That a flock of robins have been seen the past week in the trees near the Nathan Hale school. These courageous birds must appreciate our brand of New Year's weather.

That the Rockville cops will at least be able to keep themselves in cigarettes with that recent 27 cent raise in salary.

That Manchesterites can procure a non-resident combination hunting and fishing license in Massachusetts cheaper than the Connecticut resident license here. Reciprocity is not in effect in this state when out-of-staters are taxed $14.35 for the combination hunting and fishing permit.

That there has been no serious epidemic of flu, grippie or pneumonia in town so far this winter.

That local contractors are pleased with the fine brand of weather lately. Much work that was to be held over until Spring has already been completed and new work begun.

CHENEY PAINTER FALLS AT THROWING MILL

Inspector Garvin has been prominently associated with nearly every major crime investigation in Detroit during the past two years. Included in his exploits was the investigation carried on into the activities of the Purple Gang, an organization that was prominent in the cleaners' and dyers' war of two years ago as well as rum-running, hi-jacking and similar activities.

That the Bartlett girl was on her way to school. She came to Detroit six months ago with her family from Muncie, Ind. Her father, Murray Bartlett, is an employe in an automobile plant.

The girl was shot four times, twice in the right arm, once in the head and once in the back.

CHENEY PAINTER FALLS AT THROWING MILL

With the holiday rush out of the way a committee, of which Fayette B. Clarke is chairman, is working on plans for a banquet to be held in the "White House" within a week, if possible. Further consideration will be given the movement that was started in November towards completing the organization to boost that section of the town. At the dinner which will be held soon there will be reports made and the work that the committee has in mind is to make arrangements with one of the South Manchester banks to have a branch established at the north end.

THURSDAY, JAN. 2, 1930

stands the test because her good works have far exceeded her evil deeds, not because she has never done anything to be ashamed of.

There is one chapter in our history that Americans do not read. They shut out of their minds, because they cannot stand its perusal, the record of our dealings with the American Indian. We are all still too close to the picture to see with appreciating eyes the stark truth about the Philippines, but it is probable that future generations will turn this page as quickly as we now turn the pages of Indian relations.

The great majority of the people of this country were deeply disconcerted, not to say shocked, when the United States, at the close of the war with Spain, fastened its grip on those far-off islands, instead of arranging an international consortium to guarantee their independence. But they permitted themselves to be mollified by promises that the grip would soon be loosened. For thirty years, under the shallowest of smug pretenses that we were concerned with the welfare of the Filipinos, we have hung onto possession there—because, when all is said and done, there has been profit and promise of greater profit in the proceeding.

Now there is suddenly deep agitation of the subject of freedom for the Philippines. And why? Because there is any sudden awakening to the moral or ethical principles involved? By no means. Only because there are interests in the United States which believe that Cuban independence, and a tariff wall erected against the islands, would pay better in money than further retention of our sovereignty there, with the inevitable free trade.

Whether or not there is any real prospect of withdrawal from the Philippines in the near future, it is now and will continue to be one of the dark shadows on our history that our policy toward the Filipinos is permitted to be shaped by no other consideration in the world than so-called economics.

That a nation which could make such sacrifices as this one did in the World War, for an ideal, should also be capable, where these islands are concerned, of subordinating all human rights and all ideals to a mere problem of dollars and cents is almost inconceivable.

It is a good thing for our peace of mind that we have many credit marks to offset this black one.

STARTING SOMETHING
A Massachusetts legislator has introduced a bill providing for the administration of a narcotic to criminals about to be executed. This may be an excellent idea—if necessary. It would, however, be interesting to be informed whether there is, in the Bay State, any particular necessity for such a law; whether in that particular state the prison physician and the warden are likely to be possessed of such unique qualities that they have to be commanded by law to do what wardens and prison doctors everywhere have been doing time out of mind. Just possibly there may be somewhere in the United States a penal institution in which executions are performed where they did not condemn murderers to the gallows or the chair without the momentary support of a shot of morphine; but because such consolation is no more than is received by the patient before every major hospital operation and because wardens and prison physicians are human beings we take the liberty of doubting it.

Just the same we'll bet a nickel that the Massachusetts man's proposal will arouse wild antagonism from several scores of fanatic objectors. We'll bet another that the fanatics will come back with a bill making it a felony to give the condemned criminal anything better calculated to help him over the great chasm than a breakfast of ham and eggs.

EDUCATIVE TAX
With relation to the personal tax the Bridgeport Post remarks that such a tax answers at least one excellent purpose since it serves as a reminder that we cannot have government without paying for it.

That is probably quite true. At the same time the suggestion opens up the road to a little further speculation along the same line. Does the personal tax, established at a fixed figure no matter whether our municipal governments be good or bad, economical or wasteful, serve greatly to enlarge the average citizen's sense of responsibility for the quality of the administration? Would not a better system, from an educative point of view, be to make the amount of the personal tax, like the property tax rate, depend on the actual cost of municipal government?

A BLACK MARK
This is a great and glorious country. Its greatness and its glory, however, are to be measured, not as an unqualified original quantity, but as the remainder left after a substrand of discredit has been subtracted from the minuend of magnificent historic achievement.

In other words, America's character is the difference between her achievements and her discredits. We are not proposing a change; we are merely wondering whether the flat-rate personal tax rate oper-

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
Washington, Jan. 2.—Five Republicans are contesting for the seats of five Democrats in the House and the probability is that some of them would not have bothered to make a contest if they had not counted on support from the large Republican majority.

He Would End Delay
The bill, if it became a law, would also reduce delay. The cases now pending arise from the election of November, 1928. Presumably they will all be settled during the regular session. But if a member is ousted from his seat by a contestant he keeps the seat until he has been voted out by a majority of the House.

IN NEW YORK
New York, Jan. 2.—Down in the nether end of what once was Hell's Kitchen, at a spot where that district threatens to lap over on the packing house zone, is to be found New York's strangest little theater.

It isn't so strange in the sense that many of the tiny show houses of Greenwich Village are strange. It has no gentlemen in berets and ladies in tams. But its performers, who give plays at indefinite intervals during the winter, are made up of the neighborhood folk.

The Little Theater Movement
The little theater movement, generally speaking, is all but dead in Manhattan. Born here with the Provincetown Players, it has since its hundreds of cities across the land, where efforts are made to keep the drama alive.

SLANTING BOARD EXERCISES
A very fine home treatment, which is exceptionally good in cases of constipation, hernia, and adhesions or prolapsus of any of the abdominal organs, is taken with the aid of the slanting board. The board is made in this manner: Proven to be one of the best practice to use these exercises two or three times daily, producing great benefit in any case where any of the abdominal organs, such as the intestine, womb or stomach, has prolapsed. In many cases, even where adhesions have formed, this exercise, if used continuously, will result in a loosening of the adhesions and improvement of the entire functioning of the abdominal organs.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
(Hypererythroemia)
Question:—O. M. writes: "My doctor tells me there is nothing that can cure hypererythroemia, from which I am suffering, as the cause is not known. What is your advice?"
Answer:—Hypererythroemia is the name given a condition which exists in certain people where there is an increase in the number of red blood cells over the normal. My researches have shown that such an extra amount of red cells is produced through a definite irritation of the nervous system, including the brain and spinal cord. Such irritation is apparently caused by some simple toxemia, as it can be very easily cured. Out of many cases treated, I have never seen one that did not respond very quickly to a fast of a few days. Have your blood count taken at some responsible laboratory, then stop all food for at least five days (except fruit juice and water) and then have another blood count made. You will find the blood cells reduced to normal, or very close to it. If not quite normal after the five days' fast continue the fast for a few days more. A correct diet afterwards will prevent any recurrence of the toxemia, which is apparently responsible.

MANY NOTABLE ADVANCES IN SCIENCE MADE IN 1929

By ISRAEL KLEIN Science Editor, NEA Service

When history is told 1000 years hence 1929 will be remembered for three outstanding developments in the progress of science and civilization:

- 1. The revolutionary theory of Prof. Albert Einstein—already famous for his theory of relativity—that gravity, electricity and magnetism are so closely related that they may be one and the same force.

Einstein's contributions to science, a matter of cold mathematics, is considered by scientists as equal in importance to Newton's law of gravitation.

At least, Einstein's newest theory has reduced all physical forces—electric, magnetic and gravitational—to the same origin from the stations between which they are flying.

Aviation in 1929 also produced the great Dixie passenger airplane of Dr. Claude Dornier, which carried 169 persons in a test flight; the 5,000,000 cubic foot dirigibles R-100 and R-101 of England, and the Graf Zeppelin of Germany which completed a round-the-world flight in 21 days.

The climax in 1929's part in communication came early in December when the captain of the Leviathan was called by phone in mid-Atlantic just as you would call your home.

With the aid of an airplane, also, the science of archeology made its

and resolved all known physical laws into one universal law.

The historic flight of Commander Byrd is only the expression of a long series of aeronautic inventions and improvements. In a three-motored all-metal airplane equipped with the latest types of flying instruments, a compact radio transmitter and a long range aerial camera, Byrd and three companions flew 16,000 miles, climbed over 10,000-foot peaks, without a stop in 19 hours.

Yet had Byrd waited another year he would have been able to carry with him even more advanced instruments. These instruments are some of the products of aviation in 1929.

One of these is an electrical altimeter, or echo altimeter, which tells the pilot exactly how high he is from the ground immediately below him, rather than the ground from which he started.

To make flying safer, the U. S. Department of Commerce has extended its radio range beacon system from Omaha to New York. This system, coupled with half-hourly weather broadcasting, soon will be extended to cover the United States.

GAS BUGGIES—A Sad Story THERE GOES POOR NELLIE CHERRY. MY HEART ACHES FOR HER. THEY SAY HER SWEETHEART, DICK WILEY, WILL NEVER WALK AGAIN.

IT'S VERY SERIOUS, MISS DOOHINKLE. IT'S LIKE THE CASE OF A YOUNG MAN I KNEW. HE PASSED A CERTAIN HOUR EVERY DAY GOING TO WORK AND THERE WAS ALWAYS A PRETTY GIRL SEATED OUT IN FRONT. THEY STARTED NODDING AND FINALLY BECAME ACQUAINTED. HE FELL MADLY IN LOVE WITH HER. THE FIRST NIGHT HE CALLED TO HER. HE LEARNED SHE WAS CRIPPLED AND COULDN'T WALK. HE WAS FRANTIC. HE WANTED TO MARRY HER, BUT HE WAS POOR AND COULDN'T AFFORD HELP... HE DIDN'T KNOW WHAT TO DO...

WELL... ABOUT THAT TIME FATHER SOLD OUR PLACE AND WE MOVED AWAY. I NEVER DID HEAR WHAT CAME OF IT. A BIG HELP THAT WAS! BUT COME! WHAT IS THE ANSWER? SHALL NELLIE MAKE THIS SACRIFICE? IS LOVE WORTH THE PRICE? IS IT FAIR TO HER FATHER? OH! WHAT A PROBLEM!

ERRORGRAMS. FATHER HAS SIATICA AND WANTS TO GO TO FLORIDA WE'RE LEAVING TOMORROW. IT MUST BE VERY PAINFUL. MY UNCLE SUFFERS FROM IT IN HIS LEFT ARM. 1931's Scrambled Stenrooluis. Something easy to forget. There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—an unscramble it by switch'g the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Gems of Thought.
It takes a man with a lot of brass to dispose of a gold brick.
Our idea of a wise man is one who never argues with a woman.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Woe Nineteen Thirty, with a sigh, shook hands around and said, "Good-bye. I hope you Tinymites have fun, wherever you may go. I should imagine that your bike would be a thing that you would like. I wonder if you ride it fast or travel rather slow."
"We'll show you," answered Clowzy. "We are just as peppy as can be. I ride up front so I can do the pedaling. I'm good! The others might do just as well. They haven't tried, though. I can't tell. Perhaps they ought to take their turns. At least I think they should."
"Oh, don't you worry," Coppy cried. "We'll do our share upon this ride. As soon as you get weary all you need to do is shout. Then I will take the foremost seat and give the whole bunch quite a treat. Why, I'm the one to show you what this pedaling's all about." Then Clowzy broke right in and said, "Say! Argument I strongly dread. Let's stop it now and start upon the trip we're going to make. The time is quickly slipping past. Come on, we'll ride away real fast. However, don't go too fast or our bicycle might break."
Then each one hopped into his place. A smile spread on their wee friend's face. "You look real cute," he shouted. "Now, good luck upon your trip." And quickly he ran out of sight. Said Clowzy, "Say, that lad's all right. Be careful, there, friend Clowzy, so the front wheel doesn't slip."
The warning, though, came just too late! The front wheel, instead of staying straight, swerved round until the bunch were given quite a thrill. And then it skidded in the snow and Clowzy shouted, "Here we go!" At just that moment all the Tinymites took a funny spill.
(The Tinymites meet a big black bear in the next story.)

The Prize-Winning Essay

YOU MAY REMEMBER WHEN WE OPENED THIS CONTEST FOR THE BOYS, WE ASKED THEM TO TELL US WHAT THEY WOULD DO, IN A BUSINESS WAY, IF THEY HAD $500 EACH TO START WITH. WE WOULD LIKE TO PRINT THEM ALL, BUT HAVE ROOM FOR ONLY ONE LETTER, FROM OSCAR PLITZENBAUM. THE FOLLOWING IS EXACTLY THE WAY THAT MASTER OSCAR WROTE IT:
ANSWER TO QUESTION: "WHAT WOULD YOU DO WITH $500, AND WHY?"
I WOULD GIVE $50 TO CHARITY—$25 FOR A BICYCLE—$5 FOR ONE YEAR'S BUNDLE OF

HAPPIE MAGAZINES—$225 FOR ONE ACRE OF GROUND—$14 FOR SEVENTY FENCE-POSTS—$21.05 FOR SIXTY RODS OF FENCE WIRE AND $13 FOR LABOR AT $1.50 A DAY TO PUT UP THE FENCE AS AN ENCLOSURE AND DIVISION OF ALL THE GROUND—$35 FOR A BURN HOUSE—$35 FOR A DUCK SHED—$17.50 FOR FIFTY WANDOTTE CHICKENS—$25 FOR FIFTY DUCKS—RE-SERVING $1945 FOR MINOR EXPENSES TO GET THE BUSINESS INTO A PAYING PROCESS.
I WOULD GIVE $50 TO CHARITY, BECAUSE THE BIBLE GIVES A PROMISE CONCERNING GIVING.
BUY A BICYCLE—BECAUSE I COULD ENLARGE MY FIELD FOR HAPPIE'S MAGAZINE, BY REACHING FIVE NEIGHBORING TOWNS AND VILLAGES, INCLUDING WELL-TO-DO FARMING COMMUNITIES—ONE HUNDRED MAGAZINES WOULD BE A GOOD INVESTMENT AS A START IN THE PAPER BUSINESS.
MAKE IT A SUCCESS HAVING HIGH MARKET PRICE AT A CREAMERY THAT SHIPS EVERY FEW DAYS.
ALSO BECAUSE I COULD ENGAGE IN THE POULTRY BUSINESS WITHOUT INTERFERENCE TO MY SCHOOL WORK.
