

SCORES OF ISSUES SLUMP IN MARKET

Prices of Leading Stocks Break Sharply Despite Rally at Opening—Final Quotations.

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The Stock Market closed at a new bottom today after a fresh flood of liquidation had carried prices of scores of leading issues down $1 to $12 a share. Large declines were recorded in a few ordinarily inactive specialties. One hundred stocks sold at new low prices for the year. The ticker was running more than an hour late when the closing gong sounded.

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Prices of leading stocks broke sharply to new low levels for the year on the New York Stock Exchange today when the brief rally which followed an opening decline quickly petered out. Scores of issues were carried down $1 to $20 a share while American Express, making its first appearance since Jan. 1, dropped $106 a share below the previous quotation of $205. Total sales for the first two hours were 4,234,000 shares as contrasted with 1,644,100 in the same period yesterday, with the ticker running nearly an hour behind the market.

New Low Records

New low records for the year were established by nearly a hundred stocks. The list included U. S. Steel Common, American Can, General Electric, International Harvester, National Biscuit, Sears and Roebuck, International Business Machines, Western Union, May Department Stores, Gillette Safety Razor, Commercial Solvents, Air Reduction, Warren Bros., First National Stores, American Power and Light, Northern Pacific, Central Railroad of New Jersey, New York Central and Missouri Pacific preferred.

In the secondary break, Westinghouse Electric fell from $125 to $110.12, U. S. Steel Common from $183.50 to $153.50, General Electric from $185.50 to $184.50 and American Telephone from $209.75 to $202.25. Peoples Gas dropped $29.50 a share.

Partial recoveries took place from the low levels in the last hour. Today's break, like most of those which have preceded it, was not associated with any development in the day's business or financial news. Wall street brokers generally accepted the selling as evidence that distress liquidation, which has not yet been completed, is a fresh flurry of selling which has margined accounts, and compels the closing out of those which cannot immediately be strengthened.

CLOSING QUOTATIONS.

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Closing prices together with net changes compared with the previous close, on about fifty leading issues on the New York Stock Exchange are given below. When trading ceased at 1 p. m., the stock ticker was approximately two hours

HOOVER'S REPORT TO CONGRESS SOON

President's First Message to Be Delivered Three Weeks from Now.

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—President Hoover is giving thought to his first annual report on the state of the union which will be made to Congress three weeks from today or the day after the opening of the regular session on December 2.

Aside from that which usually attaches to the first regular message to Congress of a new chief executive, interest in this one is heightened by the bitter political situation in the Senate which has arisen out of the tariff legislation.

Views on Tariff

What the President will have to say on the tariff must of necessity depend largely upon the circumstances at the end of this special session.

Despite the widespread between the ideas of the Senate and House on the form of tariff legislation, Mr. Hoover has by no means abandoned hope of a bill emerging which will square with the Republican Party's promise of relief to agriculture and those industries which are lagging because of changed conditions since the last impost measures were written.

Next to the tariff the subject carrying an appeal to the country is that of taxation and Mr. Hoover's views on the possibilities of tax reduction in the near future will be closely scanned.

OVER 20,000 DEAD AFTER BIG BATTLE

Ten Thousand Killed on Each Side in Chinese War, Japan Reports.

Shanghai, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Japanese press dispatches from Hankow today stated Nationalist troops had scored a victory over the rebellious "People's Army" at Mhsien, Honan province, driving back the Kuomintang forces 25 miles westward to Tengfeig. The "People's Army" was said to be entrenching at Tengfeig.

Soldiers Entrenched

"One hundred thousand of the Kuomintang are entrenching about the city," said the press reports. "The Nationalists are facing a terrific task to capture the place, as the terrain favors the defenders."

Chiang Kai-Shek, Nationalist commander, accompanied by a German military adviser, is remaining at the front.

Some thousand wounded Nationalists arrived at Hankow and also 1,000 Kuomintang prisoners, who were interned at Wuchang. Two ship loads of wounded Nationalists are reported to have arrived at Woodung, near here.

Wounded soldiers from Hankow stated each side had lost 10,000 killed in the battle of Mhsien.

SENATORS ENDORSE FOOD SHIP PLAN

President's Proposal to Give Them Immunity in War Time Favored.

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—President Hoover's own proposal to give immunity to food ships in time of war received widespread endorsement today at the Senate. Some of the expressions were mixed with disappointment that he did not intend to carry the question into the forthcoming naval conference.

Republicans in the Senate gave general approval to the Hoover food ships idea. Senator McKellar, Democrat, said that the proposal should be included in the London conference agenda. Chairman Borah, of the foreign relations committee, withheld comment, but he has been one who has insisted that the freedom of the seas should be granted by Great Britain along with a parity of navies.

Chairman Hale, of the Senate Naval Committee, said: "The suggestion of President Hoover about the food ships in time of war was an excellent one. Everyone would like to make war less horrible to the women and children, and his suggestion will have the sympathetic attention of the world. Whether it can be worked out in practicality remains to be seen."

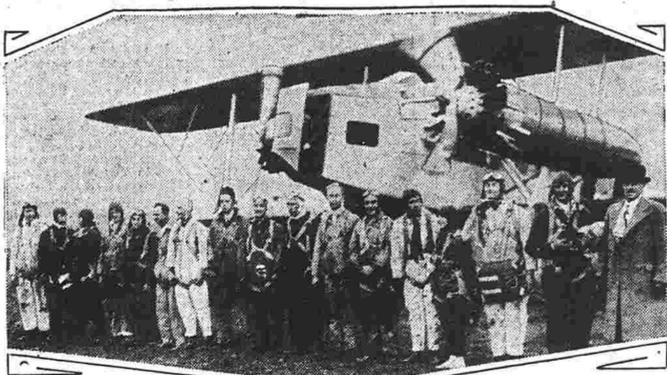

Senator McKellar said: "The idea to exempt food ships from contraband and prize rules is laudable but instead of just passing it out to the world for consideration, it ought to be included in the agenda of the conference at London. We have gone to war twice over freedom of the sea. Let's get it now."

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, observed that "if in time of war, the starvation of women and children and those not responsible for war could be eliminated I think it would be a glorious consummation."

A Fine Idea.
Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, said "I think it will be a fine idea and a humanitarian effort to eliminate food ships from war if it is possible."

Speaker Longworth of the House described the proposal as a "very fine thing to bring into the general discussion on peace."

SIXTEEN LEAP FROM SINGLE PLANE

The largest number of jumpers ever to leap consecutively from one airplane—fifteen men and a girl—are pictured above just before they went aloft over Roosevelt Field, Long Island, to undertake the record-breaking feat. Within 15 seconds, a giant Sikorsky biplane discharged its human cargo at an altitude of 2500 feet and all landed safely. The wholesale plane delivery bettered by four the navy's mark of twelve jumpers from a single plane, set recently.

FIFTY YEARS SENTENCE FOR PROHIBITION AGENT

Accused of Killing Farmer During Liquor Raid Last July; Makes Bitter State- ment in Court.

Chandler, Okla., Nov. 12.—(AP.) Jeff Harris, deputized Federal dry agent, was sentenced to 50 years in the state prison today by District Judge Hal Johnson for the murder of Oscar Lowery, Pottawatomie county farmer during a liquor raid. Harris was convicted here two weeks ago.

Harris, in a bitter statement before the court, said he never could forgive the witnesses who testified he shot Lowery without provocation. He said he hoped the witnesses some day would find themselves in his predicament.

Overrules Motion

Before pronouncing sentence Judge Johnson overruled a motion for a new trial.

Harris also is charged with the murder of James Harris, Lowery's brother-in-law. Both were killed in a liquor raid last July 4 on the James Harris farm, 2 1/2 miles southwest of Tecumseh, Okla. No liquor was found.

Spirit of Christmas Sweeps Over Senate

Duty on Things That Make Up Christmas Trees Are Slashed Materially.

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The spirit of Christmas swept the Senate today as a Democrat succeeded in lowering existing tariffs on tinsel wire and all articles made of this and similar materials.

While the finance committee had proposed elimination of House increases in these duties, Senator Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, was successful in urging amendments to cut the rates materially.

The duty on tinsel wire was cut from six cents a pound and ten per cent ad valorem to six cents, and on tinsel, from six cents and 20 per cent to six cents; bullion acid metal threads made of these articles from six cents and thirty-five per cent to six cents and twenty per cent; and beltings and other articles made of these articles from forty-five per cent to thirty per cent, and woven fabrics of tinsel, from fifty-five to forty per cent.

START RECOUNT

Boston, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The report of this city's majority vote got under way at the City Hall annex today with watchers on hand representing Mayor-Elect James M. Curley, who won the election with a plurality of nearly 20,000, and Frederick W. Mansfield, president of the State Bar Association, who placed second in the three cornered race.

Mansfield asked for a recount. Ballots protested by representatives of either candidate will be referred to the election commission for final ruling.

MORON ASSAULTS TWO MORE WOMEN

Grabs at Women in Dark Area on Park Street Last Night; Get Description.

A second attempted assault on local women was brought to light today when The Herald learned that a man very evidently a moron accosted two women on Park street about 8:30 last evening.

Just before reaching the Parochial school she passed Morris Metter of Metter's Smoke Shop who was on his way home from the Armistice Day parade but did not recognize him in the darkness.

Grabs Her Arm

As she approached the man who was standing along the sidewalk, she reached out and grasped her by the arm and sought to pull her to him. She wrenched herself free and ran back along Park street, overtaking Mr. Metter to whom she told the story.

Mrs. Pillsbury left her home last night and turned up Park street on a dark night. She was walking toward the home of a relative, one who she reported to the Parochial school she passed Morris Metter of Metter's Smoke Shop who was on his way home from the Armistice Day parade but did not recognize him in the darkness.

TRIAL NEXT MONTH

They will be arraigned in the December term of Superior Court on charges of carrying liquor. Saturday's raid was made by eight state policemen, five of them from the Hartford barracks. Every room in the building was being used for distillation of alcohol. The officers found besides the distilling apparatus, a large quantity of burning sugar, barrels of mash and 40 gallons of alcohol. The building, according to the police, is owned by Zimmer Brothers of this city.

GERMAN WRITER GETS FAMOUS NOBEL PRIZE

Wins Out Over Lewis, Wilder,
Chesterton, Gorky and Other Novelists.

Stockholm, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Thomas Mann, widely known German novelist, writer, best known work is "The Magic Mountain" has been awarded this year's Nobel prize for literature.

Among those whose names have been mentioned as possible candidates for the prize were Sinclair Lewis and Thornton Wilder, American writers; Gilbert K. Chesterton and Johns Galsworthy of Great Britain; Maxim Gorky, the Russian; Guglielmo Ferrero, the Italian, and Erich Remarque, German writer.

Thomas Mann first achieved national popularity in Germany in 1903 by his great standard work, "Buddenbrooks," which after more than a quarter of a century remains the most widely read novel in Germany.

In it Mann showed the social decline of a Luebeck Senatorial family, weaving much of his own family history into the story. Mann came from old Luebeck patrician stock. His father, Heinrich Mann, was one of the merchant princes of that ancient and historic Hanseatic city. Besides being a Senator, through his mother, Julia Bruhns, he inherited a strain of southern blood.

After his father's death, Mann at the age of 19 went to live with his mother in Munich, where he entered an insurance broker's office. But he soon developed a taste for literature, history and art, and started writing surreptitiously in office hours. Next, he spent a year in Italy, and later was for some time on the editorial staff of the well-known Munich satirical journal Simplicissimus.

STORMS SWEEP BRITISH ISLES; EIGHT KILLED

Many Are Injured—Enor- mous Damage to Prop- erty—Gales Subside as Sun Comes Up.

London, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Eight persons were killed through accidents and drowning, many were injured, and enormous property damage inflicted in a gale which lashed the British isles and surrounding seas last night and today.

Conditions became better with the coming of the dawn and the sun late shone brilliantly on scenes of wreckage in various places. Roofs were broken, chimneys pots smashed, bill boards thrown down, windows blown out and Armistice Day decorations ripped to shreds.

Ships Suffer

The small coastwise shipping appeared to have suffered severely, although with little loss of life. Sailing barges with small crews were badly buffeted on the south and east coasts.

Deal boatmen had a strenuous time getting three such vessels into the harbor after their crews had reached the exhaustion point. Another barge, the Marie May, had her sails blown to ribbons and her anchor dragged off Dungeness. She drifted helplessly and her crew were in grave danger when rescued by a lifeboat.

Thirty of the crew of the Italian steamer Nimbo were dramatically rescued by a lifeline from the cliff top at New Haven.

The dirigible R-101 looked spic and span this morning after riding out the gale at her mooring mast. "We naturally are delighted at her performance which is something of other airship has ever done," said an official today.

Nasty Experience

Robert S. Farley and Mrs. Farley, Americans, said no one had prepared to spend all night in the channel. "It was a nasty, hazardous experience," said Mr. Farley. "There were no sleeping accommodations aboard. All of the passengers paid tribute to the captain's skill in handling his ship."

CARDINAL VISITS MALDEN CEMETERY

Makes Trip to Grave of Priest Where Miracles Are Said to Occur.

Malden, Mass., Nov. 12.—(AP)—William Cardinal O'Connell, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, today visited Holy Cross cemetery where at the grave of Rev. Patrick Power, thousands have sought relief from bodily ills. Hundreds had gathered at the cemetery even before dawn today.

The cardinal's visit to the cemetery was a surprise. No announcement had been made that he would visit the place nor was the reason for his visit made known. It has been predicted unofficially, however, that some steps would be taken to create a permanent shrine and to provide means for pilgrim worship by the thousands of olders who it is expected will continue to visit Father Power's grave.

For more than a week, an unending stream of visitors has filed to the grave and over the week-end it was estimated that more than 200,000 persons, most of them suffering from ailments, prayed at the shrine. Many of these claimed to have experienced miraculous cures.

ARNOLD PLANNED TO PUT NEGROES IN THEIR PLACE

MCMANUS TRIAL ADJOURNED TODAY

Put Over Until Nov. 18 Be- cause of Illness of Im- portant State Witness.

Criminal Courts Building, New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The trial of George A. McManus, for the murder of his gambler associate Arnold Rothstein, was adjourned today until Nov. 18 because of the illness of an important state witness.

The ill witness is Alvin Thomas better known as "Titanic" Thompson, and alleged to be one of the men with whom McManus and Rothstein played cards a few days before the shooting and where, it is said, Rothstein lost heavily to McManus.

One juror was sworn on motion of Defense Counsel James D. C. Murray and Judge Charles C. Nott, Jr., then announced adjournment, until 10:30 a. m., next Monday.

Court had hardly opened before Assistant District Attorney George Brothers arose and read an affidavit from a Milwaukee, Wis., physician, that Thomas was a patient in the Misericordia hospital there and probably would not be in fit physical condition to come to New York for a week or ten days.

Agree to Adjournment

State and defense counsel then retired and agreed to the adjournment of six days.

McManus has been free on $50,000 bail since last March after he had spent four months in Tombs prison, being denied bail.

TO CALL ALIENIST FOR CHILD SLAYER

Prosecutor to Offset Move of the Defense That Gladys Parks is Insane.

Camden, N. J., Nov. 12.—(AP)—County Attorney A. C. Baldwin announced today that alienists would be called to establish the mental mind of Gladys May Parks who was held here charged with the murder of four year old Dorothy Rogers and suspected of having caused the death of the child's brother, Timothy aged two.

The prosecutor said he was convinced the woman was entirely rational at the time the children died a few weeks ago and that she is sane now. His announcement that alienists would be summoned was made after Harry Shaul, Camden attorney, had sought to confer with the woman and had been refused permission to see her.

Confession Worthless

Baldwin quoted Shaul as declaring that Miss Parks' confession that she buried the bodies of the children secretly after they had died as the result of accidents "was worthless."

Letter Introduced at Senate Hearing Says Blacks Could Best Be Eliminated by Electing Negro Demo- crats to Congress in Northern States.

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The Senate lobby committee today began inquiry into reported plans to organize a Southern Republican Council "to hold in line" the southern states and among other exhibits placed in the record was a letter under the name of J. A. Arnold, manager of the Southern Tariff Association, discussing the place of the negro in southern politics.

In addition a document introduced into the record, which purported to give plans of the Southern Republican Council said "The negroes in Southern Republican politics can best be eliminated through the election of negro Democrats to Congress from St. Louis, Chicago, Harlem and other colored districts." It added that "this matter is in capable hands."

The letter under Arnold's name was addressed to Vance Muse, a field man of the tariff association. Before presentation of this letter, Chairman Caraway had asked Arnold if he had assisted in organization of the Republican Council which was projected by chairman added, "to hold in line" southern states. Arnold testified he had nothing to do with the formation of the council.

The Letter

The letter as placed in the record read:

"I went with the darkey today to see Vice President Curtis and he thought well of our negro Congressman idea, but said it was a matter that should be taken up with Mr. Hoover and that he would talk with Hoover about it. They all seem to want to get Hoover's idea about it first. Curtis said he thought of getting a better grade of negroes to lead in the south but I told him that would be the complete remedy.

"Our line of approach is much more acceptable to politicians and to negroes of equalizing by black-out. The Democratic Party, by whitening the Republican Party, the negroes will go in revolt over the plan of kicking them out of the party or of leadership; they will have to take themselves out of the way for the present.

"Our talk is down the race problem line. They all see that the race problem must be solved first before anything further can be done. We have the best solution yet.

"Think you should get Dr. Lewis here on the 10th and start something; we will never get anywhere talking around in circles. If necessary to see Hoover before it starts out then go see him and get his decision."

Dr. Lewis was identified by Caraway as Dr. Burdgett E. Lewis of Jacksonville, but Arnold asserted he did not recall who he was.

Later Arnold testified Muse had wanted to form "some sort of organization, but nothing came of it."

Another letter to Muse under Arnold's name and dated December 17, 1928, was placed in the record. It said Arnold talked with Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, about the council and he was "furious" over the activity of Glenn Skipper, Republican national committeeman from Florida.

Arnold said Skipper thought Republican officials should handle tariff matters instead of the growers, which was favored by the tariff association.

The letter added that Senator Watson "does not think much" of the Southern Republican council, favoring instead the continuance of the tariff association's activities.

"Would you say Senator Watson killed the Republican Council?" Caraway asked.

RADIO DEALERS HERE ORGANIZE

Samuel J. Kemp, Jr., Is Named Chairman—Draw Up Contracts.

The Manchester Radio Dealer's Association came into being yesterday when representatives of seven of the town's radio distributors met at the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce to form the organization with the purpose of standardizing and perfecting service in the radio industry.

An association of this kind has been a long felt want in Manchester and it is expected that all of the local dealers will become affiliated with it.

The sales and service contract which each dealer is requested to sign is as follows: "We will set up the receiver, connecting same to whatever facilities are already available, and test the set at the time of installation as to quality of reception without charge for such service, providing purchase is made."

"A charge of $5.00 will be made for the installing of antenna. A deposit of $10.00 is required on any set sent out on demonstration. This is requested simply as evidence of good faith on part of purchaser."

"We hold ourselves responsible for any defect in the entire installation for a period of ninety days, provided the mechanism has not been tampered with and, if the set is found defective by our service man within that period, we agree to repair the set satisfactorily. There will be no charge for service calls within the period of ninety days from date of installation."

"After guarantee period has expired a minimum service charge of $1.00 will be made for each call at the home of a customer. Separate charge will be made for all material used."

"We do not hold ourselves responsible in the event of an aerial being blown down or damaged by a storm of a high wind, or any other elements beyond our control."

"We do not guarantee the reception of distant stations on any radio receiver we sell, regardless of make or price. The securing of distant stations depends upon elements entirely beyond our control, such as weather conditions, location of radio, plus patience and skill on the part of the operator."

"Our uniform credit terms will be as follows:—

- 1. Down payment of at least 20 per cent.
2. Duration of credit period—two to ten months.
3. A minimum of 6 per cent to be added to the unpaid balance at the time of down payment as an interest charge for the extended period.

"This contract constitutes our sole obligation and no additional oral agreements will be considered as binding in any way."

"Having bound ourselves to the above agreement, we will furnish two weeks' notice in case we wish to withdraw."

EARLY MAIL SERVICE HERE NOW ASSURED

Truck to Be Substituted for Train in Bringing Morning Mail to Town.

Much earlier reception of morning mails at the Manchester, South Manchester and Rockville postoffice is to follow the decision of the post-office department to substitute truck service for railroad service out of Hartford in the handling of these mails.

The determination to make the change follows upon a meeting of the postmasters of these offices with R. A. Bridget, chief clerk of District 6, with headquarters at Boston, which was held at the Manchester postoffice a week ago.

Instead of coming to Manchester on a freight train reaching here at 7 o'clock, the mails from Hartford will now leave there by truck at 5:30 and will be due at the Manchester railroad station at 6 o'clock. The mail for each of the local offices will be separately pouched and will be transferred to local trucks for delivery within a few minutes to the South Manchester, Manchester, Manchester Green, Highland Park and Buckland offices. It is expected that by this arrangement almost an hour's time will be gained in preparation for the first morning deliveries by city carriers and R. F. D. routes.

It is expected the new system will go into operation next Monday, or on Monday, Nov. 24 at the latest.

FOILS HIGHWAYMEN BY LOCKING DOORS

Could Not Rob Occupants in Auto So They Throw Stones at Windows.

Hartford, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Disappointed because of failure to get at the occupants of an automobile parked in Berlin last night, two would-be highwaymen vented their disappointment by throwing stones at the parked car, breaking the windows. The driver of the car, Raymond Boyle of Berlin, made his escape.

Boyle went to the Stiles and Reynolds brick yard and telephoned the state police headquarters in Hartford of the attack. He said he had parked his car in the vicinity of the brickyard and had locked the doors of the machine from the inside. Two men, occupants of a sedan, attempted to hold him up but because of the locked doors, could not get at the occupants. They then, in a rage, cast stones at the car but Boyle got his car under way and made good his escape.

COLLEGE HEAD PLEADS FOR RELIGION ACCORD

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard, today opened a two-day Catholic-Jewish-Protestant seminar which is being conducted by the Calvert Round Table with a plea for the banishment of religious hatreds. In opening his remarks he asked: "Is mankind doomed forever to have its love linked with its hatred; its best with its worst propensity?"

He then told a story of a shipload of missionaries who set out to convert the heathen in Africa. Disunion among the missionaries was so great that the party was set ashore at Lisbon, he related.

"If this attitude cannot be changed," he continued, "our civilization cannot progress. Our problem for the future is to arouse religious fervor without religious rancor. An attempt to prepare the way for a better state of that kind is the mark set by this round table and there can be none greater."

CATCH OF SWORDFISH VALUED AT $750,000

Truro, N. S., Nov. 12.—(AP)—The fleet of 128 fishing boats which used Louisburg as their base in the season just closed reaped a harvest of swordfish to the value of $750,000. Nearly 1,700 of the big fish, weighing from 200 to 700 pounds, were landed and all went to the Boston market where prices ranged from forty cents for the early season to 25 for the later catch.

Swordfish off the American coast afford considerable sport for wealthy anglers but off Cape Breton the pursuit is purely a game for the professional fisherman. Nova Scotians, as a whole, do not eat swordfish but the demand from New England has made the industry a prosperous one for the Hardy sons of Cape Breton.

BARBER EXAMINATIONS.

The commission today announced intentions of strictly enforcing the law relative to renewal of licenses. It has been found that although the state law requires a renewal of licenses on the first of October in each year, many have failed to do so. It is the intention of the commission to revoke such licenses after two years and barbers, employing unlicensed barbers, will be subject to arrest. It is also the intention to enforce the regulation prohibiting the use of cake soap. Powdered soap only is permitted so as to provide individual soap for each customer.

'BOSSY' GILLIS QUIET; VOTERS WONDER WHY

Gave Few Talks During Campaign But Has Lost All His Old Time Fire.

Newburyport, Mass., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Voters who went to the polls today found it a bit difficult to realize they had been through a primary campaign and even more so that Newburyport's famous "bad boy" Mayor, reelected Andrew J. "Bossy" Gillis, had been one of the five candidates.

The reason was not hard to find. Never in recent political history has there been a campaign so devoid of pyrotechnics so painfully refined. Bossy made it in true, a few talks at rallies, but either the once open spoken mayor has been insidiously affected by the traditional conservatism of office or else the story of his municipal accomplishments has been a matter of envying the old fire. But the cause may, was a fact that not all of the rallies were overcrowded and some were frankly apathetic.

BAY STATE SENATOR ATTACKS LOBBYISTS

Boston, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Gaspar G. Bacon, president of the Massachusetts Senate, speaking before the Statecraft Institute of the Women's Republican Club here today, delivered a sharp thrust at the present lobbying practices in the State Legislature.

He said that members of the Legislature are subjected to secret and underhand pressure to promote or obstruct legislation which affects them, regardless of the desirability or undesirability of such legislation from the point of view of the public. It is this kind of influence that must be stopped so far as it is carried on in the State House, over which we have complete jurisdiction.

KIWANIANS HEAR OF AIRCRAFT PLANT

Pratt & Whitney Executive Tells Local Club How Work Progresses.

D. C. Gauss of the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Corporation, gave the members of the Manchester Kiwanis club some inside information at the meeting this noon at the Country club, about the company with which he is connected and their plans for the future.

The aviation he said was an infant industry. The Pratt & Whitney aircraft plant started operations in 1925 with very few men. Today they employ 1000 mechanics and have 200,000 square feet of floor space. In the new factory that is being erected in the Silver Lake district of East Hartford, Mr. Gauss said they are planning to have 500,000 square feet of floor space. The building is 1500 feet long and 400 feet wide. When the factory is going full force they expect to employ 3000 men and put out 500 engines a month. They are to begin moving a part of the machinery and assembling department to the new building by the 15th of this month. They will work 24 hours a day on the moving proposition with three shifts of men until the job is completed.

The aircraft company manufactures the engines only. Mr. Gauss explained the type of engines and the reason they are equipped with air cooled motors. They are lighter, easier to manufacture and there is less liability for trouble. A water cooled motor is more costly to manufacture and more costly to maintain. They manufacture the Wasp and Hornet. The latest Hornet is a 575 horse power motor and is the largest air cooled motor made in the world. The Wasp is used largely by the U. S. Army. The speaker stated that both these motors had played a very important part in the commercial world.

The new plant will be modern in every particular and will be very positive that a good percentage of the employees would find homes in Manchester which he referred to as such a fine community and of easy access.

The Chance-Vought company, which is also moving to East Hartford will employ fully 700 people, in Mr. Gauss's opinion, so that when both concerns are running full they will employ close to 4000 men.

The nominating committee submitted a list of officers for the year. The election of these officers will take place at the meeting next week to be held at the Manchester Community clubhouse. G. E. Willis won the attendance prize today, donated by R. LaMotte Russell.

When all the utilities are completed the street will be graded and will present one of the most attractive residential sections in town.

EUROPEANS' VIEWS ON HOOVER SPEECH

London Press Non-Commitment on Safety of Food Ships During War.

London, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The London press today was cautiously noncommittal with regard to that suggestion in President Hoover's Armistice Day speech that the safety of food ships in wartime be guaranteed by all nations.

The best part of the speech the London Times said was that expressing his conviction the world is becoming more genuinely inclined toward peace.

The Daily News, Liberal, warmly eulogized the President's "practical vigorous initiative in implementing the Kellogg Pact."

The Daily Telegraph, Conservative organ, described the food ships proposal as revolutionary adding "its less simple than it sounds; that is not to say it is impracticable."

ITALY'S VIEWS

Rome, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Tevere, Rome Daily commenting today on President Hoover's Armistice Day speech, said in a satiric vein that Mr. Hoover has not yet gone to the bottom in his examination of the causes of disturbing peace.

As to freedom of the seas Tevere professed to find the President's ideas entirely contrary to British traditions but admirably serving American expansionist interests.

The editorial concluded: "The reality proves that the most formidable antagonism between the two powerful imperialisms, English and American is ever alive and perhaps insuperable."

In turning into the street from behind the truck he did not see the oncoming car driven by Glassman. In his testimony Mr. Glassman admitted that he was going between 30 and 35 miles across the intersection while Deyorio was driving at less than 10 miles an hour.

The entire family of former Governor Smith attended the services, together with George B. Graves, his former secretary. From New Jersey came former Governor A. Harry Moore and Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City.

BIG STONE FALLS

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—A twenty ton stone crashed through seven floors to the basement of the new seventy story Bank of America building in Wall Street today when a lifting cable broke under the strain of the heavy load. It would not be learned immediately if anyone had been killed or injured.

The stone fell with a series of terrific crashes as it broke through floor after floor. Some workers in the financial district were panic-stricken as they thought at first the noise was caused by bomb explosions. Special detachments of police on duty in front of the Stock Exchange nearby rushed to the building and held back the crowds.

The consumption of beer per head of the English population before the revolution of Oliver Cromwell was 90 gallons; it is now less than a quarter of this.

VESSELS COLLIDE

Provincetown, Mass., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Two Provincetown fishermen had a narrow escape from death today when their disabled power dory was run down by another fishing boat in the darkness of early morning. The fishermen, Augustus Reis and his brother, Edmund, were tinkering with the engine of their boat when the other craft bore down on them, shattering the bow of their boat. The accident occurred off Highland Light. But Manuel Cabral, skipper of the other fishing boat, succeeded in town the almost submerged dory into Provincetown harbor.

ARMISTICE DAY SPEECH OF PRESIDENT HOOVER

President Hoover's speech last night, under the auspices of the American Legion at Washington was as follows:

My Fellow Countrymen:
Eleven years have gone by since the day of the armistice, when the guns ceased firing. It was a day of thanksgiving that marked the ending of the shambles of the trenches. For us it will be remembered always as a day of pride, pride in the memory of those who suffered and of those who made the last sacrifice of life in that great cause, pride in the proven valor of our Army and Navy; pride in the greatness of the high purpose for which we entered the war, and pride that we neither wanted nor got from it anything of profit for ourselves. Those stirring memories will always remain, and on each Armistice Day will glow again.

From the war we have two paramount obligations. We owe to those who suffered and yet lived an obligation of national assistance, each according to his need. We owe it to the dead that we redeem our promise that their sacrifice would help bring peace to the world. The Nation will discharge its obligations.

The men who fought know the real meaning and destination of the war. No man came from that furnace of swashbuckling militarism. Those who saw its realities and its backwash in the sacrifice of women and children are not the men who glorify war. They are the men who pray for peace for their children. But they rightly demand that peace be had without the sacrifice of our independence or of those principles of justice without which civilization must fail.

Task of Statesmen.
Such a sacrifice of freedom and justice is the one calamity greater than war. The task of statesmen is to build a road to peace which avoids both of these calamities. This road requires preparation for defense, it equally requires preparation for peace.

The world today is comparatively at peace. The outlook for a peaceful future is more bright than for half a century past. Yet after all it is an armed peace. The men under arms including active reserves in the world are almost 30,000,000 in number, or nearly 10,000,000 more than before the Great War. Due to the Washington Arms Conference and the destruction of the German Navy, the combatant ships in the world show some decrease since the war. But aircraft and other instruments of destruction are far more potent than they were even in the Great War. The great danger today is the smoldering injuries among nations which are the tinder of war. Nor does a single quarter of a century during all the ages of human experience warrant the assumption that war will not occur again.

Gloomy as this picture may be, yet we can say with truth that the world is becoming more genuinely inclined to peace; that the forces of imperial domination and aggression, of fear and suspicion are being replaced with the desire for security and peaceful development. The old objectives of tortuous diplomacy are being replaced with frank and open relations directed to peace. There is no more significant step in this progress than the solemn covenant that civilized nations have now entered, to renounce war and to settle disputes by pacific means. It is this realignment of the mind of the world that gives the hope of peace.

But peace is not a static thing. To maintain peace is a dynamic in its requirements as is the conduct of war. We can not say "let there be peace" and go about other business. Nor are the methods by which peace is to be maintained and war prevented to be established by slogans or by abstract phrases or by academic theory. Progress toward peace can be attained only as a result of realistic practice in daily conduct amongst nations. It can be the result only of a frank recognition of forces which may disturb peace. For instance, we must realize that our industrial life, our employment, our comfort, and our culture depend greatly upon our interchange of goods and ideas with other nations. We must realize that this interchange can not be carried on unless our citizens are flung into every quarter of the globe and the citizens of every other nation are represented in our country.

Our Obligations
We must realize that some of them get into trouble somewhere. Certainly their troubles will multiply if other nations are at war. We have an obligation and every other nation has an obligation to see to the protection of their lives, and that justice is done to them so long as they comply with the laws of the countries in which they reside. From all these relationships frictions and controversies will arise daily.

By our undertaking under the Kellogg pact to use only pacific means to settle such controversies as these, we have again reaffirmed the doctrine enunciated by that far-sighted statesman, Mr. Elihu Root, in his famous declaration at Rio de Janeiro in 1907. At that time he announced that we would not use war or warlike means to enforce or collect upon private business contracts. It is our settled policy.

Dangerous Forces
But there are other more deep-seated and more dangerous forces which produce friction and controversy than these eruptions over the rights of citizens. We must realize that there are many unsolved problems of boundaries between nations. There are people aspiring to a greater measure of self-government. There are the fears of invasion and domination bequeathed to all humanity from

BAY STATE CITIES HOLD PRIMARIES

"Bossy" Gillis Opposed for Renomination by Two Former Office Holders.

Boston, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Primaries today in eight Massachusetts cities will be featured by the fight of Mayor Andrew J. "Bossy" Gillis of Newburyport for renomination against the opposition of two former holders of the office.

Mayors and lesser officials will also be nominated in three other cities, Marlboro, Taunton and Brockton. Northampton will name its mayor and council members on Thursday and Woburn will choose them on Friday and on the 23d. Lesser municipal officers will be chosen today in Gardner, Haverhill, Quincy and Peabody. In Newburyport, former Mayor Oscar H. Nelson and Michael Cashman are joined by Henry B. Little and John F. Cutter in the contest against "Bossy" Gillis. Nelson lost to Gillis two years ago.

Mayor Andrew J. McGraw of Taunton is opposed by William L. Baker, Willis K. Hodgeman and John P. Howland in a non-partisan primary. All may seek election later.

A three-cornered contest for mayoralty nominations will be staged in Marlboro among Arthur J. Rougeau, William N. Davenport and A. A. Martel. The two receiving the highest number of votes will have their names placed on the ballot at the regular election.

Mayor Harold D. Bent is unopposed for the Republican nomination in Brockton. William H. Powers is opposed for the Democratic choice, and Benjamin Perlin is running as an Independent.

RELIGIOUS PROBLEMS

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Problems arising from the relations of Catholic, Jews and Protestants were the subject today of a seminar directed by the Calvert Round Table of Boston. Four hundred persons planned to attend the two day sessions.

President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard, the Reverend Michael J. Aherne of Boston College, and Rabbi Harry Lev of Temple Israel were to address the meeting at the Fogg Museum of Harvard college.

The BOOK SURVEY

BY BRUCE CATTON
NEA Service Writer

The education of the American public in regard to the World War goes forward apace. If there be one half-intelligent adult in the United States who still thinks that the war was anything but a hideous, obscene calamity he must be one who never reads a book from one year's end to another.

Least among the books that are giving us this much-needed enlightenment is "It's a Great War!" by Mary Lee. In some respects this is one of the very best of the war novels.

"It's a Great War!" shared with William T. Scanlon's "God Have Mercy on Us!" the $25,000 prize offered by Houghton, Mifflin Co. and the American Legion Monthly for the best World War novel. It ought to be one of the best sellers of the year and it is unlike any war novel that we have had before.

This book tells the story of the war as it looked to a girl; a college graduate who went overseas as an army stenographer and later became a censor, working with the Y. M. C. A. close to the front and with the army of occupation.

Consequently it attacks war from a new angle. There are few burning shells or rattling machine guns in Miss Lee's book. Most of the story takes place behind the lines, much of it in such safe places as Paris and Bordeaux.

Yet, for all that, the book conveys the sense of war's horrible waste, its aimless blundering, its stupidity, as powerfully as any novel can recall, with the single exception of Remarque's great book. It is an indictment of everything that war means it stands in the front rank.

The physical destruction worked by war is not passed over. There is a description of a hospital that makes one want to cry out at the top of one's lungs in protest. Yet the ultimate effect of Miss Lee's book is that war's greatest destruction is its destruction of the spirit of the people.

Overseas soldiers occasionally refer, with a laugh, to "The Battle of Paris." That engagement is fully explained in this book. In some ways it was a worse affair than Chateau Thierry or the Argonne. The lieutenant's remark is amply justified. Women have the best of reasons for being pacifists.

"It's a Great War!" has its faults, of course. It could be condensed. Its style is somewhat artificial. But, for all that, it's a notable book. Don't let yourself miss it.

This Bryan Biography Is Absorbing—and Fair
William Jennings Bryan's life was dramatic and eventful enough to make a marvelous subject for the biographer; yet his work was of such a kind that the ordinary biographer would be apt to betray a strong bias either for or against the subject—with the result that a Bryan biography is apt to be either a saccharine bit of blind hero-worship or an unjust and merciless attack on everything the man did and stood for.

"The Peerless Leader: William Jennings Bryan," by the late Paxton Hibben, manages to avoid both evils, however. It is impartial and—to my notion—eminently fair.

In it Bryan appears as a tall figure that just fell short of the giant's stature. He stood, for a time, like the prophet of a new age. He lifted up men's hearts and stirred their hopes and made them follow him. He flashed out of the west like a knight in armor, and for twenty years he was a great power in American life.

But he missed greatness, somehow. His reach exceeded his grasp. He had a golden voice and a gift for phrase-making, and they took him a long way; but they were not quite enough.

Hibben's book shows this without being critical. It reveals Bryan's shortcomings but stirs sympathy and admiration for him. If it explains why he failed, it also shows quite clearly that he at least stood head and shoulders above all

CROWD OF 100,000 AT PRIEST'S GRAVE

Police Unable to Control Throngs at Cemetery Three Cures Reported.

Malden, Mass., Nov. 11.—(AP)—With the removal of the stone over the grave of the Rev. Patrick Power from the Holy Cross cemetery, which 100,000 people viewed yesterday after recent reported miraculous cures there, police and cemetery officials today hoped for a cessation of the pilgrimages.

Scenes approaching panic were enacted by the immense crowd, worked up to a religious fervor by the declarations of several crippled and sick persons that they were cured. Fourteen policemen were helpless, stones on nearby graves were overturned and several women fainted and children were trampled.

Cures Reported. Among those who reported their condition improved at the grave of the young priest, who was buried sixty years ago at the age of 24, were Miss Helen M. Hunt, 24, who said she was able to walk after kneeling before the shrine although she had been suffering from paralysis for several years, Selma Thomas, 17, of Waterville, Me., and Rita Cholette, 8, of Manchester, N. H. The mothers of the last two said their children had been crippled from childhood.

At dawn yesterday, 2,000 were waiting at the cemetery gates and within a few hours the roads for miles around were blocked by thousands of automobiles. Huge throngs banded at elevated stations on the way to the cemetery.

Cemetery officials were expected today to erect an iron fence around the grave before replacing the stone.

The Newest Portrait of— "THE FIRST LADY OF THE LAND"

Here's Mrs. Herbert Hoover's latest picture, taken just the other day. Critics of studio photography say it is one of the best pictures ever made of the wife of the president.

COLUMBIA

Miss Harriet Fuller spent nearly a week with friends in North Eastern, Mass. She formerly lived there for 11 years, but had not been back for the past seven years, and enjoyed meeting many old friends.

Mrs. Jennie Hunt spent the week end in Manchester at the home of Miss Hattie Strickland.

Little Anne Louise Little of Wilimantic spent the week end with her cousin, Jean Ishan. A special sermon suitable for Armistice Day was preached Sunday morning at the local church by the pastor, Rev. John Howell.

He took as his subject "Ishah, one of the greatest patriots of all time." The choir sang as an anthem "Oh God, our help in ages past." There were specially prepared opening exercises for the Sunday School session, prepared by a committee of the Christian Endeavor Society.

The Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening was led by Mrs. John Howell with a Missionary topic.

A troop of Boy Scouts is being formed by the local pastor, Rev. John Howell and already enough boys have been secured for a patrol. The boys are much interested in the project and are studying hard to pass their first examinations that they may become Tenderfoot Scouts which is the first stage. They will meet in the Town Hall Friday evening of this week.

A movement for a Community Christmas celebration has been launched at the suggestion of the Improvement Association. Saturday evening committees of two members from each town organization met at the Hall and discussed the matter and it was decided to hold a meeting next Saturday evening in the same place to which the public is invited to discuss the matter further and to appoint a committee to carry out such a celebration if it seems advisable.

Much interest is being manifested in the coming competitive program to be given at the regular Grange meeting of November 20th. The contest is between the odd and even birthdays, and the membership is thus divided with about the same number on each side. Judges will be present from Hebron Grange. The meeting will be open to members of Grange families.

The pastor of the Columbia Church extends an invitation to all interested in establishing a regular Church night for Bible Study and discussion to meet at the Parsonage Wednesday evening of this week.

Letters are beginning to be received by local friends, from Mrs. Duane Wain from her mission station in Africa. Mrs. Wain has not been able to do much as yet, as she contracted malaria on the voyage, and has been ill for three weeks. She is to teach in the girls school in Chilasso, and Mr. Wain to do similar work with the boys? Mr. Wain is teaching sewing, and has charge of the dormitory, which includes inspection of their rooms, and clothes, and measure out their food, corn to make into corn meal, which the girls do by pounding on rocks just as they do in their villages. The girls also are allowed beans and meat twice a week. It is hoped to have a practice house soon in which four girls will live at a time, in which Mrs. Wain will instruct them in cooking, cleanliness and the care of small children.

The language of the natives in this part of the country is Umbundu, and Mr. and Mrs. Wain will spend the next six months in learning this, although Portuguese is spoken also by the natives, which the Wains have learned in the past year while at Portugal. They are very enthusiastic about their work and their many friends here wish them all success, in this their chosen life work.

DURANT BOUND OVER

Shelton, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Edward "Pompy" Durant, recluse and former sea captain, who on October 23 inflicted pistol wounds which nearly caused the death of William Gilmore at the home of Miss Hannah Buddington, where both were employed, and who later, resisting arrest, shot Officer John Donovan, was bound over by Judge J. G. Shapiro in the City Court today on two charges of assault with intent to commit murder. Durant pleaded guilty to both charges, but the plea of not guilty was substituted by order of the court.

Gilmore, though he received one bullet through both walls of his stomach and another in his spine, made what the surgeons at Griffin hospital regarded as a miraculous recovery, and was able to appear in court today against Durant, as was also Officer Donovan.

MAYOR SWORN IN

Bridgeport, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Edward T. Buckingham was sworn in to office as mayor of this city at noon today, together with city officials elected last Tuesday. The inauguration ceremonies were held at the Central High school.

Over 2,000 persons attended the ceremonies. Mayor Buckingham after taking oath of office, delivered a short address. Twenty-nine officials elected November 5 were inaugurated today.

WAPPING

Wapping Grange will hold its twenty-first regular meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 12, at 8 o'clock at the school hall. It will be the annual election of officers.

They were Julius Lawrence, charged with reckless driving, $50 and costs; Thomas Ready and Patrick Gibbons, intoxication, $1 each and costs; Frank Musicavich and Julia Lawrence, violating the liquor laws, nolle prosequi on payment of costs. The Pero case was nolle without payment when it was found a mistake had been made.

WORLD WAR VETERAN, CRAZED, SHOOTS SELF

While Guns Are Booming for Armistice Day He Fires on Policemen.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 11.—(AP)—While guns were booming out a salute in observance of Armistice Day, Edward Bannon, 34, a World War veteran who had barricaded himself in his home yesterday shot himself in the head. He was wounded probably fatally.

Bannon's home was surrounded by police who had hurried tear bombs in an effort to dislodge the apparently crazed war veteran from his embattled position in the attic of the dwelling. The former soldier fired on the officers when they tried to enter the house during a thirteen hour siege that began late last night.

In answer to questions shouted at him as he lay behind his barricade, Bannon replied: "They're going to get me yet." Further questions brought the explanation that "they" were "bootleggers from Detroit." He said they were to come last night and "take me for a ride."

INTERNATIONAL CLUB IS FORMED; HOLDS BANQUET

Jew, Chinese, German, Italian and Yankee Eat Chinese Food in First Meeting.

Yesterday was Armistice Day, the eleventh anniversary of the ending of the World War. It was also the anniversary of the beginning of the earth. And so it was that the first meeting of the International Club of Manchester was held last night as a fitting observance of the Armistice.

The banquet was held in the Golden Gate Laundry. The menu consisted of chop suey with almonds, fried rice cakes, Chinese chestnuts and tea.

At the table sat Jake Greenberg, Jew; Fred Qwang, Chinese; John Adams, German; E. F. Carini, Italian; and Louis Smith, Yankee.

Queer Twists In Day's News

New York.—Just because a man takes a lady to lunch, in the words of Kenneth Harlan, film star, it doesn't mean that he is planning to marry her. Quite by accident he bumped into Flo Hart, formerly Mrs. Harlan. He invited her to eat. She accepted. It was just a friendly, casual meeting. He doesn't even know where she lives.

Los Angeles.—Another beauty of the courts is to leave the unmissable state for the Atlantic seaboard a bride. Midge Gladman, tennis star, is engaged to Johnny Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J. New York.—By permission of a judge Olav Olsen has become Olav Allen. He had been divorced, explained, and his fiancée, Sigrid Bugge, disliked the prospect of being known to his friends and relatives as the second Mrs. Olsen.

London.—Nine out of 14 women M. P.'s are reticent about their ages. The figures do not appear in the official handbook. But 102 men also have failed to provide the information. The total membership is 615.

New York.—California sends New York 58,000 carloads of food annually; Florida sends 22,000. The figures are from an exhibit prepared by city market authorities for a hotel exposition.

Lakewood, N. J.—The wealth of two members of the police force has been increased by eleven shiny Rockefeller dimes. John D. Striving for a three weeks' stay before going to Florida, ran into two officers outside church. Upon inquiry one revealed that he was childless but that his parents lived with himself and wife the other had five children.

New York.—An Anglo-American vigilante committee to combat malicious propaganda against friendly relations between Great Britain and the United States is announced by Alfred C. Bossom, British architect and philanthropist. It will have 24 members divided equally between the countries.

FIND BOMB IN STUDIO

Los Angeles, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Discovery by a night watchman of a steel-encased bomb, equipped with an electric detonator, under the floor of an abandoned stage set at the Metropolitan motion picture studios led police today to investigate a theory that bombers had planned to blast the place but had been thwarted in their plans.

Further search of the studio buildings, which are being torn down prior to construction of sound stages, revealed fifteen electric detonators, fifty pounds of black powder and 50 feet of use.

Detective Lieutenant H. C. Colling of the police safe and explosive detail said the bomb was of recent construction.

WORLD FINANCIERS IN MORE TROUBLE

Baden-Baden, Germany, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The conference on the Bank for International Settlements, which selected Basel, Switzerland, as the domicile for the bank, resulting in the departure for home of the chief Belgian delegates who had wanted Brussels, has run into further troubled waters.

Although it had been planned to hold sessions today, no meetings were held because of the development of difficulties in connection with the French attitude toward the trust agreement. It was reported that the French desired to couple reparations with the allied debts. It also is stated that the conference has been unable to satisfy the French government on the question of fitting Chancellor Snowden's Hague revision figures into the trust agreement.

Ask Postponement. A postponement of the plenary session therefore was asked until Thursday.

Pierre Quesnay, head of the French delegation, is now in Paris but is keeping in constant touch with the French representatives here. I. A. Desanctez, American expert, left hurriedly for Paris last night in response to telephonic summons.

There was a somewhat worried and despondent note among the delegates today. They had hoped to wind up their work and leave by Wednesday night but now conditions are such that they do not know when the conference will end. There also has been some criticism that the selection of Basel as the seat for the bank was a political rather than a bankers' decision.

Meanwhile the statutes of the bank's charter have been printed in final form and have been sent to the governments concerned but thus far have not been made available to correspondents.

Women Have Something to Say! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has ridiculed into oblivion that ancient prejudice which excluded women from a voice in council. Today, in millions of homes, the delicious flavor of LUCKY STRIKE fills the room as the family group respects the opinion of its women folk.

"toasting did it"

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

HOOVER'S BIG IDEA

At least the Armistice day address of President Hoover was not a mere repetition of phrases. Just a little disappointing to that school of thought which clings to the hope that America will some time join with the rest of the world in employing the stern hand of discipline against violators of peace pacts, the Hoover address nevertheless brings a new idea to the literature of war amelioration and one which, if we mistake not, is bound to be accepted throughout the world as of infinite importance and deserving of the most serious consideration.

Instead of dwelling, as many believed he might, on the fundamental theory of freedom of the seas, the President propounded a novel but intensely rational proposition for the pondering of the world. He would have all the nations by agreement place all food ships, in time of war, on the same plane that is now occupied by hospital ships alone.

The strength of the President's position in this proposal is that of all nations of the first class in the world the United States is the only one that could afford, from a purely strategic standpoint, to reject such a proposition without a second thought. It is the only one of the great powers entirely capable of sustaining itself through a long war without recourse to sea-borne food supplies. Wherefore the proposal to forego forever all food blockades, in case of war, is one of advantage to any and every other nation rather than our own. There can be no whisper of self-interest against this Hoover idea.

And it is a double acting idea in the bargain. Not only does it appeal to every better instinct of the human heart in all lands, for beside the fact that it would as the President says, "remove starvation of women and children from the weapons of warfare," it would, almost certainly, enormously decrease the need of naval activities of all belligerents in any war. Consider how the frightfulness of the World war would have been lessened if the fleets of the Allies had not been striving to starve Germany and Austria and the submarines of the Central powers had not been striving to starve England and France and Italy.

There will be those who will insist that this is no way to bring wars to an end—making them less dreadful; that it might even cause nations to be the more ready to risk a conflict if there were no fear of famine as a penalty. But if there is any force to this argument it is met and dissipated by the certainty that peoples are impelled to resort to arms at one particular moment by the very fear that war may be thrust upon them a little later—with all the horrors of blockade and starvation.

On the whole it is our belief that President Hoover, in this apparently casual suggestion of a sudden thought, has submitted for the consideration of the world one of the most far-reaching proposals yet made in the interest of world peace. Certainly it is getting at the question of naval armament reduction in a new way, for if the idea were adopted nine-tenths of the reason for "defensive" armaments would be wiped out at a stroke.

THE PEOPLE'S MONEY

This newspaper was one of those which contributed each its bit to persistent denunciation of the late lamented bull market. It was animated by a serious apprehension lest a further inflation of the artificial value of stocks should result in the complete absorption of the fluid capital of the American people in the gambling business, to the inevitable effect of general business paralysis. That the collapse didn't come an hour too soon is shown by the startling revelation that, for the first time in 20 years, the savings bank account of the American people, as a whole, has shrunk within the last eighteen months. During the fiscal year ending last June the number of savings bank depositors in the country decreased by more than half a million and the total of deposits to the extent of nearly two hundred million dollars, whereas, during the year previous, there had been an increase of more than two billion dollars.

The two hundred million of decrease was, of course, a mere flea-bite, for the savings account still shows some twenty-eight billions in deposits; but the trend was alarming. What another two years of inflated stock prices might easily have done to the people's savings it is easy to imagine. With countless millions of money released from entanglement in the stock gambling game and ready to be put to work in the development of legitimate business, conditions are infinitely better in America than they were a month ago.

There is not likely to be another such bull market until the country produces an entirely new crop of customers for the crap game of Wall street.

TOM MOONEY

We don't know and we don't care whether Lewis Smith, former Cleveland adventurer, before he died told the truth when he said—as he undoubtedly did—that it was he who threw the bomb for which Tom Mooney, labor leader, is serving a life sentence in California. He may have been simply bragging. The point is that this new revelation in the Mooney case supplies what ought to be the last straw in the load of doubt which has been piled upon the conviction of Mooney for the preparedness parade outrage in San Francisco in 1916.

Already the time has passed when there is any fairness in keeping Mooney in prison. Not only thousands of citizens of San Francisco and the country generally, but any number of court and other officials have long been completely convinced that Mooney was railroaded on perjured evidence; that he was framed and that he had nothing to do with the fatal bomb outrage. Yet for want of some special circumstance to give needed energy to the movement for his liberation he is still in prison, growing old in the serving of a punishment he did not deserve.

Mooney was a blustering, somewhat unpleasant sort of factor in the life of San Francisco. But there are very few people indeed who believe he had anything to do with the evil thing with which he was charged. He was convicted because he was a noisy agitator, not because he was guilty of murder, which makes those who secured his conviction a hundred times worse citizens than he was.

The present revelations in the case ought to supply the actuating impulse to bring about Mooney's liberation with all possible speed.

"OLIVER TWIST"

"Like Oliver Twist," roared Senator Norbeck, "they want a second dish!" He was talking about the Connecticut manufacturers. He intended to convey the idea that, already replete, the manufacturers were asking for extra stuffing.

We wonder whether the senator from South Dakota ever read Dickens at all. If he did and if he had any memory for such things he would recall that when Oliver took his courage in his hands and piped his pitiful request for "more" it was under the urge of a hunger that amounted to slow starvation and would realize that the indignant amazement of the overfed Mr. Bumble at his temerity was very strikingly indeed like that of Mr. Norbeck himself.

Bumbleism is a very common thing among the sectional tariff killers in the Senate just now, where the New England Oliver Twist is concerned. However, our recollection is that the fat and pig-like beadle didn't fare so wonderfully well in the long run—that he quite over-reached himself, in fact.

McMANUS TRIAL

The trial of George McManus, top level gambler, race track man and associate of Grade A racketeers, for the murder of Arnold Rothstein, Grade A racketeer and all around scoundrel himself, which occurred a year ago in the Park Central hotel in New York, may or may not turn out to be the big story of the year. If sworn evidence brings out one-fourth of the intimacy between the principals in this crime and the whole institution that goes under the generic name of "Broadway," and which inevitably includes an important section of the New York police, then the trial will become of absorbing interest.

However, even with a Republican judge on the bench and a Republican assistant district attorney assisting in the prosecution, the chances of anything more enlightening than the recent campaign talk getting into the records of the trial would seem to be rather remote.

Very few persons in New York apparently expect such a thing as a conviction of McManus. When the state has to depend on the evidence of witnesses who, like the celebrated Bridget Farry, are frank enough to declare that they will never help to send such a fine gentleman as the liberal-tipping George to the chair or to prison, the prosecution has a pretty hard row to hoe.

As a matter of fact it is not exactly George McManus who goes on trial today but the all-powerful organization of Tammany. And trying Tammany in the courts of the county of New York is some job—some job.

QUICK COME, QUICK GO

There has been a general presumption that nobody makes money quite so fast and so easily as a modern heavyweight champion pugilist. Mr. Tunney cleaned up in an amazingly brief period. But in ascribing to him a financial position of complete security we all forgot the lawyers. They are talking depositions down in Texas for use in the half million dollar alienation suit brought against Tunney by Mr. Fogarty. About fifty persons altogether will travel to Fort Worth from various parts of the Lone Star state. Their expenses will be monumental. Then a flock of lawyers are "in" the suit. If the former boxer should lose there will be a revelation in the speed with which quickly gained ring money can melt in the courts. By that route, it can go about as fast as it came.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 12.—New York now has the world's first all-news reel picture theater. And what's particularly interesting about it seems to be that the program is edited very much like a newspaper. That is to say that if you happen to see the 2 o'clock in the afternoon edition of the news reel, it's possible to go again at 8 o'clock in the evening and witness an almost entirely different program.

As fast as new pictures on important news events come in they are rushed to the theater and released. A patron of the old Embassy—for that is where the news reels are reeling to the exclusion of all other forms of films—can, if he is fortunate, watch the trend of news changing before his eyes.

The idea, which originated with William Fox, is to be taken across the nation if it works successfully in Manhattan. I'm told that thousands of picture-goers are news reel fans, caring little for the third-rate, second-rate and even the very bad first-rate pictures which are to be seen and heard.

The editions will be issued very much like a newspaper. Thus, for instance, if panicky conditions prevail on Wall Street, an early edition would show the brokers rushing into the Stock Exchange, while late afternoon editions would carry on the story and reveal the feverish mobs gathering in the streets. Should some "hot news" real arrive from Paris by boat it would be similar to an "extra" edition of a newspaper.

All of which sounds like a rather interesting novelty.

Thousands of school children located in the little suburb spots on Long Island, just out of Manhattan proper, must pay $15 a week to get to and from school.

Within the city limits of New York the school department operates cross-town busses from hundreds of points, the route passing through districts containing hordes of children. The fare in this instance is but five cents.

The latest stunt of the street beggars of this town—and there are plenty of them—is to approach a prospective victim with a line which goes something like this: "Aw, mister, can't you help out a poor fellow who lost all his money on the stock market?"

Some of the panhandlers operating in the Broadway belt have, amusingly enough, used this speech on gents who actually lost their last dime in the recent crash. One such producer, when approached the other day, reached in his pocket—as though for a dime—and handed the beggar a wad of margin call slips. GILBERT SWAN

IN INFLAMED STOMACH

When your doctor tells you that you have gastritis, he does not mean that you have gas, but he means that you have an inflammation of your stomach. As acute attack of gastritis may be very disturbing, often being accompanied by vomiting and a knowledge that the food is remaining in the stomach for a much longer time than it should. There may also be a severe headache, usually in the front of the head, or the whole back and base of the skull may feel ready to burst. This is accompanied by a feverish feeling and very unpleasant breath, with profuse muscular fatigue, and a repugnance toward any food whatever. Following the severe pains of the stomach there may be something like an attack of colic followed by diarrhea which may remain for a few hours or a few days and upon pressing the stomach it will be found tender and sensitive and muscles often as hard as a washboard.

An attack of this nature frequently follows the eating of foods which the patient knows he is intolerant to, such as pickles, beans or strawberries, or it may come on after eating an unusual dish or foreign mixture, such as rich Oriental, Chinese or Spanish dishes. Those with delicate stomachs are especially predisposed toward attacks of acute gastritis.

Because of the inflammation of the stomach, it is advisable to fast for a few days, using no solid food whatever, but drinking large quantities of water and using an enema. Usually after a few days the patient is able to eat a soft, bland diet. Chronic gastritis is usually the result of many years of dietetic indiscretions, and is much harder to cure than acute gastritis. Constipation, or the swallowing of food hastily and in large chunks, or the continual use of strong condiments, or using foods containing large amounts of grease, or drinking gulps of cold water, or eating usually and in between meals will all tend to be factors in producing chronic gastritis.

Sometimes large quantities of mucus may be present in the stomach, although this is not always the case. The consumption of strong alcoholic beverages upon an empty stomach may often result in chronic gastritis. One affected with this disease will seem to have a heavy weight in the stomach after eating any food, and these patients usually believe that their stomachs will never behave as a normal stomach should as long as they live.

Sometimes when there is a pronounced pain in the stomach, the patient may find that the pain is relieved after eating, and he is constantly tempted to take in more food, which actually prevents recovery.

In many cases, patients suffering from chronic gastritis will be under the impression they are continually hungry. This is because the pain from the inflamed lining of the stomach is registered in the same portion of the brain as hunger, and the two sensations are confused. Chronic gastritis should be cleared up as soon as possible, because if it is allowed to continue it frequently results in ulcers or a destruction of the glands producing the stomach digestive juices. Cancer may even result when this condition continued for a long period of time.

MANCHESTER PEOPLE

Washington, Nov. 12.—Arduous and diligent search into the pile of mail received from the government's various information and press bureaus in the past fortnight or so reveals the following assortment of careful and sifted facts: The Bureau of Fisheries is looking for some apprentice fish culturists. Duties: Care for fish and fish eggs, handle and seine fish and prepare fish food. Salary: $1020 a year.

The states distributed 68,500,000 trees for planting last year, under the Clark-McNary act providing for their co-operation with the federal government in growing and distributing trees. That included 29,000,000 forest and sited facts: There were 1,182,497 marriages performed in the United States during 1928, as compared with 1,201,553 in 1927, a decrease of 1.5 per cent.

There were 195,939 divorces granted in 1928, as compared with 192,037 in 1927, an increase of 2 per cent. Approximately 1200 pieces of educational legislation—educational acts of general application—were passed in the United States during 1928-29.

Bituminous coal mines produced 500,745,000 tons of coal in 1928 as against 563,422,000 in 1923. These figures from the Bureau of Mines also show 9331 such mines operating in 1923 and only 6450 in 1928. Hog cholera is slightly less prevalent this year than last and the 1928 losses from hog cholera were lower than at any other time since the Department of Agriculture began to keep records.

The 1928 travel season closing at the end of September brought 3,248,264 visitors to America's national parks and monuments administered by the Interior Department. There was 223,420 more than in 1923. National parks are more popular than national monuments, drawing about five-sixths of the visitors included in the above figures.

There will be about five per cent more poultry birds on farms at the end of 1929 than at the end of 1928. There were 2.4 per cent fewer hens and pullets on farms at the beginning of last month than a year before, but the number of young chickens of this year's hatch was about 10 per cent greater. In 1928 a total of 45,531 miles of local and country roads was improved, exclusive of state roads. That included 30,000 miles of surfaced roads and 15,000 miles of graded and drained roads. More mileage was improved in 1927, but a greater percentage of the 1928 improvements was devoted to surfacing. If anyone wonders what's going

Town Pauses To Honor Its World War Dead

Eleven Years After All Manchester Pays Tribute to Heroes — Trees at Hospital Decorated.

Manchester honored her World War dead last evening under a temperate November sky. Again the tramp of martial feet, the blood-curdling notes of the fife and drum and the heart-touching war songs were again heard on the streets. Again the sidewalks were lined with people seemingly magnetized by that strange bond of feeling reaching out over the space of eleven years. There is no noise, no wild enthusiasm. In carrying out their sacred duty the world has sobered, and looks on sympathetically yet strangely unmoved.

On forty-five trees, bare and leafless today there are as many wreaths placed there by the loving hands of faithful buddies as the shadows of a November night gath-ers, cherishing and honoring their supreme devotion. And in their minds they honored as well those that are still living, sacrifices in a little known world apart—the boys in the Veterans hospital—

Today, those trees surrounding the Memorial hospital are bare and apparently lifeless. Yesterday they were healthy and growing in a warm, sunlit world. They are symbols of those boys of '18 who are dead and yet live in the hearts of those that remain through the inspiration of their valorous deeds.

Eleven years have passed since that first Armistice day. Already a wondering generation looks on as the boys pass by. The thin blue line of the Rebellion is all but gone but the glory of those brave comrades of '61 are fresh and vivid in the hearts of those few remaining. Another decade and those who honor comrades of San Juan Hill, Santiago and Manila will take their places. Today the American Legion carries on with their spirit of youth.

Legion Carries On. It may be that in coming days the Legionnaires will stand as the living torch bearers between that great Army of honored dead and a World of Peace. God grant that it may. Those that have given their full measure of devotion will have doubly gained when brotherhood of man will at last be a reality and wars will cease.

Manchester's Armistice day parade formed last evening at 7:30 on Main street at the Army and Navy clubhouse in the following order: Squad of police, marshal, Lieut. Walter Tedford; Salvation Army Band, Co. G. 189 Inf. N. G. Capt. Phillip C. Hawley; Howitzer Co. 169 Inf. N. G. Russell B. Hathaway; Dilworth-Cornell Post Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps; veterans and auxiliary.

The parade started at 7:30, marching north on Main street to the Center between a long line of watchers gathered at vantage points along the route of march. From the Center the parade proceeded to the hospital to the stirring music of the Salvation Army band and the Dilworth-Cornell Post, Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps. The local Salvation Army band augmented by several new members responded nobly to the spirit of the occasion and played almost constantly varied assortments of patriotic airs. The Post Corps resplendent in their striking white uniforms with broad black stripes and glittering brass "iron hats" marched as one unit to the stirring notes of the fife and drum. Arriving at the steps of the Memorial hospital the color guard was posted and the Salvation Army band played "America" followed by the invocation by Rev. Marvin Stocking of the North Methodist Episcopal church. President George Kennedy of the Army and Navy club in his opening address thanked those assembled for their devotion to the cause and expressed it as a token of love and esteem for those that made the great sacrifice.

Quimby's Address. The address of the evening by C. P. Quimby, principal of Manchester High school, followed. He said in part: "Out of our 870 odd Manchester High school pupils, today, more than half cannot remember the World War. There are also those that can but dimly remember that first Armistice day with its hilarious joy at the war's end. Manchester's young to go to war. Time passes swiftly.

Thrill Again. "I would have you forget the world of glamour, of music and of words tonight. I would have you remember the deeds of Lafayette and see with me that little suffering army at Valley Forge. Remember with me Sheridan's immortal words, 'Come on boys,—we're going back.' Remember Lincoln's tender compassionate note to the sorrowing mother of the Civil War. I would have you thrill again at the thought of San Juan Hill, of Chateau Thierry and of Verdun.

"There is the color of our flag, the red, the white and the blue. The red is the blood of heroes, of noble American youth. There are the stripes of white, clean and pure, symbolic of noble ideals. It is for us, the living, to consecrate again our lives to the principles of our ordinary home life, the schools, churches and our civic organizations. May they be kept faithfully, making the world a safe place in which to live."

Commander F. C. Lorch in behalf of the American Legion placed a large wreath on the steps of the Memorial hospital in honor of their departed comrades. Prayer was offered by Rev. C. T. McCann of St. Bridget's Roman Catholic church.

Commander F. C. Lorch of Dilworth-Cornell Post American Legion read "The Price of Peace" by Dora L. Gaines followed by the reading of the Roll of Honor and the placing of the wreaths on the Memorial trees. Let someone forget those

THE PRICE OF PEACE. Dora L. Gaines. Today our thoughts return To the boys across the sea, Who, beneath white crosses, Are sleeping peacefully.

And of the gold star Mother, Who made the sacrifice Of her own precious son That Peace might here abide.

Then we think of nurses Who took a mother's place, Soothed the dying soldier, Who longed for Mother's face.

And think of those brave men, Crippled and maimed for life, Who returned—but never see The lovely morning light.

They had dreams like you or I, Of love, and home their own, Now those dreams have vanished, Taken wings and flown.

Those who suffered and lost In that great war, we pray To the Heavenly Father, To bless them all today.

Give them that perfect peace That follows every storm, They shall see their own again On the Eternal Morn.

Peace, Peace, How great the cost Of the Armistice Day, Vacant chairs—broken hearts, Oh, what a price to pay!

PLANS GOOD WILL TAX ON ALL CHAIN STORES

Concord, N. H., Nov. 12.—(AP)—The constitutionality of a proposed good will tax on chain stores will be considered by the New Hampshire Supreme Court at the fall sitting which begins today. The proposal, among others, was submitted by the 1929 Legislature on the recommendation of a recess tax commission.

Opposition to the tax will be brought by the National Chain Stores Association and the Standard Oil Company of New York through counsel. It is understood the Standard Oil Company contends that good will is not taxable as property, claiming, in brief, that "while one may enjoy, he cannot own the favorable regard of others."

Assistant Attorney General Winthrop Wadleigh advocates the constitutionality of the levy. He says that enactment of the legislation would help to remedy inequality in the division of the state tax burden.

Hollywood, Calif.—Zazu Pitts, a charming young lady condemned by the fates that rule make-believe village to exhibit herself to the world's moving picture fans in picture after picture as a homely, slovenly-dressed drudge, thinks that the world must be coming to an end.

She has at last got a good part in which she can wear good clothes and prove that her famous homeliness is a matter of studio make-up and not a curse wished on her at birth.

Miss Pitts can hardly understand it. "I must be dreaming," she says, "they have actually given me a part in which I wear clothes that bear Paris labels."

"This happens in the new picture, 'This Thing Called Love,' in which she plays the part, not of a scrub-woman or kitchen slavery, but of the stylish wife of a prosperous broker.

"When Director Paul Stein called me to the studio, I thought of course he would want me in the usual gingham gown and apron," she said. "So I brought my well-worn costumes with me plus a scrub brush, pail, mop and broom, to which I have become fondly attached as they have served me so well in many pictures. I was told, however, to leave them outside the gate and go home and get my best party dresses.

"I know I am working in the picture because I get paid, but being dressed up in my Sunday best has me all hypnotized into believing that I am out to a party all day. If the story called for a bridge game they would have me completely fooled.

"This type of picture has only one drawback for me, and that is when I get home I don't get a kick out of getting all dressed up."

Clayton Jackson and Durante, the comedy trio who have won such popularity on Broadway in the last year or so, are going to appear in the movies.

A contract was recently signed at the Paramount studio whereby the three comedians will appear in the forthcoming production of a new play by Ben Hecht. Untitled thus far, this play will have a strong cast headed by Charles Ruggles and Fred Kohler. The three comedians will be cast as entertainers in a roadhouse, and in addition to supplying comedy relief for the drama will play parts vitally important to the story.

Bartow, the driver of the car and a former marine, was severely cut about the legs and back. His wife was slightly hurt.

WOMEN TO PRESENT ARLISS' "DISRAELI"

"Disraeli," a Warner Brothers all-talking vitaphone production, starring George Arliss of stage fame, comes to the State theater tomorrow for a two-day run under the auspices of The Women's Federation of the Center Church, with a score of enthusiastic tributes by New York critics to back up the assertion that it is a masterpiece of a picture.

"Disraeli" has been recommended by churches, clubs and schools including the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae.

Tickets for the movie version of this famous play in which George Arliss played for four years on the speaking stage, are being sold at the usual box office price. The Women's Federation is unning the evening shows only, the first at 7:15 o'clock, the second at nine o'clock.

The plot of this brilliant story revolves around Disraeli's acquisition of the Suez Canal by buying the shares of the improvident Kneidive of Egypt at a time when Russia was attempting to acquire them. The Bank of England refused to lend Disraeli's government the money by "a ditch," but a fellow Jew called Meyer in the play, really reputed to be one of the Rothschilds, lent him the money which made the deal possible. So it was that for the first time in English history, a sovereign—Queen Victoria—came to a reception given by one of her premiers.

British rules of court etiquette are even more strict than those at the White House, and it is a well known fact that the President never dines out. He invites his guests but no one is permitted to be too to him. It may well be imagined what a furor it caused when Victoria decided that an especial compliment should be paid Disraeli at the time he made her "Empress of India" through his diplomacy.

COAST ARTILLERY IN NEED OF FUNDS

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—

Difficulties encountered through lack of funds in carrying out proposed improvements, changes and projects of the Coast Artillery were outlined today by Major General Andrew Hero, Jr., chief of that service, in his annual report to Secretary Good.

In this connection, he cited the most important harbor defenses which was approved in 1919, and the situation of anti-aircraft defense.

"Attempt has been made, he said, "to establish a reasonable program for anti-aircraft defenses and estimates have been made to this end. The funds for the accomplishment of these projects have been lacking.

Overseas Conditions. "The situation in overseas garrisons is somewhat better than in the Continental United States. It is hoped to have the fire control installations for the 18-inch batteries on the Pacific side of the Panama Canal completed with money now in prospect. In Hawaii, the installations for Battery Williston (16-inch rifles) will not be completed for some years on the basis of present appropriations."

He reported progress in the development of sound ranging devices for detection of targets under water, in the air and on land, in some weapons and in training and gunnery practice, but asserted:

Harbor Defense. "The condition of material in harbor defenses, especially fire control installations, has shown no marked improvement. This equipment continues to evidence a progressive deterioration due to the lack of sufficient personnel and funds to exercise, test, maintain and repair it.

"For the fiscal year 1931, funds for the partial rehabilitation of this material are in prospect but only at the expense of new construction which is urgently needed for the completion of new 16-inch batteries."

Presenting another aspect of the situation, he said, "marked progress has been made in developing, testing and standardizing new anti-aircraft equipment" and its efficiency

BUILDING NOT TO BURN

Do we build to BURN? The frightful fire waste of this country has often caused such a question.

Much has been accomplished toward improved conditions, but in many instances there is a woeful lack of foresight in providing adequate defenses against fire, especially in the construction of buildings for mercantile and industrial use, hospitals, schools, hotels and other structures where large numbers of people are housed.

There are numerous activities, maintained by the Stock Fire Insurance companies, which aim for a better day when America shall consistently build NOT TO BURN.

Better Building Practice

One of these activities is the Committee on Construction of Buildings of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which assembles the best available information on proper building methods. For many years it has been the leading clearing house of information in safety construction.

The information in its possession is based upon the latest scientific and engineering facts and is supported by more than fifty years experience in organized fire prevention by the 239 Stock Fire Insurance companies which transact the great bulk of the fire insurance business.

Municipal Codes

Few indeed are the municipal building codes that have not used in whole or in part the information and services of the Department of Building Construction. This department has constantly worked for many years in co-operation with officials and others in authority in the interest of safety construction.

Better construction retards fire waste and contributes to the consequent decline in the average cost of fire insurance.

North Has Best Chance In Years To Beat South

Undefeated Majors Boast A Nifty Backfield Group

Strong Line Has Only Permitted One Touchdown In Eight Games; Must Perfect Aerial Defense.

BY TOM STOWE

The Majors' chances of winning the town football championship this year are the best the North end has ever had in the role of a challenger unless I am greatly mistaken. Having watched both teams in action probably more than any other person in Manchester, it is my belief that the series will go down in history as one of the closest and hardest fought over the 15 year stretch since the North and South first met on the gridiron. And yet, despite this, I have a hunch that the Cubs will manage to retain their title after narrowly staving off defeat.

The Majors' backfield looks about the best the north end has ever seen. It shows its ability by permitting only one touchdown to penetrate its defense in eight games all of which have resulted in victories. The Majors have a great pair of wing men in Ted McCarthy and Walter Crockett and they should prove a constant menace to the smooth-clicking Cub plays. Bill Kutkavek and Johnny Ambrose look to be the best tackles with Johnny Baranovsky and "Whitey" Baranovsky in the center standing up well at guard. Coach Dwyer has a flock of other good line men who may step into the limelight. Charlie Smith is a tower of strength on the defense, but Bronkie is likely to get the call over him for center as he seems to fit into the teamplay better from an offensive standpoint.

Both Met Setups
One might come forth with the statement that the Majors have had several setups in an argument to show that the Majors are not so hot after all, but it should be borne in mind that the Cubs, too, have played very few topnotchers this season. In fact the only time either team was in danger of defeat was when the Cubs beat the Wallingford Eagles 7 to 0 and the Majors took the Irish-Americans of Springfield into camp 13 to 7.

Although they didn't appear to function quite as smoothly as the champions, the Majors' backfield strikes me as being the strongest the north end has boasted since the days of the first edition of the then famous Majors. In Brunig Moske, Jack Benevento and Jimmy Spillane the north end has a mighty powerful trio to work behind either Charter or Wright at quarter. Dwyer also has some excellent reserve backfield material in Charlie Ward, "Hook" Brennan and Mike Saharek. Then there is also "Buck" Rowe and young Fiddler to be called upon in case of need. Moske of course is the spark plug of the whole team. He is to the Majors what Booth is to Yale.

Couldn't Lose Moske
Without Moske in the lineup, I don't hesitate to advance the opinion that the Majors wouldn't have a chance. He is one of the most dangerous Manchester backs to ever tote a pigskin as his unflinching ground-gaining ability attests better than words can express. Dwyer may not start Moske but he is sure to inject him into the fray at the least sign of a scoring chance. Spillane, a former St. John's Prep player, is also going great guns over at Hickey's and his style of play reminds one somewhat of that of Benvenuto. As I said a couple of weeks ago, never get the real chance he deserves in a town series, and may prove to be the hero of the north end's cause. Saharek, Brennan and Ward are a trio, anyone of which may spring into the limelight. Walter Moske, despite his injured knee, is a very valuable man on the defense.

The Major's best chance of victory, as I see matters, lies in perfecting a forward pass defense sufficiently airtight to withstand the bombardment launched by Messrs. Dahlquist and Stratton, Cub's signal barkers. A weak defense against aerials was the prime factor in the downfall of the Governors last year when the Cubs won the first game 13 to 6 and took the second 6 to 0. If Dwyer can develop a strong resistance against this style of play, the north end's chances of winning back the title will have been immensely improved. The Majors will do well to remember that interception of passes is often the best way to curb such an attack. Knocking down a pass only gives the offensive team another opportunity to complete the same play.

May Foot Opportunities
For several years past the north end has based its chances of victory almost entirely on off-tackle thrusts and while this will undoubtedly be the best offensive weapon of the Majors this season, it is interesting to note that Dwyer has built up a good forward passing game that has outright accounted for many touchdowns and paved the way for others. The Majors may not be successful in an attempt to complete their now-famous triple pass play which so often has resulted in a touchdown, but it would not be surprising to see them get away with short passes from the same formation. Such a move would not be entirely out of line with Dwyer's strategy of the past. The Majors know the Cubs will be laying for that long triple pass play and this fact may serve to throw the champions off guard for a short pass over the line.

One thing I like about the Majors

Town Series Grid Talk

BY TOM STOWE

"Yump" Dahlquist, Cub quarterback, and "Cunnin" Crockett, Major end, are two of the most improved players on the two contenders for the town title compared to their last year's form.

The Cubs were woefully weak in getting the point after touchdown in their game with the Watertown team Sunday. Out of six attempts, only two tries were successful. The having watched both teams in action probably more than any other person in Manchester, it is my belief that the series will go down in history as one of the closest and hardest fought over the 15 year stretch since the North and South first met on the gridiron.

Personally we are inclined to string along with those critics who believe that the extra point should be abolished from football; that it doesn't necessarily decide the better team and a case of individual rather than team superiority. But that's neither here nor there for the present at least. The rule is here to stay for 1929 and everybody has to make the best of the situation.

There doesn't seem to be an awful lot of money being bet on the series. The backers of the north end team are asking for odds and the Cub's supporters are demanding even money. Everybody is talking money but their little being laid "on the dotted line" so far as we can observe. There'll probably be plenty on hand at Mt. Nebo before the game. South end money will probably be the most plentiful. Such is usually the case with a champion team.

Officials of the team have asked Chief of Police Samuel G. Gordon to send ten policemen to do duty at each of the games. This has been granted and the men will be in charge of Sergeant John Crockett. Five men will patrol each side of the field to prevent any possible disturbance.

It is sincerely hoped that members of both teams will realize the importance of clean playing in the town series. One little case of a lost temper can decide the championship if it comes at the crucial moment. The time to settle personal difficulties, if at all, is after the game. The wise player will take his bumps, legal or otherwise, without a whimper and play all the harder and cleaner. It pays in the long run.

Both of the games will start promptly at 2 o'clock with Pat Meskell of New London, referee, Bert Keane of Hartford, umpire, and Jay Meriman of Kingswood School in West Hartford as headlinesman. All three are highly capable and efficient men. They can be depended upon to "call 'em right" as Brother Keane has named his daily column in the Hartford Courant. Herb Bissell and Frank McLaughlin will undoubtedly be the linesmen. The umpire takes care of the time-keeping.

Pete Conroy of East Hartford, formerly with the Hartford Giants, is one of the strongest links in the Cubs' line and he should give the Majors no end of worry. Captain Walter Harrison holds down the other tackle berth for the champions and Kelley has two very good reserve tackles in Jimmy Quish and Jimmy Belgrade, better known as "Jumbo, the Iceman." All four will no doubt see service.

The Cubs also have a quartet of good ends in Billy Skoneski, Felix Mozer, Sully Siamonds and Jack Cheney. Cheney and Skoneski are likely to get the call to start but Mozer and Siamonds are hard to beat from a defensive standpoint. Skoneski is a regular little bear on the defense and would be even more valuable if he would be a little more careful to avoid penalties for illegal playing. Cheney is the most dangerous of the four at snaring a forward pass due to his advantage in height but his defensive ability is not equal to that of the other three.

The Majors will take no chances of being scouted at practice this week. Tomorrow night they will go in the Harding school on Hollister street, pull down all the curtains, and then listen to Teacher Dwyer. School begins at 7 o'clock and those who are tardy will have to write the word touchdown 100 times.

Pittsburgh.—Night football evidently made a hit with Duquesne followers in its one trial here. The Dukes will try it again at Forbes Field next Friday, playing the game with Westminster originally scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 16 at New Wilmington.

is that they seem to have a world of fighting spirit and pep. While this characteristic doesn't decide football games in itself, it goes a long way to help the cause. The Majors are not the least bit over-confident which cannot be said for every member of the Cubs. The Majors fully realize the ability of their worthy opponents from the south end but are just as determined to beat the Cubs. However, the spirit over north seems to be this year or never.

ABOUT THOSE REDS

When Sidney Well, new owner of the Cincinnati Reds, bought Meusel and Harry Hellmann, there was considerable tittering up the sleeves by some of the veteran baseball observers. However, it begins to appear that Mr. Well has some very definite ideas about a ball club, and they're not all for the end book.

"Don't get the idea," he said, in an interview with Tom Stowe of the Cincinnati Post, "that we are preparing to make the Cincinnati club a home for the old men of the diamond."

"My idea of a ball club is one composed of speedy youngsters who can hit. Such lads, though, are difficult to obtain, and while we are hunting for them we are taking on a few players who may have passed their peak, but who also can hit. After meeting Iowa, Purdue has given the club some power which will be of use handily."

"Dan Howley recommended Meusel and Hellmann. He should know what these fellows are capable of doing, as he served with them in the American League for the last three seasons."

The addition of Meusel and Hellmann gives Cincinnati Swanson, Walker, Allen, Webb, Hellmann, Meusel, Crabtree, Callaghan and a couple of others scrapping for outfield berths.

The Critz Report
As to reports that Jovial John McGraw was trying to get Hughie Critz from the Reds, Well said: "My answer to any proposition for Critz would be that the Cincinnati management is attempting to build up its team, not tear it down. We might be persuaded to part with Critz, but I doubt if any club would give us what we consider adequate recompense for him."

The Tulane Terror
Coach Bill Alexander is a man of few words, but when he speaks more than moths fly out. After the recent Tulane-Georgia Tech game in which the Golden Tornado's tail was twined by the New Orleans lads, Coach Bill said:

"Billy Banker is a great player—an All-America back if ever there was one."

These words about the Tulane captain and halfback sound sweeter coming from Bill because the Tornado coach has a few All-American potentialities himself—in Mizell, Thomson and Dunlap.

With stars in the east such as Booth, Cagle, Marsters, Wittmer, and so on, and great backs in the south such as Gene McEver of Tennessee, Crabtree of Florida, the aforementioned backs and a couple of others, this All-America job of selection is going to be nobody's entertainment.

The Light-Heavy Throne
The light-heavyweight title, left hanging on the wall by Mr. Loughran, has been causing a lot of people no end of worry, for pecuniary reasons. The other day the New York commission nominated four gladiators to fight it out for the championship—Maxey Rosenbloom, Yale Okun, Louis Scozza and George Courtney.

Joe Sekyra says Rosenbloom should have it, as, if he (Sekyra) had defeated Maxey, he would have claimed the title all over the place and made earnest efforts to cash in on it. Figures don't often do that—we mean, acknowledge their conquerors to be the champs. However, Joe adds that he thinks he could smear Maxey in another brawl.

Los Angeles, Nov. 12—(AP)—The engagement of Marjorie ("Midge") Gladman of Santa Monica, Calif., and John Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J., tennis stars, is announced.

Miss Gladman and Van Ryn are among the most promising of the young players. Miss Gladman is ranked No. 7 among the women net artists. Van Ryn, former captain of the Princeton tennis team, with Wilmer Allison of Texas won the National and Wimbledon doubles this year. They also triumphed in David Cup doubles.

WILL IOWA WRECK PURDUE'S HOPES?

A chance to wreck rampant Purdue's chance for a Big Ten championship lies in the hands of Burt Ingwersen's irascible Iowans, a few of whom are pictured above. It was the enraged Hawkeye that halted Illinois' march to the title recently by holding the Illini to a 7 to 7 tie. After meeting Iowa, Purdue has given the club some power which will be of use handily.

"Dan Howley recommended Meusel and Hellmann. He should know what these fellows are capable of doing, as he served with them in the American League for the last three seasons."

Night Hawks Lose To Plucky Centers

League Leaders Suffer Severe Jolt Dropping Four Points; Majors Win and Take Lead.

Thanks to the help of the Centers, the Majors sit gayly at the top of the league standing of the Herald Bowling League today. The Majors were trailing the Night Hawks by two points and would not have been able to swap the lead had not the jolly Centers completely upset the dope with a four point victory over the Night Hawks. Four of the five matches last night were whitewash affairs.

The Night Hawks' totally unexpected defeat was a combination of poor bowling itself and too much opposition, chiefly the latter in the third game when the winners went over 600 to make their victory even more complete and impressive. The Centers took the first game by 11 pins and then won the second by 37 when the Night Hawks dropped below 500 for the first time this season. Every man on the Centers was well over 300 and only three of their scores were under 100. Wilkie's 140 was high. Orenstein and Walker of the losers dropped into the eighties.

Majors Win Easily
The Majors had little trouble beating the Construction, the latter going under 500 twice. Conran hit 347. Borowsky opened with 133 and finished with an 88. The Pirates climbed up a few more pegs at the expense of the Shell Gas winning four points. The losers were below 500 every game. Sherman was high for the winners with 340. The Charter Oaks came back to life with a three-one victory over the British Americans. The latter hit 576 the first game only to lose to 604. Wilkie and Axel Anderson hit over 300 and Cole went to 385. The West Sides experienced no trouble taking four from the Herald rolling the best total of the evening, 1,763. The newspaper boys were below 500 twice. Red Sad had the high three string of the evening with 394. Joe Canada was a good second with 376. The West Sides meet the faltering Night Hawks next week over north while the Charter Oaks face the Majors. This may bring another change in the league leadership.

YALE FAVORITE OVER PRINCETON

Tigers' Record Is Far from Impressive; Eli Has Beaten Tigers 27 Times.

BY HERBERT W. BARKER

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—With only one inter-sectional game of any consequence on the program, eastern football fans, looking for some fun on Saturday, will turn to the renewal of a half dozen ancient rivalries.

New York University's clash with Missouri of the Big Six heads the inter-sectional slate but there will be more interest in such games as those involving Yale and Princeton; Cornell and Dartmouth; Penn and Columbia; Colgate and Syracuse; Williams and Amherst; and Tufts and Bowdoin, all of them rivalries of 20 years or more.

Yale with little Albie Booth for a spark plug will be a decided favorite over a Princeton Tiger able to win only two games this year, both of them over minor opposition. In this rivalry going back to 1873 Yale has won 27 games, Princeton 16 with nine ties.

Unbeaten Cornell may not be that way after the 13th meeting with Dartmouth which has won seven of the 12 previous meetings. The other five went to Cornell. If best performances mean anything there should be plenty of scoring when these two meet.

Pittsburgh's unquenched Panthers take on a hardy city rival in Carnegie Tech and Harvard may find the Holy Cross defense hard to pierce.

Football Briefs

New Haven—Coach Mal Stevens of Yale approves of non-competitive agreements but the one with Princeton is proving a bit of a handicap in his preparations for Saturday's game. The Elis had to use a 1928 assortment of Princeton plays in practice yesterday.

Pittsburgh—Carnegie Tech's regulars ought to be in good shape for the Pitt game but they may have forgotten a lot of football. They had an open date last week and used only reserves against St. Louis the Saturday before.

Princeton—Princeton's Tigers can expect very little rest this week. Coach Bill Roper started preparations for the Yale game by giving the varsity its first Monday drill of the year and he expects to continue at the same rate.

Hanover—Bill Morton, Dartmouth's sub quarterback has undertaken a big job. He is scheduled to be the key man of the Green's offense for the rest of the season, the task that occupied Al Marsters until he was injured.

"Wild Bill" McEver Is All-America Man

GENE McEVER

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 12.—Dixie sport writers are boosting Gene McEver, the University of Tennessee's great halfback, for the All-America team.

McEver is no doubt the greatest halfback that ever wore the colors of Tennessee and, in the opinion of many, is the greatest running halfback the south ever has produced. At present he is leading the Southern Conference in scoring with 25 touchdowns.

McEver is one of the most colorful of sports characters. The most remarkable thing about him is his supreme confidence in himself. Although not of a boastful nature, he frankly admits that he can do surprising feats on the gridiron and will go out of his way at times to tell what he intends to do in the coming week's game. Usually, he's right.

In 1928 the Tennessee team, with few exceptions, was composed of sophomores. The "Flamin' Sophomores," sports writers called them. Wholly without varsity experience they went unheralded and unsung to Birmingham last year to meet Wallace Wade's Alabama Crimson Tide. The Tide was regarded as one of the most powerful teams in the south at that time.

It is reliably reported by McEver's roommate on the trip, Bobby Dodd, quarterback, that as they lay in their berths on the train en route to Birmingham that McEver turned to Dodd and said that he hoped that Alabama kicked off to him Saturday.

"I'll show 'em something," he said. On the Saturday morning of the game McEver, formerly a resident of Birmingham, called a girl acquaintance by phone. When she asked what he was doing in Birmingham he replied that he was going to play football that afternoon and that she had better come to see it.

Schmeling's Return Now Seems Early Certainty

Garden Pays $75,000 for Services of Scott, Campolo and German; Sharkey May Meet Max at Miami.

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Madison Square Garden again has taken a strangle hold on the promotion of heavy-weight fights with a $75,000 deal for the services of Max Schmeling of Germany; Phil Scott of England and Victorio Campolo of the Argentine. After weeks of dickering with Humbert Fugazy, rival promoter the Garden announced last night that the deal had been completed and that Schmeling, Scott and Campolo for the house that Tex Richardson built.

The deal gives the Garden a virtual monopoly on the services of the four leading heavy-weight contenders for Gene Tunney's vacant throne. Jack Sharkey, the Boston sailor, already is under contract to the Garden for a fight at Miami in February.

The negotiations with Fugazy transfer from the Italian promoter to the Garden contracts on Campolo's services for four fights and on Scott's and Schmeling for one each. More important is the fact that the way now seems to be paved for Schmeling's return to American rings.

Schmeling and his American manager, Joe Jacobs were suspended by the New York State Athletic Commission for Schmeling's failure to fight Scott for Fugazy last summer. But with Fugazy's withdrawal the commission's objections apparently have been met.

Indications now are that the Garden will attempt to match Schmeling and Sharkey for the mid-winter show at Miami.

LIQUOR RAIDERS ASSIST VETERANS

All Copper Stills Confiscated Are Given to Disabled Men in Hospitals.

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Headlines heralding destruction to copper stills delighted the disabled veterans of Walter Reed hospital, for copper stills are beaten into bowls and book-ends by the wheel-chair battalion.

They stand in shining array, these peaceful products of the liquor war—little copper pin trays and ash trays with ships etched on them, large copper bowls hammered artfully, sconces, and vases—each telling its tale of painstaking labor by some convalescent soldier. They gleam as though burnished with the cheerfulness they have brought to despondent men, working to win their way back to health.

Articles For Sale They're for sale to anyone who wants to buy a fighter's handwork. Each belongs to the man who made it, until it is sold, and the money goes straight to him—his own earnings. To a disabled veteran that means a great deal.

The copper stills come free, and the men who make them, in increasing profit. They come corroded, and twisted, and hacked. A copper still is a grotesque thing after it has met with officers of the prohibition law. But they emerge from the little workshop of art and beauty, fit for a connoisseur's home.

Interested In "War" Miss Alberta Montgomery, who has long had charge of the occupational therapy work, encourages the convalescents to keep in touch with national events in Washington for cheerfulness' sake. And nothing interests them more than the liquor war.

Senatorial speeches against booze, like that recently made by Senator Brookhart, are regarded as a hopeful sign that raids will ensue, and more copper stills be brought to Walter Reed for beating and etching into art objects.

ried by New York reports that Madison Square Garden has obtained from Humbert Fugazy a contract for Max Schmeling's services, Joe Jacobs, his American confidant and would-be manager, announced today that Saturday, Feb. 22, 1930—Washington's birthday—had been definitely set for a bout in Atlantic City between Schmeling and the best available opponent.

Jacobs made this announcement upon receipt of a cablegram from Herman Taylor, Philadelphia promoter. Schmeling promptly agreed to the date.

"The German Dempsey" has definitely decided to return to the United States at the end of December upon receipt of a 40-day training grind. A troublesome foot injury is nearly healed.

Jacobs declared emphatically that the Garden's move will not effect the prospective Atlantic City bout. Arthur Buelow, Schmeling's deposed German manager, had no right to sign the Fugazy contract for Schmeling, said Jacobs, "and we will prove it."

RAIL-AND-WATER RATE SUGGESTED

Speaker Urges Co-operation to Aid Interior Shippers and Producers.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 12.—(AP)—The development of a joint rail-and-water freight rate structure to give interior shippers and producers the advantages of inland water ways transportation was forecast today by Major General T. Q. Ashburn, chairman of the board of the Inland Waterways Corporation.

"The most essential condition for the success of a common carrier by water," he told the Mississippi Valley Association, "is hearty co-operation between rail lines and water lines, free interchange of freight between rail and water, with a division of accruing revenue for a joint haul such that both rail and water lines may receive a living revenue."

Joint Rates "What we are steadily working forward to is a structure of joint rates giving to everyone in the interior the same savings in cents per hundred pounds freight carried, as is enjoyed by those cities or communities fortunately located on a water 'right of way.' Until the rate structure of the United States is so divided in a manner which will represent the service performed, giving each carrier a living revenue. "It is my impression," he said, "that ultimately all rates and divisions between rail lines and water and rail lines, will be adjusted to this fair basis principle."

He called attention to the division of revenues among different railroads hauling freight on a through rate, and asserted that "what we contend is that by the opening of a water link or links in our transportation system, there has been superimposed upon the existing rail systems a situation analogous to that which would ensue from a new grouping of rail lines, caused by the creation of new and independent rail lines, and that the situation must be handled accordingly."

Pershing Coming Home. Paris, Nov. 12.—(AP)—General Pershing left here today for Cherbourg where he will take the Leviathan back to America.

Hint for movie scenario writers: Try a little work in the garden once in a while. It may help to change the plot.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carpenter and sons of Hartford visited Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lyman Sunday.

Local schools were closed Armistice day, also the local students of the Windham High school had Monday off.

Snowing in West Kansas City Nov. 12.—(AP)—The storm gods rode over the west again today blanketing the Rocky Mountains in snow and invading the prairies of Kansas and the hills of Missouri.

Subfreezing temperatures followed a blizzard which swept Colorado yesterday, reaching the lowest points of the year during the night.

SUICIDE FROM PLANE

Valley Stream, N. Y., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Miss Ruth Rockwell, 18, of Philadelphia committed suicide by leaping 2,000 feet from an airplane which she hired with a pilot at the Curtiss Airport yesterday.

She explained her act in a note which was found in her purse in the cabin of the plane. The note read: "Most people end their lives because something sad has happened to them. I end mine because it seems not only futile, but wrong to go on existing."

ADULTS, TOO, PREFER "NO DOSING" FOR COLDS

Millions Adopt External Remedy Made Famous As Treatment for Children's Colds.

A generation ago, when Vicks Vapo-Rub was originated, the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today, the vogue trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Mothers of young children especially have been quick to appreciate this better, external method of treating colds, because there's nothing to swallow and, of course, nothing to upset the little ones' delicate stomachs. Year by year more and more adults, too, have found Vicks equally good for their own colds.

Just rubbed on, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster; and, at the same time, it releases medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages.

Ever-increasing demand for this better method of treating colds is shown in the familiar Vicks slogan, "Made famous when Vicks reached 21 Million Jars Use Yearly"—later raised to "21 Million"—there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."—Adv.

ROCKVILLE SHOOTING

VICTIM RECOVERING

Steve Gerich Doesn't Seem to Hold Ill Feeling Against His Daughter.

No second operation has been performed for the removal of the bullet from the skull of Steve Gerich of Rockville who is confined to the City hospital in Rockville as a result of being shot by his daughter in a family quarrel. Gerich's condition is no longer regarded as serious and his name has been removed from the danger list, it was stated at the hospital this morning. Hospital authorities add that Gerich is a very good patient and never speaks about the shooting affair. If he holds any ill feeling against his sixteen year old daughter, Jeannette, he has been able to carefully conceal the fact from those who are constantly in touch with him. The girl is at Tolland County Jail unable to furnish bond and awaits trial in superior court for shooting with intent to kill.

SENSE and NONSENSE

IF THIS ISN'T THE ANSWER, WHAT IS?

A friend of ours says that last summer he asked his caddy: "When is a golf ball lost?" The caddy came right back with the reply: "A golf ball isn't lost until you stop looking for it." Certainly, this is right, a golf ball isn't lost until you stop looking for it and a man isn't a failure until he quits trying.

PARKER D. HANDY DEAD

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Parker D. Handy, 71, senior member of the banking and precious metal firm of Handy and Harman, New York and Bridgeport, Conn., today was in a serious condition at Harbor hospital after an abdominal operation on Friday. He is not expected to recover. Mr. Handy, a native of Fairfield, Conn., is a graduate of Princeton, 1879, a life trustee of the university and a member of its finance committee. His home is at 44 East 74th street.

THE TEN TINES

The Tines, still upon the ground, just sat and didn't look around. They didn't think the great big man would 'er come back, the way he ran. That's why they didn't have a hunch what bad luck fate might bring. Said Scouty, "Well, I guess that I have had enough. I will not try to eat another bite. I'm sure 'twould make my tummy ache. The rest of you had better quit and rest while you are feeling fit. If I can find a stream near here, a good long drink I'll take." "A good idea," Copy cried. And then he jumped to Scouty's side. They led the other to a stream where each one got his fill. "I'd like to swim, but, my, I doubt if I could do it. I'm tired out," said Clowny. "Let's go back and snooze. We've naught but time to kill." So, back they went and gathered 'round the dinner bucket, on the ground. "We all can nap," said Copy. "There is nothing to go wrong. When we 'wake, in an hour or so upon our merry way we'll go. And, if we can we'll take this little dinner pail along." Now, all this time the big strong man up closer to the Tines ran. He heard them say they'd take a nap. "Ah, ha, what luck," said he. "When everyone is sound asleep, right up to them I'll softly creep. I'll make them sorry that they ever took my pail from me." He didn't wait so very long. Then on his knees he crawled along, and pounced upon the Tines as he gave an awful shout. Before they had a chance to stand, he grabbed up two in each big hand. Wee Scouty looked real scared and said, "What is this all about?" "We'll find out what the big man does to the Tines in the next story."
