

HOOVER FINDS DIFFICULTY IN NAMING BOARD

Has 100 Names to Select from for Fact Finding Commission to Study Prohibition Problem.

Washington, March 22.—Picking a Cabinet was a tough job, but President Hoover has found one equally as difficult and possibly even more trying. It is the task of selecting the men who are to compose his commission to investigate the causes of and the remedies for the widespread lawlessness that has sprung up in the wake of prohibition.

He devoted a lot of time to considering the make-up of this commission while still a president-elect, and since his entry into the White House it has occupied more of his attention than any other single problem.

After weeks of consultations, and investigations, there still remain in his desk nearly 100 names, from which the nine or eleven will be chosen. Some decision are understood to have been reached, but the personnel is still far from complete. He hopes to announce it shortly before the new Congress convenes.

Hughes Out of It. Mr. Hoover had hoped to persuade Charles E. Hughes to head the commission. That hope is now understood to have been abandoned. Hughes sails for Europe on May 1 to take up his duties as a justice on the bench of the World Court.

While the commission will be formed to investigate all kinds of lawlessness, Mr. Hoover realizes—and so does political Washington—that in the final analysis it comes down principally to prohibition. Therein lies the difficulty. He hopes to present a commission of judicially-minded persons who have not been identified with either side of the bitter wet-and-dry argument that has been going on now for nearly ten years. It is no easy task to find nine or eleven judicially-minded people who have been neutral on the question of prohibition, and who at the same time are "big" enough to inspire respect and confidence of the public generally.

Cannot Name Dry. If he appoints outstanding prohibitionists, the whole investigation at once loses caste and affords the so-called Liberals the opportunity to say that the commission is "packed" and that prohibition is being investigated by its friends.

28 MINERS KILLED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Bodies Not Removed Until Rescuers Find Out If Others Are Alive.

Kinloch Mine, Near Parnassus, Pa., March 22.—The known death toll of the mine gas explosion here mounted today to 28, of whom 21 have been identified.

Bodies of the unidentified victims have not been removed to the surface. Rescue teams returning from below reported discovery of the others.

No one, not even company officials themselves, know positively how many men are still in the mine. Deputy Governor Charles F. Brush of Westmoreland county, in charge of the temporary morgue, hazarded a guess that there may be 35, but there were others who thought the number should not be that large.

A report reaching the surface to the effect that a party of four miners trapped 24 hours ago had succeeded in bratticing themselves in a section and were still alive electrified the 2,000 persons clamoring for information at the gates of the Valley Camp Coal Company yards here.

Discover Barriers. Rescue teams reported discovering several barriers resembling brattices. They hoped that when gas clears sufficiently to tear these away they will find a number of survivors.

O. F. Taylor, superintendent of this ill-fated mine, would not say he thought many of the men not yet located might be alive, for fear of increasing the burden of the bereaved by possibly giving rise to false hopes.

But Taylor and others in charge of rescue operations were determined to press forward into the unexplored sections as rapidly as possible, spurred on by the hope that lives of some miners may be sustained for a while longer, if they are not already dead.

"If there are any more in there alive," said Taylor, "no time is to be wasted. We must make every effort to reach them immediately and that is just what we are doing."

15 Persons Killed By Alabama Tornado

Gadsden, Ala., March 22.—Fifteen persons were reported killed and many others injured in a tornado which early today dipped upon the little town of Maxwellborn, Ala., according to reports received here. Telephone calls to Gadsden and Anniston from a nearby town asked that all available medical aid be rushed to the vicinity of Maxwellborn.

Among the dead are Miller Parker, 8 years old, and Roosevelt Smith, a small child, age unknown. They were killed when part of a school building collapsed. Those injured were in the building. The teacher of the small school, Miss Madge George, was seriously injured and was not expected to recover.

The others injured were not seriously hurt. Approximately thirty houses and barns were torn down by the twister, but no other casualties were reported. Many trees were uprooted.

After striking Maxwellborn, the tornado hit the small town of Jacksonville, Ala., and while it did some damage to property, caused no loss of life.

The Maxwellborn injured were being treated in an emergency hospital established in a store. Medical aid was requested from Anniston, Gadsden and Piedmont, Ala.

NATIONAL FUNERAL FOR MARSHAL FOCH

Last Resting Place to Be Beside the Remains of Na- poleon Bonaparte.

Paris, March 22.—The body of Marshal Ferdinand Foch, France's beloved warrior, reposed in state in the grand saloon of his home today, while an officers' guard of honor stood watch and thousands filed past his bier in silent homage.

The simple soldier who, living, shirked glory as much as he could, is to be honored in death as no other military chief of modern times has been honored.

For two days before he is accorded a national funeral on Tuesday, the marshal's body will lie under the Arch of Triumph beside the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

His last resting place will be in the chapel of Les Invalides beside the remains of Napoleon Bonaparte. Sunday morning, the marshal's body will be laid upon a gun carriage and taken from his home to beneath the Arch of Triumph under cavalry escort.

There the hundreds of thousands who idolized the departed chief will file past the coffin. A mounted guard of officers will be maintained throughout the two days it will rest beneath the arch.

The illustrious Arch will be illuminated in honor of the two bodies lying under its shadow—that of the great generalissimo who led the allied armies to victory in 1918, and that of the unknown soldier who symbolizes his followers who gave their all.

No wreaths will be laid on the coffin or at the arch at the request of the marshal himself, made in his will.

Monday night, the marshal's body again will be laid upon a gun carriage and taken to the Cathedral Notre Dame under cavalry escort.

At 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, a high mass of requiem will be sung in the cathedral. The marshal was a devout Catholic.

After the religious ceremonies the coffin will be borne to Les Invalides amid solemn and magnificent splendor. President Doumergue will follow the gun carriage, bearing the coffin on foot.

Three marshals of France, Pétain, Franchet d'Espèrey and Lyauté together with General Pershing, of the United States, General Weyand, the marshal's most intimate friend, Field Marshal Lord Plummer and Field Marshal Sir George Milne, of Britain, will act as pallbearers according to present plans. Marshal Joffre is now too weak to act in that capacity.

Funeral. He has regained the use of his hands.

FEDERALS STILL HOLD MAZATLAN AGAINST ATTACK

Greatly Outnumbered They Await Reinforcements Ex- pected to Arrive at Be- sieged Port Tonight.

Despite the assaults of the rebels and their superiority in numbers, General Jaime Carrillo's Federal troops are still holding the important port of Mazatlan, according to Mexico City advices today.

The Federal garrison in Mazatlan is believed to number 2,500 men, while the rebel force of Gen. Roberto Cruz, which is attacking the Federal trenches and redoubts, numbers about 5,000.

The 6,000 Federal reinforcements ordered from Torreon to relieve the Mazatlan garrison are expected to reach the scene of conflict tonight.

Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, commander in chief of the Federals, has ordered Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan into Chihuahua with 13,000 men to give battle to the rebels in that state. Gen. Almazan's army consists of 12 regiments of infantry, 16 regiments of cavalry and one regiment of artillery.

Mexico City, March 22.—A decisive battle loomed today for the possession of Mazatlan, Sinaloa, the largest Mexican seaport on the west coast now in the hands of the Federals.

A powerful rebel force of between 500 and 600 troops led by General Roberto Cruz has been viciously attacking the Federal force of less than 2,000 at intermittent intervals during the last 24 hours, but at last reports the Federals still held the city.

At the request of General Carrillo, commanding the defenders, General Calles has rushed 6,000 men from Torreon to augment the Federal forces in Mazatlan.

The situation has taken on a decidedly different aspect in the last few days, high officials here admitted today.

When a few days ago the rebels were reported feinting on all fronts, fighting appeared imminent today at two other points besides Mazatlan.

Expect Battle. A decisive battle is now expected soon in Chihuahua, either at Escobedo or Rellano, between which towns the main rebel force is said to be concentrated.

Other reports here stated that the rebels had instituted a campaign for the recapture of Naco, Sonora, on the American border, which is now in Federal hands.

Gen. Calles' main force is still concentrated north of Torreon ready to continue his announced drive northward for the subjugation of Chihuahua and Sonora. About 100 miles separate the main bodies of both armies.

With the departure of Gen. Gardenas at the head of 5,000 troops to reinforce Mazatlan, the Federal concentration north of Torreon has been reduced to less than 20,000. The rebels at Escobedo are variously estimated at between 6,000 and 9,000 troops.

REBEL CHIEF'S SON IS TRUE SOLDIER

Salutes His Superior But Says Nothing When Told of Father's Execution.

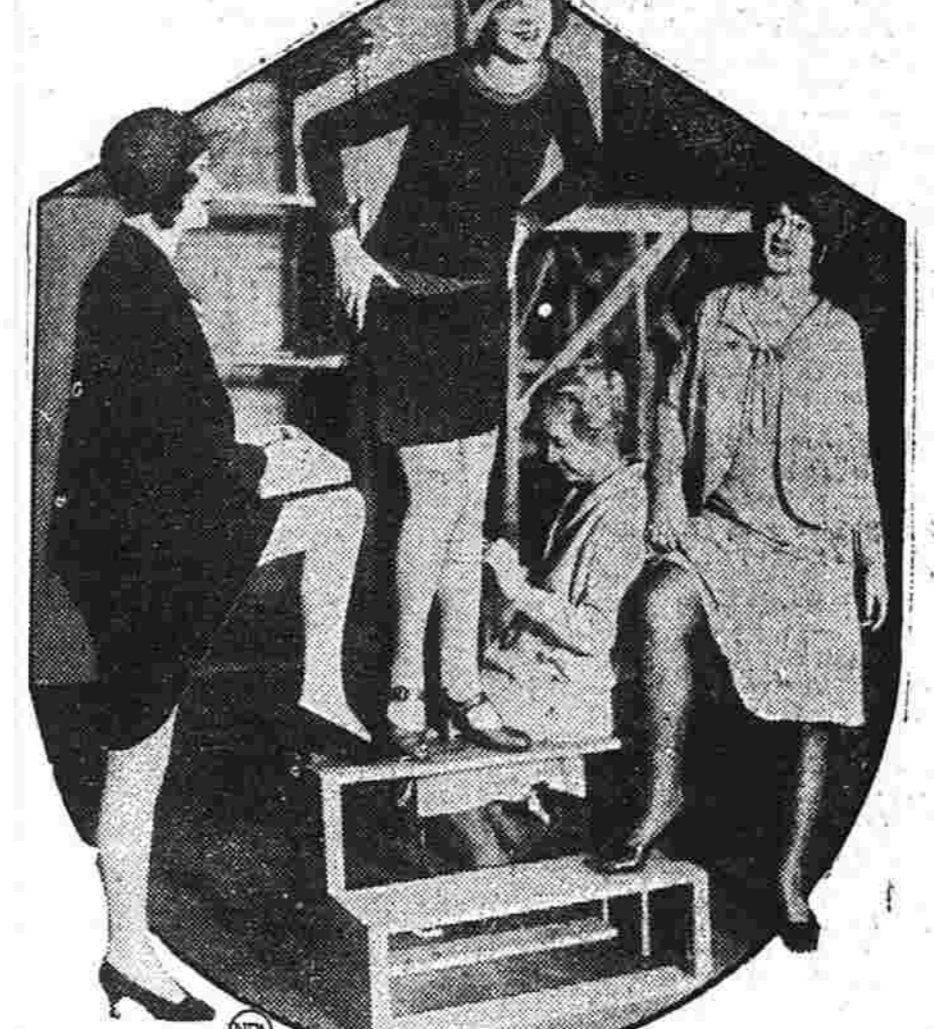

Chester, Pa., March 22.—Students at the Pennsylvania military college preparatory school were paying homage today to the game-ness of one of their classmates, Leon Humberto Aguirre, son of General Jesus H. Aguirre, who was executed in Vera Cruz Province, Mexico, yesterday.

Young Aguirre was summoned to the office of Col. Frank K. Hyatt, vice president of the college. Efforts had been made to induce the president of Mexico to exile the general rather than permit the military law to take its course. The youth did not know what had happened—leniency or death.

He stood erect before the colonel, and looked straight at him. His shoulders were thrown back. He was a fine young figure in his gray military uniform.

"You must be a good soldier," the colonel said, trying to conceal his own emotion.

It'd Be a Shin Not to Print This!

All work and no publicity makes press agents dull boys—in the eyes of their bosses—so at last they figured out something they thought newspaper editors might like. Flo Ziegfeld's cuties asked up to a Broadway theater to have their limbs measured in an effort to find "the average leg," which will be cast in bronze and shown throughout the country. Pretty nifty, eh? Three of the little Broadway Calf Club girls are on exhibition above—left to right, Betty Dumbiris, Meredith Howard and Collette Ayres.

GIVES GIRL A LIFT, IS ROBBED BY HER

Springfield Man Reports That He Was Held Up and Robbed.

Springfield, Mass., March 22.—A fashionably dressed girl—a brunette about 25 years of age—after securing a lift with a motorist today, robbed the man at pistol point and then searched his clothing when she got only three dollars.

Harold F. Arnold, an employee of the Springfield Gas Co., the victim of the daring girl bandit, said that she was picked up on the road, following the robbery by a man in a sedan type automobile and Arnold did not know whether the man was her confederate or another of her victims.

Arnold told police that he was driving from Springfield to Indian Orchard shortly before noon today when the girl stepped out of the side of the road and called to him for a ride. He accommodated her and they had gone but a short distance when she suddenly turned toward him and, pressing a pistol to his side, demanded his money.

Arnold said that he had three dollars and he gave her the money. Disatisfied with the $3 the girl bandit ordered him to stop the auto and when he did so she searched his clothing. Not finding any more money she ordered Arnold to drive on a mile and when all other traffic was out of sight a sedan came into sight from another direction. With the pistol still held at Arnold's side the girl ordered him to stop and, alighting from his car, she hailed the sedan and was driven away.

Twice within two months Mrs. Sarah Lewis, 26 years old, of Vernon has accepted automobile rides in Manchester and then changed her mind so completely that she couldn't wait for the car to stop before getting out of it. The first time she was picked up early in the morning, Mrs. Lewis took another by OMBERS Donaldson, who found her lying, stunned in the road. That time she was taken to the police station and then sent home, not much the worse for her experience.

GERMANY REJECTS PLAN OF ALLIES FOR REPARATIONS

CORPORATIONS REPORT LARGE NET EARNINGS

Profits of 34 Utility Com- panies at 38 Per Cent; Ex- pert Shows How This Af- fects Stock Exchange.

BY W. S. COUSINS
I. N. S. Financial Editor
New York, March 22.—The first all American corporations to report the financial results of their 1928 operations showed an increase of 22 per cent in net income over the previous year, and the combined profits of 34 utility companies were 16 per cent higher.

Taken in conjunction with the enormous increase in bank and corporation loans against securities, commonly called brokers' loans, and the vast expansion of public interest and participation in the Stock Market, these reports tell an important story to those able to interpret it. They show how a sum of money estimated at anywhere from two to three billion dollars could have been provided outside of bank deposits for the use of the Stock Market.

Loaning Funds. It is perfectly obvious that if the corporations had not been loaning funds directly to the Stock Exchange members they would have extended their loans to the brokers' houses. Perhaps the bankers would not have been so liberal as the "outsiders," and surely they are hesitant in with more restrictions.

President H. H. Simmons of the Stock Exchange so well placed out, no one has ever lost a penny in the call loan market.

Industrial heads have been telling us in the last few years that the country was very much overdeveloped from the production standpoint.

Call for Session. Speaker Eddy of State Assembly Asks for Check-Up of Business.

Hartford, March 22.—The House today in closing its session heard Samuel A. Eddy, its speaker, announce he would call a meeting of clerks, committees and the House leader for next Tuesday afternoon to check up on progress of business to date. Before the announcement, both the House and the Senate had approved appointment of Frank A. Waters, of Middlebury, as New Haven county commissioner for four years.

A derby charter amendment, rejected yesterday, was reconsidered today and re-committed. The bill was House Bill 159.

Unfavorable reports in the House today were:

Two amendments to the Nautical Borough charter, both included in a bill to be brought out favorably later; giving additional powers to the state tax commissioner, permitting him to examine books in any town when he suspects officials have been unfaithful to their duties; a Meriden charter amendment which was withdrawn; providing for consolidating New Canaan town and borough; four fish and game bills repealing all laws concerning snares and snaring, establishing new closed seasons for fur bearing animals; establishing game preserves, and changing the closed season on raccoons.

Favorable Reports. Favorable reports received by the House follow:

Authorizing a $50,000 issue of refunding bonds in Stonington; authorizing Hebron to issue $12,500 in refunding bonds; permitting East Hampton to issue school bonds; amending the Windsor fire district charter; providing for superintendent of highways and buildings to be appointed by the Fairfield selectmen; authorizing appointment of a city engineer in Williamsville by the common council; authorizing Fairfield to establish a drainage and sewerage system; authorizing Ridgefield's selectmen to establish parking regulations; providing for voting districts in West Hartford; putting a road from East Granby to East

Deny Report. It is rumored here that the figure of 1,750,000,000 marks, which is now being mentioned, represents an offer supposed to have been made by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, leader of the German reparations delegation on his own responsibility, as to the size of German annuities, but this is denied.

Following his return here from Paris, Dr. Schacht, who also is head of the Reichsbank, held a conference at that institution. Last it was stated that the outlook is pessimistic and that the reparations conference may be postponed until autumn.

While Dr. Schacht was still in Paris it was stated that if he should be compelled to go higher than his offer of 1,500,000,000 marks he would demand the most drastic transfer protection for additional sums, making payment of these sums dependent upon the means by which the Germans would be able to meet the larger demand.

TO PRESIDE AT GRANGE MEETING IN BAY STATE

Local Man, First Master of Princeton, Mass. Group, Chosen for Signal Affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Aruthur E. Hutchinson of 183 North Elm street, left this afternoon by auto for Princeton, Mass., to assist in celebrating the twentieth anniversary of the organization of Princeton Grange. Mr. Hutchinson, who was the first master of this Grange, has been asked to serve as chairman of the exercises this evening. Neighboring Granges and state officers have also been invited to the meeting. As this Grange has a membership of about two hundred, and as it has been nearly ten years since the Hutchinsons moved from Princeton, they feel that it is a very kindly action on the part of these people to think of them in this way.

The Lindy Social club will hold a card party tomorrow evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Dougan of 59 Holl street. The ladies are requested to contribute refreshments.

2D LEAP FROM AUTO BAD FOR MRS. LEWIS

ed today by the police, Mrs. Lewis spent last evening in Manchester but neglected to think about returning home till too late to get a Rockville car. At 1 o'clock this morning John J. Conway of Rockville, who had driven as far as Manchester on his way home to Rockville from Hartford, saw Mrs. Lewis standing on the sidewalk at the Center. He stopped and invited her to ride. The invitation was accepted. Instead of proceeding to Rockville, however, Conway turned about and headed his car back to Hartford.

The automobile had reached a point opposite Schaller's garage on Center street when Mrs. Lewis flung open a door on the right hand side while the car was close to the curb. The door encountered two R. F. D. mail box posts with such force that one of them was thrown into an adjacent doorway and the other carried about 150 feet. Directly in front of the residence of Charles Miner at 225 Center street, Mrs. Lewis either leaped or fell from the car. Conway brought the car to a stop just west of Adams street, a short distance farther on, and drove back.

Milkman Timely The collision with the mail box posts and the groans of the injured woman aroused Mr. and Mrs. Miner. From their bedroom window they saw the returning automobile stop and its driver make some ineffectual efforts to lift the recumbent figure in the road into the car. They were about to go to his aid when George Butler, who delivers milk in Manchester, came along. Butler and Conway together got the injured woman into the car and she was taken to the hospital.

Conway is the man who, finding himself in Vernon without means of transportation about a month ago called on the Rockville city ambulance with the report that there was a bad accident, hoping to get a ride into town in it. He did and the ride ended at the Rockville police station.

GET TOGETHER MEN SEE HERALD PLANT

Dine in Composing Room and See All Machines in Operation.

Two hundred and twenty members of the Cheney Get-Together club visited the home of The Herald last night instead of holding their regular monthly gathering in Cheney hall. The big crowd dined in The Herald's composing room and watched all the operations of making a newspaper, many of the employees of The Herald being on hand to demonstrate.

The attendance was much larger than at first planned for and brought out the largest number of Get-Together club men in many months. The visitors left their coats and hats in the office and editorial rooms of The Herald plant and then assembled in the composing room. Here the linotype, intertype, Ludlow typograph, Elrod, and Matrix molding machines were operating.

Eat and Inspect Chef Osano had prepared chicken a la King, mashed potato, tomatoes, rolls, ice cream and coffee. When the dinner was ready the guests filed around through the makeup "turtles" and then ate the food sitting on chairs provided by Watkins Brothers. The various processes in the making of a newspaper were explained by members of the staff of The Herald and then various groups were taken on inspection tours of the plant from top to bottom. When all were gathered in the press-room The Herald's Duplex tubular press was run a few minutes turning out blank papers so that all might see the big machine in operation.

Because of the huge gathering and the interest all showed in the plant the business meeting of the club was suspended. Bill Waddell's Orchestra played selections during the evening, a piano being furnished by Watkins Brothers. Corwin Grant rendered solos as part of the entertainment program.

Miss Eleanor Hobby and Miss Helen Bailey came home today from Northfield Seminary for the Easter vacation.

Bottle Returned
The Hockanum Hose Company have received an answer to a note which three years ago while on an excursion to New York they enclosed in a bottle and threw overboard near the Brooklyn Bridge. It was in August 1926, when the boys were on one of their big times in the big city that the note was put in a near beer bottle and ceremoniously thrown into the briny water. This week an answer came to this note which told of the finding of the bottle, still empty, except for the note. The letter follows:

Saybrook Park, Saybrook, Conn., March 14, 1929.

Dear Sirs or whom it may concern: Found a bottle that washed ashore here and note in it said please answer. I am doing so. Hope the outing you boys were on was a success and not a tragedy. Cannot send this note by bottle but am doing the next best thing, sending it by mail.

Bottle was in good condition but papers were much under the influence of you know what. The papers were badly injured. Hope this answer satisfies your guess of time and place when it would come ashore. There was no date on paper. Please let me know when bottle was thrown overboard.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Lillian Baurer.

THIS VANDALISM NOT SO BAD AFTER ALL

The twelve inch stump of a tree, freshly hewn, in the middle of the easterly parklet at Depot Square, gives that little bit of ground the aspect, today, of having been robbed of an arboreal adornment. Well, it wasn't exactly robbery, for the town workers who removed the tree only took back what they had lent. The evergreen that has been taken away was the Christmas tree planted—as a post is planted—last December. It was a beautiful tree when complete and lighted, but it was largely fabricated, as many of its branches had been cunningly grafted onto the main stem. Stripped of its lights and doo-dads the tree has remained ever since.

RED UPRISINGS

COOLIDGE IS SILENT ON BUSINESS TRIP

New York, March 22 — Calvin Coolidge, private citizen, was enjoying life in New York today, totally oblivious to the fact that he created a mild sensation wherever he appeared. He did succeed in keeping his incognito to a certain degree, however.

No one was able to learn the nature of the "private business" that brought the ex-president here from his home in Northampton, Mass.

He conversed with Ray Long, editor of Cosmopolitan magazine, Frank Stearns and Lucius Storr, yesterday, but none of them could offer aid or information to anyone else.

COLUMBIA

A son was born Saturday morning at St. Joseph's hospital in Willimantic to Mr. and Mrs. Alton Lathrop of Manchester. Mrs. Lathrop was formerly Miss Ruth Turner of Columbia.

A large delegation went from Columbia to the capitol building Tuesday to the hearing regarding state aid from dirt roads. In connection with the road question, it is stated on good authority that the contract will be given early in April for the connecting links between Lebanon and Andover to complete the Jonathan Trumbull Highway. This highway when completed will pass through Columbia Green.

On petition of 21 voters a special town meeting is called for Saturday afternoon to see if the town will receive the vote in regard to care of highways, taken at the meeting March 4th. Also to submit a new plan. Last fall it was voted to buy a truck and appoint a road-master to care for the roads, and at the meeting a few weeks ago it was voted to rescind the vote and leave the repair of roads in the hands of the selectmen as formerly. Both sides are evidently getting ready for a final show down as to which way is preferable at the present time.

Squiers, will be at the town hall on April first and thirtieth for the collection of taxes at the rate of 15 mills on the grand list.

A lawn on the Green was observed to be on fire during the forenoon of Tuesday, causing quite a little excitement as there was a strong wind blowing. Neighbors were summoned and the fire was gotten under control, though it got under a stone wall and had to be watered for some time. A short time before a Ford had turned into the driveway, to turn around, and it is thought that probably a cigarette stub was carelessly dropped.

The regular meeting of Columbia Grange was held Wednesday evening with a fine attendance in spite of the bad traveling. Thirty-six patrons being present. During the lecture's hour it had been planned for a debate on, "whether Women Should Serve as Jurors," but two of the debaters were unable to get there, and it took the form of a general discussion, opened by Representative and Mrs. Robert Collins, who had been present at the hearing held in Hartford during the day. Following this there was a short St. Patrick's day program. The lecturer announced that Columbia Grange was invited to be present at Bolton Grange May 10, and furnish two numbers on the program and it was voted to accept the invitation. It was also voted to purchase two dozen new song books.

The next meeting, April 3, will be an April's Fool party, and members are asked to come in costume for the grand march. It was also announced that there would be no whist party next week, it being postponed one week until Friday evening, April 5.

Howard Squiers, a member of the local Grange, was one of the judges at Andover Monday evening, when a competitive program was put on by that Grange.

Roland Smith was taken to St. Joseph's hospital Wednesday.

Illinois sends a former policeman to Congress. His experience with the underworld should at last prove valuable.

Daily Lenten Thought

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

Editor of The Congregationalist. How anxious people are to claim or establish kinship with the great; yet how neglectful of that greater kinship which Jesus made possible for all!

Not so long ago an expert genealogist told me that he finally had traced the lineage of a certain American millionaire back to the Mayflower. Hitherto the assumption had been that this man of conspicuous business success had married into a family with a social prestige that he did not himself possess, and my genealogical friend suggested something of the satisfaction he was about to bring to this millionaire in making it clear that he had that distinction, greatest of all in American genealogy, of descent from the Mayflower company.

One may pardon the millionaire his interest in that fact. Human nature, despite its professed democracy, never becomes entirely scornful of such things.

But how much greater is the privilege of kinship with Jesus of Nazareth! Even the Mayflower company had its glory only because of faith in him and in his religion. It is this high heritage of kinship with Jesus that he offers so simply to us all.

We recall his words when he was told that his disciples and his brethren were standing outside. The record is that Jesus stretched forth his hands towards his disciples and said, "Behold, my mother and my brethren," adding, "For whosoever shall do all the will of my Father, which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother."

Phil Baker, assisted by his famous accordion, will head the vaudeville bill to be broadcast by WOR and the Columbia stations at 8:30 Friday night. The programs will include presentations of many of the hits of "Show Boat." Gita Erlatin, internationally known coloratura soprano, will contribute "Did You Mean It" during the musical review through WJZ and associated stations at 9 o'clock. Harold Sanford will direct the orchestra, while the assisting artists include Stanley Davis, master of the musical saw, Dave Grupp, xylophonist, and the Dahlhart trio. The program will open with "Makin' Whoopee" and will close with "Euturistic Rhythm." One of the WEAF highlights for Friday night is the hour to go on the air at 8. At that time a duet for flute and oboe, "Thou Charming Bird," will be heard, as well as the Cavalier's male quartet interpretation of "In the Evening By the Moonlight." ### At The Circle

"Beware of Bachelors." Warner Brothers' latest comedy-drama starring that beautiful little actress, Audrey Ferris, heads a splendid double feature program at the Circle Theater for Saturday and Sunday of this week.

As one might suspect from its title, "Beware of Bachelors." is an entertaining farce on modern matrimonial circumstances that is destined to suit the exact taste of everybody. The picture has many thrilling dramatic moments and affords many laughs. Miss Ferris, in the role of the jealous wife of a handsome young doctor, is seen to the very best of her ability. She is ably supported by a selected cast of Warner Brothers' favorites including William Collier, J., Margaret Livingston, Clyde Cook and Andre Berranger, Howard Bretherton directed.

The companion-feature for Saturday and Sunday presents the one and only Tom Mix in his latest RKO western special, "A Son of the Golden West." Mix seems to have outdone all of his previous efforts in the way of furnishing thrills in this new starring vehicle. Not once does he fail to impress with his remarkable feats of daring.

The current chapter of "Tarzan the Mighty" and a Crazy Kat cartoon will round out the bill.

At The State

Monte Blue comes to the State Theater today and tomorrow as a railroad engineer in his latest Warner Brothers' Vitaphone talking picture, "The Greyhound Limited," a melodrama of the road, which contains hair-raising adventures with a disturbing lady—the law, and a gang of hoodlums who bring Monte's fireman to the brink of the scaffold—thus giving the engineer a chance to prove his heroism.

"The Greyhound Limited" is marked down as one of the most thrilling pictures of the season. Albert Rowson did the story and the direction is the work of Howard Bretherton.

Besides Monte Blue, the cast includes such popular favorites as Grant Withers, Edna Murphy, Ernie Shields, Lucy Beaumont and Lew Harvey.

Phone reproduces voices of the players in many speaking scenes, as well as intriguing sound and symphonic effects. The musical score is by Louis Silvers and the Vitaphone Symphony Orchestra.

Two selected acts of Vitaphone vaudeville hold a prominent place on the bill at the State today and tomorrow.

The first act introduces Jack North, the jingling banjolist, in a pleasing potpourri of snappy solo numbers, sung and played to the accompaniment of his famous tenor banjo. North is an entertainer of note. Besides being a first class musician, he is also a clever humorist.

The second act brings on Lydell and Higgins, a pair of non-sensical clowns, who offer a ten minute cure for the glooms. These two laugh-provokers will have the audience in stitches from the time they enter until they finish.

The current installment of "The Collegian" and the State News Events will complete the program.

At The Circle

"The Silver Swan" at Parsons' Theater

"The Silver Swan", the big musical production coming to Parsons' theater for three days, beginning Thursday, March 28, is said to represent a renaissance in the theater—a return to such enchanting works as the compositions of Franz Lehár, Johann Strauss, Emmerich Kalman—to the delightful scores of our own Victor Herbert and Reginald De Koven.

The scenes of "The Silver Swan" are laid in Vienna, with its colorful atmosphere, high romance, daring, intrigue; the tragedy and the comedy in the lives of the Hussars, stalwart lover in boots and spurs, and delicate women in crinoline.

The story is woven around an opera troupe whose members gather in The Silver Swan Inn. There are the usual jealousies, suspicions, the markable success abroad in grand opera; Myrtle Clarke, late in "Cafe de Dance"; Florenz Ames, principal comedian in "Angela" and other big musical successes; Lane Blaire, late of "Bye, Bye, Bonnie" and "Golden Dawn"; Georgia Calne, one of America's most popular actresses—singers; Mabel Bunney, Lee Daly, Georges Romain and Joseph Greene.

TOLL PROJECT SWOONS

Recognizing that there were many reasons for the denial of a franchise for an automobile toll road through Connecticut as part of an express motor highway from Boston to New York, and that there never was any real likelihood that the enterprise would receive legislative sanction in this state, this newspaper nevertheless views with some regret the adverse disposition of the matter in the General Assembly.

There is no class of persons which holds more tenaciously to an opinion than that large group that is constitutionally opposed to any suggestion that the state or municipality should own and control a public utility of any sort, if that utility can be made productive of a profit. Rather oddly these same people are always entirely willing that the community or the state should own sewers, fire departments, highways or any other utility that does not possess potentialities for paying dividends.

In this instance, however, the same class which is usually so jealous of the right of corporations to make money out of public services has completely turned its back on the good old theory that governments ought not to operate facilities that otherwise could be operated by private interests at a profit. Many Connecticut people who would very indignantly protest against a proposition to have the state operate trolley lines for the benefit of its citizens have, in this highway matter, lined up in direct opposition to the sacred old theory that public service should be a private snap. Here was as good a chance as is likely to occur to establish the automobile turnpike on a basis of corporation control—and yet "business minded" citizens, who are not quite convinced that it wouldn't be a good idea to let the postal service out to a great corporation instead of having the government run it, never peeped in favor of getting the state government out of the motor speedway business.

We have been able to quite apprehend the full consistency of this. Turnpike companies were once upon a time a standard institution in New England. There are among us some good old families whose fortunes had their roots in the stock of such companies, which built dirt roads of a sort and charged toll for the use of them. Some of the turnpike owners grew quite red in the face and shouted "rank socialism!" when it was first proposed to make the roads public and free. Yet among their descendants are some of those who flouted the idea of returning to the old principle in the case of this toll-charging express highway. We, however, can't see such a tremendous difference, in principle, between enfranchising a corporation to build a road, put rails on it and run trains over it, charging for the use of the cars, and enfranchising another corporation to build a road and charge patrons for running their own cars over it.

It looks to us as though some very sturdy habitual opponents of public ownership of public utilities had, with surprising unanimity, reversed themselves and arrayed themselves on the side of that same public ownership of public utilities, in this particular instance.

Also we have a lingering suspicion that we have not heard the last of such proposals as this one for a toll speedway. We suspect that the time may come when the people at this state will grow tired of paying through the nose for express routes for foreign automobiles and will either let some corporation build them and charge tolls on them or will themselves, as a state, build them and charge tolls on them.

THE ROBIN'S WAY

The robin is not, perhaps, a scientist, whereas the radio expert, of course, is. Yet the robin has a system for combatting static which is better than anything the radio people have so far evolved.

This writer was awakened three mornings ago by that most grateful of all musical treats, the first robin's song to greet the hungry ear in the spring. He was a soloist of extraordinary rating, that robin. The full throated warbling of his was sheer ecstasy transmuted into sound.

Then into the pean suddenly and diabolically intruded the rasping, raucous shriek of a bluejay. Instantly the robin ceased singing. The jay screeched and screeched and screeched for three or four long minutes. Then, blown out, he quit. With instant promptness the robin began again, resumed his morning concert at the precise point where he had left off, and carried it to its conclusion.

The jaybird was the robin's static. Did the robin continue delivery in the face of the disturbance, as the radio hopelessly strives to do? Not he. He sang only when he had a clear field and uninterrupted reception was possible to the listener.

When the radio reaches the point where the proceedings stop when the static starts in it will be up level with the robin. Till then we maintain it has much to learn from our orange breasted friend.

IN OLD KAINTUCK

The theft of the body of Floyd Collins, whose attempted rescue when he was trapped by a falling boulder in a Kentucky cave in 1925 was watched by the whole nation and provided a newspaper sensation of the first class, discloses further evidence that some Kentuckians have a peculiar sense of the proprieties. It may be remembered that at the time of Collins' imprisonment the natives assembled in large numbers in Cave City but that most of them made the affair the occasion of a mountaineer get-together celebration. They held a sort of camp meeting, peddled moonshine to outlanders drawn to the scene and did everything but help in the digging. Ninety-five per cent of the relief work was done by workers from the outside. Floyd Collins' father took advantage of the opportunity to turn an honest dollar by selling souvenirs to the visiting strangers while his son was slowly dying in Sand Cave and regarded as "real unkind" any intimation that he was a calloused old reprobate for doing so.

Recently, it appears, the individual who is exploiting Crystal Cave, one of the Barren County group, has been exhibiting the body of the cavern explorer, enclosed in a glass and metal casket, to whoever would pay the price. Perhaps down there the majority of the people may consider such a proceeding all right, though what would happen if anyone were to undertake to conduct a similarly revolting exhibition in Connecticut it is easy to imagine. But it is just possible that even in Barren County there may be people with a spark of repugnance against putting a dead man as a curiosity; which may account for the fact that somebody took that body out of its showcase and dumped it, in a sack, down the gully. Down a gully in a sack may not be the most fitting place in the world for a half decomposed human corpse but it is a better place for it than in a peep-show.

DEFEATISM

With the remorselessness of a tidal wave the automobile death rate in Connecticut continues to advance. With the shameful ineffectiveness of the sheer defeatist Legislature lies on its back, paws in air, and makes not the slightest effort to protect the lives of the people of the state from this appalling peril.

The situation is in principle exactly the same as if this state were threatened by invasion by a foreign foe and the Legislature deliberately ignored the menace and devoted itself wholly to the lesser concerns of everyday existence. If, through the inefficiency and do-nothingness of the General Assembly such a threatened invasion brought about the death of 500 of the state's citizens this year would or would not the people of the state be likely to drive the Legislators out of the capitol with blows and curses?

Are the automobile killings the will of God? Are they the consequence of a phenomenon of nature like cyclone or earthquake and so beyond the influence of human authority? If they are, then let us bow to them as to those other forms of death which Man's intelligence is unable to combat. But if they are not, and if nothing whatever is done to alleviate the growing horror, then the responsibility eventually will be laid where it belongs, at the door of that General Assembly which possesses constitutional powers that are well-nigh unlimited and which, if necessary, could go to any lengths, even to the exclusion of every motor vehicle from the roads of the state.

"Can't" is not only a disgraceful word in this Connecticut—it is a lie.

BLUE SKY LAW

It would be all very nice if the state of Connecticut could legislate suckerdom out of existence by means of a blue sky law, but if there is one thing that no law or set of laws ever imagined can accomplish it is the protection of the fool from the results of his own rapacity. Nothing is more exasperating to the legitimate banking interests of the state than the spectacle of shy-stock operators fleecing the public through worthless securities issues and no class of persons would be readier to support legal measures to prevent such frauds if it were possible to adopt them without setting up a condition as bad in a different way. But that the bankers should be opposing the establishment of a commission, endowed with arbitrary powers to bless or damn any stock issue proposed for sale in this state, is a perfectly logical situation.

The proposed blue sky law would establish beaurocracy in the financial saddle in this state. Sooner or later perfectly outrageous consequences would be almost certain to arise from it. At best it would be sure to fail of its ostensible purpose of preventing commonplace stock swindles. At worst it might very easily result in political-financial scandals infinitely far reaching and enormously disastrous.

The state of Connecticut cannot afford to place its entire investment business at the mercy of any little handpicked group of infallibles—and that is what is ultimately involved in any such proposal as that in hand.

IN NEW YORK

New York, March 22.—Into the blaze quiet that reigned at the showing of artists' works at the Waldorf-Astoria the other day there burst a little thin woman in gray, with an armful of groceries.

She refused to check her bundles—she had paid a quarter to see this show she told them and would carry her things. She darted at once to the nearest section and began to run her sharp eyes over the pictures, high and low. Her glance was cursory at each; she moved about swiftly; a few people sauntering listlessly about turned to watch her. Her appearance suggested a person very intent on something.

At last she approached the man with the catalog.

"Is — listed?" she asked.

"Yes, it was listed. Picture No. —"

She dashed away, found the painting and stood examining it, minutely for a long time. The price tag caught her eye. A look of wonder spread over her face.

"Two hundred dollars!" she muttered to herself, and then, to the man with the catalog:

"If that bum sells that for $200, he'd better pay me the rent he owes me."

Among the most interesting columns in the New York newspapers on some days are the quarrels among food experts. There are certain groups that almost come to grips over individual tastes in groceries. As an example here's one that appeared the other day in the correspondence columns:

"To the Editor: Permit me to object to the letter of Alan B. Rothenberg, Brooklyn, Feb. 24, in which he advances the preposterous notion that 'French food, is insipid, dull, uninteresting, and delicate. Not satisfied with this overt insult to the Master (I refer naturally to Brillat-Savarin) and to the whole literature of gastronomy. Mr. Rothenberg adds injury to insult by claiming that Hungarian food is the last perfected word in cookery. Last word, indeed! Shades of Vatel, Dr. Leopold, Sainsbury and Morton Shand! Ghosts of a thousand noble cooks of la belle France! head yours—I cannot stand such sacrilege. "But that being Mr. Rothenberg's opinion, he may state it; he has a right to it, however savage it may be. "Nevertheless, only a barbarian can stomach Hungarian food—which cuisine is based on the principle of what we term 'hash'—be it poerkoel, goulasch (not, as Mr. Rothenberg writes 'goulash') or kugel, all are equally horrible, messy and disgusting mixtures, sweepings of the kitchen. The only decent dish I ever partook of in Hungarian territory was Viennese aprkosentorte, but that is quite another thing, and after all, a dish deliberately stolen from the Germans. "I cannot, however, allow Mr. Rothenberg's statement to stand that the eater would not mind dull food if he could wash it down with a draft of tokay. Only a person of the lowest tastes would think of washing down food with any kind of wine unless it were French vin ordinaire diluted with water, which is not classed as wine. And no civilized person who loves the art of eating would wash down food with tokay. Tokay, indeed! Does Mr. Rothenberg know what tokay is? It is a sweet, heavy wine, almost a liqueur. Fancy drinking such stuff with fish, meat—in fact, with any part of the meal!"

By RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer

Washington, March 22.—Increased Russian-American trade and apparent economic strengthening of the Soviet Union are expected to hasten the day when semi-official negotiations are begun looking toward diplomatic recognition.

No one is worrying about the question now, unless it be Senator Borah. And there is no indication, official or otherwise, that either government is contemplating overtures in the near future. Nevertheless, it is quite likely that there will be negotiations during Hoover's administration, the success of which will depend upon Russia's willingness to accept our terms.

President Hoover is not on record as opposed to recognition. With an eye to foreign markets, he is expected to apply an open mind to the problem whenever it seems advisable to consider it. If it should develop, of course, that there was still a strong popular prejudice against Russian recognition, he would hardly be likely to push the negotiations.

Russia's standing among nations, meanwhile, is being enhanced with her internal development and her increasing foreign trade. It is not any longer suggested that her government or her economic structure is going to collapse. Coming months are expected by some observers to produce a new commercial rapprochement between Russia and England, which will be watched by Hoover and other of our government officials with considerable interest. British exports to Russia have decreased 65 per cent in the last two years, during which the British government renewed its old attitude of hostility toward Russia.

Russia's economic position is set forth in a recent issue of Commerce Reports, published by the Department of Commerce, and in "The Soviet Union—Facts, Descriptions, Statistics," published here by the Soviet Union Information Bureau.

One learns that her agricultural output is now about equal to pre-war and notable that of 1921, that industrial output last year was 25 per cent above pre-war production volume, that about $800,000,000 is being spent on industrial expansion this year and that large state annual net profit of more than $300,000,000.

Russian-American trade amounted to about $110,000,000 last year, of which we exported goods valued at $95,000,000 to Russia. Soviet imports from the United States increased 50 per cent in two years, which probably represents the largest proportionate increase of our exports to any nation in the world. The value of our exports to her now is twice pre-war, many first on the list of countries selling goods to Russia and we are second, furnishing 23 per cent of her imports. Her total foreign trade, however, amounted last year to $885,000,000, of which 80 per cent passed over her borders.

The Soviet Information Bureau boasts that the Soviet co-operatives, with nearly 35,000,000 members and conducting nearly two-thirds of Russia's retail trade, did a 1928 business of $11,000,000,000. It also describes development of large state grain-growing areas of from 75,000 to 100,000 acres each, with mechanized farming, and a projected total area of 15,000,000 acres by 1933. An 800,000 horsepower hydro-electric plant is being constructed on the Dnieper river, to cost $113,500,000 and the 560-mile Siberian-Turkestan railway, designed to bring cheap Siberian grain and timber to the Soviet coast in Central Asia, was completed in January.

The Commerce Department notes an unfavorable balance of trade for Russia for the fiscal year of 1927-28 of about $80,000,000. Emphasis is being placed on importation of industrial raw materials. Russia's chief purchase from the United States last year was $55,000,000 worth of cotton. Other principal items were: Agricultural equipment, $15,000,000; industrial equipment, $11,000,000; and automotive equipment, $2,700,000.

SIEGE OF VERA CRUZ.

Eighty-two years ago today General Winfield Scott and his force of nearly 12,000 men began the bombardment of Vera Cruz in our war with Mexico.

Two weeks before, on March 7, 1847, the fleet carrying Scott's army anchored a few miles south of the city, and from here the troops were landed by means of surf boats. Vera Cruz was a strongly fortified city of 7,000 inhabitants. The attack did not begin immediately, but on March 22, after a summons to surrender had been refused.

The siege lasted for four days, and on March 27 the city surrendered. The battle was a spirited affair in which the advantage of superior numbers, which the Americans had, was almost outweighed by the natural and man-made fortifications which protected the city.

U. S. Grant, who was to rise to the supreme command of Union troops during the Civil War and later become President of the United States, was busy during the Vera Cruz bombardment in the humble post of supply train tender.

CROWD AT CITADEL HEARS EVANGELIST

A most gratifying crowd assembled at the Salvation Army Citadel last night for the initial service of the "Soul Saving Campaign" in connection with the Centennial of the founder. Rev. Gilbert M. Laite, the evangelist preached a stirring sermon from Proverbs 11:30. "The fruit of righteousness is a tree of life, and he that winneth souls is wise", emphasizing the great need for all of God's children who have experienced the regenerating power of God's grace, to get into the business of seeking the Salvation of others, and certain contributing factors that would insure success. The preacher brought his message home with inspiring force, and the outlook for a most successful revival effort is most encouraging. This is an evangelistic campaign that, it is hoped, will touch the entire community, the Christian forces of the whole city are invited to assist by their prayers and interest, to make this a great success. Rev. Gilbert Laite will preach each evening for 10 days and three times on Sunday.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

HEALTH AND SUCCESS POSSIBLE AFTER FORTY

Victor Hugo, who wrote some of his most important works after the age of fifty, said: "Forty is the old age of youth; fifty is the youth of age." He also wrote the following lines:

"To rise at six and dine at ten, Supper at six and to bed at ten Will make a man live ten times ten."

Cornaro, the famous Italian, who became ill at the age of forty and was given up to die at forty-two, learned to live correctly after this age and not only recovered his health but was able to write a book upon how to live a hundred years which was published on his hundredth birthday.

There are many instances of eminent men who were considered failures both physically and financially at the age of forty and yet who, through applying good rules of living, were able to become successful and famous after this age.

The middle life should really be an enjoyable period, for one has the experience of maturity and should have by this time overcome most of the petty problems of youth. This is sometimes called the dangerous age but it need not be so. Naturally, one has to be a little more careful than in youth because one does not have as great a reserve of vitality. The tendencies which must be guarded against are: gaining weight, poor circulation and degenerative diseases, such as diabetes, Bright's disease, cancer, and hardening of the arteries.

Middle aged people should make special efforts to avoid the poisons which accumulate from sluggish eliminative organs. A sluggish circulation is undoubtedly responsible for some of the changes of the ductless glands that are responsible for the gradual decline often seen after forty. These glands of internal secretion either become filled with toxic wastes or become hardened and fibrous and lose their power to secrete the necessary fluids which the normal metabolic functions demand for their proper performance.

The one who becomes either fat or thin or wrinkled after forty is the one who is having harmful changes taking place in the ductless glands. In the case of the thyroid, this gland becomes sluggish and no longer secretes its normal amount.

WHAT TO DO FOR YOUR BABY'S COLD

When the cold is in Baby's head, you can make his breathing easier by putting a few drops of liquid alcohol in his nostrils several times daily. But to throw off the cold completely, keep him warm, and make his bowels move freely. For this purpose, doctors advise Fletcher's Castoria, because it's purely vegetable and harmless. It acts as quickly as castor oil and doesn't gripe or sicken. Millions of mothers know how easily Castoria soothes crying, fretful babies and children to sleep; how quickly it relieves those common ailments, such as colic, gas, constipation, diarrhea, etc. To protect you from imitations, the Fletcher signature is on every bottle of genuine Castoria.

of thyroxin, which has an influence upon maintaining the normal body weight and appearance. This general condition of sluggishness can be overcome to a great extent by the cultivation of some interesting outdoor hobby or sport, such as golfing, fishing and yachting. I recall the case of a friend of mine who appeared about twenty years younger than when I had seen him about two years previously. Upon my asking the reason, he said that he had become very interested in yachting and had entered almost every race. This shows how a new interest and activity will often stimulate youth and vigor.

Here is my condensed formula for healthful living after forty. Sleep soundly on a comfortable bed, avoid worry, seek new interests in life, exercise moderately each day, eat less of the rich, heavy foods and more of the eliminative fruits and vegetables.

(Dr. McCoy will gladly answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Herald. Enclose stamped, addressed large envelope for reply.)

Model G-40

In place of diamonds, gold, and finely wrought silver that might have tumbled out when the great Treasure Chest was opened, there stands revealed a thing of greater value still—the new small-family, All-Steel General Electric Refrigerator, Model G-40.

Into this new model have been put the efforts of the scientists and engineers of General Electric Company; the same group of men who perfected the sealed-in mechanism of the General Electric Refrigerator. This new achievement of the research laboratories marks the greatest improvement during the past 30 years, in the design and construction of household cabinets.

It's all steel, with electrically welded joints. Bronze hardware is bolted onto the steel. Black faced door edges . . . self-closing latch . . . gliders to protect linoleum . . . these and many other features are built into this new General Electric product.

This new small-family model makes electric refrigeration possible in every home. Its price is remarkably low. Only a small down payment is required. The balance can be paid conveniently over a period of time. Just a few dollars a month will do it.

Potato fluff: Peel and boil the desired number of Irish potatoes. When soft, mash and season with a little salt. Add enough thick cream to make a stiff batter and beat vigorously for several minutes. Heap into a flat baking dish, but do not smooth over or pack down. Sprinkle with melba toast crumbs and place in a hot oven until lightly browned. Serve in the dish in which it has been prepared. Sweet potatoes may be prepared in the same manner, except that they should be boiled in their skins, plunged into cold water, for a minute and the peelings slipped off while still hot.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Peritonitis
 Question: M. C. L. C. asks: "Will you kindly explain peritonitis? what is the cause, and is there a cure?"
 Answer: There are many causes of peritonitis. Peritonitis means inflammation of the peritoneum, which is the smooth covering lining the inside of the abdomen. Various diseases of the intestines or other abdominal organs may induce a spread of inflammation to the peritoneum. The cause is always found in one or more of these inflamed organs and never starts in the peritoneum itself. Therefore a diagnosis is necessary to find the cause. Druggists' rubber sundries and specialties are not manufactured in British India, the demand being supplied chiefly by Great Britain, Germany and the United States.

Rec Five Should Beat Dixies In Third Tilt

But Score is Expected to Be Close and Contest Thrilling; Large Crowd Expected; May Be Final Game.

The Rec Five is favored to beat the Hartford Dixies in the third and deciding game of their basketball series which will be played tonight at the School Street Recreation Center gym. However, it is expected that the margin will be narrow one. A large crowd seems a forgone conclusion.

Last week the Rec took the odd game of their series with the Knights of Lithuania quintet of Hartford by a close score. It was during that battle that the Rec dashed some of its oldtime form wards, Ted Torrant, center, with Heinie Larson and "Fat" Hafner at guard posts. The Rec will present its regular lineup so far as is known. That will be Holland and McCann forwards, Norris center, Madden and Stavitsky, guards. Danny Ahern of Middletown will probably be on hand to referee. This may be the last game of the season.

EAST IS LOSING IN BIG TOURNEY

Chicago, March 22.—The East was practically out of the running for the National Catholic Interscholastic Basketball Championship today as a result of the devastating sweep of Western quintets in yesterday's first round play.

Holy Rosary of Syracuse, N. Y., fell before Columbia Academy, Dubuque, Iowa, 14 to 17; Canisius High at Buffalo, lost to Cathedral High of St. Cloud, Minn., 18 to 19, and Williamsport, Pa., yielded to McBride High of St. Louis, 14 to 19.

Great Battle Expected In The Garden Tonight

New York, March 22.—Jimmy McLarnin and Ray Miller, punch-gamblers both, will shoot it out again tonight in the good, old reliable way so satisfactory to the days when tombstone was tombstone and the west a place where a man could enjoy the right to be unfettered, unfumigated and unfed. The scene of the tragedy will be Madison Square Garden where the principal promise to spend the greater part of the evening dropping hand grenades in each other's beards and the changes seem good that they will run out of beads some time before they run out of grenades.

They are one-punch men, this pair, a great rarity in this age of sedate, formal pugilism; the type is so rare, in fact, that New York has to go all the way back to the Dempsey and Firpo it knew six years ago to find a counterpart of the attraction. With this kind, they set a limit on the number of rounds just as an emergency measure in case both gentlemen become confused and forget their obligations or something. The last time out, McLarnin was shot down in disorder, the bout being stopped because of the profuse bleeding of a cut under one eye. It was the only knockout of James' career but the right hand that leveled Ferris, Kaplan, Fields, McGraw and Glick will be drawing a bead on Miller's chin again this time New York is convinced that the young men won't go wrong.

It has made him a favorite at odds of 2 1/2 to 1, for no reason at all except that Miller money has turned up very absent. Another answer to the price on McLarnin is that New York is sold on his punch and just can't see him missing twice in the same place. A third is centered around the fact that he can come in at 140 pounds, whereas he claimed he gave himself the worst of it at 138 pounds the last time. In any event, the odds are too long. McLarnin may have as much as a ten pound pull in the weights this time but it won't do to forget

Last Night Fights

At Wilkes-Barre, Pa.—Steve Smith, of Bridgeport knocked out Spanish Frankie Garcia, of California, 2.
At London—Johnny Hill, British flyweight champion, outpointed Ernie Jarvis, leading English contender, 15.
At Sandwina, German-American boxer, lost to Charlie Smith, British heavyweight, on foul 7.

That the impost against Miller was seven or eight pounds in the Detroit engagement.

New York, however, isn't asking questions. It is buying tickets or trying to. No fight here since the Delaney-Malone event of unhappy memory has enchanted the mugs as much as this one and they are running around today offering anything in reason, or out of it, for ringside seats. This means another sellout for McLarnin, his third season, and probably another ticket scandal. It also means that from $80,000 to $85,000 will be on the books, for the pay off, a garden record for $10 fights.

The boys have punched their way to fame and fortune and all this particular evening demands is that they stay strictly in character for the occasion.

COLLECTING CO. WINS

The Sons of Italy bowling team won the championship of the second annual Herald League which is composed of the best organized five-man teams in town, last night when it polished off the Bon Ami three out of a four possible points.

This enabled them to nose out Manchester Green by the margin of one lone point for the title, 53 to 52. Last year the pennant was won by the Masons, a team with practically the same personnel as the Green used this season. The race this year was closer than the first one and the outcome was in doubt until the final game was played.

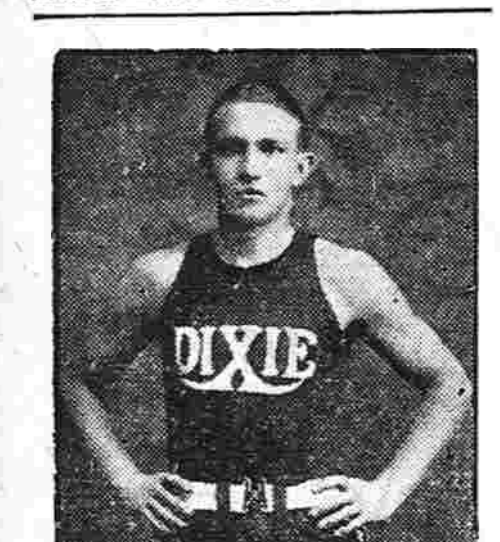

The Bon Ami hit 617 in the third game and had that been enough to decide pinfall, it would have given the soap makers two points and automatically placed the Green in a tie for first place making necessary a playoff.

However, the Sons went after the Bon Ami without delay, and won the first two games by margins of 21 and 36. Ordinarily this would have assured them of the three points they needed, the lead being so great, but the soap makers' Hick-ed the Sons by 71 plus the third game and for a while it appeared they might even overcome the tremendous lead their worthy rivals had compiled.

The Sons were all hitting wood for good scores. Frank Cervini and Jack Saldella led the attack. Tommy Conran was best for the Bon Ami. A large crowd watched the match and there was much excitement.

The West Sides could get no more than three points from the Independents and this put them on a tie with the Bon Ami. The two teams engaged in a special roll-off match and the Bon Ami won 580 to 488. The tardy fast-steeping Center Church team won four more points from the Charter Oaks and the Beethovens took the Construction into camp for three points.

Tickets for the bowling banquet next Monday night at the Sub-Alpine Club were distributed. It was decided to charge $1.50 instead of $1.25 as marked on the tickets and roast chicken rather than breaded veal cutlet for the cheaper price. Team captains are expected to notify Secretary Frank Cervini immediately as to how many they expect to have attend. Outsiders will be charged an additional quarter.

Troop 1 is holding a banquet tonight at 6:30 o'clock with the Men's Club of the Second Congregational church. A real camp dinner is to be served by John Jensen. Troop 6 accepts the challenge to engage in a swimming meet with Troop 2. Scoutmasters of the troops will make the necessary arrangements. Troop 2, please, spring hiking should be on the increase. All troops should have a hike at least once a month. Once a week if possible.

Nineteenth Annual Meeting
The Nineteenth Annual Meeting of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America will be held in New York City this year at the Hotel Commodore on Monday and Tuesday, May 13 and 14. The last meeting of the National Council was held in San Francisco, California in deference to the great growth of the Boy Scout Movement in the far west in recent years.

Progress
It is expected that the Annual Meeting this year will usher in one of the most progressive periods in the history of the Boy Scout Movement. Plans for the general expansion of the Boy Scout program, especially in regard to the admittance of younger boys than those 12 years old as is the present Scout age and also in respect to the holding of the interest of the older boy in Scouting, will be discussed at the meeting. Further extension of the vocational guidance program through the Merit Badges as awarded by the Boy Scouts will be discussed.

Due to the fact that this year marks the coming of age of the Boy Scout Movement, interestingly being the 21st birthday of the Boy Scouts since the first Troop was founded by Sir Robert Baden-Powell in England, it is expected that one of the greatest Scout gatherings in the history of the Movement in the United States will be convened when the gavel falls at the Hotel Commodore on May 13, 1929.

661 Councils
The Boy Scout National Council comprises the delegates of the 661 Scout Councils of the United States and a number of additional delegates selected because of important contributions made by them to work among boys.

At the Annual Meeting the officers of the National Council and the National Executive Board are elected.

Walter W. Head of Chicago, Illinois, internationally known as a banker and leader in boys' work, is president of the National Council.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARD.
Scout Journalists throughout the United States will be notified this week of a four-year scholarship award to any recognized school of journalistic lines during 1929. The award is made possible through the J. C. Penney Foundation, the donors, and it is valued at $1,200. It is expected that the award will be made each year.

At the annual meeting of the National Boy Scout Press association held at the same time as the Columbia University, on March 8th, the first announcement of the award was made by E. S. Martin, Director of the Editorial Department of the Boy Scouts of America. On the same day, another award of an engraved gold watch, to be given to the Scout Journalist doing the outstanding single piece of writing during the year was announced. This award will be made by the magazine, Boys' Life.

New Officers.
New officers of the National Boy Scout Press association are: President, Lawrence Miron, of Worcester, Mass.; vice-president, Joseph M. Wise, of the Bronx, N. Y.; secretary-treasurer, Frederick Minchin, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; and members of the Executive Board—Ronald Gall, of Paterson, N. J.; Felix A. Danton, of Cleveland, Ohio; Edward Mokray, noted as an interviewer of famous men, of Orlando, Fla.; Carroll Johnson, of Sacramento, Cal.; and Joseph Hayes and Joseph Murphy, both of Bridgeport, Conn.

The National Boy Scout Press association, organized a year ago, with Remo M. Lombardi, newspaperman and writer, of Hillsdale, N. J., as president, now has nearly two hundred members scattered in cities from coast to coast. Mr. Lombardi, who is now assistant director of the Publicity Department of the Boy Scouts of America, requested that he be relieved of the presidency because of the pressure of other business.

Troop 3.
Troop 3 held an unusual meeting Tuesday evening at the Hollister street school with Troop 9. There were 20 Troop 3 members present. This meeting was an exhibition and a contest in one. As Troop 9 is a new troop whose members are mostly tenderfoot scouts Troop 3 barred their first class scouts.

After this the game "Lions and Hunters" was played. The meeting closed by repeating the Scout oath and benediction.

On Wednesday evening from 5 to 6 o'clock Troop 3 went swimming at the School street Rec pool. Roger Cheney had the new water polo ball. After playing with it a while, the swimmers played tag.

Last Saturday 15 or 20 scouts hiked to the Ravine. In spite of the weather six boys went up in the morning. The Troop Eagle Scout, Harvey Gould, showed his ability in cooking spaghetti. Capture the Flag was played with Gould's team the winner. The troop returned home at 6 o'clock.

Troop 4.
Troop 4 held its meeting Tuesday evening with 23 Scout members present. The opening ceremony of repeating the Scout Oath and collecting the dues was done as usual.

Mr. Clarke, curate of St. Mary's church, put the troop through some drills and spoke on the Scout Laws on which he will test the scouts in the near future. The new recruits worked on their tenderfoot tests.

After playing basketball and tudyng and passing tests the troop was dismissed by repeating the Scout Oath. Some of the Scouts are trying to pass Tracking on Thursday after school to complete their second class tests.

Troop 6.
Troop 6 accepts the challenge from Troop 2. Further announcements will be made later concerning the time. The troop will go on a hike on Saturday leaving the South Methodist church at 2 o'clock. Bring along your supper.

Troop 9.
Last Tuesday evening Troop 9 held a joint meeting with Troop 3 at the Hollister street school, with an attendance of 25 scouts from Troop 9. The object of this meeting was to create a friendly spirit between the oldest and the youngest troops in town. Several patrol events were held and the first class scouts of Troop 3 gave exhibitions in First Aid and Friction Fire. In the patrol events Troop 9, "came thru," winning them by very close margins. In pacing, Scout Herrick won, and Junior, Assistant Holton won in the rescue race. A game of "Lion Hunt" between a picked patrol from each troop ended in a draw. Both troops held a very enjoyable time and agreed that it was a fine get-together. Scoutmaster Smith and McComb are planning for an outdoor meet in the future.

Troop Notes.
The next meeting will be held at the Hollister street school. Every boy must have sneakers or slippers. The hike scheduled for this Saturday will be held on Good Friday instead.

Put a "handful of health" in the muffins tonight

IT TAKES only a few minutes to make bran muffins if you use the famous ALL-BRAN recipe. Just try it. You'll get the lightest, fluffiest, best muffins you ever took from the oven. All the family will surely praise your skill that night!

And remember, you'll be helping them to better health at the same time. For so many foods are lacking in bulk or roughage. And it is this lack that so often causes constipation -- which in turn steals energy and health and may even cause serious disease.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides bulk in generous quantity because it is 100% bran. By serving it in some form every day you can protect your family. So many ways to serve it too. In waffles, breads. Sprinkled into soups. Mixed with other cereals. And, of course, with milk or cream, fruits or honey

ALL-BRAN Muffins
2 tablespoons shortening, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 cup sour milk, 1 cup Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, 1 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder.
Cream shortening and sugar together, add egg. Mix and sift flour, soda, salt, and baking powder. To creamed mixture add ALL-BRAN, then milk, alternately with sifted dry ingredients. Pour into greased muffin tins, and bake in moderate oven (375° F.) for 20 minutes. Yield: either 8 large or 12 medium-size muffins. If sweet milk is used instead of sour, omit soda and use 3 teaspoons baking powder.

added, it makes a delightful breakfast dish.

Be sure you get genuine Kellogg's -- the original ALL-BRAN. Part-bran products, at best, bring part results. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Just eat two table-spoonfuls daily -- chronic cases, with every meal.

Sold by all grocers. Served in hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed!
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

"Bond Bread is more home-like"

FRANK M. HILLERY, owner of Fairfield Grocery, Manchester, opened his establishment when he came out of the Navy 8 years ago—and his business has been growing ever since.

I've been in business for a long time and bread sales have made up a good share of my business.

Some time ago I noticed that one brand of bread was steadily outselling any kind I had ever sold before. And it wasn't the kind I used on my own table!

One night we ran out of my brand. I took home a loaf of Bond. My wife sliced some and served it for supper. Then I found out for myself why Bond outsold the rest.

It was more home-like. The firm, close-knit texture of it reminded me of the bread my mother baked for us when I was a boy. And it tasted like that bread too.

Ever since that night we have never been satisfied with anything but Bond. It never varies. It is always the same home-like loaf. And day by day more and more of my customers feel the same way my family does about Bond.

FRANK M. HILLERY (Signed)

After all—there is no bread like

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS.

Trying on spring bonnets is trying on the salesgirl.

SENSE and NONSENSE

The recent combination of the Victor Company and the Radio Corporation of America was known in the business world as a merger, but in musical terms it is a duet.

Safe At Home Mrs. Gordon (to husband who is "Listening in" on Sabbath evening): "Tammus, ye mauna laugh like that on the Sabbath day."

Mr. Masterful went into the kitchen and informed the cook that his wife's aunt was coming for a visit.

"I've made out a list of her favorite dishes for you," he said. "Yes, sir," replied the cook. "And," he added, "the first time you serve one of them—you go!"

Evolution When somebody stops advertising, Somebody stops buying. When somebody stops buying, Somebody stops selling. When somebody stops selling, Somebody stops making. When somebody stops making, Somebody stops earning. When somebody stops earning, Everybody stops buying. Then the bread line.

Miss Elderly: "Would you believe it? The hairdresser took an hour to wave my hair this morning." Mrs. Catty: "But couldn't you have gone for a walk in that time?"

She lifted her pale face to the coarse, heavy-limbed man standing menacingly before her with a long shining knife in his hand. "Have you no heart?" she pleaded appealingly. "No," he answered. "Then let me have a little liver, please!"

Overheard In a Cafe She: "Walter, remove this fish, please." Walter: "Take him away yourself. You brought him here."

How Did He Pass the Evening? The times way back in Adam's time Were very, very slow; They didn't have a phonograph Nor yet a radio!

"Dad, I've decided to become an artist." "No objection, provided you don't draw on me."

On the other hand, wouldn't this be a terrible country with only one religion—any religion?

Many a cat has caught a husband by acting kittenish.

Hard luck is often due to the wish for a soft snap.

A smile from a boss who knows workmanship is worth more than a medal from a committee of impractical experts.

By the time these small dollar bills get around, we'll probably be using them for small change.

QUIT AT THE END.

Today's puzzle sets off to a good START and QUITS after seven strokes. That's par and one solution is on another page.

START and QUITS crossword puzzle grid.

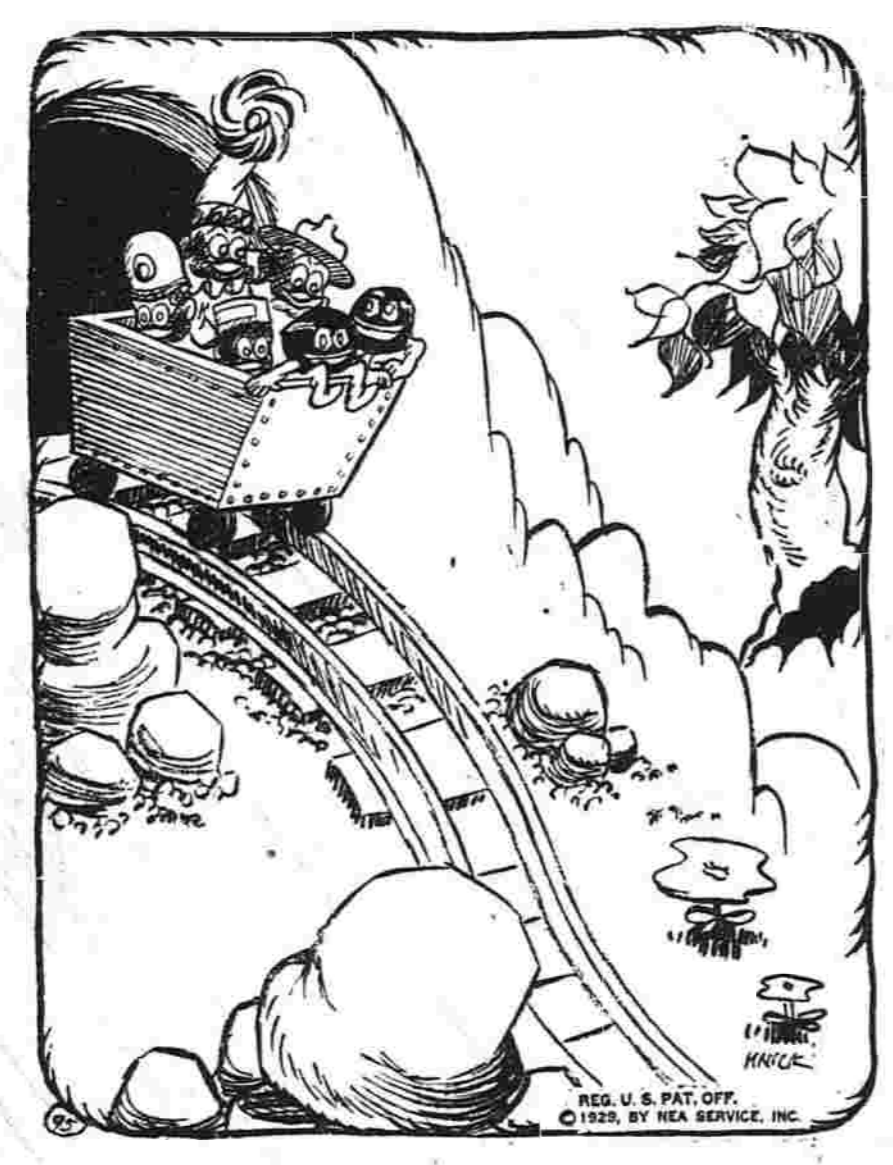

THE RULES

- 1-The idea of Letter Golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN. 2-You change only one letter at a time. 3-You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count. 4-The order of letters cannot be changed. One solution is printed on another page.

Style won't change until the men folks quit looking. And you can lay to that.

At to a sore thumb the most used thing in the world is a man at his own wedding.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE) Before their little car could roll, the Tinymites had to shovel coal, so they all promptly set to work, as speedily as they could. The tiny shovels that they had held quite a bit, and it was sad how hard the Tinymites had to work. It didn't seem so good. "Aw, shucks!" wailed Cobby. "What bad luck! Of course we had to all get stuck. This being under ground's no fun. I'd rather be outside." And then he thought, and said, "Oh, dear! It's my fault that we came in here. To probe this cave is something that I never should have tried." "Oh, well, what is the difference now," said Scouty. "We'll get by somehow. Just keep on with your shovel. This is work, you know, but play. We'll have to keep it up, I fear, until the track is nice and clear, or otherwise we never will get out of here today." And so they labored very fast until Wee Cobby cried, "At last the track is clear, and we can leave upon our trip again." A coal man then said, "It's too bad the coal all fell, but now we're glad that you have cleared it up so fine. This happens now and then." Two Tinymites pushed the car one more, and soon a big treat was in store. A stream of light came through the mine. "Twas coming from above." "Oh, look!" cried Cobby. "Here's a rope that leads up there and I just hope that if we tie it to this car we will not have to shove." They fixed the rope into a groove and then the car began to move right up a little hillway. Cobby shouted, "This is fine!" Up up they went until at last their troubles in the cave were past. "Hurrah!" cried Scouty. "We are now outside the crazy mine." (The Tinymites take a speedy ride in the next story.)

ABOUT TOWN

The young people of the Christian Endeavor society gave a successful entertainment at Second Congregational church last night, featuring the play "Leave It to Dad." Every one of the cast of 8 players did excellent work and when the curtain was drawn on the third act, the audience which filled the vestry regretted the play did not continue for a much longer time. Tonight the Boy Scouts and their dads will enjoy a supper and a good program at this church.

James F. Glancy, the well known broadcaster of WTIG, the Travelers station at Hartford, and formerly manager of Poll's theater, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Manchester Kiwanis club, Monday, at the Hotel Sheridan. The attendance prize will be contributed by F. T. Blish, a bag of pecans direct from Florida.

The Manchester Green Community club will run another of their popular whist and dances at the Green school assembly hall this evening. Card playing will begin at 8:30 and continue for two hours.

On Friday, April 5, the Manchester Hi-Y Club will hold an informal dance in the High school auditorium. Ernie Rock's Cotton Pickers, a six piece orchestra known throughout the state, will furnish music. Tickets may be secured from members of the Hi-Y or by applying at the High school.
