

TREE LIMB FALLS, WRECKS TEA ROOM

Fury of Last Night's Storm Hits Boland's Station on Bolton Road.

Broken off near the base of its trunk by the heavy gale which accompanied last night's downpour of rain, a large section of an historic purple beech tree crashed through the roof of the tea room, wrecking the small tea room adjoining M. J. Boland's gasoline filling station on Middle Turnpike East at the point where Lake street begins.

The tree, said to be the oldest of its kind in Connecticut and one of a very few of its kind in the country, was brought here and planted some 150 years ago. It was about 100 feet in both height and spread. The Boland family took great pride in the tree, not only because of its history but because of its beauty as well.

Whether or not the rest of the tree will have to be cut down is not yet known. Mr. Boland was out of town today and final decision awaits his return. The tree branch into three sections from the top of the tree, and these sections which gave way to the force of the gale last night, breaking off about ten feet from the ground. The break revealed that the tree had decayed badly from age of the tree which gave way crashed through the top of the tea room, and completely wrecked the interior as well as the outside of the building. Mr. Boland said this morning that there seemed little doubt but what the building will have to be re-built. The branch of the tree did not strike the filling station or any other building.

Other Damage There was other damage about town from the storm. The wind slammed shut an open door in the front of the Spherber & Turkington soda shop at the Center smashing the glass. The Connecticut Company reported no difficulty but the Telephone Company had about thirty phones out of order. The main point of trouble was on Middle Turnpike where water leaked into a cable.

It was a tough night for motorists who happened to be caught in the storm. Many cars were stranded along the road when the water swept into the carburetors. The gale was so strong that many motorists said they had difficulty in holding their cars to the road. Many trees were stripped bare of their beautiful autumn attire. The gutters on the streets were filled with leaves and other debris left in the wake of the storm.

Helps Tobacco Men The storm was welcome to the tobacco growers. Their crop, in the aggregate considerably reduced by the ruinous hailstorm of August 1, was in danger of further and heavy damage through the recent weather. It was made impossible to take down the crop hanging in the sheds.

Last night's rain, however, supplied the atmospheric moisture which must be present when cured tobacco is handled. The moment the tobacco was in condition to be moved, a heavy rain fell. The more robust growers called for all available help to get the crop out. The Hartman and Hackett plantations, and probably others, the work began taking down the crop. All evening and until after midnight the operation went forward with a tremendous rush. In one of the big sheds one old time plantation worker, too advanced in years to keep up with the gait set was drafted as an inspirational orchestra. His accordion pealed out lively airs that filled the big shed with musical pep when workers and they got that tobacco down in jazz time.

A big sign board, ten feet square over the corner of Spruce and Birch streets was torn down by the wind last night and landed in the middle of the street with a report like a cannon. Residents of the vicinity came to doors and windows thinking an explosion had occurred. Much loose glass on the East side was blown in getting the full force of the storm.

The yard in rear of L. T. Wood was flooded to the depth of nearly a foot early this morning and the gutters on Bissell street were loaded with wet leaves.

BANKER DIES

Glen Cove, N. Y., Oct. 23.—(AP)—James H. Cocks, president of the Nassau Union Bank of Glen Cove died today aged 70. He also was president of the Nassau county water company and director of several corporations.

HAWAIIAN PROGRAM AT "WHITE HOUSE"

Miss Grace Robertson Tells of Trip to Large Crown Despite Bad Weather.

While the wind howled and rain fell in torrents last night, jollity and good cheer held sway at the Manchester Community Center Hawaiian program, arranged for the purpose of welcoming back their director, Miss Christine Mason, who has been in Princeton, Mass., for several months. It was the first social get-together of the fall and despite the weather a large number of the members from different parts of the town were on hand, and a few from distant places.

The lower rooms of the White house were decorated with autumn leaves. The tables were filled with the traditional Hawaiian in orange branches and candles and red oak leaves. The meal was well cooked and well served. Delicious baked ham was the piece de resistance. The vegetables were grilled sweet potatoes and buttered cabbage. Baked apples on each plate and squash, pumpkin or apple pie with cheese, ice cream, rolls and coffee. A bevy of the prettiest sub-debs at the north end of the town efficiently waited on the diners.

Following the meal an opportunity was given to examine the collection of curios and photographs of Hawaii taken personally by Miss Grace Robertson, speaker of the evening. Previous to the travelogue, and at intervals during the program a number of popular Hawaiian melodies were played by a group of five players from the Marshall Flectral orchestra of Hartford. Hawaiian guitars were used for all the selections.

Miss Robertson during her talk recounted many interesting experiences of her tour of the islands in the Pacific taken last summer. They were not all amusing however, for while in mid-ocean, two of the party was notified of the critical illness of husband and father. Within an hour the transfer to an incoming steamer was made, but the party before reaching their home in Rockford, Illinois, Doctor Keith who had been seized with an attack of pneumonia after their departure, died. Miss Robertson explained that she did not take the motion picture which she had made to bring back to her friends here as a souvenir of her trip. The pictures and the descriptive talk gave the audience a comprehensive idea of these interesting islands, the chief industries, the customs of the people, their houses, the tropical trees, the scenery and the volcanic scenes. At the close the lecture was loudly applauded. The operators were young men from Watkins Brothers.

THORNTON - McCULLOUGH

John Thornton, son of Mrs. Sarah Thornton of Main street and Miss Edna McCullough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCullough of Paterson, N. J., were married Saturday evening at 7:30 in the Second Presbyterian church of that city.

The bridegroom was Mr. William Brown, sister of the bride, Mrs. Martha Brown, bridesmaid, Samuel Thornton, brother of the bridegroom, best man. The ushers were William McCullough and William Brown. The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore a gown of white satin, period style and tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor was attired in a dress of green satin trimmed with point d'esprit, with hat and shoes to match. Her arm bouquet was of yellow chrysanthemums. The bridesmaid wore yellow satin, with hat and shoes to correspond and arm bouquet of orchid chrysanthemums.

The ceremony was followed by a reception for about 75 at the home of the bride's parents. Guests were present from New York and places in Connecticut and New Jersey. The bride and bridegroom are in Washington, D. C., for their wedding journey. The traveling costume of the bride being a green ensemble, the coat trimmed with badger and hat and shoes matching. Mr. and Mrs. Thornton will be at home to their friends after November 15 at Providence, R. I.

TROLLEY DROPS IN HOLE

New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A trolley car fell into a hole in a Brooklyn street today, causing injuries to seven persons. The rear truck jumped the rails at Smith and Degraw streets, and the car traveled a full block before its rear end broke through the covering on the five foot hole which had been dug as part of a subway excavation.

AUCTION

By order of The Probate Court for the District of Manchester, in the State of Connecticut. We will sell on the premises at Public Auction to settle the Estate of the late WILLIAM H. WRIGHT, 128 East Center St., South Manchester, Conn.

SATURDAY, OCT. 26, at 2:30 P. M. The following described Real Estate: Known as 128 East Center St., consisting of a modern Frame House of six rooms and an extra large corner lot. Bounded as follows to wit: Northernly by East Center St., One Hundred and fifty-one (151) feet more or less; Easterly by Foster St., Two hundred and seventy-six (276) feet more or less; Southernly by land now or formerly of William Spears, One Hundred and forty-six and two-tenths (146.2) feet more or less and Westerly by Jane Dewey et al., Two hundred and sixty (260) more or less. TERMS, Ten Per Cent Down at Time of Sale, Balance on the transfer of property. Manchester Trust Co., Administrator.

Auctioneer's Notice—We would be pleased to show this property at any time by appointment and will be on the premises from 12:30 noon on sales date. This is a central location close to the business district on a Main State Highway. Take advantage of this unusual opportunity. Full particulars ROBERT M. REID & SONS, Auctioneers, 201 Main St., Manchester, Conn. Phone 3193.

Speakers at Red Cross Convention

JAMES T. NICHOLSON

MISS EDITH PECKHAM

DOUGLAS GRIESEMER

OBITUARY

DEATHS

Mrs. Anthony Miller, of Oakland street, died at her home last night at 11:40 following an illness with pneumonia. Mrs. Miller was 43 years of age and a native of Lithuania. She came to this country when a child and has lived in Manchester nearly all her life.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Miller leaves three daughters, Mrs. McNeary, Mrs. Lashinsky, of Hartford, Alberta and Adella of this town, and two sons, Anthony, Jr., and Edward of this town.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete but it is expected the services will be held Friday morning in St. Bridget's Roman Catholic church.

FUNERALS

Patrick M. McNeary The funeral of Patrick M. McNeary, former police commissioner in Manchester and the first president of the Manchester City Club, was held at St. James's church this morning, a requiem high mass being celebrated by Rev. Patrick F. Killen, assistant pastor of the church who attended Mrs. McNeary in his last moments and who administered to him the last rites of the church.

There was a large turnout of friends, the Manchester City Club members occupying seats in the center of the church which had been reserved for them. There were twenty-five members of the club present. Three bearers represented the club, the other three bearers being representatives of Rockville Lodge B. F. O. Elks, of which Mr. McNeary was also a member.

As the body was being brought into the church a quartet consisting of Mrs. Clair Brennan, Mrs. Margaret Walsh, of Brooklyn, Mrs. Margaret Sullivan and Miss Arlyne Moriarty sang, "Thy Will Be Done." At the offertory Mrs. Brennan and Mrs. Sullivan sang "O Salutaris" and at the elevation Miss Moriarty sang "Words of the Mass." At the mass Mrs. Brennan sang, "Softly and Tenderly" and at the recessional Mrs. Brennan sang "Face to Face". The bearers, Michael Moriarty, Charles Worwick, Gustave Green, Thomas Brennan, Carl Herrick Thomsen, Brennan, Carl Herrick Thomsen and Earl Ballester, followed the casket from the altar to the door, all the congregation remaining standing until they and the body had left the church. The body was laid to rest in St. Bridget's cemetery, where the parents of the deceased are buried, for interment.

PATROLMAN DONALDSON RESIGNS POLICE JOB

Expect to Go South With Former Patrolman Albert Roberts This Winter. Another change in the personnel of the Manchester police department became effective with the resignation of Patrolman Edwin Donaldson by 8 o'clock. Patrolman Donaldson was selected as a supernumerary policeman in September, 1927, and appointed as a regular this year. He gave no reason for his resignation but it was understood that he plans to go to West Palm Beach in Florida and join the police department there with Albert Roberts, another former Manchester policeman who recently resigned.

ILLINOIS VET HAD FINE TIME ON VISIT HERE

After a three weeks visit here, his first in 13 years, Charles S. Lee, 83 years old Civil War veteran, will return to his home in Hampton, Ill., Saturday. He has been staying at the home of his niece Mrs. Francis Lewis. Mr. Lee was the subject of a recent Saturday special story in this newspaper.

Mr. Lee is the only Hampton survivor of the Civil War. He was a member of the 12th Illinois Infantry, enlisting in 1862. He is a native of Dobsonville and has visited Manchester three times since the war. He left here at the age of eleven.

ABOUT TOWN

Federated Workers of Wapping have announced the date of Friday evening, November 1, for their annual chicken pie supper and sale at the school hall. Supper will be served from 7 to 8 o'clock. There will be a variety of aprons, comfortable and gift articles for sale, as well as home-made food and candy. The general committee in charge of the supper is Mrs. August Burger, Mrs. C. Vinton Benjamin, Mrs. Henry Chandler, Mrs. Homer Lane, Mrs. Walter Nevers and Mrs. Robert Valentine. The profits will be for the work of the Federated church in Wapping.

The meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society which was to have been held last night at the Church of the Nazarene and was postponed on account of the storm, will be held tonight at 7:30. An important business is to come before the meeting a good attendance is desired.

REDS IN UTAH Salt Lake City, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Four Russian aviators bound for New York from Moscow today were awaiting favorable weather reports before taking off for Cheyenne, Wyoming on the next leg of their flight across the United States.

STATE RED CROSS TO CONVENE HERE

(Continued from Page 1)

An important part in the direction of all Red Cross work east of the Mississippi river. He is well known in the east for his leadership in work for under-privileged boys. He directed all the boy's activities for nearly three years in St. George's Parish, New York and was also one of the organizers of the Gramercy Neighborhood Boy's club.

Mr. Nicholson has been director of Junior Red Cross in the former Atlantic division; assistant national director of the Junior Red Cross; assistant manager of the former Washington Division and until recently was assistant to the vice-chairman of domestic operations. He is a speaker of unusual force and interest and is well known to luncheon clubs throughout the east, many of which he has addressed.

Miss Peckham assisted in the re-organizing of the Junior Red Cross service during the World War and was for three years assistant director in the former New England division.

Her wide experience and executive ability led to her appointment as assistant director of the American Junior Red Cross, which organization now comprises more than 5,000,000 American school boys and girls who are learning to be good citizens through its many world-wide activities. Mr. Longfellow is assistant director of life-saving and is widely known for his magazine articles on the subject.

COL. HARRY B. BISSELL BACK FROM EUROPE TRIP

Was Present at Dedication of Chapel at Belleau—Returns On Famous "Bremen." Colonel and Mrs. Harry B. Bissell returned to their home on Elwood street this morning after a two months European trip. Col. Bissell went to Europe primarily to attend the dedication of the reconstructed Belleau chapel which has been built near the site of the famous Belleau Woods battle. This rebuilt chapel is to be a permanent memorial to the 26th division which was largely made up of New England troops. It was destroyed during the World War by 26th division shell fire.

The most impressive he has ever attended, Col. Bissell said. General Gouraud, military governor of Paris during the war and under whom many Manchester boys fought was in attendance as was the Bishop of Soissons. Col. Bissell was the only Manchester man there but this state was well represented.

After the memorial dedication Col. and Mrs. Bissell went through the streets of the city where the Colonel was stationed with the Army of Occupation. They spent considerable time in Germany and sailed from Bremen, Germany, on the new German liner "Bremen" two weeks before they docked at three o'clock this morning after making a record run from Cherbourg to Ambrose Light in 4 days, 18 hours and 24 minutes.

CHARLES CULOTTA PUTS IN COMPLAINT AGAINST EDWARD ZIMMERMAN—CLAIMS HE WAS CAUGHT IN ACT.

The mystery as to identity of the man who has been spitting on Main street store windows appears to have been solved with the lodging of a formal complaint at police headquarters that Edward M. Zimmerman, well known local barber, is the guilty person. Police Lieutenant William Barron is investigating the matter and may place Zimmerman under arrest.

BLAMES RIVAL BARBER FOR WINDOW SPITTING

Charles Culotta puts in Complaint Against Edward Zimmerman—Claims He Was Caught in Act. The complaint against Zimmerman was made this morning by Charles Culotta, another member of the barber profession, who claims he caught Zimmerman in the act of expectorating on the Midget barber shop window as he passed by early this morning. Culotta said he hid in a Ford coupe on the other side of the block at the corner of Main and Maple streets and that he has two witnesses who also saw Zimmerman's act. After letting Zimmerman know that he had been caught, Culotta went straight to the police station to register a complaint.

Culotta said there was little doubt in his mind that Zimmerman was responsible for the similar act committed at the United Malt Store and gave his reason that the proprietor, had shown a preference for Culotta's tonsorial efforts rather than Zimmerman's where he was formerly a patron.

FAVORS YOUNG PLAN

Berlin, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Prussian Diet today overwhelmingly rejected a Nationalist motion calling upon the state ministry to vote in the Reichstrat against the Young plan.

A Nationalist motion demanding the right for civil servants to participate in the proposed Nationalist plebiscite on the Young plan, also was rejected 241 to 150. A Nationalist motion of non-confidence in the government was rejected 218 to 114.

SCHOOL BOARD CUTS ITS BUDGET $925

Organization Meeting Re-Elects Murphy Chairman, Hathaway Secretary.

A reduction of $925 was made today in the budget figures that will be presented to the joint school board by the town board at the meeting to be held next week. The original estimates were presented in June. Included in this reduction there is also provision made for the increase of $600 to the school physician over what was estimated last June. Reductions being made in many different items. In the item of transportation which was estimated at $1,500 last June the contract has been signed for $1,400 meaning a cut of $100; $300 was cut from textbooks and supplies; $250 from special teachers transportation; $75 from the bonus that is given to teachers who take a summer course; $100 from lights, which has been placed at $700 for several years, but has never reached that amount; and $50 from office expenses.

The total amount estimated as needed for the first eight districts last June was $139,430, but with the cuts that have been made there is a saving of $925, which will make the total appropriation $138,505. These figures were accepted at the annual meeting of the town school board held this morning at 10 o'clock. All of the members of the board, which includes Edward J. Murphy, chairman, Russell Hathaway, secretary, James M. Burke, C. Elmore Watkins, Mrs. Sarah Healey and Harold Alvord were present with the exception of Mr. Alvord, who was out of town.

Superintendent of Schools A. F. Howes was present and explained the revised figures that were later adopted. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting Chairman Murphy called attention that first business would be the organization of the committee by electing officers. Mr. Hathaway named Mr. Murphy as chairman of the board and he was selected to succeed himself. On motion of Mrs. Sarah Healey, who met with the board for the first time, being the newly elected member, Russell Hathaway was re-elected as secretary.

The other office to be filled was that of attendance officer and Superintendent Howes spoke of the good work that was being done by James Duffy, which he said was the best that the district had ever had. On motion that he be re-elected, no other names being presented, Mr. Duffy was named for the coming year.

The meeting also took up the matter of naming a committee to represent the town school board at the joint school board meeting. The joint school board this year will consist of members from the town school board, the high school board, the Ninth District board and the board of selectmen. To represent the town school board Elmore Watkins placed in nomination Edward J. Murphy, Russell Hathaway and Mrs. Sarah Healey, all being elected by a vote of 13 to 1.

Attention was given to the figures presented in four different tabulations and each member having been provided with a copy it made checking easier and brought each department and subdivisions clearly before the board, resulting in the acceptance of the record mentioned of Mr. Fowes that the budget as estimated in June be cut in its total $925.

Bills to the amount of $751 were ordered paid for supplies purchased by the schools, an itemized bill of each purchase with vouchers being presented for inspection of the board. One item showing that ink is being bought in a powdered form and mixed as desired, made a considerable saving in this account.

SUGAR MAN DECLARES LOBBYISTS NECESSARY

Continued from Page One Cuba been expanded?" inquired Walsh. Reached the Limit. "It has been expanded this year. I think myself that it has absolutely reached its limit." Lakin said he thought it would be better to have some duty than free trade.

"Why?" asked Walsh. "I suppose that because I was brought up as a Republican," he replied as the crowded committee room roared. "That explains a lot of things," interposed Caraway.

TONIGHT JOE RAPP AND HIS ORCHESTRA of New York City at the Princess Ballroom Rockville Given by the Lucky Six Dancin' 8-12. Admission 50c

Local Stocks

(Furnished by Putnam & Co., Central-Box, Hartford, Conn.)

Table of local stocks including Bankers Trust Co., City Bank and Trust, Cap Nat B&T, Conn River, First Bond & Mtg, Hfd C T C ($25 par), First Nat Hfd, Land Mtg and Title, Mutual B&T, New Brit Trust, Park St Bank, Rts W. L., Riverside Trust, West Hfd Trust, Bonds, Insurance Stocks, Aetna Casly ($10 par), Aetna Insurance, Aetna Life ($10 par), Automobile ($10 par), Conn. General, do, rts, do, ($10 par) W. I., Hartford Fire, Hfd Steam Boiler, Lincoln Nat, National ($10 par), Phoenix, Travelers, Public Utility Stocks, Conn Elec Svc, Conn Power, do, pfd, do, vtc, Hartford & W G pfd, Hfd Gas, do, pfd, do, rts, S N E T Co., Manufacturing Stocks, Acme Wire, do, pfd, do, vtc, Am Hardware, Amer Hosiery, American Silver, Arrow H&H, do, com, Automatic Refrig, Bigelow Hfd, com, do, pfd, Billings and Spencer, Bristol Brass, do, pfd, Case, Lockwood & B., Collins Co, Oil's Firearms, Eagle Lock, Fabrik Bearings, Fuller Brush A., do, class AA, Hart & Cooley, Hartmann Tob 1st pfd, do, com, Inter Silver, Lander, Fry & Elk, Manning & Bow A., do, class B, New Brit Mch, pfd, do, com, Nils Bem Pond, North & Jud, Pack, Stow and Wil, Russell Mfg Co, Seyville, Smythe Mfg Co, pfd, do, com, Seth Thom Co, com, do, pfd, Standard Jud, do, pfd, Stanley Works, com, Taylor & Fenn, Torrington, Underwood, U S Envelope, pfd, do, com, U S Steel, Util Pow and Lt A, Warner Pic, Westinghouse Air, Westingh & Mfg, Woodworth, Yellow Truck.

N. Y. Stocks

Table of N.Y. stocks including Alleg Corp, Am Can, Am and For Pow, Am Internl, Am Metal, Am Pow and Lt, Am Rad Stand Ban, Am Rolling Mill, Am Smelt, Amer T and T, Am Water Wks, Andes Cop, Atl Ref, B and O, Bendix Aviat, Chic and North, Burroughs Add Mch, Can Pac, Cannon Mills, Cerro De Pasco, Chi M StP and P pf, Genl Food, Chrysler, Col Gas and Elec, Coml Inv Trust, Concol Gas, Contin Can, Genl Food, Curtiss Wright, Dupont De Nem, Elec Pow and Lt, Erie, Gen Amer Tank, Gen Elec, Genl Food, Gen Gas and Elec A, Gen Mot, Graham Paige, Hershey Choc, Inter Combus, Inter Har, Inter Hydro Ele, Inter Match Pte pf, Inter Nick, Can, Inter Tel and Tel, Johns Mansville, Kenecott, Kreuger and Toll, Le High, May Dept Stores, Miami Cop, Mo Kan and Tex, Mont Ward, Natl Cash Reg A, Natl Dairy Prod, Natl Pow and Lt, Nev Con Cop, N Y Cent, N Y N H and H, North Amer, Pac Gas and El, Pack Met, Pan Amer Pet B., Para Fam Ls, Penn, Pub Svc N J, Radio Corp, Radio Keith, Reading, Remington Rand, Rep I and St, Sears Roebuck, Simmons, Standard Oil, Phillips Oil, Phila and R C and I, Sou Pac, Sou Rwy, Stand Brands, Stand Gas and Elec, Stand Oil Cal, Stand O N J, Stand Oil N Y, Stew Warner, Ste Corp, Timken Det Axle, Transcon Oil, Union Carb, United Aircraft, United Corp, United Gas and Imp, U S Freight, U S Rubber, U S Steel, Util Pow and Lt A, Warner Pic, Westinghouse Air, Westingh & Mfg, Woodworth, Yellow Truck.

TO WATCH HARTFORD DEGREE TEAM WORK

The committee in charge of the entertainment to be given by King David Lodge in Odd Fellows Hall, Friday, October 25, desires to again call attention to the fact that the degree will be presented to exemplify the 4th degree. The degree will start promptly at 8:15 p. m. followed by entertainment furnished by S. J. Prentice. Dancing will follow, the music being furnished by Bill Waddell's orchestra. Refreshments will be served.

TO BUILD BIG PLANES HERE

New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Formation of a General Motors subsidiary to build flying boats of the type of the Dornier DO-X and incorporation of a seaplane transport company for service between California and Hawaii were announced today. Alfred P. Sloan, president of General Motors Corporation, witnessed the successful flight of the German made Dornier DO-X with 199 persons aboard over Lake Constance, Switzerland, Monday.

Advertisement for Elinor Glyn's 'THE MAN AND THE MOMENT' with Rod La Rocque. Includes text: 'BEAUTIFUL AND ADORABLE BILLIE DOVE in Elinor Glyn's "/>

Overnight A. P. News

Billings, Mont. — Mrs. Urban F. Diteman, Jr., confident husband will succeed in his fight from Harbor Grace, N. F., to London.
S. S. Greenbriar—Carrying President Hoover from Cincinnati to Louisville, the Greenbriar moors for night at half way point after rough voyage.
Washington — Robinson says Hoover lacks power to forbid Congressional tariff action in regular session.
Chicago — Lake storm sweeps water over boulevards, tearing small boats from moorings and sinking oil barge.
Salte Ste, Marie, Mich. — Lumber barge with crew of six adrift in Lake Superior; storm; steamer grounded.
Salt Lake City—Russian plane "Land of the Soviets" held for night on Moscow-New York flight.
Los Angeles—Fantages denies attacking girl and testifies he is victim of plot.
Washington — Senator Harrison charges ranking Republicans were brushed aside to send Reed to naval limitations conference.
Gulfport, Miss.—Illinois officials spirited away gangster wanted on murder and robbery charges.
Detroit—Three men drown in Detroit river when speedboat upsets.
Paris—Brand's defeat laid to British victory at the Hague and unconditional evacuation of Rhineland.
Budapest, Hungary — Regent Korthy's son suffers skull fracture when horse falls in polo game.
Duesseldorf, Germany—Rocket explosions fire plane; aviator lands blazing carrier without injury to himself.
Khabarovsk, Siberia—Tass News Agency reports invading band of White Russians annihilated by Red Army forces.
London—Dispatch from Peshawar, India, says ousted usurper of Afghan throne is en route to Kabul as captive.
Philadelphia —Dykes, Athletics' third baseman, says team hit Cubs' signals in W. Series; McCarthy, of Buffalo, laughs.
Los Angeles — Gus Sonnenberg gets bloody nose and says applicant for job butted him.
Winsted —Lone La Bonne of Waterbury held responsible for auto homicide in mortally injuring M. Cowlenski and Edward Deutch, both of New Britain on Feb. 17, was fined $20 and costs in Litchfield common pleas court after pleading guilty to the charge against him.
Winsted Selectmen turn down petition to sanction bowling and roller skating on Sundays after a public hearing.
Williamsport —In speech at Connecticut W. C. T. U. convention, Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, Des Moines, Ia., national vice president at large of the organization, declares the 18th Amendment resulted from an educational campaign conducted by the W. C. T. U. over a period of 85 years rather than war hysteria.
Cheshire—Michael Rabuskus, 17, Waterbury and Salvatore Mazella, 18, South Norwalk escape from State reformatory.
Bridgeport—Police arrest four confectionery store proprietors, three charged with selling skimmed milk without designating as such and one with selling milk adulterated with water.
Bridgeport—Superior Court approves order appointing four commissioners of the court to take depositions for counsel of John S. Fogarty of New Haven against Gene Tunney in alienation suit.
New Haven—Yale News says serious consideration cannot be given to recent statement of President James Rowland Angell of Yale in which he deplored week-end trips to New York.
New Haven—The net operating income of the New Haven road shows a short fall of $3,209,739 for September against a total of $2,971,245 for the same month last year.
Cambridge, Mass. — Coach Horween treats varsity football lineup to thorough shakeup.
Boston—Civil service commission rules against Mayor Ralph S. Bauer of Lynn in latter's attempt to restrict examination for chief of police to men under 55 years.
Boston—Governor Allen orders all available state police to traffic duty in effort to stop growing number of automobile fatalities.
Concord, N. H.—Mott L. Bartlett, former state senator and game commissioner, indicted by Merrimack county Grand Jury on charges of embezzling state funds.
Boston—Edward L. Doherty, oil magnate, thought oil property would be short lived 10 years ago, is revealed in deposition from him read in $30,000,000 suit brought against the Mexican Petroleum Corporation and others by the Ballard Fuel Oil Terminal Corporation here.
St. Johnsbury, Vt. — Twenty-two hundred families affected as town's water supply falls due, it is believed, to leak in a main; trucks carry fluid from reservoir to hospitals as firemen patrol streets in emergency.
Spemerville, Mass.—Barbara Peddie, 13, heroine of five drowning rescues in two years, gets Massachusetts Humane Society medal.
Springfield, Mass.—Private Secretary Total Abstinence League, one of the oldest temperance organizations in the country, will dissolve and turn over its funds to the Massachusetts W. C. T. U.
On a few occasions the northern lights have been seen as far south as Mexico City.

PHEASANTS SCARCE, BLAME HAIL STORM

Game Warden W. E. Luetgens Says Number Being Brought In Is Small—Poor Season.

According to Game Warden Walter E. Luetgens pheasants in Manchester and in several sections around Manchester are not easily found and he lays the cause of the shortage to the hail storm that struck so hard in this section on August 17. The result has been that few have bagged as many pheasants as in former years. Places where there have always been pheasants seem to be barren of them at this time and but few are being brought in. The whole section that was hit by the hail storm seems to be free from pheasants and Mr. Luetgens blames this to the inability of the young pheasants to get under cover when the hail fell and many were killed.

The woodcock season which opened yesterday, he says, seems to indicate there will be plenty to supply the wants of the hunters. Since this is a closed year on quail and pheasants, it will limit the hunters to but a small number of birds that can be taken.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Hanover, N. H.—Five-hour days, five day weeks and both summer and winter vacations for the masses of workers are in the offing, in the opinion of E. A. Filene, Boston merchant. He made the prediction in an address to Dartmouth students, saying mass production necessitates that the masses be able to buy what they want and be encouraged to want more.

New York—Ray Williams was up for sentence as a robber and gunman. "Your honor," he asked, "I want a week's adjournment to wind up my business affairs. What are they?"

"Well I hold shares in several good speakeasies." "You certainly have your nerve with you," concluded Judge Rossisky. "Twenty years." Pinehurst, N. C.—Helen Waring is in the fourth flight of a men's golf tournament. She defeated men in the first two rounds. New York—Boxing and fencing are compulsory for students of commerce at the College of the City of

New York. "They train business men to think fast in a tight situation," explains Professor Canute Hansen.

Jersey City—Harold Anderson of Bayonne is a happy man in more ways than one. In Traffic Court his explanation for speeding was that the stork had arrived with twins. "Sentence suspended," said the judge. "You'll need the money."

New York—Five percent of New York theater audiences, in the opinion of Jane Cowl, actress, consists of ruthless people who go to the theater without thinking caring or having any consideration of others; they represent a dangerous and growing flippancy about everything serious.

Guatemala City — The government is to excavate the palace of Beatriz de la Cueva, conquistador's widow who ruled after his death. The palace Ciudad Vieja was submerged in 1541 in a volcanic eruption.

Pittsburgh, Pa. — Ambassador Morrow is sponsoring an exhibition of Mexican art in the United States. The Young Saint Gaudens of Carnegie Institute is to visit Mexico making a collection that will be shown in museums in the United States.

Fort Gibson, Okla.—Amanda Foster, who is shown by records of the Cherokee nation to have lived 110 years, is dead. Berlin—Dr. Eugen Fischer, head of the Kaiser Wilhelm Anthropological Institute, is making a study of the hereditary manifestations of red-headed women. The institute has made a public appeal for assistance, courteously requesting that those who acquired auburn locks via beauty parlors refrain from bothering the anthropologists.

Wheat grows wild nowhere in the world.

ACTRESS WEDS AGAIN

Chicago, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The summer time divorce of Edith Mason, Grand Opera diva, from Giorgio Polacco, musical director of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, has been followed three months later by her marriage to Dr. Maurice A. Bernstein, Chicago surgeon. The marriage took place October 6, and did not become generally known until last night. "So much of my private life has been the subject of public discussion," Miss Mason said, "that I feel such matters are my private business."

"There was nothing so very secret about my marriage to Dr. Bernstein," she added. "I simply did not think it necessary to make a public announcement." Dr. Bernstein is 43, Miss Mason, 36. The shortest distance across the United States from coast to coast is between San Diego, Cal., and Charleston, S. C. It is 2,152 miles long.

SECRET BANK ACCOUNT WAS KEPT BY AIMEE

Los Angeles, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Investigation of an alleged secret bank account kept under an assumed name made by Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, was begun today by the district attorney's office at the request of Daniel Beecher, deputy prosecutor in charge of the Grand Jury. Reports of the alleged secret account cropped out during an inquiry by Beecher into the financial affairs of Angelus Temple, Mrs. McPherson's church. This inquiry was begun when Dr. John Goben, who recently was ousted from the assistant pastorate of Angelus Temple by Mrs. McPherson, complained to the district attorney that the evangelist had mismanaged the financial affairs of the Temple. Beecher said that while the investigation might result in a Grand Jury inquiry, Mrs. McPherson would be called upon to offer an explanation before such action was taken. Harry W. Slagman, accountant, was questioned in connection with certain church books, given Beecher by Dr. Goben at the time the changes of misappropriation were made. Letha Mae Brooks, former financial secretary to the evangelist, also was questioned. Nature of their testimony was not disclosed.

SENTENCE POSTPONED

Los Angeles, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy decided to postpone indefinitely pronouncement of sentence on Mrs. Lois Pantages, recently convicted of manslaughter, when she appears for a hearing on her probation petition Friday. Judge Hardy said today probation officers had not completed investigations of her case and should be allowed sufficient time to make the "most minute search." He pointed out that a delay would give the wife of Alexander Pantages, who is on trial charged with a statutory offense, time for recuperation from a nervous ailment. Mrs. Pantages was injured in the automobile collision which caused the death of Juro Rokumoto, a Japanese, and collapsed when the jury held her responsible and has been ill since.

BOATS FOR ALABAMA AND COOSA SOON

Montgomery, Ala.—(AP)—Light draft boats and barges for service on the Alabama and Coosa rivers are being designed by the Coosa River Transportation company. They will bring to Montgomery the first river service in 15 years. The first operations, expected to start before January 1, will be on the Coosa between Rome, Ga., and Riverside, Ala.

ANNIVERSARY SPECIAL! sale of the famous "SALADA" TEA. Fresh from the Gardens. 1/2 lb 42c, 1 1/2 lb 8c, 1/4 lb 22c. AT ALL A & P STORES. WHERE ECONOMY RULES.

WHAT WE OFFER YOU. The Gordon Laundry is a modern business—making a scientific service of laundering. Skilled workers, modern precision machinery and specially prepared soaps each form their part in this perfect laundry service. Your clothes are returned after a Gordon cleansing, snowy white, fluffy and sweet smelling. Telephone 3753 ROY E. BUCKLER, Proprietor. Gordon Laundry, Harrison Street, South Manchester, Conn.

Be Of Good Cheer. "The sun will shine after every storm; there is a solution for every problem, and the soul's highest duty is to be of good cheer." How encouraging it is to have an account with this Bank. 5% Interest Paid, compounded quarterly. THE SAVINGS BANK OF MANCHESTER, SOUTH MANCHESTER, CONN. ESTABLISHED 1906.

OLD GOLD gives throat EASE. THE SMOKE SCREEN THAT KEEPS OUT THROAT DANGERS. WHY RISK SORE THROATS? No one had ever heard of a "Coughless" cigarette until OLD GOLD came... Barely three years ago this smoother and better cigarette was introduced to the nation. Its clean, ripe and better tobaccos gave smokers new throat-ease. No rasping. No coughing. And it won a national following. It made millions of friends... Why not sample its honey-like smoothness and its wonderful flavor? Change to OLD GOLDS. Play safe with your throat. P. Lorillard Co., Est. 1760. Better tobaccos make them smoother and better... with "not a cough in a carload!" On your Radio, OLD GOLD—PAUL WHITEMAN HOUR. Paul Whiteman, with his complete orchestra, every Tuesday, 9 to 10 P. M., Eastern Standard Time.

A PROPERLY EQUIPPED KITCHEN is an essential part of Your Home Beautiful. The busy housewife spends many hours in her kitchen. Proper fuel and cooking facilities save hours of her time that may be spent on other household duties, and mean much to the health of her family. Hundreds of housewives in this vicinity have come to know by actual test that Gas, the better fuel, is the most economical and satisfactory form of heating for the kitchen. On the reliable Gas Range foods can be cooked at just the proper temperature, bringing out their full flavor and promoting good digestion for every member of the family. With the Gas Water Heater steaming hot water may be had on a moment's notice. Then too, there's the "Radiant" Fireplace which provides cheering warmth and comfort on chilly evenings. Even refrigeration is possible with gas, eliminating the bother of ice. It pays to cook by gas—both in actual cost and in the hours of labor saved by the housewives of the community. Equip your home with the many Gas Appliances on the market today, and enjoy true living comfort in your Home Beautiful. IF IT'S DONE WITH HEAT—YOU CAN DO IT BETTER WITH GAS. THE MANCHESTER GAS COMPANY, TELEPHONE 5075.

WE CAN SOLVE YOUR MONEY PROBLEMS! LOANS UP TO $300. Quick—Courteous—Private. Small payments monthly—$2 to $5. Plus lawful interest only, on $10 to $100 loans. Larger sums in proportion. Call—phone—or write. The only charge three and one-half per cent per month on unpaid amount of loan. PERSONAL FINANCE CO. Room 2, Second Floor, State Theater Building, 75 Main St., South Manchester. Licensed by the State. Phone 3430.

WEATHER MAN ONLY PROGRAM FAILURE

Get-Together Club Has Perfect Evening Inside, But Rain Keeps Some Away.

The Get-Together Club of Cheney Brothers got together in a big way last night when nearly 200 persons, insouciant to wind and rain, gathered in Cheney Hall for the first meeting of the fall banquet season.

Quimby's Humor. With all eatables in sight tucked beneath their belts and a cigar or cigarette clamped between their teeth the diners were treated to a delightful assortment of wisecracks from Clarence P. Quimby, who gave excerpts from the comedy of several shows now playing.

Edward Taylor had a long list of entertainers on tap and began by calling on "Mr. Johnson, expert on wood." The applause forced Mr. Hicking to take an encore.

Bill Waddell's singing orchestra, besides providing music during the dinner, gave a variety of numbers on the program. With Bill Waddell at the harmonica, Jimmy McKay at the piano and Bill Munsie at the mandolin an old fashioned dancing number called "Golden Slippers" was presented.

Leonard Eccellente, youthful violinist, who recently made his debut in New York musical circles, provided one of the best numbers of the evening. So taken was his audience with his playing that they resorted to stamping their feet in approval when their hands grew weary.

The male quartet of Edward Taylor, James Stevenson, Robert Von Deck, and Fred Bendall showed that it was just as good as ever if not better by singing two old favorites. Mr. Von Deck then sang a solo called "The Trumpeter" and responded to an encore. Jimmy McKay of Bill Waddell's orchestra acted as accompanist to practically all the numbers.

Cheney's Talk. Rounding out the evening's program William C. Cheney spoke interestingly on his trip abroad which he said was made to Europe and not to the Orient. Tales told him by his father had given him the incentive to travel, said Mr. Cheney.

On the Continent. The speaker was very enthusiastic about the scenery and the people in Europe and said it was marvelous to see the results of ages of labor in the cathedrals and historical spots of the old world.

At Switzerland the party visited Lake Lucerne, one of the most beautiful lakes in the world. Venice, Mr. Cheney described as one of the wonders of the world. How a city so beautiful and with such wonderful buildings could be built on a swampy land was miraculous, he said.

Paris. Paris, which Mr. Cheney portrayed as the opposite of London, being "a women's town" is made up of a cosmopolitan group. Here the party saw much of the styles of the coming seasons and it was encouraging to him, said the speaker, to note that dressmaking establishments were now using six to seven yards of silk in one dress whereas they had been using only one to two yards.

James A. Irvine won the attendance prize. Routine business was transacted following the dinner and three new members were admitted.

CABINET'S COLLAPSE WORRIES FINANCIERS

Baden-Baden, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Fall of the Briand Cabinet in Paris has injected an element of uncertainty into the conference on the Bank for International Settlements which now expects to sit there weeks more.

However much the conferees may wish to stick to the purely banking viewpoint, they have found in attempting to translate the Hague arrangements into banking terms a constant necessity for referring matters back to their governments, especially the Treasury.

The delegates settled an important point today when they instructed the trust agreement sub-committee to draft this agreement only as between the bank and creditor powers. The conference is proceeding on the theory that Germany will be bound by her signature to the final Hague conference protocol as to the sums and modalities of payments so that the trust agreement need merely be a contract between the bank and creditor nations to receive and dispose of monies according to an agreed plan.

TRADE SCHOOL NOTES

The Electrical Department of the Trade school has instituted an innovation beginning with the school year in revising the pre-vocational electrical course so as to allow 7th and 8th grade students individual benches.

New electric lights have been added to the textile department of the school. Actual mill conditions now exist in the trade school as regards the lighting effects. Enrollment in the night school course in textiles has been increased far beyond the number expected resulting in the adding of another night for this course, making four nights devoted to this study.

Paris, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Sister Theoneste, the nun nurse who is attending former Premier Clemenceau in his latest illness said today her patient had a restful night and was very much better than yesterday.

When Zemo touches the scalp dandruff goes. Itching ends. Dandruff goes. Itching ends. When Zemo touches the scalp dandruff goes. Itching ends.

STATE'S SINGERS IN VOICE TESTS

To Be Broadcast Sunday Over WTIC in National Competition—Those In It

Hartford, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Voices of Connecticut participants in the national radio audition will be on the air Sunday evening from 9:15 to 10:15 from Station WTIC. The young men and young women scoring highest honors in this competition will represent Connecticut at the district audition in New York City next month.

SEN. KEAN ADVOCATES RETENTION OF TARIFF

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Retention of the tariff schedule on chemicals was urged by Senator Hamilton P. Kean in his maiden speech in the Senate yesterday.

The junior Senator from New Jersey said the problem was "whether we would prefer to have an American monopoly, controlled and operated by our own people, subject to our laws and control, or whether we would prefer to make ourselves dependent on a German monopoly, controlled and operated by people beyond our control."

CLEMENCEAU BETTER.

Paris, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Sister Theoneste, the nun nurse who is attending former Premier Clemenceau in his latest illness said today her patient had a restful night and was very much better than yesterday.

WEATHER MAN ONLY PROGRAM FAILURE

Get-Together Club Has Perfect Evening Inside, But Rain Keeps Some Away.

The Get-Together Club of Cheney Brothers got together in a big way last night when nearly 200 persons, insouciant to wind and rain, gathered in Cheney Hall for the first meeting of the fall banquet season.

Quimby's Humor. With all eatables in sight tucked beneath their belts and a cigar or cigarette clamped between their teeth the diners were treated to a delightful assortment of wisecracks from Clarence P. Quimby, who gave excerpts from the comedy of several shows now playing.

Edward Taylor had a long list of entertainers on tap and began by calling on "Mr. Johnson, expert on wood." The applause forced Mr. Hicking to take an encore.

Bill Waddell's singing orchestra, besides providing music during the dinner, gave a variety of numbers on the program. With Bill Waddell at the harmonica, Jimmy McKay at the piano and Bill Munsie at the mandolin an old fashioned dancing number called "Golden Slippers" was presented.

Leonard Eccellente, youthful violinist, who recently made his debut in New York musical circles, provided one of the best numbers of the evening. So taken was his audience with his playing that they resorted to stamping their feet in approval when their hands grew weary.

The male quartet of Edward Taylor, James Stevenson, Robert Von Deck, and Fred Bendall showed that it was just as good as ever if not better by singing two old favorites. Mr. Von Deck then sang a solo called "The Trumpeter" and responded to an encore. Jimmy McKay of Bill Waddell's orchestra acted as accompanist to practically all the numbers.

Cheney's Talk. Rounding out the evening's program William C. Cheney spoke interestingly on his trip abroad which he said was made to Europe and not to the Orient. Tales told him by his father had given him the incentive to travel, said Mr. Cheney.

On the Continent. The speaker was very enthusiastic about the scenery and the people in Europe and said it was marvelous to see the results of ages of labor in the cathedrals and historical spots of the old world.

At Switzerland the party visited Lake Lucerne, one of the most beautiful lakes in the world. Venice, Mr. Cheney described as one of the wonders of the world. How a city so beautiful and with such wonderful buildings could be built on a swampy land was miraculous, he said.

Paris. Paris, which Mr. Cheney portrayed as the opposite of London, being "a women's town" is made up of a cosmopolitan group. Here the party saw much of the styles of the coming seasons and it was encouraging to him, said the speaker, to note that dressmaking establishments were now using six to seven yards of silk in one dress whereas they had been using only one to two yards.

James A. Irvine won the attendance prize. Routine business was transacted following the dinner and three new members were admitted.

CABINET'S COLLAPSE WORRIES FINANCIERS

Get-Together Club Has Perfect Evening Inside, But Rain Keeps Some Away.

The Get-Together Club of Cheney Brothers got together in a big way last night when nearly 200 persons, insouciant to wind and rain, gathered in Cheney Hall for the first meeting of the fall banquet season.

Quimby's Humor. With all eatables in sight tucked beneath their belts and a cigar or cigarette clamped between their teeth the diners were treated to a delightful assortment of wisecracks from Clarence P. Quimby, who gave excerpts from the comedy of several shows now playing.

Edward Taylor had a long list of entertainers on tap and began by calling on "Mr. Johnson, expert on wood." The applause forced Mr. Hicking to take an encore.

Bill Waddell's singing orchestra, besides providing music during the dinner, gave a variety of numbers on the program. With Bill Waddell at the harmonica, Jimmy McKay at the piano and Bill Munsie at the mandolin an old fashioned dancing number called "Golden Slippers" was presented.

Leonard Eccellente, youthful violinist, who recently made his debut in New York musical circles, provided one of the best numbers of the evening. So taken was his audience with his playing that they resorted to stamping their feet in approval when their hands grew weary.

The male quartet of Edward Taylor, James Stevenson, Robert Von Deck, and Fred Bendall showed that it was just as good as ever if not better by singing two old favorites. Mr. Von Deck then sang a solo called "The Trumpeter" and responded to an encore. Jimmy McKay of Bill Waddell's orchestra acted as accompanist to practically all the numbers.

Cheney's Talk. Rounding out the evening's program William C. Cheney spoke interestingly on his trip abroad which he said was made to Europe and not to the Orient. Tales told him by his father had given him the incentive to travel, said Mr. Cheney.

On the Continent. The speaker was very enthusiastic about the scenery and the people in Europe and said it was marvelous to see the results of ages of labor in the cathedrals and historical spots of the old world.

At Switzerland the party visited Lake Lucerne, one of the most beautiful lakes in the world. Venice, Mr. Cheney described as one of the wonders of the world. How a city so beautiful and with such wonderful buildings could be built on a swampy land was miraculous, he said.

Paris. Paris, which Mr. Cheney portrayed as the opposite of London, being "a women's town" is made up of a cosmopolitan group. Here the party saw much of the styles of the coming seasons and it was encouraging to him, said the speaker, to note that dressmaking establishments were now using six to seven yards of silk in one dress whereas they had been using only one to two yards.

James A. Irvine won the attendance prize. Routine business was transacted following the dinner and three new members were admitted.

STATE'S SINGERS IN VOICE TESTS

To Be Broadcast Sunday Over WTIC in National Competition—Those In It

Hartford, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Voices of Connecticut participants in the national radio audition will be on the air Sunday evening from 9:15 to 10:15 from Station WTIC. The young men and young women scoring highest honors in this competition will represent Connecticut at the district audition in New York City next month.

Connecticut listeners may play a part in decision of the state's winners as the votes of the radio audience will count sixty points against forty points allowed the jury of musical authorities who will cooperate in the judging. All contestants are between 18 and 25 years of age and have never been heard professionally as singers.

Prizes Selections. Mrs. Mary Billings Green of Hartford as state chairman of the Atwater Kent Foundation national audition committee has expressed herself as enthusiastic over the group of singers. During the summer Connecticut was organized by her for the trials assisted by James F. Conroy, manager of Station WTIC as state audition manager. Effort has been made to encourage young vocalists to embrace opportunity to try for a share in the awards of $25,000 in cash and for musical scholarships which will go to the ten young singers who are chosen to compete in the national audition finals in New York.

The Competitors. Those who will compete on Sunday with the local chairman follow: Stamford—Mrs. F. S. Wardwell, chairman; candidates, Miss Estelle Whitlaw, soprano, Hartford; Wayne Henry Denman, tenor, East Hampton.

Meriden—Douglas A. Smith, chairman; candidates, Miss Gladys C. Hall, soprano, Meriden; Albert Paul Zelphe, bass, Plantsville.

Waterbury—G. Loring Burwell, chairman; candidates, Miss Hazel Mather, soprano, Bristol; Daniel Barrett, tenor, Waterbury.

Bridgport—Mrs. Howard Speer, chairman; candidates, Miss Mary E. White, contralto, Bridgeport; Charles R. Coles, baritone, Bridgeport.

New London—Mrs. Percy Huddle, chairman; candidate, Miss Jessie Duff Guthrie, soprano, New London.

Danbury—Mrs. John C. Downs, chairman; candidates, Mrs. Helen Robinson Valden, soprano, Norwalk; Harold E. Darling, basso, Danbury.

New Haven—Mrs. Van Court Tapp, chairman; candidates, Miss Susanne Voliro, soprano, New Haven; Charles Edward Hill, tenor, West Haven.

Hartford—Miss Annie Moulton, chairman; candidates, Miss Mary Ranson Kirkbride, soprano, Hartford; Wayne Henry Denman, tenor, East Hampton.

Meriden—Douglas A. Smith, chairman; candidates, Miss Gladys C. Hall, soprano, Meriden; Albert Paul Zelphe, bass, Plantsville.

Waterbury—G. Loring Burwell, chairman; candidates, Miss Hazel Mather, soprano, Bristol; Daniel Barrett, tenor, Waterbury.

STATE'S SINGERS IN VOICE TESTS

To Be Broadcast Sunday Over WTIC in National Competition—Those In It

Hartford, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Voices of Connecticut participants in the national radio audition will be on the air Sunday evening from 9:15 to 10:15 from Station WTIC. The young men and young women scoring highest honors in this competition will represent Connecticut at the district audition in New York City next month.

Connecticut listeners may play a part in decision of the state's winners as the votes of the radio audience will count sixty points against forty points allowed the jury of musical authorities who will cooperate in the judging. All contestants are between 18 and 25 years of age and have never been heard professionally as singers.

Prizes Selections. Mrs. Mary Billings Green of Hartford as state chairman of the Atwater Kent Foundation national audition committee has expressed herself as enthusiastic over the group of singers. During the summer Connecticut was organized by her for the trials assisted by James F. Conroy, manager of Station WTIC as state audition manager. Effort has been made to encourage young vocalists to embrace opportunity to try for a share in the awards of $25,000 in cash and for musical scholarships which will go to the ten young singers who are chosen to compete in the national audition finals in New York.

The Competitors. Those who will compete on Sunday with the local chairman follow: Stamford—Mrs. F. S. Wardwell, chairman; candidates, Miss Estelle Whitlaw, soprano, Hartford; Wayne Henry Denman, tenor, East Hampton.

Meriden—Douglas A. Smith, chairman; candidates, Miss Gladys C. Hall, soprano, Meriden; Albert Paul Zelphe, bass, Plantsville.

Waterbury—G. Loring Burwell, chairman; candidates, Miss Hazel Mather, soprano, Bristol; Daniel Barrett, tenor, Waterbury.

Bridgport—Mrs. Howard Speer, chairman; candidates, Miss Mary E. White, contralto, Bridgeport; Charles R. Coles, baritone, Bridgeport.

New London—Mrs. Percy Huddle, chairman; candidate, Miss Jessie Duff Guthrie, soprano, New London.

Danbury—Mrs. John C. Downs, chairman; candidates, Mrs. Helen Robinson Valden, soprano, Norwalk; Harold E. Darling, basso, Danbury.

New Haven—Mrs. Van Court Tapp, chairman; candidates, Miss Susanne Voliro, soprano, New Haven; Charles Edward Hill, tenor, West Haven.

Hartford—Miss Annie Moulton, chairman; candidates, Miss Mary Ranson Kirkbride, soprano, Hartford; Wayne Henry Denman, tenor, East Hampton.

Meriden—Douglas A. Smith, chairman; candidates, Miss Gladys C. Hall, soprano, Meriden; Albert Paul Zelphe, bass, Plantsville.

Waterbury—G. Loring Burwell, chairman; candidates, Miss Hazel Mather, soprano, Bristol; Daniel Barrett, tenor, Waterbury.

STATE'S SINGERS IN VOICE TESTS

To Be Broadcast Sunday Over WTIC in National Competition—Those In It

Hartford, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Voices of Connecticut participants in the national radio audition will be on the air Sunday evening from 9:15 to 10:15 from Station WTIC. The young men and young women scoring highest honors in this competition will represent Connecticut at the district audition in New York City next month.

Connecticut listeners may play a part in decision of the state's winners as the votes of the radio audience will count sixty points against forty points allowed the jury of musical authorities who will cooperate in the judging. All contestants are between 18 and 25 years of age and have never been heard professionally as singers.

Prizes Selections. Mrs. Mary Billings Green of Hartford as state chairman of the Atwater Kent Foundation national audition committee has expressed herself as enthusiastic over the group of singers. During the summer Connecticut was organized by her for the trials assisted by James F. Conroy, manager of Station WTIC as state audition manager. Effort has been made to encourage young vocalists to embrace opportunity to try for a share in the awards of $25,000 in cash and for musical scholarships which will go to the ten young singers who are chosen to compete in the national audition finals in New York.

The Competitors. Those who will compete on Sunday with the local chairman follow: Stamford—Mrs. F. S. Wardwell, chairman; candidates, Miss Estelle Whitlaw, soprano, Hartford; Wayne Henry Denman, tenor, East Hampton.

Meriden—Douglas A. Smith, chairman; candidates, Miss Gladys C. Hall, soprano, Meriden; Albert Paul Zelphe, bass, Plantsville.

Waterbury—G. Loring Burwell, chairman; candidates, Miss Hazel Mather, soprano, Bristol; Daniel Barrett, tenor, Waterbury.

Bridgport—Mrs. Howard Speer, chairman; candidates, Miss Mary E. White, contralto, Bridgeport; Charles R. Coles, baritone, Bridgeport.

New London—Mrs. Percy Huddle, chairman; candidate, Miss Jessie Duff Guthrie, soprano, New London.

Danbury—Mrs. John C. Downs, chairman; candidates, Mrs. Helen Robinson Valden, soprano, Norwalk; Harold E. Darling, basso, Danbury.

New Haven—Mrs. Van Court Tapp, chairman; candidates, Miss Susanne Voliro, soprano, New Haven; Charles Edward Hill, tenor, West Haven.

Hartford—Miss Annie Moulton, chairman; candidates, Miss Mary Ranson Kirkbride, soprano, Hartford; Wayne Henry Denman, tenor, East Hampton.

Meriden—Douglas A. Smith, chairman; candidates, Miss Gladys C. Hall, soprano, Meriden; Albert Paul Zelphe, bass, Plantsville.

Waterbury—G. Loring Burwell, chairman; candidates, Miss Hazel Mather, soprano, Bristol; Daniel Barrett, tenor, Waterbury.

STATE'S SINGERS IN VOICE TESTS

To Be Broadcast Sunday Over WTIC in National Competition—Those In It

Hartford, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Voices of Connecticut participants in the national radio audition will be on the air Sunday evening from 9:15 to 10:15 from Station WTIC. The young men and young women scoring highest honors in this competition will represent Connecticut at the district audition in New York City next month.

Connecticut listeners may play a part in decision of the state's winners as the votes of the radio audience will count sixty points against forty points allowed the jury of musical authorities who will cooperate in the judging. All contestants are between 18 and 25 years of age and have never been heard professionally as singers.

Prizes Selections. Mrs. Mary Billings Green of Hartford as state chairman of the Atwater Kent Foundation national audition committee has expressed herself as enthusiastic over the group of singers. During the summer Connecticut was organized by her for the trials assisted by James F. Conroy, manager of Station WTIC as state audition manager. Effort has been made to encourage young vocalists to embrace opportunity to try for a share in the awards of $25,000 in cash and for musical scholarships which will go to the ten young singers who are chosen to compete in the national audition finals in New York.

The Competitors. Those who will compete on Sunday with the local chairman follow: Stamford—Mrs. F. S. Wardwell, chairman; candidates, Miss Estelle Whitlaw, soprano, Hartford; Wayne Henry Denman, tenor, East Hampton.

Meriden—Douglas A. Smith, chairman; candidates, Miss Gladys C. Hall, soprano, Meriden; Albert Paul Zelphe, bass, Plantsville.

Waterbury—G. Loring Burwell, chairman; candidates, Miss Hazel Mather, soprano, Bristol; Daniel Barrett, tenor, Waterbury.

Bridgport—Mrs. Howard Speer, chairman; candidates, Miss Mary E. White, contralto, Bridgeport; Charles R. Coles, baritone, Bridgeport.

New London—Mrs. Percy Huddle, chairman; candidate, Miss Jessie Duff Guthrie, soprano, New London.

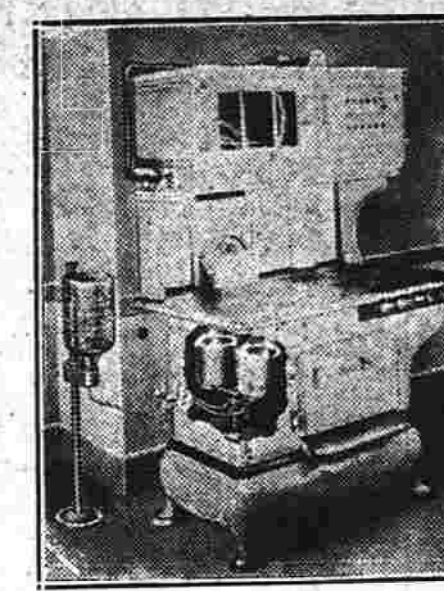

Danbury—Mrs. John C. Downs, chairman; candidates, Mrs. Helen Robinson Valden, soprano, Norwalk; Harold E. Darling, basso, Danbury.

New Haven—Mrs. Van Court Tapp, chairman; candidates, Miss Susanne Voliro, soprano, New Haven; Charles Edward Hill, tenor, West Haven.

Hartford—Miss Annie Moulton, chairman; candidates, Miss Mary Ranson Kirkbride, soprano, Hartford; Wayne Henry Denman, tenor, East Hampton.

Meriden—Douglas A. Smith, chairman; candidates, Miss Gladys C. Hall, soprano, Meriden; Albert Paul Zelphe, bass, Plantsville.

Waterbury—G. Loring Burwell, chairman; candidates, Miss Hazel Mather, soprano, Bristol; Daniel Barrett, tenor, Waterbury.

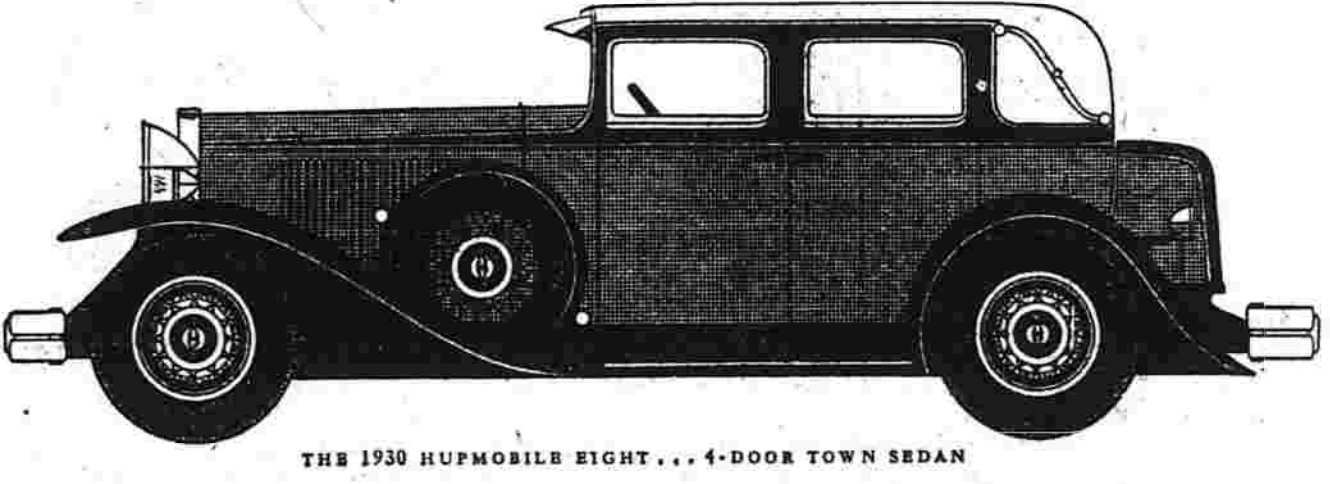

THE SILENT GLOW KITCHEN BURNER IS CLEAN, CONVENIENT AND GIVES COMFORT FIVE YEAR GUARANTEE

NO MORE GAS IN STOMACH AND BOWELS

Always on hand at E. J. MURPHY'S

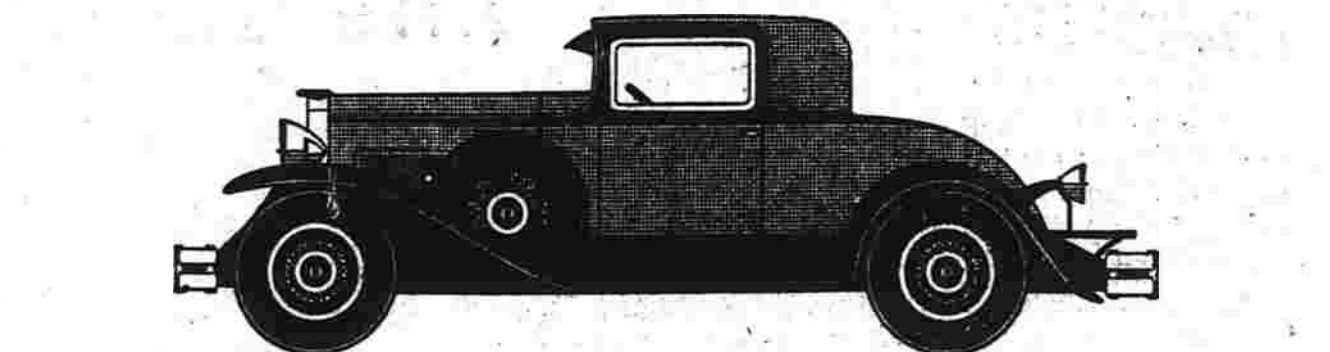

Advertise in The Evening Herald-It Pays

ORIGINAL THE NEW 100 HORSE-POWER HUPMOBILE EIGHT... $1595 THE NEW 70 HORSE-POWER HUPMOBILE SIX... $1060

For 21 years Hupmobile has been building original motor cars. Now, with its new 1930 Six and Eight, Hupmobile again offers standardized patterns and again overcomes the commonly-accepted restrictions of price. Those who have been accustomed to a certain limit of power at a given price are startled by vastly increased power, by abnormal speed, by excessive acceleration... at a lower price. Those who have thought that all cars have much the same riding qualities are astonished by the floating, vibration-free performance. Those who have been satisfied with comfort are now given luxury and spaciousness. Those who have merely liked conventional body designs are now spurred to enthusiasm by the new and harmonized beauty of these 1930 Hupmobiles...

THE NEW 1930 HUPMOBILE SIXES AND EIGHTS

H. A. STEPHENS Cor. Center and Knox Sts. So. Manchester

Save Your Duo-Dollars

Follow the Crowds to the DUO-DOLLAR AUCTION Next Wednesday Night

NEXT Wednesday promises to be a big night! Hallowe'en—and the second DUO-DOLLAR Auction! Both mean fun! Don't miss it! Be at the State Theater next Wednesday night, October 30th. Bring your Duo-Dollars! Bring your neighbors!

Table listing auction merchandise including items like Linen Luncheon Set, Bath Room Scale, Men's Silk Pajamas, etc., with prices.

- List of Duo-Dollar stores including The Ladies' Shop, George H. Williams, Fradin's, Rubnow's, May Jewelry Co., Wm. H. Gardner, The Textile Store, Edward Hess, N. Marlow & Co., Manchester Plumbing & Supply Co., Miner's Pharmacy, Arthur L. Hultman, Watkins Bros., Inc., J. W. Hale Co., (Except Food Dept.), C. E. House & Son, Inc., G. E. Keith Furniture Co., Campbell's Filling Station, Center Auto Supply Co., The Blish Hardware Co., Glenney's, Manchester Electric Co. (Merchandise Sales Only), Milkowski, the Florist, Princess Candy Shop, F. E. Bray, Hymen's Men's Shop, Kemp's, Inc., Nollig's, The Smart Shop, Dewey-Richman.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Wednesday, October 23.

Theresa Melrose, contralto, will sing memories of Victor Herbert during the radio forum to be broadcast by WTIC at 9 o'clock Wednesday night.

348.5-WABC, NEW YORK-860. Two musical programs. 6:00-Feature hour with Nino Martini, tenor. This Thing Called Jealousy.

Leading DX Stations. 405.2-WBS, ATLANTA-740. Two musical programs; brevities.

Leading East Stations.

274.5-WPO, ATLANTIC CITY-1100. 8:30-Popular song harmonies. 8:45-Recording artist; orchestra.

348.5-WABC, NEW YORK-860. 6:00-Welcome Lewis, contralto. 7:00-Willie Wright, contralto.

Secondary Eastern Stations. 508.2-WEEI, BOSTON-590. 6:00-Ensemble dance music. 7:00-Big Eddie club.

WTIC PROGRAMS

Travelers, Hartford 500 m. 600 K. C.

Program for Wednesday Eastern Standard Time

7:05 p. m. Summary of Program: Hartford Courant News Bulletins and United States Daily News Bulletins.

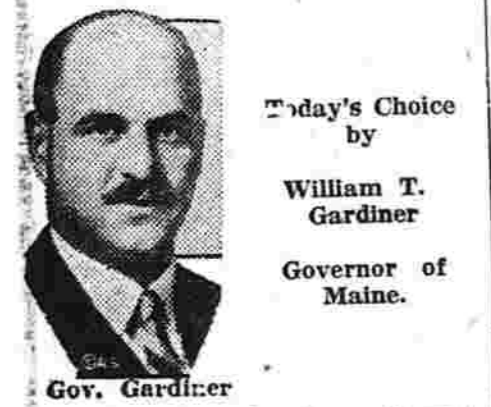

TROUBLE FEARED IN EAST AFRICA

Tribesmen on Border of Revolt; Native Trained Troops Being Mobilized.

Nairobi, Kenya Colony, British East Africa, Oct. 23.—(AP.)—Growing lawlessness among the young fighting men of the frontier tribes, Lumbwa and Massais, has filled whites in certain sections of this part of British East Africa with foreboding.

New Coats Richly Fur Trimmed Special October Values Chinchilla Coats in Practical Tailored Fashions. True Blue $48 and $59.50 $8.95 to $15.95

My Favorite Bible Passage

Today's Choice by William T. Gardiner Governor of Maine.

He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, and to love mercy, and walk humbly with thy God?—Micah 6:8.

Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.—Matthew 7:12.

Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, think on these things.—Philippians 4:8.

Thursday: Frank J. Loesch, president, Chicago Crime Commission.

HUNT FOR GHOST

Kingsdown, Kent, Eng., Oct. 23.—(AP)—More than a thousand persons including motorists from far and near spent last night in Fawkham woods hunting a ghost "with glowing eyes" reported to have been seen by local inhabitants.

GREENBERG'S Cleaners $1.00 Dyers

28 OAK ST. Men's Winter Overcoats and Suits Dry Cleaned and Pressed $1.00. FREE DELIVERY SERVICE. We Clean Everything. Phone 4928

WAPPING

There is to be a benefit whist held at the Wapping Memorial library on next Thursday evening, October 24. Playing will begin about eight o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Cooley and two children of Ellington spent the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Frink, last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stoutnar have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lottie E. Stoutnar of Manchester to James L. Cummings of Canandaigua, New York.

There were twenty-four of the officers and teacher of the Wapping Federated Sunday school who attended the Hartford County church school convention which was held at Rocky Hill Congregational church, last Saturday from 10 a. m. until 9 p. m.

The Pleasant Valley club held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Homer Lane last Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Theresa Grisel as assistant hostess. They have changed their day of meeting this fall, from Wednesday to Thursday afternoons.

The next regular meeting of the Federated Workers will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Scheldick of Pleasant Valley on Wednesday, October 30, instead of November 11, as scheduled. Mrs. Henry Baker will be the assistant hostess.

The assessors will be at the Wapping School Hall next Thursday and Friday, Oct. 24 and 25, to accommodate the people in the east part of the town.

STORM WARNINGS

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Weather Bureau today issued the following storm warning: "Advisory: Southeast storm warnings continued 10 a. m., until sunset today north of Portland, Maine, to Washington, D. C., and south of Washington, D. C., to New London, Conn. Warnings lowered New London to Portland. Between Portland and Eastport winds will be strong southeast this afternoon shifting to southwest late this afternoon or early tonight and diminishing."

NOT EQUAL RIGHTS

Mexico City, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Department of Interior ruled today that women have no political rights in Mexico and hence cannot vote in the presidential elections November 17. Its ruling was in answer to a query of women's clubs of the State of Coahuila.

LUMBER MILL BURNS

Parnassus, Pa., Oct. 23.—(AP)—The office and mill of the Logan Lumber Company and five dwellings were destroyed by fire today. The loss was estimated by firemen and mill officials at $150,000. Lines of the West Penn Power Company were damaged and Parnassus and other Westmoreland county towns were in darkness.

A family doctor's laxative is the sensible choice!

YOUR health is too important! You can't afford experiments with your delicate bowels when a coated tongue, bad breath, gas, headaches, nausea, feverishness, biliousness, lack of appetite, and no energy, warn of constipation. This applies not only to grown people; it is particularly the case where young children are concerned.

Shopping With Susan Via WTIC

Did you ever stop to think that there is scarcely any occasion when an "opera" pump is in good fashion excepting cross-country hikes, of course. There is something about their simplicity that fits in with any sort of costume at any time or in any place.

The first deviation from my idea of an "opera" was a combination of brown kid and fox-skin—a new type of leather that is altogether charming. The Louis heel of this step-in pump is of brown-kid as is the vamp and it carries a little buckle of its own, made up of the two leathers. This same model comes in a combination of patent leather and gray snakeskin that is equally smart and for evening wear.

Three models which have the modernistic trend are the very last word in opera pumps. Can you picture a velvet brown or black suede quarter that has a brief motif on the outside of lizard and kid which swung around gracefully to pipe the instep of the shoe. An unusual version had a quarter and heel of gun-metal kid with a vamp that combined gray lizard and black suede in a sort of chain-lightning effect which seemed to have been stopped in its course only by a tiny loop at the instep in which it wound itself quite daintily.

You will be enchanted with a black crepe model carrying a tiny bow of silver and black kid at the end of a delicate silver kid piping that starts at the tip of the toe and continues to the instep—just below the bow effect nestle four little dashes of cut steel beads.

For wear with your evening gowns you will undoubtedly want an opera pump in a matching shade. A white crepe opera adapts itself perfectly to dyeing—just bring a sample of your gown and you will be delighted with a pair of perfectly tinted pumps in very short order.

The operas that I have spoken of all carry the high Louis heel. There are three models in the plain pump that carry either the high Louis heel or the well-liked junior Louis heel for those who prefer this type—they come in black calf-skin, black patent-leather and black satin. Any one of these three shoes would lend themselves very well to buckles.

Every wardrobe should contain at the very least one pair of opera pumps. I give you my word that you'll find the most complete line of this type of shoe at the W. C. Simmons Corporation of 48-58 Pratt Street in Hartford that it would be possible to find anywhere—even more complete, I think.

Barstow's Radio Shop

20 Bissell St., So. Manchester. Open 2 to 6 p. m., and 2 to 9 p. m. Thurs. and Sat. Phone Shop 3234, House 8160

Dr. W. B. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN A Doctor's Family Laxative

Shopping With Susan Via WTIC

The value of pearl shell raised during ten years off the northwest shore of Australia was more than $10,500,000.

Shopping With Susan Via WTIC

John D. Rockefeller says he never met a golfer whose character was bad. Singular how men, when old age comes on, seem to be ready to forget and forgive everything.

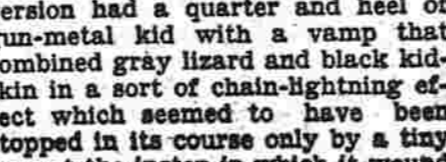

RADIO SALES AND SERVICE

Prompt Attention to Phone Calls DIAL 4949 Standard Accessories. Atwater Kent, Stromberg-Carlson, Majestic, Bosch, Philco.

WM. E. KRAH 689 Tolland Turnpike.

The Radio that You Have Waited for Is HERE!

It's the RCA SCREEN GRID RADIOLA 46

RCA RADIOLA 46 Beautiful walnut and maple veneer console cabinet with RCA Electro-Dynamic Speaker. $179.00 (See Radiolans)

THE greatest radio value ever offered in this city—and we have it. Once you hear this Radiola No. 46 you will never be satisfied with any other. More selective... More sensitive... Two-in-one control... Local-distance switch... built-in RCA Electro-Dynamic Speaker... and many other new features.

Make fun for your children. Make Molasses Popcorn Balls, Popcorn Macaroons, Sugar Popcorn Balls, Popcorn Fudge.

Barstow's Radio Shop

20 Bissell St., So. Manchester. Open 2 to 6 p. m., and 2 to 9 p. m. Thurs. and Sat. Phone Shop 3234, House 8160

SPECIAL

Excel Corn Popper Sale

Hot Fresh Popcorn made in a jiffy. Attach to your light socket this nickel plated CORN POPPER

FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY Now $2.50 each

50c DOWN $1.00 A MONTH Make fun for your children. Make Molasses Popcorn Balls, Popcorn Macaroons, Sugar Popcorn Balls, Popcorn Fudge.

The Manchester Electric Co.

773 MAIN STREET PHONE 5181

ADVERTISE IN THE HERALD—IT PAYS

EDUCATION, NOT THE WAR PUT OVER PROHIBITION

Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith Declares at W. C. T. U. Convention Campaign Lasted for 93 Years.

"War hysteria!" exclaimed Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith of Iowa, in refuting the charge made by the opponents of the 19th Amendment that it was "put over" by a minority as a bit of "war hysteria" in an address given at the evening session of the fifty-fourth annual state convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Connecticut, being held in the First Congregational church in Willimantic. "A definite educational campaign from the days of the Nazirites, an organization campaign from 1826 to 1819—93 years," a Federal legislative campaign from 1834 to 1919—85 years, can hardly be called hysteria!" Mrs. Smith is vice-president-at-large of the National W. C. T. U., president of the Iowa W. C. T. U., and is a leading club woman as well as an ordained minister of the Church of Christ. She was honored a few years ago by being acclaimed one of the ten most distinguished women in Iowa. This honor was conferred by the Governor's special commission because of her contribution to social service and moral protective legislation. "The 18th Amendment was necessary," Mrs. Smith went on to say, "because the general welfare, the promotion of our Constitution as one of the purposes of government, was menaced by the liquor traffic. Every method of restraint and attempted control had been tried. The traffic was always lawless and the habit was demoralizing. The colonies began the struggle against the harmfulness of drink when the colony of Connecticut in 1645 passed the first prohibition law of this country. Congress passed its first prohibitory law in 1824, prohibiting the sale of liquor in the Indian territory and the immediate violation of this law by men going out with bottles filling the legs of the high boots then worn, gave us the term 'bootlegging' so commonly used now. But bootlegging dates from 1834, not from 1820. It is by its very name, testimony to the inherent lawlessness of the liquor traffic."

The convention was called to order at one o'clock by the president, Mrs. Mary E. Wilson of Plantsville. The state evangelistic director, Mrs. Charlotte B. Joyce of Bridgeport, led the opening service of praise and prayer. Following the customary greetings and roll call, the presidents of four newly organized unions in Stratford, Canaan, Deep River and Coalt-Middle Haddam were introduced. Mrs. Wilson's annual address was an admirable summing up of the present day situation in efforts to promote the observance of the 18th Amendment. The state corresponding secretary, Mrs. Sarah A. Hull of Bristol, reported eighty-five local unions and seven young people's branches, with a total dues-paid membership of 4,164, of whom 622 have been enrolled during the past year. Net increases in membership were made by thirty-three unions. A W. C. T. U. pin was awarded to Mrs. Alice C. Stuart of Danbury for her excellent work in winning thirty-two new members during the year.

The children's branch, the Loyal Temperance Legion, has made a gain in membership in Middlesex, Fairfield, Litchfield and New London counties and now numbers 1039 boys and girls, according to the report of the state treasurer, Mrs. Nellie Rule Arnold of Meriden. More than two hundred dollars has been expended from the state treasury in promoting nine of our educational departments of work and over one hundred dollars awarded to young people in the public schools in essay and poster contests as state prizes. Thirteen all-day institutes for the education of the workers have been held during the year under the able leadership of Mrs. Hattie M. Newton of Durham. The editor of the White Ribbon Banner reported a circulation of from 4,200 to 4,700 copies of the state paper per month during the year.

A vivid account of their experiences in the Land of the Vikings was given by Mrs. Mabel P. Preusser of Waterbury and Mrs. Margaret G. Loomis of New Britain, who were members of Dr. Knudsen's Goodwill party to Denmark last summer. An enthusiastic Get-Together supper was held in the dining rooms of the church at 5:45 p. m. with music by the Boys' Band of St. Paul's Church, Willimantic. Mrs. Lena W. Green backer of Middlefield was toastmistress and introduced leaders of various other uplift organizations of Willimantic and vicinity.

At the evening session a very able presentation of the peace question was given by Mrs. May Bell Harper of New Haven, director of the national W. C. T. U. department of international relations.

The convention program on Wednesday will begin with department conferences at 8:45 a. m. and will include a pageant by directors of departments, "What next?" by county presidents, a march of the ninety-two presidents of local unions and Y. P. B.'s, the election of officers for the coming year and a demonstration of what has been done in the state during the year for World's work. The main address of Thursday evening will be given by Mrs. Lillian M. Mitchner, president of Kansas W. C. T. U., who knew Carrie Nation years ago in her work of closing the illegal saloons of Kansas and whose story of the establishment of prohibition in Kansas, which has been legally dry since 1880, will be of great interest.

DR. SWEETSER DEAD

Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. Edwin Chapin Sweetser, for fifty years pastor and pastor emeritus of the Universalist Church of the Messiah, died at his home yesterday. He was 82.

Dr. Sweetser was a graduate of Tufts college and of the Universalist Seminary, Canton, N. Y., before coming to Philadelphia in 1879. He served churches in Syracuse, N. Y., and New York City. He was president of the Universalist general convention in 1886 and 1887.

TASTY SANDWICHES and LUNCHEONS SERVED at MURPHY'S RESTAURANT

Place Your Order at Once for the RCA RADIOLA Model 33 New Prices RCA Radiola 33 Less Radiotrons $54.00 RCA Loud Speaker 100 B $17.50 RCA RADIOLA 33

Entirely new and distinctive is the new RCA Radiola 33. Its cabinet, although modern in tendency is yet so rich in the simplicity of its lines that it harmonizes perfectly with any type of home surroundings, and in its circuit and design are incorporated refinements which include the latest developments of the radio art.

To the inherent strength of the metallic construction of the cabinet has been added the charm of African Mahogany, the grain of which, in rich brown tones, is reproduced on its panels. The elegance of its unusual lines is enhanced by the charm and dignity of the champeve enamel border, the motif for which found its inspiration in the art of the American Indian tribes.

Radiola 33 employs the perfect RCA tuned radio-frequency circuit consisting of three stages of radio-frequency amplification, detector and two stages of audio-frequency amplification. It operates direct from the AC lighting circuit, is sturdily constructed of the finest materials—has beauty and substantial volume of tone—and finely balanced sensitivity and selectivity. It is mechanically correct.

Beauty, efficiency, dependability, tone quality and low price are the salient features of the new RCA Radiola 33.

Also Zenith, Philco and Silver-Marshall

Alfred A. GREZEL

Main St., Opp Park St., South Manchester

New Location Soon, Purnell Place, Just a Step from Main Street.

HOBOS FED TOO MUCH PIE, SAYS HUMORIST

Professor W. B. Bailey, Guest at Teachers' Hall—Prefers Old Fashion Sandwich.

American housewives are feeding the hoboes of the country too much pie and cake, Professor William B. Bailey, economist of the Travelers Insurance Company, of Hartford, said in an address last night following a dinner given in his honor at Teachers' Hall. Professor Bailey spoke on "The American Hobo."

"The American hobo, it was said, has an almost unbelievably simple time of providing himself with food, and especially does he find it easy to obtain pie and cake from housewives. What the tramp likes most, it was asserted, is two large thick slices of bread spread with butter and a huge slab of meat in between. As this is what he desires most, he usually manages to obtain it.

"Hoboes," Professor Bailey declared, "are very much like you and I. Their first interests are in obtaining something to eat, a place to sleep, something to wear, a smoke now and then and as it used to be, an occasional drink. A hobo usually eats five times a day; of those four are 'poke-outs' and a fifth is a 'set-down.' A 'poke-out' is handed out the door while the hobo sits down with his feet under the table for a 'set-down.'"

The chief source of worry that the hobo has, the speaker asserted, is to find a place to sleep. In his search for lodging at night the hobo of today, it was said, does not follow the tradition of sleeping nights in a haymow; for the simple reason that experience has taught him that usually when a farmer comes near a haymow he has a pitchfork in his hands. Nowadays the "Knights of the open road" sleep under a wagon, or at the side of a hayrack, or wherever they can find a protective place. In the language of the hobo, the tramp never sleeps but he either "pounds" his ear, "flops" or "dosses." The place where he sleeps has come to bear the name of "doss-house."

From Thanksgiving to January 1, the tramp finds it comparatively easy going, but when Christmas bills start coming in he begins to worry about his lodging and his source of food. As a consequence of this increasing anxiety the hobo about the first of the year consults his friends to find out the best jails, just as the modern man talks a lot about his vacation. As soon as the hobo has found a jail to his liking his winter problem is solved, for he usually is able to commit some minor crime for which he is sentenced 90 days. Confinement of six months is not what the tramp desires, for that would be too long, and 30 days is all too short and would force him out into the winter's cold before he was ready to resume his travels.

Tramps have many ingenious ways of obtaining money, it was said. Often times the small amount that a hobo needs can be obtained by telling people that a few cents are required to buy care for the next town, or that a little money is necessary to get medicine for a sick wife. If neither of these ways provides the necessary funds, tramps have learned that a good fit is an easy to procure monetary assistance. "Much useless energy is expended by hoboes walking around to the back doors for friendly advice," Prof. Bailey said. "They should have a blue book like the automobile directory which would tell them the houses to go and which to avoid. In one sense the hobo has such a directory in the form of tramp maps. I had two of these once for different towns. One was very good, giving all the houses on the main street and some on the side streets. However, I lent it to a minister some time ago, and never got it back.

"Another way the hobo has of telling what sort of reception he is to receive at the back door is by the marks on the front gate or post of a house. These are quite simple looking, and for all the world like nothing more than the playful work of a young child. If the gate or post is black the mark will be in white, while if it is white the mark will be in red or black." Professor Bailey did not divulge the nature of the mark to his audience.

Before Professor Bailey became associated with the Travelers in 1921, he was a member of Yale University Economics Faculty for 25 years. While at Yale he often led the students of his sociology classes on annual visits to New York City to inspect the darker side of life. As a result of these investigations and Professor Bailey's operation of a hobo lodging house in New Haven for ten years, he has become popularly known as the "Professor of the American Hobo." He is recognized as one of the leading economists in the United States and has specialized in labor problems and practical sociology. He has written and lectured extensively on these topics.

NEWPORT, Ark., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Sylvester Stillwell, farmer, was held in the county jail today pending investigation of a story told by two children that he killed two of the three men slain yesterday in oil trough bottoms near here.

Sheriff Nance said two children of C. C. Starks, one of the men killed, contradicted the statement of Stillwell that he killed John Heath after Heath had killed Starks and William Ash.

FARMER ACCUSED

HUNTERS PLEASED

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Last night's rain and wind storm was hailed as a boon today by western Massachusetts hunters, for overnight it changed conditions from the most unfavorable in years to nearly ideal. Immediate danger of fires was believed to be the chief factor in the decrease.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS DROP

St. Albans, Vt., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Duties collected in the Vermont customs district during September amounted to $181,769, Harry C. Whitehall, collector, reported today. This total represented a decrease of $10,000 from the total for September, 1928. A sharp drop in the amount of maple products imported from Canada was believed to be the chief factor in the decrease.

Hale's Annual Fall Pack CANNED FOODS SALE

THE SELF-SERVE GROCERY

IT PAYS TO WAIT ON YOURSELF

The J. W. Hale Company

JUST WHAT MANCHESTER HAS BEEN WAITING FOR.

This is a special Fall sale of canned foods which enables you to buy a variety of canned foods at prices that will save you money. These special prices are offered in units of two or more cans, but you are free to buy as many units as you like. These probably are the lowest prices you will see for some time. Buy to the limit—you can't go wrong!

Campbell's Tomato Soup

NEW PACK 6 cans 49¢

Buy a supply to have on hand.

White Tuna Fish

CURTIS FANCY 3 glass jars 55¢

"Chicken of the Sea" tuna fish.

Evaporated Milk

VAN CAMP'S 6 cans 49¢

Namco Crab Meat

FANCY NEW PACK 3 cans 97¢

Fancy Sugar Corn

HATCHET BRAND 4 No. 2 cans 49¢

Whole Wax Beans

SUNBEAM'S FANCY EXTRA SMALL 4 No. 2 cans 49¢

Fancy Tomatoes

THE FINEST QUALITY—SUNBEAM'S 6 No. 2 cans 85¢

Early June Peas

JUST RIGHT BRAND 6 No. 2 cans 49¢

Bean Hole Beans

MAINE WOODS STYLE 6 medium cans 72¢

Mince Meat

FRIEND'S PREPARED NEW ENGLAND 3 cans 75¢

Oven Baked Beans

FRIEND'S CALIFORNIA 3 large cans 65¢

California Peaches

REPUBLIC (SLICED AND HALVES) 2 No. 2 1/2 cans 47¢

David Harum's Canned Vegetables

David Harum are growers and packers of the finest vegetables only.

Hawaiian Pineapple

SCOTTISH CHIEF (PERFECT HALVES) 5 No. 2 cans $1.00

Tender Sweet Peas $1.00

6 No. 2 cans

Miscellaneous Specials

LUX TOILET SOAP 3 bars 19¢

Sweet Wrinkled Peas $1.25

6 No. 2 cans

Wesson Oil 53¢ quart tin

Free! A Measuring Cup with Every Quart of

Extra Sifted Sweet Wrinkled Peas $1.35

6 No. 2 cans

Weston's English Quality Biscuits 35¢ pound

FREE SAMPLING

Kitchen Tested Flour 24 1/2 pound bag $1.15

Fresh Fish Specials

Fresh Fillet of Sole lb 45¢

Fresh Smelts lb 35¢

Bull Heads lb 30¢

Boston Blues lb 15¢

There's Hidden Smartness in your old Felt Hat!

Why buy a new felt hat, when your old one can probably be brought back to its original smartness and made fit to wear in any company?

We clean your hat through and through—take out all the dirt and stains—revive the nap—skillfully mould back the shape and firmness.

Manchester Cleaners & Dyers

Robert E. Dougan, Prop. Phone 6938

129 Center Street. "Cleaners That Clean Clothes Cleanest."

Allen A

Our Great "NEW CUSTOMER" SALE of famous ALLEN-A Underwear

for Men and Boys is Now On. Newest Fall and Winter Styles at 20% Reductions until Monday Night.

HULTMAN'S

NEW YORK via HARTFORD LINE

PASSENGER AND FREIGHT SERVICE

Daily Except Sunday

Lv. HARTFORD 5:00 PM
Glastonbury 5:30 PM
Middletown 7:15 PM
E. Haddam 8:30 PM
Deep River 9:15 PM
Essex 10:00 PM
Lv. Saybrook Point 10:45 PM

Due NEW YORK (Pier 40, N.R.) 6:30 AM

PASSENGER FARES
One Way $2.50
Round Trip 4.00

Steam Heated Staterooms
Tickets and Reservations at State Street Wharf

The Hartford Line

HALES HEALTH MARKET

Fresh Fish Specials

Fresh Fillet of Sole lb 45¢

Fresh Smelts lb 35¢

Bull Heads lb 30¢

Boston Blues lb 15¢

Also a fresh supply of butter fish, salmon, sword fish, fresh mackerel, eels, flounders, fresh halibut, scallops, oysters and clams at Hale's usual low prices.

Manchester Evening Herald

PUBLISHED BY THE HERALD PRINTING COMPANY, INC. 18 Bissell Street, South Manchester, Conn. TROMBA FERGUSON, General Manager

Founded October 1, 1881

Published Every Evening Except Sundays and Holidays. Entered at the Post Office at South Manchester, Conn., as Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: One Year, by mail $6.00; For Month, by mail $1.00; Delivered, one year $9.00; Single copies $.05

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are reserved.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVE: Hamilton - DeLisser, Inc., 235 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y., and 612 North Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The Herald is on sale daily at all Schulte and Hoelling news stands in New York City.

Full service client of N E A Service, Inc. Member, Audit Bureau of Circulations.

The Herald Printing Company, Inc., assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors appearing in advertisements in the Manchester Evening Herald.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 23, 1929.

ANOTHER BARNUM YARN

In a recent magazine article on hoaxes we encounter another of those unending attributions of something he didn't do to the late Phineas Taylor Barnum. Defending the memory of Barnum from undeserved slights is more or less a regular job for this writer and it seems to us that it ought to be, from the same sense of fellow citizenship, for every newspaper writer in Connecticut old enough to differentiate between Barnum facts and Barnum fables.

Scores of times we have protested that it was not Barnum at all who invented or used that cynical declaration that "There's a sucker born every minute," and now we feel constrained to utterly deny the truth of the magazine article when it says that "Zip, the missing link," was one of the famous showman's own discoveries. We don't question the article's assertion that Zip was the late William Henry Johnson, a colored man born in New Jersey, who had a misshapen head. What we object to is the statement that "P. T. furnished him with a coat made of gorilla hair and a funny topknot."

It is not only our sincere belief that Mr. Barnum had nothing to do with the turning up of Zip but we doubt whether he ever saw that singular person. At the time when Zip came on the scene the showman of the Barnum circus had been leased as a concession to the late George B. Bunnell of New Haven and was known as "Bunnell's Annex." Bunnell found his own freaks, ran his own show. Barnum was then a very busy man with interests outside as well as connected with the circus. He didn't travel with the show at all. He certainly had gotten all through with such small stuff as manufacturing freaks years before Zip appeared. Zip was a Bunnell product.

GULLS

There is a story going about in the newspapers concerning a Polish peasant who bought some mining land on the moon. He had gone to Warsaw with a half formed idea of emigrating to America. There he fell in with a couple of men who told him that America was played out—the place everybody was heading for now was the moon. You got there by airplane or rocket. One of the strangers had been there himself. He was a mining man and had found the moon unbelievably rich in precious metals—had secured a number of splendid claims. Over a row of drinks the peasant begged to be let into this great opportunity. He had money, quite a lot of it, for he had turned all his possessions into cash. He made the offer himself of a fat price for one of the moon-claims. Reluctantly the moon-voyagers finally accepted. A "lawyer" was introduced, drew up the papers and the peasant, after a few more drinks faded into delighted slumber. When he awoke the strangers, the lawyer and his money were gone. The police told him they were sorry.

Everybody is entitled to laugh at this peasant except those Americans who have been buying stocks at from twice to three times their value and confidently expecting them to keep on going up forever. The moon buyer hadn't a thing on them.

NO VICTORY

Refusal of the Senate to recommend the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill to the Finance Committee, as proposed in a resolution offered by Senator Thomas of Oklahoma, is hardly to be interpreted as a forecast of victory for the bill. On the contrary, insurgent Republicans and Democrats joined with the regular Republicans to keep the bill alive on the floor of the Senate, not from any friendship for it but for the sole purpose of beating the stuffs out of it in the open and before the eyes of their constituents.

This in spite of the fact that the Thomas resolution instructed the Finance Committee to eliminate all tariff increases from the measure except those applying to agricultural products.

Recommendation of the bill under these circumstances would have had the same ultimate effect as its defeat on the floor, for the most unlikely thing is that it would ever have emerged from the committee in the form ordered by the resolution. But the Democrats and the insurgents are far less interested in the defeat of this particular tariff bill than they are in using it as a punching bag to show their constituents what wallops they can hand the enemy.

They believe they have the Smoot-Hawley measure licked—that they have a combination of votes large enough to prevent its passage in any event. But practically every one of these opposition Senators is primarily interested in self-advertising. And there is a deal more of this to be had out of indignant philippics against the bill, in Senate debate, than out of the quiet demise of the measure in a committee room.

seemed to contain but one name, that of the Manchester Evening Herald—that have come to recognize that it is impossible to achieve safe operation of automobiles at an unsafe average speed. The more, if not the merrier, at least the saner.

In this connection it is to be noted that there is propaganda going about to the effect that the state of Massachusetts is "considering" amending its speed laws in such a way as to establish a minimum speed limit but no maximum limit. If this is indeed being considered it must be by a small and unimportant element, for Massachusetts is headed faster than any other state in the Union toward a radical reform in automobile speed—maximum.

EVEN BREAK

Hartford Republicans have renominated Mayor Walter E. Batterson and the Democrats have nominated John F. Gaffey as his opponent. The Hartford Times in effect says, "Two nice men—take your choice." The Courant seems to have forgotten that the nomination of mayoralty candidates is traditional material for editorial expression. In this situation the only room for regret on the part of Hartford voters would seem to lie in the fact that each of them can't have two votes, one to give to Mr. Batterson, the other to Mr. Gaffey.

MESS

It probably isn't worrying the worthy mayor of the sovereign city of Middletown that in these columns his name was spelled Byfield, but since not even the most extreme clipping would warrant such a phonetic construction we extend to Mayor Bielefeld our apologies.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 23.—With all its strength, wealth, power and efficiency, New York can be rendered absolutely helpless by the turning of a few wheels.

Let a single subway car or two be halted by a strike, and pandemonium ensues. Let a severe snow storm halt the street traffic for a few moments and a day may be taken in untangling the snarl.

At the moment, the wheels of a certain number of trucks are refusing to carry the vegetable products from the warehouses—and a definite panic shakes half the city. A strike of truck-drivers having been called, produce cannot be delivered.

Within a few moments Gotham can be changed from a glowering Titan to a sniveling weakling. The great metropolis is helpless in the face of any monkey wrench in its machinery. And since it is a market-place and dependent largely on the outside world, any interference with its distributing system sends it groping like a blind man.

To one who lives within easy reach of market supplies, the predicament of Manhattan at such a time seems inconceivable.

Consider, then, that in the early hours of the day, before New York is even turning in its beds, boats from the Jersey side begin to haul in the market supplies of the day. Within a few hours something like six million dollars worth of farm products have been dumped upon the piers and the trucks are carrying them to the wholesale places of the West street district.

Remember, also, that there is very little direct buying done in New York—particularly where wholesaling is concerned. Cafes and coffee shops, tea rooms and grocery stores, vegetable markets and all the rest have commission men and agents to represent them at the market places. They never see their supplies until they arrive later in the day. The trading is done sometime about sun-up. One agent or commission man may have a dozen or a hundred clients. He knows the demands of each restaurant and store he represents. It's all very far away from the consumer.

The same applies to the fruits and other vegetables which arrive in refrigerated cars. Long before sun-up, something like 3,000 cars may be lying in lower Manhattan waiting to be unloaded.

Suddenly, due to the truckmen's strike, nothing can be done. Prices of cafes bang the table while demanding their quota of peas, carrots or beets. A visitor from Albuquerque or Des Moines, entering a hotel after a long ride, demands to know why the largest city on the continent cannot provide anything better than canned beans! So it goes!

The dawn scenes, by the way, are like nothing to be found on land or seas. The docks spring life long after good folks are in bed and the freight cars come grinding in while other travelers are warm and asleep in their berths.

With searchlights and hand flares the work goes on, until several thousand freight cars and hundreds of boats have landed their fruits and vegetables. The farms have been stripped of their best for the New York markets. With a strike on, food for a hundred armies lies wasting.

While the great city looks on helplessly—as it does when storm strikes it or a train is wrecked in a subway.

GILBERT SWAN.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald isn't bringing any naval experts with him to Washington. He must want to find out a few things for sure.

WASHINGTON LETTER

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series of stories by Rodney Dutcher telling of the work of Washington lobbyists in past times.

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, Oct. 23.—After the first large crop of lobbyists had forced through the Assumption bill with the aid of heavily interested congressmen and officials, thereby enriching the speculators, both lobbyists and speculators turned their attention to the rich lands to the west.

Manufacturing and other special classes needed no special lobby to aid them in early days. Wealthy, propertied men occupied the seats of Congress and were able to legislate for themselves as a class. But there were many enterprising persons who saw great opportunities in the new country and these either hired lobbyists or came to the seat of government themselves. Legislation in the northeast had already been taken when the Constitution went into effect, but vast areas remained in the south and the middle and far west.

A Lot of Bribery

Companies of distinguished citizens, largely composed of traders and bankers, employed bribery and corruption on a large scale, the evidence shows, either to get land grants or to evade existing laws regarding remuneration. As was often done with connivance of land office officials. There were no laws tending to help the small settlers. Everything did help the speculators who wanted to sell small lots at exorbitant prices.

In carrying out this great work, both in Congress and in the executive branch, the lobbyist dug itself in. There were many protests at the big land grabs, but cupidity defeated indignation. Nevertheless, there were some promoters once who arranged a land split with certain members of Congress and who were active in bringing to trial the bar of Congress when the deal was publicly disclosed. But a Philadelphia lawyer argued that the land grant bill had not been passed and so no punishable offense had been committed. He won the case.

Lobbyists in the Georgia legislature, representing a group of Boston and southern capitalists, obtained millions of acres of land and bribery became such an important issue at the next election that the people chose an almost entirely new legislature. The lobbyist turned out to be valuable mineral, the land was later ceded to the federal government.

The New England Mississippi Land Company had bought a million or so acres from an original buyer and sold it for a little or no profit, even at that amount, the prominent Boston capitalists forming the company lobbied for 11 years in Congress for indemnification. They finally got $1,000,000 from the treasury. The supreme court, which early showed a penchant for sustaining grants and franchises obtained by bribery and fraud, ruled that the legislature's original contract could not be revoked.

Bribery obtained many bank and other charters in this early period. The lobbyist provided the big job for the lobbyists. Various interests wanted canals built and urged that they would stimulate trade. The job of the lobbyists was to persuade federal and state governments that the promoting companies should be given a appropriation to dig canals and the canals themselves.

The government began to hand out canal land grants in 1824. The Wabash and Erie Canal Company obtained 326,000 acres in land grants in the next ten years and various others received lesser acreages. Congress gave away a total of 4,224,000 acres for the canal

See the Armstrong Educational Linoleum Exhibit in Our Window

Armstrong's Quaker Felt Rugs

Here's a real "special" in floors, a feature during our Educational Display Week... beautiful Quaker-Felt rugs in popular room sizes. The season's latest designs in the new touch, dirt-resisting, easily cleaned Accolac lacquer finish. Prices? You never knew such rugs could cost so little! You must see them... together with other felt rugs and Quaker Felt by-the-yard.

What an attractive floor and at such little cost!

When you see the Armstrong Educational Linoleum Exhibit in our windows this week... see all the countries where raw materials are gathered... all the processes linoleum must go through before it reaches your home... you will wonder how linoleum floors can cost so little!

On gay days and gray days... these charming modern floors are like built-in sunshine for your rooms. In entrance hall, living room, dining room, in every room in the house Armstrong's Linoleum Floors brighten the duller corners, yet fit gracefully into the most conservative color scheme. When you see the exhibit also inspect the new linoleum patterns!

Watkins System of Laying

By the Watkins System Armstrong's linoleum is cemented down over a layer of soft, yielding builders' deadening felt which has been previously cemented to the floor. Such floors are seamless sanitary and resilient to the foot.

WATKINS BROTHERS, Inc.
55 YEARS AT SOUTH MANCHESTER

MANCHESTER DUO-DOLLAR STORE

8x12 FT. $9.95 and $10.95
9x10 1/2 FT. $8.95 and $9.95
9x9 FT. $7.25 and $8.25
7 1/2 x 9 FT. $5.45 and $6.45
6x9 FT. $4.95 and $5.45
3x6 FT. $1.50 and $1.75
3x4 1/2 FT. $1.00 and $1.30
18x36 INCHES 39c and 45c

projects, mostly in Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Few Canals Were Dug

The fundamental object of most promoting companies was to plunder and to get rich quick. They asked for second, third or fourth appropriations and stole most of them, by indirect methods. Many of the promoters had little intention of building canals. One company dug a worthless little ditch and by fraudulent surveys made its congressional grant cover 100,000 acres of rich copper land in Wisconsin. The government never got them back.

For years lobbyists devoted themselves to obtaining grants of "swamp lands" which generally turned out to be valuable mineral, agricultural, timber or grazing lands.

But these early lobbyists, it would appear, were only pointing the way for the great era of lobbying and corruption which was about to be launched by railroad companies.

TOMORROW: Lobbying in Washington up to the Civil War.

TRYING FOR RECORD

Kansas City, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Lieut. Willard G. Moore, a Kansas City airplane salesman, planned to go aloft today in an attempt to better his own American altitude record for two-place monoplane. Lieutenant Moore will take off from Fairfax Airport in the same plane in which he made his record of 18,548 feet September 30.

The world record is held by Capt. Godfrey de Haviland, of England, whose mark is 19,800 feet.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

A LESSON ON CHOPS

The cook for a small household often finds it economical to use some kind of chops for the meat dish. It is indeed quite an art to cook a small roast of beef so that it develops the finest flavor. Most people who like roast beef prefer to eat it when they are dining out, as it is cooked in large quantities in the restaurant ovens and develops a certain flavor which is difficult to produce with a small roast of beef in the small oven.

In the United States, the favorite chop is the lamb chop, while the mutton chop is more desired in England. The mutton chop is of course from more mature sheep, is larger, and the English especially prefer it cut extra thick.

The French chop comes from the "rack" which is a term applied to the chuck and ribs. However, the term "chop" may mean any portion from the loin, rib, chuck or shoulder.

In preparing either lamb or mutton chops, it seems best to cut off the outer or thick layer, as this eliminates any strong taste which is peculiar to either lamb or mutton. In cooking chops, they may be broiled under the broiler in the regular way, or pan broiled, which means to put them in a hot pan without any fat, turning them over constantly to keep them from burning and sticking to the pan. Many people prefer this kind of pan broiling to that under the broiler, as it gives the meat a different flavor, similar to barbecued meat.

The veal chop makes a very tasty food which many consider to have a better flavor than beef. Both veal and lamb, however, should not be regularly preferred to beef and mutton, as these immature meats are more difficult to digest but, of course, may be used occasionally by those who have no digestive troubles and who find them more agreeable.

A reducing diet which has had some vogue is the lamb chop and pineapple diet which really makes a good combination, but should not be continued for very long, as it does not produce enough bulk, and is somewhat deficient in vitamins and organic salts which are needed from the non-starchy vegetables.

(More about chops tomorrow)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Non-Bleed—Question: H. G. writes:—"I am bothered with constant nose-bleeds. Will you tell me the cause?" Answer:—You may be suffering from high blood pressure, which would bring on the frequent nose-bleeds. Otherwise they are caused by a chronic irritation of the membranes inside the nose. These mucous membranes become inflamed and the blood vessels more exposed so that bleeding comes on more readily.

"Don't Know Where We're Goin'; Ask the Calf!"

SENATE TARIFF SESSION

While the great city looks on helplessly—as it does when storm strikes it or a train is wrecked in a subway.

GILBERT SWAN.

SPECIALS For The Weekend

Thursday, Friday, Saturday

Gent's Mesh Bands for strap watches $1.50 and up

Ladies' Mesh Bands for wrist watches $1.75 and up

Crystal Beads $1.50 and up

Cameo Pins $2.25 and up

Gent's Strap Watches $8.00

Elgin Legionnaire Strap Watches $19.00 and up

Full line of Conklin, Chilton and Waterman Fountain Pens $2.75 and up

Ollendorff Wrist Watches for ladies complete with bracelet $28.50 and up

Westclox Alarm Clocks in colors $1.50 to $5.00

New Pocket Ben Watches $1.50

R. DONNELLY

Jeweler
515 Main St., So. Manchester

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

A LESSON ON CHOPS

The cook for a small household often finds it economical to use some kind of chops for the meat dish. It is indeed quite an art to cook a small roast of beef so that it develops the finest flavor. Most people who like roast beef prefer to eat it when they are dining out, as it is cooked in large quantities in the restaurant ovens and develops a certain flavor which is difficult to produce with a small roast of beef in the small oven.

In the United States, the favorite chop is the lamb chop, while the mutton chop is more desired in England. The mutton chop is of course from more mature sheep, is larger, and the English especially prefer it cut extra thick.

The French chop comes from the "rack" which is a term applied to the chuck and ribs. However, the term "chop" may mean any portion from the loin, rib, chuck or shoulder.

In preparing either lamb or mutton chops, it seems best to cut off the outer or thick layer, as this eliminates any strong taste which is peculiar to either lamb or mutton. In cooking chops, they may be broiled under the broiler in the regular way, or pan broiled, which means to put them in a hot pan without any fat, turning them over constantly to keep them from burning and sticking to the pan. Many people prefer this kind of pan broiling to that under the broiler, as it gives the meat a different flavor, similar to barbecued meat.

The veal chop makes a very tasty food which many consider to have a better flavor than beef. Both veal and lamb, however, should not be regularly preferred to beef and mutton, as these immature meats are more difficult to digest but, of course, may be used occasionally by those who have no digestive troubles and who find them more agreeable.

A reducing diet which has had some vogue is the lamb chop and pineapple diet which really makes a good combination, but should not be continued for very long, as it does not produce enough bulk, and is somewhat deficient in vitamins and organic salts which are needed from the non-starchy vegetables.

(More about chops tomorrow)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Non-Bleed—Question: H. G. writes:—"I am bothered with constant nose-bleeds. Will you tell me the cause?" Answer:—You may be suffering from high blood pressure, which would bring on the frequent nose-bleeds. Otherwise they are caused by a chronic irritation of the membranes inside the nose. These mucous membranes become inflamed and the blood vessels more exposed so that bleeding comes on more readily.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

A LESSON ON CHOPS

The cook for a small household often finds it economical to use some kind of chops for the meat dish. It is indeed quite an art to cook a small roast of beef so that it develops the finest flavor. Most people who like roast beef prefer to eat it when they are dining out, as it is cooked in large quantities in the restaurant ovens and develops a certain flavor which is difficult to produce with a small roast of beef in the small oven.

In the United States, the favorite chop is the lamb chop, while the mutton chop is more desired in England. The mutton chop is of course from more mature sheep, is larger, and the English especially prefer it cut extra thick.

The French chop comes from the "rack" which is a term applied to the chuck and ribs. However, the term "chop" may mean any portion from the loin, rib, chuck or shoulder.

In preparing either lamb or mutton chops, it seems best to cut off the outer or thick layer, as this eliminates any strong taste which is peculiar to either lamb or mutton. In cooking chops, they may be broiled under the broiler in the regular way, or pan broiled, which means to put them in a hot pan without any fat, turning them over constantly to keep them from burning and sticking to the pan. Many people prefer this kind of pan broiling to that under the broiler, as it gives the meat a different flavor, similar to barbecued meat.

The veal chop makes a very tasty food which many consider to have a better flavor than beef. Both veal and lamb, however, should not be regularly preferred to beef and mutton, as these immature meats are more difficult to digest but, of course, may be used occasionally by those who have no digestive troubles and who find them more agreeable.

A reducing diet which has had some vogue is the lamb chop and pineapple diet which really makes a good combination, but should not be continued for very long, as it does not produce enough bulk, and is somewhat deficient in vitamins and organic salts which are needed from the non-starchy vegetables.

(More about chops tomorrow)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Non-Bleed—Question: H. G. writes:—"I am bothered with constant nose-bleeds. Will you tell me the cause?" Answer:—You may be suffering from high blood pressure, which would bring on the frequent nose-bleeds. Otherwise they are caused by a chronic irritation of the membranes inside the nose. These mucous membranes become inflamed and the blood vessels more exposed so that bleeding comes on more readily.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

A LESSON ON CHOPS

The cook for a small household often finds it economical to use some kind of chops for the meat dish. It is indeed quite an art to cook a small roast of beef so that it develops the finest flavor. Most people who like roast beef prefer to eat it when they are dining out, as it is cooked in large quantities in the restaurant ovens and develops a certain flavor which is difficult to produce with a small roast of beef in the small oven.

In the United States, the favorite chop is the lamb chop, while the mutton chop is more desired in England. The mutton chop is of course from more mature sheep, is larger, and the English especially prefer it cut extra thick.

The French chop comes from the "rack" which is a term applied to the chuck and ribs. However, the term "chop" may mean any portion from the loin, rib, chuck or shoulder.

In preparing either lamb or mutton chops, it seems best to cut off the outer or thick layer, as this eliminates any strong taste which is peculiar to either lamb or mutton. In cooking chops, they may be broiled under the broiler in the regular way, or pan broiled, which means to put them in a hot pan without any fat, turning them over constantly to keep them from burning and sticking to the pan. Many people prefer this kind of pan broiling to that under the broiler, as it gives the meat a different flavor, similar to barbecued meat.

The veal chop makes a very tasty food which many consider to have a better flavor than beef. Both veal and lamb, however, should not be regularly preferred to beef and mutton, as these immature meats are more difficult to digest but, of course, may be used occasionally by those who have no digestive troubles and who find them more agreeable.

A reducing diet which has had some vogue is the lamb chop and pineapple diet which really makes a good combination, but should not be continued for very long, as it does not produce enough bulk, and is somewhat deficient in vitamins and organic salts which are needed from the non-starchy vegetables.

(More about chops tomorrow)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Non-Bleed—Question: H. G. writes:—"I am bothered with constant nose-bleeds. Will you tell me the cause?" Answer:—You may be suffering from high blood pressure, which would bring on the frequent nose-bleeds. Otherwise they are caused by a chronic irritation of the membranes inside the nose. These mucous membranes become inflamed and the blood vessels more exposed so that bleeding comes on more readily.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

A LESSON ON CHOPS

The cook for a small household often finds it economical to use some kind of chops for the meat dish. It is indeed quite an art to cook a small roast of beef so that it develops the finest flavor. Most people who like roast beef prefer to eat it when they are dining out, as it is cooked in large quantities in the restaurant ovens and develops a certain flavor which is difficult to produce with a small roast of beef in the small oven.

In the United States, the favorite chop is the lamb chop, while the mutton chop is more desired in England. The mutton chop is of course from more mature sheep, is larger, and the English especially prefer it cut extra thick.

The French chop comes from the "rack" which is a term applied to the chuck and ribs. However, the term "chop" may mean any portion from the loin, rib, chuck or shoulder.

In preparing either lamb or mutton chops, it seems best to cut off the outer or thick layer, as this eliminates any strong taste which is peculiar to either lamb or mutton. In cooking chops, they may be broiled under the broiler in the regular way, or pan broiled, which means to put them in a hot pan without any fat, turning them over constantly to keep them from burning and sticking to the pan. Many people prefer this kind of pan broiling to that under the broiler, as it gives the meat a different flavor, similar to barbecued meat.

The veal chop makes a very tasty food which many consider to have a better flavor than beef. Both veal and lamb, however, should not be regularly preferred to beef and mutton, as these immature meats are more difficult to digest but, of course, may be used occasionally by those who have no digestive troubles and who find them more agreeable.

A reducing diet which has had some vogue is the lamb chop and pineapple diet which really makes a good combination, but should not be continued for very long, as it does not produce enough bulk, and is somewhat deficient in vitamins and organic salts which are needed from the non-starchy vegetables.

(More about chops tomorrow)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Non-Bleed—Question: H. G. writes:—"I am bothered with constant nose-bleeds. Will you tell me the cause?" Answer:—You may be suffering from high blood pressure, which would bring on the frequent nose-bleeds. Otherwise they are caused by a chronic irritation of the membranes inside the nose. These mucous membranes become inflamed and the blood vessels more exposed so that bleeding comes on more readily.

EDISON PUT CRIMP IN LOCAL FACTORY

While Nation Hails Inventor This Town Recalls Loss of a Big Industry.

The observance of the fifty years anniversary of the perfection of the incandescent light by Thomas Edison now being generally observed has a Manchester connection that seems to have been overlooked or forgotten. Manchester and Manchester men are entitled to some glory. Three years after Edison had successfully made the electric lamp, experiments were being made for its further development. The Perkins lamp, as it was known in those days, was being experimented upon by men who secured their money backing from Manchester people. The tests were made in Manchester and the first arc light to be used in this country was tried out in the Oakland Paper mill in Oakland.

N. T. Pulsifer, head of the mill at Oakland before it was sold to the American Writing Paper company, allowed the experiments to be carried on there while tests were being carried on by Lyssander Franklin, then a resident of Hartford, but then living on North School street, Manchester, at the time. Edison's lamp or bulb used in the tube a cotton cord with a non-combustible coating. Mr. Franklin conceived and put into operation the making of a hard-pressed paper board in the bulb, finding this to be a non-conductor. When these experiments proved to be successful the Mather Electric company was organized. This was on October 13, 1883, or forty-six years ago this month. The name of Mather was given the company because of the work of Robert Mather on the arc light. Harry G. and Robert Cheney, N. T. Pulsifer and Maro S. Chapman were named among the incorporators.

With the incorporation of the Perkins Electric Lamp company in March, 1889 they occupied the building in the manufacture of lamps. The Mather mill was built in 1888. The company was employing 100 hands when they ran against a court injunction by the Edison company, which provided that after March 25, 1889 the Edison company shall supply lamps to all Mather companies which were installed before the rendition of the district court decree. This ended the manufacturing of the lamps in Manchester as it was felt it would not be a paying proposition then on and there was not sufficient capital obtained to continue the work here and the machinery was moved to Hartford. Lyssander Franklin, who had so much to do with the lamp's improvement went to Hartford and conducted the Franklin Electric company, but still retains a close connection among many of his old friends in Manchester.

LICENSES SUSPENDED

A list of operators whose licenses to drive automobiles in Connecticut have been suspended for one year for driving while under the influence of liquor was given out today at the State Motor Vehicle Department as a part of the effort to reduce this highway menace. The department statement advised people to notify the department or the police in case they should see any of these drivers operating motor vehicles.

Bloomfield: John T. Snell, Bridgeport, Francis E. Timoney, Danbury, Eugene Marchland, Hartford, Daniel P. Maloney, John L. Smith, John F. Stone, Milford, Peter Solomon.

Mystic: Hubert Watson, New Haven, John E. Coveyduck, Edward M. Lawler, Oakville, Ralph Stewart, Pomfret Center, Guy L. Baker, Stratford, Wesley B. Weller, Brooklyn, N. Y., Jacob Berenzweig, New York City, Lester W. Marsh.

A man's brain attains its maximum weight at the age of 20 years.

ROCKVILLE

Negotiations for the purchase of Rockville-Willimantic Lighting Company are now in progress, it was announced by good authority on Tuesday and although it is not believed that the transaction is completed, it is expected that an official announcement will be made in a short time confirming the sale.

It is reported that numerous changes will be made in the board of directors and that some of the long time employes will be pensioned.

Secretary H. M. Whiting at his home in Pine Orchard, Conn., professed total ignorance of the sale and said he did not know if it would ever be sold. Information that the directors of the Rockville-Willimantic Lighting Co. had been asked to resign, the letters having been prepared for their signatures, preliminary to the company being taken over by the new owners, who are said to now have the control of the common stock, Secretary Whiting refused to discuss this.

The negotiations are on for the purchase of the Rockville-Willimantic Lighting Company, with plants in this city, Stafford Springs and Willimantic, with the general office in the latter city. One of the best type-written letters sent to the present directors of the company.

Rev. William Drach Accepts Call. The First Evangelical Lutheran church of this city is soon to have a pastor, to succeed Rev. John F. Baumann, who resigned July 1, to become pastor of the Lutheran church in Linwood, N. J. Rev. William Drach of Buffalo, N. Y., has accepted a call to succeed to him following a meeting of the Lutheran congregation on October 8, Robert Tensstedt, president of the congregation receiving word to that effect yesterday.

The news that Mr. Drach has accepted the Rockville pastorate will be pleasing to members of the church and the people of the community. It means that the First Evangelical Lutheran church will have one of the most able preachers in the Lutheran denomination, for he has been pastor of one of Buffalo's leading churches for twenty years. He recently received a call to become pastor of the Lutheran church in Meriden, Conn., but declined. He is highly recommended by Rev. William Meyer of Waterbury, one of the leading Lutheran preachers in Connecticut. It is expected the new pastor will come to Rockville about November 1.

Wed Twenty-Five Years. Mr. and Mrs. August Loehr of the old Tolland Road will celebrate their silver wedding on Saturday afternoon and evening of this week. A dinner will be served to relatives from New York City, Long Island City, N. Y., New Jersey and this city on Saturday at noon. There will be open house during the afternoon and evening and all friends and neighbors of the couple are invited to call.

Mr. and Mrs. Loehr were married at St. Joseph's church on October 28, 1894 by Rev. Father Eisler. They have resided in this city for the past eighteen years and have many friends who will call to congratulate them on Saturday.

Eight children were born of the marriage, seven of whom are living: Misses Mary, Louise, Elizabeth, Bernice, Ann, William and August Loehr of this city. Ellen G. Berry Auxiliary Inspection. Ellen G. Berry Auxiliary will hold its regular meeting on Monday evening, October 27 at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be of short duration as inspection will be held. Following inspection there will be a Hal-lowe'en social at 1 supper, to which it is expected there will be a large number present. All members are requested to attend if possible.

Birthday Party. On Monday afternoon Mrs. Emmeline Ludwig of Orchard street entertained in honor of the eleventh birthday of her daughter Hazel. The party was held from 4 until 7 o'clock, a delicious luncheon being served in the dining room which was decorated in Hal-lowe'en colors. Games were played and musical numbers rendered by several of the little guests. There were several guests present.

Past Grands Met Monday. Members of the Trinity Past Grands Association were the guests of the Manchester Lodge in Manchester on Monday afternoon, at which time a supper was served. Those who attended from this city were Mrs. Alice Kingston, Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Whittlesey, Mrs. Harry Friedrich, Mrs. E. H. Cobb and Mrs. Achsah Dowling. Aiden Skinner Auxiliary will hold a public whist in the dining room of G. A. R. Hall on Tuesday evening, August 29. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served. The following members will be in charge: Mrs. John Huhny, Jr., Mrs. Cora Elliott, Mrs. Flora Stamps.

Pythian Club to Meet. The Pythian Social Club will meet in its rooms in the Fitch block on Thursday evening, Oct. 24. Members are asked to make a special effort to be present as business of special importance will be transacted.

Men's Club Social. The Men's Clubs of the Baptist church will hold a box social in the social rooms of the church on Friday evening, November 1. Every member of the club, with friend or family is requested to attend. Complete plans will be made at a meeting of the club on Friday evening of this week.

Girls' Club Whist. The Girls Club held a public whist in its rooms in the Prescott block on Monday night, to which there was a large number of players present. Prizes were awarded as follows: first ladies, Mrs. Nellie Jackson; second, Mrs. J. Willis; consolation, Mrs. Annie O'Loughlin; first gents, William Griffith; second, Oscar Meiner; consolation, Walter Reinhold. After whist playing refreshments were served.

Well Baby Conference. There will be a Well Baby Conference in the rooms of the Visiting Nurse Association in the Prescott block on Thursday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock. Many mothers will be present with their babies.

Frank Milne in Hospital. Frank H. Milne, local manager at the local office of the Rockville-Willimantic Lighting Co., is ill at the Hartford hospital.

"Rockville's Busy Cut-Ups" held a dress rehearsal for their play "Winnin' Pa." at the home of Mrs. Howard Little of Orchard street on Friday evening. The entire program for "Junior Achievement" was gone through and club songs were practiced. The members are to present a program for the American Legion Auxiliary Hal-lowe'en social on Wednesday night.

The mothers of the club members are also invited to attend and the work of the club will be judged and prizes awarded.

After the rehearsal Mrs. Little served delicious refreshments. Mrs. Morin and Mrs. Lehmann, the directors were present. The members left about nine o'clock, after having had a very enjoyable evening.

Notes. Walter Gerstenlauer of Vernon avenue has returned from the Hartford hospital where he underwent an operation of the nose.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Reel have returned to their home after attending the funeral of Mrs. F. J. Ladd of Barre, Vt.

The Sewing Circle of the First Evangelical Lutheran church will hold a banquet at the church this evening. There will be a surprise program.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert III of Laurel street have returned from a visit in Hoosic Falls and Troy, N. Y.

Jesse Bilson of Talcott avenue is confined to his home by illness. Cards have been received in this city from Miss Mae Tobin of Hale street, who is on a trip to Bermuda.

Airplane service in the interior of Alaska has cut the time to make the trip from Fairbanks to Livengood from 50 hours to 50 minutes.

TWO TALKIES TODAY ON STATE PROGRAM

"Man and the Moment" and "His Lucky Day." Both Good Films Presented.

The two talking pictures on the new double feature program at the State today and Thursday presents Billie Dove in Elinor Glyn's, "The Man and the Moment," and Reginald Denny in "His Lucky Day," bringing to the screen all the ingredients that go to make up real entertainment.

"The Man and the Moment" is one of the most famous, and most widely read of the stories from the versatile pen of Elinor Glyn. The picture is a faithful depiction of the book. All of the elements which fascinated the millions of readers have been retained, and the characters in the picture seem to have stepped right out from the pages of the book, so true are they to the book characters. Billie Dove has few pictures so well adapted to her particular style of acting and her supporting cast, headed by Rod La Rocque, could hardly have been improved upon.

"His Lucky Day" presents Reginald Denny, the versatile screen comedian, in a picture that is a veritable laugh riot from start to finish. Denny is an even better laugh producer in the talking pictures than he was in the silent pictures, and his ability in the silent screen is too well known to dwell upon it. In this picture, Denny is seen as a young real estate salesman who is trying to sell twin mansions to his prospective father-in-law. From this one situation you can readily surmise what complications have been made by him on Bunice Pringle, youthful co-ed dancer, to-day faced an indefinitely longer period of hostile cross examination by the prosecution.

The gray-haired, 54 years old theater magnate denied the girl's charges yesterday and declared they were "a frame up." He said the 17 year old girl grabbed him and screamed, without provocation after they had been in his tiny cubbyhole office but a few minutes.

Questioned by District Attorney Bureau Fitts concerning his possession of the key to the "little mystery room" in which he was accused of attacking the girl, Pantages tersely replied in his office of offices in which to keep such a key.

He denied the room repeatedly identified by his own employees as "Mr. Pantages private office" was such, declaring it was "a general office" to which all employees had access.

ZEP OVER FRANCE. Lyon, France, Oct. 23—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin passed over here enroute to Spain at 10:48 a. m., flying at an altitude of about 1,500 feet.

GREENBERG'S Cleaners $1.00 Dyers 28 OAK ST.

Men's Winter Overcoats and Suits Dry Cleaned and Pressed $1.00.

FREE DELIVERY SERVICE We Clean Everything Phone 4928

GREENBERG'S Cleaners $1.00 Dyers 28 OAK ST.

Men's Winter Overcoats and Suits Dry Cleaned and Pressed $1.00.

FREE DELIVERY SERVICE We Clean Everything Phone 4928

GREENBERG'S Cleaners $1.00 Dyers 28 OAK ST.

Men's Winter Overcoats and Suits Dry Cleaned and Pressed $1.00.

FREE DELIVERY SERVICE We Clean Everything Phone 4928

INSURANCE

The Best Guardian of Life and Property

Insure Your Valuables

A BOX IN A GOOD SAFE DEPOSIT VAULT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST INSURANCE.

The Manchester Trust Co.

Fire and Liability Insurance.

RICHARD G. RICH

Tinker Building, South Manchester.

Good Appearance Is A Valuable Asset To Go With A Boys' Education

Our government has wisely provided for the education of our future citizens—but it leaves to the parents the responsibility for their smart appearance which is equally vital toward their success. It's as important to check up on a boy's wardrobe each week, as it is on the pantry and cupboard.

In this manner you will automatically instill in him care and thoroughness, you will cultivate in him a taste for dress, you will provide him with the self-assurance and the ability to command respect—assets that are the best insurance for his future.

Don't wait until he is entirely out of clothing or furnishings—for a little sum, timely spent, will not only keep him smart-looking but will also save you money in the end.

BOYS' SUITS Ages 6 to 18 With 2 Pair Pants, one long and one short $10 to $25

Children's Overcoats Sizes 3 to 10 $8.50 to $15.00

BOYS' OVERCOATS Sizes 11 to 18 $13.50 to $25.00

BOYS' HORSEHIDE BLOUSES AND COATS $13.50 to $15.00

BOYS' CLOTH WINDBREAKERS $6.00 and $8.00

BOYS' ODD KNICKERS Sizes 6 to 18 $2.00 to $4.50

WE ALSO FEATURE A BOY SCOUT DEPARTMENT. We are the official Boy Scout headquarters for uniforms and equipment.

C. E. HOUSE & SON, Inc.

BOYS' RUBBER RAINCOATS AND SLICKERS $5.00

BOYS' BLOUSES $1.00 and $1.50

BOYS' UNDERWEAR UNION SUITS $1.25 to $2.75

BOYS' SHIRTS $1.00-$1.50

BOYS' SOCKS 50c to $1.00

BOYS' CAPS $1 $1.25 $1.50

BOYS' GLOVES 50c to $2.50

BOYS' HELMETS $1.00 and $1.50

BOYS' BELTS 50c and $1.00

Boys' Shoes

Here's a Real Boy's Shoe Something that's good for a boy that he likes! Don't often get such a combination, do you? Yet boys seem to almost wish for Winter weather so they can wear these shoes $5.50

Buster Brown Boys' DRESS SHOES $3.50 to $6.00

In blacks and tans, high and low models.

CHEERINESS-- WITH WALL-PAPER

By selecting the appropriate color and pattern you can infuse into the atmosphere of each room a note of cheeriness and charm. The various designs we show will help crystalize your ideas on design and color.

The Wall Paper we carry is of an excellent quality but yet is priced very moderately. You are welcome to see our books at any time.

JOHN I. OLSON

PAINTING AND DECORATING CONTRACTOR 599 Main Street, South Manchester

The Strong Box

A small annual deposit during your productive years guarantees you $100 a month beginning at age 65, or earlier if poor health compels you to give up work, and $10,000 for your family if you die before age 65.

The money you put in you will never be tempted to invest unwisely, spend on unnecessary luxuries or lend. Yet it's ready when you need it. Ask for cost at your age.

Connecticut General Life Insurance Company of Hartford

FAYETTE B. CLARKE INSURANCE

Denot Square, Manchester

TO THE PUBLIC

The Golden Gate Chinese Laundry

At 30 Oak Street

Under New Management

Work Guaranteed or Money Refunded

Open 6:30 a. m. till 9 p. m. Hours, Thurs. and Sat. 6:30 a. m. till 10 p. m.

Read Herald Advs

New VIBRA-CONTROL Only in Fada Sets

This new design principle amazes even the experts and will astound you too when you hear it. The most revolutionary achievement since the advent of the electric sets—come in today.

Vibra-Controlled Screen Grid Fada 25 with dynamic speaker in a cabinet of burl walnut. New 245 power tubes in push pull. $165 less tubes.

MAGNELL DRUG CO.

1095 Main Street, South Manchester

Harvard Reserve Force Broken Up By Horween

Pony Backfield Is No More As Contabs Prepare for Marsters' Indians at Cambridge.

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN

New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—With a second successive big game Saturday in store for more than eleven in the east, coaches generally in this sector plan two afternoons of high powered practice prior to the Friday quill. Many of the tutors are making quick re-alignments of their forces in an attempt to overcome weaknesses manifest in victory or in defeat last Saturday.

Harvard's famous pony backfield is no more. The heroic reserve force has been broken up by Arnold Horween in an attempt to get more speed into his opening attack before the invasion of Cambridge by Al Marsters and his "White Indians" from Dartmouth. Devens and Potter of the Ponies probably will team with Putnam and T. Gilligan on Saturday as Hugguley and White repose on the bench, at the start anyway. Barry Wood, hero of the 20-20 Army tie had the call as first sub in practice yesterday.

Mal Stevens is mapping an air offensive with which to strike back at Cagle and the Army in the Yale Bowl on Saturday. Despite a rain which hampered many eastern elevens yesterday, Stevens ordered his charges to get into the air in a snappy practice session and the Elis spent the afternoon spinning a wet ball about the field.

Princeton has stopped Navy plays in practice but the selling reveals that the midshipmen themselves will present quite a different proposition in Palmer Stadium Saturday. The Tigers had only a half hour out doors yesterday because of the rain.

Tuss McLaughry alternated Harris and Mahood in "Football's" vacant post as the Bruins called in intensive work for their first game against Syracuse since 1922.

Carnegie Tech scrimmaged in the rain yesterday in anticipation of Notre Dame's invasion of the smoky city. Amherst and Wesleyan toiled through rain and mire for the opening Little Three engagement scheduled for Saturday.

BIG LEAGUE PILOTS WRITING WANT ADS

Managing a major league baseball club is becoming a precarious job with each succeeding year. With the demand for winning clubs causing such keen competition for the big league pilots, there may come a day when aging ball players no more will have the managers of blossoming clubs as they would in the past. In fact they may feel that a nice job as clubhouse boy offers a more secure livelihood.

Never before in the history of baseball has there been such a confusion among the heads of the managerial crowns as there has been at the close of the 1929 season. At this writing six of the bosses definitely out of their old jobs, with the strong possibility that one more will draw his salary check from a different source next summer. Two of the aforesaid six have caught on where others were deposited and it is quite likely that one or more of the remaining four will fare likewise.

Lena Blackburne, who can wear more black eyes in a baseball season than any other man in the game, was the first to go. His inability to handle the belligerent Art Shires cost him his job. Lena's job was a thankless one and no doubt he is glad to be rid of it. With business office interference and lack of club harmony that was there long before Lena inherited the job, it is a question if any manager could have done better.

Bush Means Business Donnie Bush, who was canned at Pittsburgh, fell into Lena's job only after he made sure that he was going to be the manager in thirsty Cincinnati rooters finally turned thumbs down on him. But Jack Lester, a bit perturbed, at the world series, he was all smiles. He said he had a big load off his mind and for the present had no plans for the future. It is a cinch that Jack will be in baseball next year, possibly as part owner of some AA club.

Bill McKechnie could have stayed on as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, but thought more of a permanent address, no doubt, and signed a four-year contract to manage Judge Emil Fuchs' Boston Braves.

Banker Carrigan Not Worrying Bill Carrigan, who for the past four years has been trying to kindle the winning spark in the Boston Red Sox, has announced he will give it up as a bad job. Carrigan, a great catcher and one of the brainiest players of the game in his day, could do nothing to boost the lowly Sox. Lack of first-class material handicapped him. But Bill doesn't give to worry about a baseball job anyway, as he is one of the foremost bankers of Lewiston, Me. The man who succeeds him will have to be an optimist, for the Red Sox look more like Singer's Midgets than a major league ball club.

Howling Dan Howley, who built the St. Louis Browns from a rank and-file club into a snappy first division outfit, fell into the bad places of the owners. They accused Dan of talking out of turn and replaced him with Bill Killefer, erstwhile coach. Howley took it philosophically and is ready for any offers.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Austin Smith, North Dakota tackle, wears a full mustache and beard. . . . Inquiries revealed, however, he was not one of the well-known "rough drop" brothers. The Cubs liked Haas, and so long as somebody had to break up a ball game for them, they'd just as soon see him do it. . . . Press box applications for the Michigan-Illinois game contain a warning against requesting a seat for an "assistant" . . . because "our confidence has been blighted by the appearance of pugilists, bond salesmen, and billposters as 'assistants'." . . . In 27 years of competition, Joe Ruddy, the swimmer, has scored 1650 points for the New York A. C. . . . Joe is 51. . . . His grandfather, heavy-weight champion of Ireland, who died at the age of 108. . . . Joe says he'll still be "in the swim" at 125.

ACE HUDKINS

CHALLENGER

GR-R-R GR-R-R FT-TT FT-TT

THESE BOYS DON'T FOOL-HEY FIGHT!

SIC 'IM DOG - AT 'IM CAT

ANTI-WILSON FAN DROPS LEGAL SUIT

Chicago, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Lewis (Hack) Wilson, Cub centerfielder has one less worry than he had yesterday. A suit for $20,000 against the outfielder filed by a fan who charged Wilson had assaulted him at Wrigley Field early last summer has been dismissed.

He Guesses Well Strib knows, no doubt, that the Hamburger can hit plenty hard. It is hard to outguess the boy from the south on this point, even an expert usually can predict how he is going to conduct himself in any given bout. If the Hamburger could work out some sort of decision over Strib, it would save us a lot of worry about who is going to face Sharkey in Miami in March.

The Six Hundred Millionaires want to see Max get one of the big fights against Sharkey. A lot of things can happen between now and March, but it's no secret that Max stands in line for a go right now if he can manage to get out of his tangle with the New York commission.

Barring Schmeling, who is there to send against the fearful Sharkey fellow? Phil Scott? Perhaps, but that doesn't sound like a million-dollar fight by a long way, even though people will pay to see something when there isn't must else to do.

Another Stribling-Sharkey affair wouldn't be a whole lot to write home about, but even that gamble would be a better one to take than Sharkey pitted against Scott or some of the other hopefuls who are going around disguised as heavyweights right now.

Sharkey and Stribling could put on a great fight. They didn't, of course, but there is always the possibility of such a fight being real. Each is careful, resourceful, and each can hit hard. Sharkey wouldn't put up a great fight last year because of the background of the Stribling punching power which would be to reckon. If the Gob could be lashed into the same kind of a fury he showed against Loughran, and Stribling coaxed out of a natural reticence against staking his reputation on a slam-bang scrap, the battle of Miami would have been great ring history.

Friends Sour on Him All of Stribling's friends through the south wanted to see him open up against Sharkey. He owed it to them to come out of the old shell. On the basis of his disappointing showing, he really doesn't deserve another chance, but who is there besides Willie who could give Sharkey a scare?

Meanwhile, if Stribling meets the Hurful Hamburger, a big question may be answered for the people who will go to Miami to greet the sweet springtime on its northward march. Strib might forget himself against Herr Max. If not, there isn't much chance of his getting a big fight in this country again.

Already he has succeeded Jack Hendricks at the helm of the Reds. Howley proved he is capable and should have no trouble holding his own in amiable surroundings.

Wilbert Robinson, manager of Brooklyn, has long been at odds with a faction of the owners and is likely to step out at any minute. The general Robbie doesn't go for petty bickering. He has enough of the world's goods to do as he pleases. Besides, they aren't making the sleeping car compartments any larger these days, which also has long been a thorn in Robbie's side.

Cleveland.—Johnny Risko, Cleveland, stopped Jimmy Maloney, Boston, three.

Chicago.—Haakon Hanson, Chicago, outpointed Jack McKenna, Cleveland, ten.

Kansas City.—Feeses Kaiser, St. Louis outpointed Henry Falegano, Des Moines, Ia., ten.

Indianapolis.—George Kerwin, Chicago, outpointed Billy Rose, Cincinnati, ten.

Two of the fastest men on the gridrons this fall are Jesse Hill, the Southern California fullback, and Jack Elder, the flashy Notre Dame ball-carrier. Both are quick starters, with the weight and drive to shake off would-be tacklers. They will do their stuff on the same scene of action, Soldier Field at Chicago, on November 9, with the prospect of well over 100,000 spectators being on hand for one of the main intersectional battles of the year.

for the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

of the game that never was played was $204,500. Approximately $140,000 has been turned back but the refund will soon close and those in charge estimate the clubs will be $20,000 to the good because of tickets not turned in.

The total value of the seatboards

of baseball fans to return their tickets for the sixth World Series game probably will net the Cubs and Athletics $20,000 more than they had been anticipated.

Bulldog or Wildcat? . . . By Laufer

Middleweight Title Battle Next Tuesday

Los Angeles, Oct. 23.—Will Ace Hudkins be the next middleweight champion? The Nebraska Wildcat is certain that he will. Mickey Walker, present title holder, is equally sure that the Cat won't. But the question will not be decided until next Tuesday night when Hudkins and Walker meet at Wrigley Field, Los Angeles, for the championship.

The bout is holding the spotlight in the boxing world as one of the best "naturals" of the year, with the scaring, savage Cat matched against the hard-hitting, crafty Walker.

"Sure I'll beat him," says the confident Hudkins, who has recently removed the last obstacle in his path before the Walker bout, taking a six-round technical knockout over Kentucky Joe Anderson.

Walker has memories of a decision over Hudkins in Chicago some time ago, and is certain that he can "take" the Cat again.

Los Angeles fans are boosting Hudkins in the bout. Hudkins, always a good drawing card, definitely put himself in line for a title bout by decisively whipping Kentucky Joe Anderson. He carried a vicious, slashing attack that had Joe in a bad way in four rounds, and brought an end in the sixth.

Both Walker and Hudkins can hit and take it. Walker may hold a slight edge in betting, due to greater ring craftsmanship and greater boxing skill, but should Hudkins be timing his "one-two" with the same accuracy that he displayed against Anderson, and should his right and left hooks carry the same effectiveness, a new champion may be crowned.

Walker has not defended his title for some time, but has been doing considerable work, so that he should be in condition for the bout. Hudkins has been fighting more, and is in top shape for the affair. The Cat came through the Anderson bout with hardly a mark.

Keeping the Ace Away Hudkins is a dangerous fighter. Anderson won only the round that he stood off Hudkins and boxed him. Walker is a good fighter, and a good boxer, but will have to keep Ace at a distance.

Walker has gone into the light-heavyweight division for several bouts this year, but should have no difficulty in making the 160-pound limit. Hudkins fights best at about 157 pounds, well under the limit, and the few pounds should give Walker no advantage.

Under the terms of the bout Walker will get 47 1-2 per cent of the gate. Hudkins 12 1-2 per cent. It is expected to gross about $200,000.

Los Angeles fans are boosting Hudkins in the bout. Hudkins, always a good drawing card, definitely put himself in line for a title bout by decisively whipping Kentucky Joe Anderson. He carried a vicious, slashing attack that had Joe in a bad way in four rounds, and brought an end in the sixth.

Both Walker and Hudkins can hit and take it. Walker may hold a slight edge in betting, due to greater ring craftsmanship and greater boxing skill, but should Hudkins be timing his "one-two" with the same accuracy that he displayed against Anderson, and should his right and left hooks carry the same effectiveness, a new champion may be crowned.

Walker has not defended his title for some time, but has been doing considerable work, so that he should be in condition for the bout. Hudkins has been fighting more, and is in top shape for the affair. The Cat came through the Anderson bout with hardly a mark.

Keeping the Ace Away Hudkins is a dangerous fighter. Anderson won only the round that he stood off Hudkins and boxed him. Walker is a good fighter, and a good boxer, but will have to keep Ace at a distance.

Walker has gone into the light-heavyweight division for several bouts this year, but should have no difficulty in making the 160-pound limit. Hudkins fights best at about 157 pounds, well under the limit, and the few pounds should give Walker no advantage.

Under the terms of the bout Walker will get 47 1-2 per cent of the gate. Hudkins 12 1-2 per cent. It is expected to gross about $200,000.

Los Angeles fans are boosting Hudkins in the bout. Hudkins, always a good drawing card, definitely put himself in line for a title bout by decisively whipping Kentucky Joe Anderson. He carried a vicious, slashing attack that had Joe in a bad way in four rounds, and brought an end in the sixth.

Both Walker and Hudkins can hit and take it. Walker may hold a slight edge in betting, due to greater ring craftsmanship and greater boxing skill, but should Hudkins be timing his "one-two" with the same accuracy that he displayed against Anderson, and should his right and left hooks carry the same effectiveness, a new champion may be crowned.

Walker has not defended his title for some time, but has been doing considerable work, so that he should be in condition for the bout. Hudkins has been fighting more, and is in top shape for the affair. The Cat came through the Anderson bout with hardly a mark.

BOWLING

CHENEY GIRLS' LEAGUE

Edith Rowsell's 119 was high in last night's bowling matches in the Cheney Girls' A. A. league. Jennie Schubert was second with 113 and Helen Frederickson third with 109. The matches were rolled at Farr's and Bronke's alleys. The scores follow:

Senior Division
Velvet
M. Karpin	89	93 79
H. Bodreau	90	85 81
E. Rowsell	87	119 98
M. Sherman	89	87 88
J. Schubert	97	113 90
452 497 436
Dressing
R. Anderson	83	82 105
M. Lamprecht	89	77 80
E. Jamison	86	68 61
L. Thornfelt	81	83 81
K. Gustafson	97	85 105
406 395 432
Throwing
L. Poots	50	69 80
E. Anderson	62	79 61
C. Ritchie	91	85 78
H. Frederickson	109	74 81
L. Pukofky	70/	74 76
412 381 376
Ribbon
E. Kleinschmidt	81	65 78
C. Dion	81	71 69
A. Majack	82	86 89
A. Ponticell	79	78 110
H. Gustafson	92	106 87
415 406 433
Old Mill
F. Nelson	77	82 98
M. McKinney	86	80 90
E. Lautenbach	94	81 103
L. Russell	68	70 93
Dummy	77	70 76
402 383 460
Weaving
M. Strong	85	88 106
E. Klasmann	79	70 81
G. Hatch	77	70 76
N. Taggart	88	92 82
C. Jackmore	90	97 85
427 430 430

CHENEY GIRLS' LEAGUE

Junior Division Velvet

J. Rossi	60	60 48
J. White	75

NEGRO INSULTS HER SHE MURDERS HIM

Young Southern Woman Picks Up Rifle and Shoots Boy at Her Home.

Selma, Ala., Oct. 23.—(AP)—After spending the night at her farm home, 14 miles from here, at liberty on her own recognizance, Miss Esther Barnes, 20 year old daughter of a Selma factory worker, returned to the city today as county officers assisted coroner Andrew Breslin in his investigation of the slaying yesterday of Ed McKee, negro, which Miss Barnes has admitted.

Coroner Breslin was unable to complete his investigation yesterday and the release of the young woman on her own recognizance was made to permit her to be at home with younger brothers and sisters. Breslin indicated that his investigation was nearing completion and that his verdict in the case possibly would be forthcoming later today.

Had insulted Her Miss Barnes notified Sheriff R. F. Hamner yesterday morning that she had killed McKee with a small calibre rifle after he had insulted her. Her version of the shooting was that McKee, a chore-boy employed by the Barnes place, made insulting remarks to her after she had given him breakfast. The negro left, threatening to return, Miss Barnes said, after she rebuked him. It was on the negro's return to the house that she shot him, the bullet entering his neck.

Only two smaller children were in the house with Miss Barnes at the time of the shooting, she said. Permission for Miss Barnes to return to her home gave rise to reports that she had been exonerated in the killing. The report was corrected today by Coroner Breslin.

ESCAPED LUNATIC CAUGHT IN CITY

New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A man posing as a health department inspector and giving the name of William P. Murphy was arrested today as one of the three inmates of the Hospital for the Insane at Mattawean who escaped October 12.

Murphy, which police say is his right name, was recognized through a circular broadcast after the escape of the three men from Mattawean.

He admitted to police he was the man sought. He said he came directly to New York after the escape and had been spending his money in drinking and gambling, using money he had saved while in the institution.

The other two men who escaped with him down an electric cord they had let out of an attic window, Joseph Marino and William Rice, caught a northbound freight train, he said, and he has not seen them since.

He said he attempted to catch the same train, but failed, so climbed aboard the next New York bound freight to pass.

COCHET BARELY WINS

Osaka, Japan, Oct. 23.—(AP)—In a hard-fought match today, Henri Cochet of France, world's foremost amateur tennis player, avenged a recent defeat at the hands of Taketchi Harada, Japanese star, Cochet won by scores of 7-5, 11-9, evening matters at five matches each in the Franco-Japanese series here.

Cochet's defeat at Harada's hands came in an earlier competition at Tokyo which was won by Japan by a total of six matches to three. Cochet and his mates had just arrived from France and were not in top form at the time.

This is the time of year when many a college football coach discovers that what he thought was a set-up is really an upset.

DR. GODDARD ALLOWED TO SEND UP ROCKETS

War Dept. Cautions Him to See That No Fires Are Started by His Machines.

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Permission for Dr. R. R. Goddard of Worcester, Mass., to make field tests of high flying rockets at Camp Devens, Mass., was granted today by the War Department.

The permission was granted with the understanding that the scientist, who is developing the rockets to rise to great heights for the collection of data about conditions in the upper atmosphere, would take precautions to prevent fires which might result from his experiments.

The request for permission was made through Secretary C. G. Abbott of the Smithsonian Institution who is directly interested in studies of the effects of the sun's rays on the earth atmosphere and climate and is directing the assembling of astronomical data which he hopes eventually may provide a basis for scientific long range weather forecasting.

DONADIO-SALVATORE

Miss Margaret Dimitica Salvatore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Salvatore of 90 Walnut street, and Frank Donadio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Donadio of 138 Center street, were married this morning at 9:30 at St. James' church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. P. Reidy and a nuptial high mass was celebrated. The church decorations were palms and lilies, and a large number of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony, from Newark and New York, Worcester, Hartford and this town.

The bridal attendants were Miss Diminica Salvatore, sister of the bride as maid of honor; Joseph Gagliardi of Hartford, boyhood chum of the bridegroom as best man; bridesmaids, Miss Mary Damato of Homestead street, Miss Carmela Catalano of Center street, Miss Mary MarcAntonio of Center street and Miss Mary Alzano of Suffolk; the ushers were Michael Civello of South Main street, Vincent Lamenza of Maple avenue, Hartford, Joseph Toscano of Walnut street and Ralph Salvatore, brother of the bride.

The bride's gown was of oyster white satin trimmed with duchess lace and tulle. Her veil of lace fell from a cap of lace and was caught with orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of bridal roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor wore Nile green satin and tulle, cut princess style. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow Pernet roses. The bridesmaids' gowns were all in princess style. Their hats of tulle and satin shoes matched their gowns and they carried similar bouquets of Madame Butterfly roses.

A dinner for the immediate relatives and close friends was served at noon in Tinker hall, covers for 400 guests will be held this evening, up to 11:30. In the receiving line will be Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore, parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Donadio, parents of the groom.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a string of matched pearls and the bride's gift to the bridegroom was a pair of white gold, studded cuff links. To her maid of honor the bride gave a white gold bracelet with blue sapphires and to each of her bridesmaids she presented a string of crystals to match their gowns. The bridegroom's gift to his ushers he gave fountain pens.

Mr. and Mrs. Donadio will spend their honeymoon in New York City. The bride's traveling costume is of blue transparent velvet with hat to match and black, fur-trimmed coat. On their return they will make their home for the present with the parents of the bride at 90 Walnut street.

A plumber should not be blamed for having to go back for his tools, says a news item, because there are 800 tools to pick from. The first intimation we've had that there are so many different styles of monkey wrenches in the world.

AGED GYPSY WOMAN SPENT LIFE IN TENT

Coleford, England —(AP)—England's veteran gypsy mother has died, in a tent, and has been buried in her beloved Forest of Dean close to where she was born, and lived for near a hundred years.

Mrs. Sarah Fletcher was one of the best known and most beloved of the gypsy band that haunts the forest. She had more than 140 descendants.

She was born in a tent on Hannam Common, in Shropshire. It was her boast she never had a wood or stone roof over her head, although she scorned the life in a caravan. She believed in settling . . . in a tent.

QUOTATIONS

"The average undergraduate's view of the true purpose of education must be revised; scholarship must again take its place as the true goal of college life."—Chief Justice Taft. (Cosmopolitan)

"Marital relations depend upon the fashion of two lives. A husband and his wife get along because they are on a level and they can go to the same places and meet the same people."—Rosa Bonheur. (Smart Set)

"Judge not a man by his clothes, but by his wife's clothes."—Lord Dewar.

"Education, in great part, means an opening of the mind to the duty of living consistently under necessary social conditions. People should be trained to accept the condition of regulated liberty."—Albert Shaw. (Review of Reviews)

"Few average Americans now believe we must arm to the teeth to resist Bolshevism."—Will Irwin. (Scribner's)

"Observation of life shows one that solemn people are generally humbugs."—Bertand Russell.

SPENT NIGHT ALONE IN WASHINGTON MONUMENT

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—For the first time since it became a focus for tourists' eyes, a person—and a woman at that—has spent the night alone in the Washington monument.

Guards are careful that no one is left behind when the famous obelisk is closed at dusk, but Lieutenant Colonel U. S. Grant, of the office of public buildings, revealed today that the keepers arrived one morning recently to find a woman who gave her name as Mrs. S. E. Longwell, of Middleburg, Vermont, looking at the sunrise from the top of the structure.

And as proof that she had not been left behind as the result of an over sight she had her lunch and a thermos bottle of tea with her. In the future the monument will be searched each night.

BROOMCORN CROP SHORT IN OKLAHOMA DISTRICT

Lindsay, Okla.—(AP)—A low broomcorn yield is predicted this year for western Oklahoma, which ordinarily produces about half the nation's supply.

Buyers and growers claim the state's decreased yield is due to smaller acreage and thinness of stand, caused by lack of sufficient rain. Wheat has replaced broomcorn in many fields.

A British manufacturer says that his firm would have to go out of business except for the demand from America for hand cuffs. Hand cuffs across the sea.

STIMSON GATHERS DATA FOR PARLEY

State Dept. Officials Collecting Technical Reports for Our Naval Delegates.

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson and State Department officials were compiling technical reports for the use of America's delegation to the London naval conference.

Actively assisting the secretary are Joseph P. Cotton, the under secretary of state, and J. Theodore Marriner, chief of the western European division, both of whom dealt intimately with the naval question while Ambassador Daves and Prime Minister MacDonald held preliminary discussions this summer.

Stimson has ordered that all information pertinent to the London meeting which may come into the hands of any in the department be made available to Marriner, who has made prominently mentioned as Stimson's chief co-ordinator and advisor at the conference.

Admirals to Assist.—The assistance of naval officers, some of whom are yet to be chosen as advisors to the American group, is being enlisted by the secretary in these preliminary activities. Rear Admiral Richard H. Jackson, a member of the general board of the navy, who has been mentioned as a possible choice by the President for an advisory position, conferred with Stimson yesterday.

The view that if the conference in London is not successful the world powers will renew competitive building in all unlimited categories of naval vessels, was advanced by Representative French of Idaho, chairman of the naval appropriations sub-committee.

French's Prediction.—He predicted that a successful conference will mean the end of the battleship as the backbone of the various fleets, but doubted that the submarine can be abolished as suggested in the invitation. France, Italy and Japan have shown a desire to keep their submarines, he said, while most nations have indicated a willingness to drop eventually the costly dreadnaughts.

GIVES FUND OF $10,000 TO AID YALE FACULTY

New Haven, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A fund of $10,000 to aid a member of the Yale faculty who through circumstances has become distressed, has been given to the university in memory of Maria Sloan Auchincloss of New York City by her children.

It may also be used in recognition of deserving work. The seven members of this well known Yale family who gave the fund, are Samuel Sloan Auchincloss '94; Mrs. Edgar Sterling Auchincloss, widow of Edgar S. Auchincloss '08; Dr. Hugh Auchincloss '01; Charles C. Auchincloss '03; James C. Auchincloss '08; Gordon Auchincloss '08 and Reginald Auchincloss '13.

Income of the fund is to be paid in the judgment of the president and fellows "in need owing to misfortune or untoward circumstances, such as illness, accident or other calamity." The income may be divided among two or more members of the faculty.

If in any year the income shall not be required for the purposes described then it shall be awarded to a faculty member who "has done the most useful and deserving work for the university during the preceding year."

Two or more members of the faculty also are permitted to share this award.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

THOMAS PINCKNEY BORN.

Today is the 179th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Pinckney, American diplomat and soldier.

The famous statesman was born in Charleston, S. C., Oct. 23, 1750. He was educated in England and was admitted to the English bar in 1770.

Returning to Charleston, he entered the Continental army in 1775 and played a prominent part in the war until taken prisoner at the battle of Camden in 1780.

He was governor of South Carolina in 1787-89, presided over the state convention which ratified the federal constitution in 1788 and was a member of the state legislature in 1781. He served as minister to England in 1792-94.

In 1794, he was sent on a special mission to Spain, where he negotiated a treaty guaranteeing to the United States free navigation of the Mississippi river.

He was the federal candidate for vice president in 1796, and served as a federalist member of Congress in 1799-1801. He served as a major-general in the War of 1812.

He died in Charleston in 1828.

BELGIUM GUARDS WELL ITALY'S CROWN PRINCE

Brussels, Belgium, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The authorities are taking measures to prevent any incidents during the coming visit of Crown Prince Humbert of Italy whose engagement to Princess Marie Jose is expected shortly.

The police have expressed belief that Communists aided in preparing the recent attack on the Italian Embassy by a group of anti-Fascists.

Prince Humbert is visiting Brussels incognito and the name of the station at which he and his suite will arrive tomorrow is being kept secret although it is probable the Italian party will use the private station of the royal castle at Laeken.

Prince Humbert and Princess Marie Jose will first appear in public together Thursday afternoon, during a reception organized in their honor at the Brussels City Hall with the participation of school children. Socialist members of the Communist Council, however, have protested against the forced enrollment of children in behalf of such demonstrations.

ITALY'S REPRIMAND.

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Italian minister has handed this government a sharp note from the Rome government relating to student demonstrations in Yugoslavia and the language of the Yugoslavian press.

Investigation is demanded into an affair at Ragusa Sunday where citizens beat two Italian sailors; inmates are demanded for the sailors.

Jugoslavian authorities today looked upon the note as interference with Jugoslavian internal affairs.

ARREST FIVE MEN IN BOND ROBBERY

Most of $700,000 in Securities Recovered by Police; Messenger Confesses.

New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Two thefts in which more than $700,000 in bonds were stolen were near solution, police said today, with the arrest of five men and the recovery of the securities.

Joseph Hirschman, 25, was taken into custody as the chief engineer of the theft of $512,000 worth of securities last September 20 from H. V. Hiseco and Company, brokers. He was arrested after Carl Forman, now in the Tombs with Milton Alter, messenger boy, and David Schwartzberg, told police he had turned the bonds over to Hirschman after receiving them from Alter.

Schwartzberg, Forman said, Hirschman gave the bonds back to him and told him to leave town. Forman dropped a brief case containing about $50,000 worth of the securities in a letter box in the east side and then went to Boston where he was arrested a few days later. He said he had believed all of the stolen bonds were in the case.

Hirschman denied any connection with the theft.

In the other theft, that of $200,000 worth of bonds from A. E. Frank and Company, police had in custody Irwin Kott, bond and jewelry salesman, and were seeking indictments against Carl J. Lewis and Morris Lichtman, attorneys, and Ferdinand S. Gillespie, an insurance adjuster.

COLUMBIA

Mr. Percy Carver entertained at a small bridge party Thursday afternoon, the guest of honor being Miss Anne Dix, who is soon to leave for New York for the winter. Those present were Mrs. Carver, Miss Dix, Mrs. C. A. Holmes, Mrs. Lillian Clark, Mrs. Junabel Squier, Mrs. Mary Hutchins, Mrs. Elsie Collins and Mrs. Laura Robinson. Mrs. Hutchins received first prize and Mrs. Squier the consolation prize.

The Misses Gertrude Gates and Rachel Buell of Hartford spent Sunday in Columbia, attending the local church at the morning service.

Mr. and Mrs. George Champin and Mrs. Jennie Hunt spent Sunday in New London visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hunt and family and Mrs. Louise Goff spent Saturday in Johnston, R. I., at the home of Mrs. Hunt's sister, Mrs. Chester Winsor.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lyman of Plainville spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Lyman's sister, Mrs. Junabel Squier.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Lyman of Hartford, and Miss Bertha Lathrop of New York spent the week-end in Columbia visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Darling of Pomfret, and Mr. and Mrs. Howarth Stanley and daughter, Jean of Andover were guests Sunday at the

A THOUGHT

Lust not after her beauty in thine heart; neither let her take you with her eyelids.—Proverbs 7:35.

Female beauties are as fickle in their faces as in their minds; though casualties should spare them, age brings in a necessity of decay.—Boyle.

Pickpockets will lecture in the University of Chicago crime school says a news story. They ought to be able to furnish some interesting notes on crowd psychology.

The biography of a navy diver has just been published. Down the ladder to success.

GREENBERG'S Cleaners $1.00 Dyers 28 OAK ST. Men's Winter Overcoats and Suits Dry Cleaned and Pressed $1.00. FREE DELIVERY SERVICE. We Clean Everything. Phone 4928

WHEN YOU OVER-INDULGE

eat or drink too much, have a "hang-over," take ACIDINE. Relief is instant. No gas, no acid, no nervous, no splitting headaches. Guaranteed to fit your case or money back. Ask your druggist for the best remedy.

ACIDINE

Sports APPAREL

Everything a fellow needs to keep him warm in the coldest weather.

LEATHER COATS Always a favorite in every boy's wardrobe. $7.50

HELMETS in aviation style $1.49

Sheep-Lined COATS $5.50 $7.50

BOYS' OVERCOATS $9.50 Sizes 8 to 17

UNDERWEAR Boys' Part Wool Ribbed Union Suits Special 95c

BOYS' KNICKERS $1.00, $1.50, $1.95 Sturdy fabrics for dress or school wear.

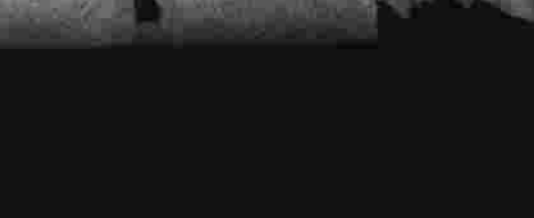

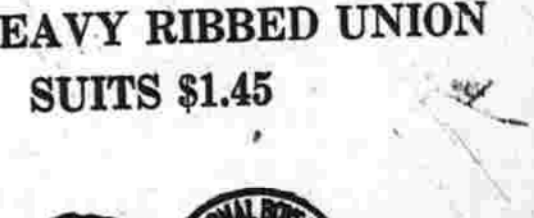

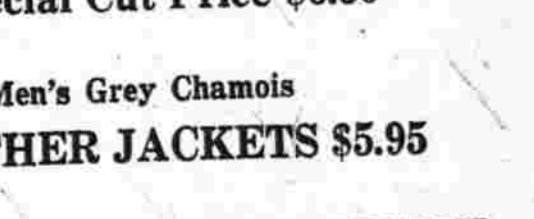

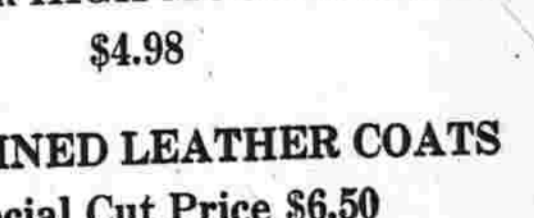

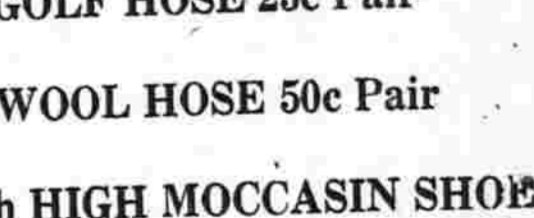

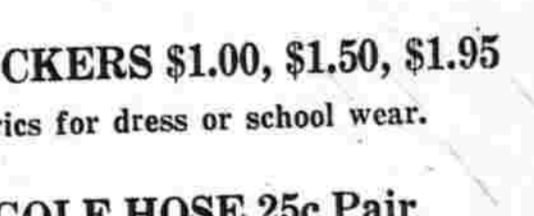

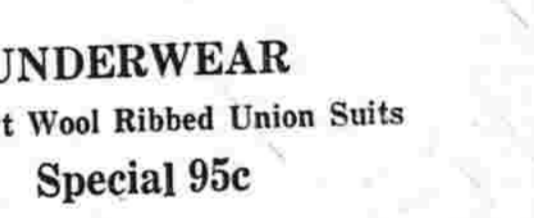

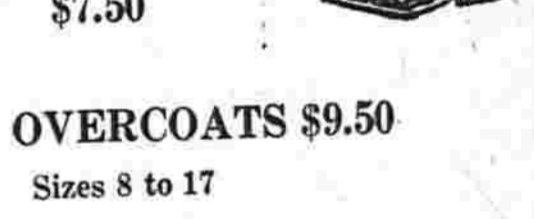

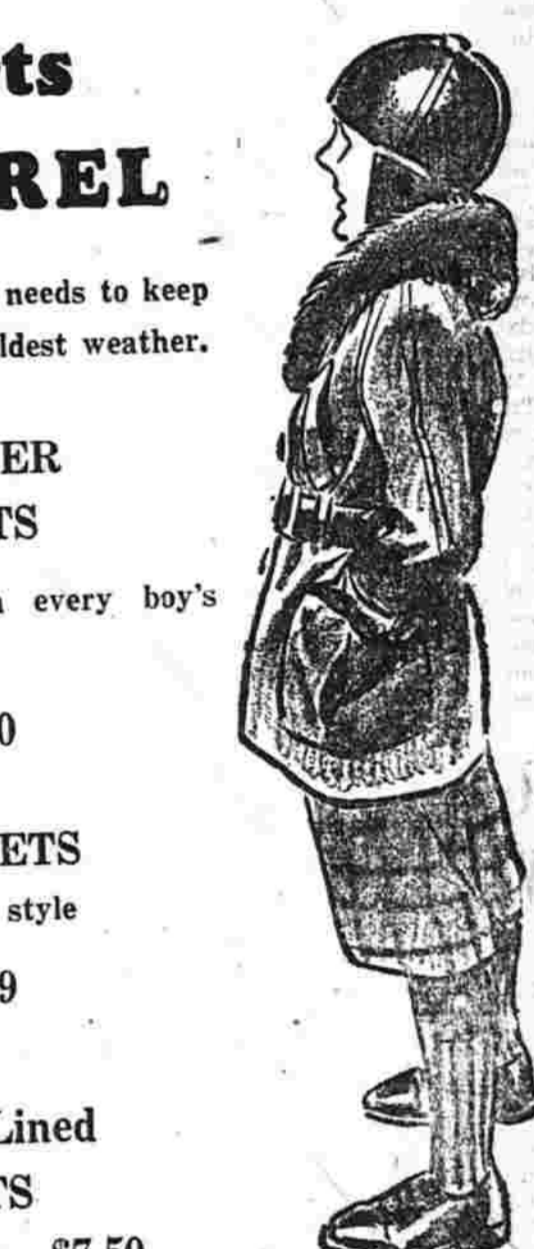

BOYS' GOLF HOSE 25c Pair BOYS' WOOL HOSE 50c Pair

BOYS' 12 Inch HIGH MOCCASIN SHOES $4.98

MEN'S LINED LEATHER COATS Special Cut Price $6.50 Men's Grey Chamois

LEATHER JACKETS $5.95

MEN'S HEAVY RIBBED UNION SUITS $1.45

Smart Suits for Smart Fellows

Sturdy fabrics, carefully cut in models of a distinctive character are features of a YOUNG AMERICA boys suit. We feature it for National Boys' Dress-Up Week, October 21 to 26. Two pairs of long trousers . . . $9.95

Other Boys' Suits—Longies and Knickers $5.95 to $13.95

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

824-828 Main St., South Manchester, Conn. Phone 3306 Store Hours, 9 to 6, Thursday and Saturday 9 to 9.

Advertisement for Hyman's Men's Store. Features a circular logo with 'NATIONAL BOYS WEEK DRESS UP! OCTOBER 21-26'. Text: 'We Carry a Full Line of Boys' Pants and Knickers $1.00 to $3.00 BOYS' SWEATERS $2.95 HYMAN'S MEN'S STORE 695 Main St., Between Dunhill's and Colonial Lunch. Open Evenings. REMEMBER THE LOCATION.'

Advertisement for Montgomery Ward & Co. featuring a young man's face and text: 'Smart Suits for Smart Fellows. Sturdy fabrics, carefully cut in models of a distinctive character are features of a YOUNG AMERICA boys suit. We feature it for National Boys' Dress-Up Week, October 21 to 26. Two pairs of long trousers . . . $9.95. Other Boys' Suits—Longies and Knickers $5.95 to $13.95. MONTGOMERY WARD & CO. 824-828 Main St., South Manchester, Conn. Phone 3306. Store Hours, 9 to 6, Thursday and Saturday 9 to 9.'

Advertisement for A. L. Brown & Co. featuring a woman in a dress and text: 'For Dress-Up Week and Year Round Smart PULLOVERS Plenty of color is the style note this Season. $3.50 KNICKERS in harmonizing colors of sturdy fabrics to withstand wear! $2.50 LUMBERJACKETS in Plain Colors $3.00 GOLF CAPS 83c GOLF HOSE 39c pr., 50c pr. A. L. BROWN & CO. DEPOT SQUARE'.

Advertisement for Joseph Chizius featuring a circular logo with 'NATIONAL BOYS WEEK DRESS UP! OCTOBER 21-26'. Text: 'BOYS' OVERCOATS $9.50 Sizes 8 to 17 UNDERWEAR Boys' Part Wool Ribbed Union Suits Special 95c BOYS' KNICKERS $1.00, $1.50, $1.95 Sturdy fabrics for dress or school wear. BOYS' GOLF HOSE 25c Pair BOYS' WOOL HOSE 50c Pair BOYS' 12 Inch HIGH MOCCASIN SHOES $4.98 MEN'S LINED LEATHER COATS Special Cut Price $6.50 Men's Grey Chamois LEATHER JACKETS $5.95 MEN'S HEAVY RIBBED UNION SUITS $1.45 JOSEPH CHIZIUS DEPOT SQUARE'.

The Innocent Cheat

by Ruth Dewey Groves
AUTHOR OF "RICH GIRL—POOR GIRL," ETC.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

HELEN PAGE thinks she is in love with her guardian, LEONARD BRENT, who changes his plans for her future after meeting a dying man named NELLIN. Brent presents the girl to a millionaire, CYRIL CUNNINGHAM, as his heiress and offers proof which the lonely old man accepts without much question.

Among Helen's new friends are EVA ENNIS and her brother ROBERT. Brent finds another locket like the one he had taken from Nellin to prove Helen the heiress and plots to get Cunningham out of the way quickly. He slyly administers a shock which proves fatal and the servants find the old man dead in bed. Then he wins Helen's promise to marry him. Later, she and Bob realize they love each other, but she tells him she is engaged. She tries to get Brent to release her, but he refuses and makes dire threats if she dares to marry Bob.

Eva resents Helen's treatment of her brother, which has driven him to flirting with SHALLIMAR MORRIS, she sells Bob and tells her Helen is engaged to Brent. She collapses after admitting that Brent has been making love to her and then in a fit of hysteria tries to take poison, but they prevent it. Helen and Bob try to tell her what a cad Brent is, but Eva insists that she must see him. Helen decides to see him first, and they quarrel. When she says that she and Bob have made up, he tells her that she is not the Cunningham heiress but the daughter of a noted crook and if she refuses to marry him he will expose her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLIII
"Bob will believe me!"
Helen declared her faith in her lover's trust without a moment's hesitation.
Surprisingly Brent nodded his head in agreement. "Won't you sit down now?" he said. "I've something more to say to you." He glanced at his watch. "Oh perhaps you'd better send your friend Shallimar off to the station before we go on with this."

Helen sank into a chair. "She's in the breakfast room," she said weakly. "Tell her I'd like her to take a later train; I can't see her off now."

Brent left to do her bidding, but was quickly back. He noted, as soon as he entered the room, a change in Helen. Given a few moments to think she had decided he was lying to her, tricking her.

How simple it was, of course. She felt like laughing, only somewhat there was, strangely, inexplicably, an odor of truth about it all. She fought against it.
"I hated to tell you this," Brent began, deceived by her manner into thinking she was not going to take it so hard after all.

Helen threw back her head and held her eyes fastened levelly on his.
"I don't believe a word you have said," she stated emphatically.
"You don't?" Brent came close, strength, forced her down into the chair and towered over her in a menacing attitude.

"You don't?" he repeated. "Then listen to me. I can prove that you are Helen Page and not Cunningham's granddaughter. That will be easy."

Helen still defied him. "But you cannot prove what is not true," she cried. "You cannot prove that I had anything to do with your fraud."

"It will not be necessary to prove it," Brent retorted. "If you persist in marrying young Ennis I shall make your story from page newspaper stuff inside 24 hours. What then? You aren't Helen Nellin, don't forget that. You'll be expelled from your high and mighty seat to the gutter—possibly you'll have a chance to learn what women's prisons were built for."

"But you... you," Helen stammered. "You would go to prison too."
"Don't be a fool," Brent snapped at her. "I'll be safe out of it. You'll be left to stand the gaff alone. Your exposure will come through information that I shall supply directly to the authorities. I'll give the whole thing to the newspapers at the same time. Let your boy friend stand by you then. Suppose you went free—there'd always be a doubt in the public mind about your innocence. What would that mean to Ennis?"

Helen saw at once that it would be irreparable injury to his career, but only the deepening pain in her eyes answered Brent. It was enough.
"Do for him, wouldn't it? Even if he believed you, and there's a good chance that he won't."
Helen had one lucid thought. "He will believe me," she said, "because he will know that I wouldn't have dared to think of marrying him if this were true and you held me in your power."

Brent regarded her admiringly. "Rather clever," he praised. "But not weighty enough. He's apt to imagine you thought you could handle me."
"Oh, you are fiendish!"
"Merely determined, my dear, that no upstart like Ennis is going to spoil my plans now."

"Then you think I will consent to go on with this deception... the imposture?" Helen cried, driven that he should know her so little he could believe such a thing possible.
"For the sake of millions, and your liberty, yes," Brent admitted.
"It's unthinkable!" Helen stormed.
"You will have to prove what you have said—that I am not Helen Cunningham's daughter—and if it is true I shall renounce the fortune myself!"

"Oh, you will?" Brent sneered.
"Well, my noble young lady, do that trifling little thing and you'll have plenty of time to repent behind the bars."
"But you can't prove that I—"
"Are you really so dense that you fail to see your position itself will prove it for me?" Brent cut in. "Confession on my part will throw the burden of defense on you, and what will you fight with? You haven't a penny of your own. And you will need money, and friends, public opinion, public sympathy, will be against you from the start—taking in a dying old man—giving him Judas kisses—lying to him, just waiting for him to—"

"Oh, no, no," Helen wailed.
"A pretty picture, no?" Brent pressed on. "Daughter of once famous crook comes into her own as queen of impostors. Blindly infatuated young man student ready, loyal, the sake of a bewitching face. Not so bad eh? I'll make it dramatic enough, don't worry!"

Helen bowed her face in her hands and Brent observed her shivering young body without pity.

"On the other hand," he said at last, "you can have everything. And love is not a lasting thing, Helen. Don't be hoodwinked by that notion. It's been exploded so many times. Astonish anyone continues to believe in it. You will forget Ennis, even if it takes time. But you never could forget—the world wouldn't let you—that you had ruined his life, robbed him of the chance that seems to be the absurd ambition of any number of brainless idiots," he added dryly.

"I... I don't have to marry him," Helen gulped. "I can give the money back to Mr. Cunningham's lawyer and go away somewhere."

"Yes, if the police will let you," Brent agreed.
"You will tell, whether I marry Bob or not? You wouldn't let me restore the money and—"
"Certainly not," Brent returned firmly. "You will either marry me or face exposure. And I warn you, Helen, I won't stand for any nonsense. You'll come through all the way or you'll take the rap—underworld jargon," he smiled with mock apology. "It means plenty. You've led a sheltered life, my dear, you know nothing whatsoever of the hell that awaits you if you let yourself in for a stretch up the river. Better give it a lot of thought before you decide."

"There isn't anything to decide," Helen said brokenly. "I cannot marry you."
For a moment Brent said nothing. Then: "You may feel differently about it when you've had time to think it over. In the meantime you might go into social seclusion and find out at first hand what happens to jailbirds. And—if you can arrange it—go take a look at the poor devils in prison. Don't settle your fate blindly, without knowing what you're doing. You'll never be able to undo it. You'd be in the morgue in no time at all if they let you go to a prison pailor and your prison-marked soul. A girl like you! God, you'd become a d.j.p.e. fiend!"

Helen shrank down into her chair. The back of her hand flew to her mouth to stifle a scream.
"I think life with me would be preferable to that," Brent continued. "Your husband I should be far more interested in your fortune than in you, Helen. I am not, fortunately, in love with you."

"You mean," Helen looked at him hopefully, "that you wouldn't want to live with me?"
Brent shrugged. Having gained a point he was willing to concede one, as promises meant nothing to him. Helen's question signified that a weakening wedge had entered her armor. He did not add that it was his intention to gain possession of her entire fortune in time.

The ray of hope, if she'd really entertained it, faded out of Helen's mind. Her native honesty conquered it.
"I can't do it," she sobbed.
"Snap out of it," Brent commanded harshly. "I'm not an ogre. I'll keep out of your way. It is merely a matter of convenience. But if I'm not Helen Nellin I can't keep the money," she declared.

"Why not? Even when you consider it on the basis of fairness, you have a right to it. The right of possession. Different perhaps—even I will admit it—if there were other heirs—a real Helen Nellin—Evangeline, rather. You see, you never had her name. Helen is your only given name, and not Evangeline Helen as you supposed."

"Evangeline," Helen repeated after him. "I can't believe you yet, Leonard, but if there is a real Evangeline Nellin I'm going to find her."
"Don't get excited," Brent advised. "I've attended to that. I've had her searched for practically all over the face of the globe."
"Do you expect me to believe that?" Helen blazed at him.

"Well, you know that Mr. Cunningham could not find her. And if he could not, how can you? No, it's hopeless, Helen. She's probably dead, and if she isn't she's not likely to turn up. There is no reason but a mad infatuation for an obscure fortune seeker why you should wreck your life and make it a hell forever."

Helen jumped to her feet.
"Oh please, no," she cried; "and let me alone."
"In a moment," Brent said; "but first there is one thing more."
(To Be Continued)

The Trans-Andine Railway tunnel of South America is five miles long. It is 10,486 feet above sea level.

The WOMAN'S DAY

Right on top of the fashion announcement that men are going to wear colored hats and shoes next spring, comes the further hint that they may smell of the heather and the great open spaces.

No less a person than Capt. Edward Molyneux, one of the most inspired of French couturiers and perfumers, with one of the most fashionable ateliers in Paris, who announced that he is going to blend a perfume particularly for men.

Before he became a designer, Molyneux was a soldier and a sportsman. Incidentally he is a lord in the World War, where he won his captain's commission. So he is not going to try to interest men in saturating their handkerchiefs in jasmine or wearing sachet bags in their coat pockets.

He is compounding a perfume that would be right in line with the masculine idea, not to be the scored by a Dempsy or Tunney. It will have something of the odor that clings to heather mixtures and Scotch tweeds—not cloying or sweet, but faint and fresh.

It is his theory that men might as well definitely use a perfume they like, instead of being victims of the hit and miss face lotions, hair tonics and bay rum mixtures beloved of barber shops.

"Why," he asks, "should not a man definitely use a pleasing perfume—one that is well thought out and thoroughly masculine? Is not that more desirable than the aroma of fresh starch from his shirt, shoe blacking from his shoes or tobacco from his oldest pipe?"

The idea is not entirely new. I know a woman perfumer in New York who compounds perfumes for men, and she tells me that some of her most profitable customers are men. The first requisite in catering to men seems to be to produce a liquid that does not smell like perfume.

Her "number" that is most pleasing to her male clients is one with an odor slightly comparable to leather. It carries with it a suggestion of the saddle, she explained, that seems to make a hit with men, even though they do not ride.

American and English men, she says, are wary about sweet odors for themselves, no matter how much they like them, and how freely they buy them for their women folks.

A Latin man, on the contrary, likes perfumes as well as a woman, and likes them sweet, light and heavy. A Spaniard perfumes his handkerchief seriously as he combs his hair.

The unsuspecting American man who visits a Spanish barber shop for the first time, comes out with a hang-dog expression and walks for several hours in the open air trying to get rid of the scent of mimosas and roses that cling to him.

Perhaps Capt. Molyneux can make men fancy smelling like heather, or like smoky tweed that recalls the best fires, but it will require education.

If men are going to wear blue shoes and go in for rainbow hued gloves—and pajamas for street wear, why not? What are a few traditions, more or less?

Stylos by ANETTE Paris—New York

SPORTS COAT
A raglan sleeve coat that is easily slipped on over heavy tweed suits is favorite of boys of 8, 10 and 12 years, sketched in Style No. 747, because it is comfortable as well as smart.

Active boys who spend most of their time in play-out-of-doors must be comfortably attired.

The tailored neckline with notched collar is of especial interest worn open during the mild weather. In extreme cold weather, it can be buttoned snugly to neck. Sleeves are applied toward wrist and finished with beige and brown tones. Because boys dislike wearing gloves, the designer cleverly placed the inset pockets diagonally, so the little hands could easily be slipped into the pockets on cold days. The belt marks the normal waistline. It is equally smart worn without the belt and typically English.

Brown Camel's hair is light in weight and ever so smart and made at a tremendous saving.

Mid-night blue chinchilla weave in reddish brown coloring, tweed in beige and brown tones, dark green tones in plaided woolen, and tan velvet woolen popular suggestions that are serviceable for everyday occasions.

Pattern price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred) wrap coin carefully.

We suggest that when you send for pattern, you enclose 10 cents additional for a copy of our new Fall and Winter Fashion magazine.

Manchester Herald Pattern Service No. 747.
As our patterns are mailed from New York City please allow five days.
Price 15 Cents
Name
Size
Address

Send your order to the "Pattern Dept., Manchester Evening Herald, So. Manchester, Conn."

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By Sister Mary
Too often we overlook the possibilities in the inexpensive carrot. Raw or cooked they are a valuable food from the health standpoint.

We often hear that carrots are "good for the complexion," but seldom stop to reason why. To gain the most benefit from the vegetable as a beautifier it should be eaten raw. Carrot straws add a charming bit of color to a tray of relishes and just at this time of year are at their best. Grated raw carrot is good in any vegetable salad. Next to onions carrots are the most efficient blood purifiers and able to spinach in iron content. Two reasons for clear complexions are sparkling eyes.

By eating carrots raw there is no loss of vitamin C. This is the vitamin that always is affected by heat and that is in fresh young vegetables in larger amounts than in those which have been stored for some time.

Vitamins A and B also are present in carrots, making it one of the most important vegetable available. Its cheapness puts within the reach of every family those food substances which are essential to growth, health and vigor. Strong muscles, red blood, sound teeth, firm and clear skin are the result when the food substances known as the "vitamins" are present in the diet.

Scalloped Carrots
Two cups thinly sliced carrots, ¼ cup thinly sliced onions, 2 green peppers, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1-3 cup coarse stale bread crumbs, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon pepper.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Arrange carrots and onions in alternating layers in a well buttered baking dish. Sprinkle peppers which have been scalded, seeds removed and minced through carrots and onions. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Remove cover, sprinkle with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and return to oven to brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
NEA Service, Inc.

I always envied the gentleman whose relatives came out on the stage and sang. "We are his sisters and his cousins and his aunts—his sisters and his cousins and his aunts."

Perhaps he'd have preferred a sprinkling of brothers and uncles in the crowd, but nevertheless he must have felt very important to possess such a phalanx of worshipping relations.

One holiday when my children were very small we spent the long dismal day alone.

One of the girls was rather restless and the promise of a drive later on fell on indifferent ears. All morning she had been making forays to the house of a neighbor and now like Finnegra's car she was "gone again!"

Along about noon she came bursting in with "Smiths must be awfully important people. They've got about a hundred cousins over there."

And whether there was room or not she spent as much of the day as she decently dared admiring the clan Smith, and sharing vicariously in Smith children's importance.

Beating Inferiority Complex
I determined then and there to dig up a household of people on every holiday and highway thereafter, God willing, if for no other reason than to smash the inferiority complex in one small breast and make her feel as though she belonged.

Children love company. Not only companions their own age, but they like the bustle and general excitement of grownups coming to visit. And they like the homey feeling of having "folks."

It's good for them and it's good for us, if we wait for clean curtains and new rugs and the furniture to be done over, I'm afraid our hospitality will have to be called by another name.

And when guests come, whether it's Aunt Mary from the country or smart Mrs. Brown from the big house on the park, I don't care whether it's in the books of etiquette or not I'd let the children be in on it—at least for part of the time, depending, of course, on the occasion.

I am going to quote again my favorite story of the time that President Rutherford B. Hayes left the table at a state dinner and went

FALLS TO DEATH

Chicago, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Quincy V. Young, manager of the Container Corporation of America, either leaped or fell to his death today from the ninth floor of the Conway building, across from the City Hall. He fell in an alley and was killed instantly. Young's offices were in the Conway building. He was married and the father of three children.

GOLD IN CROWN
New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—In response to inquiries concerning the content of gold of the Czechoslovak crown recently fixed, the Czechoslovakian consul general today stated the ministry of foreign affairs in Prague had informed him the content of gold had been fixed at 44.58 milligrams and its dollar parity 33.75 Czechoslovak crowns to one dollar American currency.

VERY FEW CITIZENS
Rome.—The Vatican said to be the smallest state in the world, numbers only 523 citizens. Despite its smallness, a severe fine is prescribed for tariff violators. Importing and exporting is so valuable that a fine of $800 and imprisonment up to three years is levied for infringement of the laws.

for flavor!
AFTER ALL—there is no bread like Bond
The home-like loaf

The Smart Shop

"Always Something New"
State Theater Building, South Manchester

Exquisite Fall Frocks featuring The Slender Silhouette

Canton Crepe Velvet Georgette

$4.95 to $9.95

Chinchilla and Dress Coats $9.95 and up

Be sure to see them!

Daily Health Service

by World Famed Authority Hints On How To Keep Well

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

It is generally agreed by those who have accepted the idea of evolution that man, who walks on two feet, is developed from a type of animal that walked on four. Dr. L. Schwartz of the United States Public Health Service emphasizes the fact that the human being has not yet become fully adapted to upright posture.

As a consequence, strain on various portions of the anatomy results in such disturbances as flat feet, backache, round shoulders, narrow chest, drooping of the internal organs, fatigue and similar disturbances.

In a recent issue of Hygiene, Dr. Armitage Whitman asks how may we transform round-shouldered, potbellied, hollow-backed, knock-kneed, flat-footed children into self-respecting physical and mental specimens?

He is a firm believer in the importance of controlled exercise for good posture. The active athlete carries his weight slightly forward on the balls of his feet and walks with his feet rolled over somewhat to the outside. The forward bending of the trunk serves to flatten the hip curves of the spine, to expand the chest, to draw up the abdominal muscles and to keep the head up.

This attitude will unquestionably seem at first to tire the person who holds it because it requires active muscular effort to keep the upright position. In the fatigued position, all of these relationships are reversed. The feet are turned out so that the weight falls on the inner border, the knees tend to fall together, the back arches, the stomach and abdomen protrude, the chest is flat and the head fops forward. A man who is very tired carries his head far forward.

Thus, the first step in the control of posture is to learn the proper position of the bones and the muscles and to make a constant conscious effort to maintain this position. The result will be manifest in improved health, easier breathing and general well being.

Cascara is Good for the System

What do you do when a sluggish system tells you the bowels need a little help?

The best thing yet discovered for the purpose is still the little candy Cascara! Take one whenever the liver and bowels are not functioning as they should.

Cascarets are pleasing to the palate, and pleasant in their action. You eat, then just like candy. They work while you sleep. Gentle, but thorough, Cascarets don't stir-up the stomach or upset the system. But they cleanse the entire thirty feet of bowels in one comfortable, thorough action that leaves the system clean and sweet; leaves you with an untainted breath, uncoated tongue, and clear head. Cascarets are made of cascara—long regarded one of the most beneficial laxatives known to medical science. They are sweetened with pure cane sugar and flavored with real licorice. Children love them. So do most grown-ups! Why take anything harsh when constipation threatens? Whenever a dull headache, lassitude, or sick stomach, loss of appetite warns you of poor elimination, a Cascaret or two is the most harmless form of help you could give a lagging system.

Take a candy Cascaret tonight and see how fine you'll feel in the morning—and for days after.

Give your child Bryant & Chapman's milk safeguarded by strict laboratory control at every step from the farm to you.

Bryant & Chapman's Milk
49 HOLL STREET, Quality
PHONE 7697
Service

COURTESY

THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

THE CLASSIFIED SECTION BUY AND SELL HERE

Manchester Evening Herald CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS. Count six average words to a line. Initials, numbers and abbreviations each count as a word and compound words as two words. Minimum cost is price of three lines.

TELEPHONE YOUR WANT ADS. Ads are accepted over the telephone at the CHARGE RATE given above as a convenience to advertisers.

INDEX OF CLASSIFICATIONS. Births, Engagements, Deaths, Lost and Found, Announcements, Automobiles, etc.

Table listing various classified categories such as 'GAS BUGGIES', 'MOVING-TRUCKING-STORAGE', 'REPAIRING', 'APARTMENTS-FLATS-TENEMENTS', etc., with corresponding page numbers.

LOST AND FOUND 1. LOST—ON TUESDAY between Teachers Hall, and Washington School, Hartford Road, a silver breast pin. Return to Miss Condon and receive reward.

LOST—MONDAY evening, Cameo brooch, valued as gift, between Quality Bakery and Fruit Store Center. Reward if returned to Miss Taylor, Quality Bakery or 28 Hollister street.

LOST OR STRAYED young police dog puppy. If found call Rosedale 30-13, Manchester.

FOUND—PAIR OF TORTOISE shell rimmed glasses, on Birch street. Owner may have same by calling at 22 Knighton street and paying for adv.

FOUND—BLACK, white and tan hound dog. Dial 3560.

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE 4. 1928 Essex Coach. 1928 Essex Coach. 1928 Chevrolet Coach. 1923 Willys-Knight Roadster. 1927 Ford Coupe. 1926 Ford Coupe. 1926 Nash Sedan. 1925 Fordor Sedan. 1923 Ford Coach.

GOOD USED CARS. Cash or Terms. Madden Bros. 681 Main St. Tel. 5500.

BUILDING—CONTRACTING 14. CARPENTER WORK, porch and screen enclosures, alterations, repairs, roofing, and garages. T. Nielsen, telephone 4823.

FLORISTS—NURSERIES 15. FOR SALE—TEN FLOWERING shrubs, specially priced at $1.00. Harberry, hedging and California privet $5.00 per hundred.

MOVING—TRUCKING—STORAGE 20. PERRETT & GLENNEY—Express and freight service; local and long distance. Expert furniture moving. Service any time by calling 3063.

REPAIRING 23. VACUUM CLEANER, phonograph, clock, gun repairing, key fitting. Braithwaite, 52 Pearl street.

SEWING MACHINE repairing of all makes, oils, needles and supplies. R. W. Garrard, 37 Edward street. Tel. 4301.

MATTRESSES, box springs, pillows and cushions made over equal to new. 1 day service. Phone 6448 Manchester Upholstering Co. 331 Center street. Established since 1922.

CHIMNEYS CLEANED and repaired, key fitting, sates opened, saw filing and grinding. Work called for. Harold Clemons, 108 North Elm street. Tel. 3648.

COURSES AND CLASSES 27. BARBER TRADE taught in day and evening classes. Low tuition rate. Vaughn Barber School, 14 Market street, Hartford.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE 35. WANTED—GIRL to assist with housework and care of children. Can go home nights. Call 7075.

WANTED—COMPETENT girl for general housework. Call at 50 Elwood street. Dial 3003.

HELP WANTED—MALE 36. EARN TWO DAYS PAY IN ONE. Handling America's most widely known and universally used line of Personal and Business Christmas Greeting Cards on very liberal commission that is paid in cash every day together with generous monthly bonus.

RELIABLE MAN with car, having retail store experience. Unusual opportunity for big paying weekly earnings, splendid future advancement. Fagley-Halpen, X-438, Philadelphia, Pa.

WANTED—16 YEAR OLD boys to learn mill jobs. Apply Employment Office, Cheney Brothers.

WANTED—AUTOMOBILE repair man, steady job. Write Box L in care of Herald.

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE 37. BOYS AND GIRLS: Free $2.00 pencil for selling 6 Spanish lace handkerchiefs to friends. We trust you. Remo 83 Jones Ave., Bridgeport, Conn.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE 38. COOK, EXPERIENCED, would like position in private family or small institution in South Manchester. References. Box 59 Walpole, N. H.

DOGS—BIRDS—PETS 41. FOR SALE—MALE fox terrier puppy. Apply 33 Park street. J. H. Quinn.

ARTICLES FOR SALE 45. FOR SALE—17 JEWELLED Waltham watch, one accordinn grapholna, twenty-five records. Clifton W. Wiers, 147 Spruce street.

FUEL AND FEED 49-A. FOR SALE—HARD WOOD $7.50 per load. William Sass, Vernon street, telephone 6055.

FOR SALE—HARDWOOD $8 load, hard slabs $7, selected fire place. Charles Palmer. Telephone 6273.

FOR SALE—1000 CORD hard wood and slabs. Price $10 cord for slabs, $11 for wood. Slabs extra fine quality. Call 6991.

FOR SALE—THE FOLLOWING kinds of wood, sawed to order: hickory, hard, white birch, slab and chestnut. L. T. Wood Co. 55 Bissell street. Dial 4498.

FOR SALE—HARD WOOD and hard slabs, stove length $9 and $9 per load. A. Firpo, 116 Wells street. Dial 6148.

ASSASSIN MISSES. Santiago, Oct. 23.—(AP)—President Carlos Ibanez today owed his life to an assassin's poor marksmanship. Yesterday as he, Senora De Ibanez and two officers of his staff returned from a nearby livestock show, a youth stepped forward and fired a pistol three times at him, none of the shots took effect.

These COLUMNS are your Servants. They will perform most any task—they'll help you find a house, a flat, or a room. They will locate lost articles or sell them, whichever you choose. Let these servants help you daily. The cost is small. DIAL 5121 for CLASSIFIED.

GARDEN—FARM—DAIRY PRODUCTS 50. FOR SALE—GREEN Mountain potatoes, $2.00 bushel, delivered. Thomas Burgess, Wapping, Conn. Tel. Rosedale 60-2.

FOR SALE—NATIVE GREEN mountain potatoes, nice smooth stock for winter storage. First $1.75, seconds $1.00 delivered in Manchester. E. B. London, Andover. Tel. Rosedale 44-2.

FOR SALE—GREEN mountain potatoes $1.80 per bushel, Baldwin apples $1.50 bushel, onions $1.25 per bushel. John McConville, 7 Windemere street, Homestead Park. Telephone 5947.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS 51. FOR SALE—RUGS, gas stoves, dining room table and chairs, ice box, odd chairs, tables, baby carriage, baby chairs, congeolium rug. 150 Summit street.

FOR SALE—TWO STOVES, one gas and one coal stove, good condition. Inquire 591 Center street. Phone 6588.

5 PIECE MAHOGANY velvet parlor set $25. Oak dining room set, buffet, table and chairs $30. Watkins Furniture Exchange.

WANTED—TO BUY 58. SELL YOUR JUNK to a reliable dealer for high prices. Wm Ostrinsky, Tel. 5879, 91 Clinton. Used furniture; wood, coal stoves for sale. Call anytime.

WILL PAY HIGHEST cash prices for rags, paper, magazines and metals. Also buy all kinds of chickens. Morris H. Lessner. Dial 6389 or 3886.

ROOMS WITHOUT BOARD 59. FOR RENT—WELL heated room. Inquire 16 Church street. Telephone 3525.

APARTMENTS—FLATS—TENEMENTS 63. FOR RENT—FIVE ROOM apartment, all improvements, adults only. Apply 67 Wadsworth street, Mr. Johnston.

FOR RENT—7 ROOM COTTAGE, 55 Summit street, all improvements including hot water heat; also 6 room flat, 53 Summit, all improvements including hot water heat. Tel. 5-4362 Hartford.

FOR RENT—4 ROOM upstairs flat, on Ridge street, steam heat. Inquire 79 Ridge street, upstairs.

FOR RENT—4 ROOM flat, all modern improvements, on Center St. Phone 3070.

APARTMENTS—FLATS—TENEMENTS 63. FOR RENT—3 ROOM apartment. Inquire Manchester Public Market.

FOR RENT—3 FURNISHED rooms with all improvements. Reasonable rent. Apply Mintz Dept. Store, Depot Square, Manchester.

HOUSES FOR RENT 65. FOR RENT—FIVE ROOM house, all improvements. Inquire at 131 Maple street.

FOR RENT—SINGLE house, new, 7 rooms and bath, steam heat, garage, 31 Martha street, Manchester. E. A. Standish, Andover, Conn. Telephone 1353-5, William-Conn.

WANTED TO RENT 68. WANTED—FURNISHED apartment of 2 or 3 rooms for family of two. Telephone 7810.

FARMS AND LAND FOR SALE 71. FOR SALE BUILDING SITES in every section of the town. Low prices and easy terms. Now developing "Clearview." Arthur A. Knofa, 875 Main street. Tel. 5440.

HOUSES FOR SALE 72. FOR SALE—SO, MANCHESTER, new 6 room cottage, steam heat, large living room, fire place, tile bath with shower, garage, $1000 cash, good terms for the balance. Tel. 5-8026, Hartford.

PROSPECT STREET on high elevation, near beautiful Rogers and Finney homes, close to bus service, new English type home, 6 well arranged rooms, sun parlor, breakfast nook, hot water heat, tile place, tile bath with shower, brass plumbing throughout, attached heated garage. Price low. Terms, Faulkner Co., 64 Pearl street, Hartford. Telephone 2-2241.

FOR SALE—$800 DOWN buys new colonial home, six rooms, tile bath, oak floors, fireplace, Mahogany arranged. Arthur A. Knofa 875 Main street. Tel. 5440.

FOR SALE—NEW BEAUTIFUL English type home, 6 rooms, fireplace, steam heat. Small amount down. Terms. Price only $7500. Arthur A. Knofa, 875 Main street. Tel. 5440.

LOTS FOR SALE 73. HOME BUILDERS—We have a few choice building lots on Prospect street, close to bus service, convenient to mills, price low. Terms, Faulkner Company, 64 Pearl street, Hartford Tel 2-2241.

THREE DEAD, 3 HURT IN RAILROAD CRASH. Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Three men were killed and four injured early today when a railroad motor car was struck by a locomotive engine on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad near Rockville, Md.

The dead are: Marion Selby, 24, of O. Millard Moberly, 20, both of Gaithersburg, Md., and Thomas Poles, 22, of Rockville, Md. William Thompson, 28, of Gaithersburg, is in a Washington hospital in a serious condition and Frank Poles, Rockville, William Coleman, 35, foreman of the crew on the motor car and his son, Leonard Coleman, were also hurt, but their injuries are not thought to be serious.

PROF. TOUT DIES. London, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Prof. Thomas Frederick Tout, noted authority on history, died at his home today, aged 74.

Prof. Tout was a professor of history at Manchester University from 1890 until 1925, and was president of the Historical Association 1910. He was a fellow of the British Academy and a Ford's lecturer in English history at Oxford.

In 1927 he became a Corresponding member of the Medieval Academy of America and in 1927-28 was Messenger Lecturer at Cornell University.

SCREEN STARS FAKED INCOME TAX RETURNS. Los Angeles, Oct. 23.—William Haines, screen star, was under summons to take the witness stand today for the government in the trial of Marjorie Berger, Hollywood tax counselor, charged with falsifying the income tax returns of several prominent members of the film colony.

Haines was number two in a string of highly paid motion picture players called by the government in its prosecution of Miss Berger. Dorothy Mackaill, screen actress, testifying as the first state witness, told the court yesterday that Miss Berger directed her to keep a false account of her petty cash. Many of the entries listed in her account book as expenses were fictitious, she testified. For instance, she said, her tax schedule as prepared by Miss Berger showed a reduction of $600 as "salary for business manager," when in reality she had no business manager.

WALL STREET BRIEFS. New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Chicago, Northwestern railway is expected to enter the market next week for between 40,000 and 50,000 tons of steel rails. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy has put out inquiries for 600 freight cars. The road recently authorized the purchase of 2,700 cars.

The output of bituminous coal in the United States during the week ending Oct. 19, was 11,250,000 net tons, it was estimated by the National Coal Association. For the week ending Oct. 12, the United States Bureau of Mines reported 11,584,000 net tons were mined, compared with 11,110,000 net tons for the week of Oct. 5.

A 36-hour coast-to-coast daily passenger air service between New York and Los Angeles will soon be inaugurated by the Universal Aviation Corp., subsidiary of the Aviation Corporation, and the Western Air Express.

Iron ore shipments from Lake Erie docks to interior furnaces in the first 20 days of October totaled 2,720,722 tons as against 2,593,476 tons in the corresponding period of 1928.

The Ramsey Petroleum Co., has sold its oil interests in the Nicoma park district of Oklahoma, to the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Co., a subsidiary of the Ohio Oil Co., at a reported price of $5,000,000.

PRISONER ESCAPES. Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Two officers from Galion, Ohio, arrived here today for Wilbur William Hand, wanted in connection with a $125,000 bank robbery in Galion in 1927, to learn that Hand had escaped early today from a Washington jail.

AUCTION! We Will Sell at Public Auction for AXEL HANSON. 28 Monro Street, South Manchester, Conn. THURSDAY, OCT. 24 at 1:30 p. m. Quantity of Household Furniture. Consisting of: Victrola, 8x12 Living Room Rug, Small Rugs, Dining Room Set, Buffet, Vulcan Gas Range, Kitchen Range, Fireproof Strong Box, Oil Stove, Sewing Machine, Quantity of Linen Ware, Table Lamp, Stands, Parlor Chairs, Pictures, Folding Couch, Dishes, Couch Hammock, Screens, Step Ladder, Lawn Mower, Wheelbarrow, Musical Celestophone, and other articles too numerous to mention. AUCTIONEER'S NOTICE—As Mr. Hanson has sold his house and taken a furnished apartment in Hartford, all of the above has been placed in our hands to sell without reserve. This is a good clean lot of furniture. Sale Rain or Shine.

ROBERT M. REID & SON, AUCTIONEERS. 301 Main St., Manchester, Conn. Phone 3193.

WHY DO YOU PAY RENT? WHEN YOU CAN BUY a nice cottage of 5 rooms, cozy and comfortable and a garage thrown in for $5,200, five minutes' walk to Main street. How would you like to own a brand new house, 6 rooms and sun parlor, fireplace, colored tile bath and shower, front and rear halls. Plenty of closet space, oak floors and stairway, and a garage for $7,500 with a few hundred dollars cash? Now is your opportunity.

Before buying the site for your new home take just one look at the Elizabeth building lots on Henry street and on Banner streets, Elizabeth Park. Sewer, gas, water, sidewalks, electricity and mail delivery. Some sold as low as $550. Others higher, easy terms. Corner lot on Pitkin street a very desirable site on this beautiful residential street. Owner desires immediate sale. If you are interested in this locality act quick if you want a good bargain.

ROBERT J. SMITH. 1009 Main Street, We Sell Plenty of Insurance. Phone 3450.

ERRORGRAMS. I THINK I DEVELOPED ATHLETIC HEART WHILE PUTTING THE SHOT. IT SOUNDED ALL RIGHT THROUGH THIS SPECTROSCOPE.

CONSULTING ROOM S. Q. LAPLUS D.D.

THOU'S SCRAMBLED GBRNMAEOO It always comes back.

(1) Indigo is a shade of blue, not red. (2) In the word "misses," the apostrophe should be after the "s". (3) Escalator is spelled incorrectly. (4) The floorwalker's flower is on the right lapel, instead of the left. (5) The scrambled word is LAUGHTER.

CORRECTIONS. (1) Athletic is spelled incorrectly. (2) "Spectroscope" should be spectroscopy. (3) There are only three legs on the chair at the right. (4) "D. D.", on the door, should be M. D. (5) The scrambled word is Boomerang.

GAS BUGGIES—Shifty Checks Out

WHERE IS HE? WHAT'S HIS NAME?

HOW'S THIS, BOSS? NOT AS NOBBY AS I LIKE—BUT IT'LL DO IN A PINCH.

By FRANK BECK

SENSE and NONSENSE

BACK SEAT FOR IT
'I never dreamed,' the old Atlantic sighed.
'An aviator'd make me feel so dog-goned small;
'It hurt my pride to think, slack to them
'I'm nothing more than a mere pond, that's all.

NEW VERSION
My bonnie lies under the auto,
My bonnie lies under the car,
Somebody hurry and send for a garage man.
It's lonesome up here where I are.

EVEN ON THE LAWN
Jack-'I hear your wife drives your car all over now.'
George-'Righto-sidewalks and all.'

'GET OUT AND GET UNDER'
Peggy: 'Oh, Harry is just going crazy over his new car.'
Madge: 'That's strange, every time I've seen him he's going crazy under it.'

Motor-car manufacturers are rapidly immortalizing our presidents. We had the Cleveland; we have the Lincoln, and now comes the Roosevelt. Why not another car-
-The Coolidge. America's Silent
Six?

The difference between a flapper and a traffic cop is that you get a chance to slip in a word or two to the traffic cop.

Now if a dry agent should shoot at a motorist and hit a tire, that would be news.

Prosperity and opportunity are like parking places.
There is plenty of it for the fellow that gets there first.

A young woman who keeps company with a garage mechanic writes to ask what will take grease stains out of a linen shirt waist.

WISDOM: Keeping the car in the garage and staying at home on Sunday.

The Secretary of Commerce hopes that the Federal census will cut the cost of living. We hope it also eliminates brake squeaks.

A tourist is a person who intends to get started at 5 o'clock next

OBSTACLES ARE MERELY SOMETHING THAT SHOULD MAKE YOU GET BUSY.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

When you step in the path of a splashing auto, it's all over— but the shouting.

morning, but doesn't get away until a quarter of eight, because the women are so slow getting started.

Pity the petter. If he keeps moving, he needs one hand for driving.
If he parks, he needs one hand to swat mosquitoes.

Another thing we ought to be adoin', says old Reason Tatters, is to transfer our worry from the saturation point of automobiles to the saturation point of drivers.

No more alarming combination could be imagined, than a dominating personality driving a ten-ton truck.

'Have you no chivalry?' demanded the indignant female.
'No, ma'am,' replied the insulting male, 'I traded it in on a Chrysler.'

Some women change their paint often, but they put it on the same old chassis.

If you are going to have common sense, have it when you drive up to a grade crossing.

'I wish, Matilda, you would not talk to me while I am driving in traffic.'

Lawyer: 'Then you say this man was drunk?'
Witness: 'I do not. I merely say that he sat in his car for three hours in front of an excavation waiting for the light to turn green.'

We have found out what has become of all the old automobiles.
They are in use out on the highways by summer tourists.

A devoted son is one who permits his father to drive his own car once in a while.

The mayor of Berlin, visiting this country to study American municipal government methods, gets word from home to return at once because a big graft scandal has broken out in the German capital. Apparently we can't teach those Germans a thing, after all.

SKIPPY

Mickey (Himself) McGuire

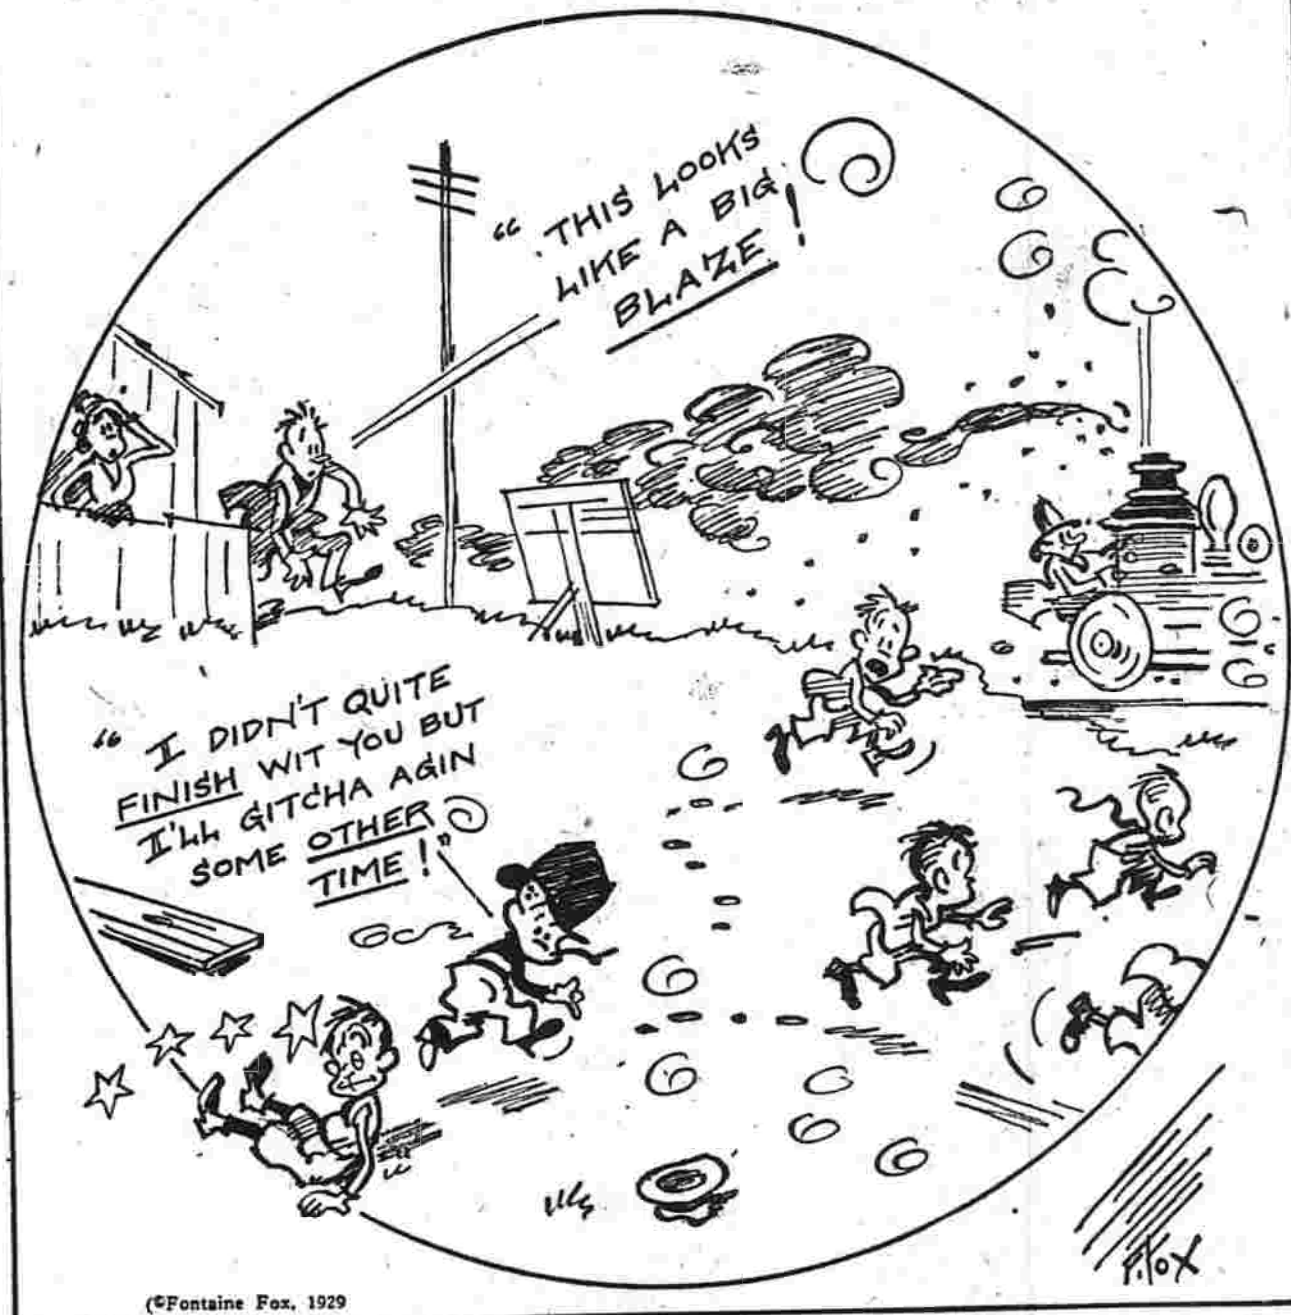

By Fontaine Fox

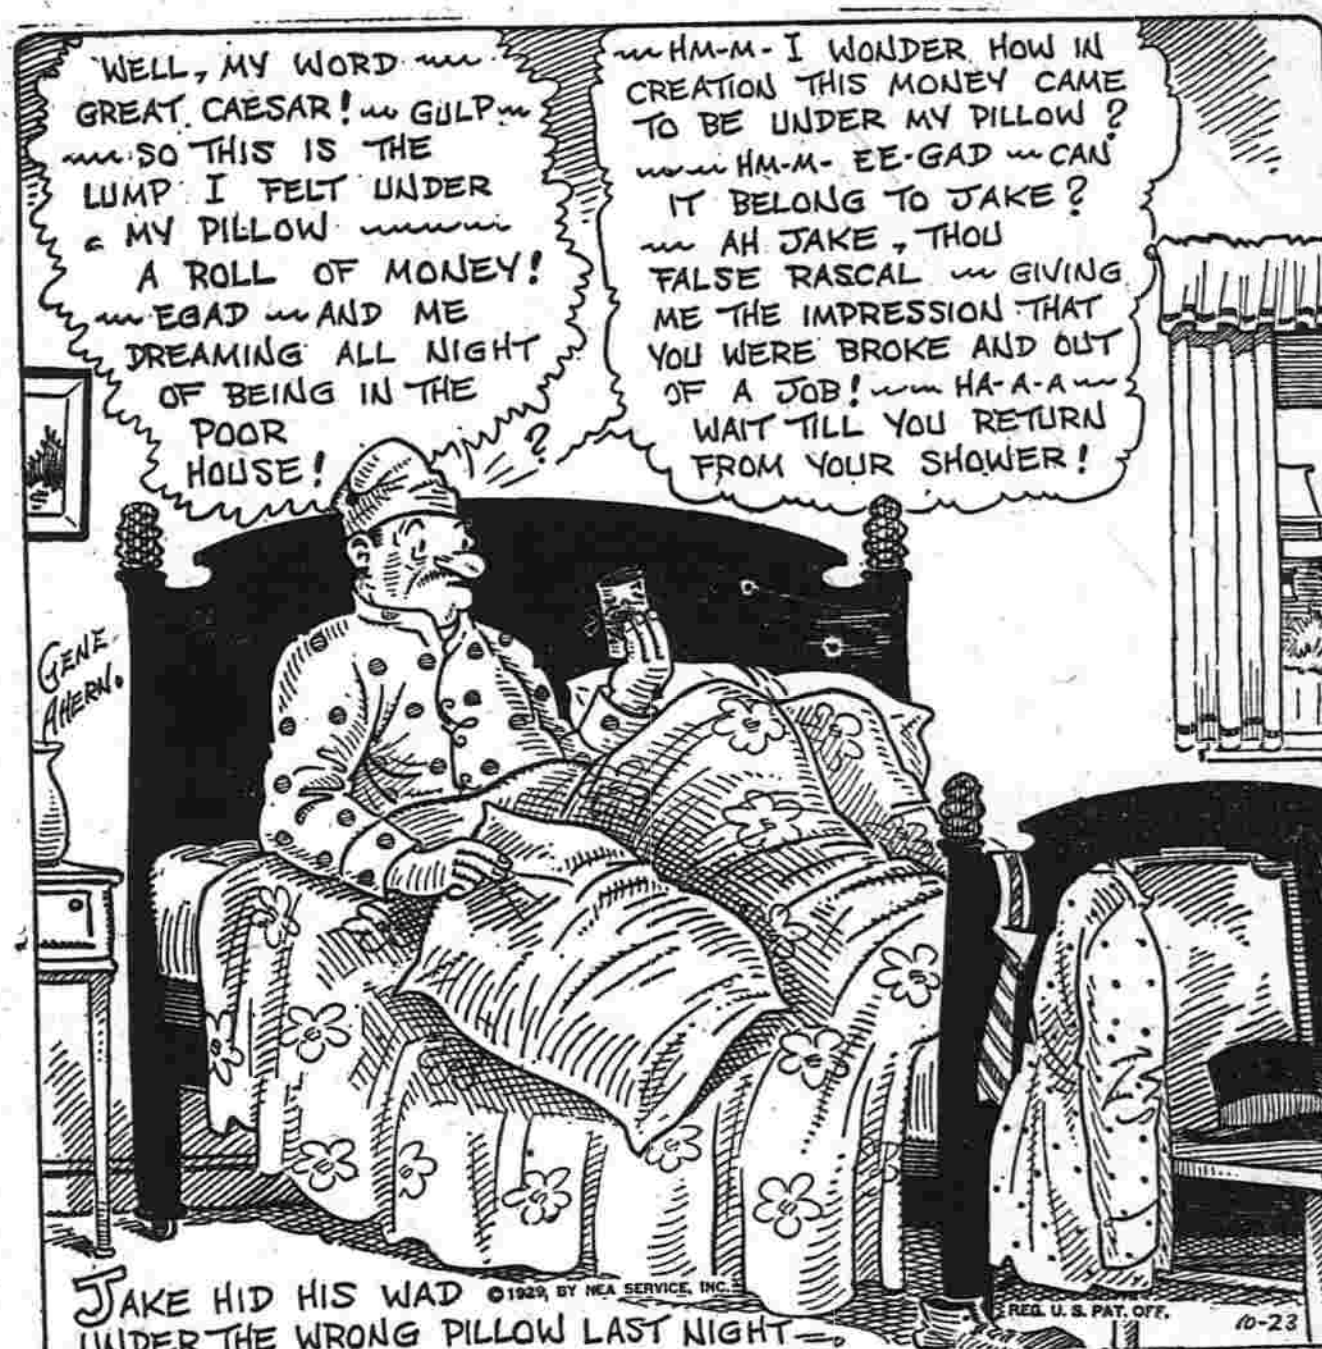

OUR BOARDING HOUSE
By Gene Ahern

CREDIT THE FIRE DEPARTMENT WITH ANOTHER RESCUE!

(Fontaine Fox, 1929)

JAKE HID HIS WAD UNDER THE WRONG PILLOW LAST NIGHT

By Crane

THE TINYMITE

The Weesons in the scarecrow's hand just simply couldn't understand why he was held a captive.
'Hey, please let me go,' he cried.
'There's nothing wrong that I have done. We all were merely having fun. Don't pinch so hard, in holding me. Your big hand hurts my side.'
'Oh, is that so?' the scarecrow said. 'Well, say, why don't you use your head? I'm going to get in trouble just because of what you've done. Yes, sir, you're due for grief today. The others turned and ran away, but I was quick to grab you ere you had a chance to run.
'The reason I am quite forlorn is that you fellows stole my corn.
I am a lonely scarecrow who's supposed to guard it well. The farmer who is using me will be as mad as he can be. When he asks 'where is all my corn?' what am I going to tell?'
'Oh, I don't know,' the Weesone cried. 'I wish I'd had a chance to hide. Now I'll be taking all the blame. That doesn't seem quite fair.

If you will let me go right now, I'll try to pay you back somehow for all the corn that's missing. Then the farmer will not care.'
Just then a rope came sailing near and passed right by the Weesone's ear. It settled round the scare-crow's waist and brought a big surprise. The Weesone shouted, 'Gee, that's slick. The Tinymite pulled that clever trick. It seems a Tinymite can do most anything he tries.'
The scarecrow upset with a plop and quickly let the Weesone drop.
The Tinymite who had lassoed him now pulled the rope real tight.
'we've caught him,' shouted
Scouty. 'Gee, let's pull him right up to a tree.' And so they wound the rope till he was safe and sound, all right.
(More trouble turns up in the next story.)

WASHINGTON TUBBS II

RACE TO RECOVER FORTUNE!

Surprise Meeting

By Blosser

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

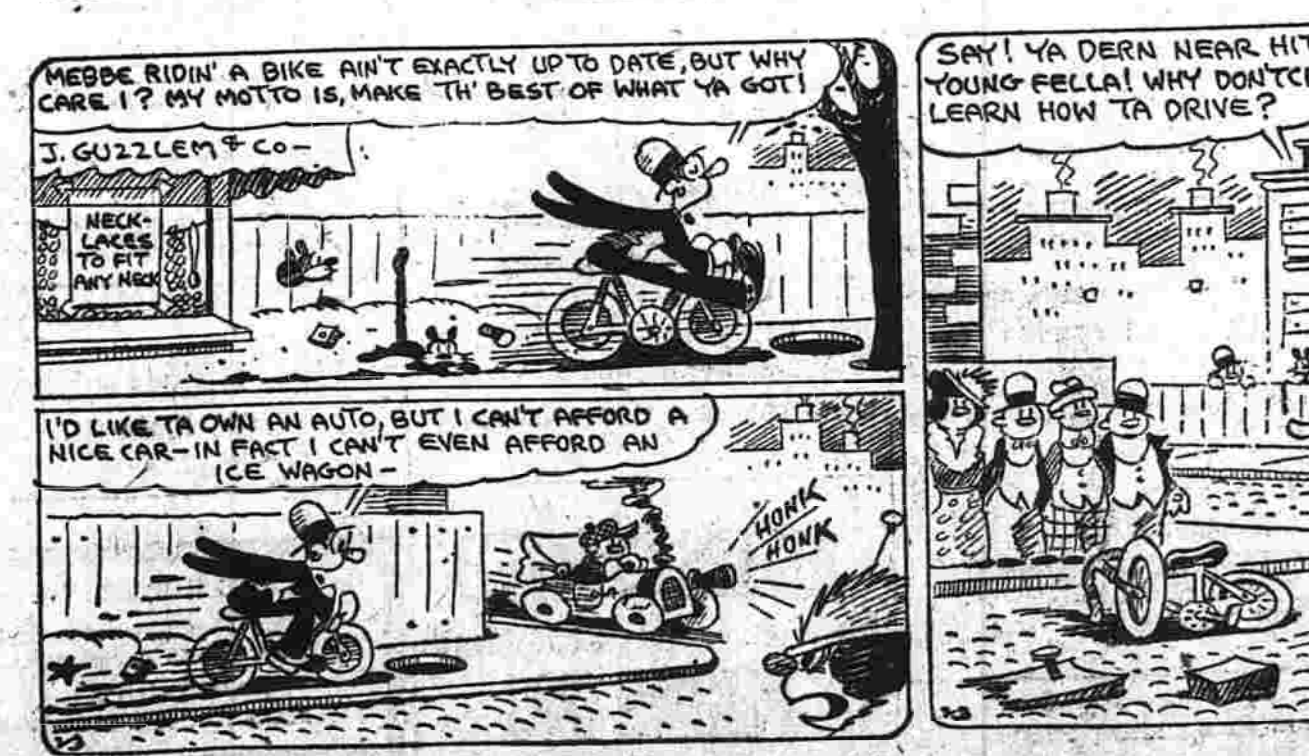

Hook, Line and Sinker!

By Small

SALESMAN SAM

That's More Like It

WIRTALLA DANCING SCHOOL ORANGE HALL

Fr Fridays 8:30, Beginners under 8 years. Saturdays 1:30, all other classes in Toe, Tap, Aesthetics and Ballroom Work. New Pupils May Now Join Any of the Above Classes. Private Lessons by Appointment. Dial 5297 for Further Information.

ABOUT TOWN

All members of Nutmeg Forest, No. 116, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, who are planning to attend the ceremonial and district convention in Moosup Saturday are asked to be at the Mason Temple Saturday at two o'clock. All members owning automobiles are requested to drive since the trip will be made in private cars instead of by bus.

At the whist party held in the Knights of Columbus rooms last night by the Daughters of Isabella Mrs. Norene Cotter was winner of first prize at bridge whist, Miss Catherine Carney, second and Miss Eleanor Moore the consolation award. In straight whist the first prize was taken by Miss Stepenie Tunskey and Mrs. Alice McVey was second. The consolation prize was won by Miss Helen Donahue.

Rev. R. A. Colpitts of the South Methodist church is in New York state until Friday of this week, preaching in different places, under auspices of the World's Service Commission and on invitation of the Methodist organization of the New York area.

The Ladies Fragment society will serve a harvest supper at the Chapel hall in North Covent between 6 and 8 o'clock this evening. These suppers are popular with Manchester folks and doubtless many of them will motor out there tonight for the feast of good things.

Marcel Jobert of Maple street, in company with a party of Hartford friends is absent on a 15-day hunting trip in Canada.

The Ladies Sewing circle of the Concordia Lutheran church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Anna Risley of Parker street and Miss Helen Comstock of Main street returned yesterday after a week-end trip to Tilton, N. H., where they visited Mrs. Risley's son Wells who is a student at the Tilton School for Boys.

The Ladies Aid society of the North Methodist church will hold a rummage sale tomorrow in the Buckland building, Depot Square, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. The October group will be in charge.

Thursday you will find at Nelligs Millinery Store, State Theater Building a complete new assortment of hats in very large and very small head sizes.—Adv.

PRIZES FOR POOREST DRESSED DANCER

Poverty Dance at Temple Friday Night Reverses the Usual Custom.

Those who attend the big Poverty Dance in the Masonic Temple Friday night will have an opportunity to contest for two fine prizes. Jaffe, the jeweler, and the Symington Shop, have placed two gifts at the disposal of the committee in charge and it has been decided to award them to the person attending in the most impoverished appearing costume. The dance is being sponsored by the Masonic Social club and the Tall Cedars of Lebanon. A rousing time is assured those who attend and only the oldest of clothes should be worn. A good local orchestra has been secured for the occasion.

WADDELL TO ADDRESS MEN'S FRIENDSHIP CLUB

Town Manager Georg. H. Waddell has consented to speak before the members of the Men's Friendship club of the South Methodist church at their regular monthly meeting to be held Monday evening. Mr. Waddell will deal with town government subjects, with special reference to Manchester, and will answer questions asked by the men.

KATHERINE HALLIDAY HOWARD

Teacher of Piano and Violoncello 12 1-2 CHURCH STREET Telephone 5519

Artistic LAMPS
"Exclusive Designs"
Reasonable Prices
KEMP'S INC.

Order Now!
Personal Engraved
Christmas Greeting Cards

The J.W. Hale Company

DEPARTMENT STORE SO. MANCHESTER, CONN.

A Full Line of Hallowe'en Novelties
In the Candy Dept.

ASK FOR AND SAVE YOUR DUO-DOLLARS. SECOND AUCTION WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 30th.

SALC OF FROCKS

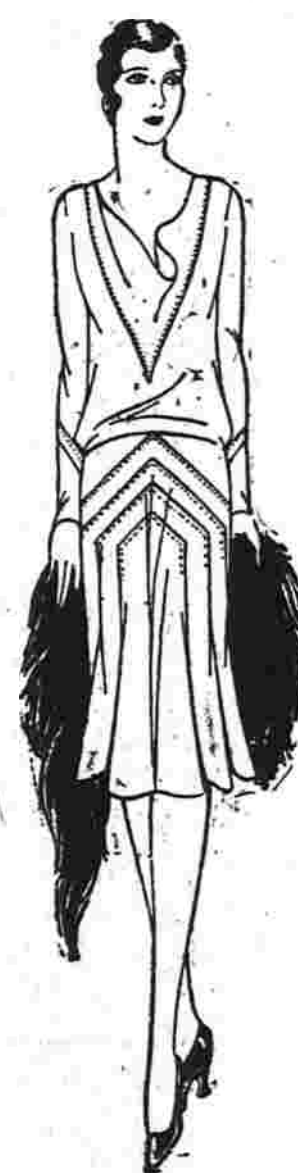

Striking New Fall Models That Show Unusual Styling—Specially Priced For Three Days At

$8.98

Crepes, Satins, Georgettes and Woolens

Junior Sizes 13 to 17
Misses' Sizes 16 to 20
Women's Sizes 36 to 52

Included are frocks for every daytime occasion from finely tailored models to those for afternoon wear. Fashioned on newest lines—princess and normal waistline effects, circular and long skirts with low placed fullness, soft feminine touches at the necklines. Choice of light weight woolens and "tweed-like" prints for sports and business; rich satins and heavy crepes with trimmings of velvet or contrasting fabrics for afternoon and informal evening wear.

Six Smart Shades:

- Black
- Brown
- Green
- Dahlia
- Wine
- Beige

Apparel Department
Main Floor, Rear

New Silk Dresses

$14.75

An opportune time to purchase one or two new fall frocks at the height of the season—at a saving. Crepes and satins; many are trimmed with velvet. One and two-piece models that feature higher waistlines and low placed fullness in the skirts. Brown, black, green, wine and dahlia.

Three-Piece Knitted Suits

$10.00 to $19.75

The sweater suit leads for sports wear this season and every girl and woman should have one in her wardrobe. We are showing both the tuck-in and slip-on sweater models that feature pleated skirts and cardigan jackets. The newest shades.

Misses' and Women's

Silk Frocks

$5.00

Inexpensive, youthful silk frocks in plain crepes as well as the smart, soft prints. Tailored models suitable for daily wear. A number of becoming styles—specially priced at $5.00.

PHONES Pinehurst "GOOD THINGS TO EAT"

PINEHURST SERVICE:

Special Early Delivery 7:15 a. m.
Regular Early Delivery 8:00 a. m.
Frequent later morning deliveries to all parts of the town.
First Afternoon Delivery 1:30 p. m.

FRESH FISH

Clams for Chowder
Large Solid Rowe's OYSTERS
Small Southern STEWING OYSTERS
SCALLOPS
Finan Haddie or Smoked Filet of Haddock
FILET OF SOLE
MACKEREL
STEAK COD OR COD TO BAKE
BUTTER FISH
FRESH SALMON
DRESSED HADDOCK

SLICED BACON 39c
Rind off, lb.

Royal Scarlet Quick Cooking Oats (fully guaranteed, 10c and 25c)
Charcoal, 5 bags $1.00
Boxes for kindling.

PINEHURST MEATS

Do you like Corned Beef? If you do, tomorrow is the day to order it—we have most any kind of piece you want—corned "just right," and remember that the corned beef which comes out is only just as good as the beef that goes in the brine—every piece we corn is cut from our regular Pinehurst Quality Beef.

Ribs for Hash 14c to 18c.
Boneless Briskets
Very lean Boston undercuts.
Chuck and Cross Rib cuts.
Middle Ribs 26c lb.

1 lb. Rolls Butter 49c lb.
PINEHURST VERY BEST COFFEE 49c lb.
DIAL 4151

Thursday Specials

FINEST FRESH FISH

A STEAK SALE

Tender Sirloin Steak 55c lb.
Best Top Round Steak 55c lb.
Our Home Made Sausage Meat 30c lb.
Our Fresh Ground Hamburg Steak 30c lb., 2 lbs. 50c
Nathan Hale Coffee 55c lb., 2 lbs. $1.00
8 lbs. Nice Yellow Onions 25c
8 lbs. Sweet Potatoes 25c
Lamb Pies 15c each
Ginger Squares 18c dozen
Pan Biscuits, 7 to the pan 10c a Pan
Brookfield Roll Butter 49c lb. Roll

Manchester Public Market

Dial 5139

BARSTOWS' NEW SIGN

The first outdoor Neon Light electric sign in town is now lighting up Barstows Radio Shop at 20 Bissell street and telling all who glance that way about Philco balanced unit radio. The Neon light signs are different than any other, being a hollow glass tube filled with certain rare gases to give different colors. A high tension current, produced by means of a high tension transformer, puts 14,000 volts through the tubes and produces the most wonderful light effect ever devised. New York has "gone Neon" as most of the spectacular displays previously produced by thousands of electric bulbs are now supplanted by brighter and more spectacular Neon signs in vivid alluring colors.

Chrysanthemums

We are now cutting Pom Pom Chrysanthemums in a good variety of colors. Let us fill your orders with nice fresh cut blooms.

ANDERSON GREENHOUSES

153 Eldridge St. Tel. 8686

RUMMAGE SALE

Thursday, October 24
10 A. M. to 6 P. M.
BUCKLAND BLDG.
Depot Square

North Methodist Ladies Aid Society

ASHES CARTED

50c Week $1.50 Month
PHONE 4895

FELT PILLOWS TO EMBROIDER

Mrs. Elliott's Shop
853 Main St.

SHOE REPAIRING

Ladies' Flexible Soles and Rubber Heels a Specialty.
SAM YULYES
701 Main St., So. Manchester

WATKINS BROTHERS, Inc. Funeral Directors

ESTABLISHED 64 YEARS
CHAPEL AT 11 OAK ST.

Robert K. Anderson Funeral Director
Phones: Office 5171
Residence 7494

ADVERTISE IN THE HERALD—IT PAYS