MITCHELL REAL 'DRY', DECLARES DEETS PICKETT

Methodist Board Official Also Says His Organization Supported Move to Change Law Enforcement.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Believing Attorney General Mitchell "by far the drier Justice Department head we ever had," Deets Pickett testified to the Senate committee today the Methodist Board of Temperance had supported the legislation to take prohibition enforcement from the Treasury.

President Hoover signed the bill transferring jurisdiction to the Department of Justice yesterday.

Senator Blaine, Wisconsin, produced a report by Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the Methodist board, in opposition to the transfer. It developed this had been made before the President announced he favored the move.

Neece Free Hand
Pickett said he thought President Hoover, who was responsible for enforcement, should be given a free hand.

The Wilson report said prohibition had been better handled by Secretary Mellon than it would have been by A. Mitchell Palmer, Harry M. Daugherty, or "the easy going Sargeant," all former attorney generals. In that connection, Pickett expressed his opinion that Mitchell was "drier" of them all.

The research secretary said an organization ought "to go slow" in opposing the President.

"Mussolini would be happy with that situation," Senator Caraway commented.

Pickett testified his organization keeps a card index of the votes of the members of Congress in prohibition and of their religious affiliations.

BOARD'S FINANCES
Washington, May 28.—(AP)—The Senate lobby committee concerned itself with financial and other operations of the Methodist board of temperance today in further examination of Deets Pickett.

Testimony by the research secretary for the church organization disclosed it had spent $158,616 in 1928, year of $158,342 received. In 1929, expenditures were $130,729 and expenditures $128,269, while the 1927 figures were $147,491 and $141,539 respectively.

Appearing for his second day, Pickett testified that Blaine Wilson, consisting of the disbursements for salaries increased from $49,549 in 1927 to $55,823 in 1928. He attributed this to salary raises and conduct of a survey on alcoholism deaths. A decrease in deaths from alcoholism as a result of prohibition was shown, he said, but he gave no details.

Asked if any relative of Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the board, employed by the organization, Pickett said Mrs. Wilson was paid $2,400 a year as manager of the Methodist building here.

Senator Blaine produced a report showing that Dr. Wilson had addressed 31 Methodist churches and "given 98 campaign speeches," in 1928.

Campaign speeches referred to those on prohibition, the witness said, adding Wilson had "made no speeches he would not have made in 1927."

Faith in Hoover
Pickett said the board has "full faith in President Hoover."

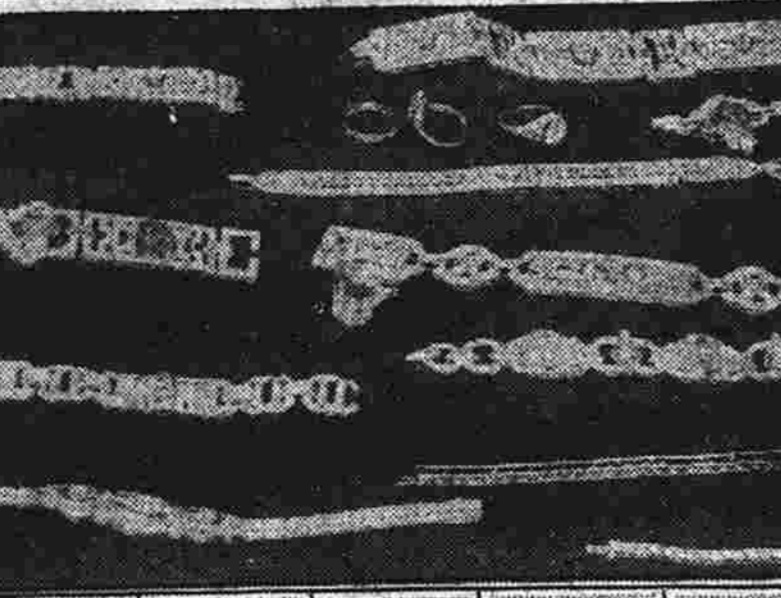

Questioned about Secretary Mellon, he said:
"Our observation in recent years, especially since the appointment of Mr. Doran, has been that Mr. Mellon has kept his hands off in regard to prohibition."
James M. Doran is prohibition commissioner at the Treasury. Pickett said "everybody knew Mellon at one time was related indirectly to the distillery business."

He said he thought William J. Donovan, if he had been appointed attorney general, "would have done his utmost" to endorse prohibition.
"Those who oppose continuation of prohibition," are classed as wets by the board he said, adding:
"Some people who drink favor the law because they believe the economic and social results are good."
Should Obey Law
Pickett contended Congressmen should obey the prohibition law despite personal preferences.
"Do you have card index of Congressmen?" Blaine asked.
"Oh, yes," Pickett said. "It shows their votes on prohibition."
Pickett said the board had appropriated $1,000 to the Anti-Saloon League for use in connection with a prohibition referendum.

The witness said the board also kept a card index of the religious affiliations of members of Congress to show how many "of the people making our laws have a Christian church background."

KILLS SELF IN CELL
Bridgeport, May 28.—(AP)—Carl Oscar Erickson, 46, chauffeur and truck driver, hanged himself in his cell in police headquarters today. He had been committed a short time before after arrest for drunkenness, abuse of the peace and using abusive language. He used his shirt torn into strips, as a rope. The medical examiner gave a suicide verdict.

$300,000 in Gems Found in Police Raid

An adventure rivaling detective fiction resulted in the confiscation of $300,000 worth of jewelry, pictured above, and the arrest of five persons, shown below, in a raid by detectives on a New York hotel. The band, trailed for nine weeks previous to their capture, were suspected of being international jewel thieves. Left to right are Jacob Rosen, 38, of New York; William J. O'Connor, 41, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Hilda Carter, 34; George Cole, 42, of New York; and James W. Watson, 40. Police sought to connect the five with recent jewel robberies in Detroit, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Miami and other cities.

LIBERALS DESERT LABOR GOVERNMENT

MacDonald's Party Must Fight Alone to Maintain Its Majority.

London, May 28.—(AP)—The second British labor government had a battle for its life to fight today without the aid of 58 Liberal votes which they heretofore have depended to maintain a majority in the House of Commons.

The Parliamentary Liberal Party, with 58 members, meeting yesterday, voted to abstain from voting on the Conservative motion of confidence leveled at J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and minister for unemployment.

Must Fight Alone
The action left Labor alone to confront the Conservatives. While the MacDonald government numbers 282 conservatives, with seven Independents, the outcome of today's battle would seem to lie with the Socialist Left Wing members who last week in a secret parliamentary party meeting voted to back confidence in Mr. MacDonald's leadership.

These Left Wingers number 29 and by refraining from voting or by voting against the government, probably could bring its defeat and subsequent dissolution of Parliament and a call to the country in a new general election.

TARIFF BILL BACK FOR MORE CHANGES

Flexible Clauses Start Disputes Again—New Conference Tomorrow.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—The tariff bill went back to conference today for another revision of its carefully written but much disputed flexible clauses.

Chairman Smoot of the Senate finance committee has called the conferees together for a meeting tomorrow to draft a new compromise. The tariff bill was returned to the conferees as the result of an unforeseen development in the long series of controversy that has attended the making of the measure.

Sustains Point of Order
Vice President Curtis sustained a point of order raised by a Democratic opponent of the bill based upon a contention that the conferees had exceeded their authority in drafting a compromise on the flexible provisions. Specifically, it was argued the rules of procedure had been violated by the insertion of the language contained in neither the Senate nor House draft of the bill.

Disputed Clause
The clause in question was that to make emergency changes in the customs rates proposed by the tariff commission effective after six days unless disapproved or put into operation sooner by the President. The point of order was raised by Senator Barley of Kentucky. This provision, proposed by Minority Leader Garner of the House, had the approval of President Hoover but met with vigorous objection from the Democratic-Independent Republican coalition of the Senate.

It represented an agreement worked out with much difficulty to reconcile the conflicting views of Mr. Hoover, the House and the Senate.

HARTFORD P. M. QUITS OFFICE; CLERKS FIRED

Harry K. Taylor Tenders Resignation; Four Clerks Discharged; Others Suspended.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Assistant Postmaster General Coleman announced today that Harry K. Taylor, postmaster at Hartford, Conn., has tendered his resignation effective August 1, and will retire from the postal service on that date.

Coleman also announced that "for conduct prejudicial to proper maintenance of discipline and efficient service in the Hartford postoffice, Clerks Harry A. Norton, Edward F. Lawton, Louis Lopinsky, and Anthony Yawon, will be separated from the service."

Coleman said clerks Edmund W. Hackett, William J. Cosker, Joseph J. Burns and James L. Yacavone will be suspended without pay for ten days.

Clerks John S. Dolan and Patrick H. O'Callaghan will be suspended without pay for five days, Coleman said. All penalties he said are effective June 1. Coleman said the Civil Service commission is being asked to hold an examination to be filled by a suitable list from which appointments of a successor to Taylor may be made.

NEW HAVEN CASES
Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Assistant Postmaster General Arch Coleman announced today that Francis J. Shay, clerk and Meyer Stadel, foreman in the New Haven, Conn., post office will be suspended without pay for a period of sixty days for violation of postal regulations prohibiting the postal soliciting of funds from the public.

CAUSE OF TROUBLE
New Haven, May 28.—(AP)—Trouble in the postoffice at Hartford and in this city which has distinction Miss Guernsey said, "Just think. You got to choose your own class colors, your own flowers, be president, vice president, secretary and treasurer of your own class, and chairman and sole member of all the committees you care to appoint."

ENEMY APPROACHES SHORES OF STATE
Mimic Warfare for Possession of Southeastern Connecticut is in Progress.

Fort Wright, Fishers Island, N. Y., May 28.—(AP)—The culminating maneuver in the mimic warfare for the possession of the southeastern New England coast and the capture of the naval submarine base at New London, Conn., got under way this morning as the fleet of "enemy" warships steamed past the Blue defenses here and headed for the Connecticut shore.

Protected by 11 of their own planes but opposed by every defense gun that could theoretically be brought to bear and showered by 40 "Blue" bombers, the invading squadron hypothetically forged its way toward the goal which would lay the munitions factories of Connecticut at its mercy.

Only a Theory
In point of fact, however, the ships of enemy ploughed their way placidly through the peaceful waters of the Sound while scores of commercial vessels piled their guns and deadly missiles which in actuality would have sunk everything in sight within a very few minutes.

The oncoming Blacks did not even bother to lay a smoke screen to conceal their maneuvers, although they may have done so in theory and probably would have done so in fact. Instead, although riddled by yesterday's fire from the outer fortifications in the first real contact fighting of the three-day war, they rode the waves as trim as if the "conflict" had been a thousand miles away.

The Black planes were in the air for the first time since the opening of the war when they scouted the Blue positions preparatory to actual hostilities by the fleet. Adverse weather kept the enemy planes on the water yesterday leaving the field entirely to the defense bombers.

Must Destroy Base
In order to be successful the enemy must destroy the New London base and be in position to seize the Connecticut shore line by tonight. By that time the Connecticut National Guard will have been mobilized, theoretically, and the defense scouting fleet will have arrived under forced draught from southern waters.

Radio "Eye" for Aviators
Gloucester, Mass., May 28.—(AP)—Radio "eyes" for airplanes to permit the conquest of fog, the greatest peril facing fliers, are a possible development to aid aviation, in the belief of John Hays Hammond, Jr., inventor.

The use of television to transmit a picture of the flying field to a screen in the cockpit of a plane flying above is the principle involved the inventor said. A dot or speck moving across the screen would indicate the aviator's position, he continued.

Hammond explained last night in announcing his discovery that nothing has been actually accomplished yet and that it has to do with certain possible developments in the future.

WEATHER HALTS HARTFORD HOP TO SO. AMERICA

Crew Ready to Start When News Comes of Storms Off Virginia Capes; Planned to Start at Noon.

Brainard Field, Hartford, May 28.—(AP)—It did not look as if the "K of New Haven" would jump for a fight to Buenos Aires today, when at 1:15 today, daylight time, the crew went into conference, to study weather reports.

Messages had come of bad weather off the Virginia Capes, but the promise was for better weather tomorrow. The crew, Captain Partridge, Lieut-Commander Pond and Lieut. Peed, sought from the promoters of the flight a promise to continue its financial backing until tomorrow, the ultimatum having been that if the flight was not started today, it was off.

READY EARLY TODAY
Brainard Field, Hartford, May 28.—(AP)—The crew of the "K of New Haven" for the flight to Buenos Aires were on the field shortly after eight this morning and Lieut-Commander Pond stated that it was hoped to make the "hop-off" today.

Last night Pond said the start would be at eight this morning but he had standard time and not daylight time in mind. He said the plane appeared to be in readiness and all that was necessary was to tune up in readiness to leave.

Aviators On Hand
At 10 o'clock the three aviators were in flying garb beside their plane. The refueling plane with Fisher in readiness was being tuned up. All that remained to be done seemingly was to tune up the "K" and make the takeoff.

At 10:30, daylight time, the motor of the "K" had been started for a warming up spin.

GRAF LEAVES BRAZIL ON HER WAY TO CUBA

Expect Bloody Battle With Filipino Rebels

Manila, May 28.—(AP)—Peace negotiations between the constabulary and a group of rebellious Moros in Lanao province having failed, the militia today moved to attack Taguya Cotta, a fort where Datu (head man) Ganassi is harboring the rebel Moro Sultan Namur.

With Colonel L. R. Stevens, district commander, personally directing the operations, a constabulary force left Camp Keithly, Danganlan, the provincial capital, in a dozen motor cars early today.

The town was seething with excitement as the military preparations were made at dawn. A short distance from Danganlan it was discovered that the Moros were expected to be numerous and well armed. The constabulary, however, has had plenty of time to prepare for the fight and with its superior arms is expected to make short work of the recalcitrants.

It also was reported that the Moros believed their fort impregnable and that they had been emboldened by the relatively high number of casualties in a previous encounter.

TO SPEED PROSPERITY
DEVELOP AGRICULTURE
Henry Ford Says to Lower Wages Now Is to Hit the Nation While She Is Down; His Advice.

By David J. Wilde.
Detroit, May 28.—(AP)—The shortest cut to relief from the present business depression, in the opinion of Henry Ford, is an intensive development of agriculture and manufacturing, looking to quantity production from the soil. "This is not just a fanciful idea," Mr. Ford told the Associated Press today. "It is the way out of stagnation."

Coupling with this the statement that "it will take just as long to get rid of the depression as it took to accumulate it," Mr. Ford added: "We need to keep up the people's spirit and you cannot do that with talk; you must do it by action. One expenditure made in faith in the future is worth all the words any way to prevent betterment. This way is no time to lower wages. Those who are lowering wages now don't know what they're doing. They are hitting the country where it is down. They will see the time when wages will be higher than they ever have been."

CHICAGO IS NORMAL EXCEPT FOR CRIME.
London, May 28.—(AP)—Judge Kavanaugh of Chicago told a special committee on capital punishment at the House of Commons today that he favored the death sentence, although there were certain circumstances where it was not advisable.

"Every time the death sentence is not carried out, the murder rate goes up," he said, "and every time there is an execution the murder rate goes down."

Questioned by members of the committee, Judge Kavanaugh asserted that Chicago was a "normal city" except in its crime phase.

BUT 300,000 IDLE IN NEW YORK CITY

President Hoover Tells New Yorker Condition is Much Improved Now.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Edward Corsi, president of the Columbian League of New York, said today he had told President Hoover that unemployment in New York City was not more than 300,000, and that the Chief Executive expressed to him a belief that conditions would be normal before the fall elections.

After a call at the White House to discuss tariff legislation with the Chief Executive, Mr. Corsi said the President told him the situation over the country is improving and should be on a steady plane by fall. As one of the census supervisors in New York City, Corsi reported to the President that the 16th Assembly District, known as Yorkville, had shown a ratio of unemployment of 4.7 per cent. The ratio proves general for the city, Corsi said, it would show a total unemployment of about 300,000 workers as compared with about 200,000, which Corsi said was normal for the city.

TRYING TO PROTECT WEALTHY PURCHASERS
New York, May 28.—(AP)—An effort to forestall the questioning of prominent New Yorkers said to have been prospective liquor customers of Edward Tatham, was made today by Tatham's counsel.

Counsel for Tatham, a director of the British liquor firm of Justerini and Brooks, obtained an order from Federal Judge Coffey directing United States Attorney Tuttle to show why he should not be restrained from questioning the witnesses, ordered to appear before a Grand Jury.

Mr. Tuttle's motion was based upon alleged danger to his client in ex parte questioning of lawyers holding that the grand jury was entitled to hear all the prospective witnesses had to say.

The government has charged that Tatham was in New York making contacts with wealthy businessmen preparatory to an attempt to import liquor into the United States from the 12-mile limit.

London, May 28.—(AP)—The projected flight of the New British dirigible R100 to Canada has been postponed until the end of June.

It has been expected that the R100 would make the flight to Canada about the beginning of June.

SENATE NEARING END OF SEA PACT HEARING

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—As Senate committees today neared the end of hearings on the London naval agreement, naval officers again indicated disapproval of the pact, with six-inch gun cruisers coming in for their usual share of criticism.

Rear Admiral R. E. Coontz, superintendent of the Naval Academy where the Navy's officers are trained, said before the foreign relations committee the only favorable place for the six-inch gun was in a surprise action.

Adding that in "other ways the six inch gun is not in it," he said the United States had abandoned the 6-8 ratio with Japan in all classes except capital ships.

Rear Admiral R. E. Coontz, retired, who appeared before the naval committee, dealt largely with the Washington arms treaty of 1921. He said that giving up island bases in the Pacific under that pact was a disadvantage and any increase in the 5-7 ratio with Japan would be harmful to the United States.

AMERICAN GIRL DIES IN CRASH IN ITALY
Florence, Italy, May 28.—(AP)—Miss Helen Gee, 22, an American girl, whose home is in Denver, Colorado, and Miss Ruth Henderson, 32, a Canadian nurse, employed in Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, Maryland, were killed today in an automobile accident near Roma, 48 miles from here.

The automobile in which the two women were traveling collided with an automobile driven by Pietro Giarizzo of Rome, who was proceeding toward Roma. The automobile of the Americans left the road and plunged 250 feet down a ravine, finally coming to a stop at the edge of Razzolo cemetery.

Giariizzo summoned assistance and climbed down into the ravine where he found the women dead. Their automobiles were loaded with suit cases which showed that they were touring Italy.

CURRYS LOSE AUTO AS WELL AS GOODS

Trial of Family Added to When Firm Fails to Deliver Their Car.

The tribulations of Mr. and Mrs. William Curry, resulting from weeks of delay in the transportation of their household effects from Detroit to Manchester have been even greater than became known the other day when their exasperating experience was disclosed by the seizure of a transfer company's truck here in a suit for damages brought by the Currys.

Not only did it take from March 22 to May 15 for the Currys' furniture to make the trip from Detroit but it now appears that a Ford automobile belonging to Mr. Curry, which the transfer company undertook to deliver here, never showed up at all. A law firm in Detroit co-operating with Attorney William S. Hyde, who is acting for the Currys at this end, is trying to find out what has become of the car.

Mr. Curry is an old resident of Manchester and a former employee of Cheney Brothers. Twelve years ago he went to Detroit. Last November he returned here with the idea of re-locating. Mrs. Curry remained temporarily in Detroit. Currys years ago had worked under the late R. O. Cheney, Sr. R. O. Cheney, Jr., had in hand the employment of a night watchman who keeps an eye on a group of residences of members of the Cheney connection. He gave the job to his father's old employe and Curry sent for his wife to come on.

Mrs. Curry, in Detroit, made the deal with the White Star Moving and Storage Company for the removal of the family furniture and automobile. She says that on March 22 the concern agreed to deliver the goods here in five days from that time. They got here late last week, minus the car.

The story of how the Currys paid the rent of an apartment for April and then again for May without being able to occupy it, has been told. Also how when the goods did arrive here the truck bearing them was attached. It was also told how an official of the company was coming right along from Detroit to straighten out the matter. But today the driver of the truck George Enger, was still here and said he had learned that the official in question had left Detroit at the time when Enger was expecting him to arrive here.

As nearly as can be learned there was some delay to the consignment of household goods when the truck was held up on a charge of overloading. How long it took to straighten out that trouble isn't clear; but later, in Albany, the truck caught fire and there was a lot more delay on account of insurance adjustment. Whether this was the original truck or a relief vehicle owned by the same concern isn't clear, but a relief truck figures in the business somewhere and is the one that came here at last.

That truck is in Conkey's garage with the Currys' goods aboard it. Also in its load is another consignment of household goods for which some family in Malden, Mass., is waiting.

Meantime the Currys are less immediately concerned than they were about getting the use of their goods, for they are light housekeeping in a room on Wadsworth street and leaving it to Attorney Hyde and the Detroit lawyers to see that they get their automobile or compensation for it, and also some repayment for their expensive and annoying experience.

waters. Actually the scouting fleet, or a large part of it, is comprised in the present "enemy" force. Should the "Black" fleet fail to attain its objective against the time limit it will be considered to have failed.

The primary purpose of the maneuver however, is to show the degree to which Army and Navy can cooperate in defense plans and there will be no formal decision for or against either side.

Major General John W. Gulick, chief of Coast Artillery, and George S. Gibbs, chief signal officer of the Army, arrived here today to observe the closing phases of the war. Rear Admiral Frank H. Brumby commanded the enemy fleet with Major Gerald C. Grant, in charge of the Blue air forces.

MOTHERS IN BELGIUM

Brussels, Belgium, May 28.—(AP) This war, swept country today opened wide its arms to the Americans who were among its defenders and the women whose sons spilled their life blood upon its soil. Tired after three strenuous days in England, the Gold Star mothers and veterans of the 27th Division arrived after a quiet channel crossing.

They were greeted by the authorities and a committee of Gold Star representatives from Paris, Norway, Denmark and Germany and Bavaria where they plan to witness the Passion Play at Oberammergau, sailing from France and arriving in this country toward the end of August. The party will be conducted by Mrs. R. W. Moore of Hamilton, N. Y., who knows Europe, it being her sixteenth tour.

In the absence of a formal reception the pilgrims followed their own bent. Some rested quietly in their rooms. A large number wandered about town or went shopping and sightseeing, guided by Belgian friends.

METHODISTS' FUND NOT FOR LOBBYING

Deets Picket Says Contributions Never Used for Political Purposes.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—An assertion that none of the funds of the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals have been expended for lobbying, was made before the Senate subcommittee yesterday by Deets Pickett, research secretary of the organization.

In the absence of Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the board, Pickett took the committee witness stand to defend his organization against the charges of Representative Charles E. Thompson, Republican of Massachusetts, that it had violated the principals of separation of church and state.

These charges, Pickett said were based upon a total misapprehension of the character of the board, its methods of work, the sources of its income and the nature of its expenditures.

Explains Funds.

He explained that the funds received by the board were fixed by a ratio based upon "the total benevolent receipts of the church for connectional purposes" and that its support came from the world service commission, organized by the church to direct the work of six boards.

"The current ratio of the board," he added, "is 1.6668 per cent of the total, so that our receipts may fairly be said to represent the almost infinitesimal contributions of literally millions of interested Methodists."

"The Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals cannot receive and use in its entirety any contribution from any church or individual, except when such contribution has been specifically designated as to use; and such designation must be to 'an approved project.'"

"No contributions have ever been used for such purpose.

Never Approved.

"No such project has ever been approved by the world service commission, nor would any such contributions of monies be tolerated by the board of managers of the board of temperance, by the world service commission, by the general conference, or by the opinion of the church."

Characterizing as "unjustified" Tinkham's charge that the board has violated the principle of separation of church and state, Pickett asserted:

"It petitioned for the prohibition laws as it had a right to do under the Constitution and it supports enforcement. Its representatives appear before the committees of the House and Senate by invitation or at the board's request, when the interests of prohibition or a similar issue are involved.

"As it happens, such appearance is very frequent and when it occurs is in cooperation with the representatives of other churches and dry organizations, composing the conference of organizations supporting the Eighteenth Amendment, which has a legislative committee on which the board is represented.

Legislative Petitions.

"Legislative petition is done under the direction of the cooperative body, incidentally, the organization includes in its membership committees of many churches."

Referring to a charge by Tinkham that the board had violated the Federal Corrupt Practices Act in 1928, in connection with reporting campaign expenditures, Pickett said the charges had been laid before the Department of Justice, the board replied to them and the department had taken no action.

Pickett added that the activities of the board in the 1928 presidential campaign when Alfred E. Smith was a candidate, "did not differ in any essential part from its activities in previous years, except that in its

WILLIAM PITT'S BIRTH

On May 28, 1759, William Pitt, an English statesman, often referred to as the Younger Pitt to distinguish him from his father, William Pitt, the first Earl of Chatham, was born at Hayes, England.

After his studies at Cambridge, Pitt entered Parliament. At the age of 23 he became chancellor of the exchequer, and, at 29, was regarded as one of England's most powerful prime ministers. He ruled absolutely over the cabinet and became the favorite of the king, of Parliament and of the nation.

From this time the life of Pitt becomes the history of England. For 17 years he held his great position without a break. His successful leadership of the government during the Anglo-French war led his admirers to confer on him the title of "the pilot that weathered the storm." His persistent enmity to Napoleon contributed much toward the overthrow of the emperor.

In 1800, Pitt effected the union with Ireland but, chagrined because the king had frustrated his Catholic Emancipation measures, he resigned office the next year.

ADMIRALS CONTINUE TO CRITICIZE PACT

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—In hearings that closely paralleled most of the previous sessions of the London naval treaty, naval officers yesterday before Senate committees continued criticism of the pact.

Varying, however, from the controverted cruiser provisions, Rear Admiral Ridley McLean, budget officer of the navy, expressed disapproval to the naval committee that "we granted parity in submarines to Japan."

McLean added that he believed that as far as Great Britain was concerned the agreement was advantageous to the United States but the situation with regard to the Japanese was different.

The assistant chief of naval operations, Rear Admiral V. H. Standley, told the foreign relations committee, if it were left to him he would build nothing but 8-inch gun cruisers.

Most of the navy men have centered their objections to the treaty on the provisions limiting America to 18 8-inch cruisers.

Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee expects a favorable report to the Senate on the treaty this week.

FIRST PHASE ENDS

The first phase of the joint exercises, which are being held to test the degree to which the Army and Navy can cooperate to repel a sudden invasion of southeastern New England, ended last night with the Black fleet drawing off to the north east, after having swung around Block Island while continuously under observation by the defending or Blue forces.

The Black Fleet.

Blue observers found the Black fleet to consist of eight cruisers, 15 destroyers and a transport. Black airplanes flew over Long Island, Fishers Island and the region in which is located the New London, Conn., submarine base and Trumbull field.

On the assumption that the enemy fleet did not wish to make an immediate foray up Long Island Sound but was content to learn the location and strength of the defending units it was conceded that the aerial maneuver had been at least partially successful. On the other hand the practicability of cooperation between the Army and Navy

NOT TO USE NAVY TUG

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Secretary Adams reversed a decision of the office of naval operations that a Navy tug could not be sent to the aid of Rear Admiral Byrd's bark, the City of New York, but yesterday informed the Navy the tug had been offered to late and the bark would be towed to the canal zone by his steamer, the Eleanor Bolling.

Byrd asked, instead, that the tug be made available after the bark had passed through the canal. The commanding of the Fifteenth Naval District, Rear Admiral John R. Y. Blakely, was instructed to have the towing ship, the Sciota, ready for that service.

On Saturday, the office of naval operations declined Byrd's request for a tug because of a policy that naval vessels could not be sent to the aid of privately-owned ships unless the latter were in distress.

BIG BOOZE SEIZURE

Providence, R. The men gave their names as follows: Charles Kennedy, New Bedford; John Renault, New Bedford; Fred Conroy, Newport; George Walker, New Bedford and Harold Carlson.

The Part that Paint Plays in Selling a House

The Smiths had a neat little home on a suburban street. They had occupied it for almost eight years. Then Smith's business called him to another city. The house had to be sold.

Real estate agents shook their heads when they saw it, and prospects who called did not look upon it with favor.

It was run down, it needed paint; a new roof would be necessary in another year.

The house was finally sold, but at a serious sacrifice.

Why continue to ignore the fact that paint is a preservative?

WORMS EVACUATED BY FRENCH TROOPS

Free of Soldiers for First Time Since 1918; Soldiers Cheer on Leaving.

Worms, Germany, May 28—(AP)—For the first time since the winter of 1918, this historic German city today saw no soldiers in horizon blue.

The city appeared like a small American college town when the students have gone for summer vacation. Cafes, restaurants were empty, while shops and restaurants had little patronage.

The French soldiers of the occupation left last night, and it was a peaceful leave-taking compared with the evacuation of 1918, when the departing French burned the city to the ground. For it was a war-hardened fighting force which turned its back on Worms. The battalion which occupied Worms was composed mostly of youngsters who were in short trousers when the war was on and they knew nothing of it save what they had heard.

TARIFF BILL AIDS OUR AGRICULTURE

So Says Senator Smoot in Quoting Statistics for His Colleagues.

Washington, May 28—(AP)—Calling up the conference report on the tariff bill in the Senate, Senator Smoot quoted statistics yesterday to show the measure was "written primarily for agriculture."

Based on 1928 import values, he said it would bring in revenue amounting to $630,456,280 against $522,649,383 under the present law, an increase of $107,806,897.

On the basis of actual experience in 1929, the finance committee chairman said, "it is evident that protective rates to agriculture have been increased four times as much as the protective rates to industry as a whole."

HEBRON

A Union service of the Hebron and Gilead Congregational churches took place Sunday forenoon at Hebron Center church. The service was devoted to the topic of the colored mission schools. Miss Elizabeth Day of Colchester was present and spoke on one of the colored mission schools of the south. The pastor, the Rev. J. W. Deater, gave a talk on the Lincoln School, also a colored mission. The music was on the order of the subject, Mrs. Edward A. Smith singing a solo, "Goin' Home," in dialect. There were also negro spirituals sung as choruses by the choir. As Mr. and Mrs. John N. Hewitt were sitting in their home one afternoon recently, a flicker crashed through a window pane, shivering the glass to pieces. The bird fell to the floor, stunned, but revived and flew away when taken outdoors. Mr. Hewitt thought that a hawk was pursuing it. Mrs. Anna M. Peck of Danbury is visiting friends and relatives here. Miss Ruth Winchester of the Hartford High School spent the week end as the guest of her class-mate's home here. Conductor George Curtis Munson of the Hartford County Choral Society tried out voices Sunday afternoon, about thirty-five people having braved the rain. He secured as prospective practically all those appearing. There will be a first rehearsal at the Congregational Church, Hebron Center, June 8, at 3:00 p. m., daylight time, and other rehearsals will take place later, to be announced. The Rev. John W. Deater was chosen as chairman of officers to help carry on the project. Mrs. William O. Seyms was made director, and Mrs. A. L. Stebbins of Colchester, secretary and treasurer. A number of those who were unable to be present on account of the weather and for other reasons, will probably be added to the singers already secured. As many as fifty voices are called for. As has already been stated the object is to organize for the presentation of Gault's "Holy City" at a concert to be held in Hartford later on. The Gilead choir assisted the Hebron choir at the union service Sunday forenoon. The Gilead singers rendered an anthem, and the two choirs sang "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," and "Steal Away." The heavy fall of rain prevented as large an attendance as was expected, but Miss Elizabeth Day was present and gave the talk on southern colored missions as scheduled. Mr. and Mrs. George F. Kibbe are planning to visit their former home in Somers on Memorial Day.

ILLITERATE VOTERS

The illiterate voter is coming in for his periodical lacing, following an indictment by Frank J. Loesch, head of Chicago's crime commission, in the course of which he asserted that the illiterates must be disfranchised if a social revolution is to be avoided.

We do not long for trouble but out of sheer curiosity we should like to see the kind of a revolution that could be staged by the illiterates of the United States. It would be a queer looking thing, we suspect—very short and very thin and quite dumb if not dead.

ted to them by either the Senate or the House. And to the astonishment of everybody—including the Democratic House leader Garner, who had fathered the language Barkley objected to—the Vice-President sustained the objection. What else could he do? Had he not, when he was chairman of the Rules Committee of the Senate, sponsored that very rule himself?

POPPIES

There is no flower in the world which carries with it precisely the same heart reaching significance as the poppy—in these days when the memory of the Great War is so keenly alive—so bitterly alive to countless of its survivors.

It is not only in Flanders fields that poppies grow—they star the fields of Northern France and bloom over the bones of untold victims of the World conflict. The poppy is the emblem of the war's dead. No less is it the emblem of the thousands upon thousands of maimed and ill whose sacrifice was scarcely less than those over whose peaceful graves the blossoms nod.

It was an inspiration of no common sort that brought the poppy to figure in the modest annual petition of veterans' organizations for little contributions of small change which, if there are only enough of them, will go so far toward relieving the sore necessities of men who were lucky enough to survive the war but are having little luck in surviving peace.

For days the sale of poppies for the relief fund of the American Legion here has been going on. Yet one does not see too many of the significant little red blooms adorning lapels.

To buy a poppy is a trifling thing; the price is as small as you may wish to make it. But if enough Manchester people will wear the appealing insignia during the last days of the poppy drive, Manchester's Post of the Legion will be able to do wonderful things in the next year in the way of aid to out-of-luck and out-of-health service men and their families.

SCIENTIFIC WARFARE

Apparently the arrangements for the "next war"—which is to be so much more scientific than all previous wars and so much a matter of chemistry and machinery that perhaps, after all, it will be fought entirely by robots—will have to include control of the weather.

on receipt of the story of the Muskogee killing of the Connecticut brothers. The assumption that the affair was the consequence of a spontaneous hold-up was as ridiculous from the start as the arrest of the Connecticut men's two traveling companions.

IN NEW YORK

New York, May 23 — Any Old Hour (station S.W.-A-N) today presents a few of those inside glimpses at people you may or may not have heard upon the air.

First meet the Landt boys from Scranton, whose barber-shop hasemony has come under the title of "Morning Showers."

Now as any young sour tanoor or haritone knows, every town has its collection of young men who like to get on the old front porch and burst into "Sweet Adeline" on the slightest provocation.

In Scranton, Pa., the Landt lads were inclined to make this a family affair. Dan was a house painter, Karl was a chemistry teacher in the public school, Jack was going to high school.

There they ran across Howard White, who ran a bakery, but who liked to bang out "hot" music on the piano. He "never had a lesson in his life and couldn't read a note of music."

"Uncle Don," the gent that the children cry for and recipient of some 1000 letters each day, is off the air, Don Carney, a former circus clown and vaudeville performer.

He likes flying and has his own plane, with "Uncle Don" painted on the door in large blue letters. His pet hobby is collecting rare fish. His aquarium has dozens of specimens of valuable and unusual tropical fish.

He gets a real kick out of the thousands of kid letters that he receives weekly.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Removal of Thyroid Gland)

Question:—Mrs. W. H. asks: "When all of the thyroid gland is removed does the patient prematurely senile? I am deeply concerned about my daughter who was operated on for goitre."

Answer: If all of her thyroid is removed the patient generally dies within a short time, but if only a portion is removed it is possible that enough remains to supply the need. However, a lack of thyroid secretion does produce premature aging and may cause some mental disturbances.

WATKINS BROTHERS, Inc. 55 YEARS AT SOUTH MANCHESTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, May 23.—If Dwight Morrow gets into the United States Senate the wets will have what they need worse than anything else in the world—a leader.

And if he should plunge on and become a presidential candidate—well, anyway, that's the possibility a lot of people are talking about—he would cap a career quite unparalleled in American public life. Physically he's almost a little shriveling of a man. A few years ago he was a member of the great banking house of Morgan. Other men become Morgan partners and that's enough for them; they're glad to die that way. But this little man Morrow has been growing steadily in figurative stature. Whoever heard tell before of a former Morgan partner being considered a presidential possibility?

Has a Fine Record Even the United States Senate failed to devour him—this Morgan partner—when Coolidge made him ambassador to Mexico. Everyone remembers the almost magical way in which Morrow transformed Mexican-American relations from nasty to nice. He looked bigger than ever when Hoover put him on the American delegation to the London naval conference. According to fellows who were over at that conference he looked like the best bet there. Some gave him credit for being the mind which saved the conference at its most critical stage when it seemed sure to bust up in a failure.

Now he comes along, running for the Republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey, and stakes his public career on his conviction that something must be done about prohibition. Everyone agrees that what Morrow had to say about that issue was one of the best statements that ever came from the wet side. Wet or dry, everyone got up and took a drink, agreed that Morrow had political courage and that he had made a statesmanlike speech.

Of course his frankness may get him licked. If he had been willing to hedge he might have avoided the candidacy of Congressman Franklin Fort, who is Hoover's friend and who will run to all intents and purposes as a dry. The other candidate is former Senator Frelinghuysen, who has lots of money and a thirst for office that can only be quenched by being elected to one. Frelinghuysen, who has been dry, recently decided to be wet for this campaign. There is some danger that he and Morrow will split the wet vote while Fort gets the nomination with the minority dry vote.

But the wets need Morrow so badly in the Senate that they may well pray for him. In recent years they have had just two men in public office who were really big stuff—Governor Al Smith of New York and Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, both Democrats. Smith passed out of the picture as a wet leader with his defeat in the 1928 presidential campaign. Reed was the most effective wet in Congress for years. Then he retired from the Senate and was succeeded by a dry.

Wets Need Leaders Other conspicuous wet figures have gone from Congress. The trouble with the so-called wet leaders in both houses of Congress has been that they were more conspicuous for their wetness than anything else.

Morrow would take the Senate wet leadership with an impressive background of statesmanship. He would be a worthy spokesman of the large wet faction in the majority Republican party. And whether the wets ever get anywhere in their attack on prohibition or not, who would be mean enough to deny them at least one good general?

SERVICE for the MOTORIST

Animal Acts Feature Of The Sparks Circus

Demands of the juvenile patron have not been overlooked by the Sparks Circus, although several of the most important displays will be the numbers in the big steel arenas by the highly educated Nubian lions, Royal Bengal tigers, Siberian polar bears, Japanese leopards and other jungle animals. Among the noted subjugators that will appear in Franz Woska, who comes with a European reputation as a fearless and sensational trainer.

Dumb actors from monkeyland, dogland and ponyland also have prominent positions on the program and youngsters as well as grownups are sure to enjoy their endless antics. The dogs, ponies and monkeys spent many hours undergoing instructions in the Sparks school at Macon, Ga., and several days in advance of the opening of the season in April, were members of the annual graduation class. All are now classified as finished performers.

In addition to the animal features there will be scores of foreign artists including aerialists, wire walkers, acrobats, perch performers and equestrians. This famous circus comes for afternoon and night exhibitions on Wednesday, June 11 in South Manchester. Tents located at Center and Dougherty streets. Seats may be secured circus day at Packard's Drug store, 487 Main street at the same prices as at the show grounds.

Washington Has Won 11 of Last 12 Games

Sad Sam Jones Tames Yanks

Yanks Allowing Only Four Hits; Cards Have Won 17 Out of 19 Tilts.

Two major league baseball teams, the St. Louis Cards and Washington Senators are doing their best to break away from the pack of contenders in the close major league races. But so far their efforts have resulted only in a pair of fine winning streaks and rather precarious holds on first place.

Washington is quite safe for the present, holding a margin of four games over the Athletics. The Senators have won 11 out of their last 12 games and 16 out of 20.

The Senators held their place yesterday by beating the New York Yanks 7 to 2. Sad Sam Jones was the whole show, holding the Yanks to four hits.

The Cardinal string of wins was broken for the second time in 19 games yesterday and St. Louis lost a fine chance to get a safer lead over the Brooklyn Robins. But the St. Louis hitters were not much more effective against Larry French than the Robins were against Bill Walker and the two leaders of the National League went down in defeat, remaining only a half game apart. St. Louis lost to Pittsburgh 8 to 5 and Brooklyn to the New York Giants 3 to 1.

The two other National League games scheduled for yesterday were halted by rain.

The Athletics won their third game in a row and gave Boston its ten successive defeat.

The third place Cleveland Indians did even better against Chicago, sending the Sox down to sixth place by winning their second double-header in two days 3 to 2 and 9 to 8.

Detroit, supplanting Chicago in fifth place won a 16 to 11 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

BLAME LIQUOR PARTY FOR AUDITORIUM FIRE

At Least Five Lives Lost and Damage is Estimated at Over $300,000.

Oklahoma City, May 28.—(AP.)—State fire investigators today delved into reports that a liquor party was responsible for a fire which yesterday destroyed the Coliseum, a large auditorium with loss of $300,000 and took a toll of at least five lives.

Hours of searching for the bodies of additional persons believed caught under falling walls in the annex of the structure where 150 new motor cars were housed, lay ahead of rescue parties.

The auditorium, in the stock yards district, was constructed ten years ago and had housed most large gatherings here since, including a throng which greeted Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee in 1928.

Loss on the motor cars was estimated at $100,000 covered by insurance. The Coliseum was insured for $115,000.

West Hartford High In Big Game Here Tomorrow

C. C. I. L. Pennant Race Hinges On The Result

Manchester Must Win to Cop Title; Lupien, Hedlund Star as Locals Swamp Middletown, 18 to 7; Locals Half Game Ahead.

By trouncing Middletown High 18 to 7 yesterday on the latter's own field, Manchester High's crack baseball machine went into a half game lead over West Hartford High in the Central Connecticut Inter-school League race. Both Manchester and West Hartford have suffered but one defeat and meet here tomorrow afternoon in the most important game of the season. West Hartford's scheduled game at Meriden was washed off the map temporarily by adverse weather.

Due to the close race and the fact that West Hartford hand Manchester its only defeat, conditions are all on hand to watch the season's team battle tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 at the West Side Field. With ten victories out of eleven games played, Manchester certainly is deserving of the championship and will be fighting to avenge the defeat of the previous year. A victory for Manchester would practically assure the locals of the pennant while a defeat would probably put the locals definitely out of the running.

Coach Kelley is undecided about whom he will give the difficult assignment of pitching against the West Hartford sluggers. It is certain to be either Dave McConkey or Roy Fraser. The latter worked yesterday, but only for three innings. The chances are that McConkey will start, but the only argument against such a move is that with McConkey away from his regular post that Manchester's inner defense will not be as sound as otherwise.

Coach Kelley had been admittedly worried about the outcome of yesterday's game, but he was not as worried as he seemed. The game had slipped by George MacDonald, Middletown's highly touted pitcher, and was on the ground for the visitors—but not for long. The Silk City boys had their batting eyes sharpened and rapped his offerings so liberally that MacDonald was beckoned to the sidelines at the termination of the fourth inning. Strong followed and fared no better.

When Manchester rolled up a 12 to 2 lead in the first four innings, Coach Kelley wisely decided to save Fraser as much as possible for the West Hartford game. Johnny Hedlund was permitted to finish the game and he went along surprisingly well, whiffing five batsmen and allowing only seven hits. It was his first appearance on the mound this season. Fraser got credit for the victory, his seventh win in as many starts. The batting of Ted Lupien was a decided feature, the chunky local left fielder polling four doubles in as many trips to the plate. A wet, soggy field is about the only thing which prevented the doubles being turned into homers. Here is the box score:

HAL CARLSON DIES VERY SUDDENLY AT HOTEL IN CHICAGO

Chicago Cub Pitcher Succumbs to Stomach Pains; Death Is Another Blow to Cubs.

Chicago, May 28.—(AP)—Hal Carlson, one of only two Chicago Cubs pitchers with a winning percentage for this season, died suddenly in his hotel room early today. He was 36 years old and married.

Dr. John F. Davis, physician for the baseball club, was called at 3 o'clock this morning when Carlson complained of severe stomach pains. Death occurred 35 minutes later as plans were being made to move him to a hospital. A widow and a three-year-old child survive.

Carlson has not been in robust health for many months, although at the spring training camp on Catalina Island he was reported as being in better form than for years. He was a player who was conscientious in keeping himself in the best possible physical condition, and was dependent on Manager Joe McCarthy to win a majority of the games he pitched this year.

Carlson's pitching record, according to the latest official records which include games of last Wednesday, shows four games won and one lost. Only Charley Root of the other regulars on the Cubs pitching staff has a winning percentage. Last year Carlson also was a winning pitcher, although he did not work regularly, due to ill health.

Cliff Heathcote, Kiki Cuyler and Riggs Stephenson, Cub outfielders, were present when Carlson died in his quarters at the Hotel Carlos, just two blocks from Wrigley Field, home of the Cubs.

Carlson Cost Plenty The Chicago Cubs paid $30,000 and gave two players, Kaufmann and Cooney, to the Philadelphia Nationals for Carlson two years ago. He was somewhat of a disappointment in his first season here, but showed improvement last year and was looked upon this season as a pitching mainstay of the club, seeking its second consecutive National League championship. His death has come as a tragic climax to a series of misfortunes which have handicapped the ball team.

Illness, injury, and now death, have joined to make the Cub's campaign for another pennant a hard struggle. Stephenson is a regular whose talents have been denied the club most of the year by illness and injury.

Carlson was best known as a "heady" baseball pitcher. He did not possess great speed, but used a curve ball and change of pace with success.

Slattery and Latzo Called 'No Contest'

Boston, May 28.—(AP)—The pleasing antics were jeered lustily until the referee Johnny Brassi halted the match at the end of the seventh round.

Most of those at the ringside agreed that both boxers were trying but all of the experts admitted that their unusual styles could provide nothing but a dull and tiresome contest.

Brassi also ordered the boxers purses $6000 for Slattery and $5000 for Latzo forfeited. Under the latest rule passed by the Massachusetts Boxing Commission, forfeited purses must be turned over to the state treasury.

LEGION TEAM PICKED AFTER 4-4 CONTEST

Coach Jenney Announces Final Selections for Team Which Will Represent Manchester in Tourney.

The American Legion Boys' Baseball club played a smart game of ball against their former teammates last evening at the West Side playground, the contest being called at the end of the sixth inning at 4 all.

Kovis for the Legion squad pitched a strong game for five innings allowing Jolly's "Gang" a single hit and as many errors. Squatrito replaced him in the sixth and his children enabled the former members of Legion teams to tie the game.

Bobby Jones, Johnston Win Morning Matches

U. S. Open Champion Only One Up at Turn, Rallies to Win 5 and 3; Von Elm Also Wins.

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 28.—(AP)—Bobby Jones eliminated Cyril Tolley, defending champion, in the fourth round of the British amateur golf championship, one up, in nineteen holes.

The battle of the open championship of the United States against the amateur champion of Great Britain was a ding-dong match, square at the end of nine holes, Jones went one up at the 15th but Tolley squared the match again at the 16th and the 17th was halved with birdies. The home hole, too, was a half and the extra hole was necessary.

The outgoing cards:
Jones ..... 454 554 432—89
Tolley ..... 544 454 543—38

The incoming cards:
Jones ..... 445 343 544—38
Tolley ..... 454 435 444—37

round will be the defending champion Cyril J. H. Tolley of England who today conquered the St. Andrews postman, William Fowler, and William Stark, who eliminated Jones from the match in spectacular fashion taking the first three holes, the Briton however, on Jones' lead to one hole—by taking the fourth and fifth when Bobby got into trouble.

The Atlantian went two up at the short eighth where he was down to four, but lost the ninth where his tee shot was bunkered to round the turn only one up.

He won the tenth and eleventh with fours, halved the 12th and 13th in the same figures and then went 4 up at the 14th where Shankland needed six. The match ended at the next hole where the Briton again encountered trouble and took five.

Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston of St. Paul, American amateur champion defeated Col. Moore Brabazon of Royal St. George's 6 to 5 in a third round match.

Johnston won without much trouble from Col. Brabazon after several troublesome holes. He played without any uncertainty on the greens.

Cards of the Johnston-Brabazon watch:
Johnston out: ... 453 465 444—38
Brabazon out: ... 554 563 734—4
Johnston in: ... 454 5
Brabazon in: ... 545 5

William Stark, who eliminated Dr. O. F. Willing of Portland, Ore. yesterday, was himself eliminated in the third round by Harry Browne an American living in Paris, 2 to 1.

Major C. O. Hezlet defeated Robert Neill, 2 and 1 and Roger Wetherald, former champion, eliminated D. A. Fiddian, 7 and 5.

J. B. Gwathney of New York was eliminated by R. B. Foster, an American business man living in London, 3 and 1.

George Von Elm, of Detroit, eliminated D. B. Anderson of St. George's Hill, 3 and 1. The cards: Von Elm out—454 554 434—39. Anderson out—534 544—57.

Roland MacKenzie defeated H. I. Holden, Sandway, six up and four to play.

Berlin, May 28.—(AP)—By a vote of 80 to 20, the International Olympic Congress today adopted a resolution designed to preserve strict amateurism in the conduct of the games. The resolution follows: "Athletes who are qualified by the regulations and rules of their National Federation are considered amateurs for the Olympics, provided they are qualified in compliance with resolutions passed at Prague by the Olympic Congress of 1925, to wit: "An athlete taking part in the Olympics must satisfy the following conditions—first, he must not be, or have become a professional in the sport for which he is entered, or in any other sport; second, he must not have received reimbursement or compensation for loss of salary."

The opposition to the resolution was led by the Belgians, Swedes, Dutch and Argentinians. The Uruguayan delegate, who assumedly would have joined this group, was absent.

NORTHERNERS WIN IN CHINESE BATTLE

Shanghai, May 23.—(AP.)—Smashing victories over the military forces of the Nationalist government in northern Honan province were claimed today in advices originating within the Northern Alliance, a group of military chiefs who have declared their independence.

The dispatch said the Northerners had captured 50,000 Nationalist prisoners in the fighting along the Hsichow-Tungkuwan railway. The prisoners were said to be arriving at the Northern Alliance headquarters in Chengchow in such numbers that accommodations were overtaxed and emergency prison camps were being established.

The Northerners also asserted that their forces in northwestern Shantung had crossed the Yellow River and were approaching Tsinanfu, capital of Shantung.

In Full Retreat.
Nationalist forces were said to be in full retreat along both the Hsichow-Tungkuwan and the Peiping-Hankow railway.

The reports from the Northern Alliance sources followed independent advices yesterday which reported that the Nationalists had been badly defeated. The Nationalist government suppressed news of the recent fighting, which has been going on in northern Honan since May 8, and issued a statement saying the Northerners' claims of victory were groundless.

Evidence that the Nationalists were fighting with their backs to the wall appeared recently, however, when the Nanking government's finance minister, T. V. Soong, telegraphed President-General Chiang Kai-Shek saying a Nationalist victory was an immediate necessity and that the Treasury was being rapidly depleted by military deves.

WORLD BANK'S LOAN CAUSING DISPUTES

Paris, May 23.—(AP.)—The launching of a $200,000,000 reparations loan with an additional $100,000,000 for the benefit of Germany, is being held up by a difference of opinion between the Germans and the creditors.

Representatives of the Reichsbank who have been discussing the subject for several days with the creditors and officials of the Bank for International Settlements, contend that the entire $300,000,000 ought to be guaranteed by the un-

TO RESCUE AVIATORS

Las Palmas, Canary Islands, May 23.—(AP.)—Three ships today were sent from here in an attempt to rescue two Spanish aviator officers and their machinist, forced down and captured by wild tribesmen on the African desert.

The vessels are the coast guard ship Undkert and Muluva and an interpeninsular steamer, which went to Cape Juby to land a force that will proceed to the interior.

The aviators, Commandante Ricardo Burguete and Captain Nemez Maza, and Vincente Ferrer, were flying in two planes, accompanied by a Moorish chieftain when compelled to ground about 150 miles inland from Cape Juby, at which point nomads seized and held them for ransom.

We follow our loved ones to their graves
And the tears run down our cheek,
As we think of how we shall not have
Them any more our steps to greet.

We return again to the old homestead
And we look around at the things
That remind us of our beloved dead,
But this no comfort to us brings.

It is our loved ones, not their belongings
For whom we do mourn so sore,
It is for them our hearts are throbbing
As we miss them more and more.

Our eyes they oft do brim with tears
As we think of our beloved dead,
And the source of joy for many years
They were to us till their Spirit fled.

It is very hard to part with those
That we have loved so fondly here
And if we could our own way choose
They'd be with us still our hearts to cheer.

What poor mortals we are at our best
And we have nothing to boast of here
In Christ our Lord we may find
Which in sorrow doth bring us cheer.

We are told there is a silver lining
To every dark cloud that appear
But if we are doubtful or repining
We may never find it our hearts to cheer.

Though now for a reason we are in sorrow
And our hearts are torn with grief
Thank God there's coming a bright tomorrow
The thought of which does bring relief.

And when we can our feelings control
And listen to the unseen one speaking
We become assured that death is not all
That there will be a heavenly greeting.

And so we lift our hearts up unto God
Believing and trusting in Him
Relying upon our Saviour's blood
In making us fit that Heaven we win.

And thus we try to comfort our heart
And to dry up all of our tears
In the hope of meeting never to part
The thought of which our spirit cheers.

But the center of our attraction will be
The Lamb that was for sinners slain:
How beautiful when His face we see
And never know sorrow again.

conditional reparations annuities. The creditors on the other hand hold that the $100,000,000 destined for Germany which was added to the $200,000,000 reparations loan as a matter of expediency, has nothing to do with the annuities.

This question as well as final apportionment of the loan among the different markets and the prices at which the bonds shall be offered, is likely to go over until Monday. Meanwhile the committee will continue discussing the problem.

Who Wants to See Clothing, Anyway?

"The modern girl doesn't show much for her money in the way of clothes," announces one fashion expert. Perhaps not, but she shows quite a lot of the modern girl.

A Practical Answer Teacher—If I cut a beefsteak in two, then cut the halves in two, what do I get? Boy—Quarters. Teacher—Good. And then again? Boy—Eighths. Teacher—Correct. Again? Boy—Sixteenths. Teacher—Exactly. And what then? Boy—Thirty-seconds. Teacher—And once more? Boy—Hamburger.

Another Philosophy Wrecked "Life is what we make it!" Sages say this oft and long. But, if life is what we make it, why does everything go wrong? "Life is what we make it!" So the poet's rave, But, if life is what we make it, why do I love a knave? "Life is what we make it!" How oft we sing that ditty, But, if life is what we make it, why can't I be pretty? "Life is what we make it!" Oh, this is just too funny. For, if life is what we make it, why can't we all make money?

Friday, May 30th is Memorial Day. Memorial Day. And oh! the flood of memories. Memories of those who saved the Union. Memories of bygone wars. Memories of the Spanish War—of the Maine, of Dewey at Manila. Memories of the World War—the boys who went cheering. Memories of the long heart-racking suspense and fears. Memories of thrills of the glorious deeds of our boys. Memories of the heartbreaks at the news of the death "over there" of the neighbor's boy—or of the boy who was nearer and dearer.

That way we'll have a heap of fun and when the riding trips are done, I think you'll all agree that one by one's the nicest way." "You're right," said Scouty, "I'll go last. I want to watch the rest ride past." "And I'll go first," cried Clowzy. "I am not afraid at all. Of course the others knew that he was acting rather selfishly. But they just let him have his way and someone cried, "Don't fall!" The little pony, hitched up tight, soon hauled wee Clowzy out of sight. Around a distant corner he was seen to disappear. "I hope he won't be gone too long," said Copsy, "and that not too far he goun's. Who's going to take the next ride, if he safely returns?" "Oh anyone," another cried. "So long as we all get a ride."
