WHITON ESTATE ALLOWS $150,000 FOR A LIBRARY

Total Amount Available Under Wills of Doctor and Widow May Go a Little Over That Figure.

Under the terms of the will of the late Mary Elizabeth Whiton, wife of the late Dr. F. H. Whiton, filed for probate today, over $150,000 is available for the development of the Manchester Public Library, or the erection of a building to house the library. Dr. F. H. Whiton's will originally bequeathed the residue of his estate to the Town of Manchester for library purposes, the building to be within the Eighth district. Mrs. Whiton's will bequeaths the balance of the income from her husband's estate for the same purpose.

Presidential Inventory
Dr. F. H. Whiton's estate is inventoried by the City Bank and Trust Company of Hartford, and the present date. Mrs. Whiton's estate has not yet been inventoried, but the bank's trust officers estimate that about $200,000 will be available under her will for the library.

Directors of the library have been aware that a large sum was available under these wills for library purposes and have given the question considerable thought. Several angles developed, one of them being the suggestion that this money can be combined with that available under the will of Dr. F. H. Whiton.

Other angles include the proposed site for the Whiton library should the executors decide that a building for that purpose must be erected to carry out the stipulations in the will.

The will of Dr. Francis H. Whiton for 40 years one of Manchester's leading physicians is here quoted in connection with the will of his widow Mary Elizabeth Whiton, who died on Jan. 7 and whose will has been offered for probate by the executors, the City Bank and Trust Company of Hartford.

After the death of my said wife the said trust shall terminate and the balance of said trust fund remaining I give and bequeath unto the Town of Manchester, aforesaid, its successors and assigns forever, the same to be used for the purpose of developing and extending the present Public Library of which have been for a long time director, or in the erection of a library building and, if necessary, the purchase of land for the site therefore, such building and site to be situated in the Eighth School District of said Town of Manchester.

TREASURY BALANCE
Washington, Jan. 24 (AP)—Treasury receipts for January 22 were $5,619,899.38; expenditures $7,195,013.76; balance $102,480,715.11.

Over 1,000 Rescued Before Liner Sinks

Buenos Aires, Argentine, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Radio advices from Ushuaia today reported that the German steamer Monte Cervantes, which went aground off that place Wednesday, sank last night. Commander Dreyer went down with the ship. A working crew which had remained on board the vessel which struck a rock opening a big hole in the bow, barely saved themselves. The ship sank by the starboard. The 1,100 passengers who were aboard the vessel when she went aground had been put ashore safely yesterday. The Delino Navigation Company, agent of the Monte Cervantes, previously had received a radio message from Commander Dreyer announcing that all the passengers and most of their baggage was saved, adding that the attempt to lighten the ship was not successful. He said that he and his officers continued on board. Messages received by the company declared the survivors numbered 1,120 passengers and 302 crew. The disaster asserted the abandonment of the ship was carried out with discipline. At dawn wireless messages were received from Ushuaia saying that the vessel had been put ashore safely. Dreyer was born in Germany and was 56 years old. He became captain in 1910 and took command of the Monte Cervantes two years ago.

DECLARES LOBBY PROBE A USELESS PROCEEDING

Secretary of Tariff League Also Says Senate Should Be Subordinate to the House in Congress.

Washington, Jan. 24.—(AP)—After asserting that the actions of the Senate lobby committee "seemed so useless a proceeding," Arthur L. Faubel, secretary of the American Tariff League, surprised the committee today with the assertion that the Senate should take a subordinate position to the House of Representatives in the English system of government.

No Much Difference
Replying that it was a matter of indifference "to us whether we are known as a lobbying organization or not," Faubel said the attitude of the country's newspapers had disapproved the actions of the committee. "This whole to-do and discussion," he said, "didn't seem to me to make very much difference."

Backs Grundy
Continuing, the league secretary said he approved the statement of Joseph R. Grundy, now Senator from Pennsylvania, before the committee that "backward" states should talk "damned sense" at that time a matter.

NORWAY TO HELP
Oslo, Norway, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Replying to a request from the United States minister for Norwegian whalers to assist the Byrd expedition in the Antarctic, the Norwegian government today informed the American government it would do its best.

GETS TEN YEARS
New Haven, Jan. 24.—(AP)—James McElyea, who pleaded guilty to manslaughter for the fatal shooting of Archie Suggs last Thanksgiving in a workmen's camp in North Haven, was sentenced to a term of five to ten years in the state prison at Wethersfield. The men are negroes.

RATE RAISE ON HIDES IS NOT FAVORED

Senate Rejects Oddie Proposal for Increase of Above 10 Per Cent; Vote Stood at 39 to 31.

Washington, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The Senate today rejected the Oddie proposal to increase the tariff on hides above the 10 per cent ad valorem rate carried in the Hawley-Smoot bill. Hides are now on the free list. The vote was 39 to 31. The amendment offered by Senator Oddie, Republican, Nevada, would have provided specific rates of five cents on green hides and nine cents on brown hides and leather and shoes three or more times greater than that provided by the House and Senate finance committee measures.

Offers Amendment
Senator Oddie then offered a modified amendment to provide rates of four cents a pound on green and eight cents a pound on brown hides and leather and shoes. His motion would place these articles again on the free list. The vote against the modified amendment was 37 to 30.

Accused of Directing 10 Million Dollar Swindle—Was Noted Financier.

London, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Clarence Hatry, for many years head of the widespread Hatry interests, was sentenced to fourteen years penal servitude at the Old Bailey Court today, and an additional five years on charges of defrauding. Justice Avery, presiding, was unsparring in his condemnation of the four financiers.

FORAN DECLINES TO TALK
New York, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Returning today from Washington to his offices here, Col. Arthur F. Foran, comptroller of the Customs at the Port of New York, declined to comment on the campaign being waged by the Anti-Saloon League of New Jersey to block his reappointment.

The mail matter contained ed letters telling of the charge of 10 cents for all checking accounts less than $100 as told in the Herald last evening. In addition to this was enclosed a pamphlet explaining the necessity of the charge.

JAPAN'S POSITION

London, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Reijiro Wakatsuki, former prime minister of Japan, speaking at the five-power conference for Japan today, declared that it was desirable for the powers to reach an agreement about auxiliary craft on a new basis, but did not definitely outline the technical needs of his country in naval power.
His reference to an agreement on auxiliary craft on a new basis embodied his recent statements that Japan would demand seventy per cent of the maximum cruiser strength of the strongest naval power.
He said that the conference aimed at world peace and at relieving peoples from growing tax burdens. A firming that international suspicion must be done away with, he declared that Japan was no menace to any nation and consequently would not permit herself to be menaced.

Last fall the Hatry companies crashed on the Stock Exchange and Hatry soon after was arrested on charges of stock frauds, he and several co-defendants being accused of financial frauds involving nearly $10,000,000. The trial opened several days ago and until today had been filled with accountants' testimony involving fabulous sums and indicating the colossal financial structure which Hatry had reared.

LEAPS TO DEATH

St. Louis, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Miss Beaulieu gave her to one-third of the $444,000 estate of her father, Henry Greve, commission merchant, plunged to her death early today from a window of her sixth floor room at the Forest Park hotel.
Employees at the hotel, where she had resided for three years, said the woman had been in ill health for some time and recently had been in charge of a nurse.

ity in treaty-making as may be practicable.
In conferences today, notable among which was with French premier Raymond Poincaré, Secretary of State Stimson insisted that Italy was willing to reduce as low as anyone else, but on condition that she could build equal to any other continental power. He declared that this proposition was not entered at France, pointing out that Russia is building a new fleet and that Germany also has done wonders with the 10,000-ton ship allowed her under the Treaty of Versailles.
The Franco-British report considered at today's meeting between the British and French concerned a possible compromise system of measuring navies which would satisfy French demands as set forth in a memorandum presented to the conference. It was said in French sources afterward that some slight progress had been made and the two experts asked to submit an additional report to the Anglo-French delegations meeting on Monday.
The experts' report also dealt with the possibility of a general non-aggression pact dealing with the Mediterranean. The French likewise have indicated a desire to exclude from the negotiations the smallest submarines. It is understood the Japanese are favorable to this step.

Wider Disarmament
The feeling developed in some influential quarters that the discussions are paving the way for French participation in a five-power treaty perhaps with a reservation stating that she regards the arrangement as for a period only hoping later to couple it with a wider disarmament plan covering land armaments and linking with the League of Nations disarmament efforts.
The suggestion was advanced that limitations might be so arranged as to permit France to transfer to the cruiser category some of the battleship tonnage allowed her under the Washington treaty but which she never used. This was offered as a possible means of permitting her to go on with cruiser building which she regards essential.

In urging that the cruiser angle of the Anglo-American parity problem be taken up first, Secretary Stimson struck directly at the most troublesome question in the whole parity discussion. Although agreed on other points, the exact balance of the American and British cruiser fleets is one point never settled. As the matter stands, disparity amounts roughly to whether the United States is to build in the next five years as many cruisers as projected 10,000-ton British cruisers under the fifteen cruiser program. Secretary Stimson hopes to go into this matter fully over the week-end with his own delegation whom he is entertaining at his country place on the outskirts of London.

EX-RUSSIAN SOLDIER ATTACKS BOLSHEVIKS

Stamford, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Trial of three Communistic sympathizers on charges of violating a city ordinance, in connection with distribution of notices of a meeting of notices of a meeting of workers and a Lenin memorial meeting, brought to light here today an attack on one of the most prominent Bolsheviks, a former Russian soldier and revolutionist under Kerensky, but now an American citizen and an opponent of Sovietism in any form or manner.
Isador Wolfson, of 394 Atlantic street and Irving Nochnowitz of 61 William street were arrested for passing notices of the meeting of workers. Charles McMahon of Cob was arrested when he and McMahone were engaged in an argument when McMahon was giving out notices of the Lenin memorial meeting here.
Micheef said he was a soldier in the Russian army and he joined the Bolsheviks under Kerensky. He did not sympathize with the Bolsheviks when they came into control, and made his way to Constantinople and thence to America. He is now employed as an assembler in the Yale and Towne Mfg. Co. here.
"My uncle, my best friends and priests and other good men were shot down by the Bolsheviks without reason. I am against the Soviet and when I saw McMahon distributing notices of a Lenin memorial meeting, I got mad and sought to take the hand bills and burn them," said Micheef.
The Communistic sympathizers were fined $10 and costs each, and appealed to the Common Pleas Court in bond of $100 each. They claim the city ordinance invades their constitutional rights.

MOVE TO CONSOLIDATE VETS. ORGANIZATIONS

Washington, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Creation of a Department of Veterans Affairs, under an officer to be known as a director general, was recommended informally to Congress today by four veterans organizations as the most feasible way to carry out President Hoover's suggestion for a consolidation of all veteran agencies under one governmental office.
The measure was drafted in compliance with a request of Representative Dalingler, Republican, Massachusetts, a member of the House expenditures committee and carried the endorsement of Rice W. Means, legislative chairman of the United Spanish War Veterans; E. S. Bettelheim, Jr., legislative chairman of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; John Thomas Taylor, vice chairman of the American Legion legislative committee; and Thomas Kirby, chairman of the legislative committee tee of the disabled American Veterans.

The measure would provide for the transfer to the proposed Department of the Veterans Bureau, the Pension Bureau and the National Home for Disabled Soldiers, with all their personnel. In addition, it would provide that the director general have authority to coordinate the three consolidated agencies and to administer acts applying to them.

FOUR FIREMEN HURT
Philadelphia, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Four firemen were injured and damage estimated at $200,000 was done today when fire swept through the Gaston Presbyterian church, Eleventh street and Lehigh avenue. Except for patches of roof, only the walls of the edifice were standing when firemen gained control of the blaze after a four hour battle.

The church was founded in 1876. The first Christian Endeavor society in this city was organized in Gaston church in 1885.

TARDIEU OUTLINES FRANCE'S POSITION

Her Possessions Scattered All Over World—Needs a Navy to Protect Them.

London, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Premier Tardieu's statement at the conference today emphasized the great extent of the coast line of the mother country and the vast extent of her colonies and other possessions for which France is responsible and which are widely scattered throughout the world.

The premier particularly stressed the fact that France's immense overseas possessions are second only to those of Great Britain. He spoke of the urgent necessity of always assuring communication between the mother country and the colonies and of protecting also by suitable forces trade exchanges between the colonies themselves.

France's general commerce with the colonies is rapidly and constantly growing. He refrained from any mention of naval requirements in terms of figures in his opening statement, but gave his hearers to understand that from the viewpoint of absolute needs they would have to be sufficient to take care adequately of France and her international position. However, the existence of a particular political situation, or of a special condition of international agreements would, from the standpoint of relative needs bring about a diminution of France's absolute naval needs.

Naval Requirements. "Our naval requirements depend more particularly on the fact of knowing whether, in case of conflict, the country can depend upon itself only or whether an international collaboration has been organized against the aggressor nation," he said.

Premier Tardieu emphasized that from a military standpoint two duties devolve upon France the gravity of which it would be superfluous to underline. Being obliged to keep a considerable strength in her overseas territories, France must first be able at all times to depend on her navy to assure her possibility of transporting necessary forces from, or to, any point of her empire. In the second place, France must be able for the defense of the mother country, to use at any time her total resources. The consequence was that protection of lines of communication was of essential importance in France's economic life.

Great Distances. The fact that the coasts of the French mainland are scattered over three different seas, he said, results in the necessity of dividing France's home fleets and in case of war, these could be concentrated only after several days. He emphasized that the fleets could only concentrate by utilizing routes dangerous from a military point of view and which are normally under the control of other powers.

He said the vast extent of France's responsibilities are concerned by their being scattered over every part of the world. He explained they are divided into seven groups as follows: The North African group, the Eastern group, the West African group, the American group including West India, Guiana, the Indian ocean, and St. Pierre, the Indian ocean, and the Indo-Chinese group. The premier said this great length of coasts, these long lines of communication and great distances between bases, "obliges France's navy to be on all the seas."

WOMEN CLUBS' LUNCHEON

New Haven, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The annual luncheon of the State Federation of Women's Clubs will be held at the Hartford Women's Club tomorrow, it was announced here today. Presidents of five new Federated clubs will be presented at the assembly. They represent the Trumbull Community, Long Hill Community, the Terryville Women's, the Bridgeport Delphian and the West Haven Womans clubs.

This winter certainly has been a small press agent stunt for the groundhog.

NATIONAL SPEAKERS FOR UNION MEETING

Walcott Among List of Notables to Discuss Agricultural Problems, February 5th.

Hartford, Jan. 24.—The latest and best in agricultural information, research and investigation in the broader fields of production and marketing will be revealed to Connecticut farmers on February 5th, at the Union Agricultural Meeting in Hartford. Farmers, it is explained, are no longer satisfied with "second-hand" information. They want the best information that the country affords and in making up the program for the sixth annual Union Meeting, Commissioner of Agriculture S. McLean Buckingham has endeavored to secure an array of speakers representing the latest work in knowledge of the farmers' vital problems.

Believing that the best information could be obtained from those highest in the agricultural field, Commissioner Buckingham went right to the top and secured the United States Secretary of Agriculture to head the list of speakers. Secretary Hyde, however, has since found it will be impossible for him to be present and R. W. Dunlap, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, has been secured.

Secretary Dunlap is an exceptionally good speaker and especially well fitted to discuss the inside workings of the numerous branches of the U. S. Department. The following taken from one of his recent addresses, shows this close personal touch with the Department: "Although the Department of Agriculture was founded primarily for the farmers, it has developed services of untold value to the entire population. During the four years that I have been connected with the Department of Agriculture as its assistant secretary, I have found a great many people who believe that the activities of the Department are of interest only to farmers. Such is not the case.

"During the past four years I have learned to think of the Department of Agriculture as a storehouse of information for every citizen of the United States, the contents of which is yours for the asking."

Further enthusiasm has been shown toward the meeting with the announcement that seems quite probable that James C. Stone, Vice-Chairman of the Federal Farm Board, will be present. Stone represents the tobacco interests on the Board and which has not yet accepted the invitation to be present at the evening of the 5th, indications are that he will be in Hartford that day and if such is the case, he will undoubtedly speak at the Union Agricultural Banquet. It is expected that he will explain how the Farm Board can aid New England.

C. F. Adams, key-man of one of the large chain store organizations, will be present and discuss the trend in chain store methods of buying. Commissioner Buckingham believes it impossible to develop an adequate program without having all available information. Mr. Adams has the reputation of frankly expressing himself and it is expected his talk will throw some interesting sidelights on the marketing of native fruits, vegetables, eggs and milk.

Last but not least of the national notables to be present at the banquet will be Senator Frederic C. Walcott who will act as toastmaster. Senator Walcott is taking an important part in the work of the senate agricultural committee. The banquet is again to be a feature with all Connecticut products listed on the menu from oysters to ice cream, including Connecticut Native Fancy Turkey. While it is difficult to estimate the number that will attend the banquet, Commissioner Buckingham expressed the opinion that with such a notable list of speakers it is well within the bounds of reason to expect at least 500 people. Farm women and 4-H Club boys and girls are cordially invited to attend both sessions.

Dr. George A. Works, President of the Connecticut Agricultural College, will preside at the afternoon session which is to be held at 2:00 p. m. in the Colonial Room of the new Bushnell Memorial Hotel. The Connecticut Agricultural Policy Conference at Storrs to study the dairy, poultry, tobacco, fruit, vegetable and potato industries will make suggestions outlining a plan for increasing the net income of Connecticut farmers. This session promises to be full of interest and its conclusions should play an important part in solving many of our agricultural problems.

SENATE PETITIONS

Senator Frederic C. Walcott of Connecticut presented the following petitions to the Senate yesterday. RESOLUTIONS from the Hartford Section, Council of Jewish Women, Hartford and the Board of Trustees of Temple Beth El Stamford, Conn., opposing any modification of the existing calendar that would include a blank day or otherwise disturb the continuity of the Sabbath. RESOLUTION from the City Council of the City of Bristol, Conn., and a petition from sundry citizens of Torrington, Hartford, Lebanon, Wethersfield, New Britain, Waterford, West Hartford, Willimantic, Stafford, South Manchester, Wilton, Glastonbury, Watertown, Portland, Woodstock, Windsor, Conn., favoring the passage of legislation granting increased pensions to Spanish War Veterans.

RESOLUTION from the Foreign Missionary Society of the Grace M. E. church of New Haven, Conn., and the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Middletown, Conn., favoring the prompt ratification of the proposed World Court protocol. PETITION from the Lebanon League of Women Voters, Lebanon, Conn., favoring the passage of the Jones-Cooper Bill, providing for the health and welfare of mothers and children.

MENUS For Good Health

A Week's Supply Recommended By Dr. Frank B. McCoy

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday January 26th:

SUNDAY Breakfast—Baked eggs, Melba toast, stewed figs. Lunch—Asparagus, string beans, salad of watercress and lettuce. Dinner—Celery soup, broiled chicken, baked tomatoes, spinach, hard lettuce, Jello or Jell-well.

MONDAY Breakfast—Broiled ham, crisp waffles, maple syrup. Lunch—Potato soup, salad of chopped raw cabbage and parsley. Dinner—Boiled fresh beef tongue, baked squash, combination salad of cooked carrots and peas and celery, baked pear.

TUESDAY Breakfast—Coddled egg, toasted shredded wheat biscuit, stewed raisins. Lunch—Cooked lettuce, buttered beef, salad of grated carrots. Dinner—Jellied tomato bouillon (served in cubes), broiled lamb chops, creamed cucumbers, baked eggplant, salad of raw celery, pineapple whip.

WEDNESDAY Breakfast—Cottage cheese baked apple, Melba toast, stewed raisins. Lunch—Buttered macaroni, spinach, salad of head lettuce. Dinner—Vegetable soup, roast beef, cooked tomatoes, cooked celery, salad of grated raw beets, minced prunes in gelatin, whipped cream.

THURSDAY Breakfast—Coddled egg, whole-wheat muffins, stewed raisins. Lunch—Raw apples as desired. Dinner—Mutton chops, baked parsnips, lettuce (cooked), string bean salad, apricot whip.

FRIDAY Breakfast—Baked stuffed apple. Lunch—Rice en casserole, salad of shredded lettuce. Dinner—Tomato and celery soup, baked white fish, spinach, salad of tomatoes and celery, Jello or Jell-well (no cream).

SATURDAY Breakfast—Frenched egg on Melba toast, stewed peaches. Lunch—Generous dish of junket. Dinner—Vegetable soup, Salisbury steak, buttered beets, tomato-spinach-asparagus salad, cup custard. Creamed cucumbers: Peel and cut in half lengthwise the desired number of cucumbers. Remove the seeds or not, as you prefer. Cook in small amount of unsalted water, on top of the stove or in the oven for twenty minutes. When ready to serve, add a little salt if you wish, several lumps of butter, and a generous amount of thick, hot cream.

Although cucumbers may be considered by some as a luxury at this time of year, their health-giving qualities compensate for their somewhat higher price during the winter months, and, where necessary, one should endeavor to cut on the budget elsewhere rather than stint on the vital greens at this time.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS (Hardened Joints) Question:—Mrs. L. S. R. writes: "Kindly advise me if there is a cure for neuritis of about five years' standing, where the patient's limbs are disabled on account of cartilage having hardened in the joints. If there is no absolute cure, would a strict fasting and diet regime relieve the awful suffering? Also, would a warm climate be of benefit in preference to the cold weather of the north?" Answer: It is always possible to remove the soreness due to neuritis or arthritis. You are undoubtedly suffering from the latter, which causes calcification around the joints. The fasting and diet cure will always remove the pains connected with arthritis. They will, however, continue to recur if the real cause is not removed. I am satisfied there is only one fundamental cause of arthritis, and that is the re-absorption of poisons from the colon. Your bowels must be made to move two or three times daily, either through diet, enemas or laxatives. A warm climate always favors skin elimination and because of this, rheumatic patients are usually more comfortable in a dry, warm climate. (Impurities from Smoke) Question:—M. S. asks: "When impurities from tobacco are deposited in the lungs by inhaling, do they remain there, or are they eventually carried away by the blood?" Answer: The tar-like substances deposited in the lungs are usually gradually carried away, but undoubtedly they accumulate in many cases, and this is a definite cause for the start of certain lung disorders, such as tuberculosis. If the smoker does not inhale, he is in danger of any of the tobacco impurities reaching the lungs.

On January 24, 1861, the state of Georgia authorized the seizure of the federal arsenal at Augusta and also Forts Pulaski and Jackson. This action, following closely that state's vote for secession, was one of the important events which foreshadowed the Civil War. Coincident with this belligerent gesture on the part of the Georgians came the seizure of important federal property in other southern states. The federal arsenals at Charleston, S. C., Mobile, Ala., and Baton Rouge, La., all heavily garrisoned, were among the principal Union possessions to fall into the clutches of the Secessionists. So it came to pass that before Abraham Lincoln was inaugurated the southern states had captured most of the 33 defensive fortifications in their territory. The forts, with the 3,000 guns they were estimated to contain, represented a $20,000,000 seizure. This date in history also commemorates the ordering of the Battleship Maine to Cuba, after public feeling in the United States was aroused by the terrible state of suffering in Cuba, resulting from Spanish methods of dealing with the insurrection there.

COLD IN THE SOUTH Atlanta, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Three deaths were chargeable today to the low temperatures in the mid-south. Zero weather again penetrated Arkansas and depressed the mercury in Mississippi and Louisiana. A layer of ice held snow on the ground in Arkansas and prevented the picking of late cotton. In the opinion of the commissioner of agriculture the Louisiana sugar cane crop has been damaged 25 to 30 per cent.

ITALY IS WILLING TO CUT DOWN NAVY But All Other Nations Must Do Same, Says the Foreign Minister.

London, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy, speaking at today's naval conference session said that regarding the connection between the armaments requirements and security of a country, armaments should be reduced to the extent compatible with the defense needs of each country. He said he could not state the Italian requirements in absolute figures because they were determined by the armaments of other countries. "But Italy favors reducing armaments to the lowest level possible," he continued, "and therefore the Italian delegation is willing to leave it to the other powers to determine the size of their armaments, reserving the right to regulate its own requirements by theirs.

Italy Isolated "To all intents and purposes, Italy is an island deficient in some of its most essential raw material, and set in an inland sea, Italy is a country with world wide interests and commitments whose metropolitan area is closed by the Mediterranean. "All our land communications must cross the barrier of the Alps and our maritime communications lie through straits situated a thousand miles from our ports. Italy is exclusively dependent for nearly all supplies essential to her existence on ocean-borne imports which therefore must come through the Straits of Gibraltar or Suez, therefore being placed in a particularly unfavorable situation."

Needs for Defense The absolute needs for defense of Italy's very existence, Foreign Minister Grandi said, will therefore wholly justify her insistence on a relative superiority of strength and in any case she has the right to expect that she will not be asked to deprive herself of her present right to naval armaments on a level with those of any other European Continental powers. He expressed hope that the principle of the one-power standard may be applied at the lowest possible level by Italy in her relations to Continental European countries. Italy is ready to reduce armaments to any level, no matter how low, provided that level be not exceeded by any other European Continental power, he concluded.

Some people are perfectly willing to give you credit, but in due time usually a bill collector calls.

COMMERCIAL EXECUTIVES CONVENE IN HARTFORD

COURT SETS DATE FOR LEVITT CASE

Hartford, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Arguments by Prof Albert Levitt of Redding why a writ of mandamus should be issued against the attorney general to compel him to bring out proceedings against the Public Utilities Commission today were before the Superior Court. Attorney General Benjamin W. Alling attended the hearing yesterday but took no part in the arguments. His representative Deputy Attorney General Ernest L. Averill waived any technical objections and made a return to the petition, filed by one hundred voters to oust the commission, in which he incorporated the memorandum he wrote December 3, setting forth reasons why he had refused to act on the petition previously.
Professor Levitt moved to strike out the memorandum as irrelevant and immaterial and also to strike out the last part of it as a defense by the attorney general for his failure to act.
Judge Newell Jennings set next Friday for filing briefs on the mandamus application.
Professor Levitt is one of 100 citizens who filed a petition October 22, 1929, asking the attorney general to act against the utilities commission on charges of material neglect of duty. This the attorney general did not do, and mandamus proceedings ensued.
Yesterday's arguments hinged on interpretation of Section 3614, General Statutes which reads: "The attorney general shall file such complaint (against the commission) if so requested in writing by 100 electors of this state." Col. Averill argued that to move against the commission, the attorney general must allege specific material neglect and that only when he can honestly say there has been such neglect of duty. He interpreted Prof. Levitt's as insisting that the attorney general may use his discretion to weigh the allegations.
Professor Levitt said he felt the attorney general thought irrefragable charges were necessary before moving against the commission and claimed this reading of the statute incorrect. The petitioners offer as their specific charge of neglect, the alleged failure of the commission to order railroad crossings abolished at a rate of one for fifty miles of track a year.

NEW BRITAIN MAN ROBBED IN GARAGE

New Britain, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Charles Ross, an employe of the American Railway Express Company, was held up, clubbed and robbed of $200 at midnight in a garage at the rear of his home, 157 Fairview street.
As he was stepping out of his car two men attacked him. One struck him on the head with a club, knocking him to the floor. He feigned unconsciousness while a robber searched in one of his pockets and took the money. In another pocket was $219 and a check for $50 which his assailants did not take.
When the police investigated his story today they found blood on the floor of the garage. Ross had a large welt on the side of his head.
Several suspects were questioned by the police but no arrests have been made.

MAN DIES SUDDENLY

Farmington, Conn., Jan. 24.—(AP)—Thomas Flood, 50, of Pearl Court, New Britain died suddenly early today at his Farmington roadhouse where he and Thomas J. Miskery of 49 Bingham street, Forestville had stopped to eat on their way to the latter's home from the Hartford automobile show at 11:30 last night. While their food was being prepared at the "Silver Slipper" Mr. Flood complained of feeling ill and laid down. He fell asleep and was allowed to rest until 2:30 when some anxiety was felt and efforts were made to arouse him but in vain. Dr. George F. Cook, Flatville medical examiner, pronounced him dead. The body was removed to Hale's undertaking rooms in Unionville where an autopsy was to be performed today.
Mr. Flood, police and friends said, never drank liquor.
Mr. Flood leaves his wife and two children, his mother, Mrs. John Flood of New Britain, four sisters and one brother, who were notified of the death. Mr. Flood had been employed as a baker by the Parker Ducky Company.

MOVE TO EXTRADITE MOE NEUMAN FAILS

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 24.—(AP)—Counsel for Moe Neuman, alleged gangster wanted in Boston for the killing of Samuel Reigstein, reported head of a white slave ring, today had gained a temporary victory in the legal battle to prevent extradition of Neuman to Massachusetts.
Efforts of Massachusetts authorities to obtain immediate extradition of Neuman, now held at Philadelphia, were blocked at a hearing before John V. Scott, a deputy attorney general, yesterday. Scott also consented to the request of Neuman's counsel to delay a decision until the latter had had an opportunity to file briefs in the case. As a result, no decision on the requisition will be made until next week.
Harry P. Felger, counsel for Neuman, tried to prove a case of "mistaken identity." Felger maintained that the Moe Neuman wounded on a Philadelphia street corner by a supposed rival gangster is not the Moe Neuman wanted for Reinstain's killing.
Felger previously had obtained an injunction in Philadelphia courts preventing Massachusetts authorities from seeing Neuman in the hospital.
Scott announced he would not make a recommendation to Governor Fisher regarding the extradition until he had received Felger's briefs next Monday.

MEDICAL MISSIONARIES TO TOUR SOUTH AMERICA

Miami, Fla., Jan. 24.—(AP)—A 6,808 mile tour of Central and South America today lay before a party of six modern medical missionaries, who have chartered two airplanes to carry information regarding the latest developments in medicine and surgery to Latin American practitioners.
Under the auspices of the American Medical Association authorities, the aero-clinic has as its goal the Pan-American Medical Association convention in Panama City, January 30. Stops will be made en route to Panama City and returning to perform operations, hold conferences with foreign medical men and show motion pictures of the new methods of the profession in the United States.
In the party are: Dr. William Sharpe, president of the Broad Street and Pan-American hospital and clinics, New York; Dr. George W. Hawley, Bridgeport, Conn.; Dr. Charles H. Gratz, director of the Pan-American bone fracture and orthopedic clinic; Dr. Fred H. Albee, consultant surgeon for bone surgery, Pan-American hospital and clinics; Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, health commissioner for the city of Chicago, and Dr. Alex Fofa.

NATIONAL PARKS HEAD IS DEAD IN BAY STATE

Brookline, Mass., Jan. 24.—(AP)—Death today had claimed Stephen Ting Mather, whose work as director of National parks in the Department of the Interior was the handling of the playgrounds of America for more than a decade under three presidents. He was 62 years old.
A former newspaper man and business executive in New York, Chicago and Pennsylvania, Mr. Mather entered the service of the government in 1915 under Woodrow Wilson, as assistant secretary of the Interior. He became director of the National Park service in 1917 and served in that capacity under Presidents Wilson, Harding and Coolidge until ill health forced his retirement in 1928.
His widow and a daughter survive. The body will be taken to Darien for burial.

Charleston, S. C., Jan. 24.—(AP)—The navy dirigible Los Angeles soared over Charleston at 8:45 a. m. today on its way from its hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., to the Marine base at Parris Island, S. C.

MARINES AND CLERKS TO GET SAME SALARIES

London, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Parity was established today between the United States Marines and the stenographers attached to the American naval conference delegation.
The gloom which pervaded the Marine ranks yesterday after they were informed their allowance would be only $3.50 as compared with $8.00 allotted to each of the stenographers was turned into joy this morning when Captain John Halla told the line-up they henceforth would receive 21 shillings 6 pence daily.
This translated into American currency is about $5.16 and is given in addition to their rooms, breakfast, bath and fires. For the latter two the English hotels make an added charge. In view of somewhat lesser expenses of the Marines than the girls attached to the delegation it was calculated the increase just about evens things up.

SHOT BY DRY AGENT

Detroit, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Accosted by a customs board patrol inspector as he was embarking from a rowboat at the foot of Maple street in Wyandotte shortly before midnight, Walter Grundt, 27, was shot by the officer and probably fatally wounded.
Grundt was taken to the Wyandotte General Hospital. Wyandotte police said they had been unable to learn the name of the Federal officer who did the shooting but officers of the border patrol said this morning that the inspector had been disarmed and was being held for questioning by Col. Heinrich A. Pickert, collector of customs.

KIDNAPED SMITH GIRL FINALLY IDENTIFIED

Northampton, Mass., Jan. 24.—(AP)—The 21-year-old daughter of a Buffalo, N. Y., millionaire, Miss Susan Albright, was the Smith College student who was kidnaped and held prisoner for two hours by three persons on Tuesday night and then released.
The girl was snatched into an automobile containing two men and a girl after they had hailed her on Tuesday night. They blindfolded her and drove to a house some distance away. After her pleading with her captors she was driven back to the college grounds and released.
President William Allen Neilson of the college, although declining to confirm or deny the identification declared his belief that the kidnapers had not intended any harm to the girl.

MOTHERS ARE LEARNING USES OF MAGNESIA

From the beginning of expectancy until baby is weaned. That's the time Phillips Milk of Magnesia performs the greatest service for many women.
It relieves the expectant mother's nausea, heartburn, "morning sickness," inclination to vomit; helps her digestion. Its mild but effective laxative action assures regular bowel movement.
Phillips Milk of Magnesia is better than lime water for neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding. A teaspoonful of it does the work of a half pint of lime water. It is a mild laxative; harmless, almost tasteless.
All drug stores have Phillips Milk of Magnesia in generous 25c and 50c bottles. Always insist on the genuine, endorsed by physicians for 50 years.
"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.
FREE: to young mothers and prospective mothers: "Useful Information," an invaluable little book on the health of mother and child. Write the Phillips Co., 117 Hudson St., New York, N. Y. It will be sent absolutely free of charge.—Adv.

FRIDAY, JAN. 24, 1930.

essor Levitt's crusade is concerned.

There is, however, another phase of this case which it might possibly be as well to bear in mind. And that is that the Redding warrior is, in all probability, succeeding one hundred per cent in what he is really trying to do—show the people of this state that under existing conditions they haven't a ghost of a show of winning any kind of a contest with any important public utilities corporation.

It is extremely doubtful if Professor Levitt believed, when he began this fight, that he had a chance as good as one in a thousand either of compelling the railroad company to eliminate grade crossings or of getting the personnel of the Public Utilities Commission fired. What he was after, there is every reason to believe, was a demonstration of the entrenched position of the New Haven road and similar organizations.

He has succeeded in arousing a considerable degree of curiosity in the minds of the people. That curiosity may very easily become a lively interest. And when once the interest of the people of this state is aroused in the question of whether the state is to belong to them or to the corporations, there is no telling what may happen.

After all, while it may be a very easy matter to squelch any proceedings undertaken by Professor Levitt or any other individual, in this relation, it may not prove so easy to squelch the public interest, not to say indignation, that those proceedings may arouse.

curriculums of the whole country are already more than sufficiently chopped into hash without having the 'unfortunate kids still further bedeviled in the interest of cheeky intruders from the outside.

It is high time that the people insisted that educational authorities keep propagandists and information fishers out of the schools.

THE LIBRARY—WHERE?

It is a many angled question that confronts the directors of the Manchester Free Library in the matter of deciding upon a location for the contemplated library building provided for by the will of the late Dr. Francis H. Whiton and that of his widow, if, as is assumed, the decision of that question lies entirely with the library board.

It seems to be determined, through the provisions of the bequests, that the building must be erected within the limits of the Eighth School District and though it might perhaps be argued that no such restriction in locality could be legally imposed when the library is a town institution, that question is not likely to become serious either now or in the future, and for present purposes the subject seems to be wholly an Eighth District problem.

As such, nothing can possibly be so important as the weight of opinion in that district on the matter of location. The Herald is today inviting a liberal expression of individual opinion by residents of the Eighth, and it is very much to be hoped that the invitation will be accepted. In no other way can the ideas of the residents of the district be brought to bear so effectively on a question the correct determination of which cannot escape exerting an important influence on North End progress.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER.

Washington.—Calendar simplification is rapidly becoming an issue of more immediate interest and the champions of simplification are working for results by 1933, which will be the easiest year to change this side of 1939.

In the United States the favorite "new calendar" idea appears to be that of a year divided into 13 months of 28 days each, with one extra day—the 365th—to be known as "Year Day" and not by any other name. January first would be Sunday and a given date in any month would always fall on the same day of the week. The new month would be placed between June and July.

Why Change Is Urged.

The main arguments for substituting such a calendar for the one we have now are these:

Business and economic life has become so complicated in months and weeks. Statistical comparisons are now no so good because there are months of 28, 29, 30 and 31 days and each year a given date falls on a different day of the week. Without the same number of weeks in a month a month cannot be divided into equal parts. A week this year can't be compared with a week last year because it isn't the same week. Different days of the week have different values to different businesses, and so with months. A month with five Sundays is different than a month with four Sundays.

Statistics are so vital in these days that all this means a great deal to business. With the 13-month calendar all months would have the same number of work-days, Saturdays and Sundays—and thus be directly comparable, family and business budgets would be simplified, much clerical work and expense would be saved and there would be a faster turnover of money with 13 monthly settlements.

The chief arguments in opposition are:

Confusion, complications and expense would result from calendar change. The number 13 is a divisible by two, three, four or six, the quarters of the 13-month years do not contain a whole number of months, 13 business closings instead of 12 would involve increased bookkeeping, Friday the 13th would come 34 times a year in the face of a superstition difficult to overcome, the regular occurrence of the seventh day, Sunday would be interrupted once each year and twice in leap years. Birthdays and anniversaries would have to be changed.

Jewish rabbis are among the bitterest foes of the proposed calendar, basing their convictions on the Old Testament and the continuity of the sequence of the seventh-day Sabbath. The Seventh Day Adventists and the Seventh Day Baptists support them. Inserting "Year Day" means that the Sabbath must come on an eighth day each year.

Nevertheless, more than a hundred large American business concerns are now using a system which divides the year into 13 periods for their own businesses and the calendar simplification movement is backed by a host of the largest trading, financial and labor organizations and scores of very prominent men and women serving on the National Committee on Calendar Simplification and its special subcommittees.

One of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce referenda show a majority of business men favoring calendar change by international conference.

National Committees Formed.

The whole movement is now headed toward the League of Nations which, at the instance of the International Chamber of Commerce, appointed a committee to study simplification. The committee studied 185 proposals. The one most favored, next to the 13-month calendar, is a 12-month plan which equalized the four quarters of the year.

In 1927, the league suggested to all nations selections of special committees to sound public sentiment and report. Secretary of State Kellogg sanctioned unofficial representation from several of our government departments on the American committee and the chairman is George Eastman, a vigorous supporter of simplification. Our committee was the first to report to the league, citing preponderant opinion in favor of the 13-month fixed calendar but expressing the belief that the best plan would emerge after discussion in an international conference.

The league is now awaiting reports from committees of other nations. Its assembly has placed the subject of calendar reform on the agenda of the next meeting of the Fourth General Conference on Communications and Transit in 1931, a conference of official government delegates. Some definite international program likely to emerge from that conference, although it does not seem likely that the calendar will be changed by 1933 as many of the simplification enthusiasts hope.

ALCOHOL PERMITS

One aspect of the proposed changes in the administration of the prohibitory laws is little considered by the general public and yet should be better understood before opinion concerning some of those changes becomes too definitely fixed.

There would seem to be very little sound argument against transferring from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice all those enforcement activities which have to do with the prosecution of offenders. But the thing to be borne in mind and which so often escapes attention is the fact that there are important activities in connection with prohibition which are altogether separate and distinct from proceedings against violators. The control of industrial alcohol permits, for example, is a service which bears an extremely intimate relationship to the whole vast, complicated machinery of industrial production in the United States.

There are literally hundreds of lines of manufacturing where alcohol is employed and must be available if production is to continue. This being the case it is obvious enough that the flow of this highly vital element into industrial plants of the country is a factor in the country's business which, however closely it must be watched, must at the same time proceed without interruption, delay or uncertainty.

It is very clear that whatever government agency has control of industrial alcohol permits must operate primarily as a service and not as a preventive or policing machine. It must approach the duty of legally distributing alcohol to the arts and industries with a full understanding of their needs and with a purpose to employ the elasticity of the prohibitory laws to whatever extent may be necessary in order to safeguard legitimate business.

This is perhaps the one function in connection with the dry laws which has heretofore been performed in such a way as to arouse little if any complaint from the interest most concerned—in this case the industrial world. Under Treasury Department administration, prohibition at least has not crippled the industries of the country by either block-headed inefficiency or fanatic interposition of technical obstacles to an ample supply of industrial alcohol.

To transfer this service to the Department of Justice would be to place it in the hands of an organization trained in suspicion and saturated with the police instinct—infinite useful qualities in themselves but capable of doing enormous mischief to the country's business if permitted to run wild or to overbalance a sense of responsibility for the adequate supply of alcohol to industry.

Whether the control of alcohol should ever have been placed with the Treasury Department is a question by itself. To many it will seem as if it should have gone to the Department of Commerce in the first place. But it would be as logical, and perhaps a good deal safer, to place the responsibility for instance of alcohol permits with the Department of Justice.

UNAWED

Edward S. Harkness, who scatters money upon educational institutions by the tens of millions, recently, after much consultation with the corporation, bestowed about $20,000,000 on Yale University for the establishment of the "house" system of student life. The gift, or rather, its proposed use, has produced an extraordinary reaction in the student body, where there is quick revolt against the proposed change. The fraternities particularly resent the inauguration of a plan which they declare would disrupt the social fabric of the university, turn the college into a "prep school" and at a stroke make out of Yale something very different from what Yale has always been.

As to the merits or demerits of the house or quadrangle plan, as applied to Yale, or of the position taken by the fraternities and so many of the student body, no one who is not a Yale man should, of course, hazard any sort of an opinion; this is absolutely a Yale affair. But the fact that there is widespread protest against the acceptance of the Harkness gift for this purpose possesses all by itself an interest in which anybody may share.

Twenty million dollars is an enormous sum. So great a sum that to even entertain the idea of rejecting it manifests a state of mind so unconventional as to be phenomenal. The aspect of this affair that strikes us as most significant of all is that the Yale student body should have the quality— independence, courage, proper or false pride or whatever it is—to look such an amazingly big gift horse in the mouth.

These young men may be altogether right or altogether wrong; as to that we are in no position to judge; but without the slightest reflection on the magnificent generosity of Mr. Harkness we must admit that we are impressed by the way in which they refuse to let the size of the animal affect their opinion as to its soundness of limb and wind.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 24.—Along Manhattan trails—Marilyn Miller taking a spotlight bow at the opening of her picture, "Sally." . . . And Flo Ziegfeld, grinning sheepishly as the light reveals him helping her into her wrap . . . Oh yes, Billie Burke is there too.

St. Mark's on the Bowery on a snow-filtered afternoon . . . A pastel bit of beauty incongruously cornered in the seething heart of the East Side . . . And seeming to stand dreaming of old legends and traditions . . . Including the tale of how ghouls once robbed a grave and held the corpse for ransom. To say nothing of the Rev. Guthrie's famous efforts at restoring the tomb which holds the body of Peter Styvessant.

Up to Harlem for a gay party in connection with the opening of the latest swanky way-up-town resort: the Plantation Club. And very, very nifty indeed, what with mirrors around the dance hall floor and Eddie Rector tap dancing as few in New York can tap dance . . . And Eddie Green, the comic, doing an ad lib song about the columnist present with a verse about my modest self . . . Which is the first time it ever happened and left me trying to hide under my stiff choker.

Lee Egan, the plump and pleasant lad who decided to put Harlem on the map . . . And look at it now! . . . And look at him! . . . Pierre Rohan, the movie critic, who told a picture magazine right out loud what he thought of him stories and so battered one of his own . . . That's what they call getting a break.

Dave's Blue Room and Lindy's in the early hours of the morning, with the clatter of gossip-mongers, actors, playwrights, gamblers, Broadway characters and newspaper gents with their ears wide open . . . The Rothstein case seems to have put the late night-eating resorts in the limelight in a very large way.

Jerome Kern, the composer, whose score for "Sweet Adeline" was handed the diadem by Heywood Brown . . . And a gent who would rather grab hold of a rare first edition than write a grand opera . . . That's the way it goes.

Always wanting what is not. Frances Rade, the pretty maid from "the village" who landed the contract as Ronald Colman's leading woman, trying to appear unconcerned as an army of cameramen swoop down on her for pictures . . . And who kept them all waiting half an hour while arguing over an extra shekel or two in her contract . . . The very lovely Joan Bennett, whose face will yet launch a thousand talkies, holding forth at an afternoon tea.

David Balasac without his clerical collar . . . Gunboat Smith, the pug, hustling around his Wall Street beat . . . They say he wears a lavender smock in the brokerage office to which he is attached . . . Annabelle Armstrong, whose father was Paul Armstrong, the popular play-wright, appearing as an actress in "the village" . . . Harry K. Thaw ambulating about in the night, shoulder to shoulder with his inevitable body guards . . . He has two of them now, and one is said to be a lawyer who goes wherever Harry goes and sees that he gets into no further legal entanglements.

An inebriate standing in the middle of an elevated train reciting "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" . . . And a young woman, garbed as an angel, getting out of a taxi at a fancy dress ball . . . Eddie Rickenbacker and Steve Hannigan doing their famous banter duet at a banquet for the Indianapolis Speedway . . . And a shivering urchin making his way homeward over the Brooklyn bridge after dancing for pennies in front of the theaters.

"The Just Way to Health"

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Blue Lips

Question:—L. W. writes: "My lips are at times rather dark. Is it a fact that bluish lips indicate 'heart trouble'?" I am 41 years old."

Answer: A change in the color of your lips is usually an indication of some heart derangement. The best way for you to find out your condition is to have some physician listen to your heart. This is far better than guessing about it. If you do have any kind of heart trouble, you can surely help yourself to improve by following instructions suited to your disorder. First, have the diagnosis, and then write to me again.

Buttermilk and Dates

Question:—Mrs. H. asks: "Why do you advise a sweet fruit, such as dates or figs, with buttermilk? I notice you advise this occasionally for lunch in your menus. Does the odor of the perspiration if it is pronounced, you are probably not getting enough water to wash the toxins out of your body, and it is a good plan to use more water, both on the outside and inside."

Answer: Milk contains lactic acid which when taken tends to destroy certain putrefactive bacteria in the intestines. The lactic acid can do this work better in the presence of something sweet; and dates, figs or raisins are recommended in place of other sugar.

Rheumatism and Neuritis

Question:—Mrs. J. B. asks: "Will you please explain the difference between rheumatism and neuritis?"

Answer: Rheumatism chiefly affects the muscles and joints, while neuritis is distinctly an inflammation of the nerve cells. It seems that the fundamental causes are the same, and that most of the trouble in both cases comes from an extreme amount of intestinal poisoning. An explanation of the difference in diagnostic points between these two disorders would only be confusing to you, but as the cause is essentially the same, the same treatment will get rid of either or both of these disorders.

CONFESSES ROBBERS

Pittsburgh, Jan. 24.—(AP)—A man who said he was "Jimmy" Burke, a Chicago gangster, was arrested here today. He told police he was wanted for the robbery of the Dime Savings Bank at Cleveland in May 1927; the holdup of a mail truck in South Chicago, in January, 1928; and the robbery of the Polish Savings Bank at Detroit in the summer of 1925.

Miami has 12 airports. Nine are landing fields, three bases for seaplanes.

HOW MUCH WATER?

One exercising or working in heat requires a large amount of water to maintain the natural balance. I sometimes advise patients to drink water according to two trial methods to find out which is the better for their particular case. They are first to try drinking after a meal if they are thirsty enough, and then they are to try not drinking after a meal, but only between meals. I then check up to see which is giving the best results in the particular cases.

Drinking large gulps of ice water is never to be recommended, either with meals or at any other time, but there is no particular harm in taking a moderate amount of water with meals, if it is not used to sludge down large chunks of unchewed food. It is not a good plan to drink before a meal, as children sometimes do, and in this way use up most of the stomach room with fluid and not leave enough for the food.

There are two ways of telling if you are drinking enough. One is by watching the urine. If it is clear, then the water intake is all right, but if the urine is cloudy or deeply colored, you are probably not getting sufficient water for your needs, and it is a good plan to drink an extra glassful about two hours before the time when you have noticed the urine to be heavy.

Another way is to observe the

LEVITT'S PURPOSE

The New Haven railroad, the Public Utilities Commission and that indefinite but far from negligible melange of individuals and interests which very largely exercises the power of management of Connecticut affairs, can probably afford to regard with more or less amused tolerance the efforts of Professor Albert Levitt to compel the railroad company to eliminate grade crossings. That is, they can probably afford to do so insofar as any risk of success attending Pro-

SCHOOL SNOOPERS

In South Norwalk the school children have been bombarded with a long winded questionnaire emanating from an outside source and calculated to give some Yale professor a mass of information concerning some research of interest to himself or his university department. In Bridgeport the tax collector had a lot of placards placed in schools in an effort to influence, through their children, taxpayers to pay up. Everybody knows that throughout the country the public utilities interests have long been campaigning in the schools to create in impressionable youthful minds an early prejudice against government control.

Unless something forceful is done to prevent this seepage into the schools of propaganda and psychological inquiry there is no knowing to what extent the attention of the children will eventually be diverted from the business of the schools. We may expect to have the agents of breakfast foods alternating between radio broadcasting and lecturing in the class rooms, advocates of special forms of life insurance occupying the mathematics periods with demonstrations, with perhaps lottery ticket sellers getting special permission to address the pupils during recesses.

It is notorious that the school

Mr. and Mrs. Terry were awakened by the flames. They rescued eight of their 12 children, but the other four were trapped in their

Soviet Governor Reports on Dog Sled Search Near Wrangle Island.

Moscow, Jan. 24.—(AP)—A wireless message from Wrangle island, off the northeastern coast of Siberia, to the Soviet Arctic Commission in Moscow, said today that the Arctic Circle made it almost impossible to discover any trace of the missing American aviators Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Gortland.

The message came from Governor Mineyeff of Wrangle island, who with a group of other Russians set out by dog sleds on January 7 in search of the lost American fliers. They returned to the island on January 14 without having found a trace of them.

"We moved along a line from Cape Doubt directly southward. About twenty-five kilometers from the island we encountered broken floating ice. There was no trace of storms under hunt."

"Constant heavy snowstorms have hindered our search, and we were obliged to return on January 14 because of lack of food for the dogs."

Minyeff added that his expedition was awaiting confirmation of recent rumors among the natives of the Chukotsk peninsula that Eielson's airplane had been seen landing in the vicinity of the Anguema river. If there was no sure information confirming this, he and his party were ready to start on a second trip in search of the Americans toward Rovers bay.

The Mineyeff expedition was only one of several ordered out by dog sled and airplane by Soviet authorities.

CONDITION OF STATE ROADS

ALASKA WARMER THAN OUR STATES

Chicago, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The Rocky Mountain states and the southwest after a fortnight of it, today have become resigned to sub-zero weather. In the middle west the cold wave has been unbroken for a week. Even Dixie shivers and the east was threatened today.

A seventy at Los Angeles and eighty at Miami, a 78 at Tampa and a 66 at San Diego provided about all the warm reading the temperature charts had to offer yesterday.

Alaska, strangely, basked in what it regards as mild weather, with the temperature in some places just under 30 above.

Only one city in the group classified as "west central states" failed to report a below zero reading yesterday. That was Little Rock, Ark., and the drop there was to two above. Temperatures in the Dakotas were as low as 30 below, though the average in the middle west was 20 degrees higher.

The mountain states which have been having "a spell of weather" for two weeks, continued cold, with the mercury around 26 below in Wyoming. Readings in Canada were much more temperate.

The flooded banks of the Wabash in Indiana and Illinois were scenes of suffering, with some relief for marooned families being afforded by airplanes and rescuers in boats. A report from Mount Carmel on the Illinois side of the Wabash said many persons in the bottom land had scarcely enough food to last a week and in some cases the food supply already was exhausted.

"THIRTEENTH CHAIR" HERE FOR TWO DAYS

Famous Stage Mystery to Be Shown at State Theater Today and Tomorrow.

Another successful stage play has come to the screen. "The Thirteenth Chair," the famous mystery play which held Broadway spellbound for a whole year, has been produced as an all-talking picture, and will head the program at the State today and Saturday.

Strange mysteries in a closed room; voices from the beyond, the exposing of mediumistic tricks and the dramatic solution of a baffling murder mystery are the elements which go to make this one of the most interesting pictures shown on the talking screen. Margaret Wycherly, who created the role of Rosalie La Grange, the medium, in the original stage offering, plays the role which she had in the stage play and has a battle of wits with the police for the life of her daughter.

Conrad Nagie and Lella Hyams play the romantic leads in the picture, working out a romance amid the mystery, and Bela Lugosi, who played "Dracula" on the stage, plays the part of the uncanny inspector, Delzante, who solves the mystery with the aid of the spirit medium.

The action of the play is laid in the British governor's home in Calcutta, and the weird mystery of India, together with strange lighting effects such as moonbeam shining on the murderer's knife thrown into the ceiling, are among the interesting technical details in the story.

The surrounding program includes Charlie Chase in the all talking comedy riot, "Great Gobs," chapter six of the "The King of the Kongo," Roy Evans in the laughable sketch, "St. Louis Blues," "The Wedding of the Painted Doll" and the latest Metrotone sound news.

POOL TO AID CHICAGO

Chicago, Jan. 24.—(AP)—A civic pool was being formed by leading business interests today on which to float the city, the county and the school board from their "no funds" dilemma.

The pool will be for the purpose of buying $50,000,000 in tax anticipation warrants, and this sum will be enough, according to officials, to run the local governmental bodies until the reassessment is completed and 1928 tax bills collected. The citizens' relief committee, under the chairmanship of Silas H. Strawn, is organizing the pool.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Jan. 24.—Segregation of the oil business of six of its subsidiaries is being arranged by the Columbia Gas and Electric Corp. It has organized the Appalachian Oil Development Corp. to acquire 756 oil wells and five gasoline compressor stations located in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia from its gas companies. The properties involved are valued at about $3,000,000.

Producers of sheet steel in the Chicago district report an increase in bookings resulting in an advance in operations to about 70 per cent of rated capacity, compared with 60 per cent last week.

H. A. Scandrett, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, said today that his company earned about $5.95 a share on its preferred stock last year. Loadings so far this month, he added, have been running behind the corresponding period of last year. In 1928, the railroad earned about $7.77 a share on the preferred and $2.81 a share on the common.

Reports that negotiations are under way for the acquisition of the Advance-Rumley Co., of La Porte, Ind., manufacturers of agricultural implements, by the Allis-Chalmers Co., of Milwaukee, were confirmed today by C. E. Albright, a director of Allis-Chalmers. He added, however, that he did not know how the negotiations would turn out.

RESCUES 400 TOURISTS

Buenos Aires, Jan. 24.—(AP)—More than 400 tourists from Buenos Aires were safe today aboard the Argentine war transport Vicente Fidel Lopez off the bleak shores of Tierra Del Fuego (land of fire) after the grounding of their ship, the Montecavantes, earlier on a rock in the Straits of Magellan.

While at first some fear was held for those aboard, it was said later the ship's position was near a lighthouse and that the Argentine war transport was standing by to help. Still later it was learned the passengers and crew had taken to the ship's boats and had been transferred to the transport safely. There were no casualties.

ARTISTS, NATIVES HERE, FEATURE CLUB'S CONCERT

Fred Patton Miss Gertrude Berggren Head List to Be Presented February 3.

The concert under the auspices of the Men's Friendship Club, of the South Methodist church and which is to be held in High School Hall Monday evening February 3rd, is interesting from many aspects, in that for this occasion the artists are by early associations and residence, truly Manchester "folk."

Miss Gertrude Berggren.

Outstanding in musical circles throughout this country is Fred Patton, who is still to all his many friends here, the jovial and good hearted boy he always was. "Just Fred." On his many frequent visits to his home town, his renewing of former friendships and interests in local affairs shows that eminence in his profession has not spoiled his kindness of disposition nor has he set himself up on a pinnacle unapproachable to his former schoolmates and fellow workers in Cheney's. Space unlimited could be used to write up the musical successes achieved by this artist, but here it is sufficient to say that wherever he appears in his work either concert, oratorio, or opera, it mostly always means repeat engagements for him because of the requests to have him back again, Miss Gertrude Berggren, is studied for years in this country and abroad with the foremost masters of this instrument, and has toured through this country, with amongst other organizations, "The Boston Octette," and has also appeared on concert programs, with Patton, Laura Littlefield of New York, Harold Trip and A. Cameron Steel of the Meistersingers of Boston. This as well as being frequently engaged for solo broadcasting on radio.

Archibald Sessions is the accompanist and he has already been in touch with the artists and secured from them the several items which they will contribute, and he is satisfied that a program of appeal to all interests is certain to be presented at this concert. The proceeds of the concert is on behalf of the pledge to the Building Fund, which was made by the "Men's Club," and with a worthy object backed by a worthy program, and such eminent artists, success is assured. Tickets are on sale by members of the club or may be secured by calling up the church office.

HOUSE ASKS DORAN ABOUT WITHDRAWALS

Washington, Jan. 24.—(AP.)—Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran was asked today by the House expenditures committee to furnish the names of concerns and the quantity of industrial alcohol withdrawn in the Thirtieth Prohibition District, which includes Chicago.

The expenditures committee, which is considering the proposed transfer of the prohibition enforcement unit from the Treasury to the Justice Department, took this action at an executive session.

During hearings yesterday, Representative Schaefer, Republican, Wisconsin, urged such a step.

Doran notified Chairman Williamson of the expenditures committee that it would require ten days to gather the information.

Schaefer said he wanted the information in order to learn how much industrial alcohol the W. T. Rawleigh Company at Freeport, Ill., had withdrawn.

No investigation

The committee also decided that a general investigation of the prohibition situation as proposed by one member would not be conducted during consideration of the transfer bill.

Chairman Williamson announced the hearings would be confined hereafter to the measure to carry out President Hoover's recommendations to strengthen the prohibition enforcement by effecting the transfer.

Schaefer said after the meeting he had favored enlarging the scope of the hearings.

Attorney General Mitchell is expected to appear before the committee tomorrow, Alfred C. Brockmeyer, a representative of the Retail Druggists Association and D. Aaron Youngquist, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition activities also have been asked to appear.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Washington—It looks as if the income of sundry actresses under whose pictures has appeared advice on how to get thin will be reduced. The Federal Trade Commission announces that an unnamed cigarette manufacturer has agreed to discontinue advertising featuring such testimonials as those of certain actresses "who were credited with the statement that through the use of the respondent's cigarettes that's how we stay slender, when in truth and fact the said actresses were not cigarette smokers and did not stay slender through the smoking of respondent's cigarettes."

New York—Having fallen in January waters, June is living the life of Reilly. June slipped carting snow on Governor's island, an Army reservation, and it took three and one-half hours to pull her out, after a prisoner dived and cut her harness. June, a mule, is getting a rest, but is to be watched lest she make a habit of cold bathing.

Little Rock, Ark.—Easel Wilson has a few teeth marks on one ankle to remind him of the stubbornness of his mule, and the mule is dead. The animal slipped on ice and got tangled in the harness. He grabbed Wilson's ankle when being extricated. Even a blow with an axe that broke the mule's jaw failed to free the ankle. Then the mule got a fatal blow on the head.

Highland, N. Y.—Workmen stringing wire for cables on the Hudson river vehicular bridge under construction go to work at 3 a. m. to avoid lengthening of the wire by expansion. A rise of ten degrees stretches the 4,000 feet wires an inch.

New York—Athletic hysteria is headed in the same direction as the star of empire, said Herbert E. Hawkes, dean of the college at Columbia University. In an academic address: "Athletic hysteria is shifting from the eastern universities, where it survives now chiefly among the alumni, to the less sophisticated universities of the west and ultimately will drown in the Pacific ocean."

Paris—Members of France's international football team believe they are equipped for an invasion of the British islands better than ever. Hitherto they have been handicapped by strange beverages. They play Ireland at Belfast tomorrow and are taking four eight-gallon kegs of their own wine.

Quebec—The province made money last year—surplus of $4,001,795 was announced by A. F. McMaster, treasurer, in a budget speech.

STAMFORD VOTERS ASK FOR BI-PARTISAN BOARD

Stamford, Jan. 24.—(AP.)—By unanimous vote at a special meeting of 2,200 electors, last night approved resolutions which provide for asking the next General Assembly for legislation to create a bi-partisan board of taxation here, similar to the so-called Ripper board in Bridgeport. The installation of a modern, scientific, equitable system for assessment of land and buildings was also provided. The legislation to be sought from the General Assembly will take elective tax offices, tax collector and assessors, out of politics, and they will be appointed by the board of taxation.

A resolution was also passed suggesting to the board of relief that the grand list of October 1, 1928, be used as the basis of taxation until the new system is installed. The grand list of October 1, 1929, had increases on land ranging from 40 to 900 per cent. It is expected the board of relief will adhere to the suggestion. The town meeting was the largest in the history of Stamford.

NEGLIGENCE OF DRIVER CAUSED OHIO TRAGEDY

Cleveland, Jan. 24.—(AP.)—A finding of negligence on the part of a bus operator who drove himself and nine school children to death at a railroad crossing yesterday and a recommendation that the state compel employment of two men on all commercial and school buses, were embodied in a report being prepared by Coroner A. J. Pearce today.

The coroner will not return a formal verdict until he has talked with John A. Hand, 68 year old engineer at the throttle of a New York Central fast mail train when it struck the school bus at the nearby town of Berea, and took the lives of all save one passenger. Hand is due here tonight from Toledo on his regular run.

Pearce, however, said he was satisfied that lack of proper precautions by John Taylor, 35, the driver, caused the tragedy which raised Ohio's toll from bus wrecks to 29 dead and 30 injured in three weeks. The tracks at the crossing, though guarded by nothing more than the ordinary sign, are clearly visible for three miles and the weather was clear.

DENY REVOLT REPORT

Belgrade, Jugoslavia, Jan. 24.—(AP.)—The Albanian frontier has been closed for several days, making impossible close investigation of reports of existence of a revolt against King Zog in parts of that country.

Albanian circles in Serbia however, declare that the rumors of a subversive movement there are absolutely without foundation.

ADDISON

The East Hartford Fire District is to enlarge its upper reservoir on Kenney street and has a big gasoline shovel on the job. They plan to dig down four feet on the bottom of the pond to increase the depth of water.

POOR FOOD AS CAUSE OF RIOTS IN JAILS

Washington, Jan. 24.—(AP.)—Poor food was given as the immediate cause of the Leavenworth Federal prison riot to the House subcommittee on appropriations which drafted the Department of Justice supply bill by Sanford Bates, superintendent of prisons.

"They serve 9,000 meals a day from one kitchen," Bates told the committee. "They have a minimum of 1,000 at a time coming into the dining room and you are bound to find that there is poor preparation and poor food."

As a remedial step, he continued, the department sent out a representative of the Bureau of Economics to study the situation, and a supervising steward has been set up.

The steward, Bates said, "can be in touch with the diet list and keep the standards up where they ought to be." His duties, he added, are to suggest the proper dietaries, a proper health measure, "as part of the prison discipline."

Meriden Quintet Opposes Rec Five Here Tonight

Gene Sarazen's 68 Wins Agua Caliente Tourney

Establishes New Course Record to Nose Out Smith and Espinosa for $10,000 Prize.

Auga Caliente, Lower Calif., Jan. 24.—(AP)—Gene Sarazen, sturdy New York pro, today ushered that ancient and royal Scottish pastime, golf, into the big money class of the sporting world. With the magic touch of his chosen clubs, Sarazen yesterday transformed his 206 strokes for the 72 hole first annual Agua Caliente $25,000 open tournament into $10,000, the champion's share of the largest stake ever placed on the golfing mart.

Coming from behind he established the course record here with a 68, but instead of just taking a one stroke lead like he did in the 1922 national open from Bobby Jones and John Black at Shikie, Chicago, today he passed Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., and Al Espinosa, of Chicago by two strokes.

The fifty-two professionals and six amateurs played in this most colorful of all golf tournaments. The winners follow: Gene Sarazen, New York, $10,000, score 285; Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., $3,750, score 297; Al Espinosa, Chicago, $3,750, score 297; Olin Dutra, Santa Monica, $1,250, score 298; Mortie Dutra, Tacoma, Wash., $1,250, score 298; MacDonald Smith, Long Island, N. Y., $750, score 299; Al Watrous, Detroit, $650, score 300; Joe Kirkwood, Philadelphia, $550, score 301; Henry Clued, Bridgeport, Conn., $450, score 302; Bobby Cruickshank, New York, $375, score 304; Charles Guest, Los Angeles, $375, score 304; Paul Runyon, Little Rock, Ark., $225, score 305; John Farrell, St. Augustine, Fla., $225, score 305; Harold Long, Denver, $200, score 306; Harry Cooper, Buffalo, N. Y., $200, score 306; Neil Christian, Portland, Ore., $200, score 306; Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente, $200, score 306; Abe Espinosa, Chicago, $200, score 306; Neil McIntyre, Indianapolis, $100, score 307; John Golden, Patterson, N. J., $100, score 307; Walter Murray, Gary, Ind., $100, score 307; Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del., $100, score 307.

SCOTT REACHES U. S. STILL CONFIDENT

New York, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Weighing 215 pounds, five pounds over his fighting weight, Phil Scott, the battling British fireman, arrived here yesterday from England to prepare for his match with Jack Sharkey in Miami, Feb. 27. Scott said he would leave for Miami Tuesday and do his training there and at Palm Beach. Concerning Sharkey, the English heavyweight said: "I think he is a good strong man—but I believe that a good boxer could beat him." Scott refrained from announcing himself that boxer, but Jimmy Johnston, his American manager, was not so reticent. "He's the next world champion," declared Johnston. Scott left New York for England, Dec. 14, to spend the holidays with his wife and two daughters at his home in Crofton. His English manager, Charlie Rose, was with him when he landed.

Ida Cowles' Basket In Last Few Seconds Turns Defeat Into Victory.

Thanks to a field goal by Ida Cowles with only two seconds to play, the Highland Park girls basketball team turned defeat into victory in its return game with the Wapping Y. W. C. A. girls last night at the South Methodist church gym. Wapping had been in the front all the way but the hitlop lassies were gradually cutting down a lead which they overcame in the nick of time. Recently the Wapping team trailed Highland Park in a similar fashion only to come from behind and win in the closing minutes. Now accounts are squared.

KIRBY-GALENO FIGHT FIZZLES

Referee Taylor Throws Out Both Contestants In Seventh for Lack of Action.

BY BILL ASIMUS As usual, the undercard took the spot away from the main go at Foot Guard Hall in Hartford last evening, where the smallest crowd of any season so showed its disapproval of the main bout that Referee Billy Taylor threw the contestants out of the ring. The main bout, which brought Tom Kirby of Boston against Tony Galeno, of Orange, N. J., was a fizzle from the start off. Galeno seemed to be out of condition. He was overfat and just added around like a duck. At that he was leading the supposedly noted Boston boxer when the fight ended. How Galeno ever happened to defeat the clever Paul Hoffman, was a marvel to last night's crowd. With Kirby waiting for his opponent to do all the leading and with the Jerseyite falling into a clinch after every lunge, the bout developed into a waltzing act. Taylor asked them repeatedly to 'get in there and fight' but they did not obey and in the seventh the referee waved them both to their corners. The semi-final was the feature of the card. Buster Nadeau substituted for Romeo Dubais, of New Haven against Eddie Reed. In the second Eddie hit Buster flush on the button and staggered him. He followed this up by three more shots to the whiskers and Buster was on the verge of a kayo when the bell saved him. The rest cleared his head and thereafter he held his own until the end. The bout was a clever exhibition of boxing with Reed gaining the lead and the decision with a long left which held off the pudgy little Hol-yoker. Billy Kosher, a tough baby from Boston, defeated Joe Zotter of New Britain. It was the usual slugging bee with Joe trying to put over his haymaker and taking a good beating in order to accomplish it. But Mosher was too tough and could

It will be the second meeting between the pair in Chicago. Fields will weigh about 147 pounds, but Dundee probably will weigh around 155 at fight time, making the battle a non-title affair. In the semi-final bout Tony Herrera, Fort Worth, Texas lightweight will meet Irish Jackie Pitkington of New York.

U. S. NET FINALS NOW A CERTAINTY

Montreal, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The Canadian indoor tennis championships have reached the semi-final round and already it has been determined that the singles title again will go to the United States. In a day of international matches J. Gilbert Hall of Montreal, N. J., George Lott of Chicago, Fritz Mercur of Bethlehem, Pa., and Herbert L. Bowman, New York veteran, all won their way into the semi-finals at the expense of Canadian rivals yesterday. In the semi-final matches of the singles today Hall meets Mercur in one half and Lott tackles Bowman in the other.

Visitors Seek Revenge For 24 to 23 Defeat

February 11, it was also announced today. Alphonse Boggini, local lad who made such a favorable impression recently, will referee the game tonight. The Ramblers and north end Community teams meet in the preliminary. Now let us view the High school situation. Manchester and Middletown each have lost but one game. Obviously, the loser of tonight's battle has little or no chance to win the C. C. I. L. title. Both suffered their lone defeat from Bristol, a team which is tied with Manchester from a standpoint of games won. Bristol plays a very important game in Meriden tonight and if it loses Manchester goes into the leadership, providing, of course, that it takes Middletown's measure. The result of the high school game will be announced at the Rec contest.

High School Games Also Important Tonight; Manchester at Middletown, Bristol at Meriden.

Manchester teams will engage in a pair of important basketball games this evening. The Rec Five will act as the affirmative defending the home rostrum while the negative team, Manchester High, takes a jaunt to Middletown. Both are important and well worth watching. First, let us consider the Rec game since it is the only home attraction. The Rec Five will entertain the strong Meriden Community in a return game. A few weeks ago Manchester journeyed to Meriden and was fortunate to stage a rally that netted it a belated 24 to 23 victory. Meriden hopes to avenge that defeat tonight. The visiting team is composed of former high school and college stars. They possess youth and speed, rather than age and experience and are capable of standing up with the best of the teams in the Rec's class. Still smarting from the whipping it received from the Bristol Endeeds, the Rec is more than anxious to get back into the win column. Next Tuesday the Rec will entertain the fast St. Michaels of New Haven on the Rec floor, playing a return game in the Elm City on February 14. The New Britain Guards play the third and deciding game of their series with the Rec here on

BRUINS TURN BACK AMERICANS, 2 TO 1

Boston, Jan. 24.—(AP)—With their 23rd victory in 27 games, the Bruins, Stanley Cup and world champions, continued far in the van of the National Hockey League today after last night's 2-1 overtime victory over the New York Americans. The Americans recently broke the Bruins' 14-game winning streak. Dutch Gainer scored unassisted in the third period for the first tally of the game but Simpson of the visitors, on a pass from Boyd, tied the count with three minutes to play. In the seventh minute of the overtime, Weiland took Gainer's pass for the winning point. Roy Worters, Americans' goal tender, gave a great exhibition.

Rash Romance

By LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 Judith Cameron marries Arthur Knight, executive of a New York publishing house in which she is employed. They sail for a six-week honeymoon in Bermuda. Knight is a widower with an 18-year-old daughter, Tony, who is in Europe, and a son, Junior, 16, at school.

A cablegram arrives announcing that Tony Knight is coming home. Arthur tells Judith they must return at once to meet her. Since neither the girl nor boy knows of the father's remarriage, Judith is skeptical of her welcome.

Arthur and Judith reach the Long Island home just one day before Tony's boat docks. Next morning Knight enters the house and when they arrive at the house Tony ignores Judith and rushes to her own room. Late that afternoon Tony confronts her stepmother and exclaims: "You're going to get out!" To overtake this, compels Tony to apologize. Tony leaves for a round of night clubs with Mickey Mortimer, whose amusement-seeker whom she met in Paris.

As days pass a state of armed neutrality exists between the girl and Judith. Junior arrives home for the holidays and treats Judith with cold aloof politeness. Christmas Eve Judith and Arthur trim a gorgeous tree but next morning neither of the children appear to receive their gifts. Christmas Day proves dismal. Junior is away at a flying field and Tony stays home only long enough to receive her father's most expensive gift. Three days later Judith incurs Junior's wrath when she discards a vase which had belonged to his mother. He denounces her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVII
 Two events of importance happened in the Knight household the second week following Christmas. One was the coming of Aunt Helena's letter from Paris. The other was the arrival of Andy Craig. Junior left Tuesday morning. He departed for his second term of school and Judith was frank enough to admit a huge sigh of relief to see him go. Since the episode of the vase she had been unable to meet Junior's eyes squarely. She was ashamed, embarrassed and afraid to see what he must be thinking of her.

To her credit it should be set down that Judith, who felt the brunt of the boy's anger, honored him for loyalty to his mother. He had not intended to.

When Arthur Knight reached home shortly after five o'clock that evening he came in stamping and brushing off snow. "Where's Tony?" he demanded, in answer to Judith's greeting. "I think she's dressing. Dear. She'll be down shortly."

"Tell Tony I want to see her at once!" Arthur's words were gruff and he snapped out the sentence exactly as though he were in his office and Judith a minor member of the business force.

"I'll send the maid up," she told him. "Is there—I hope nothing had happened?"

"Nothing happened?" The man raised his brows. "Oh, I knew when I got that cable from Paris that Tony'd been up to devilry. Letter came from Helena this afternoon. Told me the whole story."

Harriet was dispatched to inform Tony her father wished to see her immediately. Fifteen minutes later the girl appeared.

She strolled into the living room casually and stopped in the doorway, one hand resting on her hip. "Did you want to see me, Darling?" she asked, resting languid, smiling eyes on Knight.

Tony had moved toward the reading table and was extracting a cigarette from a large silver box. "Put that cigarette down and come into the study," her father continued sharply. "I've got a number of things to settle with you, young lady, and we're going to settle them now!"

Tony hesitated. Then, smiling sweetly, she replaced the cigarette in the case and followed Knight into the small room which was known as his study.

Judith was worried. It was not often her husband used such a harsh tone with anyone. She was worried, too, because she had no idea to what lengths the younger girl's foohardness might have led. Dinner was kept waiting that evening.

It was nearly seven o'clock before the study door opened and Arthur Knight and his daughter reappeared. They came out with Tony's arm about her father, her dark head cuddling to his shoulder. Both were smiling and they looked as though the interview had been a love feast.

Tony maintained the pose of filial devotion and sweetness throughout the evening meal. She remained with Judith and Arthur when coffee was served in the living room, hovering about her father, bringing him his pipe, the evening newspaper, and placing an ash tray at convenient reach.

Judith marveled at the change. At length Tony suggested hesitantly. "Father, Darling, I just wish I could stay home this evening! I'd have managed to some way if only I'd known you and Judith would be here. But Caroline Mitchell asked me to make a fourth at bridge with her and her parents so I suppose I'll really have to go. I'm dreadfully sorry!"

"Mitchell?" Knight asked. "Caroline Mitchell? Oh, yes, I remember—just a couple blocks down the street. Well, get in early, Tony. Remember, I'll be home early."

Tony disappeared for wraps and presently was back again. She was wearing the gray coat and had a bright red beret in her hair. "Bye-bye," she called gaily from the hallway. Then the door closed upon her.

Judith could hardly resist asking questions but she forced herself to wait. Arthur would tell her all about it, given his time. He did. Tony had been gone only a few minutes before the man setted back comfortably in his chair, removed his pipe from his lips, blew the smoke swirling toward the ceiling.

"You know, Tony's really a sweet kid," he told his wife. "Crazy little rascal has been getting into scrapes all her life, but she never means anything by it. Now take this row with Helena—"

Tony's Aunt Helena had written her brother very pointedly, it seemed. She had said that the width of the Atlantic ocean was none too broad as a barrier between herself and the niece she had so recently been chaperoning. She had even alluded to Tony's escapades, culminating in an affair with a good-for-nothing named Mickey Mortimer, were the talk of the American colony and a disgrace on the family honor.

Aunt Helena had wound up with the declaration that not for love or money would she undertake responsibility for Tony Knight again. "But that's all right," Arthur pointed out to Judith. "Because I've persuaded the kid to stay right here all winter. Home's the place for her, you know, and now you're here. Judith, you can look after her. Oh, I know, it has to be done tactfully but you're a genius at tact."

"But, Arthur, you know how she feels toward me—"

"That's all right now. It's all right! Tony and I talked everything over. She isn't going to make any trouble from now on. Tony's agreed to stop running around nights, stay at home and behave herself."

"Yes sir," he mused contentedly. "Guess I'll have to get off a letter to Helena tomorrow and tell her a thing or two. Really I'm sure she misrepresented affairs."

"Well," Judith said uncertainly, "I hope you're right about it."

Arthur Knight looked such a picture of satisfaction just then the girl did not voice her misgivings. Judith was learning that Arthur, patron for idle days in Bermuda, was an entirely different sort of person in New York. He had accustomed himself to a routine of years' standing and it was not easy to vary this. It was harder still to persuade Arthur Knight that his routine might need varying.

The two years preceding, during which he had lived at the club, had made it easy for Knight to slip into the habit of spending longer and longer hours in his office. Often he would return evenings after dinner to frame memoranda for an important conference or study a file of correspondence.

Evenings devoted to social pleasures had become rarer and rarer. Now that he had acquired an attractive wife, reopened his suburban home and could find there each evening a good dinner, congenial companionship, and every comfort for three or four hours of quiet relaxation from the day's work, Knight was less and less inclined to suggest the opera, theaters or a concert. Those things were all right when you got to them. Leaving an agreeable chair before your own fireplace to battle through traffic for an hour

French Bloomer Dress for Playtime: Wears a Belt at Normal Waistline

By ANNETTE

It is just as cute as can be with smocking at either side of bodice below the shoulders. The Peter Pan collar is scalloped. The set-in sleeves are gathered into narrow cuff bands.

This smart little dress is easily slipped into as it is cut from neck at center-front and finished with bias binding for closing. The bloomers have elastic inserted through hems at waist and legs.

This cunning outfit is in fashionable light green pique with white piping.

Style No. 276 comes in sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. It takes but 3 1/2 yards of 36-inch material with 1/4 yard of 27-inch contrasting for dress and bloomers for little maid of four years.

Embroidery for smocking Pattern No. 11152 (blue) cost 15 cents extra. The dress may also be Shirred in place of the smocking and is very effective.

and a half was too much of a strain. Judith, therefore, was finding her days, and even her nights, more and more confined to the four walls of her new home. There were times when this grew a bit irksome.

Neither the girl nor her husband knew at just what hour Tony Knight arrived home that evening. She had promised to be "in early."

It was some time after they had retired. Tony slept late next morning as usual. She surprised Judith though by appearing at 11:30 in a knitted sport dress.

It was unusual to see Tony at such an hour of the day any day, but she had no idea about the house in anything but negligee garments.

Furthermore the girl announced she would have breakfast downstairs instead of in her room. All she wished was coffee and fruit.

It was a good sign. Perhaps Tony actually did intend to live up to her program of reform. Judith smiled happily as she went to tell Cora to send in Miss Tony's breakfast.

Thirty minutes later Judith returned to the dining room. Tony had finished eating. Just then Judith heard a cry from the hallway:

"Why, Andy! Andy Craig—when did you get here?"

Judith hesitated. Tony was evidently welcoming a caller. She heard a man's laugh and heard a rumbling, indistinct answer. They would go into the living room of course, Judith thought. She decided to slip through the hall and up the stairway where several tasks awaited.

She stepped to the hall entrance, saw too late that Tony and her companion had both turned at the sound.

"Oh—Judith," said the younger girl. "This Andy Craig, Andy's an old, old friend and father's idea of perfection in modern youth. Andy—my stepmother."

Judith went forward smiling. "How do you do, Mr. Craig, I'm glad to know any of Tony's friends."

Andy Craig laughed easily. He was tall he seemed to fill the hall. He still wore his topcoat but pulled off a felt hat to reveal shining, close-cropped red hair. Andy Craig had blue eyes, very light blue, which were filled with good humor.

"I'm—I'm awfully glad to know you, Mrs. Knight—," he said and then he stopped short.

PEDAL AWAY POUNDS ON "HIGH BICYCLE"

By JAC AUER

Rounding the 1930 curves successfully takes more than mere weight reduction, though that is the first essential.

Balance, poise, grace are needed, too, before one develops the kind of figure women want today. The stiff figure, no matter how slender, is not the one men watch and women envy.

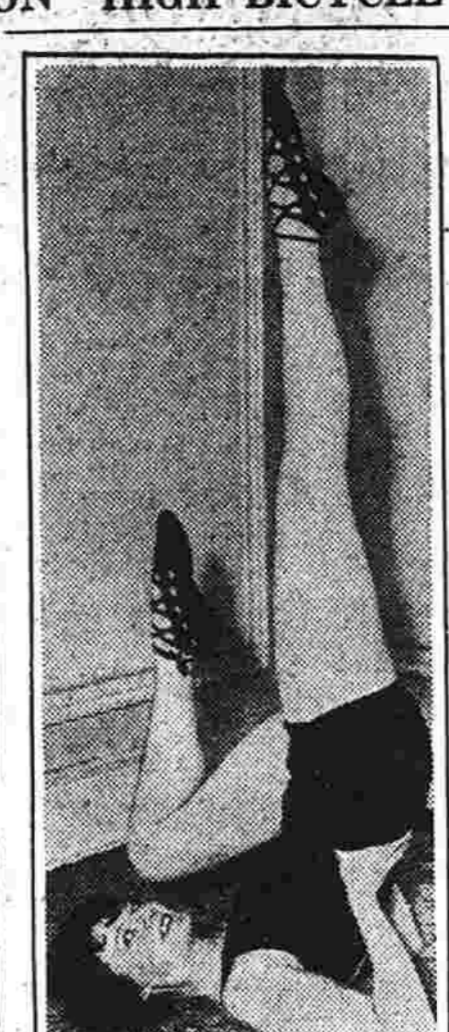

There are certain exercises which have a dual purpose. They reduce, first and foremost, as most of the exercises women like, do. Next, they tone up the muscles, make one conscious of them, and finally make one master of them.

Such an exercise is the "high bicycle."

1. Lie flat on your back and, with arms bracing your body, raise your feet as straight into the air as you are able to. When you become accomplished, your legs and body will make a straight line up from your shoulders. This is not possible at first, to most women. But do not be discouraged. Raise your feet as high as you can get them, without losing your balance.

2. Then, keeping the balance by resting your weight upon your shoulders and neck, begin pedaling as if you were riding a bicycle. Take it very slowly at first, only a few rounds of each leg, so that it won't make you stiff and sore.

3. The second day, increase the number of times you pedal, but don't increase your speed. It is making the thorough arc with each leg that counts, rather than doing the step quickly.

The WOMAN'S DAY

It's difficult to notice our own social progress or our lack of it, because we are so used to ourselves and our friends.

Sometimes it seems as if the world were growing more conservative because someone takes the time to ask a question politely and to be gracious when he is given the information. But getting in just one good sidewalk jam will quickly dispel all the illusions.

One party is a great success; that impression is quickly erased by one that is so deadly dull that one resolves to be a hermit.

Thus we sometimes get a better perspective from strangers. An Englishman who was entertained lavishly last winter has returned (breathing changes in our social life) to us.

Last year he found everything hectic, hurried, opulent and rather bad taste. Everyone was prosperous, cleaning up on the market, and consoling to make a million more any minute.

This year the crash has made it bad taste to seem opulent, and everyone acts as if he had just lost a fortune, whether he did or not.

Last year everyone gave large parties to which everyone was invited, and everyone made whoopee in his most noisy fashion. This year he finds entertaining done on a smaller and less formal scale, and more fun because the guests really know each other, and have some common interests.

This year's debutante seems vastly improved over last year's model. She is prettier, because she gets more sleep, leads a less hectic existence, and indicates more reserve nervous energy. She is more coherent, and is a better conversationalist, to say nothing of being much sweeter and quieter.

Since it is no longer smart not to close and open parties on time she is learning to be punctual and has consideration for others.

And what delights him particularly is that women are so much more pleasing to the eye. They seem to him no longer to be dancing around in their slips, as though they had come clear to the point of putting on a dress, and then neglected to do it, but they appear in really graceful and glamorous costumes.

On the whole, he finds us greatly improved, socially speaking. And one feels that what we may have lost on the market, we gained in consolation to those who played on margin.

A hostess who served some particularly delicious baked apples to her guests at a recent breakfast party divulged the secret of their goodness when she explained how they had been made.

Instead of sweetening them with ordinary sugar, she stuffed the cavities made by removing the cores with nut caramels cut into small pieces. The result was a delicious fruit bedded in thick syrup and a flavor that was irresistible.

SEEKS ANNULMENT DURING HONEYMOON

San Francisco, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The Examiner today quoted Mrs. Eugene Bankhead Hoyt Butt, daughter of Representative William Bankhead of Alabama, as saying she was en route to Washington, D. C., to procure an annulment of her recent marriage to Lawrence Butt, Jr., Nevada University football star.

Mrs. Butt, who married the gridiron star in Reno December 18, nine days after she had obtained a divorce from Monton Hoyt, arrived here yesterday from Honolulu, scene of the Butts' honeymoon.

"He is a perfectly darling person," the Examiner quoted Mrs. Butt as explaining, "but when we were married in Reno he did not tell me that his divorce did not become final until January 19. Besides he has a mind much younger than mine."

The Examiner says Butt's first wife revealed this detail of their divorce when she learned of his marriage to the sister of Tullulah Bankhead, the actress.

Mrs. Butt was quoted as having told the newspaper she intended procuring an annulment in Washington and then leaving for Europe. The newspaper said she separated from Butt two weeks ago in Hawaii while on their honeymoon.

YOUR CHILDREN
 by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Dr. Ray L. Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, in a recent speech leads to analysis, and analysis states some potent facts regarding the children of today.

Among other things he mentioned that with gas and electric stoves, electric refrigerators, sterilized milk delivered in bottles on the doorstep, telephones, and automobiles, the children have nothing to do. Even their old-time job of running errands is fast disappearing.

America, he reminds us, has literally changed from a rustic or village environment to an industrial community, and although the children have gained specifically by the change in some respects, the character-forming process of doing "chores" has been taken away from them, as well as the health-building exercises the country afforded.

A child now has greater protection from contagious disease. He has purer water, purer milk, and the advantage of prophylaxis. By thus safeguarding his health, we take it for granted he will some day live forever.

But Secretary Wilbur further reminds us that while we give with one hand we take away with the other. We not only take away his opportunities for outdoor work and physical exercise, but we hand him days, weeks, and years of study, which means we are adding him to a sedentary life which does not make for health.

A Perilous Playground—Besides all this, practically the only playground the city child has is the street—a street full of shooting, whizzing death.

The mother in early days warned her children of rattlesnakes. It was the greatest terror of all the wide open spaces. But compared to the automobile, as far as safety is concerned, Secretary Wilbur remarked that the "rattlesnake is a domestic pet."

Whereas a dozen or two people may be bitten by two people a year, a hundred thousand—many of them children—will be maimed or killed by automobiles.

I have been thoughtful about two things in this speech: First, that we are taking away, by graduation, the muscular prowess of our children. Second, that by mechanizing the world we are jeopardizing them more and more every day, out of all proportion to the health advantages science has given them.

What sort of a world are our children really growing up to? And what preparation are we giving them? We present them with a program of study that covers years and which at best requires good health and good nerves to stand. Yet we lower nerve standards by robbing them of fresh air and filling the universe with noise. Noise has been proven a short-cut to lowered nerve stamina.

They Need Open Air It is enough to make every par-

Hair that sparkles!

No one can deny the importance of having the hair arranged in the style best suited to the individual type. Much of the effect is lost, however, unless the hair is kept soft, abundant, lustrous.

A million busy women and girls know the easiest way to keep the hair in perfect condition is with Danderine. The first application will show you how marvelously it removes excess oil from the hair; cleanses it; makes it sparkle with new life and lustre. It's so simple to use Danderine. All you do is put a little on your brush each time you arrange your hair! The consistent use of Danderine will dissolve the worst crust of dandruff; soothe, heal the scalp; stimulate the growth of long, silky abundant hair.

Danderine isn't sticky or oily; doesn't show. It makes the hair easy to manage; holds it in place for hours. "Set" your waves with it and see how much longer they stay in.—Adv.

INVENTS NEW WARSHIP WHILE PARLEY IS ON

Bueren, Germany, Jan. 4.—(AP)—While the delegates to the European naval disarmament conference in London are trying to limit, or reduce the navies of the world, a German inventor named Franz Felder today demonstrated a new material for shipbuilding that is alleged to enable warships to carry twice as many guns as they could normally and to make them practically unsinkable.

Felder displayed the buoyancy of his patented materials with model ships. One of them, which was a yard long and a foot wide, supported a load of 120 lbs., while a wooden model of the same dimensions went to the bottom of the water with a similar load.

The inventor hopes to build a motor ship to show the possibilities for the use of his materials in the carrying of commercial cargoes.

FALLS TO DEATH

Philadelphia, Jan. 24.—(A.P.)—Charles Ellis Goodin, 46, president and managing director of the Hotel Adelphia fell to his death today from a rear fire escape on the 9th floor of the hotel.

of the Adelphia Hotel Company, had been subject to attacks of vertigo for several years, hotel officials said. They expressed the belief that a vertigo spell was responsible for the fall.

Police believed that Mr. Goodin was making an inspection of the hotel when he was seized with a spell, walked out on a fire tower, and fell over a waist-high enclosure before the cold air could revive him. He landed on his head on the pavement. Several persons narrowly escaped being struck by the body.

Goodin is survived by his widow and two children.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Robelvat
Come, fill the cup, and in the fire of spring
Your winter garment of repentance fling.

Nay, on the day when I too much perceive Gaily I'll doff the duds and twang the lyre.

So far wrong he may not have been at that.
E'en on the pyre he may have placed his hat:

The Corned's Lament
The saddest words
Now in our language found
Are these—"Great guns,
I've gained another pound!"

Some Do, At That
The well known inspired printer set it up this way: "Banks! Prefer Blondes of Early Maturity!"

Gladys—Imagine! It costs American women two million to get thin.
Helen—It's about time they reduced prices.

Just as we begin to get adjusted to loafing its Monday morning.

Saving Is Earning—An eastern college professor says that colleges do not add to a man's earning power. But they teach him to get along without a hat.

The Cat That Curiosity Killed
Probably Didn't Have But One Life.

Calling the roll at 7 a. m. via radio: "One, two, three; roll."

Back in 1890 the "doctor" used to say: "Now ladies and gents, kindly gather in close around the wagon.
Small boys please keep back so that older people wishing to make purchases may get in where they can hear. The boys are going to play on the banjos in just a few minutes—ho, this way, everybody. Now ladies and gents, we are introducing in this locality Doctor Bokakial's Famous Pain Eradicator for Man and Beast at a price so low as to be amazing. I am not going to ask a dollar for this large home size bottle. I am not going to ask, even

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

Northern folks are bound to be snow-bound or south-bound.

75, 50, 40 or 30 cents. For the breath-taking pittance of 25c, a quarter of a dollar, you get the full over-sized bottle with complete recations for taking, with a genuine rust-proof corker thrown in absolutely free. Now, as the boys play on the banjos my assistants will pass among you. Remember this great medicine will positively cure coughs, colds, rheumatism, headache, gouter, spavin, ringworm, soreness, epilepsy, etc."

Now in 1930 the story goes like this: "Good evening ladies and gentlemen of the radio audience. The following program is being brought to you through the courtesy of the Choo Choo Chewing Gum Company, makers of chewing gum for engineers—the chew with a personality. We trust that you will apply at your newest dealer for a sample of this meritorious product. Remember it does not stick to the teeth, en-mesh the gums or lose its flavor on the bedpost over night. Remember the name—Choo Choo Chew. We will now take a ride on the Choo
Choo train, with the famous Choo
Choo orchestra as the engineer.
There will be a brief pause for station announcements."

STOPS TO SEE WRECK
IS HURT HIMSELF

Windsor, Conn., Jan. 24.—(AP)— Stephen Banish of Windsor Locks, received a possible fracture of the skull when his automobile skidded against a pole in Palisade avenue, near Kennedy's Road, this morning and John Macheinis of Hayden, received a broken leg as he stopped to see what had happened to Banish by another car skidding and striking him. Both men were taken to the Hartford hospital for treatment after being given first aid treatment by Dr. A. P. Pratt.

Banish was driving south on Palisade avenue and as he neared Ken-nedey's Lane his car skidded and hit the pole. Macheinis who had been driving towards Hartford, stopped his car to give assistance to Banish and at this time a car coming from the opposite direction and driven by Leo Goodin of 291 Franklin avenue, Hartford, apparently tried to stop to see what had happened and skidded, hitting Macheinis who was standing by the automobile in which Banish had been riding.
Goodin's car was somewhat damaged by the impact with the other machine.
Constable Maurice Kennedy was called to investigate the accident but has made no arrests as yet.

no higher than this time. Then you can ride off on your way. This won't be work, but merely play.
Not far from here I think you'll find some mountains you can

And then he pried the old tire loose and said, "I think you'll

Too bad it can't act as a spare.
But it is spoiled. 'Twould only tear.
Just keep your eyes on me, lads, away until he shouted, loudly, "Say!

Don't crowd so close. Please give me room to do this thing up right.
I want this tire to stick on fast so for a long time it will last. If I'm not interfered with I can work with all my might."

ABOUT TOWN

The Sunshine Sewing Club will meet with Mrs. Amy Coffell on Edgerton street at 7:30 this evening.

Chapman Court officers and choir will have a rehearsal for initiation Sunday evening at 7:30 in the Masonic Temple. All are requested to be present.

Two one-act plays will be presented by boys of the Manchester Green school this evening for the benefit of the baseball and basketball fund.

A rehearsal for the comedy, "Twelve Old Maids," will be held in Odd Fellows hall this evening at 7:30. This is the play which a cast from Sunset Rebekah lodge will give at the benefit entertainment on February 3 for the Groton infirmary.

The Manchester Mothers Club will have their annual social this evening at the Vernon Grange hall.

Group 4 of the Memorial Hospital Linen auxiliary will meet for sewing Monday afternoon at the School Street Recreation Center.

A rehearsal will be held at Second Congregational church tomorrow evening at 7:30 of the musical numbers to be given at the motion picture service in the church auditorium Sunday evening at 7:30 when the feature picture will be "Timothy's Quest" from the book by Kate Douglas Wiggin.

Mrs. Ray H. Pillsbury is chairman of the food sale which Center Church Women's Federation will conduct at Watkins Brothers store Wednesday of next week at 2:30. The sale will take the place of an entertainment which was scheduled for this date. Mrs. Albert White is co-chairman, and others assisting will be Mrs. Lucius Foster, Mrs. Raymond Burnham and Mrs. A. H. Fish.

The committee in charge of the dance which the Majors had planned for this evening at the north end firehouse, announced today that the affair had been postponed until next Friday night.

A score or more of trolley passengers who sat through nine acts of "Strange Interlude" at Parsons Theater in Hartford last night were forced to add another "act" to their evening's entertainment. The Hartford bound trolley which left State street at 11:30 was partially derailed at Burnside shortly before midnight and it was more than 15 minutes before Motorman Thomas Wilgerson could get the car back on the rails. When the car reached the Center, the passengers were transferred into another trolley which ran to the south terminus.

CHURCH MEN TO SEE CONNECTICUT "AGGIE"

Members of Center League to Visit State College Tomorrow Afternoon—To Dine There.

Members of the Center Church Men's League are planning a trip of inspection to the Connecticut Agricultural College at Storrs, leaving tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Members will visit the entire college plant including the radio station WCAC, the college broadcasting station. Professor Work of the college faculty will address the visitors, followed by a supper served at 5:30 in the college dining hall for the moment. A varsity basketball game in the evening will be of additional interest to those of the members caring to stay.

ANNUAL "SMORGASBORD" TONIGHT AT CHURCH

Mrs. John Leander and Alexander Berggren are co-chairmen of the annual "Smorgasbord" which will take place at the Swedish Lutheran church this evening. The Ladies and the Men's societies will combine forces and they are anxious that all the congregation shall come and enjoy the supper and a short program of entertainment.

Miss Helen and Miss Elsie Berggren will be heard in duet numbers and there will be selections by a double quartet from the regular church choir. The "Smorgasbord" will be at 7 o'clock in the church basement, and the committee in charge in addition to Mrs. Leander and Mr. Berggren is as follows: Adolph Benson, Charles F. Johnson, Arvid Gustafson, Carl Kjellson, Henning Johnson, Mrs. Carl A. Johnson, Mrs. John Olson, Mrs. Gustaf Johnson, Mrs. Emma Benson and Mrs. Henning Johnson.

REC NOTES

The junior swimming class will meet from 10:15 to 11 tomorrow morning at the East Side Rec and junior life-saving will be taught from 11 to 11:45.

The newly organized Rec swimming team will practice after the high school swimming meet, Saturday afternoon with Crosby High. Junior boys' boxing class will be held from 5 to 6 Monday and senior boxing from 7 to 8 on Monday and Tuesday evenings.
