SLOT MACHINE OWNERS FINED IN NEW HAVEN

New Haven, March 25.—(AP)—Four of the 25 persons recently arrested in connection with the seizure of forty mint vending machines were fined $50 and costs today on charges of possessing gambling machines. The defendants filed appeals, bonds being set at $500 each.

The cases of the remaining 21 defendants were continued until April 19 by Judge Stanley Dunn, pending a decision in the Court of Common Pleas, on the appeals.

The defendants arraigned today, J. Harmon, Salvatore Mosca, Marshall Soff and Abraham Kaplowitz, pleaded not guilty. Their counsel contended that the machines seized were not used for actual gambling and they were covered in an injunction recently granted the Eastern Mint Vending Co., restraining the police from interfering with the machines.

The machines seized were of the 25 cent variety. City Attorney Harry M. French has contended that the injunction only applied to five cent machines.

In an isolated section of the town, he said he was ordered to stop the cab. His passengers, one of whom was armed, robbed him of his money and then ordered him into a nearby woods.

Quinn told police he had only $1 at the time, having come on duty shortly before he received the call to the dance hall. The taxi was abandoned in North Branford this morning.

JAILED FOR CONTEMPT

Hartford, March 25.—(AP)—Deciding that Anthony Petruskas, well known real estate dealer of New Britain, had bought the testimony of Andrew Petuskis with a $100 check in a civil case now on trial in the Superior Court, Judge Newell Jennings today ordered Petruskas confined in jail for 15 days for contempt of court and said "Petruskis escapes by one hair, he is not much better, but I'll give him the benefit of the doubt."

The case before court is that of Philip J. Gagner and Alfred Roy, restaurant men of New Britain, against Petruskas on the ground that he agreed to assumption of mortgages and bought property from them which was later foreclosed.

NO INFORMATION.

New Haven, March 25.—(AP)—The Connecticut Agricultural Experiment station has had no information as to the possibility of an injunction being sought by Glastonbury farmers to prevent the laying of a quarantine against the European corn borer in that town as indicated last night by H. ## TIMED HIS DEATH TO GET INSURANCE

ulent career, he timed his suicide so that his widow and the persons who financed his last trip would not suffer.

James L. McGranahan, whose pretty 20-year-old wife, Mary, appeared shortly after the chemist was awaiting to see whether she was the girl who died with Dr. Watzl. McGranahan said his wife once went on a motor trip planning suicide, but that the inventor "backed out."

Used Assumed Name.
The disappearance of Dr. Watzl who was his late 30's left behind him a mystery that for a time flooded Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York police with murder and kidnapping theories of all sorts, revealed that he had kept a studio here under an assumed name and prompted the filing of four suits for divorce and alienation of affections.

McGranahan brought a divorce suit against his wife, alleging that she left his home to pose in Dr. Watzl's studio, and instituted a $100,000 alienation of affections suit against Watzl. Later Mrs. McGranahan's parents filed cross-suits for divorce, blaming the difficulties upon arguments over her association with Dr. Watzl.

Popular Figure.
Dr. Watzl's Continental bearing, ability to make friends and reputation as a chemist opened the city's best homes to him. He was a conspicuous figure in night clubs. His friends pointed out that he was just on the verge of success when he vanished and at no time believed he ran away to escape paying the $5,000 he borrowed when he went on his last trip to Philadelphia.

Mrs. Watzl, who has been ill several days, declined to comment on his death.

WELCOMES POWER PROBE

Cooper Inc., of Eastport, Maine, told the House foreign affairs committee today he was "entirely agreeable" that investigations be made by the United States and Canada as to what effect his projected power company on Passamaquoddy and Cobscook bays would have on the fisheries in the border waters of the two countries in that region.

LENGTHEN COUNT ON SHIFT PLAYS

Football Rules Committee Installs Count of Six; Officials' Duties Concurrent.

New York, March 25.—(AP)—Football legislation designed as an additional curb on shift plays, providing for a "count of six" instead of four before the ball is put in play, has been adopted for the 1936 season by the national football rules committee.

Heretofore, the stop interval in shift plays has been governed by approximately one full second. The equivalent of an ordinary count of "1-2-3-4" by the official, under the new rule, the interval must be "at least one second" and is to be governed by a count of "1-2-3-4-5-6." The referee, as a further check, will be permitted to carry a split second for use whenever he is in doubt about the rapidity with which a team produces plays out of a shift formation.

This was the most important alteration in the college gridiron code effected by the national committee, which made public its findings today after a week-end session with the chairman, Edward K. Hall, at Absecon, N. J.

The committee, in two other matters, voted to make the duties of all four officials on the field "concurrent" in respect to all fouls and adopted a resolution discouraging "unsportsmanlike" the use of any equipment similar in color to the ball and thereby aiding deception.

Officials heretofore have been instructed in the fouls they could call. Under the new definition of their duties, they can report all fouls to the referee, who remains the final arbiter in case of any dispute.

The committee "deprecates" the use of head protectors, jerseys or attachments similar in color to the ball, thereby giving an advantage, according to the resolution adopted on this point. It was cited that teams given permission to use a white ball for night games last season took advantage of this by wearing white jerseys. The committee expects to substitute a definite rule for 1931 for its resolution designed to stop such practices this year.

No fundamental changes were recommended or made in the football rules by the committee, which announced the completion of the important job of recodifying and simplifying the gridiron code. The number of specific rules, in the new form in which they have been put together, is reduced from 28 to 13.

It was the sentiment of the committee as well as most football coaches that the present balance between offense and defense is satisfactory.

MAYOR NEED NOT NAME RUNNER, COURT RULES

In the report was "Murphy." The Grand Jury which had had a session just before court opened, made its report to the effect that it had failed to secure more details of the liquor transaction from Mayor Batterson and Mr. Allen. The jury asked the court for necessary authority to demand the desired testimony from both witnesses.

Mayor Batterson had refused to name the "friend" through whom he had bought liquor, reference to which had come into the testimony taken by the jury. Mr. Allen had declined to give the jury any information on the ground that to do so might incriminate himself.

Argument by counsel followed as to whether Mr. Allen should show that his testimony would incriminate himself or whether the state attorney should show that such testimony would not incriminate Mr. Allen.

The Grand Jury report was to the effect that Mr. Batterson as mayor of the city was head of the police department and was there under special obligation to give the jury any information he might have as to liquor sales.

The jury's report to the court said: "If the mayor as head of the police department may furnish protection to his favorite bootlegger by his refusal to testify there is no apparent reason why any other police officer on the force should not in like manner furnish like protection to his favorite bootlegger; if protection may be properly so furnished, there is no evident reason why such protection should not be purchased. Corruption in the police department consists in the purchase of such protection."

Judge Jennings ruled that Mr. Allen was not required to answer the Grand Jury questions. A short recess was then taken before the court was ready to rule on the plea that Mayor Batterson be required to name the "friend" through whom he had made a purchase of liquors.

The court ruled that Mayor Batterson need not answer the question put to him by the Grand Jury. Mr. Alcorn indicated he would appeal from the ruling of Judge Jennings having taken exception to the court's decision.

The court ruled that under the circumstances as revealed in the Grand Jury report Mr. Allen was within his rights to refuse to answer questions which might incriminate him.

Mr. Alcorn said that under the statutes and the constitution of the State the claim of Mr. Allen that agement, but it was said in authoritative conference circles that it would not be made effective until all hopes vanished for a five-power agreement at this time.

Whether some sort of a pact would be signed prior to adjournment was a matter of speculation. The heads of the five delegations planned to meet this afternoon to consider the whole situation including the adjournment suggestion.

During the day assurance that the French delegation was ready to proceed with a view to achieving a five-power pact was given the Americans by the French at a conference at American headquarters.

It was stated in well-informed conference circles that if adjournment was carried out it was planned that at least a three-power agreement would be signed between the United States, Great Britain and Japan before the conference quit work.

Probably this agreement would contain some clauses to which France and Italy could subscribe. Adjournment would give them a chance to see if they would compose their difficulties to a point where they could sign the agreement as a whole.

Well-informed persons believe that when once an agreement is signed at the present session it would not be altered materially at a resumed session in order to permit the French and Italians to sign. In other words, they would have to overcome their difficulties so they could sign the original document.

Chicago, March 25.—(AP)—Charles Arthur Shires reached an agreement with Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, today. He turned in his signed contract and will leave tonight for San Antonio, Texas, to join the club.

The babbling first baseman was reinstated immediately after he came to terms with Comiskey. While the amount of his salary was not divulged, it was understood to be in the neighborhood of $7,500, an amount Shires said he never would consider for his services as a member of the White Sox.

Shires was called upon to make proper explanation to Comiskey concerning his ring activities as a professional boxer. He answered these questions to Comiskey's satisfaction.

Shires was the last of the important White Sox holdouts.

STRESS NEW IDEA IN DECORATING AT WATKINS OPENING

Tomorrow Night's Schedule At This Store to Feature Model Rooms Decorated by Local H. S. Students.

Spring Opening at Watkins Brothers means more than the first presentation of Spring fashions in furniture, although these first showings are of utmost importance. Spring Opening brings to the store dozens of new and worthwhile ideas in interior decorating. Tomorrow evening the various model rooms in the store will be found newly decorated and furnished. To begin with, the model rooms on the third floor, recently furnished and decorated by the Senior art classes of the High School will continue to be open for inspection, and those who have not voted on their choice of the best room will have an opportunity to do so tomorrow evening.

This group of three rooms shows so much originality and correctness in decorating that anyone viewing it cannot help but bring away an idea or two which can be used in her own home. On the second floor, three more rooms where furniture ensembles are continually shown will be found refurnished and here further ideas in assembling and grouping various rooms of furniture will be presented. The Cottage suite of furnished rooms which as always causes much favorable comment, not only in Connecticut but throughout the country, has been completely redecorated and furnished. This time Watkins decorating staff has chosen to decorate this group in the 18th Century Georgian style which is proving the leading period style throughout the country at this time. It is interesting to note that the trend toward more formal women's wear and more interesting at home has revived the interest in this more formal type of interior decoration.

The walls of hall, living room and dining room have been painted in a soft Georgian blue-green, with the upper part of the dining room covered with a paper showing the same coloring and having scenic fashion designs in peach and yellow green. The new domestic Oriental rugs in all-over designs are used in these three rooms together with classical Sheraton, Hepplewhite, Duncan Phyfe and late Chippendale furniture. Furniture coverings and draperies are of fine damask and draperies treated with elaborate valances and brass drapery fixtures.

The northwest room, often furnished as a bedroom, will tomorrow evening be revealed as a study with lounging chairs, bookcases, desk and globe. A bedroom has been arranged in the northeast room using, among other pieces, a classical fluted poster bed and a block front dressing table uniquely arranged against a background of peach paper having small stars in blue.

Furniture fashions for Spring, to be seen throughout the store, feature such pieces as stick cane, wrought iron, Chinese pecked cane and cherry. New lamps for all rooms and new ensembles for living rooms. In the Watkins collection of Colonial Reproductions many new copies in cherry, maple, mahogany and oak will be found.

New drapery fashions are shown in colorful glazed chintzes and checkings, while linoleums for every room in the home are displayed in the basement. On the third floor, a Spring and Summer are a feature and the Persian Market, a new display room for domestic Oriental rugs, should not be missed.

Dining room, living room and bedding departments will also present Spring designs, the furniture departments showing a continuance in popularity of Colonial, Queen Anne and English furniture and the bedding section the latest ideas in restful bedding.

LITTLE GIRL HEROINE

Stamford, March 25—(AP)—Shirley Kramer, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kramer of 29 Clinton avenue, is being hailed as a heroine by her playmates in the Center school for her action yesterday afternoon in jumping into the Rippowam River and rescuing Joyce Bernstein, four-year-old daughter of Mrs. Hazel Bernstein of 25 Clinton Avenue. The river runs in the rear of the homes of the children.

While they were playing, Joyce slipped down the bank and into the river at a point about three feet in depth. Without hesitation, Shirley jumped into the water and pushed her playmate to safety. Then she took her home and after the children had donned dry clothes, they resumed their play, but not on the river bank.

DAMAGE TO ARMY-NAVY CLUB MAY REACH $300

Flames Eat Into Structure After Embers from Grass Fire Are Fanned by Wind.

Between two and three hundred dollars damage was done to the rear of the Army and Navy Club by the grass fire which spread into the rear of the building shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The conflagration started from a bonfire which David McCollum, club chef, believed had been extinguished. A breeze came up which fanned the pile of ashes into flames which spread across the grass into the kitchen in the rear of the building. High school students on their way home from school discovered the fire. McCollum was home at the time and only two men were in the building, David McCann and Raymond Mahoney. The latter were in another section of the building and did not know about the fire until the boys rushed into the club and told them. Mahoney ran across the street and over to the fire house of Hose and Ladder Company No. 4 on School street. This company responded to a "still alarm" but an alarm was turned in shortly afterward when it was discovered that the fire had gained headway and was threatening to eat its way through the wooden building, fanned by a westerly wind.

Firemen wasted little time in prying off the boards and getting at the flames in time to prevent the fire from spreading into the building proper. Considerable damage was done to the kitchen and the roofing will have to be repaired. The sills were badly burned. McCollum did not believe the news when informed by a club member that the building was on fire. He thought it was a joke, but soon afterward learned that it was quite the contrary. A large crowd gathered about the club due to its prominent location on Main street and the fact that the schools had just adjourned for the day.

WOMEN GUESTS AT C. C. BANQUET

Chamber Affair Not to Be "Stag This Year"; Changes 28 Years Old Custom.

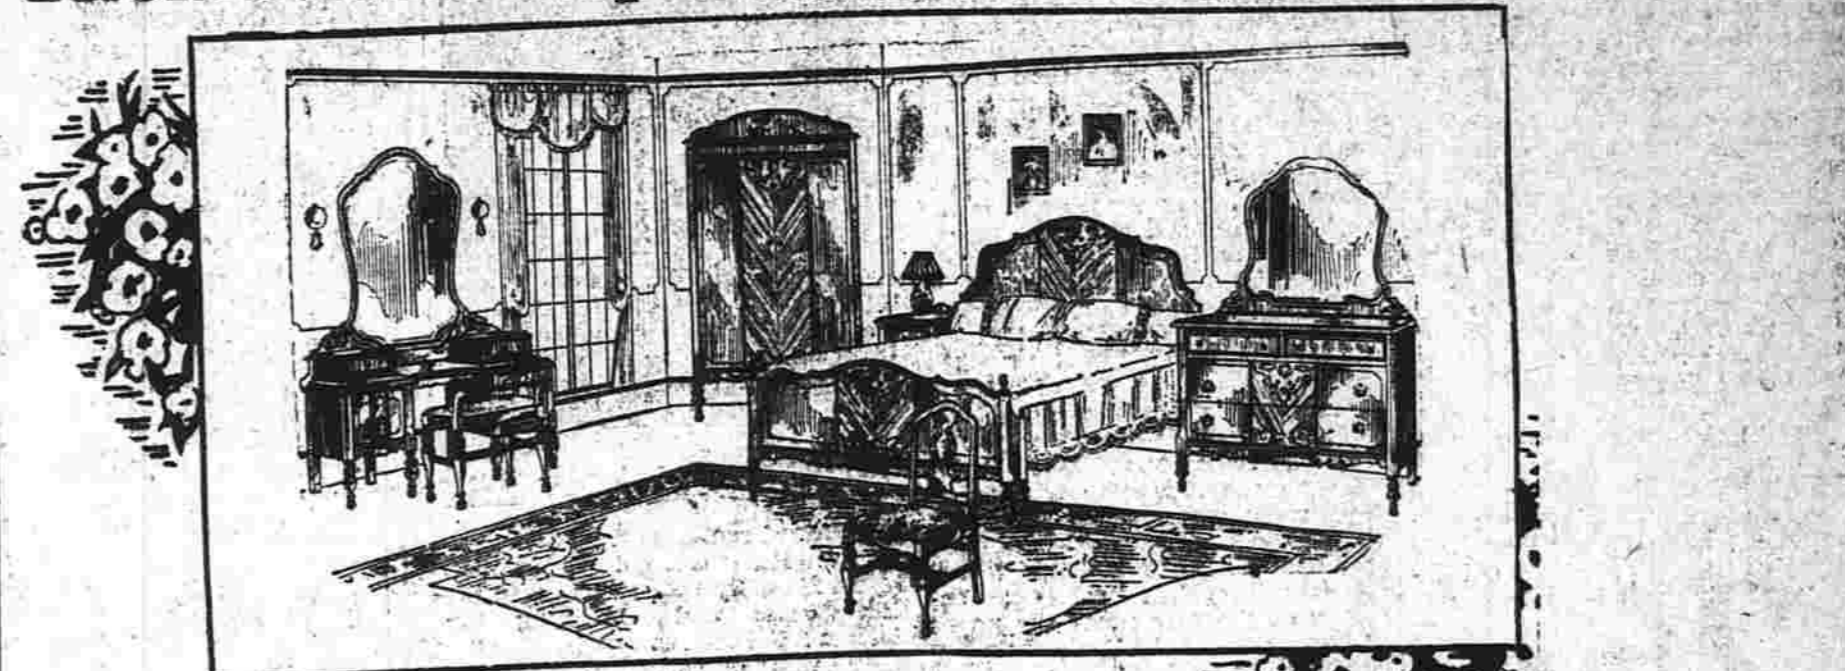

A procedure of 28 years standing that has been in force since the Business Men's Association was born and flourished to merge into what is now the Chamber of Commerce, will be broken this year on the occasion of the 29th annual banquet of the Chamber, the date of which was announced today by R. K. Anderson, general chairman, as Wednesday evening, April 30.

The annual meeting of 1930 will not be "stag." Members will be allowed to bring their wives and guests, according to the decision reached after due deliberation by the committee in charge. The place will be Chessey Hall to accommodate the minimum crowd of 300 persons expected to attend. The question of formal or informal attire has not yet been definitely decided upon. There is also a probability that the meeting will be restricted to members and their women guests. Last year the annual affair attracted 160 persons, of which number a good many were guests.

General chairman Anderson, who is also vice-president of the Chamber, has appointed seven of his committees as follows: Speakers and entertainment, Willard B. Rogers, chairman; William E. Halsted, George H. Waddell, and Robert Gordon; dinner service and waitresses, Oliver F. Toop, chairman; U. J. Lupien, Leon Holmes, Lucius Foster; decorations and souvenirs, L. N. Heebner, chairman, John I. Olson, Lewis H. Sipe, Scott H. Simon; publicity and printing, Arthur A. Knoff, chairman, Ronald Ferguson, Herbert Swanson, W. H. Schiedge; guests and reception, C. E. Watkins, chairman; E. J. Holl, John Jensen, R. LaMotte Russell; tickets, Fred Blish, Jr., chairman, Arthur Hultman, Herbert B. House, Harlowe Willis; seating arrangements and check room service, William Knoff, chairman, W. G. Glenney, and Mrs. Elizabeth Costello.

BANKER ARRESTED LEAVING THE JAIL

Boston, March 25.—(AP)—Joseph Marsino of Chicago, whose brief career as a banker brought ruin to the First National bank of Warren, walked out of states' prison today after having served three years of a five year sentence.

He was on parole, but freedom seemed as far away as at any time since he was first sent to the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta in 1924. A deputy sheriff from Worcester met him at the prison gate and took him to that city, where a two year sentence in the house of Correction, arising out of another phase of the Warren bank case, hangs over him.

With the two went George H. Ramer, Marsino's attorney, who recently succeeded in obtaining a writ of habeas corpus from the Federal Court ordering his client's discharge from state custody, but providing that he furnish $15,000 bail to warrant his further appearance on other charges.

Other Charges

Marsino was unable to raise the bail and had to stay in prison until the parole board authorized his release. Although his attorney hoped to persuade the Worcester authorities to set aside the sentence still pending in that jurisdiction, Marsino probably will have to go to Buffalo, N. Y. to face trial for larceny in that city.

Marsino in 1923 bought control of the Warren bank and a year later disappeared with $200,000 of its assets. He was captured and tried and sentenced in Federal Court. On his release on parole from Atlanta, he was brought back to this state and tried again.

Ramer contended unsuccessfully before the State Supreme Court that Marsino had been placed in double jeopardy. When he brought his client's case into the Federal Court here, that court agreed that "serious doubt" existed as to the legality of Marsino's conviction in the state court because Marsino then had pending an appeal in the United States Supreme Court from his conviction in the Federal Court.

TRAFFIC BUSINESS POOR

New York, March 25.—(AP)—Charles E. Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, said today that traffic generally in the northwest is probably at the lowest ebb in five years, but added, "in the spring things may be moving on our lines which have been held up during the winter months."

Nothing definite has yet been worked out in drafting the Northern Pacific's and Great Northern's answer to the Interstate Commerce Commission's merger proposal, he said. Although Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern, and F. E. Williamson, president of the Burlington, will be in New York this week for the monthly Burlington directors meeting. It is not expected formal conferences respecting the merger will be held.

Mr. Donnelly explained that the principal item discussed so far had been the I. C. C.'s proposal that the Northern give up control of the Burlington. Mr. Donnelly anticipated little difficulty in meeting the commission's wishes regarding terminal unification.

APPROVES GERMAN DEBT

Washington, March 25.—(AP)—In line with the Young plan settlement, the House ways and means committee today approved a bill under which the United States would receive $273,000,000 from Germany to cover the cost of the American Army of Occupation.

Payment of the amount has been approved by the German Reichstag. Chairman Hawley of the committee said. Notes relating to it have been exchanged between the two countries.

The original bill presented by this country to Germany called for payment of about $292,000,000, but this total was scaled down in proportion to the reductions made by other nations in their claims against Germany under the Young plan.

MUTINEERS SURRENDER

Paris, March 25.—(AP)—Forty mutineers in the military section of the island prison of Cleron who barricaded themselves in a case-mate, surrendered today.

Messages received by the ministry of war said that there was no fighting. The governor of the prison surrounded the mutineers with troops and the forty were forced to submit because of lack of food.

LIEUTENANT KILLED

Lisbon, Portugal, March 25.—(AP)—Lieutenant Moraes Sarmiento was killed in a mutiny which broke out several days ago in Sao Paulo De Loanda, Angola, Portuguese West Africa. Latest reports from the high commissioner in Angola stated order had been restored.

RAILROAD'S REVENUE

Portland, Maine, March 25.—(AP)—An increase in railroad operating revenue for the first two months of this year over the same period the past two years was shown in the monthly report of the Maine Central Railroad made public today.

The 1930 total for January and February was $2,332,289, as compared to $3,037,495 in 1929 and $3,288,922 in 1928.

Romance In Business Is Proved At Hale's

Young Men Establish An En- vialbe Record With Local Company.

Spring's approach signifies one of the most important phases in the life of every person, young or old. It is a season of hopefulness, a season of cheer, but more than that a season of romance. Romance, not alone in the lives of young folks who are budding into young manhood and womanhood, those of whom the poets write, but romance also in the world of business, too often looked upon as a cold austere, taskmaster. No better, no more auspicious occasion of celebration to show the romantic in the business life of a community can be displayed than the annual Spring Opening Night in Manchester's fine stores.

Record of Romance

In this romantic spirit the J. W. Hale Company, Manchester's leading department store, takes particular delight because the romance of business has written an indelible record across the cold, machine-like accounts of the firm. Into the pages of history the J. W. Hale company is written in bold, legible script the story—the romance in reality of the success of young men in business. Few firms in Manchester, or any other city of a like population, afford the several stories of a poor boy's rise to success as does Hale's.

In the fall of 1905 a young man started cleaning up shelves in the J. W. Hale store at Main and Oak streets. He was established as handy boy around Manchester's famous "Boston Store" because Principal Harry Folsom of the High school faculty wanted him to earn enough money in a year to get a start in college. That young man's year of service for Justis W. Hale proved to the satisfaction of his employer and himself that a mercantile career should be his. Thus Frank H. Anderson started along the trail that leads to the present where his host of Manchester friends find him president of the American Department Stores Corporation, a firm with a listed buying power of twenty millions of dollars.

Elmer A. Weden.

Fine Reputation

Frank Anderson's management of the Hale Company is well known to Manchester people. Every local resident knows how this young man established the firm's reputation throughout the state and even to many distant points. His enterprise has been the pride and the envy of great numbers of businessmen. His methods have been copied by merchants in cities many times larger than Manchester. His knowledge of departmenting stores earned for him his election as president of one of the biggest retail groups in the country.

Despite the fact that Mr. Anderson is head of the American Department Stores Corporation and in direct charge of 17 large retail stores throughout New York State, Pennsylvania and Ohio he still maintains his ownership and general management of the J. W. Hale Company store here. He spends his Saturdays in the local store office keeping in close contact with every important business move here. His success in New York City as executive head of this large store corporation is already assured, but despite it all he looks forward to the day when he can return to Manchester to give all his time to the store of his first love—the J. W. Hale Company.

Another Young Man

Four years after Frank Anderson

had started running errands for Justis W. Hale another young man began his daily task of covering the show cases and protecting the shelves from dust each day after the store was closed. He succeeded Frank Anderson as handy man and when Frank Anderson stepped along in the J. W. Hale Company, Charles J. McCann was right at his heels quickly filling the place Frank had made vacant. Today C. J. McCann is active manager of the J. W. Hale Company carrying out the ideas in merchandising he knows through long experience that Frank Anderson approves of.

When Charles J. McCann began work with the Hale company the store was temporarily located in the old Circle theater building. The disastrous fire in 1909 had wiped out the old Boston Store and Hale's was housed in a wooden structure on Oak street. Charles remembers that his first pay was used to purchase his first pair of long trousers. His first duty in the Hale store in his new long trousers was to climb up to the top shelf in the store and uncorset one of those wax models that stores once featured. His associates in the employ took occasion to jolly him because of his new trousers and his first task while wearing them.

20 Years Service

With the exception of a short period of 18 months C. J. McCann has been employed with the Hale store ever since 1909—a fine record of 20 years service. His most intimate knowledge of store management is in the general buying of silks, dress goods, piece goods and linens. For a great many years he has been assistant to F. H. Anderson in merchandising and now acts as general manager of the store when Mr. Anderson is away.

Comparatively new to this aggregation of successful young men, but who has a right to boast on his own, is Elmer A. Weden, since last November controller of finance and office manager with the Hale firm. Mr. Weden's forte is accountancy. He is especially familiar with the type of accountancy particularly adaptable to dry goods stores. He has experienced 12 years in dry goods lines and most of this experience has given him greater knowledge of the controlling end. This period is extended over two years with the Gilchrist company in Boston, six years with the J. W. Eadie company, well known Boston department store accountancy firm, two years with the Rines Brothers company in Portland, Maine, as general manager, and two years as managing director of the National Retail Dry Goods Association.

Accountancy Expert

Mr. Weden is expert at standardizing accountancy procedure and at supervising installations of accountancy systems. He had direct control over 21 stores throughout the south and southwest for the National Retail Dry Goods Association and had charge of the Hale accountancy work when he was with the Eadie company in Boston. He is native of Boston and has made his home since coming to Manchester a Stephen street.

Another of Hale's young men who have established themselves as outstanding successes in their own lines is Alexander Lang who is merchandise manager in the drugs and toilet articles department, candy, books, stationery, leather goods, jewelry, neckwear and notions department. Mr. Lang's experience was gained in 15 years in the retail drug business here and in Hartford. He joined the J. W. Hale Company in 1925 as manager of the drugs department. Being a registered pharmacist puts Mr. Lang in an unusually useful capacity to the local store. His knowledge of the drugs and toilet articles lines is recognized as most extended and he has established himself as a most able merchandiser.

Pride in Success

So it is that the J. W. Hale company looks upon its annual Spring Opening with a feeling of pride. The romance that comes with buds and the birds of Spring calls to mind the romance of business success. These young men who have earned success through their efforts to please their publics are spurred on to augment and embellish their already favorable reputations.

BATTLE WITH PIRATES.

Shanghai, March 25.—(AP)—The American Yangtze rapids steamer, the Ifung was fired upon yesterday by Communists waving red flags 200 miles above Hankow.

The steamer was subjected to a sharp rifle barrage which was returned by the American naval guard aboard the vessel. F. C. Roberts, member of the American guard was wounded in the left arm.

of a ceremony at the Villa Torlonia formally signed the legal papers for the marriage of his daughter Edda to Count Galeazzo Ciano. The banns will be published next Sunday, remaining exposed until April 6, but the wedding probably will not occur until April 24.

Salesman Finds Way To Keep Stomach Fit

"I was troubled with an acid stomach for ten years, and as I am a salesman, I think my condition hurt my production. Then I heard about Acidine and after using two packages I feel fine. If I could put this enthusiasm I feel for Acidine into selling my own product I would be 100% better for my own company," says Mr. J. F. McCarthy, 7 Danube Street, Dorchester, Mass.

More than 2 million other people depend on Acidine to sweeten sour stomachs, because it gives such swift relief. Get Acidine at any drug store or write Health Laboratories, Inc., Pittsburgh, Pa.

PENNSY POLITICS ARE WARMING UP

Mellon-Grundy Forces Ready To Do Battle With Vane Group at Primary.

Philadelphia, March 25.—(AP)—As leaders of the Mellon-Grundy group were in conference in Pittsburgh today the Vane faction of the Republican Party went ahead with their plans for an intensive campaign to nominate Secretary of Labor James J. Davis for the United States Senate and Francis Shunk Edson for governor at the May primaries.

Retortations yesterday by Davis and Brown that they were in the fight to the finish strengthened the belief in political circles that all efforts to ring about harmony had failed and that the campaign would be a clean-cut battle between the Mellon-Grundy forces and the forces headed by William S. Vane and the Philadelphia Republican organization.

To further complicate the situation, Francis H. Bohlen, of the University of Pennsylvania law department, has announced his candidacy for the Senatorial nomination on a "wet" platform. He will team up with former Congressman Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., who is a "wet" candidate for governor. Both will be supported by the association against the prohibition amendment.

Mellons Back Grundy
Reports from Pittsburgh quoted the Post-Gazette as saying that it had learned from an unquestioned source that the Mellons, Andrew W. and W. L., would be aligned behind the candidacies of Joseph R. Grundy for the Senate and Samuel S. Lewis for governor. What the attitude of Governor John S. Fisher will be remained a mystery today. The governor is a strong supporter of Grundy, but he had vigorously opposed the slating of Lewis.

The governor, Senator Grundy, W. L. Mellon, Edward Martin, chairman of the State Republican committee and A. Boyd Hamilton, secretary of the state committee, were the principal Mellon-Grundy leaders who attended the dinner in honor of the 75th birthday of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon in Pittsburgh last night. They were reported to have been in conference prior to the dinner and were expected to continue their meetings today.

The Other Side
While the Republican leaders were endeavoring to unscramble their confused situation, leaders of the state Democratic organization completed their ticket for state offices at Harrisburg last night.

In the place of Lawrence H. Rupp, Altoona, who last week withdrew as the Democratic candidate for governor, the party chieftains selected John M. Hemphill of West Chester. Other candidates include Guy E. Bard, Denver, Lancaster county, for lieutenant governor; Mrs. Lucy D. Winston, Mechanicsburg, secretary of internal affairs; Judge Henry C. Niles, York, Justice of the Supreme Court; George P. Douglas, Philadelphia, and former Judge Aaron E. Belter, Butler, for Judges of the Superior Court; Sedgwick Kistler, Lock Haven, is the Democratic candidate for the United States Senate.

PROTECTING MISSIONARIES

Peiping, China, March 25.—(AP) C. T. Wang, Nationalist government foreign minister, today telegraphed the American Legation here that renewed measures are being taken to protect missionaries in Kanchow where eleven Roman Catholic missionaries are said to be besieged by a Communist band.

Wang requested the American authorities to caution the missionaries there are not to attempt to leave Kanchow which is surrounded by Communist bands. His message said that the Kanchow mission is protected by a detachment of troops and that General Shin Han Tang had been urged to send reinforcements from Nanchow to aid in relieving the missionaries.

NOT TO CUT PRODUCTION.

Batavia, Java, March 25.—(AP)—A conference of all governors and residents of the outer possessions today agreed that apart from the questions of desirability no results could be expected from efforts to induce native rubber producers and traders to make voluntary restrictions of production and export.

It was pointed out also that export of rubber during the past five months already has largely decreased due to low prices.

New York preachers say that collections have increased as a result of church advertising. It pays to advertise, it seems.

UNUSUAL DOUBLE BILL AT STATE TWO DAYS

"The Woman Racket," Gangster Picture and "Wide Open" a Comedy Scream.

William Haines in the laugh riot, "The Girl Said No," will be seen at the State the last times today.

Wednesday and Thursday brings Tom Moore and Blanche Sweet in "The Woman Racket," and Edward Everett Horton and Patsy Ruth Miller in the comedy scream, "Wide Open."

The reviving of a strangled woman with the aid of a pulmotor used by a fire department rescue squad, the spectacle raid of a New York Night Club, a gangster battle and the murder of a millionaire gambler, are some of the exciting sequences in "The Woman Racket." Tom Moore is seen as a kindly, humorous and heroic policeman, in love with a night club performer, and he gives an excellent performance, which recalls some of his finest work on the screen. Blanche Sweet is very beautiful as the night club hostess who becomes the policeman's wife. Colorful revue scenes at the night club lend much attractiveness to the production. The supporting cast in-

Rev. Harry B. Miner gave an illustrated lecture on Sunday evening on "The Black Man of Africa."

The Federated Church choir will meet at the parsonage on Thursday evening for a rehearsal, and music will be practiced.

The pastor's preparation class will meet at the parsonage on Friday evening at 8:30.

Wapping Grange will hold its regular meeting tonight. It will be "brothers' and sisters' night," with a forty-five minute program by each group. Wesley Smith is chairman of the brothers' program and Mrs. Arthur Daviau of the Sisters'.

Miss Helen Frink has been suffering for a week with an abscess in her ear.

POISON BEAR MEAT.

Stuttgart, Germany, March 25.—(AP)—The seventh person died here today from eating bear ham sold here by a butcher last week without government inspection. Sixty cases of trichinosis have developed.

MANCHESTER PLUMBING AND SUPPLY

With Spring opening heralding baseball, tennis and golf, it is especially appropriate for the Manchester Plumbing & Supply store to feature the latest in sporting goods. And to those who would rather hold a carpenter's saw or hammer than a golf club or tennis racket the store offers carpentry tools galore and the best in paint is always to be had here.

HOLD ROBBER SUSPECT

New York, March 25.—(AP)—Raymond Gallagher, 32, wanted since October in connection with the theft of $68,000 in cash and bonds from the armored truck which he was driving was arrested today on a charge of grand larceny.

The members of the crew of the truck which was operated by the Bank Express Company, entered the Chemical National bank last October 17, leaving Gallagher on the truck. When they came out of the bank the truck and driver were gone.

The armored car was found shortly afterward a few blocks away. Its strong box had been looted of cash and securities and Gallagher was missing.

In 1929, British imports of rubber and tubes decreased while exports increased.

ROGERS ADDRESSES WINSTED CHAMBER

Hard Work and Consistent Logical Advertising Will Produce Best Results Quickly.

Willard B. Rogers, of this town advertising director of The Bond Hotels, member of the New England Council, and speaking as a representative of the Connecticut Chamber of Commerce, spoke in part as follows at the annual dinner of the Winsted Chamber of Commerce, in Winsted, Monday evening:

"You've got to run like Hell today to keep from standing still." This, my friends is as true and applicable in the guidance of the destiny of a town or city as it is in the management of a business corporation. Let us throw out the spot-light on the facts available for comment.

"We jumped into high gear businesswise, communitywise and otherwise during the World War, but the speed we have developed since then makes war production, development and distribution fade into the background. To all of us, radio is now as common as is the automobile. The talking picture has reached a state of perfection which is quite satisfactory to the millions of movie fans."

"Television is making rapid strides, it is a fact that we are told that it will not be long until groups of financiers sitting in the various financial centers of the world will transact their business with the aid of television and the radio just as conveniently and expeditiously as if all were gathered in one conference room. This, it is predicted, will eliminate the great loss in having millions and billions inactive during transit to consummate these huge transactions. Commercially, it will also have a far-reaching effect for the modiste of Los Angeles, for example, instead of traveling to Paris at great expense and loss of time to learn about new styles, she will have a group of prospective customers sit in the shoppe in Los Angeles, see in the aid of television the newest styles just created in Paris, hear a description of how they are made, and tomorrow evening Milady in Los Angeles will be wearing at a social function the gown brought out in Paris on the previous day."

"What's wrong with Winsted? Not a thing. But a comparatively few years ago, the city in which we are gathered was but barren hills. Man-power, confidence, yes, guts, to be more refined, we might say the testinal fortitude, but really the kind of guts that carries a football team to victory, that carried Lindbergh across the Atlantic, that made Gene Tunney get up when he was really out in that notable Dempsey fight, the kind of guts that sustains us through all kinds of seeming adversity is what built Winsted. Today, then, you have a wonderful little city. Good churches, good schools, good recreations, opportunities, good industrial possibilities, a good rural trading area to draw from, but what a terrible indictment of Winsted to even suggest that with all of these blessings you are not able to carry on."

"Ocean Hotels
"Still another group of financiers in New York is considering a chain of hotels at intervals of 500 miles across the Atlantic, so that persons wishing to take a trans-Atlantic trip, either by air or sea, may stop off for a day or two at these anchored hotels in mid-ocean.
"So much for inventive and scientific genius. Equal medical strides have been made. Within a few days, a cure for cancer, timely use of radium and operations have in the past several years brought about many absolute cures. But up here in your own section, that number of fatalities from what was termed a zepic sore throat. Within a few weeks that epidemic became rather troublesome, a serum was developed by medical research which works wonders as a cure and which enables nature to successfully combat this disease. Colds and many other troubles are also being successfully fought with serums.
While we have been making these strides, has business stood still? Not at all. Rather, it has become the most highly scientific of all. That explains the many failures, the many liquidations of long-established businesses because the owners could not adapt themselves to the new methods and lost out in the greatest of all battles of the survival of the fittest." Manufacturing merchandising as a diverging method of yesterday are obsolete today. Tomorrow, successful business men, with the aid of research, surveys, constant anticipation of public demands, and almost daily scientific and mechanical changes, know exactly what will be merchantable for a year ahead.

Nothing Wrong
"This forces me to say that there is nothing at all wrong with New England and that the seemingly dark industrial spots are but proof, if you will investigate, that the men responsible for the policies of those now successful plants, have failed to modernize their methods of production and distribution.
"That is also true of the retailer who is not enjoying his former profits. He sits back and bemoans the loss of his territory by the chain store. Yet, you will note, generally speaking, that he has done nothing to warrant a continued patronage while the chain store comes in with new fixtures, attractively displayed merchandise that is always new, and a continuous, well-planned advertising campaign. If it is true that a group of men in different parts of the country can do so, why can't you do it? Why can't you do it by organizing into a so-called chain store corporation and by vast buying power secure a better price, why is it not practical for a group of merchants in your own city to unite in liberal space? And if the use of every city in which a chain store is located is productive of profits, why isn't this equally profitable for the individual store owner?"

"I do not mean, as is generally the advertising policy, or rather lack of policy, of the individual store owner, to run a small advertisement will be written to arrest attention, will tell their story clearly, and will appear regularly. To those retailers who know nothing about advertising, I suggest that you consult either the advertising manager of your local paper, or call into Winsted an advertising expert. Here again, if you think the cost too great for one merchant, why not distribute the cost by having group meetings? If you have a group of big business men, why is it not equally helpful for smaller businesses?"

Invite Business
"What then has all of this to do with community building? Just this: So long as the business interests of any city appear depressed, wallow about in a rut of pessimism, frown upon everything that is progressive, and in short, go about with 'the world is all wrong' attitude, just so long and eventually it will decline. Re-energize with communities as well as private enterprises, business goes where it is invited and stays where it is welcome."

"What's wrong with Winsted? Not a thing. But a comparatively few years ago, the city in which we are gathered was but barren hills. Man-power, confidence, yes, guts, to be more refined, we might say the testinal fortitude, but really the kind of guts that carries a football team to victory, that carried Lindbergh across the Atlantic, that made Gene Tunney get up when he was really out in that notable Dempsey fight, the kind of guts that sustains us through all kinds of seeming adversity is what built Winsted. Today, then, you have a wonderful little city. Good churches, good schools, good recreations, opportunities, good industrial possibilities, a good rural trading area to draw from, but what a terrible indictment of Winsted to even suggest that with all of these blessings you are not able to carry on."

"Still another group of financiers in New York is considering a chain of hotels at intervals of 500 miles across the Atlantic, so that persons wishing to take a trans-Atlantic trip, either by air or sea, may stop off for a day or two at these anchored hotels in mid-ocean.

EXONERATE SLEUTH FOR KILLING YOUTH

Fugitive Broke Away from Detectives After Being Arrested and Was Shot.

New Haven, March 25—(AP)—Detective Joseph P. Sullivan was clear today of the charge of manslaughter which was leveled against him for the fatal shooting on December 17 of Herbert Messner, fugitive from the Cheshire Reformatory. The detective who had been held criminally responsible for Messner's death by Deputy Coroner James J. Corrihan was discharged in City Court by Judge Stanley Dunn late yesterday following a lengthy hearing.

Messner sought as a violator of parole from the Cheshire Reformatory was shot after he had broken away from Detectives Sullivan and Charles Gill, who had arrested him at the home of Mrs. Jennie Carafino, Messner's sister. He died the next day.

Had Right To Shoot
In exonerating Sullivan, Judge Dunn held that Messner was an escaping felon and that the officer therefore had the right to shoot. Corrihan in his finding had said that the shooting was not legally justifiable, holding that Messner was misdemeanant.

HOLLYWOOD MURDER.
Los Angeles, March 25—(AP)—Police today were holding William Burkhardt, a gas company employee, for questioning in connection with the slaying of his wife, Mrs. Anna McKnight Burkhardt, former vaudeville performer, whose body was found outside a Hollywood bungalow late last night. The couple, said to have been estranged for several months, moved into the bungalow yesterday after a reconciliation.

SOVIET IS EMPLOYING AMERICAN ENGINEERS

Under the stimulus of American engineering skill and enterprise, the government today decided to erect this year, on modern American lines, a series of huge industrial plants costing $2,150,000,000.

The government is scrapping most other methods of construction and adopting those which have given the United States first place in the world American engineering and technical firms are now operating in Soviet Russia, between them supervising nearly $3,000,000,000 worth of construction.

Since withdrawal of W. A. Harriman and Co. from the big Georgian manganese concession, no American financial interests have invested capital in Soviet enterprises, but the number of American engineering firms securing profitable contracts is increasing.

The latest contract was signed today with the New York engineering firm of Stewart, James and Cooke, a concern which already has three contracts with the government for furnishing technical aid and supervision in the mines of the famous Donetz coal basin.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION
That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' Peppermint Cure was introduced for colic.
Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.
Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.
No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.
If you have a "dark brown mouth," bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.
Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

of tariff leadership would almost without fail lead the Republican party eventually into quite damaging contact with a stone wall.

The job of the Republican party is to preserve to American industry the principle of protection through tariff schedules without defeating its own purposes. It is just beginning to be understood that the tariff is an industrial medicine, as absolutely necessary for the preservation of the health as quinine is to the preservation of physical health in the valley of the Amazon—but a medicine. Also that its medicative use is an art. It is no more possible to employ the tariff blindfold, in enormous and unlimited dosage, than it is to use quinine by the scoopful.

Mr. Grundy is the sort of practitioner who, because he knows the tariff to be a good thing, would load industry with every bit of it that could be grabbed, and snort scornfully at anybody who suggested the possibility of an overdose.

If Mr. Grundy should see fit to retire to private life at the end of the present term it would simplify the Pennsylvania situation greatly, leave the way open to a senator who, it is to be anticipated, would be far more in sympathy with the tariff ideas of the administration, and save the party, perhaps, from a great deal of future trouble.

The present is not the first tariff fight there ever was in Congress and it won't, by a jugful, be the last. And in the next one there will be need for the display of a better grade of economic intelligence than there has been in this case.

dustral employment and return to agriculture for security.

The only trouble with all this is that it's not the easiest thing in the world to tell when the venerable electrical king is drawing the long bow. In other words it will be a lot safer to buy land and go into the business of raising golden rod after we have something better as a basis for a bank loan than the offhand prediction of Mr. Edison that we shall soon be making all the rubber we want out of a native weed.

FOX FILM MESS
 It is an extremely interesting episode in the tangled affairs of the Fox Film Corporation when Vice-President Winfield R. Sheehan splits with the picturesque picture magnate and takes the side of the refinancing crowd. For many years Sheehan has been the real steersman of the Fox corporation and a pillar of reliance for Magnate Fox himself. The fact that he has now gone over to the enemy, so to speak, would indicate that Fox is keeping a losing fight in seeking to keep control of the vast enterprise which he built up, so largely with this lieutenant's aid.

THE TARIFF BILL
 The tariff bill having been passed by the Senate with only 1,253 amendments, the work of passing the tariff bill now really begins. Since conferees make no speeches for the benefit of the folks back home, however, it is to be anticipated that the business will proceed a good deal faster in conference than it did on the floor of the Senate.

CINCHED!
 Judging from all appearances the honorable state's attorney for Hartford County, Hugh M. Alcorn, is heaving to the line and letting the chips fall where they may, in this matter of a grand jury investigation of liquor conditions in Hartford. Also, the impression is to be gathered that it brings no special grief to Mr. Alcorn if some of the chips get into the eyes of persons prominently identified with the Republican party organization. Otherwise, we make bold to theorize, the grand jury would neither have been so remarkably insistent that Mayor Batterson disclose the identity of a friend who on some occasion supplied him with a little liquor nor bring contempt proceedings against the mayor and Edward N. Allen, also a notable member of the party in Hartford, for declining to tattle.

In all this it is perfectly easy for Mr. Alcorn to take the position that it is a matter of plain duty and that he is not the mentor of the grand jury. It is also the privilege of the onlooker to close one eye while listening. Furthermore it is the privilege of one and sundry to wonder how comes it that, in this year of Prohibition 11, such a keen and unprecedented interest in the higher ramifications of the liquor traffic in Hartford breaks out.

Last year it was common report that Mr. Alcorn had been chosen by President Hoover to be Assistant Attorney-General of the United States in charge of prohibition enforcement. It was as commonly reported that this choice was vetoed by Senator Bingham, acting in accord with J. Henry Roraback, Republican national committeeman from Connecticut. Most folks believed this. Perhaps Mr. Alcorn did—we don't know.

But it is quite apparent that since that time Mr. Alcorn, the while his heart was growing a little less cold toward murderers, has been becoming somewhat more than usually austere toward Republican politicians.

And yet we may be doing the stern and unbending state's attorney less than justice. It may even be possible that in these proceedings he is intending to do Mayor Batterson and the Hartford city administration, and indirectly the whole party organization in this state, a subtle kindness. Because, if ever an ambitious young politician got a break, in this commonly disappointing world of ours, it is Walter E. Batterson. Try and beat him, now, for any job within the gift of the people of his bailiwick! Try and beat a man who has the knightliness to stand up before a Hartford county grand jury and, when asked to peach on the friend who purveyed a drink or two for him, says, "Nothing doing! That sort of thing simply isn't done, you know, by gentlemen and decent people!"

Try, for instance, to beat him as a candidate, in due season, for Congress.

GRUNDY
 It is all very well for Republicans to admire the frankness, the outspokenness and the capacity for leadership of Senator Joe Grundy, but if that gentleman does decide to withdraw from the contest with Secretary of Labor Davis for the nomination to the Senate seat which Grundy now occupies a great many members of the party will draw a long breath of relief, just the same.

Mr. Grundy does not represent the best tariff brains in the Republican party, by any means. To him the problem of protection appears to be much simpler than it really is, and much simpler than a great many other Republicans, just as necessary to the party as he is, know it to be. Mr. Grundy, as a matter of fact, is just about two decades behind the times, and his kind

TEXAS GUINAN
 Not having the honor of the personal acquaintance of Texas Guinan we have to get our ideas of that distinguished lady from what we read of her plus her appearances on the screen and her conversation as handed by the sound devices. From these things we derive the notion that our failure to be included among her personal acquaintances is not altogether without its compensations.

Yet it must be admitted that Miss Guinan possesses the charm of a similitude of frankness approaching the naive. Pinched, far from the first and probably as far from the last time, this instance being in Chicago, it develops that Tex told the gay folks of the Windy City that she had gone there to run a night club because she felt that Westerners were "bigger and better suckers than Easterners," to which confession she nightly added, "I never give a sucker an even break."

Only one thing keeps us from unqualified admiration of this candor of Miss Guinan's—that thing being a lurking suspicion that if she figured that she could get a nickel a year more out of it than by calling her guests suckers she would be calling them lambs and rivaling Aimee Semple McPherson in her eagerness to save their souls.

Somewhat we can't help being almost as suspicious of Tex in her actual pose as we would have to be of her in a pose of piety. To us she seems to be about as sordidly mercenary a creature as any.

WASHINGTON LETTER
 BY RODNEY DUTCHER, N E A Service Writer
 Washington, March 25.—Thus far the senatorial primary in Pennsylvania has stirred up more general interest in Washington than all the other forthcoming senatorial primaries put together.

It's easy to see why. Senator Joe Grundy, who has had more notoriety in this last year of tariff history than any other senator, will seek the nomination against a member of the Hoover cabinet, Secretary of Labor James W. Mellon. The figure of the treasury and a great power in Pennsylvania politics, stands in the background—behind Grundy, incidentally. And even President Hoover gets dragged in because Davis has decided to campaign while remaining in the cabinet—where his position is a valuable item of political capital—and because pressure is sure to be brought on Hoover to persuade Davis to resign.

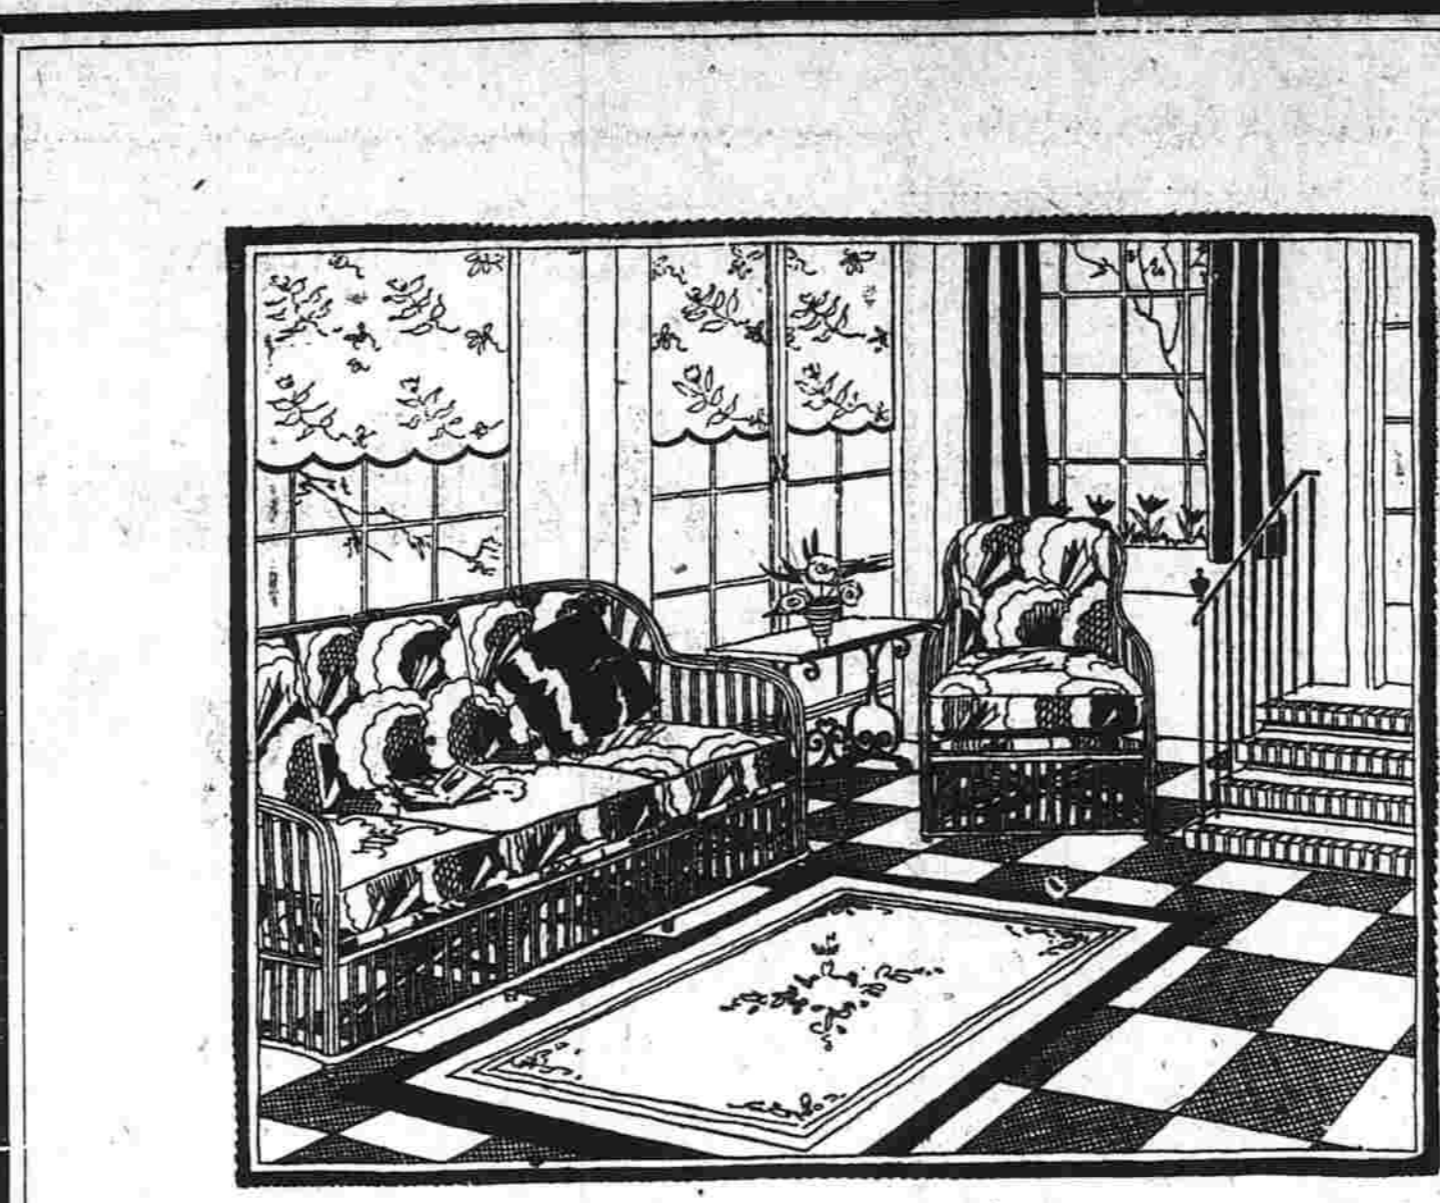

There is also Bill Vare of Philadelphia, the country's most famous political boss and hero of a long and sensational battle to win a seat in the Senate, who will support Davis. And the fact that Pennsylvania politics, always so fragrant, have been aired in these last few years to the extent that nearly everyone who reads the newspapers knows something about them.

One thing is perfectly clear about this Davis-Grundy contest. The important asset Davis has is the widespread objection to Grundy. Aside from such purely physical assets as the Vore support that is just about all he has to go on. The loud clamor that arose for the candidacy of Mr. Davis came almost exclusively from Mr. Davis himself. In nine years at Washington Mr. Davis has failed to achieve much distinction beyond the fact that he worked up from the comparatively lowly estate of an iron puddler. He will depend heavily on support from organized labor. It is not on record that organized labor ever became ecstatic over him.

But Davis is the beneficiary of a distinct feeling among a large faction of the Senate as he has been in the Department of Labor. On the other hand, this faction believes that Grundy is nothing short of a public menace. As a hater of organized labor and a supporter of woman voters, as an implacable foe of humanitarian legislation and as the king of tariff grabbers, Grundy probably has become the object of more accumulated hate, in Pennsylvania and elsewhere, than any other senator up for election since the war.

Seldom do two men possessed of such restricted personal popularity contest for such an important office in a great state. The explanation is that Grundy apparently has become the most powerful figure in Pennsylvania politics and knows that by winning this fight he can become the state's undisputed political boss. He represents Pennsylvania's great manufacturing interests and a great deal of other Pennsylvania money. Davis simply represents the opposition to Grundy, of which there is so much.

All bets here now are that Davis will remain in the cabinet through the primary campaign. He is still there because Mr. Hoover had such a hard time finding a sufficiently conservative Republican to take his place who would have the support of the labor unions. As long as he remains in the cabinet through the primary campaign he can be expected to advertise him as the "Hoover candidate" in the primary. Attempts doubtless will be made to get Hoover to nudge him out, but the president has no conceivable reason to help Grundy—who has criticized him and who has supported sky-high tariff rates calculated to embarrass him. Furthermore, Mr. Hoover himself stayed in as secretary of commerce when he ran for the presidential nomination. Secretary Mellon probably will take no active part in the campaign, but can be depended upon for a large share of the worrying. Reports are that the Mellon machine in Pittsburgh is somewhat split on

Health and Diet Advice
 By DR. FRANK McCOY
SYNOVITIS AND BURSITIS

If our bones were fastened together without any padding membrane between, we would have a painful, grinding sensation with every move we made. Without joints we would have the agility of pokers, and would be unable to bend, or twist, or dance the Varsity Drag. This ability to move freely, to run, jump and dance depends upon the easy, smooth movements of our knees, elbows, ankles and other joints. Fortunately, nature has provided us with a clever invention; whenever two bones meet they are separated by either an articular cartilage or by a small sac or pouch filled with liquid. The sac arrangement called the synovial membrane acts as a cushion and prevents grinding and absorbs jars. The fluid inside of the synovial membrane looks something like eggwhite and is made up of mucin and albumin, with some fat and inorganic salts.

A bursa is the same; a synovial membrane except that instead of being between two bones it helps a muscle or ligament in sliding over the edge of a bone.

Sometimes the bursae or synovial membranes become inflamed, causing the joint to be swollen, painful, and the movement limited.

The pain is caused by the swelling which pushes the membrane out of its natural position and greatly stretches the binding ligaments of the joint.

You may think that synovitis or bursitis, meaning the inflammation of these membranes, is unusual, but I am going to name a few of the conditions where this occurs. You will find that you have heard about it quite often. Housemaid's knee is an inflammation of the urae in front of the kneecap. It comes from pressure during kneeling while scrubbing and cleaning. The uses of the vacuum cleaner and the new floor mops undoubtedly saves the human knee from much of this labor, and for that reason housemaid's knee is not the standard joke that it used to be. This disease is different from an inflammation of the synovial membrane of the knee which is deeper within the knee joint. With housemaid's knee the swelling is mostly in front of the knee and is superficial. With the inflammation of the synovial membrane, most of the swelling is at the sides. The proper treatment is to rest the joint and to use cold applications. There is not usually much pain unless the condition is chronic and infected with pus. If the sac becomes infected it is generally opened and surgically drained.

Synovitis sometimes occurs without any injury and is thought to be of rheumatic origin. When due to the rheumatic toxins, the synovitis may subside in time, leaving a severe arthritis instead. This is especially likely to occur if the synovial membrane has been inflamed for any length of time, in which case there is a tendency for the entire joint to be affected. The ligaments are partly destroyed and in some cases the ends of the bones and the synovial membrane itself will be thickened and misshapen.

Chronic synovitis may follow smallpox, scarlet fever, injury, tuberculosis, blood poisoning, typhoid, pneumonia and rheumatism. Sometimes children who have what is known as growing pains in the bones may have the trouble extend to the joints, bringing on synovitis. (Continued Tomorrow)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 (Sleepy Husband)

Question:—Mrs. A. L. C. writes: "I wish you would advise me about my husband. He sleeps so much. Most of the day Sunday, straight through that night, and on week days as soon as he gets home and has his dinner it's straight to sleep he goes. He has a good appetite and weighs 280 pounds. Takes liver pills, which I believe make him lazy, as he tries to keep out of work as much as he can. I tell him he should try to force himself to be more active, but he simply won't be bothered?"

Answer:—Your husband is no doubt a great deal overweight and probably eats too much. This would make him sleepy too soon after dinner, and also makes him feel lazy most of the time.

IN NEW YORK
 New York, March 25.—And now, if you please, you can have your sandwiches to match your hair, your eyes, your new spring dress or your last year's hose.

The tinted sandwich has made its appearance in Manhattan, and its beginnings can be traced to Greenwich Village, where those widely advertised artists must have their esthetics with their soup.

The effect is obtained by coloring the bread with perfectly hygienic vegetable dyes. To be sure, the entire prismatic scale has not yet been worked out. They seem to have found no way of creating blue sandwiches, as yet, but green, orange, brown, pink and several shades of yellow have been worked out.

I have it from one Perry Zang (which may sound like a phoney name, but isn't) that his first concoction was made "by a private baking process coloring the bread and that his first artistic creation was made from cream cheese interlarded with bits of pimento nuts and green relish.

The effect of the pink bread, green lettuce, red pimento and vari-colored relish has been quite too much for the "colorists" of the Village, who threaten to adopt the tinted sandwich as their national dish.

The three blushing inventors of the vogue, being addicted to punning, insist that they misunderstood the word diet for "dye it"—and hence... Anyway, there it is.

Which reminds me that, if you've never heard it before, the good Earl of Sandwich, who invented this morsel in the first place, was so addicted to gambling that he wouldn't leave the gaming tables. When his servants came to him, he said, "Oh, just bring me a slice of meat in a piece of bread."

And now half the drug stores couldn't survive without them.

And speaking of eating—as who doesn't now and then—I have it from some of the observing waiters who serve large numbers of women shoppers in the swanky Madison Avenue belt, "that they just can't understand what's coming over the women folk."

It seems that the noontime and the teatime cigaret habit has turned the dear ladies into the sloppiest of diners.

When a group of three or four leave a table, "it's just a mess of black and gray from the shoes they have spilled. And they never try to clean them up or put them in ash trays."

Male diners never were half so untidy, even in the old days when they had been and harder liquor with their food.

"An old-time waiter all but wept upon my shoulder the other day.

"Why monsieur," he began, "it's terrible. They begin to light cigarets as soon as they sit down. They smoke all through the luncheon and generally for some time afterward.

"A man would not dare make such a mess. I've asked a lot of men about it and they said they thought that men were neater because they were house-broken by their wives, but that their wives probably became careless when they found that someone else had to do the work. A man will generally be content with a cigar or one cigaret. Women often smoke all the way through their meal, lighting up another one at each course."

STATE OFFERS GERMAN NIGHT TOMORROW

Harold Clemson Headlines Local Amateurs in Series of International Programs.

The State theater's program will attract many on Spring Opening night and Manager Hugh J. Campbell is again prepared to offer another of the series of increasingly popular International Nights, which tomorrow will feature German Night. The vaudeville will be presented at 8 o'clock between the two feature pictures, "The Women Racket," starring Tom Moore and Blanche Sweet, and "Wide Open," starring Edward Everett Horton. Headlining the acts will be Harold "Punk" Clemson in a comedy sketch guaranteed to raise the roof. "Punk" is the antonym to what this versatile young man can do. He is well remembered for the seeming ease with which he has carried off the prize for the most comical costume at St. Mary's Masquerade ball, so many successive years that he himself has lost count.

All of the acts are in reality, headliners for besides Mr. Clemson there will be the Germania Four, a string quartet of unusual excellence; Ida Wilhelm, Manchester's ballet and breakaway dancer; Jaksch and Martin, interpreters of Hawaiian melodies, and others.

CARDINAL LAUDS FASCISM

Milan, Italy, March 25.—(AP)—

An unusual compliment was paid to Fascism by Cardinal Schuster, archbishop of Milan, in a letter to the local federal secretary of the party on the occasion of Sunday's anniversary of the march on Rome. "Catholic Italy and the Supreme Pontiff from the first hour," said the letter, "have blessed Fascism and conceived great hopes for these young forces which profess the faith and religion of their fathers."

"May God confirm and make valid his holy designs so that Fascism may be for the Italy of the Lateran pacts the symbol of happy token of spiritual reawakening." The cardinal added that this was the feast day of St. Benedict of Norcia from whom Il Duce had derived his baptismal name, and "thus may St. Benedict protect him in his saving mission."

A THOUGHT

If a wise man contendeth with a foolish man, whether he rage or laugh, there is no rest.—Prov. 29:9.

Men are so necessarily fools that it would be being a fool in a higher strain of folly, not to be a fool.—Pascal.

LEAPS TO SAFETY.

Hagerstown, Md., March 25.—(AP)—Lost in a dense fog, a mail plane bound from Washington to Richmond, Va., crashed near Antietam station at the edge of the Antietam battle field this morning. The pilot, Verne Treat, jumped in his parachute after cutting off the ignition and landed unhurt about three miles from where the plane was wrecked.

Treat, who was about 75 miles off his course said he ran out of gas. He telephoned to Richmond that he was unhurt and was taking care of the mail.

10 NEW CARDINALS TO BE PICKED SOON

Pope Gives No Indication of Who Will Wear the Red Hat.

Vatican City.—(AP)—Creation of several new cardinals, now that the Sacred College has been reduced by deaths to only 60 out of its possible 70 members, is now looked for sometime in the late spring or early summer, possibly in May.

Pope Pius has given no indication of his plans but the uncertainty of the time has not in any way diminished the probability of His Holiness. In Vatican spheres it is taken for granted that at least two Italian cardinals will be named, one to succeed the late Cardinal Gamba, archbishop of Turin, and another to take the place of the late Cardinal Perosi as a member of the Curia, or body of cardinals more directly engaged with the central administration of the Catholic church.

As to the non-Italian cardinals, if any, to be created, speculation is more vague as to the range of possibilities is wider. By the death of Cardinal Merry del Val, Spain's representation among the wearers of the purple has been cut from five to four. Catholics of the western hemisphere are hoping that one of their outstanding prelates may fill the vacancy.

From Turin. For the See of Turin, capital of Piedmont and residence of Crown Prince Humbert, the name of Mgr. Barlassina, now serving as patriarch of Jerusalem, has been proposed. Other prelates likely to be considered are Mgrs. Arborio Mella, of Sant'Elia, scion of a noble Sardinian family and related to some of the leading Piedmont families, Caccia Dominioni, a Milanese, and Monanelli, now archbishop of Verceil. The Pontiff's choice for a successor to Perosi will, it is commonly supposed, fall upon one of the papa nuncios abroad, as it is the custom to elevate the most distinguished ecclesiastical diplomats to the purple after long terms of service in this category is Mgr. Tades-Chini, nuncio to Madrid, long resident in Spain and fully cognizant of her problems.

The most recent precedents for summoning nuncios back to become cardinals are found in the cases of Cerretti, former Vatican envoy to France, and Facelli, nuncio to Germany, who only last winter was made a cardinal and shortly became papal secretary of state.

Others Mentioned. Another distinguished prelate whose name often comes up in forecasts is Mgr. Marchetti-Selvaggi, secretary of the Congregation for Propagation of faith, the great Catholic missionary organization. He is at present one of the consultants of the Congregation of the Holy Office, of which the late Cardinal Merry del Val was secretary.

In all consideration of names, though, it must be borne in mind that Pope Pius is given to surprise decisions. Thus last summer he upset all calculations by bestowing the red hat and the mitre of Archbishop of Milan on a comparatively unknown Benedictine abbot, now Cardinal Schuster, of Swiss parentage but Roman birth. And at the last conclave, held in December, he picked an equally little known clergyman, Mgr. Verger of the Sulpicians, instead of others more in view, for the all-important See of Paris, notwithstanding the fact that it was generally believed that Mgr. Baudrillart, rector of the Catholic Institute, and member of the French Academy, was to become the cardinal-archbishop of the capital on the Seine.

CLEAN PURSES.

Women polish their shoes but let their purses go soiled. Purses should be cleansed thoroughly, either with cream dressing, rubbed with a clean cloth, or with some reliable cleaner.

ONCE UPON A TIME.

Tom Mix, western hero of the movies and more recently a circus performer, served as deputy United States marshal in Oklahoma. He also was a cow puncher throughout the old west and at one time suffered in China.

WALTER DAMROSCH PRAISES QUARTET

String Group Playing Here Thursday Night Called Able Successor to Flonzaley.

The Musical Art Quartet which plays in High school hall Thursday night has been the recipient of much favorable praise from prominent musicians and critics but no finer tribute could have been paid to this excellent organization than the following, from that celebrated conductor, Walter Damrosch: "The Flonzaley Quartet is about to dissolve and this is a great loss. But it is a satisfaction to know that an American organization called 'The Musical Art Quartet' with Sascha Jacobson as its leader, is ready and able to continue the noble work of the Flonzaley. By dint of the great individual artistry of its players and by incessant work towards perfection of their ensemble, the Musical Art Quartet has achieved remarkable heights, and I predict for it a great future. To the musician as well as to the amateur, it is a joy to hear these players performing a Quartet of Beethoven. It is as if four well-bred and high minded people had come together to discuss the most beautiful experience of life." Music lovers in this vicinity will have an opportunity to add their praise to that of Mr. Damrosch when the Quartet plays on March 27 at High School Hall, South Manchester.

COLUMBIA

Mrs. Charles Fox is visiting friends in Middletown.

Spring was officially begun Friday, but the date on the calendar was the only indication of anything spring like, as Friday and Saturday were two of the windiest and coldest days for some time, the thermometer dropping to around 15 Saturday morning. Sunday the warmth of the sun began to make a little headway against the bitter coldness of the wind. The spring which tradition says must be frozen in three times after they are first heard, have surely had their three times by now.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hutchins moved to New Britain Sunday to visit Mrs. Hutchins' mother, Mrs. Webster.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lafleur have moved to Willimantic on the South Coventry road.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Little have just received the gift of an Atwater Kent radio from their nephew, Joseph Little, of Detroit, Mich.

At the morning service at the Congregational Church the pastor, John Howell, read his resignation, take effect April 21st. A meeting of the church will be held Friday evening to take action upon the resignation.

The Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening was led by Clayton Hunt, Jr., and Fredrick Hunt saxophones, Westcott Rice violin and Arlene Badge at the piano.

Luther Buell and Donald Woodward have been to Grotton Point working on Mrs. Jacobs house.

A brush and wood fire in the Leonard's Bridge section caused quite a little excitement Sunday afternoon. Henry Lafleur first noticed it coming across his mowing lots in the rear of his house and called for help to the Fire Warden. The fire call was rung on the local telephone lines and scores of cars were seen on the scene and with plenty of help the fire was brought under control after burning over about 70 acres of woods and brush land and coming to within 15 feet of Mr. Lafleur's hen houses. At this time of year it is very dangerous to start brush fires, especially with a wind blowing.

F. T. BLISH HARDWARE CO.

Spring will be stressed largely in seeds, garden and lawn equipment and paints in the large window of F. T. Blish Hardware Co. during the spring opening. A large line of sprays and spraying equipment will be displayed in the north window with the south window properly balanced with everything new in sporting goods. The middle section will be blanketed with artificial lawn grass, showing lawn requisites, seeds and the latest in lawn mowers.

A special feature during the show hours will be an expert farm machinery show in the basement, describing the new additions to power equipment for small and large gardens. The 1930 Blish reference catalogue will be distributed during the opening hours.

FRADIN'S

Attractions pleasing both to the eye and ear will entertain the crowds that come out for Spring Opening at Fradin's. Either radio or phonograph will play the latest hit melodies and five of "Manchester's prettiest" young ladies will display the latest fashions in spring clothing. Mr. Fradin has spent two days in New York seeking the newest in merchandise and a great amount continually comes to the store. The interior of Fradin's will prove decidedly attractive with special merchandise displays to offset the parade of models, who will hold sway both in the store and window.

MARLOW'S

Marlow's will keep open house all evening throughout the spacious store with the newest spring fashions to attract special interest.

Queer Twists In Day's News

London—A gray-haired gentleman attracts attention occasionally by afternoon visits to the pond in Kensington Gardens where his sailing of model yachts shows the experience of an expert. He is Charles Francis Adams, Secretary of the Navy of the U. S. A., and yachtsman by avocation.

Hickory, N. C.—Al Jones is unperturbed so long as he collects $20. A friend of his said that the Chicago police force had been disbanded. Al was so sure that such was not the case that he made a wager. He wired Chicago, John Stege, chief of detectives, wrote in reply that most crimes in Chicago in the last three months had been committed by persons from southern states.

Luxo, Egypt—The King and Queen of the Belgians fear not King Tut. They visited the famous tomb in the Valley of the Kings in disregard of tradition about curses.

New York—Furnishings of the apartment of Marion Talley, erstwhile opera star, now a Kansas farmer, are to be auctioned. Among them is an autographed baby grand piano.

Willacochee, Ga.—By ukase of the City Council of Willacochee, it is unlawful for any male person to carry or go driving with any woman or girl between midnight and daylight unless good and sufficient reason can be given to the city marshal.

Freeport, N. Y.—Miss Ellnor Smith is the highest flier of her sex. Official calculations are that she soared 27,418 feet recently, exceeding the record of 23,996 made by the late Marvel Crosson.

New York—In his 83rd year Mahlon B. Smith continues to be an active bank teller, as he has been for 63 years without missing a day.

London—Either the roast beef of Old England and trimmings do not agree with American delegates to the naval parley, or they have been eating too fast. Their chief ailment is indigestion.

New York—Having finally used a marriage license obtained ten years ago John C. McDonald, 50, and the former Alice M. T. Lewis, 60, both of Archville, N. Y., are on a honeymoon. They were married at City Hall.

Southern Pines, N. C.—Thousands of husky male duffers will be jealous. In a driving contest, Maurfen Orcutt walloped a golf ball a total of 769 yards in three swings, an average of more than 256.

New York—The Montgomery Ward Co. store will be the mecca for a large number of people during the hours of the Spring Opening when a large number of models will show the latest in ladies and children's dresses on the main floor.

An unusually elaborate window display is being arranged showing the usual seasonal commodities. An augmented sales force will be on hand to convey patrons to all departments of the large store.

Maxwell's Mandolin Club Orchestra will play during the Spring opening hours and a large force of salespeople will be on duty to explain the popular electrical appliances.

Don't let sour stomach, gas, indigestion make you suffer. And don't use crude methods to get relief. There's no use when millions know the quick way; the pleasant, harmless way.

Just take a spoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water. It is alkali in the best form. It neutralizes many times its volume of excess acid—and does it instantly. It will probably end your distress in five minutes. Then you'll know what to do the next time. Crude, harmful methods will never appeal to you again.

Phillips Milk of Magnesia is the perfect way to end digestive disorders due to excess acid for men, women, children—and even babies. It's the method doctors endorse; which hospitals use. For fifty years it has been supreme.

To know the many important uses of Phillips Milk of Magnesia is to keep a bottle in the house, always. Full information with each bottle. Your drug store has the 25c and 50c sizes. Insist on the genuine. A less perfect product may not be the same.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.—Adv.

GLENNEY REVIEWS NEW SPRING SOCKS STYLES

According to J. A. Murdock of London—"Every man of sound judgment realizes the value of a good appearance. Clothes mark the standard of the wearer and reflect his personality. In business, carefully groomed men always have the advantage over men who are careless. If you are careless in dress you are likely to be careless in other things. Remember, life is a one-way street and you are not coming back; the impression you leave behind is the lasting one."

"I travel the world in my quest for what is new and smart; report, develop and produce advance information for 'Interwoven' as to the kind of socks well dressed men of London, Deauville, St. Moritz, Paris, and Monte Carlo wear. During the coming season, socks for business or every-day-wear will be in the ever-popular color designs: in bright, clean-cut colors, as well as small neat patterns and dusted effects. Blue, tan, Red and certain shades of Green will rank among the first favorites."

"For Sports-wear, colors and designs take on a more animated note. Cream-white and the lighter shades of tan will be much worn, due to the popularity of the white shoe trimmed with tan or black. For evening wear the new Dropstitch with a Black or Solid White cloth will be much in evidence."

Christopher Glenney says: "I have reviewed all the new Spring patterns and colors made by Interwoven and was amazed to find the vast number of New and Original designs they have created. Indeed, I would go so far as to say it was the largest and best collection of hosiery I have ever seen and I now refer to the world at large. There is no question but that Interwoven is the greatest designer and originator of style in the hosiery business."

DAILY LENTEN THOUGHT

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of the Congregationalist

There is a great deal of difference between mere impulses of good will and real actions that are uplifting and helpful. It is one thing to have very generous thoughts of our fellow men and kindly feelings, but quite another thing to stretch forth hands of cooperation and brotherly assistance.

There is a richly symbolic suggestion of this in the story of Peter and the beggar who sat at the beautiful gate of the Temple. As Peter entered into the temple the beggar looked up asking for alms. When Peter said "Silver and gold have I none," the beggar must have experienced a disappointment, despite Peter's sympathetic glance and interest.

When Peter said, "But such as I have give I thee," the beggar still may have doubted the ability to help him of one who had neither silver nor gold. But when Peter took the beggar by the right hand and lifted him up, the beggar must have experienced a new thrill and a new joy in the consciousness that strength had come to his limbs.

It is the power of the strong right arm that ultimately demonstrates the power of the loving and gracious heart. The strong right arm, alas, has been too often given to deeds of violence even in the name of civilization. The great social task of the modern world is to consecrate the power of the strong right arm to inner purposes of love and righteousness and truth.

WOMEN VOTERS HERE 10 YEARS TOMORROW

Anniversary of Victory in Fight for Suffrage to Be Observed Throughout Country.

On Wednesday, March 28, the tenth anniversary of woman suffrage is to be observed throughout the United States in a series of celebrations voted by the League of Women Voters. State, city and town meetings at which the League of Women Voters have planned luncheon meetings at which they will consider the record established by ten years of woman's participation in government.

The center of all the celebrations will be a radio program broadcast over a coast-to-coast hook-up from the luncheon meeting of the New York City League at the Hotel St. Regis. Miss Katharine Chapman of New York, honorary president, and Miss Belle Sherwin of Washington, D. C., president of the National League of Woman Voters, will speak on recollections of the suffrage battle and succeeding accomplishments of women in public life. Beginning at 2 o'clock (Eastern Standard Time) League members all over the country, gathered at their separate "birthday parties" will tune in for the addresses of the National officers.

In Connecticut no state-wide meeting has been planned. Two County Leagues, however, have arranged celebrations: Middlesex County at Middletown and Fairfield County at Greenwich. Other Leagues which have reported plans for birthday parties are Danbury, Darien, Farmington, Hartford, Lebanon, New Haven, Norwalk, Short Beach, Stamford, West Hartford, West Haven and Woodstock. Luncheon meetings have been planned in most cases and the members will give an account of local League accomplishments in addition to celebrating those of the National organization.

TROUBLE MENACES TINY MONTE CARLO

Natives of 375 Acre Principality Are Talking About Starting a Republic.

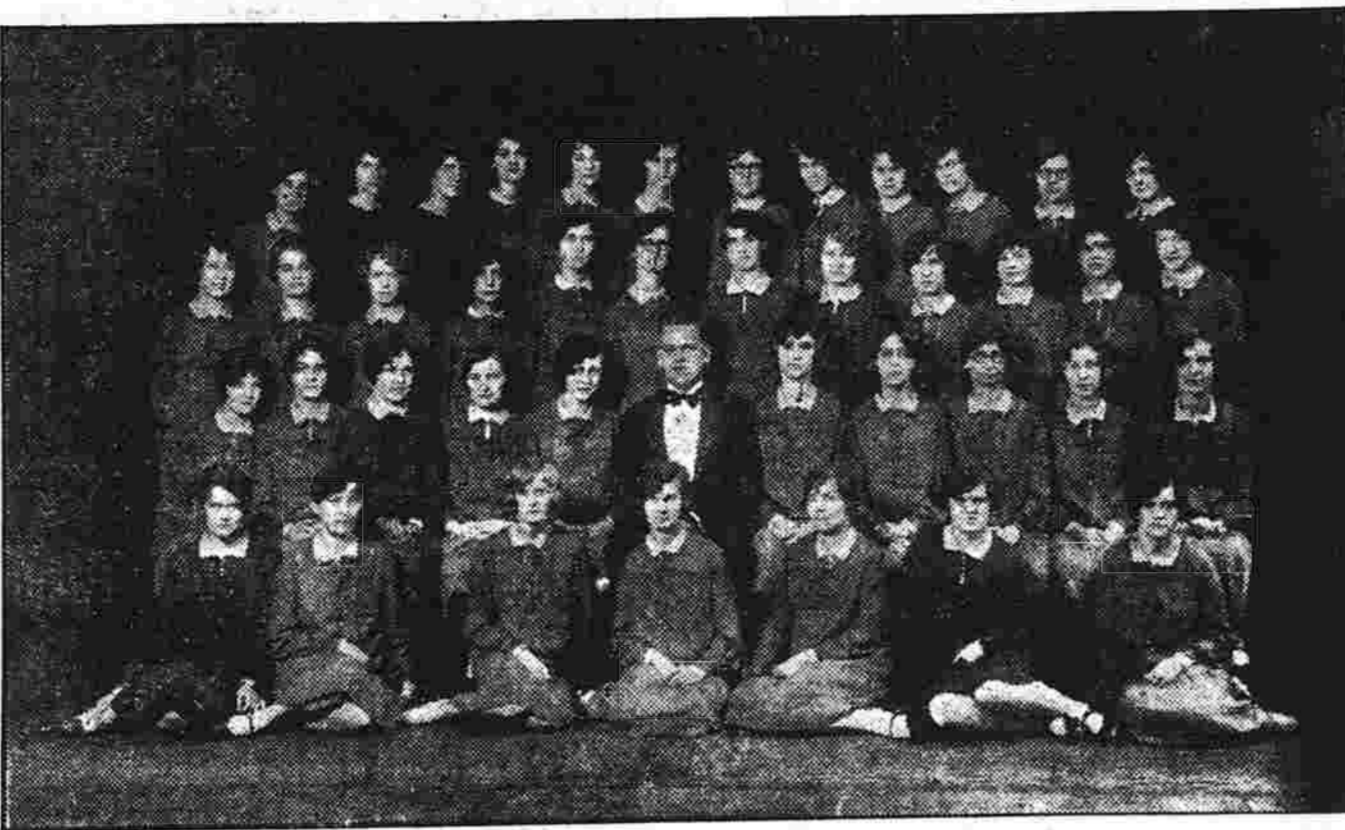

Monte Carlo, Monaco. —(AP)—The affairs of this 375-acre principality are steadily becoming more involved and close observers think the near future may even see the death of the present regime and the birth of a new republic supervised by France. Elections to be held March 30 will have much to do with this. Since 1418 when Monaco became a vassal state under the protection of the Duc de Savoie, its status has been questionable. In 1641 the principality passed under the protection of the king of France, but in 1793 the French National convention passed a bill uniting it to France and declaring it a part of the Alpes Maritimes district.

Losing that status during the Napoleonic era, Monaco scarcely knew where she stood until 1860, when the Treaty of Turin classed her as a French "vassal state" governed by the Grimaldi family.

No Taxes.

Ten years later Francois Blanc arrived in the principality from Hombourg and signed an agreement with Prince Albert which after sixty years is causing enough trouble to threaten the overthrow of the government. Briefly, Blanc and Prince Albert signed a pact whereby the former was authorized to open a casino providing he paid a certain per cent. of the receipts to the reigning family and took care of all

The G Clef Glee Club will give a concert in the store of C. E. House & Son, Inc., on Spring Opening Night from 7 to 9 o'clock. municipal charges. Thus there were no taxes and there was much prosperity.

In 1909 the Casino suffered a bad year with the result that the municipality was on short rations, the following year the citizens threatened to revolt, with the prince appealing them with a constitution.

The war quieted the situation somewhat but the lean tourist year of 1922 rekindled the fire. Since the citizens pay no taxes the amount spent on civic affairs depends entirely on how much the gamblers of the world lose at the green tables. Learner years followed and the discontent grew. A Nationalist Party among the seven hundred electors became all powerful under the leadership of Eugene Marquet, an architect.

Want New Constitution.

The general idea was to get a new constitution which would give the National Council and Municipal Council power to see that the Casino company paid for needed civic improvements even though the company's dividends suffered. The reigning Prince Louis capitulated, after a fashion, and after the citizens had told him they would unearth ancient treaties and appeal to France if he refused to sign on the dotted line.

But within the Nationalistic Party a new group began to grow. The young Monagasques are outspoken Republicans. They want even more power. And especially they don't want Prince Louis, or Prince Pierre and Princess Charlotte—who recently have separated—to be anything more than figureheads. Their aim is to get in power so they can divert an extra portion of the $2-500,000 yearly dividends of the Casino to much needed improvement in the principality. M. Marquet, of the older school, hopes to do this peacefully. M. Bonaventure, the leader of the opposition, has openly stated that he thinks a little bloodshed is what is needed.

"If we can't write this constitution in ink we'll write it with our own blood" were his opening words at the new party's first assembly. Neither will hesitate to call on France providing he fails to get satisfaction from Prince Louis, and the elections March 30 will write the next chapter.

The new ruler of Afghanistan intends to introduce prohibition in his country. If it works there maybe this country will give it a try.

Not to be overlooked are the many swanky boudoir chairs in every conceivable style, dressed with gay and colorful coverings that impart a spirit of Spring and modernism to the display.

Keith's invite all their friends to take this occasion and pay them a visit, if only for a few minutes. Every member of the organization will be on hand to greet visitors and help to make the visit interesting and educational by explaining many qualities about the furniture on display. Remember Spring Opening is tomorrow night and to Home Makers all roads lead to Keith's where there will be plenty of parking space and much of interest in store for you.

BIG STEAMSHIP LINES ARE READY TO MERGE

Bremen, Germany, March 25.—(AP)—Directors of the North German Lloyd lines today approved the co-operation agreement with the Hamburg American lines.

The agreement was recently drawn up and provides for virtual merger of the two companies' interests, although they will maintain their identity in matters of public service.

The agreement now having been approved by both directorates both their shareholders which presumably will be a mere formal process.

Full details of the arrangement will be announced after a meeting of the North German Lloyd's shareholders set for noon, while the Hamburg American lines are expected to give their assent April 5.

An outstanding feature of the agreement is that it insures joint operation of the fastest passenger service as well as what is claimed to be the fastest freight service in the Atlantic.

WOODS FIRES IN STATE ARE PUT OUT BY RAIN

New Haven, March 25.—(AP)—Woods fires which were burning briskly over the week-end in various parts of Connecticut probably have been put out by the light rain which fell overnight. Forecast observer Tarr of the weather bureau here being of an opinion that the rainfall was sufficient to have quenched most of them, if not all. Any uncertainty would rest in the stubborn nature of fires in marshes and woodland where a smoulder will keep alive for a long time and until actually drowned out.

The strong March winds of last week dried up moisture which the sun drew from the ground. Conditions were approaching danger line for on Saturday night State Forester Austin F. Hawes, had a list of 85 fires in various parts of the state.

A continuance of the rain will make certain all fires are out with possibility of removing the fire menace in large part for the spring months.

SNOWING IN MID-WEST

Chicago, March 25.—(AP)—Winter whipped spring backwards today before a gale of snow that tinged the midwest.

Swirling in from the northeast, the blast gripped Chicago, bludged traffic, hampered communication systems and held airplanes in their hangars.

Throughout the city, snow piled into slushy drifts and Lake Michigan lashed its shoreline in a fury akin to the winter's worst storms.

To the west and north, the storm abated and no snow was reported but to the east and southwest winter's echo resounded loud.

In Detroit, four inches of snow covered the city and showed no signs of abating. In St. Louis, it was the same. In Indianapolis, a cold, driving drizzle gave promise of snow.

BYRD RESTING UP

Dunedin, New Zealand, March 25.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd, just back from the Antarctic, is enjoying himself in New Zealand he said today, and is in no hurry to leave.

The explorer has a number of loose ends to clear up here before taking steamer passage to Panama where he will rejoin the City of New York, which already has left here for America.

Since he has been here, Rear Admiral Byrd has seen two talking pictures. He said he was surprised at the strides made in the cinema since he left civilization more than a year ago.

The physician quoted the young student as saying he recalled nothing of his fall from the window. The last thing Chambers claims to remember was attending the dance as well as what is claimed to be the fastest freight service in the Atlantic.

How Fire Insurance Inspectors Work for You

Frequent, thorough inspections and surveys of insured properties are an indispensable part of the fire insurance business as transacted by the Stock Companies. Hundreds of men are engaged in this work.

Inspections provide the data from which insurance maps are made—rate-makers compute the rate—the agent writes the policy—the underwriter judges the risk, and accepts or rejects it.

Expert Knowledge

The inspector must understand construction, must have a knowledge of the individual hazards of every business, the details of public and private fire protection, the susceptibility to damage of contents and many other matters relating to the character of an insurance risk.

Through his work defects and hazardous conditions are brought to the attention of the property owner. Inspections are the immediate cause of eliminating fire hazards with their attendant reduction in fire waste and the cost of insurance.

Inspections have substantially contributed to the steady decline in the average rate in this country with the result that fire insurance is today one of the cheapest necessities.

Let Winsted Dream An Egg To Match This Pullet's Gift

Year Old Hen Presents Owner With Three Yolked Article Weighing Over 7 Ounces, 9 1/4 Inches in Circumference.

Winsted may hatch marvels disclosed the presence of three yolks. This gargantuan egg is the product of a year-old White Leghorn, hitherto nameless, but today christened Cornucopia, the property of Mr. Buchanan, hitherto Cornucopia. It has been given to the laying of good sized but not phenomenal eggs, but in the present instance she went out, like Lindbergh, unadvised, for a record. She is from the Lord strain, developed in Massachusetts, Johnsen, commodore of the chussets with a view to the size of the eggs, but it is not recorded that any other member of the strain ever pulled off so startling a stunt. The egg, fit all its grandeur, is in the wings of the George H. Williams clothing store on Main street. Cornucopia is reported as doing well, thank you.

SEE NO SETTLEMENT IN TEXTILE DISPUTE

London, March 25.—(AP)—A dispute of two years in the British woolen and textile industries appears as far from settlement as ever. Operatives in those industries having refused by a three to one vote to accept the wage reduction proposals of the employers, based on the findings of Lord Macmillan's investigation. Lord Macmillan recommended that the most recent wage increase be reduced from ten to five per cent and urged reduction of the cost of living allowance, although he advised that the basis of the present wage structure be left intact. The National Union of Textile Workers, the largest society in the trade, advised its members to accept the employers' offer saying: "The present is not an opportune time to resist these proposals." The union executive took the view that labor was anxious to have favorable awards carried out and should be willing to adopt a sportsmanlike attitude when the decision went against it. The present vote of the workers is said to embarrass their leaders. Alderman Ben Turner, M. P., minister of mines and president of the textile workers, confesses surprise at the heaviness and decisiveness of the vote but expresses the hope that "some wise heads may get together even in this darkest hour to see if there is not a middle way."

OPENING STOCKS

New York, March 25.—(AP)—The Stock Market opened with an impressive display of strength today. Eastman Kodak jumped 2 1/2 points on the first sale to a new high at 243 1/2. Standard Oil of New Jersey opened with a block of 10,000 shares at 71 3/8, up 1 3/8, and U. S. Steel Common with a block of 4,000 shares at 192 3/4, up 3 3/8, and both new 1930 highs. Initial gains of a point or two were recorded by Westinghouse Electric, Woolworth, Union Carbide, American and Foster Wheeler, the last named moving into new high ground.

The rapidity of the advance naturally invited some profit taking but the main price tendency continued upward through the early trading. Pool operations were resumed with considerable vigor in a wide assortment of specialties, more than a score of which reached new high ground before the end of the first hour. Oils continued to gather strength in the belief that a general advance in crude and gasoline prices is likely in the near future. Houston Oil crossed 100 for the first time this year. Mexican Seaboard advanced a point and several of the other leaders improved fractionally.

U. S. Steel quickly moved up to 193, the highest price since the October break when the stock sold down to 150. Vanadium which was the spectacular performer in yesterday's market moved up to another new high at 119 1/2, and then ran into realizing sales which quickly carried it back about two points below the tip. New 1930 highs were also established in the early trading by Lehigh Valley, Warners Bros., Paramount Players, United Carbon, Curtis-Wright, Frisco common, Moon Motors, Worthington Pump, American Telephone and Caterpillar traction, the gains running from fractions to nearly three points. American Tobacco issues, Johns-Manville, and A. M. Byers were in good demand. Foreign exchanges opened firm with sterling cables quoted a shade higher at 4.84 1/2.

Bonds were placed at $1,000 each. Colleges are practicing football. Spring's here at last.

RELEASE FIVE ENGLISH PHEASANTS YESTERDAY

Birds, Larger Than American Species, Given Freedom by Local Club.

Five English pheasants, somewhat larger than the American variety, were released yesterday by the Fish and Game committee of the Manchester Fish and Game club at the following points in town. They were a gift of the state to the local club as a contribution towards stocking the local countryside with suitable game. One bird at the Laurel Park flats, one at the Simonson farm, Vernon street and two in the vicinity of the upper Talcottville flats.

The birds released yesterday were strong, vigorous specimens of the English strain of game and crossed with American birds for acclimation purposes. They are somewhat wilder than the local breed. Fifteen more pheasants of this variety are expected from the state preserves next week. In addition to the gift to the local club, the Fish and Game committee has been empowered to complete the spending of the remainder of the $200 authorized for game stock at last month's meeting of the club. Twenty-five pheasants have been ordered and are expected by express within a week.

SUSPECT DISAPPEARS

New Britain, March 25.—(AP)—Sam U. Williams, 50, of 138 New Britain avenue, Hartford, also known as C. Anderson, failed to appear in Police Court today to answer to charges of obtaining money under false pretenses and an automobile which he had posted as a bond was declared forfeited. Williams is alleged to have represented himself as the agent of a rug renovating company in Springfield, Mass., and to have collected rugs and advance payments for the renovations, failing to return either the rugs or money. He is wanted by the Hartford police for operating in that city.

RAIN CHECKS FIRES

Boston, March 25.—(AP)—Rain during the night in eastern Massachusetts and misty weather in the western part of the state checked brush and grass fires which raged yesterday in several cities and towns.

A 70 year old fire fighter, John Clancy, dropped dead during a blaze which burned over a wide territory in Cheshire. Valuable peach and apple orchards were destroyed during the day in Leominster and 100 men fought to save buildings. Ten acres of brush and timber were burned in North Billerica and at North Hampton, N. H., a small ice house was destroyed in a grass fire on the estate of Alvan T. Fuller, former governor of Massachusetts. Additional rain was predicted for today and tonight.

Why Folks Stay Fat

Not always because of over-eating, but because a gland is weak. That gland largely controls nutrition. When it is weak one may nearly starve, yet stay fat. Modern physicians the world over now combat this great cause of obesity. And excess fat, in late years, has been disappearing fast. Marmola prescription tablets contain the chief factors which they use. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. And countless slender figures everywhere now show the amazing effects. Go try this right method to reduce. Stop starving. Read the book in the box with the formula and reasons. Ask your druggist today for a $1 box of Marmola and watch the change.

Charter Oaks Defeat Majors Four Straight

Night Hawks Cling to Three Point Lead With Only Three More Weeks of Play Remaining.

The Night Hawks enjoy a three point advantage with only three more weeks to go in the Herald Bowling League but it is entirely possible for them to falter as they dash down the homestretch. Last night they had a very difficult time taking three points from the West Sides quintet. The first game ended a tie and the Night Hawks won the roll-off and total pinfall went to the league leaders by the narrow margin of three pins.

Meanwhile the Charter Oaks had one of their sensational nights when nothing short of a clou burst could stop their victorious march and as a result the Majors were "taken for a ride." The crushing four-point defeat all but eliminated the Majors' hopes to beat the Night Hawks out for the pennant. In order to get back into the running now, the Majors must win four points from the Night Hawks next week—which is far from an easy task. Quido Gerogetti of the Charter Oaks had high three string total for the night of 402 with scores of 125, 136 and 141. Axel Anderson's 385 wasn't so bad either.

The Centers took four points from the Shell Gas for forfeit and seem reasonably certain of fourth place in the final standing. The British Americans beat the Construction three to one to keep close to the heels of the West Sides. The other match saw the Herald haul the Pirates down close to the Construction in the league standing by trimming them three to one. The newspaper boys have only a fighting chance to climb out of eighth place. A position they seem sure to cling to until the finish which is so near at hand.

Drastic Change In Holy Cross Grid Policies

Worcester, Mass., March 25.—(AP)—Captain John J. McEwan, new Holy Cross football coach will work with one assistant instead of the usual corps, it became known today.

McEwan's choice, Eugene L. Vidal, of Washington, D. C. was captain and co-star with Elmer Oliphant of the Army 1918 eleven. Whether he can get Vidal or not, he does not know but tenders have gone forth. If Vidal comes to the purple, McEwan asks no further help. Vidal was McEwan's chief lieutenant at Oregon.

When McEwan signed with Holy Cross Sunday he was given the privilege of choosing his own assistants with power to keep the present staff or not.

If his plans go through and he gets Vidal, four assistants, one with a long career at the Purple school, will go. Luke Kelly, for fifteen years head coach and late line coach, Bunny Corcoran, for three years end coach, Harry O'Boyle, former Notre Dame star, and last season backfield coach and Gus Cervini, assistant line coach are not expected back.

The Centers took four points from the Shell Gas for forfeit and seem reasonably certain of fourth place in the final standing. The British Americans beat the Construction three to one to keep close to the heels of the West Sides. The other match saw the Herald haul the Pirates down close to the Construction in the league standing by trimming them three to one. ## FAMOUS FOOTBALL FIGURE PASSES ON

Walter Eckersall Victim of Heart Attack; Was Ill Only a Few Days.

Chicago, March 25.—(AP)—Walter Eckersall, one of football's immortals, is dead.

Death, caused by a heart attack, overtook the once famous streak of the gridiron suddenly and unexpectedly at 2:30 p. m. yesterday in his room at the Chicago Athletic Association where he had been bedridden for only a few days. He was 46 years old.

Ill for the last year he even his most intimate friends realized the end was so near. Last fall he jeopardized his health by leaving his sick bed and continuing his duties as football referee and sports writer for the Chicago Tribune. He never seemed to regain his old time spark after that. The death of his mother last fall broke his heart and his will to live was hardly that of the 145 pound football player who used to blast through ponderous lines way back in 1903-04-05-06.

Charles W. Dunkley sports writer for the Associated Press, Eckersall's close friend for 20 years, was the only one with Eckersall when he died. Dunkley came to make his daily call to learn of his condition and found him dying. He said Eckersall mumbled something about a 20 yard gain and died peacefully.

Football stars have beamed and faded but very few gained the fame that came to Eckersall. A slip of the youth weighing about 135 pounds, he first attracted attention while playing on the Hyde Park High School team in Chicago.

Recruiting was not considered an athletic sin in those days and several universities and colleges, learning of his remarkable speed, sought his services, but he decided on the University of Chicago where he combined his natural talent and speed with advice from Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg and started the football world which then was used to the slam-bang type of game. Almost single handed, he crushed the new and greater teams than Chicago with his triple threat artistry. His kicking was accurate and dangerous and his open field running a revelation. He was an artist as a passer, too.

Started At End "Eckie," as he was known to footballers both as a player, writer and official, played his first two years with the Maroons as an end. In his first year, 1903, he starred and in 1904, he gained a berth on Walter Camp's All-American team and became a fixture on that mythical eleven, membership of which was usually confined to the East. For the rest of his collegiate career—1905 and 1906. The last two years he directed the Maroons at quarterback, meanwhile increasing his weight to 145 pounds.

Football was not Eckersall's only athletic glory. He was a track star and many still remember the day he and Will Hogenstrom, ran two dead heats in the 100 yard dash only to have Eckersall win the next dash in :09 4-5 seconds.

He played third base with Cap. Anson's Colts as soon as he left college but the lure of journalism was greater and he forsook what might have been a great baseball career.

Became Sports Authority Eckersall went to the Chicago Tribune from baseball and became an authority on football and boxing. Each season, he officiated in most of the more important big ten and Notre Dame gridiron classics.

Each year he was many tonight but Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics for the western conference, summed up most of them by saying: "Eckersall was not only one of football's greatest stars, he was a great referee, a fine writer and a true blue sportsman. He was beloved by all. The athletic world, especially the amateur sports world which needs men of his type, will miss him greatly."

Eckersall was married and divorced, and has one child, Elizabeth, who is 20 years old. After his mother's death he lived at the Chicago Athletic Association.

Cooke has not been hitting lately and Polli who played with him at St. Paul last year was asked about it. "He didn't hit at the training camp last year," said Americus "and batted about .200 the first month of the season. After that they couldn't get him out."

San Antonio, March 25.—(AP)—Manager Don Euse of the Chicago White Sox has decided who will be his starting pitchers during the impending American League campaign.

BOWLING TOURNEY

Cleveland, March 25.—(AP)—Another set of former champions will strive to regain their titles in the American Bowling Congress tournament today and tonight.

Thus far, not one of the champions has been able to climb back onto his throne, although former titlists have made almost daily appearances.

Those who will attempt comebacks tonight are Larry Sutton, Rochester, king of the singles division in 1909, and Chick Aston and Phil Young, Akron, who won the two-man title in 1926. Benny Heuserman, Cincinnati, who tied for and lost the championship to Sam Schlman, Toronto, in 1916, was scheduled to roll this afternoon.

Two more teams mounted among the leaders last night. The Renner Auto Service quintet of Cincinnati shot 2,891 to land eighth place, and the enders Chrysler of Benton Harbor, Mich., hit 2,889 for ninth.

J. Buck and W. Foeke, Tarentum, Pa., rolled into seventh in the doubles with 1,279. Jack Gramlich, Wheeling, W. Va., took sixth in the singles with 689 and Ed Shepard, Kansas City, rolled to a seventh-place tie in the all-events with 1,893.

Recruiting was not considered an athletic sin in those days and several universities and colleges, learning of his remarkable speed, sought his services, but he decided on the University of Chicago where he combined his natural talent and speed with advice from Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg and started the football world which then was used to the slam-bang type of game. Walker, Kearns asserted, is better than either Jimmy Slattery or Maxie Rosenbloom. "I have as much right to claim the title for him as the National Boxing Association has to boxing Rosenbloom and the N. Y. Boxing Association to call Slattery, champion."

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 25.—(AP)—Allen (Dusty) Cooke, candidate for left field in the New York Yanks' outfield, has a strong booster in Americus Polli, recruit pitcher.

Cooke has not been hitting lately and Polli who played with him at St. Paul last year was asked about it. "He didn't hit at the training camp last year," said Americus "and batted about .200 the first month of the season. After that they couldn't get him out."

San Antonio, March 25.—(AP)—Manager Don Euse of the Chicago White Sox has decided who will be his starting pitchers during the impending American League campaign.

Red Faber, Al. Thomas, Ted Lyons, Dutch Henry and Hal McKain, are Bush's first pick, with Pat Caraway, Ed. Walsh, Jr., Bob Weiland, and Ted Blankenship, the most prominent of other hurling candidates.

Los Angeles, March 25.—(AP)—The condition of the throwing arm of Lester Bell, who was acquired to repair the Chicago Cubs' weak spot at third base, is causing Manager Joe McCarthy more than a little concern.

Bell's arm was sore when he reported and the lameness has become so alarming that the former Boston Brave infielder may be given a rest.

San Antonio, Texas, March 25.—(AP)—Melvin Ott, boy wonder of the New York Giants, has no liking for slow balls.

The slugging outfielder struck out twice as the Giants won 3 to 1.

Winter Haven, Fla., March 25.—(AP)—Fifty or no count is the answer of Chuck Klein, long distance hitter of the Phillies who asked how many home runs he expected to make this season. He led the league last year with 43.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 25.—(AP)—Connie Mack revealed today that the A's will be without the services of Al Simmons, outfielder, until the Athletics and Phillies meet in the Philadelphia city series, April 5.

BOWLING TOURNEY

Cleveland, March 25.—(AP)—Another set of former champions will strive to regain their titles in the American Bowling Congress tournament today and tonight.

Thus far, not one of the champions has been able to climb back onto his throne, although former titlists have made almost daily appearances.

Those who will attempt comebacks tonight are Larry Sutton, Rochester, king of the singles division in 1909, and Chick Aston and Phil Young, Akron, who won the two-man title in 1926. Benny Heuserman, Cincinnati, who tied for and lost the championship to Sam Schlman, Toronto, in 1916, was scheduled to roll this afternoon.

Two more teams mounted among the leaders last night. The Renner Auto Service quintet of Cincinnati shot 2,891 to land eighth place, and the enders Chrysler of Benton Harbor, Mich., hit 2,889 for ninth.

J. Buck and W. Foeke, Tarentum, Pa., rolled into seventh in the doubles with 1,279. Jack Gramlich, Wheeling, W. Va., took sixth in the singles with 689 and Ed Shepard, Kansas City, rolled to a seventh-place tie in the all-events with 1,893.

Recruiting was not considered an athletic sin in those days and several universities and colleges, learning of his remarkable speed, sought his services, but he decided on the University of Chicago where he combined his natural talent and speed with advice from Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg and started the football world which then was used to the slam-bang type of game. Almost single handed, he crushed the new and greater teams than Chicago with his triple threat artistry. His kicking was accurate and dangerous and his open field running a revelation. He was an artist as a passer, too.

Started At End "Eckie," as he was known to footballers both as a player, writer and official, played his first two years with the Maroons as an end. In his first year, 1903, he starred and in 1904, he gained a berth on Walter Camp's All-American team and became a fixture on that mythical eleven, membership of which was usually confined to the East. For the rest of his collegiate career—1905 and 1906. The last two years he directed the Maroons at quarterback, meanwhile increasing his weight to 145 pounds.

Football was not Eckersall's only athletic glory. He was a track star and many still remember the day he and Will Hogenstrom, ran two dead heats in the 100 yard dash only to have Eckersall win the next dash in :09 4-5 seconds.

He played third base with Cap. Anson's Colts as soon as he left college but the lure of journalism was greater and he forsook what might have been a great baseball career.

Became Sports Authority Eckersall went to the Chicago Tribune from baseball and became an authority on football and boxing. Each season, he officiated in most of the more important big ten and Notre Dame gridiron classics.

Each year he was many tonight but Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics for the western conference, summed up most of them by saying: "Eckersall was not only one of football's greatest stars, he was a great referee, a fine writer and a true blue sportsman. He was beloved by all. The athletic world, especially the amateur sports world which needs men of his type, will miss him greatly."

Eckersall was married and divorced, and has one child, Elizabeth, who is 20 years old. After his mother's death he lived at the Chicago Athletic Association.

BOXING

Flint, Mich., March 25.—(AP)—As far as Jack Kearns is concerned, Mickey Walker is light heavyweight champion of the world as well as middleweight champion.

Kearns who is Walker's manager said so last night while his protege was administering a technical knockout lift the fourth round, to Charles Arthur of Newark, N. J.

Walker, Kearns asserted, is better than either Jimmy Slattery or Maxie Rosenbloom. "I have as much right to claim the title for him as the National Boxing Association has to boxing Rosenbloom and the N. Y. Boxing Association to call Slattery, champion."

GOLF

Southern Pines, March 25.—(AP)—Clinging to a two stroke lead, Maureen Orcutt, young golfing sensation from Haworth, N. J., today started the second round of the second annual mid-south 54 hole tournament with more than sixty other women golfers, including the American champion Glenna Collett, trailing at her heels. Miss Orcutt yesterday shot a brilliant 78. The best Glenna could do was an 80.

Today Mrs. Orcutt and Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas were paired, and Miss Collett was linked with Miss Edith Quier, of Reading, Pa. Miss Marian Bennett of New Britain, Conn., and Miss Louise Fordyce of Youngstown, Ohio play together.

Merchants' Annual Spring Opening Tomorrow Evening

DEPOT SQUARE P. O. BLOCK SOLD TODAY

Rose Building Purchased by Michael Coughlin—May Build In Driveway.

The Rose building on North Main street, in which is housed the Manchester postoffice, the newstand of Captain J. C. Nichols with the upper floors occupied as a boarding house, was purchased this morning by Michael Coughlin. Mr. Coughlin also owns the property to the east, known as the Norton building and the frontage east to the Pagani property. This gives Mr. Coughlin a frontage of 190 feet, with a depth of 140 feet on the west side, and 287 feet on the east.

The property purchased today has a frontage of 90 feet on Main street and a depth of 140 feet, the building covering about half of the distance to the rear and occupying the whole fifty feet frontage. It is of brick construction and was erected as was the building to the east of it in 1889, replacing buildings of frame structure which were burned and in which the Manchester Herald, then a weekly paper, was housed. It was in the building sold today that the Herald again resumed printing its paper before moving to its own plant on Hillside street, and from where it moved to Bissell street in South Manchester.

The building was purchased through the First National Bank of Stafford Springs, acting for Mrs. Martha Reish, who is now at New York. The negotiations for the purchase have been under way for several weeks and there have been two or three local people interested and several from out of town. A price could not be reached that was suitable until last week when Mr. Coughlin in conference with the Stafford Bank made an offer that was accepted and the necessary deed was drawn and sent to New York to the owner to sign. The deed was not secured by the Stafford bank until late in the afternoon yesterday, but this morning F. J. Sanford, cashier of the bank, came to Manchester and the deal was closed.

Plans For Its Use
Mr. Coughlin said soon after the buying of the property this morning that he was not finally decided on his plans. The purchase of the building gives him the full right to the mutual right of way to the east and makes it possible for him to use that frontage on North Main street as he so desires. Just at present, he said, the postoffice requires attention. Demands have been made by the postoffice department for more floor space in the office, and the extra ten feet that is secured between the two blocks may solve this problem. The lease of the postoffice expires on April 1 and before any changes are made the postal authorities will be consulted on the renewal of the lease.

GIRLS START LENTEN MISSIONARY WORK

At a regular meeting of St. Mary's Girls' Friendly Society held last evening in the parish house at 7:30, work was started on packing a box which is to be sent to the Rev. Gustave Orth at St. Barnabas Mission, Havana, Arkansas. The devotional period was held under the direction of Associate Florence Madden, who also read the scripture lesson for the evening.

Following the meeting, dainty refreshments were served in the lower hall by a committee consisting of Associate Helen Crawford, Evelyn Burrell, Hazel Greenaway and Jean McBride. Several of the girls provided entertainment numbers and the members all spent an enjoyable evening.

MOTHER SAVES CHILD.

New Britain, March 25.—(AP)—Mrs. John Baker of 631 West Main street rushed through flames and smoke to save the life of her 10 year old son when fire broke out in the Baker home at 1 o'clock this morning. Awakened by flames, she plunged through a room in which the fire was burning, snatched the boy from his bed and carried him to the street. She was painfully burned on her back and her hair and eyebrows were singed. The fire drove five families from the building.

INCOME TAX RECEIPTS.

Washington, March 25.—(AP)—Income tax receipts continued to drop below last year's total for the 22 days of March according to the treasury statement issued today showing collections from income tax on March 22. On that day the collections for the month aggregated $517,803,027 as compared with $547,189,703 for the same number of days in March, 1929.

ADVISES CHAMBER BACK SELECTMEN

of the best talks on municipal government with particular reference to Manchester, ever heard in town. Mr. Waddell likened the town of Manchester to a big corporation of $34,000,000 with 23,000 stockholders. The board of directors is composed of the Selectmen and in this corporation every man, woman and child in the town has stock amounting to $2,350. The total indebtedness of the corporation is $2,132,928.38. If the debt were divided among the stockholders it would amount to $95 each. The permanent assets of this corporation is $2,824,950. This gives a value of $122 to each stockholder.

This corporation holds its annual meeting the first Monday in every October and the budget of the last annual meeting amounted to $889,485. The net cost of running the town for one year amounts to $39 when it went into detail in explaining just what the stockholders get for their money. The greatest outlay is for schools which take a share more than 43 per cent. For bonds and interest it costs the corporation the sum of $141,000 or nearly 16 per cent.

Mr. Waddell paid the health board of the town a great compliment when he announced that it is the best town but $5,500 or only six-tenths of the total to manage its affairs. Manchester is a particularly healthy town and he attributed this fact to the diligence of the Board of Health and the operation of the meat dealers and all others who have to do with the distribution of foods.

Over 300 Employees
It was news to most of those at the meeting to learn that the town has more than 300 employees. This includes the school teachers, the police, the court officials, the executive and the Selectmen. From the tax commissioner's report for 1928 Mr. Waddell brought out the fact that Manchester is comparable with such municipalities as Bristol, East Hartford, Glastonbury, Naugatuck, Vernon, West Hartford, Hartford and Windham, had the lowest tax rate for that year.

Mr. Waddell in comparing the growth of the town during his tenure of eleven years in office called attention to the fact that during that time 1,186 new houses have been built, or an average of 108 a year. During that time the grand list has jumped from 23 millions to 53 millions. Looking to the future Mr. Waddell enumerated some of the town improvements that will come within a comparatively short time. This included the rebuilding of East Center street; starting at Love Lane the state is planning to build a new highway through Buckland to North Main street and it won't be long before the state will undertake the job of making a new highway through Middle Turnpike to the Green. Garbage disposal is a question that is today bothering the Selectmen. He maintained that an incineration plant will be built.

Asks Support
The speaker maintained that if all these improvements are to come the Chamber of Commerce should bend every effort to secure more manufacturing plants for the town. He said he saw more men and women attend the annual town meetings. One of the most needed improvements at the present time, Mr. Waddell declared, is a new town charter. The chamber members should work to bring this about. In summing up he wanted the men and women of the town to take a greater interest in its affairs. He called on them to support the Board of Selectmen in their work. This could be done by backing the board in all the good things that are being planned.

President Emil L. G. Hohenthal was in charge of the meeting. Among the committee chairmen were H. B. House for the Merchants Division. He reminded the gathering that the annual Spring opening would take place tomorrow night and he urged as many as possible to turn out to do so. Vice President R. K. Anderson reminded the meeting of the success of the Chamber in its drive for new members and stated that 133 new members had been added to the roll and that two new sustaining members had been secured. Plans, he said, are being made for the annual banquet which is to take place at Cheney hall on the night of April 29. It is expected that the members will have the privilege of bringing their wives to this affair.

Committee Reports
William A. Knotha, head of the aviation committee, gave in detail just what had been planned in the way of putting Manchester on the map. The committee is getting figures on work of lettering "Manchester" on the new lumber shed of the W. G. Glenney Co. on North Main street. George L. Betts of the Automotive division said this branch now has 26 members and he called attention to an automobile parade to be held on Saturday. Each dealer will have one new model in line.

Manchester is to have a part in the Better Homes week proposition. The plan was explained by W. L. Ferguson of the Hartford Times. He urged the people of Manchester to get back of this work. Thomas J. Rogers, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, who with the other members of the board had seats at the head table, complimented the Chamber on the progress that had been made in the past few months. He believed that it had a great work to do in Manchester. He asked for the co-operation of every member in the work of the Selectmen.

MOOSE TO ATTEND NEW HAVEN SESSION

A large delegation of members of Manchester Lodge No. 1477, Loyal Order of Moose, will journey to New Haven on Sunday, leaving the Home Club on Brainard Place by bus at 12 o'clock noon, to attend the ceremonies attendant with the initiation of more than 200 candidates into the Moose order. The supreme dictator of the world, A. Lander will be present, the affair being held in connection with the campaign for 100,000 increased membership.

This is the supreme commander's first visit to Connecticut and following the ceremonies a reception will be held in his honor. All local members should make reservations for the trip by Saturday noon at the latest. The Manchester contingent will leave for home about nine o'clock Sunday evening.

EUROPA SMASHES ATLANTIC RECORD

naval history of Commodore Nicholas Johnsen, commander of the Europa, fastest liner afloat. Born at Cross-Steinrade near Lubeck in 1869, Commodore Johnsen went to sea at 16, progressing steadily through the unranked grades of seaman until in 1895 he received his commission as lieutenant. He served in the North German Lloyd staff. His progress there was rapid. Even before attaining captain's rank he was entrusted with the temporary command of the pre-war crack liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie. In 1913 he was given his own ship, the Helgoland.

Served During War.
Came the war and Commodore Johnsen was called to the colors. He served in various capacities in the German Navy ashore and afloat until the end of the war. Then, Germany's great ocean liners, having been confiscated by the Allies, he took command of the Gruesgroot, a coaster of 700 tons, plying between Sineuende and East Russian ports.

His service on the little coaster did not last long, however, and in 1923 with Germany's merchant fleet partly rebuilt, he took command of the Columbus, then the biggest passenger ship of the North German Lloyd.

He held that command until plans for the Europa were completed, when he was put in charge of her building. He followed her through from keel laying. The disastrous fire, her rebuilding and now has brought her across the Atlantic on the fastest run ever made by a ship.

ABOUT TOWN

A daughter was born last night at Mrs. How's Maternity Home on Wadsworth street to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gustafson of 351 Center street.

Residents living at the North End reported seeing a flock of geese passing over the Union pond this morning. They were headed northeast and passed over Manchester at 7 o'clock.

Rev. Simon Guzik, the first pastor of the Polish National church here, who left Manchester in December to take charge of a parish in East Lawrence, has again been transferred, according to his friends in town. He is now located in Amsterdam, N. Y.

All Tall Cedars who are planning to attend the ceremonial at New London April 5, should get in touch with Thomas Smith, phone 1111, before Monday, March 31. The time of departure by bus for New London will be at 2 p. m. April 5.

POLICE COURT
William J. Wilson of Ashworth street was brought before the town court this morning on the charge of non-support. His wife, Dorothy Wilson, complained to Prosecuting Attorney Charles E. Hathaway. She testified that because of cruelty, and because she was not interested in a still he had in the cellar, he forced her to leave home.

Wilson has two children by another marriage and is employed by the Case & Marshall Paper company. Mrs. Wilson is bringing suit for divorce and in the Superior court he was ordered to pay his wife $5 a week while the case was pending. This he refused to do. In the local court he was found guilty of non-support and a jail sentence of 30 days was imposed. This sentence was suspended on condition that he pay his wife $5 a week and a bond of $500 was required as a guarantee of payment. Wilson stubbornly refused to abide by the conditions imposed by the court and went to jail to serve his thirty days.

This news will surprise many of us who have long felt that the United States, with its many excellent drinks to mix with orange juice, should come second to any nation.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DORIS MATTHEWS, lady's maid, is murdered Friday night after 11:30 in a summerhouse on the Berkeley estate, by a blow from a heavy perfume flask, presented by MRS. BERKELEY to SEYMOUR CROSBY. The body, rock-weighted and tied with CLORINDA BERKELEY'S SCARF, is taken from the lake Saturday morning by DETECTIVE BONNIE DUNDEE, who summons CAPTAIN STRAWN.

MEMBERS OF HOUSEHOLD (all under suspicion): Mr. and Mrs. George Berkeley, who have quarreled late Friday night over Clorinda's engagement to Crosby, close friend of the social secretary, MRS. LAMBERT; GIGI BERKELEY, who sprinkled all persons in drawing room Friday night with perfume from the murder flask, later placed in Mrs. Berkeley's bathroom by WICKER; DICK BERKELEY, who, after having been missing all night, turns up while his mother is accusing EUGENE ARNOLD, chauffeur, engaged to Doris, of having murdered Doris and Dick out of jealousy.

Mrs. Berkeley is forced to admit she slammed Doris while the maid was dressing her for dinner because Doris said she used too much perfume; admits also she instructed Doris to wait up for her but says Doris was not in her rooms when she (Mrs. Berkeley) went up to bed at 11:40. Roused print of Doris's mouth on bathroom mirror proves girl was there and that a struggle took place.

When Clorinda admits having seen Doris just before 11, Strawn asks: "Didn't Doris tell you that your brother had made her promise to meet him when the family was in bed?"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XX

"Does your silence mean yes, Clorinda?" Captain Strawn pressed relentlessly. "Doris did tell you that she had promised to meet your brother, and even then you knew there would be—trouble?" "No, no! Doris did not mention Dick! . . . Oh, please!" The tragic dark eyes flew wide, pleaded desperately. "Tell me if that is true or if you are just trying to trap me into an admission damaging to myself!"

Dundee had an unprofessional impulse to tell her the truth, to relieve her strange suspense by telling her that her brother had spent the night in the tower room, waiting for the girl who never came.

But Captain Strawn was answering her with a cruel evasion: "I have promised to meet Dick, all right. We have two witnesses to that. . . . Now, you've said you didn't know until this morning that you couldn't keep his date with Dick, because of taking the Smiths home. Who told you that?"

Write an obvious effort Clorinda got control of herself, and answered almost calmly: "Mrs. Lambert. She was wondering about the breakfast table whether Arnold had got word to Doris that he could not come to his appointment with her, because he had asked her to meet him an hour later than they had planned."

"Did Mrs. Lambert also know last night that Doris was to meet Arnold?" "No. I contributed that bit of news myself this morning," Clorinda answered lazily. "We were all thrashing out the probabilities and possibilities—naturally."

"Naturally," Strawn agreed, his voice heavy with sarcasm. "Now, don't be nasty!" Gigi warned, pretending to be about to choke him as she had threatened.

"And you mustn't mind Clorinda. She has a Lady Clara Vere de Vere complex, though I must say the grand manner becomes her. I'd try to be just like her when I'm grown, except that dignity simply does not go with a pug nose," she added mournfully, looking cross-eyed at the short but adorable features of Clorinda.

"I'll have to speak you yet," Strawn told her severely. "Well, Miss Clorinda, you two girls chatted together quite a lot last night, I suppose, as Doris helped you get ready for bed?"

"We talked—yes," Clorinda answered stiffly. "Doris and I are—were—very good friends."

"Talked about sweethearts and getting married, and things like that?" Strawn pressed gently, or Clorinda did not answer, but her black eyes were scornful.

"Doris bragged about her sweetie and you bragged about yours?" Strawn went on, with heavy good humor.

"Doris talked of Arnold—yes," Clorinda answered coldly. "And just what did she say about Arnold?"

"A number of things. That she loved him with all her heart, that she wished he were not so 'jealous-natured'—"

"You were seen," Strawn assured her. "Now tell us about that little jaunt of yours, Miss Clorinda."

couldn't complete with Doris, once he had a good look at her. "Oh, so you threatened her life, did you?" Strawn growled. "Where are my handcuffs?—Now, Miss Clorinda, answer the question please: did Doris tell you your mother had slapped her face?"

"She did not!" Clorinda retorted curtly. "But she wasn't in such a happy mood when she came from your mother's room at 7:15 to help you dress, eh?"

"I was late, and rather in a hurry. I did not notice Doris's mood particularly, but she was too well trained to gossip against my mother to me," she answered scornfully, after an instant of hesitation.

Strawn shrugged, then began on a new tack, his voice suddenly portentous: "Miss Clorinda, I want you to search your memory very carefully before you answer this question, because it's important. Was Doris wearing lip rouge when you saw her just before 11 o'clock last night?"

"Lip rouge?" Clorinda repeated incredulously. "Then, as Strawn nodded grimly, she closed her eyes as if to concentrate. At last she answered positively: "No, I am quite sure she wasn't. Doris never saw her with make-up on, when she was on duty. If she had been wearing either face rouge or lip rouge last night I am sure I should have noticed it. . . . Wait a minute! She said she was going to her room to make herself pretty for Arnold. I remember that distinctly now."

"And did you notice whether she went directly toward her room or not?" "I—why, no. I—paid no attention."

"You don't know, then, whether she went from your rooms to your mother's, to arrange the bed and night things?" Strawn pressed.

"Oh, I'm sure she didn't," Clorinda answered more readily. "You see, she had already been to Mother's room before coming to mine. She remarked that she was all through for the night, that Mother had said she would not require her to wait up to help her get ready for bed."

Strawn and Dundee exchanged a quick, significant glance. If Clorinda Berkeley was telling the truth, she had definitely established the fact that Doris Matthews had left the lip-rouge mouth print on Mrs. Berkeley's dressing table mirror during a third visit to her mistress's room, regardless of Mrs. Berkeley's protestation that the girl was not there when she came up. A visit made after the girl had gone to her own room on the third floor to "pretty" herself for her sweetheart.

With deceptive casualness Strawn returned to the attack. "Now, Miss Clorinda, I take it that you went to bed right after Doris left your room?"

"I did," Clorinda lied coolly. "And saw nothing, heard nothing to disturb your rest?"

"Absolutely nothing!" "Well, that's that, and you made a grand witness, old thing!" Gigi cried blithely, hopping off Strawn's chair arm. "My turn now? I suppose I shouldn't continue to rumple the hair of a gruff old Captain of Detectives who's getting ready to g-r-rill!"

"Not so fast, young woman!" Strawn commanded sternly. "I have not finished with your sister yet, and don't think I'm not on to the smoke screens you've been putting up!"

"Not so dumb!" Dundee grinned to himself. "Oh!" Gigi subsided disconsolately upon an ottoman at Dundee's feet and laid her curly hair against his knee.

"As a matter of fact, Miss Clorinda," Strawn began, "Doris did not help you undress, did she?" "I don't know what you mean!"

"I mean, my dear young lady, that you did not undress and change while later, I mean that you put on a gold metal cloth cape over your evening dress, and stole downstairs, unlocked the back door and slipped out into the night!" Strawn told her with terrible emphasis.

Clorinda caught her breath sharply, but did not change her pose of indolent ease. It was Gigi who cried out and pressed her hands to her cheeks. "How do you know this?" Clorinda asked at last, in a cool, clear voice.

"You were seen," Strawn assured her. "I'm glad you see there's no use denying it. Now tell us all about that little jaunt of yours, Miss Clorinda."

YOUR CHILDREN

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
©1930 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

Training the pre-school child is important. Before he starts out in the world, he belongs to his mother. After that he is exposed to every sort of influence and from that time on her work consists less in actual building than in combating outside persuasions, and errors based upon her own early mistakes.

Right morals, manners, and emotions should be instilled now, and undesirable things kept out. The work of eliminating the wrong things and planting the right ones is the all-important thing at this time.

Obedience, of course, must be established now, but not at the expense of personality and a generous amount of freedom of thought and behavior. A child trained properly at this time should give very little trouble later on, unless he is of a peculiar temperament that needs help rather than censure.

We are too quick to call the impulsive child, or the headstrong child, or the too-sensitive, shy one abnormal. We're forever talking of the problem child, too.

Few children belong to either of these classes. What is a normal child, anyway? And all children offer problems. Then again, how often we hear mothers despair of their "nervous" children. If children really are nervous they should be under a doctor's care and guidance.

The truth is, we are too prone to call the fine-grained, sensitive child nervous. I am not disputing the fact that danger lies in this sort of temperament. Such a child is likely in time to suffer physically from daily shocks that would roll off his tougher, less-susceptible brother. Repeated unhappiness affects digestion, sleep, and organic functions.

To go back to the important point of age, and the necessity of starting him right (for, after all, "well begun is half done") there is another point to consider in these first few years.

It is this time that the mother selects to do her "spoiling." It is the "baby" who is humored and petted—for most mothers regard the child yet in the home as the tenderest sort of infant—and permitted every sort of license. She wouldn't think of giving him such privilege when he joins the ranks of older children in school.

She then expects a miracle to happen. Because Johnny is lively away from her six hours a day, she is likely to think of him in entirely different terms. She suddenly beholds him as a responsible human being. Because her point of view has changed she believes he has changed. She now speaks of him as "a great big boy who ought to know better."

It is the teacher who is having the struggle to make that come true. A successful family, the kind that grows up for parents to be proud of, begins with the pre-school child.

With the approach of Spring the girls of school age discard their woolen frocks. They are replaced by vivid cotton prints and tub silks. The model I've selected is white with a pique printed in orange-red. It is a one-piece type of sports character. It's most comfortable and practical and is easily laundered.

A white leather belt worn at higher waistline, emphasizes diagonal closing of bodice. The piping and buttons are of plain orange-red pique. The collar and cuffs are white pique.

It's so simple and inexpensive, and yet so distinctive, you'll just love it. Style No. 618 comes in sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14 years.

For the 8-year miss 1 1/2 yards of 39-inch material with 3/4 yard of 22-inch contrasting and 3 yards of binding is sufficient. Pattern price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

I feel certain you will be pleased with this popular model. And I wish to take this opportunity to call to your attention that there is a splendid selection of children's frocks in our new Spring Fashion Magazine. It would be a good idea to send 10 cents additional when you order this pattern. Then I'll mail you a copy of the book.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

Just as the modish woman of today adds that "well turned out" look to her general effect by the careful choice of accessories, so the clever housewife may increase the popularity of the dish that is more wholesome than welcome by the deft use of some added material.

The food accessory differs decidedly from the garnish in that it is not merely ornamental. Nuts, dates, raisins, coconut, candied fruit, jelly—these and many others combine happily with the most nutritious and economical and interest to the combination with relatively little expenditure of time or money.

The carefully chosen food accessory is not an extravagance. If two or three chopped dates added to the children's cereal will make the dish a treat instead of a morning "bone of contention," it surely cannot be termed extravagant. Especially since the dates add about 100 calories to the dish as well as some food iron.

Nuts or raisins or both added to baked apples increases the food value and assure them a cordial welcome. A spoonful of jelly is another pleasant variation if put in the cavity left when the core is removed from the apple.

Shredded coconut sprinkled over canned peaches makes them doubly attractive. The simple healthful dessert of sliced oranges and bananas acquires new character if a sprinkling of coconut is added to each serving. Fruit salads are given increased food value by the addition of coconut.

Although candied fruit is more expensive than the other accessories mentioned, it will do wonders to almost any everyday dish. Liquid pudding sauces that may be desirable for children but not overly tasty gain actual distinction if a few tablespoonsful of finely chopped candied cherries or pineapple are added.

CLEAN MOUTH IS FIRST STEP IN FIGHT AGAINST TOOTH DECAY

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER

Editorial Journal of the American Medical Association, and Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Modern dentistry is concerned with much more than removing or repairing decaying teeth. At least since 1915, it has been studying the germs that occur in the mouth and their effects in producing pyorrhea, decay of the teeth, diseases of the gums and similar problems.

Recently Drs. B. F. Howitt and W. C. Fleming have studied the germs in the mouths of some of the prisoners at San Quentin, California, changing their diets from time to time to determine the effects of carbohydrates and proteins.

As a result of these studies, the investigators report that a change in diet does not appreciably alter the amount of debris left in the mouth after eating, nor the number of germs. Streptococci of various types were found frequently. When men had diets particularly high in protein substances, they had more spirochetal forms of organisms, these also being associated at times with pyorrhea or with infections of the gums.

Apparently the germs in the mouth are more influenced by food remnants in the mouth, and by the cleanliness of the teeth, than by the reactions of the body generally. The mouths of people vary as to the amount of acid they develop and the effects of the acid on the teeth, but these factors seem of lesser importance in relation to tooth decay.

Experiments of this type are of the greatest importance in emphasizing again the necessity for mouth cleanliness in general health. Cleanliness of the mouth is best brought about by the removal of portions of food after eating and by the cleaning of the teeth with a toothbrush and water.

Apparently it hardly pays to use antiseptics around the teeth and gums for tooth cleaning, unless the food debris on which the germs grow is thoroughly removed.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Tuesday, March 25.
Frank Crumit not only has turned composer, but has discovered two young men with considerable talent along the same lines, and the three together have produced some songs which will go on the air for the first time during the program which the Columbia chain will broadcast at a Tuesday night. The program is a musical discovery, and the other is Fred Kingsbury, a Yale man, and an attorney in the same town. Kingsbury mostly lyrics and tunes. Kingsbury mostly lyrics, and both, according to Mr. Crumit, are "real" pianists. Mr. Crumit, musical comedy star, will also be heard during the hour. He and two other composers, including the late de Ferrari, master violin maker of Cremona, had two apprentices. Both were in love with the same beautiful dancer. One of the apprentices was a handsome "dumb-bell." The other was a twisted, ugly hunchback, had the life and soul and fine integrity of the true artist. The attraction of the lives will be dramatized for listeners of WEAF and allied stations at 8.

Wave lengths in meters on left of station title, and in the right. Times are all Eastern Standard. Black face type indicates best features.

Uncle Sam's Planting Pointers

TRANSPLANTING SHRUBS.

By D. VICTOR LUMSDEN.
Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The essence of the old adage, "Spare the rod and spoil the child," applies to spring transplanting. Spare the spade and spoil the shrub. That such plants as have grown until they are crowded will become misshapen or will have to be pruned ruthlessly unless they are moved to allow more space.

Early spring, just before shrubs start into growth, is one of the best seasons to move them. Wait until the ground has dried enough to be granular and not sticky. Then transplant.

Deciduous woody plants, those which remain leafless during winter, can be moved without a ball of soil to insure success. Evergreens must be moved with this ball of soil to insure success.

Be Careful of Roots.

Start by digging a trench around the plant and well away from its roots. Then comb out the soil from the roots with a pick to injure the roots as little as possible. Move enough soil from evergreens to facilitate the handling of the ball of soil, but do not expose many of the more far-reaching roots.

Prepare the hole where the transplant will be placed before digging the plant. The hole should be large enough to hold the roots of the plant without crowding. If the soil seems poor, add clean dry manure to the soil.

If the soil in the new location is of poor quality do not use it in replanting. Provide soil known to grow good crops. Do not mix it with the soil in contact with the roots of the plant, because it may start decay in the roots. Set the tree or shrub at the same depth at which it has been growing.

Tamping Soil Essential.

Spread the roots as they were originally and tamp the soil well with your foot or a tamper so that no large air spaces remain. Water the plant only after you have finished working with the soil. With shrubs dug without a ball of soil it is well to prune away one-fourth to one-half of the plant's growth above ground to compensate for the roots destroyed in transplanting.

Transplanting is a far better solution than ruthless pruning.

SILVER LANE and HOCKANUM News Notes

A son, Merrill Robert was born at the Hartford Hospital March 18 to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Saffery of Hockanum. Mrs. Saffery is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Merrill.

A very delightful bridge and whist was held Friday evening March 21 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ensign, 6 So. Main street, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the Hockanum Congregational Church. Prizes were given for each table. A total of 18 tables were filled. After the game a buffet lunch was served.

Considerable activity still prevails at the Pratt and Whitney Air Craft Co. on the outside, grading the grounds and razing the few remaining buildings. The old Coleman homestead which the company has been using for a temporary office is down and nearly cleared away. The old barn on the Curtin place has been torn down. The company has just erected a huge gilded sign the full length of the office building reading "Pratt & Whitney Air Craft Co." in gold letters 4 feet high, also two flag poles at each end of the office building. They expect to electrify this beautiful sign later.

Middlebury College Songsters in WTIC Broadcast.

The Middlebury College Glee Club, one of the foremost collegiate choral ensembles of the eastern states, will be heard at 2 o'clock this afternoon on the wavelength of Station WTIC. The club consists of 40 young men, directed by Professor P. J. Owen of the Middlebury faculty. Bradford Newcomb, baritone, will be the featured soloist. James C. Thomason, violinist, will offer interpretations of a Saint-Saens composition and another by Schubert. The featured numbers, from a glee club point of view, will be "Lo, How a Rose e'er Blooming," a traditional German carol arranged by Praetorius, "Concordia Laetitia," a Latin 14th century hymn arranged by Deems Taylor, and two descriptive numbers by the American composer Edward MacDowell. The Middlebury songsters are not strangers to the radio audience. Each year they are heard from WTIC, WOR, and WEA of the National Broadcasting Company's New York studios.

THE TEXTILE STORE

The Textile store will show the largest line of curtain-draperies during the opening hours that has ever been stocked by the company. Essentially a yard goods store, the Textile company will carry in addition to their unusually large dress goods line, a full assortment of home decorations, featuring the new Seranton curtains for the spring remodeling.

A special feature for the Spring Opening will be the first display of the new Dextale Silk hostery for women. "The windows and ledges of the store windows will be tastefully trimmed for the occasion.

KEMP'S

All who enter the portals of Kemp's music house will have much to feel thankful for in that two Hartford soloists will be heard in many selections between 7 and 9 o'clock in the evening. Miss Mildred Gibson, will be heard in soprano solos and William Doyle, in baritone numbers.

In these surroundings of colonial furniture and lamps of all descriptions, the famous tonal tests will be given on the new Majestic color-tone radio. This test is interesting in bringing out the various instruments and voices. And of course, Kemp's being a radio store, there will be plenty of radio music.

When Thomas A. Edison said, "Everything comes to him who hustles while he waits," he probably had in mind the hitch-hiker.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Electricity in The Home
Everything electric is an ad you often see.
Let us check up on its uses.
Everyone will soon agree
Curl your hair and washes dishes.
Toasts your bread so brown and nice.
Rings the door bell, sends best wishes.
In summer time it makes your ice.
Cools the house and cleans the carpets.
In a trice it starts your car.
Turn a switch and as you listen
Yes, 'tis music from afar.
In the honeymooner's kitchen
Not a moment need they waste.
The percolator on the table
Has the coffee just to taste.
Eggs are cooked. Just press a button
Hens lay eggs by day or night.
Oh, what a useful little witch
Merry little Kilowatt!
Every job just needs a switch.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

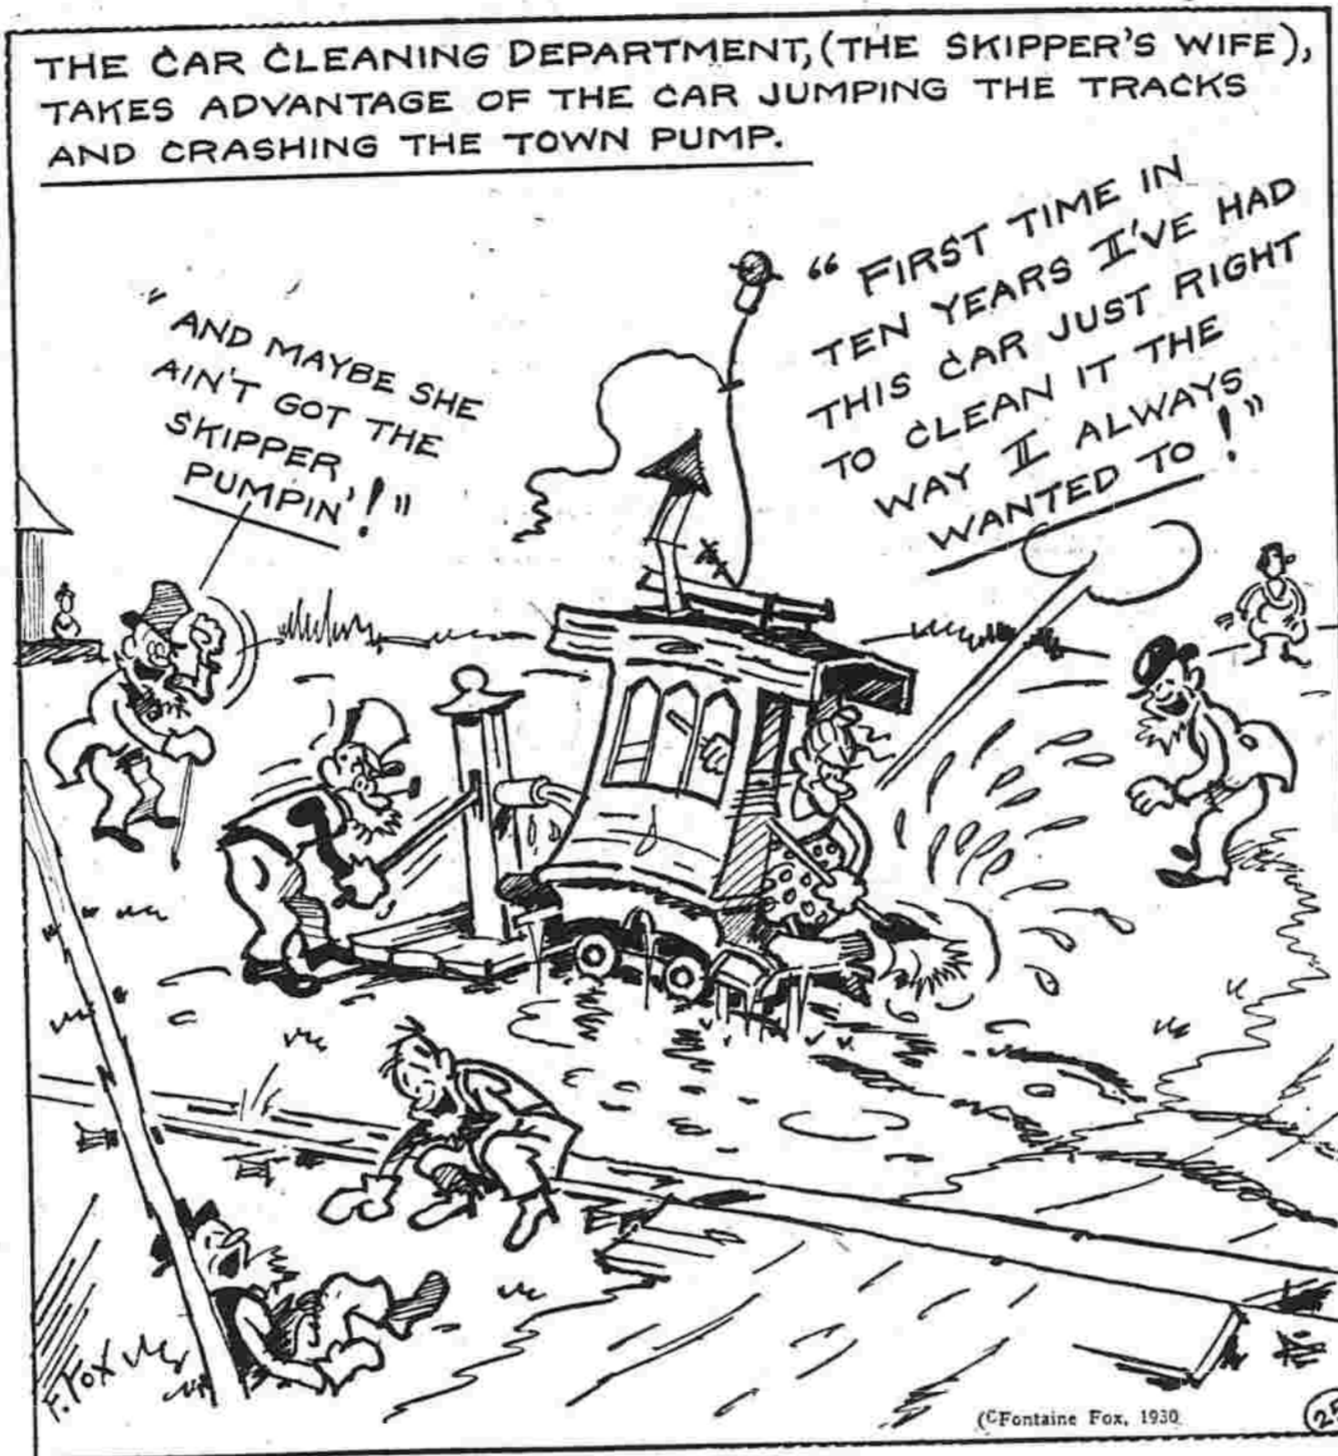

Many a warm heart beats beneath a cold shoulder.
purchased, actually lay. Surveyors finally announced that the farm was just on the American side of the border. The old lady smiled with relief. "I'm so glad to know that," she said. "I've heard that winters in Canada are terribly severe."
Cheer up and let the dentists do all the looking down in the mouth.
Jones—Well, old man, how are you getting along with your poultry raising? Making expenses?
Smith—Not yet; but my hens have taken to eating their own eggs, so I hope they will soon become self-supporting.
People who can't write their names so anyone can read them, will often complain if they are not spelled right in the newspapers.
1st Suburbanite—We are getting up a league of nations in our suburb. Have you heard about it?
2nd One—No, what is it. A straw vote?
1st One—No, it's an agreement between those who are planning to make a garden this spring and those who are going to raise chickens.

Something In A Name
It is said that a young lady by the name of Adaline Moore invented the postscript.
Easy street is reached by Hard Work Alley.
Hazel—Where are you going, Helen?
Helen—Down to the drug store to buy a package of dog biscuits. Where are you going?
Hazel—Over to the grocery to buy a box of Aspirin.
A subscriber writes to ask why some people have electricity in their hair? Of course we are not speaking from personal experience, but it may be because such people have something shocking on their mind.
First—Did you read about the man who swallowed his teaspoon?
Second—No, what happened to him?
First—He can't stir.
The modern wife doesn't know where her husband goes in the evenings, says a critic. She should try staying at home one evening; she might find him there.
It was necessary for taxation purposes to decide which side of the Canadian and United States border a farm, which an old lady had just

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY ANNUNCIATION DAY

On March 25, according to Biblical tradition, the angel Gabriel announced to the Virgin Mary the incarnation of Christ. The earliest authentic evidence of the celebration of the feast of the Annunciation is in a canon of the Council of Toledo, Spain, held 556.
For a long period this day marked the beginning of the legal year in England, where it became known as Lady Day. In 1240 the Synod of Worcester forbade all servile work on that day, and the various provincial and diocesan councils in England confirmed the edict.
Always highly observed in England, Lady Day has come to have a fiscal as well as religious significance, for it is observed there as the first quarter of the year for rents and other payments.
The paydays in England have been arbitrarily fixed on Lady Day, Midsummer Day, Michaelmas Day and Christmas because it is believed such important days are better as reminders of duty to landlords than the 30th or 31st of the month would likely be.

THE TINYMITES STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The Travel Man said, with a smile, "Now you lads wait here for a while. I have a little business I must tend to right away. The men will soon unload the ship of what came over on this trip. Now watch them, if you care to, or just stay right here and play."
The bunch played 'round an hour or so and then a loud voice said, "Hi, ho! I'm back again, and now we all will go somewhere to eat." It was the friendly Travel Man and to his side the Tunes ran. "I'm hungry," shouted Clowny. "Food will be a welcome treat."
A fine cafe was right nearby and when they went in, me, oh my, they ate until they simply couldn't eat another thing. Their friend said, "I am glad to say I like to see you eat that way. Now, is there something more that I can have the waiter bring?"
"Oh, no!" cried Scouty. "We must quit this eating while we're feeling fit. I hope I don't get drowsy. There is so much to be seen. I'd hate to miss a single sight. I will not close my eyes tonight. I know we will enjoy things if our wits are keen."
Then Clowny said, "Where do we go from here, is what I'd like to know." The Travel Man just smiled and snapped, "To London—right away! We'll ride the boat train. 'Twill be fun." And 'twas no sooner said than done. They rode to London, watching all the sights along the way.
In London town the Travel Man said, "Now we'll do whatever we can to please you little fellows. Ah! Here comes an omnibus! Come on, we'll hop aboard it quick." "That's fine!" exclaimed one Tiny. "You are very kind to us!"
(The Tynymites see more London sights in the next story.)

Cheap Insurance and Cheap Eggs

There were two boxes of eggs in a grocery store, one marked forty cents a dozen, and the other marked sixty.

"What's the difference between the forty and sixty cent eggs?" asked a customer. "Aren't eggs just eggs?"

"Yes," replied the grocery man, "until you come to use them."

The difference between a Travelers Automobile Policy and some cheaper contract may not be readily apparent at first; but the Travelers contract quickly reveals its greater value when you come to use it.
