

MOTHER JONES, LABOR LEADER, DIES AGED 100

Little Defender of the Working Man Passes Away At the Capital—In and Out of Jail for Many Years.

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Mary "Mother" Jones is no more. The staunch little defender of the working man last night closed her eyes on a hundred years of throbbing life.

It was her body that failed under the pressure of time, for the spirit which had carried her through the battles of union labor still was militant. Only one friend was with her when she died.

"Mother" Jones stirred slightly on her bed and then lay still. Mrs. Walter Burgess who had harbored and tended her in the retirement of the final years, bent over and saw it was the end. From her little country cottage on the outskirts of the capital, word went out that brought sorrow to the thousands who have known the little Irish woman.

100th Birthday

Many times the end had been expected during the past year as she gradually ceased to be able to take nourishment. On May 1 last she celebrated her 100th birthday. It was a quiet occasion but it marked the ending of a long hostility between "Mother" Jones and the aged John D. Rockefeller who once had her put in jail.

Mary Jones was born in Cork, Ireland. Her father brought her here then went to Canada. She returned to Michigan to teach school in Monroe. Then she married and had four children and her husband died in the yellow fever epidemic of 1867.

Interested in Labor

She went to Chicago when she lost what she had made in a second start when the great fire of 1871 destroyed her little dress shop. But her real career was on then, agitating constantly for the laboring men in strikes and troubles of all sorts. From place to place she went, in and out of jail, deported from states but never quitting. In her there was no compromise.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said of her:

"The loss sustained cannot be measured and the service she rendered will never be surpassed or excelled. The hearts of the men and women of labor, are very sad."

Her Part in Strike

Denver, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The death in the history of Mother Jones, famous old champion of organized labor recalled to Colorado labor leaders her activities during the bloody coal strike of 1913-14 in southern Colorado coal fields.

During the months of the strike, which had its climax in the Ludlow massacre where a number of women and children were shot down as they huddled in their tents. Mother Jones was a familiar figure. Labor leaders throughout the state who took part in the strike, today recalled the courage of mother Jones and her untiring efforts for the relief of striking miners and their families.

It was during this strike that the

BANK IN NORWALK CLOSES ITS DOORS

Central Fairfield Trust Co. Is Suspended By Order of State Bank Commissioner.

Norwalk, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The Central Fairfield Trust Company of this city was suspended today by means of a restraining order issued by State Bank Commissioner Lester E. Shippee. The order forbids the bank from paying out any funds or receiving deposits until a hearing is held before a judge of the Superior Court.

The bank's present difficulties are largely the result of a heavy shrinkage in commercial deposits. This steady drain has naturally forced liquidation of quick assets and has weakened the reserve position to a point where suspension was necessary.

Protecting Depositors

During the past few days, the directors of the bank have not only made every effort to place it in a more liquid condition, but also have pledged themselves to add $150,000 to the surplus account of the bank, a large part of which has already been paid in cash. This money provides

TWINS FIGURE IN ACCIDENTS

One Thrown from Horse and Within Two Hours Other Hit by Truck and Dies in Same Hospital.

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The automobile and the horse brought death and injury to the Baldwin twins, 16, within the space of two hours yesterday.

Alford was thrown from his mount near his home in East Northport, N. Y., late in the afternoon and was taken to the Huntington hospital with a fractured skull. Before the sun went down, Clifford was run down by a truck and was pronounced dead at the same institution.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Baldwin, the parents, were at Alford's bedside when Clifford's body arrived. Unaware of his identity, they attempted to console Walter H. Ains, 19, the truck driver, who blamed himself for the accident. Then they learned the name of the victim.

Although Alford probably will live, he has not been told of his twin's passing. Ains is under arrest on a technical charge.

MALTBIE SUCCEEDS JUSTICE WHEELER

Latter Reaches Retirement Age—New Chief Justice Is Just 50 Years of Age.

Hartford, Dec. 1.—(AP) William Maltbie, justice of the Supreme Court of Errors who began his public life as a member of the General Assembly in 1913, today became chief justice of Connecticut. George W. Wheeler of Bridgeport, who has retired as chief justice after service in that office since 1920.

This was the date for the change although when the Supreme Court came in recently for sitting Justice Maltbie took the place of the chief justice that Chief Justice Wheeler might complete his work and refrain from sitting on cases which would be unfinished when his retirement came.

Youngest Justice

Chief Justice Maltbie is just over 50 years of age and it may be said that youth has taken the helm of jurisprudence in Connecticut. He is probably the youngest man ever to become chief justice of his native state.

KILLS TWO COPS, KILLED HIMSELF

Petty Burglar Turns Into Desperate Gunman As He Is Being Arrested.

Macomb, Ill., Dec. 1.—(AP)—An alleged petty burglar, docile appearing in his actions, suddenly turned into a desperate gunman yesterday, killing two policemen and wounding two others before he himself was slain by one of his victims. The man was identified as Edwin Verli, 28, of Canton, Ill.

Verli, arrested on a loitering charge, began firing from an automatic pistol he had secreted in his sleeve just as the automobile in which he was being taken to the jail arrived in front of the police station. Policeman Whitley, 60, was the first to die. He was shot through the head as he stepped from the machine. The gunman next sent a bullet into the abdomen of Policeman Ernest Bowman, 36, fatally wounding him, and then switched the fire of his gun on Alfred Links, driver of the car, wounding him critically. At this point in the fight Luther Jackson, another policeman, already suffering from a wound received from a fight with burglars three weeks ago, ran from the police station and was hit in one of his wrists in an exchange of shots with Verli, who by this time Verli's back. The entire fight occupied less than three minutes.

The police apparently were taken by complete surprise, as Verli had willingly submitted to a search and had entered the car without protest.

Verli, reputed to have been a drug addict, had spent some time in Peoria where he was known to police as a gambler. Canton police said he also had a record there as an automobile theft and highway prowler.

Speaker Longworth Wields the Gavel

Nicholas Longworth exchanged some widely-published pleasantries with Democratic House Leader John Garner about the future custody of the gavel and official car of the Speaker of the House of Representatives. Garner had thought the Democrats would control the House, and would elect him Speaker. But when this picture was taken of Longworth, showing how he would open the third session of the 71st Congress, Republicans had established an incontestable majority of 218 against the Democrats' 216 seats.

'ARCH PLOTTER' DEFENDS HIS SCIENTIFIC THEORIES

Prof. Ramsin Forgets His Role As He Speaks of His Writings—Soviet Judges Make Decisions.

Moscow, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Leonid Ramsin, "arch plotter" in a fantastic intrigue to overthrow the Soviet regime, ceased for a moment today to be a man on trial for his life and angrily defended his honor as a scientist.

"I have confessed my crimes of trying to wreck the Soviet industries," he shouted at M. Krilenko, the public prosecutor, "but I must insist that my scientific writings are honest theories and beliefs and that never once in those writings have I departed from the honest views of a scientist."

This outburst came when the shrewd Krilenko, continuing his merciless cross-examination of Ramsin and his seven co-defendants, imputed to the engineer's professional works the taint of anti-Soviet propaganda. He produced some newspaper articles by Ramsin and called them "journalistic sabotage."

The comparatively youthful Ram-

THREE AUTO DEATHS REPORTED IN STATE

Dreary Weather Kept Many Off the Highways Over the Weekend; Minor Crashes.

New Haven, Dec. 1.—(AP)—A dreary Sunday gave little encouragement to pleasure riding over the state highways and traffic fell to its lowest point of the fall for a weekend.

More minor accidents were reported but only three deaths directly due to machine operation, one from automobile and the other by motorcycle.

In Stratford, Carl Margites of that town was killed in a collision of a small car with a telegraph pole. Joseph F. Sholtes, Jr., of Bridgeport the driver was held on four charges and bailed out for a hearing Thursday. The man and another had been to a Saturday night dance.

Thrown from Cycle
Joseph Drovish, 24, of this city died at the hospital from injuries he sustained in being thrown from a motorcycle.

One mishap which resulted in death was at Manchester in which the 14 months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Carlo of New Britain was fatally hurt.

Other misadventures of the weekend were the suicide of Thomas Gould, 70, at Massachusetts, outside Norwich, and the disappearance of Eric Johnson of West Hartford at Hartford. The latter is thought to have gone into the Connecticut River. His machine was found near the bank and the water was dragged for his body. Friends said he had been in ill health.

TUGBOAT SINKS IN SOUND; FIVE SAILORS SAVED

Men Leave Ship As It Founders Off Fairfield — Men Row Two Miles To Shore and Then Leave for Homes

New Haven, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Five men, the crew of the tugboat Progressive of New York, which sank during a squall near Fensfeld Reef off Fairfield last night, and the captain of a barge, in tow of the tug, were safe at their homes today. This information came from officials of the Newtown Creek Towing Company of New York. Fear for the safety of the men was held until the tug captain reported to his superior officers.

The men aboard the Progressive were Joseph Marshall, captain, of Brooklyn; B. Costello, engineer; George Breen, deckhand, and John Replath, cook.

The name of the barge captain was unknown.

First reports to Bridgeport and Fairfield police said the six had landed at a point near Fairfield Beach and had been taken in by residents. However, at daybreak today a search of the beach failed to reveal the lifeboat.

Barge Afloat

Captain Marshall in his report to the towing company said the men landed at Bridgeport after a row of more than two miles and they proceeded to New York by train. The tug, Captain Marshall said, sank about three miles off Fairfield. The barge he believed was still riding anchor.

The Progressive, a tug with a displacement of about 70 tons, left New York yesterday afternoon towing the barge William H. Wales with a consignment of coal.

At a point about two miles east of the Fensfeld Reef, a squall came up and the sound became rough. Captain Marshall ordered his men to let the barge out on a hauler. The winds took the barge far off its course and when the Progressive began to chop water in the heavy seas, Captain Marshall ordered the barge captain to drop anchor and to board his vessel. When this was done, he pointed his boat toward Bridgeport.

GOVERNOR'S BOARD CONTINUES PROBE

Prison Sunday School Teacher Says He Saw No Brutal Treatment of Prisoners.

Wethersfield, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The governor's committee which is inquiring into charges of brutal and inhuman treatment of inmates in the state prison, and obtaining an insight into the administration of the institution, took up its labor again today, beginning the second week.

The committee are Homer S. Cummings, chairman; James T. Moran and Judge Walter H. Clark of Hartford.

Dr. John F. Barton of West Hartford, a dentist, who for six years has been a Sunday school teacher in the prison, said he recalled no instances where inmates were abused. He stated he knew the bread and water treatment was used in discipline. He never heard of any case of shocking. He thought the prison officials did the best with what they had. He said the faults rested in lack of applications to carry out plans.

No Substitute

Dr. Barton said he opposed the solitary cell as a means of punishment.

LEADERS IN CONGRESS PUT ASIDE DIFFERENCES

Communists Gather As Congress Convenes

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—A crowd of several hundred persons, some calling themselves Communists, gathered in front of the Capitol today carrying placards which were quickly torn down by the police.

Police did not interfere until the placards were displayed. Some of these called for "Release All Political Prisoners" and "Down with Fingers Printing and Registration."

Members of the regular Capitol police squad then tore into the crowd, snatching the placards and jostling some of the demonstrators.

There was sporadic fighting, but this was quickly stopped. One of the two score policemen released a tear gas bomb which, however, appeared to cause more tears among the spectators than the demonstrators.

Under the guidance of police, the demonstrators headed toward the South Plaza and finally straggled out in a long line around the south end of the building. Some flat fighting continued with a few women being jostled in the melee.

Registration Shows Men Want Odd Jobs of All Kinds; Tradesmen Listed.

Registration of the unemployed here shows that 65 heads of families are in need of work, the local unemployment committee was informed when it met at the Hotel Sheridan this noon. None of these heads of families are desirous of accepting charity and are anxious to get honest work of any kind so that they can earn a few dollars towards the livelihood of their families. Of the 65 so far registered 10 are tradesmen, the remaining 55 being laborers.

Call the Bureau

It is urgently requested that local people having work to be done of any kind whatever get in touch with the Chamber of Commerce office immediately and the position can be filled by someone who is badly in need of the employment. There are some registered with the Chamber bureau now who will gladly do any chore or job no matter how small. These men realize they cannot expect top-notch wages for such work but they can reach an agreement with the person employing them.

Clean Sidewalks

No further work has been outlined that can be created here to give immediate employment, but it was stated at the meeting today that as soon as snow falls work can be given a number of men cleaning walks and gutters. This year walks ever property owners are delinquent and the cost of the work will be charged against the properties.

Women, Too

It was brought out at this noon's meeting that included in the list of unemployed here are numbers of women who are willing to do housework of any kind. No doubt many local people have work they can give these women so that they can earn a few dollars.

Executive Board

Twelve new names have been added to the unemployed committee consisting largely of manufacturers here and others who can give employment and know of means of creating work for the unemployed. The work of the committee was named an executive committee was named to handle the routine work. This consists of Stephen Hale, chairman, E. J. McCabe, secretary, George E. Keith, Charles W. Holman and Edward J. Hill. This group will meet regularly to transact the committee business and will call the full board together whenever some particular need necessitates it.

BURMA AND INDIA TO BE SEPARATED

Delegates At London Round Table Conference In Accord On the Proposition.

London, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The round table conference today agreed in principle to the separation of Burma from India, and set up a special committee to discuss details of the proposal.

Burma is a province of 262,732 square miles with a population of about 13,000,000. Rangoon is its capital and Mandalay its only other large city. The Buddhist are far in the ascendancy among the religions.

Seventy-First Congress Convenes For Brief Session;

Republicans and Democrats Place First Emphasis On Legislation To Relieve Unemployment and Help Farmers Stricken By the Drought.

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The final session of the Seventy-First Congress convened today with much handclapping among the legislators within the Capitol and fist-fighting between Communists and police on the outside.

Neither the Senate nor House met for long. Opening prayers, the calling of the roll and appointment of committee to notify the President, Congress was ready to do business constituted the only business.

Six demonstrators were arrested in disorders which followed a foray by police into a banner-bearing Communist who were headed for the Senate and House galleries. The demonstrators were dispersed with the aid of tear gas.

A possible passage of words in the Senate on the seating of Senator-Elect Davis, who today retired as secretary of labor, was averted when he failed to appear.

Chairman Nye of the Senate campaign investigators had announced he would ask Davis to stop aside. Pending further study of expenditures on behalf of his ticket in Pennsylvania.

Numerous bills of many sorts were introduced in both the Senate and House.

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The Seventy-First Congress convened at noon today in final session—but not to work long.

The day was one for brief formalities, as usual, with a political truce between the leaders momentarily hiding the controversies to be faced before March 4. Republicans and Democrats alike have placed the first emphasis on legislation to alleviate unemployment and to help farmers who suffered by the drought.

Friends of the Legislators, visitors from distant states and nations crowded both the Senate and House galleries to see Vice-President Curtis and Speaker Longworth were welcomed back to the presiding positions.

New Members Seated

The first business was seating of new members. The rest of the program was confined to each branch notifying the other it had met, and the sending of a committee so to notify President Hoover.

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth held her customary chair in the Speaker's gallery. She was accompanied by a group of fashionably dressed friends.

Representative Pearl Peden Oldfield, of Arkansas, escorted Mrs. Essie Gene Wingo, elected to succeed her late husband, Otis Wingo, from Arkansas, to the Democratic side of the chamber. Both were black, had represented Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida, who, however, wore a bouquet of orchids on her left shoulder.

For the first time, talking motion pictures were taken of the proceedings.

Senate Roll Call

The Senate roll call showed 87 of the 96 members present. Vice President Curtis presented the certificate of elections of the members elected in November to fill unexpired terms. The following new members then were sworn:

Robert J. Bulkley, Democrat, of Ohio, succeeding Roscoe C. McColough, Republican, for the unexpired term of the late Theodore Burton; George McMillin, Democrat, of Texas, succeeding Henry J. Allen, Republican, for the unexpired term of Charles Curtis.

Robert D. Carey, Republican, Wyoming, succeeding Patrick J. Sullivan for the unexpired term of the late Francis Warren.

Ben Williamson, Democrat, Kentucky, succeeding John M. Robston, Republican, for the unexpired term of Frederic M. Sackett, ambassador to Germany.

Vice President Curtis appointed Senators Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader, and Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic leader, as the committee to inform President Hoover the Senate was in session. Adjournment was taken there at 12:20 p. m.

BILLS PRESENTED

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Hardly had Congress come together today before Senators and Representatives began sending numerous and varied legislative proposals down that long and difficult path which but few survive.

There was one that seemed assured of success, however, a bill by Senator Robinson—Democratic leader—for $50,000,000 to be advanced as loans for seed and feed of drought-stricken farmers. A Demo-

TUGBOAT SINKS IN SOUND; FIVE SAILORS SAVED

The fire room of the Progressive became flooded and water poured into the coal bunkers, causing the coal to shift, clogging the pumps. Shortly after the tug sank, but a few minutes after the captain and crew had taken to a small life boat.

Fight to gain land in the life boat was extremely difficult, Capt. Marshall said, and several times the small craft came very near capsizing in the rough seas.

It took the men, working in relays, at the oars, more than an hour to reach Bridgeport. Here, without reporting their landing, they proceeded to New Haven.

When word of the mishap reached the New Haven towing line this morning the tug Russell Six, weathered, put out in search of the barge.

At the same time the Register chartered an airplane and dispatched a member of its staff to cruise over the Sound in search of the men or the barge.

The Russell Six, at last report, had the barge in tow.

'ARCH PLOTTER' DEFENDS HIS SCIENTIFIC THEORIES

sin was outraged. Half rising from his chair he leveled a finger at Krielenko and turned to the four judges.

"I demand," he said, "that the prosecutor produce my scientific works and show those passages which constitute sabotage. My scientific writings are known in many countries. I am proud of them, and I intend to defend them."

The four judges, all of them smoking cigarettes, indicated that Krielenko could read any writings he pleased so long as he showed them first to the lawyer appointed to defend the accused.

Then Krielenko led the witness through further details of the far flung plot of which he and his associates are accused. He insisted to tell about how they faked the figures in some of the important industries vital to the success of the "five year plan," and went over much of the ground which already has been covered in previous sessions of the trial.

The defendants did not seem so brightly careless today as they have before.

HENDERSON PROTESTS.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Arthur Henderson, secretary of the Labour party, told the House of Commons today that he had informed the British ambassador at Moscow to communicate to Soviet authorities that he took exception to certain reflections on former British governments in connection with the trial there of eight men for treason.

He made his announcement in reply to several questions regarding references to British subjects and government officials in the indictment against the accused. He said that he could not tell what further steps would be necessary until he had heard from the ambassador, nor did he indicate the "reflections" to which he objected.

MILITIA IS GUARDING SOUTHERN TEXTILE MILLS

Danville, Va., Dec. 1.—(AP)—An increased military force patrolled the quiet strike area at Schofield today as non-union workers estimated by striking union pickets at approximately 1,000 entered the mill gates in the gloom of a murky dawn.

Pickets were again on duty near the mill gates today under the new order relative to picketing which was issued Saturday after Governor Pollard's visit and inspection at Schofield. Decision to resume picketing was reached at a meeting last night of the executive committee of the local organization of the United Textile Workers of America.

Five instead of the usual three one-squad patrols of soldiers slowly paced about the Dan river mills with their fixed bayonets.

It was generally quiet as the non-union workers filed through the gates.

Mill officials would make no estimate of the number entering the gates for work.

Captain M. T. Warner, adjutant of the 116th Infantry regiment, said that in reinforcing patrols the guard officers had taken cognizance of complaints that non-union workers had been threatened with reprisals if they continued work.

erat also will sponsor it in the hope of Republican cooperation for enactment is practically a certainty.

A permanent commission "dealing exclusively with the problem of maintaining the best conditions in industry and keeping working permanently employed" was called for in a bill by Representative Ludlow, Democrat, Indiana.

An international celebration in Los Angeles upon completion of the Boulder Canyon project in 1937 was proposed in a resolution by Representative Swing, Republican, California.

Representative Summers, Republican of Washington, introduced a bill to authorize a $1,000,000 loan fund for farmers in crop failure areas of his state.

Senator Robinson announced he was introducing the drought relief measure on his own responsibility. He conferred yesterday with President Hoover.

Provisions of Bill The bill also would authorize loans of $5,000,000 to states seriously affected by drought for the construction of highways. As well, it would authorize the President to take over the wheat which has been purchased by the Federal Farm Board and distribute it for seed, feed and food necessary in the making of crops this year 1931 in drought stricken areas.

Emphasizing that the proposal regarding Farm Board wheat required careful consideration, Robinson said the underlying idea has the approval of many who possess broad experience in economic problems. "Among them may be mentioned the Hon. William G. McAdoo and representatives of various farm and market organizations," he added.

Views of Federal Board "Opportunity is not being afforded to obtain the views on the subject of the Federal Farm Board, but it is assumed that the opinion of the board will be obtained by committees of the Congress."

The loans from the $60,000,000 fund would be made under regulations to be framed by the President. The bill says they should be loaned to members to finance their 1931 crops "with or without security."

Among other drought relief measures prepared for introduction today was one by Senator Cawley, Democrat, Arkansas, authorizing the appropriation of $4,000,000 for loans to the farmers of Arkansas.

MALTBIE SUCCEEDS JUSTICE WHEELER

the other hand was probably the youngest man at 33, to have been appointed to the Superior Court bench when this office was given him by a Democratic governor.

Luzon B. Morris in 1933.

Chief Justice Maltbie, a graduate of Yale (1901) and the law school in 1905, was appointed executive secretary by Governor Holcomb, who then later began his term in 1915 and received an appointment as a judge of the Superior Court in 1917.

He was advanced to an associate justiceship in the Supreme Court in 1925.

Chief Justice Wheeler has been regarded by those at the bar as an advanced thinker. Recently in an address he gave his opinion on jury service for women, a privilege which the General Assembly has refused to grant, that the question would not be settled until that right is granted, adding "I am by no means advocating it myself but I find myself put to it to give any sound reason why women should not serve on juries."

He noted that the new court house in Hartford had accommodations in anticipation that some day women will go jury service.

Wheeler's Record Retiring Justice Wheeler came naturally by a judicial life. His father was a Connecticut judge and a grandfather a New Jersey one. He went to the Supreme Court in 1910 and the 20 years on that bench he devoted much of his extra time to building up procedure for bar examinations, instituting legal reforms, setting of a code of ethics making trials more expeditious and altering the administration of receiverships.

Among tributes paid to him was one that he had impressed his high ideals on Connecticut jurisprudence.

The retiring chief justice was born in Woodville, Miss., lived as a youth in Jersey and after graduation from Yale he went to Bridgeport where he began practice.

During the World War his services at home, and his appeals for patriotic support of the government, made him beloved especially among citizens of Italian blood.

Chief Justice Maltbie's father was a member of the constitutional convention of 1902 from Granby. The chief justice has spoken and written at various times on the state's early history and its courts.

TO BUILD A STEAMSHIP BIGGER THAN LEVIATHAN

Liverpool, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Construction of the biggest ship the world has ever seen drew one step nearer today when the Cunard line signed a contract for a 78,000-ton transatlantic liner twenty feet longer than the American Leviathan.

This ship, resulting from Germany's challenge with the Bremen and Europa, may bring back the ocean speed title to the British Merchant Marine. Although nobody was making any promises, it was believed in shipping circles that the new liner will be able to tear off thirty knots.

It will be 1,018 feet long, and it will cost between $22,500,000 and $25,000,000, ready for service. Later on a sister ship is to be built.

ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. Fred Warner of Doane street entertained with a surprise birthday party Saturday evening for her sister, Miss Edna Warner of Church street, which was attended by relatives and a few friends. The decorations and favors were appropriate to the holiday just passed.

Thanksgiving. Mrs. Warner had prepared and decorated a birthday cake in pink with her sister's name and pink tapers. Miss Dorothy Warner played piano solos and old-fashioned and modern dancing, together with a buffet luncheon, rounded out a pleasant evening. Miss Warner received many pretty gifts.

Manchester friends of Rev. C. M. Calderwood, formerly pastor of the Second Congregational church here, will be interested to know that he assumed the pastorate today of the First Congregational church in Santa Barbara, Cal., and has moved from Phoenix, Arizona, to 2301 State street, Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Robert J. Holland and Mrs. Agnes Messer will conduct a public speaking party tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Holland's daughter, Mrs. W. J. Wilkins of 104 Walnut street. The social will be for the benefit of Manchester Camp, Royal Neighbors. The first prize will be a chicken.

Miss Hazel Lutz who teaches in the Ninth district will be the speaker at this evening at the meeting of Center church teachers in the afternoon. Miss Lutz will speak on the Dramatization of Stories. The supper will be served at 8:30 by the Inasmuch Circle of Junior King's Daughters.

The first of the Sunday evening musical entertainments at the Second Congregational church was given last night and largely attended despite the storm. Organist Wilbur played during the showing of "The Jack Knife Man," a seven reel picture from the story of Ellis Parker Butler, which absorbed the interest of old and young. A male quartet consisting of Paul Volquardson, Ralph C. Brown, Rev. F. C. Allen and Roy Johnson provided special music.

Robert L. Lathrop won first prize at the party held at the Masonic Temple Saturday evening and second honors went to Leonard Cleveland. Robert McLoughlin won the consolation prize and Vincent Ingraham took the door prize.

Walter Kittel of Bisell street has been honored at Dr. Arnold's College in New Haven by being chosen business manager of the school magazine. Mr. Kittel is a graduate of Manchester High school three years ago and this year completes the regular course at Arnold's. He plans to study later toward a master's degree.

Miss Alva Anderson who teaches in Winsted, spent Thanksgiving and the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Anderson, of Hartford road.

The business girls of Highland Park will give the second in a series of setback parties at the Community clubhouse in that section tomorrow night.

The monthly meeting of the Dorcas society of the Swedish Lutheran church will be held Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Vivian Larson of East Middle Turnpike.

The Center Church Women's Federation will act as hostess tomorrow to guests at the art exhibit in the lobby of the church, which opened this forenoon and will continue each day, through Friday, and Wednesday and Thursday evenings, and tonight until 9 p. m.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at Center church parlors. Mrs. Louis St. Clair Burr, all meeting at the National Convention in Houston, Texas last month, will report on that convention. Mrs. Quimby, mother of Principal C. P. Quimby of the Manchester High school, who is president of the state association in Maine, will also speak. An invitation is extended to all women interested.

The Ladies Sewing Circle and the Ladies Aid societies of the Concordia Lutheran church are combining forces on a Christmas sale Tuesday and Wednesday evenings this week. Refreshments will be on sale and a variety of useful hand-made gift articles and aprons.

Following on the howling foot-steps of a gale-like wind, a rain storm struck Manchester late yesterday afternoon and continued throughout a great portion of the night. The rain started coming down in buckets full scarcely a minute after the Columbus football game was completed. This morning about two o'clock, the down pour was torrential in its intensity.

Fred Stone of Birch street has enlisted in the navy for a three year period and left today for New Haven where he will report to the Newport Training Station.

Manchester Lodge, No. 1477, Loyal Order of Moose, will meet at the Hiawatha Club on Brainard Place at 8 o'clock tonight.

Mrs. Rose Woodhouse of Spruce street and Mrs. William P. Quish of 225 Main street spent the holiday week-end in New York City where they were the guests of Mr. Woodhouse's daughter, Miss Rose Woodhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Marlow have for their guests over the holiday season a son-in-law, a daughter-in-law, a student at N. Y. U., also her classmate, Miss Sylvia Marshall and the latter's niece, Miss Muriel Perlman.

False teeth exported from the United States last year numbered 25,701,854, and were valued at $1,287,953.

FREDERICK J. LORD ESTATE APPRAISED

Totals $73,245.32 and Consists Largely of First Mortgages, Inventory Shows.

The inventory of the estate of Frederick J. Lord, late of Manchester, filed in the Manchester Probate Court by Dwight W. Blish and Charles A. Stotenfeldt, appraisers lists an estate of $73,245.32 consisting principally of first mortgages.

Forrest M. Towl, president of the Southern Pine Lumber Co., in a letter to stockholders says he expects the annual report for this year to show the company has a "little more than earned the $2 in dividends, which have been paid during the year."

The Ajax Rubber Co. has notified the New York Stock Exchange that the interest due Dec. 1 on the first mortgage 19-year 8 per cent sinking fund gold bonds, due in 1936, will not be paid.

Transactions on the New York Stock Exchange in November totaled $1,963,300 shares, a daily average of $2,259,300 shares, compared with a total of 72,454,000 and a daily average of 4,262,035 shares in the like month last year.

The average price of crude petroleum in ten producing fields was unchanged last week from the preceding week at $1.245 a barrel according to the Oil, Paint and Drug Reports. Gasoline at the refineries also was unchanged from the previous week at 5.57 cents a gallon at four principal refining centers.

The Allegheny Steel Co. has adopted the 8-hour day at its Westmoreland, Pa. plants in an effort to relieve unemployment. The change will affect 1,800 men.

MAUDE ADAMS DENIES HER RETURN TO STAGE

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Maude Adams, whose return to the stage after 12 years' retirement, has been announced, granted a newspaper interview today.

"As far as words long and was given through a spokesman as she returned from England on the liner Adriatic. She traveled under her real name—"Miss M. A. Kiskadden."

"Absolutely not," was her reply when she was asked by Herbert L. Standen, Gasoline assistant secretary of the Navy and brother-in-law of J. Pierpont Morgan, whether she was going to come back in a revival of "Peter Pan." Saterlee, who met Miss Adams, put the question on behalf of the reporters.

"As far as anything connected with the stage is concerned, you are referred to Justice Erlanger, trustee of the estate of A. L. Erlanger," she said.

It had been announced she would appear shortly in a play by John Colton, co-author of "Kismet," called "Miss M. A. Kiskadden" sailed for England on the Adriatic on the liner's last trip, and no one recognized her as Maude Adams. Her presence on the return trip became known when one of the passengers remembered "Kismet" was Maude Adams' real name. She did not reveal the purpose of her trip.

The actress wore a tan ensemble with a cloak resembling a Spanish cape and a close-fitting hat. Her hair has grown gray.

HOLD FIVE YOUTHS IN DEATH OF GIRL

Gary, Ind., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Five "young men" were held to the Grand Jury on murder charges today after a coroner's inquest had decided that Arlene Draves, 18, died of cerebral hemorrhage caused by the shock of an attack.

The five men who participated Saturday night in a party, during which the girl was alleged to have been attacked, were David Thompson, at whose home the party occurred; Virgil Kirkland, 20, half-back on the 1929 state championship football team of Horace Mann High school; Leon Stanford, 21; Paul Barton, 21, and Harry A. Shirik, 24.

Dr. E. C. Wharton identified the three youths who, he said, brought the girl to his office for treatment after the party. She was already dead, the physician said.

NEW TRAP FOR CROOKS

Chicago, Dec. 1.—(AP)—A day when pictures of wanted criminals may be flashed through the ether by police cars, and views of suspect prides at headquarters projected to outlying stations, was foreshadowed today in a television demonstration at W3XAP, short wave station of the Chicago Daily News.

Police Chief John H. Alcock, Chief of Detectives John Norton, Corner Herman N. Bundesen, and other officials saw fingerprints, photographs and images of individuals, placed before a photo-electric cell or "eye," transmitted to a screen 18 inches square.

NEW CONGRESSMEN Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Twelve men and a woman, the largest number ever to be sworn in at a short session today were to take seats in the House.

Mrs. Effie Gene Wingo appeared to take up the work of her husband, the late Otis Wingo, Democrat of Arkansas. Among the others being seated was Edward W. Goss of Connecticut.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Dec. 1.—The Reading Company has adopted a plan for the expenditure of $2,000,000 for improvements. The program includes the ordering of 10 freight locomotives, to be built by the Baldwin Locomotive Works at a cost of approximately $1,000,000.

Forrest M. Towl, president of the Southern Pine Lumber Co., in a letter to stockholders says he expects the annual report for this year to show the company has a "little more than earned the $2 in dividends, which have been paid during the year."

SOLDIER IS KILLED

Fayetteville, N. C., Dec. 1.—(AP)—The fatal shooting of a soldier and the wounding of another at Fort Bragg, near here, last night, today came under the scrutiny of a military board of inquiry.

Private Fernand Gonz, Ey Paso, Texas, of Battery "B", 16th Field Artillery, was found shot through the heart by Private H. E. Moses, Cherryville, N. C., of the same unit, was wounded three times.

From his hospital bed, Moses told officers a figure sprang from darkness while he walked his post last night, cried his name and fired.

Soldiers, gathering around Gonz dead, a bullet wound in his forehead, a pistol nearby, identified as having been stolen from the post supply room, had four empty shells.

Colorado Party Sweeps the Nation At Yesterday's Election—300,000 Votes.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Dec. 1.—(AP)—A flourishing return of yesterday's national elections show Dr. Pedro Manini Rios, leading candidate of the Colorado Party, will be the next president of Uruguay to succeed Dr. Juan B. Campatagney, whose four year term ends next March.

The Colorado Party, who have been in power in Uruguay since 1865, appeared to have swept the nation, getting about three votes out of every five.

In Montevideo the Colorados rolled 59,034 votes, while the opposition, or Imprisonment failed to lessen her enthusiasm for the task at hand. Upon her release from jail she returned immediately to the coal fields to champion further the strikers' cause. She patrolled picket lines, encouraging strikers, and gazed unafraid at rifles and machine guns in the hands of mine guards and National Guardsmen.

John Lawson, Denver labor leader, told of the time Mother Jones was under fire when bullets from a clash between mine guards and strikers whizzed dangerously near the tent at Ludlow where the woman was ministering to the family of a striker.

Violence was common during the strike and Mother Jones happened to be in Denver on one of her frequent missions when the Ludlow massacre occurred. Hastily returning to southern Colorado, she went at once to the scene of the tragedy and took command of the relief work.

NO CHANGE IN PRICE FOR NEWSPRINT IN '31

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—International Paper Company today announced to its newsprint contract customers that there will be no change in the price of newsprint for 1931.

The effect, the announcement said, is to stabilize newsprint prices for the coming year at the same rates as the company established at the close of 1929, which, in New York and Chicago, figure $62 a ton.

"After considering the situation very carefully and trying to view it both from your standpoint and ours," the company's letter to its customers said, "we have concluded that there should be no change in our standard price of newsprint for the coming year."

"In reaching this conclusion, this company believes it is following a consistent policy. A year ago we vigorously opposed any price increase. Today, we feel that any decrease in price is unjustified and that it would be detrimental to the interests of the publishers as well as the paper manufacturers."

FREIGHTER AFIRE

PORTUGAL CELEBRATES

Lisbon, Portugal, Dec. 1.—(AP)—All Portugal celebrated today the 25th anniversary of independence from Spain, and throughout the festive patriotic ceremonies were observed.

Here in the capital government officials and high officers of the military services attended a religious celebration at the national cathedral where descendants of soldiers in the war for independence occupied the seats of honor.

President Carmona presided this afternoon at a patriotic meeting in the City Hall and later placed a wreath on the monument to independence in the Avenida Liberdade.

P. U. C. REPORT

Hartford, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The annual report of the Public Utilities Commission, filed today with the governor, consists of 125 typewritten pages, and is for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1930, and contains summaries of the financial condition and results of operation of the several classes of public utilities under the jurisdiction of the commission.

There were 232 public utilities (not including taxicabs) under the jurisdiction of the commission and reporting to it, as of December 31, 1929. These consisted of 26 electric, 8 gas, 11 gas and electric, one express, 55 jitneys, 7 railroads, 6 street railways, 4 telegraph, 9 telephone and 101 water companies.

"WILD MAN" IN COURT

Bridgeport, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The famous "Wild Man of Borneo," one of Barnum's famous freaks of a quarter of a century ago, is scheduled to enter the witness box in the Superior Court this afternoon in a suit that is twelve years old.

The plaintiff in the action is Morris Hepston and the defendant is the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey Circus.

Hepston captured the "wild man," who is now aging and wearing a goatee, in Africa, according to the complaint, and brought him to this city to live. Later the "wild man" was inveigled to join the circus without Hepston being notified, it is alleged. Hepston wants $5,000 damages.

RESTORE OLD STATUE

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—After 3,100 years of fragmentary existence Queen Hat-Shepsut is herself again in the Metropolitan Museum. The trading with the Berlin

Museum of pieces found over a period of years in the quarry at Dier el Bahri has enabled the Metropolitan to piece together two statues of her.

Hat-Shepsut's exile from the pages of history was due to her distinct unpopularity as a mother-in-law. Regent during the minor years of King Thut-Mose III, she seized the throne upon his maturity and held it for 12 years. With her death Thut-Mose regained his kingdom and he immediately ordered her name expunged from the official records and her temple and statues destroyed.

FOUR AIRPLANE DEATHS

D. C. COURT UPHOLDS HOOVER'S OIL POLICY

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—President Hoover's oil conservation policy was upheld today by the District of Columbia Court of Appeals.

The court sustained the order of Secretary Wilbur in March of last year, that pending applications for permits to prospect for oil on government lands be rejected.

Wilbur's order was issued the day after President Hoover enunciated his conservation policy in a brief statement to newspaper men, saying there would be "complete conservation of government oil in this administration."

In a dissenting opinion Justice

Joseph Van Orsdel held Hoover's policy could only be put into actual effect by the issuance of a formal proclamation.

STABBED TO DEATH

New Haven, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Coroner James J. Corrigan today started an inquest into the murder of B. Coppola, 64, who was stabbed to death Saturday night by Antonio Nardoni, 68, a fellow inmate at the Italian Home for Aged, according to the latter's confession to police.

Nardoni, who is held without bonds, was arraigned in City Court this morning on a charge of murder but the case was continued until Wednesday pending the coroner's finding.

Dr. MacKenzie Says Loyalty To Teachings of Bible Made Them Strong People

I have often been asked why the Scottish people are so advanced in business, science, philosophy, literature and poetry," said Dr. William Douglas MacKenzie, president emeritus of the Hartford Seminary Foundation at the special St. Andrew's Day service in St. Mary's church last night.

Life of Andrew Prefacing his address with a biblical story of the life and service of the Disciple Andrew, the speaker pointed out the instances in Holy Writ which revealed the character of Scotland's patron saint.

The speaker cited traditional excerpts purporting to show the Disciple's ministry to have been extended after the death of Christ to Greece and Russia, where the order of St. Andrew was the highest order of that country.

Heritage Dr. MacKenzie admitted having been asked on many occasions why he championed the Scottish people so much.

Scotland, in the opinion of the speaker, was still sending out power in arms and sense from a population of four and one-half millions, more in proportion than that of any other country.

Merger of Clans Dr. MacKenzie outlined the evolution of the Scottish Clans from the first Scotch family seeking human protection against other family tribes, in a land of poor soil and treacherous climate.

In conclusion Dr. MacKenzie told of Scotland's love of education, which has been controlled and fostered since 1873 to a point where now only two or three other countries are more advanced in the entire world.

WAPPING

The Federated Sunday school monthly social was held at the Parish House last Friday evening, with an attendance of about forty.

The Grange degree team will hold their rehearsal with tableaux at the School hall next Tuesday evening.

Mrs. E. Mae Holden, principal of the Wapping school, has been appointed delegate to represent the towns of South Windsor, East Windsor and Windsor Locks at the assembly of the Connecticut State Teachers' Association to be held in the Hartford high school, Saturday, December 13.

Miss Alice Shattuck spent Thanksgiving and the week-end at her home in Granby.

Miss Helen Hanley, a teacher of the Rye Street school, left Wednesday for her home in Webster, Mass.

A banquet was given for the teachers at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. William C. Hills last Tuesday evening before their departure for their homes to spend the Thanksgiving vacation.

Miss Lydia Jones of Salem, Mass., spent Thanksgiving with her family, returning for school duties this morning.

C. L. CUMMINGS, OLD TIMER, DIES

Tombstone, Ariz., Dec. 1.—(AP)—The old tombstone of the blood-and-thunder '80s, now a quiet little town beside the deserted mines, mourned the death of Charles L. Cummings, once its mayor and owner of the widely known Bird Cage theater.

He was a native of Oxford, N. Y. He came to Tombstone in 1880 before the iron horse replaced the pie-bald nag on the trail to the mining camp. He brushed elbows with the magnates of the old west and the mad men who drifted in on the scent of quick riches, and became a pillar of the community, aiding in the bringing of law and order.

The most picturesque of his many business enterprises was the Bird Cage theater, where the hits of Broadway played to full houses, and where Lotta Brabtree and other old time favorites presented such plays as "Ten Nights in a Bar Room."

The Bird Cage stands on Allen street, the main thoroughfare, within a stone's throw of the O. K. Corral, where the Clanton-Earp feud blazed to a climax.

Cummings was banker, cattleman and prospector, and contributed much toward the development of Arizona. A few years after the Earps and Doc Holliday won the Clanton fight a quieter Tombstone elected Cummings mayor.

MONKEY AIDS THIEVES

Chicago, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Apprehension was expressed today by occupants of a fashionable apartment in East End avenue that burglars, believed by police to have employed a monkey to aid them in a robbery, might extend their activities.

The apartment of Ralph J. Shorr was robbed of jewelry and clothing valued at $12,000 while Shorr and his wife were out to dinner, following which police discovered footprints, such as would be made by a monkey, on the floors and on the wall near a small foot-square service door.

From these the police evolved the theory that the burglars allowed a trained monkey to enter by the service door and unlock the apartment door for them.

HEAVY PUNISHMENT FOR RUM RUNNERS

Federal Hand Fell On Many Bootleggers During Year, Mitchell Report Shows.

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Federal punishment fell more heavily on the bootlegger and the rum runner in the last fiscal year.

Congress received the tidings today through the annual report of Attorney General Mitchell which said enforcement as reflected in prosecutions improved over 1929.

"Evidently the commercial violator was having more of his days in court," it continued. "Jail and prison sentences were imposed in 27,709 cases in 1930—5,107 more than in 1929. The average length of sentence increased in greater proportion than did the number."

Moreover, 29 vessels were seized to participating in a revival of "the liquor smuggling business as conducted on the high seas and in our territorial waters." All but four were British.

The report did not embrace the prohibition unit's activities since these remained under Treasury jurisdiction until the close of the fiscal year on June 30.

Of the 52,427 prohibition cases terminated nearly 78 per cent brought guilty pleas, about 13 per cent were dismissed and the remainder had jury trials. The ratio of convictions by jury remained constant 73 per cent.

Assistant Attorney General Youngquist, in charge of enforcement, said the work had been hampered by "some state and municipal officers who, under the color of their office, are actively violating the law themselves." Such officers convicted numbered 95, and 85 cases were pending when the present fiscal year began.

The year's padlockings numbered 801, a gain of 2,498 over the previous year. A total of 11,882 such orders were commented.

Mitchell labeled as unsolved the problem of "congestion in some of the federal district courts particularly in large cosmopolitan districts." He urged provision for additional judges, and that steps be taken to supplement inadequate forces in the offices of United States attorneys.

The congestion was illustrated by a report of the Judicial Conference held last October, written by Chief Justice Hughes. It showed that at the close of the fiscal year there were pending upon the dockets of district courts 155,730 cases, more than 7,000 over the previous year.

"We are also informed," Hughes wrote, "that in the 35,849 criminal cases pending on June 30, 1930, there were included 22,671 cases under the National Prohibition Act."

The Assistant Attorneys General reported 150,389 cases were pending before the Customs Court, 36 major anti-trust cases were pending; and 2,117 criminal cases were instituted under the postal laws, 3,505 under the anti-narcotic act, and 532 under the White Slave Act.

In the Court of Claims 528 new cases were instituted, involving claims aggregating $11,320,928,564, while 449 were disposed of involving $10,304,998,288.

Mitchell also dealt with prison congestion, offering as one solution the development of a system of prison camps.

"Large numbers of prisoners do not require confinement in waller prisons," he said. "Outdoor work improves them physically and morally and results in a substantial saving in expense to the government."

On June 30, there were 778 prisoners in these camps and before the end of this year the number will reach 1,350.

SEEK CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR HOSPITAL PATIENTS

The Connecticut State Hospital at Middletown is preparing to observe the Christmas holidays with appropriate festivities. Every effort will be made to make every season one of rejoicing and as an aid to such end, gifts for friendly patients and for those whose friends are financially unable to provide gifts, will not only be very acceptable to them, but much appreciated by the hospital management.

Gifts of any description will be welcome, but men patients always appreciate ties, handkerchiefs, gloves, hose, tobacco, pipes, etc.; while women patients appreciate aprons, handkerchiefs, gloves, hose, wearing apparel of any description, etc. Candy is particularly appreciated by both men and women.

Packages should be addressed to the Connecticut State hospital, Middletown, Conn., and marked "Christmas Donation." They should be sent so as to reach the hospital not later than December 20. When a package contains gifts separately wrapped, it will be helpful if some indication is given as to the contents. If the donor will write name and address upon the package, prompt acknowledgement will be made.

"All right," said the tramp, wearily, "put it in my pocket."—Tit-Bits.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

ICE CREAM IS A GOOD FUEL FOOD

You may think it odd that I recommend ice cream as good food to use in winter. As a matter of fact, ice cream is as valuable to use in winter for its high caloric value as it is in summer for its refreshing quality.

A dish of ice cream may make you feel a little cooler temporarily, but it will make you better able to resist the cold for several hours after it is digested.

The formulas used by different manufacturers vary slightly, but most of them contain the following ingredients: 10 per cent to 15 per cent milk fat, 14 per cent to 16 per cent cane sugar, 1 per cent edible gelatin, and the remainder consists of whole milk with its proteins, milk solids and flavoring. You can see by this that ice cream contains more than twice as much milk fat as the best grade of certified milk. For this reason, ice cream is very rich in vitamin A, which is so essential to the proper growth of children.

The large amount of milk solids furnishes an excellent kind of protein and a large amount of lime and other organic minerals.

Ice cream contains a large amount of calcium. A half pint of ice cream contains nearly 18 per cent as much lime as a half pound of butter, or four pounds of meat, or three and a half pounds of potatoes. Many foods are deficient in calcium, but ice cream furnishes a large supply of this vital mineral which is essential to bone and cell structure.

Ice cream is thought to have originated in Italy about 1600 A. D. In its original form it consisted of various frozen punches, wine, custards, etc., the term "cream" being used for anything of a soft, thick texture.

According to present usage, ice cream must contain a certain amount of pure fat, and the frozen custard material which is called "ice cream." At one time cornstarch was extensively used to thicken ice cream, but this practice has fallen into disuse since gelatin has been found to give a smoother texture, a better flavor and a more wholesome food product.

When ice cream is used with a regular meal it is wise to serve only small portions because of its high food value, but I would suggest that you use ice cream as the principal part of a meal, in which case it is all right to use as much as a half pint at a time, using with it any one kind of the acid fruits, such as cherries, peaches, oranges or berries, or, in place of the fruit, whatever is desired of the cooked and raw non-starchy vegetables.

With this meal, it is better to leave out meat, potatoes, bread and other heavy foods, as they are not needed with such a highly nutritious food as ice cream.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Would Bind Legs) Question: A. I asked you would binding my feet and legs up to the knees, at night be harmful? I wish to reduce them this way, but was told this method would form rheumatism? Is this true?

Answer: There is no excuse for you to interfere with your blood circulation by binding your legs. All you need to do to reduce your lower legs and feet is to take plenty of walking each day. Your muscles and other tissues of your legs will be injured and weakened by the binding.

(Adds to Menus) Question: Reader asks: "In your menus do you mean that anything is to be added to them like bread, buttermilk, etc.?"

Answer: The weekly menus published in this column are given mainly to assist you in learning how to select good combinations. Both bread and buttermilk are often recommended and have a proper place in the diet but should not be used in addition to foods with which they are incompatible.

(Lump on Neck) Question: A. M. writes: "Several years ago I fell on my head and evidently dislocated something at the back of my neck. The cartilage has thickened there, causing a bump. Would friction wear this away? I have been to an osteopath with very little success. It is not painful, merely unattractive. I would appreciate your advice."

Answer: The protrusion you have felt at the base of your neck is no doubt due to the natural extension of the spinous processes of the seventh cervical vertebra. I find that many patients have noticed this on themselves and think it is something unnatural. It seems more prominent in some people whose necks are not well rounded, whether they are too bony or have a padding of fat over this part of their spine.

LOOKS LIKE SUICIDE

Newton, Mass., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Flea Lotz, 16, Newton high school student and daughter of the New England manager for the F. W. Woolworth Company, was found dead of Carbon monoxide poisoning in her father's garage yesterday.

Her death came within 24 hours of the drowning of her school boy sweetheart, John Barry.

News of Barry's drowning in Hammond's pond Saturday left the girl seemingly unconcerned Saturday night. Several hours after retiring she dressed herself and went to the garage where she was found yesterday morning by her father, slumped over the wheel of the family automobile. The ignition was turned on but the motor had stalled.

Medical Examiner West said "because of the circumstances it would be too fine a line to draw to say whether it was suicide or accidental death."

INCREASED RATES FOR P. O. DEFICIT

That Is Postmaster General Brown's Prescription For That Old U. S. Aggravation

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Postmaster General Brown's prescription for that old aggravation—the postal deficit—is to charge a half cent extra to deliver those letters now mailed outside the locality for two cents.

Appalled by the $55,779,000 by which the department found itself behind for the year ended last June, he spoke out today to President Hoover in his annual report.

The recommendation was for a two-and-a-half cent per ounce rate for first class mail of a non-local destination, while the two-cent rate would remain in effect for local deliveries (correct). This "only practical remedy" under the legislation proposed, would go into effect next April 1.

Last year's receipts reached $705,484,000. Despite that tremendous total, the deficit exceeded that of 1929 by $1,913,000.

The department should conduct its strictly postal operations without financial loss, was Brown's starting point. He estimated the increase would boost income $55,000,000 annually, and recommended nominal revision of fees for money orders, insured and registered classes of mail to net an additional $8,000,000 yearly.

Postcard rates would remain as at present.

The Postmaster General also termed leasing of postal quarters at annual rentals exceeding $9,000 "un-economical." The general subject has been under Senate investigation with a report in the offing. Meanwhile, the Postoffice Department was shown in its report to have formulated a plan for ultimate ownership of all quarters now costing more than $8,000 a year.

Noting that present first class rates have been the same since 1885, except during the war Brown argued for the increase as follows: "Since 1916 there has been an increase of 82 per cent in the second-class rate, an increase of 21 per cent in the third-class rate and an average increase of 10 per cent in the parcel-post rate.

"When there is taken into account the reduced purchasing power of the dollar, the 2-cent postage rate of 1885 is equivalent to 3 1/2 cents at the present time. There is taken into account the relative wages paid to labor, the 2-cent rate of 1885 is equivalent to 7 cents at the present time.

"While a higher rate than 2 1/2 cents would be justified nevertheless the 1/2-cent increase will take care of the deficit and balance the post-office budget, except, of course, for extraordinary and nonpostal expenditures."

To increase the rates on second, third and fourth class matter instead of first class, Brown contended, "would drive much of it out of the mails, the net result, being to increase rather than decrease the deficit."

The total excess of expenditures over receipts was $98,215,000, as compared with $85,161,000 for 1929. Reduction of $39,669,000 from this total deficit is allowable by Congress for expenditures chargeable to non-postal activities, such as coast and air mail subsidies, free mailing privileges, etc.

To the 1928 Congressional readjustment of rates on cards and secondary matter was attributed responsibility for much of the deficit. As to the department's "general welfare" functions, Brown said obviously there should be no rate increase on account of such postal factors.

The total amount available for public buildings was $363,000,000. Of this, $248,000,000 has been allocated. For allocation of the remainder, a survey of building needs is expected to be ready for Congress this month.

Air mail was reported increasingly popular, with requests for new routes received constantly. A total of 7,719,898 pounds of mail were flown in 1930 over 14,939,468 miles in all.

Fifteen contracts were awarded under the merchant marine act during the year to bring the total to 40. The steamship lines are required to construct 44 new vessels of approximately 376,996 gross tons, at a construction cost estimated at $180,947,000. Subject to future conditions, they are required to construct 10 additional vessels to total approximately 123,494 tons, at a cost of $40,750,000, and to remodel 36 vessels, at a cost of $14,700,644. The work goes to American shipyards. The total mail pay for the full contract terms will approximate $270,660,000.

QUESTION AND ANSWER SERIES Do You Know Connecticut?

Compiled by THE CONNECTICUT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, Inc. 410 ASTOR STREET, HARTFORD

Q. From what sources were the names of Connecticut towns derived?
A. Indian names or words, towns in England, words descriptive of the location of the town, Biblical names, and combinations of names of previously established towns.

Q. Why is Connecticut's climate considered beneficial?
A. It has all four characteristics of the best climate: cool but not cold winters as a mental stimulus; warm but not too warm in summer as a physical stimulus; a high humidity except in summer; frequent changes of weather.

Q. How many hotels are there in the state?
A. Approximately 300.

Q. Who built the first steamboat in the world?
A. Robert Fulton.

Q. What city is called the "Hat City?"
A. Middletown.

Q. What is the circulation of Connecticut newspapers?
(Answer to these questions will be published in Wednesday's paper.)

WOMAN KILLS SELF; WEDDING DATE NEAR

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Miss Agnes Anable, 22 years old interior decorator, ended her life yesterday within a week of her wedding day.

Police broke into her tastefully furnished apartment on west 19th street and found the body on the kitchen floor. All the gas burners were turned on. She was clad in a nightgown and her head rested on a pillow.

Miss Anable, known professionally as Joyce Channing, left a note to her mother, Mrs. J. B. Anable of East Orange, N. J., saying "I am sorry for what I am doing. I will see you in the hereafter." She left about $1,300 in checks to cover her debts.

Summoned to the scene, Gene Engle, her fiance, collapsed in grief. Later he told police he and Miss Anable were to have been married within the week and that he had left her that morning in normal spirits. He said they had a slight quarrel over the disposition of her dog, which had been crippled, but could ascribe no sufficient reason for her act.

Miss Anable conducted a thriving business in designing theater settings at her Park avenue studio and had no financial or personal worries so far as is known.

Look! THE New WESTINGHOUSE

THE REFRIGERATOR THAT COMBINES ALL 3 OF THESE ESSENTIAL REFINEMENTS..

Made possible by the Compact Efficient Freezing Mechanism developed by Westinghouse Engineers.

Have you seen the New Westinghouse Refrigerator? If not, you really ought to take the time to look at it. It is worth—if you are the least bit interested in modern kitchen equipment—an hour of your time.

The low, flat Buffet-Top is so necessary when you are taking dishes out or putting them away. Without it, you must either search about for a place to lay them down or else handle them one at a time. And the Broom-High Legs to make underneath sweeping easy! And the Temperature-Selector to give you absolutely flexible control of freezing speed. You couldn't do without any of these refinements... and you can't find them all in any other machine.

For Westinghouse has a freezing mechanism which permits the building of a refrigerator that has these requisite features. This mechanism... perfected after 12 years of patient research and experimentation... is a complete innovation. It is decidedly fast freezing and is definitely more efficient and economical.

WE ASK FOR LIGHT
 The term of office of Robbins B. Stoeckel, commissioner of motor vehicles, does not expire until 1933. For considerably more than two years, therefore, it is to be expected that the columns of Connecticut newspapers will continue to be endowed with class by those superior literary emanations from the office of the Department of Motor Vehicles so well calculated to instruct and educate.

Mr. Stoeckel is strong for education. Also he is, like all persons of superior mentality, extremely moderate in his expectations of immediate results among the mass of the people who, of course, have only ordinary minds. He is tolerant and he is patient. He doesn't expect that all the wisdom that he puts into black and white is going to sink in and germinate and bear fruit right away. Mr. Stoeckel is always thinking about the next generation—or perhaps the one after that. A generation which, as the result of his teachings, will be able to drive its automobiles at a decent clip without any accidents. It is a noble objective. If it leaves something to be desired in conditions at the moment let us try to be big about it, like Mr. Stoeckel. Probably there are too many people anyhow. Perhaps this is the finest of all possible times to teach people to drive fast and safely; because there seems to be a considerable excess of population right now, and those unfortunate enough to become casualties in the gradual absorption of the great lesson will not only have died in a glorious cause but will have served to diminish the competition for jobs. Possibly even that for Mr. Stoeckel's job a couple of years hence.

Recently Mr. Stoeckel produced another long newspaper column which conclusively proved (Mr. Stoeckel always proves things conclusively; if you can't see it it is because you are not on his high intellectual plane) that it is the slow driver who is the real villain in the play. You know—the simple offensive butler whom nobody suspected of the murder, except the author, until the denouement. Mr. Stoeckel, with an author's privilege, converts the seemingly innocuous underling into head devil of the show by the simple process of acting as complainant, prosecutor, judge and jury. And the butler gets a mighty short trial—it's the speech of the district attorney that takes up the time.

The primary cause of all passing is the slow car, says Mr. Stoeckel. Well, we'll have to grant that. Because if it wasn't going slower than the car that passed it, how could the other car have passed it and hit the car coming in the opposite direction? Plain as the nose on your face. Sure. Guilty! Take the passed car out and burn it—and be sure and burn the driver with it!
 It is, however, no reflection on Mr. Stoeckel's lofty standing as an author and a logician to ask, quite humbly, for elucidation on one or two points. Even Shakespeare misses absolute clarity once or twice—commonplace minds are still disputing as to whether Bill wanted us to regard Hamlet as a nut, like us, or a genius—like Mr. Stoeckel. And there is Einstein. Perhaps Mr. Einstein could understand that proposition about the passed car being to blame for the smash; but hardly anybody can understand Einstein.

So without shame, albeit with a frank sense of our inferiority, we should like to have Mr. Stoeckel tell us what it means when he says: "There are of course * * * a lot of people who are naturally more cautious than others in the sense that they prefer to drive slower. This characteristic is praiseworthy and proper. It ought to exist in everybody in greater degree than it does." And when he follows that up by saying:

"It is a curious aspect of this slow driving on the highways that probably it comes under the Connecticut definition of reckless driving."

Being neither a Stoeckel nor an Einstein it is a cut beyond us to grasp the idea of caution and recklessness being synonyms. But we haven't the slightest doubt that Mr. Stoeckel, if he will yield a few moments of his priceless time, will be able to get the explanation through our thick skull.

And just one other thing: It would be gratifying if Mr. Stoeckel—not all of a sudden at risk of shock, but any after he has written about a million more words about "reasonable" and "average" speed on the highway—would some day give the people of this state a glimmering of an idea as to how fast he thinks traffic should move, say on the Ten Curves of the New London pike. Including of course, trucks with governors, T model Fords, cheap cars and light ones.

If Mr. Stoeckel himself has never been passed on the road—if he hasn't been passed by a dozen cars in a couple of miles—then we deduce that he hits sixty oftener than forty. Is that his idea of reasonable speed on Connecticut's crooked and curving roads?

Come, Brother Stoeckel, the next time you write a book for the newspapers, tell us: How fast is slow?

FORD GETS AN IDEA

Henry Ford must have been reading a book. Or else somebody has collared him, jammed him in a corner and made him listen. Certainly this idea which he has just now given out, that the end of this depression will not arrive until prices of necessities have been shaken down to an irreducible minimum, and the other idea that the one big blessing in the hard times is going to be a permanently reduced cost of living, are utterly foreign to everything he has ever said before touching on the field of economics.

Mr. Ford may pose as the originator of these ideas as much and as long as he pleases; but the fact remains that he has been a leading figure in the institution of the era of "enrichment of the American life" which has now been discovered to consist principally of fallacy.

By preachment, more than by practice, Mr. Ford has done his best for years to encourage the belief that "nothing is too good for the American working man and his family" and that the finest thing in the world for a nation was to run itself into debt for luxuries.

Now he suddenly discovers that prices have been altogether too high; that they should be very much lowered without, we take it, any substantial reduction of wages. This is another way of saying that there has been altogether too much profit taking; and with this belief many much wiser persons than Henry Ford will be in agreement. Yet it would be difficult to think of any other individual in America or in the world who has taken more of it than Henry Ford.

As an economist Mr. Ford is something worse than a joke. Which makes it interesting to guess as to what book he has been reading or who has been talking to him. Some book or some person well above Mr. Ford's intellectual plane, we should say.

BACK-HOME FOLKS

Inasmuch as Congress is more responsive to public opinion than is sometimes supposed, and inasmuch as tolerance and an honest desire to achieve are peculiarly needed in the national legislature in its session opening today, a very general suppression of partisan enthusiasms throughout the country would be particularly serviceable during the next two or three months.

Congress is not a magician nor yet an assemblage of magicians. It is not even, on the whole, an assemblage of statesmen. Statesmanship is a very rare quality. Also, unfortunately, it is the exceptional person, in or out of Congress, who holds any clear ideas on economics—and most of these disagree. Congressmen, for the most part, are highly intelligent persons who, without the possession of anything like superhuman endowments, do the best they know how for the country if they are not nagged silly by the folks back home.

This session of Congress faces a big job. The country, industrially and agriculturally sick, expects Congress to do something to make it feel better. It is very doubtful if very much can be done constructively—certainly it can't be done in a minute; nor in a short session. But the business possible to do can be done promptly, heartily and in a spirit of helpfulness and honest co-operation. Whether it is done this way or not probably depends more than is commonly realized on the temper of the back-home folks. This is a good time to quit roasting Congress and to repose a little faith in it—not that it will work miracles but that it will do its best.

OCEAN AIR MAILS
 The Postoffice Department's project of establishing a regular mail route to Europe by way of Bermuda and the Azores may or may not be successful. Probably it will be, eventually if not now. Also it is in complete accord with the present absorbed interest in speedy communication.

help to speed up business and permit quicker exchange of personal communication. Otherwise it will be unimportant because as a medium for disseminating news, of world information on important events, it will be ages slower than the methods now in use.
 One may speculate as to what substantial effect air service to Europe will have on the sum of human satisfactions. And whether the benefits, if any, are likely to be worth the risks involved. Perhaps they will be.
 "There's no point in that," said the end curly as he blocked the kick after touchdown.

We select the season's Five Most Popular Sofas and present them for holiday refurbishing at One Low Price!

A CENSUS of the state . . . . the New England states . . . . or the country . . . . would reveal these sofas as five of the most popular styles for Fall and Winter furnishing! So we have taken these five popular models and had them built to our own specifications . . . and priced at an amazingly low price for such fine quality! Here are up-to-the-minute styles, priced in accordance with the low Fall prices throughout the Watkins store. You'll want to order your sofa early so you can enjoy it this Christmas!

THE YORKSHIRE . . . sketched above, has low, comfortable, cut-back knife-edge arms. The back has a graceful, sweeping outline.

THE COMPTON . . . shown above has heavy rolled arms, relieved by a square back that thins as it rises toward the top.

THE DONCASTER . . . illustrated above, is a Chesterfield type with high arms, even with the back and sloping slightly forward.

THE KENSINGTON . . . sketched above, is a loose-pillow type sofa with short, stocky carved cabriole feet. The pillows are removable.

Any model
$75.
 Tailored to order

Orders will be filled as rapidly as consistent with quality workmanship.

Select your cover

These sofas are built to order, so you may select from a number of new, smart tapestries. All are patterned after the English Jacobean type of weaving, and so are particularly suited to these English sofas. The popular Fall colorings . . . . tans, greens, henna, and others . . . are represented, so you'll be sure to find just the covering to harmonize with your decorating scheme.

THE SALISBURY . . . shown above, is similar to the Doncaster, excepting its arms are cut back and its front shaped to harmonize.

Build to our specifications

Every piece of Watkins Furniture must measure up to our long established high standards. So we have specified that these sofas be made with hardwood frames, web construction throughout, oil-tempered springs, XXXX moss and pure cotton filling. Cushions are reversible; sides and backs are covered in the same material!

TIN MINERS OF CORNWALL ARE ADDED TO DOLE

St. Just-in-Penwith, England (AP)—Municipal construction projects are being urged to remedy the slack employment caused by collapse of the tin market.
 Dropping from $1,458 a ton three years ago to about $350 now, the tin depression has thrown thousands of miners out of work and forced the government to extreme measure of extending the dole to "Cousin Jack."
 Formerly a Cornish miner who lost his job migrated westward, but the mines of America no longer offer a haven. So too is halted the march to the diamond and gold mines of Rand.

 With the closing of the Geovor mine here only one mine was left working in the county. The news came like a thunderclap to the inhabitants of St. Just-in-Penwith, a district already stricken by the recent closing down of the Levant mine.
 Some 400 men were thus added to the unemployed register of the town.
 Originally started by a company of "adventurers" who followed its rich lodes under the ocean bed, Levant has had to overcome many difficulties. A few years ago it was reorganized under a limited liability company and up-to-date machinery introduced. It was said to be the richest tin mine in the world but its wealth is at great depth.

 Other mines between Redruth and Land's End have lately been closed, but with the stoppage of Levant and Geovor the problem of the unwanted tin-miners has become acute. Here in St. Just these men, the pick of the world's metal miners, stand in countless groups. Along the rugged coastline from Cape Cornwall to Gurnard's Head one sees knots of disconsolate men on the cliffs, gazing out across the Atlantic to the west.
 Cornish folk, as well as those who are regular visitors to the Cornish Riviera on business and pleasure are appealing to the Ministry of Health and the county authorities to use the men for construction of sewers and water lines. West Cornwall sorely needs both, in the interest of the health of its own people as well as that of the growing number of tourists.

THE END
 "I have a little attachment here for your radio set."
 "Thanks, Smith. Let's have a look at it."
 "Well, it's just a rope and a truck, and the river's the second turn on the left—Pele Mele, Paris."
A FALSE TRUTH
 Nora: I've heard you made a very unpleasant remark about my hair, and I want to tell you it's false.
 Doris: Then, my remark was at least true—if unpleasant.—Answers

RED NEWSPAPERS CITE SACCO CASE Fill Columns With Details of American Trial Following Accounts of Alleged Plot Against Union.

Moscow, Dec. 1.—(AP.)—The trial and execution of Sacco and Vanzetti came out of the files of the Russian newspapers today and went into the interminable columns which those papers have been devoting to the trial of eight men charged with plotting to overthrow the Stalin government.

"Of course," said the newspaper Izvestia, "Soviet justice cannot be compared to the bourgeois justice which executed Sacco and Vanzetti in spite of documentary proof of their innocence."

This was the general tenor of long editorials and news accounts concerning the trial which already would have been over under the American legal system. All the defendants have confessed the crime in overwhelming detail. They have put in no defense and made no plea for leniency.

Yet N. B. Krilenko, the fiery public prosecutor, is subjecting the defendants to merciless cross-examination and he has called additional witnesses, even though he has adduced enough evidence already to justify a decision by the four judges.

This, it was frankly admitted by the newspapers, is with a view to rubbing into the Soviet masses the heinous nature of the crime of treason for which these men are on trial.

Criticizing intimations in the foreign press that this trial is a "frame-up" for purposes of intimidating anti-Soviet elements in Russia, one of the leading Moscow newspapers asserts, "Our proletarian court defends the interests of the proletariat, but those interests do not demand the execution of innocent men. The foreign press is doing its best to conceal the facts, but the accused would never be forced to bear the brand of Judas if they were not guilty."

CONSERVATIVES RETAIN SEAT IN EAST RENFREW

East Renfrew, Scotland, Dec. 1.—(AP.)—The Conservatives retained the East Renfrew seat in a by-election today which returned the Marquis of Douglas and Clydesdale a victor over Balfour Irwin. Independent candidate whose endorsement by Scottish Laborites was regarded as widening the breach in the Labor ranks.

The winner received 19,793 votes against Irwin's 12,293. W. Oliver Brown, Scottish Nationalist candidate, polled 4,810 votes.

This was not the first fight that the Marquis of Douglas and Clydesdale has figured in. He is one of Britain's most renowned amateur boxers. Once he knocked out a strapping coal miner in a blow at Glasgow. On another occasion he took a decision with his mother as a spectator.

Irwin went to the polls without the endorsement of the Labor Party although he had the support of several Socialist members of Parliament including Sir Oswald Mosley, the "Millionsaire Socialist."

KIDNAP MISSIONARIES

Peiping, China, Dec. 1.—(AP.)—An American woman missionary, Mrs. H. D. Hayward, urgently in need of a surgical operation, and her British nurse, Miss Gomersal, have been kidnapped by bandits and were believed today to be held for ransom. The women were taken to Kansu province late in October to come to Peiping. A few days ago when twenty miles from the red head of Pao Touchen bandits held up the raft on which they were traveling.

FILIPINOS BALK AGUINALDO PLAN TO STUMP U. S. A.

Manila.—(AP.)—Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo, hero of this country at the dawn of the century when he led a rebellion against the United States, probably has been balked of a trip to the United States where he hoped to work Philippine independence.

Opposition of Filipino politicians, who viewed the old general's proposed tour with mingled embarrassment and fear, is held responsible for his reported decision to abandon the project.

The politicians felt that Aguinaldo would not make a good impression in the United States. He speaks practically no English, Spanish but poorly and the only language of which he has full command is Tagalog, his tribal tongue. When the trip was first mentioned some of the Filipino newspapers suggested that he would do well to take along some wise counselors.

The politicians also feared his politics. They were not sure he would talk the right kind of independence. This fear was epitomized by Representative Tomas Confesor in opposing a bill which would have given the Philippine legislature's endorsement to the trip.

"I am not predicting," Confesor said, "that General Aguinaldo will commit a series of blunders in the United States, but I do say that he is liable to pull a boner." Just supposing that General Aguinaldo should advocate a dictatorship form of government for the Philippines while in America, as he advocated here not long ago, where would the Philippine legislature be if it had previously voiced confidence in General Aguinaldo?"

The opposition to the trip even found its way into the Association of Veterans of the Revolution, the a senior veterans' organization, of which the general is the president. The general asked his men to approve his proposed journey. The approval was given, but not unambiguously, and he attributed this opposition within his own group to outside political influence.

The general told the veterans that he would not go unless the public at large endorsed the project, explaining that he wanted to present the American government with a mandate from his people.

Although it is easy enough, when the political leaders desire it, to get provincial and municipal boards and civic organizations to pass resolutions on almost any project or person the public endorsement asked by the general has never been given. It would be political death for any of the local politicians to permit such an endorsement to come from his province or town.

LONGWORTH IS OPPOSED TO AN EXTRA SESSION

Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP.)—Speaker Longworth today declared unalterable opposition to an extra session of Congress and would do everything possible to avoid an excuse for it.

"What we want," he said, "is the recovery of business and the cessation of unemployment. Legislative uncertainty would retard business and prolong unemployment."

Longworth said he favored setting the Muscle Shoals controversy at the short session.

Meanwhile, Chairman Hawley of the House ways and means committee said treasury receipts "will not warrant a renewal at this time of the one per cent reduction in income taxes," and added: "Neither will there be any increase in taxation."

WAPPING Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Evans have returned after spending a few days at their home in Hubbardston, Mass.

Granite Falls, N. C., Dec. 1.—(AP.)—Forget the old saying about killing two birds with one rock. Uncle Jim Clark has that yarn beaten a mile.

Near Grace Chapel, Uncle Jim said, a hunter saw something rambling off between the corn rows. The huntsman raised his gun and fired once. He killed two rabbits and wounded his dog to boot.

MOUSSORGSKY'S OPERA TO BE GIVEN IN U. S.

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP.)—The "Fair of Sorotchintzy," Moussorgsky's posthumous opera, was brought to the Metropolitan Opera House today for its American premiere.

Moussorgsky, never an energetic workman, began work on the opera, his fifth and last, six years before his death. It never reached a finished form in his lifetime; had Rimsky-Korsakoff, who had orchestrated Moussorgsky's "Boris" and "Khovantchina," never found time to assemble "The Fair" for the theater.

The production at today's matinee is due to Nicholas Tcherepne, pupil of Rimsky-Korsakoff, who has come on from Paris to direct the American performances. The first performance of "The Fair" as now arranged was given with much success at Monte Carlo March 16, 1923.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

QUEEN BLANCHE'S BIRTH On Dec. 1, 1188, Blanche of Castile, mother of Louis IX, and one of the most able rulers of France, was born.

After the death of her husband in 1226 she served as regent during the minority of her son. She proved her ability in this period by successfully suppressing a formidable conspiracy of the nobles. Possessed of remarkable executive talent, she supervised personally all the departments of government.

After the marriage of her son she resigned her regency to resume it later for a period of three years when Louis went off to fight in the crusades.

Louis became one of France's greatest historic figures. As king of France he defeated the English at Saintes. Following his crusades in Egypt he returned to France and ruled his kingdom with admirable justice and marked ability. He has been called "the ideal king of the middle ages."

COLD IN SPAIN. PILSUDSKI STEPS DOWN

Warsaw, Poland, Dec. 1.—(AP.)—Marshal Pilsudski today stepped back behind the scenes to stage manage the Polish government, abandoning his post of actual direction to Colonel Walerj Slawek, former premier.

His partisans having won a parliamentary victory which will insure his program being carried out, the marshal dictator saw no further need of his remaining in active charge of the government. He resigned the premiership to resume his former role of guiding hand.

He and his ministers will retain their portfolios until Colonel Slawek has completed his Cabinet, in which it was presumed the marshal will be made minister of war as he prior to his assumption of the council presidency.

In an interview published today the marshal stresses the need for constitutional reform.

EX-MAYOR RESIGNS Stamford, Dec. 1.—(AP.)—Former Alfred N. Phillips, Jr., today resigned from the Stamford Committee on unemployment, claiming that the committee was permitting politics and political propaganda to sway it. The resignation followed an organizing meeting yesterday during which Mr. Phillips and other members clashed frequently.

STOLE BOLOGNA New York, Dec. 1.—(AP.)—Two jobless men who were hungry enough to steal two three-foot lengths of bologna from a meat market, were arrested today. Police said they caught Louis Starowsky, 38, and William Cowal, 28, in the act. They were given sandwiches and coffee and locked up on charges of burglary.

Cubs, Majors Again Scoreless In Rough Battle

Grid's Grand Climax Comes Next Saturday

Notre Dame and Southern California Meet At Los Angeles In Battle For So-Called National Mythical Championship.

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—A football "natural" with the mythical national championship at stake, brings together Notre Dame's rough riders and Southern California's Trojans at Los Angeles on Saturday in the grand climax to a spectacular season.

If Rockne's brigade can check the Trojans' National title will be theirs with few dissenting votes. On the other hand, a victory for Southern California will give the institution a title with several unbeaten elevens ready to advance their claims. Among these might be Alabama and Washington State, both unbeaten and untied, who will clash in the annual rose bowl game on the coast New Year's Day.

Southern California has been beaten once this year, losing a 7 to 6 decision to Washington State.

There are close to a dozen other games on Saturday's schedule. In the east Navy clashes with Penn at Philadelphia. N. Y. attempts to stop Colgate at New York, Carnegie and Washington-Jeff put on their postponed duel at Pittsburgh, and Western Maryland, only eastern team unbeaten, takes on Maryland at Baltimore.

In the southern conference Georgia and Georgia Tech meet at Atlanta; Florida and Tennessee are matched at Jacksonville, and Duke plays North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Loyola of New Orleans faces the University of Detroit at New Orleans.

In southwest Tulsa's unbeaten and untied elevens clashes with the Haskell Indians at Tulsa and Iowa State travels to Houston, Texas, to take on Rice of the Southwest Conference.

Adding nine points to his total last week, Leonard Macauluso of Colgate easily held his lead in the struggle for national football scoring honors. Thursday's nine points brought his mark up to 144. Moller of Southern California is second with 108.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

How Much Can a Man Stand?

After the Notre Dame-Northwestern game, the boys from South Bend showed little desire for whooping it up. They fled into the dressing under Dyche stadium with few words. Some who had just gone through 60 minutes of the hardest kind of action limped noticeably. They had accomplished their assigned task. They were very tired. Yet there were other jobs ahead, such as the battle with the Army, then a long trip to the coast followed with Southern California.

Rockne moved among them, inquiring, directing the attentions that were being given their hurts. Metzger, the pint-sized guard, played throughout the game with an aching side. Kasals, the big Assyrian guard, did the same, though one of his knees was badly strained. Attendees ripped off Marty Brill's sweater and taped up his chest where he had been badly bruised.

There was a weariness in the atmosphere, the reaction of tense nervous strain and strenuous physical excitement setting in after one of the hardest games a team ever played. Yet the boys' grim games remained to be fought out, the last game to be the hardest of all, on a foreign field and in an alien climate.

UNBEATEN, UNTIED!

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—One more team was eliminated from the nation's list of undefeated and untied football teams last week, when Oklahoma City fell before Tulsa Thursday in a battle of unbeaten elevens. Ten more remain, several with their seasons safely ended.

Although Mount Morris of Illinois tops the list, with the highest scoring total of the five teams which he won nine games apiece, Alabama and Notre Dame are the real leaders with Washington State running neck and neck with them.

The list of unbeaten and untied teams, as compiled by the Associated Press:

Won P.F. PA.
Mount Morris, Ill.	9 249 25
Alabama	9 247 13
Notre Dame	9 238 74
Washington State	9 218 20
Cardinals (Ill.)	9 214 24
St. Olaf (Minn.)	8 302 32
Heidelberg (Ohio)	8 294 20
Fresno State (Calif.)	8 154 66
Tulsa (Okla.)	7 157 25

THEY'RE FROM CHICAGO

While they've never seen a "pine apple" nor handled a machine gun, seven Chicago youngsters have demonstrated their football ability at Marquette University this fall.

Six of them—King and Wendt, guards; Fitzgerald, end; McElligott, quarter; and Brousseau and Sisk, halves—are regulars.

EAGLES WIN ON A BLOCKED KICK

Zwicka Recovers Squatrito's Blocked Punt For Lone Score of Contest.

The casual list of the Cub-Major series included three more names today to join Saiva Vendrillo who was hurt the week previous. Yesterday, McCarthy, Major end, was badly lacerated; and Egleson, Cub star punter, was carried off the field with a knee injury, the extent of which is not known. Riscassi of the Majors also had to be carried off the gridiron. None are believed to be seriously injured although they may not play next week.

Manchester High opens its basketball season Friday night in the Rec gym, facing East Hartford in a league contest.

No doubt there will be many who will cheer forward with the argument that the Majors and Cubs are purposely playing scoreless ties just to make a lot of money, but such talk is idle gossip. It is next to impossible for two semi-pro football teams as crude as the Cubs and Majors to enter into such a proposition without everyone in Manchester, Hartford, Providence and way-side stations knowing all the particulars.

Just because two teams can't beat each other is far from an indication that the contests are arranged that way. The feeling between the two clubs is too bitter in the first case to make such a plan even the subject of consideration. The Wallingford Eagles and Meriden Falcons recently played three successive scoreless ties. It's bound to happen every now and then when two teams so evenly matched come together.

Both the Cubs and the Majors have strong defenses but this is more or less aided by the fact that neither has a polished attack. Every time either gets in position to score, the team with the ball acts like a chicken running around with his head cut off.

In the last few series the arrangement has been that a victory and a tie score would end the series. The Cubs wanted matters that way this year but the Majors held out that one team must score two victories to claim the title. Their reason was obvious. They feared the Cubs might score a lucky victory in the first two games and play a tie in the other. The way things have turned out, though, the Majors would have been the new champions had they agreed to the Cubs' wishes. And in like manner, the Cubs would not be titleless.

MALONEY-RISKO TO MEET FRIDAY

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—A ninety thousand excited spectators saw Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight, make full use of his great height and reach to gain a ten-round decision over Paulino Uzcudun, rugged Basque woodchopper, here yesterday. There was no knockdown but Paulino was a tired and somewhat discouraged warrior when the bell rang for the eleventh round. Carnera started the fight with a right hook to Paulino's chin, a huge amphetamine.

Carnera, with his long arms and tremendous height, controlled the pace in practically every round. Only at intervals did Paulino duck and weave in a style he does his most effective work. Most of the time Carnera kept him off with jolting rights and lefts.

BRITISH AMERICAN SPORT ACTIVITIES

The fourth round of the British-American bowling league will get underway tonight with the following teams competing at 8 o'clock:

Scotland vs. Ireland.

Wales vs. England.

The third round of the Dart league will be played on Tuesday night. The following teams will meet:

Corryvane vs. Mullintine.

Derrycoane vs. Birches.

Drumcree vs. Ballyvaughan.

All players who have yet to compete in the first round of the checker tournament must meet in club rooms on Monday night at 8 p. m.

Gridiron Heroes

Schwartz, Notre Dame—Ran 54 yards for a touchdown against Army.

Van Kolen and King, Drake—Each scored three touchdowns against Temple.

Oliver, Texas Christian—Took the opening kickoff against Southern Methodist and ran 85 yards to a touchdown.

Cagliari, Stanford—Broke around the end for 17 yards to score the touchdown that beat Dartmouth.

Zyntell, Holy Cross—Well on a blocked Boston College punt to score only touchdown of game.

Parker, Vanderbilt—His 81-yard sprint to a touchdown was the high spot in a victory over Maryland.

Schwartz, Washington State—Did most of the ball carrying as the Cougars turned back Villanova, 13 to 0.

McCluskey Is Second In National Six Mile Losing By 20 Yards

New Jersey City, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Two new champions have been crowned in the National A. A. C. cross-country running events. William Zepp of the Dorchester Club, Dorchester, Mass., ran a fine race over the six mile Lincoln Park course yesterday, taking the individual title, and the M.H. Rose A. A. of New York took the championship. Zepp took an early lead and beat out 88 rivals for the crown in 29 minutes, 43 seconds. He stood off a challenge by Joe McCluskey, of Fordham University, competing unattached, and won by about twenty yards.

Driven by the gibes and taunts of his fellows into foot-racing competition twenty months ago, Zepp, a clerk, of Worcester, Mass., climaxed a meteoric career in distance running when he won the thirty-third annual cross-country championship of the United States.

Bounding from novice to national champion in this sensational manner, the twenty-three-year-old racer, in a recent intercollegiate championship race, where he had the lead with a half-mile to go and then broke down.

Argue Over Officials

A report to the effect that the Majors have decided not to go through with the series because the officials have been decided pro-Cub, was denied this morning by Manager Bill Griffin of the Majors. Griffin said the Majors are admittedly dissatisfied with the work of Messrs. Meskell, Farr and Merriman, and would negotiate with the Cubs regarding a change. Although it is understood the Cubs will refuse to make any such concession, no agreement on any way or the other has been consummated.

Barcelonians

Barcelona, Spain, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Ninety thousand excited spectators saw Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight, make full use of his great height and reach to gain a ten-round decision over Paulino Uzcudun, rugged Basque woodchopper, here yesterday. ### Referee's Ballot Decides

The referee's ballot decided over the judges disagreed, but referee Moss de Young cast the deciding ballot in favor of the Italian. There was some boozing and a few of the more excited spectators attempted to break down the gates. The police detail of 1,000 had no real difficulty in controlling the monster crowd.

The Associated Press score card credited Carnera with winning the first, second, fourth, fifth and sixth, with the third even.

The receipts were estimated at 1,000,000 pesetas, about $110,000.

The Spaniard with a stiff left and then sent over a hard right. A sweeping left hook knocked Paulino into the ropes but the Basque bounced in close and was hammering away at the Italian's body at the bell.

Carnera Outboxed In Fourth

In the second round Carnera stunned Paulino with a left and a right to the body, and then a slight advantage throughout the rest of the round. The pace slowed down in the third round in which neither had any decided advantage, but Paulino rallied strongly in the fourth and outboxed the huge Italian by a wide margin.

The Basque launched a savage attack to Carnera's body in the fifth round and brought the crowd to its feet cheering with a terrific right to the head, the most effective blow at Paulino's head. Paulino's aggressive body attack forced Carnera to clinch frequently in the sixth round and the Basque had all the better of the fighting at close range.

The tide turned in the seventh, however, as Carnera connected with a savage left and then a right to the head that sent Paulino back on his heels. The Italian punished his rival severely in this round and Paulino was bleeding from the mouth when he went to his corner.

In the eighth, the Italian had the better of a toe-to-toe exchange and then rocked Paulino with a two-fisted barrage toward the close of the session. Paulino attempted to stage a rally in the ninth but could not escape Carnera's long left and in the tenth the Spaniard barely weathered Carnera's relentless attack to the head. Paulino was bleeding freely when the final bell sounded. Carnera weighed 269 3/4 pounds and Paulino 206 3/4.

The third $1,000 Cub-Major football battle yesterday proved a financial victory for both clubs when it ended scoreless before about 2,500 persons at Hickey's Grove the second time in succession. Under the existing conditions, a team must win two games, which means that at least one and probably two or three more get-togethers will be necessary judging from the lack of scoring power the two contenders for the town title have displayed. The chances of winter intervening before a 1930 champion can be crowned, looms greater than ever today. It is simply a case of two teams so evenly matched that neither can beat the other.

THE CUBS OUTPLAYED THE MAJORS

The Cubs outplayed the Majors yesterday for the first time in the series and continue to show improvement in each game. On the other hand the Majors have gone in an opposite direction, looking less impressive in each of the three games. Such an unexpected result of events comes as one of the biggest surprises in Manchester's football history. There seems no question now but what the two teams are very evenly matched. Both have such airtight defenses that the other cannot score. The games have now been played with an output of only seven points. The Majors collected these in the first game with the aid of a lucky break.

DIFFERENT OFFICIALS MAY HANDLE 4TH GAME OF TOWN GRID SERIES

A set of new officials may handle the fourth game of the Cub-Majors series, it was learned this noon when it was announced that representatives of both teams will meet tomorrow night to discuss such action.

The Majors claim that the work of Messrs. Meskell, Farr and Merriman of West Hartford, referee, umpire and head-linesman respectively, has been decidedly unfair, especially in yesterday's scoreless game in which the Majors were penalized four times as much yardage as the Cubs.

Usually in town championship football series, a set of officials cannot be changed during the games unless agreeable to both clubs. However, it now appears that the two teams signed written agreements to change if either was dissatisfied. Under such a pact, the Cubs would have no alter ego; but to concede new officials or else violate their signed promise.

A number of south end supporters who heard the report last night that the Majors would refuse to play with the same officials, but strongly with the assertion that the Cubs should refuse to grant new officials. This is a written agreement, it is entirely a matter of fact.

A meeting of the club representatives will be held in the School street Rec at 8:30 tomorrow evening to discuss the matter.

been anticipated

There were not many long boots against the wind, of course, but only one kick was blocked. The crowd which watched the two teams battle seemed substantially smaller than that which witnessed the first scoreless deadlock a week ago.

The paid attendance was only about $150 shorter than last week and this could easily have been due to the weather. Postmaster Ernest F. Brown, charge of the financial affairs of the Cubs, said that 1,978 persons paid $989 yesterday. This still keeps the average intake per game above a thousand dollars. The fourth game is scheduled to be played at Mt. Nebo next Sunday, December 7, with a total coin for the site vision is mentioned because there is no assurance that even a fifth game will decide the championship.

And in that respect yesterday's game was a disappointment to practically everyone. The Majors were in a gloomy mood because they had in a gloomy mood held in check on their home field. The Cubs, even though they outplayed the Majors, were face to face with the realization that in the last two games they have had easy chances to score a pair of victories that would have enabled them to win the 1930 town title. The crowd was probably more disappointed than the team members for they have poured coins into the coffers for three weeks without getting any fruit for their efforts so far as scoring is concerned.

The First Quarter

A strong wind was blowing in a northerly direction throughout the game. The Cubs faced this disadvantage at the start and twice Egleson kicked out of bounds twice in his own territory. Flannigan tossed Fisher for a loss. Fisher punted and when Egleson's second boot went offside at the 31. Meikle was penalized 15 yards for pass interference. Egleson intercepted a pass that Meikle almost mared and the Cub crowd boomed Meikle for his unsportsmanlike tactics.

Egleson got away a long kick over Fisher's head to the nine yard Major line but a little later Fisher punted out to the middle. Fisher caught a pass from Farr for a first down on the 35 yard line and Williams made another as the quarter ended.

The Second Quarter

Egleson went through a yawning gap in the left side of the Major line for a first down just inside the

The Fourth Period

The fourth period opened with two Major first downs by Moske and the other coming on Skoneski's piling violation. Skoneski had been playing a whale of a game for the Cubs was so anxious of a game for which he was penalized. Coach Kelley took no chances and immediately made a substitution.

The Majors had the ball on the 34 yard line through the penalty but Moske fumbled on the next play and Underwood recovered for the Cubs. Williams got away for a big gain and a first down and then Meikle was again penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness. This gave the Cubs the ball on the 20 yard line but Farr fumbled rounding right end when he was tackled hard and the Majors recovered.

When Gifford tried to kick out, the pass from Lazarek came high and he momentarily fumbled. Before he had time to punt out of danger, Tom Conroy and Flannigan, two Cubs, were on him like tigers. Flannigan blocked the punt before Gifford could even attempt to kick and Conroy recovered on the Majors' 15 yard line. Rain started falling at this stage of the battle.

On a spread formation, obvious to open the Major defense, the Cubs tried a fake pass, Waterman going through center but it gained only a yard. On a fake pass from close formation, Farr picked up four yards at right tackle. A Major offense gave the Cubs this time on the five yard line but the Cubs were powerless to cash this excellent opportunity.

Waterman made a yard at center. Farr could not gain at his favorite spot, right tackle. He tried the same hole again, this time on a double pass but it netted only a yard. With fourth and three to go on the three yard line, Farr passed unsuccessfully to Egleson for a touchback. The teams swapped punts and Brown and Waterman intercepted forward passes as the game ended just before a downpour of rain.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

A lie travels faster than a scared flyver while the truth comes limping in on the rim with only three cylinders firing.

There are people who have more trouble in finding places for their cars than places for beds in their home. Lots of people have only one bed and two or more cars.

The shortest distance between two points is a straight eight.

Use of automobiles has increased the sale of trousers, the style men tell us. Too much sitting and not enough walking.

Gladys—There are two kinds of people.

Harold—Yeah. Those who aren't hateful by nature, and those who speed up when somebody toots to pass.

Henry Ford ought to make good presidential timber. He can afford it, he has the makings of another LINCOLN and, besides, he has carried half of the country already.

Gertrude—That auto-looks pretty well worn out.

Herman—It ought to. Its the sole survivor of four love affairs.

A Chicago motorist has admitted running over the same man twice. The time has evidently come when there aren't enough pedestrians to go round.

Prospective Buyer of a Very Small Car—Er—how does one get in?

Salesman—You don't get into it, sir, you put it on.

The preacher, it is said, invariably because he hasn't the necessary vocabulary to operate a second-hand one.

Whoever heard of autos ruining the younger generation? Its the other way around.

Mechanic—How are those fenders I put on your car?

Motorist—Dunno. My wife hasn't tried 'em on the garage door yet.

"The pedestrian should have the right of way," says a writer. He has. All traffic moves aside at the first clang of the ambulance gong.

Madge—So the boy you were riding with has trouble with his vision?

Mabel—Yes, he's always seeing parking spots before his eyes.

They say Henry Ford pays $20 each to his dealers in the vicinity of Detroit for decrepit tin Lizzies and, like the slaughter houses, he salvages everything—except, to date, he hasn't been able to do anything with the squeak.

Air Pump (to the Inner Tube)—You look hollow chested and thin. What seems to be the matter?

Inner Tube (wearily)—Income taxes.

Children cause a lot of trouble by playing with matches. So does Cupid.

A man driving a Ford met a fellow driving an Austin bantam, or much smaller car. He was told what it was, and the Ford driver remarked: "I believe I'll put up my big car and get one of those to run around in."

The auto is doing so well in keeping the human race thinned out that it looks as the another war might't be necessary.

Little Emily ran in the house, crying as tho her heart would break. Her Mother—What's wrong, dear? Emily—My dolly—Billy broke it. Her Mother—How did he break it, dear? Emily—I hit him on the head with it.

Too much leisure is worse for one than too much work.

Lindbergh crossed the ocean, Washington crossed her legs, The Flapper crossed her legs, But—they all got there.
