was ed away in the gutter. And so, Papa Cruller's son, newly started and delectable, is gracing the front of the shop.

The reporter who turned this yarn in insisted that the word "doughnut" be used where "cruller" has been used above, but the copy reader simply told him he was all wet. Thereby a beautiful row was started in The Herald's editorial rooms. What is a doughnut? And, what is a cruller? The commonly called doughnut, ring shaped, is correctly a cruller. The true doughnut is that which has been raised with yeast. Maybe, the reader won't agree, but judging from the argument that ensued in The Herald's rooms today, it might just as well be forgotten.

THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE

"Men of the South Pole"
Sketches by Bessey; Synopsis by Draucher

Two ventures into the Antarctic have had as complete and careful preparation as that of Commander Byrd. A big tri-motored monoplane, several smaller planes, two ships and supplies of food, clothing, fuel were assembled and transported to New Zealand, from which point Byrd headed for the Bay of Whales, in the Antarctic continent.

The Masonic Social club will conduct a modern and old fashioned dance in the Masonic Temple tonight. Bill Waddell's orchestra will play.

Tonight at the Manchester Green school the Community club of that section will run the fifth in the second series of whist-dances this season. The prize of $2.50 in gold will be awarded to the player running up the highest score for the series. Six other prizes will be given the winners this evening and refreshments served. The committee who has successfully managed both series is composed of Mrs. Fred Mohr, chairman; Mrs. Ralph Cone, Mrs. Henry Stanley and Mrs. Thomas Sullivan. It is proposed to continue the socials every two weeks through the winter and spring.

Harry White, representative of the Edison Lamp Works of the General Electric company at Harrison, N. J., will be the speaker at Monday noon meeting of the Manchester Kiwanis club at the Hotel Sheridan. Mr. White will give a talk on the early devices for creating light, exhibiting some of them and will introduce some highly interesting spectacular stunts. Harold Turlington will be in charge of the attendance prize Monday.

Mrs. Hannah Watson of Midland Apartments, 299 Main street, announces the marriage of her daughter Jane, to Paul Cleary of Center street. The ceremony took place in New York on December 3.

King David Lodge of Odd Fellows will celebrate its thirty-ninth anniversary tonight in Odd Fellows hall, and a large turnout of the members is hoped for as there will be a roll call. Charles R. Hathaway past grand master of the state organization and the first noble grand of King David lodge, will present 35-year veteran pins to members who joined the lodge in 1891 and 1892. The meeting will begin at 7:30 and will be followed by a social hour with refreshments in the banquet hall.

George May, who was named early last summer as the assistant superintendent of the new County building in Hartford and who moved to the parlments that he is to occupy in the building two weeks ago, was in town for a short time last night on business. He assured his friends that there has been plenty to do in getting things in order. The formal opening of the new County building will be on Tuesday, but to see it right, according to George's friends, it will be necessary to have a special guide. When George has time he will be glad to show his friends through the new building.

Chiefs will be raised by the deputy and staff from Hartford at the meeting of Miantonomah Tribe, No. 58, Improved Order of Red Men, at Tinker hall tonight at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.
