BOYS AGED 6 AND 7 KILL ANSONIA TOT

Mystery of Death of Three-Year-Old Boy at Myrtle Beach is Solved When Inmates of County Home Confess to Police.

Milford, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Two young brothers were arrested here today charged with the brutal slaying of three year old Albert Mikenas, of Ansonia, whose mutilated and almost naked body was found concealed in shrubbery a mile from Myrtle Beach, August 11.

The boys, John and James Mulligan of Waterbury, six and seven years old respectively were inmates of the New Haven county home in Allingtown near New Haven, until they were "farmed out" at the beginning of the year to a woman living near here.

Details Lacking

The boys, according to police confessed they had slain young Albert, but the exact manner of the deed or the motives behind it was not divulged. Police said they were given more information to the public when Deputy Coroner James J. Corrigan of New Haven, who has led a search for the slayer or slayers for more than two months, had finished questioning the boys and made an official finding.

Set Fire to Inn

The Mulligan boys were taken into custody by West Haven police, to whose chief, Harry Tuttle, they are said to have admitted the slaying and also that they set fire to the Sea Lion Inn here on March 18.

Turned Over to Police

After this part of the confession the boys were turned over to Milford police who said they obtained the more important admission, that of the slaying.

FAMOUS COURT FIGURE IS BURNED TO DEATH

Newham-on-Severn, England, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Walterburg, Lady Paget, famous figure of a past generation, who assisted in arranging the marriage between King Edward and Queen Alexandra, died today from burns received when her clothing caught fire as she was sitting beside her fireplace.

BOOZE SEIZURES

St. Albans, Vt., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Three liquor seizures were made by Customs inspectors today. After a 10-mile chase in St. Albans Bay, the Lake Champlain patrol captured a motorboat containing 130 bottles of champagne and arrested its pilot, Armand Lereau of Burlington.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for October 9 were $5,355,021.24; expenditures $18,990,945.43; balance, $355,558,927.92.

GET MAN GUILTY OF BREAKS HERE

New Yorker Caught in Brookline, Mass., Had Local Goods on Him.

Lieutenant of Police William Barron returned from Brookline, Mass., today after identifying in that town several articles that were taken from homes in a series of house-breaks made early in September.

Goods on Him

Anderson, who is stone deaf, will not admit to any breaks other than the one in which he was caught in Brookline. However, goods found in his possession positively identify him as the man who committed the local burglaries. Houses in the Parker street and Marvin Green section were entered. Violins, mandolins, two gold watches, stickpins, a nickel plated revolver, neckties, bank book and a Manchester Trust Company vault key were among the articles taken here.

Key His Undoing

The vault key admitting to one of the safe deposit boxes at the Manchester Trust Company definitely connected Anderson with the local burglaries. The name of the owner and the name "South Manchester, Conn." could be made out on the leather case-key holder.

Small Fellow

After a trial in Brookline Anderson was moved to the famous Dedham County jail where Sacco and Vanzetti were lodged previous to their trial and there he awaits trial in December. It is believed that the fellow worked his trade alone. He is only five feet six inches tall, slight of build, weighing 156 pounds, and has a ruddy complexion with light chestnut hair. He is a carpenter by trade and as stated before, is stone deaf.

Lady Paget Who Arranged King Edward's Marriage Was 90 Years Old.

Newham-on-Severn, England, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Walterburg, Lady Paget, famous figure of a past generation, who assisted in arranging the marriage between King Edward and Queen Alexandra, died today from burns received when her clothing caught fire as she was sitting beside her fireplace.

PLAY BY PLAY

BY BRIAN BELL
Shibe Park, Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Although the sun was shining there were many empty seats at game time for the third world series contest.
Nick Altrock and Al Schacht put on a burlesque fight in a ring by the plate as the umpires conferred with the two captains, Eddie Collins and Charley Grimm, at the plate. The players of both clubs were assembled outside their dugouts watching the antics of Altrock and Schacht.
FIRST INNING
CUBS—McMillan up. The crowd arose and stood in silence for one minute as a tribute to the late Miller Huggins, who at this time last year led the Yankees to world's championship. McMillan fanned, swinging at a fast ball over the plate. English went out on a roller. Bishop to Fox, Hornsby up. He was cheered. Strike one, Hornsby swung hard. Foul, back of stands, strike two. Ball one, high and outside. Strike three, called. Hornsby fanned on a low curve over the out-pitcher with Umpire Moran. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.
ATHLETICS—Bishop went out on a fly to Grimm in short right field. When Hornsby threw the ball after taking it from Grimm, it grazed the first baseman's face. He rubbed his face but was not much hurt. Haas singled to center, Bush jumping out of the way as the vicious drive past the box. Cochrane hit Haas back to first. Simmons hit to English and Haas was forced at second. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.
SECOND INNING
CUBS—Wilson hit far into center field for a triple. Cuyler up. Strike one, called. Foul, strike two. Cuyler went out. Boley to Fox, Wilson holding third, Stimpson up. Foul, strike one. Wilson went out at the plate on Bishop's throw of Stimpson's roller. Grimm struck out, swinging at a low curve. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.
ATHLETICS—Fox fanned on a ball over the outside corner. Miller went out on a long fly to Cuyler. Dykes singled to left, hitting solidly on a line. Boley singled to right and Dykes ran to third while Boley took a base on the throw. The play was close. McMillan dropped the ball but probably would not have had Dykes anyway. Dykes "scored" on a steal of home as Bush wound up, pitching to Earnshaw. Boley ran to third. Umpire Moran then reversed his decision and called Dykes out as the Cubs ran in. It was found that the ball on which Dykes had made a clean steal of home was a third strike on Earnshaw, retiring the side. No runs, two hits, no errors, two left.
THIRD INNING
CUBS—Taylor fled to Dykes in short left field. Bush fanned. Fox ran to the stands trying to catch McMillan's fly. McMillan then hit a high fly to Bishop. No runs, no hits, no errors, and none left.
ATHLETICS—Bishop hit a high fly to Grimm in short right field for one base. He started to third. English fanned. Ball three, high. Bush was trying to coax Simmons to go after a bad ball. Strike one, called. Simmons went out on an infield fly to McMillan. Fox up. Bush bluffed a throw to second. He repeated. Strike one, swung. Ball one, low. Fox was safe when English fumbled his hard

American League's String of 10 World Series Wins Snaps as Kiki and Rajah Change from Goats to Heroes; Miller's Single Brings in A's Lone Tally.

By ALLAN J. GOULD
AP Sports Editor

Shibe Park, Philadelphia, Oct. 11 (AP).—With Roger Hornsby and Kiki Cuyler emerging from their famous batting slump to drive across all their runs, the Chicago Cubs staged a comeback to score their first World Series victory today in the third game. The final tally was 3 to 1, with Guy Bush getting the pitching decision over George Earnshaw, who started his second straight game and struck out ten men to increase the Cub strike out total to 36 for the series. The Athletics still led by two games to one. After being the goats for two games and the first part of the third, each with six strike outs behind him, Hornsby and Cuyler snapped out of their slump this afternoon in the three-run rally in the sixth inning that gave the Cubs their triumph and spoiled the homecoming of Connie Mack's young men.

The official paid attendance was announced as only 29,921, the smallest crowd that has seen a World's Series game in nine years. The fourth game will be played here tomorrow. Goats Beside Heroes became heroes, for the time being at least, when they snapped out of their slumps to drive in three runs and give the Cubs a 3 to 1 lead in the sixth inning.

It was the first time in the series that the Cubs had been out in front. The Bruins, fighting behind the good pinch hitting of Guy Bush, staged their three-run rally in the sixth after the Athletics had taken a one run lead in the fifth as Miller drove Cochrane over the plate.
Bush walked to start the sixth and after McMillan had popped out, English was safe as Dykes over ran his roller. Hornsby, who had fanned twice before in this game and six times altogether, came through with a single through short scoring Bush. Hack Wilson, who had made five straight hits previously, grounded out, advancing English to third and Hornsby to second. With the count 3 and 2, Cuyler, who also had fanned six times, bounced a hit over second base to score both runners and redeem himself.
A's Guns Silent
The A's had out-hit the Cubs at this point but the American League champions were failing to show their customary wallop in the pinch. Both Simmons and Fox, missing chances to bring runs across. They had the bases full in the third and eight runners were left stranded altogether in six innings. Earnshaw's speed had accounted for 7 strike outs, increasing

INTERESTING PROGRAM FOR COLUMBUS DAY

Hollister Street School Has Unusual Observance Today; Progress Without Conflict.

The pupils of the seventh and eighth grades of the Hollister street school of the Eighth District presented an interesting and instructive program this morning, in honor of Christopher Columbus—the discoverer of America.

In connection with this observance, there was a sketch given by students showing the natural, progressive, advances—those made without resort to arms or conflict.

The program opened in the assembly room at 9:10 with the whole school body singing "America, America" and "The Star-Spangled Banner."

The New World was described by John Vojeck, touching upon the early history and later discovery by Columbus. The familiar story of the discovery of the New World by Christopher Columbus was given by Dexter Miller, Christine Royce explained how the world was benefited by the discovery of a local anesthetic—Ether—by Morgan, reducing suffering and pain throughout the civilized world.

BUSH VS. EARNSHAW. Shibe Park, Philadelphia, Penn., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Combs, Mack, Athletics, with a two straight game advantage and the Chicago Cubs, fighting with their backs to the wall, today, renewed hostilities in the third game of the world's series.

The A's failed to score in their half of the second inning on an extraordinary play in which Jimmy Dykes, after stealing home with Earnshaw at bat, found it didn't count because the throw was a hand strike and ended the inning.

Still Striking Out. The Cubs started swinging where they left off. In the first inning, Miller being a strike-out victim at the outset and Rogers Hornsby another, after the fifth time in the series, after English had swung and missed two fast balls, then took the third strike over the corner with his bat unmoved.

7 VOTERS OF NINTH AUTHORIZE BONDS

$175,000 Issue for Barnard School Voted by Bare Quorum Last Night.

It took seven voters of the Ninth School District just five minutes, last evening, to authorize a bond issue of $175,000 and to commit the district to the laying of an annual tax during the next twenty years sufficient in its proceeds to pay off the bonds at the rate of $9,000 a year, with interest at a rate not to exceed 5 per cent. The bonds are to be issued in lieu of notes issued by the district to pay for the Barnard school property purchased by the district from Cheney Brothers.

At 8 o'clock, the hour for which the meeting had been called, there were present fewer than the seven voters required for a legal quorum under the Ninth District charter. Seven minutes later the necessary seven were in the hall, plus the janitor and a Herald reporter. At 8:08 the meeting adjourned. The five minutes were consumed in electing Howell Cheney as chairman and C. R. Hathaway clerk, in reading the call and certificate of legal notice, and in reading and passing unanimously the following votes without discussion:

The Bonding Vote. VOTED: For the purpose of raising funds to refund all or any portion of the note or notes of the district or renewals thereof issued under authority of votes passed at a special meeting of the district on August 28, 1929, for the purpose of purchasing from Cheney Brothers the so-called Barnard School building and the furniture and equipment therein, and grounds and walks adjoining said building and the structure on such grounds, the district treasurer be and he hereby is authorized to prepare, issue and sell with the approval of the district committee bonds of the district in the aggregate principal amount of one hundred seventy-five thousand ($175,000) dollars, in coupon form, dated Nov. 1, 1929, maturing $9,000 each of the years 1930 to 1948 inclusive, and $4,000 on the first day of November of the year 1949 and bearing interest at the rate of not more than five (5) per cent per annum payable semi-annually. Said bonds shall be designated "Barnard School Funding Bonds," shall bear the district seal, shall be signed by the chairman of the district committee and countersigned by the treasurer of the district and shall be payable as to both principal and interest at the principal office of the First National Bank of Boston, in Boston, Mass., which is hereby designated as the disbursing agent for payment thereof. Said bonds shall not be obligatory unless the certificates of said bank be endorsed thereon. Other particulars as to the form, issuance and sale of said bonds shall be determined by the district treasurer, with the approval of the district committee except that said bonds shall be sold at a price not less than par and accrued interest to date of delivery. The interest to be paid on the bonds shall be less the cost of preparing and selling same as hereby appropriated for the purpose aforesaid.

Tax for Payments. VOTED: That the district raise annually by taxation an amount sufficient for the payment of principal and interest accruing each year in the same manner in which other taxes are assessed until the debt represented by said bonds is extinguished.

RECOVER AUTOMOBILE STOLEN HERE MONDAY

Fred Sobieles Machine Found in Philadelphia Today; Seek to Find Thief.

Local police were today notified that a 1928 Oldsmobile automobile owned by Fred Sobieles of this town had been abandoned in Philadelphia. The car was stolen from its parking place on Brainard Place here last Monday. Local police are not content with simply recovering the car and are at work in the hopes that they learn who stole it.

H. S. STUDENT COUNCIL ORGANIZATION COMPLETE

The student council has been organized at Manchester High school. It consists of the chairmen of the various rooms in the main building and the president of the freshman class, Clifford Treat. The other members are Winston Bendall, Beatrice Fogg, Lincoln Murphy, Frank Scariato, Arthur Davis, Richard Joslin, Lucille Murphy, Hewitt Wilson, Frieda Clegg, Dorothy Haney, Otis Kerr, Sylvester Squatrito and Fred Wipperfurth. The organization is a sort of president's cabinet, and it functions in an advisory capacity. It has various duties which go toward the improvement of student conditions and questions in general.

Miss Helen Estes, teacher of English in the high school, is in Boston attending the funeral of her aunt.

ABOUT TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Wirtalla, local dancing teachers, today began the first of a series of lessons in ballroom dancing to classes from among the high school pupils. The Wirtallas have been doing this each season for the past four years. The classes will meet hereafter on Wednesday afternoons at High school assembly hall. Beginners and advanced children's classes will meet at Orange hall tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. for the first time this fall. Advanced pupils will be assigned to their different classes tomorrow afternoon.

The Oakland Club met with Mrs. Emma Shipman at her home, 103 McCall street, yesterday afternoon. Members took for their subject, "Connecticut" and an interesting program followed. About 15 members were present.

The Manchester Mother's Club has invited the Girl Scout Council and Officers association of this town to attend the meeting in the chapel of the South Methodist church this evening when the Mother's club will present former senator, Mrs. Alice Pattison Merritt and Miss Olea Schrotzky, director of plays and pageantry of the national Girl Scout organization. Both are excellent speakers, and in view of the fact that October 13 to 19 is to be celebrated all over the country, it is an opportune time for this meeting and the program committee is planning for a large attendance of the club members and guests.

Dr. G. P. Wells, professor of psychology at the Hartford Theological Seminary, will speak before the Men's League of Center church at 8:30 tomorrow morning. His subject will be "Religious Psychology." The session will be in the Masonic Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hibbard returned today from Hackensack, N. J., where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, former residents of Manchester.

The Rally Supper of Center Church people at 6:30 Wednesday night is open to all friends of the church. It is being conducted by a group of the Women's Federation under Mrs. Harold Belcher as chairman. The supper will be held in the Masonic Temple and all women of the church whose names begin with letters from A through F will be solicited for food and for aid.

The usual Saturday evening dance will be held at the Manchester Green assembly hall tomorrow night, with the committee of young men and women in charge, and Bill Waddell's orchestra to play for the modern and old-time dances. Miller will perform for the old-fashioned sets which will take place once in every three numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Johnston of Woodbridge street left today for Philadelphia and Atlantic City for the week's stay. They are taking in the World Series games in the Quaker city.

Mrs. Francis Bowen of 17 Lilley street is the proud possessor today of an Easter lily in full bloom at her home.

The final section of Main street between the Center and Depot Squares, which has been held up several times, was actually completed today. With this work finished and protected until 5 o'clock tonight the cold weather will make it possible to open the whole section. This does not complete the work that will be done in town by the East Company, but this afternoon they are going to come back south and start repairing the section of the road on Main street south of the Center where cracks have appeared.

Miss Marion Chapman of Strickland street left today for Westfield, N. J., where she will spend a week with her cousin.

Mrs. R. A. Colpitts entertained at the parsonage last evening. The young married couple of the South Methodist church who are members of the Home Builders' society. They discussed the opportunities for social and other kinds of work in the parish, and were enthusiastic about organizing in some definite way whereby they may be able to make a more vital contribution to the church life. A meeting for this purpose will be held next Thursday evening with Mrs. Herbert R. Haley of Gerard street. Mrs. Haley is chairman and Mrs. E. Greer assisted Mrs. Colpitts in serving refreshments.

The Cubs' regular Friday night football practice this evening will be held at the East Side Rec at 7:30 instead of at the East Side Rec as is the usual custom.

Earl F. Miner of the Park Hill Flower shop received a telephone call this morning at 8 o'clock from Holger Bach stating that he had secured tickets for the World Series games at Philadelphia today. Mr. Miner accordingly left by automobile at 3 a. m. with the intention of attending both games.

Considerable interest is being shown in the series of revival meetings now going on at the Church of the Nazarene. Rev. A. B. Carey the evangelist is proving to be the most forceful speaker that the church officials were given to understand before his coming here. Special musical numbers are being arranged by local talent for each meeting. Tomorrow Saturday evening, the revival service will be omitted. Evangelist Carey will preach at the morning service tomorrow and every evening through the week at 7:30 until Saturday.

BROOKS' BODY FOUND. Winchester, N. H., Oct. 11.—(AP)—The body of Walter Brooks, 46, of Hinsdale, who was a companion of Frank Young drowned in North Round pond while fishing about a month ago was found last night by a group of Harvard forestry students. It is believed Young had an attack of apoplexy and fell from a boat and that Brooks drowned while trying to rescue him.

HUMOROUS CAPERS AMUSE BALL FANS

Odd Incidents Serve to Freshen Spirits of Those Standing in Line All Night

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Within a short time after the bleacher gates at Shibe Park were thrown open unexpectedly at 7:15 p. m. today, nearly all of the 2,500 one-dollar seats for the world series game this afternoon were sold. It was expected the gates back of left field would not be opened until 9 a. m. It was estimated at least 2,000 were in the line when the ticket sale began. William Tennyson, who started the waiting line at 10 o'clock Wednesday night, bought the first ticket.

The second in line, John Clark, who placed for $5 just before the line started moving, Clark had held out for $10, but said as much as he really wanted to see the game, he couldn't afford the $1.

"I've been out of work for several weeks," he said. "My family needs the money."

Many women were in the line. Miss Mary E. Mellon, Scranton, who arrived late last night with five men, bought the twentieth ticket. She said she and her friends were here particularly to cheer Joe Boley, Athletic shortstop, a personal friend.

Man and Wife Again. Mrs. S. E. Tyson, Trappe, Pa., was a little further back in the line, having been at the park since 1 a. m. In the 400's was Mrs. Elsie Klunkie, Niagara Falls, Canada, and in the 800's were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Connors, Binghamton, N. Y.

They arrived at 3 a. m. from Chicago, where they said they had watched the first two games from the bleachers after all night waits in the line. After getting "a few winks" they came to Philadelphia, and said they will go back to Chicago again if the series lasts six games.

The willingness of those in the line to sell caused uneasiness to householders along 29th street, back of right field, who have erected grandstands on their housepots. They said they would not fix prices until just before game time, but they guessed they expected at least $10 a seat.

Cops Help Sick. There was a feeling of brotherhood between policeman and the fans. This was shown when Thomas Wilson, of Albany, N. Y., complained of pain. A policeman went to drug store and brought him medicine which soon brought the visitor around.

"I've seen every world series for the last fifteen years," Wilson declared, "and I am not going to let a little pain cheat me out of this one."

Shortly after dawn broke today a quartet near the tail end of the line burst into song. The melody sounded pretty good to the fellows who had "got up" for the day.

"We're hearing baseball bawls," a facetious chap shouted. "That first and second base are alright, but that tenor ought to be short stop."

"Aw, what they need is a 'home run,'" growled a drowsy fan. The crowd broke into a cheer as the line started moving. They had bivouacked outside the park all night, and many beat their hands together and stamped their feet to keep warm.

Fathers and sons, brothers and sisters, and just the lone fan made up the aggregation determined to see the diamond classic or bust.

College Cheers. A group of youths of the collegiate type injected a football atmosphere into the scene by giving a yell for the Athletics, but the rhythm was rather strained, and it struck a discordant note among the fans.

"Hey, cut that!" one yelled. "That's football stuff; we're here to see a regular sport."

The long line of baseball enthusiasts proved an attraction in itself. Several thousand persons flocked to the neighborhood to watch the game, and hundreds of the fans slept while the spectators wandered around. Many wives were on hand to look after their husbands. When Robert McClemmy, complained of the cold, his wife got a blanket which she wrapped him from head to foot. She brought him a warm breakfast, and he had all the comforts of home without losing his precious place in the line.

CONVICT IN HOSPITAL ESCAPES DURING NIGHT

Boston, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Walter Perry, a convict serving a sentence for burglary and also under indictment for murder, escaped from the hospital at Bridgewater during the night, the State Department of Correction reported today. Perry was arrested in New York after an automobile accident in which a companion was killed and he was severely injured. On account of his injuries he had been confined to the Bridgewater hospital after his conviction on charges of breaking into a home in Somerville. He also had been indicted by the Suffolk county Grand Jury on a charge of murder as a result of the shooting of Patrolman H. M. McGinness in this city on June 17, 1927.

Belfast, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The need of obtaining better American and Canadian markets for Irish and Scottish linen manufacturers was the farewell message given by members of the industry to an industrial delegation which sailed for New York, October 6.

Sir William Coates, lord mayor of Belfast, told the delegation that for many years past America had been their most important customer and greatest export market for linen goods.

"Since the war America alone has imported linen goods valued at over $158,000,000," he said.

Need Good Will. "From this it would seem that America's good will, will be a weighty factor in the prosperity of the linen industry," he concluded, handing to the chairman of the delegation a special message of greeting from the citizens of Belfast to be delivered to Mayor Walker.

John Milne Bourbour, minister of commerce, declared the linen industry was the most important in which the linen industry had ventured for years.

"We have been too prone to rely upon our reputation for high quality and upon the old established business connections which have been handed down from generation to generation," he said.

Rivals Stronger. "We have failed to realize that sentiment is becoming less and less an element in commerce, and that by scientific use of modern business organization and mass production and publicity, our continental rivals have crept up on us.

"Our industry needs a serious re-adjustment and stocktaking to place it on a business equality with its competitors." The delegation will be in New York, October 14 to 17; Washington, October 18-20; Chicago, October 21-22; Detroit, October 23; Toronto, October 24; Montreal, October 25; Boston, October 28 and Philadelphia, October 29. While in Washington they will call upon President Hoover.

NOON STOCKS INCREASE IN MILK Boston, Oct. 11.—(AP)—An increase of 1 per cent in daily milk production per cow throughout New England as of October 1 was reported today by the New England Crop reporting service of the Department of Agriculture compared to the previous month. A slight improvement in pasture conditions in Southern New England was noted. Milk prices were the highest for September since 1921. Decreases in milk production in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont were more than offset by increases in the three Southern New England states, the department reported.

ROCKVILLE

Delegates To Convention.
Several of the members of Damon Lodge, Knights of Pythias will attend the state convention to be held at Rivoli Ballroom, West Haven on Tuesday. The convention will open at 9:30 with several hundred delegates in attendance. James H. Quinn and Bert Schulz are the local delegates. Rev. George S. Brookes will give the Memorial address. There will be a big parade on Monday night and an entertainment program at the West Haven high school auditorium.

Sewing Club Whist.
Hope Sewing Club met at the Masonic rooms in the Fitel Block on Tuesday afternoon and prizes were awarded as follows: first, Mrs. F. H. Holton; second, Mrs. M. C. Wetstein; third, Mrs. James Elliott. The next meeting will be held in the Chapter rooms on Tuesday afternoon, October 22. The hostesses will be Mrs. Joseph Prichard, Mrs. David Hoadley and Mrs. Elmer Osborne.

Kenneth M. White Promoted.
Kenneth M. White, teller at the Savings Bank of Rockville for the past four years and who has been connected with the bank for the past nine years, was chosen assistant treasurer of the bank at a director's meeting held on Wednesday of this week.

The many friends of Mr. White will be pleased to hear of this well deserved promotion. He is efficient and faithful in his duties and the patrons have become accustomed to his courteous treatment. He is sure to become one of the leading bankers in Tolland County.

Luther League Presents Ring.
Mrs. Steven Coveney of Village street, who will leave on October 19 for her new home in Franklin, Mass., was the guest of honor at a supper held by the Luther League of the First Evangelical church last evening. Mrs. Coveney is president of the league and upon her arrival at the church to conduct the regular meeting, she found a party had been planned for her.

Charles Tennstedt acted as master of ceremonies and in behalf of the organization, presented Mrs. Coveney with a Luther League Emblem ring.

There was a program of entertainment consisting of songs and instrumental music, with Teddy Burns presiding at the piano.

Mrs. Coveney will be greatly missed at the church where she has been very active.

To Attend Directorate.
The Rockville Girls Club will be represented at the directorate to be held at Meriden Saturday and Sunday by Miss Lillian Friedrich and Miss Hattie Engleman. The directorate of 1928 was held in this city last year. It is expected there will be several hundred members present from clubs about the state.

Visiting Nurse Report.
At a meeting of the Rockville Nurse Association held this week it was reported that 1,836 calls were made during the months of June 1 to October 1. There were 224 cases treated during this period.

Nine well baby conferences were held and when defects were found the mothers were advised to take the baby to the family physician. The full report of the Visiting Nurse Association is a lengthy one and shows what excellent work the nurses are doing in Rockville, under the direction of Miss Katherine McCarthy.

To Speak On England.
Rev. George S. Brookes will speak at the morning and evening services at the Union church, next Sunday. At the morning service he will give the last of the five sermons on the 23rd Psalm "Twilight and Evening Bell and After that the Dark."

At the People's Popular service at 7 p. m. Mr. Brookes will preach on "England Then and Now." The word "then" refers to the year 1912 when he came to America as a steerage passenger with all his possessions packed in one small trunk, and the word "now" means the summer of this year when he went back to the old home town after an absence of 17 years.

Dinner for Miss Scharf.
Miss Irene Scharf of Union street was the guest of honor at a dinner given by her aunts, Mrs. Elmer Fenwick and Mrs. Clifford Forbes, at the home of the latter on Yale street, Hartford Wednesday evening. The dining room was attractively decorated in yellow crepe paper and cut flowers. There was a delightful musical program presented and games were played.

Miss Scharf received many pretty gifts. There were fourteen guests present. She will be married on October 23 to Nicholas Isch of Orchard street this city.

Notes.
Miss Irene Willis of Hartford formerly of this city will be married in the near future to Cuthbert Bell of Hartford, marriage intentions having been filed at the Town Clerk's office to that effect.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. John's church will hold a rummage sale in Wesleyan Hall on Wednesday, October 16.

Rev and Mrs. J. F. Bauchman of Linwood, N. J., were in Rockville a short time on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Jesse Hewitt of Ellington avenue has returned from a trip to New York City.

Miss Mary Mantak of Park street is ill at the Hartford hospital.

IS SUING PRINCE.

Amarillo, Tex., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Attorneys for Miss Imogene Smith, former Oklahoma farm girl, who yesterday failed in her effort to obtain a breach of promise judgment for $50,000 against Prince Habib Kahn, said to be a member of the Afghan aristocracy, will renew the suit at the next term of court.

The jury which heard the suit was discharged last night after reporting twice that it was unable to reach a verdict. The self styled prince, who is said to have become wealthy selling silks and hot tamales, is in Afghanistan.

NEW ENGLISH MERGER

Middlesborough, Eng., Oct. 11.—A merger between Dorman-Long and Company and Bolckow, Vaughan and Company, two of the biggest iron and steel producing firms in Great Britain, was announced today subject to approval of the shareholders of the respective concerns.

The capital of the two companies exceeds £20,000,000 and its combined plants have a productive capacity of 2,000,000 tons of pig iron annually.

Troop 1's Committee met Tuesday evening with the Scoutmaster to make arrangements for a new meeting place. It was decided on Wednesday evening at the Second Congregational Church. When the troop has contests they are to engage the Hollister St. School Hall. Troop 1 met Wed. evening at Hollister St. School with 29 scouts present. Scoutmaster Dean took a class in aviation and construction of model flying planes in order to get the boys started on model building. Junior assistant and patrol leaders took charge of work in First Aid, signmaking, and games. One tenderfoot scout passed his test. Two tests were passed in nature. The potato race team practiced on their event and the older scouts had leg wrestling with great enjoyment to the scouts.

GENERAL NEWS

Field Scout executive J. G. Dean has received notice of the Yale-Maryland Football game at New Haven, Nov. 9th. Will all the scoutmasters please find out how many leaders' tickets and scouts' tickets they are going to need and call 6128 as soon as possible. Chief executive F. C. Hill of Hartford surprised the scout leaders by presenting sea scout pictures of the cruise taken last summer. A small model flying aeroplane, was demonstrated to the scoutmasters by Mr. Dean. It was voted to have refreshments at the next Scoutmasters' meeting. Scout Commissioner G. S. Bohlin has reported receiving the first aid books from Washington. Dr. Knapp is to use these in his First Aid course of study for the scoutmasters.

OPENING STOCKS

New York, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The Stock Market opened with powerful bullish demonstrations in selected issues today by traders who placed an optimistic interpretation on last night's brokerage loan figures. Some liquidation appeared, however, from traders who found the loan decrease disappointingly small, but initial losses were fractional. U. S. Steel sagging 1-2 point. American Water Works jumped 5 points. Radio 2 1-2 and American International, Corn Products, Sears Roebuck, Consolidated Gas, Standard of New Jersey and General Electric, 1 to 1 1-2 points. Bees are a common article of food in the diet of the American skunk.

Dinner—Roast beef, cooked string beans, baked eggplant, salad of molded vegetables (celery, string beans and cucumber), peach whip.

THURSDAY

Breakfast—Wholewheat mush with milk or cream, baked apple.
Lunch—Cooked lettuce, cool carrots and peas, celery and salad.
Dinner—Mushroom soup, 8 lamb chops, cooked okra, C. flower salad, Pear sauce.

FRIDAY

Breakfast—Poached eggs on Melba toast, stewed figs.
Lunch—Wholewheat bread and peanut butter sandwiches, combination salad (lettuce, celery, cucumbers).
Dinner—Jellied tomato consomme, baked sea bass, spinach, cooked celery, salad of sliced tomatoes, no desert.

SATURDAY

Breakfast—Toasted breakfast food, with milk, or cream, stewed prunes.
Lunch—Oranges or apples as desired.
Dinner—Vegetable soup, broiled steak with mushrooms, stewed tomatoes, salad of celery and ripe olives, pineapple gelatin, with cream.

After thoroughly washing and wiping fish, place in baking pan with small amount of water, and bake in moderate oven. One pound or less requires from 15 to 20 minutes; from 3 to 4 pounds, 45 to 60 minutes. Add no fat nor other seasoning, except butter, when ready to serve. You will find this method of preparing fish superior to those methods calling for gravies and sauces, for you will get all of the benefit of a good protein food without any of the harmful effects produced by the addition of starch, or spicy seasoning.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS Has Persistent Cough

Question: Mrs. K. L. writes:—"I am interested in your answers to questions. What would you advise for a cough of about fifteen years' standing? Worse in damp weather and in winter. Started with the grippe. Never leaves me entirely, but gets better at times. Is not any worse than it was ten years ago. Never have colds in my head, and rarely cough anything loose. Different doctors say it is bronchial. Doesn't seem to break my health, but certainly is annoying."

Answer:—Some people have formation of excessive mucus which occurs only in one particular part. It is apparent that yours forms in the bronchial tubes and not on the other mucus membranes. Skin elimination is not as good in the winter or in damp weather, so more mucus is eliminated through the mucus membranes. If you will increase skin elimination by frequent bathing and through taking vigorous exercise, I am sure you will no longer be troubled with the persistent cough.

Junket

Question: Mrs. K. G. S. asks:—"Does Junket with a quart of milk (which makes a custard of a real thick consistency) make a good food used as a desert?"

Answer:—Junket is a good food and makes a good protein to be used in place of meat, fish or fowl. If used as a desert, only a very small amount should be eaten.

Dizzy When Hungry

Question: Alice H. asks:—"Why is it that when I am full and eat at intervals I feel fine and can work hard, but the minute I am the least bit hungry I have a dizzy feeling or light-headedness?"

Answer:—The hunger you complain of is due to gastritis and over-acidity of your stomach. You should stop eating, and drink only water for a few days, and the dizzy feeling and headaches will disappear. If you will then adopt a sensible diet you will not have a return of your trouble.

WARBLING BATTLESHIP

London.—Sailors' antics in pets usually vary but when the battleship Nelson arrived at Portsmouth recently the entire crew seemed to have selected canaries as mascots. There were nearly 700 of the feathered warblers on board the ship and when coming into sight of land they all commenced to sing. They will be distributed all over England to families and friends of the crew.

GOOD EVIDENCE

"How about the jury in that prohibition case?"
"They've been out six hours and they just sent word to the court to send in some more evidence."
—Judge.

AS PER INSTRUCTIONS

London.—After a series of robberies in the neighborhood, a Beckenham resident, on going out for the evening, left a note reading:

"There are no valuables in the house. Be a sport. Have a drink and go." He was visited by a robber during his absence who wrote the following note: "Thanks for the refreshment. I have had a drink and gone. I would not have come had I known there was so little to get."

In one of London's hospitals last year 127 miles of bandages were used.

AIR TAXIS

London.—The first of June should see a fleet of air taxis operating over London with fares set at 25 cents a mile. Two aerodromes

WORST OF TRADE

San Francisco.—John C. Scott got an overcoat in a trade, but he got the worst of the transaction. The trade happened while he was asleep. A robber called on him, took a complete outfit of his clothing and left the overcoat in its place. At police headquarters it was found that the overcoat belonged to C. H. Wilson, also a victim of the robber.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Friday, October 11.

Arthur Pryor and his Schenectady band will conduct their weekly concert over WPAJ and associated stations at 9:30 Friday night. The two garage partners, Gus and Louis, who have been wrangling for some time over the possession of a one thousand dollar check, finally agree to endorse the check for the purpose of cashing it. The clever Widow Biddle then sees Gus for breach on promise and the judge awards the full one thousand dollars to her. Josef Koestner, conductor of the orchestra, and featured pianist: George Bass, violinist; Fred Waldner, tenor; a male trio, a chorus of eighteen voices and a concert orchestra combine to present a varied vocal and instrumental concert over the WPAJ hook-up at 10:30. Among the numbers to be heard will be "The Riff Song," "Mighty Lak a Rose," "Waiting at the End of the Road" and "Rodeo of Old Favorites."

Queer Twists In Day's News

New York — Sundry folks who have come recently to associate double consonants with wallops have a lurch that Leonard Zaccarino will take Al Singer tonight in a fight at Madison Square Garden. Jimmy Fox, you know. Philadelphia—Most of the 231 usherettes hired for today's series game are married. The club thought married women were more entitled to the $5 per diem. Long Beach, N. Y.—Sea Gulls must have their fish fresh. Two hurt in a storm and treated at a fire station refused sardines, salmon and other varieties from cans and so the fire laddies spend their free time catching fresh ones. Anchorage, Alaska — James A. Stillman, New York banker is returning home from hunting, with a moose head that has a horn spread of 71 1/2 inches. Gulfport, Miss.—Lieutenant Governor Bidwell Adams has survived a terrific battle with a monster devil fish. Grabbing a tarpole line, it dragged him and a guide in a skiff eight miles into the Gulf of Mexico before a yacht rescued them. "It was as big as a house, 18 or 20 feet broad," said Mr. Adams. Princeton, N. J.—A college education is regarded as a handicap for young men entering business, by Floyd L. Carlisle, New York banker and graduate of Cornell. In the Daily Princetonian he says a university cannot produce in men the drive that business gives them; life is easy and soft for collegians; entering business they have to get rid of lazy habits of thinking.

My Favorite Bible Passage

Today's Choice by JAMES J. DAVIS Secretary of Labor

John 13, beginning: Let not your heart be troubled. The Twenty-Third Psalm (Compiled by the Bible Guild.) Saturday: Will Hoys, motion picture executive. REAL REALISM Actor: The audience laughed so heartily at one of my comedy presentations that they held their sides and when they left the theater they were bent double. Tragedian: That's nothing, I once died so realistic on the stage that the manager engaged another actor. —Fliegende Blaetter, Munich.

GERMAN MAYOR TO STAY

Los Angeles, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Gustav Boess, Mayor of Berlin, continued to follow his vacation schedule today in spite of a request by the City Council of the German capital that he return home immediately to deal with charges of irregularities involving his administration. Herr Boess dismissed press reports of his vacation schedule with the statement that political enemies probably were responsible for an attempt to discredit him while here. He said he had telegraphed the acting mayor for particulars, but had received no official advices concerning the status of affairs in Berlin. He denied that the City Council had power to order him home. The charges reported involve alleged manipulation of a contract with a firm which supplies linen and hospital supplies to the city. The mayor's administration is charged with having mulcted the city treasury of a large sum of money.

NEW YORK FACES ANOTHER STRIKE

Oil Truck Drivers in Greater City Quit Work—Protect Fire Department.

New York, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Having just escaped a threatened shortage of fresh fruits and vegetables because of a strike of truck drivers, New York today faced possibility of a gasoline and oil shortage as a result of a strike of 3,000 oil truck drivers.

The strike, which started in Brooklyn last Saturday, had spread today to Manhattan, parts of Queens and Nassau counties and other sections of Long Island. Despite the efforts of the nine companies involved to deliver the gasoline and oil by emergency crews, many filling stations reported their supplies were exhausted.

Officials of the fire department and the department of hospitals were devising plans to replenish the fuel supplies at the city buildings should the strike be prolonged.

Hospitals supplied At Bellevue hospital, where the supply of gasoline was down to less than one day's requirement, a special tank wagon under an escort of motorcycle police delivered 900 gallons, sufficient for nine days.

Should a sudden cold snap develop it was feared many apartment houses and hotels equipped with oil burning furnaces would be affected. Despite police and private guards on trucks manned by emergency crews, seven trucks were attacked by strikers. The drivers in some cases were beaten and the gasoline dumped into the streets. The strikers, who are members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, demand an increase from $5 to $4.75 a week, an eight-hour day and time and one-half pay for overtime.

AUTO KILLS TWO

Reading, Pa., Oct. 11.—(AP)—An automobile plowed into a group of women and children walking along the road at Fairview, near here, last night, killing two women and injuring three children.

They were bound for the wedding of a relative and when news of the accident reached the home the wedding was postponed. The dead were Mrs. Viola C. Strouse, 33, wife of Assistant Fire Chief William Strouse of Reading, and her sister, Mrs. Bertha Burkett, 34. Charles Gerth, 31, of Mohnton, driver of the automobile was taken into custody by state police.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

"NEW NETHERLANDS"

On Oct. 11, 1614, the states general of Holland named the country around Manhattan Island "New Netherlands" and granted a charter for its settlement to Amsterdam merchants.

In the spring of 1614, the states general had passed a law conferring on those who should discover new lands the exclusive privilege of making four voyages thither before others could have admission to the traffic. This ordinance excited considerable activity among adventurers. A number of merchants of Amsterdam and Hoorn fitted out five ships. This fleet proceeded immediately on an exploring expedition to the mouth of the Great River and the Manhattans, Long Island, Cape Cod and Delaware Bay and other points on the east coast of America.

The united company by which the explorers were employed lost no time in obtaining the exclusive trade of the countries thus explored. They sent deputies to the Hague and laid before the states general a report of their discoveries and a figurative map of the newly explored countries. A special grant in their favor was forthwith accorded, and settlement was established in the new country.

ELECTRICALLY GUIDED

Paris.—The airplane of the future will be guided through fog, storms and across treacherous mountain ranges by an electrical cable if the plans of a French inventor work out. He plans to work the system similar to that worked on a ship—an electric cable buried in the ground would influence delicate instruments in the plane's control cabin.

STUDY FOREST FIRES

St. Paul.—Dr. Raphael Zon, director of the Lake States Forest Experiment Station at the University of Minnesota, has announced his intention of studying forest fires by starting some of them and watching their work of destruction. He plans to use a tract of several sections near Roscommon, Mich. The tract will be isolated by a 300 foot fire line.

DOLORES COSTELLO GOOD AS RUSSIAN PEASANT

Admirable Choice for Lead in "Hearts in Exile" Playing at the State Now.

Warner Bros. did well in selecting "Hearts in Exile" for the fair Dolores Costello, which will be shown at the State today and Saturday. It is the first time she has appeared in the role of a Russian peasant girl and her performance proves that she is one of the most versatile screen actresses. The picture is an exciting story of love and heartbreak, laid in the midst of the peasant life of Moscow and the great icy wastes of the Siberian prison camps.

"Hearts in Exile" shows what great rides the screen has made. You sense the howling of the wind in the desolate, icy country; the babble of the fish peddlers along the waterfront of Moscow, and the gray irresponsibility of poverty-stricken peasants. Miss Costello gives a really fine performance as the little Russian girl who is torn between marrying her peasant lover or the grand nobleman, Baron Palms. She married the nobleman and, naturally, a dramatic climax in the dreary setting of Siberia. The glory of the sacrifice is shown in a way which makes this rare quality seem absolutely plausible, and the only thing under the circumstances.

Grant Withers gives splendid support as the star's leading man. Other members of the cast include James Kirkwood, George Fawcett, David Terrance, Olive Tell, Tom Dugan and Rose Dione. Two selected Vitaphone vaudeville acts, Gordon and Squires, and Jan Garber and his band; the latest news events and the opening episode of the chapter story "The Final Reckoning" completes the program.

SAM IS MACSAM NOW

Glasgow.—Statistics compiled here and in the United States reveal that the Scotsmen have so migrated to the United States that there are said to be more Scots in Detroit than there are in this city, and that in some places in the United States, Rhode Island, for instance, the territory is so Scottish that most of the streets and public buildings bear Scotch names.

The odd part of this Shearer investigation seems to be that a man named Shearer could have had an ax to grind.

CHINA BECOMING AIR MINDED NOW

Chinese Boosting American Planes; Government to Purchase Hundred.

Canton, China.—(AP)—In spite of hearty competition on the part of manufacturers of German and French airplanes, American made machines are securing the cream of the aeronautical business in China. At the present time, there are eight American made planes in the country to one of European make; according to figures compiled here, and there is a strong possibility of the ratio increasing within the next few months.

One does not have to search far to find the reason for this preference for flying craft made in the United States. Most of the pilots in the country hail from Canton and a large percentage of these have either been trained in American aviation camps, or in American made planes. Their opinion in the matter has shown a tendency to influence the entire country.

Boost American Planes It is these young men who form the nucleus of the government's air forces. They have made flights over the length and breadth of their country and are usually hearty boosters of American made craft. Since their unusual attention in the Chinese press, it is only natural that the country as a whole should show a preference for the types of planes flown by them.

General Chang Wei-Chang, so-called "Lindbergh" of China and the new aviation chief of the Nationalist government, received his flying training in America.

Need Air Force The recent break with Soviet Russia has proven an incentive to the national government to build up a large air force and the government of Canton, or rather of Kwangtung province plans to cooperate by establishing a unit consisting of 100 planes. Preparations to purchase 62 of this number—all of the 62 will be American made—have already been made. Most of them will be for strictly military use, and the commercial planes purchased will be of a type that can be converted into fighting craft should the occasion arise.

Approximately $1,500,000 will be spent for this first batch of planes, according to the local authorities. Another half million will be expended later to complete the purchase of the specified 100.

The most interesting phase of the entire program is the fact that most of the money will be raised through popular subscription here in Canton. The provincial government is too poor to consider expending such a large amount of money for air-craft and although it will contribute a portion of the necessary funds, the burden of financing the deal will fall on the public.

LIQUOR OUTLAWS KILLED DRY AGENT

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 11.—(AP)—

Federal prohibition officials investigating the death Wednesday at Newport, Ky., of Andrew Bierlein, 60, of Maysville, undercover investigator today had a clue that convinced them Bierlein had been fatally wounded by liquor outlaws, whose enmity he had incurred.

They were told yesterday by two local distillery guards, friends of the undercover man, that Bierlein had been "taken for a ride" early Monday morning, drugged, robbed, tortured and left bleeding on a roadside. The guards, Clay Cisco and Charles Travis, said they were enjoined by Bierlein not to reveal the episode because he admitted taking a drink of liquor proffered by the two outlaws, and had lost his pistol and papers, they kept silent until they learned of Bierlein's death.

Found Dying

Jerome T. Tartar, assistant prohibition administrator, and Commissioner Charles N. Ward, to whom the guards related the incident, said they were convinced Bierlein had been fatally wounded and did not try to commit suicide as northern Kentucky officers believe after the undercover man was found dying beneath a railroad trestle at Newport.

Bierlein, a former guard at the distillery here, told his friends the two men who drugged and robbed him took a notebook containing the names of more than 100 prohibition violation suspects.

Cisco and Travis said Bierlein seemed very depressed and expressed the belief that his enemies would "get him."

HYDRO AND STEAM

Here and there throughout Connecticut the hunter, the angler or the wildwood hiker, thrashing his way through the tangle along some little stream, comes upon the moss-grown ruins of what obviously was, many years ago, an industrial plant, placed there because in those days Waterpower was Industry's master and ruled that mill and stream should abide side by side.

Long ago the plant was abandoned because Waterpower had been dethroned and Steam was king; and because Steam had commanded that Industry should betake herself to those places, on seashore or river or railroad, where Coal could be hadly come.

Then, many years later, arrived a new waterpower age. Hydro-electric developments sprang up. Vast power enterprises were projected, brought into being. Power, created in the remote fastnesses of nature, was carried on high-tension wires scores, hundreds of miles. Cheaper than steam, "white coal" bade fair to be the permanent power of the future.

Now, all of a sudden, there is realization that perhaps the wheel has not done turning—that after all Steam may again triumph over Waterpower, this time in the production of electrical current, and that the tremendous prize of waterpower control may not prove of such enormous value, either to individual or state, as has been taken for granted for so long a time.

this or any other nation, held in the possession of the people—whether capable of producing energy more cheaply or not—constitute a tremendously valuable check against possible power monopoly in any form, if in light of cheap steam the power men become less avid to get all the hydro-electric resources into their control, so much the less trouble the states and the nation will have in retaining an asset which should forever be vested in the ultimate ownership of the people.

THE NEXT WAR

"The next war" is a subject that fascinates some minds with something the same sort of attraction that compels certain persons to approach the edge of a precipice and peer into the depths while they experience an almost uncontrollable impulse to jump.

And most of those who talk about "the next war," or write about it, assume that it will be directed against whole populations, with poison gas, disease germs, poisoning of water supplies and every conceivable kind of devilishness. Therefore they foresee, logically enough, the annihilation of civilization. And we came near enough to that point, in the last war, to land grave weight to such apprehension.

Just the same, it might well be that some sort of rules of war might still obtain if again the world should become insane enough to engage in a general conflict. Policy alone might prevent, on all hands, the complete abandonment of those inhibitions which have to some extent restricted utter barbarity in the wars of modern times.

It is seriously to be doubted whether, in another war, any beligerent would dare set loose all these elements of chemistry of which we hear so much. Even an expectant victor would want to be alive, as a nation, in the day of triumph.

To what commonplace have the one-time stern and dramatic quarrels of gamblers descended? For many, many years, here in America, we held to the tradition that when the gentlemen of the pastebards sat down to match skill against skill and luck against luck, the slicker who dealt seconds or shifted the cut, and was caught at it, paid instantly for his combined audacity and butter-fingeredness with his life.

And now, behold, we have a tale of nine professional card sharps, playing together on the Leviathan because the other passengers, warned, would play with them, getting into a fight when somebody welched, and lambasting each other all over the place with chairs and suchlike.

But of course the Darrow premise is all wrong. Probably the great criminal lawyer and radical debater doesn't know it, having associated so closely with pinks and criminals as he has and having had not overmuch contact with either hard-rock man or micrometer worker, but there are still in the world, and in the United States, millions of people who actually have brains in their heads and yet like to do concretely useful jobs; who take a soldierly pride in not being afraid to employ the muscles that God gave them and who prize their own artisan or labor skill as a gift not in any degree less gratifying than that of some other person to accumulate wealth or to earn big fees or salaries with a long and unbridled tongue.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 11.—Ninety per cent. of all women visitors to New York make an immediate beeline for Fifth Avenue and its very feminine shops. And thousands come from every which way with no other intention than to buy some smart clothes, and perhaps to take in a few shows.

For instance, there was a shop where $18-a-pair chignon hose happened to be merely "a special" at $15.00. So that a "sugar" starting data on what a "sugar papa" can expect to spend if his "sweet cookie" decides to run wild.

Arriving at the top floor of one of the ultra-ultra booteries, we discovered little trifles in evening slippers at $150 a pair. Of course, the well-dressed girl must have a pair for each outfit.

Perhaps if you care to be a bit extravagant, this same place could produce similar hose with lace inlaid at $75 to $25 a pair. One was priced at $500. Imagine getting a run in a $500 pair of stockings!

Once you get into the fur department, prepare to crack a safe. An ermine by any other name is just as high.

Speaking of ermine reminds me that Broadway's most ermineque events are invariably under the direction of Gilbert Miller, a play producer who moved over to London and hence, no longer looks upon the result of what he started.

The story goes of two Broadway-wise boys who were standing in front of a Miller opening one night. "Dot's a two million dollar house tonight," said the first.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, Oct. 12.—So many lessons are to be drawn from the expose in which Mr. William Baldwin Shearer has been the central figure that one may as well start enumerating them and stop only when the space gives out.

One of the first concerns patriotic propaganda. It has been sadly but effectively demonstrated that those who beat the drum loudest and most incessantly for military and naval patriotic patriots. Sometimes they are just working for shipbuilding or munitions companies.

Another series of lessons concerns either the ethics or the sapheadedness of big business men. For purposes of this learned dispatch, one need not necessarily disbelieve most of the stories told by Mr. Shearer, although there is a widespread tendency to do so.

Some of our big business men, we may be content to be given another lesson concerning their memories—especially the memory of the pious and fearful Mr. Charles M. Schwab, whom Shearer calls "the Star of Bethlehem." Either Mr. Schwab, a man of vision, self-sacrificing genius and self-conscious idealist, has no memory whatever or Mr. Shearer is a darned liar. These are the only possibilities.

U. S. NAVY INVENTS NEW MOORING MAST

Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 11.—(AP)—The Navy's new mobile mooring mast was being hailed as a distinct success today after its first public demonstration in gridding the giant dirigible in the hangar.

Secretary Charles Francis Adams and other high officials of the Navy who witnessed the demonstration were delighted with its success. The mast is designed to facilitate the handling of the dirigible in the hangar and to reduce the size of the ground crew necessary to handle the ship.

The mast was constructed at the naval station here under the supervision of Lieut. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl. It consists of a steel mast attached to a triangular steel base which is mounted on three caterpillar wheels. After the ship is moored to the mast a tractor is attached to the base and the ship hauled into the hangar. In launching and landing the dirigible it had been found the ground crew could scarcely hold down the ship in a wind of more than twelve or fifteen miles an hour.

Secretary Adams, prior to the demonstration, made his first flight in the Los Angeles. He took the wheel for a few moments during the hour and a half cruise over Barnegat bay. He remarked that piloting a dirigible was much like piloting a yacht.

CHICAGO PLANE DOWN AFTER 264TH HOUR

Chicago, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The "Chicago-We Will" landed at Sky Harbor Airport a few minutes before 7 o'clock this morning just after it had passed its 264th hour in the air. The end of the flight was forced by inability to refuel the plane because of dense fog.

The fog ended the fourth attempt of the "Chicago-We Will" to surpass the 421-hour record of the "St. Louis Robin." The first two flights, in July, ended within a few hours, but early in August the plane stayed aloft 28½ hours, being forced down then because of maggeto trouble.

The latest flight was started inauspiciously at 6:52 a. m., Oct. 7, even the names of the pilots being suppressed. It was learned just last night, however, that they were John and Kenneth Hunter. John had piloted the refueling plane during the "Chicago-We Will's" previous flight. His brother is chief pilot at the South Bend, Ind., airport.

A heavy rain started late yesterday, and thick fog made playing difficult all last night, and when the fog failed to lift this morning, the fliers came down with gasoline tanks almost empty.

PULASKI DAY

Today is the 150th anniversary of the death of Count Casimir Pulaski, young Polish patriot who gave his life to the cause of the American colonists in the Revolutionary War at the battle of Savannah. Manchester Poles are not holding any formal celebration locally but a number of Polish residents went to Hartford today where various clubs are keeping open house in observance of the day. On Sunday there is to be a general celebration of the anniversary in the Capitol City, in which many Manchester residents will take part.

The famous sword blades forged at Toledo by the Saracens could be collected up like a clock spring and would resume perfect straightness as soon as released.

WOODLAND CROSSOVER BOTHERS COMMUTERS

Manchester commuters on the Connecticut Company's trolley cars between Manchester and Hartford complain that the track crossing of the trolley road and the railroad spur entering the yards of the paper mill at Woodland is in need of engineering attention. Yesterday morning a derailed freight car at this point blocked the passage of the trolley cars and it was necessary for passengers to transfer around the point of holdup. Yesterday afternoon the south end car leaving Hartford at 3 o'clock, with Motorman Frank Nichols in charge was delayed when a freight car being pushed into the yards by a locomotive rode the cross-over, frog and was only saved from derailment by the prompt stopping of the locomotive. It took the services of a mill gang and considerable time to ease the car over the crossing. Meantime the Manchester-bound trolley car was compelled to wait.

TIMES DO CHANGE

London.—Barber shops used to be great institutions of learning. Many a discussion and funny story has life has changed this old landmark into an institution of decorum and good behavior. Possibly women have had something to do with it. Proof that barber shops are becoming religious is the fact that David James, barber of Morriston, is to become minister of the Congregational Churches at Camrhos and Tretower.

BOYS' SUITS

extra value at $15

With Two Knickers or Kickers and Longs.

Suits as good as these at such a modest price—$15.00—are indeed extra values. We have concentrated on this popular priced line and the result is very satisfactory.

The suits are all wool. The styles are smart. Reinforcements and good tailoring combine to assure long service. And the two-knicker feature adds still more service.

Big Horseshoe Pitching Contest Here On Sunday

Crack Capital City Aggregation Meets Local Stars at West Side; First Team Match Here.

The first inter-city horseshoe pitching match of the season in Manchester between organized teams will take place Sunday afternoon at the West Side playgrounds at 2 o'clock. Hartford is sending its crack aggregation here to do battle.

DEFENSE CANNOT ADVANCE FUMBLE UPON RECOVERING

Herald Offers Series of Seven Articles to Aid Players and Spectators Alike.

Editor's Note: Important changes have been made in the football rules. This is the first of a series of seven articles written especially for Manchester teams and fans as well telling what the new rules are, why they were made and how they will affect the game.

Roy Riegels, California center, would not have made his famous "wrong way" run to the Georgia Tech goal line last New Year's—Minnesota might have beaten Northwestern instead of losing to the Wildcat and the whole complexion of the Big Ten race would have been changed.

EAGLES ROLL BEST IN CONRAN LEAGUE

Win Three Points from Cheneys; Gammon-Holman, Lithuanians Also Win.

The Eagles were the sensations of the Conran Shoppe League last night rolling a team total of 154 to win three out of four points from Cheneys Brothers. Benny Balon was the star with 335. Katakavek hit 130 and a total of 341 for the Lithuanians who beat the Majors three to one. Dickson led the Gammon-Holman team with a high score of 125 as his team took the Shamrocks by the same margin.

IT'S DIFFERENT NOW.

Until Francis Oulmet, a former caddy, won the U. S. open golf championship, the game was looked upon strictly as one for the rich.

Stonewall Hunniford May Play With Majors

Stonewall Hunniford, one of the best football players ever turned out in Rockville, will, if negotiations go through, wear a Major uniform for the remainder of the season. It is possible that Hunniford may be used for a short time Sunday against the Irish-American A. C. of Springfield.

Yale Bulldog Grows For Georgia

Yale's defeat of Vermont by an 89 to 0 score portends evil for Georgia when Yale and Georgia meet in the new Georgia stadium tomorrow, according to experts who saw the Bulldog tear through and Vermonters. Yale has dropped old style football, according to advices from New Haven and has adopted Warner and Rockne tactics. Albie Booth, quarterback, was the star of the Vermont game. In the group of Yale players above, Halfback Speed is shown kicking. Green is captain, McEwen and Loeser, one of the centers on the Bulldog eleven.

Man of War, in retirement after a great career of racing, has been visited by more than 100,000 persons.

Annapolis, Md.—If Notre Dame's team works the way the Navy substitutes did yesterday with Notre Dame formations, the athletes have only forward passes to worry them. The scrubs scored through the air but could make no progress through the lips and were ineffective with the Rambler style of defense.

OVER 100 HITS, NO RUNS POSSIBLE IN 9 INNINGS

Would you believe that it is possible for more than 100 hits to be made in a nine inning baseball game without a single run being scored? Believe it or not, they can! What's more, several dozen assorted doubles and triples may be chucked in to boot! Sounds impossible, yes, but it's as true as you're a foot high.

Probably a good many persons will give it up and say it "just can't be did." Some even may pass opinion as to my sanity. Be that as it may, I can't refrain popping the riddle for the benefit of that element which always delights in feasting on such problems.

MASSEY IS ONLY MAN ON STATE BOARD

Coach Monahan of Bristol Vice-President of Football Officials; List of 55 Members.

The official 1929 roster of the Connecticut Board of Football Officials which reached The Herald sports department today, contains the name of only one Manchester man in its list of 55 members. He is Samuel J. Massey of Hudson street. Massey is an instructor at Arnold College and also director of physical education work at the Trinity Parish House in New Haven.

ATHLETICS RULE 8-1 FAVORITES IN SERIES

Chicago, Oct. 11.—(AP)—With little Cub money being offered the Athletics today were an 8 to 1 choice to win the world series, and were 8 to 5 for today's game in Philadelphia. The latter quotation was subject to revision should Manager Joe McCarthy start Charley Root as his pitcher. With Root pitching the Athletics were only six to five choices.

TOUCHDOWNS TO BE FEWER TOMORROW

College Gridsters Begin to Pick on Someone Their Own Size for a Change.

New York, Oct. 11.—(AP)—This business of manufacturing touchdowns, a booming industry the last two Saturdays, will experience a sharp drop in production tomorrow as major eleven starts pick on someone their own size. Pittsburgh's mighty Panther gets its first real test of the season against West Virginia. Fordham clashes with New York University in the most important contest in the metropolitan sector.

PRE-SERIES DOPE ON HOWARD EHMKE

The following advance publicity story dealing with Howard Ehmke, A's overnight famous pitcher, is interesting as it shows what was thought of Ehmke before the sensational 3-1 victory he scored striking out 13 batters for a new record.

Howard Ehmke of the Athletics occupies much the same position in the world series picture as does Hal Carlson of the Cubs. Ehmke has been a distinct disappointment this year with the Athletics. With a strong team back of him, he has done but little pitching, due to a bad arm.

Bristol Coming Here With Strong Air Team

Monahan's Outfit Adopts N. Y. U.'s Lock-step Shift and Huddle; Locals Favored to Win.

REAL COURAGE
Salt Lake City—Twenty-nine years ago John Boss, miner, was given six months to live. Doctors told him he had suffered a broken back in the mining accident. But John is still living, and what's more, he's cheerful. He smokes, reads, and enjoys life as other men do, with the exception of exercises. He sits in a wheel chair all day long.

FOND MEMORIES.
Governor of Prison: You will be released tomorrow—have you any special requests to make?
Convict: Can I have a photograph taken—the others in my cell would like a group taken as a souvenir before I leave.—Nabelspalter, Zurich.

QUOTATIONS
"The role of the thinkers of our day consists of nothing less than saving mankind."—H. G. Wells.
"Unless industry bestirs itself to co-ordinate its functioning so as to grapple painstakingly and conscientiously with the unemployment evil, it is a foregone conclusion that government action by and by will be instituted."—E. C. Forbes. (Forbes Magazine.)
"It is my conviction, and that conviction is based on all the data that I can assemble, that our national policy is sound and will be maintained."—James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner.
"I am a veteran of the World War and I stand squarely for adequate national defense, but I will do everything that I can to promote peace, even if I have to fight for it."—Congressman Hamilton Fish, Jr.
"No man is happy until he stops thinking of himself."—Will Durant.
"We are doing our best to think of all America as equal. On no other principle can Congress legislate."—Senator David A. Reed.
"The least a wife can demand of her husband is some ambition."—Peggy Hopkins Joyce.
The rays of the sun take eight minutes to reach the earth.

RAINBOW DANCES
Ray Mozetti and his Dixie Strollers, comprising ten pieces, will present a special Columbus Day dance program at the Rainbow tomorrow night. Such special attractions as Moretti and his rythm boys will be brought to the Rainbow on each holiday eve, with a continuance of the same Thursday night attraction of Bill Waddell's orchestra and Harold Gates.

A THOUGHT
Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.—James 2:24.
I doubt if hard work, steadily and regularly carried on, ever yet hurt anybody.—Lord Stanley.
WITCH-DOCTORS UNION
Kimberley, S. A.—The witch-doctors of Dingaka have unionized. The purpose of the union is to protect its members. Although the government frowns on the organization, the doctors still have considerable control over the natives. They have anticipated modern science in curing general paralysis by means of the bite of malaria-carrying mosquitoes.
Harry Sinclair wrote to the newspapers to say that there was no sinister purpose in having that jury shadowed. Probably merely an interesting bit of research work for the Smithsonian Institute?

The Innocent Cheat

By Ruth Dewey Graves
AUTHOR OF "RICH GIRL—POOR GIRL," ETC.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
HELEN PAGE feels indebted and in love with her guardian, LEONARD BRENT. The latter changes his plans for her future after meeting a dying beggar, NELLIN. Soon after, Brent tells Helen that she is heiress of a millionaire, CYRIL K. CUNNINGHAM. He takes her to Cunningham and offers proof which the lonely old man accepts as he had been searching for the girl. Among Helen's new friends are EVA ENNIS and her brother ROBERT, who falls in love with her. Brent finds another locket like the one he had taken from Nellin. He proves Helen the heiress. He also becomes jealous of Bob and plots to win Helen quickly. Hearing that a sudden shock would likely kill the old man, Brent gets the servants out of the way and rushes into the sick room shouting wildly that Helen has been killed. His plan works and Cunningham is found dead. Then, acting as sympathizer and appealing to her loyalty, Brent secures Helen's promise to marry him.

CHAPTER XXXIII

Shallimar Morris had come to visit Helen. Without a word of warning and with her luggage well packed with a killing wardrobe she had fled. But if you don't want me, old cauliflower, I'll dash along on my way to Canada. Would stop a moment with you, however, should you urge me.

She was laughing, and different. Her laughter was tender, but it tinkled musically. Helen puzzeled over the change in her. She seemed restless, stirred, unhappy. There was pain in her eyes. Her dark beauty was somehow more brilliant yet somehow clouded.

"To marriage," was the cryic toast she offered when refreshments were brought.

Helen's silence repeated the word with unmistakable inquiry.

"This is his wedding day," Shallimar went on, and drained her glass. "Let's go up to my room and you can tell me about it," Helen said, sensing a confidence. To listen to another's story might make her own seem a little less important, she thought. For it had appeared to her that nothing in the world mattered but her love for Bob Ennis.

Shallimar motioned to the tray. "Have it sent up, too," she requested and Helen nodded in assent.

A minute or two later they had made themselves comfortable in Helen's room and Shallimar plunged into her story without preliminaries.

"I fell in love," she confessed, "with an engaged man. He wouldn't break it off, and today he's saying I'll be a lot of nonsense. I probably haven't even listened to. Not that it makes any difference—I mean about his being married now—but I can't forgive him for not refusing to give it up. He said if I was any kind of Diana I could get my man against any odds. We quarreled about it—and here I am!"

"And here you'll stay," Helen told her abruptly. Then, her voice softening with a note of sympathy: "I'm glad you came, Shallie, darling. I've been awfully lonesome for some of the girls."

"But you never invited me," Shallimar complained.

"My grandfather was ill," Helen explained, "and...."

"Never mind," Shallimar broke in. "Are there any men about?"

"I'm afraid you won't stay," Helen laughed.

"At least until morning," Shallimar promised.

But by morning she had decided to postpone her stay indefinitely. Any man was good for her now. She was going to be reckless, ruthless and revengeful where the male of the species was concerned. And she had met Bob Ennis.

Helen had telephoned Eva and invited her to dinner to meet Shallimar, knowing that her guest would prefer company and a later hour for intimate talk.

They had an interesting 45 minutes at table—Shallimar simply wouldn't remain there any longer—with the restless guest finding her hostess' tidbits of gossip about school friends in return for a delicious dinner.

Eva was fascinated with her, a fascination in which Shallimar took keen delight. She saw that her scornful remarks about men were received by the younger girl with great respect. "Some fella has tried a masculine trick or two on her and she's snowed under," Shallimar decided the while she smiled and curled her fine red lips contentiously.

Helen felt impelled to remark that she didn't believe Shallimar was so bitter as she sounded.

"My dear, I love men," Shallimar answered with flippancy; "but I think they ought to suffer for the good of their souls."

"Oh," Eva said softly, and envied Shallimar less. Her hate seemed so of the surface. And in her own heart Eva felt that hate should be respected as a cardinal emotion. It was not a thing to be taken lightly. At the evening were on she grew exceedingly pensive and when Helen asked her to play and sing for them—she had a charming voice—and Shallimar insisted upon jazz, she refused rather impatiently, Shallimar thought.

"It will not be made to cry," Shallimar objected when Helen urged Eva to choose her selections to please herself. "If I heard one note that sounded as if it belonged in a wedding march I'd howl like a calf."

"Or howl like a wolf, I suppose," Helen teased.

"Just the same...." Shallimar said, and seated herself at the piano, leaving her sentence unfinished.

A ripple of the keys—Eva caught by her technique, on the verge of being intrigued, when Helen whispered in her ear.

"Where is Bob?" she asked swiftly.

"I wish I knew," Eva answered. "He's been like a crazy man today, Helen. Whatever did you do to him last night?"

"Is he miserable?" Helen pressed with a touch of exultation that provoked Eva a bit—until she saw that it was followed by tender concern and was in no way inspired by disregard of her brother's feelings.

"Thoroughly," she replied.

"He ought to be," Helen amazed her by saying. "He called me a rotter, Eva. Think of it!"

Eva's eyes opened wide, but Helen's smile reassured her. "You don't seem to mind very much," she remarked.

"I don't," Helen admitted. "I think there's just enough of the case man in Bob to make him rough with the woman he loves when he thinks she's making a fool of herself. And what a fool I was!"

"Tell me about it," Eva pleaded.

"Not now," Helen demurred, noting that Shallimar was looking at them in curious way. "I want you to do something for me," she went on hurriedly. "Call up your house and if Bob is there ask him to come over."

"He won't, if you quarreled."

"Tell him I need him. Tell him—wait a moment—tell him to come and take my home. But you must get him inside when he gets here."

"All right," Eva agreed.

Helen got up and went over to stand beside the piano and hum with Shallimar's music.

"Happy?" the latter asked, with the curious look of her eyes in her voice now. She was wondering who Eva Ennis might be. Helen broke softly into song.

"Lucky you," Shallimar envied aloud. "All the girls are saying I knew her when, Helen."

"Let them say I shall invite them all to my wedding, when I've told the groom that he must be there."

"During this Eva slipped away to the telephone in the library. Helen saw at once on her return that she had failed. "Not home," she said with a shake of her head.

Helen was instantly dejected, but she consoled herself with the thought that she would surely see him on the morrow. Eva must bring him.

Eva did not stay long after that. Helen had her car brought round to take Eva home and, while she rather hoped Shallimar would decline, invited her to go along.

Should an opportunity to see Bob arise she much preferred to trust Eva's understanding and sympathy to help her make the most of it.

Shallimar would, intentionally, or otherwise, interfere, Helen feared.

The dainty beautiful girl chose to interfere intentionally, Bob was just arriving home when Helen saw her car up to the curb and pressed the brake pedal for a smooth stop. As Bob's figure loomed up in the moonlight she felt a wild desire to call to him: "Bob, I love you! I love you!"

"Hello," she said, so quietly she was unheeded at herself.

"Ah, a man, a tall man, and young, I vow," Shallimar said. Helen caught the words but they held no sinister significance for her at the time. She did not know how deep lay the seed in Shallimar's heart as well as in her eyes and that she was for the present viciously serious in spite of her mocking words and careless manner.

"Oh, Bob!" Eva called and he was compelled to stop, although he had already hurriedly turned away to enter the house, hoping to escape unobserved and seek his room before the girls got in.

Reluctantly he turned back, and tried to greet Helen as casually as she had greeted him. But his voice was raspy and the words jerked out discordantly.

"A savage," Shallimar characterized him to herself. "All the better, if only he's as good looking in a better light as he appears now."

A little later, a man or two, she saw that he was all in appearance at least that she hoped he would be. Eva had turned on a sub-dug light in a table lamp, but Bob, governed by a longing to get a good look at Helen, who was standing in a shadow, snapped on a bright overhead light and flooded the room with brilliancy.

Then his sister turned to introduce him to Shallimar and he had to tear his eyes away from the girl whose image had filled his heart with longing through many sleepless nights.

Shallimar decided at once to captivate him. Her smile, as she flashed it for his approval from her white teeth and stumberous eyes—with their tantalizing suggestion of hidden fires—was dazzling.

Bob's reaction to it was the normal one of the average male. Or rather of the male already deeply enamored of another woman. He thought Shallimar, stunning without feeling at all person toward her. But the admiration she stirred in him did not pass unnoticed by Helen.

A tiny fire of jealousy was instantly kindled. But of course, all men would admire Shallimar—or any attractive girl—she told herself fiercely. It was to be expected.

The thought brought to her mind a picture of Leonard Brent smiling at her over the luncheon table, amused by her immature views of life. "All men are alike," she declared to the memory of his worldly declarations.

"What do you do, work?" Shallimar was saying to Bob.

"Day and night," he answered.

Shallimar accepted the remark as a challenge and Helen, looking at her, wondered if all women scored really were dangerous. Shallimar's next words were in the affirmative.

YOUTHFULLY SMART

The Spanish influence is smart, new note in brick red sheer woolen with throw scarf with plaited ends.

It is essentially youthful with curved neckline emphasized by finely knitted side treatment of skirt, that extends across back. The front of skirt left in panel effect, adds considerable length to silhouette.

The yoke treatment of bodice is another interesting new feature. Sleeves have turn-down flared cuffs. Style No. 705 is designed in sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust.

It is one of the smartest models of season for general daytime occasions, and especially lovely to wear to the football game.

Over twenty thousand women today hold some elected public position... there are 103 women's exchanges where they sell the products of their handwork. By the former custom, the husband took his wife's work and sold it on the market, using the money as he chose.

"In silk culture, for instance, the women do all the labor, but in the past the men have bought the eggs and the mulberry leaves and sold the cocoons. This year we have succeeded in getting the money direct into the hands of the woman grower in about one-tenth of the cases.

"Next year it is the government policy to conclude all such contracts direct with the woman, giving her the eggs and the credit. One purpose in this, in which all government agencies are required to aid us, is to raise the woman's status as a human being in the household—she who was formerly merely a piece of livestock."

"Our chief task now is to fight the ancient custom of bride purchase and child marriage, to educate women and to bring them out of the homes into factories where they may have training for the housewife. The land of Arabian nights is changing—Fatima is casting aside her veil, putting on western clothes—and going to work. What a picture!

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By Sister Mary

One of the foods which gives the housewife an excellent return for her money is macaroni or one of the macaroni products.

There are many interesting shapes and brands of macaroni products on the market which add variety to the ways of serving the food. The most popular are the bow knots, shells, alphabetics, twists are made particularly for the Italian trade but mothers will find them a source of delight for children.

A very hard wheat is used for the making of the flour which is to be used for the making of macaroni products. This flour is known as semolina. Macaroni made from pure semolina has a rich yellowish tinge while that made from a blend of semolina and the farina of spring wheat is not quite so yellow.

High in Food Value

Macaroni is rich in two of the most important food constituents and the cook can add the third in her sauce. Consequently the housewife can serve one dish which will supply the muscle building element derived from protein, the energy producing element derived from carbohydrates and the reserve food element derived from fat.

Although macaroni is very nutritious, it's somewhat bland food and should be combined with other foods that have a decided flavor. The texture of macaroni, being quite soft, needs a crisp food of contrasting texture for a satisfactory combination. As macaroni is also a rather concentrated food it should be served with foods which will add bulk or "roughage" to the menu. Potatoes and rice or tapioca should not be served at the same meal with macaroni.

Macaroni, spaghetti or vermicelli can be used interchangeably in most recipes. While any of these pastes should be tender all the way

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
©1928 by NEA Service, Inc.

It is difficult to understand the condition of the mind of a child who has been constantly cheated.

What must be the result of this? What impression must he have of people? What sort of a grim joke is this world anyway that promises you one thing and gives you another?

Of course there can be only one result: the cheated child becomes a cheat. Double-crossed in little things that his parents may think of no importance at the time, he may become to their surprise and consternation an expert double-crosser himself as he gets older, and in a far more elaborate fashion than his parents ever dreamed of.

One way of cheating a child is by breaking promises.

Of course there are times when promises simply cannot be kept. Emergencies are always coming. But the last thing I'd let the emergency interfere with would be the promise.

"I'll take you to the zoo tomorrow, Billy," should be static as the laws of the Medes and Persians.

Let Nothing Interfere

If Mr. Jones, the president of the club you've wanted so much to get into, calls you up and asks you to go driving, "No, thank you, Mr. Jones, not today. I have a very important engagement," should be the answer.

Tell Billy you're going to get him something—and then get it. Or don't mention it at all. Of course he should learn to bear disappointment, but not to the extent that he's constantly feeling cheated. Parents are not likely to place much importance on the fact that basic relationship is shattered by just such small incidents.

Then there is another way of cheating children that I consider of mammoth importance.

It is to lull a child into a sense of false security about something he has to go through with, and then have him experience not only the sudden shock of pain, but the shattering discovery that he has been swindled with false promises.

"The dentist is a kind man, Billy. He won't think of hurting you. Why it's fun to get a tooth pulled."

That kind of talk is silly.

Avoid Frightening Child

Don't scare Billy to death of course. Prepare him just a very little for a bit of discomfort, but don't say much about it at all. Don't dwell on it until he's all with foreboding. But he can't go through life without pain. All little children should be given a bit of the encouraging propaganda about enduring discomfort and pain by occasional stories and by praise of people they admire who have suffered without complaint.

However, I shouldn't overdo the subject of suffering. Just plant the seeds of bravery and then silence is golden.

But don't deceive him by false hopes when "something" lies ahead. That is important.

Don't tease him, either.

One day a mother wanted a child to eat a dish of "ice cream." He tasted it and found it to be schmierkaese. He kicked the saucer on the floor in a rage.

These are some of the ways of cheating children. All of them are bad.

DROP BOMBS FOR GOLF.

Moscow—It won't be long now until Soviet Russia has quieted down to the extent of taking milk from a bottle. Bombing is said to be less numerous already, and murders have decreased to a great extent. All because the boys have dropped their bombs and taken up golf. The first course in the entire country is being constructed here.

FIND FORGOTTEN GEMS

Athens—An old safe, found in the Greek Ministry of Finance, has unearthed a valuable lot of forgotten gems. One of the articles, a gem studded with brilliants, is said to have belonged to Cleopatra. The lot was originally received in 1793.

Hints On How To Keep Well

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor of Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Angina pectoris is a painful condition of the heart which develops not infrequently in old age and which is associated in many instances with a hardening of the blood vessels that supply the heart with nutrition.

Dr. Harlow Brooks has recently pointed out that there are many families particularly likely to suffer with hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, and other symptoms associated with hardening of the arteries. In these families, death from angina pectoris or from apoplexy are the usual form.

Dr. Brooks believes that any family which has such a record should train its youthful members to a course of life which will help perhaps to protect them against this apparently inevitable future.

Adequate physical exercises should be begun in early life and continued in temperance as the person grows older. The special exercises are v.iking, golf, swimming and horseback riding, but never in excess.

The person who is a member of a family with high blood pressure or with heart disease must remember above all things self-control in his physical, mental and emotional life. During youth he must develop habits of adequate sleep and rest and he must choose hobbies and relaxations which are maintained into adult life and which relieve his mind from the stresses of business and the working world.

The person with high blood pressure or heart disease must choose the work temperance as his guiding star. Temperance in all things, particularly in the use of alcohol, tobacco and condiments, practically all physicians insist must be observed if the person is to fill even the normal life expectancy.

Doctor Brooks mentions particularly the value of the growing habit of taking a vacation, but points out the special importance of a safe vacation.

"The physician may find, for example, on any golf course," he says, "men the subjects of real or tentative angina, who under the delusion that they are benefiting their health, all untrained and unprepared from a physical standpoint, indulging in stresses well fitted for the young college athletes, but not for the mature and frequently over-plump business or professional man who six days out of each week must sit at his desk, stand on the turbulent floor of the stock exchange, or under the tremendous responsibility of the operation theatre."

"Old men try to play tennis with their sons, to defeat them at hand ball, to outdistance them in swimming, to outclimb them in the mountains—many of them develop angina."

A sudden shock, such as a loud clap of thunder, will kill hundreds of oysters.

Spaghetti, Italian Style

One cup spaghetti, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 small onion, 2 tablespoons minced green pepper, 1 cup peeled and diced mushrooms, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 cup tomato juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika.

Cook spaghetti. Melt butter, add onion, peeled and minced, and cook until a pale straw color. Add minced pepper and cook five minutes longer. Add prepared mushrooms, cover and cook five minutes. Sprinkle with flour and stir until thoroughly blended. Stir in tomato juice and cook, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Add cooked spaghetti, make very hot and serve.

Coste's Plane Sale Called Hostile Act

Moscow, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Reports received here that Deudonne Coste has sold to the Chinese authorities the airplane in which he made his recent record-breaking flight from France across Russia and Siberia to Manchuria, has caused a storm of indignation in aviation circles here. Commander P. T. Baraboff, president of the Soviet Civil Aviation Council, declared today that Coste's action in failing to follow the route prescribed by the Soviet government, entering the forbidden military zone of the Soviet Far Eastern army, and failing to land at Irkutsk or elsewhere in Soviet territory as he had "pledged" himself to do, not only violated the laws of the Soviet Union as well as international aerial law, but constituted a distinct hostile act and abuse of Russian hospitality. Baraboff said this was more flagrant in view of the highly strained relations between Soviet Russia and China.

THREE DIE IN FIRE

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Michael Farano of this city, were burned to death this morning when fire destroyed their home. Their son, Patrick, 19, was overcome by smoke and died at a hospital. A younger son of the couple was carried to safety by firemen.

It is said Farano and his wife had reached the street safely, but had returned to get bank books.

RAPID PROGRESS ON BOLTON ROAD

Contractors Hope to Finish Before Winter, But Are Fully Prepared for It.

Progress on the Manchester-Willimantic Turnpike is satisfactory, with over a mile of double-width cement completed and 1 1/2 miles of single-width already laid on the cut-off to the foot of Nigger Hill. Because of the danger of a holdup in the pouring of cement the contractors have begun work on the stretch of road over Nigger Hill with a single-width completed to the top of the grade. The contractors plan to continue to the Bolton end, so that if weather conditions call a halt of operations this winter before the entire job is complete, traffic can be routed through without delay over the old road, from the base of the hill, connecting with the full-width construction at the westerly end of the new cut-off.

According to present figures the work should be completed in early December but if winter sets in early the work will be suspended until spring. The 16 big Macks roar over the newly completed double-width section from the Green to the hill with regularity and if no serious set-backs occur the 16,856 feet of new cement should be down for winter travel. The New Haven Construction Co. is in charge of the work, and the contract calls for an expenditure of around $134,000.

Crushed rock, gravel and cement is handled in unique way by the contractors. The body of the trucks are divided into compartments and are gravel, rock and cement are filled, ready mixed except water into these sections from which it is dumped—one compartment at a time—directly into the huge mixer.

The material is all gauged by weight, rather than by volume as formerly. In order to prevent any serious delays in the mixing and pouring division, a loaded truck is kept close by with the engine running so that there will be no delays in yardage. Traffic is handled cleanly with no delays or confusion whatsoever. Within a few days the double width from the Green to the cut-off will be in use and the traffic problem will be at the Bolton end. The first 500 feet of the new road in front of the Green school is 40 feet wide narrowing down to 30 feet and widening to 40 feet at dangerous points throughout the entire construction.

Reports of the various town officers were read and accepted, also the report of the financial board, with an amendment that the town appropriate $1,000, or less, or such as might be required to get the town's portion of state aid grant. It was voted to retain the finance board.

Miss Alice and Miss Ruth Yeomans, students at Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., were at the home of their parents, Judge and Mrs.

FOY CONTINUES TALKS ON FIRE PREVENTION

Advice and Demonstrations Being Given Before School Children This Week.

Chief Albert Foy continued his talks to the school children yesterday at the Highland Park and Manchester Green schools, followed by a demonstration of the construction and use of the fire alarm box. This form of instruction appeals to children, inasmuch as they have seldom seen the inside of a fire alarm box, or the actual process of giving the alarm. It is the concrete and logical way to show the youngsters the way to pull in an alarm. It also serves to show the expense incurred when a false call is sent in as explained by Chief Foy in his accompanying talk.

Chief Foy is distributing this valuable information to all the schools during the remainder of the week, and will complete the series of talks and demonstrations on Tuesday at the Keeney street and the South school, James O. McCaw of the Manchester Electric Company demonstrates the fire alarm system.

Edward M. Yeomans for the week end.

Mrs. A. E. Frink was a caller in Manchester, Wednesday.

Mrs. T. M. Lewis was in Willimantic on a shopping trip Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Herbert Thompson and Miss Dorothy Cook returned home Monday after spending the past two weeks with Mrs. Thompson's son, Herbert, Jr., in Virginia. Mr. Thompson accompanied his mother and Miss Cook on their return trip as far as Washington, where they spent Sunday.

At the church meeting Tuesday evening it was voted not to call either of the candidates that have preached here at present. Next Sunday, Oct. 13, Miss Pauline Chalker will speak as a candidate. Miss Chalker is a religious teacher, not an ordained preacher. It is hoped there will be a large congregation present.

BEWARE THE GLAD HAND—IT'S DEATH

New York.—If you meet your best friend on the street and he refuses to shake hands, don't clout him over the head, for he might be shunning those millions of death-dealing microbes which you conceal on your grimy palm. Tests taken at Columbia University, according to Lelia Given, research student, prove that handshaking is dangerous, for it transmits germs from one person to another.

TARIFF BILL DELAYS

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The task of getting the tariff bill out of the way before the special session ends in December appeared increasingly hopeless today to many Senators.

DODGE POLE TRIP.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener and the entire crew of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin with the exception of Commander Ernest Lehmann, have refused to participate in the projected North Pole flight of next year "for financial and technical reasons."

TOO MANY CHURCHES

San Antonio, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Because they felt that erection of another church in their block would make it "an intolerable place in which to live" residents of a neighborhood which now has two churches, have petitioned the city clerk to refuse a church building permit.

SENATE LOBBY PROBE

Washington Oct. 11.—(AP)—Lobbying, how it is done and who does it for whom, what ends are sought and what results accomplished will be brought under the scrutiny of the Senate starting next Tuesday.

While the lobbying committee laid the foundation for its investigation by setting the starting date and issuing subpoenas for the first witness to be called, the committee inquiring into Shearer's activities at the 1927 Geneva naval conference prepared also to push its work.

MINERS IN ILLINOIS SUSPENDED BY UNION

President Lewis Cites His Charges as He Sets Up New Organization.

Indianapolis, Md., Oct. 11.—(AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, has suspended the charter of District 12, comprising the state of Illinois, and has set up a provisional district organization to carry on the activities of the organization.

The suspension order set forth acts of the old officers and executive board of the district, which it declared constituted a record of maladministration, incompetency, dishonesty, misappropriation, defiance and insubordination, which could not be ignored by the international union.

MISFORTUNE FOLLOWS NATIONAL AIR TOUR

Greenville, N. C., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Misfortune which beset leading contenders in the National air tour on the Richmond-Greenville lap, juggled elapsed time standing.

J. V. Crosswell and K. Voelter, who apparently had a light hold on fifth place as the planes took off yesterday morning on the Richmond-Winston-Salem, N. C., leg of the flight to Greenville, hardly were off the ground before motor trouble forced them to turn back. Repairs made, they set out again, but were halted by darkness at several hours in elapsed time today. Crosswell and Voelter are flying a Curtiss Condor transport.

Earl Rowland was stricken with appendicitis at Richmond and although Joe Mosher took over the task of piloting Rowland's plane, it slipped to tenth place in the standing.

May Halslip, one of the three women pilots, also experienced motor trouble and was several hours behind the other planes in arriving at Greenville.

The one, two, three places in elapsed time were held by John Livingston, Art Davis, and M. E. Zeller, respectively.

Al Krapich cracked up his landing gear in bringing down his Moth biplane here. It was doubtful if repairs could be made in time to permit him to leave with the other planes.

Forty planes, including competitors and convoys are in the tour.

NOTED ARTIST DIES.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Oct. 11.—(AP)—M. Irving Marist, landscape and portrait painter, died at his home yesterday after a year's illness. He was a native of Woodhull, N. Y. His paintings hang in galleries in many cities throughout the country.

FOUR KILLED BY TRAIN.

Pittston, Pa., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Four men, all residents of Dunmore, and employees of the Pennsylvania Coal Co., Pittston, were killed early today when their automobile was struck by a locomotive.

NEW APPOINTMENTS OF AMBASSADORS

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Designation by President Hoover of American diplomats to several of the foreign posts is expected soon. The president since coming into office has appointed ambassadors and ministers to the more important foreign posts, but the Tokio, Stockholm, Tegucigalpa and Monrovia posts are at present vacant. Creation of two new diplomatic positions, in South Africa and Iraq, will require the appointment of two new officials.

Ralph J. Totten of Tennessee, consul general in Capetown is considered the most prominent candidate for minister to South Africa.

It is considered probable that the president will make every effort to retain Dwight Morrow as ambassador to Mexico. He has been discussed as successor in the Senate to Walter E. Edge, of New Jersey, who is to be ambassador to France.

To Transfer Phillip. The transfer of Hoffman Phillip from the ministry in Persia to another post is considered probable because of his desire for a change of climate.

One unconfirmed rumor is that John Van A. MacMurray may not return as minister to China after his forthcoming leave of absence in the United States.

Cameron Forbes of Boston, who is said to have the support of some of the most prominent Republican leaders has been mentioned in connection with the Tokio post. He was formerly governor general of the Philippine Islands.

DEES AGED 101.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Oct. 11.—Total stocks of copper above ground in North and South America including blister copper in process amounted to 347,436 tons on Oct. 1, as against 346,050 tons at the end of August, 337,199 tons at the end of July, and 290,954 tons on Oct. 1, 1928.

Deposits of securities under the plans for reorganization of the Cuba Cane Sugar Corporation will be accepted until Oct. 28.

The September payroll of steel companies operating in the Youngstown district during September totaled $7,603,482, compared with $7,857,993 in August, and $7,530,194 in Sept. 1928.

The General Motors Radio Corporation has filed a charter with the secretary of state at Dover, Del., showing authorized capitalization of $10,000,000 of preferred stock and 1,000,000 shares of common stock. General Motors has recently arranged to license patents from Radio Corp. of America.

Sales of the Jewel Tea Company for the eight weeks ending Sept. 7 totaled $2,845,458 as compared with $2,271,793 for the corresponding period last year.

FOUND GUILTY

Macon, Ga., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Sarah Powers, 71 year old rooming house proprietress, today was found guilty without recommendation of mercy, as an accessory before the fact in the slaying of James Parks, youthful Atlanta printer. Under Georgia law such a verdict automatically carries the death sentence.

GIVE SURPRISE PARTY FOR FORMER TEACHER

Mrs. Annesley Trotter Entertains at Her Home for Great Barrington Woman.

Mrs. Annesley Trotter of Bigelow street entertained yesterday, afternoon at her home in honor of Miss Ella Bailey of Great Barrington, Mass., who is visiting her niece, Mrs. C. E. Wilson of Woodbridge street. When Mrs. Trotter was a little girl, by name Florence Harding, she lived in Rockville and Miss Bailey was her Sunday school teacher for a number of years.

Mrs. Trotter invited as many of the original class as she could get in touch with, and among the members present were Mrs. Erwin Lloyd of Hartford, Mrs. Harry Symond and Mrs. John Brown of Rockville. The affair came as a delightful surprise to Miss Bailey and her pupils of years ago enjoyed the reunion so much they talked of making it an annual party. Mrs. Trotter served an appetizing supper and the ladies combined in the gift of a handsome necklace for Miss Bailey.

AZORES AS THE SITE FOR MODERN AIRPORT

Planes on Atlantic Flights May Land and Refuel in the Near Future.

Lisbon, Portugal, Oct. 11.—(AP)

—The Portuguese government has at last decided to lay out a modern airport in the Azores Islands, where planes on trans-Atlantic flights may land and refuel.

A commission of engineers, aviation experts and army officers will leave here October 22 for the Azores to inspect Terceira Island which has been selected as the site.

This is a volcanic island, rising to an altitude of 3,600 feet, with inaccessible cliffs along most of its coastline. In the interior, however, there is plenty of fine pasture and grazing land, some of which could be adapted for a landing field. Its area is about 162 square miles and its population about 50,000. It lies roughly 100 miles east of Fajal.

Quite a few students nowadays are quite good on figures, if you include co-eds.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Meet the Wife. She's a nice little wife, she's the spice of my life. A sweet little tr at and a wonder to woo. Capriciously pretty, deliciously lit-ty. And skittishly willing to bill and to cop!

My pert little petter, no flirt or go-getter Can dirtily hoax her or coax her away? Deceive me? No, never! She'll cleave to me ever, Just pleasingly squeezing, and teasing to stay!

So singing and sunny, no stinging for money. The bliss of my michievous kiss is her fee. She never acts funny, my sweet sunny honey, Her measure of pleasure is treasur-ing me.

She never gets snooty when I pet a beauty. It's odd, but she's broad as the deuce in her view. She follows suggestions without any questions. I feel that she's really too good to be true!

Forever caressive, and never dis-tressive, I mean she's serene as a queen on a throne. She's a Bear and a Wow, such a fair little Frau— By gad, it's too bad that she isn't my own!

About the only thing we know of to do with our modern young people is to let them grow up.

Is any feeling finer than that which comes from doing a hard job particularly well?

Even flattery can be irritating when an installment collector and a bond salesman call at the same time.

"What was Noah's surname?" "Sark, of course. Haven't you ever heard of Noah Sark?"

You may be sure your secret sin will one day become public gossip.

"It is my guess," declared Bert "that some of these women who

Some girls make up in their studies, and others just make up. I have bought dresses on the installment plan ought to be back and get a few more installments before wearin' 'em in public.

"How old are you, my little man?" "I don't know. Mother was twenty-six when I was born, but now she's only twenty-four."

She used to rise at half past eight. To get the milk, but then, Her daughter brings it in with her now, As she is gettin' in.

Joe dwells on the joys of small community life. Farmer Jenkins made his way into the village postoffice which also was the general store.

"Anything for me?" he inquired of the postmaster. The other raked over a few parcels and letters, but found nothing.

"Don't see nothing," she said. "Did you expect something?" "Yes," answered the farmer. "I was expecting a card from Aunt Jenny, tellin' me when she's comin'."

"Hannah," called the postmaster to his wife, "seen a card from Mr. Jenkins' Aunt Jenny?" "Yes," came the prompt reply. "She's coming down Tuesday."

Rube stood looking at the "A. D." on the corner stone of an old building. Finally muttered to himself that he guessed it must mean "All Done."

Short dresses make men more polite. You seldom see a man get on a street car ahead of one.

A Manchester man was told by his doctor that if he laughed fifteen minutes every day before meals his condition would improve.

One day in a restaurant, while having his lunch, a man at the opposite table walked over and said angrily: "What are you laughing at?" "Why, I'm laughing for my liver," he replied.

"Well, then," said the other. "I guess I had better start laughing also. I ordered mine half an hour ago."

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE) The Weeone rose up on a wave and shortly he began to rave. "Oh, Scouty come and get me, I can't swim very long. This is the worst luck I've had yet. I'm very cold and that riding in that wooden shoe was wrong." Some other things he tried to do, but one big wave just drowned him out. He spluttered in the water till it made small Scouty smile. Of course it wasn't any joke. The poor weeone began to choke. Then Scouty cried, "Keep swimming. I will grab you after a while." It seemed that Scouty also had some trouble. He was mighty glad when suddenly the wind died down. "Oh, now I'll be all right," said he. "The waves will soon be small and I don't mind that kind at all." And as the waves died a bit he swam with all his might. Up to the Weeone's side he came. "Oh, my," he said, "This is a shame. But don't you worry, Weeone, I will carry you to the shore. You won't catch cold from being wet 'cause never shortly you can bet. I'll take you back to land and we can dry your clothes once more." And then he grabbed the Weeone tight. He smiled and said, "My, but you're light. You hardly weigh more than a pound. I guess you're are told. You're shaking just because you're cold." He put the Weeone on his neck and said, "Hang to my Head." Then Scouty headed toward the shore. It seemed they both were safe once more. "It isn't hard for me to swim," laughed Scouty, "cause I'm fat." The land and cried, "We're here." The Scouty crawled ashore the Weeone perched upon his hat. (The Weeones plan a meal in the next story.)

The early downtown Hartford rush line was a pretty cool looking lot this morning as they huddled in doorways, shivering in the cold air, waiting for the car. With pinked cheeks glowing and chins chattering in unison they went into a huddle with naught showing but steaming, vaporous breaths and ultra-sheer lined props. When the car showed up over the hill the huddle moved en masse and stormed the car for a breath of the warmth inside.

The fifth annual state convention of the Connecticut Federation of Men's Bible Classes is being planned for Saturday afternoon and evening, November 9 at West Haven.

The annual missionary party for the children of the North Methodist church will be held tomorrow at 3 o'clock. Mite boxes and membership fees are to be brought in at this time. Mrs. C. I. Balch will be in charge of the program and Miss Emma Colver, president of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the church, will see to the refreshments.

What sounded like a revolver shot awakened many living in the vicinity of Chestnut and Laurel streets last night at 11:45. The noise was also heard at the police station. Just at midnight there were five sharp reports coming from the vicinity east of Main street. No report of any shooting was made to the police during the night and Officer Arthur Seymour, who goes on duty at midnight, said this morning that he had heard the sound of shots, but it was evidently only the sound of backfiring of an automobile.

Juniors of Center church Sunday school are reminded to have their gifts of food at Hale's store tomorrow at 2 o'clock. This sale which will include a wide variety of home-made foods is for the benefit of the Junior pledge to the church building fund. Mrs. Theodore Bidwell and Mrs. Lucius Foster will assist the young folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Thorpe of Tanner street have returned from a short vacation spent motoring through the Litchfield hills.

A miscellaneous shower was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Paul B. Klotzer, 42 Washington street in honor of Miss Edna Custer of 159 Hilliard street who is to become the bride of Emil Klotzer, son of the hostess, on Oct. 26. Miss Custer received a miscellaneous assortment of presents. About twenty guests were present.

The second whist and dance at the Manchester Green school will take place tonight, under the management of Mrs. Ralph Cone and her ladies' committee. The first prizes will be $2.50 gold pieces. Refreshments will be served and dancing will round out a full evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Borst of Cambridge street left today for South Norwalk and New York City where they will spend a few days, visiting their son and other relatives. Carl Borst, who was associated with former manager Benjamin Von Pilski at the State theater here, is with him at the new Warner Brothers theater in South Norwalk.

Mrs. Mary Dunn, wife of the late Captain John Dunn, who has been visiting Mrs. John Boine and other friends in town, left Wednesday for her home in Atlantic City.

PLANNING PARKING SPACE ON MAIN ST.

Michael Gorman Will Provide Place for Cars If Granted Gas Station Permit.

Michael Gorman, who at Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Selectmen made application for a permit to erect a gasoline station on Main street, opposite Bissell street, said last night that in addition to this he would, if granted the permit, provide a parking place for automobiles that would extend to Linden street. The four-family white house that now stands on the property would be remodeled and converted into a station which would be back far enough to allow for two twenty foot driveways. With the large amount of space between the Main street house and the embankment on Linden street there would be ample space to take care of a large number of cars. This would give an opportunity for people to park while doing business in town without violation of parking rules and would also be a help in keeping the street clear to a greater extent than at present.
