

TRIES SUICIDE WHEN BLAMED IN BABE THEFT

Takes Girl She Liked to Circus, Keeps Her Over Night; Parents' Fear Causes Arrest in Hartford

Miss Alice Baronovsky, 22-year-old north end woman, is reported dying at the Hartford hospital where she was taken early this morning after attempting suicide in Hartford for the third time in her life. She was being questioned by city detectives in connection with a complaint that she had abducted a four-year-old Manchester girl from her home. Miss Baronovsky leaped through an open window at Hartford police headquarters. The girl, Mary Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lee of the Beehive section at the north end, was returned to her alarmed mother by police this morning after an absence of nearly three full days.

Liked the Child
Miss Baronovsky has long had a liking for children and has often paid particular attention to pretty blonde-haired Mary Lee. Many times she has bought the child candy and clothing. It is a well established fact that the little girl's parents have not taken very good care of their four children. It was not so long ago that local police and social welfare authorities were forced to take a hand in cleaning up deplorable conditions at the Lee home. At that time the father was sent to jail for 45 days and the mother was placed on probation.

Went to Circus
Miss Baronovsky, who lives with her father and mother, in the same house and directly above the Lee family, asked permission to take Mary to Hartford Sunday morning to see the "101 Ranch" circus which played the Capitol City Monday of this week at Colt's Park. The mother agreed but when Monday night came and still Mary had not been returned, Mrs. Lee became worried. She informed police and Sergeant John McGlinn was assigned to the case.

Alice Located
Sergeant McGlinn unearthed the information that Miss Baronovsky was believed to be staying at 159 Wethersfield avenue. Together with Officers Grady and Devoak of the Hartford Detective Bureau, he went to the place last night and found Miss Baronovsky living there under the name of Mrs. Fairmount with a Mrs. Foley. Incidentally, Fairmount is understood to be Miss Baronovsky's husband's name.

MORROW'S VICTORY PLEASES THE WETS

Capital Observers See Wet Majority in Senate As Result of Primary.

Washington, June 18.—(AP)—The nomination of Dwight W. Morrow for the Senate from New Jersey was greeted by anti-prohibitionists in Washington as an encouraging gain in their fight for a wet majority in that body.

Despite assertions of state Republican leaders that Morrow would look with distaste on any attempt to make him the titular head of the wet forces should he be elected in November, the wets here were more than pleased with the decisive primary victory.

First Wet Victory
It was pointed out that his nomination was tied up for more than an avowed Republican wet in the 1930 primaries. Wets asserted that his victory was the more of a triumph for the anti-prohibition cause in view of his prominence in public life.

The White House today awaited word from Morrow as to his plans for returning as ambassador to Mexico.

Under plans announced in May, Morrow would return to the Mexican capital long enough to conclude matters left pending when he went to the London naval conference.

No Future Plans
Diplomatic circles were unimpressed whether he planned to resign as ambassador before the November election. The possibility existed, it was said, that he would campaign for the general election as ambassador to Mexico, in the same fashion that he campaigned for the primary nomination.

It was believed Morrow would come to Washington within a few days to confer with the President and at that time decide what course he will pursue.

The President has followed with interest developments in the New Jersey race in which the two leading candidates—anti-Representative Fort—were close personal friends of his, but avoided participation in the race.

SELLING WAVE HITS EXCHANGE; PRICES TUMBLE

Important Bankers Silent as To Cause—Expect No Panic as During Crash; Mild Rally at Noon.

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Prices of equity stocks on all important securities markets crumbled away under a fresh wave of selling today, at a rate which if continued would carry the general level of quotations below the low points of the autumn crash within another day or two. There was no sign of organized support on the New York Stock Exchange, and important issues tumbled $5 to more than $20 a share.

Important bankers still refrained from public comment on the situation, recalling how wide of the mark were most of the optimistic and reassuring statements issued during the autumn crash. It was pointed out, however, that with the major portion of the so-called public participation in the market already eliminated, there was no prospect of such another stampede of selling as was witnessed last fall.

Other Prices Drop
A drop of 2 to 3 cents a bushel in wheat futures, cancelling yesterday's gains, and offering of copper by some custom smelters at 11-1/2 cents, another drop of 1-4 of a cent, continued to aggravate the commodity situation. Bankers expressed the opinion that no return in business might be expected until commodity prices become stabilized. Wheat, cotton and copper are now around the levels of 1914. Standard Statistics Co. estimated that commodity prices in the aggregate had declined 8 1-2 per cent in the past 10 months.

By early afternoon a mild rally in stocks developed, and several important shares sold up $1 to $3 from the lowest levels of the forenoon. Commission houses, however, were inclined to view the upturn with great caution, in view of the short life of several such technical rebounds recently.

American Telephone tumbled $7.50 to a new low for the year at $202, only $5 above the low of November, then rallied more than $3. U. S. Steel dropped $5 to a new low for the year at $155.75, only $5.75 above the minimum of the autumn crash, then rallied about $2. Consolidated Gas and Westinghouse Electric dropped $5 and $8 and rebounded more than $3. General Motors sold off only slightly.

Among wide declines in the higher priced and more volatile issues, Allied Chemical dropped more than $2, J. I. Case and American Machine and Foundry, $16, and Eastman Kodak, Auburn, Houston Oil, and Worthington Pump, $10 or more. Shares tumbling $8 or more included American Can, American and Foreign Power, American Tobacco B, and Air Reduction.

Other Losses
Issues losing $5 or more included North American, Chesapeake and Ohio, Atchafalaya, American Water Works, Dupont, Johns Manville, Columbia Gas and American Power and Light. The utility shares

LONGEST SITTING IN COMMONS ENDS

London Session Lasts 21 Hours and 45 Minutes Over Passage of Bill.

London, June 18.—(AP)—After having been tied up for more than 21 hours in a wrangle over the finance bill the House of Commons adjourned at noon today with the passage of a clause of the budget for which Philip Snowden, chancellor of the Exchequer, had been struggling with his characteristic grimness and determination. The vote on the clause was 222 to 90.

The House battled all night long, sometimes bitterly over the bill.

Bitter Exchanges
Winston Churchill, former Conservative chancellor of the Exchequer, and Philip Snowden, a clause of whose present bill was in the balance, were frequent contestants. It was a dogged contest, the present chancellor yielding no ground to his adversaries.

The Commons had been in session 21 hours and 45 minutes. This was one of the longest sittings in its history. The bone of contention was a clause dealing with the powers of special commissioners of income tax to inquire into share holdings.

The spiritfulness of the women labor members was a feature of the debate. Dr. Ethel Bentham sat in the House throughout the night. Mrs. Mary Hamilton, Lady Cynthia Moseley, Ellen Wilkinson and Miss Pictou-Tuberville, dashed in and out from time to time.

Talking to Brother Across the World

When Tom Hayes was seated at the microphone posing for this picture he was just about to get the thrill of his life. A few moments later his voice was spanning 10,000 miles to greet his brother John whom he had not heard from in 56 years and who had been given up for dead by his only surviving brother. Seated at this microphone Tom Hayes carried on his end of a conversation that delighted countless thousands of listeners.

Tom Hayes Reflects On Great Adventure

Fine Cooperation Between General Electric Company and The Herald Makes Broadcast Stunt Huge Success.

BY ARCHIE KILPATRICK.

Those who did not tune in on the General Electric radio station WGY early yesterday morning to hear the Hayes brothers broadcast from Schenectady to Sydney, Australia, missed much. The entire story was carried in yesterday's Herald by wire from Schenectady, and through the ability of the Herald staff to pick up the word by word conversation sent out from the high-power station in Schenectady which was hooked up with the low wave station eight miles away. The interesting event was very successful both in the low-wave reception and transmission, and the rebroadcast which brought it to all parts of the country at breakfast time.

Photos Taken.

MONSTER WELCOME FOR ADMIRAL BYRD

New York City Ready for Noted Explorer When He Arrives Tomorrow.

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Returning home after sixteen months of exploration in the Antarctic, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and the members of his expedition will be received as conquering heroes by the city of New York at noon tomorrow.

Expectations were that the city's welcome will surpass all receptions here since that accorded Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh on his return from his flight to Paris.

A marine parade up the harbor, a salute of thirteen guns from Governors island and a guard of honor including 3,000 troops for a procession up Broadway to City Hall have been arranged in honor of the man who flew over the earth's two poles.

First greetings to the returning explorers, however, will be extended from a big navy amphibian plane carrying former Governor Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, brother of the expedition's commander, and officials of Virginia. It was planned to circle over the two Byrd ships, the City of New York and the Eleanor Bolling, as they approach Quarantine and return in time to take part in the city's welcome.

Family Present.
Admiral Byrd's wife, children and mother were expected to go down to Quarantine on the municipal tug Macon with members of the city's official welcome committee which will be headed by Grover A. Whalen.

Among the many distinguished visitors here to honor the return of Admiral Byrd is Governor John Garland Pollard of Virginia. Two ships in addition to the Macon will carry the official party down the bay. Admiral Byrd and officers of the expedition will be taken on board the Macon at Quarantine and the crew on the steamer Riverside.

The marine parade up the harbor in which twenty-five ships are expected to take part will start at 9:50 a. m. (E.S.T.) and the guests

CANADA HITS BACK AT U. S. WITH TARIFF

Places Higher Duties on Our Exports; Foreign Press in Several Instances Condemn Our New Schedules

(By Associated Press)

A new tariff law was put into effect by the United States today and international reaction to it was reflected in actual retaliation in kind by one government, consideration by two others of measures of reprisal and condemnation from the press of several nations.

Automatically with the effectiveness of the 1,122 new rate schedules contained in the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill, Canada's countervailing duties became operative, placing higher duties on a dozen commodities imported from the United States.

Canada's Schedules
These duties, which were included in that government's May 1 budget, are applied on the principle that the Canadian tariff shall be as high on articles coming from other countries as the rates those countries levy against the same commodities from Canada.

The Belgian Cabinet discussed the new law and then decided that any retaliatory measures should await conferences with other European countries; which the Spanish government studied requests that it break the existing modus vivendi with the United States as a protest.

In Havana
In Havana, the newspaper El Mundo, attacking the new tariff law as unjust, says it will destroy the friendship between Cuba and the United States.

The Paris Petit Bleu advocates boycotting of American products in France.

It Tevere, of Rome, said the tariff "is the ultimate manifestation of the economic imperialism of the United States."

GREENWICH PRESS WINS FIRST PRIZE

State Weekly Paper Called Best of Class by Editorial Association.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 18.—(AP)—A Mississippi weekly newspaper, whose publisher entered journalism only six years ago, was awarded today the trophy for greatest community service, the highest honor bestowed by the National Editorial Association.

The McComb Enterprise, edited by J. O. Emmerich, a former farm demonstrator, was credited with having "not only the outstanding record for the last year, but probably would stand first among all weekly newspapers which have competed for this honor in former years."

Other Awards
Other first awards, announced at the annual convention were: Best weekly newspaper—Greenwich, (Conn.) Press; newspaper production contest—Bookings, (S. D.) Register; best editorial page—The Journal, (N. J.) Independent Press; best front page—Stargate, Lake, (Iowa) Pilot-Tribune; advertising promotion—Cosmopolis, (Pa.) Record.

Second place in the community service contest was awarded to the Chronicle Express, Penn. Yan, N. Y. The Traer, (Iowa) Star Clipper won the highest rank in the contest for the best weekly, but having won the award three years ago, was ineligible, and the Greenwich Press, was given first.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, June 18.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for June 6 were $41,019,975.03, expenditures $29,564,185.89, balance $72,091,545.22.

U. S. Is Facing a Crisis, Says Communistic Paper

Moscow, June 18.—(AP)—Communist newspapers declared today that the United States was facing one of the worst economic crises in its history.

Pravda, one of the organs of the Communist party, said the latest Wall Street slump was merely a prelude to a more destructive and dangerous drop.

"America's general industrial crisis," said the newspaper "has followed by an agricultural crisis of unprecedented depth and acuteness which sharply decreases the purchasing power of the farmers—the danger of a new war among the imperialistic countries, and especially against the Soviet Union, assumes a greater reality than ever."

"Wages are being lowered by capitalist countries throughout the world, there is a war in progress against the working masses, and there is a bloody struggle against colonial people in distant countries. Bolsheviks in all countries must organize to educate and enlighten the masses to take advantage of this crisis for the struggle against capitalism."

PLURALITY OF 267,000 FOR DWIGHT MORROW

Lightning Kills a Man; Races Are Called Off

Ascot, Eng., June 18.—(AP)—A terrific thunderstorm during which a man was killed by a bolt of lightning broke over the Royal Ascot race meet today and brought the session to an abrupt end.

The meeting with its attendant fashion display, was at its height when the sudden electrical storm occurred. The Royal Hunt Cup race had been run and all was animation within the enclosure.

The King and Queen, with the Prince of Wales and other members of the royal party, had arrived by motor car.

Lightning struck and instantly killed a man in Tattersall betting ring.

The main enclosure and other spaces were flooded in a few minutes in the downpour.

All further racing for the day had to be abandoned.

Society women, caught in a rush for shelter, when a deluge descended upon the throng, were thrown to the muddy ground and trampled underfoot.

Hats were knocked off, parasols were lost and some of the women arrived at the stands without their slippers which had been left behind, stuck in the mud or torn from their feet.

King George and Queen Mary, accompanied by the Prince of Wales and escorted by many of their guests at Windsor Castle, had arrived in motor cars and were in the royal box when the storm occurred.

They were chatting animatedly when almost instantly the scene of confusion was precipitated before their eyes.

Three peasants, frightened by the storm, climbed the church belfry and swung the bells with their hands in signal to the remainder of the crowd to kneel and pray. Just as they knelt lightning struck the belfry and they were killed.

The church caught fire and six died later of burns. A larger number of others were burned badly, the peasants remaining rooted to the spot.

Bucharest, June 18.—(AP)—A dispatch from Scharasch near Fagarasch, Transylvania, today said that three persons were killed and six fatally injured when lightning struck the tolling church bells of a church sheltering a crowd in a terrific storm there.

Valley Stream, N. Y., June 18.—(AP)—A helicopter plane on which $250,000 has been spent and which took four years to build was given its first public showing at Curtiss Field today. Because of an oil leak no flight was attempted.

The plane is radical in design, even for a helicopter. It has no standard wing but four revolving wings, in each of which a standard four-bladed propeller is mounted on the leading edge.

The four propellers are run by the one engine, a 425-horsepower air-cooled radial, which is mounted on its keel just below the four wings. Underneath is slung a two-seated car, similar to the gondolas on blimps.

Can Rise Vertically
The principle of the plane is that it can rise vertically and descend in the same way, thus requiring little more than the space it occupies for a landing field.

After the ascent the slant of the wings is changed and the plane then can move forward, backward and to either side.

The radical departure in engine mounting, not fully worked out as yet, was said to have caused the oil leak which postponed today's test. The ship is the brain child of Mattland Bleeker and is known as the Curtiss Bleeker Helicopter.

Deny the Yarn.
Studio officials in Hollywood discounted the story. They said Clara was given to talking extravagantly. They told the Associated Press they knew nothing of any demand for money.

Today Miss Bow, who has been entertained by automobile rides and dances and apparently avoiding further interviews, was found again by a reporter. This time she said that, instead of remaining two weeks as she had intended, she would leave Monday or Tuesday. "Too much hot weather and too much noise" was her explanation.

The cinema star was accompanied in Dallas by her secretary who also was using the same assumed name.

Ambassador to Mexico Sweeps New Jersey; Gets 374,276 Ballots to 107, 174 for Fort Who Was Backed by the Anti-Sa- loon League—Prohibition Was the Main Issue.

Newark, N. J., June 18.—(AP)—With a demonstration of strength which exceeded the hopes of his most optimistic partisans, Dwight W. Morrow swept New Jersey in yesterday's primary for the Republican nomination as United States Senator with a plurality of more than 267,000.

With 223 districts of the state's 3304 missing, the vote today was: Morrow, 374,276, Franklin W. Fort, 107,175, Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, 43,093. The poll for John A. Kelly, a fourth contestant, was negligible.

Morrow also won the nomination for the four-month period remaining in the unexpired term of Walter E. Edge, now ambassador to France. Kelly was his only opponent in that contest.

Personal Appeal
Ambassador to Mexico and member of the American delegation to the London naval conference, Mr. Morrow apparently was the beneficiary of a personal appeal which wiped out whatever hope those interested in prohibition had for a specific indication on that subject in the primary.

Prohibition was the outstanding issue of the campaign, but Morrow swept through every one of the twenty-one counties of the state, wet and dry. Frelinghuysen, making a third effort to go to the Senate, this time as an anti-prohibitionist after being twice defeated as a dry, was supposed to have shared the wet vote with Morrow. Fort ran with the support of the Anti-Saloon League.

The Rev. Dr. James K. Shields, superintendent of the New Jersey Anti-Saloon League, explained Morrow's victory by describing him as "the best advertised candidate."

Only the pluralities received by Presidents Coolidge and Hoover in 1924 and 1928 exceeded the New Jersey plurality given Morrow yesterday. The greatest plurality ever registered in the state was in 1926 when Coolidge defeated John W. Davis by 377,419 votes.

REJOICING IN MEXICO.
Mexico City, June 18.—(AP)—There was great rejoicing in Mexico today among Americans and Mexicans alike over Ambassador Morrow's overwhelming victory in the New Jersey Senatorial primary elections yesterday.

Election returns were furnished in bulletin form by the Foreign Correspondents' Club and newspapers to many Mexicans and Americans who sat up late to hear them. As soon as the result was seen to be certain messages of congratulation poured into the cable offices for transmission to Mr. Morrow's home at Englewood.

Mr. Morrow is expected to return to Mexico City late this month or early in July to wind up matters in connection with his diplomatic post. It was believed here he would remain in Mexico about three months before relinquishing his post.

VARIOUS COMMENTS.
New York, June 18.—(AP)—Comments on Ambassador Morrow's nomination for Senator in New Jersey, obtained by the New York World follow:

F. Scott McBride of the Anti-Saloon League—The nomination of a wet candidate is nothing new. Mr. Morrow is no more wet than Senator Edge. If he is elected he does not mean any addition to the State Police Commissioner Robert T. Hurley from Policeman Thomas Rose, now in Oklahoma, this afternoon.

BROCK AND SCHLEE BACK IN FLORIDA

Take 16 Hours, 50 Minutes On Return Trip from California.

Jacksonville, Fla., June 18.—(AP)—William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee, transcontinental fliers, arrived over the Jacksonville Municipal Airport at 12:55 p. m. (E. S. T.), and headed at once for Jacksonville Beach, the finish of their round trip flight to San Diego, Calif.

The plane proceeded to the beach where it made a circle, flew over the finish line and then went back to the municipal airport to land. The tide was too high for a beach landing.

The aviators appeared at the airport 16 hours and 50 minutes after they took off from San Diego, Calif., last night.

Were Overdue The appearance of the fliers brought great relief to the flight officials and mechanics who feared they might have been forced down in the far western wastes since no definite word of them had been received since the California take-off.

In landing at the airport, the plane, which was about 20 miles from the beach, flew over the runway and went into a fence. The plane was tilted on its side, one wheel was broken but the men were unhurt.

The plane shot across the finish line at Jacksonville Beach at 1:01 a. m. according to the official timer. This gave Brock and Schlee a total elapsed time from San Diego of 16 hours and 50 minutes.

MISS ROSSI LEADING POPULARITY RACE

The old saying "changeable as the weather," aptly describes the lead in the hotly contested race for coronation as Manchester's Most Popular Girl, as exactly 2,536 votes, cast during Monday and Tuesday through the entries up to 20 and sent Miss Inez Rossi sky-rocketing into first place by cornering 544 votes of the number cast, bringing her total to 1626. Miss Pearl Robinson of Summit street, again felt the heat as she received 321 votes, and Miss Sophie Rykoski of Hilliard street, whose 719 additional votes brought her total to 1123, within a short distance of Miss Robinson's 1185.

As a result of Miss Rykoski's sensational spurt, Miss Estelle Jackson of Pleasant street, is eased into fourth place with 789 ballots, and a newcomer Miss Gladys Dickson of 98 1/2 Hamilton street, jumping right into the running with 621 votes in a jump, to take fifth position. Sixth place goes to Miss Margaret Davis of Union street with 403 votes and Miss Katharine Georgetti of Birch street, moved up another notch to seventh place with 347 votes. Miss Bertha Carlson of Woodbridge is holding eighth place by virtue of 311 votes and Miss Elaine Schultz is back in ninth place with 288. Miss Fanny Hewitt of West Center street, has dropped to tenth place, and Miss Mary Vince into eleventh.

The other two newcomers in the contest which ends Monday, June 20, are Miss Sue Kelley of Hemlock street, and Miss Helen Schnell of 23 Bank street. Those who fell below eleventh position, including the aforementioned two, are: Miss Laura West of East Middle Turnpike, Fanny Arvanetakis of Chestnut street, Gertrude Powers of Garden street, Florence Newman of Laurel street, Frosso Dadamos of Main street and Miss Edith Baldwin of 98 Wells street.

The contest is being run by the State theater, and is sponsored by Warner Brothers and the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce. The winner will receive a free vacation trip to Atlantic City or its equivalent and also a complete wardrobe and other equipment from the co-operating merchants.

RED LAUDS ENGINEERS

Moscow, June 18.—(AP)—Upon completion of the Soviet Union's first great tractor plant at Stalingrad, with capacity for annual production of 50,000 tractors, Joseph Stalin, head of the Communist Party, dispatched a warm message of thanks to the American engineers who aided in the design and construction of the factory.

Charles H. Struth of New York, one of the American engineers, replied by telegraph. "American engineers and workers are proud that they participated in the gigantic work of industrializing the Soviet Union. They promise to continue to give maximum efforts in energy and experience for the further success of Soviet industry."

DIES FROM SHOCK

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 18.—(AP)—A bank messenger who was held up and robbed Monday died last night from the shock. He collapsed shortly after the robbery and was unconscious until a few hours before his death.

The man was John B. Stauff, 37, a school teacher, $2,800 was seized from his hand as he was on his way to a downtown bank. Before his collapse he identified Harry Aldred, captured after a chase by police, as one of the robbers. Harry Manning, 27, was held by police as the second of the two bandits.

ARREST BOTH DRIVERS AS TWO CARS CRASH

Raymond Chambers of This Town and Raymond LeBlanc of Hartford Involved In Accident.

Two arrests grew out of an accident involving Raymond Chambers of 85 Birch street, and Raymond LeBlanc of 268 Sargeant street, Hartford, on the Stafford Springs highway, near the Crystal Lake road at 11:30 o'clock last night. State Police men, who investigated the crash which badly damaged each car and brought one of the passengers under medical care with two severe scalp wounds, arrested Chambers on a charge of failure to give right of way, and LeBlanc on a charge of driving without operator's license. He ordered both drivers to appear in Toland court next Tuesday.

The deceptive appearance of the road, caused by 10 foot shoulders on each side, is said to have been the cause of the mishap. Chambers was returning from Crystal Lake and thought he was driving on the right side when in reality, it is said, he was a little too far over. LeBlanc, had as passenger the owner of the car, Louis Weiss, of 32 Florence street, Hartford. The car, a Chevrolet, had been delivered to Weiss yesterday and he had not obtained his license to drive. Weiss was the man injured. He was taken to Rockville for medical attention.

LeBlanc, thinking Chambers meant to turn into a side road, attempted to drive around him on the left, and the crash was the result. The Chevrolet was badly smashed along the left side and Chamber's Dodge coach was not far from a complete wreck. When State Police men investigated, they discovered that LeBlanc did not possess a Connecticut driver's license, but a Massachusetts one, and accordingly arrested him, along with Chambers.

tribute to his personal popularity as an endorsement of the wet program. Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, said this is a great tribute to a great man. The Republicans of New Jersey not only understand Dwight Morrow's abilities but they also are determined to repeal the 18th Amendment. The Republican leaders of other states may well take warning before it is too late.

U. S. Senator Walsh (Dem., Mont.)—I could neither rejoice nor be distressed over the nomination of Mr. Morrow. It will be interesting to have in the senate a man right out from the firm of Morgar & Co.

U. S. Senator Morris Shepard (Dem., Texas)—New Jersey has long been recognized as a wet state. The political machinery that dominates the Republican Party in that state is actively working. The victory of Mr. Morrow simply means that the Republican machinery in New Jersey is working effectively.

HURT IN AUTO CRASH STUDENT DIES TODAY

Hartford, June 22.—(AP)—Bruce McPherson, 19, member of the Hotchkiss school graduating class, who was critically injured in an automobile accident at Lakeville last Friday during commencement week, died this morning at the Hartford hospital. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. McPherson of Short Hills, N. J.

Miss Lida Ellsworth, daughter of John S. Ellsworth of Simsbury, who was a guest of Mr. McPherson and riding in his car at the time of the accident, also sustained injuries including a broken collar bone, cuts, and an injured back. It is understood she will recover.

While details of the accident were meager, school authorities believe the couple went for a short ride between dances Friday evening, with McPherson driving.

DENIES QUASH MOTION

Boston, June 18.—(AP)—Judge William A. Burns today denied a motion to quash an indictment charging former liquor officer Oliver B. Garrett, his wife and Mrs. Lillian V. Hatch with conspiracy to extort money although quashing a similar indictment against the three charging conspiracy to solicit a bribe.

Both indictments grew out of alleged dealings of Garrett with John F. Sullivan, former proprietor of the Hotel Ritz, which was padlocked for liquor violations some time ago. Sullivan charged at the recent investigation of the attorney general's office into Garrett's dealings that he had paid the ex-liquor officer protection money.

Judge Burns also denied a motion of the defendants that the state be required to furnish them with a bill of particulars.

HAI AN HONEST MAN Middletown, June 18.—(AP)—Police officers held opinion that Diogenes would have won out here in his search for an honest man, or two. They were notified by workmen of the Standard Oil plant that cases of home brew had been hidden behind a billboard near the place. The police went down and seized the two cases. A party was held close by last night and all the brew was not consumed.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING BRIDGEPORT, JUNE 18.—(AP)—James J. Walsh of Meriden, chairman of the Democratic State Convention today announced that the committee will meet at Savin Rock June 24 at 5:30 p. m. E. D. T. to formulate plans for the opening of the state campaign.

The meeting will precede a gathering of state Democrats which will be held at Savin Rock.

LACK OF FUNDS HURTS MISSIONARY MOVEMENT

Chicago, June 18.—(AP)—Serious retractions of their missionary programs are being forced upon Christian churches by diminishing financial support. Dr. John C. Acheson, of St. Paul, president of Macalester college, disclosed today in his annual report of the executive committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement. Dr. Acheson is chairman of the committee.

Curtailment of funds, he declared, has deprived a mission field of many forms of charitable work and forced closing of hospitals, dispensaries, schools and asylums.

Finding that contributions from women's mission boards have gained while church benevolent budgets generally decreased, he blamed the shrinkage in mission aid, and analyzed the causes his committee found for the downward trend.

"Christian idealism has embarrassed many commercial, industrial and political agencies in their exploitation of native labor on the continent," Dr. Acheson reported. "This has resulted in active opposition, and a flood of propaganda, too great for our missionary workers to stem, has been let loose among tourists and through newspapers and magazines."

Motor Hints

Timely Suggestions on the Care of the Car by the Automobile Club of Hartford.

Charging As You Go A battery that has been run down overnight by leaving the lights burning or the ignition on usually can be brought back to life without removing it from the car.

The first step is to see that there is a sufficient amount of water in the battery cells and that the terminals are clean and tight. The engine should then be cranked by hand or by towing the car if the owner has lost the crank or is fearful of a broken arm. This much done, it is important to keep the engine running fast enough to provide the highest charging rate.

By keeping the engine from idling, therefore, it is possible to maintain a maximum charging rate even when driving through traffic. In stopping, the choke should be pulled out momentarily so that subsequent cranking will make the least possible demands on the battery while it is in process of being charged.

Every driver ought to know whether his car is equipped with a fuel pump or a vacuum tank if only as a precaution against more serious trouble should a fire develop under the hood.

If the car carries a vacuum system the rule is to let the engine run when fire is discovered. This serves to consume whatever gasoline is in the carburetor, but the petcock at the bottom of the vacuum tank should be shut off at once. The less gasoline there is in and around the carburetor naturally the less serious the fire is likely to be.

With a fuel pump system it is best to switch off the engine. Never attempt to disconnect any of the fuel lines since it is the vapor of gasoline that is explosive.

If there is any suspicion that fire may have developed in the carburetor it is a good plan to suck the flame up into the intake manifold by stepping on the starter for a few minutes.

Eighteen billion telephone messages over American telephones last year traveled 45 billion miles, or over 480 times the distance from the earth to the sun.

LITTLE JOE

DR. MACKENZIE H. S. SPEAKER

President of Hartford Seminary to Give Commencement Address.

Dr. W. Douglas Mackenzie, president of the Hartford Seminary Foundation, will be the principal guest speaker at the annual graduation exercises at Manchester High school tomorrow evening. His subject, although unannounced, can be expected to be a most fitting and appropriate one for the occasion.

The program opens at 8 o'clock with selections by the high school orchestra and the combined glee clubs after which Miss Doris Fuller will deliver the salutatory and her essay entitled "Real Values." The valedictory is to be given by Miss Muriel Dorothy Tomlinson. Her essay will be on "Dreamers." Howell Cheney, as usual, will present the diplomas.

SWEET TOLD BOARD OF SEWERS, HE SAYS

Mr. Olmsted and have reported to the Directors.

The President is only one of the Board and does not have any powers only those granted him by the Board. If he makes suggestions or recommendations and they are not looked favorably upon and voted, then they are not carried out.

The President has never been given any power to consult any engineer in regard to sewers but Mr. Olmsted. Have many times stated to the Board that the Tank on North Main street was overloaded and there would have to be something done there. Your assertion that Dr. Sweet was all to blame is not true as he has never given any authority to make any changes or to get any proposition in regard to new construction at the Disposal plant.

The statement made in your paper that I said "I guessed it would be possible to fix things up" was never made by me. Have never been interviewed by your paper on the subject of sewer disposal in this District. As far as my being a candidate for re-election as President at this time will state that I am not anxious for the office. Have had twenty years of this work. At first decided that I would withdraw my name but have been requested by some of those who have in the past supported me to let it stand. Am not personally fighting for the office, as you state. Have never asked for any persons vote or to be nominated, and am not anxious to release the law as my personal feelings are concerned shall be just as well pleased to be relieved of the burdens of the office. My time, energy and thought has always been in the interest of the north end, without any consideration of remuneration.

Yours truly, F. A. SWEET.

Herald's Story. The Herald's understanding is that the communication from the State Commissioner of Health in question was not "presented to the Board of Directors" but a small part of its substance was verbally imparted and the documents retained in the personal possession of Dr. Sweet instead of being filed among the papers in the possession of the board's clerk, where it belonged. The fact that the directors are aware that the lease of the septic tank land cannot be renewed and are awaiting the alternative proposal is without bearing on the condition of the disposal service.

Dr. Sweet's statement that no has never been interviewed by this newspaper on the subject of sewage disposal raises the issue of veracity between him and the Herald. He is correct up to the extent that the Herald's building press and linotype machines did not become animate, hunt him up and question him.

Dr. Sweet says he has given his time, energy and thought to the North End without any consideration of remuneration. We wonder if he would be willing to contribute to the exact total of his income and of his relatives, out of Eighth District taxes during his term of office—and to have it checked by an expert audit.

A PENNY SAVED—Worcester, Mass.—John Boyden, now 87, bought a home when he was a lot younger and times were better. He took out a $1000 mortgage on it. Came a time when the interest couldn't be met through his earnings. So he went up in his attic and with three men carried down a trunk. It contained exactly 100,000 pennies, and weighed 700 pounds. With his $100 in coppers, John lifted the mortgage.

DRIVER MUST PAY Springfield, Ill.—At Bend, Ill., Frank Cordera recently drove his truck in front of an oncoming freight train. The resulting collision caused the derailing of the locomotive and five freight cars. Damages of $30,000 were asked by the railway company. At the trial a verdict was returned in favor of the company, but the damages allowed were only $10,000.

VERY OLD BUCK London.—Dr. John Dixon is perhaps the most active old man in the world. At 98 he holds the records as the oldest member of the Royal College of Surgeons, the oldest of the oldest magistrates in England, and the oldest member of an extensive lodge. He is in robust health and goes in for everything modern except radio.

SIX AT BIRTH Rio De Janeiro.—Senhora Hanssen, of the little town of Paripatinga, recently gave birth to six infants, all within an hour, and all boys. She is 23, and already has two other children, a girl and a boy. She has been married three years.

National Guard Notes

Major Charles S. Buck, the senior instructor of the regiment visited the Co. G camp at Middletown. The Major's visit are always interesting and instructive and Monday night's visit was no exception. He is keen for attention being paid to military details and the men appreciate his very enlightening explanation of the various military movements. It is hoped the Major's duties will allow him to visit Co. G frequently.

New members of the Howitzer Co. are: Paul Livineyky of Bolton and John Zasek of Buckland. Both men signed up last night.

By next Monday evening Co. G's pay checks, covering the period from March 1 to May 31, inclusive, will be distributed. This is welcome news to all men on the roster with answer "Here" when his name is called. The process of making up a military payroll and payment of military services is quite intricate and will be discussed more fully at a later date.

A school for men interested in preparing for the grade of corporal has been announced in the Howitzer company. Meetings of the school will be held on Monday evenings at 7:30 p. m. at the Howitzer Co. Headquarters. Lieutenant Horace F. Murphey has been assigned as instructor to supervise the work. As announced last week several new corporals will be "made" in full and the school will be conducted for company members. Any member of the company may attend.

Corporals to be, Gozdz and "Skeeball" are on Co. G's casualty list. Gozdz was stung or bitten on the left hand by an insect. He is in full recovery and is expected to return to duty. It is hoped nothing serious develops, as Gozdz is one of Co. G's most dependable men.

About "Skeeball"—that's a Whale of a story. As the story goes, Lieutenant Hagedorn's McCavannah's father, Private Cassell and last but not least "Skeeball," went deep-sea fishing, Sunday, off New London. McCavannah is fast getting into military to his favorite sport.

The boat for the briny deep. On the way out critical and learned remarks were made about the poor alignment of the motor, the engine and the base. One of those present had to be restrained from commanding "straighten up that line." The ship was thoroughly inspected on the way out and a spirited discussion started down "below" regarding the merits of electrical refrigeration. After the inspection and discussion of the refrigerator, the men were inclined to engage in a contest of some kind and it wound up with only one made the top.

In some manner a hook became imbedded in "Skeeball's" hand and it could not be removed with ordinary methods. Eventually, the flesh had to be cut up to release the hook. As a result the hand was exposed to infection. Upon the return to New London he was immediately inoculated to prevent infection and it is hoped nothing serious will develop.

The Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening was held in the Conference House, Percy Cook acted as leader, the topic being "How great leaders served their generation."

Charles Phelps left for Boston Monday morning when the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for a six-weeks course of study. Mr. Phelps will room with his friend Merwin Little in Cambridge.

The graded school closed Monday morning. Only one graduated from the eighth grade; it was Louise Litwin.

Mrs. George Shatz and son Kenneth of East Hartford are spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shatz. They all attended the picnic in Hartford Monday evening.

Mrs. Sarah Platt of Manchester spent Sunday night with Mrs. A. E. Frink.

Mrs. Janet Smith was a caller in Wilmette Monday. She was observed in the church Sunday morning. There was a very large congregation. The children all did unusually well especially the little ones. Master Henry Hilliard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hilliard played the organ during the collection being taken.

Mrs. Janet Smith is having considerable work done on her house. George Ladd is doing the work. Mr. Ladd is an interior decorator and does very fine work.

The topic for next Sunday's sermon will be Vocation and Vacation. Young People's Day, Rev. Wallace Woodin, pastor. In the evening the topic for the Christian Endeavor meeting will be "How Jesus Made Leaders of His Disciples." Miss Mildred Hamilton, leader.

AMEND WAGNER BILL Washington, June 18.—(AP)—While President Hoover was receiving an encouraging version of the unemployment situation, the House judiciary committee today approved an amended Wagner bill for advanced planning of public works to combat unemployment.

William A. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, carried word to the White House of evidence "that we are reaching a point of improvement. He expects the census to show conditions are better than as pictured in some quarters. The House committee referred to a subcommittee the Wagner bill to establish a national system of employment bureau sponsored by Senator Wagner, Democrat of New York. Both measures have been passed by the Senate.

SACKETT DELIVERS HIS POWER SPEECH

Insull Objects to Portions of It But It Is Made Just the Same.

Berlin, June 18.—(AP)—Frederick M. Sackett, American ambassador, this afternoon delivered before the world power conference an unexpected version of his speech on power costs which had been reported eliminated at the behest of Samuel Insull, Chicago corporation magnate.

Ambassador Sackett previously had caused his address to be published in the morning newspapers of Berlin when Mr. Insull had objected to it in the advance text as controversial. Mr. Sackett last night announced the address would be given in full with alternation and this afternoon he carried out this intention.

The address calls attention to alleged discrepancies between production costs and prices at which power was sold. He made a plea to the world power conferees for adjustment of these differences. He also dealt at some length upon agitation in the United States for government owned utilities enterprises.

When the text reached Mr. Insull he approached the ambassador and suggested considerable changes. Mr. Sackett, without retracting his views, agreed that his words might be interpreted as presumptuous for a non-delegate speaker no matter how well he might be informed on his topic.

The embassy passed word to the press to hold up the address but later advanced its time of publication. Mr. Sackett informed Mr. Insull of his intention to proceed as originally planned and Mr. Insull it was understood later, visited the ambassador at his residence and withdrew his objections.

ANDOVER

Mrs. Ward Talbot, accompanied by her aunt of Ellington, attended the Loyalty Luncheon, given by the Connecticut Women's Committee for Law Enforcement in New Haven, Thursday. The first part of the program was a pageant, which was given in the Center church. Before the luncheon was served a half hour's recess was declared, during which time Mrs. Talbot called on her daughter, Mrs. G. Wynn Williams, of Orange street, New Haven.

Mrs. William A. Williams attended the luncheon with her mother and her aunt. One of the speakers on the program was Evangelin Booth, who spoke very interestingly.

SCHOOL CHILDREN GIVE MISS SPILLANE SURPRISE

Miss Frances Spillane of Strickland street who has been principal of the Highland Park school of the Third district for the past three years, was very much surprised yesterday afternoon toward the close of the session by her seventh grade children and several of their mothers.

Miss Spillane was engaged in writing sentences on the blackboard when the pupils in unison gleefully cried "Surprise!" She turned and saw at the rear of the room Mrs. Henry Durkee, Mrs. Ernest Bantley and Mrs. Fred Carpenter who laughingly informed her that they were there to take charge and had seen to it that the other rooms would be dismissed at the proper time all but grade 7.

The children, Miss Spillane and the guests then adjourned to the kindergarten where games were played and everybody had a jolly time, with ice cream, cookies and other good things to make it a real party. As a reminder of the big surprise, Miss Spillane, who is leaving to be married, was presented with a handsome pewter lamp with parchment shade.

ABOUT TOWN

Clarence H. Anderson, local insurance agent, has purchased a cottage on Bolton Lake, near the O'Leary tract.

Miss Marjorie Russell of New York City is spending her vacation with her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hutchinson of Hamlin street.

Adjutant Joseph Heard and Mrs. Heard of the local Salvation Army corps returned yesterday after attending the commencement exercises at the training college in New York. Mrs. William T. Smith of Charter Oak Place and her daughters, Lillian and Annie, were other Manchester people present. Miss Edith Leggett of Spruce street has been retained for another year on the staff, with the rank of captain. She is entering upon her fourth year.

Clarence A. Davis of Brookfield street will be in charge of the mid-week prayer service this evening at the South Methodist church.

Manchester Electric employees left town about 1:15 today in private automobiles for an outing at East Hampton. They will make their headquarters at the Edgewater Hotel, Lake Pocotopaug. Following an afternoon of water and other sports they will enjoy a turkey dinner.

name and they have been divorced or at least separated for some time.

Dives from Window During a period of questioning in the detective bureau department, Miss Baronowsky asked permission to get a drink of water from an ice-water container nearby. Police naturally agreed and were taken completely by surprise when she suddenly slammed the glass into the sink and dove head first through an open window landing on her face on the pavement of Kinsley street.

On Danger List Police rushed the woman to the Hartford hospital where her name was placed on the danger list. Dr. Maxwell O. Phelps, who attended Miss Baronowsky, told The Herald that she was very critically injured and that he doubted she would recover. He listed her injuries as a probable fracture of the skull, severe laceration over right eye, broken nose, contusions of the entire face with two teeth knocked out.

Child Returned Miss Baronowsky was rendered semi-conscious. She was aware of what was being said to her and could feel the pain, but would not respond to questions. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Baronowsky went to the hospital as soon as they learned of the matter. Meanwhile Sergeant McGinn returned the miss-missed girl to her parents at four o'clock this morning.

Miss Baronowsky on two other occasions tried to end her life, one by taking ammonia and on another instance by leaping from an automobile in which she was being taken to the House of Good Shepherd for commitment, following a trial in the local police court for danger of falling into habits of vice. She was not hurt. Later she worked at the Memorial hospital and was again sent to the home for young women when she stole a silk dress.

Regardless of these facts, Miss Baronowsky came in for much credit from persons living in the Beehive section. It was pointed out that Miss Baronowsky was very fond of children and that she did more for Mary than the girl's own mother. Few, if any, were inclined to believe that Miss Baronowsky seriously considered kidnapping the child, but merely was unwise to keep her so long without letting the mother know.

And perhaps Michael, ex-boy king, is just as glad his dad's back. Now maybe he can look forward to some help with his home lessons.

FAMOUS INVENTOR W. H. BRISTOL, DIES

Made Possible the Talkies; Seventy Years Old—Was Born in Waterbury.

New Haven, June 18.—(AP)—Prof. William Henry Bristol, inventor of the Bristol phone and numerous recording instruments and president of the Bristol Company of Waterbury died today at New Haven hospital. He was 70 years old.

Prof. William Henry Bristol, inventor, educator, manufacturer and founder of the Bristol Co. of Waterbury was born July 5, 1859 in Waterbury, the son of the late Benjamin H. and Pauline Phelps Bristol.

A pioneer in manufacturing of recording instruments in America and inventor of the Bristol phone, an instrument which synchronized sound and action in motion pictures, Mr. Bristol gained an international reputation as scientist and inventor.

Many Inventions. During the many years which he devoted to his scientific work, Mr. Bristol developed a complete line of recording instruments adapted to meet almost every industrial requirement. His inventions included instruments for measuring pressure, temperature, electricity, speed and time.

In 1915 he conceived the idea of recording simultaneously sound and action. The invention and production of the Bristol phone followed. To perfect this instrument he spent nearly a million dollars in the construction of a fully equipped motion picture laboratory and studio in Waterbury.

Early Education. Prof. Bristol received his early education in the public schools of Naugatuck. After working as a clerk in a general store in that town for four years, he went to Stevens Institute.

Two years after his graduation he was appointed a mathematics instructor at Stevens and later was given a professorship in that department.

Founded Company. Prof. Bristol founded the Bristol Company in 1899 to manufacture and market his inventions. He held many medals awarded him at various expositions for his inventions. Among these were the John Scott legacy which he received from the Franklin Institute at Philadelphia in 1890 and one awarded at the Sesquicentennial at Philadelphia four years ago.

He was a member of numerous societies, including the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Society of Motion Picture Engineers and American Institute of Electrical Engineers. He was also a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Mr. Bristol had been ill for several months suffering from a blood clot in the region of the heart. He went to Florida last winter for a complete rest but last week his condition became grave and he was removed from his Waterbury home to the hospital here.

During recent years, he had devoted a great deal of energy and time to the invention and production of the Bristol phone. Close application to this instrument is believed to have taken a great deal of his strength.

WRECK BLOCKS TRAFFIC

New York, June 18.—(AP)—A southbound passenger train of the New York Central railroad side-swiped a sixty-car milk train near Spuyten Duyvil this morning. The Bronx shortly after 7 o'clock (EST.) this morning, derailing the engine of the passenger train and wrecking three cars of the milk train.

There were no casualties, but trains were held up for more than an hour. Two sections of the Twentieth Century arriving from Chicago were belated, and hundreds of commuters arrived tardily at their offices.

FORCED TO SUSPEND

New York, June 18.—(AP)—R. H. Hooper & Co., members of the New York Cotton Exchange, notified the Exchange today that they were unable to meet their obligations "owing to irregularities within our organization."

The announcement, contained in a letter to the secretary of the Exchange, was read from the rostrum of the Exchange this morning. It said that the firm expected to be able to liquidate its obligations "in due time to the full extent."

J. C. Monier, senior partner, explained that the firm was forced to suspend operations because of lack of ready cash, due to the speculations of one of the firm's clerks in France, who operated under an assumed name. He added that the firm was "perfectly solvent" and expected to be able to pay 100 cents on the dollar.

Above is the staff of radio engineers, announcers and newspaper men who greeted Tom Hayes and The Herald's representative, Archie Kilpatrick, at Schenectady yesterday for broadcast conversation with Sydney, Australia. The photograph was taken outside the short wave station W2XAF eight miles outside of Schenectady. In the above group are: Back row, left to right—A. B. Hitt, radio engineer, Maurice Prescott, engineer in charge of radio wave propagation; F. B. Eldridge, engineer and Harry Maule, engineer. Front row—left to right—W. T. Meenan, G. E. Clyde Kittell, chief announcer of WGY, Thomas Hayes, Archie Kilpatrick, Charles Kihlmiere, Schenectady Union Star, C. D. Wagoner, manager of G-E news bureau, William Purcell in charge of WGY and Chester Woodin.

for close co-operation throughout, the unique event, also for a fine inspection tour of the entire General Electric plant in charge of William T. Meenan, of the G. E. news bureau upon returning to the city.

The greatest adventure in the life of Tom and John Hayes, brothers of the old days, is over. Yesterday, thanks to perfect atmospheric conditions for radio wave reception and re-broadcast many thousands of people fresh from their night's rest listened to the human, touching conversation resumed over many leagues of sea and continent after 56 years of silence.

Touching. The world knows today just what Tom Hayes of South Manchester felt and expressed under the spell of the most modern mode of voice transmission. It also knows the manner in which John, the Australian brother responded. Those who were tuned in on WGY at 7 a. m. yesterday heard John in the far away Antipodes choke with emotion when Tom reminded him through 10,000 miles of space that they were the last of a long line. John broke down and cried, halting momentarily the conversation. But at his side a woman's voice his daughter, possibly, spurred him on to the task of talking across the world.

Human Interest. There were also amusing bits of homely talk that went out from the widely separated microphones. They talked of the old days in Manchester when both were school boys. They told the world, figuratively speaking, the problems of the barefoot summer lad, dirty of feet who was made to bed, and them before tumbling into bed. And they objected because a playmate didn't have to wash his until he went to school in the morning!

will be landed at the Battery at 10:30 a. m. With 3,000 troops forming a guard of honor the parade up Broadway to the City Hall will get underway at 10:40 arriving at City Hall at 11 a. m. where it will pass in review before Mayor James J. Walker. A painting commemorating his achievement will be presented to Admiral Byrd by Mayor Walker, while each member of the expedition will receive the city's medal of valor. The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws will be presented to Admiral Byrd by Chancellor Elmer E. Brown of New York University.

Radio Description. A complete radio description of the reception at Quarantine and the ceremonies at City Hall will be broadcast over nation-wide chains by both the National Broadcasting company and the Columbia Broadcasting system.

Admiral Byrd and his men will remain in New York only one day, leaving at midnight Thursday for Washington to be received by President Hoover and to be guests at a luncheon given by the National Geographic Society. Admiral Byrd on Saturday will be received at Richmond, Va., by Governor Pollard and will spend Sunday at his home in Winchester, Va. A long program of receptions will follow extending as far as July 11 when he will be a guest of honor in Chicago.

Cambridge, Mass., June 18.—(AP)—Captain W. N. Vernou of the U. S. S. Northampton today awarded commissions as ensigns in the naval reserve to 18 Harvard seniors in the first ceremony of the kind ever held here. All were graduates of the course in naval science and tactics.

SHOULDER OF ROAD CAUSES SKID CRASH

Local Car Figures in Accident Last Evening at Boland's Filling Station.

An automobile owned by Miss Madeline O'Brien of 134 Prospect street and driven by her brother, Joseph O'Brien of 11 Brainard place, South Manchester, figured in an accident on the Manchester-Boland filling station at 6:29 last night when it skidded and struck a car driven by Harold William Booth of Olga avenue, Hartford. In the car with Mr. O'Brien at the time of the accident was his wife, who was bruised about the shoulder, while in the Hartford car was Mrs. M. Fisher of Putnam street, Hartford, Miss Gladys M. Fisher of the same address.

The O'Brien party was driving home from Bolton while the Fisher family was driving east. The road was wet and the O'Brien car is said to have slipped off the shoulder of the road skidded as it came back onto the hard road and was struck by the car proceeding east. Although the three women were attended at Dr. George Lundberg's office following the accident the injuries were not serious. Officer Walter Cassell investigated.

GANDHI'S CAMPAIGN IS LOSING GROUND

So Says Government Bulletin in Bombay—City Reported Quiet Today.

Bombay, India, June 18.—(AP)—Pundit Motilal Nehru, acting president of the All-India National Congress, led a long procession of Indian Nationalists to the Congress House on his arrival here today.

His visit was said to be in response to an invitation from the Bombay Congress committee, which has been engaged in making disobedience to the new anti-picketing ordinance effective.

In some quarters it was taken as adding significance to reports that the government was ready to negotiate with Mahatma Gandhi, imprisoned at Yeroda jail, Poona, for settlement of the political dispute.

A government statement, published today, reflected official optimism that the Nationalist civil disobedience campaign was losing force.

"Active opposition on the part of those who disapprove of it is steadily increasing with the belief that it is doomed to failure," it said. "What seemed as likely to become a violent outbreak yesterday in connection with repression of picketing of foreign cloth shops in the European area was averted when the police commissioner accepted suggestions of the leader of the Nationalist volunteers that he withdraw the police and allow the volunteers to control the crowd."

Immediately the police were withdrawn the volunteers took charge and calmed the crowd, directed traffic and maintained order.

ALL DIRECTORS RESIGN

Kansas City, June 18.—(AP)—Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, today revealed that all members of the executive committee of the National Livestock Marketing Association, million-dollar government sponsored co-operative, had presented resignations preparatory to the election of a new committee July 14.

Mr. Legge indicated that the resignations were offered as a matter of routine under an agreement at the time of formation of the co-operative in Chicago October 14, 1929.

He said the members of the committee were stepping out so undue preference could be charged against the organization.

BLUENOSE REFLOATED

Halifax, N. S., June 18.—(AP)—The schooner Bluenose, champion racer of the North Atlantic fishing fleet, which has been ashore at Point Roche in Placentia Bay, Newfoundland, was hauled off early today by the Canadian government steamer Arras.

The Marine and Fisheries Department was told the Bluenose was not damaged seriously. The Arras took the schooner in tow for Burin, forty miles away.

DISCOVER ONE BODY OF 8 MISSING MEN

Toledo, O., June 18.—(AP)—The finding of several articles of clothing and the body of John Liptack, one of eight Toledoans lost in Lake Erie strengthened the belief today that all the men are dead. The manner of their death remained as much a mystery as when the speed-boat was found Sunday floating upright in the lake.

The fact that Coroner Frank G. Krept said Liptack's death was due to exposure and not to drowning, increased the wonder why he had left the boat. His body was scantily clad, indicating that he had discarded his clothing to be as free as possible to save himself.

The wrist watch on his arm had stopped at 10:50, two hours after the eight men left Toledo for an Elks lodge picnic at Pelee island.

In the boat were only three life preservers, whereas it had started from Toledo with eight, indicating that at least three of the men had left the boat without them. Little credence was given to the theory that the men had been victims of hijackers, with vengeance, kidnaping or robbery as the motive. Search of islands in the belief the men have been marooned was abandoned, although planes and boats continued to cover the water.

OPENING STOCKS

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Stocks in the main dipped sharply again at the opening of today's market, although a few shares moved higher. Electric Auto Lite dropped 4 points, North American 3, American Telephone 2, and U. S. Steel, New York Central, Radio Steel, Columbia Gas and American Smelting, 1 to 1 3/8. American Tobacco B and A. M. Byers gained 3/4, Radio and Westinghouse Electric, 1-2.

Traders were obviously discouraged by the feebleness of yesterday's rally, and banking interests, deciding that the selling had further to run, withheld supporting orders. Opening transactions were not in such large blocks as they were yesterday, although transactions of 1,000 to 8,500 shares were numerous, and the ticker soon fell several minutes in arrears.

Such developments, as further curtailment of steel mill operations, failure of the freight car loading figures, as announced for the first week of the month, to show more than the normal increase after the Memorial Day week, and the further weakness in grain prices, all served to depress the list. Petroleum production figures for last week, however, were more favorable.

U. S. Steel soon touched a new low for the year at 165, off more than 2 points, and American Telephone dropped more than 5 points to a new minimum for 1930. Columbian Carbon dropped 11 points. Utilities were conspicuously weak. Such shares as Consolidated Gas, American Can, Air Reduction, Electric Power and Light and Standard Gas lost about 3 to 5 points, and Auburn 9.

Foreign exchanges opened fairly steady, with sterling cables at $4.85-25-32.

12 SHIPS WIN OUT IN TARIFF RACE

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Winning a race against time, 12 ships were in port today, having cleared the customs before the new tariff went into effect and thereby saved importers hundreds of thousands of dollars in increased duties. Several others lost out because of fog.

The White Star Liner Olympic bringing a $1,000,000 cargo, was the last vessel to cross the line at Ambrose Lightship in time to come under the provisions of the old tariff law. Importers with freight aboard the Olympic were saved approximately $150,000 by the arrival of the ship before 5:30 p. m. yesterday. Although the new law was not effective until midnight, the closing hour of the customs house marked the end of the old rates for the importers.

Custom House Crowded. Brokers and agents crowded the rotunda of the Custom House all day. As soon as the ship carrying their freight was posted as having passed officially to the port under the old tariff rates.

Several ships trying to reach port before the new tariff went into effect were delayed by fog and radioed their agents they could not make it. In addition to the importers who were paying duty on incoming merchandise, others docked to the Customs House, to withdraw goods from warehouses at the old rates. Customs officials, said that the day's receipts were in excess of $1,750,000.

In shipping circles it was considered likely that many cargoes would be diverted to other countries, rather than to be brought into this country and be sold at a loss.

EIGHT NEW ENGLANDERS ARE DROWNING VICTIMS

Boston, June 18.—(AP)—Eight men and boys of the thousands of bathers who sought relief from the heat yesterday in New England lost their lives in drowning accidents. Over the last week end nine were drowned.

Five were from Greater Boston. They were: John F. Milliken, 8, Boston, in Foxboro pool.

Warren Anderson, 15, Somerville, at Gerry's Landing, Cambridge.

Tony Deliaruso, 19, Boston, in Saugus Pond.

Joseph Cundari, 28, Boston, at Plymouth.

Frank C. Peterson, 44, Boston, in Charles River, Dedham.

Harry Partington, 21, New Bedford, in river at Pawtucket, R. I.

Aldo Moreau, 11, Leviston, Me., at Taylor Pond, Auburn, Me.

Raoul Tourneur, 14, in Connecticut river, Rocky Hill, Conn.

LINER REFLOATED AFTER TWO HOURS

New York, June 18.—(AP)—The liner President Roosevelt of the United States lines went aground in the mud and silt of Robbins Reef in New York Harbor this morning, but tugs pulled her loose in less than two hours and she continued to her pier.

In the haze of an overcast morning, the vessel thrust her nose into the reef, which lies about three miles south of the lower tip of Manhattan, at 7:03 a. m. (E.S.T.) She was floated at 8:55 a. m.

On board the liner, inbound from Southampton and Cherbourg, were 252 Gold Star mothers, mostly from the Pacific coast, returning from a pilgrimage to the battlefields of France. Captain Theodore van Beek was in command.

Robbins Reef, just north of St. George, Staten Island, is the spot where the Leviathan went aground in December, 13. It was refloated at high tide six hours later without serious damage. The reef lies close to the channel followed by incoming liners.

Seven tugs pulled the Roosevelt free. The vessel had a cargo of 600 tons, considered light.

SAY THAT LINGLE BROKE GANG LAWS

Chicago, June 18.—(AP)—The Tribune today editorially took cognizance of various sinister rumors that have circulated since the murder of its police reporter Alfred (Jake) Lingle nine days ago and at the same time it pledged to pursue the inquiry to the end "no matter where it may lead."

"Recent rumors have arisen regarding Mr. Lingle's relations with gangdom," the Tribune said. "It has been said that he was, in one fashion or another, an ally and that he was killed for violating in some manner the code of gangdom."

"In justice to the memory of Mr. Lingle, we can say that during his lifetime Mr. Lingle's honor was not questioned by the editor of the Tribune. Furthermore, every rumor, however unlikely its foundation, is being investigated."

Late Developments

The joint job of solving the Lingle murder and driving gangsters from Chicago was continued today in the hands of State Attorney J. A. Swanson, directing the Grand Jury investigation and John H. Alcock, acting commissioner of police. There was uncertainty as to whether Alcock was to be retained in temporary command of the police, but his status was expected to be clearer following today's meeting of the city council.

Mayor William Hale Thompson has given no indication of what he has in mind in connection with the police commissioner's resignation.

Alderman Arthur F. Albert, who was prominent among council members in demanding the resignation of Russell as commissioner and John Stege as chief of detectives had prepared a new resolution for the council today.

"What we should determine is how it has been possible for organized criminal gangs to have built up an oligarchy in this community under the noses of the state attorney and the police?" he said. "I propose that we call in the captains and deputy commissioners and others who should know something about gambling and vice."

ROCKVILLE

Short Calendar Session.

A short calendar session of the Superior Court was held in Superior Court room, Memorial building on Tuesday morning, Judge Allyn L. Brown on the bench. Alfred E. Hendricks, formerly of this city and now of New York was granted a divorce from May Hendricks on a charge of desertion. The plaintiff was former pastor of the African Baptist church here and, leaving several months ago.

Mrs. Alice Mead Carpenter was granted a divorce from Howard B. Carpenter of Hartford, the grounds being intolerable cruelty. The plaintiff was awarded the custody of two children and allowed $8 a week.

The case of Emma Clara Donahue vs. Kenneth Thomas Donahue, both of Stafford Springs, was also heard. It came up on application to change the custody of their child. The child was given into custody of Mrs. Donahue some time ago, but she abandoned it on Tuesday in court was awarded to Mr. Donahue.

Salvation Army Appeal.

The Salvation Army has started a campaign for funds in Rockville and vicinity to carry on its general welfare work. This appeal is sponsored by a number of public spirited citizens, with the following committee in charge: Mayor A. E. Waite, chairman; F. H. Holt treasurer; C. S. Bottomley, E. W. Burks, Mrs. E. G. Butler, J. P. Cameron, Lewis W. Chapman, Judge John E. Fahey, Mrs. F. E. Hardenburgh, Francis T. Maxwell, Thomas F. O'Loughlin, William C. Pfunder, Mrs. Charles Phelps, Harry C. Smith and David A. Sykes.

A canvass of the town will be made by Edward Benson a representative of the Salvation Army, working in behalf of the committee. He will be dressed in uniform and carries credentials in addition to a letter from the chairman of the committee certifying that he is authorized to solicit and receive funds for the appeal. All donations received will be turned over to Mr. Holt.

This is the only appeal for funds to be made by the Salvation Army this year. They are doing excellent work and it is hoped the people will respond generously.

On Way To Encampment.
 George Dart, active in 4-H Club work for the past five years left on Monday morning for the 4th 4-H National Encampment, with State Club Leader A. J. Brinnage, Miss Myrtle Files and the County Club Agent of Home Economics in New Haven County and Paul Holdridge of Waterford and a girl delegate from Windham and Litchfield County. The motor trip will take in Bear Mountain Bridge, stopping at West Point for an hour and a half, on through the Delaware Water Gap. It is expected the return trip will be made home about June 26. Much time at Camp will be spent sightseeing. They will visit the government farm at Beltsville, Maryland, the grave of the Unknown Soldier, where they will place a wreath; they will also visit the Tomb of George Washington.

Burpee Corps Meeting.
 Burpee Womens Relief Corps will hold its regular meeting in G. A. K. Hall this evening at 8 o'clock. Plans will be discussed for the annual picnic and summer meetings. Following the regular business routine, a social will be held for all members having birthdays this month.

To Hold Carnival.
 The associated societies of St. Bernard's Catholic church will hold a grand carnival in the basement of the church commencing Monday, June 23, continuing until the 25th inclusive. An entertainment program is being planned and there will be other amusements. The public is invited to attend.

To Hold Picnic.
 The Ladies of the Maple Grove will hold a picnic some time in August and a committee of two was appointed at the last regular meeting to plan for transportation to Savin Rock, New Haven, where the picnic is to be held. Members wishing to attend will please notify Mrs. Yanke or Mrs. Alma Newmarker as soon as possible.

Legion Band Benefit.
 On Friday evening of this week a big benefit dance will be held at Rau's Pavilion, Crystal Lake, under the auspices of the American Legion Bugle and Drum Corps of Rockville. Ernie Rock and his Cotton Pickers will furnish music. It is expected that young people from all over Tolland County will be present. The proceeds will go toward paying for the instruments and suits recently purchased by this band.

Sermon For Young People.
 Rev. George S. Brookes, pastor of Union Congregational church will preach at the morning service on "The Young People of Today." Mr. Brookes has come in contact with thousands of school children, having given addresses at various schools about the state and he is sure to have a special message at the service on Sunday morning. The service is open to the public.

Cornelia Circle Picnic.
 The Cornelia Circle will hold a picnic at Inspiration Point, the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Bean in Tolland. Members plan to reach there about 3 o'clock. The program will be informal and a delicious supper will be served. Members who wish conveyance, are requested to get in touch with Mrs. Harry C. Smith on or before Friday morning, June 20.

Appointed Swimming Instructor.
 Frank O'Neill, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. O'Neill of East Main street, a junior at Colby College, Waterville, Maine, has accepted a position as swimming instructor at the Nehall Look Memorial Park swimming pool at Florence, Mass. He is also supervisor of the life guards. Mr. O'Neill spent a few days last week at his home here. He will return to Colby College in the fall.

Notes.
 Louis Boucher of McLean street is ill at a Hartford hospital, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Frank Kingston is confined to his home on Lawrence street by illness. Edward Newmarker of the Savings Bank of Rockville has returned from a boat trip to the Shriners Convention in Toronto, Canada.

Miss Doris Kibbe of this city is a member of the graduating class at the University of Vermont.

The surprising thing about graduation at girls' colleges is that the style in caps and gowns remains unchanged from year to year.

QUOTATIONS

YOUTHFUL DIRECTOR.

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Financial circles today heard that a young man of twenty-two is soon to rank among the nation's leaders in directorships, holding a place on the boards of about fifty important industrial companies.

The reports were that James C. Brady, Jr., who graduated from Yale a year ago, would succeed his uncle, Nicholas F. Brady, on the boards of the various companies. Young Brady already has been elected to the boards of the Electric Storage Battery Company and the New York Edison Company.

FIANCEE NOT WORRIED OVER ATLANTIC HOP

Melbourne, Australia, June 18.—(AP)—Miss Mary Powell, revealed yesterday in Dublin by Captain Charles Kingsford Smith as his fiancée, is not a bit worried as to the outcome of the famous aviator's projected trans-Atlantic flight to New York.

If he succeeds he will sell his plane, the Southern Cross, in which he already has flown from America to Australia and settle down to more humane matters in compliance with her wish that he shall not take risk on his life flying.

Miss Powell is of Irish Australian parentage. She was born in Melbourne, and according to her story, first met Captain Kingsford-Smith at Vancouver last October when they boarded the steamer Norangi enroute to Sydney.

To Wed in September.
 "We saw lots of each other aboard ship," she said. "I stayed for a short time at Sydney and then came on to Melbourne. On Nov. 29 Captain Smith attended my birthday party and our engagement was announced. Our wedding probably will occur during September; after the honeymoon we will retire in Sydney."

Miss Powell is petite and pretty. She has dark brown hair and eyes. She likes outdoor sports, particularly swimming and tennis. Flying "thrills" her.

She made her first flight with her fiancé at Auckland, New Zealand, when their ship stopped there. Present is sent to St. Helena, a lonely island 500 miles off the coast of Africa, where he died.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

WATERLOO

On June 18, 1815, the battle of Waterloo, the decisive engagement which finally ended the power of Napoleon, was fought in Belgium about 12 miles south of Brussels.

Just a year before, Napoleon had abdicated as king of France and was sent into retirement as ruler of the little Isle of Elba in the Mediterranean. He escaped, however, gathered up an army and determined to become emperor of France once more. He made the best preparation possible, gathering a force of about 200,000 men.

Opposed to him were the English, Dutch, Belgian and Hanoverian forces, with those of Brunswick and Nassau, all commanded by the Duke of Wellington, and those of Prussia, Saxony, and other smaller German states under the veteran Blucher. The French, first to strike, made five successive attacks. The allies failed to budge. Then Napoleon knowing that the decisive hour had come, sent forward his Old Guard, whose motto was "The Old Guard dies but never surrenders."

Napoleon was not at the head of his men but in their midst when Wellington swept them off the field. Retreating to Paris, Napoleon decided to cast himself on the generosity of the British government. Ultimately, he was sent to St. Helena, a lonely island 500 miles off the coast of Africa, where he died.

CENSUS SHOWS NEW TOWNS DOT TEXAS

San Antonio, Texas.—(AP)—Wide open spaces in the map of Texas have been dotted with towns and cities in the last 10 years, the census figures of 1930 show.

Most of the new towns sprang up because of oil booms—some of them in spots where no one ever dreamed there would be even a village. One of the new towns is Best, on the lands of the University of Texas, built soon after the discovery of oil in the Big Lake field.

McCamey was a spot on a flat between two hills until 1925. Today it has a population of 5,000. Crane City was born a short time after McCamey.

Less than five years ago Iran was started, and now it is a model small city. Bakerfield was built in a day in the Taylor-Link oil area of Pecos county. It grew to a population of 1,200 in two weeks.

Winkler county has had a phenomenal growth, led by the town of Wink, one of the largest boom cities ever founded in Texas. Kermit, the county seat, had only 23 voters in 1925, but now is a good-sized town. Cheyenne, another Winkler county town, was founded recently.

Other new towns that have grown up in the last few years because of oil booms are Hilton and Penwell in Ector county; and New Drumwright, Midway and Ross City in Howard county.

Speaking about getting a "lift," consider the three Georgia students who hitch-hiked to New York by airplane.

LITTLE STORIES OF FAST SUCCESSES

No. 4. DOROTHY MACKAILL
 Newsstand girl in Hull, England, "glorified-girl" in Ziegfeld's Follies, now the idol of screen-struck fans. All in four brief years.

A fast shot of the quick success of Dorothy Mackaill. Success... because she gave a new thrill. Quick... because of nature-born charm.

That goes, too, for another young star, OLD GOLD. Three years ago, unknown. Now, America's fastest growing cigarette.

"O. G." gave a new taste-thrill... through smoother tobaccos, free from irritants. When a girl, or a cigarette, is blessed by nature, a new star rises... and fast.

OLD GOLD was first introduced at Atlantic City, June 13th, 1927. In 90 days it had become one of the 4 best sellers in Atlantic Coast summer hotels.

BETTER TOBACCOS... "NOT A COUGH IN A CARLOAD"

AT WARD'S—THIS WEEK Save Cooking Time Use a WINDSOR Pressure Cooker FREE DEMONSTRATION

MR. JOHN M. FISKE
 FACTORY REPRESENTATIVE

Will demonstrate this marvelous Windsor Cooker tomorrow, Thursday, 1:30 to 9:00 p. m. You'll be astonished at the results. The skeptical are especially invited to attend. See how simple, how easy, how quickly it prepares the best of food for your family.

Taste Food Prepared Compare the Time It Takes

There will be sample dishes for you to taste. You discover ALL the natural flavor is retained. Every food comes out cooked to a "T" and tender and juicy. You'll have to admit you've tasted none finer.

	Pressure Cooker Methods	Other Cooker Methods
Baked Beans	.40 mi. 6 hrs.	6 hrs.
Whole Ham	.50 mi. 4 hrs.	4 hrs.
5 lb. Pot Roast	.50 mi. 2 hrs.	2 hrs.

String Beans	.15 mi. 50 mi.	50 mi.
Steam Pudding	.10 mi. 30 mi.	30 mi.

Quickest, Easiest, Safest Way To Cook
 The Windsor Pressure Cooker will save YOU time. Table above shows how much faster it cooks. It costs $7 to $15 less than other cookers of same efficiency. It is tested by Good Housekeeping Institute, endorsed by U. S. Department of Agriculture and recommended by it as the safest way to cold pack foods—especially meats and non-acid vegetables.

Pays for Itself in Fuel and Food Saved
 The Windsor Pressure Cooker will save fuel—because in one-third the time an entire meal can be cooked over one burner turned low. It saves money—cheap cuts become tender and juicy. It makes good food better—retaining all the natural flavor, body building minerals which are lost in the escaping steam from an open kettle.

SPECIAL REDUCED PRICES DURING THE DEMONSTRATION

During the remainder of this week we offer a substantial reduction from our already low prices on these famous cookers. They go back to regular prices next week, so be sure to attend the demonstration and get your cooker during this sale. There is a Size for Every Family.

BIG THINGS BREWING

David Lloyd George's offer to Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald to put the full voting power of the Liberal party in the British Parliament into a coalition with the Labor party on the single matter of solving the unemployment situation may amount to nothing or to a great deal. If Lloyd George is as candid as he appears to be in making his offer, and if he can continue to deliver the Liberal vote, thus producing a strong working majority for the purposes of the employment plan, it is entirely possible that the world may be treated to something brand new in the way of statesmanship, something that may even go so far as to revolutionize the science of government and establish a new school of economic thought.

So far, the Labor government, lacking a majority in its own right, has approached the problem of unemployment very gingerly, regarding any revolutionary project as not only hopeless of accomplishment but calculated to invite the fall of the Labor government. Now it may be able to express itself in action.

No country in the world is in such an admirable position, through its form of government, to make phenomenal experiments in the solution of unemployment. There is practically nothing that a British cabinet cannot do with the resources of the nation, in the disposition of its wealth or in economic regulation, with the simple authorization of a vote of the House of Commons. Its House of Lords senate is inoperative. There is no Supreme Court, as with us, to declare this or that law invalid. Parliament answers not to a tribunal but to the people. Its acts are law until the voters repudiate them.

This being the case, and conservatism being rendered helpless by such a combination as proposed by Lloyd George, there is substantially no limit to the experimentation that may be resorted to in order to set all the jobless at work.

Just what enterprises either Lloyd George or Premier MacDonald has in mind is not yet made clear but may be, with surprising suddenness. All that we can definitely know is that the building of many fine roads is regarded by the war-time premier as merely an adjunct of the program. Lloyd George is talking about the present being an emergency equal to that of the war. Which would seem to indicate far reaching proposals perhaps involving nationalization of vast industries such as mining, perhaps some branches of manufacturing.

At all events, if anything comes out of this pending rapprochement, it is likely to be something very big indeed. Britain may be on the verge of events as great in their way as the tragic ones of 1914.

ISOLATION

Enormously complicated as is the situation in China, it is more reasonable to compare conditions in that country with those in the United States immediately after the Revolutionary war than with the state of this country today—and when the former comparison is made it is easier to understand the Chinese mess or, if not to understand it, at least to get a glimmering of a notion of the difficulties besetting the people.

For many years after the Revolutionary war territory belonging unquestionably to the United States was occupied by British troops; important Indian wars were carried on by separate states with scarcely any real aid from the federal government; Kentucky and the Ohio River country scarcely knew whether they were really part of the American Union or destined to become part of the French realm of Louisiana; frontiersmen in the Mississippi valley owned allegiance to no flag whatever but were a law unto themselves; governors of remote states regarded themselves as practically heads of nations; there was no guarantee of permanency to the Union itself and very little realization of a common nationality. We were, in less pronounced degree, in somewhat the same condition as China—and for the same reason: Lack of roads and quick communication.

Run half a dozen railroads through China from north to south and half a dozen from east to west; build twice as many arterial motor highways in either direction; give the Chinese people the telephone and telegrams—and we will have a nation there, quickly enough; one that will not be continually racked by civil war.

We wouldn't have a real nation in America, even now, if our communities were still living in the isolation of a hundred and fifty years ago. To be sure, we quickly saw the point and got rid of our isolation. But isolation had not been with us, as it has been with the Chinese, the fixed habit of thousands of years.

THE NEW JERSEY TEST

The New Jersey Anti-Saloon League and the W. C. T. U. played, as events demonstrate, a rather desperate game in backing Franklin W. Fort for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate, against Dwight W. Morrow and former Senator Frelinghuysen. These organizations courted a showdown on the strength of the dry element in their state. They asked for a test of public opinion on the prohibition question, and they got it. Mr. Morrow's vote is something like three and a half times as large as that of Mr. Fort.

In addition to this there is the anti-prohibition vote that went to Frelinghuysen, former dry who made his campaign as a wet, who promises to be between one-third and one-half as large as the dry Fort vote.

It is undoubtedly true that Mr. Morrow received the votes of many Republican voters who do not classify themselves as wets but who favored his candidacy for the very sufficient reason that they recognized his splendid qualities as a citizen and a statesman quite apart from any question of liquor laws. None of these, however, can be rated as thick-and-thin, bitter ender dries, else they would have done as the Anti-Saloon Leaguers and the W. C. T. U. did—cast aside every consideration of public policy for the sake of the prohibition fetish.

There has never been a cleaner cut demonstration of the actual political strength of the extreme prohibitionists within the Republican party in the Eastern states than is provided by this New Jersey set-up. They are in a fractional minority. They have no possible right to expect to dictate the policy of the party on this question.

Now it remains to see whether the New Jersey dries, having risked so much and lost, will play the game. They showed unquestionable courage. Will they now show that they can be fair as well as brave? Having gone into the Republican primaries they are obligated by every consideration of square dealing to accept the verdict of that primary. They have no moral right to bolt and do what their New York fellows did in a similar situation—nominate an independent ticket to rob their party's candidate of his fair chance to win on election day. It is not to be anticipated that they will follow such a course.

Particularly in view of the fact that Mr. Morrow can unquestionably be elected over any possible Democratic candidate for the senatorship, even though every extreme dry in the state should refuse to vote for him.

BUILDERS

Nebuchadnezzar, Nero, Napoleon Bonaparte, Big Bill Thompson—builders all—and now John D. Rockefeller, Junior. Nebuchadnezzar created in Babylon the most wonderful city in the world. But what became of the Babylonians? Nero converted the tortuous alleys of old Rome into magnificent vistas of superb structures—but he had to burn the city over the heads of his people and destroy thousands of lives in order to achieve his ambition. Big Bill has given Chicago beautiful parkways, and a rotting cancer for a heart. Rockefeller is to rip down three great squares of buildings in the center of Manhattan to erect a radio and theatrical broadcasting center on a scale of such magnificence as even Nero or Napoleon never dreamed of—a monument to the name of Rockefeller.

From the description of the plans this so-called cultural center will indeed be one of the most rarely beautiful creations of the architect's genius that the world has ever seen—perhaps the most beautiful. At all events it is to cost a quarter of a billion dollars—and that ought to settle it, at least to the satisfaction of any Rockefeller, from old Black Jack who had everybody in Berkshire county, Mass., scared blue a hundred-odd years ago down to the newest member of the newest generation.

Yet one wonders where is the gain in thus apothosizing steel and brick and stone—and minimizing humanity. Build a monument reaching to the moon and then stand a mere human man at the foot of it and see what you have done to his individuality, his faith in himself, his capacity for aspiration: If he is perchance a Nero, a Nebuchadnezzar, a lunatic with an inflated ego, you may kindle rivalry in his soul. If he be plain John Smith you squash him flat. There are scores of millions of John Smiths in America—capable of being happy and confident and courageous in a forest with a hammer and a saw and a sack of seeds but beaten to a frazzle by the piled up magnificence that proves, if it proves anything, the regimentation of human effort and the surrender of individual will to the rule of the master of illimitable labor.

We have in Manchester some simple little homes, sheltering the broods of the men whose hard hands framed and finished them, that are better evidences of all that is most admirable in life than will be Mr. Rockefeller's two hundred and fifty million dollar mausoleum of a thousand squawks.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

Washington, June 18.—If the white whale which the coast guard ice patrol claims to have seen off the Grand Banks was really Moby Dick, the most famous white whale of all time, the old boy must have degenerated. Moby Dick, the killer, always traveled alone. The coast guard report to the navy's hydrographic office, however, says this new white whale was swimming along with a black whale.

It was so long since the Navy Department had heard of a white whale that the people down there put out a bulletin on it when someone discovered a rather casual, routine mention of the phenomenon in the report of Commander E. F. Roach, commanding the cutter Modoc.

Mistook It for Ice Cake "At 7:15 p. m. on May 16," Roach reported, "a white whale was sighted from the bridge, the ship then being at 42 degrees, 32 minutes north; 46 degrees, 36 minutes west. The white whale was swimming in company with a black one directly for the port bow. At first it was taken for a growler. However, it made two short dives while traversing the distance to the ship and then sounded close aboard and disappeared in company with its black companion. Neither whale was seen again."

A growler is a chunk of an iceberg and the Modoc's position at this memorable moment was about 400 miles southeast of Cape Race, Newfoundland.

Of course there are white whales in existence, but hardly ever in the same sense as the others. There are also whales with large white spots and sometimes these spots grow until they get the better of a black whale and make him all white. Some whales whiten with age.

The ice patrol was not looking for whales, white or black or spotted. It was looking for ice. In these days of electric refrigerators no one ever sees ice in large pieces after wintertime any more except the ice patrol, so the ice patrol, the hydrographic office to which its reports have an interesting story to tell in addition to the story about the white whale.

Last year the ice patrol came back to shore in August. This year it came back early in June because there was no more ice menacing the steamship tracks. Last year the icebergs began to come down from the north six weeks earlier than this year, however, so the duration of the iceberg season was about two weeks longer than it had been in the season than any year since 1912, when the Titanic crashed into a berg in the North Atlantic and went down with a loss of 1817 lives.

There has been an immense increase in trans-Atlantic traffic since that time and the general theory is that there would have been more disasters similar to that of the Titanic if it had not been for the international ice patrol subsequently organized. But no one seems to remember any instance since 1912 when an ocean steamer has crashed into a berg.

WATKINS BROTHERS, INC. 55 YEARS AT SOUTH MANCHESTER

IN NEW YORK

New York, June 18.—At last I've heard of the job.

It has a fancy sounding title... "hospitality critic." But all the "hospitality" of this position has to do with going about dancing and buying cigars and sleeping and eating excellent food and getting haircuts, shaves and shampoos. All this I might add, is "on the house"—and Jo Dahl, who holds this truly extraordinary post, gets good money for having a perpetual good time.

You'll wonder, as I did, who would pay out good coin of the realm for some other gent's fun? Well, the idea is this—one of the big New York hotels has decided to find out just how hospitable it is. It wanted statistics on how guests from out of town enjoyed the dinner-dance and the food; how courteous its waiters were and whether the beds were comfortable. It wanted a guest's-eye-view of how its barbers shaved and whether they demanded over-stiff tips for service; how the maids fixed up the bedroom and what the cigar man said when you ordered a nickel smoke.

So Dahl must spend the next year of his life dancing and eating and sleeping and ordering smokes and shaves and haircuts. He got this unusual job because he had, at one time or another, lived in 300 hotels in every part of the world and has a speaking acquaintance with the various forms of hospitality offered elsewhere.

For 15 years it was his job to make Americans feel at home in European hotels; constantly thinking up new ideas that would remind them of the old home town. Food, he found, was a particularly important item in the hre of wandering Yankees. So he ate and drank in 1200 different cafes and hotel dining rooms. He became so expert that he wrote four books about varying tastes.

Manhattan supplies any number of unusual positions. One of the oddest, in a lowly way, is that of gum scraper in the big railroad stations. It seems that a vast percentage of commuters, rushing to work in the morning, toss their chewing gum on the floor and the "scraper" follows them around. There's a particular steeple jack who keeps the spires of the sky-going buildings shined up. He combines the art of steeplejacking with that of specialized tinelling.

Then there are the "subway sherlocks." They comprise an army of sharp-eyed sleuths who go up and down the tracks of the subterranean railroads looking for articles, cast from windows, which might cause trouble. Thoughtless passengers frequently throw out metal objects which might bring about considerable damage, particularly if a short circuit resulted.

There's a fellow who once owned a stable, back in the days before horses were all but driven from the streets. Now he has only trained horses and dogs, which are rented out to various theatrical enterprises, street ballyhoo and parades. One musical show alone used six horses for a hunting ballet and there are constant demands for service.

I know a bright young man who is coining money by picking new-fangled cement sacks, designing bottles and tin cans—the idea being to make them more attractive to the eye and thus boost up sales. Each design, as carefully worked out as the lines of an automobile, brings him as much money as well paid workers get for a year of toil.

There's a fellow who has made a couple of fortunes taking over the scenery and settings of plays that flop; another is an expert on leather for tap dancers' shoes; another, with a particularly well-shaped nose bridge, is retained by one of the swanky eye-glass shops as a model for "specs."

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

The mucous membranes throughout the body show much the same symptoms when inflamed. They are readily irritated and for this reason there are very few people who do not suffer from an inflammation of some of the mucous membranes some of the time.

When you have a cold, the mucous membranes in your nose and throat are inflamed; when you have bronchitis, the mucous membranes of your bronchial tubes are inflamed; when you have gastritis, the mucous membranes in your stomach are inflamed; when you have enteritis, the mucous membranes in your intestines are inflamed; when you have sinus infection, the mucous membranes in your sinuses are inflamed; when you have cystitis, the mucous membrane of the bladder is inflamed.

Any of the mucous membranes may become inflamed as a result of local irritation, or by inflammation spreading from an adjacent region, but usually they become inflamed because the secretions passing through them are toxic and irritating and allow the development of bacteria. The greatest majority of cases are of this type. The real cause of this condition lies in a polluted blood stream, for the secretions of the mucous membranes must come from the blood and lymph, and when these are too toxic, an elimination of some of the poisons takes place through the mucous membranes and is the principal cause of their becoming inflamed.

Since there is a similar cause for all of these troubles, whether the inflammation is in the nose, throat, bronchial tubes or colon, it is not surprising that the same type of dieting regime proves helpful in all of these cases. Of course, if some local irritation is producing the inflammation, it may require local treatment, but the dietetic regime will prove effective in an amazing proportion of mucous membrane inflammations.

The first thing to do is to cleanse the blood stream by using an eliminative fast for several days. Large quantities of water should be used, but no food except orange or grapefruit juice. Enemas should be taken twice daily, and the skin should be given a shower bath followed by a brisk rub. All of these treatments are for the purpose of stimulating elimination.

The second thing to do is to remove any local cause of the irritation if there is any. That is, if there is a growth or polypus in, say, the nose, the growth should be removed surgically or treated with electricity.

If adhesions or kinks are causing the irritation in the intestines, they should be treated with the right kind of manipulations. If there is no local cause for irritation, and any treatments given should be for the purpose of general elimination and vitality building.

The third thing to do after the elimination of any local cause of irritation is to build up the alkalinity by diet. The patient should be taught to eat large quantities of the alkaline-forming foods, such as spinach, celery, figs, carrots, etc. He should also be taught to avoid wrong food combinations which tend to increase acidity. This diet applies in any inflammation of the mucous membrane except in some cases where there is a severe inflammation of the intestinal tract, in which the roughage of the fruits and vegetables might produce additional irritation. In a few of these cases a milk diet is indicated. However, following the milk diet, the patient should use the above alkaline-increasing diet.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question:—N. E. F. asks: "Is bicarbonate of soda injurious to take a teaspoonful every three hours to break up a cold?"

Answer: The use of sodium bicarbonate for breaking up a cold is based upon the idea of making the body more alkaline, and this treatment is often highly recommended by physicians who believe that it gets good results. I have always found the fruit fast to be more effective. The acid fruits all have an alkaline reaction upon the blood and also tend to stimulate the elimination of toxic wastes.

OPEN FORUM

HOSPITAL PATIENT ANSWERS WILLARD

Takes Exception to Criticism Mr. Rogers Makes of Personnel at Local Institution.

Editor The Evening Herald:

I have read the remarks made by Willard B. Rogers in regard to the personnel of the Manchester Memorial hospital, also his so-called "facetious" reply to Dr. Moore's defense of the hospital staff in the Herald on June 17th, and as a loyal citizen of the town of Manchester and a very recent patient at the Memorial hospital, I feel justified in giving my views on the subject. In saying "We have an excellent hospital insofar as the building is concerned but it is woefully lacking when it comes to humanized personnel." Our worthy Police Commissioner and town oracle made one grave mistake in two regards if he is talking in terms of present personnel. The building, while it is as good as we can afford here is no masterpiece of hospital construction in that not much provision for deadening sound was made in its construction and noises do carry in it quite a bit, but the hospital personnel did not build the building.

As to the "humanized personnel" I wish to say this, and I will not back down a bit on it: I had the misfortune to have an index finger badly mangled in a corn sheller and as a result spent 17 days ending June 15th last at the Memorial hospital and if the treatment I received was rendered by an unhumanized personnel, then it is my opinion that treatment would be a little too good for ordinary mortals to expect on this earth.

This judgment is not based on a snap judgment of any one person, but is my opinion of all those who in anyway had my wife in hand while at the hospital. My case included two X-rays, two operations, and the care of nurses and a surgeon, and in all the time I was at the hospital, I am not aware that anything but the best of care was rendered me at all times, day or night, and while I am far from an ideal hospital patient by nature, I can honestly say that not an unsympathetic word or act was given me while there. In fact, aside from the pain incident to my accident, I enjoyed every minute I was at the hospital, and have no reason to believe I was treated any better than any patient would have been under the same circumstances. I have only praise to utter for all the personnel I came in contact with from the superintendent, surgeons and nurses, down to the most lowly employed person in the hospital. They used me fine and I saw nothing to think but that others were used the same.

I saw considerable of Dr. Moore at the hospital and wish to express a very high opinion of his work and conduct at the hospital, as well as that of the other doctors and surgeons on the staff.

This is my answer to anyone's criticism of our hospital personnel, and I will not back down one word on anything I have said.

Yours for the Memorial hospital as it is now.
FRANK V. WILLIAMS.

SENSATIONAL ACT AT LEGION AFFAIR

Bourdini, Famous Escape Artist, to Be Feature of Next Week's Carnival.

The committee has been very fortunate in securing one of the most sensational attractions for the American Legion Carnival the week of June 23rd. The attraction is Bourdini, one of the most famous escape artists in the country. He features many sensational and seemingly impossible stunts. He differs from the late Houdini in so far as presenting his program in full view of the audience instead of behind screens.

Bourdini will do a 15 minute program on the grounds at the American Legion carnival on the Dougerty lot, Center street. In this program he will feature a number of rope tricks—hand-cuff escapes, etc. He opens his program with what they call the Human Volcano—stuffing his mouth with a lot of cotton he blows out smoke and sparks.

Bourdini has offered the police the privilege of using their own handcuffs and to let them put them on and guarantees to release himself. The most sensational part of his program will take place later in the evening at 10:45 p. m. when he will be tied up in a police straight-jacket—together with long chains, together with several locks. He will then be hoisted upon a pulley and, hanging upside down, will release himself in full view of the audience.

The committee feels that in offering this sensational artist that they are giving the public one of the best attractions money can buy.

STRICKEN AT YALE

New Haven, June 18.—(AP)—Douglas G. Harvey, president of the Reynolds Wire Co. of Dixon, Ill., was fatally stricken with a heart attack today while attending the reunion of his class at Yale University. He was 46 years old.

He was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific school in 1905. He was a member of Book and Snake while at Yale.

He collapsed while joining the alumni procession to the Yale-Harvard baseball game.

IN WRONG LINE

Pittsburgh.—Nick Mitchell, 52, has a good line. In fact he has three of them. One of them is to stand in the bread line here with the homeless and receive free food. But Patrolman Fay found out that he had two other lines at two banks in which he had more than $2500 deposited. He was parted from his bread line and put in jail.

WEALTHY CHINESE RETURNS TO CHINA

Made His Fortune in Texas Selling Groceries; Raised a Family in U. S.

Shanghai.—(AP)—After living a dozen years in the Texas cow country, Yee Wing Chew, a native of Canton, has returned to China with a bank roll of seven figures.

Yee made his money selling groceries and supplies to ranchers. He made so much of it, in fact, that he intends spending the next year riding ocean liners and seeing the world.

With only a few dollars in his pocket, Yee and his wife left Canton for America two decades ago. They first settled in San Francisco but Yee didn't seem to be able to make a success of anything there.

At first he went into the laundry business. Then he tried a fruit market. That proved a failure. There was too much competition. He decided to go to El Paso. The trip cost most of his savings, but the investment proved to be worth a million.

Success Arrives After working as a clerk in a small Chinese shop in the Panhandle Metropolis, Yee went into business for himself. This time he made a success.

Recently Yee decided to take a year's vacation and show his children—he has four, two girls and two boys—the land of their ancestors. Leaving his wife in charge of the business, he bought tickets to Shanghai.

His children have received their early education at the El Paso high school. They are unable to understand the Chinese language.

BACON FROM WHALES

London.—Experiments conducted at a Devonshire agricultural college have produced bacon from whale-flesh pigs which is said to be superior to any other type of bacon. The whale meat is ground into meal and fed to the porkers. The pigs on such a diet grow faster than those on an ordinary diet.

ANOTHER ALGER STORY

London.—From crying glaring headlines of newspapers on street corners as a newsboy to a member of the English Parliament is the career of Fred Montague, Under-Secretary for Air. In 1889, when he was 12, he had a regular corner on Fleet street. At that time he was making about $2 a week. Now he is one of the most influential cabinet members.

While you might think congressmen might get enough exercise from log rolling, they no doubt feel there is more at stake in horseshoe pitching.

CRAZY MAN'S LETTER

New York June 18.—(AP)—If a letter to a New York newspaper written by an unidentified man who confesses two slayings within the last weeks is to be believed, some unidentified person is to meet a violent death at College Point, Queens tonight.

The anonymous letter writer, believed a maniac by the police, threatened that thirteen more men and a woman would be killed if some unidentified papers were not returned.

TRAIL FOLLOWS TRAIL THAT LEADS TO JAIL

Youthful Vagabond With Significant Name Arrested as Vagrant Here.

Gene Trail, 18 years old who claimed he belonged in Texas, was found on Main street yesterday afternoon in the act of begging money from the merchants. Complaint had reached the police about the actions of the young fellow and Lieut. William Barron soon had him in the police station. With him was a faithful dog that persisted in following his master.

In the police court this morning Trail was charged with vagrancy. He claimed that he was traveling over the country "incognito." He admitted that he had no particular work and that his home was where he might overtake him. He said that the dog became his friend in Syracuse and had been with him ever since he was there.

Trail was sent to jail for 30 days. This will give him an opportunity to get something to eat and a much needed bath. The dog wanted to go to jail with his master and the young fellow felt very badly because this would not be allowed. Chief Samuel G. Gordon will turn the dog over to the Humane society.

SAVITT'S CELEBRATES 10TH ANNIVERSARY

The tenth anniversary of Savitt's, Inc., of 40 Asylum street is now going on. In speaking of the event William Savitt, president of the company, said today that "During this event we are going to share profits with the public to show our appreciation for the large patronage. The slogan of the store is 'to serve is to deserve' and in that manner we have built our business up to where it is today."

A THOUGHT

Peace, above all things, is to be desired, but blood must sometimes be spilled to obtain it on equitable and lasting terms.—Andrew Jackson.

FACTORIES SHOULD LOOK PROSPEROUS

An industrial plant, large or small, in its exterior—or even interior—aspect constitutes a reflection of the goods manufactured. When people see a run-down, shabby, neglected plant they may easily get the idea that the article produced there is equally unattractive and inefficient—or perhaps unsanitary. Allow us to quote prices on this vitally important work.

GRANDMOTHER'S BREAD

Of course the A & P was the first to reduce the price of bread. A & P's four million daily customers know that A & P reduces prices as rapidly as possible. A policy which means the saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars every year. Women everywhere know, too, that A & P never sacrifices its high standards of quality. That's why GRANDMOTHER'S BREAD is now exactly the same high quality as before. The price was reduced to seven cents.

DAWES COMMENTS ON MANY THINGS

Says Chicago Needs No Defense and Naval Pact Was a Success.

Chicago, June 18.—(AP)—Charles G. Dawes, American ambassador to Great Britain, came home today and with Hell'n Maria waded of his upside down pipe, commented tersely on various subjects.
About Chicago:
"Chicago doesn't need any defense. What the hell is the difference what people say about it? Chicago will go right on being a great city for centuries."
About Chicago crime and his taking the job of cleaning it up:
"Talk, talk, talk. When Chicago moves there won't be much talking about it. Certainly I won't contribute any talk to a situation which demands and will get action."
About the 1893 Centennial Progress Exposition, about which he returned from London:
"Just watch it grow!"
About the naval treaty:
"The naval pact will be ratified without a shadow of a doubt, and it should be. The delegates at the conference were agreed on everything."
"Naval experts of Japan, Great Britain and America say 'our navy is ruined.' There is the best evidence possible it is a perfect treaty."

AWARD SPECIAL HONORS AT YALE'S COMMENCEMENT

New Haven, June 18.—(AP)—Special honors, prizes and appointments were announced today by Yale in connection with its 229th commencement exercises.

ALLEGED COUNTERFEITER IN U. S. DISTRICT COURT

Hartford, June 18.—(AP)—Anthony Scricca, of Waterbury, charged with conspiracy to counterfeit money, pleaded not guilty in United States District Court today.

Scricca and three others who have already pleaded guilty to the charges of conspiracy, were arrested in Waterbury several months ago when Federal agents uncovered a plot to manufacture counterfeit bills. The men had made plans for the purchase of plates with which the money was to be reproduced.
George Pandajis of New Haven pleaded guilty in court today but sentence was deferred at the request of the government.
The case against Joe Karnofsky of Waterbury, who likewise pleaded guilty to a similar charge a few months ago, is awaiting sentence in the District Court also.
William G. Ohlsen, of Waterbury was fined $500 by Judge Burrows when his case was presented along with that of Karnofsky.

LEAVES HOSPITAL, SEES MOTHER WHO IS ILL

In order that she might visit her mother who is very ill, Mrs. Clara Carr of 59 Foster street, was permitted to leave the Memorial hospital where she is soon to undergo a major operation, today for a short time.
Mrs. Carr was taken to the home of Mrs. George Parris on Bissell street where her mother, Mrs. Margaret Burlingame, aged 84, lives. Mrs. Burlingame has been falling for some time and is reported to be quite low. After the visit, Mrs. Carr was taken back to the hospital where she has been for a couple of weeks.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, June 18.—(AP)—The ordeal of deflation was resumed with determination in the speculative markets today, after yesterday's brief rest. Share prices shrank rapidly under the weight of feverish speculation. Stock exchange trading facilities were again overpowered, and the ticker fell nearly an hour in arrears.
The failure of commodity prices to come to rest upon a firm bottom has been particularly discouraging in both industrial and financial circles. Wheat and cotton prices again tumbled to new low levels for the decline today, and are now around the levels of 1914. Copper prices were again shaded 1-4 of a cent by some custom smelters to 11-12 cents, also the pre-war level of 1914.
The steady decline in the prices of staple commodities has betokened an unexpected fall in the autumn crash of stock prices in this country, although it is recalled that they started down in Europe in 1928.
Manufacturing industry felt fairly secure last fall because of its comparatively low inventories of raw materials, and no such deflation as occurred in 1921-22 was thought possible.
It now appears, however, that the rapid increase in the capacity to produce both raw materials and manufactured goods since the war was not fully taken into account. With post-war adjustments largely completed, industry now finds itself with plant and equipment in excess of the requirements of present commodity prices, and confronted with heavy overhead charges for maintaining it. As always happens at such times, price cutting develops, and consumers hold off in the hope of getting the very bottom prices. In the meantime, earnings and purchasing power suffer.
While it is generally acknowledged that a seasonal upturn must be expected in the fall, Wall street finds itself unable to make any convincing prediction as to when actual stability will be restored, and stock prices continue to skid. Seasonal slackening of activity in business only serves to intensify the gloom. Iron Age reports in its annual survey that steel production has dropped 3 per cent this week to 65 per cent of capacity, that one middle western plant serving the automotive trade has closed down entirely, and another plans to shortly.
Such issues as U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Dupont, North American, American Water Works, American Can, Westinghouse Electric, Johns Manville, Consolidated Gas, Columbia Gas, dropped about 5 to 10 points. A short-lived rally appeared in the early afternoon. Among the high price issues, J. I. Case and Allied Chemical dropped about 25 points, and Eastman Kodak, 15. Many important issues were carried close to their low level of November.

NOON STOCKS

New York, June 17.—(AP)—Stock prices drove steadily lower during the forenoon trading today and numerous leading shares tumbled to new lows for one year at losses of 3 to 15 points. Absence of support encourages large short selling and there was also considerable liquidation which affected all groups, including the highest grade investment shares.
American Telephone sold as low as 204. U. S. Steel got down to 157, New York Central to 158 1-8 and American Can to 118 3-4, all new 1930 minimums.
Allied Chemical dropped 15 points, Columbian Carbon Auburn Auto 10, Worthington Pump, American Tobacco B and Eastman Kodak 8.

KILLED BY SKIP DRIVER

Stamford, June 18.—(AP)—John Clark, 45, a laborer at the New Haven railroad camp in Glenbrook was instantly killed last midnight when struck by a hit-and-run driver on Glenbrook road as he was walking toward the camp with John McPartland and John Deveney, fellow laborers. The only clue on which police are working is the glass from a headlight of the car. Instead of the usual lens, plain window glass was used in the headlight. Deveney was slightly hurt and McPartland escaped injury but did not get the number of the car.

SOVIET WARNED MUST TOLERATE MOSLEM TURKS

Istanbul.—(AP)—Secular though the Turkish state has become, and strong as is her friendship with Soviet Russia, Turkish indignation over the religious situation in Russia has been expressed by the semi-official daily, "Djumouriet."
The paper declares that the movement seeks to erase 25,000,000 Moslem Turks and their national ideals from Russia.
Citation is made of reports that 8,000 mosques have been closed in the district of Idil-Oural; that 14,500 Moslem worshippers have been condemned to death or deported, and that the Chief Mufti has been arrested for refusing to sign a statement that the Moslems in Russia have not been persecuted.
The Turkish paper warns the Soviet Union that elimination of Turks was one aim of the czars as it was their aim also to stretch out their dominions to Istanbul and to kill the independence of Turkey—and in return, Turkey helped to kill the czar.
Turkey aided the Soviets because they promised to leave Turkey mistress of her own destiny and "it is friendship's duty on our part," the "Djumouriet" concludes, "to remind the Soviets of these lessons of history."

KILLED OVER 4 CENTS

New Haven, June 18.—(AP)—Antonio Manganello, sought since July, 1928 for the slaying of Giovanni Cirillo, a store keeper, surrendered to the local police today. He was accompanied by his attorney when he walked into police headquarters.
An argument over four cents, police charge, resulted in the killing of Cirillo. Manganello, who was cut in the abdomen during the argument, is expected to set up a plea of self defense. It is believed he will be brought before the present term of the Superior Court on a bench warrant.
Refusal by Cirillo, police said, to give Manganello's daughter four cents in change after she had tendered a nickel in payment for a penny purchase of candy precipitated the argument.

ARTISTS PREVENT CITY'S MUTILATION

Academy of Italy Stops Plan To Spoil the Beauties of Venice.

Venice, Italy, (AP)—By one vigorous strike, the Academy of Italy has saved Venice from mutilation in the interests of commerce.
Created a few months ago, the Academy of Italy was granted government authority over any structural project touching beautiful buildings, streets, squares or sites anywhere in Italy.
Its disapproval has the force of the government behind it and means instant failure of the proposed development.
The case, its first, was that the municipality of Venice wished to dig a canal piccolo (little canal) for a shortcut between the ends of a Bosony bend in the Grand Canal. The municipality had approved it. The money was ready. "We need it," they said. "The Grand Canal is congested. It takes a half-hour to get to the station from St. Mark's Square."
The Academy of Italy assembled. At the meeting were the Artist Sartoria, the Academicians Ettore Tito and Canonica, the composers Macagnani, author of "Cavalleria Rusticana," and Giordano, author of "Andre Chénier" and "Madame Sans Gene."
"But," they said, "you are going to change Venice. You are going to transform this gem of the Adriatic. We appreciate your desire to speed up transportation. But at what a sacrifice!"
"Oh, no you can't," interrupted an Academician. "All that has been changed. You live in the midst of your beauty, but we shall not let you deprive yourself of that beauty."
Decision Is Final
There is no appeal from the decision of the Academy.
Mrs. Carr was taken to the home of Mrs. George Parris on Bissell street where her mother, Mrs. Margaret Burlingame, aged 84, lives. JONES, TWO OTHERS, ARE TIED FOR TOP

Hoyle, June 18.—(AP)—With all the favorites reported, Bobby Jones and MacDonald Smith, of the invading golfers from the United States, and Henry Cotton, a British pro, led the first round of the British open championship with scores of 70.
"Long Jim" Barnes, Cornishman long a resident of the United States, was only a stroke behind the leaders with a score of 71 and Horton Smith, tall young Misourian now living at New York, scored 72.
Leo Diegel and Don Moe were tied with several others at 74.
Only two Americans were far down the list, George Von Elm, who was charged with 81 as a result of a tragic nine at the fifth hole and F. C. Stevens, Jr., Los Angeles, who collapsed on his second nine holes to record an even 80, after a brave start.
Among the British players joining Cotton in low figures were: Fred Robson with 71, Norman Sutton at 72, Tom Green 73, Archie Compton and Charles Whitcombe 74, Abe Mitchell, Percy Alliss and others 75. Cyril Rolfe, former British amateur champion, took 84.
The second round will be played tomorrow with two rounds Friday deciding the championship.

SUSTAINED IN SUIT FOR COMPENSATION

Doesn't Accept Commissioner's Award, Sues, Wins, Is Now Sustained.

A motion to set aside the compensation award of $9,250 granted to the administrator of the estate of Robert E. Wells, one of three boys killed in the burning of a truck which overturned on the Rockville-Talcoottville road on July 26, 1928, was yesterday denied by Judge A. C. Baldwin in the Hartford County Superior Court.
The question involved the compensation act and the right for suit father elected to sue under civil laws and the award was made May 7 and ran against Joseph Radville, the owner and driver of the truck, which overturned, and Max and Paul Lavitt of Ellington, where the 11-year old boy had been at work.
The case is one of unusual law interest, and is expected to be carried to the Supreme Court of Appeals.

POLICE SEARCHING FOR CRAZY SLAYER

Has Killed Two and Says Tonight He Will Murder the Third.

New York, June 18.—Queensborough today feared the unknown hand of a maniacal slayer who already has killed two men and threatens the murder of a third tonight. He has sent newspapers a list of fourteen, including one woman, who, he has said, must die.
They are seeking a shabbily dressed man of about 40, five feet, six inches tall, who talks like a cultured man, but with a foreign accent, and stares at his victims with the cold, unblinking stare that betrays a deranged mind.
Girls' Description
This description has been given to police by two girls, companions of the killer's first two victims. One is Catherine May, 19, who was with Joseph Mozynski, a grocer, in his car when the killer walked up to them and shot Mozynski, then escorted Miss May to a bus and sent her home.

The other girl is Elizabeth Ring, daughter of a policeman. She was with Noel Sowley, 26, a radio salesman when the killer shot him Monday night. Again the slayer didn't harm her, but took her from the isolated spot in Creedmore, Queens, to a bus.
In letters to newspapers, signed with a cabalistic inverted V, underscored, and the final symbols, SX, the slayer told of the murder of Sowley before the body was found. He described his intended victim tonight, only as "W-R-V-S."

A country club guard in Cleveland who shot a boy hunting for golf balls, did it, we suppose, as a matter of course.

TRIES TO KILL SELF

Middletown, June 18.—(AP)—Mrs. Fern Patrosky, 24, a domestic was found wandering in the woods last midnight after having drunk an antiseptic fluid. At the hospital it was said she would live. The woman had been depressed because of her husband's illness.

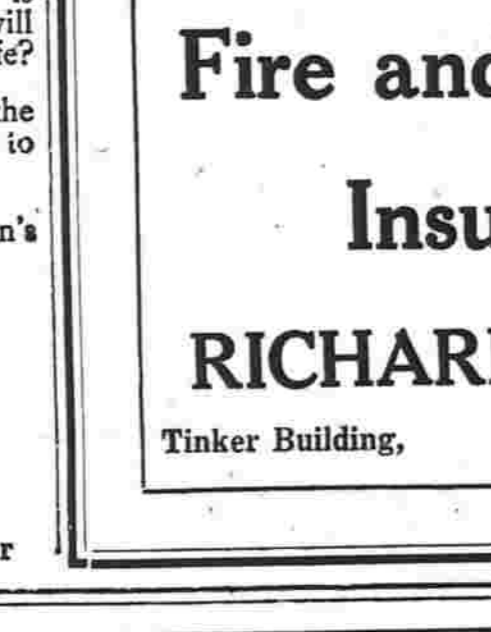

Right from the first touch, antiseptic, healing Zemo takes the itching misery out of mosquito bites, rashes, and many other skin afflictions. Try it also for itching, peeling toes. Bathing and other outdoor folks thank cooling Zemo for relief from sunburn. Douse it on itchy-poisoning. Pimples and dandruff fade when safe, antiseptic Zemo is applied. It instantly eases razor-smart. Always have Zemo nearby wherever you go. Any druggist. 35c, 50c, $1.00.

DANCING JUDITH

By CORALIE STANTON and HEATH HOSKEN
COPYRIGHT 1930 BY CHELSEA HOUSE

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JUDITH GRANT, beautiful artist's model, shares her Greenwich Village apartment with CLARISSA MORLEY, known as "Chummy," a beautiful girl who lost her memory seven years ago when her lover, ALAN STEYNE, abruptly disappeared. Steyne comes back on the scene and Judith arranges a meeting with Chummy, but Chummy fails utterly to recognize her former lover. Steyne, meanwhile, tells Judith that he no longer loves Chummy; instead he calls frequently on Judith, and finally kisses her and declares that he loves her. Judith spurns him, however, and refuses to let him help her provide medical care for Chummy, whose mental condition is growing worse. Judith goes to pose for VINCENT STORNAWAY, wealthy portrait painter, at whose house she meets BRUCE GIDEON, a singularly ugly financier, who becomes smitten with her but whose advances she rebuffs. She returns home to find Chummy radiant with happiness. Chummy tells her that she has dreamed that Alan has returned.

"Chummy's got her memory back, Bastien. She dreamed Alan Steyne had come back."

NOV GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER VII
 It was a miracle. Judy could hardly believe her eyes or her ears. Chummy had mentioned Alan Steyne's name. She had spoken it for the first time since Judy had known her.

Moreover, there was a difference in her face. Something had come into it that Judy had never seen—a brightness, a shining beauty which made it look in its frail pallor as if it were illumined by a flame from within.

Judy could only marvel as she hung over the beautiful woman's head, as she had never seen her before. This illness had been a blessing in disguise.

Judy was beside herself with excitement. Only the instinct of her loyal little heart made her say and do the right thing. She might have made irremediable mistakes in those first moments; but she just listened to Chummy's voice, with that new note in it—the tender note of the woman talking about the man she loves.

"You never knew Alan, did you, Judy? It is funny I should have dreamed about him just now. Something queer must have happened to me. I seem to have forgotten a lot of things. He went away long ago, I think it was—such a long ago. We were awfully poor, you know. He was wonderfully clever, but he never got on; and he couldn't wait, you see. It's awfully hard waiting—when you're a man."

"Oh, Chummy, and this—this was your own particular boy?" asked Judy in a trembling voice.

"I was awfully fond of him, Judy, and—I think he was awfully fond of me," said the low voice; "but I never heard from him. I think I must have forgotten him for quite a time, but just now I had this dream, and it was so clear and real! Alan looked quite different, and it was Alan, and he had come back."

"I expect that means he will, Chummy," said Judy decidedly. "I always thought there was a lot in dreams; but now you go to sleep, or you'll be getting tired. If your young man's coming back, you must be quite well and strong."

Chummy turned on her pillow and looked at her friend.

"Judy, tell me, is there anything the matter with me?" she asked in a voice of utter bewilderment. "I really do feel queer. Do I look any—any different?"

Judy laughed merrily.

"Well, you look prettier than I ever saw you, darling! I call it worth while being ill. Perhaps you had lost your memory a bit—such funny things happen!—and it's coming back to you all of a sudden; but don't worry, whatever you do. Go to sleep now and dream about your Alan again, and I'll make you some tea."

Chummy seemed to be satisfied. She was still very weak, and she fell into a comfortable doze.

Judy went to make the tea over the gas ring in her box in the attic. While the kettle was boiling she stood lost in profound thought.

Chummy's memory had come back! A picture rose before Judy's mind of the night when Alan Steyne had really returned—when Chummy had smiled her baby smile at him, and looked at him without recognition, and with complacent vacancy, had called him a handsome boy and a nice boy.

When Chummy was strong again, she would be like everybody else. The next time she saw Alan Steyne she would know him. Judy was overjoyed. No personal consideration would ever disturb her loyalty to her friend.

Alan Steyne was Chummy's property. Now that she would know him, and still loved him, he must prove his faith and marry her at once. Through her brain, filled with the mists of forgetfulness, his image had already struggled, though she believed she had seen him only in a dream.

Judy's next thought was to consult Doctor O'Shane. The nurse had come back, and Chummy was settled for the night. Judy saw the doctor in his office. She told him her great news, and he expressed approval of her conduct. Nothing must be hurried, he said. Something had happened during Chummy's illness to break down the blank wall of forgetfulness.

Judy went on to the Cafe Turc. Dan, the long lean waiter with the face of a Roman emperor and the sunny tenor voice, was the first person to whom she imparted her splendid news.

given him up, and she was frowning with the irritation of having to bottle up her feelings—which, after all, Bastien would understand better than anyone else, because he was Chummy's oldest friend among the crowd.

When she told him, she threw it at him like a bomb.

"Chummy's got her memory back, Bastien. She dreamed Alan Steyne had come back, and she looks—well, I can't tell you how she looks. I never saw anyone like her! So now, you see, it's going to be all right. They'll meet, an' Chummy will know him, and they'll be married and live happily ever after!"

Bastien's eyes kindled as they rested on her eager face. He had been nursing miserable, jealous thoughts about Steyne lately. He had seen Judy with him; he knew that they had been out together the night that Chummy was taken ill. There could be nothing in it, after all. Judy could never talk like this if she had a spark of feeling for Steyne herself.

He expressed his delight, and drank to Chummy's health. Then he said:

"I saw Steyne this afternoon. He is going to Paris."

"To Paris?"

"Yes—some business or other. This old collector he was secretary to left some pictures to the Louvre and the Luxembourg, and there's some dispute that Steyne has to settle."

"It's a good thing," Judy said.

"I do want Chummy to be quite well when she sees him again. Of course, he's been inquiring for her, and it would be difficult to have to explain it all. Oh, Bastien, isn't it wonderful?"

But the young man's face was gloomy.

"You can take enough interest in other people's love affairs," Bastien said. "Oh, Judy, you'll drive me mad!"

"Don't be absurd, Bastien," she answered, with the straight, kind look that she always had for him.

"Let me tell you a discovery I've made, old boy. Clara Jenks is crazy about you!"

He gave an impatient exclamation, which caused the girl to continue with a touch of mischief:

"It's perfectly true, Bastien. I tell you that girl's a duck, and a brick, and one of the very best, and, mark my words, one day she'll be a star. Anyone who could make me laugh as she did while Chummy lay dying is simply bound to be famous! And yet all the time her heart was bursting with misery, just like mine. Bastien, if Clara loves you as much as I think she does, you're a lucky chap—indeed you are!"

"Judy, stop it!" was all he answered. "You're mocking me."

It was February—a soft day of mist and sudden warmth with just a shimmer of green upon the trees in the parks, as if carelessly brushed on, but by an unerring hand.

once I never cared for her like that. Judy, you know it's no good! Suddenly she stopped. There were footsteps outside. Judy had said that Chummy was out and would not come back until late. She was meeting a relative with whom she had communicated since her recovery—no hypothesis—I tell him everything. I don't want him to think I'm an angel when I couldn't grow a pin-feather on a wing. He must remember that people with experience and knowledge know the world much better than I do, and they bring privilege. There are two standards at our house and no cheating. Dick understands."

Well, there is some sterling in his reasoning. No cheating between parents and children is rare enough, speeding from a bow, she ran into his arms.

SCIENCE EXPLAINS MENTAL CLOCKWORK

Washington—(AP)—When a person goes to bed with his mind fixed on getting up at a certain time the next morning he often awakens at that time without the aid of an alarm clock.

This is one of the mysteries of sleep explained by Dr. Otto Kauders, Austrian psychiatrist.

When sleep comes Dr. Kauders says, the sleeper is divided into three or four persons.

There is the waking ego, the dream ego, and the sleep ego. The latter is unconscious. The second is semi-conscious with a sort of uncontrolled contact with the outside world which results in weird images, lovely dreams and horrible nightmares.

But the first like a sentry, stays awake and keeps watch.

It challenges all stimuli coming to the brain and if any of them look suspicious it warns the dreamer and awakens the sleeper whereupon all three become one person again, ready to fight or run.

Before splitting up for the night, Dr. Kauders says the whole personality, acting as camp commander, gives the sentries their special orders. Such would be the order to awaken the others at a certain time.

HOME PLAY-YARDS
 Keeping the children at home and happy on vacations is a problem. Why not turn the back yard into a play house? Swing a couple of auto tires from the trees, on ropes, instead of merely having swings with seats. Make a little sandpile for the babies. Turn a piano box or two upside down and let the older children make a house. You will be surprised how the children love to stay home!

USEFUL JACKET
 You can have three outfits this summer, using the same jacket. First, a printed frock with plain colored trim and the jacket of plain colored flat crepe. Then get a white flannel or white silk skirt, a printed blouse uses the coat's color, don the coat and you have the second. For the third, use a cotton frock, either checked gingham, pique or linen, and top it with the coat.

PAINTED RADIATORS
 When you are doing your rooms over in delicate, lovely colors, why not try painting the radiators to match? The Government pamphlets state that paint does not lessen radiation. And colored radiators do fade into the general scheme of the room most beautifully.

Before applying your color, put on a good light priming coat. Then any inside paint will do the trick.

Empire Vogue Invades Wardrobe

Of Two to Six
 By ANNETTE
 It's very feminine in pale blue dotted swiss accented with binding, bow and button-hole stitch in French blue.

The flared sleeves emphasize the light effect of the brief bodice that buttons at the back.

The skirt shows soft gathered fullness that permits plenty of freedom that small folk demand. Its quaintness makes it so thoroughly smart and individual.

Style No. 768 is designed for that important age of two, four and six years.

Cross-barred dimity in sprigged pattern in pink tones with pink lawn bias binding, yellow linen accented with white, orchid and white gingham check and candy stripe tub are fetching combinations.

YOUR CHILDREN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
 © 1930 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

They say that water will rise no higher than its course. It is just as true of children and parents.

If parents want children to develop all the virtues, grow up free of prejudices and complexes, be truthful, honest, kind, and industrious—they themselves will have to measure up and not be found wanting.

I know one father who is fond of saying to his friends, "I am not perfect. I do all sorts of things I wouldn't want Dick to do. But I'm every. Judy had made the appointment with Alan on purpose to tell him."

The door opened. He gave one terrified look at the figure that entered. It was Chummy—the Chummy of the old days, hardly aged by a minute—a wonderful vision, like some delicate statuette wrought in silver and ivory and gold.

He saw him and stood quite still for a moment. Then, with a cry, and straight and swift as an arrow, speeding from a bow, she ran into his arms.

Well, there is some sterling in his reasoning. No cheating between parents and children is rare enough, speeding from a bow, she ran into his arms.

And you can't hoodwink nature. It strikes me that all the time this boy is saying to himself that "It's all right for Dad to do things I can't do," he's unconsciously making a mental reservation like this: "Someday I'll be a man. When I'm older I'll be like Dad. He knows and he wouldn't do things that were wrong."

For whether we like it or not, our children do idealize us. And, again whether we like it or not, some day they're going to copy us, particularly as long as these things pose under the guise of respectability.

We'll go back to this same father. I heard him tell with great pride one day how he had sold a used car for twice as much as it was worth to a young rancher who had left his herds and his pals and started out to see the wild and woolly east. "He had a bankroll that would have choked one of his own bulls. Been saving for years for this spree. I guess," said this man.

When his wife protested he defended himself, "Oh, he'll like all the better for paying more. And anyway, I'm not in business for my health. He'd have stung me I suppose if he'd had a chance."

The boy heard and grinned. He had a great admiration for his smart father. I know that this son would return a split lead pencil if he borrowed it—now. But some day won't he figure out that he has a right to beat the other fellow besides from the trees, on ropes, instead of merely having swings with seats. Make a little sandpile for the babies. Turn a piano box or two upside down and let the older children make a house. You will be surprised how the children love to stay home!

Parents too often teach one set of ethics and practice another. Children listen to their nice polite lies over and over, even while they are being scolded for fibs of their own.

They aren't blind to their parents' little prejudices and social meannesses, either, and they take in all their inconsistencies and changeableness.

Isn't it reasonable to think then that the best thing is to take the source of the water a little higher and not let constant example ruin in time the very fabric we are trying so hard to build up?

COAT FROCKS
 By all means do not overlook the coat frocks for summer days. They come in printed linens, with tiny spots of white and in a wide range of colors and materials. They are fine for outdoors-wear when you shun a coat.

DOOR SPRINGS
 It is a small expenditure and a worth-while one to see that every door has its spring, when summer comes. Adults are quite as likely to leave screen doors ajar as children.

HOW TO SHOP

DRAW STRAWS!

By WILLIAM H. BALDWIN
 Lightness, whiteness, and pliability in the sweatband are three important factors in the selection of the stiff straw hat. The first and third control the comfort of summer weather headgear, and the success with which the bleaching of the straw has been accomplished affects the appearance.

There are several types of comfortable sweatbands, all of which are based on the principle of providing flexibility. Avoid any hat where this band is sewed directly to the stiff crown of the hat.

A full braid straw is the best. It should be approximately a quarter of an inch wide.

In the case of Panama hats, the finer the straw the better the hat.

WASHING SHIELDS
 Shields can be kept fresh and made to wear long by the following method of laundering: Place them flat, brush them with tepid soap suds on both sides. Souse up and down in clear rinsing water to which a little ammonia has been added. Press, but do not wring. Hang over the line and allow to drip dry. Do not iron.

CLEAN HATS
 Most women do not realize that good straw hats can be cleaned with a brushing and cleaning fluid and, when dry, can be pressed with an ordinary iron on the ironing board, if done very carefully. A new ribbon and a clean lining then make the hat like new.

We suggest that when you send for this pattern, you enclose 10 cents additional for a copy of our large Fashion Magazine.

HEALTH

LOSS OF APPETITE IS SOMETIMES CAUSED BY MENTAL UPSET

By DR. MORRIS FISHER
 Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Failure of the appetite is a serious symptom because it carries the possibility of malnutrition and lowered resistance to disease. It is usually closely associated with nervous disturbances as well as with physical disturbances.

Indeed, there is one form of failure of appetite which is likely to arise in young girls who are hysterical. Cases of this type have been grouped by physicians under the name anorexia nervosa, a form occurring almost exclusively in young girls.

A British physician, Dr. J. F. Venables, has recently collected a series of nine such cases occurring in his practice. At the basis of this condition there is usually some mental factor of great importance. In one instance, a boy developed this form or lack of appetite due to the fact that he had read that sexual stimulation was much less likely if less food were taken.

There were other instances in which the condition arose from physical factors, but invariably there was some mental condition which started the patient on his way. Even though the original condition disappeared, the loss of appetite continued.

In this form of disturbance there was absolute aversion to food, the smallest mouthful producing a sense of complete fullness and distention and sometimes prompt vomiting.

In every case it was necessary to make a complete study of the patient to rule out all physical factors relating to the intestinal tract. In every instance after the condition had been fully studied and the mental problem which concerned the patient eliminated, the digestion improved and the condition was overcome.

Doctor Venables points out that these patients are inclined to resent the suggestion at first that the cause of the condition is mental, and advises that one proceed slowly in getting at the underlying factors.

TWEED-CHIFFON
 Arresting is the new use of tweed and chiffon. Chanel makes a fitted coat of hydrangea-blue tweed, with softly pleated flounce, cuff and lapel trim, lines it with a rich chiffon print in the same blue, with beige, lavender and violet flowers and make a very feminine little frock to go under it of the print.

COMPLETE ENSEMBLE
 Very new is a complete ensemble of tweed printed silk. Suit, beret, purse, scarf and shoes are of the fabric. The blouse is white chiffon.

JONES SHOOT SENSATIONAL 70, TWO STROKES UNDER PAR TO LEAD BRITISH TOURNEY

American Had Absolutely No Breaks to Help Him Make Remarkable Score in the Play Today.

Jones' Card
Out.....45-344-244-86
In.....335-345-454-84
Par is 72

Hoylake, Eng., June 18.—(AP)—Bobby Jones, American, shot a sensational 70 to take an early lead in the field in the first round of the British open golf championship today.

Jones' great 70 was scored without the benefit of the "breakers" for he had no luck setting down long putts. The Atlantian was 34th player to finish with just two-thirds of the field yet to report.

Only two long ones dropped on the greens for Jones, and when George Von Elm asked him at the fifteenth hole he was going, Bob went through a motion of breaking his putter across his knees, saying so and for while he had only three putt greens he had none where he was forced to take three.

Diegel Gets 74
Leo Diegel returned a score of 74, leaving him in good position.

Jones held the lead by one stroke over the veteran, Fred Robson, and Norman Sutton, another British pro, who was two strokes behind the American amateur.

Cyril Tolley, former British amateur champion, had a bad 84.

Horton Smith's Card
Horton Smith equalled par 72 after a slow start.

A sprinkle of rain began to fall and the wind increased as Jones finished and when Horton Smith reached the 16th hole, the storm broke. Crashes of thunder, the sound and floods of rain on the course as Horton finished and MacDonald Smith and Jim Barnes started their rounds.

F. G. Stevens, Jr., Los Angeles, slipped badly after a great start so bad that he returned a score of 80. He played the first nine holes in 35 strokes.

Hoylake, Eng., June 18.—(AP)—Don Moe, of Portland, Ore., scored a 74 in the first round of the British open golf championship today. Moe experienced all sorts of trouble on the first nine holes. He used 39 strokes but came home in fine style, shaving par figures by a stroke with a 35.

Moe was on the green in two good shots at the fourteenth. He was off the line, however, with his first putt and took for another hole. He finished the round with a 74 and a four-yard putt for a birdie three. He was also on in two at the dreaded sixteenth and played a fine approach putt dead for another birdie in four, which he used with his second to the seventeenth but got his par four. He played a splendid second from the rough to the 18th but took three from the edge of the green.

Hoylake, Eng., June 18.—(AP)—Two British professionals, Charles A. Whitcombe and Abe Mitchell, were first to turn in their scores for the opening round of the British open golf championship today. Whitcombe scored a 74 and Mitchell a 75.

Von Elm Takes Nine
George Von Elm experienced the thrill of a perfect shot and the despair over a half dozen bad ones by the time he had reached the sixth hole.

After scoring 4-5-5 on the first three holes, Von Elm laid his teeshot a yard from the pin at the fourth and scored a birdie two. Then the disaster overtook him at the fifth. He was bunkered from his second shot, took three to get out, but his next one over the green and took two more to get back on again and wound up with a nine. This was down on the ground a picture of despair.

The next three holes he made in par figures, 4-3-5 only to run into another minor disaster at the ninth. He was bunkered on his drive, made a weak recovery and took four to reach the green and was down in two putts for a six.

He needed 43 strokes for his first nine. Von Elm's outgoing card was 435 284 356-45.
Von Elm started home 4-4-3-4-5, one over par figures. He three-putted the eleventh and thirteenth greens. He holed a six yarder at the twelfth and was bunkered at the fourteenth. He came in with 38 for an 81.

Following Jones.
A gallery of 2,000 or more trailed Bobby Jones as he went to the first tee. The Atlantian started nervously, broke his stance when something distracted his attention, took a walk around the teeing and tried again. He cut the tier of the dog leg start too close and found a bunker. His third was off the green to the left. He was down in two putts for an 81.

Jones played his second from the rough at the second hole but got his par four. At the third he was down in par five, taking three from the edge of the green. He got his par three easily at the fourth and just missed a birdie three

FIRST ROUND SCORES

THREE TIED FOR LEAD

Hoylake, Eng., June 18.—(AP)—Henry Cotton, young British pro scored 70 in the first round of the British open golf championship to tie Bobby Jones, American amateur for the lead.

MacDonald Smith made it a three cornered tie for first place by completing his round in 70 strokes, shortly after Cotton tied Jones.

A few minutes before Smith finished, "Long Jim" Barnes had returned a score of 71.

With a great chance to take the lead, Mac Smith's putting touch failed him and he took five on three holes. He was brilliant on the putting green going out, playing the first nine holes in 33 strokes and started home with a rush, only to falter at the close.

FIGHT IS OFF

Hartford, June 18.—(AP)—The Kaufman-Loayza ten round bout postponed until tonight because of last night's rain was postponed again today and will held at the Hurley Vendrome Thursday night.

BOAT RACES

Indiana University runners won four of five places in the two mile race of the last Big Ten games.

Charley Irvin, a Wyoming cowboy was the leading rodeo winner at the last Aurora, Ill., season. He had 13 winners.

at the fifth where his 20-foot putt hung on the very edge of the cup. Jones got his par four at the sixth and was down in the customary three at an interval left hand for two just twisting out of the cup.

the Atlantian scored a birdie four at the long eighth and was down in par four at the ninth for an even par 36.

AMERICAN Yale and Washington Oarsmen Undefeated

Eli Favored Over Harvard Friday At New London And Washington Is Picked To Win Poughkeepsie.

By TED VOSSBURG.

New York, June 18.—(AP)—The University of Washington, conqueror of Wisconsin as well as California, holds its place beside Yale as the only other undefeated college crew in the country now that all the early season racing is finished and only the big features at New London and Poughkeepsie remain. As a result of a spotless record, Yale will be heavily favored to trim Harvard in this year's renewal of a 78 year old rowing rivalry on June 20. Washington figures to be the crew to beat in the intercollegiate race for all on the Hudson June 26. Rowing its races more than two months apart Washington opened the season way back in April by nosing out California by about five feet and then came through according to schedule against Wisconsin on Lake Monona yesterday on the way east for the Poughkeepsie classic.

Yale also has rowed in only two regattas but both were triangular affairs, the Eli's taking the measure of Columbia and Penna. in one race, and finishing ahead of Cornell and Princeton in the other. The following table shows how the country's 12 rowing colleges have fared to date, Princeton is the only one that has finished its season. Harvard and Yale are to row at New London and the nine other crews at Poughkeepsie.

YANKS GRADUALLY NEARING THE TOP

By ORLO ROBERTSON

The New York Yanks are pounding their way back toward the top of the American League pennant race with their powerful bats.

Apparently unnoticed the Yanks have slipped up to win one game of the league leading Athletics and hold jointly with the Senators and Indians, the runner-up position, starting five days ago at Detroit. The Yanks began pounding the ball over the field with the result that they have won their last five games.

In accounting for the five conquests, Babe Ruth and company put together 89 hits for 69 runs. The Cleveland Indians fell victims to the Yanks big hit yesterday for their only straight time, losing 17 to 2 when Roy Sherrid held them to seven scattered hits.

The Senators had a chance to move out in front, as the Athletics were idle, but found the St. Louis Browns in a hitting mood and lost 12 to 9.

The Boston Red Sox hammered three White Sox hurriers hard to win 8 to 5.

The Pittsburgh Pirates and Phillies locked in a pitchers duel which the Phillies won 5 to 4 in ten innings when Lefty O'Doul's single scored Southern with the winning run. Klein hit safely in his 28th consecutive game, but the Boston Braves climbed into first division, eight games back of the pace-setter, and a doubleheader win over the Cincinnati Reds. The Braves won the opener 6 to 4 and then the nightcap ten to five.

Yesterday's Stars

O'Doul, Phillies—Single in tenth gives Phillies 5 to 4 decision over Pirates.

Frankhouse, Braves—Made debut in Boston uniform as relief pitcher and received credit for 6 to 4 victory over Reds.

Gehrig, Combs and Rice, Yanks—Connected with four hits each as Yanks defeated Indians 17 to 2. Gehrig hit his 18th home of season.

NATIONAL COMMUNITY CLUB HAS GOOD TEAM

Surprises By Beating Highland Park and Mauling East Hartford; Seeks Town Title.

By TED VOSSBURG.

With two impressive week-end victories dangling to their belts, the Community Club baseball team of the North End, will meet Walker's All-Stars Friday night at the Community Grounds. This game was set for last night but the weather-man refused to apply his signature.

The Community Club through its manager let it be known this morning that the team is in the fight for its town championship honors this season. They cite their victory over Highland Park Saturday afternoon with Manchester Green players in the lineup of the opposing team.

Looks like the Community Club has a pretty good outfit; one that on the diamond this season. The box score of the two games over the week-end were submitted today. They follow:

Team	W	L	T	D
Community Club	5	0	0	0
Highland Park	1	1	1	0
East Hartford	1	1	0	0

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Larry Johnson, crack Chicago negro boxer and Pete Lazio of Scranton, a trial horse who is hard to beat will triumph the feature entertainment at 12th bits field tonight, weather permitting.

TWO-TIME GREEN SCALPERS SEEK ANOTHER VICTIM HERE

LEGION MUST WIN SATURDAY TO KEEP IN TITLE RUNNING

Rain washed out last evening's scheduled battle between the Legion and the Eagles at the Manchester Community grounds.

Thursday at 6 p. m. the Legion will line up against the Alumni in the first of a three game series.

The Legion team needs this game as a tuning up for Saturday's battle with Southington at the West Side Playhouse.

Booze, and bad booze at that writes Charley Paddock in Collier's, has been the prime factor in what he describes as the decadence of American post-war athletics.

WEST SIDE LEAGUE BATTLE ON TONIGHT

The Athletics and Red Sox mingle in the West Side League tonight at the Four Acres, weather permitting. The A's are in first place and the Sox occupy the cellar.

Brookline, Mass., June 18.—(AP)—Miss Dorothy Neyhart's six year old brown gelding, Iolan, son of the Midshipment, today held the titles in two feature races at the closing of the two days' racing of the Eastern Horse Club at Clyde Park.

HORSE-RACING

With Willie Hunt up, the horse took the 20th running of the Country Club grand annual steeplechase yesterday by 15 lengths from Augustus F. Goodwin's Ferula.

Iolan also won the Chamblin Memorial steeplechase on Saturday captured classic of the first day's running. It was the first time since 1927 that the same horse has taken both events in one year.

A crowd of 20,000 saw the races. The horses now go to John R. Macomber's private course in Framingham Center for the final day's racing under the auspices of the Eastern Horse Club tomorrow.

The Nat Cracker

A rookie third baseman who has just joined the Cardinals is named James Lymeropolous. What an awful trick the box score composers are going to play on him!

In a year or so he will turn up as Lym. Lym. Lym. About that time maybe the young collegiate pitcher, Mylykangas, will be ready to pitch to him.

BOAT RACES

New York, June 18.—(AP)—The four candidates for the honor of defending the American's Cup against the challenge of Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V have left New York waters for another series of races off the New England coast.

Jack Sharkey is a better golfer than Max Schmeling. How about a little golf tournament between the pair?

The French tennis gallery hooted and booed at Helen Wills Moody the other day, in her match with Helen Jacobs. Such popularity must be deserved.

Patou of Paris has just designed some frocks for outdoors motoring. O'Goofy wonders if the pattern will hold water.

MANTELLI TO OPPOSE INVADERS AT HICKEY'S GROVE; TOWN CHAMPS CHANGE BATTING ORDER; MIDDLETOWN HERE SUNDAY.

The ancient Manchester-Rockville baseball history which started here many years ago, will be renewed once more tomorrow evening when the All-Rockville combination comes to Hickey's Grove to oppose the Bon Ami present town champions. Play will start at 6:15 sharp.

The Bon Ami has high hopes of turning back the two-time conquerors of Manchester Green by (8-1, 10-2) and will be at full strength for the struggle. Expectations are that Elmo Mantelli, star M. H. S. athletic who has been making a name for himself at Holy Cross during the past season, will occupy the mound for the locals.

Mantelli made his debut with the Bon Ami a short while ago turning in a fifty performance with something like 13 strikeouts. He managed to squeeze out a 1 to 0 winner over the Tunk team of Windsor. Elmo hurls them up from the port side. Nino Boggi, another Manchester product who has been making good in college circles, will catch Mantelli. Nino has been with the N. Y. U. freshman team.

Last year the Bon Ami played the Rockville tribe twice and in each instance the final result was a tie score. The soap makers have high hopes of getting at least one more run tomorrow night. The local batting order may be shifted about a bit by Coach Bill McConigal in effort to make it a trifurcated effective if possible.

Sunday the South Ends of Middletown will play the Bon Ami at Hickey's Grove.

Good-time Charley is as far from the actual facts, it seems from this corner, as he was from finishing anywhere in the last Olympic 200-meter event at Amsterdam.

A variety of causes contributed to Yankee reverses in the Olympic games, ranging all the way from bad management and bad breaks to over-eating and over-confidence, plus the fact that world competition has become keener.

If American boys have failed to conquer athletes like Douglas Lowe, Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola on Olympic tracks, they hardly can be blamed, since the foot-racers have yet to appear in the last Olympic field. It is almost certain that they will appear.

Moreover, if there is any decadence in the Yankee ability to run faster, jump higher or toss the various athletic implements farther, it has not been manifest this spring. The year's college track and field season of all time.

With the exception of the middle distance running, in which there has unquestionably been a decline, the world's records have been broken and re-broken by American athletes in almost every other event within the past few years.

The athlete who gets anywhere near the top in this age of keen competition, no matter what the sport, has no chance to keep up with the pack if he over indulges—whether it is in food, liquor or late hours. Now and then a Jim Thorpe, a Washburn, or a Bob Beamon, a superb-endurance to burn both ends of the candle but they are rarities.

The height of indigestion for Southern California's champion track and field team was reached at Cambridge, where in celebration of their triumph in the I. C. A. A. A. games they sat down to a big supper, topped off by a double helping of strawberry and vanilla ice cream.

It happened to ask one of the star college sprinters about the attitude toward drinking.

"I guess some of the fellows will take a drink now and then," he responded, "but a guy who takes care of himself isn't going to get anywhere. As for me, I think one cocktail would knock me out."

Sam Grey lost nine straight games this year. But of course that isn't hard to do—for the Browns.

The Braves have picked up quite a slugger in the person of young Walt Berger. We are going to hold a guessing contest next week. Send in your slips. The question is: how long will it be before Walter Berger is a Giant?

The French tennis gallery hooted and booed at Helen Wills Moody the other day, in her match with Helen Jacobs. Such popularity must be deserved.

Aurora's spring season race attendance was up 7 percent but betting was off 12 percent, compared with last spring's card.

YOUTHS STEAL AUTO

Darien, June 18.—(AP)—Sergeant Amos Anderson, patrolling the Boston Post road early today, halted the adventures of three Rhode Island youths on their way to New York in a stolen car. At the police station one of the lads, Benjamin Coombs, 18, of King street, Central Falls, R. I., admitted stealing the machine, after he had broken into the garage of Victor Caron in Central Falls.

He told the police that the other lads, Edgar Bassard of Hunt street, Central Falls, and Gerald H. St. Gelais of Harrison street, Pawtucket, both 18 years of age, were picked up by him later. Coombs assumed all blame for the theft. The trio are being held until the arrival of Rhode Island authorities.

BID SCHOOL ADIEU

The Class of 1930 of St. James' School last night presented its program of three plays and a farewell to the school before an audience of relatives and friends in St. James' Hall. The program wound up with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner and display of the United States Flag presented to the class by the Mary Cheney Bushnell Auxiliary, Spanish American War Veterans.

The address of welcome and the farewell to the school were delivered by Robert E. Carney, Jr., the class president.

Rev. William P. Reidy, pastor of St. James' church, spoke in behalf of the school and thanked the Auxiliary for the mounted flag.

The annual graduating exercises of the Manchester Green school will be held in the school hall this evening. The pupils will present the cantata, "The Courtship of Miles Standish."

Rye, N. Y., June 18.—(AP)—A body believed to be that of a member of the crew of the freighter Thames, which burned on Long Island Sound April 24, was washed up on Pine Island off Rye during the night.

DEFEATED MARINES

Mexico City, June 18.—(AP)—General Augustino Sardino's representative here issued a statement today saying the insurgent leader had returned to Nicaragua and had defeated the United States Marines in two encounters.

The representative, Pedro Jose Zepeda, declared Sardino's men had captured a Marine sergeant and an aviator and in addition had taken ten thousand rounds of ammunition and many guns.

Wife—Powder my back.
Hubby—How far down?
Wife—To where my evening gown begins.

Some women are so afraid they are going to be flirted with, it is almost impossible to treat them politely.

Miss Lengthy—I'll have you know
I am a model.
Miss Cattie—Yes, dear—for a
