

NET PRESS RUN AVERAGE DAILY CIRCULATION for the Month of August, 1930
5,400
Members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations

Manchester Evening Herald

THE WEATHER
Forecast by U. S. Weather Bureau,
Hartford.
Fair tonight and Thursday; cooler tonight.

VOL. XLIV., NO. 297. (Classified Advertising on Page 10) SOUTH MANCHESTER, CONN., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1930 TWELVE PAGES PRICE THREE CENTS

BUTLER WINNER IN BAY STATE G. O. P. PRIMARY

Dry Candidate Defeats Draper for Senatorial Nomination—Marcus A. Coolidge to Oppose Him.

Easton, Sept. 17.—(AP)—William M. Butler, dry candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator from Massachusetts, seemed assured of victory in his primary contest, according to returns tabulated here today. Marcus A. Coolidge, former mayor of Fitchburg, a wet Democrat, was nominated to oppose him in the November election.

Joseph E. Ely, of Westfield, a modificationist, was chosen by the Democrats as their gubernatorial candidate to oppose Governor Frank G. Allen, a dry renominated by the Republicans by an overwhelming majority.

Close Contest

The contest for the Republican nomination for Senator was a close-fought affair. Butler, former Senator and former chairman of the Republican National committee, clung to a principal wet opponent, Eben S. Draper, as returns from Massachusetts' 355 towns and cities were gathered and tabulated. But, until near the end of the count, Draper always appeared to be in a position to win the nomination. In Boston, less than 200 votes separated the candidates when the count of this city's 339 precincts was completed. Draper carrying the state capital.

With 1,569 of the state's 1,649 precincts reports, Butler had a vote of 150,223 to 141,763 which, it was apparent, formed a handicap which Draper could not surmount in the remaining precincts.

Coolidge ran up a comfortable lead over his nearest opponents, Thomas C. O'Brien, former district attorney of Suffolk county, and former Congressman Joseph F. O'Connell, with full Democratic Senatorial nomination. Both O'Connell and O'Brien are wets.

Dry Defeated

Coolidge's vote in 1,569 precincts was 78,667 to 52,685 for O'Connell and 13,531 for O'Brien. The two dry Democratic candidates for Senator, former Governor Eugene N. Foss and Peter J. Joyce, were never serious contenders, polling only 12,423 and 6,091, respectively, in the same precincts.

Allen swamped his opponent, John D. Devir, former mayor of Malden, winning an average of more than 12 votes to every one for Devir. Devir campaigned little and Allen not at all, showing on his record as governor. All but 80 precincts in the state gave Allen 282,988 votes and Devir 23,165.

Victory Conceded

Ely conceded the Democratic nomination for governor to his two opponents, at a comparatively early hour, continued to roll up an increasingly plurality as late returns

(Continued on Page 2)

WINS CHENEYS TO NEW $1-YEAR LEASE

Eighth District Gets Old Rate on Septic Plant; Co-Operation on Fires.

That the new government of the Eighth School and Utilities District is swinging into action along progressive lines was indicated at the meeting of the directors of the district last night. One highly important matter was the ratification of a new agreement between the district and Cheney Brothers as to the lease of the land on the banks of the Hockanum river on which the district's septic tank sewage disposal plant is located. This is the matter over which there was so much controversy previous to the last district election and which was largely responsible for the unseating of Dr. F. A. Sweet as district president. It will be remembered that the matter of renewing the old dollar-a-year lease had been neglected, notwithstanding ample notice by Cheney Brothers of its impending expiration and that when the business was belatedly taken up Cheney Brothers had placed a new rental figure of $270 a year on the land, and a purchase price of $2,700. There was a general disposition to blame the

(Continue on Page 2)

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for Sept. 15 were $20,734,720.74; expenditures $35,309,584.78; balance $30,980,206.33.

LEGION PRAYERS ARE CHRISTLESS

So Say Lutheran Pastors in Convention—Say Veterans' Ritual is Addressed to Idols.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Two hundred pastors of the Wisconsin and Missouri synods of the Evangelical Lutheran churches today were on record as condemning the prayers of the American Legion as "addressed to idols" and "abominable to the sight of a Christian."

Meeting in conference here, the pastors failed to take action regarding the Rev. John Henning, pastor of the Iron Ridge, Wis., church, whose ouster was asked by his board of directors because he refused to admit several Legionnaires to communion. The Rev. Henning said he considered "the American Legion as a Christian since it did not officially recognize Christ in the prayers of the organization."

The pastors approved a statement that "prayers of the American Legion ritual are addressed to idols and are abominable to the sight of a Christian."

TUTTLE RESIGNS HIS FEDERAL JOB

U. S. Attorney for New York City District Urges Repeal of Volstead Act.

New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Charles H. Tuttle has announced his resignation as U. S. Attorney for the southern district of New York in a statement urging repeal of the 18th Amendment.

As a substitute for the amendment, he advocated a constitutional guarantee outlawing the sale and distribution of liquor and giving the federal government full power to assist in enforcement in those states which desire to retain prohibition.

He advocated state control, sale and distribution of liquor in those states which desire to go wet.

For Enforcement

Pending legal action, he urged strict enforcement of the 18th Amendment and the Volstead Act, with full use of the New York state of the nuisance law to abolish "plague spots of the liquor traffic."

Mr. Tuttle said his resignation had been forwarded to President Hoover to take effect at the President's pleasure but not later than November 16.

In his formal statement, Tuttle said he was not a candidate for public office and did not wish to be considered in that respect.

GUARD FRUSTRATES JAIL BREAK TRY

Is in Critical Condition From Wound Made by Own Gun; Riot Put Down.

Baltimore, Sept. 17.—(AP)—A well laid plan for a break to freedom by nine inmates of the Maryland Penitentiary was being investigated by state officials as Arthur Owen, guard who discovered and frustrated the plot only to be shot with his own pistol, lay in the University hospital in a critical condition.

The investigation was in the hands of Herbert R. O'Connor, state attorney. O'Connor said Owen had named the prisoner who shot him. He added that the rioters would be prosecuted.

The break started shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon as the shops were being closed and the guards were changing shifts.

Led by Rawlings Whittemore, brother of Richard Rees Whittemore, who was hanged in the same prison several years ago for slaying a guard in an escape plot, the little band yesterday made a break across the roof of the unused foundry building close to one of the outside walls. They were seen by Owen just

(Continued on Page Three)

Other Children Stricken By Mysterious Malady

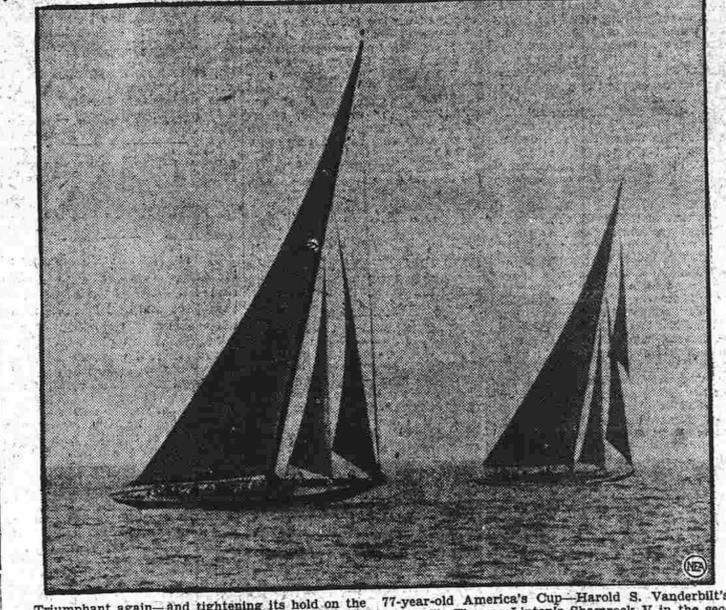

Los Angeles, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The three eldest children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Lowe were rushed to a hospital today suffering from symptoms similar to those which preceded the death of the three younger children in the family last Sunday.

Those stricken are Robert, 14; Francis, 12; and Geneva, 9. Last Sunday, Betty, 8; Virginia, 3; and John, 18 months, died after becoming ill early in the day. Lois, 7, also was taken ill last Sunday and still is in a critical condition.

The strange ailment at first was diagnosed as leucocaine poisoning, caused by eating unripe fruit, or other food unfit for human consumption. Later, however, physicians detected leucocaine poisoning was not the cause of death and a chemical analysis of vital organs was ordered. The analysis has not yet been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe, out of work for several months, were not affected. They said they had not eaten away from the house for several days before their youngest children were fatally stricken and there was a shortage of food in the house.

AS ENTERPRISE WON SECOND STRAIGHT VICTORY

Triumphant again—and tightening its hold on the 77-year-old America's Cup—Harold S. Vanderbilt's steam yacht, the SS Enterprise, is shown above, fighting its way away from Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V in the second race for the historic trophy off Newport, R. I. Enterprise sailed to another easy victory over a 30-mile triangular course, finished 9 minutes and 34 seconds ahead of the foreign challenger. The race was run in light weather while thousands of spectators looked on from the decks of 300 yachts and other passenger craft.

SHAMROCK OUT OF RACE WHEN MAINSAIL TOPPLES

Third Race Ends Disastrously for British Challenger; Enterprise Continues.

U. S. Kane, Off America's Cup Course, Sept. 17.—(AP)—(By Radio to the Associated Press)—The third race of the series for the America's Cup today ended disastrously for Shamrock V, the British challenger, three quarters of an hour after the start.

Footed it along on even terms with Enterprise, the defender, Shamrock lost her main sail, which blew down half on her deck and half in the water. She immediately lost her way and came about. It appeared that a block, which holds the rigging to the masthead had carried away.

Continues Course

Enterprise started to come around when the mishap to Shamrock occurred, but then turned back on the course, apparently determined to sail out the race and claim the victory, even though it be a walkover.

The tug Susan A. Moran, carrying the race committee, steamed over to the disabled Shamrock as did the Erin, Sir Thomas Lipton's steam yacht. The challenger's crew however hauled in their big sail alone and then Captain Ned Heard turned his boat back toward the starting line, running ahead of the wind in only her topsails.

Was Going Good

Up to the time of the mishap, Shamrock had given the best performance of the series and had shown every indication of making a real battle of today's contest.

She had all the better of the start, going across almost bow to bow with the defender but in the windward berth, which gave her a large advantage.

To this slight margin she had clung with grim determination until the accident to her rigging. The Enterprise was creeping up, however, and it appeared only a matter of minutes and miles until she would take command.

Not Serious

It was not believed the accident to Shamrock was serious enough to require extensive repairs, but with

(Continued on Page 2)

PARALYSIS SCARE HITS MIDDLETOWN

Two Girls Die of Disease; Source of Illness is Now Being Investigated.

Middletown, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Two deaths from infantile paralysis were reported to Acting Health Officer MacGillivray today.

James E. Quirk, 10, and Elizabeth Camp, 13, were the victims. Quirk died at his home while the girl died in hospital.

Dr. MacGillivray said there was no epidemic and these were the only cases known to him. No general quarantine is planned and the schools will not be closed, unless another case develops, according to the officer.

The source of the disease is unknown but an investigation is being made of the food and milk supplies as possible carriers of the germ.

Miss Camp was said to be a student in Skidmore College lived on Mount Vernon street, a half mile away from the Quirk residence on Home avenue, but had visited at a house a few doors away from the Quirk's last Sunday.

COLLEGE HEAD WOULD MODIFY VOLSTEAD ACT

President of Wesleyan, This State, Advises Students to be Open Minded Enough to Admit Failure of Law.

Middletown, Conn., Sept. 17.—(AP)—President James L. McCaughey, in addressing Wesleyan University students at the opening of the 100th college year today, spoke of the need of enlarging "our horizons and definitions" and said that if present laws and enforcement methods are ineffectual he was willing to face the necessity of modifying our prohibition statutes.

"Personally I think the coming of liquor an undoubted social advance," he said, "and I believe that colleges are better off under prohibition than they were before. If, however, in certain cities and states the present laws and methods are proving ineffectual and are causing other evils, I for one am willing to re-examine my definitions and frankly face the necessity of modification of the law. I urge upon you as the voters of the immediate future, upon whom the responsibility for the solution of this great question will shortly rest, to be open-minded enough to recognize any possible present failures and likewise to be willing to curb your own wishes somewhat for the social good."

LA FOLLETTE WINS AT THE PRIMARIES

Brother of the Senator Defeats Kohler for Nomination in Wisconsin Race.

By Associated Press.

Out of the welter of yesterday's primary voting in three states, Philip F. La Follette appeared today the Republican nominee for governor of Wisconsin and William M. Butler of Massachusetts was the likely choice of the Republicans of his state for the Senate. Governor Frank G. Allen was renominated by the Massachusetts Republicans.

La Follette, brother of Senator Robert M. La Follette, had a steady widening lead for the nomination over Governor Walter J. Kohler and appeared to have wrested control of the party in the state from the conservative element which the latter represented.

RUTH McCORMICK DEMANDS HEARING

Attorney General Also Makes Plea in Her Behalf Before Senate Committee.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Oscar Carlstrom, attorney-general of Illinois, today again requested the Senate campaign funds investigation committee to hear him "in behalf of Ruth Hanna McCormick and the State of Illinois."

Senator Gerald P. Nye, chairman, announced that the committee had received a letter from Mr. Carlstrom asking to appear. Nye said "a decision will be made later."

Carlstrom attempted to appear Monday, when Senator Nye, with a statement that the committee was through with all evidence of espionage, postponed the day's session.

Tuesday he again asked to be heard, but was refused on the ground that Senator Robert Wagner of New York had not arrived. Senator Wagner arrived at noon, but Carlstrom and Mrs. McCormick had left the

(Continued on Page Two)

CHICAGO POLICE IN HUNT FOR 26 "PUBLIC ENEMIES"

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The six thousand members of Chicago's police force today hunted the 26 "public enemies" listed by the Chicago Crime Commission with Alphonse ("Scarface") Capone, gangland overlord, the first on their list.

Backed by warrants issued last night by Municipal Judge John H. Lyle charging Capone and the other gang chiefs with violation of the vagrancy law, Chief of Detectives John Norton inaugurated the search. Judge Lyle, who made certain the warrants were returnable before him, before delivering them into the hands of assistant state attorneys, announced he would set the bond for each at $10,000.

PARTIES IN STATE PREPARE TO OPEN THEIR CAMPAIGNS

KELLOGG ELECTED TO WORLD COURT

Former Secretary of State to Replace Charles Evans Hughes Who Resigned.

Geneva, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Frank B. Kellogg, formerly United States secretary of state, today was elected a member of the Permanent Court of International Justice, so-called World Court, to replace Charles Evans Hughes, who resigned to become Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

The Kellogg election was jointly by the League Assembly and Council in secret balloting. Later in the present session Kellogg is expected to be elected to the full nine-year term beginning Jan. 1, next.

Kellogg received 30 out of the 47 valid votes cast. The other candidates voted for were not announced.

KELLOGG SILENT

New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Former Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg said today that he could make no statement regarding his election to the World Court until he had received official notification.

"I am sorry, but of course I cannot say anything until I have been officially notified," he said when informed by the Associated Press that he had been chosen to succeed Charles Evans Hughes who resigned to become Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

CHINESE FIRE ON AMERICAN GUNBOAT

Bandits Now Using Trench Mortars and Are Liable to Start Serious Trouble.

Shanghai, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Dispatches from foreign naval patrols today said Communist deprecations above Wusueh, Hupeh province, were continuing on an increasing scale. The Reds destroyed many villages on either side of the Yangtze river, advised said. Villagers fled in terror, many seeking refuge on a sand bank above Wusueh.

Frequent firing upon passing foreign vessels by the outlaws continued.

An attempt to dislodge the attackers from behind banks of the river was not considered practical, naval dispatches said, and Chinese forces ashore have taken no steps to drive the bandits out.

Fire on Gunboat

The American gunboat Luzon yesterday was the target of Communist fire above Wusueh. The Luzon suffered no casualties and what punishment was inflicted upon the Reds by return fire could not be determined.

Rear Admiral Thomas Craven, commander of the American Yangtze river patrol, directed the Luzon to return fire. The skirmish lasted about forty minutes.

The British gunboat Gnat, following the Luzon, subsequently was attacked by the Reds. Although the Gnat scoured the banks of the river with its guns, it failed to silence the Communist fire.

The bandits now are using trench mortars where formerly they attacked foreign shipping on the Yangtze with machine gun fire. This fact is causing naval authorities grave concern since a direct hit probably would sink a vessel, they said.

Brief Convention

The Republican convention yesterday almost made a record for brevity, for each session. Had not the Levitt angle been introduced into the nomination session, it was believed the length would have been less than an hour.

In the way of incidents the one which claimed much interest was embraced in the nomination of Judge Warren B. Burrows for attorney general. J. Edwin Brainard, of Branford, former senator and former lieutenant-governor, seconded the nomination while in the rear of the hall was Deputy Attorney General E. L. Averill, of Branford, once Brainard's closest friend in the political game. It was understood that Brainard's opposition to Averill had some weight in preventing the latter's promotion in office. The 12th Senatorial district long has been the scene of factional differences.

QUAKE RECORDED

Washington, Sept. 17.—(AP)—An earthquake of considerable intensity starting at 10:27 p. m. E. S. T. and lasting until 11:15 p. m. last night was recorded on the seismograph at Georgetown University. It apparently centered about 300 miles from Washington. The direction could not be ascertained.

Both nominees for Governor Personally Dry But Dean Cross is Running on Wet Platform; Speaking Tours in Smaller Towns Planned for This Fall.

New Haven, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Connecticut's electorate today cast a keen eye over the political arena. It has its choice between a dry and a wet candidate for governor; between a party platform calling for repeal of liquor control to the states and one demanding repeal of the 18th Amendment and the Volstead Act.

Lt.-Gov. E. E. Rogers of New London, a personal and political dry, stood as the Republican gubernatorial nominee in opposition to Dr. Wilbur L. Cross, dean emeritus, of Yale a wet.

Rogers was nominated by the state convention in Hartford yesterday. He will make his race for election on a platform which denounces conditions as they exist under the prohibition law and calls for return to the states of power to regulate liquor traffic.

The Democrats plan to make a tour of the state in espousal of their cause but their plans have not been announced yet.

Both Personally Dry

Both the gubernatorial nominees in their private life are alike in that neither has been a user of intoxicating liquors. As political opponents cannot call the other "dry" because of their party platform.

Today, the Republican Party organization began to put its campaign machinery into gear. The Democrats beat them to it by a week, but the former, by continuing its managers, merely lengthened its stride begun with the opening of the pre-convention work. The Democrats have had to adjust its organization to a new state chairman and secretary.

From now on the rivalry in a sense will be between J. Henry Roraback, Republican chairman, and Patrick B. O'Sullivan, the Democratic chairman.

Headquarters as usual will be in Hartford and the latter's in this city.

Into Small Towns

Both parties expect to go into the small towns of the state with their speakers. In a few days the lines of battle will be drawn, each side withholding activities until the paths be crossed, the local contests especially for the state senate, having different cities. When these are all smoothed out and factional differences ended the state campaign will be under way. On both sides it will be a short but sharp one.

The Democrats are to call in their best workers and volunteers are many.

It was forecast yesterday that Republican work will be in the country towns while the Democrats are to concentrate on city meetings. The Cross campaign will be coordinated with the Congressional campaigns in at least three districts. One of the Republican leaders after the convention yesterday said: "We realize that we have a man-size job in the cities."

ROBERTSON'S PICTURE IN AUSTRALIAN PAPER

In a letter received this morning by Matthew Merz from William W. Robertson, dated August 18 and mailed from Sydney, Australia, Mr. Robertson writes briefly telling how he likes the country. Enclosed with the letter was a newspaper clipping showing three pictures set side by side under the caption: "Arrivals from Overseas on the Aorangi."

SHAMROCK OUT OF RACE AS MAINSAIL TOPPLES

Today's race gone she had a staggering margin to overcome. Enterprise would need only one more victory after today to clinch the cup. After a conference with Sir Thomas on the deck of the nearby Erin, Skipper Ned Heard of the Shamrock turned his boat and set out after the distant Enterprise.

FIND BOYS WITH HOBO INSTINCTS IN A BARN

Police Pick Up Lads With Homes Here Who Are Getting Vagabond Habits. A seventeen year old boy, somewhat drunk, and a lad a couple of years younger who at least had difficulty in keeping awake, were roofed out of a Centar street barn last night about midnight by Police Sergeant John McGinn and Officer Griffin. The raid on the barn was made at the instance of the owners, who had complained that the place had been resorted to as a dormitory by uninvited guests several times lately.

BUTLER WINNER IN BAY STATE G. O. P. PRIMARY

Butler was reported. John F. Fitzgerald, former Boston mayor, forced from the contest by ill health, did not withdraw in time to have his name removed from the ballot. The president mayor of Boston, James M. Curley, precipitated an acrimonious dispute with other Democratic leaders when he urged that Fitzgerald be named, despite his withdrawal, and Irish race. Ely succeeded, nevertheless, in carrying Boston and ran up a heavy lead in the remainder of the state.

OBITUARY

August F. Verchot, age 88, died at his home, 452 Hartford Road, at 12:30 this noon following a year's illness with a complication of diseases. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Louise Verchot, and four children: Mrs. Alice Fraichard, of South Hadley, Mass.; Maurice Verchot, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. Louise Scharr, of this town; and Miss Bertha Verchot, of this town, and one brother, Louis, in France. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Local Stocks

Table with columns for stock names and prices. Includes Bankers Trust Co., City Bank and Trust, Cap Nat B&T, Conn. River, etc.

N.Y. Stocks

Table with columns for stock names and prices. Includes Adams Exp, Allegheny, Am Can, Am and For, Am Internat, etc.

HALE'S SELF-SERVE GROCERY

Self-Serve Week Specials. For famous and real economy, it will pay you to visit the famous Self-Serve—"It Pays to Wait on Yourself."

Advertisement for HALE'S SELF-SERVE GROCERY featuring FAMOUS JACK FROST SUGAR, EGGS, BUTTER, FLOUR, and SUGAR. Includes prices and descriptions for various items.

Miscellaneous Specials. Includes Armour's "Star" PURE LARD, Post's CORN FLAKES, Flako PIE CRUST, SELOX, P and G NAPHA SOAP, Campfire MARSHMALLOW MAL-O WHIP, Sunbeam CHERRIES, Sunbeam STUFFED OLIVES, Lipton's Tea, and David Harum's SIFTED PEAS.

MAYONNAISE. The Base of Any Salad! Hale's Fresh (Home Made). 8 oz. 17c, 16 oz. 33c, 32 oz. 59c.

SWEET PEAS. David Harum's. 2 No 1 cans 23c. TEA. Hale's Famous Evening Luxury. 1 pkg. 52c.

Health Market Specials. Forequarter LAMB ROAST lb. 15c. Fresh, Lean HAMBURG STEAK lb. 20c. Fresh SAUSAGE MEAT lb. 18c. Lean, Rib CORN BEEF lb. 12c.

FENN WITHDRAWS; PLEADS ILLNESS to the nominee selected at the convention. In view of the activities another political season would demand from the Congressman, Dr. Ruffin summoned him to Washington for another examination last week. The result of this examination, Congressman Fenn said, shows him to be in satisfactory health, but fear of a recurrence of his previous THREE GIRLS' COFFEE SHOP. Specials Thursday, Sept. 18. Includes Vegetable Soup, Hot roast lamb sandwich, Pork chops saute with buttered beets and potatoes, etc.

WINS CHENEYS TO NEW $1-YEAR LEASE

former district president for that situation. Gets Matter Reopened. Last night it developed that Director Wells Strickland, a new member of the board and its secretary, had reopened the matter with Cheney Brothers and had obtained their consent to re-lease the land at the old dollar-a-year rate; also an option to purchase the property at any time within the five year life of the lease at a price to be agreed on by a committee of three persons, one to be selected by the board, one by Cheney Brothers and the third by the other two.

Upon vote of the board the new lease signed by Charles B. Loomis, acting president of the district. Another very important matter was the taking of a first step looking to co-ordination between the fire department of South Manchester. Director William Foulds, Jr., who has been acting as a committee on this matter, reported that he had conferred with Frank Cheney, Jr., president of the South Manchester Fire District, and had been assured that that body stood ready to co-operate. As a result of this report Chief Edward Coleman of the Manchester Department, Mr. Foulds and Edward J. Murphy were appointed as a committee to further negotiate with Mr. Cheney and Chief Albert Foy of the South Manchester Department for the formulation of plans whereby active co-operation at all times should be maintained.

Further than this, the directors abrogated the hard-and-fast rule which was blamed for the failure to send aid to the Avery Street fire outside the district last spring and established a ruling under which it will be possible to permit Eighth District apparatus to go outside the district on proper occasion. No Ditch Digging Officials. Another matter agreed on was that the actual physical operations of laying sewer pipes and making connections was not properly the work of officers of the district. With this in view the board established a labor department of three experienced men who can be depended on to carry on such operations. In the matter of house connections the householder can have the services of any of these three men whom he may select.

W.T. GRANT'S. Exposition of Values. You've been paying one dollar and more for these Girls' Dresses now they cost 74c. It has been a good many years since 74c bought such fine grade wash dresses. Materials found in these dresses mark them distinct bargains at the price. They'll wash beautifully, too.

W.T. GRANT CO. Permanent new low price on Men's Work Shirts 59c. Boys' Knickers $1. Women's Lovely Rayon Undies 69c. Men's Dress Shirts $1. Wash Dresses 39c.

NORTH END MERCHANTS DISCUSS BUSS LINES

The regular monthly meeting of the newly organized North Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce was held last evening in the Community Club House. The meeting was called to order a few minutes after 8 p. m., by the chairman, Thomas Conran and after the reading of the minutes by the secretary who also informed the members of the matter of their new organization had been heartily approved by the Board of Control at a recent meeting and they are now officially re-organized by the parent organization of the Chamber of Commerce.

Secretary McCabe reported on the matter of the proposed improvement for terminal facilities of the bus lines at the north end and informed the members of the division that the Board of Control of the chamber were of the opinion that something should be done to improve conditions in this regard and the secretary also informed the members that a committee had been appointed for the purpose of bringing about proper and satisfactory conditions. There was some discussion and several suggestions were made which the secretary assured those present he would pass on to the special committee at the next meeting they hold. It is hoped by the members of the North Merchants Division that curbing and sidewalk would be put in on the east side of Woodbridge street making arrangements for a turning point west of the Beef Box and that the unoccupied ground can be seeded with grass and shrubbery adding much beauty to the general appearance in that section. It is hoped that a shelter may be provided in the form of a suitable waiting station, this probably would be of glass on three sides and opened on the south side facing the curb and it is believed that this will prove of great value and through proper lighting at night it would also add to the attractiveness of the town.

A mention was made of the splendid success of the band concerts at the north end and it was unanimously voted that the Secretary write the band thanking them for such a splendid service. Karl Keller, chairman of the special committee on Fall Dollar Day of the North Merchants Division made a lengthy report which showed splendid progress on the part of his committee and it is supposed that a very well organized Dollar Day will be conducted within the very near future with practically every merchant at Depot Square and throughout the north section of Manchester participating. Mr. Keller said that he was indeed grateful to find such a splendid spirit of cooperation and already 31 retail merchants have signified their intentions of cooperating in this special event and it is expected through such cooperation that the buying public will be given the greatest opportunity in the history of Manchester to secure real values for their money. Keller said that already the good effect of an organization of the merchants realize this coming Dollar Day is an opportunity not to make money but to allow more people of Manchester to get acquainted with the fine retail stores located in the north section of the town.

A daughter, Ann Barbara, was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brousseau of 357 Woodbridge street.

SIDESTEPED ISSUE

Bridgeport, Sept. 17.—(AP)—John Field, assistant commander of the Fairfield county Crusaders, today said the Republican party had "sidestepped" the prohibition issue in adopting its platform at Hartford yesterday. He forecast that the local unit of Crusaders, an organization opposed to the dry law, would support Dr. Wilbur L. Cross, the Democratic nominee for governor.

RUTH McCORMICK DEMANDS HEARING

courtroom and did not reappear. Neither was present this morning. Identifies Check. James W. Rogers, financial secretary of Mrs. McCormick, was called to identify Col. R. R. McCormick's check of Sept. 27, 1929, for $2,500. He said he cashed it after Mrs. McCormick indorsed it and gave the cash to Mrs. Mabel G. Reinecke, who yesterday testified the amount was credited by error to her husband.

Mrs. George Dean, president of the Illinois Republican Women's Club said she returned a check for $5,000 sent to the club by Col. McCormick, since it does not and never has sponsored an individual candidate. She said the club had, on occasion, received donations from Mrs. McCormick but that she believed these were all made long before the primary campaign.

Adjutant and Mrs. Joseph Heard of the Salvation Army were pleasantly surprised last night at a gathering held in the Citadel in honor of their double birthday, both having been born on Sept. 16. Bandsmen and members of the corps assembled in the auditorium and then Mr. and Mrs. Heard were called from their quarters above. Brigadier Albert E. Bates and Mrs. Bates and Capt. and Mrs. Paer from Hartford met them at the door and it was some time before the surprised couple could realize the meaning of the unusual gathering. Women of the corps served lunch in the dining hall and a purse of money was presented to the Heards in honor of the double event.

SURPRISE HEARDS ON A DOUBLE BIRTHDAY

Today and Thursday STATE Thursday. FIRST! 'The Virginian' THEN! 'The Texan' NOW!

GARY COOPER. 'A MAN FROM WYOMING'. With JUNE COLLYER REGIS TOOMEY. He thought it was a man's war until he met the sweetheart of the army!

MUSICAL INSTRUCTION. Experienced Teachers. Reasonable Rates. GEORGE J. SMITH, Teacher of The Tenor Banjo, Tenor Guitar, Mandolin and Allied Fretted Instruments. Special Ukelele Course of five lessons. Modern Methods. Dial 3635. THE MUSIC BOX, 679 Main St. for Information and Enrollment.

ARTHUR A. STEIN, Violinist and Instructor. Finest Methods Used. Beginners and Advanced Pupils. Solo and Orchestra Playing. Manchester Friday 5 to 9 Dial 4476. Rockville Phone 148-15.

WINS CHENEYS TO NEW $1-YEAR LEASE

former district president for that situation. Gets Matter Reopened. Last night it developed that Director Wells Strickland, a new member of the board and its secretary, had reopened the matter with Cheney Brothers and had obtained their consent to re-lease the land at the old dollar-a-year rate; also an option to purchase the property at any time within the five year life of the lease at a price to be agreed on by a committee of three persons, one to be selected by the board, one by Cheney Brothers and the third by the other two.

Upon vote of the board the new lease signed by Charles B. Loomis, acting president of the district. Another very important matter was the taking of a first step looking to co-ordination between the fire department of South Manchester. Director William Foulds, Jr., who has been acting as a committee on this matter, reported that he had conferred with Frank Cheney, Jr., president of the South Manchester Fire District, and had been assured that that body stood ready to co-operate. As a result of this report Chief Edward Coleman of the Manchester Department, Mr. Foulds and Edward J. Murphy were appointed as a committee to further negotiate with Mr. Cheney and Chief Albert Foy of the South Manchester Department for the formulation of plans whereby active co-operation at all times should be maintained.

Further than this, the directors abrogated the hard-and-fast rule which was blamed for the failure to send aid to the Avery Street fire outside the district last spring and established a ruling under which it will be possible to permit Eighth District apparatus to go outside the district on proper occasion. No Ditch Digging Officials. Another matter agreed on was that the actual physical operations of laying sewer pipes and making connections was not properly the work of officers of the district. With this in view the board established a labor department of three experienced men who can be depended on to carry on such operations. In the matter of house connections the householder can have the services of any of these three men whom he may select.

Report was received that at the session of the District Board of Relief no protest on tax assessment was received. Robert J. Smith was granted the right to extend sewers in the Elisabeth Park section, the present work being the extension of sewers on Henry street.

Adjusted and Mrs. Joseph Heard of the Salvation Army were pleasantly surprised last night at a gathering held in the Citadel in honor of their double birthday, both having been born on Sept. 16. Bandsmen and members of the corps assembled in the auditorium and then Mr. and Mrs. Heard were called from their quarters above. Brigadier Albert E. Bates and Mrs. Bates and Capt. and Mrs. Paer from Hartford met them at the door and it was some time before the surprised couple could realize the meaning of the unusual gathering. Women of the corps served lunch in the dining hall and a purse of money was presented to the Heards in honor of the double event.

MUSICAL INSTRUCTION. Experienced Teachers. Reasonable Rates. GEORGE J. SMITH, Teacher of The Tenor Banjo, Tenor Guitar, Mandolin and Allied Fretted Instruments. Special Ukelele Course of five lessons. Modern Methods. Dial 3635. THE MUSIC BOX, 679 Main St. for Information and Enrollment.

ARTHUR A. STEIN, Violinist and Instructor. Finest Methods Used. Beginners and Advanced Pupils. Solo and Orchestra Playing. Manchester Friday 5 to 9 Dial 4476. Rockville Phone 148-15.

CONSIDER CHURCH UNION TOMORROW

North Methodists and Second Congregationalists Meet to Discuss Plans.

Dr. L. H. Dorchester of Simsbury, secretary of the Connecticut Federation of Churches, will be the guest speaker at a meeting to be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at Second Congregational church.

HOTEL SHERIDAN

BLUE PLATE SPECIALS

DINNER, 50c.

- 1. Vegetable Soup, Hamburg Steak, Tomato Salad, Mashed Potato
- 2. Minced Lamb on Toast, Succotash, Home Fried Potatoes

CHOICE OF DESSERT

- Custard Rice Pudding, Apple Pie, Pumpkin Pie, Mince Pie, Coffee, Milk

THURSDAY

DINNER, 75c.

- Vegetable or Oxtail Soup, Roast Prime Ribs of Beef, Veal Loaf, Roast Native Pork, Dill Pickles, Pepper Relish, Apple Sauce, Sliced Tomatoes, Cucumbers or Succotash, Mashed or Boiled Potatoes

- Custard Rice Pudding, Apple Pie, Mince Pie, Pears, Peaches, Sliced Pineapple, Loganberries, Coffee, Milk

RAID LOCAL MEN'S SHACK IN BOLTON, GET LIQUOR

John Caselli and Ray Solo Held for Hearing Tomorrow Afternoon—State Police Act.

John Caselli, who is a plasterer by trade and lives at 117 Eldridge street and Ray Solo, of the same address, recently built a small shack on the road that leads from the apparent ending of the Birch Mountain road from the schoolhouse over to the Gilead road in South Bolton and, according to complaints, started in to sell liquor.

POLICE COURT

Eugene Whitney and Thomas Ormond who claimed Hartford as their home were before the Manchester Town Court this morning for intoxication and vagrancy. They were placed under arrest yesterday afternoon on complaint of some of the business men on Main street who said the men were bagging from one place to another. They made their headquarters at the Center Park

BUT

Some Day ---

when ACUTE INDIGESTION strikes you may be glad you were ready with Bell-Ans.

WHAT?—

Your Radio is on the Bum! It's Not Necessary, Call

M. E. WORSAA, 88 Center St. Phone 4477

"SKIPPY'S" DAD TO SPEAK OVER WABC THIS EVENING

"Skippy's" creator will be on the air tonight at 6 p. m. Eastern Daylight Saving Time, when Percy L. Crosby speaks on "A Cartoonist Looks at Life." His talk will be a part of the "Going to the Sun" program and will be broadcast from the Washington studios of the Columbia Broadcasting system.

Crosby's views on life are made doubly interesting because of his ability to make life interesting and humorous, as exemplified in his cartoons, and because of his profound and sincere discussions of modern conditions.

where their coats were found. They had a quantity of bread biscuits and six bottles of bay rum between them. Each man was sent to jail for 30 days.

Clarence Jeffers had his case continued until Saturday. He was charged with maintaining an automobile junk yard without a license. Jeffers said he had engaged Attorney William S. Hyde to defend him and as Mr. Hyde could not be in court this morning the case went over to Saturday.

William Mulalley, another vagrant who was picked up by a state policeman on Deming street yesterday, was detained at the court this morning and will be given a hearing tomorrow.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ruoff who was fined $250 and costs for keeping liquor with intent to sell, and actual sale, on September 3, vacated her appeal, paid her fine and went to jail for 10 days.

YOUNGSTER BREAKS ARM TWICE IN PLAY HOUSE

Gordon Allen Dean Suffers Fracture Doctors Say is Worst They Have Ever Seen.

Gordon Allen Dean, seven and a half years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Dean of 41 Belmont street, met with a bad injury while playing in the garage in the rear of his home late yesterday afternoon. He fell on the cement floor of the garage suffering a double compound fracture of the left arm.

It was stated by doctors that the break was the worst that has ever been treated at the Manchester Memorial hospital. The arm was broken at both the elbow and the wrist. Gordon was injured when the slight rounds of a chicken coop ladder broke as the boy was climbing to the top of the garage where he and a boy chum have a little playhouse. Gordon is in the third grade at the Hollister street school and will naturally be unable to return for some time.

The recently organized junior Glee club will hold its second meeting Friday evening, at 8 o'clock at the Swedish Lutheran church. This Glee club is being directed by G. Albert Pearson.

TWO BADLY HURT IN SKID ACCIDENT

Rev. John Smith of Preston City, and Thomas Kelley, Norwich, Injured in Bolton.

Rev. John Smith, 59, of Preston City, driving a De Soto sedan east on the Bolton-Andover road during the heavy shower at 1 o'clock last night swerved off the road at the base of the Bolton-Andover hill, crashed through the highway fence and rolled to the bottom of a 15-foot embankment. The driver was blinded by the lights of an approaching car and lost control on the slippery pavement. With the driver were Thomas Kelley, 21, of Lake street, Norwich and James Riley, 22, of 46 Church street, Norwich.

Kelley, who was riding on the back seat alone sustained a possible skull fracture and concussion of the brain and was unconscious when found by J. H. Shaffer of 1483 Albany avenue, Hartford and Geo. J. Lind, 34 Carroll street, East Hartford shortly after the accident. Rev. Mr. Smith was cut and bruised and Riley was uninjured. Shaffer and Lind brought the men to the Manchester Memorial hospital and notified the police.

Capt. Schendel notified the State Police and Officer Charles Daly was sent to investigate.

The condition of Kelley was reported to be serious at the hospital this morning. He was semi-conscious, awaiting an X-ray examination to determine his injuries. Rev. Mr. Smith was somewhat improved but he, too has a possible fracture of the skull and his condition is reported as serious.

FIRST CHEST CLINIC HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Dr. E. C. Higgins to be in Charge Assisted by Miss Dorothy Buttle—Service Free.

Manchester Memorial hospital officials announce the date of the first chest clinic for Tuesday of next week. The exact hour has not been definitely decided. It will probably be in the afternoon and follow the tonsil clinic.

Dr. Edwin C. Higgins, who recently returned from New York City where he spent a month in intensive study of chest diseases, will be in charge, together with Miss Dorothy Buttle, and possibly some of the other special nurses. As with the other clinics, the place will be the Memorial hospital annex on Haynes street.

It is believed this new service extended by the hospital to the people of Manchester will fill a long-felt want. By visits to the clinic incipient cases will be detected and remedial treatment advised, or those who come in contact with advanced chest diseases may from time to time avail themselves of the advantages of the clinic.

ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. Stephen Hale of South Main street, is at the Eastern States Exposition all this week. She is managing the Vassar Lunch Box and is assisted by Mrs. James A. Irvine of Robert Road.

Women members of the Salvation Army Corps are busy with plans for their annual peach supper tomorrow from 5 to 8:30, when the stores are open for business. Chickens for the chicken salad sandwiches will be cooked by electric cookers and the pies and other dishes featuring peaches will be home-made. Their advertisement in this issue quotes prices, all of which are moderate.

The Ladies Aid society of the Quarryville church opened their annual sale of aprons and gift articles at the church, which is situated near Bolton Lake, this afternoon. At 6 o'clock they will serve a harvest supper at a nominal price and at 8 o'clock an entertainment by East Hartford talent will be given.

Women of the Church of Nazarene will hold their Thursday afternoon prayer meeting tomorrow at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Muldoon, Bissell at Hamlin street.

Gibbons Assembly, Catholic Ladies of Columbus, at a recent meeting decided to hold a bridge and whist in the Knights of Columbus clubrooms, Friday evening, September 26. Mrs. Mary Humphrey was appointed chairman. The proceeds will be used in sending delegates to the state convention to be held next month.

Miss Caroline Neill, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. Stuart Neill of 49 Park street resumed her studies at St. Margaret's school, Waterbury, this week.

Fred Kraib, Manchester dog warden, said this morning that he has picked up more unlicensed female dogs in Manchester in the past three months than he would in a year during his previous service in the same position. The license fee for a female dog is much larger than that for a male dog. This is the reason, Mr. Kraib said, so many go unlicensed. The number of unlicensed male dogs, while not so large, is growing. All such dogs, unless redeemed by their owners, are dispatched.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Foster of Parker street motored up to Mount Holyoke College today to leave their daughter, Naomi, who will enter upon her junior year.

Slight damage was caused to a Manchester bound trolley car near Burnside this morning when an automobile under tow broke away from its pilot car and crashed into the rear of the trolley knocking off a step and then veered to the side of the road narrowly missing a telegraph pole. No one was injured.

Scoutmaster Arthur Anderson will be in charge of the meeting of Boy Scouts of Troop 5 tonight at 7:15 at the Swedish Lutheran church.

Children of the Eighth district schools will hold their annual vegetable and flower exhibit in the assembly hall of the Hollister street school tomorrow afternoon. The prizes to individual exhibitors and to rooms scoring the greatest number of points will all be in cash, ranging from 25 cents to two dollars.

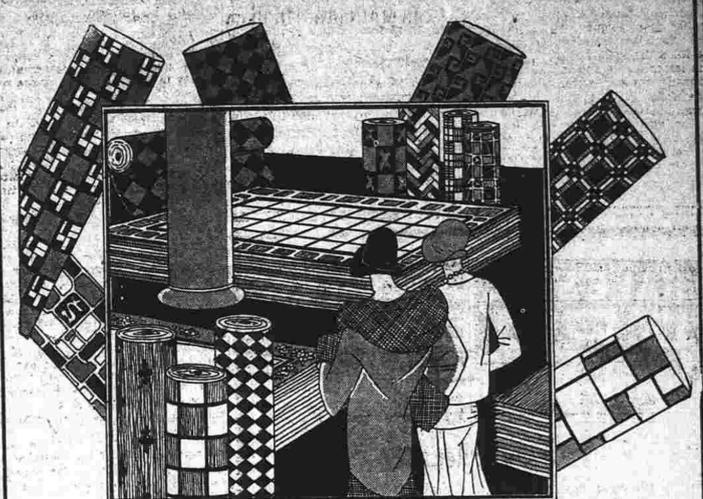

Mrs. Mary Jenny Moeser of 526 East Center street reached the age of 84 yesterday. Her neighbors and friends determined the day should not pass unnoticed, and although Mrs. Moeser spent the greater part of the time in Hartford, they gathered after her return, much to her surprise and pleasure, to showered with congratulatory messages, beautiful flowers and gifts. A pleasant social time and a dainty repast was enjoyed.

Robert Glenney, 72 Porter street, left Monday for Easthampton, Mass., where he will begin his sophomore year at Williston Academy.

The Lions club will conduct an attendance contest beginning with the next regular meeting at the Hotel Sheridan next Monday night. Two teams have been selected, captained by Ernest Roy and Hugh Campbell and the contest is to be extended over a 10 weeks' period to the losing team to furnish a dinner for the club.

John E. Dwyer and Erik W. Moeran are attending the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield today.

LINOLEUM WEEK

"What beautiful linoleum for only $1.39 a yard....."

"YES, Marg, and it's genuine inlaid too. Look! the pattern goes right through to the back." "I always thought inlaid linoleum was expensive," replied Marg, "but this is just as low priced as that printed linoleum we saw in the city a few days ago and I know it will wear much longer." The interest of Marg and her friend is only typical of that displayed by the many people who have seen this new linoleum and placed their orders for it this week. If your floors need recovering we know it will prove just as interesting to you! We will lay it free, of course.

Special! Congoleum Rugs

These famous rugs enable you to have beautiful floors at low cost. They are offered at very special prices during this week only.

- 9x12 $9.50
- 9x10-6 $8.50
- 7-6x9 $6.50
- 6x9 $5.50

Many unusual bargains in short lengths, remnants and discontinued patterns. Ask about the Keith method of laying permanent linoleum floors.

FRADIN'S

Special purchase + sale! New Fall DRESSES

OUR FIRST IMPORTANT SALE BRINGS NEW FASHIONS AT SAVINGS! Late Styles! Smart Fabrics!

Quality Dresses $12.50

Waistlines, skirt lengths and sleeves tell the fashion story of these frocks—so new that they definitely forecast the mode. With such details as the bolero, the bow treatment, the tunic, fitted hip and low placed flares. Black and Fall colors are featured in this collection.

Special Assortment New Frocks $5.00 Values to $10.00 Charming prints, Wool Jerseys and heavy flat crepes in soft shades of tan, brown, green and blue, also black. Sizes 14 to 48

Hosiery Sale Onyx First Quality Chiffon Hose $1.14 Reg. $1.65 Savings 51c a pair Newest Fall shades with French or Pointed heels. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10 1/2 as they cast the grappling hooks of their rope ladder at the top of the wall—an unsuccessful cast. Owen opened fire as he neared the group but was felled, relieved of his gun and shot twice. Other guards heard the shots and opened fire. A riot call was sent to the city police headquarters for assistance and a cordon was thrown around the walls, outside of which several thousand spectators had gathered. In the meantime, inside the prison, the nine men were cornered by guards after an exchange of more than a score of shots. After a brief parley in which Whittemore is reported to have been spokesman for the insurgents, they surrendered. Four were sent to the hospital suffering from slight bruises suffered when they fell from the wall in ladder. Two pistols were found in the group, one of which had been taken from Owen.

GUARD FRUSTRATES JAIL BREAK TRY

(Continued from Page One.)

Service - Quality - Low Prices

Finest Fresh Fish by Express Thursday Morning
Corned Beef Sale. Cabbage free with each purchase of corned beef.
Strictly Fresh Eggs, medium-size 39c dozen
Pocket Honey Comb Tripe 15c lb., 2 lbs. 29c
Fancy Large Sunkist Lemons, special 35c dozen
Native Red Onions, 6 lbs. 25c
Yellow Onions 6 lbs. 19c
Greening Apples for pies or sauce 4 qts. 15c
Fresh Ground Hamburg Steak 25c lb.

BAKERY NEWS
Ginger Squares 18c dozen
Spice Cakes 25c each
Jelly Rolls 19c each
Drop Cakes 23c dozen

Manchester Public Market Dial 5111

HEAT WITH OIL

Special September Prices On All Oil Burners!

The Famous United States Oil Burner Can Be Installed in Your Present Heating Plant at Very Convenient Terms.

- U. S. Model J Burner Gas ignition $325
 - U. S. Model J Burner Electric ignition $360
 - U. S. Model A Burner Electric ignition $375
- Completely installed with 275 gallon tank.

THE NEW FOWLER RANGE BURNER Complete and installed with 6 gallon metal oil container $55 See this Range Burner. It's different.

Johnson & Little

Plumbing and Heating Contractors.
13 Chestnut St. Tel. 5876. South Manchester
Store Open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Thursday and Saturday until 9 p. m.

THOMAS HACKETT NOW ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Thomas Hackett, who has been ill at his home for nearly a month and whose condition for a time was considered as highly critical, appears to have passed the danger point and to be on the road to recovery. Last Friday when his life was despaired of, he was found to be in a crisis of pneumonia. He has since continued to gain and yesterday and today he was showing a marked improvement. Mary C. Keeney Teet, daughter of Union War Veterans, will meet tomorrow evening in the State Armory. A full attendance is hoped for as a rehearsal will take place in preparation for inspection night.

Manchester Evening Herald
 PUBLISHED BY THE HERALD PRINTING COMPANY, INC.
 13 Broad Street, South Manchester, Conn.
 THOMAS FERGUSON, General Manager
 Founded October 1, 1881
 Published Every Evening Except Sundays and Holidays. Entered at the Post Office at South Manchester, Conn., as Second Class Mail Matter.
 SUBSCRIPTION RATES
 One Year, by mail, $6.00
 Per Month, by mail, $0.50
 Delivered, one year, $5.00
 Single copies, $0.03
 MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.
 All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.
 SPECIAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVE: Hamilton - DeLasser, Inc., 288 Madison Ave., N. Y., and 112 North Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.
 Full service client of N E A Service, Inc.
 Member, Audit Bureau of Circulations.
 The Herald Printing Company, Inc., assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors appearing in advertisements in the Manchester Evening Herald.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17.

REPUBLICAN TICKET

The Republican party has made no error anywhere in the selection of its state ticket. Headed by a public official whose experience in legislative and executive positions in Connecticut government is profound, whose integrity and insight have been tested over and over again, who has hewed out his own success in business and finance, whose sense of responsibility to this commonwealth is born of traditions reaching back through 300 years to the Saybrook colony, the list of nominees is one on which the party can stand confidently and without shadow of apology.

Following the name of Ernest E. Rogers, candidate for governor, are those of veterans in the service of the state who in the past have contributed to the highly successful management of Connecticut by the Republican party—Samuel R. Spencer of Suffield, nominee for lieutenant-governor, than whom no citizen of this state stands higher in the respect and affections of its people, a tower of strength to the ticket; Frederick M. Salmon of Westport, for comptroller, for four terms incumbent of that highly responsible office; Dr. William L. Higgins, of Coventry, renominated for secretary of state after the test of one term; Warren B. Burrows of Groton, who sacrifices a federal judgeship to take over the attorney-generalship out of a sheer spirit of service to his state; Roy C. Wilcox of Meriden, for state treasurer, new blood of the best kind.

Find an unworthy or indifferent candidate in that list—if you can. It is a ticket to win with.

JAMS AT FIRES

One of the problems brought into being by the automobile will have to be solved, whether any of the others are or not. We refer to the congestion set up, in the worst of all possible places and times, by the throngs of motorists who insist on driving to the scene of every large fire. Needless of consequences, these people take their machines into streets which ought to be kept clear for the maneuvering of fire apparatus, often in such numbers as to produce impassable jams which render the firemen completely helpless.

At Chicopee on Monday thousands of automobiles intruded themselves into the vicinity of an incense blaze, creating an impenetrable jam so compact that the fire chief, who had just returned to town from a convention, could not get his car within ten blocks of the fire and had to make the remaining distance on foot.

This is only one among innumerable instances of desperate hand-capping of firemen by idle curiosity seekers. Some of these days there is bound to be a great conflagration as the traceable consequence of the practice.

We make bold to say that no decent person would deliberately put himself in the position of blocking the operations of a fire department. Yet the motorist who thoughtlessly drives his car into the vicinity of a fire when he has nothing to take him there but a hankering after excitement is extremely liable, at any moment, to become a factor in one of these traffic jams that have grown to be a nightmare to firemen.

Keep away from fires if you can't park your car at a considerable distance and do your rubbernecking on foot.

OUT GOES DRY ISSUE

Prohibition has been eliminated as an issue between the Republican and Democratic parties in Connecticut. Both have declared for the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment. That there is a difference in the phraseology of the prohibition planks in their respective platforms makes not the slightest difference. The declaration of the Democratic party is the more brief—that of the Republican party, when read and pondered, is the stronger.

It was a particularly happy thought to incorporate in the party platform the thought stressed by Senator Walcott in his speech at the opening of the Republican convention, that for the disasters attending prohibition Connecticut is in no wise to blame; that this state never ratified the Eighteenth amendment, that its senators and representatives voted against the Volstead act and that their action was approved by the Republican party in this state.

The Republican party stands on the ground that federal prohibition is not Connecticut's dish and that it calls for no change of position to expect its representatives in Congress to "take those steps which shall as early as possible restore to the states of the Union the right to regulate their own affairs in such matters."

This newspaper has stood consistently for repeal. We are frankly delighted with the declaration on the question by the Republican platform. It places the party on record as favoring not only repeal of the prohibitory amendment but any measure or step which might possibly be invented to bring about the same end. We have no idea what such a measure or step might be, but we take the broad ground that new ideas are constantly being born and it is not absolutely impossible that a good one along this line may yet appear. If it does the Republican party by its platform is committed to it in advance as completely as it is committed to repeal as being the only remedy just now in sight. Wherefore the Republican prohibition plank is more comprehensive than that of the Democratic party and fully as emphatic.

At all events, by facing the facts courageously and by refusing to cater to the rigid dry vote Connecticut Republicans have lifted a potent weapon from the hands of the Democrats and laid it quietly away on the junk heap.

LEPROSY

Discovery of a case of leprosy in Waterbury, while far from being a signal for a panic, seems to be regarded as a matter of very great importance in the Brass City. As soon as the diagnosis was verified the patient, an Italian alien, was segregated and the procedure was set on foot to have him removed to the government leprosy sanatorium in Louisiana.

Nine-tenths of the horror with which the public regards leprosy arises, no doubt, from its great rarity in this part of the world. For a long time science has known that the infective quality of the disease is nowhere near as pronounced as in ancient times it was believed to be. Moreover modern methods of employing the old East Indian remedy, chaulmoogra oil, have made effectual treatment of the disease possible, until now more than half the cases are actually cured.

It is flatly stated by authorities on leprosy that it is less infectious than tuberculosis, even in those parts of the world where climatic conditions aid in its propagation. It is practically impossible for a person to contract the disease by brief exposure, as only long and intimate contacts result in the spread from one person to another.

Another thing that has been discovered in recent times with relation to this ancient disease is that in many far advanced cases the infective quality has disappeared altogether, while it is uninfected, too, in the earlier stages. So completely has the medical attitude toward leprosy changed that in countries where it is more common than in the United States it is quite customary to treat early uninfected cases in hospital clinics as outpatients without insisting on removal from home and friends.

The best evidence of all that there is little to fear from leprosy is the fact that sporadic cases keep popping up occasionally and yet there is no appreciable increase in their number.

A NERVOUS TIME

Newspaper staffs throughout the United States were on edge for several hours yesterday when they received from the news agencies a service message tip that there was a report that Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow had been either killed or seriously injured in Mexico. It was one of those startling alarms, sounded every once in a while, which it seems practically impossible to instantly refute. It did not take long for the news agencies to learn that their Mexico City correspondents knew nothing of any accident to Mr. Morrow, but that was not absolutely conclusive proof that nothing had happened to him. Neither was the fact, quickly ascertained, that Mr. Morrow was supposed to be attending the celebration of the Mexican Independence Day. It took some time to shake out the facts and obtain the incontrovertible information that the ambassador was all right.

In the meantime, there wasn't a newspaper in the country where it was not earnestly hoped that this particular "big story" would peter out, nor one where assurance of Mr. Morrow's safety was not received with gladness. It was a perfect example of the fallacy of the queer notion, held by a good many people, that newspapers welcome disaster and calamity because they call for big headlines.

IN MASSACHUSETTS

From all indications, this morning, the burlesque candidacy of Bossy Gillis, illiterate, clowning police court character, for the United States Senate, has had support enough in Massachusetts to defeat Eben S. Draper in the Republican primaries and bring about the nomination of William M. Butler.

It would require the strongest kind of prejudice or the wildest flight of imagination to see Butler as comparable to Mr. Draper either as a candidate or as a United States Senator.

The irony of the thing lies in the fact that the Gillis defection has resulted in the selection of a dry candidate in a dripping wet state to run against an avowed wet candidate, Marcus Coolidge, of Fitchburg.

Ordinarily the nomination of Butler might be expected to result in the loss to the Republican party of the Senate seat now held by Senator Gillett, and only the circumstance of a bitter fight among the Democrats over the nomination for governor or holds out any hope of a Butler victory in November.

Joseph B. Ely, western Massachusetts wet, for some reason has excited the animosity of Mayor Jim Curley of Boston and Curley and his friends are not likely to support him very earnestly on election day. Nor is the loyalty of this disaffected element to Marcus Coolidge likely to be any more pronounced.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 17.—And so, as they say in the Arabian Night tales, it was the thousand-and-third night. And we all found ourselves sitting about tables at a colorful little place that fairly glistened with spick-and-span newness.

It was well after midnight. It was an opening night celebration and there were artists and columnists, reporters, critics, actresses—all the big parade that turns out for such occasions.

Sixth atmosphere, soft strumming of guitars... sometimes a lone player wandering from table to table... sometimes a trio in soft rhythmic harmony... sometimes a song and sometimes the measured rhyme of a Tango.

Sometimes an elastic waisted youngster from Madrid by name of Palma Lopez, whose manipulation of the castanets carried a caressing insinuation.

Funny mixed crowd... over there is the huge and kindly Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, pugilist turned health builder, with a party... and over here are assorted newspapermen... Broadway columnists getting notes.

Buzzing of voices... a sudden clang... a disturbing bit of commotion in a corner... the rattle of plates... and again the anodyne of guitars.

So we come to the story. The place is called the El Chico. It is a Spanish night spot, transplanted to new quarters.

And if you had been sitting at the table where I was sitting you might have noticed an incongruous note in an otherwise harmonious decorative scheme.

Just over the orchestra stand and slightly to the right, there is placed the head of a huge bull. On one side it hangs the banded arm of a bull fighter; at the other side the sword of a matador.

A tall dark, handsome Spaniard comes across the floor and stops at the table. His name is Benito Colado. This is the proprietor. Some-one whispers that Carnera, the prize fighter, has put his money in the place.

"But about that bull's head and the banded arm?" you ask Colado. He hesitates.

"You're the first to inquire about that... funny, it's sort of a shrine to me. A friend... an old friend of my boyhood. Perhaps you've heard of him... remember him?"

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH
 By Dr. FRANK McCOSY
 AUTHOR OF "THE FAST WAY TO HEALTH"
 All questions regarding Health and Diet will be answered. Large, stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 100 words. Address Dr. Frank McCosy, care of this paper.

GRAPES ARE EASILY DIGESTED

It has been estimated that this year's grape crop will exceed all previous years. For this reason grapes will likely be both plentiful and inexpensive, and everyone should take advantage of this situation and use a large quantity of this valuable blood-building fruit, both in the fresh state and in the form of grape juice.

The United States Government, through the Federal Farm Bureau, is planning to place the grape and raisin crop in the hands of a Control Board for distribution, either fresh, or in the form of by-products, such as grape juices, jelly, or other ways helpful to the grower. In order to save the surplus grapes, which cannot be sold fresh and will not keep, a large portion of the crop will be converted into grape juice. The tremendous quantity to be so converted will be realized when it is estimated to equal a gallon of juice for every person in North America.

In America the largest amount of grapes come from the Pacific Coast States. It is interesting to know that many of the most popular grapes are from the same varieties as mentioned in the Bible. There is plenty of evidence to believe that the grape is one of the oldest fruits, the grapevine probably being one of the numerous creeping vines to grow out of the mud of the Paleozoic jungles. The records of grape cultivation go back for at least 5,000 years, but the Phoenicians were the first to cultivate grapes extensively.

It was thought by many grape growers that prohibition in the United States would destroy grape culture, but this has not been generally true, for many people did not count on the extension of the practice of manufacturing wine within the homes, and the number of acres being devoted to table and wine grapes is increasing each year. One vineyard at Guasti, California, which is the largest in the world, actually covers over 5,000 acres.

The grape cure has long been known in Europe and no doubt has produced splendid results. With this diet the patient lives exclusively on grapes of which he may eat from four to six pounds a day for a period of one or two months. In many of the great European institutions the method used is to make an exclusive breakfast of grapes, and then use a pound before lunch and a pound again before dinner. In my own experiments I have found that much more satisfactory results are obtained when no other food is used except grapes. Most of the grape cure institutions are located around Germany, Northern Italy, Switzerland and North-western Austria.

Grapes contain from 14 to 20 per cent of grape sugar, which is the most easily digested and nourishing of sugars, requiring practically no digestion. Different varieties of grapes, of course, differ in composition, but the average of several varieties shows that they contain 78 per cent water, 1.35 per cent protein, 1.3 per cent fat, from 14 to 20 per cent grape sugar, and .65 per cent mineral matter. The mineral matter consists principally of sodium, potassium, calcium, magnesium, phosphorus, silicon and iron. The fresh grapes also contain vitamins B and C.

An exclusive grape diet will bring the blood pressure to normal, and is useful in the treatment of hardening of the arteries, kidney trouble, gout, obesity, anemia, scrofula, bronchitis and many skin diseases. Grapes have a specific tendency to increase the blood pressure, and are useful in the treatment of hardening of the arteries, kidney trouble, gout, obesity, anemia, scrofula, bronchitis and many skin diseases.

When I went to college the girls looked like hour glasses with shoes. Now they look like sack with legs." —Booth Tarkington.

"The unemployed in this country don't know how well off they are. In Bavaria we read, the jobless are paid a dole in the form of hamburger cheese."

"Men are vain, but they won't mind women's working so long as they get smaller salaries for the same jobs." —Irvin Cobb.

"Hurry fer Dixie! But I ain't gonna eat no bread nor no biskits!" —H. L. Menckner.

"If I should die I have plenty of brothers to succeed me." —Prince of Wales.

"Loaf like a man. Women will never have achieved emancipation until they can relax with their feet higher than their heads." —Dr. Olga Stastny.

"New Yorkers will stand for anything but a woman in the subway." —W. W. Scott, humorist.

"When chain stores survive and thrive, it is because of the inefficiency of independent competition." —J. Frank Grimes, president of the Independent Grocers' Alliance.

"The Gerard list does represent American leadership because this is business civilization." —Professor Andrew G. Truxal, of Dartmouth.

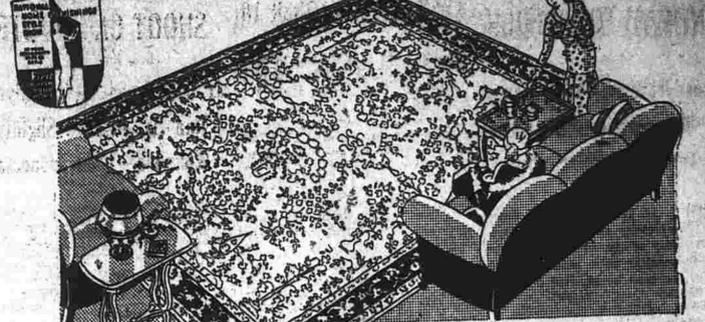

"Religion is not primarily an affair of the voice, but of the heart and life." —William Lyon Phelps.

"When chain stores survive and thrive, it is because of the inefficiency of independent competition." —J. Frank Grimes, president of the Independent Grocers' Alliance.

"The Gerard list does represent American leadership because this is business civilization." —Professor Andrew G. Truxal, of Dartmouth.

"Religion is not primarily an affair of the voice, but of the heart and life." —William Lyon Phelps.

"When chain stores survive and thrive, it is because of the inefficiency of independent competition." —J. Frank Grimes, president of the Independent Grocers' Alliance.

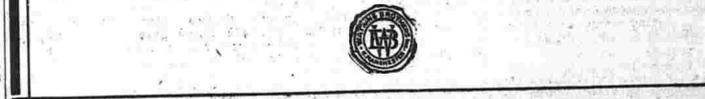

first -- showing of fall
RUGS

WATKINS rugs forecast the season's fashion trend. Now the Fall selections are here... hundreds of rugs just unpacked. They show that rich browns and brown-golds are popular. New interest shown in blue. Reds and variations are represented. New pastel plain colors. Some with little chintz patterns scattered through them!

And note these low Watkins prices for 9x12 sized rugs. Finest fringed Axminsters of new weave, $76.50 and $69.30. Finest unfringed Axminsters in a large assortment, $52.65. Other high quality grades at $42.75 and $33.75. Finest Seamless, fringed velvets of rich texture, $52.65. Seamless fringed wiltons at $65, $78.75, $95 and up. Fine reproductions of rare Oriental rugs, $130, $150, $169.50 and up. Carpets... broadloom and stair widths... in all the season's latest colorings and patterns! You'll find a large, varied display to select from here!

WATKINS BROTHERS, Inc.
 55 YEARS AT SOUTH MANCHESTER

ADM. HUGHES QUILTS

Washington, Sept. 17.—(AP.)—Admiral F. Hughes hauled down his flag as chief of naval operations today to make way for direction of naval policy by the chief supporter of the London Treaty, Admiral William V. Pratt.

Because preparation for submission to Congress of a navy building program to fit the terms of the treaty must be tackled within the next few weeks, Hughes voluntarily chose to surrender the highest post in the service a month ahead of the date when his age, 64, would have forced him to stand down.

Hughes sided generally with the more conservative element in the navy's high command which he did not favor the treaty. His successor, chosen for the post immediately after his return from London as chief naval adviser to the American delegation has stood four square by the pact.

You can depend upon it that those boys who are driving a car backward from coast to coast, will learn to shift for themselves.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer

Washington—The two Germans in Siberia who learned just the other day that the World War was over haven't anything on a lot of the participants in the celebrated struggle between capital and labor which is also supposed to have become a matter of history.

There are still labor leaders who believe certain capitalists are out to destroy unionism and there are still employers who believe that labor unions are the principal national menace. And both are likely to act accordingly.

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, which might be described as one of the more wide-awake unions, is making the most of its employers' organization, known as the League for Industrial Rights, which it accuses of waging class warfare against labor.

The league's membership is supposed to be secret, but the brotherhood says it has found out who was at its last annual "secret" meeting and the list includes a number of prominent manufacturers.

The brotherhood estimates that the league spends up to a million dollars a year of employers' money in pressing cases against labor unions, which it has been doing since it was founded as the Anti-Boycott Association of 1902. Members are assessed in proportion to the size of their payroll.

"The co-operating employers are of the old-fashioned type—men without the scientific or social point of view—men filled with the lust for power," says the brotherhood in its expose issued here.

"Co-operation in meeting the common peril" is said to be one of the league's slogans and it is quoted as proclaiming: "In Great Britain there is no League for industrial rights and none of this protection exists, the closed shop prevails. The collapse of government in protecting liberty is an outstanding menace in our country."

The brotherhood says: "Finding, after 25 years of test cases, that it can not completely tie up labor activities with legal know, the league is now seeking to pass bills through state legislatures. These bills will forbid picketing absolutely. They will make unions liable on any pretext."

League literature is quoted in an attempt to prove that this is the nature of the employer organization's legislative program. The league has also gone into the colleges with propaganda, it appears, for it says:

"The League for Industrial Rights has undertaken to counteract this influence by furnishing speakers who will overcome this radical propaganda and will endeavor to inculcate sound principles of industry and government. Departments of economics and sociology, and sometimes student bodies of the entire university have been addressed upon this most important subject. Our speakers have met with cordial co-operation of college faculties and students and in every case they have aroused great interest on the part of the students. The expert part has brought to the attention of the officers of the league an amazing ignorance of those phases of the industrial problem to which the league has devoted its attention."

The league also boasts a long series of test case victories over labor unions in the courts, including injunction cases at great monetary cost.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Troop 8 of Manchester Green began its regular meeting Tuesday after being out for the summer months. Mr. Lewis opened the meeting with the saying of the Scout Oath and the report was that the Silver Fox patrol was 100 per cent. Flying Eagle patrol was present with four Scouts and the Panther patrol was empty. Seems though if no one in the latter patrol comes it will be a good chance for the other Green boys to fall in for duty.

The Silver Fox patrol won the contest for getting the most points for doing good deeds, playing fair, winning games, etc. They won by a margin of 80 points over the following patrol. The prize of the contest was held last night, which is as follows: They have a choice of either one of the two: a trip to New London and visit the submarine base or a trip in Mr. Allen's sail boat. They have not told which one they will take yet. Mr. Dean will take them as soon as he gets a vacant day.

No tests were passed as Mr. Lewis was unable to obtain any blanks. Two sides were picked up for football by Captains B. Silverstein and G. Gardner. Game went well until G. Gardner was knocked unconscious by jumping and missing his tackle and landing on his side. Game was called off because of darkness with a tie score of 12-12. Meeting was closed with the Scout prayer until next Monday night.

Notes
 A hike has been planned for next Saturday. The Scouts will meet in front of the school at nine o'clock sharp. No plans have been made where they will hike. It probably will be to Bolton Lake. Mr. Lewis will have charge.

When Knuts Rockne, Notre Dame football coach, said recently that he would welcome a coaching job at Sing Sing, just to get away from alumni criticism, he was no doubt aware that many of his men would die for their Alma Mater.

Sometimes We Wonder How Grandfather's Clock Has Survived as Well As it Has!

Some tips: Starting to sing GILBERT SWAN.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Tuberculosis)
 Question: Mrs. B. H. M. writes:

"The place is called the El Chico. It is a Spanish night spot, transplanted to new quarters. And if you had been sitting at the table where I was sitting you might have noticed an incongruous note in an otherwise harmonious decorative scheme."

Just over the orchestra stand and slightly to the right, there is placed the head of a huge bull. On one side it hangs the banded arm of a bull fighter; at the other side the sword of a matador.

A tall dark, handsome Spaniard comes across the floor and stops at the table. His name is Benito Colado. This is the proprietor. Some-one whispers that Carnera, the prize fighter, has put his money in the place.

"But about that bull's head and the banded arm?" you ask Colado. He hesitates.

"You're the first to inquire about that... funny, it's sort of a shrine to me. A friend... an old friend of my boyhood. Perhaps you've heard of him... remember him?"

"Grenado, the great bull fighter. He's dead now... gored by that very bull whose head you see. He left me all of his fighter's weapons. Then, when they had buried him, I found that the head of the bull had been preserved and mounted. They sent it to me... and so here in my club they all are."

Soft strumming of guitars and a pleasant throaty song... then again a rhythmic Tango.

The bull rings of Spain and a night club of New York all mixed together suddenly. And the story of a tragic death hanging over it all... like the skeleton at the feast. The crowd dances on. Dawn comes through the window and the crowds trickle away to find their various places in the city.

FRANKEL'S REMAINS ON WAY TO SWEDEN

Last Relics of Andree Expedition Being Brought on Same Ship—Maps Found.

Slovik, Norway, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The last relics of the Andree Polar balloon expedition were brought back today to the world which knew him 33 years ago with arrival of the little Swedish vessel Isbjorno from White Island, or Hvitoen.

The Isbjorno, which has aboard among other things the supposed remains of Knut Frankel, third member of the Andree expedition, put in here for repairs hoping to proceed later today toward Tromsø, where the relics will be taken ashore and examined by experts.

In the eight days which the Isbjorno has used to reach here from Hvitoen the ship's master, Captain Knut Stubendorf, has had members of the expedition which went to the Andree camp site after it had been discovered aboard the Bratvaag, carefully catalogued and take every means of preserving everything found remaining there.

Maps and plans have been put between glass sheets which permits them to be read easily. In the center of the ship's hatch there stands a simple wooden box—made by the crew from the shelter over the ship's motor—which is still dripping water as the ice melts from about the remains of Frankel.

Among the many discoveries of the Isbjorno expedition is a map on which is traced in red the toilsome journey of the Andree party from day to day, forward and backward like the lines of a seismograph, with the hapless party entirely at the mercy of capricious nature.

Odd Coincidence. Possibly the most sensational revelation in the notes on the map is the fact that the Andree party drifted around on exactly the same spot north of Foya island where the Noble tragedy was enacted in 1928.

Among the letters found frozen together in Lvitvoen was a white tie, presumably carried by Andree himself to have upon his homecoming. There is also a notebook containing funny anecdotes and a small book containing many phrases of good advice and other remarks.

Were Over Greenland. In the latter book there is found in Neis Strindberg's handwriting a note which would make it seem he thought they at one time were passing over Greenland. Several private letters belonging to Strindberg also were found, still bearing their Swedish stamps. A photograph of his fiancée and pictures of previous balloon trips also were discovered.

One of the most pathetic objects was a birthday letter to Strindberg from his little brother, Tore—now with the scientific expedition at Tromsø—which was to be opened Sept. 4. Presumably this was done for it was found opened.

Frankel's body, it was stated, was found frozen firmly into the ground near a massive cliff and under a projecting piece of rock. Both teeth and nails were well preserved so possibility of death from scurvy it was believed could be ruled out. The upper part of the body was one lump of ice and when this was melted away the bones were found to be extremely fragile.

PACIFIC FLIGHT TO BE ABANDONED

Ominato, Aomori Prefecture, Japan, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The belief they might be unable to attempt another non-stopping crossing of the Pacific from Japan to Tacoma, Washington, was expressed today by Harold Bromley and Harold Gatty. Bromley, Tacoma aviator, said lack of finances might compel him to abandon the flight.

SAILOR SURRENDERS

New London, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Stephen Kubrosky, 20 year old submarine base sailor, who accidentally shot Miss Marie Rosabelle Woods, 16-year old Norwich Free Academy student at her home in Norwich September 6, surrendered at the base this morning. He was placed in the brig.

TALL CEDAR FIELD DAY, CEREMONIAL OCTOBER 18

Expect That 600 Will Attend Coming From New London, Moosup, New York and Jersey City.

Nutmeg Forest, No. 118, Tall Cedars of Lebanon are planning to have a ceremonial and field day on Saturday, October 18. It is expected that about 600 Tall Cedars will be present, coming from New London, Moosup, New York and Jersey City.

The field day sports, drills and stunts will be on the West Side Recreation grounds during the afternoon. Supper will be served about 6 o'clock in the banquet hall of the Masonic Temple and the ceremonial will begin at 8 o'clock.

The members of the band and Rangers will wear their new uniforms on this occasion.

The general committee, of which John McLoughlin is chairman, and Harold Maher, secretary, is as follows: R. H. McLagan, Frank Schiebel, W. M. Anderson, Alfred F. Bacon, W. Weiman, C. LeRoy Norris, James O. Baker, Thomas J. Smith, H. D. Pater, James O. McCaw, E. H. Miller, E. J. McCabe, William C. Schieldge.

Reception committee: James O. McCaw, chairman; James O. Baker, C. LeRoy Norris, Frank Schiebel, W. M. Anderson, John McLoughlin, Lewis J. Sipe, E. Weiman, Thomas J. Smith, H. D. Pater, E. H. Miller.

Refreshment committee: Thomas J. Smith, chairman; C. LeRoy Norris, Harold A. Madden, Ross A. Campbell, J. Stratton, Frank Jack, Martin W. Starin, R. H. McLagan.

Sports committee: William C. Schieldge, chairman; R. H. McLagan, Ladies' reception committee: C. LeRoy Norris, chairman, Sherwood Warnock, J. Elliott, Robert Boyce, R. H. McLagan, W. F. Sperber.

SECOND AUTO DEATH

Norwich, Sept. 17.—(AP)—An automobile accident in which one person was killed last night resulted in a second death today. A third person is in a critical condition.

Leon Comtois, of Danielson, who suffered a broken back in the accident, died at the W. W. Backus hospital this morning. Lucien E. Comtois, 21, of Danielson was instantly killed last night while Mrs. Yvonne Sylvester of Taftville suffered a fractured back and was reported today in a critical condition.

The three were riding in a car, driven by Lucien Comtois, 19, of Danielson, a cousin of the dead man, which plunged down an embankment after sideswiping a pole. The driver was arraigned in court today on a charge of manslaughter and the case was continued until Wednesday.

Miss Priscilla Girard, a fifth occupant of the car, escaped injury.

POLITICAL FOES SHOOT CANDIDATE

Six Shots Fired But Brooklyn Man is Only Slightly Wounded—Hold Suspects

New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Saul Agulmeck, 25, a candidate for the Republican State Senator nomination from the Eleventh District in Brooklyn, was shot in the right arm this morning as he tacked election day posters on a telephone pole in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn.

The shots—police said there were six—came from a parked automobile, which was pursued by a patrolman. It got away, but in the rooms of a political club the police later arrested five men, who gave their names as George Holshoe, James Reardon, Peter Hendrickson, Anthony Vasokowsky and Adam Camkavitch.

The men were declared by police to be supporters of a candidate for district leadership opposed to Geo. Elipern, brother of a city magistrate and the candidate whom Agulmeck was supporting.

The shooting preceded by several hours the opening of the polls in New York City for the nomination of candidates and of delegates to the state convention.

FOILS BANK ROBBERS

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 17.—(AP)—A Smith's Creek business man armed with a shot-gun faced five robbers as they attempted to open the safe in a private bank here this morning and drove them off in a gun battle before they were able to set off a charge of explosive.

Raymond Matecki, the business man, discovered the robbers attempting to open the safe after they had rifled a number of safety deposit boxes in the private bank of C. C. Peck and Company.

The amount of loot taken from the safety deposit boxes has not been determined.

Smith's Creek, which is 15 miles west of here, is noted as the place where Thomas Edison was thrown from a Grand Trunk passenger train many years ago when one of his amateur chemical experiments set fire to the train on which he was a news vendor.

JOBLESS BILL PASSES

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The $20,000,000 government unemployment bill was passed by the House of Commons last night.

Final passage followed defeat of an amendment by J. S. Woodsworth, Labor member from Winnipeg, that fair wages be instituted in all public work carried out under the fund.

GROUSE SEASON OPEN IN STATE THIS FALL

October 20 Date for Opening Season Which Has Been Closed for Many Years.

There will be an open season this fall on grouse, the "gamest of Connecticut game birds," Superintendent of Fisheries and Game, John W. Titcomb, told a radio audience this afternoon from WTIC, the Travelers Station. He was speaking on the program of the Home Forum, which is conducted by the station in cooperation with State Departments, the Connecticut Agricultural College and Farm Bureaus.

The close season on grouse, which has been in effect for a number of years, will end on October 20, the hunting season on these birds beginning simultaneously with the opening of the season on pheasants and woodcock, said Superintendent Titcomb. Grouse are reported to be numerous and apparently have staged a comeback after a period of decimation. Reports to the fish and game department indicate that there has been a good breeding season.

Mr. Titcomb indicated in his talk that there should also be good sport for hunters of other birds. He said that in the spring, 1,850 cock pheasants were distributed in overshoot covers, 481 of which were imported from England. In July and early September, 16,484 pheasants were liberated, an increase over the total distributed last year. He finds that in the spring, 1,589 cock pheasant year for pheasants.

Attention was called to the fact that pheasants, which could be hunted last year on October 8, cannot be lawfully taken this year until October 20. The limit on upland birds is 2 grouse, 2 cock pheasants, and 4 woodcock in one day. The only game bird on which the season is open at this time is the rail. The season for this bird began September 1.

"The hunting season on waterfowl, including geese, brant, Wilson's snipe or jack-snipe, and coot, opens on October 1," said Mr. Titcomb. "Those who hunt the Wilson's snipe should not confuse this bird with the killdeer plover. The Wilson's or jack-snipe is the only member of the snipe family which may be lawfully shot. Hunters should be absolutely certain they can identify it before shooting."

"Waterfowl may be shot only from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. The daily bag limit on wild ducks has been reduced to 15; wild geese, 4; brant, 8; Wilson's snipe, 20; rails, 25; coot or mudhen, 25. Wood ducks and eider ducks are protected against all shooting."

"The open season on gray squirrels begins on October 8. The bag limit is 5 a day. The open season for cottontail rabbits and varying hares or snowshoe rabbits begins November 1. The daily bag limit is 3. The European gray hare, locally called jack rabbit, is not protected.

"There is a definite penalty for

WIFE OF SCULPTOR MAKES ODD CHARGE

Is Threatened With Prison If He Attempts to Collect Money in Cuba Due Him.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 17.—(AP)—The Miami Daily News today said that Mrs. Richard Struyf, wife of a Belgian sculptor, has sought aid from the State Department after charging that her husband has been threatened with imprisonment "or a worse fate if he continues efforts to collect money due him for art work on the $17,000,000 national capital in Havana."

The News said Mrs. Struyf forwarded a report of the case last night to Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state in Washington, on her own behalf as an American citizen. At the same time she sent to J. P. Eiland, of Jacksonville, consular representative of Belgium in Florida, an appeal in behalf of her husband. She came here from Havana yesterday with her son.

Mrs. Struyf told the newspaper that political conditions in Havana have made collection of her husband's claims impossible. "The Cuban government claims it

WAR VETERAN DIES

Danbury, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Ira Penfield, aged 86 years, the oldest Grand Army veteran in Danbury, died today at his home. He served during the Civil War with Company D, 17th Connecticut Volunteers and was confined in Libby prison after his capture at Chancellorsville.

STORMS IN MESSINA

Messina, Italy, Sept. 17.—(AP)—One person was killed and another was injured by the falling of a roof during a terrific storm which struck this seaport at midnight. Several shacks floated away into the flooded streets with their occupants inside. There was considerable property damage.

RETIRED MINISTER DIES

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 17.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. Duane C. Johnson, 62, who served as a minister of the Methodist church for 40 years, died here yesterday. He was a graduate of Boston university and received his Doctor of Divinity degree from Syracuse University. He retired from the ministry two years ago because of ill health.

HOOPER'S SON BETTER

Washington, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover, Jr., temporarily disabled by a slight illness is recuperating at the President's camp on the Rapidan River in Virginia, on leave of absence from the Western Air Express.

The President's son plans to absent himself from his duties as radio technical advisor for the aviation company for two or three months; but expects to spend only a few days at the Rapidan camp now.

He will return to the White House to spend some time with his parents.

The illness of young Hoover was said at the White House to be of no serious consequence.

WATKINS BROTHERS, Inc.
Funeral Directors
 ESTABLISHED 55 YEARS
 CHAPEL AT 11 OAK ST.
 Robert K. Anderson
 Funeral Director
 Phone: Office 5171
 Residence 7494

Have You Ever Cooked a Meal Electrically?
 No? Then you don't know what you've missed!

Can you imagine putting your whole dinner in the oven at half-past nine or ten in the morning, going out for the day and coming back at six o'clock in the evening to find the tastiest, most appetizing meal you ever dared hope to prepare, all steaming hot and ready to serve.

Believe it or not, it can be done—in fact, it is being done in homes every day, and we hope that you are going to have just that experience before very long.

There's a harmony between the natural loveliness of this modern age and the natural, mild goodness of Camels. And if you find them keeping company, don't be surprised.

Camel has given the world the luxury of a naturally mild cigarette—a cigarette that preserves all the refreshing fragrance of the choice, mild tobaccos from which it is made—a cigarette that is delightfully smooth, but never flat, never parched, never tasteless.

Modern smokers are awake to the fact that mere flatness doesn't mean mildness. That's one reason there's such a swing to Camels. Watch it right in your own crowd. Join them in Camels—a smoke that's enjoyable all the way—all the time.

CAMELS

Easy to smoke

EASY TO LISTEN TO—CAMEL PLEASURE HOUR
 Wednesday evenings on N. B. C. network, WJZ and associated stations. Consult your local radio time table.

© 1930, R. J. Reardon
 Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

The UNIVERSAL Range Combines Electricity and Coal

—Coal for heating
 —Electricity for the modern and only way to cook.

When you want extra heat in the home—the UNIVERSAL provides for it with its separate standard size 2-lid fire box. When you want to cook automatically—electrically the better way—UNIVERSAL provides this too. For it combines a beautiful Gray and White Porcelain Enamel electric range having four full size surface units and a full size porcelain enamel oven with a separate firebox (Size 16 1-4 x 7 1-4 x 8 1-2) for heating purposes.

CAMPAIGN PRICE
$230.00
 CASH
 $244.90 Budget
 $23.00 Down
 $9.24 a Month
 Completely Installed

THE MANCHESTER ELECTRIC CO.
 773 Main Street, Phone 5181, South Manchester
E. J. MURPHY'S PHARMACY, NORTH END BRANCH

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Wednesday, September 17.

By popular request Mary McCoy, soprano, will return to the air Wednesday night in a program dedicated to the women of America.

Leading DX Stations. (DST) (ST) 47.2-WPQ ATLANTIC CITY-1100. 3:30-7:00-WABC programs (1 hr.).

Leading DX Stations.

(DST) (ST) 47.2-WPQ ATLANTIC CITY-1100. 3:30-7:00-WABC programs (1 hr.). 7:00-8:30-WABC programs (2 hrs.).

WORM HOLE CURE HAS BEEN FOUND

Naval Officer Discovers New Way to Fuse Metals After Thirty Years.

San Francisco, Sept. 17.—(AP)—One cause of "worm holes" in metal bearings, an expensive source of friction in machinery, has been "licked" by a retired American naval officer, Commander Manning.

Retiring in 1925 he adopted as an avocation the scientific work of metal mixing, seeking to make better alloys. At first he maintained his own laboratory and later to get more facilities joined the Mar-John Mines Company here.

LOCAL SILK WORKERS GET JOBS IN BROOKLYN

Velvet Plant There Attracts Four Local Men — Contemplating Moving There.

A number of those employees of Cheney Brothers who suddenly found themselves thrown out of work during the past few months, have obtained employment elsewhere, and among them several have gone to Brooklyn, New York, where a velvet weaving factory is operating on day and night shifts.

WIFE OF NOAH BEERY MISSING FOR A WEEK

Los Angeles, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Noah Beery, motion picture actor, revealed today that his wife, Marguerite, has been missing from the Beery ranch near North Hollywood for a week.

WAPPING

Second Electman George O. Case was defeated by one vote in seeking renomination to the office at the caucus of the Republicans of South Windsor last Friday evening.

Emory Strong of Wapping and his sister, Mrs. Susie Waters of Manchester, formerly of Wapping, started Monday morning for a two weeks' vacation, which they will spend in Leeds, Maine with relatives and friends.

WOMAN WRITER WEDS NOTED ARCHAEOLOGIST

London, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Agatha Christie, noted woman detective story writer, was married last week to Max E. Mallowan, widely known British museum archaeologist.

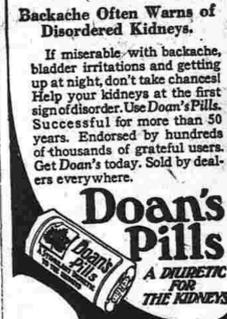

FORD PLANS TO BUILD NEW PLANT IN FRANCE

Paris, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Henry Ford expects to manufacture automobiles in France, abandoning his old system of assembly here, and he may possibly extend the new policy to all of Europe.

In an interview the automobile magnate said he expected to build a plant in France, although as yet nothing has been decided.

Backache Often Warns of Disordered Kidneys

If miserable with backache, bladder irritations and getting up at night, don't take chances! Help your kidneys at the first sign of disorder. Use Doan's Pills. Successful for more than 50 years. Endorsed by hundreds of thousands of grateful users. Get Doan's today. Sold by dealers everywhere.

STUDENTS

You can produce better written work if you have better writing facilities. We suggest that you remind your parents to see our line of

- Conklin, Waterman and Chilton Fountain Pens $2.75 up
Conklin and Waterman Pencils $1.00 up
Pen and Pencil Sets $3.75 up
All American Combination Pen and Pencil $2.50
Also leads and erasers including blue leads for checking purposes, box 15c
Crystal Beads, strung on a chain $5
Misses' Wrist Watches $4.00 up
Boys' Strap Watches $12.50 to $60.00
Other Wrist Watches $8.50 to $55.00
See the new Waltham Heavy Duty Pocket Watch $14.00
Westclox Alarm Clocks in colors $1.50 up
See the New Westclox Auto Clock $2.50 and $3.50
Westclox Pocket Ben Watches $1.00 and $1.50

R. DONNELLY JEWELER South Manchester 515 Main Street

WTIC PROGRAMS

Travelers Broadcasting Service Hartford, Conn. 50,000 W., 1060 K. C., 232.5 M. Wednesday, Sept. 17.—E.D.S.T. P. M. 8:00—Illma Islanders. 8:10—Baseball Scores. 8:15—"Hit Review."

ARGENTINE FINANCES ARE IN A BAD WAY

Buenos Aires, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Argentine's financial condition today occupied the attention of the Cabinet. At a meeting held last night the finance minister revealed to his associates that in seven months all funds authorized by the 1930 budget had been exhausted.

Mrs. Marion E. Rowe

Home Economist Will Resume Her Series of Cooking Demonstrations in Our Model Kitchen First Lecture Will be Thursday, Sept. 18th at 2 o'clock Subject—CANNING The women of Manchester are cordially invited to attend

MARLBOROUGH

At the Republican Caucus which was held at Library Hall, Friday night the following nominations were made: Assessor, Robert T. Buell; board of relief, T. W. Doberrentz; selectmen, 1st, Frank W. Fuller, 2nd, Elmer E. Hall; agent town deposit fund, Robert T. Buell; auditor, W. O. Kierstead; grand jurors, William Caffry, Paul Roberts; tax collector, E. Allan Blish; constable, E. Allan Blish; registrar of voters, George W. Buell; school committee, Sarah L. Blish, W. O. Kierstead.

INSURANCE

The Best Guardian of Life and Property Insure Your Valuables A BOX IN A GOOD SAFE DEPOSIT VAULT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST INSURANCE The Manchester Trust Co. Fire and Liability Insurance RICHARD G. RICH Tinker Building, South Manchester

The Manchester Electric Co.

773 MAIN STREET PHONE 5181

Advertisement for The Strong Box, featuring an illustration of a safe and text describing its benefits for protecting valuables.

Advertisement for The Manchester Trust Co. insurance services, including fire and liability coverage.

Advertisement for The Savings Bank of Manchester, highlighting its 'Your Savings Stand Ready To Serve You' slogan and listing its address and establishment date.

Advertisement for The Lexington Hotel, located in the heart of the great central zone, offering various room plans and amenities.

ROCKVILLE

Court Cases
Eugene Martin, 25, of Willimantic was in criminal superior court Tuesday morning, charged with the theft of a number of chickens from the farm of Mrs. George Hollingsworth of Mansfield. Martin was found guilty and sentenced to three months in Tolland jail.

Sheriff Fred O. Vinton of Mansfield was awakened during the night by a call from Mrs. Hollingsworth, to the effect that her chicken coop was being raided. Mrs. Hollingsworth was able to obtain the number of the car, and with the aid of Sheriff Vinton and the State Police, the chicken thief was located and was before the Mansfield court early Tuesday morning. He was bound over to the Superior Court, and tried later in the morning.

The second criminal case before Judge Jennings Tuesday morning was that of Robert W. Hanson of Hartford, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $10 and costs. Hanson was arrested in Andover.

Several other cases were before the Superior Court, and one or two cases were put over until the next term of court.

Engagement Announced
Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Frank LePine of Winsted, Conn., of the engagement of their daughter, Dolores LePine to Charles Edward Scheiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scheiner of 68 Davis avenue.

Miss LePine is a member of the staff of the Rockville City hospital, nurse, and a graduate of the Rockville High school. The wedding will take place on September 30.

Two Parties Caucused
The following tickets were chosen on Monday evening at the caucuses held in the Memorial building:

Democratic Assessor—Charles Stepe.
Board of Relief—Otto Yost.
Selectmen—Arthur Morin, John J. McKenna.
Auditor—Christopher E. Jones.
Tax Collector—Chas. M. Squires.
Registrar of Voters—George E. Dunn.
Constables—George LaChapelle, Charles Connors, John J. Doyle, Frank Grumbach.
Town School Committee—Dr. John E. Fishery.

Republicans
Assessor—John L. Brown.
Board of Relief—Joseph Grist.
Selectmen—Francis J. Prichard, Orlando Ransom.
Auditor—William H. Yost.
Tax Collector—Chas. M. Squires.
Registrar of Voters—Henry Schmidt.
Constables—Arthur T. Dickinson, Roger J. Murphy, Kenneth Webster, Olin Beebe.

Town School Committee—Francis S. Nettleton, Ernest C. Hensig, Timothy E. Lynch called to order the Democratic caucus. George E. Dunn was named chairman and Frank McCarthy acted as clerk.

Casati-Wondrasek
Miss Anna Wondrasek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Wondrasek of South Willington, and Frederick Casati, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Casati of Snipsic street, were married on Saturday morning at 10:30 in the Hall Memorial Chapel in South Willington. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers and ferns.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was a beautiful bride, in white satin gown and veil of tulle, and carried roses and lily of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Josephine Casati, a sister of the groom, was dressed in peach color georgette, and carried Madam Butterfly roses. The best man was Jerome Wondrasek, a brother of the Miss Lillian Blaha, a cousin of the bride sang "Because" and "O Promise Me" during the wedding. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Czechoslovak hall in South Willington to the immediate family, and later in the afternoon a reception was held at the same hall. There were guests present from New York, Santo Domingo and Long Island. After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the newly married couple will live in South Willington.

Robert Jamieson
Robert Jamieson, 75, of Tolland, died on Monday afternoon, after a long illness. Mr. Jamieson is survived by his wife Mary and one son Robert Robinson Jamieson. Mr. and Mrs. Jamieson were natives of Ireland and came to this country several years ago. They lived in Tarville until 1917. Since that time they have been living on a farm in Tolland.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his home in Tolland, with Rev. George S. Brookes pastor of the Union Congregational church officiating. Burial will be in Grove Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Rose Dart
Mrs. Rose Gaynor Dart, 94, widow of the late Albert Dart, died in Plainville on Friday. Mrs. Dart resided in Rockville for many years, and was known to a host of friends, who will mourn her loss. Mrs. Dart was a woman of rare qualities, and a great lover of nature. It was her proud duty to arrange the flowers at the Union Congregational church for several years, and the manner in which they were arranged proved her to be an artist.

Mrs. Rose Dart was employed for many years at the Belding Silk mills in this city. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Kate Lucas of Plainville.

The funeral services were simple but impressive. Rev. George S. Brookes of the Union Congregational church officiating. The bearers were Elmer Osborne, Arthur T. Dickinson, Elmer Leonard and Frank Gaynor. Burial was on Monday afternoon at 2:30 from the Lucina Memorial Chapel and interment was in Grove Hill cemetery.

Notes
The meeting of the Mothers' Club scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until October 15, at which time there will be an unusually fine meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Prutting of 88 Grove street will move in the near future to a tenement in the Maxwell apartments, West Main street.

Myron J. Case, bookkeeper of the James J. Regan Manufacturing Company accompanied by two of his friends is making a trip to New Hampshire, Maine and Canada.

James W. Galavin with his sisters, Mary and Margaret, have returned from an extensive motor trip through Cape Cod and Provincetown, Plymouth, Boston and home via Worcester, covering about 500 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilbert and son Louis of Needham, Mass., and Joseph Molloy of Philadelphia, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. John J. Eckels of Mountain street. Mrs. E. J. Molloy of Philadelphia has been spending some time also as the guest of Mrs. John J. Eckels, her cousin.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Robertson, former Rockville residents, now residing in Newbury street, Hartford, called on friends in this city Saturday.

LICENSES SUSPENDED

A list of operators whose licenses to drive automobiles in Connecticut have been suspended for one year for driving while under the influence of liquor was given out today at the State Motor Vehicle Department as a part of the effort to reduce this highway menace. The department statement advised people to notify the department or the police in case they should see any of these drivers operating motor vehicles.

Bridgeport, Antonio Alfano, Geo. Gifford, John Lucia, Leopold Renn, Bristol, Orono, Dalino, Emilie Grenier, Colebrook, River, Wallace I. Kinney, Danbury, William Barrett; Durham, Edw. J. Cassidy;

East Canaan, Alfred Casey; East Granby, William Andryzeck; Georgetown, Norman Knapp; Glastonbury, Jos. J. Kuszal; Greenwich, Wilford A. Nay; Guilford, Fred Murphy; Hartford, John F. Gibson, David M. Hunter, Victor J. Titus, William H. Ulrich, Jr., Zool Vachon, Robt. William; Hasardville, Charles M. Wysocki; Kensington, Joseph Pac; Milford, Thomas J. Vickers.

New Britain, Adam Dusza, William Fahey, Harry D. Landry, Frank Szyzka, Constant Szaibow, New Haven, Mario Leon, Edgar B. Robinson; New London, Ernest C. Fuller, Arthur S. Hickey, Geo. O'Brien, Samuel A. Phillips; Norfolk, Grove P. Lawrence; Norwich, Daniel R. Gaudet; Plainville, Frank Murphy; Seymour, John Pittis.

Stamford, Malachy Lyman; Stratford, Jerry P. Shea; Suffield, Harry T. Raisbeck; Terryville, Frank T. Goski; Thompsonville, Raymond Iserman, Eddie Nicholson; Wallingford, Franklin Stewart; Waterbury, Gilbert A. Hanson, James F. Meehan.

Paterson, N. J., Neal Brazzle; Amenia, N. Y., James DeCarmo; Port Chester, N. Y., Alex. Holde; Woodhaven, N. Y., Gunmar Johanson; Tatville, Camil Houle.

UNEMPLOYMENT PLAN

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—(AP)—As a temporary measure to relieve unemployment an increased tariff schedule, submitted by Premier Bennett was in effect today.

The increased rates are designed to keep out foreign products, thus stimulating domestic manufacture which the government believes will provide work for 25,000 unemployed.

Premier Bennett said a thorough revision of the tariff would be undertaken at the next regular session of Parliament. The present session of Parliament was called to deal with unemployment only.

SIGNING OF CONSTITUTION

On Sept. 17, 1787, the convention of delegates from 12 of the 13 states in the Union signed the Constitution of the United States in Independence Hall, Philadelphia.

Rhode Island alone was unrepresented at the sessions under President Washington. Four months' work was required to complete the Constitution. With the exception of the amendments, in the form in which we have it today.

The work of the delegates was promptly approved by Congress and at the close of the following year, had been adopted by 11 of the states and placed in operation among them. The other two states, North Carolina and Rhode Island, ratified the Constitution and entered into the American Union in 1789 and 1790, respectively.

The Constitution replaced the Articles of Confederation by which the ill-fated union of the 13 original states was held together from 1779 to 1789. The articles vested no real authority in the common representatives of the several commonwealths.

AUTO VICTIM DYING

New Britain, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Jennie Zakrzewski, 4, was in a critical condition today at New Britain hospital with a fractured skull and internal injuries suffered last night when she was struck by an automobile.

Chester Paczkowski, 17, driver of the car was arrested on charges of reckless driving and failure to show financial responsibility. Teofil Macikiewicz, who was on the porch of his house at the time of the accident said Paczkowski's car, a coupe, was overcrowded and speeding downhill when it struck the girl.

ST. MARY'S GIRLS' CLUB PLANNING ANNUAL SALE

The Girl's Friendly Society of St. Mary's Church held its regular meeting Tuesday night in the parish house. The meeting opened with a short devotional service in charge of Associate Dorothy Russell. The scripture lesson was read by Margaret Summerville.

Immediately following the roll-call the meeting was put in charge of Associates Ethel Davis and Hannah Jensen. Work was started on some of the articles for the annual sale which is to be held during the month of December. Just before the close of the meeting the girls were instructed in setting-up exercises by Associate Ethel Davis, after which the members went for a short hike.

The society is always glad to welcome new members and is open to any girl over twelve years of age, whether she is a member of the Church or not.

A service of Holy Communion will be held next Sunday morning at 8:00 o'clock. Following this service members of the society will serve breakfast to anyone wishing it. In order that the plans may be completed for this breakfast, Associate Dorothy Russell would like to have anyone who expects to attend notify her not later than Friday evening—telephone 4381.

STEAL SENATOR'S GEMS

Fairfield, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Three boxes of jewels stolen last night from the home of Senator and Mrs. Albert E. Lavery, while they were attending the Republican state convention at Hartford today were the object of a state wide search. The burglars overlooked a fourth box of jewelry.

The value of the jewelry will not be definitely known until Senator Lavery's daughter Sally who owned the contents of one of the boxes, returns from a camp where she is staying for a few days. Senator Lavery said many of the articles stolen were valuable for their association.

Entrance to the house was gained through a library window after its glass had been broken and a screen removed.

CORNERSTONE LAYING
Kent, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Kent school alumni, faculty and student body will take part in the cornerstone of the $100,000 chapel which is to be made. The chapel is the gift of the alumni.

GRAPES

Hail-cut but still usable Wordens, Concord and Niagaras, 60 cents per 16-qt. basket. 50 cents in lots of more than five baskets.

Red Delawares and Brightons for eating. On sale at the farm and at Hibbert's Roadside Market, 39 Deming Street.

S. G. BOWERS

75 Deming St. Tel. 7172

Wise Smith & Co.

HARTFORD

Free Suburban Telephone Service. For Suburban Shoppers Call Enterprise 1100.

New Fall COATS

$49

Foremost fashions interpreted with full and semi-wrap skirts, high belts, deep spiral fur cuffs, large shawl and pouch collars, cape versions and intricate seaming.

Materials:
Novelty trecofnas in winter weaves, lined with silk crepe and interlined... in blues, browns, greens and jet.

Fur Trimmings
French Beaver, Wolf, Kit and Black Fox, Chinese Badger, Caracul, Skunk and Pitch.

Third Floor

New Fall DRESSES

Proving that fashionable new Dresses can be economically priced

$9.75

New Styles:
Tunic effects, Patou's leading vogue.
Graceful Flares mark the new skirts.
Spanish Boleros, newly interpreted.
Lingerie Touches, in a new way.
The new Jumper Dress. Sports styles.

New Fabrics
Tweed Prints.
Canton Crepes.
Satin.
Chiffons.
Jerseys.
Light Weight Woolens.

New Colors
Jet Black.
Mauve Brown.
Crisp Green.
Guardaman Blue.
Wine tones.

Sizes
Sizes 14 to 20 in models chic and youthful for the young modern.
Sizes 36 to 46 include carefully selected models designed for the young matron who desires individuality.

THIRD FLOOR

AT DIAMOND SHOE STORES and BARGAIN BASEMENT GREAT ECONOMY SALE

READY THURSDAY AT 9 A. M.

SAVINGS---YES!!

But there's more to it! A splendid large stock of honest, worthwhile Fall Footwear for the entire family. A really attractive selection. Now we have made special reductions to usher in the Fall season with a rush.. There are no finer shoe bargains for the money, anywhere in America. People from all over town are coming daily, praising our new Fall Footwear.

WELCOME, MANCHESTER FOLKS TO THE GREATEST ECONOMY FOOTWEAR THRILL IN YEARS. Prices are much lower; in other instances quality is greatly improved.

MEN! Truly remarkable! All leather SHOES and OXFORDS  $2.95 Pair	MEN! Genuine Calfskin Solid Leather SHOES and OXFORDS $3.95 Pair "Compare"	WOMEN! Red Hot Novelties. Suedes, Kidskins, Patents, Blacks, Browns. Some grey snake trimmed. $2.95 Pair "Only at Diamond's"	BARGAIN BASEMENT Women's New Novelty Footwear PUMPS, STRAPS, TIES and OXFORDS $1.95 pr.  Broad selection. All sizes.
---	---	---	--

BARGAIN BASEMENT Gym Sneaks for Girls Something New and Serviceable 98¢ Pair 	BARGAIN BASEMENT Felt Slippers For Women 29¢ Pair	BARGAIN BASEMENT Boys' High Shoes, Oxfords $1.98 PAIR
---	--	--

BARGAIN BASEMENT Misses' Patent Straps Oxfords and Ties $1.95 PAIR Real good wearing. 	BARGAIN BASEMENT Sneaks For Men and Boys. Real Heavy and Strong 98¢ Pair	BARGAIN BASEMENT Felt Slippers for Men Leather Trimmed 69¢ PAIR
---	---	--

DIAMOND SHOE STORES and BARGAIN BASEMENT

"WHERE BETTER SHOE VALUES PREDOMINATE"

1013 MAIN STREET

SOUTH MANCHESTER

Heart Hungry

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN AUTHOR OF "RASH ROMANCE"

© 1930 by NEA SERVICE INC

BEGIN HERE TODAY

CELIA ROGERS, just out of high school, spends a hot July day looking for a job. Her mother, MARGARET ROGERS, is a widow, employed as a seamstress in a dress shop. On the day the story opens Margaret receives a letter which she conceals from Celia. It is an offer, signed JOHN MITCHELL, to provide the girl with every advantage of education, travel and social position if the mother will give her up. Margaret declares she will never do this.

Celia goes for a drive with BARNEY SHIELDS, young newspaper photographer. Barney tells Celia she loves her and swears that some day they will be married. Next the girl continues her search for work and secures a position as stenographer. She goes to the shop to see her mother and finds Mrs. Rogers has been taken suddenly ill. Through the doctor's heart and exhaustion are the cause. After a day's rest Mrs. Rogers returns to her duties, but three days later she pays a call to the doctor's office.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER V

"You've got to get out of that shop, Mrs. Rogers. You've got to do it at once! Fresh air, country life—"

"But Doctor!" the woman protested, "I can't stop working!"

"Dr. Williams snorted testily: "All right. Then I'm through with the case! I've told you what to expect if you keep on this way. Three months—a year—I won't answer for the consequences."

Margaret Rogers turned her head away.

After a moment's silence the physician's head on more kindly: "Your condition is serious. I don't know exactly yet how far the damage has gone, but I do know that collapse the other day was the first warning. Mrs. Rogers, you can't afford to let this go on. You have a fighting chance. Give up your work, go home and rest for a few days, then come back to see me next Wednesday."

Mrs. Rogers rose to go. She told the doctor she would "think things over" and see what she could do.

The physician nodded.

"Then I'll see you next week," he said. "Good afternoon."

Going down the hall and out into the bright street, Margaret's slight, black-dia figure seemed to have shrunk. She had outstayed her lunch time but she thought did not cross her mind. She walked through the door without seeing pedestrians or vehicles. Automatically she entered Margaret's dress shop and climbed the stairs to the fitting room.

Tillie Dennison's words rang in her ears—"Suppose something should happen—"

Two women were sewing at a large table and a third was stitching on a machine. Margaret took the dress she was working on from a cupboard, laid it on another table and took up needle and thread. The steady hum of the sewing machine was the only sound in the room.

It was a beautiful coral lace gown that Mrs. Rogers held before her. The silken mesh was fragile and must be touched with expert care. It was a formal gown with full, graceful skirt and a bodice that was scarcely more than wisps of gossamer. The frock was youthful in line and glowing color. Mrs. Rogers was adjusting a rippling flare of lace on the skirt.

Lenore, who made more sales than anyone else except Margot herself, entered the room.

"Who's working on that evening dress for Miss Spencer?" she asked.

"The coral lace," Mrs. Rogers said.

"Here it is, I haven't got to the hem yet," Margaret answered.

"Well, you'd better baste it. Miss Spencer just telephoned. She wants to change her fitting from four o'clock to 2:45. Can you have it ready then? She's a good customer."

There was a consultation. Mrs. Rogers was a swift worker and she did most of the evening dresses because she had a knack with such fabrics. There was much to be done to the coral lace. The entire skirt had to be re-fitted. Margaret promised to work swiftly to get the garment to a stage where careful finishing should be done later. She said she would do her best to have the dress ready.

The price tag, clipped to the lining, caught her eye. The mark was $135.

Margaret put the tag down. How many $135 dresses, she thought bitterly, would it take to pay for a year's rest in the country, doctor bills—

Her efforts that afternoon seemed almost ineffective. When at nearly three o'clock she was told Miss Spencer was waiting to try the dress, Margaret brought it, carefully, to a big cushion of pins in the fitting room.

"I'm sorry—I didn't quite finish," she said apologetically as she came into the dimly appointed dressing room with its huge mirror.

A tall girl in green silk hat waiting, she smiled good naturedly, and began to slip off her costume. This was Helen Spencer, as Mrs. Rogers knew. She had fitted many dresses for her before. The dress would be delivered Friday morning.

"Oh, it will be ready on time! I'm going to pin the part that gets basted so you can see exactly how it will look. We'll have it out for you Friday all right."

She slipped the bright lace over the girl's shoulders and carefully eased the folds into place. Helen Spencer considered her reflection in the mirror with satisfaction.

"I'm crazy about this color," she said musingly.

"Beautiful!" Margaret Rogers agreed. Then, with the instinct of her trade, she added, "And so becoming."

"Do you really think so?"

"Indeed I do. You've got the complexion for it."

To hundreds and hundreds of customers Margaret Rogers had said that. "You've got the complexion for it."

flexion for it. The thought seemed to flutter womanhood from 17 to 70. A customer who had just received a compliment stood more patiently and was less inclined to be querulous. Margaret Rogers had learned that trick long ago.

"Now if you'll just turn to the left, please—"

Down on her knees Margaret worked swiftly, placing pins in the silken folds. She smoothed, patted, readjusted and then stood back admiringly.

"It's perfect, Miss Spencer," she said. "Just perfect!"

The girl in the flaming sheath of lace studied the mirror. "I think it is like the way that frill gives and it does make me look divinely slim. I believe I like this better than the blue or white one."

The blue and the white were two other evening gowns which Helen Spencer had bought the week before. They had been altered slightly and delivered without the need of the fitting.

"I can finish it up now the way you pinned it," Mrs. Rogers said. "You won't need to come in again."

"I know what I'm going to do," Helen Spencer decided. "I'm going to wear this the first night on ship board."

"Oh, you're making an ocean trip?"

"Next week. Didn't you know? They had my picture in the paper yesterday. Mother and I are to be gone for three months and I'm so excited. You see, I finished high school last month and it's graduation present. I'm so thrilled! Just think of all the grand looking men I'm going to meet. I'm sure European men must be thrilling. Maybe I'll come back engaged—or married!"

Mrs. Rogers smiled.

"What school did you go to?"

"Western. Father thinks I ought to be home to start college this fall but I'm not very much interested in school. I think it would be lots more fun to get married."

The girl talked on but Margaret Rogers was now working mechanically. She did not mention the fact that her own daughter was just graduated from Western.

"That's all, Miss Spencer, thank you. I'll see that the dress reaches you on time. And I hope you have a lovely trip!"

"Oh, thank you!"

Margaret picked up the coral frock and went back to the sewing room. She had to go slowly, holding to the wall. She was nervously afraid another attack of weakness was coming on.

She put the dress down, went to the open window and leaned against it. Her fingers gripped the sill. "You must not! You must not!" Margaret told herself determinedly. She closed her eyes and the cool breeze touched her forehead. It was refreshing. She tried to breathe deeply and when she opened her eyes again the room was not reeling crazily but was steady.

Margaret went to the cooler and drew herself a glass of ice water. She drank it and returned to her place at the table.

The woman across the room watched her uncertainly.

"You don't look like you felt well, Margaret. Is there anything I can get for you? Maybe you'd better go in and lie down."

Mrs. Rogers shook her head. "I'm all right," she insisted. "Nothing's the matter."

"When is it Celia starts to work?" her neighbor at the next table asked.

"Not until a week from Monday."

"Well, she's a fine girl," the other said. "I hope she's got a nice job!"

"Yes—I hope so," Mrs. Rogers agreed.

Tillie Dennison had worked in the fitting room longer than either of the other four. She was unmarried, outspoken, generally referred to as "an old maid." Tillie cared nothing for the fact. Now she spoke up.

"Well, I've been meaning to say it for a long time and now I'm going to tell you, Margaret," she said. "I think it's a pity. If there's anything I hate to see it's a sweet young girl getting into the rut of working downtown day after day. Wearing out their prettiness and their nerves when they ought to be getting married and raising families—"

"Tillie, don't talk like that!" It was the woman beside Miss Dennison who had interrupted her.

"I don't care. I mean it! Why, Margaret, suppose anything would happen to you? Who'd look after Celia?"

Margaret Rogers eyed the wall before blankly.

"I don't know," she answered. "I don't know!" Then she bent her head to hide the fright that was in her eyes.

The others turned on Tillie Dennison indignantly. They said she had no right to say such things, that girls who worked in offices met lots of nice young men and plenty of them married. They defended Margaret, privately worrying at the same time.

There was still much to be done on the coral dress when it was hung away for the night. Mrs. Rogers was the last to leave the work room.

Celia had the evening meal ready when her mother arrived at the apartment. She thought that her mother looked tired. Margaret Rogers insisted she was not.

"It's just the heat," she explained. Later Barney came to take Celia for a drive.

"You young folks go alone. I'm going to read the newspaper."

But after they had gone she did not read. She got out paper and pen and ink. For a long time she stared at the blank sheet. Tillie Dennison's words rang in her ears: "Suppose something would happen—"

Margaret Rogers began to write rapidly.

(To Be Continued)

At the Republican caucus held at the Town Hall last Friday evening, the following names for town offices were nominated to be voted upon at the coming October election: Assessor, Nathan O. Ward; board of relief, Walter Euton; Selectmen, Rupert E. West, Howard C. Cradock, and town deposit fund, I. Tilden Jewett; auditor, Margaret Meacham; grand jurors, Arthur Bushnell, Howard C. Cradock, Fred Cook; collector of taxes, Emery M. Clough; constable, Bert C. Halleck; registrar of voters, Charles H. Hartley; town school committee, library director, Samuel Simpson.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Steele, Mrs. L. Ernest Hill, Miss Bernice Hall, were on a motor trip Saturday, visiting relatives and friends in Holyoke, Wisley, South Deerfield and Palmer, Mass.

Several members of Tolland Grange attended Enfield Grange at Hazardville, Monday evening and had a part in the Neighbors' Night program with Wapping Grange, which was also on the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Doyle were recent guests of Mrs. Doyle's niece, Mrs. Phoebe Bowers Cooley and family of Townsend, Vt.

Miss Ruth Ayers who has been in training at the Hartford hospital, has finished her course and is present at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Ayers.

Miss Helen Chaplin who has spent some time at the home of her uncle, Charles C. Talcott, returned Saturday to the home of her parents in Oradell, N. J.

Miss Mildred Dodge of Barre, Vt., is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Ayers.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake and son of Hartford were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Senk, Sr.

Misses Elizabeth and Beatrice Stevens of Hartford were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lathrop West.

The annual meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Federated church will be held Thursday afternoon, September 18, at the home of Miss Miriam H. Hartley. At the conclusion of the Ladies Aid Society the annual meeting of the Union Missionary society will be held. The officers of the societies are requested to have their reports of the year's work to read at the meeting.

Mrs. Warner of Allenville, N. J., and Mrs. Rosa Belle Richmond of Manchester, were recent guests of former acquaintances and relative Mrs. Alice Stockman.

Mrs. Charles J. Daniels is a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Aaron Pratt and family of Windor, Conn.

At a meeting of the library directors held in the library rooms last Friday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. John H. Steele; secretary, Mrs. Edith West Gunther; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Jewell Baldwin; librarian, Miss Lucile Agard; first vice-president, Mrs. Marion Agard Baker; second vice-president, Mrs. Helen Jewett; auditors, I. Tilden Jewett, Alfred Leidwig.

HOW TO SHOP

SOLE LEATHER OF A GOOD SHOE IS PLIABLE

By William H. Baldwin

A shoe may be beautiful with an intricate design, and of fine leather, but if it pinches in the toe the shopper will naturally be dissatisfied. The proper last is the most important single item in a shoe.

Expensive shoes are bench-made; that is, every part of the shoe is made by hand. In shoes which are hand-turned, the stitching is done by machine. Shoes built for style usually have narrow lasts, whereas corrective shoes have wide lasts for comfort, and can stand the wear and tear of much usage.

Bend the sole of the shoe to see if it has a tendency to crack. A good sole leather will be pliable and will not crack. Also, bend the counter—the part which fits around the heel of the foot. If it is made of good leather, as in good shoes, it will be pliable and fit snugly around the heel. If made of fiber it will be harder and stiffer. The balance of the shoe also is an indication of workmanship. Put the shoe on a plane surface, like the floor or show case, and note whether all of the sole and heel are flush with the surface.

NAUGHTY DOLLS RETURNED

Seattle, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Ten gross of Japanese blouse dolls which Federal officials said were too naughty to be described in legal phraseology will be "deported."

A libel action against the dolls was dismissed after persons who had shipped them here for consignment to a New York novelty company agreed to order them sent back to Japan.

Dashing Youth Chooses Chic

Tailleur for Street and Speculator Sports

By ANNETTE

Don't leave your autumn sewing until every one is appearing in their new togs.

Be up-to-the-minute by starting your new tweed frock now that Paris is featuring for smart day wear.

You can't imagine anything more youthful than this slim model in bordeaux red coloring.

The turn-over collar with cute triple jabot and pointed cuffs are of faille silk crepe in the lightest blending tone of the tweed. The leather belt and grossgrain ribbon bow tie are in the deepest tone, lending striking contrast.

Style No. 880 is copied at a remarkable saving over the original Paris dress. It is designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 26, 38 and 40 inches bust.

Patterned wool jersey, crepe woolen and tweed printed crepe silk are ideally suited to this model.

Size 16 years requires 2 1/2 yards 54-inch with 1/2 yard 35-inch contrasting.

Manchester Herald Pattern Service

880

For a Herald Pattern of the model illustrated, send 15c in stamps or coin directly to Fashion Bureau, Manchester Evening Herald, Fifth Avenue and 23rd Street, New York City. Be sure to write your name and address clearly and to give the correct number and size of the pattern you want.

Price 15 Cents

Name

Size

Address

Pattern price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

TOLLAND

At the Republican caucus held at the Town Hall last Friday evening, the following names for town offices were nominated to be voted upon at the coming October election: Assessor, Nathan O. Ward; board of relief, Walter Euton; Selectmen, Rupert E. West, Howard C. Cradock, and town deposit fund, I. Tilden Jewett; auditor, Margaret Meacham; grand jurors, Arthur Bushnell, Howard C. Cradock, Fred Cook; collector of taxes, Emery M. Clough; constable, Bert C. Halleck; registrar of voters, Charles H. Hartley; town school committee, library director, Samuel Simpson.

SILVER LANE and HOCKANUM News Notes

Martin Clark of 21 Naubec avenue and Edna Clark of 62 High street, daughter of Charleton Clark were united in marriage at the Hockanum Methodist parsonage Wednesday evening September 10, by the Rev. Raymond L. Archer. Mr. Clark lived in Manchester before coming to Hockanum to live. After a brief wedding trip the young couple will live in Hartford.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Dunham spent the week end at Winchester, New Hampshire.

The South End Bridge club moved to Cornfield Point, Saybrook, Friday and spent the day with Mrs. Frank W. Potter. Mrs. Potter is spending the summer at this shore resort.

Joseph Godar of Glastonbury, owner of the property at the northwest corner of Maple and South Main streets has a cellar dug for a one-story building; when completed it will contain two stores. It is rumored a chain store will occupy one of the stores.

At the Hockanum Methodist church Sunday morning, Rev. Raymond L. Archer preached, using as his topic, "Living Up to One's Conviction."

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Ensign and Mrs. Sherman H. Fox spent the week-end in Stamford, Conn., as guests of Mrs. John Rouff. Mrs. Rouff was a resident of this village for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hastings also spent the week-end at Stamford, Mass. Mr. Hastings left Saturday for Point O'Woods where they will spend a week at the Hastings cottage.

Miss Lucy Rose who has been visiting Mrs. Isabel H. Fox returned to her home in Worcester, Mass. Kauche and Cox, owners of the old Grist Mill property on South Main street are making extensive repairs to the building both inside and outside. They have built a stairway on the south side and are renovating the rooms upstairs preparatory to renting same. They have leased the store to Harry Porte who will carry a full line of groceries and meat.

Mrs. Faith McGehan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McGehan of Ensign street entered the Hartford Hospital Training School early in September.

Mrs. Emel V. Schultz and Mrs. Elmer Wadsworth are spending a few days at the Hollister cottage, Westbrook, Conn.

PASTOR SEEKS DIVORCE

Bridgeport, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Rev. T. F. R. Beale, until last spring pastor of Park Street Congregational church here, yesterday in Reno, Nevada, brought suit for divorce against his wife, now living here. Mr. Beale has been living in Reno for the past three months, where he is assistant pastor of the Federated Church there.

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Meriden, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Dr. Silas M. Moorman, of 140 Wadsworth avenue, New York, his wife and two sons, whom he was taking to Phillips Exeter Academy at Exeter, N. H., escaped injury here this morning when the car in which they were riding crashed into a highway fence and made a complete turn on north Colony road near the Carey farm. The machine was badly damaged and the Moorman family had to continue their journey by train.

JUMPER FROCK

A lively tweed, in orange, beige, brown and gold yellow flecking, is made jumper, with a couple of waists, one orange, one beige, so give it a change.

YOUR CHILDREN

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

One of the greatest of character builders is to be able to see other people have things that we haven't and be happy.

And if children are to go through life viewing the possessions of their neighbors with jealousy, spite, self-commiseration and wretchedness, don't we owe it to them to try to build up a sort of philosophy that will give them peace of mind?

For really, when we analyze it, acceptance of our lot has not exactly been a part of our modern code. We are forever chafing. We develop a feeling of injustice, resentment and protest. We look over the heads of our blessings to behold those intangible ghosts of what we might have had and didn't get.

It isn't a prerogative of class, for kings have it as well as peasants; if one king has a bigger, richer kingdom than the other his neighbor probably gets indigestion thinking what a poor miserable thing he is.

Comparison we've always had in this amazing old world, and comparison there always was, but we can't help it, yet it is responsible for more unhappiness than almost any other condition, for its reaction is seldom happy. Self-pity is its shadow and when we begin to feel sorry for ourselves we're gone.

Children begin this early. And the mother who wants her child to be honestly normally happy throughout his life will make every effort to help him to a healthy point of view in this respect.

The trouble is that many mothers themselves cannot endure seeing other children with things her own children may not have.

Who blames them? Certainly not I. If it were not so, motherhood would have to be called by some other name.

But since it is so, the best thing to do is to acknowledge, bury it from the eyes of the children, and set about preventing the same state of affairs in the child's own mind.

One little girl's mother did this. Her child had a neighbor who was born with a silver spoon. This other child was loaded with everything on earth. Unhappiness began to develop in the little girl's breast. She began to complain, to wonder why she had nothing.

"So one day her mother managed to get the daughter of a very poor invalid friend to come and spend the day. This child had literally nothing. She admired everything so much she made the small daughter of the house feel ashamed. And her first impulse was to divide. A fast friendship grew up between them.

A lesson, by the way, they've often learned by this very feeling of deprivation—service and sacrifice toward those still more "unfortunate."

The most dismal individuals in the world are those who have lost their appetites or, in the words of the ruralist, "gone off their feed." The causes of loss of appetite are many. Some are physical, but undoubtedly the majority are associated with mental disturbances.

In a recent survey of the subject, Dr. J. M. Berkman has selected a group of patients who suffered from loss of appetite associated with distinctly nervous conditions. These patients appear preoccupied and gaze at the floor most of the time; they answer questions promptly, but become disinterested immediately thereafter. Persistent questioning usually reveals that the patient suffers loss of appetite due to some psychic disturbance. The blood pressure is low, the pulse rate is low, and most of the physical examinations give negative results.

In one large clinic, 117 cases were seen in 13 years, so that the condition is fairly infrequent. More than 80 per cent of the patients were women, and in not one of the cases could there be found any definite change in the nervous system, although an actual psychologic base was discovered in only 20 of the 117. The difficulty apparently has to do with the fact that the mental manifestation is associated with a complete unwillingness to discuss the mental side of the case.

As has been previously mentioned in these columns, it is sometimes possible to increase the rate of digestion and absorption of food by raising the rate of the basal metabolism. In some of the cases in the group here discussed, this was attempted and the metabolic rate was increased. However, there is great danger in the method. If the patient absolutely refuses to eat with the rate elevated, there is a failure to increase the intake of food and loss of weight which takes place more rapidly.

In some instances it is possible to force these patients to put on weight by putting a tube into the stomach and inserting food in that manner at the same time that the metabolic rate is increased. Some of the patients become willing to eat, but in other cases it is necessary to keep the tube in use for long periods of time. It is also difficult to establish the exact dosage of the thyroid that may be necessary and safe in the individual case.

In only one case did death occur while the patient was under treatment, that death being due to bronchopneumonia, which developed while the patient was being studied, rather than due to starvation. It is, of course, realized that long continued starvation produces conditions in which the body is subject to easy infection.

Apparently after a patient has starved himself for considerable time and lost a good deal of weight the basal metabolism is lowered, so that much less food is required in order to keep the emaciated body going. If this were not the case, death would promptly ensue. The sad aspect of the matter is that degenerative changes occur due to the long continued malnutrition. Eventually when the mind is restored to normal function, the patient may wish to begin eating again but finds that the tissues have degenerated so badly that perfect health for the future is an impossible promise.

HEALTH

MENTAL DISTURBANCES OFTEN RESULT IN LOSS OF APPETITE

By DR. MORRIS FISHBURN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

You needn't worry about the breakfast eggs being overdone or under-done when you cook them in one of the new aluminum egg boilers that are a recent contribution to the kitchen cupboard.

Set the timer at the top, and the eggs will automatically rise out of the water at the right second.

Make dresses bright as new!

DIAMOND DYES are easy to use; go on smoothly and evenly; NEVER leave a trace of that faded look when Diamond Dyes are used. Just true, even, new colors that hold their own through the hardest wear and washing.

Diamond Dyes owe their superiority to the abundance of pure anilines they contain. Cost more to make. Surely, But you pay no more for them. All drug stores—15c.

Diamond Dyes
Highest Quality for 50 Years

WOMEN: HERE'S YOUR TREAT!

Those sample dresses we told you about yesterday are here and are going on sale tomorrow morning (Thursday) at 9 a. m.

This Is What We Offer:

One lot of Samples

Regular $9.95 to $12.95
Going at $6.95 and $7.95

Sizes 14 to 40

One lot of Samples for Stouts

Regular $7.95

$4.95

Sizes 38 to 50

One lot of Samples

Regular $6.95

$3.95

Sizes 14 to 44

YOUR CHILDREN

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

One of the greatest of character builders is to be able to see other people have things that we haven't and be happy.

And if children are to go through life viewing the possessions of their neighbors with jealousy, spite, self-commiseration and wretchedness, don't we owe it to them to try to build up a sort of philosophy that will give them peace of mind?

For really, when we analyze it, acceptance of our lot has not exactly been a part of our modern code. We are forever chafing. We develop a feeling of injustice, resentment and protest. We look over the heads of our blessings to behold those intangible ghosts of what we might have had and didn't get.

It isn't a prerogative of class, for kings have it as well as peasants; if one king has a bigger, richer kingdom than the other his neighbor probably gets indigestion thinking what a poor miserable thing he is.

Comparison we've always had in this amazing old world, and comparison there always was, but we can't help it, yet it is responsible for more unhappiness than almost any other condition, for its reaction is seldom happy. Self-pity is its shadow and when we begin to feel sorry for ourselves we're gone.

Children begin this early. And the mother who wants her child to be honestly normally happy throughout his life will make every effort to help him to a healthy point of view in this respect.

The trouble is that many mothers themselves cannot endure seeing other children with things her own children may not have.

Who blames them? Certainly not I. If it were not so, motherhood would have to be called by some other name.

But since it is so, the best thing to do is to acknowledge, bury it from the eyes of the children, and set about preventing the same state of affairs in the child's own mind.

One little girl's mother did this. Her child had a neighbor who was born with a silver spoon. This other child was loaded with everything on earth. Unhappiness began to develop in the little girl's breast. She began to complain, to wonder why she had nothing.

"So one day her mother managed to get the daughter of a very poor invalid friend to come and spend the day. This child had literally nothing. She admired everything so much she made the small daughter of the house feel ashamed. And her first impulse was to divide. A fast friendship grew up between them.

A lesson, by the way, they've often learned by this very feeling of deprivation—service and sacrifice toward those still more "unfortunate."

The most dismal individuals in the world are those who have lost their appetites or, in the words of the ruralist, "gone off their feed." The causes of loss of appetite are many. Some are physical, but undoubtedly the majority are associated with mental disturbances.

In a recent survey of the subject, Dr. J. M. Berkman has selected a group of patients who suffered from loss of appetite associated with distinctly nervous conditions. These patients appear preoccupied and gaze at the floor most of the time; they answer questions promptly, but become disinterested immediately thereafter. Persistent questioning usually reveals that the patient suffers loss of appetite due to some psychic disturbance. The blood pressure is low, the pulse rate is low, and most of the physical examinations give negative results.

In one large clinic, 117 cases were seen in 13 years, so that the condition is fairly infrequent. More than 80 per cent of the patients were women, and in not one of the cases could there be found any definite change in the nervous system, although an actual psychologic base was discovered in only 20 of the 117. The difficulty apparently has to do with the fact that the mental manifestation is associated with a complete unwillingness to discuss the mental side of the case.

As has been previously mentioned in these columns, it is sometimes possible to increase the rate of digestion and absorption of food by raising the rate of the basal metabolism. In some of the cases in the group here discussed, this was attempted and the metabolic rate was increased. However, there is great danger in the method. If the patient absolutely refuses to eat with the rate elevated, there is a failure to increase the intake of food and loss of weight which takes place more rapidly.

In some instances it is possible to force these patients to put on weight by putting a tube into the stomach and inserting food in that manner at the same time that the metabolic rate is increased. Some of the patients become willing to eat, but in other cases it is necessary to keep the tube in use for long periods of time. It is also difficult to establish the exact dosage of the thyroid that may be necessary and safe in the individual case.

In only one case did death occur while the patient was under treatment, that death being due to bronchopneumonia, which developed while the patient was being studied, rather than due to starvation. It is, of course, realized that long continued starvation produces conditions in which the body is subject to easy infection.

Apparently after a patient has starved himself for considerable time and lost a good deal of weight the basal metabolism is lowered, so that much less food is required in order to keep the emaciated body going. If this were not the case, death would promptly ensue. The sad aspect of the matter is that degenerative changes occur due to the long continued malnutrition. Eventually when the mind is restored to normal function, the patient may wish to begin eating again but finds that the tissues have degenerated so badly that perfect health for the future is an impossible promise.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

You needn't worry about the breakfast eggs being overdone or under-done when you cook them in one of the new aluminum egg boilers that are a recent contribution to the kitchen cupboard.

Set the timer at the top, and the eggs will automatically rise out of the water at the right second.

Make dresses bright as new!

DIAMOND DYES are easy to use; go on smoothly and evenly; NEVER leave a trace of that faded look when Diamond Dyes are used. Just true, even, new colors that hold their own through the hardest wear and washing.

Diamond Dyes owe their superiority to the abundance of pure anilines they contain. Cost more to make. Surely, But you pay no more for them. All drug stores—15c.

Diamond Dyes
Highest Quality for 50 Years

WOMEN: HERE'S YOUR TREAT!

Those sample dresses we told you about yesterday are here and are going on sale tomorrow morning (Thursday) at 9 a. m.

This Is What We Offer:

One lot of Samples

Regular $9.95 to $12.95
Going at $6.95 and $7.95

Sizes 14 to 40

One lot of Samples for Stouts

Regular $7.95

$4.95

Sizes 38 to 50

One lot of Samples

Regular $6.95

$3.95

Sizes 14 to 44

MATERIALS

TRAVEL PRINTS GEORGETTE,

CANTON CREPE
KNITTED SUITS

THE SMART SHOP

State Theater Building

Snuff up nose; also melt in hot water and inhale vapors.

VICKS VAPORUS

THE CANNIBAL UNION

BUY AND SELL HERE

Want Ad Information
Manchester Evening Herald
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Count six average words to a line. Initials, numbers and abbreviations each count as two words. Minimum cost is price of three lines.

Effective March 17, 1927
6 Consecutive Days .. 7 cts 3 cts
3 Consecutive Days .. 9 cts 5 cts
1 Day .. 15 cts 10 cts

Special rates for long term every day advertising given upon request. Ads ordered for three or six days will be charged only for the actual number of days the ad appears. No allowance or refunds can be made on six time ads stopped after the fifth day.

No "fill forbids" display lines not sold.
The Herald will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

The inadvertent omission of incorrect publication of advertising will be rectified only by cancellation of the charge made for the service rendered. All advertisements must conform in style, copy and typography with regulations enforced by the publisher and they reserve the right to edit, revise or reject any copy considered objectionable.

TELEPHONE YOUR WANTS
Ads are accepted over the telephone at the CHARGE RATE given above as a convenience to advertisers. The CASH RATES will be accepted as FULL PAYMENT if paid at the business office on or before the seventh day following the first insertion of each ad otherwise the CASH RATES will be collected. No responsibility for errors in telephoned ads will be assumed and their accuracy cannot be guaranteed.

INDEX OF CLASSIFICATIONS

Births	A
Engagements	B
Marriages	C
Deaths	D
Card of Thanks	E
In Memoriam	F
Lost and Found	G
Announcements	H
Personals	I
Automobiles	J
Auto Accessories	K
Auto Repairing	L
Auto Schools	M
Auto-Ship by Truck	N
Auto-For Hire	O
Garages	P
Motorcycles	Q
Wanted Autos	R
Business and Professional Services	S
Business Services Offered	T
Building	U
Florists	V
Funeral Directors	W
Heating	X
Insurance	Y
Milling	Z
Moving	AA
Painting	AB
Professional Services	AC
Refrigerating	AD
Tailoring	AE
Travel	AF
Wanted	AG
Business Service	AH
Education	AI
Courses and Classes	AJ
Private Instruction	AK
Dancing	AL
Musical	AM
Wanted	AN
Wanted	AO
Bonds	AP
Stocks	AQ
Business Opportunities	AR
Money to Loan	AS
Help Wanted	AT
Help Wanted	AU
Help Wanted	AV
Agents	AW
Situations	AX
Situations	AY
Employment Agencies	AZ
Live Stock	BA
Dogs	BB
Birds	BC
Pets	BD
Live Stock	BE
Poultry	BF
Wanted	BG
Wanted	BH
Wanted	BI
Articles for Sale	BJ
Boats and Accessories	BK
Building	BL
Diamonds	BM
Electrical	BN
Gas	BO
Hardware	BP
Household Goods	BQ
Machinery	BR
Musical	BS
Office and Store Equipment	BT
Specials	BU
Wanted	BV
Wanted	BW
Wanted	BX
Rooms	BY
Rooms	BZ
Rooms	CA
Rooms	CB
Rooms	CC
Rooms	CD
Rooms	CE
Rooms	CF
Rooms	CG
Rooms	CH
Rooms	CI
Rooms	CJ
Rooms	CK
Rooms	CL
Rooms	CM
Rooms	CN
Rooms	CO
Rooms	CP
Rooms	CQ
Rooms	CR
Rooms	CS
Rooms	CT
Rooms	CU
Rooms	CV
Rooms	CW
Rooms	CX
Rooms	CY
Rooms	CZ
Rooms	DA
Rooms	DB
Rooms	DC
Rooms	DD
Rooms	DE
Rooms	DF
Rooms	DG
Rooms	DH
Rooms	DI
Rooms	DJ
Rooms	DK
Rooms	DL
Rooms	DM
Rooms	DN
Rooms	DO
Rooms	DP
Rooms	DQ
Rooms	DR
Rooms	DS
Rooms	DT
Rooms	DU
Rooms	DV
Rooms	DW
Rooms	DX
Rooms	DY
Rooms	DZ
Rooms	EA
Rooms	EB
Rooms	EC
Rooms	ED
Rooms	EE
Rooms	EF
Rooms	EG
Rooms	EH
Rooms	EI
Rooms	EJ
Rooms	EK
Rooms	EL
Rooms	EM
Rooms	EN
Rooms	EO
Rooms	EP
Rooms	EQ
Rooms	ER
Rooms	ES
Rooms	ET
Rooms	EU
Rooms	EV
Rooms	EW
Rooms	EX
Rooms	EY
Rooms	EZ
Rooms	FA
Rooms	FB
Rooms	FC
Rooms	FD
Rooms	FE
Rooms	FF
Rooms	FG
Rooms	FH
Rooms	FI
Rooms	FJ
Rooms	FK
Rooms	FL
Rooms	FM
Rooms	FN
Rooms	FO
Rooms	FP
Rooms	FQ
Rooms	FR
Rooms	FS
Rooms	FT
Rooms	FU
Rooms	FV
Rooms	FW
Rooms	FX
Rooms	FY
Rooms	FZ
Rooms	GA
Rooms	GB
Rooms	GC
Rooms	GD
Rooms	GE
Rooms	GF
Rooms	GG
Rooms	GH
Rooms	GI
Rooms	GJ
Rooms	GK
Rooms	GL
Rooms	GM
Rooms	GN
Rooms	GO
Rooms	GP
Rooms	GQ
Rooms	GR
Rooms	GS
Rooms	GT
Rooms	GU
Rooms	GV
Rooms	GW
Rooms	GX
Rooms	GY
Rooms	GZ
Rooms	HA
Rooms	HB
Rooms	HC
Rooms	HD
Rooms	HE
Rooms	HF
Rooms	HG
Rooms	HH
Rooms	HI
Rooms	HJ
Rooms	HK
Rooms	HL
Rooms	HM
Rooms	HN
Rooms	HO
Rooms	HP
Rooms	HQ
Rooms	HR
Rooms	HS
Rooms	HT
Rooms	HU
Rooms	HV
Rooms	HW
Rooms	HX
Rooms	HY
Rooms	HZ
Rooms	IA
Rooms	IB
Rooms	IC
Rooms	ID
Rooms	IE
Rooms	IF
Rooms	IG
Rooms	IH
Rooms	II
Rooms	IJ
Rooms	IK
Rooms	IL
Rooms	IM
Rooms	IN
Rooms	IO
Rooms	IP
Rooms	IQ
Rooms	IR
Rooms	IS
Rooms	IT
Rooms	IU
Rooms	IV
Rooms	IW
Rooms	IX
Rooms	IY
Rooms	IZ
Rooms	JA
Rooms	JB
Rooms	JC
Rooms	JD
Rooms	JE
Rooms	JF
Rooms	JG
Rooms	JH
Rooms	JI
Rooms	JJ
Rooms	JK
Rooms	JL
Rooms	JM
Rooms	JN
Rooms	JO
Rooms	JP
Rooms	jq
Rooms	JR
Rooms	JS
Rooms	JT
Rooms	JU
Rooms	JV
Rooms	JW
Rooms	JX
Rooms	JY
Rooms	JZ
Rooms	KA
Rooms	KB
Rooms	KC
Rooms	KD
Rooms	KE
Rooms	KF
Rooms	KG
Rooms	KH
Rooms	KI
Rooms	KJ
Rooms	KK
Rooms	KL
Rooms	KM
Rooms	KN
Rooms	KO
Rooms	KP
Rooms	KQ
Rooms	KR
Rooms	KS
Rooms	KT
Rooms	KU
Rooms	KV
Rooms	KW
Rooms	KX
Rooms	KY
Rooms	KZ
Rooms	LA
Rooms	LB
Rooms	LC
Rooms	LD
Rooms	LE
Rooms	LF
Rooms	LG
Rooms	LH
Rooms	LI
Rooms	LJ
Rooms	LK
Rooms	LL
Rooms	LM
Rooms	LN
Rooms	LO
Rooms	LP
Rooms	LQ
Rooms	LR
Rooms	LS
Rooms	LT
Rooms	LU
Rooms	LV
Rooms	LW
Rooms	LX
Rooms	LY
Rooms	LZ
Rooms	MA
Rooms	MB
Rooms	MC
Rooms	MD
Rooms	ME
Rooms	MF
Rooms	MG
Rooms	MH
Rooms	MI
Rooms	MJ
Rooms	MK
Rooms	ML
Rooms	MM
Rooms	MN
Rooms	MO
Rooms	MP
Rooms	MQ
Rooms	MR
Rooms	MS
Rooms	MT
Rooms	MU
Rooms	MV
Rooms	MW
Rooms	MX
Rooms	MY
Rooms	MZ
Rooms	NA
Rooms	NB
Rooms	NC
Rooms	ND
Rooms	NE
Rooms	NF
Rooms	NG
Rooms	NH
Rooms	NI
Rooms	NJ
Rooms	NK
Rooms	NL
Rooms	NM
Rooms	NN
Rooms	NO
Rooms	NP
Rooms	NQ
Rooms	NR
Rooms	NS
Rooms	NT
Rooms	NU
Rooms	NV
Rooms	NW
Rooms	NX
Rooms	NY
Rooms	NZ
Rooms	OA
Rooms	OB
Rooms	OC
Rooms	OD
Rooms	OE
Rooms	OF
Rooms	OG
Rooms	OH
Rooms	OI
Rooms	OJ
Rooms	OK
Rooms	OL
Rooms	OM
Rooms	ON
Rooms	OO
Rooms	OP
Rooms	OQ
Rooms	OR
Rooms	OS
Rooms	OT
Rooms	OU
Rooms	OV
Rooms	OW
Rooms	OX
Rooms	OY
Rooms	OZ
Rooms	PA
Rooms	PB
Rooms	PC
Rooms	PD
Rooms	PE
Rooms	PF
Rooms	PG
Rooms	PH
Rooms	PI
Rooms	PJ
Rooms	PK
Rooms	PL
Rooms	PM
Rooms	PN
Rooms	PO
Rooms	PP
Rooms	PQ
Rooms	PR
Rooms	PS
Rooms	PT
Rooms	PU
Rooms	PV
Rooms	PW
Rooms	PX
Rooms	PY
Rooms	PZ
Rooms	QA
Rooms	QB
Rooms	QC
Rooms	QD
Rooms	QE
Rooms	QF
Rooms	QG
Rooms	QH
Rooms	QI
Rooms	QJ
Rooms	QK
Rooms	QL
Rooms	QM
Rooms	QN
Rooms	QO
Rooms	QP
Rooms	QQ
Rooms	QR
Rooms	QS
Rooms	QT
Rooms	QU
Rooms	QV
Rooms	QW
Rooms	QX
Rooms	QY
Rooms	QZ
Rooms	RA
Rooms	RB
Rooms	RC
Rooms	RD
Rooms	RE
Rooms	RF
Rooms	RG
Rooms	RH
Rooms	RI
Rooms	RJ
Rooms	RK
Rooms	RL
Rooms	RM
Rooms	RN
Rooms	RO
Rooms	RP
Rooms	RQ
Rooms	RR
Rooms	RS
Rooms	RT
Rooms	RU
Rooms	RV
Rooms	RW
Rooms	RX
Rooms	RY
Rooms	RZ
Rooms	SA
Rooms	SB
Rooms	SC
Rooms	SD
Rooms	SE
Rooms	SF
Rooms	SG
Rooms	SH
Rooms	SI
Rooms	SJ
Rooms	SK
Rooms	SL
Rooms	SM
Rooms	SN
Rooms	SO
Rooms	SP
Rooms	SQ
Rooms	SR
Rooms	SS
Rooms	ST
Rooms	SU
Rooms	SV
Rooms	SW
Rooms	SX
Rooms	SY
Rooms	SZ
Rooms	TA
Rooms	TB
Rooms	TC
Rooms	TD
Rooms	TE
Rooms	TF
Rooms	TG
Rooms	TH
Rooms	TI
Rooms	TJ
Rooms	TK
Rooms	TL
Rooms	TM
Rooms	TN
Rooms	TO
Rooms	TP
Rooms	TQ
Rooms	TR
Rooms	TS
Rooms	TT
Rooms	TU
Rooms	TV
Rooms	TW
Rooms	TX
Rooms	TY
Rooms	TZ
Rooms	UA
Rooms	UB
Rooms	UC
Rooms	UD
Rooms	UE
Rooms	UF
Rooms	UG
Rooms	UH
Rooms	UI
Rooms	UJ
Rooms	UK
Rooms	UL
Rooms	UM
Rooms	UN
Rooms	UO
Rooms	UP
Rooms	UQ
Rooms	UR
Rooms	US
Rooms	UT
Rooms	UU
Rooms	UV
Rooms	UW
Rooms	UX
Rooms	UY
Rooms	UZ
Rooms	VA
Rooms	VB
Rooms	VC
Rooms	VD
Rooms	VE
Rooms	VF
Rooms	VG
Rooms	VH
Rooms	VI
Rooms	VJ
Rooms	VK
Rooms	VL
Rooms	VM
Rooms	VN
Rooms	VO
Rooms	VP
Rooms	VQ
Rooms	VR
Rooms	VS
Rooms	VT
Rooms	VU
Rooms	VV
Rooms	VW
Rooms	VX
Rooms	VY
Rooms	VZ
Rooms	WA
Rooms	WB
Rooms	WC
Rooms	WD
Rooms	WE
Rooms	WF
Rooms	WG
Rooms	WH
Rooms	WI
Rooms	WJ
Rooms	WK
Rooms	WL
Rooms	WM
Rooms	WN
Rooms	WO
Rooms	WP
Rooms	WQ
Rooms	WR
Rooms	WS
Rooms	WT
Rooms	WU
Rooms	WV
Rooms	WW
Rooms	WX
Rooms	WY
Rooms	WZ
Rooms	XA
Rooms	XB
Rooms	XC
Rooms	XD
Rooms	XE
Rooms	XF
Rooms	XG
Rooms	XH
Rooms	XI
Rooms	XJ
Rooms	XK
Rooms	XL
Rooms	XM
Rooms	XN
Rooms	XO
Rooms	XP
Rooms	XQ
Rooms	XR
Rooms	XS
Rooms	XT
Rooms	XU
Rooms	XV
Rooms	XW
Rooms	XX
Rooms	XY
Rooms	XZ
Rooms	YA
Rooms	YB
Rooms	YC
Rooms	YD
Rooms	YE
Rooms	YF
Rooms	YG
Rooms	YH
Rooms	YI
Rooms	YJ
Rooms	YK
Rooms	YL
Rooms	YM
Rooms	YN
Rooms	YO
Rooms	YP
Rooms	YQ
Rooms	YR
Rooms	YS
Rooms	YT
Rooms	YU
Rooms	YV
Rooms	YW
Rooms	YX
Rooms	YY
Rooms

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Don't Mention It From Dubuque (Iowa) Telegraph Herald—Last night the Gentleman to whom I, while slightly inebriated, loaned my fountain pen at a local hotel Friday evening kindly return same to 115 East Gilman St., Madison, Wis. Postage guaranteed and insured.

Get It Done It isn't the job we intended to do or the labor we've just begun. That puts us right on the balance sheet.

Teacher—How many of you children want to go to Heaven? All the children raised their hands except Johnny.

Teacher—But, Johnny, don't you want to go to Heaven? Johnny—Mother told me to come straight home after school.

Mildred murmurs that she's told some girls are very deceptive poker players—you never know what they're going to do next.

If a six-months-old baby could write a thank-you note to the kind aunt who sent the baby several toys, the note would read something like this: "Have received the pretty red ball, the wooden horse, the rubber doll, and the musical rattle, and as far as I can tell one tastes just as good as the other."

Kopweh—Are you troubled much in your neighborhood with borrowing? Hararruh—Yes, indeed. None of my neighbors seem to have what I want.

The only way to convict a woman in a trial by jury is to capture her before she can get to a beauty parlor.

Scientist says the bee language is a kind of dance performed with their feet. As we recall, the only

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

If wives only knew what most stenographers think of their husbands, they'd stop worrying.

bees that have ever tried to communicate with us have sat out the dances.

Because we are our brother's keepers few of us can keep from trying to reform him.

"I am sorry for my old friend. He has used half his life to learn seven languages, and the fool has now married a woman who never allows him to say a word."

The weary doughboy, fresh from the trenches, moved slowly up the aisle of the "Y" theater.

Secretary—Oh, I say, soldier, you can't sit there.

Soldier—Well, the one I just came from wasn't.

A canoe is like a small boy—both behave better when paddled from the rear.

Whether you call it dinner or lunch, eating too much of it will knock you out for the rest of the day.

A teacher was examining his class and he said: Teacher—I will give a quarter to any boy that can tell what nothing is.

A small boy at the back of the class put up his hand. Teacher—Well, Willie, and what would you say it is?

Willie—Please, teacher, it is a big hole without a barrel around it.

Throughout the evening meal neither had spoken one single word. But as soon as the plates had been cleared away and they were seated before the fire, the husband's face lost some of its hardness.

He (breaking long silence)—You know, dear, I've been thinking over our argument.

She—Well! He—Yes, dear, I've decided to agree with you, after all.

She—That won't do any good. I've changed my mind.

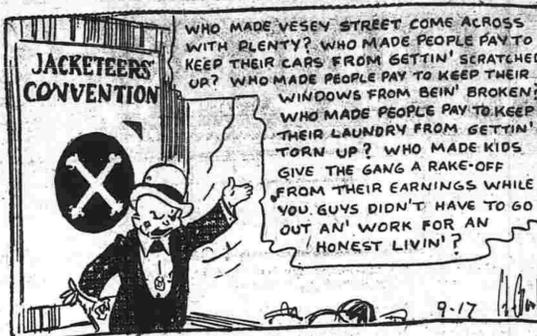

TWO MINDS WITH—"How happy Mrs. Smith looks." "No doubt she's thinking of the silver fox for she just got."

"And how sad her husband looks." "No doubt he's thinking of the same thing!" — Lustige Sachse, Leipzig.

DIDN'T CATCH IT Angry Guest: Are you the manager of this infernal place? Hotel Manager: Yes, sir.

"I have a very serious complaint." "Heavens! Don't come near me—it might be catching!"—Tit-Bits.

SKIPPY

Toonerville Folks By Fontaine Fox

OUR BOARDING HOUSE By Gene Ahern

OUR BOARDING HOUSE By Gene Ahern

WASHINGTON TUBBS II. Bullet-proof! By Crane

WASHINGTON TUBBS II. Bullet-proof! By Crane

ONCE UPON A TIME

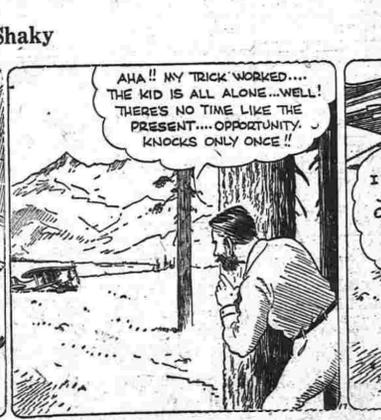

Samuel Goldwyn, movie producer, was an apprentice in a glove business at Gloversville, N. Y., and advanced so rapidly that he was placed in charge of a factory of 100 workers at the age of 17.

Angry Guest: Are you the manager of this infernal place? Hotel Manager: Yes, sir. "I have a very serious complaint." "Heavens! Don't come near me—it might be catching!"—Tit-Bits.

THE TINYMITES

The Tinies on their snowshoes walked around and 'bout the scenery talked. It surely was real beautiful against a clear blue sky. The snow seemed like a glistening ray and was a dandy place to play. 'Twas pretty deep because the mountain they were on was high.

JACK-O-LANTERN INN
and
CRYSTAL BALLROOM
BOLTON NOTCH MODERN AND OLD-FASHIONED DANCING
EVERY THURSDAY NIGHT
MODERN DANCING
EVERY SATURDAY NIGHT
JACK-O-LANTERN 7-PIECE
NOVELTY ORCHESTRA

ABOUT TOWN

William Glenney, Alexander Moser, and Lincoln Murphy who graduated from Manchester High School last June will enter the Connecticut Agricultural College at Storrs, tomorrow. They have enrolled in the Mechanical Engineering, Science, and Agricultural courses respectively.

Carl Dahlman, who is confined to the home of his aunt, Mrs. Richard Swanson of Bank street, with pneumonia, and not of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Florin as previously reported, is much improved today.

Troop 5, Boy Scouts, will meet at the Swedish Lutheran church at 7:15 o'clock tonight.

Mrs. Mary Phaneuf of 329 Center street is seriously sick at her home as the result of a shock suffered last Sunday morning. Her condition was reported as being a little improved this morning.

Miss Carrie Johnson of East Center street and Miss Alice M. Leppen of Wadsworth street are spending their vacation motoring as far south as Virginia in Miss Leppen's car.

There will be a pre-natal clinic at the Memorial hospital annex here tomorrow afternoon at 3:30.

The Army and Navy Club Auxiliary will meet at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening at the clubhouse. This will be the first session of the winter season.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the North Methodist church met this afternoon with Mrs. C. I. Balch of North Main street.

ANNUAL PEACH SUPPER

Thursday, September 18

5 to 9:30 P. M.

Salvation Army Citadel

Chicken Salad Sandwiches, 15c;
Peach Short Cake with Whipped Cream, 15c; Home Made Cake, 10c;
Home Made Peach or Apple Pie with Ice Cream, 15c; Peach Sundae, 15c; with Whipped Cream, 20c; Milk, 10c; Teas and Coffee, 5c.
Admission, 10c.

You Just Know It's Good

When Its From

PINEHURST MEAT DEPT.

Large Link Sausage 35c lb.

Try freshly ground Pinehurst Beef and a little Sausage Meat for meat balls or Meat Loaf.

Ground Beef 28c lb.

Veal Ground 44c lb.

Fresh Broilers
Scotch Ham
Chickens

Sweet Potatoes, 6 lbs. ...25c

FRESH FISH

Scallops
Oysters
Clams
Swordfish
Halibut
Salmon
Mackerel
Haddock Fillets
Salt Herring

Did you receive a copy of the Ferndel Booklet "Forty Miracles for Your Table"?

Pure Lard16c lb.

Good Value Pinehurst Coffee 39c lb.

Lima Beans	Campbell's Tomato Soup 3 cans 25c
Corn
Peppers
Wax Beans	Parsnips 1
Spinach	Turnips 1
Radishes
Fine Native Potatoes	Apples 16 qt. bas. 75c

Pinehurst

"Good Things to Eat" Phone 4151

YOUR CAR WASHED Quickly NO WAITING

$1.25

WAXING

$8.00

WILSON'S AUTO WASH
Rear of Johnson Block

Circulating Library

Where the newest books can always be found. Rental 2c per day; minimum charge 4c.

The J.W. Hale Company
SOUTH MANCHESTER, CONN.

Free Delivery

Free delivery daily anywhere in town. If unable to come to the store, phone your order. (Dial 4123.)

A Richly Furred
WINTER COAT

Now For Only

$37.50

Last Year $59.50

The Furs:

Manchurian Wolf

Brown Lapin

Natural Muskrat

Pointed Wolf

Brown

Black

Green

Hale's Coats—Main Floor, rear

Here is a sale of utmost importance to every woman interested in fashion—and economy. A sale of fine quality winter coats—all Paris inspired models. All have an abundance of fur trimming in keeping with the edicts of Paris this year—all are of fine fabrics, smartly tailored and beautifully lined. Last year models similar to these retailed at $59.50.

Smart coats of broadcloth with up-standing collars and novel cuffs of rich furs. Slightly fitted models that are smartly belted, or the classic wrap-around. Exquisitely tailored with full silk linings. If you want an unusually individual coat at a low price select from this group.

New Brims—Off-the-Face Models—Berets Fashion Favorites Featured in FALL HATS

$3.95

Every new Fall color... every new Fall shape... berets... double brims... off-the-face... new brims—in versions to smartly accompany every Fall costume. Original Paris models furnished the inspiration for every hat in this group. Smart materials include felt, soleil and velvet. Black as well as the new browns, wines and greens.

Hale's Millinery—Main Floor, rear

Three-Piece

Knitted Suits

A Smart Favorite

$10

For chilly Fall days don a smart three-piece knitted suit. The new Fall models are fashioned of tweed-like fabrics that feature flared or pleated skirts with matching cardigan complete with contrasting under-sweater. Orchid, green, wine, brown and tan.

Knitted Suits—Main Floor, rear

Pure Silk

"Dultex" Chiffons

For Office and Classroom

$1.00

These Dultex (no shine) chiffons are very popular for office, classroom, and general town wear. Fashioned of pure silk from tip-to-toe; full fashioned French heels. A stocking that will give the utmost in wear and satisfaction. Dark street shades.

Hosiery—Main Floor, right

The Best Underwear Values in Years
Will Be Featured Tomorrow in This Sale

100% Pure
SILK UNDERWEAR

Hemstitched and Lace Trimmed

Special!

$1.59

2 for $3.00

We cannot recall when we have offered such quality, pure silk underwear at such a low price. Every garment is fashioned of 100% pure dye silk crepe de chine and is guaranteed washable. Choice of neatly hemstitched or dainty, lace trimmed models in flesh, peach, white and Nile. At this price it will be worth your while to replenish your underwear supply now, and to buy a few pieces for Christmas giving. This special price is available for a few days only! The group consists of:

Gowns!

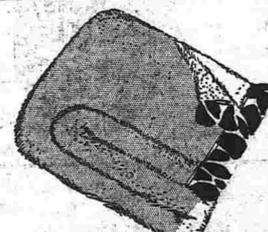

Dance Sets!
Panties!

Chemises!
Step-ins!

Slips!

Purchase Now for Immediate Wear and for Christmas Giving.

Hale's Underwear—Main Floor, rear

Beacon Pastel Colored

Part-Wool

Blankets

$1.98

As an extra blanket these chilly Fall nights select a couple of these part-wool blankets that may be had in soft pastel shades with white stripes at top. Sateen bound ends. Large size, 70x80 inches.

Blankets—Main Floor, left.

100 Pairs

Marquisette

Panels

79c each

On sale tomorrow morning at 9 a. m.—100 pairs of fine quality figured marquisette panels with silk fringed hems. Ecru and white. Full length, 2 1-4 yards wide. Curtains suitable for the dining room and living room.

Curtains—Main Floor, left

New!

Pastel Striped

Jacquard Ripplette Spreads

This Fall when redecorating your bedroom why not plan to use one of these lightweight jacquard ripplette spreads which have soft stripes of rose, blue, maize, Nile and orchid on a cream ground. Full bed size, 81x108 inches. Washable and guaranteed color fast.

Large Size, 81x108 Inches

$1.98

Hale's Spreads—Main Floor, left