WETS-DRYS CLASH AGAIN IN SENATE

Washington, Feb. 16.—The Senate today staged another Wet and Dry battle—the third of the present session. The contest revolved around the Jones bill, increasing penalties for prohibition violations. It drew the wrath of Senate Wets who denounced it as invoking "excessive penalties" for minor offenses. The bill would increase penalties for illegal manufacture, sale, transportation, importation or exportation of intoxicating liquor to a maximum of five years imprisonment and a $100,000 fine.

SECRET SPRINGS OF POWER WHICH PREVAIL OVER LIFE

The International Sunday School Lesson for February 17 is "Prayer"—Matthew 6:5-13; Luke 18:9-14.

Riding in the subway the other day, I noticed that the man next to me was reading the New Testament. Then he closed the book and bowed his head and shut his eyes; and I knew that he was praying. As a great wave, the sense of the mystery and marvel of prayer swept over me. Here was a stranger, whom I could reach out, my hands and touch, who had suddenly shut himself off from the crowd of his fellow passengers, and from the roar and racket of the subway, and he was talking with God! What was he asking of the Father in heaven? Did he have some special need unsuspected by the world? What transports of peace were swelling in his soul? Was God more near and real to him than I, and the other human beings lurching against him and in front of him?

"Behold, he prayeth!" can never be written except in words of wonder and awe. Before my eyes in the subway that day was being enacted the supreme marvel of mortal possibility—the spirit of man engaged in a transaction with the Supreme Spirit.

That man to whom the subway was a secret closet of prayer, wherein he was shut apart with God, typifies the great reality of the spiritual life. In every place and in every condition and in every age men have thus prayed, and in praying have found peace and power. None of our busy statisticians can compute the number and sort of people who pray; nor can any earthly record be kept of answered prayers. Yet prayer is a factor and force in human affairs.

When King George Got Well
 When King George lay ill—hopelessly ill, the wise ones said—people all around the world prayed for his recovery. In stately churches and in lowly cottages, and in strange and diverse tongues, prayers arose for his majesty's recovery. And he is getting well, by the blessing of God upon the ministry of the physicians. Newspapers reported the prayers; but no newspaper has since linked the prayers with the recovery, as cause and effect. Nevertheless, many millions of Christians, who believe that "the prayer of faith shall heal the sick," have their own convictions upon the subject.

By its very nature, prayer is a mystery; and it is not given to any man to say of a certitude just which prayers have been answered, and how. But every mature Christian can testify, as he looks back across the years, that ways beyond his foretelling, God has answered the substance of his life's prayers. This is the testimony of the ages. Swift and dramatic answers to prayers there have been, beyond doubt; but for the moment we cite only this cloud of witnesses from the days of the Bible until now.

Out Of Old Books
 In my hand I hold a little old leather-bound book, published almost two hundred years ago. It uses the quaint type of long ago, with the long "s" which looks like "f"; and its pages are brown with time. Isaac Watts wrote the Dedication and Preface, in 1737; and the author was Mrs. Elizabeth Rowe, then an aged gentlewoman. The book is called "Devout Exercises of the Heart"; and it throbs with the timeless passion of sincere Christian devotion.

More than a hundred years before Elizabeth Rowe's book, Jeremy Taylor penned counsel on prayer that is as timely as though written yesterday:

"Converse with God by frequent prayer. . . . In particular, desire that your desires may be right, and love to have your affections regular and holy. To which purpose make very frequent addresses to God by ejaculations and communions; and an assiduous daily devotion; discover to Him all your wants; complain to Him of all your affronts; do as Hezekiah did, lay your misfortunes and your ill news before Him; spread them before the Lord; call to Him for health, run to Him for counsel, beg of Him for pardon; and it is as natural to love Him to whom we make such addresses, and of whom we have such dependencies, as it is for children to love their parents."

Still earlier, in the first half of the twelfth century, St. Bernard was praying, in phrases which might be our own:

"O Lord, come quickly and reign on Thy throne, for now oft-times something rises up within me, and tries to take possession of Thy throne; pride, covetousness, uncleanness, and sloth want to be my kings; and then evil-speaking, anger, hatred, and the whole train of vices join with me in warring against myself, and try to reign over me. I resist them, I cry out against them, and say, 'I have no

KEITH'S COLONIAL DAYS

Featuring Special Furniture Offerings Of Interesting Early American Types

FEBRUARY is truly Colonial Month. Our thoughts now turn to Washington and his times, with an ever increasing realization of the vast influence that this important era has—not only to our country—but to our homes. Not the least of our forefathers' accomplishments were the fine furniture styles they created. We grow to love more than ever this quaint and charming furniture made by Colonial craftsmen. It is now that we long to furnish our homes with these fine and lasting pieces.

Keith's have prepared for you during Colonial Days Special Furniture Offerings of these early American types that you will just adore. . . and they're priced very moderately, too. Every home should include Colonial furniture. What better time could you select yours than right now?

JACKIE FIELDS GETS DECISION OVER JOE GANS

Takes Seven Out of Ten Rounds But Opponent Refused to Open Up.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.
New York, Feb. 16.—Jackie Fields, pretender to the throne of all the welterweights, made his plea before the court of last appeals in the great big city last night, and scored over Babe Joe Gans, fellow Californian, in the course of ten somewhat lively discussions without laying himself open to the charge of inciting to riot. Fields won clearly, almost ostentatiously, but nobody had to be penalized half the distance to the goal line for unnecessary roughness.

The punch that abruptly discontinued Sergeant Sammy Baker and Pete Meyers, lashed out with much violence throughout the evening, but B. J. Gans retained the perpendicular from Hagfall to finish and even went so far as to ply the crown pretender with a right cross upon the Vandyske from time to time. The performance left some doubt as to whether Fields has the punch his recent record seemed to indicate, although, in truth it must be conceded that B. J. Gans went into retirement behind a barricade of gloves, elbows, and shoulders almost every time the going became hostile.

THIS TIME GIRLS GIVE TWO GOALS

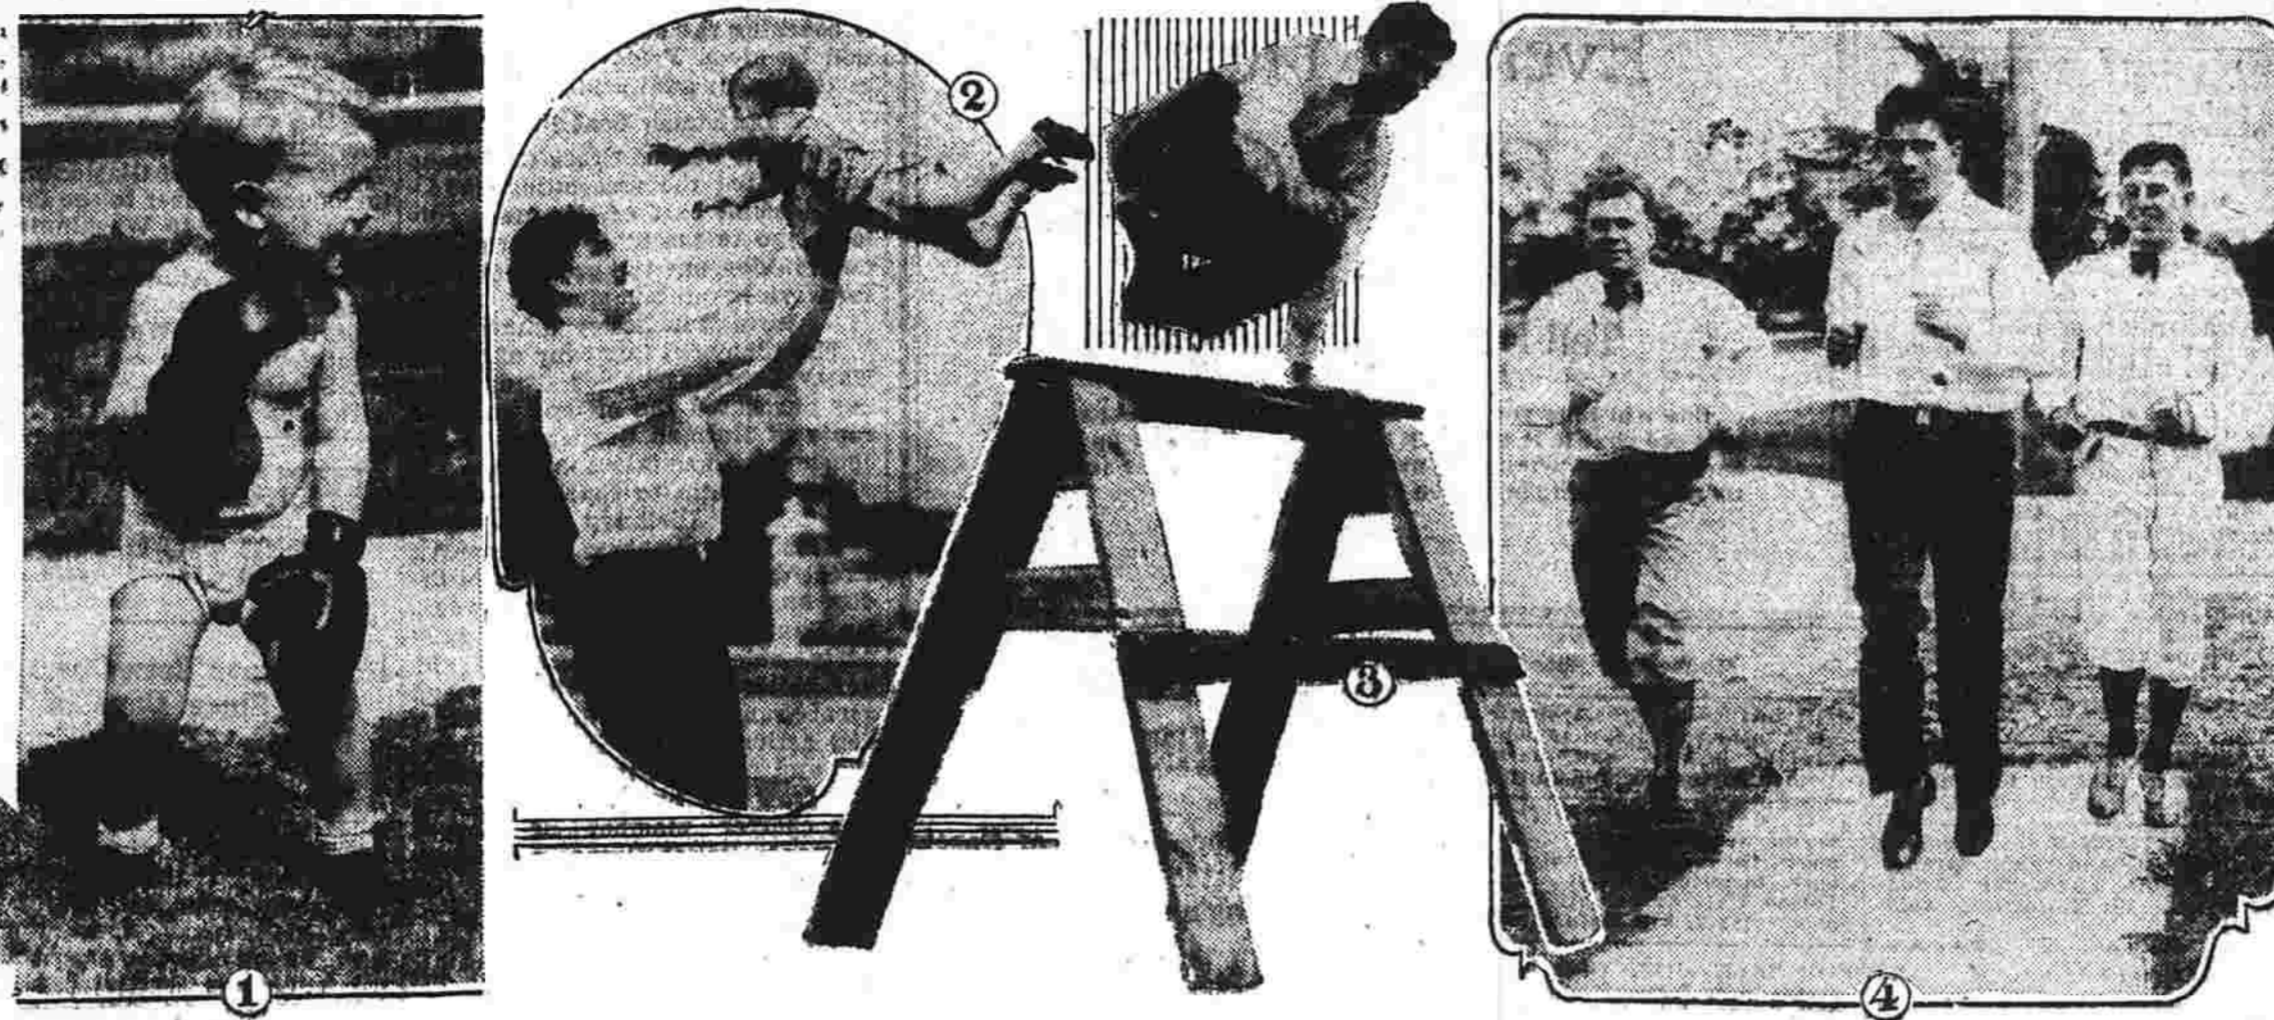

Rec Lassies Drub New Britain Independents 36 to 6; Welles, Scranton Star.

The Rec Girls won another victory by a one-sided game last night in the preliminary game to the Rec-Canadians encounter, when they drubbed the New Britain Independents by a score of 36 to 6. The visitors made only two field goals, both by Miss Raul. The night before, the Rec Girls allowed the St. Peter's Girls only one basket in Westfield. Miriam Welles and Anne Scranton were the leading scorers last night. Peggy McLoughlin played her usual effective game at guard and Margaret Welles didn't look so bad either. The summary:

RICHARDS PICKS TENNIS PROS TO BEAT AMATEURS

By DAVIS J. WALSH

He once was one of the most prominent of Boy Wonders. Now he is referred to as a "leading professional," which means that he is in a tough racket and know that he must talk his way out of the spot, somehow.

However, when Vincent Richards says that the national tennis champion of the United States can't be the national tennis champion of the United States until such time as there is an open tournament for professionals and amateurs alike, I think he has an argument.

By way of supporting his contention, the young man has named a tentative list of ten leaders among the professionals and offers to match his team with any list of ten the amateurs may care to bring forth. This is a fair test of the argument.

Richards, therefore, is giving himself no particular break in confining his comparison to the twenty tentative leaders. First off, he offers to match Kozeluh with either Cochet or Lacoste, the Frenchmen, admittedly the greatest amateurs playing the game today.

Hans Wagner, One Time Ball Star, Now Holds Job at $7 Per Day

By DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, Feb. 16.—Hans Wagner, one time star of the major leagues, has been appointed an assistant sergeant-at-arms for the House of Representatives at Harrisburg. The post pays $7 a day.

It all happened in the troublous times around 1901 and 1902 when the American League was a raiding outlaw, fighting for recognition. It ejected many of the stars away from the National, including the best of Wagner's team mates.

If he had fallen for the stuff, it is inevitable that Wagner would have been placed in New York and, for all one knows the entire history of the Yankee club would have been altered. He would have made them a permanent winner in 1901 when Chesbro wild-pitched the flag away; he might have kept the club up there so long that its great financial success might have been achieved years earlier.

3,000 TEAMS IN BOWLING BATTLE OPENING MARCH 2

By DAVIS J. WALSH

Chicago, Feb. 16.—The 1929 American Bowling Congress which is to be held in Dexter Park Pavilion here starting March 2 will be the biggest bowling tournament in the history of the sport. And more than that it will be the biggest single athletic event in the world as it has been in the past.

Over 3,000 teams will enter the affair. This means 15,000 bowlers and with 3,000 to 5,000 who will bow in the singles and doubles without entering the team event will bring the total list of individual competitors up around 19,000.

Williams' Yankees in their first game mated Johnson's Plutons a score of 41 to 20. Snow and Tilden did most of the scoring for the Yankees and Dutchin for the Plutons. At halftime, the score stood 17 to 11.

Playing mediocre ball the first half and trailing 20 to 16 at intermission, the Rec Five came back with a vengeance in the second half and swamped the Canadians 31 to 19 which enabled Manchester to emerge a 47 to 45 winner in a closely fought battle at the School street Rec.

The victory was the fifteenth out of eighteen games played for the Rec and puts them back on the winner side of the ledger once more. Next Tuesday evening, the crack Bristol Enders' principal contenders for the state championship, will be the attraction here while on Thursday the locals will journey to Hartford where they will meet the Knights of Lithuania in the new Kacey hall.

Local's Tie Score
Hartman and Conroy the first half of the entire Rec team joined in helping overcome the Canadian's big halftime margin. It remained for "Happy" Madden and Roy Norris to close the gap completely with the lead more than a game.

LETTER GOLF

THIS IS A PICNIC You may not think a CLAM BAKE is anything like a picnic by the time you finish today's puzzle. Par is eight and one solution is on another page:

Letter golf puzzle grid with letters C, L, A, M and B, A, K, E.

THE RULES. 1-The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN. 2-You can change only one letter at a time. 3-You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count. 4-The order of letters cannot be changed. He who can bottle up his temper is a corker.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Thus He Slipped Away. Ephraim Walker Johnson, colored, had by due process of law been hanged in Florida. His funeral was being preached by a Kentucky pastor, who had known Ephraim since childhood. "Brethren," said the preacher, "you all have come to pay your last respects to the deceased, Brother Johnson. This brother was bred and born in Kentucky, where he grew to manhood; he later gravitated to Tennessee, then to Alabama, then to Georgia, and, last to Florida, where he met, wed and killed his wife. This is the crime he has now paid for. Brethren and sisters, this deceased brother is now in hell, and the only consolation that I can offer the sorrowing relatives is—that he went there, gradually."

Two negroes standing outside a cheap hotel noticed one of their friends being thrown out of the 3rd story window and when they examined him they found that he was cut almost to death with a razor. One of the negroes said it could have been a lot worse. When asked why it could have been lots worse, he ventured the information that he had just left the room that the negro was thrown out of about 30 minutes ago and that it could have been him.

Here is the story as vouched for by the Club Service Division of the American Automobile Association: Out in Ohio a totally illiterate colored citizen had a strong desire to drive an automobile. He was examined by three members of his own race, who charged him $3, gave him "license" and told him to go to it. After driving for a year he ran afoul of the traffic laws. Asked to produce his license, he displayed the most amazing document ever presented to a traffic cop. It read as follows:

"Back Seat Driver's License Signed: U. Worry Em Commissioner of Byways." The judge who heard the case gave a suspended sentence. "Has you made all arrangements for your marriage, Mandy?" "Well, not quite all Dinah. I see got to buy a trooso, an' rent a house, an' get mah husband a job, and buy him a good suit o' close an' get some regular washin' to do. An' when them's done ah kin name the happy day."

Mrs. Johnson—"I thought you all said you was going to name your new baby 'Victrola,' but I hears you all done made a change." Mrs. Moses—"Yes, I 'spected it would be a girl, and I had decided to name her 'Victrola,' but she turned out to be a boy, so I done name him 'Radio'." A wise woman keeps her husband truthful by not asking him too many questions. Mandy to Sambo, reading the evening paper: "Listen heah, you! Ah didn't buy 'o' dat papah fo' entertainment. And no one's harmed one bit. You're boat filled up just like a sponge, and you all look a funny plunge. Come here upon the hillside. It's a comfy place to sit." Then Clowny shouted, with a frown, "Oh, not I'm not for sitting down. We'll all catch cold if we loaf 'round here. Let's build a fire and 'round it swarm and then we'll all get good and warm. We need some sort of heat to take the chill off, goodness knows." "A great idea," said the man. "And I will help you if I can. You

ABOUT TOWN

The Temple Carillon Players making their fourth appearance in Manchester tonight, at the High School Auditorium, are firmly established with Manchester's music followers as musicians of worth. The program to be presented is very well balanced, including many numbers familiar to the Swedish population here. Between appearances, of the Bell Ringers, George B. Dowd baritone, will entertain with vocal selections, accompanied by Helge Pearson, choirmaster of the Swedish Lutheran church.

The regular monthly meeting of the St. Mary's Young Men's Club will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the clubhouse. It is hoped that all members will make an effort to be present as many matters of importance will be discussed.

Enlight Lodge, I. O. G. T. will meet tomorrow afternoon at Orange hall at 3 o'clock instead of tonight, as many members are planning to attend the concert at High school hall.

The February meeting of the Manchester League of Women Voters will be held Tuesday evening, February 19, at 7:45 at the home of the treasurer, Mrs. Elbert Shelton, 105 Chestnut street. The speaker will be Miss Beatrice H. Marsh, executive secretary at the Hartford headquarters of the League. The subject will be "Legislative Measures." Miss Marsh is well informed on her subject.

Clifford Squires has sold two building lots on Main street, south of Pine Hill street, to Mrs. Martha Hooks, and bought from the latter her three-family house on Eldridge street. Mrs. Hooks has in turn sold the lots to E. J. Hill and has bought from him a six-room single house under course of construction in the Blufffield extension. The transfers were made through the agency of Wallace D. Robb.

Mrs. George F. Borst of Cambridge street entertained the young girls of her class in the intermediate department at Second Congregational church school with a Valentine party yesterday afternoon at her home. There were games, with prizes. The table was decorated and the luncheon in keeping with the occasion. The favors were red hats with white feathers.

Mystic Review, Woman's Benefit association will hold its regular business meeting in Odd Fellows hall on Tuesday evening. A large turnout of the members is hoped for as a surprise program will follow the meeting.

Sunset Rebekah lodge will meet in Odd Fellows hall Monday evening. The business will be followed by a rehearsal of the degree team. Those who are not obliged to drill will pass the time with cards.

Tryouts for "A Bill of Divorcement," the Town Players second feature production of the season, will be held Tuesday evening at the School street Rec. Should the selection of a cast prove too difficult, some other play will be selected. Although much more serious than anything yet attempted by the Town Players "A Bill of Divorcement" is not expected to prove beyond their scope. This play was given at Parsons' theater, Hartford, last fall with an all-star cast.

SACRED MUSIC SERVICE
SOUTH METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH
TOMORROW EVENING
 at 7:30
CHORUS OF 35 VOICES
 Under Direction of
ARCHIBALD SESSIONS
 Public Invited!

The annual meeting of the Manchester Fish and Game club is scheduled for Wednesday evening, February 20 at Tinker Hall.

Miss Amory Cheney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Cheney of 98 Forest street, was formally introduced to society at a largely attended party held at the Country clubhouse on South Main street last evening.

Dancing will be the attraction at the Green school assembly hall this evening, with Wehr's orchestra to provide music and Dan Miller to call off the old-fashioned dances.

At the South Methodist church tomorrow there is to be a rather unusual morning service. It is to be under the special sponsorship of the women of the congregation and the women are inviting and urging the attendance of the men. The subject of the sermon by the pastor, Rev. Robert A. Colpitts, is to be "Help Those Women."

Gustave Schreiber, Manchester contractor, has gone to St. Petersburg, Fla., for a stay of several weeks.

SACRED MUSICAL
TOMORROW NIGHT

Parry's "Blest Pair of Sirens" to Be Sung at South Methodist Episcopal Church.

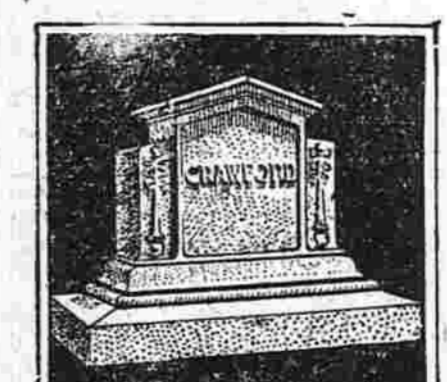

The choir of the South Methodist Episcopal Church, under the direction of Archibald Sessions will sing Sir Hubert Parry's "Blest Pair of Sirens," at their next musical, this coming Sunday night. The music, written for Milton's Ode, "At a Solemn Music," brought Parry to the fore ranks of English composers of the Nineteenth century. In addition, the choir will also sing five Anthems of the modern Russian school which is having such a vogue throughout the world at the present time; two works of Kalinikoff, "Praise the Lord, sing Alleluia" and "We Worship Thee," Tschalkowski's "Come, O Blessed Lord," "Hear My Prayers" by Kopyloff, and the "Creation Hymn," an arrangement by Bornschein of Rachmaninoff's famous "Prelude in C sharp minor" so well known to the piano lover. This last number has been largely featured by Romy this season, both in stage presentation and over the radio. The service will commence at 7:30, and the public is cordially invited.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB HAS DAY WITH POETS

The Cosmopolitan club, meeting with Mrs. Gertrude Bissell-Purnell at 43 Brookfield street yesterday afternoon, had an interesting session with the modern poets. Mrs. J. W. Conrow read a paper on the English poet laureate, Alfred Noyes, giving some interesting facts concerning his life and a critical analysis of his verse. In illustration Mrs. Conrow read several selections from his works and recited "The Highwayman," perhaps the Noyes poem best known in this country.

Mrs. J. A. Hood took for her subject Robert Frost, well known bard of New England. She gathered much of her material from a biography of Frost, "A Study in Sensibility and Common Sense," by Gorham B. Munson, a copy of which was sent to Mrs. Hood by the poet. Mrs. Hood read some of Frost's poems, including the well-known "Death of the Hired Man."

Edna St. Vincent Millay, in the opinion of many the first poet of American today, and who likewise may be called a New England poet since she was born in Maine, was the subject of a paper by Mrs. D. C. Y. Moore, who read several examples of Millay's work.

The next meeting of the Cosmopolitan club will be held with Mrs. William Rush, 214 South Main street. It will take the form of a musicale, arranged by Mrs. Rush, Mrs. R. K. Anderson and Mrs. Maude Norton.

The annual meeting of the Manchester Fish and Game Club will be held Wednesday evening, Feb. 20 at 8 o'clock in Tinker hall.
 Officers for the ensuing year will be elected and plans for annual banquet will be discussed. All members please attend.

A FEW ETERNAL Questions
To wives, especially (Husbands may read between the lines)
 Is your husband thoughtful enough to carry life insurance for your benefit?
 How much? Enough to educate the children, give them a start, and keep you fairly comfortable for life?
 Would you enjoy the prospect of having to invest this money some day so as to give you a steady income?
 Or would you be glad to know that your husband had arranged his life insurance so that the responsibility for the sound investment of the proceeds would be placed on our shoulders rather than on yours?
 And, at the same time, wouldn't it reassure you to know that, if special needs arose, part of the principal would be promptly available for your use?
 Has your husband, to your knowledge, looked into this arrangement of a Life Insurance Trust?
 Why not encourage him to come in and find out more about this excellent modern plan which so many of our thoughtful business men are adopting?
