DEPRESSION HERE HARD TO EXPLAIN One Man's Ideas As Good As Next One, Howell Cheney Tells Get Together Club.

One man's opinion on the cause of business depression and the solution of the present unemployment situation is as good as another's. Howell Cheney, head of Cheney's Industrial Relations bureau, told the Get Together club members at their monthly dinner last evening.

There is no political strife in our country. Shipping facilities are at a high degree of efficiency. Yet business is bad. Why this condition exists can be argued pro and con for many hours, Mr. Cheney said, and yet no satisfactory solution can be offered.

His Opinions Mr. Cheney's opinions advanced to the club members last night were that depression is due to over-production, political difficulties in readjusting economic values after the war, and the decrease in the value of silver.

As regards Cheney Brothers, Mr. Cheney quoted figures to show that the local silk firm and Manchester are better off than the rest of the silk manufacturing centers in this country. Many local people and especially workers in the Cheney plant have blamed the "system" for bad times here.

The world wide depression was responsible for the recent Imperial conference held in London. Immediately following came a conference for the study of the Indian situation.

World Conditions The world wide depression was responsible for the recent Imperial conference held in London. Immediately following came a conference for the study of the Indian situation.

In South America a political system has been built up that spells ruin when the rest of the world suffers depression. In practically all the South American countries the wealth that comes to the political party in power comes from duties and taxes on products entering the country.

The political party that bids the highest in offering to take control of the country. Consequently the rates of duty go up as the parties change in power. Then the country's credit breaks and the crash comes.

The question in oftentimes asked, "How long will this depression last?" That is difficult to predict, Mr. Cheney said, but one thing is certain—depression has been of shorter duration in this country than in others, because ours started later.

The stock market speculations no doubt helped to defer the depression here for some time. One thing is certain too, and that is, that the present depression has not lasted as long as previous depressions in business and the present causes are far more reaching.

many months more remains to be seen. Federal Reserve After the last depression in 1923 the Federal reserve system was created in the hope that the yard stick of values—money—would be standardized.

The war, naturally, can be blamed for many of the conditions existing today. Mr. Cheney said. Eight millions of men were destroyed in the great conflict. Commodities became scarce and wages arose.

Thus this nation faced the situation of exaggerated wages, advanced prices, high production and high cost of raw materials. The government tried to control prices but this is never successful.

Wages Wages are only a symbol of what they will purchase, Mr. Cheney said, and the question now remains whether or not, with commodities at a low price level, wages will have to drop.

Previous to Mr. Cheney's talk the Cravat department put on a turkey supper. A group of eight girls and one man from that department entertained in songs after dinner.

Father and Son Banquet

One hundred and eighty fathers and sons sat down to dinner in the Union Congregational church social rooms last night, this being the occasion of their annual banquet. It was a joint celebration, four churches co-operating. It was a big night for both lads and dads. The menu which was served by the Ladies Aid society of Union church was excellent and consisted of fruit cup, boiled ham, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, rolls, coffee, pickles, apple pie a la mode.

Rev. M. E. Osborne led in the singing of many popular songs. Lester Ludke presided at the piano. Rev. H. B. Olmstead, well known as the pastor with much wit and humor on these special occasions was master of ceremonies and he proved ideal in this capacity.

Rev. Frank P. Haggard, pastor of the Asylum Avenue Congregational church of Hartford, was the speaker of the evening and he delivered a splendid address on "Making American Manhood." Other numbers on the program followed.

Father and Son Pulling Together—Edgar B. Dawkins.
When I was a Boy—Dr. Martin M. V. Metcalf.
Bringing up Father—Truman Read.

Address, Making American Manhood—Rev. F. P. Haggard.
Prayer—Rev. George S. Brookes.
It was a splendid get-together and everyone present enjoyed the evening. The following committees were in charge: Tickets, P. M. Howe, chairman; Walter Edwards, Ernest Walther, Roland Usher; program, Rev. W. F. Tyler, Rev. G. S. Brookes, Rev. H. B. Olmstead, Rev. Edward L. Nield, Rev. M. E. Osborne; supper, Rev. G. S. Brookes, chairman; William Schaefer and Mrs. David Sykes.

Every ticket available was sold and many could not be accommodated this year.

Drum Beats Will Sound
Drums will beat outside of Union church next Sunday morning to call the people to worship. The bells of this church will not ring as usual, for there is to be a "Ye Pilgrim Service" the same as was held at Plymouth December 9, 1821. A Pilgrim congregation will sing the Psalms actually sung on that occasion and the sermon preached on that day will be read by Rev. George S. Brookes. Costumes of the day will be used, with the women of the Pilgrim congregation sitting on one side and the men on the other. The pastor will be reminded of the collection. Strict attendance will be insisted upon.

A large congregation is sure to be present to witness this queer but interesting service.

OPEN FORUM

IS THE WAR ENDED?

Editor, The Herald:
What a foolish question to ask. Did you not hear the band play last week on the 12th anniversary of Armistice Day and hear the many orators, country-wide, rejoicingly acclaim our 12 years of peace? Yes, yes, I hear, and say that 12 years ago. The cannons ceased to belch forth death and devastation on the Field of Battle. But again I ask the question is the War Ended or has it been transferred to the Rhineland to the Homeland? The advantage taken by the industrial element of that tragic hour to increase their wages, has never been relaxed, but steadily pressed for higher wages, and shorter hours of work till women's wages has reached the height of a month's pre-war wages, for a shorter week's work, in the amalgamated trades. One dollar or more per hour, for common artisans such as painters, plasterers, plumbers, carpenters, hatters, shoemakers, and all down the line of tradesmen, and still the cry is, higher wages, and shorter hours of work, as the alone remedy of the War depression. Mr. Green, president of the Federation of Labor objective is a 4 day a week, 6 hours per day, with uncut wages. Mr. Ferrell, president of the steel trust, asserts wages will not be reduced, and others in such high positions assert the same, as to cut wages would reduce the purchasing power, and cause greater depression. The folly of this is apparent at once, as you recall pre-war conditions when prosperity was universal, and the "American Standard of Living" was just as good, as it is today, yet even better, as there was not the present disparity of wages between the tradesman and the common laborer. The cost of production was not confiscatory, so the laborer could live approximately as good as the tradesman, finding his food unchanged in quality though different in price from today. The American standard of living, is a farce, as the same goods at one-third the price makes no change in quality but greatly increases the opportunity for enlarged quantity on the laborer's table, and that is what is needed to set the wheels of industry spinning. Cut the tradesman's wages in three. Give him one-third as his pay, the product of such wages must be two-thirds cheaper, and consequently obtainable at lower prices, by those who have to do without, because of present high cost. Col. Woods calls upon housewives to make jobs for the unemployed, bless your heart! Many housewives would not see many of the unemployed in their way. Whitewashing a kitchen ceiling—or washing the walls at a dollar per hour, and they think they are worth it. You can scarcely get any person for less than a dollar per hour.

To regulate the present situation, discharge all workers, in every industry, then rehire, or replace them, with men of equal ability. Each at $3 per day. Laborers $2 and depression will disappear like snow under the summer sun, and this precious "American Standard of Living," will remain as high as it ever was.

About four years ago when building was stagnant, in Copenhagen Union of Hartford agreed to take $7 per day, instead of $8 to get trade started, and they did, but they did not have sense enough to cut deeper to continue work, but as soon as they could they demanded the $8 per day and this exists still.

The help in our own largest industry, Cheney Brothers, were duly cared for during the last 15 years. As the price of product advanced, or the dollar decreased in value which is the same thing, frequent uncollected wage increases kept them above the dollar deflation, but today we have no reciprocal care for the firm. No voluntary demand for reduced wages neither by individual or collective, to sustain the enterprise, in its usual place, in the forefront of successful competition, but rather a law rumbling of discontent, when individual readjustment becomes necessary. The simple fact is that American manhood is becoming submerged by industrial greed.

Commerce is controlled by industry, as the cost of production, regulates the price of product, we had a neat little evidence of this, in town last month. The Manchester Electric Co., by efficient management, had through overcharge to customers, sufficient to give to stockholders and employees, a gift! Yes a gift of 40 per cent on one month's income and wages, and a rebate to current consumers of 40 per cent on one month current account. The management gave themselves a clap on the back—and they deserve it, they do, for showing what they can do. Let the same efficient management continue but let them understand that the exclusive charge rightly belongs only to the consumers, from whom it was taken, when they readjust wages to prewar standards, and give stock holders their regular interest 6 per cent. There will be no question but they will be able to supply current at 5 per cent less every month in the year, induce greater consumption, and fuller expansion. More help needed, our medical fraternity; God bless them, saw fit to trippe their fees.

Outstanding among all self made difficulties, is the millions of dollars donated to prohibition enforcement, through "mal-administration of the liquor traffic. Allowing other millions, to fill the pockets of the lowest criminal class. The bootleggers, a new generation of fends that has developed, as the result of The Volstead Act. This double waste of millions, as well as the lives lost. Through generated alcohol and other injurious fluids sold for drink—men died thus in Stamford last week—could all be saved, and put to a wise use by governmental control of liquor. Nothing but the best wines, brandies, whiskeys, beer all bottled should be sold. A room set apart for this in our new post office, and a temperance map installed to see that only stipulated quantities were sold to adults only would all the bill. Then a Timothy could get a little wine for his stomach's sake and his frequent infirmities, while a soaker could get a wafer of warning that undue drinking would land him, in the company of the rich man, that could not purchase a drop of water to cool his parched tongue. When these suggestions are put into effect.

JUST A CITIZEN
China is looking for a new name for the Mexican dollar. The term "Mex" does not permit readily of standardization, Chinese maintain and does not fit the coin. One suggestion is "Sun," for Sun Yat-Sen.

AGREEMENT REACHED ON CHRISTMAS SEALS

Red Cross and Tuberculosis Association Announce Understanding That Has Been Reached.

Hartford, Nov. 19.—Announcement has been made by the State Tuberculosis Commission at the Capitol, today, of the agreement between the American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association, in regard to the distinction between the Roll Call and the Christmas Seal sale. The agreement reads as follows:

1. "That there is no official connection between the Roll Call and the Christmas Seal sale."
2. "That the Roll Call is held from Armistice Day up to and including Thanksgiving Day; that the Seal sale begins the day after Thanksgiving."
3. "That both the American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association will keep their Chapters and Affiliated Associations constantly informed of this understanding and that both organizations will do what they can to clarify in all newspaper and other publicity the distinct character of the two fundraising undertakings, and to prevent overlapping of the periods during which it is agreed that the Roll Call and the Seal sale respectively shall be conducted."
4. "That this agreement permits the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated associations to deliver seals in advance to large corporations who use them on their bills, which are mailed out a few days before the end of the month.

5. "That this agreement refers specifically to the Roll Call and the Seal sale and does not preclude the extensive educational and publicity campaigns which the Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association are accustomed to carry on throughout the year."

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The following table shows how the House of Representatives membership of 435 is apportioned among the states at present. How the Census Bureau figures it will be in the next House to be elected and the respective states' gains and losses of representation:

FARMS IN MIDDLESEX INCREASE IN VALUES

Washington, Nov. 18.—(AP)—While farms in Middlesex county, Connecticut, decreased in the last decade as shown by the census just completed, the average value of the farms and the value of the land per acre increased.

The acreage of all land in farms was 103,092 as compared with 131,026. The average acres to a farm were 81.7 as compared with 70.6.

The value of land and buildings was $10,932,627, as compared with $11,313,524. Land alone was valued at $4,289,950, as compared with $7,043,910.

Dwellings alone had a value of $3,541,892 but the estimate was not made in 1920. The average value of a farm was $8,553 as compared with $6,096 and the value of land was $105.95 as compared with $86.35.

The number of farms in the county operated by owners was 1,194 as compared with 1,300; by managers 27 and by tenants 41. The acreage operated by owners was 91,829; by managers 8,054; and by tenants 3,209.

Classification of land showed 24,595 given over to crops on 501 of which there were crop failures. The idle land was 2,704 acres. Pasture was 47,534 acres, woodland 27,516 acres; plowable 8,179 and other land 11,839.

The nose and chin are the most important features in the face of any woman who claims to be beautiful, according to a famous theatrical producer.

Manchester's Needy Cases

CASE NO. 7. An undercurrent of doubt exists in town in respect to the seriousness of the welfare situation. At the outset of this paper's participation in the cause of the local needy, it was stated that a member of the Herald staff would personally investigate needy cases in order to better tell the public the truth in each case. This has and will be done.

The reason for this should be obvious to every one. Miss Reynolds, the welfare nurse is on the jump every minute of the day. She has only time to call and collect, clothing and food and with a hasty but sincere word of thanks, is again on her way to needy homes. The Herald agreed to tell the story for her.

People in Manchester who are in doubt about a very urgent and serious need for assistance in a large number of local families, should have been in the basement of the Municipal Building yesterday when a local truant officer brought in three small boys aged six to 14. These boys, all from one family, were barefoot and their feet were blue with the cold. They had not tasted food for two whole days. Their plight was discovered by accident when the children did not appear at school. The officer supplied money for immediate food out of his own pocket when he arrived at the home and found the state of affairs, and immediately took them in his car to the Municipal store-room and fitted them out with clothing, shoes and rubbers.

Citizens of Manchester, these are cold, hard facts. Case No. 7 is a family of 11, father, mother and nine children, and there is need of food, and fuel. Clothing has been supplied three of the boys and the rest will be taken care of from the storeroom. Keep this storeroom stock high, for with frosts such as we have today, especially in children's apparel, the supply will not last very long.

You need have no fear that the supply will reach greatly beyond the current needs. Cold weather will last for the next four months, and New England springs are tough on the kiddies clothing and footwear. There is double the stock in any single rummage sale than there is in the Municipal storeroom today. Get behind this thing, each and every one. Many have already contributed, but new cases are being reported each week. A little from each one is all that is asked.

Stickler Solution

If the professor spends $900 more than one-half his earnings each year and saves $3000 in five years (or $600 each year) his earnings amount to one-half his money, plus $900 plus $900. Therefore $900 plus $900 would be the other half of his money and his total earnings would be $8000.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The apples that the Tinies had were perfect. Not a one was bad. Said Scouty, "Gee, I wonder where the man taken care of these. They must be taken care of well because they taste and look so swell. Let's go and find the orchard and climb up one of the trees."

Then Scouty scampered down again and found some baskets near. They tied them all right to the top and then decided they would stop. Said Carpy, "Let's be on our way. We'll leave the baskets here."
