

POSSIBLE MURDER SEEN IN WAPPING FARMER'S DEATH

Frederick Drake Found Dead With Deep Gashes on Head—Wife Reports Finding Body This Morning in Old Shack on Buckland Road—State Police Conducting Investigation—Man Had Been Reported Missing.

The possibility of murder in connection with the mysterious death of Frederick Drake, 51 years old Wapping farmer, who was found dead this morning beside a bed in a dilapidated shack, was being investigated today by State Police. There were several bad cuts and gashes on Drake's head leading to the belief that he had been assaulted. The rooms were in considerable disorder indicating a drunken brawl.

Grill Wife
For nearly an hour State Police man Albin Backiel of the Hartford barracks and Dr. H. J. Onderdonk of East Hartford, medical examiner for the town of South Windsor, questioned Mrs. Etta Drake, 45 year old second wife of the dead man who said she found her husband dead when she visited the shack shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. The grilling took place in the home of Everett Buckland a short distance from the Drake farm. When Mrs. Drake emerged from the room, she was crying.

Not Responsible
However, both Dr. Onderdonk and Backiel said after quizzing Mrs. Drake that they did not believe she was responsible for her husband's death. They were satisfied Drake died from natural causes despite his head injuries which they said might have occurred from falls while under the influence of liquor.

Wife's Story
Mrs. Drake's story was that she had been living at the home of her husband's brother, George Drake, on the main Wapping road a short distance away for three weeks because her husband had made life unbearable during his drinking spells. It had been reported that Drake had been missing for several days. The first information of his death came when Mrs. Drake came running up the street to the Buckland residence screaming, "Fred is dead."

Called Local Police
Mrs. Drake said that Mrs. Drake was trembling like a leaf and that tears were streaming down her face as she exclaimed that she had found her husband dead. Mr. Buckland notified Manchester police headquarters where he was called to get in touch with the state police. Two officers, Albin Backiel and Patrick O'Toole, came to the scene in an automobile. They, too, were strongly inclined to believe that there had been foul play.

Room Upset
Chairs were upside down, feathers from pillows strewn all over the tiny kitchen and bedroom adjoining. There was blood on the door leading from the kitchen into the bedroom where Drake lay lifeless as if saying "good night" to the bed as he slipped off. He was fully clothed except for right puttee, shoe and stocking. They had been taken off as if he were about to undress for bed. Drake was a lover of horse-back-riding and always wore leather puttees.

Assault Seems Positive
Blood stains were also in evidence on some of the bed clothes which

TAKEN FOR RIDE IS STILL ALIVE

"Lucky" Lucania, Broadway Racketeer Was Stabbed and Thrown Out of Auto.

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Charles "Lucky" Lucania, 33-year-old Broadway racketeer, told police today how he lived up to his name. He was "taken for a ride," tossed out of a car in Staten Island for dead, but got up and walked off.

Handcuff Him
He told police three men had kidnaped him at 50th street and Sixth avenue last night, handcuffed him, and taken him for a ride in New Jersey. When they stopped, he said, he lost consciousness and awoke to find himself lying in the Staten Island road.

JAMROGA, HURT A YEAR AGO AT FOOTBALL, DIES

Paralysis Follows Injury Suffered in His First Game; Was Talented and Popular at North End.

After being confined to bed for more than a year, Stanley Jamroga, 24 years old, of 471 North Main street, died last night at the Memorial hospital here. It was on October 7, last fall, that the young man met with the accident which crippled him for more than a year and finally took his life. Jamroga had never played football before in his life. Last season he reported as a candidate for a position on the Cloverleaves of the north end.

Hurt in First Game
The first two games of the season, Jamroga did not get into the lineup, being held in reserve. Then came the third and his team comes in a safe lead. Coach Jerry Fay sent in Jamroga to one of the tackle positions. On the very next play, the first in which he had ever participated, Jamroga was injured. As in most cases where a new player comes in, the opposing team sent a play through his position. The players piled up and when they were untangled, Jamroga was lying unconscious on the ground. For several months afterward he lay at death's door at hospitals in Hartford but finally gained sufficient strength to make it advisable for him to be removed home.

Given Every Aid
Hospital authorities said at the time that he would never regain the use of his limbs; that it was only a question of time before his injury would prove fatal. His family, however, refused to give up hope and kept a constant vigil at his bedside. Every possible medical aid was given the stricken young man and for several months appeared to be holding his own.

Then about two weeks ago, Stanley contracted a hard cold. He had insufficient strength to offset it. Sunday his condition became critical and Rev. C. T. McCann, pastor of St. Bridget's Roman Catholic church, was called to the home to give the last rites of the church. The next day when it became apparent that the end was near at hand, members of the family were summoned to the home. A false report spread quickly about the north end that Jamroga was dead.

Always Optimistic
Those who visited Jamroga said that he had a world of courage until the very last. Although he realized the seriousness of his condition, he was under the apprehension that he would eventually recover. He was an unusually talented and widely read young man and kept closely in touch with world affairs. He conversed eagerly with his many friends who came to visit him and never once spoke of his own plight in a serious light. Even when his condition became grave, he did not discuss the matter but bore up bravely to the end, although he seemed to realize then that he did not have long to live.

Shortly before midnight Tuesday he was removed to the Memorial hospital in W. P. Quish's ambulance and his death came a few minutes before 11 o'clock last night. The funeral will be held at 8:15 Saturday morning at Mark Holmes' funeral parlors at 223 North Main street and at St. James' church at 8:45. Rev. McCann will officiate and burial will be in St. James' cemetery. Members of the Cloverleaves football team are expected to act as bearers. The funeral parlors will be open from 7 o'clock tonight until the funeral for those who wish to view the body.

SEVEN KILLED, 12 HURT WHEN OLD HOTEL BURNS

Trapped by Flames, Victims Were Smothered in Their Rooms—Woman Leaps from Window.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Trapped by flames, seven persons lost their lives and twelve others were burned or otherwise injured in a fire that swept through the Portland hotel here early today. Firemen believed that all bodies had been recovered from the smoldering ruins. Several of the injured were in a critical condition and some were not expected to live. The cause of the blaze was undetermined. Firemen said the seven who died probably had suffocated while they slept. None could be identified at once. The building was an old brick structure. John Fitzhenry, who turned in the alarm, said he saw the fire through a window of the hotel. He added that it looked like it was burning on a stairway.

Managed By Japs
The hotel was operated by K. Mayeda, a Japanese, whose wife was critically injured when she leaped from a third story window. The dead were all white persons. Reports that several Japanese were hurried to death in the living quarters of the proprietor's wife being investigated by firemen.

All Laborers
Virtually all of the guests of the hotel were laborers. Living in the Pacific northwest.

VERBAL CLASHES FEATURE HEARING

Senator Bingham Admits He Possibly Made Mistake But Insists He Saw Nothing Improper About It—Says He Asked Connecticut Manufacturers' Association for a Man Who Understood Rates and the Needs of the State—Was Not Familiar With Situation—Eyanson, the Expert Never Cashed Check He Got from Senator

Washington, Oct. 17.—(AP)—One verbal clash after another developed between Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, and members of the Senate lobby committee as the former related his employment of Charles L. Eyanson, an officer of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association, to assist him on tariff matters at the time the tariff bill was before the Senate finance committee.

Wash Sarcastic
Several times committee members insisted on "yes and no" answers by the Connecticut Senator who at one juncture told Senator Walsh, Democrat, that if he would "not be so sarcastic" he would appreciate it.

Letter to Hubbard
The letter to Hubbard read by Bingham to the committee, follows: "As you know, many matters of great importance to the manufacturers of Connecticut and our citizens generally will come up during the extra session, particularly while the tariff is being discussed in committee and on the floor of the Senate."

Got Two Checks
In the course of Eyanson's testimony it was developed that he received two checks as Bingham's secretary while he was in the capital, but that he had turned the first over to Bingham, and the second, at Bingham's suggestion, to the Senate's regular secretary.

BINGHAM ON STAND
Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, testifying today before the Senate lobby committee regarding his employment of an official of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association, said he had never regarded Eyanson as a lobbyist organization. The official referred to, Charles L. Eyanson, was expected to be called later in the day. "As an employee of Bingham he appeared at the executive meetings of the Senate finance committee at the time the tariff bill was under consideration."

Sen. Hiram Bingham

had an observer present at the hearings in the House. Connecticut interested. "Connecticut is vitally interested in the tariff. Consequently, when I was put on the finance committee I felt the great importance of having a knowledge of everything that state needed in the way of tariff rates, not only for industry but for agriculture."

Refer to Hubbard
The letter to Hubbard read by Bingham to the committee, follows: "As you know, many matters of great importance to the manufacturers of Connecticut and our citizens generally will come up during the extra session, particularly while the tariff is being discussed in committee and on the floor of the Senate."

Bar Secretaries
Bingham then referred to various definitions of lobbyists and said he did not classify an "observer here to see that his interests got a square deal before committees," as a lobbyist. He asserted he had asked permission to have "one of my secretaries" accompany him to the secret meetings of the finance committee and that shortly after that all "secretaries" were refused entrance.

Refer to Hubbard
"I want to say Mr. Eyanson behaved in exemplary fashion. He did no lobbying. He saw no Senators. He never spoke out loud in the committee room."

Bingham praised the work of Eyanson. "The only time I knew of the organization being in Washington was when the tariff bill was before the House ways and means committee," Bingham continued. "They"

Eyanson said if any mistake had been made he was responsible. Bingham explained he put Eyanson on "technically on the government payroll in order to subject him to the discipline of the Senate."

"He drew government pay at the time he was on the rolls of the manufacturers?" asked Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana.

"Yes, I wanted him subject to the Senate discipline. If there is anything wrong with it the fault is mine."

The Connecticut Senator said he had learned that Senators had gone to the tariff commission to have men from the commission sent to their offices to work there day after day.

No Comparison
Walsh objected that this "comparison" was not on all fours with your own."

"Possibly not on all fours but if I had known of this practice I probably would have avoided all this inconvenience," answered Bingham.

"Surely you do not appear to be falsification of the government records?" inquired Robinson.

"I don't like the word falsification," retorted Bingham, again explaining that Eyanson drew government pay for one month and then turned it over to a clerk.

Explaining his "ignorance" of tariff matters Bingham said Eyanson replied to letters pertaining to tariff matters and assembled tariff information.

Helped Senator
During hearings on textile schedules Bingham said he sat in the committee room and aided him in looking up information. He added that Eyanson had no duties not connected with the tariff.

It was after one of the members of the committee had given out information that was supposed to be kept secret, Bingham added, that it was decided to exclude secretaries.

He did not say who had given out the information.

Senator Walsh asked if Chairman Smoot forced all Senators' secretaries to leave the finance committee room during the writing of the tariff bill.

"Yes," answered Bingham.

"What other secretaries were there?" asked Walsh.

"I suggest you call the committee chairman."

"You came here to make a statement," continued Walsh.

Bingham then stated that no other secretaries were in the same position as his own and all were regularly on government pay.

He explained that the secretaries were all ejected from the committee room because they were believed to be "leaking" information.

"Then your secretary was no different from the others and all were put out because of the 'leak'?" asked Senator Walsh.

"Yes, when the Senate bells rang for a quorum call Chairman Caraway asked a clerk to report the absence of Senators at the committee."

"I'll go over soon for myself," remarked Bingham.

"I hope you won't be in a hurry," shot back Caraway as he sent the clerk over to the Senate chamber.

Walsh took up a number of increases in rates provided by the tariff bill affecting Connecticut industries.

Bingham defended the tariff schedules warmly and at the conclusion of one long reply, Walsh said "we will argue these rates on the floor."

Frequent Tilt
Walsh and Bingham quarreled heatedly when Mr. Eyanson demanded a "yes or no" answer to a question of whether the Senate finance committee did not cut down the House tariff rate on wool to the existing rate.

Bingham started to reply with a "because" several times as Walsh shouted back, "yes or no."

"Don't answer if you can't answer as requested," Walsh finally interrupted.

"Yes," Bingham shouted. "The Senator knows that, and I object to his manner of examination."

Senator Walsh told Bingham he could make any explanation he cared after first giving a direct answer to questions.

"Why is the Senator asking about these tariff rates?" inquired Bingham.

"I want to find out how effective Mr. Eyanson's work has been," retorted Walsh.

"Does the Senator insinuate the lobbying, so-called, of Mr. Eyanson was improper?" asked Bingham.

"I am not under inquiry," responded Walsh, "and I don't know the facts. I am now trying to learn them."

Walsh asked Bingham about the exclusion of secretaries from the finance committee room and after several exchanges Bingham suggested the Montanan call Chairman Smoot.

"You came here to make a statement," Walsh shot back and Bingham subsequently said no other secretaries were in the position of his own and all were regularly on government pay.

He added the secretaries were all ejected from the committee room because a Senator believed they were "leaking" information.

All the Same
"Then your secretary was no different from the others and all were put out because of the 'leak'?" asked Senator Walsh.

"Yes," Bingham answered.

As Walsh inquired of Bingham's replies, the Connecticut Senator interposed "if the Senator will not be so sarcastic and will permit me to answer I will appreciate it."

Responding to another inquiry about the tariff rates, Bingham said "I will have to ask Mr. Eyanson about that and it was for just such cases that I had him."

Walsh's Charge
Walsh estimated that the "people of America will contribute by tariff taxes to the prosperity of Connecticut $632,000,000 under the proposed

PARKER SMITH CO. TRIAL CONTINUES

State Offers Evidence as to Mortgage and Mortgage Notes Today.

New Haven, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The information read in court today against three officers of the Parker-Smith Co. on trial before Judge Isaac Wolfe and a jury on embezzlement charges was the longest ever presented in a superior criminal court here. It was 75 legal pages long. The aggregate of the alleged embezzlements by agents and trustees was $166,427.76.

Today was taken by State Attorney Hoyt in offering evidence as to mortgages and mortgage notes, the state claiming that while mortgages were paid off, notes issued against those mortgages were not all paid off.

This afternoon testimony related to a $89,000 mortgage taken out by Emanuel L. Kligerman, Emanuel Kligerman and Esther Kligerman, on January 20, 1926. To finance this, the Parker-Smith Co. issued 30 notes of $100,000 each, 32 of $500 each and 20 of one thousand each. The mortgage was paid off early in the year but some of the $500 notes were not retired.

It was shown that four notes were taken for the estate of Albert C. Roraback, by the trustee, Minnie H. Roraback of North Canaan and two notes by J. Clinton Roraback, public defender of North Canaan.

Mr. Roraback was a witness and he said that he heard this summer that the mortgage had been paid but he had never received money for the notes he held.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Sharp recoveries took place in today's Stock Market after an early period of heaviness in which several of the leaders were hammered down 1 to 5 points.

Short covering operations played an important part in the rally, which ran from 1 to 5 points in most of the active issues, and 6 to 16 points in a few specialties. Trading was fairly heavy in volume.

Lowering of the call money rate from 7 to 6 per cent, coincident with the passing of the mid-month stringency, stimulated the recovery.

The time money market was dull but showed an easier tendency. Some nervousness was apparent over the weekly Federal Reserve brokers' loan statement to be in view of the sharp rally and the calling for payment of a large stock of securities in the period covered by the statement most observers looked for a moderate increase.

Except for the placing of a large order for rails by the Pennsylvania railroad, and the passing of the International Combustion dividend, there was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement.

International Combustion broke nearly 7 points to a new low at 28 1/2 and the preferred slumped 17 1/2 points to 70.

Motor products dropped 6 points and Truax Corp. sank more than 8 points to a new low at 54 1/2. Stone & Webster and Brooklyn Union Gas also sold down 5 points below last night's final quotations.

On the other hand, Auburn Auto ran up 16 points, Air Reduction 13 and the American Tobacco 13. Western Union, Johns-Manville, American Telephone, National Biscuit and International Business Machines sold 6 to 10 points higher. U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Simmons Co., Electric Storage Battery, and American & Foreign Power rallied 3 points or more, the last named 4 points down 4 points in the early trading.

Oils were again in brisk demand under the leadership of Standard Oil of New Jersey and Royal Dutch.

ORDERS RECOUNT.

Bridgeport, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Recount of ballots cast in the second precinct of the first district at Stratford's recent town election, was ordered by Judge Carl Foster today on petition of deputy sheriff Herbert J. Lewis who was defeated for the office of councilman by Everett B. Sniffen.

Miss Mary Morehouse, the town clerk, left the court house after testifying at the opening of the hearing, and she is ordered to bring the ballot box to court. The count will be made by a committee of four to be selected by Attorney Henry C. Shannon, counsel for Lewis and by attorney W. H. Comley, counsel for Sniffen.

VENGEANCE MURDER.

White Plains, N. Y., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Anthanasios Kaneloutos of Long Island City today was inducted for first degree murder by the Westchester county Grand Jury for the killing in a Mount Vernon restaurant a month ago of Nick Thillias, 40, a waiter.

Kaneloutos has told police he killed Thillias because the waiter was the leader of a gang who had slain his brother in Greece a month before the Mount Vernon slaying.

No date for trial was set.

TARIFF LAW COMPARED TO $556,000,000 UNDER THE PRESENT TARIFF ACT.

"The answer to that," said Bingham, "is that the people of my state contribute much more money in Federal taxes for the upkeep of the government than do some western states."

"Did information you got from Mr. Eyanson change your position on any questions asked Caraway?" "Undoubtedly," replied Bingham.

"Then he did help write the bill?" "Well, any one writing a letter to a Senator giving him information, then helps to write legislation."

TO ATTEND CEREMONY.

Hartford, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Authority has been given by the attorney general's office to Company G, 102d Infantry to go to Brooklyn, G. on October 24, to take part in the Washington commemoration there. POSSIBLE MURDER SEEN IN WAPPING DEATH

There were several blood spots on his right hand. When they first viewed Drake, State Policemen Backler and O'Toole said it was possible that the man could have suffered the head injuries from falls. It looked like a clear case of assault upon a man in a drunken condition. A small barrel of elderberry wine stood in a smaller ante-room five or six feet from the body. A rubber hose leading from its opening showed that it had been in recent use.

The entire shack was terribly untidy. It is a one story and a half wooden structure and is located a few rods north of the two-story white house in which the Drakes formerly lived. A few acres of land go with the property which is located on the opposite side of Buckland street from the Buckland home down the slight grade just before the "hats" that lead to the center of Wapping.

His Family
Drake was born in the house he lived in. His first wife died many years ago. He leaves two daughters by his first marriage, Miss Evelyn Drake and Mrs. Irving (Inza) Fay Drake and one son, Walter Drake. He also has a brother, George, and a sister, Eva, living in Wapping. Drake was a farmer by profession and also worked out for other farmers in Wapping.

Last Seen Friday.
As far as can be learned last Friday was the last time that Drake was seen alive. At least his last whereabouts were at the shack at that time but he could not gain admittance into the door was locked from the inside. Her husband came to the window and she saw that he was still drunk, so she went to his brother's home. She told state police that her husband always wanted to pound her when he was drunk and she was why she went to his brother's home to stay three weeks ago.

In Many Brawls.
Mrs. Drake went so far as to say that the people living down stairs moved out a few weeks ago because they could not stand the noise which she said that only a short time ago Jack Lehey, an employee of the C. R. Burr Nursery Company, who had been boarding with them, became involved in an argument with her husband which culminated in a fist fight and Drake received a black eye. She said she was the one looking on while still shocked plainly today when he was found dead. In addition there were two long gashes on each side of the head which might have resulted from a blunt instrument. In addition there were several other smaller cuts.

Had Recent Visitors.
During the lengthy questioning, Mrs. Drake brought in the names of a Mr. and Mrs. Payne of Providence who, she said, had been visiting her husband a few days ago and who left him after a quarrel. How she knew they had been quarreling was through the Electric Boat Company plant here at 10 o'clock today. The vessel was christened the Tenkensas, the Indian name for Wards Island to which it will run. The sponsor was Mrs. William Acheson, wife of Colonel Acheson, head of the state department of mental hygiene.

POSTPONES HANGING

Denver, Colo., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Because he feared further trouble at the Colorado state prison in Canon City, where 1 men recently lost their lives in a convict riot, Gov. W. H. Evans has granted a reprieve to Eddie Ives, condemned to hang this week for a murder in Denver. Warden F. E. Crawford told the governor that with 270 convicts housed in tents pending reconstruction of buildings burned in the riot, the hanging might result from an execution in the prison. The reprieve is until the week of December 2.

FRANCE STILL STICKS TO HER SUBMARINES

Premier Briand to Lead Delegates to the London Arms Parley.

Paris, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Premier Aristide Briand in person will probably lead the French delegation to the London five-power naval conference next January.

Minister Marine Georges Leygues is expected to accompany him, and it is probable that Minister of Colonies Maginot and leading members of the naval commissions in the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate also will be in the party.

Popular sentiment against the abolition of submarines continues to make itself felt in Paris. The French league for the defense of the vital interests of France today unanimously voted that France should refrain from signing any treaty abolishing submarines, which would put her at the mercy of nations possessing powerful battleship fleets.

The league also opposed France's signing any treaty which failed to take into account her need for defending herself in four seas and in far-distant colonies.

HALF OF 8TH DISTRICT TAX IS ALREADY IN

Joseph Chartier, tax collector of the Eighth School and Utilities district, reports the collection up to date of almost exactly one-half of the $36,000 district levy. Many of the large tax payers of the district are yet to be heard from, as most of those whose taxes run into considerable sums habitually wait till the end of the month before making their payments.

Mr. Chartier reports also that a large number of persons whose property was taxed for taxes in previous years have taken up their liens were placed. Now there are less than twenty in effect.

Included in these, beside several whose ownership is in question, are a number of properties of small value and age which are not yet ready to take tax liens. As the town lien takes precedence, foreclosure proceedings against them, if brought by the district, would be likely to prove not only expensive, but without results. So these liens are allowed to "ride."

CURB REVIEW

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Curb Market was submitted to further selling pressure during the early transactions today, but before midday strong support was thrown into the market. The decline was halted, and several stocks were inclined to rally moderately. Fresh selling appeared on rallies, however, and decisive trends were lacking, due after the close, were a source of renewed uneasiness.

Electric Investors, after touching 220, about 83 points under its high record for the year, rebounded briskly. An Electric Bond and the first hour, considerably more than regained its loss. Allied Power, United Light and Power "A," and Standard Power and Light were among issues rallying a few points.

Several soft spots persisted, however, the report of the Public Security Securities committee of the Investment Bankers Association, sounding a warning against unrestrained speculation, causing further nervousness in the high price tier of this group of shares. American and Foreign Power Warrants, Commonwealth Edison, Central States Electric, Hydro Electric Securities, and American Gas and Electric were among issues showing renewed heaviness.

Industrials were largely heavy, although Standard Screw, which broke 45 points to 125 in a small turnover yesterday, rebounded 15 points to 160. Aluminum Co. lost 15 points, and such issues as Crocker Wheeler (new), Fox Theaters "A," General Theaters Equipment, and Glen Alden Coal, sagged a point or more.

Oils remained steady and firm. Cosden again penetrating further into new high ground, but then encountering considerable profit taking. Standard of Indiana and Humble were firm, and Cities Service held fairly steady, although its advance appeared to have been halted for the time being.

In the investment trust and trading company group, Lehman Corp. dropped to a new low at 103 1/2, 2 1/2 points above its offering price, but then rebounded. National Investors (new) sagged to a new low, and Goldman Sachs sagged below the 100 mark.

ASKS TEST CASE TO TRY BUYERS WITH SELLERS.

Supreme Court Must Decide Whether They Are Guilty

Washington, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Attorney General Mitchell said today a determination of the liability to arrest of the purchaser of bootleg liquor could be obtained only through the arrest and conviction for actual purchase, and then the carrying of the case to the Supreme Court.

He expressed belief that no pending case would provide a proper test, and that the recently discussed Philadelphia case, in which the Circuit Court of Appeals held the buyer not liable, was based upon conspiracy to violate the law through buying it did not constitute a through test.

Carrying the case through the various courts to the highest tribunal he pointed out, would take many months.

Mitchell refused to express an opinion on the question. He said he had turned the request of Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas, for an inquiry to determine the purchaser's liability, over to the prohibition division for investigation.

Position of assuming responsibility for international bank operations. As matters stand, if the Federal Reserve does not desire to assent or dissent, it need not reply and responsibility for the given operation would rest on the international bank.

The conference also adopted the final text of the permissive international bank functions, but the press sub-committee has not divulged the details, saying the provisions generally are those already contained in the annex to the Young plan outlining the bank's proposed functions.

It was denied today that the International bank would speculate in exchange.

W. T. Layton, British delegate, said: "The Ban. of International Settlements is not primarily a bank for making profits on exchanges, but to facilitate exchange. The mere mutual knowledge of the Central bank when transfers occur should tend to stabilize exchanges."

TELL SCHOOL PUPILS ABOUT FIRE FIGHTING

Chief Albert Foy and L. N. Heebner, superintendent of the South Manchester fire alarm system spoke to the children of the South Main and Keenev streets schools this morning on the subject of fire prevention and kindred subjects.

The workings of the modern fire alarm box was explained in detail with special emphasis laid on the need of care in breaking the glass in the alarm box. The chief warned the children to use care while playing in the vicinity of the alarm lights on the streets.

A general picture was drawn beginning with the moment of the fire discovery and through to its termination, showing the proper action of children of school age on the streets at the time with reference to safety. These talks given in all Manchester schools, while dealing with matters of common knowledge, are intensely interesting to school children. The demonstrations lead the youngsters to look at the little red dot on the street corner as a far more intelligent light. The incidental talks show the dangers of jaywalking while the apparatus is enroute to a fire.

IRREGULAR HABITS KEEP KING WELL

Alfonso's Personal Physician Says Monarch is Regular in Nothing.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—(AP)—King Alfonso of Spain is in "beautiful health," his personal physician, Viscount Agular, said today, because "he has never been a man of regular habits." Viscount Agular is attending the American College of surgeons.

"My sovereign has never been a slave to regular diet, regular sleep, regular exercises, or regular anything else. He is not so stupid," "Consequently at the age of 43 he is in beautiful health, and he has never had a serious illness in his life."

"The only worry he causes me arises from the fact he is so busy he does not get enough sleep—in my opinion. Even kings should sleep eight hours, but he only gets six and a half."

"Perhaps it is his moderation in eating and drinking which counteracts the bad effects of insufficient sleep. He eats less than half the amount the average man does and he drinks very lightly."

BOOZE RUNNERS HAD FORTRESS AS THEIR BASE

rested in the raids from New York to Atlantic City, will be arraigned in Federal Court today.

Hicks stated that Malcolmo McMasters, who was arrested as operator of the radio shack at "the Mansion," faced a sentence of five years in Federal penitentiary on a charge of operating an unlicensed station.

INTERNATIONAL RING New York, Oct. 17.—Foreign agencies, in England and in Canada, were linked today by federal attorneys with the $1,000,000 rum smuggling syndicate whose fortified arsenal, radio station, and warehouses extending all the way from Highlands, N. J., to Atlantic City were simultaneously raided by federal agents and New Jersey state troopers last night.

Both U. S. Attorney Charles Ham Tuttle and Assistant U. S. Attorney Robert Watts referred to the syndicate as "an international ring, with agencies in England, Canada and elsewhere."

At the same time they revealed that the syndicate operated not only along the Jersey coast, but practically controlled all illegal importation of liquor from Maine to the Virginia Capes.

Connected With Banks Mr. Watts said the ring had "financial connections with American banks," but whether this meant that the banks were actually engaged in financing its operations or merely carried its accounts was not made clear.

"This ring not only was conducting smuggling of contraband on an enormous scale, with ramifications in England, Canada and elsewhere, but it was also engaged in the business of monopolizing this business of illegal importations."

Mr. Tuttle said prosecution of more than a dozen prisoners arrested in connection with last night's raids would be carried forward at once.

Inquiry today at the local offices of the Coast Guard and the Customs Bureau revealed that neither office had been told in advance what the program of last night's raids was to be.

Six Coast Guard cutters, which worked during the raids in pairs off Sandy Hook, City Island and Montauk Point, were dispatched out of the New London, Conn. base, under sealed orders that had come from Washington.

The sealed orders assigned the destroyers to assist 10 Customs Bureau speed boats, carrying 100 agents, in intercepting any small craft enroute to shore with liquor from the larger ships outside the harbor. The Customs boats were stationed also off Coney Island creek, Atlantic Highlands, and Rockaway Beach. The destroyers and customs boats got nothing, however.

stricken and choked by smoke, she opened a window on the third floor of the hotel and leaped to the street. An awning broke her fall but she suffered a broken leg and other injuries.

Three firemen were overcome by smoke. There was very little blaze, but the dense smoke made fire fighting difficult.

Firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames in less than half an hour. The old building was said by police to be a fire trap.

Joe McNamee, a fireman who was the most seriously hurt, fell through a skylight.

LIGHTING DEVICES MURPHY'S HOBBY

Police Commissioner and Druggist Exhibits Rare Antique Collection.

In the window of Edward J. Murphy's drug store on Depot Square is a most interesting exhibit in connection with the Golden Jubilee Celebration of Edison's invention of the incandescent light.

Most of the articles exhibited are from the collection of Mr. Murphy who for a number of years has collected antiques as a hobby.

The development of lighting devices is forcibly demonstrated by the exhibition of an old fashioned candle mould, obtained from the home of one of Connecticut's earliest settlers, the method of preparing the candles being the placing of cotton wicks in the center of the mould and pouring of tallow while hot, around the wicks, later exposing the mould to cold temperature, which would allow the easy removal of the candles. A hand-made wrought iron candle stick of colonial history is shown with an elevator screw on the side to raise the candle as it burned down into the holder.

Next is shown the modern type of lamp for use everywhere and in completion a very new type of flashlight which in reality is a portable electric light plant. From the candle moulds of more than 150 years ago and including the set of candle sticks known to be 150 years old, Mr. Murphy has assembled a most interesting exhibit of the progress of lighting as well as bringing to the surface another citizen with an unusual hobby.

CAR BARN FOUNDATION STONE USED ON BRIDGE

Sandstone Blocks Come In Handy in Repair Work at Bridge Street Structure.

The red sandstone blocks that formed part of the foundation for the car barns when they were built and which were left standing when the barns were torn down, are being used to good advantage in the work that is being done on the bridge street bridge.

The town highway department is having the sides of the bridge raised about three feet and are extending wings on either side of the bridge to a height of eight feet. The stone has been removed from the car barn basement and is making a perfect match with the addition to the bridge.

The wings that are being built will keep back the washouts that occur on Bridge street each time there is a heavy rain, Town Engineer Bowen said today.

GASTONIA TRIAL TO START SOON

Way Cleared for Action on Kidnaping of Striking Mill Workers in South.

Concord, N. C., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The way apparently was clear today for early action by a grand jury on charges of kidnaping, false arrest and assault with a deadly weapon, brought against seven Gastonia men as a result of an anti-Communist demonstration and disorders the night of September 9.

The regular court docket was practically cleared last night and solicitor Zeb W. Long said he would present papers in the cases to the Grand Jury this morning.

Kidnaping Charge. The charges grew from the alleged kidnaping of C. M. Lell, C. D. Saylor and Ben Wells and fogging of Wells, Lell and Saylor, both of Gastonia, are members of the National Textile Workers Union while Wells, who claims to be a British subject, is an organizer for the Union.

Fourteen men were arrested in connection with the fogging. After a preliminary hearing Judge Thomas J. Shaw released seven, but ordered O. G. Morehead, William Pickering, Carl Holloway, Dewey Carver, Smiley Lewis, Tom Carver, and Horace Lane, all Gastonia cotton mill employees, held under bonds of $7,500 each for Grand Jury action.

Bonds for the men were signed by

No More "Iron Maidens"! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Never again need scientific research grope in darkened cellars behind doors bolted against torture. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has swept before it the ignorant barrier which stupidly impeded men of genius and science marches proudly on.

"toasting did it" — Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

"It's toasted" No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

My Favorite Bible Passage

Today's Choice by THEODORE G. BILBO Governor of Mississippi

And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.—John 8:32.

So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, 'He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone.—John 8:7.'

But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him: God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.—John 1:23-24.

right, put up by Mr. Whalen in his official capacity, to have the city erect an East River bridge with its Manhattan entrance at Astor Place and its acting impulse in the fact that Astor Place is, so to speak, the very back yard of the Wanamaker stores. The bridge "would have brought all Brooklyn in at the Wanamaker back door."

Unfortunately for the project a feud developed between Whalen and Comptroller Craig which prevented the building of the bridge. Such was the gratitude of the Wanamaker concern for the commissioner's excellence of intentions and enthusiasm of effort, however, according to Mr. Thomas, that it made him general manager of its business.

All of which would be lovely ammunition for any anti-administration candidate running for a strong party—especially if he had as good a reputation for truth and accuracy as has Mr. Thomas.

TAKES WRONG SIDE

The governor of Massachusetts and the motor vehicles director of that state are both profoundly concerned over the steadily increasing slaughter of the population in automobile accidents. The former has appointed a commission which is inaugurating a safety drive, operating through some 200 local committees. It has just begun operations—coincidentally with a new record for a Saturday and Monday of nineteen deaths on the road. This may be a good sign.

But there is one sign which is not so good. The director of motor vehicles, striving to awaken the consciousness of the people to the gravity of the situation, recently used some pretty strong language—but not a whit stronger, it seemed to us, than the circumstances justified. He said that automobilists whose excessive speed, carelessness or drunkenness caused motoring fatalities were "murderers." It might have even been inferred from his statement that those who indulged in excessive speed, recklessness or drunkenness, and at the same time escaped killing anybody, were potential murderers.

Instead of receiving the applause of the safe and sane majority of drivers, this utterance was greeted, amazingly, by an angry protest from the largest and most influential organized body of motorists in the state. This organization issued a formal reply in which the strictures of the director were denounced with great violence. "We are not murderers!" it cried, in effect. "We protest against being called murderers."

By this act the organization definitely aligned itself on the side of the speed maniac, the ruthlessly reckless and the drunken driver, for it was these people and these only against whom the thunders of the motor vehicle chieftain were directed.

If this body fairly represents public opinion in the Bay State, safety drives up there are not going to get far.

PARTING OF WAYS

We take it that Senator Sheppard, extra dry who is straining every nerve to bring about the successful prosecution of the buyer as well as the seller of bootleg liquor, is a practicing teetotaler—that is, unlike so many of his political fellow drys, does not hanker after booze. That, we say, is not only commendable but his good luck into the bargain. Personal freedom from the insistent nagging of John Barlycorn is a blessing, particularly in these days of very bad liquor.

But, like many another blessing, it is not always wise or even kind to exploit this gift. And Senator Sheppard, in his relations as an ardent friend of prohibition-plus, seems likely to put his foot in it very seriously before he gets through. It looks very much as though he were going to force many of his Congressional allies in the dry cause either to split openly with him and his handful of bona fide zealots or else vote themselves personally as arid as their present pretenses.

A Chinaman's chance a dry Congressman would have of wetting his whistle, with malicious wet spotters ready to put him in jail for buying booze and so show him up as a hypocrite!

No, when it comes to the question of individual privilege, Sheppard and many of his hitherto allies have come to a parting of the ways. He cannot get Congress to travel with him in putting into the prohibitory law teeth long enough to reach clean down to the Congressional hip pocket.

BISON HERDS

A dispatch printed in a New York newspaper this week, announcing the forthcoming shipment of a number of American bison to a zoo in South Africa, makes the statement that the herd from which these buffalo come, at Wainwright, Alberta, is the "only large herd" in the world.

This depends on what you mean

MR. WHALEN'S JOB

What a pity that Norman Thomas isn't running for mayor of New York on some other than the Socialist ticket—one where he would have a living chance of election. If he were, then the local campaign in the big city, lively even now, would be a sizzler. Because Mr. Thomas seems to know more about what is going on in his town and to be more willing to tell what he knows, than any political candidate who has shown his head in that ballwick in a long, long time.

Most interesting of recent Thomas' utterances is his explanation of how Police Commissioner Grover Whalen came to get his high priced job as general manager of the Wanamaker stores. Before he ever had that job Mr. Whalen was commissioner of plants and structures of the big city. That is an important and responsible position. And Mr. Thomas asserts a very earnest

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Attacks of Numbness

Question: Mrs. G. writes: "On three occasions during the past year I have been awakened during sleep with a numbness of the face. I have tried to call for help but could not move my lips, neither could I raise my hand or any part of my body for what seems like a minute. I would appreciate a distribution of the Cause of Numbness of the Face, Arthritis, Rheumatism, Cause and Cure of Lumbago, Tri-Facial Neuralgia, and Rheumatic Fever."

Answer: The numb attacks you have at night are probably from the nervous system and would be classified under the name of hysteria. There is no reason for suspecting you are subject to paralysis because you have a good diagnosis made and am therefore able to remove the cause of your nervousness.

Wholewheat Muffins

Question: Mother asks: "Will you kindly print again your recipe for wholewheat muffins?"

Answer:—To a well beaten egg add one cup of sweet milk. Then stir in one cup of genuine wholewheat flour and beat until smooth. Next add a half cup of fat of the wholewheat flour into which has been thoroughly mixed one level teaspoonful of baking powder. Bake in muffin tins in a moderately hot oven until brown. The quantity makes six medium or eight small muffins.

Loop In Colon

Question: M. K. R. asks: "Can a loop in the colon be cured by dieting? What would you advise?"

Answer:—A loop in the colon can be corrected through proper manipulative treatments, supplemented in some cases by certain electrical treatments. If the treatment is carried out you cannot expect diet to produce a cure, although one with a kinked or looped colon will certainly be in better health on a well-balanced diet than when eating haphazardly.

PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTMENT

Washington, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The new broom had swept clean here today and all of the county and city officers were sworn in. Gov. Dan Mooney sent troops here to apply martial law after the assassination of District Attorney John A. Holmes.

The last of the county officers under the old civil regime, County Clerk C. M. Cummings, quit his office late last night. Cummings was not suspended by Governor Mooney's proclamation of martial law but was displaced by the death of the Rev. P. J. Mooney.

PAIN IN THE LARGEST NERVE

The sciatic nerve, which is the largest nerve in the body, is the nerve going into the legs. When pain occurs in this really a form of neuralgia of the sciatic nerve. It may occur with those of a rheumatic tendency, those having pelvic tumors, or in case of either a nerve injury, nerve inflammation, and in certain spinal diseases.

Sciatica is usually characterized by sharp stabbing pains or a burning pain about the hip region. These pains are usually very severe.

One form of sciatica is caused by an inflammation of the nerve caused through a deposit of rheumatic poisons. The pain may start in the back of the sacrum and extend down the leg in both the front and back. This form of sciatica is easily cured through a dietetic treatment which will eliminate the rheumatic poisons. Another form of sciatica may be from any pressure in the pelvis, such as from a packed rectum due to constipation. The pressure may be caused during the last months of pregnancy, or be due to the growth of pelvic tumors. If the tumor presses toward the right side of the abdomen, the pain may shoot down into the right leg; if on the left side of the abdomen, the pain may change from one leg to the other, according to whether the tumor is pressing to the right or to the left.

Another form of sciatic is caused from a malposition of the lower lumbar vertebrae or the sacro-iliac bones of the pelvis. Such faulty positions often cause a pressure on the sciatic nerve and the pain will continue until the proper treatment is given to adjust the bones to their normal positions.

One form of sciatica is caused from a tumor in the pelvis. The tumor may be from any of the pelvic bones or from a localized case of rheumatoid arthritis of these joints. Sometimes the hip joint may alone be affected with arthritis or tuberculosis and the inflammation from this one joint may affect the sciatic nerve in such a way as to cause sciatica.

A careful diagnosis is usually necessary in order to arrive at a correct conclusion concerning the exact cause of any specific case of sciatica. One of the simplest tests for the patient to use at home is to try a fast for about a week to see how much effect this will have. If there is not a decided improvement within a week of an orange juice fast, the patient may rest assured that there is either an inflammatory condition of the pelvic bones—that these bones or those of the lower spine are out of position—or that there is some definite pelvic pressure, possibly caused from constipation or a tumor formation.

A careful diagnosis will always disclose the real cause or causes, and this, of course, suggests the proper procedure to follow in bringing about a cure.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

Washington, Oct. 17.—Unless the dry organizations develop cold feet, which they seldom do, Senator Sheppard's bill to brand the buyers of liquor as equally guilty with the sellers probably will turn out to be the issue in the most important prohibition fight for several years.

If the bill is made a law, there will be virtually nothing left for the drys to ask for in the way of legislation excepting measures so extreme that no one has previously considered them advisable to press. The days experimented with heavier penalties when they put over the Jones law, but hardly anyone argues that the "five and ten" act has had any particular effect on the enforcement situation.

There is some chance that the Sheppard bill will be allowed to die a quiet death. It does not appear to represent the considered program of the dry organizations, though it has the approval of Bishop Cannon, who is the strongest individual figure among them. Some of the most important dry leaders are going cautiously, explaining that they desire first to observe the general reaction toward the measure.

In this connection it is interesting to note that some of the strongest drys in Congress are opposed to the bill. Although a few of those who have already declared against it may change their minds under Anti-Saloon League pressure, a vote in either house is likely to roll up the largest "wet" minority vote since the passage of the Volstead act.

The effect of such a law is the most important point for everyone concerned to think about and there you have views diametrically opposed.

Some drys believe that millions of Americans would stop patronizing bootleggers, unwilling to join a class at last recognized as criminal by the statutes.

Others fear that it would have no such effect and that, on the contrary, it would tend to stiffen resistance to the prohibition laws by automatically creating the largest class of lawbreakers with which any government ever had to deal.

Legal experts of the Prohibition Bureau say that while such a law might result in more convictions, its principal effect upon the community would be as a method of moral suasion. Some of them are convinced that it would result in a large reduction of the amount of liquor consumed and that it would tend importantly to make abstinence "respectable."

Both the drys and the prohibition enforcers are emphatic in the contention that the purchaser is morally as guilty as the vendor. "The difference," says Pussfoot Johnson, "is the difference between the inmate and the frequenter of a disorderly house."

But in the past the drys haven't felt that a law covering purchasers was worth fighting for. Wayne B. Wheeler and his companions decided to let it ride when they framed the Volstead Act and passed it. The act provides that no one shall buy liquor without obtaining a permit, and of course the permits are unobtainable. The act doesn't make the provision strict by applying any penalty.

Concentrate on Bootleggers

It does provide against transportation and possession with penalties, and the drys have always figured that buyers could be adequately prosecuted for illegal possession or transportation. They would rather convict one bootlegger than a dozen customers, although they believe examples should be made of some of the wealthy and more prominent scoundrels.

They are now giving serious consideration to the Sheppard bill and promising among other things that if passed it will provide an immunity bath for government witnesses, including prohibition agents.

But none of them seem wildly excited about it. They are pinning their faith much more on changes in enforcement personnel and on their belief that President Hoover will force more honest and efficient administration of the law.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Attacks of Numbness

Question: Mrs. G. writes: "On three occasions during the past year I have been awakened during sleep with a numbness of the face. I have tried to call for help but could not move my lips, neither could I raise my hand or any part of my body for what seems like a minute. I would appreciate a distribution of the Cause of Numbness of the Face, Arthritis, Rheumatism, Cause and Cure of Lumbago, Tri-Facial Neuralgia, and Rheumatic Fever."

Answer: The numb attacks you have at night are probably from the nervous system and would be classified under the name of hysteria. There is no reason for suspecting you are subject to paralysis because you have a good diagnosis made and am therefore able to remove the cause of your nervousness.

Wholewheat Muffins

Question: Mother asks: "Will you kindly print again your recipe for wholewheat muffins?"

Answer:—To a well beaten egg add one cup of sweet milk. Then stir in one cup of genuine wholewheat flour and beat until smooth. Next add a half cup of fat of the wholewheat flour into which has been thoroughly mixed one level teaspoonful of baking powder. Bake in muffin tins in a moderately hot oven until brown. The quantity makes six medium or eight small muffins.

Loop In Colon

Question: M. K. R. asks: "Can a loop in the colon be cured by dieting? What would you advise?"

Answer:—A loop in the colon can be corrected through proper manipulative treatments, supplemented in some cases by certain electrical treatments. If the treatment is carried out you cannot expect diet to produce a cure, although one with a kinked or looped colon will certainly be in better health on a well-balanced diet than when eating haphazardly.

FURNITURE AND INTERIOR DECORATIONS, SO. MANCHESTER

IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 17.—The title of "world's tallest building" has become as fragile and transient as a tennis record, a golf championship or a pugilistic leadership.

Hardly has a new record been established before a "bigger and better" building is announced.

The Woolworth, famed as a tourist attraction, fast threatens to join the pigmies.

Within the past couple of weeks I have watched this race for the skies grow into an elimination contest. I had just become accustomed to watching the Chrysler building soaring to a height of 908 feet, when along came the announcement that the City Bank and Farmers Trust, which is to build on the old site of the Waldorf-Astoria, would climb to 925 feet, making all others look meager and stunted in growth.

New there comes an ordinary mimeograph announcement that this will be a mere strapping when A. E. Lefcourt starts at 49th and Broadway on a puny little 80-story building which will rise to a height of 1050 feet. The present occupant of this space comes under the heading of "landmark" since it was built in 1908 and has the rare old age of 21 years to its credit. It will cost a mere thirty millions, or thereabouts.

Consideration of such gargantuan competition causes even a hard-boiled New Yorker to breathe rapidly. Up in the Adirondacks, a 1000-foot hill is considered something of a mountain, and is thus catalogued in the summer folders—though a westerner must laugh up his sleeve at such a claim.

But what causes the shivers to start creeping is not so much the height of the forecasted building, but the inevitable problems in congestion they will create.

I have no way of knowing how many people will occupy a 1050-foot building, or a 925-foot building. Much smaller skyscrapers boast that three or four thousand people pass through their doors daily.

Now will the people who occupy these new places find transit to and from their homes? Again, the narrow streets have never been widened to accommodate the growth of traffic which must, inevitably, follow. With congestion already at its peak, how can the materials be handled without further complicating matters?

Sooner or later Manhattan is going to have to face a few such problems—and even I may yet wind up on a Connecticut farm before it's through.

No season is complete without some new item named Peggy Joyce, that smart little barber's daughter from Virginia. And the latest connects her name with that of one Lord Furness, quite a noble Britisher who has been seen here and there with her about the Riviera and way points.

In the event anyone has lost count on her husbands—everyone, I take it, has forgotten her last ten light shades—there were Everett Archibald, Shelburn Hopkins, Jr., Philbrick Hopkins, James Stanley Joyce and Count Godts Mornar.

What, only five of them!

Just by way of passing mention—the swanlike girls on Fifth avenue are wearing feather and leather beads from Paris. Gent's winter hats run to deep gray and half a dozen barbers who majored in hair bobbing are looking around for jobs as barbers again.

SHIP PARLEY RESUMED

Geneva, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The ship-owners' delegates today returned to participate in the international maritime conference, the progress of which had been virtually halted by controversy over the seamen's representatives since the sessions began a week ago.

The return followed conferences and the adoption of a compromise resolution which invites the governing body to take measures to prevent the recurrence of such a controversy in later maritime conferences.

The conflict arose from the British shipowners' abstention on the ground that the British seamen's delegation did not truly represent the British seamen. The shipowners of thirty other countries supported the British contention, the seamen's representatives opposed today's action the voting being 54 to 19. The voices of the government delegates carried the resolution, the shipowners not voting.

"Of the 123,000 employees, you have school teachers, firemen, street cleaners, index and file clerks, and bookkeepers. They are not charged with graft. Let me be specific, Mr. Mayor, I am charging the elected and appointed officials with taking graft. Defend that if you can."

Thoughts of Cold!

He thought he couldn't play that night, but the cold he'd caught that morning had departed. Most professional people know what really knocks a cold in a few hours; many go through the winter without any trouble from colds. It's a compound that comes in little white tablets. Take one, and that first snuffle is just about the last; or several tablets if you've let the cold go until it's serious.

Pape's Cold Compound is all you ask for; and the druggist charges 35c for a package, and it never seems to fail for anybody.—Adv.

Socony Special
plus Ethyl"

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW YORK

THIS is the story the dealer tells. In the six weeks that Socony Special plus Ethyl has been on the market, sales have been climbing rapidly: ten . . . fifteen . . . twenty . . . twenty-five . . . thirty per cent higher. From Maine to Long Island, from Buffalo to Boston, the report is the same: "Socony Special plus Ethyl is going like wildfire."

Here are the reasons: Socony Special always was a superior high-compression premium gasoline. Then we did the one thing we could do to make it better. We added Ethyl fluid—at no extra cost to you—making the first high-compression gasoline plus Ethyl ever offered in these parts. The result is just about perfection. Read some of the comments on Socony Special plus Ethyl:

"A few days ago, while on a trip through northern New York, I had a good opportunity to give Socony Special plus Ethyl a good trial. When I left home, the tank was full of ordinary gasoline. Before I started back, I filled up with your new Special. I noticed a big difference. The motor ran much more smoothly, had more power and speed and a quicker pick-up. On this trip I used a full tank going north, while I had nearly two gallons of Special left when I reached home."

"It is not necessary to retard the spark on any of the hills in this section with Socony Special plus Ethyl."

"The clean condition of my spark plugs after 2,000 miles of driving is a clear indication of complete combustion in the cylinders."

"I have been driving one of the new Model A Fords for some time, buying my gasoline at the first convenient pump that would sell it to me at the lowest price. In course of time the car developed a severe knock on the slightest grade and it was just about to have it pulled down for thorough overhaul when your representative suggested I try Socony Special plus Ethyl before going to the expense. Before the first tankful was used, my car was taking the hills without the slightest knock and now operating as quietly and smoothly as it was when I first bought it."

"To me Socony Special plus Ethyl is the best yet. I have used other brands since they have been on the market, but Socony Special seems to have the better pick-up and more real power. Personally I am pleased that you have added this fuel to your other dependable products."

THE STATE THEATRE OFFERS YOU A NEW THRILL!

THE parade of progress cannot be halted. The best musical show you have yet seen on Broadway, regardless of who produced it, will seem an amateurish effort after the first showing of "GOLD DIGGERS OF BROADWAY" at the State Theater Sunday night.

What we said about shows also goes for pictures. If you think you have seen good pictures in the past, then all we can say is,—"You ain't seen nothin' yet."

Warner Bros., who gave you something new with talking pictures and then with singing pictures and then with color pictures,—now give you another thrill!

A typical Winter Garden show, plus Avery Hopwood's play as staged by David Belasco. Plus a singing, dancing chorus of 100 Hollywood beauties. Plus costumes that would make a woman with thirteen children forget her troubles. Plus half a dozen Witmark songs that you will have to whistle willy-nilly. Plus dances as only Ann Pennington can dance them. Plus love scenes as only Conway Tearle can play them. Plus tunes as only Nick Lucas can croon them. Plus wise cracks as only Winnie Lightner can pull them. Plus perfect dialogue as only Vitaphone records it. Plus all the colors of the rainbow. Plus all the unlimited resources of Warner Bros., showmen extraordinary. And the entire production in 100% Natural Color by the Technicolor process.

BURGOYNE SURRENDERS

British General Burgoyne's campaign into New York state from Canada ended disastrously on Oct. 17, 1777, when he surrendered with about 6,000 men to American General Gates at Saratoga.

Burgoyne landed in America early in 1777, having been placed in charge of a powerful expedition of about 10,000 men with orders to penetrate into New York state from Canada, march south along the valley of the Hudson and join General Howe's forces, so as to divide the American confederacy in half.

The British general captured Ticonderoga on July 6, but on August 6 a detachment of his army almost annihilated. He was decisively defeated on Oct. 17.

Burgoyne's surrender was an important victory for the colonists and has been termed the turning point in the revolution.

Washington permitted Burgoyne to return to England, but he was refused an audience with the king and was denied a courtmartial.

Burgoyne went over to the Opposition party and resigned his appointments; but on a change of ministry at the close of the American war he was appointed commander-in-chief in Ireland.

Front Drive Cars Not New; Got Start Back In 1920

New York, Oct. 17.—Front wheel drive cars, as represented by the two now on the market in the United States, are not new in the automotive world. The history of the front drive goes back to 1920.

During that year certain individuals specified front drives in France and Germany, and this demand created units that were crude when compared to the regulation rear drive stock automobiles of the day.

While these models suffered in their earlier days of want of engineering talent, two years later Ed Parville of Paris put on the market an electric front wheel drive that worked with mechanical perfection. During the following year, 1923, Rumpier of Berlin followed with a six-cylinder gasoline front wheel drive, and Tracta of France started production on a small scale.

A Miss in the Motor

How the Hint is Laid on Car Care

BY ISRAEL KLEIN

Science Editor NEA Service Starting will begin to get a little more difficult and troublesome as the cold weather approaches in most parts of the country. The trouble, however, can be averted if proper precautions are taken and the motorist knows how to start his motor properly.

The reason why a motor fails to start as early in cold weather as in warm is because of the large proportion of cold air that is mixed with the gasoline through the carburetor. This makes a cold dry mixture. At the same time, the region around the spark is so cold that all the heat given out by the first sparks is absorbed by the cold metal of the cylinder head, the cold water in the cooling system and the cold, dry fuel mixture.

It takes several hot sparks, therefore, to heat up the cylinder head enough to permit the fuel to burn quickly.

ture at all, but pure gasoline entering the combustion chambers to be ignited by the spark and to heat up the motor.

This expediency of holding out the choke, however, must not be over-rated, or the driver doing so will find the engine stalling on him—over-choke. The choke may be held out all the way when starting, but should be only part way out until the engine is warmed up. Then it should be forced all the way in, permitting the carburetor to mix the requisite amount of air with the gasoline to make driving efficient and economical.

Choking while starting is not any too good for the motor. But until a way is found to warm up the engine before starting, so that the right fuel mixture can be injected from the start without trouble, choking has to be resorted to.

While this starting process is mostly for the purpose of warming up the motor, it also does at least part of its work in the form of turning over the engine. Many motorists make this for the cue to get going. It is wrong and costly. Putting a load on the engine while it is cold and is only in the process of being warmed up is hard on all the wearing parts. The oil hasn't had time enough to work its way up the cylinder walls and through the bearings. The gasoline that is being injected is a heavier mixture than ordinarily is not being burned through thoroughly and some of it is escaping unburned into the crankcase to mix with the lubricating oil. As if the car is moving, the rush of air through the radiator is cooling the water, when in fact it should be warmed up to the temperature at which the engine will operate efficiently.

As a further step in warming up the engine by this process, the choke is pulled out in order to prevent air from entering the carburetor and mixing with the fuel there. The resultant "mixture" is really no mixture at all, but pure gasoline entering the combustion chambers to be ignited by the spark and to heat up the motor.

A minute or two longer in the garage each day may mean a year or two longer life for the car.

Motor Hints

Timely Suggestions on the Care of the Car by the Automobile Club of Hartford.

TESTS FRONT BRAKES.

For the discriminating motorist who wants to be sure that the front brakes are in equid adjustment the following simple test will be found useful:

Select a smooth street where traction is sure to be equal on both front wheels. Have the pressures equal in both front tires and the threads as near the same as possible. Then step on the gas, and at a good rate of speed apply the brakes.

If equalization is satisfactory there should be no sensation at the steering wheel that the car wants to turn to the right or left. If one brake is tighter than the other there will be a decided pull of the steering wheel in the direction of that particular brake.

Try the brakes for moderate stopping as well as for maximum deceleration.

CONSIDER BOTH ENDS.

In trying to break a car to the habit of bobbing up and down most motorists go the limit with tight adjustments on the front spring control devices, but usually overlook the rear ones.

Yet the adjustment of the rear controls plays a part in the general behavior of the car as it rides the rough roads. For maximum riding qualities it is necessary to adjust all four devices in harmony.

Often a motorist will go to the trouble and expense of switching to some other make of spring control device when the bobbing of his car is largely due to his carrying too little air pressure in the tires.

And, like as not, the underinflated tires are found on the rear wheels.

GREASE BINDS THE BRAKES.

The idea that getting too much grease into the front wheel bearings of cars with internal brakes will result in the brake falling to hold is a dangerous one. Often the grease causes the brakes to grip so severely as to present special dangers.

Friction, created by action of the brakes heats the excess grease inside the brake drums and forms hard cakes. Cases have been reported where sudden application of the brakes under such circumstances has resulted in the wheels locking.

It is quite a job to remove the grease from brakes and the danger of locking the wheels should be evident. Besides, there is no need for this sort of trouble. Just see that an inexperienced mechanic doesn't put more grease into the wheel bearings than they are designed to hold.

STARTING IN SECOND GEAR.

Many motorists with new and peppy cars are asking, "Is it wrong to start in second instead of low if the car is on level ground and there are not too many passengers aboard?"

Merely answering this question with a "no" would not be telling the whole story. The truth is, many of the new cars should be started in second and would prove to give still more satisfactory service if that were the rule rather than the exception.

Higher speed engines are now the rule. Engines now have more power—more actual torque—in any speed and particularly in low gear. A lot of clutch and rear end trouble can be traced to starting in low with these higher speed engines.

Drivers still think they must give the engine quite a little gas before letting in the clutch and you see their cars starting off like jackrabbits. Second speed is about right in most cases.

LIFT IT THIS WAY.

When windows of the closed car start to give trouble the average car owner commences to worry because the mechanism of these parts seems to be so difficult to get at.

Recently an owner could not get a window more than half way raised because the handle refused to operate. He drove home with the rain beating into the car and never discovered until he reached his garage that it would have been a simple matter to have lifted the glass by hand.

The garageman pressed his hands against the outside of the glass and instructed the owner to press against the inside. Together they raised the window and closed it tightly.

KNOWING THE POWER PEAK.

Most motorists have heard of "torque" and have preferred to pass it off as one of the motor mysteries, but better results could be had if they gave this subject more thought. Perhaps you have noticed that sometimes your car will go past another machine at a fast clip while other times it is slow in gaining additional speed necessary to giving the other fellow your dust. The difference is largely a matter of accelerating at the engine speed when the torque (pulling power) is greatest. You just accidentally select or miss the right speed.

Why not know at what speed your engine actually delivers maximum pull so that you can do your fancy acceleration and pass at that speed? It's a simple matter to discover this speed and knowing it helps to avoid trying to make the engine do the impossible.

Among the oldest women present were Mrs. Elizabeth Barber, 91, and Mrs. William Jones, 88. Both are among the oldest members of the church and have not been able to attend the regular Sunday church services for several years. It was indeed a most pleasant afternoon for all who attended. Mrs. George Herzog, president of the organization, Mrs. Thomas Neil, and Rev. George S. Brookes were in the receiving line and cordially greeted the guests.

BACKS ARCHITECT
 Brussel, Belgium, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Louvain tribunal today pronounced judgment in favor of Whitney Warren, New York architect, who designed the reconstructed Louvain University in his dispute with the university over an inscription placed on a balustrade of the library. The inscription which commemorated the destruction of the university by "teutonic fury" was considered objectionable by the university because it tended to revive memories of wartime hatred.

HAINES PICTURE TELLS OF SPEED CLASSICS

"Speedway" at State Friday and Saturday—Has Remarkable Cast.

William Haines steps on the gas and roars to victory in love, if not in an auto race, in "Speedway," a thrilling drama of the American speed classic, filmed at the Indianapolis races, which opens a two-day engagement at the State Friday.

"Speedway" is not only a perfect chronicle of the great speed classic, which is shown in its entirety, accidents and all, but is a vivid story of the "inside" of the lives of the speed demons who yearly engage in the grueling contest.

Haines is seen as a wise-cracking mechanic who gets his big chance as a race-driver—and uses the chance to achieve one of the most dramatic of sacrifices. It is a role in which his whimsical humor is at its best and is contrasted with some really fine serious acting.

Amia Page is cast as the heroine and acquits herself in a decidedly creditable manner. Ernest Torrence is seen as an old Scotch auto racer who has tried for years for victory. Karl Dane supplies the comedy relief as the stolid auto mechanic, "Steve." Others in the cast include Polly Moran and John Miljan.

It is fast and furious fun, with no little drama included, presented with a thrilling sound score. The program will also include chapter two of "The Final Reckoning," a serialization of the story of the same name by G. A. Henty, one of the most popular boys' stories ever written. Every boy and girl will want to follow the picturization of this old classic. A comedy, "Blondes Beware," the latest news events and a Vitaphone Vaudeville act, "The All-Girl Revue" completes the bill.

NEW AIR MAIL ROUTE, N. Y. TO BUENOS AIRES

Washington, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The giant flying boat "Buenos Aires" of the New York, Rio and Buenos Aires line, took off from the Naval Air Station here shortly before 6 o'clock on the first stage of a flight of which Buenos Aires is the ultimate destination.

Lieutenant William S. Grooch, first pilot, just before swinging the great craft out onto the Potomac for the beginning of its maiden voyage said he expected to refuel at Charleston, South Carolina, and take off immediately for Jacksonville, reaching the Florida city by night.

The twenty-passenger flying boat with its load of four passengers, company officials, and extra gear will not attempt to maintain a schedule but November 10 has been set as a tentative date for its arrival in Buenos Aires.

The "Buenos Aires" was christened by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, two weeks ago, at a ceremony in which the heads of the diplomatic missions of 21 Latin American nations participated.

KILLED BY AUTO

Chicago, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Julius Thompson Benedict, son-in-law of the late Dr. John E. Murray, and well-known in Chicago's club life, was killed by a hit-and-run motorist last night.

Mrs. Benedict made the identification of her husband's body. Mrs. Hyde was knocked down, suffering a broken arm, scalp wounds and possibly a spinal injury. Benedict's body was carried a considerable distance before it dropped from the front bumper and was run over. Physicians believed he might have escaped death if a motorist had made an effort to stop the car.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY SUGGESTIONS

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT HEADQUARTERS

Now is the time to paint for real economy. All wood is thoroughly dried and seasoned by summer's blistering sun. The balmy fall weather is ideal for painting. And most important of all—you obtain full protection during the winter months when it is needed most. Neglect nothing. Your house, the garage, fences, shutters—every exposed surface should receive an armor-like coating of SWP.

SWP is the world's best paint bargain

If your house were mine, the only paint used would be SWP. Long experience with all kinds has convinced us that it is the world's best house paint.

And it costs less on your home—remember that. Of course you can buy paints at a lower cost per gallon. But you are not interested in gallon price. The one thing of importance to you is, "how much will it cost to paint my house?"

SWP costs less per job because few gallons are needed. Its wonderful body thoroughly covers more square feet of surface per gallon.

And when the job is completed you have the best protection and clean, true colors that retain their beauty to the very last.

The best way to prove the economy of SWP is to get our estimate. Come in and see how convincing our figures are. You'll enjoy looking over our big, new book showing the latest color suggestions, too. Do it before ruinous winter doubles the cost of repainting.

Havard Is Lone Member Of 'Big Three' Unbeaten

Situation Three Years Ago Will Be Repeated if Army Trims Contabs Saturday; Other Highlights.

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Three years ago Harvard, Princeton and Yale fell from the football march during October. The annihilation of the ancient triumvirate was accomplished by Geneva, the Navy and Brown. Princeton braced up in 1927 and 1928, and carried its colors each time to within one scant stride of the promised land, only to stumble at the finish. But the current campaign holds an unkind beginning for the founders of intercollegiate football.

With the Tigers edged and the Blue trounced, Harvard will take the field against the Navy at Cambridge Saturday, a lone defender of the tradition of big three invincibility. The Crimson will be depending on its forward wall and an upset to turn back the Navy and the Christian "Kicker" Cagle and the Army's equal than many are willing to concede, but the Contabs nevertheless remain second choice by a hair.

Princeton's plans for a comeback at the expense of Cornell in Ithaca may be broken up by the same policy which cost the Brown game last Saturday—the slow and conservative development of the Orange and Black for perfection in the big games of November and not until then. Although the Yale game always will remain, and properly, the Yale game to Princeton, this slow moving charge of the Tiger seems particularly futile this season with only an under-par Ell eleven to be met at the finish.

The Princeton-Cornell fray is something of a puzzle, with the Tigers favored to win, but with the big Red eleven distinctly possessing a chance to register its fourth victory over Princeton in 19 games dating back to 1892.

Brown will come down to New Haven with a great pre-game chance since the afternoon in 1910 when Earl Sprackling led a favored Bruin eleven to its first victory over the Blue.

The defense which held a potentially strong Princeton attack and the one-year mark could easily break havoc upon a new sweeping assault which the Blue has not yet begun to master.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—(AP)—President E. S. Barnard of the American League believes the American is 20 per cent stronger than the National League and he credits the New York Yankees for the persistent domination in our league has served to set such a pace that other club owners were compelled to buy better players" Barnard said today. "As a result the entire league is stronger."

HOPE TO HEAL BREACH. Burlington, Vt., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The hope that a secret meeting between leaders of the two divergent factions within L'Union St. Jean Baptiste D'Amérique had heated the breach which has caused so much tension at the quadrannual convention of the organization here, seemed to have received a jolt today with the proposal by the so-called Daignault wing of the partial slate of general officers including a candidate for the presidency.

TO VISIT U. S. Hamburg, Germany, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A party of members of the German Paper Manufacturers Association sailed today on the steamer Reliance to visit American and Canadian paper centers.

WE'LL NEVER FORGET That—

HOWARD EHMKE fanned 13 Cubs to set a new strikeout record for a world series. Thirteen more Cubs struck out the next day in the second game. Mickey Cochrane twice broke runs once he had the world series record of putouts for a catcher in a single game. Al Simmons equaled the feat of Ross Young in 1921, of hitting for a total of five bases in one inning. The Athletics set a new mark for runs scored in one inning, counting 10 to shatter the record of eight set in 1912 by the Giants. They also registered 10 hits in one inning to set a new record. Scoring 18 runs in the fourth game, the Cubs equaled the record established by the two New York teams in 1921. The Cubs were guilty of striking out 50 times in five games, breaking the mark of 44 strikeouts by the Giants in six games. Al Simmons, Jimmy Foxx and Jimmy Dykes each made two hits in one inning to equal the record of Ross Young, New York Giants. The Simmons and Foxx tied Frank Fritch's achievement in scoring two runs each in the same inning. Mule Hass and Al Simmons became the fifth pair of teammates to turn the trick. By fanning 17 men in 13 1/2 innings, George Earnshaw bettered the performance of Smokey Joe Wood, who whiffed 21 in three full games in 1912. Lefty Grove struck out 10 batters in 6 1/2 innings. As a pinch-hitter, Gabby Hartnett was retired on strikes three times. Rube Walberg in the final game retired the side on three pitched balls. "Rajah the Great" Hornsby struck out eight times in the series. Ehmke and Foxx pulled the heroic stuff in the first game by pitching and batting feats. Hitting by Dykes and Mule Hass and Jimmy Dykes placed them on the pedestal with Ehmke and Foxx. Bishop and Cochran, by uncanny fielding feats at second base and behind the plate, won a place in the series spotlight. Last half of the seventh inning of the fourth game, when the Athletics came from behind with that smashing 10-run rally. Jimmy Dykes' string catch and Simmons' one-hand stab to pluck a fly out of the left field boxes in the first contest. Ear-splitting roar of the grandstand and bleachers that acclaimed the Athletics the world champions in the fourth game. Great running catch of Kiki Cuyler that robbed Al Simmons of a home run in the final game. Charley Grimm proved his class as a great first baseman by his capable fielding throughout the series. Smart pitching of Guy Bush to win the Cub's lone victory. Great ninth-inning rally staged by the Athletics which won the final game of the 1929 series.

SPORT SLANTS Alan J. Gould

One of the most interesting of the debates left over by the World's Series concerns the speed of Bob Grove, southpaw ace of the Athletics, and how it compares with the fire of other famous sharpshooters.

The series display of pitching settled at least one portion of the argument that has been going on for some time. Nothing that any other twirler on either team showed could compare with the sheer speed that Grove let loose at several stages of the series. Before-hand, it was debated whether Earnshaw or Walberg of the A's did not have a faster ball than Grove, or whether Root and Malone of the Cubs might not display more zip. Before the assembled board of critics Grove put on an exhibition that settled all this.

Yet it is difficult to convince any number of old timers that Grove is as fast as Walter Johnson or Cy Young or Amos Rusie or Rube Waddell or Dazzy Vance, when the dazzler was in his prime a few years ago.

"Grove is different from all the rest in the way he shoots the ball, without any exaggerated windup or appearance of bearing down or sidarm motion, such as Johnson used," declared George Moriarty, the old Detroit star, and now an umpire. Moriarty batted against most of the old-time American League speed kings but he hesitates to say which was the faster.

"I batted against Cy Young when he was supposed to be nearly through but he tossed a few past me before I knew it," said Moriarty. "If he was that good then, I wondered what he might have had in his prime."

"Waddell had tremendous strength, broad shoulders, and more of a sweeping delivery than Grove, who seems to snap the ball. Johnson threw bullets past the boys for a long time."

Vance has lost some of the hop on his fast one but as recently as two years ago Rogers Hornsby told me there was no doubt whatever in his mind that when the Dazzler turned it on, he had more speed than any other twirler in the National League.

Tommy Loughran was in the press-box the day that the Athletics gave their famous "count of ten," the knockout to the Cubs at Shibe Park. "I know how groggy the Cubs must feel after that one," said Tommy as he recalled the wallop that had him dazed and "out on his feet" the night he fought Jack Sharkey in another ball park, the Yankee Stadium.

VARRICK'S PITCHING DECIDES THE TITLE

Leads Majors to Championship Despite Bad Injury; Wallet on Receiving End.

Charlie Varrick, local baseball pitcher, won considerable fame in the Williamsport Sunday afternoon when he pitched the Majors to a 5-2 victory over the Rossie Velvet team in the deciding game of the city championship series. The veteran "Woody" Wallet, also of Manchester, caught his delivery.

Varrick was badly injured in the first of the ninth inning when struck side of the head by a fast ball pitched by "Lefty" Curtis. He was knocked to the ground and blood trickled from his left ear. It was feared at the time that he was seriously injured.

He lay north end youth refused to quit and after his team had batted in two runs in this frame, to increase a 3-2 lead to 5-2, came back and stood the Velvetmen in their heads in the final half of the inning during which he struck out "Lefty" Dugas, hard-hitting Tatville slugger.

SETTLING THE POINT IN GOLF

DROPPING THE BALL. In dropping a ball the player must face the hole toward which he is shooting and drop the ball behind him over his shoulder. The penalty for a breach of this rule is loss of the hole.

When a ball is driven from the tee out of bounds, the player must re-tee as nearly as possible at the spot from which the ball that went out of bounds was played.

On Bunker and in Ditch. A player's rights where the ball lies on the edge of a bunker or ditch, or the slope of a bunker or ditch, often occasion confusion. A player is allowed to ground his club in address the ball under the definition of a bunker, the sloping sides are not technically a part of the bunker.

BOB MEUSEL SOLD OUTRIGHT TO REDS

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Bob Meusel, veteran outfielder who has been with the New York Yankees since 1920, has been sold outright to the Cincinnati Reds after all clubs in the American League had waived on his services, it was announced today at the office of the Yanks.

Meusel, the oldest member of the Yankees in point of service, is the second American League veteran to be sent to Cincinnati in as many days. Harry Heilmann, Detroit heavy hitter, was released to the Reds on Tuesday as the first move in Dan Howley's program of reorganization at Cincinnati.

Although always a good hitter, Meusel was benched late this season in favor of young Sam Byrd. His passing as a member of the Yanks caused little surprise, but it had been expected he was to go, he would strengthen the former champions for the next campaign.

AL DOWD TO MEET PITTSFIELD BOXER. Al Dowd, local junior lightweight boxer, will box in an eight round semi-final bout with Young Chamney of Pittsfield, Mass., in this city next Monday night. Dowd has been working out steadily in preparation for his next fight. He tipped the scales at 134 pounds this morning. This will be the first fight since last summer when he won a four round decision in a Bridgeport fight.

Local Schoolboys Can Prevent Silver City from Capturing League Trophy by Winning Friday; Davis Out With Injured Shoulder, Mozzero to Play.

Like a prizefighter clinching and stalling to shake off the ill effects of a damaging blow content to gain draw decision, Manchester High's football eleven will face its main objective of the season tomorrow afternoon when Meriden High comes to the West Side field to do battle.

The game starts at 2:45. To make a long story short, Meriden has won the C. C. I. L. League title on two occasions since the circuit was founded in 1926 and Manchester has captured the pennant once. This was the last year when the strongest gridiron team which ever represented Manchester High marched roughshod over all league opposition to win the flag without a single defeat. Now all Meriden needs is one more league championship to win the coveted trophy offered the three-time winner.

Although Manchester hopes to compete a successful season, its chances of winning the league title are admittedly slim this season due to the fact that most of the material on last fall's great team has been lost through graduation.

Stalling For Time. Hence Coach Tom Kelly's admission that he will be satisfied if his team can prevent Meriden from winning the title this season. And so, like a fighter in the ring, the crimson-clad local warriors will be literally stalling for time tomorrow.

Manchester will be out to win. Make no mistake about that, but it realizes its chances to cop the league title are pretty slim. Therefore, Manchester is out to win tomorrow and thus prevent Meriden from reaching the coveted goal.

Both Manchester and Meriden have tasted one defeat in the league already. East Hartford tripped the locals 6 to 0 in the first game of the season while West Hartford put a decided crimp in Meriden's hopes with a 3 to 0 victory. One more defeat will definitely put Meriden out of the running and that is what Manchester seeks to do tomorrow.

The Kelleys of Meriden are 0 to 0 and tied Bristol 0-0 while Meriden trounced Lewis High of Southington 38 to 0 and beat Buckley High of New London 7 to 0. Both of these teams are on Manchester's schedule.

There will be only one new face in the local lineup for the Meriden game. Young Art Davis will be absent from his post at center due to a strained shoulder. McKinney will take his place with Mozzero going to the latter's stall at guard. The rest of the lineup will be intact. It is expected that considerable improvement will be noted in the selection of players which was poor last week resulting in Manchester falling to score all of the four times it brought the ball inside of Bristol's ten yard line. In that game Quarterback Fmie Depp was benched and the plays of the heart of the Bristol line in preference to circling the ends which had resulted in most of the yardage. However, his human to err and divine to forgive, so Duggan received a dislocated elbow in scrimmage yesterday and will be out for several weeks.

Providence—John Ferrebee, Brown sophomore, is learning the ups and downs of football. Just when he seemed to be developing into a real star he received a dislocated elbow in scrimmage yesterday and will be out for several weeks.

New York—Chick Meehan seems to be worried about the result of the game between N. Y. U. and Penn State. He made his second game in the violet lineup yesterday, sending Dave Meyers to quarterback. Princeton—Bill Roper has become one of football's leading experimenters this week. He has to find a team which can beat Cornell from among the members of a squad that didn't beat Brown.

Football Briefs

Cambridge, Mass.—Injuries are giving Coach Arnold Horwath of Harvard a lot to think about. He had to shift his whole lineup yesterday when Talbot, right guard was injured.

West Point—Army's hopes for a victory over Harvard are rising with the improvement of the cadet playing game. It worked beautifully yesterday and the regulars went sailing right through a team of scrubs and first string subs.

BUSCH'S CLASSES BEGIN SATURDAY. The junior swimming and life-saving classes at the School Street Rec will begin Saturday morning with Frank C. Busch, Globe Hollow lifeguard, in charge. The swimming class will be in session from 10:15 until 11 when life-saving will be taught until quarter of twelve.

THE BOOK SURVEY

The war, for all the pacifists will tell you and all the beautiful strength of the anti-war novels that flooded the world nowadays, was not a total loss in human virtue. A few million men who bore arms in the late conflict will be glad to see a book which bears that out. A few million more who found in the war the only really good time they have ever had in their lives will be glad of a book which shows their memories are decent. A few million bereaved should find comfort in a book which shows that their dead did not meet death quite in the fashion of a steer in a slaughterhouse. The heroic virtues we heard of while the war was on were real. If the heroic virtues were practiced in a fashion of practicality was seen, and the officers who saw were not killed and were honest enough to make a report, the hero, if he was an American, received the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Ninety men, out of the two million Americans who bore arms in France, so far have been awarded that medal—the most difficult hero medal in the world to win. Twenty-eight of them died in the exploit that won it. The exploit which won each medal was one to carve glory on the skies. But were these Medal of Honor men supermen, courageous sports, different from the persons you and I knew in the various services, different from those you and I know now? If they were, how did they differ?

James Hopper, who saw the war as a war correspondent, set out to find out. His book is "Medals of Honor" (Day, $3). It gives the entire history, based on the citation, on Hopper's investigation, and on an interview, "10 years after," with each of the medalholders, of a dozen Medal of Honor men picked at random from the 50-odd who are still alive. The book is as noble a volume of pure adventure as one will find in a very long search.

The dozen men portrayed in this book pretty nearly cross-section the American population. One was a Texas lad, cowpuncher. One was a college kid who did not require that he had gone to high school, regular army sergeant before the war, a hard-boiled soldier who now, terrified, makes his living as a professional receiver in New York.

Another was a Cornell student, now a juvenile-book publisher with his father. Another was an English landscape gardener, now a florist in Stamford, Conn. Another was an Irish kid from back of the yards in Chicago—before the war, during the war, and still, spilling for a fight. Another was a Jewish top set-gent, a newspaperman who enlisted at 38 because he was patriotic. He still is. So was and is his wife. They are willing to give their lives to their country. But he earns his living playing the stock market.

Some of them were technically "good soldiers" and some were not. Descriptively, the whole lot could have been matched in an outfit of will fame. Descriptively, the whole lot could be matched in any American Legion post now.

But their exploits were all glorious. They were heroes, all right. Don Marquis' New Tales Are His Best to Date.

"A variety of people," Don Marquis calls his latest collection of short stories (published by Doubleday, Doran & Co. at $2). You may have read a good many of them in the magazine; I have; but I enjoyed reading them again. They seem to me the best collection Marquis has put out in a book. Doubtless that is because the stories do make a variety. The Old Soak appears, of course, with some of his curious transmutations of Bible tales. So does Tim O'Meara, whose ancestor, Tim O'Meara, appears this time at the greatest dipomat of all Ireland in an intrigue which involved two red-headed women, Queen Elizabeth and Mary Queen of Scots.

But Marquis is best, I think, not as a funny man, but in a story of pure drama, or of dramatic pathos. "The Strong Grasses," which opens the volume, is one of these. Here Marquis has tried his hand at the hardest thing a short-story writer can try: Writing the articulate story of the inarticulate. He succeeds.

This Spanish Satire Is Finely Written. Difficulties of translation have hitherto kept out of English translation every book but one. Don Ramon del Valle-Inclan, leader of that famous group of Spanish writers called the Generation of 1898.

Primarily a poet, his prose style is generally regarded as the finest now in his country. Now Henry Holt & Co. publishes a translation of what has been hailed, since 1926, as his finest novel and one of the finest of contemporary Europe.

It is published here as "The Tyrant" (its Spanish title being "Trono Banderos," since the Tyrant Banderos is the hero—or villain). Whatever the difficulties of the translation may have been, here is a book of uncommon crispness and gusto, and as beautiful satire as one could ask.

The satire, directed mostly against the Latin-American Republics' Mother Country—if it were not there it is directed more against these republics themselves. There are some jibes at the United States, at the diplomatic corps, and at everything else in sight.

Amazing Discovery -- ERBJUS -- Brings To Conn. Residents Continued Good Health

It Gave These Home-Town Friends And Neighbors A Keen Appetite—Restful Sleep—Active Days, Full Of Life And Vigor—Good Blood—Steady Nerves And To Sum It All Up—Health And Strenght

OLD NORWALK RESIDENT TELLS OLD FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS ABOUT ERBJUS

MR. CHARLES HYATT

Two years ago, Uncle Charlie Hyatt, who now resides at 160 W. Church street, Seymour, Conn., and is 94 years of age, gave us the following testimonial: "I never saw anything like ERBJUS. Owing to my age I was naturally constipated and rheumatic and seemed to be getting worse. I tried many ways and many systems to get relief, but none came through. I would have a great deal of distress after eating and had some bladder trouble. "The hot weather bothered me a great deal. I heard of ERBJUS and started taking it. It surely is a great tonic and I began to feel better. My trouble seemed to vanish and you can see today as I am posing for this picture, that I am quite hale and hearty for my years, and I do not hesitate to say that ERBJUS is helping me over the rough spots. The writer called on Uncle Charlie at his home in Seymour in July, 1929, and the old gentleman was still spry and still says that it was ERBJUS that got him through last winter and he doesn't know how he could get along without it. Many of the old Norwalk residents will remember Mr. Hyatt and feel glad that he has reached such an advanced age and still in good health.

ANOTHER HARTFORD RESIDENT PRAISES THE NEW MEDICINE ERBJUS

MISS EDITH WALLWORK

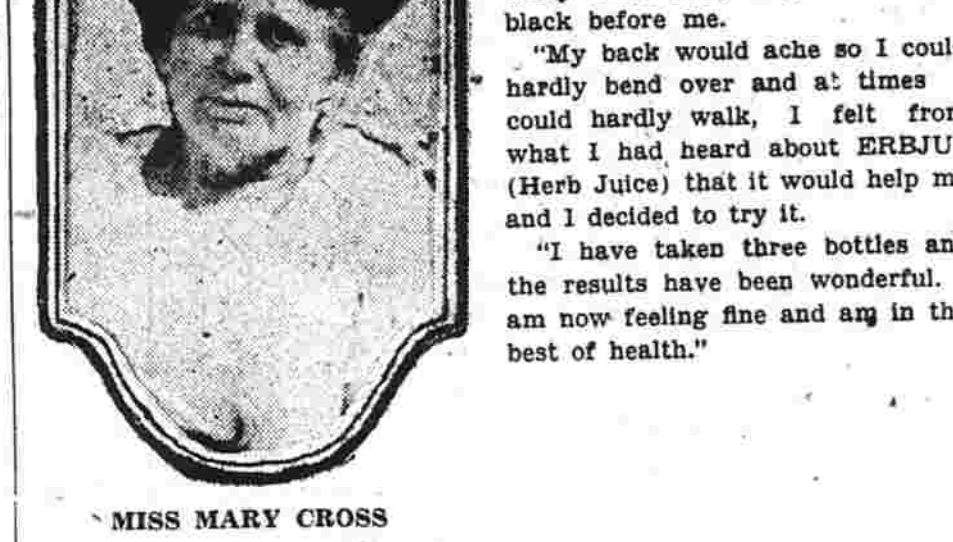

Miss Edith Wallwork of 876 Broad Street, Hartford, Conn.—Did Suffer With Stomach Trouble, Headaches and Dizzy Spells—She Does Not Now Because She Took ERBJUS (Herb Juice).

turn to gas which would press up around my heart. I would have sharp shooting pains in my chest. "I suffered with headaches and very bad dizzy spells, I would get so dizzy at times I would have to sit down before falling. "I read of ERBJUS (Herb Juice) and of the many people it had helped—also that it was just herb juice diluted in glycerine and so I made up my mind to give it a trial, too. "I have now taken two bottles and the results I received are wonderful—I eat anything now and never have a sour stomach or a gas pain. Indigestion is a thing of the past. "I never have a headache or a dizzy spell—that tired worn-out feeling has disappeared and I feel full of ambition. "I am happy and pleased to endorse this wonderful medicine ERBJUS (Herb Juice) as it has made me free from all aches and pains."

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE EVERYWHERE SPEAK IN HIGHEST TERMS OF ERBJUS AND ITS MARVELOUS EFFICIENCY

HEADACHES AND DIZZY SPELLS MADE HARTFORD LADY VERY MISERABLE

Mrs. Mary Cross of 146 Francis Ave., Hartford, Conn., Tells How ERBJUS (Herb Juice) Dispelled Her Troubles.

MISS MARY CROSS

Mrs. Cross says: "For the past four years I have suffered with my stomach and it was always sour and acid after eating. "Gas would press up around my heart giving me intense pain and I had headaches and dizzy spells so badly that everything would turn black before me. "My back would ache so I could hardly bend over and at times I could hardly walk, I felt from what I had heard about ERBJUS (Herb Juice) that it would help me and I decided to try it. "I have taken three bottles and the results have been wonderful. I am now feeling fine and am in the best of health."

Important Announcement

To prove that ERBJUS is one tonic whose benefits live long after it has been used—in this announcement are several testimonials written by those who FIRST USED ERBJUS FIVE YEARS AGO. A recent investigation, for the purpose of determining the lasting powers of this tonic shows—THE USERS ENTHUSIASTICALLY RE-INDORSE ERBJUS—stating that the good health they gained through its use—still remains FIVE YEARS afterwards. SUCH GLOWING TRIBUTES MUST BE WELL MERITED.

SO. NORWALK LADY 96 YEARS YOUNG TELLS THE PUBLIC HOW TO FEEL WELL

MRS. M. J. SLAUSON

On Oct. 19, 1923, just very near six years ago, Mrs. Slauson gave us the following testimonial: "I have suffered a great deal with bladder trouble and constipation. I guess a great deal of it because of my age. I feel weak and run down after my attacks of indigestion. I have been and now am a believer in herbs and after finding out that ERBJUS contained no alcohol I felt that it must be quite a medicine. I have taken three bottles and it steadied my nerves and gave me a great appetite and I feel better in every way. To talk plainly, it braced me up and I could almost feel the new health flowing through my veins. I do not hesitate to indorse this remedy and I trust my friends and neighbors will try ERBJUS as it certainly helped me. "In July, 1929, the writer called on Mrs. Slauson and found her bright and happy. She easily walked down the stairs and on to the front porch and had the photo taken that accompanies this article. She is still a strong indorser of ERBJUS and has had no return of the former trouble. Mrs. Slauson is today as spry as most women at sixty. Her one desire is to reach the century mark.

NEW DECIMO CLUB MAKES ITS DEBUT

Old Founder Organizes Secret Association Among Youths of Two Cities.

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Herald-Tribune today says that Hugh B. Monjar, founder of the Decimo Club, which went out of existence some time ago after an investigation by the state attorney general's fraud bureau, is now engaged "in the business of aiding 100,000 citizens to wealth, position and business independence at a cost to each of $10 down and $3 a month."

Obviously in business here as an accountant, says the paper, Mr. Monjar and his associates are busy enrolling young men in his business service at two offices in New York and one in Newark, N. J.

Secret Organization. The organization is conducted with great secrecy and all accepted candidates are sworn, upon payment of their $10 initiation fee, to hold in confidence all information entrusted to them by Monjar and his associates.

Representatives of the company have disclosed there is no printed literature describing the service and that no advertising of any kind is undertaken. The "service" is permitted to grow by the chain system. Each accepted member selects from among his friends other young, ambitious business men "suitable" to join. In so doing, it was explained, he exercises judgment of character, so important in business and at the same time aids in maintaining the secrecy with which the group is surrounded.

Vague Explanation. The service of the company in return for the fee and dues is of an intangible nature, and is explained in only the vaguest of terms to candidates seeking to be accepted for membership.

The Decimo Club which was investigated by the state in 1927 operated somewhat along the same general lines as the present organization. A temporary injunction against the Decimo Club was obtained restraining it from doing business. It was later vacated by Supreme Court Justice Riegelmann in Brooklyn.

The club was also investigated in Massachusetts, New Jersey and elsewhere.

UNION TRUCKMEN NOT TO WALK OUT

Leaders Decide Not to Join Gas Truckmen in Present New York Strike.

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The 25,000 teamsters and truckmen who had threatened a sympathy strike in conjunction with the walkout of 3,000 oil truck drivers, today were committed to a hands-off policy on the decision of the leaders that the oil truck drivers are fighting the big oil companies, and not the public.

The joint councils of the eighteen locals of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs and Helpers decided that a general strike would have "too dire consequences on the public" as it would tie up their food supplies.

The proposal of a boycott of "non-union gasoline" is still pending, however. Representatives of drivers in Hudson, Bergen and Essex counties, New Jersey, and many union leaders here being said to favor such a move to aid the striking oil drivers.

Both sides were claiming a partial victory in the strike. Peter P. Prunty, Standard Oil Officials and chairman of the committee formed to combat the strike, said it "ready was past the 'breaking point'" and predicted that it would be over in 48 hours.

"Bunk," union leaders responded to this statement, declaring that their ranks were holding firm and that gasoline deliveries were far below normal.

There has been no further serious outbreaks since the pitched battle in Brooklyn Monday night, when two bystanders were seriously injured.

NOON STOCKS

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The downward movement in stock prices was halted late this forenoon when large buying orders appeared for influential shares, such as U. S. Steel, American Telephone and Investment Rails.

Steel, which had sagged 3 1/4 points to 210 1/4, rebounded to 215. National Biscuit was raised 6 points above yesterday's close. American Telephone 5 1/4, St. Joseph Lead 4, Johns-Manville 5 1/2, Chicago, Northwestern, Atchison, New Haven, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, General Electric and Western Union 3.

Early declines, which ran from 1 to 4 points in a number of instances, establishing new lows for the year, were made up by midday. Call money renewed unchanged at 7 per cent. Lingering coughs and colds are dangerous. Throat and Bronchial Balsam for quick relief. Only sold at Magnell Drug Co.—Adv.

ERBJUS HAS DONE SO MUCH FOR ME SAYS MR. REMSEN

Mr. Du Bois Remsen of 10 Webster Street, South Norwalk, Indorses ERBJUS Because It Has Great Merit.

MR. DU BOIS REMSEN

Mr. Remsen indorses ERBJUS on July 20th, 1925, about a year ago, and says it is still good and he wishes to re-indorse. He said: "About five years ago I contracted stomach trouble. I would get dizzy and everything would swim around. I had bloating spells and pains in my back, and it seemed that I just could not relief. The hot weather seemed to affect me and what food I would eat would turn sour and acid. I heard of ERBJUS through a friend of mine and started taking it. The first dose or two relieved my sour stomach and within a day or two the gas and bloating and also the pains in my back disappeared and I began to feel better. I have now taken three bottles and I can candidly say that I never felt so well in my life. Last week during the hot weather I felt just fine and never had a bit of return of my stomach trouble. "If the hot weather is getting you and you tire out easily and your system feels below par, ERBJUS will give you a surprise. It will tone up your system, keep your bowels open and stimulate the kidneys. It will create a healthy appetite and you will digest your food properly. ERBJUS is a tonic and should be taken by anyone that does not feel as they should.

VALUABLE APPLES. Redding, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Three apples cost John H. Crosby of Norwalk $25 here last night. Justice of the Peace Lloyd Blackman fined Crosby that amount when he was arraigned for taking the three apples from a tree on a farm near here.

ERBJUS IS ON SALE IN MANCHESTER AT J. W. HALE CO. AND ALL OTHER LEADING DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

SCHUBERT EVENING TO HONOR COMPOSER

South Methodist Choir Assisted by Miss Gladys Hahn to Render His Works.

In view of the fact that it is just one hundred years since the death of the great composer Schubert, the program of his works to be presented next Sunday night by the South Methodist Choir will lend an especial note of interest; and be a worthy continuance of the many beautiful musical services rendered by this organization during the past five years.

Schubert, during his brief thirty years of life, created an incredible number of works in every form and style of composition. The complete number of his musical works has never been definitely fixed. A great many were unearthed after his death, and to this day an occasional authenticated piece is brought to light. His works embrace nine symphonies, five overtures, much chamber music, twelve sonatas, seven masses, and over six hundred songs.

Schubert's disposition was thoroughly buoyant, his spirit was flooded with joy, and joy of living, and particularly, the ecstasy of musical creation. Like Mozart and Beethoven, he was prodigiously fertile; it is hard to conceive how one man could, in so short a lifetime, put forth such an enormous quantity of almost uniformly important and beautiful music.

The choir will sing, next Sunday night, "Miriam's Song of Triumph" and "The Omnipotence," both of which have very important soprano solos, which will be sung by Miss Gladys Hahn of New York. Miss Hahn has been heard by many in Manchester before, and the remembrance of her lovely voice, together with the fact that in addition to the choir, the Men's Choral Club will sing, should ensure a large and appreciative audience.

Miss Gladys Hahn

NOTE FOUND IN CAN MAY BE McDONALD'S

Kinkawage, Donegal, Irish Free State, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A penciled note reading "Going down in mid-Atlantic, engine trouble" found off the Donegal coast in a rusty tin yesterday is believed here to be that of Lieutenant Commander H. C. MacDonald, who was lost in an unsuccessful attempt to fly from Harbor Grace to London just a year ago.

The note has been sent to Mrs. MacDonald, for possible identification.

Lieutenant Commander MacDonald left Harbor Grace in a tiny Moth plane October 17, 1928. He was last seen about 700 miles out at sea after his take-off, apparently all well.

The note found yesterday was written on the leaf of a diary from which the date had been obliterated. It was signed by what appeared to be "MacDonald."

New York police had turned over to them late in last October a note found near Staten Island which read "Down off coast of Ireland, Captain MacDonald. They considered that message a hoax.

British officers at Fort Lenan and civic guards who have seen the note declared they were satisfied as to its authenticity.

HEADLESS BODY OF WOMAN FOUND

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Greenburgh police today were faced with their second mysterious murder within a month in discovery last night of the badly decomposed and headless body of a woman in a clump of woods near the St. Andrews Golf Club at Mount Hope.

A wedding ring, set with a diamond and another ring from which a stone had been removed from its setting are the only clues.

Dead Long Time

County Medical Examiner Squire said the woman had been dead some time. No clothing was found near by. Police are now searching for the head as a possible means of identification.

Less than a month ago Mrs. Elsa Marshall, 24, was slain by an unknown assailant at Knollwood in Greenburgh.

Within the last few months several violent crimes have occurred in the town of Greenburgh.

Last month a charred body of Dorothy Peacock was found in the woods off Ardsley road.

PRISONER KILLS SELF

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 17.—(AP)—George Berndt, 60, awaiting trial on a charge of manslaughter for beating his 81-year-old wife to death, ended his long life today by hanging himself in his cell in Erie county jail.

The old man had knotted his undergarment about a screen and looped the ends about his neck. Several weeks ago he admitted having beaten his wife to death with his fist, while in a rage after she had refused to give him money.

NOTED ARTIST COMING HERE

Bremen, Germany, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The beautiful 24-year-old soprano Barbara van Kalkreuth sailed today for New York where she expects to do a portrait of Mayor James Walker and other prominent Americans. The bar nesses is a niece of Count von Kalkreuth, one of German's outstanding painters, and has made a reputation for herself with her miniature work.

OLD ESTATES ON MARKET

London, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Two more famous British estates are going on the market.

The Duke of Leeds, John Francis Osborne, who is 28 years of age and succeeded to the title only two years ago, has decided to sell Horneby castle and the surrounding estate in North Yorkshire. The stone house in Dumfriesshire. At the same time, Old Hurst Mencaux castle, near Penvensey in Sussex, has been withdrawn from the market. The highest offer being $175,000. The late Colonel Claude Lowther, who greatly restored the estate, a few years ago refused an offer of $500,000.

WON'T SEE COLUMBUS
NEGLECTED NEXT YEAR

Neglect of any advance arrangements for a celebration of Columbus day this year by Manchester residents of Italian origin and the failure of any general observance of the day has aroused the Italian population to a determination not to let the same thing happen again. Next year it is proposed to have a real celebration.

It is planned to have each of the several Italian societies make small periodic contributions to a general fund for that purpose, to get the arrangements under way well in advance of the anniversary and put on a celebration program that will be worth while.

Atkinson, arriving a few days before her death. Mr. Turkington had made his home from childhood with his grandmother until 1925 when he went to Florida, and located in St. Petersburg.

Mr. Turkington has had some very interesting experiences while in Florida, having had the pleasure of driving some very distinguished visitors around, including Honorable John H. Trumbull, the Governor of Connecticut, George Bacon of Boston, an attorney, who was campaign manager for ex-President Coolidge when he was a candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, and Norman Brown, a noted sports writer. Mr. Turkington, had the pleasure of being introduced by Mr. Brown, to Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia A's, together with the members of the team, shaking hands with Lefty Grove, Mickey Cochrane, and Mr. Turkington, when the next campaign gets under way, and his chances of winning the race, are very good. Herman Dann, Mr. Turkington's employer, is a personal friend of Governor Trumbull, and attended the wedding of Miss Trumbull and John Coolidge, when they were married in Plainville recently. Mr. Dann is expected to be a candidate for Governor of Florida, when the next campaign gets under way, and his chances of winning the race, are very good. He has taken a personal interest in Mr. Turkington, and upon his request for Mr. Turkington to return to Florida, the local young man left immediately.

Edward R. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor of 46 Cottage street, and Miss Anna Marie Flood, daughter of Mrs. Maria Flood of 1888 Stanley street, New Britain, were married this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's church in that city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Walter J. McCann, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The church was artistically decorated with palms and white chrysanthemums.

The bride attendants were Miss Mary Flood, sister of the bride as maid of honor; Donald Mackinnon of this town, best man and William Flood and Joseph Taylor, ushers. The bride was gowned in white transparent velvet, with veil of tulle and duchess lace caught with orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The ceremony at the church was followed by a wedding breakfast and reception for sixty at the home of the bride's mother. Guests were present from this town, Hartford, New Britain, and Farmington. The home was tastefully decorated with vari-colored chrysanthemums and palms.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left today on an unannounced wedding trip. On their return in about ten days they will occupy their newly furnished home at 17 Willard street, Hartford.
