Gives Them Chicken Dinner in Appreciation of Work They Did Saving His Property.

Fifty members of the Manchester Fire Department with the directors of the district and invited friends enjoyed a chicken dinner given by Harry Mintz, Depot Square merchant, last night in appreciation of the work of the hose companies in putting out a fire in his property on Depot Square about a month ago.

After a bountiful supper of fried chicken and all the fixings, Edward Coleman, chief of the Manchester Fire Department, called the gathering together and introduced E. J. Murphy as the toastmaster of the evening.

MINE BLAST KILLS SEVENTY-SIX MEN

Falling Coal "After regaining my senses I tried to rise but something continued to fall about and imprison me. The explosion blew coal high and brattice board in all directions. It came so fast I could hardly recall what happened."

Porter told how he and Olbers, dazed and not knowing whether they were hurt, lay for quite a time in the dark. The mine turned hot and the warm air rushed through. Other men near us were trapped but managed to get out.

"Finally I got up and tried to get out to three different grounds, for Olber and myself were acquainted with the workings quite well. First we tried the air shaft, the old working but the after-damp blocked our path."

"We came back where we started and tried to escape to the No. 7 west entry. Our third attempt was made through the old room which we found was squeezed together. Finally we emerged through a trap door."

"The black damp was so bad that we saturated our handkerchiefs with water and our pants and covered our faces with them as a precaution against the gas."

EDITOR AND SOCIALISTS IN A BRAWL IN PARIS

Paris, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The lobby of the Chamber of Deputies was the scene of a violent brawl just before the session opened today when Camille Aymard, director of the Nationalist newspaper La Liberte, got into discussion with a group of socialist deputies. Blows were exchanged.

A number of windows were broken during the melee which finally was transferred to the garden of the Palais Bourbon where republican guardsmen had to be called to restore order.

NAME J. E. CARROLL HEAD OF INSURANCE AGENCY

John E. Carroll has succeeded George McLachlan as assistant superintendent of the Manchester branch of the Prudential Insurance Company of America, it was announced today.

Mr. Carroll is one of the oldest employees of the company in the district from the standpoint of seniority having been with the Prudential for 23 years.

McLachlan recently resigned his position here but it is not known what future business plans he has formed.

LEADERS COMMENT ON THE ELECTION

the contrary held the Democratic gains not surprising on the basis of two factors: Their own encroachments in 1928 on normally Democratic territory and the current business depression.

Robert H. Lucas, the executive director of the Republican National Committee went further, asserting that "everything considered the result must be taken as a vindication of the National administration."

Calls It Crazy Quilt Chairman Fess of the Republican National committee said no outstanding issues controlled the results, which he viewed as a "crazy quilt". It was to be expected, he added, that the Republicans would lose 35 seats even without the disturbance caused by the economic depression.

John J. Raskob, the Democratic National chairman termed the Democratic sweep a "notable victory on clean cut political issues." He announced he would do everything in his power to have the Democratic Party view the tariff as an economic rather than a political question "thus removing from business minds all cause for alarm and uncertainty as to how business will be treated in the event that yesterday's election and future elections give control of Congress to our party."

Smith's Comment Alfred E. Smith, the 1928 Democratic bearer said: "The people have responded to a

"REDS" IN CHINA KEEP UP SNIPING

Hankow, China, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Local Customs authorities today announced that during September and October Red cannonades between here and Ichang had fired upon commercial vessels on the Yangtze river 120 times and also had attacked numerous gunboats.

The outlaws, who infest the river banks for miles, have been preying upon commercial shipping in spite of the efforts of both Chinese and foreign gunboats to protect private craft.

Recent reports also indicated the attacks were continuing despite a Chinese announcement saying Chinese gunboats would sweep the river banks clear of these outlaws. At present the majority of the Chinese gunboats are tied up at Nanking and Ichang.

Reds on Warpath Despite the Nationalist government's announced drive against Communists in Hunan and Kiangsi provinces, advices from Hunan indicated the Reds had gone on the warpath in the northeastern part of that province, near Pingkiang, looting and killing freely while the military of that area fled.

Reds were said to have occupied Pingkiang. A Christian Chinese evangelist arriving here from the Hunan-Kiangsi border east of Pingkiang said that area was infested with Communists and apprehensive of Red invasions from the mountains of Kiangsi.

GETS FIRST PLACE

Norwalk, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The gubernatorial victory of Dean Willbur L. Cross raises the Democratic Party from second to first position on the voting machines of Connecticut, for the first time in 15 years, it was revealed here today.

Section 722 of the state statutes, revision of 1930, states x x x "the name of the political party polling the largest number of votes for governor, as determined by the last general election, shall be first in position (in the machine party list) and the party polling the second largest number shall be second, and so on."

The converted first lever has been held by the G. O. P. since the defeat of Simeon Baldwin, Democrat, in 1915.

HERALD, NOVEMBER 6.

LOYD GEORGE'S PLAN. Given credit by his enemies for being the shrewdest opportunist of his period in Great Britain, David Lloyd George is certainly entitled to that distinction if not to that of being a truly great statesman.

This measure, which is planned to remove some 650,000 of the unemployed from the field of industrial rivalry, will be greeted with derision by many of the very people whom it is intended to benefit.

Yet it is very much to be doubted whether any proposal that has been advanced since unemployment became a great national problem in Britain possessed anything like the inherent merit of this plan.

There is one fundamental fact at the bottom of any such proposition as this. It is that in no country and at no time has any family placed on a small farm of reasonable fertility and possessing any sort of half way decent plant and equipment failed to maintain itself in some measure of comfort except through serious physical disability or because of excessive taxation or rental.

heritage and upbringing. Returned to the soil under government auspices they would thrive—not speculatively, perhaps, but wholesomely.

For many years the government of Argentina contributed to her own prosperity by taking empty handed immigrants from Europe, giving them land, lending them the necessary capital to establish themselves, developing a prosperous population on the soil and creating thus a market for her industries and her merchants.

What Argentina and other countries have done for newly come immigrants the United States, at a pinch, can do for its own dislocated people.

TOO MUCH GEOGRAPHY. One of the queerest things about the late more or less lamented election is the situation in Fairfield County, where one of the finest figures in the National House of Representatives, Schuyler Merritt, went down in defeat, overwhelmed by a Republican defection unequalled elsewhere in the state.

That influence was neither business depression nor prohibition, nor yet Levittism, for these matters probably figured in Fairfield County in exactly the same proportion as elsewhere.

For a long time there has been evident in Fairfield County newspapers a very decided sornness. They have complained that their part of the state received but scant consideration in such matters as state highways, state parks, state forests, appointive state offices, and various other relationships, though in point of population and voting power it is one of the more important elements of the state.

There cannot be the slightest doubt that this feeling, which did not begin with the campaign but long before, had a great deal to do with dampening the enthusiasm of many Republican voters in that part of the state.

As it turned out they didn't have to.

DELICATE SITUATION. Governor-elect Cross, when he assumes office, will have in his hands the making of many appointments to responsible public office.

The situation is obviously one which calls for restraint, wisdom and good feeling. It would be altogether unreasonable for the governor to expect all his appointments to be ratified if they included inferior men and if he conducted a campaign of political spoils grabbing.

There must be, in the circumstances, a good deal of give and take in this matter of state appointments. Dean Cross was the choice of the people of the state. His selection as governor carries with it the organization of his administration, a certain definite mandate.

TOM'S LAST HITCH. At all events, one important economy is inseparable from the election. No longer will the treasury of the United States be drained by the cost of printing thousands of pages of Congressional Record devoted to the endless diatribes of Senator Tom Heflin.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 6.—In the tradition-haunted lobby of the Metropolitan, just outside the socially consecrated "golden horseshoe," they were talking of the transient modes and manners and customs of the Blue Book box holders.

It was the opening night of the opera. Inside and outside were two contrasting studies in confusion. On the outside the confusion was that of a crowd that defied a half dozen mounted police.

The crowd, on the average, was the sleek crowd of Broadway, drawn by the fascination of watching the other half on parade.

And new crowds drawn. . . . The suburbanites as photographers' flashes burst in their very faces. . . . Frantic assistant society writers scurrying for names. . . . Murmurs from poorly dressed women in the crowds as outskirts brush by. . . . And, on the emblems, a

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

Washington, Nov. 6.—The election campaign is over, but you're going to keep right on hearing about the tariff, which seems bound to cause a lot more trouble.

The public hearings now in progress before the tariff commission, which were begun on them. They were merely filed. Of course it took the commission a month to get organized.

Hoover, Fletcher and Senator Smoot's machinery will function adequately. But the tariff critics, considering the delay of more than four months before hearings began, the personnel of the commission and what they call the machinery's inadequacy, profess to hold little hope.

Just what will actually be done toward carrying out President Hoover's promise of revisions under the flexible provision is a matter of considerable speculation here. Despite promises of speed and seeming evidence of earnest determination, the commission will cause considerable surprise in some quarters if it ever does much of anything.

ELECTRO-THERAPY TREATMENTS. People have become remarkably interested in the different types of treatment with heat, light and electricity, and from all over the world letters pour in asking me to describe these treatments and outline the good which may reasonably be expected from them.

The ultra-violet rays given off by these lamps are very powerful and much more concentrated than the same rays given off by the sun while being exposed, but reddening and burning may develop later if the treatment has been too long.

(Melba Toast) Question: F. H. asks: "What kind of bread is best for making Melba toast, and how is the toast made?" Answer: Use white bread, slicing a quarter of an inch thick, drying overnight or longer, and toasting brown all the way through.

(Rise in Temperature) Question: K. L. asks: "Does a rise in temperature from one-fifth to three-fifths of a degree signify any bodily disease? This rise comes sometimes in the morning, but generally in the afternoon." Answer: Such a slight rise in temperature does not indicate any specific disease.

And from somewhere, close to the floor, the familiar noises of the "cliques." Back in the lobby, just outside the consecrated "golden horseshoe," they are discussing the fact that this year there are no tiaras. They use the language of Manhattan. What they really say is that "the tiaras are not wearing glass hats."

Several wise-ones from the society sections of the newspapers step up to inform me that this progress is gone forever. Looking about, it is impossible to sight a single tiara in the boxes. And those scouts who have come back from a thorough survey, bring the report that all ornamentation is being "played down" this season.

DEPOSITS IN BANK ON THE INCREASE

Present Hard Times Induce Wage Earners to Save More, Banker Explains.

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—In the midst of the business depression, savings deposits in American banks and trust companies increased $287,180,000 in the year ended June 30, to a total of nearly $28,485,000,000, the highest figure on record, the American Bankers Association announced today.

This contrasts with a loss of $185,805,000 in the year ended June 30, 1929. The total number of depositors reported was 52,769,175, a gain of 5,648 over last year.

W. Espey Albig, deputy manager of the association, explained the rise in part on the basis of conditions in industry and employment.

Explains Reasons
"When conditions in industry and employment are not satisfactory," he said, "there is a tendency to divert largely from wages to go to extreme lengths in safeguarding themselves financially. They deposit most of their income in the savings departments in banks. If the depression is long continued, these deposits are slowly but gradually withdrawn."

Of the New England states, Massachusetts, Maine, Rhode Island and Connecticut showed a substantial gain in deposits and the last three reported a gain in depositors, although the section as a whole had a net loss of 22,414.

ITALY TAKES STEP TO AID SUFFERERS

Raises Over Million Dollars for Earthquake Victims; To Suspend Taxes Also.

Roma, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The council of ministers today approved a draft bill appropriating 30,000,000 lire (about $1,500,000) for the victims of the October 30 earthquake in the provinces of Ancona and Pesaro. With this sum the minister of public works has been directed to initiate the demolition of damaged houses, replacing slightly cracked ones and clearing away wreckage so as to afford temporary shelter for the homeless and eventual construction of permanent shelters.

The minister also was empowered to grant subsidies to the extent of forty per cent of cost needed for the reconstruction and repairs of private property.

As was the case with the earthquake victims of last July, wounded war veterans and those injured during the fighting in the mountains, widows and orphans will receive preferential treatment. Other measures also were taken for the reconstruction of public buildings and for the suspension of taxes in the city of Genoa, most heavily hit by the earthquake. Upon Premier Mussolini's recommendation the ministers also approved a draft bill regulating the development of internal migration and colonization of farm and other laborers.

HOOVER'S COMMISSION STARTS DISCUSSIONS

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—President Hoover's law enforcement commission plunged in earnest today into its task of deciding just what, if anything, should be done about the dry laws.

The date of its final report still is indefinite. There were indications today, however, the members are approaching the showdown which is expected to precede the formulation of their report.

The various commissioners have been preparing their views for today's session. In written form, a court reporter was present at the meeting today to record the various points upon which all agreed.

Federal Judge Kenyon of Iowa arrived in Washington early today, thus making the commission roster complete except for Newton D. Baker, of Cleveland, who has been detained by work on the Youngtown steel case.

PICK MRS. J. H. McVEIGH REHABILITATION HEAD

Mrs. Florence Erbe, State Legion Auxiliary President, Appoints Local Woman.

Mrs. Florence Erbe, state president of the American Legion auxiliary, has appointed Mrs. James H. McVeigh, past president of the local unit, as state chairman of rehabilitation, one of the most important committees in the auxiliary. Mrs. Erbe has also appointed Mrs. Jessie Kerr as county chairman of membership. The unit is proud that this honor has come to it. The local members are reminded that this is national auxiliary week, and all who have not done so are urged to pay their membership dues and thus provide the wherewithal to carry on the rehabilitation program for Christmas work for needy ex-service men and their families. About 10 members of the unit and nearly as many Legionnaires attended the joint installation of Raulo Post and Auxiliary in Hartford, preceding the installation of the unit of a class of 200 candidates of the Post took place. The work was in charge of Post Commander Alexander Meriden and the Meriden drill team. It was a most inspiring sight.

Mrs. Erbe installed the officers of the auxiliary and Commander Edward Dumarker the officers of the Post. The ceremony was followed by dancing and the serving of refreshments.

WOMAN VINDICATED

Wallace, Idaho, Nov. 6.—(AP)—One of two women who sought offices vacated when their husbands were convicted in the so-called Wallace rum rebellion apparently has won her campaign of "vindication."

Mrs. W. H. Herrick, whose husband was assessor of Shoshone county when convicted with sixteen other officials of conspiracy to violate the National prohibition law in the tabulation of Tuesday's election returns.

Mrs. R. E. Weniger, wife of the convicted county sheriff, apparently was beaten by Walter Hendrickson.

FIGHTING COMMUNISTS

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Widespread efforts by the Chinese Nationalist government to cope with the bandit activities was reported to the State Department today by American Consul General Frank P. Lockhart at Hankow.

The campaign includes extensive troop movements in the infested provinces against the so-called Communists.

Simultaneously, Lockhart reported that the U. S. Luzon had again been fired upon from shore by Chinese along the Yangtze. The Luzon returned the fire.

MINER IS KILLED

Nottingham, Eng., Nov. 6.—(AP)—One miner was killed and 36 injured in the derailment of haulage cars in the Moor Green colliery which got out of control and ran down a hill. Six of the injured were in a serious condition.

The first salary appropriated for the office of President of the United States was $25,000 a year. That was the amount George Washington received.

SMUGGLERS' CHIEF FINALLY ARRESTED

Caught in New London After Long Search—Displayed Big Roll of Bills.

New London, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Sought since Federal agents sometime ago unearthed a gigantic rum smuggling ring operating from Highland, N. J., Vincent Hancock alleged to be one of the 59 indicted principals in the ring, is under arrest here. He was taken into custody yesterday by Motor Patrolman Edward Bailey and this morning was presented before United States Commissioner Russell H. Corcoran on a fugitive warrant. The case was continued until November 12 and Hancock was released on bonds of $5,000.

Hancock is under indictment by the Federal authorities in New Jersey on a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition and customs law in smuggling liquor into this country and information in the possession of the local police leads them to the belief that he was in this city

STEAMER IN DISTRESS

Seattle, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Reports to the Seattle harbor radio today said the steamship Northwestern had lost her rudder about 30 miles south of Cape Spencer, Alaska but was in no immediate danger. The Coast Guard cutter Cygan was going to the aid of the vessel in response to an SOS call.

Session Called for 7 O'clock Tomorrow Night in Chamber of Commerce Office.

A meeting of the Automotive Division of the Chamber of Commerce has been called by Chairman George L. Betts, for tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the Chamber office. Among important matters to be discussed will be the possibility of holding an Automobile Show in Manchester this winter. A special committee from the executive committee is making a study of the cost, and will be prepared to submit a complete plan which will be thoroughly discussed.

ON HUNGER STRIKE

Denver, Nov. 6.—(AP)—For more than 100 hours, Alex English, convicted slayer of his sister-in-law, Theresa Spanarella, 15, has refused to eat. He has declared he never will hang for the crime for which he was sentenced to death.

Warden Thomas Cleenan of the Denver county jail where English is confined awaiting the setting of a date for his execution, said the prisoner would be fed forcibly if his condition becomes serious.

WOMEN CONVICTS FLEE

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Three women prisoners serving terms ranging from ten years to life escaped from the State Reformatory here early today.

They are Old Grammar, serving a life term for murder; Grace Browder, 20 years for a bank robbery, and Alma Williams, "blonde bandit" of Covington, Ky., who was sentenced to 10 years for participation in a series of holdups.

The women were patients in the prison hospital. They left without knowledge of attendants during the night, broke the lock to the weaving roof in the women's department and obtained some warp with which they made a rope to slide from the second floor to the ground. Then they obtained a large piece of plank with which they sealed the wall surrounding the reformatory.

STUDENT WORKERS

New Haven, Nov. 6.—(AP)—To eke their way through Yale a student organization in the university has opened many ways of earning money to the student. To clothes pressing, laundry agencies, travel bureau, waiting on tables, ushering at various gatherings, is now added an insurance organization. The proposition is to offer students opportunity to sell insurance to members of the university.

Minority in Ireland Needs Protection of Fundamental Treaty Rights, Says Manifesto.

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The Rev. John A. F. Gregg, archbishop of Dublin, and the Rev. C. S. Darcy, Protestant primate of Ireland, joined today in expressing strong opposition to a free state proposal at the imperial conference for abolition of the right of appeal to the British Privy Council.

"We do not impute to the Free State government", they said in a joint manifesto, "any desire to invade our rights of property or religious liberty, but the present government will not always be in office, and Ireland is a country in which religious distinctions exercise a dominating influence with which those who do not live here can have little understanding."

"The position of the minority, a minority looked upon with jealous hostility, needs the protection of such a safeguard for its fundamental treaty rights as is provided by Article 86 of the Treaty."

1920-7. The old Socony Motor Oil... a splendid lubricant for the motor of that period. Outsold all others in New York and New England.

1928-9. Socony Aircraft Oil—a vastly improved motor oil; the oil most in demand in New York and New England during this period.

And NOW—the new Socony Motor Oil. Perfected, proved in every way! Even better than "Aircraft" for your car.

other—what you want and should have in a motor oil... full lubricating value.

In the new Socony Motor Oil "full lubricating value" means something more than it ever has meant before. For we have perfected and proved for you not just one or two but every characteristic a motor oil should have.

We have worked for more than two and a half years developing this finer lubricant. We have had at our disposal the most highly trained engineers and the most modern research laboratories. We have had the pick of the choicest crude oils and the most up-to-date refineries in the United States. We have had the benefit of 55 years of experience in the manufacture of lubricating oils.

We sincerely believe you will find the new Socony Motor Oil the ideal lubricant for your motor. We invite you, we urge you, to try it.

5 reasons for changing today to the New Socony Motor Oil

- 1. Perfected Lubrication. Less wear on your motor. The new Socony Motor Oil is made from a Paraffine Base crude, selected because of its greater inherent oilness (adsorption). Refined by the new and exclusive Socony Process which gives additional lubricating value.
- 2. Minimum Oil Consumption. Will not break down. No engine heat or pressure severe enough to decompose this oil or destroy its lubricating value. Only through contamination by foreign matter which finds its way into the crankcase can the life of this oil be limited.
- 3. Easy Starting in Coldest Weather. Selected Paraffine Base Oil... completely dewaxed. More fluid at low temperatures than any other oil. Instant lubrication. Less drain on your battery.
- 4. Fuel Economy and Increased Power. Maintains proper "body" at all engine temperatures. Result: perfect piston seal, maximum power, minimum fuel consumption.
- 5. A Clean Motor. New refining process reduces to a minimum all harmful elements which cause carbon, gum and sludge. The new Socony Motor Oil insures a clean motor.

Every statement regarding the superiority of the new Socony Motor Oil is substantiated by actual performance tests in the air, on land, and on the water—certified by recognised authorities.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

There are men in this world who think the Ten Commandments are about nine too many.

Son—Dad, what is a bachelor? Father—A man who doesn't have to hang all his clothes on one hook in the closet.

The Modern Girl May Put on More Powder, But It Isn't Her Fault, She Has More Rubbed On.

Conductor—What are you doing with those towels in your suitcase? Passenger—(with presence of mind)—Oh, they are some that used the last time I was on the train. I had them laundered and brought them back.

A restaurant comeback: What's one man's meat is often another man's hash.

Lunatic (in asylum yard, meets new superintendent)—Who are you? Superintendent—I'm the new superintendent.

Lunatic—Oh, it won't take them long to knock that out of you. I was Napoleon when I came here.

A Scotchman, who had recently become religious, sat down to revise his Bible. The first sentence he crossed out was "My cup runneth over."

Man—I don't like you inviting that chap to dinner. He used to kiss you before we were married. His wife—Well, so did you. Man—Yes, but I've gotten over it and maybe he hasn't.

New Minister—I had a most enjoyable trip in the Adirondack woods last-summer. The first day I shot a buck. Deacon—Did you win, parson?

The Man With an Ingrowing Abdomen Probably Considers Suspended the Greatest Invention.

Caller—So he's your little brother! Funny you are so fair and he is so dark. Youth—Yes, but he was born after mother had dyed her hair.

Why the perplexed expression? I'm just wondering if a policeman's uniform is a law suit.

A celebrated wit was due to speak at a luncheon. At the last minute he could not come. The chairman of the meeting persuaded two local men to substitute. In introducing them, he stated that he was sorry to announces that the celebrity could not come, but after considerable difficulty he had persuaded two half-wits to take his place.

Why is that salesman always laughing? Neighbor—Oh, he believes in his goods. He sells joke books from house to house.

Once upon a time the first words the baby learned to say were "papa" and "mama," but now the first words the baby learns to say are "Where's papa?" and "Where's mama?"

Merchant—What made that customer walk out? Did you offend him? Clerk—I don't know. He asked for a hat to suit his head and I showed him a suit hat.

Father—Are you sure you can give my daughter the luxuries to which she is accustomed? Suitor—I ought to; I'm the one who accustomed her to them.

The little Spanish lads were kind. Said one of them, "We'll gladly find some game we all can gaily play and one that's full of fun. Just let me think! Oh, I know, now, and I'll promptly show you how. I'll close my eyes and count to ten. The rest of you all run. "When I have counted fifty, I will open up my eyes and try to locate every one of you. The first one found is it! Be sure and pick as you all race. Of course 't would spoil the game if I should cheat one little bit." "Oh, we have played that game before," cried Clowny. "Real good fun's in store. We're always called 'hide-and-seek.' Start counting right away." And so the youngster, counted fast. "I'm coming, now," he cried at last. "I'm going to find you all 'cause I am quite alert today." He looked and looked and then cried loud, "I've found the first
