

ALCORN'S PLEA FOR RETURN OF CONVICTS O. K.'d

Lalone, Moulthrop and Landry to Be Brought Back To This State to Face Other Charges.

Hartford, Conn., March 21.—(AP)—State's Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn was notified by Florida authorities today that they would accede to his request that Roland Lalone and Watson Moulthrop, convicted in Jacksonville of murder of a police officer, and now awaiting life sentence, and Leo Landry, yet untried, be returned to Connecticut to complete sentences at state prison from which institutions they escaped.

The announcement that Governor Carlton was willing to send back the three escaped convicts came this morning in a telegram received by Mr. Alcorn, from State's Attorney Charles Durranee of Duval county, Florida, where Lalone and Moulthrop were convicted of murder and where Landry is awaiting trial on the same charge.

Alcorn's Next Move

With the path cleared in Florida, Mr. Alcorn said, his next move will be to obtain the co-operation of Governor Trumbull. He said he will confer with the governor at once. The governor was in Baltimore today, but is expected back tomorrow.

Although Governor Trumbull has expressed opposition to this move, he has also indicated he would not interfere with Mr. Alcorn's plans.

If the trio are brought back to Connecticut, Lalone will merely return to his former status as life after enjoying several weeks of freedom. The other two will face thirty years sentences as habitual criminals in addition to other charges that await their discharge from Wethersfield.

FLORIDA WILLING

Jacksonville, Fla., March 21.—(AP)—Charles M. Durranee, state's attorney, announced today that he favored returning Watson Moulthrop and Roland Lalone, escaped Connecticut convicts, to this state to serve life sentences in prison for the murder of Detective W. D. Smith.

Durranee said he had been served with formal demand for the return of the convicts to Connecticut. They were convicted here this week of first degree murder for the slaying of the detective shortly after they reached Florida from Connecticut. The verdict carried provision for life sentences.

Under Life Sentence

Lalone already is under a life sentence in Connecticut and Moulthrop has from 18 to 25 years and will receive thirty years more for his escape, Durranee said he was informed.

He said he would return the men to the custody of Connecticut unless advised to the contrary by Governor Doyle E. Carlton of Florida. He added that the demand for the men came from M. Alcorn, state's attorney at Hartford, over the protest of Governor John H. Trumbull of Connecticut.

Leo Landry, third of the escaped prisoners, who has not been tried yet on an indictment charging murder of the detective here, may go back with Moulthrop and Lalone, Durranee said.

CIVIL WAR THREAT FRIGHTENS CHINESE

Governor of Manchuria to Act as Peacemaker; Appeals to Both Factions.

Peiping, China, March 21.—(AP)—Threats of Civil War in China have reached such a stage that Chang Hsueh-liang, governor of Manchuria, has stepped in as mediator sending a peace appeal both to President Chiang Kai-Shek and Yen Hsi-Shan, governor of Shansi.

Mukden despatches report that Chang Kai-Shek replied first saying that he always desired peace and that he was willing to accept Chang's suggestion. Yen stated that since the various Shansi and Kuomintang commanders had issued a circular telegram to the people urging him to fight and to lead their northern battles, he himself could not decide the attitude of the northerners on Chang's proposal.

Although the vernacular newspapers continue to assert that Yen plans to establish a separate government at Tientsin, the Kuomintang News agency today had a despatch from Mukden saying Yen had informed the authorities there this report was untrue.

Fear Another War

The despatch says: "The consensus of Mukden Chinese circles appears that another civil war inside the great wall is inevitable and"

FAMOUS FIDDLER SAVED BY WIFE

Mellie Dunham Gets Out of Blazing Home in Time But His Prizes and Relics Are Burned.

Norway, Maine, March 21.—(AP)—Mellie Dunham, famous fiddler was saved by his aged helpmate, "Gram," from a fire which destroyed their century old farmhouse on Crockett's Ride today, but his many "fiddlers" and prizes, relics and antiques were lost.

"Gram," awoke at 2 a. m. to find a room adjoining their bedroom ablaze. She awakened Mellie and three grandchildren in another room.

Assisted by "Gram," Mellie who was ill with a cold, dressed, and took the cherished letters sent him by Henry Ford, a gold key given him by the city of Boston, and a gold pin presented to him by former Governor A. T. Fuller of Massachusetts as he made his way from the blazing house.

FIND RACKETEERS IN CAPONE'S HOME

Also Liquor But Gang Leader Himself Was Not Located at His Miami Estate

Miami, Fla., March 21.—(AP)—Six men arrested in a liquor raid on the Palm Island estate of Alphonse Capone, Chicago racketeer and subsequently released on cash appearance bonds, today sought writs of habeas corpus.

Two gave their names as John and Albert Capone. Authorities said they were brothers of the gangster despite statements by Chicago police that Capone's brothers were named Mimi, Joseph and Ralph, the latter a Cicero, Illinois night club operator.

Post Bonds

The man identified himself as John Capone and Frankie Newton posted $500 each to answer charges of illegal possession of liquor. The one giving his name as Albert Capone and James Vincent, Louis Cowen and L. J. Eronson, furnished $250 each on vagrancy charges.

The raid, based on the affidavits of sheriffs' deputies that they saw liquor in the house recently in making a search for "Crane Neck" Nugent, wanted in Ohio on murder charges, resulted in the seizure of $250 each of ten sacks and three bottles of liquor and a quantity of champagne.

Authorities said they found no trace of Alphonse Capone in the residence last night.

REDS WARN AGAIN AGAINST VIOLENCE

Tell Officials to Use Patience In Carrying Out Their Anti-Religious Campaign.

Moscow, March 21.—(AP)—Official warning to be moderate in carrying out the anti-religious campaign of the Soviet government and the Communist party, was the interpretation gained today from speeches before the opening of the All Union Congress of Atheists.

Speakers told the congress that their propagandists must abandon the idea that religion can be exterminated in Russia over night. The conclaves was warned that no attempt must be made to close churches by force, to remove church bells, to coerce peasants into joining the League of the Godless, or to proclaim entire districts as "Atheistic regions."

The alternative of peaceful argument, persuasion and propaganda, and scientific explanations were listed by Emelyan Yaroslavsky, chairman of the Society of Militant Atheists.

Attack The Pope

This moderation however did not prevent speakers striking back at Pope Pius for his recent denunciation of the anti-religious campaign and for his mass and prayers Wednesday at St. Peter's.

The "Godless One" official atheist organ, printed a drawing of the Pontiff sitting placidly on a throne while victims after victims of the religious inquisition was hanged and tortured before him.

The caption "Your blood stained hands are too short to strangle Soviet workers" was carried over the picture, while in the accompanying columns it was said: "Those who overthrow on earth the thrones of the Czars, manufacturers and land owners, those who build a new life with their own hands, are in no need of a God or heavenly protection."

"Our laborers no longer wish for the chiming of bells, the light of holy candles or the burning of incense. They want to build palaces of culture, to erect tall radio masts and to cover their country with a long chain of universities."

AS "SILVER BULLET" TUNED UP AT DAYTONA BEACH FOR RECORD DASH

It's the "Silver Bullet"—and like a bullet it shot over the smooth sands at 172 miles an hour, as this picture was taken showing Kaye Dent's first trial run in his strange-shaped automobile at Daytona Beach, Fla. The plane, shown overhead, was quickly left behind by the car in which the daring English driver is preparing for an attempt to set a new world's speed record. He made two test drives and was prevented from making a third because of a broken gasoline line.

ARREST HARTFORD COP ON CHARGE OF PERJURY

Alleged Bootlegger Also Held as Result of Grand Jury Liquor Probe—Each Held Under $2,500 Bond.

Hartford, March 21.—(AP)—The first arrests resulting from the special Grand Jury investigation of liquor conditions were made here today.

Raymond Regan, a traffic policeman, and Benjamin Bromberg, an alleged bootlegger, were arrested on Superior Court bench warrants, charged with perjury in their testimony before the Grand Jury. Bonds of $2,500 were fixed in each case.

Charges Against Regan

The Regan warrant charged that the policeman swore before the Grand Jury that he had never visited a speakeasy at 343 Main street and had never obtained liquor there. The warrant says that Policeman Regan did secure and drink liquor at that place. Regarding the Main street place the Grand Jury in a recent report to the court said that it was frequented by several policemen.

Sheila, the court also, the place to their superiors and that last December a raid on the place was unsuccessful because of a "tip" given the proprietor by a policeman.

On Force Seven Years

Regan was brought to the county building from his home at 123 Brown street by Deputy Sheriff Carl Tucker. He has been on the force about seven years. Recently he was suspended when found drunk at his traffic post and had not returned to duty.

Bromberg lives at 218 Windsor street. He was arrested by Sergeant Joseph A. Quinn and Detective...

TAFT WILL SHOWS ESTATE OF $475,000

Had $300,000 In Stocks and Bonds—Real Estate Worth $125,000.

Washington, March 21.—(AP)—A petition for the probate of the will of the late William Howard Taft showed the former President and Chief Justice left an estate valued at $475,000.

As filed recently by Mrs. Taft, the petition for probate showed Mr. Taft owned real estate near Murray Bay, Quebec, Canada, and the mansion on Wyoming avenue in Washington, together estimated to be worth $125,000.

The former chief justice's personal effects, comprising stocks, bonds and personal effects, was estimated at $350,000.

Mrs. Taft added that his debts, including the expenses of the funeral, would not exceed $3,000.

She said the court also, that the subscription of $10,000 to Yale University, mentioned by Mr. Taft in his will, had been paid during his life time. Likewise he had paid the $2,500 to the Taft school, founded by his brother, Horace Taft, which was mentioned in a codicil.

TREASURY BALANCE.

Washington, March 21.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for March 19 were $175,569,590.30; expenditures $165,836,289.44; balances $401,027,250.51.

POISON LIQUOR THOUGHT CAUSE IN DEATH HERE

Arthur Aitken Dies Suddenly After Drinking Hooch, But Investigation Shows Booze Not Direct Cause.

Arthur Aitken, unmarried, an outside labor time keeper employed by Cheney Brothers, died suddenly about 8 o'clock last evening at the home of his sister, Mrs. Dayton Driggs, on Wells street, a few minutes after having been taken there in a taxicab from Maple street, where he had drunk liquor in the home of Italia Dubaldo and Anthony Gallo. Medical Examiner W. R. Tinker indicated his opinion that Aitken's death was the result of alcoholism, though for a time there was some thought of holding an autopsy in hope of ascertaining whether the liquor in the case was poisonous.

Home in Taxi.

Somebody at the Maple street house called a City taxi at 7:45 and ordered the driver to take Aitken to the Wells street address. It was said then that he had had only two drinks but he was badly overcome. The driver, Mason Markham, got him into the cab, however, and drove to his home.

There Markham could not arouse his passenger, who seemed to be paralyzed. Another man happened along at the moment and his driver, James Thompson, helped Markham get Aitken into the house. He was then breathing stertorously.

No Autopsy.

A physician connected with the medical department of Cheney Brothers was summoned, but when he arrived he pronounced Aitken dead. Later in the night the body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Thomas Dugan on Holl street. Orders for the body were not until a decision had been received from the coroner as to an autopsy. Afterward notification was received that there would be no autopsy.

Police investigating the death learned today that two other men had purchased and drunk some of the same liquor that proved fatal to Aitken but they were not made ill by it.

Arthur Aitken was born in Manchester and had always lived here. He is survived by three brothers, Walter of this town, James of Providence and Robert of Pawtucket; also three sisters, Mrs. Ezekiel Benson, Mrs. Dayton Driggs, and Mrs. Ross Lewis of this town. The funeral will be held Monday but other arrangements are not complete.

THREE POWER PACT LIKELY IN LONDON

America, Britain and Japan Are Near Agreement; Expect Action Soon.

London, March 21.—(AP)—The American, British and Japanese naval delegations were understood today to be preparing for quick, definite action next week in the production of a limitation and reduction pact.

In American circles it was said that the moment the Japanese government indicates acceptance of the proposals now being considered in Tokyo for an agreement among the United States, Great Britain and Japan, France and Italy will be called upon to put their cards on the table in an effort to settle their party disagreement.

If France and Italy still cannot see any purpose in further negotiating on their difference, then the other three powers will quickly frame an agreement along the lines of the Washington treaty and France and Italy will be invited to sign such parts as they wish.

Three Power Pact.

In other words, it was said, there will be a three-power pact with France and Italy possibly signing some clauses which do not affect their party disagreement.

The American delegation this morning held a meeting under the leadership of Secretary Stimson and it was believed they discussed what action will be taken when Tokyo's reply is received.

It was said in American conference circles that the United States and Great Britain intend to stand pat on the proposals which the Japanese government is now considering. Secretary Stimson visited Prime Minister MacDonald in Downing street before this morning's meeting.

Hit by Four Bullets

Four bullets struck Baltzer and one struck Richardson. Draper said he had begun an investigation of the prisoner's possession of weapons. Blood hounds were brought here from Kilby prison to trail the fugitives. Prison officials were of the opinion that the prisoners had an additional supply of cartridges.

SENATE REFUSES A TARIFF ON OIL FOR FIFTH TIME

JOBLESS SITUATION AS BAD AS IN '14 So Says New York State Official—Appeals for Charity Increase 200 Per Cent.

Washington, March 21.—(AP)—Holding unemployment conditions in New York state were "comparable only with those of 1914," Miss Frances Perkins, industrial commissioner of that state, today testified before a Senate committee that appeals for charity had increased 200 per cent in the past six months.

She said such an increase in appeals was an indication of a condition that in her opinion was "striking and shocking."

The First Witness

Miss Perkins was the first witness as the committee resumed its inquiry into the unemployment situation. Chairman Johnson has described the hearing as a search for the "truth" about those out of work.

The increase in appeals, she asserted, represented requests from families in need as the result of unemployment, and it does not include appeals from unemployable persons—those who form, sickness or other causes would not be expected to be employed.

Bread lines have increased in size, Miss Perkins said, but added that these "more dramatic" evidences of distress were not so dependable as the statistics that have been collected by the Labor Department, with which she was connected.

"Unemployment can be made to disappear from American industry," Miss Perkins said. "We have solved other problems. The infant mortality rate, that seemed an act of God a few years ago, has been beaten, and we have stamped out scourges. I believe we can reduce unemployment in our industrial structure to a degree at which it would be negligible."

Senator Cushman, Republican, Michigan, who conducted an investigation of unemployment conditions up to January of last year, asked what could be accomplished if a Federal planning agency, such as has been proposed by Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, were set up.

"There is everywhere a disposition to plan far ahead in industry," responded the witness.

Spreading Employment

Many industries, she added, were seeking to spread employment over a regular period instead of hiring a great number of workers for a brief period and then discharging them.

Cousins interposed the comment that recently there was a conference here of radio manufacturers who had an output of 15,000,000 sets a year, whereas the consumption of this country was estimated at 3,000,000 sets.

Miss Perkins said that evidences of suffering from unemployment in New York are even "more striking" now in view of the public's present disposition to give to charity agencies. In 1929, she said, this was not the case, and evidences of suffering were more obvious.

She said that "today we have a new phenomenon, technological unemployment." This technological employment.

Watson, Republican Leader, Announces That Upper House Shall Stay In Session Tomorrow Until It Passes Measure—Vote Of 38 to 37 Against Oil Protection.

Washington, March 21.—(AP)—After the Senate today had refused for the fifth time a tariff on oil, Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, announced on the floor that the Senate should stay in session tomorrow until it passed the measure.

Prior to the vote of 38 to 37 against oil protection, Democrats and western Republicans had rallied and put through, 39 to 36, an amendment to slash existing rates on plate glass which were placed under the flexible provisions by presidential proclamation.

Watson was joined in his demand for speedy disposition of the tariff measures by Senators Vanswan of Virginia and Barkley of Kentucky, Democrats.

"The Senate then by a vote of 39 to 29 approved an amendment by Senator Hatfield, Republican, West Virginia to add 10 cents a dozen pieces to the duties now in the bill on all chinaware.

The fifth attempt for the oil duty brought an attack from Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, on its sponsors. The Arizonaan in return was admonished by Vice President Curtis for using severe language.

Before the roll was taken Ashurst protested against the sudden reversal of the attempt for the oil tariff last night by Senator Paine.

"When I was at the bar," said Ashurst, "tactics such as have been employed here on oil would have been severely denounced. I do not question the good faith of the proponents for the oil tariff but had taste and had manners to call up an amendment of that kind after Senators have gone home to a sick bed believing the oil matter settled."

After the roll was taken, Ashurst inquired if another attempt could be made for the oil duty and added must Senators hold themselves at arms length as if we were in a house of thieves."

Ashurst Admonished

Vice President Curtis ruled that the oil amendment could be brought up again if modified. He then admonished the fiery Arizona Senator for "the language he has used."

"I thank the chair," responded Ashurst with a bow. "The Senator will be on guard."

Following is the roll call:

Republicans: Blaine, Borah, Brookhart, Couzens, Fraser, Greene, Howell, LaFollette, McClellan, Metcalf, Norbeck, Norris, Nye, Robinson of Indiana, Schall, Smoot and Vandenberg—17.

Democrats: Ashurst, Barkley, Black, Copeland, Fletcher, George, Glass, Harris, Harrison, Hayden, Hayden, Heflin, Overman, Simmons, Steck, Swanson, Trammell, Tydings, Wagner, Walsh of Massachusetts, and Walsh of Montana—21.

Total against 38.

For:
Republicans: Allen, Bingham, Capper, Fess, Goff, Goldbroth, Grubb, Hale, Hastings, Hatfield, Herbert, Johnson, Jones, Keane, Keyes, McCulloch, McNary, Moses, Ossie, Patterson, Shipp, Pine-Robson of Kentucky, Philbrick, Steiwer, Sullivan, Walcott, and Waterman—28.

Democrats: Bratton, Broussard, Caraway, Connally, Kendrick, Pittman, Ransdell, Heppard, and Thomas of Oklahoma—9.

Total for 37.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING

Holyoke, Mass., March 21.—(AP)—The local police are investigating varying stories told by Edwin Porevuy, 35, who was taken to Providence hospital yesterday with a bullet wound in the mouth. The boy, unable because of his condition to talk, has written answers to police questions and indicated that he was struck by the bullet, of 22 calibre, while standing in a doorway. He was vague as to the place where he was standing. The boy's father, Paul Porevuy, reported that the boy came home Wednesday bleeding from an injury he had received from falling down stairs. He became worse and Thursday a doctor was called and who ordered him removed to a hospital.

The police are looking into a theory that the shooting might have some connection with the recent rounding up of a group of young gangsters but admittedly have not yet established any connection. The boy's father denies that his son has mixed in with any gang.

MISS MORIARTY TO SING OVER RADIO TOMORROW

Manchester admirers of the Miss Arlyne C. Moriarty, well known local soprano, will have an opportunity to hear her charming voice over the radio again tomorrow afternoon.

MUSICAL ART QUARTET GIVEN GOOD NOTICES

From the many favorable press criticisms received by the Musical Art Quartet which will play here at High school hall, South Manchester on March 27, the following are taken at random:

CIVIL WAR THREAT FRIGHTENS CHINESE

That it is a mere matter of time until it breaks out. The dispatch also says that in the event he cannot avert war between the north and south, Chang Hsueh-Liang will follow a course of strict neutrality despite the fact that both sides are reported bidding for his support.

SPECIAL Saturday Is FREE TUBE DAY at KEMP'S See Page 4

The Smart Shop opened its attraction sale yesterday morning and had an extra force of salesladies to handle the eager buyers who swarmed into the store all morning long and up until late evening.

POLICE COURT

The case of William Wilson of 24 Knighton street charged with non-support was continued until tomorrow. The alleged refusal to pay the wages of George Wykoff, one of his men, found Ralph Carlson, local contractor, in court this morning on the former's complaint.

MENUS For Good Health

A Week's Supply
Recommended By
Dr. Frank B. McCoy

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, March 23rd:

Sunday
Breakfast: Coddled eggs, toasted cereal biscuit, 5 stewed prunes; Lunch: Baked egg plant, string beans, celery and ripe olives; Dinner: Roast pork, spinach, cooked celery, salad of tomatoes and lettuce, baked apple.

Monday
Breakfast: 1 waffle, browned through, small amount of maple syrup, crisp bacon, pear sauce; Lunch: Oranges as desired; Dinner: Vegetable soup, Salisbury steak, baked ground beef, squash, string bean salad, pineapple whip.

Tuesday
Breakfast: Eggs poached in milk served on Melba toast, stewed raisins; Lunch: Dish of cottage cheese, pear salad; Dinner: Baked sea bass, cooked spinach and parsley, salad of sliced tomatoes, plain jelly or Jell-well, no cream.

Wednesday
Breakfast: Breakfast food (re-toasted) with cream, no sugar, 1 coddled egg, stewed figs; Lunch: Raw apples as desired; Dinner: Jelly-tomato bouillon (served in cubes), broiled chicken, okra, parsnips, salad of raw spinach, grape-juice whip.

Thursday
Breakfast: Baked eggs, Melba toast, stewed apricots; Lunch: Cooked turnip tops, salad of peas, chopped celery and cucumbers, molded in gelatin; Dinner: Roast mutton, buttered carrots, spinach, tomatoes, cooked lettuce, turnip cup salad, no dessert.

Friday
Breakfast: Wholewheat muffins, peanut butter, applesauce; Lunch: Lettuce soup, dish of string beans; Dinner: Baked white fish, stewed tomatoes, cooked lettuce, turnip cup salad, no dessert.

Saturday
Breakfast: French omelet, Melba toast, stewed prunes; Lunch: Potatoes on the half shell, cooked asparagus, celery; Dinner: Vegetable soup, roast beef, baked ground carrots and beets, salad of shredded lettuce, raspberry whip.

Pear Salad: Used canned halves of pears for this salad. Place a half (cut side up) in a bed of crisp lettuce. Fill the center (not quite full) with thick peanut butter dressing. Be sure and use the roasted nut butter, thinned with a little sweet cream. Place the other half of the pear over the half containing the dressing, cut side down, forming a whole pear. A clove may be used to represent the stem, and a further decorative effect may be given by adding a touch of red coloring with the fingertip to the outside of the top pear, blending it in well.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS (Large Heart)

Question:—J. W. asks: "Is there any help or cure for a person having a heart twice its natural size? This man is about 47 years old and has had it since about the age of one year."

Answer: There is no particular harm in a man having a large heart. Those who exercise vigorously when young, either through athletics or by hard work, will usually develop a heart larger than what is called normal. The heart sometimes grows larger because of trouble with the heart valves. This is what is called a compensating growth, and the heart will reduce some in size if the valvular trouble is cured.

(Ultra Violet)

Question:—L. M. writes: "Please comment on the following statement: Ten minutes at noon in early springtime, the sun's ultra violet rays are equally effective on the human body as eight to ten hours of the penetrating ultra violet rays used by a physician."

Answer: The statement which you inquire about is not correct, as a ten to fifteen minute treatment with the ultra violet light can produce an amount of sunburn which could only come from being exposed to the sun for two or three hours.

(Bean Sprouts)

Question:—W. C. H. writes: "Please tell me whether bean sprouts such as you see for sale at Japanese vegetable stands are a healthful food. I find them gas producers."

Answer: Bean sprouts are a wholesome vegetable and are not usually gas producing unless combined with garlic or onions.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Chicago—Professor Alfred A. Michaelson hopes an absent-minded scientist will be forgiven. He gave a luncheon at the Quadrangle Club, University of Chicago, for Dr. Lee DeForest. Various scientists waited for the professor. The soup got cold. Finally the luncheon proceeded without him. He forgot about it.

New York—A committee on prolonging happiness among executives has an idea, to wit: a return to heart shaped penwipers. The committee submitted its report at the annual jollification of the International Guild of Former Pipe Organ Pumpers along with another committee's suggestion that the contents of the treasury be used to buy cast iron sootmats as sure to further the program of wild cast iron and wood animal life conservation.

New York—Pleading for a suitable airport, Amelia Earhart told at a luncheon of the difficulties of women flyers in a race from Los Angeles to Cleveland in finding landing places. Generally landings were in cow pastures, and the flyers composed a little prayer: "Dear God, let them all be cows."

London—John Bull will break precedent, if need be. Commander Bevir of the Renown is seriously ill, and the Admiralty permitted Mrs.

Bevir to accompany him from Gibraltar on the Battleship. A woman passenger on one of His Majesty's ships ordinarily is one of those things which isn't being done.

Spokane, Wash.—The slogan here is "Spokane, Wash!" A dust storm has made everybody and everything in need of it.

ARREST CHINESE REDS

Batavia, Java, March 21.—(AP)—Five Chinese Communists were arrested at Palembang and sixteen in Riau Archipelago today. They were said to be members of a Chinese Communist organization at Singapore. A number of documents in their possession also were seized by the Dutch authorities.

ROCKVILLE

Senior Washington Trip.
The Rockville High School Seniors will take their Washington trip in April and several new features will characterize the trip this year, among them being the re-arrangement of the trip so that they will not be in Washington on Sunday, which has been a poor day for sight-seeing as most of the buildings are closed, also an extension of the trip to include Richmond, Yorktown, Jamestown and Williamsburg, Va., by boat down Chesapeake Bay from Baltimore, and the cutting out of the stop in New York City, to help equalize the expenses of the Virginia extension.

The members are all looking forward to a most enjoyable trip, which will include many places of interest.

Banner Rated High.
The Rockville High School publication, "The Banner," which was entered in the contest conducted by the Columbia University Scholastic Press Association, and which was entered in Class C, was awarded third place in its class. The various magazines were judged on a scale of appearance, editorial contents, makeup and features.

Burpee Corps Meeting.
One of the greatest nights in the history of Burpee Woman's Relief Corps when Veteran's badges were either presented or sent to members of the organization who had been members for twenty-five years or more.

The meeting and social was very largely attended, members and guests gathered in G. A. R. hall during the afternoon for a social time. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock. Among the guests were Department Commander James Haggerty of Willimantic; Senior Vice Commander, Mr. Cargill; James Young and Chief Mustering Officer Homer Northrup; Captain Bliss and Captain Wheeler of the Willimantic A. L., who are members of Mr. Haggerty's staff; Department President, Mrs. Mary C. Gregor, of Milford; Department Treasurer, Mrs. Laura Dutton of Waterbury; Secretary Mrs. Ann Merritt of Milford; Chaplain, Miss Annie Hathaway Smith of Willimantic; Patriotic Instructor Mrs. Mabel Foster of Hartford; Chief of the executive board, Mrs. Esther Tourtelotte; Councilor, Miss Lillian Bailey of Danielson.

Mrs. Anna Dickinson, treasurer of the Corps for thirty-eight years, was given a bouquet of flowers. Mrs. Sophia Chapman, who was 88 years old on Tuesday and did not attend the meeting, was sent a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

A cast from Vernon Center presented a short play, "Aunt Deborah's First Party." This was followed by the presentation of badges and bar pins. Mrs. Mary Brigham, a charter member was among those present.

Planning Jubilee.
St. Joseph's Catholic church will celebrate its Silver Jubilee this year and plans are now underway to observe the big event. Rev. Sigismund Woronicki, pastor of the church who is head of the general committee, will announce the various committees shortly. The program will be appropriate and will be held at the church, followed by a banquet in church hall. Although plans have commenced for the Silver Jubilee, it is expected the celebration will not be held until fall.

Leads Pool Tournament.
The pool tournament between members of the Rockville Lodge of Elks commenced this week with the six games being played. The Knights of Columbus team winning all games played, which were for fifty points each, with six men to a team.

The total number of points for the teams were K. of C. 300, Elks, 198. The next games will be played on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Scarlet Fever in Rockville.
A case of scarlet fever in Rockville, and two cases of whooping cough from Stafford Springs were reported to the State Department of Health during the week ending March 15, according to the weekly morbidity report of the State Department of Health.

Funeral of Rufus J. Leonard.
The funeral of Rufus J. Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Leonard of Toland, who died at the Rockville City Hospital on Monday night, was held from the Leonard homestead on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. George S. Brookes, pastor of Union Congregational church officiated, with interment in Grove Hill cemetery. There was a profusion of floral tributes.

The bearers were Charles McLean, Franklin Harlow, George Hollander, Albert Gordon, I. Tilden Jewett and George B. Mine.

Cornelia Circle Meeting.
The Cornelia Circle will hear about Abraham Lincoln and General Grant at the next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. John Whittlesey. Mrs. Line McEberon will review the book "Abraham Lincoln, the Prairie Years" by Carl Sandberg, and Miss Adelaide Sperry on "Meet General Grant," by W. H. Woodward. Members are requested to note that there is a change in the meeting place from originally announced.

To Play Cards.
The social club of Hope Chapter, O. E. S., will hold its next whist on Tuesday afternoon in the Chapter rooms in the Fitch block at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Rachel Gyngell, Mrs. Elizabeth Little, Mrs. Christine Guidotti and Mrs. George Gribham will be the hostesses. Refreshments will be served and prizes awarded.

Bearers at Funeral.
At the funeral of John H. Hermann of East Hartford, which was held in that place on Thursday, the following members of Tankersoan tribe, I. O. O. F. acted as bearers: Robert Reynolds, John Zimmermann, Thomas St. Louis, Lester Bressingham, Peter Dowgiewicz and Walter Kreh. The deceased was a charter member of the local tribe, leaving here several years ago.

Notes.
Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Swartfiguer of Davis avenue will leave Monday for Binghamton, New York, where they will remain until Thursday. J. Dunningan of the Wallingford store of the Scott chain is at the Rockville store this week.

Miss Eva Mesler of this city is spending a week in Atlantic City and Yonkers, N. Y.

Mrs. Alden Skinner who has been ill at the Rockville city hospital has returned to her home on High street.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Richard W. Avery of Windemere section, now a member of the U. S. 5th Infantry to Melya G. Bixby, daughter of Mrs. G. H. Bixby of New York City.

Eldridge K. Leonard, who underwent an operation recently at the Rockville city hospital, returned to his home on Elm street Thursday.

7,000 BARRELS OF BEER ARE SEIZED IN A RAID

Newark, N. J., March 21.—(AP)—Federal agents, working out of Albany, N. Y., believed today they had cut off a source of supply for upstate New York cities by raiding a brewery and loading station here and seizing seven thousand barrels armed with pistols and riot guns, under command of Captain George E. Golding, special agent for New England and New York state outside New York City. New Jersey prohibition agents knew nothing of the raid until it was over.

The agents arrested 31 employees, including a girl switchboard operator, in the brewery.

PIRATES REPULSED.

Shanghai, March 21.—(AP)—Lawless soldiery, between Hankow and Ichang today attempted to pirate a Standard Oil Company steamer which was nearing its midway between the two towns.

The marauders were repulsed.

WAPPING

At a recent meeting of the South Windsor Congregational church it was voted to give the old organ to the Windsorville Methodist church. Work on the new pipe organ is progressing rapidly and it is expected that the instrument will be ready to use Sunday, March 30.

At the United Worker's meeting, which was held at the home of Miss Katherine King, a vote was cast to buy vestments for the Congregational church choir.

Spring must certainly be most here for some of the farmers have already begun sterilizing their tobacco-beds.

Mrs. Arthur D. Smith of East Windsor Hill, is convalescing at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank B. Risley in South Lyme. Mrs. Smith has been ill from an infection in her hand caused by a splinter from an ironing board.

Rev. Harry B. Miner, pastor of the Wapping Federated church spoke before the W. C. T. U. of East Hartford at the home of Mrs. Frank L. Bidwell of 12 Vine street. His subject was "England and Drink."

At the Pleasant Valley Club whist which was held at the schoolhouse on Friday evening, Mrs. Ruth Burnham won first prize, Mrs. Judson Nevers, Jr., second, Mr. Walter Skinner won gentlemen's first and Judson Nevers, Jr., second. Sandwiches and coffee were served. Mrs. William Grisel was hostess.

Harold Jones who has been spending a few days in New York City has returned to his home in South Windsor.

The whist and set-back which was given under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers association last Wednesday evening and was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Sharp, was well attended. There were five tables of whist and three tables of set-back. Mrs. Mae Holden won first prize in whist and Mr. Trowbridge first prize in set-back. Mrs. Ethel Boley, second in whist and Leslie Collins second in set-back. The consolation went to Mr. Burr. The Parent-Teacher Association members presented Mrs. Sharp with a beautiful necklace, as a token of appreciation of what she has done for them, as she is very soon to move from Wapping to Mystic. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served.

JAPAN WANTS TIME TO REACH DECISION

Tokyo, March 21.—(AP)—It was authoritatively learned today that Japan may require another full week of deliberation before reaching a decision on the formula advanced at the London conference to fix the strength of the British, Japanese and American navies.

Consultations are progressing slowly. So many divergencies must be reconciled that it will be impossible for the Cabinet to reach a decision at tomorrow's session. Therefore instructions will not be cable to Reijiro Wakatsuki, head of the Japanese delegation in London, until the Cabinet meeting next Sunday, and this possibly may be delayed until March 28.

It was learned that the Tokyo government has asked its London delegation for further light on the conversations between Senator Reed of the American delegation and Ambassador Matsudaira, Japanese envoy to Great Britain and one of the Japanese conferees, seeking the assurance that every possibility of advancing Japan's claims will be thoroughly tried.

Diamonds give a disagreeable odor when reduced to dust.

NEXT ZEPPELIN FLIGHT

Friedrichshafen, Germany, March 21.—(AP)—Captain Ernest Lehmann informed the Associated Press that take-off of the Graf Zeppelin in its first South American flight would occur between May 10 and May 15, with return by way of Lakehurst, N. J.

The projected itinerary is from Friedrichshafen to Seville, Rio Janeiro, Pernambuco, the West Indian islands, Havana, Lakehurst, Seville, and Friedrichshafen.

WILKINS ON THE AIR

New York, March 21.—(AP)—Captain Sir George Hubert Wilkins, explorer, will address the radio audience of the WJZ chain of the National Broadcasting Company tonight on his fourth Polar expedition. He also is expected to outline plans for his fifth. He will be introduced by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, also a Polar explorer. His talks will begin at 8 o'clock, Eastern time, replacing the Pickard family, a regular feature.

PHILLIPS TO RUN ON WET PLATFORM

Ex-Pennsylvania Congressman a Candidate for Governor; Vare Opposes Him.

Philadelphia, March 21.—(AP)—The prohibition question has been injected into the mixed up political situation in Pennsylvania.

Former Congressman Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., of Bradford, the latest candidate to enter the free-for-all race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, announced that he would make the fight on a platform calling for the repeal of the 18th Amendment.

In announcing his candidacy last night, Phillips stated that he has decided to take the step after consultation with "a number of prominent citizens of Pennsylvania," but he did not intimate whether he had support of any organized group.

His Opponents.

His opponents for the governorship are Francis Shunk Brown, who is backed by the "Vare faction" of the party; Samuel S. Lewis, the running mate of Senator Joseph R. Grundy; former Governor Gifford Pinchot and Judge J. Ambler Williams, of Montgomery county. Phillips is the only one who has made any declaration on prohibition.

Secretary of Labor James J.

Davis, candidate of the Vare organization for Senator against Grundy, and William S. Vare planned to confer today with Mr. Brown in an effort to complete the remainder of the ticket which will oppose that headed by Grundy and Lewis at the primary on May 20. A tentative slate has been selected by members of the Philadelphia organization and up-state leaders who are supporting Davis and Brown.

MICHAEL J. SHANLEY DEAD

New York, March 21.—(AP)—Michael J. Shanley, one of six brothers whose name for a generation was synonymous in New York with good food, died suddenly today of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 63 years old.

The six Shanley brothers came to New York from Ireland as youths. In 1893, Michael, and his elder brother, Thomas J., started their first restaurant at Sixth avenue and 23rd street. It became so instantaneous a success that with the assistance of their brothers, opened a chain of restaurants which became famous for good, plain food of the old fashioned variety. Their most popular establishment was on Broadway, near 42nd street.

CARDINAL RETURNS HOME

New York, March 21.—(AP)—Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, arrived today on the Red Star liner Lapland, after a two months vacation in the West Indies. He was accompanied by the Right Reverend Monsignor M. J. Splaine and the Reverend J. Coppinger.

The cardinal sailed from New York on the Saturday, which he left at Nassau. After several weeks in the West Indies and Bahamas, he boarded the Lapland for New York. He will leave for Boston tonight.

CLAIM BERGDOLL LIVES IN GERMANY

Report Says He Is Married and Has Two Children in Out of Way Village.

Weinsberg, Germany.—(AP)—If the villagers of this little place are right in their surmises, Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, Philadelphia's draft dodger, is married and the father of two children.

Fugitive from America and once hounded by kidnapers from his own country, Bergdoll came to Weinsberg about four years ago in search of a cure for shattered nerves.

There is no record here to indicate it, but the tight lipped villagers believe that shortly after arrival Bergdoll married Bertha, youngest daughter of Emanuel Frank, head gardener at the sanatorium. The natives understand the ceremony was performed in Switzerland.

At any rate, two children considered as bearing the name of Bergdoll now live in virtual seclusion with Bertha's parents.

Children Guarded

The children are guarded with such secrecy that villagers do not know whether they are boys or girls. Bergdoll and his supposed wife travel constantly. Occasionally they visit the Frank home.

The old gardener will never mention the children when he goes to the village main street to shop. He responds in no way to the attentions of strangers.

His tall, erect bearing unmistakably marks him as a pre-war German officer of the reserve; his attire consists of an old hunting jacket, high leather boots, riding breeches, old soft hat and coarse walking stick.

Wife Remains Home

His wife never leaves the house and exercises eternal vigilance over the children. The only outsider the old couple receives, it is said, is Mrs. Emma Bergdoll, Grover Bergdoll's mother, who has been here several times. It is she, the villagers hear, who supports her son and his family.

Bergdoll apparently has convinced village authorities that there is danger of kidnapers seizing him or his children, for the constable, the village burgomaster and his assistants decline to divulge information concerning his whereabouts. Six years or so ago an attempt was reported to have been made to kidnap Bergdoll and return him to America.

The former Philadelphian, whose property valued at $1,500,000 was confiscated by the American government in 1927, is shunned by most of his German relatives, who disapproved of the notoriety growing out of charges against Bergdoll in 1926 that he abducted a Heidelberg girl. Following his acquittal several months later, Bergdoll blamed American persecution for his conflict with the law.

Villagers also hear that Bertha Frank's oldest sister, formerly a postal clerk at Weinsberg, recently went to Philadelphia to act as companion to Mrs. Emma Bergdoll.

INSTITUTION MAY BUY FAMOUS BACON PAPERS

But It Is Not for Sale to a Private Collector, Owner of Manuscript Provides in Will.

New York, March 21.—(AP)—The will of William M. Voynich, who in 1912 discovered the famous cipher manuscript of Roger Bacon, it was disclosed today, provides that it never be sold to a private collector at any price but that any public institution may buy it for $100,000.

Mr. Voynich, a noted bibliographer and medievalist, who died on Wednesday, discovered the manuscript in an Italian castle. The key to the manuscript, which contains some 300 pages inscribed with more than 800,000 words, was partly discovered by Mr. Voynich and the late Dr. William Romaine Newbold of the University of Pennsylvania. Bacon, a Thirteenth Century English monk, entered his theories on science in cipher because of the superstition of that age. The manuscript now rests in a safety deposit vault in New York.

THEATER IS BOMBED

Atlanta, March 21.—(AP)—A dynamite bomb thrown through a ventilator window exploded in a downtown motion picture theater early today. The damage was estimated at $500. The theater was unoccupied at the time and no one was injured. It was the second movie theater bombing here within four months.

Manager John A. Conzy said he could advance no motive for the bombing. Police, however, said they had learned that the theater had been employing non-union operators since last Monday.

One of Poland's most important exports is dried mushrooms.

MRS. GILLETTE TO WED

Los Angeles, March 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Caldwell Gillette, divorced wife of King Gaines Gillette, Jr., son of the razor magnate and George Kothe, Los Angeles, insurance broker have filed notice with the license bureau here of intention to marry.

Don't Go To Extremes To End Constipation

When bad breath, or a coated tongue, biliousness or headaches warn of constipation, don't take violent purgatives. There's no use when a Candy Cascaret will stop the trouble in a jiffy; will cleanse your system pleasantly, and completely.

The relief you get so promptly from Cascarets is lasting. Cascarets are made from cascara, a substance which medical authorities agree actually strengthens the bowel muscles.

So Cascarets are a blessing to old folks with weakened bowels; to children; to anyone in needs of establishing regular bowel habits. Ten cents a box—all drug stores.—Adv.

BACH'S BIRTH

On March 21, 1685, Johann Sebastian Bach, called one of the greatest masters of the contrapuntal school of music, was born at Eisenach, Germany.

Brought up in a household traditionally musical, young Bach was prepared for his career. At the age of 15 he was sent away to school to study the organ. Here he built the foundation which later enabled him to be called not only one of the greatest masters in organ composition but also one of the greatest masters in organ playing.

In 1723 Bach became choir-master at the school of St. Thomas in Leipzig. Throughout his long service here he was constantly hounded by the Town Council on the charge that he was inefficient and slack.

Although Bach is now declared to be one of the leading exponents of the new melodic style, little interest was shown in him at the time of his death. An entire century elapsed, in fact, before Mendelssohn began his propaganda to stimulate an interest in the great master.

WILD TALK
 When somebody asked Josephus Daniels, at the Washington prohibition hearing, whether he would be willing to spend $300,000,000 a year to put an end to the liquor traffic he replied that if the spending of that sum would accomplish that result it would save $300,000,000,000 now spent on intoxicants. We are prepared to admit that this would be a bargain. If Mr. Daniels can convince us that his guess is accurate we will agree to become as stout an advocate of prohibition as Dr. Clarence True Wilson himself. But we feel that the Honorable Josephus is slightly in error in this guess, as he was in the guess that his famous "wine mess" edict had completely dried up the American navy in pre-prohibition days.
 We don't believe it would be possible to cut down America's booze bill to the extent of three hundred billion dollars, either in one year or in several. Our reason for not being able to believe it lies in this fact: All the farm houses and all the city tenements, all the skyscrapers and all the tenement houses, all the hotels, theaters, stores, office buildings and filling stations, all the farms and building lots, all the factories, all the railroads and trolley lines, all the automobiles, all the household furniture, all the clothing and boots and shoes, all the hospitals and hospital supplies, all the mines, all the horses and cattle and sheep, all the stocks of manufacturers of goods, all the printing presses and newspaper plants—in short all the sum of accumulated wealth gathered together and preserved during 154 years of our national life (and included in that must be all the booze in existence in this country) amounts to not very much more in value than the sum Josephus proposes to nick out of the hoohy bill every year. The national wealth of the United States is not over and above three hundred and fifty billion dollars—and that is far and away greater than that of any other country in the world.
 It is barely possible that before prohibition Americans spent, on all sorts of intoxicants, somewhere approaching three billions a year, or one-hundredth part as much as Mr. Daniels proposes to save. Right now the sum is probably more than three billions, but still a bit short of the monumental figure so glibly bandied by the former secretary of the navy.
 Mr. Daniels habitually wears an old soft hat, so worn and thin that it is extremely easy to talk through.

season is founded on sympathy with and admiration for the living deer. If the deer are becoming a pest and must be killed off, no doubt as good a way as any of getting rid of them would be to let the hunters do the job, limiting them to the use of shotgun or bow.

IN NEW YORK

QUEER TALE
 From Plainfield comes a queer story of a most unusual performance on the part of a member of the State Police Department. If true in all its details it would seem to afford excellent grounds for an inquiry by the Commissioner of State Police, perhaps to be followed by a warning that its repetition would be followed by a vacancy in the force.
 As related, State Trooper Theodore Strand and a comrade officer named Martin were called to Plainfield to investigate an automobile accident. A man named Leopa, occupant of one of the cars, and his wife set upon Trooper Strand and one of them kicked him so that he fell to the ground. There, the queer story proceeds, Strand, realizing that Leopa was "in a fit of insane rage," broke open the breach of his gun and emptied the shells on the ground just before Leopa grabbed the pistol, pointed it at Strand and pulled the trigger several times. Somebody evidently arrested Leopa eventually, for he was sentenced to jail for three months.

One doubts if in all the history of police work an officer ever before adopted precisely this method of saving his life. It is rather too bad that such a device as emptying the pistol about to be taken from him, by a cop, never occurred to a movie lot director, for it would make excellent slapstick comedy stuff.
 Our own idea is that the story smells strongly of fish. We frankly doubt that there ever was a state policeman in Connecticut or anywhere else soft enough to put his service gun out of commission because he suspected that an angry civilian was going to take it away from him. If Strand did this he doesn't belong on any police force—he ought to be given a job feeding pap to sick puppies in a dog hospital.
THE TAFT LETTER
 The letter introduced into the Judiciary Committee's hearings on prohibition, in which the late William Howard Taft expressed the 1928 opinion that "the result is glorious," is rather too generally accepted as applying directly to the subject of prohibition itself.
 Mr. Taft was speaking about being placed in an unhappy predicament during the presidential campaign because his position on the Supreme Court bench prevented him from commenting on the frequent republishing of his anti-prohibition letter, whereas "I really think that it is possible, if we keep at it, to achieve satisfactory results." The declaration that "the result is glorious" referred, of course, to the result of the campaign and expressed satisfaction in the circumstance that misrepresentation of his present attitude toward prohibition had not injuriously affected the candidacy of Mr. Hoover.
 This is the only possible construction that can be put upon the phrase, for Mr. Taft was not the type of man who could in one breath call the result of prohibition "glorious" and in the next say that it might become "satisfactory" if "we keep at it."
 It was ever the way of William Howard Taft to make the best of a bad bargain. That's what he was doing when he wrote that letter. Besides, look at whom he was writing to—Professor Irving Fisher of Yale! Who would deny an encouraging word to a child?

RIFLES ARE "OUT"
 We feel more or less as the Ansonia Sentinel does about the proposed creation of an open season on deer, in case it develops upon competent evidence, and plenty of it, that the deer are doing serious damage to Connecticut farms. We don't like the idea. But our reason for not liking it isn't exactly that of the Sentinel, which apprehends that during an open deer season the air of the state would be practically filled with bullets, to the great peril of automobilists and others passing to and fro over the roads. "They don't shoot deer with birdshot," says the Sentinel, "they use high powered rifles."
 That is quite true in Maine or Vermont but it is only partly true in Massachusetts—where the use of rifles isn't permitted. They don't use birdshot, indeed, but they use buck shot. And if we do by any chance have an open season on deer here it will be a shotgun and not a rifle season; that is inevitable. Only a madman would think of permitting the use of rifles in a territory where the roads are only half a rifle shot apart on an average.
 Our reluctance toward a deer

Don Friede, the publisher, furnishes me with one of the most interesting literary anecdotes I have heard about in some time.
 Friede was over in Europe last summer, and like all the New York publishers, was scurrying around for new books to publish and new authors to discover. He got the bright idea of signing up Professor Albert Einstein, of Einstein theory fame—you know, the one which will affect no women can understand—for an autobiographical work. He made an appointment with the mathematical genius for early in the afternoon, but going to Berlin by plane arrived too early and found himself kept waiting.
 Einstein, so it appears, is noted for his prodigious generosity. His home is besieged by an army of money seekers, few of whom are ever turned away. Friede showed up just as the coffee chasers were having their moment. Sitting down to kill time, Friede picked up a book lying on Einstein's table. It was titled "Sintfut," and the author was one Robert Neumann, a writer of whom Friede had never heard. Although he reads German laboriously, Friede found himself so interested that he did not realize how much time had passed and when he looked up, Einstein was standing in front of him smiling patiently.
 "I quite understand your interest," said the scientist. "I can highly recommend that work. You may have it. I am not ready to write my own book. Perhaps this will do as well."
 And that's the way a book, brought out under the English title "Flood," happened to be published in New York the other day.
 GILBERT SWAN.

Health and Diet Advice
 By DR. FRANK MCCOY
WHEN YOUR NOSE KNOWS
 A woman who was unable to sleep went into a basement where a gas main was leaking. She remained until she was unconscious, when a relative happened to smell the gas, hunted for it, and found her. Most of the gas could have easily been detected if the sense of smell, indeed, the nose often warns us of dangers even though we do not regard the sense of smell as very important. It is very easy for us, for example, to detect the odor of burning wood or of clothing.
 "Most of us take the sense of smell as a matter of course until we get a cold and then we find that many foods do not taste quite right. This is because the sense of smell is closed tied in with the sense of taste." It is said that one with a total loss of smell can detect very little difference in the flavor of an apple from an onion. The sense of smell is vitally bound up with the appetite. A dish that smells good to us when sitting down to the table starts a flow of the digestive juices in the mouth and stomach which in turn aids a lazy digestion.
 Sometimes doctors have a delicate sense of smell that they can determine the different odors of the skin in health and disease, and can often determine the disease from the odor alone. Whenever one has a foul perspiration, there is sure to be some diseased condition of the body accompanying it.
 The more civilized a man is, the less likely he is able to smell keenly. It is said that the snake-eating tribes of Queensland are able to follow the trail of the boar for many miles, as they particularly prize this reptile in making their snake stew. The wet nosed animals, such as the dog or cat, can recognize the direction from which an odor comes, but before a man can do as well he has to wet his fingers in his mouth and then hold it up and he can then detect the odor comes from the dog's nose, which is a more sensitive organ than the nose of most men.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
(Pale Complexion)
 Question:—F. G. writes: "I have a very pale complexion, so much that one's first impression is that I am ill. This condition has existed for the past twenty years. During the summer I burn from the sun and my complexion is red, but in the course of only a few days it immediately clears up and becomes pale again."
 Answer: Some people have naturally pale complexions, which are very difficult to correct. You should be sure to obtain plenty of raw green vegetables in order to provide mineral elements. Also, use daily calisthenic exercises which will improve your circulation. Massage of the face and applications with hot water followed with ice may also be useful.
(Bananas)
 Question:—E. H. asks: "Are bananas constipating? Is it best to scrape off all the fuzzy coating of the banana, or is that just someone's idea?"
 Answer: Bananas may be considered slightly constipating as they do not contain much fiber. It is not necessary to scrape them.

the trail of the boar for many miles, as they particularly prize this reptile in making their snake stew. The wet nosed animals, such as the dog or cat, can recognize the direction from which an odor comes, but before a man can do as well he has to wet his fingers in his mouth and then hold it up and he can then detect the odor comes from the dog's nose, which is a more sensitive organ than the nose of most men.

witnesses that the eighteenth amendment should be repealed outright.
 The dries, however, trotted out Henry Ford, John D. Rockefeller and Thomas Edison as their prize exhibits. And they brought on a large group of representative women whose appearance must have reminded the wets again that the majority of American women undoubtedly are on the dry side. Furthermore, the dries were able to rest serenely in the knowledge that Congress is overwhelmingly theirs and that as long as they have even a majority in that body they will hold the whip hand. Not even the most enthusiastic wet supposes that the dry majority will be wiped out within the next two or three elections.
 But even if the wet and dry hearings meant nothing else, this fight has taken on aspects of the eternal and there is no prospect that either rigid enforcement or wet or dry losses will diminish it as a national issue. In fact, there are developments current and in prospect which can only add fuel to the fire.
 Everyone interested in the issue is looking forward to the November elections. Apparently there will be as many wet candidates as ever in states and congressional districts where a wet is considered to have a chance, and if some of them are elected to replace dry incumbents the politicians will take very seriously the claim of real gains in wet sentiment. The wets stand to lose hardly any seats. They may pick up a few. Election of wets is the only way wet sentiment can express itself effectively and if the wet and dry ratios in House and Senate remain the same in the next Congress the wet side will be where it has been for the last ten years and may even begin to suffer from chronic disappointment.

 Thus one group or the other probably will be able to make a great whoop-to-doo over the election results while the other makes explanations, and the same thing goes for the current prohibition poll being taken by the Literary Digest. This "referendum" is as large and polls taken by the same magazine have been so accurate in presidential years that no one will ignore the result. Taking a vote in a New York club is almost as sure to result in a wet "victory" as one in a large Baptist church would be won by the dries. An expression of opinion by several million persons is likely to be significant.
 But with the conclusion of the wet and dry hearings all one can say without making mistakes or enemies is that the situation remains about the same except that more people than ever, for one reason or another, are disturbed or

WASHINGTON LETTER
 BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 Washington, March 21.—The wet and dry hearings before the House Judiciary Committee have demonstrated nothing as much as the fact that this issue will remain bitterly controversial as long as prohibition stays on the books—which may be forever.
 The wet lines may have stiffened, but there has been no visible weakness on the part of the dries, whose power in Congress is not yet seriously challenged. What satisfaction the wets may get from the more recent history of prohibition must be found in the lack of adequate enforcement, the dissatisfaction of many dries and most neutrals over present conditions and the fact that when given their first good chance to present their case to the country they presented it admirably.
 They have had almost nothing to lose, anyway, except their tempers and convictions. What they seem to have gained lately is a greater feeling of solidarity or unanimity and increasing feeling that wet sentiment in the country is becoming both stronger and more articulate. Of course, the hearings don't bear out any claims of increased strength; neither side exhibited any converts worth mentioning. From the wet standpoint its most significant phases appear to be a greater enthusiasm, evidence that quite a few big business men and financiers were opposed to prohibition and an unexpected agreement among many

DAILY LENTEN THOUGHT

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist

There is a tendency to think of Christian faith too much in terms of intellectual assent and too little in terms of attitude of heart. Jesus drew a very sharp distinction between those who called him "Lord, Lord" and who did not do the things that He said, and those who, even when they failed openly to acknowledge Him, really sought to do the things that He taught.

Long ago the writer of Proverbs asserted that a man is as he thinks in his heart, and not as he professes to be. Paul, also interpreting the meaning of Christian faith experience, reminds us that "if any man have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of His."

The psalmist said, "the fool has said in his heart, there is no God." Men say a great deal sometimes that they do not mean.

Our words are hasty and thoughtless, and our moods are often rebellious, and in the gloom of doubt, but the wise man cannot long deny in his heart the reality of that goodness and righteousness with which we associate the name of God. It is in our hearts, in our practical lives and conduct, that we really determine whether we are men of faith or unbelief.

Heart faith produces grace and goodness.

Lucky Mother

"My success with Jean isn't just luck," says Mrs. V. Lund, 286 Loretto St., Tottenville, L. I. "It is due to a plan."

"She has escaped the ill-effects of colds and upsets because, at the first sign of a cold, of bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness, I open her bowels with California Fig Syrup. She loves its taste and I like its gentle, thorough action."

Mothers by thousands praise California Fig Syrup. For fifty years physicians have endorsed this pure vegetable product. It tones and strengthens stomach and bowels; stimulates appetite; encourages digestion and assimilation. Its use helps make sallow, listless children rosy and energetic.

Look for the name California when buying. That marks the genuine; safe for infants, effective for children in their teens.—Adv.

White Sox Have Vision Of First Division Berth

Absence of Shires Fails to Dampen Enthusiasm of Chicago Team; Cuff Giants Freely.

San Antonio, March 21.—(AP)—Possessing little strength they did not have last year when they finished just one jump from the American League cellar, the 1930 Chicago White Sox are strangely confident and hopeful for a first division berth.

A different manager and a choice crop of rookies is the only real strength exhibited by the Chicagoans. The natural supposition would be that they are not quite ready to win a pennant, but the Sox apparently never heard of such a line of reasoning.

They are whooping it up for the likeable Donie Bush. Even the condescending presence of Art Shires, who it appears might be permanently absent has failed to diminish their enthusiasm.

"We've got a fine looking bunch of youngsters" said Donie. "It's too early to do any predicting but I believe the boys are going to give some great baseball for me. I think it's safe to say we'll finish higher than last year. Improved hitting will do that."

Partly responsible for the fine morale of the Sox is the manager in which they have cuffed the Giants about in the exhibition series.

Except at first, where the veteran Bud Clancy has filled in for Shires during the great one's prolonged correspondence with headquarters the team looks as strong in every department as last year.

In shifting Chalmers Cissell from short to second, Bush has solved his keystone problem. The expensive buy from the Coast looks like a "natural" on the right side of the field.

Irvin Jeffries, a grinning youth from Dallas, and Ernie Smith, up from Birmingham are scrapping it out with Bill Hunnefeld, a holdout, for shortstop, with no decision yet in sight. Willie Kamm at third completes the infield.

Smead Jolly, a strapping slugger from San Francisco, who has hit around .400 regularly for several years, is the prize addition to the outfield.

Between him and a regular trier in the pasture patrol are the fleet Carl Reynolds, John Watwood, and Alex Metzler, regular last year, and Jimmy Moore, George Backerby and Dave Harris, three hard hitting newcomers.

Two youngsters from lesser leagues are being counted upon to bolster a somewhat wobbly mound staff. They are Vic Frasier, a right-hander whose pitching featured Dallas drive to the 1929 Texas League flag and Bat Caraway a southpaw who compiled a remarkable record with Topka of the Western League.

Forming the backbone of the staff are the Urban Faber, Alphonse Thomas and Ted Lyons, who know what it is all about. Other hold-

SONNENBERG PUTS RIVAL IN HOSPITAL

Boston, March 21.—(AP)—Henri Diglane, French heavy weight wrestler, today was confined to the city hospital with concussion of the brain and fractured ribs, injuries suffered late last night when he was butted out of the ring during his match with Gus Sonnenberg, recognized as titleholder in most states.

Diglane had a fall on Sonnenberg and was making great progress for the second when the mishap rendered him helpless. Sonnenberg was awarded the decision on a default when Diglane failed to continue.

MAMAS DEFEATS HYATT ON FALLS

"Roughhouse Harry" Mamas used a flying whirl hold to win two falls over Leo Hyatt of Michigan, in a slam bang mat battle at Foot Guard Hall in Hartford, last night. The first fall came after 43 minutes and 25 seconds of the roughest wrestling which the High Street drill shed this season. The second came after 15 minutes and 25 seconds.

Mamas started his roughhouse tactics early in the bout but Hyatt countered with the same methods and had Harry reaching for the ropes before five minutes had passed. Both men used their elbows, knees and hands freely with Hyatt having a slight advantage during the early minutes.

Hyatt rushed Harry to the ropes and Mamas carried to the edge of the mat hoping to get out of reach but Hyatt lost his coolness and chased Mamas around the ring before Harry was ready to resume his wrestling. This bit of comedy pleased the crowd who booed Mamas and howled for Leo to finish him.

ART SHIRES' CASE

Chicago, March 21.—(AP)—No little worried and somewhat remorseful, Charles Arthur Shires, is expected to change his mind about forgetting the White Sox and make a final, personal appeal for reinstatement to Charles Comiskey. He is coming here from Texas with his younger brother Russell.

overs, none of whom did extensive pitching last year are Grady A. Kings, Harold McKain, Ed Walsh, Jr., Ted Blankenship, Bob Welland and George Connolly.

The catching will be in very capable hands with Morrie Berg, Martin Autry and Johnny Riddle ready to go. Berg again is expected to handle the brunt, with Autry doing first relief.

NEW YORK RANGERS TIE OTTAWA, 1 TO 1

Boston Tigers Tie Providence Reds, 3-3 In Canadian-U. S. League Playoff.

Ottawa, March 21.—The crippled New York Rangers hoped for a close game as they invaded Ottawa last night to do battle with the Senators in the first game of two in the classic Stanley Cup series. They got it. Through sixty minutes of hockey that was hard and fast, and at times furious, the teams battled to a tie of one goal each, so they will start the second half of this first-round contest in Madison Square Garden next Sunday all even.

The Rangers feel just a little bit nettled at the result. With a goal by Leo Bourgalet in 9:45 of the first period, the Blue Shirts were working zealously with the idea of bringing home that lead to New York. However, in the third period, they had their hopes rather badly shattered. In the midst of a fierce scrimmage, Gagne who used to play for both Canadiens and Boston Bruins, shot past John Ross Roch, the flashing of the red occurring as it seemed a moment after the referee-in-chief had blown his whistle for a penalty to Goldsworthy. There was no doubt in the minds of the Rangers that an injustice had been committed. The Blue Shirts gathered in mid-ice, refusing to allow the game to proceed, but their tantrum did them no good. Both referees stood firm, and Ottawa got its goal.

BOSTON TIES 3-3.

Boston, March 21.—(AP)—The Boston Tigers today were certain of a place in the play-offs of the Canadian-American Hockey League through last night's 3-3 tie game with the league leading Providence Reds here.

The one point gained gave them undisputed possession of second place. The Philadelphia Arrows, one point behind, can still overtake them at the New Haven Eagles, in fourth place, are out of the race.

The Tigers opened the game with whirlwind play, scoring three times in the first 12 minutes, but the Reds came from behind to tie the count in the last two periods.

The first game of the play-offs will be played at the Garden here on March 29 provided the ice is not needed for a Bruins-Maroons game in the National Hockey League.

CONNECTICUT GOLFER LEADS MIAMI TOURNEY

Miami Beach, March 21.—(AP)—Billy Burke, Westport, N. Y., was leading the parade of contestants today when the $15,000 La Gores open golf journey moved into the second 18 hole round. Medal honors are to be awarded at the completion of 36 holes.

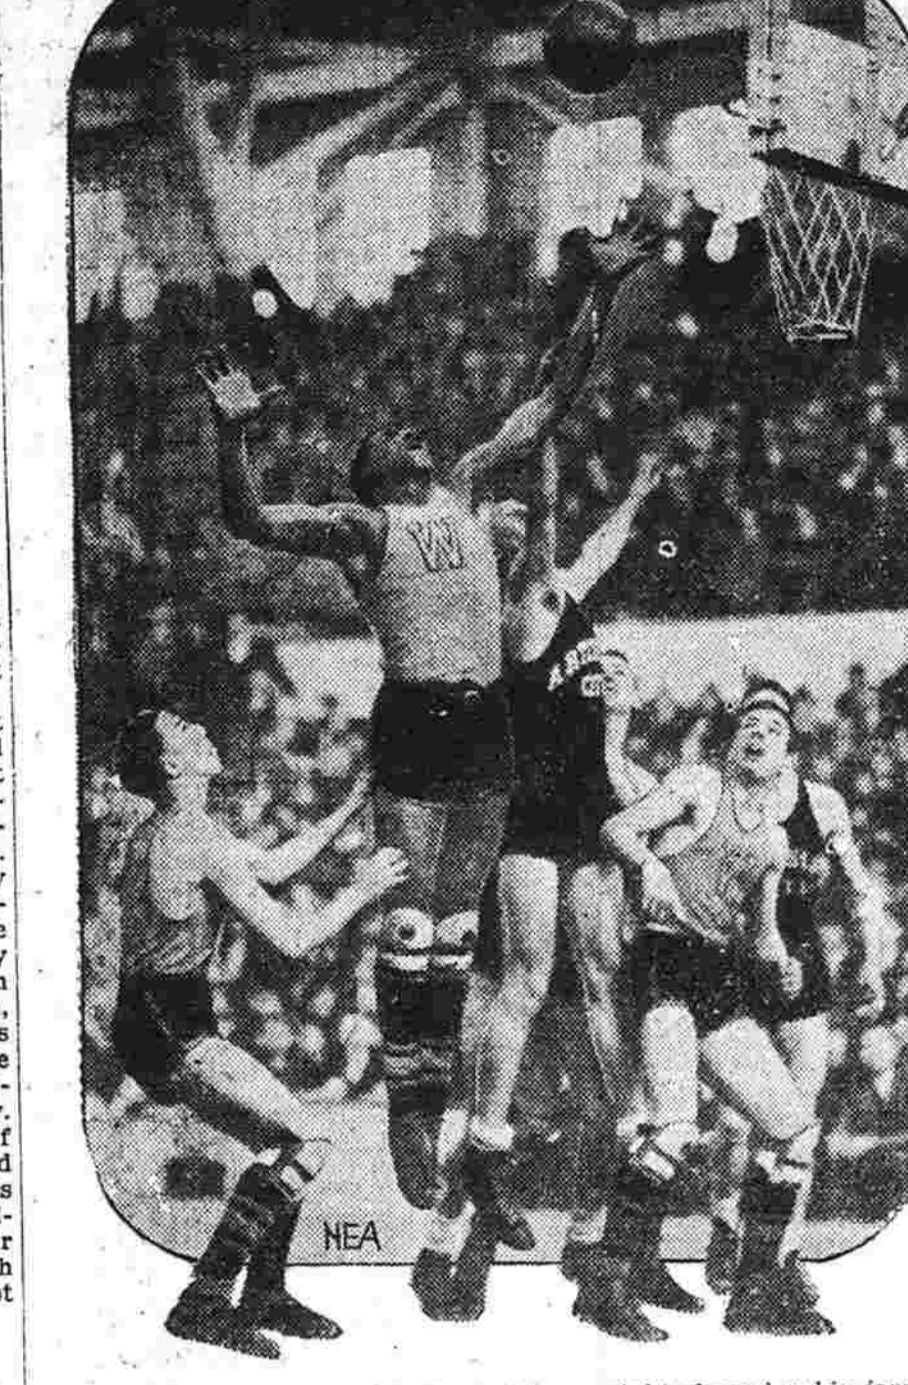

Burke clipped three strokes off par yesterday for a 68. Craig Wood was second with 70. Horton Smith, Bill Meibhorn and Clarence Gamber each had 71. Johnny Farrell rang up a 74, as did Gene Sarazen. The low 64 will play the final 36 holes tomorrow.

CHOCOLATE FIGHTS

New York, March 21.—(AP)—A ten round bout between Kid Chocolate and Al Ridgeway, and a somewhat synthetic 15 round championship battle between Black Bill and Midget Wolgast, are the high spots of Madison Square Garden weekly show tonight.

Black Bill and Wolgast are finalists in the flyweight tourney here and the winner will receive recognition of champion in this state.

FOR HOOSIER CHAMPIONSHIP

A world's series in baseball or a heavyweight championship jamboree doesn't get half the rise out of Indiana sports followers as the annual state interscholastic basketball tournament. This photo shows the first in the first game of the tourney, with Sadler of Martinsville and DeJernett, lanky negro center of Washington, struggling for the ball.

Carnera Scores 11th Kayo; Zavita Lands Only Once—And Then It's On The Floor

Jacksonville, March 21.—(AP)—Disposing of Frank Zavita, Newark heavyweight in one minute and 51 seconds, Primo Carnera, Italian heavy won his 11th straight American knockout victory.

At the start Zavita rushed Carnera but the Italian floored him for a count of nine with a left uppercut. After a bit of sparring Carnera came in again and ended the fight with a left to the head and right to the body. Zavita appeared nervous and did not land a single solid punch during the bout.

Detroit Sports Writer Infers Bat Won Fight

Says Bud Taylor Won Decision Mainly Through Two Hard Blows; Crowd Boos Decision.

Detroit, Mich., March 21.—(AP)—Bud Taylor, veteran Terre Haute, Ind., boxer, defeated Bat Battalino, of Hartford, Conn., featherweight champion in a ten round non-title bout at Olympia Arena here last night.

The decision in favor of Taylor was unpopular with the crowd, which raised a chorus of boos. The Terre Haute boy scored a knockdown in the second round and the champion remained on one knee until the count of eight. This knockdown apparently was the margin by which Taylor won. Battalino piled up points steadily during succeeding rounds.

Taylor spun Bat around with a hard left to the jaw in the seventh. The Hartford boy fought back, but appeared groggy for the remainder of the round. They stood toe to toe and exchanged punches in the ninth. Battalino appeared to have the advantage excepting for Taylor's two hard blows.

Taylor weighed 127 1-2; Battalino 127.

Editor's Note.—The above dispatch was written by a Detroit sports writer and therefore cannot contain any prejudice in favor of the Connecticut boxer.

Local Sport Chatter

Bat Battalino lost considerable prestige last night when he dropped a ten round decision to Bud Taylor out in Detroit. It was the second decision the Hartford lad had lost out of town since he won the world's featherweight title from Andre Routsis.

Battalino's much vaunted punching ability was sadly missing against the smart and experienced Terre Haute boxer who even went so far as to floor Battalino in the second round for a count of nine. Not once did Taylor's legs wobble.

The whole thing in a nutshell, as we view matters, is that Battalino received the crown at too early a point in his career; at a time when the Hartford lad had not had the opportunity of acquiring enough ring knowledge. There is no question but what he possesses plenty of hitting power, but without sufficient science, this asset is often wasted. And such was the story last night.

Reluctantly, we are forced to admit that it certainly looks as if Battalino will lose the title the first time he puts it at stake against a good man outside of the confines of his own home town. And if Bat does meet Kid Chocolate for the title in New York this summer, don't bet much on the champion unless you have plenty of dough to waste.

Bat's goose seems cooked and a feast awaits the one fortunate enough to beat the others to the table.

BRUINS DEFEAT MAROONS, 2 TO 1

Deciding Goal Comes After 45 Minutes of Overtime Play at Montreal.

Montreal, March 21.—(AP)—The Boston sextet defeated the Maroons in the initial game of the first place play-off for the Stanley Cup here last night, 2-1. The winning goal was scored after 45:00 3-5 of overtime play.

The Bruins took the offensive from the start, but were stopped at the Maroon blue line. Stewart returned the puck to the Boston territory, where Barry took it away from him. Coming down the ice, Barry was tripped by Dutton, who incurred the first penalty. Clapper, Welland and Gainer combined to make several attacks on the Maroon net, but the Montrealers successfully repulsed them.

The play was fast and both teams changed their front lines frequently. Opposing forward lines attacked with equal effect, the defenseman on well that neither had many shots.

Hittman went off for tripping Ward, and Barry followed him for clipping Stewart across the head. The Maroons tried to take advantage of their opportunity, but the Bruins played all back and held them off until both returned. The Maroons continued to have the edge, however, and Tiny Thompson had double the number of shots ended without a score.

The period at the start of the second period Dutton, who had just recovered from an injured foot, had to be assisted off the ice when his injury recurred.

Many Penalties Imposed

Oliver and Galbraith went off in quick succession, Oliver for roughing and Galbraith for handling the puck. As Oliver came back Munro was benched for bumping Shore. He was still off when Shore followed him to the bench for slicing at Siebert as the Maroon's wingman came down to score.

The Bruins took the offensive and Clapper and Welland went down Walsh saved by falling out of his net. The play was fast and rough with neither team having much of an advantage.

The Maroons got the first goal when Trotter, going down the ice with Munro, passed to his teammate at the blue line, where Dunc took it to skate in and drill a hot corner.

Clapper and Welland were benched for tripping, and a minute later Wilcox and Shore followed him to the bench. Welland, leading point-maker of the league, put Boston even with Montreal three minutes after Munro's goal, when he scored on a pretty three-man play with Owen and Clapper.

Owen passed to Cooney at the Montreal blue-line, and Welland, far out near the left boards, shot a low fast shot which found the net before the Maroon goalie knew it was coming. The Bruins were playing five men to the Maroons' four at the time.

The play was somewhat slower as the period drew to a close. Both teams interspersed their third time players with the regulars as the former became tired at the pace.

Hard Play Continues

The third period was but a minute old when Shore and Stahl were benched for roughing. Owen and Oliver made several nice rushes for the Bruins and Smith, Stewart and Siebert retaliated.

As the play became rougher men fell on both sides, tripping, body checking and general rough play being prevalent. Walsh was the hero for a few minutes as he was called upon to stop shot after shot by the Bruins. Once he was beneath a pile of Bruin and Maroon players ten feet out of his goal but still in possession of the puck.

Barry went off for tripping but the Bruins held off the Maroons easily. The crowd was in an uproar as Stewart shot a puck at Thompson after taking it down after Siebert and Dutton, but the puck didn't go in.

As the period drew to a close there was little to choose between either team, play being about equal. The Maroons had a slight edge in the period's play, but the Bruins were not far behind. The game went into indefinite overtime as the bell rang.

The lineup:

West Palm Beach, March 21.—(AP)—Henie Manush leading hit maker of the St. Louis Browns joined the stay at home today. Manush wanted an increase over last year which the Browns were reported unwilling to give.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 21.—(AP)—Manager Connie Mack is a bit worried about the world champion Athletics staff.

"I'm satisfied that I've got good pitchers," he said today, "but what worries me is not enough good pitching. I've got no worries about Grove, Barnshaw and Walsh, but they need help."

Winter Haven, Fla., March 21.—(AP)—The Phillies roster of regulars is complete and Manager Burt Shotton wore a broad smile today. Presco Thompson, captain and second baseman signed his contract yesterday and had his first workout with the team.

Los Angeles, Calif., March 21.—(AP)—Manager Joe McCarthy of the Cubs was somewhat worried that another very close battle with the Cubs prepared for their second game with Portland.

He employed three of his best prospects against the Pacific Coast leaguers yesterday but they were nicked for 17 hits and the Cubs lost the game after 11 innings, 7 to 6.

Rec Five To Oppose Hartford's Best Five

East and West Side Rec Teams Don Roller Skates In Preliminary; Middletown Orchestra for Dancing.

Festivities at the School street Rec are going to be well worth seeing. Hartford's best basketball team, the Sport Centers, will furnish opposition for the Rec Five in the main part of the program but there will also be the unusual spectacle of two teams playing basketball on roller skates.

Then to make matters all the more enjoyable, special efforts have been made to attract many dancing lovers. The famous Middletown Serenaders will furnish the music and there will be nearly three hours for that form of entertainment. The main game will start promptly at 8:30 to make this possible. The Rec floor has been thoroughly scraped and waxed for the dancing.

The program opens with the battle between two roushouse quintets from the East and West Side Recs on roller skates at 7:30. According to all reports the referee, whoever the unfortunate victim may be, will need wings. This game seems sure to provide fans with plenty of laughs as there cannot help but be many spills and thrills.

The Rec Five will find itself facing very stiff opposition in the Sport Centers, a team which has been turning back the best of them with alarming regularity. In their lineup are several former high school and college stars, most prominent of whom are Eddy of C. C. fame, Greenbaum of Weaver High, Branch of University of Virginia, Phelps of the University of Alabama team.

In view of the Rec Five's unique record, it seems unsafe to assume that another very close battle will develop this evening. In this respect, the Rec has more than been giving the fans their money's worth this season. Game after game has been decided by one, two or three points in the last minute or two of play. Sherwood Bissell, Trinity captain, will either play or referee.

KEBART DEFEATED A LA BATTALINO

In Battalino fashion, Charlie Kebab, town bowling champion, met defeat in a non-title skirmish with Art Berthold of Rockville last night at Conran's alleys.

Berthold entered the last half of the match sporting an 83 pin advantage and added 23 more in the ten games to win by a total of 106. His 135 was high. Here are the scores:

Berthold—116 108 127 115 135 126 121 106 93 112—1159.
Kebab—100 101 127 91 122 111 122 120 112 128—1136.

YOUR CHILDREN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
© 1930 by NEA Service, Inc.

They say that the eyes are the windows of the soul. I never heard anyone refer to the voice as the theme of character. But I believe that is so.

When I hear a man or woman who wants something done give the command in a certain tone that means business, I know that behind that voice, quiet and gentle though it may be, is character.

We wonder why it is that in certain homes where obedience is the order of the day and the children move quickly and happily to do what they are told, we never hear a cross word or a loud command. But if we would turn our attention away from the children to the mother and do a little analyzing of her own personality, we'd find, I think, that the secret of it all lies right there.

Now I have preached from the high places against the mother who tries to force, and does force, her own personality on her children, making them carbon copies of herself, impressing the cameo of her personality on their plastic natures until they are intaglios of the same pattern.

But obedience and discipline have just as important a part in the training of character, and it is with mothers fall to put authority in their voices when giving commands, and thus fall to get obedience. Is it because they doubt themselves? Or do they doubt the outcome? Probably the latter.

But obedience and discipline have just as important a part in the training of character, and it is with mothers fall to put authority in their voices when giving commands, and thus fall to get obedience. Is it because they doubt themselves?

Begin Here Today.
The crime: Doris Matthews, lady's maid, is murdered Friday night in summerhouse by blow with heavy perfume flask; body, rock-weighted and tied with scarf, is dumped into lake on estate of millionaire Berkeley.

Detectives: Bonnie Dundee, house-guest and discoverer of body at sunrise swimming party; Captain Strawn of the Homicide Squad.

Members of the household (all under suspicion): Mr. and Mrs. George Berkeley, who quarreled late Friday night over their daughter Clorinda's engagement to Seymour Crosby of New York, close friend of Mrs. Berkeley's secretary, Mrs. Lambert; Gigi Berkeley, who unaccountably sprinkled all persons in the drawing room Friday night with perfume from flask presented by Crosby to Mrs. Berkeley and later used as murder weapon; Dick Berkeley, who, after having been missing all night, turns up with his mother in accusing Eugene Arnold, chauffeur, of having murdered him as well as the girl; Wickett, butler, formerly in employ of both Mrs. Lambert and Crosby.

Strawn and Dundee check Dick's story that he spent the night in the tower room of the house. Returning to their questioning of Mrs. Berkeley, they hear from her maid after 7:15 Friday night. To Strawn's amazement Dundee suddenly asks Mrs. Berkeley: "Did you so approve your own appearance after Doris had finished her work that you leaned toward the mirror and kissed your own reflection?"
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"But did you miss the flask of perfume Mr. Crosby had given you?" Dundee asked quickly.

Chapter XVII.
"Really, Mr. Dundee?" Mrs. Berkeley cried furiously. "This is too much! The very idea of asking me if I kissed myself in the mirror! I never did such a silly thing in my life."

"Then may I ask, Mrs. Berkeley, if when you were in the mirror, you noticed upon its surface the print of rouged lips?" Dundee persisted.

"Certainly not! I've told you the mirror was spotless!"
"What are you driving at, Dundee?" Captain Strawn demanded, sorely puzzled.

"I'll show you. Step into the bathroom with me, sir."

They left Mrs. Berkeley talking excitedly in a low tone to her husband, and passed into the bath which lay between the sitting room and the bedroom.

"Looks like a movie set, don't it?" Strawn chuckled, and his eyes took in the orchid-and-green magnificence. "Sunken tub, shower cabinet, towels big enough for blankets—Lord! What a dressing-table! Enough cosmetics here to stock a shop," he added, his glance sweeping over the array of orchid and pale green crystal jars and bottles lined about the wide top of the dressing table, in the center of which a basin was sunk.

"See that, Chief?" And Dundee pointed to a Cupid's bow of bright-red rouge clearly defined near the bottom of the beveled, frameless mirror swung above the low dressing-table. "A nearly perfect Cupid's bow, except for the fact that the print was slightly smudged downward."

"Well, I'll be darned!" Strawn whispered, but Dundee was too busy. He was unscrewing the cap of a tiny green crystal jar.

"Mrs. Berkeley's lip rouge," he explained, showing the dark-red tube. "And Doris's," he added, again opening the little silver tube of lipstick which the dead girl's compact had contained.

Not satisfied with comparing the color of the smudge on the glass with Doris's lipstick, he bent close to sniff the mirrored sample, then held the little tube to his nose.

"It's the same, chief. That print on the mirror was made by Doris Matthews!"

"Well, now we're getting somewhere!" Captain Strawn ejaculated, with satisfaction.

"Maybe," Dundee agreed, and they returned to the bedroom.

"Now, Mrs. Berkeley," he began, when he had resumed seat and notepad, "will you please tell me whether Doris was permitted to use lipstick while on duty?"

"Certainly not!" Mrs. Berkeley answered emphatically.

"And was Doris still in your room when you went down to dinner?"

"She considered. 'No, I'd kept her longer than I expected, and just as I was nearly ready to go down Clorinda called on the house- phone. We have an intercommunicating system, you know, so that we can telephone to almost any room in the house, just by pushing little buttons—'

"Yes? So Doris went to assist Miss Berkeley?"

"Yes, immediately, before I left my room."

"And would Doris have returned to this room later for any reason?"

CARE AT CHILD BIRTH HELPS CUT DOWN SCOURGE OF BLINDNESS

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

One of the most serious problems in social welfare is the care of those who have lost their sight. The health section of the League of Nations recently made a survey of the incidence of blindness in various parts of the world. Blindness usually means a complete lack of sight in both eyes, although the ordinary man may regard as blind those who can tell the difference between light and dark but who are unable to see their way about.

The sight of a child may be insufficient to permit it to read ordinary school books without difficulty or danger to its vision, but the child still be able to find its way about. Such a child would be blind for purpose of education.

The degree of blindness that renders a man unfit to carry on ordinary work is less than the amount which would prevent a child from becoming educated.

The eyes of children are changing as they grow, and this fact must also be kept in mind in considering blindness.

The countries of the world vary in their legal definition of what constitutes ability to see, in their system of finding out how many blind persons there may be in a community at any given time, and in other ways.

Nobody knows exactly how many blind persons there may be in the world, but out of a total population of 763,867,665, people in the countries concerned, there were 801,443 blind people, or about 104 blind people to every 100,000 of the population.

Due to the systematic campaign that has been carried on throughout the world in the last 20 years, there is less and less of infantile blindness as a result of venereal disease. In practically every civilized state in the world, the physician or the midwife is required to drop into the eyes of the child at birth an antiseptic to control such infection.

As a result of this, the number of cases of infantile blindness have been decreased, but there are still enough blind children under five years of age to make the problem of their care a serious matter.

In Switzerland an organization has made a special study of the care of the blind child under five years of age and has emphasized particularly the necessity for teaching the child to live as nearly like a normal child as possible, dressing itself, eating alone, playing with normal children in the open air, walking, and trying to make it free of the terrible solitude that is almost inevitably the lot of those who cannot see.

Prepare them NOW for vigorous hair at thirty!

The easiest way to care for a child's hair properly, is with Danderine. Put a little on the brush each time the hair is arranged. Then as you draw it through the strands, it supplies the natural oils removed from hair and scalp by washing with soap and water.

"Train" a child's hair with Danderine. See how this keeps it orderly, lustrous, clean. The natural curl is accentuated. A girl's waves "set" with it stay in longer; look more natural. And Danderine isn't sticky or oily; doesn't show.

When the use of Danderine becomes a daily habit in your home, longer, thicker, more abundant hair is sure to follow—for every member.

Danderine helps stop falling hair; dissolves every particle of dandruff crust; keeps the hair and scalp clean and healthy; changes dull brittle, lifeless hair into hair that is sparkling, vigorous, easy to manage. Five million bottles used a year proves Danderine's effectiveness.

VALUABLE RELICS IN ANCIENT TOMBS

Over 100 Mummies Discovered at Meydum; Numerous Articles Recovered.

Cairo, Egypt.—(AP).—Excavators under the direction of the University of Pennsylvania are making discoveries of considerable historic value, including 101 mummies, amid the tombs of ancient Egyptians at Meydum.

Several unsuspected chambers with untouched coffins and contents have been unearthed by the party, which has been digging since November, and although the discoveries are not so rich in artistic and historic interest as those at Luxor and more recently at the Sphinx, they make a valuable contribution to knowledge of Egyptian history over a wide period.

The first tomb of note to be unearthed was that of a foreigner who, some of the pottery indicated, had come from Cyprus and settled at Meydum in the reign of Thothmes the Third, about 1500 B. C.

His name was K. A. Gemes. His coffin was beautifully decorated and inscribed with a record of his qualities. In another large coffin, also of rich interior, several mummies were found, as well as 25 scarabs, numerous amulets and a set of very delicate toilet articles.

Unearthed a Cemetery
To the east of the Mastaba was discovered a cemetery of contemporary date. A number of bodies were exposed, all having been buried in the same manner, namely with their heads to the north and lying on their left flanks with faces turned to the east. This position was customary under the XVII Dynasty at Meydum and elsewhere but the most prolific yield was obtained from a spot which was sunk some distance to the southeast of the pyramid.

Here the explorers came upon twelve rock cut chambers, most of which were stacked up to the ceiling with layers of coffins in rows. In addition to 29 single burials, without coffins, this "complex" contained 101 mummies in coffins of which 30 were recovered in a fair state of preservation.

The chambers were discovered in the reverse order of their dating, which ranged from the new empire to the Ptolemaic and Roman era. When the first chamber was reached, the explorers were able to see through a chink in the wall the rows of coffins in a larger and lower chamber to the north and when this was broken into it was seen to be an ante-room with other chambers leading from it.

The ante-room was piled high with corpses and coffins thick with cobwebs and covered with rubble and lumps of rock which had flaked off from the ceiling. It took several days hard work to reduce their confusion to order and sort out skeletons, mummies and coffins. Photographs were taken of each stage of the work. Only the better preserved were kept.

The chambers on the south side of the pit were similarly disposed and the three adjoining rooms were found to be sealed. One contained a very black coffin of the Twelfth Dynasty (B. C. 2000), rectangular in shape and painted in exquisite white hieroglyphics with religious texts from the Helipolis Revision of the Book of the Dead.

The coffin had originally belonged to a lady named Sat Her Em Hat, but was again used during the Eighteenth Dynasty, or thereabouts. Underneath lay the remains of a similar coffin belonging to a person named Khenti Khet Em Hat.

Now that a Texas beauty prize winner has been given a long term movie contract and another Texas girl has won a national beauty contest, the time seems ripe for that state to put a plural on its "Lone Star" sobriquet.

CLASHES FREQUENT IN PARLIAMENT NOW

Feeling Runs High Between Parties Over the Coming Budget Bill.

London.—(AP).—Party feeling in the House of Commons is running so high on the budget, which will be introduced April 14, that clashes are frequent.

Particularly are they noticeable between the chancellor of the exchequer, Philip Snowden, and his predecessor, Winston Churchill.

Mr. Snowden has been pressed regularly in the House to reveal something of the coming budget but he has refused, stating that he has said half a dozen times he could not anticipate his budget statement.

"Surely," said Mr. Churchill, on one occasion, "Mr. Snowden should give the House some better reason for persisting in his attitude of spiteful contumely."

Snowden's Retort
Mr. Snowden retorted that he had a precedent in Churchill's "spiteful" reimposition of the McKenna duties safeguarding the British silk and motor car industries which the first Labor government removed.

Then Mr. Snowden refused to receive a deputation from the silk trade and Mr. Churchill rose to point out that the chancellor of the exchequer usually received at this time of the year as many as fifteen deputations from industries who fear the effects of the budget.

"One reason for my refusal," Snowden explained easily, "is that I do not find as much enjoyment as Mr. Churchill did in airing his views before deputations."

Conservatives Aroused
Snowden's snub roused the Conservatives to fury and one voice cried out "that was very vulgar, Snowden."

"If my answer appeared to be vulgar I am sorry to fall into the precedent which has just been set," Snowden replied, with a scornful wave at Churchill.

Conservatives cried "arrogance, insolence, impudence" but the content of the budget remained a closely guarded secret within Mr. Snowden's white haired head.

Polish President Hits Historic Bull's Eye

Torun, Poland.—(AP).—The honor of Poland's marksmanship has been retrieved by the president of the republic 200 years after Peter the Great of Russia defeated August III of Poland in a contest, under auspices of the Sharpshooters' association of Torun, an organization that dates from the 13th century.

President Moscicki, on a recent visit to Torun, was shown the historic target that is still in place, and was asked whether he would like to try his hand. With his first shot he hit the bull's eye at the exact spot where Peter the Great scored.

BOYS HONOR DR. COOK
Chicago, March 21.—(AP).—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, former Arctic explorer who was recently paroled from the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, today became physical director of the Boys Brotherhood Republic.

Nine hundred boys cheered Dr. Cook as they made him a life member of the organization—an honor awarded only to two others, President Theodore Roosevelt and Mrs. Marshall Field.

VETERAN SOLDIER DIES

London, March 21.—(AP).—Colonel Edward Donald Malcolm of Poltalloch, believed to have been the last surviving sapper officer who saw service in both the Crimean war and the Indian mutiny, died today. He was 93 years old.

In the Indian campaign, he was twice decorated for bravery in addition to earning mention in official despatches. Later he was commissioned for service in Canada where his engineering genius was brought into play. He was responsible for the construction of a chain of three forts to strengthen the defenses of Quebec city on the south side of the St. Lawrence river.

Back in the late 80's Colonel Malcolm was appointed inspector of submarine mining defenses and later became boundary commissioner for Scotland. He retired in 1894.

MOTHERS ARE LEARNING USES OF MAGNESIA

From the beginning of expectancy until baby is weaned, that's the time Phillips Milk of Magnesia performs the greatest service for many women.

It relieves the expectant mother's nausea, heartburn, "morning sickness," inclination to vomit; helps her digestion. Its mild but effective laxative action assures regular bowel movement.

Phillips Milk of Magnesia is better than lime water for neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding. A teaspoonful of it does the work of a half pint of lime water. It is a mild laxative; harmless, almost tasteless.

All drug stores have Phillips Milk of Magnesia in generous 25c and 50c bottles. Always insist on the genuine, endorsed by physicians for 50 years.

COUNTY 'Y' DRIVE OPENS ON MONDAY

Clarence P. Quimby Is Chairman for the Manchester District; Campaign Is Outlined.

Clarence P. Quimby, chairman of the financial committee of the Hartford County YMCA announces that the annual financial campaign of the Hartford County YMCA will be held simultaneously over the entire county next week, March 24-31. John H. Thompson of Farmington is general chairman of the campaign.

Clarence P. Quimby

So. Windsor; Manchester district, Clarence P. Quimby; of Manchester, Southern district, Samuel J. Magill of Thompsonville; Farmington Valley district, Sherman W. Eddy of Avon; Southern district, George R. Marsh, Bristol. In each local community the campaign will be in charge of local committees appointed by the district chairman.

Budget
The budget for the County YMCA for 1930 is $14,468.94. Three full-time secretaries are employed. This represents an advance made during the year in the development of the work in the Southern part of the county requiring the services of an additional secretary. L. J. Black of Springfield College was called to the position in September and he will continue during the year ahead. The budget also provides for the annual field training of students in the town and country department of Springfield College, which brings student secretaries into the county for part time service.

The Hartford County YMCA is closing twelve years of service to the town and country communities of this county. During this year its service has extended into forty-three communities of the county.

One important feature of the County YMCA is its group work. There are now fifty-three groups in the county ranging in age groupings from 9 years to grown men. These groups are found in thirty communities. The youngest boys are organized as "Friendly Indians" with a program built around the early Indian traditions, crafts and play life.

Interest Clubs
One new phase of work developed this year for the first time for boys' groups is an Interest Club program, built about spontaneous boys' interests such as aviation, various crafts, sculpturing, stamp collecting, travel. To make possible such source material for these groups a library of program material has been assembled, which is one of the best in the state in the field of visual education.

High school boys have been organized in the widely-known international Hi-Y club movement. Hi-Y clubs identified with the County YMCA are found in the local High school with the Senior Hi-Y led by Chester Robinson and the Torch club led by Ralph Proctor, also in the High schools in Farmington (a new organization this year); Southington; Enfield; Simsbury and Suffield school. Lewis P. Lindsay of Suffield school is in charge of this division of the County YMCA. A special feature planned for the leaders of the Hi-Y clubs is a leaders' training meeting at Suffield school on April 15th.

The County YMCA has interested itself in the musical development of several boys' groups. Two successful brass bands have been developed, one in Marlborough which Thomas Maxwell of this town has recently taken charge of, the other in Southington under the direction of Thomas Azolina of Meriden. Harmonica clubs are popular, a very excellent one having been developed in the Interest Clubs connected with the South Glastonbury grammar schools.

Charles W. Holman

Two of the most successful community clubs in the county were started by the County YMCA and they are still affiliated with the County Y—the Highland Park club organization in 1921, and the East Berlin club organized in 1924. The athletic activities of the County YMCA have grown to major proportions under the direction of Harry N. Anderson of Hartford, and with the co-operation of athletic commissioners including Louis Main, Sr., of So. Windsor, W. A. Bailey of Plainville; Kernet, Parker of New Britain, Rev. V. L. Phillips of Kensington, A. L. Randall, of Broad Brook, S. J. Magill of Thompsonville, Hugh Greer of Glastonbury; George Backman of Southington; George Beer of Highland Park; J. E. Rand of Manchester; and Lionel M. Depot of New Britain.

The athletic activities of the County Y includes basketball, baseball, indoor athletics, outdoor track, swimming and tennis. Four State Inter-County YMCA championships were carried off this year—in swimming, for the sixth consecutive year, indoor athletics, outdoor field and track, and intermediate basketball. In addition the County Y outdoor track and field team captured for the first time in Connecticut County Y history the general State YMCA outdoor field and track championships. The boys who participated in these events were from Manchester, Wapping, Highland Park, Hazardville, Enfield, Suffield, Simsbury, West Avon, Plainville, New Britain, Kensington, E. Berlin and Southington.

Swimming Instruction
A new feature in physical education was introduced last summer in Southington, Plainville, and Bristol with outdoor swimming and life saving instruction at swimming holes, under the direction of L. J. Black of the County Y staff. This program will be extended this summer. One of the important features of the Hartford County YMCA is Camp Woodstock, its summer camp conducted jointly with the Tolland and Windham County YMCA's Elmer T. Thienes, executive secretary of the Hartford County YMCA, is Camp Director. The camp has a capacity of 125 boys and operates for boys from July 2nd to 30th. The trustees of the camp this year are taking over the girls' camp operation, previously conducted by the Windham County YMCA, and the camp will be run for girls also from August 1 to 15.

The County YMCA has been active in furthering inter-racial and international understanding. A nationally commended work, launched in 1928 with 250 colored students from southern colleges working on Hartford county tobacco plantations was extended last summer and will be further developed this season. This work of furnishing educational and social opportunities of a helpful kind had the co-operation of the North End Community Branch of the Hartford YMCA.

In developing this phase of work, foreign students from South America, China, Czechoslovakia, Latvia, Norway, Egypt and Korea have been brought into touch with Hartford County Y institutions, and arrangements have been made with the Bristol Rotary club to entertain a group of 21 students from foreign countries studying at Yale University, in a community visit April 8th and 9th, in which Bristol factories and schools will be studied.

New Branches
The new Southington YMCA launched last year as a branch of the County YMCA has grown during the year and a similar development is now in process in the north end of Manchester. In these communities buildings will eventually be erected to carry on the work of the association. The County YMCA has built up a program of co-operation with local institutions in the towns of the county in addition to developing its own program. This co-operative service has been carried on with 20 schools, 40 churches, 4 industries, 10 community organizations, and 14 young people's organizations.

A much appreciated development of the year was an extensive educational moving picture service with narrow and standard width film showings. Two moving picture projectors have been in constant circulation, films having been shown 117 times and in the following places: Highland Park, Collinsville, Broad Brook, E. Grandy, Scantic, Wethersfield, Rocky Hill, Southington, Marlboro, Plainville, Wapping, Granby, E. Berlin, West Granby, Bloomfield, Enfield, Avon, Bristol, North Granby, Manchester, No. Canton, E. Hartford, Hazardville, West Suffield, Unionville, Addison, South Glastonbury, Elmwood, Canton Center, and Simsbury.

Officers
The Board of Directors of the Hartford County YMCA is composed of: President, Chas. W. Holman of Manchester; R. O. Clark of E. Berlin, Vice President; Calvin C. Bolles of So. Windsor, Treasurer; Ralph M. Grant, Clerk; F. C. Bidwell of Bloomfield; Henry R. Buck, Hartford; Lawrence W. Case of Highland Park; Sherman W. Eddy of Avon; Phillip Graham of Suffield; Paul A. Larned of W. Hartford; S. J. Magill of Thompsonville; Geo. R. Marsh of Bristol; Earl P. Parmelee of Poquonok; Harold Rogers of Southington; and John H. Thompson of Farmington.

Elmer T. Thienes is executive secretary of the Association, with Leonard J. Black as associate secretary. Miss Hazel S. Wipperf is in charge of business and promotion activities.

MORE JAKIEY VICTIMS
Louisville, Ky., March 21—(AP)—As the number of cases of partial paralysis is believed by Kentucky health officers and physicians to be caused by drinking adulterated Jamaica ginger mounted today to 250 or more, hopes for a scientific diagnosis of the puzzling malady centered here.

Several of the victims are to be brought to Louisville City hospital immediately and will be isolated for medical and neurological investigation. Meanwhile samples of the "Jakiey" as the widely-distributed mixture is called, are being analyzed.

Dr. L. L. Terrell of Corbin, where there are more than 100 cases, said he had had one brand of ginger analyzed at Atlanta and was told it contained industrial instead of pure grain alcohol. Supplies of ginger have been traced to New York, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Tennessee points.

ARABS LEAVE FOR LONDON
Jerusalem, March 21—(AP)—An Arab delegation was given an enthusiastic farewell today when they started for London to present their case to Great Britain in connection with the publication of the report of the commission of inquiry into the disorders of last August. The delegation included the Grand Mufti and the mayor of Jerusalem.

questioned Miss Jones who was uninjured, at some length. Signed His Name
Miss Jones had been called here to answer charges of forging Moore's name to several checks. She admitted she had affixed the man's signature to checks but said the action was taken with his consent. Moore, arrested and charged with assault to murder, was released on $1,000 bond after a habeas corpus hearing.

Miss Jones underwent an operation in a hospital at Teague a few weeks ago from which she had not fully recovered. She was forced to leave the stand at her forgery trial here Tuesday, because of illness, and yesterday was unable to attend Moore's habeas corpus hearing. Her forgery trial has been postponed to Monday.

No evidence was presented at the hearing. Moore vehemently denied any connection with the burning.

TEXAS DETECTIVES DOUBT GIRL'S STORY

She Says She Was Tied to Bed in Hotel and Mattress Was Set Afire.

Fairfield, Texas, March 21—(AP)—Texas Rangers today joined with county officers in an attempt to solve an alleged attempt to murder Miss Wilma Jones, 23, by burning the girl in her hotel room, while G. S. Moore, Oakwood, Texas business man, charged with the assault, continued to reiterate his innocence.

Plainly incredulous of the girl's story of being tied on her bed by an unidentified man, who then set fire to the mattress, two Texas Rangers and Sheriff J. H. Eubanks last night

HEBRON

The supper and entertainment given by the Ladies Aid Society of the Center Congregational church Wednesday evening was well attended. The proceeds from the supper alone amounted to over $26.00. The bill of fare consisted of Irish stew, baked beans, salads, cake and coffee, rolls, etc., served on the caterer's plan. The pleasing program of entertainment, which followed opened by a chorus of thirteen girls dressed in costume, who sang "Painting the Clouds." Mrs. Edward E. Smith then gave an amusing monologue, supposed to be local news items read from a newspaper, giving occasion for many local hits, and closing with a comic solo on the same line. Mrs. Mary E. Cummings sang a soprano solo, "You Don't have to be Irish to be welcome in an Irishman's house." Miss Alicia Zabriske played accompaniment. A mixed quartet of singers, the Rev. and Mrs. John W. Dexter, Homer

Hills, and Miss Florence Jones sang "Dixie Kid." Other quartet numbers were "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," and "Old Uncle Ned." A sketch, "Baggage," by Jessie Hills and Everett Hutchinson brought down the house, and a skit by Miss Eunice Seyms and Jessie Hills, showing the modern way of proposing, was encored. A chorus "Tiptoe Through the Tulips" closed the program. The Wednesday afternoon Lenten service at St. Peter's church was held at the home of the Misses Pendleton at 3 p. m. this week, instead of at the rectory. There was a good attendance. Mr. Carr led devotions and the topic was on "Faith." The 46th Psalm and the second chapter of Hebrews were taken for meditation. An informal discussion followed. The next week's service will take place at the same hour at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. T. D. Martin. Miss Victoria Hilding and Mrs. Albert Hilding entertained the women's bridge club at their home

Wednesday evening. There were three tables in play. Mrs. Loren M. Lord was winner for the evening, with Mrs. Frederick Weyman second. Refreshments of cakes and delicious chicken sandwiches and grape juice were served. Mrs. Carrie I. Burnham and Mrs. Anne C. Gilbert carried the members to the party and home again. Raymond Jones expects to move soon from Trowbridge place to the Sheketoff place owned by Edward A. Smith. Albert Hilding is exhibiting two or three hundred incubator hatched chicks, which he is keeping temporarily in the basement of his home. He expects other hatches soon. A farewell party was given to Miss Jennie Loomis, who has been in the employ of J. T. Ottosen, of Mansfield for the past few years, taking place Wednesday evening at the Ottosen home. Several of the neighbors from the locality were present. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Coats and family from Hebron were among those attending. Mrs. Coats played the piano and refreshments were served. Mr. Ottosen then presented himself for a time with some members of the party. When they returned he introduced to the company a new wife, and a romantic story was disclosed. Mr. Ottosen, who lost his first wife some time ago had known the present Mrs. Ottosen in the childhood of both in Norway. She was then Miss Marie Hansen. The marriage service was performed by Elder James Freiberg, of New London who motored to Willimantic for the purpose. The ceremony took place on Main street, of the Thread City, in an automobile. The witnesses were Miss Jennie Loomis, Miss Alice Freiberg, and Donald Coats. After the return to the Ottosen home, refreshments were again served and the music was again served on the music box on the characteristics of the wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Ottosen will make their home in Mansfield.

WOMAN MURDERED.

Perth Amboy, N. J., March 21.—(AP)—Breaking down a locked door at 31 Smith street late last night, police found the battered and bruised body of Mrs. Bertha June, 65 years old proprietor of a dry goods store, lying in a pool of blood. The woman's nose was broken and her entire body badly lacerated and cut.

POLICE COURT

A crowded courtroom sat through one of the most intensely interesting cases to come before the Manchester Police Court in many years, this morning, when Dr. Edward J. Schreiber, Main street dentist, was found guilty of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Deputy Judge Thomas Ferguson imposed a fine of $150 and costs on Dr. Schreiber and suspended a jail sentence of 30 days. The case was appealed to the June term of the Superior Court.

Dr. Schreiber was arrested shortly after one o'clock yesterday afternoon by Patrolman John J. McGlinn, who testified the man was drunk. Deputy Judge Ferguson in reviewing the testimony of both sides and before pronouncing sentence, said that in his long association with Patrolman McGlinn, he had found him perfectly honest on the witness stand, truthful at all times, and he could see no reason to doubt the policeman's testimony.

Besides Patrolman McGlinn the State was supported by the testimony of Chief of Police Samuel Gordon, Lieutenant William Barron, and

Dr. Le Verne Holmes, all who claimed Dr. Schreiber was intoxicated.

Appearing for the defense were Dr. T. H. Weldon and Dr. Mortimer Moriarty, the latter Dr. Schreiber's personal physician, who testified that he had been ill for some time. Clifford Potter, also a witness for the defense, who is employed at Packard's Pharmacy, and who saw the dentist a few minutes prior to his arrest, said he saw no signs of intoxication but in answer to the question as to whether he believed Dr. Schreiber was sober he answered that he saw nothing extraordinary about his condition.

Attorney William J. Shea appeared for Dr. Schreiber.

HOW SHOULD I PREPARE "BAKED STEAK"?

To preserve meat juices in steak, bake it with a thick layer of Ivory Salt on both sides, remove from the oven and scrape off the encrusted salt. This assures full flavor without "saltiness."

Headaches, Listlessness, Bad Breath, Backaches, Indigestion—Stop Them with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

This is a serious matter. You must conquer constipation! Stop it at once before its poisons get in their deadly work.

Nearly 90% of all sickness has its origin in irregular elimination. If you neglect the symptoms—constant fatigue, bad breath, headaches and coated tongue—you may be laying yourself open to permanent ill-health.

There's a natural, easy way to free yourself from this terrible scourge, once and forever. By eating regularly a delicious cereal—Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Physicians recommend ALL-BRAN because its action is different from pills and drugs. Ordinary cathartics give only temporary relief, and are often habit-forming.

ALL-BRAN acts naturally, gently. Its roughage sweeps the system clean of poisonous wastes and impurities.

And ALL-BRAN is a great aid to health in other ways. It contains abundant iron which enriches the blood, builds strength and the glowing color of health. With milk or cream—or in fruit juices—it brings important vitamins to the diet.

You'll find the flavor of ALL-BRAN delightful. A crisp, ready-to-eat cereal, with a nut-like flavor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to keep you free from both temporary and recurring constipation.

Ignoring constipation is like playing with dynamite. Start serving Kellogg's ALL-BRAN now. Sold by all grocers in the red-and-green package. It is served in restaurants, hotels and dining-cars. Ask for it by name.

COTTON REPORT

Washington, March 21—(AP)—Cotton spinning in February showed a decline as compared with January and also with February of last year. On a single shift basis, the Census Bureau today reported the average number of spindles were operated at 97.7 per cent capacity compared with 100.3 per cent capacity in January this year, and 110.7 per cent in February last year.

ARREST 10 COMMUNISTS.

Mexico City, March 21—(AP)—Police last night arrested ten Communists after a procession of sixty or more, among them some women, had staged a demonstration in the downtown district. Among the ten arrested were two men who had been released earlier in the day after being arrested weeks ago on suspi-tion of implication in the attempt against the life of President Pascual Ortiz Rubio February 5.

ENGINEER'S CONTENTION

Genoa, Italy, March 21—(AP)—Senator Luigi Luiggi embarked today on the Conte Biancamano for New York, where he will represent Italian engineers at the meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers April 4. He plans to convey to President Hoover congratulations from Italian engineering colleagues and a gift from the University of Genoa.

SCHOOL TEACHERS HOLD SOCIAL GET TOGETHER

Teachers from the schools outside of the Ninth District assembled at the Manchester Green School at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for a social gathering. The program started with Charades. There were twelve teams, each one representing one of the teachers in the group. The three were national advertising slogans. Miss Talcott was the winner. This was followed by ten and Miss Ruth Ellis presided at the piano while the tea was served. The committee that arranged for the meeting yesterday expressed thanks to Mrs. Robert Dewey, Mrs. N. H. Holmes, Mrs. E. B. England and Mrs. R. H. Burnham for the use of the dishes that were loaned for the tea.

The American engineers who arrived recently in Russia to supervise construction work costing $100,000,000 will doubtless build a foundation for better relations between this country and the Soviets.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Rare Birds. The motorist who admits he's wrong. The woman who is never late. Youths who really get educated at college.

Hold 'Er Newt! He heard the toot, but tried to scoot. And beat the choo-choo to it. The poor galoot now twangs a lute. Take heed and don't you do it.

Not many fellows can do this, said the magician, as he turned his Ford into a lamp post.

Helen—What's the death rate in the United States? Grave—About seventy miles an hour.

Judge—You were going sixty miles per hour. Defendant—There was a good reason, your honor. This cop was chasing me and I had a stolen car.

Judge—Oh, that's different. Case dismissed.

Automobiles may be almost as deadly as war, but some of the boys who saw service overseas say automobiles do not make you salute at day and scratch all night.

Motorist—Is it very far to the next town? Native—Well, it seems further than it is, but it ain't.

The on'y reason some people are arrested for driving 60 miles an hour is because their cars won't make 70.

He who fights and runs away usually is caught by a traffic cop anyway and given a ticket for speeding, resisting an officer and careless driving.

THE TINYMIES STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.) The Tines jumped up with the dawn and wondered just how far they'd gone. The ship was calmly sliding through the water far at sea. Said Scouty, "Come lads, hurry now. We'll go up to the big ship's bow and watch the pretty sun rise. It will be a sight to see." They dressed as quickly as they could and Clowny said, "We're getting good. We used to all feel like this, but we're full of pep these days." Then out on deck they promptly ran and joined the friendly Travel Man. He took them to a handy spot where they could stand and gaze. The sun was like a ball of fire. It slowly lifted higher and higher. Then came the call for breakfast and the Tines cried, "Hurray!" They sat down to a tasty meal and Coppy said, "How good I feel. This sort of breakfast's just the thing to start another day." When they had eaten, all they
