The accident occurred seven miles south of Albuquerque. The bus was eastbound and the train westbound, reports said. Every available ambulance from surrounding towns was sent to the scene.

There were 27 persons on the bus. Eight were brought to a hospital here.
One passenger who was only slightly injured and refused to give his name to officers or go to a hospital, was put under arrest and brought to the sheriff's office here.

Los Angeles, April 11.—(AP)—Reports received from Albuquerque by Santa Fe officials here regarding the bus accident at Isleta, N. M., today said the motor car burst into flames and was demolished when struck by westbound Santa Fe Train No. 7. Nineteen persons were reported killed.
Train No. 7 is a fast mail train of ten cars.
Pickwick officials who received first word of the crash from Associated Press said they had no list of passengers. It was explained that the passengers after signing the tickets they purchased returned them so that no record was left at the offices here to show their identity.
The driver of the bus was identified by Pickwick officials here as F. E. Williams of Albuquerque. He was a relief driver taking the bus from Gallup, N. M., to Albuquerque on its eastbound trip, which started in Los Angeles Wednesday midnight.

LORENZ IS BROUGHT TO SUPERIOR COURT

Hears Judge Charge to Grand Jury Which is Expected to Indict Him.

Hartford, April 11.—(AP)—Developments in two murder cases—those in which Henry Oswald Lorenz, youthful adventurer, and Mack E. Sutton, 35, negro, are involved—and the charges against Watson Moulthrop and Leo Landry, prison breakers, are scheduled in Superior Criminal Court here this afternoon.
State's Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn announced this morning his intention of recommending a nolle on the charge of murder against Sutton, who has been held in connection with the brutal murder of Benjamin Greenschpan, late in February.
The first step in the prosecution of Lorenz, confessed slayer of Nils E. Anderson came when he was presented before Judge Newell Jennings to hear the charge of the Grand Jury which expected to indict him for murder in the first degree.
Convicts in Court
Mr. Alcorn obtained writs of habeas corpus this morning from Judge Carl Foster, directing the warden at Wethersfield prison to bring into court this afternoon, Moulthrop and Landry, two of the three convicts recently returned from Florida following their sensational escape from the state prison. They were to be put to plea on charges of escape from prison and theft of an automobile. Moulthrop is serving a sentence of from 18 to 25 years and Landry one of from three to four years, to which will be added the sentences they may receive when convicted of the charges now pending against them.
Roland Lalone, the third member of the trio which effected the break, is already serving a life sentence for murder.

Chicopee, Mass., April 11.—(AP)—Been they were refused liquor by Mrs. Mary Golinisky, three men took an unusual revenge, as was brought out in District Court today when two of them were fined $25 each on cruelty charges brought by Agents T. W. Pearson of the S. P. C. A. Going to Mrs. Golinisky's barn they took one of her cows and led the animal for miles through fields and over rough roads. Later examination showed that the animal was unable to stand or eat and bore welts as the result of blows. Mario Rigali and Edward Martell were fined and a summons has been issued for William Bader.

MAY NAME PAYNE HURLEY ASSISTANT

Prominent Bay State Manu- facturer May Get War De- partment Post.

Boston, April 11.—(AP)—Colonel Frederick H. Payne, prominent Greenfield manufacturer and assistant chief of the Bridgeport ordinance district, retired, today admitted in connection with reports from Washington that he might be the new assistant secretary of war, that he had just returned from the capital where he saw President Hoover and Secretary Hurley.
Col. Payne declined, however, to say whether he had been offered the post or whether, if offered, he would accept. "Any announcement ought to come from Washington," Col. Payne said.
The assistant secretary is in charge of mobilization of industries for war time purposes and a man of industrial experience is required. Col. Payne, who is chairman of the board of directors of the Greenfield Tap and Die Company, saw war time service as major in the ordnance department and before becoming assistant chief of the Bridgeport district, was chief procurement officer there. The territory of the Bridgeport district covers the state of Connecticut and western Massachusetts and is considered one of the most important in the country.
Later he saw service on the war claims board and was retired with the rank of lieutenant colonel. He has been prominent in this state as chairman of the Massachusetts Industrial Commission, chairman of the Massachusetts Division of the New England Council and of the council's industrial committee and president of the state Mosquito Control Association.

AUTOIST BEATS TRAIN IN RACE FROM SOUTH

State Senator Durant Covers
1,500 Miles in 30 Hours;
Wins a Wager.

New Haven, April 11.—(AP)—Senator Harold R. Durant of the 12th District is a great believer in speed. If he had not been so tied up with educational bills last session he would have flown for week-end visits to Palm Beach during the winter months. But he did not have a chance as his Senatorial duties came too fast and too many.
But being free now, he is making quick trips north when he needs to reach New York. He wagered with Captain John Cunningham, general manager of an estate in Palm Beach a few days ago that an automobile would beat a passenger train to New York.
Senator Durant covered the 1,500 miles in 30 hours which embraced one flat tire, three inspections by Federal officers and four stops for "ceils." Captain Cunningham left by train. The latter, by arrangement, called up the Lambs Club in New York and Durant answered him for four hours.

JOHNSON BUSY, CANNOT ACCEPT SENATE'S OFFER

Asks Vice President to Get Someone Else to Conduct Probe of Expenditures in Senatorial Campaigns.

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—Senator Johnson, Republican, California, today asked Vice President Curtis to relieve him of the chairmanship of the newly appointed committee to investigate expenditures of Senatorial candidates in this year's elections. In a letter to the vice president, the California Senator said: "My time is so wholly occupied with my duties, and particularly those which have come to me as chairman of the commerce committee of the Senate, that it is utterly impossible for me to undertake additional tasks."

The decision of Senator Johnson left the chairmanship of the new committee vacant and the vice president immediately set himself to the task of filling it.
This means some delay in putting under way the inquiry which Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, has urged and which the Senate yesterday ordered.
Suggestions already have been made that the investigation be directed to the Illinois primary of Hanna McCormick defeated Senator Deneen for the Republican Senatorial nomination and to the forthcoming primaries in Pennsylvania and Nebraska.

In his letter Senator Johnson said he regarded the post "as exceeding-ly important, the chairmanship of which must be a full time job. My situation is such that I could not perform the duties of the post as I believe they should be performed, and as I know you would wish them done."
"With the rivers and harbors bill about to be considered by the commerce committee, with the innumerable measures that are pending there, and with the work which I otherwise am to do at present as a Senator," he added, "the limitations of time make it an utter impossibility for me to do what is required as chairman or member of the investigation committee."
"I would accept the position, I beg you, therefore, to appoint another in my place."

MIDWEST SWELTERS UNDER HEAT WAVE

Ninety in the Shade Usual in Many Cities; First Drowning of Season.

Chicago, April 11.—Baking breezes, bred in Texas, blew like a furnace upon the middlewest yesterday and today.
People who wear flannels were caught entirely unprepared. Earlier this week the temperatures had been around freezing and as recently as 16 days ago, Chicago had one of its worst snowstorms.
Thermometer readings in the nineties were numerous. Cedar Rapids has 94; St. Louis 93 and Peoria, Illinois 92—all record temperatures for April 10.—Chicago officially was two tenths of a degree better than 90 degrees yesterday afternoon and was headed by that way early today. Prospects of showers and showers and clouds, however, augured more moderate temperatures for the day here and throughout the middlewest.
Simultaneously with the heat wave occurred the first drowning of the season in the Chicago territory. Bruno Gizona, swimming in Lake Calumet, went down from the shock of the cold water and cramps.
The Chicago beaches, especially the Oak street beach of Lake Michigan, along the Gold Coast had its quota of people in bathing suits, but nothing nearer bathing than a few timid touches of tender toes to icy water was attempted.

Youths, 15 to 20, Held for Murder

"Jersey justice" will seek to place on the three boys pictured above the guilt for the "$4.50 murder" of former Councilman John Hayden of Elizabeth, N. J., who was robbed of that sum and beaten to death in an automobile. Probably the youngest person ever indicted for murder in New Jersey is 15-year-old George Daniecki, who is shown at the top with Anna Osowick, 17. She was found with the youths after they had been trailed to Manassas, Va. William Gallagher, 20, lower right, and William Gary, 16, lower left, also have been indicted.

TO HOLD UP LEVIATHAN FOR U. S. NAVAL ENVOYS

Big Liner to Wait for 24
Hours If Necessary; This Never Has Been Done in History of Steamship Companies.

London, April 11.—(AP)—The United States Lines today offered to adopt the almost unprecedented measure of holding the great liner Leviathan 24 hours beyond her scheduled sailing date, April 22 for the American delegation to the London naval conference.
Secretary Stimson greatly desires not only to sign the naval treaty here in London but also to catch this boat home.
In order to make more certain that he might catch the boat, Secretary Stimson inquired whether the United States Lines would be willing to defer sailing 48 hours if necessary and this was being considered.

This race of the American delegation against time has seized the imagination of conference circles and has rather taken the center of the state.

Present Plans
The present plan of the conference is to try to get the treaty into force by signing at a plenary session next Thursday. The experts, however are doubtful if this is possible and if the pact is not ready for signing Thursday this probably will have to take place after Easter. In the delegation could catch the big liner on the 22nd.
As soon as the United States Lines learned of Secretary Stimson's problem, they offered to delay the sailing.
Meanwhile the entire American delegation is working like beavers under the slogan: "Leviathan or bust."
Until today the secretary had been about the only one of the delegation who believed it humanly possible to catch the Leviathan, but he stuck to his guns. Now he has the whole delegation excited at the prospect and they are beginning to think that after all he was right.

POPPIE SELLERS HERE NOT LEGION MEN
Two Hartford men wearing caps similar in design to the official American Legion chapeau and carrying the insignia "Disabled Veterans" solicited pedestrians on Main street last night for contributions towards Legion funds and no Manchester veteran will benefit from the solicitation. Within a short time the local Legion post will start its annual poppy sale for the benefit of local war veterans who need financial aid.

A program of motion pictures will be given tomorrow evening at the Highland Park Community club-house, to which everybody in and out of the district will be welcome without admission fee. The list includes a Charlie Chaplin picture, Our Gang and other comedies, and an animated cartoon.

LOST RECORDS DELAY TRIAL IN HUB PROBE

Analyses of Confiscated Liq- uor Disappear; Legisla- ture to Give Atty.-General Added Powers to Proceed

Boston, April 11.—(AP)—The disappearance of certain records important to the prosecution of the Garret investigation today evoked from Representative Roland D. Sawyer a promise to attorney-general Joseph E. Warner that, "if any added power be needed by you to sift this matter most thoroughly, your friends in the Legislature are ready to give you that."
Sawyer's assurance was in the form of a letter to the attorney-general who had admitted that his staff of investigators have been occasioned considerable difficulty by the disappearance of records of the analyses of liquor confiscated by the headquarters squad of Oliver B. Garrett, the patrolman whose pensioning Warner is probing.
Hearing Adjourned.
Public hearings in the investigation, which were to have continued today, were adjourned until Monday because of the inability of several witnesses, whose testimony is expected to be important, to be on hand.
The records to which Sawyer referred have already been the subject of vigorous search by Hermann C. Lythgoe, director of the food and drugs department of the State Department of Health. It was in Lythgoe's department that the analyses were made and from which the records allegedly disappeared after the legislature had ordered the Garrett probe.
Sawyer's Statement.
In commenting on his letter to Warner, Sawyer said:
"I feel it is up to the legislature to see to it that no official in the state service, though he may be beyond the jurisdiction of the attorney-general, shall fail to give Mr. Warner every aid in his power. And if I understand the temper of the legislature is aright, any attempt to shield any guilty member of the police liquor squad by withholding or destroying evidence will be nipped in the bud. If my information is correct, records of great importance are missing. Where are they? We did not allow records to be lost in the Reading case. We will not stand for it now."
The Reading case to which Sawyer referred was the investigation which preceded the impeachment by the House of Representatives of Arthur K. Reading, Warner's predecessor, as attorney-general. Several important records were missing under mysterious circumstances and were not discovered until after Sawyer had filed an order in the House for a special inquiry into their disappearance.

WOMEN PICK SHOES FOR MALE BURGLARS
Berlin, April 11.—(AP)—The most fashionable shoe store in Berlin's west-end was broken into by male burglars accompanied by women friends during the night and the women were supplied with the latest styles for Easterwear.
Police said the burglars used meticulous care in fitting the women and discarded shoes not to their liking. Most of the models chosen were recent French creations. The smartest hosiery also was taken.

Ten Cops Injured.

Bombay, India, April 11.—(AP)—Twenty-two persons were injured in rioting outside the court house here today when a number of Satyagrahis, who yesterday offered passive resistance during a police raid on National Congress headquarters were sentenced to various terms of imprisonment.
A large crowd attempted to rescue some of the prisoners, as they were removed, for the purpose of hanging garlands on them. The police fought them off and the Indians foresook their passive resistance to reply with a shower of sandals and stones.
Ten police, of whom three were Europeans, were injured in the rain of missiles. The police then charged the crowd with their lathis or bludgeons, scattering them. There were 12 casualties among the Indians.
Intense Excitement
The crowd continued to throng the neighborhood, which is a predominantly Hindu locality, and intense excitement prevailed.
Among those sentenced were Abid Ali, who was sentenced to nine months imprisonment, and Mehr Ali, who was charged with abetting in the salt laws and was sentenced to four months simple imprisonment.

"A most pernicious lobby, certainly calling for investigation and exposure," is how Representative George Holden Tinkham, above, of Massachusetts, described the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals at a hearing before the Senate lobby committee in Washington. He accused religious organizations of "setting aside the principle of separation of Church and State."

CAPTURED BANDIT IMPLICATES PALS

Tells Detroit Police Who Assisted Him in Three Breaks in Connecticut.

Waterbury, April 11.—(AP)—With one alleged bank robber under arrest in Detroit, police here today held high hopes that the two remaining members of the gang which robbed the Watertown Trust Company of $22,000 on March 28 would soon be in custody.
John "Whitey" Smeden, 22, confessed yesterday, according to Detroit police to participating in the robbery. In his pockets was $333; $1,000 more was found in a hotel room and the youth gave police a key to a Pittston, Pa., bank safe deposit box where he said $5,000 was concealed.
How He Was Caught
Police here said they had learned that Smeden, who formerly lived in Pittston but moved here to live with his sister, implicated Edward F. Puckus, an ex-convict, and Charles Zenkauskas, both of this city, as his companions.
The trio, Waterbury police said, also held up and robbed the cashier of the Waterbury Athletic Club, obtaining $1800 on the night of a boxing match at the club and stole a safe from a barber shop.
Smeden's arrest in Detroit came about through a letter he wrote to his sister Mrs. Nellie A. Kofsky. Police here communicated with officials in the Michigan city and the youth was picked up yesterday.
It is believed that the whereabouts of Puckus and Zenkauskas are known and that they will be arrested soon.

HADLEY'S FUNERAL IS HELD AT YALE

President Emeritus of University is Buried in Family Plot in New Haven.

New Haven, April 11.—(AP)—The funeral of Arthur Tving Hadley, late president emeritus of Yale University, who died in Japan, March 5, was held this afternoon from Battell Chapel at Yale. Later the body was placed in the family plot in Grove street cemetery which is overlooked by the bicentennial group. In this cemetery, lie the bodies of Yale presidents.
The University ceased its activities during the afternoon and faculties joined with the students in all departments and the alumni in paying their last tributes to him who was once the "prexy." The place of the service was being sitting one as from the pulpit at which Rev. Dr. Anson Phelps Stokes, canon of Washington cathedral, long secretary of the university, read the service. Dr. Hadley had met a generation of classes at daily chapel service.
The service was a simple one. Scripture lessons and selections were read by Dr. Stokes and the choir sang the anthem "Eccle Jam Nestles" which was a favorite one of the deceased.

SHOOTING AT RADIO STUDIO IS REPORTED BY ANNOUNCER

Chicago, April 11.—(AP)—The Associated Press and radio listeners of station KNTN, Muscatine, Ia., were thrilled this morning when they received word simultaneously today of a shooting at the station's studio.
When Norman Baker, owner-operator of the station, had made a long distance connection with the Chicago offices of the Associated Press early today, he said over the phone and into the microphone:
"This is station KNTN, Norman Baker speaking to its listeners and to the Associated Press. An attempt has just been made to shoot the studio. Shots were fired at persons here, and the shots were returned. One of three men who apparently were getting ready to fire upon us through a window was wounded. He fell to the ground when Dr. Harry Hoxsey fired, and his companions lifted him into an automobile in which they drove away."
Muscatine police received confirmation of the studio shooting from witnesses outside the building. Baker in his announcement through the microphone and over the phone to the Associated Press said the notice was intended, too, for Iowa and Illinois police and for hospitals to which the wounded gunman—if one was wounded—might be taken.

"WOMANLESS WEDDING"
PLEASES LARGE CROWD

Knot to Be Tied Again Tonight
Just So That All Can See the Amusing Ceremonies.

The season for spring brides was officially opened last night when Walter E. Joyner became the bride of Charles E. House in the Men's League presentation, "The Womanless Wedding" at the High School Auditorium in the presence of admiring friends, relatives, and what have you.

Shortly after 8 o'clock butler Roy Buckler announced the coming nuptials and the long line of guests put in an appearance, the punch girls, the present girls, and the bride's parents and the devilish bad boy brothers, kept the interest of the large audience while other noted guests approached. Key Rosenstein, itinerant Jew peddler got into trouble when he attempted to do a one-eyed Connolly at the society nuptials and was ejected by the butler. While the bride's old maid aunt and grandparents were being received they got in again under the hedge and did plenty of business.

John Hood as the bride's grandfather sang, "Silver Threads Among the Gold" while Charlie Chaplin and Amelia Galli Curci were being received. The bride's hick uncle and deaf aunt from the country wandered in and finally located the scene of the wedding and created no end of amusement with their gift to the bride—a Rhode Island Red pullet. While Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Morgan, and the bride's twin sisters were being received, Harvey Lidstedt as Paul Robeson sang, "Old Man River," and Sam Houston as Al Johnson showed up soon after to contribute, "Sonny Boy."

Included among the later guests were Mr. and Mrs. Astor, Mr. and Mrs. Monty Ward, Sis Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt and Rose and Pat O'Grady. The assembled guests sang with rose and "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" while Phil Linnell as the country cousin was getting acquainted with all the girls. Elmore Watkins, Scotch for Harry Lauder, sang "Roamin' in the Gloamin'" and expired to the horror of the guests at the last note of "Annie Laurie" but a dropped nickel revived him. While Gloria Swanson and the henpecked husband and devoted wife were being received Glen Richards as the Flipper of 1930 did a realistic bit of the Charleston.

The bride's baby sister in charge of the negro mammy N. B. Richards and Sambo, Arthur Anderson nearly broke up the wedding but a trip to mother's (Al Dexter's) arms and a gallon size bottle of milk and Arthur Anderson's "Mammy" pacified her.

When Amos and Andy, "Lindy" and "Black Jack" Pershing and Rudy Vallee had contributed their presents and went the rounds of punch and guests, Clarence Quimby as the Village School, Ma'am sang, "My Johnnie lies over the ocean" after a few laughable false starts. Amos and Andy injected the radio bit while the audience groaned.

To the strains of the wedding march, the portly bride approached on the arm of the beaming groom and in the presence of guests and audience the knot was tied by Bishop Sam Gordon. To make it doubly effective the knot will be tightened with another ceremony.

MRS. AMANDA LINDE
FALLS, BREAKS ARM

Mrs. Amanda Linde, aged 64, of 8 Chestnut street, is confined to her home with a broken right arm suffered in a fall in the kitchen of her home a few days ago. Mrs. Linde was cleaning a window and lost her balance from a chair when overcome by a faint spell. It was only a few days ago that her son, Carl, had a narrow escape from serious injury when a five-ton truck slipped off from a jack and wedged him against a building. His right arm and chest were bruised considerably but the fact that the truck struck a heavy post probably saved him from a much more serious outcome.

POLICE COURT

Joseph Arson of 146 South Main street was given a jail sentence of 30 days for intoxication and 60 days for assault on his wife by Judge Raymond A. Johnson in the Manchester police court this morning. Arson was arrested yesterday by Patrolman John J. McGinn on complaint of Mary Arson, his daughter. In court this morning both mother and daughter testified that Arson was drunk yesterday and very abusive. He attacked his wife, striking her on the head and face. He used a knife but fortunately only slightly cut her finger.

Arson has been before the local court off and on for the past 20 years.

TSK! TSK! BUDDING
MUSICIAN SQUELCHED

Manchester Just a Stopping Off Place for Woman With Only One Tune to Play.

A woman known here only by the name of Rogers, purchased a musical instrument yesterday in Boston and then took one of the afternoon expresses out of Boston that pass through Manchester. She must have decided that it was a good time to put in some practice as she started to play the instrument as soon as she got to Manchester. She knew how to play just one tune and continued at that all the way down.

The other passengers became disturbed and complained to the conductor. He spoke to the woman who persisted in playing, even after the warning. More complaints came to the conductor but the woman continued to play the same tune. She was notified at Vernon that the noise or music would not be tolerated any more and when the mandated stop was reached she was escorted from the train. She had to cover the remainder of her trip by trolley.

Just what kind of an instrument she was playing seems unknown, but Baggage-master Patrick Moriarty says it was not a harp.

SETBACK TOURNEY

The first of the Thursday night sittings of the Manchester Industrial setback tournaments was played last night. There are four more games to play to complete the tournament. The standing today is as follows: Hartmans, 1998; Gordon, 1694; Edgewood, 1657; xFoley's Express, 1584; Midway, 1584; xHilliardville, 1511; xBusiness Men, 1488; xBurr, 1488; xC. Johnson, 1417; xOak Grove, 1415; xLynn, 1417; xBon Ami, 1400; xMerz, 1398; xManchester Green, 1346; xWapping, 1315.

At the meeting last night Miss Mason was presented with $20 by the players for the assistance that she has given them throughout the tournament, the presentation speech being made by Maurice Sullivan, president of the league. Teams prefixed by (x) in the scores above have played one more game than the others. The high two men scores last night were made by Elliott and McConnell and the low mark by Hills and Stoddard. The former had a score of 98 and the low score was 54.

COLLEGE HEAD, DEAD

Kingston, R. I., April 11.—(AP)—Dr. Howard Edwards, president of Rhode Island State College since 1906, died here yesterday in his 76th year. He had been ill several weeks.

In his 24 years of leadership the institution rose to full collegiate standing from a small school. An undergraduate body of 49 students increased in numbers to 610 and the faculty was more than doubled in size. Seven buildings were added.

A native of Fauquier county, Va., Dr. Edwards was graduated from Randolph Macon College in that state in 1876 and in later years studied in France and Germany. He specialized in languages.

After several years of preparatory school teaching in the south, he was appointed to the faculty of the University of Arkansas in 1888. He went to Michigan Agricultural College in 1890, remaining there 16 years. 1906 he became president of Rhode Island State College.

Dr. Edwards bore honorary degrees from several institutions. In 1923 he was president of the National Association of Land Grant colleges.

His widow and a son survive.

OLD LANDMARK RAZED.
New Haven, April 11.—(AP)—Unseen as a landmark and forgotten that it ever existed as the parish house of Trinity church on the Green, the very old structure in Temple street at the head of Center, latterly used by the Journal-Courier as a newspaper plant and before that by the New Haven Union, has been razed.
Forty-two years ago this house stood in almost dignified isolation, with a green lawn in front. In it were held and had been held for generations the social gatherings of the parish. It was also the Sunday school. In recent years it fell into decay and was hidden by buildings which were put up around it.

LIBRARY EXHIBITS
WASHINGTON PHOTOS

With the seventh annual Washington trip of Manchester High School seniors and friends little more than two weeks away, those who are planning to make the ten-day journey will welcome the opportunity provided by Miss Jessamine Smith, librarian of the South Manchester Free Library, to learn somewhat about the Capitol City and other places included in the itinerary this year.
Photographs of the spots of interest, including the government buildings, the parks, and monuments will be found on the bulletin boards in the library, and also a sizable scale map of the city. Those who take time to view these pictures will be in a position to discourse intelligently on what they see in Washington. Travel books on Washington have also been centralized and the student who wishes to become thoroughly familiar with the city and vicinity will turn to these gold mines of information.
The Washington trip will begin on Sunday, April 27, leaving Manchester at 6:30 o'clock in the evening. The return trip will be made on Saturday, May 3.

UNEMPLOYMENT BILL

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—The Wagner bill to set up a plan for unemployment relief was ordered favorably reported to the Senate today by its commerce committee.
The measure, sponsored by Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York would set up a United States employment service in the Labor Department to maintain "national system of employment offices."
The bill will be taken up by the Senate under a special order next Tuesday along with the other employment measures of Senator Wagner, including those to establish a long range employment program and to provide for the collection of more accurate labor statistics.

Way To Get At A Cold Is Through The Bowels

As soon as you catch cold, the pores close; perspiration is checked. Gases and waste can't escape through the skin. That's why your doctor's first advice in case of colds is a mild laxative like Cascarets. Medical authorities agree it actually strengthens bowel muscles. You form in candy Cascarets.
Remember this when you catch cold: whenever breath is bad; tongue coated; or you're headachy, bilious, constipated.
Why resort to harsher things when Cascarets activate the bowels so quickly, so harmlessly and pleasantly—and cost only a dime?—Adv.

doubt that it is the kind of attention the Shell people courted. Somebody must have told the European Shell people that Americans had no artistic sense; that they were interested solely in affairs of the pocketbook; that no attention at all need be paid in advertising to the esthetic sensibilities; that the more glaring and conspicuous the ad the better it would pay.

As a matter of fact Americans, and particularly New Englanders, have a very nice sense of the proprieties in color and form—if Sir Henri doubts it let him do some motoring around these six states, allow the harmonies of our New England towns and cities to sink into his soul—and then experience the shock that the average American experiences when one of those outrageously painted Shell gas stations jolts his eyes.

Detering is a very big business man. He must be keenly alive to the psychology of business. It ought to be easy enough to convince him that it is difficult to make customers out of people by first slapping their faces.

THE LONDON PARLEY

So long as the American people follow the lead of their Big Bill Thompsons, their Norrises and their Tammanyites, and find a childish glory in aloofness from "foreign entanglements" and in refusal to take any part but that of dictatorship in the affairs of the world, it is improbable that we shall get any better results from disarmament conferences than we are getting at London.

Under the circumstances, it would be worse than unfair to assume that the London conference has been a failure. A step or two has been taken, and in the right direction. At all events an impending crazy competitive building race has been blocked. The negative achievements of the parley are of the highest importance, even if there is a paucity of positive result.

And even in the latter relationship there is one factor which, it seems to us, is sufficient to justify the conference. That is the agreement to limit the scope of submarine activity within bounds of some sort of human responsibility.

The conference, moreover, has uncovered one fact that may prove of much usefulness in the future—namely that disarmament agreements are a matter of statesmanship. In this instance the statesmanship failed to produce the desired result, but the responsibility for the failure can be quite precisely located and the disease of armed competition diagnosed as to its cause.

One annoying symptom, the pest of the military technician who has complicated all previous conferences, has been fairly well disposed of. The powers, before they enter upon another parley, will approach the job as a problem in international politics—and perhaps be better prepared to deal with it because they will know where they are at and what sort of task confronts them.

THE CORSAIR

While thousands of stockholders of the New Haven railroad for many years detected a grim significance in the name "Corsair" attached to a yacht owned by the elder J. P. Morgan, their reaction to the same name, given to a wonderful new yacht owned by the present Morgan, is likely to be less bitter. At all events, even if the magnificent new private ship does bear the old ruthless and piratical name, she was not, like some other American multimillionaires' yachts, built abroad. The two and a half million dollars that she cost were spent in a New England shipyard and in American machine shops.

Three hundred and forty-three feet over all, with a displacement of 2,712 tons, forty-two and a half feet beam and eighteen feet draught, the new Corsair rates as the largest and finest yacht in the world. She can hit up a speed of close to twenty miles an hour and is designed to stand any sea that any other ship can ride.

RAIN AND SUNSHINE

New London hears that it is to get a wallop—perhaps with compensations. There is to be a reorganization of the Coast Guard, it appears, which will involve the exodus from the city of one of the two C. G. divisions now located there. It is said this will remove from New London some 600 officers and men. Not so good for business; but on the other hand the number of automobile thefts is likely to show an appreciable shrinkage.

DOGS AND CENSUS

The law provides penalties for those persons who obstruct the census enumerators, but it fails to indicate what shall be done about dogs which in one way or another interfere with the taking of the great American tally.

A newly appointed woman enumerator consumed the time of a district supervisor in New York city for more than an hour while he instructed her in the duties of the office.

No sooner had she reached home than she telephoned the supervisor to the effect that her dog was sick and so she couldn't possibly go out to work; the census in her territory had already been delayed several days and yet the supervisor had to break in a new enumerator.

Another New York name taker who had finished his work in a midtown house was held prisoner there for hours by a police dog—another crimp being put in the orderly progress of the enumeration.

Evidently something will have to be done about the dogs in the next census bill.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer
 Washington, April 18.—For ever so many years everyone has been gripping over the annual deficit of the Postoffice Department, which has grown from $50 in 1789 to $85,000,000 last year.

Now Postmaster General Walter F. Brown boldly presents the suggestion that the deficit be wiped out annually by a rate of 2 1/2 cents on first class mail instead of the prevailing rate of 2 cents. He proposes that the users of first class mail be made to meet the deficit instead of the taxpayers in general.

This idea of Brown's, which is bound to create a great deal of discussion when it is recommended to Congress—as it probably will, has been carefully thought out in a period during which the postmaster general has reorganized the office Department both as regards departmental work and personnel. Along with his program for increased efficiency and economy he has carried on a thorough study of rate revision.

If we start putting 2 1/2 cent stamps on our ordinary letters, increasing the revenue on first class mail by between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000, we will culminate in intermittent study of the deficit problem during the next many years. In the last two or three decades this study has been especially devoted to ascertaining the cost of handling each class of mail—first, second, third and fourth—and the various special services maintained by the department. Since 1925 this work has been handled by a special Cost Ascertainment Bureau in the department whose job was to get the facts to be used as a basis for rate revision.

Brown explains that the original idea of the fathers of the country was to make the postal service self-sustaining and that the users of the mails should pay all the bills. Thus the postal service was entirely self-supporting for the first 60 years except for occasional quite negligible deficits. But with the discovery of gold in California, encouraging establishment of transportation routes to develop the new frontiers, began to pay huge subsidies for railway and ocean mail contracts which were not a proper charge against postal funds. In only eight years since 1852 has there been a surplus, including the war years of emergency rates.

"The Postoffice Department is a public utility," Brown says. "The strictly postal deficit last year, after subtracting $35,000,000 expended for non-postal services, was approximately $50,000,000 and was made good by taxpayers generally without regard to what extent they used postal facilities or whether they used them at all. Like any other public utility the Postoffice should conduct its operations without financial loss. If our budget is to be balanced and this great annual charge on the general treasury checked there must be a revision of the rates charged postal patrons.

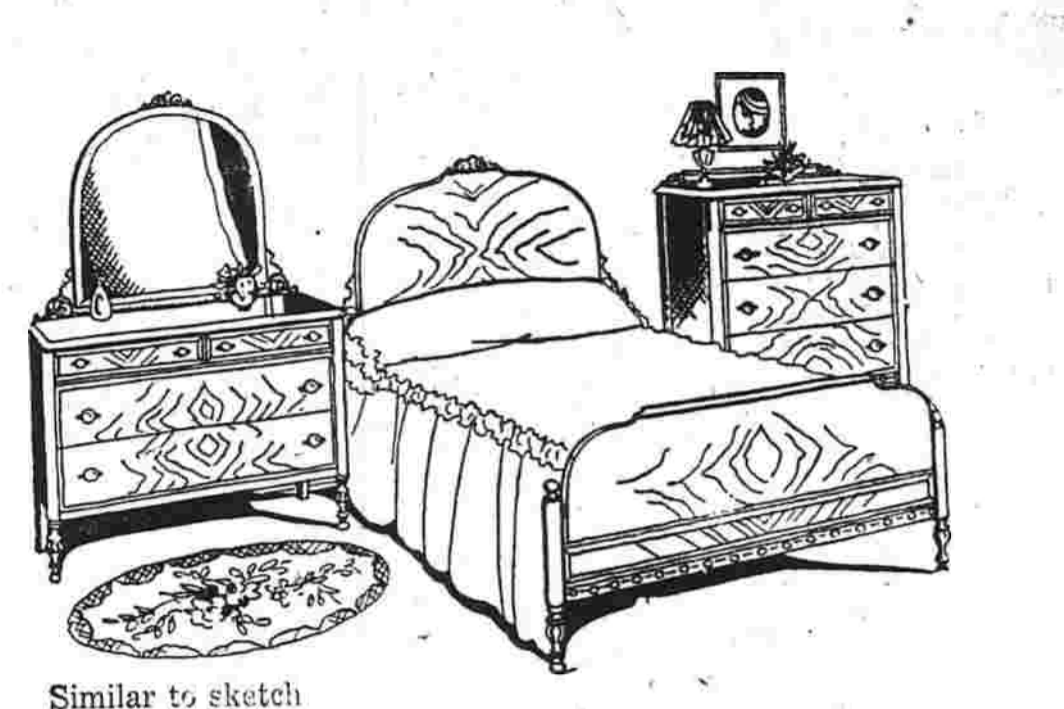

"There are wide and sometimes violent differences of opinion as to what rates should be increased. We carry letter mail, newspapers, circular matter and parcel post all at different rates and charge specified fees for money order service, C. O. D. service and registry service. But in all services except the carrying of sealed letter mail we have the keenest competition—from railroads, express and trucking companies, steamships and other carriers in carrying magazines, printed material and merchandise, from banks and express companies in transporting and transferring funds, from savings banks in our postal savings activities. Increased rates would cut the volume of our business and leave us with the same overhead, undoubtedly increasing the deficit.

"Everyone agrees that each class of public utility service should pay its own way. First class mail is invariably given preferential treatment. It has special privileges and all other mail matter must give way to it. Our postal facilities were created primarily to collect, move and deliver it.

"Other Rates Increased
 "Since 1916 the second-class rate has been increased 82 per cent, the third class rate 21 per cent and the parcel post rate 10 per cent. For 45 years we have maintained unchanged the selling price of our basic commodity—first class mail. Consider the dollar's purchasing power in 1885, the two-cent rate then is equivalent to 3 1/2 cents at this time—and 7 cents if we count the postal dollar gives us three to five times more than any other dollar we spend.
 "There seems to be no doubt that an increase on first class mail is justified on both theoretical and practical grounds. We believe a 2 1/2 cent rate for the present would balance our budget. It also should be borne in mind that proposed legislation for the benefit of postal workers now pending in Congress will, if

Norwich, April 11.—(AP)—The case of William S. Huber, office clerk charged with arson, was continued in Police Court today until April 17. He was released under $3,000 bail.

RAPS HOLDING CO.'S

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—The issuance of non-voting stock by holding companies, making possible the control of large properties with a relatively small amount of invested capital was criticized today by Joseph B. Eastman, of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Testifying for the third day at the House Interstate Commerce committee's railroad ownership investigation, the commissioner said there was no law to prevent such issuance of stock. He urged a careful study of the situation.

Eastman quoted a report by the Federal Trade Commission of one holding company which controlled and electric power organization worth about $1,000,000.

This was made possible, the witness explained, by the issuance of bonds and other securities without voting power.

BROWNS FEATURE MEN'S FOOTWEAR IN SPRING STYLES

Custom Last Holds Favor, Fashions Committee Reports; Jazz Models Now Disappearing.

When the national shoe style committee made its report early in January those men largely responsible for "what's what" in men's footwear during the forthcoming season announced that the custom last and browns will be the feature for spring.

At the national convention the manufacturers came forth with a greater display of browns than heretofore. Each exhibit showed at least sixty per cent or more shoes of this popular color.

Finer Appeal In Browns
But the browns to be presented this spring no doubt will possess greater appeal than ever. In other years, colored footwear ranged from light orange or even lemon to the deep reddish brown used with corovan leather.

Today the shades of browns are much more pleasing and do not range so extensively. Furthermore, the present browns are easily cleaned and retain their lustre for a greater length of time.

The custom last, first brought to this country from England, has been universally adopted. The American makers have taken kindly to this last and so has the public. Through its use the average man gets the style he desires, at the same time also is given the coveted comfort, particularly from new shoes.

Jazz Models Are Gone
There are other styles, to be sure. Some of these are modifications of the custom last, but the jazz models of years past has been cast aside. Some toes are a bit more blunt than the present custom last, but for the man who considers foot comfort the first consideration.

Black shoes, of course, will get its proper reception, being worn alternately with the brown footwear. The latter is expected for day wear and the former for night service.

Wing tips will be shown very largely in both blacks and browns. Some models will introduce novelty stitching.

Combination of Leathers
Summer footwear is given its greatest breadth of designing treatment. The various color combinations, which have been increasing from season to season, are presented in greater numbers than ever. Suede and calfskin combinations are shown in a variety of color tones. The suedes are shown in various shades of grays and tan, with the other leather trimmings to match.

For formal wear the lightweight oxford or pump will continue in vogue. These are shown with plain toes in either medium or narrow lasts.

Arthur Monaghan, Jr., is confined to his home with the measles. Mr. Monaghan has just recovered from an attack of pleurisy.

The Christian Endeavor Society met Sunday evening in the church. The topic of the meeting was "What is Involved in Deciding for Christ."

The Senior leader was Mr. Alfred Rivenburg and the Junior leader, Miss Ruth Blinn. Mr. Frederick Wood furnished accompaniment for the hymns on the violin. Mr. Wood also offered a violin solo. This was appreciated by all.

The Christian Endeavor Society is planning to make a membership drive to begin on or about April 15. All members are requested to be present, if possible, at the next meeting to be held at 7:00 p. m. Sunday, April 13 in the church. Plans are now being made by the Golden Rule Club for a play to be given in the hall, Friday night, April 25. Further notice will be given at a later date.

MILADY'S SHOES MEET THE NEW SILHOUETTE

BY GRETCHEN THOMSON

A glimpse is much more interesting than a display—and so longer hemlines require closer attention to footwear and hosiery than the short skirt. At least gossamer sheer stockings are the vogue, and many are adorned with Paris clocks, simple or ornate as the character of the gown demands.

One of the newest things we have noticed is that women are having their hosiery dyed to match the dominating color of the ensemble. For evening wear only the lightest pastels, if used in the dress and shoe, have hosiery to match. For daytime—often the trimming on the dress is repeated in the hosiery, footwear and accessories. Where prints are concerned the hosiery is dyed to match the predominating shade which is also repeated in shoes. The deep suntan shades in hosiery accompany the beige and dark brown footwear.

There is a tendency toward higher heels for daytime and evening, all influenced by the new skirt lengths. For daytime, the 2-1/2 inch heel—for evening, 2 3/4 inches. The two types most in demand are the cut-out and opera pump—practically every one introducing some kind of trimming in off-shade.

Watch for tones of green. Shoes of this color go well with shades of beige and green of the same shade. Brown is favored for tweed street or sports costume—also shes in which brown and beige are combined.

CHILDREN'S EASTER SHOES

If there ever was a day—Easter is that day when the young hopefuls want their Footwear to be in harmony with the new Clothes. And to meet that situation here's as fine a stock as we've ever shown. Here you get style, staunch leathers, better workmanship—all at value-giving prices.

Murder Backstairs

by ANNE AUSTIN
AUTHOR OF "THE AVENGING PARROT," "THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.
©1930 by NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Doris Matthews, lady's maid, is murdered in a summerhouse on the Berkeley estate, by blow from heavy perfume flask, given Mrs. George Berkeley by Seymour Crosby, engaged to Clorinda Berkeley, whose scarf binds the rock-weighted body when it is taken from the lake by Detective Dundee.

Seriously involved are: Mrs. Berkeley, Clorinda, Dick Berkeley, Eugene Arnold, chauffeur. Doris's fiancé, Gigi Berkeley, 15, who unaccountably sprinkled everyone Friday evening with perfume from murder flask, later placed in Mrs. Berkeley's room by Wickett, butler, formerly employed by Mrs. Lambert, now Mrs. Berkeley's secretary.

An unfinished letter of Doris to her sister in London links the maid's murder with the sudden death of Phyllis Crosby 14 months before in London. Dundee cables Scotland Yard, then grills Crosby, who denies charges of having bribed or killed the maid, and of having caused his wife's death, officially pronounced suicide. But with the discovery that Harvey Johnson, valet, has disappeared after robbing Mrs. Berkeley and Crosby, Strawn considers the murder solved, sets net for Johnson, and leaves Dundee in charge.

Mrs. Lambert begs Dundee not to accept any solution which reflects on Doris's character; then is closely questioned on the death of Phyllis Crosby, friend of Mrs. Lambert and Doris's former mistress. Mrs. Lambert says she last saw Doris shortly after 11; that the maid had been talking with Crosby and crying; that she—Mrs. Lambert—then went to Mrs. Berkeley's sitting room, an important fact hitherto not known to Dundee.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXV
"Less than five minutes, I should say," Mrs. Lambert answered. "I made a note of the engagement on Mrs. Berkeley's calendar, glanced over two or three belated acceptances for the dance which was to follow the dinner tonight and added the names to the list of guests."
"Did you go into Mrs. Berkeley's bathroom or bedroom for any reason whatever?" Dundee asked, only the glint of his blue eyes betraying his excitement.
"No. I was in the sitting room only."
"Did you hear anything at all while you were at work here?" "Nothing whatever?" Mrs. Lambert answered positively.
"Was the door open into the foyer between the rooms?"
Mrs. Lambert knit her brows, then shook her head. "I'm sorry but I can't remember. I was in rather a hurry, partly because I wanted to be finished with the work before Mrs. Berkeley came upstairs and partly because I was very tired."
"You wanted to avoid Mrs. Berkeley?" Dundee suggested.
"Avoid" is scarcely the word," Mrs. Lambert answered coldly. "I suspected that the interview in the library between Mr. and Mrs. Berkeley concerned Clorinda's engagement to Mr. Crosby and I was too tired to hear a possibly hysterical account of it. I knew, too, that Mrs. Berkeley needed sleep more than she needed a confidante."
"Mrs. Lambert, have you been happy here at Hillcrest?" Dundee asked gently.
"Yes, I am," Mrs. Lambert answered for her: "Don't be an idiot, Bonnie Dundee! Do you think a 'great lady' like my darling Tish would be happy working for another woman, when she'd never had to take orders before in her life?"
"I have been happy—on the tenanted guest room opposite my room. Those stairs are not carpeted, but the servants are all required to wear rubber heels while on duty."

"Then you did not hear Doris descending from the third floor a few minutes after you returned to your room?"
"No. But I was in my bathroom, taking a bath, within two or three minutes after my return. That is, I began to run the water immediately, and when the tub was full, finished reading my letter as I lay in the warm water. Even if I had been in my bedroom, I doubt if I should have heard Doris, since the walls and doors are very thick—practically sound proof."
"I see," Dundee agreed, more disappointed than he wished her to know. "Have you anything else to add, Mrs. Lambert?"
"Nothing to add," she replied quietly. "But I want to emphasize what I said before: no solution of the tragedy which in any way reflects on Doris's character or loyalty will be the true solution."
"I am sure of that," Mrs. Lambert answered sincerely. "You may go, and—thank you very much, you have been more courteous and patient, I am sure, than you think I deserve. But I want you to know that I have not been asking irrelevant questions out of vicious or idle curiosity."

Mrs. Lambert smiled at him suddenly out of a mist of tears and held out her hand.
"One other thing," he detained her. "May I borrow your typewriter to transcribe my notes?"
She flushed slightly. "I am afraid I shall need it, but Mr. Berkeley has a machine in his room which he seldom uses. I am sure he will be glad to lend it to you for as long as you need it."
"I'll show you where it is!" Gigi cried.

The three of them ascended the stairs together, Gigi in the middle, impartially swinging a hand of each.
"I thought you were never coming, Mrs. Lambert!" Mrs. Berkeley called reproachfully from her sitting room door. "My telephone has been ringing constantly. Somehow those dreadful reporters have got hold of my private, unlisted number and they've been driving me crazy. Just to get rid of them I've promised them all an interview at four o'clock and we must hurry to get up a written statement for them, listing my stolen jewels, and—"

Mrs. Lambert, murmuring apologies, joined her employer and the sitting room door closed upon them. Gigi ran up the hall to her father's door and knocked lightly. "In?" she announced to Dundee. "But come along! I'll be all right."
The detective obeyed, stepping into a spacious but rather severely furnished room. Two broad windows gave a view of the landscaped front lawn and a third looked out upon

MENTION COL. PAYNE

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—The name of Colonel Fred H. Payne of Greenfield, was advanced today as a possible nominee by President Hoover for assistant secretary of war. Although nothing was forthcoming from the chief executive or the White House, it was believed in some quarters Colonel Payne would succeed to the vacancy made by the appointment of assistant secretary Hurley to succeed the late James W. Good. The man named will be in charge of mobilization of industries for wartime purposes. For this reason Mr. Hoover has sought a man of industrial experience.

5 DAY SCHEDULE AT ORFORD SOAP

Short Week Adopted at Local Factory for Summer Months; No Output Cut.

Announcement of a new policy in its working schedule was made public today by the Orford Soap Company of the north end which will operate on a five days a week basis during the summer months starting the first of next month.

Officials of the company stated that the shortening of the summer schedule is positively not an indication of a reduction in business. On the contrary, it was added that the Orford Soap Company's sales for the past year exceeded the previous one.

Neither will be production decreased under the new system. The plans call for a larger manufacture in the winter and a smaller output in the summer which will make it possible for the 135 employees and their families to enjoy a two-day week end throughout the summer months.

The Orford Soap company has never closed all day Saturdays before, having operated a half a day on Saturdays. Last year the office personnel inaugurated the new idea and it proved both practical and popular. Company officials have now applied it to the entire plant and the working schedule will start on this basis May 3 and continue until Daylight Saving Time is ended in the fall.

SECOND GRADE PUPILS GIVE DUTCH PROGRAM

An educational program of great interest took place at the Hollister street school yesterday when the children of Miss Gertrude Carrier's second grade presented a Dutch program as the culmination of their study of Holland. On the curtains and walls were posters of a Dutch farm, market, and landscapes made by the children. Every pupil took part, each one being dressed in Dutch costume. All gave evidence of good training in each feature of the program which was as follows: Two songs, Little Toyland for the Dutch and In Far Away Holland; recitation, Three Dutch Milkmaids; song, Rosa; recitation, Dutch Dolls; a play, Hansel and Gretel; Dutch Dance; recitation, The Dutch Flag and the American Flag; song, America.

On Wednesday afternoon the same program was given in the class room for the parents, 23 of whom were present.

A SIMPLE STEP TOWARDS HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a Daily Essential and Millions Know Its Effectiveness in Relief of Constipation

Perhaps the one simple thing you are not doing to guarantee permanent health is having sufficient roughage in your food. Absence of this roughage is the direct cause of constipation which results in so many other ills—headaches, listlessness, general depression, indigestion and, sometimes, serious disease.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. It is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded. Two table-spoons daily (in serious cases, with each meal) is the proper amount.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also helps you to health in other ways. It is rich in iron, practically all of which goes into the blood, bringing red, healthy color to the complexion. It helps prevent anemia. Be sure to include it in reducing diets.

Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with cream or milk added. It is a delicious addition to cereals, fruits and soups. In cooked foods, such as bran muffins, it is just as effective in the relief of constipation. Recommended by doctors. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

And That Reminds Us—That an old fashioned girl is one who thinks that 8 people can't ride in a coupe.

Flapper (to cop at street intersection)—What's the idea, no lights here?

Guardian of the Law—I'm the light at this corner, lady. Her Majesty—Then turn green so I can cross.

He held her to his manly breast And murmured, "How I love thee!" He had no time to tell the rest— His roadster climbed an elm tree.

At last I have put my troubles behind me, remarked the philosophical motorist as he stowed away his in-laws in the rumble seat.

Magistrate—Then you deny that you were rude to the policeman when he asked to see your license? Motorist—Certainly, sir. All I said was that from what I could see of him I was sure his wife would be happier as a widow.

Tip to motorist: A car will not run more smoothly on a slippery road but it will skid perfectly.

Dad—Son, who were you with last night? Son—Just my old boy friend. Dad—Well, tell your old boy friend he left his lip stuck in the car.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

NAPOLION'S ABDICATION

On April 11, 1814, Napoleon Bonaparte, emperor of France, abdicated his throne after the allied armies of England, Germany, Prussia and Austria seized Paris. Although he had previously conquered the important nations of Europe, Napoleon was now sent into retirement as ruler of the little island of Elba in the Mediterranean. He was there only 10 months when he decided to resume his campaigning. Accompanied by 600 soldiers of the Old Guard Napoleon entered Paris, de-throned the king and re-established himself once more upon the throne. He defeated the Prussians at Flanders, but ultimately suffered an overwhelming defeat at the hands of the English at Waterloo. He was sent as a prisoner to the island of St. Helena to live in a residence specially prepared for him. It was here that he wrote several able and interesting works relating to his eventual career.

THE TINYMITES

The Tinies were kept on the go for 'bout a half an hour or so and then the Travel Man said, "Well, we've seen all we can see within this palace. Now let's go. Where to? Well, I'm sure I don't know. You Tinymites suggest some place. Don't leave it all to me." "I'll tell you what," wee Scouty cried. "Let's take another taxi ride. I like to ride about this town. It's quite a pretty sight. We'll all be good. I'm sure of that." Just then the wind took Clowny's hat. In chasing it, right down the street, he ran with all his might. "The others laughed to see him go. And Clowny shouted, loudly, 'Whoa!' But, as his hat was not a horse, of course it didn't stop. At last the hat dropped on the ground and Clowny took one sudden bound. Quite luckily he grabbed it, though he took an awful flop. When he came back the Travel
